World News In Brief

Paris — Reuters — The government Thursday blamed Paris' Bastille Day riot on the Communist Party, an Algerian nationalist group.

Interior Minister Leon Martin-Duplat, replying to a Communist deputy's charge of "police provocations," said in the National Assembly the party itself was responsible. He also named the Algerian "Movement for the Triumph of Democratic Liberties," and said the government could no longer tolerate such a "civil war organization."

Martin-Duplat said seven demonstrators were killed and 60 seriously wounded in the riot. A total of 82 police were injured, 20 seriously.

Winnipeg — (C) — An outburst of anti-Communist feeling temporarily disrupted a meeting addressed by Tim Buck, Labor Progressive party leader, Thursday night.

While Mr. Buck was speaking, demonstrators rose on both sides of the hall to scatter anti-Communist pamphlets.

The cry "chuck them out" brought several people running to the rear of the hall. The man left quickly and there was no violence.

Mr. Buck predicted a Korean truce and said the question would then arise of admitting "the people's China" to the United Nations. He said U.S. trading organizations are already preparing to do business with the Chinese people.

Geneva, Switzerland — (AP) — Poland joined the Soviet Union today in granting financial support for the first time to the United Nations technical assistance program for underdeveloped countries.

Julius Katz-Suchy, Polish delegate, told the economic and social council the Polish government has decided to contribute 300,000 zlotys (about $75,000) to the program.

The Soviet Union pledged 4,000,000 rubles (about $1,000,000) to the program two days ago.

Bad Weather Compels Drew To Cut Newfoundland Tour

By Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Liberal, CCF and Social Credit party leaders Thursday gained a full day's election campaigning on the Progressive Conservative chieftain.

George Drew was fog-bound. After waiting nearly five hours at Sydney, N.S., for the mist to lift, he cancelled his Newfoundland tour and his plane was diverted to Halifax.

Mr. Drew is scheduled to speak today at Bridgewater, N.S.

Reading from west to east, this is what the other vote-seeking party heads were saying:

In a recorded, free-time political broadcast from Edmonton over a CBC network, Solon Low, Social Credit leader, accused the Liberal government of ignoring democratic processes and regarding parliament as a "nuisance."

The greatest danger to democracy, he said, is the political machine. It forced some members of Parliament to vote in direct opposition to the known wishes of their constituents.

He said the Liberals are ridiculing the Social Credit party because the Liberals are "bankrupt," without a policy to lay before the Canadian people. Justice Minister Garson had referred to Social Credit as "strictly phoney."

Mr. Low said buying from Canada by European nations through Marshall aid has dried up, resulting in surplus goods. Merchants were carrying billions of dollars on their books as credit, prices for farm products were falling, unemployment was getting worse.

For many Canadians, "the depression is on," Mr. Low said. At Sudbury, Ont., Prime Minister St. Laurent renewed his attack on the Progressive Conservative promise of a $500,000,000-a-year tax cut.

"Perhaps the Tories believe in deficit budgeting and in increasing the national debt. If they do, the millions of Canadians who hold Victory Bonds and Canada Savings Bonds are not very likely to look on them with much favor."

He suggested that Canadian bonds might drop in value under a Progressive Conservative government if it cut taxes by deficit financing.

"Even under a Liberal government," the prime minister said, "it has not been possible to avoid some share of the world-wide inflation caused by the most terrible war in history."

"But I believe that the wise fiscal policies and the other measures that have been applied by the Liberal government have kept those inflationary pressures under control."

At another point, Mr. St. Laurent said he hopes the danger of Communist aggression will decrease so that defence expenditures can be cut, tax rates reduced and more money allotted to the Colombo Plan and the United Nations.

Demand For Immediate Red Move On Armistice Signing Demanded By UN Spokesmen

Union Acts To Defeat Injunction

Timmins — (C) — The men called the play at the strike-bound Porcupine camp Thursday night.

In an obvious move to beat a court injunction ordering them to stop picketing at the Brouhan Reef Gold Mine here, the 750 striking hardrock miners announced that the strike at Brouhan Reef was over, but on was immediately starting at the neighboring Hallnor mine.

The Hallnor local of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CLC) announced the move minutes after the injunction was served on union officials.

Brouhan employees walked out last Saturday to enforce their wage and hour demands. Hallnor miners, who have to cross Brouhan property to get to their shafts, refused to cross the picket lines. When the strike switch took place Brouhan miners refused to cross the Hallnor lines.

The union move gives it at least two days to continue the picket lines. The Hallnor management, which said earlier that a walkout would be illegal, now must get an injunction restraining the workers from picketing.

Meanwhile, 1,000 miners picketed the three struck companies, Brouhan Reef, Hallnor and Preston East Dominion workers struck Monday to enforce their wage demands.

It was feared the strike would spread to all 13 mining companies employing 5,200 men in this gold-producing area.

A conciliation board report on the Brouhan dispute, made public Wednesday, recommended an across-the-board increase of seven cents an hour for all workers. Neither the company nor the union had indicated acceptance.

Showdown Meeting At Panmunjom Scheduled For Tomorrow

By SAM SUMMERLIN

Munsan — (AP) — Gen. Mark Clark huddled for three hours with United Nations truce negotiators today in advance of a showdown meeting Saturday afternoon at which the Communist high command is expected to answer an Allied demand for a quick Korean armistice.

There was no hint of what was discussed during the secret conference, but sources said there was no question but what the UN commander and his negotiating team mapped strategy for the crucial session.

The top-level delegations are to meet at 2 p.m. (1 a.m. EDT, Saturday).

Clark told reporters before flying back to his Tokyo headquarters that he talked over the truce situation with the UN delegation, led by Lt.-Gen. William K. Harrison. He refused to discuss details.

The negotiations were in recess Friday. The Reds asked for a one-day recess Thursday after the UN delivered what Washington sources called a firm demand that the Reds agree immediately to steps leading to a prompt armistice.

Informed quarters have said efforts to agree on final details of a truce were stalemated by Red demands for the recapture of 27,000 anti-Korean war prisoners liberated last month and iron-clad guarantees that South Korea will honor a truce.

Harrison was said to have told the Reds: "The UN will not meet their demand for the recapture of the prisoners freed on orders of President Syngman Rhee."

The UN has given adequate assurance that South Korea will abide by a truce.

B.C. Gas Ice Another Girl Is Sought By U.S. Groups On Navy Ship

Vancouver — (C) — The United States atomic energy commission wants to buy "gas ice" from British Columbia's newly-developed carbon dioxide gas field near Vernon in the interior.

So do other commercial customers as far away as Yakima, Wash., and Regina.

"So far we've had to ask them to hold on," said Charles Gorse, president of Gas-Ice Corporation (Canada) Limited. "We'll be in production in eight months, by which time our Mara lake operation will represent a $500,000 investment."

Mr. Gorse made his potential market disclosures in connection with an announcement that the company, formed a year ago, now has completed four producing wells in the Mara lake field.

They range from 69 feet to 200 feet in depth. Next winter, the wells will produce the CO-2 charged water which Gorse's engineers say will be converted first into snow and then ice.

Mr. Gorse said the AEC began sending him requisitions as early as 1951 for dry ice for its Hanford, Wash., plant.

The company holds leases on 40,000 acres of B.C. land where it plans to base its new industry.

"Encouraging results" are reported from the copper property being tested by a major mining company high in the northwest corner of B.C.

Diamond drilling and tunneling have been carried out by the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting and Power Company Limited at its Gracie holdings, four miles east of the Alaska panhandle.

An adit from a valley floor reached a distance of 400 feet of the projected length of 1,250 feet. Four large mineralized zones have been found on surface. In the first lateral hole drilled from the tunnel, an intersection of 40 feet assayed 14 per cent copper, with one intermediate section carrying 2.2 per cent.

Charged With Slaying Wife

St. Catharines, Ont. — (C) — A 20-year-old mother, Patricia Nelson, died of head injuries early today. Her husband was charged with murder.

Police arrested George Nelson, 23, of St. Catharines shortly after his wife died in hospital here. They said they seized a crank from Nelson's car.

Police said Nelson turned up at the Lincoln county jail and talked with the turnkey. Officers were called and found Nelson's car parked in front of the jail.

Mrs. Nelson, bloody and unconscious, was sprawled on the front seat of the old-model sedan. She was taken to hospital for treatment of multiple head lacerations and a fractured skull. She died without regaining consciousness.

Police said they believe Mrs. Nelson, mother of two children, was attacked on a sidewalk about three miles east of Port Weller, 10 miles northeast of here.

FLAMES OF WAR — Soldiers from the ROK Capital Division stand watching a blazing UN truck which was hit during one of the many recent Chinese Red artillery attacks. According to front line observers, the Red drive had been halted on most of the main battle line by UN artillery before the Chinese threw new armies into the area.

New Wave Of Anti-Communist Strikes Brings Russian Tanks To East Berlin

By DAN DE LUCE

Berlin — (AP) — A Russian tank division rumbled back into East Berlin today as a new wave of anti-Communist strikes marked the first monthly anniversary of the June 17 workers rebellion in East Germany.

The columns of Soviet tanks, troops and armored cars stamped and rumbled ostentatiously before dawn through Stalin Alley, a riot focus point a month ago. The Russians poured into East Berlin from the southeast, the east and the north.

