Demonstration features protest against Bertrand language bill

DEATH TO FRENCH — Students, workers, teachers are worried over the passing of Bill 63, which as the signs indicate, they believe will kill the French language in Quebec. Speaking to the rally last night were from the left, Pierre Racine for AGEUS, Sherbrooke Economist Claude Pichette, Leo Desmarais for the teachers and Jacques Lemoine from Sherbrooke French language daily La Tribune, representing the CNTU. (Record photo: Ian Campbell)

SHERBROOKE — (RS) — The first sign of dissent in the Sherbrooke area over the provincial government's Bill 63 occurred last night during a massive student rally in St. Jeanne d'Arc church hall.

Chaired by University of Sherbrooke Economic Department director Claude Pichette, the rally included representatives of the teaching and workers unions.

For the first half hour, the crowd of 300, mainly students, listened attentively as leaders from the Confederation of National Trade Unions, AGEUS—the local university's student body, and the Corporation des Enseignants du Quebec explained the reasons that made the bill so unacceptable to the French-Canadian people.

Stating the bill jeopardized the future existence of the French-Canadian nation, CNTU representative Jacques Lemoine told the crowd that the majority of the workers represented by the union had come out in favor of unilingualism in Quebec.

"In fact," noted the CNTU spokesman, "workers throughout the province voted in a proportion of 3 to 1 in favor of unilingualism."

Group to press campaign

MONTREAL (CP) — The Front du Quebec Francais intends to persevere in the struggle to make French the sole official language in Quebec, even if the government cannot be persuaded to withdraw its new language bill, Francois-Albert Angers, spokesman for the front, said Monday Passage of the bill, which would sanction the right of parents to choose either French or English as the language of school instruction for their children, would merely mean the loss of a battle, Mr. Angers said.

At a news conference here, the front, organized last Saturday, outlined its scenario for a week of agitation against the bill. The series of protests is to culminate in a demonstration Friday in front of the provincial legislative building in Quebec City. The idea animating the front is that French will survive in Quebec only if it is the sole language of instruction in schools attended by French-speaking children.

Mr. Angers said the front is not trying to make English disappear. It would be taught in school as a subject and there was no suggestion that English-speaking people would be stopped from using their language.

Students are being urged to take a day off from regular classes today and attend study sessions or teach-ins at French-speaking universities, junior colleges and high schools across the province.

"Peaceful manifestations" in all towns in Quebec are on the program for Wednesday.

Stressing that the time for discussion was over and that the time for action was at hand, Racine urged the students to contact as many followers as possible and "join the action."

Talking over the ways positive action could be taken to prevent the passing of the bill, Mr. Pichette told the rally that within the cadres of democracy it was quite democratic to inform the public and go against the government in the presentation of some of its legislation.

"Seeing that the world of finance are using their influence with the government," the economist said, "we the people must use our resources in applying pressure against the government."

Price, wage controls urged

OTTAWA (CP) — A fresh breeze of dissent wafted through the Commons finance committee for 90 minutes Monday when economist John Kenneth Galbraith took on MPs' questions.

He ticked off politicians in general, Washington's current economic policies in particular and the economic viewpoints of other authorities as he advocated a system of enforced price and wage controls.

The tour de force by the former Canadian, born a farm boy in the Scottish community of Iona Station, Ont., was part of a busy Ottawa stay in which he had talked Saturday to a student crowd of more than 2,000 and earlier Monday addressed a national conference on employer-employee relations.

Voluntary restraints, he told the MPs, won't work because they represent bad government and "an evasion of the issue."

"They're the first resort of the politician who doesn't want to face up to the issue."

PROBLEMS STARTING
Mr. Galbraith said enforced control of prices and wages could be started in the United States by a simple act of Congress. Told constitutional difficulties prevent such controls being imposed in Canada by Ottawa, he said nevertheless that if Ottawa would move first, it would help the U.S. control inflation.

Asked by Barnett Danson (L-York North) how such controls could be imposed, Mr. Galbraith said he would first set a broad rule that wage increases should be kept in line with productivity gains.

The unions accepting that, he said, industry would be required to say it would make no price increase. Then the government should greatly lower interest rates. He said he favors keeping taxes up and government spending down so that all governments would balance their budgets and not add to demands on the economy.

TORONTO (CP) — Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger told 1,000 high school students Monday they should show greater concern for the starving people of the world.

Cardinal Leger resigned as Roman Catholic archbishop of Montreal two years ago to work as a missionary in West Africa, particularly among lepers.

In an address to students and teachers of St. Michael's College School, he said nearly 3,000,000 people never get enough to eat.

He said in the Cameroons the average income of a working man is $35 a year and with this many must support families of five to 10 children.

The cardinal is on a moneyraising tour of North America.

