BATTLE OF SEVASTOPOL ENTERS FINAL PHASE

Thousands Of Huns Die Endeavoring To Escape On German Scrub Fleet

Red Artillerymen Hurl Tons of Shells into Churning Mass of Enemy Troops Trapped Inside Sevastopol—1,500 Enemy Troops Killed and 68 Tanks Destroyed as Reds Repulse Attacks Southeast of Stanislavow in Pre-War Poland.

London, April 22.—(AP)—The Red Army killed 1,500 enemy troops and destroyed 68 tanks in repulsing attacks by large German tanks and infantry forces Southeast of Stanislavow in pre-war Poland, Moscow announced last night in a brief communique which again omitted mention of besieged Sevastopol in the Crimea.

Dispatches from the Soviet Capital, however, said that the battle of Sevastopol was in its final phase. Russian troops captured key positions in the Mt. Sapoun Valley four miles Southeast of the city, these advances said, and Red artillerymen hurled tons of shells into a churning mass of enemy troops trapped inside the city.

Soviet naval airmen inflicted thousands of casualties on those troops trying to escape across the Black Sea to Romania aboard ships of an Axis "scrub fleet."

The Russians made no effort to cover the persistence of the German assaults in Southeast Poland, but insisted the Nazis were beaten back.

The German communique said that German and Hungarian troops had "gained further ground" against stubborn Russian resistance Southeast of Stanislavow, and declared that the Hungarians had captured the village of Otyntia, twelve miles Southeast of Stanislavow.

A dispatch from Red Star's front correspondent said the Germans were using the flooded Prut and Dnestr rivers for protection of their flanks, hunting a great weight of men and machines down the intervening valley in an offensive apparently aimed at relieving Soviet pressure on Lwow, big communications hub 65 miles Northwest of Stanislavow.

German airmen also entered the action, the report said.

On the Estonian front, where the Russians on Thursday had said troops had killed 2,000 counter-attacking Germans Southwest of Narva, the bulletin reported only long-range bombing activity in which shale oil distilleries, a rail station and a camp were attacked.

Pilots returning from dawn patrols were quoted as saying they saw many bodies floating in the Black Sea after enemy ships had been sunk by Soviet bombers.

With the coming of daylight hundreds of duels between trim sharpshooters and German Messerschmitts and Focke-Wulfs occurred in the bright sun.

The Russians have seized all the fighter airports in the Crimea and the German fighters now have to take off from mainland bases in Southern Bessarabia and Romania.

Germans Using Human Torpedo And Robot Tank

The Fifth Army Beachhead at Anzio, April 22.—(AP)—Two of Germany's secret weapons—a "human torpedo" and a robot tank called the "death wagon"—fell into Allied hands yesterday.

The "human torpedo" ran ashore just North of the Anzio beach and two American soldiers lifted out of it a seventeen-year-old German marine who explained he had "run out of gas."

After a week of hazardous night work in No-Man's Land British engineers gleefully hauled into their lines with a winch a wrecked robot tank called the "death wagon" or the Goliath tank, which they discovered could be operated by remote radio control.

By coincidence the first known use of the "human torpedo" came the same week that the Royal Navy announced in London that it had used a similar contrivance to raid Palermo Harbor fifteen months ago when a new Italian cruiser was sunk and a large transport destroyed.

The skinny young sailor had set out on the seeming suicide mission from a motor torpedo boat. His craft consisted of a conventional torpedo about 12 feet long attached beneath a similarly shaped steel case. He rode in the top compartment and looked out through an airtight glass cover.

His strategy was to spot Allied shipping in Anzio Harbor, fire his torpedo, then make a getaway in the upper compartment which was a virtual one-man submarine.

Both submarine and torpedo below had individual sources of power for propulsion.

The "death wagon" is about half the size of a British Bren Gun carrier, weighs 8,207 pounds and is technically classified as a B-4 armored vehicle.

It is designed to dump a 1,000-pound explosive charge on a pillbox or other strongpoint and withdraw before a time fuse sets the mine off.

One-man crew is supposed to ride as far as possible then dismount and do the rest by remote radio control. It hasn't been very effective either on the Russian or Anzio fronts.

Mr. Halsey said the successful working of the Hyde Park declaration had been able to announce that a Canadian shortage of United States dollars had ceased to be a major problem.

Because of this improvement, Canada and the United States entered into another understanding in 1943 which provided that if Canadian holdings of gold and United States dollars reserves tended to rise above an agreed maximum Canada would take steps to offset that tendency.

The United States agreed to follow a programme of purchasing war supplies which would prevent Canadian holdings falling below an agreed minimum.

Mr. Halsey said he would not assist speculators by disclosing Canadian exchange holdings, but the range agreed to was "measurably below" Canada's total holdings of gold and United States dollars at the outbreak of war, "when they were not unduly large."

During 1943 Canadian supplies of United States exchange increased in spite of action taken to offset such expansion under the agreement made last year.

The new arrangement provides for Canadian steps to cut the holdings of United States exchange to the agreed level. These include payments for purchases from the United States for which bills have not been presented; reimbursing the United States for airfields constructed by it in Canada and for a telephone line from Edmonton to the Alaska boundary, and the United States cancellation of certain army and navy contracts placed in Canada.

These cancellations will affect only a relatively small part of the United States contracts in Canada. The productive capacity thus released will be taken over by orders placed by the Mutual Aid Board to meet the war needs of other United Nations.

FINANCES HAVE BEEN IMPROVED BY DECLARATION

U.S. Improvements to Airfields in Canada to Be Paid for and Some U.S. War Contracts in Canada to Be Cancelled.

Ottawa, April 22.—(AP)—"Complete understanding" with the United States in respect to mutual financial arrangements which had their origin in the Hyde Park declaration of 1941 was announced yesterday in the Commons by Finance Minister Halsey.

A statement read by the Minister, who recently conferred with Henry J. Morgenthau, United States secretary of the Treasury, said that Canadian and United States exchange holdings are such that United States permanent improvements to airfields in Canada now can be paid for and some of the United States war contracts in Canada will be cancelled.

Finance Department officials said the statement could not be taken as meaning there could be early relaxation in foreign exchange restrictions, such as those limiting amounts Canadians may take to the United States.

Special financial arrangements entered into last year have been ended. Under the Hyde Park declaration, decided on by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and President Roosevelt, United States agreed to make purchases of war supplies in Canada so that the Canadian foreign exchange reserves, then at a dangerously low level, could be maintained. In addition, the declaration provided for co-operation of the war production of the two countries to prevent duplication.

Mr. Halsey said the successful working of the Hyde Park declaration had been able to announce that a Canadian shortage of United States dollars had ceased to be a major problem.

Because of this improvement, Canada and the United States entered into another understanding in 1943 which provided that if Canadian holdings of gold and United States dollars reserves tended to rise above an agreed maximum Canada would take steps to offset that tendency.

A second provision concerning the shipment of lend-lease supplies for Britain to Canada also remains in effect. It provided that when Canadian goods were shipped to the United States for re-shipment to Canada, they would be treated as Canadian goods.

The plan, advanced by Naval Subcommittee which visited South America and the Caribbean area, on the other hand won the prompt support of Rep. Melvin T. Moss (Rep., Minn.), ranking minority member of the Naval Committee.

Mr. Bloom suggested that the Government obtain from Britain a renewed option to take effect when the present 99-year leases expire, explaining to a reporter: "By that time we may never need those bases, anyhow. We don't know what will happen in the way of aviation, for instance."

Mr. Maas, a dive bomber pilot and reserve Marine Corps officer, took the opposite view. "I've been hammering at this for a long time. I have said repeatedly we should own these bases in the Pacific and the Atlantic as well. The important thing is that when we don't own them we are apt to be drawn into every war that the owner gets into hereafter."

