THE COURT OF KING'S BENCH

Frank Haines Found Guilty of Common Assault— Motion Presented For His Release—Case of Geo. F. Whitcomb, [Accused of Attempt to Pass Counterfeit Money, Pro- ceeded With.

The case of the King vs. Frank Haines was concluded yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. The petty jury retired then, and after about one hour of deliberation, brought against the prisoner, through their foreman, Mr. Delaney, a verdict of guilty of common assault.

Hon. Justice Choquette presided. Mr. Leonard presented a motion in arrest of judgment on behalf of Frank Haines. The motion was based upon allegations to the following effect: 1st, because the offence charged against Frank Haines is "for unlawfully and wilfully obstructing a public officer in the discharge of his duty," under section 144 of the Criminal Code; 2nd, because in the offence charged it does not include the commission of any other offence; 3rd, because no other offence was proved against Frank Haines, in connection with the offence charged; 4th, because the indictment against Frank Haines, and to which he pleaded "not guilty," was for unlawfully and wilfully obstructing a public officer in the discharge of his duty, and no other offence has been charged and proved in the indictment; 5th, because the prisoner could not be convicted of any offence which was not included in the indictment, and which was not proved; 6th, because the jury found the accused guilty of common assault, which was not charged in the indictment; 7th, because the jury could not legally find the accused guilty of common assault, under the indictment as charged.

The learned judge has taken the motion on deliberation.

At 11 o'clock, the clerk of the Crown called the case of the King vs. Geo. F. Whitcomb.

The following persons were sworn as jurors in this case: O. W. Coak, Marston; John A. Copping, township of Compton; Regis Duquette, township of Barnston; John Brown, Sherbrooke; Gordon Clement, Magog; Matthew Fleck, Malbourne; David Archibald, township of Windsor; Elliott Fish, Hatley; John H. Burton, Cookshire; James Cillas, township of Ascot; Henry W. Fowler, Malbourne; Chas. F. Caswell, township of Malou.

The indictment against the prisoner reads as follows: "At the City of Sherbrooke, on the sixth day of September, 1901, George F. Whitcomb did unlawfully and with intent to defraud, use, utter and offer in exchange, a counterfeit token of value, to wit, certain paper money, being a ten dollar bank note and bill, although genuine, then had, and has no value as money, he the said George F. Whitcomb then and there well knowing the same to have been no value as money."

The accused is defended by L. C. Belanger, K. C.

Mr. Lewis Smith, watchmaker and jeweler, of this city, was the first witness examined on behalf of the Crown. He stated in substance as follows: "I saw the accused in my shop on the 6th day of September last. He came in and asked to buy a cheap watch chain. My wife was attending to the customers. He selected one which he was told he could have for $1.25. He handed my wife a ten dollar bill to pay for it. She asked for something smaller, but he looked to use them. I then went and looked at it and I saw it was a counterfeit bill and told him so. I kept the bill and gave the alarm for the police. I asked the prisoner where he had got that bill. He said he had treated some men and paid in a $20 bill and got this in change. He said he did not think he would know the party who sold it to him if he saw him again. He did not say where it was. I kept him engaged in conversation till the police came. I have a private call that gives no sound in my store, but merely rings at the police headquarters. He was apparently unaware of the fact until the police arrived. I handed the bill and the accused over to the police officers, when they arrived and they took them both."

Being cross examined by the defence, Mr. Smith stated that the accused did not ask if the bill was good. He never saw the prisoner before.

The Court adjourned at 12.30 till 2 o'clock.

LATER.

At 2 p.m. today, Frank Haines was arraigned for sentence. He was fined $10 and costs, which he paid and was discharged.

CLARKE WALLACE DEAD

Passed Away Last Night After Long Illness.

WAS CANADIAN HEAD OF THE OR- ANGE ORDER.

