THE CUSTOMS SPIES

Are Denounced in the Strongest Possible Terms—Belton, Alias Brooks, Etc.

GROSE REFUSES TO TALK.

He May Know More than He Cares to Tell—A Prominent Government Official Says the Smith & Patterson Seizure was Made at the Instance of a Combine.

The story of the outrageous seizure of watch cases by a customs "special agent" published exclusively in The Herald Saturday morning, created an immense stir in the commercial centres of the city.

That irregularities exist no one attempts to deny, and it is to be hoped that at the coming session of Parliament an investigation will be demanded and procured.

Such a proceeding will without doubt prove to Parliament that Canada's customs laws need an overhauling.

Detective Grose Won't Talk—Why?

A Herald reporter started out Saturday morning to interview some merchants in regard to the exposure, and after being put off for the present by several prominent business men who have been "plucked" he spied the new brass sign of the Canadian Secret Service Bureau with the elaborate scales representing "justice" prominently displayed thereon.

Knowing Detective John L. Grose had been in the employ of the Customs Department for several years, the young scribe decided to interview him. Mr. Grose was found in his private office and was approached as follows:

"Mr. Grose have you read The Herald this morning?"

"Yes sir, I have," said he. "That is a terrible crack you make at the Customs Department."

"It is about that article I called. You were for years employed by the Customs Department as a 'special agent' were you not?"

"Yes sir, I was."

"You were, as everyone knows, engaged in a number of important seizures, will you allow me to interview you on this subject?"

"No sir, I have nothing to say."

It would appear from this that Mr. Grose knows more about this "special agent" business than he cares to have the public hear.

Belton Alias Brooks, Well-Known Here.

"This name is quite familiar to me," said Mr. H. Mason, of The Trade Bulletin, as he perused the article on unjust customs seizures in Saturday's Herald. His allusion was to the name of Belton, the "special agent" inquisitorial of the Customs Department.

In The Trade Bulletin of Oct. 14, 1887, this individual is spoken of in connection with the customs troubles that rife at Valleyfield, as "Poet's confederate, Mr. Brooks, Captain Belton, etc."

"A cesspool of rottenness" was the definition then applied by Mr. Mason to the detective system of the Customs; and he continues to entertain the same views on the subject to-day. "Falsehood and fraud, perjury and jerry law," he says, "the direct and logical fruits of this insidious secret service. All the vilest, meanest, most inhuman vices of the low-born spy are called into action in their most malignant modes to do this crooked work."

"Here are two brothers, sons of the same father and mother, living side by side. They are farmers, cultivating adjoining lots, one in Manitoba, the other in Dakota. No barrier separates them save the ordinary wooden fence and the imaginary boundary line. They wish to make a simple trade, to exchange a pair of horses or perhaps two different varieties of grain. The bargain will be a decided advantage to one brother as well as to the other; but the Great Mogul who frames the tariff law, exclaims: No my children, you must be protected from each other. The duty on each horse will be, say, $30."

"The brothers know the law; yet they know that it has no moral sanction; and when the shades of evening fall, completely obliterating the imaginary international wall, they meet at the line fence and the horse trade is finally settled. No, not finally. The nocturnal prowling 'special agent' has witnessed the fraternal deal. He confiscates the horses, threatens the two farmers with fines and penalties, extorts the price of his pound of flesh and no one ever knows how the plunder has been shared between the spy and the department at Ottawa."

Worse Cases than This.

In his condemnation of official espionage Mr. Mason cites some cases of even more nefarious conduct than that of this Northwest case. "Here in the City of Montreal," he says, "some of the most honored business firms have been placed at the mercy of these governmental sleuth hounds by employees who make false entries unknown to their employers, then turn informers and 'divy' with the special agent." This has actually been done to Mr. Mason's personal knowledge.

It will be remembered that on charges of conspiracy with such an employee, a libel action was entered against Mr. Mason by this Mr. Belton, alias Brooks, in 1887. It is significant that the case was settled off without the slightest apology for the criminal libel alleged.

Was It a Combine Trick?

A prominent Government official informed The Herald's "Special Custom Agent" on Saturday that he had questioned authority for making this statement that the seizure of Messrs. Smith & Patterson's stock of watch cases was the outcome of information given to a Government "special agent" by the combine of watch-case and manufacturing jewelers. This combine, it is said, was formed some time since to "protect" the trade against putting on the Bismarck and the Socialists—German War Preparations—Kind With Some of a More Peaceful Kind—A Royal Bow—Italians For America—Is the Vendetta to be Imported?

By Cable to The Herald. CALCUTTA, April 18.—The British troops have had a battle with the Maranzis in which the latter were defeated with heavy loss after a hot engagement. The British lost a number of men and had two officers severely wounded. The fight was decided by a brilliant dash of the troops whereby the natives were overwhelmed. The British are about making a general advance to clear the Samana range of hills in which the Maranzis have taken refuge.

The Miranzis are the most independent and warlike tribe inhabiting the mountainous district near the Indus and bordering on Afghanistan. April 6 it was announced that the belligerent mountaineers had risen in revolt, and had attacked the British troops along the line of posts occupied by them. Upon the receipt of the news two battalions of infantry supported by artillery and cavalry was at once forwarded to the succor of the endangered garrison. It is supposed that upon the arrival of these reinforcements the British at once assumed the offensive with the successful results set forth above.

Parnell Attacks McCarthy, by Cable to The Herald. DUBLIN, April 19.—At Athlone Saturday Parnell addressed a large throng of admirers. He denounced the McCarthyites for opposing the Land Bill which he said could not fail to be of great benefit to the Irish farmers which therefore would no doubt please the opposition to see defeated. He repeated the same charges at Irishtown, Mayo, Sunday.

Discontented Troops, by Cable to The Herald. LONDON, April 19.—Another evidence, similar to the case of the Grenadier Guards, has been furnished of the discontent and rebellious spirit rife in the ranks of the army. The 3rd Artillery Battery, stationed at Fort Grange, Gosport, when ordered out for parade yesterday refused to obey the command. They rushed out of their quarters swearing at and threatening the officers, and finally srooned the officers' quarters, breaking the windows. The men being of other companies were ordered to arrest the rioters, but they refused to carry out the instruction. The rioters were finally prevailed upon by the urging of some of the more popular officers to resume their duties, the promise being made that their grievances would be listened to at the proper time. Eight of the men were afterwards arrested. The men allege that they are drilled to excess and subjected to an unnecessary drill of mental duty, besides poorly fed. An inquiry into the affair has been ordered from London.

A Royal Bow, by Cable to The Herald. LONDON, April 19.—There is a row in the Kaiser's household. Berlin despatches state and the Empress may take a journey to Schleswig. The Imperial couple are said to be unhappy for several reasons one being the growing influence of the Empress Frederick, who in the opinion of the Kaiser usurps some of the importance that ought to attach to the Kaiser's Consort, and another is the harshness shown by the Kaiser recently to near relatives of the Kaiserin. The Kaiser has been a devoted husband since the suicide of Prince Rudolph of Austria had an effect in mending his habits, but he expects the same divine right sort of worship in his family that has led to trouble. The affair has become sufficiently prominent to attract attention and arouse gossip outside of court circles. It is thought that it may amount to no more than strained relations for a few days as the Imperial pair are devoted to their children.

Italians For America, by Cable to The Herald. LONDON, April 19.—A Rome despatch says that the Government has agreed to give free passage to America to any of the informers and other witnesses in the Mala Vittu prosecution that may desire it and it is believed, the offer will be gladly taken advantage of by all of them. Several witnesses who testified in the case have already reached Naples under police protection and are undoubtedly awaiting the first chance to embark for the United States. Another suspicious feature of Italian emigration has been the arrival at Naples of considerable numbers of Sicilians bound to America, and it is current talk in Naples that some of them have a mission connected with the New Orleans tragedy.

A Roman gentleman informed a London correspondent Friday that while he hated and despised the Mafia he recognized that the Vendetta was inevitable, and that the leaders in the American tragedy would die by violence sooner or later, though perhaps not for two or three years. He said that this was the chief reason in Italy for punishing murder with imprisonment instead of death, as the Vendetta had always followed the capital penalty.

Sticks and Stones are Freely Used and the Officers are Compelled to Flee—Two Men Badly Injured—How the Hungarians Regard an Ejection—One Way of Going Ahead.

By Cable to The Herald. UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 18.—Deputy Sheriff Crawford went to Leisensburg No. 2 Works to-day to evict several families of strikers. He and his deputies set one or two families out peacefully. When they went to the house of Felix McGovern they were told by McGovern's wife to be removed except a stove and clock about 50 Hungarian women made their appearance in the front of the house. Crawford's men were then surrounded by the females who pelled the officers with stones and sticks, and compelling them to flee for safety. Deputy Grant Samners was struck on the head by a stone, which cut a terrible gash in his scalp. They were armed with stones, clubs and knives. Deputy Smith was badly bruised with a stone, and was cut across the thigh.

A Strike Probable, by Cable to The Herald. LONDON, April 19.—A strike of all the London carpenters and joiners is expected to occur on May 22 to enforce the demand for tenpence per hour and 48 hours a week. At present 53 hours is regarded as a week's work.

