BIG JUNKERS TRY TO TAKE GERMAN OFF CORSICA

Seven Transports Shot Down As Aerial Rescue Of Hun Garrison Fails

Battered Remnants of 12,000-Man Nazi Army Driven into Northeast Corner of Corsica Island by French Troops from North Africa, Supported by American Rangers—Warships Maintain Tight Blockade to Cut Off Escape by Sea.

By ROGER GREENE, Associated Press Staff Writer. Conquest of Corsica, stepping-stone to the French mainland, appeared imminent today as R.A.F. aircraft intercepted a German air fleet attempting to evacuate Nazi troops from the island and shot down seven transport planes.

Gen. Henri Giraud's French troops from North Africa, supported by American Rangers, had driven battered remnants of the 12,000-man Nazi garrison into the Northeast corner of the island, while Allied warships maintained a tight blockade to cut off escape by sea.

Napoleon's birthplace, Corsica lies 110 miles from the Southern coast of France. More than 1,000 Germans had been killed by French troops and native patriots, and hundreds of others were believed to have died under heavy Allied bombings of the Nazi escape port of Bastia and in boats en route across the Ligurian Sea to Leghorn, Italy.

At least 14 Nazi transport planes, including big Junkers 52's, were involved in the attempted aerial rescue, which was smashed in a series of three attacks by R. A. F. Beaufighters.

Other times during the day, Allied Headquarters announced, "several score enemy transports were observed making an evacuation trip and on the sea a large number of small boats were seen by reconnaissance aircraft."

Allied Headquarters announced that Lt. Gen. Mark Clark's Anglo-American 5th Army troops, victors in the battle of Salerno, launched a full-scale offensive against German mountain defences guarding the route to Naples.

The 5th Army overran the mountain town of Oliveto-Gitro, 24 miles East of Salerno, after a 10-mile thrust from newly-captured Acerno, while British 8th Army columns striking up the heart of the Italian peninsula seized Matera in an 11-mile advance.

Matera is 36 miles Northwest of Taranto on the heel of the Italian boot.

From Matera, it was announced, Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's veterans drove North another ten miles to occupy Altamura.

While Gen. Clark launched his climactic offensive against burning, dynamite-wrecked Naples, Italian refugees said residents of the once great port were shattering German troops in the streets and firing at the enemy from the windows of their homes.

Declares British Public Regard War With Japanese As "Sideshow"

London, Sept. 24.—(AP)—United States Navy Secretary Frank Knox asked the British press today to educate the public "to the necessity of fighting this Japanese war."

"Nothing would more disturb the growing American confidence in British co-operation than to believe the British feel that when Hitler is disposed of it all will be over," he told a press conference.

Asked if Prime Minister Churchill's recent statement had dispelled all such feeling, the Secretary replied:

"No, it hasn't been dispelled in America."

He added that during his current visit the attitude in Germany and the other "sideshow."

Knox reiterated that although fully one-third of Japan's merchant fleet, including additions since Pearl

French Vessels Helped To Land Men On Corsica

Allied Headquarters, North Africa, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Two French cruisers including one recently based at Martinique—six destroyers and three submarines helped land the French forces now driving the Germans from Corsica, it was announced today.

The cislosure came as Gen. Henri Giraud, French Commander-in-Chief, declared on his return from a two-day flying trip to Corsica that he expected all the Nazis on the island to be ousted or slain within ten or fifteen days.

Among the French ships participating in the invasion landing, an official announcement said was the 5,500-ton training cruiser Jeanne d'Arc, one of the naval units based at Martinique before that Caribbean island severed its ties with Vichy.

The large destroyers Le Fantasque and Le Terrible, which have attained speeds of 43 to 45 knots, also were used to run troops into Ajaccio, almost under the noses of the Germans. Both formerly were stationed at Dakar.

Other ships which participated were the 6,000-ton cruiser Montcalm, the destroyers L'Aiglon, Le Fort and Le Basque, all of 1,378 tons; the Tempete, 1,319 tons, and

5th Victory Loan Is Great Blow To Be Struck At Powerful Enemy By Canadians On The Home Front

Finance Minister Ilsley Announces Loan Will Be in Two Maturities, a 15-Year-and-Two Month Issue and a Three-Year-and-Six-Month Issue—Larger and More Important Than Any Previous Victory Loan.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Finance Minister Ilsley announced today that Canada's Fifth Victory Loan, opening October 15 with a minimum objective of $1,200,000,000, will be in two maturities—a 15-year-and-two-month issue and a three-year-and-six-month issue.

He said the new bonds will mature as follows:

An issue bearing interest at three per cent offered at a price of 100 per cent and maturing at 100 Jan. 1, 1959, and a shorter term issue bearing interest at 1 3/4 per cent at a price of 100 per cent and maturing at 100 May 1, 1947. Both types of bonds will be dated November 1, 1943.

The bonds will be similar to those of previous loans except that the first interest coupon on the three per cent bonds will be for a period of eight months with coupons becoming

Surging Soviet Troops Threaten To Engulf Nazis Along Dnieper

DARING ATTEMPT BY BRITISH SUB TO SINK TIRPITZ

Berlin Claims British Submarine Destroyed in Audacious Norwegian Island Foray.

London, Sept. 24.—(AP)—An audacious foray by a British submarine in an attempt to sink the German battleship Tirpitz in a Norwegian fjord was reported today by D.N.B., official German news agency.

The agency report, which was broadcast by the Berlin radio, said that a British submarine "of the smallest type" stole into the Norwegian island area but was caught and destroyed before it could carry out its mission.

(The British Admiralty made no comment on this report.)

"This enemy attempt which was obviously intended to make amends for the setback which the British Navy suffered through the daring deed of Guenther Prien in Scapa Flow, was a complete failure," D.N.B. asserted.

(Prien commanded the German U-boat which slipped into Britain's great Scapa Flow naval base and sank the battleship Royal Oak October 14, 1939. The Germans reported that Prien failed to return from a subsequent operation.)

The Germans did not say on what part of the island-studded Norwegian coast the British submarine attack was made, but the 35,000-ton Tirpitz was reported recently to have hauled up in Alta Fjord in Northern Norway. The entrance to Alta is guarded by a cluster of islands.

Cabinet Crisis In Hungary May Lead To Peace

Istanbul, Turkey, Sept. 23.—(Delayed)—(AP)—The Rumanian radio told listeners yesterday that the Hungarian Government was about to resign and quoted Swiss dispatches as declaring that the Hungarians were seeking a separate peace.

(A BBC broadcast, recorded by CBS in New York today, reported that a cabinet crisis in Budapest, brought about by the people's wish to follow Italy out of the war, is taking place.)

"A new ultimatum from Hitler is expected any moment," the BBC said, adding that Hungary's chief of staff, Gen. Ferenc Szombathelyi, had returned to Budapest from a two-day visit at Hitler's headquarters. The visit followed Hitler's demand last week for fifteen Hungarian divisions to be sent to Dalmatia and Croatia.)

LIBERALS IN OTTAWA FOR CAUCUS TODAY

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Upwards of 200 Liberal members of the House of Commons met in caucus today for a session considered important for the future of the party in power and the trend of political activity in the next few years.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King entered the caucus room at 10:15 a.m. E.D.T. (11:15 a.m. A.D.T.) after spending considerable time shaking hands with Members and Senators and welcoming them to Ottawa individually.

Mr. King, who will make any official statements to be made during the caucus discussions, appeared in perfect health and in high good humor.

Huns Evacuating Heavy Equipment, Important Installations And Civilians From Kuban Bridgehead

London, Sept. 24.—(AP)—German forces are abandoning their Kuban bridgehead in the Caucasus, the Berlin radio announced today as surging Russian troops threatened to engulf Nazi positions along the lower Dnieper and still further North moved within artillery range of Smolensk.

In a broadcast recorded by Reuters news agency the Nazi Transcaucasian news agency said:

"The Germans are systematically evacuating heavy equipment, important installations and civilians from the Kuban bridgehead."

This German admission followed by some 36 hours a Russian announcement of the capture of Anapa, the last Black Sea port held by the Nazis on the Taman peninsula.

As a result of steady Russian advances in the Kiev sector, meanwhile, the situation of the German forces along the bend of the lower Dnieper appeared to be growing more critical by the hour.

(The BBC, quoting reports from Moscow, declared the Russians were "so close to the Dnieper River at some points that they can shell enemy positions on the other side." Russian spearheads, the broadcast added, have blasted through the outer

Admiral Of Fleet Cunningham Held By Many To Be Greatest Seaman Since Days Of Nelson

By CLARK LEE, Representing the Combined American Press.

(Distributed by The Canadian Press) An Advanced Allied Command Post in the Mediterranean—(Delayed)—Admiral of the Fleet Sir Andrew Cunningham, who has just won one of the greatest fights in British naval history, the Battle of the Mediterranean, is the personification of the British sailor.

A good many British officers, brave men and great sailors, look and act more like gentlemen than seafarers. Admiral Cunningham was born in a distinguished family but that fact is entirely irrelevant. Regardless of his family background he would still be, in looks and action, every inch a sailor.

