This local rally and eight other similar ones will start the C.G.I.T. 50th season. The girls attending will all share the same worship service at the close of the rally with those attending the other rallies who represent nearly 1500 girls in Quebec alone.

All C.G.I.T. groups across Canada, numbering more than 50,000 girls are planning to make their 50th Anniversary one to remember. The Canadian Girls in Training is a Church centered Interdenominational group of the Baptist, Church of Christ Disciples, Presbyterian and United Church. The C.G.I.T. Firemen Have Successful Bingo And Drawing

The local firemen observed Fire Prevention week with a parade in the early part of the week when it was urged that citizens should do all possible to guard against fires and to remove any hazards that may be around. At the same time they sponsored a bingo and a drawing, which was held at Notre Dame School, on October 4th. The winner of the drawing was Mrs. Sidney L. Smith, 16 Hunter Street, Huntingdon, who won $50. A large crowd played bingo and had a very enjoyable time.

The firemen urged the people to practice fire prevention throughout the year and thus cut down on fires and losses by fire. We have been very fortunate here in Huntingdon Town, that we have not had too many fires and those that were have been in the small class. Let's keep it that way and our Town will be the better for it. Nevertheless, if fire does occur, the firemen are ready to do their part and we have some of the best equipment.

It is with deep appreciation that the firemen thank the following for help in donating prizes for their bingo.

Women Seeking Petition To Clean Up TV

Last week The Gleaner Office received a visitor in the person of Miss Ruth Low, formerly with the Dept. of Education and from Montreal. Miss Low, by-the-way, is known to many in this area and visited Huntingdon High School on a number of occasions. Miss Low's purpose in visiting The Gleaner at this time was in connection with a new task she has undertaken. This is to present the "Declaration of Canadian Women, which is Clean Up TV".

A large number of women right across Canada are sponsoring this drive and among the names mentioned we note the following which are of more or less local origin. Mlle Jeannette Bilodeau, Union Representative, Montreal Cottons Ltd., Valleyfield; Mrs. Yvette Melanson, Pres. Union of Hospital Employees, Valleyfield Hosp., Quebec.

The object of the drive is to have a greater study of programmes now being transmitted by television into the homes of all people. A petition is being forwarded to Parliamentary representatives to make the CBC answerable to the Canadian people. It is felt that if many of the programs now being carried were cleaned up, there would be less delinquency and immoral reflection in the children of today. To quote a paragraph in the declaration "The CBC is a publicly owned, tax-supported Corporation. It makes a valuable contribution to our Canadian way of life. Many of its programmes are of commendable quality and content. However, the proportion of good programmes has been steadily diminishing. The constant prostitution of sex and violence for entertainment is lazy, unimaginative, and out of date. It is destructive. The effects are being reflected throughout our whole social structure. "Another closing paragraph reads as follows. "This declaration is the product of the determination of women of conscience to stand firm and to safeguard the God-given values of life. We must have programme content designed for that purpose. One mother said, 'I would not feed my child 80% good food and 20% poison. I object strongly to people with wrong ideas being thrust upon me in my home'."

The closing date for this declaration to be in is October 20th, just about one week from now. If there are people who wish to sign a petition, they are asked to do so and send such to Miss Ethel Gordon, Box 641, Station Q, Toronto, 7, Ontario. Or they could contact the persons named at the beginning of this article or the following: Mrs. C. V. Curtis, 6 McBain, Ormstown, Phone 829-2675; Mrs. F. E. Cleyn, 57 Wellington Street, Huntingdon, Phone 264-2975; Mrs. G. F. Ficko, 482 Frontier Street, Hemmingford, Phone 247-2051; Miss G. Getty, 28 Gordon Street, Valleyfield, Phone 373-3253; Mme. Noel Savoie, 32 Riverfield Street, Nitro, Phone 373-5014.

It may be remembered that The Gleaner had one or two editorials on this very subject a short time ago. It was felt at that time that some form of censorship should be given to programs appearing on the TV. One has the privilege of turning off the program, or turning to another station. However, this is not always an effective remedy of the situation as the same program may be seen on another set at another time, when it would not be turned off or changed. There is only one way and that is to clean up the situation for everyone.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO FARMERS IN THE CHATEAUGUAY VALLEY

The Gleaner would like to do a series of articles on Farms in the Chateauguay Valley which will be 100 years or older by the time of Canada's Centenary. This series would cover the history of these farms from the early days until now and if possible pictures would be used that would fit in with each story.

In order to know where these stories might be obtained, it will be necessary for the owners of the farms to contact The Gleaner with the details they have and the story of their farm and ancestors, also any photographs they may have in their possession which might be used with the story.

It does not mean that The Gleaner promises to produce all such stories, but as many as possible that prove really interesting will be, between now and the centenary. Such farms should have been in the one family line for the period covered to be eligible. The use, or publication of any such story will be at the discretion of The Gleaner Publisher and Editors and their decision will be final.

Write, or phone, or just drop into The Gleaner Office if you decide you have a suitable story. Don't delay.

Family Re-union and 50th Anniversary Celebration

HEMMINGFORD — On Thursday evening, October 8th, at the Frontier Inn in Hemmingford, a happy family re-union took place. All present were descendants of the Ferns family, who originally settled on a farm on Route 52, west of Hemmingford village and now occupied by the Laplante family.

When Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferns of San Francisco wrote of their intention to visit Hemmingford while on a holiday trip across the States and Canada the idea of holding a family party took shape, and what made it all the more delightful was the fact that the dates of their visit almost coincided with another very pleasant celebration, namely, the golden wedding anniversary of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barr. And so, 43 cousins gathered for a pleasant meal and a chat. Susan Deery presented her grandmother, Mrs. Walter Barr, with a pretty corsage and John Barr fastened a boutonniere in his grandfather's lapel. A delicious 50th wedding anniversary cake was cut and congratulations and good wishes were showered on the happy couple. Mrs. Barr's cousin Robert was born in San Francisco, his father having moved there from the old homestead when a young man. Robert and his wife first visited Hemmingford twenty-five years ago, they came for a second visit seventeen years ago, this makes their third visit. They were pleasantly surprised at the changes they found and delighted to meet new cousins. Among those gathered for this celebration were cousins from Plattsburg, Montreal, Huntingdon, Mooers and Franklin Centre and from Hemmingford were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barr and family, Mrs. Mary Jackson, Mrs. Celia Edwards and family and Mr. Fernie Beattie and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Halton Kennedy held 'Open House' for the remainder of the evening in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferns who, after staying over-night with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deery, continued, on Friday, their journey across Canada, over the Rockies and back home down the west coast.

TH.. and THAT in TOWN ...

In Ormstown a new restaurant is expected to locate in the Lallemand block where the Post Office was located for some years ... And an Antique Shop is expected to open soon, also on Lambton St. If and when, the Antique Shop will include a repair shop where people in the community may have an heirloom chair or some other valued antique, repaired.

Thinking about antiques for a moment, one often comes across antique shops, but to our knowledge there has never been one in either Ormstown or Huntingdon. This area is rich in antiques and we firmly believe that such a shop, properly operated and advertised, will be a decided asset to the community when Expo '67 rolls around.

Thanksgiving week-end weather wasn't much to shout about: about 4:40 p.m. Saturday we had our first snow for this autumn and for a while it appeared that it might amount to something, but it all disappeared on Sunday despite the cold wind from the north-west. It was windy and cold all of Monday, but bright and sunny in the morning. Only the hardiest of flowers are living and the leaves have turned and are falling. People with summer homes along Lake St. Francis say the season is over . . . those who didn't move their belongings back to their town homes on Labor Day week-end did so Thanksgiving week-end. We can expect Indian Summer yet for those who still have double windows to put on, but cold weather is not far off.

Young Hurteau from St. Anicet and two friends shot six wild geese Saturday evening. The birds were big and will make delicious eating. Many people from St. Louis de Gonzague, Ste. Barbe, Ormstown, Huntingdon, etc., have reported hearing large flocks of geese at nights. Some say it's early for the birds to be heading south . . . that we're in for a long, cold winter.

Congratulations to Mrs. Tommy McNaughton or Huntingdon who received word on Monday that she was the winner of a new refrigerator. The contest was sponsored by a local store.

And a huge tank truck left Huntingdon shortly after ten a.m. on Saturday on its return trip to Montreal. A couple of miles east of Ste. Barbe the driver lost control of the truck and it rolled over on its side. The driver miraculously escaped injury, but gas or oil poured from the tank in huge quantities and there was considerable danger of fire. Fortunately, nothing like that occurred and in a matter of a few hours the truck was righted and towed away. Damage is estimated at over a thousand dollars.

Workmen were busy laying black top in front of the new service station in Huntingdon on Tuesday. The lights around this station are modern. Just when the official opening is, we don't know.

Don't forget Ormstown High Grad Dance on the 23rd. Official opening the next night, when distribution of prizes will be held.

Graduation Ceremony of Fourth Year High Students 1963-1964 Notre Dame

The Graduation Ceremony of the Fourth Year High Students of 1963-64 took place in Notre Dame High School Auditorium on Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock, with Reverend Father Gilles D'Aoust, Chaplain of Notre Dame School, presiding, in the absence of Monsignor J. A. David, Pastor of St. Joseph's Parish. The ceremony opened with the introduction of the graduates and their young attendants to the large gathering. After the traditional presentation of carnations by the parents, Miss Michele Bourgon, in her salutatory address, extended a cordial welcome to parents, relatives, friends and distinguished guests. Among the latter were Mr. Maurice Marleau, Director of Studies, Salaberry de Valleyfield Regional High School. NITRO NEWS

(Mrs. E. St. Onge)

NITRO — This was a very happy Thanksgiving weekend at the Moon home in the C.A.L. village. Harold arrived home from a tour of duty with the R.C.A.F. in Europe Saturday a.m. During the day he made the rounds of visiting old friends and of course that included us here. Harold and Lawrence were real chums and it did seem strange to have one here and not the other. Did the next best thing tho'. Put through a long distance call to where L. is staying and finally the operator found him and instead of hearing my voice when he answered, he was greeted by Harold. Rather a pleasant surprise.

A week ago Sunday, we had a Presbyterian Rally Day Service at 11.15 a.m. with Mr. Nelson in charge. Quite a number of adults and children were present. This past Sunday, Mr. Nelson was in charge of The Thanksgiving Day Service, also held in the morning. This is the first year I can remember for a long time that the church wasn't decorated with flowers, fruit, vegetables and colored leaves, etc., but the killing frosts of the last week finished everything.

A couple of weeks ago The Venus Revue under the direction of Mrs. Shannon gave their first Show of the new season at the Pre-Libération Camp. We haven't been there since last June, so we found many new folk among some we have met before. We were rather worried about a pianist for this Show but as usual, there was one of the men at the Camp who was a pianist and with the same guitar player and Bob Guerin with his drums we had a real good orchestra. The old standbys were there as usual. Robert and Guy Corneau, Mr. Labelle and his mouth-organ — and he is always popular — Les Majorlaines, Francine Trembley, The Guitarmen, Micheline Loiselle who sings and dances, Henreitta Jolicoeur and Claudine Soucisse, with Claude Cadieux as M.C. and Mrs. Shannon not only directing but taking her place with songs too. Then we had a new orchestra and their music was toe tapping and more than one couple was dancing. They were called "Les Vestons Rouge", three young men with good voices and loads of vim! Lise Tessier was another vocalist with our group.

The pupils move from class to class.

The city itself is a suburban community about 40 miles from New York City with an approximate population of 20,000. There are several shopping and recreational centres but very little industry. Many of the residents find employment in New York and ride the one and one-half hour commuter train morning and evening originally foreseen: the scholarship fees due to other school municipalities and the school furniture. Mr. Crête congratulated Mr. Tessier for an excellent report.

Mr. David, representing the local board on the Regional School Board was asked if there was any new development concerning the rent which will be paid to the local administration by the Regional Board for the use of classrooms. STARK — In loving memory of a dear father, Wm. Fred, who passed away Oct. 12th., 1963.

A wonderful father, a heart of gold,
Few in the world, equal to behold,
He shared all our troubles, he helped us along,
If we all walk in his footsteps, we will never go wrong.
Always in our memories,
Nicol and Gladys.

VANNS — In loving memory of a dear father, Ernest Vanns, who possed away Oct. 14, 1963.

Sunshine fades, and shadows fall,
But sweet remembrance outlasts all.
Daughter and Son-in-law,
Elenor and Arthur Lunna.

VANNS — In loving memory of a dear grandfather and great grandfather, Ernest Vanns, who passed away Oct. 14, 1963.

The rolling stream of life flows on.
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice and smile.
Of one who once sat there.
Grandchildren,
Albert and Eileen.
Great grandchildren,
Ruth, Helen, Frank,
Carol and Neil.

That's the word a local couple used to describe this amazing Restaurant-Motel, just 30 miles from here.

Atmosphere like something from a Hollywood Movie. Dundee

DUNDEE — The October meeting of the Dundee W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. N.D. McPhee. Guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Harold Robertson, the County President, who spoke about important items of business discussed at the Annual Convention in June. She explained about some of the regulations in effect concerning unsightly car dumps. Many owners of these cemeteries are endeavouring to put order into chaos and thus make Canada lovelier. She was able to tell something about the McLennan Travelling Library also about some retarded children she had seen in special schools and the care and help they are being given. Mrs. Robertson also told about the Fashion Show she saw at the Convention, clothes made and modelled by W.I. members.

Mrs. T. Stowell gave the outline for Agriculture concerning ways in which W.I. members could improve the appearance of the countryside.

Mrs. E. Gardiner read some interesting facts about immigration statistics.

Miss Theima MacMillan told that the government education allowance for 16 to 18 year olds was to be given for 12 months instead of 10 as previously. Also that she had sent away 50 lbs. of books and 5 lbs. of magazines to the W.I. and to the Northern Quebec W.I. Branches. Mrs. J. Platt warned the members to refrain from letting papers collect and to be carefui of matches, mice can wreck havoc with both.

Mrs. H. Ferguson suggested that the Branch make layettes for the Unitarian Service while Mrs. Gardiner read a letter asking for used clothing to be sent to this same place. The secretary also read a letter from the Canadian Cancer Society saying that it was cheaper to buy bandages for the cancer patients than to use old cotton. A representative would be sent to the Branch to explain how we could help the Society in other ways.

Mrs. A. Fraser told how other Branches were exchanging visits and ideas. Mrs. McPhee served a delicious supper to the members and guests at the close of the meeting.

On Saturday, Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm Marston and children of Greenfield Park, celebrated Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ferguson spent last Friday at the Plowing Match in Peterborough.

Mr. Chas. Fraser and Mr. Lisle Watterson also spent a couple of days at this annual event.

Mrs. A.H. Fraser and family spent Friday at the Cockerline home in Henrysburg.

Barrie and Ann Fraser also Miss Shirley McNicol of Macdonald College spent the holiday weekend at their respective homes.

Nitro

Last Friday evening, Jacques (Jackie) Wendover showed some of the many beautiful slides he took of his trip to the Pacific Coast, at the church. Too bad more adults weren't interested as these slides of Jackie's are never just pictures as an amateur would take. The children got tired so I went home with Mrs. Meuller where I wouldn't get the interruptions I always get here and watched for another hour or more. I'm quite sure I'll never be able to have a trip out West but I'll remember those pictures for a long time.

Obituary

Mrs. Cosgrove Dies After Long Illness; Rites Held Monday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Cosgrove, 85, widow of Frank H. Cosgrove of Fort Covington who died Friday morning, Oct. 2, were held from St. Mary's church Oct. 5.

A Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the pastor, the Rev. Thomas J. Robillard. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Morris L. Dwyer of Bombay served as deacon and the Rev. Fr. Amorosa of Malone, as subdeacon.

Interment was in St. Mary's parish cemetery.

Prior to the rites the body was in repose at the Cosgrove Funeral Home.

Mrs. Cosgrove passed away at the Alice Hyde hospital where she had been a patient at the convalescent home for several years. She was born in Fort Covington on April 24, 1879 a daughter of the late James and Mary McCarthy Courtney, and spent her entire life in this town. Her husband who predeceased her in 1957 owned and operated the Cosgrove Funeral Home for many years, and an electrical applicance store. Interested in civic affairs he had served as Fort Covington village mayor for 28 years, and this interest in community life Mrs. Cosgrove shared, as well as in local Democratic politics. She was an inspector of elections for many years. Her father had for years been a funeral director here and it was from him her husband assumed the business. She was a very gracious lady.

Surviving are one brother John Courtney, Fort Covington and three nephews, James and William Smythe of Huntingdon and Raymond of Pointe Claire; one niece, Margaret Utica.

Pallbearers were Cameron Farquhar, Bert Fish, Levi Smythe, Edward Cosgrove, James Dempsey and Jimmy Smythe of Huntingdon.

