

Roadway for Queen under construction

Preparations for the Queen's visit to Westmount got underway this week when city workmen began to carve out a roadway in front of the city hall, to accommodate the Royal entourage.

Assistant city manager Norman Dawe said that all the ceremonies of the city hall visit would take place outside, so that the greatest number of spectators would benefit.

Her Majesty will sign the Golden Book, and be presented with a silver maple syrup jug specially designed for the purpose, he stated. The motif consists of the city's coat of arms, the provincial fleur-de-lis and the national maple leaf, signifying the three levels of government.

He added that the city will try to secure permission to supply the Royal household with one gallon of maple syrup each year.

Extra fire and police personnel have been called upon for June 25 from Verdun, Town of Mount Royal, Lachine and Outremount, Dawe stated.

"This will be the furthest point west in the Queen's Montreal tour. We're going to need every extra man we can get to line the route," he pointed out. "All the councils of these municipalities have been very helpful and will give us as many men as they can spare."

The Royal entourage enters the city at 3.21 p.m., and will reach City Hall at 3.26 p.m.

"McGill weather records show that June 25 has been an uncertain day for the past eight years," said Dawe. "Curiously enough, June 24 and 26 are usually fine. But we're taking the added precaution of having a canopy erected."

There will be a fireworks display the night of June 25, the location of which will be decided at Monday's council meeting.

6-month incubation period for rabies, Rotary is told

An animal, discovered to be rabid, would probably have contacted rabies six months earlier, according to Dr. G. T. Labelle, District Veterinarian, Health of Animals Division, Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Labelle, who was addressing members of Westmount Rotary at the club's weekly luncheon-meeting, stressed that a vaccination is not in itself sufficient since the effects will allow the animal a 30-day "unaffected" period in which rabies may be contracted.

He stated that the main cause of rabies is contact with wild life. "There are many methods," he added to reduce this wildlife — snares, traps, shooting and poisoned baits. But many domesticated animals still come into contact with wildlife when they are taken to the country or similar places.

"If a dog seems rabid," he continued, "the case should be reported promptly while still fresh in the owner's mind. An immediate investigation may be conducted if the animal is still alive and immediate control measures taken to confine the disease."

Dr. Labelle recommended that the animal should not be destroyed unless absolutely necessary. "If the animal is shot," he explained, "the brain is destroyed, making it impossible to verify or disprove the presence of rabies."

Speaking about treatment for rabid bites, Dr. Labelle stated that no more than 48 hours should elapse between the time of the bite and the treatment. "A cure for a rabid bite is often worse than the bite itself," he said.

Concluding on this note, Dr. Labelle reminded his audience that rabies can be prevented, but not cured.

Columbus Jets pitcher is ex-Westmounter

A tall loose-limbed 20-year-old pitcher who 10 years ago won a City of Westmount athletic award blew into town this week with the Columbus Jets.

Dick Lines, now of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, is the son of former Detective George Lines of the Westmount Police Department. Before leaving Westmount 10 years ago, he lived with his family at 374 Lansdowne avenue, and attended King's School.

The young southpaw doesn't remember too much about his old stamping ground, beyond the fact that he was as interested in sports as he is now.

Now, back in Montreal for the first time in eight years, he recalls more of his Richmond, Virginia background (he lived there for nine years after leaving Westmount).

"I went to Richmond High School, and that's where most of my friends are, outside of people I meet in baseball," he says. Lines started playing baseball seriously at the age of 13, and went into the professional field from high school.

His roommate at the present time is Paul Giel, former All-American football player.

Signed by the Pittsburgh Pirates, he played his first summer with the Clinton, Iowa, team, moving up last year to Lincoln, Nebraska. This year's stint with the Columbus, Ohio, Jets is still another move up the ladder, and Lines hopes to make the Pittsburgh club next year.

Although his father takes a keen interest in sports, baseball wasn't one of his main interests until he saw his son play for the first time recently in Miami. "They didn't stand in my way when I wanted to sign for a team right out of high school," Lines recalled.

Winter is the toughest time for a young baseball player, Lines feels, as he must find a temporary job. After his first summer as a pitcher he went to Mexico for the winter baseball season there.

"I don't speak a word of Spanish and they didn't know too much English, so I had a pretty difficult time," he stated.

Last year he worked in a long time, on the theory that Richmond office before heading he travels fastest who travels south for spring training alone.

Still single, Lines says he intends to remain that way for a concluded.

 Drury announces

Chipman H. Drury of Westmount, chairman of the recent Salvation Army Campaign for $300,000, announced a cash-in-hand total of $232,982 at a luncheon Monday.

The luncheon, attended by officials and workers of the campaign, was held in the new Salvation Army Men's Hostel, corner of Guy and St. Antoine streets, which was officially opened by Commissioner W. Wycliffe Booth later in the afternoon.

