Nancy Birks, Brenda Long

Local Girl Does Red Cross Work; Now Stationed At Tokyo In Japan

For men, the motto is "Join the navy and see the world." But for women, this might well be changed to "Join the Red Cross and see the world." At least, that's what Nancy Ryrie Birks decided when she began to devote her time to the Canadian Red Cross.

Nancy is one of the newer members of the Canadian Red Cross welfare team in the Far East, and is now stationed at the Maple Leaf Club in Tokyo. She will probably see service at the Commonwealth Hospitals in Hiro and Kure during her engagement in Japan and there is also a likelihood that a portion of the year's term may be spent at Seoul in Korea.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Birks, 3234 Cedar avenue, Nancy received her Bachelor of Arts degree from McGill University and spent an additional year of study at the University of Geneva. Prior to her departure for the Far East, she was also an active member of the Junior League.

Miss Birks is one of 22 young ladies serving on the Canadian Red Cross welfare team in the Far East at the present time, and while on duty at the Maple Leaf Club in Tokyo she will be actively engaged in the recreational program which is handled by the Red Cross. Thousands of Canadian, Commonwealth and United Nations troops gather every month at the club to enjoy the typical Canadian atmosphere.

At the hospitals in Hiro and Kure the Canadian Red Cross workers visit Canadian patients and distribute newspapers and magazines. They also take care of personal items such as shopping and letter-writing. Hospitalized servicemen are also given instruction and supplied with materials for various arts and handicrafts.

Rev. Gilbert Oliver Is Honored For 25 Years At St. Matthias

Many prominent clergymen, friends and members of St. Matthias Church gathered there Tuesday night to celebrate the 25th anniversary of Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver, M.C., as rector.

The hall was jammed with people as sidesmen and church wardens gave up trying to find seats for hundreds of parishoners who had to stand with late comers in what space was left.

It was a family affair. Presiding at the formalities, which he ruled were to be rigidly informal, was Canon Oliver's former warden, H. Norman Davis, president of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., Ltd.

Before presenting Canon and Mrs. Oliver with a handsomely engraved silver tray, and a "filled purse", from the congregation, Mr. Davis outlined the career of the Staffordshire-born clergyman.

Canon Oliver, he said, studied theology in St. Augustine College in Canterbury and was deacon of Canterbury Cathedral, where he met his wife, in 1914. He then went to Brisbane, Australia, but returned to serve as an officer with the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry in France, winning the Military Cross at Arras in 1917.

After several years in Birmingham after the war, he came to Canada in 1927 and served in northern Ontario. He then held a parish briefly in Lachine, and came to St. Matthias in 1928. In 1939 he was created a Canon of the Church of England.

Mr. Davis paid a well applauded tribute to Mrs. Oliver for her unflinching support of her husband

Man Hurt In Crash Of Four Automobiles And A Milk Wagon

A collision involving four autos and a milk wagon sent one man to hospital with lacerations that required five stitches, and caused severe damages to all cars.

James Ennis, 72, 2142 Grand Boulevard, was going west on St. Antoine street when his auto was struck from behind and he was catapulted through the air. He was taken to the Western Hospital.

Lucien Pilon, 319765 Rancourt, was going along St. Antoine when he collided with cars parked on the side of the street owned by Lucien Dunlap, 35, 6827 Beau-lieu street, and Joseph De Leewn, 50, 1166 Mountain street, Westmount police said.

His automobile then ricocheted into that of Ennis, causing the latter to hit a milk wagon driven by Domina Lauzon. Some 15 cases of quarts were broken along with two of cream, and the horse suffered some cuts.

Sgt. W. A. Smith and Const. T. Smith, police at the scene held Pilon for being without a current driving license.

Thanksgiving Reflections Interest Westmount Rotarians At Luncheon

Service organizations must continually reconsecrate and rededicate themselves to the ideals which have stood the test of time, Samuel Moskovitch, Q.C., told the weekly meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club Wednesday.

Speaking on "Reflections of a Canadian Thanksgiving," the speaker said that sanctity of the human being, principles of freedom and democracy, recognition of the kinship of man and fellowship of human beings and a hearkening to the teachings of leaders of religious faiths must all be continued if there is to be a world where all men will enjoy a fundamental dignity.

