FRIDAY, NOV. 1, 1895.
AN ONTARIO TOWN HOSPITAL.

The last number of the Galt Reformer is at hand, with an interesting report of the annual meeting of the trustees of the Galt Hospital. There are several points in the report which will prove interesting and perhaps encouraging to the supporters of the Sherbrooke Protestant Hospital.

The town of Galt is smaller than Sherbrooke, and is within seventy miles of Toronto. Its neighbors Guelph, Brantford and other towns are also provided with hospital accommodation. Several years ago, however, the public spirited citizens of Galt recognized the necessity of a local hospital, and a most admirable one was built and equipped. Its usefulness has been already amply demonstrated. We quote from the Reformer's report of the President's remarks:—

"Mr. Spiers, in commenting upon the financial and committee reports, said he thought the past year's results had shown the hospital to be a great success—a most extraordinary success. No similar institution in the country has shown such successful results. During the past year, some forty patients, not from Galt alone, but from all the surrounding country, had entered the institution for typhoid fever, and up to the first of October of the present year, some thirty-two typhoid fever patients had been treated. All of these had left the hospital completely recovered except in one case, where the patient had jumped out of a window, caught cold, and as a consequence, died. This was a record they might well feel proud of, a record that could not be surpassed, and reflected great credit on both the medical and nursing staffs. The work done at the hospital was a credit to the medical staff. All fatal cases had been the result of very acute forms of disease, and the hospital was deserving of the good name and record which it bore throughout the Dominion. Ex-President Warnock had said that wherever he had travelled, the Galt Hospital was held up as a great success....."

It has been objected that Sherbrooke is not in need of further hospital accommodation because it is so near to the great institutions of Montreal. Our distance from Montreal is one hundred miles. Galt is only seventy miles from Toronto and is still nearer to the very important institutions of its neighboring towns, but there has been ample proof already that there was plenty of room for the Galt Hospital and its good work.

The number of patients treated during the year was as follows:

	Males	Females	Total
No. in hospital on Oct. 1, 1894.	6	7	13
Admitted during year ending Sept. 30, 1895.	99	103	202
No. of births during year.	2	2
	107	110	217

The number of patients discharged during the year was 185. The number of deaths 14. The number remaining Sept. 30th, 1895. 18.

Only fourteen patients came from outside of this county, but out of the whole number treated, fifty-two patients from the town of Galt and twenty-six from the county of Waterloo were treated gratuitously. The town of Galt and the county of Waterloo contribute one thousand dollars each annually to the institution, and the Ontario government grant for the past year was $1,364.00.

That, of course, is very generous support compared to that received by the Sherbrooke Protestant Hospital, outside of private contributions. The only grant, so far, is $500 from the provincial government, and nothing what ever from the municipalities. Something, surely, may be looked for from Sherbrooke and surrounding municipalities in the way of aid for the annual expenses of management—on the basis which obtains in Ontario, namely, the treatment of a certain number of the patients from those municipalities gratuitously.

The only question of difficulty now before the Governors of the Sherbrooke Protestant Hospital is that of being assured of adequate funds for the annual maintenance. The secretary, Mr. Hargrave, informs us that,— "The actual debt on the Hospital is now only $250.00, and if all who have promised subscriptions would pay, the debt might be extinguished and the hospital opened."

We regret that want of space will not permit us to publish the Galt Reformer's report in full, but the several points from it above noted should be reasonably convincing, we think, that there is room for, and good work to be done by, the Sherbrooke Protestant Hospital, and that, too, in addition to the work already done, and being done by the very admirable Catholic Hospital of this city. Let a determined effort be made now to clean off the small remaining debt, and to open the Hospital, and we think that the "usefulness" of the institution will be as amply demonstrated here as it has been elsewhere.

The result in Montreal Centre last week is very encouraging to all who are anxious to see the electorate of the province looking at provincial questions and the provincial management from a business standpoint. The forces of extravagance, under whatever party name (Conservative or Nationalist) which have brought Quebec into chronic financial straits, have ruled too long; and the time has arrived when our representatives must be taught that promises of economy have to be fulfilled. Quebec is capable of great things if properly ruled and its taxation not made too burdensome. During the last ten years considerable progress has been made in scientific agriculture throughout the province, thanks to several educational forces, not the least of which have been the endeavors of a number of the Catholic clergy. This progress should not be retarded by the rolling up of a provincial debt, which will fall some time or other on the agricultural community, and it is as much to the interests of the farmers that the Paris loan should be condemned as it is to the mercantile community of Montreal and elsewhere already directly taxed.

Common sense is at least prevailing on the copyright question. Is it being recognized that the British government has been right in the matter and our own government (in spite of Sir Hibbert Tupper's heroics about our freedom to govern ourselves wrongly if we choose) has been right only so far as the interests of two or three publishers are concerned, but entirely wrong so far as the great mass of readers, the book trade and the Canadian authors are concerned. The Toronto Globe, Toronto Week, Montreal Witness and Principal Grant have each spoken out sensibly on the subject. The Canadian legislation was very narrow, and we were surprised that such a well informed Liberal as Mr. Edgar should have supported it.

The Annual Meeting of the Library and Art Union.

The Library & Art Union has completed its fifteenth year, and the annual reports which have recorded its history have shown each year some progress. To-day it is unquestionably the most important public institution in this city. The Library, Reading Room, Art Gallery, Museum, Amusement Room, Savings Fund and Lecture Department bear the closest relation to every phase of life in our city, and the future importance of this institution if loyally supported and built up can hardly be overestimated. Since it was founded the growth and increase of such institutions in the towns and cities of America and Europe have been simply astounding. During the past year some account of this movement has been laid before the citizens, but our space will not admit of reproducing the statistics here.

In Ontario nearly every town of importance has its free public library supported by the town or city. In the States immediately South of us these institutions are almost universal; and annual appropriations of $2000 or more, are not uncommon from cities no larger than Sherbrooke.

Boston is just completing its public library building at a cost to the city of $3,000,000. Alread the same interest is everywhere noticeable. One who has not kept informed upon this movement simply cannot realize its importance. We emphasize this that it may be clearly understood that neither this city nor any other can afford to ignore it, and certainly when they have the foundation of an institution such as the Library & Art Union they cannot afford to allow it to die through indifference and lack of support.

These remarks are prompted by the feeling that giving all credit to those public spirited citizens who have from its formation contributed so faithfully to its support, after all its present position is insignificant compared with what it might have been if our Council had given it the same liberal support accorded to similar institutions elsewhere, and if our churches both Protestant and Roman Catholic and all who are active in good work had realized more fully its importance and possibilities and had concentrated more of their effort upon its enlargement.

The past year has been an important one in the history of the Union, by reason of the effort made to bring its claims more prominently before the City Council and thereby obtain increased aid in keeping with its importance to the city. This effort was supported by the largest petition of ratepayers and residents ever presented to the Council (over 700) of which one-half were ratepayers. In connection with this effort all the Clergy of the City both Protestant and Roman Catholic expressed by letters which were published, their hearty approval of the Institution.

Whatever the reasons for the actions of the majority of the Council in refusing the petition, this refusal forced upon the Trustees the necessity of taking a backward step in returning to the charge of a special fee for taking books away from the library.

The results shown by the Librarian's report are, that while the books were free the circulation rose from 420 in Oct. 1892 to 1800 in March 1894, an average for the last twelve months prior to the change of 1348 per month. Since the 1st of July last, when the change was made, it has dropped to an average for the three months of 589 per month.

That this has been unfortunate must be apparent to every one. If public libraries are a boon to every community and are important factors in the intellectual and moral development of the people, as is now universally admitted, then the more freely they are used and the less the restrictions, the greater the benefits, the same principle being applied to our public schools.

That 16,173 books were loaned in the year ending June 30th, 1895 shows that the library was appreciated; that the circulation should fall to less than half upon the reimposition of a charge shows, not a lack of appreciation, but that a charge is found onerous and results in depriving many of the use of the library who were before glad to avail themselves of it. It is the settled conviction of the Management that the library must return to the system of loaning books free of charge to all residents as soon as possible and that the system practically universal everywhere.

Economy has been carefully practiced in every department during the past year and yet it has been impossible to reduce the debt one dollar or to make any additions of importance to the library.

The institution cannot be conducted on less than the last years' expenses and as the income has been exceptionally large and the same amount cannot be relied upon for the next year, more liberal aid must be obtained from the city and its residents.

We need only repeat what has been heretofore said that no one has any private interest or is deriving any financial benefit from the Institution, as is shown by the Auditor's report.

