Egypt OK's Meeting With West

LONDON — (P) — Egypt today agreed to listen to the West's proposals for international control of the Suez Canal but President Nasser made clear that he was not committing his government to accept them.

Nasser was reported standing firm in his determination to keep sole control of the canal in Egyptian hands.

The Egyptian ambassador delivered Nasser's reply to Prime Minister Menzies of Australia, head of the five-power group which had asked the Egyptian president to let them bring him the results of the recent Suez conference in London.

Nasser's answer said:

"I wish to acknowledge receipt of your message dated 24th August, 1956, in which you informed me of the request of a committee under your chairmanship consisting of representatives of the governments of Australia, Ethiopia, Iran, Sweden and the United States to meet me, place before me and explain the views of the governments mentioned in your message concerning the Suez Canal.

"I agree to the proposed meeting as requested by the committee."

LONDON. — (P) — Warsaw radio said Monday night that a fire in a coal mine at Chorzow killed 29 Polish miners.

The broadcast said the fire broke out in the mine two days ago and that poison gas killed the miners. It added that work in the mines was resumed today.

Chorzow is a city of 100,000 in the former German province of Upper Silesia. Poland took over the area after the Second World War.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska. — (P) — Eight men parachuted from a crippled KC97 Stratotanker over Cook Inlet Monday, and seven of them still were unaccounted for several hours later.

After the bail-out, Capt. Alva L. Wilkerson succeeded in landing the big plane safely at Elmendorf air force base.

The co-pilot, one of those who jumped, was found about 14 miles from Anchorage. He was taken to a hospital but his injuries were described as not serious.

SYDNEY. — (Reuters) — An Australian polar expert says the Antarctic is the place for persons who want to dodge colds or influenza. Philip Law, director of the external affairs department's Antarctic division told a meeting here: "A person would not even catch cold if he had a hot bath and went walking in the snow straight after. You would go blue and shiver for a while, then you would warm up again."

ALGIERS, Algeria. — (Reuters) — One person was reported killed and three others injured Monday night when a grenade was thrown into an Algiers cafe. Fifteen insurgents were killed when French troops clashed with a "large band" in the Nementha mountains, eastern Algeria, according to reports reaching Constantine Monday night. Fourteen other insurgents were killed in another battle in the same region.

HONG KONG. — (Reuters) — Dr. Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, has spent nine days in Urumchi, capital of Communist China's mid-eastern province of Sinkiang, adjoining Tibet, Peiping radio announced. It said he left by air Sunday for Kiuchan in northwest China.

"I'm Lost" — This blue-eyed little blonde just won't listen to the comforting words of George Masse, director of the Molson Emergency Unit. British Hold Cypriot Mayor NICOSIA, Cyprus. — (P) — The Greek Cypriot mayor of this Mediterranean island capital was placed under house arrest today while British police and troops combed his home and office. The sudden raid coincided with the end of an 11-day truce with the EOKA movement in the Cyprus uprising.

Authorities said they were investigating Dr. Themistokles Dervis, an outspoken advocate of the movement to unite Cyprus with Greece, "as a result of information received." They declined to amplify this statement.

The authorities concentrated their search at the mayor's office in the town hall after a room-by-room inspection of his luxurious villa failed to turn up anything incriminating.

There was no indication whether the search was linked with the expiration of the EOKA truce, but it was believed to have stemmed from information contained in captured EOKA documents made public by British authorities Monday.

EOKA is the underground fighting wing of the movement to make Cyprus a political part of Greece. British authorities said the seized documents established that the EOKA leader, whom they have identified as a former Greek army colonel named George Grivas, was acting under the personal direction of Archbishop Makarios, exiled Greek Orthodox prelate of Cyprus.

Britain sent the archbishop to the remote Seychelle Islands last March. Greek Cypriot leaders room inspection of his luxurious villa failed to turn up anything incriminating.

Some five hours later, after writing several letters explaining his action, the father killed himself with the same pearl-handled pistol he had used on his son, police said.

A peasant woman found the bodies in a lonely lane early Sunday.

15 Others Are Injured In Apartment Explosion

MONTREAL — (P) — Eight people were reported missing or dead and 15 others injured today shortly after an explosion rocked a residential area in suburban Ville la Salle.

A Quebec hydro spokesman said the death toll was given to him as being between "five and eight persons."

He said the explosion was apparently caused by gas which escaped after a construction crew accidentally cut a gas main on Avenue des Oblats in the suburb.

Eye-witnesses said the explosion ripped apart a 16-family apartment building in a section known as Lasalle Heights. The blast occurred at approximately 8:15 a.m.

Mrs. Alex Wyatt who lives next to the scene said she was in the bathroom washing when a "terrific explosion" shook her house.

"I could hear women and children screaming," she said in an interview, "but I didn't see anyone coming out of the building. My husband tried to call the fire department but the telephone line had been torn down by the blast.

Real Belec, company police chief for a distillery said he thought a bulldozer at work in a field plowed through a gas main.

Quebec hydro emergency crews were rushed to the scene to stop the flow of burning gas escaping from the broken main.

The building where the explosion occurred was a five-storey structure. Witnesses said the entire front wall was blown into the street.

The exact number of fatalities could not be ascertained immediately due to confusion in the area.

