Need For Playing Fields Stressed By Andy O'Brien

By LES MORROW

Andy O'Brien, Sports Editor of the Montreal Standard gave Westmount Rotarians a straight from the shoulder address entitled, "Canada's Sports Payoff", at the Rotarian Luncheon in Victoria Hall on Wednesday. Drawing from his own experiences in the past, with Canada's fighting men abroad, Mr. O'Brien outlined for his listeners, how lessons learned on our playing fields had influenced the action and morale of our services in war.

Canada's forgotten statistic the speaker maintained was the fact that 40% of Canada's young men were found unfit for military service for medical reasons. During the war this condition drew a great deal of editorial comment and people generally were aroused and demanding that something be done about this condition, but "what are we doing about it now?" the speaker demanded. The answer, he continued is, that we are not doing a thing.

Even more than learning to give and take, sportsmen get a mental training that is hard to define. Mr. O'Brien observed, but which can be best summed up by a few examples. The United States is an unsoldierly nation, and yet when we observe the manner in which they fought during the recent war there can be no doubt that they have that inner quality which is often called the will to win.

This will to win, the speaker stated was learned on the gridirons and the baseball fields across the country. The whole attitude of the American people, while we may cry down their so-called boasting, is indicative of that will to win. The 'we'll show that guy' attitude. "It's not the game that counts," said Mr. O'Brien, "don't let anyone fool you—it's winning that counts. Get in there and fight and WIN." A nation endowed with such a spirit can win through in any national emergency, he believed.

Illustrating how the will to win can go deeper than mere military training the speaker recalled an incident from the beaches of Tarawa. When the second wave of American assault troops hit that bitterly contested beach they found

Local Group Hear Unit History

Historical notes on the Zenana Bible and Medical Mission, were given by Miss N. Lamport, secretary from London, England, at the annual meeting of the Westmount Branch of the society, held recently at the home of Mrs. A. W. Schell, 3488 Northcliffe avenue.

She pointed out that the mission, founded in 1852, is interdenominational and the oldest society in India working for the welfare of women and children of that country.

The Westmount Branch is now entering the fortieth year of service in this missionary work.

The financial report for the year 1946 showed total receipts of $646.42.

Officers elected for the year 1947 are as follows: President, Mrs. A. W. Schell; first vice-president, Mrs. W. D. Lighthall; second vice-president, Mrs. George Cross; secretary, Mrs. H. S. The Treasurer reported that the sum of $1,560.62 was raised during the year and that a credit balance of $361.66 was carried forward. From this balance the sum of $200 is to be set aside for the Chancel Guild Room, thus raising this Fund to $2,200.

It was decided that the name "Women's Guild" be changed to "Women's Association."

The Red Cross Group reported that there is still much work to be done and that workers would be welcomed. This Group meets every Tuesday in the Church Hall.

Vice-president W. F. Close made the presentation on behalf of the Club to Dr. E. H. Enright, of Julius Richardson Convalescent Home, and President D. R. W. McKean presented to E. A. Mackenzie, Honorary Treasurer, of the Children's Memorial Hospital.

GUEST SPEAKER

Miss Fanny Goldstein, Librarian of the West End Branch of the Boston Public Library, lecturer, educationist and writer who will address the Women's Auxiliary Shaar Hashomayim, next Wednesday.

Saturday Marks "Melody Hour" Final Program

February 8th marks the fifth and last "Melody Hour," popular Saturday afternoon program played by Paul de Marky to crowded houses at Tudor Hall. This program, entitled "Song for Piano," includes well known melodies by Debussy, Beethoven (Moonlight Sonata), Chopin (Etude "Song to Remember"), Berceuse, Fantaisie Impromptu ("I Am Always Chasing Rainbows) and the majestic Ballade in F minor; De Falla's Danse Rituelle du Feu, Rubinstein's Romance ("If You Were But a Dream"), Richard Strauss' famous Dance of the Seven Veils and the Warsaw Concerto, mostly requests which were brought to Mr. de Marky's attention in the course of this series. To the many requests for his own popularly acclaimed compositions and improvisations, he replied: "Perhaps on some future occasion."

Mr. de Marky established a refreshing departure from the time-worn "recital' when he introduces his entire program with a brief descriptive comment. Using no printed program, he selects numbers according to the receptive mood of the audience, creating an atmosphere of artistic continuity and delightful informality.

The "Melody Hour" concerts begin at 3 p.m.

Shaare Hashomayim W.A. Meet Wednesday

The Women's Auxiliary of Shaare Hashomayim will hold their next meeting on Wednesday afternoon, February 12th, at 2.45 p.m. in the Auxiliary Room of the Synagogue.

The Guest Speaker will be Miss Goldstein, Librarian of the West End Branch of the Boston Public Library, Lecturer, Educationist and Writer. The subject of her address will be "Jewish Books, Luxuries or Necessities."

All members and friends are cordially invited to attend. Mrs. Edward Solomon, President, will preside and tea will be served.

D. Knowles—Mrs. C. Fortier Head St. John Appeal Here

Westmount headquarters of the St. John Ambulance Appeal is situated in Victor's Hall (call EL. 2220) and is under the joint chairmanship of F. D. Knowles and Mrs. Clifford S. Fortier, President of Westmount Women's Club.

The St. John Ambulance Appeal is on a nation-wide basis and is the first national appeal by the organization. The objective of $1,000,000 provides for carefully considered expenditures for the Order of St. John in each of the nine provinces, the Federal District (10 miles radius around Ottawa) and for the National Headquarters of the Order of Canada.

The St. John Ambulance Appeal makes provisions for such expenditures for more than a year — at least a year and a half — possibly two years. Every dollar will be carefully used for necessities only, Lionel E. Brittle, National Campaign Director, revealed.

This Order exists primarily to serve humanity, to alleviate and prevent suffering. This it does through instruction in First Aid and Home Nursing, and by Blood Grouping. Since the outbreak of war in 1939 over 600,000 citizens, adults and children, have been taught First Aid. The proper teaching involves a certain amount of expense to the Order — none to the student under present policies. In 1945 over 56,000 received awards for proficiency in First Aid, Home Nursing, etc.

The current shortage of doctors and nurses, particularly in country districts, make more necessary than ever the work of the St. John Ambulance in rural areas. Highway First Aid Posts—another work of the Order, are of real benefit in rural districts and on the heavily travelled highways. In the event of a national emergency, brought on by war, invasion, disease and epidemic, the work of the Order would become more invaluable than ever. Ski-patrols have rendered invaluable assistance under circumstances that did not permit of other help. Nine new St. John First Aid Posts have been donated in the Laurentian areas.

This is the first national appeal for funds undertaken by the Order of St. John in Canada, and Chairman of the Westmount Headquarters asks residents to discuss the appeal in their homes and be prepared to assist the worker who will call during the coming week, February 10 to 22nd. In order that volunteers will not have to cover the district twice, Mr. Knowles asks that residents be prepared to give their donations at the first visit and save the workers having to make a return trip.

Foodhandlers' Classes Start Again Monday

In an intensive campaign conducted by the Department of Health of Westmount for the purpose of elevating the health standards throughout the city, a series of classes for foodhandlers will be conducted in Victoria Hall, Westmount. These classes will commence at 3 p.m. Monday it was announced today by Dr. J. J. Day, Medical Officer of Health.

Nothing can be of greater importance of good health than the quality and sanitary handling of foods consumed daily; the highest standards of cleanliness and sanitation in food handling are necessary to health protection.

In these classes, conducted by A. G. Macnab of the Health Department, a complete course is offered covering bacteriology, communicable disease, medical zoology, foods, disinfection, sterilization, personal hygiene and sanitation.

These classes are open to all, there is no charge or tuition fee of any kind attached to this school. It is only one of the many services rendered Westmounters by the Department of Health. These classes are conducted at such hours as will enable all food handlers to attend, regardless of the shift on which they are working.

It is the intention of the Health Department to have all foodstores in Westmount classified. These classifications will by displayed to mark approval by the Health Department.

Child Custody Service Opened

Mothers will find in a new service that has just been opened in Montreal, a welcome gesture of aid. The service is called the Child Custody Service and is offered to mothers to help them while they go shopping or elsewhere for an hour or two, by taking their children off thei rhands.

If any mothers find themselves unable to leave home, having no one to look after their children, the only alternative being the necessity of dragging them around with them in and out of stores and other places, this new service affords a welcome remedy.

Miss Joan Mariotti, formerly of Quebec City, but now residing in Montreal, is operating the service in central and comfortable quarters made available in St. James United Church Building with entrance by 1435 City Councillors St., open daily, except Sunday, at 10 a.m.

The service offered is that of custody only and is being offered to children over 2 years of age.

SQUARE DANCE CLUB

The Westmount 'Y' club room re-echoed to the music of the old-time square dances last Friday evening, when enthusiasts joined their friends in a few old-time reels and jigs. Aubrey Cameron acted as caller for the occasion, with music supplied by Rolland Lussier, fiddler, accompanied by a pianist. The Square Dancing Club will hold their next party on Friday, February 21st, when Miss Barbara MacPherson will be guest caller for the dancers.

DINNER MEETING

A dinner meeting of the Men's Association of the Church of the Ascension, Park Avenue, will be held on Wednesday evening at 6.30. Howard S. Ross, K.C., will speak on "A Brief for Humanity—the Equitist Proposal."

"Metropolitan Government For Greater Montreal"

A speech by George C. Marler, N.P., M.L.A.

Due to the interest taken by the public in the question of Metropolitan Government, the Westmount Municipal Association has requested the Examiner to reprint in full a speech made at the Annual Meeting of the Association. Since space does not permit us to carry the complete speech in one issue, we have divided it into four parts, the first of which appears below.

To enable you to form an opinion as to the need and desirability of metropolitan government for Greater Montreal I think I should first define the territory concerned, and describe the functioning of the municipal bodies which exercise authority in that area.