Italians Not Satisfied, by Cable to The Herald. ROME, April 19.—The Italian Government, it is stated, has been deeply surprised by learning the extent to which Italian immigration is not desired in the United States. The upper classes in Italy had been under the impression that the country was doing America a favor in permitting the people to go there and they still profess their inability to understand why any of the Italian immigrants are considered undesirable.

Bismarck and Socialists, by Cable to The Herald. LONDON, April 19.—Berlin advices state that the Kaiser has evinced the most anxious interest in the result of the Geestermund elections. The London socialists have also been at least equally interested and one of the most prominent of them has expressed the opinion last night that the Kaiser could get every little satisfaction either way if the choice lay between Bismarck on the one hand and the socialists on the other. There is no doubt that the prince would exert himself in the slightest degree to win the election but he did not even give formal public notice that he would accept any seat if given. The socialists on the other hand were active to an extraordinary degree.

German Emigrants Find Themselves in a Sorry Plight, by Cable to The Herald. BERLIN, April 19.—Distressing scenes are now being enacted in Bremen every night, owing to the police being obliged to send back hundreds of emigrants who left home under the belief that free passage tickets for Brazil would be furnished them by the German Lloyd agents, although the Brazilian Government stopped its emigration subsidies from April 10. The Bremen police are obliged to shelter these people at night and to use stratagem or force to effect their return.

LEOPOLD TO VISIT CANADA, by Cable to The Herald. The King of the Belgians Tells His Mother He Hopes to Do So, by Cable to The Herald. QUEBEC, April 19.—In a letter to Hon. Charles Langley, Provincial Secretary, Hon. Mr. Mercier speaks of the gracious reception given him by Lord Vivian, British Ambassador at Brussels. That diplomat introduced Mr. Mercier to King Leopold, who declared himself delighted with the Premier's visit, and hoped that he would prolong his stay, as he wished to speak to him regarding Canada, for which he felt, great admiration. The King said further that he hoped soon to visit the country.

MURDERED AT THE ALTAR, by Cable to The Herald. PRIEST SHOT DOWN IN CHURCH AND HIS MURDERER SUICIDES, by Cable to The Herald. VIENNA, April 19.—While services were being conducted in the Cathedral at Vaisen yesterday, a shoemaker in the congregation suddenly drew a revolver and shot the priest, who fell dead before the altar. The man next fired at an acolyte, but failed to wound him. He then shot himself dead. The motive assigned for the double crime is a desire for revenge owing to overpowering jealousy.

Suspected of Murder, by Cable to The Herald. HAMILTON, April 19.—T. J. Woods and William Foster, two young men from Winona, came to Hamilton on Saturday morning and after drinking considerable got into a quarrel in Roache's Hotel near the station. The quarrel started over the paying a boy for carrying a valise. After the fight Foster went back to Winona on the five o'clock train, and Woods returned on a later one. This morning Foster was found dead in his bed. He has a nasty bruise on the side of his head, and suspicion pointed strongly to Woods with whom he had the quarrel. Woods is a farm hand, and has lived in Winona for a long time. While Foster is known as "Yankee" Foster, he is only in Winona a few days, coming, it is said, from the States. Woods has been arrested, and an inquest will be held to-morrow.

Dubroy, late clerk in the East End Avenue National Bank at Cleveland, Ohio, and his confederate, M. O'Dell, brakeman on the Columbus, Cleveland and Cincinnati Railway, who last Tuesday stole $2000 from the bank named and shipped to Canada, were arrested to-day. Dubroy had been entrusted with the money to take to the Express office, but instead went to the depot, met his friend, and arranged with him to come to Canada right off. O'Dell first going down to Toronto, reaching here on Friday. On Saturday they bought out a tobacco store on Yonge-street, and arranged to go into business. To-day they were recognized by Toronto detectives and were arrested. They admit everything, and have promised to go back.

QUEBEC JOTTINGS, by Cable to The Herald. Not Guilty, But Still Held—A Big Review—Sudden Deaths—A Body Found, by Cable to The Herald. QUEBEC, April 19.—In the Queen's Bench yesterday the jury in the case of Ida Perrins, accused of stealing a ring, came into court persisting in their verdict of "not guilty." The prisoner was not dismissed, as there are other indictments against her. The military review here on May 24 and 25, promises to be quite original and interesting. There will be a church parade on Sunday 24 and 25 will be a sham attack on the city on one and defence on the other. General Herpet will be here.

They met to-day on the street and proceeded to hammer each other with their canes. They were separated before any damage beyond a few cuts and bruises had been done.

Fire Record, by Cable to The Herald. ST. ANDREWS, Que., April 18.—The barns and stables belonging to Nelson Lalonde, of Latale, about four miles from here, were completely destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The fire was started by Edward Hayes, an immigrant 11 years of age, whom Mr. Lalonde had adopted. Fourteen cows, several tons of hay and farming implements were destroyed. Loss about $3000; no insurance.

The Man Fired At the Woman and Then At Himself—Both Were Dead When Picked Up—The Lovers Were Reunited Only to Part in Death, by Cable to The Herald. NEW YORK, April 18.—A report was read at the police headquarters at Hoboken this afternoon of a murder and suicide. The message came from the river front. The sergeant sent two men on a double quick to the scene. This was the story as it was told to the police: The German steamship Eder was to sail for the other side at 1 o'clock. At a little before that time a young couple came to the steamship wharf. They were talking earnestly and the young woman seemed to be very much depressed. Her eyes were red as if she had been weeping. The couple went on board the ship. Soon after this time on the wharf were startled by a pistol shot. It was followed quickly by another. The young man had fired at the woman. The second shot he fired at himself. Both were dead when they were picked up. The young man was Chas. Omoeker, and the young woman Louise Omoeker. They were sweethearts. She came from Germany two weeks ago to join Omoeker. To-day she was returning home.

CHILDREN CONFINED FOR DAYS ON BREAD AND WATER IN THE OHIO INSTITUTES, by Cable to The Herald. COLUMBUS, April 19.—Governor Campbell to-day appointed a committee of the State Board of Charities to investigate allegations of cruelty to children at the Ohio Institute for the Blind. The complaints and demand for an investigation came to the Governor and the Board of Charities through Professor Starling Loving, president of the Columbus Humane Society, whose agent, C. M. Morris, made a personal investigation of the inmates, and in his report he details a startling condition of affairs. He found that Annie Stone, aged 10, was confined in a room from Monday morning till Saturday evening on bread and water. He could not, however, confirm the report that a pupil had been confined in a box, but found that one of the matrons had confined Abe Soule, aged 13, in a room by himself for two days and required him to remain in bed on bread and water. The boy has since been expelled. The committee will make another investigation next week and some startling developments are anticipated.

A start was to have been made to-day, but when the sailors found out that they were to get but 1¢ per day they refused to sail, and the Laura is now at anchor in the harbor. Canada is now without direct coal mail service between Canada and Great Britain. Her Majesty's mails are now being carried via New York. The Government has allowed the contract with the Canadian Pacific for the conveyance of the ocean mails by any other route without extra charge. New York is now the ocean port of the Dominion. A Sensation in Turf Circles. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. LEXINGTON, April 18.—A sensation in turf circles was caused here this afternoon by the news that Mike Bowerman had been expelled from the track of the Lexington Fair Association, which is a member of the National Trotting Association. It seems that Bowerman, who rents a stable from the Fair Association and trains his horses on their track, refused to pay any rent to President George H. Whitney until he repaired a cistern on the place that he had agreed to fix. When Whitney called for his money, he denied promising Bowerman to repair the cistern; and the latter insisted he had. The quarrel wound up by Bowerman ejecting Whitney from his stable. Whitney at once called the Board of Directors together, and they passed a resolution expelling Bowerman from the track, and ordering him to vacate. They also attempted to make his expulsion apply to all tracks in the jurisdiction of the National Association, but found they couldn't do so, and let the matter drop. In the mean time Bowerman continues to hold his stable and train on the association's track. He swears he will stay there until next November, when the lease expires. The cistern could be fixed with $6 worth of work; now a costly lawsuit, and probably bloodshed, will ensue. Mike Bowerman is one of the best known trotting horse-men in the country. He is one of the owners of Wilton, 2:19, and has driven some of the most famous of the Wilkes family, including Baron Wilkes, 2:18.

imported thoroughbreds from England from the earliest colonial days, and the results, from a breeder's standpoint, have been very happy. America has sent a comparatively small number of race horses to Europe, and they have been wonderfully successful, the list including such notable winners as Starke, Priores, Bfown Prince, Iroquois, Foxhall, Farole, Vallenstein and Pappoose. But to send youngsters for sale is an expensive and pure and simple. Mr. Easton's theory in making this shipment is that since Americans know by the experience of many years that well-bred English horses when brought here almost invariably succeed with the best American stock and that the climatic change is of evident value, it should follow that the results of such breeding ought to be of extreme value at the stud in England. Following this idea he purchased over a year ago nearly 50 of the best bred and most prominent yearlings he could find in the country, and from the lot he has picked out 10 that in their development as 2-year-olds he considers the best.

