Safety Drive Nets Score Speeders

The Westmount Examiner

VOL. XXVIII, No. 14 — WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1957 — TWENTY PAGES

Keep The Law And Your Cash Is City View

More than a score of arrests have been recorded by Westmount police in the current enforcement of school-zone speed laws locally.

Motorists arrested had been clocked going more than 20 miles an hour in the prescribed zones — and an opinion close to the situation is that a high percentage of drivers disobey the laws.

"We would rather have them obey the law and save their cash" City Manager Hughes told The Examiner yesterday, "we don't want to fine them."

The safety campaign was started after a recent speed check showed that 70 per cent of motorists ignored school speed warnings. According to police records 14 children have been involved in accidents with motor vehicles since Jan. 1, 1956. Nine of these accidents involved children somewhere en route between their home and school.

A careful study of the accidents involving children shows that every accident was preceded by a moment's carelessness or pre-occupation on the part of the child. In 13 out of 14 cases the child was running.

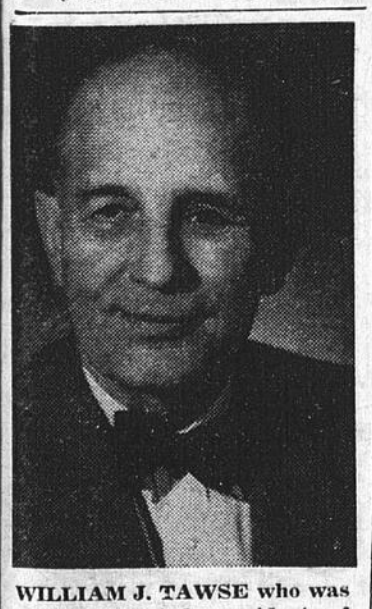

In order to alleviate accidents, Westmount officials installed over-size, red, triangular school signs in vicinity of the Roslyn School, and St. Paul's Academy. Additional school signs were placed in the King's School zone. Pedestrian crossings are to be painted in the vicinity of the schools, and officials hope to recruit more men and women as Crossing Guardians.

In spite of the fact that the number of traffic tickets issued to motorists in Westmount since 1953 has increased, the number of accidents involving pedestrians and motorists has been decreasing. In order to continue this decrease, Westmount officials are not only increasing law enforcement but also attempting to educate the motorist and pedestrian. They believe that if

Next Week's Weather

By ERIC NEAL

April 6 to 13

Mainly sunny into Sunday, then clouding for night drizzle or wet mists, and clearing again.

Bright mid-week with morning fogs or mists, which however, will be dispersed by strong winds. Drizzle in the mountains, even snow flurries for some districts. Our "false spring" is coming to an end as cold April rains arrive.

Cooler, but pleasant for the end of the week.

Fire, Police Deputies May Be Moved Up

Deputy Chief of Police R. Edmonstone and Deputy Fire Chief Edward C. Harper may well be named to head their respective departments in Westmount within the next three months. The deputy chiefs are logical choices to fill vacancies resulting from the retirements of Chief of Police Robert Byford, who will go on leave of absence May 17, and Fire Chief Emile G. Durocher, who will go on leave of absence on July 12.

Deputy Chief Edmonstone, 50, has been with the police department since 1928 and was appointed deputy chief in September of last year. Deputy fire chief for the past two years, 44-year-old Mr. Harper has been with the fire department for 25 years.

The promotions are not yet definite. Appointments to the two posts are announced by city council when the two chiefs begin their leaves of absence. Chief Byford's retirement will take effect August 26 while Chief Durocher will officially retire in October. Both were deputy chiefs prior to promotion.

Your Family PET CORNER

Since the start of this column, the writer has been in receipt of several letters about dogs and cats. They are not in the usual vein of letters written to a pet column, but rather setting forth one or other eccentricity of the particular pet in question.

One woman has written to say that her dog pays no attention whatever to music on the radio or television — with one single exception. He is entranced by the theme song of one particular radio show. This is a sprightly tune, and has been on the air for years. He's a ten-year old dog, and by human standards too old for the type of program that follows this lively theme. However, his eccentricity is interesting.

Another letter was about a young dog, and the difficulties she is encountering in trying to get him into an obedience school. It seems in this modern age it isn't enough to have the cash for the courses, one must put the dog's name on a waiting list and then when there is room for him in the class the conductor will let you know.

Another latter was about a cat. This kitty, according to the writer, pays little attention to the T-V set until the hockey games are on the screen — then the cat lies on top of the set and follows the action keenly — though upside down.

Friends of this letter-writer suggest that perhaps the cat likes to climb on top of the set because of the warmth from the tubes — however, there is just as much warmth from the set when Ed Sullivan is on, but this doesn't seem to attract the cat at all, nor does any other program.

(Readers are invited to drop a line to the column — if they have pet with particular eccentricities.)

THE MAIL BAG

M.H. — For your canary with the loss of appetite, try eight drops of Brock's Liquid Tonic in the drinking water fresh each day. You might also vary the diet, and try hanging the cage in another room in the house. Brock's song restorer might also be a stimulant to the bird's appetite.

J. C. — Moulting is not a disease but the future health of your bird will depend on the care you give it during the moulting period. Moulting usually starts in July and may last until November. Unusual precautions must be taken against draughts. Use Brock's Bird Treat and Brock's Liquid Tonic at this time. Sometimes, even with the best of care, a canary may not return to full song after the moult.

J.F. — About that broken wing. It is practically impossible for an amateur to set a canary's broken wing. Take it to a specialist where he will receive the best treatment, or leave it alone. Usually, time and nature will heal the break.

Then of course there is the sweet Lady Marian, Lady Jane, and the waiting maids, the pilgrims, the Friars and all the characters that have become so well known in this famous story of "Robin Hood".

The cast on this occasion will be comprised of all the senior members of Children's Theatre, and graduates of the school in order to have a realistic production of the story of the outlaw and his band of men.

Don't Scatter Refuse On Westmount Streets

Several complaints have been channelled into the Westmount Police Department concerning people who sweep refuse from their lawns into the streets. Gardeners, handymen and residents are cautioned to sweep refuse into the gutter in piles and thus assist city works crews. Those who scatter refuse all over the street can be prosecuted under bylaw 257, section 10.

More Boys Used Service Meeting At Unity Shows

More youngsters used the facilities of the Montreal Boys' Association last year than at any other time in the 34-year history of the Red Feather service, it was reported at the annual meeting this week. The meeting was held Monday at the Unity Boys' Club, 1090 Greene Avenue, one of the youth centres supervised by the Montreal Boys' Association.

The work of the Association includes the operation of two clubs and supervision of two others. It also finances and operates a summer camp in the Laurentions for boys, an urban camp on Mount Royal, and carries out a guidance and counselling program for boys and parents on a citywide basis.

The East End Boys' and Girls' Club and the Point St. Charles Boys' and Girls' Club both reported memberships in the neighbourhood of 3,000. Full programs of club, craft and sports activities were carried on under professional and volunteer supervision throughout the year.

The Unity Boys' Club of Westmount, financed by Westmount Rotary, reported a membership of more than 1,000 boys and girls in the Westmount-St. Henry district, for whom a full recreational service was maintained. The Lions Boys' Club, also under the supervision of the Montreal Boys' Association and financed by the Lions Club of Montreal, served 500 boys and girls last year.

The summer camping season was also outstanding, it was reported. Camp Lewis at St. Adolphe de Howard operated at capacity with a total enrolment of 650 boys. Additional land was purchased during the year, allowing for further expansion of the camp. An outpost camp, run in frontier style, was moved to a new site and, in the course of the summer, enrolled 200 boys. The boys, generally speaking, are from low income families who cannot afford regular camp fees. The Association believes that camp experience should be available to all boys and girls but, so far, no facilities for girls have been organized.

Griffintown Summer Day Camp, the city camp program, is tailored for children from four to eight and is an adjunct of the Point St. Charles Boys' and Girls' Club. It provides an all-day program on Mount Royal for children who are brought from the Point St. Charles area by bus.

Officers elected to serve are Lt. Col. L. Martin, President; C. J. Pike and R. Fraser Elliott, Vice-Presidents; W. A. Eversfield, Hon. Secretary, and J. A. Medill, Hon. Treasurer. Members of the Board of Directors include A. C. Abbott, K. G. K. Baker, C. J. Doscher, C. L. Douglas, C. H. Drury, F. W. Gross, G. A. R. Hart, J. S. M. Hayes, M. M. Johnston, J. W. Knox, C. T. Canada, Spain Trade Up Says Consul Here

By DAVID FREEDMAN

Improved relations between Canada and Spain during the past few years have resulted in a large increase of trade between the two countries, according to Alfonso de la Serna, Spanish consul.

The consulate is located at 4139 Sherbrooke Street West in Westmount.