Though the term "Greater Montreal" is used frequently to include not only the whole of the Island of Montreal but also some muncipalities on the south shore, I propose to exclude them and also the western and north-eastern parts of the Island, and to devote my remarks principally to the metropolitan area. This consists of the territory comprised in the five cities — Montreal, Westmount, Outremont, Verdun and Lachine, and in the ten towns—St. Pierre, LaSalle, Montreal West, Hampstead, Mount Royal, St. Laurent, St. Michel, Montreal North, Montreal East and Pointe-aux-Trembles. There are good reasons for this limitation:

1. Ninety-seven and a half per. cent (97½%) of the Island population lives in this area.
2. The valuation of taxable immovable property in this area represents over ninety-eight per. cent (98%) of the Island total.
3. More than 99.9% of the salaried employees and wage earners in the manufacturing industry are employed in this area, and they produce practically 100% of the vast quantity of goods manufactured on the Island.

The fifteen municipalities which make up the metropolitan area are subject to the provisions either of the Cities' and Towns' Act or of special charters, and are governed by their respective municipal councils. With the exception of Montreal North, St. Michel, and Pointe-aux-Trembles, all of the municipalities enjoy full municipal autonomy and run their own affairs. In financial matters, however, Montreal is subject to the jurisdiction of the Quebec Municipal Commission and must obtain its approval in order to effect loans, to make local improvements, and to enter into contracts imposing burdens on future budgets; and the other fourteen municipalities are under the control of the Montreal Metropolitan Commission, and must obtain its approval in order to effect loans or to make certain changes in their budgets. Since the adoption of the Bill on education at the last session of the assembly, all of these municipalities, including Montreal, now require the approval also of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

The Montreal Metropolitan Commission is composed of sixteen (16) members who are chosen as follows: eight (8) by Montreal, one (1) each by Westmount, Outremont, Lachine and Verdun; one (1) is elected by LaSalle, St. Pierre, Hampstead, Montreal West, Mount Royal, St. Laurent; one (1) by Montreal North, St. Michel and Pointe-aux-Trembles; one (1) by Montreal East and one (1) is appointed by the Provincial Government; the last two mentioned have no vote.

The Commission reviews the loans which the municipalities, other than Montreal, propose to effect and such loans may be made only with its approval. It may borrow the funds itself or permit the municipality to effect the loan, but in either case all of the Municipalities are responsible for repayment. It does not and cannot intervene in the affairs of a municipality, but in case of a default it is substituted for the Municipality and may exercise all of the powers of the latter. With this exception the Commission is not an administrative body.

Now it is with respect to the area under the jurisdiction of the Commission that it has been suggested that we should establish a "borough system." In the sense in which the term has been used it is intended to designate a system of municipal government under which power to deal with matters of a local nature is exercised by the local authorities, and power to deal with questions of broader importance is vested in a central authority. As it is an obvious consequence of the introduction of such a system that each municipal body must delegate some part of its powers to the central body and transfer to the latter the control over some of the services it renders to its citizens, it seems to me that we should review as briefly as possible the principle services which the cities and towns render to their citizens so as to see whether these services can be rendered either more effectively or more cheaply by the central body and whether the advantages are worth the sacrifices which would have to be made.

Westmount Highlights

By ARTHUR VORONKA

About Highlights

To an unidentified person in the little gray stone schoolhouse on Cote St. Antoine Road, this column was representing the opinions of the student body of W.H.S. Whatever brought on that idea, John Draper, president of the Student's Council, could not say. (since this column is a general one—reporting general news for the younger set in Westmount).

For the Council, A Discussion

However, this famed pillar does contain a great deal of items from good old W.H.S. (since a few writers are there with bells on five days a week) and so, Prexy Draper, not wishing to hurt anyone's feelings, brought up the subject of this column before the Student's Council last Friday afternoon.

From Councillors, No Snarls

As Mark Twain once translated Cicero: "It is difference of opinion that makes horse races." But to the thirty odd councillors, when asked whether Westmount Highlights suited their taste, their opinions were all the same. They did.

Condition: Good and Bad

At conference's end, as the emotional afflatus of a Draper oratory this writer that would have to be stated in his next column; the opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily those of the student body of Westmount High School (or the Junior High School) but are necessarily the opinions of this writer, expressed and written in his own little way (although at this salary I doubt very much if I have any opinions of my own).

Cause For Joy

With patient good humour, Miss Beryl Truax entered a crowded classroom. Now, no doubt this scene is repeated many times a day by this Westmount French teacher, but this was a special occasion for she carried a special message: on April 24th to 26th (inclusive) the International Music Festival will be held at the Forum with students from all parts of Canada, the United States and even Great Britain participating. These students will need room and board for four days. Students and parents are asked to provide a hospitable and warm welcome by bringing them in our Westmount homes.

When the question popped up as to whether it made any difference if a boy invited a girl or vice versa, Miss Truax replied: "No, of course not, so there's an added opportunity for you."

For Avid Perusers, Short Notes

Ted Earl doing fine after a serious operation last Tuesday. Teddy, who was a star player with the Westmount High Water Polo team this year, says that visitors are more than welcome. . . . History repeats: Ted Tilden and George Johnson have resigned from the Friday Nite committee to parallel a mass resignation at the same time last year. You have our sympathy, boys. It's a thankless, red-taped tangled job. However, new members have been added to the committe and a Friday Nite session will be had tonight. . . . J. C. John Dickins notes that (we're stealing a few of his items from his unpublished material last week) the fist sized hole in Murph's Plaza juke box no longer exists. He also noted that since George Apostalatos resigned several weeks ago, the classical selections have been replaced by pop tunes. . . . Mr. William H. Green, the tall gentleman always seen striding the narrow corridors of old W.H.S. in battered khaki overalls, is replacing Pop Martin this year. (Pop has been with W'mount schools for 26 years). "Willie" Green was working at Queen's school before the war. He joined the Army (movement Control) in 1940 and became a Sgt. Major in the Ship's Conducting Staff. He served in such hospital and troop ships as the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth for six and a half years. . . . Andy Blair is in bed with TB and will stay there for a few months. . . . G. E. That was, for a beginning, quite a show. Mrs. Dickens, mother of the famed John, fell on some icy steps last week and broke her wrist. The doctor phoned on Monday; "How is your wrist?" he inquired. Scouts & Cubs

BY REG GROOME

Scout Headquarters announced this week plans and details for the Annual Patrol Leaders' Banquet to be held at the Mount Royal Hotel on Saturday, February 22nd, with assembly at 6 p.m. The Guest of Honour and Speaker will be His Excellency Field Marshal The Right Honourable Viscount Alexander of Tunis, C.C.B., Governor-General of Canada and Chief Scout for Canada.

As in former years, there are three classes of persons eligible to attend this grand function; those in class "A" are all ACTIVE patrol leaders and troop leaders, Rover Mates and Cox'ns and Bos'ns in Sea Scout Troops. In class "B", all ACTIVE Cubmasters, Scoutmasters and Sea Scoutmasters and all ACTIVE REGISTERED Assistant Cubmasters, Scoutmasters and Sea Scoutmasters. Members of the District Council, Instructors, ADULTS ONLY (this excludes Scouts acting as Cub Instructors in Packs), Group Committee Chairman and Chaplains.

Due to the tremendous increased demand for tickets this year, we earnestly advise you to get your reservations in early as there are fewer seats available than last year, when many people were disappointed. No reservations will be given any priority at Headquarters after Wednesday, February 12th, when the Executive Committee of the Scouters' Club of Montreal will meet to allot the seats available. Patrol Leaders are to be given the priority this year along with one officer from each unit and others will be accomodated when all these have been taken care of.

All persons planning to attend the Banquet are requested to wear full Scout uniform. Let's show our distinguished visitor that the Scouts of Westmount have it all over the rest of Canada in smartness and ability. We CAN do it! The question is, ARE WE GOING TO? Entrance to the hotel should be made through the south door on Mount Royal Place. See you at the banquet.

The Silver Arrowhead, the highest Training Award attainable by a Patrol Leader, is being made available to the members of the Sphinx Honour Patrol in the Province of Quebec. We have always prided ourselves upon the efficiency shown by our Patrol Leaders after gaining their Sphinx; however, we are still somewhat behind because we have never trained our Junior Leaders outdoors to any great extent.

This summer at Tamaracouta, the initial course will be launched, an out-door Patrol Leaders course which is featured at all Scout camps throughout Canada. Applicants for the course must be 14 years of age, must, of course, be Patrol Leaders, and should have their first class badge. Roslyn News

By Douglas Turner and Ross Southward

On Monday, February 3rd, the Girls' Basketball team played King's School for the championship. Roslyn won 26-13. The shots for Roslyn were as follows: Thatcher, 12 points; Campbell, 8 points; Cliff, 6 points.

It was a very exciting game. At the end of the first quarter King's were leading 6-0. In the second quarter the score was 6-6, with Thatcher making two baskets and Campbell one. In the last half Mary Cliff, Betty Campbell and Aileen Thatcher played until the end of the game.

On Friday last the girls of Room 20 had a Red Cross meeting in the form of a play. The play was about Laura Secord.

January 29, there was a hockey game between two Roslyn teams—the Farmers and the Bulldozers. It was a very good game with both teams fighting hard to win. The first goal was scored when Warner Timm shot from the blueline and scored on a screen shot. A few minutes later the Bulldozers tied the game when Ian Leslie took the puck from a scramble and shot into the open net. With a minute left to play in the game Roy Hango got the puck and shot a hard drive into the bottom left hand corner for the last goal. The game ended with a score of 2-1 for the Farmers.

January 30, the Roslyn Termites defeated the Roslyn Belmonts 5-0. The scorers for the Termites were Allan Warnock and Eddy Martin, two goals each, and Tony Skinner one.