Mr. Maas agreed with Chairman F. Edward Heber, (Dem., La.), of the Investigating Subcommittee that an agreement might be worked out with Britain to gain title to the bases in exchange for lend-lease obligations, but said the time to have done that was "when we started to give them lend-lease."

Japanese Reinforcements, Including Tanks, Thrown Into India Invasion

Southeast Asia Headquarters, Kandy, Ceylon, April 22.—(AP)—The Japanese have thrown reinforcements, including tanks, into their invasion of India, but they still are being knocked back in hard fighting around the big Allied bases of Imphal and Kohima, some 35 miles from the Burma border, Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's Headquarters announced today.

First appearance of enemy tanks in the fighting at the edge of the Imphal Plain was reported from the Palel area, Southwest of Imphal, where British and Indian troops repulsed a Japanese infantry attack supported by armor. The tanks apparently have been brought through the mountains and jungles from Burma at terrific expenditure of effort.

An influx of Japanese troops was noted in the area of Kohima, 60 miles North of Imphal, but Mountbatten's communique said Allied forces made further progress in their counter-offensive against the invasion column.

Earlier in the week an Allied force down from Dimapur broke through to the relief of a tired British and Indian garrison that had held Kohima against day and night assaults by the Japanese.

An Allied force thrusting out Northwest from Imphal with tank and plane support was reported to have occupied hill positions 30 miles from Imphal itself and to be driving the Japanese steadily back. Mountbatten's communique was one of the most optimistic issued since the Japanese invasion began, despite the reports of increased enemy strength.

Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese troops in Northern Burma were reported continuing their advance along the East and West banks of the Mogaung River toward the Japanese base of Kamaing, which is some 40 miles West of Maitikya. Japanese reinforcements and rains of pre-monsoon intensity were said to be slowing Stilwell's campaign.

Allied fighters, fighter-bombers and medium bombers made widespread attacks on enemy installations and railroads bridges in central Burma and French Indo-China without incurring a loss.

A Tokyo broadcast told of an attack by Japanese dive-bombers on an Allied glider base near Mawla, on the Mandalay-Mitkyaia Railway some 180 miles North of Mandalay in the Burma interior. It claimed four Allied gliders were destroyed, and claimed direct hits on "surrounding military establishments."

British and American Embassies Have Ordered Their Nationals to Flee from Path of Enemy's Gathering Offensive.

By SPENCER MOOSA, Associated Press Staff Writer. Chungking, April 22.—(AP)—The Japanese, using a force of between 50,000 and 60,000 men, including crack reinforcements drawn from the Manchurian garrison, are swiftly encircling the North Honan railway junction of Chenghsien, Chinese advisers stated today.

The town of Chenghsien itself seemed likely to fall before the Japanese drive, said by the Chinese to be aimed at closing the 160-mile Chinese-held section of the Peiping-Hankow Railway and, it was suggested by foreign observers today, perhaps at capturing the great Honan wheat crop now ripening in the fields.

The Chinese Command in its communique last night indicated that the Japanese had narrowed to less than 30 miles an escape corridor through which the Chinese forces defending Chenghsien could flee to the Southwest.

The Chinese bulletin stated that two other Japanese columns from the East crossed the Peiping-Hankow railway at a point about 20 miles South of Chenghsien and advanced 10 miles beyond toward the important highway town of Miehien.

Still another large Japanese force striking down from the Northwest was engaged only a few miles outside Chenghsien by Chinese battling to keep the escape corridor open, and both sides were said to have suffered heavy casualties.

Maj.-Gen. C. C. Tseng, official army spokesman, said the Japanese wanted the Peiping-Hankow rail line for their own use as an alternative to the Yangtze River, which because of Allied air attacks is of but little daylight use to the enemy now.

Mr. Wilson said New Zealanders were gratified when they learned that Prime Minister Mackenzie King had recommended a recent Australian-New Zealand agreement to the sympathetic consideration of the Canadian Parliament.

"I am satisfied that every unknown person who reads the text of the agreement and has some knowledge of the position in the South Pacific will admit that there is nothing in the text which is contrary to the legitimate aims of any other Allied nation," he continued.

"A very prevalent misconception is that this agreement binds New Zealand and Australia to support each other in all circumstances. This is definitely incorrect. The only binding clause is that providing that New Zealand and Australia will previously consult together regarding these matters which particularly concern them. But if no common agreement is reached then New Zealand or Australia is perfectly at liberty to put forward its own point of view."

Mr. Wilson, who succeeds Hon. Frank Langstone, who resigned as High Commissioner more than a year ago, said there was a lot Canada and New Zealand could learn from each other.

As Minister of Broadcasting, Mr. Wilson said New Zealanders had approved the broadcasting of debates in the House of Representatives.

He added that New Zealanders were interested in the development of air lines to their country, linking up Canada and other countries.

SUGGESTS EMPIRE BE RE-NAMED BRITANNIA

London, April 22.—(C.P. Cable)—The Empire should have a single name, Somerset de Chair suggested in the House of Commons today. The Conservative member proposed Britannia.

Madrid, April 22.—(AP)—The execution at Konigsberg of a German, Richard Hoffman, 55, for listening to British Radio Broadcasts was announced in a German Press dispatch reaching Madrid today.

2,200 STRIKING BUS OPERATORS RETURN TO WORK

Resumption of Normal Service in London Will Clear Way for Arbitration of Grievances Arising Out of Summer Schedules.

London, April 22.—(AP)—Union representatives early today told London transport officials that 2,200 striking bus drivers and conductors had voted to return to their jobs this morning.

Resumption of normal service on five trolley lines, and 31 bus routes will clear the way for arbitration of grievances arising out of summer schedules adopted April 18. The workers complained that the new schedules placed more work on them. Pay was not in dispute.

In Manchester, gas works strikers, in a stormy meeting decided to remain out at least overnight and meet again tomorrow. The Ministry of Labor warned that it would keep gas flowing in that important industrial area of 700,000 population regardless of the strikers and disclosed that the necessary workmen already were being moved into the plant.

Earlier British soldiers had taken over the plant and it was presumed the imported workmen would supplement the soldiers.

Tomnies also replaced striking bus operators and manned many of London's big buses.

The Evening News applauded the use of soldiers but added: "It would be quite wrong for people either here or abroad to imagine that a wave of unrest is sweeping through the industries of Britain and threatening to engulf them in strife."

Manchester the strikers number 500. In London the drivers and conductors who have left their buses are only a small fraction of the whole."

Labor Minister Bevin was reported.

Report Shake-Up In Nazi Command

Stockholm, April 22.—(AP)—The Berlin correspondent of the newspaper Tidningen reported today that the German command in the Russian front had been shaken up with field Marshal Walther von Model replacing Marshal Fritz Erich von Manstein in command of the Carpathian sector and Gen. Schoerner succeeding Field Marshal Ewald von Kleist.

There was no indication as to whether Manstein had been dismissed. The dispatch said von Model was taking over a "most important post."

He was the general who led the Germans closest to Moscow.

Schoerner is comparatively unknown. (Von Kleist commanded the German Army which placed Yugoslavia under subjugation and later had command of operations in Southern Russia. Von Manstein commanded the Nazi troops which captured Sevastopol and several times was reported slated for the supreme command of the German Army. But his reputation faded as the Russians knocked his forces backward and last month there was a report that he had been replaced.)

A late morning German radio report said "there were no enemy planes over the Reich" but watchers along the English Channel coast saw planes swarming across the narrow waters in cloud-like formations.

Air activity yesterday included hammering of targets in Northern France, behind Hitler's Atlantic wall, by American light and medium bombers. The Nazis sent up fighters for the first time in more than a month in this region and took a toll of five bombers.

Cologne Is Bombed In Huge Raid

Many Two-Ton Blockbusters Dropped on Battered City in Mosquito Attack—Major Rail Centre Still Burning.

