World News In Brief

Yokohama, Japan, May 28. — (AP) — Four Canadian army units reached Yokohama yesterday en route to Korea as replacements. They arrived on the transport Gen. R. L. Howze.

They are a paratroop unit, a squadron of the Lord Strathcona Horse of the Royal Canadian Armored Corps, the 23rd Canadian field engineers and the 23rd transport company of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps.

Other units of the Lord Strathcona Horse have been fighting in Korea as part of the Canadian brigade in the Commonwealth division.

Washington, May 28. —(AP) —The first continent-wide air defence exercise for Canada and the United States will be held during the week of July 19, the United States air force announced today.

The exercise, designed to test all military and civilian agencies involved in air defence, will be carried out by about 250,000 persons, the air force said. In addition to regular units of the air defence commands of Canada and the U.S., the exercise will involve civilian ground observers and the radar net which stretches across the northern perimeters of the two countries.

London, May 28. —(Reuters)— Firemen battling throughout the night had this morning controlled London's biggest blaze since the wartime air raids.

The fire, sweeping through a five-storey warehouse in the heart of the dock area, at one time threatened dozens of other warehouses and factories.

More than 150 firemen labored with 30 pumps. At its height the flames could be seen miles away in the suburbs.

Cherryville, Mo., May 28— (AP)— An Ozark preacher — claiming he hasn't eaten in 37 days — vowed today to fast until death unless his prayers are answered for a religious revival to save the world from sin and communism.

Rev. J. J. Ivie, 55-year-old minister of the Assembly of God church, is weakening physically but was reported by friends still able to walk.

The stocky minister has kept to his room since he began his fast, rejecting efforts by authorities of his church to persuade him to end it.

London, May 28—(Reuters) —The government yesterday started putting into effect import cuts totalling £20,000,000 announced in the March budget. Import quotas were announced for the goods concerned — textiles, certain manufactured goods and food. Supplying countries mainly affected are in Europe, the Middle-East and South America.

Reds' Squeeze On Berlin Is Tightened As Capital Fears Blockade Resumption

Red Police Ordered To Shoot Anyone Caught In No-Man's Land Without Proper Pass.

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

Berlin, May 28.—(AP)—Communist east Germany tightened its squeeze on blockade-threatened Berlin another notch today. Orders went out to Red police to shoot to kill anyone caught without a proper pass in the Iron Curtain's new three-mile no man's land along the west German border.

The shooting order was the latest in a series of revenge moves against the Bonn government's alliance with the west. It all but sealed off the communist-girt former capital, which trembled in fear of a resumption of the 1948-49 siege.

The Russians continued their ban on allied military patrols travelling the 110-mile Berlin-Helmstedt autoban, sole highway link between the isolated city and the west.

Regular civilian traffic continued to flow normally, but a new formula for transit visas adopted by the Reds yesterday could choke off traffic between west Berlin and the Bonn republic at any time.

The Russians also let a jeep-escorted three-truck United States army convoy use the highway and an American officer said "Apparently they don't mind through travel but for some reason object to our patrols, going up and down 'their' road."

In Paris the big-three western powers said they would regard aggression against Berlin as a threat to their own security.

The new visa formula tears up an agreement between the western powers and Russia which had allowed West Berlin and West German authorities to issue interzonal passes for transit travel through the Russian zone in either direction.

The move had the following significance:

1. Every truck driver, railroad employee or canal barge operator travelling through the area is at East Germany's mercy.

2. The 2,200,000 West Berliners can be virtually cut off from travel into or through the surrounding Soviet zone.

Yesterday the Red German regime cut all telephone service between Berlin and the Russian sector and some long-distance lines to the west.

The visa formula requires all Germans to get an East German permit before stepping on the Russian zone soil which covers the 100 miles between Berlin and the West. Commenting on the latest Red moves a senior allied official said:

"They have now arranged things so that we have the alternative of slowly watching West Berlin wither away, put the entire place on the dole (relief) or start up an airlift (as was done in 1948-49). If they claim the skies above their heads, too, that's it."

The communists apparently reason that the Bonn Pact throws out the Potsdam agreement of 1945 which set up the rights West Berlin enjoyed in its relations with the west.

Fascism Makes Gains In Italy

Rome, May 28 —(AP)— Fiercely-nationalist fascism, soaring in new returns from last week-end's local elections, challenged communism today as Italy's second-strongest political force.

The rising party is the Italian social movement, which believes in Mussolini's corporate state in open defiance of Italian constitutional bans on resurgent fascism.

It teamed with the diehard Italian monarchist party — whose pre-war King played straight man for Il Duce—to pull the biggest surprise of the Sunday-Monday elections in 2,400 Italian towns and 26 provinces.

While premier Alcide de Gasperi's pro-western Christian Democrat government majority bloc was winning in Rome, the fascist-monarchist alliance seized control of two rich consolations. It captured both the provincial and city councils of Naples, North Atlantic Treaty Organization headquarters for southern Europe, and Bari, through which much United States arms aid funnels to Italy.

Some political observers said the fascists were only using the monarchists to build strength. De Gasperi a few hours before the election warned that the rightist alliance could only lead the royalists to disaster.

Rome basked in the tranquillity of the government victory. But in hotter-tempered Naples worried police banned a victory parade called by the victorious fascist-monarchist alliance.

After a turbulent election campaign studded with stabbings, clubbings, riots and bitterness, the country was quiet as the results came in. Incomplete results from the 2,400 towns at stake showed the Christian Democrat bloc had won 523, the communist-socialist alliance 189 and the fascist-monarchists 65.

Though they held Rome, De Gasperi's pro-N.A.T.O.-bloc lost ground even there. With 150,000 more persons voting than in the 1948 national election, the vote—Christian Democrats 384,020, communists 314,243, fascist-monarchists 206,819—represented a loss of 70,000 for the government, gains of 50,000 for the Reds and 150,000 for the rightists.

That was the story in much of the voting area—central and southern Italy, Sicily and Sardinia. The government bloc lost some ground. The communists showed minor gains. The extreme right boomed.

Aga Khan's Tulyar Wins The Derby

Epsom, Surrey, England, May 28 —(AP)—The Aga Khan's Tulyar, top British favorite, outran the French challengers today to win the Epsom Derby, Britain's top horse-racing classic.

Gay Time, another English-bred colt, was second and Faubourg II, one of eight French starters was third. Thirty-three colts started in the race, which is the basis of an international sweepstakes.

Gordon Richards, world champion jockey, made a stirring bid to win his first Derby in 24 years, but his mount, Monarch More, after forging to the front, faded in the uphill stretch of the undulating 1½-mile horse-shoe course.

The odds came down and the winning Tulyar went off favored over the field at 11 to 2. Gay Time paid at 25-1 and late money brought Faubourg II's odds down to 100 to 6.

In a stampeding finish Tulyar came from the pack and went across the line three-quarters of a length the winner. A length separated second and third.

The only Canadian-owned horse in the race, Indian Hemp, was badly beaten. The entry of Max Bell, Calgary newspaper publisher, was not listed among the first 12 to cross the finish line.

It was the fifth victory in this classic for the wealthy Moslem, tying the winning record set by Lord Egremont.

Coastal Vessel Lost In St. Lawrence For 15 Days With Eleven Men Aboard

Quebec, May 28. — (CP) — A 600-ton coastal vessel and her crew of 11 is missing and feared lost today in the lower St. Lawrence river.

Although the reconverted barge has been missing for 15 days, news of the vessel's disappearance in the Matane-Mechins area, some 250 miles below Quebec, only came out last night.

The department of transport said here it had been informed Monday the B and F was missing following discovery of a lifesaver bearing the vessel's marking near Metis Beach. A considerable quantity of pulpwood, believed to be part of the ship's cargo, also was sighted in the district.

The transport spokesman said a search will be undertaken probably by plane, but added that it will be difficult now due to the length of time elapsed.

The vessel, under the command of Captain Charles-Noel Bernier of Matane, was last reported shortly after leaving Ste. Anne Des Monts May 12, bound for Three Rivers, Que., with a load of pulpwood.

No distress signal was reported from the B and F after she left Ste. Anne although she is equipped with radio-telephone equipment.

River men here took this to indicate that the vessel encountered bad weather and foundered without warning.

Capt. Bernier's sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis-Roger Gagne of Matane, identified some of the crew as Henoch and Real Bernier, brother and partners of the skipper, Lucien Verreault, Arthur Fournier and Marius Parent, all of Mechins, and a man named Beaudoin of Cap Chat.

She could not identify the four other crew members of the converted coal barge, operated by the brothers since last summer.

Mrs. Gagne said that on the night the B and F was last reported seen the weather was "very bad" with a strong northeast wind and high swells on the river.

The vessel had no shipping agent here where most of the coastal vessels do business.

Red Forces Doubled: Alexander

London, May 28 —(AP)— Earl Alexander, Britain's defence minister, said today communist forces in North Korea have been almost doubled since the cease-fire talks began last July.

He said communist forces are not far short of 1,000,000 men compared with some 500,000 last July. Most of the reinforcements were Chinese, he added.

"The communist forces have taken full advantage of the lull in the fighting to reinforce, reorganize and re-equip their armies," he told the House of Lords.

Alexander, who said he will soon visit Tokyo and Korea, declared communist reinforcements mainly have been used to build up North Korea units to full strength.

Fireman Faces Arson Accusation

Ottawa, May 28—(CP)—A member of the Ottawa fire department for more than three years is charged with setting fires in two small Ottawa hotels Monday.

Frank Eric Thompson, 27, arrested yesterday, will appear in court today on two charges of arson.

The fires, within three blocks of each other, occurred less than 30 minutes apart. The first damaged the washroom of the Victoria hotel, 34 Murray Street, but was extinguished quickly. The second gutted the La Salle Hotel, at Dalhousie and St. Patrick Streets, and caused an estimated $90,000 damage.

Fellow firemen said that Thompson, in off-duty civilian clothes, pitched in to help fight the La Salle Hotel blaze. He was one of about 20 firemen overcome by smoke. Four others were injured but no one was trapped in the

Fuller Probe Of Rioting Is Demanded

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Demands arose in both United States Congressional and military circles today for a fuller explanation of a whole series of communist uprisings in the Koje prisoner-of-war camps.

Senator Styles Bridges (Rep. N. H.) said he wants a Senate investigation to show whether Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway "should share in the blame for the disgraceful, astounding conditions at Koje."

Military leaders here have asked the Far East command to explain how, with so much previous violence in the stockades, the communists were permitted to get as far out of hand as they did this month.

Bridges said he was far from satisfied with Ridgway's testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee last week. Other members of the group said they have been amazed by disclosures since that private meeting with the former Far East commander.

Ridgway testified while en route to his new assignment as supreme allied commander in Europe. He was quoted as saying he knew of only two major disorders in the camp, both this spring, before the Reds seized the camp commander as a hostage early this month.

"The truth is now coming out little by little," Bridges said. "And I am not going to be satisfied until we get the whole truth as to who was responsible.

"It is too difficult to imagine camp commanders allowing such conditions without either orders or at least encouragement from their superiors."

Bridges, the Senate Republican floor leader, told a reporter he expects the Armed Service Committee of which he is a member to order a full-scale inquiry.

Senator Richard Russell (Dem. Ga.), the committee chairman, said he will ask the group to decide whether an investigation is warranted.

The army here was asked about a demand in Congress for Cols. Francis T. Dodds and Charles F. Colson to appear for questioning on Capitol Hill. An army spokesman said he believed no specific time had been fixed for their arrival.

Dodd was demoted from Brigadier-General following his capture and release by the communist prisoners. Colson also was demoted from Brigadier-General for agreeing to Red terms which brought Dodd's release.

Army Secretary Frank Pace handed Russell on May 23 a letter constituting a report on the Koje case. Reporters were informed that Pace's letter, which told of new precautions being taken to strengthen control over prisoners, was all the information the army had.

But elsewhere in army headquarters, the view was expressed thta the letter told only what happened in the last incident at Koje —not why it happened or what other incidents might have occurred. This was pointed up by the disclosure almost simultaneously with publication of Pace's letter that a riot had occurred at the Koje compound on April 10 in which four guards and three prisoners were killed.