Refund Volontax payments

SHERBROOKE — (RS) — Much to the disgust of a number of aldermen, the city will remit the amount of $2,690 for a number of unused entries of the Sherbrooke Volontax.

The payment is to be made to Raymond Enterprises Inc., the supermarket operators who last June purchased the first 5,000 entries of Volontax.

A finance committee report presented to council yesterday recommended that the amount be refunded.

Indignant and shocked, North Ward Alderman Everett Nicol voiced deep resentment over the proposal, with East Ward

CAL alderman Romeo Quintal jeering at the proposal.

Mr. Quintal's resentment originated in the firm's candid statements on the day of purchase, when the three Petit brothers handed the city a cheque in the amount of $4,165.

The East Ward alderman accused Raymond Enterprises of using the city to promote sales in their supermarkets and turning around to cancel everything after indications were that their plan was unsuccessful.

—On a Nicol-Quintal proposal vote not to refund the money, council voted in favor of the payment, in view of the circumstances.

Motorist slightly injured

SHERBROOKE — (RS) — A Quebec city resident suffered minor injuries last night when the car he was driving crashed into another vehicle coming out of a side street.

The accident occurred at 11:20 p.m. near the intersection of Farwell and Portland Streets.

Police on the scene said that both cars suffered heavy damage.

Mr. Larochelle struck a car driven by Clermont Fortin of 1621 Larochelle Street, as the latter was leaving the intersection of Farwell Street.

Mr. Fortin was not injured.

Mr. Frechette came out a second time and began to speak, but the crowd shouted him down. A few asked the rest to be quiet but the crowd persisted in its insults. Mr. Frechette again

Local MNA recipient of students hatred

SHERBROOKE — (BSL) — A group of around one hundred students marched through the city last night for about 90 minutes to show their dislike of bill 63. They were accompanied throughout by two municipal police cars. There was no violence.

The students left the St. Jeanne d'Arc Church Hall on Kingston Street at approximately 10:15 last night, marched down Galt street, proceeded onto Belvedere street, down King to Wellington street. They then marched the length of Wellington street north, stopping in front of the old Sherbrooke Daily Record offices shouting slogans against Bill 63.

While on Wellington street the students decided that they should all get in cars and pay a visit to Mr. Frechette. Once arrived at Mr. Frechette's residence on Vaudeville street, at about 10:45 p.m., the students began their shouts anew, only this time, they were asking Mr. Frechette to come out and speak to them.

When Mr. Frechette did come out the crowd immediately began jeering and booing him for, in their terms, his "traitorship" to the French language and sarcastically asked him to address them in English.

Mr. Frechette said, "My living room is big enough to have all of you come in. However, if you do have appointed leaders, I will be glad to receive them even if this is not my office, and I am at my private house."

The students replied again by jeers and said that no one had been appointed as their leaders and that no one would be since they were "the voice of the people."

Mr. Frechette then retired to his home to wait the outcome of the demonstrators' deliberation. The students again began their shouting and jeering.

Mr. Frechette came out a second time and began to speak, but the crowd shouted him down. A few asked the rest to be quiet but the crowd persisted in its insults. Mr. Frechette again

LOS ANGELES (Reuters) — Two Chicago brothers convicted of first-degree murder in the bludgeoning slaying of silent screen actor Ramon Navarro on Oct. 30 last year were sentenced Monday to life in prison.

Paul Ferguson, 23, and his brother, Thomas, 18, were convicted of battering Navarro to death in the bedroom of his Hollywood home with the actor's cane, a memento of his silent film days.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Thurgood Marshall of the United States Supreme Court ordered Monday the release from prison of Rev. James E. Groppi, militant civil rights leader.

Marshall said the Roman Catholic priest is entitled to freedom on bail until the Supreme Court rules in his case. This could take several weeks.

The priest was jailed Oct. 17 in Milwaukee on a finding by Judge F. Ryan Duffy Jr. that Father Groppi had violated probation by participating in a demonstration in the Wisconsin legislative assembly chamber last month.

The white priest had been sentenced to six months in jail in February, 1968, for resisting arrest during a 1967 open-housing march.

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Hospital Association's annual convention opened Monday with a warning that the moratorium in grants from the Ontario Hospital Services Commission is "sort of disastrous."

Donald Robertson, administrator of the South Waterloo Memorial Hospital in Galt, said the halt on capital grants for expansion and new construction is keeping hospital development at a standstill.

Mr. Robertson presented a resolution asking the commission to make definite decisions for hospitals about whether expansion and renovation programs are approved, turned down or deferred. The resolution was approved.

The commission indicated recently it did not plan to lift the moratorium until it had finished its study of a 10-year program of hospital needs and priorities.

OTTAWA (CP) — A writer from Biafra suggested Monday Canada consider the possibility of providing relief aircraft that Biafran pilots could fly into the secessionist side in the Nigerian civil war.

