U.N. RESPECTS MINORITIES--DUPLESSIS

World News In Brief

Tokyo, June 26 —(AP)— An Australian soldier was mauled by a mob of Korean and Japanese communists last night not far from Sinkuku station where police quelled 2,500 rioting Reds earlier in the day.

A second British Commonwealth soldier listed earlier as missing after he was caught by the mob turned up safe at his camp this morning, a division spokesman said.

Pusan, South Korea, June 26 —(AP)— South Korean police today arrested two opposition members of the national assembly on charges of conspiring to assassinate president Syngman Rhee.

Yesterday a would-be assassin tried to fire two shots at point-blank range at the president but his gun jammed both times.

The two men arrested today are No Ki Yung and Kim Shi Hyun, both members of the opposition democratic nationalist party.

London, June 26.— (CP) — Political commentators today killed the rumor that Anthony Eden might quit the foreign office to take an important post in domestic affairs.

The matter was discussed yesterday at a private meeting of the Conservative party. Today all accounts of the meeting indicate the foreign secretary declined to assume any additional responsibilities for home affairs.

Tokyo, June 26.—(AP)—Japanese police counted 55 known dead, 23 injured and 68 missing today in the wake of a typhoon. The storm cut a path across the southern island of Kyushu and south-central Konshu Tuesday, wrecking houses, flooding farms and washing out roads.

Edmonton, June 26 — (CP) — Early summer of 1952 probably will be remembered by Edmonton residents as the time of the "big scare."

After lapping into backyards in low-lying homes and threatening the worst flood in 37 years, the surging North Saskatchewan river today was reverting to its normal role as a broad, sluggish stream.

Drew Questions Endicott Ruling

Fort William, Ont., June 26—(CP) —George Drew, National Progressive Conservative leader, Tuesday questioned the government's decision not to prosecute Dr. James Endicott for his germ warfare charges.

Mr. Drew, here to speak to a convention which chose Murray W. Babe as its federal candidate in the next general election, termed Justice Minister Garson's statement yesterday "a strange explanation."

Mr. Garson said his government would not press charges against Dr. Endicott partly because a conviction would feed communist propagandists.

"It is a strange explanation of the government's attitude," Mr. Drew said. Amendments to the criminal code were intended to broaden the definition of offences of this kind, he said.

"Either Dr. Endicott has brought himself within that definition or he has not. If he has, then he should be prosecuted if our laws are to be upheld."

"There is something peculiarly detestable about any Canadian working in the interests of a country which is trying to destroy our freedom," he added.

Premier Raps Liberal Party For Trying To Oust Quebec's English-Speaking Members

Huge Crowd Turns Out For Opening Rally In Support Of Hon. J. S. Bourque.

By CUTHBERT JONES

Declaring that the Opposition is playing a dangerous and despicable game in selecting French-speaking candidates to contest those ridings traditionally represented by English-speaking Protestants, Premier Maurice Duplessis last evening told a monster rally at the Belvidere Street Armory that his Government would continue to respect the rights of the minority in the future as it has done in the past.

One of the foundations of Quebec's prosperity, he said, was justice and generosity to the minority groups within its borders and he felt that a total English-speaking representation of eight or nine members in a House of 92 was the bare minimum which justice required.

"I cannot understand the position of Mr. Marler," he said, "in sponsoring the candidature of French-speaking Canadians in the three ridings — Brome, Compton and Argenteuil — now represented by English-speaking supporters of the Government."

"The only way in which the rights of the majority can be respected is through respecting the rights of the minority."

In his opening remarks, the Premier dealt with charges that his administration was the foe of labor, a misrepresentation which would bring the Opposition the lesson it deserved on July 16.

He had been a member of the Legislative Assembly for 25 years, he declared, and during that entire period he had represented a predominantly labor constituency.

The right to organize had been given Quebec workers by the Union Nationale Government in 1937 and the minimum wage board and union representation on government labor bodies were both achievements of his Government. Prior to the advent of his administration, the minimum wage act had applied only to women and children, but the Union Nationale had extended this to include men with the result that the total wages of the Quebec workers had increased by some $600,000,000 annually.

His Government had increased the scope of the benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Act, it had advanced over $30,000,000 to the workers of the province to permit the construction of 14,000 homes.

The prospects for the industrial growth of Quebec were astounding, the Premier maintained, and his Government had provided a total of 51 special schools to give the people of this province the training they required to take advantage of the newly-created opportunities. Over $8,000,000 had been expended in bursaries for children of needy families to permit them to continue their studies.

Declaring that the Liberal campaign was an "appeal to revolution" and that Georges Emile Lapalme was an "artificial chief," the Premier declared the Liberal leader was making a mistake in this campaign.

Private enterprise was the lifeblood of Quebec. It had provided

S. Africa's Non-Whites Defy Law

Johannesburg, South Africa, June 26.—(CP)—Armed police stood on the alert today as hundreds of non-whites prepared to seek jail in a defiance campaign against South Africa's race segregation laws.

First reports of the campaign from Port Elizabeth where 30 Africans were arrested for breaking the apartheid (apartness) laws on the railroads—using station platforms, waiting rooms or train coaches specially reserved for whites.

Yussif A. Cachalia, campaign secretary, said a trained, disciplined vanguard of volunteers would go into action "like soldiers" in all major cities to flout the segregation laws. They expect to be jailed.

He stressed, however, that no call had gone out for a general work stoppage. Effective precautions have been taken to conduct the movement peacefully, he added.

Behind the campaign is the African National Congress, representing the country's 8,000,000 Negroes, and the South African Indian Congress, representing 300,000 Asians.

Two separate actions were to kick off the defiance campaign in Johannesburg:

Around mid-day, after the chief magistrate had been informed, at least 50 Negroes were to breach laws ordering them to carry various sorts of permits — identity, employment and tax papers and the like. Their leader was Rev. N. B. Trantzi, who heads the African Episcopal Methodist Church here and also is acting president of the African National Congress.

Later a Transvaal state leader of the Indian Congress, Nana Sita, was to lead another group in breaking the night curfew for non-whites.

The defiance aims at repeal of segregation laws deemed unjust by South Africa's non-whites — Negroes, coloreds (mixed blood) and Indians. They hope the law defiance will snowball into a mass movement that will so fill the jails Premier Daniel F. Malan's government cannot handle it.

The non-whites outnumber whites here, four to one.

The growing threat to white supremacy is reported to have produced a new attempt to narrow the wide political gap between Malan's Nationalist government and the opposition United party.

Qualified informants said former Defence Minister Oswald Pirow, a Nationalist supporter, is negotiating secretary for a compromise between moderates in the government and the opposition. The ruling Nationalists and the United party differ little in their race policies—the quarrel is how best to achieve the same goal of continued white supremacy.

Pirow has proposed a "new order" plan which would set up separate white and non-white states in South Africa. He recently warned the divided white South Africans they must unite or be crushed by the rising, restless non-white population.

The serious dispute between the government and its varied opposition stems from Malan's attempt

Find It Hot? N.Y. Had It 139 Yesterday

Hot, sultry weather—the kind that leaves shirts clinging to the back — was the Townships' lot again today, with a slight promise from the weatherman that the evening may bring some relief.

A high of 83 was forecast by the weather bureau at Dorval. The morning summary also said there was risk of thunderstorms this evening — failing to mention thedrenching storm that splashed the city off and on all morning.

Cooler weather is in the offing, according to the noon summary, which forecast a high of 75 for tomorrow.

For persons sweltering in this sticky weather there was some consolation that things are much worse elsewhere.

In New York yesterday the temperature zoomed to an all-time high for June 25 of 96.5.

That was the official recording but a lot of New Yorkers asked: "Okay, it's hot, but how hot is it in the sun?"

The N. Y. weather bureau consulted its special sun thermometer in Central Park and replied, "It's 139 degrees."

Southern Ontario also felt the blast of a heat wave that drove temperatures up to 98 degrees at Centralia, 30 miles north of London. Other centres experienced 88 degrees and up.

At Windsor, where the high yesterday was 96 degrees, 2,500 day-shift workers were sent home after completing only a half-shift because of the heat and humidity.

Seoul, Korea, June 26—(AP) —Allied infantrymen drove armor - supported Chinese troops off a western Korean hill today in a bitter 5½-hour battle.

At least one communist armored vehicle—type unreported—was damaged by planes supporting the advancing U.N. troops, the Eighth Army said. Two other armored vehicles were seen on the hill. A briefing officer said they probably were Russian-built T-34 tanks or self-propelled guns.

Use Of Anonymous Letters To Attack Government Is Criticized In Address By Hon. J. S. Bourque

North Korea, Russia Can't Get Together

By SAM SUMMERLIN

Munsan, Korean, June 26—(AP) —Brig.-Gen. William K. Harrison today accused the communists of simultaneously agreeing and disagreeing with Russia at the deadlocked Korean armistice talks.

The senior United Nations negotiator made the statement after hearing the communist reply to his charge that Red insistence on forced return of war prisoners is inconsistent with the policy of Russia in the second world war.

U.N. refusal to return prisoners who do not want to go home has blocked a Korean armistice for months.

"It is not apparent how you can at one and the same time both agree and disagree with the acts and declarations of the U.S.S.R.," Harrison told the communists at a 35-minute no-progress session at Panmunjom. Another meeting was set for tomorrow at 11 a.m. (10 p.m. EDT Thursday).

It was in reply to Harrison's statement Saturday that Russian commanders in the second world war promised surrounded Axis troops at Stalingrad and Budapest return to the country of their choice at the end of the war.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il replied that Harrison "misinterpreted and distorted" the "ultimatum issued by the victorious Soviet army to the encircled German, Hungarian and Italian troops.

The epidemic of anonymous letters flooding the mails attacking the Union Nationale Governmena was condemned by Hon. J. S. Bourque, Minister of Lands and Forests and of Hydraulic Resources, during a political rally at the Belvedere Street armory last evening at which the principal speaker was Premier Maurice Duplessis. He asked the electors to give the surrilous document the same treatment they would give any other anonymous letter.

"You have all read of the high tribute paid to the Prime Minister by Laval University," he said, "and whose evidence do you prefer to believe—that of the writer of this letter or that of Mgr. Vandry, the rector of this great institution?"

The Opposition leader, he told the cheering audience, had talked much of scandals but despite the invitation of Mr. Lapalme that anybody who knew of or suspected scandals get in touch with him, he had named no names, nor had he produced any evidence of these scandals.

Turning to his own record, he said he had been elected five times as M.L.A. for Sherbrooke and hoped for election a sixth time next month. Ever since his first election in 1935 he had worked for the interests of the Eastern Townships and said that the Superior school, the technical school, the arts and trade school, and the Noe Ponton agricultural college were evidence of his interest in education.

Hailed by the chairman of the gathering, Col. Gaetan Cote, as the greatest Minister of Mines Quebec ever had, Hon. Charles D. French predicted that the Government would be returned by as big a majority as it now possessed.

Addressing the English-speaking electorate, Mr. French declared that the interests of the English minority were in safe hands as long as Premier Duplessis was in power, while George Marler, Liberal House leader was seeking to wipe out the English Protestant representation at Quebec.

Pointing to the good treatment given the Protestant minority, Mr. French said $40,000 had been spent for new English schools in 1944 under the Liberals while in 1952 under the Union Nationale this had reached $1,600,000. "Over 60 new Protestant schools have been built in the last six years, many more are being built this year and even more are on the drafting board. These are not small schools but large modern institutions," he said.

Discussing his own department, he said the mining industry had never been more prosperous. Developments fell into four major categories.

The first was the Barvue mine in northern Quebec, which would come into production shortly with a capacity of 2,000 tons per day.

The second was the Ungava iron mine project where $200,000,000 was being spent on development this year and which should reach the production stage in 1954.

At Havre St. Pierre, the Quebec Iron and Titanium Company was constructing a 28-mile railway to bring out titanium ore which would be smelted at Sorel, $45,000,000 having been spent on this project to date.

Across the St. Lawrence, the Gaspe Copper Company was beginning the construction of a smelter which would provide employment for a town of 5,000 to 6,000.

Other speakers included Mayor Emile Levesque who welcomed Premier Duplessis to Sherbrooke, Denis Gerin, M.L.A. for Stanstead, Antonio Pinard who introduced the Prime Minister, and Hon. Laurent Barre who thanked the speaker.

