Dominion Wide Program Opens Here This Week

A May Brake-Check campaign, under auspices of the International Association of Police Chiefs, Dominion wide in scope, is under way locally and everything possible is being done to inform the public of the program and its purposes, focus attention on the undertaking and enlist public support.

The program desires all youth organizations to be asked to participate and schools can help by students asking parents to have their car brakes checked during the period.

Legion and Veterans of both World Wars will be co-operative in many localities. Home-School Associations are also expected to be interested as also the churches in most communities, clergymen advising their parishioners of the vital importance of highway safety through ascertaining that passenger cars are in the best possible working order.

War production plants may also endeavour to prove the necessity of maintaining a high level of traffic safety as a vital part of the war effort.

To help make cars last longer and to reduce accidents, Westmount Police will co-operate in the nation-wide Brake Check program, it was announced today by Chief of Police W. Gough.

During May the police will

Battered Case Keeps Glasses From Weather

Melting snows of Westmount Park surrendered to view an old rusty spectacle case that remained unobserved until a casual walker interestedly toed the weather-battered cover and was greatly surprised to discover inside a pair of gold-rimmed glasses which had suffered no damage.

The case inside was marked Barlow and Barlow and the right leg had undergone a repair job being fastened with fine wire at the junction with the lense.

William Gibson, caretaker, 6 Park Place, was the person who found them and he reveals that the glasses are not spooled and the owner may have them, on supplying proof, by calling at 6 Park Place.

C.C.F. RADIO TALK

Dr. Stanley Allan, C.C.F. candidate for Notre Dame de Grace will speak on behalf of Dr. J. Cyril Flanagan candidate for Westmount-St. Antoine in the coming Federal Election, next Thursday at 7.45 p.m.

Objective Now Being Neared By Local Unit

The results for the first 10 days of the Eighth Victory Loan Campaign are well ahead of all previous loans for a similar period. There has been a satisfactory increase in the number of subscribers, as well as dollar amounts. If the citizens of Westmount keep up this pace, the organizers have every reason to believe that Westmount will go over the top by May 12th, the closing day of Canada's Victory Loan Campaign, declares Unit Headquarters.

Nevertheless, the sales force are stating that there are still a great number of people who ask the salesmen to call back two, three, four and five times, for their subscription and the organizers again ask the co-operation of the citizens to avoid these call backs as much as is humanly possible.

To those citizens who have delayed purchasing their bonds a phone call to the Unit Headquarters will insure a salesman calling for any new or additional subscriptions.

While elated over the progress the organizers point out that the objective is the minimum requirement but that a substantial over-subscription would demonstrate beyond a doubt Westmount's determination on the eve of Victory and Peace to "Invest In The Best".

Westmount Park V-E Day Service Will Be Held

City of Westmount authorities have planned a Civic Service of Thanksgiving and Dedication to be held in the Park on the day that news of cessation of hostilities in Europe is received.

Citizens of prominence and the various denominational leaders will take part and loud-speaking installation will carry the ceremony to the crowds anticipated attending the V-E day gathering.

The band of the Royal Montreal Regiment will play opening selections and the choirs of the various churches will lead the singing.

Among the clergy participating in the order of service will be Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver, Rev. T. W. Jones, Rabbi H. J. Stern, Rev. J. A. Johnston, Rev. William Orr Mulligan, Rev. A. Lloyd Smith and Rev. Sydenham B. Lindsay.

Local Musician Heads Army Show

Arthur Morrow, 21 Melborne Avenue, talented young local musician has just finished a week's embarkation leave and is now overseas, with the army show known as the "Tin Hats" in the capacity of Director.

Transferred from the M4 band to the 18th Entertainment show in Toronto, it was not long before he was spotted by the "Tin Hats."

Graduate of Westmount High School where he was an active member of the school orchestra, he had a real jam session with Johnny Holmes.

No Toleration For Gangsters Says Diplomat

BY GEORGE COCHRANE

"To prevent a third world war people must not consider themselves as citizens of a city, a province, or a nation, but as citizens of the world", Colonel M. Thomas Tchu, former secretary to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, founder and director of the World Citizenship Movement, declared in an address to students of Westmount High School at an assembly in the school's gymnasium Tuesday morning.

In a masterful address, he drew a parallel between a gangster in a community and a gangster nation in the world.

"You do not tolerate a gangster in Westmount and we cannot tolerate for an instant a gangster in the family of nations," the speaker said. "They both must be brought to justice."

Col. Tchu traced the development of the gangster nations of today, Germany, Japan and Italy

Westmount Veterans Win French Battle Honours

Captain Allan F. Smith has been awarded the coveted Croix de Guerre with Gilt Leaves, the second highest war decoration given by the French Government in "recognition of gallant and distinguished service" and promoted to majority by Canadian Army.

Major Smith, one of six brothers all members of the armed services, and former Weredale men lost his father in the last war.

Miss Craig, lady superintendent, was quite flustered when a tall young man wearing naval uniform with North African and Active Service ribbons walked in and greeted her the other day. It was "Billie", William E. Taylor, able seaman home on survivor leave from the Silver Star Park sinking.

The young sailor told a grim story of a burning Canadian tanker, and flaming oil in which his mates were burned to death, and affirms his determination to return to work until the war is over.

Also receiving military honors from the Government of France for deeds of gallantry in the face of the enemy, are the following local active veterans:

The Croix de Guerre with Gilt Star was awarded to Maj. L. C. Monk, 40, of Westmount; Maj. D. S. F. Bult-Francis, 34, 492 Mountain Avenue; and Lt. Gordon K. Henry, 26, of Westmount; Croix de Guerre with Silver Star was awarded to Lt. J. D. Campbell, 31, 596 Victoria Avenue.

Lt. H. M. Kenyon Home From Overseas

Lieutenant H. M. Kenyon, who is attached to the W.T.S. of F.A. N.Y., returned from overseas on Tuesday night on leave and has rejoined her family here. Lieutenant Kenyon is the guest of her father, Mr. J. Pitblado, Seaforth Avenue.

In October, 1941, Lieutenant Kenyon went overseas as a volunteer transport driver and worked with the Polish army in Scotland. Two years later she was transferred to London, to the Polish Ministry of National Defence, where, as Polish Liaison officer with the Anglo-Scottish-Polish societies, she headed a department of her own.

Fiftieth Anniversary

On Wednesday, March 17th, 1937, Heather celebrated its 50th Anniversary. The Governor General, Lord Tweedsmuir, accepted an invitation to be present, but, unfortunately, illness prevented his coming to Montreal.

Afternoon tea was held which was attended by the Club's officers and their ladies. The Mayor, John Jenkins, represented the City of Westmount. The Hon. T. A. Crerar, Federal Minister of Mines and Resources, was present and gave a short address.

Ten Montreal Island Clubs were each represented by four of their officers, and participated in a ten end Bonspiel. Lachine, with a plus of nine, were declared the winners. The Cup, given by Heather, for this occasion, was presented by the Honorary President, W. B. Hutchison. The Rinks and Scores:

In the evening some 225 members, guests and friends gathered at a dinner held in the Rose Room of the Windsor Hotel. The President, Mr. O. Mowatt presided. After an excellent dinner a programme of music, singing and dancing followed with short addresses by the various visiting Clubs' representatives, who presented their felicitations to Heather. Lt.-Col. V. H. Graham, Vice-President of the R.C.C. Club, presented the good wishes of the Mother Club, and Mr. H. R. Cockfield spoke for the Canadian Branch. Other speakers were: Mayor of Westmount, John Jenkins, Vice-President of Heather, Mr. S. B. Cayford and Past President of Heather, Mr. R. A. Nixon. Past President of Heather, Mr. Geo. Finlayson adequately and humorously thanked our visitors for their good wishes.

Westmount Bonspiel

The Westmount Bonspiel was inaugurated in the year 1933. Heather had the feeling that the close of each season, interest lagged, all important games having been played, and the ice being more or less difficult to master from a curler's point of view. All felt that towards the end of the month of March, it would be worth while to revive interest in the "roarin' game" so our March Committee devised a Bonspiel that could be played at our Club (as we have 5 sheets of ice) by inviting all Clubs on the Island of Montreal to participate. It was found that we could play 64 teams down to a final within a week or ten days time, so invitations were sent to each Club suggesting a quota to join with us in this great "round-up". The idea was accepted and to our gratification the enthusiasm created was much more than anticipated. Since 1933 we have carried on with what is now one of the "features" in curling in Montreal. To minimize expense Heather irons are used throughout the competition. Not even a Heather member is permitted to use his own irons, and the play is so arranged, that no team plays twice in succession on the same sheet of ice. This makes it fair for all, visitors and home players alike.

