SIR WILFRID RESUMES TOUR

Made Addresses at Beauce Junction and Thetford Mines.

Thetford Mines, Que., Sept. 12.—Apparently unfatigued by his exertions of the afternoon at Beauce Junction, where he addressed a large gathering, Sir Wilfrid Laurier appeared here tonight before a crowd of 5000 people to set forth reasons for the return of the Liberal party to power.

The Premier first addressed a large gathering in the skating rink and then spoke briefly at an overflow meeting which was held outside.

The town was brilliantly illuminated in honor of the occasion and a torchlight procession escorted the Premier from the station to the rink.

Sir Wilfrid was accompanied by Hon. Mr. Beland, Hon. Charles Devlin, Mr. A. L. Pacaud, Liberal candidate in Megantic, and Mr. Savoie, former Liberal member.

Addresses of welcome were read to the Premier at the commencement of the meeting.

Mr. Pacaud opened the evening's oratory, devoting most of his speech to an attack upon the Nationalists.

The Premier, speaking in the centre of the largest asbestos producing district in the world, opened with a reference to the rapid development of this section of the province. This development, he said, was due to the fact that asbestos was allowed to enter freely into the American market unhampered by tariff regulations.

He drew a moral from this, claiming that reciprocity would put the producers of other products in a similarly fortunate position.

On the navy question he said that there was no opposition in the Maritime Provinces to the navy, because there they appreciated its advantages.

The people of Nova Scotia were taxed like others to pay for such federal works as the deepening of the St. Lawrence, which was of great benefit to this province; so the people of the interior should be willing to contribute to the cost of something that was of benefit to the Maritime Provinces.

Beauce Junction, Que., Sept. 12.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier reached here this afternoon in the course of his final tour of French-Canada. The fierce manner in which the campaign is being carried on in this province can be judged from the strong outburst to which the Premier gave vent in the course of his speech.

Taking his hat off and making energetic gestures, he cried: "Never have I seen a campaign in which the tactics of the opposition were so insidious and dishonest. But, thank God, I have strength enough, though I am on the verge of 70 years, to face them and fight them to the bitter end. Neither the Imperialists of Ontario, nor the Nationalists of Quebec, will succeed in overthrowing Laurier."

Hon. Dr. Beland, the Liberal candidate in this county of Beauce, and Hon. Charles Devlin also spoke.

Dr. Beland is carrying on a very vigorous campaign, despite the fact that he had a majority of 3000 at the last election. In the past three weeks he has delivered 66 addresses.

The meeting here was a large one and a considerable amount of enthusiasm was evident.

Sir Wilfrid spoke at length in support of Dr. Beland.

Appealing to Conservatives to break away from their party leaders, he said: "If you vote for me, you do not desert your chiefs; for it is that your chiefs have deserted you in departing from the policy of MacDonald."

He continued that the present market for Canada produce was the United States and he proposed with reciprocity to put the money that has hitherto been going into the United States treasury into the pockets of Canadian farmers.

Shall Quebec Take Its Chances?

When the ship-building interests were being imperilled by the advent of iron vessels, there was full warning given of the evil days that were approaching for Quebec. But that warning remained unheeded, and hard times were soon in store for the poor artisan and his family, as well as for our tradesmen and storekeepers generally. Eventually, the boot-and-shoe industries sprung up to ameliorate the conditions of things, and prosperous times returned. Now, in time, after many years, our boot-and-shoe factories and kindred industries are threatened with coming collapse and the keeping of the calamity at arm's length is, at this moment, in the hands of the whole electorate. It remains for the electors to say whether William Taft and his associate conspirators are going to be allowed to shut these doors on us or not. You may laugh and say you are prepared to take your chances in the said William Taft's game. That was what the old ship-builders of Quebec said, when their instant prosperity so swelled their heads that they could not see beyond the end of their nose. They were prepared to take their chances, and their chances, as we all know, brought ruin for a season to Quebec. Now reciprocity will do for Quebec's manufacturing concerns what the coming of iron vessels did for our ship-building industries. You do not believe it! You would rather hurrah for these arch-conspirators, Taft and Clark and Fielding, who would turn our present prosperity, whatever there is of it, into disaster! Well, then take this straight to your heart before you drop your ballot. One of our manufacturers has stated explicitly that he will be unable to run his factory under the conditions to be imposed upon the country by reciprocity, and will have to give, should reciprocity be forced upon us, his three hundred employees notice to quit work. Another employer of labor says also that he will have to withdraw from business after dismissing his hundreds of hands employed. A larger firm than any of these in the country beyond Quebec, has already notified their workmen that reciprocity will lead to their losing of a job; while other firms have taken their employees into their confidence to forewarn them of an immediate loss of employment should William Taft's nefarious proposal against Canadian prosperity become the law of the land. These are facts, not bald statements for the sake of currying favor with either political party. "There are no politics in this question," say the newspapers that continue to be as unreliable as their hire is unworthy. But Quebec is surely, as a united community, going to rise for the occasion to prove that, politics or no politics, Quebec must be saved from the coming distress which threatens it, even should Laurier succumb to the evil intent of Mr. President Taft.

And what stock are Quebecers going to take in the Laurier logic about the widening out of the Canadian market in behalf of the farmer, after it has been clearly proven that even the farmer cannot benefit if the reciprocity pact becomes the law of the land. The farmers around Quebec are not going to benefit, not one of them. This has been proven time and again by correspondent after correspondent, hailing from the region of true economics, and does not need to be elaborated here this morning. And certainly the manufacturers, the tradespeople and the wage-earner are not going to be benefited, but far other, are going to be ruined if forced to leave the country for a living. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been to Arthabaska county, and there his speech was a blend of talk about the farmers being benefitted and denunciation of his (Sir Wilfrid's) increasing opponents on his own side of the House. We may expect something of the same kind when the eloquent Premier comes to Quebec. But what is he going to say to our boot-and-shoe manufacturers and honest wage-earners, with ruin staring them in the face? All that he possibly can say to such is, "You have got to take your chances!" And how many of our honest-minded citizens and hard-working tradesmen, thinking for themselves, are there who propose to follow his advice, there being but one chance for us to take should Mr. President Taft and his colleagues be allowed to clap their hands over our ruin.

Still they continue to place themselves on record—the men who make less of party than they do of the common weal of Canada. The landslide is showing in the most tangible way possible its outer moving edge.

Sir Wilfrid's economics are something like Mr. Fisher's ideas about crime. He does not seem to know the very first principle of the National Policy, which was intended to have industries of our own established with a protective wall provided against competition from outside. And if you want proof of Sir Wilfrid's loose way of looking at things from their economic side, you have it in his query to the workmen of Sudbury Mines the other day: "If there were a duty of 35 per cent. on the nickel you export, would your town be any more prosperous than it is now. It would not you say. Well, then you have in a nutshell the whole policy on which the Canadian people are asked to pronounce on today." Was it possible that he did not know that there were few nickel mines in the United States with which the people of Sudbury Mines are called upon to compete? Has he been drawing a general conclusion from a single instance? Is this why he once told us that a two hundred and fifty million dollar railway could be built by him for thirteen millions? Read again railway could be built by him for thirteen millions?

CONSOLIDATION OF B.C. COAL PROPERTIES

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 12.—Vancouver Island coal properties lying between Nanaimo and Ladysmith, embracing 2,400 acres, and estimated to contain approximately 30,000,000 tons have just been consolidated into an operating proposition by Andrew Laidlaw, of Spokane, Wash., and J. D. Farrell, second vice-president and general manager of the second division of Oregon and Washington, the northwestern like of the chief Harriman system. Mr. Laidlaw is widely known as one of the most extensive coal operators in Western Canada, while Mr. Farrell's railway connection has brought him into the public eye on the coast for many years. In addition to its coal receipts, the new company has acquired the Page estate across the bay from the town of Ladysmith, and there it will lay out a townsite for the accommodation of its employes.

FRENCH CABINET HAD MEETING

Reply to Germany's Counter Proposals on Moroccan Question Considered.

Paris, Sept. 12.—A momentous meeting of the Cabinet was held this afternoon to consider France's reply to Germany's counter proposals in the Moroccan negotiations. The meeting lasted three hours. The terms and thorough draft of the document were laid before the Minister by Foreign Minister De Selves, and were discussed and scrutinized from every aspect.

