Sixty-Fourth Year

26th election

Quebec ready for vote

By CUTHBERT JONES
(Record Staff Writer)

Closing a campaign devoid of major issues but replete with charges and counter-charges, Quebec electors go to the polls tomorrow to elect a new Legislative Assembly, the 26th since Confederation.

Despite the lack of major cleavages between the two parties — the Union Nationale Government forces headed by Premier Antonio Barrette and the Liberals under Hon. Jean Lesage — intensive campaigning has whetted public interest and it would not be surprising if the vote tomorrow exceeded the average of 72 per cent registered in the 1956 general elections.

Slightly more than 2,500,000 names are inscribed on the electoral lists of the 93 ridings.

In Sherbrooke County, approximately 41,000 voters are entitled to cast their ballots at one or another of the 201 polling stations established throughout the county. This list includes 200 regular polls and one special poll at which balloting was held on Saturday and Monday for the benefit of transportation workers, commercial travellers and other persons whose normal occupation makes it probable they be away from their home constituency on election day.

Polls throughout the province open at 9 a.m., Daylight Saving Time, and close at 6:30 p.m. Counting of the votes begins immediately after the closing of the polls and the initial returns should start to come in about 7 p.m., with a province-wide trend being established about an hour later.

DRINKING CURBS

One feature of election days in the years gone by may well be absent this year—the celebration parties of election night.

The Quebec Election Act has long prohibited the opening of bars, grills and other liquor-selling establishments on election day. However, this has been in-

Seek national accreditation system

Nursing schools 'inadequate'

Pilot project report given

HALIFAX (CP) — Canadian nursing schools were described "inadequate" in a report presented here today to the biennial meeting of the Canadian Nurses Association.

The report, a pilot project for the evaluation of nursing schools, contained far-reaching recommendations touching many phases of the schools and their training programs.

It recommended a study of the whole nursing education field; initiation of an improved program to assist nursing schools in upgrading education programs; and a project for evaluating the quality of nursing service in the clinical settings where student nurses receive practical experience.

For the more distant future, the report urged the establishment of a national voluntary system of accreditation for Canadian nursing schools. Under such a system, schools would apply to the CNA for an evaluation and approval of their programs. Approval would indicate a school had met the standards to be established by the profession.

The report, undertaken to determine the readiness of Canadian nursing schools for a program of national voluntary accreditation and to outline the weaknesses and future needs of such schools, was prepared by a group of CNA officials headed by Helen K. Mussallem, former associate director of nursing education at Vancouver's General Hospital.

The CNA, in its annual meeting here, hopes to seek approval of the project. How it will be financed probably will be decided later in the sessions.

Shot of rum best anesthetic?

HALIFAX (CP) — Dr. John B. Hardie, a well-known authority on the Bible, drew a ripple of laughter Monday while discussing the advancement of the nursing profession. He said in olden days the only anesthetic available was "a good shot of rum." He went on to applaud drugs now being used, but added "there are some who still think rum is the best method."

Dr. Hardie, a member of the faculty at Pine Hill Divinity College in Halifax, delivered the keynote address at the biennial meeting of the Canadian Nurses Association.

Emmy awards Old pros garner TV honors

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A trio of old movie pros—Sir Laurence Olivier, Ingrid Bergman and Robert Stack—in their first tries at television walked off with the top TV Emmy awards last night.

And Harry Belafonte became the first Negro ever to win an Emmy.

It also was a night that saw Jackie Gleason's former second banana, Art Carney, win an award for the best comedy show. Olivier won his Emmy for his portrayal of a character based on the artist Gauguin in The Moon and Sixpence.

HESTON ACCEPTS IT
His award was accepted by Charlton Heston, this year's movie Oscar winner, who said: "I will say something that Larry would not say himself—he deserves it."

Both Olivier and Miss Bergman, a two-time Oscar winner, were in Europe. The Swedish actress won her first TV award for the chilling Turn of the Screw.

Stack, who plays the gang-busting Elliott Ness in The Untouchables, would have won even if he had lost. His boss, Desi Arnaz, had a $12,000 Mercedes Benz sports car waiting for him in the parking lot.

"I was going to give it to you win or lose," Arnaz told the flabbergasted Stack, who could only shout: "Mother MacRee!"

BEST SERIES ACTOR
Stack won his Emmy as the best actor in a series. The award for the best actress in a series went to Jane Wyatt, the wife and mother of the Anderson family in Father Knows Best.

Belafonte won for the best performance in a variety or musical program. He accepted his Emmy from Fred Astaire, who also was nominated for the award.

Belafonte thanked all his cast members and then turned to the smiling Astaire and said: "Sorry, Fred."

Carney, competing with Danny Thomas, Jack Benny and Red Skelton, won his award for the Art Carney Special Show—Vip.

Speed record is set by DC-8

TORONTO (CP) — A Trans-Canada Air Lines DC-8 jetliner Monday set a London - Toronto speed record for commercial aircraft, flying the 3,737 miles non-stop in seven hours and four minutes.

Average speed was 521 miles an hour.

Schedule time for the flight is seven hours and 45 minutes. Replacement of Super-Constellations with DC-8s on the transatlantic service has almost halved the flying time on the route, a TCA spokesman said.

Pilot receives head injury as 2 planes forced down

TINGWICK (Staff) — Two forced landings by single-engine aircraft in the Disraeli district of the Townships yesterday resulted in a head injury for one of the pilots, officials of the Wheeler Airlines in Montreal, owners of the aircraft, said yesterday.

The injured pilot, Colin Mason, 26, of Toronto, made a forced, wheels-up landing in a farmers field near Tingwick 10 miles north of Asbestos. He was taken to the Arthabaska Hotel Dieu hospital where he was treated for facial lacerations.

Mason was transported last night to the Montreal Neurological Institute after X-Rays revealed a dangerous fragmentary fracture of the skull. Dr. Gerard Larouche who examined Mason in Arthabaska, said his condition did not at first appear serious, but now surgery will be necessary.

The pilot of the other aircraft, Bert Foote, a Texan, was also forced down, but made a safe landing in a field at St. Evariste, 17 miles west of Disraeli.

Robert Forster, public relations officer for the Wheeler Air Lines, said the pair had taken off from Dumphy, N.B., for Montreal with two other aircraft, piloted by Jim Fewell and Dennis O'Rourke, both of Montreal.

Bad weather, he said, forced Fewell to land at St. Hubert while O'Rourke brought his plane safely into the airport at to the heavy fog. At the moment of the forced landing, they said, the aircraft struck some power lines.

Record Photographer Bill Lunan, speaking to Mason yesterday afternoon in the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Arthabaska, said Mason realized he had hit the power lines before grounding his aircraft.

"Four planes left Dumphy early this morning" said Mason, "and were to set down at Cartierville Airport, Montreal, before noon. After crossing the New Brunswick border we started to run into rain and then as we approached the Eastern Townships a heavy fog covered the

New bill

Revamp the civil service

OTTAWA (CP) — The first wholesale revamping of Canada's Civil Service Act in 42 years was introduced in the Commons Monday night by Finance Minister Fleming as a measure of the "highest importance."

Liberal and CCF MPs assailed him for introducing so important a measure so late, urging that it be left until the next session for the fullest study.

The bill dealing with Canada's 195,000 civil servants grants wide housekeeping and hiring powers to deputy ministers, singles out non-government salaries as factors to watch in setting government pay, provides for consultation between the civil service commission and employee associations and for appeals to the commission against dismissals, demotions and suspensions.

The only recourse now to a dismissed employee is the presentation of his case to a senior department official designated by the deputy minister, although dismissal is subject to cabinet approval.

FORMED A LANDMARK

Mr. Fleming said the 1918 legislation formed a landmark in Canadian history in setting the civil service beyond the reach of partisan political interference.

This bill reaffirmed the merit system whereby a strong and independent civil service commission was solely responsible for hiring and classifying employees.

Quebec City

The company, said, Mr. Forster, had just completed work in New Brunswick where they had been bud worm-spraying.

Witnesses to the crash near Tingwick said the aircraft piloted by Mason had been heard circling for some time before the forced landing, but they were unable to see the plane overhead due

Floods hit city in Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (Reuters) — Floodwaters swirled through the south Chilean city of Valdivia today as thousands of citizens left their homes in fear of new earthquakes.

Three earth tremors in 24 hours brought down buildings damaged in last month's devastating earthquakes and temporarily cut communications. A weekend landslide about 50 miles east of Valdivia killed 18 persons.

At the same time, torrential rains caused the nearby Calle-Calle River to flood about a third of the city, already threatened with inundation from a lake which burst its banks in the valley above Valdivia. Floods were also reported from other parts of southern Chile.

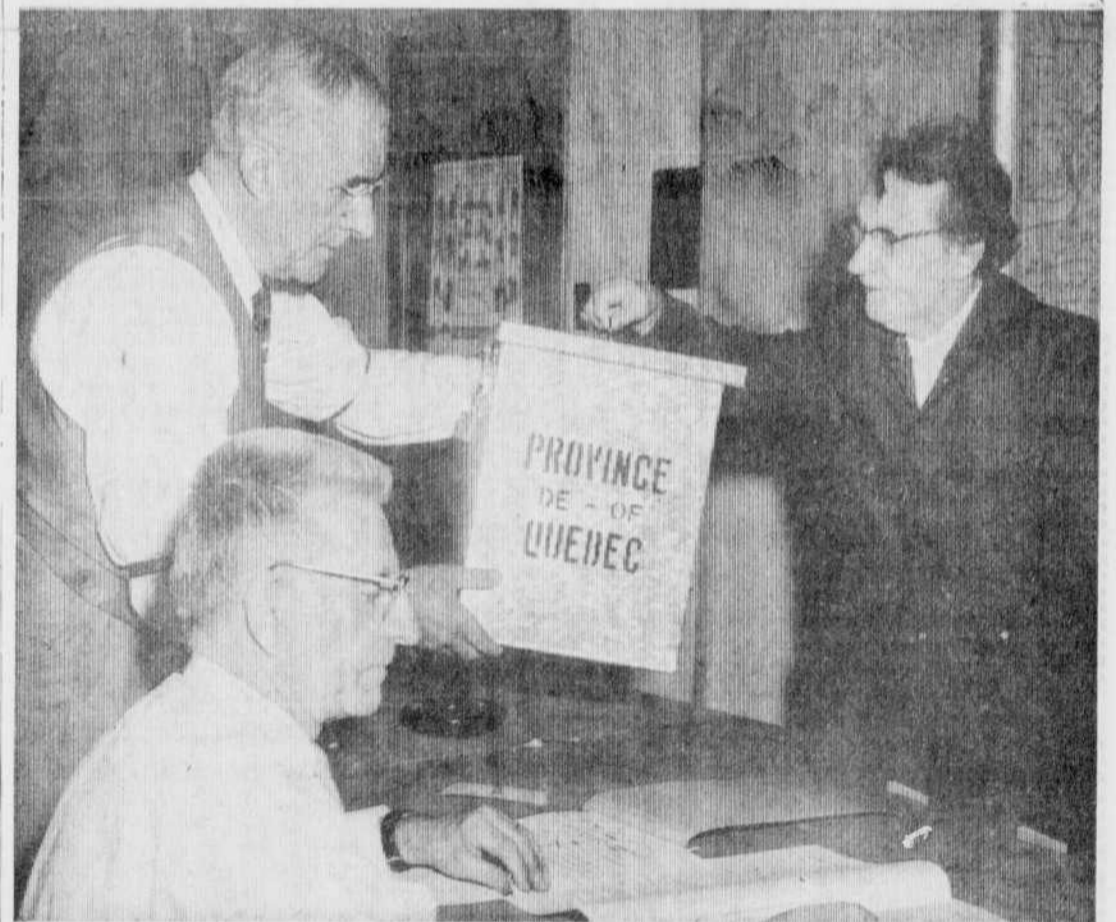

Faced with this triple threat, Valdivians fled to the hills or gathered in main squares. Of the original 80,000 population, only about 25,000 are left. The rest have been evacuated.