Drury stated that he had every confidence that the $300,000 goal would be reached when the outstanding canvassing cards were returned. He also pointed out that the amount asked of the public in support of the Salvation Army is a very small part of its expenses.

"This year's budget was one-and-a-half million dollars," he stated. "It is remarkable that only $300,000 of this is required from public donations." Other funds are derived from the salvage operation and any payments received on food and lodging.

Brigadier Tom Murray, officer in charge of the old Alexander street men's hostel, who will fill the same post in the new building, spoke briefly.

"The men's hostel has progressed far beyond a soup kitchen and a flop house," he said. "Rehabilitation of the men who pass through here is one of our biggest aims. Already this new hostel has been responsible for placing three men in permanent jobs; it's wonderful to see the physical and spiritual lift that comes to these men as they be-school and about 5,000 other school children in the city. Objective this year is $25,000 which will go to the upkeep of the school and the camp at Ayres Cliff which opens for six weeks on June 30 and is under the direction of Murray McFarlane, director of physical education at West Hill High School.

Volunteers to help build camp

Weekend work parties from various men's organizations in the city will descend upon the School for Crippled Children's summer camp at Ayres Cliff, Quebec, to build new cabins and come responsible citizens."

He recalled the work done in the old Alexander street hostel, comparing the men who had been rehabilitated there to "trophies of grace who remain with us even though the old building will disappear." "We are most anxious that the men at Alexander street, even the disreputable ones, come with us to the new building," he concluded.

Commissioner W. Wycliffe Booth, grandson of the founder of the Salvation Army, William Booth, pointed out that nearly one-third of the men in the hostel were there due to ill health causing them to lose their jobs. He referred to them as "victims of the union system" because they could not be employed on a part-time basis while getting back their strength.

an addition to the infirmary in preparation for the camp opening on June 30.

Thirty members of the Montreal Rotary Club and No. 306 Wing RCAF Reserve, Westmount, will be building a staff cabin at the camp this weekend. Building materials were provided from Rotary and Easter Seal funds.

On June 6, employees of the Montreal Star will start the cabin they are donating to the camp. On June 13 members of the Montreal Westward Rotary Club will start a new addition to the infirmary.

The camp which will accommodate 120 crippled children for six weeks is under the direction of Murray McFarlane, director of physical education at West Hill High School.

Proceeds from the annual tag day for the School for Crippled Children on Friday with its objective of $25,000 will go on to the upkeep of both the camp and the school.

Driver is trapped in overturned car

Two men were injured in an auto accident which occurred early Saturday morning opposite 4173 Western avenue, near Greene avenue, following which the Westmount Fire Department was called in to release one of the men trapped under his overturned Hillman Minx.

Hurt were Andre Anotil, 25, 1882 Denonville, a passenger in the auto driven by Morris Barrons, 36, of 1158 St. Mark street, and John Paliez, 34, of 4185 Sherbrooke street west, who was in the overturned car.

Morris Barrons told police he was driving west on Western avenue and was passing No. 4173 when another car proceeding east cut in front of him.

School assessment
 rate rises by 5%

The annual survey by the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal to equalize the assessment system of Westmount with that of the City of Montreal has now been completed, bringing this year's increase to 42%.

Last year the Board increased the local assessment level of Westmount by 37% to achieve equalization with the City of Montreal.

Since then the City of Montreal has deposited a new roll and a study of this roll reveals that it is at a higher value level than the previous one.

This together with the fact that certain readjustments to the Westmount assessment roll have taken place in the ensuing year, accounts for the assessment rise.

Interest wanes in philately

INTEREST in the collecting of postage stamps in the local area appears to be on the downgrade, particularly among juniors. Where the junior section of the club once boasted 140 members, there are now five.

This is unfortunate, for in addition to an excellent hobby, the saving of stamps is a great teacher of geography and of history.

Kings and commoners alike down the years since the advent of the postage stamp have enjoyed collecting them.

Perhaps Postmaster General William Hamilton, no stranger to Westmount, might come up with some development to increase interest in the hobby here, particularly among the juniors. The Westmount Stamp Club holds its annual meeting next week.

Quebec product for the Queen

WESTMOUNT'S official gift to The Queen on her visit here next month will be a maple syrup jug of silver. The engraved design, it is announced, will include maple leaves, fleur-de-llys and the crest of the city of Westmount. The crest, topped by a mural coronet, with a sun, two roses and an escutcheon bearing the Raven of St. Anthony, is an attractive one.

In addition to this gift, the city is seeking permission to be allowed to forward maple syrup to Her Majesty each year.

The gift is an excellent one, highlighting as it does, a product of Canada and if the Royal children are fond of pancakes, it should get a lot of use.

United minister expresses thanks

Sir:

I write to express by appreciation of the generous spirit which led you to give such prominence to me and my career as you have done in your recent issue.

Your staff member has certainly made the most of such materials as she was able to find, and I pay tribute not only to the way she has put the story together, but to the sympathetic and gracious manner in which she conducted her interview.