"At Thanksgiving time, we are conscious of the sacrifices made by our own boys in the time we know as blood, sweat and tears to uphold democracy - responsibilities follow these sacrifices which upheld the four freedoms. This freedom which came from all, must go to all," he said.

"In these days there must always be a realization that the western way of life must be kept rich in livable quality and embed itself in the minds of people.

"There are many people who do not appreciate the principles of democracy, and in celebrating this Thanksgiving we should look at the factors that brought this situation about."

He said that dictators and tyrants came as a result of the peace that followed World War I - "a peace that was motivated by emotion rather than understanding. Many things have since progressed in the material sense, but intelligence has not."

"We have had many blessings," he said, "but we must be mindful that these privileges carry with them profound responsibilities.

"God is as present in the cathedral as He is in the church, in the synagogue as in the mosque, and a man who has clean hands and a good heart will find God in all. There must be a better appreciation of spiritual values, for men have more in common than apart."

He said that there is no greater need for a message today than the fact that there is a tomorrow, for the world depends on its tomorrows though it rests on its yesterdays.

"The world of tomorrow gives us the impetus to build tomorrow. We must never disdain democracy, pursue hatred or seek revenge. We fought for war and now must fight for peace, and in this way we will also promote our country as a leader in world affairs."

The annual club assembly will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m., it was announced.

HOLLYHOCKS IN MID-OCTOBER: Simone Menard holds these blooms for the Examiner photographer in a garden at the rear of 359 Roslyn avenue, Westmount, where hollyhocks are still to be seen in their midsummer form, although a month past their usual departure date, according to the householder.

Whitfield Aston, Well Known Actor, Buried Wednesday

Whitfield Aston, celebrated character actor and authority on Dickens and Shakespeare, died at St. Mary's Hospital Sunday — just two days before he was scheduled to review the book Oliver Twist at Victoria Hall before the Dickens Fellowship of which he was honorary president. He was 74.

A beloved veteran of the stage, Whitfield Aston was at one time or another associated with almost every worthwhile theatrical group in the city, and was closely associated with the Montreal Repertory Theatre from the time of its foundation by the late Martha Allan.

Born in Yorkshire, England, he began his business career with Reckitt and Sons of Hull. He came to Canada in 1912 to start the Canadian branch of the firm and retired in 1940 after 45 years with the company.

He played many theatrical roles in his time but the ones he preferred personally were those of the Victorian novelist — from Pickwick to Scrooge.

A member of the Mount Royal Lodge A.F. and A.M., he was also a member of the Montreal Rotary Club. He is survived by his wife, the former Maude Anderson and a son, Graham Whitfield Aston.

Final tribute was paid Wednesday from the chapel of Jos. C. Wray and Bro., Mountain street.

Watts, the possessor of a lengthy police record, was arrested at 2:30 am Oct. 3.

Vice-Consul Stresses Importance To Jewry Of State Of Israel

Creation of the State of Israel has been one of the most important events in Jewish history, Hanan S. Aynor, Israeli vice-consul in Montreal, told members of the Young People's Association of Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Aynor said that the new State had given Jews all over the world a new feeling of pride and accomplishment.

"It has upset the old ideas which formed the basis for anti-Semitism", he stated.

Mr. Aynor said that since creation of Israel following a tragic period in which 6,000,000 European Jews were exterminated by Nazi Germany, the whole social and economic picture of the Jewish people has changed.

The war of Israeli independence, and the agricultural and industrial development of the state, has destroyed all the old ideas about Jews on which anti-semites based their arguments, he said. "Because of this, anti-Semitism has reached a new low level of popular appeal, the lowest in hundreds of years.

Prior to the Hitler era, Europe was the center of world Judaism. Large communities were engaged in building up their religious institutions. "People who spoke about the danger were considered nuisances", he said.

Creation of the new state shortly after the tragedy in Europe gave Jews a new religious and social incentive to build for the future, he said.

"Israel will have overall spiritual and economic priority in Jewish life for generations to come, he said.