The army also told this week of Red brutality to prisoners within the compound.

Four Are Aboard Missing Plane

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 28. — (CP) — A civilian plane flown by a Toronto man and believed carrying three other persons is missing in the rugged country between here and Port Arthur.

Pilot Ed Harbottle of Toronto radioed yesterday afternoon that the plane, en route from Toronto to Port Arthur, was running out of fuel. His message was picked up by a radio range station in neighboring Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

The pilot filed a flight plan in the Michigan Sault that gave the expected time of arrival at the lakehead as 4:30 P.M.

Poor visibility and a low ceiling were reported today in the area in which the plane disappeared.

Lisbon, Portugal, May 28 — (Reuters) — The government today pledged its support to the European Defence Community as an "extremely important new step to discourage aggressive designs and safeguard peace and liberty in the world."

C.M.A. President Sounds Warning Against U.S. Bill

By FORBES RHUDE

Toronto, May 28. — (CP) — Hugh Crombie, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said today a measure before the United States House of Representatives, would be contrary to the provisions of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade negotiated in Geneva in 1947.

Addressing the association's annual general meeting, he said the bill would allow the President to place import controls over all types of goods, including agricultural commodities.

The measure, he stated, is far broader than the measure which expires June 30, which placed import restrictions on fats and oils, also contrary to the provisions of G.A.T.T. Further:

"The U.S. has not yet implemented its undertaking to change its customs valuation laws and other administrative provisions, to conform to G.A.T.T.," although a measure is before Congress.

He noted, too, that the United Kingdom, Italy, Denmark and other European countries have filed with the U. S. government protests against any increases in tariffs under the so-called "escape clause" of the U. S. reciprocal trade agreements act.

Under this clause, he said, applications have been made to the U. S. tariff commission by American producers for tariff increases or quota regulations in regard to a variety of items.

"The C.M.A.," said Mr. Crombie, "has asked and is asking the Canadian government for adequate protection against unfair competition and the dumping of goods made in other countries in the Canadian market; and that no further reductions be made in tariff rates on goods now manufactured in Canada . . .

"It appears to me that Canada has given a lot in some regards, and got little back in return, particularly vis-a-vis the United States."

Mr. Crombie's remarks were made in the course of his report to the association as president for the last year.

Concerning inflation and the recent drop in the cost of living, he said "maybe we have jumped the highest hurdle."

However: "Some students have predicted a period of rising prices in Canada 'for as far ahead as human vision can see.' I am not sure how far this may be, but in more measurable terms it might be safe to say that no one now living will ever see the dollar again buy what it bought in 1940."

He advocated increased productivity which "implies a higher volume of production out of a given amount of resources—raw materials, tools and manpower.

"Replacement of obsolete tools by new and modern tools is one of the more obvious ways of achieving it. It is not, as some trade unionists seem to assume, just another word for 'speed-up.'"

Mr. Crombie said the association "again made representations recently to provincial authorities pointing out that unless steps were taken to enforce the law against mass picketing, there was danger that both strikers and public would get the idea that strikers were within their rights in besetting struck premises and preventing entry not merely of factory workers but of office and even maintenance staff.

He urged that Canada process more of her raw materials, instead of exporting them in raw form.

"If we, as Canadians, are not satisfied to accept the role of hewers of wood and drawers of water for our neighbors in the United States, there are two things we can do:

"One is to process our raw materials to the greatest extent possible by building up manufacturing industries. The other is to build up Canada through large-scale immigration, and thus provide a larger domestic market for Moscow, May 28—(AP)—Pravda said today that West Germany's new peace contract with Britain, France and the United States can be enforced only as long as it is backed up by American bayonets.

The communist party newspaper accused U.S. occupation authorities and Bonn government leaders of waging a terror campaign against all West Germans who oppose the alliace.

But this policy, Pravda said, is only forcing the Germans to strive harder for the unification of all Germany.

Pravda also published the first Soviet comment on yesterday's signing of the European Defence Community agreements in Paris under the headline "a new deal of the imperialists."

The paper said the E.D.C. "must create a European army into which to merge the resurrected western German army headed by fascist Hitlerite generals."

"Thus," Pravda said, "the matter concerns a deal between the revengist ruling circles of western Germany and the North Atlantic grouping of powers."

Communists Lose 3 Hills In Korea

Seoul, Korea, May 28—(AP)—Tank-supported United Nations assault groups threw the communists off three hills today in a foray into Red lines near Korangpo on the Korean western front.

A United States Eighth Army staff officer said the three units then returned to their lines. An incomplete early report said one of the groups killed or wounded at least 30 Reds.

The raiders attacked in predawn darkness and ran into heavy Red artillery fire. But, the staff officer said, U.N. tank fire aided them in knocking the Reds from their positions.

On the central front, allied tanks damaged 81 bunkers, 12 communication trenches and six weapon emplacements.

Scattered patrol skirmishes were reported on the eastern front.

3rd U.S. General To Lose Rank Over Koje Incident

By WILLIAM JORDEN

Koje Island, Korea, May 28—(AP) —A third United States General is losing his command because of the kidnapping of former Brig.-Gen. Francis T. Dodd by communist prisoners of war, it was learned today.

He is Brig.-Gen. Paul F. Yount, commander of the Pusan army base who was reprimanded in Washington last week. The defence department said he "overlooked the erroneous implications" of promises made to secure Dodd's release by P.O.W.s on Koje Island.

At high military official who declined use of his name told the Associated Press Yount will be transferred within a week.

The promise, made by former Brig.-Gen. Charles Colson, led to still continuing Red propaganda blasts at the United Nations command. They were repudiated by Gen. Mark Clark, Far East commander.

The P.O.W. camp on Koje was in Yount's Pusan command.

Dodd and Colson successively were ousted as Koje commanders and were demoted to their permanent rank of colonel because of the kidnapping and Colson's promises.

In Washington, there were new demands for fuller explanation of the Koje riots that date to last September. Senator Styles Bridges (Rep. N.H.) said he wants an investigation to show whether Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, whom Clark succeeded, "should share in the blame for the disgraceful, astounding conditions at Koje."

Ridgway has gone to Paris as the new North Atlantic Treaty Organization commander.

Osaka, Japan, May 28.—(AP)—The former security officer of riotous Koje Island said today it was "difficult for our men to swallow insults day in and day out" from communist prisoners of war, but that "there was never a single instance of a prisoner being treated inhumanely."

Capt. Jack McGuire is in an army hospital recuperating from wounds suffered April 10 in a riot of Red prisoners.

McGuire said United States soldiers have been taunted and menaced for months by vicious, sneering communist captives.

"It was terribly difficult for our men to swallow insults day in and day out and still continue to do their jobs. Yet, during all the time I was on Koje—from Jan. 1, 1952, to May 8—there was never a single instance of a prisoner being treated inhumanely."

The 37-year-old officer from Attica, N.Y., gave the first dramatic eye-witness account of the April 10 riot on Koje — an after-dark nightmare in which at least four Korean guards and three North Korean prisoners were killed and at least six guards and 37 Reds were injured.

McGuire himself was wounded twice — by bullets from a U.S. guard's machine-gun and a Russian pistol fired by one of the howling rioters.

The April 10 violence broke out when McGuire led 100 South Korean guards, armed only with clubs, into prison compound 95 to remove a wounded prisoner.

McGuire said he was ordered in by the then Koje commander, Brig.-Gen. Francis T. Dodd, against his own recommendation. Dodd was relieved of his command after the Reds kidnapped and held him hostage. He has since been reduced to his permanent rank of colonel.

McGuire described the prisoners on Koje as "defiant, dangerous

Tax And Duty Changes Receive Commons Approval

Ottawa, May 28—(CP)—The Commons yesterday put the final touches to finance minister Abbotts' budgetary changes.

Legislation giving parliamentary approval of tax and duty changes proposed in the minister's 1952-53 budget were cleaned up. Actually many of the changes have been in effect since the budget was brought down April 8 last.

Many members again voiced belief that the changes do not go far enough or go too far. The minister sat most of the day listening to suggestions for higher income-tax exemptions, bigger corporation taxes and more tax consideration for those with heavy medical bills.

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) again urged the government to eliminate the four-per-cent floor under the amount of medical expenses which may be deducted from income for tax purposes.

Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) wanted the list of non-dutiable drugs—at present including only ACTH, cortisone, insulin and radium—widened to include other new drugs required by chronic disease sufferers.

Mr. Abbott replied specifically only to Mr. Knowles' plea. He said in handling Canada's financial affairs he works on the principle that no ordinary living expenses should be deductible from salaries before income taxes are paid.

Medical bills were an ordinary living expense and for that reason the government felt it could not go beyond raising the ceilings on deductible medical bills—to $1,500 from $750 for single persons and to $2,000 from $1,000 for married persons—as it did in the budget.

On this final word from the minister Mr. Knowles said: "We'll try again next year."

The House got through a lot of work. It approved legislation establishing a national library, setting the salary of Canada's chief electoral officer at $12,000 a year—a $2,000 a year increase—and a bill increasing the amount of loans which can be made to individual farmers by the Canadian farm loan board.

On the library measure, Prime Minister St. Laurent said that initially the cultural centre will be placed under the jurisdiction of the secretary of state. Later some other minister may be charged with its supervision and that of kindred activities.

Mr. St. Laurent said he agrees with George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, that the library should contain books of all types, including those on other systems of government which it might not be desirable to distribute generally.

During discussion of the income tax act, John Blackmore (SC—Lethbridge) complained income taxes are far too high. If increases continued then "Canadians might just as well bid goodbye to freedom."

Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East) suggested a man with a chronic invalid wife should get an income tax exemption for the housekeeper he must hire.

H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) put in a word for increasing income tax exemptions for married men to $3,000 from $2,000 and for single men to $2,000 from $1,000.

J. W. Noseworthy (CCF—York South) thought the minister ought to pay more attention to corporations when seeking revenue. Tax rates on U. S. corporations amounted to about 60 per cent while in Canada they ranged between 52 and 54 per cent.

"Peg O' My Heart" Was Sponsored By St. Patrick's Society At Richmond

Richmond, May 28.—Mrs. Michael O'Donnell, president of St. Patrick's Society, acted as chairman when "Peg 'O My Heart" was presented in the Holy Family Church Hall.

A capacity audience enjoyed every minute of this very popular play. The parts were well chosen and the members of the cast are to be congratulated on the very splendid presentation of the play.

Mrs. Chichester, the mother, was very well taken by Miss Antoinette Linahen. Her daughter, Ethel, Mrs. W. G. Husk, carried out her part with poise and dignity, while the son, Alaric, portrayed by Paul Delaney, proved to be very popular with the audience.

"Peg," Miss Helen Johnson, had the leading part, which was very difficult but she acted it perfectly. Her attractive and graceful appearance, her Irish wit and above all her natural manner, made the audience feel that she was really living the part.

O. C. J. McCabe for the footman, and Joan Levia, for the maid; Leo Delaney, Jerry; Harry Smith, Mr. Hawkes; and Philip McLaughlin, Mr. Brent. All supported the cast in a very capable manner.

The action took place in the living room of "Regal Villa," Mrs. Chichester's home, in England. The stage was made very attractive by flowers and furniture loaned by Mr. E. S. Cogan, who had charge of the stage setting.

The stage manager was Mr. W. G. Husk; property manager, Mr. E. C. Nixon; publicity, Mr. M. O. O'Donnell; and Mr. R. N. Quinn; make-up assistant, Mr. Lloyd Fuller.

Between the acts Mrs. Leslie Rattray, a popular local soloist sang appropriate Irish solos. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Jules Fortin.

This play was presented by special arrangement with Samuel French (Canada).

It is hoped that this very popular cast will give a repeat performance in the near future.

Swim Instruction Was Successful At Y.M.C.A. Pool

"Learn to swim week," was a decided success.

Given free of charge each spring as a community service feature of the Y.M.C.A., in co-operation with the Protestant School Board of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville, the course given here last week attracted 28 boys from Grades five, six and seven of Mitchell, Lawrence and Lennoxville schools.

