BELOVED JOHN HACKETT IS DEAD

U.S. To Finance S. Africa Route To Bypass Suez

London — (AP) — An American-financed economic offensive against Egypt appeared today to be shaping up as foreign ministers headed here for a new conference on the disputed Suez Canal.

Most of the diplomats gathering in London were reported convinced Egypt would reject the Western Big Three's latest plans for operating the canal. The United States, Britain and France apparently were getting ready for a long-drawn economic squeeze to bring Egyptian President Nasser to terms.

Nasser already has denounced the Western plan for a users association to operate the canal a "declaration of war" and pushed plans for a rival conference on the canal's future.

The United States was reported ready to grant $500,000,000 in loans to Western European countries to help them pay the extra cost of detouring their ships around Africa if Egypt turns down the user's plan.

The U. S. offer also would help dollar-short Western Europe to buy American and Venezuelan oil to replace oil from the Arab-owned fields of the Middle East.

State Secretary Dulles will make known the American aid offer when he attends the users' conference opening here Wednesday.

Under the users' association scheme, announced by Prime Minister Eden last week, the association would use its own pilots to guide ships through the waterway, collect fees and share the revenue with Egypt.

If Nasser refuses to permit the ships to go through under this plan, the stage would be set for a test in the United Nations of the Egyptian leader's claim his government is keeping the canal open to world navigation.

Most of the 18 nations that endorsed an earlier plan for international control and operation of the Suez are expected to turn up at the parley. They are the United States, Britain, France, Turkey, Portugal, Italy, Japan, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Iran, the Netherlands, Pakistan, West Germany, New Zealand, Australia and Ethiopia. Only Spain was regarded as hesitant about attending the meeting, because of her desire to keep her present good relations with the Arab world.

Nearly all the countries have made plain they oppose use of force against Egypt and favor an approach through the United Nations. This appeared to promise a cool reception for Dulles' plan for Western-operated canal convoys to test Nasser.

Officials in the South African port of Capetown meanwhile prepared to start work on a round-the-clock basis to handle the flow of ships they expect as a result of the Suez crisis. Officials hinted, however, that the country's four major ports do not have the facilities to refuel and service the 40 or so ships which transit the canal every day should they be diverted.

MONTREAL. — (AP) — Marilyn Bell of Toronto arrived here Sunday to begin studies at McGill University and promptly told newspapermen the only swimming she plans for the immediate future will be for "relaxation."

MARALINGA, Australia. — (Reuters) — Britain for the sixth day in a row again postponed the explosion of an atomic device because of unfavorable weather.

LONDON. — (Reuters) — A memorial service for Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, Canadian air hero of the First World War who died in Florida last week, will be held at St. Paul's Church in Baker Street, London, Wednesday.

1,800 Killed In Algerian Uprising

ALGIERS (Reuters) — More than 1,800 Algerian insurgents were killed and about 150 captured in clashes with security forces during the week-end, according to reports reaching here today.

A total of nine French soldiers have been killed and five wounded in three ambushes by insurgent bands in the last 24 hours. Ten more are reported missing.

Two French officers and five soldiers were killed and three wounded in two ambushes in the Algiers region, while two soldiers were killed and two wounded in an ambush at Guelta, west of Orleansville.

U.S. Freighter Sinks Five Saved, 31 Lost Near Norway

BODOE, Norway. — (AP) — Marines and airmen searched the icy sea off Norway again today for 31 missing crew members of the sunken American freighter Pelagia. But all were feared lost.

The Pelagia went down Saturday night in a raging storm above the Arctic Circle. Five survivors and a man dead of exposure were found Sunday in a lifeboat bobbing on the ocean swells.

The survivors said they last saw their shipmates on the deck of the sinking freighter. They said the gale smashed the ship's three other lifeboats and that they were afraid the others were unable to get away.

Nevertheless, three Norwegian Air Force planes took off at dawn today in a renewal of the search. Numerous fishing cutters crisscrossed the area.

The British trawler Northern

Duke found the lifeboat drifting between Myken and Traena Islands, just south of the Arctic Circle. In the space of a night and a morning it had been driven 60 miles by wind and current from the point where the Pelagia sank.

Dead was Jean Lopez of Santiago, Puerto Rico, a steward. The others in the boat said they tried desperately to keep Lopez awake as the Arctic cold numbed him, but he fell asleep and died.

The survivors were steward Demetrius M. Hadjicostas of Syracuse, Greece; fireman Pedro Pileta Rodriguez of Baltimore; seaman Lawrence Rediegs of Central City, Colo., and James Arnold of Baltimore; and Andreas Alexandrou Orphanos of Piraeus, Greece, a member of the engineering crew.

One of Orphanos' legs was frozen. The other four men were in good shape, but exhausted.

They told reporters how the ship sank and of their subsequent battle in an open boat against the sea and the cold.

The Pelagia, a Second World War Liberty ship loaded with 10,000 tons of iron ore, was bound from Narvik for Baltimore. Most of the crew were Americans.

Hadjicostas gave this account: Tremendous seas rolled over the ship and smashed the No. 1 hold. It rapidly filled with water. As the water rose, the bow sank until the propellers broke clear of the water.

The seas shattered part of the bridge, damaged the deck and crushed three of the four lifeboats.

The fourth boat was launched and the six men scrambled in.

Then a giant wave swept the boat away, snapping the mooring line like a string.

The six tried to work their way back to the ship, but the boat only drifted, getting dangerously close to the exposed propellers.

Senator Will Be Buried At Stanstead Tomorrow

STANSTEAD — (Special) — A member of two families which have played a leading role in the political life of Canada for three generations, Senator John T. Hackett, Q.C., died at his summer home here shortly before noon Saturday after suffering a stroke late Friday evening.

The funeral service will be held at the Sacred Heart of Jesus Roman Catholic Church at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning with interment taking place in the family lot at Mount St. Mary's Cemetery.

Among those who have announced their intention of attending the final rites for Senator Hackett is Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, Prime Minister of Canada, a lifelong personal friend who named him to the Upper House in July 1955, the only Progressive Conservative to be appointed to the Senate by a Liberal administration.