London, April 22.—(AP)—The Allies' biggest aerial offensive plunged into the fifth day with waves of bombers and fighters winging across the channel today after a night in which speedy Mosquitoes struck Cologne and R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. planes sowed mines in enemy waters without loss.

As the British-based assault continued, the Mediterranean Allied air force in Naples announced that its heavy bombers struck the railroad yards in Bucharest, capital of Romania, yesterday and those at Turnu-Severin, 170 miles West of Bucharest.

Last night's blow at Cologne by block-buster carrying Mosquitoes was a follow-up to the tremendous pounding the Rhine-land city received Thursday night.

The Air Ministry disclosed that the Mosquito attack was compressed into a ten-minute period between four and five a.m. and that many two-ton blockbusters were dropped on the battered city.

Pilots on the raid said that dense cloud over the target hampered the searchlights and allowed the fleet of fast plywood bombers to strike before the defences were fully organized. They reported one huge explosion during the attack.

Cologne, one of the most important railroad centres in Western Germany, was still burning last night from the deluge of 1,600 long tons of bombs poured upon it by R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. four-engined bombers twenty-four hours earlier.

That tremendous Thursday night assault on Cologne was the major blow in the greatest night aerial operation of the war, in which the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. sent out more than 1,100 bombers and dropped more than 5,000 tons of bombs.

Mosquito bombers now have ranged over Germany on eleven nights this month, their targets including Cologne, Berlin three times and Hanover twice.

CONFERENCE OF EMPIRE LEADERS MAY OPEN SOON

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL, Canadian Press Staff Writer. Ottawa, April 22.—(AP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the Commons yesterday that he expects to leave "shortly" for the Empire Conference of Prime Ministers in London.

Mr. King made the announcement after telling the House that financial experts of the United Nations have agreed on the principles which should govern the constitution and operation of an international monetary fund.

"Since I shall not be able to be in the House this evening, I would like to take this opportunity of making an announcement which is being made today in other capitals," said Mr. King in revealing the agreement.

Copies of the agreement were later tabled in the Commons by State Secretary McLarty.

The Prime Minister spoke after Finance Minister Halsey announced that special financial arrangements under the Hyde Park Declaration have been ended, but the declaration of principle of close collaboration in war production between Canada and the United States.

Gen. Patton With Invasion Forces

London, April 22.—(AP)—Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton, tough tank specialist whose 7th Army helped in last summer's Allied conquest of Sicily, has arrived in Britain to take a place among Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief lieutenants for the invasion of Western Europe.

One of the public eye since the soldier-slapping incident which almost wrecked his military career last year, Patton is known to the Germans as a rough-and-ready foe and veteran soldier. To his troops the General is known variously as "Old Blood and Guts," "the General who never lost a battle," and "the man in the gilded helmet."

Patton arrived recently in a natty uniform, including a new battle jacket, and the censors permitted disclosures of his presence only last night.

It was disclosed last November that Patton, in a moment of emotional strain, had slapped an American soldier during a field hospital inspection in Sicily in August and then apologized publicly to troops of the Seventh Army.

Washington, April 22.—(AP)—Blunt opposition to the proposal that the United States obtain permanent ownership of British-leased bases in the Western Hemisphere was voiced yesterday by Chairman Sol Bloom (Dem., N. Y.), of the United States House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee.

Mr. Bloom said it would raise too many thorny problems and in time prove extravagant.

The plan, advanced by Naval Subcommittee which visited South America and the Caribbean area, on the other hand won the prompt support of Rep. Melvin T. Moss (Rep., Minn.), ranking minority member of the Naval Committee.

Mr. Bloom suggested that the Government obtain from Britain a renewed option to take effect when the present 99-year leases expire, explaining to a reporter: "By that time we may never need those bases, anyhow. We don't know what will happen in the way of aviation, for instance."

Mr. Maas, a dive bomber pilot and reserve Marine Corps officer, took the opposite view. "I've been hammering at this for a long time. I have said repeatedly we should own these bases in the Pacific and the Atlantic as well. The important thing is that when we don't own them we are apt to be drawn into every war that the owner gets into hereafter."

Mr. Maas agreed with Chairman F. Edward Heber, (Dem., La.), of the Investigating Subcommittee that an agreement might be worked out with Britain to gain title to the bases in exchange for lend-lease obligations, but said the time to have done that was "when we started to give them lend-lease."

Churchill Urges Frequent Meetings Of British Empire Prime Ministers

London, April 22.—(C.P. Cable)—Frequent meetings of the Empire Prime Ministers—whether in London or in other parts of the Commonwealth in peacetime—were advocated yesterday by Prime Minister Churchill as he reaffirmed his belief in Imperial preference and proudly declared the Commonwealth never had been more united.

"There must be frequent meetings of Prime Ministers," he said, winding up a two-day Empire debate on the eve of the war's first meeting of Dominion Prime Ministers. "They must be attended by those they (the Prime Ministers) chose to bring with them to discuss all aspects of Imperial policy and Imperial safety."

Because of this meeting, Mr. Churchill refrained from any definite commitments but he did assure the Empire it would emerge from the war with its Imperial preference plan unhampered by the Atlantic Charter or the 1942 Lend-Lease Agreement with the United States.

With air travel in peacetime it would be easy to have Prime Ministers' meetings every year or more often on every serious occasion, he said. During the period of the war those meetings would be encouraged at any time. Then, as members cheered, he said it would not be necessary for the meetings always to take place in London, adding, with a smile, "I am quite ready that we should take wing in the future."

About 200 members listened attentively as the Prime Minister ranged eloquently over Empire topics, looking confidently to the future and finding no cracks in the Commonwealth structure.

The meeting of Prime Ministers was praised by the Prime Minister for the way they rallied behind Britain in war, and he said: "Here amid the wreck of empires, states and institutions of every kind we find the British Commonwealth and Empire more strongly united than ever before."

The meeting of Prime Ministers, he explained, will examine means of improving these close ties and gaining greater results. They will have to discuss the question of establishing a standing and perpetual committee of the Empire and whether it should extend into the sphere of maritime, economic and financial affairs.

Describing how he "safeguarded the structure of Imperial preference"

Active Trading Reported On Lansdowne Market Yesterday

Encouraged by the most favorable weather as yet seen this year on market day, trading was reported as very good at the Lansdowne Market yesterday.

The meat market was apparently the busiest of stalls as customers crowded the butchers with orders for the week-end meat supplies. No changes were reported in prices.

The egg market, with previous prices remaining in force, suffered a slight slump in trade but a good market was expected in the future as egg supplies gradually increase.

Several changes in prices were noted on the vegetable market as the vegetables increase in size and the prices rise. Beans were much bigger and were selling between 15 and 25 cents per bunch and cucumbers, also much bigger, were selling at 30 cents each. A reduction in prices of celery was noted as it dropped to 20 and 25 cents per bunch, while green peas had also reduced to 25 cents per pound.

Prices remained unchanged on the cheese market as good supplies were reported on hand, while the fruit market showed a slight increase in the number of products offered for sale with prices remaining unchanged.

The maple syrup market was still the centre of activity as many traders were purchasing their first syrup for this year while others were replenishing their supplies. Good quantities of both maple syrup and sugar were on display on the stalls and the supplies were reported sufficient to cover all demands.

Robert Taylor Is Starred In "Billy The Kid" At Premier

At The New Premier

The story deals with a bandit who is engaged to help a gang who are robbing and oppressing ranchers. Because of his code never to fire on an unarmed man, The Kid befriends an English settler and comes to love his sister, who is engaged to the ranch foreman, a boyhood friend.

The bandit turns on his employers, ranges himself on the side of the ranchers, and prepares to take the law into his own hands amid numerous thrilling encounters, an escape from jail and other thrills. The dramatic climax, in which he gives his life for his friend, is one of the most thrilling episodes in Western literature.

