Influence of Advertising on Public Education Told For Rotarians

C. W. Reynolds is Guest Speaker at Huntingdon Rotary Meeting

The speaker at the Rotary Club meeting in Huntingdon, on Monday, was Mr. C. W. Reynolds, of Reynolds Advertising Agency, Toronto.

The theme of Mr. Reynold's address was on the Principles of Marketing and the influence of advertising in educating the public about the various products being offered.

Mr. Reynolds said that the food habits of the people are to a great extent formulated by stories about different foods and the advertising or public relations about foods. For instance, as an illustration of how popularity was built up for a food, the speaker quoted the comic strip about "popeye" and his getting so strong by eating spinach. This comic strip caused the sales of spinach to be boosted by many thousands of pounds, then another story was published saying it was a calcium thief and the sale dropped. While corn is considered a good good by people in this country, when it was offered during World War II to the Belgians who were starving, they refused it. They refused it because to them it had always been a food for livestock. The speaker went on to quote a number of similar foods that gained popularity, or lost favour due to stories published about them. At one time, liver was considered for cats and dogs, but when the Harvard School of Graduates established that liver was one of the best means for combating pernicious anemia, liver immediately became quite popular and now commands a high price.

Brand names have done much to promote confidence in products of various kinds and many of the symbols used immediately set up an image of the product. Many small organizations have spent thousands of dollars on public relations and research to market their products, to illustrate this, the speaker brought to mind the brand name of "Sunkist." He said there is hardly a person man, woman or child who is not acquainted with this brand in connection with oranges. This has been done through advertising. As a consequence the sales volume has increased.

Another very forcible illustration was given in connection with World War II. It was decided to gather together the news of home in a condensed form of book for the armed forces. In order to get the greatest amount of information in this book, it was decided to leave out all advertising matter. When these journals were distributed in the overseas theatres, there arose a hue and cry from the men in the fields because of the absence of advertising. The men in the fox-holes were lonesome for Elsie the Borden cow, they were lonesome for Johnny calling for Phillip Morris. It was strange, but these symbols represented a way of life that they knew 15,000 miles away. A way of life for which they were fighting and to which they hoped soon to return. They were lonesome for these and other signs which reminded them of home.

People have gotten away from the days of the general store which was represented by the cracker barrel, they are now more interested in the packaged food which come to them in sterilized wrappers which guarantee the article to be pure and fresh and uncontaminated. Mass distribution has brought this about and mass education. The electric blanket has replaced the bedwarmer and all because it has been well advertised as to what it can do and how much better it is.

There is no doubt that engineering has done much to improve our way of living but the story has to be told from coast to coast throughout the entire nation if these advantages are to be made known in every home in the country. It is this mass education to create mass preference for these advantages that has done so much for production and marketing. The speaker said he felt in the next ten years that a market development in Canada unprecedented in world history will be brought about.

However success is not a destination. Success is a journey and each day's progress along the road should make it a most pleasant and profitable journey for all of us — together.

A Stranger's View of Our Town

The following account was handed to the Gleaner this week and has been verified as to its being correct. It gives the stranger's view of the conditions as he finds them. We hope there are not too many with this view, or they may all bypass this town. It is a condition that we know too well.

A Stranger's View of Our Town

A general discussion took place in a local barber shop (Albert Godin's) on Saturday morning, concerning the new driving tests and traffic laws that are to be amended. It then centred on Huntingdon's main street which was badly congested at that time. A stranger who was getting a haircut listened to the whole conversation and said nothing until he stepped out of the chair.

He then remarked, I am a stranger passing through Huntingdon. I have just completed a 4,600 mile trip through the States and the province of Quebec. I have been in all kinds of congested traffic in cities and towns and I find this the worst (blankety-blank) '—— street' of any place I have travelled through. The street is too narrow for two-way traffic and parking. In fact, he said, I had to come to Huntingdon, park my car and then to have it side-swiped by some crazy driver going up main street.

Mr. Lawrence Brown spoke up and said, "Thanks for the compliment to our town, but it takes a good driver to go up our main street and our town is no different from any other." A lively discussion then took place. The stranger who said he was from the Lake St. Johns' district claimed there was no comparison with any other he had been through. He thought the drivers here, in Montreal or most parts of Quebec were not overly cautious and certainly not too courteous to strangers. In fact, he said, the most careful and courteous drivers were South of the Border. This caused Mr. Brown to sharply reply that in all his years of driving he never had an accident until he took a trip to the States this year.

The stranger then said no more, walked out and went his way.

The general feeling was that the Gleaner should have a report of this traffic argument.

His wife will reside in Huntingdon. He is a brother to Pte. Armand Bouthillier, who served a year in Korea, and has new joined up for another 3 years service.

St. Andrew's Supper Great Success

Annual Event Better Attended Than Ever

St. Andrew's Church Annex, Huntingdon, presented a busy scene on Thursday evening when at the Annual Turkey Supper some 866 persons were served. The large crowd was handled efficiently by those who waited on tables and worked in the kitchen. There was an abundance of food for all and the vegetables came piping hot from the warming table to the dining tables. Six hundred and fifty-four pounds of turkey were used and it was all of choice quality. Many visitors from surrounding communities were present including points as far apart as Massena, N.Y., and Beauharnois, Que. The net proceeds of the supper would be well over $400 but over and above the financial results there was a fine social atmosphere which could not be measured in dollars and cents and everyone concerned seemed to be well satisfied with the event.

QUALIFIED OBSERVER

MONTREAL, (CP) — The last man to report flying saucers here said they were five shiny discs travelling between 10,000 and 15,000 feet. Asked if he could accurately judge height, he replied: "I had a brother-in-law in the air force."

Remembrance Day Services Held Throughout the Chateauguay Valley Sunday

Canadian Legion Branches Sponsor Special Services at Their Respective Points

Remembrance services for those who fell in two great wars were held throughout the Chateauguay Valley on Sunday, by the various branches of the Canadian Legion. A report of a number of them follows.

Remembrance Service in Huntingdon

The Huntingdon Branch of the Canadian Legion No. 81 held Remembrance service in the Huntingdon High School auditorium, on Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. There was a fair attendance and all joined in the singing of a hymn and the prayers. A good number of Legionnaires were on hand and occupied the first rows of seats. On the Platform were Mayor Cappiello, Mr. James E. Barrett, President A. Fawcett of the Legion, Rev. T. Knowles, Rev. R. D. MacLean and Rev. W. S. Hatcher, Legion Chaplain. Rev. MacLean gave the prayer and Rev. Knowles the address.

The theme of Rev. T. Knowles' address was remembrance of those things we should remember. We should always remember that many men gave their lives in two wars that freedom might be retained for all. Then we should remember the men who came back and are disabled, some in hospitals yet, some of them working at employment suitable to them. At the same time we should not forget to laugh, the world needs laughter to cheer it up and while we may feel we have lost all, it would never do to go around with a solemn expression all the time. Those who are suffering need our laughter and cheerfulness to make them forget for a while their sufferings. So we need to remember not to forget.

Following the address the gathering in the school adjourned to the cenotaph where the wreaths were laid and the two minutes silence observed. The Huntingdon Citizens' Band was in attendance for this part of the ceremony and the Last Post and Reveille were sounded following the laying of the wreaths. Wreaths were laid by Mrs. L. Roy for the Ladies' Auxiliary; Mr. C. E. Boyce for the Legion; Mayor Cappiello for the Town of Huntingdon and Mr. James E. Barrett for the County of Huntingdon. President A. Fawcett was in charge of the arrangements and programme. The Legion members formed a guard of honour around the cenotaph with the colour party dipping the colors during the laying of the wreaths.

Valleyfield Observes Remembrance

Members of the Canadian Legion of Valleyfield Branch No. 62 held a service at the Cenotaph, on Sunday afternoon. The parade ceremonies were organized by H. Buttress and G. Avon in co-operation with the President, C. T. Johnson and the secretary, A. Melancon. L. Taylor was in charge of the parade and the band played O Canada and God Save the Queen at the opening and closing of the ceremony. President C. T. Johnson, Mayor Dr. O. E. Caza, E. Burgess, Prov. Com., Mr. E. Hebert, M.L.A., each gave an address. Wreaths were laid and the Last Post was sounded by a bugler. The band played the funeral march and a firing party fired a 2-volley salute. Two minutes of silence was also observed. Forming a part of the parade were the following: Veterans of both wars; Ladies' Auxiliary; Reserve Army; Cadet Corps; Boy Scouts; Valleyfield Band; Garde Dollard and Garde Champlain. Ministers taking part were: Rev. W. G. New, Chaplain for the branch; Rev. D. G. Gault, United Church; Rev. Mr. Hormstedder, Presbyterian Church. The following laid wreaths:

Can. Legion Branch No. 62—C. T. Johnson, President; Can. Legion Prov. Command, E. P. Burgess, District Commander; Can. Legion Ladies' Auxiliary, Mrs. C. L. Roman, President; City of Valleyfield —Dr. O. E. Caza, Mayor.

