PRICE: THREE CENTS

LANDLORDS SAID "IN ON HOIST"

City To Honor War Dead On Sunday

Lest we forget, lest we forget! Rudyard Kipling's poem written in 1897 will be the main hymn at the memorial service to be held at the Westmount Cenotaph, Sunday.

In honor of the men who died in the two world wars and as a tribute to all veterans, Westmount is planning an impressive ceremony beginning at 2:30 p.m.

Leading the parade, prior to the actual service to be conducted by Hon. Major Rev. G. F. Leigh-chaplain of the Royal Montreal Regiment, will be the officers and men of H.M.C.S. Donnacona, followed by the R.M.R. Legion Association; 3rd Field Regiment, R.C.E.; the Royal Montreal Regiment (MG); No. 401 Squadron Air Auxiliary, L.C.C. Company, and the R.C.A.F. Air Cadets (Westmount).

Start at R.M.R.

Forming up at the R.M.R. Armoury, the parade will leave at 2 p.m. taking the following route to the cenotaph: St. Catherine street, east to Redfern; north to Sherbrooke street; east to Clarke avenue and west on Cote St. Antoine road to the cenotaph.

The saluting base will be at the foot of Stanton avenue, with the General Officer Commanding taking the salute.

The mayor of Westmount, together with other civic leaders, will take part in the services.

Escort to the colors will be led by Lieut. L. Thomson, D.C.M., who will carry the King's colors; Second Lieut. R. Plant, the regimental color; C.S.M. G. A. Bonner; Sgt. J. R. Tetrault, M.M., and Sgt. V. D. Steele.

At the cenotaph, Rev. G. F. Leigh will read the lesson from the Book of the Wisdom of Solomon, chapter three, verses one to nine. He will also conduct a prayer of commemoration, a prayer for those who made the supreme sacrifice, a prayer for our country, a prayer for peace, and the Lord's Prayer. During the singing of the hymn "Abide with Me," wreaths will be laid at the foot of the cenotaph by the City of Westmount, the Royal Montreal Regiment, the 58th Westmount Rifles, the Ladies' Committee of the R.M.R., and other civic societies or private individuals.

The band and drums of the R.M.R. will play the Last Post, and, following a two-minute silence, they will play Reveille, then the National Anthem.

Few actions of government since before the war have caused such a furore as the rental ruling announced toward the end of last week.

The size of the increase, the apparent hurry in which it was rushed through, the timing of it just before the Christmas season — and the fact that many landlords seemed to know, six weeks ago, not only that it was coming but precisely what the increase would be, have all irked tenants to the point of explosion. Most of them feel that to impose such an extra burden on their finances just at this time when the housing shortage is still acute is like hitting a man with his hands tied—he can't fight back.

It is possible that the government did not give as much consideration to the matter as it might have, did not realize the extent to which the average voter's margin of income over expenses has been whittled by the steady rise in the cost of living over the past few years, did not anticipate the earthquake of indignation the ruling would set in motion.

The consequences are liable to be serious. In this area alone it is estimated that about

Bronze Plaque Is Unveiled At Westmount High School

An impressive ceremony was carried out yesterday afternoon in the Hall of Honour at Westmount Senior High in which a beautiful bronze plaque commemorating the death of 141 Westmount boys who so valiantly gave their lives in World War II was unveiled and dedicated by Garfield Birnie, president of the Westmount Old Boys' Association and Captain the Rev. Charles Johnston. Presentation of an exquisitely bound Memorial Book containing the names of 1,453 boys who enlisted in the armed services was also made.

Present at the ceremony were members of the Westmount Old Boys Executive, Mayor J. S. Cameron of Westmount, a representative of the Westmount High Alumnae, members of the Old Teachers Association, members of the Westmount Board of School Commissioners, and one representative from each of the armed forces as a Guard of Honour. The main speaker was Brigadier James A. deLalanne, C.B.E., M.C.

In his address, Brig. deLalanne mentioned the fact that in every corner of the world there would always be someone who would answer to the call of Westmount High. He also spoke of the great patriotism that the boys showed in their sacrifice so that we could be inspired with a love of the good and just in life. "In the words of Stephen Leacock," Mr. deLalanne continued, "Westmount High is second to none in their Dominion of Canada as proved by the undying selflessness and steadfast devotion."

The public was reminded that the school doors will be open this Sunday afternoon from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., in order that parents, friends and relatives may have the opportunity of viewing the new tablet.

Student Councils Told "Speak Up"

Mr. Wearing was addressing the sixth annual Student Council Conference held this year in Westmount Junior High School on the subject of School Citizenship. Delegates from 45 Province of Quebec high schools were registered Friday afternoon and introduced to the local high school students with whom they were to be billeted for the night.

David Munroe, director of the School for Teachers, Macdonald College, at a dinner given by Eaton's Young Canada Club at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel on Saturday afternoon to wind up the conference, stressed the necessity of a democratic way of life in all high schools in order to insure for future years adults who will make an intelligent choice between democracy and Communism. Student Council leaders, Mr. Munroe continued, were best able to give students' experience in democratic living and should lead the way in achieving it. Two of their basic Panama City in that glittering, hot, lush zone between the two Americas, becomes a Great White Way when the sun sinks abruptly from the brassy blue sky.

The last time I saw them, she left him after a violent quarrel; he disappeared into the shadows of the night, carelessly throwing away his cigarette . . . a gesture of finality.

Christine was a strange tawny-skinned Panamanian with blonde hair and brown eyes who had lived in the Zone all her life, selling trinkets; Peruvian silver rings, aligator purses, exotic things to the Americans passing through.

He was a USO officer taking care of the servicemen still serving around the area of the Gatun locks and spending their time around his service clubs. A spoiled, obnoxious person feeling intellectually superior to all he came in contact with. Brad was the sort of person you just didn't care for. His culture was only a veneer.

I met Brad in the general course of looking after certain amenities for a body of men — he was the means to obtain facilities.

He always spoke of Christine in a detached sort of a way — as if she were a laboratory experiment. He tried always to give the impression of a person who was trying to make an objective appraisal of another without betraying his feelings . . . the giveaway was that he talked too much about her. She was too inferior to his station.

"Don't let the fact that you were 3,000 miles from home with nobody particularly waiting at home, influence you . . . people like Christine should be avoided."

I began to get the impression that I was about to witness the metamorphosis of another Pygmalion — that he secretly would like to make a lady of her, New England style, just to see what would happen.

When I suggested that, he guffawed — a rare expression of feeling in an otherwise taciturn Down-easter. He joked that I had been seeing too many of his old USO shows.

That's why I guffawed this morning when I saw the announcement of their marriage.