If she is a type of the group of associates which you have gather around you, it is no wonder that The Examiner has taken on a new lease of life.

Plate N' Penny drive success

Sir:

On behalf of the Kiwanis Club of Montreal, I would like to express formally to you our grateful thanks for the great assistance which was given to our Plate 'N' Penny Campaign by you and your paper.

The campaign turned out to be a very satisfactory one indeed and it was made possible only by the very kind assistance of such people as yourself and because of the personal interest which so many people took in it.

As a result, funds were raised which will allow us to contribute substantially to welfare work in the city and we extend to you our grateful thanks for your help.

Yours sincerely,

OLD SONG RESUNG

Some time ago a vegetarian group protested against a new version of "Mary had a little lamb," in which her father killed, cooked, and ate the lamb. A still newer version runs: —

Mary had a Brussels sprout,
Its fleece was green as grass.
She hitched it to a bit of string,

The silly little ass.
From week to week, from month to month,

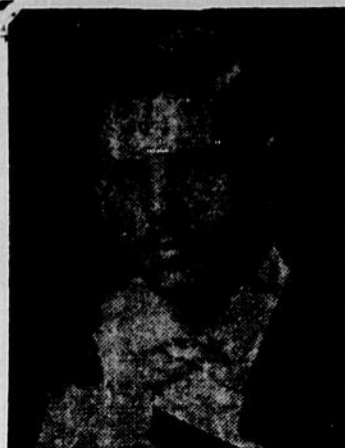

She kept the sprout in tow.
And everywhere that Mary went

The sprout was sure to go.

Louise Robertson, student at Roslyn School, and niece of Miss Robertson, King's School teacher, won a prize for an essay submitted to the Royal Commonwealth Society recently. There were more than 2,000 entries from different schools.

At the annual Empire Dinner held at the Ritz Carlton, the Hon. Francis E. Cumming-Bruce, CMG, stated "The Commonwealth situation is a great achievement in world politics. There are many countries of the Commonwealth which do not share common origins or common allegiance and we are not all bound together by ties of race, color, or religion. However, in some countries within this group of nations, the Crown is respected more as a symbol of unity than as a real and personal object of loyalty. In the intense struggle for the future of mankind, at present focussed on Geneva, but continuing year after year, the ideals of the Commonwealth will have a vital influence."

Mr. Cumming-Bruce is the great-grandson of the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, a famous Governor General of Canada. Head table guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John G. Harper, Mrs. J. C. Manson, Dr. G. Stuart Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. J. Batra, Mr. and Mrs. Alex S. Keiller, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. C. B. Price, Very Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Dowker, Mr. and Mrs. F. Cumming-Bruce, Lord and Lady Shaughnessy, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Buttery, Mr. P. Lindsay Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ross Webster, Miss Constance Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Archibald, Dr. and Mrs. J. O. W. Brabander, Mr. Owen C. Roberts.

Sunday the annual promotion of the Church School children took place at St. Andrew's United Church, Cote St. Antoine road. Fifty-one children were promoted, ages six to 16 years.

from the Primary to Junior, to Intermediate, to Senior Departments," commented Rev. Dr. M. Grant.

"They came in by twos during the singing of an appropriate hymn about flowers to receive their awards. Special recognition prizes went to those who showed a record of perfect attendance during the year. Bibles were presented by Mr. W. A. Spearman on behalf of the Kirk Session. The flowers from the Floral Cross, made by the children of St. Andrews, were later distributed in the form of bouquets to the Shriners' Hospital and the Children's Hospital." Rev. David C. Searfoss, Assistant Minister and General Superintendent of the Church School, assisted Dr. Grant in giving out the awards.

ranged flowers for the Fete des Fleurs currently being held at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, which Lufthansa German Airlines are offering and flying over from Germany. The flowers are from the Lake Constanza district in the Black Forest. The arrangement will be typically German.

Mme. Rose Goldblatt, Elm avenue, has been appointed official adjudicator in the coming music examinations conducted by the McGill Conservatorium of Music, of which Marvin Duchow is the Dean. Mme. Goldblatt is leaving on Saturday and will be gone for about two weeks, examining students from Grades V to XII in Charlottetown, P.E.I.; St. John, N.B.; Halifax, N.S.; Dartmouth, N.S.; and Fredericton, N.B.

The Spring-Valley Country Club Festival and exhibition of ceramics, oils and sculpture at the Win-Sum Inn, St. Sauveur des Monts, is being held over for another week. Betty Galbraith-Cornell, Metcalfe avenue, entered three scenes of St. Sauveur in oils; Jean Paul Mousseau, Park Place, two oils; Mrs. Hesill-Boulbee, Roslyn avenue, had three Laurentians scenes in oils. Since its founding in 1853 St. Sauveur des Monts has become increasingly popular as a year round holiday playground. This truly Laurentian Village lies in the Valley of the Saints, surrounded by rolling hills where color and beauty change with the seasons. It is a perfect locale for the arts and crafts, and it reveals a multitude of interesting subjects for the artist's palette. The renowned Laurentian fall foliage is at its best in St.