Soviet martial law, proclaimed at the June 17 outbreak, was lifted in East Berlin last Saturday and the last of the 25,000 Russian armored troops who put down the rebellion withdrew.

It could not be confirmed immediately whether Soviet forces had also gone back into other East German cities where martial law ended last week-end.

At Merseburg, near Halle, a Soviet-owned busa synthetic rubber plant has been paralyzed since Wednesday by a sitdown strike of 14,000 workers demanding release of comrades jailed after the June 17 rebellion.

An anti-government slowdown has been under way at the Zeiss optical works at Jena since Tuesday. Zeiss employees walked out last Saturday but were forced back on the job Tuesday when the local Russian commander threatened to "shoot every 10th striker."

The new Russian march into East Berlin apparently was intended to prevent such strikes from spreading to the East zone capital.

In East Berlin 82 tanks were counted by German eyewitnesses on Stalin Alley in the first hour of the march.

Thirty-eight truckloads of armored infantry followed the tanks through the troubled housing project area.

Then came armored cars, armoured troop carriers, ambulances, trucks carrying munitions, food and fuel.

East German Communists warned ominously that "Fascist nests" exist in their strategic industries. They proclaimed, in effect, a terror campaign against the West.

Socialists in the 1,700,000-member Communist party and against influential non-Communists in the Soviet zone's labor force.

The bones, photographed by a provincial police officer, were not moved from the spot where they were found by searching bushmen.

Although nothing could be said with certainty, Mr. Rivard added, it is believed that the men "were not attacked by wild animals while they were alive."

Hong Kong — (AP) — The Communist newspaper, Ta Kung Pao said today 84 contracts amounting to $12,400,000 were signed July 13 in Peiping by members of a British trade mission and the China import-export corporation.

The paper said the mission earlier had signed a $30,000,000 contract for the same purpose.

Members of the British mission left Peiping Wednesday and were expected in Hong Kong after visiting other cities on the China mainland, the newspaper said.

French Paratroopers Take Communist Post In Attack

By LARRY ALLEN

Lan Son, Indo-China. — (AP) — French paratroopers today captured Lang Son, within 10 miles of the Communist Chinese frontier, in the boldest raid of the seven-year-old war against the Vietnamese. They succeeded in wicking the chief supply centre for all war equipment supplied to the Vietnamese by Red China.

A military spokesman said that while the troops were not expected to occupy Long Son for long, the attack proved the French had definitely abandoned defensive tactics and were changing over to the offensive.

Five thousand paratroopers were dropped from U.S.-supplied transport planes in the lightning raid in the enemy's back yard. They quickly took over control of Lang Son, which had been in the hands of the Red-led Vietnamese for three years.

The air attack caught the enemy at breakfast. Paratroopers swiftly routed scattered resistance after fighter planes and bombers silenced a group of Vietnamese anti-aircraft batteries made up mostly of heavy machine guns.

Princess Is Welcomed On Return Home

By ALVIN J. STEINKOPF

London. — (AP) — Smiling and seemingly carefree, Princess Margaret came home today to a Britain buzzing about her latest romance and lacking the presence of her reported boy friend.

The man in the story, divorced RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend, went to Brussels two days ago as the new air attaché at the British embassy. Many Britons think he was exiled from his post as a palace aide because the 22-year-old Princess is reported to want to marry him.

But if his absence or the talk about them bothered the Princess, there was no outward sign of it as she and the Queen Mother arrived at London airport by Comet jet airliner after a 16-day tour of Rhodesia.

During their stay there for the 10th anniversary of Cecil Rhodes' birth, the press and public controversy over Margaret's reported affection for a divorced 38-year-old burst into full flower at home and in the Commonwealth.

Margaret quickly set at rest any apprehension that she might be embarrassed by the stories being told about her. She faced the 2,000 Londoners behind the airport railing with poise and confidence.

Dressed in pink, she stood under a silver wing of the sleek airliner and waved gaily at the crowd.

The Queen, in a light green frock, white shoes and gloves, was at the airport to greet her younger sister and her mother. With the Duke of Edinburgh, she entered the plane for five minutes of private greeting.

Though the vivacious Princess beamed and seemed to be thoroughly glad to be home, she coughed occasionally, apparently from the effects of the cold she developed in Africa.

The Royal Party drove to Buckingham Palace and to Clarence House, where the Queen Mother and Margaret now reside.

The press rumor over the Royal romance rumor continued unabated. The tabloid Daily Mirror reported up, 142 of its readers had replied to a poll asking whether the Princess should marry Townsend, and 96 per cent said yes.

Even though Townsend was the innocent party in the divorce case he won against his wife on charges of adultery, the Church of England (owns on the remarriage of divorced persons, Britain's leading Roman Catholic newspaper, the Catholic Herald, also is opposing the match and said this week that the Princess should surrender all Royal "rank and status" if she married Townsend.

France, Russia Sign Trade Pact

Moscow — (Reuters) — Russia and France have signed a trade and payment agreement, the Soviet news agency Tass announced today.

The agency published a joint communique by Russia and France which said both sides will deliver about $34,000,000 worth of goods in the first year of the pact.

It said the agreement grew out of a conference on East-West trade called in April by the United Nations economic commission for Europe at Geneva, Switzerland.

Under the pact, France will build for Russia cargo ships up to 5,000 tons, lifting-transport equipment and boilers.

Russia will send France maize, anthracite, coal, tar pitch, Chromium ore, manganese ore, asbestos, oil, furs and other goods.

Dublin — (C) — A lengthy row over whether the statue of an Irish hero is giving the clenched-fist Communist salute has come to an abrupt end. Someone removed the arm, salute and all.

Under the Sean Russell, leader of the old Irish Republican Army which fought for freedom from Great Britain, was donated to Ireland by the Irish-American clan Ne Agel in 1951.

Ike Follows Truman Steps In Troubles With Congress

By ED CREAUGH

Washington. — (AP) — Political honeymoons seldom last forever. They may ripen into a lifetime of happy teamwork or they may wither into a bitter, bickering. Frequently you can look for some sort of crisis after the first six months.

So it was with former president Harry S. Truman in his relations with the United States Congress. And so it is turning out for Dwight D. Eisenhower, who succeeded Truman in the White House six months ago next Monday.

Strange as it may seem, in the light of his subsequent rows with the lawmakers, and with the Republican 80th Congress in particular, Truman and the men on Capitol Hill exchanged hardly a cross word in the momentous first half-year following Franklin D. Roosevelt's death.

It was only after Truman submitted his first legislative program, a few days short of the six month mark, that the sparring which later became a donnybrook, began.

Until that time Truman's difficulties with his former colleagues were, if anything, less notable than Eisenhower's have been. There were no such controversies as the one over confirmation of Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense or, more recently, over the U.S. air force budget.

Trouble with Congress, of course, is the last thing Eisenhower has wanted. He has tried so hard to avoid it, in fact, that some Democrats have complained his administration lacks strong leadership.

Eisenhower's own attitude, as he has expressed it privately as well as publicly, could be summed up in a homely adage: You catch more flies with honey than you do with vinegar.

Persuasion, rather than denunciation, is his stock in trade. And, halfway through his first year in office, he has found it advisable to persuade oftener and harder than ever before.

With Congress in a rush to adjourn at the end of this month, Eisenhower has telephoned key legislators and had them to frequent White House conferences. On a single day this week, he breakfasted with the men who control the purse strings in the House of Representatives and with their counterparts in the Senate.

"He didn't try to pressure us," one lawmaker said afterward. "He didn't even ask for anything specific. He just talked about the general picture and gave us some information we hadn't had before. It was a most effective presentation."

But it didn't stop the House group from voting, only 24 hours later, to slash more than $1,000,000 from the President's foreign aid program, a cornerstone of his whole foreign policy.

A social hour was passed, and a lunch was served by the members at the dining table, which was attractive with a lace cover and centered with a prettily decorated stork cake, as well as another cake centered with a small vase of rose buds. The rooms were decorated with summer flowers.

Veteran Railway Workers Acting As Guides During Museum Train Journey

A total of 269 years experience with the Canadian National Railway is the background of six attendants for the museum train which will be on public view in Richmond, Sherbrooke or Coaticook for a week starting this Saturday.

The attendants are all retired employees of the Canadian National. They will act as guides during the train's stay in this district.

Senior in years of service with the railway, is George H. Roy, who completed 47 years with the C.N.R. in April 1952. Born in 1887, Mr. Roy started as a brakeman with the Grand Trunk Railway in 1916, transferred to railway service and worked as a train and baggage man until his retirement last February.

Joseph W. Poy, a native of Rouses Point, N.Y., started his 46 year profession with the Grand Trunk Railway in 1904 as a brakeman and three years later, was appointed conductor. He spent many years on the route between Messana Springs, Rouses Point and Burlington, finally being named conductor of the commuter service train between Vaudeville and Montreal. He retired in 1950.

The oldest member of the six attendants is Benjamin J. Carr, who will be 74 in September. Born in Thetford, Que., he joined the Grand Trunk Railway as a brakeman in 1899 and spent a number of years as conductor on trains between Montreal and Portland. He retired in 1944 and has lived in Montreal since that time.

Another veteran railroader is Italian born Antonio Sangolito, who came to Montreal at the age of six in 1886, and began his railway service with the Canada and Atlantic line as a water boy in 1895. After various posts in construction, he left in 1901 to become a brakeman with the Ogdenburg and Lake Champlain Railway and in 1902, entered the Grand Trunk in a similar post. In 1906, he was appointed conductor and retired from service on the Montreal-Toronto run in 1945.