David Miller directed the picture, filmed on four locations, with a cast that includes Brian Donlevy, Ian Hunter, Mary Howard, Gene Lockhart, Lon Chaney, Jr., and hundreds in lesser supporting roles.

Two song hits, "Viva la Vida" and "Lazy Acres" are sung in episodes of the Western adventure drama. Dramatic highlights include a great cattle stampede, gun battle between "The Kid" and cattle rustlers, the jail escape and other stirring details.

The other picture is "You're a Lucky Fellow, Mr. Smith" starring Allan Jones and Evelyn Ankers in tribute to Billie Burke, David Bruce, Patsy O'Connor, Luis Alberni, Stanley Clements and the Kings Men.

$2,750,000,000 toward the fund, with Great Britain looked to for about $1,250,000,000 and Russia approximately $1,000,000,000. The fund would grow to $10,000,000,000 should all nations enter it, although in its present outline it would embrace only United and Associated nations. It would be used to provide all member countries with a means of carrying on world trade without the threat of discriminatory foreign exchange practices.

Member nations would contribute at least 25 per cent of their quotas in gold unless their holdings of the metal were too small to meet that formula. In those cases they would put up 10 per cent of their gold and the balance in local currencies.

MRS. J. MURPHY PASSES AWAY IN SPRINGFIELD

Mrs. John Murphy, nee Elizabeth Steele, well known in Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships, died in Springfield, Mass., last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rollin Densmore. The funeral will be held from the Bedard Funeral Home in Cowansville on Tuesday morning to the Catholic Church in Adamsville where a Mass will be celebrated. Burial will be made in the Adamsville Cemetery.

Mrs. Murphy, a sister of the late D. J. Steele, affiliated with the C. P. R. for many years, was an active church worker during her life. She was predeceased by her husband, John Murphy, on August 2, 1933.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Densmore, she is survived by another daughter, Grace Murphy, and two sons, D. J. Murphy, Mayor of North Stanbridge, and J. Frank Murphy, residing at the parental home in East Farnham.

Also surviving are the following stepchildren: George W. Murphy, Vice-President and General Manager of S. Mitchell and Co., Byron E. Murphy, of Montreal, the Rev. Mother St. George, Assistant Mother General of Ursuline Convent, Quebec, and the Rev. Sister Mary Agnes, Sisters of the Presentation, Holyoke, Mass.

There was a bright spot in the labor situation, however. Two agreements were signed affecting more than 1,000,000 workers. About 400,000 railway workers were given an increase of $1.20 weekly in a war bonus and a pact was signed in London yesterday which in effect freezes miners' wages for four years.

Judy And Mickey In Gay And Liltng Musicfilm, "Girl Crazy"

Scene from "Girl Crazy," opening at the Granada tomorrow.

A chorus of one hundred boys and girls is featured in the finale production number, "I Got Rhythm," which was actually filmed in the Arizona desert to preserve the authentic rodeo atmosphere. Nancy Walker, Gil Stratton, Robert E. Strickland, June Allyson and Frances Rafferty are among the newcomers spotlighted in numbers, and old-timers Guy Kibbee and "Rags" Ragland lend added zest to the sparkling film. Norman Taurog has directed skilfully, giving ample emphasis to the Gershwin melodies. Arthur Freed produced and has managed to retain all the gaiety and song of the original Broadway production.

Mickey and Judy, working together for the eighth time on the M-G-M lot, dance, sing and clown their way through the tuneful film, surpassing all previous performances they have ever given. Mickey is a young playboy whose thoughts lie only in the direction of having fun in night clubs. His father sends him to Cody College in Arizona, hoping the boy will mend his ways away from the influence of girls. Mickey obeys and meets Judy, the dean's granddaughter and the only girl in town. Judy doesn't think so much of Mickey, but he manages to win her over and also save the school, which is threatened with closing because of lack of students.

Judy sings the Gershwin favorites, "Embraceable You," "Bidin' My Time," "I Got Rhythm," "But Not for Me," and many others, and displays a dancing flair to make everyone sit up and take notice. Mickey does two of his famous impersonations as well as several novelty song and dance numbers.

THE CAMPAIGN OPENS

An opportunity for personal advantage coupled with a strengthening of the fight against totalitarian domination of the world is being offered to the Canadian people during the next three weeks when a minimum of $1,200,000,000 is being sought by the Dominion Government for Canada's Sixth Victory Loan.

No doubt the overall success of the loan is already assured in that the banks, insurance companies and other large investors can be relied upon to meet or exceed their quota, but the campaign cannot be considered a complete success unless each division meets its objective. This is where the small investor plays his part, as of the $1,200,000,000 sought, the sum of $25,000,000 has been set as the payroll and general canvass assessment. To achieve this figure, each and every Canadian will have to do his or her part. There can be no passing of the buck or the old "Let George Do It" cry. All Canadians must bear their share of the burden. The amount set is admittedly large, but is not impossible of achievement if everyone assumes his fair share of the burden.

The main objective of the Sixth Victory Loan is, naturally, to raise the money required to finance the tremendous expenditures being made by the Canadian Government in the fight for liberty. But there are several important secondary aims. One is that investment in Victory Bonds by the individual assures that the Canadian workers will have a degree of financial security in order to ease the inevitable readjustment problems that will follow the conclusion of hostilities.

Then the purchase of Victory Bonds also serves to relieve the pressure on the limited supply of consumer goods and to the extent it diverts income into reserves is a blow against inflation, one of the great dangers which oftentimes accompanies war.

Thus, both from the viewpoint of national duty and reasonable self-interest, it is up to Canadians to see that the amount sought is substantially exceeded and thus materially hasten the return of peace with victory.

ROOSEVELT REPLIES

The reply of President Roosevelt to the pious protests of Eamon de Valera, Premier of Eire, against the dangers of a military attack on Rome is in line with the long-accepted policy of the United Nations and is the only one which can reasonably be accepted in view of the very nature of the present war. Answering proposals of the Irish leader that an agreement be made between the belligerents to avoid the bombardment of Rome by land and air, the United States President pertinently points out that the future of Rome rests entirely with the Germans.

The United Nations have repeatedly announced their willingness to spare Rome — and any other historical landmark for that matter — as long as the Nazis did not use these sites as bases for military operations. But that if it was a choice between sacrificing the lives of United Nations soldiers or destroying landmarks, the landmarks would have to go. Thus the issue is placed squarely before the Germans. If they wish to have Rome preserved, they must abandon it.

Many observers are convinced however that the plea of de Valera is to a great extent based on self-interest, although there may be a measure of sincerity in his appeal. There is a strong belief that the Eire-Premier is seeking to play on the reverence which all Catholics hold for Rome to win some support for him in his battle with the major powers over the harboring of German agents in his country. These observers think that he might be seeking to pose as the champion of a preserved Rome in order to weld outside aid into a common front.

But he apparently fails to realize that one of the best ways in which he could assist in the preservation of Rome would be by the ousting of the Axis diplomats who are making Eire a listening post for the interception of Allied invasion plans. The launching of the invasion of Western Europe might well force Hitler to shorten his Italian lines substantially and it is possible that if the pressure through France or the Low Countries were sufficient that he would abandon Southern Italy, including Rome, without further fighting and concentrate his forces along the Po River or even the Alps.

The withholding of information from Germany on Allied military movements would materially speed the invasion and thus reduce the dangers to Rome. This is something the Irish chief might well consider if he is sincere in his protestations.

THE NAVY EXPANDS

The announcement of Navy Minister Angus Macdonald that the Royal Canadian Navy is manning two escort aircraft carriers of the Royal Navy marks another stage in the expansion of the Canadian Navy to a balanced fleet. The growth of the Royal Canadian Navy since the outbreak of the war has been phenomenal and has been one of the prides of the Dominion. But to date the navy has been a fleet of small ships, destroyers, corvettes, minesweepers and a few armed auxiliary cruisers.