Although the Ministers formally refuse to satisfy public curiosity by making any statement whatever as to what passed at the historic council, it is understood that the Cabinet accorded its fullest approval of the reply prepared by M. De Selves, which is no less explicit than that submitted by Germany. It sets forth in the clearest possible manner France's position with regard to the question of principle raised by Germany, and pays particular attention to the necessity of maintaining commercial equality for all and of assurance to France of any absolutely free hand politically in Morocco.

The Foreign Minister will proceed to Rambouillet to-morrow to submit the decision of the Cabinet to President Fallieres. He will then have drawn up the definitive text of the reply which will be despatched from Paris without delay and will be in the possession of the German Government by the end of the week.

Important Announcement

WE have much pleasure in announcing that arrangements have been made with the management of the Auditorium Theatre for the presentation of an elaborate Fall Fashion Matinee. We have engaged the theatre for Wednesday, September 20th, and will present something entirely new and eminently pleasing for the special benefit of the ladies of Quebec.

All the newest and most authentic European and American Fashions will be shown on living models. These models have been carefully selected, and will be seen wearing the most beautiful Ball Gowns, Street Costumes, Furs and Millinery ever exhibited in Quebec.

A Matinee of Fashions

This will be in very truth a "Matinee of Fashions." The stage settings and furniture will all be supplied by the Paquet Company. The performance will be divided into four acts, each being complete in itself.

The first act will show a group of ladies at Five O'clock Tea. The hostess will be richly gowned in one of the latest Parisian creations, and, as each guest is announced, a description of her costume will be given, by the "mistress of ceremonies," from the stage.

Each act will be different from all the rest and the climax of artistic beauty and arrangement will be reached in the fourth and last scene which will show a Wedding Party, complete with Bride, Bridesmaids, dainty little Flower Girls and handsomely-gowned Guests.

For Ladies Only

This Matinee will be presented on Wednesday, September 20th, at 2.30 p.m. at the Auditorium Theatre, St. John Street. The event will be for LADIES ONLY, and Tickets may be had only at this store. ## CAMPAGN AGAINST MR. BICKERDIKE.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—A feature of the Conservative meeting held at the Auditorium Hall tonight in support of Mr. G. F. Johnston, who will oppose Mr. Bickerdike in St. Lawrence, was the presence on the platform of Col. Pennington MacPherson of Ottawa, a nephew and for many years secretary of Sir John MacDonald. Col. MacPherson delivered an address in which he paid particular attention to the claim of the Liberal leaders that reciprocity was simply the fulfillment of the policy of former Conservative leaders. He went into statistics and documents with much attention to detail and read from Sir John MacDonald's manifesto of 1891 to show that the great Conservative, were he alive today, would never support the proposed Taft-Fielding pact.

MR. PARENT'S FALSE CERTIFICATE

The editor of the Parent organ and quondam secretary of Mr. Parent's Bridge Company says that there was no financial irregularity in the affairs of the company, that the supervision of the plans was not left to Mr. Parent, and that the Report of the Royal Commission found that everything was correct.

To establish the facts, it is necessary once again to review the situation of 1903, when Mr. Parent's company was on the verge of collapse. At that time its paid up capital was $65,000. Out of this the directors had received $49,601 in fees. So that the only actual money put in was the paltry sum of $15,400—a sum which was less than the editor of La Vigie himself had received for his services as secretary of the concern.

On the other hand, the company had already expended $1,416,394, it owed $779,550, had obligations of $7,500,000, had used up the subsidies from the city ($300,000) and Province of Quebec ($250,000), had drawn $374,353 by way of subsidy from the Dominion, and was heavily indebted to the bank.

As we showed, the Laurier Government came to the rescue and agreed to guarantee the company's bonds for $6,678,200 to meet these liabilities.

Now comes the interesting part. One condition of the guarantee was that Mr. Parent's company should find $200,000 more capital which had to be taken up in full and paid in cash, and the proceeds to be employed in settling the discount of $188,000 on the old bonds, which had been sold at 60 cents in the dollar.

Mr. Parent and Mr. Barthe, the editor of La Vigie, falsely certified to the Government that this stock had been paid in full, when nothing of the sort had been done. And yet La Vigie says there was nothing irregular.

There can be no denying this. Mr. Parent himself admitted it under oath before the Royal Commission on Tuesday, June 23, 1908. La Vigie might write columns of abuse until Doomsday, but it can never refute that fact.

Let us see what Mr. Fielding, the Minister of Finance, has to say about it. Mr. Fielding says that the certificate was furnished, but he took no further steps to see if the condition had been fulfilled or not. The following item also throws some light on the subject:

HOUSE OF COMMONS

Committee Room No. 62.

Tuesday, June 7, 1908.

The committee met at 11 o'clock a.m., the Chairman, Mr. A. K. McLean, presiding.

HON. W. S. FIELDING, Minister of Finance, called and examined.

(7-8 Edward VII., A-1908.)

Q. At that time you, I understand, were under the impression that the $200,000 had been actually paid in?

A. Yes.

Q. Had you been aware that it had not been paid in would you have considered it improper to guarantee the bonds?

A. It is very difficult for a man to say what he would have done under a certain condition, but, speaking offhand, I think I would not.

Q. You would not?

A. I would have required evidence that the cash had been paid.

Q. Would you have considered it, as a matter of business in your department, sufficient that a gentleman had put a cheque, unmarked by any bank, for a considerable sum like $200,000, thrust into the hands of the bank, would you, as Finance Minister, have considered that a compliance with the statute?

A. My impression is, I would not have thought it a compliance.

Q. I would have expected you to say that?

A. I certainly was not aware of it at the time.

Mr. Fielding then admits that he would not have guaranteed the bonds if he had known that the certificate was false. Yet we are asked to believe that Mr. Parent did nothing irregular.

Again it is established by the Royal Commission that the loss of life was due to bad management, financial weakness and engineering inefficiency. There were no proper specifications, the matter of calling for tenders was unsatisfactory, the tenders themselves were made from "immature studies, based on insufficient data."

Not only this, but when an effort to secure more effective supervision was made, Mr. Parent tried to balk it and to restrict the supervision to Mr. Cooper, the engineer of his own company, whose ability was unequal to the task. Mr. Schreiber, the Deputy Minister and Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways, recommended the appointment of a specially chosen bridge expert to have the final control of the bridge construction. This man would be an employee of the Department and report directly to the Deputy Minister. An Order-in-Council to this effect was passed.

What happened? Mr. Parent wrote to Sir Charles Fitzpatrick to do away with "the usual course of submitting plans to the Department of Railway and Canals." As a consequence, another Order-in-Council was passed, modifying the former one. There was, however, a provision in it that all plans should be submitted to the Chief Engineer, Mr. Schreiber, and that they should not be adopted for work until his approval had been given.

This was never enforced.

The mismanagement of the Quebec Bridge Company's affairs and its failure to provide an adequate supervising and testing staff has caused a loss of nearly $7,500,000 to the country, a loss of 75 lives and a delay of perhaps five years in joining the Transcontinental. Mr. Parent and his associates were well treated by the Government, but what did the widows and orphans of the victims of the disaster receive?

The Milwaukee News tells of an African custom that might well be extended to colder climes. "Among certain negroes of Africa orators must stand on one leg while they orate. When the leg weakens the speech ends. But in this district it is not infrequent for Liberal orators to keep right on talking after they have not a leg left to stand on."

It's all right to be a Liberal, but why be so liberal as to hand Canada over to the United States?

What railway man would want to go back to the old free trade wages?

Don't vote yourself into a share in the hard times of the United States.

RAILWAYS AND RECIPROCITY

As soon as the terms of the reciprocity agreement were announced in Ottawa Mr. J. J. Hill gave notice that he would extend his lines from Emerson on the boundary into Winnipeg and erect a large depot into the latter City. At about the same time a half interest in the Rutland Railway Company was purchased for the Boston and Maine System. Speaking of this purchase, President Mellen, of the New York, New Haven, and Hartford Railway Company which controls the Boston and Maine Railroad, said:—

"This transaction also enables the Boston and Maine to connect at another point, and with a long haul upon its own line, with the Canadian grain-carrying roads, assuring more permanently a participation in the export grain business of those roads by way of Boston. The proposed treaty of reciprocity between Canada and the United States has largely influenced those in control of the properties to make this investment, because of their hope to secure a larger participation in the revenue from this business through a longer haul, and especially, also, because of their desire to promote the interests of the trade of the port of Boston."