Junior member of the six is Henry L. McAllister, born at Pendleton, Ont., in 1884, who started with the Canadian Northern Quebec Railway at Montreal in 1907. He served a number of years on construction trains before being named conductor of a passenger run and worked on lines leading from Montreal to Joliette, Ottawa and Quebec before retiring as a Montreal commuter train conductor in July, 1949.

Social Science Scholarship For Local Girl

Rita Vidal, daughter of J. Alcide Vidal, manager of the Crown Life Insurance Company, and Mrs. Vidal, Brewster Street, has been awarded one of the Princess Alice Foundation scholarships for post-graduate study in Social Science group, according to an announcement made today by Senator Carine Wilson, foundation president. The second scholarship was awarded to Reta Horner, of Hamilton.

Miss Vidal, who was born in Sherbrooke, received her early education with the Sisters of the Congregation, and at the Louis Collin School in Montreal, receiving her Bachelor's Degree in Education from the University of Laval. She has completed a year's study at the Laval School of Social Science, specializing in group work, and will continue her studies in Quebec. The scholarships,

Labor Contract Negotiated At Windsor Mills

Windsor Mills, July 17 — Following the post-arbitration award negotiations, the Canada Paper Co. and Le Syndicat National des Travaillants de la Pulpe et du Papier de Windsor Mills, et La Federation Nationale des Travaillants de la Pulpe et du Papier, announce jointly that an agreement has been reached on all points covering the renewal of the collective labour agreement between the Company and the Syndicate which represents its employees.

The following changes were negotiated:

In the pulp and paper mills, a reduction from a 48 hour week to a 40 hour week a 20 per cent increase to maintain full earnings, affecting approximately 700 employees.

In the Converted Products Division, a reduction from a 48 hour week to a 44 hour week with a 10 per cent increase to maintain full earnings, affecting over 125 employees.

The payment of two weeks' pay to each employee continually employed from May 1, 1952 to present date, and the payment of 2½ per cent on all earnings from May 1, 1953 to date of conversion to the reduced work week.

The payment of overtime to shift workers after three days of long hours instead of after two weeks as it was formerly.

The payment of a shift differential of two cents on the evening shift, and three cents on the night shift.

Several individual rate increases.

The new contract is for a period of two years expiring April 30, 1955, with a re-opening clause on monetary items in May 1954.

A spirit of good will prevailed throughout the negotiations, and proceedings terminated in an atmosphere of complete harmony, with both parties renewing their pledge of co-operation in all matters concerning the welfare of the employees and of the Company.

The following officials negotiated on behalf of the Syndicate: P. Lessard, president of the Federation; E. Champoux, president of the local Syndicate; R. Cormier, business agent for the Federation and the Syndicate; and O. Letarte, R. Phaneuf, F. Belanger, local Syndicate officials.

Brae Manor Players Register Another Success In Presentation Of Comedy

By MARGARET DOHERTY

Known for the able direction of Filmore Sadler, the Brae Manor Players at Knowlton scored another success Wednesday night, with their presentation of the Frederick Lonsdale comedy "On Approval". This was the second evening of their 18th season of summer stock.

Action of the play is pretty evenly divided among the rather strangely assorted quartette—the charming young millionairess, Helen Hayle, who yearns for the spoiled but undeniably attractive Duke of Bristol; the sharp-tongued Mrs. Maria Wislack, and her silent but adoring admirer, Richard Halton, hesitant to press his suit, because of his meager income.

Spurred on by George, the young Duke, and receiving considerable assistance from the object of his affections, Richard finally manages to propose. Maria, however, has not forgotten her none too happy years with her first husband, and so suggests that Richard go through a period of probation with matrimony in view if, of course, he meets with her complete approval.

The scene changes from Helen's house in Mayfair, London, to Maria's residence in Scotland, and so does the quartette, all of which is in the same amusing developments.

Although Maria finds that Richard is even more than she hoped for, he is appalled at her selfishness, and for the first time in twenty years, sees her without his rose-colored glasses. Helen, on the other hand, is equally disappointed in the Duke, and yet agrees with Richard that their respective

Thief Snatches Woman's Purse At Parking Lot

A local woman was robbed of $8 and other personal articles on Wednesday when a lone purse snatcher made off with her purse at the Meadow street parking lot. According to Mrs. L. G. Dwyer, of 1424 Arden street, the thief, a man of around twenty-five years, approached her at three o'clock in the afternoon, grabbed her purse and ran off. She said he was wearing a white shirt, but could give police no other description.

Mrs. Dwyer was stunned, but managed to keep calm and returned to her home, from where she notified the police. Police Chief Edouard Moreau states that his men are working on the case, and said he expects the thief to strike again.

Toronto Trio Are Tireless Troopers On British Tour

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London — The Stan Bernhardt Trio, instrumentalists from Toronto's cabaret beat, have covered a lot of ground since they landed in London last fall.

After three months in radio, cabaret and provincial theatre shows, they started early in February on a nine-week tour of United States military camps in Germany and North Africa.

The trio comprises 25-year-old Stan Bernhardt and 23-year-old John Bell, both of Hamilton, and Toronto's Frank Colucci, 22. They write their own songs. They can raise laughs during a Brahms symphony, a sentimental ballad or a catchy popular tune by snappy croak and assorted high jinks.

The boys teamed up after Colucci went to Hamilton for a radio broadcast in the fall of 1950. The broadcast was made from a dance hall where Bernhardt and Bell had their own band. Soon the three were a "spot" number at cocktail bars and night spots in Toronto and Windsor, Ont.

They saved and came to London for further experience. Right now they rate the forces tour as their best break since leaving Canada. At the invitation of a Canadian man-and-wife show-business team, Fran Dowie, of Vancouver, and Candy Kane, of Ottawa, they joined the variety show "Rhythm Round-Up"—produced by the Dowie family—on their tour.

The show proved so successful it's now on tour in suburban and provincial theatres in Britain. The Ontario threesome are booked to go home for three months in October, spend Christmas in Canada and return to Britain for a further forces tour early next year.

Their most memorable experience since leaving Canada happened during the forces tour—on a train trip from Berlin to Bremerhaven. The train ran through 140 miles of the Soviet zone and it looked as though they'd be left there. The office that filled out their forms in Russian labelled them British subjects.

"They couldn't figure why the American forces were transporting Canadians through the Russian zone," said Bernhardt. "We didn't relish kicking our heels on their side of the fence until they were satisfied."

The problem was solved by "borrowing" extra forms and a typewriter and recasting the offending documents.

loves can be salvaged through a little strategy.

They proceeded to teach the pair a well needed lesson and one assumes from the surprise ending that everything turns out beautifully.

Brae Manor patrons are obviously pleased to welcome back two of last year's popular players, Claire Drew and Andrew Macmillan. One has come to expect consistently fine and intelligent performances from Miss Drew and she does not disappoint us in the role of the young heiress. As for Mr. Macmillan, his portrayal of the charming irresponsible duke is quite convincing. In fact his acting is tremendously improved and it should be interesting to watch his further progress throughout the season.

Enthia Michaelis brings assurance and noise to the role of the shrewish Maria, and the surprise performance of the evening is that of Allen Doremus in the role of the middle-aged Richard. He is excellent.

The very small part of the maid was played by Penelope Pasmore. Special mention should be made however of the fine stage settings by newcomer, Jim Maguire. They added considerably to the overall success of the performance.

"On Approval" will be presented again tonight and tomorrow night, while next week's play will be another comedy "Be Your Age" by Mary Orr and Reginald Denham.

Fire Damage At North Hatley May Exceed $10,000

North Hatley. — Loss which may exceed $10,000 was caused by smoke, water and fire as a result of a blaze that broke out in the Kozzy Kool Restaurant here late yesterday afternoon. The fire, of unknown origin, started in the basement and smoke filled the store and two apartments as well as the garage which is located in the rear of the basement.

Earl W. Davis, the owner of the building and the proprietor of the store, rushed to the basement when someone shouted "fire" but was unable to save any of his stock but was successful in his attempt to back his car to safety.

Members of the North Hatley fire department and the Waterville fire brigade prevented the flames from destroying the entire building but the interior was badly damaged, especially by smoke and water.

Mr. Davis said the stock in the building exceeded $7,000 in value and that in addition to this loss furniture and personal effects contained in the two apartments occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Kezar, parents of Mrs. Davis, were heavily damaged by smoke and water.

Mr. Davis plans to reopen the Kozzy Kool for business as soon as temporary repairs can be made.

Induction Of New Minister At Mansonville

Rev. T. D. F. Everett, chairman of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery, will be in charge of the United Church Service in Mansonville, Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock.

This will take the form of an induction service of the new minister of the Mansonville charge, Rev. Roland C. Hopkins. Speakers will be Rev. M. Butler, of the Waterville Church, and Rev. Roy P. Stafford, of Sangster Memorial Church in Sherbrooke. Other members of Presbytery, both clerical and lay, are expected to be present, together with the members of both Mansonville and Vale Perkins appointments.

Mr. Hopkins and his family are driving from New Brunswick and are expected to arrive in Mansonville this week-end. A former classmate of both Mr. Everett and Mr. Butler, he received his transfer from Centerville, N.B., where he has been stationed for the past seven years.