Mrs. Hango, mother of Roy Hango, student in Room 19, has won a Literary award. She has written a novel entitled "Truthfully Yours" which won a Fellowship provided by the Oxford University Press. Mrs. Hango writes under the name of Mme. Bleuets.

On Monday, February 10, Professor George H. T. Kimble will address the Home and School Association on "Geography for Grown-Ups." At the close of the meeting refreshments will be served.

Westm't Young Liberals Elect New Executive

The members of the Westmount Young Liberals Association elected their new executive for another year at a business meeting held at the Montreal Reform Club, recently.

Re-elected to a second term as president of the year-old organization, was Bill Macdonald. Also re-elected were John Pepper in the vice-presidential slot, and Robert Sproule, treasurer.

New members to the executive were David Mackenzie, secretary, replacing George Cochrane, at present out of town, and Alistair Fraser, in place of Charles McCrae as the other vice-president. John Featherstonhaugh was also elected to a position on the executive as Corresponding Secretary.

President-elect, Bill MacDonald also announced the appointment of the following members as chairmen of different committees: Lorne Hellyer, Political Action Committee; Barrie Campbell, Social Committee; Joseph Duffin, Public Relations Committee; Roy Hellyer Membership Committee; and Peter Harling, Speakers Committee.

Commenting on the rapid growth of the organization in the last year since its organization, Bill MacDonald emphasized that the organization was open to all young men in their twenties, or later teens, who were of "liberal tendencies" and recognized it as their democratic duty to join some political party, and to work through the medium of the party to bring about appropriate political action in the affairs of the country.

The next meeting of the Association was called for Monday, February 10th, at 8 o'clock at the Montreal Reform Club, 82 Sherbrooke Street West, It will be a combination business-social meeting, and all young men interested in attending are cordially invited to do so.

Boys' Brigade Annual Drive Now Under Way

The 1st Westmount Company commence this week on their annual Boys' Brigade Week Campaign, along with all Brigade Companies throughout Canada. The Company is enthusiastic and hope to go over the top. Following the campaign, a Father and Son Banquet will be held, to be followed by a display of the unit's activities, to which parents and friends will be invited.

The Company will hold a swimming period this Saturday afternoon in charge of Capt. J. H. Richardson and the Brigade's swimming specialist, Neil Gartshore. Boys desiring to pass their certificate or badge should make a point of turning out.

Competition is very keen between the 1st and 2nd squads, and it is hoped will continue to develop as plans are under-way for the formation of a third, to make the competition all the more interesting. Several new appointments will be made to the rank of Non Commissioned Officers following the Father and Son Banquet, so that the Company may continue to expand, as the band becomes more advanced.

Lieut. A. G. Anderson is developing a very efficient drill squad for entry in the Battalion Competition together with First Aiders that will enter the competition in their own field. Staff-Sgt. Alan Keith has been greatly encouraged by the performance of his P.T. team and along with Rev. A. J. Mowatt, Company Chaplain, will organize the seniors into a basketball team.

W. A. Macdonald To Address Club

William A. Macdonald, newly re-elected president of the Westmount Young Liberals Associated, was appointed the English-speaking young Liberal delegate from the Province of Quebec to the annual meeting of the Advisory Council of the National Liberal Federation, held in Ottawa at the Chateau Laurier on February 4th, 5th, and 6th.

Mr. Macdonald left Montreal on Tuesday morning to represent the views of young English-speaking Quebec, and returned from the meeting at Ottawa this morning. He will give a report on the proceedings of the meeting at the combined business-social meeting of the Westmount Young Liberals Association being held at the Reform Club, 82 Sherbrooke Street West, on Monday, at 8 p.m.

'Y' VALENTINE DANCE

The Westmount 'Y' Dance Hall will resound to the sweet and rhythmic tunes of Johnnie Pepper and his Orchestra on Saturday, February 16th, when the Saturday Nite Club will hold their special Valentine Dance for members and their friends. Special decorations in the traditional Valentine colours are under the direction of Bill Ridley and his committee. Gray Riepert assures us he will have something really novel in the form of dance program to add to the enjoyment of the evening. Refreshments for the occasion will be handled by Ruth Kervin and her co-workers.

Those who were present for the club's last special party, the Semi-formal, will recall the many happy couples who filled the dance hall.

Dr. Karl Stern Addresses MRT

Dr. Karl Stern, a well-known Montreal psychiatrist, addressed the meeting of the M R T Club which was held recently at the Guy Street Playhouse. His address, as well as being definitely scientific, was highly entertaining and full of humor.

"Stage fright" was dealt with first. Dr. Stern defined this as a true phobia, i.e. a particular form of anxiety. And even though the cause of fright was camouflaged: it was the symbol of something forgotten that affected the person's subconscious mind thereby giving him reactions similar to those experienced from fear of real danger. Stage fright has also been described as a premeditated alibi, ready in case of failure to 'do well" Often actors seem to bring on stage fright deliberately as they find it a help to increase 'tone' The reaction of fear prepares the individual for flight or fight — —and so with the actor.

Acting, said Dr. Stern, has been used as an emotional catharsis to help soldiers adjust themselves to civilian life. As for instance — stage fright, arising when the soldier has to ask for a job, has been greatly controlled by therapeutic measures: having patient act out the part of a young man applying for a job several times before he actually has to do it.

The speaker then discused psycho-drama, i.e. the way in which the theatre is being used as a means of psychological treatment. He gave various examples, for instanct, adolescents who were made to write and act plays. These were patients in a psychopathic ward who formed theatrical groups under the guidance of a psychiatrist. This gave them an opportunity to "act out" their conflicts and difficulties. Excellent results are reported with this method.

The speaker also explained that the arch-type of the famous drama are the creations of writers who have the genius to describe characters whose problems are universal.

George Woods was in the chair. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Doug McPhee and thanked by Charles Lewis.

Bill Pardoe, president of the S.N.C. Executive, said last night that from the advance sale of tickets he expects an even larger crowd this time. Ticket distribution is being handled by the Treasurer, Jim Henderson and the members of the S.N.C. Committee.

Unity Club Valentine Dance Plans Outlined

By DOUG WOODHAM

The Unity Club has planned a St. Valentine Day Dance to be held at Queen's School, February 14. Plans drawn up by the entertainment committee ought to make this dance a real success. All members and friends are welcome and proceedings will get underway at 8 p.m. Included in the evening's entertainment will be refreshments and novelty dances with prizes.

The current hockey schedule has come to a close with playoffs beginning next week. Hank Henson's and Jimmie McCarthy's Unity Aces ended up in the top slot with Richard Lord's Tornados in second position. In a game against Argos the score was recorded as 2-1 for Unity, this should have read 2-0 for Unity, thus giving Doug Brambell credit for a shut-out. Our apologies Doug and the best of luck to you and all the team in future games.

Just a reminder to all not to forget the Unity sleigh ride slated for Monday.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE IN SCHOOLS

The appointment of Vocational Guidance Counsellors in the Montreal schools during the current term is the culmination of work which was commenced over twenty years ago when two enthusiasts, the late Dr. W. D. Tate, head of the department of Psychology at McGill, and F. R. Clarke, then head of Protestant Employment Bureau, commenced an active campaign for this purpose.

In one year they addressed over fifty public meetings, including service and wommen's clubs, church groups and meetings of teachers and parents at the schools.

Now there are twelve counsellors appointed to schools in the Montreal district all of whom have been specially trained for the purpose of guiding the pupils into the occupations they should perform when they leave school using intelligence and aptitude tests and other sound methods which have been determined by long study by psychologists in order to reduce the wastage of effort when boys and girls start off in unsuitable occupations after leaving school.

With only one teacher engaged in the work in each school it will probably be a long time before every child is able to have this helpful guidance but the help which is being given by industrialists and others to make the program a success, was shown by the recent big meeting at Montreal High School. Dr. Tate, Clarke, and their associates constructed a firm foundation upon which a solid building is now being constructed.

THE FIGHT TO SAVE LIVES

Medical science has done much in the disease prevention field in the past and there is nothing to make us believe more discoveries of a similar nature will not be made in the future.

However, medical science can do only so much, and it is up to everyone to support the discoveries of the scientists by making use of them. A proven preventive is no good unless it is used.

For instance, science has proven that pasteurization kills deadly disease bacteria frequently found in raw milk. Yet many people continue to drink unpasteurized milk. Toxoid prevents diphtheria, yet diphtheria still takes hundreds of Canadian lives annually. Chlorination purifies drinking water, yet many Canadian municipalities have no chlorination plants. And so on down the list.

Remember, medical science, public health officials and health educators need the support and co-operation of the population at large if these disease-eradicating and life-saving practices are to become 100 per cent effective.

TOWARD BETTER HEALTH

Sixteen Canadians die from tuberculosis daily — as many children die during the first year of life as during the next 30 added together. This and many other interesting and startling facts are included in a booklet — "Health Facts" — just issued by the Health League of Canada in connection with forthcoming NATIONAL HEALTH WEEK, February 2-8.

The Health League sponsors this annual observance in cooperation with official departments of health and education as a means of awakening in Canadians a consciousness of the value of good health. The League hopes to develop that awareness of the value of good health into vigorous action to obtain better habits and standards of health by personal behavior and by legislation.

QUEEN MARY IS MOVIE FAN

Queen Mary is an ardent movie fan. Apart from her official appearances at film shows, she frequently pays surprise visits to theatres for pictures she wants to see. The most recent of these was when she saw "The Overlanders", Australian-made film produced by J. Arthur Rank. After she saw the picture she said of Chips Rafforty, lanky six-foot-two star of the movie, "He reminds me very much of the American actor, Mr. Cooper." "The Overlanders" is scheduled for early Canadian release.

WEEKLY REVIEW

QUALIFICATIONS FOR LEADERSHIP

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

What are the qualities that make ror success in life? That is a question in which young people in particular are interested, and many books have been written on the subject. One American writer and lecturer has specialized in it and made quite a success—and probably a good deal of money—out of telling people how to make friends and get on in life. I have not read his books or heard his lectures, but what little excerpts from these that I have come across struck me as rather commonplace.