Relatives: Mr. Jacques Malouin for his son Maurice; Mr. Emilien Dandurand for his son Marcel; The Martin family (L. Taylor) for their son Leo.

Organizations: Rebekahs — Mrs. Wm. Shannon; I.O.O.F.—Mr. A. Molyneux.

Industries—Can. Bronze Powder Wks.—Mr. P. Stanger; Montreal Cottons Ltd.—Mr. J. McAlpine.

Ormstown Legion Parade

Remembrance Day Parade of Ormstown Branch 196, The Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. took place at 2.00 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 9th. Organization was under the able direction of Comrade Alex "Sandy" Thompson. The parade left from in front of Ormstown High School, led by Comrade Dr. J. A. Davidson, Legion Members of Ormstown and Howick branches, followed by the Boys' Band under the direction of Mr. Ivan Barrington, the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, the Cubs, and the Ladies' Auxiliary. A brief, but very touching address and prayer for the fallen comrades were voiced by Rev. Marshall of Georgetown in front of the War Memorial at the Fair Grounds. The parade then proceeded to the Legion Hall where the ceremonies were repeated anl the dismiss given. The large turnout of veterans was very gratifying and brings to mind the following lines by Canon Scott:

We who have trod the borderlands of death
Where courage high walks hand in hand with fear,
Shall we not hearken what the Spirit saith:
"All ye were brothers there, be brothers here?"
Let us draw closer in these narrower years,
Before us still the eternal visions spread;
We who outmastered death and all its fears
Are one great army still, living and dead.

Remembrance Service at Howick

A very impressive Armistice Day Service was held in the School Auditorium, on Sunday, Nov. 9, at 11 o'clock.

It was a joint gathering of the three local churches. Rev. J. H. Marshall of Georgetown, Rev. Roy McGregor of Riverfield and Rev. W. A. Edwards of Howick United were on the platform, as well as the guest speaker, Capt. the Rev. T. W. Tyson, B.Th., of Rock Island, Que.

The joint choirs led the singing and during the offering sang "A Prayer of Remembrance."

The Howick Legion attended in a body, followed by the colour bearers. The members of the Ladies' Auxiliary also were present. Several members from Ormstown Legion attended.

Rev. W. A. Edwards introduced the guest speaker who served as a chaplain during the war.

Rev. Tyson spoke from the text, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend." He told how people rallied to their country in a time of need and sacrificed all to bring about victory, sometimes even life itself. In peace time we forget to do this and the speaker pointed out that if we worked as hard to retain peace as we did to bring the war to a successful ending, that wonders could be accomplished. After the First World War, the League of Nations failed because of lack of support. Today, even already, there are signs of waning interest in the great work being done by the United Nations.

At the close of the service the Legion paraded to the War Memorial when wreaths were placed.

The collection to the Poppy Fund amounted to $47.88.

The Legion wish to thank all for coming out in such large numbers and for their generous support.

Remembrance Day at Chateauguay

The Remembrance Day Service, arranged by Branch 108 of the Canadian Legion, of which Hartland Rowell is president, was largely attended on Sunday afternoon at the War Memorial at the City Hall Park, Chateauguay Station.

A large group of South African Veterans from Montreal under the president, Dan Muirhead, as well as a contingent of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps under Lt. Commander C. Carvil, with their drum and bugle band, the C.P.R. pipers, drummer and bugler lent a martial air to the proceedings.

Four naval ratings with arms reversed formed the Guard of Honour at the Cenotaph.

The order of service was as follows: O Canada; Prayer by Rev. Wm. McLean, M.B.E.; Hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee"; Prayer by Rev. Father Marleau.

Wreaths placed at the Cenotaph: South African Veterans by John Ross; Chateauguay Veterans, by Hartland Rowell; I.O.D.E., Mrs. D. F. Davies; Chateauguay Basin, Mayor Georges Soyez; Chateauguay Village, Eugene Vinet, representing Mayor Arthur Laberge, M.L.A., who was unable to be present; Chateauguay Heights, Mayor Leonard Noon, E. R. Richardson; The Brownies, Madeleine L'Ecuyer attended by Brown Owl Edna Reid; St. George's W.A., Mrs. Charles Gilbert; St. Andrew's W.A., Mrs. J. R. Dickenson; The Stag Club, Wm. Taylor; The Aquatic Club, D. F. Davies; Dedicatory Prayer, Rev. Wm. McLean; Hymn, "Abide With Me"; Last Post, Silence, Piper's Lament, Reveille, Drums and Bugles, God Save the Queen, R.C.S.C.C. Band and Assembly.

The Units then assembled for the March Past. At the saluting base were the local Mayors and Arthur Williams, Louis Smith, Hartland Rowell, John Ross, Past President of the S.A. Veterans, David Sinclair, immediate past president and Col. James, D.S.O., M.C. of Montreal.

Local Legion members placed crosses of Remembrance in the Protestant Cemetery and in the Roman Catholic Cemetery at the Village, in silent tribute to their fallen comrades.

The guests were afterwards entertained to coffe and sandwiches at the Heights Recreation Club House, the hostesses being the wives of the Chateauguay Veterans.

Wayne Davies and Duncan Collins were in charge of arrangements and Mr. Thos. Yarnell acted as announcer.

Lacolle Holds Remembrance Service

Branch No. 11 of the Canadian Legion and Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion held a Memorial Day Service on Sunday, Nov. 9 at the Legion Hall, Lacolle. There was a large attendance at the service in spite of the weather. Those officiating were, Father Lafortune, Rev. Dawson and Rev. Holmes of Hemmingford, who was a wartime Chaplain. Unfortunately, Rev. MacLeod was unable to attend.

The imposing Legion Ritual of two minutes silence was observed and the playing of the Last Post and Reveille. Rev. Holmes gave the address, speaking of the "Meaning of Remembrance Day."

Comrade Fred Robert, President of the Branch presided.

The preacher came along and wrote on a fence: "I pray for all."

The lawyer wrote underneath: "I plead for all."

The doctor added: "I prescribe for all."

The plain citizen wrote: "I pay for all."

Canvassers Reports Needed For Blind Campaign

The campaign in behalf of the Blind people of the district and under auspices of the C.N.I.B. is going very well in Huntingdon, but the canvassers are slow in sending in their returns for publication. It is not possible for the committee to compile an accurate report of the drive until more returns have been received from the canvassers.

The committee therefore urges that all canvassers try to make full reports during the coming week in order that an account can be published in next week's Gleaner.

APPOINTED COUNTY HEALTH NURSE

MARY HOPE REID, R.N.
daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. M. Reid, Hemmingford, Que., who is a graduate from the Reddy Memorial Hospital, Westmount, Que., Class '52. She has recently received the appointment as County Health Nurse with Quebec Health Dept. She will take over her duties on December 1st and cater to the English speaking people of the country.

Poppy Fund Still Needs Donations

People Will Make Returns This Week Committee Hopes

The results of the Poppy Campaign are not as good as the committee would wish and it has been decided to extend the drive for another week. It is hoped that this will give all who have not yet replied to the letters sent out, a chance to send in their contribution. It had been hoped that the amount of the contributions would exceed those of previous years, but according to committee officials the amount is still a few hundred dollars down.

Poppy sales have been very good and the committee wishes to thank all who purchased poppies. The money received for this fund is all spent locally for veterans and their dependents and the fund is handled separate from any Legion account by a committee of Huntingdon citizens who are not members of the Legion. Each year calls are made on this fund so it is vital that every possible contribution be received. Check and see if you have sent in your contribution.

The following is a list of contributors since that published in last week's Gleaner.

$25.00: Fawcett & Grant Ltd., Huntingdon Woollen Mills.

$10.00: Bank of Montreal.

$5.00: Anonymous, Ruth Rennie, Dominion Potash' Ltd., Agatha Lachance, J. S. Gaw, Ladies Auxiliary.

Official Opening of New Catholic School at Ormstown on Sunday

Large Attendance of Friends, Visitors and Invited Guests For Special Ceremonies

On Sunday afternoon, Nov. 9, 1952 the official opening of the new school, Our Lady Of The Rosary, took place and was attended by numerous invited guests of honor as well as many friends and well-wishers. Many former pupils of the school took this opportunity to return to Ormstown, not only interested in the new school but in meeting old friends.

His Excellency Mgr. J. A. Langlois, Bishop of Valleyfield solemly blessed and dedicated the building. This occasion was also the 50th Anniversary of the original school which has been renovated and incorporated into the new building. Plans were made by a well known architect in Valleyfield, Mr. J. M. Lafleur. The building was erected by the B.G.L. Ltd., General Contractors, Montreal, and the total cost amounted to nearly two hundred thousand dollars.