The Admiral is what the British call a "tough" man. By tough they mean of strong character. In all matters pertaining to duty and to the pride of his life, the Royal Navy, Admiral Cunningham is absolutely ruthless in dealing with shirkers, and his subordinates undoubtedly damn him at times as a stern martinet. But they admire him and above all respect his knowledge and courage.

Some call him the greatest British admiral since Nelson.

In battle Admiral Cunningham has one motto "close the range." He is never happy, his associates say, unless the shells are falling around him.

Only a fleet like the British, under an admiral like Sir Andrew, could have won the Battle of the Mediterranean. The fleet was thoroughly indoctrinated with the tradition which dictates that you don't back out of an assigned job until you are stopped by a 15-inch shell or a bomb.

After Italy entered the war in the early summer of 1940 Admiral Cunningham tried to lure the Italian fleet out for a finish fight in the Mediterranean. He never quite succeeded, although he did hit them often enough and hard enough to prevent them from being any real menace to British ship movements.

The German Air Force was another story.

By the end of 1940 the Italian fleet was nearly out of action and the British fleet was running con-

140,000 RAIL EMPLOYEES SEEK WAGE INCREASE

Application by Standard Railway Labor Organizations Now Before National War Labor Board.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The National War Labor Board has the biggest case it has yet faced on its books—an application by the standard railway labor organizations for wage increases which affect 140,000 employees of 14 Canadian railways.

The unions are seeking to have the basic wages of men employed in the "running" trades—engineers, firemen and trainmen—brought up to the standard of Eastern United States railways. For railway employees not in the "running" trades they ask an increase of 25 cents an hour.

It is expected that considerable time will be required for the preparation of a brief by the railways and a rebuttal by the unions, and no date has been set for the hearing.

In their original request to the railway July 31, the Union said that while railway workers had not received increases since 1927, employees of "almost all of the large Canadian industries" had been given one, and in some cases two, wage increases during the war years.

It is understood that practically all of the wage agreements which unions have with railways have been "opened" by the unions serving notice that they wish to negotiate new terms.

Four German Cities Are Blasted By R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. Aircraft In Second Heavy Blow In 24 Hours

Thirty-Two Allied Bombers Failed to Return, Including Four Canadian—Twin Cities at Junction of Rhine and Neckar Rivers Shattered Under Impact of 1,500 Tons of Bombs in 45 Minutes.

By GLADWIN HILL, Associated Press Staff Writer.

London, Sept. 24.—(AP)—In their second heavy blow in 24 hours against Nazi industrial and transportation centres, a fleet of big R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. bombers blasted four German cities last night, heavily bombing the twin cities of Mannheim-Ludwigshafen and hitting Darmstadt, 25 miles Northeast of Mannheim, and Aachen, near Cologne.

Thirty-two bombers are missing, four of them Canadian.

R.C.A.F. headquarters said that bombers from the Canadian group were out in good strength for the second successive night. In the Hannover raid Wednesday night the group made its heaviest single contribution to a bomber command raid since the group was formed last January.

PLAN TO CARRY UNIQUE MURDER CASE TO APPEAL

Luigi Stabile Sentenced to Hang January 14 for Murder Committed 27 Years Ago.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Luigi Stabile, 60-year-old Ville la Salle farmer and father of twelve children, sat in the death cell in Montreal jail today as his counsel prepared an application to appeal after a murder trial unique in the history of Canadian jurisprudence.

It was unique because twenty-seven years elapsed between the date of the murder of Stabile's brother-in-law, Carmeno Festa, and the trial; the cause of death was never established; no motive was introduced at the trial and all evidence was circumstantial.

Stabile's features were immobile when Mr. Justice Wilfrid Luzure, wearing the three-cornered black hat and black gloves prescribed for the occasion, set the date of the death penalty as January 14.

Stabile, who a few minutes before heard the twelve men of the jury all answer "Guilty" when they were polled individually on the verdict, bowed stiffly to the judge and then quietly said "Thank you." His wife, in a state of near collapse, left the courtroom.

Defence Counsel Damase Cote, K. C., told reporters "Of course we'll appeal," and later he announced the first steps would be taken today when an application will be filed. The appeal itself will not be dealt with for several weeks, it was indi-

Report Big Yugoslav Guerilla Forces Are Battling Nazi Troops

Action Part of Series of New Flare-Ups by Partisan Armies Against Nazi Occupying Forces at Scattered Points Along Some 400 Miles of Eastern Adriatic Shore—Fighting in Streets of Trieste.

London, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Strong Yugoslav guerilla forces were reported fighting German troops today in the streets of Trieste and threatening Fiume in an apparently co-ordinated drive against the two Italian ports at the Northern end of the Adriatic.

The action was part of a series of new flare-ups by partisan armies against Nazi occupying forces at scattered points along some 400 miles of the Eastern Adriatic shore, all conceivably inaugurated with Allied approval.

Yugoslav sources said Slovene irregulars struck some 25 miles into Italy from the Yugoslav border and penetrated Trieste, with oppressed inhabitants of that former Italian naval base joining their ranks to attack the Nazi garrison.

These same sources reported other Slovene formations had occupied Idria, Italian mountain town four miles East of the Yugoslav border and 28 miles Northeast of Trieste, while farther to the East in Northwestern Yugoslavia fierce fighting was said to be in progress along a 50-mile front between Bistrica (Feistritz) and Ljubljana.

The BBC, quoting a broadcast by the Algiers radio, said that Fiume was being shelled by partisan artillery set up in Susak, 1-1.2 miles away across the frontier.

In a broadcast heard by the Associated Press, however, the Budapest radio quoted a Zareb dispatch to the effect that the Germans had captured Susak.

The partisans, reported engaged around Trieste and Fiume, apparently were operating under command of the Montenegrin guerilla chieftain Josip Broz, familiarly known as "Tito," but the forces of Gen. Draja Mihailovic were said to be fighting further South in the interior.

News of the fighting receded recent Cairo dispatches indicating that Allied senior officers had gone to Yugoslavia to attempt to co-ordinate the activities of "Tito" and Mihailovic with Allied strategic plans.

Yugoslavs here, however, said that while there evidently was some co-operation between the two guerilla armies they were not operating under a joint command or with unified plans.

Madrid dispatches quoted Italian and Balkan reports as saying that not only Fiume but the whole German grip on the Istrian peninsula, which juts into the Northern Adriatic between Fiume and Trieste, was threatened by swift-moving, well-armed guerilla bands working in harmony with other partisan forces said to be holding Susak and part of the Adriatic coast, including the port of Split, 150 miles to the Southeast.

Some estimates here were that war equipment of about four Italian divisions now has fallen into the hands of the partisans.

Aussie Artillery Pounding Japs In New Guinea Coastal Position

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Australian artillery pounded the Japanese today in the New Guinea coastal base of Finschhafen, arching shells over frontline patrols which have beaten down rapidly fading enemy resistance to reach the edge of an airfield two miles North of their objective.

The Japanese were thus confronted with the threatened loss of their third air base since September 12 in a jungle sector where the enemy already has expended more than 12,000 men.

Today Allied headquarters permitted release of the first details of the amphibious operation against Finschhafen, only seventy over-water miles Southwest of New Britain, a key position of the Japanese.

Australians began landing on a beach six miles North of Finschhafen at dawn Wednesday, six days after the fall of Lae and ten days after the capture of Salamaua.

American warships bombarded enemy positions beyond the beachhead. Bombers dropped twenty-ones tons of explosives on Finschhafen. Attack planes fired 48,000 rounds of ammunition.

Eighty-five miles Northeast, the Japanese air units at Cape Gloucester, New Britain, were prevented from interfering. For four hours there, big Allied bombers blasted with seventy-three tons of bombs and attack planes poured out 15,000 rounds of bullets.

While Australian soldiers and American paratroopers hunted down 600 Japanese who fled into the jungles above captured Lae, headquarters reported today a preliminary count of more than 6,300 enemy soldiers slain since July 1 in the Lae-Salamaua sector. Six thousand more were estimated previously to have been killed there before July 1.

"Final estimates will be very much greater," the communique stated.

P.R.O.'S DOING PUBLICITY WORK FOR AIR FORCE

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Air Minister Power has tried with "all the vigor" at his command to combat rumors of the British Air Ministry which, for a short time early in the war, made it impossible for Canadians even to be told the names of young Canadians who had won distinction in the Battle of Britain and other engagements, he said in an official statement issued last night.

(Overseas representatives of Dominion newspapers are protesting to the British Air Ministry through the Empire Press Union the fact that no journalists representing Empire Overseas news services or newspapers were included in a recent tour of newspapermen through the Mediterranean war theatre.)

Major Power said that "nothing would make him happier" than for the Air Ministry to include Canadian civilian war correspondents in the Mediterranean tour, and added that news of the activities of Canadian airmen in that theatre was made public only after R.C.A.F. Headquarters here had instructed their public relations officers overseas to identify Canadians as such, without permission of the Air Ministry in London.