The lot includes Miscarra, ch. f, by Miser—Algeria, Red Heather, b. f, by Imp Glengarry—Azales; Mad Marian, ch. f, by Forester—Elaine; Blazeway, br. f, by Blaze—Emma H. Turkish Delight, ch. f, by Hyder Ali—Gally; Spanish Dancer, blk. f, by Farandole—Lady Hampton; Twilight, ch. f, by Onondaga—Slight; La Duchesse Rouge, br. f, by Duke of Montrose—Imp Type of Beauty; Lady Use, b. f, by Longfellow—Useful; and Duenna, ch. f, by Milner—Pedalma.

The results of Mr. Easton's bold venture will be watched with much interest by racing men in this country.

BASEBALL. At Johnson Will Try and Make it Hot for Somebody. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. CLEVELAND, April 18.—Al Johnson was in a tantrum to-day, and, speaking to a number of friends, remarked that if the suit for an injunction was decided in his favor at Cincinnati, he would see that the Cleveland and Cincinnati National League Clubs had a hard time opening the season on Wednesday. In that city unless he recovers his $30,000 on the spot. He will leave for Cincinnati on Sunday with a lawyer and a bundle of legal documents.

FOOTBALL. An Exciting Scene at a Football Match in Ireland. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. BELFAST, April 19.—An exciting scene was witnessed yesterday at a football match in this city. The spectators became angered at an apparently unfair ruling of the referee and broke up the game. About 2,000 men threw down the barriers and poured into the field. The members of a visiting club were signalled for attack and a free fight with clubs and stones ensued. The 60 policemen present were unable to cope with the rioters and they finally retreated on until the arrival of reinforcements. A dozen people were held back before order was restored. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of a dozen of the leaders of the riot.

MISCELLANEOUS. Professor Senac is Willing to Meet Sergeant-Major Morgans. The New York Herald says: Professor Senac, the fencing instructor of the New York Athletic Club, was seen at his studio over the Broadway Theatre yesterday afternoon and was asked what reply he would make to the challenge of Sergeant-Major Morgans, of the Royal Military College of Kingston, Ont. He said: "I am willing to meet him at any time and for any sum, but I must first know the conditions of the match. I should prefer to fence in New York, however. I will write to him tonight accepting his challenge and ask him what rules and conditions are to govern the proposed contests." At this point, apparently, he saw a vision of the sword and the scabbard. He then stepped off from the rack, made a force lunge at a fencing target on the wall, transfixing it in the centre with an accuracy that augured ill for the valiant Canadian.

They Held a Mass Meeting. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. TROY, April 18.—The mass meeting last night to denounce the recent prize fight was very largely attended. A long series of resolutions was adopted declaring that prize fighting hereafter will be prevented here, and directing the committee to be appointed to-morrow to present to the next grand jury all the facts to be obtained so that those who violated the law may be indicted. The Rev. Mr. Bolmer, who caused a sensation at a previous gathering by defending sparing, was called to the stage, and after calling down the Rev. Mr. Haynes for allying himself as the prize fighting champion, offered a resolution reciting that if an investigation it was found to be true that two police commissioners witnessed the fight, their cases be presented to the grand jury, and that steps be taken to remove them from office. The chair did not entertain the motion.

THE RING. Gibbons and Verrall Meet to Arrange a Fight. SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD. NEW YORK, April 18.—The following special cable was received at the Police Gazette office yesterday from London: Austin Gibbons, the American pugilist who recently arrived here and issued a challenge to fight any of the 9 stone 10 pound pugilists, has not had long to wait for an engagement. Jem Verrall, who recently defeated Sammy Blakelock, well known in America, agreed to fight the American. The pugilists and their back-ers met at the Sporting Life office to-day and signed articles to fight at 9 stone 8 pounds, the championship of the world and a purse of £225 offered by the Pelican Club.

The American's only stipulation was that the battle should be fought with gloves like Richard K. Fox has sent to Lord Londsdale. The fight is to be decided on June 16, and the result, owing to its being an international affair, promises to create as much interest as the Nunc Wallace and Dixon contest. Gibbons has been well received here and made a host of friends. Verrall is a tough customer and the fight will be a desperate one. ARKINSON.

News From England. SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD. NEW YORK, April 17.—The following special cable was received at the Police Gazette office yesterday from London: The match between Jemmy Carney and Dick Burge, who are to fight for £1000 and the lightweight championship of England, is attracting considerable attention. Carney is the favorite at five to four. Burge's backers will back him heavily because they believe Carney will stale. Joe Wilson and Austin Gibbons met at the Sporting Life office to-day to arrange a match for £200 a side, to fight at 8 stone 8 pounds. Gibbons, being matched with Verrall, declining to arrange two matches, but agreed to fight Wilson if he defeated Verrall. Peall is to give J. Dowland 2000 points start in a spot barred billiard game of 10,000 points for £100.

Matched at Last. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. PITTSBURG, Pa., April 18.—"Denyer" Smith and his backer have been chasing up Bob Fitzsimmons ever since that middleweight champion came to town on Monday last. They finally succeeded to-night in making a match for $500 a side. Queensbury rules, the men to weigh in 154 pounds. The time and place are yet to be arranged. Each man will post $1000 forfeit.

At Close Quarters. A prize fight in a barn near Williamsville, Conn., early yesterday morning, was noteworthy for the reason that, after fighting 10 rounds, with two-ounce gloves, both men were up, unannouncedly as it were, that neither could come out for the 11th. The contestants were local scrapers, named Jim Doyle and Mart Sullivan. They were light weights, and fought for a purse of $100, in a "close-quarters" fight. Fitzsimmons was referee. The 10th round was a terror. First one man would get a knock-down and then the other, and so on to the finish. It was the most vicious kind of fighting. On call of time for the 11th round the men sat in their chairs, both actually unable to get on their feet, and the referee could only declare the match a draw.

McCarthy and Burns. New York World: Tony Killian, President of the Ajax Club, sent the following telegram to a local sportsman last night: Boston, April 17.—Will McCarthy box Bobby Burns, Ajax Club, $800 purse, within four weeks? Tony Killian.

McCarthy was found by a World man at the Park House, in Jersey City. He was shown the despatch and said: "I am perfectly willing to box Burns in Jersey, but I cannot agree to give a $1000 purse for the match. If they do increase the offer I can get in shape by May 15 if necessary." Col. Tom Wilkinson, who is managing the benefit which will be tendered to the Jerseyman in the Clermont Avenue Hotel, Toronto, on April 17, reports that over $1,000 worth of tickets have already been disposed of. George Dixon will "wind up" the show with McCarthy.

Fit Will Put Up His Forfeit. SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD. PITTSBURG, Pa., April 19.—Bob Fitzsimmons met the backers of E. A. Smith of Denver, last night. Fitzsimmons has agreed to put up $1500 forfeit on his arrival in Chicago Monday for a fight between himself and Smith. Smith's backers say they will cover the forfeit next week.

General Sporting Gossip. George Cartwright and Dave Bennett, of Toronto, ran a two-mile race in Boston on Saturday, Cartwright winning.

Harry Darrin, the English distance runner, and Peter Kirby, of Pittsburgh, will be matched in a few days to run a three-mile race at Pittsburg for $1000 a side.

Jim Corbett's friends in "Frisco are so confident of him whipping Peter Jackson that they are making great preparations to celebrate his victory, and are laying in fish horns for street parade.

A gentleman is willing to back John North for the sum of £500 to play a game of 10,000 up at English billiards—during the absence of John Roberts—against any player in England.

Cyprus, the only imported Arabian stallion in Canada, who was brought out to Canada by Capt. Anson A. D.C., to Lord Londsdale, is now the property of Dr. J. G. Hunsberger, of Dundee. Col. Anderson, of the second Bombay Lancers, bought him in Arabia in 1878.

Sun's 1890 career was not glorious. Not only did he show as a crank, but also most signally failed to get dangerous only close to Maud S.'s 2:08—her mark. She is again being advertised to beat Maud's record, and is sized up as being far superior to Nelson, Stamboul, Nancy Hanks, McNeil and Alerton.

"Cal" McCarthy, the ex-champion bantam-weight, has changed his mind about retiring from the ring, and now wants to go to England and meet "Nunc" Wallace. Bobby Burns of Providence, who defeated Fitz Fitzpatrick of Canada, offered to meet McCarthy, and the Ajax Club of this city will give them a $700 purse.

Billy Myer, the Stretzer lightweight, is very bitter against Jack McAliff, and threatens to "smash" the champion if he ever speaks about fight to him again. Myer says that since their first meeting he has spent $1000 and months of valuable time trying to get on another "math with McAliff" and he does not intend "to be fooled again."

A despatch from San Francisco says: Jackson is still going about on crutches, but professes to be confident that he will be in perfect condition to give battle to young Tom Connors from now. He says he expects to meet Connors here in 10 days, and that will give him four weeks in which to train. He says in that time he will be as hard as a rock. Corbett is already preparing to go into training, and is taking long walks daily over the surrounding hills.

