World News In Brief

London, June 13.—(C.P.)—Foreign Secretary Bevin today, describing State Secretary Marshall's aid-for-Europe plan as "a bridge to link the east and west," told a luncheon of the Foreign Press Association "we are glad to know that misunderstanding has been removed by including Russia in the American proposals."

Bevin, describing Marshall's Harvard address as one that "may well rank as one of the greatest speeches in world history," declared:

"As was the case when the U.S. proposed a four-power treaty for Europe, it seems to me that the great, new and wonderful country has acted in the most unselfish manner in its endeavor to unite great capacity to save Europe from another ruin and to rehabilitate it as urgently as possible."

Fort William, June 13.—(C.P.)—Favorable weather today aided timber companies of the Thunder Bay district in efforts to round up pulpwood worth an estimated $1,000,000 which drifted into Lake Superior after Heron Bay booms broke under the lash of a heavy storm.

A downpour of cloudburst proportions loosed the logs from Heron Bay, 130 miles east of here, isolated at least six bush camps and flooded woods roads.

An estimated 50,000 cords of timber rolled into Lake Superior, where a fleet of eight tugs now is stringing out booms with which to enclose it.

St. Hyacinthe, Que., June 13.—(C.P.)—The cases of Peter Stepanoff, Leopold Lambert and Paul Neil of the Lambert, charged in connection with theft of $90,000 from the Theo Phenix Company here more than a month ago, are scheduled to come up at the Criminal Assizes opening here June 19. Mr. Justice Alfred Durneau of the Superior Court will preside.

St. Louis, June 13.—(A.P.)—A strike of street car operators and bus drivers tied up public transportation today in the St. Louis area of more than 1,000,000 population. The action followed a strike vote taken at a union meeting early today.

May Question Legality Of Riel Hanging

By NORMAN ALSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Regina, June 13.—(A.P.)—The question of the legality of the 1885 hanging of Louis Riel was raised today and historians saw the possibility of an attempt to clear the firebrand leader of the Western Canada "rebels" of 1870 and 1885, of a charge of high treason. But Zachary M. Hamilton, 60-year-old president of the Saskatchewan Historical Society and a recognized authority on Riel's life and times, saw also the chance that if Riel were cleared of the treason charge, the cry might be raised that he had been "waging war" against a friendly country.

And that would never do, for it had been held that the Meisner fur trapper of his own heritage led by Riel—described by

New Weapon Developed In N.Z. As Powerful As A-Bomb

Auckland, N.Z., June 13.—(A.P.)—New Zealanders speculated today on the nature of a new weapon—approaching the atom bomb in importance, but cheaper—which the New Zealand Herald described as a joint development of scientists from New Zealand, Great Britain and the United States.

Prof. David James Leech, said to be a leader in co-ordination and development of research on the project, was made a companion of the Order of the British Empire in the Royal Birthday Honors announced this week in London.

The Herald said its source of information about the new weapon was most reliable, but could not be disclosed.

(In London, all government departments gave a blanket "no comment" response to inquiries about the reported new weapon.)

The report said the project is being pursued under the strictest secrecy by scientists in the three countries.

"Had the project been completed in time, it might have played a role as effective as the atom bomb

Average Hungarian Citizen Will Not Learn Of Bitter Attack On Communist Rule

Soviet Purge Resisted By Petkov Group

Sofia, Bulgaria, June 13.—(A.P.)—The Communists extended their purge in Bulgaria today with the ousting from the National Assembly of 23 Opposition Agrarians on charges that the legislators were "tools" of the jailed Nikola Petkov, Agrarian Party general secretary.

The basis of the action by the Communist-dominated parliament was the alleged discovery by government investigators of signed resignations by the 23 among Petkov's private papers. Pro-government members asserted that the 23 thus had resigned "voluntarily," but the ousted legislators said the resignations were routine party practice. They added defiantly, "We do not resign."

The 23 legislators were regarded as among the most active in the ranks of the opposition party headed by Petkov, arrested last week on charges of plotting against the Senate.

Petkov's arrest was denounced Wednesday by the United States State Department in a statement which lauded him as a foremost advocate of civil liberties in Bulgaria.

A resolution adopted by the assembly, in which the Communist-dominated Fatherland Front Party has an overwhelming majority, declaring that owing to the resignations found in Petkov's papers the ousted legislators had "lost quality and prestige and are no longer members of the Grand National Assembly."

Under Bulgarian parliamentary rules the 23 ousted legislators must be replaced by 23 others from the same opposition party.

Petkov's Agrarians have been outspoken opponents of the Communist-dominated Fatherland Front.

Central Gang Suspected In Bank Theft

Welland, Ont., June 13.—(C.P.)—Suggestion that "specialist crews" from a central gang may have been responsible for yesterday's bank hold-up at Fenwick, and for attempts on two banks at Alisa Craig and Watford last Saturday morning, were heard today. A trio of armed bandits entered the Royal Bank branch at Fenwick near here at closing time yesterday and escaped with an estimated $8,000, after forcing Manager George Hannah to open the vault while two other bank employees and a customer were taken to the rear room.

Estimates of the loot taken varied widely in absence of an official statement, one earlier report putting the total at $13,000, but it seemed generally agreed that $8,000 was the closest figure.

Suggestion of a sort of central command for bank hold-up gangs came from London, where police are still probing the burglary attempt on the Alisa Craig bank in the early hours of Saturday when the watchman, Sydney Hall, was killed in a blazing gun duel with the intruders.

There was no hint of the nature of the project.

Scientists were reported thoroughly examining all possibilities. They were said to have exchanged ideas and information. So far as is known, no details of the project have been revealed to countries other than New Zealand, Britain and the United States.

The Herald said it learned development of the project to the stage of practical application would cost much less than the development of atomic energy production. However, the project was understood to be too complex for a small country like New Zealand to carry out the development unaided.

"Without discounting the effectiveness of the project as an offensive weapon, it does not offer such a threat to world peace as the atom bomb," the Herald said. "This may not be amplified further than by saying that things

Deszo Sulyok's Defiant Challenge Of New Red-Dominated Government No Indication Hungary's New Regime Permits Freedom Of Speech—Declares Hungary Is Now "Police State."

Budapest, June 13.—(A.P.)—Hungarian newspaper men said there was little likelihood that the average Hungarian citizen would learn through the press today that a bitter denunciation of the new communist-dominated government was made yesterday in Parliament.

The fact that Deszo Sulyok, leader of the Freedom Party, defiantly challenged the new government and charged it with instituting a reign of political terror was no indication, the journalists said, that Hungary's new regime permitted freedom of speech.

It seemed fairly certain that newspapers would not be allowed to publish Sulyok's remarks and that only such outsiders as were in the visitors' gallery yesterday would know exactly what Sulyok said.

Sulyok, leader of the small Freedom Party, braved Communist displeasure with a bitter attack on the new government in a tumultuous National Assembly debate, during which he cried that "the wildest and most objectionable political terror reigns in Hungary."

The speech caused so much uproar, jeering and angry shouting from Communists that at its end Deputy Speaker Istvan Kossa, a

NAGY EN ROUTE TO U.S.
Geneva, June 13.—(A.P.)—Airport employees said today that Ferenc Nagy, deposed Premier of Hungary, had taken a plane for the United States.

Aladar Szegedy-Maszak, Hungarian Minister to the United States under Nagy, said in Washington last night he assumed Nagy would want to visit the United States "to draw the attention of the American public" to recent events in Hungary, where he was ousted by a Communist coup d'etat.