Previously, he said, the Air Ministry had not permitted the identification of airmen.

BLOCK SEEKS TO DRAFT MEN IN FEDERAL EMPLOY

Hope to Postpone Drafting of Pre-War Fathers by Induction of Draft-Age Government Employees.

Washington, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Abandoning the fight to outlaw the drafting of fathers in the United States, a Congressional bloc sought to cushion the impact today by driving into uniform what one legislator called "a lost army" of thousands of Government workers.

Chairman Walter May (Dem., Ky.) of the House of Representatives Military Affairs Committee, said it would be futile to press for legislation to prohibit the drafting of men in the United States who were fathers prior to December 7, 1941. He announced also that his committee would ask Maj.-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey to explain next week why an estimated 300,000 draft-age, non-fathers in the federal employ have not been inducted although no official request was made for their deferment.

With Liberal allowances for physical defects and other deferment conditions, Rep. John Costello (Dem., Calif.) said, "at least half of them, it seems, could be put into uniform, and that would mean 150,000 pre-war fathers would not have to be drafted now."

In the Senate, a bill by Senator Burton Wheeler (Dem., Mont.) to postpone until January 1 the induction of family heads is expected to go back to the military committee next week for further study of the manpower question.

AVIATION WEEKLY PRAISES FORTRESS

London, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The magazine Aeroplane, authoritative aviation weekly, paid tribute to the United States Flying Fortress bomber yesterday. It carried a cartoon—without explanation—showing the four-engined bombers acting as escorts and shooting down enemy planes on all sides while fighters dropped bombs.

due every six months thereafter. The reason for this is that the large volume of coupons due in May and November to millions of holders is creating a heavy task which, to some degree, will be lightened by the change of interest rates to January and July.

Mr. Hisey emphasized that holders of Dominion of Canada bonds due and payable at par Oct. 15, 1945, which have been called for payment at par on Oct. 15, 1943, will be able to convert their holdings of those bonds into Fifth Victory Loan issues.

Bonds of these two issues will be taken in payment for Fifth Victory Loan Bonds at a price of 100-1-8. Mr. Hisey expressed hope that all holders of the two earlier issues would take advantage of the conversion offer.

"The loan is not just another financial step in a series—it is a great blow to be struck at a powerful enemy by Canadians at home," he said. "It is larger and more important than any previous Victory Loan and I ask my fellow-Canadians to accept its challenge."

"Now, when all branches of our armed forces are at grips with the enemy, we at home must try to match their spirit as best we can. I urge Canadians to buy Fifth Victory Loan bonds to the utmost of their ability so that we may truly achieve the slogan of the loan—'Speed the Victory.'"

The new loan will have a minimum objective for individuals of $25,000,000.

MATRICULATION CANDIDATES IN E.T. SCHOOLS

A number of students from Bishop's College School, St. Helen's School and King's Hall were successful in the writing of junior matriculation examinations at McGill University earlier this summer.

The successful candidates in the junior examinations are now divided into three classes. To obtain a first class certificate the candidate must obtain an average of at least 80 per cent in the whole examination. A second class certificate requires an average of 70 per cent while an average of between 60 and 70 per cent is sufficient for a third class certificate. The new certificate also shows the number of individual subjects in which candidates obtain distinction, that is, a mark of 80 per cent or better.

Second Class: Catherine Trivett, St. Helen's School, two distinctions. Third Class: Peter John Aird, Bishop's College School; Cortland J. Brown, Bishop's College School; one distinction; Edward S. F. Cadenhead, Bishop's College School; J. A. Fuller, Bishop's College School; Katherine R. Laws, St. Helen's School; James R. Peck, Bishop's College School; Joan Threlford, King's Hall, two distinctions.

torpedo boats stabbed into Valona Harbor on the coast of Albania and sank two enemy vessels. On the land front, both the 8th and 5th Armies advanced steadily and captured two towns.

The 5th Army forces of Lt.-Gen. Mark Clark overran the inland mountain town of Oliveto-Citra, 24 miles east of Salerno and 10 miles southeast of Salerno, reported yesterday as having fallen. Matera, 30 miles northwest from Taranto, fell to British forces. Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's 8th Army, representing an advance of 11 miles from captured Ginosa.

Allied bombers last night ranged into Northern Italy to Pisa and attacked the railway yards and airfield the Air Command announced. The daring motorboat foray to the Albanian shore marked up an Allied move in a new direction against the German forces in Southeastern and Southern Europe.

A naval announcement said the larger of the two vessels sunk was laden with ammunition. Shore batteries opened fire on the torpedo boats during their retirement, causing some damage to one vessel, but all returned to base without casualties, the announcement said.

"Along the 8th Army front steady progress has been made against light opposition," the ground communiqué said. "Considerable delays have been caused by demolitions."

The naval announcement said that Allied vessels are still pouring reinforcements into the Salerno area, and added that the 8th Army, which includes units of the Canadian 1st Division, is being supplied across the Straits of Messina.

In the air, Allied aircraft still were striking heavily at enemy troop movements and concentrations back of the Salerno battle area. Medium bombers hit at roads and road junctions around Canello and in the area of Capua.

Fighters and fighter bombers patrolled the Avellino and Veneto areas, smashing at motor transport gun positions and bridges.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hall included Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Windsor and daughter, Mrs. W. Montford, Miss Margaret Hinton and Mr. Arthur Pocock, of Montreal. The Sunday School of Christ Church opens at two o'clock on Friday, September 19 with a short service preceding the regular service of Evening at 7.30 p.m. and registration of pupils and issuing of lesson sheets and other routine work with Rev. J. O. Peacock in charge.

CLAIM FORMER FRENCH PREMIER DEAD

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Finnish radio, quoting the Swedish newspaper, Svenska Dagbladet, said today that the former French Premier Edouard Herriot had died in a sanatorium in the "South of France."

The broadcast, recorded by United States Government Monitors, said the Svenska Dagbladet carried the report of Herriot's death in a dispatch from Berlin. Early in September, the Nazis announced that Herriot had fallen "incurably" ill of a mental ailment and was confined to a sanatorium.

ated. The sentence, climaxing the only case on record where the trial was held so long after the crime, ended police efforts which began with the finding on July 21 of a skeleton and articles of clothing, identified as belonging to Festa.

Festa's children, now reached maturity, testified they had arrived in Canada from their native Italy with their mother in 1916. They went to live on the Stable farm at nearby St. Hubert where their father was already working.

One day Festa did not appear and the witnesses said Stable took no part in the search and a few days later moved the Festa family to Montreal.

Crown Prosecutor Claude Provost, K.C., told the jury that Stable must have known of Festa's death. He made his accusation, purportedly made by the accused, to his brother-in-law was still alive.

Furthermore, Stable had taken the only photograph of Festa on the pretence of instigating a police investigation. Records showed no such report had been made, the Crown Prosecutor added.

Workers, installing an artesian well in the cellar of the former Stable farmhouse, came across the skeleton and articles of clothing under three feet of earth.

Festa's children and Dr. Rosario Fontaine, medico-legal expert, established identity.

Mrs. S. J. Small entertained the Dunham branch of the W.C.T.U. at her home one afternoon with Mrs. M. Sanborn presiding. Nine members answered to the roll call and one visitor. The meeting opened with the reading of part of Psalm XLIX and the Lord's Prayer in unity, followed by the hymn, "Yield Not to Temptation." The minutes of the previous meeting were read and accepted as read. As Mrs. Sanborn is to be away for a time she asked the Vice-President, Mrs. S. J. Small, to carry on for her. A letter was received from Miss Bates, of the Sailors' Institute, thanking the unit for the dirty bags which were sent for the crew of the ship.

Provost Lodge No. 8, A.F. and M., held its regular communication when Brother R. E. Derrick, D.D.G., M. of Lacolle, paid his official visit to the lodge. He was accompanied by the Rev. E. E. Dawson, of Lacolle, District Chaplain. About twenty members were present. Refreshments were served after the meeting closed.

The pupils of the Intermediate School had a holiday when Mrs. D. Martin, Principal, attended the teachers' convention in Knowlton. Mr. and Mrs. Eric Kemp and son, Wayne, Miss Esther Stevens, of Bedford were guests of Mrs. E. A. Buchanan.

THIEVES RAID ICE BOX, LEAVE DISHES

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The thieves who broke into Mrs. Anne Sinicki's apartment, she told police, were most unmanly. Not only did they steal clothes and kitchen utensils Mrs. Sinicki valued at $850, but they stayed long enough to prepare a dinner from food in the ice box. And, Mrs. Sinicki complained, they left all the dirty dishes for her to wash.

man defence system based on the Dnieper valley. Kiev itself was in imminent danger from Russian columns operating to both North and South. A Moscow communique indicated the Russians were developing a pincer movement aimed at Cherkasi, 90 miles to the southeast, and at the junction of the Pripiet and Dnieper rivers, 55 miles to the North.