No fair minded person will deny that the premises occupied which include the Art Hall are worth from $500 to $800 more than the exemption from taxation granted from the city. No one has any private claim upon the property of the Union. It is a public institution conducted in the interests of the whole community and knows no distinction of class, religion or nationality, and the services of all the officers except the Curator and Librarian are given gratuitously. The list of officers herewith is a representative one. The Mayor of the city ex officio is President; the Chairman of the Protestant and Roman Catholic school boards are Trustees and members of the Library Committee; and its accounts are audited by the City Auditor.

In conclusion we appeal to all the community to unite in its support and in urging upon the Council additional aid.

We briefly refer to the several departments:

THE LIBRARY

Now contains 3,697 books. 151 were added the past year of which 100 were donations and 25 of those purchased were for the French section. To curtail expense the rebinding and repair of books has during the past year been practically discontinued, and in consequence many books have had to be withdrawn from circulation.

The circulation and other particulars are shown by the following report of the Librarian for year ending September 30th 1895

THE READING ROOM
Has been kept fully up to the high standard which has always made it a credit to the city and the subject of favorable comment from visitors and the Canadian Press.

THE ART GALLERY
retains its interest to residents and is developing an increased interest in and appreciation of the beautiful. Three inexpensive pictures have been added, viz: a colored photograph of a beautiful picture of horses by the noted painter Schreyer; a fine etching of "The Cornfield" by Constable, the famous English landscape painter, and a mezzotint engraving by a portrait by Romney. These are not only interesting pictures, but examples of three of the most important processes of reproduction and therefore interesting in this respect. The Committee are not unkind of the greater importance of procuring good original work, but since that is impossible, owing to the present financial condition, they believe reproductions of this character will prove of value.

THE NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM has made some few acquisitions and displays are more systematic of the mineral resources of the Eastern Townships.

THE AMUSEMENT ROOM
was well patronized during the winter months by young men who seemed to appreciate the advantages of an orderly pleasant place in which to spend their leisure hours.

During the past year a Savings Fund has been inaugurated by which deposits can be made with the Curator of ten cents and upwards not exceeding the total of ten dollars, at hours and in the evening when workmen are at liberty, but when banks and post office are closed. The system under which this is done is not only simple and effective but guards against any loss either to the Union or to the depositor. As soon as the latter accumulates one dollar it may begin to bear interest; and when the amount reaches one dollar it is deposited in any bank in this city the depositor may choose. This system thus avoids any large accumulation in the hands of the Union and it acts merely as a convenient channel of transmission from the workmen to the banks of smaller sums than are usually deposited in the latter.

The Entertainment and Lecture department is an exceedingly difficult one to carry on without loss, and great caution has been exercised. Yet the Union has been the means of providing good entertainments every year.

In conclusion, we believe that reference to the various departments must convince any one that this institution stands in vital relation to the best interests of the city and its residents and deserves the active support of all. Special acknowledgment is made of the gratuitous services of the retiring Sec. Treas. Mr. E. B. Worthington who has for the past two years filled this position.

Judge Brook's resignation.

Yesterday being the last day of the Term of Enquete, at the opening of the Court, Mr Justice Brooks addressed the members of the Bar as follows:

GENTLEMEN,—I have asked you to meet me to-day that I might make to you an announcement which may probably have been anticipated by you, but I have considered it right that, owing to the friendly relations which have always existed between us, that I should now, as I have always endeavored to do in matters affecting the administration of justice in this district, first take you into my confidence and that it was better that the statement which I have to make should be made to you personally.

I am sending to day to the Minister of Justice, for reasons upon which which he has declined, satisfactory, my resignation as Judge of the Superior Court of Quebec, and this, in all probability the last time that I shall meet you under the present relations.

The causes which have led me to take this course are well known to you all.

In May last, in writing to the Department of Justice, I informed the Minister that while I hoped to be able to resume my duties after the vacation, in justice to myself for the future, I must urge most strenuously upon him the necessity of furnishing assistance, which should be of a permanent nature in carrying on the work of the District, which had been for a long period, in my absence, that should be required of one Judge and suggesting, as no other means could be adopted at the time, the appointment of an assistant Judge.

To this I received an unfavorable reply. I had in the meantime as you are aware, written to your Honorable Court stating to him that I was willing to take any course which would be in the interest of the Bar and the public.

You, gentlemen, have been for several years urging upon the Department of Justice at Ottawa, as well as upon the Government at Quebec, by various resolutions, the necessity for permanent aid in the work of the District, but without avail.

In August I again wrote the Department at Ottawa, urging the same thing, and in September your Honorable Court and Secretary had a personal interview with the Minister at Ottawa upon the subject.

I notified the Minister of Justice that I could not undertake alone for the future all the work of the District and, being informed that he would be required to ask Parliament for any provision for assistance here, and declined to grant the just and reasonable demands made in regard to the administration of Justice here, I have decided upon the course which I have stated to you.

There is one subject I wish to impress upon you; two things are required in this District, assistance in the Judge's work, and a new Court House with greater conveniences. Both, I trust, you may be successful in obtaining.

It is now, gentlemen, forty-one years yesterday since I was admitted to the Bar of this District, and I was for 28 years actively engaged in the practice of the common profession. Naturally there have been great changes. Not one of the ten members of the Bar is now upon the tableau of this District, all except two, I think, have passed away. Not one of the Judges then upon the Bench in this Province is now alive.

During my practice at the Bar, I think that I may truly say that the most friendly and cordial relations always existed between my conferees and myself.

Thirteen years ago on the 2nd of November next I entered upon my duties as Judge in this District, and since that time the same friendly relations have continued, and that has made my task easier. The members of this Bar have conducted the business of the District with a spirit of courtesy and good feeling amongst themselves which has been remarkable, and they have acquired a well earned reputation for ability and skill throughout the Province.

I have to thank you, gentlemen, as well as all the officers, connected with this District, for the uniform kindness and courtesy and consideration with which you have, throughout the last 13 years, treated me. When I entered upon my duties I asked your kind assistance to aid me in the performance of my duties; this has been given me most cordially, and I thank you one and all. Under these circumstances, it cannot be otherwise than painful for me to sever my connection with you, but at the same time I must confess to a feeling of relief from the constant and unremitting labor imposed upon the judge of this District.

I have tried, gentlemen, to do my duty; no one can do more than that. If I have failed, it has been from lack of ability, not otherwise.

Again, gentlemen, I thank you for your unvarying kindness, and I trust that the same friendly relations will continue through life. I shall always be glad to meet you, one and all, in remembrance of old times.

Mr Mulvenia, the Batonnier of the Bar, then presented the following address:—

To the Honorable Mr. Justice Brooks,

HONORED AND DEAR SIR:—It devolves upon me as Batonnier of the St-Francis Section of the Bar, to express the great regret which all its members feel on learning that the condition of your health has forced upon you the necessity of resigning the high office, which you have so acceptably filled for the last thirteen years during all of which period the pleasant relations which have always existed in this District between the Bench and the Bar have suffered no interruption.

All the Members of this Section appreciate the laborious and painstaking manner in which the enormous judicial work of this District has been performed during your administration and they regret that the excessive labor and anxieties, which it has entailed, should have had such an effect upon your strength as to compel your retirement.

They are hopeful that the decision which you have arrived at under the advice of your Physician and friends will bring to you in the repose of private life that return of health and strength, which all your friends both in the Profession and in the Laity hope you may soon obtain.

In serving our relations I am sure I express the universal sentiments of this Section when I say we wish you many years of comfort and happiness and I hope that the members of the Bar of St Francis will always retain a warm place in your memory.

On behalf of the Bar of the Section of the District of St. Francis.

H. W. MULVENA, Batonnier.

Sherbrooke, October 31st, 1895.

Mr. W. White, Q. C., then addressed the Judge as follows:—

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOR.—It is to me a somewhat melancholy privilege that I, a member of your old section of the Bar, an enabled in my capacity of Batonnier-General to express on behalf of conferees throughout all the Province the sincere regret which it is certain will be universally felt at your retirement from a position you have so long filled with great acceptance, not only to the members of the profession, but to the entire community.

It will ever remain to you a source of deep gratification that during your long term of official service you have enjoyed an uninterrupted confidence in your administration of the responsible duties which you have so impartially and ably performed. You have, indeed, every reason to feel assured that the laity as well as the profession, in this large judicial District of St. Francis, will ever greatly appreciate the benefits of your zealous and painstaking labors, and will long remember the period from 1882 to 1895, in which the administration of justice in their midst was confided to your hands.