We are not all built alike. It would be a monotonous, not to say a weird and confusing world if we all looked alike. Chesterton once said that if he saw several big-nosed men in a London bus it would not disturb him; but if all the men in a bus had big noses he would conclude it was a conspiracy. The same applies to other characteristics besides noses. If everybody were to cultivate an engaging smile and were for ever trying to make friends with everybody else, we would have no privacy and we should only succeed in boring each other and becoming darn nuisances. Which reminds me of the old comic strip, "After you, Alphonse."

That is perhaps an exaggeration. What I started out to do was to refer to an address delivered at a Graduation Banquet of the University of British Columbia by R. W. Diamond, Vice-President and General Manager of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada. Mr. Diamond said that many young college graduates think they are given jobs primarily because of their special training, and that they very often discount what, to him, are the most important qualities in man. These qualities he rated in the following order of merit: (1) Character. (2) Personality. (3) Imagination, Initiative and Drive. (4) Ability. (5) Knowledge.

Mr. Diamond said the reasons for putting character first were so obvious that no comment was necessary, and he proceeded to deal with personality. But this raises the old question as to the distinction between character, personality and individuality. The word personality was originally derived from the Greek word "persona," a mask, but it has come to be used with a much deeper meaning, and is even applied to the Deity. In this sense our personality is determined by or is a reflection of our character. If, therefore, we develop the right kind of character our personality will take care of itself.

But nevertheless there are some very good people who mask their character with a disagreeable personality, just as there are 'bad characters" who wear a mask of geniality or goodness. That is what we call hypocrisy. But Mr. Diamond does not use the word personality in this sense. Having placed character first, he says: "It is surprising how many young men fail to appreciate the great importance of personality. Basically, personality means the ability to work harmoniously with one's fellow men. With life so complex, and success so dependent upon cooperation of numbers of people working together, happy relations are of prime importance. Some large companies go so far as to refuse employment to any man, no matter how able or well trained, if he cannot work in harmony with his associates."

Referring to "imagination, initiative and drive," Mr. Diamond says that initiative and drive are perhaps the most rare. He thinks that imagination and initiative are closely related, although they may not always appear together; but he believes the three qualities are essential to a "delicate balance" in action. There are some people with initiative and drive who have little or no imagination, who are what we call "bull-headed."

Last on the list, Mr. Diamond has placed ability and knowledge; "not" he says, "because these qualities are unimportant, but because they lose their value, to a great extent, when not accompanied by high rating in character, personality and imagination." He thus comes back to the three basic qualities essential to success, particularly in leadership for which the students whom he was addressing were trained. Mr. Diamond has himself exemplified the qualities he names in a very practical way. Born at Campbellford, Ontario, he graduated with honours in mining and metallurgy at Toronto University, and his knowledge, ability, imagination and drive have been devoted to the development of one of Canada's greatest industries.

In his address to the graduates Mr. Diamond said: "We older men envy you young men as you look towards the future, and its challenging opportunities for work and service. But you should realize that these opportunities are for the courageous, the enterprising, and the free. Go out after them. Make the most of them. But first of all be clear about your ideals. Be clear about your own code of ethics. Above all else, be true to them."

THE FORUM

Conducted by Howard S. Ross, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Dr. Harry C. McKown, a member of the Rotary Club of that City, said in an address at Rotary of Sherbrooke, Que. recently, that "all the progress this world has ever seen was foolishness" when first suggested. He deplored the attitude of many towards a new belief or invention and said "an intelligent person never laughs at a new idea."

He cited instances in history where the originators of new schools of thought and inventions were ridiculed and often punished for daring to question long accepted beliefs although humanity later reaped the fruits of their ideas.

J. H. Brace, Vice-President of the Bell Telephone Company and President of Montreal Board of Trade, said recently in an address given in Toronto in part: "Big business if it is to survive and prosper, must chart a responsible course for the future, discipline those within its ranks who are concerned solely with profit, and encourage its members to take an active part in public affairs." He said that management should control its "bad actors". He added that those industries where management is working for profit alone are not doing good business for industry as a whole.

The cultivated area of Denmark is less than that of Alberta, the area being about ten and a half million acres. The population is a little over 4 million living in Copenhagen. The land is occupied by 205,000 farmers, 111,000 being classed as small holders, farming 25 acres or less. The balance work about 100 acres each.

The people of Alberta claim they grow the finest grain in the world and also livestock and butter and bacon equal to the best Denmark is exporting, but they complain that the Alberta farmers' share of the National income is only 18% although the agricultural population is more than 32% of that of the Dominion. The Danes, stated Ferd J. Muller, of Hussar, Alta., in Western Farm Leader, have maintained a high standard of living on 25 acres each by specialization, efficiency and the help of the co-operative movement.

Frankenmuth, Mich., a village where 95 per cent of the population of 1300 are members of the local Lutheran Church has never in the 102 years of its history had a crime of violence. For the past 25 years, no one has been put in jail. During the depression no one in the community was on relief. The town has always been the first in the State to report all its taxes paid in full and has always assumed more than its share of responsibility in philanthropic financial drives.

The adoption of a constitution for China (the most populous nation in the world) is important news. It represents a victory for Chiang Kai-Shek and a repudiation of the reactionary elements in the Kuomintang. The charter does not go into effect for a year and probably most of its provisions will not be enforced for a long time to come. It points the direction in which the majority of the Chinese wish to go. Expert observers believe that compared with previous charters it represents a distinct advance over all its predecessors.

Senator Taft, needless to say, is a busy man and perhaps has a laudable ambition to be the first son of a U.S.A. President to hold that high office. He is a lawyer and known to be one of the hardest workers of all the senators.

Some of the legislation he favours are as follows: Legislation which will eliminate economic crises, but without socialistic controls which "deaden free enterprise". He is co-author, with Democrats Wagner and Ellender of a bill to provide $88 million in Federal funds for 500,000 units of low rent public housing. An aid-to-education program. He is co-author with New Dealing Senators Hill and Elbert Thomas, of a Bill to guarantee at least a $40-per annum expenditure per child in every state. Some states now spend as little as $7 per annum for that all important purpose.

A columnist in the New Republic wrote of him: "He is diligent and courageous. His willingness to assume responsibility is poles away from those former G.O.P. New Deal critics who were merely willing to attack."

Four million old people are to receive higher pensions in Great Britain. Single aged will now get $5.20 weekly instead of ten shillings, while married couples will get forty-two shillings weekly, instead of £1.

The increase will cost the Government about $320,000,000. The pensions now are payable to men at 65 and women at 60 on condition they retire from industry but they are being encouraged to work beyond the pension age by receiving an extra shilling every week for every twenty-five contributions made and in the case of a man with a dependent wife. This means a bonus will be added for every six months' work up to the age of seventy and a married man could then retire with a pension of three pounds two shillings weekly.

On June 23, 78 years ago a patent on a typewriter was issued to Christopher Latham Sholes, who was born at Mooresburg, Pennsylvania and was nearly 50 years old when he got his patent after many heart-breaking experiments. He was apprenticed at 14 to the publisher of a newspaper and in 1840 started a paper in Southport, Wisconsin. Later he became editor of the Milwaukee "Sentinel" but continued his experiments.

In England most of the general slang terms for money come from workshops. Foundry workers in Lancashire call money "brass." Carpenters call it "chips." Fishmongers call it "haddock," and goldsmiths name it "dust." Leather-workers call the sixpence a "tanner."

A salary is termed a "screw" because wages were formerly screwed up in paper bags and handed to employees. "Quid" probably came from the phrase "Quid pro quo." A man being offered something on sale, might say: "I have not any quid for your quo."

St. Luke's Church Reports Progress

The annual meeting of St. Luke's was held on Friday evening with 150 members present. The Session report revealed that the net increase in membership was 116. The total membership now stands at 938. The total revenue from all sources amounted to $21,738. Of this amount $1,850 was raised for the War Memorial and $2,575 for Missionary and Benevolent purposes. In addition $5,350 was subscribed for the Pension Fund of The United Church. A further reduction of $2,250 was made on the mortgage and the remaining $750 on the Special Loan was paid. Also $300 was paid on the regular Loan with a repair bill on the organ of $668.

Plaque And Chimes

The congregation approved the order for the the Memorial Plaque and Chimes with amplification. The installation and dedication of Plaque and Chimes will take place during the spring months.

Messrs. P. J. Brewster, A. S. Brown, and H. B. Meynell were elected as elders, and the following men were elected to fill the vacancies on the Committee of Stewards, Messrs. Ralph Mather, Kenneth Moore, and Ewen MacDonald. Mr. Lloyd Hutchinson was named as Treasurer of the Missionary and Maintenance Fund. Messrs. J. C. Lewis and Wm Dallas were elected as Auditors.

Moderator Brings Greetings

The presence of the Moderator, Right Rev. T. W. Jones, at the annual meeting, was greatly appreciated. Dr. Jones brought the greetings of The United Church and gave a most informative and cheering message.

The spirit of co-operation and enthusiasm though unassessable was clearly evidenced in all the reports pertaining to the life and work of the members of the congregation.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the various organizations and workers by the minister, Rev. Ralph E. Spencer, for their loyalty and services during the year. The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem and the benediction was said by the Moderator.

St. Luke's United

The Installation Service of the Church School Teachers and Officers will be conducted by the minister on Sunday morning. Miss Wilma Gardiner, B.A., secretary of the Religious Educational Council of Quebec, will give the address. The minister will preach in the evening on the subject, "Some Marks of a Christian."

The newly elected officers of the newly organized Junior Young People's Union will be installed. The interest being shown by the Junior Young People's Union, now with a membership of thirty, is one of the most revealing examples of youth's response to the Christian Challenge. This will be a service of great interest to the adult members as well as the Young People.