By LAURENT PRICE

They were worth it!

Rarely do we get bored, but the other evening sitting through a series of television programs with some friends — and making a somewhat feckless effort to appear interested — it required, on our part, great fortitude to bear the ennui and suppress large, well-rounded yawns.

That is, until the late, late Show, which projected a movie produced about 25 years ago. Then we became alive and alert as a lark's morning song, and sat with eyes glued to the screen in complete enthrallment.

Recalling the period when this particular vintage piece was released, a few days later, it suddenly occurred to us that at the time it was considered by all and sundry in the trade as a real "turkey".

You know the old guff: Second rate acting, bad direction, poor story adaptation and lousy writers. So, by consequence, it was generally agreed everyone associated with the project was incompetent, vastly overpaid, and retained on the studio payroll either through a family connection or by convenient extra marital arrangements — if you'll forgive the phrase. But the OVER-PAID part of the censure was always the prime barbed thrust.

Not to be deterred by the recollection of opinions voiced, a quarter of a century ago, by these moral and/or artistic critics, we have recently become happily addicted to the showing on TV of old films. Although we will admit that 90% of them were at one time rated as duds, when shown in moving picture theatres. Nevertheless our enjoyment is real!

Lately, for example, we missed producer Frank Capra's "It Happened One Night" — one of the upper bracket 10% group — and our chin isn't back up in its proper place yet.

It must be that somewhere in this world these much maligned movie writers, directors, camera men and other technicians (or what remains of them) could be resurrected and put to gainful and entertaining (for viewers) employment in the interests of general improvement in the production of TV offerings.

By 1934 movie standards, most TV showings that currently large bouquets of praise would actually be classified very close to the "turkey" category. It is to be noted, too, that the better programs are usually staffed with veteran Hollywood "pros".

A little clarification here about the lack of rehearsal time and so forth confronting the newer medium: It takes just about as much time to get the TV shows in shape, as it did to make "B" picture, and in most cases for a lot less money.

And, to think a couple of decades ago "they" said they were over-paid!

As far as "they" are concerned, we're just waiting for Douglas Fairbanks, senior, to surprise and please us by showing up soon on TV in the "Mark Of Zorro".

Summer Sports and Resorts

Gray Rocks Inn at St. Jovite maintains its position as one of the better Laurentian resorts . . . The Montreal invasion of Plattsburg and Burlington is now in high gear . . . One Wilmington, N.Y. wag of our acquaintance remarked that it is getting very tough to get the local merchants in either town to accept U.S. currency . . . There is no basis in the rumor, however, that a group of loyal Vermonters and upstate New Yorkers are considering military action to recapture the towns from the Canadians . . . One innkeeper made a wise observation to the effect that when Montrealers arrive in Chevies, it's the same as Manhattanites coming up in Caddies . . . and the buying potential is usually better . . . A good friend of ours in Ste. Adele, with a long memory for Fontaine Fox cartoons, refers to his wife's women's get-together sessions as "The Little Scorpions Club" . . . you'll understand why we can't mention his name . . . Neal Harrison, New York state's oldest golf professional, is still functioning at the Indole Country Club in Ausable Forks, according to Jimmy George the club's president . . . Guess we'd better head for the Eastern Townships now . . . see you all in Montreal next week . . .

LCC Cadet Corps told of need for officers

Some 182 members of the Lower Canada College Cadet Corps were told Friday that it is doubtful if ever in Canadian history "has it been more important that we have a qualified and professional corps of officers in our armed services."

Lt. Col. R. G. Kingstone, inspecting officer for the 38th annual LCC Cadet Inspection told the cadets and some 80 spectators that "the part played by Canada as a member of the United Nations with soldiers serving in Kashmir — on the border between India and Pakistan — in Indo China, in Egypt and Israel makes it necessary that the Canadian armed services have officers with initiative, integrity and those other qualities which are the cornerstones of schools like this."

Col. Kingstone continued that the importance of the role played by Cadet Corps in the services should not be underestimated. "During your time as cadets," he added, "you learn in addition to military rudiments, to exercise leadership, to act as a disciplined body and to use your initiative."

A member of the LCC Cadet Corps in the 1930's, Col. Kingstone, stationed with the Canadian Army Staff College at Fort Frontenac, Ont., reminded the cadets that not only must they live up to the tradition of the school, but also to the fine achievements and military history of the Royal Montreal

Regiment with which the cadet group is affiliated.

Cadet Major Paul Marchand was awarded the Strathcona Medal for general efficiency by Col. Kingstone, with platoon No. 3 winning the RMR trophy which was accepted by Cadet Lt. John Corbett and Cadet Sgt. Richard Cook from Lt. Taylor Kennedy, RMR, commanding officer.

