Man is on his way to the moon

CAPE KENNEDY (AP) — Man is on his way to the moon. The three Apollo 11 astronauts today are riding there following this morning's successful blastoff.

The three Apollo 11 astronauts wakened before dawn today and received the good news that everything was on schedule for mankind's greatest journey of exploration, the attempt to land two men on the moon.

Mission commander Neil Armstrong, 38, Edwin Aldrin, 39, and Michael Collins, 38, were roused at 4.15 a.m. EDT in their quarters five miles from the launch pad.

They were told the countdown was right on time, ticking toward a planned 9.32 a.m. blastoff. The astronauts were to start their epic voyage on the great power of a Saturn V rocket, the world's most powerful machine.

Weather conditions were good, with a launch time forecast of scattered clouds at 15,000 feet, a light southeast breeze and temperature in the high 80s.

Immediately after waking, Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins underwent a brief physical examination, then sat down to breakfast of steak, eggs, toast, coffee and orange juice. They had eaten steak and mashed potatoes before retiring about 9 p.m. Tuesday.

Later, they were to don their space suits and travel to the launch pad in a special air-conditioned van.

LAUNCH CREW BUSY Throughout the night, the launch crew was busy pumping more than 525,000 gallons of liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen into the fuel tanks of the Saturn V.

A crowd of hundreds of thousands, the largest ever to watch a launching from this spaceport, was on hand to view the start of the great adventure.

Included were the wife of the commander, Janet Armstrong; former president Lyndon B. Johnson, a firm supporter of the space program; Vice-President Spiro Agnew; hundreds of congressmen and government officials; and more than 3,000 representatives of news media from 52 nations.

Also here, camped outside the gates, was Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, leading a group of poor people who would rather see space funds used to fight poverty.

President Nixon phoned the spacemen from the White House on the eve of their launching and told them: "You carry with you a feeling of goodwill in this greatest adventure man has ever undertaken. I want you to know that my hopes and my prayers—and those of all Americans—go with you." Armstrong told the president he and his colleagues were "looking forward to the liftoff." He said they were honored by the phone call and "encouraged by the interest and good wishes and prayers of Americans across the country."

If Apollo 11 succeeds, Armstrong and Aldrin next Sunday afternoon will detach a spindly-legged lunar landing craft and fly it to a touchdown in the moon's Sea of Tranquility, leaving Collins to orbit overhead.

At 2.21 a.m. Monday, Armstrong is to step on to the surface and for the first time man will walk on soil that is not of his world. It will be an imprint on history.

Aldrin will follow minutes later, and two men will plant an American flag on moonland.

But they will not claim the territory for the United States. For Armstrong and Aldrin go to the moon as ambassadors for all of earth. They bear with them small flags of 136 nations, which will return with them. They will leave on the moon messages from the leaders of 73 nations including Prime Minister Trudeau of Canada.

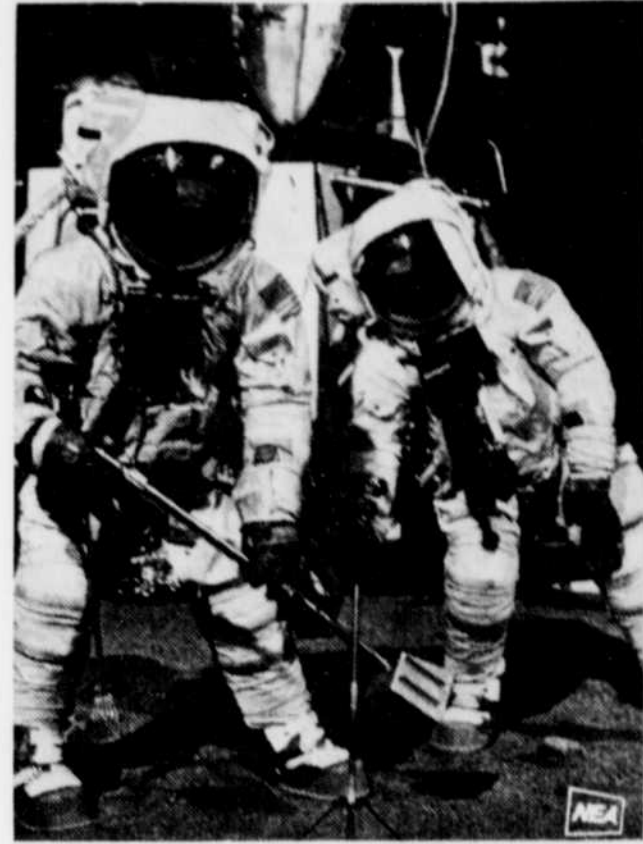

Also left behind will be a plaque with these words: "Here men from the planet earth."

"First set foot upon the moon July 1969 AD"

"We came in peace for all mankind."

AWARE OF DANGER The astronauts are well aware that theirs is the most difficult and dangerous space flight ever undertaken. They must depend on the perfect meshing of the 15,000,000 parts that comprise their rocket and two spaceships.

A slight error in their descent could send Armstrong and Aldrin crashing to the moon. If their liftoff engine doesn't fire, they will remain stranded on the moon, with only enough oxygen for about 36 hours of life, and no rescue possible.

The third man on the moon mission, Mike Collins, below, will play a comparatively passive role—unless something goes wrong. He stays behind in the Command Module while Armstrong and Aldrin prowl the lunar surface. In case of trouble during the Lunar Module's descent, he will attempt to drop down and pluck his fellow astronauts from the crippled vehicle. If he fails, he will be the only member of the trio capable of returning to earth.

Moon souvenirs in the form of soil and rocks will be scooped up by Edwin Aldrin and Neil Armstrong, top, soon after they leave their Landing Module. Moonquakes, if they exist, will be monitored by a seismometer set up by Neil Armstrong, left. The device, radioing data across 240,000 space miles, will enable scientists back on earth to keep their fingers on the lunar pulse.

There's just too much wheat, says PET

WINNIPEG (CP) — In the federal election campaign last year, Prime Minister Trudeau constantly made the point that he was not making economic promises.

He still isn't. On the second day Tuesday of his week-long Prairie tour, he rejected the idea of subsidies for farmers on dairy products and the suggestion that the government declare a moratorium on debts of western farmers to merchants.

In a nose-to-nose meeting with two farm leaders here, he said the government can do nothing more to sell Canadian wheat. There was just too much wheat in the world. The farmer as well as the government was trapped.

"Your fight is not with me," the prime minister told Ken Singleton and John Palamarchuk, president and vice-president of the Manitoba Farmers' Union after an 80-minute meeting with the Canadian wheat board.

"I'm not trying to grind the farmer's face in the dust."

Mr. Singleton had recommended the debt moratorium and Mr. Palamarchuk that the farmers themselves take over operation of the wheat board, a Crown agency which markets wheat for farmers.

SAYS BOARD RESPECTED Mr. Trudeau said the board is respected all over the world.

W. C. McNamara, chief commissioner of the board, outlined in private to Mr. Trudeau the alternatives open to Canada in trying to sell the wheat crop. These alternatives were not made public. Federal sources said the discussion of prices was only general.

About 50 demonstrators at the wheat board offices demanded that the government do something about the Prairie farmer's cash income situation. Mr. Trudeau shook hands with some of them. But he didn't make any promises.

In a farmhouse meeting with some 15 dairy farmers earlier near Beausejour, Mr. Trudeau said he is not in favor of their recommendation for dairy subsidies.

Premier Ed Schreyer of Manitoba entered the debate indirectly a few hours after he was sworn in as NDP first minister.

He told reporters that unless by some miracle the marketing of farm products can be increased, governments have an almost moral obligation to provide price supports.

The farmer was bearing the main brunt of inflation because he had little bargaining power.

MET TRUDEAU Mr. Schreyer made the comment after a 30-minute meeting with Mr. Trudeau at which they discussed farm cash income, the Official Languages Act, constitutional review, northern developments and the future of the port of Churchill.