RMR TO HOLD SKI PATROL

Headquarter Company, commanded by Major A. W. Bridges, will hold ski patrol exercises, training in vehicle driving and maintenance and convoy control on Sunday.

It is proposed to hold these exercises from a base headquarters to be established at Mt. Bruno Camp but should local snow conditions prove unfavorable, the camp at St. Jerome will be used for this purpose.

Headquarter Company has at present vacancies open for recruits interested in signalling and wireless telegraphy as well as driving and maintenance of vehicles. Ample equipment to cover full instruction in these subjects has now been received and classes are being inaugurated for those members of the Company who have recently graduated from Weapons Training Wing.

Westmount Bible School has its session at 10 a.m. The keen interest displayed by all concerned in the new teaching technique of the school is most gratifying. The habit of parents bringing their children to Bible School is growing. All who desire a progressive and thorough knowledge of the Word of God are invited to attend.

Arthur Steed, former Missionary at Chissamba, West Central Africa, will be the guest preacher in Calvary United Church, Westmount, on Sunday, at both the morning and evening services. Mr. Steed is one of the young outstanding leaders of the United Church. He was born on the Mission Field in Africa and since his graduation from Emmanuel College, Toronto, has rendered excellent service in the Church. Young people especially will find much inspiration from his leadership. At the 11 o'clock service on Sunday the theme of the sermon will be "Three Men The Church Needs," while his subject at the evening service will be "Athletes for Christ."

The Minister of Calvary, Dr. T. W. Jones, will be in the Toronto, London and Chatham districts during this week, serving with the Cavalcade in the Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom in his office as Moderator.

The address will be given by Mrs. W. D. Lighthall on the intensely interesting theme, "Medical Missions in India." All ladies of the congregation are invited to attend and share the fellowship of this group.

Westmount Park

The series of Sunday evening sermons on Marriage has filled a great need in the lives of an increasing number of people. Quite obviously, many are concerned about this deep and intimate relationship between man and woman. Questions raised in the after meeting of the "Twenty-Thirty" Club indicates that there is a deep interest in religious views if only the Church will relate religion to life. Many young folks have stated that they hadn't been to Church for years until their interest was aroused by this series.

The sermon on Sunday night, which is the fifth in the series, is entitled "Forced Landing - Divorce". The problem of broken homes is surely one of the most alarming of our time. What are the major causes of divorce? Is there anything Christians can do to stem this rising tide of divorce? This sermon will be of value to all ages because it will deal with a problem that concerns the whole of life.

Glowing Spring Fashions Shown At Westmount C.W.L. Revue

All the colors of the spring, from tulip crimson to buttercup yellow, blazed in the parade of styles displayed at the Spring Fashion Revue of the Westmount Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League, held in Victoria Hall on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. J. Keating was the convener, and the commentator was Mrs. Edmund Foster.

The gowns, designed by Miss Phyllis King, were fashioned for all occasions, and for mature as well as youthful figures. White satin pyjamas were combined with a royal blue Chinese silk coat, and a tailored satin rose negligee was edged with frothy lace at the cuffs of the hanging sleeves. Suits were on casual and tailored lines, some with a new pleated fullness in the back, others with the equally new stand up collar. Slack suits were suggested for travel. The dresses, though simply made, were outstanding for striking detail.

A salmon crepe had brown nailhead and bead trim, and a two-piece black Canton crepe was softened with Swiss lace at the shoulders. A red print dress featured the all-round pleated skirt, extinct during the war. Cool shades of apple green, aqua blue and candy prints were shown, but navy, with white or multi-colored trimming, seems to have retained its popularity for the daffodil season.

Flowers and Veiling

Hats, as created by Argentine, are trending to off-the-face and on-the-side. Many are high-crowned and some have the open crown. On the whole they are characterized by the abundance of flowers and veiling.

Shoes this spring are predominantly sling style, with open toes and platform soles frequently bound with reptile. La Gioconda showed models of calf and suede and fabric, in every color and type all designed to give zest to the lady's costume from the ground up.

J. Walsh contributed the furs, which were carried over the arm or worn in coats of three-quarter or full length. One mink-dyed muskrat had full sleeves, and a hair seal had silver fox cuffs and soft wide sleeves. A green alligator bag worn with a navy redingote, and a shining bracelet and necklace set were some of the accessories offered by Bert Light. The hairdressing was done by Walters Hairdressers, the make-up by Elizabeth Arden; McKenna Florists contributed the flowers, and Madam Joel Ltd, the gloves.

Bridal Scene

In the bridal tableau which climaxed the Revue, the bride displayed a white satin dress with net yoke and fitted torso and a full bouffant skirt falling into a slight train. Her attendants wore delft blue taffeta on similar lines, the small flower girl being in a lighter shade of blue. Six "Wedding guests" wore differently styled dinner gowns, ranging from a grey jersey silk with matching mohair hat, to a fuchsia model with bustle effect and a hat of blue tulle.

After the parade, Miss King and Madam Argentine were introduced and presented with corsages. Tea was served.

The models appearing in the Revue were the following: Mesdames M. Hackett, John Turcot, S.V. Maxwell and A. deL. MacDonald; and the Misses Patsy McVey, Pauline Shea, Patricia O'Brien, Kathleen Keating, Audrey Drury, Eleanor Polan and Ainslie Colton. The little flower girl was Miss Marie Claire Pare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pare. The runway used was contributed by the T. Eaton Co.

TEE MATTHEWS: Surf skimmer.

PLAY THEMSELVES

Not only will many top stars play themselves in Paramount's 37-star "Variety Girl" but several studio employees who normally work behind the cameras will be seen in this "inside" Hollywood musical comedy. Director George Marshall heads this group.

When he was an actor, Director Leslie Fenton played roles such as Alan Ladd plays. Fenton, interestingly enough, is directing Ladd in Paramount's "Saigon."

W. V. S. Campaign Now In Full Swing

In Canada, during the war, the WVS did not wear uniforms, but with their red and green armbands they filled the thousands of volunteer jobs that had to be done by women as part of Canada's war programme.

With the end of the war, there is still a need for WVS (Montreal) —only the emphasis has changed from war-time to peace-time community service.

WVS has done two things—because of its tremendous war-time registrations, it has made available more volunteers for community organizations, and it has given many women the opportunity, for the first time, to play an active part in the life and upbuilding of their own community.

First Appeal For Funds

Now, for the first time, WVS in Montreal goes to the public for financial support. The objective of the drive, which commenced on Monday is $10,000. Their appeal is based solely on the record of volunteer service to this community, given by women of all creeds and tongues, urged by their desire to help, wherever and whenever they could, to the best of their ability.

Now that the festive candles have burned down to a size that they are no longer usuable, try melting them down in a sauce pan, and pouring the hot wax into half filled pirex custard cups. When wax is partially set, place remainder of wick into middle of cup. After wax has hardened remove from cup, and you have a very decorative piece for a table centre. They are very effective placed in a glass bowl half filled with water, which has been placed on a refleetor.

C.S.L. Gift Shop

My Old Haunt Again

It is nice to be visiting my old "haunts" again, and to be welcomed back by the many pleasant friends I have made. The staff of The C.S.L. Gift Shop, at 1480 Sherbrooke St. W. just east of guy, are the same cheerful crowd, two of the young "lassies" are having a hard time keeping their mind on the job these days, yes, you've guessed it. Those of you who have not visited this store of late and have a particular yen for lovely old wrought iron, be sure and notice the rare old pieces that flank both sides of the stairs as one enters the shop. They are old iron pots hooked on to andirons, holding ivy in them. You ladies who had envied the lovely English hand bags at Christmas time will be thrilled to learn that now you may purcnase them at very reduced prices. There are red, black, blue, brown and natural pigskin. Here also is something some young lady will just love to take up North, namely, an after ski coat about hip length, made of lamb's wool, lined with a very gay red rayon, the designs being Northern scenes, skiing figures, etc. The outside trimmed with red, and all very attractive and warm. In the back of the shop is, you will find an unusual head piece of black rayon printed with figures of stars and snowflakes. It is so cut that one may use it as a scarf, or draped around the waist. It is a Nelo product. I noticed something new in hand hooked chair seats, and they have enough burlap left unhooked in the piece that one could finish them off in what ever style one wished. This is one store where I find it very hard not to become buyer instead of reporter. Ah well. . . .

An Old Saying

The old saying "A prophet is not without honour except in his own country" is sometimes true about our own shopkeepers. We take them for granted. I was amazed last week when a friend of mine from California, who is visiting here asked me to show her that famous French shop, called Beau Manoir, 1498 Sherbrooke St. W., just east of Guy. It seems that friends of her's who were here last summer, bought some of their fine old French Canadian pine furniture. Needless to say I was only too pleased to be able to escort her to this fascinating shop. We were told while there any piece of furniture may be copied and made to order, for example like some of the lovely end tables. This work is all hand-made. By a lucky stroke of fortune the buyer was able to pick up a private collection of pre-war Hungarian hand carved wooden curios, made in dozens of designs, some of miniatiure figures, all painted to reveal the rich coloring of Hungarian peasant costumes. If you are looking for an attractive bridge prize, these are just the thing, and are very cheap. Oh, yes, you will love the little wooden shoes, bottles, books, slippers, hearts, and scissors. These are extremely small and are attached to red silk cords, for use as book markers. At Christmas time this shop had some adorable little cups with BOB engraved in the middle, and they were such a success, that now you may buy them for JOHN, BETTY, DENISE, DONALD, ETHEL, and other names. They come in brown and cream, and in two shades of blue. They are a good size, and will take plenty of hard bangs. Here is a store where one may wander around, and be amazed that such objects can be had in Montreal.