One Man's Family—Tom Leahy Route 52, Builds A Grotto In Memory Of It

Tom Leahy, who lives on his farm on Route 52, not far from Hemmingford, is now over 70 years old, yet he is actively working around the farm and presently engaged in building what he says is a monument to his family. The farm has been in the family for 241 years and Tom is proud of his Irish ancestry.

The Gleaner went out to Hemmingford recently to visit Tom and we must say he does not look his 70 odd years for he is quite spry and when offered a lift back to his house after showing the photographer and reporter around the farm, he refused, and said he preferred to walk the distance.

We can only say that he is a remarkable man and built of sturdy stuff. We shall have more to write on this a little further on in this article.

When we arrived, Tom was working on the outside of his log house, putting it into better shape and so on. He stopped as we drove in behind the house and came forward. He recognized our photographer, both as he had been there before and because his home is not too far away. The Reporter introduced himself and stated the purpose of his visit. Whereupon he was invited into the house, where Tom lives alone at this time.

Tom straightway started into a description of his ancestors and how they came to be on the farm and so forth and of course the reporter was deeply interested both in the story and the way this man rattled it out from memory and without reference to notes of any kind or pausing to reflect on the dates and so forth. Now here is the first part of his story.

Michael Leahy and his wife Mary O'Rourke, came from County Kerry, Ireland to Hemmingford, Que., in the year 1723. They brought with them a map of Ireland and which is still with the Leahy family to this day. They came to this very farm and it was taken as a grant of land and was a thick bush, or woods.

The second generation was Andrew Leahy and his wife Hannorah Devine. The third generation was Patrick Leahy and his wife Joanna McBride. The fourth generation was Tom Leahy and his wife Helen Dowd and they have carried on to this day, 241 years after the farm was first settled.

This hardy bunch of pioneers worked the land and raised dairy cattle after they cleared some part of the land from bush. They made good use of all the timber on the land and the house in which we found Tom Leahy, is built from logs that were cleared from that land. A barn and a hay mow were also constructed of the same material. In the case of the house the logs were dove-tailed at the corners and the timbers are as good today as they ever were. In the case of the barn, the logs were held together by wooden pegs driven through them. All of this speaks well for the workmanship and the thrift of these pioneer settlers. The logs in the house and the barn are of cedar, while the original covering on the roof was shaved shingles, at present there is a new roof of metal. Beneath the house is an earth cellar and the pillars which hold up the house are of cedar and probably 14 to 16 inches in diameter and still in excellent condition.

Tom said the farm in those early days was worked by oxen and the early settlers would carry a sack of grain on their backs to the grist mill about a half mile away, to be ground. Tom's grandfather, Andrew Leahy, was killed in the barnyard on the farm by one of his own bulls.

Out back of the house is a well which is still being used today that was dug and cribbed in the early days of the farm. Tom showed us the well which has several feet of water in it and cribbed with stone that was taken from the farm over 200 years ago. He showed us a wooden butter bowl that was brought to this country by the original settlers from County Kerry. He also showed a hammer of the same vintage.

Tom was married to Helen Dowd in 1923 and they have five children: Ernest of Bernard, N.Y.; Ray, Principal of Dannemora High School, N.Y.; Bernice, (Mrs. Robert Arnett) Teacher Peru Central School, N.Y.; Shirley (Mrs. Michael Nichols) Sayre, Penn., and Carl, student, State Teachers' College, Plattsburgh. To this family the farm is home. However, Tom decided to retire in 1960 and went to Plattsburgh to live, working as an engineer for the hospital there. He rented the farm meantime.

Some time later, in his seventieth year he got the urge to return to the farm and he felt he wanted to do something to make a lasting memory to this old Irish family. He consulted with members of his own family and they gathered at the farm to hear what he proposed to do and to approve of the plan.

It was thus that Tom started to work to build what he calls "Rockhaven", Actually "Rockhaven" forms a frontage to the farm on Route 52 and can be seen by all who wish to view it. The original land at this point came down in a slope toward Route 52. Tom had the plan in his mind and he set to work with a wheelbarrow, pick, shovel, stone hammer and a crowbar and began to create "Rockhaven" as an everlasting monument to his own family and his ancestors. He said he wanted to leave something of lasting memory. It has been decided that if the other part of the farm is ever sold, that this particular part of it will never be sold with it, but will remain for ever a spot where members of the family and of their families may come and picnic and so forth and be able to say that their father, or their grandfather, built this with his own hands in memory of them.

So 70-year-old Tom Leahy started on May 26th, 1963 to construct what might be termed this Grotto. While it is not a cavern, it is made from rock and stones and decorated in various manner and is coolness and pleasure being as it is in the midst of trees with moss banks and slopes. He cut away the sloping farmland from the roadway of Route 52 until he had a bank about five feet high. As he did this, he made use of all the material taken from the excavation. The earth was used to fill and level around. The stones and rocks were used to build a stone wall in front of the embankment. He used the pick and shovel only in this work and he worked alone in all that he did, so it was truly by his own efforts that everything was done. He has about one hundred linear feet of stone wall constructed around this solid embankment and it is made in a series of curves. One of the curves leads to what Tom calls "Golden Gate" while at the side and rear is another part that he calls "Brenner Pass". This latter still remains to be finished. Tom conducted us through Brenner Pass up and around Rockhaven and through Golden Gate. Special signs mark these particular places as does one which carried the name "Rockhaven".

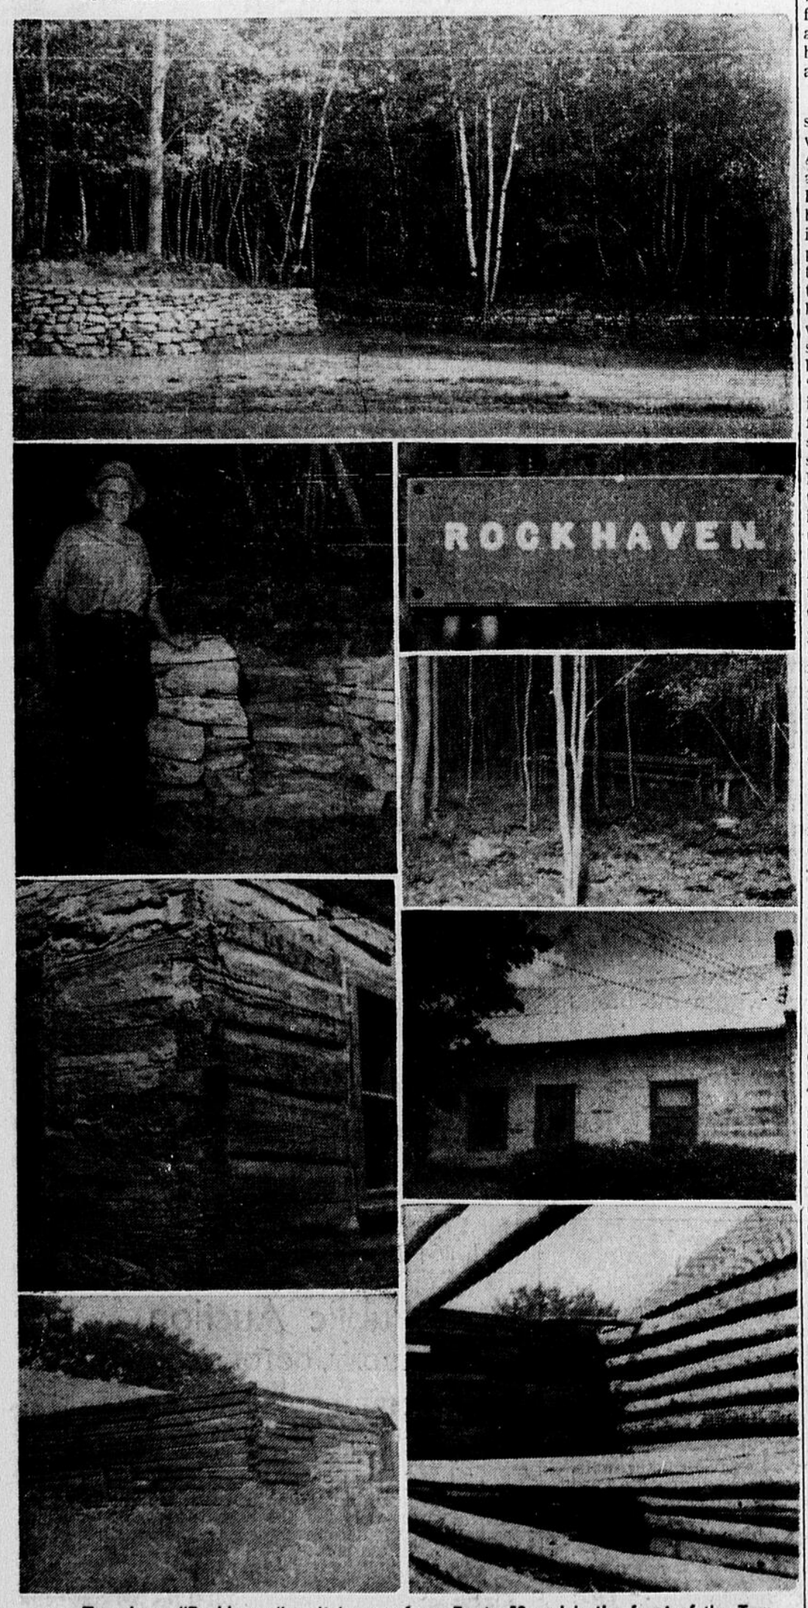

In order to build the wall, it was necessary not only to clean the rocks and stones, but also to break and shape them to fit into the wall. Many of these were dug from the bank and were quite large and had to be split and so forth. This is particularly true as to the stops which lead into "Golden Gate" and "Brenner Pass". The whole is terraced and at the back of the terrace more flat rocks have been embedded into the earth to form a background. Along a narrow ridge at the top of the stone wall, plants have been planted which in due time will bloom and make a flower garden in the earth just behind the wall. Set in the trees is a large picnic table, which Tom says is for the use of his family whenever they wish to use it. As a matter of fact this has already taken place on several occasions of late. Some of the smaller brush is still to come out to tidy up the site and some grassing and perhaps some more levelling will be done.

It is truly a great accomplishment for a man Tom's age and he has a right to be proud of his handiwork. He was told he was foolish, that a bulldozer could be brought in there and clear it all up in a matter of an hour or so. But Tom wanted this to be done entirely by himself and from the materials available on the farm and at the site. Even the sledge hammer that he used to break the rocks belonged to his grandfather. To raise the rocks into place in the wall, some of which are quite large and heavy, he used a large plank to roll them to the place and then gradually raised the plank with the stone on it to the point where he wanted to put it and then eased it into place in the wall. The wall leans slightly toward the earth bank and this is so that it will not topple outward.

While Tom says "Rockhaven" is for his family, he does not mind people looking at it and perhaps even making use of the picnic table, so long as they leave it tidy and do not abuse it in any way. However, he will not take any responsibility for any person using it, or for any injury any may sustain while there, it is entirely at their own risk as it is private property and not actually open to the public. Some people have used it, thinking that probably is what it is for. They also have left their litter there and Tom does not like this at all.

In another part of this newspaper will be found pictures in connection with this article and which will show the wall and grotto.

ROCKHAVEN ON ROUTE 52 NEAR HEMMINGFORD

Top shows "Rockhaven" as it is seen from Route 52 and is the front of the Tom Leahy Farm. The wall is seen and it is this that Tom Leahy built with his own labour. Lower left, Tom Leahy is shown standing by the stone wall he built. On the right is the signboard bearing the name of the "Grotto" which is built to the memory of the Leahy Family. Underneath that is a view of the picnic table situated in and under the trees. On the left is a corner view of the house which is over 200 hundred years old and shows the logs of which it is built. Careful viewing will show how the logs are dove-tailed together at the corners. On the right is front view of the house, the logs are not so plainly seen here as they have been filled in and painted. On the left is what is left of an old log built barn. The timbers are quite large and about 35 feet in length. It is being dismantled to-day and the timbers have been spoken for by a number of persons who want to make cedar chests. On the right is a close-up of the barn and the timbers. Each one is pegged through with wooden pegs to hold the whole together. See story elsewhere in this issue of The Gleaner.

Town Tax Rates Decrease Appreciated

THE general concensus of opinion with regard to the recent announcement that Huntingdon Town Council had set a rate of taxation which reduced the previous rate by 4 mills was a move in the right direction.

In these days of higher costs and increases in prices of almost everything, it is indeed a splendid change to hear of something being reduced. There will be no actual loss to the Town by this reduction, the people will not suffer through a loss of services and such. This decrease can be allowed because the Town actually receives a windfall that it previously had not enjoyed. By this we mean the Sales Tax receipts which have been received by the Town and will be received at regular intervals in the future. These receipts are governed by the flow of sales within the town and can be large, or small, according to the volume of business done by the merchants of Huntingdon.

This extra revenue coming in as it does now, should be used to the benefit of the taxpayer and what better way than a reduction in taxes for all property owners. A lower tax rate could also have a booming effect, by there being more houses built and so forth.

The reduction of 4 mills, means 40 cents per hundred dollars, or $4 in the thousand on the valuation of properties within the Town. Thus the tax rate will be getting back down to where it was a number of years ago and when a number of the services available today were not in existence, or were only partially so. It is to be hoped that future commitments will not cause the rate to be raised higher but that perhaps some more of this sales tax money can be used to offset the money that may be required. The Town Council is to be congratulated for presenting this saving to the people. It is hoped that other savings may be watched carefully also.

The Queen Has Performed Her Duty

IT is with a sigh of relief that the visit of Queen Elizabeth II to Quebec has been carried out without mishap to her. There were sad to say, incidents which reflected on the visit, but she was shielded from them. However, she was not directly involved in any of them and no harm came to her.

However, while the officials did all in their power to protect Her Majesty, the incidents and the poor greeting given to her, will leave a bad memory of her visit. Previous to this the visits of this Queen have been of jovous remembrance and have been gay throughout from start to finish. In this case the visit started out very well in Charlottetown, P.E.I. and the public was overwhelming in their greeting there. Tight guard and restrictions were in evidence. When the visit came to Quebec the safety restrictions were quite tight and public appearances were few, screening of all persons was very thorough. The Queen must have been aware of all this although she did not show it, must have felt some apprehension all the time she was here. She must also have heard of the incidents that were in disfavor of her coming to Quebec. The absence of decoration in the streets and the quiet bystanders, must have shown up in contrast to the Charlottetown reception.

There is much that could be said about all this, but perhaps it would not be wise. It is possible that as time goes on there will be repercussions that will have their settings in this visit. It is too bad that the Queen should have to come into such an atmosphere. Whatever the feeling against the visit, she is not to blame. She is the victim of a feud that was before her time, something she had nothing to do with or did even her immediate ancesters. Those who raised their voices against the visit, only know what they have been told, for it is doubtful if any of them have firsthand knowledge of their own complaints.

However, the visit has been made and the Queen has done her duty in her usual gracious manner. She gave no sign that anything than what would be usual was taking place and she carried out her duties to the last letter.

Nuclear Warheads

A report from Ottawa a few days ago offers a good example of how effective the passage of time can be in reducing excitement and anger.

Military officials were quoted as saying nuclear warheads have recently been provided for the Honest John artillery rocket, one of the weapons used by our 6,300-man motorized infantry brigade in West Germany.

Six squadrons of low-level jet bombers also stationed in Germany under NATO also have nuclear bombs. And 56 Bomarc anti-aircraft missiles at North Bay, Ont., and La Macaza, Que., were fitted with nuclear tips early this year.

This leaves only 48 jet interceptors at four bases across Canada to get their warheads — Genie rockets due to be delivered next year — to complete Canada's commitments to go nuclear.

And it all seems to be happening with little public reaction.

True, there was a 48-hour sitdown demonstration by 51 ban-the-bombers at La Macaza early in September, and their charges that R.C.A.F. police treated them with brutality are under investigation.

But this is a far cry from the excitement only 18 months ago when Parliament and the country was deep in the nuclear debate.

Three ministers in John Diefenbaker's Progressive Conservative cabinet resigned, protesting what they said was indecision if defence policy. Then defeat on a vote of confidence forced an election.

Lester Pearson took office as another minority prime minister, promising to fulfil what he said were commitments made by Canada several years earlier to play a nuclear role in North American defence; commitments that Mr. Diefenbaker denied were ever made.

There are many Canadians who don't like the idea of having nuclear warheads stored in this country, but they don't seem to be as vociferous as they were during the 1963 election campaign.

Perhaps they're pinning their hopes now on Mr. Pearson's promise to undertake negotiations that will in time relieve Canada of its nuclear responsibilities. Or perhaps they feel that with the Soviet Union abandoning the bomber as means of attack, jet interceptors and Bomarcs will soon be useless as defence weapons.