John Thomas Hackett was born at Stanstead on June 12, 1884, the son of Hon. Justice Michael F. Hackett and Florence Knight, families both prominent in the political life of Canada. His father represented Stanstead in three provincial parliaments and held various cabinet posts, and his grandfather, Albert Knight, was member for the county in the Union Parliament before Confederation.

He received his early education at St. Charles Seminary in Sherbrooke, where he became a close personal friend of an ambitious student from nearby Compton, Louis St. Laurent, who was to become Prime Minister of Canada.

He never questioned the fact that he would be a lawyer, except for a brief childhood desire to grow up and drive a train. And he grew up wanting to follow the family tradition in politics.

Old friends remember young John as a mischievous boy with an unfailing sense of humor which did not change during his life. His popularity at school did not prevent him from being a serious student, and the loyalty that was an outstanding characteristic of John Hackett had kept him interested in the affairs of the Seminary and Loyola College. From Loyola he went to Laval University and received his Bachelor of Letters degree. He graduated in Law from McGill in 1909.

It was at McGill that young Hackett's rebellious spirit and gift for leadership sparked under graduates efforts to wrest power on the campus away from the fraternities. The result, the founding of a representative students council which promptly made John Hackett its first president.

He had never lost interest in the University, headed the Graduates Society for many years and served as Governor of McGill from 1938 to 1942.

At McGill, he worked part time as a reporter for the Montreal Herald, covering everything from sports to theological lectures. He read law with the late Senator George G. Foster, K.C., was admitted to the Bar in 1909, and became temporary secretary and assistant to the then Minister of Justice, Rt. Hon. Charles J. Doherty, who had been one of his professors at McGill.

In 1912, John Hackett brought his bride, the former Linda Harding of Boston, Mass., to the Capital, but by the end of the next year the young Hacketts were settled for good in Montreal and his law practice was resumed in the office in which he began as a student.

More than 40 years later, the distinguished past president of the Canadian Bar Association remembered his astonishment at winning his first case. It involved a dead horse and the city of Montreal which was prosecuting his client, a scavenger, for not removing the animal from the city streets.

In early practice, he had a certain amount of criminal work. In his first murder case he won an acquittal for a policeman tried for killing a man who was behaving suspiciously. But as a member of one of Montreal's most prominent law firms, John Hackett confined his work principally to trial and argument cases.

One of Canada's leading authorities on constitutional law, his tall, broad-shouldered figure was seen regularly in courts to the time of his death. In his long career there were few judicial districts and no courts or commissions before which he had not appeared.

Nor were there any professional honors which he had not won. Elected president of the Junior Bar Association of Montreal in 1918, made King's Counsel in 1920, named Batonnier of the Bar of Montreal in 1945-46, and elected as president of the Canadian Bar Association in 1947.

The Senator had a practical knowledge of Canadian politics and much experience on international problems. He took an active part in every political campaign for the last half century and had represented Stanstead in the House of Commons for two terms, 1930-35 and 1945-49.

He was the choice of many for Conservative Party leader when Mr. Drew was chosen in 1948.

When he served as one of the parliamentary advisers to the second session of the United Nations General Assembly, he pointed out that Canada had an important contribution to make to racial tolerance.

"We have within our own borders a good deal of international experience which makes us tolerant as a people. Partly by accident and partly by honest endeavor, we have found a solution to a great many of the difficulties that have been found to be almost insuperable elsewhere."

There was little time for hobbies in the active life of John Hackett, but throughout the years his spare time was given quietly to helping the poor and underprivileged, the blind and imprisoned.

The Senator's solid piety was as unobtrusive as his charity. The Hacketts have been devoted members of St. Patrick's Parish for many years and taken an active part in its welfare.

Characteristically, the Senator was president of the Stanstead County Historical Society for the 16th term, preserving a part of Canada's past as he had helped to form her present. Only three weeks ago a Hackett family reunion dinner was held at the home of the Senator's sister, Miss Mary Hackett in Stanstead.

He also attended reunion ceremonies at the Stanstead Ursuline Convent and officially opened the Boundary Rotary Fair during August.

He served as a lieutenant in the First World War with the Irish-Canadian Rangers.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by one son, David, of Montreal; two daughters, Florence, at home, and Julia, Mrs. Donald Murnaghan, of Toronto; fourteen grandchildren; a sister, Miss Mary Hackett, of Stanstead; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Winfield Hackett of Montreal; several nephews and nieces and other more distant relatives.

He was predeceased by two daughters, Ann and Linda, and a son, Guy, who was killed in an explosion of a jet plane near Sorel.

Block Clay School To 3 Negro Pupils

CLAY, Ky. — (AP) — Three Negro youngsters were to return to the previously all-white Clay school under national guard protection today but it appeared unlikely they would get past the door.

Principal Mrs. Irene Powell said she has an order from the county school board telling her to refuse admittance to the three Negroes.

She said she would be at the door to read the order aloud when Adjutant General J. B. Williams, commander of the Kentucky Guard, arrives with the children.

Williams said he would escort the Negroes to the school "just as before." They attended classes last week under the guard's protection.

Williams, who had read the board's order in advance, said, "it would seem to me they (the Negroes) would have only two choices—to go home or to go on to school at Providence."

The Rosenwald school at nearby Providence is for Negroes.

The school board voted Friday night to refuse admittance to the Negro children.

Meanwhile, the issue headed toward the courts with an announcement that a suit would be filed Tuesday to require the school board to admit the Negroes at Clay.

James A. Crumlin, a Louisville Negro lawyer associated with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he would represent the three students and their parents in the action.

The suit would seek an injunction to restrain officials "from prohibiting the attendance of James and Theresa Gordon and Bobbie Copeland at the Clay school," Crumlin said.

Mayor Herman Z. Clark of Clay said Saturday he talked with Governor A. B. Chandler by telephone and was assured the national guard would be removed from the town "if the facts are right."