The suggestion was made by Samuel U. Ifejika, senior staff editor of Biafra Time magazine.

Mr. Ifejika told reporters it is "wrong" for Canada to maintain its exclusive support for the International Red Cross among agencies involved in Biafran relief.

Canada should support organizations like Canair relief which are "prepared to take the risk" of flying into Biafra by night.

The alternative was to provide the planes for Biafrans to do the job themselves.

Red Cross planes have not flown into the breakaway region since June, when a Red Cross relief plane was shot down when about to land at Uli-Ihiala airport.

PARIS (Reuters) — Canadian Prime Minister Trudeau said in an interview broadcast on French television Monday night that he sees no crisis in Franco-Canadian relations.

But he pointedly remarked that it was not for foreign countries to take part in the internal Canadian debate on constitutional structure.

Trudeau said: "There is not a crisis between France and Canada, but a malaise."

This uneasiness, he said, stemmed in part from differing French and Canadian interpretations of how the two countries' over-all agreement defined relations between France and Quebec.

Trudeau said in the interview that he had lived for several years in France and enjoyed it. But he added that this did not mean that he necessarily liked the French government's policy.

He stressed the value of federalism as the only formula for a country like Canada.

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier W.A.C. Bennett Monday named former highways minister P.A. (Flying Phil) Gagliardi British Columbia's new social welfare minister.

In making the announcement, the premier fulfilled an Aug. 27 provincial election campaign promise to return the controversial Kamloops MLA to full cabinet status.

Mr. Gagliardi had been sitting in the Bennett cabinet as a minister without portfolio. He resigned from the highways portfolio early last year after allegations of land deals involving his sons and private use of a government aircraft.

"Silence is golden" might well have been written for bridge players. Somehow or other, the quiet player who restricts his bidding to the numbers from one to seven and the words pass, double, redouble, no-trump, spades, hearts, clubs and diamonds and his comments to an occasional "Well played," has more time to think than the man who has something to say after every play.

South was one of those talkative players. He looked over dummy happily and remarked, "We may not have bid enough. I'm going to start with a free finesse."

Then he played the jack of hearts from the dummy. East's queen lost to South's king. The nine of diamonds was led and allowed to ride to East's jack. Back came the nine of hearts. West put his 10 on his partner's nine, just in case East had started with only two hearts.

South had quieted down for once. He let the 10 of hearts hold and a third heart knocked out dummy's ace.

South came back to his hand with a spade, led a diamond and desperately finessed dummy's queen, only to see it lose to East's king. Eventually, South wound up down three tricks at three no-trump, since he never brought home even one diamond trick. He found his voice to complain about losing every finesse but, if he had just thought quietly at trick one, he would have played a low heart from dummy and made at least 10 tricks in spite of losing all finesses.

His king of hearts would still win the first trick, he would lose the second trick to the jack of diamonds, but East would have no way of killing the dummy and South would be sure of four diamonds, plus the aces and kings of the other three suits. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Poor Dental Hygiene Causes Bitter Taste

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I have a bitter or metallic taste in my mouth. What causes it and how can I get rid of it?

A—The commonest cause is poor dental hygiene. Other causes include excessive smoking; hiatal hernia; infections of the mouth, nose or throat and taking drugs that contain a metal ion. To get rid of it, you should brush your teeth or rinse your mouth after every meal or snack. Have your doctor search for the cause and eliminate it.

Q—What would cause me to have a salty taste all the time? How can I prevent it?

A—The cause and treatment are practically identical to those listed in the preceding question.

Q—I have had a sour taste in my mouth for years. What could cause it and what do you recommend?

A—Abnormal taste is often seen in persons who are past 60, especially those who also complain of dry mouth. A sour taste may be due to a wearing-out of the sensory nerves that perceive other tastes faster than those that register sour. In a few persons, the cause may be an organic brain disease. If your salivary glands are not secreting well your doctor may want you to try small doses of nicotinamide several times a day.

Q—After an attack of flu I lost my sense of taste and smell. Now, eight months later, they have still not returned. Is there any cure for this?

A—Loss of taste (sour, salt, sweet and bitter) is rare but what most people mean by a loss of taste is inability to taste the flavor of their foods. This is entirely a matter of smelling the food as it crosses the nasopharynx. Loss of the sense of smell is usually caused by chronic nasal congestion, a nasal obstruction due to polyps or chronic allergic rhinitis. It is aggravated by heavy smoking and excessive use of nasal decongestants. If your doctor can find the cause in your case, he should be able to help you find relief.

Q—What are Tofranil and hydrochlorothiazide given for?

