GENERAL OPINION IS IT WILL BE IMPOSSIBLE TO CONTINUE PARLEY

Believed that Retention of Steering Committee as Permanent Organization Is Best that Can Be Salvaged from Conference Following Roosevelt's Refusal to Stabilize Currency—Delegates Deny that United States President Has Made New Proposal to Revive Talks.

London, July 5.—An exchange of messages between the United States delegation here and President Roosevelt resulted this afternoon in the expression of the opinion in some important American quarters that it would be best for the World Economic Conference to be partially disbanded.

These American quarters, after consideration of further communications from Mr. Roosevelt, voiced the conviction it would be impossible to keep the parley going at this time.

The European gold bloc has been advocating adjournment since the receipt of President Roosevelt's message flatly declaring against stabilization of the United States dollar.

A section of the American group said the best that can be done now will be to continue the bureau, or steering committee, as a permanent body. The Americans denied the rumor that President Roosevelt had proposed any new scheme to rescue the Conference.

The steering committee, after meeting last evening to consider a proposal presented by Hendryk Colijn, Dutch Premier, for dispersing the gathering, adjourned until Thursday morning, when the question of the future programme is to be dealt with.

France and its gold allies insist President Roosevelt's refusal to consider money stabilization destroyed the entire agenda of the Conference.

When the small steering committee of the Conference held its usual meeting this morning, it was reliably stated the steering committee as a whole was firmer than ever in the opinion that nothing could be done to save the Conference in its entirety.

A high Conference source, however, said the gold standard nations evinced a more sympathetic attitude towards the American internal situation.

It was understood the gold bloc delegates were prepared to agree that the Conference bureau or steering committee should be made a semi-permanent organization to keep a hand on the situation. Thus the Conference would in theory be kept alive pending possible resumption at some time in the future.

An American spokesman said this morning that his delegation had been in close touch with representatives of other countries during the morning. These other countries were not specified, but were believed to include Canada and possibly other British Dominions and the Scandinavian countries which were reported looking with favor on the American price-raising programme.

Tuesday, when things looked black for continuation of the Conference, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett brought the full weight of the Canadian position, and eventually that of the Empire, into line with those seeking to avert a sudden adjournment. Representatives of other parts of the Empire, called into conference by Mr. Bennett, decided to work for continuation of the sessions.

From Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, came the only comment from the United States representatives. "We are firmly opposed to adjournment," he said briefly, "and in that connection we have had a communication from Washington."

Opponents of the American policy insisted nothing was expected from Washington which would alter the situation in the slightest. They declared the Conference is already dead and the funeral will be tomorrow, when the steering committee again will meet to decide the fate of the parley.

One of the bitterest charges of the gold bloc is that the Conference has done nothing but draw attention to the currency situation, with the result that big speculators have taken advantage of it. They also maintain that bank runs have been started in Czechoslovakia and assert this was simply because that country did not sign the gold bloc declaration of a determination to maintain a stable currency, while neighboring Poland did sign.

ROOSEVELT CONFIDENT OF CONFERENCE CONTINUANCE

Washington, July 5.—President Roosevelt today put his every ounce of force behind the domestic recovery campaign after messaging the United States delegation to give for continuance of the London Economic Conference.

Back in the White House from more than two weeks on the open seas, cruising to Campobello, N.B., the President immediately studied reports from London and requests for fresh instructions. Before going to bed last night he dispatched a message telling the delegation to use every means to keep the deadlocked parley going.

There was, however, no indication at the White House of any modification in his stand against immediate stabilization of currencies. That was the stand which provoked gold bloc nations to move for quick adjournment of the Conference.

The text of these instructions was left for discussion here. There pointed to other items on the Conference agenda and emphasized them.

Louis M. Howe and Marvin H. McIntyre, of the secretarial staff, were the lone callers at the White House as Mr. Roosevelt sent his message. It was said on his behalf that he has every confidence that the Conference will not break up.

With that task done, cabinet officers were sent word to report today to the President. First attention was focused on the public works and industrial recovery programmes by which Mr. Roosevelt hopes to put thousands of men back to work before winter sets in.

He was anxious to study a more detailed report from the Special Industrial Recovery Board of its progress in working out agreements among various industries for better

POWDER EXPLOSION DURING CELEBRATION KILLED TWO

"Sparkler" in Hands of a Three-Year-Old Girl Responsible for July 4 Tragedy.

Port Allegany, Pa., July 5.—A "sparkler" in the hands of a three-year-old girl caused two deaths yesterday because it was taken too close to a can of powder.

Fred Freer, 50, and his granddaughter, Diana Jean Ostrander, three, died in a hospital and seven others were burned, three seriously. Members of the family were celebrating Independence Day when a can of powder failed to explode, so it was taken into the house to be refitted with a new fuse. While the men worked on it, little Diana Jean took her "sparkler" too close and the powder went off. Those in the hospital are Mrs. John Ostrander, mother of Diana Jean, another daughter, Helen, and Vincent Dorem.

FARM PRODUCE SHOWS HIGHER BUYING POWER

As General Average of Prices Paid by Farmer Declines, Prices for Produce Show General Advance in Past Three Months.

Washington, July 5.—Double-barrelled action in the price field moved farm products toward parity with non-agricultural commodities in the United States during the second quarter of 1933.

Charts prepared by the Department of Agriculture show:

1.—The general average of prices paid by farmers moved down to the pre-war level.

2.—Prices received by farmers advanced, whereas a normal trend would have been toward a seasonal decline.

The farmer is getting more for his crops and paying out relatively less for the things he buys, although this ratio has not reached the even higher proportion in favor of the farmer which has been set by the administration.

The gain in farm buying power is shown by the following index table in which 100 represents the 1910-14 average.

Item	Feb. '33	May '33
All farm prices	49	62
Grain	34	62
Meat animals	35	65
Dairy products	62	63
Prices farmers paid 104	100	62
Farm buying power	87	93

The May index figure for all prices represents a twenty-six per cent. increase over that of February and theoretically adds $1,352,000,000 to the purchasing power of the 1932 total gross farm income of about $5,200,000,000.

Assessing farmers to have had 200,000,000 bushels of wheat on hand on March 1st, the advance of 24 1-2 cents a bushel between March and May enhanced its value $49,000,000. An advance of $12.20 a bale in the farm price of cotton since March 1st is estimated to add $15,000,000 to private and public stocks aggregating about 11,667,000 bales on that date.

The per acre value of farm land on March 1st was seventy-three per cent. of pre-war for the entire country. The index stood at 170 in 1920, when farm real estate values were at the peak.

The total farm property value of the United States declined from $58,000,000,000 to $43,000,000,000 during the same period.

The following table of average prices received by farmers shows an advance in major commodities have made toward "pre-war parity" prices:

	March	May	Pre-War
Cotton, lb.	20.6	38.9	12.4
Wheat, bu.	34.5	59.0	88.4
Hogs, 100 lbs.	$3.22	$3.88	$7.24
Beef Cattle	$3.42	$3.95	$5.20
Butterfat, lb.	15.1	20.2	25.3
Wool, lb.	8.9	17.7	17.8
Potatoes, bu.	39.0	43.7	69.7
Apples, bu.	70.3	84.9	96.1

Since the table is for the country as a whole it reflects neither advances in some of the more favored regions nor full gains recorded in the principal markets. In Iowa, alone, the farm price of hogs rose from $2.75 in April and a May average of 59 cents for all cash wheat at all markets.

The gain in farm product prices recorded in May was the largest since April, 1919. Farm prices have gone up much faster than prices of non-farm goods. In April and a May average of 59 cents for all cash wheat at all markets.

ANGLO-SAXON OPINION IS FIRMLY AGAINST PARLEY ADJOURNMENT

Dominions Unite in Move to Prevent Conference Break-down—Hopes Held that United States Opinion May Veer Towards Closer Co-Operation with Other Nations—Believe President Roosevelt's Statement Has Prejudiced His Policy.

London, July 5.—Canada aligned herself solidly with other dominions of the Empire in voting for continuance of the World Economic Conference.

Prior to the meeting of the Conference steering committee yesterday the Canadian delegation, with those from other parts of the Empire and Great Britain, conferred and declared themselves against premature disruption of the Conference.

The British delegation agreed and consequently at the steering committee meeting later the whole weight of Anglo-Saxon opinion was thrown against the proposal to break up the Conference.