By the time the five lessons were over, under the instruction of "Y" General Secretary J. Edward Shortt, the young lads had achieved a good measure of swimming prowess.

Results were as follows among the boys, none of whom was able to swim before the half-hour a day classes began and many of them fearful of entering the water above the waist.

Capable of swimming the following lengths of the "Y" pool: Two lengths, Arthur Harron; one length, Paul Knox, Gary Clarke, Roddy Elliott; two widths, Wayne Clarke; 1½ widths, Milton Ross; one width, Wayne Rich, Dale Kinder, Robert McGee, Garry Ross, Dale Lindsay, Billy Robinson; ½ width, Ian Murray and Graydon Stronach.

Other boys completing the tests were: Gary Quinn, Harold White, Raymond Batrie, Douglas Annesley, Neil French, Carlton Singleton, Brady Gelinas, Arlie Fearon, Bruce Barber, Malcolm Barber and Bobby Guay.

Not present on test day, but taking the course, were: Jimmy Robinson, Bill Carter and Richard Kirby.

Mr. Shortt feels all the boys will be proficient-enough swimmers by summer's end if they get enough time in the lakes during the warm months, to increase their confidence—the only quality some of them still lack.

Youthful Speaker Heard At Boundary Rotary

Derby Line, May 28.—Dawson Smith, of Beebe, son of Robert Smith, of the Canadian Customs, was the speaker at the regular Monday evening meeting of the Rotary Club of the Boundary, held at the Del Monty Hotel.

The speaker told of his experiences at a youth conference in Cornwall, Ont., sponsored by the United Church of Canada. Quite apparently, Dawson Smith enjoyed himself and found a lot of stimulation in the discussion groups. There were seven of the discussion groups, all concerned with problems of youth and of religion.

Some of the problems discussed were the young people's need of the church, problems of Bible study in young people's groups and still keeping up the attendance of the members. It was felt that the young people could and would learn responsibility and were ready to carry their share of the burdens of the church.

The talk proved to be very interesting and held the attention of the club members present.

The speaker was introduced by Maurice Moore and thanked for his talk by Arch. Graham, President David Goodell presides at the meeting.

John Dupont, of the Rexall Drug Store, in Rock Island, was inducted into membership in the club, and C. R. MacLean explained some of the principles of Rotary as well as extending a welcoming hand.

Jolly 12 Club Held Party At Rock Island

Rock Island, May 28.—The Jolly Twelve Christmas Club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Howard Miller, in Rock Island, one recent evening with ten members and two guests, Mrs. Morton Cushing, of Essex Junction, Vt., and Mrs. Edward Simpson, of West Park, attending.

A brief business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Floyd Webb, then all enjoyed a very interesting account of an enjoyable winter spent in Florida, told by Mrs. B. F. Miller, who had spent the winter with her daughter and son-in-law, in Orlando, Fla., and while there visited numerous places of interest.

Cards were played at three tables. Prizes for "500" were won by Mrs. Cushing and Mrs. Merton Smith, for hig score, and the consolation awards went to Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. Stewart Smith. Mrs. Webb won the door prize.

The hostesses, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Geraldine Sherman, served refreshments thus terminating a most pleasant evening.

The next party will be held on June 2, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Broadbelt.

HELPING GUIDE

The Helping Circle of Stanstead South Church met on Wednesday evening, May 21, at the church hall, and was attended by seventeen ladies.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Raymond Wheelock, and was opened by repeating the "Lord's Prayer" in unison.

Mrs. Kenneth Baldwin, secretary, called the roll, read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved, and a letter from a friend, to whom a gift had been sent.

In the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Baldwin submitted the report, which included a detailed account of the recent Mother's and Daughter's banquet. Mrs. Wheelock expressed her appreciation to all those who had helped to make the banquet such a grand success, especially the program and supper committees, and to men, who so efficiently waited on the tables.

Mrs. Wheelock, Mrs. Golda Standish, Mrs. C. R. Darby, and Mrs. Stuart Taylor had attended the meeting at Sangster Memorial Church, Sherbrooke, the previous day, and at this time they gave a fine account of their day, regarding the formation of a Women's Presbytery, under the United Church of Canada, following this, Mrs. Wheelock asked this group if it would like to become a member of the Presbytery.

The ladies felt that the church would benefit from this and a motion made that it became a member was unanimously agreed.

A vote of thanks was extended to these delegates for representing this church in Sherbrooke, and for their lucid report of the meeting.

A motion was made to adjourn this meeting, to resume activities in the fall.

Delicious, buffet refreshments were served from a table, attractive with a linen embroidered cloth, centred with a bowl of mixed spring flowers, and candles in matching holders, Mrs. Baldwin took charge of the refreshments, provided by the ladies.

Property Transfer In Magog Paves Way For Public Park And Playground

Magog, May 28. — Transfer of a large section of property along the Magog River and the donation of $3500 by Dominion Textile Company Limited, to the City of Magog was effected yesterday paving the way for the establishment of a large public park and play ground in Magog East.

The land trasfer gave the city about one million square feet of property in Magog East in return for some ninety-three thousand square feet of property near the Company's Mill. The deed of transfer specified that the large piece of property provided by the Company must be used for parks, play grounds and other municipal privilges.

Signing the deeds were Ovila Bergeron, mayor of Magog, R. Boudreau, secretary-treasurer, H. A. LeDuc manager, Magog Division and M. Levasseur for the company.

A clause in the deed of transfer specified that the 27 acres which the City received must be used for park purposes.

Those present at the signing of the deeds besides Messrs. Bergeron, Boudreau, LeDuc and Levasseur were John Peters, director of public relations, Rev. Father O. Vel of Ste. Marguerite's Parish and Notary Etienne Gerin from Magog.

The following remarks were exchanged by Mr. LeDuc and Mayor Ovila Bergeron:

By Mr. LeDuc—Mr. Mayor, It is my privilege today, to present you with this cheque for $3500 from Dominion Textile Company Limited, as a donation to your City funds earmarked especially for the development of a Park in Magog East. We have just witnessed the signing of the documents which transferred the City property near the Mill to the Company and the million square feet of land which the Company formerly owned in Magog East, to the City.

This transfer which makes possible a public Park in Magog East has been the result of six years of effort on the part of City authorities and Company representatives.

The young people of Magog have always been its future. The development of this Community depends upon them. Anything done today for the youth of this Community must surely result in a greater Magog tomorrow.

I am happy that your Council has undertaken to set-up a special fund with this money to be devoted to the development of a Civic Recreation Centre in Magog East. I can assure you, Mr. Mayor, that the Company is happy to participate in this important project.

By Mr. Bergeron— Gentlemen, Father Vel, It is my pleasure this morning to have signed the contract with Dominion Textile Company for the exchange of land which will certainly be to the great benefit of the City of Magog.

Dominion Textile has accepted the exchange of a piece of land of some ninety-three thousand square feet in return for some one million two hundred and twelve square feet of land owned by the Company in Magog East. Furthermore, the Company has gave the City a cheque for $3500.00 which I have just received from Mr. H. A. LeDuc.

This sum of money will be used for the development of a Play Ground or a Civic Recreation Centre for Magog and especially Magog East.

I am happy to thank Dominion Textile for this gesture which is one of the many they have offered in past years.

I would like to thank Mr. John Peters especially for the great effort he has taken along with Mr. Edgard Bournival, former member of the City Council.

I know that Father Vel here present, will agree with me that all the things we hoped for—Arena with Artificial Ice, Baseball Ground, Race Track etc., will be possible in the future.

In closing I wish once again to thank the Dominion Textile Company.

Appeals Court Hears Local Aldermanic Case

The Quebec Court of Appeals is expected to render its decision early in June on the appeal of J. L. Belanger against the judgment of District Magistrate Patrick Delaney rendered at Sherbrooke which declared Paul Leclerc elected a member of the Sherbrooke City Council.

Boulanger was elected as alderman for the North Ward in March 1951, defeating Leclerc. Shortly afterwards, Leclerc, through his attorney, Armand Nadeau, Q.C., took an action to disqualify Boulanger because the latter lacked the necessary property qualifications and also asked to be declared elected to the seat by acclamation as the only properly-entered candidate.

Before the action came before the courts, Boulanger relinquished his seat but his attorneys, Rousseau, Howard and Bradley, continued the case ex parte, resisting the move to have Leclerc elected by acclamation. They demanded a new election. Judge Delaney ruled in favor of the plaintiff, Leclerc.

The case was taken to appeal and was argued before the Court of Appeals in Montreal yesterday, judgment being deferred.

Police Search River For Man Said Drowned

A police party is searching the river around the C.N.R. bridge for the body of a man alleged to have jumped to his death Monday night.

Police Chief Edouard Moreau says the information was not given the Police Department until late Tuesday night.

He adds that the persons giving the information "are not reliable."

They said, however, that the man was from Quebec City, although they couldn't agree on his name. They added that the man stated he was "through with life," and jumped.

A search of the river by boat from yesterday afternoon until late at night and continuing this morning proved fruitless. However, the Police are still investigating.

Citizenship Talk Given To Rotary Club By Robert Amaron Of Stanstead

Robert Amaron, of Stanstead College, addressed the Rotary Club last night on Citizenship.

He ranked second in the recent Public Speaking Contest sponsored by Rotary and as a reward was, with the other students from various towns who ranked with him, sent to Ottawa at the expense of the Club, for special citizenship meetings and a tour of the Capitol.

After describing his visit to the Art Gallery, the Museum, Parliament buildings and other points of interest in Ottawa, the young student said he had formed three lasting impressions of his trip.

"First of all," he said, "I realized how fortunate we are to be Canadians, with our wonderful form of democratic government. No country, not even the United States, can do better."

"Then", he continued, "I was impressed with our wonderful country, and the friendly people who inhabit it, and lastly I thought of the great future which lies ahead of our young country, with its vast possibilities, and I am convinced that in the future Canada will take her place as a leader."

The speaker added that all the students had had the privilege of hearing such speakers as the Prime Minister, the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Drew, the Honorable Brooke Claxton, and others. Every one of them, he pointed out, stressed the privileges enjoyed by citizens of Canada, and the responsibilities which those privileges entail.

"We were told repeatedly," he said, "that the Canadian system of government is the best instrument for man's own self government".

The speaker was introduced by L. Lindskow, and thanked by Howard Moffatt.

Vice-president K. C. F. Mills, in the chair for the meeting, welcomed three guests, F. Knutson, of St. John's, Newfoundland, Bruce D. Riordan, of Toronto, and Dr. E. C. Amaron, principal of Stanstead College.

Plans for the inter-club meeting next Tuesday with the Schenectady Club were outlined by Rotarian Ogden Glass.

With Wright Gibson at the piano, Rotarian Tom Keeley led the sing-song, and as a special selection, R. L. Curphey sang a French folk song "En passant par la Lorraine," with all the members joining in the chorus.

Head table guests in addition to the speaker and chairman were Howard Nichol, L. Lindskow, Howard Moffatt, Dr. Amaron, Cyril Pyke, incoming treasurer, and L. W. Dixon, vice-president elect.

Our Congratulations To: -

ENOUGH MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT

Political expediency, called forth by redistribution proposals, indicates an increasing membership in the House of Commons at Ottawa. The alibi will be the old "Rep. by Pop" slogan of days gone by. But, in the opinion of The Brandon Sun, a more popular measure so far as the general citizenship of this Dominion is concerned would be a reduction of parliamentary membership. For many years, it continues, no government follower has said aloud as much as a "No" to a cabinet proposal — and the cabinet now rules in all affairs of direction and administration, from the vice-regal position down. The real need of Canada is less government and fewer governments. Many fewer members of parliament could say "Yes" to the government.

Moreover, there is a sentiment growing among the followers on the back benches at Ottawa that they need larger indemnities. A member of parliament draws $4,000 for each session plus $2,000 tax-free expenses. There also are certain substantail perquisites, such as free railway travel, free use of the wires and mails, etc. It cannot be said all the members of parliament are worth that—although good ones would be, if the people could be induced to elect such by reason rather than prejudice. At the same time, it must be acknowledged the times made it more difficult for an M.P. to combine politics and business and few citizens with private means and the ability to serve the whole people in parliament want to go through the nastiness of political campaigns.