A—Tofranil is an antidepressant and the other drug is a diuretic and blood pressure reducer.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

FOR WEDNESDAY, OCT. 29, 1969

Your birthday today: There is just enough opposition from within and without on every possible course of action that you are forced to create for yourself an original personal approach to your career this coming year. You may wind up in some specialty that is now unthought and unplanned. Activities dedicated solely to emotional indulgence, by and large, are pushed aside by the pressure of your career-building effort.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Unforeseen expenses and comments by uninvited critics make the going difficult. No amount of amenities will cover a flaw or a shortage.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): The better they know you the stronger their opposition today, no matter what your goals. Even more serious squabbles turn into permanent rifts. Passive resistance is probably the best course to follow.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Everything is apt to come to a sudden halt, apparently of spontaneous natural causes, as if to test the reality and firmness of whatever seems established.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): The tide goes the other way, or situations crumble abruptly in unforeseen directions. If you expect things to fall apart, you can placidly make the most of it—it's like a circus if you have the perspective.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Go right ahead with your program, at reduced pace to fit conditions and the slowness of people's reactions, without compromise or personality conflict.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Listening is better than talking today. If you listen long and carefully enough, the answer comes through with the question; thus you let people see their own solutions without yourself taking the responsibility.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You abruptly run out of ready cash. Leave your savings and other reserves right where they are, and defer financial maneuvers. While waiting, things will change and you later see the losses avoided by suspending now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): So long as you do not promise the unworkable or unfeasible, you can get anything started well today. Gear your high-level effort to fit other people's responses.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): New ventures are not to be rushed. Hear all sides on existing operations, then go ahead with the simplest possible correction course. Bring in a few friends to share a hobby tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Misunderstanding arises from clash of different values, failures of verbal communication. Seek diversion. Take your mate out for a night on the town or the equivalent for your way of life.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Circumstances pile up but do not permanently impede your ventures. Regard the hindrance as temporary, and be guided accordingly. Meanwhile, have something else at hand to divert your efforts into useful channels.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Nothing much works well today. Complaints are not constructive either. Just find what you can do that is within your reach and begin doing it.

Education Reform group supports Bill 63 policies

SHERBROOKE — Peter White, vice-chairman of the Association for Reform in Education, today issued the following statement on Bill 63 on behalf of ARE co-chairmen Andre Gagnon and H. Roche Robertson:

"The Association for Reform in Education, formed last May to press for the reorganization of Quebec's school boards along language lines, supports wholeheartedly the provisions of Bill 63 recognizing the basic right of parents to choose either French or English as the language in which their children are educated, and establishing a working knowledge of French as a prerequisite for high school graduation."

"The ARE wishes to emphasize, however, that the parents' right of choice cannot be fully realized until the necessary legal structures and administrative machinery are established to give effect to this fundamental principle. The only structure that can guarantee fair and impartial implementation of the parents' right of choice is a system of regional school boards organized along language lines rather than along confessional lines as at present."

"The ARE urges the vast majority of moderate opinion in the province of Quebec to make known to the government its support of Bill 63, instead of leaving the field to the shrill minority of extremists."

Wagner to announce decision on Friday

SHERBROOKE — (CJ) — Claude Wagner, former Minister of Justice at Quebec and one of the leaders in the drive to unseat Jean Lesage as chief of the Quebec Liberal party, declared here Monday that he would announce his decision Friday night as to whether he would enter the leadership race at the party convention to be held in Quebec City during January.

Mr. Wagner, who was in town to address the regular meeting of the Richelieu Club, made his announcement at a brief press conference prior to the gathering.

The announcement, he said, would be made at a meeting of the Verdun Liberal Association. Mr. Wagner represents Verdun in the National Assembly.

Two Liberals members of the National Assembly, former Municipal Affairs Minister Pierre Laporte, and Robert Bourassa, the Opposition economic expert, have already entered the race to succeed Mr. Lesage who has resigned the party leadership.

Mr. Wagner, who has been conducting a speaking campaign before service and social clubs throughout the province in an effort to build up grass roots support for his candidacy, refused to give any indication as to whether he would enter the race or not.

"You must wait and see," he commented smilingly.

In his remarks to the Richelieu Club members, Mr. Wagner reviewed the many problems that Quebec would face during the coming year including the maintenance and respect for law and order, the expansion of the economy to provide greater employment opportunities, the elimination of waste in government and the restoration of fiscal sanity.

The strongest hint that he might seek the Liberal leadership came during his comments on the need for strong leadership within the political parties and a hint that he considered himself a man of strength and determination.

Earlier in the day, the former Justice Minister met the members of the Liberal Clubs of Bishop's University and the University at the Reform Club and in the evening was the guest of honor at a Reform Club reception.

Mayor praises Bill 63

SHERBROOKE — (RS) — Bill 63 contains the principles of justice and equity that are beneficial to all said Sherbrooke Mayor Armand Nadeau yesterday in a letter to Quebec Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand.

