O come All Ye faithful!

Maurice Singfield

RECORD CORRESPONDENT - CIDI

Christmas came early for CIDI. Broadcasting full-time for the first time since the beginning of November has given everyone at the studio a lift. It's been a long road, and will continue to be so, well into the future.

This year, for residents of the Town of Brome Lake and Waterloo, community radio is a new experience. Come November of next year, Radio Communautaire Missisquoi (RCM) plans to introduce CIDI to most of Brome Missisquoi and parts of Shefford County with a 500 watt transmitter on a Patch Hill tower, just outside of Brome, depriving Santa once again of delivering RCM's Christmas present.

Instead of Santa, RCM has its community deliver the gift of radio, because without the support of local businesses, the municipal council of Brome Lake and members of its listening community CIDI wouldn't exist.

Talk about spirit. The little station that could is on the map and fulfilling a need. It's being who we are. Isn't that great?

Over the past three years I have had the pleasure of working with a team of CIDI believers; the board of directors and management of RCM. To a certain degree one could say that we believe in Santa Claus, because there were times when people thought we'd never get this project off the ground. And, then there were times we caved in, thinking they were right. Fortunately we persevered.

Unlike Christmas, community radio is celebrated every day. That's the wonderful thing about broadcasting, it brings all of us together, family and friends, and doesn't need a special time of the year to be recognized. We can give each other gifts of expression wrapped in sincerity and feel good about ourselves without spending a fortune on presents.

Christmas however, is not the only religious celebration at this time of year. There is also Hanukkah, the "Festival of Lights," which starts on the 25th day of the Jewish calendar month of Kislev and lasts for eight days and nights. It too has a tradition of gift-giving, with blessings, games, and festive foods.

Nothing in this world is perfect accept the ability we have as humans to accommodate each other. As a piano tuner, I have learned that a well tuned piano is one that is put out of tune just the right amount. All musical intervals (3rds, 4ths, 5ths etc.) have to accommodate each other. If one insists on being perfect it jeopardizes the overall harmonic purity of the instrument. Much the same as people living in the earth. No matter what we believe as communities, culturally we have to get along if we want peace and harmony in our world.

When we listen to the radio we "tune in," but are we in tune? CIDI is like no other radio station you have ever heard, because it presents who we are,

Zac Brown Band breaks new ground

Zac Brown played in bars as a solo artist for several years. His picking skills on guitar are very impressive as well as his extensive catalogue of originals and his incredible knowledge of popular songs.

He formed the current version of the Zac Brown Band four years ago and they have built a solid reputation with their live shows. Members of the band include bassist John Hopkins, fiddler Jimmy De Martini and more recent additions of guitarist/organist Coy Bowles and drummer Chris Fryar.

The Foundation is the band's third album, and you can't imagine a better album to draw country music fans' attention. Brown's love for musical diversity is apparent from the first single 'Chicken Fried', which is already at the top of the country music charts.

Despite selling over 30,000 records without a major label, Zac Brown Band was until now a southern band in its own confining niche. However, the tables have turned with their new record.

Although they aren't typical 'cookie cutter' radio-ready country, the Zac Brown Band suddenly have found themselves with a No.1 country hit. 'Chicken Fried' is their first single released and a catchy tune with great harmony and fiddle playing. This new album could be described as being half island/reggae country (similar to Kenny Chesney's new music) mixed with another half bluegrass/country (similar to Union Station).

These guys are all amazing musicians playing with great ease whether it is country, rock, reggae, or bluegrass. They have a sound of their own that is firmly grounded in southern roots.

This new album is co-produced by Keith Stegall, whose impressive accomplishments include most of Alan Jackson's albums. Stegall's fingerprints are all over the album. He has given each track here a stripped down feel, using fiddles, steel, which makes country music sound like it should.

This is a definite break from the electric guitar riffs and ear-popping drums that we hear in so many modern productions. Still it sounds very modern and fresh.

What makes The Foundation so special is that from song to song, the sound is different. It starts with the Jimmy Buffet style 'Toes'. This song is about lazing at the beach and the lyrics are set to a bright and sunny melody.

'Highway 20 Ride' brings the mood to the other extreme. It is a gorgeous number about heartache. Brown's sensitive vocal really bring out a whole level of emotional meaning. There's also a reggae feel on 'Where the Boat Leaves From'. It redefines the classic barroom by mixing Texas honky tonk with Caribbean boogie.

As a band, these five men are truly self sufficient. Except for one track, they co-wrote or wrote most of these songs with lead singer Zac Brown. The Foundation is an album that showcases individuality, attitude and style.

And music is only a small part of what Zac Brown is all about. The Dahlonega, Georgia.-raised husband and father is a chef and former restaurant owner renowned for his homemade special sauces and great Southern cooking. He's developing a charitable foundation to run a children's camp (lending even more resonance to the album's title). Brown refers to his foundation and camp plans as his "life's work."

In spite of not fitting the genre perfectly, these guys are going to be around, for a long, long time.