Another unique feature in connection with this Bonspiel is, that teams are only known by number when the draw is made. Names of players are not supplied until afterwards, when each Club instructs the Secretary-Manager of Heather to whom the numbers allotted have been assigned.

1937 being our fiftieth Anniversary, the Corporation, of the City of Westmount, through the Mayor and Aldermen saw fit to present a trophy for this competition, in the form of a beautiful silver Cup. The only stipulation by the authorities is, that the Cup be played for annually. Heather yearly presents in ownership, a miniature of this Cup to the winning Club, and gold medals to each member of the team, the runners-up receiving silver medals.

Winners: Thistle 1933, R. G. Hutchison, Skip; Heather 1934, J. McKee, Skip; Royal Montreal 1935 W. Brown, Skip; Royal Montreal 1936, W. Brown, Skip; Caledonia 1937, J. L. G. McGerrigle, Skip; Runners-up: Royal Montreal, W. Brown, Skip; Royal Montreal, W. C. Tyre, Skip; Montreal West, E. F. McMahon, Skip; Royal Montreal, J. H. Norris, Skip; Heather, W. B. Hutchison, Skip.

On Nov. 15th 1910 the Executive of our Club engaged Geo. Diack for the exacting task of making the "ice". After 27 years of efficient and loyal service, George has become one of the best known rinkmen to the Curling fraternity. Visitors from sister Clubs on the Island, of Montreal, and from the out of town Clubs of the district, all have a kindly word of greeting for George, when they visit Heather. Many are the compliments he received after the game for his workmanship in supplying keen, true sheets of ice for all competitions. His clever and unique art in decorating the ice with fitting mottoes and figures in color, received much favorable comment. George was born in Auld Reekie, where he attended public school. He says: "My first experience of ice for curling, was climbing over the fence behind the school, and breaking up the ice by floating a raft through the deep water pond. Another pond was of asphalt and flooded about ¼ inch deep. The curlers used to spend the early morning curling before the sun got strong."

George learned his trade as a stone cutter before coming to this country. Working in the shop were two former members of this Club, who had gone to the old country to gain additional experience, A. K. Hutchison and P. A. Brown.

check the brakes of all cars involved in moving traffic violations and in accidents, according to Chief Gough. He added that cars also would be checked which are operated in a manner indicating that the brakes are not safe.

"The brake check will be timely," he said, "because, usually, accidents increase sharply in the spring. Since cars on the average are twice as old today as before the war, they are more likely to suffer breakdowns. The brake check should be an invaluable aid in holding the line against the certain threat," Chief Gough said.

"A simple brake check has been devised," explained Chief Gough, "which will take a police officer only a minute to make. It is hoped that all motorists will cooperate in this war-time program by having their brakes checked voluntarily at repair shops and by making sure the entire car is in safe operating condition."

"No new cars will be made until after the war—yet, last year, a quarter million were damaged so badly in accidents, they went to the scrap heap. We've got to stop such fearful losses," Chief Gough said.

By means of a new and simple check, the police hope to locate the most dangerous brakes in use and to warn motorists of the urgency of getting their brakes adjusted or repaired. The check will be applied only to passenger cars involved in traffic violations, where the car is moving, and in accidents. Brakes will also be checked on cars which are operated in a manner indicating that the brakes are unsafe.

"The brake check takes only a minute to make," according to Chief Gough. "In making the check, the officer will place a wood block one inch thick on the floor board under the foot pedal. He then depresses the pedal. If it strikes the block before the brakes begin to grip, the brakes will be considered inadequate and in need of immediate attention. If the brakes grip while the pedal is slightly more than one inch from the floor board they are not to be considered safe and the driver will be urged to have corrective measures taken.

"The brake check was determined after careful research, and it is based on the pedal pressure needed to stop cars safely. The average car requires about 130 pounds of pedal pressure to permit brakes to do the best job of stopping the car. With only one inch of effective distance left in applying the brakes, it is possible to build up only about fifty pounds of pedal pressure, which is far less than is needed for proper stopping.

"This brake check does not blanket all motorists. It applies only to the conditions cited above. However, motorists in general, for their own protection and safety and to conserve their own cars are urged to co-operate. If motorists have any doubt as to the safety of their brakes, they should have them tested immediately at the repair shop and have them adjusted or repaired as soon as possible," said Chief Gough.

United States Consul Eloquent On "French Equatorial Africa"

United States Consul L. W. Taylor, traveller, accomplished diplomat, exuding experiences abroad, entertained instructively as he addressed the attentive Westmount Rotary members on "French Equatorial Africa."

Consul Taylor was sent to Brazzaville, capital of French Equatorial Africa, when the Governor-General of that immense territory, refusing to recognise the Vichy regime of Marechal Petain, announced his intention of supporting General de Gaulle and the Free French.

Mr. Taylor gave an able exposition of the administrative functions, geographical features and native inhabitants of this vast French colonial empire.

A Governor-General, who is responsible to the French Government, is the chief representative, he said.

Four Governors, each in charge of a department and responsible to the Governor-General, are the superiors of sub-Departmental chiefs, all these officials being French.

Four geographical areas form the territory. The coastal is mostly dense jungle, which the speaker revealed was ideal for logging operations, but there is a labour problem, the pigmies who dwell in this forest district prefer hunting and do not engage in any form of manual work.

Further inland there is rolling savanna land suitable for agriculture and populated by intelligent natives who live in villages, work in coffee and cotton plantations and from whom the French colonial forces recruit their most suitable type for military service.

Pasture land inhabited by nomadic tribes, all professing the Moslem religion and all having their own dialect and tribal customs, compose the third geographical area.

The fourth division, which includes Lake Chad, is desert land, sparsely inhabited by tribes engaged in pastoral pursuits, their wealth being mainly calculated in flocks and herds.

French authorities have provided a restricted educational system, he declared, consisting of a village school, departmental school and a technical school, which latter is located in Brazzaville, whereby minor native officials are enabled to acquire elementary instruction. These schools are not open to all, he asserted.

Mr. Taylor states that while native intelligence is low, the people do make obedient household servants and carve articles from ivory in a manner which requires a high degree of manual dexterity.

An exhibition of ivory articles owned by the speaker and carved by African natives was on display, a set of chessmen in black and white, a crocodile, cigarette holders, paper knives and various other items were the subjects of high praise and favourable comments.

Rotarian Wilfred Spearman thanked the speaker for a very interesting session, followed by Rotarian Bill Moxley, who spoke on the need for extra effort in the matter of completing the Carnival Program.

President Callard drew the members' attention to the Charter Night of the newly organized Brownsburg Rotary Club to be held at the Lachute Golf Club, May 12th.

Rotarian Cuthbert fulfilled the duties of song leader.

Flying Officer Graham Hurdman, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hurdman, 322 Prince Albert Avenue, former pupil of King's school and Westmount High, in a recent letter to his parents enclosed samples of Japanese invasion money for use in Alaska and Canada. Had the Japs won a footing here we would be using this flimsy paper instead of our familiar silver ten cent pieces.

This money was forwarded from the South East Asia theatre of war where P/O Hurdman is stationed with a R.C.A.F. squadron, transporting supplies for the 14th Army.

For some time this squadron was stationed on the fringe of the jungle and lived on issued rations eaten standing or sitting on the ground. The biggest thrill of their tour of duty was a two day flying trip to the city of Calcutta the outstanding feature being the discovery of a shop where the airmen had their first ice cream since leaving Canada, declares Hurdman.

The most enjoyable recreation was swimming in the surf and the greatest annoyance, the temperature which reaches 115 degrees during the day and drops to 75 degrees at night.

R.S.L. Sea Scouts Drill Exhibition On Parents' Night

At Herbert Symonds School the Port Division of the Royal St. Lawrence Sea Scouts held their annual parents' night.

Despite the rainy weather a high proportion of the parents turned up to sit in on the ordinary routine of the Ship's Company. During the first instruction period practise was in drill and semaphore work. This was followed by the crews competing in a game of S.O.S., which brought out a display of intense rivalry and which had its amusing moments.

The Ship's Company was then cleared from the main deck and the Skipper of the unit, Mr. D. Desbarats, welcomed the parents and introduced Mr. Chas. Draper, the officer in general charge of the 3 units of the Royal St. Lawrence Sea Scouts, and Mr. F. Campbell, skipper of the Starboard Division, who suggested that parents should think of permitting their boys to go to Camp Tamaracouta for 2 weeks with a party he is planning.

The second instructional period was occupied by a crew knotting competition and the introduction by the Skipper, of the official Sea Scout guests, Mr. Sydney Webster, chairman of the Montreal Council, the guest of honour, who had inspected the Ship's Company in the early part of the evening, addressed the parents and Sea Scouts, congratulating the latter on their appearance and smartness and pointing out the purpose and importance of Scout work, doing something to help boys to become happier and better citizens, to develop habits of self-reliance, of discipline and of consideration for others.

