res. Roosevelt Strenuously Trying to Block the Manchurian Battle.

EANWHILE JAPS CONVERGE

oon Possiet Bay and May be Trying to Get Between Linevitch and Vladivostok—Operations of Great Magnitude.

Washington, June 21.—It is intimated official circles here that negotiations ae proceeding looking to an armistice tween Japan and Russia.

Roosevelt is Busy.

St. Petersburg, June 21.—President oosevelt has evidently taken a new portant step in the negotiations ween the belligerents. While there are llateral reasons for believing that it lates to an armistice which will pre- nt the impending battle in Manchuria is cannot be positively affirmed. All at can be stated definitely is that mbassador Meyer went suddenly to e Foreign Office late last night and d an interview with Foreign Minister amsdorff, at which it is believed the mbassador communicated an import- nt message from President Roosevelt. ut at neither the Foreign Office nor e American Embassy is the slightest ght thrown on what transpired. From e extreme secrecy observed the matter beyond doubt is one of the greatest llecacy, but as the statement is vouchfed at the Foreign Office that the ne- otiations are proceeding without a tch the inference follows that it re- tes to a new phase, in which the resident has again taken the initia- ve. This is the more certain since the ommunications between the belligerents relating strictly to the questions of lection of place, time and number of e plenipotentiaries were conducted aturally through Ambassador Cassini nd Minister Takahira through the in- rmediary of the Washington Govern- nment, whereas according to diplo- atic procedure only communications om the Washington Government ach Foreign Minister Lamsdorff hrough Ambassador Meyer.

Japanese Converging.

New York, June 21.—A St. Petersburg espatch to the Times says three Japa- ese columns are moving parallel to the ast of northeast Corea and are ap- arently converging on Possiet Bay sixty miles southwest of Vladivostok) hither a large fleet of transports has alled from Gensan.

Trouble at Port Arthur Bank.

Che Foo, June 21.—Local missionaries aving stations previous to the present usso-Japanese war in Corea and Man- huria complain that they are unable o secure mission funds for current ac- ounts from the Port Arthur branch of he Russo-Chinese Bank. The bank fficials in reply say that the Japanese till hold the bank's books and papers, hus preventing any settlement of the ank's business affairs.

They further say that notwithstand- ng a supplementary capitulation agree- ent recognizing the Port Arthur Bank s a private institution the Japanese re holding all books and papers be- onging to the bank as well as postal natter.

Japan's Splendid Prospects.

London, June 21.—A despatch to the Standard from St. Petersburg says that military observers are inclined to be- lieve that Field Marshal Oyama is pre- pared to insert a wedge between Kirki nd Vladivostok, driving General Line- vitch west. The situation is watched with anxiety.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Paris Temps says that stupefication has been caused by intelligence of the operations in Manchuria and hopes of approaching peace are being abandoned. The present operations are unprece- dented. They extend over a front of ay hundred versts from the Corean to the Mongolian frontier.

AUGUST BELMONT PLANS GIANT RACE TRACK TRUST

s After Controlling Interest in Eight Out of Nine of the Great Eastern Tracks.

New York, June 21.—The statement was made yesterday that August Bel- mont and his assistants have pur- chased a controlling interest in the Jamaica, Aqueduct, Brooklyn, Sara- toga and Brighton Beach Racing As- so iations, and that a giant merger of these properties would be effected later. Mr. Belmont now owns a con- trolling interest in Belmont Park, Kenilworth and Bennings. If he se- cured the properties mentioned it will place him in control of all the racing plants in the East, with the exception of the Sheepshead Bay track, which is controlled largely by Wm. K. Vander- bilt.

This story was denied with certain reservations last night. It was ad- mitted that Mr. Belmont and his friends have recently acquired ad- ditional holdings in the tracks men- tioned, but that it was with no idea of a merger or the formation of a racing trust.

ANNUAL MEETING WAS LIVELY ONE

Forty-First Meeting of the Merchants Bank Held To-Day.

RESIGNATION OF MR. FYSHE

Shareholders Wanted Information But Did Not Get It—Indefinite Statement on Amalgamation Rumor.

Such shareholders as were present at the forty-first annual meeting of The Merchants' Bank of Canada this morning, heard a pertervid speech from the lips of Mr. John Morrison, a polite avoidance by Sir H. Montagu Allan, of a reply to a direct question by Mr. B. A. Boaz as to whether there were any grounds for the rumor that the Merchants' Bank and the Royal Bank of Canada contemplated amalga- mating and an evasion of the rea- sons why Mr. Fyshe severed his con- nection with the bank.

After the annual report was read by President Allan, Mr. Morrison lost no time in asking if it was true that when Mr. Fyshe had resigned the gen- eral managership of the bank, he was granted a bonus of $50,000 by the di- rectors.

The question was answered in the affirmative.

Then, said Mr. Morrision, if there was any sufficient reason why Mr. Fyshe should resign, the directors were more to blame than he was, for they had given him a bonus at the same time that they had severed re- lationship with him.

Mr. Morrison's language became warmer as he proceeded and finally he complained that the directors were attending more faithfully to their pri- vate business than they were to that of the bank. He advised them quite plainly and quite audibly to resign.

At a later stage of the meeting, how- ever, he retracted and remarked that he had no objection to the annual re- port and that as the rest of the world was so vile, it would probably be just as well if the directorate remained unchanged.

Mr. B. A. Boas stated that he had heard so many street rumors concern- ing the resignation of Mr. Fyshe, and concerning the amalgamation of the Merchants' Bank and the Royal Bank of Canada, that he would like to have some official information on the sub- ject. He had heard that Mr. Fyshe had resigned because of difficulties with the president; because of diffi- culties with a certain director and be- cause his policy and that of the bank did not correspond. Which was the correct reason?

President Allan replied that Mr. Fyshe had been in ill-health and that the directors and Mr. Fyshe had con- sidered it wise that he should resign. If there were any other reasons for the resignation, the president did not deem it wise that they should be made public.

Regarding the amalgamation rumor, Sir Montagu thought that the less said about the matter the better. If there was anything in the rumor then it would not be wise for the Mer- chants' Bank to show its hand. If there was nothing in it, why the rumor did no harm.

The directors were re-elected as fol- lows:

Sir H. Montagu Allan, Messrs. Jon- athan Hodgson, J. P. Dawes, Thomas Long, C. R. Hosmer, C. F. Smith, Hugh A. Allan, C. M. Hays, Alex. Bar- net.

All the directors but Mr. C. M. Hays were present and in addition, the fol- lowing: Messrs. Chas. Alexander, Lieut.-Col. Prevost, Richard, White, Fred. W. Evans, M. S. Foley, Jas. Moore, John Morrison, Capt. Benyon, M. Burke, Jas. Crathern, F. W. Mere- dith, K. C., B. A. Boaz and Jas. W. Morrison.

MR. M'DOUGALL ON HIS DEGRADATION

Ottawa, June 21.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Public Accounts Com- mittee to-day Mr. McDougall, the Auditor-General, continued his state- ment in regard to his office. He said that the position taken by Mr. Roche, of Halifax, that the whole subject of the Auditor-General's position should be referred to a sub-committee, seem- ed unanswerable. There would be only three sittings of the committee before the end of the session, while it would require a sub-committee sitting daily to dispose of the matter.

"If you are to get the right kind of a man," said Mr. McDougall, "to be Auditor-General he will be anxious to know that he is in a position to de- fend the financial interests of the peo- ple against all the attacks which may be made on them. He will see that the Auditor-General gets a smaller salary than those officials who were on the same scale as himself until quite recently. He will probably ex- amine the circumstances under which the degradation of the Auditor-General in point of emolument was brought about. The degradation in this re- spect was determined upon because the present holder of the position was detected in bringing about the largest legitimate saving ever made in the public funds of Canada, without his being able to point out that any other person ought to bear part of the pun- ishment for so great a crime." These matters might be considered and set- tled by the sub-committee before the new man to fill the office.

LIBERAL RETURNED UNOPPOSED IN YAMASKA

Mr. Edouard Ouellet is Now Member of the Legislature in Succession to Hon. Jules Allard.

St. Francois du Lac, June 21.—(Spe- cial.)—Mr. Edouard Ouellet, was, yes- terday, returned by acclamation as the new representative of Yamaska in the Provincial Legislature to replace Hon. Jules Allard, who has been elevated to the Legislative Council. No Conser- vative candidate had been mentioned, but Messrs. A. Mondon, A. Tonzin, no- taries of this place, were both in the field for nomination, as well as the convention candidate. After the ban- quet of Monday night to Hon. Mr. Al- lard, however, it was decided to leave with him the choice of the Liberal candidate and he endorsed Mr. Ouellet, who was accordingly elected by accla- mation. A public meeting was then held, at which addresses were deliv- ered by the member-elect, Messrs. L. J. Lemieux, Jeremie Decaire and J. B. Prevost, M.L.A.'s.

LORD DUNDONALD IS AGAIN TALKING

He Says That He Soon Lost Confidence in Sir F. Borden.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 21.—At a banquet held in the Ironmongers Hall last evening, Lord Dundonald, in replying to the toast of "The Military Forces," stated that shortly after his arrival in Can- ada, in answer to pressing enquiries,

MR. K. B. THORNTON,
Of the M. L. H. and P. Co., President of the Canadian Electrical Association.

his adjutant, one of the permanent officers in the Canadian service, told him that effective means were taken to overlook the claims of officers to promotion who were not "persona gratia" with the political head of the department. Lord Dundonald added that he had not been long in Canada before he entirely lost confidence in Sir Frederick Borden, who was charg- ed with the responsibility of adminis- tering militia affairs. He said that while Canadian affairs were presum- ably administered by a council of of- ficers, with the Minister of Militia as chairman of the council, in point of fact the minister controlled the actions of the council, and that his experience with Sir Frederick Borden, as Minister of Militia, was not such as led to the conclusion that efficiency should be the reason for promotion in the Canad- ian militia. He instanced as an evi- dence the alleged disrepute in which he said the Canadian militia stood in the estimation of Canada that thirty graduates were annually turned out of the Canadian Military College, not one of whom could accept positions in the Dominion militia service.

CANDID MR. GEORGE.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 21.—Referring to Mr. George's speech yesterday at the luncheon at the Docks, the Westmin- ster Gazette says: "We are grateful to Mr. George for his frank statement that Canadian manufacturers are de- termined to protect their home mar- ket against all competition, British and foreign alike."

LIBRARIES MAKE THE "MILLIONTH MAN"

Dr. Dewey Tells How to Develop Commanding Figures.

Libraries, and the important part they play in modern education, was the theme of an exceedingly interesting lecture, last night, given by Dr. Mel- vil Dewey, Librarian of the Albany, N.Y., State Library, to the summer library class at McGill. His address was a revelation to his audience as to the real meaning and power of a free public library. Mr. C. H. Gould pre- sided.

This age, said Dr Dewey, would be known to present and future genera- tions as the library age. No great human movement dad ever swept over the world with so little opposition and so much general aid as this epoch of libraries. Within the last six months he had been in correspondence with al- most all the civilized countries on the subject, except Russia. Rusia was a little too busy just now to think of libraries. This great free library movement was little understood in fact the ordinary book-user did not know the outside edge of what it meant.

"This movement simply means that at last the world has discovered that education pays. You can get ordinar- ary men by the hundred thousand at cheap rates, but look for a command- ing mind to direct a great project, and offer what pay you like, it is very hard to find a suitable man. It pays to raise the finished man, not the cull. You pay $100 for ten cents' worth of ore made into a typewriter. It is the brains and finish that make the value. So with your boy. Training and edu- cation make the difference between the citizen of Montreal and the South Sea Island savage.

"That is our problem—to make our boys and girls the best possible men and women. The children of well- educated parents are more likely to be mentally endowed; but as the laboring class is as five to one, it fur- nishes a large percentage of the use- ful people. A nation's concern is not riches, but the elevation of its people from the brute to the god. It is qual- ity, not count, that is the real factor. Obliterate the life and work of the most influential man of each million in a nation, and you would change the whole course of civilization. That is to-day the world's problem—the quest of the millionth man. The man who is to make Canada great may to-day be in a homely dwelling. Canada must find that boy and give him a chance to develop."

deputation, will be present, and the proposition thoroughly considered. Mr. Mandeville in a letter to Ald. Lavallee says that there is a deep-rooted desire to join their fortunes with those of Montreal; and that while there is op- position in the Villeray Council, the aldermen opposing the scheme will meet with defeat at the ensuing elec- tions.

The Greater Montreal is apparently becoming a popular idea.

THE CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 21.—In the course of a speech, on the occasion of the visit to the docks, Mr. George took occasion to show by a quotation of figures that Canada's manufacturing interests were almost as valuable as the whole of her agricultural, mining, fishing, dairy and forestry outputs combined. This fact, he thought, was hardly realized by the mother country. Canada re- quired a competitive, not a prohibitive, tariff.

'TIS NOW THE U. S. COUNSEL QUESTION JURISDICTION

A bombshell was thrown into the Gaynor and Greene case this morning when Mr. Macmaster disputed Judge Ouimet's jurisdiction to decide the writ of habeas corpus taken out by the fugitives. Mr. Macmaster held that only the full court of King's Bench could decide this issue and that as the fugitives had not taken the proper proceedings within the prescribed fif- teen days nothing remained but to sur- render them to the United States courts.

Judge Ouimet seemed to be consid- erably impressed by Mr. Macmaster's arguments, which, however, were vigorously disputed by Mr. T. Chase Casgrain. As the latter admitted that this new position of affairs took him completely by surprise, Judge Ouimet adjourned the argument until next Tuesday morning.

SWEDEN ACCEPTS THE ANNULMENT

Delegates Will be Appointed to Confer With Norway on Condition.

KING OSCAR GREATLY MOVED

Defends Himself Before Special Riksdag Session Against Charge of Provoking the Steps Taken by Norway.

Stockholm, June 21.—The extraor- dinary session of the Riksdag sum- moned by King Oscar, met for business this morning.

King Oscar made a speech from the throne, in which he protested against the charge that by violation of the constitution he had provoked the steps taken by Norway. In the Council of State, which sanctioned the introduc- tion of the bill in the Riksdag dealing with the dissolution crisis, both the King and the premier were on the side of the pacific solution.

Premier Ramstedt spoke first, point- ing out that it was not to Sweden's interest to resort to coercive measures. He recommended, therefore, entering into negotiations for a convention by which guarantees should be obtained conducive to the mutual welfare of the two countries. In any case, he de- clared, negotiations were indispen- sable to definitely clear up the situa- tion. The premier suggested that delegates be appointed to this end, and it was only after such a conditional settlement, and after the Riksdag had fully considered the matter, that Swe- den would be in a position to decide as to her definite approval of the dis- solution and agree to annulling the act of union.

After several members had acqui- esced in the premier's views, King Oscar, with visible emotion, spoke as follows:—

"It is a painful step which the Coun- cil of State calls on me to take. My conscience tells me that I have during my long reign always striven toward the object I had in mind at the time of my accession, namely, the welfare of the brother peoples. It is truly painful to me to contribute to the dis- solution of a union in which I thought I saw the independence, security and happiness of the united kingdoms."

SLEEPER TO ST. ANDREWS.

The C.P.R. will, to-morrow inaugur- ate an extra sleeping car service be- tween Montreal and St. Andrews-by- the-Sea. This is to accommodate the increased numbers of persons bound for that resort from this city. For four days each week, the company will attach a special sleeping car to the Halifax ex- press leaving Montreal 7.25, the days being Tuesdays, Wednesday, Thursdays and Fridays, up to July 14, after which date it is intended to run a special sleeper twice a week, leaving Montreal Tuesdays and Fridays for the re- mainder of the season.

CZAR'S WORDS A JOY TO RUSSIA

Reception of Zemstvo Delegation Hailed as Dawn of New Epoch.

PRINCE TROUBETZKOY'S TALK

Was Exceedingly Outspoken and the Text is Now Published—Representative Assembly Must be Based on Popular Suffrage.

St. Petersburg, June 21, 12.40 p.m.—The impression produced by Emperor Nicholas' speech, Monday, at Peter- hof, to the delegation representing the all-Russian congress of Zemstvo- ists and mayors, which assembled at Moscow, is reflected in the joyful ac- claim with which it has been received by the Russian press. The question of peace, and the reports that another great battle has begun in Manchuria have become of secondary importance in the public mind before the great fact that the Emperor has again pledged himself to popular represen- tation. The Russ declares that the history of representative government in Russia dates from Whit-Monday.

The Novoe Vremya thinks that this renewed assurance direct from the throne "imposes the obligation on all classes of society which have the wel- fare of Russia at heart to unite for the suppression of the agitation which is shaking the foundations of the country."

Text of the Address.

The text of Prince Troubetskoy's address to the Emperor, when His Majesty received the delegation which the latter headed, is now published. It reveals the plain-spoken yet withal perfectly loyal fashion in which he spoke to the Emperor, telling him of the universal distrust which pervaded all classes attributable to the convic- tion that His Majesty was being de- ceived by those about him who were interested not in the realization but in the destruction of the proposed re- forms. Prince Troubetskoy rose above details. He said those whom he re- presented had not presumed to indicate the exact form of national represen- tation demanded, but one principle they regarded as vital, namely, that the representation should be based on universal citizenship, in which no class should be excluded.