Trade amounts to between seven and eight million dollars annually for each nation. Spain exports mainly such typical products as wines, fruits, olive oil, light machinery, hunting guns and cork. In return she receives from Canada mostly wood pulp, aluminium, heavy machinery, minerals, drugs and chemicals.

Although Spanish consulates are located in other large Canadian centers such as Toronto, Vancouver, Calgary, Halifax and St. Johns, Newfoundland, the Montreal office is regarded as the most important. This fact Mr. De La Serna attributes to Montreal's status as Canada's largest city, and because 1,500 of 2,000 Spanish citizens resident in Canada live here.

The Montreal consulate represents the Spanish Government in the legal, economic and administrative sense. Its members do not look after political matters, since this falls under jurisdiction of the embassy in Ottawa. It is the only Spanish consulate in Canada under the charge of a career diplomat, with other consulates under its authority.

"The duties of this consulate are many and varied," says Mr. De La Serna. "Our first obligation is the general protection of Spanish citizens living in the Quebec area. We take care of all matters regarding their legal relationship with the community and the country as a whole. All marriages in Canada between Spanish citizens and also to other nationals are recorded in a civil register as in Spain, as are births, deaths and all other vital statistics. They may even come to us for help in solving their personal problems."

NOTARY PUBLIC

Many of the other jobs that must be performed require a thorough knowledge of legal procedure. Mr. De La Serna often acts in the capacity of notary public for Spanish and Canadian citizens who may have business dealings in Spain. He has the authority to appoint delegates in Spain to act in their interests. Documents dealing with navigation from the Montreal area to Spanish territories must be legitimatised here. Passports and visas for travel in Spain are also issued.

The stimulation of tourism is another vital function that Mr. De La Serna and the consulate must accomplish. This is done through the distribution of literature dealing with all aspects of Spanish life to tourist offices and travel agencies.

The cultural resources of Spain are publicised by sending out publication in the Spanish language to colleges, high schools, and cultural organizations.

Mr. De La Serna has given lectures dealing with Spanish culture and literature at McGill University, the University of Montreal, Laval University, and Queens University.

LANGUAGES

Mr. De La Serna who speaks English, French and Portuguese fluently in addition to his native Spanish, brings eleven years of diplomatic experience to his Montreal position. He has served in foreign offices in Madrid, Mexico City and Lisbon Portugal.

The Spanish Government takes great care in selecting those men who are to represent it abroad. They must be able to speak at least two foreign languages, and hold a law degree. Only after these requirements are met may a candidate take the difficult entrance examinations necessary in order to enter the Diplomatic School in Madrid. Only a select few are chosen out of a large number of applicants. The aspiring diplomat then takes intensive courses in diplomacy and consular affairs. Upon completion of these two-year studies he may then be appointed as a Third Secretary in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs at Madrid or be sent abroad. Progress is slow so that when a person finally achieves the rank of ambassador, he is in his late fifties or early sixties and has gained experience in foreign posts all over the world.

Mr. De La Serna received a Licentiate of Law from the University of Madrid in 1945. "I have always had a strong interest in international affairs and politics," says Mr. De La Serna,

STAMPS by Margaret Ward

Stamps are naturally the most essential part of a stamp collection. Finding those which, while swelling the album, do not completely drain the pocket-book is the chief problem of beginners as well as more advanced collectors.

One of the best ways of obtaining the basic foundation on which to build a collection is to buy a package of different stamps from all over the world. These world packages range in size from fifty to over five thousand stamps. They sell according to size.

Once you have begun you can gradually fill in your blank spaces with other individual sets from packages as the mood strikes or the money is available. If you know someone who already collects stamps, exchange your duplicates with him. Tell your friends about your hobby and ask them to save their stamps for you. (I admit that this method is unreliable, as they themselves are likely to see the fun in saving stamps, and before you know it they will have a collection of their own!)

Then, too, you can rummage through your attic (if you have one) or write to business houses to ask them for stamps. Perhaps you will be able to find penpals in other countries who are as interested in your stamps as you are in theirs. You will be surprised at how fast your collection will grow.

Spring, Bikes, Safety

Parents, Motorists, Police Face Perennial Accident Problem

With the approach of warm spring weather, parents, motorists and the police are again face to face with the perennial problem of young children on bicycles.

For many years the advent of spring has been marred by accidents, some of them fatal, to these young cyclists.

Campaigning will see a concerted effort to tie the entire community together in an united effort to stamp out traffic accidents and deaths in this area — especially accidents to children on bicycles. The "Elmer the Safety Elephant" school campaign has had wonderful results in keeping children out of accidents, but it has never stressed bicycle safety for itself. The present Elmer bike safety campaign will have served its purpose if it achieves similar success.

Co-operation of many organizations has been assured. The Bank of Montreal, for example, has issued cards and blotters for children's use which bear a constant reminder of the essentials of smart and safe cycling. The police also have available a Bicyclists' Safety Code, which is available for the asking. These helps, together with the co-operation of parents in driving the lessons home to young cyclists in the family, will go a long way in assuring the success of the campaign.

The information in this leaflet should be in the hands of everyone interested in the instruction of children in the use of bicycles. Its wide dissemination will help greatly in the success of the campaign to cut down the number of accidents among young cyclists.

Among the points stressed in this handy little leaflet are:

Drive at the extreme right hand side of the road, at a speed not exceeding 15 miles per hour.

Equip your bike with a suitable bell, or horn, to use when necessary. Have your lights on at night: a white one in front, a red one or a reflector at the back.

Do not hitch to street cars, trucks, automobiles, buses or other vehicles.

Never ride on sidewalks.

Signal with your hand all stops and turns, always looking back to make sure you can do so without risk.

Before turning left, go to the centre of the pavement, but remain at the extreme right when turning to the right.

Ride alone on your bike. Never carry passengers, and never forget that races of any kind are strictly forbidden.

Make a complete stop at all stop signs, boulevards, main highways and railway level crossings.

If traffic is very heavy, get off your bicycle and walk.

If you are a delivery boy, never overload your bicycle and make sure that it is equipped with a standard box or basket.

When travelling with other cyclists, ride single file.

Avoid all "stunts" and horseplay while riding.

Do not drive wrong way on one-way streets.

Music Has Been Foe As Well As Friend To Alexander Brott, Famed Violinist

By BLUMA APPEL

Music is a demanding taskmaster. For Alexander Brott, one of Canada's outstanding musicians, it has been friend and foe — his labour and his love. Talent is but the first requirement of the true artist. This talent must then be trained, polished and refined by years of study, practice and labour.

Alexander Brott started studying the violin at the age of nine. There was never any question that the violin was his instrument. He just naturally accepted it. But playing was not enough. Sensitive and sympathetic to all forms of expression, he started writing poetry and then found himself composing music to it. Again this was perfectly natural for him. It was part of his inevitable development.

By the time he was thirteen he had been awarded a scholarship by the McGill Conservatorium of Music. At the age of fifteen he became the youngest member of the Montreal Symphony Orchestra.

"Music was a tough struggle in those days", says Mr. Brott. "My first concert with the Montreal Orchestra was rehearsed on a co-operative basis and for five rehearsals of two or three hours each we received two dollars".

Encouragement came from many sources: his home; Douglas Clark, the Dean of Music at McGill, and many notable musicians. When he was sixteen Georges Enesco heard him and was so impressed by the young boy that he invited him to Paris to there continue his studies under this great musician's guidance. This not being possible Enesco through a letter of introduction to Louis Persinger, Yehudi Menuhin's teacher, was instrumental in arranging for his attendance at the Juilliard School of Music.

FIRST CONCERT

Mr. Brott conducted his first concert at seventeen. This was a sudden and frightening experience. Douglas Clark fell ill, and at the last moment, with no rehearsal but great courage young Brott took the baton. It is not difficult to imagine what a great occasion this was and what gratification he experienced when the last note was played and the ovation followed.

Then came a period of studying in the U.S. To earn his keep he gave lessons, played at clubs, and

One American's Opinion

U.S. April Fool Trick on Canada

By SHIRLEY AYER

Beer-drinking travelers in Ontario better check their steins for an April Fool's phenomenon—U.S. beer.

The Pabst Brewing Company picked April 1 to introduce a Canadian "Blue Ribbon" at about $2 a 24-bottle case more than Ontario beer. If Pabst's beer is successful in Ontario, the brewing company will expand to other provinces and brother brewers will follow suit.

The introduction of American beer into Canada by Pabst might well give the added "kick" Canadian citizens need to realize the extent of American influence in their growing economy. Writers and businessmen from Winnipeg to Montreal have been discussing what Tom Kent, editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, calls "The American Boom in Canada." Many comments have a precarious tone. One headline reads, "Capital Welcome, But What Next?" another, "Will We Reach a Record Deficit With the U.S."