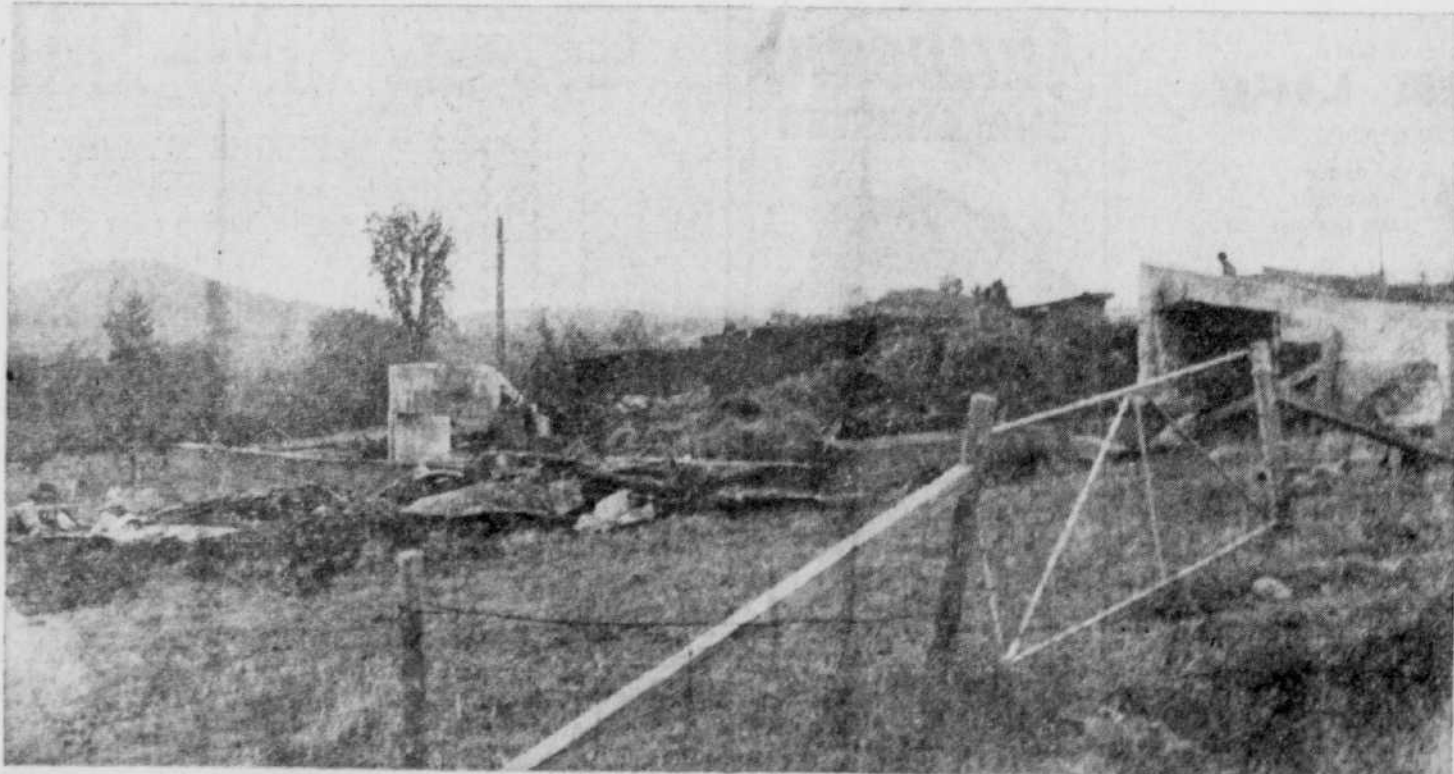

The "facts" referred to the school board's action as Clark had interpreted them for the governor. State Attorney-General J. M. Ferguson issued an opinion last week that the Negroes were illegally going to classes at Clay since the board had not announced an integration program.

Guardsmen and troopers moved into this Western Kentucky farming-coal mining town of 1,400 early Wednesday. A crowd had turned Mrs. Gordon and her children away from the school.

Williams and state police troopers escorted Mrs. James Gordon and her two children—James Henry, 10, and Theresa, 8—from their home in nearby Wheatcroft to the school last Wednesday through Friday.

"Why, Thomas, did you stop singing in the choir?"
"Well, one Sunday I was sick and didn't sing, and a lot of people in the congregation asked if the organ had been fixed."

Sutton Fire — During a severe electrical storm, the barn of Homer Salisbury on the Sutton-West Brome road, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The Sutton volunteer fire department, under Chief Jack Shephard answered the call and remained nine hours. Part of the building's contents were saved, but the barn and this year's hay were completely destroyed. (Photo by Brereton)

Mayor Nadeau Vice-President Of Quebec Municipalities Union

By WARREN SPAFFORD
BRETTON WOODS, N.H. — (Special) — Mayor Armand Nadeau was elected third vice-president of the Union of Municipalities at the groups closing session Saturday. The convention opened Wednesday and terminated Saturday with an address by Hon. Yves Prevost, Minister of Municipal Affairs in the Provincial Government.

The election of Mayor Nadeau to a vice-presidency marks the first time in the 36-year history of the Union of Municipalities that a Sherbrooke man has attained such a high honor. Mayor Nadeau was a director of the organization last year, but his term expired with this year's convention.

Beside his election to the vice-presidency, Mayor Nadeau submitted probably the most important resolution to the convention. It asked that Premier Maurice Duplessis call a provincial-municipal conference to iron out various financial problems facing the municipalities.

The resolution came on the heels of a statement made by the Mayor earlier in the convention in which he urged the Union to stop complaining of their financial plight and do something about approaching the Provincial Government in a formal way.

The resolution said financial problems, including municipal loans and sources of revenue, can be solved best through joint provincial-municipal study.

Other new officers elected were Mayor Rosaire Gauthier, Chicoutimi, president, succeeding Frédoir Simard, Mayor of Amos; C. N. Dorion, Courville, first vice-president, and Mayor J. A. Menard, M.P., St. John, second vice-president.

In his closing address Saturday, Mr. Prevost asked municipal officers to take a personal interest in the problems faced by members of their communities. The Minister said the municipal administrator should have the "capacity to focus his personal attention on problems, particularly those with a human aspect." There are many problems, he said, that cannot be solved from behind a desk.

Mr. Prevost urged members of the union to develop a "social consciousness." This characteristic, he said, though sometimes a natural gift, could be acquired and was even more important in municipal affairs than at provincial or federal levels.

A lack of social consciousness was shown by those municipal officers who used their position to avoid parking or traffic regulations, Mr. Prevost said.