The reason for the unanimous attitude of the Dominions is the hope that before the Conference is allowed to break up, United States public opinion may react in favor of closer co-operation with other nations, or that President Roosevelt himself may decide to supplement his last message by some outlines of such co-operation. The Dominions feel that the manner in which President Roosevelt's views were expounded gravely prejudiced his policy, which is in most respects akin to their own.

They are just as much in favor of raising prices as the United States, and they are just as much inclined to believe they can be raised by monetary action and an expansionist policy, but they are convinced international action to this end would be much more effective than purely national action. Many Canadians want Britain to declare her intention to restore the price level of 1930 and would like to see this followed by a United States declaration of intention to attain the same object and of a willingness to stabilize the dollar and pound against each other when this objective has been attained. Such a policy would command the support of all British dominions and of most of her agricultural countries.

Canada would benefit if President Roosevelt's policy brings a boom in the United States. The Canadian dollar has followed the United States dollar so far, but since Canada has not inflated and is the world's second largest gold producer, she can regulate her value of her dollar when she sees fit.

The Canadians do not see much hope for accomplishment at the Conference unless the United States co-operation. Australia insists that her participation in wheat restriction must depend on an agreement of European importing countries to lower their quotas and restrictions against overseas wheat. Any chance of that seems to have disappeared as a result of the general hardening of European opinion after the receipt of President Roosevelt's message.

LONDON PRESS TODAY HOLDS LITTLE HOPE FOR PARLEY

London, July 5.—Editorials in the British press today indicated little hope that President Roosevelt will have anything further to say which will refloat the World Economic Conference after the "Torpedoing" he is accused of having administered to the currency stabilization efforts.

The Daily Telegraph noted "a natural unwillingness of the American delegation to shoulder responsibility for an undignified breakdown of the enterprise which was launched with President Roosevelt's enthusiastic support—which owed so much indeed to his initiating statesmanship."

The Times was somewhat more hopeful, but expressed the opinion that Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, the Conference chairman, will have a hard task to keep the parley alive, "unless something is done from the American side to repair the mischief caused by the tone of President Roosevelt's statement."

"To many people it seemed almost as if President Roosevelt intended deliberately to wreck the conference," the Times added. "That, of course, is a complete misunderstanding of his object, but it is a misunderstanding which Roosevelt can best correct by taking the initiative now—and the time is short within an effort to combine his national policy with one of co-operation in constructive measure for the revival of the whole world."

The Manchester Guardian said it must be presumed that Mr. MacDonald has hopes "that Roosevelt may, if he is given another chance, undo the rudeness of his statement of Monday, and give the Conference some token that American co-operation has not been withdrawn."

The Guardian concluded, however, that if he wishes to rescue the Conference from the paralyzing confusion which makes common decisions impossible, he will have to make a big move indeed.

JUNE NEWSPRINT EXPORTS SHOW FAIR IMPROVEMENT

Favorable Trend of Business with United Kingdom Noted in Figures Issued by Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Ottawa, July 5.—An important gain in Canadian newsprint exports to the United Kingdom last month was shown in a report made public by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

British imports of newsprint and writing paper in large sheets in May totalled 615,656 hundredweight, of which 276,732 were received from Canada, 132,279 from Finland, 65,750 from Norway, 24,402 from Sweden and 8,849 from Newfoundland. In May, 1932, the amounts from these countries were: Newfoundland 281,920, Finland 110,258, Norway 57,698, Canada 28,067

EAST HEREFORD CASE BEFORE COURT TODAY

Dr. Rosario Fontaine Convinced Mrs. Wilfrid Beuparlant Forged Gobel Signature on $750 Promissory Note Found in Joseph Langlois' Clothes.

The signature of Alphonse Gobel on the promissory note for $750 found upon the person of Joseph Langlois, sixty-year old Hereford Hills lumber dealer, who was brutally murdered on the night of June 1st last, was forged by Mrs. Wilfrid Beuparlant, in the opinion of Dr. Rosario Fontaine, medico-legal expert, of Montreal.

Dr. Fontaine, who is also a handwriting expert, was the first and only witness to be heard this morning when the preliminary hearing of Mrs. Wilfrid Beuparlant, Zephirin Fontaine and Joseph Beauchemin on charges of murder was inaugurated in the local Court before Magistrate J. S. Couture.

Dr. Fontaine, who had examined a number of documents and signatures forwarded him by Detective James Haney, of the Provincial Police force, stated that he had come to the following conclusions:

In addition to the promissory note bearing Gobel's signature and, in his opinion, signed in reality by Mrs. Beuparlant, the letter also bearing Gobel's name and dictating to the typewriter in East Hereford on June 12th that he had the money on this forged note had been written and signed by Joseph Beauchemin.

Furthermore, another promissory note for $1,118 in Langlois' favor, bearing the "signatures" of Joseph Bouchard and Albert Patenaude, had been signed by Mrs. Beuparlant, although the note itself had not been written by her, in the doctor's opinion.

Alphonse Boisvert, clerk in the law firm of Panneton and Gervais, testified at the coroner's inquest in East Hereford on June 12th that Mrs. Beuparlant had asked him to draw up a promissory note similar to the one that was found upon Langlois after the murder. Another drawing up on the typewriter of the law firm was compared with the one made at the request of Mrs. Beuparlant, and the two documents were found to be identical, Dr. Fontaine stated.

The opening of the preliminary hearing of Mrs. Wilfrid Beuparlant, née Hermine Normandin, fifty-one years old, of Chesham, Zephirin Fontaine, of fifty years old, of East Hereford, and Joseph Beauchemin, sixty-three years old, of Bury, attracted a large number of people to the local Court House today, and when the proceedings were about to start it was found advisable to hold the enquete in the Superior Court chamber instead of the Magistrate's Court, as is usual in the case.

The three accused, charged with the murder of Joseph Langlois, on the consent of their attorneys appeared simultaneously for preliminary hearing, upon the understanding that certain phases of evidence could be applied in only one particular case and not for the three who are indicted.

Wilfrid Lazure, K.C., acted for the Crown, while Cesar Gervais represented Mrs. Beuparlant, and Roland Dugre acted for Zephirin Fontaine.

Dr. Fontaine was the only witness to be heard this morning, and this afternoon's session is expected to be a lengthy one and in many cases a replica of the coroner's inquest held almost a month ago.

The medico-legal expert testified that he had arrived in East Hereford on the night of June 3, and established that nothing had been disturbed since the crime was discovered that morning. The dead man was removed to the village of East Hereford itself, and there an autopsy was performed. The result of this autopsy, the doctor said, revealed a badly fractured skull, the wounds having been caused, in his opinion, by a blunt instrument continued and the skull was smashed into about twenty pieces.

Shortly after the departure of the Italian air fleet, the Air Ministry at Rome telephoned to Culmore Point and learned that the armada had departed.

Col. Ulisse Longo before giving final instructions to the aviators had called the roll of the flyers, who answered "present" in Italian.

Air Marshal R. H. Clarkhill, representing the Derry Royal Air Force, stood on a pinnacle and saluted as the launches moved off of the seaplanes amid ringing cheers.

Col. Longo told the officers they were starting another great adventure and that the eyes of Italy and the world were upon them. He gave them the latest weather reports and wished them all God speed and the best of luck.

The flyers saluted smartly and hurried to take their places. Shortly after the departure of the Italian air fleet, the Air Ministry at Rome telephoned to Culmore Point and learned that the armada had departed.

WHEAT EXPORTING POWERS ACCEPT PRINCIPLE OF ACREAGE REDUCTION

Australian Support of Proposals Contingent Upon Agreement Between Smaller European Producers and Large Importers—Delegates Refuse to Enlarge Upon Statements in Official Communique—Method of Operating Scheme Not Yet Determined.

London, July 5.—The four great wheat exporting nations of the world today finally reached an agreement "in principle" on adjusting wheat production and exports to the world demand, but Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, questioned by the Canadian Press, declined to go into any details.

The agreement finally announced between Canada, Australia, the United States and the Argentine concedes that the co-operation of the smaller European exporting powers, as well as the big importing nations, is essential to the success of any scheme to improve wheat prices. Consequently, the next few days will be spent in approaching European powers, and more definite North American crop figures will be awaited by mid-month before the Wheat Conference starts tackling concrete figures.

Prime Minister Bennett and G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in London, with Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Canadian Finance Minister, were all present at the meeting which ended in official announcement of the "agreement in principle."