London, June 26—(Reuters) — Princess Margaret went to a theatre last night for the first time since court mourning ended for the king. She went with three friends to see a performance of Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing."

Program For Defence Gets Green Light

Ottawa, June 26—(CP)—The defence department's record $2,000,000,000 program to build up the forces and aid Canada's allies this fiscal year has the green light from Parliament.

The Commons gave Defence Minister Claxton the signal yesterday to go ahead with the vast project after hearing of new plans to aid European defence and of new hitches in building Canada's own air strength there.

Mr. Claxton said troubles in getting four airfields on the continent—12 R.C.A.F. squadrons are due there by 1954—are causing months of delay.

He said, too, that Canada's own air-training program for Canadian and Atlantic pact pilots is operating about at its peak but that Canada has offered to take further pact trainees if she can find room for them under existing facilities.

He intimated that five new minesweepers now being built will be going to allied pact countries, the first Canadian warships to go under the mutual aid program. Other new things to go free are $15,300,000 worth of old-pattern navy and air force equipment and a "considerable quantity of bombs, shells, rocket launchers, depth charges, projectiles and cartrides."

"Insofar as new equipment is concerned, we are offering N.A.T.O. the things we need ourselves in considerable quantity so that we will have the advantage of an economic run. With regard to old-type equipment, we are offering things which we think we should replace and which we can replace."

The three-sitting day of a House drawing near to the close of the session also saw:

1. Justice Minister Garson announce that the cabinet has decided against prosecuting Dr. James Endicott of Toronto for "false" statements that the U.N. is using germ warfare in Korea.

2. Introduction of the bill to

Johnny Scores Hit At Campaign Opening

Last night was Johnny's night.

The Chief was the billed attraction but the home-town crowd had come out to cheer their man and the real hero of the big political rally at the Belvidere Street armoury was Hon. Johnny Bourque.

This doesn't mean that Premier Maurice Duplessis didn't get a warm reception. He did. In fact his audience was an extremely receptive one, not the sort you usually associate with political rallies.

But it was Johnny's night, the opening of his local campaign for re-election as this county's Union Nationale member, and every mention of his name—and there were many—drew loud rounds of applause.

Col. Bourque himself received a tremendous ovation, matching that given to Mr. Duplessis.

There is little question that Col. Bourque is just plain Johnny to his constituents. Posters decorating the platform bore his picture and the one word, Johnny. Lt.-Col. Gaetan Cote, chairman for the evening, omitted the Bourque entirely from his introduction and presented Johnny to the audience.

And the crowd loved it. When Col. Bourque finished his address, one admirer began to sing "Il a gagne ses epaulettes." The audience was ready to go along with him, but the rally was running to a tight schedule because of the Premier's broadcast and Col. Bourque smilingly hushed the applause.

Col. Bourque's courtesy and thoughtfulness were very much in evidence during the evening. He helped to sort out the large number of platform guests, introduced many of them to Premier Duplessis personally.

The crowd in the armoury was so large — estimates ran up to 8,000 — that every seat was filled and three corridors were jammed with standees. Two ladies were among those standing at the front of the middle aisle and Col. Bourque, spotting them, handed down two chairs from the platform so that they could be seated.

If the Canadian Federation of Mayors had wanted to hold a convention, last night would have been a good time to do so. There were more than 30 mayors of cities, towns, villages, counties and townships on the platform. Mayor Emile Levesque of Sherbrooke welcomed the Premier to the city and received a big hand from the crowd in doing so.

Some of the other mayors present included L. M. Watson of Lennoxville, Alden Rousseau of East Angus, M. R. Rexford of Ayer's Cliff, Clifford Reed, of North Hatley, Jos. Denis of Compton, John Jenkins of Hatley Township, A. T. Little of Hatley West, Rosario Bernier of Windsor Mills, H. C. Bryant of Magog Township, Ovila Bergeron of Magog, Ernest Frechette of Asbestos, Gerald Miltimore of Waterville and Lawrence Buzzell of Orford.

Audience reaction to the whole meeting was good. The meeting started on time, which put the crowd in good spirits, and none of the speeches was too long. The rally, in fact, was over in less than two hours. There was no heckling at any time, which must be a record of sorts for political meetings in Quebec.

One man sitting in the front row came on crutches and used one of them as a prop for his injured leg throughout the meeting. Another man in the crowd sought to emulate Caruso with his singing of O Canada at the close of the rally. His fine voice could be heard from one end of the armoury to the other. There was another fine singer on the platform, incidentally. That was Miss Jean Scarth, the well-known soprano.

Before the meeting began, attractive young ladies passed among the people selling Duplessis ties. These were blue silk jobs with a picture of the Premier and the years 1927-1952 printed on them. Duplessis buttons also were being passed around.

The parade, which started from Col. Bourque's home, arrived ahead of schedule. It was headed by two motorcycle policemen flashing the red lights of their bikes. The harmony band came next followed by an open car in which the Premier rode with Col. Bourque and Hon. C. D. French. Other cars followed.

The platform in the armoury was attractively decorated with flags and bunting. The backdrop was a huge billboard bearing a picture of the Premier and, in French, the words, "Let Duplessis continue his work."

It was hot and muggy inside the Armoury and most of the men in the crowd were in shirt-sleeves. Many preferred to remain outside and listen to the speeches which were piped out by loud-speakers. There were so many cars that late arrivals had to go all the way down to the Rand to find parking space. Busses brought in large delegations from East Angus, Stoke and other district municipalities.

Reddest face of the night belonged to a young man in the gallery who accidentally knocked over a row of chairs just before Col. Bourque began to speak. This youth sadly shook his head and disappeared from sight.

The large delegation of newspaper men and photographers from Montreal, Quebec and Sherbrooke, found that organization for reporting and picture-taking had been well arranged. Telegraph messenger boys were present to take off copy for morning papers. Someone thoughtfully provided all members of the press group with soft drinks, a really welcome gift in last night's heat.

Mr. Duplessis, incidentally, sipped orange juice during his speech.

Two late arrivals at the platform were Warwick Fox, member for Brome, and Paul Provencal, mem-

JUNIOR BARRYMORE DENIES FEUD SAYING, 'AUER'S A SWEETHEART'

Hollywood—Exclusively Yours: His famous father might have tangled with directors, but John Barrymore, Jr., is denying that he's been having a tense feud with Director John Auer during filming of Republic's "Thunderbirds."

"I've never fought with Auer once," young John told me. "I yell at him and he yells at me. He even calls me the no-talent Barrymore, but it's all a gag. He's a sweetheart. Even if it wasn't a gag and he wanted to yell at me, it would be fine with me."

The censors may turn pale, but there will be no scissoring of Robert Newton's "swearing" in the title role of RKO's "Blackbeard the Pirate." All of his "cussin'"—a running gag in the film—is in Welsh. The effect is eyebrow lifting but when translated the Welsh words wouldn't even make Margaret O'Brien blush.

A violent domestic scene staged by Red and Georgia Skelton have their pals worried about their marriage. . Lana Turner and Fernando Lamas had a lulu of a spat at a party thrown by Pierre LaMure, author of "Moulin Rouge." Hurled blistering wordage at each other in front of all the guests. . . There's irony in the announcement that movie producer Philip A. Waxman is looking for a male star for "The Night Watch." He bought the story for John Garfield.

Religious Epic Nearer

C. B. DeMille is a lot nearer to turning the camera on his new version of "The Ten Commandments" than most people in Hollywood realize. Paramount''s wardrobe department has alerted fur designer Al Teitelbaum to stock up a supply of skins of lions, tigers, camels, gazelles and leopards for the religious epic.

John Carroll's all set to do vaudeville concerts throughout the country a la Judy Garland, with supporting acts and a ballet. That's the reason he's nixing an MGM contract.

It's because Charles Boyer's role in Paramount's "Thunder in the East suggests India's prime minister Nehru that Corinne Calvet's siren scenes with the star have been snipped from the picture.

Director Henry Hathaway's ultimatum that nobody in the cast of "Niagara" can leave the roaring falls location site for trips to New York will keep Marilyn Monroe and Joe DiMaggio apart.

Joe isn't likely to be visiting Marilyn at Niagara, either. It's the blonde dazzler's biggest movie break yet and her pretty nose is being kept to the acting grindstone.

It's A Steal

Jennifer Jones is stealing Mae West's switchy walk for her role of a southern sheba in "Ruby Gentry." Practiced up on it for weeks, did Jennifer. . . Frankie Laine's opening at the Cocoanut Grove proved that he's still Mr. Rhythm. The guy gets better every year.

Director Harold Kress reports a piquant exchange from the next table at the Hollywood Gotham.

"There's only one way for Hollywood to lick television—quality and size. Big all-star casts and tremendous sets. Things TV can't do."

Now he'll stack up the big-star names again for "Size 12," which will tell the private life stories of six different fashion models. Only unknown in the cast will be wild-haired Ursula Thiess, the German importation.

This'll have Bob Hope gnashing his teeth. Bud Abbott and Lou Costello have filed an application with the British Interplanetary Society of London for a passport to be the first entertainers to make a trip to the moon in a space ship. With their press agent, of course, right behind them.

Superintendent Of City's Parks, J. A. Tardif Dies Suddenly At 61

J. A. Tardif, the man who has been largely responsible for the development and beautification of the Sherbrooke public parks system, died suddenly at his residence on Vimy street early yesterday afternoon following a stroke suffered a short time earlier.

A native of Quebec City, J. Arthur Tardif was born there in 1891 and was educated at the schools there and later took his degree as Bachelor of Scientific Agriculture. Coming to Sherbrooke, he joined the city public works department as supervisor of parks and was named superintendent when that service was separated from public works in 1937.

An ardent lover of flowers, he took personal charge of the municipal greenhouses on Vimy street and there he grew virtually all the plants and shrubs which are used for the decoration of the various parks and squares throughout the city.

He designed the layouts for Strathcona Square, the Vacation Colony, Racine Park and King Boulevard, all of which have won much favorable comment from visitors to Sherbrooke.

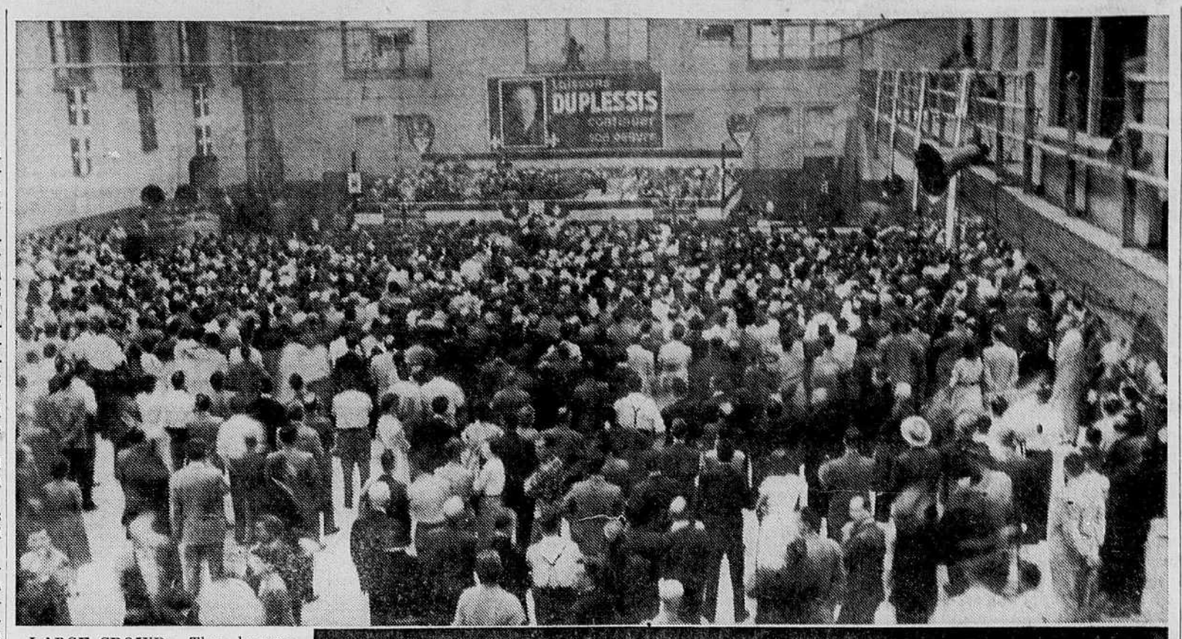
He was taken ill during May and had not fully recovered since although his sudden death cast a shadow over his fellow employees at the City Hall.