Capture of Poltava yesterday gave the Russians control of a 300-mile stretch of territory bordering the middle Dnieper between Dnepropetrovsk and Chernigov, and opened the way for a direct advance on Cherkasi and Kremenchuk, both important enemy bases on the Dnieper. A plunge across the river at this point would imperil huge Axis forces inside the bend and on the East side of the river, increase the threat to Kiev and place Russian forces in a position to isolate German positions in the Crimea.

The Soviet communique also announced the capture of Unecha, rail junction 73 miles Southwest of Bryansk in the upper central sector of the 750-mile active front. Unecha is on the road to White Russia and Gomei, Nazi stronghold in that enemy-held province.

More than 5,300 Germans were killed in the day's fighting, the Moscow war bulletin stated, and 863 more liberated towns and villages were added to the Russian bag. Operations in the Smolensk area resulted in the storming of Buzanovo, nine miles to the Northeast, and Pochinok, 19 miles to the Southeast. Seizure of Pochinok cut the railway to Roslav, where the Berlin radio said Soviet and German troops were fighting in the streets.

Berlin admitted mounting peril to Smolensk, as well as Kiev. Cherkasi and other strong points on the Dnieper line and said that at "some points" a few small detachments of Russian troops had reached the river itself.

The battle for Dnepropetrovsk, site of Russia's once great hydroelectric works, has begun, Russian front dispatches said, with Soviet advance columns already within 10 miles of that lower Dnieper city. Zaporozhe, to the South, was the objective of other Russian thrusts.

BRESSETT'S CORNER

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knutson, when about twenty-five young people gathered to enjoy a corn roast. After the corn was taken care of, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. MacKinnon and Miss Lily Bergstrand, of North Hatley, and Miss Geraldine Knutson served hot drinks, cake and ice cream. During the remainder of the evening games and music were the attractions.

The Misses Edith and Borghild Bergstrand have returned to Hamilton, Ont., after spending a week at their home here. Miss Suzanne Cripps, of Drummondville, has been visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Knutson. Callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wilson were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Long and son, Dennis, of Massey, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Day, of Sawyerville, Mr. and Mrs. D. Monroe Wilson and son, David, and Mrs. Mary E. Raymond, of North Hatley.

Dunham, which was very interesting. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostesses, assisted by the members in serving. The District of Bedford sheep breeders met at the Brome Fair grounds in August and the following officers were elected: Honorary President, Rev. Dr. Boyd; President, John Pibus; Vice-President, Garret Chapman, and Secretary-Treasurer, Robert McElroy. It was decided to have a sheep clinic at Cowansville late in September. Mrs. D. H. Pettis, of West Brome, was a guest of her sister over a week-end. Mrs. Aylmer Hawley, of Sutton Junction, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McElroy. Miss Minnie Doherty, R.N., of Manchester, N.H., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Martin, and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jeneau have returned from a week's holiday spent at Venice. Mr. and Mrs. Roland Piette are on their holidays this week. St. Helen's School reopened on Tuesday, September 14. Miss Bertha Dewing is spending a few days in Abbotsford a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Forand. Mr. A. M. Guillet left for Montreal to leave by plane from there for his home in Charlotte, N.C., after spending several weeks with his sister, Mrs. F. C. Pettis.

Awarding Of Military Cross To Lieut. Ken Heron Is Confirmed

Lieut. William Kenneth Heron, a former resident of Sherbrooke and whose parents reside in Asbestos, was one of fifty-two Canadian soldiers decorated for valor and good service in the face of the enemy as the First Division fought its way across Sicily in July and August. Defence Headquarters in Ottawa today confirmed the awarding of the Military Cross to Lieut. Heron, which was announced earlier this month. Lieut. Heron, who served in Sicily with the Royal Canadian Engineers, was in command of a party which performed one of the most courageous feats of mine clearing in that campaign, near Dittaino Station, three miles South of Asso.

On his pass formation, Canadian tanks ran into a heavy concentration of mines. One tank was blown up and three others were left stranded in the open, unable to move backward or forward without danger of meeting the same fate.

From the hills German mortars began shelling the position. If German field guns further back had been directed on the same target as it seemed they might be at any moment, the result would have been serious.

Lieut. Heron and a platoon went in under shrapnel and stayed there for two hours clearing lanes by which the trapped tanks eventually made their escape. The mines cost the life of only one Canadian engineer officer.

Lieut. Heron, an engineering student at the time of his enlistment in the Engineers, was born at Sherbrooke, Quebec, November 19, 1916.

He enlisted in the ranks shortly after the outbreak of war and proceeded Overseas in June, 1940, with the rank of sergeant. He was commissioned Overseas.

His father, Thomas W. Heron, lives in Asbestos, Quebec, where

Lieut. Heron lived before enlisting. Moving from Sherbrooke to Asbestos at an early age, Lieut. Heron was educated at the Asbestos High School, from there proceeding to McGill University where he studied in the faculty of engineering. After enlisting in 1939, his talents were soon recognized and he was immediately promoted to Sergeant. He served in Theford Mines, and in December of the same year, the unit was sent to Quebec where it was stationed at Cove Field Barracks. In April, 1940, the 5th Army Troops Company, R.C.E., was amalgamated with other field companies of the R. C. E. to form the First Canadian Pioneer Battalion. He was then stationed in Toronto until June when he went Overseas, landing in England on June 21st.

Lieut. Heron also has a younger brother, Lawrence, serving with the R.C.E. Overseas.

RECEIVES IMPORTANT APPOINTMENT

LT.-COL. W. E. HUME, M.D., of Sherbrooke, who has received an important appointment Overseas as Commanding the Eleventh Canadian General Hospital. There were repeated rumors among Col. Hume's many friends that he was on his way back home, but this is far from being the case as he will be kept busy in his new post Overseas. Word of the promotion was received by Mrs. Hume in a cable from her husband.

PLYMOUTH W.A. HELD PLEASING TEA AND SALE

"Curiosity" caption of the party, together with the temptation of a perfect autumn day, attracted a huge throng of guests to the delightful tea and sale, held through the courtesy of Mrs. Fraser Armstrong, at her residence on Moore Street yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. J. Keith Edwards, President of the Women's Association of Plymouth Church under which auspices the event was given, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. F. A. C. Dossie and Mrs. J. Fraser Armstrong, while Mrs. C. A. Beaton, Treasurer, acted as cashier.

Tea was served in the dining and sun rooms, Mrs. Andrew Sangster and Mrs. W. G. Cross, doing the honors at the beautifully appointed table in the former and Mrs. Don Johnston presiding in the sun room. Late autumn flowers adorned the tea tables and were profusely used in decorating the already attractive rooms. Mrs. T. F. L. Cohoon, Mrs. Robert Whitley and Mrs. Frank Hovey comprised the committee, and assisting were Miss Joan Spafford, Miss Ann Armstrong, Miss Mary Baldwin, Miss Sylvia Ross and Miss Jane Armstrong.

The mecca towards which all guests wended their way throughout the afternoon was the Curiosity Shop and sale, the two occupying the entire lower floor, which was crowded with interested men and women, all of whom were loath to leave this intriguing spot. The Curiosity Shop was of course the outstanding feature, the hostesses in the large room, namely, Mrs. S. B. Wood, Mrs. E. N. Fidler and Mrs. E. G. Bascom, each wearing old fashioned and becoming costumes, very graciously acted as guides, helping the large number of guests to view in their, of necessity cursory inspection, the many beautiful and unique treasures, generously loaned by private collectors and connoisseurs. Exquisite glass, handiwork, antique china, silver, ornaments, collections arranged in cabinets, old Sherbrooke prints, brass and other ornaments from the Staffordshire china dogs and many other objects of art were artistically arranged, while the whole "Shop" was truly a very delightful place, the only regret being lack of time to really enjoy the splendid exhibition.

A touch of modernism to the old time Curiosity Shop was also an additional attraction. There were also sales tables and a bake shop, this tempting shop being in charge of Mrs. Z. W. Griffith, Mrs. L. W. Cross, Mrs. W. G. Cross, Mrs. D. W. Wadsworth and Mrs. W. R. Southgate.

Adorable dolls and other toys were sold by Mrs. Garnet Ross, Mrs. J. S. Robertson and Mrs. Alex Johnston; aprons, bags and an assortment of pretty things were in charge of Mrs. Alex Ross, Mrs. T. R. Mackenzie and Mrs. H. B. Johnston, and finally, miscellaneous attractions were assembled on a table convened by Mrs. F. C. Churchill, Mrs. Fraser McQuinn, Mrs. Walter Sutherland and Mrs. Gerald Spafford.

The members of the Association are to be congratulated upon the brilliant success of their major autumn effort, the Curiosity Shop tea party being both socially and financially a wonderful success.

HOT ASHES CAUSE BLAZE
Hot ashes caused light damage to the outside stairs and a shed in the yard of Alfred Ducharme, 57-a Aberdeen Street, yesterday, before the blaze was put out by the Municipal Fire Department.