The first call to the morgue asked that a vehicle be sent to the scene to collect the bodies of two victims.

15 Negroes Admitted To Tenn. School

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (P) — A state-supported high school in Tennessee admitted Negroes Monday for the first time in the state's history.

Negro students reported for classes at the Clinton, Tenn., high school as police stood by to prevent trouble. Fifteen Negroes were enrolled to attend classes with 750 white students in compliance with an order issued last winter in U.S. district court.

At the same time the Virginia general assembly was handed a program aimed at giving citizens the choice of continued racial separation in schools or no state-supported schools at all.

A similar program designed to preserve school segregation goes before voters in Alabama today.

In Tallahassee, Fla., the protest of Negroes against segregated seating on public buses brought the arrest of Rev. C. K. Steele, president of the Inter-City Council which is sponsoring a boycott of Tallahassee buses.

The minister was charged with operating a Negro car pool automobile without a "for hire" tag. A plea by John Kasper of Washington, D.C., that parents picket the school in protest brought his arrest on charges of inciting to riot and vagrancy. He was jailed under bond of $5,000.

2 Britons Arrested, Charged As Spies; Expel 3 Newsmen

CAIRO — (P) — Egypt's sudden arrest of two Britons as spies threw new fuel today on the smouldering dispute already threatening to burst into flame over the Suez Canal seizure.

Security police charged that the Britons and an Egyptian associate masterminded a spy network for British intelligence. The police said the ringleaders incriminated four other Egyptians and that "others may be implicated."

The arrests added to tension stirred up by President Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal Co., and seem certain to increase sentiment in Britain for a tough policy toward Egypt — possibly including the use of military force.

Held at the heavily guarded interior ministry were James Swinburn, business manager of the British-owned Arab News Agency in Cairo; Charles Pittuck, an official of the Marconi Radio-Telegraph Co. of Egypt; and El Sayed Amin Mahmud, the Egyptian.

Police seized the three at Swinburn's Cairo home Monday. Col. Abdel Kader Hatem, Egypt's director of information, said:

"Two years ago Egyptian authorities learned of the existence of a dangerous espionage ring which worked for British intelligence and supplied it with information regarding Egyptian armed forces and activities of various Egyptian political bodies."

"Through close and continuous observation the Egyptian security department finally was able to secure documents which proved members of this ring were conspiring against the security and safety of this country."

The espionage arrests followed closely behind the expulsion of two British newspaper correspondents and a Canadian reporter, William Stevenson of the Toronto Star.

The writers were approached Sunday and ordered to leave the country within 24 hours. An Egyptian statement Monday night said they had been expelled for having "propagated falsehoods and lies, and did not adhere to honest or objective reporting, aiming by doing so at misleading world public opinion."

Stevenson said in a dispatch to his paper that his ouster had followed an interview he had with the British minister in Cairo.

The British minister in Cairo said he had no comment on the expulsions.

Massey Continues Gaspé Tour

STE. ANNE-des-MONTS, Que. — (P) — Governor-General Massey today continued his tour of the picturesque Gaspé Peninsula, dotted with fishing communities and steeped in proud traditions.

Official receptions were arranged for the vice-regal visitor at Mont Louis and Rivière du Renard and a picnic was planned at a sheltered spot along the rugged Gaspé coastline.

Mr. Massey was to arrive at the town of Gaspé by car late today, ending the first half of his 500-mile tour which began Monday with his arrival at Mont Joli. The tour ends Friday.

The governor-general spent the night at a hotel in the mountainous provincial park near Ste. Anne-des-Monts following a busy round of civic receptions at Mont Joli, Matane, Cap Chat and in this town on the northern coast of the Gaspé Peninsula.

Each small town and village visited by Mr. Massey arranged simple but friendly welcomes at parish halls, school houses and municipal parks.

Mr. Massey got to know better the customs and traditions of the residents of the peninsula and delivered numerous addresses in French.

The governor-general said the Gaspé mountains held an abundant reserve of zinc, iron and lead. He told the residents of Matane that their community had made enormous progress since the first colonists settled in the region in 1795.

From the town of Gaspé, the governor-general will travel by special train to the remainder of the 13 communities on his itinerary.

Let's Form A Club

Book clubs for teenagers are thriving in the United States. Thousands of young television and comic book addicts, who previously read nothing outside the classroom, are now buying pocket books every month. What's more, they're reading them, too.

Some people think this is a good sign, but is it really? Is reading now such a quaint, archaic pastime that people must gather in clubs to keep it alive?

It would be sad to see reading fall into the same category as croquet, philately, snailcatching and collecting cigar-bands. Not that there is anything wrong with these hobbies, or most hobbies for that matter.

Every man to his own hobby. At one stage or another, almost every youngster collects things. A child's bedroom wall may be well lined with valuable gum-wrappers, glued to the wall by small wads of gum. Nor is it usually stark tragedy when the young man returns home after several years absence to find that his parents have taken the opportunity to sweep the entire collection into the trash can.

Earlier, this would have been condemned as the greatest act of vandalism since the Moslems burned the library at Alexandria.

But that's how it goes. A man gains independence and loses a collection of gum wrappers.