Bank rate is jumped up again to all-time record 8 per cent

OTTAWA (CP) — The bank rate has been raised, effective today, to a record eight per cent to offset the high level of external interest rates. Governor Louis Rasminsky of the Bank of Canada announced late Tuesday.

It is the third increase this year in the bank rate, which sets the tone for the whole lending market. The earlier increases, to seven per cent March 3 and 7 1/2 per cent June 11, were made to offset rising interest rates abroad and tighten credit at home.

Mr. Rasminsky said in a statement that the current increase is "consistent with the desire of the central bank to moderate the expansion of bank credit but the primary cause for the present action was the high level of external interest rates."

These had risen "in certain key areas" in recent weeks. "In particular there had been a large build-up in Canadian investors' holdings of foreign currency 'swapped' deposits, on which abnormally high rates were available."

SEEN AS TEMPORARY Mr. Rasminsky said he is asking the chartered banks to regard the present level of their foreign currency "swapped" deposits as a temporary ceiling.

"Swapped" deposits represent funds converted into a foreign currency, "usually U.S. dollars," and placed on term deposit with a bank which has undertaken to convert back into Canadian dollars at maturity.

Major New York banks June 9 raised their prime lending rate to 8 1/2 per cent from 7 1/2 per cent.

The Bank of Canada two days later raised the bank rate to 7 1/2 per cent.

Bomb attacks enter soccer war

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — Fierce border fighting was reported Tuesday on the second day of the Honduras-El Salvador war. El Salvador claimed its troops had thrust 45 miles into Honduran territory. Planes of both countries bombed airports and military targets.

But El Salvador announced later it was suspending all military air activity pending the arrival from Washington of a peace team of the Organization of American States.

The Honduran government reported its Second World War vintage Corsairs attacked Salvadoran military bases and fuel depots at Catuco, La Union, Acajutla and the Ilopango international airport. It said the airport was put out of action, structures were damaged and oil supplies were destroyed.

El Salvador said four Honduran planes were downed, most of them by anti-aircraft fire. A Salvadoran broadcast said "large numbers of Honduran troops are dead," especially along the border where fighting was described as fiercest. Honduras said its troops were maintaining a firm position.

A dispatch from Guatemala, which borders both countries, quoted Salvadoran officials as saying 1,000 Honduran troops had crossed into El Salvador.

SCHOOLS CLOSED The Salvadoran National Assembly declared a state of siege and suspended all school classes while the El Salvador high command declared that for every bomb dropped on Salvadoran civilians the air force would drop 10 bombs on Tegucigalpa.

El Salvador said it had 118 planes ready for combat. At the United Nations in New York, the Salvadoran ambassador said his government hoped the OAS would find a solution to the conflict without the necessity of taking it before the UN Security Council.

The Honduran government, in a note to Secretary-General U Thant, charged the Salvadoran attack was premeditated. It said El Salvador for several years had been building military installations near the border and acquiring excess military equipment.

Reuters news agency quoted diplomatic sources in Washington as saying that Honduras indicated it would accept an indefinite ceasefire if El Salvador would do so too.

A government broadcast from San Salvador said its forces had been ordered into action after "continuous attacks by Honduran troops on the Salvadoran frontier, violation of air space and the knowledge that Honduran troops and air force personnel had mobilized in Santa Rosa de Lima for a large-scale attack."

A seven-nation OAS team left Washington Tuesday morning for Guatemala. It was to depart for the scene of the conflict later in the day.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Inspect Nursing Homes Before Final Selection

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

The number of available nursing home beds has increased by nearly 25 per cent in the last three years, thus reflecting an increase in the number of elderly persons who, for one reason or another, cannot be taken care of in private homes.

Nursing homes in general provide either short- or long-term care for persons who are chronically ill or disabled.

If you have to select a nursing home for a relative, friend or even for yourself, you should visit the home and find out whether it is licensed by the state or local government. Don't be afraid to ask to see the license. It should be displayed in a prominent place.

Select a home that provides the level of nursing care recommended by your doctor. Ask whether a night shift is maintained. Is a staff physician available and can you, if you prefer, have your own doctor? Is there an organized program of recreational activities? What are the visiting hours? Are there facilities for physical therapy and rehabilitation? In an emergency, is transportation to a nearby hospital available? Ask to see a week's menus.

As you look around the premises take note of the general atmosphere, cleanliness and attitude of the attendants. And finally, get a clear statement of the basic cost and what additional charges you may expect. The more you find out before a commitment is made, the less chance for disappointment later. For more details you may want to write to the American Nursing Home Association, Suite 607, 1025 Connecticut Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Q—My eyes burn and itch all the time. After I rub them, they get red. I have tried wearing glasses, taking capsules for allergy, yellow oxide of mercury ointment and eye drops but nothing helps. What can I do to get relief?

A—You have conjunctivitis. Rubbing always aggravates this condition. Allergy is often the cause and, in such cases, identifying then avoiding the allergen is much more effective than antihistamine capsules or any drugs. If your trouble is caused by an infection, sulfacetamide or Neosporin eye drops should help you.

Diamonds didn't break 3-3 as he had expected but South had a one-track mind. After East took the third diamond and led a second heart, South led another diamond to set up the last one, dummy East won and led a spade to West. West cleared the hearts and, although South did cash one extra diamond trick, that still left him one short of his contract.

South complained about bad luck. Suits never broke for him. He was right that diamonds had been anything but his best friend this time but he had no right to blame luck for losing his contract. When East won the third diamond and led a second heart, South should have abandoned the diamond suit and tried to double finesse in clubs. Unless both club honors were held by West, this would give South three club tricks and his contract.

Water supply also inadequate
Medical Center is booming
but road still not paved

One hundred and fifty four beds at the University Medical Centre are now occupied, with an additional 30 to 40 patients admitted every couple of weeks. Dr. Jacques Susset, head of Public Relations, said yesterday.

Practically every speciality is at work. Neuro-surgery, previously unknown in the Eastern Townships, is available.

"This is a great asset to the community", Dr. Susset said. The delay involved in transferring an acutely ill patient to Montreal can now be avoided.

All emergency cases are treated in the out-patients department, and admitted without referral. Appointments for consultation are, of course, preferable, he added.

The 434 bed hospital was originally scheduled to open in January. A shortage of nurses, reflecting the general situation in the country, has contributed to the delay.

"Relatively speaking, we are better off than most hospitals", Dr. Susset said. "We are gradually opening the wards while many are gradually closing them". 5000 additional nurses are needed in Canada alone. Night work without the compensation of an increase in salary fails to appeal to many. In some cases nursing schools were closed before CeGep's were equipped to take over the training. Recruiting of nurses from outside the country is underway at the centre.

Half of the patients at the centre are outside the area, and at the moment, most of them are routine cases. A trend to more specialized cases is inevitable, Dr. Susset said. 80 per cent of floor space is reserved for the hospital, 20 per cent is available for teaching and research with the remainder being used for administrative purposes and libraries.

Ninety-five doctors from 14 different countries and of every conceivable speciality are at the centre. With the finest of medical equipment available, the hospital was designed to serve the type of patient who is presently being sent to Montreal or elsewhere. Others are expected to be attracted from a distance.

The medical specialist population of the ET has increased by 30 per cent since the centre's inception. The Centre is affiliated with all the hospitals in Sherbrooke, with many local doctors involved in teaching and the practice of medicine.

The Centre remains plagued with non-existent landscaping and poor road conditions from the city limits.

Andre Brien, in charge of Roads for Sherbrooke explained that a number of circumstances have combined to delay improvements. The road was partly rebuilt last year. Water supply at the Centre was discovered to be inadequate, to the point where water has been transported to the centre in tanks. Further improvements to the road await the building of a new water line, to be constructed by Jules Chapdelaine. The same contractor is also reconstructing the bridge, and only then can the road be completed. Tenders have been submitted for asphalt paving, which must be completed before the winter season. Mr. Brien expects the road should be in first class condition by September.