Appeal Of Lowther This Week

MONTREAL — (Special) — The appeal of Geoffrey Lowther, whose shotgun blast through a golf clubhouse window a year ago killed Gilles Murray and brought a murder conviction, comes before Quebec appeals court this week.

The slaying, near Magog in the province's Eastern Townships, ended what the Crown claimed was a long-standing quarrel between the two men. Murray, 24, father of three children, was gatekeeper at Mount Orford Park and a part-time barman at the Mount Orford Golf and Country Club. He was tending bar when shot.

The year previous Lowther himself was shot by Murray in the legs. Murray was charged with attempted murder but was convicted on a reduced charge of assault with intent to injure, and was giving a one-year suspended sentence. Both men lived in Magog.

Lowther, 29-year-old textile engraver, was brought to trial before a jury last Jan. 24. He was found guilty Feb. 7 and was sentenced to be hanged May 18. Following the appeal, a stay of execution was granted April 24.

In announcing the appeal, Lowther's lawyers said it would be based on 16 points of law and eight points of fact.

Guild And W. A. Plans Activities At Kirkdale

KIRKDALE — The regular meeting of Holy Trinity Guild and W.A. was held in the Church Hall with a good attendance. Mrs. Terrill, president, opened the meeting with psalm and the minutes and financial reports were given by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Riff.

The lamp for the organ, bought by Mrs. Cross, was accepted, final arrangements were made for the card party, and the monthly dance will be in the Church Hall on September 21.

The ladies are serving dinner on the grounds for the annual Plowmen's Day, October 6, at Nyamakad Farm.

The next meeting will be in the Church Hall on Tuesday afternoon, October 2, when final arrangements will be made for the plowmen's dinner and luncheon for the Richmond Deaneys, which will be held at St. Anne's Church, Richmond, on October 12.

Rev. J. Brown closed the meeting with prayer, and a social hour was enjoyed around the tea table.

GENERAL NOTES
Friends of Mrs. Frank McCaw regret to learn that she is a patient in the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Montreal.

The card party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Patrick, was most successful. Bridge and "500" were played at seven tables. The prize winners were: "500", Mrs. A. G. Cass, Mrs. R. V. Husk, Mrs. R. Nixon, Messrs. Wayne Bogie, Richard Goodhue, Murray Richards; bridge, Mrs. A. B. Lyster and Mrs. Bogie. Refreshments were served by the ladies and $14.75 were added to the Guild funds.

Mr. Jack Lynn is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he is progressing favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Roux, of Drummondville, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lyster.

The harvest thanksgiving service will be held in Holy Trinity Church on Sunday, October 14.

On Friday, Lactance Reberge, director of finance for Montreal told the convention that problems which his city has experienced over the past few years will be experienced by such cities as Sherbrooke in the very near future. He called for an educational program amongst citizens of each municipality in order to show them the cost of the services which they are asking. The preparation of a capital expenditure budget should be undertaken at least once a year, he stated, to show what accumulated debt all future budgets will be forced to carry.

By doing this, declared Mr. Reberge, the municipality can prepare a long-term plan organized along the lines of what the taxpayers can afford to pay.

Prior to the closing banquet Saturday, the City of Sherbrooke was host at a reception given for delegates from the Eastern Townships. Also attending were the Minister of Municipal Affairs and the Deputy Minister as well as members of the Montreal executive committee.

The Eastern Townships were represented by mayors and councillors from Drummondville, Richmond, Magog, Thetford Mines, Victoriaville, Bromptonville and Granby.

St. Laurent, Drew Join In Tribute To Late Senator

ST. PATRICE — (Special) — In a statement regretting the death of Senator John T. Hackett, Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent today said:

"John Hackett and I were at college together sixty years ago and the friendship we formed there has continued throughout our lives. The fact that we belonged to different political parties did not in any way affect our personal relations.

"There was no one outside my own family whom I held in such affectionate regard for quite so long.

"I am of course very sorry at his death but he knew and I knew that his state of health had been precarious for several years past and I knew that he intended to live in a normal way even if that meant that he might not live so long.

"It was his father who had me indentured as a law clerk to the late Hon. L. P. Pelletier and I have always felt certain that he had done me a great favor in getting me into Mr. Pelletier's office and that the seven years I spent in that office had a lasting effect on my whole professional career.

"Mrs. Hackett and her children know to what extent I grieve with them at this time."

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1956

Senator John Thomas Hackett

The name of the Hackett family was so closely inter-twined with the story of the development of Stanstead county that the two names seemed almost synonymous and its seems highly fitting that his death should have occurred at his childhood home for which he had never lost his attachment and where he spent the greatest part of his leisure time.

Although his legal and business interests compelled him to reside in the metropolis, he always kept a deep, personal interest in the developments and activities of his native county and at the time of his death was president of the Stanstead County Historical Society and within the past few weeks had participated in a number of important events within the Stanstead area, officially opening the Boundary Rotary Fair and playing a major role in the dedication of the new wing of the Stanstead Ursuline Convent.

Brought up in the Conservative tradition — both his father and grandfather having represented Stanstead County at Ottawa in the party interests — it was inevitable that he take an outstanding part in the higher councils of the party and that he make his bid for political honors in his own right. Thus on two occasions he was returned as Conservative member for the county long represented by his family.

But law, business and politics did not occupy all his time. Like all truly busy men, he always seemed to find time for something else. He served as batonnier of the Bar of Montreal, as president of the Canadian Bar Association, as president of the McGill Graduates Society, he was one of the founders of the Federation of Catholic Charities of Montreal and its first president, and he was a strong supporter, both with his time and money, of work among the blind and the crippled.

Throughout his entire career, he displayed those feelings of tolerance and moderation that permitted him to retain the friendship and respect of his opponents in the most bitter of controversies and it seemed but right that near the end of his days he should be appointed to the Senate by his strongest political rival but closest political friend, Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

Welcome Signs

Most cities — especially the small ones — put up "Welcome" signs at the entrance. But some of them obviously don't mean it. Blank, surly faces in the stores make a traveller wish he had stopped somewhere else. Apparently the man who put up the "Welcome" sign has moved out of town, and the rest of the people don't know it is there.