In the not too distant future some changes may be made regarding our mail boxes. They will be set against the curb with slots on both sides for either pedestrian or car posting. These will be set at a reasonable distance from the intersection to avoid traffic congestion and a no-parking zone will exist on either side of the box. A reliable source has said that the first community to have it will likely be N.D.G.

The new slate of officers for the 1959-60 season of the Westmount Stamp Club were announced recently and are as follows: President — Ken C. W. Smith; first vice-president — Wm. Greer; second vice-president — S. R. Groves. Unchanged in their positions are treasurer R. J. Sutherland, and secretary L. R. Waller. The Honorary President will be J. C. Cushing — Mayor of Westmount.

It is now officially known that the Westmount Junior Stamp Club will hold their annual reunion-banquet on Thursday June 4 at 7 p.m. in Victoria Hall.

Members of the Youth Department and Adult Department are invited to participate in this Seaway Swim.

Appointment may be received from John Ray or by telephoning WE. 7-3916.

What is known as the deathless sermon was preached on May 31, 1792, by a little known cobbler named William Carey. Out of the sermon sprang the modern missionary movement as Carey went to India to translate the languages and dialects and make communication more possible between East and West. Carey the Baptist became Carey the Statesman, educator and evangelist, with a great vision of the Kingdom of God.

The Minister, the Rev. E. J. Bailey, will preach in the morning on "Carey's Sermon", and at night on "Us and Our".

The Sunday School picnic will be held on June 20 at St. Helen's Island Park.

Christian Science

How the armor of righteousness enables man to withstand the attacks of evil will be brought out at the services in the Christian Science churches this Sunday. In the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," passages read from the Bible will include (Ephesians 6:11): "Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil. Clad in the panoply of Love, human hatred cannot reach you. The cement of a higher humanity will unite all interests in the one divinity."

Dandelions and Daffodils

By

The Venerable

R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,

Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

Dandelions are lovely orange-yellow plants that grow to best advantage and in the greatest luxuriance on well-kept public lawns. They excite more interest and comment than almost any other flower. There is possibly no plant at which the gardener works harder. The thrifty housewife can use the leaves for greens and out of some part of the plant — I never found out which — she can concoct a delicious wine. Yet I have never found anyone except a very small child who really approved of dandelions. Even the thrifty housewife is willing to abandon them when her husband comes home in a furious temper because he found one on his favorite putting green. For there are greens and greens.

On the other hand everyone likes the other yellow-orange flower, the daffodil. The gardener labors long and lovingly to put them in. The thrifty housewife approves as she cuts them for her own table decoration. Even the very small boy likes them as he nips off those that his neighbors has planted, and the squirrel — well, I believe some of the most aristocratic squirrels live on the bulbs.

What then is the difference between two of the lovely flowers that bloom in the Spring. Tra la. There must be reasons for love and scorn. Perhaps the first reason is that the dandelion is wild and irrepressible. It refuses to be brought under control, and it refuses to have its perfection improved. It is self-satisfied. No one will question that when he finds the first hundred thousand in his lawn.

The daffodil, on the other hand, at any rate the daffodil as we know it, is a creature of careful cultivation. It grows where we plant and nurture it. It may increase genteely but is never obstreperous. In fact, it likes to be coddled and pampered.

The curious thing is that people are like dandelions, and on the whole we prefer to have them so. You can change a daffodil in a few years but the dandelion just stays its own impertinent self. It is a wild plant. The biologist, Charles Darwin, says that man also is a wild animal. You can domesticate dogs and horses and change them to order, but we have not found the way yet to domesticate man. Perhaps the Communists will find a way, but I hope not. I prefer to stay in my wild state. Meantime, we might learn to look on the dandelion, if not with love, at least with admiration.

Pound gives Grout a running battle 400, 100 swim events

If it wasn't for the men in the Eastern Canada swimming meet at Yvan Coutu Institute on Queen Mary Road, all the laurels would have gone to Ontario swimmers.

Cameron Grout of Westmount, but swimming for the MAAA in this meet, came up with two victories. He won the 400 and the 100 metres free style. Lady honors were won by Ontario swimmers while a few Ontario men managed to pick up a couple of wins.

Grout beat out Richard Pound, also of MAAA in both the 400 and 100.

Testimony to the threat Pound posed in the 100, was the fact that the Town of Mount Royal whizz chased Grout to a 58-flat clocking for the distance. This is four tenths of a second faster than Grout's Canadian record.

Actually Canadian records were set up in practically every event since most "metric" meets in Canada have been staged in a 50-metre tank which is slower than Coutu's 25-metre course.

Grout topped Pound with greater ease in the 400 metre free. He was the only double winner among the male entries.

Closest race for the men was the 200-metre's breast stroke where Hamilton's Bill Vanderpool staved off a fine rally by Steve Rabinovitch of Davis YMHA to win by a stroke.

