World News In Brief

Singapore, Aug. 13.—(P)—Terrorist outbreaks in the North Borneo British colony of Sarawak have caused the government to reinforce its police guard along trade routes into neighboring Indonesian Borneo, Hugh Ellis, Sarawak chief secretary, said today.

The Singapore government at the same time announced it is sending a police adviser and a number of radio sets to the police in the sister colony, 500 miles east of here.

Alexandria, Egypt, Aug. 13.—(P)—One policeman was killed last night when some 6,000 employees of a giant textile plant near here stormed and attempted to fire factory buildings in protest against wages and working conditions.

Eight policemen and two workers were injured. The demonstrators attacked with sticks and stones.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—(P)—The Progressive Conservative party announced last night it will contest both federal by-elections in Quebec Oct. 6.

By-elections have been called in Outremont-St. Johns riding to replace Hon. Edouard Rinfrel, who was appointed to Quebec appeal court, and in Richelieu-Vercheres to replace Gerard Cournoyer, who resigned as federal member to contest and win a provincial seat.

Nominations will be held in Sorel next Tuesday.

Kobe, Japan, Aug. 13.—Two British sailors whose jailing has ruffled relations between Japan and Britain today asked that private lawyers handle their appeal from a 30-month sentence for beating and robbing a taxi driver.

Two government-appointed lawyers filed an appeal for the sailors yesterday in Kobe district court for retrial by the Osaka higher court. Their activity in the case expired when the appeal was filed.

Montecatini, Italy, Aug. 13.—(P)—The Duke of Windsor, recovering from a recent stomach illness, will leave Sunday with his Duchess for France, apparently cancelling plans to go to Venice.

B.C. Forest Fire Causes Big Loss

Burns Lake, B.C., Aug. 13.—(P)—British Columbia's biggest forest fire of the year burned uncontrolled today over a 12-mile front, but a sudden shift in the wind stemmed its march on the tiny village of Tintagel.

Tintagel, eight miles east of here on the Prince George-Prince Rupert highway, was in the path of the fire until the wind switched and sent the fire away from the town and main road.

The force battling the fire has grown to more than 200 firefighters, many of them "rounded up" by R.C.M.P. officers combing the streets of Burns Lake for able-bodied men.

The fire is burning in a timber tract described as being "dry as a bone."

Stevenson Helps, Hurts Cause By Truman Meeting

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—Admiral Stevenson's visit with President Truman may have both helped and hurt his Presidential cause.

It probably solved some campaign worries—such as Truman's agreement to take orders in the battle ahead—but it gave Dwight D. Eisenhower ammunition which the Republican candidate promptly fired at his Democratic opponent.

Stevenson made a flying visit to Washington yesterday for talks with the President, his cabinet and top military leaders, and returned to Springfield, Ill., with a firmer grip on his campaign command.

From now on, it is up to Stevenson to decide what Truman will do in the campaign—and when.

The conferences with Truman and his cabinet, and briefings on the international situation by the defence department's top brass, touched off Eisenhower's sharpest attack on the Democrats so far.

Eisenhower, in a statement issued in Denver, said the White House visit shows the Truman administration is determined to continue its policies through a hand-picked successor. He said these "implications" were raised:

1. That the President is thinking of using federal government resources to influence voters in the election.

2. An implied decision to involve non-political military and national-security personnel in a political campaign "in which they have no part."

3. That the Democratic party would not change its policies if given another four years "to control our destinies."

The vice-presidential candidates got into the political act, too.

Eden's Marriage Takes Place Tomorrow

MISS CHURCHILL

London, Aug. 13.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, 55, and Clarissa Spencer-Churchill, 32, orphaned niece of the Prime Minister, will marry in a registrar's office Thursday after a three-day engagement.

Eden, who described himself as the "happiest man in London," got an extra-cost special marriage licence yesterday to speed things up. Ordinarily, a three-week waiting period is required.

Registrar James Doomsday Holiday will unite the couple at his Caxton hall office in formalities which usually take only five minutes. The couple will fly to Portugal for a brief honeymoon.

Eden's divorce two years ago from the former Beatrice Ellen Beckett after 27 years of marriage rules out a church wedding under rules of the Church of England. The divorce was granted on the grounds of Mrs. Eden's desertion.

It will be the first marriage for Miss Churchill who worked during the war in the code room of the foreign office. Blonde, blue-eyed and brainy, she was 1938's prettiest London debutante.

A career politician and diplomat for more than 30 years, Eden is widely regarded as heir apparent to 77-year-old Winston Churchill when the Prime Minister steps down.

The marriage will closely unite Eden with the Churchill family. Miss Churchill moved into the Prime Minister's official residence at No. 10 Downing Street Monday night. A small family reception will be held there after the wedding.

Eden rode in a taxi to the registrar's office for yesterday's formalities. He was smiling but said "even for the happiest man in London, this must be just another working day."

Whether this "meeting of the minds" solved the conflict over Labor Day speaking dates was not clarified. Unknown to each other, Stevenson scheduled to speak in Detroit and Truman agreed to address a Milwaukee gathering.

There were these other political developments:

Governor Sid McMath, backed by Truman for a third term as Arkansas' chief executive, was soundly defeated by Francis Cherry in yesterday's primary. McMath was the second Truman-backed candidate to be defeated in two weeks. The other was J. E. Taylor, who lost to Stuart Symington in the Missouri battle for the Democratic Senatorial nomination.

An Idaho primary chose nominees for two Congressional seats and a state legislature in a mild primary yesterday. Early returns showed Mrs. Gladie Post and Representative John T. Wood heading races in their districts.

The C.I.O. high command opened a three-day political session in Washington today with all signs pointing to endorsement of Stevenson.

The Illinois Democratic central committee picked Lieutenant-Governor Sherwood Dixon to head the state ticket in the November election. Dixon was Stevenson's choice for the Governorship he is giving up to run for the Presidency.

This Will Be Dominion's First Direct Participation In Atomic Explosion.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—(CP)—Canada is expected to send a team of scientists to Australia by air within a month to participate in the first British tests of an atomic weapon, it was learned today.

It will be Canada's first direct participation in an atomic explosion and her first connection with one since the United States' Bikini tests six years ago.

The arrangements to allow Canadian participation have been greeted with enthusiasm in official circles here because Canada has been anxious to get first-hand knowledge of controlled atomic explosions for some time.

It is expected the Canadian team of scientists, though probably small, will include men from the defence research board and the Chalk River atomic project.

The research board is the scientific arm of the defence department charged with the responsibility of keeping Canada abreast of military uses of the atom even though Canada isn't in that field herself.

Reds Try To Influence Boy Scouts

Washington, Aug. 13.—(AP)—A communist scheme to infiltrate the United States Boy Scout movement and feed its youngsters "communism with sugar coating" was described in sworn testimony made public today by Senate investigators.

The internal security subcommittee in a report to the Senate termed it part of a Moscow-inspired plan to warp generations of "teen-agers to the Kremlin's views, in the schools, colleges, churches and youth organizations."

"I can conceive of few greater crimes," said Senator Pat McCarran (Dem.-Nev.) the subcommittee chairman, in a statement.

The report includes sworn testimony given last March by Harvey M. Matusow of Dayton, Ohio, a self-styled former communist who now is an agent of the Ohio commission on anti-American activities.

Matusow said the communists, after a futile effort in the 1930s to undermine the Scout movement, switched to the infiltration plan, under which they hoped to mix secret Red agents among the Scouts.

The subcommittee published photographic copies of communist literature Matusow said was used in 1930 and later in an effort to set up a communist-led organization known as "young pioneers" as a rival to the Boy Scouts.

"The Boy Scouts is an organization for capitalist wars!" read captions on the covers of this literature. "Smash the Boy Scouts! Join the Young Pioneers!" The document was larded with slogans that "Boy Scouts are for bosses' wars" and "Boy Scouts take part in murder of striking workers."

Matusow said that as a communist he saw a high-powered plan evolved to infiltrate high schools, communist and even church clubs, and labor unions. He termed Scout infiltration a part of this plan.

London, Aug. 13.—(Reuters)—A party of Britons sailing to Helsinki for the Olympic games said on their return today that a Russian gunboat had stopped their yacht in the Gulf of Finland, taken them to a nearby island and questioned them for four hours.

The gunboat fired across their bows to stop the ship and Russian sailors came aboard and hauled down the British flag, they said.

"At first we thought we had been held up by pirates," said Peter Saunders, a Scottish tweed manufacturer who owned the yacht.

The yacht had apparently entered a banned 10-mile area around the closely-guarded Russian base on the island of Porkkala, about 30 miles from Helsinki.

Chalk River, Ont., Aug. 13.—(P)—It's several years since he went away but handsome Bruno Pontecorvo remains the big man of mystery at Canada's Chalk River atomic plant.

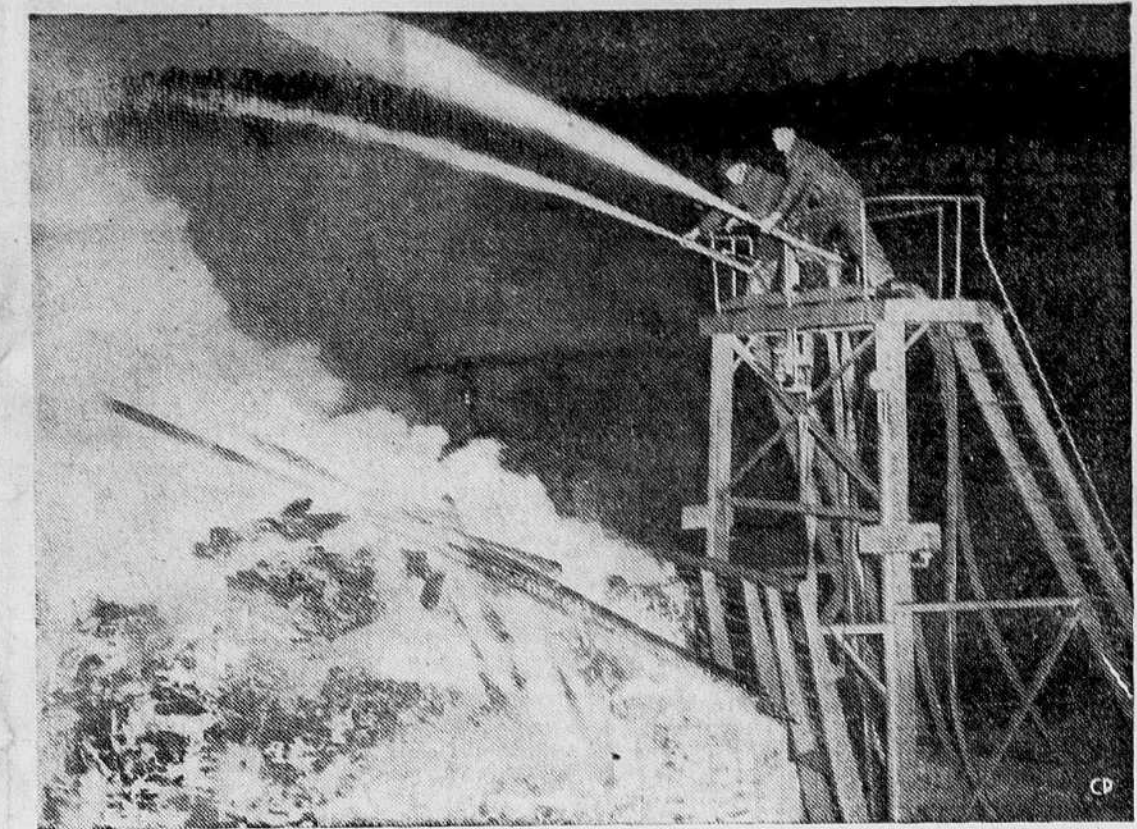

Not that his name is often mentioned now. One senior scientist recently called Pontecorvo a forgotten man at Chalk River.

But the men who worked with him here for several years and liked and trusted him still find it hard to believe that he is working on Russian production of the atomic and possibly the hydrogen bomb, hard to believe that he stands with Numb-May and Fuchs as a tragic trinity of traitors against the west. But they know, that too, that it must be true.

Some news dispatches have credited the dashing 42-year-old Italian physicist with being the key man in Russia's drive to produce an H-bomb. But the same stories also credited Pontecorvo with being the chief designer of Chalk River's own unique heavy-water atom-splitting reactor and that's wrong, so the people here don't know what to believe.

It's accepted now, though, that he is in Russia and that he must be working on the Soviet atomic program. Why he went there, whether he was a secret communist while here from roughly 1945 to 1948, whether he was feeding the Russians secrets in Canada—all these things are part of the Pontecorvo mystery.

In Ottawa, authorities say nothing in the 1946 investigation of Russian espionage in Canada

MILLION-DOLLAR FIRE — The Capilano Timber Company mill at New Westminster, B.C., has been destroyed by fire of unknown origin. Damage to the mill, one of the largest shingle plants in B.C., was estimated at $1,000,000. It resumed operations about two weeks ago after a seven-week lumbermen's strike. (P Photo)

Gen. McNaughton's Son Will Inherit $250,000 If He Changes His Name

Reds Ask To Pinpoint POW Camps

Munsan, Korea, Aug. 13.—(P)—The United Nations today accused the communists of endangering the lives of U.N. soldiers in North Korean prison camps by failing to pinpoint camp sites.

The U.N. asked the communists to furnish the information "without further delay."

The request was in a letter from Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief U.N. truce delegate, to North Korean Gen. Nam Il, top Red negotiator.

The letter was handed over at a liaison officers' meeting this afternoon at Panmunjom. The main delegations are in recess until Tuesday.

Col. Charles W. McCarthy, chief U.N. liaison officer, today handed the Reds two other letters answering their protests that U.N. artillery shells landed in the Panmunjom neutral circle on Aug. 3 and that allied planes flew over the zone on Aug. 4, 10 and 11.

McCarthy said an investigation showed allied guns were firing south of the Panmunjom site on Aug. 3. He said "it is entirely possible" some fragments fell inside the zone and "to that extent we accept responsibility for this incident."

McCarthy said investigation failed to show allied planes went over Panmunjom on Aug. 4. But, he said, on Aug. 10 and 11, planes did fly over, the U.N. recognizes the possibility they may have been U.N. aircraft, and the U.N. regrets the incidents.

The Red liaison officer, Col. Chang Chun, accepted the letters and lodged a protest that U.N. planes flew over Panmunjom again yesterday.

Six months ago, Col. McNaughton brought his regiment to Korea as supporting artillery for the 25th Canadian brigade.

The will says that if McNaughton refuses to change his last name children of any future marriage are to be given a similar opportunity.

pointed a finger at Pontecorvo. Scientists here say they can't imagine Pontecorvo as the driving force behind any H-bomb program. He was a first-class physicist and one of 20 who helped develop the Chalk River reactor, but he wasn't the senior one by any means.

