THE ELECTION OF THE SIXTIETH CONGRESS

High Pressure in Political Atmosphere of United States

FINAL ESTIMATES IN

The Personality of President Roosevelt the Most Remarkable Feature in the Electoral Campaign

Washington, Nov. 3.—With but two full days intervening before the country will elect the 60th Congress there is decidedly a "high pressure" in the political atmosphere. The expert prognosticators have stopped analyzing local conditions. They have made their final claims covering the whole area and are waiting for Tuesday. The Republican claim emanating from the headquarters of the party's Congressional campaign committee in New York is this: "The Republicans will have a majority of 58 in the next House of Representatives."

All the analysis of this claim from the source is: "Sure Republican districts, 227; sure Democratic, 120; doubtful, but probably Republican, 21; doubtful, but probably Democratic, 17."

The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, with headquarters in Washington, has figured anti-Democratic gains of 67 over the party's present representation in the House.

James M. Griggs, of this committee, thinks this claim is rather too conservative. In analyzing the claim to show where the gains are expected, Mr. Griggs is quoted as saying: "The claim of a Democratic gain of 10 in New York is safe. The claim of one gain each in Massachusetts, North Carolina, Kentucky, Montana, Delaware, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Idaho and Virginia is good. The claim of a gain of six in Pennsylvania is too conservative. The same may be said of the claim of a gain of six in Illinois. We will gain 8 in Missouri. Concessions are made to us of five or six in Ohio, but we will do better than that. The compilation that put us down for only one in Indiana is in error. New Jersey is to be counted on for a gain of 3, while gains will be made in Iowa, Nebraska and California."

Should the Democratic prediction of a gain of 67 be realized, that party would have a majority of 22 in the 60th Congress.

While from a national standpoint the Congressional election is most important, in some localities it has been put entirely in the shade by State politics. Twenty-three States will elect Governors. Ten will elect minor officers or justices of the Supreme Courts. Oklahoma will pass upon her State constitution. Arizona and Nevada will decide the question of joint Statehood. New York State with its fight between Hughes and Hearst for the Governorship has afforded the most spectacular feature of the campaign in the entire country. Perhaps the most notable feature of the campaign in all of its ramifications has been the extent to which the personality of President Roosevelt has been brought forward. "Support the President" was the battle cry of the Republicans in every Congressional district. "We can support him better than you" was the defiant answer of some of the State leaders of the Democracy. President Roosevelt has made it known to the country that he wants a Republican Congress. All but two of his cabinet officers have taken the stump to further this desire of their chief. In New York State the President was personally represented by Secretary of State Root in a speech remarkable in character. The President will vote at Oyster Bay Tuesday and will reach the White House to receive the returns in the evening. The indications are that a large percentage of the Government officers and employees here will go home to vote.

THE CRIME RECORD.

New York, Nov. 4.—Neighbors, late last night found the body of Mrs. M. Gordon, 22 years old, in her East Side home, where apparently she had been strangled to death. This was the view of her death taken by the coroner. The woman's husband, Alex. Gordon, was taken into custody. Gordon said that he had been married to Mrs. Gordon for two years. He said that both were natives of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Gordon was well known in the neighborhood because of her practice of nursing the sick poor.

Camden, N.J., Nov. 4.—Daniel Weldon, aged 38 years, to-day shot his wife Mary and then sent a bullet into his own head. It is thought that to-day will die. Weldon's daughter was recently murdered by her husband, and, brooding over this trouble, is said to have affected his brain.

Abingdon, Va., Nov. 4.—As a sequel to the cold-blooded assassination of Mrs. Wm. Garrett here last night came the suicide to-day of Jno. Hawkins, aged 30, a neighbor of the woman. Hawkins followed his learning that he was under suspicion for the killing of Mrs. Garrett. The woman was fired upon as she was leaving the house of Mrs. W. H. Gildersleeve, where she was employed.

THE BLACK HAND

Spreads Terror Among Residents of the Italian Quarter in New York.

New York, Nov. 4.—Unsuccessful in their alleged attempts to blackmail Francesco Messina, a prosperous tailor of Brooklyn, members of the so-called "Black Hand" Society, so the police say, to-day hurled a dynamite bomb against the front door of the tenement in which he lives and conducts his business and caused damage of $3,000 to the building and surrounding property. Scores of persons felt the shock of the explosion but no one was injured. There was no doubt among the police that a deliberate attempt had been made by an organized band of blackmailers to wreak vengeance on Messina and his family. Following closely a half dozen similar outrages in the same neighborhood this attack has spread terror among the poorer Italians and many of them to-day began arrangements to leave the district. Messina had received several letters within a month demanding from $100 to $1,500. To-night detectives arrested three men who described themselves as Frank and Antonio Passamanti and Ealdassio Panillo. The police claim to have incriminating evidence against the prisoners.

SOCIALISTS AGAINST WAR.

Limoges, France, Nov. 4.—After a lengthy discussion to-day on the subject of anti-militarism, the Socialist Congress rejected a motion made by Gustave Berge favoring insurrection on the part of concepts in case of an outbreak of war, and adopted a resolution by M. Vaillant calling on the Socialists of all nations to labor for the prevention of warfare by efforts to secure the suppression of permanent armies through legislation.

WHALING CREW'S EXPERIENCE.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—The whaling schooner Monterey, Captain Foley, arrived yesterday from the north and is the first of the fleet to put in an appearance. Early in the cruise smallpox, in epidemic form, broke out among the crew. Sixteen men, including Captain Foley, contracted the disease and some of the cases resulted fatally. The vessel's catch was but one whale.

THE ATLANTIC CITY HORROR.

Atlantic City, N.J., Nov. 4.—Coroner Gaskill announced to-night that experts in his employ had decided that a loose rail caused the accident on the Pennsylvania Railroad thoroughfare draw last Sunday, in which more than 50 persons lost their lives. These men had been at work examining the bridge and cars all day. The details of their discovery were not made public. The inquest will be continued to-morrow. The divers were not at work to-day and grapples who did work failed to find the body of the missing boy, Jos. Macelroy.

CHARGED WITH CRUEL FRAUD.

New York, Nov. 4.—Louis Brown, 38 years old, was arrested to-day as he stepped from the steamship St. Paul, upon its arrival from Europe. It is alleged that Brown under the name of Louis Brown & Son, carried on a steamship ticket business here and defrauded a large number of poor people by selling them alleged bogus tickets. There have been other arrests in the case, among them that of a man named Herman. Brown said that all he knew of the matter was that he paid Herman $2,000 for tickets, which he supposed the latter had handed over to the various persons who had paid for them. He was locked up and will be arraigned to-morrow.

NO JAP OFFICER RESTED.

Manila, Nov. 4.—The story that a Japanese army officer had been placed under arrest here for sketching certain parts of the fortifications of Manila harbor was denied to-day by Major-General Leonard Wood, commander of the division of the Philippines. No such arrest has been made and no Japanese have taken sketches of the fortifications. It is well known that since the American occupation Japanese have been engaged in making maps of the Philippines. There is no existing law to prohibit them, although such laws were in force under the Spanish regime.

THE NEWS FROM CUBA.

Havana, Nov. 4.—Upon the recommendation of Carlos Garcia Y Velez, inspector of public instruction, San Lazaro Hospital, in which there are several hundred lepers, probably will be shortly removed to an island off the northern coast of Matanzas province. The removal of the hospital has long been desired, but the project has been opposed by the wealthy private corporation by which it is controlled.

Americans on the Isle of Pines are excited over the arrest and imprisonment of a countryman named Holmesburg on the charge of cutting down a tree on the boundary line of his own property. A committee has come from the island to request Governor Macdon to depose the present mayor and appoint as acting mayor second Lieut. Robt. Tittoni, of the marine corps.

There have been rumors for some days past of a projected uprising of moderates in Santiago province, but no importance is attached to them.

A LITERARY EFFORT

Interest Centres in Premier Clemenceau's Statement of Policy Today.