"Unilingualism is unthinkable," the letter read, "even if we were living on a lost island in the Pacific, and less likely in the province of Quebec," that Mr. Nadeau said, "cannot ignore the conditions of the North American continent."

"The letter added that the majority of the province's population which was realistic and well-intentioned, approved him and congratulated him for the effort."

Bill 63 good beginning

On Thursday, Oct. 23, an historic event took place in the National Assembly of Quebec. We refer to the introduction and first reading of Bill 63, entitled "An Act to Promote the Teaching of the French Language in Quebec."

Bill 63 is historic because it provides, for the first time in the history of education in Quebec, that parents shall have the legal right to choose either English or French as the language of instruction for their children in the public schools of the province. This is the nub of the St. Leonard dispute.

Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand has staked his political life on this principle, because he believes it to be the only just course. In today's political climate in Quebec, this took courage and high moral conviction, and Premier Bertrand deserves the praise of all moderate Quebecers for taking the step that none of his predecessors, for all their promises, ever took. The Premier also appears to have rallied his entire cabinet and all but four of his supporters to his point of view, which is no mean feat in a party often alleged to be separatist or extremist.

Bill 63 is also historic because it provides that the curriculum and examinations in public schools must ensure a working knowledge of the French language to children educated in English. No reasonable English-speaking Quebecer can take exception to this provision. Like freedom of choice of language, it was overdue, and Quebec's English-language community can only benefit from increased bilingualism. In fact, the chief shortcoming of Bill 63 is that it does not make a working knowledge of English compulsory for French-speaking students. For if bilingualism is a key to the best jobs (and in Quebec it unquestionably is), this oversight could lead to the paradoxical result of continued English domination of Quebec's economy because English-speaking graduates will be more bilingual than French-speaking graduates.

Milestone though Bill 63 indisputably is, the principles it embodies are not yet out of the woods. In the first place, Bill 63 must be passed, and passed quickly. Unlike its ill-fated predecessor Bill 85, it does not try to do too much at once, and Premier Bertrand is to be commended for scheduling second reading for this week.

In the second place, machinery must be established to enable its just and equitable implementation. Bill 63 says nothing of this, and it is understood that a bill providing new structures for the Island of Montreal will be introduced this week. After a long and careful examination of the alternatives, The Record believes that the only workable solution is a system of regional school boards divided along language lines (English or French) instead of along confessional lines (Protestant or Catholic) as at present. Such a system is already evolving in practice in the Townships, although it exists outside the law.

Unfortunately there are indications that the government is considering establishing single unified regional boards, which would operate six different kinds of schools (English or French, and Protestant, Catholic or neutral) as recommended by the Parent Commission. The English-speaking members of such school boards would always be in a minority, and as such our essential control over curriculum could not be guaranteed.

With Bill 63, Premier Bertrand has proved himself a statesman. Let us hope that his next bill proves him a sound administrator as well.

BILL 63

An Act to promote the teaching of the French language in Quebec

HER MAJESTY, with the advice and consent of the National Assembly of Quebec, enacts as follows:

1. Section 2 of the Education Department Act (Revised Statutes, 1964, chapter 233) is amended by adding at the end the following paragraph:

"The Minister shall take the measures necessary so that the curricula made or approved for such educational institutions and the examinations which confirm them ensure a working knowledge of the French language to children to whom instruction is given in the English language."

2. Section 203 of the Education Act (Revised Statutes, 1964, chapter 235), amended by section 1 of chapter 62 of the statutes of 1966/1967, is again amended by replacing sub-paragraph 3 by the following:

"(3) To take the measures necessary to have the courses of study from the first year level to the eleventh year level inclusive, adopted or recognized for Catholic or Protestant public schools, as the case may be, given to all the children domiciled in the territory under their jurisdiction if they are deemed capable of following such courses and if they are desirous of enrolling for them.

Such courses must be given in the French language.

They shall be given in the English language to any child whose parents or persons acting in their stead so request at his enrolment; the curricula and examinations must ensure a working knowledge of the French language to such children and the Minister shall take the measures necessary for such purpose.

The school commissioners or trustees must either establish such courses in their schools or avail themselves of the provisions of sections 469 to 495, or of those of section 496, or take two or more of such steps at the same time."

3. Section 3 of the Immigration Department Act, (1968, chapter 68) is amended by adding at the end the following paragraph:

"(e) in co-operation with the Minister of Education, take the measures necessary so that persons who locate in Quebec acquire the knowledge of the French language upon arrival."

4. This act shall come into force on the 1st of July 1970 or on any prior date fixed by proclamation of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

Letters to the Editor

Militia role in other troubles

The Editor:

Sir: While not questioning the validity of your front page article in the Record of Oct. 9, 1969, nor the war diary of Sherbrooke Fusilier Armoured Regiment, which was certainly occupied with more pressing duties in England and Europe in the 1940's, the following will supplement your files as regards the seldom used power of Aid to the Civil Power (A.C.P.) with reference to the Eastern Townships.