He was "a real long-haired scientist," as one acquaintance put it. He came here with a British scientific team about the end of the war. He was working on cosmic rays and all he seemed to want to do was to get back into his laboratory and work on cosmic rays.

He didn't show any special interest in the reactor. He didn't work at anything that would equip him particularly for work on an H-bomb.

But the people here can imagine his brains being harnessed by others in a major way in that field.

Off work here, he was gay, pleasant, popular. He liked parties and was an excellent tennis player. He didn't seem to have a clue about politics, certainly never championed communism even though some of his family were communists in Italy. He had a Swedish wife and children but sometimes he flirted with other girls and the girls found him attractive.

When he left he was offered a permanent job here but turned it down because he said he had promised to go back to the British atomic project. He went and in 1950 he and his family went to Italy on holiday and then vanished.

Reds Ask To Pinpoint POW Camps

With The Canadians in Korea, Aug. 13.—(P)—Lt. Col. Edward Murray Dalziel McNaughton said today he doesn't "like the idea of changing my name" but will wait until next year before deciding whether to do so to collect a $250,000 fortune.

The will of Mrs. James Norman Stuart Leslie, who died in May, called him a nephew and left him $250,000 and her home in Kingston, Ont., on condition he adopt the name of Leslie.

McNaughton, 32, a bachelor and commander of the 1st Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, said in an interview:

"I haven't the least idea what I'm going to do. I'm quite comfortably off as it is and I don't particularly need the money. Naturally, I don't like the idea of changing my name. My father (Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, chairman of the Canadian section of the international joint commission) is very well known and I am quite happy with it."

"There's the question of taxes and things like that. If Doug Abbott (Canadian Minister of Finance) takes too big a chunk of it, I don't see any inducement in the legacy itself."

He said the will came as no surprise and explained that it's quite a custom in England to ask the second son of a near relative to assume the name of a family without male heirs.

He said the name of Leslie "is a respected name."

"My uncle and great uncle commanded this regiment in the name of Leslie. My uncle and aunt had no children and since I have an older brother who carries on my father's name, my aunt asked me to carry on her name."

"If the old girl sincerely wanted me to continue the family name, it very possibly will be a matter of personal honor for me."

McNaughton's home is Ottawa. He served in the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery in the Middle East and Europe during the second world war in the first Canadian army, commanded by his father.

Six months ago, Col. McNaughton brought his regiment to Korea as supporting artillery for the 25th Canadian brigade.

The will says that if McNaughton refuses to change his last name children of any future marriage are to be given a similar opportunity.

Australians Are Freed By Chinese

Hong Kong, Aug. 13.—(Reuters)—Three haggard Australian fliers, freed after 20 months imprisonment in South China, today denied Chinese communists allegations that they were opium smugglers.

The men—Ross Bohm, Dick Richmond and William James—were the crew of a British flying boat forced down Dec. 15, 1950, 40 miles southwest of Hong Kong and seized by a Chinese patrol boat.

In hospital they said they were too tired and ill to tell immediately of their experiences. An official of the Australian external affairs department said they were "in bad shape physically."

They staggered in across the Hong Kong border from the Canton train late yesterday.

One said "We want to refute entirely the allegations made against us... we were not carrying opium."

A source in contact with the men said they believed they might have signed confessions under duress in an effort to be freed.

A sick British soldier in a neighboring cell was still imprisoned, they said.

In a dispatch from Canton, the pro-communist Hong Kong newspaper Te Kung Pao said today that the Australians had been sentenced to two years imprisonment by a people's court on charges of smuggling opium. The paper also

U.S. Marines And Artillery Beat Back Chinese Attacks

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 13.—(P)—United States Marines and artillery today cut to ribbons 750 Chinese communists assaulting Marines entrenched in prefabricated bunkers atop Bunker hill on the Korea western front.

The battalion-sized attack—second major bid of the Chinese to recapture the height—was broken at dawn. Chinese losses were described as heavy.

The Marine commander, Maj. Gen. John T. Selden, said the strategic ridge overlooking the Panmunjom truce site "is Marine territory now." We certainly are going to hang on to it."

Marine foot soldiers, supported by flame-throwing tanks, captured the strongly fortified height and nearby Siberia hill early yesterday. The Reds counter-attacked at dusk yesterday but were thrown back with heavy losses.

In mid-afternoon today communist artillery and mortar fire was falling on Bunker hill. The U.S. navy said its carrier planes yesterday struck a heavy blow against major Red supply and troop concentrations south of Wonsan, east coast port city. The navy said 40 buildings, including barracks, were flattened with heavy casualties to Red troops. All carrier planes returned safely, the navy said.

Communist shore guns near Wonsan shelled Yodo island, about 15 miles northeast of Wonsan, hitting the small repair ship U.S.S. Grapple. The navy said damage was slight and that there were no casualties.

The navy added that the destroyer Jarvis destroyed a train—a locomotive and 14 tank and box cars.

A Marine spokesman estimated the communists threw 6,000 rounds of artillery against Bunker hill in today's four-hour attack. Marine gunners laid down a curtain of fire as Red soldiers darted through the darkness in a frantic charge.

Moslem Body Opposes Defence Talks

Cairo, Aug. 13.—(P)—The chief of Egypt's Moslem brotherhood warned today that his powerful political organization would oppose any defence talks with the west while Britain retains her hold on the neighboring Sudan and the Suez Canal Zone.

The brotherhood's "supreme guide," Hassan el Hodeibi, announced this stand shortly after the Egyptian cabinet set up seven committees armed with sweeping powers to clean up public corruption.

The latest government action was viewed by informed sources as the result of pressure for a swift crack-down from Egypt's military power, Gen. Mohammed Naguib, and the army. Premier Aly Maher had suggested that political parties be given time to purge their own ranks, but so far the powerful Wafd party—expected to be a chief target of the graft clean-up—has kicked out only six minor party members.

The government also issued a decree setting progressive income tax rates that reach as high as 80 per cent on incomes of $50,000 Egyptian ($14,000). The new rates become effective next January on incomes earned during 1952.

Hodeibi indicated that the brotherhood, which claims millions of supporters and is reported to have a strong following among leaders of the army coup d'etat that ousted King Farouk, gives social reforms and the political clean-up priority among the country's problems.

The Moslem leader declared that even if Britain withdraws from the Canal Zone and the Sudan, "Egypt must be given a free choice on whether she wants to join the west or prefers to take a stand of complete neutrality."

Last October, Egypt cancelled the 1936 treaty giving Britain the right to garrison the Canal Zone. At the same time she demanded annexation of the Sudan, which she has ruled jointly with Britain.

Britain maintains that the Sudanese people should determine their own future. It also refuses to quit the Suez.

At the same time as he announced the new taxation program, Premier Aly Maher doubled the meagre pay of Egyptian army enlisted men.

The Premier also imposed a stiff levy on money moved abroad for other than business purposes.

Geneva Park, Lake Couchiching, Ont., Aug. 13.—(P)—Finance Minister Abbott said here last night that Canada appears to have weathered the period of greatest dislocation and readjustment.

Speaking at the Couchiching conference, sponsored jointly by the Canadian Institute of Public Affairs and the CBC, he warned that this is no time for Canadians to relax. He said he saw reason for cautious optimism in the fact that Canada is in a much more stable situation today than at the beginning of the defence build-up or for several months thereafter.

"It was a hell of a fight but they never reached our positions," the spokesman said. The Chinese began falling back after daybreak.

"When the Chinese finally began retreating we really slugged them with artillery," he added.

Two hundred other Chinese encircled a small Marine outpost about 1,000 yards north of the main attack. Finally reinforcements broke to drive off the communists.

Fighting elsewhere on the front was relatively light.

Tokyo, Aug. 13.—(P)—Peiping radio last night said early reports of the bombing of Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, by United States bombers last Sunday indicated that more than 1,000 civilians were killed or wounded and 676 houses and cave shelters destroyed.

The Red propaganda broadcast, heard in Tokyo, said more than 500 bombs were dropped.

In Tokyo, Far East Air Forces headquarters announced Sunday that B-29 Superforts had bombed military vehicles and supply concentrations in Pyongyang Saturday night. It said warnings to evacuate civilians from military installations were repeated ahead of the raid.

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 13.—(P)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, United States Eighth Army commander, today welcomed the British Royal Fusiliers to Korea. He said they will be an "effective military asset" in the fight against the Chinese and North Korean communists.

The Royal Fusiliers arrived a week ago to replace the Queen's Own Scottish Borderers, who sailed for home Tuesday after 16 months in Korea. They will be part of the 1st Commonwealth division, which includes the Canadian 25th brigade.

Lyster, conducted the meeting at which the financial report for the first half of the year was read and found very satisfactory. Bills from the strawberry social and the ice cream social were presented and paid. The painting of the Parish Hall was discussed and the Guild decided to assist the wardens financially. Mrs. Cross reported that the dishes had been purchased for the Guild from the proceeds of the grocery raffle. The next meeting is to be held in the Parish Hall. Refreshments were served and a happy social hour was enjoyed.

There will be no services in Holy Trinity Church until Sunday evening, August 31, at 7:30 p.m.

Callers at the home of Mrs. V. H. Lafond and Mrs. Villemare were Mr. Edward Lyster, of Sherbrooke, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pierce, of Melbourne, and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lyster, of Kirkdale.

Miss Kathleen Cummings, of Montreal, was a caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cross and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Davidson.

Mrs. V. H. Lafond, Mrs. G. Villemare and Miss Claudia Villemare motored to Sorel and spent two days with Mr. and Mrs. W. Villemare.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Davidson spent an evening at Davidson Hill with his mother, Mrs. A. Davidson, and brother, Mr. Alex Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Corey, of St. John's, spent the week-end in Bedford with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell.

Wayne Sornberger, of Pigeon Hill, spent a week-end in Bedford with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferguson.

Myrl Wells, of Longueuil, spent the week-end in Bedford with Mrs. Wells and family.

Miss Catherine McNamara has joined the staff of the local post office.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Lauer included Mr. and Mrs. R. Lauer with their three children, Jeffrey, Ralph and Timothy, of Orillia, Ont., and Mrs. B. Holt, of Cowansville. In the afternoon Messrs. Grant and Richard Lauer, Mrs. B. Holt and the Misses Ann and Sharon Lauer motored to Grande Ligne where they visited the Feller Institute.

Baptist L. A. Held Lawn Social At Coaticook

Coaticook, Aug. 13.—An enjoyable lawn social was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Gregoire in Coaticook under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Baptist Church.

Fine summer weather favored the event, which was well attended. The ladies report that the proceeds were most satisfactory and they are pleased with the public response to their efforts.

Mrs. William Wallace and Mrs. John Brennan were in charge of the sales table, which as in past years was well patronized. The items were all sold in the form of surprise boxes and everyone was more than satisfied with the contents of their blind purchases.

Ice cream and cake were sold under the supervision of Mrs. John Fraser and Mrs. A. Gregoire.

The ladies who assisted in serving were Mrs. Frances Grady, Miss Alice Parker and Mrs. Clifford Burton. Several young ladies also assisted, among them being Allison Perry, Mary Adams, and Evelyn and Ethel Davis.

Rev. and Mrs. K. Miller were present at the social and had an opportunity to make further acquaintances among Coaticook people.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid with Mrs. J. Fraser, president, Mrs. A. Gregoire, vice-president, Mrs. William Wallace, secretary-treasurer, are planning further social events for the coming fall season.

Several residents report having ripe corn earlier this year than they can ever remember.

Mrs. Kenneth Chamberlain, who underwent a recent operation, is progressing nicely and is expected home from hospital shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Parsons, Linda, Barbara and Patricia, of Lennoxville, and Mrs. Albert Parsons, of Toronto, Ont., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Gregoire.

Mrs. Lechasseur, of Cowansville, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Gregoire, of Coaticook, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Phelps in Sutton.

Mrs. C. Buckland and Mrs. A. Jenks entertained at a porch party in honor of Mrs. John Buckland, of Waterloo.

Mr. Bernard Mayhew, of Bromptonville, and Miss Stella Veilleux, of Sherbrooke, were visitors in town.

A party at the home of Mrs. Frances Adams was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parmley, of B. C. Mrs. William Wallace and Mrs. C. Burton, of Waterville, assisted in serving refreshments.

Mrs. Howard Lamb is spending a few days with her aunt and uncle, Mrs. A. N. Baldwin and Mr. Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Hanniford and

Official Board of United Church Met

A special meeting of the Official Board of the United Church of Coaticook was held on Wednesday evening at the parsonage.

Dr. W. B. Perry, minister of the church, was in charge of the meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mr. Frank Hansford, secretary, and approved as read.

Present were Messrs. A. P. Rogers, A. Hopkins, S. Beerworth, S. Cromwell, J. Turnbull, E. E. Akhurst, A. Thompson, W. L. Shurtleff and George Engelhardt.

The meeting was called to hear a report by church treasurer, A. Thompson, on the progress being made on the installation of a new oil heating system in the church.

The work is well advanced and members are assured of a more comfortable and more efficient heating arrangement this coming winter.

The installation is being carried out by a local contractor, Mr. Scott Dresser.

The police report for the month of July shows a marked decrease in traffic infringements, possibly due to published warnings that speeding would not be tolerated, as well as the eternal vigilance of the local police force.

There were 25 arrests, 6 for failing to stop at intersections, 7 for excessive speed, 1 for reckless driving, 6 disorderly conduct, 1 for refusing to stop on signal, 1 breaking the peace, 1 constructing without permit, 2 held for Social Welfare Court. Of these 2 were given jail terms, 2 were held for trial, 20 paid fines and costs and 1 was suspended.

There were 2 fire calls only and 1 without alarm. One of these was for a chimney fire, 1 electric wiring and 1 auto fire outside town limits.

Thirty permits were issued to canvassers, 30 bicycles were licensed, 12 trucks weighed on the town scales, 3 fire extinguishers refilled.

There were 4 major and 6 minor auto accidents, 5 animals were destroyed, 2 dangerous places found, 6 lost children returned to parents, 16 cases of shoplifting, 7 cases of protection, 8 doors found unlocked in stores, 3 complaints answered, 3 cases of theft and 1 stolen bicycle recovered.

General Notes Mr. S. C. Smith enjoyed a holiday spent with his son, Roger, in Montreal, and they spent a few days on a fishing trip in the Laurentians.

Friends of Mr. Harold Howitt, Sr., are sorry to hear that he was forced to return to hospital after returning home following his recent operation.

Mr. Andrew Thompson, manager of Kilgour Ltd., was a business visitor in Montreal.

Friends of Mr. George Aldrich are pleased to hear that he has returned home from a lengthy stay in hospital. Although not fully recovered he has made sufficient progress to be allowed to return to his family.