In other towns a stranger feels at home right away. No doubt the feeling is partly in his mind. It depends on the luck of the journey, the state of the weather and the traveller's own stomach. But there is a built-in sense of warmth in such places, too. It is compounded of many things: the comfortable look of old stores and buildings, the helpfulness of townspeople when they are asked for directions, the tendency of hotel clerks to say "Good evening" instead of "Umph." Maybe it has something to do with economic well-being, or the presence of amiable ghosts. Who knows? But the feeling is there. Some towns have it, and some have not.

Everyone has heard the tale of the old mariner who put an oar over his shoulder and kept walking inland until someone asked him: "What's that?" And he settled down to live there for the rest of his days.

If one lives long enough to be old, he should perhaps turn his back on the cities where motorists shout curses at one another and people use their elbows in the buses. Walk until he comes to a town where storekeepers say "Thank you kindly," dogs sleep beside the main street and unknown children say "Hello" — in short, a town where the welcome sign means what it says.

Sulking And Immaturity From The Chamber Of Commerce

(Ottawa Journal)

It will seem to many that Mr. W. F. MacKlaier has brought more prominence than distinction to himself and the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in his charge before the Royal Commission on Broadcasting that its members and legal counsel were not impartial in their attitude. The Chamber of Commerce made the now familiar demand for an "independent regulatory body" and the ensuing discussion apparently led to some sharp exchanges. "Mr. MacKlaier telling Mr. Fowler at one point that the tenor of one questioning suggested a bias on the part of the Commission in favor of the CBC."

It is reported that Mr. Fowler "hammered hard" at Mr. MacKlaier to have him name some specific instance in which the CBC had been unfair or unjust to private stations. To this Mr. MacKlaier replied that he had no specific instance and that none was required as it was the general principle he was attacking.

Mr. MacKlaier's position is not a strong one. He is seeking a change in the state of things yet he admits that he can state no specific instance to prove that the state of things should be changed. One may sympathize with his general principle but his argument is not likely to impress the Canadian people or the Royal Commission unless he can get down to cases.

Further, a man seeking to give testimony before a commission who resents questioning of his testimony as indicating a bias against him is taking a very limited view of the proper functions of investigation.

The institution of the Royal Commission is an esteemed part of our system of government. It is sad to see an important organization like the Canadian Chamber of Commerce trying to throw it into disrepute by questioning its impartiality and motives. It is the privilege and duty of the Chamber of Commerce to go before the Royal Commission and fight its case with all the facts and opinions it can marshal. But to withhold specific arguments and plead only in generalities, and then to deal in slurs, is to show an attitude that might properly be termed juvenile if it were not also extremely harmful and disrespectful to our whole pattern of public enquiry and government.

PROPER BID WOULD DEFEAT

Something was wrong with East's bidding in today's hand, but the mistake is not apparent at first glance.

West opened the king of clubs, considering this his safest opening lead because of his partner's opening bid. As it turned out, the lead was far from safe.

South won with the ace of clubs, drew trumps with one lead, cashed the top hearts, ruffed a heart, and took the queen of clubs. He then led a diamond and crossed his fingers.

South's luck held. East had to win with the singleton ace of diamonds, and then had to return either a heart or a club. In either case, dummy could ruff while South discarded the last losing diamond.

South thus made his slam contract and the rubber, for a total score of 1630 points.

Now we can return to East's bad bidding. There was nothing wrong with his bid of four clubs. It was bold, of course, but it had the effect of cramping the bidding of the opponents. In fact, it helped push the opponents to an unmakeable slam.

East's mistake took place when he passed the bid of six spades. He should have doubled to demand a lead in some suit other than clubs. There was no risk of a redouble, considering the way the opponents had stumbled into the slam. If the double turned out badly, therefore, it would cost only 230 points.

With a diamond or heart opening lead, South would almost surely be set two tricks. East would therefore be plus 500 instead of minus 1630. The gain would therefore be 2130 points.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been: South West North East 1 Diamond 1 Heart 1 Spade Pass?

You, South, hold: Spades J-5-2, Hearts 9, Diamonds A-K-Q-J-6-3, Clubs A-K-3. What do you do?

A—Bid three diamonds. If North can rebid the spades, you will raise his suit. If he can show a stopper in hearts, you will go to three notrump. Otherwise, you plan to move towards game in diamonds.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold:

Spades 5, Hearts 9-2, Diamonds A-K-J-6-3, Clubs K-Q-9-8-4.

What do you do?

RETURN IT!

(Vancouver Sun) Pentiction Vs. 1955 world hockey champs, are sniggering about the fact that they still hold the original world hockey trophy. It seems that when their year of rightful and honorable possession of the trophy ended, hockey star Bill Warwick had a replica made.

The Vs sent the replica back to the International Ice Hockey Federation. The Russians have since won it but, as a result of this fast stickhitting in the Okanagan, they possess only a copy and not the cup they rightfully won.

This may seem frightfully clever to Mr. Warwick, who is now displaying the genuine cup in his Pentiction restaurant. Some people think high-sticking is clever, too.

He might better return the cup to Russia, with apologies, and focus his attention where other restaurant operators do—on the coffee cups.

AUTUMN

There's a touch of frost in the air today. The days of summer are passed away. The trees are changing their robes of green. For gowns of crimson and gold. And the wind that blows thro' the pine trees is chilly and damp and cold. There's a flutter of wings as the swallows start their southward flight. And the sound of wild geese honking echoes thro' the night. The harvest moon is shining, behind a western hill. But harvesting is over, the sound of the reaper is still. It is time to rest from labor, and bask in the autumn sun. To give thanks for a bountiful harvest. And the knowledge of work well done. For, tho' every changing season has a beauty of its own. There's a calm and restful beauty belongs to the Fall alone.

Dodgers Edge Redlegs To Take Half-Game Lead; Braves Rained Out

Maple Leafs Return Home To Open Final Series With Red Wings After Eliminating Montreal Royals 4-1

MONTREAL — The pennant-winning Maple Leafs have returned to Toronto for what could prove to be an important rest after knocking off Montreal Royals 6-3 Saturday to win the best-of-seven semi-finals series for the International League's Governor's Cup four games to one.