Canada's employment picture better

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's unemployment dropped sharply between mid-April and mid-May to 399,000 on May 21 as an above-normal 250,000 persons found jobs in the period, the government estimated today.

More than half of the decline in unemployment from 517,000 on April 23 occurred in Quebec. But the mid-May total was 65,000 higher than the 334,000 unemployed a year earlier.

The report by the bureau of statistics said the number of persons with jobs increased by 250,000 in the month period to 5,992,000. This was 140,000 higher than the year-earlier figure of 5,852,000.

The rise in employment was larger than the increase in the corresponding periods of the last two years, the bureau said, and followed a small gain of only 74,000 in numbers of job-holders in the previous month.

FARM EMPLOYMENT UP
Most of the new hiring took place in seasonal industries. Farm employment rose to 675,000 more than usual for the month while in British Columbia it was below normal. In other regions, employment gains were about equal to the seasonal average.

The bureau said the 250,000 increase in the labor force during the year — a gain of more than three per cent — was the largest gain in two years.

Women accounted for more than half of the year's rise in the labor force total — persons working or seeking work — but virtually all of the month's decline in unemployment was among men.

Of the 250,000 unemployed at May 21, 350,000 were men and 49,000 were women. About half had been seeking work for less than three months. In addition to the unemployed total, another 19,000 persons were on temporary layoff, 1,000 fewer than a year earlier.

'Tennis' match ends in court

LONDON (AP)—It was a sort of lawn tennis match using a hedge for a net and two front yards for a court.

Charles Hughes, 37, and his neighbor, Laurence Hiscox, 66, started playing it on May 28. But not until Monday, in another kind of court, was the winner decided. The winner: Hiscox.

The hedge, of sturdy privet, separates the lawns of the Hughes and Hiscox cottages at Lancing, Sussex.

Hiscox clipped the hedge. Three of the twigs fell on Hughes's lawn.

"Hughes came out," Hiscox testified, "and threw them back on my lawn. I collected them up and put them back over. I was treating it as a joke."

Back and forth, back and forth went the twigs.

Suddenly Hughes changed tactics. Instead of returning the twigs, he sent over a bucket of icy water.

The judge, bound Hughes over to keep the peace for the next year and assessed him £1 5s ($3.30) court costs.

Danville Couple Observe 60th Anniversary

DANVILLE — On June 6, in Trinity United Church Hall from 8 to 10 in the evening, a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Leet was given by the Ladies of the Church, to celebrate the couple's 60th wedding anniversary.

On arriving, Mrs. Leet was presented with a corsage and Leet with a boutonniere of white carnations.

The large number of guests offered congratulations and best wishes to the guests of honor and signed the guest book, which had been used at their Golden Wedding.

White flowers in crystal baskets, white tapers in silver candelabra, and a suitably decorated anniversary cake adorned the long table where Mr. and Mrs. Leet were seated with the following guests: Mrs. Leet's brother, Richard C. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston; nephew, Douglas Johnston and Mrs. Johnston; Rev. Douglas Blair, present minister of Trinity United Church, former minister, Rev. C. W. Foggo, and Mrs. Foggo, of Granby; former minister, Rev. W. E. Long and Mrs. Long, Danville; Mrs. E. Brook and Mrs. F. Brown, who attended their cousin's wedding 60 years ago; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Leith, and Mr. James MacCallum.

Small tables covered with white cloths and centered with small bouquets were placed around the hall.

Following a delicious lunch Mr. Blair invited Mr. Foggo and Mr. Long to speak. Both clergymen paid high tribute to the faithful loyal support of Mr. and Mrs. Leet to their Church and expressed on behalf of themselves and all present the best of good wishes for the future. Mr. Blair invited all to join in singing the well-known and much-loved hymn, Bless Be The Tie That Binds, to close this happy and memorable event.

$1,200,000 waterworks law for city as well as hospital

Waterworks Committee Chairman Ald. J. M. Jeanson explained last night that $1,200,000 loan by-law upon which Sherbrooke property owners will be called to vote within the next few weeks was not only for the installation of piping for supplying the new mental hospital in the East Ward but also for the general expansion of the city's waterworks system.

Mr. Jeanson, who is also the major contractor in the construction of the St. Georges Pavilion, said that if the hospital could not get the amount of water it would require in three years time, hospital officials would find other means of obtaining water.

"It is not the officials of the hospital who want the loan by-law," Mr. Jeanson said. "They simply asked if they could obtain the facilities from the city which would permit them to consume 300,000 gallons daily after three years."

Mayor Armand Nadeau said that last week council decided that city engineers would study the expansion of the waterworks system in co-operation with hospital engineers and then present their findings to the public for approval or disapproval.

Petition presented

West Ward one-way street plan strongly opposed by delegation

A 43-name petition was presented to council last night by West Ward property owners, merchants and businessmen opposing the J. C. LaHaye urbanism plan to turn Galt West and Short Streets into one-way arteries.

West Ward citizens opposed the plan and called for its abolition for several reasons. First, because businesses on Galt West and Short Street would suffer.

He suggested that Galt West could be widened instead of turned into a one-way street. He said that policemen could be placed at several intersections during rush hours so that they could direct traffic.

Police kept in the dark about band concerts - Chief

If there is a lack of police supervision at in city parks during band concerts it is not the fault of the Sherbrooke Police Department, a report submitted to council last night by police chief Edouard Moreau said.

The mayor promised that although no decision could be arrived at their suggestions would be closely studied.

Brousseau makes challenge

An invitation to his opponents to meet him in public debate tonight at Dufresne Park and charges of election campaign skulduggery highlighted an answer by Sherbrooke Liberal Candidate Louis Philippe Brousseau at the Ste. Therese d'Avila parish hall last night.

"When I talked to Liberal women at the Reform Club recently, I told them that I intended to conduct a dignified campaign and one that did not involve personalities."

Mr. Brousseau declared that he had invited Finance Minister John Bourque to meet him on television and discuss the present administration and the Liberal party program. Mr. Bourque did not reply, he said.

Later, Mr. Brousseau warned his audience not to be intimidated by any pressures which might be applied to them at this time.

No proposals by Danville council

No new proposals were made on the subject of election of a new mayor at a meeting of the Danville town council held last night.

Gustave Nadeau, who was elected mayor Feb. 1 of this year, was disqualified by a unanimous decision of three judges of Sherbrooke Magistrate's Court handed down Friday.

In spite of zoning law

Council last night reversed a one month old decision forbidding the operation of a commercial establishment on Terrill Street, and decided instead to follow a toleration policy and allow the commercial establishment to operate even though it is a breach of the city's zoning by-law.

In their latest decision - a vote in which six aldermen were in favor and four against - aldermen disregarded the legal opinion of their city attorney Albert Rivard who said in a written report that the establishment should be closed because it was an infraction of the zoning by-law.

Because of this decision the city is liable to be served with a court injunction ordering it to have the commercial establishments closed down for good.

A suggestion by Alderman Everett Nicol that the city should refuse the owner permission to operate a shoemaker's shop on that street was overruled.

May 24, council decided to enforce the law, abandon its toleration policy and ordered that the shop be closed.

The decision was arrived at following a lawyer's letter

Bourque closes campaign

Denies government interferes in schools

Closing his provincial election campaign with a rally in West Ward's Dufresne Park, Finance Minister J. S. Bourque, Union Nationale candidate in Sherbrooke County, again lashed out at his detractors.

He declared that the Liberals were always ready to cry "scandal" which they could not prove but were unwilling to talk about the record of accomplishment of the Union Nationale government.

In reply to charges that the provincial government was interfering in the autonomy of the school commissions and other institutions receiving government grants, Mr. Bourque declared:

"The Union Nationale Government has never told a school commission or hospital what architects it should employ. The government makes the grants and leaves it up to the administration of the school to decide who should prepare the plans and what contractor should carry out the work."

Certain charges of scandal made by the Liberals during the past few days run true to form, he said.

"They make these charges of corruption late in the campaign knowing full well we will not have time to reply to them. If we take legal action they will make a suitable apology and withdraw their charges, but this will not be done until after the election, when the damage has been done."

Discussing the problem of education, Mr. Bourque said that during the past 14 years the government has spent $4,280,000 in contributions to the cost of school construction in the City of Sherbrooke alone, while for the county the figure would exceed the $5,000,000 mark.

Mr. Bourque also reviewed the accomplishments of the Union Nationale in the field of finance, debt reduction and Dominion provincial relations.

Science of sound outlined

The scientific study of sound has only taken place comparatively recently, particularly in reference to communication—the fields of radio, television, telephone and stereophonic—Jerry Beaudet, of the public relations department of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada said last night in an address to members of the Sherbrooke Kiwanis Club.

During his talk Mr. Beaudet played stereophonic tape recordings of early telephone conversations, one of which dated back to the 1870's—a call from Brantford, Ontario, to Paris, Ontario. He also gave demonstrations of the effect on stereo when taping the sounds made by moving objects.

On display was a model of the earliest telephone as invented by Alexander Graham Bell, considerably different from a model of the contemporary telephone, made up of more than 500 parts, most of them precision-made.

It is over long distances, he said, that the telephone has made such enormous strides. "Talking normally it would take some three hours for the voice to reach from here to the west coast. By telephone, which carries sound at the speed of light, it takes a fraction of a second."

First reading is given two City loan by-laws

Two loan by-laws were presented to council last night and given first reading. The two other readings were postponed until next week to give a chance to Sherbrooke property owners to study the by-laws before they are presented to them.

By-law number 1066 is for public works which will be completely paid for by the re-allotment of sums of money not used in previous by-laws while by-law 1069 will call for public works payable 100 per cent by property owners except for a few items which will be paid for by the re-allotment of old by-laws and the balance by riverside property owners.

As of December 31, 1959, a statement by finance committee chairman Carrier Fortin showed, there was a surplus of $2,306,284.54 which was left over from old by-laws.

This amount is split up as follows: $1,702,981.33 for works or purchases underway or to be done; $339,432.33 left over from old by-laws in which the work has been completed and $203,870.88 for legal costs for by-laws.

Of the sum of $2,306,284.54, an amount of $1,438,204.56 has not as yet been borrowed from the bank which means that the city is paying no interest on it.

The remainder of this sum, $868,079.98 was borrowed and invested to bring a revenue equal or above the interest rate the city is paying on it.

