VICIOUS REBEL ATTACK ON IRUN CAUSES HEAVY PROPERTY DAMAGE

Two Women Reported Killed as Fascist Air-Raiders Scatter Bombs Through Loyalist Stronghold on Franco-Spanish Border—Attack Seen as Part of Mass Land, Sea and Air Attack to Dislodge Loyal Militia—Thousands of Refugees Stream Across French Border as Civilian Evacuation of City Is Ordered.

Irún, Spain, August 31.—Fascist rebels launched a vicious aerial bombardment against Irún today, scattering bombs through the city. Two women were killed.

The air-raiders appeared over the city shortly after nine a.m. as mass evacuation of the war-scarred area was being hastened by Government commanders.

Circling low, the planes rained bombs into the streets. The deadly missiles tore great holes in the pavements and shattered windows and buildings throughout Irún.

Three persons were injured by flying stones as the attacking ships roared overhead. Government militiamen, who earlier had defied a rebel ultimatum to surrender, massed their forces for an expected attack by insurgent infantry and warships.

The beginning of the attack, which the Fascists threatened would "reduce Irún to ashes," was signalled by the shrieking of sirens and the tolling of church bells.

As the heavily-laden tri-motored plane appeared over the city, throngs of refugees were still fleeing toward France and safety.

More than four thousand of the city's residents had crossed the international bridge leading to Hendaye, France, before the attack began. The normal population is 22,000, of whom many had already left during the last few weeks.

The rebel planes dropped twenty bombs without causing serious damage in the city and then flew away.

The opening of the bombardment was witnessed from the French bank of the Bidassoa river by General Chauvin, commander of the eighteenth French army region, and his staff. General Chauvin arrived today to organize defences in the French border territory.

NEITHER SIDE HAS PLANS FOR FUTURE GOVERNMENT

Barcelona, Aug. 31.—Just as the Spanish rebels are not of one mind as to what kind of regime will function in Spain in the event of their victory, so are the Leflists far from decided on their programme for the future, a survey of the Loyalist camp by a Havas correspondent disclosed today.

The Leflist plans for the future in case of their victory range all the way from the expressed desire of Manuel Azana, president of the Republic, that no radical change be made in the Government as it was on the eve of the rebel uprising, to the dreams of Bolshevik groups who want no government at all.

The most definitely organized group, the Catalan autonomists are strongly in favor of a Socialist collectivist Government. The Catalonians are definitely planning on the suppression of big capitalists. Only the small merchants and petty landowners would be spared.

LOYALIST MILITIA AMONG BEST PAID IN THE WORLD

Madrid, Aug. 31.—The pay is good in Spain's workers' army and the discipline is getting better.

Nearly ninety per cent. of the estimated 500,000 men and women who make up the forces of the Socialist Government are volunteer militia units. The rest are regular soldiers who remained loyal (most of the actual army is on the side of the rebels), and civil and assault guards.

Some five thousand women, most of them young girls, are fighting side by side with the men against the Fascist insurgents.

The militia is one of the highest paid military forces in the world. Each man and woman gets ten pesetas (nominally $1.36) a day. Back home, their dependents are regarded as to buy food and other necessities. If they are killed or wounded, lump sums ranging from 250 to 1,000 pesetas ($33 to $136) will be paid.

HEART-RENDING SCENES WITNESSED AT HENDAYE

Hendaye on the Franco-Spanish frontier, Aug. 31.—A mass land, air and sea offensive to smash the stubborn Loyalist defence of Irún loomed today following evacuation of the entire civil population in the city.

Chicago, August 31.—The Winnetka police reported to the coroner's office today that Wilmarth Ickes, thirty-seven year-old son of United States Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, shot and killed himself in his father's home in suburban Winnetka.

ARMED HOLDUP MEN OUTFIGHT BY WINNIPEG GROCER

Halifax, August 31.—The 1,275-ton freighter Benmaple collided with the steamship Lafayette in a dense fog off the Gaspé coast today and sank. All aboard the stricken vessel were saved, a message from Ellis Bay wireless station on Anticosti Island reported to East Coast radio here.

MUSSOLINI CONTINUES POLICY OF SABRE RATTLING THROUGH EUROPE

Claims Italy, within a Few Hours and After a Simple Order, Can Mobilize Eight Million Men—Statement Believed Aimed Against Two Recent Actions by Germany and Russia—Growing Socialist and Communist Influences in Spain and France Also Play Part in Italian Preparedness.

Avellino, Italy, Aug. 31.—Premier Mussolini, with a claim to 8,000,000 soldiers, placed two other European dictators in the world re-armament race today.

"We always, in the course of a few hours and after a simple order, can mobilize 8,000,000 men," he told cheering thousands who crowded the town square here yesterday.

Diplomatic quarters interpreted his declaration to be aimed against two recent actions by Adolf Hitler in Germany and Joseph Stalin in Russia.

The first, they declared, was the Reichsfuehrer's extension of the military training period in Germany from one to two years.

The second was the Soviet Dictator's statement the Russian armies must be prepared to march at a moment's notice.

Two additional interpretations were read into Il Duce's declaration by observers who viewed the Italian policy as possibly resulting from the growth of Socialist and Communist influences in France and Spain.

Further, these quarters believed, the statement was a re-affirmation of Mussolini's determination to defend his country—including the newly-acquired territory in East Africa—against whatever threats might arise.

The Italian Premier commented directly on the victory his troops achieved in Ethiopia, asserting:

"For this reason, but not only for this reason, will we reject the absurdity of eternal peace, which is foreign to our creed and to our temperament."

He characterized the world disarmament conference as a "catastrophic failure," took note of "an armaments race already underway and irresistible from this time on," and proposed this order for Italians:

"We must be strong. We must be always stronger. We must be so strong that we can face any eventualities and look directly in the eye whatever may befall."

Il Duce spoke with difficulty at times because of the outburst of cheering. An especially noisy ovation greeted the reference at the beginning of his speech to Victor Emmanuel, "King of Italy and Emperor of Ethiopia."

At length, lowering his voice during a sudden lull, Mussolini said: "This is the order of the day: 'We must be strong. We must be always stronger. We must be strong enough to face any eventualities; to look at our destiny firmly in the eye. To this supreme end all the life of the nation must be subordinated!'"

In concluding, he declared: "We have marched straight ahead up to now. Very well!"

"I tell you and promise you that so shall we do tomorrow and always!"

RECORD NUMBER OF EXHIBITS ARE ON DISPLAY AT SHERBROOKE FAIR

Entries in All Departments Reported Largest in Several Years—Children Will Be Admitted to Grounds and Grandstand without Charge Tomorrow, when They Will Be the Guests of the Fair—Industrial Building Filled to Capacity with Attractive Exhibits—Judging Inaugurated This Afternoon.

Thousands of Eastern Townships citizens wended their way to the exhibition grounds this afternoon to attend the fifty-second annual exhibition of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association, which was officially opened yesterday.

Entries in all the departments are believed for many years past, and, given favorable weather, the directors hope for one of the most successful fairs in the history of the Association. The cloudy skies of this morning appeared to be clearing early this afternoon as the people poured through the main gates.

Norrey Price, manager of the E.T.A.A., estimated that approximately eighteen thousand people visited the fair grounds yesterday, when the chief attraction was a band concert staged by the Sherbrooke Harmony Band. Admission to the grounds was free.

The grounds continued to be the scene of much bustle and activity this morning as the exhibitors, who had not yet arranged their displays, hurried to do so before the expected crowd arrived in the afternoon. The Conklin Show reached Sherbrooke this morning and the midway paraphernalia was rushed to the fair grounds from the C.N.R. station. It was expected everything would be in full swing by this afternoon. The directors of the fair have endeavored to obtain the very best in the matter of entertainment to satisfy the patrons during the coming week. High class grand stand performances will be presented afternoon and evening, beginning today, until the close of the exhibition on Friday next.

Chief of Police H. O. Camirand announced this morning that he had increased his police and fire-fighting staff by forty new men for fair week. Forty men are stationed on the grounds, and about an equal number throughout the city to maintain order and direct traffic. The police headquarters on the fair grounds are in charge of Deputy Chief Joseph Prunier, Petty crooks, pick-pockets and other undesirable characters will be kept in the room to victimize Sherbrooke Fair patrons. Chief Camirand's men have always seen to it in an efficient and decisive manner.

The Sherbrooke Boy Scouts will again render their valuable services to the fair and again assume the ushering duties on the grand stand. The courtesy, ability and cheerful manner in which the Scouts perform their tasks is indeed a credit to their organization and a pleasant feature of the exhibition.

The Sherbrooke Fair is an important event in the life of the Eastern Townships farmer who displays his stock in competition with his neighbors from near and far. His interest in the fair is evident by the large number of entries registered in all departments. There are 325 head of cattle, 102 sheep, ninety horses and eighty-three swine. In the agricultural building the dairy and maple products are far ahead of last year's offerings.

Judging of swine, dairy products and maple products was inaugurated this afternoon.

The departments of ladies' work, art, children's work and floriculture are also well filled, while the industrial building is crowded with interesting exhibits, all the space being taken up. In fact, several requests for room in this building had to be turned down.

Tomorrow is children's day at the fair, and thousands of kiddies will invade the grounds and "take home" their young lives. Trotting races will be inaugurated tomorrow. A splendid card of races has been drawn up for the ensuing four days. There will be six races daily and over seventy-five racing horses have already been entered.

On Wednesday the fair will be honored by a visit from Quebec's new Premier, Hon. Maurice Duplessis, and Hon. B. Dussault, Provincial Minister of Agriculture. They will be accompanied by Hon. Johnny Bourque, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. A. Jones, past Lord.

Hon. James Gardiner, Federal Minister of Agriculture, is expected to visit the fair on Friday.