Actually the parliament at Ottawa should be trimmed to fundamentals, the windy speeches for political ends cut out and waste and delays avoided. Most of the time devoted to addresses on the speech from the throne for instance, are mere political diatribes to influence electors at home. But the parliamentary indemnity was never intended as a wage, but as an honorarium for public service and the position of an M.P. was rewarded by public esteem, appreciation and influence. Membership of the federal parliament was never intended to be a hired-hand employment with pay. The job of a member of parliament has changed vastly in the last few decades. It, too, has become almost a full-time job. That must now be admitted, but we need fewer on the government payroll (from the taxes) and not more.

MORE McCORMICK MYTHS

Colonel McCormick's newspaper has been complaining about Canadians liking President Truman "for his open-handed foreign aid which has supplied Canada with billions of United States dollars." The Tribune goes on to say "Canada has no draft, is giving no cash, food or raw materials to Britain or Europe, and is finishing its sixth successive year with a balanced budget and a surplus to spare." Which prompts The Financial Post to say:

Some people don't like surpluses and how much Canadians like President Truman we don't know,

But for the record here are some of the things Canada is doing for her partner countries. Let's quote our Foreign Affairs Minister, Lester Pearson, in Hansard:

"Financial and economic assistance in the form of credits from the fiscal year 1945-46 to the fiscal year 1951-52, $1,753,000,000; post-war military relief, $95,000,000; United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agencies and assistance programs, $203,000,000; contribution to the Colombo Plan, $25,300,000; NATO mutual aid program, providing for transfer of military equipment to European members for approximately three divisions to date and cost of training NATO pilots and navigators in Canada, $324,800,000; emergency gift of wheat to Greece, $830,000. Total to date, $2,403,000,000."

In addition there is in the current fiscal year some $65 millions for mutual aid, $112 millions for air crew training and $162 millions for defense equipment. For the military cost of NATO, Canada is this year spending $27 millions and is putting into Europe a brigade and four fighter squadrons (eight to go later) and assigning 24 ships for the Atlantic naval command and Canadians are in Korea.

We don't write this with any idea that McCormick will be interested, nor that he will gain interest in truthful reporting.

But it's a record which Canadians can look at with some satisfaction, including the balanced budgets.

FOREIGN AID CUT TO HIT U.S., EUROPE DEFENCE FORCES HARD

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (Nea) — Two principal motives are given for the congressional desire to hack a billion dollar or bigger cut off President Truman's proposed $6.9 billion foreign aid program for next year.

The first is a sincere desire to balance the U.S. budget and prevent deficit financing.

The second is a critical reaction to waste by the Department of Defence. The multi-million-dollar losses in building air bases in North Africa and Greenland soured many congressmen. Louisiana Rep. F. Edward Hebert's committee disclosures on bad buying practices by the armed services had their effect.

There was a general feeling that if greater efficiency was used in military procurement, just as much defense could be purchased and a billion dollars would be saved.

Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman, Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett and their staffs have found only scattered opposition to the idea of the foreign assistance programs.

The real, die-hard isolationists who believe that any money spent overseas is wasted were found to be few in number in the foreign affairs committees.

The size of the final cuts is still undetermined. The Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees agreed on a 12.66 per cent cut on all items, right across the board. The House proposes a 20 per cent cut on European aid only, with a 10 per cent cut on defense support, economic assistance.

Congress' Final Figure May Be Cut Further

The final figure will have to be determined in conference between the two branches of Congress. Then may come further cuts as the bill goes through the appropriations committees.

With spending figures still up in the air this way, MSA, State and Defense officials are reluctant to make any estimates on the effects of the cuts. It will take a tremendous amount of refiguring to determine what items will have to be cut off the shopping list.

A few guides on what arms aid costs are given by the office of Military Assistance Director, Brig.-Gen. George H. Olmstead.

On the average, the U.S. contribution to rearming each new European division has been $133 million. Each country furnishes its own men, pays, feeds, uniforms, shelters and furnishes basic equipment.

To equip one fighter-bomber squadron with tactical aircraft costs the U.S. $25 million. Three are needed for each land division. Add this $75 million for air support to the $133 million for a division of ground forces and you get $208 million.

A billion-dollar cut is therefore the equivalent of sacrificing arms for five European divisions.

Another unclassified figure is that it costs $400,000 a day to keep the artillery of one division supplied with ammunition in time of war, with all guns firing. A billion dollars is therefore the equivalent of the reserve ammunition supply of Europe's 25 active divisions for only 100 days.

Return On Aid Can Be More Than Doubled

C. Tyler Wood, deputy director of MSA, who has been working with the congressional committees on the foreign aid bill, presents another estimate on what cuts in economic aid money may mean.

The $1.4 billion requested for defense-support raw materials is estimated to give a two-and-a-half-times return, or $3.5 billion worth of military supplies which the European countries would be able to produce for themselves.

This amounts to their half of the equipment for 10 European divisions, plus 750 fighter aircraft, plus 40 mine sweepers, plus 30 destroyer escorts. If the U.S. were required to make up this amount of equipment, producing it in this country, it would cost five times the $1.4 billion, or $7 billion.

Making big cuts in the foreign aid program may have no great effect on the European rearmament program this year.

Where this will hit hardest, however, is in equipping the 12 new German army divisions, which have to be started from scratch.

Two effects of the cuts may be felt immediately. The first will be a slow-down of U.S. defense production, due to reduction of orders. The second will be a drop in morale of European allies who have been urged to do more, only to find that the U.S. proposes to do less.

Military experts figure that in making cuts across the broad, on all items, there will have to be reductions in training, reductions in reserve supplies, possibly the skeletonizing of many units, a delay in reaching desired goals.

To a general, a difference of 10 per cent in his available fire power often means the difference between defeat and victory.

DANGEROUS RESCUE

News From Copenhagen

In October, 1943, when the Nazi occupation forces began the persecution of Danish Jews, an unknown high school teacher who lived in a terraced house in Lyngby, a suburb of Copenhagen, renounced his peaceful occupations. His name was Aage Bertelsen. He had never held a pistol in his hand but within a short time he was the leader of an illegal group organized on real gangster lines but with a purpose quite different from robbery.

In spite of the Germans' watchfulness the group succeeded in bringing 1,200 Danish Jews safely across the little belt to neutral Sweden. Aage Bertelsen commanded a fleet of high-powered cars and a whole flotilla of small boats. His assistants were civil servants, businessmen, professors and lorry drivers, people who did not know one another until they were brought together on this dangerous rescue mission.

At last the Nazis offered a reward of 10,000 kroner (£500) for Bertelsen's capture but they never found him.

OUR OWN OIL

London Free Press

Self-sufficiency in oil by 1954 is an extraordinary goal for Canada, yet this is precisely what we can expect. Carl Nickle, MP, of Calgary, an oil expert, told the Managing Editors' conference in Winnipeg that in two years time the Dominion would be producing more than 400,000 barrels a day, enough to supply Canadian needs.

In the past five years more than one billion dollars has been invested in Canadian oil fields and this year more than $250,000,000 will be spent on oil developments and production.

If these sound fabulous figures they are only the mirror of the fabulous future awaiting this country in the years ahead, for oil is only one of our vast resources.

New Generation Of Socialists Follows In Footsteps Of Fashions

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, May 28 —(CP)— Sixty-three years ago a group of socialist intellectuals, known as the Fabians, issued a series of essays which shattered Victorian complacency and left a lasting political imprint. Now a new generation of socialists seeks to take up where the Fabians left off.

The original essays, largely inspired by Sidney Webb and edited by George Bernard Shaw, provided the ideas which gave British socialism its charter and contributed materially to the modern welfare state. The current contribution, entitled "New Fabian Essays," comes from eight leading socialist thinkers of the present day, all of them largely engrossed with one main question.

Former Labor premier Clement Attlee spells out that question in a preface to the new volume. Attlee says that the 1889 essays, written in the climate of Victorian England, marked the beginning of the new approach to socialism.

Now, he says, where do we go from here?

The authors would probably admit that their answer does not pretend to be all-embracing, clear-cut or specific. They discuss current problems mainly on a philosophical level and the things they say are viewpoints rather than the starting point for a new political philosophy.

In the opening essay, for instance, Richard Crossman, who is often identified with the left wing of the Labor party in Parliament, says the new dynamic viewpoint his party seeks can only be obtained by a party "which challenges the status quo on grounds of principle and uses the theory to expose the inadequacy of tradition as a guide to action."

Crossman's arguments, not easily summarized, include the idea that exploitation and slavery should be regarded as the normal state of man, interspersed by brief epochs of liberty.

"Freedom is always in danger," he writes, "and the majority of mankind will always acquiesce in its loss, unless a minority is willing to challenge the privileges of the few and the apathy of the masses."

The western socialist, therefore, should beware of a totalitarianism either of right or left and the role of the British Labor movement should be to furnish an example of this "critical humanism" in action.

More specifically, Crossman urges Labor to try to influence the United States to revert to the "moderate policies" of the Marshall plan period, to seek to limit their arms program and "to take the risk in Asia and Africa of leaving unfilled the political vacuum left by the dismantling of the old European empires."

Other essays in the new volume include an appeal by Denis Healey, labor research expert, for a more realistic approach by the party to foreign affairs and a call by John Strachey, one-time food minister, for increased aid to under-developed areas.

In general, the new essays have not been expansively praised. Individual comments have been singled out as stimulating, but the general verdict of the disinterested critic seems to be that Fabianism has reached a dead end, temporarily at least.

Railway Detective Ends 40-Year Post

Halifax—(CP)—Sgt. M. D. Coady, who encountered Indians and enemy agents during his 40 years as a railway investigator, has retired.

He can recall the early days of his service when a big task was riding the trains to help quell fights between Indians returning from a market visit to the city with a few bottles of illegal "moonshine".

At one time, Sgt. Coady waited for 22 nights in below-zero weather to catch a thief suspected of breaking into box cars. He got his man on the 22nd night.

During the war years he was on call seven days a week to protect the company's lines and ride the gold trains, specials carrying millions of dollars worth of gold to Ottawa from overseas.

PLAY TRUMP TRICK TO WIN THIS HAND

"Please settle a dispute," requests a St. Louis correspondent. "The question concerns the proper defensive play in the accompanying hand.

"West opened the queen of diamonds, and South dropped the ten. West continued with the nine of diamonds, East won with the king, and South dropped the jack. East next laid down the ace of spades and continued with a small spade.

"The rest was easy for South. He won with the king of spades, ran three rounds of clubs to get rid of his diamonds, and finally drew all of the trumps with the help of a successful finesse.

"West said that East should not have led the ace of spades at the third trick. West thought that East should have led his low spade in order to give South a guess. If South made the mistake of playing low he would lose two spade tricks.

"Who is right?"

I am sorry to say that both players are wrong.

East cannot defeat the contract by leading a low spade at the third trick. On the basis of the bidding South should guess the location of the ace of spades. East therefore cannot hope to defeat the contract by getting two spade tricks.

There is, however, a very simple way to defeat the contract. East should merely play to get a trump trick.

After winning the second diamond trick, East cashes the ace of spades. He then leads the ace of diamonds, forcing dummy to ruff. This play leaves only one trump in dummy so that only one trump finesse can be taken through East. If East merely sits tight he will eventually take the setting trick with the king of hearts.

A—Pass. You have excellent distribution, and you would have raised hearts if East had passed. You should not make a free bid, however, without even as much as a queen in your hand. If your partner cannot rebid, there is no future in the hand.