"It must not be based upon estates," the Prince continued, "you are the Em- peror not of the land-owners, mer- chants or peasants, but of all Russia. The bureaucracy which has a place in every government must have a place in yours, but the national representa- tion must be independent of the bu- reaucracy, which must not be allowed to build a wall between you and the people. Your Majesty will realize that when you stand face to face with the people's delegates."

THE INNOCENTS ABROAD

Enlightened the Natives Concerning the Charms of Windsor.

FOLLOWING THE PROCESSION.

Or What To Do After You Have Been the Guest of Royalty.

(By C. Hearful Lyre.)

——— All was peace and joy and gladness. Gratification at their visit to Windsor oozed out of the delegates at every pore. Visible halos surrounded their corrugated brows, and walking on air was voted to be more fun than Sam Hughes' lectures.

From every section of the garden arose animated discourse, the higher notes of which ran something like this:

"Say, you ought to visit Windsor. Why, we were there to-day and——"

"Have you never been at Windsor? Why, that's too bad. We were there——"

"You know we were at Windsor to-day, and——"

"When we were at Windsor to-day——"

"Did you ever notice the geraniums and early sweet peas at Windsor? Why, when we were there——"

"Those family paintings at Windsor were immense. I couldn't help but admire them when we were there——"

"They certainly know how to serve up a meal at Windsor. When we——"

Of course, the natives had seen the symp- toms before and accommodatingly extracted impressions from the willing delegates.

My unusual acumen had previously made it patent to me that here was a tide of re- miniscences that I could not stem, so I slid into a quiet nook and digested a chap- ter of Ald. Ames' excellent treatise, "Crack- ers and Cheese, or How to Engineer a Cam- paign in St. Antoine Division."

A sudden silence sent swift shivers down my spine and I leaped into the open to find that——

TWO TRAINMEN DEAD IN MANITOBA WRECK

Transcontinental Ran Into Stock Train—No Passengers Were Hurt.

Winnipeg, June 21.—The westbound Transcontinental train on the Canadian Pacific Railway yesterday at 5 p.m., collided head-on with an eastbound stock train at Kalmar, a small station on the main line, about 110 miles east of Winnipeg, and twenty-four miles west of Kenora. Both trains were running almost at full speed. Engineer John Perry, of Winnipeg, and Express Messenger L. F. Stacey, of Winnipeg, were killed, and three others are injured. Many head of cattle were slaughtered in the crash.

It is said that the accident was caused by an error in the copying of a train order, which instead of giving the stock train the right of way over all trains on the line except passenger trains, was written so as to give complete right of way.

The stock train was loaded with export cattle from Gordon, Ironside & Fare's abattoir, bound for Montreal. It left Winnipeg in charge of Conductor Nicholas Quillette, of Winnipeg.

Transcontinental passenger train No. 97, which left Montreal on Sunday, was in charge of Conductor William Fong, of Winnipeg, and Engineer John Perry.

The injured are Engineer Sam Bird, of the stock train, slightly hurt; Mail Clerk Byron, A. Person, of Winnipeg, slightly injured; Fireman Bertram Watt, severely injured.

The two engines are badly damaged, as are also the mail and baggage cars, which were on the Transcontinental. One car of stock was derailed, and three others were badly damaged, being thrown from their trucks. The loss from destruction of cattle will be heavy. The killed and injured, with the exception of Engineer Sam Bird, who lives at Kenora, were residents of Winnipeg. John Perry, the dead engineer, had been in the service of the Canadian Pacific for twenty-two years, during fifteen of which he had been in charge of an engine. Express Messenger Stacey, who also was killed, lived at 225 Gary Street, Winnipeg.

Extra Sleeping Car Service on the C. P. R. Between This City and St. Andrews.

The C.P.R. has arranged an extra sleeping car service between Montreal and St. Andrews-by-the-Sea. This is to accommodate the increased numbers of persons bound for the resort from this city. The popularity of St. Andrews has grown to such an extent, the company states, that it finds it necessary to offer extra sleeping car service. For four days each week, the company will attach a special sleeping car to the Halifax express, leaving Montral at 7.25, the days being Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, up to July 14, after which date it is intended to run a special sleeper twice a week leaving Montreal Tuesdays and Fridays for the remainder of the season.

ELZEAR MANN WILL SOON BE LIBERATED

Elzear Mann, the longshoreman who was condemned in 1898 for the killing of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Desjardins, has been pardoned, and will, it is understood, be liberated in a few days.

Evidence at the trial showed that on returning home on the night of June 11, 1898, accused, who had been drinking, threatened his wife with a revolver, and that as he pulled the trigger the mother-in-law stepped forward and received the bullet. A second shot took effect on his wife, but the bullet was subsequently extracted.

Mann, who was then twenty-seven years of age, was found guilty of murder and sentenced to death by Judge Wurtele on Nov. 4, 1898, this, however, being commuted to imprisonment for life.

V. V. AND E. BILL STILL IN COMMITTEE.

Ottawa, June 21.—Clause three of the V. V. & E. (J. J. Hill) railway bill was still under consideration when the Commons Railway Committee adjourned to Thursday. It authorizes the company, for the purpose of avoiding difficulties in construction, to make connections with railways in the State of Washington. Mr. Fitzpatrick intimated that this was objectionable. Mr. Ross, of Yale-Cariboo, protested against a policy of Chinese exclusiveness being applied to British Columbia. Mr. Drinkwater, of the C.P.R., was heard. The C.P.R., which has a line in the same district, from Robson to Midway, with power to extend to Princeton, was forbidden to build within a hundred yards of the international frontier, and had in consequence to spend a much larger amount on construction than would have been the case had it had power to cross the boundary. It had spent $6,000,000 on the road, on which it had received no return in interest.

ART IN THE DRUG STORES.

Some attention is being attracted lately to a series of etchings in the leading drug stores. Close examination shows that they were issued by the Abbey Effervescent Salt Company. These etchings are little gems in nature studies, and are practical demonstrations of art in advertising. They are by two famous American artists, Randall and King, and are quite worthy of a place in one's library or den. The Abbey Salt Company are to be commended for sending out advertisements so artistic. They are far above the usual store hanger, and merit a prominent place in every first-class pharmacy.

ALBERTA CONSTITUENCIES GAVE THE HOUSE A BUSY EVENING

And Question of Their Delimitation is Still Unsettled—Reasons Why Voting Power of North is Greater Than That of South.

(Special Staff Correspondence.)

Ottawa, June 21.—The creation of provinces is a big and awkward job. That is becoming more evident every time an autonomy bill comes up. Yesterday a new aspect of trouble appeared in the House. The men from the part of Canada where the two new provinces are going to be some day, cannot agree how they should be divided up into local ridings. The Government divided the country up. The Opposition objected to the manner in which it had been done. Mr. Bennet, a Conservative who comes from Calgary which wants to be the capital of Alberta, asked to have the distribution made by three Supreme Court judges of the Territories. The Government thinks that it has done a pretty good stroke of distributing and does not propose to leave the job to judges. The House did not get through talking about the proposals at midnight. Hence there will be more of it to-day.

The Alberta Autonomy Bill was taken up in committee of the whole. Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved the adoption of a set of schedules defining the boundaries of the Provincial constituencies. On these schedules the first provincial Legislature will be elected.

Mr. George E. Foster was leading the Opposition. He asked for a statement of the principles on which the Government had made the distribution. Mr. W. F. Maclean asked if there was no truth in the report the redistribution was to be left to a commission of judges.

The Prime Minister said the only foundation for the rumor was the doubtful one of it having appeared in Mr. Maclean's paper. The Leader of the Opposition had suggested such a commission. The House had better make up its mind independently on the suggestion. Sir Wilfrid thought little improvement could be made in the schedules. They had been prepared with great care.

Mr. Foster asked for details regarding the preparation.

Sir Wilfrid stated the Government had been guided by the existing state of things in preparing the schedules. The Territories had a Legislature of thirty-five. Of these twenty were in what would hereafter be the province of Saskatchewan and fifteen in what would be Alberta. The Territorial Legislature would be replaced by the two provincial assemblies, each of which would have twenty-five members.

In defining the ridings the Government had to consider population, geography and convenience of voters.

It was impossible to frame constituencies on area, where an effort had been made to fix some unit of representation. Athabasca was so large and so sparsely settled that it had been decided inadvisable to apply the unit of representation to it.

Mr. Maclean interrupted with his personal opinion that political considerations had influenced the Government in defining the districts.

"The only political consideration that influenced us was justice and fair play," answered Sir Wilfrid.

The Prime Minister gave the following figures of registration, voting and census population of the various constituencies of Alberta:

ALLEGED GRIEVANCE OF SOUTH ALBERTA.

Mr. M. S. McArthur, of Calgary, a Conservative, moved an amendment that the schedules be not adopted but that the preparation of schedules for the constituencies should be done by a commission of judges. The arrangement of constituencies the Government had made discriminated against the southern portion of Alberta. He gave township line 38 as the dividing line between the north and the south. The Government proposed to place too many constituencies north of this line and too few representatives from the South. Under the schedules offered by the Prime Minister the northern portion of the province would have thirteen representatives and the southern portion twelve representatives. He quoted post office, banking and customs returns to show there was more wealth and consequently more people in the south than the north. He thought a fair division would be to give the south fifteen and the north ten representatives. He moved that the redistribution be referred to a commission of three Supreme Court judges of the Territories.

Hon. Mr. Oliver told Mr. McCarthy that he had arrived at the conclusions he had given the House by taking everything that suited him and eliminating verything that did not. The south of Alberta was a ranching country where the rural population would always be sparse and the urban population comparatively large. Such country would always be less represented than a country with a well distributed agricultural population. The unit of population in a city was always larger than in the cities. Toronto and Montreal were Canadian evidences of this. The schedules had been well prepared. He saw no reason to agree with Mr. McCarthy that the greater number of representatives should go to the south.

Mr. H. B. Ames supported the demand for a distribution commission. He quoted various states of the Union Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa in support of the creation of constituencies by judges. Mr. Ames went into detailed calculations to show that the southern portion of Alberta was not getting all its population entitled it to.

He had been in failing health a year past. An upright, honorable man of kindly disposition, he leaves a large circle of friends, and is survived by a wife, two sons, Edward Winslow, Bank of Montreal, Stratford, Ont., Warren Winslow, barrister, of Chatham, and four daughters. CAUSE OF SUBMARINE DISASTER.

London, June 21.—Capt. R. H. S. Bacon, R.N., chief of the submarine flotilla, testified regarding the recent sinking of the submarine boat A-8. He said he found one rivet out of the foremost petrol tank of the boat, leaving a hole sufficient for a ton of water to enter her in ten minutes. This accounted for the fact that while steaming the submarine boat was gradually going down by the nose. An explosion occurred an hour and forty minutes after the boat sank. The burns on the bodies of the crew were ante-mortem, showing that the victims were still living at the time of the explosion, but they must have been insensible for a considerable time.

WINDOW WEDDING DECLARED ILLEGAL

Chief Campeau Forbids it as it Would Block Street Traffic.

Mr. C. A. Workman, in whose store window it had been arranged to hold a wedding, this afternoon has been notified that if the ceremony is held in the manner proposed he will be liable to arrest.

Chief Campeau said yesterday that he had received many complaints in reference to the proposed event, and in view of the fact that a window wedding in the same store last summer had blocked the corner of McGill and Notre Dame streets, he had notified Mr. Workman that the interesting event would have to be held in the store this year.

The objection is not against the wedding itself, but against the blocking of the streets consequent upon the public desire to witness the novelty.

By-law No. 42 says that no one shall employ any device, noise or performance, tending to the collection of persons on the sidewalks or other public places or to the obstruction of the same, without permission of the mayor in writing. The mayor has refused all permission of Mr. Workman to block the streets to a dangerous extent.

In reference to the wedding, Mr. Workman says: "The ceremony will be performed in the morning, as soon as the store opens, and Miss Elvira Workman, the bride, will be unattended. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dr. Symonds, and will be witnessed by only a few friends. He admitted that a number of people had been around his store, but he thought the event would surely come off as the parties desired."

FEED YOUNG GIRLS.

Must Have Right Food While Growing.

Great care should be taken at the critical period when the young girl is just merging into womanhood that the diet shall contain all that is upbuilding, and nothing harmful.

At that age the structure is being formed and if formed of a healthy, sturdy character, health and happiness will follow; on the other hand unhealthy cells may be built in and a sick condition slowly supervene which, if not checked, may ripen into a chronic disease and cause life-long suffering.

A young lady says:

"Coffee began to have such an effect on my stomach a few years ago that I was compelled to quit using it. It brought on headaches, pains in my muscles, and nervousness.

"I tried to use tea in its stead, but found its effects even worse than those I suffered from coffee. Then for a long time I drank milk alone at my meals, but it never helped me physically, and at last it palled on me. A friend came to the rescue with the suggestion that I try Postum Coffee.

"I did so, only to find at first that I didn't fancy it. But I had heard of so many persons who had been benefited by its use that I persevered, and when I had it brewed right found it grateful in flavor and soothing and strengthening to my stomach. I can find no words to express my feeling of what I owe to Postum Food Coffee!

"In every respect it has worked a wonderful improvement—the headaches nervousness, the pains in my side and back, all the distressing symptoms yielded to the magic power of Postum. My brain seems also to share in the betterment of my physical condition; it seems keener, more alert and brighter. I am, in short, in better health now than I ever was before, and I am sure I owe it to the use of your Postum Food Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

The Christian Brothers who have charge of the Chauveau and St. Charles schools are plunged in grief over the loss of their head, and no public exercises will be held. There are about 700 English boys in attendance at the Chauveau school, and many prizes of assiduity and excellence will be given. Rev. Father Fahey, vicar of the parish, has given some valuable prizes in books, amounting to over $50 in value.

PERSONNEL OF ENGLISH CRICKET XI. ANNOUNCED

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 21.—The team of cricketers visiting Canada in July under the captaincy of E. W. Mann, will consist of T. W. Payne, H. C. McDonell, C. H. Eyre, F. J. V. Hopley, G. G. Napier, R. T. Godsell, R. C. Wilburn, H. J. Oyd, K. O. Hunter, F. A. Higley, V. A. S. Stow. The first six are from Cambridge, the others from Oxford.

In the Practice Court yesterday City Attorney Ethier submitted the following list of names suggested by the city as new commissioners for the Amherst Street expropriation: Messrs. T. Charpentier, H. Lapierre, Arthur Globensky, K.C., P. Lamalice, F. Mercier, O. Munday, J. Lamarche, and Jos. Thibeault.

THE CIRCUS BICYCLISTS.

The Great Sells & Downs Show which will exhibit here soon, has more high-salaried performers than any other similar show. Among the topliners may be found the Martell family bicycle experts. The Martell family comprises five people, from the father down to the little five-year-old curly-headed lass. Although they have been before the public for several years, the famous Martel family still remain the popular aristocrats in the realm of the arena, and the public seems never to tire of watching their performance. The work of the Martell family borders upon the marvellous; in fact, some of the attainments are of such complex difficulties that their best tricks frequently pass with but little more notice from the public than their simpler displays, because the audience can follow its intricate and perplexing paradox.

The genius and dexterity of the Martells frequently brings forth loud spontaneous applause from their fellow performers, who, like the public, never grow weary of their admirable acts.

The Great Sells & Downs Shows is noted for its fine and brilliant costumes, but there is not better dressed act or more pleasing and attractive performance for the feminine portion of the circus patrons than that of the Martell family. This family of artists are the undisputed champions of fancy trick bicyclists of the world, and theirs is one of the most fascinating circus acts of the age.

Second to none, the Sells & Downs Show is sure to pack its big tents in Montreal for two days, Friday, June 30 and Saturday, July 1st. The tents will be pitched on Fletcher's Field.

Coroner McMahon went to Rigaud terday to hold an inquest on the

. The body was identified as that George Senecal, of St. Andre, in genteuil County, who disappeared ile on a hunting expedition near aud last October. Doctors Mon-it and Bastien, of Rigaud, who had de an autopsy, testified that the y was very much decomposed, but t they had found a small aperture the breast above the heart, also an rture through the heart. These nings might have been made by a let, though none had been dis-ered. Strange to say there is no e in the man's sweater correspond-to the hole in the body. The docs are of the opinion that death was sed by a bullet. In order to per-of further investigation, the oner decided to postpone the inquest il Wednesday next. The body is at sent at the morgue, and Dr. Mc-ggart will make a further examinan this afternoon.

rks was marked by the admission of ter to the forebay yesterday. The

WOMAN DROWNED IN SWIMMING TANK AT BATH HOTEL

Miss Marie Pare, a waitress at the Turkish Baths Hotel, was drowned in a swimming bath at thi hotee this morning. The unfortunate girl had only been empolyed at the hotel for a week past. She said she could swim, and was given permission to use the plunge bath this morning. It is not known exactly when she went down, but at 12.30 attendants found her clothes hanging in the bath chamber, but the girl was nowhere to be seen. It was at once feared that she had been drowned and the attendant after diving repeatedly discovered her body at the bottom of the tank. Two doctors were at once called in, and worked over the girl for nearly an hour, without avail, and the corpse was taken to the morgue, where an inquest will be held.