Ready to render first aid in any emergency, the St. John Ambulance Nursing Division, under Mrs. S. Jamieson, lady superintendent, took up residents in their temporary hospital on the Exhibition Grounds this morning. Members of the division will be on duty day and night during fair week. The lady superintendent will have as her assistants, Mrs. S. Jones, past Lady superintendent, Mrs. William Marchant, Mrs. W. G. Cross, Mrs. M. A. Stevens, Mrs. H. Dundin, Mrs. H. Stewart, Mrs. D. Echenberg, Mrs. S. Ward and the Misses Trudeau, Belsie, Tobin, Cobleigh, Bradley, Bunge and Ewing.

DEATH LIST MOUNTS IN KOREAN TYPHOON

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 31.—The official death list mounted to 1,516 persons today as restored communications brought reports of widespread destruction during the worst typhoon in Korea in recent years.

The Government announced 769 persons were missing, 1,183 injured and 33,254 houses demolished or washed away in the storm which lashed the southeastern part of the peninsula on Thursday and Friday.

More than 2,500 boats were sunk or destroyed and railroad roads, bridges and embankments were damaged.

DELICATE PROBLEM OF UNPAID CLOTHING

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 31.—Constable Clyde Engle, ordered to bring in a youth's unpaid for suit of clothes, found him wearing it and walking between two women. The constable looked dubiously at the writ and submitted the question to Deputy Prosecutor A. O. Colburn, who ruled:

"If you find his trousers on the bed-post, you can take them, but you cannot strip him under the bare provisions of the law."

LITTLE DAMAGE AS ROYAL YACHT STRUCK BRIDGE

Yacht Nahlin, Carrying King Edward VIII on Holiday Trip Through Aegean Sea, Struck Bridge while Passing Through Straits of Chalkis.

Athens, Aug. 31.—The yacht Nahlin, on which King Edward VIII is spending a holiday, was damaged today when it collided with a bridge while passing through Chalkis Strait, thirty-five miles north of Athens.

News of the Nahlin's mishap followed reports the yacht had been forced into shelter in Karystos Bay, on the south end of the island of Euboea, by a storm.

Because of the bad weather, the King had wireless to Athens, suggesting that an escort of destroyers be withdrawn. Accordingly, the destroyers turned back toward Athens.

It was learned the Nahlin struck the bridge which connects Chalkis, on the west coast of Euboea, with the mainland. The impact, however, was not severe.

The island of Euboea, largest of the Kingdom of Greece, lies in the Aegean Sea along the north coast of the provinces of Pythiois and Phocis and Attica and Boetia.

The island is separated from the mainland by a channel which is crossed by a bridge at its narrowest point, opposite Chalkis. The channel is remarkable for the repeated occurrence of high water during the course of the day, the phenomenon sometimes occurring eighteen times daily.

King Edward boarded the Nahlin with his party at Sibeni, Yugoslavia, three weeks ago and cruised leisurely through the Adriatic, reaching Greek waters last week.

HUNGARIAN PREMIER MAY STEP DOWN FROM OFFICE

Continued Ill-Health May Force Resignation of Premier Julius Goemboes within Next Two Days, Budapest Reports State.

Budapest, Aug. 31.—The imminent resignation of Premier Julius Goemboes was reported in authoritative quarters here today.

The Premier, who has been ill in health for several months, returned here yesterday evening from Austria, where he went to a sanatorium last week to recuperate.

During a conference with newspapermen after his arrival, Goemboes said he had "nothing new" to tell them, but he intimated he would make an important communication tomorrow.

REORGANIZING OF LAW-ENFORCING AGENCIES NEXT CABINET PROBLEM

Expected Present Chief of Quebec Division of Provincial Police Will Be Named to Command Entire Force, which Will Be United with Liquor Commission Police and Circulation Officers—Abolition of Five-Man Liquor Commission and Replacement by General Manager Is Forecast as Economy Move.

Quebec, August 31.—Premier Maurice Duplessis, heading the first non-Liberal Quebec Government in thirty-nine years, was expected back here tonight from a week-end holiday, taken after two days' activity which, the Union Nationale head estimated, saved the province $350,000.

His Cabinet will meet in the first of this week's many sittings tomorrow and then, it is expected, will be immediate resumption of the new Government's economy programme, promised in pre-election campaigning to cover all phases of Government expenditure.

While the Premier rested at his Three Rivers home, making no announcements, Adélard Godbout, the gentleman farmer who took over the leadership of the Liberal party in June and led it in defeat two weeks ago, stayed at his Frelighsburg farm, still non-committal on his future plans.

It was a quiet week-end for the Capital which has seen and heard, since the swearing in of Premier Duplessis and his Cabinet last Wednesday, Union Nationale reforms, political speculation and, protests against omissions from the Cabinet. Most ministers did as their leaders, resting for what promise to be strenuous duties.

Major reforms expected to be passed by the Cabinet this week are believed to include re-organization of the Quebec division of the Provincial Police force and abolition of the Quebec Liquor Commission.

It was rumored here Colonel Leon Lambert, at present in charge of the Quebec division of the Provincial Police, would assume charge of the entire body and direct re-organization to include banding together of Liquor Commission police and Road Department circulation officers.

Abolition of the Liquor Commission would be followed, it was rumored, by appointment of a general manager and purchasing agent to replace the present five-man body. Shake-ups were expected in every Government division.

Main activity of the Government, holders of seventy-six of the Legislature's ninety seats, during the last days of the week was dismissal of Crown prosecutors at the Liquor Commission attorneys; cancellation of all insurance policies on Government property, and abolition of some offices and commissions.

Colonization Minister Auger, addressing a crowd that jammed the station concourse at Montreal, said "welcome home," pledged economies of at least thirty-five per cent. in colonization costs. "Now," said the minister, "we go to work; the elections are over, and we are devoted to the rebuilding, economic and social, of Quebec."

It was learned in Montreal city and provincial authorities had exchanged views on the city's financial situation. A city refunding loan of $200,000,000 at lower interest rates, backed by the Government, was among matters discussed.

PROMISES DRASTIC CUT IN COLONIZATION COSTS

Montreal, August 31.—Colonization costs will be decreased at least thirty-five per cent. without reduction in efficiency, Hon. Henri L. Auger, new National Union Minister of Colonization, promised an enthusiastic audience of the electors of his home riding, James, who welcomed him home from Quebec on Saturday evening.

"Already," the former St. James ward alderman and City Council leader, stressed, "the new Government of Premier Maurice Duplessis, since its assumption of office Wednesday last, effected total annual savings for the province of $350,000, and more are to come. Gone is the era of extravagance, wastage in administrative Quebec; now, the people are to have sound government and economy."

"Now," said Auger, "we go to work; the elections are over, and we are devoted to the rebuilding of political, economic and social Quebec. Our greatest work is before us, and we count on the most earnest and sincere co-operation of all."

"Our administrative difficulties are sufficient, both in Quebec and in Montreal, without unnecessarily adding racial problems to them. It is enough to see the turn events took in Quebec immediately after the present Government was sworn in to predict that matters are bound to become more complicated as time goes on, to realize the difficulty simultaneously taking on economic and racial problems."

"I am fully aware of the exaltation which will sweep a considerable section of our population in the next municipal election, and I candidly admit that any man who dares, at that moment, to oppose the nationalism which is rampant in French Canada, even with weighty arguments, or who speaks his fears for the future, not only risks almost certain defeat, but will very probably not be given a hearing in public meetings."

"I leave to those who have undertaken such a campaign responsibility for the new orientation of my people, and I feel that I cannot follow them onto ground which leads straight to the secession of Quebec from Confederation."

Premier Mr. Duplessis during the provincial election campaign to abolish the Montreal civic sales tax "constituted a condemnation of my policy as well as that of the attitude of the majority of my colleagues," said the statement. "I must therefore consider that my Please Turn to Page 2.

SUBSTANTIAL AID TOWARD BALANCING BUDGET SEEN

Montreal, August 31.—Although definite details are so far lacking, it is reported in reliable sources that an arrangement has been made for an issuance of a $200,000,000 Provincial Government guaranteed loan at an attractive rate of interest, possibly two to two and a half per cent. Of this sum, $150,000,000 would be used by the City of Montreal for refunding purposes, the City to care for the interest and sinking fund charges.

By this move, it is estimated that the interest bill of the city, now reaching nearly $17,000,000, would Please Turn to Page 2.

WOMAN RESIGNS FROM POST TO AID ROOSEVELT

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, Minister to Denmark, Announces Intention of Offering Full Support to Re-election Campaign of Roosevelt.

Rapid City, S.D., Aug. 31.—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, the daughter of William Jennings Bryan, "The Great Commoner," who has had a long career in the public service, last night, announced that she has resigned from the post of Minister to Denmark in order to enter the active campaign for the re-election of President Roosevelt.

Her marriage on July 11 to Captain Boerge Rohde of the Danish King's Royal Life Guards was one of the social events of the year in diplomatic circles. The marriage was performed at St. James Park, N.Y., in the presence of President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

At the time of her marriage, the bride announced that she would retain her former name of Ruth Bryan Owen while serving as Minister to Denmark.

Her engagement to Captain Rohde first had been announced in Copenhagen two days after Mrs. Owen arrived in this country, early this summer, on a sixty-day leave of absence. Captain Rohde arrived the day before the ceremony.

Mrs. Rohde, who is fifty years old, has been married twice before. She divorced her first husband, William Homer Leavitt, and entered politics after the death of her second husband, Major Reginald Owen of the British Royal Engineers.

STORM TROOPS MAY JOIN WITH REGULAR ARMY

Incorporation of 800,000 Members of Hitler's Private Army Would Bring Germany's Effective Army Strength to Two Million Men.

Vienna, Aug. 31.—Reports that Chancellor Hitler would announce incorporation of the Nazi Storm Troops in the regular Reich army at next week's Nazi party congress at Nuremberg circulated here today.

Persistent reports said the German Chancellor had decided on this latest "coup" in accordance with a request made by Reich War Minister Werner von Blomberg and the army general staff.

The number of Brownshirts now actively engaged in party work in the Reich has been estimated in some quarters to run as high as 800,000 men, including automobile and motorcycle units.

If this figure is correct, the new German war machine would total considerably more than 2,000,000 effective as soon as the new two-year period of obligatory military service recently decreed by the Fuhrer is in operation, observers agreed.