VOTE BARRETTE AND PROGRESS

Following this latest petition, the city's building inspector, J. O. Chartier warned Mr. Lafleur by registered letter that he was forbidden to operate a business on that street.

Again on April 27, Mr. Chartier sent out a second letter to Mr. Lafleur reiterating the fact that the latter was not permitted to operate a business. But still the warning was ignored.

"After all, if people tolerate stables on that street, they certainly can tolerate a shoe shop," the mayor said.

Struck by car in Richmond
RICHMOND — (Special) — Bernard Pearson, ten-year-old son of Raymond Pearson of this town is in Hotel Dieu Hospital suffering from a possible fractured jaw and contusions after being struck by a car while on his bicycle.

The youngster was hit by a car driven by Raymond Viger of Stanley Street at about six o'clock Monday evening at the corner of Main and Donnelly streets. Viger was said to be coming into Richmond from the north end of town when he struck the boy who was riding on his bicycle at the time apparently crossing the street at the intersection.

Get out and vote

Tomorrow is election day in Quebec. Voters everywhere will go to the polls to choose the men they wish to handle the weighty business of running Canada's largest province.

The first important thing is to get out and vote.

This may seem a trivial and time-worn admonition, but while it is timeless, it is never trivial. The vote is the right we have as citizens in a free democracy; more than that, it is an obligation.

The individual may sometimes wonder how much influence his single vote can have, but our whole system of government is based on the single vote, joined with thousands of other single votes. An election is one time above all others when a person can act completely and truly as an individual.

One vote has influence, and each person has a responsibility to make that influence felt.

The second important thing is not only to use the vote, but to use it intelligently and honestly. To vote on whimsy or in ignorance, or to abuse the vote are moral crimes not only against society, but crimes against oneself.

Politics in a province or the country is, by and large, what the electors make it. Good electors make good politics; poor ones, miserable politics.

The choice in an election is more than a choice between political parties. By the way in which the vote is used, it is also a test of the integrity of those who hold the vote.

The mud puddle

Mud puddles are most useful. They come free of charge and are the delight of small children.

They provide practice for tomorrow's homemakers and activity for today's.

Washing machines, detergents and lotion for mothers' chapped hands are all purchased on the strength of mud puddles.

An object lesson

People who like passing object lessons on to their children might find one in the surprising result of the Ingemar Johansson — Floyd Patterson fight last night.

People just couldn't believe it when the world's heavyweight champion — favorite by a wide margin — was counted out in the fifth round. But he was.

And it could be that part of the reason why the champion lost his crown was what appeared to be a casual breach dies. Their commercial possibilities are practically unlimited. They please the manufacturers of many things — including the kitchen sink.

Like humans, mud puddles often run deep. And like human beings they have to be disturbed before anything of consequence happens.

of training the night before the fight.

Viewers on the television panel show What's My Line on Sunday were surprised when Ingemar turned out to be the mystery guest. The show starts at 10.30 p.m. and ends at 11.

When his name was revealed, surprised panelist Arlene Francis asked a very pertinent question:

"Ingemar Johansson! Why aren't you home in bed?"

Hon. Jean Lesage:

Liberal chief - 'bear trap' wary

QUEBEC (CP) — Jean Lesage's political career has come full circle.

Campaigning for Quebec's June 22 general election, the Liberal party leader is back in the provincial arena where he started 29 years ago.

Along the way, his aides say, he has never known defeat. He was personally successful in federal elections and, from the time he began as a 19-year-old apprentice on the hustings, campaigning for such as former Liberal premier Adelard Godbout, candidates he supported always won. He was crown prosecutor during the Godbout administration.

This is his first campaign as a party leader and first try for a seat in the Quebec legislature where his followers formed the official opposition to the Union Nationale government with 19 seats in the 93-seat house.

CABINET MINISTER
Mr. Lesage, 48 on June 10, was a member of the House of Commons for 13 years, representing Montmagny-L'Islet. He spent 3½ years as northern affairs minister.

He became Quebec Liberal leader May 31, 1958, succeeding Georges-Emile Laplante who continued as opposition leader in the legislature where Mr. Lesage had no seat.

In the last couple of years, the government called a number of by-elections and taunted Mr. Lesage for not running.

"I will not step into the bear trap," he said in reply to jibes from the late premier Duplessis. He apparently felt the Union Nationale would spare no effort to defeat him.

Instead he travelled around the province, reorganizing the Liberal party, attacking the government in speeches, guiding opposition tactics in the legislature and calling for a general election as soon as possible.

FARM VOTE

Born in Montreal, his parents had farm backgrounds and he has emphasized this in his speeches in rural areas.

"I'm one of you," he said at Louiseville, Que., where his father had lived and where an ancestor, also named Jean Lesage, settled after coming to Canada from Normandy in 1680. As a practical politician who realizes Quebec's rural ridings hold the key to power in the province, Mr. Lesage has aimed a large part of his program at the farm vote.

"The first session under a Liberal government will be known as the session of the family—the rural family," he said in Louiseville.

A husky man who has made considerable effort to dispel a manner that some regarded as standoffish, he is sometimes slow to warm up to his audience, but when he does he can be an impassioned speaker.

Married to the former Corinne Lagard, he is the father of four children.

A checkered history

Voting in the Eastern Townships

By CUTHBERT JONES (Record Staff Writer)

The defeat of the first Union Nationale Government in 1939 and the rise of autonomy as a prime issue in Quebec politics established a new era in the election field in this province. Thus any effort to study the past history of a county to determine its probable vote in Wednesday's election should be confined to the elections of 1939 and after.

With the possible exception of Sherbrooke, which has been unswerving in its loyalty to Hon. J. S. Bourque since 1935, the Eastern Townships ridings have a somewhat checkered history.

By counties, the story is:

ARTHABASKA — Recaptured by Liberal Wilfrid Girouard in 1939 and retained by P. H. Bourde for Union Nationale Cause in 1944. Present incumbent, Hon. Wilfrid Labbe, first elected as UN in 1948 and returned in 1952 and 1956.

BROME — Held continuously by late Hon. John Robinson as UN from 1936 to his death in 1948, after which Warwick Fox retained seat for government forces in 1948 by-election and 1952 general election. Glen Brown elected as Liberal in 1956.

COMPTON — Recaptured by William J. Duffy for Liberals in 1939 and retained by him in 1944 general elections. Following Mr. Duffy's death, seat was taken by Union Nationale Charles D. French, later Minister of Mines, in 1946 by-election and held in 1948 and 1952 general elections. John French, brother of late Mines Minister, was elected in 1954 by-election, but was defeated by Liberal, Dr. Fabien Gagnon, in 1956. Dr. Gagnon died a year later and seat was taken by UN Claude Gosselin in 1957 by-election. Mr. Gosselin is seeking re-election.

DRUMMOND — A. U. Rajotte, Liberal, took seat from UN Joseph Marier in 1939, but lost to Robert Bernard in 1944, the latter being re-elected in 1948, but losing to Bernard Pinard in 1952. But Bernard made a comeback in 1956 and is being opposed for re-election this year by Pinard.

FRONTENAC — Taken for Liberals in 1939 by H. L. Gagnon, who defeated Hon. Patrice Tardif, Tardif recaptured seat in 1944 and retained it in 1948 but lost to Dr. Gerard Noel, Liberal, in 1952. Dr. Noel lost out to Eloi Guillemette in 1956. The two men are both seeking election this year.

MEGANTIC — Held by Hon. Tancrede Labbe from 1935 to his death in 1956, with exception of 1939-1944 period. Retained by Union Nationale candidate, Dr. J. E. Fortin in 1957 by-election. Dr. Fortin seeking re-election.

MISSISQUOI — Won by Henri Gosselin, Liberal, in 1939 and retained in 1944. Taken by UN Jean Jacques Bertrand in 1948 and retained by him in 1952 and 1956.

RICHMOND — S. E. Desmarais, Liberal, elected in 1939, regained the seat from Albert Goudreau but failed to hold it against Goudreau when the latter sought election in 1944. Goudreau was re-elected in 1948 but lost out to Liberal Emilien Lafrance in 1952, who was returned in 1956 and is seeking election again this year.

Premier Antonio Barrette:

UN leader - gentleman of politics

QUEBEC (CP) — When Antonio Barrette, 61, was chosen by his Union Nationale party supporters to succeed the late Paul Sauve as Quebec premier, a large French-language daily newspaper described him as the "gentleman of Quebec politics."

The expression suits him. He is well known for his correct speech, polished manners and gallie dash and use of gestures. Yet the party chose him chiefly because of his appeal to the people. He is a man with little formal education but self-taught on a wide variety of subjects and thoroughly experienced in politics.

The Union Nationale, with 71 of the 93 seats in the last legislature, is banking on this appeal as Mr. Barrette approaches the first test of his leadership in the June 22 Quebec election.

FOCUS OF SUPPORT

Though he had been in the background during the last years of the late Maurice Duplessis' administration — political sources say he was at odds with Mr. Duplessis — he bounced back into the limelight when Mr. Sauve took the reins of government.

Mr. Barrette had the advantage of being known to old-time members of the party as one of its founders. At the same time he was regarded by younger members as an open-minded person.

Thus, when conflict developed over the choice of Mr. Sauve's

Mr. Barrette is familiar to many workers in the province, having acted as mediator in a number of labor disputes.

SYSTEMATIC APPROACH

He stepped into his new job at a difficult time. The legislature was in session and an election was in the offing. Mr. Barrette proved himself a systematic administrator. He was willing to take advice from his colleagues and surrounded himself with persons well informed in government. He overhauled the organization of his office.

Instead of charging at his work with the fury of a Paul Sauve, he arranged a schedule permitting him to spend one weekend in the provincial capital and the next at his home in Joliette with his wife. The Barrettes have four children, two boys and two girls.

He has maintained his outlets for his relaxation from the stresses of being premier. He has a magnificent library of 5,000 volumes, enjoys good music on his hi-fi and, when he has time, goes hunting or fishing.

A card-carrying member of the International Association of Machinists, he has represented Joliette in the legislature since 1936, winning re-election at five consecutive elections.

ANTONIO BARRETTE

successor, Mr. Barrette appeared as the man who could rally general support from the membership.

SAFETY PLAY IS SURE FIRE

The safety play is designed to insure against the loss of more than a certain number of tricks. Some safety plays are sure fire; others merely increase your chances.

Now take a look at the North and South hands. You win the opening spade lead and count three tricks in spades and two each in hearts and clubs. You need two diamond tricks for your contract. There is a sure thing safety play. See if you can figure it out.

The hand was played at the Regency Club in New York by Raymond Balfe and I just happened to walk in and sit down in back of Ray as the bidding ended. Thirty-five years ago Ray was one of the 10 best bridge players in the world. He quit bridge for business and now that he has retired is back playing bridge again. I wondered if Ray still knew that safety play and it did not take me long to find out that he did.

At trick two he laid down the ace of diamonds. West muttered, "Lucky," as he dropped the king, but Ray had guaranteed himself two diamond tricks against any combination of cards. If you don't think so just go over the possibilities. There is no problem against a three-two break.