This new central school serves the entire parish. Twelve classes are accommodated with nine classes of French-speaking pupils and two classes of English-speaking pupils. The present enrollment is more than three hundred.

In 1931 the school was placed under the direction of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, the Mother House in Montreal. In 1943 the French boys from Grades 5-9 were given men-teachers.

The guests assembled in the large auditorium and Father J. M. Larocque, assistant in Ormstown acted as Master of Ceremonies at the request of the School Board.

Mr. Camille Boyer, President of the School Board spoke in the French language expressing, thanks to the Bishop, the architect, the contractor, the tax payers. He particularly expressed gratitude to Mr. Omer Côté, who, with the recommendation of Mr. Arthur Laberge, M.L.A., obtained a grant of $128,100 from the Provincial Government.

Mr. John Cavanagh addressed the gathering in English in a very capable manner:—

Your Excellency,
Honourable guests,
Ladies and Gentlemen,

As representative of the English speaking Catholics of this Parish, I wish to thank you very cordially for your coming here today. As you can see on the text of your programs, we have realized in Ormstown a bi-lingual school in order to give to boys and girls of both languages the education they will need in life. Because, in our days, question of education is of primary importance, it is our aim to give everyone of our children the tools they will find necessary to make a decent living and have their place under the sun.

But, ladies and gentlemen, we would not have been able to build our Central School and have it function without the help of many persons and under special circumstances.

First of all, we want to assure you, Your Excellency, of our gratitude for your presence among us. We know that you have insisted in coming personally to perform the blessing of our new school. You have been at the head of this Diocese for the past twenty-six years and how much good you have done in question of education only God is a perfect witness to it. Your love of children and students is proverbial and wide spread and we are convinced that our school will really help to make of Ormstown one of the nicest and finest bilingual parishes in your Diocese.

To our Government and its representative we have to say "Thank You." Without its financial help we would not even have dreamed to begin such an enterprise. It takes a great amount of money to build a school and really we would have not been able to foot the expenses alone without imposing upon the population such a school-taxation that it would have ruined everyone of us.

This day of celebration is not a day of political speeches and campaign. I believe in my poor little head, that education is of such an importance that it should not rely primarily on one or the other party being the head of our government. A gift is a gift, a donation is a donation, and the one who receives, has at least to have the decency to admit it and express his thanks. Mr. Arthur Laberge, our representative to the Parliament, has played a vital part in the coming true of our dreams. We know, because we were witness to it, how much time he sepnt on the project, how many trips he made between here and Quebec, how many hours he discussed with the members of this school-board, how many phone-calls he had to answer on this and that. He always told us it was his duty he had to fulfil, but we are sure he went above the call of his duty, and for this, we say to you, Mr. Laberge, Thank You."

Our thanks, also to the good Father Delage. He was an actor behind the scene, but our former pastor had been working from time to time during twelve years to give to Ormstown the school it deserved. His dreams and his efforts came through and before giving to younger hands the destinies of his parish and his flock, he could see with his own eyes the wonderful building you will visit today. Father Delage was so overwhelmed with joy that he wanted to become one of the benefactors of his school with a marvellous donation.

Our thanks to Mr. Notary Crête, our former secretary. His profound knowledge of law made things much easier for us.

And to all the Nuns and teachers, to all our benefactors, a deep thanks from the bottom of our hearts. We, the English speaking Catholics of this parish, are not very numerous but we shall try to compensate in quality what we lack in quantity, and as, for an Irishman, another Irishman is the greatest man on earth, you can expect from us wonderful things.

Mr. Donald Black, member of

By Frank Napier

JIM HENRY:

A large number of his former friends and acquaintances across Canada will have regretted to learn of the passing of James (Jim) Henry of the editorial staff of Ottawa Farm Journal.

This writer first became acquainted with Jim Henry at one of the Ormstown Shows of the early 1920's, at which time Jim conducted a column in the Ottawa Farm Journal under the name of "Uncle Henry", in addition to his other editorial duties. At that show, as at several other subsequent events of same, it was interesting to see the large number of people who would first convey their own salutations and then edge forward their son or sons with the almost reverential remark: "This is Uncle Henry".

BANFF TO CANADA:

Jim Henry was born in Banffshire, Scotland, ninety three and a half years ago. He celebrated his ninety third birthday last May 3. He died in Ottawa, Ont., on November 1.

For several years he farmed The Brae, near Cornhill, Banffshire, from whence he emigrated, in 1913, to Canada, to start a new life, a new career, at an age which is considered as being well past middle life, so to speak.

KERR'S PINK POTATOES:

Prior to that however, he was also one of the leading rural correspondents for the Banffshire Journal and several agricultural publications. He had also developed a strain of potatoes which was subsequently named "Kerr's Pink", by the seedsmen who purchased the original seed from Jim Henry. That strain is still one of the leading strains of potatoes in Scotland. As often happens, Jim Henry did not derive any financial benefits from his achievement. That is as apart from the current market price he received for the seed he sold. However, years afterwards the Journal of the Royal Agricultural Society of England referred to him as one of the "Famous" in potato circles.

FARMER AND EDITOR:

After his arrival in Canada, with his wife, who predeceased him several years ago, and his daughter Helen, Jim Henry was for some three years Farm Superintendent and teacher of practical agriculture at the Indian Reservation farm at Muncey, Middlesex County, Ontario. However, in 1916 his application for the vacant position of an Assistant Editor of Ottawa Farm Journal, was immediately accepted by the late P. D. Ross and so the Henry family moved to Ottawa. At the time of his death he was still on the editorial staff of the Ottawa Farm Journal.

AUTHORITY ON CATTLE:

Purebred dairy cattle were almost unknown in his time in his native district. Nevertheless Jim Henry's reportings on dairy cattle exhibits at Ormstown, Lachute, Ottawa, the C.N.E., and the Royal soon established him as being one of the best versed reporters and critics of purebred dairy cattle. Especially so as regards Ayrshires and it was a rare treat to listen to friendly arguments as to the merits or demerits of a class of that breed, between Jim Henry and the Hon. R. R. Ness.

He was, of course, well versed in other breeds of livestock, particularly so of Shorthorns and Clydesdales.

COURTLY GENTLEMAN

Probably the best "Send off" this writer can give Jim Henry is to repeat what Bryan L. White, Editor, Ottawa Farm Journal, has written about him (Quote): "A fine, courtly gentleman, Jim Henry was known and beloved by a host of friends in Ottawa and across Canada. He was an authority on many unrelated subjects from Clydesdale horses, potatoes and flowers to the Bible, literature and mathematics. Many Journal readers will remember his school and native stories that appeared under the name of "Uncle Henry" in both the daily and farm editions for many years. In the country districts 'Uncle Henry' was beloved by a whole generation, now all grown to adulthood.

"His all-absorbing hobby, aside from the genuine pleasure he took in his writing and work, was the cultivation of beautiful flowers. For a great many years the rose garden on which Mrs. Henry and he lavished great care was one of the finest in Ottawa. His dahlias always appeared larger, more colourful and more healthy than others could attain. He loved beautiful flowers". (end of quotation).

To all of which, after some three decades of pleasant friendship, this writer can well say Amen!

Jim Henry's only survivor is his daughter, Miss Helen Henry, who is well known in Ottawa and agricultural circles throughout Canada, since she was for many years connected with the Canadian Seed Growers Association and to whom we offer our sincere condolences.

ALL EASTERN HOLSTEINS:

The tenth annual "All-Eastern" Holstein sale was held on November 5 at the Coliseum, Ottawa, with W. Ray Wilson, Kenmore, Ont., as its organizer and manager. The auctioneers were Lorne E. Franklin, Brantford, Ont., and Mahlon Zeron, Iroquois, Ont.

A total of $16,080.00 was realized for the 46 head sold, or an average price of $349.00. This was considerably below the 1951 average of $497.00. The latter had been the highest average of the series, but in view of the present U.S. Embargo that figure was not expected this year. However it would appear that quite a few of the purchasers got bargains. Moreover, the bull end pulled down the average, because, whilst the six bulls sold were good and specially selected, the general average price of same was only $228.00. The top price being only $275.00. It would appear that the Artificial Insemination project has played havoc with the sale of bulls in Eastern Ontario.

MILKING FEMALES BEST SELLERS:

Thirteen milking females averaged $412.00, indicating that up to a point considerable interest was evinced in same. The top price of that section, as also of the sale was $800.00, which was paid by Glenoden Farms, Vankleek Hill, Ont., for the 4-year-old heifer Colantha Empress. However, that young cow is described as being a lovely-uddered individual, which had recently been classified as Very Good and was milking 80 lbs. a day.

THE BRED-HEIFERS:

The 26 bred heifers averaged $345.00 with a top of $675.00 which was likewise the second highest price of sale. The purchaser was Glenoden Farms and the heifer is a daughter of the XXX bull Montvic Rag Apple Ajax.