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company anticipated events. About a year ago it obtained permission to build to Providence, R.I., from a point on the Central Vermont Railroad, which it controls. Its great improvements at Portland, Maine, are also to be put among the changes that tend to turn Canadian export grain to United States ports. The Wall Street Journal says:

"One important movement, likely to be accelerated, is that of the Grand Trunk towards the Atlantic ports. It extends into Portland, Maine, now. It has won its fight for an entry into Providence, R.I., furnishing a competition more formidable than any the ambitious New Haven System has hitherto had to face. Canadian Pacific also crosses the State of Maine, and the Canadian roads are not likely to sacrifice themselves to preserve a port so indifferent as Halifax if they can secure better access to tidewater from elsewhere. The Bangor and Aroostook and the Canadian Pacific interchange traffic at Brownville, in Aroostook County, and from thence there is a short and direct run over the former's tracks to Stockton Harbor, which is likely to develop rapidly, in view of the unsatisfactory port accommodation at Portland."

The New York Central Railway Company, which has also a half interest in the Rutland Railroad, is deeply interested in the reciprocity agreement. Its president, Mr. W. C. Brown, believes that the agreement will be good for United States railways.

According to a return tabled in the House of Commons on the last day of April there had then been expended to date on the Government division of the National Transcontinental Railway the sum of $91,000,000, and a further sum of $55,785,000 will be required to complete the division. It is probable that the latter estimate is as much below the mark as was the Government's original estimate of the total cost of the division. We have built the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the Canadian Northern Railway is being extended into a transcontinental system. All this has been done by enterprise and capital, for which we owe nothing to our neighbors. They restrained their covetousness towards Canada until this small population of ours had brought into existence a railway system whose total capital and bonds amount to about a billion and a half dollars. Our neighbors had no money to spare to assist in contributing in this great transportation development, but when our railway plant began to show its splendid fruits the United States was very desirous of tapping it and drawing to its ports the great traffic collected by it. Our neighbors bided their time, and they now seize the opportunity which a weak and unfaithful Canadian Government gives them to clutch the ripe fruit.

Quebec people should remember that this contest is a battle between Canadian and American Ports. Without reciprocity the traffic will come through Canadian Channels to Quebec, Montreal, Halifax, and St. John. Reciprocity would divert the trade either to the mills of Minneapolis, etc., or over American lines to Boston, Portland and Providence. Do you want Quebec's future to be sacrificed to build up Boston at the expense of our port? Do you want the railwaymen, the dock laborers to lose the employment that will be theirs if Canada is allowed finish her own work without Yankee interference and dictation? Do you want a greater Quebec or a stagnant Quebec? The Transcontinental traffic is our only chance for progress. If you want to lose it vote for reciprocity, vote for Hearst, vote for President Taft and vote for the Parent clique of self-seeking lawyers and professional politicians.

But, if you want a "Greater Quebec," then kill reciprocity.

RUDYARD KIPLING'S MESSAGE

Mr. Kipling can nearly always be trusted to say the right thing at the right time, but even if he did not, we would listen with respect to the man who wrote the Recessional, did he choose to couch his words in terms of condemnation.

We, however, will go much further than Mr. Kipling could with propriety in his words to us. He could only say that in the reciprocity agreement it was the national integrity of Canada, which is at stake, lest he should be thought to speak from the selfish private viewpoint of Great Britain.

It is true that Canada's national integrity is stake, and is in danger of being sacrificed. If we vote for reciprocity we destroy Canada as Canada. We substitute a continental ideal for that of our own country. We live no longer as Canadians but as part of the organization which has its headquarters in Washington.

For us as individuals, for our pockets and our money incomes, this may be a good thing or a bad thing. It may be better to belong to others than to ourselves, if only we live more fully. That is an argument to be considered. Surely the Jews were much better off, materially, through being incorporated in the great civilization of Egypt and having that enormous market for their bricks. They did not find it so, however. The Egyptians needed the bricks, but they had notions of their own about how much to pay for them, to a people whom they could dominate and upon whom they were able to enforce their will.

Our national integrity is a real thing. We are selling it cheaply enough. The great industrial monopolists of the United States are in the market to buy it because they want somebody to make bricks for them, and they would have people who will make them without straw.

But there is more at stake than that, and this is what Mr. Kipling did not say. If we destroy the national integrity of Canada we destroy the British Empire. These two things hang absolutely together. The union between us and Great Britain is purely fiscal. Certainly it is not a governmental union. Great Britain exercises no power over us, nor wishes to. But she lends us all the money that we need, from her we have inherited all the institutions we love, her blood and treasure protect us from assault, and she asks nothing in return. Even Mr. Kipling says nothing of the Empire and only speaks of our advantage and of the losses we are likely to incur.

What is appropriate from him would be ungenerous in us. If the national integrity of Canada is lost the British Empire is lost. That great chain of nations which constitutes the empire is broken in its most vital link. We cannot incorporate ourselves in the fiscal system of the United States without withdrawing ourselves from the British Empire. And if we do withdraw from the British Empire its hopes are ruined. It can never be developed as there is at present an opportunity of developing it. If there remains a British Empire Canada cannot possibly belong to it, and if Canada does no longer form an integral part of it, there will not be a great deal left.

Create upon the North American continent a united people one hundred millions strong, with common aspirations and common ideas and incidentally with plutocratic monopolies to relieve them of the necessity of looking after their money and possessions, and whatever else happens, all notion of a British Empire must disappear. The two things can not exist together. Of course, it is for us to consider how this will affect ourselves. We will be wholly swamped and lose our identity, as Mr. Kipling tells us. But we cannot rest there as he does. We think something of Great Britain, which is a part of the empire, and we think more of the empire as a whole, of which we are a part, and it will not do in a crisis of our affairs to lose sight of that consideration.

A BRILLIANT AND CHARMING VOCALIST

The news of the visit to America, this season, of the young and beautiful songstress, Miss Charlotte Lund, brought back to our mind some of the appreciations of the European critics and in looking through some of the newspapers of last year, we ran over the lengthy report which appeared in the Figaro, of Paris, the day after a concert given at the Salle Goussier, and from which, in order to inform and please our readers, we quote the few following lines:

"Charlotte Lund had an enormous success at the Salle Goussier, promptly winning all by the charm of a voice of great range and clear timbre, perfectly even throughout. She made a powerful impression in the compositions of Richard Strauss and of Brahms. The Largo of Handel won her an ovation, and she interpreted with extraordinary brilliancy La Chanson des Baisers, of Bemberg, and Nevin. No less appreciated were the songs of MacDowell, Hahn, Beach, Rogers and Nevin, which were sung to perfection."

It is expected that the big vessel will leave for New York this evening. If, as expected, she reaches there next Saturday, she will have crossed the Atlantic three times within three weeks. Hundreds of men worked all night and a double force was being used yesterday, thousands of tons of the steamship's cargo being discharged while as many thousands tons were taken on board. ## Who Finds the Money?

British Investors Send Hundreds of Millions of Dollars to Canadian Enterprises

By John V. Borne.

It is not well to insist that the British investor in Canadian enterprises is governed by political sentiment, or that there is some implied obligation on the borrower to do more than earn and pay the interest on the borrowings.

But there is sentiment in business, all the same; and it has had a good deal to do with the expansion of modern Canada.

See how it works in immigration, without which our lands and other natural resources availed us little, and the absence of which had much to do with the old-time desire for reciprocity. In 1910, over a hundred thousand people came to Canada from the British Islands. A poll of them would show that one of the chief reasons why they are here is that this is a British country.

The connection between the immigration of British people and the immigration of British money is clear. Money follows people, as trade follows the flag. People will not continue to come if their friends send bad accounts of how they are getting along. Money will not continue to come if the earning power of that which has been sent is weakened, and especially if there is a failure in the undertaking which the Government said is part of the fundamental commercial policy of the nation, and if that failure is even partially attributable to the substitution of a foreign country for the inter-Imperial trade on which the Prime Minister has declared "We set our hopes."