Trieste Is Topic Of Current Events Discussion Club

Trieste was the main topic of conversation at the round-table discussion of the Westmount High School Current Events Club on Wednesday, Oct. 13. The subject was introduced by J. K. Snyder, the club adviser, and Phyllis Allen read an article from one of the Montreal papers to familiarize the members with the problem. The main question asked was "What should be done with Trieste?" Lilliane Pavlovitch of Yugoslavia reported from the scene.

Girls' school uniforms was the other topic which the members of the club discussed, and most of them agreed that there are just certain items of the uniform which could be changed for the better.

Avenue Stars In Inter Loop

The hockey season is here — the Westmount Avenue Stars with Pat Lomasney and his group have been grooming their squad for the St. Laurent Intermediate Hockey League opener which has been moved up to Saturday.

Playing against NDG's Royal Pharmacy in the second game of a twinbill which finds the Regents and St. Laurent open the 53-54 season, the Westmount team will find their toughest opposition in the Royal Pharmacy team. That's the reports from their training camps.

Royal Pharmacy is loaded with such notable players as Bill Swail, Ted Jackson, Bill Ramsay and Bill Shaver. Pat Lomasney shouldn't worry too much though — McCarthy, Selby, Martin, Brambell are just about in the shape for the Stars.

The schedule, originally slated to open on Oct. 24, was moved forward to Saturday. League President Jimmy Slater, after a visit by the league executive, approved the move last week.

MECHANICS INSTITUTE

A feature presentation at the Mechanics' Institute, 1200 Avenue, on Wednesday, Oct. 21, will be colored films on Mexico. The program begins at 8:15 p.m.

The lecture is free and open to the public.

and the church. He also admonished her that, in view of her recent ill health, she mustn't give her congregation more anxious moments by working so hard.

There was praise too from Bishop Dixon, who said Canon Oliver should be "a constant reminder of our debt to the Old Country whose sons serve the church in Canada."

"Only in this generation have we drawn to any great degree on the wisdom of Canadians for the ministry", he said, "and there are still far too many vacancies, particularly in the west. Canon Oliver is one of those who came to our rescue, and has seen service in all phases of the church - in the mission field, in suburban churches and in urban work."

From Rabbi Harry Stern, rabbi of Temple Emanu-El, came praise for "helping to create better Jewish-Christian relations". He spoke of Canon Oliver's strength in advancing understanding in religious groups.

Dr. C. Lloyd Smith, of Dominion Douglas United Church, and representing the Ministerial Association of Montreal of which Canon Oliver is chairman and president, paid tribute to his work for the church, not only in his parish "but throughout this whole great community."

One of Canon Oliver's former curates, Rev. Cecil Royal, Hudson Heights, who had formed "The Society of Former Curates" for the occasion, had a special tribute to go with an additional gift of a dozen "society" members.

They wanted, he said, to thank Canon Oliver for his forbearance and restraint when he listened to their first, fumbling sermons. But he also recalled how the canon had sent him on Sunday to preach at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, and the following Sunday to preach the same sermon at an old ladies' home.

Mrs. H. B. Pope presented Mrs. Oliver with a bouquet of roses from the congregation.

Socialism By Stealth

British Labor Party Advocates
New, Dangerous Policy

Socialism by stealth is the policy advocated by British Labor Party in its recent policy statement, "Challenge to Britain." Recognizing the public unwillingness to adopt nationalization of industry for nationalization's sake, the "Challenge to Britain", in attempt to be plausible, says "Where private enterprise fails to act in the public interest . . . we propose that the Senate should either build and operate new enterprises or acquire a controlling interest in existing enterprises, or both."

Since this policy statement gives no inkling of what is meant by any given industry's failure "to act in the public interest," the phrase as it stands is wide enough to be invoked in respect of any industry which the socialists might want to grab.

Chances of Britain's Labor party being afforded opportunity to test socialism by stealth in nationalization or in any other field appear remote. The danger, however, is that other parties in U.K. as well as in Canada may choose stealth and respectability to cloak their own policies already fairly heavily tinged with socialist doctrines.