So much for gum wrappers. The point is that collecting gum wrappers is not a hobby for the masses. There is nothing difficult about the pastime; it just wouldn't catch the public fancy, that's all. The same goes for building model windmills from toothpicks. Both are minority pursuits.

But no more than that there should be toothpick architecture clubs and gum wrapper clubs, should there be reading clubs. It's almost like starting a breathing club. Everyone goes in for breathing, so there is no need to seek out kindred spirits who share this same interest.

It used to be, too, that everybody went in for reading. But now, though book and newspaper circulation figures are all rising, perhaps fewer and fewer people are reading more and more. A day may come when people who read are looked upon as a trifle eccentric.

More Dog-Bites

Interest in the relations of dogs to postmen, and vice versa, apparently has never been at a higher pitch. Just about every newspaper in Canada has editorialized on the subject, though there is no record to show whether all this talk has saved even one single postman from being bitten.

Now along comes the Industrial Accident Prevention Association of Canada with a set of eight rules. We'll spare you the facetious comments that could follow each rule and let you spend many a merry evening figuring out some for yourselves.

Unadulterated, here are the eight rules:

1. Always let a dog know you are approaching by not being too quiet.
2. Growls or barks are a challenge; accept them as such and show no alarm.

3. Sudden or unexpected moves are likely to be misunderstood by a dog.

4. Speak to strange dogs in a confident, friendly voice, not sharply or scoldingly.

5. Always allow a dog to approach and let his nose aid him in forming his impressions. (This one has all kinds of possibilities!)
6. A dog should not be touched unless you have met him often enough to establish a friendship.

7. Make all your movements natural; do nothing that might frighten him.

8. A dog should be given the impression that your visit is perfectly proper.

"Ranch-Style" Schools

Perhaps there's a good reason that escapes us, but the modern trend toward one-storey schools leaves us just a little cold.

Builders have always professed that it was less expensive to build up than out. Why then, in this day of need for great extension of our school facilities, are these great sprawling structures being built?

Certainly, they're beautiful. Nobody will deny that. And all things being equal, if there was plenty of accommodation for all our children, we would be the first to say "More power to them. Give them the best and most pleasant surrounding possible."

But such is not the case. Space in our schools is at a premium, but still we build "ranch-style". One of these days the impression is going to be widespread that there is no other way to build a school.

It would certainly be nice just for a change to see under construction a school that looked like a school — one that had two-storeys — and know that there was going to be enough room for everybody.

It has been the sad experience that some of these "ranchies" are overcrowded before they are even completed.

This And That...

Ruth Millett, writing on the women's page of the Record yesterday, wonders why more women don't smile more. She lists occasions when a smile could make living easier. It's a good list, one which could be scanned profitably by the menfolk too.

Out in Vancouver, a man charged with possessing narcotics was sentenced to three years and snapped at the judge: "You don't want to help anyone. I'll be back in this court at the end of that time."

It might be true that the judge wasn't "helping" this particular man, but he was certainly helping a lot of other people, who might have been harmed, directly or indirectly, by this man's freedom.

Those 'Inexhaustible' Resources

(Winnipeg Tribune)

AFTER-DINNER speakers and other exuberant persons are ready at the drop of the gavel to refer glowingly to Canada's "inexhaustible" resources. This sort of oratory is more poetry than prose.

The Dominion is richly endowed with natural resources. Some of them, if managed properly, are "inexhaustible". The nation's forests, adequately cared for, can yield an annual harvest indefinitely as can the soil and rivers and lakes.

But other resources—oil, gas, minerals—are exhaustible even if there seems to be no end to reserves at present. The current issue of Industry com-

"Had any Englishman of 1906 forecast that well within 50 years Britain would be so desperately short of coal she would be importing it in large quantities and at great cost he would have been laughed at. Had any American as recently as 1920 predicted that in 30 years the U.S. would need to import not only iron ore but lead, zinc and petroleum as well, he would have been similarly ridiculed. Yet such are the facts today. They should cause Canadians 'furiously to think.'"

There are those who think, and the present administration at Ottawa seems to be among them, that this nation should be content to fill the role of supplier of raw materials to more industrialized nations. They ignore the fact that Canada's total exports, raw materials included, are insufficient to pay for our imports. Yet 75 percent of these imports are fully manufactured goods. In many cases, Canadian raw materials are coming back to this country in the form of finished goods.

Why the Ottawa Government should brand as protectionists those who advocate processing more of Canada's raw materials by Canadians in the Dominion is beyond understanding.

SOUTH TRADES LOSERS TO WIN

Today's hand, used in a contest in England, illustrates a principle of play that few recognize at the table. When a ruff is dangerous in one suit, look for a way to transfer it to a safer suit.

West opens the king of diamonds, and South wins with the ace. It seems at first glance that South must establish his clubs by ruffing, and that he must eventually give up a heart trick. Appearances are, however, deceptive.

South should begin by cashing the top clubs, and he should next ruff a low club with dummy's jack of trumps. If the missing clubs break 3-3, South can continue by drawing trumps and can eventually give up a heart trick.

When East fails to follow suit on the third round of clubs, South must realize that his next club may very well be overruffed. If South gets back to his hand and ruffs another club in the dummy, East will overruff, and South will eventually lose a heart trick as well.

South's correct play is to return to his hand with the ace of hearts and lead another club. Instead of ruffing in the dummy, however, declarer must discard the remaining heart from the dummy!

