GERMAN AND ITALIAN TROOPS BATTLE UPRISING

Croat-Slovene Force Demands Division Move

Demonstrations at Fiume and Trieste Demand Separation of Istrian Peninsula, Taken from Austria at End of Last War, from Italy—Feared that Popular Uprising May Prevent Badoglio from Retaining Control.

Berne, July 29.—(P)—Italian and German troops were reported rushed today to Fiume and Trieste, where Croats and Slovenes were demonstrating for separation of the Istrian peninsula from Italy, and the situation in other Eastern sections of the Kingdom was described as tense.

Swiss newspaper dispatches told of the crisis in Istria, soil which Italy annexed from Austro-Hungary after the last war. It juts into the Adriatic sea between Italy and the Croatian coast.

The Berner Tagwacht said Croats and Slovenes, who number 600,000 on the peninsula, were demanding the inclusion of Istria in a South Slav state.

Additional clashes between Fascists and anti-Fascists were reported as Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio struggled to maintain order and save the country from chaos.

News of an insurrection in Milan was partly blacked out today by Premier Badoglio's military censorship. However, a dispatch from Chiasso, Switzerland, said strikes in the Milan industrial region had assumed important proportions, with Communists attacking the monarchy.

Walls in Northern Italy despite Badoglio's restriction of placarding and slogans were reported plastered with inscriptions bearing the words: "Mussolini is liquidated—now the war must be liquidated. Let's live the social republic!"

(A BBC broadcast recorded by CBS said today the families of numerous Fascist officials were reported to have arrived by plane in Berlin.)

Reports reaching the Swiss border said that hundreds of persons had been killed in widespread riots and that tension was growing hourly.

This anti-Fascist outbreak, paralleled by massed peace demonstrations, occurred in widely separated cities.

Badoglio assumed control of the Government five days ago in the hope of organizing and stabilizing a new authoritarian regime, advised from Rome indicated, but the country-wide demonstrations for peace, the rioting and fighting, strikes in Italy's most important war and industrial factories, combined with increasing political agitation apparently have brought the country on the verge of incipient civil war.

The crisis in Italy's internal affairs has reached the stage where even a spokesman for the Berlin Foreign Office reportedly admitted the probability of a new government in Rome before the end of the week.

Fascist Government Body Latest To Feel Ouster Of Badoglio Rule

London, July 29.—(P)—Italy's wretched from Badoglio and that he might be compelled to sue for an immediate peace.

"The only emblem permissible now is the Tricolor," the Rome radio said. The Rome broadcast continued: "A new Chamber of Deputies will be elected within four months after the termination of the war and a new legislature will be set up."

"The Cabinet also decided to abrogate all Fascist legislation and the King immediately approved all the measures."

"The liberation of political prisoners already has started. To place the new measures in practice with the least possible delay, all red tape was ordered cut."

Rimouski, Que., July 29.—(P)—Jean Marie Ouellet, forty-three, an employee at the Ministry of Colonization here, died today following a shooting accident at his home. He was removing his gun from a closet when it went off, the bullet entering his head from beneath the chin.

Ouellet was a Lieutenant in the Second Reserve Battalion of Fusiliers du St. Laurent.

TWENTY DIE IN UNITED STATES PLANE TRAGEDY

Only Two Survivors When Giant Transport Plane Crashes into Field Near Kentucky-Tennessee Line.

Bowling Green, Ky., July 29.—(P)—An American Airlines plane en route from Louisville to Nashville crashed and burned at Trammel, Ky., twenty miles Southeast of here, last night and first reports said twenty persons were killed.

Two severely injured persons were in a hospital here.

The crash occurred about 11:30 p. m. E.D.T., in a remote section of Allen County near the Kentucky-Tennessee border.

First word of the crash came when First Lieut. Glenn W. Fellows, attached to Love Field, Texas, who was a passenger on the plane, tumbled to the door of a farm house three-quarters of a mile from the scene and summoned help. Farmers in the neighborhood took Fellows to a hospital here.

While current problems are mighty, he asserted, it's not too early to think of the future. Hence, he thought it was time to lay down a specific policy for taking care of the men and women of the armed forces when they return so there is no wholesale idleness or lack of attention. In this respect, Mr. Roosevelt recommended mulling over pay, unemployment insurance, vocational education and training, medical care and pensions. He included the merchant marine as part of the armed forces.

Optimistic throughout, the President singled out the shipping situation for his most glowing description of the United States war output. It was so good, he said, that coffee rationing was ending now, as of last night. More sugar is in store, too, he said.

He paid high tribute to the Russians. Their success has shown, he said, that "it is dangerous to make a prophecy about them—a fact forcibly brought home to that mystic master of strategic intuition, Herr Hitler."

He also praised the accomplishments of the British 8th Army and the Canadian troops in Sicily, turning them a "magnificent fighting force which has made the Germans pay a heavy price for each hour of delay in the final victory."

Continuing, he said "The daunting fighting of the British people in this war has been expressed in the historic words and deeds of Winston Churchill—and the world knows how the American people feel about him."

The President, too, mentioned the fine spirit of co-operation being displayed by the Allies. "You have heard," he said, "some people say the British and Americans can never get along well together."

Mr. Roosevelt mentioned fighting China to say "We are delivering planes and vital war supplies for the heroic armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, and we must do more at all costs."

His reference to ill-starred Mussolini was brief, but pointed. The Full Punishment Of Axis Chiefs Remains Basic Policy Of Allied Peace Proposals Says Roosevelt

Washington, July 29.—(P)—Reporting Italy on the ropes, Germany blackened by bombs, and Japan losing the initiative in the Pacific, President Roosevelt called on the American people and their Allies today to follow through with the knockout punch that spells "total victory."

The President, reporting to the United States on the war effort abroad and at home for the first time in almost six months, told a radio audience last night that:

1. The United Nations may not take time out to gloat over the downfall of Dictator Mussolini and the obvious plight of Italy, but must go on to demand unconditional surrender. Then Japan and Germany must be whipped on their home grounds.

2. The Axis leadership must eventually be hunted out and prosecuted for war guilt. No mere resignation, such as Mussolini's, may interfere with this.

All this will command increased effort at home, the President emphasized.

While current problems are mighty, he asserted, it's not too early to think of the future. Hence, he thought it was time to lay down a specific policy for taking care of the men and women of the armed forces when they return so there is no wholesale idleness or lack of attention. SMUTS CABINET RE-ELECTED IN SOUTH AFRICA

Win-the-War Government Given Clear Majority in New House with Only Two-Thirds of Seats Decided.

Pretoria, South Africa, July 29.—(P)—Prime Minister Jan Christiaan Smuts and his war policies won a clear majority in the July 7 general election, still incomplete returns indicated today.

With 109 seats decided out of the total of 150 in the House of Representatives, the Coalition Government had won 85 against 24 for the various Opposition parties which have opposed participation in the war.

Results were delayed for more than three weeks because, first, time was required to gather the soldiers' votes from various theatres of operation, and, secondly, by opposition attempts to have the courts rule many soldier ballots were invalid.

Eisenhower In Direct Appeal To Italians To Oust Nazi Oppressors

Continued Presence of German Troops on Italian Soil Is Only Remaining Obstacle to Immediate and Honorable Peace, Allied Commander Tells People—Gives Five-Point Programme for Peace Talks.

AXIS FORCES ABANDON NICOSIA, WELL BEYOND STRATEGIC LEONFORTE

London, July 29.—(P)—The German radio reported today that Axis forces had abandoned Nicosia, Sicily, about 7½ miles North of Leonforte, which fell to the Canadian 1st Division.

The capture of Leonforte was announced today by Allied headquarters in North Africa.

The German radio report, heard in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, was attributed to the International Information Bureau, a propaganda agency.

Allied Headquarters, North Africa, July 29.—(P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told the Italian people in a broadcast at noon today that the continued presence of German troops on Italian soil is the only remaining obstacle to an immediate and honorable peace.

"You want peace," he told the Italians. "You can have peace immediately and peace under honorable conditions which our governments have already offered you."

(A London dispatch reported that "heavy jamming" by Axis radio interfered with reception of the broadcast in the British Isles.)

Declaring that the people themselves have removed the greatest obstacle standing between Italy and the United Nations, Gen. Eisenhower said:

"We commend the Italian people and the House of Savoy for ridding themselves of Mussolini, the man who involved them in the war as a tool of Hitler and brought them to the verge of disaster."