Vanderpool, an outstanding water polo star, gained a good lead by the three quarters mark in the eight lap event and hung on for a clocking of two minutes and 51 seconds flat and a four-tenths margin over Rabinovitch.

McGill's Pauline McLelloch registered somewhat of an upset when she won the three-meter diving title over Ontario champ Lois Wood of Toronto Etobicoke and defending Quebec champion Paula Lachance of Quebec City.

Westmount cricket loses first place to 3 clubs

Adastrians batted first and lost three early wickets for 24 runs.

Des Phillips scoring 16 joined in partnerships with Charlie White and Geoff Small to carry the score to 111 for 6, Small added 21 and White 19.

After the loss of two more wickets for 20 runs, Lowbridge returned in the crease and playing a fine captain's innings, supported by Alastair MacLachlan, quickly forced the score to 197 without further loss.

Lowbridge has undefeated with 64 not out at the declaration. Bowling for Westmount Dave Lawless took 3 for 26 and George Duncan 3 for 31.

Emblem-Smart

The marriage of Caroline Marie Smart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanislaus J. Smart of Westmount, to Mr. Norman Joseph Emblem, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Joseph Emblem of Hampstead, took place recently in the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount, with Rev. Aloysius Graham, S.J., officiating. Pink gladioli and white poms with palms were used to decorate.

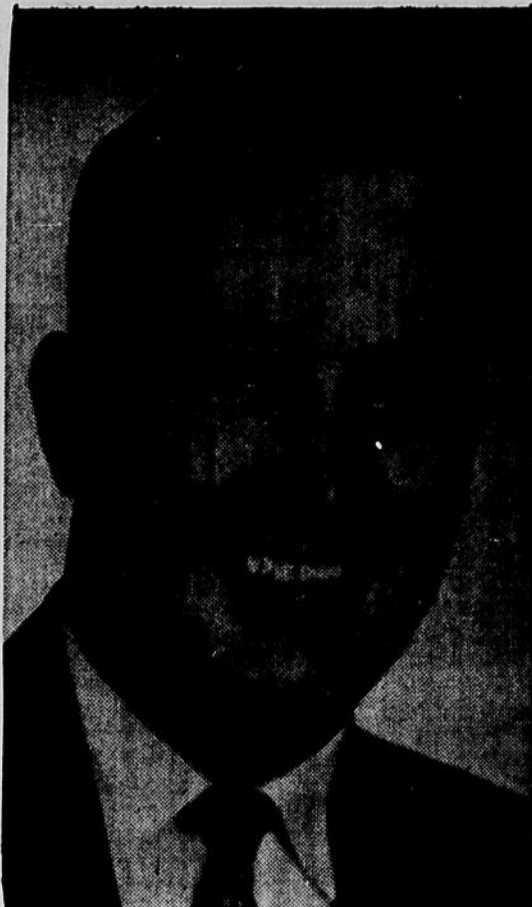

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a model of candlelight duchess satin and Alencon beaded lace. Fashioned with a portrait neckline outlined with lace and trimmed with seed pearls, the gown had a fitted Empire bodice and long, tight sleeves ending in points over her hands. Her bouffant skirt was trimmed with lace applique falling in deep folds and extending into a chapel train. Her veil of French tulle illusion fell from an Elizabethan crown of seed pearls and she carried a prayer book with white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Margaret Smart, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Joan Smart, sister of the bride, and Miss Andrea McGee were bridesmaids. They were gowned similarly in ballerina length gowns of silk taffeta in apricot shade having low scooped necklines, short sleeves and fitted bodices with bows. The skirts were full and fell into soft unpressed pleats. They wore matching portrait hats and carried yellow roses.

Mr. Gordon Emblem, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Stan Smart, Jr., Mr. Kevin Smart, Mr. Kenneth Clare and Mr. James Sockett.

MISS BEVERLY ANN BARRETT, RN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Barrett of Altadena, California, and MR. GEORGE EDWARD OLSEN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. Olsen of Notre Dame de Grace, whose engagement is announced. The marriage will take place Saturday, June 20 in Wesley United Church. Miss Barrett is a graduate of St. Mary's Hospital School of Nursing.

ice blue organza with a side drape and matching accessories.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Emblem, wore a dress of light navy blue Swiss silk and matching accessories.

Following the reception which was held at St. George Club, the newlyweds left on a motor trip to Florida. For travelling the bride chose a navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of tawny gold roses.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Emblem, Jr., will reside at 1250 Lombard Crescent, Town of Mount Royal.

Miss Frances Taylor, as maid of honor for her sister, and Miss Geraldine Pulkingham, of Hamilton, Ont., and Miss Sheila Taylor, also a sister of the bride, wore bouffant frocks of peacock blue organza over taffeta, with bands of daisies in their hair, and carried bouquets of marguerites, and yellow and white single shasta chrysanthemums.