Now nothing can prevent

JOB FOR MR. HOWE

(Ottawa Citizen)

Now that the light has dawned on him, may we suggest to Mr. Howe — who is a determined man when he gets his teeth into something — that the greatest contribution he could make to the future of his country would be to go through the government from stem to gudgeon ferreting out cases in which $3.50 is being spent to do a two-bit job?

We suspect there are quite a few.

'BALDIES' TO BE INSUFFERABLE

(Detroit Free Press)

Bald and balding men have now been flattered to the point where they are probably going to be insufferable. Dr. M. Wharton Young, an anatomy professor at Howard University, has told the National Medical Association that baldness is caused by growth of the brain. It's a long chain of actions and reactions, but the upshot is that if you've kept your hair it's because your brain hasn't been growing.

This comes pretty close to saying a man who hasn't at least started to go bald has a case of arrested mental development. Anybody who still has a scalp that is likely to be incensed about this, and want to see Dr. Young get his comeuppance. Be patient. He will just wait till the day the ladies ambush him. Dr. Young also said that the reason most women escape baldness is that they have smaller brains than men to begin with, and they don't grow very fast anyway.

THE MICS AND THE MACS.

(Ottawa Journal)

One of our reporters has just run foul of a Scotsman. The trouble lies in the various ways the Mc's and the Mac's spell their names. Most prominent offenders in this respect are those of the Macdonald clan who spell their names in at least six different ways such as MacDonald, McDonald, Macdonnell, MacDonnell, McDonnell and so forth.

There is one prominent Ottawa family which gave its name to one of the Centre Town streets that engendered a regular family feud over nomenclature. One brother insisted that the portion of the name following the "Mac" should begin with a small letter and another was equally forceful in his claim that only a capital letter could be used. It might be good idea (and certainly a boon to reporters) at some forthcoming Gaelic

"Mod" (whatever this ceremony may be) for the Mc's and the Mac's to get together and devise some standard form of spelling for their name. That is, of course, if such a conference could be held without slashing each other with clay-

Mayor Ends Interest In Beach Issue

Mayor Nadeau will accept no more responsibility concerning the swimming at the Esplanade beach he told the Aldermen last evening. The question was brought up last week, in the Mayor's absence, after it was found that the beach had been opened to swimming, despite a report from Provincial Health officials that the water was too contaminated to swim in.

It was disclosed at that time that Mayor Nadeau was the person who ordered the beach open and certain aldermen claimed that he had gone over their heads and had also overruled the health officials by ordering the beach open.

Last night the mayor brought the subject up again declaring the council had passed no resolution ordering the beach closed. Furthermore he read letters received from Health Unit authorities who traced the contaminated water at the beach to a broken sewer pipe. Mayor Nadeau pointed out that that was the sole reason why the beach was declared unsafe for swimming. Now the sewer had been repaired, and the Mayor saw no reason why the beach should not be opened to the public.

A telegram received from the chief health engineer of the Province said nothing, declared the mayor. The telegram, read at a Council meeting last week, said the beach was unsafe for swimming, because tests taken of the water on Aug. 6 showed bad results. The mayor told council it was ridiculous to close the beach now when the last test was taken more than three weeks ago.

Ald. Tony Pinard, chairman of the Parks committee, said he would not take any responsibility for the opening of the beach until Quebec officials had been consulted again. It was here that Mayor Nadeau said he would have nothing more to do with the beach if Quebec health authorities were consulted.

Ald. Nicol said it was not only Esplanade beach that was contaminated. He asked why Jacques Cartier park was not placed on the blacklist, as it was just a short distance from the Esplanade beach.

BLUEBERRY PANCAKES
Sift together 1 cup flour and 5 tablespoons confectioner's sugar. Stir in 1 cup milk, stirring until perfectly smooth. In a deep bowl beat 3 eggs until light and foamy. Add 1/4 teaspoon salt and fold through eggs. Carefully fold the eggs through flour mixture. Don't beat. Add a little grated orange rind and 1 tea spoon lemon juice or orange juice.

Fry on hot lightly buttered griddle, pouring only about 2 tablespoons batter onto griddle. Cakes should be paper thin and spread all over surface of griddle. Fry gently until crisp and just soft enough to roll.

Mash 1 cup blueberries and add sugar to taste, then add whole berries. Brush pancakes with melted butter and fill with blueberries. Roll, fasten with picks. Dust with confectioner's sugar and serve hot.

BLUEBERRY CREAM PIE
Using a pastry mix or your own favorite pastry recipe, make a nine-inch pie shell, building it up to a high edge, with a nice even fluting. When it is cold fill half full with vanilla pudding mix. Place in refrigerator until set.

Mash 1 cup blueberries in 1 cup water and cook gently for 10 minutes. Run through a sieve and add 1 cup sugar to this liquid. Heat to dissolve and bring to boiling point. Stir into it 1 tablespoon gelatin, which has been soaked in 2 tablespoons cold water. Add 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice, and, when juice is cold, add 2 cups big fresh blueberries. Place in refrigerator until thick, only. Now pour over the pudding in the pie shell and top with the choicest big blueberries. Keep in refrigerator until ready to serve.