Information Officers

Defence Research Board Outlines
Strange Qualifications

The Defence Research Board at Ottawa is advertising for applicants for appointment as "Scientific Information officers" — salary $2,800 to $4,300 depending upon qualifications and experience.

The kind of candidates the Board is likely to get is clear from wording of the advertisement, which offers as major inducement "Superannuation and medical-hospital insurance plans in effect; generous provision is made for sick and annual leave."

The public confidence in Canada's defence program will not be enhanced by advertisements of this sort, placing as they do major emphasis on the right of successful candidates to be as sick as they like as long as they like at no cost to themselves and promising bigger and better holidays with pay. Nor is it easy to understand why the Defence Research Board should be in need of 'information officers' at all.

Work of Mercy

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
(Rector of Trinity Memorial Church)

It is a sad thing that the Red Feather campaign came so far short of success, and it may be time to review the methods of campaign. Perhaps we may begin by comparing the Red Feather campaign with the Roman Catholic and Jewish campaigns, which so far have met with success. Obviously there is no lack of good leadership in the Red Feather, and there is an army of good workers, and a clear presentation of the tremendous need. Yet there seems to be a lack of enthusiasm.

Is it because in the other two campaigns, Roman Catholic and Jewish, the religious element is uppermost, while in the Red Feather campaign the secular community is stressed? Here the aid of the churches is asked and given, but it never has the driving power of the appeal made in the parishes toward the end of the Roman Catholic campaign. Perhaps the religious appeal is still stronger than the secular.

Or it may be necessary to personalize the work to a greater degree. No one questions the efficiency of our social service workers. They are highly trained and devoted, and when they can take time off they tell their story most effectively. But their very efficiency may cut them off from the rank and file of the community whose sole task then comes to be that "they humbly bring pieces of silver." If a church were doing the social service work it would enlist the good will and even the excited enthusiasm of the poorest members of the congregations.

The Service Clubs do a great deal of charitable work, but they do it in a more personal way. Incidentally, may I call your attention to a very special piece of work undertaken by Westward Rotary. They are getting the free use of the Kent Theatre for a midnight show on Friday, Oct. 16. There will be a premiere of a new British film. The proceeds will go to a new and very important work being undertaken by the Mackay Institute for the Deaf. It is a new class for the two year olds who are still capable of speech, and the purpose of the class is to develop and increase the capacity which they have, rather than allow them to become stone deaf.

The Westward Rotary appeals to young Notre Dame de Grace to crowd the Theatre on Friday night, to enjoy themselves and to personalize a fine piece of social service.

Christian Science

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian Science churches on Sunday.

This Lesson-Sermon teaches that no individual can shift his responsibility to another; that the life and works of Christ Jesus benefit us exactly in proportion as we follow their example.

The Golden Text is from Isaiah; "The Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord."

Bible citations include the following from I Peter: "Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: but rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy."

Correlative passages from the denominational text book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "Though demonstrating his control over sin and disease, the great Teacher by no means relieved others from giving the requisite proofs of their own piety. He worked for their guidance, that they might demonstrate this power as he did and understand its divine Principle. Implicit faith in the Teacher and all the emotional love we can bestow on him, will never alone make us imitators of him. We must go and do likewise, else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bestow upon us."

St. James Continues Anniversary Series

St. James United Church continues its special 150th anniversary services this Sunday. . . .

In the morning, Rev. E. A. McIlwain, B.A., will speak on "Let's give the church back to God." while in the evening Rev. A. Lloyd Smith, B.A., D.D., will speak on "God's Assignment." Both are of Dominion Douglas church, Westmount.

The missionary zeal of St. James United Church continues. In the year 1951 it gave $110,000.00 to the Montreal Presbytery Extension Fund.

As residential districts extend towards the suburbs, some St. James Church members join groups closer to their homes. However, whether these go north or south, east or west, it is felt that all came under the influence of the famous downtown mother church.

Now St. James is preparing for even greater work so that it may bring comfort and encouragement to all in need of uplift and assistance.

A short historical review in booklet form is being distributed.