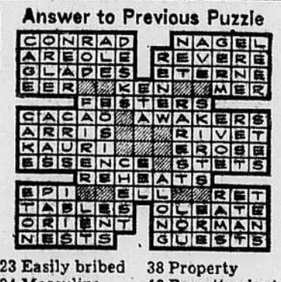
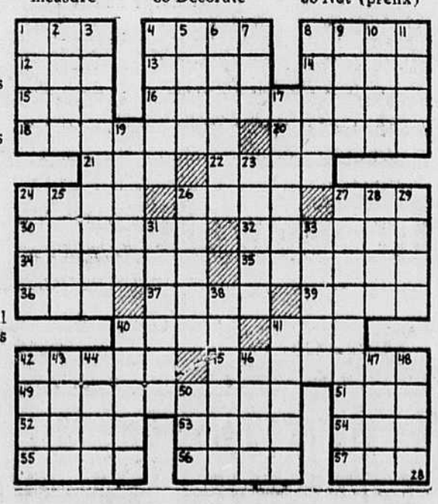
Answer to Previous Puzzle





The Record Short Story

NOW THE DAY IS OVER

By OLGA A. ROSMANITH

Sunset was the time Jenny used to come home from work. Mrs. Frobisher couldn't stand another lonely twilight, nor another movie alone. She'd seen all the neighborhood programs anyway, so she jammed on her hat, snatched her coat and went walking in the park.

School was out and most of the offices. The benches were thick with couples, laughing and whispering. The paths were thronged with girls and boy friends, and with serious lovers.

Tears swam in Mrs. Frobisher's eyes. Tears of self-pity.

Her son had died in Korea. Her daughter had just got married and gone to live with the occupation army in Japan. She was only 55 and already her life was over.

The way the young men in uniform were talking to those silly girls clutched her heart. Perfect strangers came into your life and took away everything you lived for, everything you'd worked for and denied yourself for the best part of your life—and left you stranded. The worst of it was they thought it was normal. You were an unnatural parent if you even hinted to your girl that it might be a good idea to study the young man and his background before she fell victim to her emotions.

"But you got married at 17," was all Jenny ever said. "And I'm 20. Want me to be an old maid or something?"

"I want you to be careful, that's what—"

Mrs. Frobisher remembered now what Jenny had said to that and her feeling nearly suffocated her.

"Look, Mom, I know you've been wonderful. I'll never forget. But don't forget being good to your kids is satisfaction to your own ego."

The things they taught these modern girls in school!

"Jenny! Wait till your own child tells you that!"

Jenny had laughed. "I'll probably tell her. I'd rather have her friendship than her gratitude."

After that they'd both burst out crying and assured each other there was something beyond psychology; they really did love and appreciate each other.

Mrs. Frobisher dried her tears now and noted a small crowd standing at the edge of the duck pond. For want of direction she crossed the path and went to investigate.

An elderly woman was sitting at an easel painting the blue twilight around the trees and the stain of the aftermath back of some pearly looking skyscrapers. It didn't look grim like the city around the park, but it was making a curiously effective picture.

Mrs. Frobisher was entranced. It was years since she had been so stirred by a painting. A charming elderly man was deep in conversation with the artist so she could get near and watch the brush at work without being noticed.

She was the only onlooker left when the artist decided it was too dark to work and began to pack and shut her paintbox.

"Are you a painter?" she asked, looking with interest at Mrs. Frobisher.

"Why, no—I—er—well, that is the nearest I ever got to art is making ceramics."

They fell naturally to walking out of the park together.

"That's as near as you could get, I'd say. I make them, too. I don't paint much. I was out painting today because I was a little lonesome."

"Does painting help it?"

"Sure. In the park, that is. The nicest people come and talk to me. I've made some wonderful friends that way. Here's you, for instance."

Mrs. Frobisher felt the touch of happiness as if the wing of a bird in flight had touched her cheek. A bluebird.

"That's very nice of you to say that. After all, you can't tell——"

The artist was frank and hearty. "I can see when I like someone. Have you got time to take a bite with me in my studio?"

Mrs. Frobisher had all eternity to follow that bluebird but she didn't know it yet. She kept the eagerness in her heart out of her voice. "Why, yes, I think so. Thank you. I'd like that."

The artist lived in an apartment very like her own, with this difference. The living room was no model of interior decoration but a workshop with a long bare table covered with ceramics in various stages of development, oilcloth on the floor beside it and elsewhere the comfortable livan and chairs, books and flowers of a drawing room.

The artist moved a chair forward for her to sit down. "My name's Anne Seaton. Forgive the mess. But I don't entertain any more. I only just got free to live my own life and I'm making the most of it."

"My name's Nora Frobisher. You mean you got a divorce, maybe?"

Anne Seaton laughed. "Nothing like that. He died years ago. But it's only a month since the last of my girls got married."

She set up a card table and casually whisked a checked cloth on it. Then waved an arm at the work table. "I wrecked the living room that same night. Was I happy? I can work all hours and forget the clock—never have to put anything away—get up in the night and play if I like. That's living at last—and my kids are happy, too!" She took a breath. "Hope spaghetti and chianti fills the bill? I take things easy now in the kitchen—"

Mrs. Frobisher said yes, spaghetti was practically her favorite meal, particularly with chianti.

"Good. I've got French bread and tossed salad and some wonderful meat balls. Now you tell me about yourself."

"There's nothing much to tell. My girl Jenny got married a few weeks ago and she left for Japan this morning. That's why I was walking in the park——"

She couldn't go in. For her grief and her blueness would seem ridiculous to this breezy character who preferred inanimate pottery to the affection of living children.

Anne Seaton talked from the kitchen. "I know just how you feel. Leaves a hole, doesn't it? But so good to know they're happy, fulfilled, getting life at first hand like we did."

Mrs. Frobisher was silent, not because she had nothing to say, but because she had said too much.

Mrs. Seaton laid the table while the spaghetti heated, filling the workshop living room with a decidedly comforting smell. Mrs. Frobisher's spirits began to rise high enough to peep over the blank wall she had been building around them. A very fair world was outside of it with so much to do life would hardly be long enough to explore all the avenues.

The salad was served in a dramatic blue and yellow bowl which was signed Anne Seaton. Mrs. Frobisher said wistfully she wished she could make something for herself like that.

"Then you'd better join my class. You might get good enough to help me with the teaching. I've a class for youngsters with talent—that's my sly way of getting youth in the place to share its life with me."

Mrs. Frobisher joined the class right then. After dinner she washed the dishes while Mrs. Seaton mixed up some clay, then she sat at the work table and took her first lessqn in how to get lost in the divine madness of making your own art treasures such as pottery.

It was long after midnight when the neighbors knocked and said couldn't they turn down the radio, other folks needed sleep, of they didn't they should live and let live. Mrs. Frobisher heard Anne Seaton calm the man at the door, tell him she hadn't noticed the time, go back to sleep and she'd make like a mouse and if he'd forgive her this time she'd make him a personal ash tray with his initials on it. She returned from the fray with another new pupil.

Mrs. Frobisher reluctantly wrapped her project in a damp dish towel and went home.

Under her door was a slip of paper to tell her a special delivery letter waited for her in the letter box. It was from Jenny, mailed from San Francisco. It was satisfyingly full of filial affection. But as Mrs. Frobisher read on she became less and less satisfied. It was really a little too thick. It was by the end she had become too peeved to go to bed without dealing with it.

She picked up the phone, called Western Union and dictated a night letter to Jenny's A.P.O. address in Japan.

"Jenny, darling, I appreciate your concern for my future. However I'm a grown woman and I don't need my children to tell me how to keep myself well and happy. Take care of your husband and yourself. Send me news from time to time and rest assured I shall get a lot of pleasure from the freedom and time to live my own life. Who wants a neurotic old maid on their hands? Not this very loving and happy mother."

She hung up, feeling soothed and relaxed. Got into bed without remembering to say goodnight to Jenny's photograph and fell immediately asleep.

The over-all Canadian commander in Korea, Brig. M. P. Bogert, declined comment.

London, May 28—(Reuters)—British newspapers today deplore United States handling of the Koje island prison camp and urge a greater British say in its direction.

Commenting on the fact that British and Canadian troops have been brought in as guards, the independent Daily Mirror says: "Now that British brawn is called in, would it not be a good idea to use British brains and experience as well?"

The Liberal Manchester Guardian says the United Nations' prestige had been badly shaken by the events at Koje, especially after they had taken "quite rightly" their stand against forced repatriation.

The Guardian also says that there is no enthusiasm over British troops being brought in, but that since they "are to do the guarding they should also have a hand in directing the camps."

The Conservative Daily Mail says the communists, "clever and ruthless propagandists," have "set a number of traps on Koje and the Americans have fallen into them all, to the detriment of the common cause."

John Arlington Flanders, 69-year-old real estate and insurance broker, died in a Winnipeg hospital on Saturday after he fell down a flight of stairs Friday at his home.

Mr. Flanders was the oldest son of Dr. C. R. Flanders and Mrs. Flanders, of Stanstead. Dr. Flanders was for many years the principal of the Stanstead Wesleyan College.

The deceased moved to Winnipeg 45 years ago.

A former chairman of the Winnipeg Parks Board and president of the Manitoba Horticultural Society, he was a director of the Monarch Life Assurance Company and mortgage supervisor for the Sun Life Insurance Company.

Car Possession While Drunk Is Serious Offence

Twenty-three persons were fined in Recorder's Court this morning for violations of municipal law.

Of these, 15 paid $2 each for illegal parking, five were fined $18.70 each for exceeding the speed limit and three others appeared for being drunk and disorderly.

One of the three received a suspended sentence, one was fined $5 and costs and the third was taken under Article 285, paragraph 4a of the Criminal Code of Canada. This means: He was fined $75 and costs and lost his driver's license for three months because he was "in possession" of his automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Recorder Redmond Hayes, Q.C., was on the bench.

Food Sale For Library Tomorrow

The Ladies' Committee of the Sherbrooke Public Library are holding a food sale at H. C. Wilson's store on Wellington street tomorrow at 2 p.m.

The proceeds of the sale will go into the general fund for the purchase of new books for the Library. The recent publication in the Record of a list of new books purchased by the Library, speaks well for the work of the Ladies' Committee which, although small, has done so much to increase the contribution of the Library to this community.

flames.

Fire chief Gray Burnett last night said fireman Thompson had been in minor trouble before, but added:

"Other than that we have always found him to be conscientious in his duty. He has never failed to face danger when the occasion demanded."

Police questioned Thompson shortly after Monday's fires, but released him. Then they questioned customers in the beverage rooms of both hotels, who told of a man in a grey suit who was present shortly before each fire. Thompson was taken to the police station again, placed in a line-up before witnesses, and then charged with arson.

Firemen said the Victoria Hotel fire was started when someone punched a hole in the wall of a washroom, filled the hole with paper and set it afire. Flames were extinguished by a bartender.

The manager of the 18-room La Salle Hotel said he believed the fire there started in the unoccupied third floor of an annex. It spread rapidly to the main section, forcing out employees and customers in the beverage rooms who were the only persons in the hotel.

London, May 28—(AP)—The Iraq Petroleum Company said yesterday its April crude-oil production was 1,013,404 long tons, highest in its 25-year history.

Red Forces

"At the same time the enemy's strength in armor and artillery has steadily mounted, and they are believed to have some 500 tanks and self-propelled guns," Alexander said.

"There have been large increases in the numbers of anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns, heavy mortars and field artillery, and rocket launchers have also made their appearance."

Alexander said that despite the air superiority of the United Nations over the battle area the communists have been able to build up large stocks of supplies in the last 10 months.

"There has been a marked increase in the size of the enemy air forces which have about 1,800 aircraft compared with some 1,000 aircraft last July," said Alexander. "About 1,000 of these are jet fighters, most MIG 15s."

As for the possibility of a sudden communist attack, Alexander said:

"There is no evidence at present of an imminent enemy attack, but with their reinforcements the communists now are in a position to launch a major offensive with little warning and could maintain the initial pressure of the attacks for some time.

"The United Nations forces have not been idle during the last 10 months. The result of operations has been that the United Nations has air superiority over the immediate battle area."

Hong Kong, May 28—(AP)—The communist party purge now sweeping China has claimed a noted communist guerrilla leader and the head of the Kwangtung province famine relief committee. The Canton communist newspaper Nan Fang reported that Li Pa-Tsai, who led the Red underground in the north river area before the communists came to power in south China, was fired as deputy magistrate of Yingtak county. The second victim was Chang Chun-Chi, a communist since 1936, and head of famine relief in Kwangtung.