H. Fairburn Leads Fellowship Ass'n

The Young Men's Fellowship Organization of the Westmount Y.M.C.A., commonly known as the TYMFOWYS, held their annual meeting and election of officers recently. The following were elected to serve for the coming year: Howard Fairburn, Winnipeg, president; "Johnny" Johnson, of Cardiff, Wales, past president; Earle Fraser, Dalhousie University, treasurer; Don Ferguson, Eastern Ontario, secretary; Gerry Tappin, Tyneside, England, member-at-large.

The cross section of areas from which the executive come is an indication of the widespread home towns of the fifteen members who form this club. The TYMFOWYS meet on the first and third Thursdays each month. They have a supper which they prepare themselves.

Following this supper, a planned program including speakers, discussions, educational films and service projects make up the work of this group.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

YOUNG ADULT SECTION

The latest activities to start in the Young Adult Section are the Ballroom Dance Instruction Class on Friday at 8:30 p.m., and the Sunday Evening Fireside at 8:45.

The ballroom dance instruction is being given by Joan Sterling of Ruth Sorel's Ballet, and consists of nine lessons to be given every Friday evening up to December 9, and from January 5 to 20 in 1950. Registrations for this group should be made before next Friday's lesson at 8:30 p.m.

The Sunday Evening Fireside which takes the form of an after-church gathering presents for members and their friends an informal friendly way to discuss current topics, to have periods of hymn singing, and sing-songs; to hear outstanding speakers on the subject of brotherhood and to see films and hear music related to this same theme. The refreshments served before the open fireside make for easy conversation with your friend in the next seat. You will find a welcome next Sunday night at the "Y" Fireside.

The Music Appreciation Group are continuing to meet every Thursday evening at 8:15. Last Thursday, Jean Mitchell presented a very interesting program with selections from her own collection of records. In the weeks to come, the members are arranging their own concerts and these will be listed from time to time.

A Table Tennis Club is being formed for young men on Monday evenings at 7:30 in the games room. All young men interested in taking part in such a club are asked to be at the "Y" not later than 7:30 on Monday night when the inaugural meeting of the club will be held.

The In-an-Er Club, consisting of a mixed group of eighteen to twenty-year-olds who are interested in organizing a club for educational as well as social activities, will meet on Wednesday night at 8:00.

Square and folk dancing is being held every Friday evening from 8:30 to 9:30. This is new to most of the members, and a great deal of fun and enjoyment is being gained, along with the latest trend in party dancing. Anyone interested in taking part in this group are asked to be at the "Y" no later than 8:30 on Friday night. The Friday night Social Dances will be held as usual on Friday night at 9:30 till midnight. This dance is organized by the members, and in the program opportunity is given for those who are taking dancing lessons to practice their steps and for the square dancers to introduce their latest movements.

The Bridge Club will continue to hold its meetings on Monday evenings at 8:00, and with the number who are turning out a tournament will soon be in the ofing.

BOYS' DIVISION

The Saturday morning gym, swim and club program is going in full swing. Gilbert Young's Warriors have challenged Derek Hanford's Champs to a swimming meet to take place this Saturday morning, following the gym class. All Warriors and Champs are asked to turn out for this big event. The junior gym and swim classes are held on Wednesday at 4:00 p.m. and Saturday at 9:30 a.m. Intermediate classes take place on Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. and Saturday at 10:30 a.m., senior boys' classes on Monday and Thursday at 4:00 p.m.

Swim Club The Friday night swimming club is now going strong, with Instructor Bob Moffat shaping up his swimmers for the winter Inter-Y meets. Any boy wishing to improve his swimming is asked to come out on Friday night at 7:30.

All those wishing to enter the Canadian National Swimming Association meet on November 19 are asked to hand their name in to Bob Moffat on Friday night.

Christmas Cards — The World Service Christmas cards are going well. There are still some 50-cent and $1.00 boxes left. Any boys who are interested in selling these cards are asked to see Bill Johnstone after school and after the movies on Saturday.

A TIME TO REMEMBER

The little boy was only nine. He had the face of a cherub, the honesty and inquisitiveness typical of his age. It was Remembrance Day—1949. The little fellow didn't quite know what to make of it.

His father didn't have a holiday like the boy. But at 5:30 when he arrived home from work he found his son waiting for him. Daddy had been to war, stopped a piece of Hun shrapnel with his left shoulder while fighting in Normandy. He no longer wore the General Service badge which had been given him. "People forget awful fast," he had commented when first he removed it from his lapel and placed it in a cigar box of souvenirs. "This thing doesn't mean much any more."

"Daddy," asked the little fellow, "why have I got a holiday from school today? Teacher said it was Remembrance Day and she got awful mad at some of the boys who cheered when she told them that today was a holiday. Teacher said that we shouldn't be too happy on this day because it's supposed to be a sad day. Why is it supposed to be sad, Daddy?"

Daddy wasn't too certain how he should answer the question. He remembered all too well the joyous welcome home, the first job, and then the oblivion of civilian life in a small office, the news that each day seemed to point towards another world conflict. The brave new world which he had been promised just hadn't arrived for Daddy. The soaring cost of living and a stationary salary kept him worried, fretful.

"Daddy, what are you thinking about?" asked the little fellow.

"Well, son, I'm trying to think of the best way to explain to you what Remembrance Day is. You remember Uncle Ted, don't you?"

"Oh, yes," said the little fellow.

"Well, Uncle Ted died in 1945. He was in the air force. He died because he wanted you to live in a world where you can be happy. Now your grandfather died in 1918. He was in the army. And he was killed by the Germans, just as your Uncle Ted was. He fought the Germans because he wanted to keep the world safe from bad men."

"But what is Remembrance Day, Daddy?"

"Well, son, once a year we set aside a day on which to think about the men who died while fighting for us. We thank God that they were so brave and so good. We remember what they did for us. That's why they call it Remembrance Day."

"Gee, Daddy, I think it's a nice idea, don't you?"

"Yes, it is a good idea. But people don't always remember. People forget. And leaders forget. They forget that what the ordinary people want, people like you and me, son, is peace. We can have peace, son. But we've got to fight for it. Not fight in wars. But fight a different and a better kind of battle."

"Daddy, do you think I'll ever be a soldier and go across the ocean to kill people?"

Daddy looked at the little cherub face, the honest eyes, the innocent tiny body.

"If you do, son, the men whom we remember today will have died in vain."

one hundred thousand dollars monthly will be transferred from the hands of the many to the hands of the few, with an inevitable drop in the community's purchasing power.

A weapon of great power has been placed in the hands of labor agitators. Every union from Halifax to Hellandgone will demand that the increase be paid by the employers. That may force many industries to raise prices again.

The apostle Paul said that things that are not seen are more important than things that are seen. The property owners had a case—or at least many of them did. And they have a powerful lobby that has been exercising pressure at Ottawa for years. Those are the things that are seen. But the government didn't give sufficient attention to the things that are not seen.