The Storm Troops, who played an outstanding role in Hitler's rise to power, fell into comparative disrepute after the famous "Blood Purge" of June 1934. At that time the German leader gave official recognition to widespread reports that the organization was wracked with immorality.

ALBERTA'S SPECIAL HOUSE SESSION MAY END TONIGHT

Bill Designed to Implement Social Credit Principles in Committee Stage with Four Sections Held Over for Clarification.

Edmonton, Aug. 31.—Hopes are entertained by Alberta's Social Credit Government that the special session of the Legislature will be concluded tonight or tomorrow.

When the House adjourned on Friday night until three p.m. (six p.m. E.D.T.) today, the chief business before it, the Alberta Credit House Bill designed to implement Social Credit principles, was in committee stage with four sections held over for clarification.

The other major legislation to be dealt with this session, a bill to consolidate and extend the Debt Adjustment Act, was expected to come up for debate today. Introduced by Attorney-General J. W. Huggill, the bill would extend provisions of the Act four years to July 1, 1938.

Extension of the Act would make it necessary to obtain a permit from the Debt Adjustment Board before taking any action for debt execution or foreclosure against a resident farmer or home owner in Alberta if the debt was made prior to July 1, of this year.

POSSE SEEKING TWO BROTHERS FOR SLAYINGS

Believed Escaped Convicts Responsible for Shooting of Three Men in Argument Over Tethering of a Horse.

Yreka, Calif., Aug. 31.—Infuriated posses from this town, where a killer was lynched last year, today heavily armed brothers today for the clubbing and shooting to death of three men—outgrowth of a quarrel over the tethering of a horse.

Warned that the brothers, both with prison records, carried high-powered rifles, the possemen flung lines across seven roads in the California-Oregon border region where many points are so isolated that measure of frontier law prevails.

One of the two officers slain only a year ago had played the leading part in attempting to prevent angry citizens from dragging a killer out of the county jail to the tree where he was hanged.

The brothers, John H. Bright, thirty-five years old, and Coke T. Bright, thirty, were sought as the men suspected of killing to avoid arrest at the remote mining settlement of Horse Creek yesterday. The brothers vanished into the rugged Siskiyou Mountains.

They left behind the bullet-pierced bodies of Deputy Sheriff Martin Lange, forty-eight, and Constable Joseph Clark, sixty-five, of Yreka, and Captain Fred Seaborn, fifty, former navy officer and port pilot at Vallejo and Marie Island navy yard.

The officers sought to arrest the brothers at their mining camp, thirty-five miles north of Yreka, on Tuesday night, charged by Captain Seaborn and a friend, and vacation companion, Charles Baker. Baker said one of the brothers struck Seaborn because he tethered his horse in a pasture near where the Brights were camping.

THINK RUMANIA MAY TERMINATE FRENCH FAVORS

Dropping of Foreign Minister Nicholas Titulesco from Reorganized Cabinet Causes Great Discussion in Rumanian Political Circles.

Bucharest, August 31.—Charges that the ouster of Foreign Minister Nicolas Titulescu in a reorganization of Premier Georges Tatarescu's Cabinet means a change in Rumania's pro-French foreign policy were heard here today as M. Arion, secretary general to the Foreign Affairs Ministry, attempted to follow his chief out of the Government.

Arion asked the Government to relieve him of his duties. Ion Mihalache, head of the powerful National Peasant party, accused Premier Tatarescu of attempting to hide under a cloak of silence the responsibility for internal anarchy. This was taken as a reference to Ion Cuzeletz's shift from the Interior Ministry to the position as Minister of State. Cuzeletz has been under fire for some time for his alleged leniency toward the outlawed pro-Fascist "Iron Guard."

Mihalache also charged that with Titulescu's removal Liberalism has vanished completely from the Rumanian Government. Saturday's cabinet shuffle only weakened the Government instead of strengthening it, other opposition spokesmen declared. Premier Tatarescu was sharply assailed for dropping Titulescu on the eve of important Little Entente conferences.

Titulescu, long an outstanding advocate of Franco-Rumanian co-operation, was the only minister ousted. Finance Minister Victor Antonescu took over the Foreign Affairs portfolio and most of the other positions were shifted around. To fill the vacancy created by Titulescu's removal, Mircea Juvarg, former vice-president of the Chamber of Deputies, was named Justice Minister.

"The new ministerial array will pursue the same domestic and foreign policy as its predecessor," the Premier said after his re-manicured cabinet had taken the oath of office before King Carol at the ruler's Sinaia summer palace.

EXPECT ACTION THIS WEEK ON APPOINTMENTS

Announcement of Persons Named to Fill Numerous Vacancies in Federal Government Services Nears as Cabinet Speeds Up Work to Clear Lists.

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—Allocation of the numerous vacancies in high government offices is expected to be made public late this week as Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his Cabinet colleagues open a final drive to complete a large volume of business in less than a fortnight. The Prime Minister leaves a week from Saturday for Geneva.

With some forty appointments awaiting decision, many of them preliminary to proclamation of the important statutes passed at the last session of Parliament, the Government will attempt to deal with the bulk of this work at the three Cabinet sessions scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

In addition to giving lengthy consideration to matters of policy on trade, finance, and international relations. The personnel of the Canadian delegation to Geneva is understood to have been completed but not yet made public except for the names of Mr. Mackenzie King and Dr. O. D. Skelton, Under Secretary for External Affairs.

The Cabinet will receive the report of Trade Minister Euler, who returned last week from a commercial mission to European countries and who spent the week-end at his home in Kitchener before coming to Ottawa.

UNITED STATES INCENSED OVER LATEST ATTACK

State Department Serves Stiff Warning on Both Loyalist and Rebel Commanders that Bombing of United States Vessels Must Stop.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Startled by an attempt to sink the U.S. destroyer Kane with high explosive bombs dropped from an unidentified airplane off the Spanish coast, the United States Government today called on both the Madrid regime and the rebels to prevent another such incident.

Acting on orders telephoned by President Roosevelt from the mid-west, Secretary of State Hull announced that the Spanish Government and General Francisco Franco, rebel chieftain, were being asked to instruct their airmen "in the strongest terms" to avoid a repetition.

The news that the Kane had been the target of six bombs and had been destroyed with nine rounds from the anti-aircraft gun which broke the Sunday calm of the State Department. Officials were relieved to learn that none of the bombs hit the ship. The airplane also escaped without damage.

The case was labelled as one of "mistaken identity." Hull said he "believed that one faction of the Spanish conflict had mistaken the destroyer for a craft of the opposition faction." Future plans of Mr. Houde were not disclosed in the statement which said he had no position at the present time and that he must look for one.

VICIOUS REBEL ATTACK ON IRON CAUSES HEAVY PROPERTY DAMAGE

More than 2,500 tear-stained refugees, including hundreds of women and children dragging their hastily-collected belongings in carts and baby carriages, streamed across the French frontier during the night.

The old and feeble were carried in improvised litters by those unable to find better transportation in the first frantic rush. Except for those physically disabled, the men remained behind to defend the city.

Leaflets showered on the besieged town by three rebel planes after dropping a number of bombs warned the mayor of today's bombardment. Not a single building will be left standing under the barrage, the rebels warned, advising the civil population to flee for their lives.

All refugees were vaccinated as soon as they crossed the border to prevent an outbreak of contagious diseases. An immense hangar near the railway station was transformed into a temporary shelter to house the women and children.

ELEVEN COUNTRIES AGREE TO NEUTRALITY COMMITTEE

London, Aug. 31.—Eleven countries—Great Britain, France, Italy, Norway, Albania, Austria, Poland, Bulgaria, Belgium, Turkey and Latvia—now have approved formation of an international committee to regulate a "Hands off Spain" policy.

The purpose of the committee, which will meet in London is twofold: 1—To exchange information on the imposition of an arms embargo; 2—To consider any further points that may arise. This probably will cover measures to end atrocities.

The plan which the diplomatic corps at Hendaye is considering envisages action in three directions: Exchange of prisoners; organization of Red Cross and Sanitation; preservation of art treasures and historic monuments.

COL. ROSCOE TURNER WAS FORCED OUT OF AIR RACE

Gallup, N.M., Aug. 31.—Feeling lucky to be alive, Col. Roscoe Turner left behind the wreckage of his speed plane and headed back to Los Angeles today by train—jinxed in New Mexico, but provided a display of scientific grappling. Every hold was attempted by both men and there was little to choose between the pair during the first hour. It looked as though another draw would be the result until the Rimouski adonis found an opening and scored the winning fall after sixty-five minutes.

A crash yesterday, caused by a broken throttle, definitely eliminated him from the New York to Los Angeles race. It was Turner's first in nineteen years of flying. "It seems I just can't get over New Mexico," Turner said after escaping with nothing worse than what he believed to be "two busted ribs." Last year refueling difficulties at Albuquerque grounded him for the extra minutes that cost him his chance to win the coveted trophy.

GIANTS SCORED DOUBLE-HEADER WIN OVER CUBS

Continued from page 8. Ferrell, with the aid of Eric McNair's four hits, took the opener against the Tribe by three to two, while old Rube Walberg hurled a three-hitter for a five to one win in the nightcap. Bob Feller, Cleveland's seventeen year old rookie strikeout star, lasted but five innings of the nightcap, allowing six hits and four runs.

The Detroit Tigers split with the Philadelphia Athletics, winning the nightcap by three to two behind Tommy Bridges after dropping the 12-inning opener by five to four and advanced to a third-place tie with the White Sox. Elden Auker was the victim in the curtain raiser when Wally Moses doubled, advanced to third on "Chubby" Dean's safe but scored the winning point when Auker threw wild to third after leading off.

The Cincinnati Reds beat the Phillies twice, the scores being six to three and four to three, to go back into fifth place in the National League, replacing the Boston Bees. Big Paul Derringer allowed ten safeties in the first game, but recorded his sixteenth victory Saturday, while Halahan and Davis combined to yield only six hits in the second encounter.