Communist, arbitrarily adjourned the assembly until next Wednesday. Adjournment came without the assembly acting on a scheduled vote of confidence for Premier Lajos Dinnyes' new government, organized after the ouster of Ferenc Nagy.

The adjournment apparently prevented other opposition speakers from speaking against the pro-Communist government.

In his impassioned speech, Sulyok said he broke up opposition political meetings, and that a "spy" had tried to frame him for offering to get money for him from the Americans.

He said Hungarian democracy was a "puppet whose heart has been stolen," and that Hungary now was a "police state" and was regarded by western powers as a "Soviet satellite."

The former member of the Small Landholder party of Nagy, Sulyok was "purged" by the Communists in November, 1945, when they obliged him to resign from the party because of charges that he was a "reactionary."

He became editor of the Freedom Party newspaper Holnap, which closed after 11 days because Communist printers refused to set type criticizing the Communist party. Sulyok told the assembly

British-U.S. Zone Fusion Is Attacked

Berlin, June 13.—(Reuters)—The economic fusion of the British and American zones of occupation in Germany has been under heavy fire from the press of the communist-sponsored Socialist Unity Party and the Berlin trade unions.

The argument is that the bi-zonal scheme is a failure because after six months there is no sign of the increase in rationing which the British and American officials predicted would accrue from the merger.

This appeals to readers who recall that a breakdown of the rationing system followed by a few months the link-up of the British-occupied areas with the granary of Bavaria administered by the United States. The average German is inclined to see cause and effect in the fusion and the city in calories.

Besides all this, the papers go on to more positive criticism—that fusion has, in fact, already accomplished the splitting of Germany.

This argument ignores the British and American view that the merger was to be the forerunner of a larger unity, embracing all Germany, in accordance with the terms of the Potsdam declaration that during the period of occupation Germany shall be treated as an economic unit.

P.C. Leaders Attend Rally At Montreal

John Bracken Among Those Present at Convention Designed to Revitalize Party in Quebec Province.

Montreal, June 13.—(C.P.)—Progressive-Conservatives of Quebec Province met today in convention, a meeting designed to revitalize the party in Quebec. The convention, attended by party leaders, including national leader John Bracken, will conclude tomorrow.

E.T. DELEGATES TO CONVENTION
Among the Eastern Township representatives to the Progressive Conservative convention being held in Montreal are George Sylvestre, president of the Sherbrooke County Progressive Conservative Association, John Bassett, Jr., and Adolph Beare, of Sherbrooke; Lee Watson, from Lennoxville; R. A. Marcotte and Gilles Marcotte and Lorenzo Michaud, from Richmond; John T. Hackett, K.C., M.P. for Stanstead; and Al- den Rousseau, mayor of East Angus.

"This convention is but the commencement of a full-scale organization drive by the Progressive Conservative Party in the Province of Quebec," declared R. A. Bell, national director of the party, speaking to the meeting soon after it opened.

"During the last year we have made progress," he said. "But it is just a start. We shall go much further in the next year. The power, the understanding, the full co-operation of the party from coast to coast, I now pledge to you, the workers in the cause of Progressive-Conservatism in the Province of Quebec."

No party was competent to govern Canada unless it had full representation of all provinces and the two great races of the Dominion. Under the leadership of Mr. Bracken, the party would be restored to its true greatness, said Mr. Bell.

He made the suggestion after being asked by William K. Andrews, assistant chief of the C.A.B.'s Accident Investigation Division, if he had any recommendations for measures to prevent similar tragedies.

Pilot Recommends Longer Runways

New York, June 13.—(A.P.)—Capt. Benton (Lucky) Baldwin, pilot of the United States Air Lines' DC-4 which crashed May 29 at LaGuardia Field causing 42 deaths, testified at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing yesterday he believed the field should have longer runways.

He made the suggestion after being asked by William K. Andrews, assistant chief of the C.A.B.'s Accident Investigation Division, if he had any recommendations for measures to prevent similar tragedies.

Concerning "the much-discussed 2 per cent sales tax to increase Sherbrooke's finances—which I do not think are in a very bad condition," Alderman Bishop had this to say:

"While the council is spending considerable money on capital expenditures—buying real estate for the improvement of traffic conditions, parks and so forth, the actual operation of maintenance and protection which has been augmented during the last few years to the higher cost of wages and the upkeep of machinery, together with the operation of the police and fire departments—up to the present time our budgets have all been met with a substantial surplus each year.

"Should we, in the near future, need additional revenue to meet our annual budget, as far as I am concerned it will not be gained by imposing a two per cent sales tax. There are other ways of increasing our revenue and the sooner we begin to study these approaches the better."

"Should the mayor and aldermen see fit to use the expense or

Small-Power Criticism Of Big-5 Failure Is Expected

Lake Success, N.Y., June 13.—(A.P.)—A small-power blast against the Big Five's failure to break a 60 day deadlock between the United States and Russia on a basic working plan for world disarmament was expected today.

There were indications that Australia would launch the attack on the five major powers when the United Nations Commission on Conventional Armaments goes into session at 11 a.m. EDT.

The Big Five was given the task of reconciling Russian and American views on disarmament principles last April but reported back to the commission a week ago that it had failed.

The major powers were deputized as a special sub-commission to work out the differences because their concurrence is a prerequisite to any settlement of the arms question.

But in taking this course the commission set a U.N. precedent, for the small powers were not con-

New Quebec Archbishop Says Goodwill By All Nations Is Essential To World Peace

Three Rivers, June 13.—(C.P.)—Youthful Msgr. Maurice Roy, newly-appointed Archbishop of Quebec, today combined an appeal for better understanding on the home front with a warning that world peace could not be achieved unless goodwill was shown by all nations.

The 42-year-old prelate made the statement in an interview with the Montreal Herald—the first since his appointment—on the occasion of the 20th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

Dark-haired Msgr. Roy admitted candidly that the tasks placed on his shoulders since his return from overseas where he was a padre have been "distressing," and that he misses his former theological work "where I could be with my books."

The Archbishop was reluctant to discuss questions which have political aspects, but agreed to give his personal opinions on topics ranging from Canadian unity to world peace.

"As a Roman Catholic," he said, "I have a most ardent desire to achieve unity, not only with Catholics but with Protestants, with whom I got along very well in the army."

He recalled that he had met "men from all provinces, all professions, all walks of life and all religions," while overseas, first as chaplain of the famous Royal 22nd Regiment and later as senior Catholic chaplain of the First Canadian Army.

Paris, June 13.—(Reuters)—The strike-weary people of France faced fresh trouble today, 24 hours after the national railway stoppage ended, when municipal employees, including street cleaners, came out on a 24-hour "warning" strike.

Subway and bus services were not affected, and vital services, such as fire-fighting and water supply, kept going.

The stoppage affected undertakers and hospital workers other than medical staff. The Federation of Public Employees to draw the government's attention to their claims for wage increases.

Although the strike was called on a national basis, public employees in Calais and Angers voted against it and continued work. At Cannes the strike lasted only two hours.

The Public Employees' Federation declared that they were acting only "as a warning to the public authorities" and that they demanded "only the opening of talks" on wage scales.

Meanwhile railway authorities were dealing with a heavy rush of passengers today, the first full day of normal services after the five-day strike.

European Revival Plans Discussed

Washington, June 13.—(A.P.)—The British Embassy has opened talks with the State Department to learn how to implement State Secretary Marshall's call for a joint European Revival program.

Diplomatic authorities who reported this today said the embassy officials are seeking clarification of a number of Marshall's suggestions before deciding whether to urge London to take the initiative in getting the European countries to get together.