Mr. Webster then presented certificates to A. G. Hawes, J. MacTavish, S. Skelton and B. Robertson for promotion to the rating of Sea Scout Second Class, and to B. Morrison and A. G. Hawes for promotion to leading hands.

Revue In Aid Of Milk Fund

The Kinsmen Club of Montreal is presenting The Mary Beales Spring Revue at His Majesty's Theatre Saturday evening, May 12th, in aid of the Milk for Children in Bombed British Areas.

Generous support of this worthy cause is earnestly desired as milk now is needed more than ever to build strong healthy bodies in children and, in that way to remove from their memories many of the past and present evils of the world.

Every effort is being made to make this performance both interesting and artistic as never before have our children co-operated so enthusiastically with their teachers to achieve this end.

In our school books we learned that—"for want of a nail the shoe was lost—for want of a shoe, the horse was lost—and for want of a horse the battle was lost."

Yes, often something that seems relatively small is the hinge upon which a major event hangs. To-day, we all desire that our boys overseas shall return home quickly—but it is only by every one of us doing the utmost in our power that this desire will become an accomplishment.

The 8th Victory Loan is here. Let every one of us lend our money, so that our boys may come home sooner.

"THE WORK OF BEASTS"

"It's the work of beasts," declared a German doctor forced to view the horrors of the Nazi concentration camp at Ohrdruf. Thus, with the full uncovering of its unspeakable atrocities, the Nazi wolf has shed its last semblance of sheep's clothing, and stands revealed in all its vileness for ever its former dupes to see—if they will. On that "if" depends in large measure the redemptio of the German people.

Twenty years ago the nation that was then Germany instituted a system of enlightened prison reform which received world-wide attention. The Minister of Justice asserted:

The execution of punishment . . . is a social question and one in which culture plays a big part. Our purpose is to train the prisoner for liberty. We are humans dealing with humans, with, if you like, weak brothers who need our help.

Eight fateful years later a Nazi Minister of Justice announced that the "too human" method had failed, and the press printed a survey of the new code under the caption, "The Abandonment of Humanitarian Principles in Prison Practice." So was evidenced the beginning of Germany's retreat to practices of the dark ages. There followed the gagging of the press, denial of civil rights, and, worst of all, suppression of religion, with substitution of Nazi doctrines for the Nazarene's teachings.

Perhaps the greatest indictment of the German people is that they stood by and let this happen first to themselves, later to others. Some did oppose it, and were thrown into concentration camps. But the majority blindly allowed themselves to be led down the trail of degeneration by mad pipings of lebensraum, racial superiority, and a "new order." If they were in ignorance of the bestiality of the Nazi regime, it was a self-willed ignorance, a deliberate turning from God-fearing to mammon-worshipping.—Christian Science Monitor.

17TH ROUND-UP

Local residents will be interested in the Round-Up being held by the 17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars at the Armoury on May 17, 18 and 19, under the auspices of the Ladies' Association. The last event of the kind, staged by the regiment, drew thousands, and this promises to be even more successful.

The Ladies' Association of the regiment has been active ever since the beginning of the war in providing comforts for the men overseas. The following list gives an idea of the work they have been doing: fifteen thousand knitted articles, a quarter of a million cigarettes, one thousand Christmas parcels, twelve hundred packages of gum, fifty-five blankets, great quantities of clothing — these and much more have been sent to the men of the regiment overseas, to civilians in England, and to the men of the merchant navy.

Do your part to help the association continue the good work. Patronize the Round-Up, and at the same time help yourself to an evening of extra-fine entertainment.

TO GET EVEN

We know a business man who went to Toronto to pay his respects to an elderly banker and congratulate him on his recovery from a stroke.

The man had been close to death and knew it.

"I didn't care whether I came out of it or not," he said, rather wearily. "What did I have to live for?"

"Oh, come on, Joe," said our friend, brightly. "Surely there is someone whom you would like to annoy a bit longer."

"Right you are," said the banker, wryly. "There's a fellow I want to get even with. Five years ago he came to my office and took the major part of my savings. He sold me a single-payment annuity, good for $1,000 a month as long as I live and good for nothing if I die. To get my money back I must live to eighty. The very thought of it gives me strength to live."

Lots of times when you think your wife's mad at you, she's just annoyed because she held such rotten cards at the afternoon bridge party.

A woman looks at all the dresses in the shop windows for a month before she buys and for a month after she buys.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

My friend, Charles H. Ingersoll, editor and publisher of Democracy, believes with Tocqueville that the remedy for the ills of democracy is more democracy. He has been for fifty years an industrialist and student of scientific economics. He was co-originator in 1892 of "The Watch That Made The Dollar Famous." Five hundred million were sold. He has been doing much broadcasting and lecturing on economics and taxation covering nearly every state in his country. He is President of the National Tax Relief Association and edits Democracy, with a small d, at 1165 Broadway, New York City. In a recent issue of his paper he writes of the death of Whidden Graham, the reformer who died recently at the age of eighty-three years at New York City. Of Mr. Graham, whom I had the pleasure of meeting and with whom I corresponded for some years, he wrote "Perhaps the humblest role of the reformer is the writing of 'Vox-Pop' letters to the newspapers, and it is an art possessed by few. Concededly, and perhaps generously, ahead of the editor and average readers, the writer must gain their confidence and hold their interest." Graham migrated from the grass roots of Nova Scotia, (Antigonish) in the eighteen-eighties, and promptly fell in with the search of fundamental economics immortalized by Henry George, leading such great satellites as Father McGlynn, Thomas G. Cherman and Tom Johnston. Since then Graham's voice and pen have scarcely rested a moment in crying "In our wilderness," the only basic economic doctrine. No name in the movement for the abolition of poverty is more famed than his is to the general reading public; for a most thrilling and prolific platform speaker, with some self-imposed limitations due to his inability to put a curb on truth and facts, or on his inclination to give specific point to all he said.

A new method of putting in windows is now being used to re-glaze bomb-damaged London. Instead of putty, a pressed steel bar, inexpensive and efficient, is used. It enables the work to be done in a fraction of the time needed for the old method of glazing. It is the idea of an official of the U.K. Plumbers' Union. A number of borough councils are now using large quantities of the pressed steel bar with great success.

In the past 25 years the rise in the permanent cure rate of hernia has been astounding. In the early 1900's perhaps 30 per cent of hernia came back despite operations, but ruptured people now have close to 95 chances out of 100 of permanent cure in many hospitals where the surgical staffs have special skill and wide experience. Hernia is a simple mechanical breakdown of the human machine and easy to get at. What the operation boils down to is this: The surgeon finds the offending hernial sac, ties it off at its internal opening and removes it; then, by a very careful overlapping of abdominal muscles and tendons, he strengthens the weakened wall of the abdomen. Given skilled surgery, the risk of the operation is extremely low. In many modern clinics the patient can sit up the first day afterward, and start walking the second. Today, with local anesthesia, even old people and those suffering from heart disease are no longer denied the surgical cure of their hernias. The operation is so successful that the U.S. Army now accepts formerly ruptured draftees when they have been cured by good surgery.—Paul de Kruij in "Taking the Hush-Hush Out of Hernia."

It has often been said that most of the great men of Pictou County, N.S. (legions of them), left their native county to attain their eminent positions in different parts of the world. The late Senator Thomas Cantley was an exception. A native of New Glasgow he rose to become President besides his unique snappy, saucy, ironic letters (at least one thousand of them) calling down sham moves and persons, he, for decades, contributed regularly to papers and periodicals such as "Life" and "The Christian Science Monitor." Graham was also General Manager of Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company, then an independent concern. He was an able manager and a most persuasive salesman, travelling widely to find markets. Early in the war he became convinced Canadian steel companies could produce the munitions wanted by the troops. He went to England and proved to the authorities there that it could be done, and it was done. His was a long and useful life.

The treasurer showed total receipts of more than $23,000, of which $8,320 was contributed to missionary objects. The women's organizations raised over $2,600 of the missionary funds. In addition to paying all ordinary expenses there was a reduction of $1,500 on the mortgage and a small surplus.

Van Johnson Has Great Role In Outstanding Best-Seller

Down to the smallest exciting detail, "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo" is not only a true story, but the most accurate motion picture ever filmed. Its authenticity was assured by three young heroes of the Tokyo raid. They are Major Ted W. Lawson, author with Robert Considine of the absorbing best-seller account of the raid from which the picture was adapted; Major Dean Davenport, his co-pilot of their B-25 bomber, the Ruptured Duck, and Lieutenant H. Allen Fairbanks, Navy fighter pilot who on the raid, was assigned to the famed aircraft carrier Hornet.