Dyspepsia in Its Worst Form will yield to the use of Carter's Little Nerve Pills, aided by Carter's Little Liver Pills. They not only relieve present distress but strengthen the stomach and digestive apparatus.

WILL THEY RESIGN.

The Only Apparent Chance For the National Game to Survive Here This Summer.

BOWLING CHAMPIONSHIP. Victoria Rifles Team Defeats Both the M. A. A. A. and Ottawas, Thereby Winning the Championship—The Montreal Bicyclists Preparing For the Season—Baseball News.

Lacrosse has received a blow already this season, and it will prove a most disastrous one unless matters are righted and the delegates come to a satisfactory understanding at the meeting to be held on Friday next. However, taking a view of the case at present shows that there is only one hope for the good of the game, viz: the retiring of the Capitals.

It would certainly be a great benefit both in Montreal and Ottawa and Toronto also should the six club league exist, yet as Toronto and Montreal object, their wishes should be respected and the series ought to go on as it did last season.

They do not want to play two matches in Ottawa and signify their intention of retiring if the schedule is forced; this is where the trouble exists and letting Montreal and Toronto retire, or in other words, expel them, it is really nothing else, and the game dies. Without Montreal and Toronto to compete against the Shamrocks all interest in the National runs low and a league without Toronto and Montreal would mean a side show in Ontario. We do not oppose the admission of the Capital Club but still when the old standbys, Montreal and Toronto, dissent and laid before the meeting their reasons for so doing making a clear case, particularly Toronto, and the delegates having given up all probability that it meant their withdrawal, it was bad policy for the others not to side with this minority and keep the game alive. The Capitals had no right to be admitted when the arrangements in a "close-quarters" fight were made, and even one delegate opposing good grounds deserved protection as anything done should be mutual. This is not the first blow lacrosse has received in Canada, but if so allowed to go much further will not be so easily remedied as in former years.

In 1889 when all interest had fallen from the game, some of the staunch lacrosse men took their heads together to devise some means to bring it prominently before the public eye, and thanks to their efforts the game revived and has been successful now for two years but what may follow is hard to say. The Montrealers and the Shamrocks were the biggest losers by the drop taken and Messrs. Whyte, Lamer and Polak, Halley and Mac having taken the matter over concluded that a league formed on a sound basis with Toronto included in would be the propere scheme. A meeting was called and Mr. Ross Bostwick, representing Toronto, agreed to come in, was present. Rules—the ones now in existence—were drawn up and it was thought expedient to invite Cornwall and Ottawa. The latter at first refused to play, on the grounds that he would not play under the conditions which the Montreal and Cornwall were at liberty to accept or refuse unconditionally. Seeing a splendid opening both clubs came in forming a five club league, which furnished quite a sufficient number of games during the season and kept the players at hand practice continually. The league business was governed by one delegate from each club and things went smoothly. No other club was justified in infringing on their rights; no association had any right to admit anyone into the ranks of the league, or at least two of the three clubs, are expelled, so to speak; after playing a clear path ahead for lacrosse, they are compelled to step out and down, leaving the game in the hands of younger clubs. It is not just the Capitals ought to see it. They will derive no benefit with Montreal and Toronto not competing against them, and it also means no lacrosse in Montreal of any consequence. If the Capitals people have the interest of the game at heart and not to obstinate they will gain more sympathy and respect from everyone by tendering their resignation, and next year, after probably winning the N.A.A.A. championship they certainly would be received in Ontario into the League. They were guaranteed this and as it is the only way out of the difficulty as their resignation means the surviving of the game.

What would a league composed of Cornwall, Shamrock, Ottawa and Cornwall amount to. The principal game would be between Shamrock and Cornwall and even then it could not be relied upon that the benefit seaped, (by the gate) which is the most essential point these days would be heavy. It could only remind one of such a game as put up by the old rivals Montreal and Shamrock, when people actually go wild with enthusiasm and excitement and the Shamrock people ought to see that they will lose heavily by leaving Toronto and Montreal out. These clubs are fighting the case however and their decision on Friday means the ascending or downfall of the national game.

BOWLING. The First Bowling Match for the Championship Won by Victorias.

The final bowling matches took place on the Canadian alleys on Saturday evening and were witnessed by a fair gathering of the friends of the different clubs. It was hard to name the winning team to within the last string being bowled, the continuous strikes of Gorman's, of the Victoria Rifles, brought the Victoria team to victory. The M.A.A.A. lead both teams up to the last string, but Higginson and Gardner had the hardest luck possible. Where every one thought a strike would be sure, two pins would always remain, one on each side of the alley, and things like that would happen frequently with the "genial" Brown. The Ottawas did not bowl their usual strong game, Morrison and Watson having all the better of each other.

make a strike occasionally. The last string was watched with great excitement, and when the last ball was sent up the alley the Victorias were the "champions" of '91. After the game was finished Major Starke, on behalf of the other bowling clubs, in a neat speech thanked the Canadian club for their kindness in allowing them to use their alleys, after which all hands cheered the winning team and sang that the Canadian club members were "jolly good fellows," after which Mr. Desmarreau, the bowlers' friend, invited all parties to their parlors, where a jolly hour was spent. The remarks of the Ottawas who leaving were that Mr. Desmarreau was one of the boys, and if he every visits Ottawa they will return the compliment. The Victorias and the M. A. A. A. brought along balls used on their own alleys.

THE WHEEL. Bicycling will begin this week—the Montreal Club.

This week will probably open up the wheeling season and already the members of the Montreal Bicycle club are cleaning up their wheels and brushing up their uniforms, as they will likely have their first club ride this week. The members of the M.B.C. will have a chance to win several prizes as in all probability the committee will offer monthly prizes for the member who has the most attendance in every month and the captain will donate a beautiful medal for the largest mileage during the season.

Spokes. The wheelmen will be glad to learn that Mr. W. McCaw will be out with the boys.

G. S. Lowe will be seen on the track again.

Rescoe has joined the M. B. C. and will go into training as soon as the track is ready.

TROTTLING. Death of Thomas Jefferson, the Celebrated Stallion.

HARFORD, Conn., April 18.—Thomas Jefferson, the celebrated stallion, died at the Jefferson stables at Charter Oak Park last night.

He had been down since last Friday, just a week, apparently with paralysis. He was 28 years old, had a record of 2:30, won two $10,000 races, and is the father of a number of fast trotters. He was a remarkably handsome horse, a great racer and a great sire.

Thomas Jefferson was foaled in 1863, was bred and had always been owned by William B. Smith, of Hartford. He was sired by Toronto Chief '83, and his dam was Gypsy Queen, by a son of Black Hawk. He trotted by his record at Gravesend, N. Y., June 2, 1878, and was then considered a candidate for champion stallion honors as the best mare in those days, was the 2:20 of the Great Smuggler and the similar record of Mambrino Gift, both made in 1874. Thomas Jefferson was a great stock horse, for though he was not given the most choicely bred matrons he sired speed and uniformity. He has to his credit 111 trotters and one pacer with marks from 2:19 to 2:30. He also sired Peter Jefferson, sire of one in the list and the dams of Don L., 2:29, and Ida D., 2:27. His roll of honor is as follows: Yanny Jefferson, 2:28; Farmer Boy, 2:19; Flora Jefferson, 2:25; Green Mountain Boy, 2:28; Harry Peabody, 2:28; John S. Clark, 2:19; Kate Clark, 2:29; Lizzie M., 2:20; Mike Jefferson, 2:25; Nell, 2:27; Patricia, 2:26; and the pacer Jefferson, 2:19.

Of this lot, the dams of five are untraced, no doubts are entertained as to their breeding. Out of the well-bred mares he got speed, and his daughters will yet add to his fame. One mare, owned in 31 years of ownership, had seven foals by Roland, and is this year bred to Joh. Kohl. Four of the seven ought to beat 2:30, and two are almost sure to do it this year.

A Fast Green 'Un. In 1888 a startling pace, two years old and rather unfashionably bred, stepped off a mile in 2:20 at Council Bluffs, Ia. The track there is good, but the locality of the performance and the breeding of the youngster caused more than ordinary attention to be directed to it. The pacer colt's name was Ed. Rosewater, and he was an entire son of Vasco by Harold, dam Mary B., by Vinco. He was bred and owned in Omaha and named after the veteran editor of The Bee of that city. Ed. Rosewater didn't train on in 1889. He had only one race that year, winning it in straight heats, the best of which was in 2:29. Last year he had six races at the pacing gait and won two. Grant's Abdallah beat him in a bruising four-heat race at Independence, Ia., in August, Rosewater winning the first heat in 2:24 and being beaten in 2:20, 2:21 and 2:19. Then he fell off in form until September, when he was second three times at Dubuque, Ia., to the phenomenal red and branded pony pacer B. B., in 2:20, 2:19 and 2:29. He was beaten in 2:22 at Council Bluffs, but was d'stanced in the second. His pacing performance and gait grew worse as he went along, and it was determined to convert him. Secretary Nat Brown of Union Park, Omaha, was here a few days ago and said that Ed. Rosewater's conversion to the trotting gait had been accomplished very easily and with a little work with the hobbles. The colt, now four years old, will be entered early in the green trotting classes. He is said to be much smoother of gait than he was when going from one side to the other, and almost as fast.