(This was the first official message from any Allied leader commending the Italian Royal House for its part in Mussolini's removal. It was disclosed in London last week that Eisenhower had been entrusted with full authority to deal with any peace offers.)

"We are coming to you as liberators," the American commander of Allied forces in North Africa and Sicily told the Italians, and he added: "Your part is to cease immediately any assistance to German military forces in your country. If you do this we will rid you of the Germans and deliver you from the horrors of war."

The general promised that if all British and Allied prisoners now in Italian hands are restored safely and not sent into Germany, all Italian prisoners taken in Tunisia and Sicily would be returned to their homes.

"The ancient traditions and liberties of your country will be returned," he said. "As you have already seen in Sicily, our occupation will be mild and beneficent."

The five salient points of the General's message were:

1.—Only the Germans in Italy are blocking an immediate peace.

2.—Cessation of hostilities is possible immediately under honorable terms.

3.—Discontinuance of assistance by the Italians to German armed forces is a prerequisite for peace.

4.—A pledge that Italian war prisoners will be returned to their homes, provided Allied prisoners now held by the Italians are restored.

5.—The liberties and traditions of Italy will be restored.

Canadian And United States Troops Advance In Sicily

Four More Towns, Including Vital Road Junction, Captured by Co-ordinated Canadian-American Drive on Northern Sector of Nazi Defence Line—British 8th Army Meeting Bitter Resistance in South

By BELMAN MORIN, Associated Press War Correspondent

Allied Headquarters, North Africa, July 29.—(P)—Canadian and American troops, pushing steadily into Sicily, captured today four more towns, including the vital central road junction of Leonforte, and have inflicted heavy casualties on stubbornly-retreating Axis forces, the Allies announced today.

Canadian columns smashed their way into Leonforte, eight miles Northeast of Enna, in fierce fighting while the American 7th Army, pounding Eastward down the coast from Palermo, captured the towns of Pollina, Castelbuono and Gangi.

With the occupation of Pollina, representing a one-day advance of about eight miles from the Port of Cefalu, which was taken the previous day, the American armored spearhead reached a point 75 miles from Messina, jumping-off place for Axis forces defending the island.

Castelbuono and Gangi are inland towns, on an approximate line between Pollina and Leonforte, and represent a decisive step toward the capture of the vital road junction of Leonforte, where the British 8th Army has been feeling out the enemy's stubborn defence for nearly a week.

The communiqué again told of "fierce fighting" on the sector of the front where the Canadian 1st Division is pushing forward.

Today's brief Allied communiqué telling of the "steady progress" of this drive made no mention of the fighting around Catania, Southern anchor of the Axis Mount Etna defence line, where the British 8th Army has been feeling out the enemy's stubborn defence for nearly a week.

Record Daylight Raid Blasts At German Industry In Berlin Area

London, July 29.—(P)—Boldly defying Hitler's fading air strength, swarms of American heavy bombers flew unescorted and in daylight yesterday to within eighty miles of Berlin to smash the Nazi aircraft plant at Oschersleben. R.A.F., R.C.A.F., and other Allied planes provided fighter protection on the last lap of the return trip.

The Oschersleben raid was the deepest daylight thrust of the war into Germany.

Indicating that the round-the-clock bombings had extended into last night, the Berlin radio reported early today that R.A.F. planes had made scattered "nuisance raids" on Northwestern Germany during the night. There was no immediate confirmation.

Kassel, site of a big Focke-Wulf assembly plant about two hundred miles Southwest of Berlin, also was battered by the big bombers, which were reported to have shot down upwards of sixty Nazi fighters attempting to beat them off. Twenty-three bombers were lost during the round trip of more than one thousand miles, a communiqué said. One Allied fighter plane also was lost.

In bombing Oschersleben, the bombers flew almost two hundred miles into the German territory Hitler once said would never fear the shock of an enemy bomb.

Bomb bursts were seen in both target areas. The United States-British communiqué from the Kassel and Oschersleben raids.

Photographs of the seared city of Hamburg made on Tuesday, before the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. went back that night to finish the job, revealed great damage and fires still licking the docks, the Air Ministry said. At least nine "very important buildings" were hit in the submarine yards, the announcement said.

Allied medium bombers also were active over France and Belgium yesterday, attacking industrial targets and airfields, and R. A. F. R. C. A. F. Spitfire squadrons strafed the Dutch coast.

German raiders again hit back weakly at Britain last night, dropping bombs on "one or two points" in East Anglia. London had a brief air alert. An Air Ministry and Home Security communiqué said that damage was slight and no casualties resulted.

ALLIED AIR AND SURFACE FORCES AGAIN STRIKE JAPANESE SHIPPING

Allied Headquarters, the South-West Pacific, July 29.—(P)—Allied aircraft and surface units ripped into Japanese shipping in the Southwest Pacific yesterday, setting fire to a destroyer and a transport, scoring near misses on a small freighter and destroying thirteen barges.

Heavy bombers, summoned by a reconnaissance plane, dropped explosive squarely on the destroyer and transport off Cape Gloucester, New Britain. Both ships were left burning fiercely.

Heavy bombers, striking Manokwari at the Northwestern tip of Dutch New Guinea by daylight, scored damaging near misses on a 2,500-ton freighter.

Forty-seven tons of bombs were dropped on enemy entrenchments and gun positions.

Fifteen enemy fighters attempted to intercept a formation of medium bombers raiding a large base on Rein Bay on the North coast of New Britain. Nine fighters, escorting the bombers, engaged the enemy, shot down six Zeros and probably destroyed two more. There was no report of any Allied loss. The bombers destroyed seven barges and two launches and set off violent explosions in fuel dumps near the bay.

Light surface craft intercepted four Japanese barges off Kolombangara Island in the Solomons at night and sank two. Similar craft destroyed four barges off New Guinea and bombers got three more in the same area.

ers and other members of the flying corps formed a guard of honor at the entrance to the church as the body was carried in and also at the close of the service, while a firing party consisting of ten young airmen fired three volleys at the graveside in St. Andrew's Cemetery at Melbourne after the Last Post had been sounded.

In addition to his father, he leaves three brothers, Reginald and Gordon, of Kingsbury, and Herbert, overseas with the Canadian Active Army, and three sisters, Ruby, of the Women's Division of the R.C.A.F. at Uplands, Ont., Bernice at Richmond and Mrs. George Roster, at Kingsbury.

REAL NATIONAL UNITY EXISTS, SAYS FOURNIER

Minister of Public Works Says Impressive Showing of Dominion Only Possible Through United Efforts.

Montreal, July 29.—(P)—Works Minister Fournier said in a radio address last night that Canada's "tremendous" war effort has been accomplished because national unity exists in the country.

"I know that some will not admit this assertion," he said, "but let them think for a moment. If we were really divided how could we have accomplished all the things we have?"

Mr. Fournier spoke for half an hour from a private station in support of Liberal candidates in the August 9 federal bye-elections for Stantead and Montreal Carlier.

"It is true," Mr. Fournier said, "that in our country, where two great races live side by side, speaking different languages, practising different religions and having different mentalities, we cannot pretend that there is complete understanding on all subjects. But name me a nation that has not these internal difficulties."

"Think of France, inhabited by men of the same race, and ask yourselves whether we have more trouble than they have over these things. Read the British papers and you will see that they also have their internal problems. And what goes on among our neighbors to the South?"

"We can be satisfied with the attitude of the population of our country in the present war. I am sure that this union in effort, the devotedness of the common cause is attributable for a good part to the Chief of State (Prime Minister Mackenzie King). No one in Canada has his experience, his foresight and his sense of responsibility as he has."

"The methods of carrying on the country war effort, he said, was debatable, but the sincerity of the members of the Government cannot be doubted. "Everything that we do is aimed at ending the war as soon as possible and assuring victory for our country."

"Perhaps it is too soon," he added, "to set up plans for the after-war, but it is certainly not too early to speak on the principles which serve as a base of the new order after the war."

"Everyone admits that the true causes of wars are the absence of Christian principles, of charity and justice between individuals and nations. If individuals and states always based their acts on charity and justice, I am convinced that armed

CITY FATHERS ARE INSPECTING FLOOD DAMAGES

Mayor A. C. Ross and members of the City Council left the City Hall today to inspect the damage done by the recent flood at the two city water reservoirs at the end of Fairmount Avenue.