One aspect of this fracas proves what we've said more than once in these columns—that the private member amounts to almost nothing today. For the past ten years or so the influence of the ordinary M.P. has been steadily clipped until today he represents one vote at division time, and little else. He is told nothing, consulted on nothing, not even given an opportunity to discuss important items in Parliament until after they have become law. More than that, he is refused information by bureaucratic civil servants who look upon him as little more than a necessary nuisance. The supremacy of Parliament, one of the ancient landmarks of Liberalism, seems to have been forgotten.

Private members obviously knew nothing of the rent hoist until it was officially announced. Like the rest of us they heard about it over the radio or read about it in the papers. Some of them had won their recent elections on the government's record in maintaining rents at a reasonable level. Some of them, not having been advised that any drastic change was contemplated, had reassured constituents just a day before the new ruling was announced. They felt foolish when they read next day's newspapers.

It's futile to talk of our democratic way of life and of the supremacy of Parliament when a handful of men make the important decisions without any reference to the great majority of the elected representatives of the people, and present such decisions to Parliament as a fait accompli.

Jewelry Firm Marks Golden Jubilee

Westmount's oldest jewelry firm, N. Ohman, 1216 Greene avenue, is presently celebrating its 50th anniversary. Started by the late Nils Ohman in 1899, the business is now being carried on by his son, N. Eric Ohman, who first became identified with the store in 1919. The doors of the first location were opened on the corner of Wood avenue and St. Catherine street but it wasn't long till the firm moved (in 1905) to its present location where it has grown up with the City of Westmount. The name of Ohman's has long been famous for its watch and clock repairs—which department now includes four watchmakers and three clock repairmen. Jewelry designing has also become a specialty with them within the past two decades. Mr. Ohman is The Examiner's oldest advertiser. His first advertisement appeared in the second issue and he has never missed an issue since that time. The store's display window front was modernized this year and to commemorate his fiftieth anniversary a special display has been installed. Backing up the display is a large photo of a drawing made in 1870 showing Greene avenue as it was then. The Westmount Animal Hospital is clearly visible further up the street as is the home of Miss C. D. Anderson, 4209 Western avenue. At the right of the photo, the old toll gate at the corner of Greene avenue and Sherbrooke street can be seen.

J. McCulley Will Speak at Opening Of 'Y' Campaign

J. McCulley, Deputy Commissioner of Penitentiaries for the Dominion of Canada, and former headmaster of Pickering College, will be the speaker at the opening dinner, Monday, November 14, of the Montreal Y.M.C.A. annual maintenance campaign. Mr. McCulley has been for many years associated with the Y.M.C.A. and youth work, being recognized as an authority in this field. A graduate of the University of Toronto and an M.A. from Oxford, he has been active in such projects as the commission studying Canadian youth in the post-war period.

Hymn Festival With 150 Voices On Tuesday Night

The fourth annual Hymn Festival sponsored by the Montreal Centre of the Canadian College of Organists will be held in St. Andrew's Church, Westmount, on Tuesday at 8.15 p.m. The choirs of the following churches will participate in the service: Calvary United, Fairmount-St. Giles United, the First Baptist, St. Andrews United, George's Anglican, Stanley Presbyterian and Westmount Park-Emmanuel United. The ministers of these churches will assist in conducting the service.

It is in a service of this kind that the essential unity of the Christian bodies is manifest, the great hymns being the common treasury, known and loved by all denominations. Such well-known hymns as "How sweet the Name of Jesus sounds", "Now thank we all our God", "For all the saints who from their labours rest" sung to the fine tune by Vaughan Williams, and "Onward, Christian Soldiers" will be used, and other lesser-known numbers will be sung antiphonally by the choirs placed in various parts of the church. An impressive feature will be the procession of the choirs to the music of Stanley's "Trumpet Voluntary" played by Allan Knapp, trumpeter. An offering will be received at this service for the British Organ Restoration Fund of the Canadian College of Organists. The public is cordially invited.

LIBRARY CLOSED
 The Westmount Public Library will be closed all day today, in honor of those who gave their lives in World Wars I and II.

War Dead's Unselfishness Said Core Of Christianity

"Those who died in war are close to the core of the Christian belief of unselfishness," Major-General Basil Price told members of the Westmount Rotary Club at their regular luncheon meeting held Wednesday.

"When we see the International strife in the world today, we wonder if the giving of their lives was really worthwhile, but when we think of what might have happened we can see, too, that they have preserved something for us," the speaker said.

General Price saw the present day crisis as an ideological struggle, and claimed that there were two phases to it. "First," he said, "we must deal with the immediate phase; that of building up a materialistic force and be prepared." It may call for higher taxes and some austerity perhaps but it is better than having another war on our hands, he maintained.

Described as Westmount's foremost soldier, Gen. Price said he felt strongly about the building of a solid foundation developed out of the unity of the commonwealth nations and the western democratic powers.

He said the second phase of the ideology can only be achieved when the acceptance of Christian democratic principles are maintained, and said that Churchill made this the key-note of this idea in his speech at Boston that the flame of Christian ethics is our highest guide for peace.

Introduced by Jimmy deLalanne, the speaker said that it will take all our fortitude to prevent the present cold war from slipping back into a shooting war.

He was thanked by Percy Delgado, President of the Westmount Rotary Club, who has recently returned to the club after a long illness.

Women's Work Town Award To Westm't

IN RECOGNITION of the work of its "Women's Club", Westmount today won the "Town of the Week" award given to Canadian centres for outstanding community achievement. Announcement of the award was made on a coast-to-coast programme "Your Women's Editor", broadcast from Montreal's station CFCF. Included in the Award was a contribution of $100 to the Westmount Women's Club by the "Town of the Week" sponsors, Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., Limited.

Appearing on the programme was Mrs. H. S. Jacques, President of the Club, who accepted the award and outlined some of the community work the Women's Club is doing.

Among the projects mentioned were the Club's contribution towards the support of British War Orphans; their visits and gifts to patients in military hospitals; monthly food packages to Britain; Christmas entertainment for schools and the provision of a scholarship to a student at Westmount High School.

Rev. E. J. Springett Gives British Israel Addresses At Westmount

Speaking on Wednesday and Thursday of last week in Victoria Hall, Westmount, Rev. E. J. Springett, Dominion Commissioner, British-Israel-World Federation, addressed large audiences under the two captions, "Behold the Bridegroom Cometh" and "The Kingdom of the Beast."

In the former message the speaker dealt with the criticism often levelled against British-Israel teaching to the effect that in almost every case the Old Testament was used to the exclusion of the New, and said that such criticism indicated a serious lack of knowledge relative to British-Israel teaching.

He then based his address upon the parable of the ten virgins, pointing out that the principal persons in the story were the bridegroom and the bride. The bridegroom, the royal personality, the judge of all the world, the King of Kings, in fact the resurrected Christ—the bride, Israel redeemed.

