SCENES AT THE FATHER AND SON BANQUET IN HUNTINGDON

Scouts And Cubs Hold Successful Father And Son Banquet

A very well attended Father and Son Banquet was held in the dining hall of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, on Saturday evening, in connection with the Scouts and Cubs of Huntingdon Troops. The banquet was under the auspices of the Huntingdon Group Committee and the annual meeting of this group and reports were a part of the evening's program. Approximately 170 persons attended and the dining hall was well filled.

The ladies of the church catered for the banquet and a very fine meal of turkey and all the trimmings was served and also enjoyed. A few mothers were present and some of the boys had foster fathers for this particular occasion.

At the head table were the following: Mrs. Allen Stewart, Mrs. D. McNaughton and Mrs. Roy Moore, Assistant Leaders; Rev. P.R. Stote, Mrs. Wm. Sexton, Wm. Sexton, District Commissioner, Msgr. J. A. David, Arthur McIntyre, Troop Leader; W. J. Goodall, Group Committee Chairman, Allan Hunter, Group Committee; Mr. Robert Cunningham, Guest Speaker; Rev. J. M. Grant, Rev. W. E. Black, V. Johnson, Scout Master; J. Cappiello, Cub Master; R. McArthur, Secretary Group Committee; L. Carrigan, Cub Master.

With everyone seated, the dads with their lads, Rev. J. M. Grant said grace and the evening began. The Toast to the Queen was given and following this Mr. Wm. Goodall, Chairman of the Group Committee, welcomed everyone, thanked the parents, the fathers and the foster fathers, he then proceeded to introduce the guests at the head table. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the Secretary, Mr. R. McArthur. In the absence of Mr. Rupert Hawley, the Treasurer, Mr. Goodall read the financial statement. This showed the finances to be in very good condition with a balance on hand.

Mr. J. Cappiello, Cub Master, was called upon for a few words. He explained that the Beaver Pack was increasing even though the boys were going up to the Scouts. In September there were 29 boys, while at the present time there are 31. He said it was much better now as the Ladies are helping with the Cubs and this is working very well.

Mr. L. Carrigan, Cub Master, reported on the Bulldog Pack and explained that this Pack had received a visit from Malone Cubs and there had been a meeting at Howick. He said the meeting at Howick was not too well planned as there were several hitches in the proceedings. However, he hoped that the next such meeting would be better planned. A very good course for leaders was held at Beauharnois. Such a course had never been held in Huntingdon and he hoped that next time this event would be held in Huntingdon for the leaders here. Seventeen new Cubs joined during the year. More help is still needed and he hoped that volunteers would come forward. Had it not been for the ladies offering their services, he feared the project would have ended last year.

Mr. V. Johnson, Scout Master, gave his report. He said the Huntingdon Scouts attended a Camporee at Malone when about ten boys went along. The Chateauguay Valley District also held a Camporee when 300 boys and leaders were present. Huntingdon had 13 boys and one leader in attendance. The theme used was that of cavemen and all wore a type of Flintsone dress and operated the camp along such lines. Costumes were judged and points awarded. Cooking was in cave man style. Races were held and Church Services were also held. Huntingdon won a ribbon for one of the activities. There were 21 Scouts at the start of the year, but there are now 37. Leaders are required for the more advanced training and for rifle training. He called for anyone who could help in this way to volunteer their services.

Ronnie Elliot proposed the Toast to the Fathers. Rev. W. E. Black made the reply to the Toast. He said he felt that in the rush of the modern day, that the banquet gave an opportunity to get to know sons better. Scouts were taught the value of citizenship, values in skills and many other useful values. He urged all to keep up the good work and learn the values that Scouting can bring.

Rev. J. M. Grant introduced the Guest Speaker, who he said came from Northern Ireland in November to serve in Athelstan and Elgin for the Presbyterian Church. He introduced Mr. Robert Cunningham.

Mr. Cunningham is a very interesting speaker and a little Irish humor which makes an appeal to an audience. He said he was going to talk on Ants. He lived in the heart of the Belgian Congo for nine years as a missionary. He was fascinated by many things about the Congo, one of these being the ants that are found there. However, he felt that he had learned a lot from these ants and went on to describe his findings.

The Congo is alive with ants and they eat practically anything that lies in their path. He mentioned the early part of his stay in the Congo, when ants ate his slippers. The first thing one does on arising in the morning is to put on slippers in order not to be bitten by the various insects. He tried to find his slippers on this particular morning and they were not there. He called the house boy and after a while they found the buckles, the slippers had been eaten by the ants.

The driver ants are probably the worst and they drive everything before them even human beings. They have also been known to stampede a herd of elephants. When it was known that these ants were invasion bent, the people quickly gathered a few things together and left the area. If they did not want the ants eating everything, they would burn down their houses to stop them. However, when these ants came they just marched over everything and ate all in their path, or took it into the jungle to their queen. Chickens, rats and mice were eaten by the ants as well as other insects. One thing certain when these ants had completed their invasion the house were quite clean and insects would not bother for several weeks. Clothing left behind was eaten.

Since coming to Canada he had been shovelling snow so much for the past few weeks that he felt that this battle was almost as bad as the one with the ants. He learned from the ants that once they made the decision to march, they went through with it. They had a sense of direction and they were very devoted. He felt the boys could learn much from this story of the ants and boys should be sure of their decisions. The speaker held the rapt attention of all.

Mr. Allan Hunter thanked the speaker and said he had learned much that he had never known before and he felt that others had done likewise. He thanked Mr. Cunningham for a most interesting and informative talk.

Mr. Goodall thanked the ladies who supplied and served the meal.

Rev. Stote for the Nominating Committee, read the proposed slate of officers for the coming year. It was the same officers as for the previous year and these were accepted by the meeting and re-elected for another term.

Mr. Goodall for Mr. Hawley thanked the School Board and the Principal. He thanked the ladies for their help with the Cubs, those who had supplied transportation to camps, etc., and the help received from bus owners in the district. Special thanks were also offered to Mr. J. M. Smellie for the use of his camp at Leblanc's Point without charge during the last summer months. He mentioned the financial campaign which was now on and hoped that all would support this as generously as possible when called upon.

District Commissioner Sexton told how Scouting activities have increased in this area. He said there are about 1,000 boys and adults in local area groups. Help is needed and he hoped that the fathers would volunteer their assistance as had been asked for by local leaders.

Msgr. J. A. David pronounced the Benediction.

Dundee

DUNDEE — Mr. Georges Lenthier recently returned from a stay in hospital. To celebrate the occasion, Mrs. René Martel gave a party in his honor. Door prize winner was Mrs. Jan Paul Latreille.

The Misses Jean and Ann Fraser attended the Macdonald College Royal last Friday in company with others from Huntingdon High School.

Council Approves Plan For Bylaw To Create Industrial Fund

The adjourned meeting of the Huntingdon Town Council was held at the County Building, on Monday evening, February 25th, with all members present except Alderman McGerrigle, and Mayor Paul Lefebvre presiding.

Mr. C. Howarth of Lorne Avenue, came before the council complaining that a neighbour on the opposite side of the street persisted in throwing the snow from his side onto the property of Mr. Howarth. There was so much snow on his property that it was impossible to see what was coming on the street from the house and he felt it was dangerous and asked if some of it could be removed and also that the neighbor be warned not to keep putting the snow on that side of the street. Council said a letter would be sent to the party involved with the request that he stop the practice.

The meeting then got down to business of discussing Bill 65 which has to do with the creation of an Industrial Fund. The secretary read the contents of the Bill both in English and in French so that all might understand it. The Bill sets forth the conditions and showed that such a fund can be established for industrial purposes. It is subject to a by-law by the Town and to approval of two Government depts. who also have jurisdiction as to the amount of the loan that may be made under the Act.

Alderman Walsh said he was not in favor of borrowing money to lend money. Not every taxpayer was aware of what the Bill was about.

Alderman Picard said he was in favor, but not for a large amount.

Mayor Lefebvre said nothing was at stake as the taxpayer would have full say on the matter before it goes into effect.

Alderman Picard said the amount of a loan for such a fund should be limited to $50,000 or $75,000.

Mr. Ronnie Lalonde who was representing the Huntingdon Development Corporation, said that when the by-law is asked for it should be for the full amount that can be allowed thereby saving cost. The council should look ahead to the future.

Mayor Lefebvre said he thought the amount should be for $100,000 and most of the Aldermen agreed with this.

Alderman Walsh said he could not go along with the plan because he thought it was beyond this council.

Alderman Picard finally agreed to go along with an amount of $100,000. Therefore he gave notice that at a next regular meeting he would bring in a Notice of Motion for a by-law to create an Industrial Fund for an amount limited to $100,000.

All present except Alderman Walsh agreed with this.

The plan at present only concerns the creating of a fund, it does not involve an actual loan. If the by-law passes, then it would empower the council to borrow up to the amount of $100,000. for industrial purposes when and as required. This was explained by Mayor Lefebvre.

The matter of the swimming pool was brought up at the meeting and Mayor Lefebvre explained he was present at the meeting regarding this project. He had been asked what the Town might do and he said he would refer it to the next council meeting.

The feeling of the council was that all were interested in the pool, but will decide what can be done when the actual requirements are known.

It is likely that when the new bridge is built across the river at Henderson street that the present water pipe which crosses alongside the present bridge will have to be replaced. This being so, the new pipe should be a larger one to take care of the future. As the new bridge will be wider than the present one, the pipe will have to be laid at a different point. This matter is to be studied in the meantime and the bridge contractor will be advised accordingly.

Appointed First Vice-President

MRS. KAY WILLIAMS

At the recent meeting of the Province of Quebec Association of Hospital Auxiliaries, held at the Windsor Hotel, a local resident, in the person of Mrs. Kay Williams, had the singular honour of being appointed, 1st Vice-President of the association, filling the vacancy created by the retirement of Mrs. Sharwood.

Mrs. Williams, always keenly interested in charitable work, has worked with the Protestant Orphans Home (Belmont St.). During World War II she was associated with 'Bundles for Britain', the Welsh Ladies' Guild and was Honorary Treasurer of the Welsh Bombed Areas Fund. She is a past matron of the Eastern Star.

Locally, Mrs. Williams has been active in the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Royal Canadian Legion (Branch 81), the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Huntingdon County Hospital and the Maple Leaf Grange. She has held office in the Franklin County N.Y. Grange and is past president of the Pomona Lecturers Association of New York State Grange.

Having travelled extensively to many part of the world, last summer Mrs. Williams was a member of the Grange Youth Tour of Europe, visiting Holland, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, France and Britain, and has recently returned from a trip to Antigua and Barbados where she visited with Sir Frederick and Lady Minter of England.

Congratulations are in order for Mrs. Williams, with her background of active participation in the various organizations of which she has been a part, her devotion to duty and unlimited experience will be a decided asset to the Association of Hospital Auxiliaries.

United Church Women of Montreal Presbyterial Hold First Annual Meeting

Mrs. R. B. Tolhurst, Howick, was re-elected regional vice-president of the Montreal Presbyterial United Church Women's First Annual Meeting. Ladies from many area churches attended the meeting as delegates or corresponding members. In all more than eighty-two churches were represented by 311 delegates and at least two hundred attended as corresponding members. At the morning session many presidents brought information regarding their activities and later during the discussion period there was a great exchange of opinion and ideas.

During the business period the Annual reports were accepted. Mrs. R. Douglas Smith, the president told how over the year this great Montreal Presbyterial had taken form, and that membership from the reports of 128 U C W's is placed at more than 8,200 ladies." A glimpse of our potential is seen that for all purposes the Women raised $322,292. of which $78,182 went to the Allocation and Over and Above Fund.

Local U.C.W. Meeting

On Feb. 13 Units 4 and 5 of the U.C.W. met at the home of Mrs. Gwen McLean with fourteen present. After the devotional period conducted by Mrs. Sanderson a brief business meeting was held. The guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. S. Ruddock who was introduced by Mrs. Edna McCoy. Mrs. Ruddock gave a very interesting talk on missions and was thanked by Mrs. Black. Refreshments were served.

World Day Of Prayer To Be At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church On Friday

This year the World Day of Prayer will be held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Huntingdon on Friday, March 1, at 2:30. Mrs. W. E. Black will address the meeting. 3,500 Canadian centres will be sharing this service with the women in 145 other countries.

The theme of the service, as chosen by a Korean women's committee, is "More Than Conquerors." Mrs. David Chung, a Korean who is not unfamiliar with Canada and Canadian churches had the major responsibility in preparing this service.

Nearly every year has seen an increase in Canadian World Day of Prayer offerings, and 1962 had the largest givings to date. Part of the funds used in this country assist with the financing of Christian (non-English) magazines, with projects of the Canadian Council of Churches, the Canadian Bible Society, and several other co-operative Church agencies. Help with literature in Braille is provided through the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and the John Milton Society. In at least 15 other countries, the funds aid Christian literature production and distribution, at levels from that required by newly-literate adults to university graduates. Through the World Council of Churches assistance is given to refugee work.

In many parts of the world's hard-pressed areas, Canadian women thus take a larger share in work for peace through their participation in this world-wide observance on the first Friday in Lent.

Newest Spring Millinery Shown At Fashion Show

A successful Fashion Show, featuring the newest spring millinery and various accessories, was presented last week by the Ladies' Guild of St. John's Anglican Church, Huntingdon. The show was presented twice, on Thursday afternoon and Friday evening in order to accomodate everyone interested in the event. Refreshments were served during the show, the tea tables being attractively decorated with centrepieces of miniature hats to suit the general theme. Baskets of spring flowers added a seasonable touch to the church hall.

Opening the show the president, Mrs. M. Duke, welcomed the gathering of ladies and explained that the hats and the handbags to be shown were through the courtesy of Mercedes Dress Shoppe, Huntingdon. Miss L. Rankin then gave an interesting commentary on the millinery and handbags as worn by each of the models.

The models were Mrs. B. Heath, Mrs. R. Stote, Mrs. B. Rankin, Mrs. C. Montgomery, Mrs. R. Reid, Miss A. Helm, Miss L. Duke and Miss C. Park. Many different styles and materials were shown much to the enjoyment of the ladies present. A novel feature was introduced during the show when a number of economy hats were shown and modelled by several young members of the male sex.

After the afternoon show, Mercedes was presented with a corsage of flowers. Friday evening's show concluded with a presentation to her of a gift and one of the economy hats. The other economy hats were drawn for and several ladies returned home complete with new, il rather unusual spring bonnets.

Much of the credit for the fine show goes to the committee, consisting of Mrs. C. Dahms, Mrs. C. Grant and Mrs. G. Grant for their untiring efforts and work and particularly to Mrs. C. Dahms for her ingenious ideas for the construction of the decorations and economy hats.

District Farmers To Represent Ayrshire Breeder's Association Of Canada

The dairy industry is the No. 1 problem in Canadian agricultural economy, Hon. Adrien Levesque, New Brunswick Minister of Agriculture said while addressing the three-day annual meeting of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Canada at the Sheraton-Mount Royal Hotel last week.

"The dairy problem is an undeniable fact and one has to go easy with regard to the increased population of dairy cows," he said.

"The constant demand for good producers in any breed is a sound indication that dairy commerce will always have its place on our Canadian farms."

"But you can be assured that only those producing outstanding subjects will have the privilege to satisfy this growing demand", he told the cattle raisers.

Mr. Levesque suggested breeders "find ways and means apt to improve the quality of your cattle independent of the breed."

"You must attempt to bring enthusiasm in regrouping our ranks and planning for the future," he concluded.

During Thursday's meeting, two resolutions referring to the Federal department of agriculture were accepted and will be forwarded to the government.

The resolutions charge that Prime Minister Diefenbaker's austerity program was responsible for the lack of personnel attached to the Agricultural ministry. The association elected six Quebec breeders to represent the group's eastern conference. They are: Jack MacGeorge, St. Valentine; Archie Roy, Howick; J. P. Lizotte, Quebec City; Clifford Oswald, St. Scholastique; Amedee Gagnon, Riviere Auelle; and E. Bernier of Bedford.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McConville Observe 25th Wedding Anniversary

Above are shown Mr. and Mrs. Charles McConville as they celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Saturday, February 23rd.

On Saturday evening, about 160 friends and relatives gathered at the Chateau Huntingdon, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Charles McConville on the occasion of their Silver Wedding Anniversary.

Telegrams were received and read during the evening, which showered congratulations on this popular couple from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dobbs, Fredericton, N.B.; Mr. Leslie Chambers, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. John R. Chambers, Wheaton, Illinois; Miss Myrtle Cullen of Ormstown, who was visiting in Hamilton, Ont., at the time. A telephone call from Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hay of Baltimore, Maryland, was also received during the evening. The gathering at the Chateau also showered the couple with congratulations. Charles and Lily were also presented with a substantial purse from those attending and in addition they received a gift of crystal from the office staff of Leach Textiles.

The feted popular couple were married in Valleyfield, on February 23rd, 1938, Mrs. McConville being the former Lily Stirling of St. Anicet. They have made their home on Lorne Avenue in Huntingdon, ever since they were married. Charlie has been a very busy man over the years buying cattle from the farmers all over the area. In this way he has become very well known and made a number of friends. Mrs. McConville (Lily) has been employed at Leach Textiles in various office capacities and is presently Personnel Manager with the same firm but which now goes under the name of Cleyn & Tinker Ltd. During her long sojourn with this company she has made many friends.

Mr. Mons Duke was the Master of Ceremonies for the Anniversary occasion. The Cullen Orchestra from Ormstown provided the music, while Bill Hooker acted as caller for the square dances. Messrs. Austin Fournier, Al. Legault, Emmett Duheme and Earl Wilson also played for dancing during the evening. All in all it was a most enjoyable evening for everyone.

Out-of-Town guests included the following: Messrs. Wallace and James Barrie of Toronto; Miss Bonnie Post of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. John Warden, Mr. James Warden, Mr. and Mrs. Allan MacIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Warden, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Warden, Mr. and Mrs. Val Blondin, Mr. and Mrs. James Barrie, Ronald and Bobby Barrie, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Linnet, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barrie and Mrs. Jos. Shorey, all of Cornwall; Mr. Tom Warden, Grande Prairie, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Leslie, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. James Leslie and family and Mr. and Mrs. Sexton, Valleyfield.

COVERING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE "LITTLE ROYAL" EXHIBITION CENTRE

LIONS CLUB

Twenty members met at the hotel on Tuesday evening for their bi-monthly Lion's meeting. Three guests were welcomed and special guest was Special Representative of Lions International of the Province of Quebec, Lion Larry Carlyle.

Lion Larry spoke briefly to he members on the importance of attendance, he pointed out that of every four men who join the Lion's Club three drop out for various reasons. The reasons are varied, very often for financial difficulties, or family troubles, sometimes it may be as small a reason as a personal dislike of another

Important Announcement

No more orders will be accepted for the Revised Second Edition of the History of Chateauguay, Huntingdon and Beauharnois, by Robert Sellar, after Thursday, February 28th (this week). A period of time has been allowed in order to give opportunity to all who would like to obtain the book at the previously advertised price and such orders will be accepted up to and including this Thursday only.

The reason that we cannot accept any more orders after this time, is due to the fact that much more cost is involved is setting type, printing and binding the book and we shall be unable to determine our cost until all the work is completed. At that time we can then set a fair price and yet be sure that we have covered our cost.

Please remember, no more orders after this Thursday, February 28th.

Hi! I wonder if your shovel is in as poor condition as ours! With all the snow, cold and wind, ours is almost worn out from over-work. Oh, well if it isn't the snow-shovel, it's the lawn mower. It is pleasant to feel the warmth of the sunshine anyway, with its promise of summer.

Last week I appealed for assistance in my search to find out what the "Part-time Teachers' League" represents. Thanks to Mrs. Woodhouse of Chateauguay Centre I now have more news for you. As I so strongly suspected this "League" is selling encyclopedias. They solemnly declared to Mrs. Woodhouse and myself that they were not selling books or magazines of any kind! To be forwarned is to be forearmed so if you are approached, beware unless you do want encyclopedias in your home. I have checked with the Town of Chateauguay and Chateauguay Centre and no permits have been issued to book salesmen under the name of "Part-time Teachers' League." The police force of both towns stated that possession of this permit is required by law. So if any such salespeople ring your doorbell, ask to see their permit. If it cannot be produced you can telephone the police, who assured me they will immediately send a radio-car to take action.

Well, Chateauguay has certainly had a lot of unfavourable and unnecessary publicity lately. It is regrettable because all areas need to encourage new residents and industries so that we may expand. Difficulties in any community will always arise, some of a serious nature, others not. The only way to overcome obstacles is to try to cooperate with the City Fathers who in turn should try to understand the problems of any given area. When it is evident to the public that we are at least striving and doing our best to get along, then and only then, will Chateauguay grow.

All of us at one time or another have been angered by the seemingly slow action of our Town Council but persistance in your demands will bring about the changes and improvements you seek, if they are in the common interest. This can be best achieved in an atmosphere of harmony, not discord!

The past week has seen family gatherings at two homes to celebrate birthdays. Happy greetings go out to Claude Gagnon of St. Francis Blvd. who was 7 years old last Thursday, February 21st. The D'Arcy household at 129 Lang saw the observance of two birthdays. Happy birthday wishes go out to Christian who was 10 years old on Saturday, February 23rd and to Kelly, who was 3 years old on Sunday, February 24th.

I didn't think I'd ever be able to add my words of praise to those of other correspondents re the plowing of streets. Many areas of Chateauguay seemed to have been well looked after, but when will some attention be given to Beauchamp and St. Paul, thought I. After a few phone calls, we got results, good ones, too. Not just one snow plow, but two! While they were widening the street, snow of course was dumped at driveway entrances. Frustrating? Yes! However, if the plows were raised at each driveway, the snow would pile up on the streets, resulting in even poorer driving conditions. By the way I hope that not too many husbands heard what one doctor said about wives being more physically fit than their husbands to do shovelling.

I would like to add though, that complaints have been heard regarding the condition of Abbotsford Street, adjacent to Julius Richardson School. This is certainly one place where care should be given because of the many cars and buses transporting children to school. A cleared street will prevent slipping and sliding and could prevent an accident. All parents who note such poor conditions should certainly complain to the Roads Department or their alderman until improvements are made.