Col. J. W. B. Johnston (retired) formerly of Cookshire, and now of Beaconsfield, recalls the 7-11th Hussars being part of a contingent (cavalry) being involved in quelling a strike of coal miners in Nova Scotia in the late 1920's.

I had the dubious honor of being part of an infantry company called out from A-12, Farnham, in November 1943, to enter and protect No. 1 Plant, Aluminum Company of Canada, Shawinigan Falls, which had been struck by unhappy line personnel.

It was a rather drab experience in the exercise of Federal authority. However, aluminum was an essential material in military aircraft, etc.

I recall only two incidents. The R.C.M.P. officer attached to our unit was felled by a brick, not being in possession of a steel helmet. Further blockage to the plant was eliminated when an expert dispatch rider of the Army Service Corps removed the brick thrower very neatly from the gate with the side car of his motorcycle.

In August 1944, the late Capt. B.C. (Bud) Howard was part of a contingent, also called out from A-12, Farnham, to maintain control when workers of the Montreal Transit Commission threatened to shut down Montreal's transit system, which would have virtually closed most war industries in and around Montreal.

The editor:

Sir: I was shocked beyond words when I read in the Record a couple of weeks ago, that soon marijuana would be as legal and easy to buy as cigarettes.

Smoking, drinking in excess and so many other things are just plain bad habits. Do people need any more bad habits than they already have?

The people who are trying to legalize the sale of marijuana say that there's nothing harmful about it.

One problem I would say is that people with bad habits, such as this, are seldom satisfied to keep bad habits to themselves. They are constantly trying to get someone else to "try it". The saying that "misery loves company" applies here.

It doesn't take long for someone young and trying to make an impression, to try it. Hence someone else with more bad habits.

If people would stop at marijuana — may be — but few do. They go on to the proven harmful drugs — this might be another reason for not starting the habit.

Once a teenager starts taking marijuana — where does he get the money to buy it. He is hooked, in school and his father is not loaded. I seem to me that petty thefts would be countless.

Is it really harmless? I know a person (a former addict) who started smoking pot. He is thankful that he changed before he went on to the more harmful drugs. Even on the "harmless" marijuana, several times he experienced the urge to drive his car into a telephone pole because he thought it might be a beautiful thing. He is grateful that someone was there to grab the wheel or he may not be with us now.

So I beg people not to shrug this off and then end up being sorry when their son or daughter or friend ends up at the point of no return.

G. Arnold Hart
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

Dear Senior Citizens,

We in the Bank of Montreal share the concern of all Canadians with the impact of inflation on the purchasing power of the dollar, particularly as it affects those over the age of 65 who may be dependent upon pensions and other sources of fixed income which do not keep pace with rising living costs. In an effort to alleviate the burden on our senior citizens, we are launching a plan to help them whether or not they are customers of the Bank.

Here is our plan. Senior Citizens may apply to any branch of the Bank of Montreal in Canada for a Senior Citizen's Courtesy Card, which will entitle the holder to preferred service at our offices at reduced charges as follows:

1. One-half of the regular commission charges made by the Bank for the acceptance of payment of utility accounts.
2. One-half of the regular service fee for the issuance of Canadian-dollar drafts and money orders.
3. One-half of the regular per item charge on cheques issued on our True Chequing Accounts and on our 3½% Savings Accounts.

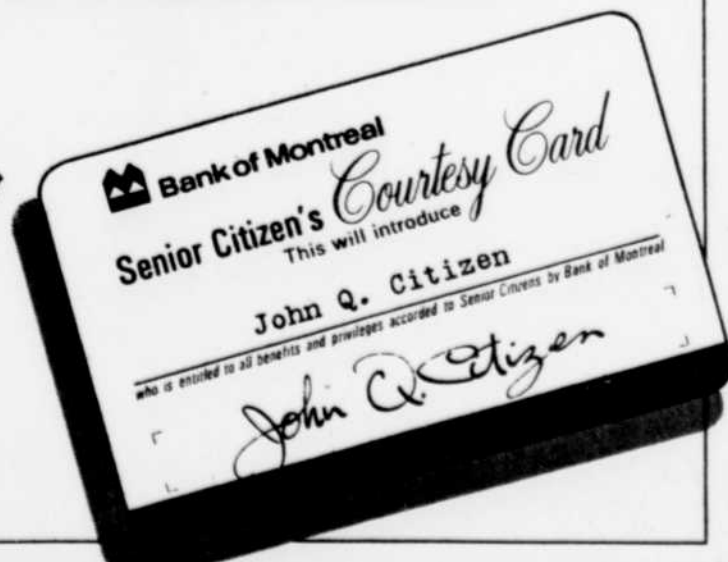

You are cordially invited to take advantage of these reduced rates.