Dealing with the relationship so often expressed in the Bible between Jehovah and Israel as that of husband and wife, he said the redemption of Israel the divorced wife has been effected. Remarriage is now lawful, the time of the remarriage has come and he warned that conditions in the world now were of such a nature as to indicate the supreme necessity for every right thinking person to be on the "qui vive" and waiting for the cry, "Behold the Bridegroom Cometh."

In his second address the speaker stated that the foundation of the history of the world and men was the Bible which gives a dramatic preview of human history all down the ages and outlines the fact this purpose was definitely national. He pointed out that information was given relative to certain basic institutions listing some of them as the Kingdom of God, the Babylonian Succession of Empires and the Kingdom of the Beast. Of the Kingdom of God he declared that it is the most permanent and most potent institution on earth. It is a Material, National, Ethical, Ethical and Spiritual entity, but not an ecclesiastical institution. The Church is not the Kingdom. He described component parts of the Kingdom of God as being the national unit, Israel, now represented by Anglo-Celto-Saxon, Jehovah, the King and Divine Law which is the law of the Lord and said that in its modern manifestation it must be a Christian nation recognizing God as King and possessing the Divine Law.

Empire Overthrown

Of the Babylonian succession of empires, he said that they were in close contact with Israel of old and in fact overthrew her. Now in our generation they have been overthrown by Israel. The administration of the charter of human government given to this people and the manner in which it has been used was a demonstration of man's inability to administer human affairs on the basis of his own knowledge and wisdom. He outlined the Kingdom of the Beast as being the Kingdom of Evil, and said that when Christ, the King of the Kingdom of God, and the Devil, the King of the Kingdom of the Beast next met, it would be in actual conflict unto death and that time is drawing very near. He also said that the signs of the domination of Evil were indicated by the great apostasy, strong delusions politically as represented by Communism, socially as indicated by the attempt to bring in the welfare state and

Christian Science

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Romans 9:8. "They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:—"For the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God. Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God." (Romans 8: 19, 21.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science & Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Mankind will improve through Science and Christianity. The necessity for uplifting the race is father to the fact that Mind can do it; for Mind can impart purity instead of impurity, strength instead of weakness, and health instead of disease. Mortal mind must part with error, must put off itself with its deeds, and immortal manhood, the Christ ideal, will appear." (Pages 371 and 430.)

spiritually by the ever growing number of isms now current. He said the mark of the beast is everywhere and it lays an absolute embargo upon the freedom of the individual and of nations.

We hope all Cubs and Scouts, not to mention Scouters, will tune in to the Scout Newscast over CJAD this Saturday and every Saturday morning at 9.05 a.m. This week the featured item among many others will be an interview with Scoutmaster Frank Harris of Queen Mary United Troop. Mr. Harris came out from England last year, where he had been a Scoutmaster also, and he will tell listeners on Saturday of the differences between Canadian and English Scouting, and how our Canadian Scouts compare with English Scouts. Don't forget, CJAD, 9-05-9.15 a.m. every Saturday morning.

Thirty Cubs were present at this week's meeting of Trinity Memorial Pack when Sixer Jim Goddard led the opening ceremonies. Richard Howard was presented with Gardener Badge and Warren Franklin with his 1st star. Jim Goddard received his 4th year service star, Tom Goddard, 3 years and Wayne Duggins, 1st year. David Shaw passed Message during instruction period. A House Orderly Badge class will be held this weekend for John Anrum, Jim Goddard and Richard Howard. The Gray Six won the evening's competition and Sixer Richard Howard was presented with the pennant on behalf of his six.

St. Matthias Pack

Last Friday St. Matthias Pack was visited by Mr. Gilhooly and Sixer Russel Williams of the Sand Six passed Observer and Homecraft badges. Russel has now completed all twelve of his badges and will be appointed Senior Sixer at the next meeting. He has done a good job and all are glad to see him making such progress. Sixer Michael Harper of the Grey Six passed Toy-maker badge, which means that he now will proudly wear eleven badges. This, too, is a good piece of work and our congratulations are due him.

problems would be to get full participation from students and to lead them to exercise intelligent responsibility. "This can be done in several ways—through public meetings, periodic reports given at assemblies, printed minutes, or reports, school papers and magazines. By keeping the public well informed, the members active, and the program varied, students will participate willingly and with enthusiasm. These," he said, "are the surest methods by which we may keep democracy healthy."

At the opening supper, R. O. Bartlett, principal of Westmount High School, extended greetings to the delegates on behalf of the school commissioners with a short address from both M. Dunsmore for the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, and Lloyd Sommerville for the High School Principals' Association. Michael Fish, president of the Westmount High School Student Council, was chairman at that time. Head table guests at the dinner at the Ritz-Carlton were John Cleghorn, chairman; M. Dunsmore, R. O. Bartlett, Miss D. King, staff adviser, W.H.S.; Miss E. L. Cowper, conference organizer; Brian Braithwaite, La Tuque High School; Miss Erma Nelson, vice-president P.A. P.T.; C. T. MacKenzie, T. Eaton Co.; L. D. Hamilton, staff adviser, High School of Montreal; Murray Notkin, High School of Montreal; and Florence McDougall, Ormstown High School.

A. R. Griffith Memorial Hall will present a scene of gayety next Thursday, November 17, when all the fine array of articles of a practical nature and those made especially glamorous for Christmas gift-giving will be set out for sale by the Homoeopathic Women's Auxiliary at their annual bazaar. This sale, which for some years past has been one of the highlights of the bazaar season, represents one of the main activities of the Auxiliary.

Sure to be the cynosure of all eyes is the doll's house, electrically lighted and fully furnished. It will be on display and is sure to rouse wild excitement among the young fry before some lucky person takes it home.

Babies' layettes will be as attractive as of other years, and doubtless will prove as popular with shoppers. There will be tables and stalls of goods to suit every age and taste—aprons for hard wear and aprons worn for charm's sake; hand-knitted socks and fancy work; handicraft Christmas gifts and other articles; a white elephant table full of unique and still charming pieces; jams and jellies; handmade candies and cakes to save time and energy for busy homemakers.

Dolls in wide variety—baby dolls, boy dolls, big and little dolls will be on display, waiting for a new mother to adopt them and take them to a new home. Books and toys for boys will set up counter attractions to the dollies.

Afternoon tea will be served, also supper, so that bazaar visitors may enjoy their stay until late evening.

Mrs. Maurice Stoker is the president of the Auxiliary and the joint conveners are Mrs. Sidney Hill and Mrs. Henry Matthews.

All proceeds of the bazaar will be donated for new equipment in the hospital; for comforts for the patients; and for bedroom and nursery furnishings.

The ladies of the auxiliary invite all their many friends and the interested public to attend on Thursday, Nov. 17, from 2 p.m. till 10.30 p.m. at 2091 Northcliffe or Marlowe, ????? the hospital.