There is much excitement in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Sottiaux of Lang Street. Their ten-year old daughter, Linda, entered the Junior Exams of the Notre Dame de Grace Arts and letters Festival held at Kensingdon School last week and came home with second prize. Linda is one of the Alex MacDougall's star ballet students and shows a great deal of promise. She has been studying ballet since the age of four and was the only entry from Chateauguay at the festival. On March 8th, Linda will again perform a two minute dance for the judges after which she will be presented with the prize. Congratulations, Linda. We wish you every continued success.

Parties have very much been the order of the week. Mrs. Gertie Hughes of Lang Street was hostess to many friends at a Stanley Party held at her home last Thursday evening. The door prize of any item at half cost, was won by Mrs. Dorothy D'Arcy. Mrs. Hughes is an excellent cook and had many delicious goodies on hand.

The home of Mrs. Pat Oelmann on Langlois was the scene of a surprise baby shower for Mrs. Marion Fernandez of Lang Street. Mr. and Mrs. Fernandez are happily awaiting the arrival of their chosen baby within a few months. Mrs. Ida Essiambre decorated a cake for the occasion with "Best of Luck" wishes and all of us add our good wishes to that, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Oelmann also had a house guest over the week-end, Mrs. Inge Schmid, Mr. Oelmann's sister, from Verdun.

From Montreal, came Mrs. Faust, mother of Mr. Bob Faust of Edward Street. Bob and Ida held a party in honour of the elder Mrs. Faust's birthday, last Saturday evening. Best wishes, Mrs. Faust.

Derek Pearce of Langlois Street celebrated his 17th birthday on Friday, February 22nd. On Saturday night a get-together was held in his honour at his home. Congratulations, Derek.

There are several people in our area who are feeling very much under the weather. Some of them are Mrs. Georgie Warnes, Mrs. Kay Fisher and Mr. Jim Mahoney. Here's hoping everyone has a complete and speedy recovery.

Elsewhere in this newspaper, or in this column, is news about the latest C.H.O.A. executive meeting. It was a little disappointing to hear that not all board members were present. I wonder if regular readers of this column have ever noticed how often certain executives' names appear.

Have any of you wondered, "If the board has eleven members how come there are three or four names which never appear?" I have. Have they given as much as they could to the Association? The answer is obvious. In my humble opinion (which I realize no one asked for) the work required to make this an even more successful organization should be shared by all, certainly all of the executives and as many members and area residents as possible. Let me add that there are several board members who have served well for many years and it is hoped that they will continue to do so in one way or another. Don't forget now, as far as we are concerned there are two elections in April: Federal and C.H.O.A. May I urge you to take an interest in both as both in their own way, serve you.

I would like to advise my column readers that, due to revised Gleaner policy, I cannot accept any items of advertising value, items such as bazaars, teas, dances, lost and found unless accompanied by cash. This is advertsing and must be entered in the paper as such. Any news of social events can be found in the coming Events Column and I ask you to check this column so that you may be aware of what is coming up in Chateauguay. But the happenings to you, your family and neighbours can be accepted and only takes a little time to tell! Don't feel shy about telephoning me at 692-2659. Honestly, don't you enjoy seeing your name in print?

St. ANDREW'S NOTES

At the close of another Boy Scout Week, the courtesy and good wishes of the Congregation were extended to all Cubs, Scouts, Rovers and their leaders under the St. Andrew's Group Committee. This worthy organization was represented at St. Andrew's on Sunday morning by the Red Anchor Crew and the Vanguard Senior Boy Scouts.

The Rev. William H. Holmes, B.A.B.D., retired United Church Minister living near Ormstown, was the guest preacher on Sunday at Morning Worship in the absence of the Rev. Howard C. Fraser who was unable to be present because of illness.

The Sacrament of Baptism which would ordinarily have been administered on Sunday morning has been postponed until next month, owing to the illness of the Minister.

The Morning Service of Sunday, March 3rd, will be taped for broadcasting over Radio Station CFOX at 7 p.m. the same day.

At Last Sunday's Communion Service, Miss Jean Dallison, Colonia was received into St. Andrew's Congregation by Certificate of Transfer and Re-Affirmation of Faith.

The Adult Study Group met in the Memorial Hall on Sunday evening to discuss Chapter 8 of the Word and the Way entitled 'The Bible and the Word of God'.

U.C.W. MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of women from all the Units will take place in the Memorial Hall on Wednesday, February 27th at 8.15 p.m. The second in a series of programs on "Mission on the Rim of East Asia" will be presented. Leaders from the Messenger, Explorer and CGIT groups who have also been studying this area will participate, thus ensuring an interesting program. There will be an opportunity for questions and discussion. Please plan to be present and bring someone with you!

The World Day of Prayer, an Interdenominational Service will be held this year at St. Andrew's and all the women of the congregation are invited. The prayer Service will commence on Friday, March 1st at 2.30 p.m. and a special Youth Service of prayer will be held the same afternoon at 4 o'clock.

THE CHAT-A-WAY SEWING CIRCLE

The Chat-A-Way Ladies met at the home of hostess Mrs. N.R. Ashley, Dupont Terrace on Tuesday, February 19th. Despite the very severe weather and extremely poor road conditions, attendance was higher than usual.

Miss Rhoda McFarlane gave a reading by Padre W.A. Young entitled 'Religion and Life' and a clipping entitled 'A Prayer' which was received with enjoyment.

The ladies have completed another afghan which will be given to a worthy organization shortly. They have also made their annual contribution to the Heart Foundation. The next hostess will be Mrs. Banville of Dupont St, the Basin.

WEDDING MACDONALD-BRADLEY

The marriage of Susanna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald H. Bradley, Dupont St, the Heights to Bruce, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacDonald, Hillsdale Drive, Parkview took place on Thursday, February 21 at 3. p.m. in St. Philips Church, Montreal West. The Rev. Kenneth Trickey officiated and Mr. Lorne West played the wedding music. Standards of salmon pink gladioli, white snapdragons and blue iris with candelabra decorated the altar and Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a white poult de soie waltz length gown, styled with a tulip shaped skirt, round low neckline and below elbow sleeves. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a matching bow headdress and she wore white kid gloves. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias, hyacinth bells and ivy.

Miss Shari Newton of Chateauguay Heights, as bridesmaid, wore a champagne beige poult de soie waltz length gown with an overskirt and a round neckline. Her headdress was a large bow of matching material and she carried a cascade bouquet of orange delight roses.

Mr. Joseph Anwyll acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. Richard Stewart and Mr. Roland Bradley.

Mrs. Bradley, mother of the bride, wore a suit of blue silk linen, a flower hat and matching accessories.

Mrs. MacDonald, mother of the groom was gowned in a blue print pure silk jacket dress and she wore a blue straw hat and black accessories. Following the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, the young couple left by plane for New York City, the bride travelling in a deep pink woolen suit with a black straw hat and matching accessories.

She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald will reside in Chateauguay.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Charles Southgate of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bradley of Toronto and Mr. William McTavish of Newmarket, Ontario.

THE LATE L. STANLEY REANY

The sudden death of Stanley Reany of St. Francis Blvd, formerly a longtime resident of Chateauguay Station on Monday, Feb. 25th was heard of with extreme regret. Mr. Reany's parents resided on St. John Blvd. for many years and Stan and his brothers Russell and Bob who have since passed away and Mort who lived for many years in Beauharnois (now in Cornwall, Ont.) were known to many of the older families of Chateauguay. Mr. Reany Sr. was an ardent Church Worker at St. Andrew's United Church. Stan a veteran of World War I was a member of the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 108. He is survived by his wife, the former Mabel Edna Ashton, son Lawrence daughter Margaret and three grandchildren. The funeral from D.A. Collins Chapel, Sherbrooke St. will be held on Thursday at 2. p.m. Heartfelt sympathy is extended to Mrs. Reany and her family.

NEWS ROUND-UP

A speedy return to good health is wished to Ron Legassic of Trudeau Ave who is convalescing at home following a stay at the Queen Mary Veteran's Hospital.

Sorry to report that Miss Vera Hardisty of Dupont St. has broken her leg in a fall at home and she is presently a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lachine.

Get well wishes to the Rev. Howard C. Fraser of St. Andrew's United Church who is presently indisposed.

Congratulations and all good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Labrie of Duranceau St, the Station, from the parishioners of Notre Dame de L'Assomption Church, family, friends and neighbours on the occasion of their Diamond (60th) Wedding Anniversary which they observed last week. Mr. and Mrs. Labrie attended a special Mass last year on their 59th anniversary but this year they are confined to their home. We add our sincere good wishes to them on this happy occasion.

Mrs. George Soyez of St. John Blvd, the Station has called to thank the Gleaner for mentioning her recent illness. Many friends and neighbours called her and she says it was so nice to hear from people and most certainly it helped her to get better. She also mentioned that March 1st is a very special day in the Soyez family as her husband George will be celebrating his birthday. Our felicitations are added to those of the family.

Hear that the Nick Besner's (the former Beverly Theurkauf) are the proud parents of another daughter, sister to Valerie and Cheryl. The baby was born on Sunday, February 24th and we extend our congratulations.

Victims of the flu bug in the Heights include Ernie Chartrand and her young daughters of Carlyle Avenue and June Oliver and her sons of Hamilton Avenue. Both ladies worked very hard on the recent carnival, probably tiring themselves too much. Good wishes, girls.

Among those who entertained for Miss Susanna Bradley prior to her marriage were Mrs. Robert Newton of the Heights and Mrs. Richard Pratten of the Gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Malette of Blvd. D'Youville will be taking up residence at Three Rivers shortly as Bernard known professionally as Benny Davis, a musician, will be performing over Channel 13.

Many a senior Citizen in Chateauguay read with regret of the passing of Mr. Ernie Russel in Montreal on Saturday. Ernie resided on the river front near Saint Marie's at the Railway Bridge for many years and played for the renowned Wanderers' Hockey Team in Montreal.

Thursday afternoon the students had a holiday while the teachers went to a C.V.T.A. meeting in Hemmingford. A very successful workshop for the teachers was organized by Mr. Eaman of our High School staff. In spite of weather conditions all teachers from Chateauguay were able to attend. Among the guest lecturers for the afternoon were Professor Hawkins of Macdonald College, Mr. James Angrave Principal, Rosemere High School, Mrs. Walker, Summerlea School, Montreal.

On Friday evening, Mr. Mosher, with members of the High School staff, were hosts for a seminar conference on Team Teaching. Several principals and teachers from other school areas were in attendance.

The boys' junior and senior basketball teams had a game against Lindsay Place on Friday. Sorry to say they both lost. The scores were: junior boys, Chateauguay High 34, Lindsay Place 50; senior boys, Chateauguay High 46, Lindsay Place 61, The senior boys played a very good game. Perhaps they'll have better luck next time.

Sympathy Extended

Sympathy is extended to family of the late Mrs. Lillian Murphy who died at her home on Saturday, Feb. 23rd, following an illness of some months.

Up until last year Mrs. Murphy had been in quite good health considering her 94 years. Her daughter, Sister Eileen, has tenderly cared for her during her prolonged illness.

Remodels Store

Mr. Ken Stewart, popular IGA grocer of Fort Covington, has gone all out in remodelling his store. Already sales have begun going up, showing an increase in overall store business.

The inside changes consist of an additional 1000 square feet of floor space. New shelves have been added and new departments have been set up. A twenty foot refriferator produce case has been installed with an 8 foot glass sliding door.

The paneling in back of the IGA oval is wood painted yellow. The stone is official IGA store front stone. The letters STEWARTS were ordered from headquarters and are made of red plastic 18 inches high.

Mr. Stewart feels that the store is one that all members of the community will be proud of for a long time to come, for not often in a village the size of Fort Covington does one find a store which offers such a fine selection of foods as does "Stewart's IGA" in the Fort.

Letter To The Editor

The following letter has been received from Nigeria, Africa and while The Gleaner does not usually cater to this sort of thing, just for this once we are publishing it.

The Honorable Editor:
Sir:

I shall be very grateful if you can render me a service and publish my request for a "Pen Pal" in your newspaper. I am an African student of 18 years who is really interested in exchanging correspondence. My hobbies are as follows: table tennis, football, boxing and collecting pictures of all kind.

I would appreciate letters from anybody about my age and letters should be sent by air mail which costs 25c.

Thanks in advance

C.F.A. Suggests 4c. Lower Butter Price To Consumers

Ottawa, Ont. — Maintenance of returns to dairy producers through Federal support programs, a 4c lower butter price to consumers, and a national authority to carry out a national plan for dairy marketing were asked by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture in a submission today to the Federal Cabinet.

Other major policy features of the CFA submission were:

— A request for a planned policy by the Federal government on which to base necessary rationalization and abandonment of railway branch lines in western Canada.

— Continuation of the national policy of feed freight assistance.

— Canadian leadership in world negotiations toward reduction of trade barriers.

— Extension of the rule of law in international trade in farm products through international commodity agreements.

— On the question of grain sales, the Federation asked that the credit sales policies of the government be continued. The principle should be followed, the submission said, that Canadian grain should be available to any country wishing to buy it. Expanded sales into new markets in the future, the brief noted, would require a continued policy of extension of credit where required and increased opportunity for sale of goods to Canada in return by countries like China.

— Emergency assistance for stricken Maritime farmers who lost their crops during the past summer, including a policy of assisted transportation on hay.

— Requests for Federal co-operation in a program to improve hog quality in Canada and restoration of the full $3 premium on A grade hogs.

— Modification of the Federal crop insurance legislation to provide for greater Federal payment of claims or Federal re-insurance to protect provinces against excessive claims in any one period.

— Public support and public funds to reduce commercial exploitation of the airwaves and provide more public service programming by the CBC.

— Active development of the rural development and conservation program under the Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act, including sufficient immediate funds to carry forward planned and ongoing projects.

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture delegation was headed by H. H. Hannam, President of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, who was accompanied by the Executive of the CFA and some other farm organization leaders.

Milk Sellers, Buyers Give Views On Price

The Quebec's Dairy Commission last Thursday sounded out a milk distributors association and a consumers' association on how they felt about the price of milk, but came to no immediate decision on whether it would go up or down.

However, the consensus was: "We believe the board wants to drop the price of milk by one cent, but they are not going far enough," Mrs. E.H.S. Piper, of the Quebec Branch, Consumers' Association of Canada, said after the meeting.

member. The importance of personal contact by the sponsoring Lion was stressed. It was also suggested that every effort be made to assign a job for the new member so that he has a direct interest in the club as soon as he becomes a member. Lion Larry also said that the personal visit to a delinquent member will be more effective than a letter in persuading him to return to the club. Lion President Gerry Beaudin thanked the speaker. It was of interest to many of the Lions to discover that Lion Larry had spent much of his youth in Ormstown as a summer holiday guest. He is a cousin of Lion Romee Brunet.

Business was then brought to the attention of the members. Lion John Davidson will be responsible for a news bulletin after each meeting, he will also keep the attendance records and contact delinquent members. Lion Cliff Moore reported on the Public Speaking contest which the Lions will hold on March 5th. Eight members from the two language schools of Ormstown will participate. Five minutes will be allowed each speaker. An on the spot subject will be given the contestants and two minutes will be allowed for a "speech". Due to the illness of the programme chairman Lion Merrill Barrington, the work will be carried on temporarily by Lions Bert McCartney and Brodie Britain.

Lion Bury McGerrigle reported on the Pee Wee Hocky club. The semi finals are being played at this time. He stressed the need for managers for various teams and volunteers from the club offered their services. President Gerry Beaudin announced that an Ice Carnival sponsored by the Lions and the Ormstown Legion Branch 196 will be held on March 1st.

Lion Andy Kelen, Chairman of the Music Festival reported that 290 entries have been received, an increase of 60 over last year. He also brought information of a driving school which might be sponsored by the Lions and held in the schools. It was suggested that a speaker from the Safety Council be asked to speak to the club on the subject in order to gain more information. Discussion on some projects for raising funds was referred to a director's meeting.

ORMSTOWN HIGH SCHOOL BAND MEETING

A meeting of the Ormstown School Band committee was held at the home of the President, Mrs. Donald McEwen, on Tuesday evening. The main topic under discussion was the purchase of new instruments and it was decided to buy one tuba, one alto horn and sundry supplies for the use of the school band. Bandmaster Lindsay Cullen reported that he has 24 solo entries and four ensembles for the Chateauguay Music Festival. The committee moved to pay the entry fees for the ensembles. The annual Spring Band Concert will be presented by the School Band assisted by the Ormstown Band on March 30th in the Ormstown High School.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR MISS SANDRA BEARE

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ovans entertained more than 30 guests at a dinner party in honour of Miss Sandra Beare's fifteenth birthday. Sandra was presented with a transistor radio on behalf of her friends as well as many other gifts.

Among the guests were her father and mother Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Beare of Huntingdon. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Murray of Montreal, Miss Alice Williams, Mr. Pat Doyle, Mr. Ray Calder and Miss Pauline Madore also of Montreal.

After the sumptuous turkey dinner with all the trimmings and a special birthday cake, dancing was enjoyed until the wee hours of the morning.

RECORD NUMBER OF ENTRIES FOR FESTIVAL

The last entries have been accepted for the Chateauguay Music Festival with an increase of 67 over last year. Three hundred entries will be registered in the programme which is now in the process of being prepared for the press.

Mrs. M. Harrison, who has spent the past six years with Mrs. Fred Boyd, due to a sudden change in health, was transferred to a convalescent home on Western Ave., Montreal.

SCOUTS, CUBS AND GUIDES ATTEND CHURCH

A special service was held in honor of the founder of the Scout movement Lord Baden Powell on Sunday at St. Paul's United Church. The troops and pack marched from MacDougall Hall to the church. The Scripture lesson was read by the Scoutmaster, Mr. Jack Johnson, who also spoke briefly on "Be Prepared". Rev. A.E. Loree, minister of St. Paul's, gave the sermon to a large congregation who turned out to welcome the Scouts and Guides to the service. Several Guides attended the Presbyterian Church service at the close of the United Church.

Miss Myrtle Cullen spent the weekend with her friend Mrs. Joyce McLeod at Hamilton, Ont.

Mr. Jean Yves Crete of Rigaud, son of Mr. Hector Crete, was home for the weekend.

CHORAL EVENING IN UNITED CHURCH

The choir of St. Andrew's United Church, Chateauguay, was well received on Sunday evening when a large number of persons gathered in the United Church in Ormstown to enjoy the music presented by this fine choir. The varied selection of choral numbers was well done, from the first hymn sung by the congregation with the choir, to the mighty strains of the finale, "Thine is the Kingdom". We hope to hear more from this group in future weeks.

The organist and Director is Mr. T. Alan Hughes, who has already made a reputation for himself and his choir by winning the trophy for the best church choir at the first Chateauguay Music Festival, last spring.

JOHN SANCTON OF MONITOR VISITS NORAD

Mr. John Sancton, publisher of the Monitor ,has returned from a trip to Ottawa and Colorado Springs. Mr. Sancton was a member of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association which was invited to tour NORAD headquarters in Colorado Springs.

Mr. John W. Sancton left Tuesday evening on a business trip to London, England.

WELCOME

Our sincere welcome to Doctor Jamie Carino of the Phillipines who has joined the medical staff of Barrie Memorial Hospital and the Medical Center in Ormstown. Dr. Carino has spent several years in the medical profession in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. Ross Pennington of Montreal was a recent caller at the Doug Glover home.

Mr. Gordon Green has recently returned from a business trip to Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Green of Ottawa were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Green. Mr. Lowell Green is with Radio CFRA in Ottawa and is the son of Gordon Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bryson are spending a few weeks with their daughter and family the Hugh Wards of Lachine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Thompson returned to Boston on Sunday after having attended the wedding of their sister, Dorothy Beattie.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Jim Wilson is a patient in the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Montreal.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Barrington included Mr. and Mrs. Drysdale Barrington of Detroit, Mr. George Barrington of Montreal, Miss Shirley Beauchemin of Longueuil, Mr. Gerald MacDonald of Clarysville, N.Y. and Miss Joan Barrington of Hudson. All attended the Dumas Barrington wedding on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bovay have returned to their home in New York after having spent a few days with Mrs. Bovay's mother, Mrs. Margaret Graham. They attended the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. John Graham, on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Greer of North Hatley, Que., called at the Lome of the latter's Aunt, Mrs. Fred Boyd, this past week.

Pleads Understanding For Dairy Industry

OTTAWA, February 9, 1963. — Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton appealed to the Canadian public for understanding and sympathy in the efforts of producers and governments to help resolve difficulties in the dairy industry. He was addressing the Rotary Club at Campbellford, Ontario.

Mr. Hamilton described how the gulf between farmers and urban dwellers was being widened because of a failure to understand that the agricultural industry was going through a major revolution.

"Whether we the farmers like it or not, many people believe that the agricultural industry is dependent on Government subsidies and handouts and that the farmer is not making any effort to adjust," said Mr. Hamilton. "Because of this common misconception the pressure on the dairy industry particularly, to make quick and extreme decisions, is very great. This pressure on governments and farm organizations is making it very difficult to come to objective conclusions."

He appealed for tolerance and understanding from the general public.

As a basis for his plea and at the risk of over-simplification of a very complex problem, the Minister put forward several key facts:

1) That the surplus in the milk industry as a whole was quite small, around 6 or 7 per cent, but because this surplus was concentrated in butter it loomed very large in the minds of the public;
2) The basic difficulty was that advances in technology made it possible to produce more milk with less cows;
3) Because the industry was divided into several products and because there was divided jurisdiction between the federal and provincial governments, it is probable that government's attempt to help had made the situation more complex;
4) There was tremendous evidence that the provincial governments and the producers, as well as the Federal Government, were in a mood, as never before, to grapple with the dairy problem.

Mr. Hamilton pointed out that, on the initiative of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, a meeting of the dairy industry was being called in Ottawa on February 21 and 22 behind closed doors. At this meeting the eleven governments and the various segments of the milk industry hope to be able to demonstrate that reasonable people could come together in a reasonable solution.

The minister hoped that the general public would support constructive moves and warned that no solution would be quick and easy. He said: "As Canadians we must help an industry vital to the country adjust to the existing and future factors facing them." Mr. Hamilton thought that businessmen in a farm community could play an active part in bridging the gulf of misunderstanding that exists between residents of urban areas and the farmers in a modern industrial age.

Farm Credit Regulations Amended

OTTAWA, January 28, 1963. — Two important amendments to regulations of the Farm Credit Act have been announced by Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton.