Interviewed by the Canadian Press afterwards, Mr. Bennett declined to add anything to the official communique, which merely said the powers had agreed on temporary adjustment of production and trade to the world demand, recognizing the solution of the wheat problem depends on the co-operation of the European countries.

"How would the scheme be operated?" the Canadian Premier was asked.

"I cannot go into details now," Mr. Bennett replied. "There is nothing to add to the communique."

During the "Big Four" discussions proposals for acreage limitation have varied between ten and twenty per cent. The general impression in the Conference lobbies is that a fifteen per cent. cut in acreage is likely, based on a sort of sliding scale dependent on conditions.

The next move is an approach to the European wheat producing countries and the principal importing countries with a view to securing their co-operation. It is frankly admitted the co-operation of the smaller producing countries, such as those of the Danube basin, is necessary if any restriction scheme is to be successful.

It is further felt the chief importing countries should make an effort to increase their consumption, either by lowering their tariffs on wheat, lowering their quota restrictions on its importation, or other means. The United Kingdom has already promised to co-operate in any possible way, and strong representations will be made to Germany and France.

Commenting on the agreement to the Canadian Press, Stanley Bruce, Australian delegate, said he had made it absolutely clear that Australian concurrence was conditional on absolute co-operation of the European countries. Only this co-operation will induce the Australian state governments to consider restricting production.

"I expressed this view all along," Mr. Bruce added. "There is no possibility of Australia agreeing to limitation otherwise."

General Notes. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Somerville, of Hemmingford, were guests of Mrs. Somerville's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jones, at their home. Mrs. Hill and Mr. Duquette have returned to their home in Worcester, Mass., after spending several weeks here, the guests of their sister, Mrs. George Rivet, and Mr. Rivet. Miss Wilda Jones, of North Troy, Vt., spent a few days here, the guest of her cousin, Miss Audrey Dufour. Mrs. C. J. Gibney entertained recently in honor of Mrs. H. A. D. Somerville. Cards were played at several tables and refreshments were served. Mrs. Somerville was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts. Miss Audrey Dufour spent a week in North Troy, Vt., a guest of her aunt, Mrs. G. E. Jones, and family. Mrs. Wm. Eastman, who has been seriously ill, was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital. Her condition is considered serious. A confirmation service, presided over by His Lordship the Bishop of Montreal, was held at the Church of the Good Shepherd, when fifteen candidates were presented. Rev. Jesse E. King, of Mansville, assisted in the service. The offertory anthem, "Come, Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove," by P. A. Schnecker, in E. flat, the soloists being the Misses Dora Wood and Fern Wilson and Mr. Myron Wood, tenor. After the confirmation, His Lordship consecrated a pair of Eucharistic candles recently presented by the Junior Guild. Mr. Dennis Gibney, Mrs. D. J. Rutter and Mrs. H. A. D. Somerville motored to Cowansville and returned recently. Miss Grace Staines, of Freighsburg, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Staines. Miss Eva Bailey has left for Macdonald College to attend summer school.

ALFRED WOOD, President and Editor. GORDON MILLER, Managing Editor. C. F. BUCKLAND, Advertising Manager.

A man's life must fall in one of three classes: The pure and uplifting; the bad and destroying; the burned out and withered.

THE OUTWARD EMBLEM OF OUR INWARD PRIDE NEEDS A CELEBRATION.

Canada has passed her sixty-sixth birthday, and has about completed two-thirds of her first century as a Confederation of nine provinces.

With over 10,000,000 this year, the balance of the century should see the Dominion peopled by over twenty million people. That was the vision of a real Canadian, who pronounced that the Twentieth Century belonged to Canada.

Locally the City of Sherbrooke has not taken advantage of the one great national holiday in the preparation of a real celebration of Dominion Day. It is time that we should.

With the completion of the 67th year, where we stand on the threshold of a valiant year of accomplishment, we should begin to prepare for something big and something different in the way of a joyous observance of Dominion Day as our natal holiday.

There may be reason in a correspondent's claim that many even failed to decorate home and business places the last week-end. But the reaction of thought will be that our civic authorities did not give us a celebration where we could show our patriotism and pride.

Dominion Day is our day for waving the flag, for showing our cousins across the border that we brought forth a united country in a friendly revolution, and that not a drop of blood was shed in the creation of a Confederation which is wide and deep and which is peopled by "The Men of the North." "The flag that braved a thousand years; The battle and the breeze." That flag is good enough for Canada, and cannot be improved on within the Empire, nor within that greater confederation, the "Commonwealth of Nations."

WHY TAKE A BITE OUT OF OUR BETTER MONEY?

Currency along the border and currency in New York may be the same, and yet in the former instance currency should be coupled with courtesy.

Canadian silver is of purer silver content than is that of the United States, and is worth more per coin.

Yet the United States dollar certificates are redeemable only in silver. It is so stated in the bond. As plainly stated as print can make it.

Not long since—to be exact, on Queen Victoria Day—the Business Men's Association of Newport advertised that Canadian money would be accepted at par in that city in all the business places.

Two well-known railway men reported that on that holiday even their Canadian currency was rejected at par, and their money, even for meals, was discounted at ten per cent.

To check up on their report a direct representative of the Record visited Newport and found that what they had stated was true.

This was not keeping faith. Along the border we live in peace and friendliness, each of us admiring the other for apparent good qualities, but in the mass we are treated as foreigners.

The sequential drops in our exchange rates can be traced directly to the drop in international business.

Canadians are being repelled and irritated. They do not like the aspersions cast on Canadian currency, and particularly do they resent series of disasters to the United States banking system. More evident still is the designation, "payable in silver" on the bills we are asked to accept in exchange for our currency, which stands for its stated dollar worth, and has not had a blemish on it for a long period of years.

We make use of the local Newport instance, not with malice or any feeling of reprisal, but purely on the logic of good faith and of coinage values.

ONTARIO CONSERVATIVES ON THE HORNS OF A DILEMMA.

Premier George S. Henry, of Ontario, says he prefers a "scrap" to being put on the "scrap heap." He will not resign. The Premier of the Province stepped into a financial recovery of his money when, under cover of a government-appointed commission, the dead horse, Abitibi Power, was sold by its promoters to the Commission.

Both Mr. Henry and the Hon. Arthur Meighen profited through the ownership of bonds in the sale, for their worthless paper jumped back to par value.

This political bartering will be an issue in the coming provincial election, and as the transaction smacks of skulduggery, the gentlemen of the Opposition, long in the Slough of Despond, have perked up their noses and see a chance which may or may not be spoiled by the somewhat clownish efforts of an outside leader. Mitchell Hepburn has never had the courage to drop the $4,000 a year at Ottawa, and really enter the provincial arena; yet he is looked upon as the official leader of the "outs," who would like to be in after thirty years in the wilderness.

Ontario Conservatives, many of them, would like from Premier Henry a quiet and unostentatious resignation, but he has been a Goliath for a few years, and rather likes it.

Political history is repeating itself. For nigh ten years the Conservative party in Canada were restive under the leadership of Mr. Meighen. They did not know how to get rid of him. Gentle hints were of no avail, and a direct approach was a delicate matter. A convention was called in Winnipeg, near enough to the Hon. Arthur's home town to look innocent.

There is always an old bull in a slaughter house which romps briskly ahead of the oncoming herd of cattle being led into the slaughter chamber. One such old "bull" among the Conservatives persuaded Arthur to hurl his resignation into the convention chamber at Winnipeg, and the deed was accomplished. The ex-Premier's political hopes were quietly decapitated. It was a three years' job, quietly accomplished, and the inside doings were known to but the few.

Whether or not there is such a thing as political gratitude or reparation for ingratitude, it has been held that the appointment as leader of the Senate came to Mr. Meighen as an offering of expiation for his former murdered leadership.

Mr. Henry and Mr. Meighen are in a difficult position. They must pull together lest they hang separately; for the resignation of one would be used as a lever to oust the other.

They both tried to run the Abitibi Canyon in the same boat.

PUT THE SPIRIT OF PREFERENCE INTO THE COLLECTOR.

Business men in England, gathered in a meeting to discuss further trade relations with the United Kingdom, criticized the Canadian Government as not having lived up to the spirit of expression at the Imperial Conference. From many complaints we have received the woollen men of Leeds are quite right in their contention. That we should have our Customs revenue branch interpret that meaning by exacting as high as 100 per cent. in tariff collection is a travesty. We, like they, look forward to a Tariff Court, where such matters can be interpreted with business sense, and with rational duties. It would appear that Canada has been much like the travelling salesman who promises all things, pockets an order, and forgets all promises not "written in the bond." We have ever advocated higher tariffs to match all tariffs imposed against Canada, but never have we favoured ridiculously high impositions.