R. Brodie Ness, Manager of the noted Le Moines Point Farm Ayrshire herd of Portsmouth, Ont., and himself a lifelong Ayrshire adherent, purchased 3 head to add to the 11 head of Holsteins kept at Le Moines Point Farm, in addition to 100 head of Ayrshires.

NEW HOLSTEIN FIRM:

According to the Ottawa Farm Journal, a large American exporting firm, with headquarters at Mountainville, N.Y., 50 miles North of New York City, has established a branch of its firm at Glenfoden Farms, Vankleek Hill, Ont. The Canadian Manager being Stanley McRae. It is reported that the forte of the Canadian branch will be to export Canadian-bred cattle to South America. It is also reported that the home farm of the firm shipped 20 head by air to Venezuela and Colombia a week ago and that it is expected that shipments from Canada will start in the near future.

AGAIN THE ROYAL!

Prospective attenders at the Royal Winter Fair are again reminded that the Dairy Cattle judging dates at the Royal Winter Fair will be Monday and Tuesday, November 17 and 18. The leading exhibitors from this district will be R. R. Ness & Sons, Burnside Farms, Howick, Que., in the Ayrshire section.

It is also understood that W. K. McRae & Son, Howick, are sending their well-known Holstein herd sire, Rockwood Canary Rocket, to the Royal with the Burnside Shipment. Also that Oakley McRae will not only look after "The Rocket" but will assist Burnside. Quite a happy combination. The chief assistant to Douglas and Mitchell Ness, at the Royal will be R. (Bobbie) Ness of Terrace Bank.

There will also be an exhibit at the Royal of Ayrshires from the Alderwood Farm of J. G. Wilson, Lacolle.

Dundee

DUNDEE—Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. D. A. Fraser were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Granger of Burke, N.Y. Rev. Donald McGuire and Hugh LeRoy of St. Andrew's Church, Westmount, accompanied Mr. Howard Fraser on his visit home from the city this week-end.

Dundee W.I. News

A most instructive W.I. meeting was held on Wednesday, November 5, in the Community Hall. After the usual business was finished, Mrs. Vernon Elder of Ste. Agnes, as guest speaker, gave a very informative talk on the Labrador Iron Project. This includes the building of a railway through frontier country and represents the biggest job of mine financing in Canadian history with 6,000 employees, and $200,000,000 being spent. Only big companies have a chance there and they have roped it off into concessions which are large areas leased by a province to mining companies, giving them first rights to any mineral found within the holding as long as the concession is held. A time limit is put on the lease so a company will exert every effort to scour its holding. It is expected that when the Quebec, North Shore and Labrador Railroad is completed the concessions will be turned back to the provinces of Quebec and Newfoundland for the iron empire is in the far north of Quebec's Ungava district and in Labrador which belongs to Newfoundland.

Over $1,000,000 a week is being spent to put a railway through 360 miles of virgin northland, to fashion a new mining town of 3,000 at Knob Lake, to build at Seven Islands an ore-shipping harbour city and 24 miles of terminal railway yards.

The railway is the first major construction of new "steel" on the continent in 40 years and will be Canada's first all-diesel line. It is Canada's toughest railway construction outside the Rockies. To build the railway took reliable men out of retirement and made them pioneers again. This steel goes through country studded with lakes, virgin bushland, muskeg, bog. Hardships are tremendous and scores of men quit every week.

Supplies have to be freighted in by air. The Hollinger-Ungava Transport Company have unloaded at landing strips along the railway the biggest construction equipment made. Last year the mileage of the Company planes equalled 80 trips around the world. Although the airlift operates under unusually hazardous conditions it has a casualty-free record. Last year it carried 21,000 passengers and no one has yet been even hurt.

The railroad is being financed mostly by American funds but it is the Canadian brawn and brain that is keeping the whole thing moving.

Canada's newest boom-town is Seven Islands, the gate-way town to the iron empire. It grew from 1400 people prior to 1950 to 4000 now. Two taxis used to operate, now there are 60. Land on Main Street, last year worth $1,000, now is worth $32,000.

All this is just the beginning of a huge iron industry. Who knows what lies beyond?

During the summer Mrs. John Fleming had taken a trip through the Canadian West. One of the places of interest which she visited was the International Peace Garden on the Manitoba-North Dakota border. This Garden is of special interest to W.I. members as they have developed and are maintaining a plot there. At the meeting Mrs. Fleming showed pictures she had taken and told of her visit there. This Garden is situated practically in the geographical centre of the North American continent. It is about 1700 miles from here. It is being made into a place of beauty and will call the attention of all nations to the fact that there is a frontier 3,987 miles long between two nations and the only fort is the "Fortress of Friendship," located in the centre of the continent. A Lodge has been erected using Canadian logs and United States stones. The Lodge is popular with organizations having international connections.

Another interesting feature of the afternoon's program was an apron parade. The aprons were very varied, some of which were unusual. The large, pretty, but practical one which won the prize had been made from a feed bag with a print design on it. The prize, which was more feed bag material, was won by Mrs. J. Platt who then gave it to the W.I. to be made into something for the Ormstown Booth.

A nice collection of jam and jelly for the Huntingdon County Hospital was brought in by the members. Also there were some more donations for the overseas box which will be packed by Mrs. Earl Gardiner.

Mrs. Gregor Leslie won the household hint by telling that moth balls or oil of peppermint put on runways will keep away mice.

Mrs. J. Platt showed a pamphlet which pictured, in particular, Norn Garriock, of the C.B.C. Farm Broadcast, also Dean Hughes, writer of the Craig Farm Family.

She also showed pictures of how embroidery hoops may be used about the kitchen. They are useful for holding the cloth when straining juices, for covering cooling juddings, for taking out berry or coffee stains and for holding fine wire mesh in the bottom of a flower container.

A delicious supper brought the meeting to a close, served by the hostesses, Mrs. H. A. Cameron and Mrs. Wm. MacPherson.

Quebec Assembly Opens Today

THERE seems to be every indication that the Quebec Legislature will have a busy session when it opens today (November 12). It will have to deal with a larger opposition than previously and it is possible that the passage of some bills will not be so swift as in the past sessions.

According to reports issued by Premier Duplessis at his weekly press conference, several new pieces of legislature are to come before the Assembly and they are going to affect the course of events considerably. One important bill will have to do with a series of tests for drivers of motor vehicles. Another will have to do with margarine coming into Quebec.

As far as the latter is concerned, it does not trouble us too much here for no great shipments of margarine have come into this part of Quebec. But we do understand that shipments have been arriving in some other parts of the province in various ways. The new bill will provide for half of fines to go to informers. It seems that this method is going to make people spy on one another like a gestapo for the sake of the gain they may obtain from sharing in the results. Those bringing in margarine in cars or trucks are liable to lose their vehicle if they are caught, in addition to the fine. While the act is to protect the dairy industry, the provisions for carrying it out have the earmarks of causing trouble among the residents generally. Our advice is don't meddle with margarine and you will save yourself a lot of trouble. It looks as if the government is prepared to grease the other fellow for the information he can give.

With respect to the legislation on Driving tests, we believe this is something that has been needed for a long time. It should go even farther and there should be tests for cars. If the driver is O.K. it does not always follow that his car is O.K. Defects in cars and those of ancient vintage, can be the cause of many accidents, no matter how good the driver. Another thing that needs more checking is the driver who mixes alcohol with gasoline. Just how the test will be applied to the person who has been in possession of a driving license for many years, we do not know. But there is no doubt that the new driver should prove that he or she is capable of handling a car and has a knowledge on the rules of road, etc. In the case of the experienced person it would seem that previous record should play a part in the decision to issue a license. A driver who has a clean record may be considered a capable one. It is quite probable that many a driver will we weeded out of the ranks when the tests are made and perhaps this will be well for the general safety.

Accidents have been piling up at an alarming rate in recent years. Quite a few can be attributed to driving faults and knowledge, some are due to carelessness and mechanical defects, some are due to inbibing too freely in alcoholic beverages. It is possible that the increase can be traced to congested highways, faster cars and the general effect of the speed age.

The Quebec Assembly however, will have plenty to discuss and if the laws it proposes do have the effect of cutting down on the number of accidents, this much will be praiseforthy.

Week-end Shopping Days

THE petition offered to the Huntingdon Town Council for open nights to be Friday and Saturday in each week is the culmination of an intensive campaign among the businessmen for several months. A time elapse is required for the preparation of a bylaw and then the ratification of that by-law, so it will be 1953 before this new plan comes into effect.