Whatever the reason, it seems evident that time is a great healer and that, sometimes, if you wait long enough the problem that stirred you up in the first place will gradually work itself out.

Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC — Most Separatist literature is no longer so enthusiastic about terrorism or "instant revolution."

Instead, the emphasis is on tactics and organization in an attempt to spread propaganda for separating Quebec from the rest of Canada and to build mass support for the movement.

Most of the support for Separatism now comes from classical college and university students and graduates and gets sympathy from white collar workers who feel their advancement is thwarted because their employers are not French-Canadians.

Parti Pris, a monthly Separatist publication, changed course this fall after giving at least moral support to the terrorist movement for seven issues and building its circulation up to about 4,000.

The magazine, written by young university graduates, came out with a new policy in favor of building an organization capable of making contact with the "masses." It said its previous policy of doing battle with such fellow French-Canadian intellectuals as the authors of Cite Libre was mistaken.

Cite Libre was founded by liberal Roman Catholics about 10 years ago with the aim of battling Maurice Duplessis' Union Nationale regime. Cite Libre constantly attacks the totalitarian socialism expounded by Parti Pris, which is roughly translated as "committed."

The self-styled Marxist-Leninist (independent) authors or Parti Pris now feel they can best expand their influence by documentation of the true state of the "masses" in Quebec. The latest issue seeks to prove that news disseminated by newspapers, radio and television is biased in favor of the "colonialist" Anglo-Canadian-American majority.

Quebec Libre, former organ of Le Front Republicaine Pour L'independance, has also modified its policy and now seeks to speak for most groups seeking independence for Quebec. While constant references are made in both Quebec Libre and Parti Pris to jailed terrorists, support for their violent tactics is missing.

L'independance, organ of Le Rassemblement Pour L'independance Nationale, the biggest Separatist group which claims 7,000 members, has never supported violent tactics and appears to be basing its hopes on electoral methods.

The clandestine cognee. (hatches) organ of the terrorist Front de Liberation Quebecois, has dealt with methods of organizing demonstrations in its latest issues. If it contains even a hint of propaganda for "instant revolution," it is so veiled that members of the police anti-terrorist squad have had to seek legal advice to determine whether the news sheet is seditious.

The Separatist consensus appears to be that dynamite blasts and arms thefts are not winning support for the cause from the people of Quebec. Perhaps some of them are even wondering whether the Guevara's book about guerrilla tactics, eminently successful in semi-tropical Cuba, makes any sense at all in a province which is so cold most of the year and in which it is so hard to live off the fat of the land.

SUGAR AND SPICE
Birthday With A Bang

Not long ago, I attended a banquet at which John Fisher, the guest speaker, was extolling Canada's centennial year, which is just around a couple of extremely sharp corners.

Bill Smiley

Mr. Fisher is an eloquent speaker, a consummate orator. A few years ago, when he was blazing across the country delivering fiery, poetic speeches about this land of ours (at about $100 a whack), he was given the title "Mr. Canada."

Unfortunately, he ran out of service clubs and things. Now he works for the government. The talent is still there. The golden tongue still wags with passion and brilliance, still throbs with sincerity and hope.

But the audiences have changed. They used to listen with open mouths, shining eyes, as Mr. Fisher told them what a great country they lived in. They used to float homeward after the banquet, on the purple carpet he had spun. And even the job of fixing the furnace, putting the milk bottle out on the ice-covered porch, and climbing in with a hair-in-curlers, face-in-grease mate didn't dispell the vision.

Now, however, his audiences listen with that careful apathy, that controlled wariness with which the honest, dour Canadians always listen to anybody connected with the government. Such as the Minister of Finance explaining in jolly fashion why taxes are good for us.

At this banquet I mentioned, John Fisher was trying to drum up enthusiasm for "Centennial Projects", with which he is connected. I watched the listeners. In the midst of his highest flights, they sat as though carved of stone, with the exception of two or three who had that faraway, wistful look of people who have to go to the bathroom.

Admitting that there were some municipalities whose idea of a hot centennial project was to decorate the town clerk's office, or put an extra cell in the jail, Mr. Fisher assured that there were many others with bold, imaginative schemes for libraries, art centres, musemums and other worthy and lasting monuments.

Which brings to my thesis, patient and gentle reader. What has your municipality planned as its centennial project?

Don't forget now. The government puts up two bucks for every dollar the municipality will spend. Never mind where the government gets the two bucks. That's beside the point.

If it works as it should, Canada will have a 3,000-file ribbon of opera houses in which nobody sings, theatres which nobody attends, swimming pools that Hayfork Centre can't afford to operate, libraries with no books in them, and museums full of junk out of people's attics and cellars, but never full of people.

Is that what Canadians want, to celebrate the centenary of an event that nobody understands, except a few history teachers? Fie on us!

Why don't we show a little real imagination, throw a party that will resound throughout the world, then forget the whole thing. There's nothing very thrilling about being 100 years old, anyway.

Let's see. Instead of piddling around with thousands of grants to municipalities, the government, for one year, could double pensions to the old, the veterans and the widows, treble the baby bonus, and declare a twelve-month holiday from income taxes. That would put the population in the right frame of mind for the celebration.

Employers could forego all profits for a year and grant an extra two weeks vacation with pay. Municipalities could set aside a special fund for beer and dancing in the streets.

Every day in the year could be Leap Year, as far as spinsters go. And some of them would go far. Teenagers could all be locked in special compounds for a year, fed well, and released on New Year's day, 1968.

All babies born during centennial year would be guaranteed a free university education. Divorce, for one year only, would follow the Moslem pattern, in which the husband merely says, three times, "I divorce thee."

During the twelve-month, anyone who mentioned the word "flag" would be impaled and then roasted over a slow flame during the evening fireworks display. Anyone who breathed "national anthem" would be given a one-way ticket to Moosonee.

There would be national holidays every Monday, Wednesday and Fridays, with weekends as usual. For one year, children would be seen and not heard.

The possibilities are limitless. These are just a few suggestions. Send yours along. Let's forget those crumby projects and have a hundredth birthday party we'll never forget.

25 YEARS AGO

October 18, 1939

Election Candidates

Mr. H. A. D. Somerville of Hemmingford was selected as the standard bearer of the Union Nationale party for Huntingdon County in the Provincial election at a meeting at the County Building on Wednesday.

Romeo Fortin of Howick, is seeking election in the County of Chateauguay on a Liberal ticket. He will be opposed by Auguste Boyer, Union Nationale candidate.

More Mechanized Farming

About the middle of August there were introduced to the farmers of the Chateauguay Valley the thresher combines. On the farm of Mr. Bruce Ness at Howick farmers gathered to watch the Massey-Harris combine at work while on the farm of Eugene Legault at Kensington the combine of the McCormick-Deering was demonstrated.

Farm Sold

Mr. T.E.P. Pringle of Boston, Mass., was in Huntingdon last week making arrangement for the sale of his farm at Boyd Settlement. This farm was formerly operated by his brother, Mr. W.L. Pringle, who died about a year ago. The farm has been sold to Mr Clarence E. Dahms, B.Sc., Agr., who graduated from Macdonald College last spring.

"COUNTRY NOTEBOOK"

BY WALKER RILEY

"Country Notebook" by Mr. Walker Riley, Agricultural Extension Specialist with Macdonald College, appears in The Gleaner with this edition. The column will be a weekly feature which we trust will be of interest to all in the Chateauguay Valley.

I found the Beef-Feeders Sale at Coaticook a very encouraging development. This is its second year. Quality and quantity were both considerably improved over last.

Prices were lower, just as expected in view of the overloaded market, but even at that, there were some good bids. The top animal sold for 27 cents lb., and the best pens of feeder calves went for 20 cents and over.

The price spread between the best and poorer animals, however, was very noticeable. We saw some pens of lightweight calves going for less than 14 cents. If I had a barn-full of hay, or a silo full of corn, I know I would have been taking as many as I could home. How could I lose? At that level, by this time next year when they are ready for market, the price can only go up. Just two years ago, feed lot operators were paying 28 cents for animals they expected to sell for 25 cents, depending on weight gain alone to make the profit.

Most of the buyers appeared to be local, often taking one animal at a time. I did not see any agents for out-of-province feed lots bidding. We can look for these chaps when they can come and be sure of finding two or three uniform truckload lots to take home. And that time will come only when there are a thousand or more animals consigned to the sale. The organizers of the sale are working hard toward that goal; they need full support to put the sale "over the hump", and I think they will get it.

It still bothers me that there isn't a stronger market for feeder cattle right here since Quebec imports so much meat. I am told that feed lots have not developed locally because there is no sure supply of low-cost home grown grain for fattening. But it has been shown that the acreage of barley can be greatly increased. And in the south-west corner of Quebec, there is no good reason against a great expansion in grain corn.

Dr. Bob Brawn, the College's corn expert, and I did a quick tour through the Chateauguay Valley the other afternoon and came back feeling very encouraged. In spite of the late frosts last spring and the extremely dry weather, there are corn crops which should go 80 or 90 bushels per acre. We saw poor crops too, but always there was some obvious mistake which may be avoided next year. Maybe we shall yet see a few good feedlot-corn enterprises in that area. Then there will be a market for those who have calves to sell in the rest of the province.

It is really surprising how pessimistic we periodically allow ourselves to be over cattle prices. The market has been following a rhythmetic ten-year cycle since time immemorial and still we get fooled. When prices are good, we decide we should be in the beef business and stock up. Then all those extra calves start coming on the market. The price drops. We get panicky and sell them. So does everyone else. We lose our shirts. Then the market is short of beef. The pendulum swings and we start all over again. It takes just about ten years for the pendulum to make one complete swing. It seems to me the smart thing is to go in opposition to the pendulum.

The Development of Regional School Facilities

Continuation — Part II

Second Part — Planning For Investment Financing

A. Context

In accordance with the general objectives which it is pursuing in order to improve the financial situation of school boards, the government is seeking appropriate solutions to the two following types of problems:

1) financing of operations;
2) financing of investments.

Regarding the financing of operations, the Prime Minister announced the government's new policy in his speech to the Legislative Assembly on January 17th, 1964. This policy includes two main provisions as follows:

1) the financing of operating deficits by means of deficit grants;

2) the formulation of a new system of statutory grants in terms of normalization of local tax effort already under way and the progressive normalization of school boards' expenditures.

This policy will be worked out by the Department of Education in the light of the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Education and in consultation with the interested groups as represented on the Planning Committee on Educational Development which will shortly become active.

The scope of the present document is limited to the financing of school board's capital investments.

In this connection, the government has, by means of building grants, provided financial aid based on each school board's particular needs. But, as the investment requirements for carrying out the plans for educational development and school facilities become apparent, the division of financial contributions between the government and the school boards must be reviewed.

In this perspective, the government has developed a new plan to provide for the financing of school boards' capital investments. This policy has two objectives:

1) to minimize delays in formulating and acting upon plans for regional school facilities;

2) to increase the government's construction grants to school boards for this purpose.

B. The New Policy for Financing Investments

From now until April 1967, the government will pay in cash and in full the cost of school boards' capital investments for vocational training. This policy will apply not only to investments undertaken from and after the present fiscal year but also those made since 1st April 1961.

As to capital investments for general education, the government will continue to make construction grants in accordance with the financial needs of each school board, and the payment of these grants will be spread over a number of years.

As compared with the policy hitherto in force, this new policy constitutes a radical change in the following three respects:

1) the nature of expenditures subject to grants;

2) the percentage of grants;

3) the times at which grants are paid.

1.—The Nature of Expenditures Subject to Grants

Whatever the type of education for which they are intended, capital expenditures subject to government grants will hereafter include the construction costs of buildings, the cost of outside improvements, of furniture and equipment and professional fees.

Up to now, only the cost of the building itself was used as the basis for a grant.

2.—The Percentage of Grants

Regarding the percentage of grants, the new financing policy makes a clear distinction between investments for vocational training and those for general education:

a) expenditures for vocational training will be subject to a 100% grant;

b) expenditures for general education will continue to be subject to grants in a proportion which will vary according to the needs of each school board as at present.

3.—The Times at which Grants are Paid

Here again, a distinction is to be made between investments for vocational education and investment for general education.

In the first case, the grants will be paid as soon as the expenditures are incurred by the school board.

In the second case, the grants will continue to be spread over a period of years as is now the case.

C. The Financial Implications of the New Policy

1.—For School Boards

Following the recommendations of the Study Committee on Technical and Vocational Education, the Dept. of Education expects that, in the future, about 50% of pupils at the high school level in schools under the jurisdiction of school boards will be enrolled in vocational training courses. Furthermore, the per-pupil cost of school facilities for vocational education is about three times as high as that for general education. Taking these two factors into account, it is estimated that expenditures for vocational education schools will represent, on the average, about 75 per cent of the capital costs of school boards for pupils at the high school level.

For the 1964-1965 school year, it is estimated that school boards' building costs at the high school level will amount to about $32 million. Of this amount, about $24 million will thus be allocated to vocational training facilities and about $8 million to general education.

According to the grant system hitherto in force, the government would have awarded grants equal, on the average, to 65 per cent of the total investment and would have spread the payment of such grants over periods of up to 10 years, depending on the size of the grant, following the completion of the building.

The payment of grants by instalments has obliged school boards to finance the full amount of the building costs by means of long term bond issues. The school boards have thus generally, over the period of the loan paid out an amount approximately equal to double the initial cost. The grant thus represented only a third of the final cost.

Under the new financing policy, school boards will receive in cash grants the whole of the $24 million to be invested in facilities for vocational education, or 75 per cent of the total investment of $32 million estimated for education at the high school level. They will thus be required to undertake long term financing for only 25 per cent, on the average, of their total capital investment.

Moreover, they may receive additional grants for general education facilities, the amounts of which will vary according to the school board's needs and which will be paid by annual instalments.

It must also be remembered that the new policy applies to capital expenditures incurred by school boards since April 1st, 1961. The expenditure for vocational training facilities from 1961 to 1964 amount to about $63 million. Under the system already in effect, the government has paid about $26 million in grants towards such expenditures. According to the new policy, it will therefore have to pay to these school boards this year the balance of about $37 million. As the school boards who have incurred these capital expenditures have financed them by means of bond issues with fixed maturities, the government will arrange, in consultation with such boards, the methods of payment and application of such grants.

The two estimated amounts of $24 million (investment in facilities for vocational education foreseen for the year 1964-1965) and $37 million (balance to be paid on investments for vocational education from 1961 to 1964-1965) total $61 million in all. As an amount of $11 million provided in the regular budget is available for this purpose, the balance of about $50 million which the government will pay to school boards during the present fiscal year must be provided for in a supplementary budget.

2.—For the Government

Under the Federal-Provincial Agreement on Technical and Vocational Education to which Quebec is a party, the provincial government will recuperate three-quarters of the amount it will pay to school boards in grants for vocational training facilities. In accordance with the policy of the Quebec government announced by the Prime Minister at the Federal-Provincial Conference in March 1964, this agreement, limited to the period from 1961 to 1967, is one of those which Quebec intends to make use of to recuperate all of the amounts to which it is entitled.

This new policy of financing capital expenditures will make it possible to build up over a period of three years the basis of a network of regional school facilities in line with the needs of the province of Quebec. Planning for this development will assure the rational carrying out of the operations involved.

The plans for regional school facilities will serve as standards for the approval of construction projects by the Department of Education: the participation of the Department in the investments made by school boards for purposes of general and vocational education will also be conditional on such plans.

Thus, within a relatively short time, we will establish a regional school system which will be in line with the basic objective of our present educational policy: to make available to all young people, in all regions, education adapted to their aptitudes and their ambitions as well as to the requirements of the economic and cultural development of Quebec.

Gault School News

By Mary Clandinan

Our Gault Student Council began its work last Friday and Saturday evenings by holding two "Get Acquainted" dances. Friday evening, from 6:30 until 9:00 p.m., was a success for grades six and seven who had a scavenger hunt, followed by a dance. It is hoped that all our juniors enjoyed themselves. Saturday evening the seniors' dance, although not crowded, was also fun. Thanks are to be extended to Mrs. Jones, Miss Whalley and Mr. MacKrith, who gave up their time to chaperone the parties.

On Monday, September 28 a few of our Gault boys volunteered to help the Rotary Club by selling tickets for "Play The Colours." The resulting profit for the school was ten dollars.

Several enthusiasts in our school hope to get the Photo Club organized sometime this week.

The individual pictures for the Annual were taken on Tuesday for grades one to eleven.

In order to obtain money for the traditional class trip, Grade XI held a car-wash last Saturday from nine until five, from which the proceeds were $47.65. All grade eleven students who participated in this effort, should be congratulated on their good work.

Gault's sports activities began with two soccer games last week. The results were: Gault — 2, Huntingdon — 2; Gault — 2, Ormstown — 0. Congratulations boys and keep up the good work!

