STAINED GLASS WINDOW REPRODUCED IN FINE PAINTING

Montreal's historic Notre Dame Cathedral is graced by a fine stained glass window that is the subject of one of Westmount's Sophy L. Elliott's own watercolour paintings illustrating her book "The Women Pioneers Of North America." It adds lustre to the series of such windows that enhance the dignity of the noted edifice. In a special interview with the Examiner, Miss Elliott tells how, this week 304 years ago, pioneers reached the Island.

Cathedral Window Faithfully Portrayed In Water Colours

Ghostly shades of pioneers stir the imagination as it is recalled, exactly 304 years ago tomorrow, Maisonneuve's doughty adventurers of early Canadian history reached Montreal by river, and the stained glass window of Notre Dame Cathedral, shown in a fine water colour painting by Westmount's own Miss Sophy L. Elliott, tells much of historical data of that era.

In an interview specially given the Examiner, Miss Elliott explained how many historical events of this district are preserved in picture, on stained glass windows, in the churches of the Island.

This window itself was installed a little over 15 years ago and

RMR. Dance Successful

The Royal Montreal Regiment Dance, sponsored by the Sports and Entertainment Committee under Capt. T. M. Kinna, chairman, Saturday night was attended by about 400 couples. The large floor of the Armoury was, however, not crowded, and the dancers were able to enjoy the event to the full.

The building was decorated under Lt. G. J. Mahoney, who was assisted by decorators of the United Cigar Stores, whose experience showed in the tasteful appearance of the main floor. Lt. Taylor Kennedy was treasurer of the dance committee.

★ was donated by Hotel P... designed in France and then shipped here for assembling and display. Miss Elliott told of difficulties encountered in making the painting of the window, which was used in her book, "The Pioneer Women of America," and said subdued lighting in the Cathedral made the task very tiring and almost impossible, so that the great part of her work was done from memory. The remarkable accuracy of this particular work is a tribute to Miss Elliott's excellent memory for minute details.

The picture required three weeks to complete, working every day, involving repeated trips to the Cathedral and spending hours of painstaking study of the window itself.

Miss Elliott points out that the first panel of the window represents the arrival of four mis-

F. Badke, chairman of the special committee appointed to handle the campaign.

Canvassing throughout the Western Area, some 700 to 800 Cubs, Scouts and Sea Scouts will offer salted peanuts for which it is hoped they will receive at least 10 cents a bag.

Richardson, field commissioner. The divisional directors for the drive are H. F. Bush, G. Lavoie, J. C. Britton, W. H. Brady, W. J. Shaw, W. J. S. Dormer, Alfred Tingle and Mr. Aspinall.

Fire Department Praised—Canine Pal Appreciated

Praise of the local fire department and appreciation of a dog's sagacity were featured in a letter received from a resident whose home was damaged by fire recently. Speaking of the fire department, he says: "My sincere appreciation and thanks to our fire department, for the quick response made in answer to the call, also for their courtesy, and the orderly and tidy manner which they left the premises when they had finished their job."

*5 p.m. to decide the issue of whether Westmount grocers will be allowed to sell beer, it is authoritatively reported.

A by-law which would allow six grocers in this city to sell beer with Quebec Liquor Commission permits has been given third reading, and all that is needed now is the approval of the citizens at large. It was understood a group of prominent citizens recently asked the council to propose a new by-law, allowing the sale of beer.

This by-law will not have any force or effect until it has been approved by the electors of the City in the manner provided by Section 399 of the Cities and Towns Act. If the electors vote against the proposition in the referendum, the by-law will be promptly discarded.

It is reported that Westmount grocers have suffered considerably because of beer rationing, as a number of old customers, who could not obtain beer from Montreal merchants without giving food orders, were forsaking the Westmount markets.

S. Fargeon To Address Businessmen

Seymour Fargeon, Chairman of the Commercial Tenants League, will be guest speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Business Association of Westmount, Monday evening in Victoria Hall.

Mr. Fargeon will speak on "Commercial Rental Controls". Jacques Perrault, B.C.L. and Clarence Rosenhek will be present and will answer any legal questions with regard to commercial leases.

The business before the meeting will include Presidents' Report on the past years activities, election of officers, and outline of future plans for Fall and Winter activities.

Rotary Club Speaker Specialist On Parks

Rudyard S. Uzzell, gifted with a personality so elastic he can portray the whole gamut of human emotion, from comedy to downright serious expression, instantaneously; a personality that fits his unusual occupation of Amusement Park Specialist; gave an outstanding and inimitable address to Westmount Rotarians on "The Amusement Park and Its Services in the Community."

In urban centres where citizens are bounded by the realistic work-a-day world, and following dictates of schedules and hours, the Amusement Park offers necessary diversion for fraying nerves, he explained.

Mr. Uzzell stressed, that, throughout history, from the era of the early caveman down to the present day, each new war weapon invented and applied gave rise to fear of humanity being wiped out. In his business, he asserted, one must be an optimist with both feet on the ground, and since Atomic energy has arrived

Youth Struck by Auto Not Seriously Injured

William Trower, 8, 790 Upper Belmont, was hit by an automobile driven by Albert Sutherland, Town of Mount Royal, on Grosvenor Avenue, recently. William Trower, a student at Roslyn School, stepped from the front of a parked auto into the path of Mr. Sutherland's car. Unable to stop in time, the auto struck the boy but luckily Trower was not seriously injured.

Westmount Highlights

By GEORGE COCHRANE

It would seem that Arthur Voronka, the raven-haired lad with the pearly white molars, was somewhat off the beam last week when he was trying to tell us the plans that are being made in connection with this year's Award of Honours ceremonies.

Blonde William Milne, vice-president of the Boys' Hi-Y and a member of the Students' Council executive, is one of the lads on the student committee that is preparing plans for the Award of Honour celebrations of 1946. According to William, better known as Bill, grade 11 males will probably (but not definitely) decide who will receive the Old Boys' Association award that goes annually to the boy in his graduating year who, in the opinion of his fellow students, renders the greatest service to the school and best combines the qualities of scholarship, sportsmanship and honour, on Monday, June 3 — not May 31, as Mons. Voronka would have had us believe last week. It has for as long as we can remember always been the custom to choose the award winner on the first Monday in June, so this year's tentative date is following a long established custom.

It is hoped that the graduating class will be able to gather for a banquet at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. on the night of Monday, June 3, to pay homage to the award winner and to kick up a stink for the last time this year.

Here's hoping that the stink won't be too odiferous.

DANCE TONIGHT

The long awaited and much heralded Eaton's Junior Council Sadie Hawkins dance will take place tonight at Victoria Hall.

Starting time is 9 p.m. and if you haven't got a ticket now you might as well give up all hope of attending. Deadline for purchasing the duckets was last Friday. Students from all over the island will be moving their feet to the tunes of the Westernaires Orchestra this evening. It's reported that 400 tickets have been sold. That means that there'll be 800 people, plus another 25 or so gate-crashers, jammed into the Victoria Hall ballroom ce soir. Which means that things will be, to put it mildly, more than somewhat crowded.

ITEMS

Peter "The Head" Farrell and his mob will be gathering in Mike McBean's apartment tomorrow night for a quiet little get-together. . . . Bill Milne threw an open house last Saturday night. . . . John Joseph Junior Pepper is immersed in Freshman exams at Loyola. He'll be studying at the west end college all summer. Bill Coles and Warren Chippendale are back working for the Parks Department. . . . Eric Gregory Swaine, he of Montreal West High, may be out studying agriculture at MacDonald College next year. . . . The date for the Belmont Park celebration has been changed. It's now June 25 — not June 24. For further info, see me.

A publication with the rather lengthy title of "High Students Weekly Review" is scheduled to make its bow to the reading public next Friday. It will contain news of interest (or so the publishers claim) to all Montreal secondary and high school pupils. . . . Present plans call for it to appear weekly until June.

That brings to mind the fact that the Canadian High School News, which has been operating very successfully up in Toronto

The Tarzan serial has been completed. We expect to begin another good serial this week. Just what it will be remains to be seen.

six adult members of the family were able to make their way to safety through the smoke and flames. This timely warning by their pet undoubtedly saved the residence from greater damage. In a plea for appreciation of dogs, the letter continues, "so I pay tribute to the dumb animal we call 'man's best friend', and if this summer our dogs happen to run out without their leash, don't be too hard on them, one can never tell when they might justify their existence the same as our little 'Dusty' did."

Scouts & Cubs

By Reg. Groome

Your scribe paid a surprise visit to the Wold Cub Camp, McAuley, at Hawkesbury, Ont., with the visiting party, consisting additionally of Miss L. Poltrick, Field Commissioner for Wolf Cubs, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Richardson (Mr. Richardson is the Field Commissioner for the Western Area), Mrs. G. W. Leverette of Madison Avenue. All, with the exception of Miss Poltrick, were seeing the camp for the first time and found everything very interesting.

We found the cabins all in good condition as were other buildings. The Recreation Hall has a new balcony which looks very inviting. The Camp will open Friday, June 21st and close Friday, July 9th. We hope all Cubs in this area will take advantage of the change in the opening and closing dates of the camp to arrange at least one week's stay at this fine location.

SEA SCOUTING

Both press radio were well represented on Saturday, when the newly acquired Sea Scout Fairmile Q002 was moved from her berth at the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club to a mooring one half mile off-shore in Valois Bay. Roy Williams of the International Service of the CBC was present, Len Johnson of Dominion Headquarters Publications Staff and yours truly.