Mayor Ross and the Aldermen will watch operations while the reservoirs are emptied and cleaned, after which a thorough survey of the damage will be made.

Aldermen making the inspection trip included J. W. Genest, J. G. D. Bryant, O. Deziel, J. A. Savard and Alphonse Trudeau. City Engineer Armand Crepeau also accompanied the party.

"The Bloc is Canadian. The Bloc attacks Imperialism. The Bloc commands, and with your votes, will succeed in obtaining a truly Canadian political policy."

At the start of his address, Mr. Raymond said that illness kept him from his seat during most of last Federal session and would prevent him from taking an active part in the bye-election campaigns.

conflicts would disappear from the earth.

"After the war, if the world wishes to live in peace, statesmen like invidious should be inspired with the principles of justice and charity and then we would see a spirit of equality and fraternity re-born in the world."

Mr. Fournier said that he wished to tell Nationalist opponents of the Government that they are "doing nefarious work by preaching hatred, disunion and violence to our compatriots. We can be firm in our revindications, we can show that we sometimes have grievances with-out wishing to separate French-Canadians from the other races of the country."

"There will always be a considerable dike between we, the Liberals and the Nationalists. We want a great, united and prosperous Canada. Above all we want to be Canadians. The Nationalists want to be Quebecers, Montreals, Hullers, everything, but not Canadians."

"Some of their leaders are so narrow-minded that they cannot conceive a country for Canadians, but they can see a very small country, separated from the rest of Canada. They insist that being a small number of limited territory they would exercise a great influence in America."

"Don't you believe that it would be better to work for the building of a great and respected country than to limit our efforts to a village, a small city, or even a province?"

MALTESE SHOW JUBILATION AT FASCIST SLUMP

Atmosphere of Warm Optimism Apparent in Much-Bombed Island as Result of Latest Developments in Italy.

Valetta, Malta, July 29.—(C.P. Cable)—Reaction here to the invasion of Sicily and the subsequent fall from power of Benito Mussolini, Italian dictator, was one of quiet elation and a sort of "We-knew-all-along-it-would-happen" attitude.

Malta endured three years of battering and siege at the hands of the Axis air forces. When the Allied powers regained control of the Mediterranean and went on to invade Sicily there was no dancing in the streets by the people of this little island but an atmosphere of warm optimism was easily noticeable and it has not been dispelled by the recent sharp Axis bombings, renewed after a lengthy lull.

The Maltese are convinced that last week's air attack was due to the Axis being puzzled over the bombing of Rome July 19 and Sunday night's raid here is attributed to an Italian feeling of disgust and frustration over Mussolini's ouster, which was announced only two hours before the raid occurred.

During the latter raid a parachute flare was shot down. Dawn showed its white rays flitting over the city—from the flagstaff of the former Fascist headquarters in Valetta. Gleeful Maltese gathered all day long to see the spectacle, pointing to it as a symbol of Italy's plight.

Full Punishment

Duce "and his Fascist gang will be brought to book and punished for their crimes," the President declared.

"We will have no truck with Fascism . . . we will permit no vestige of Fascism to remain."

He said "We are helping the Italian people in Sicily and will continue to help Italian resistance fighters their government as they want it. There will be no pillage or starvation—conquered peoples will be restored to the dignity of human beings entitled to freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from want, freedom from fear."

"We are pushing the Japs around from the Aleutians to New Guinea," he added. "We have taken the initiative and we are not going to let go of it . . . The Japs have lost more planes and more ships than they have been able to replace."

"If the Japanese are basing their future plans on a long period in which they will be permitted to consolidate and exploit their conquered resources," he said, "they had better start revising their plans now. I give that to them merely as a helpful suggestion."

He said the war wouldn't be over this year, but it wouldn't last as long as 1949, as Vice Admiral Frederick Horne said the other day.

"We still have to defeat Hitler and Tojo on their own home grounds . . . No one pretends that this will be an easy matter," Mr. Roosevelt asserted.

"We shall not settle for less than total victory."

DEMANDS QUICK MOVE AGAINST RACIAL BRAWLS

C.C.F. Candidate in Cartier Bye-Election Demands Ottawa and Quebec Take Action Against Plage Laval Offenders.

Montreal, July 29.—(C.P. Cable)—David Lewis, C.C.F. candidate in the federal bye-election in Montreal Cartier, told an election rally last night that the main object of the C.C.F. is the development of this great country with its natural resources and the institution of laws and actions that will protect democratic rights.

"Such laws, he said, would be effective whether the son of the chief of police or the son of the governor-general is involved."

Speaking of a brawl between French-Canadians and Jews at near-by Plage Laval last Saturday, Mr. Lewis said "There are laws to prevent that sort of attack on Jews or any other people. There are also Federal and Provincial police under direction of the Liberal Governments at Ottawa and in Quebec."

"There are laws and there are penalties that would be an example to others. But has anything been done? You know there has not been any action taken. The Liberal Governments should take some action if they had the courage to do so."

Mr. Lewis delivered a statement attributed to Lazarus Phillips, Liberal candidate, that Lewis had approached Phillips before the campaign with the suggestion that something be done about "padded" Cartier voters' lists.

another passenger, S. K. Hoffman, forty-one, of Williamsport, Pa., to a Bowling Green hospital.

Hoffman told hospital attendants that the plane was flying through unfavorable weather and there was no indication of any trouble until the huge ship struck the ground. Hoffman and Lieut. Fellows were thrown clear of the plane and apparently were the survivors.

Allen County Sheriff L. A. Williams said the plane hit in a field and ploughed along for a quarter of a mile. The Sheriff said the bodies were visible in the wreckage but no effort would be made to remove them until an inquest.

The Sheriff said fire swept the entire plane.

Berlin political circles went so far as to mention Crown Prince Umberto as a rallying point around which a new regime would be set up. Milan, Turin and Genoa, according to information reaching Bene, were centres of peace demonstrations, open fighting and political revolts. In all three of these industrial cities gangs of Fascist militia were reported resisting regular army units striving to maintain order and enforce Premier Badoglio's decree abolishing the Fascist party. Significantly also was the suppression, after two days of free expression, of Republican newspapers which had been under the Fascist ban for twenty years.

(Dispatches from Madrid last night reported that Virginio Gayda, former editor of Il Giornale d'Italia and chief spokesman for the now defunct Fascist party, had been slain during "revenge hunts" which flared in Italy after Mussolini's downfall. The report was not confirmed.

(BBC, however, in a French language broadcast recorded here by United States Government monitors, said Gayda and three other Fascist editors had been arrested by the Badoglio regime and charged with high treason. Arrested with Gayda were Giovanni Ansaldo of Count Ciano's Il Telegrafo of Leghorn and the editors of Il Popolo di Roma and La Stampa, the broadcast said.)

Badoglio, in response to petitions asking assurances that liberal and democratic political ideals would prevail from now on, was reported to have promised an early declaration of a "positive nature."

AIR OFFENSIVE AIDED SICILIAN DRIVE

Seattle, July 29.—(C.P. Cable)—Air Commodore Viscount Stansgate, Director of British Air Ministry Public Relations, said yesterday the United Nations' struggle in the Mediterranean has been helped as much by hard blows in Germany as by actual battles in the theatre of operations. Incessant bombing of targets in Germany, he said in an interview, made it impossible for the Germans to go to Italy's aid.

Division led by Maj.-Gen. Guy Simonds is battling Northeastward toward the German Etna line.

Canadian troops have taken the town of Leonforte, 25 miles due South of San Stefano on the Tyrrhenian Sea which is the next major objective of the American 7th Army.

Speaking of the Canadian front, the communiqué said that "Heavy casualties have been inflicted on the enemy. Steady progress is being made. The town of Leonforte is now in our hands."

On the Northern, or American, front, the communiqué said that "the advance of the 7th Army continues and the towns of Pollina, Castelbuono and Gangi have been captured."

Aircraft subjected enemy defences and communications to heavy assaults yesterday and were credited with the destruction of at least thirty motor vehicles.

(The Italian high command said in a communiqué broadcast from Rome and recorded by the Associated Press that Allied pressure in Central and Northern sectors of Sicily had been renewed "more violently, with masses of planes in support." It described the fighting as bitter.)