CAMPAIGNING

Cornwall Standard-Freeholder Political campaigns do involve a frightful amount of pressure on candidates. A few men love the heat of battle. Most tend to wilt under it. Probably most, whether elected or defeated, are so relieved that the election is finally over they no longer have deep feelings of either triumph or despair.

Report From Ottawa

by Clyde Blackburn

OTTAWA — Some time ago I suggested that Prime Minister Diefenbaker, then visiting Washington, should try to talk President Eisenhower out of facing the Tokyo mobs.

Two years ago, when both the Democratic and Republican parties were trying to get Ike for a presidential candidate, I wrote that I believed that with his great reputation as a soldier he should not be submitted to the humiliations of a party politician in the White House.

It is no satisfaction to me that I was right on those points.

After World War II Eisenhower had all the honors and glories that any one man could expect.

There were no sensible reasons why he should go into politics except the reason that the party getting him felt sure of winning.

He held off till 1952 when he agreed to be the goat for the Republicans.

In the past few weeks he has been humiliated as probably no head of a great state has ever been humiliated in recorded history.

At home he has been smeared and kicked around as no one in 1945 would ever have imagined could happen.

International relations between heads of state have been lowered to the gangsterism level by Khrushchev at Paris and the Tokio mobs.

And each has been an Eisenhower humiliation. These events may endear him even more to decent thinking people—but the humiliation remains.

Back in Ottawa, the House of Commons was talking about immigration estimates.

Jack Pickersgill, former Liberal immigration minister, was on the attack. But he was handicapped. His opponent was the popular Mrs. Fairclough and, even if Jack is not every inch a sailor, he is a gentleman.

So he was nice to Ellen, but teed off on the Prime Minister who, in 1955 declared these "sawdust Caesars," meaning the immigration officials, were dictatorial and exercising powers far beyond propriety. Nothing was being done, Diefenbaker declared.

Jack asked what was being done in this respect after three years of Tory rule. The answer was nothing.

But Ellen sweetly told Jack and the House that the act was about to be revised and she would ask the help of all Liberals and everyone interested to make sure it was well done. So there.

But the amusing angle was when Bert Herridge of Kootenay, the sage of the CCF party, expressing that group's professed desire to be all things to all people, criticized discrimination in the immigration department.

He was asked if he would open the gates to everybody. No, he said, but he would make discrimination intelligent and directed by good sense.

Which is the usual totalitarian argument that bureaucrats know best what is good for all.

He would not, for instance, open the door wide to Asians. Mr. Herridge said, possibly thinking of the day's news from Japan. Nor to any race. But he would use "a commonsense approach."

"You believe in non-discriminatory discrimination," Mr. Pickersgill suggested.

A QUARTER CENTURY OF LEADERSHIP AND PROGRESS

Good leadership is admired and respected. Under the National Union Government Sherbrooke County continues to be a happy area in our great Province. The population here as in the other areas of the Province is growing steadily and the consequent financial demands to meet the needs of our expanding communities now, as in the past, place great responsibility on Provincial leadership.

The Honourable John S. Bourque has given good leadership and devoted service to Sherbrooke County. His successful efforts to obtain financial aid for our hospitals, our schools, our universities and other municipal needs, have advanced to a great degree the health, knowledge and well-being of our citizens.

Tremendous progress has been made in Sherbrooke County. It has received its share of grants-in-aid for the construction of bridges, the building and maintenance of roads and highways, waterworks, fire protection and sewage disposal problems.

For these reasons, as well as for his constant consideration to other problems of the electorate of the County of Sherbrooke, the business and professional men whose names appear below, respectfully urge you to support the Honourable John Bourque tomorrow.

Miss M. Fraser Feted At Shower In Cookshire

COOKSHIRE—A social evening in the form of a miscellaneous shower, was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Hurd, in honor of Miss Mabel Fraser, a June bride elect.

Miss Fraser was lured to the home of Mrs. Hurd on the pretext of making final arrangements about decorating the wedding cake. On entering the house, she was pleasantly surprised to find about 40 of her friends gathered in her honor. Mrs. Hurd pinned a corsage on Miss Fraser and on Mrs. A. McVetty, the prospective groom's mother, and Mrs. Desruisseaux pinned a corsage on Mrs. Fraser, the mother of the bride-elect.

Miss Fraser was seated in the chair of honor, beside a replica of a Cape Cod house, decorated with mock orange and buttercup window boxes, and with a miniature doll bride entering the door. The house contained beautifully decorated parcels. With the assistance of Mrs. McVetty and Mrs. Fraser, Miss Fraser opened her parcels and passed them around for all to admire.

A tinfoil cake plate, punctured with holes, was filled with the pretty ribbon bows and streamers from the parcels, forming a pretty hat for the prospective bride to model.

Miss Fraser thanked all for their gifts and kind thoughts in entertaining her.

Pink and white peonies were used to decorate the rooms, and at the close of the evening refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. L. Desruisseaux, Mrs. Matilda Worby, Miss Doris Wright, Mrs. Ernest King, and Mrs. Frank Hurd.

GENERAL NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Standish, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Standish and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Standish and family attended the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Booth in Chateaugay.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain or Discomfort

Finds Substance That Relieves Pain,
And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

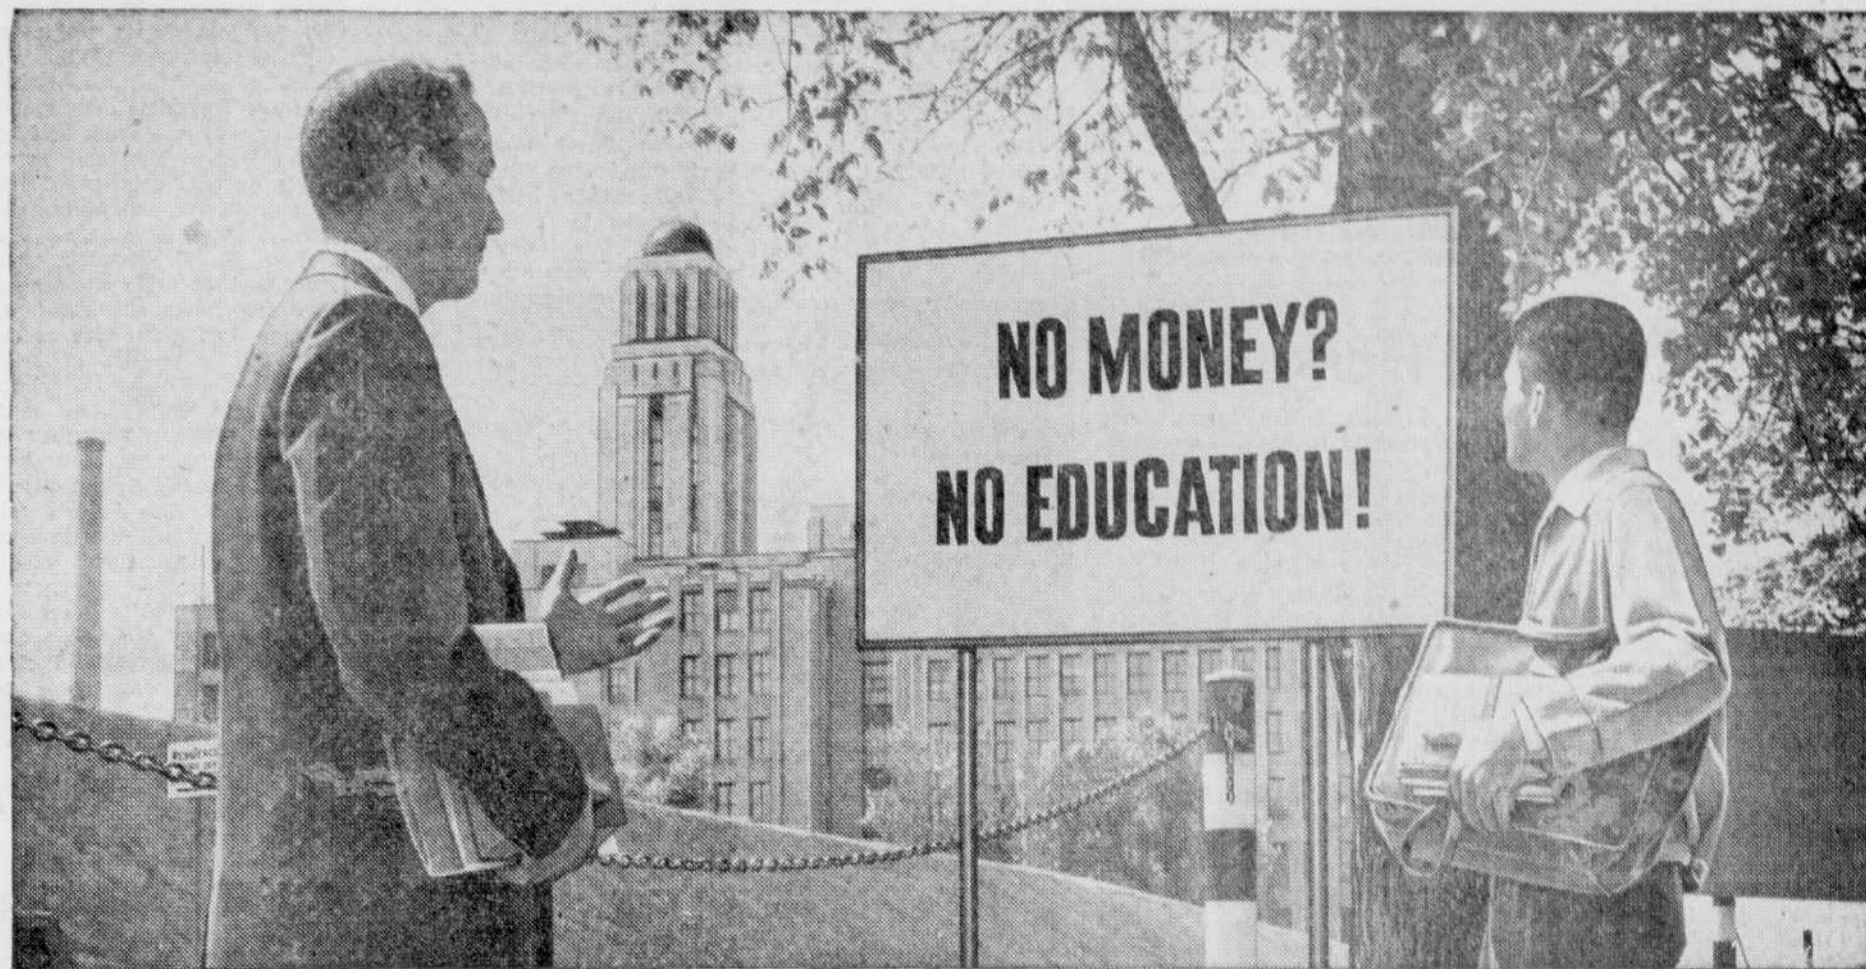

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a famous scientific institute.

Now this new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guaranteed.