Over 50 Sea Scouts, Sea Scouters and visitors were aboard when the ship moved away from the pier and headed up Lake St. Louis. The trip was all too short and it wasn't long before the Fairmile was securely moored to a buoy not far from the S.S.S. Venture property and visitors were conveyed ashore in row boats.

Many of the lads on board ship remained overnight as did Skipper Magnussen who has been appointed in charge of both the Fairmile and the Venture for the summer season which was opened officially on Saturday. Montreal's Sea Scouting is looking forward to a very successful season. Best of luck!

Trinity Players Entertain Vets

Dinner, dance and performance by the Trinity Players of their latest play, "Home of the Brave," was the closing event of the season for the newly formed Veterans' Club at Trinity Memorial Church, held recently.

The evening was the first at which wives of the ex-servicemen had been invited and the elaborate session was a fine tribute to the various organizations of the church, to these men.

Although attendance was satisfactory, the executive had expected an event of this sort would have drawn out many more of the veterans. The play, in itself, which had so recently been running on the New York stage, was a gripping vehicle. Members of the Veterans' Club were grateful to the Trinity Players for the opportunity they gave to see this play.

LOCAL SEA SCOUT CREW GREETED AS FAIRMILE TRAINING SHIP DOCKS

Brought down from Winter quarters at Cornwall by Sea Scouts, mostly Western Area Boys, under R. G. Magnussen, Sea Scoutmaster of Shackleton Troop, as skipper, and A. B. Cooke, district Sea Scoutmaster for Western Area, as navigator, the craft temporarily rested at the main pier of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club at Dorval and was moved down on Saturday afternoon to her mooring opposite the Sea Scout landship "Ventura" where the crew of boys received official welcome.

Weredale Included In City-Wide Treat

Over 10,000 under-privileged children had a grand and glorious time during last week at the Circus at the Forum, aided by Karnak Daddy's Club and various Service Organizations, who co-operated in transportation arrangements. Bill Bryant, Karnak Temple, Chairman of the Show Committee, and Charles Douglas, Chairman for Underprivileged Children, spared no effort to make the gigantic event a tremendous success, from the children's point of view.

During the period, 10,140 handicapped children from University Settlement, St. Michael's Community, St. Anne's Military Hospital wounded veterans who cared to attend, Britannia School, handicapped children only, Devonshire School, handicapped children only, Institute des Sourds-Muets, Mackay Institute, Montreal Day Nursery, St. Arsene Orphanage, School for Handicapped Children, Iverley Settlement, P. Q. Society, Crippled Children, School for Crippled Children, St. Justine Hospital, Shawbridge Boys' Farm, Shriners' Crippled Children Hospital, Institute des Sourds-Muettes, Weredale Home, Lions' Boys Club, Griffintown Boys' Club, Montreal Catholic Orphanage, Grey Nuns Orphanage, St. Patrick's Orphanage, Negro Community Centre, L'Hospice St. Cunegonde, Montreal Military Hospital wounded veterans who cared to attend, Irish Protestant Benevolent Society, Jewish Child Welfare Bureau and Lachine Children's Home.

Montreal City Fire Department provided 20 firemen who carried those most disabled to vantage seats for the performance. An incident of note occurred when four box seats were voluntarily given up for the use of the children by people obviously moved by the sight of so many eager, childish faces of youngsters deprived of normalcy or so underprivileged an event such as this was momentous in their lives.

Westmount Veterans Returned to Canada

Westmount veterans listed as returning to Canada aboard the "Ile de France" this week:

Lieut. R. C. Aikin, 392 Grosvenor Avenue; Capt. R. M. Black, 75 Bruce Avenue; Capt. J. W. McMartin, 4727 Western Avenue; Pte. A. Courtemanche, 228 Greene Avenue; Pte. R. Parker, 211 Murray Street; Pte. M. Poirier, 4298 Dorchester Street; Capt. J. J. Pesant, 25 Rosemount Avenue.

Drive carefully, spring brings out the "SAP."

Fairmile Used By Sea Scouts

By REG. GROOME

Many lads from this area were among the crew which manned the Sea Scout Fairmile Q092 on Saturday, when she was moved from the pier at Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club to a mooring in Valois Bay near Lakeside, where the S.S.S. Ventura is located. Skipper of the ship and the Ventura is Bob Magnussen, of Prud'homme Avenue. He is also Skipper of the Shackleton Senior Sea Scout Crew.

Boys from the Shackleton unit, Montreal West Sea Scouts, and Royal St. Lawrence Sea Scouts, formed the greater part of the crew aboard. Officers present were Messrs. Montreal's Sea Scouting is looking forward to a very successful season and should go far with able leaders. The weather, Saturday, far from being perfect, made the trip a wet one. However, Sea Scouting must be a lot of fun, as evidenced by the 368 boys and 37 leaders who are at present enrolled in Montreal.

The centre panel bears the slim figure of Jeanne Mance, co-founder with Maisonneuve, of Ville Marie de Montreal and foundress of the Hotel Dieu. The third panel depicts Hospitaliers in action tending a patient. Miss Elliott revealed that she felt for many years the story of the women of French Canada was not fairly reported, so set herself to study documents of those times and give the reading public accurate and unbiased history concerning them. She took great pains to understand the women of that by-gone day and said she was very much enriched by the study.

These women, represented to the community, social service workers, nurses and teachers, they were educated women and the cream of France, asserted Miss Elliott. Madame de Bullion, though much maligned, was actually a very good woman, very wealthy, who sent money to Jeanne Mance to support Hotel Dieu and also to support Maisonneuve's soldiers.

Miss Elliott paid high tribute to the kindness and help given her by the various Sisters' Orders throughout the Province, and the minute details they gave her of the women who landed at Ville Marie 304 years ago on May 18 at 9 a.m.

Recalling how the clear skies of Greece, its beautiful scenery and atmosphere had given us the great philosophers and thinkers of those days, Mr. Uzzell said that he felt, and that he was putting into effect a campaign, to create outdoor department stores to sell healthful diversion.

Red Feather Local Review

A Column For The Socially Conscious West End Citizen

Many a lower-Westmount Dagwood has loosened his belt, arisen heavily and left the dinner-table, happy in the demonstrated knowledge that his good woman needs no tips on 'feeding the brute'. What some of the aforesaid Dagwoods don't know—and it certainly doesn't hurt them—is that their better halves need no further tips because they long since acquired them as classes of Montreal's Diet Dispensary.

For more than 20 years, housewives from Westmount and its lower area in particular have wended their way to Dispensary Headquarters on Richmond Square just west of Guy. There they attend talks and demonstrations on cooking given by experts of this Red Feather Service of Welfare Federation and discuss their problems together.

To meet the dietitian in charge, Miss Nan Garvock, is to sell yourself on her central idea: that energy and charm are largely by-products of eating enough of the right food. After 21 years with the Dispensary, she still overflows with confidence in its mission—to teach housewives how to buy and prepare better food for less money.

Between unemployment spreading here and starvation rampant in Europe and Asia, good and economical cooking is a bigger factor in the food picture than ever," she maintains. "Another timely point for people to think about is that the best Spring tonic for healthy people is simply fresh vegetables."

"Teaching wives cooking solves many a marital difficulty," points out Miss Garvock. "Many a wife at our clinics has made the stock observation that she can't get her husband to try new foods. Our treatment for that situation rarely fails. We give the girl a particularly inviting recipe, she cooks and serves it without comment, and hubby's conservatism cures itself with even less comment! We have even had husbands request that we stage cooking classes for them too."

Westmounters have been asking what the Red Feather is. To spike local curiosity before it is stimulated even further by the weekly appearance of this column, an explanation follows.

First appearance of this symbol in history occurred in old Cathay, where placid Oriental philosphers taught that the red feather robe of "hagorama" conferred life everlasting.

The token, appropriately transferred, first appears in the legends of the more troubled West as a badge of courage and generosity which Robin Hood awarded to those of his Merrie Men who deserved it.

In Hungary, Magyar warriors adopted bright red feathers as part of their battledress. There was sound thinking in this, as red is now known beyond all doubt to arouse the emotions more swiftly than any other color. A charging warrior, bristling with red feathers as well as weapons, had extra terror-value.

Then in 1335 the Black Prince began sticking red feathers in the helmets of knights who had shown themselves gallant and true.

In late years the Red Feather became the symbol of the crusade of modern man: the fight against insecurity and the ills of modern society. Its use galvanized Community Chests throughout the U.S. Last year the United Welfare Chest of Toronto adopted it. This year it has been selected by the Community Chests and Federations of Canada as national emblem. A Canadian touch is provided by a dozen maple leaves tring, his successor Col. A. Powis, and District Scoutmaster W. Barry, all present for the occasion.

Grand Howl, Bones and Inspection started the meeting followed by two steamoff games and instruction. Akela and Baloo explained to the visitors what was going on and Calvary wishes to thank the visiting Scouters for their aid in instruction period. Another game was held with two extra sixes formed of the visitors participating and "Suggeema" showed great prowess in being able to whistle with a mouth full of dried cracker.

Baloo then instructed the Pack in the Baloo Dance and, judging by the enthusiasm shown, there will likely be more dances at future meetings. During Red Flower, John Caron was promoted to Sixer of the White Six and some war-time badges were replaced with the regular peace-time material. Miss Jean Swalles, Cubmaster, was presented with her Warrant by Commissioner King.

Cub Silence and the Grand Howl closed the meeting. Refreshments followed during which period the parents chatted with the Scouters. Thanks are extended to Mr. and Mrs. W. Swalles for contributing so much to the success of the evening.