Little Miss Veronica Taylor, as flower-girl for her sister, wore a frock of white organdy, with a bandeau to match and carried a basket of white and yellow daisies.

Mr. John Grant Taylor acted as best man for Mr. de Jong, and the ushers were Mr. Frederick Hennessey and Mr. Paul Taylor.

Mrs. Taylor, the bride's mother, was in a gown of lobelia blue lace. She wore a hat of rose flowers, and a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. de Jong, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in mocha brown silk. She wore a large straw hat to match, trimmed with champagne tulle, and a corsage bouquet of yellow and green orchids.

The reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, 342 Kitchener avenue.

Beyond the Clouds

It's raining! the skies are all dreary and grey,
No sunshine, to nourish the flowers you say?
But the roots deep down, in the soil hard and dry,
Welcome each drop, falling fast from the sky.

So in life, though the clouds may shadow our sun,
Tomorrow, 'twill shine as it always has done,
Just keep up your song, the clouds soon will be gone,
For it's "always the darkest, just before dawn".

Mrs. J. Cecil McDougall re-elected Hospital Auxiliaries president

Vision, courage and kindness should be the key-words for hospital auxiliary workers in Canada. Mrs. J. Cecil McDougall told the fifth Biennial convention of the National Council of Hospital Auxiliaries of Canada yesterday at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel.

"There are three thoughts that I should like you to take home from this conference to your members," said Mrs. McDougall:

"First, vision — a concern and compassion for the sick, the defeated, the poor beyond your own provincial and national borders.

"Second, courage — to inspire the acceptance of difficult tasks and great responsibilities with enthusiasm and imagination.

"Third, kindness — the one outstanding and priceless quality which more than any other, gives happiness and promotes goodwill and co-operation."

Membership in the National Council of Hospital Auxiliaries has increased in six years from 65,000 to 90,000.

Miss Georgette Belliveau, a student in the school of social service at Laval University, Quebec, is recipient this year of the annual scholarship of $375 which is the national project of the Auxiliaries, and which is offered to a student wishing to do post-graduate work in the field of medical social work.

In order to encourage nurse recruitment, the National Auxiliaries augment by $25 any bursary offered by a provincial association to a high school graduate who is accepted for training in a recognized school of nursing, providing such a bursary is of the sum of $100 or more. Ontario and Saskatchewan received these additions to their grants this year.

Mrs. Fred Birch is elected Blue Goose Ladies president

The 15th annual meeting and closing luncheon of the Blue Goose Ladies' Auxiliary was held on May 6, in the Green Room of the Ritz Carlton Hotel, and was presided over by Mrs. J. Marc Demers, president.

She thanked the executive and members for their cooperation and support during the year.

Mrs. Paul Carignan, the recording secretary, read her annual report. At the opening luncheon Mrs. S. F. LeRiche gave a very interesting talk about her trip to the Blue Goose International convention, which was held at Banff. In November, on Members' Day, court whist was played, after which tea was served. Mrs. Roland Lepage and Mrs. Benoit Bertrand were the conveners.

At the Club Canadien in December the ladies of the Auxiliary co-operated with the Ganders of the Quebec Pond for a party. After this evening the Quebec Pond forwarded a cheque to the Auxiliary, by means of which we were able to increase our contributions for the year. Donations were sent to the School for Crippled Children, Old Brewery Mission, L'Oeuvre de la Soupe, and to Father Dowd's Home a cheque to provide cheer for the inmates.

The Auxiliary Bowling League, after a successful year, closed the season recently with a luncheon.

Thanks are given to Mrs. Jacques Murphy for aiding

Roslyn principal retires at 25-year mark

ROSLYN SCHOOL STAFF SAYS GOODBYE: Among the many well-wishers who feted retiring principal G. H. Penrose were his staff, members old and new, who tendered him a dinner at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel on May 22. After much

By DEBORAH WOODWARD

George H. Penrose retires from Roslyn School this year after a quarter century as its principal. His span of duty is marked by high achievements: the establishment of the Roslyn Home and School Association; an addition to the school building; and less tangible but just as evident, a change of spirit and direction in the school itself.

A quarter of a century ago a new student entered the Roslyn School, took his place in the classroom, and went to work in the new atmosphere not knowing anybody around him. His teacher thought of his business as instruction, not encouragement. Education in the Roslyn School today, however, means something different.

"You can't define it in words," exclaims Penrose throwing his hands in the air as he walks through the school corridors past a gym where boys are tumbling, past a kindergarten room where the youngest are picking up their equipment to go home, and into a classroom full of sixth graders' geography projects—50-100 page booklets done in spare time on lands as varied as the Hawaiian Islands and the Arctic.

"Children don't come to school dreading it any more. They are interested in their special projects, in the ballet, gymnastics, and the many other activities which are a part of school today," explains Penrose.