The Pittsburgh Pirates helped to shove the Bees down into sixth place by scoring four to two and three to one triumphs over the Bostonians. Bill Swift outpitched Jim Chaplin in the curtain raiser and Cy Blanton battered Red Smith in the curfew encounter.

Wrestling was introduced as the Sunday evening pastime for Eastern Township sportsmen last night when a programme of four interesting attractions was presented in the Arena. The card attracted a fair-sized crowd of spectators who were treated to exhibitions of every angle of the mat game.

There was very little apart from comedy in the curtain raiser as Abe Kaplan, of Russia and Count Zarykoff, of Ukraina, grunted and groaned for twenty minutes without reaching a decision. At different stages of this encounter both wrestlers seemed on the verge of scoring the lone fall necessary to be declared victorious, but each time the "victim" wriggled to safety just before his shoulders were pinned.

The second bout was productive of a type of wrestling which had the fans roaring. Jim Wright, of Texas, showed little regard for the rules governing the mat game in his battle with Tony Parkin, of Montreal. Repeated warning from the referee, first from the referee, and then from the audience failed to prevent Wright from subjecting his rival to the old session of hair-pulling and eye-gouging. The end came after thirteen minutes, the Texan slamming the limp Parkin several times before achieving the fall which brought him a decision.

For the second time within a week a local audience witnessed the disqualification of Cy Williams, known to his cronies as the "Tallahassee Terror." Matched against Hank Barber, of New York, Williams resorted to all the tricks of the trade and even blinded his opponent by tossing a handful of dirt into Barber's face.irate ringside fans threw their support behind the New Yorker and Williams received a taste of his own medicine. The referee finally ordered Williams out of the ring and raised Barber's hand in token of victory.

The main feature between Al Mercier, of Rimouski, and Frank Judson, former wrestling instructor at Harvard, was mild in contrast to the semi-final, but provided a display of scientific grappling. Every hold was attempted by both men and there was little to choose between the pair during the first hour. It looked as though another draw would be the result until the Rimouski adonis found an opening and scored the winning fall after sixty-five minutes.

Three of a family of five were killed and the other two injured when their car collided with a bus near Bowmanville yesterday. Mrs. Thomas Botting, of Rochester, N.Y., died instantly, her husband and five-year-old daughter, Betty, died of injuries in hospital and two sons, Acil, nineteen, and Clarence, sixteen, were in hospital today with fractured skulls.

Harry Mason and Irene Finn, young Toronto couple, died instantly when their automobile collided with a street car in the east end of the city on Saturday. Her companion, Lydia Williams, escaped with minor injuries.

Gordon Rohr, thirty-six-year-old farmland, died in hospital in Kitchener, and Wilfrid Schmidt, twenty-one, was charged with criminal negligence following an accident at Edgewater. Police said Rohr was walking along the sidewalk when Schmidt's car jumped the curb and struck him. Lawrence Fleming, of Perth, was another pedestrian killed by an automobile.

John Kondrat, forty-seven, of Windsor, was killed on Saturday night when his bicycle was struck by a car allegedly driven by Ivan B. Weeks, of Detroit. Police said traffic was heavy along the road and Weeks was blinded by the lights of other cars, so that he did not see the lightless bicycle.

Gordon Bruce Smith, aged ten, of Windsor, died in Pont Pelee National Park when his arm came in contact with what police say was a hanging live wire. His right wrist was nearly severed, and his arm, shoulder and head burned. Doctors said death was instantaneous.

Nelson Marx, thirteen, of Buffalo, drowned in eighteen inches of water near Fort Erie, after striking his head while diving. His body was found by two companions some time after the accident is thought to have occurred. The boy had been knocked unconscious by the blow.

GIBRALTAR STANDS AS GRIM WARNING TO WORLD AS WAR SWIRLS AROUND GREAT ROCK

The position of Gibraltar, dangerously near actual fighting between Spanish government forces and rebels, is shown in this map. Many of the warships, from supposedly neutral countries, are ready to go into action at the slightest provocation from revolutionary factions. Gibraltar's problem is to remain aloof from this maelstrom of prejudices.

Gibraltar, the mighty atom which serves as a keystone to hold together the links of Great Britain's far-flung empire, is squeaking and groaning under the strain of the Spanish rebellion.

Directly in the centre of the violent cross-currents set up by the rebellion itself, and by imperialistic powers intentionally or accidentally involved, is Gibraltar, a gray rock which commands the straits connecting the Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea.

The rock, a Crown colony, has been in British possession since 1713. It is nearly three miles long, three-quarters of a mile wide, and is 1,296 feet high.

The straits of Gibraltar separate Spain from its African colony, Spanish Morocco, where the revolution was planned and started. In Ceuta, Spanish Morocco's fortified seaport, the rebel generals secretly spread their maps, outlining the course of the rebellion.

There also, they mustered troops, ammunition and supplies, and when the stage was set, started their transfer to the mainland.

That was when Gibraltar found itself in the midst of a war—and could do nothing about it.

One of the first phases of violence in Spain's internal struggle came when government warships clashed with rebel transports and convoys moving from Ceuta to Algeciras.

On one occasion, Gibraltar's soldiers and civilians watched government ships hurling shells into Algeciras, just seven miles away.

Another time, government cruisers attacked La Linea, rebel stronghold on the Spanish mainland at the base of the Gibraltar peninsula. Shells fell dangerously near British cruisers and gunboats trying to tighten the blockade on ports held by rebels.

None of these skirmishes brought the "international incident" eternal feared by statesmen as the starting point of a general war.

Then one day a Spanish rebel gunner, living up to the Spanish navy's tradition for poor marksmanship, fired a shell from a ship in the straits and it burst near the barracks polo field at Gibraltar. Players and spectators were frightened, but none was hurt.

Because there were no casualties and because the shell obviously was not intended for British territory, the incident was overlooked.

Planes Hum Over Rock But there were other things to keep the situation tense. Planes of all descriptions have flown, day and night since the revolution started, above or near Gibraltar.

Some of them have been planes "legitimately" in the service of either government or rebels. Others, it has been whispered, are planes flying without identification to deliver men and munitions for the rebellion.

Regardless of their identity or purpose, these planes have put a burden on Gibraltar; a burden of apprehension lest efforts to remain neutral should be wiped out by a more serious "accident."

As a result of the course of the revolt, the straits of Gibraltar now swarm with sea craft of all sorts, the majority of them with guns unlimbered and crews stripped for action.

Perilous Jam in Straits The ordinary traffic flow of merchant and passenger vessels through the straits is enormous. Add to that the motley fleet of government ships, the British fleet, the Spanish fleet, the German fleet, the Italian fleet, the French fleet, the American fleet, the Japanese fleet, the Chinese fleet, the Dutch fleet, the Belgian fleet, the ## Germany Again Lagging Behind.

Germany has shown reluctance to commit herself to the French proposals to impose an embargo upon the shipment of munitions and war supplies to Spain, or to agree to the maintenance of a strict neutrality towards the Spanish civil war.

This is typical of Germany. Every other nation to which the French note was addressed readily agreed to lend its support and to do what it could to preserve world peace. But Germany preferred to lag behind. The signing of such a note did not suit Germany's purpose.

The Spanish civil war could very easily become the spark to set Europe alight, but it will only do so because there is a nation or nations anxious for any excuse to start a great war. Is Germany one of these nations? Had she been intent upon peace she could easily have shown her willingness to line up with the other nations who sought to save the world from any hideous conflagration. But no, Germany refused to sign.

The peace of Europe is hanging in the balance, but so long as the powers of Europe agree upon strict neutrality and leave Spain to put its own house in order the peace of Europe will not be disturbed.

An Example To The World.

Canada and the United States, in the words of Mr. Justice Henry Hague Davis, of the Supreme Court of Canada, are "an example to the world."

Speaking at the American Bar Association's annual luncheon in Boston, Justice Davis pointed out that the points on which the two friendly neighbors differ are "purely political."

"The things we are alike in," the noted jurist remarked, "are as deep rooted as life itself. One in a thousand years of historical background, with a common language, a common literature, a common law, common ideals of law and liberty, a common belief and confidence in responsible government, a common love of freedom and a common faith in one God and Father of us all. What an example to the world."

"The relations between Canada and the United States have issued in the staunchest of international friendships. Such a friendship is one of the greatest reconciling ministries of this period of the world's history. The actual fact of our international relations is the greatest contribution this continent has made to world neighborliness. It is truly the appointed design and opportunity of our great peoples to march together in emancipating bonds of intimate friendship."

Truly, indeed, is Canada and the United States an example to the world. But to the people of both nations is entrusted the task of preserving this example and making it even more impressionable upon the minds of other peoples.

The preservation of this friendly understanding must not be left to the governments and to the powers of the two nations.

Every man, woman and child in Canada and in the United States has a part to play. Individual understanding, appreciation and friendship must be brought into play on both sides if the work of the governments is to succeed.

Canada and the United States are setting an example to the world—an example which is vitally important at this time—when much of Europe is dotted with boundary lines which are merely serving to increase misunderstanding and grave dangers.

It is certainly the fervent wish and prayer of all right-thinking people on both sides of the international boundary that, in the words of Mr. Justice Davis, "all things between us may at all times be so ordered and settled upon the best and surest foundations that peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety may be established among us for all generations."

Great Achievements Come Through Work.

John Masfield, Britain's poet laureate, does not put much stock in what some people term inspirational writing. He is one of those individuals who believes that success, either in the field of letters, or in any other worldly venture, comes only with hard work.

Speaking recently at Oxford, the poet laureate told his hearers that his progress in expression, as he put it, had been gradual. He confessed that, even now, he had difficulty in finding just the words to express his ideas. A poet is, in effect, he remarked, a searcher after worth-while thoughts and the best way to express them.

Eminence in writing, according to Mr. Masfield, is thus no easy goal. The heights are usually reached step by step, and there may be slips and tumbles on the way. Many people, he remarked, start writing in the belief that they will experience no particular trouble in setting down what they perceive. Speaking for himself, he had found that belief unjustified. His implied counsel was that well-nigh infinite pains will lead, more surely than cocksureness, to worth-while results.