Mansonville also has a special interest for Mr. Stafford, whose father was stationed on the East Bolton circuit, near Mansonville, at the beginning of his long and active ministry.

It is hoped there will be a large attendance of neighbours and friends from surrounding charges to join in welcoming Mr. Hopkins and his family.

UPPER MELBOURNE

Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Brown and Miss Sheila are enjoying a well earned rest at Old Orchard Beach, Maine.

Sunday services at Upper Melbourne were conducted by the Rev. J. Leslie Dean on July 5th. The Ladies' Association of St. Andrew's Church held its closing meeting for the summer in the Kirk Hall, on July 2nd, Miss C. E. MacKenzie, president, presiding. Routine business was conducted and the meeting closed with the Misses Benediction. Refreshments were served and a social hour was held.

Summer Meeting Of Institute Held At Lennoxville

Lennoxville Women's Institute members were pleasantly entertained for the summer meeting at the home of Mrs. W. B. Brady, Academy Street, Mrs. H. L. Wallace, the president, presided and opened the meeting with the Collect for club women, and welcomed several visitors and a large number of members under the new attendance captains, Mrs. F. J. Glass and Mrs. S. Fegg.

Business included a most satisfactory report on the recently held food sale. Mrs. C. Skinner was named to replace Mrs. M. K. McLean, a member of the ways and means committee who is leaving shortly to reside in the United States. Mrs. C. Prince, Mrs. L. Ross and Mrs. F. J. Glass were named as delegates to attend the quarterly county meeting to be held in Cherry River, on August 8.

Members were reminded of the handicraft sales booth to be held at the Sherbrooke Fair. The work must be done by members of the Sherbrooke County Women's Institute and further particulars may be had from the presidents. Donations from members must be sent to the president on or before August 27, and members are to bring their work to the booth on Friday, August 28, properly priced, tagged and listed.

This branch will not hold an August meeting. The September meeting will be held in the club room on the usual day.

Three members from this branch plan to attend the A.C.W.W. conference on Canada Day to be held in Toronto, at the Maple Leaf Gardens, on August 21, and a small donation was voted towards the expenses. A copy of the scrap books being prepared by this branch for distribution at the A.C.W.W. conference was on display and met with the approval of all present.

Mrs. A. Fowler, a member of the ways and means committee, distributed glorioxa leaves to be planted and grown for a contest to be held in July 1954, at her home, where she invited the members to meet for the summer meeting.

Regret was expressed in the passing of two former members, Mrs. E. Smith and Mrs. H. Aldrich. Following the business, a most interesting report in detail of the recently held annual convention at Macdonald College was given by Mrs. C. Skinner, who, with Mrs. B. A. Hall, represented this branch as delegates.

Following adjournment pictures were taken and a basket lunch enjoyed. Mrs. Brady was thanked for the pleasant afternoon in the home atmosphere.

Week-End Expected To Witness Wave Of Political Activity In This Area

With the federal elections barely three weeks away, political candidates are expected to take full advantage of the fine weather promised for the coming week-end to convince the voters of the merits of their particular parties.

Both major parties have filled their lists of candidates in this district and the champions and their supporters have scheduled local rallies in many centres over the week-end. Albert Nicol, Progressive Conservative candidate in Richmond-Wolfe, will open his campaign at eight o'clock tomorrow evening in Ste. Praxede Parish Hall at Bromptonville. Mr. Nicol, a farmer and resident of the parish, resigned his post as president of the Diocesan branch of the Union of Catholic Families to contest the election against the former Liberal Member, Ernest O. Gignas. He will be supported by several other speakers at tomorrow night's gathering.

The big guns in this district will start booming on Wednesday with the visit of Hon. George Drew, Progressive Conservative party leader, who has addressed scheduled for Granby in the afternoon and at Dufresne Park, Sherbrooke, in the evening. The following evening, Hon. Lionel Chevrier, Minister of Transport, will address a Dufresne Park rally in the Liberal interests.

Meanwhile, party workers are busy preparing for the revision of the urban electoral lists which will take place next week.

Man Charged With Theft, One Acquitted

Gerard Plardy, 25, of Richmond, appeared before Judge Edouard Boisvert here yesterday and was charged with theft. His case was postponed until next week.

Plardy was charged with the same thefts as Jean Yves Gosselin, 19, of Richmond, who pleaded guilty recently and was sentenced to four months in jail.

He was charged with the theft of a floor polisher and cash register from the Salmon Creek Pavilion, a lawn mower from the Lennoxville Golf Club and a milking machine from Valere Doyon at Compton.

Sgt. Det. Stenio Brasseur and Det. Homer Butler, of the local provincial police detachment, carried out the investigations which led to the arrest of the two men.

Alvin Butler, of Lennoxville, was found not guilty yesterday by Judge Joseph Marier on two charges. He had his summary trial sometime ago and the judge rendered his decision yesterday claiming that there was not sufficient evidence against the accused and that he believed the story the accused told, which was very logical.

Butler was charged with driving a car while his mental faculties were affected by the absorption of liquor and causing bodily harm to a passenger in his car as the result of an accident.

"IMPULSE BUYING" CAUSES HEADACHES FOR EVERYONE

Ever fall suddenly and uncontrollably in love with a necktie in a store window and simply walk in and buy it without first consulting your wife, your bank, and some people known as debt-adjustment counsellors?

And having bought this symphony in silk, did you discover you'd already spent your $3.85 weekly allowance and have to tell the clerk to charge it?

You better not do it any more. That way lies ruin.

Such irresponsible squandering is called "impulse buying" and can get you in the soup quicker than anything.

A poll of debt-adjustment counsellors, who are people you go further in debt to for getting you out of the debt you're already in, shows impulse buying is one of the principal reasons people get in the financial switches.

Actually, the consumer-credit people don't blame neckties for the fix we're in so much as they do television sets and automobiles.

In a rundown of what it calls a "typical installment-burdened family," the survey shows the family annual income is between $3000 and $4000 a year and that it's in hock to from eight to 15 creditors for a total of between $1200 and $2500. The family hasn't a dime in the bank or anywhere else. They live each week on what pappy brings home payday, and if he gets derailed into a necktie store, they don't live very well that week.

Not only that, but mot of the families who don't know where their next can of pork and beans is coming from own automobiles and TV sets, in the sense that they twirl the dials and twist the steering wheel. The finance companies own them.

The debt-adjustment counsellors come into the act along about the time the family's monthly installment payments get to be more than their monthly pay check. And that happens oftener than you think.

The counsellors usually take over the wage earner's pay, return extravagant purchases if possible, work out easier pay-off terms with remaining creditors, and put the family on a strict budget. No neckties.

Says a counsellor firm in Chicago: "A recession of 10 per cent in employment and payrolls just now would cause us to be overwhelmed by distress cases."

Des Moines: "The situation is bad and will get worse because people are unwilling to accept the fact that the high cost of living, high taxes, and high interest payments cannot help but reduce their standard of living."

Detroit: "Too many families feel that various things they cannot afford are necessities."

All of which is enough to make a man wear open-throat sport shirts and never look at a necktie again. Which might not be a bad idea these days. Keeps you both cool and solvent.

EVIDENCE IN THE CASE

One often-used argument in favor of the guaranteed annual wage plan the CIO seeks to introduce in Canada is that three major United States industrial companies have inaugurated such plans and are operating them successfully. In a sense that is true. The plans have operated successfully, but only by sharply qualifying what organized labor has come to regard as its undisputed rights — payment for overtime work, a work week restricted to something approximately forty hours, the identification of the worker with one particular job. In each of the three cases cited one or more of these so-called rights has had to be sacrificed.

The guaranteeing of an annual wage by management is contingent on some concessions by labor. In one of the three U. S. cases the wage is less under such a guarantee than under average working conditions. In another, extending the work hours has increased production enough to assure the result. In the third, long years of experience had established that year-round employment was natural to the department of the industry where the guarantee was applied. In no case do these actually operating plans provide payment for unemployed hours.

The successful results stem from the fact that there has been no need to call upon the guarantee. If they prove anything it is that if workers were ready to make substantial concessions for added job security there would be many more cases where it would be possible to assure an annual wage basis. None of these operating examples has proved, however, that there is any way of guaranteeing pay except by spreading out the earned wage, or by increasing production per hour.

CONSISTENCY RARE WHEN TALKING OF POLITICIANS

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — Shakespeare or somebody once said that consistency was a jewel. He might have added that it's rarer than most jewels when you find it among politicians.

Anyway, the furor resulting in the resignation of Dr. J. B. Matthews as chief of staff for Senator Joe McCarthy's investigating committee and the later resignation of the three Democratic members, has given Washington some prime examples of political inconsistency.

The bone of contention in this case was, of course, Dr. Matthews' article "Communism and Our Churches." It was written before Dr. Matthews was appointed to the Senate committee staff by Senator McCarthy. The line that stirred up all the fuss was the statement that "at least 7000" Protestant clergymen in the United States "are serving with Kremlin conspiracy."

In defending the Matthews appointment, Chairman McCarthy came up with a prime inconsistency quotation of his own.

"I do not," said Senator Joe, "set myself up as a censor."

News For U. S. Librarians

This should be news to the people who run the overseas libraries for the State Department's U. S. Information Centers. In their opinion, Senator McCarthy has been doing a whole lot of job of censoring many whole books right off their shelves for the past several months.