Paris, Nov. 4.—Interest in the re-assembling of the Chamber of Deputies to-morrow centres in the reading of ministerial declaration of policy. Premier Clemenceau's statement is very long. It was declared to-day by a good authority to be a great literary effort. The programme for internal reforms to be set forth therein is considered to be the most advanced ever presented in France and the approval of these reforms is believed to be virtually assured beforehand. In the matter of foreign politics the cabinet is expected to follow the same course as has hitherto been pursued. The premier's statement will conclude with the demand for a vote of confidence from parliament, so that the cabinet may effectively carry out its projects.

SINGERS CAUSE TROUBLE.

New York, Nov. 4.—Because they refuse to inaugurate a strike for the purpose of forcing Heinrich Conradi of the Metropolitan Opera House, to engage for this season the members of last year's chorus, who are members of the Chorus Singers' Union, the Central Federated Union to-day suspended the delegates of the Theatrical Protective Association of Stage Hands and the Musical Mutual Protective Union No. 310 of the American Federation of Musicians.

A FATAL FIRE.

Pittsburg, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Frances Santiago, 34 years old was burned to death; Harold, a son four years old, is in a critical condition from suffocation and four other children had a narrow escape from a fire to-night in the Santiago home in the Lawrenceville section of this city. Mrs. Santiago was pouring oil in the fire when the can exploded.

THERE WILL BE A NEW ZION.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Wm. Glenn Voliva, successor to Jno. Alexander Dowie as head of the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church in Zion, outlined to a company of his followers in Kenosha to-night plans for the erection of a new Zion, which he said would make the greatest religious colony in the world. "My policies will be as different from those of Jno. Alexander Dowie," he said, "as day is different from night. The first command to be observed in the new city will be absolute freedom from debt. It will be my plan to build factories for the workmen and to go down and work with them. I shall do away with the aristocratic circle that has grown up in Zion and all shall be of equal standing." Voliva declared that he had no use for orthodox churches. "If the churches of the day," he said, "represent the modern religion, I will take the platform as an infidel and smash them."

HUDSON BAY TERRITORY.

Toronto, Nov. 4.—Premier Whitney, Hon. Mr. Foy, the Attorney-General, and Hon. Mr. Matheson, the Provincial Treasurer, will be present on Ontario's behalf at the conference to be held in Ottawa one week from to-day, between representatives of the Dominion Government and of the Provincial Governments interested in Manitoba's demand for the extension of the boundaries of that province northward to the shore of Hudson's Bay. The confidence in the belief that Ontario will get considerable of the territory giving access to Hudson's Bay is said to be very strong in the Government circles, and has been shown in various ways. For instance the question of an extension of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway to James Bay, the southern portion of Hudson's Bay, has always been more or less seriously talked of, and in the summer of 1905 preliminary surveys to Moose Factory, near the mouth of Moose River, which empties into Bay were made. $7,500 have been voted by the Legislature for that purpose. During the conference it is expected that the Ontario and Dominion representatives will discuss the application of the former for a Federal bonus for the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway.

A LEGAL QUOTATION

Owing to Government Blundering No One Can Be Indicted From Criminal Offence.

Prince Albert, Sask. Nov. 3.—At the Battleford assizes which have just concluded Hon. T. H. Macguire, K.C., raised a legal question which has been puzzling territorial lawyers for some time, namely by what authority is an indictable offence sent on trial before a judge within the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of the Northwest Territories where there is no grand jury and duties which in the rest of Canada are performed by that body are assumed by the Crown Prosecutor. Mr. Macguire was defending the prisoner in King v. Hyland and in a preliminary objection pointed out that the last amendment of the law made in 1891 provided in lieu of indictments the trial of any person charged with a criminal offence shall be commenced by a formal charge but did not say by whom the charge should be made consequently the Crown Prosecutor had no more right to lay a charge than any other person, and if the present article was right any person could write a formal charge and have his neighbor straightaway tried by judge and jury. He contended that as no person or class of persons were mentioned in this part of the act no one had the right to lay a criminal charge. The case will be carried to the full court at the first opportunity and if the contention is upheld it will be impossible to bring any criminal to trial in Saskatchewan and Alberta until an act has been passed at Ottawa.

MOST REMARKABLE FEAT.

A Pedestrian Who Walked 100 Miles a Day—A Wonderful Performance by Mr. Edward Weston at the Age of 68.

To walk at the age of sixty-eight, a distance of over a hundred miles with in twenty-four hours is a feat of which anyone might be proud, and it is not to be wondered at, therefore, that today Mr. Edward Payson Weston, the only man of his age who ever accomplished it is a happy man. Mr. Weston's little trip was from the City Hall, Philadelphia, to the City Hall, New York, a distance of 106 miles, which he completed in the remarkable time of twenty-three hours and thirty-three minutes. Just forty-three years ago the veteran pedestrian performed a similar feat, but, though a young man at the time, he took exactly twenty-three minutes longer in accomplishing his task, and this in spite of the fact that the two city halls were some four miles closer together than they are today.

Mr. Weston left Philadelphia City Hall at five minutes past twelve on a recent Wednesday, determined, if possible, to break his record of forty-three years ago. He wore knickerbockers, a white shirt, golf stockings, and a pair of strong leather walking shoes. His hat was the identical narrow brimmed straw which he has worn in all his pedestrian feats, while the light cane he carried was the one which has accompanied him in his record-breaking tramps during the last half-century. In a carriage, following the pedestrian were three Philadelphia doctors.

In his long tramp Mr. Weston took the same route that he did in 1863, walking to New Brunswick, N.J., a distance of sixty-five miles without a single stop. There he slept for thirty minutes, and then took the road to Newark, where he arrived at 9.14 p.m. From there he went to Jersey City, where the Pennsylvania Railroad had a ferry-boat at the slip awaiting his arrival. As soon as the old man made his appearance he was hurried on board, and the ferry was off in record time. Mr. Weston reached Cortland street, New York, at 11.12 p.m., and immediately proceeded to the City Hall by way of Greenwich and Vesey streets and Park Row. He only stopped a moment at the City Hall, for his goal was Fifth Avenue Hotel, which he had made up his mind to reach before midnight—accomplishing his object with a good margin.

At the Fifth Avenue Hotel there was such a tremendous crowd that the popular hero could scarcely make his way into the hostelry. From the ferry, however, he had been accompanied by several policemen, mounted on foot, and these guardians of the peace and order soon forced a way for the tired pedestrian, who was escorted to his bed-room by his physicians and a few friends. There he was subjected to a medical examination, after which he took a salt water bath and went to bed.

The following morning Mr. Weston rose at his accustomed hour—eight o'clock—and soon afterwards was seen by the writer, to whom he gave a few particulars regarding his latest feat. Mr. Weston is a tall, athletic-looking man, in spite of his sixty-eight years, and there was no trace of fatigue apparent in his cheerful countenance as he sat in the vestibule of the Fifth Avenue Hotel and talked about his pedestrian feat, past and present.

"I felt so fresh at the end of my last trip," he said, "that I believe I could do the same journey with a night's rest. The most trying part of the trip was during the middle of the day, when the sun was beating on my head and almost making me fear a stroke. But it soon passed, and the cool of the evening greatly revived me. In places the roads were very rough and the walking heavy, but I kept up a good average of four and a half miles an hour, and soon after I started I felt sure I should beat my record of 1863. The doctors who followed me in the carriage were afraid that I might succumb, and were constantly pulling up alongside to have a look at me; but, bless you, I outwalked three pairs of horses, and sometimes they had to trot to keep up with me"—and the veteran gave a hearty laugh.

"The only diet I took on the journey," continued the pedestrian, "consisted of eggs and milk, and I consumed quarts of that refreshing beverage. You know I am a teetotaler, and I think it is due in a measure to my abstemious habits that I was able to accomplish the long journey with a minimum amount of fatigue. The only discomfort I felt was when the constant walking created a few water blisters on the soles of my feet, but they have already healed up, and I feel as right as rain. I took my food while I walked, but when I arrived at the City Hotel, in New Brunswick, I threw myself on a bed which had been made for me on the floor, took a short nap, and then drank a refreshing cup of tea. When I left the hotel I felt as though I could accomplish twice the distance I had in front of me.