The girl's fellow employes supposed she had gone upstairs and so did not for some time worry about her. She had a brother and sister in the city, the latter of whom works at Stillwell's, also as a waitress. She came from St. Vincent de Paul about a week ago, and efforts are being made to locate her relatives there.

BRIDEGROOM CALLED FOR CLOTHES, THEN DISAPPEARED

Berlin, Ont., Awaited a Wedding Ceremony Yesterday That Failed to Materialize.

Toronto, June 21.—(Special.)—The World's special from Berlin, Ont., says: "At eight o'clock yesterday morning, Miss Mary Ueberschlag, of Berlin, was to have become the bride of Edward Hohner, a Waterloo young man; but there was no wedding, for the bridegroom failed to put in an appearance, and an all-day search failed to locate him. Bride and bridesmaid were ready at the appointed time, likewise the best man, who last saw Hohner the previous evening. Hohner's tailor, however, reports that he called for his wedding suit at 6.30 yesterday morning."

NEW SCHEME ROBS BANKS OF A MILLION DOLLARS

B. H. Gaskill's Raising of Stock Certificates Was Not Discovered Until After His Death.

Philadelphia, June 21.—One of the most sensational cases of forgery ever brought to light in professional circles was disclosed yesterday, when it was announced that certificates calling for small numbers of shares of stock had been fraudulently raised to hundreds of shares, causing a loss to certain banks and trust companies here of from $750,000 to $1,000,000. The forgery involves the name of Benjamin H. Gaskill, who died four weeks ago.

Gaskill had crdeited himself in his own books with 6,000 shares of Philadelphia Traction stock, valued approximately at $600,000, while the company's books showed that he had only 400 shares. He had raised stock certificates of the United Railways of New Jersey from two to 200, and the certificates of the Frankford and Southwark Street Railway Co., of this city, worth $450 a share, from two to 20. Gaskill kept two accounts, one recording the transactions of his customers, which was correct, and another giving his own transactions. His books showed that he was losing from $15,000 to $25,000 a year. His method was to obtain certificates of gilt-edged securities callling for one, two, three, or some other small number of shares, raise the figures, and give them as securities for large loans. A financier said last night that the amount loaned on the raised certificates will aggregate between $750,000 and $1,000,000. Probably little will be recovered from the estate.

MEDICINE HAT'S MAYOR STRONG FOR SCHOOL CLAUSES

This Celebrated Deputation Certainly Did Not Come to Discuss the Autonomy Bills at Ottawa.

Ottawa, June 21.—Mayor Forster and ex-Mayor Thomas Hutchison, of Medicine Hat, have arrived in the Capital, deputed by the local City Council to interview the Government on the question of the location of the headquarters of the Strathcona Horse, and other matters affecting the interests of that city. Mayor Forster is editor and manager of the Medicine Hat News.

"We did not come," he said, "to discuss the Autonomy Bill in any phase. We are the deputation whose coming was so loudly proclaimed in the London campaign. I would prefer not to speak about it for that reason. I may say that the people are quite satisfied with the educational system as it has been in the Northwest Territories, and we accept the clause as perpetuating the system which has worked satisfactorily. We have, we believe, had the best school system in Canada. Western men are broad and liberal in their views. The country welcomes every creed and every nationality, for in a few years everyone becomes a good Canadian, with a pride in the present and an assurance in the great future of the new provinces."

LATE CITY HAPPENINSG

The case of M. Robideau, of Verdon, charging the Harbor Commissioners with breach of the Alien Labor Law was called in the Recorders' Court yesterday and adjourned till tomorrow.

Pierre Tremblay, twenty-eight years of age, was killed yesterday in the Longue Pointe Locomotive works from being struck on the head by a travelling crane. An inquest was held this morning.

Albert Tetreault, thirty-nine years of age, arrested on a charge of stealing carpenters' tools, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Lafontaine and was remanded for sentence. Tetreault is an expert carpenter, but is said to be addicted to drink.

One of the big Worthington pumps at Point St. Charles, broke down Sunday night, owing to pressure of water on the suction chamber while the pump was stopped. A spare pump is working, giving the city a supply of 32,000,000 gallons a day.

By a fire which declared itself last night at 11.45 o'clock, the new three storey brick building at the corner of St. Antoie Street and St. David Lane, was damaged. The building is occupied by the Gorham Company, Limited, the New York Silk Waist Company and Boas, Felson & Co. The former company sustained the heaviest loss.

Personal Mention

Mr. James Ross, leaves this week for the Restigouche.

Mr. Charles Alexander will leave for England next week.

Hon. R. Prefontaine will start on a visit to England at the close of the Parliamentary session.

Mr. Robert Irwin who has been connected with business life in Montreal practically since boyhood is about to retire, and it is understood will spend the remainder of his days in the West. He has been president of the Mechanics Institute and superintendet of the Dominion Square Church Sulday School.

DEATH OF IRISH M.P. ONCE SENTENCED TO HANGING.

Mr. J. F. X. OBrien, M.P. for Cork City, died on May 29 at his London residence, Gauden-road, Clapham.

He was at the House of Commons the previous evening, when he became so ill that he had to go home. He was suffering from pleurisy, but no immediate danger was feared. Heart failure supervened, and he died in the presence of his wife and two daughters.

Mr. O'Brien was seventy-four years of age, and had a remarkable career.

In 1867, during the days of the great Fenian movement, he was tried for high treason, and sentenced to be hanged, drawn, and quartered.

He led an armed party which attacked a police barracks. The buildings were set on fire, and the inmates, men, women, and children, were in imminent danger. Mr. O'Brien, at great personal risk, went to their assistance.

For this brave act he received great praise from the judge, who, however, passed the death sentence upon him.

The sentence was commuted to penal servitude for life.

It was as a convict that he made his first acquaintance with London, in company with O'Donovan Rossa, Mr. James O'Connor, and other political prisoners.

They were imprisoned in the old Millbank gaol, not far from the House of Commons, of which Mr. O'Brien subsequently became a highly respected member. After serving some years in prison he was amnestied.

Later he was returned as parliamentary representative for South Mayo, and since 1895 he has sat for Cork City.

For a long time he was treasurer of the Irish Parliament party, and in the days of the split was an anti-Parnellite. He also devoted much energy to the organization of the United Irish League.

CLOCK TO RUN 30,000 YEARS.

Hon. H. G. Strutt, of England, has invented what is the closest approach to perpetual motion yet devised. It is a clock that will run for 30,000 years unless the wear of some of its parts destroys it before that time. One-twelfth of a grain of radium is hung over a small electroscope, made of two thin strips of silver. These, charged with electricity emanating from the radium, move apart, touch the sides of the vacuum tube in which they are fixed, transfer their charge to an aluminum wire (thus ringing a bell), are discharged, fall together again, and then apart again, and so on for the 30,000 years or so already mentioned.

THE FORCE EXPENDED IN THINKING.

Dr. Paul Soilier, expert psychologist, told his brethren at their annual meeting in Paris that to think for a whole week is to expend just about as much energy as would lift 8,000 pounds to the height of the Eiffel Tower.

KILTIES BAND HAS A CANADIAN RING

It is a Very Fine Musical Body With Any Amount of "Go."

The Kilties' Band, which played at Windsor Hall Monday night and last night, has been representing the musical achievement of Canada before the public of Great Britain for some months. It was almost with a shock of relief that one realized on hearing them how well that representing must have been done. For the Kilties are, in the strictest musical sense, an extraordinarily good band.

And their excellences are, as it happens, typical enough of the Dominion they represent. Intense vigor and vitality, an edge and a keenness that suggest not the over-refined rapier, but the solid, powerful, muscle-wielded broadsword—a certain primitiveness of young blood, a fierce elemental joy of martial rhythm—such is their virtue. And it is the prime and characteristic virtue of all band music, and supremely appropriate to the band music of a young and aspiring nation like ourselves. If there were a great Canadian patriotic song, the Kilties would be the men to play it. They did the best that was possible with "The Maple Leaf." They are not long on nuances, and they would not have the faintest insight into the introspection of a Tschaikowski or the morbid sensitiveness of a Debussy. Why should a band know anything about introspection? But they have a fine tone, a number of very clever soloists, and the essential Canadian quality hinted at above, and no musician has a right to scorn such things as these.

The band possesses a fine-looking piper (we respectfully decline to pronounce upon the musical quality of his piping), and a quartette of dancers who may not be traditional but are effective. There are several brilliantly good solo instruments, of whom, however, Mr. Leick, the cornetist, is the only one named.

REALTY MARKET CONTINUES ACTIVE

Renting Problem Not Settled—Lots of Houses For Sale.

The Real Estate Record for May, which has just been issued, says the real estate transactions for May covered a large area and compared favorable with the corresponding period of previous years. The largest sales were in the St. Joseph, St. George and St. Andrew wards, while the most numerous were in St. Denis ward, where a number of small properties and cheap building lots changed hands. St. Catherine Street and its vicinity still continue to attract the attention of intending purchasers either for investment or for actual use, and this is not confined to any particular section, the enquiry extending both east and west. Prices in some cases seem to be high, but these will adjust themselves on the basis of earning capacity, w ch after all is the criterion of value from an investor's point of view.

Building operations continue to be active, but not sufficiently so to create a surplus of dwelling houses, and as a large proportion of the work is built to sell and not to let, the renting problem is still unsettled. The most likely solution in many cases is to buy a vacant lot and build on it. Taking into account the excellent electric car service, the choice building lots for sale within easy reach of business centres, and the favorable conditions of the mortgage loan market, the question, "Why pay rent?" usually propounded by the real estate agent is not so easy to answer.

Two hundred and seventy-five building permits were issued in May and the stated aggregate cost of the work is $1,062,348. This includes 181 permits for new buildings, consisting of 156 houses, 257 tenements, 4 stores, 6 factories, 1 educational building, 1 warehouse, 1 apartment house, 25 sheds and 3 stables, to cost in all $963,662. There were 94 permits for alterations or repairs to 86 houses, 124 tenements, 23 stores, 1 factory, 1 educational building, 1 warehouse, 2 churches, 5 sheds and 2 stables, to cost in all $96,686.

The sales recorded during the month of May in the undermentioned suburban municipalities amount to $294,209, and are as follows:—Maisonneuve, $35,855; Delorimier, $22,229; Town of St. Louis, $124,630; Petite Cote, $32; Outremont, $6,200; Cote des Neiges, $10,859; Notre Dame de Grace, $200; Montreal West, $150; Verdun, $11,028; Cote St. Paul, $6,313; St. Henri, $64,173; Ste. Cunegonde, $12,250.

There were 262 real estate transfers in the city wards and towns of Westmount recorded at the registry offices during the month of May, amounting to $1,437,512.

GREAT REVIVAL OF BUDDHISM.

"Der Buddhist," the German organ of Buddhism, gives an interesting account of the revival of this ancient religion. The study of the Pali, it says, has revealed to educated men in the Western world the hidden stores of Buddhism, which soon began to exert a constantly growing influence on Western thought, having found the ground prepared by the philosophy of Schopenhauer. This revivication of Buddhist ideas reacted powerfully on the Orient, and newly founded societies, schools and newspapers in Buddhist Asia are proving that fresh vigor has found its way into the old tree. The revival is especially noticeable in Ceylon and India.

The Novelist of Democracy.

At the first meeting of the Dickens Fellowship in this city, Dr. H. W. Leipziger, who has charge of the Lecture Bureau of the Board of Education, said the board kept five lecturers in the field telling of Dickens and his works, and in whatever part of the city they spoke they were always sure of large and appreciative audiences. He said that when he was in charge of the great library on the east side, which is now a branch of the New York Public Library, more of Dickens' works were called for than those of any other writer, and this was the more remarkable because the district in which the books were circulated was populated almost entirely by immigrants, the greater number of them being Jews from Russia.

Dr. Leipziger explained this universality of the Dickens cult by saying that Dickens was the novelist of Democracy; he explained its ideals; he wrote of the problems with which the common people were familiar; his heroes and heroines were the real ones of every-day life, and there was no heart that could not be touched by his pathos, as an illustration of which he quoted Bret Harte's account of the reading of Dickens in a Western mining camp. Dickens, he said, appealed to the best that was in a man and was essentially a writer who did his readers good.—New York World.

QUINN MURDER STILL A MYSTERY

The Police Give Up the Idea of Tramps Having Committed Crime.

Up till now nothing has turned up that is likely to elucidate the Mile End murder mystery, but Chief McCaskill, of the Provincial Detective Force, and Chief Constable Clermont, of St. Louis, are still as busy as may be on the search for clues.

In the course of yesterday half a dozen tramps were taken into custody at St. Scholastique, St. Jerome and Sweetsburg, but so far these have not in any way been incriminated in the tragedy of Sunday morning, and this morning Chief McCaskill ordered their release as suspects, although meantime they may be held on some local charge under the vagrancy act.

What the next move is, the authorities are, of course, not willing to tell, but there is much activity observable in the movements of Mr. McCaskill and Mr. Clermont.

It is rather a remarkable circumstance that while the search has been in progress for the missing man with whom the man Crossin said he had spent Saturday night, that individual was all the time in the cells on a charge of drunkenness. This man, whose name is Paddy Morgan explains that along with other workers from Sault aux Recollet, he missed the last car for home, and that on the way he got adrift from his companions. Wakening up in the early morning, he tells, he went to the camp, but feeling thirstier as the day wore on, returned to Montreal for "a hair of the dog that bit him." Arrest followed.

Crossin is, of course, still under remand on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, preferred against him Monday.

There is a growing opinion in unofficial circles that it is useless looking among the tramp class for the perpetrator of the foul deed of Sunday morning. Miss Quinn's house was not in the way of an ordinary tramp, and for men in search of plunder there are more likely looking dwellings at hand.

CORINTHIAN'S PASSENGERS.

The list of first cabin passengers per Allan line SS. Corinthian, Capt. Thos. Pickering, which sailed for Glasgow, is as follows:—Mrs. Herbert Bell, Philadelphia; Mrs. Binning, Mrs. Cowper, Miss Mary Cowper, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cross, Mr. Harry Cross, Mr. Walter Dilworth, Chicago; Miss Dyson, Montreal; Mrs. Gamble, Miss Josephine Gamble, Prof. G. W. E. Hill, Mrs. Hill Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Ivey, Toronto; Mrs. Johnson, Mr. Wayne Quiggle, Miss Caroline Reilly, Miss Clare Semans, Chicago; Mr. George Sauter, Montreal; Miss B. Sweetman, Chicago.

AN ARTIFICIAL FACE.

An old soldier of 1870 has been going about Paris for thirty years with no features, eyes, cheeks, lips and nose, having suffered severely by the explosion of a shell. Modern science has restored his face. A mask was made, part of silver, part of wax, neatly tinted, two eyes in enamel, an excellent nose and serviceable lips in rubber.

C.P.R. OFFICE AT ST. ANDREWS.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Telegraph Co. yesterday opened their office in the Algonquin Hotel, St. Andrews-by-the-Sea for the season.

Your Tongue is Coated!

Look inside your Watch Cover and See!

THAT'S bad business, Bill! What you been Eating? What were you Drinking? What kind of Lazy Chair did you take Exercise in? Now don't think it "doesn't matter!" Because, it's your Bowels that talk now, every time you open your Mouth. That does'nt help your Popularity, nor your Earning capacity.

Besides, a man with bad Bowels is in a bad way.

And, a Coated Tongue, or a Bad Breath, are sure signs of bad Bowels and poor Digestion.

Go and take a Ten Mile Walk, for Exercise!

'Finest thing in the world for Constipation, Indigestion, or Dyspepsia,—Ten Mile Walks.

Haven't time? Too Lazy?

Well,—there is another Way.

Take Artificial Exercise for your Bowels.

That's —CASCARETS.

They rouse the Bowel Muscles, just as a Cold Bath freshens Athletic Muscles.

'Wakens them up, Strengthens them so they Contract and Expand the Bowels and Intestines in a healthy active manner.

That's how these Muscles work the Food along, through your thirty feet of Intestines, to its Finish.

That's how they squeeze Gastric Juice into the food, to Digest it.

That's how they make the millions of little Suckers in the Intestines draw the Nutrition out of Food, and transform it into Blood, Brawn, Brain and Bone.

Cascarets act like Exercise,—harmless, pleasant, simple, convenient, but sure as Shooting.

The thin little Ten Cent Box, carried in your Vest Pocket constantly, is sure protection against the results of—

—Late Suppers —Slow Walking
—Cheerful Boozing —Easy Chair Athletics
—Rapid Eating —And Lazy Liver.

Cascarets are Warranted to Cure Constipation, Indigestion, or, your money back.

Ten Cents, at all Druggists.

You can try Cascarets FREE before you buy, Write for Free Sample and booklet, "The Curse of Constipation," best ever printed on the subject. Address Sterling Remedy Company, 374 St.Paul St., Montreal. 660

"About a month ago I was taken verybadly with inflammation of the bladder and complete stoppage of water. I was entirely unable to pass even a drop of urine, and then with intense pain. I had two doctors attending me, but they did no good, and gave me no relief at all. I then tried Smith's Buchu Lithia Pills, and they acted on me like a charm. They gave me instant relief and cured me completely. They are surely a wonderful remedy."