The basketball teams have also started to practise industriously. Welcome to the new teachers at the elementary School — Gault students and staff would like to welcome the new teachers at the Elementary School on St. Charles Street. Miss Joan Martin, a graduate of Bishops, is teaching an experimental course in French to grades one and two. The grade one teacher, Mrs. Jean McClintock, from Ormstown, is a graduate of Macdonald College and taught five years prior to her marriage.

The ambitious grade XI students had another car-wash on Saturday, October 3, at Nitro. This one, however, was not a success because of lack of publicity and also a lack of workers. The students present, nevertheless, made ten dollars.

On Wednesday, Grade XI sponsored a candy sale at the school again, to raise funds for their trip to Quebec. It is hoped that it will be more successful than was the last car-wash.

The Student Council, although not yet embarked on any of its activities, has been considering ways of making and spending money. Student Council representatives have been selling cakes and infrequently, drinks at noon hour. The Student Activity fees are, in the meantime, being collected in all the grades.

The Photography Club has been working diligently and it is hoped that they will soon be able to develop their own pictures.

The magazine drive, with Barbara Hales as the General Manager and Judy Hargrave as her Assistant Manager, will begin on October 13. We hope that all students will participate and sell magazines for our school.

The soccer team, with Raymond Wynd as captain and Mr. Leckey as coach, was defeated last Thursday 1-0 by their old rivals from Chateauguay. However, since several team mates were ill, perhaps they will do better in the next game.

Gault students were glad, as usual, to hear that the Teachers' Convention and Thanksgiving holidays were from October 8 until 13. As 1964 marks the hundreth anniversary of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers of Quebec, the Convention was held in La Place des Arts. The highlights of the programme were: an address by Sir Ronald Gould, President of the W.C.O.T.P.; a presentation of Menotti's "Death of the Bishop of Brindisi" by children of Montreal school choirs under the direction of Dr. A. Brott; a panel discussion on "Creativity in Education" and a Centennial Banquet in the Queen Elizabeth Hotel.

The Centennial celebrations were also marked by television programmes.

Congratulations to the P.A. P.T. and best wishes for the next one hundred years!

Letter To The Editor

357 Maple Grove,
Beauharnois, Quebec.
October 10, 1964.

The Editor,
The Huntingdon Gleaner,
Huntingdon, Quebec.

Dear Sir:

I would like to point out that the oil painting won by Mr. George Longwell at the Chateauguay Valley Historical Society Harvest Ball, was painted by the Canadian artist, S. Berne, but not donated by him. Various friends of the Society contributed toward the cost of the painting, which was bought from a Montreal art gallery. The other prizes, however, were donated.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my Committee members, Mrs. A. Shepherd, Mrs. Jules Lemay, and Mrs. George Longwell, who gave so much of their time that evening to make the sale of tickets a success.

Yours truly,
Mrs. H. F. Tietgen.

Straight Shooting

Most hunters pride themselves on common sense and good sportsmanship. They do not abandon wounded animals, for example, nor do they expose other people to danger from their firearms. Yet every autumn, certain non-thinking individuals violate the code by taking chances that could just as effectively end in tragedy as if a random shot were taken into a family home. This type of person, perhaps disappointed at returning with an empty bag, relieves his frustrations by taking pot shots at vital telephone cable. Eventually rain seeps into the damage, disrupting communications and leaving entire families — often in remote areas — without the protection of telephone service. Since this type of "hunter" never knows that a doctor or police or firemen couldn't be called in time because the telephone was out of order, his conscience never bothers him. Presumably if he took a pot shot through a window and scurried away, his conscience wouldn't bother him either.

Circles Worth Knowing About

Among important safety practices by telephone employees on and off the job is the "Circle of Safety", a habit encouraged in all drivers of telephone vehicles.

Before starting to drive, a telephone man walks completely around his car or truck to make sure no small child or inquisitive animal is under or even near it. He also checks for assorted toys, bicycles and other obstructions, open doors or improperly secured locks.

Another "circle of safety" is the dial on a bedside extension phone. It puts fire and police protection at your fingertips all through the night. And whether your bedroom is upstairs or down, a bedside extension saves steps day and night.

Make yours a Princess phone! It's little . . . small enough for your night stand . . It's lovely in appearance, and its built-in-night-light means you can dial that call without switching on a lamp.

Dark Lightner

A four-year-old girl was visiting her grandparents. When put to bed she sobbed, said she was afraid of the dark, and wanted to go home.

"But you don't have a light at home, do you? asked her grandmother.

"No," she said, "but there it's my own dark."

Holstein News

Recently we were chided by a Jersey man that while we frequently featured Ayrshire cattle and people we seldom mentioned Holsteins in this column. That is probably true, but is not due to any aversion on our part to feature the Black and White. In view of our long continued connection with the Red and Whites it is but natural that we are in closer touch with the happenings in that breeds area. However, while we regularly receive the National Holstein-Friesian Press releases we seldom receive or learn of any local Holstein happenings, and in that respect we would invite you to pick up your telephone, dial 264-5452 and tell us about any special happening in your herd.

Incidentally, several members of a group of 30 Ontario-owned Holsteins won several of the leading awards at the first All-American Dairy Show held at Harrisburg, Penna. during the third week of September. In that connection the Holstein-Friesian Newsletter states: "Some 24,000 dairy cattle were present at this huge Dairy Show for a series of shows and sales held September 14th to 17th. There were 371 Holsteins shown of which thirty were from Canada."

According to the report Vermont Rag Apple Charity, Reserve All-Canadian four year old of 1963, won first in a strong class of 28 aged cows in milk and then went on to win the Senior and Grand Female Championship for Floyd and Orton Eby, Kitchener, Ont. Paternal sisters of Rag Apple Charity won second and third in the same class for the Ebys, while another paternal sister shown by another Ontario breeder was 7th prize 4-year old. Shown as a group these 4 cows, sired by Maple Lea Reflection Governor won first in the senior Get of Sire class. In 1963 the same group was Reserve All Canadian Get of Sire. The three Eby cows were also selected as the best uddered females in the order in which they stood in their regular class. The second prize cow, Vermont Rag Apple Perfection, and her four year old sister also stood second in the Produce of Dam class.

An Eby entry also won first in the Dairy Herd class, while their Sally Rosafe Gail won first in the three year old in milk class. That herd was also the runner-up for Premier Exhibitor.

The first prize junior yearling bull and Reserve Junior Champion was Emeraldale Citation Comet for A. H. McKane and Forest Lee Farms, Springfield, Ont. Ontario won the State Herd competition, with New York second, Pennsylvania third, Maryland fourth and New Jersey fifth. In addition a considerable number of the other Ontario exhibits won a number of second, third and lesser prizes.

Elm Manor Farm

It will be recalled that when the Elm Manor Farm herd of J. Grant and Mary Whyte was dispersed several of the top animals in that sale were purchased by W. H. Savage, for his Glendowan Ayrshire herd (he also has a Jersey herd) at Ladner B.C. A herd that stood third in Group D (41 records and over) of the Ayrshire Breeders of Canada Association Herd Average plan for the season 1963-64 with 45 milking cows and heifers averaging 10,845 lbs. milk 448 lbs. fat, 4.13%, with Breed Class averages of 135% milk, 136% butterfat. Several of the Elm Manor cows helped to make that average including Elm Manor Model Fashion, a well-known former winner at Ormstown Exhibition, Huntingdon Fair and the Howick-Huntingdon Club's Red and White Show at Havelock, more recently also at the Pacific National Exhibition, Vancouver, B.C. with several other creditable records to her credit, Elm Manor Model Fashion's record in the 1963-64 Herd Average plan was 17,984 lbs. milk, 848 lbs. fat with Breed Class averages of 217% for milk and 252% for butterfat, in 305 days. Since then it has been reported that "Model Fashion" won the B.C. Ayrshire Club's Trophy as the highest producing Ayrshire in B.C. during the year 1963-64.

On our trip to Ottawa last week, we went via Valleyfield and No. 2 Highway to Lancaster Ont. from thence to Hawkesbury and No. 17 or Trans-Canada Highway to Ottawa. The latter almost an entirely new, therefore unfamiliar route from that of our Ottawa days of some 13 years ago. On our return we took the Morrisburg Highway to Winchester and from thence via No. 43 to Finch and Alexandria from the latter via Lancaster and Valleyfield. A bit longer than via Trout River, Rooseveltown, the Seaway, Cornwall and 401, etc., but nevertheless a pleasant scenic route. Nearby Lancaster, we passed the up-to-date farms of the Watts' and the Cummings' owned by fourth and fifth generation descendants of original settlers of that name who, are recorded in Chapter XVI of Robert Sellar's History of Huntingdon, Chateauguay and Beauharnois — that is regarding the St. Louis de Gonzague district, particularly North Georgetown. Incidentally, Lot No. 2 of the Second Concession was settled by John Howden, ancestor of Keith Howden, President of The Huntingdon Gleaner Inc., and Editor of The Gleaner; Lot No. 2, by James Watt, and Lots No. 13 and 14 of the 4th Concession by Charles and Duncan Cumming. However as already indicated the Watt and Cumming families subsequently migrated to Glengarry in Ontario.

Along both routes the cattle were still in the fields but were having very sparse pickings so to speak. It was therefore evident that over there they had an even more severe drought than we had in this area.

Report From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Former Union leader Hal Banks and Canadian farmers may not have much in common, but they shared the spotlight in the Commons during the week.

Both figured in charges and counter-charges by members of the different parties.

But there was one major difference. The dispute over Agriculture Minister Harry Hays' farm loans bill was brought to a halt with its third reading Tuesday, and the bill now awaits Senate approval.

But if Wednesday, in exchanges over the former president of the Canadian Seamen's International Union (SIU) are any indication, it's a sure bet that Mr. Banks' name will crop up often in future house sittings.

Mr. Hays had a busy week, piloting his controversial bill through the House, and he was right back in the thick of things as soon as the loans bill was approved as he introduced a resolution leading to amendments in the Crop Insurance Act.

The farm loans bill allows loans up to a total of $100,000 to syndicates of three or more farmers who band together to purchase farm machinery for joint use.

Extends Crop Insurance

This bill caused bitter controversy in earlier sittings, and the Crop Insurance Act amendments may stir up even more members.

The new legislation is designed to extend crop insurance throughout Canada by giving added federal backing to provincial programs. This would encourage other provinces to enter the field, now occupied only by Alberta, Saskatchewan and Prince Edward Island where about 6,000 of Canada's 400,000 farmers are covered.

All these covered are on the Prairies, except for a group of 75 potato farmers in Prince Edward Island.

Main feature of the crop insurance bill provides that provinces operating their own programs may sign re-insurance agreements with the federal government to cover their losses in bad crop years. The provinces would pay annual premiums into a federal re-insurance fund.

Conservatives Accuse

Although all parties agreed the plan would extend crop insurance coverage to more farmers, the Conservatives accused Mr. Hays of being "bull-headed" and trying to destroy the Prairie Farm Assistance Administration (PFAA).

H. A. Olsen (SC — Medicine Hat) charged that the former Conservative government had meddled in PFAA operations just before the 1963 federal election and gave the PFAA an undeserved reputation as "a political pork barrel."

Jack McIntosh (PC — Swift Current) accused Mr. Olsen of having "deliberately started a smear campaign" against himself, and also criticized Judge Harold Pope of Moose Jaw, Sask., who conducted the judicial inquiry into PFAA last spring and reported that irregularities and Conservative "pressure" came into play during the 1963 election campaign in the Swift Current area.

Judge Pope's "allegations" were "ridiculous", Mr. McIntosh said, "Not a single irregularity had been proven."

The Banks Problem

Mr. Banks' flight to the United States while awaiting appeal on a five-year sentence for conspiracy first came up in the Commons Monday when Opposition Leader Diefenbaker demanded that the House suspend all other business for emergency debate on the missing union leader.

Mr. Banks, who forfeited $25,000 bail when he failed to return to court in Montreal, disappeared from sight until a Toronto newspaper reporter found him aboard an American SIU — owned yacht at Brooklyn N.Y.

He cannot be extradited on a conspiracy conviction.

Erik Nielson (PC — Yukon) said Justice Minister Favreau should resign over the handling of the case, and David Orlikow (NDP — Winnipeg North) said vicious rumors are circulating in labor circles that former members of the Louis St. Laurent cabinet and present Liberal backbenchers from Montreal have "close connections" with Mr. Banks and the SIU.

Mr. Favreau denied emphatically that the government made any deal to allow Mr. Banks to escape and said the Crown had opposed the bail application when it was made.

He also turned on Mr. Diefenbaker and said with sarcasm that the Conservative leader had showed "admirable courage and courtesy" when he made allegations Monday against three members of the cabinet (Mr. Favreau, Prime Minister Pearson and Labor Minister MacEachen) when all three were absent on public business.

Mr. Olsen said he was sick of hearing Conservative and Liberal charges and counter-charges on the issue.

He said Mr. Favreau "lacked frankness" in answering recent questions on Mr. Banks, but added that the Conservatives had a "weak case" in their criticism of the handling of the conspiracy charge.

The Crown had tried to keep Mr. Banks in jail by opposing bail, he said, and the important issue was to ensure there was no "repitition of disruption of shipping on the Great Lakes and the perpetuation of gangsterism."

The former government under Mr. Diefenbaker had been guilty of a "despicable dereliction of duty" in failing to prosecute Mr. Banks and failing to take action to end Great Lakes strife between 1957 and 1962, he added.

At the week-end, speculation centred around the coming week's Commons' encounters following the publication by a Toronto newspaper of a photostat copy of a letter said to have been sent to Banks by former Liberal Minister of Immigration Walter Harris 10 years ago.

Mr. Harris, a Markdale, Ont. lawyer, said Saturday, he had no comment concerning the apparent coutermanding of an order to deport Hal Banks. Mr. Harris was swept from office when the St. Laurent government was beaten at the polls.

Trade Estimates

Debate on the trade department spending estimates Thursday brought a suggestion from Alvin Hamilton, the former Conservative agriculture minister, that Canada must declare its willingness to pay higher prices for products from developing countries — products such as sugar.

"In that way we would give them a chance to buy things they need from us."

News from Howick

HOWICK — On Thursday afternoon and evening, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Kerr were at home to their friends and relatives on the occasion of their Fifty-fifth wedding anniversary.

During the afternoon several of the original wedding guests and friends brought them congratulations and best wishes.

The immediate family gathered for a buffet supper, and were joined later by several grandchildren, great - grandchildren and other relatives.

Those of the family present were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kerr and family of Ormstown; Mr. Raymond Kerr from Hampshire, Illinois; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Elder (Ida) of Shawbridge and their family; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McAdam (Charlotte) and family of Hemmingford; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brewer (Florence) and boys of Bagotville; Mrs. Allan Hunter (Janet) of Jamaica, and Mrs. Gordon Moon (Ruth) of Edmonton were unable to be present but phoned and sent their best wishes.

Mrs. M. Fearn, Executive Director of the Barrie Memorial Hospital was the speaker at Howick Women's Institute meeting held at the home of Mrs. Jas. Scoble on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 6.

The Pres. Mrs. R. B. Ness called on Mrs. N. Mair, convener of Welfare and Health to introduce Mrs. Fearn, who proved to be an excellent speaker and fully informed on every phase of hospital work under her direction. She came to this community 10 years ago and has great admiration for the people who developed this hospital which is unique in a rural area.

The buildings are only part of the hospital. The staff must be of the highest, and we have also an exceptional medical staff.

90% of the patients can be treated at the B.M.H. Neuro, open heart, and malignant tumors are referred to the city hospitals, because it is not practical to invest in such expensive services. Good home service is provided for all other patients.

The occupancy rate for a 100 bed hospital should not exceed 75%. At present over 56 bed hospital runs as high as 85% which leaves only 15% for emergencies, isolation and terminal care. Recently there were 17 babies and 5 accident cases. The last baby went into a clothes basket and operative cases remained on the waiting list until the situation changed. Sometimes beds are vacant here and there, because men and women are separated in the wards.

It is an accredited hospital and is surveyed every three years. Every part of the hospital and every phase of the work is examined. A disaster plan is a must and the B.M.H. plan has been requested by hospitals in Canada and the U.S.A.

To be accredited is a hallmark and visitors last summer came from England and as far as Australia to see this hospital.

It was completely modern in 1950. Now we must consider extending and modernizing. Mrs. Fearn spoke about new ideas for wards in connection with utility, conference and treatment areas, better ideas for serving meals, and new trends in the training of nurses and administrative staff. If a hospital does not go forward it will go backwards.

Hearty applause confirmed Mrs. Jim Crawford's words of thanks to Mrs. Fearn.

A short business meeting was held. Nineteen members answered the roll call with "name a good Book for a Child". 8 visitors were present, including Mrs. McComb from Gaspé and two pretty little girls who accompanied their mother Mrs. T. Brown.

Plans will be made to have the Salvation Army truck in November.