These authorities said the United States is looking to Britain to start the program rolling but has no intention of dictating what the next steps should be.

16,000 Back At Work In Auto Plants

Labor Scene in United States Takes on Brighter Aspect as Strike Settlements Are Effectuated.

Detroit, June 13.—(A.P.)—The labor scene in the United States automobile industry took on a brighter aspect today with settlement of strikes that had made 16,000 workers idle, and announcement of a new wage agreement.

Three developments in quick succession yesterday brought automobile manufacturers close to general labor peace.

The Hudson Motor Car Company set up production lines again after a two-day halt, announcing it had reached a "basis of settlement" with the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) on demands of 600 clerical employees whose picket lines had kept 15,000 production workers out of the plant.

Hudson's statement came after a Packard Motor Car Company announcement that it had granted its 8,000 U.M.W. workers a flat 15-cent hourly increase in return for the union's agreement to dismiss back pay claims of $45,000,000.

Earlier the U.A.W. workers in the Continental Motors Corporation Detroit plant ended their one-day sitdown strike.

Only one dispute—a continued strike of 3,800 Ford Motor Company foremen—clouded the labor picture.

The U.A.W.'s Local 889, representing the Hudson "white collar" workers, agreed to resume negotiations on a new contract with management officials after the start of production today, Hudson said in its brief announcement.

The company's disciplinary action against several employees following what it termed a union move to influence contract negotiations brought on the office workers' walkout. A similar situation precipitated the Continental tie-up.

The two-year contract between Packard and its UAW workers broke away from the pattern of wage agreements—an 11½-cent basic pay boost plus six paid holidays—that has been established this year within the automobile industry.

Opponents Attack Seaway Proposal

Washington, June 13.—(A.P.)—Determined opponents of the St. Lawrence Seaway yesterday ended arguments that construction of the controversial international waterway is not justified.

Some, testifying before a Senate Foreign Relations sub-committee at the end of a two-day hearing, said the seaway would be a "waste of money."

Others said it could not be made self-sustaining through imposition of tolls—that the volume of potential traffic would not be large enough—and its value to United States defence would be doubtful.

MOE'S RIVER MAN DROWNED

Moer's River, June 13.—(A.P.)—The body of Howard Luce, aged 43 years, a local resident, was recovered from Moer's River this morning, after he had been missing from the house for a period of about three hours. No inquest has yet been held.

Luce is survived by a widow and two children.

New Link Welded In Bonds Of Canadian-US Friendship

Aboard the Presidential Special En Route to Washington, June 13.—President Truman rolled swiftly toward the White House in Washington today, his Canadian "good neighbor" visit ended and a new link welded in the traditional bonds of Canadian-American friendship.

The three-day visit of the President and Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, to Ottawa was a triumph in friendship-making. This morning the Trumans were to take their last steps on Canadian soil this trip, leaving their special train at Niagara Falls, Ont., for a ten-minute auto trip and a close view of the scenic water wonder of the unguarded U.S.-Canadian border.

Vasquez Alexander, Governor-General, and Viscountess Alexander, whose guest he was at Government House for part of his stay, Prime Minister Mackenzie King and many others bid the Trumans goodbye.

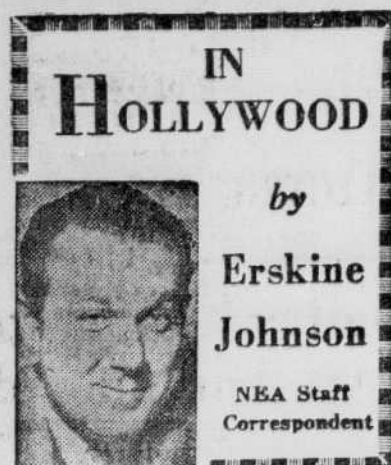

Before he left Ottawa the President disclosed he had asked Mr. King to come to Washington soon and that the Prime Minister had said he hoped he could.

The crowd's cheers rolled over the departure scene lit by the flash bulbs of photographers getting final pictures. Red-coated Mounties were there by the score and the President shook hands with a whole line of them before stepping aboard.

Mr. Truman's only formal address was to the joint session of Parliament Wednesday but yesterday when he motored to the elite Seignior Club near Montebello, Que., he gathered reporters around him and told them that the one, over-riding aim of the United States was peace and friendship with every nation in the world and said they could "emphasize the word 'every'."

He said the one object of his visits to Mexico and to Canada had been to solidify the friendship of the peoples of the North American continent. The United States wanted to do that for the whole world. Otherwise all the men who died in the two World Wars would have died in vain.

'SKIRTS LONGER—HATS SEXIER'

Hollywood, June 13.—Walter Florell, the mad milliner of movie stars and New York socialites, took off a sheared beaver coat, laboriously waved a slim hand weighted down with a 38-carat diamond ring, and predicted that milady's hats will be "sexier" this fall.

They have to be, Walter said, because skirts are getting longer.

"The men won't be looking at legs this fall. They'll be looking at hats. And the hats will have to carry all the sex appeal."

The Florell contribution to the

'47 sex appeal atop milady's head: A group of 12 hats, along with two score others, which he introduced to Hollywood at a fashion show, Florell's subtle name for the group: "Bedtime Stories." His not so subtle individual names for the hats: Henry, Charles, Bill, Walter, Tom, Dick, Harry, etc.

Walter Florell is a character. A former ballet dancer, he made a fortune designing mad hats priced as high as $350 and spent a good share of his profits on diamonds.

THE HUSBANDS' SHRINE

The 38-carat boulder he's wearing on this trip to Hollywood is his latest acquisition. It's only two carats less than the famous Hope diamond.

"It's really nothing," he said. "It's just a little shrine built for me by the husbands of America. They eventually pay for all my hats."

But, men, Walter is on our side. He said the price of milady's hats is much too high. Then he ducked behind his 38-carat diamond ring and said, "I've already cut my prices. My $75 hat is now only $72.50. I just can't design a hat for less than that. I'd rather be a dish washer."

Shirley Temple was photographed wearing a Florell hat for a recent magazine cover. Florell is still chuckling about that.

"After the photograph was made, the magazine wired me for the name of the hat. I looked it up and almost fainted. The name of the hat was Juvenile Delinquency. I knew I had to do something quick. So I changed the name of the hat to 'Frangene'."

TEN BEST—HATLESS

As usual, Florell is introducing some new tricks for fall hats. He's using lots of gold trim "to give the ladies a sense of security in these trying times."

He's putting fishing flies on sport hats and is eliminating wide brims. He's also making his hats higher, because "skirts are getting longer and I don't want women who wear my hats to look like they're walking on their knees."

Although it may be bad for his business, Walter said there are certain women who should never wear hats.

These women, for example, should never wear hats: Ginger Rogers, Claudette Colbert, Katharine Hepburn, Tallulah Bankhead, Annabella, Mrs. Howard Hawks, Elsa Maxwell, Ingrid Bergman, Dorothy Parker and Greta Garbo.

"When they wear hats," he said, "the results are disastrous."

Sparks Circus Clown Has Had Varied Career, Including Long Army Service

"Mama, see the funny clown with his bright red nose. Isn't he funny?" will be the shouts of the younger set when the eternally beloved clowns appear in the Sparks Circus here on June 18.

One of the clowns will be Elmer C. Lindquist who has an impressive record during two World Wars to his credit as well as a reputation for making the children and adults go into spasms of laughter.

The jovial Mr. Lindquist has been clowning with various circuses "off and on" since 1906. "I've been with Ringling Brothers, Cole Brothers, the Austin Shows and way back with the New London Shows."