BUSINESS SLOW—The paintings are hanging on Sherbrooke's Ruelle des Artistes but business looks a little slow. Council, Monday, approved a motion to close off Whiting Street so local artists could sell their work. (Record photo: Gerry Lemay)

Bertrand might call vote after party caucus

Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand returned Tuesday from a vacation in summer climes and immediately began his efforts to remove some of the cloudiness that exists in the Quebec political atmosphere, his first major task being a caucus tomorrow of the Union Nationale Members of the National Assembly—a meeting which some observers claim will be followed by the dissolution of the Assembly and the calling of a provincial general election, possibly on September 17.

How much these predictions are based on cold political logic and how much are wishful thinking are difficult to determine. But both those favoring an early fall vote and those who believe the election will be delayed until next spring can advance strong arguments for their particular beliefs.

Proponents of an early election claim that Mr. Bertrand has been placed in an intolerable position by the open revolt of a section of his party which gives its allegiance to Educational Minister Jean-Guy Cardinal.

They say that it would be political folly for Mr. Bertrand with his narrow majority in the Assembly to risk a session this fall during which he might be defeated at any moment and forced to call an election at an unpropitious time and on an unpopular issue—perhaps over drastic tax increases needed to balance the provincial accounts.

But by forcing an immediate showdown with his more recalcitrant members through a general election the Premier could hope for a strengthening of his position, either by increasing Union Nationale House membership or by the rejection of their July pensions cheques, now being delivered, increased by two to 14 per cent with a note to the effect the government is deeply concerned over their position in the face of rising living costs.

The rate of increase varies with the time the recipient has been on pension, with the higher increases going to older recipients whose basic pension is lower.

But the Union Nationale internal divisions also can be used to discount an early vote.

Those favoring delay contend that the hard feelings resulting from the recent leadership Congress may soften with time and that if Mr. Bertrand can hold the party together for the next six months he could enter a spring election with a fairly united organization.

And some hope is lent to the Union Nationale by the growing dissension within the Liberal ranks over the leadership of Jean Lesage.

Government forces can hope, perhaps none too strongly, that the Liberal Congress in October will produce so much friction that the Opposition organization may be shot to pieces—either forcing the Opposition chief to resign or compel him to enter an election with a divided party.

The sole arbitrator of these arguments is the Premier himself and his report will be binding. Quebec either will or will not have a general election in September.

Police investigate
rash of break-ins

Police are faced with a rash of break-ins as the warm summer continues.

Early Monday morning, intruders broke into a garage at 917 Courcellette Street in Sherbrooke and took some money.

The owner, Henri Martineau, discovered that his peanut machine had been broken into and money inside stolen.

The intruders entered through an unlocked door to penetrate in the garage.

Police are investigating.

On Monday also, intruders broke into the Sherbrooke 3-Minute Car Wash at 201 Jacques Cartier and took $25.

Police found a broken window on the rear door.

Early Monday morning, another business was broken into and money stolen.

The intruders broke a window on the back door to get inside the new Mr. Muffler garage situated at 1925 King Street West.

An estimated $120 in cash was reported stolen.

Apollo 11 will touch moon
with Quebec-built legs

MONTREAL (CP)—The Apollo astronauts, who blast off for the moon today, will land on the lunar surface with legs made in Quebec.

Part of the credit for the historic landing will go to a suburban Longueuil machine shop superintendent who built the landing gear for the lunar module that will carry two American astronauts to the moon's surface.

He is Fernand Michon, who says, "I just did my job and, besides, I've had to work on much tougher assignments in the past."

Jesse Turner, president of the Longueuil firm—Heroux Machine Shops—said: "One of the reasons we were awarded the contract by Grumman Ltd. is because Mr. Michon devised a special tool to make the lunar module's four legs."

The Longueuil company competed against eight companies in the United States for the contract.

"We were the only ones able to make the landing gear to their specifications," Mr. Turner said.

The four legs, made of an aluminum-magnesium alloy, are 12 feet long and weigh 14 pounds each.

Mr. Turner said the problem in making the legs is they are empty cylinders with walls less than one-eighth of an inch thick and have grooves of varying thickness at either end.

"In making these grooves, many potential manufacturers found that the cylinder collapsed and assumed an oval shape," Mr. Turner said.

"What we needed was a machine that could gauge out the inside of a block of metal while putting grooves on the outside." This is where Mr. Michon came into the picture.

"I bought an old lathe and got to work with some equipment we had at the plant," he said.

After 2½ months, Mr. Michon had manufactured an instrument capable of producing the legs.

Supporting struts and other parts of the landing gear were easier to make, since the company has been in the undercarriage business for 27 years.

MOVING MEMORIES—"It's like moving my past", Dave Donachie, proprietor of Dave's Transport, said, when he undertook to move furnishings from the Mitchell School, which is one of the projects in the list of changes being made within the local English language education system. According to Mr. Donachie, every room brought back memories, and offered reminders of the good old carefree days of childhood. Moving from the Mitchell School was a big job, big enough to be handled by experts like Dave's Transport.

Civic administration reforms need caution

The entire issue of appointing a City Manager to handle the operations of Sherbrooke is generating more heat than light, with most of the discussion involving the personalities of the mayor and certain of the aldermen.

This is unfortunate as there is no doubt that some new system of handling civic affairs must be instituted without much more delay. The present system, which has been in effect for nearly a century — with allowances for the growth of population and the civic responsibilities — is inefficient and undoubtedly leads to higher municipal costs.

But the alternatives require cool and detailed study, with the comparative benefits and liabilities of an executive committee and a city manager being studied.

The whole issue is deserving of more than a snap judgment as the system to be introduced will probably remain for many years to come and if an error in assessment is made the cost may be substantial.

Both sides should bury their prejudices and cooperate in a review of the situation and its possible correction, the examination to be made in a spirit of goodwill and understanding.

An open mouth is quite often the exit for a closed mind.

PM snubs parliament

One of the most frequent charges levelled at Prime Minister Trudeau is that Parliament bores him, that he has little use for the day to day problems of governing the country and holds most of the parliamentarians, especially those outside his own party in contempt.

And his actions last week when he left Ottawa for a fence-mending tour of Western Canada have done little to soften this image.

The Prime Minister did not participate in the crucial debate on proposals for revising the rules of procedure of the House of Commons except to say, just before leaving the House, that he considered the Opposition to be engaging in a "stupid filibuster." Opposition members feel that they are fighting for the rights of Parliament to freely examine and oppose the actions of the Government and to be told that they are engaged in a stupid filibuster is bound to create an abiding hostility to the Government which might well set the tone for future debates.

Opposition party leaders felt it essential that they explain their opposition to the proposed rule changes and the Prime Minister thought they were important enough to curtail the summer recess to get their early approval.

But he left the defence of the proposals to a single minister, Mr. Macdonald, with an occasional intervention from Mr. Olson.

But in his sneering dismissal of Parliament, the Prime Minister also left behind him many other serious problems, including four motions to adjourn the debate Friday to discuss such matters as the sharp increase in living costs and high interest rates.

If you don't get the big concept, perhaps you've been too busy putting together the details that make the big concept possible.

Prime minister explains policies

Canadians misunderstand bilingual bill

In a speech at Ottawa June 9 at the International Press Institute, Prime Minister Trudeau said failure of the press to communicate was among the reasons that many Canadians did not understand the principle of the Official Languages Act, then before Parliament.

The Canadian Press at that time invited the prime minister to write an article explaining the measure in terms he thought people would understand.

His article, not available until after final parliamentary approval of the act on July 9, follows.

Written for The Canadian Press
By Prime Minister Trudeau

"Why are they forcing French down our throats?"