W.I. prizes and scholarships will be presented Nov. 6.

Beryl Greig, Home Ec. convener, told about a bread-making demonstration at the Toronto Ex. We were advised to get our hands into the dough and slap it around, it thrives on this treatment. A 2 ft. dowel of 1¼ inches was recommended, a rolling pin on a plywood board 24" x 32". One Share-A-Loaf card was filled in and will be send away.

Mrs. F. Sutherland, the treasurer, who has been a faithful and efficient member for about 25 years joining first in the 1930's — was presented with a F.W.I.C. pin. Mrs. J. R. Younie spoke of the service she had given, conveyed the best wishes of the members and made the presentation. Mrs. Sutherland will leave shortly to live at Trenton, Ont., and was pleased to receive this recognition from the local W.I.

All summer, our members had been nursing 6 qt. basket of flowers and not all flowers survived, for various reasons. Of the 10 baskets judged at this meeting by Mrs. A. McKell and Mrs. May Jones first prize went to the oldest member, Mrs. J. Whyte, 2nd to Mrs. R. B. Ness and 3rd to Mrs. J. Crawford.

Fertile Creek ladies served cheese snacks and a mouth-watering dessert called Lemon Cream Royale.

The next meeting will be held at Ormstown and dessert will be served at 1.30.

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Marsan were married 25 years ago on Sept. 23. On Friday evening Oct. 2 a number of relatives gathered at their home for a card party. Delicious refreshments were served and a gift of money was presented by Mr. Marsan's sister, Mrs. Deslieres. Those present from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Potvin, Mr. and Mrs. Deslieres and Mr. and Mrs. Bond from Montreal; Mrs. Bernard Longueuil; Mrs. Deguire, Verdun and Mr. Morris Potvin, Montreal

Mr. Rodney McKell of Magog spent the week-end at his home in Tullochgorum.

Mrs. Dan McFarlane and Miss Linda McFarlane attended the Kalo-Reddick wedding at Niagara, Ont. Mrs. Janet Reddick attended the wedding also, and we know the bride would be happy to have both grandmothers at the wedding.

Mrs. John McArthur with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John McArthur, all of Valparaiso, Indiana, spent the past week in Howick, visiting with Mrs. P. D. McArthur, Mr. George McArthur and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cairncross, Sr., have returned from a holiday of two months, most of which was spent visiting relatives and old friends of Mrs. Cairncross in and near Warwickshire, Eng. The weather was perfect and they enjoyed so much the beautiful roses and other flowers also the wonderful old homes and estates and the hospitality of the folk they visited. Mr. Cairncross had a chance to visit farms in both England and Scotland where they spent a week or two. They travelled by air.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lang and family have returned from a motor trip to Calgary, Edmonton and other western points.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Nish, Susan and Bobby of Baie Comeau were week-end guests of Mrs. R. J. Roy, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Roy and Mrs. and Mrs. Donald Chisholm.

Mrs. Scott Fraser of Lancaster, Ont., spent several days visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McKell and other relatives and friends in Howick. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McKell accompanied her home last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Logan, Jimmy and Donna Ann of Long Island, N.Y., visited over the weekend with Mrs. W. Logan and other relatives in the district.

Mrs. Janet Reddick has returned from a lovely holiday, when she spent three weeks visiting friends and relatives at Belleville, Wellington, Picton, Toronto, Port Credit and Niagara Falls.

Miss Ella Stewart of Montreal, spent the week-end with her sister Miss Alice Stewart at Mrs. Preston's home.

Thanksgiving services at Georgetown Presbyterian and the United Church, were well attended. Timely sermon topics and special music marked both services. The Rev. W. M. Brown conducted the service at Georgetown.

Vegetables, fruits and jellies made a colourful decorative arrangement and later were taken to Mrs. Preston's home. Flowers at the altar, given by the McArthur family were in memory of the late Mrs. P. D. McArthur and were taken later to Mrs. Preston's.

Student minister Wm. K. Hudson conducted the service at the United Church. The decorations were unusually attractive due to extra preparations made by the Explorer group, who assisted some of the Howick ladies in arranging same.

During Saturday and Sunday afternoons members of Miss I. Frith's S.S. Clan from the United Church, visited sick and shut-in members of the congregation. They read Thanksgiving poetry, sang hymns and presented gifts of flowers and jelly. This was a happy experience for everyone involved.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. English, Linda, Hugh and Cheryl of Bagotville, Que., spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln West. Mr. and Mrs. J. Ardamaz and Jimmy of Montreal, joined them on Sunday, when they enjoyed a family dinner party at the Huntingdon Chateau to celebrate Thanksgiving and Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln West's 35th wedding anniversary which comes in November.

Both Mr. and Mrs. West have been hospital patients recently so we were glad to learn that they are improved in health and able to enjoy this happy occasion.

Mrs. John Murray, Jean and Susan spent part of the Thanksgiving week-end with friends at Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fenn of East Middlebury, Vt., spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hope. Mr. Fenn's grandmother, Mrs. E. Fenn from the same town accompanied them and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hope. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hope entertained at a family dinner, on Sunday.

Welcome to student minister Mr. Wm. K. Hudson, his wife and tiny daughter Karen, who have come to live at the United Church manse.

The Howick Ladies' Branch of the Canadian Legion met at Lillian Elvidge's home on Tuesday evening of last week. The presentation of a bedside clock was made to Violet Sutherland by the Pres. Jennie McKell. Violet will leave soon for her new home at Trenton, Ont.

Hemmingford W. I.

The Hemmingford W.I. branch met on Wednesday evening, October 7th in the auditorium of the High School, with eighteen members and six visitors in attendance. Mrs. F. Greer presided and opened the meeting with a welcome, particularly to Mrs. Mitchell, a new member.

Again the question of overhead pulleys for the hospital bed was discussed, the bed now being used by Dale McNaughton. A letter of thanks from Mrs. F. Sherrington Jr was read by Mrs. R. Curry (substituting for the secretary). With the letter she had enclosed a donation in appreciation for the use of the bed

The questionnaire discussed at the Board meeting was reviewed. The branch made motions on the following — Date of Annual Convention should remain the same. Bursary for nurses' training should be left to the discretion of each county. The Leadership Courses should be held in April rather than in May. Mrs. Greer again reminded the members that those who would like a copy of the QWI History to order one now.

Mrs. J. Robertson, Convener of Agriculture, gave a detailed report of the School Fair. She also outlined the duties of the Agriculture Convener for future reference.

Mrs. Gaese, Citizenship Convener, read of the progress being made in the Northern W.I. branches. Their activities include the clean-up campaign and Lady Tweedsmuir competition. The Indian women exert their skills not only in competition but also as a source of income.

The UNICEF collection was discussed. It having been brought to light that last year some of the smaller children were roughly treated by old er boys while making the collection for this worthy cause it was suggested that it might be better to collect for UNICEF in the afternoon right after school closes.

Mrs. Harris, Convener of Publicity, read a newspaper article regarding three projects the Centennial Commission has begun to advertise which are designed to cement Canadian unity during 1967 One is the "Centennial Road Show" which will carry travelling exhibitions on Canadian history. Another is a "Confederation Train" scheduled to make 80 stops across Canada during the year with a display depicting this country's evolution "from colony to nation". The third is a youth travel program already in operation.

Mrs. C. Petch, Sick and Visiting Committee, reported on her visit with Mrs. Wooley to several new residents in the community, with the happy result that several of them were at the meeting. Mrs. R. Petch reported on the Nearly New Safe which was quite successful. She also mentioned that if anyone was still interested in buying, the unsold articles are at her home 464 Frontier Street.

Mrs. Greer commented on the Newsletter received from the Montreal Protestant Hospital, picking out items of interest to read to the meeting. There is a great need for clothing for both men and women, dresses and underwear, sizes 6-16, also jewellery would be acceptable. She suggested that a hamper be made up in November, also small gifts such as talcum powder, tissues, etc. be sent for our Christmas donation. She went on to say that some time in the future it would be worth-while to attend the Open House Day to see the wonderful work being done to help the patients return to a useful life. She mentioned especially the Horticultural section. Mostly female patients work in the greenhouses, and quantities of potatoes and other vegetables are gown to take care of the needs of the hospital.

Mrs. Curry read a letter from QWI President, Mrs. Ossington, urging the branches to start thinking and planning now for Centennial Year 1967, with suggestions for projects, and wishing success in their endeavours. Mrs. E. Merlin remarked that the school opening ceremony would take place on October 24 th and suggested the W.I. shields given for achievement be prepared for that date.

The Roll was called, each member present responding with the name of a fruit or vegetable and its vitamin content.

Mrs. R. Petch, Home Economics Convener, had charge of the program, and had arranged with Mr. Pierre Haché, a representative from the Singer Sewing Machine Company to demonstrate the new "Touch and Sew" machine. It has the new push-button bobbin which winds itself right from the needle. The attachments certainly make tasks of hemming, pleating, gathering, etc. so much quicker and easier and at the same time the decorative touches with the addition of bias tape turn out a professional looking product. Mrs. Harris thanked Mr. Haché for his demonstration. Refreshments were served by hostesses Mrs. W. Clark, Mrs. L. Simpson and Mrs. G.M. Brown, with assistance from Miss Joanne Simpson and Miss Carol Hawkins who had dropped by to see the sewing demonstration.

The next meeting of the W.I. will be held in the High School on Wednesday evening at 8 P.M. on November 4th.

Seigniory Park Home Owners Meeting Held

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

Seigniory Park Home Owners Association held their monthly meeting at Chateau Gai Motel, last Thursday evening. President Gerry Flynn was in the Chair, and their was only a fair attendance of members.

Mr. Flynn announced that space had been made available free of charge, by Seigniory Park County Club, and that children's art classes, which were so successful last winter would be continued this year under the guidance of commercial artist Keith Strike. He was also happy to announce that Mrs. Pat Bedard had agreed to act as Chairman of the Activities Committee for another year. By unanimous vote the Association instructed the President to send Mrs. Bedard congratulations, best wishes and flowers on the occasion of the birth of a girl earlier that day.

It was resolved that the President was to request Provincial Transport Company to provide a shelter for passengers awaiting transport to Montreal, the location to be close to the junction of Routes 3 and 4 with St. Francis Boulevard.

The question of sidewalks on St. Francis Boulevard was discussed, in the context of pedestrian safety, particularly for children. It is understood that the Town's current position was that sidewalks could be provided, with 50% of the cost to be borne by the residents of the Boulevard. This was not considered to be equitable in view of the large number of vehicles from neighbouring projects making daily use of the Boulevard. It was estimated that some 300 cars and trucks pass through in one hour at peak periods. The President agreed to see Town Officials with a view to enforcing the speed limit on St. Francis, and obedience to Stop Signs. It was suggested that a combination of speed traps, slow signs, stop signs, painted on the road, plus more active surveillance by the Police would alleviate the situation.

Mr. Flynn was requested to take up with postal authorities the question of a mailbox within Seigniory Park. The present service of a mail box close to the supermarket was not considered adequate for the locality, considering the present number of homes.

Mr. Flynn, before declaring the meeting closed, announced that Mr. and Mrs. Hank Wells of 373 Frontenac were trying to form a Teenage Bowling League.

Lights On St. Francis Blvd.

By Geoff Hofstatter

Has at long last a way been found to slow down the speeding motorist on St. Francis Blvd? and as a result has the smooth surface of the road been broken up to provide a speed trap? This and other questions turned out to be wishful thinking on the part of most of the homeowners who live on St. Francis Blvd. As a matter of fact part of the road had to be opened up to bury the cables which will eventually supply the electricity for the lights which are supposed to be installed shortly in the centre of St. Francis Blvd. extending from highway No. 3 to Craik Street, bordering the Northern Development.

14 lights units will be erected, spaced approximately 130 feet apart, and will greatly facilitate navigation of all vehicles during darkness.

The By-law, which authorized the Town of Chateauguay to install the lights was approved last spring and the project, now well underway, is scheduled to be completed as soon as the fixtures are secured, which should be in about 2 weeks time. In order to complete the job before the frost makes digging impossible, the project had to be started before the Town was able to take advantage of the Winter Works programme, which as a matter of interest begins November 1st.

It is hoped that after the lights have been installed, St. Francis Blvd. will once more feature a smooth asphalt surface with the exception that motorists, as a matter of habit and for the children's sake will keep their speed down to 20 m.p.h.

Fashion Show Complete Sell-Out

By Gerry Flynn

Models "played" to a packed" house on Thursday, October 1, at the Chateau-Gai Motel. The event was a Fashion Show sponsored by the Ladies Section of the Chateauguay Chamber of Commerce. The popularity of the event was evidenced by the complete sell-out of tickets days beforehand.

The commentary was done by Pierette Champoux, well known radio and TV personality. The show opened with a male audience's favorite — lingerie. It included the usual pastel colors of blue, pink, white and the old favorite — black. Styles ranged from toreador pants to the classic full length — however "baby dolls" were absent. A quick change of pace followed by a parade of winter coats, cloth trimmed with fur seemed to be predominant with colors of black, green and red. Fur coats of course are still as popular as ever ranging from an inexpensive stole to a $3000 ocelot beauty and the status symbol of mink — price $4000.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Inspection of Premises In Chateauguay Pleases Chief

(By Gerry Flynn)

"I was very pleased with the business premises I visited during Fire Prevention Week" said Chief R. Spinard of Chateauguay Centre, when asked about what he had done during Fire Prevention Week.

"Well, we handed out posters and distributed literature to schools and stores" continued Chief Spinard" as well as handing out a special booklet to Boy Scouts and Girl Guides as to what they should and should not do in the woods or on field trips". What did you do in the area of schools? "We visited all the schools, gave a talk and showed a film on Fire Prevention. I also conducted fire drills, with which I was very pleased. In fact in all instances the schools were completely evacuated within 1 minute 10 seconds to 1 minute 30 seconds. Considering that there are 500 to 600 children in each school I feel that this is very good". Were you completely satisfied Chief? "Overall, yes, however there are a few changes I would like made in the method of evacuation and the placement of fire extinguishers. I have already brought this to the School Boards attention and am now writing a letter confirming these points".

How about the inspection of private homes, were these satisfactory ? "Unfortunately, there is no Fire By-Law authorizing a yearly inspection of private homes. This can only be done if someone lays a complaint."

Is your Fire Department kept very busy Chief Spinard? "Well we answer about 35-40 calls a year. I am happy to say that we have managed to save all homes".

Chief, is all your effort limited to one week or do you have a continuing program for your department? "No it is a continuing program. Starting in November I will be conducting fire fighting courses for my men every Friday for four hours a week. Besides this First Aid Training will be done two evenings a week."

Judging by the variety of fire fighting equipment, which is in tip top shape by the way, and Chief Spinard's continuing training, it looks as though Chateauguay Centre can look towards another successful year.

LOCAL MERCHANT DIES SUDDENLY

Mr. Lucien Duranceau, proprietor of the Metro Market, on Salaberry Blvd., passed away very suddenly Sunday morning, October 11th at his residence. Mr. Duranceau collapsed and died of a heart seizure upon return from Church. Only 49 years old, Lucien was widely know and respected. Having been in the grocery trade from extreme youth with his father, the late A. Duranceau his business associates were many.

The body rested at the J. R. Reid Funeral Home until Wednesday morning. Following the funeral Mass at Christ the King Church at 9 a.m., he was laid to rest at the Catholic Cemetery in Chateauguay Centre.

To his wife, the former Lucille Brais of St. Urbain and his children, Richard, Sylvie and Lise we extend deep and heartfelt sympathy on their great loss.

Chateauguay Girl Injured

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

A car driven by Mr. Martin Oldford of Lasalle went out of control and into a ditch last Tuesday at Hardesty and Carillor, Chateauguay Gardens. A passenger, Miss Barbara Muir of Lang Street, Chateauguay, was injured and taken to hospital where her left ankle was set in plaster.

On Miss Muir's return home she was examined by her family doctor and taken to Montreal General Hospital for suspected damage to the right ankle. It is understood that X-Rays revealed chips on Miss Muir's right ankle, and that she will be confined to hospital for treatment for another week or two.

All that is beautiful and good in your individual consciousness is permanent.

Extended Postal Service For Chateauguay Residents

We have just learned from Mr. Gérald Laniel, M.P. for Beauharnois-Salaberry, that the Honorable John R. Nicholson, Minister of Postal Services, has authorized the mail delivering service by mailmen to extend to 153 more places of delivery in the Chateauguay area.

The Post Office will send a circular to advise those interested, that the new service will be put into effect; it will start as soon as 80% of the users will have installed letter boxes on their property.

Here is a list of the streets which will be affected: Sullivan St., Robinson Square, Dubois Crescent up to Sullivan St., Ville Marie St. near Tremblay, Giroux St. near Faubert, Gendron St., Dollard St., Place Lallemand, Lallemand St., Paul VI St., Wilbrod St., from Dollard St. to Place Lallemand, Dubé St. up to Benny, Viau St. near Albert, and Labelle St.