The only other call took firemen to the home of C. Hazzard, 16 Gillespie Street, where a chimney fire was put out. There was no damage. No car accidents were reported, no prisoners booked by police during the day ending at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

ducts and they will have to govern themselves accordingly it has been ruled.

They must also issue for each coupon only the amount of jam jelly, etc., allowed under the recent ration schedule.

Up to the present time, farm women have been selling jams, put up in glass containers on the farm, without accepting coupons. It was learned that farmers' wives obtained special permits from Ottawa for additional supplies of sugar to put up fruit on the farm in order to prevent it going to waste and have been selling the products on the market.

The Big One Got Away!

Splendid example of the manner in which local citizens heeded the Government urge to plant Victory Gardens, is seen in this huge, 76 pound squash, grown in a Sherbrooke back-yard garden.

Result of a spare time hobby of J. A. Royer, C.P.R. Express employee, 67-B Mt. Pleasant St., this specimen is only one of a garden-full of similar products, showing what can be done in the Eastern Townships.

A larger squash, 82 pounds, on the same vine, was spirited away in the night by some person or persons unknown.

An ordinary variety of summer squash, the seed was planted late in June, and carefully tended by Mr. Royer to produce the above result. It is on display in the Record window.

Flt. Lieut. G. O. Palmer Named C.O. At Windsor Mills E.F.T.S.

Appointment of Flt.-Lieut. G. O. Palmer, aged twenty-four, of Sherbrooke, as Commanding Officer of No. Four Elementary Flying and Training School at Windsor Mills, where he has been Assistant Chief Flying Instructor, was announced today. His wife resides on Montreal Street.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Palmer, of Bedford, Flight-Lieutenant Palmer joined the R.C. A.P. in August, 1940, receiving his training at Cap de la Madeleine, was given his wings and commission in April, 1941, at Summerside, P.E.I., and then took a flying instructors' course at Trenton.

He was then posted to Uplands as an instructor, remaining there for a year and a-half before coming to the Windsor Mills Flying School as Squadron Commander. He was promoted from the rank of Flying Officer at the same time his appointment as Assistant Chief Flying Instructor at the Windsor Mills School was announced last March.

DEMONSTRATION IS STAGED BY 35TH BATTERY

Hundreds of people lined King Hill last night to see the display put on by members of the 35th Battery who were giving a demonstration of artillery practice from the slopes of East Sherbrooke near the radio tower. The members of the Battery fired ten rounds from two of their 4.5 guns and they were signalled from a point on King Hill near the monument. The demonstration worked out according to plans with the exception of the noise made by the big guns when they were fired. It was expected that the sound would carry to the center of the city but only a faint boom was to be heard in the lower section. The flash of the guns as they were discharged was clearly visible, however, and the signalling system to fire was picked up in good style by the gun crews on the hill.

The 35th Battery has been doing a considerable amount of training with their artillery and they are rapidly becoming efficient in the use of the 4.5's. The men of the unit are out on schemes continually and all find that their training is interesting, educational and a great deal of fun.

The efficient manner in which they carried out their drill last night was proof of the training which they are receiving under the command of Major L. W. Greenland.

MUCH PRODUCE WAS RUINED BY COLD WEATHER

Tons of produce on the Eastern Townships farms were destroyed when the mercury took a drop last week, farmers on the Lansdowne Market reported today. Farmers said there were heavy losses in their localities, with acres of supplies which would have been canned to meet the heavy winter demands were ruined.

The toll of tomatoes and cucumbers was heavy and many farmers said the cold snap had ended their harvest of these crops. Qui higher which would have been canned to meet the heavy winter demands were ruined.

Such a heavy attack is unusual at this time of the year. Farmers said that plots which would have remained in production for some time yet had been reduced to limp, brown growth.

The seriousness of the situation, emphasized the producers, is that the foodstuffs are urgently needed. Because of inability to obtain sufficient help, the harvest of many lines was delayed this year.

The farmers said that they were hoping the severe frost would not come to blight yields before they had a chance to get well on with the harvest, but the appearance of the frost was not only early, but of unusual severity.

Many farmers on the mart told citizens that they were offering the last of their crop, for almost everything that was unpicked was completely ruined. The cucumbers shared the fate of the tomato vines and only part of the crop had been taken off.

Most of the crops which were hit would have been canned and the unfavorable weather has reduced the volume. The pinch will be felt at a time when the heaviest demand in history is being made for supplies. Owners said that they worked long hours trying to gather everything fearing, they might have such an experience, but pointed out that it was almost impossible to get sufficient help to gather the yields and they just had to do their best.

CPL. DOBB WRITES FROM PRISON CAMP

Word was received by Mrs. W. O. Dobb, 272 Ontario Street, from Cpl. William Orrie Dobb, Royal Rifles, now a prisoner of war in a Japanese camp.

He states that he is feeling well and that "conditions are not too bad" where he is confined.

Cpl. Dobb was taken prisoner at the fall of Hong Kong.

JOHNS-MANVILLE ALLIES RELY ON CANADIAN MINE

The United Nations at war can be thankful that the largest asbestos mine in the world is located in Canada, and not in an enemy country. This Johns-Manville mine at Asbestos, Quebec now supplies a large proportion of the asbestos fibre required for vital war purposes, and the output in the past four years has been more than doubled to keep pace with Allied needs. Today, asbestos is used by Johns-Manville in manufacturing more than 1,000 different war products. You see, asbestos is fireproof and practically indestructible. That is why it is invaluable in making products for war industries and military buildings—combat planes and armoured vehicles—naval units and fire-fighters. From the experience gained in wartime, Johns-Manville research workers are developing still better products to serve Canadian homes, farms and industries of tomorrow.

INVITATION

You are cordially invited to attend a meeting of the Sherbrooke Branch of the Bible Society, to be held on Sunday, the 26th of September, 1943, in St. Peter's Church Hall at 8:30 p.m.

Mr. George M. Franck will give a lecture entitled "Rebuilding The Holy Land," illustrated by colored lantern slides.

S. R. Newton, President.
Arthur C. Hill, Secretary.

"Am I lucky!"
"It's a tough break to be disabled. While I may never earn another dollar, my disability insurance has come to my rescue. I get a cheque every month from the London Life."
"That cheque enables us to get by without making my wife and children bear the brunt of it all."
The additional cost of this disability benefit was only $2.00 a month. The policy was taken five years ago when he was 34. This year he gets—
Disability Income . . . $600.00
Premiums cancelled . . . 240.90
Annual Dividend . . . 34.50
By age 65, if still disabled, he will have received $15,600 disability income and annual dividends for the 26 years in addition to the cancellation of premiums of $6,263 during the period. At age 65 his insurance would mature as an endowment and he would receive $10,000, the face value, in cash.
Disability coverage is vital and is available from this Company. It has been part of London Life service for the past twenty-five years and has "saved the day" for thousands of policyholders.

THE AGONY OF POLAND'S CHILDREN

Citizens throughout the Dominion will join during the Week of September 26 in observance of the agony of Poland's children, who have been starved, mistreated and killed by the Germans.

Dr. Lawrence J. Burpee, Chairman of the Canadian Friends of Poland, says that through schools, newspapers and church organizations people of the United Kingdom, United States and Canada will be reminded of the sacrifices of Polish children.

The Polish Government in London has made September 26 a day to commemorate the part played by children, and it is hoped the day would be observed in Canada also.

Various Polish organizations in Canada will hold meetings September 26 to mark their protest against the treatment of the children.

In addition to Maj.-Gen. Simonds, who was decorated for brilliantly leading the Canadian 1st Division through the Sicilian campaign, a number of other Canadian officers and men were also recognized in this manner, including one of the Eastern Townships' own sons.

In command of a party which performed one of the most courageous feats of mine clearing in the Sicilian campaign, according to the citation, was Lt. William Kenneth Heron, with the Royal Canadian Engineers, who has been awarded the Military Cross.

An engineering student at the time of his enlistment in the Engineers, Lt. Heron was born in Sherbrooke and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Heron, of Asbestos. The citation accompanying the decoration explains that Canadian tanks ran into a heavy concentration of mines and Lt. Heron and a platoon went in under shrapnel "and stayed there for two hours clearing lanes by which the trapped tanks eventually made their escape." One tank had been blown up and three others were left stranded in the open, unable to move backward or forward without danger of meeting the same fate.

The Eastern Townships may well be proud of this 27-year-old officer who did so valiantly in the face of danger and emergency.

The first list of decorations was announced last October 2 and rewarded 178 men for their bravery on the sands of Dieppe in the August 19, 1942, raid there by Maj.-Gen. J. H. Roberts and troops of his 2nd Division.

MACARTHUR AND THE BURMA CAMPAIGN

One of the many things the world likes about Gen. Douglas MacArthur is that this great soldier speaks his mind as befits a man of action, but his unusual statement in Australia that however subordinate may be his role in the war, he hopes to play it manfully, leaves one with feelings of deep puzzlement as to why he thought it necessary to issue it.

The General's declaration is wholly cryptic to the public, and the usual news sources in Washington profess to be equally at a loss. There's no indication of what inspired it beyond the fact that obviously something is troubling him.