Fry on hot lightly buttered griddle, pouring only about 2 tablespoons batter onto griddle. Cakes should be paper thin and spread all over surface of griddle. Fry gently until crisp and just soft enough to roll.

Mash 1 cup blueberries and add sugar to taste, then add whole berries. Brush pancakes with melted butter and fill with blueberries. Roll, fasten with picks. Dust with confectioner's sugar and serve hot.

Before Buying Rainwear, Check For Cleaning

Whether it's for Johnny's return to school, or for your own use, the purchase of a new rainwear garment should not be made too casually, cautions the Canadian Research Institute of Launderers and Cleaners.

Raincoats, just like other garments, can become soiled in appearance and must be cleaned periodically. Therefore the first thing to check before buying is whether the fabric can be dry cleaned. Make sure also that the dyestuff in the raincoat is color-fast to dry cleaning as well as water.

Have a look at the way the garment is made. Are the seams sewn? If not, it may be that they are held together by an adhesive—and the adhesive may be soluble in dry cleaning solvent.

A fabric that is closely and firmly woven can usually be counted on for good service. And it's preferable that the fabric be pre-shrunk. There is a certain amount of moisture present in dry cleaning and in some cases the cleaner may have to wetclean the garment in order to remove dirt and soil. If the fabric isn't pre-shrunk, you run the risk that it will be returned smaller in size.

If your raincoat happens to be one with a water repellent finish, there's a strong possibility that this finish will be removed in dry cleaning. However, many dry cleaners are able to restore this finish, if requested. Consult your cleaner about this service.

Teachers' Comments Hold Lesson For Parents, Pupils

By RUTH MILLETT
"The thing that amazed me," said a school teacher who took on a selling job during the summer months, "was how much more courteously I was treated as a saleswoman than as a teacher."

That remark came from a woman who has for years been the very finest kind of high school teacher. She has been interested in her students individually, their problems and their futures as well as their schoolwork.

No wonder there is a teacher shortage. If a woman of character, patience and real teaching ability is treated better by potential customers to whom she is trying to sell an article than by many of the teenagers to whom she is trying to "sell" a free education, at least some of the blame for the teacher shortage can be laid at the feet of parents.

For unless parents have respect for their children's teachers and back up the teachers who try to maintain discipline, instill knowledge and teach good work habits, the kids are sure to grow into the kind of unmanageable, disrespectful, troublemaking adolescents who make high school teaching today the hard job that it is.

Another ex-teacher who, though married, had tried substitute teaching for a few months, added her own bit to what the other teacher had said.

"I made up my mind after a few months of substitute teaching that I'd scrub floors before I substituted again. No matter how rude high schoolers are to their regular teachers, they are even worse to a substitute."

Stanstead Meeting

Fine Address On Townships And New England

STANSTEAD — The Red Brick Schoolhouse in North Stanstead, a historic building over 113 years old, was the scene of the annual meeting of the Stanstead County Historical Society, when the president, Senator John T. Hackett, Q. C., presided at the wooden desk.

The principal speaker was Dr. S. Mason Wade, director of Canadian Studies and associate professor of history at the University of Rochester, New York, who has recently published a book, "The French Canadians, 1760-1945."

Dr. Wade, who spoke on "The Townships and New England," said that in 1940 he set out to explore and understand Quebec, thinking of it as a foreign land, but soon felt quite at home amid the beauty of the Township's hills and valleys.

He also found that people in the Townships often bore names long familiar in New Hampshire and Vermont and learned that their forebears had pushed northward across the border, lured by richer land, seeded with fewer rocks.

The region was long an empty land, for no Indians had settled here, although the Abenakis of St. Francis and the Caughnawaga Indians hunted here in the 18th century, and were found frequently on the banks of the Massawippi when the first settlers appeared in 1793. These first settlers were Americans, for the small French population, before the Conquest had confined itself to the borders of the St. Lawrence, the Chaudière, the Richelieu and Lake Champlain.

Fearful of the unrest growing in New England after 1760, the new English rulers of Canada did not encourage migration from the American colonies, while, after the American Revolution, Governor Haldimand wished to keep a forest barrier between New England and Quebec.

Before the end of the American Revolution squatters from New England and New York began to seep into the Southern part of the Townships. There were small groups as early as 1783.

Ebenezer Hovey of Vermont, a U. E. Loyalist established himself on the shores of Lake Memphremagog, near Magog, and was joined the following year by seven other Vermonters. In 1796, one Taplin established himself in

Mr. Raymond Thibodeau and Mr. Don Pankovitch were week-end guests at the same home. Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weir included Mr. W. N. Lodge and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lodge, Mr. Alcides Roux, Mr. Gimard and Mr. George Crosbie, all of Danville.

Mrs. Reiny Butt, of Cornwall, Ontario, is spending some time at the home of Mrs. Cecil Ainsworth, having been called here by the sudden death of her brother, Mr. Cecil Ainsworth.

Stanstead Plain, and some Bartlett from Vermont settled in Barnston, where they were soon joined by some Baldwins from Connecticut.

By 1797 the number of Americans who had moved into the Townships along the frontier was estimated to be about 2,000. By 1805 it had doubled. Isaac Ogden, a New England Loyalist, came to Canada in 1784 and obtained jointly with Col. Eleazer Fitch the township of Stanstead.