The sense of obligation will be enhanced by the reflection that the task was of such a character as to have become a burden on your health, and realizing this, they will earnestly hope that the repose you are about to seek will bring back to you a fair degree of vigor and strength in the autumn of life, and they will continue to wish for you a prolonged Indian summer full of many bright happy comforts, and of all those solid enjoyments with which the declining years of a well spent, honora'e life may well be filled.

Having been notified of your kindly wish to meet the members of the Bar this morning, and having the opportunity of being present, I felt I must be neglecting a duty of my official position if I failed to be here to extend to you, on behalf of all our conferees in the Province, their best wishes for your future, and their earnest hope that there are yet in store for yourself and your amiable partner in life many pleasant years of health, strength and happiness.

The opening chapter of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's new novel "Sir George Trevelyan," which begins in the November Century, describes an election in England. Mrs. Ward's well-remembered heroine "Marcella," reappears early in this story.

CITY ITEMS.

FRIDAY, NOV. 1, 1895.

The service Sunday evening next in the Methodist Church will be one of sacred music and scripture reading.

New and elegant Coal Oil Heaters have just been received Messrs J. S.
Mitchell & Co's. Call and see them.

The brigade church parade Sunday in Montreal was a great success. We noticed the names of Majors Worthington and Fraser of the 53rd as being present.

The Gerhart Heintzman piano, used at the Epworth League entertainment in the Methodist Church last week, was kindly loaned from Mr. G. A. LeBaron's music parlors.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the close of the morning service Sunday in the Methodist Church here the pastor Rev. Dr.
Williams officiating.

During the high wind on Monday one of Mr Jewell's large bill boards at the corner of Factory Street was blown down and a woman named Labelle, passing at the time was somewhat injured but not seriously.

Rt. Wor. Bro. J. A. Tate paid an official visit to Ashlar Lodge No. 31 A. F.
and A. M. Coaticook, on Wednesday evening; he was accompanied by Wor.
Bro. E. S. Stevens and Bro. John Ches-ney. Work was exemplified on the first degree.

W. R. Hall, W. A. McCre, and Geo.
Seivright returned Saturday last, having sailed six days, five of which they spent at the Q. C. R. Station on Saturday last. They report lots of game near the Maine boundary.

Messrs. D. G. Loomis & Sons have secured the contract for erecting the new Eastern Townships Bank building at St.
Hyacinthe to cost about $14,000. Mr.
C. Clift is the architect. They will also put up the addition to the head office.

We publish to-day a very readable article from the pen of Miss L. A.
Edwards entitled "Western Ways and Western Wonders." It will be found on page 7, and we advise our readers not to miss it.

We learn that an agreement has been arrived at between the Gardiner Tool Co.
of Brockville and the Finance Company of the City Council regarding the company's establishing business here. This course has to be ratified by the citizens and council. The success so far is due to the efforts of the Board of Trade in securing new enterprises in our midst.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet on Friday afternoon the 8th inst., at three o'clock at the house of Mrs. Alex. Hyndman, Montreal Street
As a report of the Provincial Convention will be given, a good attendance is requested.

The prisoners sentenced on Monday by Judge Archibald at the close of the criminal term here were conveyed to the penitentiary at St. Vincent de Paul on Tuesday. There were seven of them in charge of Sheriff McIntosh, High Constable Moe, guard George Bonnalie and Constable W. Read. The prisoners were hand-cuffed together.

HORSE KILLED.—A singular accident happened the horse of Mr. Felix Oliver, milkman, this morning. The horse ran down Ball street and against the fence on the opposite side of Wellington street coming in contact with the pickets in such a manner as to cut his throat and killing him.

Mr. Justice Brooks called the Bar together yesterday and informed them that he had sent in his resignation to the Minister of Justice. His resignation was accepted with regret by his host of friends. His successor has of course not been named, but rumor is busy with the name of Wm White, Esq. Q. C., than whom no other or more generally acceptable man could be found.

CONCERT.—The concert given in the Art Hall on Monday evening was attended by an appreciative although not very large audience. The singing of Mr. Chas. Keller showed his powerful voice to advantage, his guitar solos being also greatly enjoyed. P. of Walter showed himself a master with the violin and delighted all. Mrs. Armstrong and Mr. Fraser always popular, were in good voice and sang with excellent effect. On the whole the Concert was a good one though prolonged a little too much by persistent encores a feature not to be commended. Miss Russell opened the programme with a well executed piano solo. The concert was a pleasing success and creditable to all concerned.

Chambers - Farwell.

Dr. W. W. Chambers of Magog was married in Montreal Wednesday to Miss Frances Eva, daughter of Mr. Alfred Farwell, late of Danville, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Rose of St.
James Methodist Church at the residence of W. R. Tabb, Esq., McGill College Avenue. The bridesmaid was Miss Hawley from this city, a cousin of the bride.
A reception was held after the ceremony and the happy couple left on the 9 o'clock train for Ottawa. The presents were numerous and beautiful.

Baptist Church.

On Lord's day the pastor will preach in the forenoon on "The Institution of the Lord's Supper" and in the evening on "Heaven a place," the first of a series of seven discourses on "Heaven. Hear them. All seats free. Come and welcome.

The Imperials.

ing in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Sunday at 4 p.m., and also the Union meeting at the Methodist Church at 8.15 p.m.

The Imperial Trio will lead both meetings. Look out for announcements of future meetings.

Mr. W. Raphael, the well-known artist and art instructor of Montreal, has consented to attend in Sherbrooke one day in each month and superintend the work done by the members, and to give instruction in oil painting, water colors and drawing, provided a sufficient number of pupils will become subscribers.
Open to art students both ladies and gentlemen. Terms very moderate. For full particulars apply to Mrs. Hurd Sherbrooke, Que.

The "Black Knight" in Lennox-ville.

A very large audience greeted the Rev.
J. H. Haeter in the Methodist church on Friday night the 25th Oct., to hear his lecture on "Personal Reminiscences of the War." From beginning to end he held the unwavering attention of all who had the privilege of hearing him. His sallies of wit and sarcasm, his frequent bursts of eloquence and his sound evangelical sentiment expressed in convincing arguments and striking language were repeated rounds of applause. While the audience was highly entertained it was also very greatly profited. If the "Black Knight" should return to Len-noxville we bespeak for him a crowded house. May he soon re-appear among us!

I. O. O. F.

The members of Unity Lodge, No. 8,
I. O. O. F. with their lady friends to the number of about 150 celebrated the 18th anniversary of the institution of the lodge in a becoming manner Tuesday evening with a social and entertainment.
The latter comprised several pieces of excellent music from the following players: Messrs H. S. Hubbard, F.
Cline, W. B. LeBaron, Dr. S. J. Bloomfield and Miss Hubbard; vocal selections by Messrs Walley and Hubbard and Messrs Parker and Hubbard, Miss Eastwick playing the accompaniments. Mrs.
J. W. McKee recited a very laudable court scene, and Mr. W. E. McWhouse read "Five Bach-Johannes Kept House."

Mr. Walley ably filled the part of chairman, and all the brethren helped to make the affair the success that it was—including the Rebekahs. The chairman reported 170 members of Unity and 100 Rebekahs, an excellent showing.

mendation from one to another. That it is a good thing is beyond question, that it will rapidly become popular is equally certain.—From the Toronto Globe Sept. 5th

OBITUARY.

Charles F. Remick died Thursday,
Oct. 10, 1895 at his home near Bird
Island from paralysis. Charles F.
Remick was born in Brownington Vermont, November 1, 1829 and at the time of his death was 65 years 10 months and 29 days old. From a book entitled "The Bench and Bar of Chicago" we extract the following:

Mr. Remick received a theological education at the place of his birth, and afterwards pursued a full course of study at Dartmouth College, where he graduated with high honor in 1853.
After leaving College he was principal of an academy at Barnston, Canada for about a year, after which he began the study of law, and for about two years applied himself assiduously to the same, with the late Hon. John S. Sanborn, at Sherbrooke, Canada and while there was honored with several important positions: deputy prothonotary of the superior court of the district of St.
Francis, deputy clerk of the Queen's bench, and also of the quarter sessions clerk of magistrate's court, and secretary and treasurer of the school board for the city of Sherbrooke all of which he filled with perfect satisfaction to the community, and credit and profit to himself.