"The longest walk I ever accomplished was in 1879, when I walked 5,000 miles in 109 consecutive days. This was an average of fifty miles a day, and I assure you it is not easy to keep it up for more than fourteen weeks. But I did it, and, though at the end I was glad to take a long rest, the walking did not distress me very much. In 1874 I accomplished a very satisfactory bit of walking—better even than my journey yesterday—viz., 115 miles in twenty-four hours. Seven years before that I walked from Portland, Me., to Chicago, Ill., about 1,500 miles in twenty-five days. In 1874 I walked 500 miles in six days, and five years later I won the Astley belt from the English pedestrian by walking 550 miles in six days.

"I have always been fond of walking, and I think it is the finest exercise in the world. A good long walk is better than a month in a gymnasium, and I believe it is a good deal due to lack of this kind of exercise that consumption and other kindred ills are so rampant. A man who takes daily walks in the country cannot fall a victim to any pulmonary disease, and if medical men would only preach this gospel, I believe thousands of valuable lives might be saved. I do not remember when I had a day's illness, and my good health I ascribe entirely to my fondness for walking. Although I am nearing the allotted span of life, I feel as lively as a school boy, and if I live to seventy I intend trying to beat my hundred-mile record—and I think I'll do it."

DAY BY DAY.

I heard a voice at evening softly say,
 Bear not thy yesterday into to-morrow Nor load this week with last week's load of sorrow,
 Lift all thy burdens as they come,
 nor try
 To weigh the present with the by and by,
 One step, and then another, take thy way—
 Live day by day,
 Live day by day.

Though autumn leaves are withering
 round thy way, Walk in the sunshine. It is all for thee.
 Push straight ahead, as long as thou canst see,
 Dread not the winter whither thou must go,
 But, when it comes, be thankful for the snow.
 Onward and upward. Look and smile
 and pray—
 Live day by day.

The path before thee doth not lead
 astray.
 Do the next duty. It must surely be
 The Christ is in the one that's close to thee.
 Onward, still onward, with a sunny smile
 Till step by step, shall end in mile by mile
 I'll do my best, unto my conscience
 say,
 Live day by day.
 Live day by day.

Why art thou bending toward the backward way?
 One summit and another thou shalt mount,
 Why stop at every round the space to count?
 The past mistakes if thou must still remember.
 Watch not the ashes of the dying
 ember, Kindle thy hope. Put all thy fears away.
 Live day by day.

FACING A DUST STORM.

It is forty miles to Agra, twenty of them over rough country tracks. As we leave the town we pass a small temple where a Brahmin priest is washing himself in the sun. He is an old man and the last left to look after the temple, which he will not shut up or desert, be the plague or famine ever so bad. We say a few words to him and leave a small present for the temple and begin to traverse the dreary track that lies ahead. During the conversation three of the great pillars of hot air and dust have amalgamated. An Indian dust storm is upon us. Suddenly the sky grows dark. How the hot wind roars over the parched plain! The sun is obscured by a dense haze of heat and dust. Darker and darker grows the sky, while a mighty wind seems to snatch the very ground from under one's feet, until all is lost in a very hurricane of hot, blinding, choking dust that hides the desolate scene around, blotting out both the dreary track on which we are travelling and the last grim horrors of Jaganir—London Globe.

STONES ON TRACK THE SEIFERT CUP

Results in Arrest of a Boy Near Beauport Yesterday.

As the Montmorency Falls car which left the city at 3 p.m. yesterday was approaching Beauport, a pile of stones was observed upon the track. Upon investigation stones were found upon both the tracks, some having been jammed into the frogs on one of the lines. A couple of boys were seen apparently hiding behind a fence nearby. One of these was only a child, but the other, who at first seemed to treat the matter as a joke, was taken in charge, handed over to Constable Delongchamps, of the Q. R. L. & P. Co., and brought to town, when he was taken to the central station. The boy, who gives his name as Dion, denies that he had anything to do with placing the stones on the track, which, he says, was the work of some one else. The matter will be further investigated.

COUNTERFEIT BILLS.

A number of counterfeit $2 and $5 bills are stated to be in circulation in the city. The bills are easy of detection, however, it is said, as the work on them is not of the best.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Judgments will be rendered by the Court of Appeals, at Quebec, on Saturday morning, tenth November instant. It is not known how many judgments will be rendered but there are twenty cases under advisement.

BROUGHT UP TO HOSPITAL.

Mr. Morin was also hurt himself in the accident.

THE MORGUE.

Dr. Catellier, Chief Health Officer of the city, Mr. Baillarge, City Engineer, and Mr. Verrault, corporation foreman, have just made an official inspection of the building used as a morgue. It is understood that the more urgent repairs will be made at once and that the electric light will be installed. Next spring, however, a new and more suitable building will be erected to serve as a morgue.

Those who will not avail themselves of the fine opportunity to hear one of the greatest artists of the present day will have to blame no one but themselves. The programme of this performance will be to-morrow at the disposal of the public at the box office of the Auditorium.

Montmorency Division Retain Trophy for Another Year.

The final pull in the annual tug-of-war tournament between the different divisions of the Q. R. L. & P. Co. for possession of the Seifert cup took place at Kent House grounds yesterday afternoon and attracted a great crowd of spectators. The contesting teams were those of the Citadel and Montmorency divisions. The latter were the holders of the cup, while the Citadel division had defeated the Power division the previous Sunday, and excitement ran high over the final tussle.

The Montmorency division team possessed the advantage in weight. They also proved too quick in getting the drop for the Citadel division and won in straight heats, the first by a margin of 54 inches and the second by eight inches. The Citadel division put up a stiff argument, but they struggled in vain, being unable to decrease the advantage gained by their opponents on the drop. The Montmorency division as a result, held the cup for another year. The teams lined up as follows:—

Montmorency Division—O. Gagnon, J. Picard, A. DeBois, G. Harding, A. Lemieux, E. Goulet, M. Laberge, J. DeBois, F. Pelletier, captain.
Citadel Division—Geo. Dechene, R. McMahon, M. Beland, P. Perkins, O. Thibault, E. Hogan, O. Girard, E. Blouin, R. Mayne Reade, captain.

LA TUQUE BRANCH

Official Inspectors Return and Report Excellent Progress.

The La Tuque branch of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway is fast nearing completion, and it is calculated that in another six weeks the company's trains will be running to the end of the line.

On Friday night last Mr. Gaspard Lemoine, president of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway, accompanied by several directors, including Messrs. John Theo. Ross, Frank W. Ross, P. A. Piddington, together with Mr. J. G. Scott, general manager, Mr. J. Bain, superintendent, Mr. A. E. Doucet, C.E., chief engineer, and Hon. Messrs. W. A. Weir, Provincial Minister of Public Works, and J. C. Kaine, guests of the president, left for an official tour of inspection of the new branch and returned to Quebec on Saturday night at 10.30 o'clock. Hon. J. C. Kaine, speaking of the trip to a Chronicle representative of the trip to a Chronicle evening, said:—The construction of the new branch line of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway is fast drawing to a completion. The contractor in charge of the work is making excellent progress and it is thought that trains will be running to the terminus at La Tuque within the next six weeks, and thus add an important link to the main line, that will greatly augment the company's business in Quebec.

"We reached Riviere-a-Pierre Junction early on Saturday morning," said Mr. Kaine, "and passed over the new branch to the end of the work completed, and were surprised at the rich wooded country we went through." There still remains six miles of the road to finish for through traffic, but this is nearly all graded and shortly the laying of rails will be commenced. Our trip was a pleasant one and likewise opened our eyes to the resources of that section of the country, which the management of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway will develop, not only at a profit for the company, but the city of Quebec which is sure to derive its share of the benefits.

IN THE CHURCHES.

Anniversary Services at the Methodist Church—Choir Sunday.