Editor's Note-Book.

The Brandon Sun calls attention to the fact that the mayor, all dignity aside, runs about town in shirt and shorts, while the police swelter in heavy uniforms.

What Editors Say

THE SONG OF THE SHIRTS.

The fable of the melancholic Sultan who was told he would not recover till he had slept in the shirt of a happy man and, sending forth his emissaries to the four quarters of the earth, found only one happy man—who had not a shirt to his back—has a very apt modern application, particularly as to the end. Happy, indeed, is the country now-a-days that is not plagued with shirts, or "blessed" with them, for the blessing has very much the appearance of a plague in disguise. Unfortunately, "shirtomania" is catching. Even Egypt has developed it, and from the very beginning it is causing trouble. At first, there was merely an insignificant body of "green shirts" who found that the adoption of their underwear as a uniform gave them an importance that they would never have been able to obtain, or merit, otherwise. Then the Waif founded a counter-organization of "blue shirts," and the trouble began. The Egyptian Army shortly must needs wear a uniform, as it seems, and if they are increased in strength. Now, if these young lads are so bursting with patriotic energy as they maintain, let them have their uniform by all means (a shirt if they insist), but let it be khaki.

TIMES CHANGE.

We are giving $10,000,000 credit to the Russians. Nine years ago when the Conservatives were in power they suppressed Arcos House and drove its inhabitants away. Those officials were buyers in the British market. How times have changed. Is it our government that has changed? Not at all; it is the Russians. The administration in that country has grown and strengthened until it now must be numbered among the improving governments of the world, and may one day be among the good ones. It has decided to confer free institutions and liberty of speech on its citizens. Although it has not always been a good one, the Soviet Government is the oldest government in Europe. It is new aristocracy—an aristocracy of brains and service, but not of birth or money.

THROUGH SCHOOL AND AFTER.

School administrators and pupil personnel workers held a conference at Cornell University the other day that might well be widely copied.

It covered the vital problems of adjusting the child to school and to life after school. In a sense, this conference considered every child a "problem" in the view that each presents a distinct adjustment case.

Said Francis T. Spaulding, associate professor of education at Harvard University:

"The fundamental need is to adjust boys and girls, not only to school, but to the situations which they must inevitably face when they leave school."

What wiser goal could a conference of educators and parents adopt?

ATLANTIC FLYING ROUTES.

But Imperial Airways may have a dodge or two up its sleeve. Flights from Newfoundland to England are, as most people know, much easier than flights from England to Newfoundland. With the prevailing westerly wind at its back, it might be possible for a large flying-boat to carry quite a fair load inward across the Atlantic to Britain at most times of the year. For the return to America again the calmer Azores route would be followed. A one-day or circular traffic system across the Atlantic would thus be established. Since the Azores route is a thousand miles longer, our mails to Canada and the United States would take two days or more to reach them, whereas Canadian and American letters might come to us within twenty-four hours.

IGNORANCE IS BLISS.

The English reviewer who mistook Mazo de la Roche for a man is like the other Englishman, boasting of his acquaintance with literary lights of seventy years or so ago. Asked if he knew George Eliot, he answered, "Certainly. I roomed with him in London for several months."

AMATEUR BANDS HELD FESTIVAL AT DERBY LINE

Nine Bands Participated in First Official Festival of International Amateur Bands Association.

Derby Line, August 31. — The first official festival of the International Amateur Bands Association was held at Baxter Park here on Sunday, August 16th. During the morning individual parades were held and later the different bands attended services at Christ Church, Stanstead, South United Church, Rock Island, and the Rock Island Roman Catholic Church.

A colorful street parade was staged early in the afternoon through the main street, Rock Island and Stanstead. Four Mounted Police led the procession, followed by State Troopers. Nine bands were present and gave individual concerts during the afternoon.

The groups in attendance and the selections they offered were: Morrisville Military Band, Morrisville, Vt., under the direction of Willard K. Sanders; "The Merry Melodies," arranged by "Americans We" (Fillmore) and the overture, "Orpheus in Hades" (Offenbach); the Lyndonville Military Band, Lyndonville, Vt., under the direction of Homer C. Wilson.

They played the march, "On the Way" (H. C. Miller) and a selection, "The Best Loved Irish Melodies," arranged by Al Hayes; the St. Johnsbury Band, St. Johnsbury, Vt., under the direction of Ray R. Laughlin, contributed the march, "International Goodwill" (George J. Kinney) and the overture, "The Sky Pilot" (A. M. Laurens).

The Waterloo Concert Band, Waterloo, under the direction of George A. Young, played the march, "To the Front" (S. B. Stambaugh) and the overture, "The Rippling Ruby" (W. L. Skaggs); the Windsor Mills Band Association, Windsor, Mills, under the direction of Frank Strathairn, rendered the march, "When the Moon with Glory Brightens" (Arbuckle) and the fantasia, "Bonny Scotland" (Hare); the Amateur Athletic Association Band, Asbestos, under the direction of Professor F. X. Allaire, contributed the march, "Garde du Corps" (Hall) and the overture, "Bridal Rose" (Calixa Lavallée).

The Thetford Philharmonic Society, Thetford Mines, under the direction of James R. Mole, interpreted the march, "Jean" (Leon Ringuet) and the overture "Aida" (D. Dwight McCaughey); the Border Musical Band, sponsored by the border villages of Beebe, Rock Island, Stanstead and Derby Line, under the direction of Phil J. Lecours, rendered the march, "Lenoir" (F. H. Losey) and the march and cortege from Gounod's Queen of Sheba Opera.

A program by the massed bands under the baton of Captain J. J. Gagnier, honorary president of the Association, had been planned for the evening but was curtailed by a sudden rainstorm. Instead the Canadian National Anthem by Calixa Lavallée and the marches, "Military Excelsior" (Harold Bennett) and "The National League" (Mackie-Beyer) were played.

Although the day's programme had been thoroughly enjoyed, cancellation of the evening's entertainment was a keen disappointment to thousands of people who had assembled from all parts of the country for the occasion.

The entire festival was staged in a successful manner and brought much praise to Phil J. Lecours, B.A., president of the Association, whose untiring efforts played the principal role in making the event such a success.

General Notes.

VALUE OF ADVERTISING STRESSED BY FIRM HEAD

Definite Improvement in Trade Conditions Throughout Eastern Canada Noted.

At a recent two-day convention of the Ontario and Quebec salesmen of Harold F. Ritchie & Company, Limited, who are selling agents for a number of nationally advertised lines, there was a great deal of enthusiasm expressed by both executives and salesmen regarding the definite improvement in trade conditions throughout Eastern Canada.

During the address of Mr. Hay, president of the company, he demonstrated the increased sales by comparisons with past years, and very definitely attributed these increases to the things.

First, he said, "I have never known a time when national advertising was so definitely effective as it is today," and he gave proof of this statement by pointing out that without an exception their nationally advertised lines show the greatest growth.

He emphasized the fact that the attitude of the trade has greatly changed in the last two years, and merchants have become "profit conscious" instead of "volume conscious."

He also gave credit to the policy which they have vigorously followed for the past year and a half of the stabilization of prices, which provides a fair profit to the trade, and at the same time enables all consumers to procure these nationally advertised lines at fair and uniform prices.

PREACHED ON "THE CHURCH SEDUCED"

"A pestilential heresy, as recurrent as the tides," was Rev. Dr. W. S. Lennox's characterization of the antinomianism of the Church of Pergamos, which brought down upon it the severe rebuke of Christ in His message to the seven churches of Asia. The Church of Pergamos had been a martyr church and had stood firm against persecution and coercion, but it had been seduced into the acceptance of a heresy that separated religion from morality, and had resulted in the outbreak of forms of pagan laxity and vice among the membership of the Church.

In developing his sermon on "The Church Seduced," Dr. Lennox pointed out to the union congregation, to which he was preaching yesterday morning, that this antinomian heresy is the most subtly damaging to Christianity of all the historic heresies from which it had suffered, since it disregarded or antagonized the fundamental truth that the ultimate purpose of the Gospel of Jesus is "to make good men and women."

During the service, Miss Lydia Wood, of Gould, rendered "The Holy City" as a vocal solo.

In the evening Dr. Lennox's sermon theme was "A Great Secret." The secret was Paul's secret of a contented life, the secret basing itself on the words of the great apostle in Philippians 4, verses 11 and 12, "I have learned in whatsoever state I am therewith to be content, etc." The preacher found three elements in the great secret of contentment, namely, first, Paul's conviction that happiness and contentment were not to be found in the mere externals of life, but in the soul's own attitudes; secondly, his discovery that he could carry out his great apostolic purpose of winning the souls of men for his Saviour anywhere; and thirdly, his abiding assurance that all things work together for good to those who love God.

Miss Lydia Wood was again the soloist at this evening service, singing Beethoven's "Come Unto Me." The union services for Plymouth and Trinity Churches during the week to an end with last evening's gathering, both churches resuming their normal programmes next Sunday.

MARRIAGES

AKHURST-TURNER.

The marriage of Helen Althea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Turner, of Victoria street, to Mr. Leonard Hunt, of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Akhurst, of Coaticook, was solemnized at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Rev. Allister Murray, of Sherbrooke, assisted by Rev. Albert Johnson, of Coaticook, officiated, and Miss Eleanor Wallace, also of Coaticook, presided at the organ, playing the wedding marches and continuing a soft accompaniment throughout the ceremony.

The church had been beautifully decorated by intimate friends of the bride, the color scheme being carried out in mauve and yellow with a profusion of gladioli. Two arches of feathery ferns, banked with potted palms and interspersed with blue and white flowers, were arranged at the end of the aisles, while a Union Jack hung over the center, where the bride and groom stood. Marking the pew reserved for the large number of guests were mauve and yellow gladioli tied with fluffy bows of matching tulle. The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in her bridal gown of ivory satin, fashioned simply with a long train, the semi-fitted bodice buttoned down the back, had full length sleeves ending in points over the hands, and was finished with a high neck line and braided girdle ending with rows of tiny pearls. Her long veil of ivory tulle, was made in halo effect, bound with a single row of small pearls, with clusters of orange buds on either side. Her satin sandals matched her gown and she carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and lily-of-the-valley.