Mr. Walter Pierce and Mrs. Pierce, of Belleville, Ont., are spending a few days in town with Miss Dorothy Pierce, who recently has been visiting at their home in Belleville.

This hot weather has at least done wonders for the corn crop. Several residents report having ripe corn earlier this year than they can ever remember.

Mrs. Kenneth Chamberlain, who underwent a recent operation, is progressing nicely and is expected home from hospital shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Parsons, Linda, Barbara and Patricia, of Lennoxville, and Mrs. Albert Parsons, of Toronto, Ont., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Gregoire.

Mrs. Lechasseur, of Cowansville, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Gregoire, of Coaticook, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Phelps in Sutton.

Mrs. C. Buckland and Mrs. A. Jenks entertained at a porch party in honor of Mrs. John Buckland, of Waterloo.

Mr. Bernard Mayhew, of Bromptonville, and Miss Stella Veilleux, of Sherbrooke, were visitors in town.

A party at the home of Mrs. Frances Adams was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parmley, of B. C. Mrs. William Wallace and Mrs. C. Burton, of Waterville, assisted in serving refreshments.

Mrs. Howard Lamb is spending a few days with her aunt and uncle, Mrs. A. N. Baldwin and Mr. Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Hanniford and

Maitland were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Akhurst. Mrs. A. John Buckland and Mrs. Howard Colley, of Montreal, enjoyed a party with friends at a cottage at Lake Lyster.

Miss Pearl Davies, Mr. George Waylen, Mrs. Ruth Whitney and Helen Whitney, of Montpelier, Vt., were callers in town.

Mrs. Walter Hitchcock and Miss A. Hitchcock, of Norwalk, Conn., are guests of Miss I. Wadleigh.

Gazette Writer Tells About Problems Of Writing Column For A Newspaper

G. J. Fitzgerald, writer of the Montreal Gazette's "On and Off the Record," was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club yesterday, when he described the satisfaction derived from writing such a column, and the pitfalls to be avoided.

Most important aids are the telephone, he said, and a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. The sources of information must be developed and taken at their face value, and must also be protected.

Such a column as "On and Off the Record" could easily be used to grind axes or for vindictive purposes he added, but there is plenty of news available without resorting to such measures.

There is a great satisfaction in being first on a story, and an even greater sense of satisfaction in being able to use the column to help people who are not always in a position to help themselves. It is at such times, when an appeal is launched through the column, that the loyalty and support of the readers are invaluable.

Mr. Fitzgerald was introduced by Past President D. J. Salls and thanked by Past President B. N. Holtham.

President Lewis Rosenbloom congratulated Rotarian Everett Nicol on his appointment to the city council and welcomed a former Rotarian into the club, in the person of Lyman Tomkins, who was introduced to new members by Carl Skinner.

It was announced that the annual Rotary Fair will be held at the Armoury, October 23, 24, and 25.

Rotarian Henry Delorme reminded the members of the Safety Drive Campaign and urged their full support to the project.

Visiting Rotarians welcomed to the meeting were: G. M. Stearns, Montic, Henry H. Griffith, Westmount, E. T. Hall, New York, Dr. Henry W. Kaessler, past district governor of No. 257, Mount Vernon, N.Y., R. M. Ashner, Larchmont, N.Y., Stanley H. Osborn, Hartford, Conn., and R. Sparling, Leaside, Ont. Guests were Kieran T. Martin, Mercerville, N.J., A. J. Daviau, Dick Tobin, Montreal, Douglas Howard, J. R. Crossley, Paul Frechette, Alderman Wesley Bradley, Sherbrooke, and Charles Parkin, Lennoxville.

MONIQUE LAPIERE

Election Of Dr. G. Noel Is Confirmed

The election of Dr. Gerard Noel, Liberal candidate in Frontenac constituency in the July 16 Quebec election has been confirmed following a recount.

The recount was presided over by Mr. Justice Cesare Gervais and was requested by Hon. Patrice Tardif minister without portfolio in the pre-election Union Nationale government.

The recount gave Dr. Noel 6,464 votes against Mr. Tardif's 6,173, a 286-vote majority. Returns announced election night gave Dr. Noel 6,515 votes, 290 more than Mr. Tardif.

Man Pinned Under Tractor

Harris Bernard, 31, of Waterville, was reported as progressing steadily at the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he was taken late Saturday afternoon, after a tractor he was driving overturned and pinned him underneath.

The accident occurred on Bernard's farm at Waterville. Eyewitnesses said it took 12 men to lift the tractor off Bernard's chest. Hospital authorities said yesterday the victim spoke for the first time since the accident. Bernard is still under observation and the full extent of his injuries has not yet been determined.

He has lost the sight of his left eye, but has a 50-50 chance of regaining full vision.

Fearless Young Woman From Katevale Adds Pilot's License To Parachuting

Little more than a year ago winsome Monique Lapiere was making her first airplane trip.

As the ship circled high above the Windsor Mills airport, someone draped a parachute about her and invited Monique to jump. She did.

What's more, she's been jumping ever since, every chance she gets!

Since her first leap, the pride and joy of Katevale has paracuted five times, heights ranging from 1,000 to 5,000 feet, at Windsor Mills, Three Rivers, Little Lake and Crystal Lake.

Now completely air-minded, and apparently unafraid of anything, the 19-year-old girl recently received her pilot's license after a course at Champlain Air Services.

That seemed a natural follow-up to parachuting since Monique says she prefers pilots to other categories of men.

What made her start this hazardous sport? Monique says it was an idea advanced to her by several friends. They must have been boy friends because she admits trying to interest her girl companions in parachute jumping but they have all replied emphatically "not!"

That parachute jumping is hazardous was proved when Monique made her death-defying leap from a plane into Little Lake Magog.

at the regatta a week ago Sunday. She emerged with a badly bruised shoulder, arm and thigh, after a jump of 5,000 feet. She didn't pull the ripcord until she was about 1,000 feet from the water.

"It's a great thrill," says the pretty brunette, "and I was never afraid of jumping, even the first time. I have never had any instruction, either."

Miss Lapiere, who works for a hotel in the Magog district, is one of the few young Canadian women to have engaged in this hazardous sport. A native of Katevale, where she graduated from the Sacred Heart Convent, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lapiere.

She can also cook.

Asbestos Pilot Is Missing In Maritimes

Summerside, P.E.I., Aug. 13—Two Quebec officers were aboard a Harvard aircraft which has been missing from the R.C. A.F. base here since Monday, the air force said yesterday.

The two, only occupants of the craft, were identified as FO Donald G. Laxson, of Asbestos, Que., and PO Joseph B. C. Labonte of Point Rouge, Que. Laxson was pilot and Labonte a passenger.

An intensive search was carried out yesterday despite unfavorable weather without finding a trace of the single-engine plane.

The Harvard took off Monday afternoon on a local training flight—one which normally would not take it more than 35 miles from base—and failed to return.

The air force said the pilot had intended to perform aerobatics and forced landing exercises.

Richard Laberee Still In Serious Condition Here

Condition of 21-year-old Richard Laberee, still unconscious at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital in Sherbrooke, was said to be serious but not critical, this morning.

The young man, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leewood Laberee, of Rock Island, was injured in an accident at Stanstead early Tuesday morning. A car, driven and owned by Jean-Paul St. Hilaire, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Emile St. Hilaire, also of Rock Island, crashed into the back of a truck which was being towed.

St. Hilaire escaped with bruises to one of his arms, one leg and his head. He did not require hospital treatment.

A slight operation was performed on Richard Laberee yesterday to relieve pressure on his lung.

"Invest In Lions" Campaign Will End With Prize Distribution On Saturday

The Sherbrooke Lions Club's "Invest in Lions" campaign that has been going on for the last few months will come to an end this Saturday night with the distribution of $750 in cash prizes during the wrestling matches at the Arena.

First prize will be $500 and there will be 50 prizes of five dollars each.

The Lions Club has conducted this campaign as its major fund raising project of the year.

While the Lions' largest service job is done with the blind, for which a special White Cane week is held later in the year, many hundreds of dollars are spent annually in support of other projects.

These include work for the boys and girls of the district, for the underprivileged, families in distress and persons needing medical aid.

As all money raised during the White Cane campaign is turned over to the blind, other means of raising funds for these additional charitable undertakings have to be found. The "Invest in Lions" drive of the last few months was the 1951-52 project.

A special wrestling program has been arranged for Saturday night and spectators at the bouts will have an opportunity, if they wish, to "Invest in Lions" and at the same time have their names added to the list of those eligible for the big money prizes.

Magog Kiwanians Hold Regular Meeting

Magog, Aug. 13.—Magog Kiwanians held their regular meeting at the Union Hotel here last night with President Jack Peters in the chair.

Special items of business were discussed and correspondence read. Mr. Peters read a letter from J. J. Wilson, O.Q.M. District Chairman of Public Relations. Mr. Wilson in his letter referred to this club's inter-club meeting last spring when it entertained clubs from Canada and the United States. He described the publicity for this event as most outstanding, and an example to other clubs in the O.Q.M. district.

Plans are being made for an inter-club meeting at Barre, Vermont, in the near future.

Next meeting will be Tuesday, Aug. 19th., 6:15 p.m.

THE LATE RAY DEMERS

A host of friends will mourn the late Ray Demers.

Mr. Demers was the most widely-known auctioneer in the Eastern Townships and in his death his profession loses one of its most eminent craftsmen.

Mr. Demers' mere presence seemed to signal the success of an auction and he was much in demand, not only as auctioneer for private families but also for the big agricultural sales.

For many years Mr. Demers was the auctioneer at the Sherbrooke Winter Fair and much of the success of these cattle sales was due to his excellence. He knew all the buyers personally, knew when to ask a higher price and knew when to close a sale.

Kindly and always fair in his dealings, Mr. Demers built up an enviable reputation that brought many calls for his services not only in Quebec but in other provinces in Canada.

MOSSADEGH — AN ENIGMA

Premier Mossadegh's latest display of power in Iran may get him some help from Britain and the United States.

Washington is reported leaning toward relaxation of the British blockade against Iranian oil if that is necessary to prevent economic chaos and a situation in which the communists might be able to stage a coup.

But nobody wants to do anything for Iran if the benefits are to be harvested later by the Reds.

When the Iranian senate blocked the bill granting dictatorial powers to Mossadegh, which he claimed were necessary, U.S. diplomatic observers were set back. They had come to the unhappy conclusion that, regardless of how the medicine might taste in Democratic circles, a powerful Mossadegh was the only alternative to communism in Iran.

Then Mossadegh pulled the fat out of the fire, and got the power he demanded. The brief period of trouble with parliament and his subsequent victory made him look stronger than before.

Nothing fundamental has happened to alleviate the Iranian problem. Thirty per cent of the government's normal revenues have been tied up for a year by the dispute with the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company over nationalization. Mossadegh proposes to get part of this income back through a real estate tax which will be unpopular. He also has approached Britain again about a settlement which would release some of the oil funds.

If the U.S. is convinced, however, that Mossadegh has a good chance of withstanding the communists who have infiltrated his nationalist movement, Britain may be argued into new negotiations. Dean Acheson, U.S. Secretary of State, said a few days ago, however, that he didn't see anything encouraging in the prospects.

In the background stand allied military authorities, worried lest Mossadegh, with his ideas about economies in the army, may be about to weaken Iran's northern defences just when they need to be strengthened. The Iranians have jockeyed around with the U.S. military mission, leading to suspicion of their will to resist aggression.

Reports from London indicate Britain may be willing to work out some way of supporting Mossadegh with money and materials. They admit if they don't, the fanatical Moslem Brotherhood, whose leader was elected Speaker of the House last week, might accept communist help in taking over the government.

PRISONERS' ART

The recent prison demonstrations in Ontario and Quebec lend special interest to the progress that is being made in penal reform in Great Britain.

Unnamed prisoners are the artists producing an exhibition of 200 pictures at the Imperial Institute Galleries in London. The works shown represent the efforts of men and women who range from first offenders in Borstal institutions (a special prison system for offenders between the ages of 16 and 21) to those with many convictions.

The paintings are the result of voluntary arts and crafts evening classes organized during the last five years in all prisons in England and Wales. Prisoners are given paint and materials which they take to their cells. Not so long ago, even pencils were forbidden to be kept in prison cells. Local education authorities provide most of the teachers, while others are selected from among the prisoners, or members of the prison staff.

Opening the exhibit, the British Home Secretary said: "Looking round the standard of work here, . . . I hope we may all agree that those who have produced it were better employed in this way than in sitting in their cells in silent meditation."

SENATOR LONG STICKS BY GUNS HE FIRED AT DEM CONVENTION

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington — (NEA) — Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana — Huey's son, who at 33 is the youngest member of the upper house of Congress — has just taken off for Greenland, Western Europe and North Africa to inspect air bases. But before he left he delivered another blast to the people of his state on the part he played at the Chicago Democratic convention. He is still sticking by his guns.

Senator Long, it will be recalled, with two other members of the Louisiana delegation, Louis Rousset and Lonnie Autin, refused to walk out after his state delegation had voted not to sign the loyalty pledge.

Then, mounting the platform, the young senator declared in one of the most dramatic moments of the whole show: "I do not propose to leave this convention if I'm the only member to stay. I'll stake my entire political career on the issue that people of my state should have the God-given right to say for whom they want to vote."

Considering all the circumstances, this was one of the most courageous individual acts of any political gathering. If young Senator Long were up for re-election this year, this business of defying Gov. Robert F. Kennon, ex-Gov. Sam Jones, Sen. Allen J. Ellender, Leander Perez and all the other old-time politicians of his state might have ended his career.

But Russell Long, by this one act alone, demonstrated that he had inherited all of his Kingfisher father's political guts. And as a friend told him when he was over, "After the passions die down — a year from now — you, and they, will be proud of what you did."

Letter Writers Behind Him 20 To 1

Senator Long didn't go home to Louisiana right after the Chicago convention, however. He didn't even go home to vote in the state primary on the Tuesday after the convention closed.

There was no Senate or gubernatorial office at stake, he explained, and the congressmen from his district, Jimmy Morrison, was unopposed. Also, he had to get ready for this trip abroad, inspecting U.S. air base installations in the North Atlantic treaty countries, for the Senate Armed Services Committee, of which he is a member.

In the week after the convention closed, Senator Long said his mail from home had been most heartwarming. It ran about 20 to one in support of the stand he had taken at Chicago.

He got congratulations and praise for agreeing to support the regular Democratic nominees of the convention. But there was no middle ground. Those who opposed him, the one in 20, denounced him violently for having "sold out" to the northern liberals.

To explain again what he had done at Chicago and why he had done it, Senator Long made a transcribed radio broadcast to Louisiana on the night before he sailed for Europe.