If the Britishers who attended the recent meeting at Leeds, in England, were right in their assertions, and we believe they were, then we should not have to wait for any Tariff Court.

Common Sense and Honesty should rule, rather than a too diligent effort to impose "dumps" and "dumping," together with all the fancy strings in the way of exchange and barter, which the fertile mind of the collector may think up.

Two of the ante-deluvian systems, which may shortly be abandoned, are the grand jury system and the Upper House in the Local Legislature. Both are but added expense.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record. July 5th, 1903.

Hon. Thomas H. Duffy, Provincial Treasurer, died suddenly in Quebec on July 3rd. He had just been shaved in the hotel barber shop, when he threw up his hands, said "I am sick," fell over, and expired. The Montreal Gazette observed that whilst he was in office the complaint voiced was that "he acted as if he were being asked to spend his own money. This was the kind of man the finances of the province required as their guardian." Mr. Duffy was shortly after succeeded by Peter McKenzie, of Richmond, though Dr. Guerin of Montreal thought he would like it, and have an English Protestant in the Cabinet without portfolio.

The Globe announced the coming of the Grand Trunk Pacific pact with the government whereby the Laurier Cabinet agree to build the roadbed from Moncton to Winnipeg, and then lease it to the G. T. P. at a rental of 3 per cent. for forty years. The Company, as an evidence of good faith, were to deposit five million dollars with the Bank of Montreal. This was the beginning of Canada's railway burden, for the Company defaulted its obligations.

Britain and Japan again notified Russia that she must withdraw at once from her occupation of Manchuria. "The delay threatens peace in the Far East." War did follow.

Miss Minnie Spear was married to Nelson C. Davis at Bedford Methodist Church on June 30th. Miss Jennie Andrea Hurlbert, of Sutton, was married to Warren Wesley Mandigo of North Dakota.

Duties paid in the Sherbrooke Customs office for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, were $929,858, a small decrease compared with the previous year.

John Leonard was appointed a King's Counsel as "one of the prominent members of the Bar in this district."

Officers appointed for the Brome County W. C. T. U. were: Mr. E. Chapman, Mrs. S. W. Foster, Mrs. W. W. Smith, Mrs. A. J. Dyer, Mr. W. H. O'Regan.

Mrs. Kirwin, the Misses Hargraves and Miss Kathleen Ashe were hostesses at the weekly tennis tea of the Sherbrooke Club.

C. Pennoyer carried off all the jumping prizes at the East Angus Dominion Day celebration held in Barlow's grove.

A family re-union of the Bachands was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Bachand on Brooks street.

Miss Ruby Sample was married to Arthur Dawson at Island Brook.

Miss Bayley and Miss Alice Robinson were re-negated for the Magog public school.

Rev. W. Rowley, of Marlton, gave up the pulpit to join the Sun Life Insurance Company.

I INVENT A NEW SCIENCE.

When I was a college boy we studied a subject which seems now to have vanished from the ken of mankind.

It was called "political economy" and it was a simple, straightforward affair which declared quite unequivocally that if you understood the immutable laws of supply and demand and of diminishing returns your economic, and therefore your political, salvation was assured.

You heard, of course, about the gold content of money, and about tariffs and freight rates and a few other unimportant things like that; but supply and demand, modified by diminishing returns, was the thing.

When "political economy" was a subject in the colleges, life was a cut-and-dried business. The railroads charged so much for lugging freight, so much for carrying passengers; they paid out so much in interest and dividends, so much in expenses, so much in taxes, and the rest was undivided profits. It was the same in manufacturing, or in publishing, or in anything else. If your price was high enough, you made money. If you went in debt you worked a little harder, pared down your expenses, took in more cash, and cleared off your liabilities.

All you had to do, if you found you were producing too much, was to lay off employees and let some other industry snap them up.

But something went wrong with "political economy," and they changed its name to "economics." Supply and demand, with diminishing returns, began to be shelved. Gold content of money, tariffs, exchange, bonds, preferred shares, voting and non-voting common stocks came to the front. The lads who were sophomores when I began to be allowed to sign my name on newspaper articles were taught that if you knew how to "finance" a company, it did not matter so much whether taxes, dividends and interest were met out of profits or not. The rising curve of stock market prices would look after that for you as long as you could get new issues listed. And if the market went back on you, you still had the curb to count on, or holding companies and investment trusts to take up the slack.

Now "economics," too, seems to be a little rocky.

And all the university professors have gone into politics, either in the mahogany chairs of office or in the corridors, and newspaper and magazine writers appear to be taking their places as lawgivers in the science of business. If you own a typewriter and know how to spell, your word is as good as the next man's.

So I think I am entitled to try my hand at solving the complex problems which both "political economy" and "economics" and even "technocracy" and "the new deal" seem not quite to have settled.

And, since any science to be well thought of must have a name, I shall call my invention "political arithmetic."

It is a good name, and it means as much as the others do.

It means more, in fact. It means the judicious blending on a plausible basis of "politics," the one thing everybody knows least about, with "arithmetic," whose arguments are still unanswerable. And so it ought to get us somewhere.

Having decided on my title, I cast about in arithmetic for some axiomatic principle which might be worked up into a system.

I come across a chapter headed "Highest Common Factor," and my search is ended.

"H. C. F.," what a find! It sounds much better than "C. C. F.," or "G. O. P.," or "U. S. S. R." Every body has heard it. It is, in fact, a knock-out.

And its applications are, of course, obvious.

All you have to do is to apply the old principle of the highest common factor to politics and trade, and you are saved.

Appoint an international commission to investigate in all the countries of the world. Let them find out one, two or three things on which every man, woman and child on earth agrees. Let the governments enact and the business men apply those principles to the private, municipal, state, national and international affairs of the world, and we shall be all right.

"But," I hear you object, "there is nothing under the sun that everybody agrees on."

That may be so, but why let that stop us?

It is no more a reason for condemning "political arithmetic" than for condemning any of the other bright ideas we have had buzzing around our ears for ages and ages.

The pragmatic sanction—

If you tell a corporation attorney, or a financier, or a company promoter that a corporation is not true, but is a legal lie declared to be true by the law, you will be told that corporations are among the greatest benefits of our modern age; that all through society conventions are necessary. Manners, styles of clothing, social ritual are all conventional. The Dominion of Canada is a corporation of all the people. Truth is hard to arrive at, and man must live by established and ritualized fictions. Even our histories, as Napoleon said, are not correct but are agreed upon lies. Even if our corporations are fictions, abstract ideal creations, they are absolutely necessary. This reasoning is based in what William James called the pragmatic sanction.

A philosopher, it would seem, has to use weird language to express what might be said in simple words. Or maybe he uses big confusing words either because he is ashamed to say what he does in plain language, or because he wants to keep what he says a caste secret hidden from ordinary people.

The pragmatic sanction deals with the morals of telling and living lies. If the people believe what is not true, they will act on that belief and get results, then morally you should let them go on believing what is not so. Or if by telling a lie, you can get another to act in a way that will be a benefit to him, you should tell the lie.

This justifies the telling of lies, gives a sanction to the liars, and even if a lie is told with the intention of doing good the results may be quite different. An African chief once had severe pains in his interior economy. Having been extremely careless in the quality and quantity of his eating, he went to the medical missionary for relief. The missionary thought it unwise to tell him the truth. He would tell a lie and benefit the chief. So he gave the chief a box of pills, the kind that worked while he slept, and told the chief there was a devil inside him. If he took a pill the devil would not like it and leave. Whenever the chief felt the devil inside him he was to take another pill.

The chief felt as if there was a legion of devils inside him, so he put all the pills as once into his inside to chase out all the devils.

Corporations, although artificial creations, are no doubt necessary. But financiers, company promoters, and financiers should not be allowed to hold them up to the public as based on truth. Let us have these legal lies because they are useful. However, let us know them for what they are—artificial creations of the law.

Paper millions based on lies— Our great modern concentration of wealth is due to corporate law. The corporate law is based, not on reality, but on legalized lies. These corporation entities, being artificial, can be manipulated in many ways.

Corporation attorneys enter the lawmaking body, and can turn and vary the old legal lies into new legal lies so that the industry and savings of the people are drained away from them.