In 1864 Mr. Remick moved to Chicago where he continued his practice with great success, and is one of the few attorneys who have amassed a fortune.
Mr. Remick was a Republican until Gen. Grant's first nomination to the presidency, when not agreeing with the financial policy, he resigned his longer support of the party. In 1876 he voted with the greenback party for Peter Cooper, and has since been an able and enthusiastic supporter of the anti-monopolists, by whom, in the fall of 1882, he was nominated judge of the probate court of Cook County.

The funeral was held Saturday in the Baptist Church, Rev. Faber preaching the sermon, and the remains were placed in the village cemetery.

Court of Queens Bench.

Friday and Saturday last was occupied in hearing an appeal in the matter of Mr.
Mathew. It is a liquor case and in the course of the proceedings it transpired that the original by-laws of the county of Richmond, adopting the Dunken Act, was never signed by the Mayor, Warden, and Secretary Treasurer. What effect this omission may have in liquor prosecutions remains to be seen. Judgment will be rendered on the 23rd November.

On Monday sentences were passed as follows:—James Bishop, horse stealing, 2 years at St. Vincent de Pauls, Oscar McDuff, stealing a bicycle, 2 years at St.
Vincent de Paul; Cyrille Roy, breaking into a house with the intention of robbery 3 months in the common jail; Ernest Allen, horse stealing, 3 years in the penitentiary; Fred H. Goodsell, horse stealing, 2 years in the penitentiary; Alexander Vallier, horse stealing, first offence, recommended to mercy by the jury, 6 lard, assault, 7 days imprisonment, he having already been in prison a considerable time; Hugh Clark, falsely pretending to have mailed a letter containing money, 3 months imprisonment; Thomas G. Snedley, passing a counterfeit bill, 4 months imprisonment. W. Martin setting fire to a load of grain, 2 years in the penitentiary; W. Christie, a younger man than Martin, found guilty of the same offense, 1 year's imprisonment; Paul Geroux and Napoleon Geroux, burglary 2 years in the penitentiary.

This term was one of the longest ever held in Sherbrooke.

Provincial Council of the Bar.

There was a meeting of the Council of the Bar of the province yesterday, Mr.
William White, of Sherbrooke, batonniergeneral in the chair. There were also present Hon. J. E. Robidoux and Mr.
John Dunlop, Q. C., Montreal; Messrs.
E. Racot, Sweetshurg; P. E. Martel,
Three Rivers; James Dunbar, Quebec;
P. Rochon, Hall; H. W. Mulvena, Sherbrooke, and W. C. Languedoc, Quebec.

The subject of the bar examinations was brought up again and discussed. The majority of the council expressed an opinion in favor of retaining absolute control of the examinations and the admission of members to the profession. A new committee was also appointed for the purpose of considering certain reforms in the composition of the board of examiners and in the mode of conducting the examinations with the view of reducing the expenses on the part both of the students and the corporation itself. This committee is composed of the Batonnier-General, Mr. W. White, of Sherbrooke; Hon. J. E. Robidoux, Messrs. P. E. Martel, Three Rivers;
H. W. Mulvena, Sherbrooke, and the secretary, Mr. W. C. Languedoc. Several petitions were received and disposed of,
after which the meeting adjourned.—

"Hello, Fatty," said the Copy-book to the Dictionary.

"Hello, Thimby," retorted the Dictionary.

"You're a wordy person, Fatty," said the Copy-book.

"You're an empty thing, Thimby," said the Dictionary.

"Bound to have the last word, eh, Fatty?" sneered the Copy-book.

"Need it in my business, Thimby," said the Dictionary, and the umbrella in the library corner laughed so hard that it bent one of its ribs.

FRIDAY, NOV. 1, 1895.

Hatley.

Oyster supper to-night (Oct. 23rd) at the new hotel.

We have had quite a young winter this week.

Warren Christie is home from Boston for the winter.

H. F. Pope, F. W. Maloney and others went to Boston Tuesday on the excursion.

Fox hunters are having great luck this fall, Alf Dezan getting five in one day.

Alonso Impey has bought a farm on the Waterville road.

Mr. Morrison is running his creamery. The Foresters were to hold a social on Tuesday Oct. 29th, in their hall, and their regular meeting on October 31st.

What is the trouble with the Waterville correspondent in reporting the result of foot ball matches. The last game Waterville played in Hatley was won by the Hatley team. Why was it reported as a tie?

Parker's store is nearly completed and will be without doubt the nicest store in the Eastern Townships.

Moose River.

Again we find it is time to chronicle the news for your valuable columns and it is not always an easy task to gather items of interest to the public.

Mrs. Jas. Billington arrived last week intending, we understand to make a permanent home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw have moved into "Kent Cottage" for the winter.

Moody Brown is said to be beginning. It is hoped he will recover from the internal injuries received while leading a high life colt; he stumbled and was thrown in such a way as to hurt himself quite seriously.

Burton Wilson and family left last week for the west, hoping to improve his health.

Mr. Reekie the student who is to have charge of the Baptist Church here arrived last week.

Mr. U. L. Sheldon of Way's Mills was at church Sunday.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wilson are coming to live among us. We shall be pleased to welcome them.

Rev. J. F. W. H. holds his next service here Nov. 3rd.

There were about forty out to the box social at Mr. L. Bliss' on the 22nd. All seemed in good spirits and a pleasant evening was spent.

Bath, N. H.

The W. C. T. U. held its county convention at Swiftwater (two miles from here) on Sept. 25th. Mrs. Richardson of Littleton is the county president; her kind manner gave confidence to all present and many cheering reports were read from the local branches; added to this was an excellent paper read by Mrs. Brown of Whitefield and her experience at the World's W. C. T. U. convention held in London, England. The resident pastor spoke words of welcome to the large congregation of white ribboners. Addresses were also given by Rev. Mr. France of Bath, A. H. Drury of Newbury, and the Rev. Mr. Babcock of Whitefield. The latter gave a powerful address on temperance in the evening.

A series of revival meetings is held in the Congregational Church of this place conducted first by Rev. S. P. Cook of Northfield, Mass., and now by Rev. Mr. Stevenson, Evangelist and singer of Chicago; the result is encouraging. Some ardent converts of men and several have started in the Christian life for the first time.

Delegations of the Y. M. C. A. here have held meetings lately in the church at Lyman and the school house at Wildwood.

The Bath Lumber Co., have about completed sawing their stock of logs for this season.

Snow fell here on the 17th of October, and the nights are quite frosty.

Swift Justice.

Swift vengeance was meted out to a tramp who assaulted Mayor Knowles of Dundas yesterday afternoon. The tramp, who afterwards gave his name as John McDonald, went into the Mayor's office to beg, and on becoming impatient was told he would be placed under arrest. The tramp, who was over six feet tall, continued his insulting remarks, and with the assistance of Mr. Jos. Vaughan, Mayor Knowles threw him on the floor and held him by the telephone to call for assistance. The tough broke from Mr. Vaughan and attacked the Mayor savagely, scratching his face badly. Finally McDonald was subdued by Chief Tress. A Police Court session was held and the Mayor's assailant was promptly sent down for six months. Last night Mayor Knowles' boat house, containing his fishing tackle and a boat belonging to Deputy Reeve Collins, was set on fire and burned down. It is supposed a girl of McDonald did the deed in revenge for the sentence imposed on McDonald.

That important new book, A Study of Death, by Henry M. Alden, editor of Harper's Magazine, is in its thought and style so individual that it has not yet been classified by any of the critics. Long and appreciative reviews of it are appearing in the principal papers, but all apparently inspired by the feeling that the work is unrelated—

Plenty, Yet Starving.

The thin, emaciated persons we see every day are actually starving for nourishment. You may eat until you are stuffed, but unless your food is assimilated it does you no good. The kind of food that makes tissue and enriches the blood is found in Cod-liver Oil, and the easiest, most palatable form of Cod-liver Oil is

Scott's Emulsion

But Scott's Emulsion is more than this. It contains Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, a nerve tonic and constructive agent. The nutrients in Scott's Emulsion, therefore, are just what is needed to build up the system and overcome wasting tendencies. Children gain flesh and strength on Scott's Emulsion when no other form of food nourishes them. They almost all like it.

The Limitations of Youth.

I'd like to be a cowboy, and ride a fiery horse, and go out into the big and boundless west. I'd like to be a hunter, and hunt the big game, and I'd like to be a fisherman, and fish for the big fish. I'd like to be a soldier, and fight for my country, and I'd like to be a statesman, and govern the world. I'd like to be a scientist, and discover the secrets of nature, and I'd like to be a philosopher, and ponder the mysteries of life. I'd like to be a hero, and do great deeds, and I'd like to be a saint, and live a life of virtue. I'd like to be a king, and rule over a great empire, and I'd like to be a god, and be worshipped by all men. I'd like to be a immortal, and live forever, and I'd like to be a god, and be worshipped by all men.