The anniversary services of the Methodist Church were held yesterday, there being large congregations in attendance at both morning and evening services. The Rev. G. H. Williams, pastor, preached at both services, his subject in the morning being "A Glorious Tribute," and in the evening "Striking Phases of Character." The choir, under the direction of Mr. C. H. Thorne, rendered a special musical service, solos being rendered by Mr. Carter, baritone soloist of St. James Methodist Church, Montreal, and Mr. Freund, tenor. The programme was as follows: Morning— Anthem, "Te Deum," Jackson. Baritone solo, Mr. Carter. Evening— Anthem, "Kyrie Eleison," from "Twelfth Mass," Mozart. Baritone solo, Mr. Carter. "Before the Mountains were brought forth," etc., from "The Prince of Peace," Gaul. Baritone solo by Mr. Freund.

Yesterday was observed as Choir Sunday at St. Matthew's Church, the music being rendered by a large and efficient choir, and the programme being a special one in its character. The sermon in the morning was preached by the Bishop of the Diocese.

PROSPECTIVE LACK

Of City Markets when the Finlay and Champlain Accommodation are Removed.

Butchers and farmers are commencing to speculate upon the accommodation they will have to serve the public of Quebec when the Finlay and Champlain markets are demolished. There will only be four markets left in the city then, the Montcalm and Berthelot in the Upper Town, Jacques Cartier in St. Roch's, and St. Peter's in St. Sauveur, which they state will not be large enough for their accommodation, and at the same time will leave the Lower Town without a market.

This is a question for the City Council to study, and the public to watch out for in time, otherwise the want that is bound to materialize in the near future is sure to be overlooked until the inconvenience is realized. The City Council have already decided to demolish the Finlay market, which will be removed in the near future, and the Transcontinental Railway Commission will no doubt expropriate the Champlain market building to make way for the terminals and Union station in the course of another year.

The residents of Champlain Ward may not need a market for their convenience, for it is said this quarter of the city will have to be levelled altogether to make room for the prospective terminals and development of the port.

ARRESTED IN QUEBEC.

A young man named Fred, Roussin, formerly bar tender in this city, was arrested here on Saturday last by a Montreal detective and conveyed back to the latter city on a charge of having sold immoral pictures there. He will have his trial in Montreal and it is to be hoped that an example will be made of him as it is charged that he had commenced to do the same trade in this city.

BACK TO SLAVERY DAYS.

The short sleeves with which the winter gowns are being provided, in keeping with the fashion, if not with the season, have bid bracelets to rise from their long sleep. Their golden bangles rattle once more; jewels decorate them; and white arms stretch out willingly for these symbols of slavery days.

So important has the demand for bracelets become that eighteen of the most fashionable styles, both jewelled and plain, are shown on page 23 of Birks' new Catalogue, about to be issued.

TO-NIGHT.

If the large advance sale at the Auditorium for the opening, Monday night of the big vaudeville show is any indication, it means that the theatre will be packed and standing room will be at a premium. It also proves that vaudeville will probably be one of the most popular forms of amusement in Quebec and if it meets with the people's approval this city will frequently be treated to the best that the high class vaudeville stage affords. The bill at the Auditorium is high-class; it will afford first-class entertainment, at prices ranging from 15c. to 50c., and makes it possible for everyone to enjoy a delightful evening.

HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR IT.

This Charge is Hurdled at the Slater Shoe by a Dealer.

"You are responsible, and you alone, for the importation of American Shoes into Canada," Mr. Slater was surprised when this charge was hurled at him by an indignant shoe man. He had opposed the application of the other Canadian Shoe Manufacturers for an increase in the Shoe Tariff, and stoutly and ably opposed it, his competitors admitted. But his opposition, he maintained, did not favor the foreign shoe.

This is the way the charge against the Slater Shoe Company was argued: "You give exclusive agencies for the Slater Shoe. Only one man in a town or city can have the agency. What are the other dealers in the town to do? Sit still, and allow the Slater Shoe to get all the trade of people who want fine shoes? Not much, sir. We know that the only shoe that can stand up with your shoe in style and workmanship is the American Shoe!" And they have to have it. The buyer pays the duty, too.

An extra night train between Quebec, Roberval and Chicoutimi is run leaving Quebec at 7.30 p.m. Thursdays, and returning leaving Chicoutimi at 6.45 p.m. Fridays due to arrive in Quebec at 7 a.m. Saturday.
Only first class accommodation is provided on this train.

THE SOUL OF AN ARTIST.

Translated from the Italian of Neera, by E. L. Muriison, is a sort of spiritual biography, recalling Amiel and Marie Bashkirtseff, but differing as much from both as each of these self-revelators differs from the other. The heroine, a great actress, writes of the inner life as it seems to a woman of the most exquisite refinement who has attained Art's utmost heights. It has been assumed that this heroine is Eleanor Duss; it might be any great tragic actress, so thoroughly does the book ignore all facts of the outward life which would assist in identification. The spirit of the book is that of a pure idealism delicately touched with satiric humor.

This is the first book issued from the New York office of Paul Elder and Company, and with the one exception of Keeler's San Francisco Through Earthquake and Fire, the first book published by them since the San Francisco disaster. Set in Caslon old style and printed on toned Cheltenham paper. Bound in Herculaneum boards, with decoration. Size 5½ x 8. $1.50 net.

POSTON WON AGAIN HIGH SCHOOL WON
Captured the Road Race on Saturday Afternoon After a Nice Run.

Swinging along at a nice, easy trot, and apparently fresh and strong, George Edward Poston, running under the colors of the Y. M. C. A. Harriers' Club, won the road race, organized by the Telegraph, on Saturday afternoon. About forty seconds separated him from his closest competitor, Frank O'Rourke, of the Clover Athletic Club of Montreal. The win of Poston was a very popular one, and he was loudly cheered by the crowd upon finishing.

The distance was about five and a half miles, and the time in which Poston covered the course was officially announced to be 31 mins., 41 secs. The course lay from the Drill Hall, down Grande Allee, Louis, Du Fort, Buade and Fabrique streets, out St. John street and St. Foye road to Sandy Hill, taking the cross road to St. Louis Road, and in the latter thoroughfare, Grand Allee, to starting point at Drill Hall. The course was a pretty good test of endurance, and the competitors made a good showing.

Favored by the superb weather a large crowd of people turned out to witness the race. Shortly after three o'clock, some forty-one competitors faced the starter. They included a large bunch of entries from the Y. M. C. A. Harriers, Clover Athletic Club of Montreal, Sarsfield Athletic Club, St. Patrick's Athletic Club and other local organizations, besides a number of runners unaffiliated to any organization. The entries from the Gordon Harriers were, however, cancelled.

His Worship Mayor Garneau acted as honorary starter, and at the crack of the pistol, the runners got away in a bunch and a fast pace was set for a start. The runners, however, speedily began to string out, and Poston took the lead before the race had proceeded very far. This position he maintained throughout the rest of the race. Passing St. Matthew's Church, Poston was leading, with Alf. Gale close behind. Then came Thos. Lennihan and Frank O'Rourke of the Clovers, with the rest of the runners strung out behind. Already some of the competitors had found the pace too hot and several fell by the wayside. Near the car barns, E. Lemieux, of the Quebec Lacrosse Club, who had been running well, slipped and hurt his knee, and though he tried to continue was forced to drop out. At DeSalaberry, Jack McCormack, who ran under the colors of the Columbian Lacrosse Club, had to retire, his leg coming against him. Meanwhile Poston was running strong and maintaining his lead. Crossing from St. Foye to St. Louis Road, O'Rourke, of the Clovers, made a desperate effort to catch him, but finding himself unable to do so dropped back and satisfied himself with encouraging his club mate, Lennihan, who was running third. There was a battle royal going on between Jeff Malone and Alf. Gale for fourth place, and which was continued up to the finishing point, Gale finally beating out his competitor near the tape. The first fifteen to finish did so in the following order, the first seven named securing the prizes offered for the race:

1st.—G. E. Poston, Y. M. C. A. Harriers.
2nd.—Frank O'Rourke, Clover A. A., Montreal.
3rd.—Thos. Lennihan, Clover A. A., Montreal.
4th.—Alf. Gale, M. A. A. A.
5th.—Jeff Malone, Sarsfield A. A.
6th.—M. Delaney, Sarsfield A. A.
7th.—H. Lemieux, unattached.
8th.—C. Fletcher, Y. M. C. A.
9th.—H. L. Schieding, Clover A. A., Montreal.
10th.—J. Hill, Y. M. C. A. Harriers.
11th.—Alex. McPherson, Clover A. A.
12th.—John McKeown, Clover A. A.
13th.—B. Jeunesse, St. Patrick's A. A.
14th.—Douglas Jackson, Y. M. C. A.
15th.—Wm. Dall, Y. M. C. A.