A recent change in the Act set an upper limit on the appraisal fees which the Farm Credit Corporation may charge applicants for loans. The new regulation sets the fees somewhat lower than is permitted under the Act.

Another amendment allows postponement of loan instalments under special circumstances.

A new formula replaces the former $50 and $100 appraisal fees chargeable for standard (Part II) and package-deal (Part III) loans.

Farmers applying under Part II will pay $10 with their application. In addition, 4 cents for each $100 of the amount of loan approved will be deducted when the loan is made.

Farmers applying under Part III will pay $10 with their application. In addition, 50 cents for each $100 of the loan approved, or $100, whichever is the lesser, will be deducted when the loan is made.

The chief result of the new formula will be lower appraisal fees for smaller loans under both Part II and Part III.

Farm Credit Corporation will continue its policy of refunding the fee if an appraisal is not made.

Under the other amendment, a borrower developing a new enterprise from which revenue will be so limited in the first year or two as to make repayment a hardship, may arrange at the time of obtaining his loan from FCC for the postponement of instalment payments due in this initial period.

This provision may apply particularly to farmers switching from dairy to beef production.

Mr. Hamilton said the new amendments provide greater flexibility in the FCC'S lending operations.

He added that revision of appraisal fees had been taken up by the Farm Credit Corporation last June but no change could be made until Part III of the Act was amended. This was done on Nov. 29, 1962.

Employment Conditions In This Area

Mr. J. DeSerres, manager of the National Employment in Valleyfield, declares that on January 31, 1963, 2544 males and 541 females were registered for employment, compared to 2180 males and 515 females on December 31st, and 2213 males and 500 females on January 31st, 1962.

During the last month, in the male division, an increase has been noted in construction and in clerical work for female. Compared with last year, unemployment in construction, trucking, textile, clerical work and services has somewhat increased.

In January, 307 persons found work through the National Employment Office in manufacturing, trade, construction and services.

In general, conditions have been considerably affected with mass-lay-offs which occured on large construction sites as well as decrease in hirings on municipal winter work projects.

PENNY-WISE CITY

ST. JOHNS, Que. (CP) — The city was happy to pay 16 cents a gallon for its fuel oil until it learned the school board was getting fuel for one cent less. Suppliers have been asked to establish a uniform price of 15 cents a gallon.

C.F.A. Suggests

ager of the Montreal Milk Distributors' Association: "Perhaps the board is looking for price decreases, but we would prefer that the minimum prices for milk remain as they are. As distributors we are caught in a serious cost-price squeeze."

Nolasque April, chairman of the dairy commission, said yesterday the meetings with the two groups were not public, but that a general open meeting of distributors and consumers may be called.

The consumers' association maintained that the 22½ cent minimum price on the one-quart container should be reduced to 20 cents. Price for the one-quart size is the same in stores and for home delivery—24 cents. A two-quart container sells for 45 cents and a three-quart container sells for 59 cents. The consumers wanted the larger size reduced to 51 cents.

One of the more serious aspects from the distributors' point of view, Mr. Lowe said, was that the dairy commission was considering revising zoning areas for various markets in the province.

Each city and town in the province would be a marketing zone, but better control on prices and distribution could be effected by consolidating many of the present areas. Such a rezoning would have an effect on Montreal prices of milk, he said.

Mr. Lowe noted that there hadn't been a price increase in milk since 1957, although the dairy industry has had to absorb higher operational costs, labor requests for higher salaries and increases in the price of raw materials.

Mrs. Piper told the board yesterday that a new minimum price of 20 cents would be "reasonable" in the light of volume sales of the larger container.

Hockey Games Monday Night

Following are the scores for the games — The Fliers vs Junior Clydes — Fliers 6; Jr. Clyde's 5. Second game 9 P.M. Port Lewis vs Elgin. Port Lewis 8; Elgin 4.

Jnuior Hockey

A fast skating Port Lewis Club downed a strong, determined Elgin team 8 - 4 at the Arena Monday night, thereby winning a two game total goal series 12 - 7. This was a good hard, fast, topnotch hockey game. Two sparkling performances by Denis Hawarth and M. Egan of the Port Lewis Club highlighted the tussle, both these boys scoring hat tricks. The Elgin goal keeper and the Port Lewis net minder, Carl Kirby pulled off key saves time after time in a professional like manner. The game was a real thriller and local hockey fans are missing stars of tomorrow by not attending. Wednesday night starts a two out of three game final series with the Port Lewis Club meeting Clyde's Juniors. This will be a real thriller. Try to be at this game. Game time 7.30 P.M. Wednesday, February 27th.

Monday night's game was watched by a hockey scout.

Clydes vs Howick

The effective line of Gurran, Murphy and Gardiner scored 5 goals last Wednesday night in Ormstown Arena to give Huntingdon Clydes a 7-4 victory over Howick and win the semi-finals, 3 games to none, and the right to go on and meet the winners of the Ormstown-Fort Covington series.

Both teams played a very hard, well played game with many fine passing plays being set up.

Clydes took a 4-0 lead in the first period on goals by Tremblay, Racine, Murphy and Curran. In the second period Cavers scored the only goal of the period to make a 4-1 score. The third period started with both teams trying hard for the win. Howick got two goals making the score 4-3, only to have Gardiner and Murphy each score thus taking the pressure off the Clydes' team. With less than two and a half minutes left Cairncross scored for Howick. At 17:57 Murphy scored his third goal of the evening.

At the end of the game all of the Howick team shook hands with all the Clydes' players and wished them continued success in their "Final Series".

Howick lost the semi-final series, but I can assure you that they won many a fan for their clean, fair type of hockey.

1st Period

1 Clydes: Tremblay (Curran, Racine) 2:43
2 Clydes: Murphy (Beaudin, Pilon) 6:26
3 Clydes: Racine 11:54
4 Cydes: Curran (Gardiner, Murphy) 19:01
Penalties: Murphy, Meunier, 19:59. 12:35.

2nd Period

5 Howick: Cavers (Morrison, Wilson) 13:39
Penalties: Duheme, 14:13.

3rd Period

6 Howick: A. Brown 8:03
7 Howick: Logan (D. Brown, Tennant) 9:20
8 Clydes: Murphy (Duheme, Curran) 12:58
9 Clydes: Gardiner 15:15
10 Howick: Cairncross (Tennant, D. Brown) 17:40
11 Clydes: Murphy (Curran, Gardiner) 17:57
Penalties: Murphy, Duheme 17:33. 9:40.

On behalf of Clydes' Hockey team we would like to take this opportunity to thank all who made our "Bingo" a success.

Ormstown vs Fort Covington

On Friday night at the Ormstown Arena, the Ormstown Braves defeated the Fort Covington Border Rangers 5-2.

This game was a close checking one with not too many good shots on goal. Raymond Laberge however made his shots count as he scored four goals for Ormstown. Raymond Allen counted the other tally.

Billy Sunday, who played a very solid game, scored the first goal and Philip Lauzon, who checked his opponents extremely well, scored the other goal.

By this win Ormstown won the semi-final series against Fort Covington and has thus earned the right to meet Huntingdon Clydes in the best of seven final series.

HUNTINGDON

Ville de Promesse

par PIERRE MENARD

La semaine dernière, on m'a fait remarquer que j'avais débuté ma chronique par un problème de la région tout en souhaitant la solution à un autre problème. Beaucoup de gens déplorent le fait que les compagnies prêteuses ne viennent pas placer en première hypothèque dans notre localité; un membre de l'exécutif d'une compagnie me démontrait, qu'il doublerait facilement son chiffre d'affaires si la situation était corrigée.

Le souhait que j'exprimais: l'association des hommes d'affaires et des organisateurs, était donc le premier pas vers la solution de l'enigme. Le citoyen veut se construire; le fournisseur veut vendre; mais le mode de paiement possible à l'état actuel est inacceptable pour les deux parties. Trop courtes échéances pour le consommateur, trop longues échéances pour le fournisseur. Mais ceux qui sont les plus qualifiés pour étudier la situation sont les entrepreneurs. Pour eux, les mêmes faits se répètent tous les jours, et ils connaissent les normes commerciales les plus acceptables. Tandis que pour les consommateurs, ces transactions ne se répètent qu'une ou deux fois dans leur vie.

Le véritable mal est à la base et beaucoup plus profond qu'on ne voudrait le croire. Mon travail personnel est d'amasser les capitaux nécessaires au fonctionnement de l'entreprise pour laquelle je suis secrétaire-trésorier. Nos succès sont très satisfaisants si l'on tient compte des conditions d'opération, et ils prouvent les véritables possibilités de la région d'Huntingdon. J'aimerais, pourtant, que certains fournisseurs m'accompagnent au cours de mes sollicitations à domicile. Combien de gens pour me refuser poliment, voulaient me démontrer le risque comparatif de l'entreprise que je représente, et me brandissaient des certificats de diverses compagnies de placement extérieures qui, selon eux, étaient à l'abri de tous revers. Pourtant, on admettait que dernièrement, la valeur au marché de ces certificats avaient diminué.

Les promoteurs de notre royaume seraient probablement abasourdis s'ils prenaient connaissance des sommes locales placées à l'extérieur de la région comparativement aux capitaux investis dans la région. La situation est anormale, mais à qui la faute? Les détenteurs de fonds sont maitres absolus de leurs biens, et ils peuvent en disposer à leur guise; s'ils placent à l'extérieur, c'est que les valeurs offertes correspondent mieux aux normes requises, ou supposent à première vue, une plus grande garantie. Devant ces faits, comment blâmer les organismes de l'extérieur qui ne veulent pas placer dans notre région?

Le travail d'organisation de la région d'Huntingdon s'effectue sur une base individuelle et manque de cohérence; les valeurs d'actif de la région sont mal supportées entre elles. Pourtant, les promoteurs locaux pourraient facilement offrir des valeurs beaucoup plus avantageuses que les compagnies de placement extérieures à tous les échelons: soit des placements de tous repos aux valeurs hautement spéculatives.

N'ignorons pas l'importance de contrôler immédiatement l'évolution de la région. Si en vertu de la loi du moindre effort, nous laissons aux autres le soin de régler les problèmes, nous verrons au moment où tout semblera à point, des compagnies de l'extérieur surgir, sans compétition, avec une organisation complète: prêts, matériaux, entrepreneurs, centres d'achats, etc., pour écrémer notre marché, et repartir aussitôt les travaux lucratifs terminés, détenant en poche tous les bénéfices, et ayant appauvri la région d'Huntingdon d'autant. Les fournisseurs locaux en seront encore au même point, et les citoyens seront desservis par des institutions trop pauvres pour se moderniser adéquatement. Il ne faut pas refuser l'aide d'organismes d'entreprises étrangères aux jours de pointe; mais offrons-leur au moins, une compétition digne. Surtout, faisons profiter leur travail, non contre nos intérêts, mais bien à notre avantage.

Votre Ami Pierrot.

Photo: — M. F. Cleyn, Mgr. David, H. P. Higgins, Abbé M. Gareau. Eureka . . Nous avons trouvé. . Quoi deux hommes dévoués! Un président de la Fédération des oeuvres de charité, secteur industriel; M. François Cleyn; un président paroissial, de cette même Fédération, secteur paroissial, Harold P. Higgins. Sincères félicitations. Meilleurs voeux de succès pour la prochaine campagne . . . . Tous se feront sans doute un devoir de vous appuyer. Il reste à trouver deux vice-présidents, un secrétaire, un trésorier et des conseillers, un pour chaque rue et chaque rang.

POUR MIEUX DIRE

Avec la neige vraiment trop généreuse (ce serait le cas de dire: "N'en jetez plus, la cour est pleine!") qui nous tombe dessus depuis la semaine dernière, vous avez dû nettoyer souvent le pare-brise de votre auto; et cela au grattoir (scraper) car vos essuie-glaces étaient gelés. Bien des matins, même le capot et les ailes de votre voiture étaient ensevelis sous la neige. Le volant ne voulait pas obéir à vos mouvements car le froid l'avait figé. Je parle naturellement pour les malheureux (et ils sont nombreux!) qui doivent stationner (et non "parquer") leur auto dehors. J'espère au moins que personne n'a eu de crevaison.

Continuant dans la même veine, si vous avez envie de peser sur le "gaz", pesez donc sur l'accélérateur (c'est un conseil linguistique — ne me tenez pas responsable si l'agent de circulation vous fait don d'une contravention pour excès de vitesse). Mais si vous voulez aller faire remplir votre "tank" de "gaz", allez donc faire le plein d'essence.

S'il vous faut absolument, mais absolument, vous servir du mot "gaz", parlez donc des gaz qui s'enfuient de votre tuyau d'échappement au lieu de maugréer contre vos "exhaust fumes". Votre tuyau d'échappement, ça ne se trouve pas loin de votre silencieux (muffler). Pas mal pour une femme, n'est-ce pas?

Résumons donc pour cette semaine:

scraper — grattoir
"parquer" — stationner
gaz — accélérateur
speeding ticket — contravention pour excès de vitesse gaz tank — réservoir d'essence fumes — gaz
exhaust pipe — tuyau d'échappement
muffler — silencieux

RETOURNONS A L'ECOLE

L'autre jour, en faisant répéter la leçon de géographie à l'un de mes enfants, j'apprenais que la région de Montréal est la plus favorable à la culture maraîchère dans toute la province. On voit tout de suite l'importance de ce fait qui met à portée de la main de 2,000,000 d'habitants, laitue, tomates, haricots frais tous les jours. Seulement, l'on sait que, petit à petit, les habitations nécessaires à ces deux millions d'habitants empiètent sur cette terre irremplaçable, unique en son genre au Québec. Bientôt, il ne restera plus de fermes dans la région métropolitaine. Cela nous amène à réfléchir: qu'est-ce qui est le plus important — l'habitation ou la nourriture? Et l'on se demande s'il n'y aurait pas moyen de concilier les deux besoins par exemple, bâtir des gratte-ciel pour utiliser le moins possible de terre précieuse. Mais les gens aiment-ils les gratte-ciel? Ne préfèrent-ils pas plutôt une petite maison dans la banlieue, avec un beau gazon devant et une grande cour en arrière? Si le choix se fait de ce côté, adieu! carottes, choux, poireaux! Il faudra importer les légumes des Etats-Unis. Mais est-il bon d'importer tant de choses de nos voisins? Alors, tout de suite, ramifications internationales.

Tout cela, pour vous montrer ce que peut apporter une leçon de géographie de 4e année. Pour les parents qui fréquentaient l'école avant, pendant et immédiatement après la guerre de 1939, la géographie du monde n'est plus la même qu'ils ont apprise. La géographie locale aussi change tous les jours. Dans les régions métropolitaines, la population augmente à une allure folle, les banlieues changent de frontières et de nom.

Si je semble insister sur le sujet de la géographie, c'est que j'y ai toujours été nulle et que, maintenant, grâce à mes enfants, je commence à me situer un peu dans l'univers. Mais ce n'est pas le seul sujet qu'étudient vos enfants dont vous puissiez profiter. Leur manuel d'Histoire peut vous remettre au point dans bien des dates et des faits. Et les mathématiques alors! Vous rappelez-vous comment trouver une racine carrée, la surface d'un triangle? N'avez-vous pas de la difficulté à calculer combien de verges de tapis il faut pour recouvrir le plancher du salon? Ré-apprenez vos formules!

Comme le Dr. Penfield l'a prouvé, notre cerveau est comme un système de fichiers où nous classons nos connaissances. Que de petits tiroirs n'avons-nous pas laissé se recouvrir de toiles d'araignées, de la poussière des soucis quotidiens, des potins de la ville, des mesquineries de la vie? A 21 ans, on n'arrête pas de manger parce que notre corps a atteint son développement maximum. Pourquoi alors cesser de nourrir notre esprit dès le sortir de l'école?

Comme nous n'avons pas de bibliothèque à notre portée — c'est une situation qui, j'espère, sera bientôt corrigée — je vous propose un moyen que vous avez sous la main — les manuels scolaires de vos enfants. Essayez, vous verrez comme c'est passionnant!

Jeanne Clément.

Essayez-la!

Si vous n'avez pas encore conduit la nouvelle Volkswagen 1500, vous allez être enchanté.

Prenez place dans le confortable siège individuel réglable en 49 positions.

Essayez la 1500 sur la plus mauvaise route que vous connaissiez. La suspension à quatre roues indépendantes absorbe les cahots en douceur. Les roues de grand diamètre assurent douceur et stabilité de roulement.

Ne vous inquiétez pas s'il faut passer dans la neige. Le moteur de la 1500, monté à l'arrière, porte son poids sur les roues motrices, ce qui donne une excellente force de traction.

La Volkswagen 1500 est d'une facilité de manoeuvre exceptionnelle dans la forte circulation des villes, et elle peut s'introduire dans les espaces de stationnement les plus réduits.

Si vous trouvez une route sans limitation de vitesse, cette Volkswagen vous permettra de rouler constamment à 81 milles à l'heure.

Essayez une Volkswagen, c'est passionnant!

C.H.S. News

Work has started on the addition to the school and many students are being called side-superintendents.

Several basketball games were played during the past week. On Wednesday afternoon Chateauguay played host to Royal George Academy from Greenfield Park and were defeated by a score of 49 to 47. Friday night the same story was repeated as Chateauguay Senior Boys lost to Lindsay Place, Valois, by a score of 60 to 46. Next week there will be basketball games at the High School followed by a dance. For further information on this dance see the posters around the school or see your Student Council Rep.

Last Wednesday afternoon Grades 9, 10 and 11 were given the opportunity to hear another in the series of talks about different careers in the world today. Mr. Pope of the Royal Bank of Canada spoke of the opportunities in a banking career and of the future it offered. He showed slides to illustrate his talk.

These talks are informative and are designed to give the students some help in choosing a career.

A.Y.P.A. News

The A.Y. held a very successful bowling party last Saturday. A meeting will be held this Sunday in the church hall at 7:45. Among the items to be discussed are plans for the approaching dance so let's see a large attendance.

Dances

It was learned this week that Bob Bernard, who ran the Chateauguay Heights Recreation Club dances, will be leaving for Halifax this weekend. His leaving will mean that the teenagers of Chateauguay will be losing a good friend. Bob has donated a lot of his time and money to run dances for the teenagers of this area and lately his efforts have not been rewarded. I am sure that we will all miss Bob, but we hope he will continue his work with teenagers in Halifax . Bon Voyage, Bob.

The one dance planned for last week-end was cancelled due to lack of interest. Lately many of the dances are being poorly attended and the organizers are wondering why. If anyone has any ideas or suggestions on how to improve this situation please give me a call and I will gladly pass your ideas on to the people who run the dances.

Hi-C. Notes

The Hi-C held as sleigh ride last Tuesday night and it was said that a good time was had by all. After a trip around the Heights the group returned to the church hall for hot chocolate and hot dogs only to find that someone had forgotten to buy them.

Chatter

It is good to see John L'Ecuyer back around again after his stay in hospital.

Frank Jones returned home this week-end from the navy and this time to stay. Good to see you back, Frankie.

Russell Lewis decided to go north for the week-end and visited friends in the Lachute area where he had a good time.

The following taken from the Reader's Digest is something for you to think about. "No wonder the monkey has a puzzled expression on his face, he hasn't figured out if he is his brother's keeper or his keeper's brother."

A very impressive and solemn ceremony took place on Sunday morning at Maplewood Presbyterian Church. Messrs. J. K. McConnell and F.C. Veltenaar were ordained Elders of the church and with Mr. Harold Burch, who is an Elder in good standing were admitted as members of the Kirk Session of this Congregation. Congratulations to these three gentlemen.

Sincere sympathy to Mrs. J. Brown of 299 Duquette St, Colonia, on the passing of her mother, Mrs. Mary Cornick, last Wednesday. The Rev. J. Allan conducted the burial service on Saturday at Montreal Memorial Park.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women of Maplewood Presbyterian Church will be held tomorrow, Thursday, Feb. 28th at the home of Mrs. J. Lavictoire, 59 Lockhart St., at 8 p.m. At this meeting, the girls of the C.G.I.T. will be reaffiliated with the Women of the Church.

Birthdays

A very happy birthday to Johnny Baird of McLeod, whose birthday is Mach 1st.

Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. J. McCann and their youngest son Gordie were out to Chateauguay on Sunday visiting with Mrs. M. Craig and Mrs. K. Power of Macoun Ave. On their way back to town they dropped in at the Young's for a short visit.

Get Well Wishes

This week's wishes go to Mr. F. Robinson and son Grant, both were in with heavy head colds. Hope you are enjoying your holidays, Frank.

T.R.A. News

Last Saturday night at the Chateau Gai Motel, approximately one hundred and forty people had a real swinging time at the "P.O.P. dance". There were many new faces much to the delight of the association. The orchestra and service was excellent and everyone enjoyed themselves immensely. A number of door prizes were awarded plus a "Special Award" presented to Pete Bedard for Broomball. Ha! ha! Charlie Turner was in charge of a special drawing. Doug. Newcombe of Tulip St., held the lucky ticket and won a lovely coffee percolator. The new commitee is busy planning another dance for the future.

On Sunday afternoon the Terrace Broomball team defeated the Chateauguay Station team to the score of 3-1. Scoring for the Terrace were Bill Rowland with 2 and Earl Mitchell with 1.

Next Sunday should prove to be a lot of fun. There will be hockey or broomball with fathers vs. sons and mothers vs. daughters. This will all take place at the Terrace rink on St. Francis Blvd. right beside St. George's Church, and the time will be approximately 2 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

Gala musical au CHATEAU

Mercredi soir dernier, avait lieu au Château de Huntingdon, à l'occasion de la Saint-Valentin une soirée genre WESTERN JAMBOREE.

Plusieurs orchestres ont participé à ce Jamboree organisé par M. Raymond Sauvé, gérant du Château de Huntingdon. Je ne voudrais pas oublier de féliciter M. Sauvé pour le merveilleux décor qui régnait dans le Gai Lounge, lors de cette soirée.

Les frais de la musique ont été desservi par quelques orchestres dont je mentionnerai, (ci-bas) les caractéristiques.

1—WESTERN VALLEY BOYS dont :
Clément Giguere, Violoniste ;
Guy Ledoux, Guitariste et chanteur ;
Eddy Leclerc, Pianiste ;
Marcel Morin, Guitariste.

2—Peu de temps après, un solo fut présenté par Gil Hyatt, de Montréal. M. Hyatt fait de la comédie depuis 16 ans.