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film, with Van Johnson, Robert Walker and Phyllis Thaxter, and with Spencer Tracy as Lieutenant Colonel (now Lieutenant General) James H. Doolittle, opens Saturday at the Snowdon Theatre.

When Major Lawson's book was purchased from galley proofs, his services were obtained with it. He was brought to Hollywood with his charming wife, Ellen, and their then eight-months-old daughter, Ann, and for twelve weeks during the preparation and writing of the script, was in daily conference with Producer Sam Zimbalist and Scenarist Dalton Trumbo. Major Lawson's presence proved so inspiring to Trumbo that he completed the script in eight weeks. It was filmed without change.

To hear Major Lawson tell the story of the Tokyo raid was an unforgettable experience. His words made each incident thrillingly real—the secret training in Florida, the tense days aboard the Hornet en route to Japan, the spectacular crash of his plane off the coast of China, the rescue of himself and his crew by Chinese guerrillas and, after months of fighting for his life in China, his joyous reunion with Ellen at the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C. He amplified much of the material in his book, particularly his vivid personal reactions to an experience such as few men have known.

In addition, Major Lawson provided descriptions of his comrades and their associates, which aided in the selection of the cast. His photographs, notably those taken in China, were invaluable in the construction of sets. When photographs were lacking, he made numerous sketches to illustrate the action that took place. He had brought back from China many letters of gratitude from the Chinese people, and tokens of their affections, hand-made shirts, slippers, and silver knives and forks made by Chinese craftsmen. These were copied for use in the picture.

When Major Lawson left Hollywood to take a new post as Aviation Attache with the American Embassy in Santiago, Chile, the film had not gone into production due to the tremendous technical and physical problems involved before a camera could turn. But he was transferred back to the United States in time to see several scenes being filmed. It was a dramatic moment when Major Lawson walked on the set to watch himself being played by Van Johnson in a recreation of the Chinese village where he spent so many weeks. He was keenly interested in the realism of the settings, not only of the Chinese village, but of the flight deck of the Hornet, which was constructed for the picture.

"It is remarkable how real it all looks," said Major Lawson, who was amazed by the meticulous detail with which the sets had been built from his descriptions and photographs.

MISS HELLER: CONFIDENT

If eyeglasses cramp your style by making you feel self-conscious, ask your eye physician what about invisible contact lenses, which so many actresses, singers, dancers and girls just like you have hit upon as the solution to this problem.

Confessing to a "specs complex" is sparkling Jeanette Heller, a New York girl who says she needed to wear glasses to correct near-sightedness, but considered them a handicap to her appearance until she became a convert to contact lenses.

Now that she wears keen-sight visual aids which don't advertise their purpose—plastic lenses inserted under lids and safely worn with a saline solution to protect eyes—Jeanette says she no longer feels self-conscious and has a complete new confidence in the way she looks.

Women With Ideas

Mrs. H. Hepworth

By BETTY BRUCE

"Don't worry about us Service people! When we joined up we knew we would have to face the possibility of wounds and death. But the children of Plymouth—the innocent victims of this war who had nothing to do with making or waging it—help them." These were the injunctions laid up Mrs. H. Hepworth, 6876 Sherbrooke Street, by her brother, Warrant Engineer L. H. Blacker, R.N., when he visited her after four years continuously at sea.

Mrs. Hepworth might have retorted with truth that she was already up to her eyebrows in war work. Instead, she cast about for ideas. What sort of project could she undertake so that her own labor of love would directly benefit and ease the sufferings of the bombed out children of Plymouth, that favorite port of Sir Francis Drake which has been smashed and buried almost more than any other town in England. She decided to earn "talent money".

Success

By no means an adept at any sort of handicraft, she bought books, studied and practised, and inspired by her brother's words and without in any way letting up on her regular war work, Mrs. Hepworth has earned $400 since last fall by knitting, sewing, crocheting; and decorating combs. This money she turned over to the Cote des Neiges and Snowdon Women's Club, of which she is a member, and the club donated the money to the Queen's Canadian Fund, earmarked for Plymouth.

When discussing her talent money project Mrs. Hepworth constantly reiterates that without the wonderful support of her Canadian and American friends, she could not have achieved her object.

Lady Astor

In recognition of her contribution to Plymouth's children, Lady Astor wrote and thanked Mrs. Hepworth, telling her how the

At Dockyard

During World War I Mrs. Hepworth herself went through some bombing. ## MISS PARKER SAYS LEGISLATION NEEDED

Legislation to control trained attendants' schools and trained attendants' registers, was advocated by Miss M. L. Parker, of Miss Parker's School for Trained Attendants at the graduation exercises held this week in the Herbert Symonds Parish Hall. Miss Parker, who founded the school in 1921, emphasized the fact that Manitoba is the only province in Canada that has made provision for the control of not only the registered nurse, but most important of all, the trained attendant.

"Today," continued Miss Parker, "there are schools for trained attendants run by trained attendants, and that should not be. Such an institution can be compared to a kindergarten run by children."

Miss Margaret Kerr, editor of the Canadian Nurse, and guest speaker at the event, addressed the graduates.

Dr. E. Patenaude also spoke. Miss Madeleine Fortin, of the Women's Counselling Service, Veteran's Affairs Reestablishment Centre, presented the graduates with their badges and diplomas, and Miss E. MacLennan also spoke briefly.

When Children Worry

FRANCES DUNLAP HERON

Grandpa Karnes laid down the newspaper with its war headlines and rocked silently a moment as he watched his grandchildren playing on the lawn. Turning to his daughter-in-law, who sat knitting nearby, he sighed and then said, "I envy those youngsters; they don't have any worries."

Evelyn Karnes glanced up from her needles and smiled. "You'd be surprised, Grandpa," she answered, "they have their troubles, too."

"You mean they're worried about the war? They talk about air raids but it seems to me they aren't scared. Youngsters don't realize the significance of such things."

Evelyn nodded. "That's true. In Allan's and Elizabeth's thinking an air raid would be an interesting experience. I believe most children don't worry about big things like wars or mortgages, but many do worry about little things."

"Think so?" Grandpa was skeptical. "It's been a long time since I was a youngster, but I can't remember ever bothering my head very much about anything."

Evelyn laughed. "You're an extrovert, Grandpa, and I guess you passed the quality on to your son. But Allan and Elizabeth seem to take after their mother instead of their daddy. I fear I was quite an introvert. I was always imagining something was going to happen and I wouldn't confide in anybody for fear of being laughed at. So I decided my children must always feel they could come to me with the most trivial problem. The other day—"

At that moment ten-year-old Elizabeth approached with a troubled look. "Mother, Dicky Ellis says this scratch on my leg may become poisoned and I'll turn blue all over. Shall I?"

Mother smiled reassuringly. "I've never heard of anyone turning blue all over. Besides, we took care of that scratch as soon as it was made. You see it's healing nicely. Anyone who is well and strong like you hardly ever has any bad results from a scratch."

Elizabeth's face cleared. "Wait! I'll tell Dicky that!" she answered with a satisfied smile.

"I suppose," Grandpa remarked, "that's an example of what you were talking about."

"Yes. Now, at her age, I couldn't have asked anybody about that. My mother meant well, but she would probably have said, 'Don't ask foolish questions. Can't you see I'm busy?' Once when an old man in our neighborhood died, I heard someone say that he died because of the bursting of a blood vessel. It sounded mysterious. Looking at my veins, I decided a little one in my leg showed no signs of being connected with any big vein. For days I thought it might pop at any time. Finally my little cousin came to see me, and I saw she had a little vein just like mine. Since her father was a doctor, I felt her leg must be all right or her father would do something about it. So then I decided mine must be all right, too!"

Grandpa chuckled and Evelyn patted him. "Sounds funny now," she said, "but it wasn't then. One of my most prolonged worries was about the Liberty Bell Bird Club which I joined through one of our farm papers. I signed the pledge to protect our feathered friends and received a button. My silly thought my joining was rather foolish. One day the magazine contained an announcement of a convention of the Bird Club in Philadelphia, and it so strongly urged members to attend that I was convinced attendance was compulsory! I was frantic. How could I ever earn enough money to travel from Montreal to Philadelphia? If only I had felt free to talk it over with someone who would have assured me I couldn't be forced to go to a bird convention!"

"Now I understand," said Grandpa, "what you mean by little things. They're little to the grownup but big to the boy or girl."

Another regular detail is at the A.N.A. House every Saturday night where at least three of these girls are busy in the canteen, serving refreshments to the girls in the services.

A detail of officers and rank attended the Victory Loan luncheon on Friday, April 20th.

The Cadets have formed a bowling team as an off duty recreational period. All girls of 'teen age who would like to join these Cadets are cordially invited to do so. There is a job to be done and a game to be played.