However, we believe that over the course of time both the merchants and the public will find the week-end shopping a benefit. At the present time while pay day is Friday for most industrials in Huntingdon, they cannot do their shopping until Saturday as the stores are not open Friday evening. This fact also has something to do with the congestion of traffic on Saturday nights as many town people let their shopping go until late afternoon on Saturday. By having Friday night open, we believe, and we would urge, that town people do their shopping on that night and leave Saturday free for the out-of-town shopper. The merchant will probably have to re-organize his merchandizing ideas to fit in with two straight days of shopping and with no shipments coming in on the Saturday. He will have to forsee his business ahead of time and buy accordingly. Advertising methods will probably have to be changed and no doubt advantage of the Friday night shopping should be emphasized. There are distant advantages for both the merchant and the buyer. The merchant should encourage his customers by offering them specials for pay day and thus keeping their interest in home buying. The buyer should make use of Friday night for shopping for it then provides the house with provisions for over the week-end and leaves he or she free to leave for a trip without worrying about having food, etc., in the house on return.

It will probably be a bit strange for everyone at first, but we believe all will get used to it and finally become to like it well. It ought to do much to counteract business being lost to the town through other centres remaining open on Friday night. We believe our merchants can supply the people with what they want, but the stores must be open at hours to cater to the people so that they can buy when ready to do so. They are more ready to buy on Friday than on Wednesday under present day conditions. The lapse of time between now and the new open night schedule, should provide opportunity for all to study the plan and be prepared for it.

The A-Bomb A Runt In Comparison

A recent report from Los Angeles gives an account of an eyewitness story of the test carried out with respect to the H-bomb. Up until this time we have been speaking in awe of the A-bomb, but this eyewitness says the H-bomb makes the A-bomb look like a runt.

The explosion took place on a small atoll in the Eniwetok group and it is said to have vaporized into gas and dust a space of a half-mile wide and three miles long. In other words we can believe that it practically wiped the atoll out of existence. All those present could do, was to stand in amazement and gasp in awe at the enormous size and force released before them. The H-bomb has been estimated at up to 1,000 times more powerful than the A-bomb.

It is no wonder in view of such things that those who know about these super bombs are not too anxious to make use of them. It helps one to realize the reluctance to start a new war and the fear of the use of such weapons in future wars. As one great man recently remarked, the next war will probably be over in a month. The damage done in that time however, may take centuries to repair. All of this should make us doubly anxious to prevent any size conflict and keep us ever on the alert by being prepared.

What Of To-Morrow's Congestion?

THERE is much said about traffic and roads and what our roads can bear in the way of traffic. In Quebec there is a move on to regulate the loads which trucks carry over our roads and so on and so forth.

The point is, have we ever stopped to consider what the future holds in-so-far as the number of cars and trucks there will be on the roads of tomorrow. The president of General Motors had this to say recently: "At the end of the war we felt that any prediction of three million vehicles in Canada by 1955 would not be justified. Already in 1952 we have reached that total. Now we are looking ahead to 1960 and later, and there is a danger of being wrong, as we were before. Some economists believe there will be 4,500,000 motor vehicles registered in Canada by 1960. I myself think the estimate is conservative." "Motor vehicles are 10 years ahead of predictions in their efficiency and numbers, traffic arteries are 10 years behind."

Every place one goes traffic conditions are presenting the greatest problem — parking space is at a premium everywhere, roads are often blocked because of the density of the traffic. It is not uncommon to see cars travelling bumper to bumper along crowded highways in and out of the larger cities. Yet the report is that in eight years or sooner we shall have increased the number of cars on the road by 50%. The cars already on the road are 10 years ahead, how far will those be that are to come. Certainly a start has been made to widen our highways, but even these are not capable of carrying the traffic already here today.

The city and town authorities have to do a lot of planning, in the not too distant future, if they are going to avoid a complete tie-up of streets. Already the situation in some towns is quite bad and in Montreal the congestion is a source of continual complaint. What is it going to be in the future unless remedial measures are taken at once. Planning for the future must take this fact into consideration if the situation is to be bettered. We cannot ignore the trend of the times when a view of that trend is presented to us so forcibly. The officials of towns, cities and road depts., should make a study of this matter with a view to a solution that will prevent an even greater congestion than that experienced today.

Ormstown—Some loads of apples are being shipped at small profits. Oats are of best quality, weighing 40 lbs. and over, sell at about 38c to 40c. New loose hay is selling at $7 per ton.

September 25

Howick—Delegates from Tres St. Sacrement Council, accompanied by representatives from St. Louis, interviewed members of the government at Montreal on Monday, concerning the proposed bride at Allan's Corners. Although St. Louis uses the bridge at the Corners as much as the residents of this parish, there seems to be little likelihood of the former doing anything toward building it, and not much encouragement was given by the government members that a bonus of any consequence would be given. The bridge is estimated to cost about $18,000 which would require a tax of about $17 per $1,000 valuation to raise the money from this parish. Farmers generally are valued at from $5,000 to $6,000.

October 2

The Academy has lost its position as first in the Province. For 12 years it has headed the list; this year it comes in behind three others. In the Academy grades in Huntingdon out of 47 pupils presented for examination, 9 failed; Ormstown out of 19, 7 failed. The Academy grant this year is $356 against last year's $454.

October 16

The first coal to be received since last. May for household purposes arrived on Monday. It is soft coal of different grades. A 40-ton car of Hocking Valley is being delivered by Mr. Hunter at $9 a ton. Were there no duty, the price would be $8.45. So much for the protection. There is no prospect of anthracite coming until near Christmas.

November 6

The high price of eggs has developed anew the form of dishonesty referred to in this column. Customers bring in new laid eggs that date back several weeks and obtain the highest price. When these eggs come to be candled, they have to be set aside, and the storekeeper suffers loss to the extent of 4 or 5 cents per dozen. One of our storekeepers, in the eggs taken in during the week, lost in this way over 30 dozen. The city buyer, by a test used, can tell any eggs kept over a week, and for such eggs he will only pay the price of limed, often less for eggs that have been palmed off on storekeepers as new laid which were gathered in September and kept in a cool place by the housewife.

November 20

The hotels following the example of those at Valleyfield, Ormstown and elsewhere have raised the price of meals to 40c.

December 4

On Monday the thermometer fell steadily all day and Tuesday at daybreak indicated 20 degrees below zero. Such extreme cold on the 9th of December is rare. At Saranac Lake the mercury fell to 30 degrees below zero. The severe weather interrupted work on the condensed milk factory.

Dewittville—The iron work of the River Outarde bride is being placed in position by the contractors, the Stratford Bridge Company of Stratford, Ont. When finished it will cost $200. The abutments are an exceptionally fine piece of work, done by Wm. Pollica and contracted for by Thomas Chambers.

December 18

Ormstown—No more hard coal has come to hand, though one merchant received invoice of a shipment a week ago. Wood is from $3 to $5 per cord. Large quantities have already been drawn. Hay is $7.50 per ton; oats 38c to 40c; butter 21c to 23c per lb.; beef 5c to 6c; pork $7 to $7.50 per hundred pounds.

Stalin and Caesar Compared

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

The "color" question is reported to be growing in Britain as the colored population increases in the great cities. The British Weekly publishes two articles, side by side, one dealing with "The White Man's Fear" of the demands of the native population in South Africa for social and political equality. As the native races outnumber the whites three or four to one, this would mean their ultimate domination over the whie people. The other article tells of the growth of a community of colored and mixed colored people in the East End of London, calling themselves the Stepney Colored People's Association. "Every month," says the writer, "hundreds of new colored folk are entering the district. They come from ships that dock in the Port of London. Mainly they are British subjects from Jamaica and Africa . . . Forced together by poverty and the need of friendship, these people are living in conditions that appal."

The situation in Steney is compared with that in South Africa, where the problem is reversed, and it is questioned whether the British at home have any right to criticize the attitude of the white people in Africa toward the black races in view of their own treatment of the few thousand blacks who have found their way to Britain. "What would Britain do if their numbers so increased as to outnumber Britain's own?" it is asked. But that is hardly likely to occur. The historical and racial backgrounds of the two countries are vastly different. South Africa is different from such countries as India or China in that it has no ancient civilization or recorded history, and the population originally consisted of Bushmen and Hottentots. These races have almost perished, and the blacks of today are of the Bantu race who came down from the north. The Europeans entered the country and have developed its natural resources and built up an outpost of Western Civilization which they intend to maintain. They have no intention of leaving South Africa as they have left India. They are determined that the white man's rule must be dominant, and the European way of life preserved.

Originally, in 1854, Africans of Cape Colony were given the right to be on the same parliamentary roll as Europeans, provided they had certain educational and property qualifications. This was maintained till 1936, when there were about 12,000 Africans on the register. In that year they were removed from the roll and given separate representation. They were allowed three members, who had to be European, in the House of Assembly, which had a total membership of 153. In the Transvaal and Orange Free State the Africans never had any voting rights. In Natal they had the right, but very few registered. In supporting the removal of Africans from the common roll, General Hartzog said: "If there are two things which have made the white population of South Africa anxious, they are, firstly, the danger of intermingling of blood, and secondly, the danger of being dominated by the natives." That is the position taken by Premier Malan today, and he appears to be supported by the white people generally.