The policy of the Admiralty in casting ships from the Navy has been revised.
Under the original scheme eleven battle-ships, ten armoured cruisers, forty-three smaller cruisers, and a number of gun-boats and sloops were discarded from the service. They cost nearly £18,000,000 to build.

In Command of the 3rd "Montreal Field Battery," Which Went Into Camp Yesterday.

It has now been decided that many of these ships can be rearmed and modernized to an extent which will make them equal to certain ships which still appear in the active list of foreign powers.
Inquiries are being made by the Admiralty at the dockyards as to the cost of refitting a number of these ships, and the official decision as to the vessels to be retained will depend upon the result of these inquiries.
None of them will be included in the line of battle, but they will be used for auxiliary service in home waters.
The cruisers Mercury, Amphion, Brisk, and Calliope of Samson fame are among the ships which are likely to be retained.
The new battleship Dominion has been delivered by the builders at Portsmouth. She will soon be commissioned for service with the Channel Fleet, together with the Commonwealth and both the new battleships will be furnished with a service of plate or other gift by Australian and Canadian subscriptions.

CAVALRYMEN OWN LAPRAIRIE COMMON

The Canvas Village Across the River is a Very Interesting.

Laprairie Camp, June 21.—(Special Staff Correspondence.)—This is quite a happy canvas city by the river side. Hard work and hard weather cannot break the spirits of the inhabitants, and they have had lots of both in the last couple of days. From the river everything looks neat and clean, and with yesterday's bright sunshine, the camp is cleaning up quite a bit. But on Monday night things were not altogether pleasant. The heavy rains had besodden the ground, and tent-pitching in some cases, particularly to the west and south of the camp, near the quarters of the camp. Commandant Colonel Whitely and of the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons was no easy matter. Certain squadrons indeed of this regiment had to be removed from their allotted ground to a position nearer the river to get out of lying water.
The camp is laid out, horse lines and all, just exactly as it was last year, beginning with the 6th Hussars on the east passing along to the west by the lines of the 7th and 11th Hussars and 13th Scottish Light Dragoons, with the khakl tents of the A. M. C. and the lines and tents of the A. S. C. and Artillery to the southwest near the river.

LT.-COL. WHITLEY,
Commandant of the Laprairie Camp.

Colonel Whitley is very well pleased with the turn out of men and their general appearance. The camp is a record one for cavalry in point of numbers, about 1,800 men being under canvas. Every regiment is beyond strength, with figures largely in excess of last year.
The only thing the camp has suffered from so far is the wet weather, but yesterday's good weather had done much in bettering conditions. The hospital has so far almost a clean sheet. No accidents of a serious nature have been reported, and there has been only one case of sickness—a case of German measles in the 13th Scottish, and the sufferer has been ordered home.

THE FIRST OF THE DRILL.

Yesterday's drill was of the most elementary nature, and consisted of squad drill on foot, saddle movements, and mounting and dismounting movements. On the 25th and 26th General Lake, the chief of the general staff, will inspect the camp, and at five o'clock one of these days not yet specified a conference of all the field officers will discuss questions of efficiency.
Colonel Whitley and the commanding officers of the several regiments report very favorably on the syllabus of work to be carried out, and expect very favorable results on the occasion of review.
A horse board has been appointed for the brigade to look into the matter of injuries to horses on behalf of the government. The board consists of the following officers: Captain Williams, of the 7th Hussars; Veterinary Captain Cleveland, of the 11th Hussars, and Lieutenant Gordon, of the 13th Scottish.
The commandant department got early to work, and the officers report very favorably as to its efficiency. Artesian wells supply drinking water to the camp but the water supplied is hardly so good as had been expected.
There is a social side to the camp, and it is really of great importance, since officers and men look upon the camp as a sort of holiday in so far as it is an agreeable change from their everyday business.

A LONG BUSY DAY.

The camp day is a long one. The clear call of the bugle wakens the men at 5.30 a.m., and the lights on does not arrive until 10.15. The time is well filled in. The cavalryman's first duty is to attend to his stead. While one-half the men are left in camp to attend to the stabling accommodation, the others, each man leading two horses, taking the beasts to water. Furling the tent walls and rolling blankets, etc., occupy the time until breakfast, after which the men get ready for parade.
When the day's exercises are over and the horses picketed in double line, with a plentiful supply of fodder, comes the time for supper and leisure. And how the time can be put in—so long as it is clear all sorts of sports are indulged in—baseball, boxing, wrestling, and strenuous exercise—and when it becomes dark the cheery anecdote and jovial reminiscence fill in the time until lights out.

Y.M.C.A. AND W.C.T.U.

Tents from the Y.M.C.A. and W.C.T.U. are situated on the ground—the former the largest tent in the camp, and much appreciated by the men. Here they can have reading and singing, and can be supplied with the essentials of correspondence, stationery, etc.
Certain of the regiments are arranging programmes for athletic sports, and these will be enthusiastically taken part in, as the men looking after affairs are keenly interested not only in sport but in the physical well-being of the men.
One can best get an idea of the magnitude of this camp and its almost perfect organization by watching the horses being taken to the river in the morning. The whole of the large campus in front of the tents about three-quarters of a mile square seems literally alive with horses. There is no rushing or disorder—the long lines reach the river and return with automobile precision. The camp is a good and efficient one—officers and men are kindly and hospitable—and a visit would amply repay.

STREET RAILWAY COMPETITION.

Montreal has not had the best of luck with its experiment in street railway competition. When it was proposed to bring the Terminal Railway into town, and even to construct a second system which should provide competition against the street railway at all points, The Herald ventured to warn the city fathers that all experience was against the probability of such a policy succeeding. Unfortunately public opinion at that time was in no mood to be discriminating. The Street Railway Company was giving anything but the kind of service it should give, and indignation was so general, especially in the East End, that the arguments in favor of competition were readily swallowed. The Herald sought to secure an arrangement whereby the cars of the Terminal Company could be treated as part of the existing system after passing the boundary, but the parties to such an arrangement could not be brought to agree upon terms. Moreover, the possibility of effective competition appealed to so close a student of municipal problems as Ald. Ames, who lent his influence to the support of the new proposals in consideration of the Terminal Company agreeing to what looked like specially favorable terms. Then followed a long drawn battle in Council, where partisans of the Street Railway Company succeeded in forcing upon the Terminal Company a set of most arduous conditions, and more arduous limitations, to all of which the Terminal Company assented, in the belief that having once secured an entry to the city they could look for extensions and concessions from time to time.

To what extent the show of competition was responsible for the betterment that almost immediately began in Street Railway management, it might be difficult to say. It probably had some effect. But it is perfectly obvious that if the city meant to provide real competition as a permanency, it was simply farcical to have the competing road end before it reached a point where there is any business to compete for. The terminus is at the Drill Hall, where there is no business, and the road runs thence through back streets to St. Jean Baptiste and Maisonneuve. What might have been the result had a line giving ten tickets for a quarter been projected into the factory districts nobody can say. The careful, and successful, efforts to exclude it from that district may, however, be taken as a sign that the experiment would have succeeded. The attempt to secure competition, if that was the real object of the City Council, would have been only relatively more farcical if the operation of the road had been confined to a few miles of vacant fields in Hochelaga ward. The claim is now made that the road's revenue is running behind its expenses, and relief is sought.

But what is the nature of the relief? "Put us," the Terminal people say, "on an equality with the other line. Remove certain arduous conditions to which we have assented." That is to say, abandon the idea of the city's using the Terminal as a proof that better service and larger payment for leave to do business in the streets can be secured for a lower fare, and leave it to the competing companies to make what they can of rivalry on equal, or nearly equal terms.

It means flat and admitted collapse of the theory of competition.

Before the aldermen consider seriously the abandonment of the specific terms of a contract deliberately entered into, they should at least take the trouble to see whither such action would be likely to lead. The Terminal people's anxiety to escape a deficit can be understood, but if the city is to help relieve them of that deficit there ought to be advanced some motive of public policy whereby this munificence at the expense of car riding people might be justified. No such motive, no such policy, is as yet in sight.

TWO REFORMS.

La Patrie makes the interesting suggestion that moving day be changed from May 1 to July 1, so as to avoid the necessity of moving children from school to school for the last two months of the term. On the face of it the scheme looks a good one, although it would be interesting to know how serious the disarrangement of school classes and consequent hindrance to the development of the child's intellect really is.

Apart from that, however, the scheme is good in that it would shift into decent weather the season for house-hunting. February and March are by long odds the most uncomfortable months in Montreal's year, the very worst either to hunt a house for yourself or to let muddy strangers into the one you occupy.

Another change in the public interest would be to hold the municipal elections in the autumn. Holding them on February 1 is a positive repression of public spirit. It is sheer cruelty to those who have to organize public opinion to force them to do it in January weather, and many a death has resulted from it, while sensible people cannot be expected to go hunting for draughty halls in a snowstorm or with the thermometer registering away below zero. The municipal elections should be held about November 1. Then public opinion would assert itself, and there would be some pleasure in discharging one's duty as a citizen.

ANNEXATION.

The obvious objection to annexing adjoining municipalities is that we have not yet made Montreal what it ought to be. Why annex municipalities which will make added demands upon the city's treasury when we are still a long way short of having provided the sidewalks, pavements, conduits and other services required within the existing boundaries?

The obvious reason why the adjoining municipalities should be annexed is that they are in reality part and parcel of the city, that their development is contingent upon the city's progress, and that if ultimately the city must bear the responsibility for all manner of expenditures, then the city ought to exercise a supervisory control of such expenditure.

There is talk now of taking in St. Henri. The finances of St. Henri are none of the best, its administration has not been one in which its people have had very great pride, it is badly in debt, and it still needs a lot of services which the city will be urged to supply after taking over the debt. St. Henri has been built up by offering special inducements to Montreal manufacturers to move out there and escape taxation. Now Montreal is asked to stand the cost of this amiable bit of enterprise. Out in Outremont again, where there is no population to speak of, they are making many excellent improvements, but improvements involving expenditures they probably would not dream of incurring except for the certain knowledge that Montreal will some day shoulder the burden. Westmount, St. Louis, and all the othe go proudly on in their development, a little critical always of old Montreal, but always depending upon Montreal's street cars, Montreal's sewers, Montreal's conveniences. Without Montreal they have little or no life. But of their real dependence they think little, of their accidental independence much,

There ought to be a general measure looking to the creation of a Greater Montreal, one which would eliminate the haphazard element.

DUNDONALD AGAIN.

Lord Dundonald has returned to the attack upon Sir Frederick Borden, this time frankly explaining that his distrust of Sir Frederick arose out of the discovery that Sir Frederick proposed to act as the real head of the Militia Department, and not, as his Lordship evidently thought he should, as the obliging Canadian registrar of Lord Dundonald's decrees. The misunderstanding was evidently fundamental, and Lord Dundonald evidently does not yet realize that the Canadian Minister of Militia must be something more than a stool-pigeon. To do him justice, Lord Dundonald probably did not care the snap of his fingers whether such bungling as was made in his name and with his sanction in the Eastern Townships and elsewhere made trouble for the Minister for other Ministers, or for other Members of Parliament, or not. They might get out of their difficulties as best they could, without his caring whether they got out or not. Evidently such a situation could not last, and it only required the final touch of publicity, the inconsiderateness of which was quite in keeping with the rest of his conduct, to put an end to it. If, instead of nursing his grievance, Lord Dundonald would just try a little to understand realities, it would save him a lot of worry.

LAND TO LAND.

The New York Times, good naturedly, commenting upon the recent fast trip from land to land of the new Allan mail turbiner Virginian, wants to know "where is Cape Race anyway?"

Adopting that tone we might ask, "Where is Sandy Hook?" For in all the news which comes of record trips made on the New York route, in late years very infrequent by the way, we are told that such and such a steamer has broken the record between Sandy Hook and the Fastnet, or between the Needles and Sandy Hook. Neither Cape Race nor Belle Isle occupies the same near position to Rimouski, the actual place of debarkation of the Canadian mails, as does Sandy Hook to New York. Still, it is reasonable to suppose the great majority of transatlantic travellers would prefer a route which reduces the actual ocean crossing, from land to land, by nearly 1,000 miles, or over one-third of the total distance. The passenger by our St. Lawrence steamships spends the first two or two and a half days of his passage within view of magnificent scenery; after bidding farewell to the Canadian coast off Fame Point or the Island of Anticosti he can send a final message ashore through the Marconi stations in the beautiful straits of Belle Isle, or, in the earlier months of the season, from Cape Race. Having cleared one or other of these points there only remains a run of about 1,700 miles before he is off the coast of Ireland, a distance which, by the Belle Isle route, the new steamships are likely to cover in less than four days.

The Union Bank of Canada.

The Union Bank of Canada has now been doing business in the Ancient Capital and other places in the Dominion for just forty years. It has accumulated a reserve fund of forty-four per cent. upon its two and a half millions of capital, and is still adding to it at the rate of four per cent. per annum, in addition to paying dividends at the rate of seven per cent. per annum. The bank's business is almost entirely in term loans and discounted bills, of which its asset list shows no less than $17,409,310.27 out of total assets of $22,767,000. A heavy writing-off has been effected this year on bank premises, $100,000 allowed for depreciation having reduced the total valuation of premises to slightly over $1,000,000, and this in spite of the fact that two sub-agencies and three branches have been opened in Ontario, one branch in the Northwest Territories, and one sub-agency in Manitoba. An entirely healthy state of affairs seems to prevail in all branches of the bank's business, the increase in which is steady and considerable.

The Ontario Bank.

The Ontario Bank is another financial institution which appears to have spent the past year in a condition of marked prosperity. Its rest account has only reached the proportion of forty-three per cent. upon the capitalization ($1,500,000), but it is being increased at the rate of $50,000 a year, or three and one-third per cent. The bank is paying six per cent. dividends, and in addition to these payments and a $5,000 contribution to its pension, it succeeded during the year in increasing profit and loss balance by nearly $8,000. The bank carries just over ten millions of interest bearing deposits, and a million and a half bearing no interest, and its chief investments are in discounted bills and current loans, which take over twelve million dollars. One new branch is announced, that at Holstein, Ont. It is worthy of note that the deposits have increased by one million dollars in the twelve months just past.

Dreaming, Laughing and Blushing.

The study of dreams appears to Sir Alexander Mitchell to lead to the following opinions among others: That there is no such thing as dreamless sleep; that thinking is involuntary to the extent, at least, that we cannot cease to think under any order of the will; that thinking never ceases during life, and is essential to the continuance of life; that dream-thinking is controlled and undirected by the will, is never coherent or concentrated, is more or less of the same character as thinking in delirium, and constitutes a state of mental disorder, which is not a state of disease; and that the frequent recurrence of a state of disordered mind in sleep does not do us harm, but on the contrary, does us good.

Some of the conclusions which seem to be the outcome of Sir Arthur Mitchell's study of laughter are as follows: That laughter is a state of mental disorder which is evidenced by the irrational and purposeless phenomena attending it and the absence during their continuance of all coherent thought; that these short states of mental disorder, which may be very frequent, do not hurt us, but, on the contrary, do us good; that laughter is not even usually the expression of unalloyed pleasure and joy; that, on the contrary, it very often expresses states of mind which are mean, contemptible and cruel, the moral faculty being then in abeyance, and that laughter so arising is only pardonable on the view that it is a state of mental disorder.

The study of blushing seems to lead to the following conclusions: That blushing is always the expression of a special mental state; that it causes another mental state which is a state of mental disorder; that blushing is involuntary, is the exclusive property of man and occurs in all races of men; that it abounds in the young and practically ceases in advanced age; that the inhalation of nitrate of amyl causes the face to flush, and that this seems to be attended with the same confusion of mind as that which attends the blush of shame; and that the flush of anger and many other flushes are altogether different from the blush of shame.—London Lancet.

The Quadrant, Regent-street.

The rebuilding of the Quadrant, Regent Street, says the Westminster Gazette, has caused people to fear that the look of this thoroughfare will be spoiled. The matter is to come up for discussion at a meeting of the London County Council. By no other contrivance could the sweep of Regent Street have been made so ornamental; and it is said that the genius of Nash (who designed Regent Street) in overcoming difficulties and in avoiding a commonplace elbow can only be fully appreciated in the view from the balcony of the Duke of York's column. Originally the Quadrant had two Doric colonnades, which were removed in November, 1848. Regent Street itself is thirty yards less than a mile in length.

Queer Physical Facts.

The two sides of a person's face are never alike. The eyes are out of line in two cases out of five and one eye is stronger than the other in seven persons out of ten. The right eye is also as a rule higher than the left. Only one person in fifteen has perfect eyes, the largest percentage of defects prevailing among fair-haired people. The smallest vibration of sound can be distinguished better with one ear than with both. The nails of two fingers never grow with the same rapidity, that of the middle finger growing the fastest, while that of the thumb grows slowest. In fifty-four cases out of one hundred the left leg is shorter than the right.—Indianapolis News.