Medium bombers hammered Regaluto, important tactical position at the center of the Axis line and held mainly along the battle zone and against enemy supply lines in Sicily. Ground forces were getting heavier air support.

Meanwhile a recapitulation of reports of the Rome radio said it was "one of the most successful of the war."

Towns and roads around the base of Mount Etna, near the East Coast North of Catania, received the heaviest fire from Allied fighters and fighter-bombers.

Hits were scored on an Axis merchantman at Riposto and barges and landing craft were bombed at Reggio Calabria, mainland city on the Strait of Messina.

(The Rome communiqué said Allied airmen raided the suburbs of Naples and localities in Salerno province, Southeast of that major port. It said the damage caused was slight and casualties were few." In all operations, the bulletin said, twelve Allied aircraft were shot down.

(German bombers were reported by the Italian communiqué to have damaged six Allied merchantmen totalling 29,000 tons during a night attack on Gela, Allied-occupied port of Southern Sicily.)

In a dispatch last night from the 8th Army's front, Alan Humphreys, Special Correspondent of Reuters News Agency, said that Canadian troops and wrested a mountain village from the German 15th armored division after a day and a night of hard fighting.

He continued: "Using a good deal of artillery support, the Canadians went in Tuesday morning in a narrow front. By late afternoon they had reached a point 600 yards from the village." Humphreys said the Canadians were standing up better than the Germans in the "searing temperature" and that the Germans who surrendered were "decidedly worn out."

Clifford Webb, London Daily Herald war correspondent said in a dispatch from "the Sicilian Battlefield" that Canadian and British troops combined to capture a mountain village. It was not immediately clear if he was referring to the same mountain village that Humphreys said had been taken by Canadians.

O God, Who art the author of peace and lover of concord, defend us Thy humble servants in all assaults of our enemies.

WILL ITALIAN PEACE COME AT ONCE?

At the same time that rumors and reports are sweeping the capitals—and other cities too—of the world of an Italian move to open peace negotiations within the next few hours, John Evans, former chief of the Associated Press Bureau in Rome, who is intimately acquainted with the personalities on whom the country's immediate future now depends, expresses the belief that the Italian Dove of Peace is likely to be shot if he does not stay under cover a while. He argues that it is too early for any but wishful thinkers to see the white flag flying over Rome and says common sense seems to support the proclamation of Marshal Pietro Badoglio that: "The war continues."

Admitting that there are rumors aplenty that peace is being discussed in the Vatican, that there may be "honorable terms," that Italy is out of the war and so on, certain plain facts remain: King Victor Emmanuel and Badoglio have declared that they will defend Italy, while to date the conquest of Sicily is far from completed. The Italian army, navy and air force has been ordered to resist in terms so definite that to seek peace immediately would put the King and Badoglio in a position of publicly pledging defence while secretly they sought to surrender. Finally, there probably are enough German troops in Italy or nearby to take over a good part of the country, especially that part the Germans regard it good strategy to defend.

This does not mean that the King and Badoglio do not see the end of the war coming. They have ousted Mussolini and probably have killed Fascism. But it would be logical for Italy to fight for a time, until the Germans get out and until it is demonstrated that Italy cannot or does not want to hold out.

However, Italians arriving in Madrid from Rome declare that Italy will continue the war on the side of the Axis only if the Reich gives adequate aid to the defence of Southern Italy against the threat of Allied invasion, and these reports continue that the Germans are seeking to convince Badoglio that they have abandoned a plan to retire behind the Po River and would fight with Italy in defence of Central and Southern Italy against any Allied thrust.

Turkey is projected dramatically into the role of possible mediator owing to a conference between the Turkish Foreign Minister, Numan Menemencioğlu, and Rafele Guariglia, Ambassador to Ankara, who has been named new Italian Foreign Minister. Guariglia is known to have Allied leanings and it is possible that he may be making the approach through Turkey which is distinctly favorable to Britain.

THE RUSSIANS START PLACES

The successes of the Canadian, British and American forces in Sicily and the internal developments in Italy tend to obscure the momentous developments which are now taking place along the Russian front and which may have as an important bearing on the outcome of the war as the imminent surrender of Italy. The Germans launched their much-heralded summer offensive. It was powerful enough but it was feeble as compared with their campaigns of 1941 and 1942 and it fizzled out within two weeks. Admittedly they gained a little ground but the Russian lines held substantially and the Soviets inflicted very heavy losses on their enemies.

Hardly had the momentum of the German drive been exhausted than the Russian launched a counter-offensive with their immediate objective being Orel which the Germans have turned into a mighty fortress and latest reports indicate that the Soviet forces are steadily closing in on their prize, the fall of which will endanger the entire German lines on the Southern Front, while the general prospects of the war are that the Germans will be forced upon the defensive for the remainder of the season at the very least.

In addition the Russians have vast reserves of men and equipment which can be used in the months of fine battle weather ahead and it is probable that any one of the many local counter-attacks they are making may develop into a full scale offensive. The relief of Leningrad might be an end in view, for the Nazis are uncomfortably close to the old Imperial capital and summer is likely to see some sharp fighting in that area.

Germany may be still strong and dangerous but Russia is proving one of those calamities which undermine even the strongest organism.

THE GOVERNMENT INDICTS ITSELF

It is doubtful if any more serious indictment of the manpower policies of the Federal Government could be made than that contained in a statement by Air Minister Power that "At the present time we are eating up our fat and not building up any reserve strength... We are seriously alarmed." Of course, in the best Parliamentary tradition, the Air Minister denied any "battle between the army authorities and those of the R.C.A.F.," over the right of the Air Force to a priority on manpower, but there has been such a battle and it has extended over a period of months. It is an accumulation of months of Government inaction in which the War Cabinet refused to deal with and settle the battle.

The Air Force officials in a frank document declare "that unless something is done to correct the manpower situation affecting enlistment or procurement of aircrew, the R.C.A.F. will be faced with a substantial curtailment of the entire training programme." In other words, the country which has long been the chief source of trained airmen for the United Nations will be faced with the progressive reduction of Initial Training Schools, Elementary Flying, Service Training, Wireless Navigation, Bombing and Gunnery Schools for the lack of trainees, the given date beyond which it will be impossible to maintain Air Training Schools at present capacity being the end of 1943.

As long ago as last fall, this shortage of Air Force manpower was foreseen and army authorities were asked to "comb the army for aircrew," but this was refused, despite the fact that the Air Force was lowering its educational standards and increasing its age limits. It was even remustering its own ground crews and administrative staff for flyers, but everything available from these quarters is insufficient to meet the commitments of the R.C.A.F.

A memorandum from R.C.A.F. officials draws attention to some fifty thousand "R" recruits or draftees who are said to be in "A" category and who are subject to very limited service, but apparently army and Government officials are unwilling to make any move to force these men into useful occupations.

SOLDIERS ON THE FARMS

The announcement of the Federal Government that plans have been completed for the releasing of a number of soldiers from army units across Canada to help in the harvest fields may bring about considerable easing of the critical farm labor situation now existing, but at the same time it provides a justification for the criticism that has been too often heard that thousands of young men are being kept in training camps and reserve formations who should be either on active service or returned to industry.

The maintenance of this huge pool of manpower which is accomplishing little of importance in the Canadian war effort is unjustifiable despite the half-hearted efforts of Defence Minister Balston and other Cabinet Ministers to defend it with the apology that it is not a reserve army but a home defence army. The substantial army is kept out of active service at the same time that the Minister for Air is appealing for an increase in enlistments for air crews in the Royal Canadian Air Force, which is so short of recruits at the present time that all reserves have been exhausted and the country may even have to curtail the project next Spring due to the reduction in the number of young men now available for air crew service.

At the same time, industrial plants are finding operations difficult owing to the lack of trained workers, while the farmers find it almost impossible to carry on under present labor conditions. The thousands of men now in training camps and reserve stations are being maintained at the expense of the taxpayer for no immediately apparent purpose. They are no good to themselves, to the defence services, to agriculture or to industry. An early change in the Government policy is essential if they are not to become a deadweight on the country.

POST-WAR WHEAT PRICES

To the Editor of the Record,

Dear Sir: Having a bit of spare time on my hands the other day, I decided to do a bit of research work on the following reference to the late Elmer Shaw, of Abernethy, Sask., who died on April 6, 1941, leaving an estate valued at $322,000, which latter fact induced your Ontario contemporary, Windsor Star, to comment: "... the point that will intrigue people of Ontario is the fact that a Saskatchewan farmer left an estate of $322,000. Stories of the poverty and hardship of the West have been plentiful. People have regarded audiences with reports that the West was ruined, people were starving and no one had anything..."