Henry G. Norman, president of the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges said, "I feel that unless Canadians take a more active part in this (Canadian) expansion, we are going to find one day soon that we have sold our economy to foreign investors."

Canadians know they are living with an expanding economy. They can see it in growing suburbs, smell it in refinery fumes and automatic exhaust, and hear it in the 4:30 p.m. factory whistles. But do they realize that one-third of this expansion belongs to somebody else, mostly their American neighbors?

11-YEAR FLOW

For the last eleven years, The New York Times reports, U.S. capital has been flowing into Canada at a rate of $3,000,000 a day. Total investment is now more than $11.5 billion. The Times also states that of sixty corporations capitalized at $25,000,000 or more, about one-half are owned by United States interests. Adding that Canadian oil industry is controlled by the American industry, The Times reports less than one-half of Canadian mining and the pulp and paper industry owned by Canadians, and only a third of the electrical supply and appliance business and an unimportant part of the rubber business owned by Canadians. The Times estimates that a fifth of the Canadian labor force is employed in United States owned factories.

Not only is Canada dependent on U.S. investment for her industrial expansion, but she needs the American market for sale of sixty per cent of her exports and relies on producers in the U.S. for seventy-five per cent of her imports. Primary steel products, machinery and plant equipment account for two-fifths of total imports.

RECORD DEFICIT

During 1956 Canada built a record trade deficit with the United States of $1,659 million. This deficit was covered by other

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Book Lovers' Forum Wins Citizen Praise

Sir: As a general observer of good things well done, I do not hesitate to say that the book review of Werner Keller's recent book, The Bible as History, delivered by that eminent communal leader, Rabbi Dr. Harry Joshua Stern, LL.D., at the Book Lovers' Forum, under the auspices of Temple Emanu-El Sisterhood, held in the Temple's Community House, Westmount, on Wednesday, March 27, was certainly an utmostly splendid contribution to the general cultural advancement of our Jewish and Christian local civic fraternal communities.

As for the forum itself, it was a most pleasant experience and revelation to me to see the vast and attentive audience that filled every seat in the Community House. It is indeed a fine compliment to its sponsors to get such a handsome response from the cultural and social-loving strata of our society in our trying times and in our overly perplexed generation. It all adds a resplendent ray of optimism to every democratic citizen to note this achievement in Westmount and in Montreal.

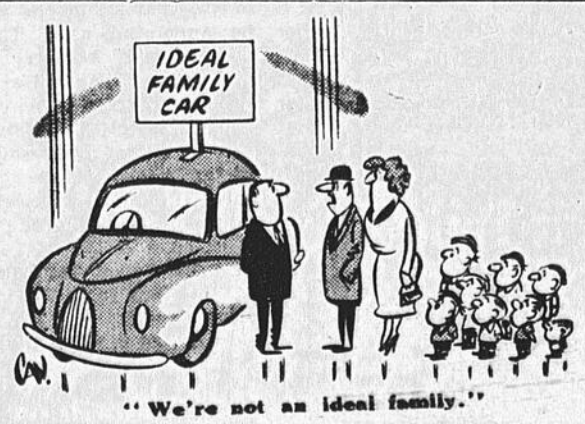

Time was when the popular cry seemed to have been that culture, if it were not already dead, was ready for its final act, and be buried! However, the pessimists appear to have overlooked the immediate possibilities for a cultural revival. That revival, after years of effort from such persons as have worthily backed the forum in its organization, its lectureships, and in its members and friends, establishes the noteworthy fact that, where even book review groups are well guided, and give what the listeners want — success in all respects will crown its efforts and glory will reward its projects.

United Church Homes Voice Appreciation

Sir: Thank you most sincerely for responding so quickly to my appeal on publicity for the annual meeting of United Church Homes. I know what a headache annual meetings are to all publishers at this time of the year and therefore appreciate all the more your kindness in such good coverage.

17 West End Students At St. Francis Xavier

By PAUL COLVEY

Antigonish, N.S. — A common expression these days is, "Go west young man, go west".

However 17 residents of N.D.G. and Westmount have ignored Horace Greeley's advice and have enrolled at St. Francis Xavier University and its close affiliate, Mount St. Bernard College (for women), here in this small Nova Scotian town.

The Arts course is the most popular for Montrealers, with six of the seventeen enrolled in it. They are Margret Fisher, 5031 Sherbrooke Ave. W., a graduate of St. Paul's Academy, Jack Hamilton, 4450 Coronation Ave., and George Sanderson, 38 Westminster Ave., graduates of Darcy McGee High School, Jim Grant, 66 Rosemount Cr., a graduate of St. Leo's Academy, Ralph Girard, 3322 Kent Ave., and Paul Colvey, 4415 Mayfair Ave., a graduate of Loyola High School.

Sanderson, a Junior, is the national president of the Canadian Federation of Catholic College Students, an organization embracing all Roman Catholic college students in Canada. Hamilton, also a Junior, is the News Editor of the St. F. X. student newspaper, "The Xaverian Weekly" and Managing Editor of the CFCCS magazine "Foreward".

St. F. X. numbers four Commerce students from N.D.G. and Westmount. They are Elizabeth Mahoney, 4046 Coolbrooke Ave., a graduate of Ville Maria, and Doug Lindley, 3447 Northcliffe Ave., Dave Farrell, 4874 Westmount Ave., and Mike Lunny, 357 Oliver Ave., graduates of St. Leo's Academy.

Both Lindley, a Senior, and Farrell, a Junior, played football for St. F. X. in the Nova Scotia Football League (intermediate). Lindley is also president of the campus Commerce Society.

Also with four enrolled Montrealers is the Engineering Faculty. They are Harvey Douglas 3801 Kent Ave., and Les Brezinski, 421 Metcalfe Ave., transfer students from McGill, and Pete Berry, 4031 Melrose Ave., and Pete Downing, 4915 Montclair Ave., graduates of Darcy McGee.

Brezinski, student coach of the St. F. X. Varsity ski team, won the Skiemeister Trophy in Maritime Open competition, at Fredericton last February. Berry, High School Football All-star Center in Montreal in 1955, played that position for the Xaverian gridders last fall.

N.D.G. and Westmount have two residents in the Science course, Isabelle Carson, 4328 Sherbrooke St. W., and Paul MacDonald, 4389 Mayfair Ave., MacDonald graduated from Loyola High School and is majoring in Geology.

Darrell MacDonald, 396 Oliver Ave., is a Sophomore Home Economics student, and graduated from St. Paul's Academy.

Rotary Club Hears Story Of Forests

Statistics in concentrated form on Canada's forests were given by B. W. Flieger, manager of Forest Protection Limited, at this week's meeting of Westmount Rotary Club. Mr. Flieger was professor on the faculty of forestry at the University of New Brunswick for 23 years before coming to Montreal in 1950 and joining the Woodlands Department of Canadian International Paper Company here.

The guest speaker noted that forest occupy 64 per cent of the land area of the 10 provinces and 46 per cent of the land area of Canada. Merchantable and young-growth softwoods, hardwoods and mixedwoods occupy 537 million acres and the total forest area is a billion acres. This all boils down to a vast surplus condition, he said.

"The fact that wastage by forest fire is eating away at the best of our forest land and our forest potentials must be added to this cold-blooded picture," continued Mr. Flieger.

The speaker quoted figures for the average annual forest depletion and touched lightly on what wood means in the national economy. During 1954, he said, salaries and wages amounting to well over one billion dollars were paid out to 351,352 employees of forest industries.

"Our picture here in Canada is different than anywhere else," Mr. Flieger concluded. "We have to cherish and take care of the trees. The forest are dynamic, alive and growing. They can't take care of themselves."

Flying on to Edmonton he will be greeted by Mayor William Hawrelak, president of the Federation of Mayors and Municipalities and there will be an appearance before the city council in that city.

The show featuring 42 paintings, 2 sculptures, 6 drawings, 2 etchings and 75 ceramic pieces, is open daily from noon to 9 p.m. throughout April. It opened Wednesday.

Mrs. Kingsmill and Mrs. Avison are two of nine members of Studio 9 which meets at 1325 St. Catherine street west. The studio has been in operation more than five years with a revolving membership. Peak membership is nine as that is all the studio can accommodate, and when artists leave, the vacancies are filled by other artists.

The subject of his sermon for the fifth Sunday in Lent will be "The Atonement".