Toronto, October 9.—Hon. N. Clarke Wallace died at 10.15 o'clock last night at his home in Woodbridge, Ont. Mr. Wallace had been in poor health for some time, but his illness developed a serious turn on his return from the West several months ago. While addressing a public meeting a few weeks ago he was overcome by a fainting spell and was removed to his home. It was believed at first that his strong constitution would assert itself, but despite the best medical attendance the distinguished patient grew gradually worse. He was suffering from a species of anaemia, or blood weakness, attended with complications. Leading specialists were called in and everything possible was done to restore him, but he became weaker and weaker and finally sunk into unconsciousness. He passed peacefully away at his home last night. Mr. Wallace's condition has been watched with the deepest interest throughout the Dominion, and the news of his death, though not unexpected, will come as a painful shock to thousands.

While standing there he heard one of the clerks behind the counter remark to another clerk, "That was a bad accident, down in Quebec." "What accident," inquired the one addressed. The reply came from the first clerk who was reading a Buffalo paper, "The Quebec Central has had a smash, four killed and six fatally injured." Mr. Walsh investigated in all the afternoon papers available and took the next train for home. At Niagara he got from a Toronto paper a more accurate statement of the accident than was contained in the Buffalo papers.

Eighteenth Annual Convention Now in Session in This City.

White Ribbon Delegates Arrive in Large Numbers— Interesting Meeting Last Evening—Address of Welcome—The Response.

The eighteenth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the Province of Quebec opened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, in the Methodist church of this city, with a meeting of the executive committee.

In the afternoon at 2.30, the annual consecration meeting was conducted by Miss Dougall, of Montreal, in a simple, affectionately worded address. An unusually large number of members was present for the first meeting, and the exercises were spiritual and uplifting to a remarkable degree. Short prayers, interspersed with well known hymns, a scripture reading, brought the first hour to a close.

Mrs. M. E. Sanderson, provincial president, then called upon the secretary, Mrs. McLachlan, to read the names of the members of the W.C.T.U. who had passed away during the year and to whose memory the service was held. Each one was lovingly spoken of by the friends who had known her best, and who bore testimony in fitting words to the faithful lives of the departed. Two honorary members, the late Mr. Lamb, of St. Andrews, and Mr. Goodhue, of Danville, were remembered in grateful words of eulogy, for their christian lives and work, and ready aid in the work of the Union.

During the afternoon the hymn, "Near My God to Thee," was sung, and "The Morning Land" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. G. E. Hyndman, and Mr. Geo. Armitage. After the close of the session, kindly greetings were exchanged, and old acquaintances renewed.

RICHMOND NEWS.

Proposition Made to the Council re St. Francis Bridge.

PREPARATIONS TO RECEIVE THE ROYAL VISITORS AT RICH- MOND.

Richmond, October 9.—(Special)—The following proposition by Mr. J. W. Harkon, president and manager of the Richmond County Electric Co., was laid before the Richmond municipal council at their regular monthly meeting Monday night, as a plan for financing the work of rebuilding the bridge between Richmond and Melbourn, with a view of, of a not very remote date, making the bridge toll free at a small expense. The amount he asked the municipality of Richmond to guarantee was $10,000. Melbourn and Brompton Gore by a similar proposition was asked to guarantee $10,000 and the village of Melbourn, $5,000. The bonds to be guaranteed are to be a first lien on the whole property of the St. Francis Bridge Co., which is to be otherwise entirely clear from debt and to mature for full payment in twenty-five years, bearing interest at 5 per cent. per annum during that period. As an insurance against accident to the bridge and to provide a sinking fund toward redemption of the bonds the Co. in addition to the guaranteed interest paid to bondholders is to pay the municipalities guaranteeing the bonds one per cent. per annum on their guarantee, until the bonds mature, when the fund is estimated to reach one half the amount of the guarantee. At the end of 25 years the company will renounce to the guarantors the whole property on condition that the bridge be made toll free, for which $12,500 only will be required, of which Richmond's proportion will be $5,000, the only money the corporation will be called upon to provide.