A Voice From the Dead.

A baggage-man on the Hannibal division of the Burlington was hauling a corpse into his car, and imagine his feelings when he heard a strange, unnatural voice coming from the oblong box, saying: "Let me out of here." When he recovered from his first fright he ran for his conductor, who arrived just in time to hear the uncanny sound. The whole train crew was called and a brave engineer investigated. Sitting near the office was a small square box. Listening, the engineer heard a scratching, and again the voice, "Let me out of here." The smaller box was opened and a little green parrot popped out.

T. RYAN, LATEST CASH KING.

(New York World.)

Name—Thomas Faulkner Ryan.

Born—Nelson County, Va., 1851.

Parentage—North of Ireland farmers, family impoverished by the civil war.

Business Career—First, dry goods clerk in Baltimore, stock broker in New York, promoter, banker and general investor on a large scale.

Fortune—$50,000,000, made out of financial operations in Wall Street.

There is not much on record about the early history of this new financial king of New York. His biographers say that the Ryan family were emigrants at some unnamed date from the North of Ireland, who settled in Nelson County, Va., on the slopes of the Blue Ridge Mountains. There was no particular fame attached to them either for their wealth or their poverty. They were humble, industrious people.

The civil war served to wreck the family home, so that its finish found a boy of about fourteen living in the house of two aunts in Nelson County. He had gone to country school a little, and tried to study a little more for himself, although book learning did not appeal very strongly to him. He had an inclination for figures of commerce, and he knew the value of money.

MR. THOMAS F. RYAN,

Very soon after the close of the war he set out alone to make his fortune in life. Instead of going West, following the trend of migration from the farms, he started eastward for Baltimore. Accounts differ as to how he travelled. Some say he walked, others that he rode in a canal boat. Whatever way he got along, one thing is certain—he did not throw away the small savings in his pocket.

WAS NO FRIVOLLER.

In seeking employment he found it in the dry goods store of John D. Barry. Perhaps religion may have helped him a bit, for both employer and employe were Catholics. But aside from any such condition, here was a tall, lanky boy, vigorous, tremendously in earnest and willing to work at anything for any length of time. In this dry goods establishment he spent several years, rising rapidly in position and favor, finally marrying the daughter of his employer.

Mr. Barry began to have outside financial interests, and in these matters young Ryan showed remarkable aptitude. The result was his leaving the dry goods business and moving to New York setting up as a broker in Wall Street in 1872, when he was twenty-one years of age. He brought with him the backing of certain Baltimore merchants, including his father-in-law, and his early ventures in high finance were taken with their assistance. In a year or two he bought a seat on the New York Stock Exchange and his career was fairly started.

Nelson County, Baltimore, the dry goods business and all the old ties were left behind for now he became Ryan, the Wall Street broker, the man of affairs on the lookout for big schemes. Only one old tie did he claim and retain. That was his citizenship in the State of Virginia, although for nearly thirty years New York has been his home. It is the one touch of sentiment that this money-making genius has shown to the outer world.

In the seventies, as a Stock Exchange broker, the mere handling of other people's business and the collecting of commissions therefor did not satisfy him. He wanted to be doing the business himself, handling the money, reaping the profits, and above all acquiring the power that amassed wealth now gives in Wall Street. An intimate has said of him that Mr. Ryan recognizes the power of money and believes that if a man hopes to accomplish much he either must possess money himself or be able to command that belonging to somebody else.

HIS EIGHT BIG DEALS.

Eight financial transactions of first magnitude are credited to Mr. Ryan, each involving large amounts of other people's money and bringing large rewards, although some of them have been subject to public criticism. In these Mr. Ryan's part has been sometimes as the leader and sometimes as the shrewd financial adviser behind the throne:

1. Acquisition of the Broadway Street Railroad franchise after Jacob Sharp had been sent to prison, thus forming the cornerstone for the present Metropolitan system.

2. Acquisition of the Third Avenue Railroad for the Metropolitan after its stock had been forced down in the stock market and its owners forced to financial corners.

3. Formation of the Metropolitan Securities Company, which is the inner wheel or holding company for all street railway securities.

4. Acquisition of the State Trust Company, which loaned Mr. Ryan's secretary $2,000,000 at a time when funds were needed.

5. Formation of the Tobacco Trust and settlement of its war with the English companies. Through Mr. Ryan's efforts the disastrous warfare waged with the Imperial Tobacco Company in England and her colonies was settled by a treaty which divided the world between them to great mutual advantage.

6. Control secured of the Seaboard Air Line by means of a voting trust and a reorganization plan. Large profits made out of loans and its former owners, falling into financial difficulties, were obliged to sell their stock at a low figure.

7. Formation of the National Bank of Commerce, backed by the three big insurance companies and other interests until it rivals the Standard Oil's National City Bank in first place.

8. Purchase of the majority of Equitable Life Assurance Society stock from James H. Hyde.

No ordinary man could have achieved this measure of financial prominence without some special characteristics, for the rivalry of millionaires is just as keen as among ordinary men. Their prejudices and suspicions, perhaps, are even stronger, for they generally know each other's sly games.

An intimate friend has classified his most striking powers as follows: Systematic organization, power of persuasion, mental concentration, capacity for instant and decisive action, silence, secrecy and the art of using great power behind the throne.

HIS PERSUASIVE POWER.

To most men in Wall Etreet the one faculty that seems the most highly developed, and withal the most remarkable, is Mr. Ryan's power of persuasion. Mr. J. P. Morgan has the ability for systematic organization, Mr. H. H. Rogers has the capacity for instant and decisive action, Mr. John D. Rockefeller possesses silence and secrecy, and Mr. James J. Hill is noted for his concentration of mind upon a subject; but none of these gentlemen appears to have that natural gift of persuasion and conciliation. Doubtless it is the gift of Irish ancestry to Mr. Ryan, for his quiet, easy manner and his few harmonizing words have brought together many hostile factions.

This was most strongly exemplified in the formation of the National Bank of Commerce, wherein there are more diversified interests than in any other New York institution. Men of Wall Street simply marvelled at the organizer's skill in getting them together. Bitter rivals meet around its directors' table and carry on harmoniously the affairs of the immense institution. Some financiers say it is not his arguments, but a peculiar personal power of magnetism that makes them consent to his plans.

EASY OF ACCESS.

Mr. Ryan makes his headquarters in the Morton Trust Company's office, where he is vice-president. He does not bar the door like John D. Rockefeller or President Stillman of the National City Bank. Any caller gets to his secretary, and very often to the inner room. There is none of the gruffness that so characterizes Mr. Morgan, whose blunt expletives are noted in Wall Street. Mr. Ryan is suavely silent. His words are very few and very discreet. He never does and never says an important thing without consulting lawyers. His business letters are remarkable for their brevity in both words and information. Yet he always is polite, and never shows anger.

In private life Mr. Ryan essentially is a home man. Neither he nor his family seeks the high society of New York. Years ago he purchased one of the comfortable old mansions in lower Fifth Avenue, at the corner of Twelfth Street. His country place is at Suffern, where he has made a luxurious farm, with a beautiful house. When he reaches there after a day in the turmoil of Wall Street he finds recreation looking at his herd of Holstein cattle, with the many dogs from the kennels at his heels.

Mrs. Ryan is devoted to Catholic Church philanthrophy. The church she built at Suffern is a beautiful and costly structure. She shuns social notoriety and loves to do good in secr. There are several sons rapidly growing up to manhood.

America's Homeless Ambassadors.

The homeless American Ambassador has become an international joke.

Alone of the great nations the United States fails to provide permanent homes for its diplomatic representatives in the principal foreign capitals.

The American Ambassador to London or Paris or Berlin or St. Petersburg, must accept such quarters as he is able to obtain and pay such rentals as the landlord exacts. It is said that Whitelaw Reid's house rent in London is nearly twice his official salary.

To an Ambassador who has no private fortune such a sacrifice is impossible. The present necessity for it is limiting the class of available men from which Ambassadors can be selected. As Mr. Choate, the former Ambassador to St. James' said in his speech at the Pilgrims' dinner:

"The present arrangement by which our country, almost alone among the nations represented at London by embassies, goes without a home of its own is undemocratic, unrepublican and unbecoming to the dignity of a great nation. It is unfair to the President, because it limits his choice every time. He ought to be able to lay his hand upon the shoulder of whomever he considers the very best man among our eighty millions to represent the nation in each of the capitals of Europe, whether he has a dollar of his own or not."

It is one of the curiosities of Republican Government that a Congress which is generous beyond the limits of extravagance in appropriating money for the erection of public buildings in backwoods towns steadily refuses to provide homes for the nation's Ambassadors to foreign capitals. It is willing to toss millions into a river and harbor pork barrel, but it will not give a cent to house the men who represent abroad the dignity of the nation.—New York World.

Advantages of Self-Possession in Women.

The cool head conduces to a successful meeting of emergencies with a feeling that everything is going to come out all right. The feeling of quiet, self-control in itself makes one the better able to work toward the good result.

To a mother this self-possession is invaluable. In a large family small events calculated to upset the domestic machinery constantly occur. To the mother it seems to be a law of nature that children should continually have halfbreadth escapes and come out within an inch of their lives.

But it is equally a law of nature that they should escape. And whenever the critcal moment arrives in her own life or in the life of another, it is important for a woman to remember that the worst thing she can do at that moment is to lose her head; the best thing she can do is to keep her mind in control. To keep her head cool means that she is a help instead of a hindrance, an assistance instead of a drag.

In an emergency it is better to seem heartless than to be inefficient. Better to be the one person who stands coolly by the sufferer and seek the way to help him than the ten persons who are ready to cry out and faint and send tears over his calamities and pains. Affection and sympathy are sometimes best proved by ignoring them, particularly when the moment arrives for action, not tears.

Togo and His Flagship.

Lord Nelson was born in 1758 and a little less than a century later, Admiral Togo was born. Nelson fought his last and greatest battle and died at Trafalgar in 1805, aged 47 years. (Napoleon and Wellington were each 46 when they fought at Waterloo. Togo fought the great battle of the Sea of Japan in 1905 at the age of 48 and still lives. "That after destroying one of the greatest naval powers,") says the Scientific American, "he should have in hand a fleet practically as powerful as that with which the war opened, proclaims Admiral Togo as one of the very greatest admirals of this or any other age. What he has done has not only never been equalled but has never been approached." It is not without satisfaction in view of the greatness of his achievements that we recall the three years he spent in the famous British naval college of Greenwich. There he learned the art of modern warfare. And he was destined to gain his signal triumphs in a British-built battleship.

The Mikasa, Togo's famous flagship, was built by Vickers, Sons and Maxim at Barrow, England, 1900, and was at the time of her launching the largest battleship afloat. At the beginning of the war she was still the largest battleship in commission in any navy. Her displacement is 15,200 tons. She is a thoroughly up-to-date vessel and includes all the accepted ideas as to speed, armor, and armament of naval designers. The only points in which ships of later design surpass her are those due to the lessons of the war in which the Mikasa has figured so largely. She has been subject to attack by the guns of the enemy's fleet, by the powerful batteries of Port Arthur, and by the deadly mine and torpedo. Togo was trained in England, and his flagship was built there. His country is the ally of Britain and we, believing her cause is just, rejoice in the signal victories he is winning with something of the feeling that would be ours if he were himself British and fighting under "the meteor flag of England."

FOR YOUR STOMACH

When you eat your dinner to-night, take a thought about your little stomach.

First you fill it with soups, then fish, meats, salads, a dozen and one other things, and wind up with ice cream, coffee, and perhaps wine. You see you are pretty hard on your stomach to make it bear all these cultivated tastes of yours, eating and drinking, morning, noon and night. Is it any wonder that it is sore, tired, painful and sour? How can it help burning, paining, giving off fermented gases? Why don't you try Hutch tablets? Get them at any drug store and give your stomach some assistance. Take it a day or two and you will have to confess that Hutch is the greatest stuff for a paining stomach you ever came across in your life.

Don't forget! Take one after each meal. This makes Hutch do the most good. A big bottle, 200 for $1.00.

DAY NURSERY ASKS FOR HELP.

The committee of the Day Nursery, announce that they are greatly in need of funds to aid the present heavy running expenses of the institution. There are from seventy-five to eighty little children cared for each day and the bread and milk bills are of necessity very large. There is also a coal bill of $230 to be met and no collecting for the home is done during the summer months. Here is an excellent opportunity for the many energetic young people who will spend the hot weeks to come at the seaside or lake shore, to give summer entertainments which are always so successful, in aid of this worty and needy charity. The committee feel confident that this appeal will meet with generous results from the many kind friends of the unfortunate little people whose only joy in life is the daily visit to the Nursery in Belmont Park.

ROYAL MILITARY COLLEGE AT KINGSTON GIVE A BRILLIANT FUNCTION

Kingston, Ont., June 21.—(Special.)—Delightful weather made the June ball at the Royal Military College an event of much pleasure. This ball is one of great interest all over the Dominion for what province has not a nable son in attendance. The commandment, staff and gentlemen cadets strive to make this culminating feature of the session one of great brilliancy and last night's was no exception, there being over five hundred guests present.

The grand new gymnasium was the scene of the magnificent function. It was finely decorated, all the weapons of war were made to give a charm and richness to the scene and most intricate, delicate and beautiful were the combinations created with flags, folds, buntings, guns, swords and sabers. Even cannon balls were made to look attractive and innocent. The guests moved across old Cabraqui Bridge in a continuous procession. At nine o'clock Lieut.-Col. Reade and Mrs. Iva Martin took their places and received, heartily welcoming those honoring the occasion with their presence. Mrs. Martin wore a charming gown of pale grey chiffon, embroidered with silver and steel, a bodice of point lace relieved with touches of shaded orange velvet. She also wore diamonds.

It was a brilliant scene when the ball opened. The dance list was very extensive and gave a variety which only those who dance can enjoy. The music was superb—Gilonna's from Toronto. The floor was in constant use and not infrequently extras were put in to delight those who wanted to enjoy every minute and make glad the hearts of the gallants who swarmed for engagements. Refreshments of a tempting character were served after eleven o'clock in the old gymnasium. The night was delightfully cool.

Altogether the event was considered the finest ever given here and certainly added laurels to the commandant, whose retirement is so much deplored by society all over the Dominion. The debutantes were quite numerous and presented a striking spectacle. Among the number were:

Miss Vera Mundell, white spotted net, over ivory Liberty silk. A bouquet of roses was carried.

Miss Grace Martin, white pointe d'esprit, over taffeta, with garniture of ribbon and wreathings of white roses.

Miss Kathleen White, Hamilton, organdie tucked, over a petticoat of white silk, Miss Dorothy Betts, of London, ivory crepe de chine over silk, with trimmings of lace, and bouquet of red roses.

Miss Eleanor Macdonnel, white voile, over white taffeta, with trimmings of silk Cluny lace.

Miss Elsie Pense, white, net, over white taffeta, with lace inserted, bertha of lace, and trimmings of white satin ribbon.

Miss Gladys Hall, Sherbrooke, pure white silk, trimmings, white embroidered chiffon.

Miss Dorothy Brownfield, white pointe d'esprit, lace garniture.

Miss Jackson, of Brockville, white organdie, over white silk; trimmings of lace.

Miss Ara Drury, white pointe d'esprit, over silk, with lace.

Miss Etta Ward, white tulle, over a white silk slip, trimmings of lace; accordion pleated flounce of tulle.

Miss Gretta Haycock, white organdie; folds of satin and lace.

Miss Muriel Abbott, white pointe d'esprit over taffeta; with lace inserted; white flowers.

Miss Amy Campbell, white mousseline de sole, over white silk; chiffon trimmings.

VICE-ROYAL ENTERTAINED BY CITIZENS OF QUEBEC

Quebec, June 21.—(Special.)—The Citizens Ball, given last night at the City Hall by Mayor Parent, Aldermen and citizens of Quebec, in honor of Their Excellencies, the Earl and Countess Grey, was one of the largest and most successful social events ever held in the Ancient Capital. There were fully 1,200 ladies and gentlemen present, and the scene was kaleidoscopic in it's magnificence. The arrangements commenced three weeks ago under the personal supervision of the Mayor were carried out in a manner that easily eclipsed any and every previous social public function ever held in this city. All the corridors of the City Hall and committee rooms were draped and the walls and ceilings adorned with new flags, and electric lights, while the ceilings wer entirely covered with colored electric lights, which cast their rays about, in soft harmony with the decorations. Potted flowers and palms also adorned the sides of the rooms and corridors, and every where the eye turned it was met with a pleasing effect. The Council chamber was a marvel of elegance in it's tasteful decoration and also the Recorder's Court, which had been turned into a dancing hall.

Their Excellencies, the Earl and Countess of Grey, accompanied by Lady Evelyn Grey and household arrived at the main entrance at 9.40 o'clock and were received by a guard of honor furnished by one hundred men of the Eighth Royaal Rifles, who presenteil arms.

The word "Welcome," in both French and English, formed by electric lights, on either side of the building, blazed forth a loyal greeting to the King's representative. The Vice-regal party were escorted to the dressing rooms set apart for their convenience, and afterwards led by Mayor Parent, were conducted into the Council Chamber, where a tastefully arranged throne had been arranged, upon which Their Excellencies stood to receive the homage of the vast throng of citizens, who were received by them. The word "Welcome" also blazed forth from the walls of the Council Chamber, together with other matters in electric lights formation, emblematic of loyalty.