Dancer's Image trainers appear before commission

Deny hampering investigation

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Lou Cavalaris and Robert Barnard denied Monday that they did anything to hamper a steward's investigation that followed the finding of an illegal medication in the system of 1968 Kentucky Derby winner Dancer's Image.

Cavalaris of Toronto, who trained Peter Fuller's colt, admitted he failed to give stewards at Churchill Downs all the information as quickly as possible, but said he "did the best I could under the circumstances."

Barnard, Cavalaris' assistant trainer at the time, said he felt his part in a complicated plot two days after the Derby wasn't in the best interest of racing, but he had no further explanation of his actions. The two men appeared before the state racing commission, which had ordered them to show cause why they should not be punished on a charge they "obstructed and interfered" with the stewards' probe.

Only the case against them was presented—almost seven hours of it—before the commission adjourned to consider a motion by the men's lawyer to dismiss the charges.

If further evidence is to be heard, a time and place will be set by the commission, chairman George Egger said.

BOTH SUSPENDED

Both Cavalaris and Barnard were suspended for 30 days last year by the Churchill Downs stewards on grounds they had to take the blame for the medication in the horse's system, whoever put it there.

Since then, Louisville veterinarian Alex Harthill and Versailles trainer Doug Davis have paid $500 fines for their parts in a plot they said took place two days after the Derby.

Davis and Dr. Harthill said they put aspirin into some of Dancer's Image's feed—telling Cavalaris and Barnard it was Butazolidin—in an effort to see if they were guilty of drugging the horse before the Derby.

Butazolidin, a pain killer, was found in a urine specimen taken from Dancer's Image just after the 1968 Derby. Because of that, first prize money in the race was awarded to second finisher Forward Pass.

Both Davis and Dr. Harthill testified that Cavalaris and Barnard not only knew of their plot, but helped in the "salting" of the two feed bags.

Cavalaris denied he took any part in the plot and said he only indirectly knew about it. Barnard said he was present when the feed was "salted," but took no active part.

Sport briefs

TORONTO (CP) — Nancy Greene Raine is expecting twins. Nancy's Montreal doctor gave her the word Monday and advised her to cancel her public appearances in Toronto and Hamilton this week and in Halifax next week, Doug Maxwell, her business manager said.

The ski star who became Canada's darling when she won a gold and silver medal at the Grenoble Olympics last year is expecting in January.

Since the Olympics she married ski coach Al Raine and embarked on a hectic round of personal appearance and commercial commitments.

She was to have been commentator at a fashion show Tuesday night at the Ontario Centennial Centre of Science and Technology. And today she was to appear at a Hamilton ski show in aid of the Nancy Greene Ski League. Thursday and Friday she was to have appeared at Toronto sports stores.