The sinking fund above mentioned is to be available for restoration on renewal of the bridge in case of accident, which, in view of past experiences and the plans contemplated for construction is hardly probable. The recent action in releasing the bridge from taxation is looked upon by the company as to be confined for the period of guarantee.

Colonel Harkon's proposition was taken up by the Council for consideration. Mr. J. W. Harkon is having the wrecked bridge spans of the old St. Francis bridge raised from the bed of the river.

At the regular Council meeting Monday night it was decided to proclaim a civic half holiday on the 16th, when Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of York would pass through Richmond. The brass band has been engaged and everybody recommended to blow themselves.

The Y on the C.P.R. has been tested. Supt. Browne and Trainmaster Cunningham were in Richmond to witness the test on Monday. Guard rails have been laid all around the curve for additional security.

A committee has been appointed to have charge of the altering and re-erecting of the civic offices of the town.

Two more applications for shop licenses were laid before the Council this week, but were refused, the Council having decided not to issue any more licenses for the present year.

It is proposed as one scheme for the entertainment of the Royal visitors while in Richmond, to stop the Royal train at the ferry landing long enough to allow Their Highnesses time to enjoy a trip across the St. Francis in the unique "scow." A cake and wine party in Melbourn is also proposed. The train stops 20 minutes at the station, where Their Royal Highnesses will be presented with an address.

PROVINCIAL W. C. T. U.

Mrs. W. B. LeFaron, of Sherbrooke, read the following address of welcome: Madame President, Officers and delegates:

To me has been given the pleasure of extending to this convention a most cordial welcome. As citizens of Sherbrooke we are pleased to welcome you to our city. We are justly proud of its natural beauty, lying as it does in the pleasant valley of the St. Francis, and extending over the hills on either side, with the noisy waters of the Magog, rushing down ledges and over rocks, tumbling, leaping and laughing in its very happiness, to join the placid St. Francis as it glides quietly on towards the St. Lawrence. We are pleased with many of its institutions and the spirit of friendliness that exists among its people, but the same dark cloud casts its shadow over us that we find everywhere, in all this fair Dominion. The shadow that engenders danger to our homes, that menaces our boys upon the streets, that brings war and desolation to our hearts and we fall upon our knees and ask God what we can do to protect and save those whom he has committed to our care. We not only welcome you to our city, but to our homes. We are glad to have you with us these four days in the intimacy of our home life. The memory of the minutes we glean from the busy days and in earnest interchange of loving thought will hover over us like a benediction, long after you have returned to your homes. 'Tis said that "Sorrow works us all a kin," and this most potent reason has drawn us together strangers though we are, under one banner, "For God and Home and Native Land," and has so united our aims, our success and our failures, that we stand side by side as sisters in human sympathy, and in this great work of saving souls, and so, dear sisters, we give you heart to heart greeting for your presence here. As members of the Universal Church of Christ we salute you. We know that many of you have come from busy homes, and that many duties, perhaps arduous and perplexing await you upon your return. Of your hearts to the work that has bidden you to our midst, you may also receive abundantly the help you each need for the day to come.

We know not what may befall us. God hangs a mist o'er our eyes, And o'er each step of our onward path He makes new scenes to rise. And every joy he sends us Comes a sweet and glad surprise.

To the officers of our Provincial Union and to our beloved president, we wish to extend a loving greeting. We remember the time and care you have bestowed upon the preparation of the work before us, and from which we expect to reap so bountiful a harvest. May the days be long in the land and the glory of God's presence be ever with you. Although presence be ever with you. Although presence be ever with you. Although presence be ever with you.

Now, my dear sisters, with this noble example to encourage, let us trust that the shadows will soon pass, the night wane and the morning break gloriously. March on, ye faithful and valiant band, With Christ's banner of love unfurled. Through Him, you're the hope of a goodly land, Which land is the hope of the world.

A solo by Mr. A. L. Parker followed Mrs. Butterfield's very interesting address. FREEDOM OF THE CITY.