I will forward my "findings" just as soon as they come to my hand from the Abernethy district; but meanwhile it can be set down in forthright terms that "an estate of $322,000" has little relationship to agriculture as carried on by ninety-eight per cent of the farm folks in my own province of Saskatchewan, or indeed in any other province.

While writing, I would like to express one reader's approval of the assertion credited to Howard S. Ross, K. C., of Montreal, in a recent news item in your columns, in which the speaker advised the Rotarians in your city that there is to be better work to live in after the war, there must be an economic system adopted on an international scale which should be "fair for all."

As a wheat farmer I naturally am inclined to "measure" post-war plans in terms of permitting this raw material for "Our Daily Bread" to flow freely across international boundaries and into the ports around the seven seas. Among the things which the people will not be willing to go back to after the present struggle, I would include the fantastic speculative price-gratings for a bushel of wheat. Fortunately there is already being, as you know, the International Wheat Council, organized recently in Washington, which has the support of the governments primarily concerned, at both sides of this "world wheat" counter-sellers and buyers—and the old vicious game of playing-off one wheat country against another, eventually to the ruin of all, is, I think, Jack Canuck is one of the world's great traders and is, therefore, vitally concerned in conditions based on being "fair for all."

HOLIDAY PAY FOR WORKERS

L'Evenement-Journal. "An expert reports that holidays pay for workers in certain private industries in Canada and Europe and above all in the United States."

"For certain categories of labor, holidays were even obligatory, if they are not still. Since there is much talk at present of bettering the conditions of all classes of labor, has not the time come to give official recognition to this reasonable, not to say humanitarian, practice?"

"If a Government gives seasonal holidays to its servants and studies means to improve the lot of its electors, it should take the initiative and extend this benefit to the working men and women of the country."

PRESS COMMENTS

WHAT C.C.F. WOULD MEAN TO ONTARIO

Toronto Telegram

Some good, hard thinking between now and voting day is prescribed for electors who may be influenced by the C.C.F. promises of a Utopia in Ontario if they win sufficient seats in the legislature. No one ought to be deceived by the soothing syrup served up by E. B. Joffile, Agnes Macphail and the other C.C.F. candidates and propagandists. These people are not simply proposing a change in government for this banner province. They intend the overthrow of the whole private enterprise system and its replacement by an experiment that has never succeeded in a democratic country.

If anyone doubts the revolutionary temper of the C.C.F. he ought to read the statements made at a recent meeting in Danforth Technical School by Clarence Gillis, M.P., one of the foremost members of the federal party. Mr. Gillis is reported as stating that any man or woman who says he or she believes in the capitalist system is either a fool or a fakir. The same Mr. Gillis also declared that if Joffile, Brewin and other C.C.F. candidates are elected the citizens will not know Ontario in six months' time.

A C.C.F. victory at the polls might prove Gillis a successful prophet—but Ontario would pay the piper for it. Ontario citizens ought to be warned in time so that this province may be spared the cost, the controversy and the tribulation of a group of experimenting, amateur economists attempting to make over the business and social life of the community in war-time.

Does any sensible person think that it would be wise in the midst of war to launch Ontario into socialism? It is so unthinkable that it brands those who propose it as nothing more than irresponsible agitators. A great many who are now asking authority to run this province of 3,700,000 people with its great industries and undertakings, have never held public office before. How many of them have ever proven they can run their own affairs successfully? We do not know the answer to this question but we suggest that it is one with which the electors ought to concern themselves before they go to the polls.

To send the affairs of the province over to a bunch of amateurs is to invite trouble. Every vote that is cast for a C.C.F. candidate is a step in the direction of chaos.

A VACATION AT HOME

The Kiwanis Magazine. "Every one of us is entitled to some sort of a vacation, but why do we have to go some place to have it? How about a vacation right at home? With gasoline rationing, tire rationing, congestion of railway and air plane travel, there are patriotic reasons for staying at home and keeping out of the government's way."

How about staying home for a couple of weeks and finding out what attractive places our homes are?

Most of us get only a passing glimpse of our homes as we tear from bedroom to dining room on our way to work in the morning. In the evening, we leave the dining room to hide behind the newspaper in the living room, unless we go out to lodge or to the movies or to see a sick friend.

We keep our homes in our wives' names. We keep our gardens in our wives' names, also. It is high time we stayed home for a while and found out what we have been missing.

Is it exercise and fresh air you want? Any man can get as much exercise in his wife's victory garden as he can get mountain climbing or playing golf at a summer resort. Cutting the grass and pruning the hedges is a fine way to toughen up those flabby office muscles. Painting and carpentering will build up your appetite, and keep your house from falling apart during the war shortage of helpers.

Is it rest and relaxation you want? Try sleeping late in the morning in your own comfortable bed. Try taking a nap when you feel like having a nap. Try going to bed early and getting all the sleep you need, for a change. BANKRUPT OF LEADERSHIP

The Globe and Mail, Toronto.

Premier Harry Nixon's long-awaited first radio speech gave final proof of many things. One of them is that he has no programme; that he is putting himself in the rather ridiculous position of appealing for a return to power on the administrative record of former Premier Hepburn, who was thrown out of office because the Cabinet didn't want either him or his record.

The speech also showed a lack of confidence in the future of Ontario and its great potentialities. Mr. Nixon showed clearly that his offer of leadership is one of a peculiarly negative nature. It is quite obvious to the most casual observer that there must be a good deal of reconstruction in this Province. The pre-war days, with the depression, the neglect of youth, the unemployment, are not wanted. Yet Mr. Nixon offers no hope; nothing but outworn phrases about the wonders of an Administration that he would have nothing to do with; that he broke with.

Every one knows why Mr. Hepburn was thrown out by Mr. Nixon's group. It was because he insisted that the King Administration give Canada total war to meet the enemy's total war. But Mr. Hepburn did provide every possible assistance to the Federal authorities in the prosecution of the war by turning over various Provincial buildings, by offering everything that Ontario had. That was not what Mr. Nixon or his Ottawa masters wanted. But now Mr. Nixon would take credit for the very acts of assistance to the war effort made by Mr. Hepburn.

It is strange to hear talk of Provincial rights from Mr. Nixon. For he owes his very leadership, his assistance in the campaign, to the fact that he was chosen as the man best in his party to be at the back and call of the Ottawa political machine. It was on Provincial rights, we recall, that Mr. Nixon broke with Mr. Hepburn.

As far as Mr. Nixon's reference to this newspaper is concerned, we are quite willing to let the public assess his remarks for what they are worth. But in the course of elaborating The Globe and Mail Mr. Nixon made one thing very clear about Mr. Nixon's plan to have the Province relieve the home owner of fifty per cent of the burden of school taxes. It is that the man whose home is assessed at $3,000 will make a saving of at least $17.10. Mr. Nixon has done his best to assure the small home owner of the value of point nine in the Progressive Conservative Leader's 22-point programme of reform for Ontario. For that Mr. Nixon ought to be thankful. It is not often that a politician gives concrete evidence of the savings that a political opponent will bring about for the public.

It is not to be wondered that people are turning away from Mr. Nixon and his party. The tactics he is using, plus the complete bankruptcy of any leadership qualities he has shown, are giving the Province a true measure of his ability. One example of Mr. Nixon's tactics was shown in his attack on Mr. Drew for what he wrote about Russia years ago. For no one, no matter how expert, could then have foretold how Russia would stand up in war.