Sparks show about March 22, just several months after his discharge from the Army.

Born in Worcester, Mass., the clown is 52 years old. After 36 years in the Army he is one of the most decorated as well as one of the oldest sergeants in point of service.

His military sleeve carries 12 service stripes, four overseas service stripes, two wound stripes from World War I, two wound stripes from the past war, the Croix de Guerre from France, the Italian Military Cross, the Good Conduct Medal, the Pre-Pearl Harbor ribbon and the Victory Medal with eight stars.

CLEVELAND

The members of the Cleveland Women's Institute met at the C.W.I. Hall for their regular meeting with Mrs. George Dropps, the hostess. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Evan Crook, first vice-president, was in the chair, and conducted the meeting in the usual form.

Mrs. Goldwin Fletcher, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting, called the roll and read the correspondence. Quilt blocks were handed in and plans for making a quilt were discussed.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Maud Healy, convener of Welfare and Health. Mrs. Healy introduced Mrs. Robert Hall, who very ably gave a First Aid demonstration. Mrs. Healy then conducted a "True or False" contest on "Health Rules."

Mrs. Percy Tozer won the prize for obtaining the most points. Articles donated were auctioned off during the afternoon. A committee was appointed to arrange for a card party to be held in the near future. A number of articles were handed in for the fall fair. The meeting being brought to a close, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. George Dropps assisted by Mrs. Flora Monahan.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Healy entertained at a card party for the benefit of the Boys' Club. A short meeting was conducted during the early part of the evening, after which cards were played at eleven table. BILLY ROSE

In the summer of '39, the law was staging its biggest man hunt since the Lindbergh case. It was looking for Louis "Lepke" Buchalter, Enemy No. 1, who had been hiding out for two years. The State of New York had pinned a $25,000 price tag on him. On his way-up prosecutor Tom Dewey wanted Lepke for extortion and 80 murders. John Edgar Hoover wanted him just as badly, though only for narcotic and income-tax shenanigans.

Assorted bloodhounds were sniffing hard on gangster's dirty necks. High-ranking hoods finally told Lepke he'd have to do something to bring the heat down to room temperature. The fugitive figured it would be better to face the milder Federal rap. Besides, John Edgar wasn't hankering to try on the Governor's hat for size.

One night, a member of the black-fingernail set sidled up to Walter Winchell. "If I hear you say a little too casually, 'that Lepke might turn himself in to your friend Hoover, if he knew for sure he wouldn't get roughed up. Especially if there was a delivery boy around he could trust.'"

The newspaperman inhaled the heady aroma of a page-one scoop. "Well, I'm a pretty trustworthy fellow," said Winchell.

For the next three weeks, a different go-between made contact with the columnist every night. Walter, who knew everybody, had never seen any of these side-talking ambassadors before. Sometimes they'd pop out of doorways. Sometimes they'd get him on one of the pay phones at the Stork Club. Most of these powwows were conducted between 4:00 and 6:00 in the morning. Winchell would relay these fragments of talk to Hoover, who had moved into the Waldorf to be on tap.

After three weeks of this, Hoover got impatient. One night he told Winchell, "If Lepke doesn't surrender in the next 24 hours, I'm going to give my men orders to shoot him on sight."

That did it. Next morning, Winchell got a phone message. "Take your wife's car, the one with the fog lights, and be at Proctor's Theatre in Yonkers at 7:00 tonight," Walter's wife, June, the only person he had confided in, was terrified. She had visions of her husband in a machine-gun cross-fire. That afternoon she scattered carpet tacks on the drive, hoping Walter would get a flat when he backed the car out of the garage.

But the tacks didn't take. At a few minutes to seven, Winchell stopped for a traffic light outside Yonkers. A car eased up alongside him. A man slipped out of it and climbed in next to the columnist. "Drive back to town," he said. "Don't be nervous. We only brought you up here to see if there were any cops tailing you."

Back in Manhattan, his passenger told Winchell to park. "Telephone Mr. Hoover," he said. "He's in Room — at the Waldorf. Tell him to be at 28th Street and Fifth Avenue, southeast side, between 10:10 and 10:20."

After the phone call, Walter and the intermediary cruised around to kill time. At 10:00, the man said, "Stop. Let me out here. You go to Madison Square Park and stop at 24th Street. And do me a favor. Give this rabbit's foot to Lepke. Tell him it's from me."

As Walter drove up to the bit of greenery which is Madison Square Park, he saw the light burning on top of the Metropolitan Life Insurance building. "Hope my premiums are up to date," he mumbled. As he leaned forward to snap off the ignition, someone said, "Hello, Walter."

It was Lepke. He had grown a Groucho Marx mustache, mint julep sideburns, and was wearing dark glasses and a topcoat. The killer got in the car and Walter pointed the car for 28th Street.

His nerves were now twangling like harp strings. He knew 18,000 city cops had memorized the wanted man's face. He was afraid some stool pigeon might have tipped off Dewey's men and that the story of the year would be snatched away from him.

As they rounded a corner, Walter heard what he thought was a tremendous crash of glass. Lepke had thrown away the dark glasses he had used for disguise. But to the jumpy columnist it sounded like a truck going through a store window.

At 28th Street, Winchell pulled up behind the parked FBI car. Hoover was sitting alone in the back seat. Walter led Lepke over "Get in, Mr. Buchalter," said the G-man who never addresses a criminal by his nickname. "Where are your high and mighty friends now?"

"I'm beginning to wonder," muttered Lepke, as the driver turned south toward Foley Square and FBI headquarters.

At 13th Street, Hoover nudged Winchell and said, "Get out of the car."

"What do you mean, get out?" snapped the columnist, not getting it. "I thought this was my . . ."

"Right," said the G-man. "If the newspaper guys around headquarters see me with you and Lepke they'll beat you to your own story."

"Thanks, John," said Walter, and got out.

The columnist found himself in a deserted business section. He ran for blocks before he found an open bar with a phone booth. Finally he got his night city editor on the wire.

"This is Winchell," he panted. "Here's your page one story. Lepke has surrendered! I just turned him over the John Edgar Hoover!"

"Take it easy, Walter," said the man at the desk. "Your yarn isn't making the front page tonight. Stalin just signed a pact with Adolf Hitler."

Special Program Prepared For Provincial Handicraft Show

Mrs. Bella Kerr, organizer of the Fashion Show presented on Tuesday evening at the Provincial Handicraft Exhibition, announced today that, due to the numerous requests received, this show will be repeated tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. In order that spectators may examine the garments more closely, arrangements have been made to have the models walk down through the armory, along specially marked-off pathways.

Today is the English-speaking citizens' day and a special program, arranged by Jack Lenaghan, will be presented this evening. This concert should be of general interest as it will feature local artists.

The program to be presented is as follows: "Te Deum" (Mendelssohn-Coderre) chorale arranged by Mrs. Josephine Doherty-Coderre for soloists and choir, based on the short but majestic theme of Mendelssohn's 6th Prelude — a magnificent hymn of praise. Soloists are Mrs. W. Gibson, Mrs. F. Bradley and Edward Loomis. They will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Coderre, at the Minshall organ by Jack Lenaghan and the choir will be directed by John Coderre.