Consider the investment of British money that has been going on since, and as an effect of that declaration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The British Trade Commissioner for Canada, Mr. Richard Grigg, in a report issued April 1st, 1911, states that in the five years ending 1909, British investors sent $605,453,852 to Canada, irrespective of the millions brought by settlers and private individuals. Examine the widespread distribution of these investments—
Canadian Bank Shares... $ 1,125,000
Investment with Loan and Mortgage companies... 5,719,774
British Insurance Companies' Investments... 9,731,742
Municipal Bonds sold privately... 10,000,000
Industrial Investments... 22,500,000
Land and Timber Investments... 19,000,000
Mining Investments... 56,315,500
Public Flotations in London (Gov., Ry., etc.)... 481,061,836
Total... $605,453,852

IS TACTFUL HOSTESS.

Mrs. Henry Lane Wilson, wife of the American Ambassador to Mexico, is a great favorite in that country and her entertainments have been much complimented. A recent fete in honor of President and Mme. La Barra was fashioned after fetes given while she was with her husband at Brussels, under the rule of King Leopold. She was one of the few Americans invited to the wedding of the daughter of King Leopold, Princess Clementine, to Prince Louis Bonaparte.

SUCCESSFUL LADY FARMER.

Miss Frances Mitchell of Boone County, Mo., has a farm of 320 acres, which she runs herself. She is a graduate of a college. She does her own housework and then rides over the farm. If she does not like the way the work is done she orders the men to do it over again, and knows how to do it. She buys all her own seed, stock and material. She spends the winter months in travel, usually in Europe.

SCHOOL FOR MOTHERS.

The Borough Council of Croydon, in England, has a school for mothers, where poor women may go and learn how to care for their little ones, or where girls not yet married may be instructed in all that makes for perfect motherhood. The school for mothers idea has spread to this side of the ocean, and such a school has been recently opened in New York.

MOUNT ETNA'S TERRIFYING SCENE

Flood of Lava Pouring Down the Slope of the Mountain—Inhabitants in Danger.

Catania, Sicily, Sept. 12.—The crest of Mount Etna now presents a terrifying spectacle. Heavy smoke lies over it with frequent brilliant flashes, and the bombardment, which is continuous along a line nearly two miles in extent, is like the firing of heavy artillery. A torrent of burning lava, estimated at 2,000 feet wide and four feet deep, is pouring down the slope. Everything in its way has been carried before it. Groves of trees have been uprooted and set on fire, and the lava stream is sweeping through the fields, sending out for miles around hot resinous waves of smoke. The peasants have left their homes, carrying with them the aged, the sick, and the children, and whatever meagre belongings they were able to get together. Whole regions covered with hardened lava from past eruptions have been torn open by the frequent earth shocks. Many of these have been of great violence, and the peasants fear a repetition of the Messina disaster. Naples, Sept. 12.—Professor Capello has made a descent into the crater of Mount Vesuvius for scientific observations. He succeeded in descending many hundred feet below the mouth of the crater.

HORTON MAY OPPOSE GERMAN AT WELLAND

Welland, Ont., Sept. 12.—Laverne Horton of Pelham is circulating a nomination paper among Liberals of that township. Mr. Horton hopes to oppose Mr. German as a reciprocity candidate, and states that his entrance at this late hour will not hinder him from getting the reciprocity votes. Louis Kinnear, it is understood, has received word from Liberal headquarters that no objection would be raised to his candidature if he wishes to run.

SHARP FIGHTING IN FRENCH GUINEA

Paris, Sept. 12.—Mail advices received here today from French Guinea tell of sharp fighting between the troops of French posts and insurgent natives near the Liberian frontier. Captain Hequet, one sergeant and five privates were wounded. A despatch emanating from French sources affirms these reports, and adds that the trouble was fomented by the Liberians, contrary to the treaty delimiting the Liberian frontier.

MAYOR GAYNOR AND HABITUAL DRUNKARDS

New York, Sept. 12.—Cases of habitual drunkenness in New York City will be taken in hand by Mayor Gaynor's new board of inebriety on October 1. The board today decided to open temporary offices in the famous old Mulberry street building, long occupied as police headquarters, but will shortly acquire a suburban site and establish a home there. The police court records will supply the board with data from which it may pick its patients, who will be given treatment in an effort to reform them.

CITY OFFICIALS CHARGED WITH SOLICITING BRIBES

Gary, Ind., Sept. 12.—A warrant charging John J. Nihoff, former Commissioner of Public Works of this city, with soliciting a bribe of $10,000, was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Morris today for service. The charges are made by T. B. Dean, who, last week, caused the arrest of Mayor Knotts and five aldermen on charges of bribery in connection with granting a heating franchise. It is alleged that Nihoff demanded $10,000 of Dean for a coal yard, saying that the heating franchise would be granted if Dean took over Nihoff's coal yard. A statement by A. F. Knotts, brother of the Mayor, was issued today, in which it is charged that the alleged bribe money found in the Mayor's desk on the day of his arrest was "planted" there by Dean.

CONDITION OF UNITED STATES BANKS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Preliminary figures showing the condition on Sept. 1 of national banks in New York, Boston, Baltimore, St. Louis, Pittsburg and Cincinnati indicate in the aggregate a contraction of loans and discounts, a loss in individual deposits and some contraction of currency. The figures for Sept. 1 are compared with those of June 7, the previous call made by the Comptroller of the Currency. New York shows loans and discounts of $885,500,000, a loss of $18,000,000; due to other national banks $322,000,000, a loss of $26,000,000; individual deposits $766,000,000, a loss of $11,000,000. The loss in the item due other national banks is probably caused by the movement of bankers' deposits to the interior for crop moving. Boston shows loans and discounts $192,000,000, a loss of $2,000,000; individual deposits $172,000,000, a loss of $5,500,000. The situation in Pittsburg, St. Louis and Cincinnati is the reverse. St. Louis shows loans and discounts of $119,000,000, no change; individual deposits $73,500,000, a gain of $2,500,000. Pittsburg shows loans and discounts $139,000,000, a gain of $2,000,000; individual deposits $124,000,000, a gain of $2,000,000. Cincinnati shows loans and discounts $63,500,000, a gain of $2,000,000; individual deposits $44,500,000, a gain of $500,000. Baltimore's loans and discounts were $63,500,000, a gain of $2,000,000; individual deposits $47,000,000, no change.

MR. ELISEE DUPUIS

A FRANK TESTIMONIAL

Mr. Elisee Dupuis, of St. Paul de la Croix, was suffering from weakness, ST. MICHEL'S WINE cured him and he acknowledges its value.

Mr. Elisee Dupuis' trade is a hard one, that of sawyer; he had used his strength unsparingly and human endurance having its limits, he began to grow weak until finally the day came when he realized that he must find a remedy for his enfeebled condition. Mr. Elisee Dupuis has the courage of his convictions. This may be seen by the following letter:

MESSRS. BOIVIN, WILSON & CO., Montreal.

Gentlemen:—Many people hesitate at the idea of seeing their photographs or testimony published in the newspapers. For my part, I am not of these. When one obtains relief from his sufferings through another's help, it seems to me only just to give credit to whom it is due and show gratitude for the good that has been done. It is for this reason, gentlemen, that I take pleasure in thanking you for the marvellous results procured by means of your ST. MICHEL'S WINE, which I used for weakness, from which I suffered for many years. In my trade we are much more exposed than in many others. We over-exert ourselves, with the result you know and we often become extremely weak. I have been through the mill and if to-day I am enjoying good health, it is due in great part to the restorative properties of ST. MICHEL'S WINE. Since I have been taking this treatment I can attend to my work without fear of feeling weak as I used to formerly. I heartily urge my co-workers to follow my example, because I am certain that ST. MICHEL'S WINE will be worth its weight in gold to them. Once more, thank you a thousand times, thank you.

Very truly yours, ELISEE DUPUIS, St. Paul de la Croix.

P.S.—You will find enclosed my photograph which I had taken after being restored to health. One dozen and a half bottles were sufficient to make me strong again. E. D.

Thousands of persons have thus felt the benevolent action of ST. MICHEL'S WINE. We are receiving new testimonials daily which we will be able to publish with the permission of our correspondents.

SIR WILFRID GOES TO BEAUCE

Liberal Leader Passed Almost Unnoticed Through the Streets of the City.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier left at noon yesterday for Beauce as quietly as he had arrived the previous evening from Victorville. Sir Wilfrid passed through the streets of the city just like any other private citizen, and no particular notice was paid to him. It was somewhat a change from other years, when Sir Wilfrid was acclaimed and accompanied by cheering crowds wherever he went.