An Epicurean's Rendezvous

Wherever there is a gathering of women, sooner or later the conversation is bound to drift to the main topic of the day . . . FAMILY MARKETING. . . . One afternoon last week such a chin-wag took place, all of us more or less complaining about this, that and the other inconvenience experienced while trying to balance the family budget without omitting the necessary calories. After all our opinions were voiced, one of the ladies, from Westmount, said quite calmly "Well, I don't feel sorry for you, as that is what happens to people who flit from store to store". You should have seen our faces, OH, yes, they were red, and finally the chorus sang out And what do you do?" . . . With a very contented smile, she said "I have always shopped at . . . SCOTT'S MARKET . . . all I do is 'phone my order for the day and it is delivered, and in time for dinner". Then she proceeded to tell us some of the groceries she had no trouble in procuring . . . but when she started telling us of the "juicy" steaks she has had, that was the climax. It did not take me long to find out this "EPICUREAN'S RENDEZVOUS". Next week I will have more interesting news about the DAVIS BROTHERS, they are the owners of SCOTT'S MARKET, 56 Westminster Avenue, Montreal West. Telephone DE. 8479-8470.

They Know Their Goods

Mr. Frank Round & Son, floor specialists at 5336 Sherbrooke St. W. just west of Decarie Blvd. need no words of mine in the way of introduction. Last year they opened their store here, and today they are known from one end of Montreal to the other. Needless to say there is a reason for their success . . . THEY KNOW THEIR GOODS . . . I was quite interested in their special mechanical cleaning process for chesterfields and rugs. They are the only people in Montreal who have this machine. It is a factory type, yet may be applied right in your own home. New solvents are used, soil is extracted, not pushed in, and there is no shrinkage, nor unpleasant odors. It is also used to clean carpets that are laid wall to wall. To handle this machine Mr. Round has experienced men who know how this work must be done. I'm sure after you have had your chesterfied cleaned by this method, you will agree that this is the only proper way to clean furniture. Here is a bit of news the men of the house will be thrilled to hear. No more back bending while trying to please . . . MOTHER . . . At last there is a new product for shining floors and linoleums. It is called MIROGLOSS, it has a plastic base, and after the first coat is applied, which takes 60 seconds to dry, no other application is needed for six months. One can wash the floors, time and again, and the gloss still remains. This comes in a generous size can, and is applied with a brush. By calling DExter 4529 one will be delivered. If you are interested in rugs drop in and meet MR. ROUND, and be surprised at what you will find in this store.

Pattern In Fine Fabric Often Dominates Style

Pattern moves once again as an effective motif in fashion. You trace it in the designs of metal brocades when every line of the gown or evening wrap subserves the fabric's pattern. Embroidery in gold bullion and sequins outlines a rounded yoke on a heavy cream faille evening coat. Embroideries in braids and finest silk thread mark the return of detailed elegance in fashion.

Against this flair for trimming stands the stark grace of drapery. Fluid lines draped with Grecian precision hold their own in gowns of jersey, crepe, chiffon, and even lamé. But this is a season where individual taste finds expression and in the end it's "To each his own."

GRAND DOUBLE BILL! Bob Hope and Joan Caulfield are co-starred in "Monsieur Beaucaire," which starts at the Westmount United Theatre on Sunday for one week. "Claudia and David," starring Dorothy McGuire and Robert Young, combines to make a truly excellent double bill.

Van Johnson, Esther Williams In Technicolor Hit At Monkland

"Easy to Wed," the Technicolor musical comedy, which is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Friday night, is easy to look at, easy to listen to, and above all, easy to laugh at.

With a star-studded cast, topped by Van Johnson, Esther Williams, Lucille Ball and Keenan Wynn, the picture offers a world of entertainment in a howl-provoking tale of a lady-killer who sells his charms to the highest bidder only to find himself facing charges of bigamy.

Against this is laid a colorful background of metropolitan action contrasted with scenes at a Mexican resort, with Van Johnson and Esther Williams doing their first singing and dancing on the screen and the lovely Esther again revealing her skill as a swimming and diving champ. The musical sequences—Miss Ball does a song-and-dance number, too — are arrestingly original and beautiful.

Van Johnson will add to his huge host of fans as the debonair man-about-town who agrees to marry Lucille Ball in order that he can subsequently make love to Miss Williams and get her to drop a newspaper libel suit, caused by her having been termed a "husband stealer". The vivacious Lucille Ball is seen to advantage as the dancer who is tossed willy-nilly between Van Johnson and Keenan Wynn, in utter disregard of her own wishes, and Keenan Wynn is ideal as the bewildered reported whose unfortunate wisecrack has been the source of the libel suit.

Irene Dunn, Rex Harrison In "Anna And The King Of Siam"

Bringing to full and thrilling screen life one of the most fascinating stories ever to top best-seller lists, "Anna And The King Of Siam" is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night. Starring Irene Dunne, Rex Harrison and Linda Darnell, it is no fiction tale spun out of imagination. It is adapted from Margaret Landon's unusual biography which captivated millions of readers with its exciting story of an English woman who came to exotic Siam in 1862 to serve as a teacher to the scores of wives and children of King Mongkut.

Here was all the intrigue of the royal palace, the loves and jealousies that rose out of the passions and furies of the harem, the breathtaking spectacle of a people who revelled in pageantry, and a shocking barbarism that ran parallel in strange paradox with an age-old culture of wisdom and beauty. Woven in brilliant relief through this exotic background is the story of Anna, herself, who brought her Western beauty, fiery courage and keen wit to win a triumph no woman ever won before.

More glamorous than ever, and looking like a valentine in her crinolines and 1860 vintage bonnets, Irene Dunne, welcoming a change from the comedy roles she has been playing, brings Anna to the screen in her first historical role in 10 years.

For the part of the moody, temperamental King Mongkut, Rex Harrison, England's famous screen and stage actor, came to Hollywood for his first American film appearance. But he is no stranger to the Canadian screens —he won wide acclaim here with his outstanding portrayals in "Night Train," "The Citadel," "Major Barbara," and more recently, in "A Yank In London" and "Blithe Spirit."

Lovely Linda Darnell is seen as the voluptuous Tuptim, King Mongkut's favorite wife. One of Hollywood's most glamorous stars, Linda, who rose to the top by playing bad girls after having started her career in ingenue parts, brings to her current role all of the intense fire and vivacity of the Tuptim who defied the King and customs of that era.

The supporting cast of 'Anna And The King Of Siam" includes such outstanding players as Lee J. Cobb, Gale Sondergaard, Mikhail Rasumny, Dennis Hoey, Tito Renaldo and Richard Lyon.

TECHNICOLOR MUSICAL! Cornel Wilde, Linda Darnell and William Eythe, above, are co-starred with Jeanne Crain in "Centennial Summer," in Technicolor, which starts on Saturday at the Monkland United Theatre. It features music by the late Jerome Kern, and has an excellent supporting cast including Walter Brennan, Constance Bennett and Dorothy Gish.

DELIGHTFUL BRITISH FILM! Wendy Hiller, the star of "Pygmalion", is co-starred with Roger Livesey in "I Know Where I'm Going," which starts on Saturday at the Snowdon United Theatre for one week. The film was photographed in the picturesque Highlands of Scotland.

Wendy Hiller And Roger Livesey Co-Star In British Film Hit

Wendy Hiller, the delightful star of "Pygmalion" and "Major Barbara", is cast in a co-starring role with Roger Livesey, of "Colonel Blimp" fame, in the new British film "I Know Where I'm Going," which starts at the Snowdon United Theatre on Saturday for a week's engagement.

The story, which has its setting on the Isle of Mull in Scotland, tells of a young woman who believes that money is the only yardstick used to measure happiness. When she leaves her home in the Midlands to marry the wealthy tenant of a tiny Hebridean Island, she thinks that her future is assured. She has deep affection and sincere respect for the man she is to marry. The pattern of her life conforms exactly to the standards she has set—she knows exactly where she is going.

But even money cannot control the weather in the Hebrides and the girl finds herself stormbound on the Isle of Mull, within sight of her journey's end. Here she meets a new world of people, a world where there is happiness and contentment—but very little money. She also meets the laird of Kiloran, the owner of the island which her fiance has leased. They fall in love, but she finds it hard to change her standard of values to confirm with the new change in her life. Until he is leaving to rejoin the Navy, she struggles against her love for him but in the end realizes she cannot stand losing him.

The rugged grandeur of Scotland which forms the authentic background to this film will prove a treat to movie-goers.

"Heartbeat" Comedy Romance With Ginger Rogers At Seville Soon

A comedy-romance tailored for Ginger Rogers is "Heartbeat," which starts on Wednesday at the Seville United Theatre, playing until Friday night. Lavishly produced, this new release marks the return to the screen of Jean Pierre Aumont, cast opposite Miss Rogers, in this romance with a background of complex comedy situations in the gay locale of sophisticated Paris.

Ginger plays a little French girl Arlette, seeking a job and a husband. Answering a newspaper ad for a job, she is greeted at the door for a respectable looking home by the stately Professor Aristed (Basil Rathbone), really the head of a school for pickpockets. He impresses Arlette to "lift" the diamond stickpin of an Ambassador. Foiling her in the attempt the Ambassador takes her to his home, where he dresses her in style and has her appear at the lavish Embassy ball that evening, where she learns she is to dance with a young man whose watch she must steal. From this point on the affair races through many unique complications to a highly romantic climax.

Jean Pierre Aumont is seen as Ginger's intended victim. Adolphe Menjou gets in his deft work as the suave Ambassador, who plans the heroine's fling in high life. Basil Rathbone is the leader of the pickpockets and Melville Cooper, Mikhail Rasumny, Eudardo Cianelli, Mona Maris and Henry Stephenson have the other principal roles in "Heartbeat."