3—Comme Maitre de Cérémonie, nous avions ce qu'il y a de mieux. M. Bob Davies artiste du Cavendish, de Montréal.

4—Ensuite de Montréal, M. Lorenzo Fortin et ses Cavaliers Noirs évoluèrent sur la scène, accordant et chantant des compositions de M. Fortin. M. Fortin enregistre dans peu de temps un Album pour la Compagnie Phonorama.

5—Il ne faut pas oublier que Willie Lamothe était aussi de la partie. Willie fut bien applaudi par cette foule d'environ 300 personnes.

6—Une personnalité bien connue du Club Monterey, de Montréal, était présente. M. Ronnie Prophet fut bien applaudi par les spectateurs et beaucoup de ces derniers aimeraient le revoir.

7—Jos. Pineault et les STARLITES d'Ottawa nous ont fait entendre quelques numéros de leur répertoire qui furent bien aimés et applaudis.

André De La Ronde.

Notre Dame De L'Assumption Parish News

A mammoth Card Party held under the auspices of the Ladies Choir of Notre Dame de L'Assomption Church on Sunday, February 17, was deemed a hugh success with the sum of $500 being realized. Three hundred people in attendance played bridge, 500 or any card game they wished. A piggy-bank passed during the evening was won by Mayor Joe Laberge of the Town of Chateauguay. Half of the contents were to go to the Church and half to the winner, but Mayor Laberge promptly gave his half back to the Church. $90 was the sum realized on this drawing. Many surrounding areas were represented and among those present were Mayor and Mrs. Joe Laberge, Mr. Laniel M.P. and Mrs. Laniel, Mr. Kennedy M.P. and Mrs. Kennedy. Father Tremblay, Curé wishes to thank all those who attended.

A Pilgrimage to St. Joseph's Oratory will leave Notre Dame de L'Assomption Church on Wednesday evening, March 13th, Father Tremblay, Curé of the Parish, who will lead the pilgrimage, would appreciate hearing from those interested in attending in order to arrange for the transportation. A bus will be chartered if necessary and either the bus or private cars will leave at 7.30 p.m. from the Church to attend a special Mass at the Oratory. Please call Father Tremblay at 692-8080.

LEGION NEWS in CHATEAUGUAY

We SERVE, in Peace as in War

The Tuesday executive meeting was lively and lengthy. Building pros and cons were discussed earnestly. Members will receive a newsletter before our Branch Meeting on Mar. 5th covering the recommendations to be submitted.

Needless to say a full meeting is imperative if substantial obligations are to be assumed responsibly. We hope you'll do your share and be there.

A small delegation attended the dinner celebrating Paardeburg. On their behalf we thank their hosts, the South African Veterans Association for an enjoyable evening. We expect a large delegation to attend the Colour Ceremony on Mar. 23rd.

The Provincial Convention is to be held this year in Arvida in May. Members note, resolutions must be in by Mar. 20 and proxies by Mar. 30th. Branch meeting will be your last opportunity this year.

Membership renewals are coming in promptly, but don't forget to bring a brother. Ours is an expanding community and newcomers need a pal to bring them into the swing at our hall.

New insignia are to be installed on cloth, but the design question was held over. Why not give junior this month's Legionary cover to hang up in his classroom? The rest is worth keeping for reference.

Executive also met Sunday to visit, on site, the proposed property. Hazardous driving kept the boys busy pushing cars so that they were in form to greet our new Broomball champs following their final victory of the season. Congratulations; 108 gains a feather.

this event Beauchateau, with presented the runners-up of their prizes.

Mrs. F. Soucy thanked Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson on behalf of all the clubs for all they had done to make the day such a pleasant one, and congratulated the winners on their good curling.

The Moco Mixed Bonspiel was held during the past week at the Moco Curling Club when almost all members took part. Ten-end games were played and points and high percentage determined the teams to enter the play-offs which took place Thursday evening.

Winners were Mr. F. Soucy, skip, Mrs. C. S. Jones, Mr. D. Aird and Mrs. G. Saucier.

Runners-up were Mr. H. Bagnall, skip, Mrs. C. Laroche, Mr. C. Dumoulin and Miss M. Collings.

Consolation winners were Mr. H. Whitehead, skip, Mrs. F. Soucy, Mr. G. McMullen and Mr. R. C. Kelehan.

Runners-up were Mr. H. Dando, skip, Mrs. H. Stewart, Mr. G. Lemay and Mrs. J. R. Bell.

On Friday afternoon one team from Valleyfield Ladies Curling Club attended the Friendly Bonspiel at Glenmore Curling Club, Roxboro. The players were Mrs. W. G. Thomson, skip, Mrs. B. Clarke, Mrs. J. R. Bell and Mrs. W. Wylie.

From Our Florida Readers

Huntingdon was represented at the Canadian Club luncheon held at the Alcazar Hotel in Miami last Wednesday, February 20th. Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Oney and Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Thomas of the Summerlea Golf and Country Club in Lachine and who are well known to many in the Howick area attended as well as 250 other Canadians.

The guest speaker was Mr. Gus Ryder of Toronto, the former trainer and coach of Marilyn Bell, and who now gives of his time gratis to training crippled children to swim. His talk was followed by a most interesting film which showed the progress made by the crippled children in the swimming pool under Mr. Ryder's guidance.

Mr. Don R. Thomas of Halifax and a former member of the R.C.M.P. stopped in to visit with Lawrence Brown and Chet Oney in Lake Worth. Don spent many happy days at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Dahms in Boyd Settlement and he recalled that it was there that he learned to milk a cow.

Chateauguay Police News

Town of Chateauguay

The sympathy of the Force is extended to Sgt. R. Giroux who lost his father, Raoul Giroux, early Tuesday morning. The body will rest at Reid's Funeral Parlour, 35 Normand Blvd., Chateauguay Centre. Funeral service will be held in Christ Roi Church on Saturday at 10 a.m.

Chateauguay Centre

The month of February has this year already established a record in the number of minor road accidents in Chateauguay Centre. Up to Tuesday, Feb. 26, the number stood at 70. A good number of these were due to weather and road conditions.

Motorists are notified that four-way stop signs have been erected at the intersection of St. Joseph and St. Hubert. The purpose of this is to slow down traffic in this section for the protection of school children.

Boy Scout Brotherhood Week

The Scouts, Cubs, Sea Scouts and Guides had a very busy week-end. Thursday evening, The Father and Son Banquet was held at the Beauharnois Intermediate School. Miss Maple Grove Restaurant, under the direction of Mrs. Langevin, catered. The Girl Guides helped with the serving and a wonderful evening was had by all.

American Scouts and their Leaders from Plattsburg were entertained Saturday evening by the Beauharnois Scout Leaders.

Sunday services were held at St. Edward's Church to commemorate the birthday of Lord Baden-Powell and Brotherhood Week.

On Our Sick List

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to Mrs. F. Charlton of Bellevue, and Mrs. Legassie of Woodlands. This flu bug is really going the rounds. Do hope you are both feeling better.

Visitors

The week-end guest at the home of Mrs. G. Pirrie of Bellevue, was Mrs. N. Kling of Montreal.

W.R.A.

A meeting was held at the Club Saturday evening. About fifty members attended. The new directors for '63 are as follows:

Pres.: Mr. P. Ross; Vice-Pres.: Mr. F. Stark; Sec.: Mrs. A. Charlton. Treas. Mr. J. Jones; Mrs. F. Stark; Mrs. H. Chave; Mr. J. Ogilvy; Mr. R. Chave; Mr. W. Harris; Mr. F. Charlton; Mr. G. Goodfellow; Mr. L. Long; Mr. G. Faubert; Mr. G. Jenner.

Thanks go to Mrs. Thelma MacKay and Mrs. D. Johnson for the wonderful dinner which was served at this annual meeting.

St. Edward's Church News

On Friday, a Coffee Party and Homebake sale took place in the Church Hall. There was a very poor turn-out to this morning affair, but I'm happy to announce that it was a success.

The Women's Association of St. Edward's Church will be holding their monthly meeting Monday, March 4th.

Welcome Home

Welcome back to the land of ice and snow to Mr. and Mrs. J. McKinlay who spent two glorious weeks in Barbados. While there they attended the wedding of Mrs. McKinley's sister which took place on Feb. 9th. It is good to have you back, Ann.

Woodlands Cub Pack

Monday evening Ralph Roth was invested in the newly formed group.

Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Alstyne of Woodlands on the birth of a daughter.

Annual Meeting

The Rev. J. Clarke Hood was host to the Annual Meeting of the Chateauguay Valley Ministerial Association within the Ormstown Presbyterian Church on Monday, Feb. 18.

The officers for 1963 were elected with the Rev. John Buck being installed as president.

The Rev. Wm. Brown of Georgetown will be vice-president and the secretary-treasurer the Rev. Ken. Purdon of Caughnawaga.

Rev. Gerald Doran, Beauharnois presented the annual treasurer's report and the meeting expressed its thanks to the retiring president Rev. Howard Fraser, Chateauguay who had organized the association.

The next meeting was set for Monday, April 22 at the United Church in Huntingdon.

Infrared Heating To Keep You Warm

Infrared radiant heating is softening the nip of chilly air for some Montrealers waiting at bus terminals, writes Basil Jackson in The Financial Post. Last fall, spectators at the races in London, Ont., and in Edmonton, also benefitted from infrared heating. In the near future, look for these outdoor heaters at drive-in restaurants, football grandstands, railway terminals, swimming pools and service stations.

Infrared heating is being installed in plants and com-100-sq.-ft. plant in Toronto will be heated by 40 gas fired units suspended from the ceiling. Many other indoor applications heat dairies, food processing plants and industrial factories. Even your patio is on the growing list of sales targets.

L'origine des paroisses catholiques dans les cantons de Godmanchester et de Hinchinbrook

Un missionnaire confrère a collectionné des documents pour écrire l'histoire des cantons de Godmanchester et de Hinchinbrook. Il en a tiré les pages qui suivent en me donnant la permission de m'en servir à l'occasion. Ce dont je le remercie.

En livrant aux lecteurs de votre journal les pages qui suivent, je crois les intéresser.

Elles rappelleront, en ce centenaire du couvent et de la paroisse de Saint-Joseph de Huntingdon, les liens qui existent entre nous et les paroisses environnantes. Que mon espoir ne soit pas déçu! Voici donc ce texte.

Mgr J.-A. David, p.d., curé

SAINT-REGIS

Pour commencer, il faut dire qu'à l'ouest, avant la création de Godmanchester, il y avait la Terre des Sauvages avec, à l'extrême ouest, la mission de Saint-Régis. Il est important de connaître les origines de cette paroisse parce qu'elle est au sud du lac Saint-François parce que le gouvernement du Bas-Canada, le 31 mars 1831 en détacha le canton de Dundee, parce que ses curés ont exercé, sur les lieux circonvoisins, une juridiction qui s'est étendue jusqu'aux limites des paroisses de Saint-Timothée et de Sainte-Martine. Chose curieuse, dans le Québec, il n'y a pas de route, par le sud, qui conduise à Saint-Régis: il faut emprunter l'une de celles de l'Etat de New York; par le nord du fleuve, il n'y a que celle du pont de Cornwall, en Ontario.

Saint-Régis est la fille de Caughnawaga. Parce que cette dernière, en 1752, était devenue trop exigué pour l'expansion de ses familles et trop exposée aux mauvais exemples des blancs, 30 familles conduites par le P. Billiard, jésuite, s'établirent à la tête du lac Saint-François. En 1756, elles déménagèrent un peu plus à l'ouest. Le roi de France leur concéda des terres et des îles qui constituèrent leur réserve. C'était un bel endroit de chasse et de pêche, puisque les Iroquois le nommèrent "là où la perdrix bat de l'aile". Il y avait là, outre la forêt, le fleuve et les rivières aux-Saumons et à-la-Truite.

Le Huntingdon Gleaner Inc. célébrera aussi son 100e anniversaire en septembre prochain. Un numéro spécial sera imprimé pour cette occasion. Déjà plusieurs changements ont été apportés dans la publication du Gleaner et en autres nous remarquons la publication de colonnes françaises. Ceci est une amélioration qui, nous espérons, plaira à tous et nous félicitons le Gleaner pour ses efforts continus.

(A suivre).

Mrs. Sproston would like to thank Barbara Roy for taking over as hostess as Pat went down with the flu and could not carry on. However all said the evening was a lot of fun.

A vote of thanks to the Sprostons and to John Fuller, party convener for a great ending to a great week of carnival capers, and I'm sure we all know what a great job Hank Hilloch has done and we all send all of the carnival committee a monster vote of thanks and will look forward to voting them in again.

To all merchants who gave so this carnival could be a success, a vote of sincere thanks, from West End and Carnival Committee.

Are Dog Owners Aware Of Their Responsibilities?

(By Mrs. E. Vetland)

Two weeks ago I received a letter from a very angry person who lashed out at Chateauguay dog owners for not keeping their pets tied up, thus allowing them to roam streets and private property, causing undue damage to flowers, shrubs, trees, etc. This letter warned that unless the citizens abide by the law, the writer was going to put out poison for the unleashed dogs.

All dog owners know by now that Bylaw 136 of the Town of Chateauguay states that dogs must be tied up at all times of the year. (The Town of Chateauguay has a similar bylaw). If not ,the owners are liable for a heavy fine or court action. I cannot understand why dogs are permitted by their owners to wander on other people's property where they can, and often do, cause damage. The majority of our residents put in much time and effort to improve their homes and property and have no desire to see it damaged by anyone, or anything. There are dog owners who disregard not only the law but also their neighbour's possessions.

This week I received a signed letter, with a return address, from a "Dog Lover" in answer to the a forementioned correspondence which was from a "Dog Hater." This latest letter points out the feelings of most dog owners and certain responsibilities. The following are excerpts from "Dog Lover's" letter:

"I wonder if Dog Hater realizes the agony he would inflict upon creatures (who are given poison) who cannot tell their pain except by the pitiful look in their eyes. The dogs are not to blame, it is the owners! If speaking with these people about their pets does not bring results, then deal with the police.

Dogs need exercise but the owners are often too lazy to do this, in which case if they cannot give their pets the attention they need should not have them. You take the dogs and they have to accept whatever treatment you give them kindness or cruelty. There is far too much "Couldn't care less" attitude where these faithful creatures are concerned. If you love your pets they should be part of the home you live in and need help, care and protection. What kind of protection are you giving your dog from cars, thrown stones and now threat of poison, if you allow him to wander the streets?"

The woman who sent me this letter spoke to me about the dogs she has owned and cared for all her life. Indeed, she is fond of all pets, even the wild birds that she feeds everyday during the long, cold winter months.

This reminds me of one more matter which I feel should be drawn to your attention. Dogs which are properly fed will never have the need to upset and rummage through garbage cans! We've had a Champion Show Dog in our family for over 10 years. During my many visits to Dog Shows and conversations with many dog lovers and authorities this is one of the many things I learned. If you know your dog is guilty of this highly annoying act, check his diet and make sure he is getting the proper food and nourishment he requires for his breed.

I hope these two articles have done some good in that dog owners will abide by the law and keep their pets leashed; and that dog haters will forget about the drastic action of poison. The two letters I have received have stated their points of view very well and now that attention has been drawn to an unhappy situation in Chateauguay, perhaps there will be more cooperation by all those concerned.

Chateauguay High News

(By M. McCutcheon)

A "Parent-Teacher" night for parents of high school students was held on February 14 and was very successful. Thanks are extended by Mr. Mosher to the Grade 9 girls who served as monitors.

The middle of the school's second term has been reached, and interim report cards have been given out. The mid-term holiday was on Monday, February 18th.

The Student-Council has granted $20.00 to the Chess Club for new chess sets. They also report that the school sweaters ordered a few weeks ago should arrive very soon and more will probably be ordered. They are white with a royal blue trim and have bands of blue and gold on the left arm.

In the sport's corner, the Senior Boys Basketball team lost to the Greenfield Park team 39-37 on Monday, February 11. The Junior Boys Team won their game on February 14th, when they played against St. Willibrord and the score was 47-13. Art MacMillian was the highest scorer. On Friday, February 15, the Senior Boys played against John Grant High School and lost 46-22. The Junior Boys also played and lost 35-28. On Saturday, Feb. 16 the Senior Girls played at Lake of Two Mountains High School and lost 39-13. Apparently, this was just not our week for basketball.

Heights Carnival Described As Fantastic

(by M. McCutcheon)

'Fantastic' is the only word to be used in describing the Heights Recreation Club Carnival, so says Phil Chartrand who presided at the mike most of the day. Such activity has certainly not been witnessed for many a year at the Club. Saturday, February 23rd, dawned a wonderful day weatherwise and progressed as planned from 10 a.m. with the first race until the grand finale.

Costumes in the Masquerade were judged by Miss May Huckle, Mayor David Currie and Mr. Art Labrie. Magic Tom arrived on schedule at 2 p.m. following the luncheon break and was introduced by the Julius Richardson School cheer leaders who assisted the committee very capably during the day. He presented prizes to the winners of the various races and held a packed club house enthralled as he performed his famous 'magic' to the delight of the youngsters who knew him so well via T.V.

Miss Beverly Murray, Club, Professional then Presented her pupils in a fancy skating exhibition. The ice proved to be a bit of a handicap for her own solo exhibition as it was not in the best of condition but nevertheless this was one of the most enjoyed features of the day. A father and son hockey game was followed by a broomball game between Branch 108 of the Royal Canadian Legion and Radio Station CFOX with the Legion emerging as the victors. The only goal was scored by Phil Chartrand.

Kathy Pritchard of Carlyle Avenue and Terry Dunn of Maple Street are the proud new owners of skates which they won in the draw. They were the very kind gift of Mr. Leo Crepin who owns the Crepin's Sporting Goods Store in Chateauguay Centre.

A special vote of thanks to the Chateauguay Centre Fire Dept. who stopped in with timely assistance when the new hose recently donated to the Club became frozen.

At the close of the Carnival, Mayor David Currie addressed the gathering with a few words of appreciation to those responsible for organizing the Carnival and thanked them for their work and effort saying that he was glad to see the Heights Recreation Club was once again becoming the centre of social life in the district as it had been once before. He especially mentioned the children, around whom most of the activities have been planned in recent months.

Prize winners were as follows:

MASQUERADE:

Originality, "Scare crow", Ann Lecuyer; best costume, "cow girl", Debby Tucker; smallest contestant "Leopard", Kathy Braid; best effort, "Norwegian girl", Randi Gurholt.

Speed race, girls 5 yrs. and under: 1st, Jane Rang; 2nd, Sharon Chartrand; 3rd, Myra Vanderwoude.

Speed race for boys 5 yrs. and under: 1st, Gerald Theauvette; 2nd, Eric Hyland; 3rd, Jeff Tucker.

Girls speed race, ages 6 and 7: 1st, Iris Michelson; 2nd, Susy Kallmeyer.

Boys speed race, ages 6 and 7: 1st, David Oliver; 2nd, Jackie Allen.

Girls speed race, ages 8 and 9: 1st, Mary Jean McDowell; 2nd, Debra Morrison.

Potato race, girls 8 and 9: 1st, Debra Barker; 2nd, Mary Jean McDowell.

Boys speed race, ages 8 and 9: 1st, Bobby Braid; 2nd, Jimmy Eagles.

Boys potato race, ages 8 and 9: 1st, Bobby Braid; 2nd, Tommy Dunn.

Chateauguay W.A. Lachine General Hospital Fully Organized

It is very gratifying to report that the Chateauguay Branch of Women's Auxiliary Lachine General Hospital under the capable leadership of Mrs. M. Bache and her executive is going full steam ahead and now has obtained the Parish Hall in Chateauguay Centre for all future meetings.

The monthly meeting of the Auxiliary was held on Tuesday morning, February 19th at the Parish Hall, and despite the bad weather a good number of ladies were in attendance. It was a great honour for the ladies to have as their guests Mrs. W. Harkness, President of the Lachine Branch, Mrs. H. E. Wylie, Convener of the Surgical Dressings Group and Mrs. J. Sheppherd, Publicity Committee. On behalf of the Auxiliary Mrs. Harkness expressed her thanks for the support of the Chateauguay Branch and noted that their help came at a time when it was most needed. The ladies of the Pointe Claire group who were very good workers are now concentrating on their own hospital which is now being built so the Chateauguay Branch is more than welcome.

The various committees submitted their reports and in some cases the fruits of their labour and the Surgical Dressings Group under the Convenership of Mrs. R. Beaudette reported that they had made a total of 1,805 swabs. Mrs. Beaudette informed the members of a new method she had devised for the rolling of these swabs and all the members were happy to learn of her simplified method. Mrs. Quinn, the Knitting Convener, submitted a lovely knitted baby outfit and Mrs. L. Leroux, Sewing Convener, submitted a lovely assortment of babies wear.

The different projects of the Auxiliary were discussed and it was decided to hold another meeting shortly to finalize the arrangements for the coming dance. (See coming events column of this paper for further particulars re the dance). A special vote of thanks was moved to Mrs. Pountain who looked after the children while the Mothers were busy with the meeting.

On behalf of the Lachine Branch, Mrs. W. Harkness invited the Chateauguay members to attend a Sherry Party which will be held on March 9th, at the Lachine Lawn Bowling Club. Following the business portion of the meeting coffee was served by the refreshment committee to the ladies and the kiddies present were delighted with cookies and chocolate milk.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Rev. Father Julien for allowing us to use the Parish Hall for our meetings. It is a large comfortable hall, centrally located and it is hoped that many new members will take advantage of this and join the very worth-while work of the Auxiliary.

The next monthly meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 19th, at 10 a.m., at the Parish Hall, so keep this date in mind.

C.H.O.A. Holds Executive Meeting To Discuss Matters

(By Mrs. E. Vetland)

The Chateauguay Home Owners Association Board of Executives held a meeting last Thursday evening, February 21st, at the home of 2nd Vice-President, Mr. Pat D'arcy. Presiding over the meeting was President Roy Vetland. As the full board was not in attendance, major items were deferred until a future meeting. Among the issues discussed were plans for a Carnival for Children, March 2nd. (See Coming Events Column for details). Plans for the next dance were also gone over and it was noted the popular Avalon Quartet have already been booked for this event. It is hoped that more residents will attend as the financial report showed a loss of $37. on the last dance.

Memberships also came under discussion as many area residents have voiced the opinion that the present executive have never approached them for fees. It is sincerely hoped that this will be remedied in the near future.