Annual Meeting

St. Patrick Mission Circle Reports Successful Year

The St. Patrick Mission Circle held its annual meeting at the home of the Misses Mary and Eva McConnell, with a very large attendance. Miss Geraldine Hebert, president, was in the chair and referred with regret to the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Victor Brownlow, who has recently undergone surgery in Montreal. Mrs. Hector Bolduc acted as secretary pro-tem.

A letter was read from Reverend Father O. de Keyser, time until sufficient funds are on hand to build such a chapel in the mission territory of the Scarborough Foreign Mission Society.

The Circle will hold a doll raffle this year and tickets were given out for sale during the summer.

The treasurer, Miss Helen Slattery, gave the financial report of the year, a very satisfactory one, including as it did the substantial amount raised at the time of the anniversary celebrations in October which was sufficient to make a start on the chapel at Dome Creek.

The usual disbursements were then voted, including Scarborough Foreign Missions, Reverend Father Derge, O.M.I., Ebb & Flow, Manitoba; Reverend Father Michael Hawkins, S. J. Armstrong, Ont., for the mission at Collins, Ont.; Reverend Father Joseph Jean, O.M.I., Paddle Prairie, Alberta; Reverend Father Edward O'Flaherty, Manitoulin Island, Ont.; White Fathers of Africa, Our Lady's Missionaries, Toronto, Franciscan Missionaries of Mary, Belgian Congo and St. Patrick's Church, Sherbrooke.

In presenting the annual report the president referred to the Circle's fortieth anniversary in October last. Two teas were held, two rummage sales, a raffle and collection. These activities together with Circle dues comprised all the revenue. A shipment of clothing was sent in December to the mission of the Sisters of the Atonement at Smoky Lake, Alberta. Thanks were extended to Mrs. George Mooney, an indefatigable knitter of mittens for the children in the missions, and to Mr. Don Clowery and Mr. Victor Brownlow, who have lent much appreciated assistance.

The new slate of officers proposed by the chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Frank Wielgus was unanimously elected to office for the next year: Honorary president, Miss Geraldine Hebert; president, Mrs. Michael Farrell; 1st vice-president, Miss Gisèle Bernier; 2nd vice-president, Miss Trudy Evans; 3rd vice-president, Miss Eva Mc-Connell; secretary, Miss Margaret Fitzgerald; treasurer, Miss Helen Slattery, re-elected.

Rt. Reverend Monsignor Moisan, chaplain of the Circle, joined the meeting and gave a short talk on the importance of mission work and also referred to the campaign for new members in the Society for the Propagation of the Faith which he wishes the Circle to inaugurate in September in the parish. Miss Eva McConnell graciously offered to organize the campaign.

The hostesses afterwards served refreshments, Miss Valerie Brunelle pouring at the attractively appointed table.

The raffle for an electric automatic cooker-fryer, donated by Miss Cora Racicot was won by Mrs. P. Duquette of Magog.

Marrriages Of Local Interest

PERRAULT — SMITH

STANSTEAD — The marriage of Doreen Barbara, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Stanstead, to Mr. Robert Perrault, of Montreal, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Perrault of Stanstead and Montreal, took place on Saturday, June 11th, in Centenary United church at half-past two o'clock. Rev. A. M. Rose, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. A. P. Gordon played the organ music.

Baskets of yellow iris, blue lupins and chrysanthemums decorated the Sanctuary and choir rail, with white satin ribbon bows and yellow iris marking the guest pews.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin, the floor length bouffant skirt featured a lace front with cascading lace and tulle at the back. The fitted bodice with a V at the centre waist front was finished with a scalloped scoop neckline and long sleeves. Her chapel length veil of tulle edged with scallops, each point centered with a single pearl, fell from a crown of sequins and rhinestones. She carried a lace covered Bible adorned with red roses, and she wore a single strand of pearls with matching earrings, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Leslie Camber, as matron of honor, was in a street length dress of petal rose pink organza over taffeta, styled with a full skirt, the jacket topping the bodice having three quarter length sleeves and a round neckline. She wore a shaded pink petal hat with nose veil and carried a colonial bouquet of white and pink carnations.

Miss Beryl Coates, Lennoxville and Miss Sylvia Riley, of Sherbrooke, as bridesmaids wore street length dresses of silk organza, Miss Coates, in mint green and Miss Riley, in daffodil

A/2cLEE H. HOLMES AND MRS. HOLMES, cutting the cake at the reception following their wedding in St. Edward's Parish Church, Derby Line, Que. officiated at the double ring ceremony. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Gaudreau and Mr. Conrad Haselton was soloist. Seasonal flowers adorned the Altar and decorated the sanctuary.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was in a gown of white Alencon lace and tulle over satin, the bodice was finished with a scoop neckline and long lily point sleeves. The floor length bouffant skirt of lace featured a back effect of cascading tulle edged with lace, and her Chapel length veil fell from a pixie cap adorned with silver thread rosettes. She carried a bouquet of red and yellow roses. Her jewellery was a single strand of pearls and matching earrings.

Mr. George Smith acted as best man and Andrew Joyal, brother of the bride stood as witness for the groom, the ushers were Louis Joyal, brother of the bride and George Smith, Jr.

Mrs. Joyal, mother of the bride wore a figured silk dress, toning accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs. Smith was in a dress of powder blue and wore toning accessories and a corsage of an orchid.

The reception was held at the Del Monty Hotel where the bride's table was arranged with flowers and a four tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Music was played later for dancing by Langvin's orchestra from Beebe.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes left by motor for their honeymoon, Mrs. Holmes wearing a two piece dress in oyster and green silk, a white and cocoa brown satin straw hat, cocoa brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward George Paige of Magog, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Catherine Joanne, to John Alexander Stewart, son of Mr. Lester Stewart and the late Mrs. Stewart of Maple Grove. The marriage will take place in July.

ST. ANDREW'S AUXILIARY
St. Andrew's Auxiliary held its closing meeting of the season in the church hall, with a good attendance of members.

The president, Mrs. H. W. Gilbert opened the meeting with a scripture reading and the secretary, Mrs. Keith Moe read the minutes and correspondence. The treasurer, Mrs. L. A. McLeod, gave a satisfactory financial report.

At the meeting, which took the form of a Phantom Tea, it was decided to hold a food sale in the near future to raise funds towards the planned Deaconess's Home being built in Toronto.

Following the closing prayer, refreshments were served by the members.

Official Pays Visit To O.E.S. Chapter, Anniversary Marked At Sutton

SUTTON — A stated meeting of Pinnacle Chapter No. 11 O.E.S. was held in the Masonic Hall, the occasion was to be the official visit of the Worthy Grand Matron, Sister Breta Dearborn, who was unable to attend on account of illness, but who was represented by Sister Mabel Jenne, P.G.M.

The meeting opened in form, after which distinguished guests were presented and welcomed by Sister Barbara Draper, W.M. and Brother Harold Belcher, W.P. of Pinnacle chapter.

Guests were: Sister Mabel Jenne, P.G.M., Brother John Bulteel, Worthy Grand Patron; Sister Ethel Mosher, P.G.M. and General Grand Chapter Committee member on Estar. Sister Esther B. West, Gr. Sec.; Sister May Wallace, Gr. Treas.; Sister Grace Cullen, Gr. Cond., Sister Charlotte Bulteel, Cr. Adh. Brother Neil Creller, Gr. Sent.

Sister Myrtle Vincent, Sister Anne Harvey, Sister Agnes Bell, Past Grand Matrons, and Brother Edward West, Brother Clarence Hill, Brother John Mosher, Brother John Walker, Past Grand Patrons; Sister Flora Creller, Gr. Inst. Dist No. 2 of the Grand Chapter of Quebec; Sister Della Clark, Assoc. Gr. M. Sister Frances Maurice, P.G.M., Sister Carol Hazen P.G.P., of the Grand Chapter of Vermont.

There were visitors present from Montreal, St. Johns, St. Lambert, Clarenceville, Danville, Waterloo, Cowansville, and Richford and Alburg, Vt.

After a short recess an initiation ceremony took place as well as a special ceremony symbolizing Faith, Hope and charity, depicted by the cup.

This meeting was an anniversary since it was exactly 25 years ago June 4, 1935, that Sister Mabel Jenne made her official visit to Pinnacle Chapter as Worthy Grand Matron. The minutes of that meeting were read and proved of great interest. It was found that the aims and benevolent work of the O.E.S. was the same then as now. Several members and visitors recalled attending the meeting 25 years ago.

A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the meeting. During this period Sister Florence Wilson was honored on the occasion of her birthday and presented with a birthday cake.

Three Villages Happenings

The home of Mrs. Thomas Bowen on Phelps Ave. was the scene of a pleasant event when she was hostess to the Sunnyside teaching staff. Tea was served from the lace-covered table centered with a silver basket holding rose-buds. Miss Dorothy Phillips poured.

Children's Day At Fish Pond

COATICOOK — The annual Children's Day, sponsored by the Lake Lyster Fish and Game Club, was held on a Sunday afternoon at the pond of Mr. Louis Roch Seguin, director of the Government Fish Hatchery. A number of children from Coaticook, Baldwin's mills and other towns took advantage of the opportunity to catch some fine trout, with very little effort. In spite of the inclement weather the youngsters, protected by umbrellas, rain coats or whatever afforded some protection, stayed with it until they had caught their limit.

On the same day the fathers of the young fishermen were trying their luck at catching one of the five tagged fish released recently in the waters of Lake Lyster. Four trout and one salmon, with identification tags, will win for the lucky fisherman catching any one, or all of the five fish, twenty-five dollars each, when the tag is returned to the Club.

The boat and motor, prize in the annual drawing held by the Club, was won this week by Mr. Fernand Riendeau.

SCOTSTOWN —

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Desruis-seaux from East Angus were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Desruisseau.

Mrs. E. Weir, of Rosemere, and her grandchildren, David, Peter and Janie Pankovitch, of Belvedere Heights were guests of Mrs. Weir's son-in-law, and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pehleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tessier and family are spending a holiday at their camp.

Women's Institute Holds Meeting At Abbotsford

ABBOTSFORD — The Women's Institute held a social evening in the Parish Hall with Mrs. G. Coates as hostess. Over 50 attended including several from other branches, who were welcomed by the president, Mrs. W. Watson.

Mrs. G. Coates introduced Mr. B. S. W. Brown, of Granby, lecturer at McGill University, faculty of medicine.

He has numerous hobbies, of which photography is one and with Mrs. Brown, he attended the convention of the Canadian Medical Association and the British Association in Edinburgh in June 1959, and toured the British Isles and Europe for six weeks; as a result he had many beautiful slides to be shown.

Mrs. J. Gillespie thanked Dr. Brown for being kind enough to come down to show slides.

Miss M. Marshall was at the piano for the closing.

Refreshments were served.

R. D. A. Teachers Review Activities Of Past Year

WINDSOR MILLS — At the annual meeting of the R.D.A. Association of Protestant Teachers held at the Windsor-Brompton Consolidated School, members heard Mrs. Kay Crowe, director of Family Life and Parent Education for the Mental Hygiene Institute, discuss many of the factors which influence the character and behaviour of children, from birth to school age, as well as during their school years.

Mr. Gaw, the president, spared no effort to make this a red-letter year for the association, guiding the choice of films pertinent to the subject, giving lists of books dealing with the problem of both the gifted and retarded deviants, and providing each member with a booklet, in which, by means of outstanding traits, they might evaluate a problem child's deviation from the usual behaviour patterns.