Only a small percentage of the starters failed to finish, and two or three in addition to those already mentioned, were picked up en route by the automobiles which followed the race. The Sarsfield A. A. was the only local organization to get two of its runners among the prize winners, and its members were naturally greatly pleased with the success of its first attempt.

The officials on Saturday were as follows:—Judges, Messrs. N. Fletcher, F. S. Stocking, S. Barrow and F. McNaughton. Time-keeper, Gordon Blair. Messrs. S. Gillespie, A. E. Pfeiffer and Baller followed the runners in their automobiles.

The Y. M. C. A. Harriers held a big jubilation on Saturday night over Poston's success. They had a regular triumphal parade, and the winner was duly "bounced" as well as any other of the contestants who could be found.

It has been suggested in connection with the distribution of the prizes at the Auditorium on Tuesday evening that occasion might also be taken of the opportunity to present the Boswell Cup at the same time to the successful team of marksmen of the R. C. G. A.

The Y. M. C. A. Harriers will hold a road race on Saturday next, which will likely be the last event of the kind this season. Mr. Poston, the successful contestant of Saturday, has offered two prizes to be competed for, and a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Harriers is to be held on Wednesday to arrange details.

By a score of 11 to 7, the Quebec Boys' High School team defeated Bishop's College School at Rugby on Saturday morning on the Q.A.A. grounds. The game was an interesting one to watch, both sides giving a fine exhibition, and the match being closely contested. While the visitors had a big advantage in weight, the High School boys made up for this in cleverness, and they held their opponents down to one try and a rouge in the first half, and then pulled away from them in the second, getting over the visitors line twice, one of the tries being converted by a neat kick by Jimmie Lee, who was the bright particular star of the home team. All that the visitors could do in the second half was to force a rouge, though they proved dangerous several times, when the High's back division had a chance to show what they could do and saved the day in good style. Eliasoph and Caron showed up well for the high also, and their tackling was always of the effective variety.

In the first half, Lennihan secured a try (not converted) and a rouge the score being 6 to 0 in their favor, when it ended.

In the second half, the High gradually managed to work the ball up on Bishop's line and then with a plunge through the scrum by Lee the ball went over. This try Lee converted, netting 6 points, and evening up the score. Lennihan then forced the play and high had to rouge. Score 5 to 6 for the visitors. The high, however, got down to business again and finally from a scrum near the Lennihan line Lee got around the end and over the line with a brilliant run, registering a clean and neat try and adding five points to the High's score. The try was not converted, and the game ended with the score 11 to 7 in Quebec's favor. The game was splendidly handled by Mr. "Joe" Power, who acted as referee, with Mr. Hepburn as umpire. The line up was as follows:—

Quebec Boys' High School—Back, G. Ross; halves, A. Caron, F. Power, J. Lee (capt.); quarter, J. Brown; scrum, K. Thompson; J. Rooney; N. McCague; wings, J. Eliasoph, A. Baker, H. H. Scott, V. Weir, J. O'Donnell, D. Greig.

Bishop's College School—Back, W. H. Buzzell; halves, A. Evans, H. B. Boswell (capt.); quarter, B. Price; scrum, D. Fisher, P. Mason, G. B. Schwartz; wings, F. E. Morkill, G. A. Lamontagne, N. A. Major, J. C. Murray, K. M. Holloway, K. Sturt.

After the match the visitors were entertained at luncheon by the High School Boys at the Auditorium Cafe, where a very pleasant time was spent. The table was decorated with the colors of the Quebec High and Bishop's College Schools. Mr. T. Ainslie Young, Rector of the Quebec High School, presided, and toasts were offered to the teams, the officials, masters and others. The visitors were also entertained at five o'clock tea by the High School boys, who subsequently accompanied them to the ferry boat and saw them off on their return trip home. The Lennihan boys were greatly delighted with their visit and much impressed with the hospitable treatment accorded them by the Quebec boys. The latter were enabled to add considerably to their entertainment of the visitors by the generous manner in which one of the warm admirers of the school unexpectedly came to their aid.

CHESS MASTER COMING.

Mr. E. Lasker, the chess champion, will visit Quebec on Monday, 20th November. He will play some simultaneous games with members of the Quebec Chess Club.

A PAPER HUNT.

As already published, the Quebec Hunt Club is organizing a paper-steeplechase for Wednesday, the 7th inst. The departure will be at two o'clock sharp, from the clubhouse on St. Foye Road, and the chase will only begin when all riders will be at the foot of the Sarsfield Road and it is expected that the chase will begin about 2.30 p.m. All riders are specially invited to attend the run, and there is no doubt this event will be a very great success, of course, weather permitting.

Y.M.C.A. BOWLERS WON.

The newly formed Railway Men's Bowling team made its debut on Saturday evening, when it played a match with the Y.M.C.A. team on the latter's alleys. The Y.M.C.A. team won by three straight games and a pin majority of 296. The Railway Men, however, promise to develop into a formidable aggregation. There are a number of strong bowlers in its make up, and when it has had the benefit of more practice will be heard from in no uncertain manner. For the Y.M.C.A., Mr. Sibthorpe, who bowled in great form, put on the top score of 545, while Mr. Colley was second with 525. The scores follow:—

ANAWFUL DRUBBING

Administered to St. Pats by Montreal—Other Games Saturday.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—It was shameful, the manner in which Montreal beat St. Patrick's on Saturday. The score was seventy-two to three. The only excuse is that Montreal could not help doing it. They were in the mood for letting themselves go, and they did let themselves go. St. Patrick's was not in it for a minute, and they could not be very well when Montreal scored at the rate of a point and a fifth for every sixty seconds. St. Patrick's tried hard enough, but they could not do a thing. Or rather there was not a thing which they could do, which Montreal could not do better than they. The great Ottawa football stars, the two Smiths, Pifford and Joe Gleason, were utterly thrown into the shade by the Montreal ones.

And as to the rank and file: why the veriest private did better on the Montreal side than the man with the biggest reputation who played for Capitals. If every man on the Montreal team did not actually score a point, it was because they played a too disinterested game personally to care for anything but a victory for the team, but each of them could if he had so minded. And while it was a one-sided game, it was not by any means an uninteresting one. It was a series of hard struggles, flavored with a few short-lived quarrels, and yet without the record of any serious injuries. It was a match that was well contested, and well governed; full of brilliant plays by the winning side and stubborn, manful efforts to stave off defeat by the losers.

There were many unusual features incident to the play, and one which struck the spectators particularly was that Walter Molson three times struck the goalpost while attempting to convert tries. There was a large and enthusiastic crowd present.

Much had been expected by the St. Patrick's followers from Harvey Pifford, and but little did he live up to the expectations. On the other hand, many wondered why Boucher and Westwick were allowed to freeze on the side line.