The Leafs will open the final best-of-seven set in Toronto with the winner of the other semi-final series between Rochester Red Wings and Miami Marlins.

A crowd of 1,196 braved temperatures in the mid 40s to see Toronto pound out 14 hits for the third consecutive night.

Fred Kipp, Montreal's ace southpaw who ended the regular schedule with a 20-7 record, gave up 11 hits and six runs Saturday for his second loss of the series.

Ross Grimsley started for Toronto but lasted less than two innings as he gave up four hits and all three Montreal runs.

John Hetki finished the game to earn the victory as he scattered only three hits over 7 1-3 innings.

Lead-off man Sam Jethroe started the ball rolling for the Leafs in the opening inning when he drove the third pitch offered him over the left-field wall.

"There'll be no babying on this team," Schmidt said. "These men are going to get in shape—fast. There are going to be muscle pulls so we might as well get them over with."

A crowd of more than 3,000 turned out on a rainy afternoon to greet the Bruins as they began pre-season practice in Boston Garden for the first time in 20 years. For the last two decades the club has trained at Hershey, Pa.

The players, including 13 veterans of last year's team, were caught by surprise by Schmidt's tougher policy.

Coch Schmidt Lays Down Law To 33 Players

BOSTON. —(AP)— Coach Milt Schmidt greeted 33 candidates for Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League Sunday and then held a stiff workout under a new "get tough" policy.

"There'll be no babying on this team," Schmidt said. "These men are going to get in shape—fast. There are going to be muscle pulls so we might as well get them over with."

Minor Surgery Planned On Famous Swaps

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — (AP) — Minor surgery was planned Sunday for Swaps, the speedy California colt who was with drawn from Saturday's $100,000 United Nations Handicap at the last minute because of the recurrence of an old hoof injury.

Rex C. Ellsworth, half owner of the colt with John W. Galbreath, said it was planned to cut away the irksome part of the four-year-old colt's right forefoot to relieve pressure.

Ellsworth believes that Swaps will be back galloping in 10 or 12 days treatment.

Remaining Schedule Favors Brooklyn; Sal "The Barber" Maglie Plays Big Part In Decision; Tigers Stop Yanks

Just two weeks ago, Brooklyn Dodgers appeared finished. They had dropped a doubleheader to New York Giants, their hitters were floundering and their pitchers were unsteady. They were 3 1/2 games behind the first-place Milwaukee Braves.

Today, the Brooks top the tight National League race. They have a working margin of a half-game over the Braves, are one game up in the vital lost column, and play most of their remaining games in the friendly confines of Ebbets Field.

While the Braves cannot be accused of wilting under pressure, there are these facts to be considered:

1. They have lost eight of their last 13 games.
2. In their last 13 games, their pitchers have turned in only two complete games. Bob Buhl has been knocked out four times in a row and Lew Burdette twice.

Normally a placid lot, the Braves have been snapping at the umpires, a sure sign of their high tension.

Milwaukee's game with New York Giants was postponed because of rain Sunday while Brooklyn was defeating Cincinnati Redlegs, 3-2. The Redlegs now are three games out with only 12 to go.

While the Brooks were struggling to open daylight in their league, New York Yankees were frustrated in their effort to wrap up the American League pennant when they could do no better than a split with Cleveland. The Yanks won the opener 10-3 to assure themselves of no worse than a tie, but dropped the nightcap 4-3.

Both the Indians and Boston Red Sox, who dropped a pair to the Detroit Tigers, 5-4 and 8-4, were eliminated. Chicago White Sox, who took two from the Washington Senators, 7-5 and 7-2, still are in the running. The next game the Yanks win or the White Sox lose will end it.

The doubleheader between Baltimore and Kansas City

The Brooks collected two of their runs in the second on doubles by Jackie Robinson, Gil Hodges and Duke Snider, then sent what proved to be the winning run home in the fifth when Pee Wee Reese singled and Johnny Klippstein walked Robinson, Hodges and Charlie Neal in succession.

Tom Sturdivant pitched the Yanks to their first-game victory with an assist from Tommy Byrne. Early Wynn, however, put off the inevitable by beating Casey Stengel's men in the nightcap. Mickey Mantle hit his 49th homer but still is 10 games back of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927.

In sweeping the Senators, the White Sox pulled back into second place ahead of the Indians. The Tigers helped eliminate the Red Sox mainly through fine relief pitching by Walt Masterston and Jim Bunning.

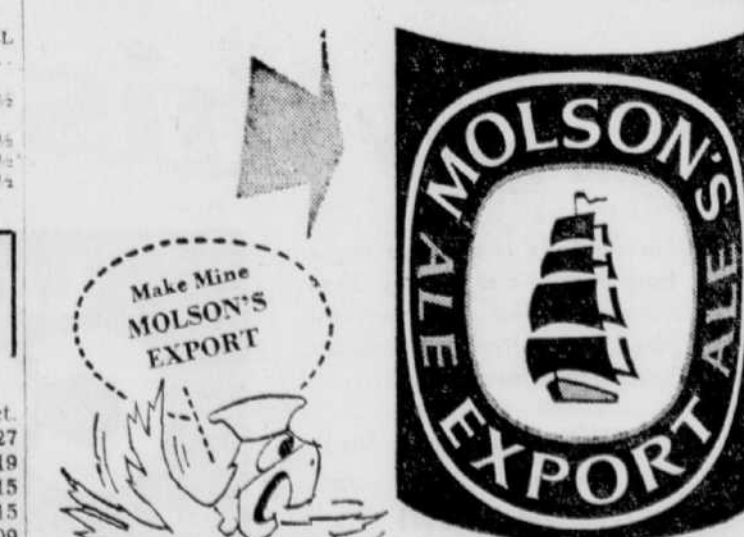

Art Ditmar tossed a four-hitter in the second game against Baltimore after Ray Moore had won his 12th decision for the Orioles in the opener.

Rip Repulski won the first game for the Cards against Pittsburgh with a homer in the 10th but the Pirates collected 15 hits off four Redbird pitchers in the second game.

Gene Baker broke up the opener for the Cubs with a bases loaded double in the ninth. Jack Sanford got credit for the second game triumph for the Phillies, although he walked eight and hit one batter in the seven innings he worked.