"Mr. Tardif was a valued employee of the city," said Mayor Emile Levesque. "In his death the city is deprived of the services of a man who worked winter and summer, day and night, to assure that Sherbrooke citizens enjoyed the best possible in recreational facilities. Local residents and visitors alike will long have reason to remember the devoted service which Mr. Tardif gave the city.

"Personally I have lost a good friend, a man who I have known for many years."

Mr. Tardif is survived by his wife, nee Alice Rouillard, and three daughters.

The remains are resting at Monfette's Funeral Parlors, 13 Bowen Avenue South. The funeral service will take place Saturday morning at 11:30 a.m. at Ste. Therese d'Avila Church with interment in St. Michael's Cemetery.



LARGE CROWD: The large crowd that turned out to welcome Premier Maurice Duplessis to Sherbrooke last night is shown in this picture taken in the Belvidere Street Armoury. Estimates of the crowd ranged from 5,000 to 8,000, with many of those present remaining outside the Armoury where the temperature was a little more bearable than indoors. The second picture shows the Premier on his arrival at the Armoury. Hon. J. S. Bourque is seated beside him while Hon. C. H. French is seated with the driver of the car, Sousa Brien. Mr. Duplessis and Lt.-Col. Gaetan Cote, chairman of the evening, appear in the lower picture as they walked through the crowd to the platform. (Record photos by Gerry Lemay).

Sherbrooke Unit Of Frontiersmen Seeks Public Support On Tag Days

The Sherbrooke Branch of the Corps of Imperial Frontiersmen is holding its anual tag days tomorrow and Saturday.

As the unit does not receive any government subsidy but is a self-supporting body, it looks to the generosity of the people of Sherbrooke to support the tag days so the men can purchase uniforms and equipment with which to carry out their training.

The aims of the Corps, as outlined in the Rights and Powers contained in their Charter, are as follows: (1) to promote loyalty to Canada and the Empire; (2) to be of service to their country, in times of emergency and whenever called upon; (3) to practice and develop semi-military training for recreation and education; (4) To assist in recruiting for Her Majesty's Forces when so required. (5) to assist the Military and Civil authorities in maintaining law and order when so called upon.

The Corps of Imperial Frontiersmen are irregular militia or voluntary police forces of non-political, self-supporting sportsmen who, as a body, offer their services to proper authorities in times of stress and emergency.

They have a long record of usefulness even before the war when many of the overseas units formed part of the Colonial Defence Forces.

Canada and New Zealand are among the strongest supporters of the movement and there are commands in every Australian state and in South Africa. Indeed, there are few parts of the Empire where at least a few Frontiersmen cannot be found.

In South Africa, in 1922, General Jan Smuts marked his appreciation of the fine work done by the Frontiersmen by joining as a trooper. In Canada, the Frontiersmen have rendered many valuable services, among them were: assisting in the rescue of insane patients of the Beauport Hospital in Quebec City, during the great fire of 1938, in 40 below zero weather; during the visit of the late King George sixth and Queen Elizabeth, 415 Frontiersmen were on duty in Quebec, Three Rivers, Sherbrooke, Ottawa and other cities.

They have also assisted in fighting many forest fires.

New Diving Raft At N. Hatley Municipal Park

Because of united community effort in donating labor, materials, and money, a diving raft has been made this spring and anchored off the municipal docks at North Hatley. This generous gesture by interested citizens will enable the children who participate in the Water Safety classes to continue their instruction in diving as well as swimming. The raft will be available for all those who come to swim at the municipal park, and is a much-needed addition to the Water Safety program.

Due to a grant made by the Town Council, Douglas Browning has been engaged as Life Guard at the park for July 1st till Labor Day. Young Mr. Browning is an able swimmer, and is at present attending the Instructors' Course at Lake Trois Saumons. This is an excellent course sponsored by the Youth Welfare Department of the Provincial Government, and conducted by the Red Cross Society, giving the latest and best methods of Water Safety and instruction in swimming and life-saving.

Water Safety classes at North Hatley will be held every Tuesday and Thursday morning at 10 a.m. at the municipal park, beginning after July 1st. The classes are free to all children of the community and include Red Cross instruction for beginners, juniors, intermediates, and seniors. Instructors this season will be: Mrs. Kenneth Bryce, Mrs. Jack MacKay, Miss Sherrill Imrey, and Douglas Browning.

It is of special interest to note that more than 50,000 children have been taught in the Water Safety classes of this province since their beginning five years ago. It is a matter of tragic interest that there are more than 300 drownings in Quebec province each year. But last year not one person was drowned in any place where there was a Water Safety program.

East Farnham Jersey Wins High Honors

The Jersey cow, Wendybrook Belle, owned by J. L. Dion, East Farnham, has been awarded a gold medal certificate by the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club for having completed a record of 616 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days at seven years of age, from 11,323 lbs. of milk.

This is the 4th record completed by Belle and in 1,366 days she has produced 2,062 lbs, of fat qualifying her for the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club special award, known as a Ton-of-Gold certificate, which is given to cows that produce a ton or more of butterfat within four years' time.

Belle is a daughter of the outstanding sire, Brampton Royal Basil, for many years at the head of the Wendybrook herd and who sold at their Auction Sale several years ago for $5,400.00.

"Saint" Returns With Promise To Leave Town

Released yesterday after a month in jail for vagrancy, our old friend "Saint" Donat was picked up again last night on the more usual charge, just plain drunk and disorderly.

He appeared before Assistant Recorder Richard Crepeau in Recorder's Court this morning and received a suspended sentence.

His story this time was that he was in town looking for workmen's compensation since he had fractured an arm once upon a time. But, he said, if the court treated him lightly he would leave town.

"Are you sure?" asked Mr. Crepeau.

"Yes, sir," replied the 'Saint.' "As a matter of fact, there is a fellow waiting for me now outside a local hotel (name withheld) and we are both leaving Sherbrooke."

"Are you sure you won't go inside the hotel and get arrested again," said Mr. Crepeau. Donat replied that he was determined to leave town and the Assistant Recorder suspended his sentence.

Two other drunks were picked up last night. One, a miner from Danville, was fined $5 and costs. He had come to town for a political meeting, he said. Another man received a suspended sentence when he said he would get out of town.

Quebec W. I. Holds Annual Meeting At Macdonald

Every county in the Quebec Women's Institutes was represented at the annual board meeting held at Macdonald College, June 23-24. Mrs. G. E. LeBaron, North Hatley, provincial president, who presided at the opening session Monday evening, commented on this fact, which is a record seldom attained. All members of the Q.W.I. executive were also present and all but one of the provincial conveners.

"New Era — New Effort," was the theme for the convention which followed immediately after the board meeting, and reports of standing committees presented to the Q.W.I. board, showed this challenge was being understood and accepted. Discussions on such topics as homes for the aged in the community, suitable training for mentally deficient children to make them useful citizens, the curriculum as it now stands in the rural high schools of this province, soil conservation and reforestation, all emphasized a new approach to basic problems that have engaged the attention of the W.I. for many years.

Mrs. A. E. Abercrombie, Lennoxville, was appointed recording secretary for both board meeting and convention, the latter carrying on until today.

Woman's Death Said Accident

A verdict of accidental death was returned at Windsor Mills yesterday in the mishap which claimed the life of Mrs. Jean-Paul Petit, 25, of Sherbrooke.

District Coroner Dr. Louis Gagnon presided at the inquest, held in the Boisvert Funeral Home.

The jury agreed that the car left the road in an effort to avoid another car which was passing. The accident occurred Tuesday evening as the car was proceeding from St. Francois Xavier de Brompton to Greenlay. The car left the road, went through a ditch and overturned in a field.

Injured were Jean-Claude St. Francois, 22, driver of the car; Mrs. Gaetan Maltais, 26, and Raoul St. Francois, all of Sherbrooke.

District Young People To Visit U. N. On Odd Fellows' Pilgrimage Of Youth

VALS HORSFALL

GEORGE MITCHELL

Miss Vals Horsfall and George Mitchell, both of Lennoxville, have been chosen to represent Myrtle Rebekah Lodge No. 28, of Lennoxville, and Unity Lodge No. 3, I.O. O.F., Sherbrooke, respectively, at the Odd Fellows' "United Nations Pilgrimage of Youth."

The young people were chosen by the teachers of Lennoxville High School. Miss K. MacDonald of Danville, will also attend.

Miss Beatrice Devers, youth representative of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, is in charge of the Ontario and Quebec delegations which will leave for New York from Montreal, June 28.

Last year, 3,000 delegates were present during July and August, representing every province in Canada and every state in the U. S.

Purpose of these pilgrimages is to educate the youth along the lines of peace and to give them a first-hand view of how leaders of the United Nations are working to attain peace. This will be the third annual pilgrimage sponsored by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Canada and the United States. Delegates are boys and girls, 16 and 17 years of age, in high school.

They are chosen on the basis of character, leadership, scholarship, interest in civic affairs, participation in young people's groups at church, interest in world affairs and availability for making the journey. They will make a first-hand study of the organization and functioning of the United Nations. Delegates will see councils and commissions in action. In the U.N. building, they will be instructed with charts and diagrams about the 60-nation organization and the inter-relation of its various parts and agencies. They will see graphic presentations of the work being done by some of the specialized agencies of the U.N., such as UNESCO and WHO. Delegates may sit in the council chambers with ear phones over which they may tune in on any one of the five official languages used at the sessions.

There will be interviews with members of the delegations of various countries. Some of the national secretariats will be visited in their respective headquarters. The pilgrimage delegates will mingle with U. N. personnel from all over the world at the U.N. cafeteria. Besides all this, the delegates will see something of New York City and environs.

DANGER AHEAD

While the accent in Canadian economic news has been on the major textile depression in recent months there is another threatening situation shaping up which warrants some foresight and attention. Canada's fine paper industry, source of employment to thousands of Canadians from wood-cutters in the forests to papermakers in the mills, is being faced with increasing difficulties in holding the domestic market.

American manufacturers, as in many other industries, have the natural advantage of mass production which permits low unit costs and have an additional edge in the wage ceiling on U.S. labour. The vastness of the U.S. market also means more spread throughout the land so that long range shipping of goods is not the same added cost factor that it is in this country.

Put these together and glance at the nominal Canadian tariff on such products and it is easy to see where Canadian mills have difficulty meeting U.S. prices.

This Canadian industry has formed an important part of our economy for many years now and has grown healthily up to this point. Paper is a natural product for Canada to make and self sufficiency in this field is a natural development in the country's growth.

Workers in this industry are extremely well paid and their spending contributes importantly to the welfare of other Canadians. It would be disheartening to see the Canadian fine paper industry and its employees completely priced out of business and out of jobs, particularly when so much of the competitive imported paper is made from logs cut in Canadian forests.

MODERNIZING INDIAN RURAL LIFE

The vast majority of the 300,000,000 inhabitants of India live in its host of villages, each of which is run on a sort of communal system. The natives are, and always have been, poor, and they are ready-made material for Communist propaganda.

Premier Nehru is aware of that, and he gladly accepted the offer of the United States under the Point Four program, to undertake a modernization plan on a big scale. The enterprise so far undertaken for India is the largest yet under that scheme.

The United States is sending 8,000 Indian supervisors and workers, with 100 American technicians to advise them, into fifty-five areas of India to help 12,000,000 people in 16,500 small villages improve their lot. With the villagers' help, they plan to build small industries, inland fisheries and irrigation canals, institute fertilizer programs and improve roads, even lay out shopping and transport centers.

At the same time, they hope to introduce compulsory education where possible, health and welfare and training programs—in general, to impart as much Western know-how as possible to the little communities.

The United States puts $25,000,000 into the "grass-roots" program, India $76,000,000. The work will start immediately and is scheduled to be completed in three years. Thereafter, the Indian Government is expected to continue community development along much the same lines on its own responsibility.