At the November meeting, the Central School Board was host at the A.D.S. School. Dr. Lorne Hamilton spoke on problems facing the child and Mr. Stutz discussed various means of testing the type and degree of deviation.

The February meeting, held in the Richmond High School, was largely devoted to discussions relating to professional matters and films were shown.

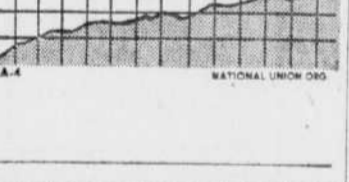

In April, Miss Ruth Low, who has always been interested in the teaching of reading, dealt with the cause of a child's inability to become a good reader.

COATICOOK —

Members of the Sunday School of St. Stephen's Church enjoyed their annual picnic on Saturday last. The outing was held at Quebec Lodge on Lake Massawippi and games, swimming and a picnic lunch were enjoyed by all.

Mr. Peter Racicot, a student at Stanstead College, has completed his studies for the term and returned home to spend the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Racicot.

U.S. fleet visit

MONTREAL (CP)—The U.S.S. Northampton, flagship of the U.S. Second Fleet paying a courtesy call to Montreal, became a temporary headquarters of the Royal Victoria Hospital mobile blood clinic Monday. More than 100 midshipmen donated blood to the hospital bank in what a fleet spokesman called, "a good will gesture."

ing space adjoining the meeting area caused a mass exodus of the army of small boys who inevitably congregate at such meetings, and also gave Henri Poulin, an organizer from Montreal, an opportunity to chastise the Liberal party for its tactics.

After the rush, which virtually halted the meeting, had been brought under control, Mr. Poulin informed the adults the Liberal organizers were bribing the boys to place Liberal stickers over the Union Nationale posters. This was in keeping with Liberal practices, he said.

The educational expansion of the Province of Quebec during the past 15 years was outlined by Gaetan Cote, who said an average of one new school had been built each day the Union Nationale was in power.

Mr. Cote also reviewed the Government record in secondary and advanced education fields.

Other speakers included Alphonse Trudeau and Andre Langlais.

MP charged

SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—Joseph W. Murphy, 76-year-old Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Lambton West, was charged with drunk driving and remanded on bail to next Monday. He was arrested Friday night by Sarnia Township Police. No plea was entered.

area.

"I tried to make radio contact with Quebec City but believe that my set had 'conked-out.' In trying to establish my whereabouts I dropped down and the first thing I knew I was hitting the high tension lines which were directly in my path. Cutting the motor I tried for a landing in the field directly below."

The plane hit the field and cut a path through a fence line and some small trees to come to rest against a large rock pile. The fuselage snapped and bent at a 90 degree angle to the motor. Pieces of the plane were strewn several hundred feet about the area. Gasoline was pouring from the tanks but no fire took place.

The first on the scene was Maurice Arsenault a farmer, who got the help of Bertrand Willet, Roland Willet and Conrad Hince who helped pull the injured pilot from the plane.

Mr. Forster added that Fewell, leader of the flight, had reported good weather heading out of New Brunswick, but that they had encountered poor visibility flying over Megantic County and had become lost.

O'Rourke said Mr. Forster, had apparently found a clear path to Quebec City where he brought his plane in safely. Fewell attempted to bring his plane in for a normal landing on a farmer's field near St. Evariste, but ploughed to a nose-down stop. He was unhurt.

Fewell stated he had been flying under the heavy cloud looking for bearings before he found a clear path to St. Hubert air force base near Montreal.

All the aircraft (Grumman TBV Avengers) had been heading for Ste. Jovite. The pilots were not regular employees of the Company.

Tingwick and Ste. Evariste are 25 and 17 miles east and west of Disraeli respectively.

QUEBEC READY

terpreted as meaning the hours during which the polls were open and it has been the practise to open up one hour after the close of the polls.

But recently a court judgment ruled that election day meant the 24 hours from midnight to midnight of the day when voting was held. In the light of this decision, which is still subject to appeal, it is possible that the bars and grills may be closed all day.

A definite ruling from the Quebec Liquor Commission is expected late today.

VOTING RIGHTS

Another phase of the election law which is often misconstrued is that governing time off for employees to vote. The law provides that every employer must allow each elector three hours in which to vote in addition to the time ordinarily given for the mid-day meal.

In the appendix explaining Act, it is ruled that this does not mean an employer must allow the electors three hours away from his work, but that the worker must have three hours in which to vote. With polls closing at 6:30 p.m., a worker whose shift ends at 3:30 p.m. or earlier must work his regular shift. Similarly, if his shift starts at noon or later, the law deems he should exercise his ballot between 9 a.m., poll opening time, and the time he starts work.

In practise, most industrial plants in the area which operate on the single-shift basis are planning to close at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow to comply with the provisions of the law.

ELIGIBLE VOTERS

Persons eligible to vote must be registered on the voting lists, be a British subject of 21 years of age on voting day or over and have been a resident of the province for at least two years.

An elector votes in the polling division in which he or she was a resident on the date the enumeration of electors got underway.

OBITUARIES

MRS. GEORGINA BURK, OF MONTREAL

Formerly of Sherbrooke MONTREAL. — The death occurred at the Montreal General Hospital on June 6, 1960, of Georgina Ida Armstrong, wife of the late Mason V. Burk, and mother of Christopher Albert Burk. A daughter, Eva Bessie, predeceased her in 1907.

She was born in Sherbrooke on Jan. 20, 1874, the eldest daughter of Major Christopher Armstrong and his wife, Lucy Hughes. Although she resided in Montreal from the time of her marriage in 1899, Mrs. Burk made frequent and lengthy visits to her home town.

The deceased is also survived by two sisters, Ella, Mrs. George Parsons, of Sherbrooke, and Mollie, Mrs. J. P. Cavers, of Phillipsburg, Que.

Georgie Burk was a devoted member of St. Martin's Anglican Church in Montreal for almost 60 years and latterly of Christ Church Cathedral. In her early life in Sherbrooke, she was a member of the Church of the Advent and for a time the church organist. In recent years, she was interested in the activities of St. Peter's Church on her visits to Sherbrooke. Mrs. Burk was remarkably keen and active for a person of her years, and passed away after a very short illness.

The funeral service was conducted in Montreal at the Chapel of Jos. C. Wray and Bros. by Dean G. H. Dowker, of Christ Church Cathedral, on June 8.

The burial was in the family plot in Elmwood Cemetery, Sherbrooke, on June 9. Rev. Guy Marston, of St. Peter's Church, officiating.

MRS. H. S. OSGOOD, OF COOKSHIRE

COOKSHIRE — Townspeople looked with deep regret of the sudden death of Mrs. Henry S. Osgood on May 18, 1960.

Mrs. Osgood was the former Clara Maude Maria Bailey, the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William W. Bailey, of Island Brook. On June 14, 1899, she was united in marriage to Henry Stephen Osgood. There was no issue of this union. Both Mr. and Mrs. Osgood were very fond of children, and upon the death of Mrs. Osgood's sister, Gretchen, they brought up her three children, Elizabeth and William (twins) and Colin Pope.

Mrs. Osgood was keenly interested in all departments of St. Peter's Anglican Church and took an active part in the Women's Institute until a short time before her death. She acted as organist both in St. Peter's Church and in the Methodist Church, now the United Church in Cookshire, for a number of years, and was a member of Cookshire Chapter No. 46, O.E.S.

"When will the cost of living reach its peak? That when I'm engaged to be married after!"

Mrs. Osgood will be sadly missed by all whose privilege it was to know her.

Family prayers were conducted at her home by the Rev. Canon W. C. Dunn, followed by a service in St. Peter's Church on May 20.

The bearers were H.C. Barter, H. A. Plow, E. Rousseau, S. Vermette, O.C. Farnsworth, J.R. French, and interment was in the family plot in the Cookshire Cemetery.

The service was largely attended by relatives and friends from Quebec City, Montreal, Prescott, Ont., Sherbrooke and from the towns in the surrounding district.

Surviving this venerable lady are her husband, Henry S. Osgood, and her sister, Mrs. E.E. Soles.

MRS. E. A. HARLING, OF BISHOPTON

BISHOPTON — The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Harling occurred at the Sherbrooke Hospital on April 12, 1960, following an illness of many years.

Mrs. Harling was born in Yorkshire, England, on Feb. 27, 1889, the eldest child of the late Richmond Nelson and his wife Mary Storie.

She received her education in England, and was employed there for a time, coming to Canada where she spent some time in Winnipeg, Man., later coming East where she spent the rest of her life in Bishopton, apart from the last two and a half years in Lennoxville, where she was cared for by her daughter Beverly.

In May of 1915 she was united in marriage to Parker Harling, of Bishopton. Of this union seven children were born: Vernie, Mrs. Norman Peasley, of Lorne Park, Ont.; Vera George, Mrs. William Harper, of Bury; Thelma, Mrs. Arnold Harding, of Sherbrooke; Nelson and Billy, of Bishopton; Betty, Mrs. Gordon Butler, and Beverly, Mrs. George Smiley, of Lennoxville.

Besides her husband and family, Mrs. Harling is survived by six grandchildren, and one great-grandchild; a brother, Richmond Nelson, and two sisters, Misses Annie and Mary Nelson of Yorkshire, England, besides nieces, and cousins. Mrs. Harling will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

The funeral service was held on April 14, Rev. D. Stirling officiating. A favorite hymn of the deceased The Old Rugged Cross, was rendered by the choir.

Bearers were Lyford George, Horace Ainsworth, Teddy Ainsworth, Ernest Bennett, Ernest MacAulay and Fritz Leonard. Interment took place in Lake-side Cemetery Bishopton.

Relatives and friends attending the service were from Ontario, Lennoxville, Sherbrooke, Montreal, Ayer's Cliff, Waterloo, South Stukely, Bury and Iron Hill.

MRS. WILLIAM NEWMAN, OF NEWPORT, VT.

NEWPORT — Mrs. William Newman died on May 30, after a lengthy illness from a coronary thrombosis. The funeral was held on the following Thursday afternoon in the First Baptist church in Newport at two o'clock.

Rev. E. A. Rockwell, of Addison, assisted by Rev. James Ramey, officiated. The bearers were Floyd Niles, Donald MacDonald, Gordon Mooney, Ruston Talbot, Clifton Newton, Maynard Schoff, Riley Worth and Guy Magoon.

Interment took place in Marlinton cemetery, near Beebe, The Rebekah sisterhood carried out the last rites at the church after the service.

THE BOURQUE AFFAIR AND NATURAL GAS!

It would have been easy for Mr. Bourque to explain his position in the natural gas affair. He was, after all, the Departmental Minister.

Mr. Bourque could have produced documents he had in his possession, the cheque or cheques with which he paid for his shares in the Natural Gas Corporation, and the documents he gave or sent to his broker.

In the face of public reaction, Mr. Bourque should make a clean breast of the whole affair. Certainly, since Mr. Bourque's position is not an enviable one, he is the person who should be most interested in clarifying the whole situation.