The President then called upon Mayor Worthington, who, in the name of the city, welcomed the W. C. T. U. convention to Sherbrooke. This he did in the most hearty manner and expressed the hope that the delegates would find their stay enjoyable and would retain pleasant recollections of the days spent here.

Continuing, the Mayor said: "We are proud of our city, of its institutions, its manufactures, its fine streets, its buildings, the beautiful St. Francis and the rushing Magog, but above all proud of the spirit of order and temperance which pervades all sections of our people. We do all we can to enforce the license law in the city and much credit is due our Chief of Police, who is really a wonderful man. He is frank, policeman, engineer, carpenter and an apostle of temperance."

The Mayor concluded by repeating his wish that the convention in Sherbrooke might be pleasant and profitable from every point of view.

OTHER WORDS OF WELCOME. Rev. F. C. Lett, of the Methodist church, Rev. Mr. Day, of the Congregational church, and Rev. Mr. Shearer, of the Presbyterian church, also, in behalf of their respective churches, welcomed the convention to Sherbrooke.

OTHER RESPONSES. Mrs. McLaughlin, of Montreal, responded to the words of welcome in behalf of the general officers, Mrs. McNaughton, of Huntington, in behalf of the county president, Mrs. Currie, of Montreal, in behalf of the departments, and Miss Monk, of Montreal, in behalf of the Y's.

MR. JOHN A. NICHOLS. Prof. John A. Nichols, the well known temperance lecturer, was the last speaker. He defined himself as an unattached member of the white ribbon army. Referring to the repeal of the Dunkin Act in Richmond county, he said it was not a defeat. The temperance party had simply been outnumbered. They polled within 10 votes as many as they did in the previous vote on the Act and 315 more than were polled for prohibition in the plebiscite. The explanation of the result was that peculiar methods brought out an anti-temperance vote, which had never been brought out before.

After a closing musical selection by the choir the meeting was brought to a close.

THIS MORNING'S SESSION. The features of this morning's session were the address of the president, Mrs. Sanderson, the reports of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. McLachlan, and of the treasurer, Mrs. S. P. Leet.

THE G. T. R. ANNUAL MEETING IN LONDON.—PRESIDENT'S REPORT ADOPTED.

London, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, the report of Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, was unanimously accepted.

We have everything to hope for. We have the women. They are physically able to work. Their hearts are full of mother love for all humanity, and their minds are turned into a current which like our ocean currents which flow from our great rivers and break upon the coasts of other lands, carries their sunny influence to the broad oceans of the world. Within the past two years I have seen much of the work, having been in 36 of the larger cities of the U.S., found in all but one that a Union existed. In Tampa, Florida, I was told there had been a Union, but for various causes it had ceased to act. If visited the headquarters or called upon the president whenever time would allow. I was pleased to observe that the Young Men's Christian Association seemed to affiliate with the W.C.T.U. as they are always able to give me information regarding each other. The grand buildings of the Y.M.C.A. all through the U.S. attest to their growing influence for good. Even in the mad colored city, El Paso, where the Apache and sombrero are much in evidence, and the smelters send abroad almost as poisonous and offensive odors as the beer saloon, the White Ribbon has become the tie that binds hundreds of hearts and hands in one common cause, for the uplift of humanity. In the Salt Lake City where the latter day saints have a brewery which they claim is after the Divine plan (altho the faces of some of their old converts would not imply it) woman's influence is increasingly felt in every phase of reform.

No sisters, we are not alone; public sentiment has joined our army and our noble leaders, Lady Henry Somerset and Mrs. Stevens, with hosts of others, are sounding the Slogan from every mountain and glade and calling for the united love of the women of the world. We had a noble defender in our beloved President McKinley. President McKinley was a man who practiced moderation or temperance in all things. Now, my dear sisters, with this noble example to encourage, let us trust that the shadows will soon pass, the night wane and the morning break gloriously. March on, ye faithful and valiant band, With Christ's banner of love unfurled. Through Him, you're the hope of a goodly land, Which land is the hope of the world.

