A TELEGRAM from Quebec says that we are to have general local elections some time this fall. At the same time it is stated that it has been definitely decided that Mr. Chaplain is to enter the Ottawa Government at the close of the present session, as successor to Hon. Mr. Masson. It is also reported that Mr. Chaplain's name has been so long mentioned in this connection, that people are beginning to accept his removal to the Commons as a foregone conclusion, and arrangements to that end are now being made. It is also reported that on the return of the Ministers from England, that why the Province is to be ruled with the expense of another election will fall to see, and that rumor has spoken falsely this time.

This intelligence that the Princess Louise is again about to leave Canada will be received with regret by loyal subjects, all over the Dominion, and the regret will be intensified by the announcement that the royal lady is forced to take this step on the advice of her physicians. Her Royal Highness is said to be still suffering from the effects of the lamentable accident at Ottawa last winter, and a change of air is deemed necessary to effect a permanent cure. During her sojourn in the Dominion, the Princess has made herself popular with all classes, and her departure from amongst us, even if only for a brief sojourn in England, is much to be regretted at the present juncture, especially in Montreal, where it was anticipated that her presence would grace and add lustre to the opening of our Dominion Exhibition in September next. However, it is our sincere wish that Her Royal Highness may be benefited by her trip across the Atlantic, and that she may return to us fully restored to her accustomed health.

ROCHEFORT has once more set his foot on French soil, and one of his first acts has been to declare war against Gambetta. Both men are dead of the people; but while Rochefort is tainted with all the errors and excesses of the Commune, Gambetta is an ardent Republican, and would have his country governed after the best models of the republicanism.

Rochefort declares that any compromise between himself and Gambetta is impossible, nor is it likely that the latter should desire any reconciliation with the headstrong Commune. Rochefort further says he is ready to return to exile to-morrow rather than shrink from his duty. He says the existing Chamber of Deputies is entitled to no respect, because it abdicated its functions and surrendered its authority to Gambetta. At the same time Rochefort should remember that had it not been for the same Chamber of Deputies, he would still have been languishing in exile in Switzerland, but his vituperations were to be expected, and a repetition of the same from day to day, as long as he remains in la belle France.

Our Coming Exhibitions.

Much to our sorrow we find that the people of Montreal are generally ignorant in regard to the coming exhibition in September. Outside of the committee and a half dozen officials, directly connected with the show, very few persons know where to see an exhibition at all in Montreal this autumn, while about half of these few supposed to be local things like a county cattle show. That there could be such a state of general ignorance upon such an important subject as such a pretensions community is almost beyond conception. We verily believe if some of our public men were engaged to be hung on a certain day they would make a mistake as to the month or the week or the day of the week if they did not forget the nature of the entertainment altogether and dream away their numbered days in peaceful thoughtlessness.

Personal.

Ald. Grenier has returned to town.

Hon. Mr. Langvin left Ottawa yesterday on his Western tour of inspection.

The Governor-General will visit the Gulf on board the "Napoleon" about the 2nd of August.

Ex-Archbishop General Angers addressed his constituents at St. Anne de Beaumont after Mass on Sunday.

It is announced that Baroness Burdett-Coutts will shortly marry Mr. Ashland Burdett, M.P. for Exeter.

Prince Leopold has cancelled his American engagements, and will accompany the Princess Louise to England.

Archbishop Tachean has completed his annual pastoral visit to the various parishes of his Diocese, and returned to Quebec on Saturday.

On the occasion of Mr. McIlwain's farewell address in Winnipeg, last week, the what enterprise has done for our community, and do they realize the fact that what is done for the public well is quite as surely for the good of the individual citizen as well. There are undoubtedly some good men on the committee, and the worthy secretary, Mr. S. C. Stevenson, is thoroughly enterprising and painstaking; but these men cannot do everything, their efforts must be seconded by the hearty co-operation of the citizens generally, if a success worthy the name is to be hoped for. It seems to us that they managed these things in Montreal much better fifteen years ago, when men like the Hon. Mr. Fenay were able to identify themselves with public enterprises. Now the great mass of our people are utterly devoid of public spirit; they do not know what it means, and they don't want to know. Theirs is narrow selfish, grab-for-you-can-get policy, and unless they have little hope for the future of Montreal, they will be equal to an open declaration of hostility to the city's interests, and we had better all go West at once. It should not be forgotten that it will be years before Montreal again has a fair opportunity to advertise the city and the Province and the nation to the rest of the world, will it use its opportunities? There should be provision made for such a variety of special attractions at the show and such a programme of extraordinary amusements in the city as will make the whole continent amazed at us. Men and money are wanted. The time and the cash will be lost, there is not a day to be lost, let those who care anything about it, supply their good feelings at once. As an