London, May 28 — (AP) — Aircraft-maker Sir Frederick Handley Page said today it would be catastrophic for Britain to build only fighter planes, leaving the United States to produce troop transports and long-range bombers. "We can not allow an ally, no matter how closely linked we may be, to provide the force which in wartime is vital to our existence," Handley Page said in his company's annual report.

The Doctor Says

SPASTIC INTESTINAL DISORDER IS WORSENED BY WORRY, FATIGUE

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Astonishingly large numbers of people suffer from vague discomfort and pains in the abdomen. When this is accompanied by alternating periods of diarrhea and constipation, the condition is likely to be what is known as spastic colon, or irritable bowel.

Apparently this disorder is more common in modern civilization than it used to be and is tied up closely with the tense pace and nervous strain of city living. Whether it is purely of nervous origin or not no one knows for certain. It does not lead to serious disease and is always made worse by emotional upsets or dietary indiscretion.

The pain and discomfort may be felt all over the abdomen or just in some sections, most commonly in the lower portion. All too often the symptoms go on for years with periods of partial recovery and then a worsening. Attacks may persist for anywhere from a few minutes to several months.

When pain is present, it is griping and crampy in nature. People often complain of bloating and of gurgling sounds. The discomfort may be so bad that it disturbs the sleep. Many victims blame this condition on constipation and are likely to take a cathartic. This tends to make the symptoms worse .

Worry, emotional upset, or anxiety frequently come just before an attack. Exposure to cold, fatique, tobacco, laxatives and certain kinds of food also bring on the symptoms.

An irritable colon does not mean that disease is present. There is, rather, a disturbance in the action of the intestines and medical treatment rather than surgery is what is necessary.

Physicians try to get to the bottom of the mental worry or tension which is making the condition worse. Also, it is advisable to find out whether someone with spastic colon has anything wrong with his or her glands of internal secretion.

Medicines Helpful

Several medicines may be helpful. The diet is also extremely important — vegetables and many fruits usually increase the irritation. Cooked cereals, milk, or milk products, eggs and fish, custards and similar foods usually should make up the bulk of the diet.

Spastic colon does not have any influence on the duration of life in spite of the distress which it causes. It does not lead to cancer. Unfortunately many people who are afflicted with it also have a tendency to worry about their health too much and this makes it all the more difficult to relieve the symptoms.

In a condensation from his unforgettably vivid book, June Reader's Digest tells the coldly calculated techniques Reds use to seize power (even installing Communists in churches to preach Red doctrines from the pulpit!) and the shocking evidence that they may well use the same tactics against us.

A Game of Twelve Letters

BY JULIA W. WOLFE

A YOUNG boy made up a game and calls it "The game of twelve letters." He thinks his father, who is Spanish, told him that they play this game in Spain, but, anyway, it will provide plenty of amusement and requires a bit of skill.

The board may be made at home by reproducing the drawing given here. Make it on a piece of white cardboard about eight inches wide and ten inches long. It contains thirty pieces, connected by vertical and horizontal lines. The spaces in the middle row are also connected with the spaces in the adjoining rows on each side by diagonal lines, as you see.

The rows should be an inch and a half or an inch and three-fourths apart, and the distance between the spaces in each row an inch or an inch and one quarter. In addition to the board, two sets of pieces marked with the twenty-six letters of the alphabet are required, although only twelve are used at a time by each player. These may be made of small disks of wood or heavy cardboard, one set black, the other white, each piece being marked with a single letter.

The players agree on the selection of twelve letters, such as will form several words of six letters. The two sets are identical. Each player arranges his pieces in alphabetical order upon the two rows nearest him, as indicated in the drawing. Suppose that the letters A C D E H I M O R S T U have been selected. From these letters may be formed such words as radium, mouser, drouth, Crimea, suitor, creams, and so on.

EACH player then selects a word of six letters which his opponent must try to spell upon the second row from him. Thus "A" may select the word "radium," and "B" the word "drouth," for the other to form.

The players decide who shall play first. After that they move alternately. One move is allowed at a time, but no "jumping" is permitted. The pieces may be moved only in the direction indicated by the lines—forward, backward, to the right or left, and between the second row on each side and the middle row, obliquely. Neither player may move his pieces into his opponent's field; in other words, beyond the middle or neutral row. The middle row, however, may be utilized to the fullest extent possible to facilitate arrangement of one's pieces on the second row.

The player who first forms the word selected by his opponent wins the game. Usually each tries to choose a word composed of the letters that are farthest away from the positions they must finally occupy. But the game may be varied by agreement upon a single word. The players must have skill to do this. The same set of letters may be used for more than one game, or new sets may be chosen as often as agreed upon.

Unique Fabric Perfect For Bedwear

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

New York — (NEA) — Fabric is working fashion miracles every day, making important changes in both our buying habits and our wardrobe outlook.

Recently, designers started doing sleepwear that doubles beautifully for public appearances, and once again, the trick lies in the fabric.

This time, it's acetate tricot that's opaque for wear in public and yet both smooth and soft for comfortable sleeping.

High-fashion loungewear (left) is designed by Henson for double use in overnight travel. Pajamas have a tied-in bloomer effect at the knee and are in solid dark color. They're paired with a robe in printed acetate-rayon tricot. The robe has still other wardrobe uses since it can double for either a brunch coat or as a beachcoat.

For hot-weather sleeping, many women are addicted to the neatness and comfort of the shortie pajama. These (right) in acetate tricot are ideal for this purpose and equally good for getting a suntan during the day. Further, the fabric is quick-drying and needs no ironing.

The Waterloo Kiwanis Club met on Tuesday evening as usual in the Waterloo Hotel, and after an absence of almost two months, President Moe Katz was back in the chair for the meeting. The guest speaker was Mr. Jack C. Whitelaw, secretary of the Quebec Branch of the Canadian Manufacturer's Association, and he was introduced by Mr. J. W. Elliott, chairman of the Granby District of the C.M.A. In his address, Mr. Whitelaw stated that in all Canadian industry today, there is eighty-two per cent of the money invested that is Canadian with the balance foreign, mostly American. This provides without any question of doubt the stability of Canadian business and markets, the speaker continued. Only twelve per cent of the industry in Canada employs over one hundred people, again showing the many different types of businesses that are prevalent, and showing as well that there are but few large concerns dominating business trends in this country. "The general purpose of the C.M.A.," Mr. Whitelaw concluded, "is to benefit not only the manufacturer, but the employees as well in every way, to provide financial and technical experts, and any other means possible. Eighty-eight per cent of manufacturers in Canada are members of the association." Kiwanian Mike Cardinal thanked the speaker.

Rand Edges Bomil In Only Game Played In Industrial Softball League; 3 Tilts Slated Tomorrow

Only one game was played in the Sherbrooke Industrial Softball League last night, Rand defeating Bomil 12-8 at the Parade Grounds.

Rand got off to an early start, getting 2 runs in their half of the first inning; they collected four hits in this stanza. Bomil got one of these runs back in the second inning. Baird in his first time up hitting a triple and scoring on Therrien's single to right.

Cote, the Rand centrefielder, started things off again for Rand when he lashed out a four bagger. Drew, his teammate, followed his example and also connected for a circuit clout. Rand scored 3 runs in this inning and took a 5 to 1 lead.

Bomil came right back into the game in a slugging fourth inning when they got 5 runs to tie up the game. Turgeon and Bertrand got home runs in the inning. Rand jumped into a two run lead again in the fifth when Guerette slammed out a homer with one aboard. In their half of the seventh Rand put the issue beyond doubt when they got 5 runs, Morin getting a grand slam homer.

Bomil got three runs in the last three innings, and the game ended with Rand on the long end of a 12-8 score.

Both teams played well, but bad base running and faulty coaching cost each team runs.

Reds Lose Top Hitters But Still Win Games

Pittsburgh, May 28.—(CP)—If a few more of their .300 hitters get hurt, Cincinnati Reds may win the National League pennant.

First their regular first baseman, Ted Kluszewski, hurt his ankle. Ted and his .323 average stayed on the bench.

The Reds' reserve first baseman is outfielder Joe Adcock, the league's top slugger. But Joe already was out of action with a knee injury, so Manager Luke Sewell tried reserve outfielder Bob Borkowski.

Then outfielder Hank Edwards dislocated his shoulder in the 8th inning of last night's game against the Pirates here. Back into the outfield went Borkowski, Sewell's new first baseman was Eddie Pellagrini, a shortstop by trade, whose batting average is about the same size as his hat.

Pellagrini broke up the game with a 14th-inning homer as the Reds won 5-4.

Sewell says his fourth-place Reds have two more men—a catcher and a third baseman—who can play if anyone else gets hurt.

Sedgman, McGregor Win In French Event

Paris, May 28.—(AP)—Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, Australian powerful Davis Cup stars, flattened their opposition yesterday to reach the semi-finals of the French tennis championships as two American women stars gained the round of four in their division.

Sedgman, the holder of the U.S. singles title, was at the top of his game in routing Budge Patty, the 1950 French champion from Los Angeles 6-4 6-2 6-2. Patty never was able to break Sedgman's service and he couldn't do too much with his own.

McGregor crushed Felicisimo Ampon of the Philippines 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

The other four quarter-finalists will clash today. They include Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Jaroslav Drobny of Egypt and Eric Sturgess of South Africa.

In the women's play, both of the American winners, Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., and Dorothy Head of Alameda, Calif., ran into stiff opposition.

Miss Hart, the current Wimbledon queen, defeated Julia Wipplinger, a South Arfican newcomer, 8-6, 6-4.

Miss Head, ranked seventh in the U.S., had to fight all the way to oust Mrs. Joy Mottram, English Wightman Cupper 6-3 4-6 7-5.

Royals Pound Out 10-5 Win Over Springfield

Who's going to catch Montreal Royals in the International League pennant race?

When they don't win on pitching, they do it on power, and they've got a three-game lead over Rochester in their quest for a second straight pennant.

Pitcher Jim Romano couldn't hold a 4-1 lead against Springfield last night, so Jim Pendleton hit an inside-the-park homer, Walt Moryn hit one out of the park and the Royals won again, 10-5. Relief pitcher Art Fabbro won his fourth against one loss.

Rochester, meanwhile, broke a second-place deadlock with Syracuse by turning back Buffalo Bisons, 7-4 while Syracuse was absorbing an 8-1 defeat from Toronto. Two veteran International League pitchers were the winners, Ellis (Cot) Deal for the Wings, and John Hetki for the Leafs.

Deal, an outfielder before he was converted to pitching, singled with the bases loaded to break a 4-4 tie and ensure his fourth win, against three losses. Hetki also did some hitting, getting three for five, and he scattered eight hits for his third straight victory. He has yet to lose.

Toronto and Syracuse now are tied for third, a game behind Rochester.

Ottawa belted out 19 hits to wallop Baltimore, 12-3, and break their last-place tie with the Orioles. Stan Jok led the assault with two homers and a single, while John Littrell had one four-bagger and three singles.

PETERSON FARMED TO BALTIMORE

U.S. BADMINTON TEAM WINS OVER INDIA

Singapore, May 28. —(AP)— The United States badminton team swept to a 3-1 lead over India last night in opening day's play of the Thomas Cup's interzone finals. The U. S. now needs to win only two of the remaining five matches Wednesday night to earn the right to meet Malaya in the challenge round for the Cup, symbol of world badminton supremacy.

Veteran Righthander Chalks Up His Ninth Straight Win; Reynolds Hurls Two-Hitter; Tigers Edge Indians

If Brooklyn is in a lather today blame it on New York's most distinguished barber, Salvatore Maglie.

Sal treated the Dodgers to one of his copy-righted clippings last inght as he pitched the Giants to a 3-0 triumph.

The sinister looking righthander who delights in shaving the corners of the plate with his razor-sharp curve ball, strapped the Brooks with four meagre hits and cut down six of them via strikeouts. Sal's earned run percentage is now 1.14.

It was a big victory for the Giants as well as for the 35-year-old Maglie. It was their sixth straight, their second in a row over their arch interborough rivals and it increased their National League lead over the Brooks to a game and a half.