"Concerto for French Horn" (Mozart) will feature Irving Richards, accompanied at the piano by Jack Lenaghan. Jean Scarth, mezzo-soprano, will be heard in "Elizabeth's Prayer" from Tannhauser (Wagner) and a group of two English songs. She will be accompanied by Mrs. H. A. Scarth. George Whalley and Jonathan Robinson, duo-pianists, will render Bach's Sonata in E Flat Major. Frederick J. Sangster, baritone, will sing a group of two songs accompanied by Mrs. Cesaire Gervais. Mrs. Coderre at the piano and Jack Lenaghan at the organ will play Dubois' "Toccata in D Major."

The closing chorus "Ode to Canada" composed by Mrs. Josephine Doherty-Coderre, was inspired by the Bible verse "He shall have dominion also." Soloists are Mrs. Keith Edwards and Frederick Sangster. The choir will be directed by John Coderre.

At the close of this program, which is to be broadcast, the choir will render a few impromptu selections of English, Scotch, Irish and American folk songs.

19 Nurses Received Pins And Diplomas At Annual Exercises Held By Sherbrooke Hospital

Nineteen young ladies received their pins and diplomas yesterday afternoon at the graduating exercises of the Sherbrooke Hospital School for Nurses, held in the Arena.

The impressive ceremony opened with the invocation by the Rev. R. C. Tait who asked God to bless the graduating class, to endow them with great sympathy, patience, knowledge and skill. "May you become ministering angels of mercy, through the inspiration of Him Who came not to be ministered to, but to minister, and Who gave His life as a ransom for many."

J. R. Sangster, vice-president of the Hospital, in the absence of the president, Miller Hall, presented the pins and diplomas to the graduates. Mr. Sangster urged the class of 1947 to remain in contact with the Sherbrooke Hospital and to lend their loyal support to the staff. "As you go out into the world I would have you walk with self-confidence and reliance on your knowledge and experience. I would have you walk with courage, with kindly hearts not calloused or hardened by contact with grief and pain which may be beyond your power to alleviate. I would have you walk with grace—too frequently a kind heart is masked by a stern exterior and the true kindly character of a person may be revealed to only a few. I would have you walk with clean hearts and minds. I would have you walk with forbearance." Mr. Sangster then wished them joy in their youth, and happiness in the unselfish service of the noble profession they have chosen.

The Florence Nightingale pledge was repeated in unison by the graduates and the superintendent of nurses, Miss Olive Harvey.

Dr. E. A. Tomkins presented the prizes to the graduating class which included: Miss Lena Burns, Sawyerville; Miss Helen Dean, Sherbrooke; Miss Doris Hastings, Bromo; Miss Arlene McCormick, Waterville; Miss Beryl Rexford, Ayer's Cliff; Miss Jeannie Richardson, Cowansville; Miss Gudrun Rasmussen, Brigham; Miss Elizabeth Oman, Bedford; Miss Virginia Brown, Bromptonville; Miss Helen Delaney, McAdam, N.B.; Miss Carol Jameson, Sherbrooke; Miss Marion McKinnon, Lennoxville; Miss Shirley Marlin, Sherbrooke; Mrs. Lillian Kelly, York Mills, N.B.; Miss Joyce Pye, Melbourne; Miss Helen Woodman, Coaticook; Miss Merle Hunting, Lennoxville; Miss Amy Harrison, Bury; Miss Sheila Mathias, Sherbrooke.

SPANS THE WORLD

Scheming Wife

Possessive Woman Shows True Colors
After Wedding Ceremony

Dear Miss Dix: While in high school I met my wife and courted her for three years. I became engaged and was about to marry when the war came on and I went into the Army. My wife insisted on marrying then, but I decided it would be best for us to wait. I went into the service and stayed there for four years, and it was planned that we should be married when I returned home. But when I returned, to my surprise, I found that my fiancée had already bought her wedding dress, set the date of the wedding and sent out the wedding invitations. So we were married at once.

DOROTHY DIX

During all the time I was away, she was perfectly lovely to my family and professed the greatest affection for my mother and father. But from the day of our return from the honeymoon, she made it plain to my parents, as well as to all my relatives, that she didn't want any visitors at our house unless they were invited.

She has never invited any of my people to our apartment. I always have to ask them. Ever since we were married she has treated my family as mean as she could. She doesn't even want to go to see my parents, who live only two blocks away from us. She is furious if I pay them the slightest attention. She tries to ball things up so that we have to go to her family's on every holiday. She pretends to think that my family are plotting against her when I have a conversation with them.

LOSING HIS LOVE

In a word, she has become impossible to live with and is rapidly killing all the affection that I had for her. How can I straighten out this situation?

PUZZLED.

Answer: Evidently you have been unfortunate enough to marry one of the possessive women who are determined to own their husbands, body and soul, and there is only one solution to your problem. You can either leave her, or else make up your mind to submit to being treated like a morose little boy who lets mama dictate every act of his life.

Your wife showed her hand plainly enough when she rushed you into marriage before you were ready for it and practically having the wedding underway before you got home. She wasn't taking any chances on losing you.

Also, she showed her deep cunning in her pretended devotion to your parents before she got you safely hooked up. Now she has abandoned her pose and has begun on a campaign to separate you from your mother and father whom you love so much.

Your case is not an uncommon one. The world is full of wives who could give Hitler points on petty tyranny.

Dear Miss Dix: Before the birth of my second child, I was a happy-go-lucky girl, loved and loving, enjoying my child, devoted to my husband, proud of my lovely home. But, without my knowing why, everything is changed. I am moody, nervous, cross, disagreeable, have no interest in anything. I fight against this feeling because my good husband and children deserve better from me, but I just can't help it. What do you think is the matter with me? I don't seem to be sick.

BEWILDERED.

Answer: But you must be ill without your realizing it. A sweet-tempered woman doesn't become a sour puss without some good and sufficient reason. I urge you to go, without delay, to the best doctor in your community. Many diseases that prove fatal in the end could have been cured if they had been recognized in time.

Dear Miss Dix: My wife has become very attracted to and infatuated with our milkman. I have threatened to quit patronizing that dairy, but she keeps reminding me that my father is connected with it and that if I did change our dairy it would cause a lot of friction between my parents and myself. What should I do?

N. D. L.

Answer: What line of attractions does the milkman possess that has won your wife away from you? Is he young and handsome? Or does he woo her with Grade-A milk with thick cream on the top? Or, perhaps, you just imagine that a romance is going on under your nose and you have become jealous. However, if the affair has gotten you all stirred up, it seems to me that the sensible thing is to change your dairy for another, even if your parents don't like it.

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

Bobby Locke Top Foreign Threat In Open Since 1920

St. Louis, June 13.—Bobby Locke is the biggest foreign threat to the Open Championship of the United States Golf Association since Big Ted Ray beat his immortal countryman Harry Vardon and Jack Hutchison, Leo Diegel and Jack Burke in a playoff at Toledo Inverness in 1920.

Locke goes into the 47th tournament the hottest man in golf. The pleasant chap who for five years was a member of the South African Air Force first attracted attention on this side by beating Samuel Jackson Snead, British Open champion, in 10 of 14 exhibitions in his native land. More recently he has bagged four tournaments out of six against the finest of the active money players. In one of them he picked up 10 shots on Ben Hogan, PGA champion, in 36 holes.

But Locke has 170 golfers to repulse in 72 holes of medal play crammed into three days, June 12-14. And among them are at least 20 capable of taking it all over the course of the St. Louis Country Club, where there is a great premium on accuracy, rather than length.

Among them, of course, are Lloyd Mangrum, the defending champion; Jimmy Demaret, the year's leading money-winner who captured the Augusta Masters for the second time; Snead and Hogan. Byron Nelson is the only big name not on the firing line. Locke, who was the South African Amateur and Open champion at 17, is now 29, but looks a bit older. He stands just under six feet, weighs 172 pounds, is one of the mighty few golfers who now keeps Gene Sarazen company in knickers.