The maid-of-honor, Miss Marjorie Turner, of Magog, cousin of the bride, wore a graceful floor-length dress of violet chiffon, simply made with cow neckling, shirred shoulders and butterfly sleeves, a large white picture hat trimmed with the same chiffon as her gown, white sandals and carried a colonial bouquet of sweet peas and yellow rose buds.

The bridesmaid, Miss Donna Morgan, of Hillhurst, wore a similarly fashioned dress of canary chiffon, her large picture hat being finished in the same fashion as the maid-of-honor's. She also wore white sandals and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow rose buds and mauve sweet peas.

Mr. C. A. Turner the bride's mother was becomingly gowned in navy blue Parisian lace, the long dress being made in coat effect. Her large felt hat matched her gown and she wore a corsage of red roses and lily-of-the-valley.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Elwin Akhurst, wore a lovely dress of heavenly blue chiffon, a black hat, and a corsage of violets and lily-of-the-valley. The diminutive flower girl, little Miss Hazel Shaw, of Outremont, wore an adorable Kate Greenway frock of yellow organdie edged with tiny ruffles. The ring bearer, a young girl, carried a white ribbon tied in a bow at the back and finished with a wee cluster of mauve flowers in front. Her bandeau matched her sash and was trimmed with the same small yellow and mauve flowers which fashioned her colonial nosegay.

Mr. Malcolm Turner, of Shawinigan Falls, brother of the bride acted as best man, and the ushers were, Messrs. Cecil Akhurst, brother of the groom, Gordon Beerworth, of Coaticook, Cecil Howett, of Rock Island, and Malcolm Ross, of Sherbrooke.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Victoria street, where a profusion of flowers in tall standards carried out the color scheme used in the church, the bride and groom, with their respective parents, receiving the congratulations and best wishes of their many friends, surrounded by a perfect galaxy of bloom. Refreshments were served a-la-buffet in the dining room, where the bride's table was charmingly arranged with white candles in Sheffield candlesticks and lily-of-the-valley in small silver vases. Topping the four-storied wedding cake, which formed the centerpiece, was the fourth storey of the cake used at the wedding of the bride's mother, which also adorned the wedding cake used for the fiftieth wedding anniversary of the bride's grandmother, the late Mrs. Wallace Shaw.

Included among the many telegrams and messages of congratulations received by the bride and groom, was one from Miss McDowell, of Brandon, Man., instructress at the General Hospital, in Winnipeg, who held the same office at the Sherbrooke Hospital when the bride was in training.

Later the bride and groom left by motor for Old Orchard Beach and other points on the Maine Coast. For travelling the bride chose a three-piece knitted suit in shades of roses over which she wore an English top coat of brown plaid tweed, a brown felt hat and matching accessories.

Upon their return from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Akhurst will take up residence in Coaticook. The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Akhurst, the groom's parents, Mrs. Robert Akhurst, Miss Ida Akhurst, Mr. Charles Akhurst, Mr. N. In a magazine Suzy sees a picture of Madame de Chabris with Andre and recognizes her as the woman who tried to kill Terry. She rushes to Terry to help her save Andre. They find him at the home of Madame de Chabris. When he refuses to leave, believing Suzy is merely jealous, she makes her accusation.

We have time enough to get away—but only enough." Madame de Chabris started toward the door as he kept Suzy, Terry and Andre covered. She stopped a minute, looked at Andre and laughed. "At least I'll never have to listen to your childish prattle any more—that's something." Andre, in a fury started across the room. Madame de Chabris stumbled against the butler. A shot rang out. The butler backed out after Ma-

"Terry," she said, "I don't know how it is to be done, but some way it must be done."

CHAPTER XI.

Madame de Chabris burst out laughing.

"This is better than a play or a murder mystery. Please go on." "Suzy," said Andre, "have you lost your mind to make such an accusation? And you, Terry, what do you mean?" "You can't laugh this off," said Suzy calmly to Madame de Chabris. "And I am not crazy, Andre. I know exactly what I am saying. Madame de Chabris, I have seen you twice before and on the same night. It was when you were operating in London, just before the war."

"Mistaken identity, evidently. You remember Captain Moore, I'm always thinking I've seen some one before. Madame Charville is evidently like me in that one respect. For I haven't been in England since I was a school girl."

Andre gave her a sharp look. It was a bad slip she had made; he remembered her telling him she had been walking along the Embankment when she heard the newsboys shouting of the assassination at Sarajevo. He did not speak. He was listening intently to what Suzy was saying.

"I saw you shoot Terry," Suzy went on firmly, "because you thought he knew your plans. You really needn't have done that, for he doesn't understand German. And before that, I saw you down at Schmidt's factory."

"This is too fantastic," said Madame de Chabris. "And it grows more so with every word you say. Not only have I not been in London for years, as I just told you, but until this minute I never heard of Mrs. Schmidt's factory."

"Why did you say—say—Mrs. Schmidt?" asked Suzy in an even voice. "I said—"

"We all heard what you said," said Andre. "And I think you have said enough. It is all quite clear now. It is time for us to go."

The door opened. The butler came in. "I am here, Madame. Together we will handle this little affair."

Terry made a dash for the telephone. "I wouldn't, if I were you," the butler said with a twisted smile. "I would only be a waste of time. I have cut the wires."

He raised the arm which had been behind him. He was holding a pistol. "Hurry, Diane," he commanded. "The car is ready. Our bags are in it and a hammer of food. The windows and doors are all barred, as this one will be when we have left."

"It will be when we have left."

"It will be when we have left."

"It will be when we have left."

"It will be when we have left."

"It will be when we have left."

"but I'll do my best to see it doesn't. I can't explain now—no time."

"All right," said Suzy. Just tell me what I am to do.

"Nothing but the hardest thing anyone can ever do—wait. Just stay here until I come back. And that will not be soon. You may have long hours alone. There is much I have to do."

"Very well. I will wait." "I don't know how I'll go. It has just come to me that they must have put our car out of commission, somehow. They'd not overlook that. I may have to walk. But somewhere along the way, I'll surely be able to get a lift."

He picked up Andre's cap. He came over to Suzy.

"You must be prepared for anything that may happen," he said. "I feel sure you are in no physical danger, but the mental strain—you'll have to bear that. And there is something else." He hesitated a moment. "If it is within human possibility—if it is beyond what would seem possible, I will be back. Perhaps—I won't come back. That, too, you must face. If I am not back by mid-morning—but I can't think of that. Then you'll just have to do whatever you can."

"Thank you, Terry," she said. Without another word, he ran down the stairs. When he reached the road, he found, as he had foreseen, that he could not use the car. All the tires had been slit to ribbons. One wheel was gone. There was nothing to do, then, but walk—and pray for some one to be passing on the road at that hour. For one moment he faltered. It seemed so utterly hopeless. But he could see Suzy standing there alone in the room with Andre. He had said he would try even the impossible. He knew he would not falter again.

Someway. In the dim light, he saw something leaning against a tree. If only—he hardly dared hope—the spies would never have overlooked—he walked toward it. He clasped his hand across his mouth, to stifle a shout of triumph.

It was a motor-cycle—Andre's, with his insignia on it.

(Tomorrow: Terry keeps faith with the living and the dead.)

In a West of England church the banns between two parishioners had been read for the first time. After the service the vicar was accosted by the prospective bridegroom. "Mr. Goodbody, I want to speak to 'ee about those banns. Can I 'ave 'em changed?"

"Certainly, if you wish," was the surprised reply. "You are not married yet, or legally bound in any way."

"Ah!" with a sigh of relief, "that's what I wanted to know. You see, I've been thinking, and seems to me, I'd rather have her sister."

"You can please yourself," replied the vicar. "But, of course, fresh banns must be published."

"Ah!" A pause. "Mr. Goodbody, I paid 'ee half-a-crown for putting up those banns. Shall I have to pay another half-crown?" "Of course, you will."

"Oh!" A long pause. Then, with sudden resolution, "Aw, well, leave 'em be as 'tis."

ROW OVER PRAYER IN SLACKS

Whether slacks and halter are suitable attire for prayer is the problem provoked by ejection of Rita Breen (above), 21 and convent reared, from the Roman Catholic Church in Babylon, L.L., by Father James A. Smith (inset), when he discovered her praying in beach clothes. Because she understood that Father Smith had referred to "movons and the gutter" in discussing the case, she made a futile effort to institute slander proceedings against him.

BIRD FANCIERS EXPERIENCED AN UNUSUAL EVENT

Both Fanciers Were Named Lyons and Each Captured, Banded and Released Rare Specimen of Bohemian Waxwing.

Regina, Aug. 31.—A remarkable parallel in experiences of two bird banders was recalled here when William Lyons, of Waukegan, Ill., visited with his namesake, George Lyons.