That question has been asked by English-speaking Canadians who are concerned about the government's bilingualism policy and about the Official Languages Act which was recently enacted by Parliament.

The question is based on a widely-shared misunderstanding of what our policy on bilingualism means. In fact, everyone in Canada will not be required to speak French, any more than everyone will be required to speak English.

You can grow up in parts of Quebec and never use English a day in your life. You can live in many parts of the country and never hear a single word of French. Most of the people who deal with the government of Canada speak only one language. It is because everyone in the country is not expected to speak both languages, and never will be, that the federal government must be able to speak to Canadians in either French or English wherever there are enough French speakers or English speakers to justify it.

Nothing is more important to a person than to understand and to be understood. The most common and the most effective tool we can use for this purpose is our language. Any policy which affects such an important aspect of our lives is bound to stir up some controversy.

NOT AN INQUISITOR
A glance at the act would show that this is nonsense. In fact the commissioner will be a kind of ombudsman similar to those which several provinces have appointed to protect the human rights of their citizens. He is not a trial judge, much less an inquisitor.

His job is to listen to complaints about unfair language practices in federal government departments and agencies and in Crown corporations and, if he believes they are justified, to make recommendations to the departments to change their practices. If the departments ignore these recommendations, he can report the whole matter to Parliament. It is up to Parliament to decide what to do about it.

Surely this does not give the commissioner, or the government, excessive powers over individual Canadians. The objective is, of course, exactly the reverse: to give individual Canadians greater power to check the abuses of government. The act sets out standards of performance for federal government departments and agencies and provides remedies if these standards are not met. There are no provisions which impose duties on individual Canadians or, in any way, restrict the freedoms which we enjoy as private citizens.

Some opponents of the act have argued that it violates or changes the constitution (the British North America Act) and is therefore beyond the powers of Parliament.

RIGHTS UNALTERED
In this article I am not going to set out a long and technical argument about constitutional law. The fact is that the act deals only with the departments and agencies of the federal government. It does not deal with matters which, under the constitution, are within the control of the provinces. It does not alter any of the rights or privileges concerning the English or French languages which are already guaranteed by the constitution.

These constitutional rights and privileges will remain exactly the same after the act comes into effect as they were before. The act does not amend any article of the constitution.

Even when misconceptions about the Official Languages Act are cleared up, there will be some Canadians who do not understand or accept the philosophy on which it is based.

For many Canadians, and particularly those who live in a region of the country where few people speak French, Canada has seemed to be an English-speaking country with a number of minority groups speaking other languages. There are places where such groups as Italian Canadians or Ukrainians outnumber French-speaking Canadians.

But if we look at Canada as a whole we find there are two major language groups in this country—English and French-speaking. This has been the case throughout our history as a nation. No other group forms a majority in any province. No other group has its own public educational systems or radio and television networks. No other group makes up more than a small percentage of our population.

According to the most recent census figures, the three largest groups whose mother tongue is neither English nor French are German, 3.1 per cent of the population, Ukrainian 2.0 per cent and Italian 1.9 per cent.

As I travel around the country I find that the advantages of bilingualism are becoming more widely accepted by Canadians, particularly among the young. However urgent it may be to introduce such a policy, and I believe the very survival of our country de-

A second misconception is that the act will prevent Canadians who speak only one language from working for the government, the armed forces or the Crown corporations, or from being promoted to important government jobs.

There is no clause in the act which states this or which will have this result. The object of the act is to provide government services in both languages where required by the population.

Even in bilingual districts, many of those working for the federal government will speak only one language. Our goal in these districts is to have a sufficient number of government employees to serve an English-speaking or French-speaking Canadian in his own language.

In the past few years we have been building up our system for teaching a second language to public servants. Eventually it should be possible for anyone whose job requires a working knowledge of a second language to be taught it as a regular part of his career. In the meantime we are being careful not to handicap those who are already working for the government and who have not had an opportunity to learn a second language.

The federal government must and will continue to recruit its employees, at all levels, from all parts of Canada.

Some of those who oppose the act have claimed that the commissioner of official languages mentioned in the act will be given unlimited powers which will make him a dangerous "super-snooper."

Some opponents of the act have argued that it violates or changes the constitution (the British North America Act) and is therefore beyond the powers of Parliament.

ends on it, we should not expect to reap its full benefits overnight. That will require fundamental changes in attitudes and institutions which may take years, or even generations.

In this historic process the Official Languages Act is an important forward step.

WORLD ALMANAC
FACTS

In 1873, Cornell students challenged University of Michigan students to a football game to be played at neutral Cleveland. The World Almanac says, Cornell's Pres. White, being asked by the athletes for permission to miss some classes, replied: "I will not permit 30 men to travel 400 miles merely to agitate a bag of wind."

I believe that our two major languages are a great advantage for Canada. A country in which both French-speaking and English-speaking Canadians are fully participating in every aspect of our national life will be a richer and more interesting place to live. We will be more valuable and more effective members of the world community when we have learned to handle our two official languages and our many cultural traditions at home.

McGill geography school hears Lecture on India

BOUNDARY — (Special) — Again for the 17th year the McGill Summer Geography School at Stanstead College are presenting Wednesday night lectures, open to the public at the Haskell Opera House on the Boundary.

The first lecture of the evening of July 9 was by Professor J. Brian Bird, Chairman of the Department of Geography at McGill University. He was introduced by the Summer School director, Professor T. Hills.

Dr. Hills, in his opening remarks extended a welcome to the large number of area persons attending. He made mention that Dr. Bird was here for the first time in 1951. He further noted that students will be working in the local areas as they study landscape and gain geographical knowledge, asking for the cooperation of the public as they ask questions.

Dr. Hills brought news and greetings of professors known to many here from previous years at the Summer School. He further invited friends to come to the College Pierce Hall each Tuesday evening for films, noting films are also arranged for younger people on Eskimo life.

Dr. Bird's topic was India — A Non-Existent Nation. Dr. Bird was in India in November and December of 1968 to attend a geographic conference and at this lecture gave his impressions of that country.

He said that life has become more complicated since he first came to Stanstead with the Summer School. He mentioned that the 1968 conference in India which meets every four years was the first to be held outside of Europe. He said that the people of India gave them a very interesting tour of their country familiar to geographers. Dr. Bird said his impressions were of an incredible contrast by great poverty and great wealth. He noted about 80 per cent of the population live in rural areas, small villages, the remainder in cities. The population is increasing rapidly with a pro-jective increase by 1985 expected.

By slide illustrations, Dr. Bird showed and told about the country and field excursions around Delhi, the Southern cultures, with broad flat clay land. The government gardens and buildings, and slides of the Northern section.

Dr. Bird said November and December are fine months to be in India with day temperatures at 70 and nights about 50. This is great contrast to the Monsoon periods of rain. He noted that today Delhi is two cities of two centuries. The new 20th century, and the 18-19th century and others before this period and the 18th century when the British came.

One slide showed the skill of early people's carving of figures in stone believed to be done about 8 AD. There is a section of Old Delhi in ruins but not occupied and another of Old Delhi which is occupied.

India had a period of sophisticated society with the last of the Noble Emperors in 1783. The slides showed many of these early structures, some in ruins.

India has industrial capacity, he said. He referred to the deviation of the late years, in 1947-48 when the British Government mostly withdrew, buildings are famous in India and the World, modes of travel, of crops, mainly rice grown, and the water storage in rural areas, for he said, water is of great importance for the spiritual and economic life of India. English is the standard language although there are tongues of India. The forecast is that India will have a good tourist industry within a short time as there are Indians visiting ruins and historic places now as tourists and people of other countries are becoming more and more interested.

Late member honored at Dunham WI

DUNHAM — The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Junior Harvey on July 3. The president, Mrs. Simon Bidner was in the chair.

Following the Club Woman's Creed the roll call was answered by 18 members, what age they would like to be the rest of their lives.