REPLY TO ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

Mrs. F. D. Butterfield, of Derby Line, Vt., delegate from the Stanstead Union, replied as follows to the address of welcome:

Dear Sisters: I have great pleasure in meeting for the first time in convention my Canadian sisters, as a delegate from an international union and thank you for allowing me, as my first and most agreeable duty, to respond to the welcome so cordially and thoughtfully extended and express sincere acknowledgments and deep sense of gratitude for your promptness in receiving your coming guests and for your manifest hospitality. Your kind attentions will long be cherished in retrospect.

We congratulate ourselves in being thus welcomed to the beautiful city of Sherbrooke, which seems to lack nothing in natural beauty, or solid comfort, and long renowned for its distinguished men and cultivated women. We wish we could feel that your city was free from destructive traffic and its influence as pure as the flashing, dashing, sparkling and foaming waters of the Magog, or the placid waters of the St. Francis.

We are impressed with the suitability of inviting the White Ribbon Army to encamp on grounds whose municipal authority are men who honor their responsibility in the maintenance of order and purity by demanding it, thereby nurturing practical principles which may pave the way to ultimate establishment. Such influences cannot be limited to a single locality, but will be sure to burst forth from their confines and scatter good seed for other soils. "The light that shines farthest shines brightest near home."

We believe we shall all derive inspiration from this convention, and further incentive to increase our determination, to perpetuate sentiments of temperance and loyalty. It is profitable for us to meet together, with hearts beating in love to God and home and every land. It widens our range of acquaintance, helps us to feed on fresh thoughts, quickened by our enthusiastic and hopeful sisters, and is a positive luxury to enjoy the associations of those engaged in the work, and the only way of getting a working knowledge of what is being accomplished.

Although a member of the Stanstead Union, you have shown your international broadness in inviting a Vermont woman to be one with you, in heart and hope. In union is strength, and we can surely feel that in the wide world Union we have a Trust which cannot be called oppressive if it does monopolize, and in which the Christian women of the world are so united that politics or religious creeds cannot separate. In the strength of God we trust in each other to stand against the foe, intemperance, and fight with our latest breath an enemy that would gladly undermine our youth and encourage evil in every form. If the wives, mothers and sisters would encircle the world in one unbroken chain of wise and womanly determination against the liquor traffic their almighty power would create a new era in the world, and we should no longer pray and beg for prohibition. "Hope sees a star, and listening Love can hear the rustling of a wing."

We have everything to hope for. We have the women. They are physically able to work. Their hearts are full of mother love for all humanity, and their minds are turned into a current which like our ocean currents which flow from our great rivers and break upon the coasts of other lands, carries their sunny influence to the broad oceans of the world. These animals won the first prizes at Quebec, Sherbrooke and Danville. The heifers were sired by Matchless, the son of Nellie Osborne, the cow that took the sweepstakes prize at the World's Fair, Chicago.

The Khan on marriage.

After a lengthy silence, The Khan has been heard from in a letter to the Hamilton Herald on the question of Why Old Bachelors Do Not Marry. He writes from Inshdale Farm, and the occasion of his letter was the discovery that in Wentworth County there are a tract of farming country in which nearly every farmer is a bachelor. "Marriage," he says, "is falling into disfavor because the age is irreverent."

"Everybody thinks it smart to get off a funny crack at anything in itself commands, and should command, the respect of all."

"Irreverence is undermining the church; irreverence is undermining the home; and when there is nothing left to reverence—the Lord have mercy on us all!"

"Take the comic column of any popular paper, and all the so-called 'funny cracks,' or most of them, are leveled at the bride and bridegroom, a man's father, and all the impudent, sassy, lecherous, and smart-gang that terrifies the man who would be married."

"Here is a sample joke: Little Son: Pa, how old should a person be before he is married? Father: Old enough to know better."