In further defending Dr. Matthews, Senator McCarthy emphasized that the article on the churches was written before the author had any intention of becoming a member of the committee staff.

"He was a free-lance writer," Senator McCarthy is quoted as saying, "projecting his own views and conclusions. What he wrote in the article did not represent the thinking of the committee. It had nothing to do with the committee."

Let that one sink in for a minute. Then recall the cases of Reed Harris and Theodore Kaghan, two former employees of the State Department's information staff, who were drummed out of government service after hearings before the McCarthy committee.

Kaghan, deputy chief of information in Germany, admitted before the McCarthy committee that in the 1930's he had written plays which were probably "acceptable to the Communists" though they did not follow the party line. This was nearly 10 years before Kaghan became a wartime government employee and before he had any intention of becoming a government employee. They did not represent the views of the government and they had nothing to do with the government.

Case Of Reed Harris

The case of Reed Harris is similar. In 1931, at age 21, Harris wrote a book "Football — The Vulgarization of the American College." In it, Harris defended the right of the Communists to teach. "I wrote it in three weeks and I have regretted it ever since," said Harris before the McCarthy committee in recounting his youthful views. He said he does not believe in the right of Communists to teach.

This Harris book was written three years before he became a government employee for the first time. It did not represent government policy and it had nothing to do with government.

For the sake of consistency, then, the question is on what differences there are between the free-lance writings of Dr. Matthews and the free-lance writings of Harris and Kaghan. All were merely expressing their personal views of the time.

Dr. Matthews has led a varied and active life. Now 59, he was educated in theology and served as a Methodist missionary in Java.

In 1932 Dr. Matthews was a Socialist and a self-confessed Marxist, convinced of the necessity of a united front for all left-wing movements in the U. S. As late as 1935 he was still considered a left-winger, but shortly thereafter he changed his views again to become an anti-Communist and chief of the investigative staff of the original Dies committee.

He recanted his earlier view just as Kaghan and Harris did.

COLORS A MYSTERY

Fort William, Times-Journal
When someone asks a Thunder Bay resident, "Why are your flowers so much more brilliant in color than the flowers that grow in most other parts of Canada?" the local resident has to grope for an answer.

None should feel embarrassed because he cannot answer the question. Scientists themselves have not been able to come up with a simple explanation of the causes for the colors of flowers.

Only recently, authorities could not give any good reason why blue flowers are practically nonexistent in tropical regions. There red and yellow predominate.

On the other hand many blue flowers, especially campanulas, are found in Alpine regions where the atmosphere is particularly rich in ultraviolet rays.

MORE GOOD CANDIDATES

Sudbury's most popular municipal candidate, Controller Larry Lamoureux, who headed the board of control election in the two years of the board's existence, has been nominated as the Progressive Conservative candidate for the Sudbury ridings.

Alistair MacLean, mayor of Capreol for a number of years, has received the Progressive Conservative nomination in the Nickel Belt riding, where his opponent will be Leo Gauthier, who represented the Sudbury riding before the redistribution became effective which split the riding into two constituencies.

People of the Sudbury and Nickel Belt ridings have some very fine candidates from which to select their representatives at Ottawa.

Housewife Helps Run Busy Alaskan Highway Hotel

Slake Lake, Alta. — (CP) — A mother of three school-aged children here, Mrs. L. S. Kuefeler, takes time off from her housework to add a woman's touch to a busy hotel.

Mrs. Kuefeler is a combination chef, hostess and upstairs maid at the hotel on the busy Alaska highway at Slake Lake, 130 miles north of Edmonton.

The Kuefeler family decided to go into the business three years ago when they lived at Galahad in Central Alberta. Mr. Kuefeler, a traveller, stayed at hotels on his business trips and took a liking to them.

So they bought a modern nine-room hotel complete with hot and cold water. Well water is not used in Slake Lake because it contains too much iron. Instead, water is melted from ice which is cut up in the winter and stored for future use.

Mrs. Kuefeler's biggest job is supervising the meals served from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. She tries to name special dishes in a way that will appeal to the loggers, fishermen and mink ranchers in the district.

Steaks, always in demand at her restaurant, and fruit must be trucked up from Edmonton.

Slake Lake is becoming a popular tourist centre. Visitors are attracted to long twilights and enjoy swimming in Lesser Slave Lake where the sandy beach and hard sand bottom make for good bathing. The natives speak highly of the whitefish in their lake.

Many of the 2,000 people in the town are seasonal workers. A large number of them either live or eat at the hotel, so it is busy times of the year Mrs. Kuefeler is kept hopping.

British Designer Comes Up With A Pocket Sized Jet

By ARCH MACKENZIE

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London. — (CP) — A top British plane designer is working on a powerful pocket jet fighter, only as big as a pocket watch and as expensive as the conventional type.

The pint-sized plane will give nothing away to ordinary-sized competitors except size, claims W. E. W. Petter, who designed the record-breaking Canberra jet bomber used by the RAF. Peter is building a prototype of the little plane, dubbed the Gnat.

He expects it to be a potent anti-fighter or bomber weapon, and at the same time to be four to five times faster to produce than bigger planes.

The statistics listed by Petter smack of the lightweight fighter turned out by the Japanese during the Second World War, cashing in on economy and manoeuvrability at the expense of the pilot's lack of armor protection.

The resemblance is only skin deep, however. Peter's plans discount the possibility of the Gnat being merely an expendable addition to existing armaments.

What he has in mind is a heavy-hitting fighter, with swept wings, two 20 or 30-millimetre guns, light ejector seat, radio, big body fuel tanks and possible radar range-finding equipment for the guns.

Petter thinks it may be possible to produce as many as 900 Gnats for the £2,000,000 that it costs to buy 215 Sabre jets or other up-to-the-minute fighters.

Petter estimates the combined weight of the necessary equipment plus pilot may total only 2,250 pounds, 40 per cent of the plane's total weight.

He calls his hypothetical craft a practical flying weapon whose short production time and saving on man-hours in construction makes possible efficient production in many countries which might otherwise not be able to contribute to their own and North Atlantic Treaty Organization defence.

Artificial Heart Is Developed By British Research

London. — (Reuters) — British medical scientists have developed an artificial heart for human beings.

The British Medical Journal publishes details of the heart built from researches by doctors led by D. G. Melrose, assistant lecturer in a postgraduate medical school here.

A journal editorial says Melrose and his colleagues consider the artificial heart machine now might be applied to the treatment of certain forms of heart disease.

It cautions that the step from experiments on animals, the machine has been tested on 30 dogs, to humans is a big one. "The circumstances justifying the trial at the present time are few but the potentialities of the machine may be considerable. It is likely to be a valuable contribution to the advancement of cardiac surgery."

In another article, Melrose outlines the experiments carried out on the dogs, in which the natural blood circulation was assisted by shunting part of it from vein to artery through the machine.

The experiments were made to assess the values of the machine in resuscitation, in the treatment of a failing circulation, and to get information to be applied later to the problem of complete artificial maintenance of circulation in man.

None of the dogs died as a direct result of the experiments through four did not survive them for other reasons. The survivors suffered no ill effects from the machine. "The challenging problem was and still remains to produce an extra-corporeal apparatus capable of maintaining temporarily the entire circulation of the human body."

Britain's Illegal Gamblers Operate Outdoor "Schools"

London. — (Reuters) — Thousands of youths in large towns throughout Britain frequent illegal outdoor gambling "casinos."

These "schools" of card players meet in the seclusion of dark archways under the network of railway lines outside large towns. They are the gambling breeding grounds which cause police the most trouble.

To these dimly-lit, hard-to-get-to archways every evening, youths take a pack of cards and dice. There are no red carpets and no plush chairs in these primitive casinos, just a newspaper held by a brick at each corner.

In Bristol there was a "school" which operated almost openly every Sunday under the name of the Greenfield Mission with a police lookout to watch for the police.

The stakes were small, a few pennies to one shilling.

The Greenfield Mission lookout system failed one Sunday and the "Casino" was closed. But hundreds more like it are still operating.

Other illicit gaming operations take place in private houses, mostly among friends or vouchered guests. There, the stakes are bigger, the risk of detection less. Occasionally, a dissatisfied guest tells the police and the owner of the house is fined.

Britain's most numerous legal gamblers, about 16,000,000, are those who take part in the football pools in which they try to forecast the soccer results.

CO-OP FARMS

SHORT STORY

Happy Landings
By MATT CHRISTOPHER

It was a bright afternoon, with the sun flashing on half a dozen sails that belled in the soft wind on the shimmering lake. Driving along on the good road in his dilapidated car, Stanley Eryav had sad visions of another luckless day.

Those two fish poles and the cigar box of artificial flies in the back seat were looking for new owners—special owners who were worthy and deserving. He could find no one who seemed to need those two poles. Poles he and Maggie had no need for any more.

Suddenly he saw the young man. The young man bowed head and slow gait suggested distress. Also, about a hundred feet ahead, he saw a trim figured young lady. She was walking quickly. It was quite obvious to Stanley that something was wrong. Had he really discovered a pair of prospects? He came to a grinding halt beside the young man. "Hello. Want a ride? I got something for you."

"Stanley, what's the gag?" Stanley laughed. These young people nowadays! "No gag. It's an offer, providin'—just like I said. But first, tell me. You're in trouble, ain't you?"