Loyola College's intermediate cagers were unable to make the trip to Ste. Anne's last Friday night for their scheduled MBL encounter with Macdonald College and, to take the local collegian's place, the Aggies played an exhibition tilt with the Westmount Juniors. The Westmounters, who are atop their section of the MBL junior circuit and who are the proud possessors of an undefeated record, handed the Mac men a 58-38 pasting. All of which leads one to wonder just how the junior and intermediate brands of basketball, as purveyed around these parts, compare. This Westmount team, it may be noted, has also defeated Dawson's and Loyola's intermediate teams. Methinks they have a lot on the ball.

Hockey Clubs Hold Party

The hockey teams of St. Matthias and St. Leo's Wolf Packs held a party at the home of Mrs. S. F. H. Lane last Saturday when their scheduled game was called off due to the poor condition of the ice. The St. Matthias boys were the guests of the St. Leo's lads. Numerous games were played and there was more than enough food and drink for all.

Lou Bennett took first prize in the dart throwing test while Peter Gwyn, Chris Carr and Campbell Lane ranked second, third and fourth respectively. Tom Lavine turned out as the Champion in the spelling contest with Messrs. Woodburn and Osborne ranking second and third. Al Leslie won the Yes and No prize, J. Gwyn came second, Kenneth Drummond, third, and David Donahue, fourth.

One of the chief features of chess is the longevity of a single game. In Spain participants oftimes request in their will that their son should continue a match where death forced them to leave off.

Westmount Junior Whip Aggies 58-38

By GEORGE COCHRANE

Doug. Alexander's Westmount Junior cage aggregation kept undefeated record intact last Friday night when they journ out to Ste. Annes and humbled Macdonald College's highly intermediate band of cage artisans 58-38 in a fast-paced exhi tilt. What made the decisive victory really impressive was the that the Purple and White, who had been asked to play only at noon on game day, made the trip with a mere six players and were missing, among others, the services of sharp-shooting Pete Siemers and Bob Putman.

It took the locals a couple of minutes to adapt themselves to the peculiar features of the Aggies' small gym but once they did there was no stopping the battling Westmounters as they out - ran, out-passed and out-shot the sluggish looking Green and Gold squad.

Westmount's starting forward line of Jack Dudley, Gordie MacLeod and John Field supplied most of the scoring punch as they broke into the clear time and time again to tally 47 of their team's 58 points. Short, smooth - working MacLeod led the scoring parade with 19 points. Field came next with 16 while Dudley trailed with 12.

Take Early Lead

The battle was waged on even terms for the first few minutes but then the Alexander men began to find the range and to baffle the home team with an astonishing variety of one-hand shots. By half - time the Westmounters were nursing a healthy 29-18 lead and in the second half of the contest they continued to outplay the hard-pressed intermediates to outscore the Aggies 29-20.

There was a brief interlude towards the close of the fray when Macdonald snapped out of their lethargy long enough to keep up a sustained attack on the Purple and White basket. They rained shot after shot at the hoop but their shooting, for the most was way wide of the mark.

One of the few bright sp the picture, from the losers' of view, was the steady all- play of husky Bruce Scriv guard who hails from O who shone on the defence an ted 11 points to head Macd scoring parade.

THRILLS of the ROARIN' GAME

By KEN WATSON

Winnipeg, Man. Canadian Curling Champion, 1936 and 1942

For me, curling has provided many thrills but the one that topped them all took place one night in February, 1936, at the Amphitheatre Rink, Winnipeg, when we were engaged in a titonic struggle with the famous Gowanlock of Glenboro, for the right to represent Manitoba in the Dominion Brier Championships in Toronto the following month.

Previously, whenever the Gowanlock and Watson rinks had met, a curling duel of sizable proportions had always resulted. The tide of fortune always hinged on the last rock in the last end. Neither foursome ever had the satisfaction of two consecutive wins. The "heat" was on in every game from the first stone cast to the last. A miss in the later stages of a game was catastrophic and we all knew it.

Hence the 4000 spectators who sat tense and expectant through three hours of play on this particular evening had no notion of leaving for home when Gowanlock scored two to knot the count in the regulation twelve ends, and sent the game into overtime.

It had been almost heartbreaking. On three separate ends it appeared that we had the necessary margin of safety, but a rub of a guard, a running shot by Bun Cartmell, Gowanlock's brilliant vice-skip, or a canny draw by the opposing skipper himself had kept the score very even. A miss on the twelfth had enabled the Glenboro rink to pull even. Now the lifetime dreams of both rinks was to be realized or shattered by the outcome of the 13th end. We had the last rock. The front must be kept open at all costs. Tommy McKnight, the Glenboro lead, placed his first stone in front of the rings. Charlie Kerr promptly knocked it off. McKnight drew another to the same spot. This time Kerr missed. Bill McKnight then drew behind his brother's stone to the four foot ring. Marv McIntyre, our second, went after the front rock again but missed. The Glenboro second placed another guard on the shot stone. MacIntyre pinched one of them off with his last rock. Cartmell replaced it. Grant Watson, my brother and clean-up man came to bat. His running shot cleared the front of all guards. Cartmell again covered the counter. Grant removed it, barely missing the shot rock in so doing. Ab Gowanlock was now fighting to maintain a guard on that rock in the rings which loomed greater in importance with each shot. This time he assayed a close guard and executed the shot perfectly, stopping in front with an out-turn on the 12 foot circle. There they were! — What should I do? Go for the guard, or try to draw to the shot? The four of us went into a huddle and talked it over. This shot could mean the finish. It had to be made. We decided a draw past the guard to the shot-rock was the logical play as the stone was just back of the tee line. I have said prayers before but never as enthusiastically as at that particular moment. The spectators were now standing. You could hear a pin drop. The blood was pounding in my veins, and my ears were ringing loudly, but somehow I got that shot away and somehow my prayers were answered. The stone drew beautifully in behind the guard and nestled up against the shot stone.

Bedlam broke loose. The rest was anti-climax. I hardly remember what happened after. Ab tried to follow my stone but "wrecked" on the guard. Thank Heavens I didn't have to play my last shot. I hardly think I would have been physically able to do so.

Council Sponsors Opera To Aid Expansion Work

"Enthusiasm for the library runs high," remarked Mrs. D. W. Heywood, president of the Notre Dame de Grace Community Council, in discussing the coming presentation of "The Yeomen of the Guard" by the Lyric Operatic Society, which the Council is sponsoring to raise funds for the library. "Everybody is delighted with the idea of organizing extra branches, and enlarging the library programme", she continued. "Members of various committees are contributing their utmost to make the project a success. People are coming to the fore, revealing unsuspected abilities, and a readiness for the invaluable but unspectacular, hard spade-work that must be the starter for an affair of this kind. We are glad to report that ticket sales are going well. Of course, we want to do well for the library, but for our part, we are frankly pleased to be able to promise those who subscribe to "The Yeomen" a really good time, a rich musical treat and lots of hearty laughs, as well."

In offering "The Yeomen of the Guard," the Lyric Operatic Society draws upon the best talents among their fifty members. While they are all amateurs in the strictest sense of the word, admission to the roster of the society implies singing and acting ability of exceptionally high order. These talents will be given full play in the exacting roles of the operetta, under the skilful direction of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Norris, who perfected their art with the famous D'Oyly Carte Company of England, known the world over for their Gilbert & Sullivan productions. This will be the second time that the Society offers "Yeomen," which was previously given just before the war in 1939.

Sir Richard Cholmondeley, Jack Sutherland; Colonel Fairfax, Kevin Doherty; Sergeant Meryll, Robert Booth; Leonard Meryll, Leslie Griffiths; Jack Point, Frederick Sheward; Wilfred Shadbolt, Henry Bloom; Elsie Maynard, Anne Watson; Phoebe Meryll, Eileen Appleton; Dame Carruthers, Maud Whitmore; Kate, Evelyn Fergus; First Yeoman, Walter Johnston; Second Yeoman, David MacMillan; First Citizen, Evan Jones, and Second Citizen, Reg Lang.

Members of the Chorus

Norma Anderson, Betty Burton, Grace Collinge, Vera Comber, Evelyn Fergus, Mary Gutelius, Helen MacArthur, Aileen MacIntosh, Verna Weldron. Anne Stone, Grace Rogers, Nancy Symons, Gladys Booth, Doris Buckland, Claire Elder, Helen Morrison, Phyllis Johnston, Thelma Wilson, Isabelle Walker, Isabelle Robb, Phyllis Ravel, David MacMillan, Ken Smith, Stuart Pollock, Bill Lagendyck, Bill Walker, Gordon Bartlett, W. L. Johnston, T. F. Matheson, J. H. Pratt, C. H. Locke, Alex Anderson, H. Hardy, Evan Jones, Reg Lang, James Paterson, Ken Gatehouse, J. C. King, Irvine Jones.

The public is reminded that the opening performance on February 12th is specially for students and school children, but that subsequent performances of the "Yeomen" will be given at Victoria Hall on February 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21 at 8.30 p.m.

HERALDS IN SABLE

From Gaspé to the Rocky range;
Above the last snow-patches, sound
Their raucous caws, nostalgic, strange.

One hears the migrant wild geese fly
Honking defiance on return,
At the cloud-puffed, prophetic sky
Of March, to whither instincts yearn.

Black scavangers the first may be,
In nowise game, proclaimed a pest—
But their blackguard cacophony
First sets Spring welling in the breast.

Final Tribute Paid Mrs. Duclos

Funeral service was conducted for Mrs. Charles A. Duclos, daughter of the late James Meldrum, Montreal cartage contractor, at 576 Grosvenor avenue at 2.30 p.m. Wednesday by Rev. D. M. Grant of St. Andrew's Church, with burial in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Mrs. Duclos who died at her home on Monday, had been in ill health for some months. She was born and educated in Montreal, was a member of St. Andrew's Church and active in church work for many years.

She is survived by her husband one daughter, Mrs. Robert C. Hamman, jr., and four sisters, Mrs. William C. Wylie, Mrs. W. J. Templeton, Mrs. George A. Smith, all of Westmount; and Mrs. A. C. Charlton of South Orange, N.J.