WESTERN WAYS AND WESTERN WONDERS.

BY L. A. E.

Every part of the world has local characteristics which are distinctly its own. Nowhere can we go, but we find ourselves face to face with customs and conditions peculiar to that part. This fact has been strikingly exemplified during a sojourn in the northern part of the northern peninsula of Michigan—a region which often receives the appropriate title of "cooperation." Arriving about the middle of August, we found that the first public event of interest was a Teachers' Institute. Not in a pleasant winding up of the holiday season was the last week of the month to be spent by the teachers of the county, but in solemn convocation assembled they were to discuss for five successive days matters bearing upon the important work they were soon to resume. Presiding over their deliberations were a gentleman and a lady—the former a professor in a western college—the latter the superintendent of a training school for teachers in Duluth. Equally did they share the onerous task of preparing a suitable bill of mental fare, to a bevy of school teachers, varying in number, from sixty to a hundred.

A woman's brain, in this part of the world, is not only considered to be equally fertile to man's but she is offered positions of importance not inferior to his, nor less remunerative. A certain fair-play seems to characterize their partnership.

The subjects chosen for discussion from pedagogical point of view, were grammar, geography, arithmetic and reading. A good feature in connection with the teaching of the last named subject was the placing of a text-book in the hands of each, so that a specimen of his or her skill in this very important, though often badly taught, accomplishment could be obtained and critiqued. Singing formed a pleasant diversion between the sessions, and the professor, who presided at the organ, insisted on this exercise being done in a manner that was truly exhilarating. An incident occurred on the last day, which our patriotism will not suffer us to omit mentioning. A lecture had been delivered by the professor on the possibilities of the American Republic. A good deal of "spread eagles" had been manifested and certain sentiments expressed, to which we took exception. Having afterwards an opportunity of telling him privately of our reasons for dissenting from his opinion, he laughingly called upon the class to sing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee"—observing with a glance in our direction that they would sing "God Save the Queen" if they knew the words. We at once offered to supply them, and having committed himself so far he could not retract. Thereupon, in as distinct a manner as possible, we repeated the words of the first verse of "God Save the Queen," the class, for the first time in the lives of many of its members, sang. Thus did we hoist the flag of Old England on American soil, to the evident amusement of both instructors and instructed. A tangible expression of appreciation of the services of both Lady Superintendent and professor in the form of a handsome present proved a fitting finale to five days of earnest listening and note-taking.

A land where large water melons sell for 15 cents each, or two for 25 cents is surely a happy land. Grapes tried to excel them when their turn came; as a ten pound basket of Concord grapes had for 15 cts.; Delaware and Catawbas being equally cheap in proportion. That good appetites exist in western air was made very evident one evening at "supper"—as the third meal in the day is here invariably called. Deeds of exploit in the matter of consuming power being related, which should be a commendable process in this direction, when a lady present capped the climax by declaring that she had at one repast succeeded in devouring "sixteen ears of corn." We gratefully realized how very far we eastern folk were "hors d' combat."

A marked feature of the winter in the deep north, which covers the ground from 1 to 3 and 4 feet on a level. As to the drifts, they cover f-mces and obstruct the highway, frequently to such an extent, that driving becomes almost an impossibility; upsets are therefore of very common occurrence and it is wonderful how indifferent the municipal authorities seem to be, that the roads should be so kept as not to render them dangerous. The frequency of the snow fall is also a marked feature of the climate, as it often descends every day consecutively for a month. When a wind arises—at a velocity of forty miles an hour—the effect may be imagined. The air becomes so completely filled with the flakes that one can scarcely see a yard ahead. A thermometer varying from six to thirty degrees below zero affords variety of temperature, and when the latter point is reached, accompanied by wind, no amount of clothing is too much. Shaws enveloping the head are no uncommon sight and although far from elegant in appearance they are extremely comfortable.

Dogs are largely utilized by boys in drawing them over the snow. Harnessed to sledges in which proudly sit the youthful drivers these little "teams" present a curious appearance; and so numerous are they that it is hard to steer clear of them when driving. "Sleds" (pronounced skees) are a great institution here. They consist of two narrow pieces of wood 9 feet in length and pointed at each end. These are strapped to the foot much after the fashion of our snow shoes.

The balance of the body is kept by means of a pole in each hand, the ends of which are spiked and stuck into the ground—thus propelling the pedestrian forward. Distances are got over in a marvellous manner, and strides are taken which appear to have neither beginning nor end. The custom is an imported one—being largely used to Sweden—and it is patronized by emigrants from northern Europe, as well as by native Americans. In this vigorous climate it would seem natural that furs should abound because of their necessity; but such is not the case. Small cloth caps, with peaks, form the ordinary head-gear of men, while a fur cap on a woman is a most exceptional sight. Felt hats of a form that render warmth impossible, satisfy apparently the feminine coquette, while a couple of yards of large veiling wound around seems to palliate the conscience of the indiscreet wearer. Neuralgia must be counted thus, most successfully. Only the more affluent appear to be the possessors of furs, and in this respect a striking contrast is presented to Canada. It is not that a buffalo coat or one of mink and then looms upon one's visions, but these cases are rare comparatively.

The very tender age at which young children are placed upon the platform to recite or "speak their pieces" (as they say here) is truly wonderful. Little toddlers of two and three years of age are trained to perform in public; and we think it a forcing process to be deplored. One case we witnessed where a little maiden of three and a half years was placed upon the platform, but became evidently stage-struck, as she failed to open her lips. "Speak your piece, Flossie!" resounded from her mother at the other end of the question. On the following morning, in the court house square of a neighboring town, hundreds assembled to hear the reading of the Declaration of Independence which is annually rehearsed in their ears. As we listened to the enumeration of the misdeeds of George the Third, for instance "he has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people." We could not help thinking what a pity to recapitulate the misdoings of a king who, for seventy-five years, has been slumbering in his grave. Surely "raison d'être" of the American Republic is not dependent upon this annual rehearsal of ancient British misrule! The effect is most evident, viz. to fire the blood, especially of the younger portion of the population, with an antipathy to everything British. Would it not be wiser, kinder and more in keeping with the general advance of the great Republic to let the past go with all its soreness to both sides and to cultivate kindly feeling to that nation whose broad dominion touches its shores.

An oration by a prominent politician, in which a good deal of lauding of everything American was a marked feature, brought the proceedings to a close. A parade of the troops belonging to the state militia of that section, filled the programme for the afternoon and gave an opportunity of beholding the effect of the "blue and the grey." The slouch hats worn, although not military looking, are certainly most sensible when the thermometer is eighty in the shade. Military tactics are—at least to the uninitiated—pretty much the same in appearance all the world over. A brilliant display of fireworks in the evening brought the day, so looked forward to, to a close, leaving many pockets more empty than when it began; the money tills of many sad keepers wonderfully replenished, and the patriotism of the visiting Canadian greatly increased.

A Hundred and Twenty Miles an Hour. It is generally considered that sixty miles an hour is the practical limit of speed on steam railways, as at present constructed. It is rather startling therefore, to be told that a company has been formed and that capital has been obtained for the purpose of erecting a railway which will deliver at double this speed. A hundred and twenty miles an hour is a speed that, if maintained, would carry one around the world in a trifle over eight days. It is faster than the hurricane the carrier-pigeon or anything else that moves upon this mundane sphere. Yet the National Rapid Transit Company is asking the United States Senate for privileges looking to the establishment of a line between New York and Washington and specifying in the proposed bill that the schedule-time shall not be less than one hundred miles an hour, which necessitates a speed of a hundred and twenty miles per hour to cover the distance. Further the General Electric Company of New York is willing to guarantee motors, generators and wiring to maintain a speed of one hundred and fifty [note the fifty] miles an hour when delivering a hundred horse-power per motor with two motors per car.—Charles H. Cochrane in November Lippincott's.

Tale of a Boy and a Cigarette.