However, during his brief stay at the Chateau, Sir Wilfrid received many delegations and friends, and the Premier had a busy time.

Sir Wilfrid went down to the ferry at noon yesterday to take the ferry for Levis, but missing one boat he remained for the next almost unnoticed.
Sir Wilfrid will return to Quebec to address a meeting at the Drill Hall on Thursday evening.

MET WITH A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT

Young Physician Was the Victim of an Explosion of Dynamite.

Dr. Dube, a young physician in Ste.
Perpetue, County of L'Islet, met with a very serious accident at his home in that parish on Monday last and is now confined to the Hotel Dieu in this city, where he arrived yesterday.

About a year ago Dr. Dube was married and took up his residence in a house owned by a Mrs. Pelletier, who, before the former's marriage,
kept a well-known boarding house,
where she had several Transcontinental contractors as boarders. A short time ago, while Mrs. Pelletier was in her cellar and discovered a number of sticks of dynamite, but not knowing what they were, left them in the cellar. Dr. Dube's servant girl was in the cellar on Monday last and again noticed the dynamite sticks, and not being aware that they were explosives threw them in a barrel in an outer shed and shortly after threw some hot ashes into the barrel. Dr. Dube happened to go into the shed during the afternoon, when a terrible explosion took place, the building being completely demolished and the young physician being blown in the air and alighting across the road. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried into his residence, where medical aid was summoned, Dr.
Simard from Quebec proceeding to the scene in a private car. The victim is seriously injured, having one leg, both arms and four ribs and his nose broken, while his head was also badly cut. He was conveyed to the Hotel yesterday morning.

ELECTION CONTEST IN THE WEST

Fight Is a Strenuous One, But the Success of Mr. Price Is Undoubted.

The electoral contest in Quebec
West in a strenuous one, and no efforts are being spared by the friends of the two candidates to win success.

A visit to the committee rooms last evening revealed the fact that the supporters of Mr. Price were full of enthusiasm, and that they expected the popular and business man's candidate to be elected by a large majority. Mr.
Price has been received in the most gratifying manner in all parts of the division and his election is assured.

There will be a great meeting in his favor this evening in Champlain street, when the popular candidate will be supported by many well known speakers.

LAVERGNE SPOKE AT ST. MICHEL

Colonel Talbot Had a Hard Time in His Own Parish in Bellechasse.

There was a splendid meeting at St.
Michel, county of Bellechasse, yesterday afternoon. The parish is Mr.
Talbot's one, but the meeting was convened by the friend of Mr. Lavallee, the opposition candidate. The meeting was called for 2 p. m. but owing to a telephone message from Col. Talbot, who desired to be present, it was deferred until 3 o'clock.

A brilliant address was delivered by Mr. Armand Lavergne, who was answered by Mr. Talbot, but in his reply Mr. Lavergne made short work of his opponent's arguments.

The meeting was attended by some 400 people and the opposition candidate undoubtedly won the success.

SUPPOSED VICTIM

HAS TURNED UP.
Snowflake, Man, Sept. 12—Gladys
Price, the missing school teacher, who was thought to have been murdered and whose disappearance has kept the police busy, returned home
this evening in a state of exhaustion.
She told a story of having been attacked by a man with a shotgun, from whom she finally escaped. She lies in a precarious condition, but it is expected that she will shortly recover sufficiently to give some clue as to the identity of her assailant.

BIG MILLS WERE

DESTROYED BY FIRE.
Ridgetown, Ont., Sept. 12—The large mills of the Howard Cooperage and Lumber Company were destroyed by fire to-day. The plant has been closed for the past two or three years on account of the scarcity of timber, but was opened last spring by Mr. T.
G. Johnston and the Leitch Bros., and was employing a large number of hands. The entire plant was completely burned and the machinery ruined. It is unlikely the plant will be re-built here. The origin of the fire is not known, but a heavy clap of thunder was heard in that direction
just before the blaze was discovered.

FOUND RIGHT PATH

After a False Start.
"In 1890 I began to drink coffee.
"At that time I was healthy and enjoyed life. At first I noticed no bad effects from the indulgence but in course of time found that various troubles were coming upon me.
"Palpitation of the heart took upon itself sick and nervous headaches, kidney troubles followed and eventually my stomach became so deranged that even a light meal caused me serious distress.
"Our physician's prescriptions failed to help me and then I dosed myself with patent medicines till I was thoroughly disgusted and hopeless.
"Finally I began to suspect that coffee was the cause of my troubles. I experimented by leaving it off, except for one small cup at breakfast. This helped some but did not altogether relieve my distress. I satisfied me, however, that I was on the right track.
"So I gave up coffee altogether and began to use Postum. In ten days I found myself greatly improved, my nerves steady, my head clear, my kidneys working better and better, my heart's action rapidly improving, my appetite improved and the ability to eat a hearty meal without subsequent suffering restored to me. And this condition remains.
"Leaving off coffee and using Postum did this, with no help from drugs, as I abandoned the use of medicines
when I began to use the food drink."
Name given by Canadian Postum Co.,
Windsor, Ontario, Canada.
"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

PHYSICAL CULTURE IN TORONTO

Young Women's Christian Association Much Dissatisfied by Release of Teacher.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—That the action of the Young Women's Christian Association in dispensing with the services of Mrs. H. B. The majority of those who allied themselves with the new movement were members of the Young Women's Christian Guild before that organization became amalgamated with the Young Women's Christian Association, and some have taken physical culture lessons from Mrs. Somers for upwards of ten years. They have chosen as officers: Miss Henry, Hon. President; Miss Archer, President; Mrs. Middleton, Secretary, and Mrs. Lambly, Treasurer.

FIGHT IN THE COUNTY OF QUEBEC

Another Important Liberal in the Procession for Good Government.

Hon. Mr. Pelletier has nearly completed his visit to the different parishes of this county, where he has met with continual success.

On Monday there were joint meetings at Tewkesbury at 1 p.m., at Stoneham at 5.30 p.m. and at Notre-Dame des Laurentides at 9 p.m. The pro-Canada and anti-reciprocity candidate was given the same warm and enthusiastic reception as in all the other parishes.

There was some trouble after the Tewkesbury meeting and it looked at one time as if blows would be exchanged, but wiser counsels prevailed in the end. The cause of this flurry was easily discovered; a Government employe with a couple of young friends who have no votes in the parish had been drinking in a barn and they interrupted Mr. Allyn Taschereau, who accompanied Mr. Pelletier. The people from the parish resisted this and told them to keep quiet. After the meeting was over those noisy boys wanted to know who had had the audacity to tell them to shut their mouths. Three of them took off their coats and said they wanted to fight. At once three sturdy men came forward and accepted the offer. Then the courage of the boys from the whiskey barn decreased considerably and there was no blood spilled. After that Mr. Caouette's leader in the parish wanted to give "refreshments" to everyone, including Mr. Pelletier's friends, and he coolly asked him his permission.

Mr. Pelletier flatly and indignantly refused, whereupon that "leader" declared that at all events he was going to do something and he began a free distribution of cheese, biscuits, &c., and this was done openly on the very spot where the meeting had taken place. Evidently Mr. Caouette has not read the electoral law and we advise him to do so at once. The electors took the cheese and biscuits and had great fun over it, some of them telling Mr. Pelletier that they would take Mr. Caouette's provisions and even his money if he had any to offer, but that they would vote all the same against reciprocity. Tewkesbury will give a majority to Mr. Pelletier.

In Stoneham things were much quieter, but it was evident that fully two-thirds of the meeting were in favor of Mr. Pelletier. At Notre-Dame des Laurentides in the evening there was a large crowd. At least seven-eighths of the people present cheered lustily for Mr. Pelletier and this discouraged Mr. Caouette so much that he gave up his right to a ten minutes reply, saying he was tired. Messrs. Pelletier and Taschereau then came back to Quebec by the Charlesbourg road. As was expected, their automobile was watched for and at a great many points the people were out on the door steps or on the roadside and shouting "Hurrah for Pelletier."