Trinity Pack

The last meeting was held at St. Luke's Church Hall as Trinity Hall was used for other activities.

Sixer Charlie Ancrum of the Grey Six led the opening Grand Howl. After inspection, games and instruction, another game was played and a sing-song was held. Sixer Charlie Ancrum led the closing Grand Howl, following which Dixie cups were handed out, sent over to the Pack from Trinity. The Pack is very appreciative of being able to use St. Luke's Hall to keep up the continuity of the meetings. The following tests were passed during instruction: Compass, Billy Cane; Cleaning Boots, Arthur Chesmer; Message, Walter Monday; Leapfrog, Joe Deighton; Ball Throwing, Joe Deighton, Maitland Hannaford, Bruce McLean, Roy Smith and Bill Hartley; Book-balancing, Bruce McLean; Cleanliness and time-telling, Bruce McLean and Robert Turnbull.

WHAT YOUR HELP MEANS

The distribution of clothing among the peoples of Europe, victims of World War II, has brought to the authorities many touching expressions of gratitude from the recipients, which should be an encouragement to everyone to renew their efforts to keep supplies going.

Few letters more poignantly express the feelings of the people who participated in the use of clothing which the Canadian people sent over last October than this one written by the Nomarch of the Province of Drama, Greece, to the Ministry of Supplies in Athens, a copy of which has been received by the national headquarters in Montreal of the Greek War Relief Fund.

"We beg to inform you of the great task which has been fulfilled by the allocation of clothing gratis to the inhabitants of Dramas Nomos. The naked bodies of the inhabitants of the villages which have been looted and stolen by the Bulgars have been covered by clothing allocated by UNRRA.

"The emotion caused to the inhabitants upon the arrival of the clothing at the village by an officer of your Department of Supplies is indescribable. Young and old people with their eyes fixed upon the sacks rejoicing and deeply touched, were waiting for the opening of the sacks. Cheerful and jolly the ragged children of the Greek population were waiting to cover their naked bodies.

"The distribution began with the day. The village changed its view. One does not see but the dressed children full of joy and the men and women to thank the donors, as they did not forget the heroic people of Greece.

"The distribution of clothing in Dramas Nomos covered 40 % of the population and saved from the cold many inhabitants of the mountainous villages at the frontier.

"The gratitude and sympathy of the people to their donors becomes more and more obvious, and the distribution of blankets and wool surpassed it. Whole families for several months slept the nights near the fireplace for lack of blankets.

"Generally the distribution of clothing, blankets and wool at least in our Nomos constituted the beginning of an obvious love and sympathy of the people to the donors from one side, and from the other the beginning of the life of the inhabitants, as many men and women for months could not come out of their homes for lack of clothing. Signed, The Nomarch, D. Daflos."

This is but one indication of how badly needed is clothing of all descriptions by the people who are suffering from malnutrition and disease in Europe, and to whom any kind of useable clothing will come as a real blessing and life-saver. In order to help meet this need the Canadian Allied Relief Organization, headed by William M. Birks, of Montreal, as National Chairman, will make its second collection of serviceable clothing from June 17 to June 29. Last October Canadians sent over 12,000,000 pounds of clothing, which were distributed free in Europe and Asia, without discrimination as to race or creed. In this campaign it is hoped that Canadians will once again go through their clothes cupboards and wardrobes and set aside what they can spare for collection, and then offer their services to the local committee in their community to help in the drive.

SECURITY ISN'T ALL

We have been thinking of stabilizing profits, keeping a fool from losing his money, society security, ironing out depressions, creating a situation where anybody who remained sober and didn't run off with somebody else's wife was assured of a comfortable old age.

I am not opposed to any of these methods of social security or humanitarian measures. I only say that if your whole thinking is obsessed with the idea of security, the same thing will happen to your industrial structure that happened to the French Army that was obsessed with the idea of the Maginot Line. We must get back to the old economics of opportunity, of taking a chance, which made this country great. — Thurman Arnold.

is a mistake to think that to adopt enlightened policies would cause any loss or damage to the strong or to any one. On the contrary adopting an equitable economic system would be a distinct gain to everyone, everywhere. How strange that so few persons see that a just social order adopted as the result of thoroughgoing education and persuasion would pay well in material and what is more important spiritual values.

The importance of a healthy France to America and to the world is greater than any price tag that can be put upon it. The great gift of France to civilization is the fearless clarity with which Frenchmen — in letters, arts, politics and morals — have pursued the use of human reason to its outermost limits. This gift is imbedded in history and has cost the French much. Yet never has France allowed rationalism to undermine her deeper faith in liberty and in the sanctity of human spirit. It is a good bet that she never will.

What happens in France these next few years is therefore likely to be a key event in the history of modern civilization. If America deserves the role of great power, she will wish to play a part in that event, to fight for the soul of France. France, long the headquarters of Western civilization, is awakening to rejoin the community of nations. It is the most hopeful event since the end of the war.

The Federal Council of Churches in a recent report on "The Churches and World Order" stated in part: "We believe the reparations should be limited to productive capacity, over and above that required to maintain average living standards. Reparation should not be an instrument of vengeance. There should be no enslavement. As stated in the Atlantic Charter, the vanquished should see the possibility of access on equal terms to the trade and raw materials of the world which are needed for their physical and economic well being.

"We cannot condone the punishment of whole peoples. No lasting peace can be built upon revenge or be founded upon oppression. The strong must adopt enlightened policies at some cost to themselves to achieve a reunited world. Only if the treaties afford an opportunity for genuine reconciliation of peoples, will they make possible the development of a creative peace."

"It seems to me that a point of view which too often puts off the day of worthwhile reforms is found in the above quoted sentence, namely, 'The strong must adopt enlightened policies at some cost to themselves to achieve a reunited world.' Surely it

COTE ST. ANTOINE ROAD—PART 8.

The stirring Eighteenth Century seems to have made little difference to the Cote St. Antoine Road. In 1760 Amherst's army, sweeping in from Lachine, largely passed beyond the mountain. The political and social currents ebbed and flowed in and around the town itself—its harbour, and the Quebec road. This little community of farm families on the southern slopes of "La petite montagne" lived their peaceful lives, for the most part in growing prosperity, as the market grew for the produce of their fertile fields.

Early in the Nineteenth Century, however, the district was discovered as a beauty spot. In 1826 Charles Bowman Esq., a Scotch gentleman, bought the upper part of the Lacroix farm, and built a house "Forden", still occupied by his descendants, the Raynes family. The gateway and lodge of this property were a picturesque feature of the Road remembered by many citizens today.

Simon Clarke settled on the land whose street still bears his name.

The establishment of "Monklands" as the Governor's country seat at once threw the Cote St. Antoine Road into prominence. Lord Metcalfe who held the office from 1843 to 1845, gave his name to Metcalfe Terrace—the group of four houses on the lower side of the road, opposite the entrance to the Raynes estate, (two of which are still left.) These were built to house his Aides. The street running up beside them naturally acquired the same name.

The Joseph Leduc farm, having fallen upon hard times, and been sold by Sheriff's Sale in 1845, was bought from the purchasers at that sale by William Murray, whose family owned it until it became the Murray Park, within the memory of all of us. The grey stone house he built, with its square tower, was called "Westmount", and gave its name to the Town.

During this time the road was under the care of the Montreal Turnpike Trust, and had two toll-gates leading into it, one at the present Greene Avenue, and one at Claremont.

Various other country houses of note were built on divisions of the old farms—among them that of the Greenshields family, next to the west of the Clarke property, —and that of Col. Crawford, at Churchill Avenue (first called "Crawford Street".) All of these properties in course of time had their Seigneurial tenure commuted, becoming "Franc alleu roturier", or freehold farms.

In the space of this article it is impossible to go into detail as to the full subsequent development of the Cote St. Antoine Road. As the community grew up, so this artery of its life acquired new features. The little school, first started on Stanton St. (or "Montarville" as it was originally named,) became the Westmount Academy, on the adjoining, much enlarged site; the old Academy being replaced in time by the present Argyle School.

—The later building of St. Paul's Academy, by the Nuns of the Congregation of Notre Dame.

—The little wooden church of St. Mathias, which served its Anglican parish for many years, and was latterly replaced by its beautiful stone building.

—The original wooden Presbyterian church which became the present St. Andrews.

—The new Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, which serves the English Catholic population of the district, (at the intersection with Sherbrooke St.)

—The two Synagogues, Temple Emanu-El, and Shaar Hashomayim (on the Sherbrooke St. section of the old road) being of somewhat recent location here, from their former sites in the city.

The road itself has had the unusual improvements demanded by successive generations. Since 1880 these have been set down in the municipal records. They go through stages of widening, of drains, of sidewalks — some of which subjects evidently roused hot argument among the Councillors and property holders. One item, of the 4th of July, 1877 gives:

"Coun. Macfarlane stated that the cutting up of the Turnpike Road for the laying of gas pipes was contrary to the agreement existing between this Municipality and the Turnpike Trust inasmuch as the Road was left in anything but a satisfactory condition. The Mayor added to this that the blasting that was being done in connection with the same work was being done in a very reckless and dangerous manner and on motion by Coun. Macfarlane seconded by Coun. Bulmer the Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to write to the Secretary of the Turnpike Trust directing his attention to the condition of the COTE ST. ANTOINE ROAD requesting that the Road be put in as good condition as it was before the gas pipes were laid and further requesting him to see that any blasting that required to be done in a manner that shall not be dangerous to the general public. Carried."