Tickets are now on sale on the Main Floor, Centre at the T. Eaton Co. Ltd., and at The Forum.

"Mr. Belvedere Goes To College" At the Monkland Theatre Saturday

If it's laughter you're after — and who isn't these days—don't miss "Mr. Belvedere Goes To College," new Twentieth Century-Fox comedy which starts Saturday at the Monkland Theatre.

The most screamingly funny thing to happen on the screen in years and years, it's even more hilarious than "Sitting Pretty," last year's rib-tickling hit which introduced the suave, sophisticated Clifton Webb as the self-styled genius, Belvedere. Shirley Temple is co-starred in the laugh-packed hit as a war widow who has to be convinced that Belvedere is as good as he seems.

Don't get the impression that this is a sequel—it isn't, even though Webb is still the straight-faced, straight-laced character to whom the impossible is ridiculously easy. Mr. Belvedere goes to college for the express purpose of obtaining a sheepskin in a single year in order to qualify for a $10,000 award won by his novel and, naturally enough, he takes over the institution in a matter of hours.

Given this comedy situation, centering around the erudite if somewhat over-age "Joe College," Director Elliott Nugent has gone all the way to buttress the film for laughs. Belvedere's hapless room-mates serve ably as buffs for his sparkling wit: sophomore Alan Young, the radio comedian who scored in "Chicken Every Sunday," attempts to haze freshman Belvedere and is completely out-classed while Alvin Greenman is a completely baffled young lad who finds his "roomie" a constant source of amazement.

The romance is in the capable hands of the accomplished Shirley, who is more luscious than practically unanimous

YOU CAN still find people who "don't believe in banks" ... who keep their cash in old coffee pots, or hide it in the woodpile, or carry it around.

But most folk nowadays keep their money in bank accounts. They can get it whenever they want it; and they can pay their bills by cheque. Canadians have more than seven million such deposit accounts.

In terms of Canada's adult population, that makes it practically unanimous.

The banks, in turn, know they must earn this confidence by giving you the best service they know how.

Today you can take your account to any bank you choose. And what is in your bank book is strictly between you and your bank. It is your own private business.

AT THE MONKLAND THEATRE

Despite the unlikely get-up, here is the movies' sophisticated Clifton Webb who, together with pert Shirley Temple and her movie son, Lonnie Thomas, are seen in the hilarious Twentieth Century-Fox comedy hit which starts Saturday until Tuesday at the Monkland Theatre, "Mr. Belvedere Goes To College." What happens to Belvedere right after he matriculates shouldn't happen to a college! Elliott Nugent directed the laugh-packed film which was produced by Samuel G. Engel.

ever. Her two-year-old son (whom she tries to hide) is the cause of much friction between herself and her ardent suitor, Tom Drake. Others in the outstanding cast include Jessie Royce Landis, Kathleen Hughes, Taylor Holmes, Paul Harvey, Barry Kelly and Bob Patten.

The hilarious screenplay was written by Richard Sale, Mary Loos and Mary McCall, Jr., based on a character created by Gwen Davenport.

"The Barkleys Of Broadway" Tops Seville Double Bill.

The big news of the exhilarating new Technicolor musical, "The Barkleys of Broadway," starts Saturday at the Seville Theatre, is that it reunites the captivating team of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers whose work together in such pictures as "Flying Down to Rio," "The Gay Divorcee" and "Top Hat" gave the screen some of its finest song-and-dance productions.

Their reunion picture presents them with a breezy, fast-paced, scintillating comedy - romance which gives them plenty of opportunity to show off their undisputed talents as the outstanding dancing partners of this generation.

The story casts them as Josh and Dinah, the Barkleys of the title, and a couple whose married life is as successful as their teaming on the Broadway musical-comedy stage, despite the fact that it vacillates between stormy quarrels and impulsive kisses. It is only when Dinah meets a romantic foreign playwright who encourages her to believe that she is wasting her time in musicals and instead should be modeling her career on that of Sarah Bernhardt that a rift occurs in what had been a happy-go-lucky marital set-up. The undaunted Josh, however, is not without his own resources and before the picture's gala climax he has convinced his erring wife that her place is not only beside her husband but in the realm of musical comedy rather than the so-called higher arts.

With the same talented quartet that gave Joan Crawford her first Academy Award three years ago, "Flamingo Road," a dynamic romantic drama about small-state politics, which starts Saturday also at the Seville Theatre.

Stars Joan Crawford and Zachary Scott, Producer Jerry Wald and Director Michael Curtiz are the four who made the now memorable "Mildred Pierce," one of the most popular pictures that year.

AT THE SEVILLE

Lovely Ruth Roman is the first girl to capture the attention of Kirk Douglas in his role as the prizefighter in Stanley Kramer's high-tensioned drama, "Champion," which starts Saturday at the Seville Theatre.

Attractive Modes Presented At Club Show In Victoria Hall

Chosen to give a comprehensive picture of the fashions for the new season, items in the fashion revue held on Friday at Victoria Hall included correctly styled wear for most occasions in town and country. Co-ordinated by Mrs. Dorothy Booth, the show was held under the auspices of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club, with Mrs. J. W. Perks presiding and Mrs. Eileen Murphy Collyer acting as commentator. An interesting feature of the event was that Mrs.

Average Canadian came in for a good deal of attention, with diversified styles designed especially to play up her attractions.

The program opened with a group of models wearing station wagon coats, two of the four coats shown having the conventional dark or light brown fur, and two with fur collars dyed in rich colors and worn with berets to tone or match. The ski girls came next, smartly attired to zoom down the slopes; and much interest centered on the skirts for casual wear which were teamed with the popular ladies' man-tailored shirts by Tooke Bros., or with distinctive Lansea sweaters.

The Norwegian Touch

One of the Norway Sports Shop creations was a highly original dress for hostess wear after skiing, of heavy black Norwegian hand-woven wool, having a fitted bodice and very wide skirt with a deep band of white edged with narrow touches of red and green above the hemline.

Perfection of tailoring and distinctive design marked Louis Schrier's ensemble of slim black skirt with fitted jacket of black and red check and reversible hip length cape of the check. In quite different mood was his suit of soft grey, hand stitched, with collar and cuffs of black velvet accenting elegance.

All the delightful hats worn were by Juliette, who showed a fine discrimination in her choice to complement each costume. Henry Birks furnished the jewelry.

Joy Gilmour modelled a number of other numbers, several from her own shop. Favorites were a gown designed by Nicole of Sweden, in black crepe, very fitted, very softly feminine, with plunging neckline, and long skirt sweeping into back fullness from a bow slightly off centre; and a navy blue Frenchshire dinner gown of crepe trimmed with bands of fine lace which showed transparent across the bodice and was arranged in

CENOTAPH, LIGHT AND POPPY

Symbols of Our War Dead —
Honour Them Today

It is only in recent years that the Poppy has become our token of remembrance among nations. Older civilizations than ours had their own way of honouring heroes. We have taken some of their traditions and added them to our own, to make fitting tribute to our Fallen.