It was the ninth straight win for Maglie who has yet to taste defeat this season. It also was his second straight shutout over the Dodgers. He limited them to two hits the other time he faced them. Sal, who has won 12 in a row since last September 13, now has a sensational 50-10 won and lost record since returning from Mexico two years ago.

The Giants got only six hits off loser Ben Wade and John Rutherford but they included homers by Willie Mays and Don Mueller. The latter singled and eventually brought in the third run in the ninth inning. Mays, who plays his last 1952 game for the Giants today before his induction Thursday, also doubled twice.

Maglie's was not the only outstanding pitching performance yesterday. Allie Reynolds yielded only two safeties as he hurled New York Yankees to a 7-2 victory over Washington Senators. Both came in the fourth inning and accounted for the Nats' tallies.

Yogi Berra, Reynolds' batterymate in two no-hitters last year, gave a real helping hand with a pair of homers and a double. Irv Noren, principal figure in the May 3 trade with Washington, chipped in with a two-run homer. Jackie Jensen, who went to the Nats in the deal, doubled in one Washington run.

Conrado Marrero, the little Cuban righthander, failed in his quest for his fifth triumph. He lasted only six innings and went down to his first defeat.

Washington remained in a tie for second with Boston, still 2½ games off the American League pace when both Cleveland and the Red Sox were beaten. Vic Wertz' three-run homer climaxed a six-run sixth-inning outburst by Detroit to give the Tigers a 5-4 decision over the Indians.

Gus Zernial's two-run homer in the fifth and Eddie Joost's two-run double in the ninth gave rookie Harry Byrd his first win and Philadelphia Athletics a 7-3 triumph over the Red Sox.

Saul Rogovin pitched the Chicago White Sox to a six-hit 3-0 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

Enos Slaughter rapped four hits including a home run and Stan Musial also came through with a four-bagger to lead St. Louis Cardinals to an 8-5 win over the Chicago Cubs.

Eddie Pellagrini banged a 14th-inning home run to give Cincinnati Reds a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh.

Boston's Braves and Philadelphia's Phils split a twi-night doubleheader. Three singles and an infield out gave the Braves two runs in the 12th and a 4-2 opening game win. A triple by Del Ennis and Willie Jones' fly gave the Phils a 5-4 second game triumph in the 10th.

Pirates' Farmhand, Necciai, Who Struck Out 27 In One Game, Has One Fault; He Wants To Fan Everyone

Pittsburgh, May 28.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates put their minor league strikeout king through the paces on the home diamond and got word yesterday from catcher Joe Garagiola that there's just one thing wrong with him.

"He wants to strike out everybody."

Ronnie Necciai showed up at Forbes Field to display a fine performance during an hour on the mound.

The 19-year-old righthander who lately whiffed 27 batters in a no-hitter with Bristol in the class D Appalachian League was a first baseman in high school. The Pirates signed him as such but an old Cleveland player, George Detroe, made a pitcher of him at Salisbury in the North Carolina State League.

Ron's record this year with Bristol: 43⅔ innings pitched, 109 strikeouts, 10 hits, four runs, 14 walks. He won four straight.

On Forbes Field Ron is all business but in the clubhouse he made no bones about how he felt:

"All I want is a few good nights' sleep. I haven't had much rest since the word got around that I was pitching to guys with holes in their bats.

"What am I already, a freak or something that they have to advertise me? All I want is a little sleep. I mean a lot of sleep."

Garagiola thinks the kid is anything but.

"He's got a lot of stuff," said Joe. "He's big and lean, six feet, five and 180 pounds, the whippy Ewell Blackwell type, and he can throw as hard as anybody in this league.

"Right now, I would say that there me be one thing he lacks and that is pacing. He wants to strike out everybody.

"He gets burned up if anybody gets a hit off him and can't wait to get the ball back from the catcher to bang it back to strike out the next batter."

Tillsonburg Places Six On Olympic Cage Squad As Lineup Is Announced

Montreal, May 28.—(CP)—An 11-man squad, six of them from the Canadian Champion Tillsonburg Livingstons, was announced yesterday as Canada's basketball representatives at the Olympic Games.

Two were named from the University of Western Ontario and one each from Edmonton, Toronto Tri-Bels and Winnipeg Varsity Grads.

Those announced by Don Paul, president of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, are:

Tillsonburg—Bill Coulthard, Bob Phipps, Woody Campbell, Bob Simpson and Carl Ridd, Harry Wade.

University of Western Ontario—Glen Pettinger, Bill Pataky.

Edmonton Waterloo Meteors—Bob Pickel.

Toornto Tri-Bels—George Wearing.

Winnipeg Varsity Grads—Roy Williams.

Ebbie Bowering of Vancouver was named manager.

Paul Thomas of the Tillsonburg club is coach. Although Thomas was playing coach this season, he will go to the Olympics only as coach.

Alternates for the team: Jim Curran and Chuck Dalton of Tillsonburg and Ben Lands of Montreal Y.M.H.A.

Ridd was named as a Tillsonburg player although he was a member of Winnipeg Grads. He was awarded to the Tillsonburg club as a replacement for Tom Gibbons, ineligible for the Olympic team because he is a United States citizen.

The replacement was granted by Paul with the understanding that in naming players from the Tillsonburg club Ridd would be considered part of the Tillsonburg personnel.

Livingstons won the Canadian basketball championship last Friday, defeating Western Mustangs from London, Ont., 87-75 to take the best-of-five series 3-1.

Livingstons took the first two games 79-65 and 75-69 and Western took the third 83-82.

Except for Benny Lands of Montreal Y.M.H.A., an alternate, the 1952 Olympic team has no others who played in the 1948 Games.

In that year the team was made up of University of British Columbie and Montreal Y.M.H.A. players with the addition of one man from Vancouver Clover Leafs. The team finished ninth in the competition at London.

American Favorites Advance In British Amateur Golf Championship

Prestwick, Scotland, May 28. — (AP) — America's favored triumvirate—Dick Chapman, Billy Maxwell and Frank Stranahan—surged ahead yesterday in their bids for the British Amateur Golf Championship, but Stranahan almost didn't make it.

The young Toledo, O., millionaire, winner of the historic event in 1948 and 1950, teetered on the brink of disaster before he rallied his game for an extra-hole victory over Joe Gent, 53-year-old Briton and probably the most surprised subject in the United Kingdom.

Stranahan, two down with two holes to play, finally prevailed on the 21st hole after Gent topped a brassie second shot and spent five blows without reaching the hole.

The huge gallery, which braved blustery winds and rain in anticipation of a major upset, couldn't conceal its disappointment when the middle-aged Englishman crossed the green and conceded the match to a potential par four.

Gent shook Stanahan's hand and slapped the American's back. Then the crowd rushed out on Prestwick's rolling, treeless course to follow the fortunes of the other two ranking American favorites, Chapman and Maxwell.

Chapman, 41-year-old socialite from Pinehurst, N. C., who is defending titleholder, ran into a tiger in W. C. Gibson, former Scottish champion, but applied pressure where needed to prevail, 2 and 1.

Maxwell, North Texas State collegian from Odessa, Tex., and U. S. amateur king, had less trouble in conquering Scotland's E. W. Fiddian, 3 and 2. It was the second straight victories for both Chapman and Maxwell, who moved into the fourth round—one round ahead of Stranahan.

QSHL May Turn Pro, Says Vancouver Paper

Vancouver, May 28 —(CP)—The News-Herald said yesterday in a sports page story the Quebec Senior Hockey League may soon turn professional and hold an annual post-season playoff against the Western Hockey League.

The story adds that a decision will be made the first week in June when Q.S.H.L. directors meet with Al Leader, Western League president, and directors of the eight Western clubs.

"It would give both leagues a natural lift," said Coley Hall, owner of Vancouver Canucks. "We would have something to shoot for at the end of each season and eventually the scheme could be built up to rival Stanley Cup and Allan Cup interest."

Hall said the professional Western League will adopt a plan to subsidize its weaker members in poor years. He added that "something will have to be done about" the Tacoma franchise. Tacoma had a strong contender last season but drew only 60,000 fans.

Kid Gavilan Tackles Fitzie Pruden Tonight

Indianapolis, May 28.—(AP)—Kid Gavilan of Cuba leaves his world welterweight title at home but puts his reputation on the line tonight in a ten-round bout with Fritzie Pruden of St. Catharines, Ont.

Gavilan is the favorite. He had to finish fast to outpoint Pruden in a ten-rounder at Milwaukee a year ago, but Pruden has lost his last three bouts—two to Arthur King of Toronto and one to Chico Vejar.

The fight will be Gavilan's last before his title defence July 7 against unbeaten Gil Turner of Philadelphia in the Philadelphia Municipal Stadium.

The bout has caused a change in Indiana's foul rule. Until now a referee has been permitted to award a decision to a fighter who is fouled, but the rule has been changed to require the loss of the round only. This is the rule in most states.

The fight will be telecast and broadcast by CBS at 10 p.m. EDT.

Indians Ship Former Cub To Indianapolis

Cleveland, May 28.—(AP)—Cleveland Indians yesterday sent catcher Quincy Troupe to Indianapolis Indians to help train the farm club's young pitchers.

The 29-year-old catcher will be on 24-hour recall.

A Tribe spokesman said the American Association club has some "very promising young pitchers" and Troupe's job will be to help them develop their talents.

This was Troupe's first season in the major leagues. He appeared in six games, getting one hit in 10 appearances for an average of .100.

For the last 10 to 12 years he played baseball in South American and Canada and for Negro teams in the United States.

33 Drivers To Compete In Speedway Classic

Indianapolis, May 28.—(AP)—The question today was whether the fastest qualifying field in Indianapolis Motor Speedway history can keep up the terrific pace in the Memorial Day 500-mile race Friday.

Mechanics took over and checked the 33 cars that qualified before the trials ended Monday.

Railbirds surmised the race pace would be slower than the average of 135.504 miles an hour made by the field in the 10-mile qualifying runs.

The mark they are shooting at this year is Lee Wallard's record set in the 1951 race. The Altamont, N. Y., driver average 126.244 in winning. He will not be back this year as he is still incapacitated by burns suffered in a crackup at Reading, Pa., four days after he won the 500. Neither will his car for it was wrecked last Saturday.

Drummondville Sweeps Doubleheader From Granby; St. Hyacinthe Athletics And Three Rivers Yanks Take Others

The powerful Drummondville Cubs took both ends of a Provincial League doubleheader from the hapless Granby Phillies Tuesday night, trouncing them 5-1 in the opener and 6-0 in the nightcap.

In other League games, St. Hyacinthe Athletics got to four St. Johns pitchers for 15 hits to swamp the Canadiens 10-4, and Three Rivers Yankees took advantage of two Quebec errors in the second inning to down the Braves 5-3.

At Granby, winning pitcher in the abbreviated opener was Mel Odxtator, who held the Phillies to three safeties. Big inning for the Cubs was the third when three men made home. In the nightcap, Dan Cozzi also held the Phillies to three hits. His teammates collected eight. Four Cubs crossed the plate in the fifth and two scored singles in the next two innings to sew it up.

Bob Fiocchi was tabbed with the loss in the first game and Len Wisneski in the second.

At St. Johns, winning pitcher Bill Shannon allowed but eight safeties and went the route.

The Athletics had two big innings, the first when three runners crossed the plate, and the seventh, when four men got home.

St. Johns sent two men home in the first frame and scored singles in the third and ninth.

At Quebec, Braves' two errors allowed the Yankees to score three men. They picked up a pair of runs in the third.

Winning pitcher Don Wingo was replaced by Humberto Robinson in the final frame after the Braves rapped out three hits. They scored a single run after Robinson came in. The Braves' two other runs came in the third.

Four French Horses Listed As Favorites In English Derby; Canada's Entry Pleased With Track

Epsom, Surrey, England, May 28 —(CP)—Four French horses led the list of betting favorites today for the 173rd renewal of the Derby.

But the only Canadian entry, publisher G. M. Bell's Indian Hemp, perked up at the prospect of its favorite track conditions — hard and dry.