At the present time the Cote St. Antoine Road is bordered by houses whose architecture gives examples from every period of its long history. Early French times are shown by the Hurlbise and

John G. Pearce Goes Out West

Commissioned by Very Rev. Kenneth C. Evans, Anglican Dean of Montreal, as a layreader for the Diocese of Athabaska and Caledonia, John Gilbert Pearce, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pearce, 17 Brock Avenue South, Montreal West, left on Tuesday night for Goodwin, in Northern Alberta.

He will assist Rev. Robert Mackie at Goodwin and Rev. Hugh Mortimer at Fort St. John, B.C., and he goes under the auspices of the Fellowship of the West, a venture of Anglican young men to aid the church in Western Canada.

Rev. Canon F. C. Ireland, rector of St. Phillip's Church, made special reference on Sunday, in his sermon, to the missionary work of the church, and particularly to the work John Pearce would be doing as a layreader. Special prayers marked the occasion of the young man's departure as an ambassador of the Lord Jesus Christ in the mission field.

Canon Ireland extended the good wishes of St. Phillip's congregation to Mr. Pearce, who is a graduate of Montreal West High School, served two years with the Canadian Navy, and was a Sunday School teacher and Server at St. Phillip's Church. Mr. Pearce was also a student in Arts at McGill University and received his B.A. degree.

Lambert Leduc houses. The two remaining houses on Metcalfe Terrace speak of early British days. But little later in point of time are the houses at the respective northeastern corners of Argyle, and of Claremont Avenues. Through the steps of the later years, it is easy to pick out the stages as one passes by.

Parish of Notre Dame des Toutes Graces.—Village of Côte St. Antoine.—Town, then City of Westmount.—It is fitting that both the City Hall, and the Soldier's Monument should be here, for this spot is indeed the heart of the Municipality.

To any long resident of Westmount, the memory of youth goes back to the Côte St. Antoine Road as the gayest of highways. In summer it was a favorite drive for all the beautiful horses and carriages of Montreal, besides tandems and four-in-hands; while on a winter evening, it rang with sleighbells, as the great "Kingfishers" dashed along with their load of singing young people, the four or six horses of each almost galloping down the last stretch of their journey around the mountain.

And at its best Their Majesties saw it. The horses had given way to automobiles, but on that beautiful spring afternoon in 1939 the freshly budding trees bent over the road; wildly chattering children banked the entrance of the newly-named King George Park, and the front of their own new Argyle School; while graver citizens shouted just as enthusiastically from the side-walks, and from the grounds of the City Hall.

So, at last, did the Côte St. Antoine Road greet Royalty.

Montreal Salvation Army To Open Financial Campaign For $125,000

The sum of $125,000 is the objective of the Salvation Army Financial Campaign, scheduled to open May 27th and to run until June 12th, it was announced by the chairman of the campaign committee, Leonard W. Townsend following an organization meeting on Monday.

The drive, which is to provide the necessary funds to carry on the work of the Salvation Army for 1947, is being held this year in the spring rather than the fall so as not to conflict with the Community Chest and other appeals.

Eventide Home

The objective has been increased by $25,000 over other years to provide a much-needed addition to the Salvation Army Eventide Home for old people, which is located on Lachine Rd., as well as to finance a heavy social welfare programme. It was pointed out at the meeting that in the present housing shortage there is a very real need for accommodation for aged people in the Montreal area who need help.

Other members of the campaign committee, who were introduced by the chairman, are: T. C. Bowen, chairman special names committee; F. W. Owen, chairman industrial section; Mrs. Q. C. D. Save All Underwear That Can Be Spared

Underwear donated by Canadians in the forthcoming National Clothing Collection, though it may sound trivial, can play an important part in the recovery of war's victims. Yard goods, suitable for making up as underwear, such as flannelette or even old sheeting will be welcomed, especially when accompanied by a package of needles and a spool of thread. A cake of soap, too, is a thoughtful enclosure.

Before June 17th when the Collection begins, search your homes and your hearts for the impoverished peoples of the world. From cellar to attic, from closet to trunk, make it a clean sweep with a purpose—all the clothing and bedding you can spare for our needy allies, in peace as in war. They are relying on us to bring them back from war-borne sickness and despair to conditions of self-sufficiency and well-being.

Never A Borrower

LUCIA MALLORY

"This is my new drawing set, Miss Mallory. I saved my money for it, and it's all my own. I don't owe anybody a penny for it!"

My young friend, Kent Ferris, had come to my desk in the children's library to show me a drawing set he had just purchased.

"That's a good set, Kent," I replied. "And it's a wonderful feeling to be free from debt."

"That's what Daddy says," Kent told me. "If I had borrowed the money to buy it, the drawing set wouldn't have been really mine until I'd paid back what I'd borrowed."

"Did it take very long to save the money for it?" I inquired.

"Not very long," Kent answered. "I just went without some other things because I wanted the drawing set more. Now I can use my allowance to buy some of the other things."

After Kent had gone, I thought how wisely his parents had guided him. I know many adults whose monthly salary is not their own because it is all needed to pay their debts.

Some days later, I met Mrs. Ferris at a club meeting and we walked home together.

"Kent came into the library to show me his new drawing set," I told her. "He was happy because he had been able to pay for it himself. You must be giving him good advice on the handling of money."

"I am glad Kent is gaining some understanding of finances," Mrs. Ferris answered. "Last summer he was well on his way to becoming a confirmed borrower."

"I was sitting on the porch one day with my sewing, when the childer came out of the house with the weekly-allowance money their father had given them."

"Kent owes me ten cents—Kent owes me ten cents," little Ellen chanted.

"Kent owes me a quarter," announced Stephen.

"Kent owes me two quarters," said his older brother, Morton. "Remember, Kent, you borrowed money from me last week and the week before."

"Kent pushed his fist into his pocket and a moment later handed Ellen a dime. 'Now I just have forty cents,' he remarked, 'and I'll need every bit of that if we go to the beach Saturday. I can't pay anybody else this week!'"

"All right," Morton agreed, "but don't forget to pay me next week."

"Don't forget you owe me a quarter, too," Stephen added.

"The children went off to play, with Kent quite unconcerned that he owed more money than his allowance would cover. Something had to be done to help him to obtain a better viewpoint."

"That evening his father and I held a conference. We decided to say nothing about the matter until the following week."

"When it came time to give Kent his allowance again, his father said to him, 'How much of this money belongs to you?'"

"Kent counted the change in the hand held out to him. 'All of it,' he replied. 'My allowance is fifty cents a week.'"

"Then you haven't any debts to pay?"

"I do owe a little money," Kent truthfully answered. "I owe Stephen a quarter, and Morton fifty cents, and I borrowed a dime from Ellen to buy ice cream at the beach."

"How much do you owe altogether, Son?"

"Kent added his debts mentally. 'It's eighty-five cents, Daddy,' he answered, 'and that's more than my whole allowance!'"

"Then your allowance for this week and part of next isn't your own, is it?"

"I—I guess it isn't, Daddy," Kent admitted. "I've never thought about my allowance that way."

"I know you haven't, Son." His father spoke kindly. "That's why we're talking about it now. I want you to decide to stop borrowing, so your allowance will be all your own. I advise you to pay each of the other children five cents a week until all of your debts are paid."

"Kent's eyes brightened. 'Do you mean that I can have thirty-five cents for myself each week and still pay what I owe Daddy?'"

"When you stop borrowing and begin making regular payments on what you owe, you will soon be out of debt," declared his father.

"I'm going to start this week, Daddy," Kent promised, and he kept his word.

"Kent has been a very happy boy," Mrs. Ferris concluded, "since he paid off his debts and stopped borrowing."

Optimist W.A. Reports $573 Given To Camp

During its first-year activities the Women's Auxiliary of the Optimist Club of Montreal contributed $573 towards equipment for the boys' summer camp the Optimist Club is developing at Bromes Mrs. Melbourne S. Hodges, president of the Auxiliary, reported at its first annual meeting.

Mrs. Hodges and her fellow officers were returned to office for another year. Associated with her are Mrs. Leo J. Leclerc, vice-president and chairman of the entertainment committee; Mrs. Arthur T. Donohue, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Hugh A. Crochetiere, chairman of the publicity committee.

A good sale in the uptown store of the Quebec Hydro-Electric Commission, under the convener-ship of Mrs. W. Frank Patterson, and a rummage sale in St. Stephen Church Hall, Westmount, with Mrs. Leslie H. Raper as convener, were the principal means of raising funds for the Bromes camp, open to boys whose parents are financially unable to provide them with summer vacations in healthful surroundings.

In addition to the financial support, the auxiliary inaugurated a drive to obtain pyjamas for boys not equipped for camping. Mrs. Albert Grimstead was appointed convener of this campaign which has realized considerable success to date and is being continued.

Open to wives of members of the Optimist Club, the auxiliary meets at the Windsor Hotel the first Tuesday of each month.

Ostiguy Firm Fine Tradition

More than half a century ago, N. A. Ostiguy, who died a few weeks ago, founded the fur business which is today known throughout the District of Beauharnois, as well as in many sections of Canada and the United States, as the best dealer in furs of all kinds.

Gaston Ostiguy, who has been handling the N. A. Ostiguy store interests since the death of the founder, received his diploma from the American Mitchell Fur Designers of New York in 1939. This diploma places Gaston Ostiguy among the leaders in the fur business in Canada today. This fact, among many others, will assure the many patrons of N. A. Ostiguy store, Victoria Street, Valleyfield, of the best in furs at all times.