The future is to see a change, however, the operation of these aircraft carriers being a step in this direction while the acquisition of two medium cruisers will be another advance. The expansion of the fleet strength is also likely to be accompanied by the increase in the load being placed upon the Royal Canadian Navy. Its duties so far have been essentially of the escort type, a job at which it has proved surprisingly efficient. But it is likely to change from a defensive organism to one of offense and it is possible that before very long some of the larger fleet units will find their way into the South and Southwest Pacific where they will take their part in the war against Japan in company with the Royal Navy and the United States fleet.

THE COLONEL SEES A BOGEYMAN

Colonel Robert MacCormack, leading figure in the United States mid-Western isolationist movement and chief maker of trouble between the various members of the United Nations, has discovered a new bogeyman — nothing less than a deep plot between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill to bring the United States into the British Commonwealth of Nations as a second rate power. The Colonel even goes so far as to involve the Republican national organization, with which he is at odds at the present time, in the scheme and has the British Prime Minister credited with making an address or at least making overtures to the gathering of the Party at Mackinac Island last summer.

The whole affair seems rather fantastic and in many matters is along the customary lines of the Colonel's declarations, which are filled with mis-statements and deliberate falsehoods. The report of the presence of the British Prime Minister at the Mackinac meeting is a point at issue, for it is amply clear to anybody who followed even casually the movements of Mr. Churchill during his visit to North America last summer that he had no time to become much involved in any United States political party conference. And if he had made any such drastic proposals it seems unlikely that they could have been kept secret to this late date.

The attack of the Chicago publisher has a two-fold objective—the discrediting of President Roosevelt and the internationally-minded faction of the Republican party to the benefit of the isolationists and causing increasing friction between the United States and other members of the United Nations.

The first is a United States domestic issue and must be dealt with by the people of that country alone, but the second which involves the whole process of the war and the plans for the peace to follow are the concern of all enemies of the Axis. The Colonel, who incidentally carries something of an honorary title in that he never was a military man, has frequently stated his views on the limits to which the United States should participate in the struggle, while he is opposed to joining in any post-war international organization which is not tailored to the needs of his country alone.

This is certainly a far cry from the attitude of the present administration and of Wendell Wilkie, whom MacCormack was instrumental in ousting from the Republican leadership, who are fully aware of the responsibilities of the United States both now and after the war if any semblance of world peace is to be maintained.

EDITOR'S NOTE-BOOK

Human nature is peculiar. People who have the least cause for being cheerful usually are the ones who are.

To safeguard secrets of the coming invasion, Britain is keeping diplomats within the boundaries of the country. Shutting them in—and up.

It would help a lot if there were as much working for the best as there is hoping for it.

SAINT GEORGE'S DAY

Thinking of the deeds of heroes who have made Old England Great.

The High Priesthood Of Jesus

Prof. the Rev. H. C. Burt, M.A., D.C.L., Lennoxville.

Hebrews III, 1: "Wherefore, brethren, consider the apostle and high-priest of our profession, Christ Jesus."

No sooner are the Easter festivities ended than the thoughts of Christendom are turned towards another great festival, the Ascension of Our Lord.

I am sure that those of you who happened to read of the thronged churches of Moscow, and Kiev, and Leningrad, as the Russians celebrated their Easter, could not but join in the rejoicings of a great people free at long last, alike from Nazi tyranny and from spiritual bondage imposed by their own Government! I do not know of anything more reassuring, anything that does more to allay the suspicions so often expressed as to the genuineness of Russia's collaboration with her Western Allies in the vast enterprise of the establishment of peace and order throughout Europe after the war is won. A nation which in its hour of greatest triumph gives due honor to God is not likely to become a covenant-breaker!

The writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews realizes that the Resurrection, glorious in itself as a demonstration of Divine love and power, is also the token and pledge of blessings still in store; he feels that the mediatorial work of Jesus begins after His ascent to the right hand of the Father. There, as our High Priest, He ever liveth to make intercession for us.

It is part of Christ's work as Mediator to reveal to Mankind what they so sorely need—the truth of the "fatherliness of God." The child can never apprehend God aright unless he takes the "father-idea" at its highest and best, and applies it to Him. Moreover, our Mediator interprets to us the Will of God; the Son interprets the Father. Just as Moses of old elaborated the great principles of the Sinaiic revelation, so the Lord Jesus elaborates and applies to all the duties and relations of our lives the mind and will of our Father.

There is no part of the Bible in which this aspect of Christ's redemption work is more clearly presented than in that grand work of an unknown author—the Epistle to the Hebrews. Doubtless this is because this letter was specially written for people of Jewish race and sympathies, people who were conversant with the details of the old formularies, and where religious conceptions had naturally been moulded by what they had been taught of the history, aspirations, and time-honored institutions of Israel. For we cannot escape the influences of our environment. Even our religious conceptions are subject to this same law. Evidently the writer of the letter was well aware of this. He is a tactful, thoughtful man, so in writing to and for Jews, he feels he must give them an appropriate message, such as they would appreciate and understand.

Now, as we know, the High Priest was the central figure in the religious system of Israel, a system instituted by Jehovah Himself, and therefore for a noble and far-reaching purpose. The temple on earth was merely an imperfect symbol of the Holy of Holies in Heaven, and the High Priest entering once a year with the blood of the sacrificial offerings prefigured the Great High Priest who "entered in once by His own blood to procure eternal redemption for us."

The writer's argument is simply this: If that Old Law was not to be highly disregarded, or disobeyed with impunity, how much more is this true of ordinances given by Christ!

"How shall we escape," he asks, "if we neglect so great salvation?" "Behold," says the Master, "I stand at the door and knock." How many of us assume the attitude of Felix when Paul reasoned with him on goodness and mercy and judgment to come: "When I have a convenient season I will call for thee!"

Consider the qualifications of our High Priest. We are here told that "in that He Himself hath suffered, being tempted, He is able to succour them that are tempted!" He passed through all the stages of our life from childhood to maturity; He was exposed to all the trials and risks of boyhood; many doubtless wondered at the Holy Child in the shop at Nazareth, where "He grew in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and Man."

In due course, He entered upon His public ministry. It was thankless, wearisome work; often He had not where to lay His head. Many a night did He spend in the wilderness or on the Galilean hills. He was a "Man of Sorrows"; only by death could He overcome death and open the Kingdom of Heaven to all believers.

All this He endured, "that He might be a merciful and faithful High Priest, and as such to make atonement for our sins"—and that He might succour the tempted. Every day brings with it its own trials of faith and patience: As says the old hymn: "The World, the flesh, and Satan dwell about the path we tread. The labors of Jesus did not end on Calvary, nor His triumphs at Easter."

"Seeing then that we have not an High Priest that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities, let us come boldly unto the Throne of Grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace and help in time of need."

SO THEY SAY

After the war we will have a navy as large as all the combined navies of the world. I am opposed to sinking the ships as we did after the last war. But by turning over some to South American nations, we would be carrying out the principle of self-protection and fostering good will.—Rep. William E. Hess of Ohio.

Not everybody will be happy after the war, and it is much better that the Germans and Japs be unhappy than the Czechs and Chinese.—Dr. Hans Kohn of Smith College.

We can agree that their (the U.S.) operations have changed from stepping stones to leap frog operations.—Tokyo broadcast.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

DEVELOPS CLUB SUIT TO MAKE CONTRACT

Boston is fortunate in having two good bridge clubs. Between sessions of the New England open pair championship, which was held at the Boston Chess Club, several of us went over to visit the Cavendish Club, which is headed by E. N. Marcus. Eddie was the genial host as usual, and during dinner he showed me today's interesting hand, which came up during the tournament.