Dominion - Douglas Church combines the heritage of two historic Montreal Churches. Ninety-two years ago Dominion Square Methodist Church was built on the present Laurentien Hotel site. In 1875 Douglas Church was organized at the corner of Chomedy and Ste. Catherine streets as a part of the Dominion Square Pastoral Charge. Interestingly enough, when the Douglas property was sold in 1925, 12 other churches were aided by the proceeds of the sale. In 1925 the Douglas congregation joined the Dominion Square Congregation which had moved in 1914 to a site on Westmount Boulevard. For almost the whole of its combined existence as a congregation, Dominion-Douglas has been ministered to by the Rev. Dr. A. Lloyd Smith, M.A., D.D., who has recently observed his twenty-sixth anniversary as minister of the Church. You are cordially invited to share in this great Anniversary Service, Sunday, April 7, 11:00 a.m.

NORTH AMERICAN PYRAMIDS

Two North American pryramids occupy a greater ground area than ancient Egypt's greatest pyramids, but they are not as high. At Cholula, in Mexico's state of Puebla, stands one covering three and one-half times the area of the Pyramid of Cheops at El Giza. The other, Cahokia Mound, rises in the suburbs of East St. Louis, Ill.

'Christ In The Concrete City' At St. James Church On Sunday

Sunday evening, a new play of special interest will be presented by the St. James United Church Players, at the evening service, 7.30 p.m. The play had its Canadian premiere last Easter, having been introduced previously at the International Conference on Religious Drama held in England. It was first played in Canada by a special cast directed by Blanch Hogg of "Little Theatre" fame, for the annual meeting of the Christian Drama Council of Canada, held in Toronto. The Montreal production is being directed by Miss Marion Brillinger, director of the Christian Drama Council.

PASSION PLAY

This unusual play, by the English playwright Philip W. Turner, is described thus by the authors: "Within the limits imposed by a cast of six, it attempts to portray the passion of our Lord Jesus Christ from three points of view.

"Firstly, it is the story of something that happened. The actors step into and out of the historical characters. Thus, when the third man represents Pilate, he acts the part as long as the Text demands, and then forgets about it. There is no necessary continuity between the various characters played by one actor.

"Secondly, the story of the passion is one of universal significance, speaking timelessly to all mankind. Here the cast act as chorus, as a unit with a number of voices rather than as a group of individuals.

"Thirdly, the Crucifixion and Resurrection are events of personal significance speaking intimately to the individual in the secret places of his own soul, and urging him to action here and now. So in the play there is a third level of action which tries to show the modern equivalent of the events or ideas brought out in the other themes. For the most part these sequences are caricatures."

The cast presenting the play at St. James United Church — four men and two women — represents, in real life, a variety of occupations. Mr. Magnus Mackay and Mr. Ronald Darker are both bank employees. Rev. Nettie Wilson is Assistant Minister to the Rev. Norman Rawson at St. James United Church. Miss Maxine Joyce works at the C.N.R. Mr. Norman Lower represents the chemical field, as a laboratory assistant, while Mr. Edward Craven is a student.

Miss Marion Brillinger has worked, studied, and travelled in England, Palestine, and U.S.A. She took over the direction of the Christian Drama Council when Miss Isabel Squires became the wife of a Baptist minister in Victoria, B.C., as Mrs. J. N. Clark. Although the Christian Drama Council has just celebrated its third birthday, it already has a wide membership from coast to coast. It numbers among its patrons the Primate of the Anglican Church, the General Secretary of the Baptist Federation of Canada, the Moderator of the Presbyterian Church, the Moderator of the Presbyterian Church, the Moderator of the United Church of Canada, and other representative heads. In addition to having denominational support, it is recognized by the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., Student Christian Movement, and the Canadian Council of Churches.

DRAMA COUNCIL

The Christian Drama Council offers a variety of services to its members, including use of its lending library of religious plays, the largest source of such in Canada — though greatly in need of enlarging to meet current requests.

Religious Drama Workshops are conducted to give training in Directing, Acting, Backstage, Make-up, Costuming, and other allied areas. The aim of the Council is to bring together the insights of the church and the skills of the Theatre. Chairman of the Council's Executive is Mr. Leonard Crainford, Director of Design for C.B.C-T.V.

This Summer the Christian Drama Council will conduct three Workshops in different parts of Canada, each of a week's duration. One will be housed at King's College, Halifax, from July 22nd to 29th. A second will take place at Camp Tillicum, Lake Nippissing, in the North Bay area, from June 22nd to 29th. A third will be part of a Family Camp at Naramata, B.C. July 27th to August 3rd.

Additional information about the services of the Christian Drama Council, and membership in it, may be obtained by writing to the Director, Miss Brillinger, at the Council's national office at Bloor Street West, Toronto, Ontario.

St. James United Church is acting as a "patron of the art of religious drama" in its presentation next week of "Christ in the Concrete City." It is hoped that many local residents will have the privilege of seeing this new play.

Our Heritage

Sometimes, in staring at the sun,
We fail to see the flowers at our feet,
The moon, and stars, the clouds and space, loom large,
But common things of earth, are ever sweet.

The heart, is always wiser than the head,
And to the meek, the earth is given free,
So why then toil for things of little worth,
When Heaven's best gifts, are free to you and me.

Bishop of Accra Tells Local Residents The Need For Libraries On the Gold Coast

"Libraries are becoming recognized as part of the daily life of an increasing number of Africans. An important part of the Cold Coast Library Board is in providing trained librarians to staff their Libraries. Librarianship is a new profession in the Gold Coast." This statement by the Director of the Board goes on to say that at the General Conference of Unesco (in Montevideo) the Gold Coast representatives stated:

"We are proud of our national Library system which, I think, I can claim to be one of the best in the continent of Africa."

Of the more than 15,000 Library members in Accra 12,952 are African.

The Gold Coast Libraries started in the 1930's when the Rev. John Aglionby (Bishop of Accra) decided something must be done by the Church to meet the tremendous need for good reading matter. Later he secured the help of indomitable Miss Evans who went from London to Accra to be Council Librarian on the Gold Coast. Undaunted by the difficulty of moving about in a territory almost without inland highways, she transported her heavy boxes of books under gruelling conditions over the roughest terrain.

Fifteen years later she received the award of the M.B.E. for her services to the Gold Coast. That same year two mobile Libraries were stationed at Accra and a third was equipped and stationed further north at Kumasi. In one year, there were 279 book boxes on issue at Accra. Twenty-two thousand books were exchanged by members served from Accra, and 67,000 from Kumasi. Ninety percent of the exchanges were made through Mobile Libraries. Recently 20,000 miles were covered by the three Book vans and 20,650 books were issued to readers through the book boxes in one year; representing an increase of 3,800 over the previous year.

Later, in order to encourage the use of the station Libraries it was decided not to renew subscriptions to the Mobile Libraries in places where readers were within easy distance of one of the Board's Libraries. This releases more books for people further afield.

Teacher's Service. In spite of good publicity this part of the Library service progresses very slowly. Leaflets giving full details about its advantages were distributed to Education Offices and to schools. But little more than 10% of the teachers of the country have become members.

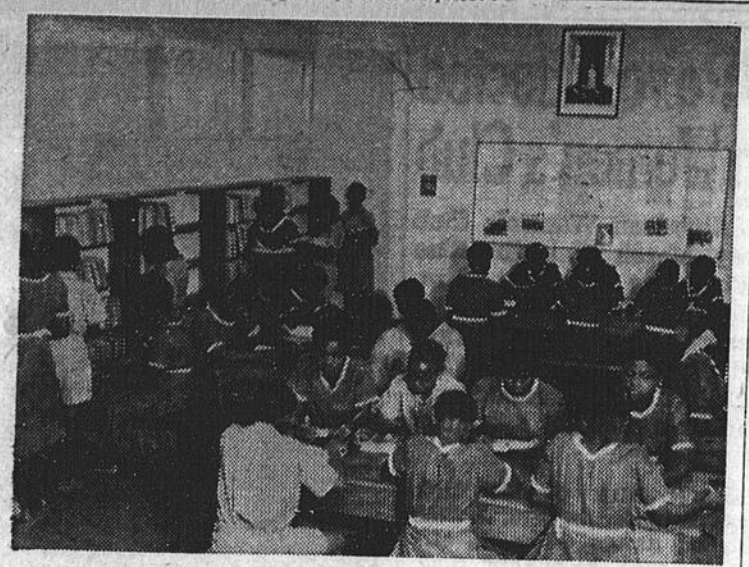

Children's Books. More than half the African membership of the Libraries are primary school children. The problem of supply is country wide but at present it is only possible to deal with children in towns where Libraries have been opened, although children's books go out with the travelling Libraries and Book Box Service. Of the total number of 30,611 new books added during one year to the Libraries, over 10,000 were children's books. The Director of the Board tells us "Had the number been doubled the cry would still be 'we want yet more children's books'." All this is the result of an experiment, when in 1950, a few children's books were provided at the far end of the Aglionby Library in Accra. "Far greater funds would be needed to give adequate service to all of the children of the Gold Coast. Children's Libraries are a great success wherever we establish them. Probably the most valuable work we do is in encouraging children to develop the habit of reading, as early in life as possible. The wear and tear on our Juvenile books is so great that several firms in England are now re-enforcing their juvenile books."