The venerable and familiar moral tale of the bad little boy who offered the circus elephant a chew of tobacco is far surpassed in ethical force by the new and strictly truthful story of eleven year old Harry Manning of Waltham, Massachusetts. Harry has been learning to smoke cigarettes, and one afternoon about a fortnight ago he was sitting on a barrel behind Northrup's grocery practicing, when he heard footsteps. Not caring to smoke in company, he politely dropped his lighted cigarette into the bung-hole of the barrel on which he sat. The statement is that when the moral elephant in the story received the chew of tobacco he seized Tommy, the evil-doer, by the coat collar with the thumb and finger of his trunk and drew him harshly out through the roof of the circus tent. The event in Harry's case was still more precipitous and surprising. The barrel he sat on contained naphtha, and rejected the lighted cigarette with an instantaneous burst of emotion which sunders its hoops and gave Harry all the symptoms of a runaway. The boy who stood on the burning deck whence all but he had fled. Happily Harry came down in the same township in which he went up and was identified and is still living with his parents, but another time he will drop his nose into an empty barrel before he drops his cigarette into it. The narrative of his adventure is here cheerfully recorded as a warning to boys who smoke cigarettes and for use in schools.

CRIPPLED BY RHEUMATISM

A King's Co., N. S., Man Suffers for Long Weary Months.

HAD REACHED A STAGE WHEN HE WAS UNABLE TO TURN IN BED WITHOUT AID—HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS SPENT IN THE SEARCH FOR RELIEF—DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS AGAIN PROVE HIMSELF WONDERFUL HEALTH GIVING POWER.

From the Kentville, N.S., Chronicle.

Mr. David O. Corkum, of Scott's Bay Road, is the owner of one of the best farms in King's Co., N. S., and is one of the best known farmers in that section of the county. He is naturally a hard working man and when strong is always to be found busy on his place. Last winter he spent the whole season in the lumber woods, was strong and healthy and worked as hard as anyone. But it has not always been so. In fact it is the wonder of the neighborhood that he is able to work at all. Before moving to Scott's Bay Road, Mr. Corkum lived at Chester, Lunenburg Co., N. S., and while there was a great sufferer from rheumatism, which affected him in such a way that he was unable to do manual labor of any kind. About this time he moved to his present home, but he could not get a moment's respite from the effects of his disease. Feeling that he must get well at any cost he had his old doctor brought from Chester to his relief but he was unable to do anything for him. He tried many kinds of medicines hoping to receive benefit but to no avail. Being determined not to die without a struggle he had doctors summoned from Halifax, but still continued to get worse. About three years ago he took to his bed and his case developed into bone and muscle rheumatism of the worst type. It spread through all his bones, up into his neck and into his arm, causing partial paralysis of that limb, rendering it utterly useless since he could not lift it above his waist. All the strength left his muscles, and he was unable to turn in bed without aid. He was able to stand upon his feet but could not walk. Still the doctors waited upon him and still he took their medicines but with no beneficial results. During this time Mr. Corkum paid out several hundred dollars in hard cash for doctor's bills and medicine, all of which did him not one particle of good. After lying in bed for fifteen months his case was pronounced hopeless and he was given up by all. About this time he heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and as a last resource he resolved to give them a trial. The first four boxes produced no noticeable effect but at the fifth he began to notice a change. Feeling encouraged he kept on and from that time he rapidly improved and after using the Pink Pills for a period of some twelve weeks he was restored to perfect health. Such was the wonderful story told a representative of the Western Chronicle by Mr. Corkum a short time ago. Mr. O. Corkum is now 59 years of age and perfectly healthy and feels younger and better than he has for years and attributes his recovery solely to the use of Dr. Williams' Pills, and he is willing to prove the truth of these statements to anyone who may call upon him.

These pills are a positive cure for all troubles arising from a vitiated condition of the blood or a shattered nervous system. Sold by all dealers or by mail from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents a box or 6 boxes for $2.50. There are numerous imitations and substitutes against which the public is cautioned.

A NEW CLUB.

NAME SUGGESTED FOR A NEW SOCIAL ORGANIZATION IN LONDON.

LONDON (Special) Oct. 28.—It has been facetiously suggested that a new social club in process of organization in this city should be entitled "The Doid's Kidney Pill Club" as the present members are all enthusiastic advocates of that remedy and in common with many other citizens declare that in all cases of kidney trouble no other agent has been found so completely effective. Most Londoners have at their fingers' ends the particulars of the many marvellous cures through the use of this specific. In every drug-store in the city the medicine is kept in large quantities and warmly recommended.

"Monsoon" Tea is packed under the supervision of the Tea growers, and is advertised and sold by them as a guaranteed the best quality of Indian and Ceylon Tea. For that reason they see that none but the very fresh leaves go into Monsoon packages. That is why "Monsoon" the perfect Tea, can be sold at the same price as inferior tea. It is put up in sealed caddies of 1/4 lb., 1 lb., and 2 lbs., and sold in three flavors at 40c., 50c. and 60c. If your grocer does not keep it, tell him to write to STEEL, HAYTER & CO., 21 and 23 Fleet St., East, Toronto.

WOMEN are not the only ones who are sensitive about their appearance. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. A woman doesn't like to be told that she is getting old. But worse than getting old, is the appearance of age. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If he has been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood, make people look youthful. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. It promotes the copious secretion of the digestive fluids, and assists in throwing off refuse matter. It makes the appetite good and the digestion strong. It isn't a violent medicine. It isn't strong medicine. It does nothing but good to every portion of the body. It doesn't do harm in one place while it is helping another place. It is meant to help the whole body, and it helps it. Whenever a man feels himself failing in health, when he feels that he is getting old too fast, that his vitality is low, and that he is losing flesh, he should waste no time in getting the "Golden Medical Discovery." It will build up his vitality, and anything else in the world. It will give him rich blood and solid flesh. It will make him feel half as old and twice as strong. Druggists sell it.

Dr. Pierce's 108 page book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," in Plain Language, tells all about the "Golden Medical Discovery," and is a complete family doctor book, profusely illustrated. It will be sent free on receipt of thirty-one (31) one-cent stamps to cover cost of postage and mailing only. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Coaticook Examiner"

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY
J. N. WHITE, LOCAL EDITOR.
FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1895.

Mr. Ed. Pope of Hatley, was in town on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hartwell of Lyndonville are visiting at A. E. Ellis'.

Mrs. Wm. Lovell of Sherbrooke was in town this week the guest of Mrs. C. H. Lovell.

Dr. D. A. Robinson is among the excursionists to the big city this week. We hear he will visit New Haven before returning.

Mr. Henry Lovell is making some improvements on his house on Peel street, by putting on a veranda and other improvements.

The Rev. A. L. Holmes left town on Monday for Carlton Place, Ont., for an absence of several days in connection with missionary work.

The Masonic Fraternity held a meeting in the masonic hall last Wednesday evening for conferring degrees. There were quite a number of members from Sherbrooke present and also from other places.

Mr. E. S. Stevens of the Sherbrooke EXAMINER office gave out a very pleasant and yet rather short call one evening this week. He will be sent free on receipt of small favors and larger ones in proportion.

There was about 100 tickets sold from this station for Boston on Tuesday the day of the cheap excursion. Some people seemed to think that when they could go to Boston and return for $5.00 it was cheaper than staying at home.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Henry Walker of Perryboro. He passed away on Saturday last after a short illness. He was buried on Monday. Mr. Walker was a good citizen, a kind husband and father and will be much missed by all who knew him.

An exchange said, in advising his subscribers among other things, if you feel sick and think you are likely to die, pay up for your local paper for a year in advance, it will insure you a swell obituary notice that would be a credit to your family for years to come. "Go thou and do likewise."

A young man who was recently served with a tax bill to the amount of $2.00 as a tenant would like to have the Secretary show him where his tenement is as he has never seen it outside his father's house. He does not mind paying the tax but he wants to see what it is for.

What can be thought of a young man who asks a young lady to see her home and when half way there spies his best girl some distance away and starts at break neck speed across the street leaving Girl No. 1 on the chips to wend her weary way homeward alone or sit on the fence and see him go by.

Attention. We are going to make you a special offer. An inducement to new subscribers. We will send the EXAMINER from now until Jan. 1, 1897, 14 months all together for $1.00. Now send in your names at once for if you wait until Jan 1st it will cost you just the same.

The fact that variety is the spice of life was recently well illustrated. A man having from Compton visited our town last spring on several occasions and always carried a large bible with him wherever he went. He visited Coaticook again this week and instead of having his bible with him he had a gun, which he carried with equal grace into every place that he had occasion to visit.

We hear that a man from the north ward who has not at all times been a total abstainer, took a freak so to speak and without saying a word to anyone he started for a gold cure unbeknown to his family and it was only after the family had been notified by the manager of the institution of this kind that they knew of his whereabouts. It is needless to say, however, that if there is any virtue in this treatment that the party will get the full good effects of it for "Ben" needs all the good things there are going.