The Wings move on to Toronto to meet the Maple Leafs in the best-of-seven finals.

Ottawa Rough Riders Wallop Als; Eskimos Crush B. C. Lions 34-8

Fans Swarm On Field In Dying Seconds Of Game; Fullback Tommy Lewis Stars; Fumbles Prove Costly To Montrealers

A steady performance mixed with a dash of the unexpected proved just the recipe Ottawa Rough Riders needed Saturday to boil a 20-9 victory out of Montreal Alouettes, first capital triumph in four meetings with the Big Four Football League leaders.

Fullback Tommy Lewis added the finishing touch to a performance that warmed the hearts of most of the 15,000 fans watching it at Lansdowne Park. He intercepted quarterback Sam (The Rifle) Etcheverry's last desperate pass and scooted 15 yards for the final Ottawa touchdown.

It came in the dying seconds of the game and brought fans swarming over the field in such droves that the convert attempt was called off.

Quarterback Hal Ledyard, formerly with San Francisco 49ers, provided a good part of the Ottawa steadiness. He mixed up his plays with greater variety and better results than previously and managed, among other things, to toss a 40-yard touchdown pass to end Bobby Simpson.

The unexpected came from Avatus Stone. Coach Frank Clair used Stone only for kicking because of a leg injury but on one punt try, the veteran half back pulled a fake on the charging Alouette line.

He tossed a pass to Gary Schneider for 36 yards that put Diers in position for Don Pinney's five-yard run around the end and the Ottawa touchdown.

Pinney's touchdown in the second quarter pulled Ottawa abreast of Montreal, who led 7-0 at the end of the first on Etcheverry's aerial drive for 73 yards

Gordie Howe Pots Two As Wings Edge Edmonton

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — Right winger Gordie Howe scored two unassisted goals in the third period Saturday night to lead Detroit Red Wings to a 4-3 victory over Edmonton Flyers, their Western Hockey League farm club.

It was the Wings first exhibition game. The National Hockey League club meets Edmonton again here Wednesday.

Rookie Tom McCarthy of Toronto and Norm Ullman were the other Detroit marksmen. Murray Costello, Art Lea and John Hart scored for Edmonton.

Eastern Townships Retain Johns-Manville Trophy

RAINY WEATHER FAILS TO HALT GOLFERS — The above photo was taken yesterday afternoon at the Sherbrooke Country Club and shows number one foursome in the International Golf Tournament prior to teeing off. On the left is Gordon Miller and Don Doe, both of Granby, Dave Walsh and Les Mercer, of Burlington.

The E. T. golf team, captained by Don Doe of Granby, defeated the Vermont State squad 15-9 and retained the Johns-Manville Trophy in the International Golf Tournament held yesterday afternoon at the Sherbrooke Country Club.

The victory was the third for the Townships over their rivals from across the Border. The American team has one verdict in their favor while the other match finished in a stalemate. The event, which is played for annually, was originally a two-game affair but this season only one match was played. Next year the teams will revert to the original system and two matches will be played, one in Vermont and the other in the Townships.

Don Doe of Granby posted the low gross score of the day with a 74 while H. Laurie, also of Granby, followed with a 75. For the Americans Kermit Grant and Chad Ramsdell, both of the St. Johnsbury Country Club, had identical scores of 76.

The Laurie brothers, Howard and Veldon, registered the low ball of the event with a best-ball of 71 while Don Doe and Gordon Miller came through with a 73. For the American side the Bob Smith-C. Ramsdell and the Grant-C. Wright duos each had 74's.

The Canadians built up a 6-1 lead at the end of the first nine but the Americans rallied in the second half to garnish eight points for their nine while the Townships extended their early advantage to pick up nine more to finish out in front 15-9.

Doe had 37, one over, on the front nine and posted another 37 on the back nine for his 74. Howard Laurie completed the first nine in even figures, 36, but went four over on the back for his 75. Grant and Ramsdell both had 38's on the front nine and finished with the same on incoming nine for their totals of 76.

Despite the inclement weather some very good scores were registered. The better part of the matches were played in the rain but this failed to dampen the boys. The Laurie brothers along with Connie Dion and John Lindell, of Asbestos, and Willis Kirby and Armand Dussault of the Country Club made a clean sweep of their matches winning three points each. No American team won their games outright.

50,000 See Manchester United Post 4-1 Win Over Sheffield To Retain English League First Division Lead

LONDON — Reuters — A crowd of nearly 50,000 watched Manchester United cruise to an easy 4-1 win over Sheffield Saturday to keep the leadership of the English League first division.

Leading 3-0 at halftime, Manchester never was in danger of losing. By picking up 14 points in its last eight matches, Manchester leads by one point over Leeds United.

Leeds put up a stout defensive show to triumph 2-1 over Wolverhampton Wanderers.

It was a black day for the leaders in the second division. Only one of the top three, Sheffield United, managed to add a point to their total.

United's home draw with Bristol City brought it level on points with Nottingham Forest, but the Nottingham team leads on goal average.

Nottingham's left back, Geoff Thomas, contributed to his previously-unbeaten team's loss to Rotherham United. He booted one into his own goal. Rotherham's 3-2 victory was its first of the season.

Bristol Rovers, third in the second division, fell 2-1 at home to Leicester City.

Nottingham soccer fans had some consolation for Forest's defeat when Notts County eked out a 2-1 win over Middlesbrough — County's first victory of the season.

of the game. Only Southend United (third division south) and Chester (third division north) are without a victory.

Torquay United, which took over the top notch in third division south last Wednesday for the first time in history, lost it Saturday when it crumbled before a Brighton and Hove Albion onslaught losing 6-0 at Brighton.

Southampton, 2-0 winners over Northampton Town, leads the division by a single point over six clubs battling for second spot.

Hartlepool United took a clear lead in the northern section with a 4-2 away victory over high-placed Stockport County.

Workington Town (third division north), winning 1-0 at Crewe, maintained its unbeaten record.

Clyde, Partick Thistle, Celtic and Dundee went through to the semi-finals of the Scottish league cup.

Celtic needed its 6-0 lead in its first game with Dumbfries, because it lost Saturday 3-0, giving Celtic an aggregate win of 6-3.