Fictions of law when they are allowed to exist should be so drafted by the legislative bodies, and so administered by the courts as to enforce fair and honest dealing between man and man.

Too many tax collectors— President Roosevelt in his book "Looking Forward" says there are too many governments and too many tax collectors. He points out that in the State of New York, which has more than four times the population of the Province of Quebec, with village, town, city and school municipalities and corporations, there are 11,000 tax gatherers at work. He advocates a simplification of the governmental machinery.

Besides the Federal and Provincial tax-gatherers, Quebec has 25 cities, 988 towns, 1,312 rural municipalities and 1,839 school municipalities, each levying its own taxes, or a total of 4,164. If New York State had as many tax-levying bodies in proportion to her population, she would have over 16,000 tax gatherers at work within her borders.

Too poor to go bankrupt— We have a Bankruptcy Act passed at Ottawa. Judgments hold for thirty years against citizens. The sheriff's sales of the Provinces had been legally confiscating the property of the citizens and leaving them owing as much as when they had property. For at such sales the assets are sold at derisive prices, frequently not enough to pay the legal costs.

So machinery was established whereby a person who had many debts could go before a bankruptcy court, declare himself unable to meet his debts, have a trustee appointed to sell his property, and then having disposed of his assets and paid so much on the dollar, he would be declared free of the old debts and could begin again.

But there are trustee and court and legal fees to be paid, and if a man has paid away all his property in trying to pay off his debts and has no money, he cannot advance the necessary fees and cannot go bankrupt. He is too poor.

Puffing billies— Our railroads have travelled a long way in improvement since 1867.

At that time they used to have puffing billies for engines to draw the trains. They had small bodies and big smokestacks, flaring wide at the top. They used to use bark as fuel. Even in the eighties of last century there would be long piles of bark corded up at the station at Sweetburg.

We would not think of riding behind a puffing billy today.

In 1867 Canada became a Dominion, with a Federal government and with provincial governments. The Federal charter was enacted at London and is known as the British North America Act.

It was a fine up-to-the-minute constitution at the time, just as the puffing billy was the last word in railway engines. It was a puffing-billy constitution.

Great locomotives have gone in for giant locomotives, and are now going in for diesel engine electric drive, stream lined engines. We still have our puffing-billy constitution.

We have the big puffing billy at Ottawa and we have nine little puffing billies in nine Provinces.

They still are in the bark-eating stage and they emit dense smoke. Good businessmen become members only from a strong sense of duty.

They felt that if they got mixed up with the puffing billy machinery of our present forms of government they may get the habit and become puffing billies too.

LENOXVILLE PICNIC PROVED A FINE SUCCESS

Women's Institutes of Sherbrooke, Stanstead and Compton County Spent Delightful Time at Lennoxville Experimental Farm.

A happy throng numbering well over two hundred spent a most enjoyable and profitable time yesterday at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm. This gathering, comprised members of the Women's Institutes of Sherbrooke, Stanstead and Compton counties and their friends, and they were there to enjoy the Institute's picnic, which is always a much-looked-for event.

The weather was ideal for such an event and with his usual hospitality, J. A. McClary, general superintendent of the Lennoxville Farm, extended a most cordial welcome to the visitors.

The Women's Institutes of Sherbrooke County were hostesses at the generous picnic lunch served at noon, and a kindly welcome was extended to the visitors by the president, Miss Florence Drummond, M.A.

Brief but interesting addresses were delivered by Mrs. M. E. Honey, of Abbotsford, provincial convener of Home Economics; Mrs. A. W. Pratt, Cookshire; Mrs. J. A. Frasier, president of Compton County W. L.; Mrs. W. Rexford, Stanstead County president; Miss Maude Lefebvre, Cookshire, provincial convener of Canadian industries; Miss Irene Collins, Sherbrooke, provincial convener of child welfare, and Mrs. G. G. McCurdy, Lennoxville, provincial convener of the publicity committee.

Mrs. F. S. Browne, provincial president-elect, cordially welcomed the guests. Mrs. Browne was instrumental in organizing the picnic and in arranging the attractive programme.

Mrs. Pratt and Mrs. Rexford expressed the thanks of the visiting members, and were warmly sustained by Mrs. Frasier. Miss Lefebvre stressed in her remarks the advisability of patronizing Canadian goods as a means of strengthening the economic situation of the country.

"Housekeepers," Mrs. Honey said in her paper, "often maintain a form of ancestor worship to equal that of the Chinese." Many old ways of doing work were, she said, time and energy wasters, and she advised all home-makers to bring common sense into their work, and to "set a pattern of subtraction of non-essentials to their work."

Mrs. McCurdy spoke briefly, on "The Ideals of the Women's Institute," which, she said, were not merely to excel as housekeepers, but to recognize their influence in the community, as well as in the national and international life. The cities, she pointed out, were continually fed by streams of rural life, and just in proportion as these streams were pure and virile so in like proportion would the whole standard of living be raised. "Adult education" was, she said, the key-note of Women's Institute work for the coming year.

Mrs. P. S. Browne, figured in the day's proceedings as photographer, the entire company posing for a photograph before his camera.

Later, a programme of races and sports was carried out under the direction of Miss Irene Collins, and when the winners had borne away their prizes, the gathering dispersed, tired but happy, to their homes.

Following is the list of sporting events, with the prize winners:

Walking race: Mrs. Howard Dundin, Mrs. A. Mills and Mrs. R. Mosher.

Needle and thread race: Mrs. Mosher, Mrs. Lawrence Parker, and Mrs. E. Price.

The broadest grin: Mrs. W. S. Armitage, Mrs. Parkhill and Mrs. Labouta.

Cracker race: Audrey Bellam, Gwendolin George and Mildred McMullin.

Three-legged race: Bernice McMullin, Myrtle Henderson, Irma Ross, Freda Butler, Mildred McMullin and Audrey Bellam.

Pennant race: Mrs. Prince, Irma Ross and Mildred McMullin.

Shoe race: Freda Butler, Mrs. Mosher and Mildred McMullin.

Potato race, girls: Myrtle Henderson, Edith Titcomb and M. McMullin.

Potato race for ladies: Mrs. Mosher, Irma Ross and Mrs. L. Parker.

Running: Mrs. Mosher, Mrs. W. Pearson and Mrs. Mills.

Running, girls: Edith Titcomb, Freda Butler and I. Ross.

Running, children's race: John Drummond, Patty McKinven and Marion Prince.

CHURCH OF ADVENT W. A. ADJOURNED

Members of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Advent met yesterday afternoon in the church hall under the presidency of Mrs. J. A. Pryor. In the conclusion of routine business, plans were made to hold a food sale in August, and it was decided to adjourn for the month of July.

CHIEF CAMIRAND WILL "JOIN THE BOYS"

The police and fire chiefs of the province are going to meet in Montreal on July 11th and 12th, and Sherbrooke's "own chief" will be there.

Chief Camirand is not a very communicative sort of man, especially when his personal affairs are concerned, but he did venture forth this morning by telling a Record representative that he expected to attend the conference. That is, he added, providing he can find time to get a shave, a shine and a hair cut.

The election of officers, the reading of several important papers and a general discussion will form part of the busy agenda, while several social events will also be included for variety.

PUPILS OF MRS. M. SHEA GAVE RECITAL

A pleasing musical event took place when twenty piano pupils of Mrs. Maurice Shea gave their annual recital at her residence on Gordon street.

A paper on the life and work of Camille Saint Saens was read and concertos, duets and piano solos by this celebrate french composer were ably given by the pupils.

Amongst the performers whose work was outstanding were: Patricia Mackell, Marion Hallam, Sylvia Murray, Pauline Cote, Rena Chantier, Brenda Stevenson, Gabrielle Lemay, Euphonia Calauback, Olivette Chenard, Therese Belanger, Vivian Jones, Alberta Vincent and Bernadette Bouchard.

Special examination certificates in different grades of the Institute of Music and the Conservatory were awarded to the Misses Patricia Mackell, Pauline Cote, Rena Chantier, Olivette Chenard and Bernadette Bouchard.

EDWARD WESTMAN "LAD TO REST"

The funeral of Edward Westman, formerly of Marlinton, who, after a comparatively short illness, passed away at the age of ninety years on June 26th, at the residence of his niece, Mrs. M. S. Macdonald, and Dr. Macdonald, Queen street, with whom he had his home, took place at the private chapel on the following afternoon.