It is still a hot subject for discussion. It probably won't quiet down until the Louisiana state central committee decides whether to call another state convention to put some other names than Stevenson and Sparkman on the November ballots as the presidential candidates of the Democratic Party of Louisiana.

Long Blamed Parish Boss Perez

"Some members of the Louisiana delegation had already expressed the opinion that they might go back to Louisiana and make General Eisenhower the Democratic nominee for President," Senator Long charged in his message to the state.

The blame for this, Senator Long put squarely up to Leander Perez, the Plaquemines parish boss and the leader of the revolting Dixiecrats who carried the state against Truman in 1948.

"Some of the southern conservatives," Long charged, "wanted to be thrown out (of the Chicago convention) so they would have an excuse to go Republican."

Senator Long's justification of his actions at Chicago is based on four points. The first is that he never signed any sort of pledge. He merely read to the convention the Louisiana delegation's reply that it would abide by majority rule of the convention, subject to state laws.

Second, Governor Kennon had asked him to read the same assurance given by Virginia, that the convention nominees would go on the ballot.

Third, Senator Long says he never gave any assurance he would support the platform. Finally, though he refused to walk out of the convention himself, he did everything he could to keep Virginia, South Carolina and Louisiana in the convention, even to casting his state's 20 votes to seat Virginia when he, Rousset and Autin were the only delegates voting.

"I am sure this controversy is one which men of deep conviction will debate for some time to come," said Senator Long. "Whatever the outcome, I shall have no regrets."

THE TAME CATFISH

Fort William Times-Journal
In a discussion among passengers in a CPR observation car some time ago, one man discoursed on the joys of camping on the shores of Lake Superior, its bays and inlets.

He told of the catches of fish which he and his companion brought home to their lakeside camp. In one catch they discovered they had picked up a catfish, and not waiting it for food or bait, decided to release it in the grass surrounding their cabin.

Instead of returning to its natural element, the catfish stayed around the camp, because quite domesticated and followed the fishermen to their favorite fishing streams.

But one day the new life became too much for the catfish. Although it had become used to the ways of men, it had not mastered the art of crossing a stream on a fallen log. It slipped into the water and drowned.

Sounds rather like a fish story.

Canadian Officer Proposes Streamlined Regimental System

By DOUGLAS HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa — A defence headquarters officer has found serious fault with one of the army's sacred cows—the regimental system as it now stands and has stood for years.

In effect Capt. J. L. Hunter says the army has too many regiments for its own good and that the time has come for complete examination and re-organization of this regimental system which is the foundation of the whole army structure.

His views, described as his own and "not necessarily those of army headquarters," are published in the latest issue of the official Canadian Army Journal. Officials said today there is no move on foot to do what he proposes.

Capt. Hunter, whose own parent unit is one of Canada's proud regiments, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, says the army has no less than 69 named infantry regiments plus six hybrid units now in Germany with the 27th brigade compared to 87 in the much-larger British army.

(The 48th Highlanders, the Royal Edmonton Regiment, the Regina Rifles all are regiments. When they mobilize to fight, however, the units which take the field are called battalions. This is the British system under which the parent regiment—say the Black Watch—may have a half-dozen battalions on active service. Canadian regiments seldom had more than one until recently when the three permanent force regiments—the P.C.C.L.I., Royal 22nd and Royal Canadian Regiments—each were authorized to raise three battalions. They are called the first, second and third (battalions of their parent regiments.)

Capt. Hunter says there are two serious faults in the present arrangement. There are too many regiments. And there is no connection, no "kinship" between the permanent force regiments and the reserve regiments.

Two wars, proved that not nearly all the regiments can field active battalions "and they couldn't be adequately reinforced from their home areas" if they were mobilized.

Formation of the 27th brigade to go to Germany represents "a partial breakdown of the regimental system," says Capt. Hunter. Its units were made up of sub-units representing a wide variety of reserve force regiments, resulting in battalions with "no past of their own and no firm base on which to build a unit tradition and esprit de corps."

(The 1st Highland battalion of the 27th brigade, for instance, is connected with no Canadian regiment in itself. But its sub-units, its companies, each are connect-

YOUR LEAD MAY HELP PARTNER WIN HAND

One advantage of invariably leading the fourth best card from a broken suit is that your partner has a chance to use his judgment. He may be able to read the entire hand and make the killing play.

In today's hand, West led the five of diamonds—the fourth best card of his very much broken diamond suit. East won with the ace of diamonds and South dropped the king.

Without considering the full implications of South's play, East decided that there was no further nourishment in diamonds. He therefore shifted to the eight of spades.

South grunted with satisfaction and hastily put up the ace of spades. He tried for an extra trick by leading a spade from dummy, but was not greatly disappointed to find that West had both the king and the jack.

One reason for South's satisfaction was that he had been handed the contract by East's careless play. East could have made the killing return if he had simply remembered that West's opening lead was almost undoubtedly the fourth best diamond.

What does East know about the diamonds after he has won the first trick? East can see the four of diamonds in his own hand, and the three of diamonds in dummy. Hence West may have the deuce of diamonds, but cannot have any other diamonds lower than the five. In other words, West cannot have more than a five-card diamond suit.

This reveals an important fact about the South hand. South is bound to have at least two diamonds. Why did South play the king of diamonds at the first trick if he also held at least one other diamond? The obvious conclusion is that South must also hold the queen of diamonds.

East should therefore see the danger that South will eventually get a discard on dummy's jack of diamonds. The surest way to prevent this is to use up dummy's queen of hearts before South has the chance to unblock the diamonds.

East should therefore return a trump at the second trick, and now South will not make the contract.

CARD SENSE

Q.—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Diamond Pass 1 Heart Pass
1 Spade Pass ?
You, South, hold: Spades 8-5-2, Hearts K-J-7-6-3, Diamonds Q-3, Clubs A-Q-5. What do you do?

A.—Bid two no-trump. You have a double stopper in the unbid suit, and your hand is considerably too strong for a bid of only one no-trump. It would be pleasant to have another jack or so, since this jump to two no-trump is a slight stretch, but it is still the best bid at your disposal.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-J-2, Hearts K-J-7-6-3, Diamonds Q-3, Clubs A-Q-5. What do you do?

"Strange Object" 300-Pound Turtle

Terrence Bay, N.S. — Mahlon Slaunwhite sailed out of this village near Halifax to fish for cod, but returned with a giant turtle—believed the largest ever taken in Nova Scotia waters.

Slaunwhite, a fisherman for 30 years, hurled a harpoon into a "strange object" four miles offshore. The water boiled, the harpoon line tightened and the object revealed itself as an enraged 300-pound turtle.

Other fishermen came to Slaunwhite's aid after the turtle, showing no signs of tiring, towed his 33-foot boat almost a mile. A rope was fastened to the reptile, and it was dragged ashore by two boats.

Landed, it measured six feet long and weighed near the 300-pound mark.

ed with a different parent regiment, such as the North Nova Scotia Highlanders. It is a unique arrangement.)

Capt. Hunter's proposal is to create from four to seven regional regiments for the whole army, reserve and active together—the Royal East Canada Regiment and the Royal West Canada Regiment for example. Each regiment would have no more than 15 battalions which would bear the traditional regimental names.

Thus the new Nova Scotia Regiment would be the 7th Royal East Canada Regiment (Royal Nova Scotia Regiment). The three battalions of the R.C.R. would become units of the Royal Central Canada Regiment on active duty instead of separate regular army units.

In war some of the units of each regiment would be mobilized but not all. But men enlisting in any region would feel a link with one regiment and not be threatened with anonymity "in the soulless mass" of the Royal Canadian Infantry Corps.

There would be four parent regiments or seven if the Quebec, Ontario and western regions were divided in two.

The Record Short Story

PAIL PALS

By ELIZABETH ARMSTRONG

I am the president of a club — the Pail Pals. No, I didn't say Pen Pals — I said Pail Pals. This is how the club happened to come into existence:

Until I married, I lived in a little southern town, the kind where neighbors are neighbors and not just the people in the next house. When, occasionally, a new family arrived, they were called upon and made to feel at home. If illness or trouble struck, one and all stood by. Our little town was kindly and folksy.

When Jim and I had been married two years his firm sent him north to a small-sized city, but which to me, a real country girl, seemed enormous. Jim shortly wrote he had found just the apartment for us—in a six-story building, two families to a floor.

"What luck!" I exclaimed to mother. "Eleven couples besides ourselves, all under the same roof. I'll never be lonely. Why, right away I'll meet about 20 people." In my innocence I believed I spoke the truth.

A week found us settled; we were delighted with everything. The house was well run, the janitor efficient, the switchboard girl downstairs helpful.

In one of mother's letters she said: "Be sure to write me about all your new friends. I suppose by this time you know everyone in the building." I laughed to myself, grimly.

The few women I had seen in the hall or riding in the elevator paid no more attention to me than to a passerby in the street. At first I tried to smile and even murmured a faint good morning, but after getting cold stares in return, I abandoned my obviously unwanted overtures and adopted a deadpan expression when, by chance, I caught a "neighbor's" eye. One night I told Jim my various experiences.

"Honey," he said, "you've got to expect it up here."

"But, Jim, take the people in us. Their name is Riker. Mrs. Riker is awfully attractive and so smartly dressed. I'd just love to know her. I thought she'd call right away."

"Evidently it's not done. I ride in the elevator with the same men night and morning. Oh, they nod indifferently but that's all. The northern temperature is chilly."

So, there I was, with 20-odd people around me and not a soul to speak to except the janitor who came every morning to the kitchen door for our trash pail. I tried to make friends with the switchboard girl, but on the stroke of five her boy friend called and off they sped. I didn't have the heart to tell Jim how lonely I was, for he had enough worries with his new job. And naturally, it was impossible to write my family that, socially, I was a flop.

One morning catastrophe hit the house; the janitor quarreled with the management, walked out and took the other employees with him. We awoke to no heat, no elevator service, no switchboard and, in fact, no anything in the way of comfort to which we were accustomed.

The first day wasn't so bad. I didn't have to shop as there was enough food in the house and, by keeping the gas stove going, I was fairly warm, and besides there was still a little heat in the pipes. The second day we felt the pinch; the pipes were icy, the stove inadequate.

After trudging down six flights of stairs, to say nothing of trudging up, I found I'd forgotten the butter and out I had to stagger again. Another inconvenience was the trash; outside out kitchen door stood the pail . . . and it stood and stood.

That evening a man named Mills came to our flat. "Will you come down to the lounge?" he said to Jim. "Some of the tenants are there and we're going to see what can be done."

"Girls, I'm going to give those strangers a few days to get their breath, then I'm going to call and introduce myself as their neighbor, and ask if I can help. Who will come with me?"

With one voice, the Pail Pals answered, "I will!"

Referendum Is Defeated At Waterville

Citizens of Waterville, or rather a majority of them, are of the opinion that their town is better off without a licensed hotel. Four times in the last 20 years they have voted down a referendum requesting such a license, and yesterday was but a repetition of the past. Figures released by Fred Bean, secretary-treasurer, reveal that 269 people voted, 107 for the referendum, 154 against, and 8 ballots were spoiled. Construction of a new hotel depended upon the success of the referendum.

Regatta At Ayer's Cliff Tomorrow

Ayer's Cliff, Aug. 13.—The third annual Ayer's Cliff regatta will be held tomorrow on Lake Massawippi, in front of Ripple Cove Inn. A full morning and afternoon program has been arranged for this regatta and prizes are being donated by local merchants and residents. The regatta will be held between 10:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. and from 2:30 p.m. until closing time. Money collected from contestants and the general public will go to a local worthy cause. The program includes sailing, swimming, rowing and a bathing beauty parade. There will be events for men and women. On Friday night, at Ayer's Cliff, there will be an ice cream social at the skating rink, sponsored by the athletic association. The local band will be present.

Chicoutimi, Aug. 13.—Three persons were killed and another injured last night when their automobile crashed into a truck parked on the Quebec-Chicoutimi highway. The dead: Emile Ferland and Mrs. Ferland, of Kenogami, Que., and a soldier whose surname was reported as Baudin, of Chicoutimi. Hugette Ferland, daughter of the dead couple, is in hospital here in fair condition.

Army Coup Gives Egypt Chance For Free Prosperity

By L. S. CHAKALES Cairo.—(AP)—The ancient land of the great stone cat-faces sphinx of Giza has a real new enigma. Can a reform government move feudal Egypt into a modern era of prosperity? The seizure of power by Maj.-Gen. Mohammed Naguib and the abdication of King Farouk, may lead to an era of reform and prosperity for Egypt's sweating millions.

On the other hand, Naguib's regime might degenerate into a meaningless political upheaval such as have plagued the land of the Pharaohs for 5,000 years.

This country of 20,000,000 persons living on 386,000 square miles of northeast African soil—most of it unutilized and burned day after day by a sub-tropic sun—has long labored for an all-powerful King and ruling pasha class.

Naguib has abolished both and seized the King's properties valued at up to $2,000,000,000. "Inshallah"—by God's will, say the people, confident that the new, almost unknown leader, acting with his hand-picked Premier Aly Maher, will bring about far-reaching social reforms topped by a purge of corruption in the government.

Foreigners in Egypt add a hearty amen, hoping that such a program will settle popular unrest and give the government confidence to reach a settlement with Britain on the issue of the Suez Canal and control of the British-Egyptian Sudan. This, in turn, could lead to Egyptian membership in a Middle East defence command aimed at preventing the spread of communism in this cradle of western civilization.

Non-Egyptian inhabitants are already feeling a breath of fresh air. Censorship has been greatly modified; U.S. magazines and newspapers are admitted, and new regime repealed a 1949 law limiting foreign investment to 49 per cent of an Egyptian company thereby tacitly asking foreign capital to come back; the British ambassador has been in long and frequent consultation with Maher.

Maher has appointed two price commissions to check corruption among government employees and officials. He is reported planning a greater distribution of wealth which will raise the standard of living but which will not introduce the socialist premise of state ownership. Officials say there is plenty of room for private ownership.

The military movement led by Naguib and a core of patriotic young senior officers want this program, the people want it and even the powerful Waif party has joined in the approving chorus.