Westmount Women's Club Hear Dr. Cliffe Speak On "Help Yourself To Happiness"

The Westmount Women's Club held the opening meeting of the season on Friday afternoon, October 9, in Victoria Hall, Westmount.

Dr. Albert E. Cliffe was the guest speaker, his subject being "Help Yourself to Happiness". Dr. Cliffe in his opening remarks stated he had lived in the Province of Quebec for many years and was at one time a biochemist at which time he lectured before a capacity audience on "You are what you eat." But today, through science of right thinking, he believes that "You are what you think." In other words the "mental vitamins" are more important than the physical ones. He went on to say that resentment, hatred, fear and anxiety often produce so-called deficiency diseases, including neuritis and arthritis etc., and that what people think is of far more importance than what they eat — their thoughts every day are what develop character, personality and help to bring happiness in life.

Positive Living

Life has no bargain counter for any of us at any time, said Dr. Cliffe. We never can get anything out of life for nothing. For everything we want there is a price to pay. If we want happiness, then we must learn to love instead of to resent. We must learn how to get along with people. We must learn to see the good in those who have hurt us. The more you practise this positive way of living every day, the more of happiness you will receive. Use electricity rightly and it will give you heat and light and power, but use it wrongly and it will destroy you. So it is with your thoughts, the speaker stressed. If you use your thoughts aright, if you are willing to look for the Kingdom of God within you, then, of course, you are using the laws of God rightly and you will reap an abundance of joy, good health, and happiness.

Make this world a better place because you have lived in it, the speaker counsellor. Follow the recipes given you by the Master. If you will follow His recipes for happiness by changing your daily thought patterns, then you will automatically "Help Yourself to Happiness."

Dr. Cliffe praised the Westmount Women's Club for the various welfare and educational services they perform in addition to social activities.

Narrating several short examples of "Helping yourself to Happiness", Dr. Cliffe ended his lecture with the parting remarks "The woman who wins is the one who thinks she can."

British Magazine Wide Sale Here

It is important that the links between Britain and other countries of the Commonwealth should be based on a living knowledge and feeling for one another. Few factors are so powerful in bringing this about as the exchange of magazines and periodicals.

In co-operation with the Amalgamated Press of London, England, (largest periodical publishers in the world—bar none!), Gordon & Gotch are distributing greatly increased quantities of British magazines—especially of one particular women's magazine, Woman's Weekly, which sells nearly two million copies every week in Great Britain, and is one of the biggest selling of all the British Magazines in Canada.

Woman's Weekly sells mainly on its knitting patterns and its high standard of fiction. You'll be immediately struck by the difference in the style of the advertisements which reflect many of the differences in attitudes between the outlook of the lower income groups in Britain, in Canada and in North America generally.

Will The Ladies Obey M. Dior's Suggestion?

A few months ago the fashion world was shocked at the announcement from Paris that to be in style, milady's hemline would have to be raised. This great announcement had come from Monsieur Christian Dior.

Just who is this Monsieur Dior who can control hemlines?

For the first time you can now get the whole story of this fabulous man. Although he has given interviews before, he was never so thoroughly interviewed as he was recently by Ernest O. Hauser for the Saturday Evening Post.

A bachelor, Dior has built up a business which grosses more than $7,000,000 a year . . . and more than half of this comes from the United States. That is a pile of money just for clothes. But his prices run from $300 for a simple daytime frock to around $2400 for a lacy, embroidered dress!

Yes, Christian Dior is the king of ladies' fashions but the question now is . . . "Will the ladies obey Monsieur Dior?" . . . Read this fascinating story in the Post this week and then make up your own mind.

Walter Smaill Continues to Kick-off Annual Proctor-Westmount Game

By MARTY GOODMAN

At the forthcoming football game between Proctor Academy of Andover, New Hampshire, and Westmount, Walter Smaill will uphold a tradition he began at the first of these encounters held three years ago.

At that time the Westmount Old Boys Association put up a trophy in honor of Doug Smaill, one of the best athletes ever to have passed through Westmount, for annual competition between Proctor and Westmount. To open that game, they invited Doug's father, Walter, a standout football and hockey player in a now-bygone era, to kick off, and he performed the chore again last year.