Many observers think perhaps MacArthur is talking about the coming Burma drive, and the appointment of Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten as Allied Commander in Southeast Asia. It's hard to see how Mountbatten's appointment could subordinate MacArthur or detract from the latter's command. It might easily be, however, that the staging of the Burma show, which will call for the massing of vast striking-power in the Indian theatre might temporarily deprive the General of resources which he would like for his own offensive, in the opinion of De Witt MacKenzie, A.P. War Analyst.

Be all that as may, the Allied High Command says the Burma show is to go forward. That's in accordance with the general strategy laid out long ago. As things now stand, one of the first things which must be done in the grand offensive against Japan is to drive the Mikado's little men out of Burma and reopen the Burma road—China's lifeline to the outside world.

It's one of the miracles of the war that the severance of this communication hasn't forced the Chinese to capitulate, despite their heroic fortitude. They're in a manner of speaking being fighting with bare fists and tight belts. If the Chinese should be knocked out it would present the Allies with bleak prospects.

We are looking to China to supply the fighting men to oust the Japs from the continent, and air bases from which we can operate against the invaders and against Japan itself. We must feed and arm the Chinese. We need Burma as a base; we need its resources, especially the oil which is so badly wanted for Chinese operations.

Eviction of the Japanese from their positions in the Burmese jungles represents a vast operation. It calls for an amphibious expedition which will tax Allied resources if it's undertaken before the end of the European war, as we are led to believe is the intention unless Hitler collapses in the near future. Perhaps MacArthur's own operations might be delayed by this, though one would hope that he might see both offensives going at once, thus placing the Nipponese in a vise.

PREPARING FOR QUEENSHIP

Another step in the preparation of Princess Elizabeth for Queenship which will give her an opportunity to try her hand at statecraft has been taken in the decision that when the King is absent from the realm, the Princess may serve as one of his councillors of state. The King made the request for Parliament's agreement in a message read to the House of Commons yesterday, and this action was also interpreted to mean His Majesty may be contemplating another trip some day to visit his forces abroad.

On the King's last foreign trip, to visit the troops in North Africa, the Princess was excluded from the Council of State, headed by the Queen, because she was a minor. She will attain legal majority on her 18th birthday next April 21st.

DECORATIONS FOR GALLANTRY

Publication yesterday of decorations for gallantry and heroism awarded to Canadian First Division men in Sicily, including award of the Distinguished Service Order to Maj.-Gen. Guy Simonds, of Kingston, Ont., made up the second such group of recognitions accorded to Canadian-Army men in this war.

In addition to Maj.-Gen. Simonds, who was decorated for brilliantly leading the Canadian 1st Division through the Sicilian campaign, a number of other Canadian officers and men were also recognized in this manner, including one of the Eastern Townships' own sons.

In command of a party which performed one of the most courageous feats of mine clearing in the Sicilian campaign, according to the citation, was Lt. William Kenneth Heron, with the Royal Canadian Engineers, who has been awarded the Military Cross.

An engineering student at the time of his enlistment in the Engineers, Lt. Heron was born in Sherbrooke and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Heron, of Asbestos. The citation accompanying the decoration explains that Canadian tanks ran into a heavy concentration of mines and Lt. Heron and a platoon went in under shrapnel "and stayed there for two hours clearing lanes by which the trapped tanks eventually made their escape." One tank had been blown up and three others were left stranded in the open, unable to move backward or forward without danger of meeting the same fate.

The Eastern Townships may well be proud of this 27-year-old officer who did so valiantly in the face of danger and emergency.

The first list of decorations was announced last October 2 and rewarded 178 men for their bravery on the sands of Dieppe in the August 19, 1942, raid there by Maj.-Gen. J. H. Roberts and troops of his 2nd Division.

RUSSIANS REACH DNIEPER IN FORCE

The Associated Press wires carried happy tidings from Moscow this morning with the report that the Soviet Army had reached the Dnieper "in force." A dispatch to the Army newspaper Red Star said Russian troops first reached this big objective through Novomoskovsk in the Lower Ukraine on the upper elbow of the river in a drive from Poltava, which fell to the Russians yesterday.

A dispatch to the Army newspaper Red Star said strong forces of Soviet troops had arrived on the banks of the Dnieper at other points.

As the Russians reached the Dnieper from Novomoskovsk, the Germans threw in everything they had in an attempt to halt the Red army drive West of Poltava, capture of which was the high spot of yesterday's Russian forward surge.

"The Germans attempted to protect the Poltava district," said the Red Star dispatch, "from whence to some extent they could tie up the operations of our troops who advanced to the Dnieper from the left and right."

PRESS COMMENTS

MANPOWER SITUATION A DISASTER

Ottawa Journal

Canada's manpower position, now admittedly grave, can be set out in a few paragraphs. Thus:

1—Since March enlistments for the Active Army Overseas have fallen to a point where they are 3,000 a month less than the Army's wastage and reinforcement needs.

2—The Air Force, in many ways our greatest war contribution, is now facing a shortage of recruits.

3—There is continued and growing shortage of workers in the timber and pulp and paper industries, in coal mining, and for war industries and farms.

Faced with this almost inevitable manpower crisis—inventive under the policies that have prevailed—and with political expediency no longer able to avert it, the Government has at last decided to reduce its so-called "Home Defence" army. Breaking up three divisions, the 6th, 7th, 8th and separating their "call-up" troops from volunteers for overseas, it will train parts of them for overseas service, release other parts for war production and industry.

Why the Government has waited until the eleventh hour, until it was faced with crisis, to take even this half measure, seems beyond comprehension. The excuse given is that it could not be done so long as Japanese troops held the Aleutians. Which is nonsense. Japanese troops were in the Aleutians for more than a year, but it was obvious six months ago that possibility of an attempted invasion of the continent was utterly non-existent. Equally obvious was it, and more so, that if invasion did come the bulk of the "call-up" troops which we had in this country could provide no check against it.

Yet when responsible public men and newspapers denounced this "Home Defence" troops scheme as a "hoax," they were all but stigmatized by the Government as traitors. Now the traitors are shown to have been right with the Government proclaiming by its own act that what this "Home Defence" army of mixed conscripts and volunteers resulted in was denial of reinforcements for our war industry.

But the Government, in its recantation, in its confession of its failure, still only resorts to half-measures. Still with us is the hap-hazard, hit-and-miss, political system under which we are to have a dual army, and under which young men are to have been right with the Government where this war is being fought will be called up for fake home service, their able bodies denied not merely to real fighting, but as well to useful war work on our farms or in our factories. That is the absolute position. This country still is without an honest, intelligent, organized plan of national selective service.

The proof? It is found in the very statement by which the Minister of Defence announces this home army reduction. Says Col. Ralston:

"The Army feels it can confidently ask citizens in their turn to encourage and release for military enlistment so as to ensure to the Canadian Army overseas the backing it deserves and must have for the heavy tasks ahead of it."

It is not the task, nor the duty, of citizens to "ensure to the Canadian Army overseas the backing it deserves and must have." That task must belong to the Government, and when the Government deserts it, when it seeks to put the duty on other shoulders, it is abandoning the Canadian Army. It is showing, in fact, unfitness to carry on the war.

The Government, in this war, has done some big things well. But the Government's handling of the manpower situation has from the first been a disaster, marked by muddle and mismanagement, and, beyond any doubt, inspired by political cowardice. That, and that alone, has brought the perilous manpower position which now clouds our war effort—and that in addition has brought to this country the dire evil of a dis-united people.

BRITAIN WILL CARRY THROUGH UNTIL JAPANESE SURRENDER

Christian Science Monitor

Hard words will not defeat the Axis. Mr. Bracken's "burn, bomb, destroy," or even more scorching Churchillian terms which may issue from the Quebec Conference are less likely to influence the decision than are the shells from Allied warships now pounding the toe of Italy and the industrial cities to masses of rubble. But the statement of the British Minister of Information may be very useful for home consumption in the United States and Britain. The purpose to "carry through" to such a complete military decision as will leave no room for the Axis to win the peace cannot be too often restated and crystallized. In particular it is well for the American people to be reminded that Britain has a very great interest in rolling back tentacles of Japanese conquest. And even for the British people who—because already more damaged and imperilled close to home—have never had quite the feeling about Japan that Pearl Harbor evoked in Americans, there will be value in Mr. Bracken's words. In Canada, in Australia and New Zealand, in India and among all the million of British people who have either an ideal or material interest in the East, this new assurance that Britain's full might will be employed in collaboration with the United States to smash Japan will be welcome. But among Britons a "follow through" has been largely taken for granted while many Americans have forgotten that Britain had a larger stake in territory, tradition and investments than did the United States in the area seized by Japan. Rarely in modern times have British subjects been treated as the Japanese treated them in Shanghai, Hong Kong, Singapore and Rangoon. But beyond any economic interest or emotional feeling lies the British peoples' increased appreciation of the necessity to pursue the present aggression anywhere. Wary as they may be with the vaster menace of Hitlerism, the British can be counted on to carry the "unconditional surrender" programme all the way to Tokyo.