Dancing was commenced at ten o'clock, and the following took part in the Quadrille D'Honneur:—His Excellency the Governor-General and Madame Parent, Hons. N. Parent, Mayor of Quebec, and Countess Grey, Sih Louis Jette and Lady Eveyn Grey, Hon. Chief Justice Routhier and Lady Jette, Senator Choquette and Madame Aug. Carriere, Sir Alphonse Pallettier and Madame Routhier, Hon. Rodolph Lemieux and Lady Cassault, Senator Tessier and Madame R. Lemieux, Hon. Judge F. Langelier and Madame Williams, Sir Louis Cassault and Madame F. Roy, Colonel Hanbury Williams and Mrs. F. Langelier, the Consul-General of France and Madame A. Taschereau, Generad Henry, U. S. "PUBLICITY."

A "monthly practical and critical review on the art of advertising" has been launched in Montreal under the name of "Publicity," the first number appearing this month. The idea of the new publication is to offer the advertiser a guide in the choice of systems of advertising, to study industrial, commercial, and financial propaganda by means of advertising, and to act as the organ of all industries interested in advertising, and of those who make their living at it. Printed in both French and English, the new review is attractive in appearance, and will no doubt prove to be extremely useful to those interested in advertising.

HENDERSON ROLLER BEARINGS.

A FEW MONTHS AGO all Canada was startled over the dramatic resignation of the Hon. Andrew G. Blair from the highest position in the gift of the Government of the Dominion of Canada, and much speculation was indulged in as to what he intended doing.

It was not long before it became public property. The inducement was a mighty one indeed. He had renounced the Chairmanship of the Railway Commission to accept the position of Counsel and Chief Law-adviser to the Toronto Roller Bearing Company, the great Parent Company, controlling some one hundred and forty patents, all over the world for Henderson Roller Bearings, and its subsidiary company, The Henderson Roller Bearing Company of Canada, as well as to take the position of GENERAL MANAGER of an AMERICAN COMPANY, which he was to organize, and which would control the patents for the Henderson Roller Bearings for the entire of the United States of America.

In this age of progress, all devices which tend to save labor or power are welcomed, and among the many inventions, few indeed have reached so high on the pinnacle of fame as the HENDERSON ROLLER BEARINGS. They absolutely cut out at least eighty-five per cent. of friction, and positively SAVE fifty per cent. of POWER. They can be installed in Cars, Factories or Mills for a mere trifle, and save from $800 to $950 per car in the turning out of new electric tram cars, as they do away with half the motors usually required on such cars, WHILE OIL AS A LUBRICANT IS ENTIRELY ELIMINATED. WE quote below from a few of the numerous testimonials, which amply sustain these statements.

LESS THAN three years ago the $100 par shares of the Toronto Roller Bearing Company were selling freely around the $70 mark. Today it is impossible to buy one share at TWENTY TIMES. $70, late sales being recorded at from $1,600 to $1,725. While the stock of the Henderson Roller Bearing Company of Canada is now quoted at $125 to $140 offered, and no sellers, and is paying TEN PER CENT. DIVIDENDS. With its new factory about completed, increased facilities will be afforded to turn out more work; dividends will also increase, and the price of its Stock will correspondingly jump up.

The Henderson Roller Bearing Company of Canada has entered its third year of operation, and its success so far, in spite of passing through the great Toronto Fire a year ago, is ancient history—already it has paid two Annual Dividends of 10 per cent., besides carrying forward a handsome sum towards Contingent Fund, and has just completed a magnificent new home, covering over two and a half acres, at considerable expense, and all it ever called up was 50 per cent. This Company was so rushed with orders that it had to call in its six travellers, and is now working night and day to turn out the orders that keep piling in. The public so fully appreciates the necessities for Roller Bearings that they are seeking to give their orders without waiting to be canvassed.

THE AMERICAN HENDERSON ROLLER BEARING COMPANY, incorporated in the United States of America, under the Laws of New Jersey, has an authorized Capital of $2,000,000.00, and has secured from the TORONTO ROLLER BEARING COMPANY all its rights in all U. S. Patents, at present issued or to be issued, covering Henderson Roller Bearings, and has agreed to pay therefor the sum of Ten Per Cent. in Cash and Forty Per Cent. in fully paid up shares of its issued Capital Stock.

Upon organization it has been decided to issue $1,000,000.00 at present, $400,000.00 Paid-up Stock of which goes to the Parent Company, $200,000.00 has been reserved to be offered for sale in Canada, while the balance, $400,000.00, will be offered for subscription in the United States.

Of the $200,000 reserved for Canada we have secured 1,000 shares of $100 each, representing $100,000, which, we now have much pleasure in informing the interested investors, will be open for subscription through our office or any Branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, from 10 a.m. on June 20th, until 3.00 p.m. June 30th, 1905.

There will be no Watered Stock in this Company. The price of every share to everybody will be at its par value, namely, $100, until and unless the Company decides later to put a premium upon its shares which may not have been disposed of before that time, or may therewith pay for property or services rendered the Company.

THE CONDITIONS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE 20 PER CENT. CASH WITH APPLICATION, ALL CHEQUES TO BE MADE PAYABLE TO THE ORDER OF THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE. The balance will be called as required, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, in amounts of 10 per cent., not nearer that thirty days between calls, and IT IS CONFIDENTLY EXPECTED THAT NOT MORE THAN 50 PER CENT. IN ALL WILL BE CALLED, for the following reasons:

The Charter of this Company contains a clause, in which ample protection is afforded subscribers against any undue haste being shown in collecting balances of calls, as the American Company cannot proceed to manufacture until $600,000.00 of Stock has been subscribed for, and on which 20 per cent. is paid. It will necessarily take several months before even 50 per cent. will be required, while in the meantime subsidiary companies will have been started. It is calculated to so divide the United States that about eighteen such subsidiary companies will be put into operation, the capital of which will be $1,000,000 each, which in turn will pay into the treasury of this Company a sum of 10 per cent. of their Capital in Cash and 40 per cent. in Paid-up Stock. So that the formation of even three subsidiary companies within the next year would bring into the treasury of this company a sum of $300,000, besides $1,200,000 of Stock, thus doing away with the necessity of calling for that sum from our present subscribers. As arrangements have been about completed for the forming of subsidiary companies at Chicago, Ill., under the auspices of the Pullman Car Co.; Pittsburg, Pa., under the auspices of the Westinghouse Brake Co.; and Philadelphia, Pa., through the Baldwin Locomotive Co., with pour-parlers going on for Boston and New York, it is altogether likely that at least three subsidiary Companies will be well under way within the next few months.

A sum of $800,000 will be ample for a pioneer manufactory, which in all likelihood will be started at Buffalo, N.Y., and will afford ample capital to cover all other necessary outlays.

There are several very convincing reasons to justify the belief that the AMERICAN HENDERSON ROLLER BEARING COMPANY will become a great success. To begin with, it is a Parent Company, and the experience which has been had as to the success of the Toronto Parent Company shows what may be expected when the thorough organization of the United States takes place.

Then the question of Roller Bearings has been settled, and has passed beyond the experimental stage. These bearings are proved to be the best known for use in Mills, Factories, Electric Tramways and ordinary Steam Railway Service, and, indeed, for all kinds of traction vehicles. And, lastly, the immense territory we cover, with its enormous population, its ever-increasing number of Electric Railways and vast number of other railways, afforded a limitless field, and must furnish an incalculable demand for bearings of this kind.

Mr. S. Ritter Ickes, Manager of the Grand River Railway, Brantford, writing to the Toronto Street Railway Company, under date of August 25th, 1904, says: "I honestly believe they (the Roller Bearings) save close unto 50 per cent. of power. I think you would be delighted should you try them, as if starting not half the power is used as under the old bearings, and to a Company that has to stop and start as much as yours, it would be a mighty thing every month."

Again the same gentleman wired, under date of April 12th, 1905, to the Henderson Roller Bearing Company as follows: "Rollers working perfectly; power is certainly cut in half; two motors with rollers do work on 40 amperes that four motors without Rollers do at 200 amperes this can be demonstrated any day here."

The Hamilton, Grimsby & Beamsville Railway Company, under date of October 9th, 1904, writes: "We find the saving of power by meter test to be from 45 to 50 per cent. In all this time (several weeks) the Bearings have required no attention or oil whatever. We can heartily recommend them to all."

The same Company again, under date of December 16th, 1904, says: "In regard to the Henderson Roller Bearing in use on our heaviest car for over a year, they are giving perfect satisfaction. These bearings were examined last week, and must say that we could not detect any wear whatever.

"They are on our heaviest car on our system, carrying from fifteen to eighteen tons of freight daily, and averaging one hundred miles. This Car Coasts freely, and I would think 50 per cent. of power is saved owing to the bearing. I am satisfied from tests made that this bearing will wear without renewing from five to ten years."

"We are contemplating a change in our system, and might say that as soon as the change is made we most certainly will give you an order for the Equipment of all the Cars on our system."

The following is the result of a test made by the Grand Trunk Railway in their shops at Stratford after the bearings had been applied to their transfer table:

"With the old bearings, to start the table, light, it took 644.12 lbs. I then placed Engine 636 on a Table weighing 114,000 lbs. With old bearings it took 2,060 lbs. to start the table. To keep the table moving after starting, it took 2,012.89 lbs. After applying the Henderson Roller Bearings it took 200 lbs. to start the table, light. With Engine 636 on the Table, weighing 114,000 lbs., it took 960 lbs to start the table, and 300 lbs. to keep it moving after being started. Both tests were made with the transfer table in the same position in the erection shop."

The Hanover, Ont., Portland Cement Co., under date of Sept. 4, 1904, writes: "It affords us pleasure to state that we can haul double the load with our Locomotive since cars have been equipped with your Roller Bearings."

"The Robert Simpson Company, Limited, on April 13th, 1905, state: "We have been using the Henderson Roller Bearings for about two years, and they show no signs of wear whatever. They run at least 1-3 easier than any axle we have used. As to oiling, they do not require any oftener than twice a year; and then, only a small quantity, to keep the bearing from rusting. They are perfectly noiseless, and we expect them to last for a number of years yet, judging from their present condition."

"In purchasing and building our new wagons, we intend to have them equipped with the Henderson Roller Bearings, as they are the best bearings we know of. We would recommend their use on all vehicles."

It does not require one to be a Mechanical or Civil Engineer to understand what these statements mean.

Models of the Roller Bearings can be seen at our offices, SUITE 481, TEMPLE BUILDING, MONTREAL, any day from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m., and full information and subscription forms will be cheerfully given on application.

BOOK III.

A deep flush of shame sprang to Miss Lady's face as she turned about at this. "Colonel Cal," she began, her voice trembled; "you hurt. All this hurts me so."

"Now hold on, child," said Blount, quickly. "None of that, either. This is strictly business. I know you are not the child of Mrs. Ellison. You are somebody else's daughter. You were in her company or her possession for a long time; just why, we can't prove yet a while. But there was something right mysterious between that fellow Decherd and Mrs. Ellison. Did you ever see them much together, as long as you were living with Mrs. Ellison?"

"No," said Miss Lady, "never, except as they met occasionally here or there. Mrs. Ellison travelled a great deal from time to time, when I was little, before we went to New Orleans, where I went to school with the Sisters. She, my mother—that is, Mrs. Ellison—had money from somewhere, not always very much. Mr. Decherd told me often that he simply was an old friend of hers. I always thought he was a lawyer somewhere in this State. Sometimes he went to St. Louis. We went to New Orleans, and that was the last I saw of him for some years until we came here to the Big House."

"That's all you know?" asked Blount. "You don't remember any mother of your own?"

"Not in the least." Tears welled from her eyes, and this time Blount did not protest.

"Miss Lady," said he, "there are some things we can't clear up yet. We cant prove just yet who was your own mother, but I want to tell you, you were born as far above that sort of life as that there sun is above the earth. No matter how much Decherd loved you, or how much right he had to love you, he couldn't do you anything but wrong and harm, and injury, and shame. As near as we can find out, he was about as bad, and about as sharp a man as ever struck this country. We couldn't hardly believe at first how smooth he was. Miss Lady, we can't tell just what his relations to Mrs. Ellison were. We know they had some kind of an understanding. We know that he was mixed up with Delphone down here on some sort of a basis. We know that he was robbing the railroad here with a list of judgment claims against the road, which he stole in some way. We know he was underneath a heap of this trouble with the niggers down here, and that he used Delphine as a cat's-paw in that. It was his scheme to have other people stir up all the trouble they could, so he could carry on his own devilment behind the smoke. Now we know he was mixed up with those two women somehow. I won't ask you any questions, and won't try to understand why you could have been so blind as not to know your own friends. No, Miss Lady, come back here, and sit right down. You've got to take your own medicine, and some day you've got to know your own friends. Now sit down, and hold on till I tell you what I know about this."

And so, to a Miss Lady alternately shocked and ashamed, he went on to tell in his own fashion, and to the best of his knowledge, the facts of the strange story which had been canvassed between himself and Eddring long before. The sun was still farther up in the heavens when he had concluded, and when finally he rose to his feet and stood erect before her.

"So there you are, Miss Lady," said he. "You couldnt be any better than we knew you were all along. I don't think any more of you now than I ever did; and I don't believe Jack Eddring does either. Now, we don't know where this man Decherd will turn up again. You've got to stay here until we find out about that. But this thing can't run along this way, and it's got to be settled on a business basis. We've got to find Mrs. Ellison and make her tell what she knows. As to Decherd, his own rope'll hang him bfeore long. Now, I'm going to be your agent, your attorney-in-fact. That's what we'd call a 'next friend' in law, maybe, though you don't need any guardian now. If you've got any better friend, you name him, but I know you haven't. Then we'll start suit to get possession of that property, which is yours. Jack Eddring will be your attorney. I'll appoint him myself, right now. He's just a little too good for you, Miss Lady, for you didn't think he was honest; but he'll handle this case. The only promise I want of you is this; if you get plumb rich and independent, and able to go where you like, and marry anybody you want to, you won't get up and go right away at once and leave us all. You won't do that right away, now will you, Miss Lady?"

Tears still stood in Miss Lady's eyes, as she put both her hands in the big one extended to her. "Colonel Cal," said she, "it's a wonder that I can know my friends, or tell the truth, or do anything that's right. It's been deceit, and treachery, and wrong about me all the time. I have hardly heard a true word, it seems to me, except when I was with the Sisters. But I think that she, Mrs. Ellison, told me one true thing, although she didn't mean it that way. She said, 'There's nothing in the world for a woman except the men.' That's the truth. It's been the truth for me. They're not all bad; I know now I've met two good ones, at least."

"You said two?" asked Blount.

Miss Lady hesitated. "Yes—two," she said. "I'm so sorry."

Blount caught the penitence of her tone and the meaning of her unfinished speech, and was content to leave his friend's case as it was. "Miss Lady," said he, sternly, "what do you mean idling around here all the morning? Can't you hear my dogs hollering? Them puppies will just naturally starve to death, and here you are a-visiting around in the shade, not tending to business."

It was a sober and thoughtful young woman who looked up at him. "All my life, Colonel Cal," said she, "there has been a sort of cloud before my eyes. I could not see clearly. Tell me, do you think I'll ever understand, and see everything clearly, and be my real self?"

"Yes, girl," said Calvin Blount, "you'll see it all clear, some day; and I hope it won't be long. Now, I said, go feed them puppies. And look at old Hec, there, wanting to talk to you."

CHAPTER XIX.

THREE LADIES LOUISE.

In the city, as well as in the country, spring came with a sensible charm. John Eddring, as he gazed out of his office one morning at the slow life of the southern city and felt the breath of the warm wind at the casement, abandoned himself for the time to the relaxation of the season. Before him on his desk there lay a communication which meant his nomination as candidate at the next election for the state Legislature.

Upon Eddring's desk at that moment there lay close beside the opened letter certain papers, none other than the brief in the case of Louise Loisson against Henry Decherd, in ejectment, defendant charged with holding certain properties without legal title thereto.

As against all adverse title, there needed to be urged for his client descent for three generations, carried in each generation by a single child, who, in each case bore the name of Louise Loisson—certainly a strange and singular legal contingency. There needed to be three Ladies Louises; and of these he had found but two. There was no great difficulty in establishing the fact that the grandmother of Louise Loisson was the daughter of the Comte de Loisson; that she returned to Paris early in the nineteenth century; that in spite of her noble birth she figured for some years as a danseuse in leading Continental cities—a dancer of strange dances. This Louise Loisson, as he discovered, had some years later, after declining all manner of titled suitors, married a distant cousin, by name Raoul de Loisson, of Favreuil-Chantry, France; a young nobleman of democratic tendencies, who later removed to New Orleans, in the state of Louisiana. So much for the first Louise Loisson.