Sir Robert Shore Milnes policy of wholesale grants to friends of the Government was not successful in producing colonization, and settlement progressed slowly. Barnston and Barford were not really settled until 1810 and 1820, while in 1831 as many as 1,500 new Americans settled in the present counties of Stanstead and Brome. American immigration into the Townships did not cease until the early 1840's.

These settlers were generally people of large families and limited means pushed out by New England by an expanding economy. They were of a stock trained in the hard discipline of pioneering and had a passion for education. Stanstead had schools in 1800, before it had roads.

Before the Government came to their aid, the colonists of Stanstead built roads linking them to Sherbrooke in 1817 and to Montreal by way of Georgeville, a ferry across Lake Memphremagog, and Bolton in 1824. A stage line between Quebec and Boston, passing through Hatley, Barnston and Stanstead began in 1811, so that Stanstead was a transportation centre.

The settlers were farmers, but soon turned their hands to industry as well. Rock Island had successively saw mills, carding mills, a paper mill by 1832, a hoe factory by 1840 and then a foundry.

In 1834 five French Canadians names are listed in the baptismal records of Stanstead. By 1851 there were nearly 800 French Canadians in Stanstead. It was the development of industrial centers linked by railroads which really brought the French into the Townships.

Before the Civil war some American Southerners, who sought cool summer weather but not the company of "damned Yankees," found the Townships the solution. This seasonal invasion increased during the latter half of the 19th century, so that North Hatley became a summer outpost of Baltimore. In recent years the Southerners and New Englanders have been replaced to some extent by English Canadians from Montreal and Ottawa.

The Townships remains cosmopolitan, a meeting place for American, British, and French traditions, which on the whole have fused to form a Canadian combination of unique and charming variety.

Senator Hackett voiced the appreciation of the large attendance to Dr. Wade for his excellent talk.

Mrs. W. V. Poast gave the custodian's report and suggested that steps be taken to use the upstairs of the Stanstead Registry office for a place for the papers and articles belonging to the society.

Miss Norma Holmes, replacing Miss C. I. Mackenzie at the last moment, gave a report of highlights of interest within the County during the past year. Harold Baldwin expressed appreciation to Miss Holmes for her paper.

Recess was declared and the meeting resumed with the sounding of the school bell. Arthur Cowles gave the financial statement, which was very satisfactory. Miss C. I. Mackenzie spoke briefly, wishing the society prosperity.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers: Hon. president, Miss Jessie Colby, O.B.E.; Hon. vice-president, A. E. Curtis and E. J. Struthers; president, Senator Hackett; vice-presidents, Orson Wheeler, Harold Baldwin and Mrs. B. W. Brown; secretary, James Downing; treasurer, A. C. Cowles; corresponding secretary, Leonard Augur.

Directors: J. D. Fergusson, Harold Baldwin, Orson Wheeler, Byron Brown, A. C. Skinner and Joseph Maheux; custodian Mrs. W. V. Poast; chronicler, Miss Norma Holmes.

Mr. Struthers brought it to the attention of the society that the 100 anniversary of the incorporation of Stanstead Village will be observed in the coming year and Senator Hackett stated the society will co-operate with the Village authorities to commemorate the occasion.

Senator Hackett announced having attended and gained the interest of the Monumental Board for assistance in appropriate marking of old cemeteries in the county. Mrs. Margaret Abbott gave the roll call of descendants of pioneer families of the county who have died since the last annual meeting.

The meeting adjourned and all were delightfully entertained at the home of Senator and Mrs. Hackett, where afternoon tea was served from linen covered tables, centered with floral arrangements. Mrs. John T. Hackett and Miss Mary Hackett, assisted by Mrs. Winfield Hackett, poured.

The Townships remains cosmopolitan, a meeting place for American, British, and French traditions, which on the whole have fused to form a Canadian combination of unique and charming

Roy Campanella Finally Gets A Hit To Give Dodgers Win Over Braves

Milwaukee Passed Jackie Robinson To Get At Husky Catcher But He Upsets Strategy; Bob Lemon Posts 17th Win

Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's big catcher who wins the most valuable-player award every other season and then slumps in between, is following the same old script again. But with one ad lib from his bat, the Dodgers are surer than ever they'll retain the National League pennant.

Campy, at 35 the highest paid Dodger ever, won the NL's MVP award in 1951, '53 and '55. But he was a "bust" in '50, '52 and '54. And at the moment, true to the "even-year-jinx," he's wobbling along with a .220 bat average with a scrawny 57 runs batted in.

Things have been so bad for the big guy this season, Milwaukee decided to walk Jackie Robinson—loading the bases with two out—to get to Campy with the score tied three-all in the eighth inning Monday. The Braves were speculating in percentages. Campy hadn't hit in his last 11 at bats.

He now has one hit in his last 12 at bats—a lined single that scored three runs and lifted the Dodgers into a 6-3 victory and whittled the Braves' first-place edge to two games once more.

It was the only game scheduled in the NL, leaving the Braves two full games ahead of third-place Cincinnati.

In the only American League game scheduled, Cleveland bopped Washington 5-2 as Bob Lemon hung up his 17th lifetime victory.

Campanella's single salvaged a split in the two-game set for the Milwaukee Braves.