No changes have been made in the staff, and with the 20 employees on the payroll throughout the year, the customers are always assured of the best workmanship at the most reasonable prices. This will also permit the firm N.A. Ostiguy to continue to make their own fur garments, which assures their exclusiveness and their quality.

The N. A. Ostiguy firm will continue to assure satisfaction to all

Slow Cooking In Dry Heat Best For A Roast Of Veal

Veal is one of the more plentiful meats at this season, and its delicate flavour blends well with other foods. Early vegetables, which are also mild in flavour are particularly good with veal.

Most people love a good roast of veal, but does everyone know how to cook it? Long, slow cooking in dry heat will cook veal well and still keep it juicy. Experiments have shown that a maintained temperature of 325°F., will do the trick, provided the required length of time is allowed, and 30 to 35 minutes per pound is considered best.

As veal lacks fat, being the meat from an animal not fully grown, an addition of fat will be necessary. Bacon fat, rubbed over the surface of the roast, not only adds fat but a particularly good flavour; occasional basting during the cooking will also help.

For top of the stove cooking, moist heat and low-simmering temperature will tenderize the meat and keep the fine even texture. Boiling temperature tends to make veal stringy. The home-maker who plans to serve veal often will wish to vary the seasonings and accompaniments. Stuffings, vegetables, gravies, while extending the veal will also add flavour to it. The home economists of the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture suggest the following recipes, which were tested in Canada's kitchen and found especially good.

VEAL GOULASH

- 1 1/2 lbs. stewing veal
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 3/4-teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 4 tablespoons fat
- 1 cup sliced onions
- 1/2-cup chili sauce
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 1/2 cups boiling water OR tomato juice
- 1/2 cup grated cheese

Cut veal in 1 1/2" cubes and dredge with flour to which the salt and pepper have been added. Melt fat in Dutch oven or other heavy saucepan, add meat cubes and brown. Add onion, chili sauce, paprika and water or tomato juice. Cover and simmer over low heat for 1 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender. Add water or tomato juice during cooking if required. Just before serving add the grated cheese, stirring until melted. Six servings.

Veal Steak with Vegetable Sauce

- 1-lb. veal steak cut in 6 pieces
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
- 2 tablespoons fat—melted
- 1 1/2 cup water
- 1 can vegetable soup

Dredge meat with flour, to which the salt, pepper and curry powder has been added. Brown meat in hot fat. Add 1/2 cup water, cover and simmer for 15 minutes. Combine remaining cup of water with the vegetable soup and pour over meat. Cover and continue simmering, stirring occasionally, for 1 hour, or until meat is tender. Six servings.

Great Store Set On Marble For Use In The Modern Home

Marble isn't just a Victorian foible that went out of fashion with Grandmother's parasol. Marble is ageless and timeless, as beautiful when old as when first quarried, never losing its everlasting dignity.

Look through your attic or down the avenues where old furniture lurks in dusty lofts, and always—look for marble. Marble is one of the most practical substances with which to work.

Used as a table top it ignores all those things which offend most surfaces. Stains from spilled alcohol, white rings caused by hot dishes, scratches, burns—none of these disasters affects the cool serenity of marble. Even if it is scarred and marred by years of use, marble may still be used.

A marble expert will clean it, remove the stains, repair and polish it. If the edges are chipped, he will re-bevel them into smoothness. If there are nicks or even holes in the flat surface, he will fill them in, and when the slab is polished, you will have trouble finding where the repairs took place.

If you have a large piece of marble and want it cut into smaller pieces for some special purpose of your own, he will cut it to any size.

We saw a coffee table, says a correspondent, which had been made from an old pink marble. The marble had been cut into four 10-inch squares. The squares were then set, like the panes of a window, into a flat frame of blond wood. This made the table top unique, lovely and impervious to wear and tear. A good cabinet maker would be able to design and make such a table for you.

That discarded sheet of pearly gray marble, taken from Grandmother's old dresser, would make an ideal kitchen table top. There's something about the coolness of marble which seems to enhance anything prepared upon it. Pastry may be rolled directly on such a surface without board or canvas cover.

Good Kneading Surface
Bread or roll dough may be kneaded on it and candy worked to smooth perfection. Easy to keep clean and difficult to mar, it makes the perfect working surface.

"Politics" continued the speaker, "represents the relationship between the individual and the state. Serious minded women must recognize the need for government by party groups and must make a study of party programs to determine their personal allegiance."

The work that women did in the war effort gave them a strong sense of achievement and Mrs. MacInnis feared that too many of them would now return to a life of leisure and frivolity ignoring the urgency of reconstruction problems.

The speaker emphasized the necessity for public support for the government's efforts to create tolerable living conditions for all classes of the people. In her opinion the five priorities in this regard should be food, clothing, housing, health and education.

Anglican Advance Notes Many Women Inactive For Church

There are no less than 200 Anglican women over 14 years of age known only to the Census and not to the Church. There are 1000 in the Church, of whom about 150,000 are actively engaged in the definite program of its work. It is the mobilizing of these hundreds of thousands of the women of the Church, within and without its parishes, must take up their part in the Advance, said Dr. Charles Whitton recently. There are two basic explanations, either Faith has failed these girls or women or they have failed Faith. The answer in the first category lies with the Church, in second, in reaching the innermost of the girl or woman herself, letting her answer herself—perhaps, it is the Church's responsibility more than hers. For answer is multiple, there is carelessness, indifference, resentment there is too a certain inability of the Church's own rigidity of program to use many of its women to adapt itself to the fact that every two to three women working over a home, there is one work, long and straining hours outside her home, in factory, office, farm or that post of duty to which it has pleased God call her.

"THAT'S A LOAD OFF MY MIND!"

Mrs. Mason's husband gets his pay in cash. Since he's working all day, his wife banks it for him, and she says she's always jittery 'til she gets it safely there. And her brother, who runs a store, says he worries too about the money from the cash register! Safeguarding your money is one of the prime services rendered by your bank.

What a relief it is when you have deposited your money in the bank! No more worry lest it should be lost or stolen! You need only keep a little ready cash in your pocket or in the house. Bills can be paid by cheque and your cancelled cheque is your receipt.

When the teller hands you your pass book, you glance at the balance and know to a cent how much money you have. You are so accustomed to your bank's accuracy that you seldom bother to check the figures.

The very fact that you—and some 5,000,000 others—take all these conveniences as a matter of course is a daily demonstration of your confidence in the dependability and efficiency of your bank.

Miss Susie Slagle's" Heart-Warming Film

"Miss Susie Slagle's" is the kind of picture that film-goers haven't seen in a long time. It is warm, colorful, and rich with all the magic charm and romance of years when the Twentieth Century was young. The heart-warming film version of the best-selling novel by Augusta Tucker is playing at the York United Theatre until Friday night, starring Sonny Tufts, Veronica Lake and newcomer Joan Caulfield. It brings a popular veteran actor back to the screen, in the role of Lillian Gish. Miss Gish plays the part of a proprietress of a boarding-house for young students and "Miss Susie Slagle's" is the story of these days—their trials and tribulations, their hopes, fears and field—as lovely and talented a young beauty as ever had the good fortune to become a star in her first picture. Miss Caulfield is a graceful blonde with an unusually engaging personality. She is the original "Kiss And Tell" girl from the Broadway stage, and being extremely photogenic, is equally entrancing on the screen. In "Miss Susie Slagle's", Joan plays the part of a young charmer who falls in love and employs all her feminine wiles to hook the man of her heart, portrayed by Sonny Tufts. In doing so, she wins the hearts of those in the movie audience as well, for Joan Caulfield is an ingratiating performer.

Sonny Tufts has his first dramatic role as the doctor who is overwhelmed by the fear of seeing death. Sonny's portrayal is certainly a convincing one and should lead to more dramatic parts. Veronica Lake also reveals her more serious side as the lovely

"The More The Merrier" Sparkling Comedy At Monkland

Co-starring Jean Arthur, Joel McCrea and Charles Coburn, the comedy film "The More The Merrier" is now playing a return visit to the Monkland United Theatre and staying until Friday night.

It's all about a beautiful Washington secretary who decides to do her share towards relieving the housing shortage in that city by renting her spare room. Determined to permit only a woman to share her small apartment, Jean Arthur, as the secretary, finally gives in to Charles Coburn's persuasive arguments and permits him to rent the room — for only one week!

Afraid that things won't work out, Jean's worst fears are realized when Coburn promptly sublets half his room to Joel McCrea, an engineer in Washington on business. Thus forced to share her kitchen and bath with two strange men, Jean goes through a madcap series of hectic and hilarious adventures.

All the time that this is going on, Jean is engaged to a minor executive in one of the Government bureaus. Her fiancée's only claim to fame happens to be that he once had dinner at the White House, but Jean seems to think that this is plenty, despite Coburn's demands that she ditch her future husband in favor of McCrea, a much younger and more romantic type.

The hilarious climax is reached when the F.B.I. steps into the picture after McCrea has been spotted looking out of the windows with his binoculars. Their investigation naturally results in a deluge of publicity and Jean's predicament is soon made clear to her fiancée, although he stubbornly doubts her patriotic motives. Coburn then steps in and straightens matters out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

In addition to the three principals, "The More The Merrier" also includes such talented players as Richard Gaines, Bruce Bennett, Frank Sully, Stanley Clements, Clyde Filmore and Don Douglas in its cast.