Last Tuesday morning a farmer by the name of Fritz Thomas living about three miles from Coaticook was found dead in a mill pond and at first it was supposed that he had accidentally fallen in and had been drowned but on removing the body from the water it was found that he had taken carbolic acid before falling in the water. The coroner was notified and held an inquest on Wednesday and the finding of the jury was to the effect that the deceased came to his death by his own acts while laboring under temporary insanity brought on by financial difficulties. The funeral took place on Thursday and was largely attended. His family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

One of our young men seems to have got himself into some difficulty by either a lack of judgment or otherwise. He was in business and sold out to other parties and the funeral took place on Thursday and was largely attended. His family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

How to get "Sunlight" Books.
Send 12 "Sunlight" Soap wrappers to Lever Bros. Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, who will send post-paid a paper-bound book, 160 pages. For a "Life-buoy" Carbolic Soap wrappers, a similar book will be sent. This is a splendid opportunity to obtain good reading. Send your name and address carefully. Remember "Sunlight" sells at 6 cts. per twin bar and "Life-buoy" at 10 cts. One cent postage will bring your wrappers by leaving the ends open. ly28

Waterville's Jubilee.

Waterville, Oct. 23, 1895.

To the Editor of the EXAMINER.

DEAR SIR:—From the pleasure which a perusal of them will be sure to give your readers, I feel I am not taking too great a liberty if even without waiting to ask permission from the writers, I request that you be so good as to publish the following valuable and well-timed communications, as the first among others which I hope to send to the press.

Yours indebtly,
ERNEST A. WILLOUGHBY KING.
54 Wolfe St., Lewis, Que.
Oct. 4th, 1895.

DEAR MR. KING:—I send you a few lines to let you know that my thoughts are with you, though I am unable to attend your jubilee celebration. The old name of your locality was "Smith Mills." Hollis Smith (who afterwards moved into Sherbrooke, and traded there and became M. P.) owned buildings which are still standing near the new bridge, but are surrounded and dwarfed by other structures. The old bridge, known as the "Wyman Bridge," crossed some distance up the stream, and not far from the old graveyard in which Henry Learned was buried beside "Lovy" his wife. The long-abandoned road to Sherbrooke may still be traced to the water's edge, and determines the site of the bridge. The bridge—a wooden one—was called by Gossé "our bridge." Gossé's farm was bordered on one side by the old Sherbrooke road and fronted by "the village road" (i.e. the road to Compton, passing by the Vernon place.)

The church in those days was the old "Union Church" which is still standing about a mile and a half from East Hatley—then called "Charlestown." The most notable figure in the past history of Waterville and Compton County has been the one mentioned Philip Henry Gossé, naturalist. Gossé was born at Worcester, England, on the 6th of April, 1810. In 1827 he was engaged as clerk for Shide, Elson, Harrison & Co., of Carleton Place, Newfoundland. (Shidey Bond in his early days was engaged in a like capacity in the slave colony.) He accompanied Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Jacques to Canada in June, 1835, and purchased the farm of which I have already spoken. In the summer he worked on his land and in the winter he taught the village school at Compton. The people of Compton were wont to speak of him as "that crazy Englishman, who goes about picking up bugs." He was at this time composing his first work, "The Canadian Naturalist." He sold out in March, 1838, and went to Alabama, United States, and afterwards to Jamaica, and returned to England in 1839. In 1840, "The Canadian Naturalist" was published. Van Vorst gave the author one hundred pounds sterling for the work. This was the beginning of Gossé's rise in life. "The Birds of Jamaica" appeared in 1845, and "A Naturalist's Sojourn in Jamaica," His "Rambles in a Garden on the Devonshire Coast" was published in 1853 and his "Aquarium" in 1854. He produced in 1860 a "History of British Sea-Anemones and Corals." These works were received with general favor and have contributed greatly to excite an interest in those departments of natural history which he has so well illustrated. Mr. Gossé published some forty volumes of greater or less importance, was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society in 1859, and contributed about fifty valuable articles to the "Transactions" of that eminent body.

His after life was a prosperous one and he died in his own beautiful home at St. Mary Church, near Toronto, Canada. His son Edmund William became, in 1867, Assistant Librarian in the British Museum and in 1875 translator of the Board of Trade, and has won fame as a poet and critic.

In appearance Gossé was a thoughtful looking man with heavy lower visage and dark prominent eyes. Mr. Jacques lived for some years at Waterville and then moved to Montreal where he engaged in the grocery business, and made a fortune. I was intimately acquainted with him. He died at Cowansville, July 12th, 1891, aged 84 years.

The last survivor of the persons mentioned in "The Canadian Naturalist" was Mrs. Bill who died at Waterville 1892. I hope this old time gossip will be of some interest to you on the present occasion.

I am, dear sir, yours truly,
THOMAS W. FLYNN.

At Mr. King's request, Mrs. Henry J. Penoyer kindly wrote to an old Watervillean for notes about the place and received the following clever and interesting reply.

Montreal, Oct. 6th, 1895.
DEAR MR. KING:—Your letter of the 3rd forwarded from Ottawa reached me last evening and gave me much pleasure, which would be greatly enhanced could I avail myself of your invitation to be present at the Jubilee services now in progress.

I well remember when the dear little church was built, and as I recall the printing by services held by the Rev. C. P. Reid (who I think was our first missionary) in the old school on the hill, I can well rejoice that the seed there sown on so beautiful a harvest ground has brought forth so bountiful a harvest. I gathered together not more than three or four families were sufficiently conversant with the ritual of the Church of England to take an active part in the service, and the "Evening Hymn" led by Lieut. Parker R. N. was at first the only music attempted.

I was then very young, but I remember well how the spirit of true devotion breathed through the prayers, how the heartfelt tones of gratitude and praise in the thanksgiving, attracted me, and how the peculiar adaptability of the Litany to the various conditions of life impressed me. No doubt many of those early worshippers who like me were then drawn to study the doctrines of the Church, and by study became convinced of their scriptural foundation and truth, gladly became confirmed members of the "Church Militant" here, and joyfully hope to be raised to the "Church Triumphant" hereafter.

I am afraid I shall prove a poor historian, my memory of dates being always defective, and my early childhood having been spent in Hatley. The current events of the little village, I so seldom saw, did not interest me in those days, and Waterville is the only name for the place I am able to recall. I remember the mills as being owned by a Mr. James Ball, an Irish gentleman, who was married to a Miss Learned, the daughter of the oldest resident of the place. He sold them to a non-resident I think, but they were managed for several years by a Mr. Hyatt, whose daughters were my dear friends. Mr. Ball purchased a farm a mile from my father's residence, and his family were among the few Church of England people at those early mission services. An aged gentleman, Mr. Bostwick, very well read, owned the place next the church at the right. Mr. Salvin Richardson, his brother Reuben and sister Anne, were married children of old Mr. Richardson who lived where, or near where the G. T. R. Station now stands—and old Mr. Levi Smith and family who lived on the hill, where you now reside, to my childish mind constituted the "The Village," as it was in those days. Of course there were many more residents, and at the time of my marriage in 1850, many new industries had sprung up, and many enterprising people had come in who gave the place quite a business aspect. Since my father's death and the sale of the old home I have only visited the place once. Being now seventy two and very feeble I may never again see it, but I take pleasure in hearing of its prosperity, the growth of the church and the advancement of old friends.

Yours truly,
LOURETTA E. BARNHART.
Post Office Department, Canada, (Copy) Ottawa, 5th Oct., 1895.

The Rev. E. A. W. King, Waterville.
SIR:—I am directed to acknowledge your communication of the 3rd inst., requesting information as to when the Post Office at Waterville, Co. Compton, was established and under whose charge, together with the names of the Postmasters appointed to the office since the establishment—also as to whether it ever had another name.

In reply, I am directed to say that the Post Office in question was established at the Waterville Post Office on the 6th September, 1852, and has ever since borne that name.

The persons in charge as Postmasters have been, respectively, F. Webster appointed in 1852, on the establishment of the office; G. H. White, appointed in 1854; Israel Wood, in 1855; B. A. Haswell in 1856; Charles Brooks in 1861, and L. W. Wyman, the present Postmaster, appointed in 1868.

I am, sir,
Your obedient servant,
W. D. LE SUEUR,
Secretary.
East Clifton.