It is very important that everyone installs a suitable letter box on his house, accessible from the street.

Mary Gardner H. and S. Holds Successful Teacher Night

(By Mary Meyers)

The Mary Gardner Home and School Association held their first monthly meeting of the new season on October 5th. The Gymnasium was packed to capacity . . Mrs. Fraser, president, opened the meeting, by welcoming all present.

I am delighted to see all of you here this evening. I wish to announce that our policy of informality which seemed so popular with all of you last year will continue again this year. The home and school is comprised of parents and teachers and when you come right down to it, friends and neighbours and that friendly and neighborly atmosphere is most desirable with in a Home and School Association. Unfortunately Home and School Associations have seemed to some as a stuffy little clique made up of snobs. Since I have been in office, I have done everything in my power to smash this image. I have not and will not knowingly allow any cliques to develop. This is YOUR Association and it shall be exactly as you want it to be . . . I have always considered the social part of the programme, that is to say, the refreshment period as a most important time. I would appreciate it and I am sure I speak on behalf of the entire executive if you take this opportunity to meet with us, we will be delighted to shake your hand and personnally welcome you.

The aim of the Home and School, which should be a combined effort on the part of the parents and the teachers, is simply to do all we can to benefit our children, school and community. I am calling on each and every one of you to heed your sense of community responsibility do not be content with your own little world, attend the meetings, and volunteer to actively participate in the Association. Do not be guilty of over the fence criticism if you have any remarks to make, this is the place . . . and worst of all don't be apathetic. Many Home and School Associations have gone by the wayside — do not let this happen to ours. Our School has been called a progressive one, our Home and School progressive and energetic, by members of other school organizations. Let us all see to it that we live up to this reputation, thank you.

The minutes were read, unfinished business was discussed. The treasurer Mr. Bill Smith gave his report. Mrs. Hawley resigned as secretary, Mrs. Lil Dailey will be replacing Mrs. Hawley. Mrs. Hawley was thanked by the president on behalf of the membership for her kind help and co-operation over the past year. A course titled "Etiquette and Social Graces" will be offered to young girls of twelve and over. The aim of this course is to turn out poised, graceful and confident young ladies. The Instructors will be Mrs. Lil Dooley, a graduate of Betty Spiers Miller of Montreal, and Mrs. Barbara Fraser, a graduate of Connies Modeling and Finishing School in Belmont. (U.S.A.) plus many guest lecturers — all those concerned are donating their time so there will only be a small registration fee, to help cover any expenses that might occur. It is planned the course shall terminate sometime in late March or early April with a mother and daughter tea, at which time the young ladies will be hostess to their mothers. Registration will be on October 20th at 3.30 p.m.

Anyone interested in St. John's Ambulance course or Judo? Please contact Mr. Duncan Lamond —this will also be sponsored by the Home and School. Mr. Lamond is the Adult Education chairman.

Congratulations to the Membership Committee on a job well done, keep up the good work!

PRE-SCHOOL ASSOCIATION PUPILS TAKE NATURE WALK

Seigniory Park Co-operative Pre-School Association is firmly convinced that there is more to school than what can be found in a classroom. Above can be seen teachers Mrs. Royko and Mrs. Roth taking their small charges on a nature walk to discover first hand all about the great outdoors. The pre-schoolers voted the outing an overwhelming success. (Photo by Pat Wilkins).

Congratulations to Mrs. Pat Bedard and husband Bob on the birth of a daughter last Thursday morning. Mother and baby are doing well. The Home Owners Association, at their monthly meeting at Chateau Gai Motel, resolved to send their best wishes plus some flowers to Pat as a token of gratitude for all the enthusiastic work Pat did last season for the Home Owners Association Activities Committee.

It was a disappointing turnout at last Thursday's Home Owners meeting, considering that it had been advertized and that every member had been contacted by telephone and invited to attend. The question of whether to continue with members' meetings every month, or to hold meetings only when some very important business arises, was discussed. No decision was taken on the issue, as there are arguments on both sides. In my personal experience as President last season, I must admit that a meeting coming up at a pre-determined date acted as a spur which encouraged me to get my "home-work" done. On the other hand, a poorly attended meeting where you have to count heads to see if a quorum is present, is very discouraging, particularly to the President, who has a certain amount of work to do in organizing the meeting. I was asked to announce in this column that a case of beer had been awarded as a door-prize, in order to stimulate a better turnout next month. I had to decline, of course, claiming that my policy was always to stick to the truth. Not that I'm opposed to adding a little embroidery if the circumstances warrant!

Speeding on St. Francis Boulevard, though not as bad since erection of the STOP sign at Fletcher's Corner, remains a great worry to parents anxious for their children's safety. There are many ways of attacking the problem, one of them being a much stricter training of children in road discipline. Another effective method, described by Marcel Grenier at last Thursday's Home Owners' meeting, is to take the registration number of the offending vehicle and report it to the Police.

I hear that there is some doubt as to whether or not Seigniory Park hockey rink will be in operation at all next winter. Unless substantial help for coaching the boys and administering the rink is forthcoming, it is possible that the devoted few who carried the burden last year will find the task beyond their capabilities. Devotion and enthusiasm can go a long way, but there are limits. Let us hope that it won't happen that way, but it might. In any case, the Club basement will not be available as a changing-room, following its recent conversion into a lounge. It is hoped that the Town will make available a portable shack to take the place of the basement.

Memorandum From McLeod

Summer has really gone. I dug the dahlias, the tuberous begonias, and the gladioli this past week. Now where will I find the time to plant some more tulips? Life is just one mad rush after another these days.

Last Sat. Oct. 10, Grant Robinson (our dear little four-year-old neighbour) went along with his parents to North Pole, N.Y. Now, Grant wishes everyone to understand that it isn't the real North Pole, but there is a Santa there, and Grant had quite a conversation with him. Old King Cole also spoke with Grant, and explained various things to him. One great disappointment though — Mrs. Santa Claus was not there, and Grant tells me that the reason she was not there was because it was Saturday and "Lots of ladies go shopping on Saturdays." All the way to the North Pole it rained and upon their return the Robinsons' ran into a real blizzard; the snow actually stayed on the ground. Well, what do you expect at the North Pole? Tropical breezes?

Recent guests at the Robinsons' were Mr. and Mrs. K Wendelbow and their three children from Ottawa. The little ones, Anne, John and Eric were no strangers to Grant, as he visits them frequently with his Auntie Betty.

Bill, Rose and little Lynda Young spent the Thanksgiving weekend at the Young, Sr. home in Val David in the Laurentians. Really chilly up there over the holiday.

Anyone still interested in the progress of our Siamese kitten, Buppa? She is just beautiful, and we think she is quite intelligent. She answers to her name, of course, especially when she has been outside in the cold for a while, then she comes running into the warm house. In the warmer weather Buppa's world was so full of wonderful things, like bees, butterflies, grasshoppers, and long carrot tops to hide in. Now there are dried leaves scuttling about, the plum trees to climb, and the chrysan themums to jump into.

A Message of Soul-shaking Significance For All Teens!

If you are sophisticated, worldly, and live in the vicinity of Chateauguay, rejoice! There is a place for you here. Every Sunday night, around 7.30 deep within the crypt there meets a group of talented, wonderful young people known as the Anglican Young People's Association (AYPA, of course). And you, every last Beatle or folk fan fifteen and over, are invited to join. Only the daring would, of course, have courage to come. For you who take the plunge, barrels of fun will be jumping your way. So if you want to live a while, come on out next Sunday evening: you'll be welcomed at St. George's Church Hall!

St. George's Anglican Church News

Some of you already know that sadly for St. George's but happily for him and his family, W.G. (Bill) Brooks is moving to Niagara Falls, Ont. on Nov. 1st. Next Sunday, Laymen's Sunday, Mr. Brooks will be the preacher at both the 9.30 and 11.15 a.m. services.

The Little Helpers Party will be held this Saturday, Oct. 17th at 3 p.m. Starting off with a short service in the church, the children and parents will then adjourn to the hall for their party. All children of the Parish age 7 and under are welcome, whether they are registered or not as a Little Helper. Any child enrolled at the present time, please call Mrs. Pat Oelmann at 692-8430.

There is an immediate need for 6 to 8 more sidesmen to help welcome people to the Sunday services, and hand out prayed and hymn books. Contact Fred Hunter (691-0575) or Arnold Curran (691-2450) the Senior Sidesmen.

On Thursday, Oct. 22nd at 8.30 p.m. in the Church Hall, Mrs. Friedfield, a professional dietician and food expert will show slides and speak on the subject "Daily Breads and a Balanced Diet". Sponsored by the Young Mothers' Group of the W.A., the meeting is open to all ladies of the parish. Light refreshments will be served. There is no charge for admission.

LEGION NEWS in CHATEAUGUAY

The monthly general meeting of the Chateauguay Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion was held Tuesday, October 6th.

President Bob Jobber opened the meeting sharp at 8.30 p.m. and in spite of the miserable weather there was an attendance of 35 members.

One new member, George Alexander Myatt was duly installed and welcomed by the members. Comrade Bruce Crawley transferred to the Chateauguay Branch.

The chairman of the Poppy Fund reported that so far this year eight cases of people in need have been helped. Many of these families were in dire circumstances, being without food and heat, others had their electricity disconnected. These types of cases are the Legion's responsibility and they are taken care of by the Poppy Fund without fanfare or publicity, and the names are not disclosed.

The time is again drawing nigh when canvassers will be required, and when the public will once again be asked to contribute to this most worthy cause. The poppies are manufactured by men who were broken in the horrible conflict of war, men who are unemployable in the competitive field of commerce, but who find congenial working conditions in Vetcraft workshops. Think of these things when making your contributions.

WHY WEAR A POPPY?

By Don Crawford

Public Relations Officer,
Perth, Ont., Branch, R.C.L.

"Please wear a poppy," the lady said
And held one forth, but I shook my head.
Then I stopped and watched as she offered them there,
And her face was old and lined with care;
But beneath the scars the years had made
There remained a smile that refused to fade.

A boy came whistling down the street,
Bouncing along on care-free feet.
His smile was full of joy and fun,
"Lady", said he, "may I have one?"
When she'd pinned it on he turned to say,
"Why do we wear a poppy today?"

The lady smiled in her wistful way
And answered, "This is Remembrance Day,
And the poppy there is the symbol for
The gallant men who died in war.
And because they did, you and I are free —
That's why we wear a poppy, you see.

"I had a boy about your size,
With golden hair and big blue eyes.
He loved to play and jump and shout,
Free as a bird he would race about.
As the years went by he learned and grew
And became a man — as you will, too.

"He was fine and strong, with a boyish smile,
But he'd seemed with us such a little while
When war broke out and he went away.
I still remember his face that day
When he smiled at me and said, 'Goodbye,
I'll be back soon, Mom, so please don't cry.'

"But the war went on and he had to stay,
And all I could do was wait and pray.
His letters told of the awful fight,
(I can see it still in my dreams at night),
With the tanks and guns and cruel barbed wire,
And the mines and bullets, the bombs and fire.

"Til at last, at last, the war was won —
And that's why we wear a poppy, son"
The small boy turned as if to go,
Then said, "Thanks, lady, I'm glad to know.
That sure did sound like an awful fight,
But your son — did he come back all right?"

A tear rolled down each faded cheek;
She shook her head, but didn't speak.
I slunk away in a sort of shame,
And if you were me you'd have done the same;
For our thanks, in giving, is oft delayed,
Though our freedom was bought — and thousands paid!

And so when we see a poppy worn,
Let us reflect on the burden borne
By those who gave their very all
When asked to answer their country's call
That we at home in peace might live.
Then wear a poppy! Remember — and Give!

Vice-Pres. Phil Chartrand stated that the Legion Hall required a face lifting and that he intended to be on hand Saturday morning, October 17, with gallons of Latex paint around 8 a.m. asking for a show of hands by volunteers, about 15 members signified that they would be on hand.

The monthly Building Fund Draw was won by Comrade John Gleave his ticket number 8 being drawn by the newly initiated member G. A. Myatt. Chairman Joe Dagnall would like to see more participation in this monthly activity.

Comrade G. Johnston entertainment chairman is running a Hallowe'en Dance (150 limit) with chicken supper and a Veterans' Mixed Supper Social will be held in the Legion Hall, Nov. 7. Tickets must be procured by Nov. 2nd.

After completion of the regular business the President called for nominations for the new officers and executive for 1965. These were too numerous to list but the results of the elections, to be held next month, will appear in this column.

No doubt many a family sat down to a Turkey dinner with all the trimmings on Thanksgiving Day. If you are wondering how you can use up the left over turkey meat homemakers, how about trying Croquettes? They are tasty and sure to please the whole family. With French Fries and brown gravy made from your turkey drippings the Croquettes will add taste appeal to your meal.

Turkey Croquets

2 cups turkey (chopped fine)
1 cup thick white sauce
2 tsp. chopped parsley
Salt and pepper
2 eggs
2 tbsp. water
Dry crumbs

Method:

Combine turkey, sauce, and parsley; season with salt and pepper. Pack into greased pan 8x8x2. Chill thoroughly. Form into croquettes. Beat eggs; add water. Roll croquettes in crumbs, dip in egg; roll in crumbs. Fry in shallow fat or salad oil heated to 375° for 5 min. or until brown.

Drain on absorbent paper.

Handy hints for the Homemaker.

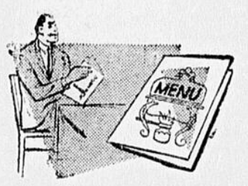

Did you know that every cake you bake should be the right size and shape for the recipe being used. If the pan is too small the batter overruns and the edges burn. If too large a thinner cake results which bakes faster and most likely will be overdone.

Keep an eye dropper handy near your kitchen cabinet to use to measure vanilla, or other flavourings. Otherwise when poured from the bottle a drop often becomes a blop and the food is ruined. This happened to me once with peppermint flavouring. I was adding to an icing. What a horrible taste and waste!

When cooking rice, add a spoonful of vinegar. It will cook up light, separate and oh so fluffy.

Next time you bake a cake try this quick way of getting rid of air bubbles. When the batter is in the pan and ready to be popped into the oven, drop the pan on your table. The bubbles will break on the surface of your cake batter. Then just pop in the oven and bake.

Did you know that an angel food cake will slice much more easily after being frozen at least 24 hours and then thawed?

It didn't take Jack Frost long to put an end to the last of the flowers. All that seems to be holding out in our garden are the Mums and we certainly are enjoying them.

The construction work continues in our area much to everyone's delight, especially the small fry who seem to idolize the bulldozers and the steam rollers. The youngsters don't want to even come in for lunch for fear the machines may vanish. It's not the small fry though who climb into these machines after the workmen have left, but the bigger boys and girls, too. Remember these machines are private property and are not to be tampered with so kindly caution your children to keep away from them before a serious accident results.

Belated birthday wishes to Brenda Ritchey of Primeau St. who was 11 years old on Sat., October 10. Brenda was the guest of honor at a Birthday Party at her home in the afternoon and her guests included Carole Spenard, Elfie and Iris Hoffle, Barbara Muir, Pamela Quinn and Lynn Fabio.

Surprise Visitor

Mrs. H. Viereck of St. André had a special visitor last week all the way from her home town of Kassel, West Germany. He was Mr. Gerd Herrman of the German Merchant Navy whose ship the Herrman Russ had docked that morning in Montreal harbour. His ship had left Hamburg some months ago and Mrs. Viereck had word of his supposed arrival in Canada but she didn't know when the ship would dock.

Mr. Herrman was a neighbour of Mrs. Viereck in Kassel and it is some ten years since she last saw him. When she left Germany he was but a lad of ten but when she met him again she was surprised to see a young seaman complete with a beard. The children were excited when they saw him with the long hair. They all screamed, "Here is a Beatle coming to see us". The visit was short for the ship was to leave at five that afternoon but Mr. Herrman's ship will dock in Montreal again next month and perhaps he can have a longer visit with the Vierecks then.

Young Carol Clemens of St. Jude has been in bed with the flu. Hope you are all over it now, Carol. Also you too, Christine and Christopher. What an awful way to have to spend the nice long holiday you children had.

That's it for this week, folks.

I hope everyone had a nice Thanksgiving week-end. It's too bad the weather wasn't a little nicer. I guess we can say summer is over now and I for one am very sorry to see it go. The neighbours were out in full force cleaning up their vegetable gardens and turning them over for next year. It must be nice to live in a climate where you can have a garden with fresh vegetables the year around. I'm going to miss those nice tomatoes, carrots, beets, etc., it's not the same buying them at the grocers as it is going out and picking them fresh in your own garden.