All sorts of projects—even to village fairs—are included. For agriculture there will be reclamation of waste land and land never before touched; irrigation canals, tube wells and surface wells, commercial fertilizer programs and planting of new seeds; technical information programs similar to the county agricultural offices in the United States and Canada.

Such schemes can have a vital influence on the future of India, for the villages are the real backbone of the country.

FIFTH BEST IN DELEGATE PLEDGES, KERR FANCIES HIMSELF WINNER

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The strategy of Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma in his race for the presidential nomination presents an interesting commentary on the Democratic Party's internal situation.

At this writing Senator Kerr stands fifth in the number of pledged delegates on the official box score. But according to the Kerr school of political reasoning, the four men ahead of him have no chance of winning the nomination.

So he fancies himself the top man with a good chance to win the nomination, even if he is only fifth best bet right now.

This is a typical case showing how the political disease affects candidates at this particular period of their affliction. If political candidates couldn't kid themselves into believing that they could win against all odds, there wouldn't be any point in running.

Th official listing of instructed delegates to the Democratic Convention now gives Senator Russell 86½, Averell Harriman 85½, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan 40, Senator Kerr 33½. Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, who says he isn't even running, has 30½, close behind Kerr in sixth place.

Of course this isn't the way the candidates will line up on the first ballot at Chicago. Senator Kefauver and Senator Russell claim they will have over 300 apiece. What Averell Harriman will have is anybody's guess, but if by some miracle he should double his present pledge strength he would have 171.

Bosses Won't Let Kefauver Win Out

According to the Kerr headquarters theory, the Democratic political bosses just won't allow Senator Kefauver to have the nomination. They are said to dislike him, even though he has shown an ability to run 160 delegates ahead of the field.

According to the same Kerr headquarters reports, Senator Russell can't get the nomination because he's too southern. Averell Harriman is figured to have no great popular appeal. Kerr definitely counts Stevenson out.

The 33½ delegates that Senator Kerr has nailed down — for the first ballot, anyway — consist of 24 from his native state of Oklahoma, three from Nebraska, two from Kansas, one and a half from Idaho, one each in Maine and Montana and a half vote from Nevada and Montana.

This broad, eight-state representation leaves Senator Kerr with only 40 states in which to win the mere 583½ delegates necessary for his securing the nomination.

Actually, Senator Kerr thinks he may have as many as 150 delegates on the first ballot. This might put him in fourth place, instead of fifth. In addition to the 33½ nailed down, his field workers report to headquarters that there is a block of 100-odd unbranded and stray delegates in the western plains and Rocky Mountain states which will be corralled safe in the Kerr log cabin, come the convention.

Delegates Few, Far Between, On Range

Unfortunately, delegates in this range country are about as sparse as the population. A whole lot of territory is covered, but even though eight big western states should go solid for Senator Kerr, they still wouldn't give him many convention votes. Not enough, anyway.

Among the possibilities on which Senator Kerr's hopes arise are these:

Idaho—eight of 12 votes for Kerr. Dan Cavanagh, Democratic national committeeman, is a Kerr backer.

Utah—20 delegates with 12 votes, all uninstructed. Grant MacFarlane, former state chairman, is for Kerr.

Wyoming—10 delegates, uninstructed operating under unit rule. Sen. Lester Hunt will head the delegation.

North Dakota—nine of 16 delegates, each with a half vote, are on the original Kerr-for-President committee.

Washington—Kerr returns to Seattle June 26 and hopes to have at least 10 out of 22 delegates.

Montana—Another units rule state, with 12 votes. Gov. John Bonner, a Kerr supporter, and Sen. Jim Murray head the delegation.

Kansas—Kerr has the only two pledged delegates in the 16 votes which will be cast under the unit rule, and he hopes for all.

Senator Kerr will meet Colorado delegates at Golden on June 27 and attend a Missouri state rally at Kansas City next day.

PRESS COMMENTS

THEY HAVE BEEN REMINDED

Hamilton Spectator

A significantly new approach to national health insurance is now being taken by Ottawa. Only a few days ago Health Minister Paul Martin said that the country was not ready for it yet, even if it retains top priority as a future objective. The reason? Its fabulous cost; estimated at $600,000,000 or $43 a year for every man, woman and child in the land.

"Canadians are under a heavy tax burden already," Mr. Martin told the House, "and we have to consider whether the extra burden could be met at this time. I certainly would not want to embark upon it unless I knew we could count on the co-operation of the provinces and the people of this country."

We said this is a new approach. It is at least a final and crushing renunciation of the cruel hoax of "free" government services, and Mr. Martin's statement was undoubtedly hurried by the slashing rebuke to government spending and taxing in those recent by-elections. The Health Minister is not the only one to feel chastened and to sense just what that verdict meant.

The experiences of Great Britain and of two of our provinces have provided a salutary lesson in state medicine. First is the unquestioned fact that government medical services always run far ahead of their estimated cost; tend to be exploited by chiselers and threaten the medical profession with ruinous bureaucratic control. As the London Economist has pointed out, "There is no limit to the amount that could be spent on the health service if demand were the only criterion." Both the Labor government and the Conservatives had to impose an arbitrary budget ceiling; both had to impose charges for drugs, medicines, dental treatment and spectacles to halt a runaway charge to the taxpayers.

By no means is the question of medical insurance for Canadians therefore temporarily closed. On the contrary it calls for deep and intelligent analysis; only the absurd simplifications offered by demagogues have been laughed out of court.

Western Europeans Are Planning Co-Operative Social Security

By JACK ALLEN

Strasbourg, France, —(Reuters) — A cradle-to-the-grave social security system for the 270,000,000 inhabitants of 15 western European countries is taking shape here at the headquarters of the Council of Europe, unofficial parliament for west Europe, after three years work in hammering out the details.

When the project is in full operation it will, in principle mean that if "Mr. Smith" of Britain is injured while working in Norway, he will be protected by workmen's compensation, or if "Frau Schmidt" of Germany has a baby while in France, the medical expenses will be taken care of.

The plan originated in the 15-country Council of Europe, when the consultative assembly, or lower house, put forward the idea as formal recommendation at its first session here in 1949.

Now it has reached the stage at which the 132 members of the assembly at their last meeting at the end of May unanimously gave their blessing to two complex draft agreements which may mark the beginning of the "welfare continent" in western Europe.

The two agreements cover old age, illness and survivors' pensions, accidents at work, and other aspects of social security.

They now go to the Council's upper house for signature by the foreign ministers of the member countries. This is expected to be completed by the time the assembly meets here again in September.

After that the agreements will have to go to the parliaments of member countries for ratification.

A third agreement, still being worked out, concerns social and medical assistance. Together, the three agreements will cover the entire field of social security and social relief, from family allowances to death benefits and old age pensions, from accidents at work to maternity benefits.

Several countries have excluded from the agreements certain of their domestic social security legislation. Members of the consultative assembly which approved the the agreements here on May 28 believe these will be withdrawn within two years after the agreements go into force. Belgium has already withdrawn hers and the British and Irish governments indicate they will follow suit.

Aims of the present agreements are:

1. To ensure equality of treatment under the social security laws of a country between nationals of that country and subjects of other European states.

2. To extend all Europeans the advantages conferred by existing international conventions on social security.

The two draft agreements alone take into account 119 social security systems at present in force in the 15 countries and 28 existing international agreements.

Sweden, for example, has a 1919 pact with Denmark and Norway covering industrial accidents. Britain has agreements with Ireland on unemployment, sickness and maternity benefits. Belgium has several social agreements with Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

EXPERTS SHOW VALUE OF THE FORCING BID

One feature of bidding that is employed by the best Eastern players, but not quite so much in other parts of the country, is the use of the fourth suit as a sort of general forcing bid. The principle is illustrated in the hand shown today.

Howard Schenken opened the South hand with one heart, playing at the "expert's table" in New York's famous Cavendish Club. His partner, Alfred Sheinwold, decided to respond with only one spade, noting mentally that the hand was very nearly worth an immediate jump takeout of two spades.

Mr. Schenken made his normal rebid of two clubs, and now Mr. Sheinwold had a bidding problem. A jump to three hearts would be a gross underbid; but a raise to four hearts would overslate the trump support for a suit that had been bid only once.

A jump to three spades seemed pointless, since South's bidding indicated spade shortness. Conceivably, such a jump might persuade South to raise the spades with a doubtful holding on the theory that North had a long and very strong suit.

The simple bid of two diamonds—the fourth suit mentioned by the partnership—was the best solution of the problem. Such a bid is absolutely forcing, and it guarantees nothing in the way of a suit or of a high card.

It simply indicates that the player has enough value somewhere in the hand to make a forcing bid—and that no other bid seems to be a better choice.

Mr. Schenken had the chance to rebid his hearts cheaply, and did so. Now Mr. Sheinwold could afford to come out from behind the bushes with a jump to four hearts. Moreover, his bidding hinted at a slam even though he had not gone past game, for if he had been interested only in game there was no need for his bid of two diamonds.

Mr. Schenken had the sort of hand that old-fashioned players would not even open the bidding with, but he now proceeded to try for a slam with a Blackwood bid of four no-trump. When North showed two aces (with the response of five hearts) South went on to slam.

West made his best opening lead—the ace of diamonds and continued the suit, South ruffing. The slam now depended only on "finding" the queen of hearts, which Mr. Schenken proceeded to do. With any other opening lead, of course, declarer would have discarded the diamond on a spade, thus assuring the slam against even a bad trump break.

You, South, hold: Spades K-8-3-2, Hearts K-Q-9-8-4, Diamond 7, Clubs A-Q-J. What do you do?

A—Bid three spades. This invites North to go on to game if he has a sound but light response, but permits him to pass below game if he has a really bad hand.

The Record Short Story

"PRIDE OUT THE WINDOW"

By HOLLIS STARNES

Miss Felicia Smith, Silverlake's newest Summer resident, and according to gossip the richest, had arrived two months ahead of the season, to settle the handsome lakefront home she had rented. Calling the local drugstore her first night in the picturesque old fishing village, she said urgently, "I've tried for an hour to reach Dr. Charles Harbord. There's no answer."

Hannah Griffin, widowed owner of Silverlake Pharmacy, who somehow kept track of everyone's whereabouts, explained, "Dr. Charles is out on a call. He just telephoned a prescription."

"May I have the number? First can you tell me, isn't he related to the New York specialists, Drs. Philip and Russell Harbord? My father was treated by both. They came from up here, as I recall."

"Dr. Charles is their brother," said the druggist. "Shall I call him for you?"

"Please. I hope he can come right away!"

Dr. Charles Harbord inquired, in his slow, measured speech, "Did she say what was ailing, her toy dog, Persian puss, or maybe a mynah bird?"

Hannah chuckled. "If it's a bob-tailed chipmunk, you know you'll try to make it well!"

"That's what I'm for," he said briefly.

As she hung up, Hannah saw the round, bright eyes of her delivery boy fixed on her. "That rich woman hasn't got any pets."

Hannah asked innocently, "How do you know, Billy?"

"When her maid was here today, patting our Tige, remember how she said they never could keep dogs or cats, Miss Smith's father was allergic to fur?"

"Dr. Charles thinks she may have a mynah bird."

The boy grinned. "And I think you're up to something, Mrs. G! I'd sure like to see that dame's face, when she finds out Dr. Charles is a vet!"

"I'd like to see Dr. Charles, when he knows Miss Smith is the patient!"

Although Hannah had not yet met the heiress, the maid who had been with the Smith family for years supplied a poignant case history. "Since Miss Flissy's father passed on last year, her nerves are a wreck. Can't seem to get hold of herself. She gave her whole life to that old man, from the day her mother died. She was only 18 then.

"Now he's gone," continued the woman, without a sign of regret. "She's got his money and her freedom. But she's all alone, no near kith or kin, no close friends, her father never let her make any. And she's 41, with her best years gone."

"At 41 most women these days are at the peak of mature, vital charm," said the druggist.

"Miss Flissy never had much vitality. Her father sapped it up. She's so sweet and pretty too."

Hannah's warm heart was touched by the rich woman's story, but she had deeper concern for this man she had known all his life, Dr. Charles Harbord.