This affair would have been brought into the open, if Mr. Bourque had permitted a Royal Inquiry, as demanded by all clear thinking Quebecers.

Stanbridge Game Club Holds Banquet In Bedford

BEDFORD — The Stanbridge Hunting and Fishing Association Inc. held its annual banquet at the Maurice Hotel recently.

Sterling Pollock, conservationist with the Canadian International Paper Co., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cadham and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Vosburg, of the Clarenceville and Noyan Gun Club, were among the 56 people present.

R. Robinson, association president, was master of ceremonies. Mr. Pollock gave an address and presented the Sterling Pollock Merit Trophy. In his talk, Mr. Pollock dealt with two related subjects, pollution of rivers and streams, which in some areas has become a menace to public health, and conservation.

Education in the schools on the latter subject is being encouraged by essay contests sponsored by Mr. Pollock. In 1969, over 14,000 essays were entered, eight prizes being awarded.

AWARDS PRESENTED
Donald Stoliker, winner of the Merit Trophy, was presented with an engraved silver tray and an engraved plate to attach to the trophy, which is awarded annually to the member who has made the greatest contribution to the association and to conservation. Mr. Stoliker has been an Association game warden for several years.

George Boucher was winner of the Selby Trap Trophy and a silver spoon, R. S. Selby making the presentation. Bob Roy, of Cowansville, received a silver spoon as second prize.

LE RESEAU ELECTRIQUE POTVIN in SHERBROOKE Another example of favouritism

The population of Sherbrooke is revolted by what is happening to electrical work contracts executed recently in Sherbrooke. Most of these contracts, both in number and importance, are given to RESEAU ELECTRIQUE POTVIN. Other contracting electricians, and everyone in the city and county, is openly indignant about this method of operation.

The Provincial Government or institutions benefitting from provincial government grants, in giving all important electrical contracts to the firm of RESEAU ELECTRIQUE POTVIN, are still practising favouritism.

Would you like to know the proprietors of the RESEAU ELECTRIQUE POTVIN, a firm established some years ago in Sherbrooke? Each Sherbrooke County elector should turn to page 63, second column, in his telephone directory and find the name POTVIN, Jean-Marie, Reseau Electrique, 821 First Avenue North. Note that the telephone number is LOrraine 9-2908.

Now, turn to page 65, third column and find the listing, Reseau Electrique Potvin. You'll note the same address and phone number. Now, turn back to page 29, second column and find DRAPEAU, Fernand, and once again you'll find the same address and phone number.

This Mr. Fernand Drapeau, who is related to Mr. Potvin of RESEAU ELECTRIQUE, is Johnny Bourque's secretary.

Once you conduct this bit of research, it is not surprising that big government electrical contracts are awarded "automatically" to RESEAU ELECTRIQUE POTVIN, a firm with which Mr. Fernand Drapeau is so closely linked that he has the telephone number and address.

When confronted with these facts, the population of Sherbrooke has the right to know how it is possible that J. S. Bourque's secretary, whose salary is paid by the provincial government, also receives in a direct or indirect manner (there's no difference) these provincial government contracts.

Mr. Maurice Duplessis himself once said — "After 15 years in power, a government is rotten." This rottenness has been going on too long in the County of Sherbrooke and it should be done away with on June 22nd.

Coaticook Canadians Host Indians, Brompton Visits Kist In Junior Baseball Loop Action This Evening

Action resumes this evening in the Sherbrooke Junior Baseball League with Fuller the only club remaining inactive. Brompton Royals visit Kist at the Municipal Stadium with gametime set at 8:30 while Sherbrooke Indians travel to Coaticook for a tilt with the Canadians starting at 7:30.

The result of the Indian-Canadian feature will decide the occupant of second place in the circuit and, as things stand now, either squad could take the game. Kist is looking for its fourth straight win tonight while Brompton is hoping to enter the winning column. The Royals have yet to take a game and have played five tilts so far this season.

Indians edged Coaticook 9-8 in the last meeting of the two teams June 14 and tonight's game will see both squads going at full tilt for the win. The Redmen plan to start Andre Moreau as pitcher and will also have Eugene Magon, a newcomer to the loop, on the lineup.

Coaticook have been having a great season so far and have won three of their five tilts. The Canadians boast such outstanding players as Petoquin, Pivin, Simard, Coupal and Louis Michaud and will certainly provide plenty of opposition for the hosting Indians' club.

Kist is riding on top of the heap presently and have a 1,000 percentage which they will be out to defend this evening. The hosts recently blanked the Royals 4-0 but, during that last win, the Royals proved to have tightened up their game. As a result of this, tonight's fixture could see the Kist ninesome lose their perfect record.

Just the opposite to the high-flying Kist squad is their opponent in tonight's meeting, Brompton. The Royals have lost five out of five and have played every club except Fuller. However, they have been improving in every showing they've made and tonight may see them break through their winless record.

New ruling was recently put into effect by the League management and it is that no inning will start after 10:45 p.m. at the Municipal Stadium. This assures spectators that the tilt will end at that time or at least several minutes later.

Swedes Were Confident That Ingo Would Win

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Floyd Patterson's knockout victory over Ingemar Johansson for the world heavyweight championship Monday night, left this Scandinavian country stunned.

So confident were most Swedes that their countryman, Johansson, would retain the title that they didn't bother to stay up for the radio broadcast. The fight didn't start until 3:30 a.m., Swedish time.

But as soon as they got over their shock, the sports-loving Swedes appeared ready to hail Patterson as the first dethroned heavyweight champion to regain his title.

"He surprised all of us," said one storekeeper who stayed up late. "But he must have been wonderful."

The odds on Johansson in Goteborg, his home town, were 15-1 and local bookmakers there reported that they had a hard time finding anyone willing to wager on Patterson.

NEW CHAMP

Floyd Patterson

PATTERSON DRESSING ROOM

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—"For the first time I feel I'm a real champion. I think the public finally will accept me. At least, I hope so."

Floyd Patterson spoke these words in a little more than a whisper to a horde of newsmen Monday night as he tried to explain how it feels to become the first man in the history of boxing ever to regain the heavyweight championship of the world.

"I think it was the hardest blow I ever hit anyone," he said quietly. "It had to be. I put everything behind it and I weighed more tonight than I ever did for any other fight."

LEAPING LEFT

The "hardest blow" was a leaping left hook that landed flush on Ingemar Johansson's chin midway in the fifth round and dropped the Swede as if he had been hit with a club. Referee Arthur Mercante counted 10 over the prostrate Viking but he might as well have counted 100. It took some 10 minutes to revive Johansson.

"It was worth losing the title for this," Patterson said happily. "This is easily the most gratifying moment of my life. I never for a moment thought of losing but to win it this way—it's just perfect. I can't tell you how happy I am."

"I'm the champ again. A real champ this time. Do you know what that means?"

Few of the hundreds of reporters in the steaming, crowded dressing room could hear Floyd. He never once raised his voice.

"I'm going to be a real champion," he kept repeating.

Sydney—Vic White, 129, Australia, outpointed Yukio Katsunuma, 129, Japan, 10.
Toronto—Gale Kerwin, Ottawa, Canadian welterweight champion, knocked out Marcel Houde, Quebec City, 3.

ROUND BY ROUND

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Sweden's Ingemar Johansson made his first title defence Monday night against American Floyd Patterson in a return 15-round bout at the Polo Grounds. The champion was a 7 1/2-5 favorite. Johansson, 27, weighed 194 1/2 pounds. Patterson, 25, weighed 199, the heaviest of his career.

The undefeated Johansson won the crown from Patterson last June 26 on a seven knockdown, third round technical knockout.

A crowd of about 35,000 paid about $800,000. For this long awaited return fight in the outdoor ball park. The fight was broadcast in the U.S. and to many foreign lands. There was no home television but a closed circuit television hookup beamed the picture to 230 locations in the U.S. and Canada.

Scoring was by the round system with the referee and two judges voting. A supplementary point system also was used to help break draws. The winner of each round received from 1 to 4 points, the loser none.

The referee was Arthur Mercante. The judges were Leo Birnbaum and Arthur Aidala.

FIRST IN RING

Patterson was first in the ring. When Ingemar did not show up immediately, the national anthems of both countries were played and sung. Movie and television star Eddie Fisher sang the Star Spangled Banner. Alf Affer sang the Swedish anthem.

Shortly after Johansson came into the ring and received a huge ovation.

The round by round:

Round one:

They exchanged light jabs at the beginning of the first round. Ingo flicked two light jabs to the head and they clinched. They exchanged jabs again. And Patterson landed a hard left hook to the jaw that snapped Ingo's head back. Patterson smashed a left to the body and a right to the head, scoring with leaping rushes. Ingo had a slight cut under his left eye. Floyd drove a right to the body but took a light left to the jaw in return. Floyd speared Ingo with a long left jab just before the bell.

The AP gave the round to Patterson.

Round two:

They exchanged jabs again at the start of the second round. Floyd missed with a long left. But the challenger got in two left jabs to the head as the champion moved back. Ingo drove a hard right high to Ingo's head. Floyd looked stunned. Ingo moved in on the retreating Patterson. Ingo jabbed carefully as Patterson circled away. Patterson appeared to have revived and he charged in on Ingo. He drove both hands to the head and body, but most of the punches were blocked. Ingo speared repeatedly at the incoming Floyd.

The AP gave the round to Johansson.

Round three:

Patterson was short with two jabs early in the third but connected with two others. Patterson drove a smashing left hook to Ingo's stomach and Ingo clinched.

The AP gave the round to Patterson.

Patterson came out jabbing at the start of the fourth round. He kept Ingo moving back with the jabs. Patterson, stealing Ingo's style, sent over three more jabs. Ingo grinned as he held Floyd. Ingo connected with a long left and right to the head. Floyd came back with a short solid right to the jaw. Floyd brought a roar from the crowd by driving a left and right to Ingo's reddening body. Patterson left loose with a three-punch flurry.

The AP gave the fourth round to Patterson.

Round five: Floyd moved in quickly in the fifth round with three jabs and a short solid right to the ear. Ingo got in a sweeping right uppercut that did nothing to Patterson.

A left hook dropped Ingo for a count of nine. Floyd smashed Ingo with both hands with tremendous speed and power. Ingo held on desperately. Ingo spun around but could not get in a hard blow.

A left hook dropped Johansson for a nine count early in the fifth round. Then another smashing left hook to the jaw dropped Ingo flat on his back for the full count.

"He's all right," declared Edvin Ahlquist, adviser to the dimpled Swede, Ingemar Johansson, who achieved the distinction of losing his title to the man he took it from a year ago.

"He got knocked out, that we know," said Ahlquist to the milling, sweating crowd held back by private police outside the dressing room.

"He'd like to talk to you tomorrow. He's shocked. This is the first time in his life he's been knocked out. He's been knocked down three or four times but never out. I thought the fight was a good one. He really shook Floyd Patterson with a right in the second round but he didn't follow up. When Patterson got in his blow he did follow up. I've no alibi. The better man won."

Patterson's Spartan Training Is Successful

NEW YORK (AP) — Ingemar Johansson threatened to revolutionize the time-honored routine of fight training. But the revolution is over.