The opening lead was won by declarer in his own hand. He then proceeded to develop the club suit in the only way to net four tricks in that suit if it broke badly. Dummy's king of clubs won the second trick, and on the lead of the queen, West discarded a low heart—perhaps not his best, but his choice was not too easy. Two more clubs were won in declarer's hand, West discarding the five of diamonds and deuce of spades.

South now led a low heart to dummy's jack. West went up with the queen and returned a spade, and fulfilled his contract.

GLORIFY YOURSELF....

Exercise Same Time Each Day To Assure Maximum Results

BY ALICIA HART

Exercise, which every normal person needs to keep in fine fettle, will be more fun and will show more improvements in the weekly check-up, if you'll set the stage and do your stunts the way the experts tell you.

If you've decided to begin huffing and puffing, after a long and lazy youth, check with your doctor on what kind of exercise you can do, and how much.

Exercise with a pal or with some other member of your family. It will be more fun, and it will be more apt to stick.

Set a certain time aside for exercise, and don't make excuses for absence. Plan to take it before meals or one hour afterward. Best time for most is before breakfast. Fifteen minutes a day is a good general time allotment and will show results. (There will be better sleeping, more pep, an improved disposition, and a whittling down of inches, if that's what you want.)

Swig down a glass of water before you start. It's good to have windows open, but it's not good to shiver in a cold room. Having your body free to move is important, so wear clothes that oblige. If you have always disliked exercise, radio or phonograph music will help you to lick your distaste.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

RED SHIELD AUXILIARY AND HOME LEAGUE

Members of the Red Shield Auxiliary and the Home League of the Salvation Army in Sherbrooke were privileged in having Mrs. Fred Merritt, wife of Major Merritt, Divisional Young People's Secretary of the Montreal-Ottawa Division, as their guest speaker at a largely attended meeting in the Citadel Hall, which climaxed a memorable week-end for the local Corps. Mrs. Merritt spoke on "The Value of a Good Home," and during her remarks she kindly invited members of the Auxiliary who have worked in the Red Shield canteen, on Dufferin Avenue, to relate some of their personal experiences. The result was a happy one, several members expressing their joy and satisfaction derived from this special branch of service on the Home Front. What might easily be a record knitting story, was quietly told by one who had completed twelve necker-tie sweaters in twelve weeks, her objective being to finish a sweater a week. Those who have knitted these sweaters will more fully realize what a contract this would be, and few indeed have surpassed, or even achieved such an outstanding record.

At the close of the afternoon's session, tea and refreshments were served by Mrs. Harold Sunbury and Mrs. Henry Richards.

While the week-end services and the social closing event were under the direction of Major and Mrs. Merritt, all arrangements for their visit, were made by Major and Mrs. Grant of the local Corps, who are to be congratulated upon the success achieved, especially the evening entertainment for which Major Merritt acted as chairman. The programme featured a most interesting Red Shield demonstration, and a very beautiful pageant, entitled, "Battles Fought and Won." There was a large attendance at all gatherings but at the grand finale, when the pageant was presented, the spacious hall was filled to its utmost capacity.

ALBIE'S WAR AUXILIARY DISTRIBUTED EASTER BOXES

Mrs. H. P. Hamel, President of the Albie's War Auxiliary, presided over this week's largely-attended meeting held at her home, 42 Wolfe Street.

Two special features lent additional interest to the evening's session; first a large Union Jack, donated to the Auxiliary by an interested friend, was proudly displayed by the President, and, secondly, Mrs. Hamel's interesting report of her visit to the Hotel Dieu Military Hospital, accompanied by Mrs. Selvin Whitaker, Secretary. These ladies took over thirty-eight Easter boxes and with the kind assistance of Miss Shirley Burden and Mrs. Douglas Howes distributed them to the soldier patients.

Each box contained fruit, candy, chocolate bars, cigarettes and an Easter card, while Miss Burden carried a large basket filled with colored Easter eggs, presenting one to each man.

Further Mrs. Howes distributed a cloth bound book to every one, and later when the Secretary discovered there were four girls, three W.A.C. and one "Wren," she gave each of them a box, an egg and a cloth bound book.

Needless to say all recipients were most grateful to Mrs. Hamel and her assistants for their generous and very much appreciated Easter gifts, and the personal visit of the Auxiliary members.

The President extended thanks to Mr. F. E. Kerridge for a generous cash donation towards the Easter boxes, and to Mrs. Heath, Mrs. Howes, Mrs. Burden, Mrs. Mouldy and Mrs. Whitaker for gifts, and for books to Mrs. Bell, Mrs. W. J. Cotterell and Miss Frances Hamel.

The President generously undertook to make cookies and cakes to be sent to the Hospital this coming Sunday.

Plans were made to hold a bingo party at the next meeting of the Auxiliary, the proceeds to be used towards extra dainties for the same soldiers in hospital.

Mrs. Hamel agreed to have a sale of home cooking, the receipts from which will be devoted to the same object.

Finished knitted articles were handed in and more wool was distributed to the busy bee workers. The President expressed pleasure in having had Lt.-Col. Robinson, Quebec, and George Burden, R.C.

Social and Personal

Mr. N. Dion and Mr. J. Charlebois, of the R.C.A.F., Montreal, are guests at the MAGOG House for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur H. Fuller, formerly residing at 77 Court Street, have taken up residence at their new home, "The Bungalow," 106 Victoria Street.

Mrs. W. E. Loomis, Regent of the Sherbrooke Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., Miss May Mitchell, Standard Bearer, and Mrs. Gordon B. Loomis, Secretary, returned last night from Montreal, where they attended the annual meeting of the Quebec Provincial Chapter, in conference at the Mount Royal Hotel on Wednesday and Thursday. During the annual meeting the following Sherbrookers were elected councillors of the Quebec Provincial Chapter of which Mrs. W. E. Loomis by virtue of her office as Municipal Regent is one, Mrs. R. L. DuBerger, Miss May Mitchell, Mrs. Gordon B. Loomis and Mrs. A. A. Munster.

Mrs. H. Stewart was hostess at the tea hour after this week's meeting of St. Paul's Guild in the Church Hall. Mrs. M. Johnson, First Vice-President, was in the chair and the Reverend John Ford opened the session with prayer. After the disposal of routine business, which included a gratifying report by Mrs. F. Shorten, Treasurer on the Easter tea, it was decided to celebrate the Guild's thirtieth anniversary in May, and to provide luncheon for the clergy attending the Coaticook-Sherbrooke Deacons to be held here. After making plans for a rummage sale on May 15, the meeting was adjourned until April 26. During the social hour which followed the hostess served tea and dainty refreshments, with Mrs. M. Johnson, assisting.

Graced by the presence of Sister Annie Dutton, Grand Instructor of District No. 1, Grand Chapter of Quebec, O. E. S., this week's meeting of the Sherbrooke Chapter No. 22 was an interesting one both from a social and Chapter viewpoint. The Worthy Matron, Sister Claire Inrie, presided over the gathering, which took place in the Chapter Room, and after the formal opening, routine business was disposed of and the work of the Order, including the conferring of initiatory degrees on two candidates, was explained for the benefit of Sister Dutton. In her remarks the visiting official warmly congratulated the officers on the excellent exemplification of their work, and extended best wishes for the Chapter's future success. As a token of appreciation the worthy Matron, Sister Claire Inrie, presented Sister Dutton with a suitable gift as a souvenir of her visit to the Sherbrooke Chapter, the Grand Instructor, afterwards voicing her thanks in a graceful manner. Later delectable refreshments were served under the efficient convenship of Sister Hazel Buckland and Sister Amy Wilson, who were ably assisted by several members of the Chapter.

A.F. as visitors at the Club, their presence evincing their continued interest in the good work of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Selvin Whitaker gave the roll call and read the minutes, after the President's opening prayer.

Mrs. Hamel read letters from Italy and Overseas, also one from Mrs. Thomas Ham, Stanstead, whose interest in the work of the Auxiliary never flags.