The match was originally scheduled for July 9, but was rained out. The lengthy postponement followed because of previous commitments by Bedard and Fontana to play in other tournaments.

In the contest, Bedard's service, strong throughout the match, seemed to be the deciding factor. In the opening set he lost only one game of his service to win 6-1.

Fontana came back well in the second. The rangy Toronto player got his service working smoothly and placed his shots well to take the set 6-2.

The third set provided the best tennis of the night. Fontana opened and jumped to a three-game lead before Bedard started to come back. The Sherbrooke player knotted the count at three games each. Then the two traded games, each winning his own service while staging some brilliant rallies, and ran the score to 6-6.

Turning point of the match was the 13th game in the set. The Toronto player was serving and double faulted twice in dropping the game. Bedard served his way to a love game in the next and won the set 8-6.

In the final, the Sherbrooke star ran up a 4-0 lead and was never headed, taking the set 6-3. Bedard gained the final round in the tourney by eliminating Lawrence Barclay of Vancouver and Montreal in three sets. The Toronto player staged an upset win over Montreal's Henri Rochon in five sets to move into the final against Bedard.

Sugar Ray Ready To Meet Fullmer

CHICAGO (P) — Officials of the International Boxing Club expect to iron out details today for a middleweight title fight between champion Ray Robinson and challenger Gene Fullmer.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the IBC, said Robinson would be contacted in New York today after learning that Sugar Ray had capitulated to IBC president Jim Norris.

Robinson two weeks ago said he was through with Norris and the IBC because he couldn't get enough money from them but Monday announced "I'm ready, willing and able to defend my title on Sept. 25 or a later date at Yankee Stadium."

Gibson and Norris returned to Chicago Monday night after giving Robinson a deadline to meet "our offer."

Robinson had demanded 47½ per cent of the net plus 60 per cent of all money received from theatre or home television with a guarantee of $80,000.

Joe Glaser, Robinson's business adviser, said Monday he had a long and cordial talk with Norris before he left for Chicago and "I think we can say definitely that Sugar Ray will fight for the IBC."

Norris and Gibson arrived in Chicago not knowing of Robinson's decision.

"Robinson's decision is news to us," said Gibson upon arrival in Chicago. "Jim and I had talked about it on our way to Chicago and now we'll make it a point to negotiate with Glaser tomorrow, Tuesday."

Tiger-Cats Cut Six Imports

HAMILTON (P) — Coach Jim Trimble of Hamilton Tiger-Cats Monday cut six imports leaving 14 American players on the team, two above the Big Four union quota.

Columbia grad Lou Kusserow was the surprise cut. The big six-foot-one-half back has been a star with Hamilton ever since he started with the team in 1953. He was a league all-star last year.

A back injury in a pre-season exhibition game with British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union is believed to have slowed him up.

Others cut by Trimble were tackles B. C. Inabinet and Pat Sarnese, halfback Vince Gonzales, quarterback Ogden Compton and end Willis Towne. All were first-year men.

Little Curt Roberts Comes Up With Timely Slugging Exhibit, Clouts Four Homers In Game; Leafs Win

Curt Roberts is a little guy. Stands 5-8, weighs 165. He's a second baseman who doesn't look like a power hitter. And he isn't—ordinarily.

But Monday night he became only the fifth player in International League history to sock four home runs in one game. And he did it in seven innings, driving in six runs as his Columbus Jets defeated Havana 10-7 in the first game of a doubleheader. Roberts had a single in four trips as Havana won the nightcap 5-2 to retain a 1½-game edge over the Jets for sixth place.

Since coming to the Jets in the Kansas City-Pittsburgh deal that sent shortstop Spook Jacobs to the Pirates on June 22, Roberts had hit only four home runs in 69 games. In five previous seasons in organized ball, he had hit only 29—not even averaging six a season.

But the 27-year-old infielder really tore into 'em Monday night. Two of the homers came with one on. The other two were solo shots—one an inside-the-park job.

No one had slugged four in one IL game since 1938 when Bob Seeds did it for Newark, then a league member, at Buf-

TOM PARK FAILS TO SWIM

TORONTO (P) — Tom Park, 32-year-old marathoner from Marineland, Calif., was pulled from Lake Ontario early today, the last of 10 official starters to fail a 32-mile swim from Niagara-on-the-Lake to Toronto.

son waged a furious battle for the lead shortly after the marathoners waded in at 6 p.m. Monday.

There were conflicting reports on the boat-ramming incident. Gary Timmarsh, official swim observer in the Lumsdon boat, said the craft hit Lumsdon on the head when it got close.

Tom Park, 31, cold and exhaustion at 3:52 a.m. after about 22 miles.

falo. Russ Arlett did it twice in one season playing for Baltimore, another departed member.

In the other games, first-place Toronto gained a four-game lead with a 6-3 decision over Montreal while Rochester was taking over second place with a 3-2 victory against Buffalo. Miami fell to third, 4½ games back, with a 2-0 loss to Richmond.

Rochester moved up on a play at the plate that put umpire Augie Guglielmo in need of police protection to get safely out of the Red Wings park. He called Cot Deal safe with the winning run in the ninth, touching off a charge to the plate by the Bisons. It took Guglielmo more than five minutes to shove his way to the dressing room.