Third Game

On Oct. 26, the third match of the series, Walter will once again take his position five yards back from the ball and commence action in this annual engagement for the Douglas Smaill Memorial Trophy.

Doug joined the Canadian army in 1939 at the outset of hostilities, and rose to the rank of Captain in the Black Watch, a rank he held when he was killed in action a month before the war ended in 1945. He had served in France, Belgium and Holland before his death in Germany. He had been wounded twice, once in the right arm and on this occasion wrote home saying "They didn't know I was left-handed."

Outstanding Gridder

He played flying wing and quarterback while at Westmount, and was recognized as one of the outstanding football players of his time. He won the Quebec Championship against Stanstead completing a 55 yard pass to Joey Jacobson. In 1936 he played with the Westmount Canadian junior titlists, and the following year with the seniors who won the ORFU championship. In 1938 he was with the MAAA Bulldogs in the CRFU, and chosen on the all-star team.

While in the Big Four, many of the American players invited him to play with Duke University, but Doug had hopes of going to commerce at McGill.

He was also a top hockey player, and played with Murray Patrick, now coach of Seattle. He received offers to turn professional, but his father wouldn't let him take the jump.

Father Also Star

Walter Smaill was also an outstanding athletic in an earlier age. He played for Westmount intermediate and junior championship squads along with Art Ross and Frank Patrick and was with MAAA in 1907 when they won the Dominion title.

He played defence, or as it was known then, cover point for the world champion Montreal Wanderers hockey team of 1906-7-8, and went to Victoria in 1911. There they won the Stanley Cup in 1912 and 1913.

Always busy with sport, he organized a military league in Winnipeg which included Dick Irvin, now coach of the Montreal Canadiens. Altogether Walter played pro hockey, with all its rugged living and schedules, for a total of 15 years.

Doug at London

One of his fondest memories of Doug is a football game played in England in the first game at London's Crystal Palace in 1944. It matched a Canadian squad versus an American team, and Doug threw three touchdown passes to lead his side to a lopsided 15-3 victory. Even so, he missed a great deal of the game as he was forced to retire from the tilt in the last quarter due to a liver injury which kept him in the hospital for three months.

The Old Boys Association picked a fitting family for which to name their trophy.

FROM UNIFORM...: (Above) Doug Smaill in football uniform during his school days at Westmount High School. The coming game between Westmount and Proctor Academy of Andover, New Hampshire, will be for a trophy presented in his memory. ... Scottish Tie 6-6 Meet Ottawa As Barbarians Win

Crying towels are an unwanted article around the clubhouse of the Westmount Scottish and Barbarian rugby teams these days, for the two just can't stop winning. McGill, unbeatable last year, has already lost two games this year, one to each of the local entries. In addition, the Scottish put on a great show in the Toronto weekend to tie 6-6 with a strong combined entry.

Tomorrow Scottish make their first start of the year against Ottawa Bytown Beavers, and the capital city boys have shown a good squad this year. They beat Barbarians 13-8, and the Scottish will really have a battle on their hands. Place is Westmount Park at 3 p.m.

Just so their sister team can get a workout over the week-end, the Scottish and Barbarians are arranging a game for Sunday morning at Trenholme Park.

McGill Downed

In Monday's Thanksgiving Game between McGill and Barbarians, the locals rapped the rah rah boys by a 14-11 count. Westmount opened the scoring with a converted try but the collegians came back to make it 5-3. Paddy Winsler, McGill star, scored again soon to give McGill a 6-5 lead. Jackson clicked on the convert and the locals were down 8-5.

Barbarians took a bad kick by McGill in the latter's zone and rushed the ball across the line. The convert failed and the score was tied.

Win Near End

Play was even in the second half. Jackson scored on a drop goal to put McGill ahead 11-8, but Westmount scored a converted try with six minutes to go and led 14-11. They maintained their lead the rest of the way despite some fierce rushing by McGill.