New Screen Team Now At Westmount

In line with Hollywood's growing policy of borrowing from current literature in order to improve the quality of its product, a new film hit "Confidential Agent" has been fashioned from the novel of the same name by Graham Greene. The book, it will be recalled, enjoyed an earlier and impressive success in its own right. The film version now playing at the Westmount United Theatre is one more example of how the camera can embellish and improve upon the written word. Co-starring a new and provocative team of screen romancers, Charles Boyer and Lauren Bacall, the picture also boasts an unusually competent company of supporting players, among them Katina Paxinou, Peter Lorre, Victor Francen and George Coulouris.

The film, like the book, is concerned with the dramatic adventures of a Spaniard, Denard (Charles Boyer), an ex-musician, now employed by the Spanish Republican Party as a confidential agent. Ordered to London on a special mission concerning the purchase of large stores of British coal, Denard sets out on an incredible voyage. At the outset he meets Rose Cullen (Lauren Bacall), impetuous daughter of British nobility, who is at first attracted to the mystery surrounding the man, then, later, falls in love with him. Their tenuous love affair is subjected to numerous dangers but grows stronger with each succeeding tribulation. Denard himself encounters beatings, robbery and finally, murder, before his suspenseful journey comes to an end.

Of moral enemies, Denard can claim an abundance. There are Mrs. Melendez (Katina Paxinou), manageress of a small London hotel in which he makes his abode; Contreras (Peter Lorre), a "contact" man attached to the Spanish Republicans; Licata (Victor Francen), suavely treacherous fascist; Captain Currie (George Coulouris), British Army. Ret. and active opportunist; and lastly, the curious Mr. Muckerji (Dan Seymour), ponderous Hindu and follower of a mysterious Far Eastern philosophy. How Denard meets these enemies and outwits them through a series of hair-raising encounters that include at least one brutal attack on his own person, the heartless murder of an innocent little girl who tries to aid him, and a breath-taking pursuit and escape through the labyrinth of blackest London streets, makes for as exciting an evening of entertainment as has come out of Hollywood this season.

Speirs-Miller Revue Is Tops

The "Standing Room Only" sign was hung out again Friday night at Victoria Hall when the Betty Speirs-Peter Miller School of Dancing presented their Spring-time Revue. To say that this show was better than its predecessors would be like painting the lily, but such was the case. From the rising of the curtain on the "Babes of the Wood" in which the tiny tots enjoyed themselves to the limit and on to the final scene of the "Ballet of Spring" by the Senior Group was one long programme of uninterrupted enjoyment.

As is usual with the Speirs-Miller show, variety was the keynote of entertainment. There was never a dull moment throughout, which can be well imagined when Peter Miller had as guest artists Johnny Coy's sister, Patricia Ogilvie, starring in the Highland scene, with Piper Jock Rae in attendance and supported by a background of two lines of the School's best dancers in highland costume.

For exceptional work, but in the top line mention is made of Claudia Lattin, Patsy and Billy Lord, Beverley Houghton, and the two stars of the McGill University "Red and White Revue", Gerry MacKinnon and Moira Wedder- spoon, who did "Song of India" with Mr. Miller.

A smart example of showmanship was "Me and My Shadow" with Peter Miller and his very small partner, Marcia Palmer, which was precision personified, while Jean MacMillan's Irish Jig received an ovation.

Something unusual was added in a group for the boys entitled "Home on the Range". In which these little fellows all dressed in cowboy costume had themselves a grand time. Here was had first taste of Peter Miller's latest discovery, Ben Hannen, who literally pulled the house down in his beautiful singing of "Home on the Range".

In the artistic ballet (choreography by Betty Speirs) mention must be made of Connie Boe for her "Dying Swan", Emily Ann Robertson, Janet Fleming and a very smart artist, Sheila Edwards, who had to do her number "Easter Bonnet" twice to satisfy her audience. Helen Holbrooke's contribution to this number deserves mention. In the Junior classes the outstanding artists were Carroll Guerin, Joan Whitehouse, Sonia Weintraub and Velerie Davies.

Betty Speir's young assistant, Therese Daly, was prominent throughout the evening especially when she teamed up with Mr. Miller in "Stardust" and "Waltz Exotic". This young lady certainly has a future.

Altogether a splendid evening's entertainment, but the entertainment was too long, considering the "Standing Room Only" and other signs around. Suggestion is made Speirs-Miller run their annual recital in two editions because this show is certainly too big to satisfy everyone at one performance.

Stanwyck and Barry Fitzgerald, was shot in Arizona.

Belmont Park Opens Saturday

After two successful preview showings, Belmont Park is now undergoing final touches prior to its official reopening for the 1946 season on Saturday. The park, which operates daily, rain or shine, is the only place of its kind in Montreal that provides the thrills, the laughter, the recreation and relaxation so essential to the tired mind and body.

Mons. Ben Mouton, who hails from Paris, will make his bow to patrons of the park at the gala re-opening. Mons. Ben Mouton will be the Free Outdoor Attraction and will be presented twice daily, Saturday and all next week, at 5 and 11 p.m. He is without doubt a peer in his chosen field of entertainment for he is the only living man who works on the pinnacle of a 160 foot swaying pole, excelling any stunts featured by any other high acts. Once again Stan Wood's orchestra will hold sway in the beautiful and spacious dance pavilion. Plan now to attend the gala re-opening on Saturday.

What Next, Cpl. Hargrove? Successful I. Comedy Sequel

"What Next, Corporal Hargrove?" which is now playing at Snowdon United Theatre, Friday night, Robert Walker returns to the characterization he made famous in the G.I. comedy, "See Here, Hargrove". The consensus opinion is that the sequel is faster and funnier than the original hit.

Having completed a somewhat rigorous basic training, Private Hargrove now emerges a full-fledged combat Corporal with an army battery in France. But at the moment that he makes an unexpected but opportunely-entrance into a liberated village as its hero, his return as a Corporal is marked by a howling episode after an episode, punctuated by his dodging somewhat overwhelming attacks of the mayor's daughter. In his latest adventures, Hargrove involves himself in such predicaments as embedding a truck-drawn gun in a mud-patch, turning the tables on a patrol who have captured him landing in the guardhouse an impromptu visit to Paris, narrowly escaping being taken to the altar by the mayor's daughter. It is all one round of hilarity.

Robert Walker, as Hargrove, is again the typical G.I., affable, plucky, and at all times winning the sympathy of his audience. He is given expert aid in his comedy hit, by the expert work of Keenan Wynn as the artist Mulvehill, and also by Bill Wills, again as the serf who hands out the choicest

Hilda Galt Revue Scores Success

Hilda Galt presented her 10th Annual "One Night of Rhythm" at Victoria Hall recently. The lengthy and efficient program being run through in less than three hours, including a brief intermission.

The programme embraced almost every style of modern dancing as well as some of the established classic models. Miss Galt's pupils, even the smallest, reveal in their work her mastery of method.

The Revue was the most colorful show Hilda Galt has presented. Starting off with "May Wedding" a charming scene featuring the younger stars of the school, "Rhythm on Review", a beautiful Ballet, "Spring Concerto", done in the traditional white ballet costumes, a most entertaining "Hawaiian Paradise" and some brilliant dancing in "Classical Impressions", the Galt Girls were excellent with lovely Hilda Galt in "Fan Fantasy" a spectacular number.

Terry Goodwin again topped all honors with his dancing and singing. Also seen in professional routines were Nancy Telfer, Ann Gregory and Joyce Chiang, three young ladies of whom Miss Galt ought to be proud.

Ted and Vivian Smalley, Barbara Davidson, Julia Anne Holden, Jacqueline Adams also merited special mention. A young group of Hula Honeys — Miriam Wilkinson, Lenore Chesmer, Doreen Lacelle, Pat Thomas, Barbara Millar, Ann Elizabeth Woodcock, Betty Hendry and Joan Paperman invested their work with marked vim.

Shirley and Eunice Porteous, Teddy and Eileen Traynor, Elaine Albert, Elaine Nadler, Carol Shiller, Marilyn Lipsey, Mary Wildig, Carl Rollo, Constance and Beverley Howe, Audrey Edmundson, Rona and Marilyn Gameroff, Anne-Marie and Patricia Zbinden all were very good in various solo routines.

In the "May Wedding" from the Minister, Eric Porteous, the charming flower girl, Jill Everest, to little ring bearer, David Middleton, the Bridesmaids, Patricia Hart, Maureen Thomas, Rochelle Schultz, Cora Cohen, Elaine Nadler, Carol Shiller, Marsha Mendelman, Jane McCann; the Little Guests, Ailsa Nesterton, Beverley Ford, Gayle Barrett, Caroline Cowan, Beverley Murray, Beryl Dawes, Sandra Maskell, Sylvia Harrison, Frances Creswell, Doris Tohmo, Caroline Quom, Carol Packer, Robin Hayward, Shirley Jermone, Jean Dick, Phyllis Rosenberg and David Middleton. The Guests at the Wedding, Monique Dufresne, and Beryl Light, all contributed to a wonderful theme.

The Beautiful Galt Girls included

Hilda Galt, Doris McHardy, Pat Davidson, Barbara Cornell, Dorothy Turner, Gladys Lemieux, Dorothy Jarvis, Fern Vary, Terry Gimpel, Kay Gimpel, Nellie Brumby, Julia Anne Holden and Shirley Porteous.

The hard working musical accompanists were Madge Dawson, Ozzie Goldman and Harold Morris at the Pianos and Lee Carlen at the Drums.

Children's Play Stars Juveniles

Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp, romantic and intriguing story of the Far East, will be presented at Victoria Hall on Saturday afternoon, by Montreal's talented group of juveniles, The Children's Theatre, directed by Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters. This performance marks the closing of the 13th season of the Children's Theatre, and their 32nd major production, no effort being spared to create the atmosphere of the mystic Orient.