Take two stirring symbols which are known to us all, the Cenotaph and the Eternal Light. The first owes its origin to the ancient Greeks, who desired, as we do now, to set up a perpetual monument to those Fallen Heroes who had died and been buried away from home. The Cenotaph, therefore, has become the symbolic resting place of all the nation's warriors whose bones are resting in foreign soil.

Farther to the north, on the shores of the bitter North Sea, the Vikings, too, mourned for their dead, and seafaring-people that they were, they gave to the warrior, as his final resting place, the ship he loved so well. Aboard it were placed, near his hand, the arms and food and drink, and all he had loved in this life, and then, with a last cry of farewell, a last look at his earthly remains, his comrades set the vessel afire, and pushed it off to carry their comrade away in a literal blaze of glory. They carried the light of the flames like a light in their hearts, and so, too, do we today, when we light the Eternal Flame in memory of the immortal souls of our dead.

Finally, to these two, we have added the symbol of the poppy. There is a special reason for our choosing this flower, a reason which had its beginnings over 100 years ago. Then, as now, Europe was racked by war, Napoleon's armies were sweeping across the continent in a seemingly irresistible torrent, making every nation a battlefield. It was an observer of the time who first noticed how, in the midst of bloodshed and destruction, the scarlet poppy seemed to thrive as if in defiance of death.

In the first great war the same thing was noted by a Canadian soldier who wrote: "In Flanders fields the poppies grow, between the crosses row on row, which mark our dead . . ." And three years after the end of hostilities in 1918, the first commercially made poppy appeared on Remembrance Day, commemorating both those dead, in their glory, and those living, in their need. Each flower symbolizes the soul of a departed warrior; it also symbolizes work and self respect for a still living one.

When you see the Poppy, look beyond its artificial petals. Look beyond them to the heroes they commemorate — to the Greeks, building their cenotaphs, to the Vikings sending off their heroes on a flaming funeral pyre. Look beyond them to our own Canadians falling blindly into mud, crashing into flames in the sea, sinking silently beneath the waves. Look beyond them and remember, Poppies are for Remembrance.

Special services, honouring our dead of two wars, will be held this week-end at Montreal West, Verdun, Notre Dame de Grace, Westmount and Hampstead.

Westmount Baptist

Everybody asks questions. A simpleton can "Stump the Experts" and a little child can "Beat the Champs". Life sets for all of us some stiff "Examination Papers". If we know the answers we "Pass" otherwise we get "Plucked". The title of the morning sermon in Westmount Baptist Church will therefore be:—"Questions that Arise in the Mind & Answers that Come from the Word". "Who can be Against us?" Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect?" "Who can separate us from the love of Christ?"

Among the Youth of today are the Leaders of Tomorrow. For this reason "Westmount" presents an occasional "Youth Platform of Witness". Selected young men and women, not always the same ones, share in the evening service. On Sunday evening seven young people will participate in different parts of the service. Dr. J. A. Johnston will speak briefly his message being entitled:—"Deadlines are Deadlines". The phrase belongs to the vocabulary of the newspaper man. Many a "Scoop"

Luxurious to Wear

Have you a friend to whom you would like to give something distinctly nice — somebody you know well enough to give lingerie as a Christmas gift? Because here is just the thing — keeping in touch with MARJORIE BECK'S, LINGERIE WITH GLAMOUR, Drummond Street, I came across this find — slips of real lingerie silk, lace top and bottom, divinely cut so never a wrinkle appears, wonderful for wearing 'neath your best dress, and only $6.95, specially for Christmas Shoppers. MARJORIE BECK makes lingerie to order, but has quite a choice, ready, every stitch hand-sewn — soft snowdrifts of slumberland wear. You would love the ice blue nightie, sweeping, full length of shimmering crepe-back lingerie satin with the heart-shaped neck, winged shoulders, tiny waist and lavish Alençon lace trimming at $12.95. Some people think just because a shop is up in Montreal's Fifth Avenue district that it will be fabulously expensive, but you cannot say that of these values. Here is another item to enthuse about — an extremely, femininely smart Brunch Coat of warm quilted pale blue satin — the quilting in floral outlines — taffeta-lined in the same colour; made with a peignoir, fashionably flared back and belted front. There is a complete pyjama set of plain satin, the exact pale blue colour to match. Think of opening the large box beneath the Christmas tree with your name on it to find them! Or how about beating Santa Claus and corraling them for immediate use. MARJORIE BECK, LINGERIE WITH GLAMOUR, 1468 Drummond Street, HA. 1141.

A New Note Has Been Struck

By LA TOUR EIFFEL Café, offering Montreal business men the same opportunity as his Parisian confreres who head for their favourite Bistro at lunchtime. LA TOUR EIFFEL is proud to feature a Plate Luchéon — including soup, dessert, tea or coffee — such dishes as Filet of Sole Meunière, or Beef with cabbage and Horseradish, Ham glazed with pineapple, Kidney Rizotto (is your mouth watering?) or Boeuf Miroton (Braised Beef with a wine sauce) for $1.40, specially prepared for each meal — attractions varying from day to day. Such tempting dishes can be considered 'une pièce de résistance' when the Chef is the famous Raymond. Small wonder that this is the mecca for gourmets where actresses, actors, writers, financiers gather daily. Prince Bernard of Holland, Erna Sack, Georges Guétary or Maurice Chevalier, as well as Montrealers, choose this Café — our lunch was flawless, absolutely delicious and we enjoyed the cosy Bistro atmosphere, plus wonderful service. Ralph, formerly of Drury's, is Maître d'Hôtel. Bar, longest in Town, serves wines and liqueurs at reasonable prices. There is a very interesting panel showing bottles from different vineyards of France. Over all is the spirit of Paris, lent by murals of beautiful Notre Dame and gay can-can girls of the Bal Tabarin — our table being beside the Seine — just a few steps from the crowds of St. Catherine Street, on Stanley. Forget your waistline, girls. Try this business men's lunch, served between 12 noon and 3 p.m. This is really marvellous food prepared by artists. Dinner is served as usual — open till 10 p.m. with room for parties of twenty-five upstairs. For a veritable treat — LA TOUR EIFFEL, Stanley.