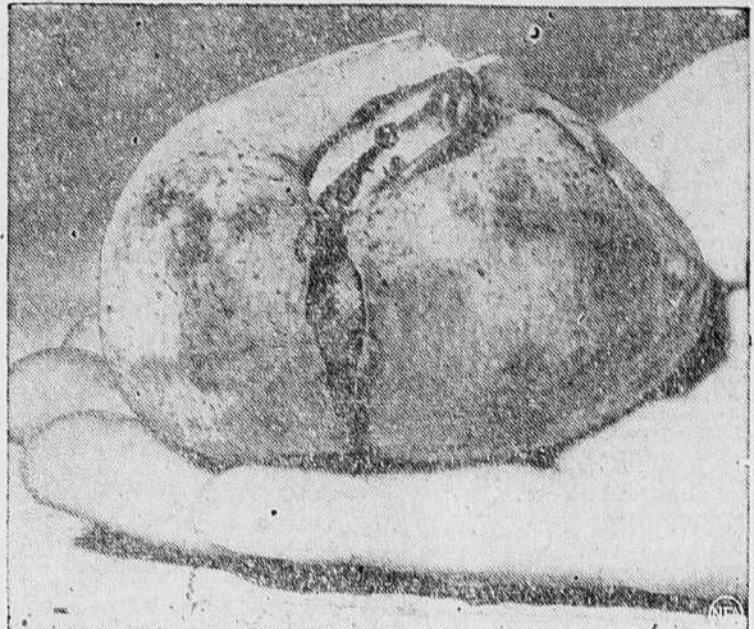

The powerful Moslem brotherhood is strongly behind the army movement because it exemplifies its own puritanical demands on public and private behavior.

Among the most popular reforms already accomplished has been the abolishment of Egypt's Gestapo—dreaded special branch of the police which Farouk and his friends used as a political tool.

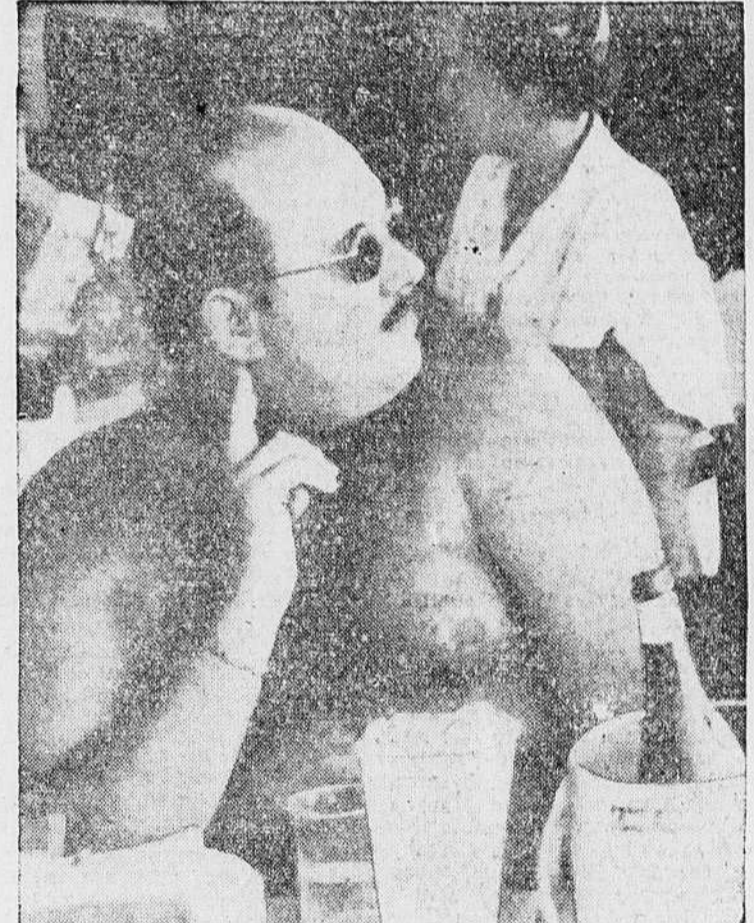

Another is the promised reopening of the Palestine war arms scandal which shocked and disgusted Egyptians as few other events have.

Former Prosecutor General Mohammed Azmi, appointed to look into it, says Farouk intervened directly to prevent a thorough airing of charges that palace cronies made fortunes by selling defective arms to the government during the war with Israel.

Neither Maher nor Naguib has

Pretty Brunette Expert Operator On Big Linotype

Calgary.—(CP)—The boys in the composing room of the Calgary Albertan were wide-eyed with astonishment when they reported for work one day to find a pretty, 23-year-old brunette seated at the keyboard of a one-ton linotype machine.

This invasion into a domain the threshold of which few women ever crossed was the work of Colleen Bowd, formerly of Saskatoon, who foresook a nursing career because she is more interested in feeding presses than patients.

After the initial incongruity wore off, the Albertan printers accepted Miss Bowd as "one of the gang."

There is no doubt about Colleen's qualifications to sit alongside the men in a newspaper composing room. She is one of only three women in Canada who holds cards entitling them to receive the prevailing wage in a union shop. And it happened more or less by accident.

When she graduated from high school in Saskatoon, Colleen went to Regina to train as a nurse. Her application was set aside temporarily because she was under the required age.

While waiting for her acceptance, Colleen took a job in a small print shop. By the time her application was accepted at the hospital she was already serving as a printer's apprenticeship at the Regina Leader-Post.

After six years in which she mastered the printer's craft Colleen received the prized journeyman's card, and subsequently moved to Calgary.

She gives nothing away to the men in the performance of daily tasks, including hefting the 25-pound "pigs" of lead which feed metal into the linotypes to be set into news type.

Do the men resent her as an intruder? Not a bit, they say she has "pepped up" the shop.

What copy does she like to set? Sports. And what does she dislike most? Women's page copy.

The Doctor Says

RESULTS NOT ALWAYS ASSURED IF CAUSE OF ASTHMA IS FOUND

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

No one who has had severe asthma or who has witnessed an attack in a loved one can possibly look on this allergic disease as anything but a serious and most distressing condition.

Asthma usually comes on rather gradually after a person has shown signs of sensitiveness to some foreign protein substance for a long time. For this reason it is usually already well established before diagnosis is made.

Treatment is consequently difficult. Even when the substance which has caused the asthma has been identified and removed—and this is often hard to do—the asthma may keep on.

Shortness of breath and wheezes in the chest are the most common signs of asthma. The diagnosis, however, cannot be made until the physician has listened carefully after the chest and X-ray films have been taken.

The results of these examinations show better than symptoms do how much of the lung is involved and the seriousness of the condition.

The location of the difficulty is in the bronchial tubes which lead from the main breathing tube or trachea into the lung tissue. The walls of these small passages become thickened. The passages are narrowed and filled up with mucus which the lung constantly tries to get rid of.

Spasms or contractions of the bronchial tubes often still further decrease the space through which air can pass into the lungs. The shortness of breath, therefore, of which most victims of asthma complain, is caused simply by the lungs not getting enough air and trying to get more.

The coughing which accompanies asthma is nature's attempt to clear out the mucus and enlarge the breathing tubes.

Treatments Are Many

In some cases sinus infection is responsible for the asthma and treatment of this infection may clear up the asthma. The use of an iodized oil injected into the bronchial tubes has helped some people.

of gaseous mixtures containing oxygen and helium have also been tried with success in some cases. Application of small doses of cortisone has been reported in favorably.

Many victims of asthma have had to consider moving to locations where the protein to which they are sensitive is absent and where the climate is drier. Such change of climate often has helped, but it has also failed.

For this reason, the victim of asthma who seeks relief by change of residence is usually advised to try the new location for several months or so before making a permanent decision. The best results with asthma come when the exact cause can be discovered and separated from the victim.

Canadian Girls Will Perform In British Isles

Montreal, Aug. 13.—Smartly clad in grey skirts, blue blazers with "Canada" flashes on their shoulders and the Presbyterian crest, and grey hats, 35 young ladies, members of the Fairbank Presbyterian Girls Choir, Toronto, will sail from Quebec today aboard the Cunard liner Samaria for a month's tour of England and Scotland. Highlight of this tour will be their presentation to Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II at the Braemar Games near Edinburgh, September 4, at which time they will perform for Her Majesty. Another event in their itinerary will be their rendition of several Canadian songs at the opening of the Edinburgh Festival. The young ladies, whose average age is 12, have been trained for the past two years by Mrs. Marion Patterson, their organizer and choir leader. Two conductors will take charge of the group although many of the children's parents will travel with them. Mrs. Patterson, who raised the money for this tour through public subscription in North Toronto, distinguished herself during World

They will then go on to the Braemar Games for the Royal presentation. Later they will leave for Glasgow where a civic reception is planned in their honor. They also will give concerts in Carlisle and Preston before sailing from Liverpool aboard the Cunarder Franconia, September 18, for Canada.

MARRIAGES

COTTERELL—BROADBENT

Magog, Que. Aug. 13.—At a candle-light service in St. Paul's United Church on Saturday evening, August 2, at 7 o'clock, Miss Shirley Beth Broadbent, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Broadbent, became the bride of Mr. Albert Spencer Cotterell, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Cotterell. Rev. C. J. Gustafson officiated and the music was played by Mr. Dale Jackson. Hydrangeas were used for the decoration of the church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a ballerina-length dress of white net over satin with a fingertip-length veil caught with roses and lilies of the valley. She wore a string of pearls, the gift of the groom and carried a bouquet of red and white roses. Miss Gloria Broadbent, as attendant for her sister, wore yellow net over satin, with a headband of yellow butterflies, and she carried a nosegay of yellow roses and sweet peas.

Mr. Gill Ethier acted as best man. The bride's mother wore a dress of flowered green net, a white hat, white accessories and a corsage of white sweet peas.

The groom's mother wore a navy sheer dress, with pink hat and accessories, and a corsage of red and white sweet peas.

Following the wedding, the reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, at Wright's Beach. A buffet luncheon was served to the immediate members of both families. Cut flowers were used for decoration. Later Mr. and Mrs. Cotterell left for a trip to Niagara Falls and Hamilton, Ont., and Detroit, Mich., the bride wearing a mauve nylon dress, pink coat, white hat and white accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Cotterell will reside in Magog.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cotterell, Toronto; Second Lieut. Ronnie Daker, Kingston, Ont.

HOVEY—HAWTHORNE

Farnham, Que. Aug. 13.—The marriage was solemnized recently at the Manse, in Farnham, Que., of Ruth Annabel, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Hawthorne, of Brigham, Que., to Mr. Allan Milton Hovey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hovey, of Derby, Vt. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Prince. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was unattended and wore a ballerina-length gown of blue nylon taffeta and white nylon net a complete kitchen set, were placed around the bride-elect's special chair, and at a given time were presented to her, one by one, by the little Misses Betty McHarg and Audrey Savage. The tea table, covered with satin damask cloth, was centered with an artistic arrangement of sweet peas, in pale to deep shades of pink with pink candles in silver holders. Mrs. Ernest Cox, mother of the hostess, assisted in serving and she carried a bouquet of white, pink and red roses. Mrs. Hawthorne, mother of the bride, wore a blue gown with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hovey, wore navy blue with white accessories. Guests at the reception held at the bride's home included the bride's and groom's grandmothers, Mrs. Moylan, of Brigham, and Mrs. M. Whipple, of Cedarville. Other guests present were Dr. and Mrs. Prince, Farnham; Miss Grace Hawthorne, Brigham; Mrs. John Dionne and daughter, Joan, Rock Island; Miss Delma Smith, Mr. Dale Smith, Mrs. Carroll Dezan and son, Keith, Ayer's Cliff; Mr. M. Whipple, Cedarville; Miss Helene Gaudreau, Messrs. Andre, Yvon and Marcel Gaudreau, Brigham.

The bride and groom left by car for Barton, Vt., where they were to spend a few days before continuing to Cape Cod, Mass. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Hovey will reside in Newport, Vt.

Au Bon Marche Installs Air-Conditioning System

Installation Of Air Conditioning Unit Completed At Au Bon Marche

Au Bon Marche, which at the end of April expanded its facilities to twice the previous capacity, has shown its progressive nature in yet another fashion with the installation of an air-conditioning unit.

No matter how hot it is on the street, customers of Au Bon Marche can now shop in cool comfort.

In announcing the new addition, the management of the familiar store at 23 King street west is following the practice of progressive department and dry goods' stores in other cities. Au Bon Marche is now one of the first stores in Sherbrooke to have an air-conditioning unit.

The system installed is that sold by Henri Royer, the oldest and largest company in this field.

The "Carrier Weathermaker" is a compact, self-contained air-conditioning unit, designed for all types of comfort and industrial uses, such as for stores, offices, restaurants, laboratories and homes. Although Au Bon Marche has now expanded to about 8,000 square feet of floor space, the compact unit is of a type guaranteed to spread an equal degree of coolness throughout the store.

The key to the success of Au Bon Marche, which, in four short years, has quadrupled its business, tripled its staff and grown in physical size to eight times of what it was in 1948, has been the low prices it has given its customers for equal values in all lines of clothing, men's, women's and children's wear.

With a strict "cash" policy, taking risk on "lots," and a trained buying-eye focussed on manufacturers' clearings, job lots and liquidations of other clothing stores, Au Bon Marche has been able always to pass on its profits to its customers in the form of low prices for fine quality.

By the purchase and installation of the new air-conditioning system, which affords customers the chance to shop in cool comfort during the hot summer months, Au Bon Marche has passed on yet another bargain for citizens of Sherbrooke and district.

STANBRIDGE STATION

WEATHERMAKERS

PROVIDE AIR CONDITIONING AT ITS BEST!

CARRIER FEATURES —

- Exclusive QT Fan Design
- Concealed illuminated controls

This brand new fan design delivers air at a lower velocity and expands the air stream uniformly and quietly to the room through a special five-sided diffuser. Fan shaft is centerless ground with endless belt drive.

The handsome emblem on the nameplate glows while the unit is operating. Lifting the hinged nameplate exposes the simple controls, illuminated by a soft electric light which makes them easy to read at all times.

- Hermetically sealed refrigerating unit
- Completely insulated with fibreglass

Compressor and motor are directly connected without pulleys or belts, completely sealed and spring-mounted. Exclusive "multiple valves" are exceptionally quiet and a special muffler absorbs pulsating noises.

The thick blanket of fibre glass completely insulates the cabinet — the front, back, top and both sides. More research has gone into the quietness of operation than for any other design feature of the Weathermaker.

- Designed by Lurette Guild
- Smooth baked enamel finish

The skill of one of America's finest designers is reflected in the beauty of the new Weathermaker. Lurette Guild has blended beauty and utility into a distinctive, modern cabinet that will fit any surroundings.

The exterior finish of the new Weathermaker is just like the fenders on a fine automobile — gleaming baked enamel on a protected, bonderized surface. It's durable, good looking and easy to keep clean.

Plus "Controlled Cooling"—It's only when you properly balance the relationship between temperature, humidity, ventilation and air motion that you get true comfort and avoid that cold, clammy feeling. Any air conditioner will cool, but only Carrier Controlled Cooling assures comfort through built-in balancing features.

Plus "Humitrol"—On sultry days when "it's not the heat, it's the humidity" this exclusive feature permits you to speed up the dehumidifying action of the Weathermaker to remove more moisture from the air. With it you can take out moisture without greatly reducing temperature on damp days in spring and fall.