The emerald turf was as concrete-like as racing experts could remember it yesterday, and the outlook for today was for only light rains. The 1½-mile track has had two full dry weeks.

"We asked for a dry spell and we got it," said Bell, Calgary publisher who is showing Canadian colors for the first time in the history of Britain's flat-racing classic. "Now all the horse has to do is win."

The field of 34 three-year-old colts is scheduled to go post-ward at 9:30 a.m. EDT in pursuit of a record purse of £20,587. All will carry 126 pounds.

Silnet, owned by Paul Duboscq, remained the top favorite at 15 to 2, heading the bookmakers' list just as he has all along Marcel Boussac's argur at 8 to 1, Eugene Constant's Thunderhead II at 9 to 1 and Ralph Strassburger's Worden II at 110 to 8 were rated next.

Worden II would be the first United States-owned horse to win the classic since H. Duryea's French-bred Durbar II triumphed in 914. Worden II is French-bred.

Top favorite among British horses was Tylyar, owned by the Aga Khan and managed by his son Aly Khan.

The race normally draws a crowd of 500,000.

A sentimental favorite was Monarch More, a 28 to 1 shot ridden by Britain's champion jockey, Gordon Richards, who has ridden more than 4,300 winners but never on in this big race.

Barons' Directors To Decide NHL Conditions

Cleveland, May 28.—(AP)—Stockholders of the Cleveland Barons debated through last night and until early today on whether to join the National Hockey League.

They resume their discussion later today. So far it is uncertain whether there will be any final decision at this time.

The stockholders of the American Hockey League club are considering the conditions they must meet to get a National League franchise. The National League has asked that Cleveland post $300,000 for hockey use only, in addition to $50,000 for a franchise and $57,000 for the league's emergency fund.

Branch Rickey Wrong Regarding Billy Loes

Brooklyn, May 28.—(AP)—When Branch Rickey signed schoolboy Billy Loes for a $21,000 bonus, he almost apologized to the Brooklyn press.

"The boy is not a $21,000 pitcher," he said. "Probably $10,000 but not $21,000. But he is a Long Island boy and I can't afford to let somebody else grab him under my nose."

All of which proves that Rickey, too, can be wrong. Sailing along with a 5-0 record, 22-year-old Billy looks more like a $100,000 pitcher. He's flying high with an earned run average of 0.63, two shutouts and a 1-1 tie in three starting chances.

This afternoon at Ebbets Field he gets the big test — a starting assignment against the Giants.

Loes thinks 10 pounds he picked up in the Army last year made him stronger, adding zip to his fast ball. Dodger catcher Roy Campanella said he never caught anybody as fast as Billy.

Open Remains Mental Hazard, Yet Professionals Still Choose Snead

New York. — (NEA) — Twelve of the 16 professionals in the Palm Beach Round-Robin at Wykagyl picked Samuel Jackson Snead to win the United States Open over the rolling greens acres of Dallas' Northwood Club, June 12-14.

"Snead is the sentimental choice," said Toney Penna. "It would be tragic if a fellow with that swing closed out his career without winning the Open."

Sam Snead

Lloyd Mangrum

"The law of averages should take care of Sam," remarked Porky Ed Oliver. "How can a fellow so great from tee to green come so close and miss so many times?"

Oliver was reminded that some very fine shotmakers have, Macdonald Smith and Harry Cooper to name two outstanding examples.

"They were extraordinary, of course," he said, "but I doubt that either had all of Snead's game."

"I didn't pick Snead," said Lloyd Mangrum. "I picked myself."

No fewer than 160 others feel the same way about it, including a small-sized package named Ben Hogan, shooting for the fourth straight Open in which he has played and right in his own backyard.

Sam Snead, in his 12th attempt, has all these and a frightful mental hazard to whip.

No one has had such consistent early foot in the Open and always failed.

Looked Like It Wouldn't Be Close

In his first Open, at Oakland Hills in 1937, Snead made a lot of competent critics suspect no one would come close to him for years. Then the incredible hill-billy three-putted three greens in the final 18. Still his 283 was only a stroke above Tony Manero's all-time record, established at convenient Baltusrol the previous Summer, as towering Ralph Guldahl lowered it to 281.

There was that frightful eight on the last hole at Spring Mill in 1939, set up by his pulling and smothering his tee shot after being upset by missing a chip on the short 17th.

At Cleveland's Canterbury in '40, Snead faded after leading for two rounds. On the same layout six years later, he tumbled badly after an opening 67, until then the lowest first round score on record.

At the St. Louis Country Club in '47, Snead sank a 15-foot downhill, curling putt to tie Lew Worsham. Sam moved to putt out on the 18th green of the play-off, but Worsham asked for a measurement. Worsham's ball was found to be 30½ inches away from the hole, Snead's 30. Worsham sunk his putt. Apparently burning, for some unaccountable reason, Snead muffed his and blooie went another championship.

Erases Evans' Mark And Fades

Snead's half-way total of 138 at Riviera in '48 broke Chick Evans' mark of 139, made in '16, but the thumper from Hot Springs, Va., lost his putting touch on the final day, when it first developed that there was too much Hogan.

At Medinah in '49, Snead had to par the last three holes to tie, birdie one to win. On the edge of the 17th green, in gress an inch deep, most others would have used a lofted club, but Snead chose to putt. The putt passed the cup by eight feet, and he missed coming back for a four on par three that spelled the difference.

Last June, back at Oakland Hills, where he looked like a world beater in his inaugural Open, Snead once more got off in front with a 71, but blew to 78 in the second and got precisely nowhere in the final. He was five strokes ahead of Hogan after the first round, eight behind Bantam Ben when the latter closed with a 67.

Sam Snead takes tournaments in stride until he tackles the Open.

The Open tackles—and downs—him, but this—he hopes—is another year.

Pro Football Only Pitch-And-Catch Now, Says Friedman, Urging Return To Old Ball; Line Play Missing Now

New York — Benny Friedman snorts at the way today's football professionals are using his old weapons.

"Pro football now is nothing but a game of pitch-and-catch," says the one-time Michigan quarterback and one of the first great passers.

"You see virtually no line play at all.

"I believe the most passes I ever threw was 24.

"Now you get more than that in a half.

"Unless I have a special interest in an individual, I rarely go see the pros, but I will say that I like to watch the Cleveland Browns because in their play I see a great deal of coaching intelligence.

"Paul Brown blends his pass game by running Marion Motley, who reminds me of Bronco Nagurski.

"Brown would be foolish not to utilize Otto Graham as a passer as much as possible because he has two remarkable receivers in Mac Speedie and Dante Lavelli."

Friedman has a suggestion for remedying the pass-crazy pro game.

"Bring back the ball we used in the 1920's," he suggests. "It was a great deal fatter than the modern streamlined one, much harder to grip and control. Then let's see how much they'll pass."

Benny, coaching the first football team in the history of Brandeis University, the new school at Waltham, Mass., admits he and his brethren of Fielding Yost's day may have started football on the road to this "ridiculous' business.

"We were the first to ignore the book when it came to passing," he explains.

"It used to be that you wouldn't think of passing in certain downs.

"We changed that by throwing on early downs and from back in our own territory."

The Michigan offense was predicated on three points, discloses Benny, who later played so well professionally.

"One, look over the defense. Two, play for position on the field. Use the plays that work best on the sidelines, for instance. Three, take it for granted that Barnum was right, and look for his disciples—the suckers—in the club's defense."

The record book shows that Friedman was a real All-America in 1926. You recall him for his passing, but he also was one of the fine field-goal kickers.

He beat Ohio State, 17-16, with a 35-yard placement.

Benny Friedman was very definitely a Golden Era nugget.

Home-Grown Pitching Phenom Loes Is Typical Dodger Player; Newest Star Is Bedazzling, Unpredictable

New York—(NEA)—Billy Loes, facing Stan Musial for the first time two years ago, established himself as a thinker of practically unspeakable intellectual powers by employing the soundest strategy yet conceived.

He walked him.

"I wasn't takin' any chances," says the lean laddybuck.

Against a mentality of such capacity it isn't any wonder Loes—22, six-foot-two, 17 pounds—is one of the hottest articles in the majors. He has been causing miracles like an ambidextrous magician.

He opened the campaign with four victories struck out 30 walked seven. His earned-run average the first 34 innings was less than a run.

Loes is the Flatbush Faithful's cuit.

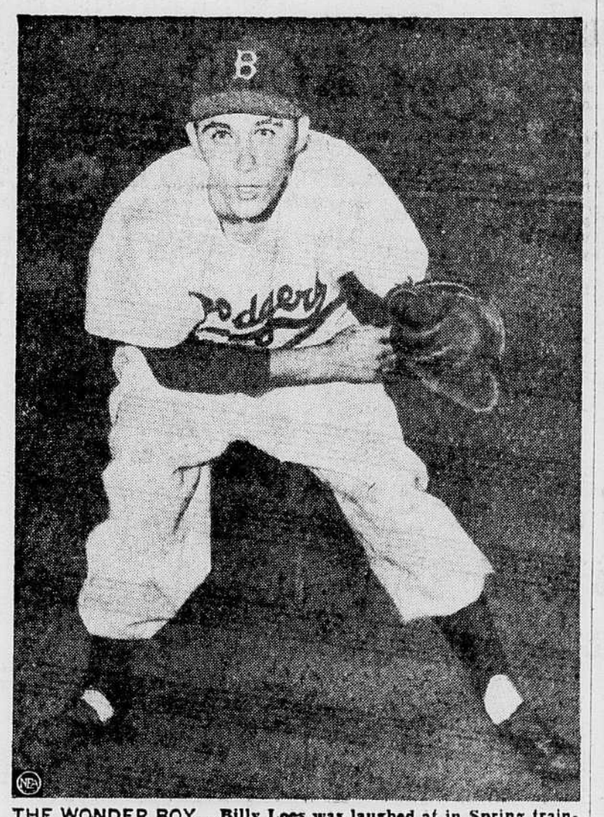
"I put on weight in the Army and it helped my speed," explains Loes. "But I don't think I'm as fast as Campanella says. I can name five or six others in the league who can throw [illegible] developed a slow curve for a change of pace, which probably makes me look faster. A good curve makes a good fast one possible."

Billy the Kid is superb under pressure doesn't lose his poise.

Late in a close game against the Pirates, he walked the first two. When the count on Joe Garagiola went to two balls, Loes appeared upset. Dressen rushed to the hill.

"That last pitch was a strike," grumbled Loes.

"Yeah, but it's gone now," Dressen said. "Forget it."



THE WONDER BOY—Billy Loes was laughed at in Spring training, but the incredible 22-year-old, six-foot two-inch Brooklyn right-hander has turned into the hottest article in the majors. (NEA) kind of ball player — bedazzling, confident, unpredictable and colorful.

Billy the Kid, who was born only a mashie shot from deep in the heart of Manhattan, is the boy who once told the Giants, when they offered him $6,000:

"I can triple that for you at the gate the first game I pitch."

Branch Rickey signed the Winder Boy for $21,000 in 1948.

Loes has given evidence of possession special equipment, continues to achieve individual proficiency and over-all polish. He considers Charley Dressen the greatest leader since Hannibal.

"He hasn't tried to tamper with my style," Billy explains. "He lets me pitch my own game."

As a recruit in 1950, Loes did not look fast, relied largely on a curve and control. What a difference two years make!

Roy Campanella says that on occasion he's the fastest in the circ-

"But it was a strike," Loes insisted. He seemed unaware he was in a jam. That last call was the thing. The raw-boned righthander pitched himself out of the hole, saved a 2-0 shutout.

Asked what account for his coolness, Blly blandly replies, "What's there to worry about?"

While Loes was off to a splendid start, he doesn't look for easy going the second trip around the wheel.

"Eventually the batters are gonna get to me," he says bluntly, "but I won't be ashamed to be shell. After all, it's been a long time since we've had any 30-game winner."

The Brooklyn steam-up, dream-up department has a hot one in Billy Loes, and it isn't wasting any time building him up into a king-size gate attraction.

The bobbysoxers are crazy about the phenom.

"That's because I ain't married" Billy Loes mutters.