WHAT INDIA WANTS

Chicago Daily News

Freedom, in the sense of national independence, will be India's moment the fighting kind of men in India agree that they really want it. Who knows this better than Churchill, who saw with his own eyes a few small guerrilla bands in Cuba hold at bay a Spanish army of 140,000 men from 1895 to 1898, and later saw 25,000 British riflemen shake the British empire on its foundation? And later Mr. Churchill saw, to his regret, about 3,000,000 Irishmen bring to naught the power of the British army and police. The idea that 395,000,000 people in India could be held in bondage by 60,000 or 70,000 British troops and civil officials is just too absurd. That the 395,000,000 continue to live under the very nominal sovereignty of the King of Windsor, Emperor of India, merely goes to show that a very substantial part of the 395,000,000—probably a majority—prefer the very real civil and economic liberties of the British Raj to what they might get under independence, with its inevitable native class and caste rule.

WANT PETAIN TO BE TRIED

Montreal Gazette

If there are some who still cling to the idea of a Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, who is just a kindly, well-meaning old soldier who is doing his best for his country, their estimate of the Vichy Chief of State is not shared by the French Committee of National Liberation in Algiers. That Committee, immediately following upon its recognition by the principal United Nations, went into council and reached a number of important decisions, the first of which was that all members of Petain's "pseudo-government" at Vichy, including the Marshal himself, will be handed over to justice as soon as they can be reached.

The Committee made no distinction between Petain and his Cabinet. They put the Marshal's name first, and after it the names of all the puppet ministers who have attacked the constitution, collaborated with the enemy, sent French workers to German industries and done all that they could to turn the forces of France against the Allies and hamper the efforts of loyal Frenchmen.

THE ANIMALS STEP OUT

Lethbridge Herald

Some of our politicians who think we should all be reclining on a bed of roses forget that we are only half a century from the search of food. The grizzlies have been driven out of the mountains by the poor berry crop, while the elk seek out the rancher's haystacks in winter as a source of food supply—sort of security. If it were, the fact is that the South Alberta agriculture is still quite young. We have had to learn by hard experience what we could do and what we could not do, and the result has been failures along with successes. But let us not expect much in too big a hurry. We're still competing with the wild animals.

EXPERTS PLAY HAND WITH VARIED RESULTS

As often as I have sung the praises of our champion players as card-playing artists, I must admit that they go surprisingly wrong on some hands. Today's hand is really quite a simple problem the way Milton Casson, of Boston, Mass., and several others handled it in the national championship tournament this summer. But somehow there were five or six players who managed to go down.

Against Casson, the spade ace was opened and dummy ruffed. The important next play was to cash the heart ace and lead a low heart. This provided assured entry back to the South hand at any time, and offered a chance to make an overtrick in case the hearts were divided three-three. As it happened, they were not. East won the second heart and led a club. Dummy's queen won this, and South ruffed a heart to get back to his hand. He ruffed his last spade in dummy, ruffed still another heart in his own hand, and drew the

PERRY-TITCOMB

The marriage of Edith Margaret, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Titcomb, of Lennoxville, to Mr. Clifton Graham Perry, Kenogami, son of Mr. Gordon Perry and his wife, the late Alva M. Perry, Quebec City, took place in the United Church, Kenogami, Que., at half past two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, September 11th, the Reverend M. A. Booth, officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. A. Douglas Kent, of Arvida, Que., and wore a graceful floor-length gown of white sheer, fashioned on simple lines with long sleeves. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was shirred in halo effect and she carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and gypsophila. Her only ornament was a gold locket, a gift of the groom, to whom the bride gave a gold signet ring.

Miss Margaret McNab, Kenogami, was the bride's only attendant and was wearing a slipper-length frock of pale pink point d'esprit over taffeta, made in bouffant style, with a small shirred hat and gloves of the same material, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white gladioli. Mr. Stuart P. Elkins, Montreal, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Frank J. McClary and Mr. Ralph W. Joyney, Kenogami. The reception for the bridal party and the immediate families, was held in the Rose Room, Staff House, where the bride's table was centered with a beautiful wedding cake, white candies and cut garden flowers. Gladioli and ferns adorned the altar and the guest pews were marked with white ribbon and baby's breath. Miss Mary McIntosh presided at the organ, and sang, "O Perfect Love," during the signing of the register. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. A. Douglas Kent, of Arvida, Que., and wore a graceful floor-length gown of white sheer, fashioned on simple lines with long sleeves. sheer, the full skirt falling gracefully from a fitted bodice having a lace yoke with applique of sheer bows. Her shoulder length veil of matching tulle was held with a tiara of blue and pink forget-me-nots, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink gladioli with forget-me-nots. The bride's sister, Miss Erma Marsh was her only attendant and she was wearing a slipper length frock of pink sheer, fashioned with a full skirt and shirred bodice with long full sleeves. Her veil of matching tulle was caught with a tiara of pink and blue forget-me-nots, and she carried an arm bouquet of var-hued gladioli. Mr. William Jolley, brother of the groom, acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. Wilfred Moffatt and Mr. Thomas Connelley. Mrs. Marsh, the bride's mother wore a gown of wine sheer with a matching hat and accessories, and a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Jolley, mother of the groom, was gowned in navy blue crepe and wore a matching hat and accessories and a corsage of white roses. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Sweetsburg, where a four-tiered wedding cake, decorated by Mrs. Kenneth Miller, formed the attractive centerpiece on the bride's table, which was lighted with white tapers in silver holders. Later the bride and groom left to spend their honeymoon in Napanee, Ont., the bride travelling in a smart suit of powder blue wool, a navy hat and accessories and wearing a corsage of deep red roses. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Jolley will take up residence in West Shefford. The out-of-town guests included the Misses Erma, Carolyn and Hovine Marsh, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Jolley and Misses Bessie and Lillian Jolley, of West Shefford; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Spencer, of Waterloo; Mr. F. A. Frizzle, Mrs. Horace Whitehead, Mrs. Walter Fuller, of Knowlton; Mrs. Horace Wells, of West Brome; Mr. James Frizzle, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Osborne and family, of Brome Centre; Mr. and Mrs. Forest Tibbits, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Tibbits, Mrs. W. R. Miller, of Bondville; Mrs. Ruth Sweet and Mrs. Kenneth Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jolley and family, of Sweetsburg; Rev. Mr. Mackland, Mrs. Moffatt and Wilfred Moffatt, of Iron Hill.

Afterwards the bride and groom left to spend their honeymoon in Montreal, Ottawa and Quebec, the bride travelling in a two-piece dress of navy blue crepe with navy and white plaid collar and cuffs, a matching blue hat and accessories, and wearing a corsage of pink roses. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Perry will reside in Kenogami, Que. The out-of-town guests included, Mr. and Mrs. A. Douglas Kent, Arvida; Mrs. Forbes McGill, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. H. Gordon Perry, Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Elkins, Master David Elkins and Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Denis, Montreal. This wedding will be of special interest to friends in Lennoxville and vicinity where the bride and her family resided for many years.

JOLLEY-MARSH

The marriage of Cora Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erroll Marsh, Sweetsburg, to Mr. Maurice Walton Jolley, Waterloo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Jolley, Waterloo, was solemnized in Holy Trinity Church, Iron Hill, at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, September 18, the Rev. E. F. Macklin officiating. Gladioli, dahlias, cosmos and autumn foliage were used to decorate the church, while the guest pews were marked with balsam and ferns. Mrs. Harry Moffatt presided at the organ, playing the Bridal Music from Lohengrin and accompanying the choir who sang "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden" during the signing of the register. The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a floor length gown of forget-me-not blue

The Misses Ruth and Betty Burroughs entertained delightfully on Wednesday evening at their home, 215 Victoria Street, in honor of Miss Joyce McLeod, a popular bride-to-be, to whom the party was a complete surprise. The decorative scheme was charmingly carried out in pink, blue and white, with a profusion of late garden flowers. A large and cleverly fashioned three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with silver dragees, and topped with a dainty bouquet of pansies and carnations, was used as a camouflage for the many lovely shower gifts which the bride-elect found as she lifted each tier separately and, after unwrapping the dainty parcels, arranged her presents on the lace-covered table. Miss McLeod gracefully thanked her friends, especially mentioning the hostesses whose surprise party she had so much enjoyed. Later, refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. George Lavalee, the table being attractively done with autumn flowers.

PERFUMED OIL GIVES EYES AND LIPS NEW GLAMOR

LISA FONSSAGRIVES: Chic.

BY ALICIA HART

The secret of that much-desired radiant look, so typical of beautiful models, is perfumed oil. "After I apply my make-up," divulges beautiful, blond Lisa Fonssagrives, and one of Schiaparelli's most famous Parisian manikins, "I add just a touch of a specially prepared oil to my lips and eyelids. This is what achieves that dewy look, and what is even more important, softens the area around the eyes," which Lisa pointed out, is mighty discouraging to equine lines. And a touch of this same oil over newly applied lipstick, Lisa has found, not only gives them a brilliant finish, but leaves them smooth and fragrant.