The Earth Burns

BY I. R. HEGEL
HAVE you ever seen the earth burning?

It really happens. Two thousand acres of peat land in southwestern Ohio has been burning intermittently for the last ten years. Coming into Crawford County on a summer's day, a traveler will often see smoke of such thick density that motorists about him put on their headlights. If the wind is blowing, flames shoot so high they can be seen for several miles.

To stop the blaze from spreading, firemen are often called upon to sodk nearby land with water. The peat itself burns on. Peat is the soil formed some four feet down by the decomposition of plants in a marshy place. Peat soil is usually rich and, in this section of Ohio, celery, onions and potatoes grow well in it. Peat is also a powerful antiseptic and preservative. Trees, animals and even human bodies, centuries old, have found in it, remarkably intact. Peat, as most of us know, is also used for fuel in Holland, Denmark, Scotland and other European countries.

Auto Fishing Is Good Travel Game

BY IDA M. PARDEE

D'jever fish from a car? This is played something like the fish card game—only there aren't any cards.

Each player has pencil and paper. Each is to write down five items seen along the road. For instance, a list might read:

- Motel
- Safety zone
- School bus
- Dog
- Telephone pole

New players take turns "fishing" from each other. A player may ask to sodk nearby land with water. The other player may have soil formed some four feet down by the decomposition of plants in a marshy place. Peat soil is usually rich and, in this section of Ohio, celery, onions and potatoes grow well in it. Peat is also a powerful antiseptic and preservative. Trees, animals and even human bodies, centuries old, have found in it, remarkably intact. Peat, as most of us know, is also used for fuel in Holland, Denmark, Scotland and other European countries.

The first player to catch 10 fish wins the contest. New "fish" should be listed for each new game.

Stanstead Legion L. A. Met At Rock Island

Rock Island, Aug. 13. — The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, Stanstead, Frontiers Branch, met on Wednesday evening, in the Rock Island Armory with twenty-one members attending.

Owing to the absence of the president, Comrade (Mrs.) Peggy Reynolds, the meeting was presided over by Comrade (Mrs.) Nellie Jenkins, immediate past president.

Following the official opening the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, and the treasurer submitted a very satisfactory report.

Discussion was given to choosing a play to be produced by the Auxiliary and Legion members. It was finally decided to send for one book, and if it is a good play then more books can be ordered. Instead of holding the previously planned food sale on August 14, the members decided that for this time each would donate fifty cents. Another sale will be held in October.

The hostesses for the next meeting to be held on September 3, will be Comrade (Mrs.) Emma Rollins, Comrade (Mrs.) Eleanor Baker, Comrade (Mrs.) Irene Bacon, Comrade (Mrs.) Violet Badger.

The meeting concluded with the singing of "God Save the Queen." Mrs. George Stewart was the winner of a guessing game conducted by Comrade (Mrs.) Aldora Watson. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Comrade (Mrs.) Aldora Watson, Comrade (Mrs.) Florence Sivright, Comrade (Mrs.) Florence Couture, Comrade (Mrs.) Frances Halsall.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Nine little playmates of Christopher Richardson gathered at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Richardson, on Riverside Avenue, on Wednesday, August 6, on the occasion of his third birthday.

The little folk had a happy time playing games. Christopher received a number of nice gifts, which pleased him immensely as he excitedly opened each prettily wrapped package.

At the tea hour, delicious refreshments were served at the table, made gay with two pretty birthday cakes, decorated in keeping with the occasion and topped with flaming candles, and at each place were multicolored favors.

Miss Greta Richardson assisted her mother with the children.

Attending the party were Sandra Hartley, Nancy Hartley, Ronald Farley, Jessie Johnson, David Johnson, Richard Lacroix, Blanche Martin, George Martin, and Janey Gilbert.

A SALE & SUPPER

The annual sale and supper held recently in Centenary church hall, Stanstead, on a Thursday afternoon was very successful, both socially and financially.

A parcel post table proved to be very popular to every one. In charge of Mrs. Lee Jenkins and Mrs. K. I. Curtis, the parcels were bought unopened, as they had come through the mails. The purchaser did not know of the contents, however the name of the donor was on the outside.

At five o'clock the cafeteria style supper commenced, this was well attended and enjoyed by all. The tables were attractive with bowls of multicolored sweet peas, and the hall was further decorated with a profusion of summer flowers, which added color and fragrance to the occasion.

The decorating was in charge of Miss Mary Flint, Mrs. Maurice Moore was in charge of the dining room and the ladies of the United Organizations, who sponsored this event, assisted where necessary.

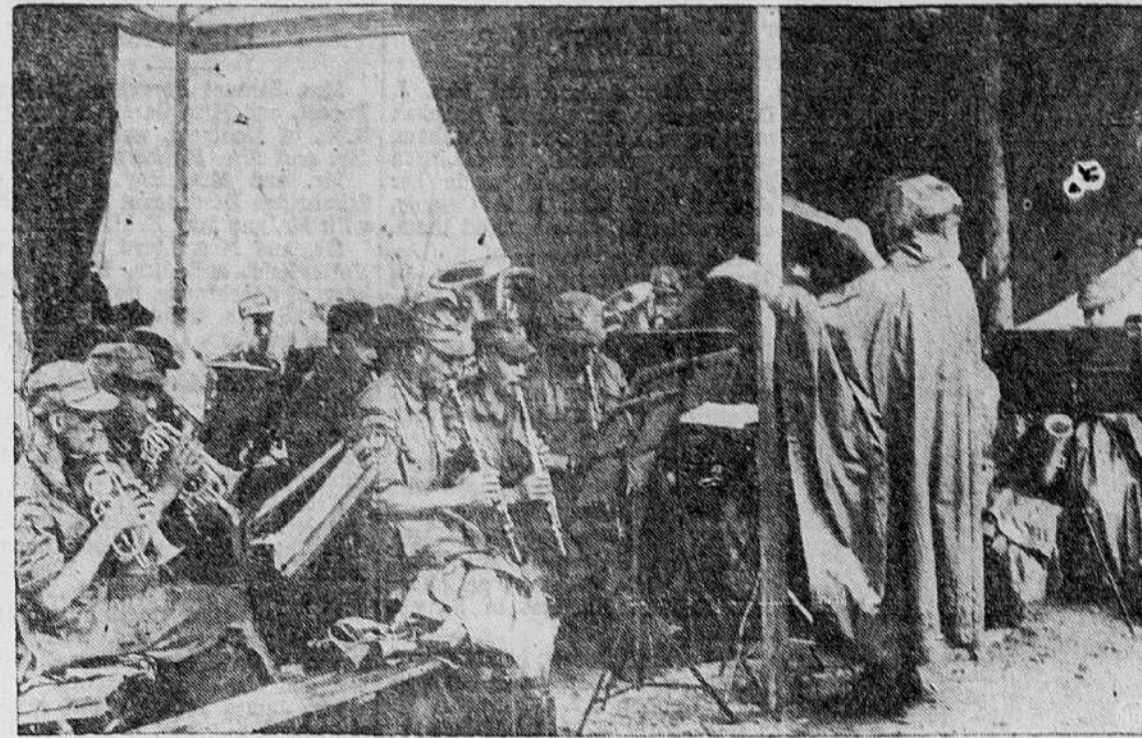

The receipts were very satisfactory and went into the Church carpet fund.

New Incumbent Installed At St. James In Foster

Foster, Aug. 13.—The induction service for the Reverend John A. Creve as Incumbent of the Parish of St. James, Bondville, Foster and Fulford, was recently held at Bishop Carmichael Memorial Church, Foster, where the Incumbent resides.

The service, which was attended by close to 100 parishioners from all three churches in the parish and by 10 of the clergy of the Diocese of Montreal, was conducted most beautifully by Venerable Archdeacon J. F. Morris, of Montreal, who kindly consented to take the service when it became impossible for Venerable Archdeacon I. M. Lidstone, of Granby, to attend.

The Reverend Canon W. P. R. Lewis, of Knowlton, read the Bishop's Mandate to the people instituting the new Incumbent, and the Reverend T. R. Nurse, of Knowlton, read the Bishop's License issued to the Reverend J. A. Creve as Incumbent of the Parish.

The Wardens and their representatives from the three churches then handed the keys of the churches to Mr. Creve in token of their recognition of him as their lawful Incumbent.

The Rural Dean of the Deseray of Brome-Shefford, the Reverend H. Andrews, of Waterloo, then conducted the new Incumbent to the various points of his ministry in the Church, the Font, the Prayer Desk, the Lectern, the Pulpit and the Altar, at each point reading passages from Holy Scripture and exhortations on the Incumbent's duties with respect to the various parts of his ministry, each of which was assented to by the Incumbent.

A most inspiring sermon on the perfection of the Christian life was then preached by the Reverend H. L. Hertzler, Rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Montreal.

The church itself presented a beautiful and fitting background for the service, decorated with flowers donated by parishioners of all three churches. The music was most ably rendered by the choir of Bishop Carmichael Memorial Church, and Mrs. A. V. Beale, the organist, played "God Is a Spirit," as a solo while the offering was being received.

Following the service in the church, an informal hour was held in the parish hall. Delicious refreshments were served by the Ladies' Guilds of the three

OBITUARIES

WILFRID GIROUX, OF BEDFORD

Bedford, Aug. 13. — The death occurred recently of a prominent resident of Bedford, Wilfrid Giroux, at the Hospital Notre Dame de Roseau, on Church Street, where Mr. Giroux has been a patient for several weeks preceding his death.

Born in Bedford eight years ago, Mr. Giroux, spent all of his long life here. For many years he was engaged in the sale of farming implements. He retired from business two years ago.

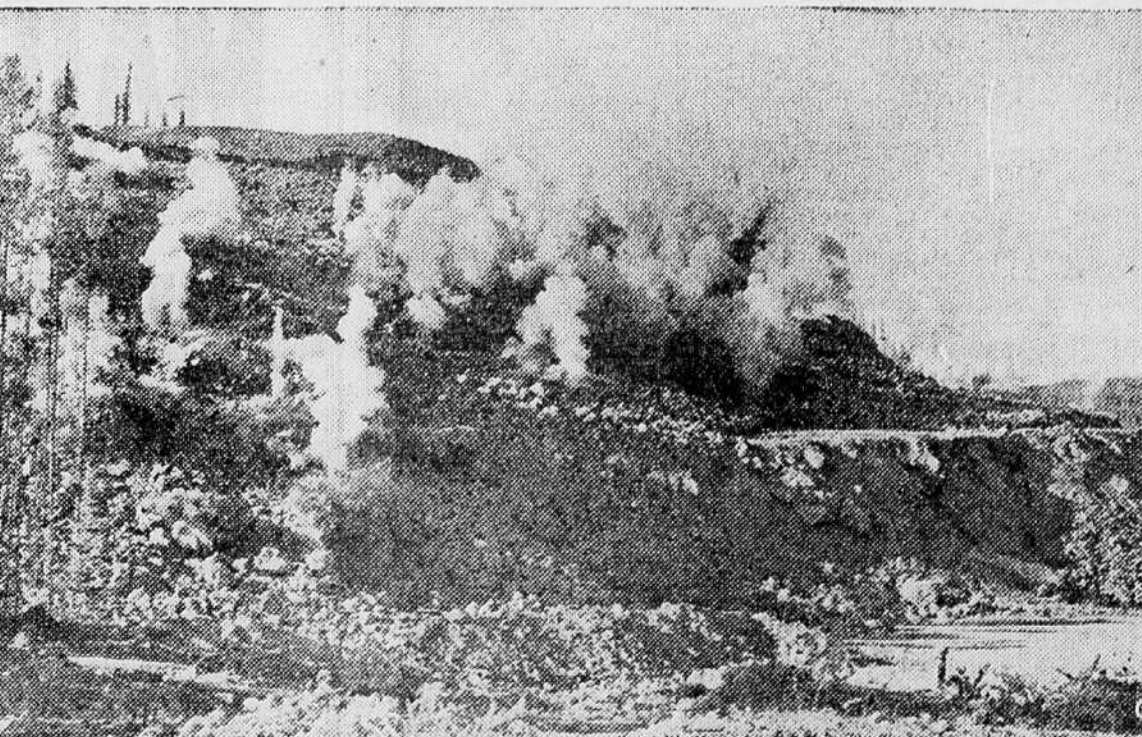

He took for many years an active part in the life of the community, being in excellent health, until taken ill some months ago.

He was a grandson of Joseph Cyr, who was one of the early residents of Bedford, and one who did much for the advancement of the town. All of the houses, which he built are still in use, and the large business block on Main Street, owned by Mr. Joseph Laing, was also built by him.

Mr. Giroux's funeral, which was from the undertaking establishment of Joseph Dion and Son, was one of the largest held in Bedford. Eighty-five cars formed the funeral procession.

The funeral service was held in the parish church of St. Damien, of which Mr. Giroux had been a faithful and devout member, with interment in the family lot in the Roman Catholic Cemetery, beside his sons, who died in infancy.

In addition to his aged wife, Mr.

SAFE DRIVING CAMPAIGN: Motorists will have a chance to find out whether they are as good behind the wheel as they think they are when the Labatt mobile safety unit is here on August 18 and 19 at the Lansdowne Market, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. The unit, pictured above, is being brought here as part of the safe-driving campaign being sponsored by the Sherbrooke Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs. Eight psychophysical tests, which are designed to point out possible driving faults, are given free in the big trailer. The testing devices measure the driver's capacity in such things as vision, reaction time, steadiness, strength of grip, night vision and distance judgment. These tests, which are used by large motor fleet operators in Canada and the U. S. for testing, selecting and training their drivers, have been taken by more than 127,000 Canadians during the past four years. John Labatt Limited offers the driving aptitude tests to everyone over the age of 16 as a public service and as part of the company's campaign to improve driving standards, thus making Canadian highways safer. It takes only a few minutes to go through the tests so no motorist can afford to pass up this opportunity to find out just how he rates as a driver.

ROOKIE MAKES SENSATIONAL DEBUT WITH ST. LOUIS CARDS

Stu Miller's Opener Recalls Good Old Days When Cardinals Used To Pull Hot Pitchers Out Of Minors

Stu Miller's sensational debut with the St. Louis Cardinals recalls the "Good Old Days" when pitchers like Bill Hallahan, Dizzy and Paul Dean, Howie Pollet and Harry Brecheen used to pop out of the Card farm system each fall.

Houston, Columbus and Rochester usually were loaded with lean, hungry young men who could throw a ball through a brick wall and lasoo a calf with their curve.

Since the war, talent has come in dribs and drabs. More and more the Card managers have had to lean on the old standbys of other years.