The play takes place in Bagdad, and boasts a beautiful palace, an enchanting cave wherein Aladdin discovers the wonderful lamp and, to add to the fun and merriment, there is a talking camel.

George Kasatchenko portrays the role of Aladdin, Ellen Reicher as the Princess, Lois Adestein as Aladdin's mother, Chas. Miller as the mysterious magician from Morocco, Bill Shatner as the Wazier, Constance Bronstein as Scheherazade, the story-teller, Beatrice Picard as the Slave of the Lamp, Mark Schleiffer as the Slave of the Ring, and other talented members of the Children's Theatre will be seen as merchants, beggar-boys, street-singers, ladies-in-waiting, and the many dancers in the Cave of Jewels.

With a cast of over seventy children, especially designed colorful costumes, beautiful scenic effects, Oriental music and dancing, a delightful afternoon is in store for Montreal's younger set.

Senior softball will make its peacetime debut at Westmount Park on Monday night, when Hank Henson's Staynor nine take on Dougie Alexander's Cardinals. This will be the opening tilt of a 45 game schedule carded by the senior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League.

The other four clubs in the circuit will see action before the week is out with the Westmount Police and Fire Department meeting Norm Harris' Swans on Tuesday night while on Wednesday night, the old rivals, Dodgers and Royals will meet. All six teams will see action on Thursday evening, Cardinals will meet Swans, Staynor will play Royals while Westmount P. & F. will take on Dodgers.

For the rest of the season there will be two games each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

SCHEDULE

A complete schedule for the season is as follows: Mon., May 20—Staynor vs Cardinals; Tues., May 21—Police & Fire vs Swans; Wed., May 22—Royals vs Dodgers; Thurs. May 23—Cardinals vs Swans, Staynor vs Royals and Dodgers vs Police & Fire; Mon., May 27—Police & Fire vs Staynor and Royals vs Swans; Wed., May 29—Staynor vs Dodgers and Swans vs Cardinals; Thurs., May 30—Royals vs Police & Fire and Dodgers vs Cardinals; Mon., June 3—Swans vs Dodgers (Continued on Page 17)

QRFU Team Holds Meet

The Westmount junior football team, still in its infancy, made a few more progressive steps at an executive meeting held at Victoria Hall on Monday night. Prospective persons for honorary members were chosen and these persons will be contacted as soon as the club's stationery is prepared for the season.

The club is still without a president but hopes are held out that a prominent football person will accept the post. If the person in mind takes over, the club will have one of the most experienced men in the city for the position.

Herb Priestman was named as treasurer of the organization while Art Mann accepted the position of secretary. Two vice-presidents have yet to be named.

One of the most perplexing of the problems facing the club is dressing room facilities.

Another meeting is planned for two weeks time, Tuesday, May 28, when it is hoped to have everything ready for a campaign to raise funds to finance the team.

Putters Club to Hold Final Meeting Monday

The Westmount Putters Club will hold their final meeting of the season this Monday night at Victoria Hall. As planned, the group will finish up with a bang and refreshments will be served.

The group has had a very successful season and the attendance kept up very well throughout the winter months.

Once the putting greens get into shape, the members will be out on the nine hole putting course at Westmount Park sharpening up their "shooting eye" for the weekly tournaments which were so popular last year.

Programme For Week

The following is a programme of events planned by the recreation division of the Westmount Parks Department for the coming week. Residents of Westmount are urged to participate in these events either in a participant or spectator role.

Friday, May 17 — Pee wee and bantam softball games at Westmount Park in the afternoon; midget game at night.

Saturday, May 18 — Pee wee bantam and midget softball in morning at Westmount Park; senior softball teams practice in the afternoon; cricket club practice in afternoon; bicycle club trip to St. Rose, start Victoria Hall 2.30 p.m.

St. Leo's Bantams Meet Dodgers This Afternoon

With a break from the weatherman, most of the games in the bantam section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League will be completed by the end of next week. This afternoon Dodgers and St. Leo's will clash while tomorrow two more games are on the bill. Panthers and Dodgers will meet at 9.30 a.m. on No. 3 diamond in a four point game while Cardinals and Hurricanes will clash on No. 4 diamond at 10.30 a.m.

On Monday afternoon Panthers and Cardinals will meet at Westmount Park. A twin bill is slated for King George Park on Tuesday afternoon, St. Leo's will meet Dodgers in one tilt while Hurricanes will clash with Cardinals in the other encounter. The final two games of the week will see St. Leo's take on Panthers on Wednesday May 22 while Dodgers will play Hurricanes on Thursday, May 23.

One postponed game between St. Leo's and Hurricanes has yet to be played but it will probably be played off before these games have been completed.

In the only two games played last week St. Leo's took two from Cardinals, winning one 2-7 and the other by the default route.

The first four teams in the section standing at the end of the schedule will meet in the playoffs.

Westmount 3rd In Swim Meet

Westmount Boys' Brigade natators didn't do as well as was anticipated in the Boys' Brigade swimming meet held in the Montreal High pool last Saturday.

The Junior Trophy went to the 7th Maisonneuve Company and the only points that Westmount garnered in this section were the result of Bryer Rice placing third in the breast stroke and back stroke events.

The Senior Trophy was won by 11th St. James Company whose captain, Jack Yeuille, lives on York avenue, Westmount. The Westmount company tied for first in the senior section but lost the deciding relay.

The Colonel Dean Trophy for aggregate points also went to the 11th Company, who compiled an impressive 16-point total. Westmount finished third in the final standings with three points less than the leaders.

Pee Wees Will End Schedule Next Wednesday

Tornados Lead Midget "A" Softball Loop

Two midget "B" games were played last week, Tornados beat Richard Lord's Tornados are winging away in front of the midget "A" teams in the Westmount Municipal Softball League. The Tornados have racked up eight wins without a single defeat. The main battle in the section is to find out which team, St. Leo's or Tigers, will make the other playoff berth.

In the only game played last week, St. Leo's edged out Tigers 9-6. All the other tilts were washed out.

The clubs have resorted to some night games in order to catch up with the postponed fixtures and Tornados will play St. Leo's tonight at Westmount Park. Tomorrow morning St. Leo's and Tigers will meet in a twin bill that will probably decide the final standing of the section. This will bring the schedule to a close but a couple of postponed games remain to be played. St. Leo's bantams 24-4 while Panthers bantams were ahead by a count of 18-5 over Corvettes when rain halted the game. On Wednesday St. Leo's bantams will play Corvettes and on Thursday Tornados will end up the schedule by playing Panthers.

Pee Wees Will

The pee wee schedule is slated to end this week. This afternoon Aces will play Spitfires. Tomorrow morning three games are on the bill at Westmount Park, all at 10.30 a.m. Spitfires will play Rovers on diamond No. 2. Aces will play Reds on diamond No. 4 while Hawks will play Bombers on diamond No. 3. The final game of the schedule will take place on Wednesday afternoon with Mustangs and Flyers battling it out for first place in the "B" group.

The first four teams in each of the groups will meet in the playoffs with the winners of each group meeting for the title.

Bike Club Plans Another Jaunt

The Westmount Municipal bicycle club will make another trip into the country tomorrow afternoon with St. Rose scheduled as the terminus of the tour. The group will leave the front of Victoria Hall at two o'clock. In the event of bad weather and the trip is called off, it will be held on Sunday afternoon instead, leaving from the same place and at the same time.

Newcomers are especially invited to join in the ride. A trip will take place each Saturday or Sunday afternoon until the evenings get a little longer and then there will be mid-week trips as well.

Any information needed on the club may be obtained from Recreation Supervisor Jim McCormick at FI. 1929 or by phoning Miss Phyllis Hiron at WA. 6983.

Miss B. Anderson Begins Duties

Miss Bernice Anderson, lady playground supervisor at the Staynor playground, started her parttime duty last week. Miss Anderson will be on the playground each afternoon after school until six o'clock. Once school is finished, Miss Anderson's duties, like those of the other lady supervisors, will start in the morning and run right through all the afternoon period.

Lady supervisors in Westmount and Prince Albert parks will not start until June 1.

Ambitious plans have been lined up for the playgrounds this summer including a survey of the number of children attending the playgrounds. Children on the playgrounds and residents of Westmount will be invited to participate in this survey as a house-to-house canvass will be made to ascertain the number of children attending the playgrounds. It is felt that many parents are not aware that a programme is run off in the playgrounds for the children, otherwise they would have them attend the "summer clubs" at Westmount, Staynor or Prince Albert parks.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

BY WINIFRED E. WILSON

Sparrows

To most Canadians the word "Sparrow" means just one thing—the City or English Sparrow. This is a great pity. According to the most up-to-date authorities our commonest bird is not a true Sparrow at all. Furthermore, it is an alien and not a good Canadian, having been imported nearly a hundred years ago. But a third reason overtops the others. If you are not acquainted with some of the bona fide members of the Sparrow family you have missed a great deal of pleasure.

This group is very large, including such diverse birds as the Snow Bunting and the Grosbeaks, but all with the conical bills of seed eaters. However, if we restrict ourselves to only a few of the best known ones which are actually called "Sparrow", we still have plenty of chances for enjoyment.

The Song Sparrow lives up to its name. An inveterate singer, it is one of the earliest of the migrants. Its voice may often be heard before the snow is well gone. It sings throughout the day, and frequently pipes up even in the middle of the night. Each individual has its own special song, which having learned we have no difficulty thereafter in recognizing. In this way it is possible to keep track of a certain Song Sparrow not just for one season but for several years.