CIDI:

the true make up of our villages, towns and cities and not just about what is going on culturally in the rest of the world. It speaks our languages and keeps us in tune by accommodating the different aspects of who we are.

It's all about harmony. Being in tune is a reflection of nature, an orchestra of players willing to accommodate each other in concert with the elements.

As people come to our community-broadcast table voices will be heard, some for the first time. It's our job at CIDI to provide an opportunity for the people of the Townships to be heard in a clear and professional manner. It's not by cloning traditional radio programming that we will entice people to listen, but by being ourselves.

Every day, the media promotes the most-popular events, personalities and products of corporate citizens in control of our lives, and every day we get further away from the truth. What is the truth? Who we are.

Are we Bob Dylan or Arnold Davis from Mansonville, the bakery at a super market or a bakery shop in Knowlton? How about Quebecers or Canadians? What about Canadians vs Americans?

The importance of someone or something is always compared to public opinion, but it is money that decides who or what becomes important in today's markets, unless we reinvent the wheel with community radio.

We must embark on a journey of discovery and renewal, especially in hard times, because the big guys will desert us when it comes time to pay the piper. Who can we count on? Ourselves. We have to step up to the challenge, be ourselves and be counted. We have to broadcast the unique quality of life in the Townships and not some carbon copy of global greatness found on common radio programming of the day.

The thing is, we have to be good. We can't rely on "community" alone to sell radio in our region as much as we can't rely on "it's a fundraiser for a good cause" to sell tickets to an event. People aren't going to buy a cheap package of global excellence when they can tune into the real thing from broadcasters outside the area. We have to prove ourselves, and the way to do that is to develop the talent in the Townships we have waiting to be discovered. This is RCM's job and we are ready to perform.

On that note, I would like to wish everyone a happy holiday season on behalf of Radio Communautaire Missisquoi and its tireless group of volunteers. Please contact us at 1-888-539-2098 or 450-242-9873 if you wish to participate in the greatest thing since local sports heroes. And for all of you living in the Brome Lake and Waterloo areas, tune in to 99.1 fm. Merry Christmas and a Happy, Healthy and Prosperous New Year to all!

Maurice Singfield is vice-president of the board of directors, a volunteer and CIDI's program director for Radio Communautaire Missisquoi.

'Farce' goes out with a cannon shot

As Roger Abbott says, the Chicken Cannon is right up there with the doughnut as the ultimate expression of Canadian identity. "Those two things have been our icons for the series," says the co-founder of Royal Canadian Air Farce, which is ending its 15-year run on CBC Television with "Air Farce New Year's Eve Final Flight" Wednesday, Dec. 31. "How Canadian: a doughnut shop and a thing that fires food at pictures. "It's the violent nonviolence of it that I find funny. The Chicken Cannon has the potential for enormous violence. But instead of putting real weapons in it, we put in ketchup and chopped-up cheese. Instead of firing it at a real person, we go with symbolic targets. It's so gentle and so much a part of our peacekeeping nature. Then we sit down and have a tasty doughnut." And with that last blast of the Chicken Cannon, Air Farce recedes into history. Air Farce debuted on CBC Radio in 1973 as a team of five: Abbott, Don Ferguson, Luba Goy, Dave Broadfoot and John Morgan. Broadfoot left in 1988, and the remaining four members brought the show to TV with a New Year's special in 1992 and then, the following year, with the series.

By then, Air Farce had a loyal following of listeners who loved its topical political sketches laced with groaners, sly jabs and broad impersonations of strange Canadian personalities. It also had many detractors, who regarded the show as corny and obsessed with Canadian politics and minutiae.

"There are two phrases we hear about a lot," Abbott says. "New Canadians say to us, 'Everything I know about Canada I learned from watching your show.' And we always think, 'Dear God, what are we responsible for?'"

"And then families – the kids or the parents – will say, 'Everything our kids know about politics they know from watching your show.' Occasionally, they'll happen to be in the room when the news is on, see a politician and say, 'Oh, that's the guy 'Air Farce' makes fun of.'"

After the retirement of Morgan, who died in 2003, "Air Farce" began to mutate. Ferguson and Abbott rejuvenated the show, bringing in a new generation of talent and taking it live in 2007.

In 2003, Ottawa-born Jessica Holmes was brought on board, followed in 2004 by stand-up comics Craig Lauzon and Alan Park. Finally, Penelope Corrin joined in 2007.