A dance is being arranged by the entire Corps for the Merchant Navy man, to be held at the Sailor's Institute on May 11th. Information regarding this may be obtained by calling headquarters.

WAR CHARITY FUNDS RESUME OPERATIONS

War charity funds operating in the Allied relief fields have been authorized to resume their operations, it has been announced by the Department of National War Services. The collection of goods by these groups some time ago was made subject to D.N.W.S. permit by an order of the War-time Price and Trade Board.

Under the authorization just announced war charity funds which have reported their inventories to the department are now shipping all used goods and services collected before February 20. Permission has been granted to local voluntary organizations which have applied for permits, to gather certain types of used clothing, footwear and other articles.

The major relief agencies within the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund have been advised that a national campaign for specified types of used clothing and other goods for distressed people in Allied countries may be held.

Permits Issued

Purchase of new materials has been allowed to the I.O.D.E. and the Canadian Red Cross Society, in as far as supplies permit, to carry on approved permits. Permits have been issued to some 200 local war charity funds, which have shaped their programs to the department's requirements.

The outstanding success of the voluntary relief organizations made it necessary to integrate their work with the heavy commitments of Canada for relief through the UNRRA and a variety of other channels.

"It is not sufficiently recognized that the demand for Canadian goods exceeds the supply," pointed out Donald Gordon, chairman of the Board. "We are be-

Speirs-Miller Springtime Revue Merchant Navy Dancers Show Ready

The fund for a new building for the Sailors' Institute gets off to a flying start at Victoria Hall, on next Friday evening, when Betty Speirs and Peter Miller will stage their annual "Show of Shows". Nothing has been left to chance, as is evidenced by the five distinct rehearsals during the past week.

The three main presentations, "Nursery Time", "Shine On Harvest Moon" and "The Second Minute", have been rounded into shape and the special lighting effects and scenery have had a thorough try-out. Miss Speirs announces that everything is now in readiness for the rise of the curtain.

The ladies of the Strathmore Club have done a splendid job of organizing the seating arrangements and the usual capacity audience is expected. All the stars of the school will positively appear, and, as is customary with the Speirs-Miller recital, many of the senior graduates now operating their own dance studios in various parts of the country will return to the old school to contribute to the programme.

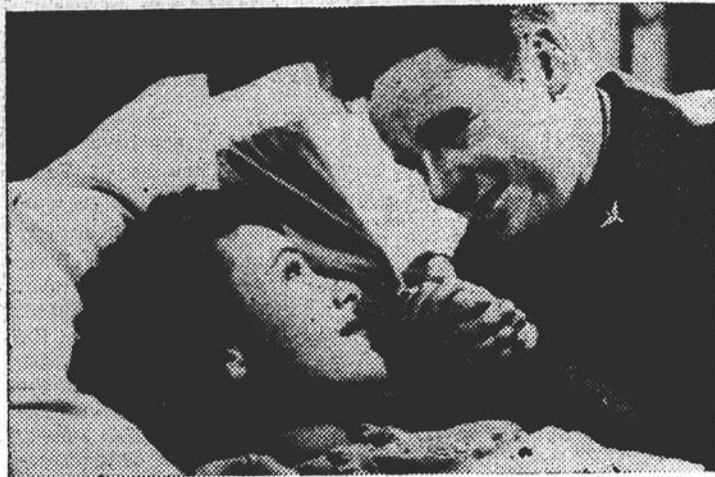

Famous London Lights To Go On. — London, April 20, — The famous light in the clock tower over Big Ben, in peacetime always a night-time signal that Parliament was sitting, was switched on again at dusk on Tuesday. Special cable and switch is being installed so that Speaker Col. Clifton Brown can turn on the light from the chamber of the House of Commons soon after twilight falls. Before the war, the Speaker pressed a bell which was a signal to an engineer in another part of the building to switch on the light. The light was last seen Aug. 31, 1939—three days before war broke out.

Betty Hutton, clearing up her desk in her dressing-room, came across some correspondence in connection with an advertising tie-up that the Blonde Block-Buster had made with a New England shoe firm, and included a complimentary order on the firm for twelve pair of shoes. Betty had forgotten about the order, but quick as a flash (what with rationing) she wrote the firm that she would be glad to take delivery of said twelve pairs of shoes before the summer season. She got a prompt reply to her letter. It said: "Are you kidding? We'd like to have 'em, too, in order to stay in business."

Sonja Henie, always looking for new means of interesting the theatre-going public, will appear as an exhibition dancer in "It's a Pleasure," which will also be her first appearance in a Technicolor production.

There is the story of the projectionist (the man who is responsible for the showing of pictures in a theatre), who was being complimented by the manager of the theatre where he worked. # "Objective, Burma" Stars Errol Flynn, William Prince

There are many ways to describe a motion picture. Some are good. Some are bad. Some are sneaked into the theatre in the dead of night to be sprung on the unsuspecting audience along with three other features. Some are "magnificent," "grand," "stirring," "great" . . . yet at times these are no more than adjectives used by those in the movie trade.

Last night this reviewer saw a motion picture at the Seville United Theatre. If there has ever been a picture that reaches for a plod of earth and holds it up for all the world to see; if ever the simple dignity of man's faith in his cause, his way of life, his God, has been brought to the screen in a finer motion picture than Warner Bros.' "Objective, Burma," then this reviewer has not seen it. For "Objective, Burma" is as real as that service flag in the window and as down to earth as that letter from your G.I. Truly it is a hymn to those who are skyborne with boots of clay—the men of the parachute corps.

Here is the moving tale of one parachute company, dropping like so many sacks of grain into the dark, twisted Burma jungle on a mission that will take them crawling over one hundred and fifty miles of endless Hell. It is a tale of valor and courage that can find its equal only in the annals of other men who performed similar deeds against the Japs in Burma.

In the role of Capt. Nelson, Warner Bros. have cast Errol Flynn, veteran of assorted action stories. Mr. Flynn's performance as the kindly captain desperately trying to conceal from his men the fact that their plight is hopeless, is truly deft, clean cut, and inspiring.

Also featured in the all-male cast are William Prince, Henry Hull, James Brown, John Alvin, Dick Erdman and many other capable character actors. Taken in turn, William Prince, who should be remembered for his fine portrayal of the sensitive sailor in "The Very Thought Of You," scores again with his interpretation of Lieut Jacobs, whose softly spoken commands and underlying courage endear him to his men, and who, broken and mutilated, is eventually butchered by the savage Jap. As Sgt. Treacy, the line sergeant and backbone of the outfit, James Brown shines as brightly as he did in "Air Force"—and gives promise of developing into more than just a pleasing leading man. This is, of course, to Brown's credit.

As a direct contrast to the hardened soldiers who dominate "Objective, Burma," Henry Hull's characterization of Williams, the combat correspondent who has raced off to the wars after years at a re-write desk and various bars, is excellent. His awakening to the real meaning of war and his resulting deep sympathy for the common soldier is in reality an allegorical message to the war-weary thousands at home.

Of John Alvin, Dick Erdman, Warner Anderson, and the remaining members of this fine cast, it is sufficient to say that their performances are equal to the men they are portraying, and more praise than that no man deserves.

"Objective, Burma" was produced by Jerry Wald whose more recent screen successes include "Destination Tokyo" and "The Very Thought Of You." Adapted for the screen from an original story by Alvah Bessie, the film was directed by Raoul Walsh and photographed by James Wong Howe, cinematographer par excellence.

Two Generations.—First scene filmed for Paramount's "The Blue Dahlia," found Allan Ladd stepping out of a cab and bumping into a passerby. The latter, an extra role, was played by Maurice Costello, idol of an earlier film era.

At the Westmount Sunday!

Thomas Mitchell and Gregory Peck in a scene from A. J. Cronin's "The Keys of the Kingdom," which opens at the Westmount United Theatre Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

Donlevy, Ann Richards Form New Romantic Screen Team

Brian Donlevy and Ann Richards are a sensational new romantic screen team in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "An American Romance," the new Technicolor hit which opened yesterday at the Monkland United Theatre playing until Saturday night.

Fans devoted to the Gilbert-Garbo, Pidgeon-Garson and Gable-Turner combinations will be delighted with this new one comprising the handsome, rugged, virile Donlevy and the beautiful new "find," Ann Richards.

Donlevy, whose fan-mail has doubled and trebled in recent months, is at once a "man's man" and a "he-man woman's man." In "An American Romance," as an immigrant who comes to the United States and rises to become an industrial giant and genius, he is given every opportunity to display these rare talents—and he does it in a most effective manner.

As Steve Dangos, he marries the charming school teacher Anna O'Rourke and side by side they struggle up the ladder the hard way to the top rung. Through all their joys and sorrows they remain completely devoted and in love with each other.

This is what makes "An American Romance" the outstanding movie it is: the love between these two and the sweep and grandeur and glory that is America; its opportunity for such a man to rise to the heights.