Records showed that to Raoul and Louise Loisson was born one daughter, Louise, who married one Robert Fanning, a planter and cattle dealer. But the confusion of records brought about by the Civil War left it impossible to tell what became of this Louise Loisson-Fanning, or of either of her parents. The trail ended abruptly; nor could Eddring find any means of pursuing it further, certain as he was that, in the person of Miss Lady, he had found the third Louise Loisson and the rightful heiress of the Loisson properties in the mountains below St. Louis. Again he looked at his uncompleted papers, and again he sighed.

It was well toward noon, and Eddring was busying himself about other matters, when he heard the knock of his faithful henchman, Jack, and bade him enter.

"Lady done sent me over f'om de hotel, sah," said Jack. "I brung her trunk up f'om de de-pot. Heah's her kyard. She's over to the hotel, an' wants you to come oveh dah."

Eddring started to his feet as he saw the name upon the card. "Tell the lady," said he, "to come here to my own office. Tell her to come at once, and say that I will wait for her." And thus, a half-hour later, there appeared at his door the figure of Alice Ellison, sometime adventurous, yet not always happy, woman of fortune.

Eddring gazed at her sharply. She seemed older. Traces of dissipation showed upon her face. Her eye, a trifle more furtive, glanced from side to side as though she felt herself pursued. Yet in spite of all, Alice Ellison, even at her years, was a woman not wholly without charm. She stood now, hesitating, her hand still upon the knob of the door, her face not altogether confident as she gazed at the man before her.

"Come in, Madam, and be seated," said Eddring. "I am very glad to see you."

BIRDS PLAYED RAGGED BALL

Toronto Beat Them 9 to 2—Leroy Was to the Bad.

Toronto, June 21.—(Special.)—Judging by the way they played ball yesterday the Birds could not win the pennant in a New Ontario League.

The Torontos let them down with a 9 to 2 score, but what they would have done to the Birds, had they been really forced to extend themselves is a problem that Kreitner could not take joy from solving.

It was a dizzy performance and any Bird who played Eastern League baseball, wasn't as conspicuous as a small boy in the bleachers. The Leafs tried to help the visitors along by making a quartette of dinky plays but the Royals were listless and declined any assistance that would enable them to pile up a few runs.

Here is the record of the doings of nine Birds, striving to put Kreitner's optimism on the blink.

Miller hit the ball twice but made two errors.

Joyce could neither jam the sphere nor get away with his lone chance to make a putout.

Bannon had a batting average of .000 and a fielding average of .333.

Meaney didn't make a hit out of four times up.

Lachance furnished the error that felt quite at home opposite his name in the tabulated score.

Dyer couldn't connect with a hit and got away without an error through the good nature of the scorers.

Kunns swung at the ball viciously and—missed it.

Raub hammered the horsehide but, with the able help of Miller and Dyer, permitted the Leafs to steal six bases.

Leroy played sleepy ball throughout and permitted Rapp to steal home on him.

The score.—

BOWLING AT THE POINT.

There has been a long felt want among the Point St. Charles boys for a good bowling alley. Such a one has just been completed on Grand Trunk Street, with Mr. Fred. Ray as president.

The committee feel confident that they have one of the most up-to-date alleys in the city, and are negotiating for entrance into the intermediate league. It is the intention to give the boys a try Friday evenings, the competitors being the Engineers, Royals and a picked team of the uninitiated. The president has kindly donated two valuable prizes for the highest individual scores.

FOUL TIP CAUSED INTERESTING LAWSUIT

New York, June 21.—Persons who attend baseball games do so at their own risk, according to a decision just handed down by Civil Justice McLaughlin in a damage suit brought by a young woman, who claims to have been injured by a foul ball. The complainant was an enthusiastic admirer of the game. On Sept. 3, 1904, while a spectator at the contest on the Polo grounds between the New York National Club and the Bostons, a foul ball smote her on the nose. The doctors saved her permanent disfigurement, but suit was brought for damages in the sum of $500 against the New York Club's management.

The complainant's counsel asserted that the management was responsible for everything that went wrong on the grounds, and that the woman's injury was clearly due to the lack of proper safeguards. The justice, however, ruled that those who entered the grounds did so at their own risk.

Many Women Suffer Untold Agony From Kidney Trouble.

Very often they think it is from so-called "female disease." There is less female trouble than they think. Women suffer from backache, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, and a dragging-down feeling in the loins. So do men, and they do not have "female trouble." Why, then, blame all your trouble to female disease? With healthy kidneys, few women will ever have "female disorders." The kidneys are so closely connected with all the internal organs, that when the kidneys go wrong, everything goes wrong. Much distress would be saved if women would only take at stated intervals.

Miss Nellie Clark, Lambeth, Ont., tells of her cure in the following words:—"I suffered for about two years with kidney trouble. I ached all over, especially in the small of my back; not being able to sleep well, no appetite, menstruation irregular, nervous irritability, and brick-dust deposit in urine, were some of my symptoms. I took Doan's Kidney Pills. The pain in my back gradually left me, my appetite returned, I sleep well, and am effectually cured. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or DOAN KIDNEY PILL CO., TORONTO, ONT.

KID SULLIVAN TO MEET BRITT

Then the Latter Will Take on Battling Nelson Again.

San Francisco, June 21.—There is no longer any doubt as to who will be Jimmy Britt's next opponent. Choice has fallen upon "Kid" Sullivan. The Hayes Valley A. C. has not only fixed the date, but has forwarded railroad transportation for two to Baltimore. It is expected that Herford and his piebald stable will soon arrive and that Sullivan and Joe Gans will be seen doing work in the neighborhood of Shannon's villa, San Rafael, before many days pass. The contest will take place on the evening of July 18, and the weight is to be 133 lb. at 3 o'clock on that date.

Apart from what the mill itself may develop there will surely be turmoil over the signing of Britt and Sullivan. Battling Nelson gave the first fukling of what is coming when he began to shout a week ago: "Britt is afraid of me. Britt is trying to crawl." This was when he was endeavoring to intimidate Britt and deter him from making the match.

But Bat is a mild-mannered, mealy-mouthed individual compared to his manager, Billy Nolan. One trembles to think of what Nolan will have to say when he reaches San Francisco a week or two hence and finds everything in connection with the Britt-Sullivan match going as merry as a marriage bell.

The last time a contest between Britt and Nelson fell through it was N[illegible] fault, by the way, for demanding a re[illegible]gement of the terms. Nolan accused [illegible]lie Britt of trying to fix the fight. If there are any other skeletons in the pugilistic closet Nolan will be sure to trot them out when he arrives on the scene. Meanwhile an air of determination envelops the Britts and they declare that they are ready to defend their position with Nelson, Nolan or any one else.

"Here's my side of it in a nutshell," says Jimmie. "Nelson says to me, 'Now you stay home and be good and I'll come back here and box you in August. Meanwhile I'll go East and try and lift a few purses along the six-round circuit.' Isn't that gally? We are all growing old, and money, like time, is a fleeting commodity. I want some of it myself, and what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. If Nelson has a right to make other matches while our affair hangs fire so have I.

"Yes, and I'll get around to Nelson after a while, too. We'll meet as sure as fate, and the best way for him to hasten matters is to cut his Eastern tour and come back to the coast."

Willie Britt endorses what Jimmie says, and adds: "Wouldn't that cry of Jimmie being afraid nauseate you? Is there anything in his record since he graduated from the Olympia Club boxing squad, to suggest that he is afraid of anything his weight that carries itself on two legs?"

KING EDWARD SAW THE RACES YESTERDAY

London, June 21.—King Edward, Queen Alexandra, the Prince of Wales, and most of the leaders of society attended the Ascot race meeting yesterday. The royal procession with the house party at Windsor Castle consisted of eight carriages, reached the course in a drizzling rain, but an immense crowd gathered to welcome the Royal family.

The Gold Vase, valued at 200 sovereigns, given by King Edward, with 400 sovereigns in specie for the winner, two miles, was carried off by Bachelor's Button, last year's winner of this event, ridden by Danny Maher. Mark Time was second and Hammerkop third. Ten horses started.

J. Clothier, Beals C. Wright and Paul Dashiel, who will captain it.

INTERNATIONAL CHESS.

Ostend, June 21.—The seventh round for the International Chess Masters' Tournament was begun at the Kursaal in this city yesterday morning. At the first adjournment, made at 1.30, Burn had gone down before Janowski, Marshall had beat Tschigorin, Teichmann had disposed of Wolf, while the games between Leonhardt, and Taubenhaus and Schlechter and Maroczy, as that between Marco and Alapin, had been drawn.

In the afternoon sitting Tarrasch drew with Blackburne, and thus the former leads Janowski and Maroczy with half a point.

To-day the adjourned games between Taubenhaus and Burn from the fourth round, and that between Janowski and Marco from the sixth round, will be completed. Thursday the eighth round will be contested as follows:

Maroczy vs. Teichmann, Taubenhaus vs. Schlechter, Tschigorin vs. Leonhardt, Blackburne vs. Marshall, Janowski vs. Tarrasch, Marco vs. Burn, and Alapin vs. Wolf.

SPORTING COMMENT

The N. A. L. U. clubs are focussing their attention just now on the C. A. A. U., which has, after some untoward hesitation, agreed to consider their application to play matches with professional clubs. As a matter of fact, the N. A. L. U. is bound to arrange matches between its clubs and those of the C. L. A. whether the C. A. A. U. consents or not, but as the N. A. L. U. is affiliated with the C. A. A. U., and as the latter is supposedly in control of Canadian athletics, its permission was sought as a mere formality.

The theory of amateurism is very pretty, but in Canada it is impracticable. If it were literally carried out those who could afford to play various games would be schoolboys on corner lots and people of wealth and leisure. The ordinary chap who has to work for his living would not be able to play. A real amateur, for instance, would buy his own athletic equipment and pay his own expenses in connection with the pastimes to which he might be addicted. Figure it out then how many real amateurs there are in Canada. Conditions do not permit of simon-pure, gilt-edged amateurism.

Considerable latitude must be exercised by the organization that aims to control athletics. The American Amateur Athletic Union, which is occasionally consulted by the C. A. A. U. has to blink at certain phases of college athletics. In a popular magazine this month, a writer who was posted on the subject related how certain famous athletes were induced to attend big universities and how grafts were thrown their way. This writer remarked that out of a dozen poor boys who were petted and feted at Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Pennsylvania universities, because of their athletic prowess, the only legitimate amateur was Matthews, Harvard's football and baseball player. The others were nominally amateurs, but were really pros. The A. A. A. U. could not, or would not, touch them, but nevertheless they had broken the laws of amateurism by accepting positions at college which required no work and commanded large salaries.

In Canada, in an humbler way, similar conditions obtain. How often do you hear of a player changing his place of residence or his allegiance because he is offered a lucrative position? Quite frequently you will admit. He makes no effort to conceal his plans, and the club that is dealing with him makes no effort to conceal its wiles.

Is this amateurism? Why, sure, according to the C. A. A. U., which knows of such cases, yet does not deal with them. The O. H. A. made a few threats last winter to prevent such deals by its clubs, but found the practice so general that an attempt to stop it would be a futile proceeding.

Now, when it is generally known that real amateurism is a myth, why should the C. A. A. U. make any bones about allowing "amateur" and professional clubs to engage in matches? The social standard of either club could not be damaged by sanction being granted. Those fond of lacrosse would see exciting contests and everybody would be happy. The statement that a principle is at stake is all tommyrot, for the principle has been ignored for years.

If the laws governing Canadian athletics were remodelled and then lived up to, talk about principle would be all right, but at present, talk of principle is simply "hot air."

With the publication of the June number Rod and Gun in Canada enters upon the seventh year of its existence. It is surely of good omen that our birthday should come in this glorious month of June—the month of bright promises, the month of trout and bass, the month in which we are realizing a few of our ideals. Our present number will show our readers how far we have progressed, and all of them will realize to some extent as they have perused our last few issues that of late our improvement has been rapid. We may say that our time of anxiety and probation has passed. Rod and Gun in Canada is now an assured success.

In the life of a magazine success is judged from a double standpoint—circulation and advertising. Our circulation has lately gone up by leaps and bounds, and has proved to us the general approval which has followed the widening of the scope of Rod and Gun in Canada. We are now covering the whole of Canada—from ocean to ocean. We are now the organ of information to which our readers may refer for reliable accounts of fishing, shooting, canoeing, camping, and all kindred outdoor physical sports. In this respect we have built up a reputation which it shall be one of our foremost aims to maintain. We are in touch with all Hudson's Bay agents, including those in the most remote northern districts, and with the agents in the sporting territories of Canada covered by various railway systems, and other great transportation companies, and in this way have means of obtaining accurate and reliable information which are unsurpassed.

With such encouragements from both sides we enter upon our seventh year full of courage and determination to make Rod and Gun a sporting magazine second to none in America. In the matter of full and accurate Canadian information already given in our columns month by month we claim that already we take first place. It will not be our fault if in future years we do not make further claims and do our best to justify them.—Rod and Gun.

While the Wilkes family overshadows all other families in the number of fast trotters and pacers produced each year, there are still some great stallions of other families in service to provide outcrosses for the descendants of George Wilkes. Among these horses are Cresceus, 2.02 1-4, the champion stallion; Directum, 2.05 1-4, still holder of the four-year-old record; Direct Hal, 2.04 1-4, the unbeaten son of Direct; Peter the Great, 2.07 1-4, the greatest of the Happy Medium family; Atlantic King, 2.09 3-4, the leading sire of the Almonte family; William Penn, 2.07 1-4, representing the Strathmore family; Ponce de Leon, 2.13, and Prodigal, 2.16, descendants of Woodford Mambrino; Dare Devil, 2.09, belonging to the Mambrino Patchen family, and Star Pointer, 1.59 1-4, Hal B., 2.94 1-2, Hal Dillard, 2.04 3-4, and Star Hal B., 2.04 1-2, Hal Dillard, 2.04 3-4, and Star pacing family.

It is evident that no other family will gain popular favor, but from now on the wise breeders will be careful to go to these other great sires for mares to mate with Wilkes stallions, and for stallions to mate with Wilkes mares.

CRICKET CREASE

BERMUDA XI. BEATEN.

New York, June 21.—By an overwhelming margin of an innings and 164 runs the New York players defeated the Bermuda eleven in the international cricket game, decided at Livingston, Staten Island.

The visitors improved very much at batting, and put up a good game, but they were too far behind at the end of Saturday's play, and played hard for a drawn game. In this they were unsuccessful, as frequent changes of bowling on the New York team prevented any long stand being made, and the highest score of the side was 42. The heat was oppressive in the morning, and the fielders were hard worked during the finish of New York's inning.

CRICKET FOR SATURDAY.

On Saturday next a West India XI., selected by Mr. W. C. Baber, will meet the McGill Club on their grounds. The West Indian XI. will be composed of the following players:—Baber, Richards and Harry, from McGill C. C.; Mayers, Corbin and Glanville, from Westmount C. C.; Simpson and Racker, from Mount Royal C. C.; Fyfe and Dryden, from Victoria, B.C., and Clarke, from Victoria.

STOCKS AND MONEY.

Local Market Fairly Active; Steel and Coal Hold Advance

Though not quite so active as yesterday the local market was again very strong to-day. The Wall Street market showed considerable strength right from the opening, and this undoubtedly lent some assurance to local buyers.

From the character of the trading efforts were being made to get the public to come into the market. Dom. Iron and Steel, Dom. Coal and Detroit United were amongst the strongest features, although not quite as active as yesterday. All three issues held their advances very well, Dom. Iron common selling 24, Dom. Iron pfd. at 74, and the bonds 87 1-4 to 87 3-4. The greater part of the trading in the stock seemed to be for the account of interests identified with the pool that is working in the stocks.

Dom. Coal, which yesterday closed at 80, only scored fractional advances to-day, selling 80 3-4 and 80 1-2. The announcement of the dividend to be paid in Detroit United will be made at the close of the market this afternoon, and it is now regarded as a certainty that an increase will be made. It looks as though quite a few traders have been satisfied with the profit they made in the stock on the advance, and during the past few days have been willing sellers. Most of the transactions nere to-day were at 93. Late in the morning the market showed increased activity and small lots of quite a few issues were in good demand. Twin City sold 110 1-2, and Scotia at 56.

The general opinion seems to be that prices will have to show a further gain of a few points before the public will be induced to come into the market. Several houses report some fairly large sales of bonds.

Wall Street Market

New York, June 21.—Wall street expanded dealings and a number of diversified demands gave an active appearance to the early trading in stocks. The activity and strength centered in a number of specialties. Ontario & Western suddenly spurted to 53, but as it met large realizing sales, the general list was inclined to yield. Later buying became animated, and the market broadened comprehensively. Bonds were irregular.

WALL STREET GOSSIP.

Charles Head & Co. The stock market this morning has been strong and active, influenced by the improvement in London, and the pronounced strength of the U. S. Steel issues. The specialties furnished a considerable proportion of the transactions will be continued heavy dealings in the local tractions, all of which advanced on buying of a good character. There was a good demand for the Pennsylvania group, but Reading was rather heavy, due to the uncertainty in regard to the dividend action to-day, which it is believed will have an important bearing on the immediate future of the market.