Middle brother in the local physician's family, Charles was fragile as a child, sensitive, highly nervous because of a speech affliction. His brothers were outstanding athletes and scholars. The town's belles ran after them. But after medical school, ambitious Philip and Russell headed for New York, where they soon married socialites. Now as specialists they enjoyed a huge practice, charging fabulous fees.

Charles, whose health kept him out of sports, was no scholar either. He shared the Harbord good looks, but his halting speech made him shy with girls. He lacked boy pals too, somehow they couldn't resist the cruelty of mocking his stammer.

Yet Charles Harbord was not without friends. Like the Pied Piper, every dog, cat, horse, bird in the region was drawn to him. It seemed inevitable that he should become a veterinarian. As he told the gray-haired druggist, "You don't have to talk to animals!"

Engaged in work he loved, freed from dominant brothers, Charles' health and speech improved. The village small fry worshipped this wizard who patched up their pets, never sending a bill. Bills were only for rich summer folk, said Dr. Charles. He had small need for money, living in the old family home, willed by his parents to their three sons—but spurned by Philip and Russell.

Only Hannah divined how lonely Charles was. She encouraged his latest ambition, for a modern animal hospital, where more patients could get better treatment and care than in the converted Harbord garage. "But it's only a dream," he told her.

Glancing now at the drugstore clock Hannah told Billy, "He must be at Miss Smith's. If I can't make a match between them, perhaps we can interest her in his dream!"

Next morning when the Smith maid dropped by for supplies, she told Hannah, "That Dr. Harbord you sent isn't much like his brothers in New York. When Mr. Smith was sick, they'd rush in and out, then send a bill for $500. This man stayed hours. When Miss Flissy spoke about a bill he asked, 'What on earth for?' He's going to give her a puppy, for company."

"He's like that,' said Hannah.

"I never saw such a doctor. Miss Flissy's perkier today than I've seen her in years!"

Dr. Charles said when he came by that evening for his favorite pipe tobacco, "That Miss Smith is a charming person. Thanks for sending me out." His brown eyes were twinkling.

Hannah said, "I felt it wasn't medical attention that poor little rich woman needed—but a friend!"

He looked at her thoughtfully across the drug counter. "I try to be a friend to the animal kingdom. Maybe I should reach out to mankind."

Hannah smiled. "And womankind!"

As the glorious spring weeks passed, Felicia Smith began to blossom out, with the rest of nature. "It's like being in a wondrous new kingdom!" she declared to the druggist. "Learning about animals, I mean."

Hannah said slyly, "Especially when the teacher and guide is Charles Harbord!"

It all seemed so simple, to Hannah and Billy, a union between these two lonely souls. But Dr. Charles had his pride. One lovely May evening he confided to Hannah, "Whatever I may feel for Felicia, I can never ask her to marry me. Even when I was of marrying age, I knew I'd never make a fit husband."

"Why not, pray?" cried the druggist. "At 44 you're at the best marrying age!"

"I'll admit I fell in love with Felicia, on our very first meeting. But I'll tell you something. Secretly I've always despised my brothers for marrying rich, rising on their wives' money. I'd despise myself more, if I did the same!"

"Have you told Felicia that?"

"No, but I'm going to—right now!" He was gone before Hannah could protest or plead.

She rushed to the phone, called Felicia. "Don't think me presumptuous, I just want to help, if I can. Dr. Charles is on his way to your house. He confessed that he loves you, but he won't propose because——"

Felicia cut in, "I know. It's the money! All my life father's money has been like a curse. I wish I could throw it away!"

"You can!" cried Hannah daringly. "Tell Dr. Charles if he's going to let money ruin two lives, you'll leave here, have a wild fling, hit the hot spots—so end it on riotous living!"

"Fling? shuddered Flissy. "Hot spots, riotous living?"

"That's it. But if he throws his pride out the window, you'll put the money into an animal foundation.

"I've a feeling this idea may work! Charles might sacrifice you and himself to his infernal pride, but when it comes to depriving his furred and feathered friends——"

"It's got to work!" Flissy said.

It did. There's to be a June wedding, with Hannah as matron of honor. Didn't she make the match?

Scots Prominent In Royal Menage

London. — Since the Queen took up residence at Buckingham Palace there's an increased number of Scottish brogues to be heard in the royal apartments and corridors.

Like the Queen Mother, Queen Elizabeth has many Scots on her household staff.

Most of the Clarence House staff came to Buckingham Palace with her and for the first time the palace kitchens are presided over by a woman—Swedish-born Miss Alma McKee, widow of an Aberdeenshire man.

The Queen's personal maid, Margaret Macdonald, is an Inverness girl who, as an auburn-haired 16-year-old, became nursery-maid to baby Princess Elizabeth and has stayed with her since.

It's well known that Helen Lightbody, nannie to Prince Charles and Princess Anne, is a Dunfermline lass, and her assistant, Mabel Scott, also comes from Scotland.

Miss McGregor is the canny Scot in charge of domestic arrangements in the royal apartments and the chauffeur who takes the Royal children on afternoon drives may well be James Macdonald of Montrose. He's just one of the Scots engaged in the royal mews.

Premier Raps

great benefits for the people, it had maintained justice for the worker, it had provided stability in politics, but the Liberal leader had declared that if his party were elected to power he would make Quebec the "Iran or America."

"A man who talks like that," the Premier continued, "does not deserve the confidence of the public nor the workers."

In characterizing Mr. Laplame as the artificial leader, the Premier said that he had received no real, opposition at the convention at which the Liberal party chief had been selected—that the other two candidates were weak men whose names were advanced to give an air of plausibility to the proceedings.

Paying his tribute to Hon. J. S. Bourque. Members for Sherbrooke, Mr. Duplessis declared that he was a man who had placed the interests of the Province ahead of the interests of party. A former Liberal and president of the Eastern Townships Liberal Association at the time, in 1935 he had given his support to the Union Nationale and by his devotion to duty had won the support of the Sherbrooke electors, being re-elected at every general election since that time.

During the eleven years the Union Nationale had been in power, Mr. Bourque had been in charge of the more important departments of the Government. During his period as head of the Lands and Forests Department, the forest reserves had been increased due to the protective measures instituted. The wages of the woods workers had been increased from a starvation level to a decent livelihood.

The waterpower reserves of the province had been developed and much additional wealth brought into the province thereby.

"Johnny Bourque is a patriot and an honor to Sherbrooke. Anyone who attacks him it attacking a giant," the Prime Minister declared to the obvious delight of the gathering.

Turning to general administrative matters, the Premier asserted the Union Nationale was coming before the people with a record of accomplishment, marked by activity and progress in all sections.

Through its rural credits policy it had assured the farmers of the means to surmont the crisis and had provided financial stability to the municipalities and school corporations. Despite Liberal charges that rural credits would make Quebec farmers a race of debt dodgers, the Government had loaned a total of $46,000,000 with a loss of only $490 in bad debts.

The Liberal chief had declared that the Government had built hospitals and schools with brick, mortar and stone but was not interested in the sick and the students. This was an insult to the doctors of the Province, the nurses, the religious orders who cared for most of the hospitals and for the teaching brotherhoods.

Dealing with the record of the Liberal leader, the Premier declared that Mr. Laplame had never taken any action to protect the rights and interests of Quebec while at Ottawa and had voted against increasing old age pensions.

The great question was the preservation of Quebec traditions for Quebec. This province was ready to co-operate with the federal government in any worthwhile project but insisted its traditional views must be respected.

Quebec was at the verge of the greatest prosperity it had ever known and the Government wanted to do much for its people, but it had to have money to finance this work and therefore was demanding its just share of the taxation revenues.

In the field of social legislation, the Province contributed $26,000,000 towards hospitalization of the needy ill, was bearing the entire cost of treatment for tuberculosis and was paying generous widows and orphans pensions.

His Government was claiming the rights of Quebec not for itself but for the people.

"SHARE THE WEALTH" SCHEME KILLED OFF JAMESTOWN SETTLERS

Those who may be lured by the bright promises of "share-the-wealth" schemes should turn to a page of early American history and read it carefully.

The first permanent English settlement on this continent was founded at Jamestown, Virginia, in 1607.

For the first few years the colonists pooled their crops and other food in a common storehouse so that each would have what he needed. It was a kind of "share-the-wealth" system.

The system sounded fine, but it failed. Men felt no need to work hard just to pour the fruits of their labor into the common pool.

They bowled in the streets instead of planting crops . . . and they starved to death. In one terrible winter alone the colony shrank from 500 persons to 60.

Then their governor changed the system, giving land to each and allowing each to keep most of what he harvested.

Immediately a man would do as much work in one day as previously he had done in a week. The colony was saved.

Jamestown settlers starved and died learning two simple truths:

No government can give back to the people as much as the people put in.

Labor for individual profit produces results; state control does not.

Drill Results Holes 10 & 11 Victoria Copper Zinc Mines

RESIDENT ENGINEER E. M. Loring, M.E., B.Sc., reports as follows on the drilling program currently under way on the property of Victoria Copper Zinc Mines (N.P.L.) in Surimau Township:

DIAMOND DRILL HOLE No. 10 was stopped at 375 feet, the last few feet being in massive formation. For a core length of over 200 feet there was a schisted and altered zone, fairly well mineralized in places and in general graphitic. Assays alone can tell about mineral values, and samples have been taken.

DIAMOND DRILL HOLE NO. 11, spotted half way between Hole No. 9 and Hole No. 2, and about 650 feet west of Hole No. 2, was drilled south at about 40 degrees dip to intersect the main vein zone. It cut the vein from about 130 feet to about 250 feet. Appearance of vein is interesting as it carried numerous showings of chalcopyrite in streaks.

DIAMOND DRILL HOLE No. 12 will be about 200 feet north of Hole No. 11 and pointed north to cut the northern zone. E. M. Loring, M.E., B.Sc.

We recommend Victoria Copper Zinc as a speculation at current market prices.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, June 26th — Cool—cool—cool . . . and how lovely you look in your summer sheers. How wise you are, too, to give them the fashion-wise "finishing touch" of LIGHTNING SLIDE FASTENERS. Lightning Fasteners nestle almost invisibly in the soft folds of your chiffons and organdies. What's more, they stay put. It's that famous automatic lock that does the trick! Lightning gives you a wide and wonderful range of colours, too. And the two perfect Lightning sizes for lightweight materials . . . Style No. 702 or seam-thin 222. So for that summer dress that you'll love and live in—choose now from the lovely, lightweight sheers—and ask for a Lightning Slide Fastener in one of these two styles.

Whether Your Favourite Salad is a crisp succulence of tossed greens, a hearty blend of nippy cheese and leftover meats or a salad like the one in the recipe below . . . you'll like it even better if flavoured with HEINZ VINEGARS—White, Cider or Malt. (Ask for them in the new bottles designed for cupboard convenience!)

TOMATO AND COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD

Shred large head lettuce. Combine with bunch of watercress in salad bowl. Toss together with French Dressing made by combining ¼ tsp. salt, 1 tsp. sugar, ⅛ tsp. paprika, ¼ cup Heinz White Vinegar, ½ cup salad oil. Cover with 6 slices tomato topped with cottage cheese. Sprinkle with paprika. Serves 6.

Isn't It A Grand Feeling after working in the garden to find a cool, shady spot and relax with frosty glasses of iced tea . . . and Sunkist lemon wedges, too, of course. For the tangy, wide-awake flavour of SUNKIST CALIFORNIA LEMONS is at least half the joy of iced tea. I always keep a good supply of Sunkist lemons on hand. And cut them in thick, juicy wedges to put on the side of every glass of iced tea. They're flavour-perfect . . . plump, sun-ripened — the finest, juiciest lemons grown. Makes my mouth water just to think of their lusciousness! Ask your grocer for lemons tomorrow — and be sure they're Sunkist Lemons for just the right, real flavour you want for iced tea.

What Makes A Happy Marriage? Your good cooking will go a long, long way to spread real contentment in your home. That's why it's so important to have a good stove. I mean a new '52 GURNEY Gas Range, of course. For a Gurney makes cooking and baking a pleasure . . . practically guarantees no cooking failures. One of the Gurney features I think you'll like best is the glass oven-door panel —so you can see from the outside how things are coming along. And then there's interior oven light, the automatic clock control and the roomy smokeless broiler. But you should see all the new '52 Gurney features for yourself. Why not see your Gurney dealer tomorrow and let him show them to you?