The president called upon Mrs. Ellis, publicity convener, who spoke briefly on the life of the late Mrs. O. C. Selby, a long-time member, who died June 18. In her highlights she asked the members to remember Mrs. Selby not only as a gracious hostess, who for several years held the annual Teas and Sales and entertained the ladies of this organization many times, but to remember her for having donated the land for the WI cairn. She reminded the members of the happy and proud day when province-wide Institute members, on June 15, 1964, and the late Mrs. Selby were present to take part in the unveiling. Members observed two minutes' silence in memory of the late Mrs. Selby.

The secretary, Mrs. Ferni-hough, read an acknowledgement of thanks from Mrs. Quigley, for being remembered at the time of the death of her father, Mr. M. R. Hodge.

Mrs. W. Doherty, Welfare and health convener, read an article from the Reader's Digest, entitled Exercises You Can Do, Wherever You Are.

Mrs. C. Harvey, agriculture convener, named a list of several types of food, that could be made from flowers.

Mrs. Ellis reported that though it didn't come under the heading of publicity, she felt the ladies would be interested in knowing that there were 89 new donors who gave blood for their first time at the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic held June 16.

A motion was made to send a donation in memory of the late Mrs. O. C. Selby, to the United Church Memorial Fund.

Mrs. Martin gave a report of the Provincial annual convention at Macdonald College, which she attended in place of the elected delegate, Mrs. Ferni-hough, who was unable to go, due to a sprained ankle. Mrs. Martin was the lucky recipient of the door prize given at the Convention.

Mrs. Bidner thanked Mrs. Martin for her interesting account and prior to adjourning the meeting, expressed her pleasure in having two new members join the group. She expressed the regrets of the group in having to say farewell to one of its members, Mrs. Ann Rodgers, who plans to move to Montreal very soon. She presented Mrs. Rodgers on behalf of the members, with the gift of a brooch. Mrs. Rodgers expressed her thanks and regrets in having to leave her friends.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Laduke and Mrs. Childerhouse.

The next meeting, August 6, will be held at the home of Mrs. Berard, with Mrs. Vaughan and Mrs. Bidner as co-hostesses.

Former pastor is guest speaker at 70th anniversary service

BISHOPTON — On a beautiful Sunday morning, June 29, 1969, at 10:30 upwards of 100 people, from far and near, joined the local congregation in a joyous service of remembrance and dedication on the 70th anniversary of the building of the Bishopston United Church.

The special speaker was Rev. C. J. Gustafson, who spent six years of his ministry here. Prior to his sermon, Mr. Gustafson noted some of the changes made since the first white settler, John Bishop, and his associates came to Dudswell in 1800. The theme of the sermon was Looking Forward.

The regular minister, Rev. G. Lokhorst, who was away at Boys' Camp, a worth-while project, was missed.

Special music was rendered by the combined choir, with Mrs. Ivan Jenkinson, at the organ, and the soloist, Mrs. Wells Coates, sang Let There Be Peace, following the offertory, taken up by Raymond Downes and Irving Willard. The hymns, appropriate for the occasion, were The Church's One Foundation, Come, Let Us Sing Of A Wonderful Love, Dear Lord and Father Of Mankind, and the closing hymn was Lead On, Oh King Eternal. The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of large peonies and other flowers.

People attending were from Danville, Richmond, Asbestos, Montreal, Verdun, Ste. Therese en Haut, Chateauguay, Troy, N.H., Ottawa, Ont., and Quebec City, besides many who came from the surrounding district.

The following is a list of the ministers serving this congregation since the church was built, starting with Rev. J. Sellers, who worked hard here during that time. Many of these ministers served here when it was a Methodist Church, and since church union, and are: Rev. J. Sellers, first minister in the church, 1899-1902; Rev. W. L. Rowan, Rev. Geo. A. Mc-Intosh, Rev. Mr. Howard, Rev. J. B. Howe, Rev. Thos. Knowles, Rev. R. E. Roy, Rev. E. de-Gruchy, Rev. Jordan Crowe.

ANNUAL SUPPER
On June 28 the United Church Women held its annual strawberry supper in the Rebekah Hall, but with a difference this year as it was the anniversary supper, in honor of the 70th anniversary of the church building.

It was a very successful occasion with the weather co-operating with a lovely evening.

Ayer's Cliff Fair to go wild west

AYER'S CLIFF (Special) — held in Ayer's Cliff on July 10. There will be plenty of glamour, rugged action, and crowd pleasing thrills presented by Program Chairman, Reginald Connor at committee meetings.

Woolco Winner: Every month Woolco holds a drawing to determine a winner among all the women who exchanged their family allowance cheques at the store. This month's $100 winner was Mrs. Constant Provencal of 1401 Caron St., in Sherbrooke seen here with Mr. Jacques Fleury division Manager.

The show of two hours will include bareback riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling, and bull riding Thrills. Thrills, so much that one may think they are right out in the Old West.

Mr. Connor said that Thursday evening, August 21, the opening night Crazy Elmer will be presenting a show. The Rodeo will be August 22 and 23.

It is noted it will really pay off to purchase advance tickets to the fair as the stub allows free car entry all three days and nights of the fair. These may be purchased from any director.

Thursday will be Children's Day, free admission on the grounds, and the directors will be holding another meeting within a few days to organize attractions for the children.

Everything seems to indicate a record number of agricultural exhibits, as well as handicrafts and of course the midway will be there too.

Officers elected at Danville-Shipton Federated Charities

DANVILLE — The annual meeting of the Danville-Shipton Federated Charities met in St. Augustine's Parish Hall with the president, the Rev. L. G. Westman, presiding, the financial statement for the year 1968 was accepted as read. It was noted that one of the major expenses was for drugs for needy families.

Ten families or individuals, as the case may be, are having their funds administered at the moment; with some 75 cases receiving assistance throughout the year.

The slate of officers for the coming year is as follows: Past president, Rev. L. G. Westman; president, Mr. Paul Pomerleau; assistant president, Mrs. H. C. Laxson vice-president, Mr. Rosaire Hemond; secretary, Mrs. Fred Mitchell and treasurer, Mrs. G. C. Brown. The Central Assistance Committee has been revised and divided into four teams, consisting of Mrs. Napoleon Boislard and Mrs. Marcel Lettre, Mrs. Labelle and Mr. Romeo Allard; Mrs. John Beauchesne and Mr. R. Benoit; the Rev. Kornachuck and Mrs. Annette Gosselin; Mrs. Jerome Olney, Mrs. Yvonne Livingstone, Mrs. H. A. Johnston, Mrs. Anatole Demers and Rev. L. G. Westman will act as substitutes for the occasions when more are needed.

The members are busy with the details, and it is thought that it will require a greater part of the summer to re-organize the various committees. This year Messrs. Andre Drouin and Marcel Bernier will be co-chairmen of the financial committee.

The committee in charge of clothing, Mrs. Nelson Dufour and Mrs. R. Larochelle, find that at the close of each season there is sometimes a surplus of clothing in sizes not required by the needy families and a rummage sale is held, with the proceeds going to help defray other expenses. It is hoped that this will take place on July 18 with the morning restricted to the families whose names are on the list of the Federated Charities, while in the afternoon the public is invited.

Quebec knows how

One golden day, when the fields of Québec were green with summer and the skies blue as cornflowers, a polar bear wandered down from the frozen northland. He could scarcely believe his eyes at what he saw. Everywhere about him was glowing colour, even in the cheeks of children playing. "We eat the fresh fruits and vegetables that grow here in Québec," a little girl explained. "If you did too, you wouldn't be so pale." The bear went to market and gazed with wonder at orange carrots, yellow corn and purple plums. Finally he fell in love with a red, red apple and bought a bushel basket full. So don't be frightened if you happen to meet a pure white polar bear with bright pink cheeks. Just smile and say, "Bonjour!"

Moral: from Apples to Zucchini squash . . . Québec Knows How.