King Vidor produced and directed the picture with the magnificence it deserves, and a superb supporting cast headed by John Qualen, Jackie Jenkins, Walter Abel and Horace McNally match the sterling performances of the stars.

"An American Romance" is indeed, a romance of romances. Put it on your "must see" list.

Roommates Make Good. — When George Marshall, director of Paramount's "Murder, He Says," started in pictures as an extra 33 years ago, he shared a room with two other $3-per day actors. His roommates were William Selter and Frank Lloyd, also famous directors today.

"Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo"

Starts Saturday at the Monkland!

"Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is presenting at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night, is a film of epic proportions. Vividly adapted for the screen by that expert scenarist, Dalton Trumbo, from the best-seller by Captain (now Major) Ted Lawson and Robert Considine, the film emerges as one of the most human stories to come out of the present war.

Climaxed by the famous American bombing of Tokyo, it relates the glorious personal romance of Ted and Ellen Lawson, the man who takes the part in adventure so daring, and the woman who waits for his return. Their story is the story of human beings during wartime.

Mervyn LeRoy has combined this romance with gripping suspense and thrilling characterizations by an expert cast. A star no less than Spencer Tracy was chosen to portray the celebrated Lieutenant Colonel (now Lieutenant General) James H. Doolittle, leader of the historic raid—and that is as it should be. Lawson himself is portrayed by Van Johnson; Corporal (now Staff Sergeant) Thatcher by Robert ("Private Hargrove") Walker, and Ellen Lawson by Phyllis Thaxter, a face and name new to moviedom but destined for early stardom if her present performance is any criterion.

"Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo" tells of the Doolittle mission, what preceded it and what followed it, in deeply human terms. Ted Lawson's training for the great task and his fleeting moments with his Ellen form the basis for what is certainly one of the most stirring pictures in many, many months.

There are several other newcomers in the cast who bear

Alan Ladd and Loretta Young in a scene from the hit film "And Now Tomorrow," which opens at the Monkland United Theatre on Saturday playing until Tuesday night.

"Ministry of Fear" Vivid Drama with Ray Milland

Paramount's "Ministry of Fear" which opened last night at the York United Theatre adds another feather to Ray Milland's cap. The dynamic screen drama, adapted from Graham Greene's stirring novel, offers Milland a role which fits him like a glove.

Under the delicate direction of Fritz Lang, "Ministry of Fear" creates a heavy mood of suspense, at the very start with each additional scene developing a sense of intrigue and mystery. A psychological drama describing a man's fear of unseen enemies, this fine son crew, Tim Murdock, Scott Mc-watching. As members of the Law-Kay, Gordon McDonald and Don DeFore turning in excellent performances to rival those of the leading players.

"Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo" is altogether a "must" picture. By all means go to see it.

motion picture features Marjorie Reynolds, Carl Esmond, Hillary Brooke and Percy Waram in supporting parts. Seton I. Miller's screenplay is both sensitive and sympathetic and gives the cast a wide range for a display of their versatility.

The crux of the plot concerns a harmless looking cake, offered as a prize at a charity fair, which really contains a map German agents are after. The map falls into Ray's hands quite by accident and he becomes a target for attack by subversive organizations, Scotland Yard and others, all of the action taking place in England. Ray finds he cannot trust a single one of his acquaintances and plays a lone hand in a game of trickery, master-minding and romance since two lovely ladies, the Misses Brooke and Reynolds, claim his attentions.

In a dramatic windup, Ray aids

Scotland Yard to recover the important map, the enemy agents are rounded up and the odd circumstances and events are unraveled. Not until the final moment, however, is the audience aware of what will take place next. "Ministry of Fear" is being regarded already as the finest film in which Milland appeared and his long string of successes is a notable one.

Especially notable performances are turned in by Marjorie, Esmond and Waram. Miss Reynolds plays the part of an innocent tool of a spy ring who befriends Ray in his hour of need. Esmond is the suave but vicious leader of a subversive organization and War-

FRANK CREAGHAN WESTMOUNT BOY GLOVES WINNER

By R. R. Dick
Frank Creaghan, the Westmount boy who won the 160 lbs. championship at the recent Golden Gloves Tournament, will display the ring craft and hitting ability which enabled him to carry off Provincial honours at the Palestre National, when he fights at St. Leo's Academy tonight in the 5th Annual Boxing Show.

Fast on his feet, a boxer who makes every move in lightning-like fashion, yet squanders little energy in useless motions, a fighter who packs a solid blow in either hand, and employs both hands in facile manner, this young man shows ring sagacity usually associated with veterans of many battles.

A pupil at the school, and a clever scholar, this young athlete has for the past three years benefited by the careful coaching of Coach Andy McGillis, who is in charge of physical training at the Academy, but the extent to which he has absorbed and applied the principles of scientific self-defence reflects great credit on himself.

His ring appearance is not unlike that of scholarly Gene Tunney, the fighting marine, who made a million and then retired.

FRANK CREAGHAN

The fighting stance he assumes and retains all through a bout approaches the classic idea usually found only in marble.

This colourful gloveman has a weaving bobbing style which illustrates in vivid fashion the fundamentals of scientific boxing, and which provides many instances of observing his qualities of self-control, self-confidence, fast thinking and hard hitting.

WESTMOUNT SOFTBALL

MINOR SOFTBALL

The bad weather which prevailed last week smashed to smithereens the ambitious plans of the minor sections in the Westmount Municipal Softball League to run off a lengthy spring schedule, the disastrous week meant the postponement of no less than 13 games. It is hoped to pick up five of these games tomorrow morning at Westmount Park.

The postponed games to be played tomorrow morning are as follows, two pee wee tilts on diamond No. 2 with the Dwarfs meeting the Maple Leafs at ten o'clock and the Giants playing the Reds at 11 o'clock; two bantam games on diamond No. 3, the Flying Tigers playing the Corvettes at ten o'clock and the Panthers meeting the Royals at 11 o'clock; a bantam game between the Hoods and the Red Sox will be played on diamond No. 4 at ten o'clock.

Regular scheduled games for this week are as follows:

Fri., Bantams: Hoods vs Greys. Panthers vs Corvettes.

Sat., Midget A: Eagles vs Monarchs (two games). Midget B: St. Leo's vs Tornados.

Mon., Pee Wees: Wildcats vs Reds.

Tues., Bantams: Panthers vs Hoods (K. George), Royals vs Flying Tigers (K. George).

Wed., Pee Wees: Dodgers vs Rinkydinks. Midget B: Tornados vs Tigers.

Thurs., Pee Wees: Maple Leafs vs Wildcats, Dwarfs vs Giants.

Two games were played in the pee wee section on Tuesday afternoon at King George Park where Phil Martin's Reds downed Howard Rosengarten's Dwarfs 16-3 and Don Macnamara's Dodgers eked out an 8-6 win over Stan Hatch's Wildcats.

SENIOR SOFTBALL

Twelve teams will play in the senior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League this season, a record number of teams for this organization. The twelfth outfit to take over a franchise is Ozzie Dalzell's Royals. This is also the first time that more than one civilian nine has been in the loop since Kevin Tolan's Royals and Norm Harris' Swans participated in the 1942 season.

The acceptance of the Royals into the league means that there will be two divisions with six teams in each group. The teams will play each team in their own group in a home and home series and will meet the clubs in the other section once. Ozzie Dalzell's Royals will play in the one group with Longue Pointe Ordnance Depot, District Depot (Montreal South), R.C.A.F. No. 12 Equipment Depot, R.C.A.F. St. Hubert and the Navy. Artie Mann's Dodgers will be in the division composed of his club, R.C.A.F. No. 11 A.I.D., R.C.A.F. Lachine "Spitfires", R.C.A.S.C. (M.T.) Garage, M.D.4 (Sun Life Bldg.) and the Provost Corps.

Dougie Alexander, an umpire in the loop for the past couple of seasons, will get back into the game this year as an assistant to Dalzell. Alexander will help round up many of the boys who played in the junior section of the league last year to fill up the roster of the Royals. Undoubtedly both of the civilian clubs will be liberally sprinkled with youngsters as Art Mann is on the lookout for junior players to turn out to the club's practice at Westmount Park tomorrow afternoon. In all probability the Royals will also hold a workout at the same time and they will also need help from the younger players so that candidates will not lack any chances to catch on with a club this year.

Two of the league teams got an exhibition game under their belt last week-end when Art Mann's Dodgers took the M.D.4 nine into camp at MacDonald Park by a score of 10-4. "Smiley" Meronek, Doug Mah and Sybie Munday all took turns on the mound for the local club.