The service, which was conducted by Rev. Dr. W. S. Lennon, pastor of Trinity United Church, was attended by a large number of relatives and friends, and by special request of the deceased, Mrs. E. H. Bradley and Mrs. C. O. Gustafson sang the beautiful old hymn, "Now the Labourer's Task is O'er." The remains were removed to Marlinton for burial, where interment was made beside his wife, who predeceased him several years ago. Rev. Mr. Coker, of the Anglican Church, officiated at the committal service, when many relatives and old friends gathered to pay a last tribute of affection and respect to one whom they had ever highly esteemed during his long residence in their midst. Mr. Westman is survived by one sister, Mrs. John Harding, of Waterville.

PLAN TO IMPROVE FINANCIAL CONDITION OF LIBRARY

Speedy action, designed to improve the financial condition of the Public Library, and, if possible, to permit that institution to continue its functions, was decided upon at a meeting of the Board of Trustees held last night.

The trustees appointed a committee of three to formulate a budget for the year 1933-34, devise ways and means of increasing revenues, put those measures into effect and otherwise act with full powers to re-establish the institution. The three members of the emergency committee are: F. E. Kerridge, A. T. Kishner, secretary-treasurer of the board, and T. Bullock.

The Board of Trustees was increased to include, ex-officio, the president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Union. Mrs. E. M. Adams, at present occupying that office, was welcomed to membership in the Board at the meeting.

David Wilson, retiring secretary-treasurer, presented a financial outline of the Board's operations during the last five years, showing receipts and expenditures as follows:

1929 income, $1,696, expenditures, $1,859; 1930 income, $2,407, expenditures, $2,133; 1931 income, $2,407, expenditures, $2,398; 1932 income in the year ending May 31, $2,076, expenditures, $2,113. Balance on hand July 1, 1933, $14.41.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Library and Art Union has received authorization from the City Council to hold tag days this week.

MRS. WALTER O'DELL PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY

The community of Eustis and Capleton today grieves the loss of Mrs. Walter O'Dell, who passed away in the Sherbrooke Hospital yesterday following a critical operation. Mrs. O'Dell, a public-spirited lady whose activities extended to every worthy project concerning her neighborhood, will be sadly missed, for, despite her mature years, she was still keenly interested in her various branches of social endeavor.

The deceased, who was Annie Jane Greenfield before her marriage, was born in Brighton, Sussex, England, in 1880. In 1888 she was married to Walter O'Dell, and since her marriage she had resided in Eustis. Closely connected with

HAPPY COUPLE HONOR GUESTS AT ABBOTSFORD

Mr. and Mrs. George Roach Feted by Friends on Their Diamond Wedding Anniversary.

St. Paul d'Abbotsford, July 5.—The happy couple married on June 26, 1873, but as yesterday was Mrs. Roach's eighty-third birthday anniversary the wedding anniversary was celebrated at the same time. Mr. Roach is eighty-four years of age.

Seventy-seven guests, including Mr. Roach's sister, and Mrs. Roach's sister were present.

The guests of honor were presented with an address and a purse containing sixty dollars, a dollar for each year of their married life.

Another interesting feature of the party was the presentation of a bouquet of flowers, then Dr. G. W. Russell, of Granby, proposed a toast to the couple, and Walter R. Levesque, of Granby, replied on behalf of the celebrants. Refreshments were then served.

Mr. and Mrs. Roach were married on June 26, 1873, in St. Remi de Napierville, in the home of Mrs. Roach's father. She was formerly Miss Mary Struthers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Donald, Presbyterian minister of St. Remi. Following the ceremony the couple came to reside in Abbotsford with Mr. Roach's father and they have lived here ever since.

The home in which they now reside is in the family house which was destroyed by fire on June 16, 1890. Mr. Roach's sister, who was present, is Mrs. W. J. Gibb, of Abbotsford, and Mrs. Roach's sister, who was also present, is Miss Laura Struthers, also of Abbotsford.

church affairs, Mrs. O'Dell was organist in the Church of England at Eustis since its foundation forty-five years ago. Her husband has been a teacher in Eustis for the past forty-eight years. The deceased was a valued member of the Prince of Wales Lodge, Chapter 2, of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Besides her husband, Mrs. O'Dell leaves four sons, Raymond O'Dell, of Toronto, Stanley O'Dell, of Sherbrooke, Percy and Douglas O'Dell, of Chicopee Falls, Mass., and one daughter, Miss Lily O'Dell, residing at home. Another daughter, Dorothy, predeceased her mother sixteen years ago.

The funeral will be held from the late residence tomorrow afternoon and interment will take place in Malvern Cemetery, Lennoxville.

RECORD CARRIER ON LONG BICYCLE TRIP

Osmond Sargent, popular young Record carrier, today is resting in Bangor, Me., after completing the first leg of his long bicycle trek to Bangor, Me., where he will spend a holiday.

Young Sargent, who provided capable assistance to the Record sporting editor last winter, pedaled to Rumford a distance of 123 miles, in less than ten days. His elapsed time was fifteen hours from leaving Sherbrooke, rain holding his progress for five hours.

Following a short sojourn in Bangor, Osmond will start the return trek to his home on St. Michael street.

AMERICAN TOURISTS HERE YESTERDAY

American visitors in Sherbrooke yesterday, American Independence Day, were not as numerous as in previous years, and the majority of those who were here did not make long visits.

So far this summer the tourist trade has been considerably below previous years, but an increase in the number of "outsiders" is expected the summer proceeds.

Kushner's Fair in Chicago is believed by many tourist agencies to be the cause of this year's decrease. Many Americans who otherwise would have planned a trip to Canada have decided to head towards Chicago to spend their holidays "at the fair."

The recent legalizing of 2.3 beer in the United States is not regarded as harmful, to any great extent, to the tourist trade. One American tourist was heard to remark, "We have to be satisfied with our own beer when there is nothing else, but we enjoy coming to Canada to get a taste of real beer."

While the statement of the world are worrying over monetary and economic matters and the governments and municipalities are battling with unemployment and other delicate problems, the farmers of the Eastern Townships are working at top speed in the beautiful fields of this district getting in the season's hay crop.

When it's haying time the farmer and members of his family have little time for other matters. They have just one thought in their minds. Nature has covered his farm with a priceless treasure and has given him the knowledge and strength to convert this treasure into money with which to provide his family with the necessities and comforts of life.

At this time of the year the farmer thinks only of working from sunrise to sunset, so that the hay can be cut, stacked, picked up and stored in the barns with the least possible delay.

While this year's crop may be a little lighter than during the past few years, the farmers are not discouraged. The weather so far has been ideal. The heavy rain fall of the past week-end was very much needed, and while it did cause a little delay in haying, its benefits were much greater than its drawbacks.

What a refreshing feeling it is to travel through the country at this time of the year. Everywhere the smell of new mown hay fills the air, while the moving machines, rakes and other implements needed to reap the crop can be heard rattling along as the happy farmers, their smiling wives and contented sons and daughters wave friendly hands to the city dweller as he passes along the highway.

DEATHS REPORTED

RICHARD PIKE, SOUTH DURHAM.

South Durham, July 5.—The sudden death of Mr. Richard Pike, which occurred at the home of his son, Lisle, on Wednesday, June 14, came as a great shock to this community, where he was very highly respected by all.

Mr. Pike was born in Manchester, England, February, 1861, and came to this country July, 1880. He was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Griffith in October, 1884. She passed away on January 19th, 1919. There are two children, Pearl, Mrs. James Goubrun, and Lisle.

Mr. Pike was married again on September 7th, 1927, to Miss M. Etta J. Smith, who survives him.

The late Mr. Pike was a loyal churchman, a generous supporter of all good causes, and his example of service will long be an inspiration to others.

The funeral was held on Friday afternoon, June 16th, and was very largely attended by all who came to pay their last tribute of respect to the departed.

Rev. Mr. Bury had charge of the service and Rev. J. Allen, of Centenary Church, Montreal, took for his text, "O Death Where is Thy Sting," and spoke comforting words to the bereaved family.

Mrs. James A. Mountain acted as organist, and the choir led in the singing of the following hymns: "Now the Laborer's Task is O'er," "Unto the Hills Around Do Lift Up My Longing Eyes," "O God Our Help in Ages Past," and for a voluntary "Will Your Anchor Hold."

The casket, which was covered with beautiful flowers, silent tokens of love and esteem, was borne by six pallbearers, Ernest Griffith, Edie Griffith, J. O. Griffith, Finley Nixon, Candis Coote and Max Hughes. Interment was in the family lot beside his wife who predeceased him in 1919.