Sometimes we hear what at first seems to be the buzz of an insect, but which later decide must be the voice of a bird. Perhaps it is the insect-like little song of the Grasshopper Sparrow, somewhat a rarity in Canada. But it is more apt to be the sound made by the Savannah Sparrow, in which case we will be undecided whether the musician be near or far, for he is a ventriloquist. If close, we will hear the "Tsp-tsip-you" that introduces the buzz, and the final syllable "you".

The beautiful White-crowned Sparrow with its lovely song, the friendly little Chipping Sparrow, and the aristocratic Tree Sparrow should not be left off our list. But the White-throated Sparrow has one of the most wonderful songs of our northern woods. The tone is pure and clear. Whether heard from a distance or near at hand we are able to make out the exact words, "Sweet, sweet, Canada, Canada, Canada." Surely this bird should be our national symbol.

Do warblers warble?

Recreation Precautions

Greater safety in swimming, bathing, boating and other water sports with the importance of learning to swim will be one of the chief campaigns to be launched shortly for water safety according to a statement issued by the Province of Quebec Safety League.

During 1945 most of the lives lost could have been saved if proper care had been taken and now was the time to make as certain as possible that the toll of unnecessary death would be halted in its present shocking rise declared the League.

The League in an appeal to the public requests that all observe one or two safety precautions in never swimming alone; before diving make sure the water is deep enough and there are no hidden rocks; use a boat, rope or pole to help a person who is in distress in the water; pay strict attention at all warning signs; stay out of the water during a thunderstorm; wait until you have cooled off and your food has digested before going into the water.

Church Softball League To Meet Tonight At 8.00

The church section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League will hold a meeting Tuesday at the office in the greenhouse. Four young peoples' group have stated their intentions of entering teams namely Calvary, St. Andrews United, Westmount Baptist and Church of the Advent.

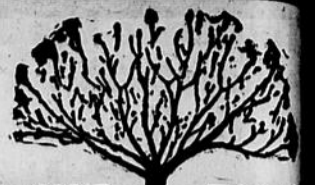

In all probability games will be played each Tuesday evening at Westmount Park with two games slated for each week. Present plans are to have the teams composed of six boys and three girls. The ruling will probably state that no more than six boys can be used at any one time so that more than three girls can get in the game if necessary.

Also in mind is the idea to have each of the groups act as hosts once a month and at the conclusion of the games, all of the teams will go to that church and participate in social recreation for the rest of the evening. Other forms of entertainment are also envisioned for the group.

If any other churches, other than the four mentioned above, are interested in entering the league, it is asked to have a representative at tonight's meeting which is called for 8.00 o'clock. The greenhouse is situated directly behind Victoria Hall and is in Westmount Park. Information may be obtained from Recreation Supervisor Jim McCormick at FI, 1929.

One portion of Lake of the Woods county, Minn., cannot be reached by land without going through Canada. It lies nearer the North Pole than any other section of the United States.

one reason why
132,000 Borrowers Preferred the B of M in 1945

There are a lot of reasons why 132,000 Canadians chose to borrow for personal purposes at the Bank of Montreal last year, just as there are a lot of reasons why well over a million people choose this bank as their depository.

Perhaps the most important reason is that, here at the Bank of Montreal, they can obtain personal loans at the lowest cost.

Nowhere can you borrow more cheaply or on more favourable terms than at the B of M. And nowhere will you find formality and red tape so cut away.

Because of the low cost, convenient terms, and the friendly, helpful approach of our people, you, too, will enjoy dealing with the B of M when you have need to borrow money.

A point to remember is: when you ask for a loan at the B of M, you do not ask a favour.

Direct From Hollywood

By Jack Hirshberg

HOLLYWOOD, May 16.—Conversation in Hollywood these days centers largely on Darryl Zanuck's decision to hold production on "Forever Amber" until next autumn, thus scrapping four weeks' work and raising the question whether Peggy Cummins will still be Amber when the cameras grind again.

Since most Hollywood columnists rushed into print with highly conflicting stories, it is easy to understand the public's perplexity. So we drove over to Mr. Zanuck's balliwick to day in search of some facts.

Production on the technicolor film has been halted twice before due to illness of Peggy Cummins, the English lass cast as Amber. There was, in addition, ill feeling between director John Stahl and members of the cast with whom he quarrelled. Results of this unpleasant association were all too evident in many of the scenes already filmed.

Rather than release an inferior film, Zanuck fired Stahl and tabled production five months. Miss Cummins has been given the starring role in "Bob, Son of Battle," and on the quality of her performance in this new assignment hang her chances of playing Amber when filming of the Kathleen Winsor novel resumes in September.

Zanuck's bold action will cost his studio over $350,000, for that sum has already been spent on scenes which will now be scrapped. And Hollywood wags are quipping that the picture should be retitled "Forever and Ever and Ever Amber"—due to the constant production delays.

SHORT TAKES

Although Bing Crosby and Joan Fontaine will spend three weeks at Jasper Park in June shooting "The Emperor Waltz," Bing tells me he has no intention of visiting the Calgary Stampede as reported by The Canadian Press. . . Paramount designer Edith Head will accompany Miss Fontaine to Jasper, and then travel on solo to Montreal in search of Canadian inspiration for Hollywood styles. . . Crosby celebrated his 45th birthday this week, and was presented by Bob Hope with a 100-candle birthday cake! . . .

Toronto's Mari Alden, a blond with plenty of talent, is setting the Hollywoods afire. She completed one role in ill-fated "Amber" last week and is currently at RKO doing a spot in "What Nancy Wanted" . . . Social note: While John McClain, a writer, was doing the rumba at Ciro's last night his false teeth came loose and clattered to the floor. His female companion no doubt made some biting remarks! . . . There are rumors of divorce in the Tyrone Power-Annabella household, but thus far they're only rumors. . . Joan Leslie is trying to break her contract with Warner Brothers. They made her a star. . .

Dudley Nichols will bring Eugene O'Neill's "Mourning Becomes Electra" to the screen at RKO. The same studio is costarring Cary Grant and Shirley Temple in "Bachelor and Bobby Sox" . . . Engaging figures: Paramount purchased screen rights to "State of the Union" for $500,000, and each minute of David O. Selznick's "Duel in the Sun" cost the producer $36,645 to film. . . Jimmy Dunne stopped a golf ball with his head this week and was unconscious 20 minutes. A bump grew in Brooklyn. . .

Mary Beetles Revue Is Hit

The Kinsmen Club of Montreal presented the annual Mary Beetles "Spring Revue" at His Majestys' Theatre on Saturday in aid of the Rosemount Boys' Club, to an enthusiastic audience. The program was full of color and talent and held interest of the audience from beginning to end.

"Gateway to Toyland" featuring pupils of Elaine Charbonneau and Nancy Saunders, assisted by Frances Husband, showed what can be done by good training, as it ran with precision rarely seen in dance recitals. In this section as soloists were: Ann Lea, a tiny tot, with all the confidence of a seasoned dancer; Graham, Gordon and Wallace Siple who portrayed character parts without a falter and Louise Perrault, Elizabeth Gloutnay, Vera Leopold, Sybil Schecter, Rita Steinberg, gave excellent performances.

A series of Seven Variations featured advanced students and teachers of the school, outstanding were the Saunders sisters, the Ashen sisters and a pretty ballet of five, featuring Claire Gill and Mary Saunders. Nancy Saunders, Elaine Charbonneau, Frances Husband, partnered by Pat McAsey, all excelled themselves in a colorful ballet climaxed by an adagio by Jeanne Rodier and Desmond McDermott. Jeanne Rodier, ballet mistress and dance director again showed her clean work and fine line in arabesque. An original ballet by Mary Beetles, "The Pearl Maiden" in three parts, with choreography by Jeanne Rodier followed. Outstanding dancers were Beverly Mellen, Joyce Lamb, Michelle Lavoie, and Derek Shaw.

Desmond McDermott's portrayal of the wind supported by a corp de ballet as storm and surf, gave a most realistic performance. Ann Holland, another featured dancer, performed a very difficult routine combining acrobatic toe with ease and precision. Anne Beck, Elsa Hyeden and Williscroft all danced smartly. The third scene featured stances Bornstein, Marilyn, Judith Lennon, Maureen Don, Darlene Boa, Patsy Parsons, Carol Thomas all danced exceptionally well.

Two highlights were the first to Gateway to Toyland and end of the performance, musical background was furnished by the orchestra, under Kofman, with Mary Iw A.T.C.M. and Joyce B. Smith at the piano. As usual this Revue the costumes outstanding, designed entirely by Mary Beetles, they were really able for their design and

DR. BAKER'S COLUMN

HINTS on House Training

Training a young dog is largely a matter of understanding. It is good training for the master too. It teaches patience, control and perseverance.

A dog's main ambition is to do what his master wishes. Once a master realizes that he will be successful in his efforts.

A sharp word to express disapproval, emphasized with the lightest tap of a newspaper, is all that is needed by way of correction. Severe beating will only frighten the dog, take his mind off his lesson and make him the harder to train.

This advertisement is approved and endorsed by THE SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

"Listen, Pal! . . . the only thing you do not do is talk, but the one thing you can do better than anyone else is listen.

"Out of the hundreds of species of animals created by nature, your ancestors were the only ones to come to man to be his friend and to love him.

"What do you see in me, old fellow, to worship and adore? Where do you get your unselfishness and loyalty? Why would you lay down your very life for me and those I love?

"Yes, pup, I owe plenty to your forebears and, through you, old pal, I am going to pay it back."