Not Yet Reached the Limit. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. BANGOR, April 18.—C. H. Nelson of Waterville, who was in town the other day, says he does not believe that his great stallion has yet reached his limit in speed. After a limited season in the stud the stallion will be prepared for the track and early in the summer will be started against his record. Nelson has eclipsed it six times, and made eight great trotters in that he has never started to beat any specified time without accomplishing the feat. He has won eight races out of the ten in which he has started, and took second money in the ninth.

MISCELLANEOUS. A Challenge to Morgans. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. NEW YORK, April 19.—The following challenge is published: "I, Sergeant Louis Bignell, of 27 Caledonia Street, Boston, late instructor of fencing of the fifth Royal Irish Lancers of London, do hereby challenge Sergeant-Major Morgans of the Royal Military College of Kingston, Ont., to try conclusion with me with the sword, foil and bayonet a stipulated number of points to count, the contest to be governed by the English Rules for a stake of $500 aside and $250 for Science fencing, to be decided by the N.Y.C.A. to be judge. The competition to come off in Boston or New York within one month of signing articles.

WRESTLING. Prof. Coupe Will Accept the Challenge Issued by Lutberg.

SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD. NEW YORK, April 18.—The following was received at the Police Gazette office yesterday from Philadelphia:

On behalf of Prof. William H. Coupe, I am instructed to say that he will accept Max Lutberg's challenge, brought to Philadelphia by Capt. J. W. Graham, on condition that Lutberg will weigh in at 130 pounds at the ring side, and make the contest for any prize $300 a side, Coupe's proper

WHAT AND WHY.

"Hell to Pay and No Pitch Hot," With Other Sayings. "Hell to pay and no pitch hot" is a corruption of a nautical expression.

"GRINNING LIKE A CHESSIE CAT?" Chessie, in England, was once noted for the manufacture of chesses, which were often molded in fanciful shapes.

In the suburbs of ancient Athens there was a famous garden and grove, owned by Academus, which was a popular resort for meditation or study.

JOHNNY CAKE.

When people were travelling long distances, as early emigrants to the far West, a cake which was mixed soft with flour and milk or water and baked before the campfire was called a "Johnny cake."

MANSARD ROOFS.

These were first introduced into France in the seventeenth century by Francis Mansart, a celebrated architect.

BOGUS.

About 1849, in the Middle and early West, there flourished a noted counterfeit money called Bogus, which was made in the form of a "journey cake."

In culinary clarity she won great popularity. And organized a system that would open up their eyes.

For real unvarnished culture she betrayed a great propensity. Her "Tuesday talks" were famous and her "Friday glimmer" great.

A Level-headed Boy. A boy about fifteen years of age applied to a factory on Atwater street for the job of running a small engine in the place of a boy who had quit.

"Have you run an engine?" was asked. "You understand how steam works, do you?" "I do."

"You know that water makes steam?" "Of course."

"How is water got into a boiler?" "By an injector."

"Suppose you have got too much water?" "Then I can't get steam enough until I draw it down."

"Correct. Suppose you haven't enough?" "Then I look out for an explosion."

"Correct again. Suppose you found the water almost gone, and couldn't start the injector—what would you do?"

"Come up stairs and notify you to get your insurance policies out of the safe and make a search for the boiler."

It is said that Chicago talent is directing the corner in wheat in Berlin.

The Indians at Pine Ridge are still restless, and further trouble is feared.

Colonel Forsyth, Quebec, has been sworn in as collector of customs at that city.

King Humbert has sent $100 to each child left an orphan by the steamer Utopia disaster.

Chief Justice Hagarty has resigned and Mr. W. R. Meredith can be his successor if he so wills.

The Parisian press indulges in exulting homilies on the Gesteimede election as a check to Bismarck.

Mr. Wm. Watt, late proprietor of the Brantford Exporter, has been appointed sheriff of the county of Brant.

Rev. C. L. Warrell, of Morrisburg, Ont., has been appointed Professor of English Literature at the Royal Military College, Kingston.

The preliminary report on the British census may perhaps appear in July, but the full official report will not be ready until 1893.

Advices from Santiago tell of a bloody victory won by the rebels at Pozo de Almonte, and of the complete demoralization of the Government troops.

President Balmaceda's Government has ordered the Chilean port officials to avoid any complications with the owners and officers of foreign vessels.

From the records of deaths filed at the Bureau of Vital Statistics it looks very much as if a gripe had finally concluded to give up its fight against New York.

The cattle inspectors at Deptford have discovered a case of pleuro-pneumonia at that place. The animal affected had been imported from the United States.

John C. Cosgrove and James R. McElHott, of Chicago, found guilty of forging a will of Mrs. Louisa A. Jerome, a wealthy widow, have been sentenced to long terms.

William E. Decker, who murdered his mistress, Nellie Porter, at Elmira, N. Y., has been convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to imprisonment at Auburn for life.

Mr. Samuel Stovey, Gladstonian M. P. for Sunderland, has been committed for trial on a charge of perjury for charging the police with assault during the Silk-worth strike.

Queen Victoria has been greatly improved by her sojourn at Grasse. She has enjoyed greater freedom than is possible at home and is delighted with the scenery and the temperature.

It is understood that Lieutenant-Governor Schults will withhold assent from the foreign companies act, which was disallowed by the Dominion Government and re-enacted by the Manitoba Legislature this session.

Mrs. Mary White, who died at Mount Holly, N. J., Thursday, had been ill for more than 30 years, during which time she was scarcely able to get out of her bed. A physician attended her every day during her long illness.

Mary Metzler, the youthful Baltimore murderess, who a few days ago was convicted of murder in the second degree for poisoning her little brother and Miss Louisa Bradwaters, has been sentenced by Judge Wright to 14 years' imprisonment.

It is officially denied that there is any truth in the report sent from Rome to The Daily Chronicle, of London, that the Hon. A. G. Porter, the United States Minister to Italy, is upon the point of departing from Rome on a three months leave of absence.

Minter Bros., dry goods merchants have instituted suit in the circuit court against the Bradstreet Mercantile Agency of New York for $200,000 damages for erroneously reporting them in the daily notification sheet in December last, thereby greatly injuring their credit.

THREE POLITICAL MUDDLES.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press points out that three New England States—New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island—are denied the exercise of popular privileges supposed to be the inseparable concomitant of Republican institutions.

The trouble is due to the maintenance of the antiquated system of representation by towns, instead of by population, and in the case of Connecticut and Rhode Island the requirement that State candidates must receive for their election, not a plurality, but an absolute majority of all votes cast.

The result is confusion worse confounded—a mixed-up condition of affairs to which we in Canada, with all our political peculiarities, are happily strangers.

In New Hampshire nobody knew who had a majority of the legislature, for the law relating to representation was so mixed and contradictory that nobody understood it.

The question was settled only by political manipulations that did not satisfy the people. Connecticut's experience was still more unfortunate. With a Democratic senate and a Republican house, the disputed returns for state officers could not be canvassed.

After the Democrats had rejected a proposition from the Republicans to submit all questions at issue to the Supreme Court, the house adjourned until November. So the election of last year goes by default, the will of the people is defied, and the old officers of state are compelled to hold over, or else leave the community without any legitimate government whatever.

In Rhode Island the result is a little better, for there the Republicans have a majority of one in the legislature; but the candidate who received a plurality of the popular vote for governor will not secure the office, his opponent being sure of the legislative vote.

The difficulty—in addition to the absurdity of representation referred to—is that there does not seem to be any authoritative method of getting such complications referred to and disposed of by an independent and constitutionally competent tribunal.

These three States will have to amend their constitutions in accordance with the requirements of modern political usage, if they wish to prevent the recurrence of such scandals. It is strange that in so progressive a country as the United States, antiquated laws and usages, entirely out of touch with the requirements and advanced political methods of modern days, should have so strong a hold.

With all their intelligence and acknowledged superiority in many respects, our neighbors have still some important and practical political lessons to learn.

L'Electeur of Saturday claims that the Government will have a majority of 20 in the new house and gives the following recapitulation:

Table with 2 columns: Mtd. Opp. Ontario 44, Quebec 31, Nova Scotia 16, New Brunswick 12, Prince Edward Island 4, Manitoba 1, British Columbia 6, Northwest Territories 4, Majority for Government 20.

PROTECTION of farmers has been a shibboleth with the Dominion Government. Now, let any candid-minded person go over the whole tariff in the fairest spirit and he cannot find thereon one solitary article of import taxed in such a way as to add a single dollar to the yearly revenue of the farmer.

Canada does not import farm products, so that no import tax could be beneficial to the agricultural classes. The farmers are fast learners this, and a full realization of it is all that is necessary to complete the overthrow of a Government that is steadily tottering.

THE CONGO RAILWAY.