It's No Fun to suffer the agonies of painful corns. That's why Phenylium is such good news. Phenylium is the new wonder-working ingredient in BLUE-JAY Corn and Callus Plasters . . . and, believe me, it does work wonders to give relief from corns and calluses! It took ten years of scientific research by Blue-Jay to develop Phenylium. And now they've perfected it to the point where it works 33% faster and is effective in 95% of the cases tested. I can vouch for its effectiveness, too. No more worries about corns or calluses . . . I just rely on Blue-Jay Corn Plasters with Phenylium to keep my feet happy—always.

Enjoy Each Shining Hour of your vacation . . . don't let your days be spoiled because you're not feeling just right and the only cloud on the horizon is y-o-u. A glass of sparkling, pleasant-tasting SAL HEPATICA before breakfast will make the whole world look sunny. And if hubby's feeling low, too—give him a glass of refreshing Sal Hepatica. Sal Hepatica effervescent salts are pleasant to take—gentle as can be. You can count on them to keep you feeling "Just fine, thanks," and in a holiday mood. Next time you're shopping, ask for a jar of Sal Hepatica — the faithful family laxative for over 60 years.

"I've Been Doing It For Years," Mrs. Jones said, "but it never ceases to amaze me the way jams and jellies set so perfectly when I use CERTO Fruit Pectin." And it's so simple, Mrs. Jones! All you do is follow the instructions in the booklet under the label of every Certo bottle. The Certo way saves you up to 2/3 the time of the former long boil method . . . and you'll find you get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit. And all of your jams and jellies will be brim*ful* of the true, tangy flavour and the rich colour of the delicious fresh fruit. "Yes indeed," said Mrs. Jones, "I wouldn't dream of taking a chance on wasting time and money. Certo makes jam and jelly results certain."

Daisy-fresh From Dawn To Dark . . . that's you after one minute with wonderful WOODBURY DREAM STUFF—the new "one-minute" make-up. Ever look limp at lunchtime?—wilted at four? One minute with Dream Stuff does a complete make-up job and you're fresh as a daisy again! You see, Woodbury Dream Stuff is foundation-tint-and-powder in one dainty cake. Just smoo-oth it on with a glide of the puff. It's light and velvety—never cakes—is never drying nor greasy on your skin . . . and never, never spills. Complete with puff in a pretty purse-size pack . . . ask for Dream Stuff (your choice of five dreamy shades)—just 75c—or in the new luxury plastic compact—$1.00.

MARRIAGES

QUINN—McCABE

Richmond, Que., June 26. — On Saturday morning, June 14, 1952, at half past nine o'clock, in the Church of the Holy Family, Richmond, the marriage took place of Ann Maureen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Albert McCabe, of Richmond, to Mr. Reynold Norman Quinn, son of the late Mr. Edward P. Quinn and of Mrs. Quinn, of Richmond. Due to the illness of Rev. Antonio Dupuis, Parish Priest, the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. R. Moisan, Pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Sherbrooke. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Gilles Fortin and Mrs. Leslie Rattray sang "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus", and two English hymns, "On This Day," and "Consecration to Mary." Summer flowers were used to decorate the church, the pews reserved for the guests being marked with clusters of white sweet peas tied with white ribbon bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace and net over bridal satin, fashioned with a lace bodice having a net yoke and long sleeves ending in points over her hands, and the skirt of tulle illusion and lace. Her fingertip-length veil of illusion was caught to her head with white flowers and she carried a nosegay of tiny white and pink Sweetheart roses.

Miss Mary Campbell, as her maid of honor, wore a gown of periwinkle blue nylon net over matching taffeta, a headdress of the same material and she carried a nosegay of pink and white Sweetheart roses.

Mr. Clarence Quinn acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Wally McCabe, brother of the bride, and Mr. Vincent McGovern, of Montreal.

Mrs. McCabe, mother of the bride, was in a gown of delft blue crepe with which she wore a hat of dusty pink Milan straw, matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of deep pink roses.

Mrs. Quinn, the groom's mother, was attired in sea foam crepe with a black Milan straw hat trimmed with sea foam colored feathers, matching accessories and her corsage was of yellow tea roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, College Street, where a profusion of summer flowers decorated the rooms. The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with the three-tier wedding cake, the base of which was wreathed in pink roses, white sweet peas and fern, and flanked by white sweet peas arranged in silver vases.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Quinn left for a wedding trip to Cape Cod, Mass., the bride travelling in a dress of blue and white checked faille, under a fitted coat of navy faille and wearing a small white straw hat and a corsage of red roses.

Cheese Fondue Makes Delightful Lunch Or Supper Dish For Small Or Large Group

So many recipes are difficult to divide into two servings that it is almost necessary for the small family to have a special cookbook geared to her needs. Just the thing is the "Meals for Two Cookbook," which has just been released by the Record in its series of twenty-four cookbooks which are being made available to readers.

Even in large families there are times — especially at luncheons — when it is necessary to scale down the amount cooked to just two. Here is a delightful luncheon dish from Meals for Two which can be doubled or tripled if necessary, but these are just the right proportions for a cozy twosome:

CHEESE FONDUE

1/3 cup milk
1/3 cup soft bread crumbs
¼ cup grated cheese
1 tablespoon butter
¼ tablespoon salt
Dash pepper
1 egg, separated

Scald milk in double boiler; add crumbs, cheese, butter and seasonings. Stir in unbeaten egg yolk. Beat egg white until stiff and fold into mixture. Pour into individual greased baking dishes, place in pan of hot water and bake in slow oven (325° F.) 30 to 45 minutes or until firm.

Richmond Legion Branch Will Mark 25th Anniversary

Special Afternoon, Evening Program Has Been Planned For This Saturday

Richmond, June 26 — Special celebrations marking the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Richmond branch, No. 15, of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., will be held here on Saturday.

An afternoon and evening program has been planned, to be climaxed Saturday night by a performance of the Canadian Legion Command Revue in the Myra Theatre, followed by a dance in the Legion Memorial Hall.

A parade which will include a delegation of Legion members from all the branches in the surrounding district, will form up at 2.30 p.m. at the Memorial Hall, leaving at 3 o'clock. The Sherbrooke Regiment band will head the parade.

The parade route from the Hall is down College street, turn left at Adam, on to Main street, continuing to Janesville, on to McGowan, left to Spooner Pond Road and back on to Main, proceeding to the Cenotaph and then back to the Legion Hall.

There will be special speakers and an entertainment program at the Hall, starting at 4.15 p.m. At five o'clock, refreshments will be served by the W. A.

Command Revue will begin at eight o'clock in the evening and the dance will start at 10.30.

The Richmond Legion branch is one of the oldest in Quebec Command.

It was founded on June 10, 1927, and since then has always been an extremely active branch that has made steady progress since receiving its charter. It sponsors all Scout and Guide groups in the community, sponsors dances for teen-agers and the local blood clinic.

The Legion Hall, in addition to serving the needs of Legion members, also is used for wedding receptions, concerts, plays and for business meetings of other community organizations.

Branch 15, by coincidence, had 15 charter members.

The first president was Col. J. W. Harkom while the other members were W. B. McIver, Fred Calway, Fred W. Skeates, Harry Livsey, Wesley Ford, James Cameron, McLean Miller, Cortland Delaney, William Dew, William D. Frank, Albert H. Woods, Lorne P. Anderson, Ed Dyson and Irenee Roun.

President of the present branch is S. A. Taylor, while members of the committee for Saturday's celebrations are:

Chairman, E. C. Nixon, a past president of the branch; tickets, H. Mallalieu; publicity, G. Husk; reception, T. Nixon; parade, B. Sage; correspondence and invitations, A. Bieber; master of ceremonies, L. Delaney.

Scenes From Command Revue

Legion Command Revue Comes To Richmond With Fine Reputation

The Canadian Legion Command Revue, which will be a feature of the 25th anniversary celebrations of the Richmond branch of the Legion on Saturday, is one of the best shows ever to come to this district.

The performance by the fine artists who take part in the Revue will start at eight o'clock in the Myra Theatre. Pictures of the cast are on display in the lobby of the theatre, and at Dyson and Armstrong's show room.

The Command Revue with a cast of forty well trained and talented artists has played to capacity crowds throughout the Province, at Air Force stations, Army camps, Veteran Hospitals, numerous Legion Branches, as well as to the general public.

They have recently returned from their second flight to Goosebay, Labrador, where they presented their Revue for both the Canadian and American Air Force personnel stationed there.

So well was the show received by the Armed Services, that it has been booked by many civilian organizations for presentations in support of welfare and community efforts. Indeed, it has been proclaimed far and wide as a colorful and lively show.

The Command Revue is coming to Richmond with its complete cast, under the auspices of Branch 15. Proceeds will be used for Legion welfare and other useful activities.

The program to be offered will include skits, songs, hilarious comedy and an occasional serious note, to give the performance balance and a touch of dignity. Both French and English numbers will be presented. Featured in the performance will be dances of the beautiful Legionettes, under the direction of Phyllis Collins, also a directress of the Revue. Along with them will be a galaxy of talented singers, comedians and versatile performers, who will contribute to an evening of entertainment that will long be remembered.

Presentation To Mr. & Mrs. Farrar At Asbestos

Asbestos, June 26—An ice cream and cake social was held in St. Augustine's Church hall on Wednesday evening, June 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrar and John Farrar had been asked, casually, to and come over to the social.

When they arrived at the Church Hall, they found the place full of friends, including a number from Danville.

After the ice cream and cake had been enjoyed. Rev. Mr. Smith made a very fine speech, telling everyone how much they would miss the Farrar's. He spoke feelingly of the great help, Mr. Farrar had given in the construction of their church, and as a church warden ever since, and of the splendid work, which Mrs. Farrar had done in the church, and in the Guild, also of the splendid assistance, John had given as altar boy for years.

Rev. Mr. Smith expressed the regret everyone felt in having the Farrars more away, but wished them the best of everything in their new home.

Mr. Currie also spoke of the wonderful help Mr. and Mrs. Farrar had been to the church, then on behalf of the members of St. Augustine Church, they were presented with a beautiful pale blue blanket. Mr. Farrar was given a fine tobacco pouch, well stuffed as Mr. Farrar thought with tobacco, but on opening it found it full of bills.

John was given a handsome travelling alarm clock.

Mr. Farrar thanked everyone for their kindness and said that he would buy a fish line and reel with the money. Something he had always wanted.

Mrs. Farrar expressed her thanks for the lovely blanket, and John was especially pleased with his gift, something he can use for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrar are leaving on June 28, for Toronto, Ont., where Mr. Farrar has secured a good position.

Everyone joins in wishing them the best of luck and happiness in their new home.

Korean Stoicism Touches Surgeon And Canuck Tars

By WILLIAM JORDEN

Pusan, Korea. — Korea's disturbing political crisis—a struggle between the executive and legislative branches—may determine whether constitutional government will survive in this Asiatic nation, sponsored by the United Nations.

Allied forces have fought two years to prevent the communists from snuffing out South Korea's freedom. Because of that stake, allied officials intervened in the crisis and urged President Syngman Rhee and the national assembly to abide by democratic processes.

The constitution of this four-year-old republic provides for election of the president by the assembly. Rhee was roundly beaten, 143 to 19, last month on amendments which would have provided popular election of the president and establishment of a two-house congress instead of the present unicameral assembly.

Rhee countered with a declaration of martial law for most of South Korea, including the provisional capital of Pusan. Eleven assemblymen were jailed on vague, informal charges. A 12th was arrested on charges of slaying a South Korean army officer.

The assembly demanded that Rhee lift martial law and permit the body to proceed with plans for electing a president before June 23, as provided in the constitution. Rhee ignored the demands.

The 77-year-old Rhee, one of the few Korean leaders known in every village and hamlet of the mountainous republic, had said he is not seeking re-election. But it appears almost certain he would be the popular choice of the people if they could vote.

Observers neutral to the Korean political scene said Rhee's actions were aimed clearly at getting by intimidation what he could not gain by legislative action.

The assembly was elected May 29, 1950. Rhee's supporters won only 22 of 210 seats.

The Korean red invasion of the republic June 25, 1950, shoved their differences into the background and they were all but forgotten.