"The reader is supposed to laugh at that. As a matter of fact, it is an open insult to every decent girl in the community. It is a sneer at virtue and a jibe at God himself—He who instituted marriage."

"That is only a sample. Lying on my table as I write is a Sunday paper, and one-third of its so-called jokes are sneers at the marriage state."

"When a young fellow decides to get married he breaks the news to his friends apologetically. Why should he? Will some girl tell me why? Many a man has been married in secret rather than run the gauntlet; other men won't take the chance at all."

The funeral of Mr. Joseph Michel Roy, the young mail clerk, who lost his life in the accident at Theford Mines, was held on Monday, at Quebec, from his late home to the church of the Fantouy St. Jean. There was a very large attendance, Mr. Roy and his family being well-known and respected.

(Mr. A. McLean, Correspondent.)

October 9.—Mr. M. Reed, who has resided among us for many years, has shaken the dust of his feet and removed to Greenville, on the Brompton side.

It is somewhat singular that a town of our population and as intelligent, as the world knows we are, should be in the humiliating position of being obliged to burn kerosene for lighting purposes. Why is this thus? The man who distributes kerosene for the Imperial Oil Co. informs us that he leaves 500 gallons of kerosene in this town. And why? Our city fathers have not gall enough to do business on their own hook.

Some of our wags have got up a Carie Nation hatchet and have suspended it opposite one of our popular bars. So that each patron as he takes his drink

Why We Cheer

"Don't err, it isn't the Duke of York alone the nation cheers, but the Throne and the people behind it—the beef-eaters, the sturdy men, those who have made the little island great."

We look at the Duke and pass him away down the long avenue of British history. We cheer because Wellington won at Waterloo; we cheer because the matinee for the Nelson fell and every man did his duty; we cheer because of Gordon, the great man with a soul that wanted to reach out and love the whole world; we cheer because of Alfred the Great, the road-maker and harrier of the puny; we cheer because of Cromwell, the old-time rough rider; because of Shakespeare, the poet for all time, and Milton, his brother in immortality; because of Byron and Tennyson, Burns and Gladstone; we cheer because of her whom we loved, our Queen, his grandmother because of our King, whom we respect, his father.

The arches, the great guns, the hats doffed, courtiers on their knees, the cheers are not for the Duke alone, but in honor of the great past of the little island that he represents, and in whose history he may some time take a vital part as King.

No Better Soil Anywhere.

"The fertility of the soil is unsurpassed anywhere," said Mr. Gibson, the climatic is not severe, and no early frosts injure the crops. Now that the Canadian Northern runs through this district throughout its entire extent, any objection to the want of transportation, whether eastward or westward, has been removed. Indeed, it would be difficult to imagine a more desirable field for immigration of farm settlers who are not afraid to grapple with the ordinary difficulties and hardships incidental to original settlement."

The timber in the Rainy Lake district seemed more plentiful than he had supposed. There are large areas of excellent Norway pine, which can be sawed into lumber for the increasing and ever-ready market in Manitoba. He had no doubt but that in the near future the Lake of the Woods and Rainy Lake and the numerous clear waters in that part of the Province would be resorted to by summer tourists from the United States as well as from older Ontario.

PLAY RUGBY FOR OYSTERS.

Yesterday afternoon the "Arts" and the "Commercials," two rugby teams from the Seminary, met on the parade ground in a burly contest for an oyster supper, a prize offered by the professors of the college. The game was a very animated one, the teams being quite evenly matched. Skillful combination, however, secured the victory for the "Arts." The play lasted just one hour, at the end of which time the score stood five to one. On their return to the Seminary, the "Commercials," who bore their defeat bravely, were entertained at the popular college restaurant, at the expense of the victors.

'Kicks' by 'Kickers'

This column is for the exclusive use of deserving "kickers." In it they may kick as hard and as often as they please and they may "kick" concerning anything they please, upon the following conditions:

(1)—That they stick carefully to facts.
(2)—That they avoid anything libellous.
(3)—That they confine themselves to not more than 300 words, on one subject, on one day.
(4)—That their names (in confidence or otherwise) invariably accompany their "kicks."