Locke takes a full swing on all shots, and there is a little tail-end hook on almost all of them. His over-spin would come from that. But you have the word of those who have opposed him that he is deadly accurate and an excellent putter.

For the last 36 holes the field will be reduced to 60. If a tie occurs, a not unusual event—Mangrum, Vic Ghezzi and Nelson (ranked at Cleveland Canterbury a year ago—the winner is determined in 36 holes the following day. The winner receives $2,000 and an additional $8,000 is distributed among runners-up. But the acquiring of the Open championship means vastly more than $2,000 to the man who comes down in front.

Some believe the crack shot-makers will tear the course apart. Others believe they will find it rather difficult. Paul B. Jamison, Jr., chairman of the course committee and formerly a member of the Yale golf team, believes that the par 71 course will be the scene of a new Open record, but points out that the layout is far from easy. The present record is 281, established by tall Ralph Guldahl in 1937 at the famous Oakland Hills Country Club of Birmingham, Mich.

The St. Louis course measures 3,140 yards going out, 3,392 coming in, a total of 6,532.

A player hitting his shots well will be rewarded, but plenty of trouble awaits those who stray off the fairways. There is no such thing as hooking or slicing so much that the ball comes to rest on a nice lie in the next fairway. There are no parallel fairways.

Five great par three holes are beautifully designed, require a well-planned accurate shot. This would seem to favor the better iron players.

Jamison believes that the player who shoots par or better on the first four holes for all four rounds will win.

It will take real skill and not slugging to prevail.

The boys are shooting for a brand new trophy, a replica of the old, which was destroyed in a fire last September at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter, where Lloyd Mangrum was employed.

But the trophies aren't concerned about the cut. They want their names engraved on it and in the Open records, and the money that comes with it.

SAWYERVILLE

The Willing Workers were entertained by Mrs. Stanford Winslow and Miss Ruby Graham at the former's home. There were fourteen members present. The meeting opened with a Scripture reading, read by Mrs. Douglas Twyman. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. A letter of thanks was received from Mr. Rothney, for the money donated towards the school radio. The treasurer gave her report. Plans were made for a salad supper and fancy work sale to be held at the United Church on Wednesday, June 25, on the lawn or in the Sunday School room. The meeting closed by repeating the Mizpah Benediction. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Douglas Mackay, Mrs. Lyle Rand and Mrs. Greenidge will be the hostesses for the next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Williams and son, Marion, were visiting friends in Montreal.

Master Harley Laroche has returned home after spending a few days in the Sherbrooke Hospital. The monthly meeting of the Women's Association of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Simeon Taylor. The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison, followed by the minutes of the last meeting. Cards of thanks were read from Miss Percival, Mrs. R. Tannahill and Mrs. C. MacRae. Several items of business were discussed and the remainder of the afternoon was spent in sewing and knitting. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Overnight visitors at Mr. and Mrs. John T. Forgrave's, were the Misses Pauline Driver, of Seattle, Wash., and Mary Jean Bowman, of Holland, Mich. Callers at the same home were the Misses Jeanie Brown and Dreda Smith, of the New Tribes' Institute, of Chico, Calif.; Mr. Dexter Leavitt and sister, Ella, of Springfield, Vt.; Mrs. Hollis Smith, of Birchton; and Miss Esther Farnsworth, B.A., of Cookshire.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Patrick and Mr. D. G. Patrick, were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Patrick, and family, of Danville, and Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Patrick, and family, of Trenholm.

A number of friends were pleasantly entertained in the L.O.L. Hall at a miscellaneous shower, for Miss Mabel Doherty, the guest of honor and a bride-to-be of the month. When all the gifts, accompanied by the best wishes of the guests, had been opened and admired, Miss Doherty thanked her many friends. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Patrick and little son, Wayne, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Patrick and Mr. Douglas Patrick.

A "500" and bridge card party was held in the L.O.L. Hall under the auspices of the L.O.B.A., which was very well patronized.

NORTH HATLEY CHURCH FETES ANNIVERSARY

North Hatley, June 13.—A series of services of special interest to the members and friends of the North Hatley Baptist Church began with the observance of the church anniversary on Sunday, June 1, with Rev. G. A. Gorman, of Coaticook, the guest speaker.

The Crusade Class, the young women's group, placed a beautiful display of spring flowers in the church, and members of this class, as a choir under the leadership of Mrs. Berton Hersey, and with the additional help of Mr. Ernest Parker and Mr. Garland Conner, lead the singing and gave two special sacred numbers. Two other members of the Crusade Class acted as ushers, and their services were proven to the utmost by the capacity attendance, which filled the church.

The Rev. G. F. Gorman, who was ordained from the North Hatley Baptist Church, expressed his delight, and that of Mrs. Gorman, at being invited to share in the anniversary services, and the opportunity given to return to North Hatley, where, during their previous stay they had made lasting ties of friendship. Rev. Mr. Gorman's sermon was based on Paul's second letter to Timothy, I: 12. He concluded his splendid discourse with a simple, true story of a small lad, a baseball, a broken window and a humble confession, which underscored the challenging question he left with his audience, "What have you done about the broken window in your life?"

On the following evening the Ladies' Circle served a salad supper at the Community Hall, to the congregation of the Baptist Church, after which Rev. Mr. Gorman again spoke informally to those assembled. He impressed upon all, the personal responsibility of each one to encourage religious training and observance upon those who will be the future citizens of our communities.

During the evening Mrs. Howard Sharman presented Mrs. G. E. Bennett, and Mrs. Berton Hersey with gifts from the Crusade Class, as expressions of appreciation for their help in leading them in their devotional study and choir work.

One afternoon the Ladies' Circle met at the Community Hall for its regular business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. P. W. Knights. An item of interest was the report of the Circle's representative to the North Hatley High School Memorial Scholarship committee meeting.

She told of the recent meeting of the committee, and of the plans made for a tag day, to be held in July. Two workers were appointed from the Circle to participate in the effort. Mrs. Alan Grainger and Mrs. Kenneth Bassett. The money appearing for the Circle for the "Scholarship Fund," was turned over to Mrs. G. E. Bennett.

At the conclusion of the business, tea was served by the hostesses.

WATERLOO

At their regular weekly meeting the Waterloo Kiwanis were once again privileged to listen to an address of prime importance and timely significance, delivered by Mr. W. J. Sheridan, manager of the Department of Economic Development, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. Speaking on "Canadian Problems," the speaker clearly enunciated them in part during the course of his speech.

mentioning the fact that Immigration was one, which needed immediate attention. In the ten years from 1901 to 1911, 1,800,000 immigrants swelled our population, but during the past ten years, more people left Canada for the United States than came to Canada from all countries.

"Then there is the broad question of trade with other countries," the speaker stated. "Canada is a great trading nation. One third of our people depend directly or indirectly on our export trade for their means of existence. Another of the problems which must be solved and solved quickly, is that of labor-management relations. Production is the key to prosperity and production depends upon the acceptance by both management and labor of their responsibility one to the other and their joint responsibility to the consumer. There are other problems such as housing, taxation and a host of others, but our responsibilities do not end there." Mr. Sheridan stated. This is all merely a preliminary to the greatest problem facing the citizens of Canada today, and that is Communism.

"All one has to do is to look at a map of Europe today, and see how the 'Red Banner' is flying over several neighboring countries of Russia, Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria, and it is not without significance that the U.S. has advanced four hundred million dollars of financial and material aid to bolster Greece and Turkey against the threat of 'Red' domination.