In the course of an interview published in a New York paper, Henry M. Stanley furnished some interesting information respecting the Congo Railway now in course of construction from Mataddi, on the lower Congo basin, to Stanley Pool, a distance of 240 miles.

Between these two points the river is broken by a succession of cataracts and rapids, and at Stanley Pool the railroad will connect with over 1000 miles of unobstructed navigation on the great river till Stanley Falls is reached, where another break occurs.

So far only about 10 miles of the road have been constructed, all the labor as yet employed being 250 men. Stanley explains this by saying: "To build such a road quickly would call for an army of 10,000 men.

To start the work with such an army of natives, unused to steady labor, and with little ability to take care of themselves, would cause a fearful mortality. They could not be properly supervised, for white men get weakened by fevers, become irritable and cannot handle the men.

AN AMBITIOUS SOCIETY.

"The United States Siberian Exile Home Society," is the somewhat elongated title of a society that has recently been organized in the United States with headquarters at Denver, Colorado.

Its object is to attain widespread organization with a view to arousing "the sympathy of the whole Christian world in protest against the terrible condition of the Russian people under the Czar, but also to gather material support for the purposes of the society."

Presumably such an organization has been called forth by recent alleged outrages upon the Jews in the Czar's dominions, and also by the cruelty with which Siberian exiles are treated in that country on their journey thither.

The object of the society is no doubt praiseworthy, but how much influence it will have on the Czar of Russia and his Councilors may be judged from the treatment accorded to the petition sent from London on behalf of the Jews, which was returned without having been presented.

The Russian autocrat is not likely to be influenced by agitation of that kind, and the philanthropic people of the United States who are engaged in it will be likely to have their pains for their pains. This is unfortunate, for a country whose rulers are not amenable in some degree to the world's public opinion, must be regarded as pretty far back in the scale of civilization.

THE GAZETTE Expensive shows that a political party can accomplish most with only a moderate superiority in number over its opponents. Sir John's, at Ottawa, is considered by experts to be about the correct thing.

How thankful our contemporary should be that the Liberals succeeded in reducing Sir John's majority to such comparatively small proportions. As Tupper would say, it may be "a blessing in disguise."

THERE never was a greater case of shuffling than that of the Dominion Government on the separate school act of Manitoba. In passing the act abolishing separate schools the Manitoba Legislature acted within or without its right.

Why does not the Dominion Government meet the question squarely and take a decided stand? It is a question of principle.

THE mandament of Mgr. Racine, Catholic Bishop of Sherbrooke, urging the people to stay in this country rather than to seek their fortunes in the United States, is to be commended on every ground of loyalty, patriotism and love of country. But does he not address the wrong source? If, instead of speaking to farmers of the Eastern Townships, he would go to the fountain head, the Dominion Government, would he not be more nearly the base of the depopulation of Canada that is going on?

The facts as presented by Mgr. Racine are startling to any one who has the interests of Canada at heart, but they are a necessary outgrowth of the fiscal system of the country.

THE SINGLE TERM IDEA.

It is proposed in Chicago that the mayor should be eligible for only one term, and the proposal meets with a good deal of favor. The chief argument advanced in favor of this plan is that it would free that official from an overwhelming temptation to make an improper use of civic patronage—would liberate him from real or fancied dependence on the office-holding ring and place him where he can work for the welfare of the city, and will not spend his time in efforts to get re-nominated and re-elected.

This, it is claimed, will greatly tend to check fraud because, as the Chicago Tribune puts it, "no mayor will work as hard or stretch his conscience so far for the election of another man as he will for his own re-election." There is probably a good deal of truth in what the Tribune says, and therefore considerable justification for the plan proposed.

There is, however, one objection to the scheme—the mayor will go out of office just as he becomes thoroughly acquainted with the civic business, and in the case of an efficient officer that will be a drawback to the city. The American people, particularly those of large cities, would effect a great and beneficial reform if they would divorce national and State party politics from municipal affairs.

That would probably be quite as effective as confining the mayor to one term.

ONE Canadian street railway company, that of London, Ont., has adopted the plan, as an experiment, of giving half-fare tickets up till 8:30 a.m. The experiment will be watched with interest, and there cannot be a great deal of doubt that it will prove not only a source of increased revenue to the company but a decided advantage to working people who reside at a distance. The congested condition of Montreal's population is in large measure due to its inadequate street car facilities.

THERE is in some quarters a belief that, owing to the export of saw logs to the United States, the Dominion Government will, at the coming session, reimpose the export duty. But is that not a game that could be worked both ways? There are points in Canada where the logs can be more profitably made into lumber than they could be exported, but if Canada goes into the business of trying to compel the sawing of all logs on this side of the line, what is there to hinder the United States from putting a tax on our lumber that would practically prohibit its importation into that country?

CURRENT CHRONICLES.

Yesterday was what has become known in England as "Primrose Day"—the 19th of April. I never could see any sense in such festivals, but there is no particular harm.

Were you ever lost in Montreal? It is one of the easiest places to get tangled up in. What are popularly known as the East and West End are astronomically North and South, and the labelling of the streets is done on the go-as-you-please principle.

Take as an instance St. Charles Borromeo-street. Should there be one or two m's in it? I thought to decide in my own mind by reading the street signs, and thought I had done so till I found it spelled both ways.

A Yale professor predicts the coming of the millennium in 1899.—Moncton Times. I predict that the millennium will arrive in 1892. I further predict that no one now alive will know whether the Harvard professor or I am in the right. It is no trouble to make predictions if you don't care what you say.

It is not altogether to the credit of the United States as a nation that the old homestead of ex-President Polk, the present residence of his aged widow, should be advertised for sale for taxes. She deserves better of the country.

It is reported that Chicago agents are in Toronto seeking men for the building trade, and that the local union men will try to prevent the workmen leaving. What possible objection can there be to a man getting the best living he can, no matter in what town?

A lady contributor to The Toronto Globe says that she objects very much to mirrors being placed in stores at such an angle that she cannot catch an accurate reflection of herself. Did it ever occur to her that a great many mirrors in stores are purposely placed at such an angle as to give the proprietor an opportunity of seeing what is going on at different parts of the shop?

A humorist in the Illinois Legislature has introduced a measure requiring all trains to carry a man, to be known as the "hog-killer," his special functions being to slaughter all persons who occupy two seats after paying for only one. The idea seems funny but there is common sense at the bottom of it.

Prof. Wiggins is engaged in a discussion with some other "Prof." as to a storm that will come at the end of this month. Neither one of them knows anything about it.

The Chatham Planet can't bear the idea of obligatory jury duty or obligatory militia duty, and why?—London Advertiser.

It is none of my business to fight the battles of The Planet, and it is probably quite able to take care of itself. But is either militia or jury duty obligatory in Canada? Nominally it is so, I know, but practically it is nothing of the kind and compulsory voting would be of the same sort, only more so.

Baron Gustave Rothchild has retired from the market after losing $40,000,000 in speculation. His pluck is better than his judgment. Many persons would have retired before losing half that sum.—Chicago Tribune.

Most people would have had to quit before losing one-quarter of that amount.

There is no special objection, so far as I am concerned, to The Port Hope Guide copying this column day after day, if the people who pay my wages make no objection. But it might, if it does copy, credit The Herald and not some person in Indiana.

Stanley, on his departure from America, said that there is a great need of improvement in the newspapers. Perhaps he is right; there are very few of us who could not be improved. But where would Stanley have been if it had not been for an American newspaper?

Stanley is a man for whom I have never had a great deal of admiration. Of course he did a big thing by discovering Livingstone, but equally of course New York was crowded with reporters who would have been glad to get a chance to do the same thing. Stanley was lucky and got the assignment, that is all there is to it.

A Harlem storekeeper advertises that he will take charge of babies, giving a check therefor while ladies are shopping. Wise move. Such a man deserves to succeed.

French medical circles are interested in Prof. See's claim that breathing air impregnated with crocote is a cure for tuberculosis. The remedy is nasty enough to be true. The world will be chary in accepting it, however.—Montreal Gazette.

Don't be so chary. A residence in an oil-producing country will most assuredly cure—or if not altogether cure, in a great measure mitigate—the tortures of asthma. Why, by a parity of reasoning, should not crocote cure consumption?

Walt Whitman got out of his room last week for the first time in four months. Everybody who knows him will be glad if the "good gray poet" succeeds in getting around again. I am not an admirer of all his writings, but a better-disposed towards humanity, does not exist. The last time I chatted with him he spoke hopefully of a second visit to Canada, but I fancy he will never realize his wish.

SWENSON'S BODY FOUND.

HE EVIDENTLY MET HIS DEATH FROM EXPOSURE.

Detective Robinson's Theory Has Been Proven the Correct One—The Diamond Rings Found Upon His Fingers.

At last the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Carl Swenson, the missing Craig-street jeweller, has been solved. His body was found yesterday in a field at Saint Aux Reollet.