When it became clear allied forces were not going to be thrown off the peninsula the political disputes arose again.

In April Suh Min Ho, assemblyman and Rhee critic, was attending a party at an inn. An uninvited army captain appeared and was killed in a gun duel with Suh.

While the case was being investigated, the assembly voted Suh's release on grounds he acted in self-defence.

The constitution provides that no assemblyman can be arrested unless he is caught while committing a crime.

The South Korean army was irritated by the incident. Public opinion was aroused.

May 25 president Rhee imposed martial law and the first act of the authorities was to re-arrest Suh. He now is being tried in a military court.

Rhee followed up the Suh arrest with the seizure of 11 other members of the assembly. They are charged with accepting bribes and conspiring against the government. Charges of a "communist plot" have been levelled against some of them.

Outside of the circle of devoted Rhee followers, the charges against the assembly an are almost universally discounted as pure invention with an obvious purpose.

Critics point out:

1. Almost any assemblyman whose legal income is $6 or $7 a month could be found to have accepted money from dubious sources.

2. This "plot," supposedly of long-standing, was exposed only weeks before the presidential election.

3. Martial law was used, indicating an apparent reluctance to submit the case to normal legal channels.

4. Only strong opponents of President Rhee were involved.

5. These developments, if true, might well threaten the security of the government and of the entire U.N. effort in Korea, yet President Rhee never informed U.N. military authorities who were vitally concerned.

Privately, even staunch supporters admit that Rhee has thrown the Korean constitution into discard, whether for personal power motives or not. He has by-passed the law and set himself up as the sole interpreter of what is best for Korea.

His opponents, however, much they may be motivated by similar political considerations, stand for strict adherence to the republic's constitution.

The outcome of their fight will determine whether constitutional government has any meaning in Korea.

JOEY MAXIM RETAINS WORLD LIGHT-HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

Heat Forces Sugar Ray To Quit In 14th When He Was Ahead On Points; Ring Career May End

New York, June 26.—(AP)—The glorious ring career of Sugar Ray Robinson may have come to an end last night in the blast furnace heat of Yankee Stadium — just two rounds away from victory over light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim and a third jewel for his gleaming crown.

The steaming 103-degree heat that seared the canvas sapped the strength of the middleweight champion and burned out his resistance after 13 rounds of a valiant, winning effort.

Then the magnificent Negro fighter, undoubtedly the greatest of his generation, collapsed and the torch of victory was tossed to the fumbling hands of Maxim in an astonishing, dramatic climax of what had been a one-sided fray.

"Ray was going to call it quits if he won decisively," said Junie Clark, a longtime friend of Ray. "Now this could be it too, I guess."

Robinson had been bidding to become the third fighter ever to win three championships and join Bob Fitzsimmons and Henry Armstrong in the ultra-elite of the ring.

The bout will go down in the books as a 14th round technical knockout for Pal Joey—the bell had sounded to start the 14th—but everyone in the wilted crowd of 47,983 (gross gate $421,696) will credit the T.K.O. to the steambox that was Yankee Stadium last night.

Ray wouldn't and couldn't talk to reporters after he was helped to his dressing room. He had just suffered the first knockout—technical though it was—of his 11½ years of pro boxing. It was only his third defeat in 137 bouts, but two of them have come in less than a year. He lost to Randy Turpin last July 10.

"Robinson is mentally as well as physically exhausted," said Dr. Ira McCown, State Athletic Commission physician. "He's speaking unintelligibly. H eappears to be out in left field."

A few minutes later, Matchmaker Al Weill came out to say: "Robinson is all right. He told me 'Maxim didn't beat me, the heat did it. I guess God wanted it that way:'"

The middleweight champion, who started out weighing 157½, to Maxim's 173, left the ball park with his bathrobe wrapped around him.

Maxim, of course, didn't agree with Robinson. He said his short punches to the body weakened his lighter rival as much as the heat and paved the way for the triumph.

"The heat hurt me as much as him," said Maxim. "If it had been a cool night, I would have been stronger and might have got him quicker."

Robinson did most of the leading in the fight. Through the first 11 rounds, Ray stabbed handsome Joe like a matador working on a lumbering bull. He shot jabs to the head and body, rattled him with flashing combinations to the head and body, and staggered him in the seventh and ninth rounds with smashing left hooks.

The best Maxim could do on his darting rival was to dig those shorties to the body in the clinches. He landed occasional left hooks to the head and a rare right without much steam.

In the 12th, two rounds after Referee Ruby Goldstein became ill from the oppressive heat and was replaced by Ray Miller, Robinson appeared to wobble as he retreated from Maxim.

Suddenly the heat, the 15½ pounds weight handicap and everything else caught up with the sleek Robinson near the end of the 13th.

He let fly with a haymaker right that missed by a mile and fell flat on his face from exhaustion. As the round-ending gong sounded, he collapsed against the ropes in a neutral corner. His handlers quickly dragged him to his stool.

Dr. Alexander Schiff, ringside physician, hopped into the ring and asked Robinson:

"Can you go on?"

Schiff said Robinson replied: "I can't get up on my feet. I'm all in."

Maxim said later in his dressing room he knew he was behind on points "but it didn't bother me. I knew I would get him sooner or later. About the 13th round, I began to wonder if the rounds were going to run out on me."

Joey had reason to wonder. Judge Harold Barnes said he had Robinson in front 10-3. Judge Arthur Aidala said his card had Ray leading 9-3-1, the same as the Associated Press card.

It was the biggest payday ever for the 30-year-old Maxim. He and Robinson each collected about $125,000 from the gross receipts and about $90,000 from theatre television rights.

Domil, Suffield And Textile Chalked Up Wins In Industrial Softball Loop In Closely Fought Tilts Last Night

A vast improvement of play by all teams was noticeable last night in the Sherbrooke Industrial Softball League. At the Parade Grounds, Domil defeated a greatly improved Rand team 10-2 while in the opener at Dufresne Park, Suffield edged Railroaders 11-10 and in the nightcap Textile took Shermac 16-6.

In the game at the Parade Grounds Rand, though defeated, played a better brand of ball than they have been playing. A few breaks and the score would have been closer, strong defensive play by the Domil infield was their margin of victory.

Domil scored in every inning but the sixth, and Gregoire allowed only two runs, Rand getting these in their half of the fourth inning. Domil got 11 hits off Dorey's deliveries while Rand connected for six hits off Gregoire.

In the opener at Dufresne Park Railroaders and Suffield fought to the last inning. Leading 10-5 at the end of their half of the sixth inning, Railroaders seemed well on their way to their third victory of the season, but Suffield, in their half of the sixth, pushed home six runs on six hits and two miscues by the Railmen to take the game 11-10. A great improvement was noticeable in the play of the Railmen, and should from here on in make their presence felt in the league.

A feature of the Textile-Shermac game was the hitting of Stan Marcoux. He connected for three home runs in four times at bat and was strong on defense as well. Phil Dion also connected for a homer in this game.

Textile with a big 1st and 4th inning when they scored 13 runs were never in any danger of being caught by Bill Cochrane's men. Lack of hitting was Shermac's downfall, Pelletier along with Marcoux and Dion being the only men to get hits off Rene Pepin's deliveries.

For the good Textile team Boulanger stood out, getting two round trippers in the game. Rene Pepin showed up well on the mound for Textile and never lost his control.

Hilarious Walks Off With Tremont Stakes

New York, June 26—(AP)—Wheatley Stable's Hilarious, a speedy son of Bimelech-Laughter, captured the 60th running of the $10,000 Tremont Stakes at Aqueduct Race track yesterday.

With Eric Guerin in the irons, the colt scooted home four lengths ahead of Edward Poter Jr's Belfaster, who was two lengths to the van of S. P. Steckler's Fort Salonga. The time was a good 1:05 2/5 for the 5½ furlongs.

Hilarious paid $3.40.

56 Golfers Entered In Duke Of Kent Tourney

Quebec, June 26—(?)—Fifty-six golfers have entered in the 17th annual Duke of Kent Tournament to be played Saturday at the Royal Quebec Golf Club in nearby Boischatel, it was announced yesterday.

Defending Champion Jack Guthrie of Royal Montreal will lead 27 entrants from Montreal in the 36-hole medal play tournament. Par for the 6,555-yard course is 35-37—72.

The tournament is one of several where performances will be used in the selection of Quebec's Willingdon Cup Team.

THERMOMETER FLOORS SUGAR RAY

New York, June 26—(AP)—A veteran newspaper man who has been covering fights for 40 years remarked last night after Ray Robinson collapsed from the heat in the 13th round and lost to Joey Maxim, "it was the first time a fighter ever was beaten by a thermometer."

"Maxim-mum won with a minimum of effort."

DRESSING ROOM CHATTER

MAXIM'S DRESSING ROOM

New York, June 26—(AP)—The unmarked Joey Maxim and his jubilant manager, Jack (Doc) Kearns, held a happy open house in their dressing room after last night's sweat bath.

The first thing the winner insisted upon after a corps of husky cops had escorted him from the ring, was that the heat hurt him just as much as it did Ray Robinson.

"If it had been a cool night I would have been stronger and might have got him quicker," declared the swarthy Cleveland fighter. "It was tough stalking him around in that heat, believe me.

"Sure, I knew I was behind on points, but it didn't bother me. I knew I would get him sooner or later. About the 13th round, I began to wonder if the rounds were going to run out on me."

Kearns asserted he had never been worried.

"I knew we could knock him out any time after the 10th," the Doc said. "I didn't start him moving until after the 12th."

Maxim said he could recall being hurt only once. That was when a solid Robinson right caught him on the chin along about the seventh round.

"Ray's a great fighter—great. He's fast and he's cute with those cominations of his. Yeah, I was surprised when he started out so fast, but I was glad that he did. I knew that he couldn't keep that up for 15 rounds, not when I was digging them into his middle."

ROBINSON'S DRESSING ROOM

New York, June 26—(AP)—The milling, sweating crowd churning about the door of Ray Robinson's dressing room waiting to interview the frustrated challenger for Joey Maxim's light heavyweight title was getting impatient.

The minutes dragged into a half hour, and all the Press had seen was a brief hysterical outburst by Edna Mae, Sugar. Ray's wife, during which she cried: "Let me in; let me see him."

The mayor, International Boxing Club officials, Joe Louis and others, apparently with the password, went in and out.

Finally a dapper man came through the door, identified himself as Dr. Ira McCown, State Athletic Commission physician, and said:

"Ray has typical heat exhaustion, he can't talk to anybody."

Finally Sugar Ray came out but not the cocky, confident and flip Sugar Ray the fans were accused to see.

Wearing his ring clothes under his bathrobe, his head swathed in a big white towel and lolling as if on a boneless neck, the middleweight champion was half-carried along the corridor.

It was learned the exhausted and frustrated Ray was being taken home.

Senators Proving Bucky Harris' Prediction To Come Out Correct; Old Satch Wins; Sox Edge Tigers

Manager Bucky Harris of Washington Senators, by astute manipulations in the trade marts, is more than keeping his word that this team won't finish last this season. The Senators are a country mile from the cellar in the American League and are threatening to plunge into the heart of the pennant race.

The Senators, victors in only 62 games last year when they finished seventh, scored their 32nd triumph yesterday, outlasting the cooled-off Chicago White Sox 9-6 in 10 innings.

Washington's contingent of former New York Yankees figured prominently in the triumph which enabled the Senators to sweep a three-game series from the White Sox.

Jackie Jensen boomed a two-run homer to run his hitting streak to 11 games while Tom Ferrick picked up the win in relief with the help of Don Johnson. The Senators scored four runs in the 10th with the help of three walks off Marv Grissom and an error by Chico Carrasquel.

The Senators took over fourth place from the White Sox points and moved them to within four games of the league-leading Yankees who dropped a 10-9 decision to the Browns in St. Louis.

Rookie outfielder Bob Neiman broke up the game with a two-out homer in the eighth inning off Bobby Hogue.

Gene Bearden, who took over in the fourth, was the winner but he needed assistance from the amazing Satchel Paige. Old Satch was called from his special canopied cushioned chair in the bull pen in the ninth after pinch-hitter Johnny Sain had worked the count to 3-0. Paige struck out Sain and retired the side.