Festival of Fragrance

Here's a wonderful offer, ladies — it comes from JAS. A. OGILVY'S Cosmetic Department. Your chance to wear some of the alluring perfumes you see advertised in the more distinctive fashion magazines — all perfumes of French origin. I had a 'pre-smell' while discussing this coming event with the charming Manageress of the cosmetic department. It is Ogilvy's intention to give people a chance to try the different fragrances of popular lines before Xmas. From November 14th through and including the 19th, you will be given a trial size — enough to wear a few days — with every purchase of $1.00 in this department. All are devastating. One in particular — described as "the shortest distance between two hearts" — Indiscrète certainly was haunting, subtly present one minute and back after another minute. This will be given Monday. It is Lucien Lelong's Tuesday — the new, warm, velvety tropical fragrance of Fabergé, Tigress, will drift in the air. These are toilet waters. Last year when Ogilvy's held their FESTIVAL OF FRAGRANCE week — the supplies usually 'ran out' mid-afternoon; so, as I know you will really want a sample, my advice is shop early. The samples are given over the counter. Wednesday, Coty's sophisticated, perfect as a jewel, Emeraude; Thursday, Houbigant's Quelques Fleurs, most beloved perfume of all times, or Chantilly, a liting, romantic fragrance; Friday — Schiaparelli's Shocking and Saturday, Matchabelli's Duchess of Kent. I can just imagine the pleasant smiles and puzzled male expressions in the West end homes next week. Keep them guessing, girls — that elusive, expensive scent for just a few cents.

'Red Riding Hood' To Be Repeated

Hundreds of children were thrilled on Saturday afternoon when The Children's Theatre presented their first play of the season at Victoria Hall. The new version of Red Riding Hood from the pen of Jean Low proved to be delightful, and the cheers and shouts of the youngsters and great excitement at the capture of the big bad wolf, was ample proof that the directors of the Children's Theatre, Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, know just what kind of theatrical fare pleases their many patrons.

Each child in the cast did an excellent job, and showed the results of the excellent training they receive at the Children's Theatre. Little Joyce McKenzie was a delightful Red Riding Hood and Jessica Gelber amused the audience with her antics as the little colored waif. Helen Liberman was excellent as Miss Fuss-budget, and the balance of the large cast lent excellent support. This week, Stephanie Stern will be seen as Red Riding Hood.

Wanda Hendrix Rated Among Top Screen Beauties Says Artist

According to world-famous portrait artist Henry Clive, who has painted the covers for the 10,000,000-circulation American Weekly supplement for 31 years, screen actress Wanda Hendrix has the most perfect nose in America. Moreover, he says the star of Paramount "After Midnight" has ideal facial contours and she ranks with the greatest beauties of all time.

Clive should know. He's created over 1000 magazine covers, painting in Hollywood, New York and Paris, and he's never used the same model twice.

"I can't help comparing Wanda to the operatic heroine, Manon", says Clive, who is painting Miss Hendrix for a forthcoming Weekly cover. "Manon was a delicate porcelain figure and so is Wanda. And her dainty tilted nose is the type Watteau or Frigonard would have loved to draw".

Roy Locke to Be 'Y' So-Ed Speaker

"What Then?" will be the second address given by Roy Locke at the So-Ed program on Tuesday in the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

This is a sequel to the address given last Tuesday night, entitled, "Why take a life partner?" Mr. Locke gave a very interesting account of marriage relationships from the early primitive peoples to our present-day forms of monogamy and "consecutive polygamy."

His address on Tuesday will incorporate discussions on questions given by members of So-Ed at the close of last Tuesday's meeting.

Prior to Mr. Locke's talk, the members of the So-Ed will take an active part in learning leather-craft, bridge, badminton, and how to dance. After the lecture and discussion, there will be a period for refreshments and square dancing. Mr. Melvin of the Valois Community Club will again call the numbers in the square dancing.

Shugrue Puts On One-Man Show

WHS Gridders Take Verdun To Cleaners By Score 47-0

By ALAN SANDZELIUS

Completely outclassing luckless Verdun High, Wednesday afternoon at the Westmount Athletic Grounds, Westmount High came out on the long end of 47-0 score, the highest number of points in any Senior "A" game this year. This was the last game of the schedule for the locals.

Harry Shugrue, newcomer to Westmount from Ottawa St. Pat's, tore through Verdun's team for the sensational total of 36 points — seven touchdowns and one convert — to cop the high school scoring title right out from under the nose of West Hill's Economides by one point, 57 to 56.

The first quarter started out very fast as after 2 minutes of play, Shugrue plunged his way through the Verdun line from 5 yards out, after Westmount had intercepted a Verdun pass on the first play. Shugrue again smashed through off tackle after a Verdun fumble had given Westmount possession a few plays after the locals' second kick-off. Just before the end of the first frame, Derek Hannaford went over standing up to make the score at quarter time 15-0. All three converts went awry. The second quarter was scoreless.

If the first half had been a pushover for the Purple and White, then Verdun must have really felt badly in the last two stanzas as Shugrue romped over five times, three times on end runs. He also converted one of them on a pass from Ferrabee. Chuck Johnson also netted himself five points by barging through the entire Verdun line from eight yards out at the opening of the third period.

Mike Crombie finished the scoring for Westmount when he ran around right end to convert Shugrue's 6th T.D. in the middle of the fourth quarter.

Westmount's pass defense was good as the locals intercepted four and allowed only five completions in 17 tries. Rickey Laffoley was outstanding on the line as he recovered five Verdun fumbles.

King's Iroquois Win Rugby Tilt

King's Iroquois defeated Queen's Rockets 8-5 to win the Westmount Municipal Pee Wee Six-man Rugby East section championship.

The Iroquois opened the scoring when David Doig kicked a long ball to Paul Hamilton who was rouged by a swarm of Iroquois. A little later Gordon Smith went over for an Iroquois T.D. A bad Rocket's snap gave the Iroquois another two points to make the score 8-0 at the halfway mark. In the second frame Terry Grey took Ron Williams' pass to bring the Rockets back into contention. The Rockets were pressing hard when the whistle went to end the game.

MERRY MIX-UP

It's do or die for McGill University's fighting Redmen at the Percival Molson Stadium on Saturday afternoon, when they entertain the University of Western Ontario's Mustangs in the final game of the season. McGill must win this game to force a play-off encounter with the Purple and White for the Intercollegiate championship. Meanwhile, the Varsity Blues visit Kingston to tangle with the Queens' Golden Gaels, the only team at present eliminated from the title competition. Varsity, too, must win to keep their slender hopes alive, for if Western beats McGill, the Blues will deadlock the Redmen for second place.

If the Blues and McGill did tie for runner-ups, the Blues would enter into a playoff with the Mustangs, for they have beaten Western once this year, whereas, in this hypothetical case, the Redmen lost both of their encounters to the Purple and White.

In fact, in this silly situation, the only way in which the Metrasmen can be sure of the championship without a post-season playoff would be to play a tie game with McGill, this leaving the Redmen in second place, and assuring the Londoners of the title since they would be undefeated by the Obeck-led McGillians.