HOBBY SHOW PLANS ARE WELL ADVANCED

The Hobby Show Committee is exceedingly busy these days. Committee meetings take place at the rate of one or two a day and constant enquiries and arrangements about the publicity, advertising and syllabus are keeping the president, Terry Seaman and the three chairmen, John Waterston, Bliss Cartmel and Crawford Johnson constantly on the go.

Signs have now been placed in all the schools announcing "Now is the Time to Prepare your Entry for the Westmount Boys and Girls Hobby Show April 9th-12th." The syllabus is almost complete and ready for the printers. Advertisements are being secured. Judges, prizes, ribbons and room arrangements —all the things that go together to make a Hobby Show are being attended to.

Judging from the enthusiasm of this representative committee of some fifty boys and girls and the adult advisors, this year's Hobby Show will be something well worth attending.

Clubs Asked To Raise $2,000,000 Memorial

Montreal Westward and Westmount Rotary Clubs, together with Rotary Clubs throughout the world are slated for immediate participation in Rotary International's most titanic financial project in its 41 years of existence. According to a lengthy telegram received on Monday by H. Gordon Hatcher, President of Montreal Westward Rotary Club, from District Governor Harry J. Yoder, who has been authorized to contact all Rotary Clubs of his area to impart the information that the Board of Directors of Rotary International, agreeing to comply immediately with a given mandate at the 1938 Rotary Convention, aims to swiftly raise $2,000,000 for Rotary Foundation Paul Harris.

The Board expresses a hope that instead of funeral flowers and memorials to the late Paul Harris, Chicago lawyer and founder of Rotary, money be sent to the Foundation for furthering International understanding.

All Rotary Clubs are being asked for immediate participation in the Paul Harris Memorial Fund, earmarked in Foundation to be available in entirety to trustees and Rotary International Board for advancing international understanding through Foundation Fellowship and other means.

Governor Yoder suggests that the $2,000,000 could be raised by each club in any fitting manner providing contributions are equivalent to an average of $10 per member.

Prompt Response

Rotary International urges this appeal receive immediate response so that by the 42nd Anniversary of Rotary International, on February 23, funds might be well under way in memory of Paul Harris and the tremendous project be surely accomplished by the time of the San Francisco Rotary Convention in June this year.

The idea of giving scholarships in education to promote world understanding is particularly in line with the measure adopted by the Montreal Westward Rotary Club three years ago, stated President H. Gordon Hatcher, the first scholarship being given at the Lachine High School at that time, peculiarly enough, with History being the principal subject.

Members of the Montreal Westward and Westmount Clubs can, along with members of all other clubs, donate $10 each as a minimum to the Fund or, as stated, suitable projects may be commenced to raise that equivalent as each Club's contribution.

Alpha Omegans Enjoy Movie On Better Thinking

A record attendance was experienced at the Alpha Omega Society last Sunday evening. With approximately 70-75 persons present an extremely interesting, enjoyable and entertaining program was presented to the group.

Mrs. Lois Goodwin, guest pianist for the evening, was enthusiastically applauded after two magnificent piano renditions, and returned by unanimous acclaim for an encore.

A movie was then presented by a group of United States and Canadian young people who are presently touring this continent promoting "better thinking" under the theme "Ideas Have Legs."

The final stage of the program was very fittingly brought to a close by Ray Locke, who led the audience in a sing-song. Mr. Locke started the group off singing songs in the lighter vein and then drew to a close by leading the singing of a series of negro spirituals. Refreshments were then served.

Sunday evening's program is to consist of an amateur hour. This program will be recorded, as it is presented, and then played back. Participants to date include Misses Vera Comber and Jean McGregor, as well as Messrs James McJannett, John Piper, Dick Denman, Ian Fraser, Don Yorke and Ray Locke. Guest soloist for the evening will be Ray Guess.

that someone in the first wave had taken ashore a Confederate flag and planted it on the beach. Humour in the midst of such a life and death struggle is a sure sign of a high morale, a will to win.

He also recalled how on one occasion a Canadian Battalion worn out after days of continuous fighting in Europe were ordered to reattack a canal, the situation was tense, the officers were afraid the haggard, tired troops might refuse to advance again. The commanding officer sensing the situation, spoke to the officers and asked them to feel out the men on the ordered attack. In a short while the officers returned and reported the men were not only ready for the attack, but that they were anxious to get going and get the battle won. "Probably the first time in history," Mr. O'Brien added, "that an officer asked the opinion of his men on a battle order."

Teamwork learned on the playing fields builds morale, sports build healthy bodies and a Canadian National Fitness Campaign is the one thing that can reach all the youth of our country, the speaker observed. The service clubs such as yourselves carry immense civic weight, he charged his speakers, and you need not wait for someone else to start the ball rolling. Montreal is sadly lacking in playing fields and we should not sit back and wait for George to see a program started for better playing space and more organized sports. "For George is you, and you, and you, and you, and you can and must provide the inspiration for this needed work," Mr. O'Brien concluded.

Park Toboggan-Ski Club Event Staged Tomorrow

Amid a colourful display of fireworks, climaxed with a giant bonfire, Montreal's historical Fete-de-Nuit will be staged this year atop of old Mount Royal, Friday evening commencing at 9 p.m., when His Worship, the Mayor of Montreal, will officially open the program which has been a traditional part of Montreal's winter program for over half a century.

As usual, the Fete-de-Nuit will be presented under the direction of the Park Toboggan and Ski Club and it is expected that many thousands will witness the event.

Following a meeting of the Committee last evening, Chairman Gerry Lortie announced that as a result of easing of wartime restrictions, the display of fireworks will be on a considerably larger, and more elaborate scale than has been possible since before the war.

The Toboggan Committee Chairman, Gordon Cowan, also held a meeting last evening to complete the finishing touches to their part of the program which wil consist of a series of races down icy shutes lined on both sides with glowing flares of many colours. Chairman Cowan also stated that arrangements would be made whereby spectators who were not members of the Club, could obtain use of Club toboggans and enjoy the t'rill of a ride down the shutes during the course of the evening's program.

Commencing about ten o'clock, after the fireworks display has died away, the giant bonfire, located on the shores of Beaver Lake, will be lighted and, as in past years, will be the centre of attraction for the thousands that witness this event every year and who gather round the fire to enjoy its pleasant warmth at the close of an evening on Mount Royal.

The Ski Division of the Club, under the direction of Chairman Bob Wallace and co-Chairman Art Hirst, are arranging to participate in this year's program and although the Ski Committee has not yet announced details of its program, it is understood that members will take part in a cross-country race, finishing in front of the Club House.

In addition to the Toboggan and Skiing events, a program of Skating Races will be held on Beaver Lake, which is located at the foot of the toboggan shutes, and is illuminated by floodlights from the Club House. Gay music, broadcast through a battery of loudspeakers, will add to the pleasure of the evening.

At the close of the outdoor program, President Frank Benedict and his Directors will hold an informal reception in the Club House which will be followed by a dance, attended by members and their guests.

As for many years past, the Park Toboggan and Ski Club has issued an open invitation to all winter sports enthusiasts to attend the Fete-de-Nuit Friday evening and, judging by the huge crowd, estimated at nearly 25,000, who attended this event last winter, the efforts of the special police guard will be taxed to the limit.

"Traffic lights are better than Stop signs" must be the answer to somebody's experiment. Last week the lights at the Western and Greene intersection were functioning only during rush hours and shiny new Stop signs were in evidence to control traffic during the remainder of the time. This week the signs have disappeared and the lights are working full time again.

The four Jehovah's Witnesses who have taken up their stands on each of the four corners of Victoria and Sherbrooke have attracted attention but little else. As a matter of fact, after watching them for fifteen minutes, we decided that there was more money in the newspaper racket. And warmer feet, too!

In an interesting address before the Polycon Club, University of Western Ontario, entitled, "The Economics of Slavery," P. C. Armstrong, 259 Metcalfe avenue, traced the history of slavery in its different aspects down through the ages and concluded that individualism destroys slavery. While he stated that he was not afraid of the return of slavery we must be constantly on our guard against any infraction of our personal liberty.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

BY WINIFRED E. WILSON

STARLING

"Look, Alice!" I exclaimed. "A black bird is trying to squeeze into a tiny crack above the upper window just across the street. There, it's gone in!"

That was about thirteen years ago, and a family of Starlings has ever since occupied the same quarters, summer and winter. Last year we first discovered that another lot lived in our chimney when some bread pills tumbled down into the unused fireplace. Hardy enough to withstand our cold climate, as long as there is enough food to be found Starlings remain in Canada all year around. Garbage cans seem to provide sufficient for the city birds; but those that live in country districts migrate for the most severe weather.

Perhaps you do not recognize these birds in their winter costumes, when their bills are dark brown instead of yellow and their metallic black plumage has light speckles. But you might know them by their long wings and very stubby tails. They are actually only about 8¼ inches long though their bodies are nearly as big as the Robins'. Their voices might mislead you into thinking another species was nearby, because they are great mimics.

Not content with making the big mistake of importing the English Sparrow, man again blunderd, and brought the European Starling to North America. Slightly more than fifty years ago 80 of them were freed in New York City to aid in wiping out an insect plague. Some were first noted in Halifax in 1915; by '23 they were observed in Montreal; they soon worked their way north and west, and two years ago reached Calgary and Edmonton.

Two or three broods of five each are brought up in a Starling's untidy nest of grass, twigs and rubbish. Vying with the House Sparrow and even chasing it from its pet nesting site, the Starling has become one of the most important factors in checking the spread of the smaller bird.

Domineering ways, a liking for holes in trees as well as crevices in buildings, and ability to dig into the earth with its long bill for insects which few of our native birds can, at have combined to bring about the 'Starling's spectacular crease. Ornithologists have signed a special bird house control this latest menace our song birds. Eggs can be destroyed or birds encouraged as necessity arises.
