GRADE R. F. SMITH, 116 West Notre Dame

When you hear of a "capacity" house night after night, you don't need the critics to tell you the play is a "topnotcher".

When you think of the fact that over a million Gillette Safety Razors are sold every year, and that about six million are now in use, you don't need the experts to convince you that it is the best razor made.

The evidence of men who know razors and razor steel best, confirms this popular opinion of the Gillette's superiority.

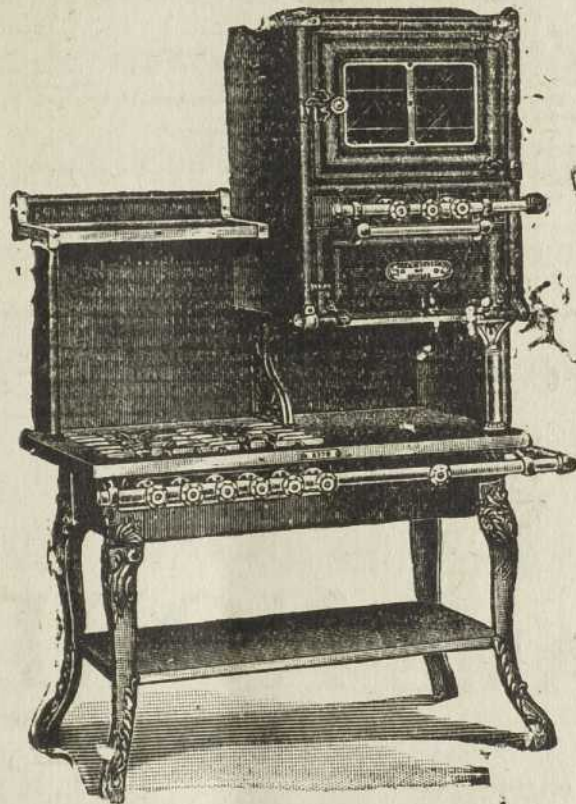

At your Druggist's, Jeweler's or Hardware Dealer's, buy a Gillette — you'll enjoy it. Standard Sets $5.00 — Pocket Editions $5.00 to $6.00 — Combination Sets $6.50 up.

There is hardly a kitchen so small it would't be proud to have this stove.

Illustration — with Glass door — is the design that puts a cabinet stove in a small kitchen. It is the Clark Jewel "Short Cabinet" 43 inches wide.

The glass panel reveals the baking without opening the oven door.

"It has a four hole cooking top, large oven and broiler and elevated shelf with wall guard — and besides the top is 41 inches wide. The solid portion of the top is heated by a small Bunsen Burner, which makes a dish warmer.

Now is a good time to have your lace curtains washed and put in shape.

We do them up like new — not too stiff, and not too limp. We dry them on square frames — adjustable to any size curtain. We handle them carefully, too.

And blankets — we handle blankets as carefully as could be done at your own home. The washing is long enough to get them clean, but short in order to avoid wear.

Let us show you how well we can serve you.

Artistic and Comfortable Furniture

Prairie Grass, Willow, Reed, Rush Bottom, Cane and Wicker Furniture are particularly suited for the furnishing of the Den, Library, or Living Room.

In homes where artistic effects are desired, the graceful lines and comfort of English Willow make it specially attractive.

The unusual is obtained with Rush Bottom Chairs and Rockers, made on the Canadian Colony designs of the "French Regime."

Any of the above furniture can be had either plain or upholstered in Tapestry or Leather.

Some of this furniture is on view in our window, and, whether you intend to buy or not, we want you to come and see it.

In our Rug and Drapery Department we specialize in Window Shades.

CAR PURLOINED BY COURTEOUS THIEF

Generally the man who is the victim of a motor car thief — if he should find his car at all — discovers it in an unfrequented street much the worse for note in the portion meted out to the outraged motorist. If the story which comes from Youngstown, Ohio, that City of smoke and then smoke, is authentic, that town has an automobile thief whose sense of the courteous is of a much higher hue than the once white linent collars of the inhabitants. This automobile highwayman selected a 50 h. p. Pope-Hartford for his evening's ride and when found the car bore this note. "This is a fine car. Pulled a load of coal out of the mud and would have returned the car if the gasolene had not run out. Many thanks just the same. Good luck." The chirography of the missive and the vaunted accomodation of the driver are clues being followed by the Youngstown police. They are interviewing coal wagon drivers in an effort to get a description of the highwayman.

Woman's Beauty Hints

One of the most disheartening sights to me is to see a woman whose features reveal the abominable habit of "piling things on." Powder is slapped on so carelessly that it appears in spots, rouge is put on so thick as to give the lips clownish vermilion; the eyebrows are penciled so heavily as to make the user look like a wild dervish.

This is dense ignorance, yet we find women of supposedly great refinement and station guilty of this buffoonery. Do not forget that the excessive use of such toilet articles, as a rule, defeats its own purpose.

The woman who always "looks perfectly natural," even though that naturalness may be manufactured, is the woman who first receives all the attentions and the favors. The obviously painted woman is a shock; no man prefers to promenade with a woman who causes the crowd to gape at the landscape on her features. In other words, the art is to conceal art.

o o o

Don't overdo. Don't forget you are not making up for the stage when you go on the street, and besides, you should wish rather to be known as a woman who does not need a thick veneer of powder, rouge and pencil, than one who does. To put too much on, or badly, calls attention to your very lack of beauty. Besides, I will continue to tell my readers in these columns how they can be beautiful, instead of being merely painted counterfeits.