Weddings and anniversaries in the Townships

Audet - Jarvis

STANSTEAD — In the presence of the immediate family and a few close friends, the marriage of Janet Elizabeth, twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Jarvis, Stanstead, to Mr. Denis Audet, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Audet, Sherbrooke, took place on July 12, at St. Edward's church, Derby Line.

Father Peter McGlynn, Montreal, officiated for the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Denise Goudreau played the organ music. Standards of pink gladioli, pink, white and mauve daisies on pedestals flanked the altar along with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was wearing a dress of white satin taffeta with a high neckline, and a tapered full panel from the shoulders. A crown of daisies accented with borealis held her double mantilla of silk illusion in place. She carried a cascade of red roses and stephanotis with trailing ivy.

Mrs. Malcolm Molony, matron of honor, was in a dress of patterned nylon lace with a square neckline and a back gathered panel draped to the hemline. She wore a matching yellow flower in her hair and carried a colonial bouquet of white miniature carnations, daisies and stephanotis.

Mr. Audet was witness of his son. Mrs. Jarvis, mother of the bride wore a dress of coral silk knit, and Mrs. Audet, the groom's mother, a mediterranean blue silk knit. Each wore white accessories and corsages of daisies edged with yellow baby's breath.

Mrs. John Audet was in a jacket dress of multicolored silk and had a similar corsage of daisies.

Mr. and Mrs. Audet left by motor for their wedding trip along the Gaspé Coast. The bride travelled in a lemon yellow dress accented with daisy lace trim and white accessories. They will reside in Sherbrooke on their return.

Guests attended from Sherbrooke, Valleyfield and Boundary Villages.

Rothney

SAND HILL — Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rothney were pleasantly surprised on the evening of June 21, when their family and close relatives gathered at their home to honor them on the occasion of their 30th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Rothney was presented with a corsage of miniature roses by her daughter, Marilyn, the corsage having been made by Mrs. W. Graham, bridesmaid for her sister 30 years ago.

The evening was spent playing cards, listening to music and visiting. Among the guests were Mrs. Rothney's mother, who will soon celebrate her 81st birthday and Mr. Rothney's father, who will be 87 on his next birthday.

During the evening Donald Rothney presented his mother and father with a beautiful coffee table from the family and gifts from other relatives present, with the wish for many more happy years together. Mr.

Rothney, in a few humorous remarks, thanked the guests for their gifts and good wishes.

Miss Donna Rothney, Montreal, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rothney and family, St. Catharines, Ont., were unable to be present.

The evening was brought to a close with the serving of a delicious buffet lunch. Centering the table was the anniversary cake made by Mr. and Mrs. Rothney's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Richard Rothney.

Janet and Mrs. Jarvis opened the prettily wrapped and ribboned gifts, after all had been admired, Janet thanked everyone for their thoughtfulness and choice of lovely gifts.

Punch was served and later refreshments by the hostess, Mrs. Rollins, assisted by staff of the Company Cost Department. The shower cake, made and decorated by Mrs. Ruby Sheldon, was artistic in the form of twin hearts in front of a love nest.

The home was prettily decorated with pink, green and white garlands, white wedding bells and seasonal flowers.

Fashion tips

Avoid Clash

You'll be "cool" on even the hottest day on the beach if you're lying on a beach towel that has "pizzazz." Fringed luxurious terry towels in glowing colors are as dazzling as the sun. One hint: Make sure your towel doesn't clash with your swimsuit.

Hat Is Back

This year is the year for digging out all those old things you were going to give to the Salvation Army. Old-style dresses are in, and one of the neglected accessories of the past few years — the hat — is back on the scene.

Just the Answer

If beach-wet hair puts a damper on your summer evening socializing, a dnyel wig or fall may be just the answer to your problem.

Recipes for weight watchers

TORONTO (CP) — It's that time of year again, and with visions of bathing suits and golf shorts dancing in your head, that extra five pounds looms larger than it did while you could hide it under layers of clothes.

You might find some help in recipes offered by Weight Watchers of Ontario Limited. Director Adelaide Daniels describes them as non-fattening recipes that really taste fattening.

One for spiced fish calls for: 2 pounds of ocean perch fillets, 2 tablespoons barbecue spice, 1 teaspoon parsley flakes, 1 cup tomato juice.

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Put fish in a baking pan and sprinkle with barbecue spice and parsley. Pour tomato juice over the fish. Bake for 10 minutes or until the fish flakes easily with a fork. Makes 4 servings.

USE GROUP EFFORTS

Weight Watchers is a commercial program that uses group efforts and lectures to encourage customers to lose weight. Mrs. Daniels says the emphasis is on correct nutrition and that clients are encouraged to see their doctors. The organization started in the United States and has several Ontario branches.

A dessert recipe called April Fool will serve four. It calls for: 2 tablespoons unflavored gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, 2-3 cups cottage cheese, artificial sweetener to equal 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind, ½ cup evaporated skim milk, 1 cup sliced strawberries.

Soften gelatine in cold water and cook over moderate heat until dissolved. Combine cottage cheese, artificial sweetener, lemon juice, rind, and skim milk in blender. Run at high speed for four minutes, or until smooth. Add gelatine to mixture and blend well at high speed. Spoon into non-stick mold. Chill for several

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Leo-Paul Filion, Arvida, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Diane Elizabeth, to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Lynch, Sherbrooke. The wedding has been arranged to take place Saturday, August 2, in Montreal.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. George Robb, 80 Main Street, N., Windsor, will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on July 23. They will be at home to their friends and relatives from 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

The pilgrims, though supplied with a wealth of fish, game and vegetables, thought they would die for lack of wheat bread for the table.

Prices effective from July 16th to 19th, 1969.

ET cub packs hold summer camp

RICHMOND — (Special) — The St. Francis Valley Cub packs held their summer camp recently on the grounds at Spooner Pond, Richmond when some 140 boys along with their leaders from Sorel, Drummondville, Windsor, Asbestos, Danville and Richmond participated.

The weatherman was not too co-operative in that the boys spent a good deal of the six day outing under cover of their tents. To top off the event, two days of continual rain forced the camp to break-up a day earlier than anticipated. However, all-in-all, the boys reported a "swell" time.

Parents Day was well attended when some hundred vehicles crowded onto the grounds, loaded down with mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, and other relatives.

The boys put-on a fine display of sportsmanship in the various events staged throughout the afternoon. After which the cubs and leaders took to the woods and held a camp-out. Cooking winners and buns over the open fire and with drinks of "pop" the group had a marvelous time.

During the camping many boys passed their badges of proficiency in swimming, observation, athletic and troubador.

The Leckie Memorial Trophy was won by the Richmond pack for having attained the most points during the outing, 288.1. Asbestos was second with 219.4; Windsor, third 211.6; Danville, fourth, 208.1; Drummondville, fifth 207.8 and Sorel with 203.5

Alouettes streak by Eagles 10-7 Royals share honors with Cards

Sherbrooke Alouettes playing against Three Rivers Eagles almost blew the game last night. The Als were leading 10-1 going into the top half of the ninth inning when the Eagles with home runs by Julian Vicente and Jack Self sent six runs across the plate to make it a 10-7 ball game. The Als had to call on Gutierrez to stop the rally. Gary Puttman had pitched the first eight innings and had allowed only five scattered hits for one run.

Coach Felix Mantilla had pulled Puttman in the ninth. Thomas Rowe taking over was touched for the two home runs and Gutierrez was called on to put out the fire.

Willie Madison was the Als big gun in the game getting three hits, two of them doubles. The teams went scoreless in the first two. Bottom of the third Van Ornum the Als catcher hit safely as did Gary Puttman. It was then that Madison got his first double sending in two runs.

It was in the top of the third that the Eagles got their first hit, Dick Williams connecting with Ti Jada, Van Ornum Puttman hitting safely, Madison came up with his second double sending in three runs, all this happened in the bottom of the fourth.

