CONVENTION SELECTS TRANSPORT MINISTER

At a well-attended convention of St. Antoine Westmount Liberals last night in Victoria Hall, Hon. George C. Marler was officially named as the Liberal party standard-bearer for this riding in the by-election which, it is expected, will be announced one week from today.

Selection of Mr. Marler came as no surprise, for in an exclusive statement to The Examiner last summer, when he was brought into the Federal Cabinet, the Transport Minister declared that he had "first thoughts" of Westmount, and that this would be the riding in which he would seek the approbation of the electorate, if a convention of riding delegates saw fit to invite him to be their candidate.

In Quebec

Mr. Marler is no stranger to the riding, having represented it in the Provincial Legislature for some years, during which — between the leadership periods of Hon. Adelard Godbout and Georges Emile Lapalme — he held a caretaker role as leader of the Opposition in the Legislative Assembly at Quebec and on several occasions drew most favorable comments from the Provincial Premier for the able manner in which he conducted affairs, both in and out of the Quebec House.

Hon. G. C. Marler

At City Hall

Before entering the political arena at the provincial level, Mr. Marler made a mark in the municipal field that will probably never be erased.

As vice-chairman of the executive committee of the city of Montreal at a time when the credit of the city hung precariously in the balance, he gave to the Asselin administration a solidity in financial affairs that was of material aid in the money markets both in this country and in the United States.

During this period Mr. Marler revealed an aptitude for public finance that was second to none, and an insight into public affairs that set him apart as an able administrator and a leavening force in any administrative company to which he might be elected or appointed.

In Ottawa

Member of a prominent local family, he is perfectly bilingual and in Ottawa has already brought to his post of Minister of Transport a sense of responsibility that has marked him as a public figure whose career has barely begun.

Shrine Band Plays Here

The oldest Shriners' band in North America, which is coming to Montreal to take part in the Shriners' parade and show on Saturday, from Sphinx Temple, Hartford, Conn., will give a public concert in Westmount Park at 8.30 p.m. tonight according to an announcement by the Shriners' committee.

This band was founded in 1899. Originally it had 25 voluntary members. Today it has 60 members and during its existence it has been commanded to play at a White House reception in Washington tendered by President William McKinley. In 1909 this band was called upon to play the music in observance of the exciting reappearance of the famous Halley's Comet.

This will also be one of the bands taking part in the Shriners' mammoth parade along Sherbrooke St. W. on Saturday afternoon which will also be a prelude to the big show for the public in the Forum the same night, all profits from which will be given to the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children.

According to confirmed reservations, it is expected that over 2,500 Shriners will be here from the United States and Mexico City, excluding those coming from several provinces of Canada, and the ladies, which will make this the biggest convention Montreal has welcomed since 1929.

'Old Age' Problem Related To Rotary

"An aging population is associated with industrialization" Dr. James Tyhurst told members of the Westmount Rotary Club on Wednesday at their regular meeting held at Victoria Hall.

Dr. Tyhurst is assistant professor of psychiatry at McGill University and spoke on "What is Getting Old?"

He said that the largest number of aged in any country can be found in large rural areas, and particularly in the centre of the city. There has been a great shift in population recently in Canada, Dr. Tyhurst said, and this is the reason we find more old people in the city that in the outlying districts.

Dr. Tyhurst pointed out that of all the countries in world Germany has the most old people, and closer to home on the island of Montreal, more aged will be found in Westmount, Montreal-West and Senneville. In Westmount itself the larger portion of elderly people are congregated between the Boulevard and Sherbrooke street. Victoria, B.C. has more old people that any other city in Canada.

The doctor said that in the years between 1901 and 1948 the increase in life expectancy in a person over 65 years of age has increased to two years. He said that people are living longer, and that there are fewer people over 65 working than ever before.

"However, this latter presents its own particular problem," the doctor said, "due to the state of dependency in which it places them."

Exploding an old theory that said there were more old women in the country than old men, Dr. Tyhurst said that this is not so. Latest figures prove that there are more old men in the country. An interesting fact connected with this is that most of the aged men are married, while the majority of the aged women are widows and comparatively well off.

He said that the older population on the whole is poorly educated, which is one of the biggest reasons why there is trouble between generations in communicating with each other. Dr. Tyhurst said that parents these days do not know or understand what their children are learning about in school in a good many cases. The doctor thought however that this situation will be remedied in the next two or three generations.

Facts and Figures

Presenting figures on the whereabouts of the country's old folks, the speaker showed that 78% were living in private homes with families, rather than as was thought in institutions.

On the whole the financial situation among the aged is poor and the employment trend in latter years amongst this group is downward. This also presents a problem of what this group will do in their leisure time. He said that mental illness is becoming a trait with the aged, and that asylums and mental institutions are becoming overcrowded due to this.

The doctor said that one of the Public Library Reopened Tuesday

The Westmount Public Library reopened on Tuesday after being closed for alterations and redecoration.

The library is now operating on normal winter hours, which are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. from Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

The children's room is open during the week from 2-6 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. - 12 p.m. and 2-6 p.m.