Survey of Middle Schools. A survey amongst children of the Middle Schools where libraries have been opened is being carried out. Over a thousand questionnaires regarding the reading habits of children have been distributed with the co-operation of the Education Department. This is the first survey which has been conducted on the Gold Coast.

CHILDREN WHO READ

Some amazing stories about some of the children who developed the habit of reading, are told by Bishop John Daly (till recently Bishop of Accra) when he passed through Montreal on his way to Korea. Florence, a long-legged little girl went as far as she could in school in Africa. Her parents (who had saved for this) sent her to finish school in England. Before she was 18 she went to the London University where she won an Honours Degree in History. Her classmates elected her warden of the College chapel and also chairman of their English folk-dancing group. She got her Diploma in Education in Oxford University and returned to West Africa to teach her compatriots. Today, married to an African doctor, she helps him run his inland hospital, far up the River Gambia.

Another young reading zealot, Cecilia, grew up and married, with her zest for learning undiminished. Married to the Minister of Trade and Communications (West Africa) she decided she could help her country by studying midwifery. Which she did by going to Woolwich, England. Today, she is kept busy with her little black bag, helping mothers bring healthier little Africans into the world!"

Your School, Your Child, and You

TODAY'S CHILDREN

By E. George Cochrane, B.A., M.Ed.
Northmount High School

"The children now love luxury; they show disrespect for their elders and love chatter in place of exercise. Children are now tyrants, not the servants, of their households. They no longer rise when elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up dainties at the table, cross their legs, and tyrannize their teachers."

Do you know who wrote those words? Socrates, the renowned philosopher of ancient Greece. The year ? 394 B.C.

In the two thousand years that have passed since Socrates saw fit to condemn the youngsters of his era, countless other viewers-with-alarm have penned similar diatribes, all with the same theme: The youth of today just aren't what they used to be.

Dr. Charles E. Phillips, the supervisor of graduate studies at the Ontario College of Education in Toronto, has made a hobby of collecting such passages as that quoted above. In every century, in fact in every decade, there has always been someone who has been convinced that the future of the world is heavily tinged with black because of the weaknesses and follies of the young. When you read the words of the contemporary critics of our young people, you can be heartened by remembering that such attacks are nothing new.

If I may be permitted to inject a purely personal note into the discussion, I should like to say that after a decade of teaching, I am convinced that the children who are attending our schools today are no worse than those which frequented the schools in earlier generations.

In every school, in every class, there are those who are mischievous, those who are lazy, those who are deceitful, but a great many more who are normal, well-behaved, reasonably courteous boys and girls. You don't hear so much about the latter, however, because the things that they do aren't aften classified as new by the editors of our daily newspapers. These are the youngsters who canvas for Red Feather, win scholarships, play on the school athletic teams, serve on student councils and such groups, contribute some of their own pocket money to Hungarian relief, and on the last day of school stay behind to stumble out a few words of gratitude to their teacher.

There are a good many youngsters like that, and nobody should be permitted to forget it.

Mrs. Anna Raginsky Is Chairman Of Israel Fashion Show Tuesday

From the fashion centers of Europe to the ateliers of Israel — this has been the road of Lola Beer, Lil Schleiffer, the four "Aled" sisters, the three "Matzkin" brothers, Olga and Eugene Freund and other key fashion designers whose latest creations will be seen at the Canadian Premiere Showing of the 1957 Israel Fashion Show on Tuesday, April 9 at 12.30 p.m. in the Champlain Room of the Sheraton-Mount Royal Hotel. Mrs. Doreen Day Fashion Consultant of the T. Eaton Company Limited of Montreal will be the commentator.

The Show is being sponsored by the Women's Division of the Montreal Israel Bond Committee of which Mrs. Anna Raginsky is the Chairman and Mrs. Moishe Dickstein is Vice-Chairman. Mrs. Bernard Lande is Chairman of the Israel Fashion Show.

Every design in the entire collection was made from fabric loomed and woven in Israel, some by methods as ancient as the country's culture. Cotton, in particular is beautifully handled and handwoven by Yemenite women in the manner of centuries ago.

One of the best known Isrraeli ateliers is that of Lola Beer who is credited with having revolutionized the women's dress industry in the Middle East. Her coral linen suit-dress has a definite Parisian touch and is beautifully tailored with a knife-pleated skirt and fitted jacket with white mother-of-pearl buttons.

Imaginative designing by the Matzkin Brothers will also be found in a group of raincoats with matching hats. Exquisite cocktail and after-five dresses will also be seen in this Fashion Show. Evening gowns in this collection are real show-stoppers. Also to be seen in the Fashion Show will be many other items including distinctive knitwear designed by the "Aled" sisters.

Most original and refreshingly different will be the beach fashions, casual clothes and lounge robes in the more primitive native materials.

The underlying message of the Israel Fashion Show is the story of peaceful creation in a climate of freedom and self-expression. Each garment tells a story of the faith of the Jewish Community of the Western world translated during the past years in the ever-increasing investment through State of Israel Bonds.

Stockholm is one of the most beautiful cities in the world.

MOLLY PICON, internationally renowned actress of stage, screen, radio and television, who will be guest artist at the annual dinner sponsored by the Instalment Merchants Division of the Montreal Israel Bond Committee on Wednesday, April 10 at 6.30 p.m. at Herzl Hall, Van Horne avenue.

Molly Picon, internationally renowned actress of stage, screen, radio and television, will appear at the annual dinner sponsored by the Instalment Merchants Division of the Montreal Iesrael Bond Committee on Wednesday, April 10 at 6:30 p.m. at Herzl Hall, Van Horne Avenue.

Miss Picon returned home recently from Israel, where she spent two weeks surveying industrial plants, commercial enterprises and agricultural projects which are being supported with the aid of investment capital derived from the sale of Israel Development Bonds. While in Israel, she met with leading Government officials, prominent businessmen and industrialists and soil conservation experts.

The petite star, who has toured three continents, singing in Yiddish, English, French and Spanish, was born on Broome Street in New York City's lower East Side. From the East Side to South Africa is a big jump, but Molly Picon has sung "East Side Symphony" at a command performance for the Zulus of Johannesburg, South Africa.

Now a Broadway and radio star as well, Molly Picon has brought both laughter and tears to audiences throughout America, and has earned the adjective "great" for her motion picture, radio and stage successes.

Rev. John Ryan On Catholic Hour

Reverend John Ryan of St. Michael's Parish will speak on the Catholic Hour on Sunday at 2:05 p.m. His subject is "Devotion to Our Lord's Passion."

Last week, Reverend Kevin Griffin said in speaking on "The Prodigal Son" — "This parable of the Prodigal Son is a message from the Savior of the World to the human race. It was meant to be a message of hope and comfort to those who, like the Prodigal have abandoned God, but who like him also, have resolved to return to their loving Father's house. He who spoke those words is the God-made man . . . who came on earth to redeem us, the God-Man who prayed for our Salvation in Gethsemane . . . He whose flesh was whipped and torn from its bones. It was He whose head was crowned with thorns . . . It was the God-Man who was crucified between two thieves, and all this for you and me. Could love do more? Yes, one thing more did Christ, to show us that He was a God of Mercy — and that was when He was nailed to the Cross, nailed thereto though He was by the sins of mankind, with His dying lips He sent forth this cry of mercy for sinners: 'Father, forgive them for they know what they do'."

Musical selections will complete the programme.

Turnabout Shop Holds Third Fashion Show

Turnabout may be a new kind of shop here, but in New York, Toronto, and London, Ontario there are shops of this kind with long and successful histories." Mrs. John F. Stairs, president of Turnabout Shop, Inc. made this statement in her introductory remarks at the fashion show put on by the Study Old Girls' Association for the W.A. of St. Philip's Church Hall, Montreal West, Monday afternoon. The lovely spring and summer fashions were shown to the Ladies Guild of the Church, commentary by Miss Barbara Whitley, and music by Judy Logan (one of the two pianists in the McGill production "My Fur Lady.")

The really amazing thing about this show was that none of the garments were new. Every dress, every fur jacket, suit or coat, came from the Turnabout Shop, which deals exclusively in the resale of good as new clothing.

Mrs. John Jenkins, Chairman of the Fashion Show committee, said: "This is our third fashion show—the models, most of whom are graduates of the Study, are becoming quite professional by now, and can manage four or five quick changes instead of two or three. You know, there is quite a knack to hauling dresses on and off—changing hats, shoes, gloves and then looking as if not a hair has ever been out of place—and all in the space of four minutes."