19th Straight Home Victory For Western Champs; Stampeders Dump Blue Bombers 16-1; Kwong Stars

The league-leading Edmonton Eskimos chalked up their 19th straight home victory by crushing British Columbia Lions 34-8 while Calgary Stampeders trimmed Winnipeg Blue Bombers 16-6 in Calgary.

Eskimos, who have won six of seven starts this year, haven't lost at home since Sept. 27, 1954. The loss left Lions in a second-place tie with Winnipeg and Saskatchewan, six points behind the Eskimos.

Earl Lindley, former Utah State back, scored two touchdowns for Eskimos with Normie Kwong and end Bill Walker getting the others. Tackle Bob Dean booted two converts and two field goals and Jackie Parker kicked two singles.

Ed Vereb scored the B.C. touchdown and Al Pollard booted the convert and a single.

Parker completed 11 of 20 forward passes attempted, including one to Lindley for a touchdown. Jerry Gustafson, who joined B.C. from the San Francisco '49er camp and Stanford university, had 10 completions in 24 attempts.

Kwong ran the ball 150 yards in 19 carries to pick up more than half the 290 yards Eskimos made along the ground.

Paul Cameron put on a sparkling display for Lions, picking up more than 125 yards in nine line plays, including a 48-yard run.

Strong line play and an electrifying 61-yard end run by Joe Pagliel overcame three Calgary fumbles.

Pagliel, 22-year-old Clemson College alumnus, took a pitch-out from quarterback Don Klosterman at the Calgary 40-yard line early in the fourth quarter and went all the way for a touchdown.

Klosterman, who completed six of nine forward passes, threw one for a touchdown to Ron Clinkscale and kicked a convert and a field goal for the rest of the Calgary scoring.

End Tom Miner, traded by Stampeders to Bombers this year for Dick Huffman, kicked two field goals to handle the Winnipeg scoring.

The victory, Calgary's second in seven starts, was some revenge for Stampeders, who were beaten by a single point at Winnipeg when Miner kicked a last-play field goal. Films later showed Bombers had 13 men on the field for that play.

Stampeders remain in last place.

30 SAVE STROKES

By JUG McSPADEN

It is only with complete coordination between the hands that full power can be transmitted from the body to the clubhead.

No grip, no swing.

A number of superior players favor the interlocking grip, regarded as an aid to people with small hands. The hands are placed on the shaft the same way as in the overlapping grip. The difference is that the left forefinger is locked with the little finger of the right hand.

The great majority use the overlapping grip, however, and employing it correctly, you have the basis for good golf. Use the same grip from the drive to the chip.

Check your grip every time you address the ball. Be sure the V's of the thumb and forefinger are parallel. Have the V's pointing over the right shoulder.

Neither hand should dominate the grip. They should work together equally.

The club rests diagonally across the left hand, controlled by a firm fist. The principal pressure is with the thumb and forefinger, but there should be a firmness in the grasp of the little finger, so that the hand does not open at the top of the backswing, thus causing a loop as the downswing begins.

The grip with the right is a complete finger grip. (NEA).

Last of a series.

LEFT HAND — Box the club inside the fist with pressure exerted by the little finger.

Jackie Robinson, Despite His Age, Is Still Big Cog In Dodgers' Drive; Pressure Is Nothing New To Him

NEW YORK — Jackie Robinson, 37, led the league in anything for seven years and he doesn't play a full season any more. But Jackie Robinson is still quite a ball player.

His temper is shorter than it used to be when he was a symbol of baseball's great racial experiment — the first Negro ever to play in the major leagues. Nowadays he feuds lustily with umpires, opposing players, fans, even league presidents.

This season Brooklyn Dodgers brought in a younger third baseman, power-hitting Randy Jackson, and it looked as if the 37-year-old Robinson was headed for the bench after nine years as a regular.

But here the Dodgers are in a close fight for the pennant and Robbie is playing almost every day, beating the opposition in all the old, familiar ways.

The Dodgers came into the stretch drive in the throes of a miserable batting slump. Their home-run hitters—Duke Snider, Gil Hodges, Roy Campanella—were popping up and striking out consistently.

greater wildness on the part of the harassed moundsmen.

He would draw in the opposing infield by faking an attempted bunt on the first pitch, then loop a hit over their heads. And he was making all the plays in the field.

Pressure is nothing new to Robinson. He's faced it in one form or another ever since he left the friendly atmosphere of Montreal's Delorimier Park nine years ago to make his debut in the curious and sometimes hostile company of National League competitors.

At the unfamiliar position of first base, he hit .297 in his rookie year and led the league in stolen bases. Two years later, established for the first time at his regular second base spot, he won the league batting title. For five years thereafter his batting average never fell below .300.

Meanwhile, the race issue vanished as Negro stars established themselves throughout both leagues. Today Robinson is fighting his last big battle against advancing age.

It's a battle he can't keep on winning forever. But he's still a mighty hard man to lick.

Others selected are George Knudson, Winnipeg; Joe LeBlanc, Montreal; and Doug Silverberg, Red Deer, Alta.

Lions May Pay $15,000 Into WIFU Treasury

VANCOUVER — British Columbia Lions will undoubtedly pay the maximum amount of $15,000 into the Western Inter-provincial Football Union treasury this fall to help WIFU clubs with smaller gate receipts, says Lions general manager Phil Webb.

In three league games this season, attendance for Lions' games here averaged 29,312 compared with 25,150 in eight home games last season.

The maximum a club will shell out is $15,000.

On last year's attendance, it was estimated Lions would have paid out $14,700 and Edmonton and Winnipeg about $100 each.

Saskatchewan would have received $7,000 and Calgary Stampeders $8,000.

TASTES BETTER

Are you a litter-leaver?
Who me? A litter-leaver... certainly not! Far be it from me to leave empty beer bottles lying around picnic grounds and by the side of our highways. I always make a point of returning my empty Brading's bottles... and besides I save money that way.
That may be something most folks seem to forget... it's a lot less expensive to buy Brading's new carton of 12 returnable pints. And with Brading's you get a wonderful ale. It has a richer collar... superior aroma... mellower flavour. Try it to-day!