In comparing the rights and privileges of the worker in Canada with those of the worker in the home of Communism, the speaker said, "In Canada the worker can undertake collective bargaining through his union and can under certain conditions, strike. In Russia collective bargaining is forbidden and a striker would be shot. In Canada there is no official penalty for lateness, while in Russia lateness of twenty minutes without a certificate from the plant doctor makes one liable to such penalties as forced labor in Siberia. In Canada there is no forced labor, except for criminals in penitentiaries totalling less than 3,000 in 1943, while in Russia upwards of 20,000,000 Soviet slaves are dying at forced labor in the vast concentration camps of the NKVD-NVD.

"What are factors that might cause Canadians to lose the freedoms they now enjoy? In the opinion of Mr. Sheridan, there are two. 'Ignorance on the part of Canadians with regard to national affairs and ignorance of the benefits of Canada's competitive enterprise system, and secondly indifference on the part of too many Canadians. This indifference is reflected in the apathy shown at election time. And what can we do to lesson the danger? In the first place let it be said that legislation alone will not solve our problems. We cannot legislate to outlaw disease or immorality or subversion with any degree of success. Our talk therefore is one of education and that becomes a job for all of us to do.'

"Communists fear only three things, positive and unshakable identification, ruthless exposure and total isolation. If you oppose Communism you will be accused of red-baiting and witch hunting. You will also be called a Fascist, which is the same as saying that because a man does not want to live at the North Pole he wants to live at the South Pole. False doctrines can only prevail if the truth is unspoken or suppressed and it is up to us, to all Canada, to acquaint ourselves with the true facts, and then become spokes in the dissemination of truth."

The speaker was introduced by Mr. Horace Chaddock, and thanked

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sheridan, the wife of the speaker, and Mr. W. P. Sheridan, his father, and Mr. Hebert were all on hand.

Special mention was made of the Mobile Clinic to be held next week at the Registry Office, when the Kiwanis Club is sponsoring the X-raying of all citizens of the town. The school children of all the schools and the employees of all shops are scheduled as to when they are to be present, but the general public has the following hours at which time they may have their X-rays taken: Monday, June 9, 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Tuesday, June 10, 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.; Wednesday, June 11, 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.; Thursday, June 12, 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.; Friday, June 13, 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday, June 14, 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. A special appeal is made to all citizens, regardless of sex, race ed by Mr. Joseph Macdonald. A large turnout of members and several guests, including the Messrs. Henry Bird, W. Scott, Irving Slack, Gaston Morel, the new proprietor of the Waterloo Hotel, and Basil Andrews, all of Waterloo or clan to present themselves during the times mentioned above so that they may take full advantage of this opportunity offered without cost to themselves. It is a public service offered free of charge with the hope that all will accept it in the manner in which it is offered. The Doctor Says

FATIGUE FROM WORK IS WARNING TO STOP By William A. O'Brien, M.D.

Fatigue which results from work is a warning sign to stop. Excessive fatigue or fatigue which develops without work is not normal, and the cause should be sought. It is not possible to prevent all fatigue as the body is benefited by work.

Dr. O'Brien.

Cause of fatigue is not completely understood. Certain chemicals, notably pyruvic acid, accumulate in the blood in fatigue, but many who report being tired do not show an increase in this chemical.

Fatigue can develop in one part of the body without affecting the rest. Being tired all over in most cases is a sign that all the muscles are affected. Morning fatigue is unusual. It means that one has not had enough sleep or that illness is developing. In most cases, morning fatigue which disappears during the day and is followed by a wakeful evening is a sign of poor adjustment to work.

If you like your job, you are less liable to become tired than if you are doing something which is disagreeable. Those who are trying to do work beyond their ability and those who have not been properly instructed for their job complain of excessive fatigue.

Causes of Worry Meet worry victims are tired all the time. Commonest causes of worry are concern over the opinion of others, over health, over what is to be done, and over what has been done. Average worrier lacks courage to face reality and is unable to adjust to changing circumstances.

Vacation time provides a good opportunity to get rid of accumulated fatigue. Its mental origin is indicated by the promptness with which the feeling disappears during vacation. In some cases, however, it is physical fatigue, and vacation time should be used for a complete physical and mental rest.

If you are tired all the time, a physical examination is recommended.

Question: I develop attacks of laryngitis which last two or three months. They are bothersome but not painful. What causes these attacks?

Answer: One form of hoarseness results from nervousness. Ask your physician if this could be the cause in your case.

Freight Rate Increase Is Hit In West

Thirty Per Cent Boost Asked by Railways Opposed in Varied Objections Laid Before Board of Transport Commissioners at Regina.

By JOHN LEBLANC
Regina, June 13.—(C)—Ob-Canadian Press Staff Writer
jections to the 30 per cent freight rate increases asked by the railways, as varied as the interested parties themselves, today were before the Board of Transport Commissioners, now in its final day of regional hearings of the national rate inquiry for Saskatchewan.

Following up the protests of groups which earlier had appeared before the board, the Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada said in a brief that freight rate increases would tend to discourage production if applied in the province and foster the development of an inflationary spiral if applied nationally.

The organization's research director, George Bickerton, contended that Parliament, not the board, was the proper body to adjudicate the $75,000,000-a-year matter. The proposed increase, if granted, might "dislocate the entire economy of the nation." In so important an issue, Parliament was perhaps the only body that could be responsible.

Saskatchewan's coal mine operators said graduated rate increases sought on coal would "disturb" the industry's position. The provincial branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada declared the increases would be "deleterious to the well-being" of the people of Saskatchewan.

If a blanket percentage rate increase, as asked by the railways, was granted it would be "extremely unfair" to the province, said a brief of the Provincial Associated Board of Trade read by J. S. Woodward of Saskatoon.

The boards suggested that rate increases would, if granted, discourage secondary industries, retard crop diversification and irrigation projects and place Saskatchewan in an even more disadvantageous position in the Canadian economy as compared with other sections.

Further, said their brief, the province was entitled to "some consideration" in the setting of rates because various factors made railway operation in Saskatchewan more economical than in other parts of Canada.

ST. HYACINTHE DOWNS SHERBROOKE 7-1 AT LOCAL PARK

Locals Come Through With Three Double Plays To Ease Situation

The St. Hyacinthe Baseball club paid their first visit of the season to Sherbrooke last evening and downed the local ball club to the tune of 7-1 behind the six hit pitching of Manager Shapiro.

Angelo Folini held the heavy hitting Saints to eleven bingles but his team behind him were guilty of five costly errors, while St. Hyacinthe committed only one miscue. Sherbrooke batted only six hits off of Shapiro but they could only produce one run to show for their work.

The Saints nicked Folini for a single in the first and second, but were held off the score sheet and Sherbrooke went down 1-2-3. In the third, St. Hyacinthe pushed across two runs when the locals committed four of their five errors although they failed to get any clean hits. In the first half of the fourth, the visitors came through with two clean singles to produce one run. Scrutton led off with a single, Aubuchon went down swinging, and Monacchio connected for a hit but Symancik hit into a double play to retire the side.

In the fourth and fifth the locals got singles but did not score. Marcel Bellemare, Sherbrooke's new third baseman, acquired yesterday afternoon from the Cubs of Drummondville, connected in the fourth and Lamontagne, who replaced Paquin in right field, lead off in the fifth but was left stranded.