We would like to welcome a new resident of Labelle St., namely Mrs. Allan, Sr., who has come to live with her son and daughter-in-law. We hope she will like it here and we are happy to have her with us.

Birthday greetings to Danielle Merette, who was 3-years-old on October 7th. Her mother gave her a nice party and among the little guests were her sister Celine, Anne-Marie Jeannotte, Daniel Matte, Michel and Silvie Guilbault, Diane Sneddon, Carole and Stephanie Randle and Debbie Willard. There was lots of fun and they all came home with hats, horns, balloons and candy.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. R. Merette who will be celebrating their 5th wedding anniversary on October 17th. Birthday greetings also to my nephew Bobby, who has a birthday on October 17th.

I had my husband Alex home from work for a couple of days last week with the old flu bug (I guess). A few days later, he was painting the trim around the kitchen windows when suddenly he found himself flying through the air, paint can and all. Luckily he wasn't very high up on the ladder so he didn't hurt himself (only his pride) but I Chateauguay with brown roses. guess we are the only ones in I guess it just wasn't a good week for him.

Big Twelve Become Big Ten

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

The recently-formed Big 12 League, composed to the extent of 75% from Seigniory Park and Northern Development, has run into early trouble in recruiting regular players. Two teams, the Mosquitoes and the Crickets, have been eliminated, and it is now hoped to continue play for ten teams throughout the remainder of the reason, which culminates in Playoffs during the first two weeks of May next.

Last Friday's High Single Lady was Mrs. Parrons with 161, and High Single Man was Dave McCarthy with 177. Details of recent additions to the "69" Club are being withheld pending notification to the next of kin!

Mrs. Rhoda Rowntree, League Secretary and Statistician tells me that it will take her a few days to straighten out all the complications to the schedule of two teams dropping out. However, the games for Friday October 16th, are as follows: —

Grasshoppers vs Beetles
Hornets vs Bees
Wasps vs Ants
Flies vs Grasshoppers
Worms vs Shrews

Mrs. Rowntree was adamant in denying rumors now circulating to the effect that the Beetles bear any resemblance to the four young gentleman from Liverpool. Questioned as to the peculiar character of the teams' names. Mrs. Rowntree stated that it had been considered appropriate to have prominent Chateauguay residents honoured in this fashion.

Current standings of the remaining Big 10 are as follows:

Teams	Points
1. Hornets	22
2. Ants	21
3. Shrews	17
4. Grasshoppers	17
5. Beetles	14
6. Worms	13
7. Bees	11
8. Grasshoppers	10
9. Flies	9
10. Wasps	7

Come on Wasps! Get in there and sting!

Ramblers Ninth Victory

RAMBLERS 24 — HAWKS 7.

Last Sunday the Ramblers gained their ninth consecutive victory and are now only one game away from an undefeated season.

Chateauguay's points were by Ray Milley and Marc Bruneau with two touchdowns apiece. The Ramblers main strength is on wide plays, either reverses, screen passes or end sweeps and it was off such plays that all the touchdowns were scored. The Hawks points came off a touchdown on a beautiful pass and run play executed by W. Corcoran. The convert was by by P. Howe.

Next week the Ramblers meet Montreal North in the final game of the season. Although the Ramblers have already won first place, next week's game is important. They will be trying for an undefeated season and Ray Milley will be trying to retain his scoring leadership.

On October 25th, the Ramblers will meet the winner of the semi-finals in a sudden death final to determine the league playoff champions.

Procedure or Chaos?

It is a known fact that where there are no rules of Procedure at business meetings (municipal, school, club, etc.) chaos follows, resulting in inefficiency, injustice and waste of time. If you read local newspapers, you no doubt recall many reports to this effect over the past year.

Too often, and sometimes willfully done because of patronage tendencies and dictatorial inclinations, those presiding at meetings forget that the object of every assembly is to conduct the business for which it has been called in an orderly manner and with justice to its members. This object is attained through the intelligent use of parliamentary law, the principles of which are courtesy and justice to all, one thing at a time, the rule of the majority and the protection of the rights of the minority.

In order to enlighten its members and any interested parties on this subject, the Chateauguay Toastmasters Club will show a 20-minute National Film Board film on Parliamentary Procedure at their next dinner-meeting scheduled for 7 P.M. Monday October 19th. at the Rustik on Highway 3 & 4.

The film will be shown as part of our educational program which provides members with opportunities to improve their abilities to speak, conduct meetings and develop their executive talents. In congenial fellowship, ambitious men help each other through practice, mutual constructive criticism and the assumption of responsibilities within the organization.

Are you determined to have Procedure instead of chaos? Then the Toastmasters meeting is for you. For further information re attending this dinner-meeting next Monday October 19th., please dial 691-2903 or 691-1850.

Chateauguay High School Red Cross News

By Riki Stanford

The C.H.S. Red Cross Council started its 1964-65 year, with the first meeting being held on Tuesday, Sept. 29. At this meeting 12 of the 18 classes, were represented, and these were briefly introduced to the High School Red Cross Organization. As primary business the following were elected:

President, Riki Stanford; Vice-President, Robert Halfyard; Corresponding Sec., Sandra Downey; Recording Sec., Gloria Page; Treas., Marion Mitchell; Publicity Chairman, Margaret MacLean; Committee Chairman, Lynne Appleton.

The following week, the first meeting of the Inter-School Council was held at Red Cross Hq. in Montreal. Linda Condy represented C. H.S. At the meeting our council ordered 25 Christmas stockings, and 200 calendars. The calendar sale has been a yearly project of our council, and has always been successful. If you would like a calendar, please contact one of our executive and place an order.

Our second meeting was held on Oct. 6 at which future projects were discussed such as: tape recordings overseas, Volunteer Service, Noon Hour Dances, Bazaar, and our annual Dance. This year our bank account of $187.00, is being combined with that of the Students Council's so that more uniformity will develop between the school's councils. Also a budget is to be drawn up for this year in order that a definite objective can be set up. We hope for another successful year of our J.R.C. Council, with the ever increasing co-operation of the student body.

Recommendations By Quebec College of Physicians And Surgeons

The Quebec College of Physicians and Surgeons has recommended to the Provincial Government the implementation of a universal medical insurance program applicable to all residents of Quebec regardless of age, state of health, or financial status.

The College's recommendation was contained in a brief (40 pages) but comprehensive report which followed two years of study by its committee on medical economics.

The report, submitted to the Prime Minister and the Minister of Health, contains 15 recommendations which outline the principles which the College feels are fundamental to an effective medical insurance program.

The report emphasized that such a program must cover the full scale of medical services — diagnostic, treatment, rehabilitation and prevention.

Unlike the present Hospital insurance program in Quebec, such medical coverage should not be financed from general revenues, the College stated, but should be based on a system of premium payment. The report calls for a uniform premium for all tax payers, but with the provision that the government would pay either all or part of the premium for those unable to pay for it themselves.

It is expected that the individual premium payments would be similar to those in effect in the Province of Alberta where a single person pays $5.25 a month; a family of two pays $10.50 a month and a family of three or more $13.25 a month. Based on figures for 1963, the total cost of the medical insurance program would be $150,000,000 to $170,000,000 annually. The estimated cost to the government would be approximately 20% of this amount, or $30,000,000 to $34,000,000 a year.

Another important recommendation stressed by the College at a press conference, today, was that which refers to the safeguarding of the patient's freedom to select a doctor of his choice and the selective right of a doctor concerning his patients.

The report is concerned only with those matters that directly involve the medical profession: "We have avoided consideration of the wealth of technical and administrative details that would be involved in the implementation of this scheme."

The College stressed that the question of the medical insurance is a matter of concern not only to the College, the licencing body for all Quebec physicians, but to the public and government.

"The College ardently hopes, the government was told, that this report would serve as a base for a study that would lead eventually to the establishment of a medical insurance program" and that the preparation would involve discussions with, and assistance of, representatives of all the groups concerned.

MORE HASTE, LESS SPEED

Are you in a hurry? If so, rush out to your destination, but do it slow and sure and safe. Too much haste can be fatal on the highway, reminds the Quebec Highway Safety Educational Services. If you are caught in a lineup, don't take the chance of pulling out to pass all cars ahead. It is illegal and you may get involved in an accident. And if such an accident should happen, how much more time would it take to arrive at your destination?

CO-OPERATE FOR BETTER ALL ROUND FIRE PROTECTION

Photo shows police and fire chiefs and their representatives from Chateauguay, St. Martine, Ville de Lery and St. Philomene attending a meeting in the community to organize a better fire protection system calling for inter-municipal co-operation. It was decided that each town will pay their own men and will be responsible for the loss or damage of their own equipment. When help is required three towns, if necessary will fight the blaze and the remaining two will be on stand-by duty for all the participating municipalities in the eventuality of another fire. — Also proposed was the possibility of putting all police radios on the same frequency.

"THE CITY OF CHATEAUGUAY?"

Joint Meeting of Councils Will Be Held Tonight

By Fergus Horsburgh

At the invitation of the Chateauguay Centre Council, a joint meeting of the Centre and the Town of Chateauguay Councils will be held tonight, Wednesday: The meeting, which will not be open to the public, will be held between Mayor Richard Sutterlin of Chateauguay Centre and Ministry of Municipal Affairs officials: The formal invitation to attend the joint meeting was extended by Mayor Sutterlin last week, and was promptly accepted by Mayor Joseph Laberge on behalf of the Town of Chateauguay Council — The object of the meeting is to discuss necessary steps to be taken in drafting Bills in both councils leading to amalgamation of the two municipalities: This move follows the referendum on amalgamation held on September 10th, when the electorate of both towns voted overwhelmingly in favour of amalgamation.

It is understood that both Councils have authorized Mr. Armand Poupart, well known expert in municipal affairs, who played a noted role in amending the Cities and Towns Act, to prepare draft bills which would be submitted for approval of the existing Councils. If approved, the bills would be presented to the Quebec Legislature for further consideration. No difficulty is foreseen in obtaining approval from the Provincial Government, which is on record as favouring a Province-wide programme of integrating municipal administrations. The Quebec Government is expected to use its influence towards resolving any points of disagreement which might develop between the two present Councils. In view of the complicated nature of the problems to be solved, including the re-division of wards, redistribution of existing debenture debt and the fusion of the present duplication of public services, it needs surprise no one if disputes between the two autonomous local governments develop. However, as both Councils have voted in favour of amalgamation, and as both Mayors have publicly advocated amalgamation, it is expected that with good will on both sides, negotiations in the coming weeks and months will proceed smoothly.

Providing no undue delay is experienced during negotiations, it would be reasonable to suppose that identical bills from both Councils could be submitted to Quebec within six months from now. Elections for the offices of Mayor and Aldermen for the new Council would follow Provincial approval within one month, approximately. The new amalgamated municipality would be designated by Provincial decree, and it is expected that the styling will be "The City of Chateauguay."

Last week-end Mayor Sutterlin reiterated his confidence in the proposed amalgamation. "I would like to express publicly my appreciation of the loyalty shown by members of the Centre Council in recent weeks", said Mr. Sutterlin. "Some members of Council were opposed to amalgamation prior to last month's referendum. But all of them have accepted the verdict of the people, and are working harmoniously with me in planning what must now be done to make amalgamation an accomplished fact. I have always favoured light industry coming to Chateauguay, and I believe the future City will not take very long to attract industry here. Our favourable location so close to the Seaway makes Chateauguay a "natural" for light industrial development. There is an optimum level of a 50,000 - 75,000 population for local government efficiency in a properly balanced residential, semi-commercial and light industrial community. And that is what you will see in the Ciy of Chateauguay."

Mayor Laberge was equally confident of successful negotiations in the coming months. "I would like to dispel rumours that the mechanics of amalgamation will be hastily arranged", said Mr. Laberge. "As far as the Town of Chateauguay is concerned, there will be no "amalgamation now, details later." I am confident that negotiations with the Town of Chateauguay Centre will be fruitful and not unduly prolonged, but I insist that the public be fully advised of all details prior to amalgamation.

ORMSTOWN W.I.

Ormstown W.I.

The monthly meeting of the Ormstown branch of the W.I. was held in the O.H.S. on Tuesday, at 8 p.m. with an attendance of 15 members who responded to the roll call with the "Name of a Canadian University."

A letter was read from Mrs. Ossington Provincial president, giving suggestions for things to be done to celebrate our coming Centennial in making Canada beautiful also reminding us of our projects and obligations as Institute members and urging us to study about Ireland as our next A.C.W.W. conference is to be held there.

The treasurer reported a balance on hand of $104.00.

Publicity read an article by Mrs. Palmer entitled "what an office holder deserves to know" and how an outgoing office or convener holder can help the incoming one.

The guests for the evening were the staff of the Ormstown H.S. and these were welcomed by the W.I. president Mrs. W. Rember who asked Mr. C. Moore principal of the school to introduce the various members of his staff, whilst she in turn introduced the W.I. members who were present.

Rev. L. McLean, guest speaker for the evening was introduced by Mrs. A. Hooker.

Mr. McLean's topic which was accompanied by slides was the Indian Reservation (Ojebewa) at Kenora. He said he enjoyed his work among them, found them very intelligent, co-operative and appreciative of the message he brought to them. The slides showed pictures of some of the Indians planning and starting work on a new church, which he, Mr. McLean, expects to attend the dedication of in the near future. He also showed a picture of a bridge over a lake connecting two islands which was built while ice was still on the lake, but was so constructed that when ice melted small boats could pass under it, while people from the other island had safe passage over it.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. McLean for his interesting talk by Mrs. Campbell. A tape recording of the work of Ormstown W.I. since its beginning in 1938 was listened to, after which Mrs. Rember thanked both the speaker Mr. McLean and Mr. Loree who operated the recorder for their help in providing evening entertainment, while Mr. Moore thanked the members of the W.I. for the pleasant social evening given him and his staff.

Refreshments were then served by the ladies and a social time enjoyed. After the benediction the National Anthem was sung and the crowd dispersed hoping to meet next year.

Texstyles

(By Madeleine Levason)

Here is bad news for any consumer who still clings to the hope that someday she will "know all about the new fabrics". Developments come so thick and fast that textile experts are hard put keeping up with them.

It is said that the science of making textiles has advanced more in the past 25 years than in any other period of human history. Certainly each new development seems to lead to others, and so much has happened in modern textile research we can expect much more.

The consumer who is bewildered by the variety of fibres, fabrics, finishes and performance qualities, must learn to concentrate on tags and labels that tell her what fabrics will and won't do for her.

A recent Texstyles column dealt with the development of laminated fabrics in Canada. I wrote then: "Only four years ago the plastic foam, first developed as an insulator for aircraft, was adapted as lining for cold weather clothing. Look what has happened to laminates since then.

Well, look what has happened to laminates since you read that column.

A brand new development has set the home furnishings industry agog and aroused the interest of Canadian manufacturers of men's, women's and children's clothing. A chemical quilting process that eliminates sewing is the new development in laminates "hot out of the lab".

Quilting by chemistry is described as a major breakthrough which offers many advantages to manufacturers of clothing and furnishings, as well as promising more exciting things to come. Quilting designs can be applied to any type of material that has been laminated to a particular foam. The chemical draws the fabric into the design and sets permanently.

Patterns are applied by rollers in the same way prints are applied to cloth. No sewing means no stitches to break in production, washing or cleaning. No needle holes also means more water-proofness for outerwear, all obvious advantages for quilted housecoats, ski jackets and snowsuits.

However, the most exciting fashion aspect of the first chemically quilted fabrics was the intricacy of the designs. Elaborate patterns which would be mechanically or economically impossible to produce by the usual stitching methods, were shown on a variety of fabrics.

The thick three-dimensional quilted effects obtained by the chemical stitching will look even more luxurious on furniture, bedspreads, pillows, mattresses and other decorative accessories. The draping qualities of the new fabrics are also being tried out in insulated draperies.

Although the new fabrics were only recently unveiled for the clothing and furniture trades, production is forging ahead. Canadian consumers won't have to wait long for a personal look at chemical quilting. .

Cost of servicing the federal public debt in the current year is estimated at $1,037,893,000, compared to $567,000,000 in 1957.

COLLIDE WITH TOWER

REGINA (CP) — Almost 200 migrating birds were killed recently when they collided with television towers at Regina and nearby Lumsden, an official of the Saskatchewan Natural History Museum said. Museum assistant Fred Lahrman said 197 birds of 19 species were counted dead after a storm lowered the ceiling over the area to about 400 feet, leaving 200 feet of the 600-foot towers in cloud.

Liturgie — "Allez, votre Mission COMMENCE."

C'est par ces mots que se termine la Messe, et c'est par ces mots que COMMENCE VOTRE MESSE dans son application et dans sa réalisation personnelles.