Mrs. George Burden was the fortunate winner of the surprise box donated by Miss Andrea Moorecroft. The latter, who was acting hostess for the meeting, served dainty refreshments with Miss Vernice Ashman assisting.

The session closed with the singing of God Save the King.

TRINITY W.M.S. EASTER THANK-OFFERING MEETING

There was a good attendance of members of Trinity W.M.S. on Thursday afternoon, April 20, in Wesley Hall, the occasion being the Easter Thank-Offering meeting.

The President, Mrs. S. McLean, was in the chair and conducted the customary opening exercises.

The Treasurer, Mrs. E. A. Tomkins, gave a satisfactory financial report.

During the brief business session members were reminded of the tea to be held at Mrs. Walter Mutchler's residence on Dufferin Avenue, on Thursday, April 27th, and of the rummage sale at Lansdowne Market on June 2nd.

The Scriptural verse, "For me to live is Christ," was the theme chosen by Mrs. Paul Pergau in her devotional service. It was a lovely meditation, given with many soul-searching definitions.

The lantern slides, "For all of Life," beautifully illustrating the study book, were a feature of the Thank-Offering meeting. With Mrs. George C. Hall at the lantern and Mrs. R. Havard as narrator, the dramatic story of the great work of the missionaries abroad was unfolded with telling effect.

Mrs. Gordon Richards sang the beautiful solo, "Man of Sorrows," and presided at the piano throughout the service.

Mrs. Mackie Fuller reported for the Visiting Committee.

At the close of the meeting tea was served, the hostesses being Mrs. H. A. Gilbert and Mrs. Sam McLean. Mrs. R. Havard did the honors at the lace-covered table, which was centered with rose snapdragons and white stocks in a silver bowl. Mrs. George Hall assisted in serving.

MARRIAGES

HOLT—WHITE

East Angus, April 22. — A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Church of the Advent in Sherbrooke, in February, when Miss Linda White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. White, and the late Mr. White, of East Angus, became the bride of Mr. Glen Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holt, of East Angus. The Rev. Canon E. K. Moffat, Rector of the Church of the Advent, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Fred Holt, was becomingly gowned in an Alice blue silk dress and carried a bouquet of orange blossoms. She was attended by her cousin.

Mr. Glen Holt was supported by a friend.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception for the immediate relatives was held at the home of the bride's mother and a delicious supper was served.

The bride and groom received many useful and beautiful gifts.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, of Montreal, and an aunt from Waterloo.

After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Glen Holt will reside in Sherbrooke.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

The Situation: Your husband says that he would like to invite some friends to a stag party at home.

Wrong Way: Greet the guests at the door, yourself, so that they will know you are glad to have them.

Right Way: Don't put in an appearance at all. Either stay in your own room or, better yet, go out to a movie or to the home of friends until the party is over.

more than their objective. A second contest is being held which will end on June 16. The objective for the two rooms for the ten weeks is $72.

Mr. Ivan Bryan was guest of honor at a surprise birthday party at his home here on Saturday night, April 15. A very enjoyable social time was spent with the opening of gifts, which were much appreciated by the recipients. Delicious refreshments were served, the birthday cake containing a thimble, coin, ring and button in the traditional manner.

Mr. M. F. Daniels and sister, Mrs. George Lyford, and daughter, Bonnie, of Coaticook, spent a week-end here as guests of their sister, Mrs. Alber Bryan.

ADDRESSES ON THE MOVE... This Mail has PRIORITY WHEN a man is wounded in action or seriously ill, he is rushed through field and base hospitals with all possible speed, to the place where most effective treatment can be given. To offset possible delays, a new "Short-Cut" mail service has been put into effect. A Priority Casualty Card is filled in and rushed by Air Mail to his friends or relatives with instructions to add the words "In Hospital" to the unit address they usually use. Letters mailed from Canada bearing the words "In Hospital" are routed direct to the records office in the United Kingdom or the Central Mediterranean Force, as the case may be. They are given preference in transport, whether sent by Air Mail or regular mail. Thus they will reach the addressee faster than ever before. CANADA POST OFFICE Hon. W. P. PORT ARTHUR PLASTERED 15-4 BY QUEBEC

One More Win Needed By Aces To Capture First Allan Cup

Quebec, April 22.—(C)—Quebec Aces virtually clinched the Allan Cup last night when they swamped Port Arthur Shipbuilders under a 15-4 score to take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-five final series before more than 7,000 fans.

The 19 goals constituted a modern record for an Allan Cup final play-off, and Aces' 15 goals was also a modern record for a single team. The Aces swarmed in around goalie Jimmy Hill practically throughout the game to pile up their impressive margin.

Third game of the series will be played here Monday night, and there was no doubt in the minds of those who watched tonight's contest that Aces would need only one more game to wind up the series.

Practically all the Aces except Goalie Lionel Bouvrette got into the scoring. Rollie Rossignol led the parade with four counters, three of them within 12 minutes in the second period. Eddie Bruneteau collected three and Lude Check, Armand Gaudreault bagged two each, with others going to Nils Tremblay, Burch Stahan, Rosie Rozzini and Jim Robinson.

Ben Dinning, Bill McKenzie, Norm Larson and Les Eaton were the Port Arthur marksmen.

It was a hockey game in the first period when Aces, although holding a decided margin in the play, were held to two goals, from the sticks of Robinson and Gaudreault. But the Quebecers really found the range in the second, with a several-goal spurge against a lone Port Arthur tally.

Tremblay collected the first, and Rossignol got two and Rozzini one before Dinning broke the Ports' goose-egg. Gaudreault, Bruneteau and then Rossignol again fired shots past Hill before the period ended.

It was somewhat the same story in the third, although the Ports broke away from the steady Quebec pressure to collect three of their four goals. But Aces had run in two before the Shipbuilders got started, split the next six, and then finished off with Bruneteau's third counter of the night with 35 seconds to go.

ORLANDO GIVEN FOUR YEARS FOR DRAFT EVASION

Cincinnati, April 22.—(AP)—A four-year prison term and $2,000 fine imposed on James Vincent Orlando of Montreal, professional ice hockey player and former member of the Detroit Red Wings, for violation of the Selective Service law, was affirmed without written opinion today by the sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Orlando was accused of falsely representing himself to his draft board as a mechanic on the basis of employment in a Canadian factory.

Eugene Lalonde Is Re-Elected City Sporting Club President

Eugene Lalonde, well known local sportsman, was re-elected President of the Sherbrooke Sporting Club at the annual meeting of the organization which was held recently.

Other appointments are as follows: Vice-President, Ant. Blanchard; Secretary, J. L. Belleau; Treasurer, E. H. Lafleur. Directors of the club are A. Martial, L. P. Brousseau, O. Mercier, J. L. Doyon, A. Paquette, R. Barri, L. Robichaud and A. Latour.

Patrons of the organization are His Honor Mayor J. W. Genest, Maurice Giguere, M.P., and J. S. Bourque, M.L.A. Honorary President is Alderman A. V. Fiset, while Honorary Vice-Presidents are J. A. Savard and Dr. A. N. Dupuis.

It was decided at the meeting to withdraw the Martial Trophy, which was to be presented to Laurent Frchette, who was adjudged the best goalie in the Intermediate Hockey League, and that it would rather be awarded to Jean-Paul Dussault, who was voted the best juvenile rookie, while the Blanchard Trophy will go to Gilles Dube, of the Canadiens Juniors. There is no change in the awarding of the Sporting Club Trophy, which goes to Normand Dussault as best rookie of the Intermediate League.

In view of the fact that the Canadiens Juniors, champions of the Sherbrooke League, received no cup this year, A. Latour, donor of the Bourque Trophy, decided to present it to them.