Yesterday it was the turn of Valcartier, a Liberal stronghold for years, to rally round the British flag and against the star spangled banner. Here an interesting event took place. Mr. Edmond Conway, the well-known lumber merchant, of this city, a life long Liberal, stood on the platform and in a very clever, neat and eloquent speech denounced reciprocity in scathing terms. Mr. Conway was born in Valcartier and at every election for 20 years he went to his native parish to fight for the Liberals. However, today, said Mr. Conway, I will place my country before my party. But there is more, said Mr. Conway. While I have still some faith in the Gouin Government, I have no more use for the Ottawa Government, which is breaking all its pledges and refusing to Quebec the dry dock, the deepening of the St. Charles River, &c. There is more, added Mr. Conway, look at the men who surround Mr. Laurier to-day, the Mowats, The Blairs, the Tartes, the Davies, the Fitzpatricks are gone and the Pugsleys, the Frederick Borden and the Oliviers are on top. At the last election Mr. Turcotte, a nonentity, was forced upon us when Dr. McKay, a good man, had been the convention's choice, and now when I see men like William Price, Rodolphe Forget and L. P. Pelletier, whose presence in Parliament should be desired by all good men, opposed bitterly by my party and in some cases, as in this county, by a white elephant candidate, I say it is enough to make us throw up any liberalism that may be left in our bodies. Mr. Conway's speech was frequently interrupted by loud applause and he was given an ovation at the end.

He was followed by Mr. Caouette, who briefly said that as he could not speak very fluently in English Mr. Arthur Fitzpatrick would speak for him. Mr. Fitzpatrick made a neat little speech and was listened to with courtesy and some applause. Hon. Mr. Pelletier was then called upon and went fully in the political questions of the day. He received a great welcome and ought to be proud of his success. With Valcartier in line, we fail to see one single parish where Mr. Caouette could take the majority. As in Tewkesbury the electors were also offered "refreshments" on the spot and in the open air. They "took" them and a few may accept more if it is offered, but their votes for the British tie and against the "parting of the ways" will be given all right. Mr. Caouette, who has declared that he is running as a "good Catholic and impenitent Liberal," has taken a pledge that no spirituous liquors would be distributed in the county. And now his "friends" are distributing the poison freely. It can be traced everywhere. The parish priests are consequently up in arms. One of them has even written a letter to Mr. Caouette informing him that he would be denounced from the pulpit on Sunday if the liquor is not at once thrown in the river. This fact is certain, the letter was written by the parish priest of Notre-Dame des Laurentides and handed to Mr. Caouette as soap as he reached that parish on Monday evening.

A SPIRITED REPLY TO THREAT OF COERCION FROM THE U. S. The following spirited and suggestive reply, to a threat of coercion from the United States, was recently made by Mr. E. B. Osler, in addressing a meeting in West Toronto: "It has been said that if we reject them now the United States will close its doors against us. "I tell you that if we reject them now they'll respect us as they have never respected us before. "We'll make them respect us. "We'll make the world respect us as it never respected us before. "We'll make ourselves a great nation. "Instead of Sir Wilfrid Laurier saying that he's made us a nation we'll make ourselves a nation great in the face of the world. "We'll have achieved a nationality such as Sir Wilfrid Laurier has never dreamed of. Canada is "at the parting of the ways"; but if the people of this country are imbued with the spirit of Mr. Osler and his friends, she will not take the "way" that Mr. Taft and Sir Wilfrid Laurier desire. The Republic is great, but the British Empire is far greater. Taftism is something, but Chamberlainism is far greater, especially from a British and Canadian point of view. Under proper management the British Empire of the future must be the very ideal of national glory, and Canada's place in it must be so high as almost to dim the ever-glorious Motherland. Compare such an outlook for Canada with that of becoming an appendix to Washington.

SMELL OF BAKING BREAD WAS OFFENSIVE

New York, Sept. 12.—Too much of what is usually accounted an agreeable odor—the smell of baking bread—has caused the tenants of J. F. Dougherty's apartments on Grand street, which is within nose-range of a bakery, to form an almost continuous procession ever since the bakery opened, moving in one week and out the next. The limit of Mr. Dougherty's patience was reached today and he secured a permit to build a fence of corrugated iron, 14 feet wide and five stories high, between his apartment house and the bakery. Experts have assured him that such a fence will deflect any odor.

LABOR MAN'S MODEST FORTUNE.

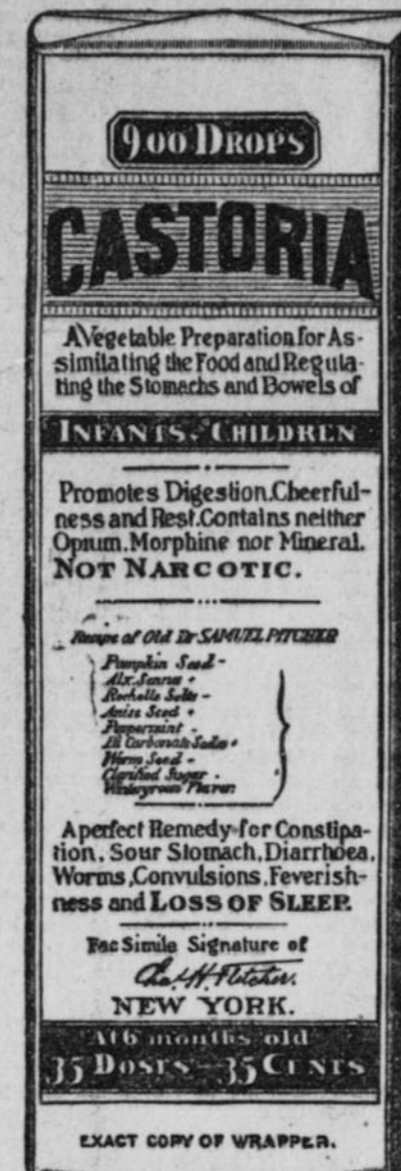

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Thomas Charles Voden, the well known labor man and financial secretary of Toronto Typographical Union, who dropped dead in the parade on Labor Day, leaves an estate of $509 cash to his wife.

ABOUT RIGHT.

The recruit was being put through an examination in geography, wherein he proved himself astonishingly ignorant. At last, after a failure on his part of unusual flagrance, the examiner scowled at him and thundered: "Idiot, you want to defend your country and you don't know where it is!" —Houston Post.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. J. W. Dinsdale, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I use your Castoria and advise its use in all families where there are children." Dr. Alexander E. Mintie, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "I have frequently prescribed your Castoria and have found it a reliable and pleasant remedy for children." Dr. Agnes V. Swetland, of Omaha, Nebr., says: "Your Castoria is the best remedy in the world for children and the only one I use and recommend." Dr. J. A. McClellan, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I have frequently prescribed your Castoria for children and always got good results. In fact I use Castoria for my own children." Dr. J. W. Allen, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I heartily endorse your Castoria. I have frequently prescribed it in my medical practice, and have always found it to do all that is claimed for it." Dr. C. H. Glidden, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "My experience as a practitioner with your Castoria has been highly satisfactory, and I consider it an excellent remedy for the young." Dr. H. D. Benner, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria as a purgative in the cases of children for years past with the most happy effect, and fully endorse it as a safe remedy." Dr. J. A. Boardman, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children." Dr. J. J. Mackey, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I consider your Castoria an excellent preparation for children, being composed of reliable medicines and pleasant to the taste. A good remedy for all disturbances of the digestive organs."

GOLF CHAMPIONS ARE COMPETING

British and Irish Players Made Fine Showing in Opening Round.

Rye, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Champions and former champions fell as thick as autumn leaves in the amateur golf championship at Apawamis today, and the sixteen who survived the final round of medal play and the first round of match play included only one player that has borne the American title. Among the sixteen, however, are two likely foreigners, in H. H. Hilton, the British champion, and J. Douglas Brown, the Irish holder of 1907, and Jerome D. Travers, who won in this country in 1907 and 1908.

Among those who closed their national folding career for 1911 today were William C. Fownes of Pittsburgh, who won last year at Country Club; Walter J. Travis, once a British and three times an American champion; E. M. Beyers of Pittsburgh. George S. Lyon of Toronto, and such famous players as Robert Gardner and Mason Phelps of Chicago, and T. M. Sherman of Utica.

When Secretary R. C. Watson came off the last green, a couple of hours after noon today, with a card that just completed the necessary 32 players for the afternoon play, the committee immediately drew the opponents for the first round of match play. Hilton drew a place at the top of the list, while Charles Evans is near the foot, and it is figured that if each of these two players should continue their winning streak for the next three days, it will be Saturday when they cross clubs for the first time.