Saturday was a day of big surprises for football enthusiasts, but McGill did the expected and trimmed the visiting Queen's Rugby team; the final score was 21 to 12. Considering Toronto Varsity's defeat by Ottawa College, McGill now has practically a monopoly on championship chances. If the game, scheduled for October 13th, be granted McGill by default, as is very likely, the local collegians now have first place, and next Saturday's game with Toronto Varsity will probably have no effect on the championship.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Ottawa College sprang a great surprise this afternoon when they defeated Toronto Varsity, the Dominion champions, here, by 5 points to 4. The victory for the local team was quite unexpected, the surprise of the intercollegiate season, in fact. But College fully deserved the honor of downing the champions, for they fought hard for it, and only succeeded in gaining the lead a few minutes before the fall of time.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Playing with a crisp and minus seven of its best men, Westmont sustained the worst defeat on record here Saturday, the Rough Riders overwhelming them to the tune of 69 to 7, before about 200 spectators at Lansdowne Park. Westmont were eclipsed in every department, being too light and inexperienced to cope with the veteran warriors of the red, white and black. Rough Riders, in fact, had an easy time, but despite the big score chalked up against Westmont, the match was spectacular from beginning to end. Lafleur effected two runs of seventy yards each, zig-zagging his way through the opposing forwards and halves and scoring a touchdown on each occasion. Powell, Kennedy, Rankin, Phillips and Williams also shone in sensational plays. In the second quarter Williams broke away with the ball on Ottawa's 25-yard line. The whole Ottawa team swept up the field together, the pigskin passing from Williams to Kilt to Powell to Lafleur and to Moore. Westmont were bowled over like ten pins before the rush, and Moore finally planted the ball between the visitors' posts. Williams kicked two drop goals from mid-field and Kennedy scored a try after blocking one of Crankshaw's punts with his face. The Ottawas seemed in great trim and their back division appeared to be stronger than at any time this season.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—By the narrow margin of one point, Hamilton Tigers defeated the Argonauts on Varsity athletic field Saturday in a senior O.R.F.U. game. The score at half time stood 5 to 2 in favor of the Argos, and 9 to 8 in favor of the Tigers at the finish. The Tigers were very lucky to pull out a victory. They were played off their feet at every stage of the game, and although they brought down a score or more of tricks, they found when they went to put them into commission, that the Argos knew as much, and a little more, about the game than they did. With the game 8 to 8, and Argos on Tigers' 20 yard line, Fleet tried to get to the dead line, but failed, kicking instead into touch. It was here Simpson's kicking came into play, and eventually won the game for Hamilton. On a series of kicks into touch, Tigers got the ball on Argos 20-yard line and kicked to the dead line making the Tigers one to the good.

A regrettable accident happened in the third quarter. Tommy Hay, the fast little Argonaut half back, who had been putting up a grand game, had his leg broken. He muffled a punt and ran to kick it, but in the mix-up that followed those close to the touch line heard a snap, and therewith the above result. Hay's loss was a serious blow to the team, for his fast work was much depended upon by the Argos.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—Saturday afternoon, the Westmont juniors went down to defeat before the M.A.A.A. junior team, the score being 13-0. This victory leaves Montreal even with Grand Trunk, with which team it will probably play next Saturday. The game was a good one, both teams putting up a good article in football.

A fine exhibition of rough and tumble was witnessed in the Rugby match between the Rough Riders intermediates and Nationals, on the latter's grounds. The result was not in favor of either of the teams, 16 points being scored on each side. Not many exciting runs were made, the most notable feature of the play being the fine work displayed by Masson, the National center half. Up to the first half the visitors were decidedly the better team of the two, as their knowledge of the game was slightly superior to that of their opponents. Two touch-downs and a goal from the field, equalling 15 points, were scored by the visitors in the first half. In the second half one point was added. The second half was the signal for a burst of good play on the part of the home team, who carried all before them, being added to their superior weight. Rather than a good exhibition of football, the game was much on the rough side, and a mistake made by the referee almost earned a scragging for that worthy by the indignant spectators and players.

LYNCH AND DUFRESNE.

The remaining $100 aside to bind the match between Alf. Lynch and "Kid" Dufresne was posted on Saturday. Four hundred dollars is now posted for the proposed battle, and this will remain as a side bet on the result.

STARKE TO APPOINT COMMITTEE.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—Word was received in town on Saturday night by some of the gentlemen, who are at present rather antagonistic to the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, that Sub-Chief Starke, of Toronto, the new President of the C.A.A.U., intended to appoint a committee Saturday evening to deal with the charges made by Mr. Frank Grierson, of the Civil Service Amateur Athletic Association.

TO FIGHT FOR $20,000.

Cincinnati, Nov. 3.—Joe Gans, lightweight champion of the world, met "Kid" Herman, of Chicago, here today, and signed articles to fight 20 rounds or to a finish, as the club may desire, New Year's Day, before the Tonopah, Nevada, Athletic Club. The purse is to be $20,000, the winner to get 60 and the loser 40 per cent.

MCGILL'S ROAD RACE.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—Archib. Kerr, Sci. '08, won the first place in the annual cross-country run of the McGill Harriers' Club, Saturday morning, covering the course of about seven and a half miles in forty-four minutes and forty-four seconds, but is making about one minute's better time than the record made by Kenyon last year. The course starts on Pine avenue at the head of Peel street, and leads out by the Westmont golf links, round back of the mountain, and home by Park avenue and Milton street.

There were nine competitors altogether, and they finished in the following order:—1, A. Kerr, Sci. '08; 2, F. E. Hawkins, Arts. '08; 3, Little; 4, W. S. Vipont, Sci. '08; 5, D. Ross, W. S. '08; 6, R. P. Wright, Med. '07; 7, A. M. Lindsay, Sci. '09; 8, T. M. Montague, Sci. '08; 9, F. H. Stanton, Arts. '09. Hawkins finished about 3 minutes later than Kerr, and the last man, Stanton, took less than 54 minutes for the run.

JOLT FOR WOODBINE BETTERS.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—Bookmakers and others interested in the continuance of betting at Woodbine races received a hard jolt today when three of the five judges of the Court of Appeal upheld the conviction in the Police Court against Saunders and others for conducting common gaming houses at the tracks. The decision will be taken to the Supreme Court, although had the Court of Appeals been unanimous this resort would have been cut off and betting at the Woodbine would have been declared dead. The questions submitted were: (a) Am I right in holding that a betting booth as aforesaid falls within the terms of section 1907 of the criminal code as a house, office or other place; (b) Am I right in holding that the provisions of sub-section 2, of section 204, of the criminal code, do not apply to the offences of which the defendants are found guilty. The nature and disposition of the betting booths at the Woodbine lawn are set forth with much detail and particularity and the regulations and terms governing them described in connection with the questions.

Chief Stark, who will probably appoint a committee to investigate. The naming of these men does not mean that they are professionals. It simply means that Mr. Grierson suspects them of being so. According to the past procedure of the C.A.A.U., this would be sufficient to suspend them. After suspension it "is up to them" to show that they are amateurs and if they do this they are promptly given a clean bill of athletic health. By agreement no suspensions will take place till after the Rugby season is finished.

ONE LOST TRIBE HAS BEEN FOUND.

Isolated Eskimo Community Discovered on a Hudson Bay Island — Still Use Stone Utensils—Never Saw White Man Until Visited by an Exploring Expedition a Short Time Ago.

The object of Leonidas Hibbard's ill-fated expedition to Labrador was to discover a reported tribe of Nascauppe Indians who had never looked upon the face of a white man. It was reported that no such tribe existed there, but a still stranger anthropological discovery has recently been reported farther north in the same region. On a lonely island in Hudson Bay a lost tribe of Eskimos has been found who have been without intercourse with any other representatives of the human species for centuries and never saw a white man until a few months ago. They are still in the stone age, knowing no metals, they grow no plants, and their houses are built of the jaw-bones of whales.

The home of this strange tribe is on Southampton Island, a mass of land almost as large as the State of Maine, and situated in the northern part of Hudson Bay. Apparently their ancestors have dwelt there since pre-Columbian times, and to-day they live and subsist in exactly the same way as they did then. Having been isolated for so long a period it is natural that they should exhibit many peculiarities of interest to scientists, and collections of their utensils, weapons and other objects have been made by a small scientific party which made its way into the region in a little whaling vessel.

LIVE IN BONE HOUSES.

The houses of these peculiar people are built by putting together the great bones of whales and covering them with seal-skins sewn together. In the middle of these primitive dwellings is an elevated place, on which stands a stone lamp, employed for lighting, heating, cooking, melting snow and drying clothes. It is nothing more than an open dish of whale oil or seal oil, with a wick of dry moss soaked in fat. The grampus, or white whale, and its larger congener, the bowhead, or Greenland whale, form the chief means of subsistence of these people. They use the whalebone in a variety of surprising ways, making even their cups and buckets of it by bending it into round shapes and sewing on the bottoms. Many of their implements are of whalebone and from the same article they manufacture toboggan-like sleds for winter travel.