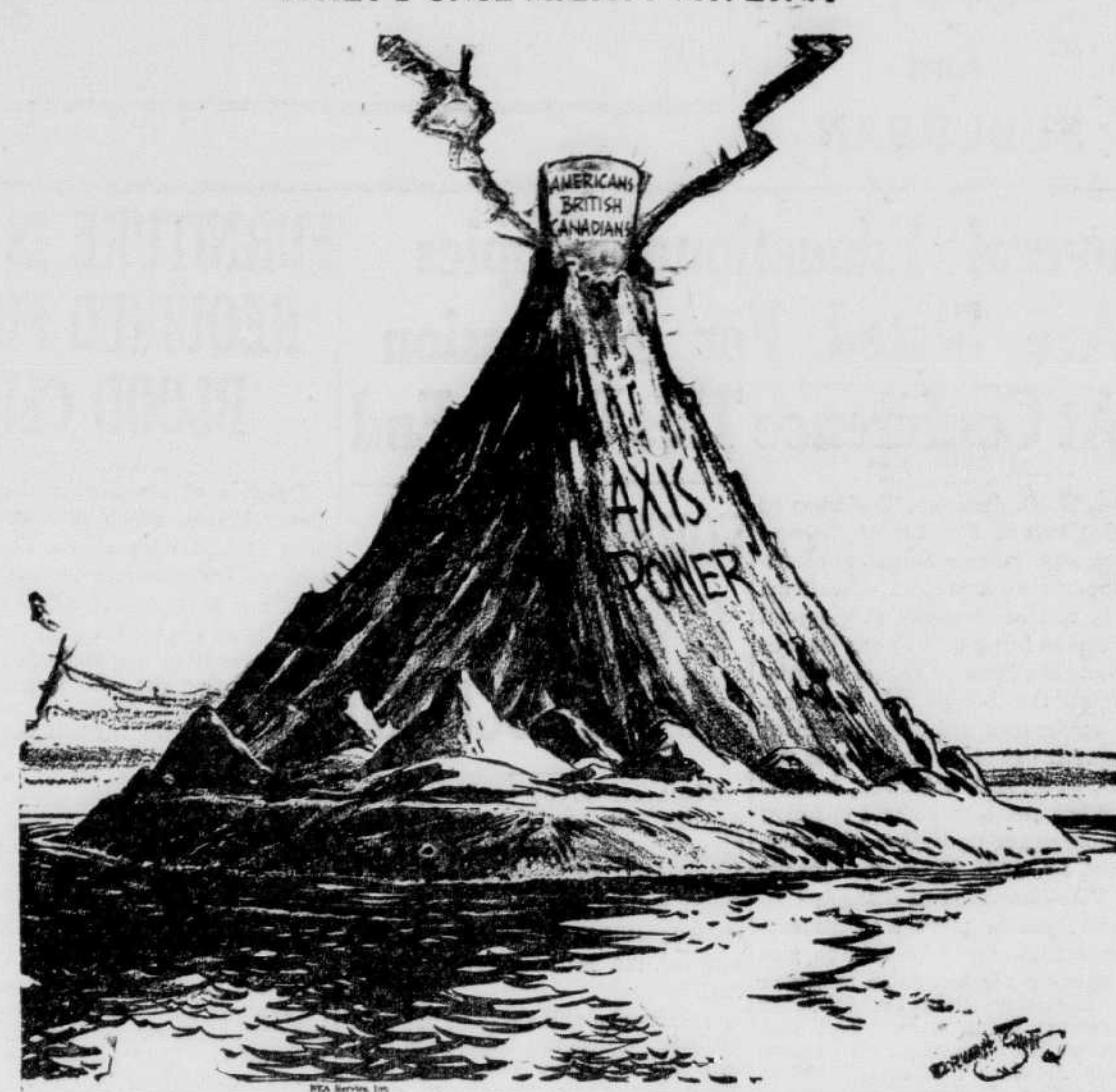

The Russians have proved themselves wonderful fighters. They have shown great courage on every front. But if Mr. Nixon is looking for strong words about the Russians from the past he can find them from a far greater authority. He will find that the most bitter words about Russia, about communism, were uttered by a man who, probably more than any other individual, has saved freedom for the world. Mr. Winston Churchill has been known as a strong opponent of communism. Would Mr. Nixon then suggest that Mr. Churchill be defeated for that reason?

Some politicians have a low opinion of the voters' intelligence. Mr. Nixon seems to be of that ilk.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority.

"WORTHLESS" HANDS

MUST BE WATCHED

A patriotic Russian living early in the 19th century made an attractive deck of educational playing cards. He divided the cards into four quarters with the suit and denomination shown by a miniature card in the upper right. In the other three corners he placed the coat-of-arms of a Russian province, the names of its principal towns and a figure wearing the typical costume of the region. Not a bad way to learn geography.

Now I hope that you will learn from today's hand to watch for your opportunity even on seemingly worthless hands.

South's opening bid was rather weak. On the first trick South covered dummy's ten of hearts with the jack. West won with the king and returned a heart. South won and returned a spade, dummy's queen winning. Declarer now finessed his ten of clubs. North won and played a diamond. Declarer won with the king and cashed the dia-

You Won't Mind Heat as Much
With Cool Head, Warm Stomach

ANN SAVAGE: Hot drinks keep her cool.

BY ALICIA HART

Desert tribesmen have a saying, "Keep your head cool and your stomach warm," and during these hot days it is an excellent maxim to keep in mind.

When the temperature is above 90 degrees iced drinks, cool salads and cold cuts seem much more palatable than hot food. But everyone needs at least one hot dish or drink during the day.

A cup of hot tea, says Ann Savage, soon to be seen in "Two Senoritas From Chicago," not only gives her a lift late in the afternoon but helps her combat heat, because the inner warmth it creates makes her skin feel cool by contrast.

And when out in the mid-day sun, Ann makes certain to wear a protective covering on her head—though it be nothing more than a scarf. Follow both of Ann's hot weather precautions and you'll have little to fear from heat prostration.

Learn to Weave and Make

Lovely Things

MAKE A BASKET

How useful your hands can be and how artistic if you train them! You could weave a strong useful basket as pictured above, or perhaps a lovely paste cloth for a gown, or maybe a smart rug.

Weaving is an art that has been considerably revived in recent years. Particularly since the war began, people are reverting back to making their own materials because of a scarcity of the finer wools on the market.

Fingers are rediscovering weaving as a pleasant and useful pastime. Not so many years ago it was a necessary skill in the home. With the development of industrial machinery the craft was taken from the home. Years have passed, and war, more than anything else, has brought it back to the home again.

If you want to learn how to weave, our 32-page booklet will help you greatly. It tells you what materials you need and then explains clearly how to weave various articles from rugs to baskets.

The booklet avoids the complex. It tells what can be done on the more advanced looms but it really gets down to cases with such simple looms as pieces of cardboard, embroidery hoops, breadboards.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "How to Weave Useful Novelties" to Sherbrooke Daily Record, Home Service, Sherbrooke, Quebec. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Now You Can Afford
Strong Ices Coffee

BY GAYNOR M. DDON

The recent increase in your coffee ration means you can now serve strong, clear, iced coffee during the August "dog days." But learn how to get the best iced coffee from your valuable supply.

There are two methods. The first is really the best, according to iced coffee epicures. Make your coffee double strength by your favorite method. Use 2 heaping tablespoons for each 8-ounce measuring cup of water. Fill tall glasses with ice; pour the freshly made hot coffee into the glass.

For the other method, make regular strength coffee, using 1 heaping tablespoon for every cup water. When done, pour into glass jar, cover and cool. Place in refrigerator. To serve, pour into tall glasses, half filled with ice.

To celebrate the increase in coffee supplies and the success of your victory garden, give a porch supper. With the iced coffee, serve a Mexican salad and crisp rolls.

BREAKFAST: Grapes, blueberry griddle cakes, sugar, butter, toast, coffee, milk.
LUNCH: Vegetable soup, soybean crackers, chopped tongue sandwiches, jelly sandwiches, whole apple, tea, milk.
DINNER: Cream of tomato soup in cups, whole wheat bread croutons, cold cuts, Mexican salad, warmed enriched hard rolls, butter, sliced peaches, nut cookies, iced coffee, milk.

Mexican Salad

(Serves 6)

One-quarter cup salad oil, 1 clove garlic, 1 cup diced bread, ½ cup diced celery or cucumber, ½ cup diced cooked potato, ½ cup finely chopped onion, ½ cup finely chopped carrot, 2 tablespoons minced sweet pepper, 1 cup cooked string beans, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon chili powder, 2 tablespoons vinegar.

Heat 1 tablespoon salad oil, add garlic, and cook the diced bread until light brown. Remove from heat, remove garlic, and add remaining oil and ingredients and mix well. Serve in large salad bowl with lettuce or watercress.

For a light porch supper, to be served with iced coffee, try a salad of greens combined with carrot sticks, turnip sticks, cauliflower buds and radishes, served with slices of whole wheat bread and butter.

Prisoner (after being sentenced to three months' imprisonment): "That settles it."