At Toronto's Rosedale Park, Scottish tied six-all with a com-

GOOD FOR THREE: Poised for battle, coach Ross Firth and his Westmount junior entry have swept three straight tilts. Latest victory was a 16-11 victory over Strathcona Academy Tuesday. Big Game for the boys, however, will be this week when they meet Loyola, another undefeated team. The squad is a new venture for the Westmount schools, and is made up of boys from both the Senior and Junior High Schools. So far they seem to have the best chance to make good, but more will be known after the outcome of the Loyola game.

Seniors Face Big Schedule; Two Return

It never rains but it pours. Coach Ron Sharp and his Westmount senior B grid team take time off now, and then face a full schedule of three games in a week. Next Friday they meet Rosemount High School at the Westmount Athletic Grounds, Monday is the annual game with Proctor Academy of Andover, New Hampshire, and then Thursday play Mount Royal High School in an away game.

Ferrier, Barr Return

Coach Sharp is a little happier these days, however, with the return of Don Ferrier and Mackie Barr. Ferrier was out for a game with a crushed finger, but further medical advice allows him to return now. Barr was one of the better linemen last year and yesterday against Strathcona was his first showing.

In addition to this, John Fuller has put on some fine kicking shows, and the team has been outstanding defensively. Whether or not they can successfully stand off some of the power that the other squads have is a question still to be answered.

Charter Bus

Juniors Win 16-11; Betts Scores Two

A last quarter touchdown set up by a recovered kick gave the Westmount High School junior team a 16-11 decision over Strathcona Academy Tuesday at the Westmount Athletic Grounds.

Marty Raff recovered his own kick late in the fourth quarter and then after a series of ground plays went across from the one yard line on third down to give the locals their third straight win of the season.

Betts Scores Two

Bill Betts also starred in the tilt as he picked up the other two majors. John Nessinger accounted for the other game when he took a pass from Raff to convert Betts' second score.

The juniors now meet Loyola Tuesday in the big game of the young season. Neither has yet lost a game, and title aspirations for both will hinge on the outcome.

Losing 6-5 at Half

Westmount opened the scoring in the first quarter when Betts took a pitchout on the 25 and went all the way. The convert attempt was missed. Strathcona picked up a converted major in the second quarter and they led 6-5 at half-time.

The visitors went ahead early in the third but Westmount blocked the convert. Betts then got away on another pitchout and Nessinger made the extra point to tie it 11-11 all going into the final stanza.

Raff Recovers

Raff then broke up the tilt when he recovered his own kick, then climaxed a drive by sneaking across for the TD that gave the locals the final decision 16-11. The convert was again missed.

Lance Thomson played a good game at end for Westmount, while Raff was a standout at the quarterback slot. Betts was also good, while Heinmann stood out on the line, which was strong all the way.

SIDELIGHTS on Sports

by MARTY GOODMAN

The recent Thanksgiving holiday gave us a chance to leave the city over the weekend, and three fine days of autumn travelling made good preparation for another three months of living with the fourth estate. The object of our wanderings was the ancient and revered city of Boston, a veritable mixing pot that throws together old and new, classical and popular, upper and lower.

One of the outstanding features we noticed in our short tour of the city was a white marble stadium opposite the Franklin Park zoo. Inspection showed it to be the George Robert White Schoolboys Stadium, and it is used solely to promote school sports. It seats approximately 10,000, and the high schools use it for football and track. The huge adjoining park is also put to much athletic use.

George Robert White was a well-known Boston philanthropist who has many other public works to his credit. He set up a trust fund to build and maintain this stadium, erected in 1949. Most of the city high schools have access to it, and its modern looks and facilities are amazing. Completely professional in appearance, such an edifice would undoubtedly do wonders for high school sport in Montreal. Students just can't help cheering and coming out to games when they are played in a place like that.

A Winning Team Draws

Many hockey leagues were given a big play in the Boston papers, but the attendance at the Bruins' games is of a large variety. There are a select few who follow hockey all the time; there are others who are attracted only by big names, of which Jean Beliveau definitely is one there; and finally there are those who come out when the team is winning and a contender and stay at home to watch TV when they lose. This is only natural, and has been proven to be the case in many other centers.