As the fiscal year of C.H.O.A. is drawing to a close plans were deliberated upon the Annual General Meeting to be held at the end of April. Mr. Earl Murphy was appointed Chairman of the Nominating Committee and at a later date, two more representatives who are not members of the Board of Management will also be appointed. The purpose of this group of three is to prepare a slate of Officers and Directors. The election will take place at the Annual meeting and each candidate must be a member of good standing, as per constitution.

Please watch this newspaper for future news regarding the Annual Meeting. The present executive hopes the members of the Association will show an interest in the coming elections. Your support is certainly needed if this organization is to continue and improve its activities.

Will Address Men's Club March 5th

Reverend Doctor Norman Rawson of St. James United Church, Montreal, who will address the inaugural dinner meeting of a Men's Service Club being formed at Chateauguay Centre United Chruch, on Tuesday, March 5th, at 6:30 p.m. in the Church Hall, 161 Parkview Boulevard.

Generally conceded to have lectured in the United States more than any other living Canadian, he annually speaks in Westminster Abbey, London, for one week during lent. His Sunday evening congregation of 2,000 at St. James in Montreal is the largest such congregation in the country.

His latest radio series, "Sounding Board", broadcast every Wednesday evening from 8.30 to 9:30 p.m., over station C.J.A.D. in Montreal, is receiving astounding response and has recently been supplemented by Tuesday afternoon interviews on the Doris Clarke show.

Noted for his happy combination of up-to-the-minute information, lucid and clear explanation, wholesome and sparkling wit, Doctor Rawson has travelled to Europe, Asia, and the United States lecturing to Service Clubs, Church Groups, and hundreds of Organizations.

He will be joined at the Chateauguay Centre United Dinner Meeting next Tuesday by two representatives from the United Church Board of Men who will be in attendance to offer advice and answer questions in connection with the formation of a Men's Service Club.

Maple Home And School Association Plans For "Education Week"

Monday March 4th is the start of "Education Week" and it is the sincere hope of this association that every parent will visit their children's schools. The activities will start Wednesday night at Maple School with a physical Education demonstration by pupils from Grades IV to VII. also on the programme will be a panel discussion consisting of students from Grade VII. The parents will then be asked to move over to the High School to view a very interesting film strip on "Team Teaching". This is a new method to be introduced here in the fall. Following the film, a panel of teachers will answer questions from the floor. In both schools, the pupils work will be on display.

On Thursday afternoon, there will be an assembly and display of work for grades I to III. The time for this will be 1:30 P.M. until 2:30 P.M.

On Saturday morning, March 9th, there is to be an "Invitational Basketball Tournament" held concurrently at Maple and Mary Gardner Schools. The out of town schools that will be participating are Bedford, Knowlton and Morin Heights. This will start around 10:00 a.m. and run well into the afternoon. This event has been organized by Mr. Eldridge and everyone is invited. Do come out and cheer your team on to victory.

REUNION DINNER OF BOER WAR VETERANS

A reunion dinner was held last Saturday in the club rooms of the South African War Veterans Association at 1419 Drummond Street, Montreal, to commemorate the 63rd anniversary of the battle of Paardeburg. In all probability this will be the last of such dinners as the ranks of these comrades are now sadly depleted, and it was considered expedient not to renew the lease on the clubrooms they have occupied for thirty years.

The President and Treasurer of Chateauguay Branch 108 of the Royal Canadian Legion were honoured with an invitation to represent the Branch at this dinner. About 12 South African Veterans together with a few associates enjoyed a chicken dinner washed down with whatever it is they put into these short brown bottles (junior grade) that used to be long and green.

The Chateauguay Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion are to receive the signal honour of being presented with the colours of the South African War Vets Association for safekeeping. This unique ceremony will take place in the club rooms at 1419 Drummond St., Montreal, Saturday March 23rd at 8 P.M. The two units have been associated for some considerable time and official visits to each other's units have taken place for the past eighteen years.

Ties of such long standing cannot and must not be thoughtlessly discarded, and it is hoped that the Comrades of the South African War are spared to spend many more of their leisure hours with their Comrades in Chateauguay.

Notes and Jottings
FROM
Robert Sellar's Historical Writings

The settlement of the first concession began with the century and, at the time immigration set in, was fairly occupied. Of the condition of the concession and its progress I can give no better account than that told by Wm. Taylor:

My father was a weaver in Paisley; a man of natural ability and deep piety, who preached on Sundays to a small knot of Baptists, who in those days, represented that denomination in the small Scottish town. Among his hearers were Matthew Tannahill, brother of the poet, and David Coats, who afterwards became the great thread-manufacturer. I was born in 1801 and when I became old enough learned my father's trade. In 1820, the radical year, trade was very dull, so that I could not find work, and my thoughts were directed to emigrating. The government was offering unusual inducements to go to Canada, — 100 acres in county Lanark, an axe, nails glass, etc., and $10 in money — and I joined the first party of 300, which sailed in the Buckinghamshire from Greenock on the 19th April, 1821. From Lachine, the passage was made in 30 Durham boats, the emigrants helping to tow them up the rapids, a Canadian heading the towrope and we falling in behind him. We were carted back to our lots in the bush. The land was stony and the poor people had a hard time of it, though those who persevered eventually made comfortable homes for themselves. Towards spring the settlement was visited by Jacob Hart, who had been educated by the Rev. Dr. Ewing, Independent minister of Glasgow, as a missionary, and who came to Lanark to see the Huttons, with whom I lived, a family with which he was connected by marriage. He told me that he was living in the county of Huntingdon, where the land was much better. In April, 1822, I determined to go and see for myself, and footed it the entire distance, being ferried across at St. Regis, and coming down on the American side to Chateaugay, from whence there was a rude road to the 1st con. of Hinchinbrook, not straight, but angling across the lots until it got to the centre of them, when it ran east. The first settler's house after crossing the boundary-line was that of Joe Silver, a Canadian, who had just sold to Adam Patterson but had not left. Then came 5 Americans, who afterwards sold out to Old Countrymen and left, and after them a Dutchman, Kidner, on 27, who sold to Wallace which brought me to McLatchie, who held then 600 acres and was very comfortable; still farther east were Peter McGregor and his father-in-law, Captain Barron, and John Campbell. I was so pleased with the land that I determined at once to remain, and walking to Huntingdon I found Mr. Bowron and took out my location-ticket for part of 30. Pittenwricht, an Aberdonian, took up the lot opposite me, which he sold afterwards to Donald Fisher. George Gillis drew part of 31 and as he was like myself, a single man, we worked together, making potash. Our living was potatoes and salt and salt and potatoes. Gillis sold in 1824 to William Burns. To make a little money I hired out the fall I came, at $6 a month, to Peter Campbell, and remained with him 15 months. Being ignorant of farming this was an advantage to me for Campbell had to teach me even to mow. In 1824 an Irish Catholic, Charles Mooney, arrived and built a sawmill on the east side of the Hinchinbrook, and afterwards, in 1828, a gristmill on the west bank. The latter was operated by a breastwheel 30 feet high and the machinery was very simple, mostly of wood, Sandy Lumsden making what ironwork there was. The stones were hewn out of boulders in the adjoining field. They moved slowly and turned out poor flour, but for all that, the mill was a great convenience. His coming induced a number of his countrymen to follow, and every Irish Catholic immigrant met on the road would ask the way to Mooney's. At the east end of the concession there settled the McMullins, Felix McCormick, James Condron, the Duffins, (Henry lived on the site of the Catholic Church) and the McDonaghs. The Learys came later on. A few years after he built the mills, Mooney sold the property to one Murray, who died market-clerk of Montreal. The same year that the sawmill was built, John Mitchel, a Dutch Yankee, built a store at the lines, on the road to Chateaugay, where all our trading had heretofore been done. The new store was very convenient and Mitchell was liberal, giving credit to the new settlers, who had often to get trust for their first axe. They paid in potash, which Mitchell hauled to Athelstan and sent to Huntingdon by canoe, having a large one for that purpose, which held 3 barrels. From Huntingdon to the Basin Reeves took them in his canoes, and often conveyed for Mitchel as many as a hundred in a season. An American from Plattsburg, Standish, established an ashery and store in the fall of 1825 at the lines, but shortly after sold out to his clerk, George McCoy, and the place is still known as McCoy's lines. He shipped in a season as many as 120 barrels of pearl-ash. Near by, Judge Smith had a store, and sold a great quantity of whisky. Our first school was opened on 34 in 1827 and was taught by Miss Hudson. She and subsequent teachers boarded round, one week for each scholar, and the subscriptions to the salary were paid in grain and orders on the storekeepers, with very little money. My wife taught in 1828 and 1829, and on our marriage, I settled down in earnest to improve my land. The Rev. Mr. Merlin was our first minister, though Adam Paterson and a few neighbors engaged for a short time a Baptist, Elder Smith. We had occasional visits from Methodists, but the first Canadian one was Father Hotchkiss, who began to visit us in 1838. He belonged to Missisquoi bay and had been a blacksmith. He was just suited to the backwoods, and could talk about and give advice on building, cattle, farming, and so on, so that even the Catholics were eager to see him and get his opinion. He was a loud, strong preacher, but had so limited a stock of sermons that he gave us one on Noah three times. He preached in the schoolhouse. On Mr. Merlin ceasing to be able to keep up his visits, the Black church was unused. One winter night John McIntosh was driving when he passed a standing sleigh. Thinking something was wrong he halted and turned back, when he found it was a neighbor and his wife, who had lost a mitt, for which they were searching. They were going to a prayer meeting at James Gamble's house, and asked McIntosh to go with them, which he did. He attended one or two afterwards, when Mrs. Black said she had the key of the church, and as it was not used, they might meet there. They did so and that led to the Franklin minister including the Black church in his appointments. There was not a wheeled vehicle used on the 1st concession when I came or for years after; it was all ox-sleds. Clearing an acre of land was counted in those early days worth $10. The school at Powerscourt was opened in the winter of 1833. The Johnston burying-place at Powerscourt is not a very old one. It contains a good many Irish Catholics, whom, for some cause or another the priest would not bury in consecrated ground.

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK
(by FERGUS HORSBURGH)

A reader sends me the following quotation from, I believe, an advertisement for porridge: — "Dr. Johnson's definition of oats — admittedly made to vex the Scots — was 'a grain which in England is generally given to horses, but which in Scotland supports the people'". To which the reply was made: "Yes sir, but where will you find such horses and such people?"

Well, they can't vex me, I don't like horses or oats. I'd better qualify that by saying it's the horses you bet on I don't like. But as for oats, I'm right with Dr. Johnson, and for once, the English. The oat, and its derivative, porridge, is no fit food for Fergus. Now, if it had been wild oats — there's another cereal story altogether!

Last week the first of the annual seed catalogues was delivered and the New York Yankees went South for pre-season training. That should be enough for those of you who dream in technicolor of balmier days and sunnier climes.

A chap I know quite well — let's face it, my wife makes his breakfast every day but Sunday — started to put on 1963 licence plates three weekends ago. Of course the bolts were rusty, the job was aggravating and it was bitterly cold, so after the first plate was fixed, it seemed reasonable to take a coffee break. After a nip of Scotch — beg pardon, cup of coffee — it seemed equally as reasonable to wait an hour or so to see if the weather would improve, before tackling the second plate. And so on — you know how these things go. Now, three weeks later, our car still has one 1962 plate and one 1963. I am rather worried that this is probably illegal. But surely it depends if one is coming or going? But then again it wouldn't be the first time the police or the government got you coming AND going, would it?

Another winter carnival is over, and as we all know, it was superbly organized and carried out to the last detail. Admittedly the weather was a little cold at times for some to turn out for the various activities, but all in all we do have a good group. Now we must look forward to spring and also to get behind our ladies' chairman 100% for her next big effort which will be announced shortly.

One other small request. Our young folks are having their play-offs now and if any team from West End brings home a trophy everyone will say well our boys did it. But will we be able to say, "well I went and rooted for them and perhaps that helped." Of course it helps. I have been a few times, but I admit not often enough. Who knows we may have a future N.H.L. player right here in W. E. See you at the game.

Happy Birthday

To Mr. Richard Smith who will be 21 on Saturday, March 2nd. Have a lovely day.

To Norman Roy who was 8 yrs. old Friday, Feb. 22nd. The Sproston family joined the Roys for supper, complete with a lovely cake in the shape of a little boy, made by Barbara. Many more happy birthdays, Norman.

To Mr. Stan Mackey and Mr. Fred Jones, both on Feb. 24th. They celebrated with friends gathering at the Jones' home on Saturday evening. Needless to say everyone had a very enjoyable time. Many more happy celebrations, boys.

Home Again

Wee Janice Golden was rushed to children's hospital on Friday, with croup. Am glad to report after a night on oxygen tent and another day in bed she was able to come home on Sunday. Nanny Buckley and Linda were waiting most patiently for her. Little Linda had a a previous invite out for supper and told Janice she was sorry she had to go, but she wouldn't be gone forever.

Omission

I am sorry about the omission last week regarding the showing of Miss Ellen's Romper Room Feb. 22nd on which Tishy Smith appeared. I hope a lot of her little friends saw her. Miss Ellen admired her doll and saw where her tooth came out. Glad you had a happy time, Tishy.

Please Note

Committee chairmen please take note. Any event coming up where tickets are sold or any event which is to raise funds must be advertised in the Coming Events Column: 25 words 75c. — Money to be enclosed with ad. This is a small amount for letting folks know what is going on. In this way the Gleaner feels no one will get an item inserted in the column of the community and another left out. All communities must do so and have so been advised.

Sympathy Extended

To the family of a friend of many in the Center, Mr. Drake, who passed away suddenly last week.

To Mrs. Norman Stock, whose mother passed away in Montreal 2 weeks ago.

May you find consolation, knowing other hearts are with you in your hour of sorrow.

Retirement Party

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jones were the recipients of a surprise party on Saturday night, at the home of their son, Mr. W. I. Jones of Colonia to celebrate Mr. Jones birthday (21 again) and also his retirement, both on Feb. 28th. A combined gift from the family was an easy chair, and although we know he will enjoy it Mr. Jones will not retire to armchair village. He's too energetic. Lovely refreshments were served by the wives, and mother and dad wish to thank their family and children for all their wishes and we of West End add ours for many happy years of restful retirement. Enjoy them both of you. Congratulations.

Mrs. R. O'Reilly was taken to St. Mary's hospital (maternity) on Friday. Dick and Carmella were the only absentees at the party for Mr. Jones. We sincerly hope all will be well and our prayers are with you Carmeella and Dick.

The Fashion Show held at the Mary Gardner School last Tuesday evening, Feb. 19th, was a tremendous success. More than 750 people were present and I don't think I have ever seen a more enthusiastic audience. This was partly due to Gord Sinclair of C.F.O.X. who did a wonderful job as commentator. The audience seemed to thoroughly enjoy his amusing remarks. The children were marvellous on the runway and looked lovely in the gorgeous fashions by Zellers.

During intermission, the school Ballet Class sang and danced to "Hey Look Me Over" and some of the male teachers put on their own fashion show while the female teachers sang "We Think You've Wonderful" to them. This was one of the most enjoyable shows I have seen in a long time.

Many thanks to Zellers Ltd, Mr. Gord Sinclair, Nescafe, Joubert Milk, Ron and As. Esso Station, Astra Greenhouse, West End Bowlarama, Hub Hardware and to all the people who helped — especially the ladies who looked after the refreshments. They did a terrific job.

The hockey game played at Chateauguay Park last Sunday between the Park and Prudential ladies proved to be quite a game. Mrs. Palmer did an excellent job in the nets. Mrs. Kay Sheppard scored for our team, the final score being 1 all. The ladies wish to thank the spectators for their encouragement. Mrs. Doherty is sporting a rather nasty lip and Mrs. Huet received a bloody nose, which only goes to show these ladies are not the weaker sex.

Rew. Dr. Rawson of St. James United Church, Montreal, will address the inaugural meeting of a men's club at Chateauguay Centre United Church, Tuesday, March 5, at 6:30 p.m.

Winners

Two Parkviewers are on the lucky list this week. Mrs. Romeo Decaen of Hillsdale Drive won a fifty dollar food certificate in the Steinberg Pinky Contest. Mrs. Vera Spice won a $25 food certificate in the same contest.

Fashion Show

The Children's Fashion Show held last week in the Mary Gardner School was a huge success. 750 people attended and saw lovely children's clothes from Zellers modelled by some of the school children who came on like old pros. Gord Sinclair of CFOX was the commentator and seemed to be enjoying himself.

The hit of the evening was the men teachers as they modelled ladies' coats and hats. Someone must have done a hard selling job to get them to do it, but everyone enjoyed their efforts.

Rrefreshments were served.

Meeting

The Parkview Women's Club will hold their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, March 5 at 8:30 at the Chateauguay Motel. On the agenda will be the election of a vice-president as Mrs. Audrey Scott has resigned.

Shower

On Wednesday, Feb. 20, a surprise baby shower was given by Mrs. Vivian Norris at her residence for Mrs. Anita Daoust. Present were Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Kendrick, Mrs. McInnis, Miss Foss, Mrs. Bert Legault, Mrs. Andy Legault, Mrs. Decaen, Mrs. Bushe, Mrs. McCarvill, Mrs. Fern Moore and Miss Aiken.

Everyone enjoyed the evening. Mrs. Daoust is expecting her baby in April.

CANDIAC — DELSON — LAPRAIRIE

Candiac U.C.W. News

A time of great satisfaction, inspiration and encouragement, was experienced by members of Candiac United Church Women who attended the First Annual Meeting of Montreal Presbyterial U.C.W. which was held in Montreal West United Church recently. Candiac U.C.W. were presented with a personal inauguration scroll, due to the fact that they were the only U.C.W. group to be formed without a past, in 1962, in the Montreal Area, other U.C.W. groups having once been either Missionary Societies or Women's Associations before combining as United Church Women.

The regular meeting of Candiac U.C.W. will be held in the Community Hall, on Tuesday, March 5th, at 8 p.m. when the guest speaker will be a representative from Canadian Celanese Co.

Protestant Home and School Association Hold Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Protestant Home and School Association of Greater Laprairie was held in Delson Town Hall, last Tuesday evening. Mr. Malcolm Weaire presiding. During the business session a general discussion of school problems took place and suggestions were made for provision of window shade for school no. 3.

Following Mr. Malcolm Weaire's resignation as president of the Association, Mrs. Harold Jacob will take charge of the four remaining meetings of this season. In completion of the business agenda Mr. A. F. Crummey, school principal, entertained the members by showing slides taken in the 3 schools and portraying children in each class and individual study. Mr. Crummey was duly thanked for his contribution of enjoyable entertainment. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Delson News

The Young Peoples' Society of St. Andrew's United Church held their weekly meeting in the Church Hall last Friday evening.

Mr. Herbert Yellenik, superintendent of Domtar Construction Materials, Clay division, was the guest speaker, his topic, "Industry in the local area." The young folk were greatly interested as Mr. Yellenik outlined the process of brick making, giving a detailed account of the various phases entailed, from the preparation of the necessary material, clay and shale, to the finished product. The aroused interest and curiosity of the group was evidenced during the question and answer period, when Mr. Yellenik was kept quite busy answering the many questions put forth. Gary Sheepwash introduced the guest speaker and George Young expressed thanks on behalf of the young people who greatly appreciated Mr. Yellenik taking time from his busy schedule, to give them this interesting and informative address.

Citizens Committee Meeting Well Attended

A special Citizens' committee meeting was held in Delson Town Hall, on Feb. 18th, at 8 p.m. when a large number of residents of Delson, St. Constant and Cote Ste. Catherine assembled for the purpose of establishing the course of proposed legal action to be taken against the Protestant School Board of Greater Laprairie. A legal advisor addressed the assembly, making explanations and answering the many questions which arose. Ratepayers stated, "It is inconceivable that the school board now operating with a $34,000 deficit have resolved to incur $60,000 additional expense by purchasing the most expensive school site. Others stated the desire to withdraw from the merger with Candiac. The meeting proved satisfactory to all concerned.

Delson Sports Association

At the last meeting of the Sports Association Mr. Harold Ball Jr., was elected as Director to the sports committee and Mr. Andre Potvin director representing the young school children. Best wishes were extended to both these gentlemen on their nomination to the Delson Sports Association. Plans for a Winter Carnival are under discussion complete with the Queen of Sports, further details will be forthcoming.

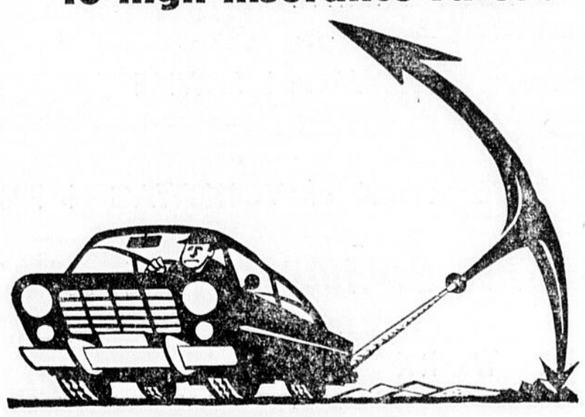

Obituary

Our deepest sympathy has been extended to Mr. Donald Fulton and family who recently received the sad news of the death of Mr. Fulton's father, the late Mr. J. Fulton, who passed away at his residence in Bangor, Northern Ireland.