Eagles got their second hit from Puttman in the top of the fifth. A home run by Haley Young in the last of the fifth made it a 6-0 ball game in the Als' favor. Four runs in the bottom of the sixth for the Als increased their lead to 10-0. Madison, Ridley, James, Joa and Van Ornum were the hitters in the inning.

Eagles were still having trouble with Puttman's pitching. He only allowed them singles in fifth, sixth and seventh. Top of the eighth inning the Eagles got their first run a base on balls and a double by Self sending in the run. A single by Ridley was all for Als in the eighth. In the top of the ninth the roof fell in on the Als as the Eagles with seven hits which were good for six runs almost pulled the game out of the fire. Gutierrez got the side retired on infield out before any more scoring happened. Two smart double plays by the Als featured the game.

Willie Madison along with Gary Puttman were the Als' stars.

The Drummondville Royals increased their lead in the Provincial Baseball League to two and a half games last night by sharing the honors of last night's doubleheader against Granby. The Royals won the first by a score of 5-4 but lost the second, 4-1.

In another game last night, the Thetford Miners beat the Plessisville Braves by a score of 7-2. The Miners are now half a game away from fourth place.

In League action tonight, double-headers are scheduled between the Drummondville Royals and the Cardinals in Granby, while the Alouettes will be playing in Quebec. The Plessisville Braves will be playing the Eagles in Three Rivers in a single game.

DOUBLE MEANS TROUBLE — Normally two heads are better than one, but Willie Stargell of the Pittsburgh Pirates may have argued the point Sunday after teammate Fred Patek helped him bobble a fly ball. The error was attributed to Stargell.

Pirates batter Expos 9-3, Walker pitches three-hitter

MONTREAL (AP) — Carl Taylor drilled a homer and a double, driving in three runs in an eight-run Pittsburgh first inning Tuesday night and the Pirates battered Montreal Expos 9-3.

Luke Walker, who drove in a run in the big inning with a bases-loaded walk, rode the heavy hitting to his first major league victory, pitching a three-hitter.

After Taylor started the Pirates off with his homer, Willie Stargell singled and Ritchie Hebner followed with another homer. Manny Sanguillen walked and Gene Alley singled.

Then an error loaded the bases and Walker drew a base on balls to force in the fourth run. Matty Alou and Taylor followed with a pair of two-run doubles.

All the Montreal runs came on homers. Rusty Staub connected in the fourth and Bob Bailey had a two-run shot in the ninth.

It was payday in St. Louis and May-day in Cincinnati Tuesday.

Warmed by the cushion of freshly-drawn paychecks in their wallets, the Cardinals responded by battering Philadelphia pitchers for 17 hits and belting the Phillies 8-2. It marked the 23rd consecutive time the Cardinals have won on a payday, a streak that extends back to August 1967.

Cincinnati's Lee May, who hits his home runs in bunches, had a bunch against Atlanta in a doubleheader, which the Reds split with the Braves.

May connected twice in each game and drove in 10 runs in the two games. The Braves won the opener 9-8 before the Reds salvaged the second game 10-4.

Elsewhere in the National League, New York Mets nipped Chicago Cubs 5-4, San Diego Padres rapped San Francisco Giants 10-3, and Houston Astros outlasted Los Angeles Dodgers 10-7.

WINS FIRST GAME

Julian Javier, Curt Flood, Joe Torre and Mike Shannon each tagged three hits for St. Louis and rookie Chuck Taylor, making his first major league start, pitched the full game for the victory. Taylor also knocked in two runs.

May, who socked six homers in three consecutive games last May, tying a major league record, had two in each game against the Braves, including the first grand slam of his career.

He knocked in five runs in each game, raising his season totals to 27 homers and 73 runs batted in.

May's first-game performance was overshadowed by Atlanta's Bob Aspromonte, who pinch-hit a single in the eighth inning and then smacked a three-run homer in the ninth inning that gave the Braves their victory.

Hank Aaron hit his 534th career homer for Atlanta, tying him with Jimmy Foxx for fourth place on the all-time list.

Al Weis hit a three-run homer, only the fifth of his eight-year major league career, helping the Mets take Chicago.

Ken Boswell also homered for the Mets and Ron Taylor saved the victory for Gary Gentry, after consecutive eighth-inning homers by Billy Williams and Ron Santo knocked out the New York starter.

ERROR COSTLY
San Diego exploded for six unearned runs with two out in the fifth inning to knock out Juan Marichal and beat San Francisco. Tito Fuentes' error opened the gates for the Padres.

Ollie Brown unloaded a three-run homer for San Diego and Willie McCovey connected for the Giants.

2-Long Irons

Arnold Palmer looks as though he simply tees the ball up, grimaces and swings as hard as he can. A closer look, however, shows that

Arnold Palmer

Arnie actually employs a way of striking the ball that has been mastered by only a few men.

The secret to Arnie's explosive long-iron shots is the unusual hand action he uses — not to mention his unusual forearm strength. Palmer's style permits the player to swing at the ball as hard as his body will allow and still hit with power and accuracy.

left hand square at impact. In the takeaway, Palmer draws the club back inside, putting himself into a fairly flat swing plane. At the top, he noticeably lays off the clubhead, getting it into a closed face position.

If the clubhead were left closed until impact, the ball would hook sharply, but Arnie compensates by constantly moving his left hand down and under.

Terry Kerridge makes pitcher's dream, no-hit no-run

Young Terry Kerridge accomplished a pitcher's dream last night in Little League baseball as he pitched a no hit, no-run game against the Tigers. He had 10 strikeouts in his win. In the other game played Red Sox took an 8-4 win over Orioles. Tonight the Indians meet the White Sox and Yankees visit Senators, both games at the Parade Grounds. In the Twins - Tiger game, the Twins got two runs in the top of the first, added eight more in the second, three in the third and finished off with nine in the fifth. Kerridge was the big hitter for the Twins with three for five, Jeff Coates and Jacques Tremblay each had two hits, Tigers came up with five errors in the game. Red Sox and Orioles was a tighter game, each team using two pitchers. Pepin started off for the Orioles and was relieved by Landry in the fourth. Bergeron pitched three innings for the Red Sox and was taken out for Auger in the fourth. At the end of two it was 6-0 for the Sox. Orioles coming up with three in the top of the third. Red Sox in the third added one more run and duplicated this in the fifth. The Orioles got their fourth run in the top of the sixth. Sher-Lenn Little League All-Stars are on the way

The Sher-Lenn Little League All-Stars start to defend their Canadian Little League Championship tomorrow evening against the Valleyfield All-Stars at Valleyfield. In the first game of the Regional play-offs last year the Sher-Lenn All-Stars eliminated the Valleyfield squad winning the first game 5-0 and the second 7-6.

The Regional play-offs this season are once again a series where a team representing a league must lose two games before being eliminated. Should the Sher-Lenn team win or lose, they will play Saturday afternoon against either Chateaugay or Cowansville.

The team leaves the Parade Grounds at 1 p.m. on Thursday afternoon and will travel by car to Valleyfield. Coach of the team this season is Denis Gosselin who coaches the Indians in the league and the Manager, Pierre Brousseau is the coach of the Red Sox. Players chosen are as follows: Guy Gregoire, Indians; Michel Benoit, Indians; Daniel Auger, Red Sox; Jacques Lambert, Indians; Daniel Denault, Red Sox; Denis Landry, Orioles; Denis Halle, Indians; John Mills, Tigers; Michel Murray, Senators; Bruno Halle, Indians; Sylvain Delisle, White Sox; Marco Roby, Red Sox; Daniel Roy, Red Sox; Rejean Dostie, Senators and Daniel Caron, Sub-umpires Schofield and Custeau will travel with the team.

The players chosen this season are not as strong as last season's but will give a good account of themselves. It is hoped that playing before the large crowds that usually attend games at Valleyfield will not effect them.