The league will hold a meeting this Tuesday evening at Victoria Hall when the final plans for the season will be gone over. The teams will also receive their schedules at this time. The opening game will probably bring together the Longue Pointe Ordnance squad and the Navy. Both the Dodgers and Royals will see action on Wednesday, May 16, with the first named club meeting the R.C.A.F. No. 11 A.I.D., while the Royals take on the R.C.A.F. Lachine nine.

INTER-TROOP SOFTBALL

The Inter-troop section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League commenced its schedule this week. The loop inaugural took place at Westmount Park on Wednesday night when a twin bill saw St. Andrews take on Shaar Hashomayim and the 1st Westmount played the Sea Scouts. Games will be played almost every night of the week at either Westmount or King George parks from now till the end of May.

The eight teams in the section this year, one more than last season, will be the St. Leo's team, runner-up for the title last year; Calvary, 1st Westmount, 2nd Westmount, St. Matthias, Shaar Hashomayim, St. Andrews and the Sea Scouts.

The teams will play a single schedule and no playoffs will take place. Mr. Barry, who acted as chairman of the hockey season, will also take charge of the softball activities.

The following is the remaining schedule for this season:

Fri., May 4: St. Leo's vs 1st Westmount, 2nd Westmount vs St. Matthias, St. Andrews vs Calvary.

Mon., May 7: 1st Westmount vs Shaar H., Sea Scouts vs Calvary.

Tues., May 8: St. Leo's vs St. Matthias, 2nd Westmount vs St. Andrews.

Wed., May 9: Shaar H. vs Calvary.

Fri., May 11: St. Leo's vs St. Andrews, St. Matthias vs 1st Westmount, Sea Scouts vs 2nd Westmount.

Mon., May 14: St. Leo's vs Sea Scouts, Shaar H. vs 2nd Westmount.

Thurs., May 17: Shaar H. vs St. Leo's.

Fri., May 18: St. Matthias vs Sea Scouts, St. Andrews vs 1st Westmount, Calvary vs 2nd Westmount.

Mon., May 21: 1st Westmount

Special tables will be arranged for the following clubs and groups within the membership: Board of Management, Business Men and Seniors, Business Girls, Badminton Club, Married Couples Group, Mothers' Club, Teen-age Dance Club, Army, R.C.A.R., and Navy, Voluntary Workers, Hi-Y Club (Boys), Hi-Y Club (Girls), Residence, Basketball Team, Westmount Rotary Club, Grads Basketball Team, Ex-Service Men, World Service, McKay Institute, Montreal School for the Blind.

Royal Life Saving Certificates will be presented to ten young ladies who took their tests in the "Y" Pool last June. These Certificates have just arrived from England.

The "Y" Badminton Club held a Bowling Party. During the course of the evening someone remarked "as bowlers they were all good Badminton players." Following the spin spilling, they returned to the "Y" for a social hour.

Mr. Spearman presented Club Crests to Gladys Morgan and Mary Van Tongeren, winners of "A" section in the recent tournament, and to Joyce Collins and Lorna Ferguson, winners of the "B" section. Crests were also presented to Elsie Paterson, Margaret Ward, Betty Enderby and Robert Beal for their faithful attendance during the season.

Forty-four young ladies of the "Y" Business Girls' Class attended the closing supper on Monday night.

Major - General C. B. Price spoke on some of his experiences overseas with the Canadian Forces and with the Canadian Red Cross. General Price was outspoken in his admiration for the English people and the splendid way in which they treated our men.

Miss Jean Phillips presided over the meeting and introduced the speaker. Mrs. O'Toole thanked the speaker on behalf of the group.

The Business Girls' Class has enjoyed a very good season under the leadership of Miss Gertrude Geiger. Louis Charbonneau, with his accordion, led the sing-song.

Building Fund Benefit Concert

The Glee Club of the St. Genesius Players Guild will offer a benefit performance next Friday at 8:30 p.m. in the D'Arcy McGee Auditorium. The proceeds from this concert will be donated to the building fund of Marianopolis College which was completely destroyed by fire January last. Since the fire the College has been conducting classes in temporary quarters, but hopes to be set up anew in the near future.

The Glee Club is under the direction of Raymond Johnson, Mus. Doc., Columbia University, and Miss Elfriede Trost, A.T.C.M. This will be its third public appearance since its inception last year.

The concert will conclude with a tribute to Marianopolis College, "Mary, Mother, Virgin Blest," by Dr. Raymond Johnson, "Mother Bless The Days And All The Years To Be."

It Should Be a Big Year

The attention of the sports public just now is divided between the opening of the International League baseball here and political football. The football season, politically speaking, got off to a rousing start this week when several of the candidates announced that their hats were in the ring, and the old game began with the contestants sparring cautiously at one another.

The baseball season opening, long awaited by the fans, will, if the weather is favorable, bring out a big opening day crowd from all indications. Montreal, like most U.S. cities, is baseball crazy. A long, hard winter, war worry, taxes, and other distractions, make the folks long for the pleasant relaxation of a sunny afternoon at the park, even if the class of ball isn't as good as we'll see after the war is over.

If the Royals continue to occupy a first division berth, the attendance this year will probably set a new record here. Montreal is now the best minor league city in either Canada or the United States, and it is possible we'll outdraw several major league clubs, unless the team falls to pieces.

Johnny Greco came back to the prize ring last Tuesday in his first fight since losing to Bobby Ruffin in Madison Square Garden several months ago. Johnny was impressive as he K.O'd Chick Laylor. Now a bout with Ned Cochran, welterweight champ, is being mentioned in boxing circles. However, the question remains as to whether Greco is ready for the tough champ. This subject has given rise to much heated controversy. Ready or not, Johnny Greco is one of the two Montreal fighters who are really going places.

The other is Gus "Pell" Mell, Griffintown youngster, who meets Sol Bortula, the N.B.C. featherweight champ tomorrow night in Boston. These boys fought a fortnight ago, and Mell took a split decision. Mell holds an impressive record, marred only by a K.O. to Jerry Zerillo, whom he later whipped easily. Both Mell and Greco are former pupils of the Griffintown Athletic Club, which is a worthy tribute to this well-known organization.

Baseball enjoyed another banner week, and seems headed for a great season. Happy Chandler, the new Tsar of the game, should bring into baseball a great sense of fair play and sportsmanship. Hailing from Versailles, Kentucky, Chandler will pattern his rule after that of his predecessor, the late Judge Landis. Mort Cooper, currently holding out, is to be put on the trading block by Sam Breadon, according to usually reliable sources. Breadon's contract trouble-makers usually go. (Dizzy Dean, Mickey Owen). Little hope for the pennant for the Cards if Mort goes with brother Walker, game's best catcher, Army-bound.

Stan Wood's Orchestra Returning To Park

Stan Wood, one of Canada's best known orchestra maestros, has once again been engaged to lead his orchestra at Belmont Park during the coming season which opens officially on Saturday May 12th with a Special Preview this week-end, Saturday and Sunday. Stan Wood has set up an enviable record at the Park, as this will be his tenth consecutive season at Montreal's greatest purveyor of fun and amusement.

Stan will feature among others in his band, Teddy Davidson who plays sax and vocalizes and who was formerly featured with Ray Noble's Orchestra; Donat Gariepy, one of the finest drummers in the Dominion and acclaimed 'Canada's Gene Krupa'; and Olga, talented young singer who has already endeared herself to the Montreal dance public. Stan Wood's orchestra will be featured nightly as well as every Sunday afternoon in the beautiful and spacious ballroom at Belmont Park when it re-opens.

Despite unfavourable conditions workmen have been busy installing new attractions, many of them making their first appearance in the city, while painters and cleaners have been busy renovating and repainting the buildings along the Midway. New color schemes plus special lighting effects will enhance the park which is considered one of the finest in North America. Make a date now to attend the Grand Preview on Saturday and Sunday.

In captivity, ruffed grouse produce more offspring than they do in their natural haunts.

WESTMOUNT HIGH LIGHTS

By GEORGE COCHRANE

Westmount High Students' Council will award lapel pins annually to five scholars who have rendered outstanding service to the school. That service can be in the realm of athletics or extra-curricular student activities, persons receiving the award will be chosen by secret committees consisting of male and female teachers and students best qualified to know who has done what for each society or team in the institution.

A certificate awarded with the pin will be in the form of a silver "W" on a purple background. The presentations will be made at the graduation exercises.

It's a safe bet that two of the pins will go to Sam Freedman and Joe Duffin. As president of the Students' Council, Sam has done a marvellous job, while large Joseph's work as director of this year's Purple and White Revue will be remembered for many years.

And this year it won't be only the muscular men and women of the building who'll have something with which to adorn their sweaters, jerseys and other wearing apparel. All the players on teams will still receive their W's, the athletic association will see to that, but for those who have done yeoman work for a society the Students Council have ordered six dozen school crests. How they'll be awarded will be decided at a future meeting.