The honors of the day were easily Hilton's, and the odds against his chance of winning the American title were considerably lower tonight. The first prize in the tournament went to him on the completion of the 35-medal play, for which he turned in a card of 150, that led Gardner and Seckel by two strokes. Mr. Hilton also hopes to take home with him to the Royalpool Golf Club on Saturday the championship medal and the Havemeyer cup.

Nearly all the afternoon matches were well fought, two of them going an extra hole, and one being finished on the eighteenth green.

Nantel's home was at 81A St. Margaret street, St. Henri.

MR. R. L. BORDEN AT HALIFAX

Conservative Leader Had Magnificent Reception Last Evening—Sir C. H. Tupper Also There.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 12.—R. L. Borden arrived from Cape Breton this afternoon and appeared at a great meeting in the Arena, where 6000 people had gathered to hear a speech from him, A. B. Croby and Sir Hibbert Tupper. They were given a great reception and cheering was frequently heard. There was no discordant note in the proceedings. The Liberals had three counter meetings in different parts of the city. Mr. Borden's speech was well received. He pointed out anew what he considered the danger to the Canadian home market and our national identity from the reciprocity pact and reiterated his opinion that once entered into Canada would not be free to abrogate it and in the long run it meant that the Canadian tariff would be made at Washington—not at Ottawa.

Following Mr. Borden the audience sang a patriotic song. When Sir Hibbert Tupper rose he was given a generous round of applause.

He spoke of the reciprocity agreement as an insidious conspiracy and said it had come like a bolt from the blue, and while Canada was prospering under the national policy. The Canadian people must defeat it. He had in the past condemned Bourassa and his policy, but in the face of the danger presented in this reciprocity pact he would welcome Bourassa, Monk or anyone else who would help to defeat the agreement.

Sir Hibbert spoke of the attempt of the United States to injure Canadian trade and prevent our ascendancy which they feared by their bonding arrangements. That had failed, he said, and now they were on another tack. They proposed assimilation and closer connection to change the currents of trade from east to west to north and south. He predicted the people would vote against this on Sept. 21.

Mr. Borden speaks in Dartmouth tomorrow and in Shelburne, Queens county, on Thursday. Sir Hibbert Tupper will be in Annapolis county tomorrow.

11,000 MEMBERS HAD BEEN MET

Rev. Dr. Patterson Makes Interesting Report to Montreal Presbytery.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—The raising of a fund of a million dollars for next year was discussed today at the meeting of the Montreal Presbytery, when Rev. Dr. MacKay, moderator of the General Assembly, and Rev. Dr. A. S. Grant, general superintendent of Home Mission, launched a scheme for merging the separate funds of the church.

"This amount would be apportioned by the synods to the various presbyteries, which in their turn would apportion it out to congregations within their bounds, and in each congregation a standing committee will be appointed to see that the necessary proportion is raised within the year."

Mr. MacKay reported that the presbyteries of Toronto and Quebec had already signified their approval of such a scheme.

The Mormon menace was taken cognizance of by the presbytery by their agreement to have a lecture given in this city by Mr. J. Preece, an American, said to be an authority on the matter.

The matter of church union cropped up on a motion put forth by Rev. Dr. Clarke, who proposed that ministers be instructed to make a clear statement of the history of the movement in their congregations. The motion was passed.

The report of Rev. Dr. Patterson, immigration chaplain at Quebec, showed that 11,000 members of the church had been met and helped.

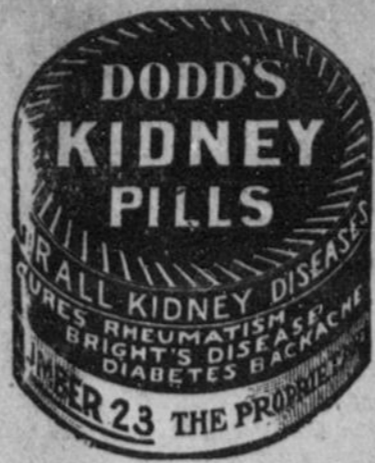

He advocated the establishment of an institution for transients.

BOURASSA HAD A LIVELY MEETING

Vercheres, Que., Sept. 12.—Mr. Henri Bourassa held a meeting here today in support of Mr. Rainville, opposition candidate. As usual the Liberal candidate demanded an "assemblee contradictoire" and as usual the privilege was refused him. This led to a very lively meeting as Mr. Victor Georffron, the Liberal nominee, had many friends with him who were determined that if he was not allowed to address the meetings his opponents should not be heard. Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Rainville were constantly interrupted and it required all the Nationalist leaders caustic wit to finally secure him a hearing. Mr. Bourassa attacked the navy and opposed reciprocity on grounds which have been made familiar by his previous speeches.

THIS MAN'S DEATH IS A MYSTERY.

North Bay, Ont., Sept. 12.—A man, whose name is supposed to be Boyd, residence and relatives unknown, was given employment by the Delapante Lumber Company on Saturday at Tomoko, 27 miles north of North Bay. Yesterday his body was found in a small lake near the village. The body had not sunk, being held on the surface by the clothing having become fastened in a snag. The cause of his death is a mystery.

SPECIAL BALLOT BOXES MADE

Conservative Candidate in Edmonton Claims They Are of Peculiar Construction.

Edmonton, Alb., Sept. 12.—The feature of the political contest in Edmonton today is the charge made by the Conservative candidate Griesbach that thirty special ballot boxes have been made for use in the north of the constituency and have already been sent out. He produced a sample of tin box which he claimed was being used and which could be opened by pulling out a wire holding the hasp without breaking the seals. The charge brought out a sworn statement from Returning Officer Charles May to the effect that the allegations are absolutely false. Mr. May states that all new boxes were made by two local firms in the regular way and the managers of these firms have also made affidavits denying the charges. Griesbach, on the other hand, claims that he has affidavits bearing out his charges. May has written to Griesbach through his solicitors giving him 48 hours to withdraw the charges or he will prosecute for damages. The public is expecting further developments.

ANGLICANS AND NE TEMERE DECREE

Interesting Debate Took Place on Subject at Meeting of General Synod.

London, Ont., Sept. 12.—The Ne Temere decree occupied the attention of the Anglican synod today, and just prior to adjournment, Hon. S. H. Blake's original motion, to have the entire matter referred to a committee of the two houses, which would be empowered to recommend legislation, was carried.

Canon Kittson of Ottawa said that he had the greatest respect for the Roman Catholic Church and people, for he had been brought up in Roman Catholic environment. He had been born a Roman Catholic, had been baptized a Roman Catholic, and in later years had married a Protestant girl, and, according to the attitude of the Roman Catholic Church that marriage could be annulled and his children declared illegitimate. He claimed that the Roman Catholic Church was invading civil authority and that the Parliament of the Dominion was the body to appoint those who should perform the marriage ceremony, and that no church should interfere.

Rev. Dr. Paterson-Smith of Montreal supported the original motion, claiming that there should be a determined demand from the Church of England that the marriages performed by any authorized person should be recognized. "We are experiencing great trouble in Montreal," he said, "and are on the rampage." He cited examples of the action of Roman Catholic priests in declaring marriages void unless solemnized according to the decree. He was supported in this by Canon Scott of Quebec and Dean Bidwell of Kingston, who declared that the sanctity of the home was in danger, and that knew of several cases where Roman Catholic priests had completely wrecked homes wherein happiness and contentment had dwelt.

Lawrence Baldwin of Toronto was the only member of the house who spoke in favor of the decree and his speech was greeted with cries of "No, no," and it was clear that it was not in accordance with the views of the synod. He took the ground that the Church was perfectly within its rights in issuing this decree, and that they had as much right to do that as the Church of England clergy had in refusing the marriage of persons who had once been divorced.

Chancellor Davidson dealt with the subject from a legal standpoint, citing the rulings of two judges of the Province of Quebec, one a Protestant and another a Roman Catholic, the decisions being directly at variance. No new legislation was necessary in Quebec; all that was required was the proper interpretation of the law and an action of the Dominion Parliament making marriages solemnized by proper authorities valid from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Hon. S. H. Blake closed with the assertion that he had a great love for the Roman Catholics, and that some of his warmest friends, embraced that faith, but "he hated the system."

The motion, when put, carried unanimously. The resolution of Mr. Blake that all disputed marriages be decided by the Exchequer Court was also carried. Vancouver was chosen as the next place of meeting.