Magistrate: "Settles what?"

Prisoner: "I've been wondering whether to go to my mother's or my wife's mother for Christmas. Now I won't have to go to either."

F. A. SUTCLIFFE PAYS VISIT TO COATICOOK UNIT

Coaticook, July 29.—F. A. Sutcliffe, Regional Superintendent of the C.P.C., visited Coaticook to address the men of the C.P.C. and members of the Mobile Force. Mr. Sutcliffe told the members they had every reason to be proud of their association with the C.P.C. and that they had proved their value to their town in recent floods when C.P.C. pumps were kept in operation for fifty-two hours by C.P.C. men.

Elwood Wilson, Deputy Regional Superintendent, in charge of auxiliary fire work, also spoke to the men and urged them to keep on with their practices in fire-fighting, stressing the importance of this and all other C.P.C. training during peacetime as well as war.

A. J. Todd, First Aid Instructor, also addressed the Coaticook C.P.C. and plans will be made for Mr. Todd to go to Coaticook and instruct a class of men and women in first aid arrangements cannot be made.

Mr. Sutcliffe urged the men to re-remember that blackouts, even if somewhat of a nuisance, were elements in discipline which should not be overlooked. SWEETSBURG

Mrs. Henry Drennan, of Westmount, is spending two weeks at "Cardinal Place" with Mrs. B. W. Brock.

Mrs. M. A. Robinson, who is ill now, received calls and other congratulatory messages, including a telegram from her son, Mr. T. H. Robinson, of Three Rivers, on July 21, 1943, on the occasion of her eighty-first birthday. She was also the proud recipient of a nine-bladed Rival Lily (one stem) from the grounds of Christ Church (Anglican) Sweetsburg, grown by Mr. W. O. Shufelt. Mrs. Robinson took great pride in showing this Lily to all her neighbors.

Miss Deborah Wilson and her niece, Pte. Dorothy Wilson, of Arnprior, Ont., spent a day at Granby with Mrs. R. V. Nickerson.

Rev. Thomas R. Millman, of All Saints' Church, Dunham, conducted the service of Morning Prayer at Christ Church July 18 in an exchange of pulpits with Rev. J. O. Peacock. Speaking from St. Luke Rev. Mr. Millman gave an explanation from the revised translation of the canon of "spirit and plank" instead of the well-known phrase "Why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye and perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?" In daily life it is oftentimes evident that people lack tolerance and charity. The hands of rural life and ceremonies supplied by Mr. W. O. Shufelt from the church grounds for use on the altar at this service were given to sick or shut-in members of the congregation after the service.

Defeated Printers To Share Lead With Canadian Silk In Industrial Softball League

The victory which Pariseau took over the Printers of La Tribune in one of three regular Industrial Softball League fixtures played last night set them up in a first-place tie with the Canadian Silk who were turned back by Philip Carey. In the other fixture played last evening Notre Dame dealt out the twelfth straight defeat to Dominion Textile.

The Pariseau-La Tribune game went scoreless until the beginning of the sixth when Boisvert sacrificed with the bases loaded to bring in Theriault and Charest brought in a second run when he singled to center field.

Pariseau went to bat and immediately capitalized on errors made by the Printers to chalk up two runs. When the second run was brought in by the Pariseau squad La Tribune went into a discussion about its validity and Allard, who was on third, took advantage of the confusion and came in with the winning point.

The line-ups were as follows:

La Tribune: Courchesne, Boisvert, Charest, Lessard, Fortier, A. Lessard, Vallier, Guillemette, Poudrette, Theriault, Leblond and D. Lessard.

Pariseau: Leblanc, Senecal, Allard, Fortier, Veilleux, Dupont, Nutter, Renaud, Lamontagne and Breaud.

Philip Carey in Surprise Win

Philip Carey really came out with a surprise in last night's game when they took a 3-1 decision over the runners up for the league championship, the Pariseau team. The Carey men were sure of their win from the very beginning of the game when they scored their first run in the first inning and brought in the other two in the fourth. The Canadian Silk run came in in the fifth inning.

Corbell, the Carey pitcher, was the outstanding player for his team allowing only four hits during the seven innings of play. Bison, of the Canadian Silk, also pitched a good game allowing only five hits in the evening's performance.

Vannasse, of the Philip Carey team, was the heavy hitter of the Toronto, July 29.—An era in sport when every trick was good if it worked is recalled by Tommy (Hamilton Spectator) Moore's account of the rivalry between Toronto Argos and Toronto Rowing Club. Years ago, on the eve of a "grudge" match between the clubs, Joe Wright, Sr., sent his Argos eight over Toronto Bay in a dazzling time. Jim Rice, coaching the Rowing Club, asked Wright not to remove the markers. Wright consented and the next evening Rice's crew shaved 15 seconds off Argos' time over the 1-2-mile trial course. When the time came to bid for the big bullion, Rowing Club supporters got down everyting they had—but Argos won by two lengths. It developed afterwards that an impish Argos attack had shortened the trial course by 100 yards—under cover of darkness of course—just before Rowing Club took its trial spin.

INTERNATIONAL LEADERS SHOW NEW ADVANCES

By The Associated Press
Toronto and Newark, the International League's No. 1 and 2 teams, prepared for their week-end crucial series yesterday by shutting out their opponents, the Leafs needing eleven innings to blank the Jersey Giants, 1-0, and the Bears romping off with an easy 8-0 verdict over Buffalo.

Scoring in the Toronto-Jersey City game last night was at the absolute minimum for the first ten innings, but in the eleventh Jimmy Rippe found Ken Trinkle for a single. Lee Handley was walked and Catcher Dewey Williams doubled for the decisive run.

Newark had no trouble at all with Buffalo, whipping the Herd 8-0, scoring eight runs in the first three innings.

In the circuit's only other game, Montreal waited off with a 12-2 decision over Baltimore.

PLAY-OFFS TO START IN LOCAL LOOP ON SUNDAY

The Intermediate "A" Baseball League for Sherbrooke and district will begin the semi-finals at the Park Avenue Stadium this Sunday when last year's Provincial Champions, the Notre Dame team, will meet the Mount Pleasant Club, and the Boissonneault Chimney Sweeps will pit their strength against the East Ward team.

This decision was reached at a special meeting of the league executive held under the direction of the President, Henri Goulet, who called this emergency meeting, since a new ruling has come out obliging the semi-finals to be completed in all the districts by August 15 so that the provincial playdowns can be finished before the cold weather sets in.

As a result of this new ruling the members of the executive decided to admit all four teams to the play-offs.

It was previously decided that only three teams would take part in the play-offs and that they will play a two out of three and that the finals would result in a three out of five. Since the schedule is not completed and since all four teams had several more games to play, it was decided to have the second and last place teams and the first and third play-off in the semi-finals and have the winners meet in a three out of five or a four out of seven as the ruling from Montreal calls for. All games must be finished by the middle of the month, therefore, so that the finals can get underway. In the event of rain the games will have to be played during the week, but in any other case the semi-finals will be completed by holding doubleheaders every Sunday afternoon for the next three weeks.

NEW SCHEDULE DRAWN UP FOR SOFTBALL LOOP

At a special meeting held by the executive of the Industrial Softball League at Sherbrooke the schedule for the remainder of the season was revised and nine more games remain to be played before the playoffs begin.

Besides these regular nine games there remains the question of the games which were rained out or which were cancelled for other reasons. So far these games total four and Textile, Philip Carey, Canadian Silk and Notre Dame are all behind one game. This means that the schedule is knocked a little offside and until all the teams have played an equal number of games no exact standing or results can be obtained. The question that still faces the executive of the league therefore is whether or not these games should be squeezed in with the regular league fixtures on Monday and Thursday nights or whether they should be held over until the completion of the schedule for a general clean-up. The games probably would be more effective and more valuable to the teams if played right now since they would give the players a chance to rest before the play-offs and at the same time cut down on any tension and squabbles that might arise if played after the season had closed.

The following is the revised schedule as accepted by the executive of the league and the six clubs who are at present participating:

Mon. Aug. 2: Carey vs. Pariseau at Grand Seminaire; La Tribune vs. Textile at Racine; Notre Dame vs. Can. Silk at Dufresne Park.

Wed. Aug. 4: Pariseau vs. Textile at Racine; Notre Dame vs. Carey at Lennoxville.