A similar situation might have arisen in Canada if the Indian population had increased to the same extent as the natives in South Africa. There was not the same extreme distinction, in color at least, between the two races; but the white settlers regarded themselves as superior, and the Redmen were a proud race and had no desire to mingle with the pale-faces. Even today some Indians live separately on reserves and conduct their local affairs, subject to the general laws of Canada. But an Indian or one of mixed blood has not the right to vote unless he has served in the defence forces or is living permanently outside the reserve.

Hemmingford

HEMMINGFORD — The annual Hallowe'en masquerade and dance under the auspices of Victory Chapter No. 34, O.E.S., was held on Friday evening October 31st, in the United Church Hall. The judges of costumes were Mrs. Ethel Barr, Mrs. Cecil J. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Urquhart and Mr. Bob Walker and needless to say it was not an easy task as many of the costumes worn had taken considerable time and thought to make. After the costumes were judged dancing to the music of Mr. Rufus Fisher's Orchestra was enjoyed. Proceeds of the evening were most encouraging and the members of Victory Chapter would like to thank each one who helped in any way to make the evening such a great success.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Orr, Mary and Freddie spent the week-end at Eaton Corners. Mrs. Orr visiting her father, Mr. Charles McGilton, who is quite ill.

The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA, Nov. (CP) — Dwight Eisenhower's sweep to the presidency in the United States elections last week was of vital interest to government officials on Parliament Hill. The elections were an inevitable topic of discussion at a routine cabinet meeting here two days later.

From that meeting came an authoritative report that Prime Minister St. Laurent feels the Republican triumph will not alter the friendly relations across the Canada-United States border developed during 20 years of Democratic party rule.

He is also reported sharing Ottawa hopes that a number of important developments are in the wind now that the U.S. election is over.

See Vital Steps

Mr. St. Laurent is understood to hope that the U.S. will lift the ban on imports of Canadian meat and livestock "very soon." This would reopen the American market to producers who have been shut off from it more than nine months because of last winter's foot-and-mouth disease outbreak.

There are also hopes that something will be done soon south of the border to name an American authority—quite possibly the State of New York—to co-operate with Canada on construction of the power phase of the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

Naming of that authority is the only bar remaining to a start on construction of the power project—a joint undertaking between the two countries—and the seaway, which will be built by Canada alone.

No broad change is expected in relations between the two countries, which in past years have seen major strides in mutual trade, defence co-operation, diplomacy and other fields. There appears to be confidence that this trend will continue under Gen. Eisenhower.

It is understood Mr. St. Laurent has no plans now to go to Washington to visit the new president. But that doesn't necessarily mean he won't go some time in the next six months.

Farm Workers Drop

For the first time in Canada's history, farm workers are no longer the biggest labor group in the country. Last year's census, reflecting the country's industrial growth, showed manufacturing and mechanical workers as the top group.

During the decade from 1941, the bureau of statistics now reports, the ranks of farm workers showed a remarkable drop—from 1,132,565 to 830,441.

That rural change, reflecting a growing mechanization on farms, took place in the same period that the country's total occupied labor force grew by 776,000—from 4,510,000 in 1941 to 5,286,153 last year.

In the decade, Newfoundland entered Confederation, and along with increased immigration and natural population growth, total population rose from 11,500,000 to 14,000,000.

The manufacturing and mechanical group increased by almost 100,000 to 841,368. The number of women workers, mostly in clerical jobs, made a bigger jump—from 834,000 to 1,164,000.

Wheat Crisis Shapes Up

A close look at world marketing conditions showed signs that a world crisis in wheat is shaping up. The problem—at least to farmers—is: too much wheat chasing too few dollars.

It threatens to become one of the biggest fights involving wheat prices. In the midst will be Canada with huge wheat supplies in her elevators.

A turning point may come at Washington where next Jan. 12 Canada and 43 other member countries of the International Wheat Agreement will meet in a final attempt to reach agreement on a new pact when the current one ends next July 31.

Canadian experts aren't too hopeful of agreement on the biggest issue—price. As a result the whole wheat stabilization program may crumble and Canadian wheat farmers would be selling most of their output on a free world market.

Although the four-year international wheat pact has been both praised and criticized, most Canadian farmers want it continued if they can get higher prices.

Importing countries strongly oppose this, and some feel they can do better buying at the lowest prices that show on the world market.

Both Canada and the United States have huge surpluses. Two other large exporters, Argentina and Australia, have had poor crops and Canada will be able to sell a large part of her record crop this year without trouble.

But still Canada will have large carryovers next Aug. 1 and if Australia and Argentina enter the export picture in a big way in the next crop year Canada may face a tough job selling wheat without long-term buying commitments from importing countries.

Anti-Combines Action

Justice Minister Garson last week studied what action should be taken against two alleged price-fixing combines.

He made public a report accusing 44 fine-paper companies—virtually the entire $50,000,000 industry in Canada—of operating an illegal price-fixing combine.

Mr. Garson will announce later whether court prosecution will be launched.

The next day he said the government will prosecute rubber companies alleged to have taken part in a similar combine. Altogether, 19 companies and the Rubber Association of Canada were named in a report made public last June. The number to be brought into court will depend on evidence obtained under search warrants recently issued.

Commencement Exercises Held a Gault Institute

Address Given by Miss Ruth Low, M.A. — Prizes Distributed to Students of Various Grades

The 1952 Graduating Class of the Gault Institute, Valleyfield, was extremely fortunate in being addressed by Miss Ruth Low, M.A., Department of Education, at the Annual Commencement Exercises held on Friday evening, November 7.

In her opening remarks, Miss Low congratulated the Community in erecting such a necessary addition — which is worthy to look at both because of its beauty and its service to everyone. She also congratulated the Graduating Class, all girls, who 100% passed their High School Leaving Examinations.

In introducing her subjejct, "The Future — What You Will", Miss Low stated that the hopes and dreams which young people have in their teens do become the life of their future. She believed that if Graduates were asked what their wish is for the future, the answer would be "Happiness and Success". "This," said Miss Low, "is not much, if each is determined to give of himself."

Ample illustrations were cited to show that girls in their teens later became women who make great contributions at home and in the community. Using the Bible as one source, Miss Low mentioned that both Hannah and Dorcas gained their happiness in giving their all. In social reforms, Elizabeth Fry rapped on the prison gates with love and determination because the world lay ahead of her. Florence Nightingale, moved by a disturbing voice, was successful and happy after years of struggle and effort. Nelly McClung and Judge Emily Murphy, both of our Canadian West, tasted of great joy and success. "Whenever you find a man or woman with lines of happiness and thoughtfulness written in their faces," said Miss Low, "this was created not by God alone, but by God in you. There must be that cooperation with God."

Closing her remarks, Miss Low suggested that there are four necessities in the lives of all graduates. Each graduate must have a sense of his or her own worth and importance. They must all have a sense of great attachment to a cause greater than themselves. They must live day by day. Finally they must have courage, endurance and God.

The chairman for the evening was Dr. John A. McDonald. Following his remarks were the distribution of academic awards and Principal Ferris' report. ## In Memoriam

DINEEN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Patrick Dineen, who passed away November 14, 1951 —
To us he has not gone away,
Nor has he travelled far,
Just entered into God's eternal home
And left the door ajar.
Always remembered by
His loving wife and family.

FISHER — In loving memory of my dear husband, Thomas Fisher, who passed away Nov. 12th, 1951 —
In Prospect Cemetery quietly sleeping so far away,
Where the Flag flies gently in the breeze,
Lies a dear and loving husband,
The husband we could not save.
He bade no one a last farewell,
He said goodbye to none.
His spirit fled before we knew
That he from us had gone.
The dearest husband this world could hold and
Those who knew him all will know
How much we lost one year ago.
Lovingly remembered by
Wife Hettie, daughter Edith and Son-in-law Don, Grandchildren Betty, Lillian and Robert Moore.

Huntingdon Locals

An Interesting Window

People passing along Chateauguay Street in the vicinity of Braitwaite's Store should take a glance in the window there. The window has been dressed in harmony with Armistice Day and shown are three paintings by local artists. Two of the paintings are mountain scenes painted by Mr. Alex Fawcett, while another of a church was painted by Mrs. D. Stevens. Both of these persons are members of the Ormstown Study Club where Mrs. F. G. McCrimmon is giving lessons and study on the subject "Painting For Pleasure." Those persons who have been taking advantage of the lessons are doing remarkably well and Mrs. McCrimmon is well pleased with what is being done. It is the intention of the Braithwaite Store to put a few of these paintings in their window each week.

How is Your French?

An exceptionally fine specimen of 'Bittersweet' is on display in Principal Cook's Office at the High School. This commonly seen green vine having bright red berries, when described, is recognized by most people. The question of a French translation for this word arose among the teachers of the School and we believe, up to this time, has not been answered. When approached regarding this matter, The Gleaner gave its translation as being 'Douce-amére'. Many of the French people just use the English word, Bittersweet, and some didn't know what to call it. Perhaps some of our readers will come up with the correct translation.