I note an item in Monday's Record to the effect that the usual fall squirrel hunt is to take place at East Hanley. Now, while it may not be a branch of the game law for some fifty men and boys to kill all the squirrels they can find, it ought to be, and I must say that if I were to write just what I think of the performance you would not print it.

Cannot something be done to save the squirrels?

SHANTYMAN'S OROLLERY.

His Appearance to the Throne of Great Britain Thought It Was the Funniest He Had Ever Experienced To.

The Duke and Duchess then climbed the steep slope of Rockliffe and took the royal trolley car into the depths of the woods, where a lumberman's camp had been prepared, writes Hector W. Charlesworth in the Toronto Mail. The approach to it, a newly-cut roadway, was guarded by lines of soldiers. At the camp itself was a spot hidden away among towering pines, the air redolent with balsam. Here the lumbermen were lined up in scarlet shirts, and carried the great "gaffe" with which they handle logs, like spears in their hands. There was a genuine lumberman's cook-house or shanty, with a great fire burning in the middle of it, the only chimney a hole cut in the roof. Here Monsieur Adelbert Gaudin, a typical French-Canadian shanty cook, presided with great pride over the feast. He had prepared a soup, pork, and beans, "sea pie," a combination of beef and potatoes, tea without milk, apples, and prunes. All these dainties were served in tin pans and cups.

To Monsieur Adelbert the Duchess is the Queen and good lady of his domain. She tasted every one of the dishes he had prepared, and complimented him. "And why no," says Monsieur Adelbert, "dey was good, I tell you dey was; le Duc, he not want to taste ze sea pie, but ze Duchess, she shamed for him I tink, and she made him take some from her pan. She French, ze Duchess, she spit beautifully I not much Anglais, you know; le Duc he not much French; but he says everything verra nice. Why no, is not all clean? We sleep but one hour last night."

While the Duke and Duchess were regaling themselves with shanty fare, all good and wholesome and clean, the other guests availed themselves of the lavish hospitality of the lumbermen. Rich brands of fine wines were spread forth in the marquees with a special compartment for royalty. Afterward began the sports of the lumbermen, the throwing of gaffs and the like. Then several trees were cut deftly and without danger to any one, so neatly was it done. The great trunks came crashing down in their selected places, scattering the aromatic pine needles everywhere. With many characteristic cries the habitant woodmen set about cutting the trunks into lengths for loading, and proceeded to load their gaffs on the great trunks up on the carrying sleds. In the meanwhile a fiddler struck up a tune, and the dancing commenced, such as goes on in every lumber camp every Saturday night. Heel and toe, partner against partner, cutting strange pranks, but always keeping time with the music, the big sunburned, sweating woodmen danced.

The lumbermen's committee had a very pretty souvenir for the royal party. It is a silver log in the form of a badge about an inch long. On either end of the log are inscriptions describing the occasion and the dates, etc. One of these souvenirs was presented to the Duke and Duchess. His Royal Highness quickly had it dangling from the lapel of his coat.

After the entertainment was over the Duke made his first extemporaneous speech. He spoke with a slight hesitancy.

"The Duchess and myself have to thank you for one of the most interesting afternoons that we have had since we left England. We have seen many interesting sights in various parts of the world, but nothing has pleased us more than what you have seen here to-day."

The Duke's observation evidently gave great satisfaction to the shanty men, and when William Whistle, the merry unctuous, 265-pound foreman of the W. G. Edwards Company, stepped into the circle to make reply, he was for a moment embarrassed. William made his most courtly bow to the Duke and Duchess, and Their Excellencies. After a moment or so of hesitation he commenced his remarks in French.