Mon. Aug. 9: Can. Silk vs. La Tribune at Grand Seminaire; Textile vs. Notre Dame at Dufresne Park; La Tribune vs. Carey at Lennoxville; Can. Silk vs. Pariseau at Grand Seminaire.

Thurs. Aug. 12: Carey vs. Textile at Parade Grounds; Pariseau vs. Notre Dame at Parade Grounds; La Tribune vs. Can. Silk at Parade Grounds.

Mon. Aug. 16: Notre Dame vs. La Tribune at Grand Seminaire; Carey vs. Can. Silk at Dufresne Park.

Tues. Aug. 17: Textile vs. Pariseau at Dufresne Park.

Wed. Aug. 18: Pariseau vs. La Tribune at Grand Seminaire; Carey vs. Notre Dame at Racine.

Thurs. Aug. 19: Textile vs. Can. Silk at Dufresne Park.

The decision was reached that the first four teams will be listed for the play-offs and that the first and third and the second and fourth teams to finish will play off and that after that the winners will play for the championship.

Phoolish Phillies Proving Real Trouble For Brooklyn

By SID FEDER.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Before the whole thing gets out of hand, this is a plea to William D. (I used to play for Yale) Cox and his Phoolish Phillies to please leave Brooklyn with its Brooklyn accent. The way things have been going lately, what with the Dodgers dumped into third place in the National League yesterday, no one is even going to mind much if they move Coney Island out of Brooklyn's front yard down to Broad and Market in the City of Brotherly Love.

And last night, the Phils gave it the final humiliating touch by even borrowing the Bums' idea of a player strike, a stunt that took the play practically completely away from Baseball's War Relief Day which saw eight games produce an estimated $199,733.55, along with an appearance of Babe Ruth as manager and pinch-hitter.

Now, the resemblance between the Brooklyn rebellion of a couple of weeks ago and the Phils' uprising in St. Louis last night was only about the same as that between a hot-dog and a sirlon steak. They're just distantly related. The Dodgers showed over something to manager, Leo the Lip, had done. This time, the Phils—24 of 'em—signed a petition that they would strike unless Cox reinstated Harris as manager and gave him a chance to resign.

Faced with a walk-out of practically all his able-bodied hired hands, Cox apologized to Harris before the entire club for "an unfortunate incident." He told Bucky the dismissal "is not intended to reflect in any way on your ability as a baseball manager"—which left you wondering just what Bucky was fired for, then.

Anyway, his apology apparently satisfied one and all, because the Phils went out and made Fitzsimmons' debut as manager a merry one by clouting the Cardinals 6-4 to snap St. Louis' winning streak at eleven and climb back into sixth place themselves.

Pittsburgh Pirates climbed into second place by knocking off New York Giants 8-3. The Bums were clubbed twice by Chicago, 8-7 and 4-2. The Boston-Cincinnati night game was postponed.

After a four-run first inning, it was easy for Cleveland to whip the New York Yankees 6-2. Then the Tribe and Yanks combined under Ruth's managing to take an 11-5 whipping at the hands of the North Carolina Pre-Flight Cloudbusters, during which the Babe batted as a pinch-hitter and drew a walk.

The Tribe's victory, plus a double defeat for Detroit and Chicago's win over Washington left a three-way second-place tie in the American League among the Indians, White Sox and Tigers. Oscar Judd served up a five-hitter to give the Boston Red Sox a 4-1 opener decision over the Tigers and a four-run spree in the eighth left the Sox with a 6-4 nightcap triumph. In Washington, the White Sox sprayed 21 hits around the landscape for a 12-7 victory. St. Louis Browns belted the Athletics 5-1.

STADIUM GIVES REAL WELCOME TO BABE RUTH

New York, July 29.—(P)—Babe Ruth came back to Yankee Stadium yesterday afternoon, gave that familiar cry of "Hi-ya, keed," and proceeded to become a baseball manager. But after little more than six innings he was a tired ex-athlete looking for an aspirin.

Ruth managed the combined New York Yankee-Cleveland Indian squad that lost an 11-5 decision to the North Carolina pre-flight Clubbustlers in a contest that helped contribute an estimated $35,000 to baseball's war donations.

He trundled up to the plate as a pinch-hitter for Pitcher Roy Poole in the sixth frame and worked Jimmy Sain, former Boston Braves hurler, for a walk after lashing a vicious foul into the stands.

Shaking his head vigorously in opposition to the suggestion that he use a pinch runner, he puffed to second on Chris Hockett's single. There he saw the wisdom of the suggestion and motioned Tuck Stainback from the bench to carry the tally home.

The steel in a pair of old roller skates would make two U.S. Army helmets.

Get out of the rut..

Get into the fight!

MAYBE you're making bombs or tanks or plane parts or ships—but the real job, the big job today is delivering the stuff right into the heart of enemy country. No job is more essential today than sweeping enemy planes from the skies; than blasting half-made U-boats back into scrap metal.

If you're a fit, young Canadian eager to do your bit, there's a place for you in aircrew. There are fast training planes and skilled instructors waiting to help you get wings and get into the fight more quickly than ever before.

And the specialized training you get today as a member of an R.C.A.F. Aircrew will help you take your place in the skyways of tomorrow.

Make up your mind to get into the fight now. See your nearest R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centre today.

If you are physically fit, mentally alert, over 17½ and not yet 35, you are eligible for aircrew training. You do not require a High School Education. You can be in uniform at once!

CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE

FROM THE PEN OF E. T. WRITERS

WHAT THEY SAID AT PARTING

BOY:
"Goodbye, Mommy dear," said the soldier boy,
"We're going Overseas to fight;
Going to learn how to kill and destroy
The tyrant's detestable might.
So you must smile and be a brave old girl
Till we come back to hear you cheer
When we have licked the Huns and made them curl
On quaking knees, in shame and fear.

We'll learn to kill and sow destruction's seeds,
But there's a knot we cannot rent,
That fetters men to strange, fantastic creeds
That nullifies their high intent.
I may be wrong, but just for power seems
The only aim of Leader man;
In peace, in war, in his religious dreams
Compelling power is his plan.

We must forget the good things you have taught,
We must forget "Thou shalt not kill";
Forget the love and peace mankind has sought
Is but a hazy phantom still.
But we must not forget that Justice cries
For Duty to comply with need;
As Duty's sons we must in valor rise
And quench oppression's godless breed."

MOTHER:
"There is no creed that may not be dissolved,
That may not be improved in mode,
For each one that we have been born, evolved
From our ancestors' ancient code;
The fact that all things suffer ceaseless change,
That trees and grasses come, and die,
Is all the proof that nothing strange
Attends the forces passing by.

The moths of Time may fret our lives away
And useful souls fade out unsung,
But youth and strength must carry on this fray
Until the bells of Fate have rung
A requiem far fit for the human brute
Who made quick exit from the scene
Where once his war-cries rang, but now are mute,
Subdued behind Death's silent screen."

Mr. George M. Franck, Travelling Secretary for the Bible Society, gave his annual address in the United Church at Bolton Centre to an unusually large audience, which listened with deep interest to his address on "Rebuilding the Holy Land," which was illustrated by beautiful colored lantern slides of the land of Palestine.

WAR TIME BUS TRAVEL ADVICE

DON'T TRAVEL ANYWHERE, ANYTIME

—Unless It Is Absolutely Necessary!

Buses and bus drivers have war jobs to do, supplying essential service to war industries and the armed forces. Please don't travel, unless you have to.

DON'T TRAVEL AT WEEK-ENDS

If it is absolutely necessary for you to go somewhere, please do not go or return on Saturday or Sunday, unless it is quite impossible for you to travel at any other time.

Above all, do not wait for the last bus on a Saturday or Sunday evening. Members of the active forces, men and women, must have first call on all available bus services for week-end leaves. There may not be accommodation for you.

START VACATIONS IN MID-WEEK

Perhaps you are going home to spend vacation doing Farm Commando work, or you may have some other genuine reason for requiring holiday transportation.

Please remember that, even if there were plenty of rubber and gasoline for civilian travel, there are not enough buses and there are not enough drivers, to serve all those who prefer to start their vacations at week-ends.

Plan yours to begin on any mid-week day, Monday to Thursday.

From now until Victory, the United Nations will need every ounce of rubber and of gasoline. Only ESSENTIAL travel should be undertaken in Wartime.