Those who attended from out-of-town were Rev. J. Allen, Mr. William R. G. King, Mr. John Pike, Mr. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. James Goubrun, Mr. and Mrs. W. Horsley, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Griffith and Mrs. Cooper, of Montreal, Mr. James Mountain, of Kirkdale, and many others.

MRS. GEORGE NIEL, FORMERLY OF GRANBY.

Granby, July 5.—Minnie R. Benham, wife of Mr. George Niel, passed away suddenly at her home, Springfield, Mass., on Sunday, June 18th.

The deceased was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Benham and was born in Bromo County on May 17th, 1870. She was married to Mr. George Niel on October 29th, 1912, and had lived for the past thirty years in Springfield.

The funeral was held on Tuesday at All Saints' Episcopal Church, Springfield, of which the deceased was a member. The remains were brought to Granby on Wednesday accompanied by her husband, a brother, Mr. Carl Benham, and two sisters, Mrs. M. Cloe and Mrs. G. Benham. A short burial service was read at the grave by Rev. Thomas Scott. The bearers were A. Seale, C. Payne, N. Rutherford, H. Niel, G. Robinson and M. Robinson.

Besides her husband, a brother and three sisters she left to mourn her loss, Mr. Carl Benham, of St. Albans; Miss Carrie Benham, of Granby; Bertie, Mrs. B. Cloe and Miss Gertrude Benham, R.N., of Springfield, Mass.

Interment was in Pinewood cemetery.

Those from out-of-town attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Benham, St. Albans; Mr. and Mrs. T. Frizzle, Mr. Sherman Frizzle, Mr. James Frizzle, all of Bromo; Mr. and Mrs. Forest Tibbets, Bondville; Mr. and Mrs. Earle Marsh, Sweetestburg; Mr. and Mrs. William Graves; Mr. Joe Niel, Waterloo, and Mr. and Mrs. Osburne.

MRS. JOHN WHIPPLE, AYER'S CLIFF.

Ayer's Cliff, July 5.—There passed away on Thursday, June 15, after a lingering illness which was patiently borne, Clara Fowler, widow of John Whipple.

The deceased was born in Compton, but her married life was spent in the vicinity of Ayer's Cliff, where she had won many friends. Her funeral service was held at her late home on Sunday afternoon, June 17, and was conducted by Rev. W. E. Johnston assisted by Rev. C. Moore.

The hymns sung by a ladies' quartette consisting of Mrs. W. E. Johnston, Mrs. Fred Per y, Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. D. Vaughan, were "Abide With Me," "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" and "Nearer My God To Thee."

Mrs. Whipple leaves to mourn her loss, one son, Gordon, who lived with her and tenderly cared for her, three brothers, Mr. William Fowler, of Barnston, Mr. George Fowler, of Compton, and Mr. Benjamin Fowler, of Hatley.

There were many floral tributes, silent messages of sympathy to the bereaved ones.

The bearers were Messrs. A. E. Hall, H. R. Place, D. D. Richardson, and W. D. Thompson.

The remains were laid to rest in the Ayer's Cliff Cemetery beside her husband who predeceased her several years ago.

FUNERAL OF MR. G. F. BENNETT, MARBLETON

Marbleton, July 5.—The funeral of Mr. G. F. Bennett took place at St. Paul's Church on Tuesday afternoon, June 27th. Prayers were offered at the home by the Rev. F. Cook, and the bearers were Messrs. Stanley Bishop, H. H. Bishop, T. B. Staples, R. Weyland, Cliff Ford, Weyland and H. G. Weston, all life-long friends of the deceased.

The funeral was a very beautiful and impressive one, befitting the high esteem in which Mr. Bennett was held.

George Frederick Bennett was born at Lennoxville on July 5, 1870, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bennett, who predeceased him several years ago. He was a life-long resident of this place with the exception of a few years spent at Lennoxville and in the United States.

Mr. Bennett was respected and beloved by young and old, was a kind and loving father to his children, and was always ready to help in all deserving undertakings which would benefit his town. He acted for several years as chairman of the Marbleton School board and also served as a member of the town council.

Besides a host of friends, Mr. Bennett leaves to mourn his loss, two children, Dorothy and Lester Bennett; two grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. E. O. Weston.

Mrs. Dean received word that Mrs. W. H. Fuller and Mr. Fred Sloggett arrived safely in Vancouver.

Mrs. J. Riggs and Mrs. Strong were recent guests of friends in Sherbrooke.

Mr. Wheeler, of Sherbrooke, was a visitor here recently.

TAYLOR FAMILY REUNION HELD AT BIRCHTON

Descendants of Early Settler of Eastern Townships Gathered at Birchton—Items of General Interest from Vicinity.

Birchton, July 5.—Sunday morning, June 25th, the weather looked a little dubious, but in a short time the sun shone out in all its beauty, as if to bid welcome to the family of the late J. L. Taylor, who had arranged to have a re-union that day.

Arriving at the Church in time for the morning service, numbering some sixty, they were welcomed by the pastor, Rev. L. O. Bunt, who preached an instructive and helpful sermon. Special music was furnished by the choir. Mrs. Lewis Seveling and Mr. Henry Jones taking the solo parts.

After the service, the party proceeded to the home of E. Taylor's grove on the Old Homestead, where a picnic dinner was served. The afternoon was spent, as would be expected, in a social way, and in a general review of the family history, all feeling that a profitable and enjoyable day had been spent together.

The late J. L. Taylor, father of the assembled family, was a very prominent man in this community. Early in life, he taught both day and singing schools. He married Theodora Labere, September 5th, 1853, of which union, there were seven children: Edwin Augustus, Orion Stewart, Frederick Arthur, Henry Joseph, Harriet Theodora, Clara Persis and Edgar Erwin Stewart. Frederick and Henry, now deceased, Mr. Taylor served the town of Eaton as councillor and school commissioner. In the church, he was choir leader and superintendent of the Sunday School.

It is interesting to note that the history of this family dates back to 1810, when the Rev. Jonathan Taylor, uncle of J. H. Taylor, came to Cookshire as a missionary. He was minister and school teacher, his time being divided between the two, with a salary of two hundred dollars, which was paid in meat, grain and provisions. Later, he was appointed rector of the Anglican Church at Cookshire. His salary was then raised to one hundred pounds. He baptized the first children born in this then new country and married the first couple, there being no other minister nearer than Stanstead.

Forty miles distant from Stanstead, the Taylor home on the Old Homestead now occupied by Stanley Taylor, a grandson of the late J. L. Taylor, was built in 1812, now one hundred and twenty-one years old.

Those present from out-of-town were Mrs. and Mrs. Edwin Taylor, Mrs. Mildred Varney, Miss Arden and Mildred Varney, Messrs. Kenneth and Maxwell Varney, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sims and little Evelyn Sims, of Windsor Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Taylor, of Fitch Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Taylor, of Derby Line, Vt.; Miss Ethel Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Morley Smiley, Miss Eva Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. John Munroe, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Nutbrown of Lennoxville, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Brazel, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Brazel and Master Alton, of Sawyerville, Mr. and Mrs. Arden Taylor and Miss Berge, of St. Catharines, Ont.; Mr. Alex. Taylor and Master Erwin and Mrs. Taylor's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor, Miss Edith and Mr. Gordon Taylor, Miss Anna and Messrs. Alden and Russell Learned, of Cookshire, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Labere, of Bulwer.

All the family were represented with the exception of Mrs. Charbonnel, who on account of ill health was unable to be present.

General Notes.

Miss Hilda Harrison has returned from Lennoxville, where she visited friends.

Mrs. Celia Crawford, of Bury, is the guest of relatives in this vicinity.

COTTONS SQUAD HANDED SILKS A HEAVY REVERSE

Behind Paulette Cabana's Seven-Hit Pitching, Cottons Trounced Silk Products by Thirty-Six to Five to Press Julius Kayser for Ladies' League Leadership.

Julius Kayser's supremacy in the Sherbrooke Ladies' Softball League was seriously threatened last evening when the onrushing Sherbrooke Cottons squad pulled up to within two points of the pace-setters by inflicting a one-sided defeat on Canadian Silk Products. Continuing the heavy clouting which saw them swamp the Marcoux team by forty-four to sixteen, Cottons last evening came within eight runs of equalling their record scoring mark when they netted thirty-six points against the five markers accumulated by their opponents.