"Could be. But that's my affair." "None." The reply was abrupt. "That's the cure, son. Fishing. I'll heal sick hearts just like medicine would a wound. I know it sounds crazy. But there ain't a better remedy for a situation like you'd gotten yerself into. It's better

The girl stared wide-eyed. "But I've never fished before!"

"Then listen! To jazz music, or take a walk, or plane ride just to get away from everybody. Most people don't know it, but when they do those silly things, they're just breaking their hearts into a lot more little pieces."

The young man reached for the door handle. "This is where I get off, mister. Guess I've taken a wrong bus."

Stanley grabbed his arm. "Wait a second, son. I ain't too old to know what I'm talkin' about, and I ain't crazy, either. The secret is sitting in the boat—two of you, out there on the lake."

The young man frowned. "In a boat? The two of us?"

"You can sit across from each other an' brood your heads off, but you can't run away from each other like you're doing now. Sit tight, son," he said, turning to the wheel. "That's her, ain't it, walkin' up ahead there? Mighty in a hurry to get home like?"

The car chugged along. Presently Stanley halted it alongside the lake and stopped the engine. "Plenty pretty, she was, too."

"Hello?" said Stanley. "Hop in back, will you?"

Her eyes flicked to the young man. She started to walk on. "It'll rain," Stanley called. "You'll get soaked to the skin. See that rain-cloud up ahead?"

Stanley turned off toward the lake and stopped the car. Several rowboats were drawn up on shore. "Wait here a minute, folks," Stanley said. He went to a small building nearby, keyed open a door, and returned with a pair of well-polished oars. He placed them in the oarlocks of one of the boats, then went to the car and got the two fish poles and the cigar box of flies.

The girl stared wide-eyed. "But I've never fished before! Anyway, what is this about? And, what about the rain?"

Her husband clutched her hurriedly by the arm. "Oh, don't argue with him, Mae, and get in that boat before he changes his mind. Didn't you ever hear that it's best to satisfy a crazy man if you want to keep him happy?"

The young man pushed the boat out and the girl jumped in. "Happy landings!" cried Stanley, waving.

Smiling, he watched them go out, then turned, a little sadly, back to his car. Maggie wouldn't care, now, that he'd given the poles away. They had fished with them many times while she'd been alive. Anyway, they might do good in the hands of that nice, young couple.

He and Maggie, he recalled, must have been their ages when somebody had given them the fish poles.

Big Orchard Income
Orchards growing non-citrus fruit, such as apples, cherries and peaches, cover only about one-thirteenth the acreage of wheat. But income from the fruit is three-quarters that of the wheat crop.

Save the Soil Line
Soil conservation is one of man's most important sciences. A number of flourishing civilizations have disappeared because the countries' soil became exhausted or was washed away.

Canadian firms manufactured 137,236 television receivers in 1952 with a factory value of $6,000,000.

MARRIAGES

RUMSBY-MUIR

Howick, Que. — A pretty wedding took place recently in Howick, when Jessie Myrtle, younger daughter of Mr. J. Gordon Muir, of Howick, was united in marriage to Mr. Eric Henry Rumsby, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Percy Rumsby, of Sutton. The ceremony was held on the lawn at "The Pines", the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Stanley S. Stock, of Montreal, officiated, and Miss Jeannette Elliot, of Montreal West, played the wedding music. Varieties of summer flowers were used to form a lovely background for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Madge Muir, of Beauharnois, and Mr. Harold Rumsby acted as best man for his brother.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle and lace with a fingertip veil of tulle illusion which was held in place by a coronet of matching lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas.

The maid of honor was dressed in pale green organza over tulle, with a headpiece of matching green flowers, and she carried a bouquet of multicolored sweet peas.

Mrs. Muir, mother of the bride, was gowned in navy blue silk print with which she wore navy blue accessories and a shoulder spray of pink roses.

Mrs. Rumsby, mother of the bride, wore a dress of navy blue flowered silk with navy accessories and a corsage bouquet of white roses.

For their wedding trip the bride wore for travelling a two piece dress of pale blue nylon, fashioned with an accordion pleated skirt, and she wore white accessories and a corsage bouquet of red roses.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Rumsby will reside in Notre Dame de Grace.

The groom is a graduate of Macdonald College School for Teachers, and is at present on the staff of the Valois High School.

The bride is a graduate of a school of design and is at present employed in Montreal.

Guests attending from Sutton, were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Woodard, and Miss Hazel Bates.

PATTERSON-MAHANNAH

Fredericton, N.S. — The marriage of Miss Verna May Mahannah, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mahannah, of Fredericton, N.S., to Mr. Owen Patterson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson, of Cowansville, Que., took place in Bishop Stewart Memorial Church, Fredericton, on Saturday afternoon, June 6, at three o'clock. The Rev. G. N. St. John officiated and Mrs. M. R. Whitcomb, organist, played the wedding music. Blue iris and ferns were used for decoration.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length gown of white nylon and lace. Her fingertip veil of embroidered net was held in place by white roses and she carried a bouquet of pink gladioli and carnations.

Miss Arlene Mahannah, as maid of honor for her sister, was in pink tulle with veil of pink tulle held by a band of pink rosebuds. Her corsage was of carnations.

Mr. Maxwell Patterson, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of the bride.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left for Niagara Falls, Ont., and points in the United States, the bride wearing a summer suit of light blue tweed with navy accessories.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will reside on Riverside Road, Cowansville, Que.

crystal were represented by one of each size placed on a silver tray and presented to the guest of honor by Miss Allen, on behalf of the group.

Later in the evening, the guests were invited into the dining-room, where Mrs. A. S. Parker, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Maurice Gingues, mother of the groom-to-be, poured at the table arranged with white daisies and baby's breath in a cut glass bowl with white candles in silver holders.

Mrs. W. F. Steele assisted the hostesses in serving.

BELVIDERE BRANCH W.I.

The monthly meeting of Belvidere Branch Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Mead, on Saturday evening, July 11, with Mrs. Charles Drummond acting as joint hostess.

The president, Mrs. George Wells, opened the meeting in the usual manner after which the roll call "The birthplace of our grandmothers" was answered by twelve members. Two visitors were present, and a new member was welcomed, as was an old member after an absence of several months.

A motion was passed to discontinue sending the bi-annual parcels to England, it being felt that perhaps the need was just as great at home.

Correspondence included letters from Mrs. Taylor, concerning tickets for the A.C.W.W. conference. Pamphlets were reported received from the Loan Library at Macdonald College, to be used by the agriculture and education conveners.

Mrs. J. C. Mead, agriculture convener, read an article on the "corn borer." Mrs. W. Burton, sunshine convener, reported sending cards to friends who were ill. Mrs. E. McGee, ways and means, reported on a successful rummage sale which netted $24.39.

The highlight of the evening was the interesting and enlightening report given by the delegate, Mrs. G. Montgomery, of the annual provincial convention held at Macdonald College. Mrs. Alex Macdonald also attended the convention and both ladies thanked the members for giving them the

Indians Take Over First Position In Provincial Loop

"Major" Jack Bowes Hurls 5-Hit Ball And Strikes Out 11 As Locals Defeat Three Rivers; Waters Is Batting Star

Sherbrooke's onrushing Indians vaulted into first place of the Provincial Baseball League last night with a 3-1 victory over Three Rivers. Jack Bowes hurls a 5-hit ball and strikes out 11 as locals defeat Three Rivers; Waters is batting star.

Jack Bowes, "Major" Jack Bowes, was the big guns for Sherbrooke in the win against the Yanks. Waters drove home the first run and scored the second, which proved to be the winner. He went three for five.

Southpaw Bowes, in chalking up his ninth win of the campaign against two defeats, set down the Yankees with only five hits and struck out 11. Marco Mainini on the mound for Three Rivers was almost as good, allowing five hits also and fanning eight but he was the victim of shoddy fielding by his mates.

Sherbrooke's win was the seventh in a row for the Indians, the 22nd in the last 28 games for Pinky May's men. Sherbrooke plays at Three Rivers again tonight and moves home Saturday for a week-end against Thetford Mines.

Thetford plays at 7:15 Saturday night and at 2:00 Sunday afternoon when a special program known as "Civic Day" will be observed at Municipal Stadium. Sunday evening the locals play at Thetford.

In the game last night, Sherbrooke scored the first run in the second inning. With one man out, DelGaudio got to first on an error, advanced to second when Bowes walked and scored on a single by Waters.

Sherbrooke made it 3-0 with two more runs in the fifth inning. Waters led off with a double. Saner was out on a ground ball to short. Hobson singled to score Waters and advanced to second on a wild pitch by Mainini. Bob Diers was given an intentional base on balls. Jack Castro struck out, O'Donnell went to first on an error by Harkins and Hobson scored on the same play.

Bowes lost his shutout in the eighth when the Yanks scored their first and only run. That run was batted in by Lou Marciano, 18-year-old brother of heavy-weight boxing champion Rocky Marciano, playing his first game for Three Rivers. Young Marciano was assigned to the Yankees by Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, whose property he is.

Sherbrooke Indians of the Provincial Baseball League Thursday night moved into a first-place tie with Granby Phillies.

Sherbrooke's 3-1 victory over Three Rivers Yankees, coupled with Granby's 6-5 defeat at the hands of St. Hyacinthe Athletics, did the trick.