RED CROSS

It was Red Cross week at Westmount High School from April 23 to 27, and with a three-day penny race, an auction sale and a tea dance held under the auspices of President Bob Keefer's Croix Rougers the society's coffers profited to the extent of something like $120.

In rough figures the R.C. netted $44 from the penny race, $32 from the auction and $44 from Friday afternoon's tea dance, which was one of the most enjoyable in years and which was pre-faced by the auction sale. The Gruesome Twosome, alias Ian Roberts and Don Fisher, presided at the latter and added a hilarious touch to the proceedings. They were attired in the garb of natives of St. Sauveur.

To further bolster their finances, Mr. J. Douglas Lawley, the Red Cross's number one advisor for some years now, may offer one of his paintings for sale.

BOXING SHOWS

St. Leo's will be holding their annual boxing tournament this evening and three brawny WHS'ers will uphold the honour of Westmount High. By name, Francois Reid, Gypsy Chippendale and Rupe Binmore. Some have boxed in St. Leo's tournaments before and have the impression that Andy McGillis, the wily gent in charge, has matched them up with beak-benders just a shade better than they are.

The trio will also be taking part in Loyola's punch fest tomorrow night and Sunday afternoon.

INTERNATIONAL JAMBOREE

Hi-Y members throughout the island have their fingers crossed today. For tonight, out at Montreal West High School, the project that they have been thinking about and working on for the past few months will be in the spotlight. In the words of Hi-Y Grand Chapter President John Patterson, it's "the biggest and best event ever planned by the Hi-Y clubs of Greater Montreal."

It should be quite an evening. Starting at 8.15 there'll be a program of entertainment highlighted by a Chinese dragon dance, a Ukrainian mandolin band, music by the Venetian Gondoliers, a South American conga and an item labelled "Oiga of the Volga."

From ten to one there'll be continuous dancing to the music of two orchestras—the Westernaires, who no longer need any introduction to Westmount Highers, and the Venetian Gondoliers, an Italian band who, despite the monicker, are really good.

Proceeds will go to the "Y" world service fund.

STUDENT PERSONALITY

At first glance you will think that 12M's Joseph William Duffin's sombre, dark eyes have a dreamy quality about them even when Joe is concentrating with all the ferocity at his command. His movements are always languid. His shapeless form reminds one of the "before" photographs that dot the pages of popular periodicals.

Despite these physical peculiarities, J. W. Duffin is quite a guy. He's a wizard with a camera. He knows the ins and outs of theatrical lighting and other technical work as well as many professionals. He knows his way around in the make-up department of a magazine or newspaper. There are some, among their number Joe Duffin, who considers Joe Duffin a genius.

Let us investigate this personality further.

First, a bit of boring history. Our hero for the week was born in Montreal 18 summers ago and received an education at Willingdon, King's, Argyle, W.I.S. and W.H.S. He lives on Roslyn Ave., has a younger sister named Ann and a summer estate at St. Andrews, Quebec.

It's as a photographer that Joe excels. There isn't anyone that compares with him in the school. This is the fourth year that he has taken all the group photos for Vox Ducum. In the summer of '43 he served as a photographer for the publicity and public relations firm of Editorial Associates. In the basement of his home he has built his own photography studio and it's really something. Many of the loveliest gals in the community, among them Sue Fire, have gone to have wavy-haired Joseph make a portrait of them.

It's not only with a camera that aquiline-nosed Joe has gained fame. As director of this year's Purple and White Revue he earned the plaudis and applause of hundreds of people from all corners of the island. Little known is that he used to work with the Trinity Players, that he had a big part to play in the Westmount High School's production of The Pirates of Penzance four years ago, that he worked on the combined high schools' versions of The Mikado and The Gondoliers, ooth Gilbert and Sullivan operettas.

He became interested in things theatrical when a grade six student at King's. In appreciation of the work he did on this year's revue the entire cast chipped in and bought him a little memento, a sterling silver e-cigarette case. Not such a little thing.

It's not as a photographer or a producer that Joe expects to keep his family. He took a course in electronics from McGill's Professor Keyes this year and intends to follow that trend. Matter of fact, 160-pound J. W. D. hopes to end up as a television engineer. Could be.

ITEMS

Pte. David. "Chink" Harvie,

who captained Westmount High's Senior A puck entry for the second successive year this season, will become a paratrooper. He'll get his training out west. . . Sailor Don Hawker has been shifted from Lady Holt's palatial Montreal mansion to Three Rivers. Next stop: Cornwallis, N.S., where Bob Sproule was last heard from. . . Letter from sailor-to-be Michael John Robert Uniacke Penrose Fitzgerald. Fitz is enjoying the arduous life of a navy cadet but yearns for more news of the school and its clientele. Address: Royal Roads Naval College, Royal Roads, B.C. . . Bob Lord will also be playing for Art Mann's senior Dodgers this summer. The squad intends to play in both the Westmount Municipal League and the Snowdon Senior Softball circuit. . . A year ago tomorrow, the Modernaires held their farewell dance at Vic Hall. About half of the band are in the services now. . . Johnny Holmes' new male vocalist is handsome and husky Ken McMillen. He's engaged in the hazardous business of flying bombers across the Atlantic. Whether or not the Holmes men will take a holiday this summer has not yet been decided. . . Because a tiny dimple can be noticed whenever Johnny Holmes bares his pearly white molars these days, the boys in the band are calling him "Dimples." . . The last issue of The Monthly will be out on May 14 or 15. Wolf Siemers is now co-editor. . . 12M's Errol McKissock made his debut with Westmount Dodgers up at MacDonald Park last Sunday and it was quite a debut. The Dodgers downed an M.D. 4 ball team 10-6 and Errol slugged three hits for four trips to the plate, including a terrific smash that ended up as a home-run, and fielded flawlessly at short. . . Bob Lord, although he didn't see service on Sunday, will be playing with the Dodgers this summer. . . A disappointing number of Westmount High's graduating Hi-Y members turned out for an organization meeting of a Hi-Y Grads Club at the Y Wednesday. They elected a three-man committee to draw up a constitution which will be presented in the fall. Until then the club's interests are in the hands of the three-some. The executive will likely be elected early in October. . . Matriculation exam schedules are out now and school, for grade 12 at any rate, will end June 25. That night a celebrating expedition will wend its way to Belmont Park. There's a notice to that effect on Grade 12's blackboard. Part of it: Arrange your transportation now. Also what you are going to transport. . . Bill Macdonald still has to make his way regularly down to the Western Hospital for treatments. He was a very sick young man not so many weeks ago. . . Joy Levitt, who retired from Grade 12 in the late fall after she had become engaged, is still the president of Eaton's Junior Council, who'll be sponsoring a Sadie Hawkins dance at Vic Hall on May 18. . . Chippy Batshaw spoke over CFCF on Monday afternoon on Westmount High's extra-curricular activities. A good talk. . . Sailor Derek Ramsay at Johnny Holmes on Saturday night with Ann Hearn, last year of 12M. Derek left WHS in the fall to don the navy blue. He was originally in charge of the Hi-Y Club's learn to swim project. . . The Purple and White Revue is scheduled to have three pages of photographs in this year's Vox Ducum, which is progressing very well. . . The boys' Hi-Y Club will be making a donation to the Red Cross shortly. . . Whe nthat false armistice rumour swept Montreal last Saturday night there was one airman who enjoyed himself. With complete innocence written all over his face he asked every pretty girl he saw what the celebrating was all about. When the young lady told him he'd give forth with a "Yipee."

All Clothing Sold Requires WPTB Label

All clothing sold by any retailer, wholesaler or manufacturer after May 15, must bear a label showing the manufacturer's price board license number, line number and size according to a new regulation of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

The new order extends the protection given the consuming public against unfair prices or degradation of quality for men's, women's and children's clothing. The label provides the Price Board with information for investigating any suspected infractions. It must be attached to the garment when it reaches the consumer. On clothes made to measure by a tailor or home dress maker only the board license number need be shown.

On the National Film Board Rural Circuits, monthly movie programs are shown regularly to country school-children as well as to the adult population. The children's screening is held in the afternoon; the adults in the evening.

THAT THEY SHALL NOT HAVE DIED IN VAIN...

To continue fighting till decisive victory is won . . . that is our solemn obligation to our gallant dead.

To take up the quarrel where they left off and finish it, is the sacred duty to which we are all committed.

From their failing hands let us grasp the torch and hold it high. With renewed determination let us prosecute the big job still remaining to be done. Let us pray, work, save and lend for the cause for which they gave their all.

Actually, the need is greater, not less. Our over-all military requirements have not fallen off. Money must still answer the voices of our guns.

This year's bonds are to win—are to fulfill our pledge to our dead—that they shall not have died in vain.