They make other sledges for the carriage of the game they kill, with walrus tusks for runners and deer antlers for cross pieces, and it would be hard to find more daring hunters than they are—the seal, the walrus, the caribou and the sturdy muskox contributing to their game supply. The whole tribe comprises but fifty-eight individuals, about equally divided between the sexes, and its members speak a dialect peculiar to themselves, and quite unlike that employed by any other Eskimos. A strait some thirty miles broad separates Southampton Island from the western shore of Hudson Bay, along which are several other colonies of Eskimos, and once in a very long while this strait freezes over. This happened, it is said, nearly eighty years ago, and then a few of the most daring of the island natives crossed over to the mainland, where they were much surprised to encounter other human beings like themselves having doubtless imagined that they were the only people in existence. This is now a tradition with the natives of the mainland, who say that the strangers brought two peculiar sledges with them, but went away again and never returned, and neither before nor since has there been any news of the lost tribe until recently.

THEY HAVE QUEEK UTENSILS.

On Southampton Island there is no soapstone, which among Eskimos elsewhere is the favorite material for pots and kettles, they hollowing out the selected pieces for such articles with fragments of basaltic beryl stones that they smash against each other in order to secure jagged cutting edges. Hence the members of the discovered tribe are obliged to make such receptacles out of slabs of slate or limestone, glued together into rectangular shapes by means of a mixture of grease and deer blood. Their lamps are fashioned out of limestone, with infinite trouble and labor, and the fact that they are without soapstone is the best proof of their prolonged isolation, since all the mainland Eskimo tribes without exception in their neighborhood get it from other more fortunate ones who possess stocks of it and substantial consideration is given in order to be able to procure a sufficiency of this indispensable accessory to their existence.

The story of this isolated tribe of Eskimos parallels the traditions of the famous lost colony of Norsemen, which as recorded in the sagas and folklore was cut off in Greenland, six centuries ago and utterly disappeared. There was a second portion of this Eskimo tribe in existence on another portion of Southampton Island until some ten years ago, when it perished entirely of some mysterious disease. A boat's crew from a whaler beat by a furious storm while last to a big "fish," was first towed into unfrequented waters by the monster and later driven a long distance by the gale, being eventually flung ashore on a part of Southampton Island never previously visited, so far as known, by a white man. In their endeavor to make their way back along the coast to a point where they might signal a passing ship, they came upon an Eskimo village of about 40 souls, all of whom were lying dead, except two, who still retained enough vitality to inform the newcomers that some strange disease had annihilated their tribe, and to express astonishment at the pale faces, of whom they had never seen the like before, and whom they took to be gods. They both died shortly after and the secret of their tribal history perished with them, but from the character of their belongings it has now become evident that they were identical with the tribe recently discovered, as the whalers appropriated their boat to ferry themselves south, and also many of their utensils to cook with, all their own possessions being lost with their own boat.

LIFE AT YILDIZ PALACE.

The Sultan of Turkey's Favorite Residence—More Like a Private Residence Than the Home of a Sovereign—His Work and Play.

The Palace of Yildiz stands on the top of a hill and is surrounded by a thick wall. It is almost a misnomer to call it a palace, as "Yildiz" comprises a number of very modest looking whitewashed villas and kiosks, any one of which is more like a private residence than the home of a sovereign, says the London Standard. The study in which Abdul Hamid passes a third of his life is furnished with a simplicity amounting almost to poverty. On the big writing table lie the papers and documents of the day only, which are carried off as soon as they have been attended to. The rule is that nothing should remain more than twenty-four hours on that table, and there is no waste paper basket.

His favorite room is his library, or library, of which he has four. The first Imperial library was founded by Sultan Ahmed III. One of them is devoted exclusively to works on Turkey and the Ottoman dominions, in all languages. It contains a strange collection of manuscripts of books which have never been published, that were bought up in order to prevent their circulation. Another section is composed of works in Turkish, Arabic, and Persian, and these are kept in the best of order, as the librarians can read the titles and catalogue them regularly, which they are incapable of doing with foreign productions.

THE SULTAN'S DAY BEGINS EARLY.

In summer at 5 and winter at 6 he rises, and if the weather is fine goes immediately into the park. This is extensive and laid out in alleys and little forests, with several artificial lakes, the largest of which has an island in the middle. On this big pond His Majesty generally embarks in a caïque, or boat, which he rows himself, or in either a small steam or electric launch, and repairs to the island to visit his pets. These are of all sorts—stags, roe deer, gazelles, rare goats and sheep and birds of every land. They are all tame and are said to be very fond of their royal master.

At 10 o'clock the Sultan returns to his room and takes a frugal breakfast. He is served by the head butler, Osman Efendi, who tastes each dish before handing it to his master, and nobody else is present, unless it be rarely, some of the children. After breakfast an hour or so is spent in the library, where the illustrated books are most used. Altogether there are some 10,000 volumes. At 1 o'clock punctually His Majesty retires to his bedroom for a siesta, while one of the eunuchs or a picked man of the Albanian Guard stands outside the door.

This is really the best rest he gets, as he often works late into the night, and then goes tired to bed. The siesta lasts an hour and a half when he is softly waked and at half past two repairs to the study for the labors of the day. Here he works uninterruptedly, often till past midnight, with the exception of the time taken for a hasty refreshment about sunset. All documents brought to him are first thrown into and then given to him by the First Secretary, Tahsen Bey.

On Fridays this programme is interrupted by the Selamlik, and often by audiences to foreign diplomats in the afternoon, which generally take place in one or other of the garden kiosks. Nobody knows beforehand in which room the Sultan means to sleep, and he often only chooses himself at the last moment. It is always on the ground floor, however, and the door is always watched by some especially trusted eunuch, or Albanian, armed to the teeth.

On Wednesdays, Fridays and Sundays there is generally a theatrical representation in the Court Theatre, though Sunday is not a regular day. The theatre adjoins the dwelling rooms of the palace and communicates direct with the Sultan's apartments. The stage is roomy and well machined, but there are only three or four boxes for the spectators, the place generally filled by the pit and stalls being merely covered with a fine carpet. The royal box is so arranged that the actors shall never turn their backs to it, and for the same reason the orchestra is placed beneath it.

On either side of the Sultan's box is one for the harem and one for visitors, the former, of course, being shut off by a grille and netting.

OLIVER DITSON'S PRAYER.
Boston Herald.

Half a century ago or thereabouts Oliver Ditson, a well known merchant of Boston, a much respected and highly esteemed citizen, chanced to be a guest at the banquet of a certain religious body composed chiefly of clergymen. He was given the seat of honor and requested to ask blessing.

He got on finely until hearing the close of his petition, when memory failed to suggest a proper form for a graceful ending. In his perplexity he became mentally lost, and not until he had finished with "Yours respectfully, Oliver Ditson," did he awake to his surroundings.

As long as he lived Mr. Ditson was known and greeted by his intimate friends as "Yours Respectfully."

THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS

HAVE LOST THE APPEAL

Judicial Committee of Privy Council Decided in Favor of Ontario in Case Entered by Mr. Gratton.

ALL TEACHERS ALIKE MUST QUALIFY

London, Nov. 3.—Judgment was delivered this morning in the privy council dismissing the appeal of the Brothers of Christian Schools vs. Minister of Education, Ontario. No costs.

Mr. George F. Henderson, counsel for the bilingual teachers, when seen by a Citizen representative as to the effect of the judgment, said: "The effect of the judgment is that except as to individuals who were qualified as teachers prior to confederation, ecclesiastical teachers in separate schools must qualify by examination and otherwise in just the same manner as lay teachers. The separate school act requires the same qualification for teachers as the public school act, and as it is understood there are no individual ecclesiastical now living in Ontario who were qualified before confederation, the result is that all teachers in both public and separate schools are now exactly on the same basis as to qualification."

HISTORY OF THE CASE.