Five Great Woodyards Blazing Furiously—Railroad Depot Also on Fire.

Antwerp, Sept. 12.—A great fire broke out here tonight, and five vast woodyards were blazing furiously at midnight. The glare was visible as far as Brussels. All the firemen of the district were called out but were powerless to check the flames. The fire is believed to be the most extensive that has occurred here in years. The fire spread rapidly and consumed a big railroad depot and several houses. The garrison was then ordered out to aid the firemen. The damage is estimated in the millions. It will probably be several days before the fire burns itself out.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

McDonald & Lesperance, stock brokers, private wire to New York and Montreal, Hochelaga Bank Building, Telephone 1227.

Canadian Press Service.

New York, Sept. 12.—Movements of prices on the Stock Exchange today indicated that for the time being at least Wall street was in a more cheerful mood. The market developed its customary irregularity, and there were no signs that any substantial support had been tendered. But trading began with a higher level of prices and during most of the session the list ranged somewhat above the previous close. At the end of the day small fractional gains were general with a few stocks a full point higher.

The heaviest selling occurred during the fore part of the session, when for a short period there seemed to be a recurrence of the enforced liquidation so often observed in the market of the past few weeks. For a time the market depressed sharply although the only result was to cancel the earlier gains. Only two of the active stocks were forced to new low levels of the year. Pennsylvania receded to 119 1/2 and Missouri Pacific to 35 1/2. The market soon reversed its position and mounted to well above the final range of yesterday.

The advance resulted largely from the covering of shorts contracts on the part of operators who believed that the market had been 'oversold'. The market became dull on the advance, the demand being limited largely to the trading element. In spite of the long extended downward movement there has been no apparent increase in the amount of public participation in the market.

One of the most important factors in determining the market's tone was the demand from abroad. Europe was a source of strength, the foreign liquidation of recent days being replaced by purchases of about 35,000 shares. Only a small part of this amount was for London account, Paris and Berlin taking the larger part.

Foreign advices failed to relieve the uneasiness as to the Moroccan situation, which has been a potent influence on this market as well as those of Europe. The prevailing uncertainty over European political implications is reflected in the foreign exchange market, in a decline in the sterling rate at Paris and some firmness in the sterling rate at Berlin. Changes in the Paris exchange market have caused a slight advance here in eight francs. Although bankers pretend to see no likelihood of war they admit that the present situation is causing some unsettlement in exchange trading.

Outside of the market leaders there was much irregularity. International Harvester yielded about two points on a reiteration of the report of approaching proceedings by the federal government against the company. Pacific Mail was one of the strongest of the specialties, with an advance of two points. Prices were influenced but slightly by the failure of a stock exchange firm, assurances being given that the failure was not connected with the present settlement of the market, and that it involved no other interests.

American Tobacco issues were exceptionally strong. Heavy buying of these issues was supposed to be in connection with the expected early completion of the plan of re-organization. The advance in the four and six per cent bonds which later reacted, was the feature of the bond market.

Bonds generally were firm. Total sales, par value, $2,435,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

POLITICAL NEWS

THE SITUATION IN THE DISTRICT OF QUEBEC.

It is quite incomprehensible that the Hon. S. N. Parent, Chairman of the Transcontinental Railway Commission, should be taking such an active part in the Liberal organization in the present campaign. It is evident, in consequence, that Mr. Parent, holding the important position that he does, is making it subservient to political ends, and his often repeated assurances of his interest in the progress of the city is also synonymous with the success of a Liberal administration. We might just as well have expected Sir Charles Fitzpatrick to take an open, active interest in the political game here, after his appointment to the Chief Justiceship, as that Mr. Parent should go out of his way to try to secure the defeat of Mr. William Price, the popular member for Quebec West.

It is to our knowledge that Mr. Parent solicited several gentlemen here to contest the seat with Mr. Price, and used his well-known influence to that effect. Even Mr. Power refused at first; not only once, but several times, and to several people. But, as Mr. Parent could secure no other candidate, Mr. Power was finally induced to accept the nomination, with certain assurances, of course, the nature of which can be easily imagined, having to do with the celebrated legal firm who are running this district.

245 University St.,
Montreal, Sept. 11, 1911.

To the Editor of the Chronicle:

Dear Sir,—I am not a practical politician. I vote and talk politics in the family circle and that only semi-occasionally. While at the Toronto Fair I was struck with the overwhelming tide that had started in favor of Borden and his party; it seemed to permeate the Fair. Two English farmers from Manitoba I met, who were a little doubtful as to how they should vote. In talking to them I used the following argument which happened to present itself to me in answer to their hope that reciprocity might put up the price of barley permanently.

About the only use for barley in large quantities is for making beer. Supposing that every settler in the Canadian Northwest to-day would raise ten acres of barley, the American beer only would be so flooded that the consumer would have the producer at his mercy. Barley would be cheaper than it is to-day. You seem to think that you and your neighbors would be about the only producers, but barley can be raised as a sure crop in a stretch of country in Canada alone covering a half a million square miles and in as large a territory in Russia and it would be raised if a market could be obtained for so large a production, but the market does not exist in the world anywhere for enormous quantities of barley.

It is clear to me that reciprocity would cause the farmer to lose his home market without obtaining any permanent advantage in return. Add to this the fact, the disquieting fact, of the other favored nations clause in our treaty and it would seem to me as suicidal for the farmer to vote for reciprocity as it is for the workman or the manufacturer to do so.

The farmers to whom I was speaking were British and were very much troubled as to the possible results of reciprocity. They told me that they would carefully weigh the arguments advanced them. I would like the farmers among your readers to do so as well.

Another argument that suggested itself to one of them was that the farmer had his share to pay of the enormous debt contracted in building railways and canals to run eastward from Manitoba through Canada and that the successful working of reciprocity must necessarily take those roads the business which alone has made them in the past or can make them in the future self supporting.

Yours truly,
Traveller...

PUGSLEY'S FAREWELL.

A Western paper says that Mr. Pugsley has written the following letter, to be in readiness for the end of next week:

My Dear, Confiding Constituents: Though duly re-elected to my old seat by your never-failing kindness, beg to tender my resignation, owing to the landslide which has just swept the Laurier Government out of existence. It pains me deeply to thus sever my connection with my old constituency. It does, indeed. Politics and I have had each other tender farewells, and believe me, I have donated my last inland wharf. Being still in the prime of life, I intend passing the remainder of my days earning an honest livelihood. This will be an odd experience, but with that end in view, I have accepted a position as driver of a water cart in the Newmarket Canal to keep down the dust. The emoluments in connection with this humble office are not of staggering dimensions, but the job will bring with it peace of mind, of which I am in much need at present. If any of my former friends can see their way to presenting me with a quiet old horse to haul the cart, I shall feel deeply obliged. It must be a quiet old horse, with no tricks. I can provide the tricks myself.

Your obedient servant,
WILLIAM PUGSLEY.

RAILWAY TRACK AT TORONTO.

Toronto, Sept. 12—Within fifteen days railway traffic in the west end of Toronto will be carried on the depressed tracks from Bathurst street to Sunnyside and on the elevated tracks from Sunnyside to the Humber River. For some time eastbound trains have used the new track, but soon two other tracks will be ready and then westbound traffic will use the new route too. Two-thirds of the excavation work has been done, and the one-third that remains will be completed this year. The track depression and elevation is to carry four tracks when it is finished. Some of the retaining walls have yet to be built on the eastern end of the $2,000,000 job, and the bridge building will be a feature of next spring's work.

Montreal, Sept. 12—Alderman Boyd, chairman of the Civic Park and Playgrounds Committee, will make a trip around the outskirts of the city to look over localities for parks which will come under the scheme of the committee. The particulars of the most desirable properties for this purpose will be tabulated and values will be placed on them. It is probable that if circumstances warrant options will be taken on which to base the loan of $2,000,000 for park improvements and extensions.

UNKNOWN MAN WAS TERRIBLY BEATEN.

Montreal, Sept. 12—An unknown man was found in Fortification Lane at noon in a terribly mutilated condition, and so weak he could not tell his name to the police officer who found him. At first the patrol was sent for, as it was thought the man had been drinking, but his condition was so serious that the ambulance of the Notre-Dame Hospital was finally summoned, and he was taken to the hospital, where his wounds received attention. His head and face were terribly battered, evidently by blows from some one's fists. The police are now investigating the affair.