Richmond scored both runs in the first inning on Bill Renna's sacrifice fly and Cal Neeman's RBI single. Vees manager Ed Lopat gave just six hits for his 11th victory.

Lou Morton and Carl Sawatski each hammered two-run homers in the first inning for Toronto as Pete Wojcieh, with relief help, won his third. Leo Cristante gave up six of the Leafs' nine hits for his seventh defeat. The game was delayed two hours by rain.

Tom Park Last Survivor Of Lake Swim Pulled Out; Committee Meets Today To Decide Distribution Of Money

TORONTO (P) — Tom Park, 31, last battered survivor of 10 swimmers who tried to splash across Lake Ontario for $27,000 in prizes, today was tugged from the water about 10 miles from success.

His numbed surrender closed a carefully-planned marathon that saw favorite Cliff Lumsdon collide with his guide boat and a shoal of wildcat swimmers splashing in a vain effort to steal the glory.

Ten screened marathoners—including three women-set under official sanction. All but Park were defeated before they were halfway across the 32-mile course from Niagara-on-the-lake, Ont., to Toronto. Water temperature ranged from 49 to 62 degrees.

Park, a native of Hamilton who now lives in Marineland, Calif., succumbed to the paralyzing cold waters at 3:52 a.m. EDT after a 10-hour battle. Thirteen other swimmers-four of them unofficial starters-also dared the crossing but were stopped earlier by cramps, sickness and fatigue.

The Lake Ontario marathon swim committee, which set up the race, was to meet at noon today to decide distribution of the prize money, even though there were no finishers.

Park, who figured it would take him about 16 hours to make the crossing, called it quits as heavy fog engulfed a flotilla of about 40 boats, after nine hours, 52 minutes in the water.

Lumsdon's defeat was a surprise. He, Park and Miss Anderson waged a furious battle for the lead shortly after the marathoners waded in at 6 p.m. Monday.

There were conflicting reports on the boat-ramming incident. Gary Timmarsh, official swim observer in the Lumsdon boat, said the craft hit Lumsdon on the head when it got close.

Zaharias said Monday: "We are very encouraged on her condition today. It is much brighter, and we are both hopeful, and looking for a better tomorrow."

On Sunday a hospital spokesman said she "had lost some ground . . . because of difficulty in taking nourishment." Monday he said there had been no significant changes in the past 24 hours.

Life Begins At 85 — Eighty-five-year-old Miss Bridget Coughlin, of Richmond, who is spending the summer in Montreal, felt that a fast first flip to Quebec City for the weekend would give her a new view of life. The spry octogenarian visited Montreal airport two years ago and managed, by her wit and charm, to be invited into the cockpit of a TCA aircraft. Since then she has been secretly planning the trip, and recently surprised her friends by announcing that all arrangements had been made. (TCA Photo)

Boundary Couple Feted By Friends

Mark Silver Anniversary —

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lees of Rock Island are pictured above with their son, Tommy, at the party given by friends and relatives in honor of the 25th anniversary of their wedding. Appropriate decorations created a festive scene in the West Park I.O.O.F. hall and the head table was centred with a cake made to represent an open book. The honored couple were the recipients of silver candelabra and a four-piece silver tea service with matching tray.

ROCK ISLAND — Silver "25's," and baskets of seasonal flowers were used to decorate the West Park I.O.O.F. hall for the celebration of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lees of Rock Island.

The groom had been told the secret, but to the bride of the silver years it was a complete surprise. Wearing a rose pink frock, she was presented with a corsage of white carnations by her sister-in-law, Miss Mary Lees, who was her bridesmaid at the wedding ceremony, while Mrs. Maynard Rollins presented the groom with a carnation boutonniere.

Miss Lees and Mrs. Rollins escorted the couple around the hall, where they received the congratulations of relatives and friends, to the music of the bagpipes played by David Grieves.

Dancing was enjoyed, music being provided by the Reverend trio. Refreshments were served from long tables. The head table was covered with a white and silver cloth and centered with the anniversary cake made in an open book design and decorated in white and silver by Mrs. Ruby Sheldon. White tapers in silver holders, sweet peas and pansies completed the arrangement.

Seated with the honored couple were their son, Tommy, Miss Mary Lees and Mrs. Harry Searles, sisters of the groom, Mr. Searles, Linda and Glen Searles.

Mr. Grieves, on behalf of the family, presented the celebrants with gifts of silver candelabra, and, from the friends assembled and others who were not present, a four-piece silver tea service and matching tray. Mr. and Mrs. Lees expressed their appreciation in an appropriate way.

The grand march which followed was led by Mr. Grieves, playing the pipes, and Mr. and Mrs. Lees.

Among the guests were the little flower girl at the wedding, Miss Elsie Henderson of Beebe and others from Waterloo, Granby, Magog, Sherbrooke, Beebe, and the Three Villages. Mrs. Searles was in charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Lees, the former Violet Melvin, both natives of Scotland, were united in marriage on August 22 at All Saints church in Beebe, Rev. Mr. De Grouchy officiating. The couple have two sons, John, with the Canadian Navy stationed in Newfoundland, and Tommy, at home.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Maynard Rollins, Miss Mary Lees, Mrs. Rudy Miller and Mrs. Searles, assisted by others.