When Floyd Patterson demolished the handsome Swede in winning back the world heavyweight boxing title Monday night it was a victory for spartan training over the plush country-club atmosphere.

Johansson astounded critics with his playboy approach to the first fight a year ago. He knocked out Patterson in three rounds and the general idea was that fighters had been unnecessarily punishing themselves to get into condition.

Ingemar followed the same routine for his title defence. He would dance and journey to New York from Grossinger, more than 100 miles, to appear on television. He played golf and rode horseback. He lived in a family circle. It was one big holiday for Ingemar's parents, his brother and the brother's wife, and his fiancée.

Patterson had been holed up in an abandoned old roadhouse hidden away in Connecticut. He had been there since last fall, leading the rugged life with only his trainer and sparring partners as company.

Charley Goldman, who trained Rocky Marciano throughout his undefeated career as heavyweight champion, thinks it was at least part of the answer to Johansson's defeat. He said: "Patterson didn't change his style much for this fight, except to be more aggressive. It was just a case of the other fellow not being ready."

JOHANSSON DRESSING ROOM

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK (AP) — The beaten, chagrined ex-heavyweight champion of the world tumbled to his dressing room Monday night and after an hour's silence sent out word he was in no mood to talk.

"He's all right," declared Edvin Ahlquist, adviser to the dimpled Swede, Ingemar Johansson, who achieved the distinction of losing his title to the man he took it from a year ago.

"He got knocked out, that we know," said Ahlquist to the milling, sweating crowd held back by private police outside the dressing room.

"He'd like to talk to you tomorrow. He's shocked. This is the first time in his life he's been knocked out. He's been knocked down three or four times but never out. I thought the fight was a good one. He really shook Floyd Patterson with a right in the second round but he didn't follow up. When Patterson got in his blow he did follow up. I've no alibi. The better man won."

Patterson upset Johansson's pattern by using the Swede's own piercing weapon—the left jab.

Lightning Left Hook Puts End To Swede's Reign, Ingemar To Get Return Match, Says New Champion

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Floyd Patterson has a lightning left hook to match Ingemar Johansson's thunderbolt right and holds the world heavyweight boxing championship for a record second time.

The 25-year-old New Yorker became the first man to regain the title when he knocked out the Swede with a leaping left hook at 1:51 of the fifth round at the Polo Grounds Monday night.

"I think it was the hardest blow I ever hit anyone," said Patterson. "For the first time I feel I'm a real champion. I think the public finally will accept me."

"I told Ingemar he positively will get a third shot. I'd like it soon. In 90 days if possible."

"I'm going to think it over," said the downcast Johansson when asked whether he wanted the third fight. It was his first defeat in a 23-fight professional career.

Johansson soared to championship heights last June 26 by demolishing Patterson on a seven-knockdown, third-round technical knockout. Now his invincibility has been shattered.

In regaining the most lucrative prize in sports, the young, broad-shouldered Negro succeeded where eight other ring greats, including Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis, had failed.

At 21, Patterson became the youngest heavyweight champion by flattening old Archie Moore with a left hook in the fifth round at Chicago Nov. 30, 1956.

Ingo's left eye in the first round and raised a lump under the eye in the next round. He employed the left to get in close and blast Johansson's body and head.

In the fifth round he sent Johansson to the ropes. The first left thudded against Ingo's jaw and dropped him. The champ got up on one knee and took the count of nine. Patterson, a 7 1/2-5 underdog, tore after him with a vengeance, battering him with both hands. For a few moments, Johansson escaped. Then came the crushing left and boxing history was made.

Patterson's purse may amount to $783,000. Ingo will be consoled by a purse of close to $636,000.

Promoter Bill Fugazy of Feature Sports Incorporated estimated the crowd at 40,000 to 45,000 and gate receipts at around $800,000. Several million dollars may be added from radio rights, closed-circuit television, movies and other extras.

Irving Kahn, president of Teleprompter Company, which had the rights to the extras, estimated theatre-TV rights would be close to $2,000,000.

Despite the huge returns, New York may not get the third fight. Fugazy said Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy refused to supply New York city policemen for duty at the old baseball park.

"We want the fight here but it won't be held here unless we are assured of adequate police protection," said Fugazy. "At least 10,000 unauthorized people got on the field and many took seats that belonged to ticket-holders."

He said the contracts call for a return bout within 120 days and that any other city would be eligible if he doesn't get the help he wants.

AHL Seeking Pick Of Waived NHL Players In Meeting Between Two Leagues, To Study New Draft Rule

LAC BEAUFORT, Que. (CP) —The American Hockey League, holding its annual meeting in this tourist resort 15 miles northwest of Quebec City, announced Monday it will suspend plans for an all-star game at least for one season.

League governors and representatives from all seven clubs decided to do away with a 1960-61 all-star game because they could not fit it into the schedule.

Jim Ellery, secretary-treasurer and publicity director, said Quebec Aces' admission last season made an extra 42 games necessary. With seven teams playing 252 games instead of six clubs playing 210 games the league found it had no suitable open date for an all-star game. The league adopted the all-star game in 1954.

The league is meeting here until Wednesday behind closed doors.

Ellery also announced after Monday's sessions that the league will again operate in 1960-61 with the same seven clubs as last season — Springfield Indians, Rochester Americans, Hershey Bears, Cleveland Barons, Buffalo Bisons, Providence Reds and Quebec Aces.

He said no application for new franchises were received.

Nine On Hand To Battle For Berth On Squad, John Swann Turns Down Offer, Bob Bedard And Francois Godbout Set

TORONTO (CP) — John Swann, Toronto player nominated for Canada's Davis Cup tryout squad, said Monday business reasons will prevent him joining the team.

Swann was a last-minute nomination by Canada lawn tennis officials. His selection followed his victory over Davis Cup player Don Fontana of Toronto in the finals of the Toronto Cricket, Skating and Curling Club's invitation tournament.

The squad, now totalling nine, starts trials at Quebec City Wednesday. During next month, four players will be selected for Canada's team against the United States.

Neale Fraser Has Little Trouble As He Breezes Through First Round At Wimbledon, Barry MacKay Wins

WIMBLEDON, England (CP) — Neale Fraser, the world's finest active amateur player, did little more than warm up Monday as he breezed to a first-round win in what may be the last Amateur Tennis championship on Wimbledon's famous courts.

The left-handed Australian, who almost single-handedly won the Davis Cup for his country from the United States last fall, swept over Franz Hainka of Austria 6-2, 6-0, 6-4.

Fraser, in recognition of his impressive record is the top seed in this class.

Other high-seeded players also picked up easy first-round wins. Second-seeded Barry MacKay of the United States eliminated Jose Arilla of Spain, 6-2, 6-4, 7-5. Ron Laver, another left-handed Australian who is seeded third, crushed Geoff Ward of England 6-3, 6-0, 6-2.

Louis Ayala of Chile, fourth seed and South America's hope of keeping the championship in that continent, defeated 19-year-old Robin Sanders of South Africa 9-7, 6-2, 8-6.

Alex Olmedo of Peru won the men's singles last year before turning professional.

WOMEN IN ACTION
The women's courts get into action today with defending champion Maria Bueno of Brazil seeded No. 1. Darlene Hard of the United States is second seed.

One of the big surprises Monday was the elimination of the veteran Jaroslav Drobný, the 1954 champion, by Wolfgang Stuck, 21-year-old German. Czech-born Drobný, now a British subject, found his 38 years too much and lost 3-6, 7-5, 6-1, 6-2.

Hank Aaron And Joey Jay Finally Come To Life And Braves Dump Dodgers To Move Into Second Spot

Hank Aaron broke loose, Joey Jay finally won one and the Milwaukee Braves are up in second place in the National League race for the first time since the opening week of the season.

Aaron, batting a chilly .379 with only one home run in 17 games, hammered two homers and drove in three runs while Pal Joey pitched 6 2-3 innings of foul-hit, shutout relief for a 4-1 victory over Los Angeles Monday night. It was Jay's first success since last September, and his first over the Dodgers in two years.

With no other games scheduled in the National, the Braves pushed within four games of first place Pittsburgh and edged San Francisco for second.

KANSAS CITY WINS
In the only American League game scheduled, Kansas City defeated Boston 9-6.

Aaron, last year's batting champ with a .355 average, upped his current mark to .284 and triggered a winning, two-run second inning with a leadoff homer off Don Drysdale. Aaron walked on four pitches, three of them brushing him back, in the third inning, hit his 15th home run of the year leading off the sixth and then drove in another while grounding into a force play against reliever Ed Palmquist in the seventh.

Drysdale (4-9) now has lost five in a row and eight of his last nine decisions. He gave up all of Milwaukee's nine hits, walking one and striking out six. Jay, whose only other decision was a losing relief job against Pittsburgh two months ago, struck out three and walked one. He came on in the third after starter Bob Buhl, the Dodger killer, gave up four walks.

STOPS MOON
Jay, a big righthander who had lost four in a row to the Dodgers since July 11, 1958, stopped Wally Moon's hitting streak at 15 games and allowed only two singles, until the ninth. Two hits and a walk loaded the bases with two out, but Jay then got pinch-hitter Irv Noren on a pop foul.

The sixth-place Dodgers slipped 10½ games behind Pittsburgh, although Roger Craig did manage a return. The right-handed ace of last season's pennant push worked one perfect inning of relief, his first work since suffering a broken collarbone May 2.

The Athletics beat the last-place Red Sox with a tie-breaking, three-run seventh capped by Harry Chitt's home run with a man on. Hank Bauer's double and a single by Norm Siebern cracked the 5-5 tie and handed Tom Borland (0-2) the loss. Marty Kutyna (2-2) won in relief. The Athletics had a home run from Andy Carey.

No. 39 — Stored Power

By JIMMY DEMARET

The start of the hitting action in a pitch shot begins to re-establish the straight line of the club, hands and arms at the point of address.

The accompanying illustration shows the practically perfect line formed by the arms and club. The hands, somewhat "under" the wrists at the point of address, are returning to this strong striking position at the precise second of impact, unleashing stored power.

This shot, as are all irons, is struck on the descending side of the arc. The ball is contacted first. Then the clubface reaches its lowest point, takes a divot and swings upward. The clubhead has passed the hands as the left elbow begins to fold under Practically perfect line to support the swing's completion.

The right heel has come off the ground by way of giving in to the whole of the turn.

NEXT: The sand shot.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Joey Jay, Braves, blanked Dodgers on four singles in 6 2-3 innings of relief for 4-1 victory.

Hitting — Hank Aaron, Braves, hammered two homers and drove in three runs as Braves took over second place with 4-1 decision over Dodgers.

Canada May Host 1968 Winter Olympic Games

TORONTO (CP) — Canada has a strong chance of hosting the 1968 Winter Olympic Games, John R. Taylor, chairman of a five-man informal parliamentary Winter Olympics committee, said Monday.

Mr. Taylor, Progressive Conservative member for Vancouver-Burrard, said: "We've been told by the International Olympics Committee that if Canada makes a strong bid for the '68 games we'll get them."

Taylor said three sites to be considered are Calgary-Banff in Alberta and Garibaldi Park and Manning Park in British Columbia.