Rassemblés dans la charité, nous voilà envoyés en mission de Charité. Nous sommes envoyés vers les hommes d'aujourd'hui pour nous consacrer à leur service, pour les aider à connaître l'amour. L'Eglise a été fondée par le Seigneur pour révéler au monde la Parole et l'Enseignement du Christ. Et toute l'assemblée, laics et clercs, doit manifester l'amour de Dieu.

La communauté des hommes prépare une cité de demain dont elle attend le Bonheur. Et notre rôle à nous, chrétiens est de la mettre sur le vrai chemin du Bonheur que nous a révélé la Parole de Dieu et sa Divine Charité. Nous devons partir de notre Messe en emportant le Christ dans nos occupations, dans nos peines et nos joies, dans notre travail et nos loisirs. — NOUS ALLONS DONNER LA BONNE NOUVELLE.

Allez, la Messe n'est point achevée tant qu'un corps est affamé, tant qu'une âme est meurtrie, tant qu'un coeur est blessé, tant qu'un visage est fermé, tant que "Dieu n'est pas tout en tous."

Liturgy — "Apostles of Good Will"

Catholics receive the call to apostleship for Christ through the sacraments of Baptism and Confirmation — all are followers of Christ. They are being sent now to spread Christ's message of Salvation. How effective their apostleship will be depends on the good will they expend on themselves — on the good will they extend to their neighbour.

The apostleship is spiritual public relations — spiritual sales. It is not a question of the "hard" or the "soft" sell, but the desire for the "right" sell. The Catholic knows his product as thoroughly as possible. He loves it. And because he loves it, he exposes it to everyone with the hope that all who see, hear and learn will embrace it. It is simply a constant and persistent imitation of the "meek and humble" Christ who went about doing good and doing His Father's business.

The Catholic's business in the apostolate is to be a disciple and to make disciples. He is motivated by his love for the gift of Faith which he has received from God. In turn, he desires that all with whom he makes contact dispose themselves to a longing for and an eventual reception of the same Faith.

For those who could do this work and won't, for those who should but don't, this prayer seems appropriate: "Dear Lord, teach me to be generous. Teach me to serve You as You deserve; to give and forget the cost; to defend and not heed the wound; to toil and bypass rest; to labor and to seek only the reward of knowing we do Your divine Will. Amen."

Décès de Mlle. Maria Smythe à St-Anicet

Mlle Maria Smythe, 90 ans, de St-Anicet, Qué., est décédée mardi le 29 septembre après avoir fait une hémorragie cérébrale la veille.

Mlle Smythe était née à St-Anicet le 7 septembre 1874 de Mathias et Ann Quinn Smythe. Jeune fille, elle apprit le métier de couturière à Fort Covington et continua ce travail chez elle tout en prenant soin de ses parents âgés. Elle laisse un frère, Mathias Smythe de Nipawin, Saskatchewan.

Les funérailles ont eu lieu vendredi matin le 2 octobre à l'église catholique de St-Anicet. Y assistaient, entre autres, ses cousins, Mme Emma McElwain, M. Levi Smythe et Mme Bernard Derouchie de Fort Covington.

La pollution des eaux inquiète les 4-H

C'est autour d'un thème éloquent: "FORET, GARDIENNE DES RESSOURCES NATURELLES" que les clubs 4-H grouperont leurs activités durant les mois à venir.

Par l'observation et la réalisation de projets concrets les 14,000 membres 4-H de la province seront amenés à déceler le rôle prépondérent de la forêt dans l'équilibre de la nature et à constater que la sauvegarde de notre faune, de notre sol et de nos eaux est intimement liée au sort que l'homme réserve aux arbres.

Et parce que la pollution des eaux constitue un des problèmes les plus sérieux de l'heure, les 4-H y porteront une attention spéciale. La majorité des clubs 4-H organiseront leur campagne anti-pollution. L'état des lacs et cours d'eau environnant leur paroisse sera exposé aux autorités et à la population. L'opinion publique sera informée par l'intermédiaire de tous les média de publicité: radio, télévision, etc.

Ainsi, un autre pas sera fait dans la lutte contre le terrible fléau de la pollution des eaux qui menace la santé de notre population et l'économie de notre province.

Le mouvement 4-H est fier de faire de cet acte de civisme un élément de formation pour ses membres.

Réunion du conseil de Godmanchester

Une réunion régulière du conseil municipal de Godmanchester a eu lieu lundi le 5 octobre en présence de tous les membres et sous la présidence du maire Hector St-Onge.

Le conseiller Arthur fut nommé maire suppléant pour le prochain terme.

On nomma les conseillers Leblanc et Racine inspecteurs des fossés qui devront être nettoyés sur le chemin secondaire Arnold et sur le chemin Arnold Headline.

Ronald Anderson fut embauché pour diriger une charrue à neige au taux de $1.50 l'heure, ou comme aide au taux de $1.25 l'heure, pour l'hiver prochain, et si son travail ne s'avérait pas satisfaisant, il serait renvoyé en aucun temps.

Le conseil commandera de Alph. Vallée 50 voyages de sable mélangé de sel à $10. le voyage de 10 verges. Lesquels voyages devront être entassés au garage municipal aussitôt que possible. M. Vallée sera payé $7.00 l'heure pour étendre le sable sur les chemins et le conseil payera l'aide.

On confia à Alphonse Vallée le travail de construire une machine à sable pour la municipalité de Godmanchester.

On engagea M. F.X. Trépanier comme aide pour l'enlèvement de la neige cet hiver au salaire de $1.25 l'heure.

Le secrétaire-trésorier fut autorisé à acheter 400 sacs de sable pour les chemins. On décida qu'on n'éleverait pas de clôture à neige l'hiver prochain. Les conseillers Reid et Hunter furent dissidents.

Il fut décidé d'envoyer une résolution du groupement Grange No. 11 de Kensington au Département de la Voirie à Ormstown pour étude.

On nomma le maire St-Onge pour voir à ce que les travaux de fossé soient faits près de la propriété de Rémi Quenneville le long du chemin Carr Headlinc.

A l'expiration des deux heures assignées à la réunion, le conseil mit fin à l'assemblée.

Les membres du conseil inspectèrent le chemin Carr Headline après qu'une délégation composée de Thos O'Connor, Martin Coffey, David Coffey et Albert Taillefer eut logé une plainte concernant le mauvais état de ce chemin entre les chemins secondaires Coffey et White. Le conseil, après inspection des lieux, trouva que le chemin était dans une assez bonne condition.

Le paiement des comptes suivants fut approuvé: Comp. Shaw., $3.18; J.E. Barrett, $15., liste des jurés, $24.0g; Cie Shaw., $40.55; Corp. du Comté de Huntingdon, taux du comté, $815.53; Unité Sanitaire du Comté, $239.18.

Plusieurs questions sont débattues à la dernière assemblée de la Commission Scolaire Catholique

Une assemblée régulière de la Commission Scolaire Catholique de Huntingdon a eu lieu mercredi le 7 octobre sous la présidence de M. Gérald Crête et en présence de tous les commissaires, soit MM. David, Saumier, McCallum, Grenon, et M. Hervé Tessier, secrétaire-trésorier.

Comptes payables

On approuva le paiement des comptes; on décida d'attendre cependant pour payer un compte ayant trait à l'achat de nouveaux pupitres: il en manquait deux dans le premier envoi. Un autre compte fut assez longuement discuté, soit celui requérant le paiement des primes d'assurance protégeant les enfants dans les autobus scolaires. Ce compte fut laissé pour étude à une prochaine assemblée spéciale.

Correspondance

Au nombre de la correspondance, une lettre de M. Léonard Latulipe signifiant remise des profits de la vente de lait à l'école Notre-Dame.

On lut aussi une lettre des élèves de l'école Notre-Dame remerciant les commissaires pour les travaux de rénovation effectués dans leurs locaux.

Les commissaires prirent connaissance des directives sur le nouveau catéchisme.

Enfin M. Marcel Legault, contracteur, faisait parvenir une lettre au secrétaire pour offrir ses services.

Etude du budget de l'année courante

De l'étude du budget pour le mois de septembre, présentée par M. Tessier, il ressort que seulement deux items ont dépassé ou dépasseront éventuellement les prévisions des administrateurs: les frais de scolarité dus aux autres municipalités scolaires et le mobilier scolaire, auquel on a déjà attribué plus de la moitié de la somme prévue. M. Crête félicita M. Tessier pour une excellente administration et les commissaires furent unanimes à convenir de l'utilité d'un budget suivi.

Loyer des classes pour la Régionale

Le président de la commission demanda à M. David, représentant de la municipalité scolaire locale à la Régionale Salaberry, s'il y avait de nouveaux développements en ce qui concerne le loyer que paiera la commission régionale à la commission locale. On se souvient que le prix demandé par nos commissaires, et qui figure dans une résolution, était de $1200. par classe. M. David répondit qu'il n'y avait eu aucune décision de prise en sa connaissance. On reçut par ailleurs beaucoup de correspondance de la Régionale: minutes, etc.; on nota aussi que le site n'était pas encore définitif en autant que Québec était concerné.

Arrérages de taxes

Le secrétaire fit rapport de l'étude d'un certain nombre d'arrérages de taxes; une raison assez courante est que les gens concernés sont sur le rôle de perception protestant. Le secrétaire mentionna qu'il devait avoir une copie du rôle municipal pour corriger le rôle de perception scolaire. Le président rappela que les secrétaires-trésoriers des municipalités étaient obligés de produire une copie sur demande. Il fut décidé qu'une lettre soit envoyée à chaque secrétaire-trésorier pour demander une copie du rôle. Pour ce qui est des arrérages eux-mêmes, il fut décidé qu'on enverrait tous les arrérages de deux ans et de trois ans au conseil du comté à l'assemblée de novembre.

Echos des différentes conventions

M. Tessier mentionna qu'il avait participé à la convention des secrétaires des commissions scolaires et que celle-ci s'était avérée très intéressante. M. Grenon pour sa part fit rapport du 17ème Congrès des Commissions Scolaires tenu récemment. A son avis, il avait été instructif et fructueux. On parla de l'opération 55, et aussi des secrétaires à plein temps.

Affaires nouvelles

M. Payant présenta son rapport sur le recensement des enfants. Il mentionna qu'il ne lui restait plus que deux rues à faire et qu'il espérait terminer dans une semaine.

On autorisa le secrétaire à remplacer par deux soirs d'heures de bureau une journée dans la semaine On suggéra le mardi et le mercredi soir de 7 à 10 heures.

Il fut décidé de vendre les pupitres usagés. On confia cette tâche à M. Saumier.

Un octroi de $500. fut accordé aux Majorettes. On fit remarquer que le Gouvernement en paiera 75 pour cent.

Une assemblée spéciale aura vraisemblablement lieu dans la semaine du 11 au 17 octobre.

Les Red Wings de Détroit seront à Valleyfield le 22 oct.

GORDIE HOWE

Les amateurs de Hockey de la région sont des plus choyés actuellement, puisqu'après avoir eu l'occasion d'assister à une joute entre les Canadiens et les Knights d'Omaha dernièrement, ils auront l'occasion d'assister jeudi le 22 octobre à l'aréna de Valleyfield, à une joute opposant les Red Wings de Détroit et une équipe d'étoiles, recrutée dans la région de Valleyfield.

Les admirateurs de Gordie Howe auront l'occasion de voir ce dernier à l'oeuvre, ainsi que le joueur de défense Marcil Pronovost qui jouit d'une grande popularité dans la région. On sait que Pronovost, qui habite Beauharnois, est à l'emploi de "Jacques "MOLSON" Viau de Valleyfield durant la saison estivale. Cette joute promet an grand intérêt et plusieurs ont hâte de comparer les prouesses des porte-couleurs locaux contre celles des professionnels de la Ligue Nationale.

L'alignement du Valleyfield pour la joute sera le suivant:

Gardien de But: Claude Pronovost. Défenses: Bob Mudie, Gilles Viau, Fernand Chayer, Guy Richer et Jacques Viau. 1ère ligne: Tod Campeau, Jean-Paul Bisaillon, Raymond Leduc, Deuxième ligne d'attaque: Jean-Marc Bougie, Maurice Villeneuve et Jean-Guy "MIX" Lafleur. 3e ligne Michel Rochefort, Lucien Miron, Edgar Théoret.

Instructeur: Marcel Lalonde. Les billets pour cette joute seront en vente en fin de semaine à l'aréna de Valleyfield et on vous suggère de faire vos réservations au plus tôt.

Pour connaître davantage... Dieu

On parle d'évolution, de révolution tranquille, d'amélioration, de changement ... En effet, actuellement, il y a de tout cela, et même au point de vue religieux. Beaucoup s'exclament que la religion change, mais ils ne disent pas que les principes fondamentaux demeurent, ex.: les dix commandements de Dieu, les dogmes de foi, la Bible, demeurant toujours la parole écrite sous l'inspiration du Saint-Esprit.

Mais le gros changement opéré, c'est la façon de présenter le message divin, dans nos livres contemporains. Le catéchisme en est un; d'ailleurs, ce n'est pas la première fois que cela arrive.

Tout d'abord, pour comprendre un livre, il faut l'accepter, le feuilleter, lire l'introduction, consulter la table des matières, regarder des images, constater ses divisions; le mieux; c'est de la lire au complet. En quelques mots dans ce volume "Viens vers le Père", vous trouvez une partie imagée parsemée de quelques textes bibliques et une autre partie écrite, se rapportant aux parents.

Quoi penser de tout cela? Je suis persuadé que ceux qui ont bâti ce volume ont tenu compte de la psychologie de l'enfant, captivé par l'image, du rôle principal des parents dans l'éducation religieuse des enfants, des éducateurs; institutrices, professeurs, prêtres, qui viennent compléter la formation religieuse des enfants.

Comme toute chose nouvelle fait surgir des difficultés, il en est de même dans le cas présentement traité. Je crois qu'il faut vaincre ces difficultés, constater le changement apporté qui aidera tout le monde, ne pas perdre de vue dans cette première année les enfants qui ont à prendre contact avec Dieu le Père tout-puissant, créateur du ciel et de la terre, avec Jésus le Fils de Dieu, qui est venu pour tous les gens de la terre, avec le Saint-Esprit qui m'aide à parler à Dieu dans mon coeur, avec le Vierge Marie si belle, avec l'Eglise, qui est la grande famille des enfants de Dieu.

Comme on le voit, les enfants auront contact cette année avec plusieurs traités de théologie. Ce sera suffisant, pour qu'ils puissent étudier, l'an prochain, les moyens de sanctification, que sont les sacrements. Après quoi, ils pourront faire leur première communion, confession, et être confirmés.

Bonne chance à tous.

Nouvelles de Howick

M. et Mme Henri Marsan ont célébré leur 25ème anniversaire de mariage le 23 septembre dernier. Vendredi soir le 2 octobre, plusieurs parents se sont réunis à leur domicile pour une partie de cartes. On servit de délicieux rafraichissements et la soeur de Mme Marsan, Mme Deslières, leur présenta un cadeau en argent. Parmi les visiteurs venus d'assez loin on remarquait: M. et Mme Potvin, M. et Mme Deslières et M. et Mme Band de Montréal; Mme Bernard de Longueuil; Mme Deguire de Verdun et M. Maurice Potvin de Montréal.

M. et Mme Gordon Lang et leur famille sont de retour d'un voyage en auto à Calgary, Edmonton et aux autres endroits intéressants de l'ouest canadien.

Mme Janet Reddick est de retour d'une magnifique vacance passée chez des parents et amis de Belleville, Wellington, Picton, Toronto, Port Credit et Niagara Falls, Ont.

AVIS SPECIAL AUX CULTIVATEURS DE LA VALLEE DE CHATEAUGUAY

Le Gleaner aimerait publier une série d'articles sur les fermes de la Vallée de Châteauguay qui auront 100 ans ou plus d'existence lors du Centenaire du Canada. Cette série comprendrait l'histoire de ces fermes à partir des premiers temps jusqu'à maintenant, et si possible, chaque histoire serait accompagnée de photographies appropriées.

De façon à ce qu'on sache de qui on pourrait obtenir ces histoires, il faudrait que les propriétaires de ces fermes entrent en contact avec le Gleaner et fassent connaître les détails qu'ils détiennent, l'histoire de leur ferme et de leurs ancêtres, et aussi qu'ils fournissent toute photographie qu'ils auraient en leur possession et qui cadrerait avec l'histoire.

Cela ne veut pas dire que le Gleaner promet de publier toutes les histoires, mais le plus grand nombre possible de celles qui seront réellement intéressantes le seront d'ici le centenaire. Pour être éligibles, il faudra que ces fermes soient demeurées dans la même lignée de famille pour toute la période du temps en cause. L'utilisation ou la publication de chacune de ces histoires demeurera à la discrétion des Imprimeurs et des Editeurs du Gleaner et leur décision sera finale.

Ecrivez ou téléphonez, ou passez simplement au bureau du Gleaner si vous jugez que vous avez une histoire qui convienne. Ne tardez pas.