The Saints' big inning came in the fifth when they collected three hits and pushed across the same amount of runs with two men on base, and only one away. Marcel Bellemare came up with the locals second double play to retire the side and ease the situation.

In the sixth Sherbrooke put together two hits, a base on balls and a fielder's choice to shove one run across the platter to avert a shutout. With two men away in the seventh, the Saints started another rally and batted out three successive singles, but Angelo Folini forced Oscar Aubuchon to fly out to Pete Taillefer, at short, to kill the rally.

In Sherbrooke's half of the seventh Normie Dussault, after going hitless in his first three appearances at the plate, poked out a single, stole second and went to third on Wedley's error, but was left stranded, when Gilles Dube went out third to first.

In the eighth Folini kept matters in his own hands and did not give up any hits, although he balled Shaprio, but forced lead-off man Kunley out at first. In the ninth both sides came up with double plays, it was the locals third of the evening and the visitors first.

Tomorrow evening the locals travel to Drummondville for the official opening of the Cubs new grounds, weather permitting, and Sunday they will again resume a two-game series with the Saints, playing in St. Hyacinthe in the afternoon and returning home for a fixture under the lights.

ROYALS DOWN CHIEFS 7-6 TO RETAIN LEAD

Jim Prendergast, clever Syracuse southpaw, is making a determined bid to land the major league berth that has eluded him since he entered the game in 1934. Starting in 1939 when he hit the double win column for the first time, Prendergast has increased his victory total in each of the succeeding seasons, with 11 in 1940, 15 in 1941 and 17 for the Chiefs' last year.

He turned in his latest win last night, stopping Toronto Maple Leafs 11-3 to become the first pitcher in the International League to record eight triumphs this season.

Prendergast aided his own cause by belting a three-run homer in the third inning.

The stylish left-hander's hard-hitting teammate, Hank Sauer, accounted for the Chiefs' last four runs by blasting his 16th homer of the season with the bases loaded in the eighth inning.

By winning, the second-place Chiefs remained within 2½ games of the front-running Montreal Royals, who eked out a 7-6 decision over Newark Bears.

The Royals scored six unearned runs, five in the first inning, but didn't sew up the game until the sixth when Dick Whitman tripled and roamed home on Butch Woy's single. South Al Gerheuser started for Montreal and received credit for his seventh victory with Chet Kinn relieving him in the ninth.

Another left-hander, Jim Goodwin of Jersey City Giants, failed in his bid to notch his seventh triumph of the season. Goodwin started against Rochester Red Wings but was pounded out in the second inning when the Wings scored five times and went on to hang up a 10-5 decision and snap a five-game losing streak.

Baltimore Orioles and Buffalo Bisons were not scheduled.

Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias Cops British Women's Golf Championship

Gullane, Lothian, Scotland, June 13.—(AP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias hatched up her faded blue corduroy slacks after lunch yesterday and slapped out a 5 and 4 conquest of London's Jacqueline Gordon that made the Texas Tomboy the first American-born golfer to win the British Women's crown.

Her victory cleaned out the British golf trophy chest. Every British title for which outsiders may compete now is held in the United States.

The one-time Olympic javelin thrower—for nine years the wife of Denver's George Zaharias but still known throughout the athletic world as Babe Didrikson—switched to her lucky pants after lunch and promptly won five of the first six holes to gain her victory margin.

During the morning round she had honored the occasion of playing in the final round by wearing "some refined" clothes—a grey flannel divided skirt brushed wool sweater of dainty yellow and a white blouse.

"Pants Did It" "The pants did it," she chortled on the 32nd green in a brief victory jig immediately after ramming home the putt that gave her a half for the hole and closed out the match for her 16th straight tournament triumph. The string includes the United States Women's Amateur Meet of 1946.

That putt also needed the most concentrated golf by a woman this North-west course on the Fifth of North—not far from the birthplace of the game itself—had ever seen. During the seven rounds over the East Lothian layout, Mrs. Zaharias had a best-ball score of 62, nine strokes below the unofficial par for men and 14 under the women's figures. British courses have no set par as courses in Canada and the United States.

Lucky pants or no, the Babe had to shoot golf for the title today. Miss Gordon took advantage of the Babe's wildness at the start, and tore the initiative from her.

A few bad shots that wound up in the rough or in a trap and the Babe, whose closest match in the early rounds was a 3-and-2 victory of Jean Donald, of Scotland, was two down to the grey-eyed girl from London at the 12th tee. The Babe recovered, however, and they were all even at lunch time.

Zaharias All Afternoon After luncheon, and the change to the lucky pants, it was all Zaharias.

Miss Gordon appeared to have lost the confidence which carried her to her surprising non-deadlock. Mrs. Zaharias lost only one hole after lunch—the 28th where her topped drive hopped for 90 yards before coming to a halt on the edge of the rough.

After the match Miss Gordon said: "I got chilled during the lunch hour and I couldn't get warmed up for four or five holes in the afternoon. But by that time I was four down."

The weather was bright but cold and most of the 6,500 gallery-ites wore heavy coats.

Billy Herman couldn't be blamed if he made the entire Pittsburgh Pirate pitching staff walk the plank. In the last 15 games since Memorial Day, not one Buceo starter has gone the route. As a result the team is trying to knock a hole in the National League cellar floor.

Last night the Pirates gave a good illustration of the form they showed back east, bowing 7-3 to Chicago Cubs. Although Manager Herman's gang managed to use last starter Paul Eddicks in the eighth inning, it was too late. Ten Chicago hits off Ed Behr and the motley crew of successors were too much to overcome.

Don Johnson helped engineer the Pirates' 12th loss in their last 15 outings with three hits.

Chicago advanced into a second place tie with the idle Brooklyn Dodgers as a result of the victory.

3 Players Tie For Leadership In National Open Golf Title Race

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—(AP)—The United States seldom has seen a national tournament as wide open as the current 72-hole Professional Golfers' Association play at the St. Louis Country Club.

Three players nudged into the leadership with four-under-par 67's in yesterday's opening 18-hole thrust, but at least ten other swingers were in a position to swing down gold-dom's glory road.

Today's 18-hole test will turn an original field of more than 160 odd ballsters for tomorrow's concluding 36-hole scramble.

Two Texas products, Harry Todd of Dallas and Henry Ransom, Houston gift of Chicago's Northmoore Club, and long-driving Chick Herbert of Northville, Mich., were in the pace-setting trio with 67's, but all three were only casual favorites.

A stroke behind was the meet's Mr. Big, Bobby Locke, whose South African national flag was run up on the clubhouse yesterday as he tacked together 33-35 for an ominous 68.

His 6,832-yard course, with its narrow fairways and unresponsive greens, was regarded just up the alley for Locke, who has won four of seven United States starts within two months.

A stroke behind Locke were four surprising challengers, topped by the front-running amateur Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash.

In making this known today, Herman said Wagner joins Herb Trawick, husky colored lineman, among the Americans of the Alouettes who have signed for another year.

Cambridge, June 13.—(AP)—A United States men's team from Cambridge defeated a British girls team from Oxford in cricket yesterday, winning 56-52 in a cricket performance that threatened to shake the ivy-covered walls of the 700-year-old university. However, the girls handed the Americans a black eye by taking a 14-0 victory in a three-inning baseball game.

VIRGIL WAGNER SIGNS TO PLAY WITH MONTREAL

Montreal, June 13.—(AP)—Virgil Wagner, fleet-footed halfback who spearheaded Lew Hayman's Alouettes into a sudden-death final against Toronto Argonauts in Big Four Football last fall, has ended the question of what he'll do next fall by signing up with the team again.