To get back to the city itself, we found it to have a distinctly colder attitude than is normal for New England, and this is putting the case mildly. Many instances occurred where a reluctance to be open and friendly was put on display; in fact, the only hospitable people, upon questioning, proved to hail from out of the city.

Streets One Way Only
Boston is a city of narrow streets which are all one way; but the mere fact that one avenue goes south does not mean the next goes north. To get around, one must first get used to the idea that no turns are allowed, and then get to a set destination by constantly decreasing the circumference of the circle every street invariably makes.

It is a beautiful town to see, though, and contains many ancient notes of history, along with some more modern edifices — all a pleasing combination. And at this time of year, with the colors blooming out all over and the tangy touch of winter in the air, the seeming hostility of the people was tempered considerably by the pleasantness of the surroundings.

Westmount Waverings

We had a long talk earlier this week with Walter Small, father of Doug, both of them outstanding athletes in the city. . . . Walter starred at both football and hockey, and while son Doug was also an exceptional grid and rink man, his father stopped him from playing professional hockey. . . . Which brings up the coming Proctor game and the daily announcements from the Andover school that they are prepping to take back the winner's trophy. . . . A couple of weeks ago they seemed to be a cinch for the win, but coach Ron Sharp of the seniors has brought his team along so well that now it's a little more even. . . . The return of Don Ferrier to the quarterback position and Mackie Barr to the line also help. . . . The newly-named Westmount Grads have switched their practice grounds to King's School pending final touches to the gym at Roslyn, where they will carry on the rest of the year. . . . Westmount's juvenile football team has taken two lacerations so far, their worst 40-0 last week. . . . Fencing in full swing at the Westmount Y with the Dominion championships coming up at the end of the month. . . .

Seniors . . .

The big game coming up, of course, will be the one with Proctor. The Americans are loaded for Canadians this year, and are supremely confident of taking home the Douglas Small Memorial Trophy presented for annual competition by the Westmount Old Boys Association.

Face Proctor Oct. 26

Proctor will arrive Oct. 24 and billeting is going right now. The game will be played Monday morning, Oct. 26, and naturally there will be a half holiday for the occasion.

Grads Move Location

The Westmount Grads basketball team, under the coaching of Doug Alexander, have moved their practice place for awhile, and at the end of the month will shift again.

They are slated to work out every Monday at 7:45 p.m. at King's School, corner of Western and Roslyn for a few weeks, and then move to the new gym at Roslyn when it is completed.

Bantams Back To Title Trail With Montreal West Win

One defeat doesn't put a team out of the running, coach Vic Obeck of the McGill senior Redmen said after his squad lost to Queen's 13-12, and coach Hugh Stratton undoubtedly told his bantams the same thing before their tilt Tuesday with Montreal West.

And if Obeck's boys come through with a win over Western tomorrow, he will probably be just as pleased as Stratton was after the Westmount Junior High entry trimmed the far west-enders 10-5 in the latter's home territory. The victory put the locals right back in the middle of the title race.

Souquet Suffers Breaks

Pete Souquet and Mike Gilmore scored the Westmount majors, both converted by Souquet but not counting because of offsides. This young grinder, one of the best to show around here in a long time, missed much of this game and another due to foot hurts, suffered in the first game and later this week when he finally went to the hospital it was discovered he had been playing with a broken bone in each.

Montreal West opened the scoring after five minutes of play when a screen pass to the flat went all the way. This particular play had the locals going in circles for much of the first half, and they were badly outplayed during this stanza.

They came to life in the second, however, and five minutes after it opened Souquet ended a ground march by slashing off-tackle to knot the score. Gilmore and Young did a lot of running on the attack which started with the kickoff.

In the final quarter Westmount broke the tie when Young intercepted a pass on his own 25 and went 10 yards. After a series of ground plays, Gilmore went over from the four.

Flegg Gets Two

Ed Flegg, who intercepted two passes, Ackman, Woodford and Smith on the line all played well. The tackling was good and after the sad first half the Westies really put on a show of power.

Next game will be against Chambly County and this is their first year in the league. But they are coached by Ian Hume, and his teams have always had a reputation of being tough.