The following is a letter received from Sgt. Robert Helm of the American Army stationed in Germany, in acceptance for a box sent for his birthday:

Munich, Germany,
Sept. 21st, 1952.

Women's Auxiliary of Canadian Legion,

Dear Mrs. Perkins:

Last Tuesday I had the pleasure of receiving a package from the Huntingdon Branch of the Legion. I want to thank every individual who took time to select and prepare the much wanted and much used articles that were included in the package. I can truthfully say that it makes an individual feel mighty good to have people from his home town remember him. Unfortunately I am not stationed near any Canadian troops, so there is very little chance of me running into any of the lads from Huntingdon. I did, however, have the pleasure of meeting Leslie Chambers, who is a member of the United States Air Force. We were only speaking to each other for a couple of hours, but most of the talk was of Huntingdon. Again I want to thank all of you who do so much for the boys in the service, and get so little in return.

Your very truly,
Robert Helm.

MEAT IN SUPPER DISHES

Cold November days demand heartier meals and the family will be well satisfied if meat is served in substantial supper dishes. Hamburger or minced beef can be used to good advantage in many casseroles. These meats are economical too, for when you buy ground meat, you can be sure you are getting all meat and not paying for bone. One thing to remember about ground meat is that it should be used promptly, for it spoils more quickly than meat in the piece.

It is regular practice to serve meat patties with a sauce made with condensed cream of mushroom or tomato soup, but have you tried cream of asparagus or celery soup as well? It's also delicious. Meat patties may also be served on a bed of spaghetti or baked beans. Instead of making patties, the ground beef could be made into a loaf with a layer of baked, mashed squash or cooked, mashed peas topping it.

Here is a meat ie idea with a new twist. Make a crust of seasoned ground beef mixed with Worcestershire sauce, sautéed onions, and bread crumbs—about half a cup of crumbs to a pound of beef. Line a pie-plate with the ground beef mixture, then fill with seasoned vegetables such as drained canned tomatoes and corn. Instead, the ground beef "crust" could be put into muffin tins to make individual pies. It looks good, tastes good, and is good.

Here is another idea for a tempting supper dish—not stuffing in the meat, but meat in the stuffing! Use seasoned minced beef or hamburger mixed with sautéed onions to stuff vegetables like onions, squash, or cabbage.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture have tested some casseroles using ground beef which they have found very good. The first, Cheesy-Noodle Casserole is a rather unusual dish which you will want to try soon.

Cheesy-Noodle Casserole

1 cup noodles (2 cups cooked)
1 tablespoon fat
½ pound ground beef
½ 10-ounce can tomato soup
2 tablespoons water
½ teaspoon spicy meat sauce
½ cup cottage cheese (about ¼ pound)
1 4-ounce package cream cheese
2 tablespoons sour cream
3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper

Cook noodels in boiling salted water until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain and rinse with cold water. Heat fat in frying pan, add ground beef and sauté until brown about 5 minutes. Dilute tomato soup with water, add spicy meat sauce and add to meat, blending thoroughly. Combine cottage cheese, cream cheese, sour cream, onions and green pepper. Arrange half the noodles in the bottom of a greased mixture, then remaining noodles. Pour tomato-meat mixture over the top. Chill, bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F., until thoroughly heated, about 30 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Lasagna is typically Italian and makes a distinguished company dish. In fact, the recipe is party-sized and will give eight generous servings. The original recipe calls for several types of exotic Italian cheeses like mozzarella, which is a soft cream cheese, ricotta, a whey cheese, and parmesan, a very hard cheese. However, the home economists substituted our own Canadian Cheddar and soft cream cheese without loss of flavour. You will find the unusual blend of these cheeses along with the tomato-meat mixture makes this a very unique dish.

LASAGNA

2 tablespoons salad oil
1 cup minced onion
1 clove minced garlic
1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
1 28-ounce can tomatoes
2 8-ounce cans tomato paste
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1½ teaspoons marjoram
1 teaspoon onion salt
1 8-ounce package broad noodles
¼ pound soft cream cheese
3 cups grated Chedddar cheese, medium or old

Heat salad oil in a large heavy saucepan, add onion and garlic and sauté until lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Add beef and salt and cook until meat is lightly browned. Add tomatoes, tomato paste, salt, pepper, marjoram and onion salt and simmer covered, until thickened, about 2½ hours. Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain and rinse with cold water. In a greased 12" x 8" x 2" baking dish arrange in layers—one-third of the sauce, half the noodles and the cream and Cheddar cheese. Repeat this arrangement topping with remaining third of sauce. Bake in a moderate oven, 350°F., until thoroughly heated, about 5 minutes. Yield: 8 servings.

The Gore

25th Wedding Anniversary

THE GORE — At the Herdman Hall on Friday evening, November 7th, a surprise party was held for Mr. and Mrs. Willard Anderson, to honour them on their 25th wedding anniversary. The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers and white wedding bells. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson had gone for a drive with friends and upon their arrival at the hall were very much surprised to see so many of their relatives and neighbours gathered together to honour them. After Mrs. Anderson had been presented with a corsage, they led the Grand March. Dancing was enjoyed until about midnight, when Rev. Mr. Travis called the gathering to order, and, in a few very well chosen words, expressed the good wishes of all for many more happy years of married life. He then prea beautiful chest of silverware and sented Mr. and Mrs. Anderson with an envelope of money. Both Mr. and Mrs. Anderson ably replied. Delicius refreshments were served; the "bride's" table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, pink candles and streamers. Dancing was again resumed to the music of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Wilson and Mr. H. Reddick.

GLAUCOMA

An uncommon name for an all-o too-common cause of blindness is "Glaucoma". This disease has several forms, not all of which have symptoms identifiable by the person affected. The medical eye doctor can diagnose the disease in its earliest stages. One symptom that the sufferer may notice for himself is the fact that his field of vision is affected, so that the view from the side of the eye becomes gradually narrower. This sympton is peculiar to one form of the disease. Glaucoma is more likely to affect people who are over forty years of age.

SNOW SCENE

Any time now there will appear a few little white flakes as vanguard of the great white blanket. Out will come the skiers, good, bad and worse. A pre-New Year resolution might be a good idea: No chances or jumps or hills unless the skier is competent to take the jump. Too many limbs are broken in too few seconds when something goes wrong. It isn't a good idea, no matter how good the skier, to ski alone in deserted areas—it's no fun lying in the snow hoping for help.

WADING'S FOR WARM WEATHER

Wet feet, especially in cold weather, often lead to colds and chills. Wearing rubbers to keep the feet warm and dry will help to ward off that winter nuisance, the common cold. A raincoat and cap should form part of every schoolchild's regular equipment to ensure dry clothing in damp weather.

INVESTMENT IN TIME

The person who is planning retirement probably gives a great deal of thought to his financial future but neglects to consider the equally important investment of his time. Spending the leisure hours wisely will make all the difference between idle boredom and a satisfying life. Planning hobbies and occupation for those future days will help to absorb the sudden changes from the busyness of the old job to the freedom from routine in retirement. Often it may be advisable to consider hobbies that can be made profitable. To help with the problem, the local public library usually offers an extensive section of books dealing with handicrafts and hobbies which may help the person considering retirement to choose the subject which interests him.

MAKE THEM SIMPLE

The Early-Christmas-Shopper, who is really getting some of those problems settled now, may have children on the recipient list. It is as well to remember that very small children should never be given toys with which they can get into trouble. The bachelor uncle who presents the two-year old with an electric train may as well send it direct to daddy—little Junior would prefer a nice cuddly animal, a wheeled toy that he can pull around, boxes that fit together, toys from which he can pour sand to and fro or brightly colored picture books suitable to his age. Anything small enough to be swallowed or packed into ears or nose should definitely be taken off the list for the younger fry.

FOOT JUSTICE

Most people expect to get a lifetime of service from their feet but fail to do those poor extremities justice. Feet are more neglected than hair, complexion and skin, although they are our chief means of support and locomotion. High heels and illfitting shoes, chosen for the season's style rather than the shape of the foot, all contribute to foot ailments. The person who is overweight should never wear spike heels—the heel should be selected to give the maximum amount of support. By giving the feet daily care with footbaths and careful drying, and by wearing hose and shoes that really fit correctly, life can be much more comfortable, especially for those who have to do much standing or walking.