At St. Hyacinthe, the A's took advantage of four Granby errors for the victory. Mike Munsinger worked the nine innings for last season's pennant-winner, allowing nine hits. The Phils used two hurlers, with starter Trautwein suffering the loss.

In another contest, Quebec Braves, swamped the Royal 15-0 at Drummondville, with the help of John Ambrose's four-hit performance. The Braves combined four Drummondville pitchers for 16 hits and capitalized on two errors. Thetford Mines walloped St. Johns 14-7 in the fourth game of last night's schedule.

Granby 000 100 202—5 9 4 St. Hyacinthe 020 003 10X—6 7 1 Trautwein, Despitro (8) and Triandos; Munsinger and MacKenzie.

Quebec 610 321 011—15 16 6 Drummondville 000 000 000—0 4 2 Ambrose and Glenn; Develis, Cozzi (1) and Anderson (1) Tracey (6) and Hines.

St. Johns 030 100 003—7 12 3 Thetford 332 500 10X—14 11 3 Gilbert, Rivera (4), Woods (4) and Onuska; Diemer and Randolph.

Open titles puts them, they say, among goldfom's immortals.

"It's real kind of those folks to say so," said Ben. "It's nice to know they have so much confidence and faith in you. But I hope I never become perfect. Because then, where do you go from there? Down, that's where."

There's no magic formula for winning in golf, Ben observed. "A lot of work and persistence," he said, and added, "Plus a great deal of help from the good Lord."

Ben will be guest of honor at a welcome-home dinner the U.S. Golf Association is throwing in Paris.

Ben Hogan took a Paris inventory of himself Thursday and decided that he is not the world's best golfer and added he hoped he never would be.

He acknowledged the realms of printed and spoken praise which followed his victory in last week's British Open golf championship in a farewell interview before sailing for the United States.

British and European golfing devotees have described him as about as perfect as a human being can get with a golf club. His feat in winning the Augusta Masters and both the U.S. and British

"It's real kind of those folks to say so," said Ben. "It's nice to know they have so much confidence and faith in you. But I hope I never become perfect. Because then, where do you go from there? Down, that's where."

There's no magic formula for winning in golf, Ben observed. "A lot of work and persistence," he said, and added, "Plus a great deal of help from the good Lord."

Ben will be guest of honor at a welcome-home dinner the U.S. Golf Association is throwing in Paris.

Ben Hogan took a Paris inventory of himself Thursday and decided that he is not the world's best golfer and added he hoped he never would be.

He acknowledged the realms of printed and spoken praise which followed his victory in last week's British Open golf championship in a farewell interview before sailing for the United States.

British and European golfing devotees have described him as about as perfect as a human being can get with a golf club. His feat in winning the Augusta Masters and both the U.S. and British

Max Patkin, Baseball's Ace Clown, Will Appear At Local Park Tuesday; Will Commence Antics At 7:30

Baseball fans of this city and vicinity will get a treat Tuesday, July 21, when baseball's funniest clown, Max Patkin, appears at Municipal Stadium as an added attraction to the game between St. Hyacinthe Athletics and the Sherbrooke Indians at 7:30 p.m.

Patkin, formerly with the Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns will show his full routines of pantomime, mimicry and contortions as he "panics" the crowd with his big league repertoire.

Radio and TV commentators covering American League games last season were so impressed by Patkin's performance that in many cases they focused the cameras and attention on him while he performed, and local fans will get the same complete show.

Working from the coach's box, Max will amuse the crowd as he gyrates, mimics and bends in double-jointed fashion. His turkey-neck stunt, splits, semaphore signals and neck stretching make the fans howl, while his warm-up of the pitchers and collapsing under the weight of bats, will roll them in the aisles.

Bill Veeck, master baseball showman, recognized Patkin's drawing power, when he signed him as a comedian-coach with St. Louis Browns, as soon as he acquired ownership of that club.

Southern Canada Power Trophy At Stake Tomorrow At Dufferin Heights; Large List Expected For Annual Due

The Southern Canada Power Trophy is at stake this week-end when some fifteen four-man teams will battle it out in a 36-hole tournament to be played at Dufferin Heights.

The first 18 holes will be a two-ball affair and the afternoon round will consist of singles. Match play will prevail throughout the tourney.

Last year the low medal honors went to John Dukelow, of Granby, who shot a sizzling 67 over the North Hatt layout.

The best two-ball score was posted by Arnold Baker and Gordon Harmer, Sherbrooke Country Club, who shot 72.

Granby, Sherbrooke Country Club, Lennoxville, Danville, Windsor Mills, Asbestos, Mt. Orford, Dufferin Heights, Cowansville, Thetford Mines, Victoriaville, and several other clubs will enter one or more teams.

The tournament will get underway at 9 a.m. and no green fees will be accepted that day. The course is reserved strictly for the use of the tournament players.

Granby has won the team championships for many years but may be in for an upset this year.

Buffalo Bisons, taking advantage of Montreal's layoff Thursday night, vaulted into the International baseball league lead over the Royals—but only by the slimmest of margins.

The Bisons defeated the third-place Rochester Red Wings 5-2 in one of two scheduled contests to advance into first-place by two percentage points.

Springfield Cubs remained on the losing path. The tail-enders were downed 5-3 by Baltimore Orioles, currently in fourth position—four games behind the leaders and one back of Rochester.

Springfield is down 23 1/2 games, victorious in only 27 of 84 contests.

Frank Carswell played a big part in the Herd's triumph at Buffalo, whacking his 10th homer of the campaign, with two aboard.

Bob Nevel earned the victory, allowing seven hits.

Jack Fascholz, who had beaten the Bisons six straight, was sent to the showers when he got into trouble in the fourth.

At Baltimore, it was three straight for the Orioles over the Cubs. Tom Herrin held the losers to seven hits until he tired in the eighth. Veteran left-hander Ken Heintzelman took over and dispatched the next four batters to face him.

All clubs are scheduled to see action tonight. Buffalo remains at Rochester. Montreal goes to Baltimore. Ottawa visits Springfield and Toronto invades Syracuse.

Canada's figure-skating champion is caring for the two young children of Dr. George Hall, president of the University of Western Ontario, while he, his wife and three older children are visiting in England.

Barbara Ann gets Paddy, 3, and Liz, 2, up at 7 a.m., gives them breakfast, washes dishes, cleans the hall's home and children's clothing and still has time for a daily sunbath that he left the 25-year-old skater tanned and fit.

The children's parents have known Barbara Ann for years. They were set to leave for England two weeks ago when the nurse who had promised to look after Paddy and Liz couldn't make it.

So Barbara Ann, who was visiting the Halls at the time, volunteered. She will have the children until the family returns during August.

Her secret for success with the children: "Be nice, but firm."

Calgarian Takes Second Highest Prize At Bisley

Bisley, England. — (Reuters) — Lt. Col. Steve Johnson of Calgary fired 73 out of a possible 75 Thursday to take the St. George's Challenge Vase and Gold Cross, second highest individual award of the Bisley shoot.

Johnson, captain of the Canadian rifle team which won the Empire Match last week-end, nosed out R. Bennett of Britain who had 72. D. F. Shepherd of Australia trailed in third place with 71.

Johnson won over 1400 competitors who started the qualifying 300-yard stage Wednesday.

Only the scores in Thursday's final stage, fired at 900 yards, counted toward the prize.

The St. George's competition is considered the chief warm-up to the final day's Queen's Prize shoot.

Lt. Col. D. T. Burke of Lansing, Ont., took the Daily Mail £50 prize Thursday by scoring three bullseyes in a shoot-off on the 500-yard range.

Burke, winner of the King's Prize in 1942, had scored a highest possible 50 on Monday to tie with N. Palmer of New Zealand and J. M. Tellow of Britain. He was the only one to make a perfect score with his three shots Thursday.

Canadian Women Out Of Running In British Golf

Richmond, England. — (Reuters) — The touring Canadian women's golf team made its last appearance in Britain Thursday, in the ladies' golf union Diamond Jubilee and Coronation foursomes handicapped at the Royal Mid-Surrey women's course.

Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., Canadian and British open champion, partnered Mary Gay of Waterloo, Ont., for a fine gross 74, 37-37 and a net 76, but finished out of the running. They were given the top plus-two handicap.

Winners, with a gross 88 and a net 68 were Britain's Jean McIntyre and Mrs. S. E. Osborn.

A New Ultra-Modern Service Station Was Opened By The Mayor Yesterday

The official opening of Sherbrooke's newest service station on the corner of Queen Street South and King West took place yesterday morning. Representatives of the British American Oil Company, Mayor Emile Levesque and several Sherbrooke businessmen were present at the ceremony.

Operated by Larry Rouleau, the gleaming white station with green and red trimmings has been in service since June 17, and offers the most up-to-date methods of servicing by some of the most modern equipment in the city.

Mr. Rouleau is the former operator of a service station on Depot Street which he ran to his customers' satisfaction for six years.

In all, he has had over ten years' experience in the servicing of cars and with the help of five capable and experienced assistants, can give prompt and efficient attention to all motorists.

Larry Rouleau's offers quick work on motor tune-ups, complete lubrication, washing, simonizing, battery service, tire repairs, and electrical work. Car accessories of all types are also offered, while Top-Rated B-A 88 and 98 gasoline will be dispensed.

The station is open Monday through Thursday from 7 a.m. until 1 a.m. and on week-ends until 3 a.m.