Mrs. Stairs continued: "We have such a wonderful stock of children's clothes that we wanted to show — so we asked several mothers to model with their young sons and daughters. Mrs. David Murphy of Lansdowne avenue with her daughter Gail; Mrs. Howard Smith of Rosemount avenue and daughter, Penny; Mrs. L. H. Packard of Strathcona avenue and her son Jeffrey; Mrs. Jean Gadbois of Parkside Place with young Jacko and little Miss Patricia Platt with her aunt, Mrs. Brian McGreevy.

The Ladies Guild of St. Philips Church watched the show with interest. Mrs. R. M. Richardson of Ballantyne avenue, President of the Ladies Guild, which operates under the plan of the Church Women's Year, commented on the low price tags and crisp good looks of the clothes in the show.

Cast Thyself Down

By

The Venerable

R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,

Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

The third Temptation of Our Lord was the subtlest of the three. The first was concerned in Our Lord's relationship with material things. It was a temptation to do a natural thing in the wrong way and for a wrong purpose. The second was concerned in His relationships with the world of men. And again it was a temptation to do a right thing at a wrong cost. It will be perfectly right some day for the kingdoms of the world to become the Kingdom of Our Lord and of His Christ; but that will happen not through His worshipping of Satan, and the acknowledging of Satan's rights, but through His defiance of Satan and through His own suffering: "I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Me." He was to arrive at His glory by way of His suffering.

The third Temptation, however, is concerned with Our Lord's relationship with His Heavenly Father. The Temptation was to presume on that relationship — to give a display in the Temple Courts of the fact that God cared supremely for Him therefore, He must be the Messiah who was to come to save Israel. Jesus' reply was short and sharp: "Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God."

Each of these Temptations was representative, and the three together cover the whole field of possible temptations. It is perfectly true that He was tempted in all points like as we are. All our temptations fall in the field of those relationships with material things, with human beings and with God. There is nowhere else that they can fall.

We are tempted at all these points but it is in relationship with God that we too feel the subtlest temptation. We know that God loves us, and we sometimes dare to presume on that love. I am tempted by my own desires to do something which I know to be wrong; I want the thrill of coming as close as possible to the actual sin, and I depend on God's love to save me from the satisfaction of my desire. I edge closer and closer to it — tempting God. Perhaps that is why Our Lord took the comments out of the field of action and put them into the field of desire. It is as sinful to desire the wrong as to commit the wrong. That again is why the Tenth Commandment is so important. In the Decalogue the Tenth is the only new Commandment. You can find parallels to all the others, but it is in the revealed religion of the Bible that sin in the heart becomes so terribly real.

It can further be said that it is only when we keep that relationship with God right, that we are able to keep the others right also.

JAMES C. WILSON

ROBERT E. MEAGHER

BRUCE A. C. HILLS

EDWIN W. TWIZELL

LEADING the 1957 Easter Seals campaign in Greater Montreal during April 9 to April 23 are: Robert E. Meagher, 4851 Cote St. Luc, general chairman; Bruce A. C. Hills, 3940 Cote Des Neiges, vice-chairman; James C. Wilson, 4565 Coronation, vice-chairman; Edwin W. Twizell, 22 Merton Crescent, vice-chairman. A special luncheon meeting at the Sheraton-Mount Royal Hotel on April 9 will inaugurate the campaign. The objective for the 1957 campaign has been set at $100,000.

Letters Reveal Need In Easter Seal Drive

"Words cannot express my deep gratitude . . . May God bless you all." The writer of this letter, a teen-aged girl, lost both legs in a railway accident.

She was writing to the Cripples Aid Committee of the Rotary Club of Montreal, which supplied her with artificial legs and enabled her to receive instruction in using them.

Her letter is one of many in the file of the committee which, since July last year, has spent more than $15,000 helping 175 patients.

"Requests for aid are running about 150 percent above last year," committe chairman Jim Hamilton said today." I hope all Montrealers will give their support generously to the Easter Seals campaign, which is our only source of income."

This year's Easter Seals drive opens officially April 9th with a target of $100,000, which will be divided among the Cripples Aid Committee and other Montreal organizations devoted to the welfare of crippled children.

The committee helps the physically-handicapped by providing them with all sorts of treatment and orthopaedic equipment — from artificial limbs and wheelchairs to elastic stockings.

It meets every two weeks to consider requests for assistance passed on by the social service departments of hospitals and other recognized welfare agencies.

In addition to grants to individual patients, the committee assists organizations caring for cripples in many ways — some of them unusual. It provided, for instance, three completely soundproofed rooms at a Montreal public school to help doctors to determine the extent of deafness in children, which can often be mistaken for backwardness.

The committee recently granted $10,000 to the Rehabilitation Institute of Montreal to help it set up a building for the fitting, repair and maintenance of artificial limbs and other appliances.

Submarine Hunter - Killer Tests Ahead Of Schedule

Canadair's giant CL-28 submarine hunter-killer completed its first test flight successfully three days ahead of schedule, with the huge machine handling "like a charm."

Chief test pilot William Longhurst, who held up the first flight for 48 hours due to adverse winds, lifted the aircraft off the runway after a run of only about 2200 feet, and set it down gently in front of thousands of Canadair employees 75 minutes later.

EASY HANDLING

"She handled like a charm," Longhurst said after the flight, "and reacted beautifully to the controls. It is a fine machine to fly."

The aircraft, first of an order for the RCAF Maritime Air Command, rolled out the hangar door three months ago almost exactly on the schedule set by Canadair planners nearly three years ago.

The morning after the initial flight, Longhurst and his test crew of four, were in the air again and the pilot reiterated his first statement about the aircraft's easy handling. Further testing will continue under Longhurst's direction. The RCAF is expected to receive its first aircraft — No. 1 will remain with Canadair indefinitely — in the Fall.

Following the first flight, Canadair president, J. Geoffrey Notman, paid tribute to the many thousands who had worked on the aircraft and brought it out and took it into the air ahead of schedule.

Relief Funds

Very Rev. Gerald F. Lahey S.J., Rector of Loyola College announced today that the efforts of the Loyola College students to aid the Hungarian refugees are taking concrete form. The Rector has already sent a cheque for $400.00 to the Hungarian Relief Fund on behalf of the students of the College and High School. The students under the leadership of Ted Keyserlingk and Tony Patterson have also contributed substantially to a trust fund which has been set up for the benefit of those Hungarian immigrants who will be registering at the College and High School in the fall and will probably be badly in need of funds to enable them to live throughout the College year without some additional assistance.

Canada, Spain . . .

"so that is why I applied to enter diplomatic school."

PICKED THIS CITY

After graduation in 1947 he began his varied career, here in August 1955. Mr. De La Serna admits that he chose the local position from among five possibilities because he believes Canada to be a country of great interest to diplomats in all spheres of life.

A resident of 3580 Oliver Avenue, Westmount, where he lives with his wife and four young children, Mr. De La Serna likes to read books on Canadian life and affairs in his spare moments. He plays golf in the summer.

"I believe that the province of Quebec has a certain amount of similarity with Spain," says Mr. De La Serna. "They have a strong European tradition and place great importance on religion as we do. However, economic developments all over Canada have made for a very fast pace of life. People in Spain enjoy the simpler pleasures. The average person in Madrid enjoys walking the streets, talking to a friend, or taking a drink in a cafe."

According to Mr. De La Serna more Spaniards would like to immigrate to Canada because they realize that this is a big country eager to increase her population. He disclosed t hat 100 married couples, agricultural workers and farmers, are to settle in Quebec sometime in May. This he believes is the first step in large scale immigration from Spain to Canada.

He asserted that the 1500 person Spanish community of Montreal is too young to have a definite profile. They are just beginning to have a community life. Many have become laborers, and others have entered the industries and professions. A few physicians are now interning at most of Montreal's major hospitals.

chest of pieces-of-eight. In their number the Plebe girls proved that the fair sex as well as boys can excell in acrobatics and tumbling.

Don Baird and Dick Wilbur added fun to the show with several comedy skits which brought smiles from the adults and shrieks of laughter from the small fry. Six year old Johnny Waller was the hit of the show as he did some intricate hand-balancing feats with his dad, Lew Waller "Y" physical director.

Basketball drills and passing games were demonstrated by the members of the junior boys class.

A pleasing number was the colorful and smooth routine of club swinging performed by the senior girls under the direction of Joanne Herriot. Taking part in it were Marion Currie, Pamella Ellis, Judy Carpenter, Sheila Macdonald, Suzanne Langlois and Lyn Chaplin. A polished display of baton spinning was presented by the intermediate girls class consisting of Doreen Connors, Sheila Macdonald, Sylvia Harrison and Suzanne Langlois.