However the height of ridiculousness would be reached if both Western and Varsity won their Saturday tilts, leading to a playoff between these two clubs. Then, if Varsity won the extra game and the title, which is a distinct possibility, there would be the situation of the championship club having lost both their games to the third-place team, McGill.

The Redmen whipped Varsity, 22-13, here last month, and a week ago, repeated the decision by edging the Blues, 12-8, in Varsity Stadium. It is definitely time that something was done about this outmoded system of determining a champion which had stood in intercollegiate athletics for years. Several years ago, before the war, three basketball teams, McGill, Western, and Varsity, ended the season in a dead heat, with 4 wins and 2 losses apiece, with Queens dragging along in the rear with no victories in six decisions. The resulting complications and eventual playoff reached a new high in confusion in intercollegiate sport circles.

One way to remedy the difficulty would be for each team to play one additional game against each other, leading to a nine-game rather than the present six-tilt schedule. This would not be too much football, for by starting in the first week of October, and playing a game on either Thanksgiving or Armistice Day, the season would conclude at the end of November.

Anything would be better than the present system, which may enable Varsity, a team which at best will win only half of its games, to enter into a championship playoff against Western, a club which, in this case, would win four and tie one of six tilts.

Echoing the words of Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican presidential candidate in the past two American federal elections: "It's time for a change." Let's hope that efforts to secure a revision in the Canadian intercollegiate sports scene meet with better results than did those of Mr. Dewey.

Allerton Will Succeed Booth As Snowdon Prexy

George Allerton, veteran Notre Dame de Grace sports fan, will succeed Clary Booth as president of the Snowdon Senior Fastball League. That fact was learned authoritatively by this reporter today.

Successors to Harold Bowen, vice-president of the select Snowdon society for the past two years, and Ken Smith, hardest working member of the loop's executive committee, have also been secured and will be formally elected to office, along with Mr. Allerton, when the Snowdonites hold their annual meeting next Tuesday night.

Raymond Wray, a member of the Columbus club executive, will step into one of the vice-presidential jobs and R. Peirson will also bear the title of V.P. The fastball moguls have been able to get along with only one vice-president in the past but have decided to make the jump to two for the 1950 season.

Peirson, incidentally, is the father of the Boston Bruins' Johnny Peirson, the same lad who turned in some fine games for the pennant winning Ascension nine this summer.

Raymond Wray is no stranger to Snowdon fans. He has long been a pillar of strength in the league and his elevation to formal executive rank comes as a well deserved honour.

Rest to Stick

It is believed that the rest of the 1948 and '49 executive will stick around for another whirl. That means that Andrew Gow will once again be looking after the dollar and cents department; yours truly will be handling the secretarial chores, and the executive committee will likely include Phil Wimmer, cigar-chomping czar of city organized sport in the west end, and Jack Cunliff. Tip Stewart, who was on the executive committee for the past two seasons, died recently and a successor will likely be elected at next Tuesday's get-together.

Banquet December 8

The Snowdonites' second annual banquet will be held at the Queen's Hotel on the evening of Thursday, December 8. Ken Smith, who did a hang-up job on last year's do, is once more looking after the arrangements.

If they so desire, a limited number of fans will be made welcome at the affair. Persons interested are asked to mail their names into the sports editor of this fire-side journal. The address is 2191 Hampton avenue.

Rumours that Ascension won't be back in the fold next season have been set at rest by Kev Kennedy the Westmounters' young manager. "We'll be back," says Kevin, "and better than ever."

Saint Footballers End Season

Injury-Ridden Gridders Salvage Two Victories

Last week saw the end of a hard luck season for coach Andy McGillis and his 1949 St. Leo's Senior B Football Club. The injury jinx made its presence felt soon after the opening whistle when vice captain Bob Hall was removed to the hospital with a bone dislocation in the foot. This husky athlete, along with captain Bert Latimer, were counted on to supply the one-two punch to the squad. Latimer followed Hall to the sidelines after the second game of the season when he too had the misfortune to suffer a foot injury. This removed two of the team's biggest threats on the offence and defence.

Jimmy McGee, promising end, saw but a few minutes action in the opening game before being put out of action for the remainder of the schedule with a cracked rib.

With no reserve strength coach McGillis was in desperate straits to guide a badly crippled and understaffed pigskin crew through the season. The biggest disappointment to the coach was probably not the injuries but the inability of about a half dozen of the more experienced boys on the team to produce anything in the way of aggressiveness or team spirit.

The season, however, was not a total loss as the team managed to rescue two wins out of the schedule and on top of this a few of the newcomers learned their football fundamentals fast and by the half way mark it was evident that a couple of mighty smart prospects had been uncovered on this year's club.

Nevil Martin, in his first year of football, turned out to be the top lineman on the team. Nevil played a strong driving game all the way and showed a fine team spirit. Diminutive John Foy, another rookie, was turned loose in the third game and turned out to be a real football dynamo in the backfield with his sparkling play and showed no respect for size or ability with his reckless tackling. Mickey Lafontaine filled the flying wing position well and showed a lot of desire in his initial football effort.

Ray Losito was the most consistent of the experienced players and the durable Ray more than did his share for the team cause. Tommy Reynolds, Jimmy Quinlan and Vaughan Quinn were three boys who showed a fine spirit and tried their best and improved as the season went on.

George Cairns New President Of Putters Club

On Monday evening in the Oak Room, Victoria Hall, the local divot diggers had their first indoor meeting.

A general election took place with H. M. Soden in the chair. Geo. Cairns was elected president, with H. Smith as the vice-president. Mrs. M. Craig was unanimously re-elected for the third year as secretary-treasurer.

The committee composed of Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. P. Warner and Mrs. L. Wheatley bowed out to the newly elected group of Mrs. A. Bryant, Mrs. R. J. Kent and Mrs. T. Mahaffy.

A vote of thanks was given by the president to T. Sargent who, although unable to play this summer, was very helpful in looking after the tournaments. Mr. Soden also thanked the city for their co-operation.

Prizes were given out for the season with Mrs. R. J. Kent, Mrs. T. Mahaffy and Mrs. L. Wheatley garnering the most in the ladies' section. N. Dundas and Geo. Cairns obtained the heaviest silver in the men's section.

With the business over, cards were played and a very enjoyable luncheon was served by the committee.

Roslyn Aces City Champs

Roslyn Aces defeated King's Iroquois 10-6 to win the Westmount municipal six-man rugby championship. The Aces had won the West section and the Iroquois the East section to give them the right to compete for the city championship.

Aces opened the scoring in the first frame when Martin Raff took Bob Anderson's pass in pay territory. A little later Martin Raff heaved a 30-yard forward to Jim Fullerton, who gathered in the ball and galloped over for a touchdown. The Iroquois came back and worked themselves into a scoring position but had to kick. Gordon Smith rouged Mark Henderson after David Doig let go a long kick. In the second period Ross Delo scored a T.D. for the Iroquois to end the scoring.