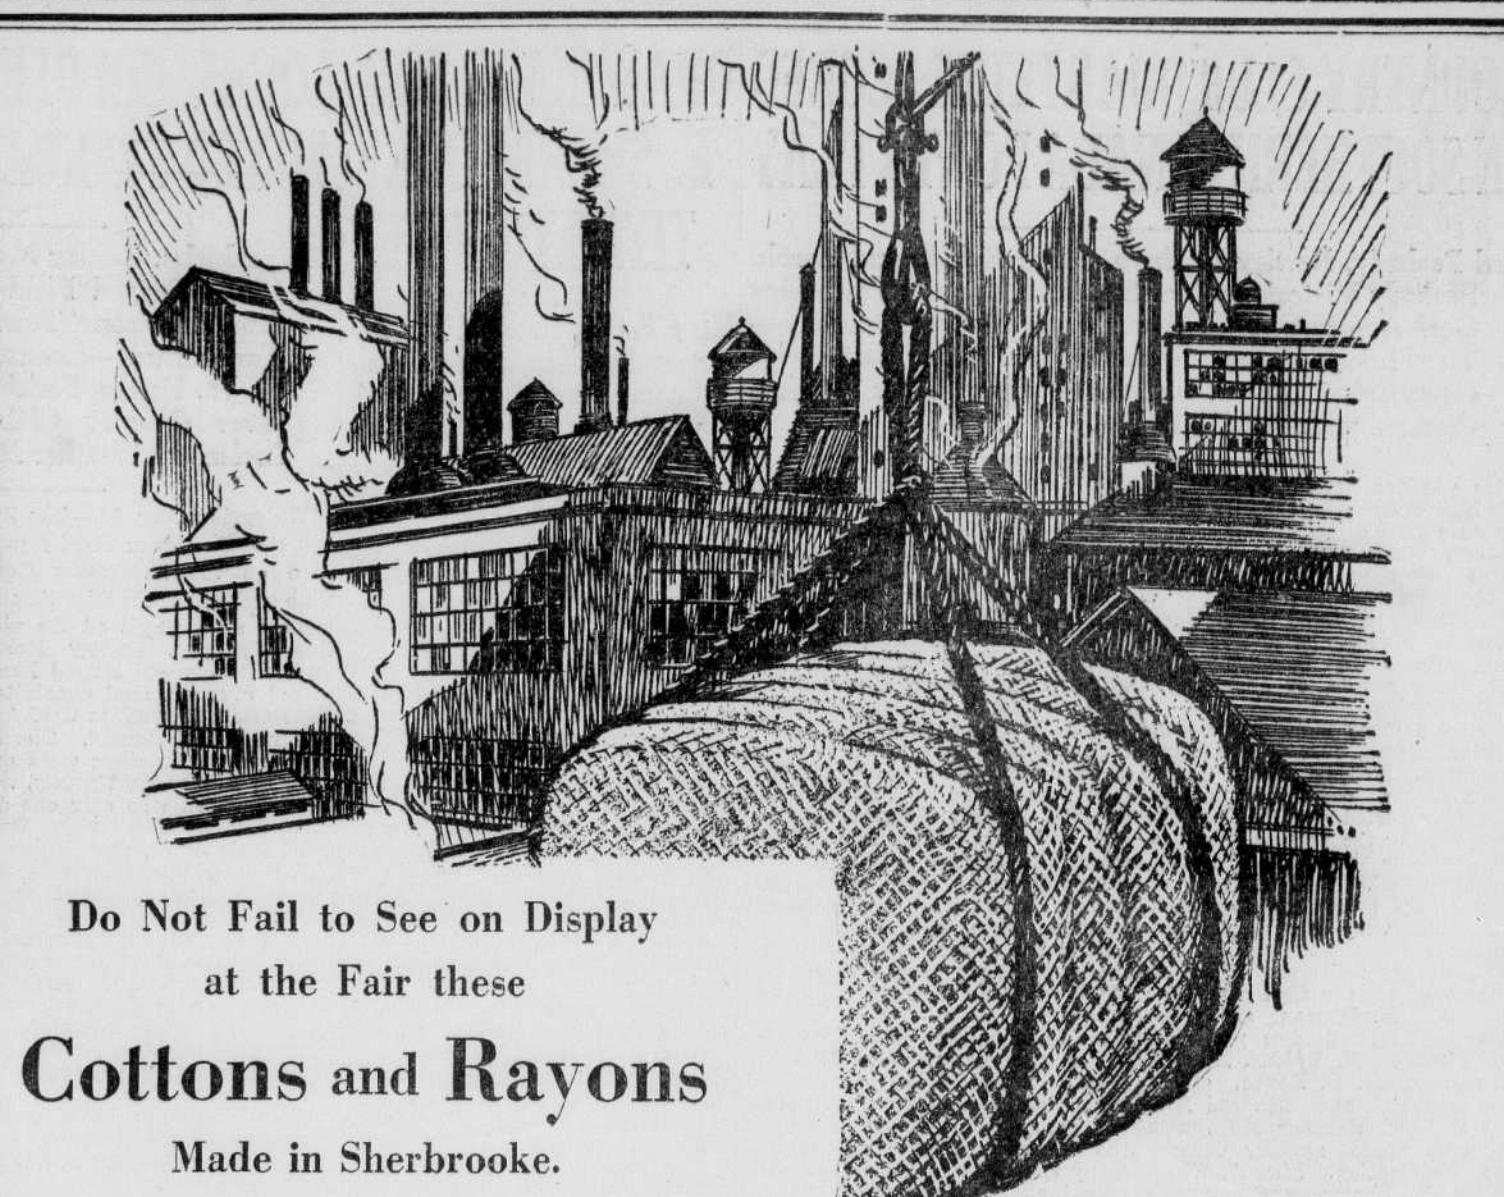

Both are bird fanciers. William Lyons captured, banded and released a rare specimen of Bohemian Waxwing. In the Saskatchewan capital twenty-two days later, George Lyons caught the same bird in one of his traps 1,100 miles away.

William Lyons is president of the Inland Bird Banding Association. Letters were exchanged with his namesake over the interesting incident when he visited here while on a tour of the west. He is working with the Dominion Government in a campaign to band all types of birds. Aim of the United States and Dominion governments, he explained, is to band 2,000,000 birds of all types. The territory to be covered extends from the North Pole to the Gulf of Mexico. Bird banders on the continent number less than 2,000. Only three per cent of banded birds are ever heard from, but from this small percentage Mr. Lyons revealed many interesting educational facts are learned. Many types of birds travel more than 10,000 miles between northern nesting grounds and southern winter homes.

The Arctic Tern breeds in the far north and winters in the southernmost areas of the Antarctic circle. Myriads of birds are lost during migration, many at sea. Others die in lonely wastes or are shot down.

Mr. Lyons has banded more than 65,000 birds. His five-acre sanctuary provides only the best natural features. The best trap is laid in a ravine through which a stream runs. Birds on their way upstream enter a "tangle" with a concealed wire netting overhead with openings into cages along its side.

When the bird realizes it is trapped it instantly makes for an opening. This leads into the cage where it is banded and later released. A true understanding of methods employed by bird banders would bring the realization, they are bird lovers of the first magnitude.

DOES HIGHLAND FLING AT 72
 Old Lady Tells Secret of Her Vigor

The writer of the following letter once suffered from rheumatism, headaches, and depression. Then one day a vigorous old lady told her the secret of good health. And now that former sufferer writes to tell others how she obtained relief through Kruschen:—

"Kruschen was recommended to me by an old lady of seventy-two who can dance the Highland Fling—thanks to Kruschen, which she has used for thirty years. She told me to take Kruschen Salts to try and relieve a dull heavy headache from which I suffered nearly every morning on wakening. I was also troubled with rheumatism in both shoulders. Kruschen turned the trick. The headache disappeared and so did the rheumatism. I have continued taking Kruschen and intend to keep it up."—(Mrs. F.B.W.)

Kruschen is a combination of mineral salts which assist in stimulating your liver, kidneys and digestive tract to healthy, regular activity. They ensure internal cleanliness, and thus help to keep the blood-stream pure.

COUNTRY CLUB QUARTETTE SCORED IN SOUTHERN CANADA POWER PLAY

Earl Peabody, Bartley Holtham, Philip Robins and Harold Peabody Victorious Over Six Rival Eastern Townships Golf Association Clubs at Waterville on Saturday—Third Local Triumph Resulted After Close Battle with Cowansville Representatives—Only Four Players Credited with All Six Points.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartley N. Holtham, of the Sherbrooke Country Club, topped a field of thirty-two entries yesterday afternoon in the first annual Eastern Townships mixed two-ball foursome tournament. The local couple negotiated the eighteen holes in eighty-nine to lead their nearest rivals, Miss Caroline Taylor and Henry Fowles, of Lennoxville, by five strokes.

At the halfway mark of the competition, played over the Country Club links, Mr. and Mrs. Holtham established a one-stroke margin when they posted a score of forty-four. Trailing the pre-setters by a single stroke were Miss N. MacDonald and G. G. MacDonald, of Granby, while another stroke further back were Miss Taylor and Fowles.

LOCAL COUPLE WERE VICTORS IN MIXED TWO-BALL FOURSOME EVENT

Mr. and Mrs. Bartley N. Holtham, of Sherbrooke Country Club, Topped Field of Thirty-Two Entries in First Annual Eastern Townships Mixed Two-Ball Foursome Tournament—Lennoxville Pair, Miss C. Taylor and H. G. W. Fowles, Finished Second in Competition Staged Over Country Club Links Yesterday Afternoon—Inclement Weather Marred Afternoon's Play.

Waterville, Aug. 31.—The Southern Canada Power Trophy will repose on the Sherbrooke Country Club shelves for the third time in its history as a result of the victory of Earl Peabody, Bartley Holtham, Philip Robins and Harold Peabody over six rival quartettes of the Eastern Townships Golf Association here on Saturday.

The Southern Canada competition is played under Lesley Cup rules. Each club enters a team of four and the morning is devoted to two-ball foursomes with the two first men of each team competing against the two first men of every other team.

Earl Peabody and Holtham, playing first for the Country Club, won all six of their matches, while Robins and Harold Peabody, playing second, captured four contests, halved one and lost one for a score of four and a half points.

The competition between the Country Club, Granby and Lennoxville was particularly keen, each club having held the Southern Canada Trophy on two occasions. The winning shotmakers, however, were in fine form and had enough to turn back Cowansville's challenge for its first triumph in this competition.

Waterville course was in excellent condition for the day's play, the local directors having spared no effort to make the day successful. In their desire to have the course in splendid shape, however, local officials overlooked providing good weather for the morning's two-ball foursomes which were played in a steady downpour.

Only four players, Roland Braut, playing first for Cowansville; Holtham, playing second for the winners; Lewis Stockard, playing third for Granby, and Harold Peabody, playing fourth for the Country Club, were credited with the full quota of six points.