"Our plan in bringing in Jessica, Craig, Alan and Penelope was the hope that CBC would like to see that franchise continue," Abbott says. "But I think the network decided now was as good a time as any just to change streams."

celebrity scoop BY JOHN CROOK

Simon Helberg

of "The Big Bang Theory"

Born: Dec. 9, 1980, in Los Angeles
Marital status: Married to actress Jocelyn Towne
Family ties: Father is actor-writer Sandy Helberg; mother is writer and former casting director Harriet B. Helberg.
Film credits: "Walk Hard: The Dewey Cox Story," "Mama's Boy," "Van Wilder," "Old School," "Evan Almighty," "Good Night, and Good Luck" and "For Your Consideration"
Previous TV credits: "Studio 60 on the Sunset Strip," "Joey," "The Minor Accomplishments of Jackie Woodman," "Arrested Development," "Unscripted," "Life on a Stick," "Less Than Perfect," "Quintuplets" and "MadTV"

My Favorite:

Book: "I loved 'One Hundred Years of Solitude.' It was so imaginative, so detailed, and I'm a big fan of romance. It had a bit of everything. I also have been reading Cormac McCarthy's 'The Road,' although I've taken a little time off from that one. It's very intense. I also like Tom Robbins' books a lot."

infocus

"Our Massive Planet," TBS, www.tbs.com
 Featuring the comedic genius of Jim Gaffigan, "Our Massive Planet" blends the raw beauty of nature in stunning video detail with an utter lack of appropriate verbal description delivered with deadpan seriousness. Imagine watching "Planet Earth" with the audio from Gaffigan's "Sexy Tour" synced in. The absurdity of Gaffigan's commentary as he attempts feebly and with absolute disregard for accuracy - to inform viewers about the animal kingdom is nature's answer to "The Daily Show."

Season 7 Behind-the-Scenes, "24," Fox, www.fox.com

If you've been champing at the bit for the new season of "24" since the two-hour teaser movie aired in November, this quick-hit look at season seven brings us up to date on the reasons agent Jack Bauer (Kiefer Sutherland) spends this upcoming day in Washington, D.C. We hear from Sutherland, executive producer Howard Gordon, and new cast members Annie Wersching and Cherry Jones, who plays our latest president, Allison Taylor. And Tony Almeida is back? Awesome.

We are confident, attentive, and knowledgeable at

whatwe learned from tv lately

BY BEVERLY FOSTER SEINBERG

"BOOKY AND THE SECRET SANTA"

Hard economic times make it easier to keep focused on what Christmas is really all about.

Shirley MaLaine

"BROADWAY: THE GOLDEN AGE"

"AIRPLANE!"

June Cleaver speaks fluent jive.

"Star Trek" fans prefer to be called Trekkers, not Trekkies.

"A MISER BROTHERS' CHRISTMAS"

Sibling rivalry must take a back seat to getting Santa's deliveries done.

"IT HAPPENED ONE NIGHT"

It's impossible for two people of different sexes to go on a road trip without romantic sparks eventually flying.

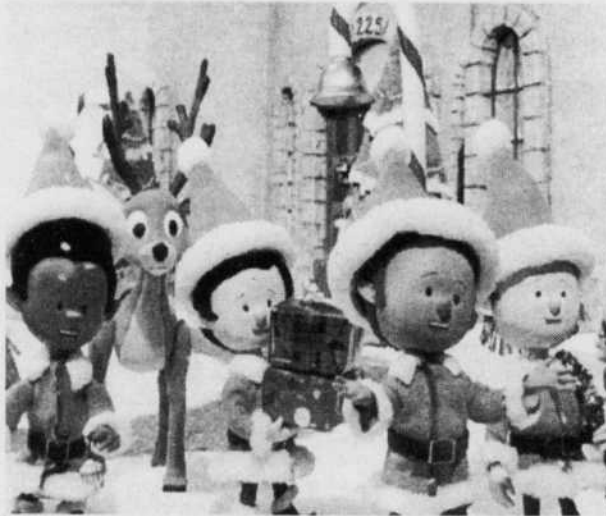

Owen Wilson

"DRILLBIT TAYLOR"

Even a scam artist can grow a conscience, especially if there's a possible love interest around as fertilizer.

"NATIONAL LAMPOON'S CHRISTMAS VACATION"

Never light a match near a storm drain into which someone has emptied his RV's toilet.

Peter Sellers

"DR. STRANGELOVE OR: HOW I LEARNED TO STOP WORRYING AND LOVE THE BOMB"

There's no fighting allowed in the War Room.

Hockey Movies

BY JACQUELINE CUTLER

"Love Story" (1970): Don't just think of it as a Romeo and Juliet for the free love era. The love between a preppie and a poor girl (Ryan O'Neal, Ali MacGraw) was hot among the snow in Harvard Yard. He played for the hockey team while she cheered him on. As he zipped around on those skates, she fell in love with him. A wonderful bit of hockey trivia is that real college hockey players were shown, and the Cornell hockey coach only allowed their jerseys to be used in the film if Cornell beat Harvard.

"Slap Shot" (1977): Paul Newman. Need we say more?

Here, Newman plays Reggie Dunlop, whose professional career as a hockey player is ending. The team he coaches looks as if it will fold, so Dunlop devises a plan he hopes will keep it on ice. He plants a fake story in the local paper, claiming that a Florida retirement center wants to buy the team. Some new blood (quite literally) is brought in, making for harrowing hockey/fight scenes. You can't help but laugh at the nuttiness of it all when Dunlop puts out a bounty on a competitor. This movie was notorious when it came out because of its profanity.

D.B. Sweeney and Moira Kelly