Powerscourt

POWERSCOURT—It is sad but true, that with the passing of the years and the changing population, many small country cemeteries are sadly neglected spots. Such is not the case with the Powerscourt Cemetery. Owing to the enthusiasm of interested parties this resting-place is kept trim and neat. So much so that even people from a distance take notice. As a result the funeral of the late Mr. Roy Hearn of St. Bruno, Que., took place in this Cemetery on Friday last. The private service in the church was conducted by Rev. W. Hatcher of Huntingdon. Mrs. E. M. Wood was at the organ and hymns sung were "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" and "When the day of toil is done." The floral tributes were numerous and several baskets were taken to the Huntingdon County Hospital and the Patterson Nursing Home and one placed in church on Sunday in memory of those of the congregation who lost their lives in the last war. Mr. Hearn and his family had been coming to this district for several summers on fishing trips and it is a tribute to those who care for the cemetery that the family should be so impressed by its peaceful and well cared for appearance that they should choose it for a last resting place.

One rink of curlers from Aubrey skipped by Keith Robb, is taking part in the St. George's invitation bonspiel thus far having defeated Ted Thompson's St. George rink 8-6 on Thursday evening and Dewar McLean's Lachine rink 9-7 on Saturday evening. The next game is scheduled for Thursday evening when they will meet Gilbert Layton's St. George foursome. Best of luck boys!

Four rinks are entered in the Lacolle Mixed Bonspiel this week and all are looking forward to their games. Congratulations to Lacolle curlers and best wishes for their bonspiel on their newly installed artificial ice.

Women's Institute

On Thursday afternoon, Nov. 6, the Aubrey-Riverfield W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Findlay Milne. The president, Mrs. Math McKell, presided over the meeting.

After the Opening Ode and Club Women's Collect twenty members answered the Roll Call with text word "A patriotic quotation. Four visitors and five children were in attendance.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and a treasurer's report was given. Mrs. J. Gruer moved that $2.50 be sent to the County Treasurer for the little Greek child adopted by the county Institutes. Mrs. S. Reddick seconded this motion. Several other items of business were discussed followed by the convener's reports.

Mrs. R. Templeton introduced Rev. Mr. Edwards as guest speaker for our meeting. Mr. Edwards spoke of the country of North Wales where he spent a vacation the summer of 1952. Mr. Edwards words were received with interest and the pictures he showed following his talk were appreciated and he was thanked by Mrs. G. Easton, on behalf of those present.

Mrs. W. Allen read a poem entitled "When Shall I be a Man?"

The meeting was adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Findlay Milne, Mrs. Arnold McKell and Mrs. Andrew MacFarlane before the members and visitors returned to their homes.

The sympathy of this community goes to the bereaved family.

On Sunday, Nov. 9, 1952, some fifty persons gathered at the Aubrey School to assist at the blessing of the school by Rev. Father Julien. It can be recalled that the interior of the school was completely destroyed by fire last April.

Our school board deserves much credit and hearty thanks for such results can only be obtained by perseverance and courage. What was four walls in April has been repaired and really looks like a new school. It now boasts a hall and cloak-room with a bright classroom with individual maple desks and chairs for each pupil. Miss Ouimet and her pupils may well be proud of their lovely school.

The Gore

THE GORE — The Gore Farm Forum met on Monday evening, Nov. 10th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Josie Moneypenny with a good attendance. The topic under discussion was "Many New Outlets for Farm Women."

Question: What are your views on the following statements?

(a) Women have a special contribution to bring to public affairs.

(b) A woman who is active in community work can do a better homemaking job than a woman who has no interests outside her home.

(c) A woman should show her interest in public affairs by supporting her husband in his public activities.

(d) Women are not suited to politics.

(a) We feel that women can contribute something special to home community problems, but feel that they should not go into politics too strongly without advanced training.

(b) If she had some interest outside the home it would break the monotony. She should not, however, let her community activities interfere with her home.

(c) A man could not do his part in public affairs if his wife did not co-operate fully. She should be willing to help, advise, and talk over any problems which might arise.

A social hour followed when cards were played at four tables. The prize winners were: Ladies' high score, Mrs. Matt Gilligan, Low, Miss Viola Gilligan. Gents' high score, Mr. Willard Anderson; low score, Mr. Allister Neely. A get-well card was signed by all present, to be sent to one of our members who is in hospital at present. Lunch was served by the ladies.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the evening. It is planned to hold meetings every two weeks when the group gets under way. Several years have passed since the former Y.P. ## Ste. Agnes

Mission Band Meeting

STE. AGNES — The members of the Sunbeam Mission Band, and their leader, Mrs. L. D. Fraser, held their November meeting on Sunday morning, Nov. 9th, in the Sunday School rooms.

The meeting was opened with the singing of "God Sees the Little Sparrow Fall." The Scripture passage was read by Myrna Watterson and Fern Sutton led in prayer. The collection, which amounted to $1.04 was taken up by Douggie Watterson. 5c was given in as birthday money by one of the small members in the person of Faye Ferguson. Mrs. Fraser has made a very realistic looking birthday box in the shape of a little cake adorned with silver tinfoil and topped off with two small candles. The President, Betty Fraser, conducted the business meeting. The Secretary, Fern Sutton read the minutes of the previous meeting and the treasurer, Myrna Watterson gave the financial statement. The Mission Band have really done splendidly this year, having already forwarded the sum of $28.50 to the Montreal Presbyterial. Although there is not a large membership in the Band, this shows what can be done when there are willing workers and a faithful leader.

Mrs. Fraser then told a story about "Our Daily Bread," showing how, without God's help, we should never have our bread, which is the staff of life. For even though the farmer plants the grain, and the miller grinds it into flour, it surely takes God, who sends the warm sunshine and the gentle rain, which give life to the little seed to make it grow. She also told the children a chapter from "Mrs. Hornicle and the Three Henrys' which had to do with the planning of the Christmas party. The December meeting will finish this story book, and the first of the year the members will begin a new adventure with a little black boy from Africa.

The meeting closed with the Mission Band purpose and the singing of two verses of a Mission Band Hymn which they found in the October "World Friends."

"I may not go to Africa,
Or India or Japan,
To work for Jesus here at home
I'll do the best I can.
I'll tell of His great love for me,
And how I love Him too,
And better far, I'll show my love
In all that I may do."

School News

The pupils and teachers of D.C.S. enjoyed a holiday Armistice Day.

The candy sale sponsored by the Junior Red Cross of Grades V-IX netted the treasury the sum of $3.40. The 100 calendars which had been ordered have arrived, and have been distributed among the several members for sale in their districts.

Two of our local boys, Jack Currie and Hugh McPherson, who attend school in Fort Covington, N.Y., both made the Honor Roll in their first report of the school term.

Messrs. Charles Gardiner, Dave Campbell and Joe Cannon enjoyed a hunting trip over the week-end, their destination being 90 miles north of Belleville. The boys were looking for deer and bear, but would have even settled for a partridge had one made itself available. However, due to Ontario game laws, one is not allowed to even fire a gun on Sunday, and as the boys didn't arrive at Dave's old home until Saturday afternoon and returned home on Sunday, their time for hunting anything was very limited. This area north of Belleville is on the fringe of the Algonquin Park, a forest and game reservation in the province of Ontario. The park, as well as the surrounding district is a bit of primitive and unmolested forest, and wild game of all kinds is found in large number. Hunting is prohibited within the park, but the outskirts are alive with hunters, as is the case in almost any area of virgin woodlands.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Arnold of Montreal spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Arnold.

Mr. Chivers, Huntingdon, Eng. Visits Huntingdon, Que.

Visitor is Head of Chivers & Sons Ltd., Manufacturers of Jams and Jellies

Chivers Jams and Jellies have been known for many years in England and they are greatly in demand as a high class product. Strangely too, Huntingdon, England, is one of the points where Chivers & Sons Ltd. have a factory. To add coincidence to coincidence, Mr. William B. Chivers, Chairman of Messrs. Chivers & Sons Ltd., was in Huntingdon, Que., on a short visit.

The people here will remember our connections with Huntingdon, England, during the war when the Rotary Club made up a shipment of foodstuffs which was sent to Huntingdon, England, for distribution to people there. Mr. Chivers was visiting with Mr. G. E. Govier of G. E. Govier & Company Ltd., at Howick, on Saturday and expressed a desire to visit Huntingdon and Godmanchester on account of their similarity in names to points in England with which he is familier. Needless to say he enjoyed his visit immensely.

The firm of Chivers & Sons, Ltd. in England enjoys a very fine reputation for its products. From a small beginning it has branched out into one of the best known manufacturers in England and many parts of the British Commonwealth. Cambridge is the headquarters and its Orchard factory covers a very large area. Wherever the factories are, they provide much employment for the people who live nearby. Thus the one in Huntingdon, England, is a source of employment for the people there. During the war one of the factories was a casualty of the bombing raids; many employees served in various ways on active service, in the home guard and helping with farm lands. At the same time the products of the company were used not only for the civilian population but for those on war service also. The employees did much for the Blood transfusion services, aided as spotters for air raids and did fist aid work during the time of raids. They thus built up a record of war services for their country as well as building a reputation for a very fine product.

The company now employs a staff exceeding 4,000 and the Chivers' farms extend to over 10,000 acres. The Huntingdon factory was opened in 1931.