Once in a life time there is a memory of a happening that one can look back on with much pride and joy. Such was the year 1968 when the Sher-Lenn Little League started on the path of its greatest season.

In early July of that year Amedee Roy always remembered as one of the great Coaches in Little League circles, was chosen to lead the Sher-Lenn All-Stars to what everyone hoped would be Williamsport, to be one of the teams taking part in the Little League World Series.

When the names of the fourteen boys chosen to represent the league were published there was a raising of eyebrows and a feeling of doubt. The youngsters chosen looked so small in stature to stand up to the pressure and competition they would meet.

No one had any doubt about the coach but no one expected that he would blend the youngsters into one of the finest teams Sher-Lenn had put on the field in 15 years.

In two weeks of strenuous practice Coach Roy worked with the boys morning and evening. He would work after practice with players whom he thought might be lacking in some certain areas of baseball. He spent hours drilling the knowledge he wanted through to them.

These were the boys he said he had ready: Robert Laforest, Denis Choquette, Jean Pierre Goyette, Denis Rose, Luc Landry, Pierre Provencher, Roger Roy, Normand Houle, Yves Longpre, Randy Warner, Andre Deschenes, Andre Caya, Daniel Forget and Jean Paul Lapierre.

Their first test was against the Cowansville Little League at Sherbrooke. They took this one with Normand Houle pitching 23-2. Then they had to take on the league that was always the hurdle, the Valleyfield All-Stars. They had in 11 previous seasons been the team that always knocked the Sher-Lenn All-Stars out of the play-offs. Would it happen again this season?

Sher-Lenn was hoping that Normand Houle would break the 'Duck Egg' and just this time knock over the Valleyfield squad, and who can forget the brilliant job Houle did by holding the Valleyfield boys to a single hit and posting up a 5-0 score. It wasn't over yet with the Valleyfield team for they had to come back again on the following Saturday afternoon.

Yves Longpre was given the starting job of pitching on the Saturday's game and the hope again was that he would, like Houle, come out the winner. He did with some help from young Roger Roy. This was a different game from the previous one. Valleyfield had to win to stay in competition and played all the harder.

Sher-Lenn was winning 6-3 in the top part of the sixth inning, but a Valleyfield home run with two men aboard tied the score at six all and forced extra League World Series. Too much cannot be said of the Little League organization. The way they look after the teams taking part in the World Series is unbelievable. One has just got to be there and see how everything possible is done to make the boys taking part comfortable and to make their visit a memorable one. Sher-Lenn in the first round was to meet Nicaragua and this one too went into extra innings, Sher-Lenn winning 1-0 in the last of the seventh. The glory ended two days later as the Sher-Lenn team met Richmond, Vermont. Richmond won this one by an 8-5 score. So ended a glorious season that will be remembered by all. It was a great season and it brought fame not only to the Sher-Lenn Little League but also to the City of Sherbrooke and the Town of Lennoxville.

innings. Who can forget that exciting seventh when the Valleyfield boys went scoreless. In the first part of it, Yves Longpre managed to get on first base and then up came a mighty double by Randy Warner to send Longpre home with the winning run. It had happened Sher-Lenn after such a long time had knocked Valleyfield out. It was in every way a great victory.

The Sher-Lenn boys were now playing like a team that had been together for a season. Dorval was the next obstacle. Again Normand Houle rose to the occasion winning this one by an 8-0 score. Kiwanis Maisonneuve was the next to be met.

Yves Longpre got the job of hurling against the Kiwanis and like his teammate Houle he did a great job in leading his team to a close 1-0 win. Sher-Lenn again had to meet Dorval and Houle came up with his second win over Dorval taking this one by a 2-0 score. Now it was off to Windsor Ontario for the All-Canadian Finals.

The Sher-Lenn boys accomplishments in the play-offs has reached Windsor and many were beginning to say they were the team to beat. But Windsor also had a great team and they were slated to meet the Sher-Lenn boys in the first game of the finals.

A crowd of 8,000 were on hand for this tussle and again Sher-Lenn put their hopes on Normand Houle, the game at the end of six was still scoreless and in the seventh inning the Sher-Lenn boys got one run to take another close win.

Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, was the next opponent and Yves Longpre again did the job, Sher-Lenn taking this one 6-4, and putting the Sher-Lenn team into the Canadian Finals against Whalley, B.C.

This one was the toughest so far and it was a thriller all the way. Extra innings were played and again the Sher-Lenn got the one run that won the game and sent them on to Williamsport to represent Canada in the Little League World Series.

One can imagine at this time the feeling of Coach Roy. He had accomplished a wish that he had been fostering for years. The players had risen to great heights and had responded in every way to his coaching. They too were thrilled at the thoughts of taking part in Little

SAFETY '99' NYLON HIGH TRACTION

BETTER THAN A
70.00

We're not talking through our hat. We used to make tires of $70 quality, selling them at our usual trade-discounted prices. But we stopped because, though they were (and costly to make), they weren't all that great — except on laden station-wagons or light trucks. Even then, the air pressure had to be rigidly maintained. The slightest under-pressure caused them to burn themselves up. And who has money like that to burn?

So we developed a better tire. Safety '99' Nylon High Traction which has proved a superior value for average passenger cars. In fact, almost indistinguishable — even with abuse. It wasn't easy. A bit like breeding a thoroughbred. We put extra muscle where it counts — to turn out a tougher, faster tire. And we used Dupont Nylon — the filament that's stronger than steel yet soft as a cushion for your riding comfort.

It's a big tire — maybe an inch taller than most others. More bite in the tread — to put real teeth into the expression, you can step on a dime. More traction — to give you a good grip on a slippery strip. We think it's quite a tire.

So do the owners of more than a million Safety '99' Nylons. They have proved to their own satisfaction it's a winner, and keeping passing the word along. It's a good feeling to have that kind of faith in a tire. We have. So much that we back it with a firm money-back guarantee.

But what about polyester? — you may ask. True, it does give better mileage but the ride is a bit harsher too. Even the much-touted glass-belted polyester, the ultimate in mileage-gaming, is not as consistently uniformed a ride as nylon or straight polyester — though it does smooth out as you accelerate and could prove to be the tire of the future. Give one pause to ponder.

Whatever you decide, do investigate before you invest. Your Canadian Tire stocks them all. We'd welcome a little tire talk with you.

OSCAR DESRUISSEUX OF BIRCHTON

BIRCHTON — This Community was shocked and saddened at news of the death June 14, of Oscar Desrussieux.

He was born in Ascot April 18, 1895, son of Frederick Desrussieux and his wife, Amy Paige, where he spent the early years of his life. For his education he attended the Sand Hill School, finishing at the Cookshire High.

In 1917 he married Maud Evelyn Rowe of Ascot, and the young couple set up housekeeping in one of the apartments in what is presently the Bain Block. Here they resided until they built their present home.

Oscar was a natural mechanic so his services were much in demand by construction companies to operate their heavy machinery. For a number of years he was in charge of a power shovel for the C.P.R. Later years he set up a shop where he put his mechanical ability at the service of his Community and of anyone who was in mechanical or plumbing difficulties.

A man of versatile talent and a personality that was "all his own", Oscar was known and liked far and wide, and gave generously of his time and of his talents.

He had suffered a serious attack of the "flu", but had seemed to be making a good recovery, showing no symptoms that caused any anxiety. On a chair on his porch he passed peacefully to rest.

In the Birchton Church which Oscar had helped and supported over the years, Rev. J. C. Arnold of Sawyerville spoke a comforting message to the large gathering of relatives and friends assisted by Miss Thelma Crawford of Lennoxville as soloist in "The Twenty-third Psalm and 'Good-Night down here, but Good-Morning up There'".

The bearers were friends of long standing, Gordon Harron, Merlin Harvey, Gordon Kees, Howard Picard, Neil Taylor and Tom Harbinson.