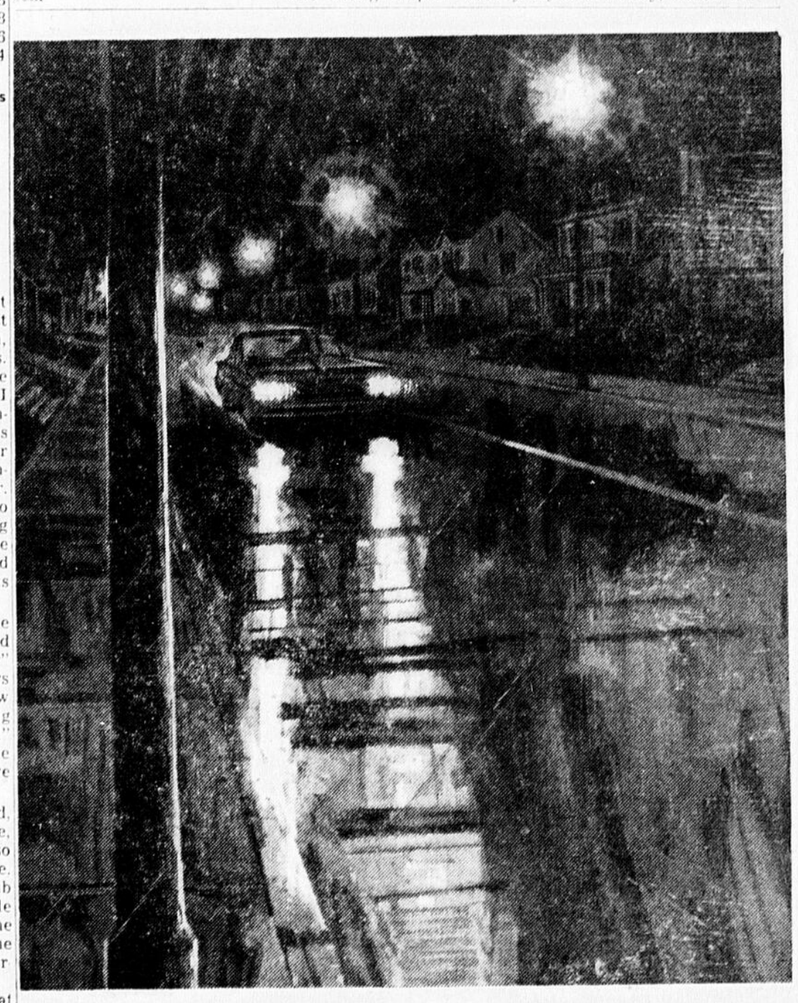

Birthday Wishes

Best wishes for a happy birthday go to Harold Ball Jr. who will celebrate his natal day next Friday, March 1st.

HELLO THERE

Seems as though the deep freeze is still with us but it didn't put a damper on the Quebec Winter Carnival, which apparently was in full swing over the weekend. Some of the fortunate folks in our area who drove to the festivities included our neighbours, Ina and Frank Lortie and daughter Brenda who went on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. J. Carbonneau of St. Andre took in the spectacle, also. According to Bosco Bourcier it was well worth the drive because the parade on Saturday night was a beautiful sight to behold. Let's hope that we can make it next year to join in the fun of La Bonne Carnival.

BIRTHDAYS

A surprise birthday party was held on Thursday evening, Feb. 21st ,at the Lortie home on Ethier Street, in honour of Mrs. D. Moody. Was she surprised when she walked in and found a gaily lighted birthday cake and her smiling husband whom she had sent off to work a few hours before! Her friends, Betty and George Rivest, from Montreal were there to help Dawn celebrate too. The Pizza Pie was delicious Betty, must get your recipe. This is one birthday Dawn won't forget for a long time.

Young Gordon Foster of Labelle Street was 9 years old on Sunday, Feb. 24th and his Mom planned his party for Saturday, the day before. Gordon and his guests had a great time with a Raisin Relay Game and naturally the Limbo and the Twist kept the gang in stitches. After the games the children enjoyed delightful refreshments. Gordon's guests included David Ellis, Garth Philipowski, Steven Zarboni, Ricky Lange, David Brown, and Shiela and Frank Foster.

GET WELL WISHES

Happy to hear that young Gina Bricault of Lasalle is back home from the Queen Elizabeth Hospital and is well on the road to recovery. She should be back at school soon. Gina had her tonsils and adenoids removed last Thursday and according to her mother has been a very good patient. Gina's Grandmother, Mrs. Vincelli, from Lachine came out to stay with Gina's young brother, Gary, while Gina was in hospital and no doubt Mrs. Bricault hopes that she will stay and visit for a while.

HANDY HINTS FOR THE HOMEMAKER

Give oranges or grapefruit a hot bath before peeling. Pour boiling water over them and leave for five minutes. This will remove the white undercoat under the skin.

A garlic skin will come off easily if hot water is poured over the garlic bud.

RECIPE EXCHANGE CORNER

Spice Cake

Sift into large bowl:
2 cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 tsp. baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. allspice

Add:
1 cup brown sugar (firmly packed)
½ cup shortening (soft)
⅔ cup sour milk or buttermilk.

Beat the above on No. 3 speed for 2 minutes.

Then add 2 eggs and beat well.

Bake for 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

NITRO NEWS

(Mrs. E. St. Onge)

NITRO — All folks interested, are reminded there will be a church service in, the Protestant church, on Sunday evening, March 3rd, at the usual time of 7 o'clock. The children of the choir have been practising — as usual — we would like to see a goodly number of grown-ups in the congregation. The children do their best but even with practice are not always sure of the tunes and a helping at evening services would be appreciated.

Mr. Jacques Wendover returned to Petawawa, Ont., last week, after a few days leave with family and friends. Last Tuesday evening Jackie and I invited the members of the Choir along with any others both young and old who wanted to see some of his slides, to meet with us at the church. The slides the children saw were all pictures Jackie had taken himself, scenes, animals, flowers, etc., and I was so pleased to find my young friends were so interested. Having school the next day most of the children had to leave but a few of us older folk stayed on, enjoying more of the slides plus some of Egypt Jackie had bought. Goodness only knows when he will be home on a long leave again but no doubt the slides will be shown again and to a larger group. I have been asked a good many times this past week, "When will Jackie be home again? And will he show us his slides again?"

Old friends and neighbours of Mrs. Brabant (still thought of, by old Nitrotes as Beverly Mather) are glad to know she returned home from Barrie Memorial Hospital last Saturday after a rather serious operation. We all hope you will soon be well and strong again, Bev.

Birthday greetings to Mrs. Wyman Hay, Guy Crepeau, Arlene Halliday, Sheila Daws, who celebrated birthdays this past week.

Miss Sandra Wilson entertained a few of her friends last Saturday evening at her home.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

Friday, March 1, is the day set aside for the World Day of Prayer. This is the day when services in all countries of the world are held in churches of all denominations uniting all women in prayer for peace and understanding, love and brotherhood. This year the service is being held in St. Andrew's United Church. Please come and bring a friend.

The Youth Groups in Chateauguay are holding their service at 4 p.m. also in St. Andrew's. Due to transportation problems the Girl's Groups in the Parkview and Prudential areas are holding a service at 4 p.m. in Chateauguay Centre United Church. All ladies, who find that they are unable to get to St. Andrew's, are invited to join the girls in this service of united prayer.

St. GEORGE'S ANGLICAN CHURCH

On March 3, a Parent-Teachers meeting of the Sunday School has been called for 7:30 p.m. All parents who have children attending any of the three Sunday Schools held at St. George's are invited to attend.

On Wednesday, March 10, and every Wednesday throughout Lent, services will be held at 8 p.m. Following each service there will be an adult study session held, the subject being 'The church in the '60's'. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Everywhere I go, everyone seems to be fed up with the constant cold and constant snow shovelling. We certainly have had a very generous helping this winter and how treacherous the roads have become for those who walk.

OVER 100 CHILDREN ENJOY C.P.O.A. SLEIGH-RIDE FRIDAY NIGHT

On Sunday walking down were driving to the shopping centre, a lady lost her footing and fell just in front of the car. Fortunately we were stopping in order to give her a lift or I fear it may have been quite a serious accident

On Sunday walking down Parkview Blvd., I did the same thing on the corner of St. Marys. It would help if we could have a little sand on the streets.

YOUR THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

In truth, in very truth I tell you, he who has faith in me will do what I am doing; and he will do greater things still because I am going to the Father.

John 14:12
The New English Bible.

"Bill," said a sailor looking up from his writing, "do you spell 'sense' with a 'c' or an 's'?"

"That depends," replied his friend. "Do you refer to money or brains?"

"Aw, I don't mean either of them two," was the reply. "What I want to say, 'I ain't seen him sense'."

The Scouts And Cubs Need Your Help

ON Saturday evening, the annual Father and Son banquet was held for the Huntingdon Scouts and Cubs. There was a very good attendance of dads and their lads and it was a very enjoyable gathering. The Scouts and Cubs is one of those organizations in Huntingdon that has had very good support for many years. It has been in danger a number of times of being closed due to lack of leaders, but a faithful few have managed to carry on and a little extra help has come to the rescue each time.

The leaders who spoke at this banquet on Saturday night, again emphasized the need for more help from the fathers in looking after this group of Scouts and Cubs. The past year the effort was saved by the fact that three local women volunteered to help out with the Cubs and they are doing a wonderful job. According to the reports, both Scouts and Cubs are increasing — the Scouts by the fact that the Cubs are going up to Scouts and the Cubs by the fact that new members are joining. Thus there is need in the Scouts for more leaders to help out in this very worthwhile endeavor.

On the occasion of the annual banquet, the annual meeting of the Group Committee is also held, when reports are received as to the general standing of the whole organization. This time of year also heralds the opening of the financial campaign for the Scouts and Cubs and it was announced that soon someone will be calling at the homes to ask for assistance in a monetary way for this worth-while cause. Judging from the attendance on Saturday night, there should be a very good response to this call. However, there are not sufficient in this group of people to supply all that will be needed, so the call will go to a still larger number of citizens. The important point is that when the canvasser calls that each one gives as generously as possible. The Group Committee, which is in charge of this end of the project will have heavier commitments this year with regard to the boys' fees due heardquarters in Ottawa It has been the policy in the past for the Committee to pay this out of the funds realized from the annual campaign. The amount used to be $1.50 per boy, but today it is over $4, it will thus be seen that this liability has increased considerably and it will require a greater contribution to the annual drive than in previous years.

No one can deny that the Scout and Cub Movement does benefit our young boys and teaches them to become better citizens of the future. With such an achievement no one can find fault, it therefore behooves us to keep this movement going. However, as pointed out at Saturday's gathering the need is not for cash contributions alone. A helping hand is needed as well. This means someone giving a little time to spend with the Scouts and Cubs each week and on special occasions such as the camping trips and trips to other groups. It can be fun working with the boys and they will appreciate it too. Scouting is played like a big game, but the game teaches many things that are useful to the boys in their lives as citizens. Thus it is a very worth-while job that is done and those doing it are to be commended for the efforts they put into it. There are a faithful few that have been looking after this work for many years, while they are happy to do this there comes times when they feel they have done all they can. Each leader can only do so much with so many boys, when the number exceeds the set figure, the task becomes too much.

It is therefore that if anyone has some time to spare that he would like to devote to this work, will he please get in touch with the Group Committee — Mr. William Goodall, who will have them meet with the leaders. They can then talk the matter over and see where they can best fit into the program. With the Scouts and Cubs having such proportions it would be a shame to have to stop the meetings and we feel sure no one wants to see this happen.

Support the Scouts and Cubs, morally, physically and financially.

Cuba Could Still Be The Cause Of War

RECENT events still carry threats of a third world war with nuclear weapons included in it. An incident in which planes from Cuba were supposed to have attacked a U.S. fishing vessel, started off this new trend of talks.

The United States ordered a full investigation into the affair and what steps would be taken should other attacks follow. Russia immediately warned the United States if an attack was made on Cuba in any way it could mean the beginning of World War Three. Other countries also became alarmed and asked that no hasty decision be made.

All of this came when discussion on banning nuclear devices was under way and the talks were going along in a favorable fashion. Now there is a hitch in the proceedings and the hitch surrounds the number of inspections per year which Russ would be willing to allow. Russia says only three, the United States wants at least seven. The talks have now been halted because Russia will not go along. There is a danger that once more the meeting will end without decision.

The United States had settled down and was awaiting the removal of Russian troops from Cuba and the Russians had agreed to withdraw a large number of them immediately. The incident of the plane attack aroused the lulling sense of peacefulness on the part of the United States to another fury and immediate action. Orders were given no other such incidents would be tolerated, but patrols were told to keep alert and deal with any other attempts. It was this that aroused Russia to tell the States that any attack on Cuba could bring the Third World War.

The matter is still under investigation, with Cuba denying that such an attack was made. The uproar has subsided somewhat, but there is still tension and alert against any further incidents.

Such an incident could very easily start something big, for the world is in such a high state of tension that it would not take much to be aroused. There is some mystery about the meetings which Prime Minister Diefenbaker and two of his Ministers are having in London, England. The Prime Minister was supposed to have gone to receive the key of the city, but English newspapers hint there is more to the visit than that. They term it as a mystery.

Some sources say that the talks have to do with the present nuclear mixup. Britain too was having her troubles a few months ago, it is remembered with nuclear weapons and there was furore in Great Britian over it and the Government was given a rough time by the opposition — much the same as in Canada. There is something more to this nuclear argument than just accepting the equipment. Perhaps some form of interception has been found and if that is the case, then this would be the device to install. Naturally if there is such a thing, it could not be announced yet. Our Prime Minister has said that other weapons have no use now and there is no defence against missiles. The weapons that had been talked about were to fight off manned bombers, which said the Prime Minister will not be used should another war come about. Therefore, with all these talks going on right at the start of an election campaign, it would seem that perhaps there is something very important going on. The Prime Minister has promised an announcement later, so perhaps we shall learn more about what is happening and what may happen then.

As Others See Us

ONE result of the political crisis in Ottawa was that millions of Americans rediscovered Canada.

When Defence Minister Douglas Harkness resigned and the government was defeated in a vote of non-confidence, the developments were prominently reported on the front pages of U.S. newspapers.

The American TV and radio networks also devoted large portions of their newscasts to the situation.

Since the Second World War only two events had attracted such notice south of the border. One was the Ignor Gouzenko spy case in the 1940s. The other was the miraculous survival of miners in the Springhill, N.S., colliery disaster several years ago.

The cabinet crisis, however, was the first purely political story to hold American interest for several days running.

The whole affair must have been something of an eye-opener for those Americans whose awareness of Canada is largely limited to scarlet-coated Mounties and parka-clad Eskimos.

A political crisis is something they tend to associate with countries where emotions are more easily stirred. And there are indications that some Americans were mystified by what happened in this country.

For example, a New York taxi driver — knowing that a U.S. president cannot be removed before the end of his term unless he's impeached — figured that the defeat of the Canadian government must have resulted from a coup d'etat.

There are a lot of Canadians who feel Americans should take more notice of us, particularly since Canada and the United States, aside from being next-door neighbors, are each other's best customers.

But before they begin to think the recent series of events heralds a new era in Yankee curiosity about Canadian activities, they should remember that in the eyes of many Americans it was the actions of the U.S. state department that brought about the government's defeat.

What seems more likely is that, with the exception of a few who really care about what goes on in this country, most of the people in the U.S. will return to their former attitude of mild disinterest.

Because if it's going to take a full-blown political crisis to keep them interested, we'd just as soon be ignored.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

SUGAR and SPICE

By Bill Smiley

There once was a man with a vision,
Who just couldn't make a decision.
He was willing to fight,
But thought it not right
To resort to nuclear fission.
His critics were quick to surround him,
His buddies all rallied around him,
Except for the few
Who decided to do
What they'd long wanted to —and confound him.

And that is my sole contribution to the current confused picture in Canadian politics. By the way, have you taken a good kick at Dief yet? Now is your chance. Give him a good one while he's on the ropes and his mouthpiece has fallen out.

Only thing that has pleased me greatly in the past couple of weeks is the recognition of the solid intelligence, the basic reliability, the sturdy independence, of the Canadian voter. Why, everybody I've talked to could see this crisis coming long ago. People I was certain didn't know a legislature from a log cabin, a Common Market from a market garden, have shaken me with their certain grasp of the situation, and their crystal-clear exposition of the problems.

"It's the darn Yanks," one voter informed me. "They're behind the whole thing. They've been sore at us ever since Laura Secord went marching through Georgia with her cow, in the war of 1812, handing out chocolates to the newly-freed slaves."

This was a lady voter, I might add. Always looking for the women's angle.

Another political type, who has voted the straight Tory ticket for years, told me bluntly that he's seen the error of his ways. He's swung too, as he put it, "that there Royal Coat, that French fella who waves his arms a lot. That Crucial Credit sounds pretty good to me. We need a lot more of that, these days."

Another chap who has gone right down the line with the Conservatives, is fed up. He has swung far to the left, and is now, he assured me, a solid supporter of "that Tummy Douglas. Tummy has done a great job for the common man, since he quit practisin' medicine out west. Never made a go of it as a doctor, anyhow, I hear."

Quite a few people aren't going to vote for the Government, because they've already got that new dock or post office Dief promised them, and they've voted for him three times, and they figure he's been paid for it. Now they're ready to try one of the other parties, and see what they can wangle out of it.

One elderly lady of my acquaintance, who has been a Grand Old Tory ever since she ceased being a Fighting Young Conservative, would never consider changing her vote. But she's a little sore at the party for accepting Churchill's resignation so readily.

"I think it's despicable," she snapped, " after what he did during the war. After all, Blood, Sweat and Tears... Fight on the Beaches..."

I tried to explain that it was Mr. Harkness, a former school teacher, who had resigned, and that Mr. Churchill had been promoted from Veteran's Affairs to Defence, and that Sir Winston was a Tory, but not in this country. It was no use. As I left, she was shaking her fist and shrilling, "Give Us the Tools and We Will Finish the Job." I rather admired her.

By the way, don't make any rash bets that the Liberals will win in a waltz. I've talked to at least 10 women who proclaim vehemently, "I can't STAND that Pearson!" I ask them why. The can't explain. But they simply will not vote for him. I think it's because he looks too much like somebody's brother-in-law.

The most embarrassing of all the interviews I've done, though, are those with ladies who lean at me fervently and coo, "But don't you think Mr. Diefenbaker is a Wonderful Man? I mean, I realize that he hasn't DONE anything, and that the country is on the rocks, and unemployment is terrible, and all that. But don't you think he's a Wonderful man?"

Jeez, as the kids say.

Now, I know you're busy mulling the whole thing over. But I hope this brief glimpse into the teeming mind of the Canadian voter, alert, well versed, conscious of the problems, will help in the trying six weeks ahead.

One last thought. Wouldn't it be lovely if we could bottle all the gas that is going to be produced between now and April 8? We could heat every home in Canada, free, from now until June.

WANDERING WITH ERNEST ADLEY

This is a solemn declaration that I will not write about the spring garden seed catalogs. If you have not got them, they are well on the way and you will, I hope, sit right down and make out your order for far more seed than you can ever possibly use. It's the same with me. I ordered mine just a week ago and, lo and behold, I got them yesterday. Just for kicks, I emptied one package and labourously counted the contents. According to my calculations and figuring that 75% of the seed germinates I will need half of Henry Wallaces's farm to get them planted out with proper growing space between them. Besides the seeds, I have gone over board and ordered chrysanthemum, carnation, dianthus phlox and pyrethum plants and about 20 rose bushes. And so before I become too enthused I will not say another word about seed catalogs.

—H—

Now that the fully expected has actually happened, one must be permitted to wonder if the interests of the party should be permitted to transcend the interests of the state. It seems to me that the recent squabblings in our House of Commons has really had nothing to do with the welfare of Canada and its citizens but has been nothing more nor less than a jockeying for a favourable political position by all four parties.. Each on of the four contestants has put on a cloak of self righteousness in the hope that it would result in presenting a noble image to the voter as having his or her interests predominantly in mind. It would be a blessing if we could feel, with complete confidence, that one or another of them really would put the country's interests before that of the party. You may well disagree with my thoughts but I assure you that I, for one, would gladly study the principles (and they are so important) and aims of a new group, made up of men and women who, one could feel had the interests of the country and its people and, for that matter, the whole world as its primary consideration. That may be wishing for Utopia but, why not?

—H—

The back page of my church (United) calendar for this Sunday carries the following quotation:

"Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow?"
Job. 38:22

Well, yes, I did. I backed right into the treasures and they were about 3 feet deep and I had to get my good neighbours to push me out of them. At that, I was fifteen minutes late getting to church but I was lucky as the minister had his eyes tight shut (I hope) in prayer and I was able to sneak in without incurring his reproachful look.

—H—

Speaking of church, it was most interesting to read that the people of the Fiji Islands are very strict Methodists and, as such, the delayed arrival of the Queen and Prince Phillip posed a problem. As you know, their arrival at the Islands was delayed by 24 hours because of bad weather.

They were due to arrive on Friday but did not get there until Saturday. Elaborate preparations had been made to entertain them on the Saturday by means of various displays and native dances but all this had to be delayed. Evidently these Methodists frown very severely at any displays or dances on the Sabbath and, at the time of this writing it was very much up in the air as to whether or not many months of preparation would be discarded and go down the drain, so to speak, because of this taboo. Let us hope that the local church dignitaries would realize, in good time, that benevolent dispensation would be granted from above for this very special occasion and that everybody would be made happy and none condemned for this very slight deviation from their regular habits.

Report From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — The nuclear arms debate continued to dominate in the capital last week, overshadowing such developments as:

Announcements by Justice Minister Donald Fleming and State Secretary Ernest Halpenny that they would not be candidates in the April 8 federal election;

The elimination or reduction of surcharges on imported goods worth about $1,185,000,000.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker appears to have pointed the Conservative party towards a non-nuclear policy for Canadian forces in Canada — with a qualified "maybe" for its forces abroad.

Speaking to the Ontario Progressive Conservative Party's annual meeting Tuesday in Toronto, he said Canada's two Bomarc bases are becoming less important in North American defence.

When Canada agreed to build bases at North Bay, Ont., and La Macaza, Que., the principal threat to North America was from Russian manned bombers.

"But the day of the manned bomber is coming to an end and the intercontinental ballistic missile is taking its place," declared Mr. Diefenbaker.

POSITION CHANGED

"If war is declared, it will be with these weapons, against which there is no defence.

Because the Bomarc bases are ineffective against the ICBM, Mr. Diefenbaker said Canada should emphasize its stand for world disarmament.

The prime minister asked if commitments made when one set of circumstances prevailed had to be carried out when circumstances change. As an example, he said the United States had commitments to supply Britain with the Skybolt missile and to maintain bases in Turkey. But these commitments had been changed.

As to Canada's forces in NATO, the prime minister said decisions on nuclear warheads will be taken when the North Atlantic council meets in Ottawa in May.

Liberal Leader Pearson released a statement on nuclear weapons the day following Mr. Diefenbaker's speech. Party sources said it was a reply to charges of government spokesmen and was designed to make the Liberal policy understood by the public.

DENIES CHARGES

In the statement, Mr. Pearson rejected charges that a Liberal government would accept nuclear warheads and immediately try by negotiation to get rid of them.