Nothing has been spared in the construction of this station to make it at once handsome and efficient. Latest equipment includes a hydraulic lift, overhead lubricating equipment and a central hot air heating system within the garage which insures that a complete winterization job can be done on your car as well as superlative summer service.

Larry Rouleau also offers motorists an exclusive delivery service. Customers may leave their cars for servicing at the garage and the car will be delivered to their home or any other designated place upon completion of the job. Entirely free, this service also extends to the picking up of cars by an attendant at the customer's home for work at the garage.

Spotlessly clean throughout, the station features extra-roomy asphalt drives, extensive lighting facilities as well as the most sanitary and modern rest rooms available.

Many local firms and craftsmen collaborated in the construction of this sparkling new station. Glass work is by Dufour; plasterwork by Willie St. Laurent; electricians were L. A. Martel, Ltd.; mill work was done by Sawyerville Manufacturing Co. Ltd.; Bryant's supply the soft drinks on the establishment; roofing was done by Olivier Lacroix and William Lavallee was the general contractor.

All in all, the combined efforts of these firms and the dependable service offered by the British American Oil Company and Larry Rouleau make this newest of service stations a boon to exacting Sherbrooke car owners.

At the short but impressive ceremony, Mr. H. S. Brown, area manager of British American Oil for Sherbrooke gave a brief word of welcome to those assembled and to the car owners of Sherbrooke, noting that the company was the largest independent company in Canada today.

In a short address, Mayor Levesque welcomed the opening of the new station, stating that both its beauty and service were valuable additions to the city. He extended best wishes to Larry Rouleau and B-A the success of the station and expressed the hope that the B-A Oil Company would continue to serve their interests in Sherbrooke. Mayor Levesque then cut the ribbon across the station and officially opened the station.

Besides Mayor Levesque, many prominent Sherbrooke citizens were present as guests. They included Maurice Gingues, M.P.; Jim Wark; William Lavallee, contractor for the service station and his assistant, Art Wright; Everett Nicol, alderman for the North Ward; Guy Bryant; Cliff Bryant; Al Kouri; and Arthur Farr.

British American Oil representatives included Harold S. Brown; C. R. Bebee, regional operation manager, Montreal; J. J. Sauvage, sales promotion, Montreal; and the Sherbrooke sales staff of C. Cartwright, Norman Chartier, Maurice Guilbeault, and Jean Denault. At a private ceremony either today or tomorrow, Father Desrochers of St. Therese and Father Frechette will confer a blessing on the station.

International Fleet Of 14 Yachts Sails Out Of Manchester, Mass., To Halifax In Fifth Biennial Race

Manchester, Mass. — (P) — Favored with clear weather and a fair wind, an international fleet of 14 yachts including four Canadian entries, sailed out of this port Thursday in a 361-mile run to Halifax.

The fifth biennial Manchester-to-Halifax race, the test is sponsored by the Boston section of the Cruising Club of America and the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Club. The race is expected to take four or five days.

A message from the coast guard cutter Casco, escorting the fleet, reported the 41-foot Halifax sloop Grille, skippered by Capt. L. Gilard, was leading at the start. J. L. Madden's 45-foot yawl Brenda, which calls Manchester her home port, was second, and the 61-foot schooner Onward III, owned by H. B. Barlow of Providence, R.I., third.

The Casco said the wind was north northwest 20 knots and visibility good.

Onward III, as the scratch boat, must give up time to all the other entries in this handicap test. The greatest time allowance, about 12 hours, is assigned the 30-foot cutter Sparhawk out of Manchester, smallest craft in the race.

Four of the larger entries will have a race within a race. This special competition will be among the training ship Oriole IV, a 92-foot ketch based at Halifax, Onward III, the New York yawl Memory, 55, yawl, S. Dergart, City Island, N.Y., Zodiac, 66, ketch, N. W. Rice, Gloucester.

Sports Roundup

By JACK HAND

New York — (P) — If George Kell wins the American League batting championship, as well he might, it will be a triumph of will power over aches and pains.

There days when Kell fears he won't be able to drag himself out of bed in the morning, let alone put on his Boston uniform to play third base. Still he has played more than three quarters of his club's games. And is leading the league in hitting.

Doctors tell George that it's simply a case of too much bending, sliding and tumbling for his spinal disc. They say it's similar to the trouble that forced Bobby Doerr into retirement and sent Charlie Keller to the hospital for an operation.

"I don't want any operation, if I can help it," Kell said the other day. "I'm sure my back will be all right for ordinary everyday life with the proper rest. It's just the bending I have to do in baseball."

In mid-May there was a time when Kell thought seriously of giving up. In chill, damp days, such as we had often this spring, he had the miseries. His boss, manager Lou Boudreau, told him to forget playing and not even show up for a few days.

At Kell's suggestion he tried left field when he returned. It worked out fine.

But the club needed George back at third so he went back to his old job. When the thermometer hit the 90s the old cracks in the back melted away. It's the night games on cool evenings and the rainy days that bother his most.

When Kell first came up to the majors, out of Swanton, Ark., he was a school teacher.

School teaching is not for Kell any more. He prospered in baseball at a healthy wage scale in

Melboro W.I. Honors Member Grandmothers

The regular monthly meeting of the Melbourne Ridge Women's Institute was held in Kingsbury on July 7 at the home of Miss C. Ward and Mrs. W. McMorine with Mrs. E. Nelson as joint hostess. Meeting opened by all singing the "Ode" and repeating the Mary Stewart Collect in unison.

Roll call was answered by 14 members with uses for salt apart from food seasoning. There were three visitors. Minutes were read and approved. Treasurer's monthly financial report showed a balance of $61.25 on hand. A donation of five dollars was sent to a needy family and all outstanding bills were ordered paid.

Mrs. G. Crack reported she has two A.C.W.W. scrapbooks ready. It was suggested that a dance be held in the local school, the date to be decided in the near future. The sick committee reported two sunshine boxes sent.

A life membership committee was formed as follows: chairman, Mrs. L. Driver, Mrs. J. Stalker, Mrs. R. Kerr and Mrs. E. Nelson. This being "grandmother's day," in the program, a corsage and gift was presented to the grandmothers present, namely, Mrs. H. Fowler, Mrs. C. Morrison and Mrs. W. McMorine. Others to be remembered are: Mrs. A. Croteau, Mrs. M. Taber, Mrs. Batchelor and Mrs. G. Malboeuf.

The meeting was then turned over to the home economics convener, Mrs. G. Crack, who introduced Miss Norma Knowles. She gave a very interesting talk on judging at the County Fair. Some very useful information was gained with regard to the standard and appearance of canned fruit jellies and home baking, etc., required by the judges. Mrs. Crack thanked Miss Knowles and presented her with a memento of her visit to this branch.

Mrs. G. Staintroppe gave an excellent report of the W. I. Convention that she attended at Macdonald College. The next meeting is to be held on August 4, at the home of Mrs. E. Gilchrist. After the meeting was adjourned, dainty lunch was served by the hostesses.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Cunningham were: Mrs. John Bread, Mrs. John Tuck, Miss Mary Dwyer and Mr. Ernest Brantan, all of Montreal. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Batchelor and son, Teddy, and Mrs. John Bradley, of Toronto, were afternoon tea guests at the same home.

PINNACLE

Mr. Clark Reed and friend, of Montreal, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Gallup. Mrs. Mabel Wallace, of St. Lambert, spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Gallup.

Miss Sandra Gallup, who underwent an operation at the Canabestos, is convalescing at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gonnet were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Kerr.

Master Wayne Gallup, of Montreal, is the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Gallup, where he will spend the summer.

Miss Carol Saffin, of Sherbrooke, spent a week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saffin.

Mrs. Mabel Wallace and Mrs. Della Gallup were Sunday tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Gallup.

Rev. Roy Le Gow and Mrs. Le Gow and sons, Kent and Wynn, of Swanton, Vt., and Miss Ida Stevens of Concord, N.H. were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saffin.

Mrs. Joseph Saffin and Mrs. Duncan Kerr have returned home from Ste. Anne de Bellevue, where Detroit and Boston. He has a going farm back home in Arkansas with cattle and cotton as his specialties. Eventually he'd like to come back to baseball as a coach, or maybe manager, but first a year off to rest that back on the farm.

But Kell wants to win the batting championship this year more than anything else in his career.

When Kell won the championship with .343 in 1949, beating men like Ted Williams and Joe Dimaggio, some said it was a fluke. If he wins this one, bad back and all, he should rate the most valuable player award.

they attended the Institute convention.

Mrs. Della Gallup, of Sherbrooke, was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Gallup.

Miss Phyllis Laxson is spending a few days with Miss Sandra Gallup.

Miss Joan Laxson who underwent an appendectomy at the C.J.M. Hospital is convalescing at her home.

Master Howard and little Miss Joy Gallup accompanied their aunt, Mrs. Mabel Wallace, to St. Lambert, where they will be her guests for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Gallup and their guests, Mrs. Della Gallup, Mrs. M. Wallace and Master Wayne Gallup were evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Merrick Gallup.

three children, Howard, Joy and Peggy Jean, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Gallup.

Mr. Leland Gallup, Mrs. Mabel Wallace, Howard, Joy, Brian and Wayne Gallup, were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. Delville Hodge, at Spooner Pond.

Mr. Leland Gallup and son, Brian, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Gallup.