Asked what he thought of the frequent post-Sputnik attacks on North American education, Penrose rose to the defence of our system, commenting, "What does it matter whether our boy of 15 knows less physics than a boy of the same age in Europe? He will learn, but a little later. In the meantime he is learning to make decisions for himself."

"Many people who left Europe because they were dissatisfied now seem to think they have to do things the way they are done in Europe. We are a new country. Of course we do things differently."

On Monday night the Roslyn Home and School Association presented Penrose with a number of mementos in appreciation of his 25 years of devoted and intelligent service to both the school and the Association. It was he who started the Roslyn

"It's a bit of an effort for parents who have been working all day to come out in the evening to a home and school meeting. For the teachers, too, it's an extra effort at the end of a full day, he explains. But these four times a year when the school is thrown open to parents for an hour do a lot of good. Parents see their children's exercise books, meet their teachers, and see demonstrations of one kind or another. It gives us all a fresh outlook."

Home and school's history shows steady progress. From its beginnings in the Roslyn School, Westmount, it spreads to Kings, Westmount High, Willingdon, and Iona. "First thing we knew we had the beginnings of the Montreal Federation which later merged with the Provincial Home and School Council to form the Provincial Federation.

In 1942 Penrose was president of the two-year-old Provincial Home and School Council; in 1945 he presented a thesis on the growth and development of the home and school movement throughout Europe and North America to McGill University for a Masters Degree in Education; and to this day he has been a key agent in the vitality of home and school throughout the province.

Official figures show that Canadians, during the early part of 1958 were paying off their debts to installment finance companies faster than they were taking on new borrowing.

Past presidents of 25 year span attend ceremony

The Roslyn Home and School Association — its presidents of the last 25 years; K. W. MacIntyre, outgoing president; incoming president W. G. Buchanan, and some 500 parents and teachers filled the Roslyn School auditorium on Monday to pay tribute to retiring principal G. H. Penrose.

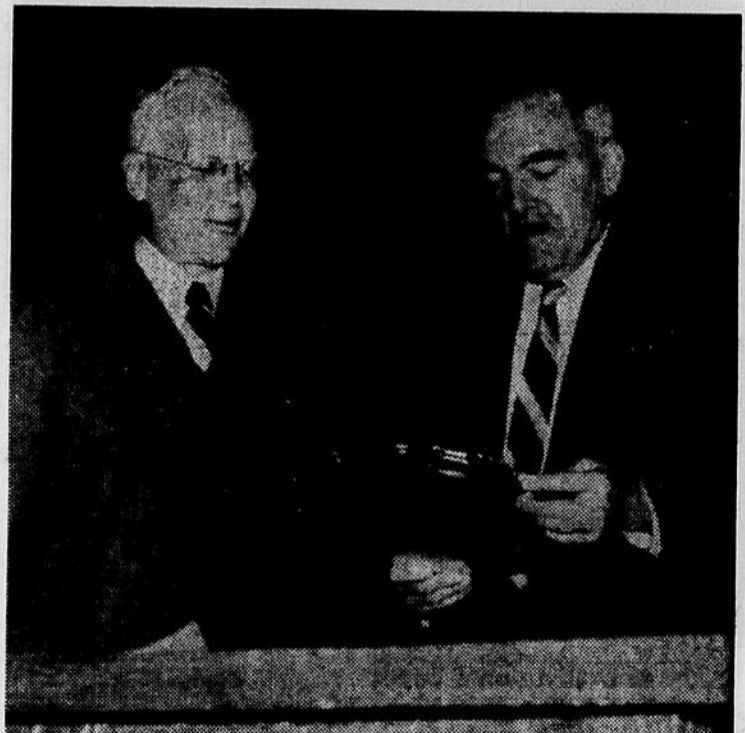

"You schoolmasters, I esteem you as the equals of kings," said former Mayor Sydney Bruno quoting from Erasmus, as he gave Roslyn's principal a silver tray inscribed with the signatures of all the past Roslyn Home and School presidents.

In 1934 G. H. Penrose came to the principal's chair at the Roslyn School and in that same year Sydney Bruno was made president of the first Roslyn Home and School.

"Mr. Penrose has made a magnificent contribution to the welfare of Westmount," declared Bruno. "More than 5,000 children have been educated in the Roslyn school in his time."

Mrs. P. Raddall, on behalf of the present Roslyn Home and School, presented the school with a large framed photograph of Penrose, in his honor, to be hung in the school corridors.

Ken MacIntyre congratulated Penrose on "an atmosphere without fear or furor" which he had brought about during his quarter century in the school. MacIntyre presented the 59-year-old principal with a check from the 1958-59 association. Penrose accepted these several momentoes with characteristic wit. Explaining that he'd been told by his "employer" when he came to Roslyn in 1934 that he would have to start a Home and School Association, he commented, "It was forced on me — I didn't like it — I was afraid the parents might take over my job!"

The highly trained Roslyn Boys' Gym Squad provided the entertainment for the evening.