Latest Woman's Fashions

Many of the fall gowns are made with the glove sleeves.

o o o

Coats of silk or velvet will be worn with plaited skirts of silk or soft woolen fabrics.

o o o

Velvets, velveteens and corduroys will be worn much this winter. These materials, like other dress stuffs, are more beautiful than ever before. Corded velvets are especially smart.

o o o

Silver lavalliers, as well as silver rings, will be worn much this coming season. Blouses of chiffon and shadow lace are among the fetching creations this fall. A touch of velvet at the shoulder or neck gives an additional smart note.

o o o

Changeable and stripe messaline are used for separate dressy waists as well as for afternoon gowns.

o o o

Some of the newest two-piece costumes show the contrasting coat in blue and oxblood ratine, with gray skirts or black and white striped ratine.

BRACELET WATCHES

In this delightful combination, the designers have enhanced the beauty of the watch and proved the utility of the Bracelet, the result being a most attractive and popular piece of jewellery. There are many styles, some plain, some beautifully engraved and some set with jewels; while still others are tastefully decorated with delicately colored enamels. If you are contemplating the purchase of a Bracelet Watch, the variety of styles presented here will give every opportunity of selecting one to meet with your approval.

NEXT WEEK

The announcement that the original production of Everywoman will be seen at the Princess next week should have poignant interest. This company is substantially the same as that which first offered Everywoman to New York and played it there continuously for more than a year, and it has been cheapened in no particular. It contains H. Cooper Cliffe, a distinguished actor, who created the role of Nobody, that whimsical conception which is now being played by Henry B. Irving son of the late Sir Henry Irving, in the Drury Lane production. Mr. Cliffe has many admirers in Montreal. He has been seen here twice as leading support for Sir Henry Irving; he occupied the same position with Wilson Barrett and was associated with William Faversham in the production of "The World and His Wife." Mr. Cliffe has played the role of Nobody for more than two years and his singular conception has given a charm to the character no other actor has succeeded in producing. The role of Everywoman will be played here by Adele Blood, a young woman of rare beauty who has been seen in the character over two hundred nights in New York, and who is declared to be its best exponent. Miss Blood wears a wealth of beautiful gowns, creations of Zimmerman, Paris, which will set the hearts of the women of the audience a-flutter. A symphony orchestra accompanies the production which consists of over one hundred and fifty people. Mr. Savage considers Everywoman his greatest triumph as a producer.

YSAYE

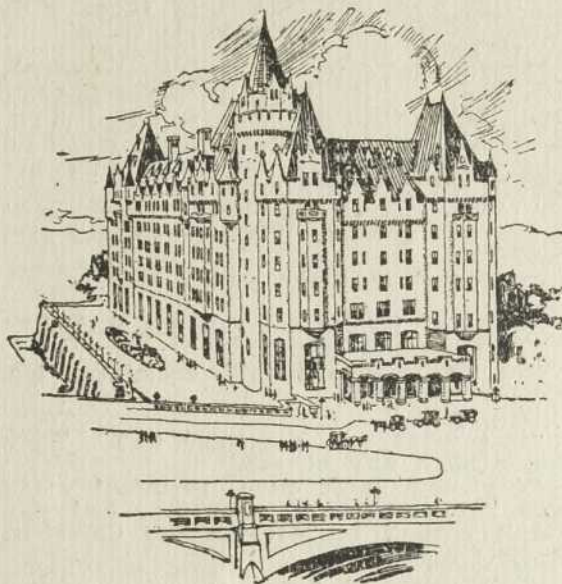

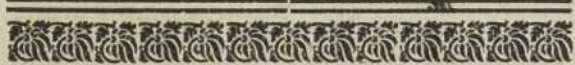

The path of the modern virtuoso is not as a rule strewn with roses, for this is a commercial age, and votaries of the fine arts have mostly to fight hard for recognition before gaining even a small pitance. That this has not been the case with Eugène Ysaye is due alike to his wonderful business acumen and his indomitable perseverance attributes which made him a man of means at an age when most aspirants to musical honours are still in the garret stage of their existence. To-day Ysaye can claim to be the wealthiest violinist before the public and the fees he can command in this, his fifty-first year, would have made Paganini green with envy.

Pickiness from Puck

Little Dorothea is one of those children whose danger signal is silence. When she is still she is in mischief.

The other day her mother became aware of the quiet which boded trouble. She was about to look for the child, when at that moment Dorothea came in, her face rosy with happiness and her mouth covered with crumbs.

"Where have you been, Dorothea?" asked her mother. "What are you eating?"

"Cheese," said the young lady, calmly.

"Cheese? Where did you get it dear?"

"In the mouf trap."

"In the mouse trap!" exclaimed her mother horrified.

"Oh, yeth."

"But what will the mice do? They won't have any cheese."

"Oh, dey don't care, mamma! Dey was two moufies in the trap, and dey didn't care a bit."—From the Christian Register.

o o o

The old "for de wah" darcy had asked a young attorney to write him a letter on his typewriter.

"And is that all you want to say, Rastus?" queried the man of law at the close of the epistle.

"Yas, sar, 'ceptin' you might say, please 'scuse pooh spellin' an' a bad pen.