Thrills for the evening were provided by the well known Westmount "Y" gymnastic club who performed on the Olympic rings, parallel bars and high bar. Participants were Fritz Besslich, Dodd Dixon, Richard Desrosiers, Richard Montpetit and Charles Buzgo. Ron Watt and members of the trampoline club Doreen Connors, Sheila Macdonald, Sylvia Harrison and Alan Gilmore provided plenty of action in their number entitled "Hi Jinks onf the 'Tramp'."

The finale to the display consisted of a tableau of modern sports in gold statuary directed by Harry Gordon. The young men taking part were Peter MacGregor, Peter McCabe, George MacDonald, David Taylor, Marcel Marson and Michael Creaghan.

Master of ceremonies for the Gym Revue was Michael Edwards; lighting was arranged by Bob Goulet and the music by Larry Grant.

Alexander Brott . . .

on board ship during the summer cruises. Mr. Brott's opinion on modern popular music is interesting.

"Jazz is the 20th century expression of a mechanical evolution. It is the result of a high pressure and a high tension society. It is a form of expression, but not art. The impetus in jazz prevails in all contemporary music. The more serious thought given to it the more elevated it becomes, making it representative of our times."

Violinist, conductor and composer, Mr. Brott occupies important positions in all three fields. He is concert-master and assistant conductor of the Montreal Symphony Orchestra, chairman of the Instrumental Dept. of the McGill Conservatory of Music, musical director and permanent conductor of the McGill Chamber Ensemble and conductor for the C.B.C. radio and television.

Twice he was selected to represent Canada in the Olympics. In 1955 he was invited to conduct his own composition at Royal Albert Hall in London. "Music is the only lasting form of democracy" says Mr. Brott. "Any other form of expression demands words and individual ideas. Also other arts are placed in time and situation. Music, on the other hand, is an organized search of the spirit. The performance of an orchestra is a guided experience in which each individual has the right to expression within the framework of one concept".

His is a home permeated with music. His wife, Lotta Brott, is a fine musician in her own right. She has played the cello for him and with him since first she auditioned for him as a young girl. They have a son Boris, thirteen who plays the violin and a son Denis, six, who plays the piano. The Brott family lives at 5459 Earnscliffe avenue.

Learn-To-Swim Courses Start On Monday Next

Monday, one hundred and fifty boys and girls start on a new venture when they attend the opening class in Westmount "Y" Learn-to-swim course. This the first of two courses being offered by the "Y" to enable youngsters age 6 to 12 to become acquainted with the water and to learn to swim before they move to the country or leave for summer vacations and beach trips.

One American's . . .

foreign trade surpluses and "long-term" capital movements such as the selling of Canadian bonds to foreigners. This means that Canada relied on other countries and American investment to support her buying splurge in the United States. Canada paid the U.S. over $4 billion for imported goods and another $1.6 billion for "invisible" items including tourist spending and freight costs, for a total of $5,644 million.

Canadian investment in the United States is increasing. It is now about $7,000,000,000. If this same money had been invested in Canada, it is pointed out, it could have achieved almost as much as foreign capital in developing the country. But Canadians, who prefer bonds to common stock, seem unwilling to gamble in the oil and mining fields, Canadian savings are high but they have been invested largely in residential property, public utilities, and agriculture.

TWO OPINIONS

Many Canadians like Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce believe foreign capital is necessary to the Canadian boom. Others like Mr. Kent believe, "The question is whether the country is thereby losing its soul, making a mockery of its political independence. This, undefined and incoherent, is the question that lurks in the back of Canadian minds." These Canadians are worried about the standardization of consumer tastes under the influence of American advertising, radio and television.

Mr. Kent, who believes Canadians "must be very like the Americans . . . without being identical or in any way losing their independence," suggests a way "to stay Canadian." Canadians should continue to welcome their main aid to growth, American capital, but should invest their own capital in more risky ventures and develop domestic secondary industries to serve the Canadian market. H. G. Norman believes the remedy is an educational program launched by the stock exchanges and directed at making every Canadian aware of advantages from owning "a slice of Canada's growth pie."

The New York Times mentions a hidden benefit from U.S. investment. Canada has gained technical skills contributed to economic development and a vast amount of research and exploration that followed the American capital.

Safety Drive . . .

people know the safety regulations, their reasons and enforcement procedures, they will co-operate by obeying them.

Some of the regulations are: a maximum speed limit of 30 mph on city streets with 20 mph zones enforced by daily speed checks, the indication of crosswalks at intersections and other dangerous places, the right of way of the pedestrian at crosswalks, reduction of vehicle speed at a crosswalk, school zone, church zone, and hospital zone; and the prohibition of people playing on streets unless they have been marked "play street".

An emphasis on safety is being extended to the schools where more than 4,000 children have received a pamphlet on traffic safety and other safeguards entitled "Never, Never be a Dodo."

Michaud Meets MacRae In St. Laurent Finals Starting On Saturday

By JERRY KERR

For the second consecutive week, Michaud Freres and Royal Pharmacy played a 3-3 draw. These two draws plus a win in the first game gave Michaud four points needed to knock Royal's out and go on to the finals with MacRae Electric for the Dr. Rondeau's Medicine Trophy.

This Saturday afternoon at 2.00 o'clock Michaud Freres and MacRae Electric start the finals with the second game Tuesday night at 8 o'clock and a third on Wednesday at the same time if necessary. These games will take place at the St. Laurent Arena.

Cliff Lehman put Michaud on the score sheet at 4:31 of the first period assisted by Bobby Sleeth and Vince Ramsay.

The second period was hardly underway before Roy Cherrier picked up a loose puck, skated in and as he hit the defense made a perfect pass to Jim Kairns who put it behind Roy Scurrah. This was at the 18 second mark.

Eleven minutes later while Royal Pharmacy were shorthanded, J. Drury being in the sin bin for hooking, Brian McCann got a break away and beat Jim Kerr for the Royal's first goal of the afternoon.

In the third period Cliff Pogue tied up the game on a play with with McCann at 2.22, then at 11:36 while they were shorthanded Michaud again took a short lived lead when Keith MacDonald broke up a power play by Royals and skated right in to score.

Royal's coach Bob Patterson pulled out his goaler with a minute and a half to go as they needed two goals and kept up the pressure for the balance of the game but were only able to tie up the game at 14.44 when Mel Read combined with his brother Frankie to earn the tie but this was not enough as they had to win.

First Period

1.—Michaud: Lehman (Sleeth, Ramsay) 4:31
Penalties: Hersey, tripping (6:15), Ramsay, hoocking (10:39), Bell, holding (11:40), MacLean, interference (11:40).

Second Period

2.—Hichaud: J. Kairns (Cherrier) 0:18
3.—Royal: McCann 11:51
Penalties: Cherrier, slashing (10:06), Drury, hooking (11:39).

Third Period

4.—Royal: Pogue (McCann) .. 2:22
5.—Michud: MacDonald 11:36
6.—Royal: M. Read (F. Read) . 14:44

Curling with Saunders were his wife and Mr. and Mrs. H M. Kerr.

C. B. Hermann of Ottawa won out in the second event, for the Salls Trophy, by defeating J. E. Sullivan of Beauharnois 10-6. On the Hermann rink were Mrs. Tiny Hermann and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. MacLean.

The third event, for the Lem Cushing Trophy, was taken by Bruce Adair's Town of Mount Royal quartet. Adair topped the event with a 14-5 thumping over M. F. MacKay of Montreal West.

Mrs. B. M. Adair and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Doran were the other members of the winning foursome.

Locals Make School Stars

The Inter-Scholastic senior 'A' and senior 'B' all star teams were released this week and on the first senior 'A' team only one local school was represented, that being Loyola when Larry Langill won a forward position.

On the second senior 'A' team, Loyola placed Pete Lea while West Hill placed Mike Gerrie. Catholic High, D'Arry McGee, Verdun, Mont St. Louis also placed members.

It was a different story on the senior 'B' east-west teams. District schools won five positions out of the seven and on the west team district schools won all seven places.

Ernie Hutchison, coach of the winning Westmount team was named coach. Westmount team placed Don Cochrane, Paul Hamilton and Bruce Hutchison.

On the west team, John Arnold, most valuable player in the senior 'B'; Dave Johnson and Vic Doleman, coach hailed from Mount Royal.

Robert Olajos and Neal Rick Neal hailed from St. Laurent. Tom Hogan, Loyola and Peter Grivakes, Lower Canada College completed the squad.

Sudbury Takes RCAF Rockets Hoopla Crew

Bob Ross sank an amazing 10 points as Sudbury Garagemen stopped Rockcliffe Rockets 92-64 Saturday to win their two-game total-point Canadian Senior B (intermediate) basketball quarter-final 144-125.

Ross joined the Sudbury team for Saturday's game after they dropped the first match Friday night 61-52.

The Rockets, made up mainly of air force personnel from nearby Rockcliffe air station, won the Ottawa district and Quebec title.