"This is not our policy," said Mr. Pearson. "No responsible person would suggest such a course."

He said the Liberal policy — unchanged from a speech he gave in the Toronto area Jan. 12 — would be to lose no time in fulfilling present commitments to accept nuclear warheads for weapons now in Canada's possession. And a Liberal government would keep them "as long as they are useful for defence."

In his Jan. 12 speech, Mr. Pearson said a Liberal government would fulfill Canada's commitments to nuclear weapons. At the same time, he said the government should re-examine the whole basis of defence policy and discuss with the United States and NATO a more appropriate and effective role for Canada in continental and collective defence.

T. C. Douglas, New Democratic Party leader, opening his election campaign in Toronto Feb. 15, said his party stands alone "in unqualified and unambiguous opposition to nuclear arms."

Social Credit leader Robert Thompson has declared that a Social Credit government would leave the question of nuclear arms for Canadian defence to a parliamentary committee. But under no circumstances would a government he headed acquire offensive nuclear weapons.

TOOK HEAVY JOLT

Justice Minister Fleming's announcement Monday that he is retiring from public life was followed Tuesday by a similar one from Secretary of State Halpenny.

Mr. Fleming's pending departure is a heavy jolt for the Diefenbaker cabinet, already hard hit by the resignations of Defence Minister Harkness, Trade Minister Hees and Associate Defence Minister Sevigny.

Mr. Fleming said he is leaving for personal reasons and Mr. Halpenny has been advised by his doctor not to seek re-election in the April 8 election.

Mr. Fleming said his decision to leave public life after 25 years "caused me deep searching of heart."

"The time has come however when the exactions and sacrifices imposed by public service are too heavy to be continued."

A seatmate of Mr. Diefenbaker's since the Conservatives took office in 1957, Mr. Fleming is second in seniority in the cabinet after External Affairs Minister Green.

There have been reports that Mr. Fleming might be appointed to a vacancy in the Supreme Court.

Mr. Halpenny has suffered several heart seizures within the last 18 months. First elected to the Commons in 1957 as the MP for London, he first entered the cabinet in 1960 as the minister without portfolio.

Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC (CP) — Two major announcements were made by the Government this week and several important pieces of legislation were disclosed by Government Members.

Premier Jean Lesage announced that official Government offers are being sent to shareholders in seven of the 11 private power companies Hydro-Quebec is to take over this year.

He said shareholders will have until April 19 to accept the offers. Payments would be made by April 30. The total offer amounts to the $604,000,000 figure announced Dec. 28.

Accounting studies of the four remaining companies — all comparatively small — are still being made. Mr. Lesage said the offer for these would amount to about $1,000,000.

In another announcement, Mr. Lesage said Quebec Savings Bonds will go on sale March 11 with a time-payment plan through which small investors can buy.

Bonds of $50., $100., $500., $1,000. and $5,000. will be issued dated April 1. To mature in 10 years, they will pay interest rates of five per cent for the first two years, 5¼ per cent for the next three, and 5½ per cent for the next five.

The Bonds will be easily available through Banks, Credit Unions and Trust Companies. Mr. Lesage said buyers will be able to reach agreement with sellers on time payments, with a minimum down payment of five per cent.

Limit for any individual was $15,000.

The Premier said the bonds will decrease the Government's need to go outside the Province for capital and will allow citizens "to take part directly in the financial activity of their own Government."

Meanwhile, in the Assembly, a Bill was introduced to bring minimum required coverage under the Highway Indemnity Act to $35,000 to cover any one of three categories — material damage, death or injury to one person, death or injury to more than one person.

Another measure saw Game and Fisheries Minister Bona Arsenault announce a sliding scale of rental fees for private hunting and fishing clubs that will go into effect Jan. 1, 1964, with rentals up.

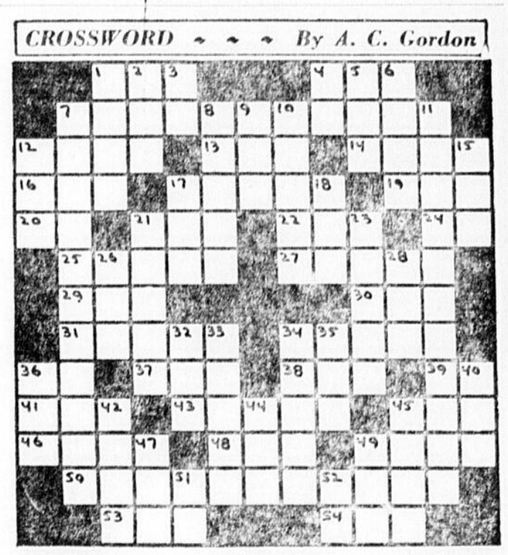

The move, he explained is designed to cut down the size of territories leased from the Government and make more land available to the public and to smaller clubs. Minimum rates would be $10 a square mile for territories under 25 square miles and $55 for territories between 175 and 200 square miles.

About 27,000 square miles of Quebec currently is leased to private clubs, mostly in good hunting and fishing regions easily accessible from urban areas.

At mid-summer 1962 there were 6,582,000 Canadians with jobs, of whom 797,000 were employed in agriculture and unemployment totalled 280,000.

The subject of nuclear weapons seems to become more confused than ever as the days go by and it is most difficult for the ordinary man to get his thoughts settled enough to reach a clear and firm decision. Many good people are for or against such weapons and an equal number sit of the fence, knowing not which way to jump. Most certainly all of us dread the certain results of their use and deeply regret that this wonderful scientific discovery could not have been restricted to peaceful use instead of it hanging over us as a terrible threat. Surely those who we have elected to look after our affairs and the governing people of all other countries should be able to get together and banish this threat for all time. It seems so senseless to me.

Quebec Driver Liability To Increase To $35,000

QUEBEC — The government intends to increase to $35,000 the amount of insurance an automobile owner must hold under terms of the Highway Victims Indemnity Act.

According to the present act a driver responsible for an accident in which someone is killed or injured or in which more than $250 damage is incurred stands to lose his driver's and owner's permits unless he can provide proof of financial reponsibility covering $5,000 for damage to property, $10,000 for injury or death involving one person, and $20,000 for injury or death involving more than one person.

Under the law as it stands an indemnity fund has been set up from which the victim of an accident caused by an uninsured person could be compensated, by court order up to the limits set by the $5,000-$10,000-$25,000 formula.

If a judge accorded greater damages, the victim could not claim against the fund except to the limit set by the old formula.

The uninsured person could not drive again until he had reimbursed the fund.

Under the proposed $35,000-inclusive formula, one or more persons could be indemnified up to $35,000.

The act only covers indemnity to victims of accidents, and does not touch on possible loss of permits or other punishment arising from actions taken under the Highway Code.

Notice of a motion to amend the act was inscribed on the order paper of the Legislative Assembly yesterday and a spokesman for the Transport and Communications Department said that the total amount of $35,000 being suggested in the amendment will guarantee better protection for accident victims than the combination of amounts in the present act.

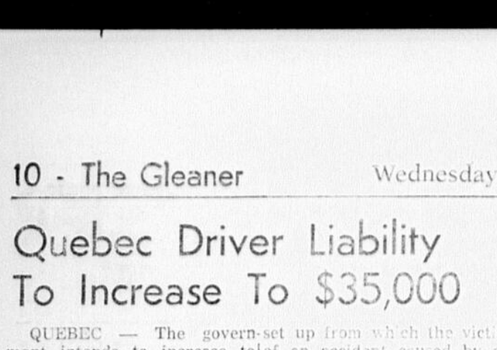

One of the reasons behind the increase was the granting of higher indemnities by the province's courts to accident victims. The amount envisaged in the amendment is in line with that in other provinces.

A slight increase in insurance rates is foreseen as a result of the increased coverage, according to the Department spokesman, for those with insufficient coverage.

At Montreal, insurance company spokesmen said the additional premium to bring coverage form a combined maximum of $25,000 coverage to an "inclusive limits" coverage of $35,000 hadn't yet been worked out.

It was assumed the difference would be small, "in the couple-of-dollars category."

Howick

HOWICK — Mr. J. Melville Brown spent last week at Ste. Marguerite, P.Q., where he attended a convention for the John-Deere Dealers of Eastern Canada.

Ladies from the Howick U.C.W. who attended the Montreal Presbyterial U.C.W.'s 1st Annual meeting held in Montreal West United Church were: Mrs. R. B. Tolhurst, Mrs. W. Bradley, Mrs. Math McKell, Mrs. J. D. Lang, Mrs. Whiteford McKell, Mrs. W. Court and Mrs. J. Melville Brown.

Laura Robertson (skip), Stella Gourley, Muriel E. Ness and Mabel Glasgow enjoyed two games in Hudson Bonspiel winning against Baie D'Urfe and losing to Ste. Annes.

Unit B of the Howick U.C.W. held their February meeting on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ben Plaizier. Eighteen members and five visitors enjoyed a talk given by Miss Isobel Frith on the camp "5 Oaks" at Paris, Ontario. This workers camp, or laymen's training center has a year round programme for teenagers, adults or retired adults. Miss Frith illustrated her talk with slides. Devotions, a business meeting, a parcel post, and refreshments, completed an enjoyable afternoon.

W.M.S. MEETING

The February meeting of Georgetown W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Thos. Kerr on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 19. The president opened the meeting with a meditation and prayer. Fifteen members responded to the roll call and three guests were present.

After the business meeting Mrs. Logan introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. D. Fossum, who is well known to everyone. She gave a most sincere and inspiring message with a wonderful interpretation of several portions of the Scriptures. Mrs. A. Lewis thanked Mrs. Fossum.

Mrs. W. Logan mentioned a few of the highlights of the Montreal Presbyterial which was held recently in Melville Church, Montreal. The special speaker for the evening meeting was Rev. C. Costerus, a missionary from Formosa.

After the meeting a social half hour was enjoyed over a cup of tea.

The Late

Mrs. Florence M. Mason

At Huntingdon, Que., on Tuesday, February 19th, 1963 Mrs. Florence M. Mason passed quietly away. She had suffered from ill health for some time and had a stroke on December 18th, 1962.

The funeral service conducted by the Rev. P. R Stote was held Thursday, February 21st, 1963, from the D. A. Collins Funeral Chapel in Montreal, and burial was in the family plot in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Mrs. Mason was born in Montreal, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kerr and had been a resident of the Huntingdon area for ten years and was well known as a faithful worker of the Missionary Society of St. John's Anglican Church. A short time before her death she was made a life member of this society.

Mrs. Mason, widow of the late James W. Mason of Montreal, leaves to mourn her loss her sisters Victoria (Mrs. J. A. Ballard) Montreal Una (Mrs. P. M. Knowles) Rosemere and Ruby (Mrs. C. A. Lewis) Huntingdon as well as eleven nieces and nephews.

The Late David Sauvé

Mr. David Sauvé, husband of Marie-Anna Leboeuf, passed away at the Huntingdon County Hospital, on February 8th, 1963, at the age of 74 years. He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his wife, two daughters, Rhea (Mrs. René Forget), Ormstown; Medora (Mrs. Elmer Duheme), Huntingdon; four grandchildren Monique and Marc Forget; Laurent Duheme, husband of Therese Brunet and Cecile Duheme, wife of Gerald Tessier; six great-grandchildren Celine, Marielle, Royal and Michel Duheme; Jocelyne and Guy Tessier; two brothers, Ferdinand and Horace Sauvé of Valleyfield, also many nieces and nephews.

Huntingdon High School Notes

By Cheryl PARK

On Wednesday (today) Huntingdon Boys' Basketball team will play against Chateauguay in Huntingdon and on Friday the two teams will meet again in Chateauguay. The winning team will compete in the Provincial Championships.

Last Thursday afternoon the High School was closed to allow the teachers to attend a C.V.T.A. Meeting and on Friday the school was closed for the usual mid-term holiday.

Students from Grades 9-11 attended the Macdonald College Royal and the Green and Gold Revue on Friday. All who went had a good time.

25 Years Ago

March 2nd, 1938

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the Vaudrin Saw-mill, Longtin's Garage and E. Roy's barn causing damages to the extent of $15,000 at St. Stanislas early Friday morning.

Work on the erection of the County Building in Huntingdon was begun in the spring of 1859. Several tenders were received from various contractors and it was decided to accept the lowest, that of Thos. Best. His tender was $1,046 pounds for the building and 400 pounds additional for the mason work. It was decided to cover the roof with in providied that the cost did not exceed $100.

On July 3rd, 1860 the building was officially viewed by the Council and on December 12 of that year the first meet was held in the Council Chamber. Since that time meetings of all kinds have been held there. Its weather-beaten limestone exterior has a familiar but stately appearance to those who know it well.

Franklin Centre

FRANKLIN CENTRE — The U.C.W. held their meeting on Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Ross Dunn, with a good attendance.

Mrs. Sherrington opened the meeting by reading a portion of the book entitled Signals for The 60's, after which "Buzz Groups" were formed, each group was given a question to discuss and a spokesman was chosen from each group to summarize the conclusions reached by her group.

The Devotional was held under the leadership of Mrs. James Manning, assisted by Mrs. Ross Dunn.

It was reported that our Church will be hostess for the World Day of Prayer, to be held on Friday, March 1st. Plans were made for this occasion. Copies of the U.C.W.'s programs for the year were distributed to those present and a vote of thanks was given to Elma Joan Sherrington for their preparation. Mrs. Hope was appointed to represent the U.C.W. at the official Board meeting, February 20th, at Rennies Church. Mrs. Manning reported that Rev. A. E. Loree kindly offered to take the winter clothing collected, to the St. Columbo House, in Montreal. A letter of thanks from Mrs. Gaetan Tremblay for the Wedding Gift was read by the hen adjourned and refreshments were served by the secretary. The meeting was hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Bruce are convalescing at Warden's Home at Ormstown, at present having entered the home on Tuesday. We trust that both of them will benefit and enjoy good health shortly. Their callers on Saturday were Miss Hazel Bruce, Mr. Huntley Bruce and Mrs. Hazel Wilson of Montreal.

Mr. Lloyd Bruce expects to be able to return to the city from the Barrie Memorial Hospital, on Monday.

The Teachers' Workshop was held at Hemmingford, on Thursday afternoon, so the pupils at the Intermediate School had a half-day holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Saxton of Bushton, N.Y. and Mr. Joe Clarke of Malone, were guests the past week of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dickenson.

The Pawluk-Polaszczguk wedding was solemized in the United Church on Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Loree of Ormstown. Miss Shirley Dunn was organist and Mrs. Ross Collick of Montreal, was soloist. The reception was held in St. Chrysostome at Hotel Bourdeau. Those attending from Franklin were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hope, Mrs. Rae McMillan and the Misses Pat and Linda who were the bridesmaids.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lamb's little granddaughter Kathy Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lamb is slowly improving from double pneumonia in Alice Hyde Hospital in Malone.

Mr. W. J. Davis of McNeal Arizona, passed away on Wednesday, February 21st, at the Hospital there. Sincere sympathy is extended by this community to his daughter, Mrs. Floyd Stevenson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Nussey of St. Hubert, spent the week-

½ AWAKE NIGHTS ½ ASLEEP DAYS

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They toss and turn in bed—and then are dull and listless throughout the day. All of which may be due to a temporary toxic condition which calls for the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they slow down and impurities stay in the system, disturbed rest, tired feeling and backache often follow. If you don't rest well at night—if you haven't that sprightly step of health in the daytime—use Dodd's Kidney Pills. You can depend on Dodd's!

Ormstown High School Notes

McGILL ALUMNAE PUBLIC SPEAKING:

The semi-finals of the McGill Alumnae Public Speaking Contest was held at Ormstown High School on January 30. Four very able and attractive contestants from schools in the Chateauguay Valley participated delivering their talks before an audience that included two members of the McGill Alumnae Society, Mrs. Tower and Mrs. Thomas, who motored out from Montreal for the occasion.

Marsha Hooker of Huntingdon High School delighted the audience with her amusing and well prepared talk on "Learning to Drive". In her quietly charming fashion, Carol Carson of Howick High School convinced her hearers of the importance of the virtues of "Patience". Joan Booth of the Gault Institute displayed her public speaking talent by describing most capably and sincerely "Beauty in the City". Our own Nancy Winter took the audience on a light-hearted ramble through her childhood and teenage years as she sought to choose a vocation. Entitling her talk "To Be or Not To Be", Nancy spoke of the many plans for her future which she had made and discarded over the years. Concluding on a more serious note she left no doubt in the minds of her audience of her sincerity when she stated that she owed much to her family, her school, and her community which have helped her to choose a profession which will provide her with happiness and which will permit her to contribute something of lasting value to society. We were indeed impressed with Nancy's speech and we are confident that this young lady will be a credit to her parents, her school, and the community in which she lives.

Judging the contestants this year were Dr. Marion Kelen of Ormstown, Mrs. Dixon of Huntingdon, and Mr. Kemp Ward of the Staff of Gault Institute. They named Marsha Hooker the winner of the contest.

L. B. Coffin.

SCHOOL VISITORS:

Mr. E. C. McCurdy, Supervisor of Industrial Arts at Montreal High School and presently on loan to the Department of Education, visited O.H.S. recently. He was accompanied by Mr. Aikman, inspector of Schools. On January 31, Mr. P. Hartwick, Chief of Examinations for the Department, spent a day with us. Contrary to the old days when an inspector's visit could only be compared to the Last Judgment, we have come to look upon these official visitations as times of substantial assistance. The Department is to be congratulated on its discriminating selection of officials who approach their tasks with deep understanding of the cardinal principles of pedagogy which have their roots in encouragement and constructive criticism.

DR. DAVIDSON ADDRESSES ASSEMBLY:

On February 1 the students at O.H.S. heard a fine address by Dr. Davidson who spoke on the life and work of Dr. Norman Bethune. It was an inspirational tale of a man who, despite lack of financial resources and the gift of health, was able to educate himself and rise to prominence in his profession. Misunderstood by his Canadian countrymen, he found his niche in the medical Hall of Fame with the Chinese, among whom he laboured for many years. In China Dr. Bethune established hospitals, and gave many other tangible evidences of his belief that health is the right of everyone regardless of race or economic status. He was grossly misunderstood by his own people and his name is rarely mentioned in Canada, but in China the anniversary of Dr. Bethune's birth is observed with deferential acclaim.

CONGRATULATIONS:

This week three teachers on the High School Staff learned that they had been successful in passing their Mid-Year examinations at Sir George Williams University. Mr. Coffin, Mr. Henry and Mr. Johnson deserve much credit as they make their weekly trips to the city after busy days at O.H.S. They should serve as excellent examples to the student body and we wish them well as they go into the home stretch for the finals.

HOCKEY

The Senior Boys' Team got off to a flying start by winning five of six games played. Howick 8-2, Valleyfield 4-3, Howick 10-1, Beauharnois 5-3, Huntingdon 3-1. The second game against Huntingdon was lost with a score of 4-3. If we win our last game we have won the C.V.T.A. league championship and we shall go on to St. Johns. Marksmen for the Seniors were; Doug Marshall 11; Ian Nussey 7; Jim McGerrigle 2.

Intermediate Hockey players have participated in four games without registering a win thus far. Teams with whom we have played included Ecole Jean XXIII and Huntingdon St. Josephs. Marksmen for the Intermediates were Dale Begbie 3; Jim McClintock 2; and John Moore 3. (Latest News — a tie with Huntingdon High School.)

The girls played their first game at Howick winning with a score of 5-2. Mr. Titus taught them the fundamentals of hockey but was not able to coach them — a duty taken over by Mr. Moore as he guided the girls to victory. We should like to thank Garth Cavers for refereeing games for us and we also wish to express our appreciation for the transportation of teams provided by Mr. Moore; Mrs. Archie Hughes; Mrs. Waller and Mr. Bert McCartney, Gary Lang.

NEWS FROM

Ormstown High School

by DARLENE BURTON

The Senior Girls' Basketball Team began practices this week. Winners of the Chateauguay League, they are now aspiring to go on to greater heights.

The girls of the Home Economics' classes are busy at work preparing for their annual Fashion Show. It is to be held on March 6 under the direction of Mrs. Grant, who is putting much time and effort into this event.

On Friday, Feb. 22, Grades 10 and 11 attended the Macdonald College Royal. The day was spent touring the college grounds. In the evening the Green and Gold Revue provided a thrilling climax to the day's activities.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF SERVICE FOR HOLSTEIN ASSOCIATION

Hermas Lajoie, (left), of Montreal, is receiving a watch in recognition of twenty-five years of service with the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada. Mr. Lajoie is currently Secretary of the Quebec Branch of the Association. The presentation is being made by Armand Pinsonneault, a Director of the Association from Huntingdon, Que., and took place at the Annual Meeting of the Association held in Toronto. In the background is a mural of the Quebec citadel.

Obituary

The late Mrs. John Graham

Ormstown, as a community, and St. Paul's Church in particular, have lost an old and respected member in the person of Mrs. John Graham.

Mrs. Graham passed away on the morning of Feb. 19th, after a brief illness, at the age of ninety-four.

Blest with a remarkable memory and perfect hearing, Mrs. Graham was one of the few remaining links with the early pioneer life of the Chateauguay Valley.

Born of Scottish parents at Barrie, Ont., in 1863; she lived at Allan's Corners from early childhood until her marriage.

Her life span covered a period of great change, she was a witness to the evolution of Canada from a small group of disunited colonies to the nation that it is today. During this same period she saw some of the most spectacular changes in living standards, — from candles to florescent lighting and all the marvels of radio and television.

In 1895 Mary McIntyre came to Tullochgorum as a bride and for sixty-five years it was destined to be her home.

Her husband pre-deceased her in 1943, and her son Raymond in 1961.

Remaining to mourn her loss are her daughter-in-law, Margaret, and three grandchildren: Mildred (Mrs. Andre Bovay) of New York; Alton of Ormstown, and Harold of Montreal; as well as six great grandchildren.

The Graham home in Tullochgorum was a frequent meeting place for the young people of two successive generations; and will long remain a pleasant memory to many who now live in distant places.

Mrs. Graham was a charter member of Howick Women's Institute and for more than half a century was actively engaged in Institute work. As a member of St. Paul's Women's Association she gave cheerfully of her time and energy for many years. Mrs. Graham was blest with a gay and happy personality and her memory will long be cherished by all who knew her.