CARL SWENSON

toner Jones was the first person in the city to receive the news and he gave orders to have the body placed in the morgue. As the word of the finding was not received in the city until nine o'clock last night it was impossible to get details of the discovery from the authorities of Saint aux Reollet but the facts are that some men were strolling through the fields near the village yesterday when they came upon the body. It was in the open field and it had probably been found some days ago, but it was close to a fence, where, as is well known, the snow collects in high drifts in the open country. The body must have been well covered up and was discovered very soon after. Its snowy shroud had melted away. Decomposition had not set in to any great extent. The men, on making the ghastly discovery, hurried off to the village and notified a doctor, who is a deputy coroner. The body was soon afterwards conveyed to the town hall, where a jury was empanelled and a verdict returned in accordance with the facts. The jewelry worn by the deceased was all found on his person and was taken in charge by the Deputy Coroner. This does away with all the theories of foul play which were freely spoken of after Swenson's disappearance in the month of February. Soon after the body had been placed in the morgue last night, Chief Detective Cullen accompanied by Detective Arcand went down to have a look at the remains which they easily recognized. A Herald reporter also went down and saw the body. It was dressed in a black coat and overcoat of the same color, brown striped pants and a pair of thick soled congress boots almost new. The face and hands had turned quite black, but there were no marks of violence to be noticed. His clothes lying loose on his body gave it the appearance of having swelled considerably as shown in the cut. Accompanying the reporter was the Herald artist, who sitting on an empty coffin sketched the remains by the light of a lantern in the hands of an attendant of the morgue. After Detective Cullen had left the morgue he proceeded to notify the friends of the deceased including Swedish Vice-Consul Wolf who had offered a reward of $100 for the recovery of the body. This discovery clears up a mystery which has received a good deal of attention at the hands of the police and others. Detective Robinson had the matter in hand and having ascertained the fact that Swenson was in the habit of taking long walks into the country all alone on Sundays it was believed by that officer that he met his death during one of these strolls. When the snow melted away in the spring he expected the body would be found in some of the outlying districts and it will be seen that this theory has proved correct. After the steps necessary under the law have been taken the body will be buried by the friends of the deceased.

A Good Move: LONDON, April 19.—The German Government, with a view of retaining some of the young men who are pouring out of Germany to evade military service, has undertaken to colonize the extensive and barren moors of Eastern Prussia. Peat works have been erected and colonists are assisted to establish homes for the purpose of settling, and it is believed that the Government will have to incur free labor to do there.

IS THE BOYCOTT A FAILURE?

NOT 15 ROADS HAVE JOINED THE MOVEMENT AGAINST THE ALTON.

A Trunk Line Officer Says They Were Forced Into the War—General Railway Notes.

SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD. New York, April 18.—The boycott against the Chicago and Alton Railroad has been in operation but three days, but already signs have manifested themselves that the movement is a failure worse than the boycott against the same road two years ago.

Probably not 15 of the original 66 roads that bound themselves in January to fight commissions have issued orders to their agents and trainmen to boycott the Alton. According to the manifesto of the Board of Railings it spoke for all. These 15 include the trunk lines and several of their Western connections which they control, such as the Lake Shore, Michigan Central, Vandavia, Fort Wayne, Pan Handle, and Chicago and Erie. Nothing at all has been heard from the Western roads, and the New England roads have come out flatfooted against the movement.

It is said in New York that the Vanderbilt party has gone West simply for a pleasure trip. Mr. Vanderbilt, it is stated, has never seen much of Colorado and Utah, and that is the reason for the present hasty journey. The belief is gaining ground that it has something to do with the extension of the Chicago and Northwestern to Ogden, which was surveyed some time ago, but was dropped after the Union Pacific-Northwestern alliance was formed, giving the latter an advantage that it could expect from an independent line.

FINANCIAL.

HERALD OFFICE.

SATURDAY EVENING.

It is to be said at one time of day, that the London money market ruled the world. However much this may have been true 30 years ago, the vast increase in the United States money centres and the growth of the Berlin and French Bourses have altered things considerably. It would be nearer the mark now, to say that the London money market is a faithful reflex of the world's money marts and that the discount rate ruling in that centre is the world's barometer that gives the state of the general money market. Any alteration in the Bank of England rate is therefore commented on by financiers and the reason for the rise or fall is eagerly sought for. The pitched up condition of Argentine finances, the need for gold in the many schemes which are being put forward in the South American Republics and the United States, and the magnitude of British interests in all quarters of the globe account in some measure for the continued influx of gold. Beyond this the French, Russian and German governments are striving to secure a good supply of the precious metal to be prepared for all contingencies. With all these causes in operation the export of gold from the Bank will thus be rather alarming proportions and to check it a rise of half per cent took place on Thursday. Dealers in the open market however seem scarcely to consider the check sufficient and set rate has now followed the bank's lead, so that the money could be obtained a fortnight ago at 2 per cent it is now but fractionally under the bank rate of 3 1/2. Under these circumstances it seems to be generally expected that the bank rate will be advanced to four during this week.

In the Montreal money market the tendency is towards a firmer feeling. This is now the easiest time of the month and there is no great call for funds, but in a week or two some of the big schemes for city harbor improvement, and construction of costly buildings already agreed upon should be commenced and a good deal of money will in this way be put in circulation. The demand upon banks will thus be greatly increased and we cannot then much longer expect to see call loans quoted at four per cent.

On the local stock market the week has brought forth no surprises. All stocks have ruled firm and prices stand close to a fractional higher figure and in no instance has there been any remarkable fluctuation of values during the week. Canada Pacific Ry., Montreal Telegraph, and Rich & Ont. Navigation Co. have been the principal mediums of speculation, accounting for 627 shares out of the total of 6814. Bank shares have been very quiet, Commerce being the only one dealt in to any extent. All banks have been very firm and are evidently bought more for entertainment than speculation. In fact the Montreal exchange has no very speculative stocks on the list, a fact which accounts for the generally hum-drum value of the proceedings. Montreal street railway closed weaker but the remarkable rise that has taken place is almost sure to be carried to a higher point. Last year the operators of the company were impeded greatly on some of the principal streets while this year opens with a much fairer prospect and returns should show the difference.

For convenience of reference we give complete list of stocks with opening and closing, highest and lowest rates.

SATURDAY EVENING.

To-day the market stiffened up again, and the bulk of the sales were made at 12 1/2. As we pointed out yesterday, under present conditions the market had then been touched bottom, and now the speculators are buying them to time and lay by for the dear season again. Through this can hardly be called a speculation as in the usual course of things it is a dead certainty. This year however, there are unusual conditions. The five cent tariff has cut out of the U. S. export and the English market pays such low figures that it is scarcely worth while exporting. So before the season is over we may see quite a glut of eggs.

Certainly the stock now coming in is just as firm and meaty as could be got, and times better than later stock generally do, but then if no outlet is found for the surplus the price paid to farmers will have to be dropped, and then down comes the market again. We noticed on Saturday night that some of the grocers were marking their eggs at 13c per doz. The man who wants to retail out his stock by the dozen and stand loss and breakages for less than 13c per doz. on the case, must be rather fond of work than the average stockholder.

The market appears to be quite overstocked for the small trade doing, and yet it is said that a great deal is still held in the country as farmers do not care to ship at the prices now ruling. It seems difficult to find any outlet, as in comparison with other syrups and sugars the price is much too high for general consumption. The way in which some of the syrups are now put on the market makes them fully as attractive as the maple syrup. Under all the circumstances it would almost seem that prices will be reduced and an extra effort made to put maple products to a higher grade in public esteem as a food adjunct instead of a luxury as it is mostly considered at present, or stocks will have to be carried over in a way which will be anything but pleasant to holders. We quote syrup in wood 5c to 5 1/2c, in tin 6c to 6 1/2c; sugar 6c to 7c per lb.

The trade sales of last week were not exactly of an encouraging character as prices realized were on a lower basis than would have been obtained in the New York market so that all the additional expense entailed is a dead loss. In the first sale the fruit was sold to be, more or less, watered, but in Friday's sale it was good and sound and yet brought less money. The handling by Mr. Potter, the auctioneer, was all that could be wished, and really the only mistake in the transaction appears to be that the sale was too small. It did not pay dealers from any distance to attend. The few firms in the immediate neighborhood had it all their own way and the auctioneer's bidding to call forth any spirited or spiteful offers were unavailing. Fancy no much fine and feathers for 500 boxes. On Saturday at Bonsecours market, Mr. Sylvester disposed of his stock of 1000 boxes lemons, now on board the steamship Gerona and expected to arrive here in a few days' time. To Mr. John Barry. These lemons are to be extra choice and long keepers. The price I am not at liberty to divulge, but compared with what was paid for the oranges at the trade sale it appears rather high.

Oranges, per box, (420's) $5.25 to 5.50. " per box, (74's) $6 to 6.50. " per box, $3.25 to 4.00. " per box, $1.75 to 3.00. Blood oranges, per box, $3.25. Lemons, Messina, extra $5.00. Wheat—Another wild and excited market has wound up the trading for the week. Cables noted a higher market in London with considerable excitement. Liverpool was a penny higher and Berlin a mark and a half higher for spot wheat. The opening of the market was very erratic, everybody seeming desirous of buying at once. Several of our most prominent and aggressive buyers have covered their lines of shorts and we only know of one prominent local operator who has failed to cover. In spite of the strength abroad there has been a notable amount of selling for foreign account presumably by longs, and a number of our local bulls have taken advantage of to-day's advance to close out their lines. With the principal shorts covered we incline to the belief that the market has advanced far enough for the present, but it is so wild that predictions as to its course are valueless.