Vinegar Bend Mizell, who arrived this spring, was going to revive the old Cardinal habit. He may yet prove to be the "big" pitcher they need, but he has been inconsistent.

Now comes Miller, a 24-year-old right-hander with an 11-5 record at Columbus, to stand Chicago Cubs on their ears with a six-hit shutout, 1-0.

Miller's shutout was the first by a Cardinal pitcher since Al Brazle, 37-year-old lefty, blanked Pittsburgh July 5.

Just to prove he had it in the clutch, Miller breezed a 3-2 pitch past Bill Serena for a called strike in the ninth with men on first and third and two out.

Tucked away in a corner of most papers last night was another story that may have had an important bearing on the Cards' drive to narrow Brooklyn's lead.

Harvey Haddix, a highly-touted left-handed pitcher, was discharged from the Army yesterday and will rejoin the Cards immediately. Haddix just helped pitch his Fort Dix team into the National Semi-Pro Tournament. In 1950 he had an 18-6 record for Columbus, Miller's alma mater.

It's not likely, but it could be that Miller and Haddix may make the Cards a real threat to the Dodgers in the six weeks to come.

New York Giants didn't start any little miracle this Aug. 12 as their scheduled night game at Brooklyn was rained out. Having passed their anniversary of the start of the 1951 push in idleness, the Giants hope to launch their '52 spurt in a day-night combination at Brooklyn today.

Just for the records, in case anybody starts a big push, Brooklyn leads New York by nine games and St. Louis by 14.

The Boston at Philadelphia game in the National was washed out and Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Rain kept both New York Yankees and runner-up Cleveland idle yesterday, the Yanks' home night game with Washington was put over to make a doubleheader today. Cleveland's home date with Detroit also was rained out.

Boston lost a chance to gain on the leaders by dropping a 13-inning game to Philadelphia Athletics who now trail the Yankees by only 7 1/2 lengths. Billy Hitchcock's single scored Gus Zernial in the 13th to top the Red Sox 4-3.

Carl Scheib allowed 10 hits in his route-going game, limited the Red Sox to one hit after Vollmer's homer, Al Benton, who relieved Dizzy Trout at the start of the 12th, was charged with the loss.

Jimmy Dyck powered St. Louis Browns to a 3-2 win over Chicago White Sox in 12 innings. Dyck's first homer tied the score in the eighth and his second won the game for Gene Bearden in the 12th.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
Batting
 Jim Dyck, Browns — Hit two home runs to top White Sox, 3-2, tying game in eighth and winning in the 11th inning.

Pitching
 Stuart Miller, Cards — Rookie from Columbus broke into majors with six-hit shutout over Chicago, 1-0.

George Trafton Has Put Away His Crying Towel; Confident Over Tonight's Tilt With Tiger-Cats

George Trafton has dried his tears.

The coach of Winnipeg Blue Bombers flew into Ottawa last week waving a damp handkerchief and dreading the outcome of the 1952 football season opener against Ottawa Rough Riders. So what happens? George's "Greenhorns" flying a 24-6 victory into the faces of the 1951 Canadian champions.

George cries no more. In Hamilton for tonight's exhibition meet with the Tiger-Cats, Trafton crowded: "It shouldn't be too much of a contest, but we'll appear on the field anyway. I hope it won't be too much of a slaughter."

Taking the cue from Trafton's pre-game performance in Ottawa, Tiger-Cat Coach Carl Voyles cast an eye on his "little club."

He pointed to his 240-pounder, Joel Williams and sighed: "See, we're just a little club." He glanced sadly at Bill Mackrides, Bernie Custis and Doug Gray and wondered about tonight's outcome.

Hamiltonians are out to greet one of their former stars, Tom Casey, in the Winnipeg line-up this season.

In Toronto, Coach Frank Clair is priming his Argos for their game with Winnipeg in Varsity bowl Saturday afternoon. And at the same time he's on the prowl for more Americans to strengthen his squad.

Clair has been greasing up his pass defence, concentrating on Ullyses Curtis and Ross McKelvey. The Argos' line was strengthened yesterday with the announcement that guard Freddie Black would be able to play football this season. Black has been sidelined with a back ailment since the first week of practice.

The ax dropped over the Rough Rider camp in Ottawa this week. Coach Clem Crowe let out three players—Clarence Clark, Negro middle wing from the Los Angeles Dons; Danny Mazulka, Toronto lineman, and Olie Harras, Hamilton quarterback.

Aches and pains still plague the Montreal Alouettes, but Coach Doug (Peahead) Walker still hopes to have 32 or 33 players out West this week-end for exhibition games in Edmonton and Calgary Aug. 18 and 19.

Walker plans to fly out nine importers (the Big Four League allows only eight to a team during the season). They don't include Virgil Wagner, Herb Trawick, Marv Meirowitz and Chuck Anderson who are now Canadians as far as football moguls are concerned.

ENTERED IN SHERBROOKE PACING DERBY.—CLEVER VOLO, owned by Coombs Garage of Sherbrooke, who will take part in the $200 Pacing Derby which will feature the opening card of racing at the Sherbrooke Fair on Sunday, August 24.

The little black gelding is shown with Louis Praught in the sulky. Clever Volo has a mark of 2:07 and three-fifths and is expected to give the rest of the field plenty of trouble. Two other classes are slated for Sunday and a good-crowd is expected to be on hand to usher in the opening event of the week-long racing program.

Bart Westgate Joins Unique Golfers With Hole-In-One Feat; Drops Tee Shot On Par-3 Third

East Angus, Aug. 13.—(Special to the Record)—Bart Westgate registered a hole-in-one over the local course on Friday evening when he dropped his tee shot in the cup on the third green to join the unique circle of golfers.

Westgate playing in a foursome with Gerard Bernier, Armand Pepin and Marcel Trepanier used a four iron to accomplish the feat on the 176-yard hole. He finished his round with 38, three over par.

This is the first time since 1938 that a hole-in-one had been accomplished over the East Angus course. Allan Jamieson chalked up the first one when he sank his tee shot on the seventh hole, par three, 130 yards.

Pirates Farm Del Greco To Toronto Maple Leafs

Pittsburgh, Aug. 13.—(P)—Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday optioned rookie centrefielder Bobby Del Greco to Toronto in the International League with a provision that he will report back to the Pirates Sept. 17.

Pirate officials said Del Greco was being sent to the minor league club temporarily to make room for new players who have been called up and to keep Del Greco busy.

Del Greco is hitting a .207 clip.

WO 2 E. L. Warner Cops Bankers Match At Ottawa Posts Only Perfect Card Among 600 Contestants; Maj. Jim Houlden Leads W. L. I. Team To Victory

Connaught Rifle Ranges, South March, Ont., Aug. 13.—(CP)—A warrant officer in the Sherbrooke (Que.) Regiment yesterday won the Bankers' Match at the 84th annual Dominion of Canada Rifle Association shoot here.

WO2 E. L. Warner put 10 bulls-eyes into the black from each of the 300- and 600-yard ranges to score the only perfect card among the 600 marksmen competing in the event.

Warner yesterday tied with two other riflemen with scores of 341 a possible 35 in the Sherwood Match from 300 yards but was beaten out in the shoot-off.

Sgt. R. S. French, 65, of Enfield, England, a member of the British rifle team, scored one off the possible to place second in the Bankers' Match.

A former King's Prize winner and winner of the Lieutenant-Governor's Match at the Ontario Rifle Association match last week, Sgt. French dropped to an inner four on his first shot and then scored 19 straight bulls-eyes.

Only two matches were shot today, the City of Ottawa match and the Bankers. Both count in the Grand and All Comers' Aggregate. During the week-long shoot top aggregate standings are added to scores posted in Saturday's final stage of the Governor-General's Match and from this will be chosen Canada's team to travel to Bilsby next year.

Twelve other shooters tied for third place with scores of 98, two off the possible. They were: V. G. Valleur, Duncan, B.C.; Sgt. Alex Farnell, Verdun, Que.; Maj. A. M. T. Spittal, Victoria; CSM. N. J. McLeod, Toronto; Maj. A. B. Coulter, Ottawa; S. Sgt. F. Eveleigh, Regina; Maj. J. W. Houlden, Winnipeg; Sgt. J. W. Lightburn, Mission City, B.C.; Maj. A. J. F. Robertson, Montreal; Lieut. T. F. I. Vampawa, Toronto; Cpl. F. J. Mackay, Longue Pointe, Que.; and Miss Marjorie Foster, British rifle team.

The Winnipeg Light Infantry four-member team captured the Aylmer-Gard trophy for posting the highest combined scores in the Bankers' Match. It posted a score of 384 of a possible 400 to down teams from the Seaford Highlanders of Canada, British Columbia, second with 380 and the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corp., Montreal, third with 379.

Members of the winning team and their individual scores were: Maj. J. W. Houlden, 98; Maj. B. E. Basteck, 96; Capt. D. O. White, 96 and Sgt. A. W. Park, 94.

The four-member "Gold" team of the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry was credited with a double victory in two matches shot yesterday. The matches were not completed until today.

The Hamilton team captured the Sherwood and Borden team matches. It posted a combined score of 127 of a possible 140 from 300 yards to win the Col. Sir Percy Sherwood Challenge Cup and the same team won the Borden Challenge Cup, posting a score of 178 of a possible 200 from 300 yards.

The 48th Highlanders team placed second in the Sherwood Match with 124 and the Algonquin Regiment of Kirkland Lake, Hamilton and Charlie Watson, officials of the Royal Canadian Golf Association.

Guy Durocher Wins In Provincial Junior

Guy Durocher of Sherbrooke scored the first major upset of the Provincial Junior Tennis Tournament yesterday at the N.D.G. courts. He defeated Stuart Gamble 6-3, 6-3, in the junior men's division.

In the junior women's section, Mary Heron and Eleanor Dodge reached the semi-finals. Miss Dodge defeated third seeded Elaine Burke while Miss Heron beat Peggy Stockwell 6-1, 6-0.

The tournament will shift to the Mount Royal Tennis Club where it was originally scheduled to be played. Owing to the postponement in Davis Cup play the tournament was shifted to N.D.G.

Canadian Legion Evens Series With Firemen

Canadian Legion branch 10 squared their exhibition softball series with the Fire Department last night, defeating the firemen 9-7 in a title of home runs at the Parade Grounds.

The series is now tied at 2-2 in games with another contest set for the Parade grounds tomorrow night.

Joe Lafrance, Largy, Drew and Anderson hit home runs for Joe Morrison's Legion crew while Foucault, Roy, Pelletier and Berger homered for coach John Labrecque's firemen.

Roy and Pelletier handled the pitching for firemen with Foucault behind the plate. Largy went the distance for Legion, and Lafrance was catcher. "Big Bill" Lachance was referee.

Duck Hunters In For Good Year, Says Prexy

New York, Aug. 13.—(AP)—There was good news today for duck hunters.

Arthur Bartley of New York, executive director of Ducks Unlimited, said yesterday: "never had conditions on the prairies looked as good as they do this year, nor have I seen so many ducks with large broods."

Bartley has just returned from a six-week inspection tour of many of the organization's 360 waterfowl restoration areas in Western Canada.

Ducks Unlimited is an international organization dedicated to waterfowl conservation.

"Conditions this year are the result of two consecutive seasons when rainfall on the prairies has been adequate and a relatively large breeding stock returned to next and breed," Bartley said.

Gene Bearden Leads Hurlers In Batting

New York, Aug. 13.—(P)—Gene Bearden of the St. Louis Browns is a 202 lifetime batter up to this season, has blossomed out as the major leagues' best hitting pitcher.

Bearden, a left-handed batter, has collected 17 hits in 43 times at bat for a remarkable .395 average. The 30-year-old hurler, used frequently by St. Louis as a pinch-hitter this year, has made only 41 safeties in 202 tries through 1951. Gene is in his fifth major league season and first with the Browns.

Johnny Sain, New York Yankees' veteran moundsman, is the only other pitcher close to the 200 mark. Batting from the right side of the plate, Sain shows a .233 average with 15 base hits in 53 trips to the plate. Among his hits are four doubles, one triple and one homer.

Bob Rush of the Chicago Cubs is the top National League hitting pitcher at .273. The South Bend (Ind.) fastballer, also a righthanded swinger, has 18 singles in 66 times at bat.

Herman Wehmeier of the Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburgh's Murray Dickson are giving Rush a battle for National League honors.

Wehmeier, at .273 has made 13 hits in 48 appearances and Dickson, who has compiled more hits, 21, than any other major league flogger, is at the .269 mark.

Jake Mintz Asks For Reversal Of Decision

Pittsburgh, Aug. 13.—(P)—Jake Mintz, co-manager of former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles, said yesterday he has asked the National Boxing Association to reverse the decision, which gave Rex Layne of Utah a win over the Cincinnati Negro.

Mintz bitterly assailed Referee Jack Dempsey's decision, after the 10-round bout last Friday night at

Three Rivers And Cubs Battle 20 Innings Before Yankees Cop Tilt 3-2; Athletics Edge Braves

Tuesday night saw the end of a Provincial Baseball League marathon as Three Rivers Yankees scored the deciding run in the 20th inning of an uncompleted game to take Drummondville Cubs 3-2. The game had been stopped July 8 at the end of the 19th inning with the score tied 2-2.

Later in a regular game at Drummondville, the Yankees repeated their victory, beating the Cubs, again 3-2. Three Rivers built up an early lead with two runs in the end and one in the sixth while the Cubs collected their two single runs in the fourth and sixth innings.

Meantime at St. Hyacinthe, the two top teams of the league battled through a 10-inning game with the Athletics pulling away in the extra inning for a 5-4 victory over the Braves.

The Braves got two in the first and single runs in the fifth and sixth, while the Athletics tied the game up at the end of the scheduled nine with three in the sixth and one in the eighth.

In the only other game played, the lowly Granby Phillies upset

St. Johns Canadiens, 10-2, with a fast-starting three runs in the first inning and seven in the third.

Canadiens could only get single runs in the third and seventh innings, despite a total of eight hits.

Jersey Joe Commences Training For Bout

Camden, N.J., Aug. 13.—Heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott was really shadow boxing today—working out for a fight that doesn't yet exist.

His manager, Felix Boecchicchio, said Walcott was going to do road work and woodchopping for one of three prospective fights. The 38-year-old champion will either fight Rocky Marciano, unbeaten Brockton, Mass., heavyweight, Rex Layne of Salt Lake City, Utah, or Johnny Williams, British Empire heavyweight king, in London.

The International Boxing Club has made no progressive move in the negotiations for a Walcott-

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Los Angeles — Fabela Chavez, 125½, Los Angeles, outpointed Baby Gutierrez, 124, San Diego, 12.

Marciano bout next month. The two camps still are at odds over the percentage of the take for each fighter.