Funeral services were held from St. Paul's church, Rev. A. E. Loree officiating. Pallbearers were chosen from among neighbours of many years: Arnold Bryson, Clinton McWhinnie, Gordon Lang, Huntley Greig, Willard Greig and Campbell Thompson.

Athelstan

W.M.S. Meeting

ATHELSTAN — A postponed meeting of the W.M.S. was held early in February at the home of Mrs. W. Waldie.

Mrs. McIntyre and Miss Kimball led in the devotions and eight members answered the roll with a verse containing the word "Abide", there were also several guests present.

Mrs. Tully read a letter from the supply Secretary informing us that the need for supply money had greatly increased.

Tentative plans were made for the World Day of Prayer, March 1st which will be held in the Church Hall.

For the lesson Mrs. Jamieson read a letter from Rev. and Mrs. Allen Hunter of Kingston, Jamacia, telling of some of their work there.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Ladies Aid Meets

The monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. A. Hampson with Mrs. E. Atcheson as co-hostess.

Mrs. Bernhardt chaired the meeting and Mrs. Hampson led in the devotions.

It was decided to buy a dozen new hymn books for use in the church.

The ladies decided to have their same booth for Huntingdon Fair.

Mrs. Bernhardt showed a parcel of material she had received from Eatons, a donation for Aid Week. The Ladies spent the afternoon quilting.

Miss Lucille Palmer of Montreal spent the week-end at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roy.

Rockburn

ROCKBURN — Mrs. Mina Arthur of Chateauguay, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rod Arthur.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Murdoth Rosevear were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Milne of Huntingdon.

Saturday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Barr were Mr. G. MacKinnon of Antigonish, N. S. and Mr. William McRae. Mrs. MacKinnon was called here owing to the illness of her little grandson, Garrie McRae, who is a patient in the Children's Hospital. Garrie was struck by a piece of falling ice at the school which he attends. His condition is quite serious at time of writing.

Miss Lorrie Cook of Burke spent the week-end with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Maither.

The U.C.W. of Rennie's United Church met at the home of Mrs. Ellis Wilson, Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 13. The meeting opened by repeating the pledge, Mrs. Elliott presiding. Mrs. Allan Wilson took charge of the devotions. Six members answered the roll call and a number of visitors were present. During the business part of the meeting programs for the coming year were made out. A hearty vote of thanks was given the past president, Mrs. A. Wilson and Mrs. Ellis Wilson as treasurer for their splendid work during their term of office. Thank you letters were read from two of the members. Cards were signed to be sent to other shut-in members. Refreshments were served by the hostess and a social time spent.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Roy Blair is a patient in the Barrie Memorial Hospital. Best wishes for a speedy recovery.

A rich aunt was paying her nephew's college expenses and her visitor asked if it was costly.

"Well," said the aunt, "Language runs pretty high. My cheque this month covered $10 for English, $20 for Latin and $110 for Scotch."

A FORMER HUNTINGDON CITIZEN NOW IN FLORIDA

From Mr. C. M. Oney in Florida comes this photograph of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Loveridge, who reside at 1611 Lake Shore Drive, Margate, Florida. Many people here will remember Mrs. Loveridge as the former Mrs. Olivette Kelly, who used to reside on Henderson Street, in Huntingdon. They will also remember this smiling and pleasant person as the lady to whom they used to pay their telephone bill, when she was in the office of the Bell Telephone Co. in Huntingdon.

Mr. Oney reports that he and others from Huntingdon visited Mr. and Mrs. Loveridge at their home and had a most enjoyable time going over memories of Huntingdon. On their way back to Lake Worth they visited with Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Purcell, who are enjoying their stay at Delray Beach.

tle exercise daily in a 'walker'. He would very much welcome visitors but, just at the moment, on account of the 24 hour 'Flu' which is going around, we understand the Hospital authorities are limiting all visits except from immediate members of a family.

And, talking of the 'Flu', and who isn't these days, one variety must be blamed for the lack of Hemmingford news in the last issue. It is not certain which variety your correspondent had, but one thing is certain, it was not the 24 hour kind. After nine days there are still many reminders left. All the usual symptoms were present as well as a few new ones (and these were verified by comferers in the village)! It reparison with a few other suf sembled lumbago but it wasn't.. It was an excruciating ache in almost every bone in the body; soft bed, hard bed, sitting or standing, no thing brought any ease. One could truthfully say, with apologies to the R.A.F. 'never were so many aches so long.' However, with the suffered by so many bones, aid of the old stand-bye, mustard plasters, aspirins, the various liniaments in the medicine chest plus a couple of real humdingers from the medicine cupboard in the barn, the agonies subsided and an attempt will be made to sally forth to catch the School Bus in the morning!

BIRDS AND PLANTS MAKE ATTRACTION IN FLORIDA

Above are flamingos as seen in the Caribbean Gardens, Naples, Florida, and sent to the Gleaner by Mr. C. M. Oney with a story on the subject. While it cannot be seen in this photograph, the birds are quite colorful. The lower photo is of a white peacock, which roam freely about the Gardens and are admired by the many visitors. The photos are supplied by Caribbean Gardens, Naples, Florida.

The following article and photos have been received from Mr. C. M. Oney the past week and speak for themselves of some of the attractions of Florida.

It was my pleasure to accompany the Lake Worth Camera Club to visit the Caribbean Gardens at Naples Florida, the party consisted of some 75 members, many from Quebec and Ontario as well as the various states.

We left Lake Worth at 8 a.m. on two chartered Greyhounds, arriving in Naples around 12.30 noon, enjoyed lunch then viewed the water bird act at 1 p.m.

It can be said that two men's dreams of displaying nature's tropical and sub-tropical beauty in Florida are nearing fulfilment in a picturesque setting near this quiet community on the Gulf of Mexico.

The Gardens were established in 1919 by Dr. Henry Nehrling, one of Florida's great pioneer horticulturists, who died in 1929. By then he had collected 3,000 species of tropical plants.

In 1951, Mr. Julius Fleishmann of Cincinnati, Ohio, businessman and winter resident of Naples, world traveller and garden lover, became intrigued with the garden dream. He began elaborating on his own dream and while roaming the globe on business, began sending back rare specimens.

Orchid lovers marvel at the delicate plants growing outdoors in the Orchid Cathedral, and in the greenhouse — both easily seen by many members of the camera club. The blooms have come from Guatemalan jungles, from exotic Java, from South America and other tropical lands.

You'll encounter such color creations as the brilliant red flower vine — Combretum, yellow allamandas, orchid trees, ixora, hibiscus, crotons, bouganvillea, flame vines, and hundreds of others.

Brilliant macaws and long beaked toucans — trademark of the Gardens — The only collection of African Pigmy geese in the United States were photographed by many club members.

During our tour, all viewed the black swans from Australia, South American black-necked swans; and the unusually named Russian Bean Goose, naturally from Russia. There are 107 species of waterfowl in the 1,200-odd bird collection. Among the other rare feathered residents are the light-bellied Brant goose from the Arctic, the Australian shelduck; the Moluccan shelduck from the Moulccas and New Guinea; the Andean crested duck from So. America. There are also the Hottentot Teal, world's smallest waterbird, from Africa; the northern Eider duck from Canada, rarely found in warm climates, and the only two spur-winged geese raised in captivity in the U.S. And of course, there were the ever intriguing flamingos and hundreds of other birds.

But the highlight of our visit was the performing water bird act, the only one in the nation, Although waterfowl aren't noted for their learning ability, the feathered stars at the Caribbean Gardens' show have been trained to perform on cue.

I am sending you two photographs, first the all-white peacock the favorite as photographed by the club. The white peacock is never found wild. Peacocks once were a favored table fare in ancient Europe. The other photo is of the colorful flamingos. The pink birds with their backward bending legs and their curved beaks always fascinate the visitors to South Florida.

Just south of Naples can be found the 10,000 Islands and the mysterious Everglades National Park.

St. Andrew's Ladies Guild

HEMMINGFORD — The St. Andrew's Presbyterian Ladies Guild held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday, February 14th, at the Hall with nineteen members present.

The newly painted kitchen and attractive curtains which have been made and installed in the kitchen and cloakroom were greatly admired and President Mrs. Batchelder thanked all the members who had so generously contributed their time and effort to these projects. All the ladies who were responsible for the success of the Congregational Pot Luck Supper held on February 9th, were also sincerely thanked.

During the new business brought up for discussion, it was decided to purchase bread baskets, pickle dishes, butter plates and ash trays and also material for tablecloths. The remainder of the meeting was devoted to discussing and planning a dinner for which the Guild has been asked to cater on Thursday, February 21st, in the Hall. On completion of all business, the members sat down to a delicious lunch prepared and served by Mrs. M. Brown and Miss S. Brown.

Visitors

The congregation of St. Luke's Anglican Church were pleased to welcome the Reverend F. L. Rice on Sunday morning, February 24th. Mr. Rice took the service at St. Luke's in the absence of the Reverend David Rogers who was officiating elsewhere. After the service the Reverend Rice, Mr. Bob Rice and Mrs. M. Schrader were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Woolley.

The Late Albert Round

Funeral services were held last Thursday afternoon at Trinity Memorial Church for Albert Round, 61, who Sherbrooke St., W., Montreal, died suddenly at his home at Henrysburg, Que., Monday, February 18.

Born in Birmingham, Warwickshire, England in 1902 Mr. Round received his early education in England and completed his schooling following his arrival in Canada in 1914.

After being employed briefly by the United Shoe Machinery Company, he joined the Northern Electric Company in 1920 in the switch-board department. In 1922 he was responsible for some of the early work in machine switching equipment, being later employed in inspection and quality control assignments.

During the Second World War he served overseas with the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals and attained the rank of Captain.

Rejoining Northern Electric at the conclusion of hostilities, Mr. Round, after a period with the merchandise department, transferred to personnel, retiring as assistant to the Personnel Superintendent — Staff — Industrial and Public Relations.

Mr. Round resided in Greenfield Park for a number of years and prior to retiring in 1957, bought a small farm at Henrysburg, where his remaining years were spent growing flowers and fruit. He was a well know judge at horticultural shows both in Quebec and the State of New York.

Mr. Round was a past president of the Northern Electric branch (No. 37) of the Royal Canadian Legion; a Life Member and past president of the Northern Electric Council, Charles Fleetford Sise Chapter, Telephone Pioneers of America; and a past president of the Greenfield Park Home and School Association. Other memberships included the Hemmingford Lodge (No. 72) AF & AM; Province of Quebec Gladiolus Society; and the North America Gladiolus Council.

Surviving are his widow the former Dorthy Lillian Bennett (Hyndman), a step-son, Robert Hyndman, six brothers, Harry, Ted, Jack, Frank, Joe and Herbert; and three sisters, Marion (Mrs. J. S. Douglas); Elsie (Mrs. H. Thatcher); and Lillian (Mrs. H. Tuck).

Aubrey-Riverfield

AUBREY - RIVERFIELD — The curling club was busy again the past week. Members enjoyed curling on club prizes all during the week. The men's bonspiel got underway Friday evening and extended through Saturday afternoon and evening. The ice was good and the games very interesting for the spectators as well as for the players.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Orr, Cynthia and Jeffrey of Ste. Agathe, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Kees.

Miss Shirley Moore visited with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Orr over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Orr spent Saturday in Malone while Clifford and Sandra visited with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Tompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sherrington and grandson Robbie, of Dorval and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cleaver and 2 sons, of Montreal ,spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Sherrington, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sweatman and Kenny, also Miss Joyce McKeogh of Montreal, were Sunday afternoon guests at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. John Forget and family and of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stevenson and family.

Many in this community have had the flu this past week and been quite ill. We hope that this epidemic will soon be over.

F. L. Brodie Templeton arrived home by plane Monday evening, after spending a delightful two-weeks vacation in Jamaica. He left Tuesday morning to take up duties at Bagotville.

Rev. Harley Bye of Montreal, was Saturday night guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stevenson.

Mr. Henry Kelly a former resident of Covey Hill, died on February 18th. The funeral service was held at Hyattsville, Maryland.

Frost On The Windows

During cold periods, when car windows are frosted, some drivers are perfectly happy to clear a few square inches for rear-view vision. Others even drive with four-fifths of their windshield covered with frost. "Prudentia" cautions that people who drive under these conditions are exposing themselves and other drivers to serious danger. It is usually a sign of laziness or irresponsibility when cars are driven under these conditions.

ARMY WAYS

I happened to mention Huntingdon yesterday in the Rideau Club when gossiping with a man from Western Ontario. He surprised me by asking if the water tank was still at the west end of the town. As an Air recruit, he had done part of his War 11 training in the Ottawa area and in due course reached the solo flight stage. The United States was still neutral so he was warned whenever he flew south-east to turn back when he spotted the Huntingdon water tank.

Odd that the name on it should have played a small part in the war, but it brought back some personal memories which are petty but may be of interest to those who were in the ranks in either of the great wars.

Our battery was part of the Occupation Force in control of Bonn the present capital of West Germany, November 11, 1918, was a pleasant memory and we did not take life seriously. However for some reason beyond comprehension of mankind, let alone the battery, I was promoted to be a bombardier — a pay boost of 5 cents a day. Shortly after the tension was relieved by the issue of a new tunic and an order to report to the Khaki College at Ripon in Yorkshire.

I did not bother sewing on a stripe until I discovered it had a value. The technique was simple: a stripe on the tunic but none on the "British Warm" (the overcoat). It was still cold weather so we wore overcoats on morning parade. Sometimes I was numbered off for some fatigue. Once off the parade ground, I'd take off the coat, expose the stripe and automatically be dismissed. In short, I lacked ambition to climb the ladder during my three years in France.

Early in War II I was playing golf one Saturday afternoon when word was delivered on the 8th fairway that Army H.Q. wanted me at a meeting. Naturally, I took my time, but it was an interesing experience. The room was a sea of red tabs; all politely stood up when I entered and cigarette cases snapped open to accommodate me. A few minutes later they did the same when Hon. Norman Rogers, the Minister of National Defence, came in. Later we giggled about it. That splendid man, soon to be killed in an air crash, had risen to the dizzy height of corporal in War. 1. Now the generals kotowed!

By 1918 saluting had become casual among Canadians in France but the newly arrived Americans made a fetish of it. When at a rest camp at St. Valery (at the mouth of the Somme) I watched a brand new U.S. lieutenant sharply cross a street because some green dough-boys had failed to salute. For some reason or other, the little episode registered and I've sometimes wondered what War 1 brought about.

I've been twice a guest at U.S. Service bases in recent years. One is the big naval base at Norfolk, Virginia, and I was there to audit the accounts of SACLANT — a naval side of NATO. There was some 'spit and polish', but I enjoyed the atmosphere. Of course, the navy is always more informal on land than the other Services. At sea? One commander, with extensive wartime service in the Pacific told me that he had to make sure of one thing before he cast off: that the big ice cream freezer was in good order.

A rule in the main administration building puzzled. It was late May, with the temperature in the low 80s. A storm blew in and the thermometer dropped to below 50. Nevertheless, all window air conditioners were kept on. I learned that when the senior admiral turns his on in the Spring. It is a signal to put all going but none may be shut off until the admiral goes into reverse in the Fall. It seemed silly, but the explanation made sense. Officers from the North Atlantic to the tropics were constantly coming and going; if the temperature was not kept uniform throughout the offices, there would be all sorts of colds.

A few years after and for reasons unknown, I was invited to fly South to a big Air demonstration. The trip was made in an Air "North Star" transport which was so noisy that we were issued cotton to make ear plugs. In the late afternoon we came down at Montgomery, Alabama.

The Air Base was a large one and used as some sort of staff college. They did us in style. I was given a suite complete with shower, etc., telephone, T.V. and radio. For this, they collected $1.20 in the morning. The amount puzzled so good manners gave way to curiosity. It was to pay for laundering the linen; all else was with the compliments of Uncle Sam.

Across the street was a "club" mess with several dining rooms and lounges and a large dancing floor. It did not seem to be limited to officers. Quite a place and wholly out of line with anything I'd ever seen in Canada and certainly never existed in France during War 1.

In the morning, a short hop took us to our destination the Elgin Base in Florida. A bus pulled alongside and in due course we were at the reviewing stand, which could accommodate 2,000, and was filled.

The experts were impressed by everything, but the big stuff was over my head in more ways than one. I enjoyed the small stuff. For example, when a pilot spoke to us, via the loudspeaker, from 30,000 feet above us. He gave, among other things, the count of ships in the Panama Canal and added to my geography by remarking that the Pacific entrance to the canal is east of the Atlantic one. I later checked and found that he was correct.

The first war was recalled by a British "Camel" flying by at 90 miles an hour, with the pilot waving from the open cockpit. We had once rated this plane the ultimate in speed, but a few minutes later all wearing hearing aids were told to disconnect them before the next plane flew by. It swept by at low level, at 1,100 miles an hour, and cracking the sound barrier as it went.

Another stunt remains in mind. At 1.35 p.m. precisely it was announced that a plane would fly over at 400 miles an hour and at 4,000 feet to take a group picture. It did and we turned to other things with some wondering if we would be sent copies. However, at exactly 2.30 p.m. a copter landed in front of the stand and to each of the 2,000 was handed a 12 x 30 inch still moist print of the picture taken. I could identify myself in the blur because I was in short sleeves while all around were in uniform. Later, I used a magnifying glass and, so help me, could pick out my mug.

As our plane worked out of the hangars' area around 6 p.m. for the trip home, I heard a sharp snort above the din. The officers had spotted airmen on duty drinking beer out of cans. This settled in my mind that things have changed since my first encounter with U.S. uniforms at St Valery in 1918. By midnight I was home, with my carefully acquired Southern drawl already wearing off.

"YOUR IMPORTANT YEARS" Is Guidebook For Senior Citizens

A new book, "Your Important Years", offers mature citizens a way to chart their courses toward happier, more productive lives.

Commissioned by the Beltone Hearing Aid Company of Chicago, a husband-and-wife team of authors, William and Ellen Hartley, spent months in research on the problems of Canada's growing number of older people, said Paul Taffin, manager of Beltone Hearing Service, 1574 Chambly Road, Jacques Cartier.

The result, in "Your Important Years; the Beltone Book of Golden Age Living," is one easy-to-read volume on such varied subjects as how to make and keep friends, getting along with children and relatives, selecting a place to live, health, hobbies for money, Social Security and pensions, developing new interests, and even romance in later life.

The book goes on sale in book-stores and on news stands in early February, but Mr. Taffin said he is making it available now to those who are interested in a special pre-publication offer.

To her work on "Your Important Years", Mrs. Hartley brought her years of experience as a New York advertising executive. Hartley is a former executive editor of Redbook Magazine and managing editor of True. In the course of their joint writing career, they have traveled extensively, not only in the United States but in other parts of the world as well.

From their research on their new book, they came up with this as the most important factor for the mature citizen in making his life happy and productive: There's no reason for despair because you are retired or are facing retirement. Now you are coming into your important years — years when you can do those things which you've wanted to do, with the wisdom born of maturity and experience.

The Hartleys discovered that the happy person in this growing segment of our population is one who is not ashamed of being old. On the contrary, he's proud that he has achieved the calm that only long experience with life and its problems can bring. At the same time, they said, this person takes care of himself — by having regular physical check-ups, eating well-balanced meals, and getting enough exercice to stay trim and fit.

By the same token, he enjoys life so much that he wants to be cut off from none of the joys of sight and sound. He regularly has both his vision and hearing tested. If there is a loss, he's not backward about getting new glasses or a hearing aid.

He also takes advantages of community resources — programs conducted by libraries, Senior Day Centers, Golden Age Clubs, labor unions, Red Cross, service clubs, YWCA and YMCA. He'll be darned if he'll sit and rock in the evening when other people are having a good time.

Canadian 4-H Clubs Observing 50th Anniversary

The message issued by His Excellency Major General Georges P. Vanier, Governor General of Canada, in tribute to Canada's 4-H Club members on the occasion of the 50th Anniversary Year of the founding of the first 4-H Club in Canada is as follows:

1963 marks the fiftieth anniversary of the 4-H Club Movement in Canada. It is an occasion for all of us to pause to consider the great importance to our country of this outstanding organization.

4-H is a pledge of Head, Heart, Hands and Health to a worth-while life. 72,000 young people across Canada are engaged in this pursuit. They bring to farming greater scientific and practicial knowledge, and to our communities their pledge of "clearer thinking, greater loyalty, larger service, and better living".

Since its inception at Roland, Manitoba, in 1913, the Canadian 4-H Club Movement has grown and prospered becoming a recognized part of rural extension education programmes and an important function of the community activity.

This year to celebrate its half-century, members of the Canadian 4-H Club Movement will participate in the World Freedom from Hunger Campaign, in interprovincial exchange visits and other special events. These functions merit our interest and our support.

I recommend to your care and encouragement the 4-H Club in your neighbourhood, in the hope that the next fifty years may be as fruitful and beneficial as those that have gone before.

Lacolle

LACOLLE — The Ladies Auxiliary of Royal Canadian Legion Branch No. 11 held their Annual Installation of officers on Monday, February 8th.

Comrade Bill Grant of the Senior Branch was invited by the Ladies to act as installing officers, which he did excellently as he always does, then called on to perform his office.

The following were elected to office. The Flag Bearers, Mrs. Ruth Smith and Mrs. Phyllis Kellick; Sergant-at-Arms, Mrs. Enid Mosher; 1st. Vice-President, Mrs. Lee McGill; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Peggy King; Secretary, Mrs. Jean Hadley; Treasurer, Ora Van Vliet and President, Mrs. Bertha Sadegur.

The New President thanked all the members for their support to the Past President, Mrs. Shirley Fewster, on her behalf because Mrs. Fewster was absent. The President Mrs. Sadegan also thanked Comrade Bill Grant on a very nice job in handling the installation.

She welcomed the Senior Branch Members present and the Comrades and the Ladies Auxiliary from Hemmingford Legion Br. No. 244. The President then called on the following to say a few words, the Past President of the Senior Branch No. 11 Lacolle, Com. Ralph Smith; the President of the Hemmingford Br. 244, Com. Wilfred Kirnan; the President of the Ladies Aux. Hemmingford Branch, Com. Clare Pellitier.

They all extended their best wishes to the new slate of officers for the coming year.

After the meeting the Hemmingford Branch showed coloured films of their Memorial Day Parade of which Lacolle had taken part for the past 2 years. It was a very excellent film and was enjoyed by all.

The ladies then served a very nice lunch to close the evening.