SATURDAY EVENING.

The latest news from Brazil contradicts the unfavorable reports above referred to as having helped to disturb confidence in the export part of the week, and gives assurances as to the position of affairs at Buenos Ayres which are calculated to produce a better feeling at Berlin and other European centres. The advance in the Bank of England rate of discount to 3 1/2 per cent appears to have been due to the tendency of gold to drift towards Berlin and to the Bank having lost 2,000,000 of gold during the week. The change, however, had been expected here and therefore had no marked effect on the market, the more so as London was a buyer of stocks, especially of Missouri, Kansas and Texas securities, based upon the favorable report of the Company's business.

The effect of the 2,500,000 of gold exports upon the reserves of the bank has been largely offset by a gain of $2,800,000 in their transactions with the U.S. Treasury and of over $800,000 on the currency movement with the interior. HENRY CLEWS.

Notes. Bank of England discount rate 3 1/2 per cent, open market 3 1/2. Consols opened 95 15-16 for money and 95 3-16 for account. French exchange on London 25.23. Paris 87.50. Canada Pacific shares in London opened at 8 1/4. In Paris the shares of Credit Industriel, an important bank, declined 70 francs yesterday in consequence of a statement reflecting on the position of the bank. The officials of the bank deny the rumors, but the Bourse was unsettled in consequence of the rumors.

The 4 1/2 per cent bonds redeemed by the United States Treasury yesterday amounted to $13,850,000, making a total to date of $15,552,850. Of the 680,000 ounces of silver offered for sale to the United States Treasury Department yesterday 300,000 ounces were purchased, as follows: 200,000 ounces at $9.748; 100,000 at $9.9760.

The lowest quotations for bar silver in London since 1881, was in 1888, when it went down to 4 1/2 pence, at which the ounce of fine silver was worth 91 cents and the silver dollar intrinsically worth 70 cents. This represents the lowest price while Cleveland was President. The highest price in those four years was 50 pence in 1885, at which the ounce of pure silver was worth $1.09, and the silver dollar 84 cents. Silver had been steadily declining for many years.

Epp's Cocoa—Grateful and Comforting. "By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epp's has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which will save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us, ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood, and a properly assimilated food."—Dr. J. C. Williams, M.D. Sold only in packets, by grocers, labelled: "JAMES EPP'S & CO., HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS, LONDON, ENG."

The general statement for March of all the petroleum pipe line companies interested in the Pennsylvania oil fields shows the total net stocks to have been 10,149,267 barrels, an increase of 120,606 barrels over the previous month. An increase in activity in petroleum speculation at the Consolidated Exchange followed a declining market. All the news from the field has a bearish tendency, and dealings in options were at the expense of quotations. The figures from the oil fields indicated a steadily increasing production, with continued drilling in new territory, and greater ease in making deliveries, the condition of the roads rapidly improving.

Fluctuations of Silver. The lowest quotations for bar silver in London since 1881, was in 1888, when it went down to 4 1/2 pence, at which the ounce of fine silver was worth 91 cents and the silver dollar intrinsically worth 70 cents. Provisions. However much Chicago pork may be made the plaything of speculators there is no doubt about firmness on the local market. Aided by the duty and the alleged anticipated shortage in the Canadian hog crop next season, packers say much higher figures than those now ruling will shortly be asked. Some of the speculative crowd, however, who bought largely of both pork and lard at low prices ruling a short time back either take no stock in the story of shortage of hogs, or else they are anxious to realize, and this causes a soft spot on the market, here and there. Our quotations are quite unchangeable.

Which is the Official Organ? The triangular quarrel between Mr. Pelletier, formerly editor of La Justice, and the present administration of that journal, and between La Justice and L'Etendard of this city, has been settled in one important particular. The court at Quebec has sustained the action of Mr. Amyot and his friends, although there are several minor points to be decided. "The principle involved in this dispute," says La Justice, "has been settled in our favor, and La Justice remains the organ of the great National party. The ulterior proceedings possess little importance; the victory is ours." On the other hand, L'Etendard, in its issue of Saturday, says "L'Etendard remains the only daily organ of the National Conservative group. Riddoucing our energy and vigor, we shall endeavor to fill the place of that which has lowered its flag and quitted the arena in order to become the instrument of the Quebec Ministry."

BRIGHTER THAN EVER. So Mr. Redmond considers the Irish Cause—The Y. L. and B. A.'s Reception.

Yesterday afternoon the Irish delegate, Mr. W. H. K. Redmond, was tendered a reception by the members of the Y. L. I. and B. Association. Shortly after 2.30 o'clock, the young statesman accompanied by a number of Montreal's most prominent Irishmen entered the hall. They were received in a most enthusiastic manner; the excellent orchestra presented exciting stirring Irish airs. Mr. Redmond, in conversation with the President, Mr. J. O'Brien, said that he had long been acquainted with the association by reputation and now having the opportunity and pleasure of studying among them would be happy to have the members presented individually. The request was at once complied with and every member present shook hands with Mr. Redmond.

The president, Mr. J. O'Brien, in a few remarks referred to the association's promptness in supporting every movement that tended to aid the cause of Ireland and that they never shirked their duty when any assistance was required. Mr. Redmond then delivered a powerful address in the course of which he remarked that the Irish differences were to be settled by Irishmen and that they required no dictation from other parishes. The Irish situation he considered was now more bright than ever.

The Cabinet Shops of the C. P. R. At Hochelaga Totally Destroyed

HERALD MEN ON THE SPOT.

Very Close Call For the Adjoining Buildings — Cars of Freight in Imminent Danger Removed—A Heavy Wind Sends Sparks Flying in All Directions—The Building Insured.

The Cabinet Shops of the C. P. R. At Hochelaga are in Ruins.

This morning shortly before 1 o'clock the fire department rushed to Hochelaga in answer to an alarm from box 147. When they arrived the big block was all ablaze, and as there were other buildings in dangerous proximity to the burning structure, a general alarm was sent in and apparatus from the far ends of the city answered the call.

The burned building was situated to the rear of the gas works and the only approach was through a long narrow lane running for a considerable distance along the embankment of the railway cutting. The mud was about knee deep and the heavier fire apparatus had a considerable difficulty in getting to the scene of the raging flames.

When the firemen got properly to work, the structure was already doomed and their attention was directed to the adjoining buildings. Their efforts in this direction were successful, and the flames were confined to the building in which they originated.

Just where the fire started no person could tell. When first discovered the flames had made considerable headway and as there were large quantities of inflammable material in every part of the shop, the fire spread with lightning rapidity. The entire structure became a raging mass of flames. Long tongues of which leaped heavenward. Immense showers of sparks descended on the adjoining buildings and had it not been for their mottled roofings, they would have doubtless caught fire.

As it was many streams were kept playing on them and it was only after a hard fight that they were prevented from burning.

THE DIPLOMAT'S VENGEANCE.

Baron Fava's Encounter With a Naval Officer and its Result.

AMUSEMENTS OF THE DAY.

The J. C. Duff Opera Company—Marie Tempest's Return.

Tonight the J. C. Duff Opera Company headed by one of England's brightest lyric stars, Miss Marie Tempest, will appear at the Academy of Music. The week's repertoire will give Miss Tempest more opportunities to display her vocal and histrionic abilities than commonly and the season, short as it is, promises abundant pleasure and enjoyment. To-night and Wednesday evenings Stephenson and Collier's comedy opera Dorothy will be given with Miss Tempest in the title role. No more comic opera now before the public has a more interesting record, and the record is so closely identified with the career of Miss Tempest that a special interest will attach to her appearance here, in her own creation of the title role, in "Dorothy" the English stage had its first "Comedy Opera" a title more nearly appropriate to the character of the French stage than had ever before been known to English audiences. The opera had its first production at favor when he came into collision with Baron Fava, who was then flustering aboutstate and other entertainments in high feather. The Italian Government desired some information regarding certain naval matters, and Lieut. Young was assigned to carry the letter containing the departmental answer to the Minister. He endeavored for several days to find him at his quarters, but failed, and then finally strolling into John Chamberlain's Club saw the Baron there. He thought a good opportunity to present the letter, and attempted to do so without thought of affronting the diplomat. With a preliminary apology and an explanation of his previous fruitless efforts he extended the document to the Baron, who threw it from his hand with a swirl of his arm and attempted to do so without thought of affronting the diplomat.

When outside, Doughty thought of his money. He had $13,000 in gold secured in the place, and before he could be stopped, rushed into the house. He finally staggered out with $8,500 in a bag. When prevented from returning he raved like a madman and wrung his hands in grief. The balance was melted. Doughty, after the fire, began a search of the ruins for the precious metal. The gold on his house was $4,500, and on that of Parker Tilton, adjoining $2,000. Doughty's servant girl was severely burned while trying to save her trunk.