All of which sounds like an excellent beauty hint to keep in mind for cold, blustery weather ahead, when lips are so apt to chap and make lipstick look dry and caked.

NUTRITIOUS RABBIT ADDS TASTE TO WAR MEALS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

Our meat supplies aren't going to be large enough to supply all demands here and abroad unless we do something about it. The domestic rabbit fits into that picture with its delicately flavored meat, white as the breast of chicken and the fact that home dwellers can raise them in a small space in short time.

BREAKFAST: Grape and grapefruit juice, mixed cooked cereal, bacon, muffins, butter, coffee, milk.

LUNCH: Corn bread, bacon gravy, sliced tomatoes, lemon gelatin, tea, milk.

DINNER: Rabbit en casserole, baked potatoes, brussels sprouts, enriched bread, butter, raw carrot sticks, applesauce pie, coffee, milk.

Fried Rabbit

Choose a plump young rabbit. Wipe the dressed meat with a damp cloth and cut into serving pieces. Beat 1 egg yoke, add 1/2 cup milk and 1/2 teaspoon salt, and stir into 1/2 cup flour to make a smooth batter. In a heavy skillet, heat 4 tablespoons of

CONGOLEUM Gold Seal Rugs

HOW TO HELP MR. GOLD SEAL MAKE GOOD
You can get added wear out of your Congoleum floor with very little effort. Brush and mop them regularly and renew the brightness of their surface with an occasional waxing. Make sure too, that the floor underneath is smooth and free from crevices or knobs. If it's a rug, move it every few months to "spread" the traffic. Yes, a little care will pay big dividends.

RELUCTANT KISSES

EVEN A BRIDE IS REPELLED BY "B.O."

COULD love grow cold so soon? Instinctively—not meaning to hurt him—she draws away. His carelessness—about one thing offends her.

Yes, "B.O." can imperil love itself!

So much may be at stake in the impressions we make on others. Even a new acquaintance may open the road to success—or failure. It's foolhardy to take chances with "B.O." Millions of people have learned the easy way to play safe. Adopt their simple daily precaution. Bathe with Lifebuoy—the one popular soap especially made to stop "B.O."

What a joy Lifebuoy is in your bath! Its rich, creamy suds—so gentle and mild on your skin—are wonderfully cleansing. That clean, invigorating scent refreshes you—then vanishes before you're dressed. But you can be confident; you're really protected against treacherous "B.O."

YOUR FEEDING ADVISOR

By LARRY MERRIGAN
Monday afternoon at the invitation of Mr. "Chum" Ross, President of the Milk Producers of Sherbrooke, I attended the opening mass meeting of the Carnation shippers and the Milk Producers' Association. I was very much impressed with the turnout, even though it was a beautiful day to cut and take in grain. It was a Brome day, inasmuch as the men from that part of the country turned out in real force. In all, the meeting was attended by about 400 interested people. This is the first time I have seen the farmers go all out to unite as a body. The great part of the people present were French, and it goes to show that our French friends are going along the road with the rest of the country. The main purpose of the meeting was to see if the shippers to the condensery were willing to form a body with the Milk Producers of Sherbrooke or if they wouldn't do this, to form a separate body, working along with the men in the other body. It was pointed out to all the advantages of being united, and I for one was all for it. One man alone is not worth much, but when you have a large group, that's a different matter. There were men from all over, and at the night meeting for the fluid milk men, some of the other shippers turned up and were given the same talk as was given in the afternoon. I'd say that from where I was looking, the farmers are going to get together at last. It's about time.

What I liked about the whole thing that there was not a voice raised against the motion from one farmer to another. There were 100 p.c. in favor of forming the body. Two men were picked from each track route, to attend the next meeting in the Sherbrooke Arena Monday next at 2 p.m. Anyone that was not at the last meeting can come to the next. They intend to form a body, and elect the officers of the group. From then on, it will be up to every farmer shipping milk to get in with the rest and make a solid front. You will help yourself a great deal.

I am writing about this united farmers' group this week, because I believe that it is the only way you, the farmer, will be able to get action instead of words. It will mean a great deal to you in the post-war time, when everything tries to go back to the old days, when there were more cows than the need demanded. Your British market has to be protected, and this cannot be done by one or two men. It has to be done by the farmers as a whole. Just to know what is being done by this association, I'd like to point out to you, the farmer, something you don't all know. Last year you had no subsidy for your milk. This year the association went to the Government for a 50c rise. They received a 30c rise. This was not what they asked, but they at least got the 30c, and you are not even a member. Now the fee of the association is worked like this: On every hundred pounds of milk you ship, the milk plant takes from your cheque one-half cent per hundred.

You Women Who Suffer From HOT FLASHES then CHILLY FEELINGS

If you—like so many women between the ages of 38 and 52—suffer from hot flashes, weak, dizzy, nervous feelings, irregular periods, are blue at times—due to this middle age period in a woman's life—start taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. It's one of the most effective medicines you can buy that's made especially for women, to relieve such painful distress. In fact—taken regularly Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such symptoms. It also is a fine stomach tonic. Thousands upon thousands of women—rich and poor alike—have reported benefits. Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound has proved some women's happiest days can be during their "40's." Made in Canada. Worth trying!

NOTICE to POULTRYMEN

Poultry market firm. We do not look for any reduction in price for the Fall pack. Receipts heavy. We again call attention to our shippers regarding the marketing of unfinished birds. We must have well finished chickens weighing six pounds and up, live weight, to bring the top price. Demand for eggs good. Our prices are now near the ceiling to allow us to sell at the price set by the W.P.T.B. Ship your poultry to us the first four days of the week.

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS PRODUCE LTD. 21 King St. West, Sherbrooke. Tel. 1063

This is turned over to your group and helps it to operate. Now when you take that they got you 30c a hundred more for your milk, a half cent is not even a drop in the bucket. You will have in your employ two fieldmen who will be working for you, the farmer. They will be paid out of the group's money, but will work with and for you. If there are any complaints from you about tests, etc., they will ask the milk company to let them test the samples over. The milk companies have shown that they, too, are in favor of this, and are co-operating with the association 100 per cent. The officers of your group will send delegates to the different Government groups to state your positions and put forward your demands. There are a hundred and one ways that an organization of this kind can benefit you. The cost to you is so small that some men don't even mention it for fear that someone will think that they are getting away with anything by paying hardly nothing. I'd like to see all my friends at the next meeting on Monday next at 2 p.m. You can't go wrong if you all stick together. I've heard a lot of people yelling for some time that this or that is wrong. Well, up to now you never have done anything about all these things. You are getting a chance to get together and do all you have been talking about for some time. I'd act now, for action speaks very much louder than words.

Weekly Letter to Farmers

W. S. RICHARDSON, Assistant Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Station, Lennoxville, Que.

From the time when man first realized that he should plant seeds in order to have a harvest, he has been stirring or turning over the soil. His first implement was merely a crooked stick and there has been a gradual improvement till we have our modern plow. With our present plows it is possible to do excellent work but now and then work that is not a credit to the plowman is noticed. Care in fitting up the plow and in handling it will make the difference between good and bad work. The object in plowing a sod field is to turn all the grass under so that it will rot and not grow and to have enough soil to form a seed-bed. In plowing sod the use of a skimmer is strongly recommended as a means of getting all the grass turned under. Depth of plowing is not a factor in the amount of crop produced according to an experiment conducted on the Experimental Station at Lennoxville, Que., for fourteen years. Plots plowed four inches and seven inches deep over this period produced practically the same yields of corn, oats and hay. As it requires more power to plow deep it is therefore a waste of power to plow deeper than necessary to get enough soil for a seed-bed. Straight plowing is not necessarily good plowing but the man who is able to run a straight furrow is more likely to be doing a good job. With a crooked furrow there is always the tendency to be too wide at one place and too narrow at others and thus fail to completely cover the grass. A poor job this fall will require much more work next spring if the land is to be properly prepared for seeding. Within the next month plowing matches will be held in many localities and it is a good idea for farmers, even though they are busy, to take enough time to attend their local match. Not only to attend as a spectator but to take part in the competition. Ask the old and experienced plowmen for advice. They are always willing to show the beginner who takes an interest in his work, how it should be done. Do a good job of plowing the soil this fall. It will pay in case of preparation next spring and improved crops.

days' vacation to enable the children to attend Brome Fair. Miss Emma Delaire is improving her property by a new coat of paint. Mr. L. C. Stanhope, of "Twin Maples," has been engaged to do the work. Mr. David Cady and sons, of Sweetsburg, were in Brome. Mr. Patrick Copp, of Providence, R.I., was a guest in town. Messrs. Joseph and Ovide Noisoux, of Cowansville, were calling on friends in Brome. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clarkson, of Sutton Junction, were in Brome one day. Mr. C. W. Davis was in Sutton on business. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Guilloite and family, of Knowlton, motored to Brome for an afternoon.