Snow fell on Sunday night last covering the ground about two inches; this may be said to be the first snow of the season, although a few flakes fell some time ago there was not enough to whiten the ground. Mr. and Mrs. James Lowery has returned after a two weeks visit to their children and friends residing in Vermont and Mass. they found all well except Mr. William Lowery's wife who is quite poorly.

William Elliott is home and is about moving into the farm known as the Cooper farm, we wish them much happiness and prosperity.

Several of the citizens attended the four days Convention held last week in Sawyerville for the promotion of scriptural holiness, the meetings were largely attended and of a very interesting character and we believe seasons of spiritual profit.

The Cookshire Mill Co., has a crew of men employed in building a dam at the outlet of the Lindsay pond and also cleaning out the Salmon river with the view to the river, running timber down to the river we understand to be saved or manufactured into pulp at the mills at Brompton falls.

We are glad to say that the recent change of train service on the M. C. R. will give better accommodation and better communication with other R. R. than any previous arrangement since the road was opened. We understand the Co. is about to make important repairs in the East Clifton station which is much needed.

Compton.
After years of silence our old Academy bell rings out again.

Judge Leavitt and Mrs. Leavitt are the proud parents of a young son.
Mrs. S. J. Craig has returned home from Boston.

News has reached here of the death of Mrs. Ida Randall of Farnham and daughter of Mr. Albert Carr of this place. She has been an invalid from rheumatism for some fifteen years, being unable to walk for the last nine years. She was ever patient, bearing her afflictions with Christian resignation.

Miss Lillian Doak is sick with brain fever.

When we see the crows and wild geese leaving for the south we think of an early winter, and when we see a young woman from St. Paul de Compton going up Wellington street well supported by the arm of her lover we think of an indication of an early wedding.

We are reminded that the task of picking the meat from the neck of a chicken is similar to that of finding of the good qualities in some people.

North Hatley.
With saddened hearts we are called to record the death of Mrs. A. J. Gordon, which occurred Oct. 24th. She had been in delicate health for several years, and taking a severe cold died from pneumonia after an illness of nearly one week.

She was a good woman, one who could turn her face towards the sunshine and let in the rays of hope, love, kindness, and charity, therefore will be sorely missed. Much sympathy is extended to all the mourning ones and especially to the sorrowing husband. The funeral was held at the Union Church on Sunday last p. m. and was largely attended. Rev. J. F. Willis of Hurville preached a comforting sermon from Isa. 3, 10. Mr. Gordon greatly appreciated all the kindness shown him during the sickness, death and burial of his wife and wishes to take this opportunity of thanking all who assisted him.

"They never die whose influence and example are always tending toward the good and right."

All such shall flourish in the youth immortal
Where Jesus the true Light, dispels the night.

Always a blessing and an inspiration,
To those with whom you mingled, near or far,
May we, who have known you best, and loved you,
Meet your glad welcome at the gates ajar.

News has arrived here from B. C. of the death of George Sampson Jr., from typhoid fever. Much sympathy is expressed for his parents this being the third time they have been similarly afflicted.
Mr. Everett Bean of Groveton, N. H., is visiting his many relatives here.

Waterville.

(Deferred from Last Week.)

The Swanson auction sale of furniture on Monday was well attended.
Mr. Fred Chaudoin is convalescent, we are glad to hear.
We understand that Mr. Adams, the head of the new firm which is locating here, has just arrived.
G. O. Gale & Sons are building a foundry entrance.
G. W. Powers, M. D., also Mrs. Powers and Miss Fannie left for Atlanta, Georgia—way down south—where they expect to spend several weeks visiting, attending the fair and transacting business as the Doctor has large money interests in that city.

The Rev. Mr. Wilkinson of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, preached in St. John's church on Sunday the 13th, it being the closing service of the Jubilee Celebration of the church here.
The Waterville C. L. S. C. meets on Monday Oct. 28th at Mrs. C. O. Pater's.

Our local ploughmen left for your city this morning with their plows, Messrs. Thos. Ward, Manson, Geo. Pope, and others, but we have not the results at hand but we would refer to other columns of this journal.

Mr. A. H. Gale is still beautifying his already fine grounds.

The Archbishop of Canterbury and York appointed last Sunday to be observed throughout the world as Children's Sunday and consequently a children's service was held in St. John's church by the rector Rev. E. A. W. King, M. A.

We would correct ourselves from last writing and say that a gold attributed to another in foot ball on Saturday Oct. 12, was due to and well earned by W. H. Ward.

Flooded.
It is some time since you have heard from this place.

We are having delightful weather every day and in many places they have to carry water to their houses and drive their cattle to where they can be watered.
Xavier Beaupre has killed two bears besides foxes, minks, skunks and snakes.
Mr. Walter Caruth, wife and children of Montreal are visiting friends in this place.

On Wednesday last Oct. 23rd Mr. Duncan Stalker, son of Mr. Gilbert Stalker was married to Miss Carrie Shono, only daughter of S. H. Shono Esq., of Melbourn Ridge; the marriage took place at Knox Church at 8 o'clock, in the Rev. John McChung, pastor, officiating. The church was decorated and filled to its utmost capacity, people came from New Rockland, Kingsbury, Melbourn, Florence and Elgin to witness the marriage. After partaking of the good things provided by Mr. Stalker the happy couple was driven to Richmond where they took the train for Denver, Colorado. We wish them happiness and success.

The ladies of the Elviden circle are still holding their socials and with success, the last one held was at Mr. W. J. Stevens, the ladies having secured a sufficient amount engaged Mr. Hamilton of Richmond and had the church nicely decorated outside and inside, the church was opened or re-opened on Sunday the 20th Oct. it being Communion day. The ladies deserve credit for what they have done as they have borne all the expense.

Donald S. Stalker had a barn and twenty tons of hay destroyed by fire on Friday Oct. 18th, covered by insurance. Cause of fire unknown.

Maxwell Miller while handling a loaded gun carelessly one day last week, had the contents of it lodged in his foot a little above the small toe, part of the shot penetrated clear through the foot, breaking some small bones. The doctor has been to see him several times and dressed the wound; he is suffering a good deal but is doing as well as can be expected. Some of the cheese factories have closed; cheese has advanced in price lately, selling at a little above nine cents per pound.

Georgeville.
Considerable interest has been taken in the vicinity in the case of Hugh Clark, tried at Sherbrooke last week attempting to defraud by falsely pretending to have sent money through the mails. Upon his being found guilty a petitioning Judge Archibald for clemency was circulated here and largely signed. Great sympathy is felt for his family.

The Close Season for large fishing in Lake Memphremagog took effect on the 15th inst and although the Government inspector is wholly inefficient little slaughter is said to have taken place yet amongst the fish. By all true sportsmen and sensible citizens it is earnestly hoped that the almost unchecked depredations of some former years may not be repeated.

There are several cases of typhoid fever and mumps in the village. From the former Mr. Ed. Williamson is a sufferer.

Mr. N. A. Beach Jr. of the Hotel Elephants is visiting in Worcester, Mass.

Mr. D. A. Bullock has returned from a short visit to Brattleboro, Vt.

Mr. A. W. Bullock of the Montreal Herald is in the village for a short visit.

Very dry in our vicinity, wells failing but we must not complain as we have the Mond Memphremagog near our door which is yet well filled with clear cold sparkling water. It is quite sick hereabouts typhoid fever is making a run on us. The family of Bullises have all been down with it and one son of 18 years has been taken over to the other shore the rest of the family are recovering. Ed Williamson son of J. P. Williamson is now very low with the fever. The mumps are also prevailing there are a number of cases in the village all mild with the exceptions of Gordon McGowan son of collector McGowan this young man is having a serious time with them. A. W. Bullock of Montreal, How has been spending a few days at home but has now returned to take up the pencil. A large number of our people both young and old are going to the States for employment this all adds to the quietness of the place.

There is some satisfaction in knowing that Georgeville is gaining in beauty and art of our people being too fond of rest to cut the young trees by the roadside and fields the rotten side walks and old ruins are being secured by them and in time nature will make a fine place for us.

Priestley's
"Are they not exquisite in their soft richness?" is the constant remark of ladies touching Priestley's famous black dress goods. And that is the truth, but it is not all. They have a character for refinement, for wearing and draping quality, which no other dress goods can lay claim to. The Priestley's appear to have gathered up all their excellences, and concentrated them in "Eudora," the latest black dress fabric they have given to the world. In every respect equal to the famous Henriettes, it surpasses them in extra width, and weight, and in dust-repelling quality. It is wrapped on "The Varished Board" and Priestley's name is stamped on every five yards.