"Immediately there was a cry of 'En Anglais.' The portly foreman struggled against this demand, but presently acceded to the general wish. He said:

"Oh, I cannot speak in English, but I will do de best as I can. I commence on de shantie for you. M'sieu Edward, my year ago, and in tam I had charge de de shantie, and I mak some monee. He gave me pretty fair wages, but I notice M'sieu Edward make much monee every year, and I say to myself I will tak up business myself, and I am going to mak big monee, too. Well, M'sieu Edward, he no object, and in three year I mak big business. I mak seventeen thousand dollar debt (great laughter), and I lose all dat I hay. I commence to look pretty sharp, less I lose ma home (laughter), den I immediately Edward, and he say to me: 'Well, William, are you done?' I would like to go work for your famlee again.' So I start and go back to M'sieu Edward. But der was dat seventeen thousand dollar debt, and William, when you are in debt you mouch, and I did not know what to do, so I went to de church to de mass, and I prayed to de good Lord, and I say to him, 'God Almighty, I cannot pay dat debt, I will give it to you in money, money, den since I first work in de shantie for M'sieu Edward, He give me good wage, and I am honorable enough to mak shantie to-day for de King and de Queen."

"At this point William made a profound obeisance to Their Royal Highnesses, and wound up his characteristic speech with this remark: "An I am sure if I cannot work you (meaning the Duke), will give me a chance somewhere else."

The Duke was convulsed with his laughter, and they about among his acquaintances saying: "Wasn't that the funniest thing you ever heard of?" and in farewell took William warmly by the hand.

CAUSES ANXIETY.

Speculation As to Result of the Ameer's Death

WILL RUSSIA ATTEMPT TO PUSH FRONTIER FORWARD.

London, October 9.—No confirmation has yet been received at the Foreign Office of the report of the death of the Ameer of Afghanistan, but the accuracy of the report is not doubted. In view of the existing critical situation in South Africa, the news sent something like a shock through the United Kingdom. Great confidence, however, is expressed on all sides in the ability of the Indian viceroy to deal with the situation.

Before Lord Curzon attained his present dignities he had travelled through Afghanistan as the guest of the Ameer and had thoroughly mastered the problem of British policy in Central Asia. At Simla it is believed that Habibullah Khan, who was regarded by his father as his successor, and had long had a large share in the Government of the country, will assume the succession peacefully.

There is an underlying current of uneasiness discernible as to whether Russia will seize the opportunity to push her frontier forward. The British troops in India, owing to the South African war, are now below their normal strength. It will be impossible to take any more for South Africa, and the news will still further encourage the Boers to prolong their resistance.

"The British duty is plain," says the Times. "It is to afford prompt and firm countenance to the legitimate heir and nominee of the Ameer and the favorite of the nation. It is well for Great Britain that the death has occurred in Lord Curzon's viceroyalty."

ACCESSION ANNOUNCED.

London, October 9.—Native reports assert, says a despatch to the Times from Simla, "that the accession of Nabih Allah Khan has been officially announced at Jalahabad and Dacca, and the announcement was received quietly."

SHAMROCK TO WINTER IN U. S.

New York, Oct. 9.—From present indications it is highly probable there will be some very interesting racing among the ninety-foot yachts next season. Sir Thomas Lipton has decided to keep Shamrock II. in America this winter with a view of racing her next spring and summer against Constitution and Columbia. Shamrock is to be dismantled at once. Her mast will be taken out so that she can pass under the Brooklyn Bridge and she is to be towed to New London, Conn., there to be laid up for the winter with Constitution, which will also have a berth at that place.

Sir Thomas Lipton is confined to his yacht, the Erin, which is lying off West Twenty-sixth street in the North River. His right leg, which was hurt while he was boarding the tender Porto Rico a few weeks ago, is giving him considerable pain. The strain it was subjected to during the recent races is beginning to tell, and his doctor has ordered absolute rest under the penalty of his being laid up in bed, and the possible cancelling of all engagements. Elaborate preparations are being made at the New York Yacht Club to fittingly receive Sir Thomas at the club tonight. The affair is to be in the nature of a reception, to be followed probably, by a few toasts and informal speeches.