The directors of the Sporting Club wish to express their regret at the necessary changes, but it was

ST. LOUIS GAINS 5 TO 3 VICTORY OVER CHICAGO

By The Associated Press

The surprising St. Louis Browns became the only undefeated team in the American League yesterday by winning their fourth straight game with a 5 to 3 conquest of the heretofore unbeaten Chicago White Sox before 2,021 paid customers at St. Louis.

Mike Krevich led the Browns' attack with two home runs, twice as many in one day as he had hit in the past three seasons.

Nelson Potter, pitching for the Browns, held the Sox to six hits including Hal Trosky's home run after singles by Wally Moses and Thurman Tucker in the eighth inning.

Paced by Pat Seery's home run with two men on base, the Cleveland Indians ran up a total of 12 hits to defeat the Detroit Tigers 7-4, opening the home season before 13,643 fans in Municipal Stadium.

Seery bludgeoned the ball into the upper left field stands in the sixth inning, driving in Jeff Heath and Ken Keltner, who had singled.

Catcher Bob Swift got two singles and a triple for three official times at bat to lead the seven-hit Detroit attack.

Notre Dame And Three Rivers Will Open Season Here May 21

The opening of the Provincial Independent Baseball League 1944 season in Sherbrooke is less than a month away. In the first game of the year's schedule, the Three Rivers baseball squad opposes Notre Dame of Sherbrooke at the Park Stadium on May 21.

An exhibition game between Acton Vale and Drummondville will be played at Drummondville on May 14. The season at Victoriaville opens on May 30.

Five teams are in the league. They are: Sherbrooke, Drummondville, Acton Vale, Three Rivers and Victoriaville. Each of the teams is to play twenty-four games, twelve away from home and twelve at home. The schedule is expected to wind up around the twentieth of August. Four squads will participate in the series for the league championship.

Squads of the Yamaska Baseball League will play exhibition tilts with teams of the Provincial Independent Baseball League during the season. Both leagues are thought to be of about even strength and some good games are expected to be seen.

There are four teams in the Yamaska league. They are: Granby, Yamaska, Farnham and Marieville. At the end of the year, the champion of the Yamaska Baseball League and the titlists of the Provincial Independent Baseball League will play a series for the provincial independent crown.

With two leagues operating in Sherbrooke, local fans are assured of plenty of baseball this summer. Besides the baseball leagues, there will be softball for those followers of this sport. Indications are that Sherbrooke fans will have enough sporting entertainment this summer to fill up any spare evenings they may have.

Ball's "dance of the sleeping children" is one of the world's strangest rituals. Girl priestesses are made unconscious by a narcotic and placed on their feet. Then, while in a trance, they perform their dance in time with the music moving all parts of their bodies except the feet.

SALVAGE COLLECTION TUESDAY!

ARE YOU READY!

PAPER SHORTAGE CRITICAL!

Every household can help — every household has some waste paper to spare. Mills are working only part time now on account of the paper shortage. Every pound of waste paper will help. Salvage trucks will tour the streets next Tuesday evening (April 25th). Bundle up securely all old newspapers, cartons, cardboard and wrapping paper and put them out before 5 p.m. next Tuesday when collecting starts.

Waste paper is not made into new printing paper. It is used to make cartons and containers. They are needed to ship blood plasma, food parcels to prisoners of war, ammunition and small mechanical parts. These cartons never come back. Your waste paper goes directly to war, so give all you can.

How To Handle It . . . What Is Needed . . .

- Newspapers, done up securely in bundles.
- Wrapping paper, bags, corrugated paper, cartons, crushed and tied in bundles.
- Tie bundles securely with heavy cord, light rope or wire. Thin string is useless.
- Tie rags in bundles.
- Place metals in piles or cartons.
- Damaged magazines or books are useful as salvage. Save the good ones for magazine collection for camps and canteens.
- Put all salvage in front of your home before 5 p.m. next Tuesday.

HILLCREST SKI CLUB WILL HOLD DINNER TONIGHT

The Hillcrest Ski Club will hold its annual banquet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Hotel Frontenac Hotel. The last outing of the Hillcrest organization members was held last Sunday when the hangerson of the popular winter sport went out for one last fling at taking the hills at Green Timber, near Eastis, at high speed while others took advantage of motor transport to take them to the sugar camp.

However, this will be the last get-together for the members of the club. The presentation of trophies and prizes to those who won events in the various competitions will be made at the banquet tonight.

The Hillcrest Ski Club is bringing to an end one of its most successful seasons it has yet experienced. Besides providing the members of the club with lots of fun this winter, the Hillcrest club has done much towards making skiing a major winter sport in these parts of the Eastern Townships.

It was reported this morning that the club has obtained three films on skiing which will be shown tonight to the members after the banquet. One of the films is one skiing and skiing conditions in the Canadian Rocky Mountains, and the other two are films depicting various trails and favorite skiing spots in the Laurentians.

IN ANCIENT TIMES

Only the free man was permitted to wear shoes. Kings and High Priests of the Egyptians wore the sandal with turned-up point; the common people wore the flat sandal. Both were made of strips of papyrus woven together. The strap which bound the sandal to the foot passed between the first and second toes.

THERE are three reasons why April 23 is a date dear to the hearts of all English people who proudly claim allegiance to the British Throne and to all who are fortunate to be members of the British Empire and to live under the Union Jack.
First and foremost it is Saint George's Day, an occasion when Englishmen the world over pay fitting tribute to the name of England's patron saint.
April 23 is also the anniversary of the birth and death of William Shakespeare, who was born on Saint George's Day in 1564, and died on April 23, 1616.
And this same date, April 23, was again made dear in the hearts of all British people when it was in 1918, during the First World War, that the courageous and efficient British force carried out their daring and successful operations against Zeebrugge.
April 23 is thus a proud day for English-speaking people. It is the day set aside in honor of England's patron saint, but it is a day which also belongs to all people of British origin, for England belongs to all who call themselves British, for we who speak the language which Shakespeare spoke and cherish the morals which Milton held.
Our England of today is again standing four-square against cruelty, injustice and oppression, but the spirit of England is today, as it has been down through the centuries, undying. It serves to uphold in hours of darkness and of stress. It is the everlasting stimulant that stirs in the breasts of those who still raise their hats to the flag of England. It is the power that has endured throughout the centuries and kept that flag flying.

There is none so poor of heart but he can feel a thrill of pride today when he looks back upon the splendid story of England's rise and her work throughout the world.
We were English yesterday.
We are English today—tomorrow—forever.

6th. VICTORY LOAN for $1,200,000,000 OPENS MONDAY

YOUR Victory Loan salesman will be calling on you on Monday, or during the next three weeks. Open your door wide and ask him in. He will show you how you can play your part in reaching the 6th Victory Loan objective of $1,200,000,000.

For every Canadian, the Sixth Victory Loan presents both a need and an opportunity. The need is that of our fighting men for a continuous flow of supplies of all kinds. The opportunity is for you to stand alongside your fighting men and to share as best you can the weight of conflict.

Our fighting men are storming the beaches—battering their way step by step to the citadels of our enemies. When our armies are on the attack, they use up ammunition, machines, clothing, great quantities of foodstuffs and every type of equipment at a terrific rate. These things must be replaced and a great reserve maintained to keep the attack moving and to ensure victory.

War supplies can only be maintained with the whole-hearted support of every Canadian. By putting victory first—by getting along with less to save more—by buying Victory Bonds, you help to see that our soldiers, sailors and airmen never have to do without—never have to worry about where the next round of ammunition or the next day's rations are coming from.

When you purchase Victory Bonds, you supply the means to help shorten the war and bring our Canadian men and women home sooner.

Welcome your Victory Loan salesman. Greet him cordially. Give him every co-operation. Be ready for him and help conserve his time. Buy all the Bonds you can for cash and on the monthly savings plan. Be proud to wear the new symbol, the "winged VI" on your lapel. Be eager to play your part and do your share to bring victory sooner.