Finishing up strongly by registering twenty-six runs in the last two frames, Cottons routed Silk Products after the game had been comparatively close for the first four frames. Aided by several costly errors, Cottons crossed the plate no less than fifteen times in the fifth chucker, in the course of which they shelled Francoise Choquette from the mound. Miss Choquette's successor, Fleurette Beaulieu, was treated with no more respect, the Cottons' guns rattling eleven counters in the sixth chapter to bring their total to thirty-six and raise their run average to twenty-seven scores per fixture.

Beryl Mandigo opened the fireworks in the initial frame by blasting out a home run, which proved the principal blow as Cottons assumed a three-run lead by outpointing their opponents by four to one. Five singles and an infield out combined to give Maurice Parsons another four runs in the second canto, whereas Silks were again held to a single tally. Neither team scored in the third and Silks began to make the tilt interesting by registering twice in the fourth. Cottons came back with a similar brace and were leading by ten to four when the fateful fifth inning arrived. Silks were retired without a run in the first half of the fifth, and then nineteen batters walked to the plate before Irene Cava completed a double play unassisted and then caught a fly to retire the side. A stinging drive injured Miss Choquette's hand in this frame and Miss Beaulieu replaced her, but only after Cottons were leading by twenty-five to four. Incidentally no home runs were made in this frame, five doubles and eight singles producing the fifteen points.

In the sixth session fifteen batters faced Miss Beaulieu. Lilliane Voisine's four-bagger and double, coupled with two other doubles and seven singles helped towards swelling the Cottons' total by eleven points. Silks recorded their fifth run in the seventh and the game ended with Cottons on the long end of a thirty-six to five count.

Paulette Cabana pitched seven-hit ball, fanned five opponents and issued nine free passes to first. Her starting opponent, Miss Choquette, was touched for twenty-four hits in four innings, while Miss Beaulieu yielded eleven safeties in two frames. Neither Silk Products' hurler gave bases on balls while Miss Choquette was credited with four strike-outs. Miss Cabana also swatted a four-bagger.

The score by innings was as follows:
Silks 110 2 0 0 1-5
Cottons 440 2 15 11 x-36
The line-ups were as follows:
Silks: Iva Heath, Jeanne Martel, Anita Lapointe, Bertha Marcheter, Irene Cava, Alex Aude, Joan Mitchell, Francoise Choquette, Ruby Winstanley, Fleurette Beaulieu and Bernadette Thivierge.
Cottons: Flore Cabana, Henriette Tremblay, Therese Bachand, Beryl Mandigo, Anita Bourque, Paulette Cabana, Lilliane Voisine, Bernadette Bourque, Florence Drapeau, Gilberte Gagne and Germaine Bourque.

NEW LEAGUE PRESIDENT
Following the game, a short meeting was held when several matters pertaining to the league were discussed. Maurice Parsons tendered his resignation as president of the circuit to take over the coaching duties for the Cottons team, and Lorenzo Turgeon, vice-president, was vested with presidential powers for the remainder of the season. The game scheduled for tomorrow evening was postponed owing to the soccer match between East Angus and the Sherbrooke Rangers.

NOLAN SMASHED OLD RECORD IN OPENING ROUND

Little-Known Irishman, Who Won Qualifying Round Yesterday, Continued Sensational Golf in First Round for British Open Title Today with Sub-Par Total of 71.

St. Andrews, Scotland, July 5.—William "Pat" Nolan, smiling Dublin Irishman who shattered all St. Andrews records to win the British open golf championship qualifying medal yesterday with a total of 71—138, today shot a sub-par 71 in the first round of the championship proper. The 35-year-old professional, a comparative unknown, was out in 35 and home in 38 to clip two strokes off perfect figures.

The unheralded qualifying pace-maker for the classic field was steady as a rock all the way. He slipped over par at only one hole in the short eighth, but more than made up for that single lapse with three birdies. Otherwise he matched par. Other early first-round scores showed a British amateur, the giant Cyril Tolley, posting a 70. Under the day's ideal playing conditions, other British stalwarts reeled off snappy golf. Lanky Archie Compston came home with a 72, one under St. Andrews' exacting par, while Henry Cotton, a favorite to return the title from the United States, was even par with 73. The veteran Abe Mitchell carded 74 and Charles Whitcombe came in with a useful 76.

Carrying Canada's challenge, "Sandy" Somerville shot the first nine holes in 37. Steady as it was, his one-over-par effort hardly matched the sizzling pace other internationalists uncoiled. The defending champion, Gene Sarazen, of New York, followed the brisk early pace and was out in 34, while George Danlop, Jr., young New York amateur continued his sensational golf with a 33 for the first nine.

The heat wave broke overnight while the byways of old St. Andrews rang with cheers over the qualifying medalist's play, and the links as the 117 qualifiers began play this morning. The 68's posted by George

Duncan and Bobby Jones in former years were eclipsed by Nolan's 37, and even though the championship may not cross the Irish Sea, Scots, Britons and Americans joined in praising the Irishman's feat. There was nothing in yesterday's rounds that even remotely approached the brilliance of Nolan's greatest score that wiped out the standard set in 1927.

The little-known Irishman, 38 years old, never has won anything before in big golf tournaments and was described as the champion's "worst dressed golfer with one of the most stylish swings." Clad in old trousers, brown shoes, a shirt open at the neck, his scoring burned up the course on one of the hottest days the Fifeshire coast has experienced in years. A perfect putting touch helped him to the red hot pace of the fiery greens.

Two Canadians were among the host that fell foul of the sun-blistered fairways and greens of the historical course. They were Jack Nash, London, and Don Anderson, St. Thomas, Ont. Nash had a total of 85—168, and the St. Thomas golfer, 87—168.

Somerville played a steadier brand of golf yesterday than he did on Monday when a brace of sevens marred his card in the incoming nine. He was even fours on the outgoing journey yesterday for a par-equalling 38. Homeward bound he faltered several times but remarkable recoveries that brought gasps of admiration from the gallery enabled him to turn in a 70-75 and total of 154.

Horton Smith, flashy Chicago pro, trailed Nolan by four strokes in second place with 71-71-142. Smith led the American contingent which had thirteen survivors, including Gene Sarazen, defending champion and co-favorite with Henry Cotton, the great English pro. The latter turned in a 77 yesterday for a two-round score of 151.

One of the biggest surprises was the failure of Percy Alliss, finalist in the Canadian open three years ago. Alliss gave a dazzling exhibition of par cracking in the series against the United States Ryder Cup players last week, but was obviously far off form Monday and yesterday. He was forced to conclude the qualifying round with a 150 total.

Billy Burke, who landed the last place on the American Ryder Cup team after the storm of protest at his original exclusion, was lodged in the third bracket yesterday with Syd Fairweather and E. W. K. Kenyon, English professionals, all grouped with 146's. Behind them were scattered the rest of the field

MANY PLAYERS TOOK PART IN LADIES' EVENTS

Miss Frances McDonald Won Approaching and Putting Competition for Class "A" Players, and Miss Kay Morrill Captured Honors in Class "B" Sweepstake.

Miss Frances McDonald yesterday afternoon led the Class "A" field in the approaching and putting competition staged by the ladies' section of the Sherbrooke Country Club. Miss McDonald, whose winning score was nineteen, outpointed the large field that participated in the event. A four-cornered tie resulted for the runner-up honors. Deadlocked with scores of twenty-one were Mrs. R. G. Costley, Mrs. W. B. Channell, Mrs. S. G. Newton and Mrs. D. C. McRae.

Class "B" players indulged in a sweepstake. This competition was won by Miss Kay Morrill, who turned in the best gross score of the afternoon. Mrs. F. C. Churchill won a place in the prize list by recording the best net score.

The winners of the monthly ring competition were posted yesterday. Mrs. B. N. Holtham won the June honors for Class "A" with the best gross card, while Mrs. P. M. Robins and Mrs. A. Kerridge were tied in this division for the best net. In class "B" Mrs. M. Graham had the best gross and Miss Geraldine Dwane handed in the best net.

Tomorrow afternoon the Country Club ladies will entertain their fellow-members from the St. Francis and Lennoxville Golf Clubs. The friendly tournament will be started at two o'clock, and the afternoon will be brought to a conclusion with tea. Drummondville will be the scene of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union field day next Tuesday, July 11. Members who intend participating in this competition are requested to communicate with the Country Club captain before Saturday.