Boecchicchio said he had received a guarantee of $150,000, plus 60 per cent of any TV and radio receipts, to defend the title against Layne in Ogden, Utah.

Layne, who last Friday won a decision over Ezzard Charles, whipped Walcott in the winter of 1951.

Boxing Card To Be Presented At Windsor Mills Arena Saturday; Piau Opposes Smith In Final

Three Eastern Townships boys, who have made creditable showings in Provincial Golden Glove tournaments are slated to see action this Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the Windsor Mills Arena.

Marcel Piau, of Windsor, who fought his way to the finals of the 150-pound Novice class, will square off with Bob Smith of Drummondville. Piau, a very aggressive fighter will have to be at his best to get the nod over Smith who is a very steady boxer and carries a knockout punch in either hand.

This bout is an 8-rounder and should provide plenty of excitement before a winner is declared.

In the six-round semi-final Tony Percy, of Sherbrooke faces "Butch" Bousquet of Magog. These two boys met earlier in the summer with Percy gaining the decision. In

Few Are Ready To Pick Winner From 16 Survivors In Women's Open Golf; Miss Stewart Has Scare From Unknown

Edmonton, Aug. 13.—(P)—Few golf followers were prepared today to pick a winner from the 16 survivors in the Canadian Women's Open Golf Championship at the Edmonton Mayfair.

A comparatively unknown golfer all but eliminated the defending champion yesterday and a young competitor extended a one-day handicap player to 26 holes before losing out. The rest of the field went almost according to form.

Mrs. D. MacDougall of Saskatoon grabbed a stranglehold on the reigning queen on the first three holes yesterday and didn't lose her grip until the 19th when Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., dropped a birdie four to win.

Daintry Chisholm of Montreal and Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, Md., came up with the outstanding marathon of the opening round, going to the 26th hole before Mrs. Glick won out. Their medal scores topped the field, too, when Mrs. Glick parred in 103 and Miss Chisholm too 104 for 26 holes.

The two top qualifiers — Mary Gay of Kitchener, Ont., and Edean Anderson of Helena, Mont. — blazed through without difficulty. Miss Gay whipped the lone Edmonton qualifier Mrs. T. S. A. Sutherland 6 and 4, and Miss Anderson won 5 and 3 over Mrs. J. Digenais of Laval-sur-le-Lac, Que.

Rae Milligan, 18, of Jasper, Alta., was not extended in winning 5 and 4 over Mrs. W. D. Edey of Winnipeg.

Ogen, Utah. Since then he has declared the verdict was the "worst in ring history." Upon his arrival here yesterday, Mintz said he had asked Abe Greene, N.B.A. head, to reverse Dempsey. No judges were provided for the bout.

There is no boxing commission in Utah and the state is not affiliated with the National Boxing Association.

Phil Parley Arrives For Americas Cup Tilt

Vancouver, Aug. 13.—(P)—Phil Farley and his golfing associates flew into Vancouver yesterday en route to Seattle and the Americas Cup matches Thursday and Friday.

The playing captain of Canada's team said he still hasn't figured out his final selection for the matches against the U.S. and Mexico.

"How's Percy Clogg playing?" he asked reporters at the airport. Clogg, Walt McElroy and Bill Mawhinney are the three Vancouver members on the team.

Travelling with Farley were Nick Westlock, Jerry Kesselring, Pete Kelly, Jim Kneetle and Bill

Olympic Track Coach Says Canada Must Decide Now Whether To Be Competitor Of Sportsmanlike Entry

Victoria, Aug. 13.—(P)—Bruce Humber, coach of Canada's Olympic track team, says Canada must decide whether she is to be a competitor in the Olympic Games or enter "just for the sake of sportsmanship."

Home from the 15th Olympiad, Humber had this to say about his team's showing:

"I'm proud of every member of our team, but under the circumstances they simply were not prepared for the tremendous competition they ran into at Helsinki."

"It certainly was not their fault that Canada made the showing she did in point competition."

The track and field team made only three points in the Olympiad.

"First of all, we must decide right now whether we are going into the 1956 Olympics as a competitor, one which other nations will respect, or whether we are going to send a team just to have representation."

"Then we must start building. It is hopeless to wait for a few months before the Games begin to whip a team into shape. We must start now and we must maintain interest in intervening years between Olympics."

"It is no secret that other major nations in the world have gone past Canada in track. The only way we can combat that is to follow the example of England and Finland."

"We must appoint a head coach for all of Canada and assistant coaches in each province to integrate a national track and field program. These coaches should be paid the year round."

Humber said the level of competition was "almost fantastic."

"Is it any wonder that our kids did not qualify when in seven out of 12 running events the winning time in the 1948 Olympics would not have qualified for the finals?"

Ottawa Stops Royals For Second Straight Win

Lowly Ottawa is kicking up a late-season fuss at the expense of the lofty Montreal Royals in the International League.

Charlie Bishop pitched the Athletics to their second straight win over the league-leaders last night, 6-4, while all the others clubs divided two decisions. Springfield finished up a Sunday suspended game with a 5-3 win over Toronto and then absorbed an 8-0 loss as Johnny Hetki shut them out with seven hits.

Toronto's Lew Mortin ripped into Al Lary and Al Ihde for a homer, triple, double and single in five trips to lead the Leafs' attack.

Fred Moeller Out For Marathon Golf Record

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 13.—(P)—Fred (Monk) Moeller early yesterday was well on his way to setting a marathon golf record.

Moeller shortly before midnight had played 189 holes and needed only 28 more to break the old record of 216, reported set in 1923 by Dan Kenney and Willie Lundberg of Tyler, Tex.

Moeller weighed 135 pounds when he began his stunt at 4:30 Tuesday morning, but lost six pounds by the time he finished the ninth round.

After darkness fell, friends came around with cars and turned on their headlights. Moeller wore out his third pair of shoes and his 12th pair of socks as he started, the 10th round.

On his first eight rounds Moeller averaged 77.6 strokes per trip. Par on the 6.145 yard course is 73.

Sedgman Entered In Newport Net Tournery

Newport, R.I., Aug. 13.—(P)—Frank Sedgman of Australia, generally regarded as the world's No. 1 amateur tennis player, arrived yesterday for the annual Newport Invitational Tournament and quickly polished off John Nicholson of England 6-1, 6-1 in a second-round match.

Ken McGregor, who arrived with Sedgman, brushed by Leslie Longshore of Anniston, Ala., 6-0, 6-3. Kurt Nielsen, champion of Denmark, disposed of Gerald Oakley of England, 6-4, 8-6.

Mervyn Rose was the first of the Australian team to get into action. He spent only 25 minutes on the courts while beating Don Fontana of Toronto, 6-1, 6-1.

San Jose, Calif.—Eddie Chavez, 138, San Jose, outpointed Ricardo Castanon, 136, Mexico City, 10.

Spokane—Joe Velez, 140, Seattle, stopped Al Cowan, 140, Spokane, 5.

Stan Leonard, One Of Canada's Top Pros, Says He's Through With Big-Time Golf Tournaments

Vancouver, Aug. 13.—(P)—Golfer Stan Leonard has always been an outspoken person believed in the tonic of tough practice sessions.

The veteran Vancouver professional golfer once said, disdainfully: "The average golfer, when practicing, will take a few lousy swipes at the ball and call it a day. His mind will be on the office... or maybe on the girl he left behind."

Leonard never took that attitude himself. But now, he says, even grunting before-hand sessions don't hone his play to its old sharpness.

With this in mind, Leonard yesterday announced on his return from Chicago's Tam O'Shanter tournament, that he's through with big-time golf.

"There is just something missing in my game," said the 37-year-old Canadian Professional Champion of 1940, 1941 and 1951. He added: "I'm afraid I've had it in top tournaments at least. I've practiced four hours every day. I thought perhaps if I could get in the groove, and practice would do it, I would give it the business. That didn't work, either."

Playing "hit-and-miss" golf, Leonard finished just one stroke out of the money when he three-putted the last green of the $90,000 World Cup Tournament.

But Leonard isn't complaining. The sport has been good to him since he was first bitten by the golf bug at the age of 11.

He travelled the "Gold Trail" of big-time golf in the late 1940s with considerable success and is a repeat winner in many of the Pacific Northwest Tournaments.

A 1950 Canadian Press Poll of sports editors and sportscasters named Leonard the runner-up to C. Ross (Sandy) Semerville as Canada's greatest golfer of the last half century.

Since 1952 he has been chief pro at the Marine Drive Golf Club here.

Sailor Tom Sharkey, Who Fought The Best, Now In Battle For Life

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—(P)—Sailor Tom Sharkey, once a gloved terror of the ring, now is fighting a serious — and possible his final — battle.

His opponents are old age, feebleness and loneliness.

Sharkey is confined to a bed in San Francisco hospital. He entered the institution penniless.

A committee has undertaken to collect a fund for the old-time pugilist's needs. Contributions have been small. Less than $1,000 is on hand for medical and other aid.

Never a champion, Tom boxed the best in his day, more than 50 years ago. He is the only man alive who exchanged punches with the first four heavyweight champions under the Marquis of Queensbury rules — John L. Sullivan, James J. Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons and James J. Jeffries.

Sharkey was born in Dundalk, Ireland, Nov. 26, 1873. He is approaching his 79th birthday.

In the right, he never asked for

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
New York, Aug. 13.—(P)—The American League, in the opinion of manager Lou Boudreau of the Boston Red Sox, probably is heading for a wing-ding of a finish, and he seems to feel that his club has about as good a shot at first prize as either the New York Yankees or the Cleveland Indians.

The former shortstopping great has fooled 'em all this summer by keeping his colorful mixture of raw rookies and fading veterans right up in the race. He is stubborn in his belief that, given a couple of three breaks from here on, they can win it all. He has figured it down pretty fine.

"We play our last six games at home, three against the Yanks and three against Washington, and that's what I'm banking on," Lou said on his last visit here.

"Those games could be the payoff for us, especially if we get some pitching help from Ellis Kinder."

"We'll be in better shape down the stretch when Junior Stephens comes back to play short in about a week. We can use that long ball of his at home. He's been out a month, ever since he collided with Dick Kryhoski of the Browns."

Asked which he feared the most, the Indians or the Yankees, Lou had some difficulty making up his mind.

"I guess you've got to say the Yanks," he finally decided "they've got the depth, all those good young fellows on the bench, and Stengel keeps shifting them around to get the best from them. Those veterans of his figure to play tight, steady ball in the stretch, too. A lot might depend upon whether Eddie Lopat comes back as a regular starter for them — even if he only comes back for the month of September it will give them a boost."

Then, we said, the simple truth is that you fear the Yanks more than you do Cleveland. What is this unholy spell that the Yanks seem to cast over their opponents year after year, anyway?

"No, wait," Boudreau remonstrated. "I don't mean to say that they've got an better chance of beating us out than the Indians have. I'm afraid of that Cleveland bunch, too. A club that has the kind of pitching they have, you've got to respect them, even if Bobby Feller isn't having a good year."

"As a team, maybe I fear the Yankees a little more. What I feel about the Indians is that they might be strong enough to sneak in. While we're finishing up against the Yankees and Washington and Philadelphia, they're going to be out West playing St. Louis and Detroit and Chicago. That's going to give them a big advantage."

Ringneck Pheasants Added To List Of Game Birds For Hunters; Only Two Week-Ends Allowed For Kill

Ringneck pheasants will this year be added to the list of game birds available to hunters in Quebec under regulations announced by Hon. Dr. C. E. Pouliot, Minister of Game and Fisheries. These birds may be hunted only during two week-ends, Sept. 20 and 21 and Sept. 27 and 28 and only in the following regions; Island of Orleans, Ile au Coudres, southeast of Quebec, and south of Montreal. This includes most of the South Shore area upstream from Kamouraska. Only cock pheasants may be shot.

Making this announcement, the Department said that hunters will easily distinguish between the male and female bird. The male has bright-colored head, with a white black ring around its neck and a long tail. The hen is a dark brownish-grey in color throughout with a short tail.

The provision of ringneck pheasants as game birds in Quebec followed several years of experiments, to determine if they will thrive in suitable districts. Young birds were first released through fish and game protective associations and later a rearing station was established at Mount Orford Park, in the Eastern Townships where Department Biologists Clement Delisle, B.A., B.Sc., M.A., and Gaston Moisan, B.A., B.Sc., were in charge.

During this year, 4,000 birds were released in various parts of the Province which are suitable for their survival.

The ringneck, imported from Europe to North America, is a hardy individual which will survive through Canadian winters but these birds require feeding stations during deep snow periods. The department will arrange for these in districts where pheasants are liberated in order to care for those which evade the hunters. Each bird liberated carries a numbered ring on its leg and hunters who shoot pheasants must return these rings to the Game and Fisheries Department, showing the date and place at which the bird was shot.

The pheasant liberation project in Quebec follows careful study of results obtained in Ontario where 80,000 birds are released each year for hunting purposes. The Quebec department plans to make annual releases.

Kluszewski-Vernon Set Hot Pace In Majors

New York, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Mickey Vernon of Washington Senators and Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati Reds, top fielding first baseman in the major leagues last year, are setting the stage for repeat performances.

As the season swings past the two-thirds mark, Vernon paces the American League first sackers with a .988 average. Kluszewski is tied for the National League lead with Gil Hodges of Brooklyn, each with .995.

Individual fielding averages compiled by the Associated Press show Vernon has committed only two errors in 1,019 chances. Through games of last Sunday, Kluszewski had erred four times in 844 chances.

A couple of St. Louis Brownsies, Bob Young and Clint Courtney, are undisputed defensive leaders in the American League, but ties exist at the other positions.

Young is the pace-setter among second basemen with a mark of .986, one point ahead of Chicago's Nellie Fox. Rookie Courtney heads the catching department with .997.

Fred Hatfield of Detroit and Gil McDougald of New York Yankees are deadlocked for third base laurels at .970. New York's Phil Rizzuto and Johnny Ligon of Boston Red Sox share shortstop honors with averages of .979.

Gene Woodling of the Yankees and Cleveland's Dale Mitchell are tied for the top-spot among outfielders with .994 figures.

Second baseman Grady Hatton of Cincinnati and third baseman Willie Jones of Philadelphia Phils rank high among the National League defensive mainstays.

Hatton has made only five errors to capture honors at the second sack with a .990 average. At third base Jones shows up way with a .581 figure 19 points better than his nearest pursuer.

Veteran Pee Wee Reese of Brooklyn and Roy McMillan of Cincinnati rate as the best defensive shortstops with averages of .974. Another Dodger, Roy Campanella, is tied with Del Rice of the Cardinals for top catching efficiency. Each has a .996 average.

Cincinnati's Bob Borkowski, Brooklyn's Carl Furillo and Boston's Sid Gordon are the outfield fielding stalwarts. Each has committed one miscue for a .995 mark.