Laidlaw & Co.: There were increasing evidences that recent buying of various stocks has come from substantial quarters. The comparative heaviness of Reading put something of a damper on bullish enthusiasm, but the selling of the stock was taken to represent liquidation in anticipation of an increased dividend. As a whole, however, the Pennsylvania group has been a strong feature of the morning's strength. The sharp advance in Illinois Central was accompanied by a story that the stock was being accumulated for voting purposes, and it was further intimated that control of the company has passed to new hands. This, however, was not given serious attention. Speculators have followed the rise with some enthusiasm, believing that as a seven per cent. dividend payer the stock was comparatively cheap. The tractions have shown further strength, and there is still much bullish talk on this group.

J. S. Bache & Co.: Noon. The strength in the market to-day is due more to a change in sentiment here than to foreign buying. London was an important factor, buying early, especially Steels, but the real factor in advancing prices was the ease in money and scattered investment buying. The market is strong and healthy, but no bull movement of magnitude will probably take place until the position of the crops is assured.

Norris B. Bryant: It is believed that leading interests here have arranged for funds to finance large speculative bull operations during the summer, and are ready for aggressive action. London has bought on balance, and outside buying is better. Boston has been covering short contracts, and there is undoubtedly a large general short interest, especially in U. S. Steels, very badly informed revival of buying of bituminous coal is expected after Aug. 1st. There is important accumulation of B. R. T., Smelters, Steels. Buying of Illinois Central on talk of increased dividends.

American Locomotive Co

The directors of the American Locomotive Co. will meet this week to declare the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on the preferred stock. The dividend will probably be payable July 21 to stockholders of record on June 30. There is not the slightest indication that the directors will even consider the matter of inaugurating dividends on the common stock at this meeting.

The directors are still divided as to the advisability of placing the common stock on a dividend basis right away, and for the present it would seem that the opinion of the conservative members of the board would prevail in regard to the matter.

The company's fiscal year closes June 30 and the annual report will be forthcoming during August.

During the past year, a policy of expansion has been pursued. This is borne out by the acquisition of the Rogers Locomotive Works, which is now a valuable asset. The Rogers Works were acquired at a time when they could be used to excellent advantage in turning out a portion of the large business that the company has done during the past few months.

Cotton Outlook

Washington, June 21.—The Weather Bureau's summary of crop conditions issued yesterday says: Further improvement in the condition of cotton is very generally indicated throughout the cotton belt. The crop is now in a good state of cultivation, although some fields continued foul in portions of the central and western districts and in Florida. While, as a result, good growth is reported, the plant continues small. Lice are still prevalent in North Carolina, but are less numerous in South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama. Considerable damage by web worms is reported from Oklahoma and Indian Territory, where some fields are being devoted to other crops. Boll weevils are spreading in Northeastern Texas, but the damage is not great.

"Street" Gossip.

Mrs. S. H. C. Miner leaves to-morrow to visit the plant of the Granby Mining & Smelting Company in British Columbia.

Mr. W. F. Wasley, who for some years has been assistant manager of the Muskoka Lakes Navigation & Hotel Co., was at a meeting of the board of directors appointed to the office of acting manager, with headquarters at Gravenhurst.

Detroit United Earnings Show Large Increase

In view of the fact that the Detroit United Railway directors will discuss the question of increasing the dividends on the stock at its meeting held to-day, from 4 per cent. to 5 per cent. per annum, a consideration of the current earnings of the company is in order.

The statement for May has just been issued, and it makes a very favorable exhibit. Gross earnings which amounted to $430,376, show an increase of $42,253, equal to nearly 11 per cent., and net, which amounted to $178,459 increased $20,873 equal to 13.3 per cent.

For the five months of the current fiscal year gross earnings showed an increase of 12.63 per cent. and net an increase of 26.58 per cent., as compared with the same period in the preceding year. Current operations therefore are showing highly satisfactory results.

The Detroit United was formed in 1900 under the laws of Michigan. The gross profits, net profits, charges and surplus each year have been as follows:

	Gross.	Net.	Charges.	Surp's.
1904.......	$4,541,805	$1,821,490	$1,075,786	$745,704
1903.......	4,386,974	1,811,860	1,000,000	811,860
1902.......	3,961,402	1,731,864	948,912	811,860
1901.......	2,919,171	1,345,470	675,343	670,192
1900.......	2,575,272	1,136,418	616,468	519,751

The directors began dividends on the $12,500,000 of stock in March, 1901, at the rate of 4 per cent. yearly. This rate has been maintained without interruption, and after paying the $500,000 in dividends each year on the stock there has been a comfortable surplus.

It will be remembered that last fall a syndicate under the management of Kean, Van Cortlandt & Co., purchased $8,200,000 of the company's first consolidated mortgage 4½ per cent. 30-year bonds due 1932. It was announced at that time that the sale of these bonds did not involve any new capital expenditures as they were sold for the purpose of refunding $6,585,000 Detroit Citizens' Street Railway first consolidated mortgage 5 per cent. gold bonds falling due July 1, 1905, and to liquidate the floating debt.

The position of the company has been gradually improved during the time the present management has had charge of it. With the increased traffic usually in evidence during the summer months, it is expected that earnings will continue to show increases over preceding years, and that the gross and net results for 1905 will be considerably in excess of any previous year.

Toledo Ry. and Light Co

The May statement of Toledo Railways & Light showed an increase in gross of 8.3 per cent. and an increase in net of 12.7 per cent. Earnings have been running considerably ahead of last year so far this fiscal year, so that for the four months ending May 31 there has been an increase of 8.18 per cent. in gross earnings and an increase of 17½ per cent. in net, while the surplus after charges has increase 55½ per cent. This is an excellent showing.

The current earnings of the company are confirmatory of official statements that Toledo is a growing city, and that so long as the city continues to grow, the traffic is bound to increase. It was only two months ago that the directors placed the stock of the company on a 2 per cent. dividend basis per annum. If earnings continue to show up as well as they have during the past few months, it will be an easy matter to maintain 2 per cent. yearly on the stock.

MEXICAN POWER CO CONCLUDES BIG DEAL

Another Company to be Formed to Purchase Lighting Co's.

At a meeting of the Mexican Light & Power Co., Ltd., held at the Bank of Montreal, at noon to-day, the shareholders authorized the board of directors to enter into all necessary arrangements to incorporate and organize a new Canadian company, to be named the Mexican Electric Light Co., Ltd., which shall acquire the shares and properties of two other companies now doing business in the City of Mexico, viz., La Compania Mexicana de Las Fuerzas Hidro-Electricas de San Ildefonso, S.A., a company organized under the law of Mexico, having a capital of $3,500,000 Mexican and a bond issue of 5,000,000 francs; and also the shares of the capital stock of an English company, owned by Anthony Gibbs, Sons & Co., bankers, of London, having a capital of £560,000 sterling.

The purchase of the shares of the San Ildefonso and Gibbs Company and the liquidation of the San Ildefonso mortgage will require $5,400,000 gold, which will be obtained by the sale of $6,000,000 par value of the bonds of the Mexican Electric Light Co., Ltd., at 90 per cent. of their par value.

The Mexican Light & Power Co., Ltd., will own all of the capital of the Mexican Electric Light Co., Ltd., and will guarantee payment of the principle and interest of the new issue of $6,000,000 par value of bonds. These bonds have already been underwritten at 90 per cent. The interest will require $300,000 per year; but the present net earnings of these two companies are now over $450,000 per year, which will be very considerably increased when the hydraulic power from the Necaxa Falls is substituted for steam power, as coal in Mexico City costs from $10 to $12 per ton.

By carrying out this scheme the entire profits of operating the companies now purchased will accrue for the benefit of shareholders of the Mexican Light & Power Co., Ltd., and the president and directors are confident that it will greatly enhance the value of all holdings of Mexican Securities.

President Diaz and the chief members of the Liberal Government of Mexico have expressed their approval of this scheme of consolidation, and Mr. F. S. Pearson, vice-president and chief consulting engineer of the company, estimates that the net receipts of the three companies, over and above working expenses, will reach $2,000,000 per year, so soon as the Necaxa hydraulic plant is in full operation.

MARKET REPORTS.

Local Fruit Trade is Flourishing; California Fruits Selling Well

Business was brisk at the Montreal Fruit Auction this morning. The receipts, which were fairly large, consisted chiefly of California fruits. A good demand was apparent and the market was strong. Peaches sold at $1.40 to $1.75, plums at $1.75 to $3.40, and apricots at 65c to $1.

The local wholesale fruit trade is reported to be in a flourishing condition. With the advent of warm weather the demand has increased considerably and a good business is now going on, both locally and with outside places. A large amount of California fruit has been received here this spring. Most of this has arrived in good condition and a ready sale has been found for it on the local market.

"Notwithstanding the duty," said a prominent dealer to The Herald this morning, "we are doing as well with California fruit as they are on the American markets."

The season for Cuba pineapples has closed and fine quality pines are now coming from California. The last few shipments of Cuba pines arrived in very bad condition and several dealers lost money on them.

The growth of the local fruit trade has been remarkable. Ten years ago there were few retail fruit establishments in the city, while to-day they are to be found on every large street. A large number of these stores are kept by Greeks and Italians, who have come to this country recently and opened up business. The growth of the trade is due, of course, to increased demand, the consumption of fruit as a staple article of diet being much greater than it was a few years ago.

Tomato Crop Affected

The lateness of the summer and the cool weather which has been existing throughout all the province almost continually during the past month, had caused canners of fruit and vegetables to express some fear for the crops upon which their business depends. Frost has already practically killed the early tomato crop, and although the later crop is more generally used by the packers, the damage done will be felt. Fruits are all bound to be late, a circumstance which has been largely responsible for the unexpected decline in sugar prices lately.

Big Crop Will Mean Increase of Population

It is, therefore, a matter of interest to the world in general, and especially to the people of Canada, that the prospect is very good for an unusually abundant crop in Manitoba, Saskachtewan and Alberta. The yield is estimated as likely to reach ninety million bushels, the excess over that of last year being due in large part to an increase of about five millions in the acreage under wheat cultivation. Of course, the young grain is still liable to serious injury from various causes, but the growth has been rapid, and there is good cause to hope that it will come through unscathed. Should this prove to be the case, we may look for a larger immigration than ever next year from the Western and Northwestern States.

Grain, Flour, Hay

Grain.—There is beginning to be some demand for the new crop of Manitoba wheat, and it is likely that some business will develop within the next few days for shipments in October and November. The demand for oats is strong and high prices prevail, No. 2 white selling at 49½c and No. 3 white at 48½c a bushel.

Flour.—The tone of the market remains firm, in sympathy with the strength displayed in wheat, but prices show no actual change. We quote as follows: Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.40 to $5.60; strong bakers', $5.10 to $5.30; winter wheat patents, $5.50; straight rollers, $5 to $5.15, and in bags, $2.40 to $2.50.

Millfeed.—There was no further change in the condition of the market for millfeed. The demand for bran is limited and as the offerings are increasing, prices rule easy, but shorts rule steady under a continued good enquiry. We quote as follows: Manitoba bran, in bags, $17 to $18; shorts, $20 to $21 per ton; Ontario winter wheat bran, in bulk, $16.50 to $17.50; shorts, $19 to $20; mouillie, $24 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

Oats.—The demand for rolled oats was slow, but prices rule firm at $2.22½ per bag. Cornmeal is unchanged at $1.35 to $1.45 per bag.

Hay.—The tone of the market for baled hay remains about steady, with a fair trade passing on local account, but the demand from outside sources is limited. No. 1, $9 to $9.25; No. 2, $7.75 to $8.25; clover, mixed, $6.75 to $7.25; and pure clover, $6.50 to $6.75 per ton, in car lots.

Country Produce

Beans.—Business in beans is chiefly of a jobbing nature. In consequence the market is quiet, and prices steady at $1.65 to $1.70 per bushel.

Honey.—The demand for honey continues slow, and in the absence of transactions prices are nominally unchanged. We quote: Extracted white clover honey, 7c to 7½c per 10-lb. tin, and 6½c to 7c in 60-lb. tins; buckwheat honey, 6c to 6½c, and white clover comb, 13c to 13½c.

Maple Product.—There were no new features in the market for maple products, which rules quiet and steady. We quote: Syrup, in 60-gallon kegs, 5½c to 6¼c per lb.; in tins, 60c to 65c per wine measure, and 70c to 75c per imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8½c to 9c per lb.

Hops.—The tone of the market for hops remains steady, but the demand is still limited. We quote as follows: Choice Canadians, 28c to 29c, and fair to good at 24c to 25c per lb.

Ashes.—Business in potash is quiet, owing to the continued small offerings, and prices rule about steady. We quote as follows: First sorts, $5.20 to $5.25; seconds, $4.75, and first pearls, at $7.25 per 100 lb.

The Provision Market

The tone of the market for all lines remains steady, with a fair trade passing in smoked meats and lard, on both local and country account, but the demand for pork is somewhat limited at present. A fair trade in a jobbing way was done in abattoir fresh-killed dressed hogs, and prices are unchanged at $9.50 to $9.75 per 100 lb.

We quote:—Heavy Canada short cut mess pork, in tierces, $31.50 to $32.50; heavy Canada short cut mess, $21 to $22; Canada short cut back pork, $19 to $20; heavy Canada long cut mess pork, none; heavy Canada short cut clear pork, $19 to $20; heavy flank pork, $19 to $20; light Canada short cut clear pork, none.

Wheat Markets

At the Chicago market this morning July options opened at 89 and later were quoted at 88 3-4. September options opened at 84 3-4 and later were at 84½. December options were quoted at 84⅜.

At the Winnipeg market $1.00 was bid for June options. For July options $1.02 was bid at opening and later sales were made at $1.04.

Wheat Inspection

Winnipeg, June 21.—The wheat inspections here to-day were as follows:—No. 1 northern, 3 cars; No. 2 northern, 29 cars; No. 3 northern, 17 cars; other grades, 16 cars; no grades, 1 car; total, 66 cars; last year, 59 cars.

Cheese, Butter and Eggs

The receipts of cheese this morning were 22,543 boxes. The market is steady at yesterday's quotations.

The receipts of butter were 5,643 boxes. Business continues on the quiet side and prices are steady at 19½c for choicest creamery.

The receipts of eggs were 1,375 boxes. The market is dull, the demand being rather slow. The receipts are decreasing, but the offerings are still large. Straight receipts were offered at 13½c, f.o.b. west of Toronto, this morning. On the local market straight receipts are quoted at 15½c to 16c.

To-day's Receipts

The receipts by rail and canal this morning were as follows:—

Refrigerator Cars For Shipping Cheese

The Grand Trunk Railway Co. has announced that at the request of the Department of Agriculture, it has undertaken to furnish, where practicable, during the period from July 3 to Sept. 9, refrigerator cars for the carload shipments of cheese to Montreal. When shippers make a requisition for refrigerator cars they will be supplied as far as practicable, and the Government will pay to the extent of $5 per ice car for icing a limited number of cars per week. Any cost for icing over the $5 mentioned is to be paid by the owner of the cheese.

Fraternal Insurance

While the insurance companies are more or less disturbed by reason of the controversy over the control of the Equitable, there is also trouble though of a different kind on the side of the fraternal insurance orders. For instance, one of the largest of these orders, the Royal Arcanum, is at present disturbed by a dispute over new rates of premium which officials of the order have discovered it is necesssary to impose if the order is to continue in existence and pay its death claims. In view of this fact it is of interest to have the following statement of the membership of the leading fraternal insurance societies in this country, which we have compiled from the report just issued of the New Hampshire insurance commissioner:

President J. W. Alexander, of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, is seriously ill at the Metropolitan Club. INSURANCE

ROMINENT INSURANCE MEN.

Mr. Robert Melvin, the president of the Montreal Life Assurance Company of Canada, assumed his present important position in 1897, when he succeeded the late Mr. Bowman. He is the only living member of the original board of directors of the institution which helped to promote its business to such a large extent. It was in return for the valuable services rendered as a director that Mr. Melvin was appointed president. He has been very successful in securing as directors men who have always been active in promoting the interests of the company. Mr. Melvin is also president of the Guelph & Ontario Investment and Savings Society.

A Discount Sale preceding the re-arrangement of stocks and changes of departments which become inevitable when the final thousands of feet of floor space that stand between us and possession of the entire block, are declared by the contractors to be ready for occupancy.

WASH FABRICS---THE SPECIAL

VALUE "HIT" OF THE SEASON

Is undoubtedly the SATINETTE ORGANDIE MUSLINS, which circumstances permit the sale of at

10c and 15c a Yard

Takes a long time ordinarily to sell 20,000 yards of one line of fabrics. In fact we wouldn't buy such a quantity unless there was a decisive monetary advantage in the transaction, which the majority of the public are now ready to affirm exists. We've sold fully three-quarters of the quantity already—mail shoppers being as keen for the bargain as those who are able to visit the store in person.

Presume you know that a quantity has been set apart to supply the demand reaching us by mail or phone. If any of this reserve remains to-morrow evening, though, it will be placed upon the counter Friday morning, when shoppers by mail will have to take chances the same as the personal visitor in securing the pattern they prefer.

Fine sheer weave of Muslin, with rich over stripes of satin. Large and small floral effects, marked out in dainty tones of color. Two qualities.