Ross scored 10 field goals and three foul shots in the first half which the winners led 53-28. Then he added eight field goals and one foul shot in the second half for his 40-point effort.

Loyola defeated Mount Royal 59-50 in the first game of a total-points playoff for the High Schools Senior "B" basketball championship.

Rugger Sets Important Tilts For Coming Season

The list of fixtures for the Spring season for the Westmount Rugby Football Club was announced this week. The highlight will be the game between the Quebec All Stars and the Barbarian Club from England.

It is hoped that Westmount will be well represented on the local team. Following closely to the Barbarian game in both date and interest is the Inter-Provincial fixture between Quebec and Ontario.

Quebec, the present holders of the "Dow Trophy" by virtue of their win here last year, will go all out to retain the trophy.

These two games will be taking place on May 14 and 18 respectively at the Westmount Grounds.

Another enjoyable fixture, this time for the players and not the local viewers, is the proposed game on May 4 between the Quebec team and Dartmouth College. This game is to take place in Hanover, N.H.

The provincial team was especially asked for, as rugger is becoming a major sport at Dartmouth and the collegians wish to popularize the game by having a top fixture to capture local interest.

On the "club" level, players are looking forward to the earliest start for many years. If the present weather holds it is hoped that a game for players of all Montreal clubs will be held on the Town of Mount Royal ground on April 6.

A similar arrangement has been made for April 13, this time on the Monkland School ground.

During Easter, the Barbarians and the Saracens from Toronto will be in Montreal for fixtures on Friday and Saturday between the local clubs Westmount, Barbarians and Town of Mount Royal with visits from outside teams from Ottawa and some U.S. colleges.

An interesting experiment is to be tried out this Spring as the clubs will try to run two teams, and some evening fixtures in mid-week have been arranged to carry out this program.

The Sports Whirl

By George E. Jones

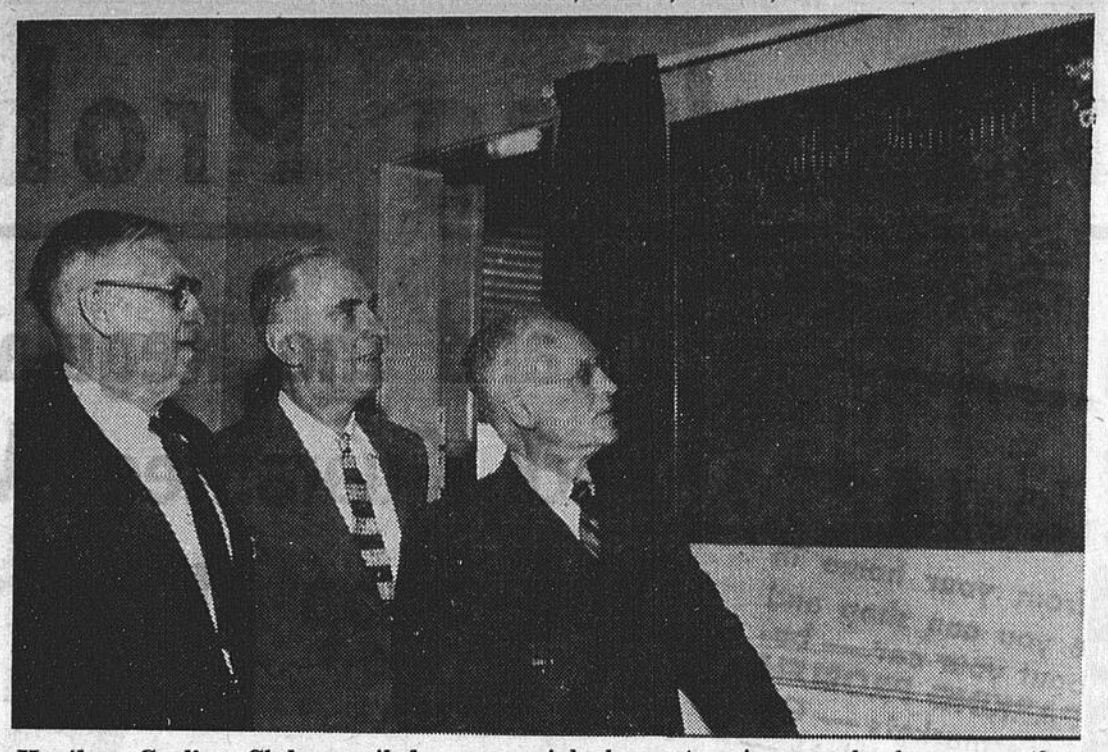

LAST FRIDAY at an invitation from Alex Wilson we attended the unveiling of a Memorial Plaque to winners of the Westmount Trophy, to which the Heather club is holding a bonspiel. It started last Friday and will continue until Saturday when the two best teams will square off in the final.

There were 64 teams who started in the competition and by Wednesday of this week only 32 teams were left. The five sheets have been very busy at Heather, a club which is just a few years away from celebrating that famous 75th birthday! Watching the teams open the competition through the plate glass windows, seated in the cozy clubhouse Alex, who was a very good host gave us the low down on the game. Some years ago while covering a provincial playoff game in Windsor Mills, we were invited to try and send the stone down the ice. We found it quite a chore and not as easy as some may think.

As Alex said, "Curling is a very popular game, spreading into small towns and even to young members of the family." The school curling competition is one way to teach the young and Heather, with a watchful eye on future curlers allows free time. Even Westmount ministers have a few hours every week to throw the stone in a friendly game, the guests of Heather. New curling rinks have been built with very little trouble in seeking members. There seems to be no end to curling as the game gains more and more recruits every year.

Tight Games At Heather

Heather Curling Club officials are feeling pretty good these days as their annual Westmount trophy competition, which started last Friday, is moving along at a fast pace.

Alex Wilson, secretary of the bonspiel committee, said that there are no favorites so far with tight games played all the way.

There were 32 teams left as of Wednesday. The eight team quarter-finals will get under way Friday night at 7 o'clock.

The semi-final is slated for Saturday afternoon, starting at 2, with four teams and the final is set for Saturday evening.

A dinner will be held at 6:30 and the final will be played following the dinner. Prizes and trophy will be presented to the winning rink at 10:30 Saturday evening. Twelve ends will be played in the final. Only 10 were played during the competition.

The club launched the bonspiel with the unveiling of the memorial plaque by Mayor Sydney Bruneau, of the City of Westmount.

President Gordon English and other club members as well as competitors were on hand. Mayor Bruneau sent off the first stone to start the bonspiel.

Jules Larendeau Named Top Senior Athlete At St. Leo's

John Audecent's Termite All Stars defeated Mosquito Canadians 7 - 3 last Friday afternoon at Verdun Auditorium, to ring down the curtain on a fine season of hockey competition for St. Leo's Academy seven hockey clubs.

The Clarke Avenue Academy, may well be proud of the results obtained by their color bearers, during the past season, as they all enjoyed a full season of competition and were in the thick of the championship race in their respective leagues.

Jules Larendeau's spirited pee wee crew and Chris Keating's midget 'B' squad both came through to garner top honors in the Westmount Hockey League.

John Roche guided his team to the bantam finals, while John Audecent's Hawks made a serious bid in the termite section before loosing out by one goal in a sudden death play off title game.

The Senior 'B' Club, after a shaky start, settled down to breeze through their last five league games undefeated, and finish in the second slot in the Senior 'B' eastern section of the GMIAA Hockey Union.

Individual honors went to the following Academy athletes: — Jules Larendeau, nominated as the school's top senior athlete and winner of the coveted Rev. Father Eward. J. Lapointe Trophy. John Roche was voted by his teammates and coach for the MVP award and with it goes the Hon. George Marler Trophy.

Billy Gallagher and Bob Shink finished in a deadlock for the Catholic Mothers' Club award for the most improved hockey player and it will be necessary to present two trophies.

The John Rogers Memorial Trophy for Sportsmanship, will be presented to Tommy Hall. Mike Johnson, a bantam age hockey player, who had a fine year with the senior 'B' club, was chosen for the Catholic Mothers' Club Junior Athlete Trophy.

The Annual Award Day is slated for Friday, April 26, in the Academy Hall.

The senior 'B' hockey club officially closed their season with a hockey party at Victoria Hall. Chris Keating was the master of ceremonies and did a bang up job.

Mt. Royal Rink In Curling Win

Mrs. E. W. Evan's Town of Mount Royal quartet chalked up three victories for a 210.8 percentage to capture first place in the annual Printanier ladies' bonspiel at Chantecler Curling Club.

Mrs. C. E. Huston of Ottawa Rideau was runner-up. She also scored three victories but had a 194.1 percentage.

Mrs. G. W. Cross of St. George copped the two-win section title with Mrs. H. J. McMahon of Ormstown taking the single-victory section laurels.