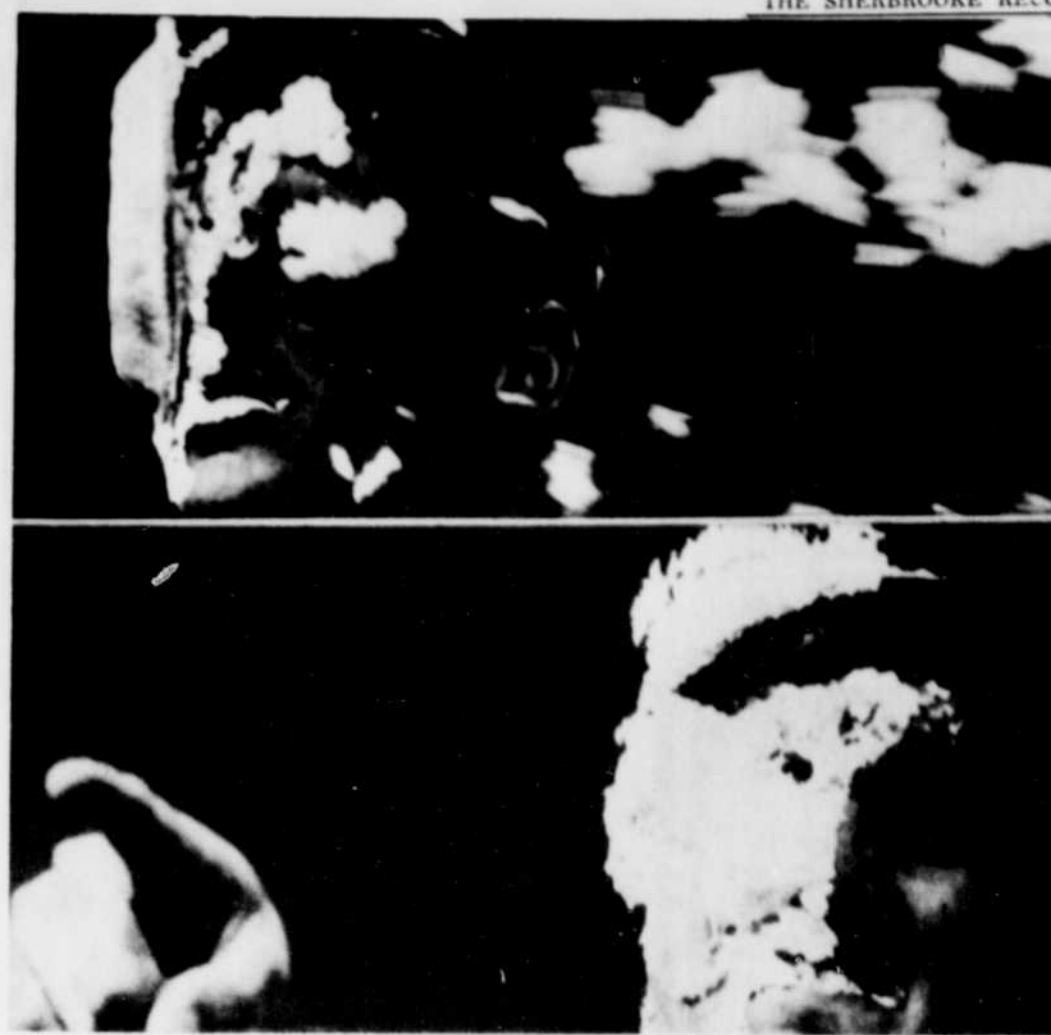

CINCINNATI (AP) — Carol Mann has all but clinched Ladies Professional Golf Association money-winners' championship for the LPGA 1969 tournament tour.

Miss Mann's victory Sunday in the Civitan Open at Corpus Christi Tex., brought her $2,250 and boosted her total official and unofficial winnings to $48,765. LPGA headquarters announced Monday.

Bouchard waits

TORONTO (CP) — A lawyer for Daniel Bouchard who is seeking a release from Sorel Black Hawks of the Quebec Junior Hockey League said Monday he cannot take action in the case until he hears from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

Lawyer Bill McMurtry said last week he would apply for a Supreme Court injunction against the CAHA to allow Bouchard to play for London Knights of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

McMurtry said Monday he had expected official notification from the CAHA on whether or not it would re-examine the case.

Gordon Juckes, CAHA executive manager, said in an interview Sunday the amateur hockey organization would not reopen the case.

Bouchard, a goalie who is eligible for one more year of junior hockey, hopes to play and study in London to increase his fluency in English.

The Sorel team has refused to release the goalie to play with another team, and an appeal against the club's decision was refused by the CAHA Oct. 10.

Ski-Doo is your number one choice in snowmobiles

Come see the 1970 reasons why

Number one in sales

Ski-Doo has introduced more people to the sport of snowmobiling than any other make. That's because Ski-Doo invented snowmobiling. And ever since its first appearance on a snowfield, Ski-Doo has been the undisputed snowmobile leader. Last year alone, Ski-Doo dealers sold over 114,000 models. That's more than the next six manufacturers combined. There are many reasons for Ski-Doo's great sales success. And a better choice of models is certainly one of them.

Number one in selection

For 1970, Ski-Doo offers five exciting series — each with a totally different personality. We're sure you'll find one to match your own. If it's luxury you're after, there's Ski-Doo Nordic. If it's snorty action you're itching for, there's Ski-Doo Olympique. If you want a Ski-Doo that's big, comfortable and fun to drive, there's twin-track Invader. If you're looking for speed and power, there's Ski-Doo TNT. And if price is on your mind, there's the Ski-Doo 12/3. It's so low priced, a lot of people are buying two and three.

Number one in sizzle

Every one of our snowmobiles is powered by the world famous Rotax engine — designed exclusively for Ski-Doo. No other engine delivers more efficient power for climbing, towing, just plain fun running around. And no engine acts better, at all speeds — all temperatures. And this year, our Rotax engines are even more dependable. They're bigger in size, with more cc's, but deliver the same horsepower as before for the most trouble-free performance in snowmobile history.

Number one in service

Your Ski-Doo dealer is a good guy to know. Not just because he sells the number one snowmobile. But because he can offer better service after the sale. He's a pro with know-how, ready to give you qualified repair service — whenever you need it. He's the man who offers a free 15 hour service check to new Ski-Doo owners. And a parts and service warranty that gives you real peace of mind. He's also the one person in town who can tell you where to find all the best snowmobiling trails. If you want the number one choice in snowmobiles, in high-fashion winter sportswear and accessories, see your Ski-Doo dealer. He'll show you all the 1970 reasons why you go one better when you go Ski-Doo.