Details of the day's play is as follows:

GIANTS SCORED DOUBLE-HEADER WIN OVER CUBS

Hubbell's Pitching and Ott's Stick Work Account for Twin Victories Over Chicago and Stretched New York's Lead Over Cardinals to Four Full Games.

The way things shape up now, those red-hot New York Giants are in a nice spot to ride into the National League pennant on Carl "Screwball" Hubbell's pitching arm, Mel "Little Feller" Ott's bat and the breaks. Anyway, Bill Terry's troupe is sporting a four-game lead over the second-place St. Louis Cardinals today because of those factors, while the Chicago Cubs are nursing a lot of sore spots down in the ninth inning to turn what seemed certain defeat into an eight to six New York triumph over Larry French.

In fashioning his tenth straight triumph Hubbell did everything but earn a shutout. For eight innings he gave up four singles, all in different frames, but in the ninth chapter three singles produced the lone Chicago tally. In the curtain raiser Jimmy Ripple, formerly with the Montreal Royals and now in centre field for the Giants, collected a single and a double to stretch his consecutive hitting streak to seventeen games.

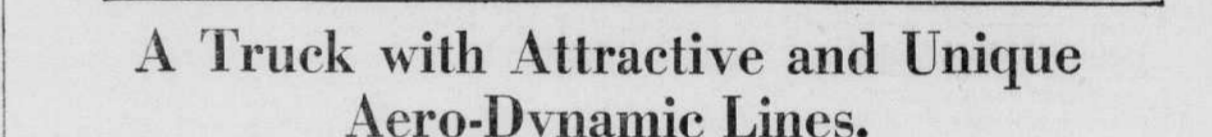

For eight innings of the nightcap young Bill Cavaretta was the hero of the throng of 45,011. He belted Hal Schumacher, New York's starting hurler, for two circuit clouts, but along came Ott to snatch the glory and wreck French's bid for his seventeenth victory.

This double defeat dropped the Cubs out of the runner-up berth and pulled the Cardinals into the No. 2 spot. The "Gas-house Gang," with "Dizzy" Dean, as usual, gangster No. 1, clubbed the Brooklyn Dodgers by six to three in the opener of the bargain bill, while Van Mungo allowed seven safeties in the thirteen-inning nightcap for a two to one decision. A misjudged fly by "Chick" Fullis allowed George Watkins' blow to go for three bases and drive in Buddy Hassett with the winning run of the second fixture after Dean had recorded his twenty-second victory of the year and his seventh in succession.

The New York Yankees just about nailed the American League pennant to their mast by taking the Chicago White Sox in both ends of a double-header by scores of eight to one and four to one. "Bump" Hadley, the league's leading pitcher, gave up seven hits for his twelfth victory of the campaign in the opener and Monte Pearson scored his seventeenth win in the nightcap although both he and Vernos Kennedy pitched three-hit ball.

Since the Boston Red Sox snapped out of their slump and nosed out the second-place Cleveland Indians in both games of their double bill, the Yankees' twin win boosted them sixteen full games in front of the pack and from here on in they have to play less than .500 ball. Was

HIBBARD BOYS AGAIN ANNEXED DOUBLES TITLE

Ashley and John Hibbard Won Third Straight E.T. Men's Doubles Tennis Title Yesterday, Downing Sarto Roy and Claude Bertrand by 4-6, 11-9, 6-1, 6-4.

The men's doubles combination that can take the name of Ashley and John Hibbard has yet to appear on the Eastern Townships amateur tennis championship horizon. For the past three years the Hibbard brothers have reigned supreme over this phase of competition in the annual title classic and yesterday they retired from further competition the trophy emblematic of doubles supremacy when they registered a 4-6, 11-9, 6-1, 6-4 triumph over Sarto Roy and Claude Bertrand.

The match was staged yesterday at the Sherbrooke Country Club and for a while it looked as though the title defenders would be content with 1936 runner-up honors. In the earlier stages of the contest, particularly in the first set, Roy and Bertrand set a wicket pace and appeared well on their way to usurping the Hibbard throne. They played sparkling tennis from the opening and were one set up a short while after play started.

It was not until the sixth game of the marathon second set that the Hibbards started their noted comeback. With the count four to one against them the Irish boys pulled up to within one game of the Roy-Bertrand total and then forged to the front at six-five after their opponents had assumed a temporary five-three advantage. The lead seemed several times from that point until the rest interval, the champions holding set-point five times in the eighteenth game only to have their French-Canadian rivals square matters at nine-all. In the last two games of this set, however, the Hibbards only allowed their opponents five points as they evened the match at one-set all.

After the ten-minute rest intermission the trend of play was all in favor of the title holders. They took six straight games after Roy and Bertrand had annexed the first contest of the third set and then rallied from behind a four-two deficit to win four games in a row for the set, match and championship. Spectacular driving, with which Roy and Bertrand could not cope, featured the Hibbards' attack in the last two sets.

and lost six. Roy ranked fourth in this department, losing seven of his dozen sets. Doubles faults were committed nine times, Bertrand being responsible for four, Roy for three and Johnny Hibbard for the other two, while no service aces were recorded.

Eight of the forty-seven games went to deuce, seven of these occurring in the long-drawn second set. The champions won four fixtures without dropping a single point, allowed their opponents only one point in ten other contests and yielded two points in eleven other tilts. Roy and Bertrand captured one game at love, six with the loss of one point and seven with the loss of two points.

In their march to their third straight doubles championship the Hibbard boys downed Earl Douglas and Willis Kirby by 6-2, 6-1, Rosaire Hubert and Charles Larose, Waterloo, by 6-4, 6-1, and Fabre Surveyer and Bill Beck in the semi-final by 2-6, 2-5, 6-3, 6-3. To reach the final Roy and Bertrand downed Lucien Goyette and Henry Goyette by 7-5, 7-5; Hector Prefontaine and Ivan Boisvert by 6-1, 6-2, and Connie and Marcel Gregoire in the semi-final by 4-6, 8-6, 7-5, 6-4.

The semi-final in men's singles will be staged at the Country Club at five o'clock this afternoon. Roy facing Surveyer, while the final will start at the same time and also tomorrow afternoon, Johnny Hibbard meeting the survivor of today's encounter.

OWENS STARTS CAREER AS PROFESSIONAL DANCER

Columbus, O., Aug. 31.—From a springy cinder track, J. C. "Jesse" Owens, the preceding sepien who brought four Olympic gold medals back to the United States, started today for the glare of the footlights—as a professional entertainer. The dusky thunderbolt decided on Saturday to shelve his spike shoes. In their place he will don the clicking pates of a tap dancer, but Jesse's amateur athletic standing will not be jeopardized. Larry Snyder, the Ohio State University track coach who piloted Owens through his Olympic triumphs, said the Cleveland negro would drop out of school indefinitely for screen and stage appearances. "Jesse is building up for the future," Snyder said. "He's hopeful of making a good bit of money out of this venture to guard and protect him in later life. "This becoming a professional entertainer does not mean that his days as an amateur athlete are over. He's not going to get money for his running or track work but as an entertainer."

Possibility of a return match between Louis and Schmeling was enhanced when, just before the Brown Bomber defeated Jack Sharkey, Joe Gould, manager of Champion Jimmy Braddock, asked the New York Boxing Commission to postpone the September title bout between his charge and the German. Gould stated that the champion's leg and had been injured and that an operation would have to be performed to correct it. Here Gould, right, is displaying an X-ray photo of Jimmy's hands to Braddock, left, and Schmeling.

KADIS BLANKED DRUMMONDVILLE WITH TWO HITS

Sherbrooke-Notre Dame's South-paw Ace Recorded Second Two-Hit Performance within a Week to Give Team Five to Nothing Triumph.

Drummondville Aug. 31.—"Lefty" Kadis and the Sherbrooke-Notre Dame aggregating ended their Provincial Baseball League season in a blaze of glory yesterday when they avenged the shutout they suffered at the hands of Connie Girouard last month. Kadis hurled his second two-hit game within a week and his team-mates supported him with the willow as the visitors manufactured a five to nothing triumph. The triumph was the Sherbrooke squad's tenth victory of the season and left them three games behind the Black Panthers, who occupy the fourth play-off berth.

Local fans were jubilant when Girouard recorded his no-run, no-hit performance of six weeks ago. They were almost as pleased yesterday as they watched another spectacular exhibition of twirling with Kadis mowing down his opposition with reckless abandon. Only Veach and Devenuti were able to solve the Sherbrooke southpaw's deliveries and the best they could get were widely separated singles.

The game was in the Sherbrooke hands as early as the third inning. In this frame Kadis started the four-run rally on Veach with a single. Luke Roy walked and Kadis registered on Amedee Roy's fielder's choice. The two Roy brothers crossed the plate on a hit and run play by Jack Harris, which the Drummondville centre fielder fumbled momentarily, while Jack Sweeney drove Harris home.

A single Sherbrooke runner circled the bases in the seventh frame when Luke Roy singled and advanced to second on a hit and run play which went awry. Harris, however, came through with his second single to bring the younger Roy home. Harris paced the seven-hit attack on Veach with two singles, while Kadis, L. Roy, Stan Stuka, Sweeney and Harry Trotter collected the other safeties. Girouard pitched the last two innings for the homesters and allowed no hits. The only other game on yesterday's programme resulted in Granby defeating Sorel by three to nothing on the latter squad's diamond. Both Flynn and Sterling yielded seven hits, Granby scoring single markers in the first, sixth and ninth chapters. The score by innings in these two fixtures follows:

CAPELTON DEFEATED EAST ANGLUS IN FIRST GAME

East Anglus, Aug. 31.—Capelton started defence of its provincial intermediate baseball championship yesterday by coming from behind to score a five to three victory over East Anglus in the first contest of a series sponsored by the Provincial Amateur Baseball Association. Trailing by three to one going into the eighth inning the champions of the Eastern Townships Intermediate League staged a three-run rally to put the game on ice and produced a single point in the final frame.

Joe Daudelin limited the Compton County League title holders to four hits, while the visitors collected a dozen safeties off Dionne's deliveries.