The loss cut the Yanks' lead to 2½ games over Boston Red Sox who moved into the runner-up slot by trouncing Detroit Tigers 10-3 while Cleveland's erstwhile second-place Indians bowed to Philadelphia Athletics 11-9.

Home runs by former Tigers George Kell and Hoot Evers and a six-run uprising in the eighth inning wrecked the Tigers. Rookie Dick Brodowski went the distance for Boston while Fred Hutchinson was the loser.

The Athletics, losing 9-5, also came up with a six-run eighth inning to beat the Indians. Pinch-hitter Keith Thomas' two-run single and Eddie Joost's three-run double were the big blows of the rally.

Brooklyn maintained its four-game National League advantage over New York, beating the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1 while the Giants edged Cincinnati Reds 3-2.

Carl Erskine, making his first start since his no-hitter against Chicago, went all the way for Brooklyn and allowed eight hits to boost his won-lost record to 7-1. Gerry Staley permitted the Dodgers only four safeties but one was a three-run homer in the fourth inning by Roy Campanella.

Stan Musial of the Cardinals singled in his first trip to the plate to extend his hitting streak to 22 games.

Whitey Lockman singled home Sal Yvars from third base with two out in the eighth to break a 2-2 tie and give the Giants the nod over Cincinnati. Dave Koslo was the winner in relief and workhorse Frank Smith the loser.

Max Surkont and Sid Gordon teamed up to lead Boston Braves to a 5-2 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates. Surkont checked the tail-end Pirates on five hits and Gordon drove in two runs on his 12th homer, a double and a single.

Manager Phil Cavaretta inserted himself in the Chicago Cubs' lineups in desperation and the strategy paid off, the Cubs downed Philadelphia Phillies 4-1 in a night game to end a nine-game National League losing streak.

Cavaretta had only one hit, an infield safety, but he seemed to give the floundering Cubs enough spirit to pull them out of the doldrums. Gran Hanmer of the Phillies committed a pair of costly errors that allowed two Chicago runs.

Chuck Davey Registers Second Win Over Vejar

Detroit, June 26—(AP)—Chuck Davey, the thoughtful scholar of pro boxing, looks forward to bigger things today. And now that he's brushed past Chico Vejar for the second time, the bigger things include a crack at the world's welterweight title.

Davey, the 147½ pound Michigan State College graduate student, knocked out Vejar, 149¼, at 1:58 of the fifth round of their scheduled 10-round battle last night before 11,341 fans at Olympia Stadium.

Chuck floored Vejar four times with body punches in winning their first fight, but this time Chico, 21-year-old New York University drama student, went down only once. He couldn't get up.

Davey had chased him all around the ring after spearing him at one minute of the round with a hard right to the stomach. Davey finally caught up to him and flattened Chico.

A cheering section from Michigan State was included among the fans that paid $44,544 to see the bout.

Red Wings One Game Behind Montreal Royals

Rochester Red Wings, with 20 victories in their last 29 starts, were only a game behind the front-running Montreal Royals today as big Steve Bilko powered them to an 8-4 victory over Springfield Cubs last night.

In the only other scheduled contest, Ottawa Athletics defeated Syracuse Chiefs 2-1.

Bilko, sent down from St. Louis Cardinals with an injured wrist, returned to action only a few days ago and seems to be fully recovered after singling three times and driving in a pair of runs against the Cubs. He also scored three times.

Jack Faszholz (7-2) was the winner, although he needed help in the ninth. Bill Padget (6-6) took the loss.

A fly by Neal Watlington in the ninth with the bases loaded gave the Giants their victory over the visiting Chiefs. He also scored the tying run in the eighth on Jack Littrel's single. Garden Gilenwater homered for the Syracuse tally.

Joe Murray (3-1) picked up the victory, beating Jack Griffore (5-6).

Quebec Continues Hot Pace In Provincial

Quebec Braves overwhelmed St. Johns Canadiens 10-5, Three Rivers Yankees blanked Granby Phillies 11-0 and Drummondville Cubs edged St. Hyacinthe Athletics 4-3 in Provincial Baseball League games played Wednesday.

The league-leading Braves belted out 12 hits and made two errors in the game which lasted seven innings. The Canadiens got 10 hits and made six errors.

At Three Rivers, the Yanks took a one-run lead in the first inning but went scoreless from then until the seventh and eighth when they scored five runs in each stanza.

At Drummondville, the Cubs belted out 10 hits off Riale and made only one error. The Athletics, playing errorless ball, got four hits off Drummondville pitcher Bryja.

Bryja was credited with the win and Riale was charged with the loss.

Little Jim Turnesa Shatters "Bridesmaid" Tradition For His Family By Copping P. G. A. Crown

Louisville, June 26.—(AP)—Tight-lipped Little Jim Turnesa came charging from behind with a blazing putter yesterday to whip Melvin (Chick) Harbert, one up, for the P.G.A. Golf Championship and to prove the Turnesas don't always finish second.

The 39-year-old son of an immigrant Italian greenskeeper won on the 36th hole when Harbert, bull-shouldered pro from Northville, Mich., poked his drive into an almost unplayable lie under an evergreen tree on the left of the fairway.

Harbert had to crawl under the tree and chip out into the fairway. It took him three blows to reach the green and Turnesa, down the middle and on the carpet, won with a steady par four.

It was an ironic ending for Harbert, who as a veritable links magician had scrambled from trees, roughs and deep sand to pile up a three-hole lead at the end of the morning round and hold his advantage until the 32nd hole.

It was there that Turnesa, dripping with sweat, pulled even with a birdie three after sinking an eight-foot putt. Then the two antagonists went down the wire, stroke for stroke, until the final hole.

Harbert missed two excellent opportunities to recapture control of the match when he flunked on five-and-eight-foot putts on the 34th and 35th holes.

Turnesa became the oldest man in history to capture the P.G.A. Championship. He is 39 years and six months old. Sam Snead, the previous oldest, was a month over 39 when he prevailed a year ago.

For the 155-pound, cold-nerved Briarcliff Manor, N.Y., professional, it was an historic triumph because it shattered the "Bridesmaid" tradition that had grown around his family of famous golfing brothers for the last two decades.

This was the fourth time one of the Professional Turnesas had gained the finals of the P.G.A. and it was the first time one of them had walked off with the top prize, in this case $3,500.

The defeat was a second heartbreak for Harbert, 37-year-old son of a retired professional, who was a finalist in the 1947 tournament at Detroit's Plum Hollow where he lost to Jim Ferrier.

Firing a 70, two under Big Spring's par 72, Harbert piled up a three-hole lead over Turnesa in the morning round, winning the last three holes of the 13.

Turnesa cut the advantage to a single hole by winning the first two of the afternoon round. But Harbert pulled away again with a impossible birdie three on the 367-yard 22nd.

Turnesa won the 26th with a birdie four and, then after halving the next six, drew level with his birdie three on the 32nd where he sank a nine-foot putt.

Down the stretch, Turnesa's putter was blazing hot as he sank putts of eight, 10 and 15 feet on the next three holes.

Jim Macken Advances In Ontario Net Event

Toronto, June 26—(?)—Jim Macken of Montreal swept past Toronto's Ken Trestrail and Austin MacPherson yesterday to reach the men's singles semi-final of the Ontario Lawn Tennis Championships.

Macken eliminated Trestrail 6-0, 6-1 in the fourth round and stopped MacPherson 6-0, 6-3 in the quarter-finals.

Macken will meet his brother Brendan in one half of today's semi-finals. Don Fontana of Toronto will play Lorne Main of Vancouver in the other.

Brendan Macken downed Doug Philpott 6-0, 6-0 in the fourth round and knocked off Toronto's Jim Bentley 6-2, 6-1 in the quarter-finals.

Lauro Salas Floors Eddie Hudson In 5th

Nuevo Laredo, Mex., June 26—(AP)—Lauro Salas, world's lightweight champion from Monterrey, Mex., last night scored a fifth-round knockout win over Eddie Hudson of St. Louis, Mo. Hudson, 132, who was floored in the second and on his knees in the fourth, was counted out at 1:05 seconds of the fifth round of the non-title bout.

Salas, 130, who won the title from Jimmy Carter, last month, had lost to Hudson in Los Angeles last year.

Nuevo Laredo, Mexico — Lauro Salas, 130, Monterrey, Mex., knocked out Eddie Hudson, 132, St. Louis, Mo., 5. (non-title).

DRUMMONDVILLE

At a meeting, the Drummond County Council unanimously agreed to purchase a building site not to exceed the sum of $15,000 for the construction of a new Registration Building. At the same meeting the County Council also agreed to give the City of Drummondville the first option on the purchase of the old site at exactly the same figure the Council will have to pay for its new location. The motion was proposed by Mayor Hermann Gagnon, of St. Cyrille, and was seconded by Mayor Albert Bessette, of St. Jean Baptiste.

The secretary-treasurer of the municipality of St. Simon, Mr. Edgar Lemaire, announced this week that the local council had received a $10,000 grant from the provincial government, in order that work on sewers and water mains might be executed and completed by late summer. This grant was obtained through the intervention of Mr. Robert Bernard, M.L.A. At this time the council is also busily engaged in negotiating to obtain a strip of land from Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Corporation in order to proceed in the widening of Jean de Brebeuf Street.

The Catholic Syndicate of Drummondville and Victoriaville respectively recently repudiated the present labour contracts effecting the building trades and have asked for increases ranging from ten to thirty cents an hour. Following several meetings with the provincial arbitration board, the employer's association, represented by Mr. Marcel Marier, accepted some of the demands, refusing to acknowledge a few of the other demands placed before him. However, present negotiations are still going on and complete agreement is expected at an early date.

A group of the Drummondville High School Cadets, were entertained, Friday evening, June 20, at the Armouries, 81 Brock Street, with a number of films supplied by the National Film Board, depicting Canadian Life, along with educational and instructional training. During the course of the evening the boys were served sandwiches and light refreshments and was under supervision of the principal of the High School, Mr. Todd, with WO1 A. Malouin acting as M.C.

A mixed two-ball foursome was played at the Drummondville Golf and Country Club last Sunday afternoon by the ladies section, and male members of the club. The prize winners were low gross, Mrs. Awcock and Mr. Brady; low net, Mrs. Parker and Mr. Todd; Consolation, Mrs Keansey and Mr. Laurin. Following the competition, supper was served by the ladies to members and friends in the Club House.

The "Strawberry Festival" organized by the ladies of the Trinity United Church, on Lindsay Street, and held on the church lawn Wednesday evening, June 18, at 6.30 p.m., proved to be a grand success with the weather being ideal for this special occasion. A large turnout of old and young alike spent a very enjoyable and delightful evening.

The electrical storm that hit Montreal earlier in the week disrupting power lines and uprooting trees, hit Drummondville with the tail end of the storm early Thursday afternoon, although the velocity of the wind during the height of the storm was high little or no heavy property damage was reported and no power lines were knocked out. The heavy hail storm, however, that proceeded the storm, caused a great deal of damage to gardens.

OBITUARIES

OSBORNE EDWARDS, OF OAKVILLE, ONT.

Committal service was held in the Orr lot at the Eaton Cemetery for Osborne Edwards, on Wednesday afternoon, June 4th, 1952.

Pastor Welch, of Sherbrooke, read the burial service.

Osborne passed away suddenly June 1st, after a long illness. He received his education at the Cookshire Academy, was a member of Trinity United Church, A friend to every one, and beloved by all.

Many will remember his voice over the radio, singing the much loved cowboy songs. The funeral service was held at Russells Funeral Home at Oakville, Ont.

Rev. McWhinnie read the Scripture, and Rev. Stoll, a former pastor gave a very comforting message to the bereaved.

The flowers were beautiful and many, and expressed the esteem in which the deceased was held. He leaves to mourn his passing his wife, the former Marie Hubbard, of Chicopee, Mass; three daughters, Gladys, Shirley and Edna; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edwards, of Cookshire; a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Edwards, of Long Branch, Ont.; an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sundberg, of Oakville, Ont.; a nephew, Wayne Edwards, of Long Branch, Ont., and several other relatives throughout the Eastern Townships, and United States.

Just when his life was brighest,
And when his years were best
He was called from the world of sorrow,
To a home of eternal rest.