This case had its origin in an action brought by J. David Gratton of this city to restrain the board of trustees of the Roman Catholic separate schools of the city of Ottawa from employing the brothers of the Christian schools, and in which Justice McMahon gave judgment for the plaintiff. An appeal taken therefrom to the Ontario court of appeal was dismissed, and an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada entered. At this stage of the proceedings, and in order to secure a trial on the direct issue, it was agreed by the parties concerned to invoke the intervention of the Ontario Government and have a stated case submitted to the Court of Appeal with the determination to send the matter to the Privy Council.

Lieut. Governor Clark, by order-in-council, on August 18, 1905, accordingly approved a reference to the Court of Appeal respecting the qualification of teachers in Roman Catholic separate schools, in which the Brothers of the Christian Schools, and the Community General Hospital, and house and seminary of learning of the Sisters of Charity of Ottawa (commonly called the Grey Nuns) were named appellants, and the Ontario Minister of Education and the Bilingual Teachers' Association of Eastern Ontario, respondents.

THE REFERENCE.

The reference submitted the following question:—"Certain religious communities instituted for educational purposes, including the Brothers of the Christian Schools and certain religious communities, and composed of the female sex, including the Community General Hospital, and house and seminary of learning of the Sisters of Charity of Ottawa (commonly called the Grey Nuns) were in the year 1860 and had been for several years prior thereto engaged in educational work within the province of Lower Canada, and the members of such communities were at the time of the passing of the British North America Act, 1867, exempt from undergoing an examination as teachers in the province of Quebec under the provisions of the consolidated statutes of Lower Canada (1860) 23 Vic., ch. 15.

On the I.C.R., Says Hon. Mr. Emmerson—Arrests at Buckingham.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Hon. R. H. Emmerson, Minister of Railways, was the guest of the Canadian Club, at its opening noon luncheon of the season on Saturday and delivered an interesting review of the history of the International Railway. He said that the road is now in good shape and that there will be no further deficits. At the same time he objected to the road being made a dividend payer and objected to the newspapers editing the people up to that view. Any surplus earnings should go into making it the best possible road and to lowering rates.

Twelve men at Buckingham named in the verdict of the coroner's jury as being guilty of murder or accessory thereto in connection with the strike riots were formally arrested on Saturday afternoon. Pleas of not guilty were entered in each case and parole was continued until next Friday without bail. A guarantee was given by the lawyers that all would appear next Friday. On that day Judge Chiquette will be present and arrange for the preliminary hearing. Ex-Ald. W. G. Black, of Ottawa, Inspector for Insurance, visited Buckingham yesterday to see that the MacLaren's have a sufficient watchman and detective force guarding the mills and yards. He says the Insurance companies are more interested than any one else as the lumber is insured up to the limit Detective Picard, the thirteenth man indicted, is in a Montreal Hospital.

SOME STRANGE CLOTHES.

Wooden Coats, Glass Dresses, and Paper Waistcoats—Peter Gruber Possesses an Entire Suit Made of Rattlesnake Skins.Herr Schacht, a native of Basle, Switzerland, has just taken out a patent for paper waistcoats, which he will be able to place upon the market at four cents each. These garments, which can be folded into a sufficiently small compass to enable them to be put into an ordinary waistcoat pocket, are, it is said, much warmer than the everyday article, in place of which they can be worn.Glass has on more than one occasion been employed in dressmaking. Miss Ellene Jaques, of Brooklyn, N.Y., possessed a dress made of spun glass, while some years back a M. Pierre Buse might have been seen walking the streets of the Belgian capital wearing a green coat woven from the finest threads of glass. His hat, too, was made of green glass, and he wore earthenware sabots. The other portions of his costume were of green silk.Many kinds of skin are common enough for purposes of dress, but that of the rattlesnake is alone effected by Peter Gruber, of Rochester, New York, who possesses an entire suit made of this material. In its manufacture 125 skins were used, and the effect is heightened by the skilful blending of the skins of the four kinds of snake—black, brown, yellow and grey. The buttons consist of rattlesnake heads.
Mr. Gruber's hat and stick are also covered with the same material.Books bound with human skin are rare, but the possession of Sir Simon Goffredo is surely unique. It consists of a coat made from the tanned hide of criminals and others, which this recent gentleman has been at no inconsiderable trouble and expense to collect. No fewer than fifty-seven bodies have contributed to this gruesome garment, whereof, that the whole may be in keeping, the buttons, carved to represent death's heads, are cut from human bones.Madagascar can boast of a factory where the experiment of making apparel of silk is being tried so that long dresses of that material may be common. They are not that yet, but one at least is in existence. This, which is owned by the daughter of a New York millionaire, employed thirty-six skilful silk-workers in its manufacture from many thousand webs. Its somewhat sombre hue is relieved by a quantity of jewels, gems to the value of $12,000 scintillating on the bodice alone.A French collector possesses a small square made from the hair of Marcel, Countess of Lennox, mother of Lord Darnley, which is valued at $6,
000. The dress owned by Frau Weisse, of Berlin, though, of course, not so valuable, is composed of like material, being made entirely of women's hair, which, at no little cost, was purchased from peasants who, for a consideration, were ready to part with their luxuriant locks to gratify the eccentricity of an open-handed lady.Mrs. Edwards, an American actress, possesses a dress valued at $15,000,
which is said to be on her marriage by an Indian Rajah. It is made of beetle-wings, whereof over 15,000 of a lovely iridescent green were employed and the gown was ready for its fair wearer. Many wealthy women have, it is said, endeavored to procure a duplicate, with, however,
no success, as the rarity of the beetle hitherto precluded the accomplishment of their desire.Among the effects of Herr Binder, who died some years back at Munich,
was a curious coat made of small pieces of wood, none above an inch in diameter, fastened together by gold and silver wire. Not only is the garment curious, but it is a veritable work of art, for cuttings from almost every known tree were used in its construction, and the variously-colored woods
have been made to blend with no little taste.Very stiff and uncomfortable must this coat have been to wear, but less so, perhaps—being of a lighter material—than a similar garment made in the early eighties to the order of a Brazilian, who had such a liking
for gold that he, on special occasions, wore a coat made of plaques of this precious metal. Naturally, he only appeared thus bedizened in the privacy of his family by whom he was at length persuaded to convert his sartorial eccentricity into coin of the realm.

SAVING THE COUNTRY.

Joe Kerr, in New Orleans Picayune.

"I was up in Maine visiting an uncle of mine when the fall election came off," said the Boston drummer. "He lived two miles from the village, and a day or two before the election he told me he wasn't going to bother about it. We were digging potatoes when a man he wanted to talk to Uncle Elisha to the polls, but he refused to go. In about half an hour a second man drove up for the same purpose, and before noon a third. We had just eaten dinner when the fourth man came.""Look a-here, Mr. Williams," he said. "We want every voter out today. The country hasn't been in such danger for a hundred years. If you love America you will come along and cast your vote.""I love her of course," replied Uncle Elisha, as he straightened up to rest his back, but I can't spare the time to go and vote. We are in for a change of weather, and I must get these "taters dug.""He refused to go, and along came another man and another. He was told over and over that his vote alone would save America, and along about two o'clock he began to get restless.
He finally harnessed the horse to the backboard and said to me:"Get in. I've got to save this blasted kentry, then I have, and the sooner I do it the better.""I got in, and he put the gad on the horse and galloped the poor animal every step of the way into town without saying another word. We drew up at the polling place, and he jumped down and grabbed a ticket and voted it, and as he climbed back into the vehicle he wiped his perspiring face and exclaimed:"There she is, and if the old kentry hain't saved, then she can go to geast."

A STREET CAR STRIKE.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 4.—There was no street car service in Hamilton today. A strike is on.

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trial in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been to the heart to realize that to her lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many a young couple become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple who rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.
In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many barren women to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operation at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" has charge. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used.
It has its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for women's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do, as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

DAY BY DAY.

Another of them! Peaches aren't they? But who has bribed the weatherman?Y. M. O. A. Harriers have revised their "Marmion" to read, "On, Position, on!"It's safe betting that the name of the next Governor of New York will uary.The monoline operators looked quite urday.The racers who cut the course on the estate of the late Hon. James