Rev. C. C. Cochrane Urges Nat'l Unity

Rev. Charles C. Cochrane, of Melville Presbyterian Church told members of the St. George Kiwanis Club this week that national unity is not a wartime luxury to be abandoned in the more leisurely days of peace.

Mr. Cochrane said that Canadians should refuse to insist on negligible racial rights to gain momentary advantages over other Canadians. He said that national unity is advanced by the willingness of each tradition to learn from others.

"The common good of French and English-speaking Canadians is one and indivisable", he said. "Our two great peoples must refuse to be drawn asunder by political demagogues and self-appointed guardians of sectional interests."

Mr. Cochrane said Canadians must firmly decline to seek their national strength along purely partisan lines. He said national unity is a standard full time product and it is our business to see that we produce the finest brand we know how.

HARMONY HARBOUR: Atlantic waves rolling in on a Nova Scotia beach, followed by the Eileen Cameron poem which opens "We give you ships and tides and men, Anchors Aweigh and wind-filled sails; We give you back the sea again in sailor's song and rousing tale . . ." — these sounds have introduced "Harmony Harbour" to listeners of the CBC Trans-Canada network for some years now. On the regular Sunday show, soon to begin its eighth season, tales of the sea are told, giving listeners an insight to the great days of Canadian maritime history; sea shanties varying in sentiment from rollicking pirate's songs to sailor's vesper hymns are also offered, featuring the Arcadian Male Quartet (above). The program originates from the heart of Canada's eastern seaboard, at Halifax.

Reason For Dislike Of U.S. In Europe

"Why don't they like the United States abroad?"—a question that is uppermost in every thinking persons mind, is answered by a group of distinguished men and women—American and foreign authorities. Their replies in panel discussion, arranged by Ladies' Home Journal and reported in the September issue of the magazine, are given further emphasis and timeliness by President Eisenhower's recent announcement that a "partnership" foreign policy replaces their former "leadership" tactics.

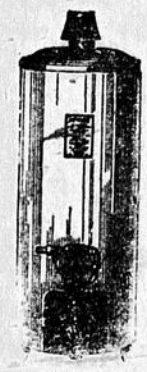

The following opinions are those of such experts as Alfred Max, head of the French Gallup poll and editor of the French magazine Realites; Harold Stassen, director of the U.S. Foreign Operations Agency; Chester Bowles, for U.S. Ambassador to India; Walter Elliot, Member of British Parliament and wartime Cabinet Minister; Mrs. John J. McCloy, wife of the former U.S. High Commissioner for Germany. Representing Ladies Home Journal were Editor Bruce Gould and Maragaret Hickey, Editor of Public Affairs.

900 Volunteers Start Out In Queen Elizabeth Drive

More than 900 volunteers set to work Tuesday to raise the $109,500 urgently needed by the Queen Elizabeth Hospital. The campaign will continue through September 18. The funds required represent a deficit on last year's operations plus minor capital replacements.

E. W. Turner, general campaign chairman, pointed out to canvassers that the hospital is more than a place for caring for the sick. It is also an educational institution. "The role of the hospital in caring for the sick is well known," he said. "Not so quickly recognized, however, is the function of the hospital as an educational institution. We rely on the hospitals to provide the training for all our nurses. Our doctors look to the hospital to provide the facilities and learning gather during internship. In addition, Hospitals like the Queen Elizabeth make a big contribution to the general wealth of medical knowledge through the individual research projects carried on." The basic reason for the campaign, Mr. Turner said, lay in the fact that 30 per cent of the patients in hospital are unable to pay what it costs the hospital to care for them.

Early reports on the campaign were encouraging but officials insisted that final success could only come from wholehearted public co-operation.

Assisting Mr. Turner as deputy chairman in the campaign is R. G. M. Gammell. The Special Names Chairman is J. A. Cross while R. J. Kayser and Louis Burggraf are acting as Territorial Co-Chairman. Divisional chairman are as follows: R. D. Baldwin, N.D.G. West, N.D.G. Centre, Montreal West; A. N. Dexter, Hampstead, N.D.G. Mrs. G. Oliver Services Held

Final tribute was paid yesterday to Mrs. Gilbert Oliver, wife of Canon Oliver, rector of St. Matthias Church, who died suddenly Monday at her home, 370 Kensington avenue.

The former Winifred Maud Kelway, Mrs. Oliver lived and worked in the church parish for more than 26 years. She was born in Kent, England, and educated at Simon Langton School, Canterbury.

She came to Canada in 1921 with Canon Oliver. They resided in Ontario for several years before coming to Montreal in 1927.

For some years she served as corresponding secretary of the Montreal Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary, of which she was a life member.

Mrs. Oliver was an active member and honorary president of the St. Matthias Woman's Auxiliary and the Women's Guild. She was superintendent of the Elementary Sunday School and the Junior Woman's Auxiliary. She was also a member and past president of the Susan Buchan Reading Group.

She is survived by her husband; three sons, Prof. Michael K. Oliver, of Winnipeg, Dr. Peter G. Oliver, of Paisley, Ont., and John A. Oliver, of Montreal; two daughters, Mrs. C. G. Gifford (Joyce), of Louisville, Kentucky, and Mrs. Walter C. Lloyd-Smith (Marie), of Montreal; and nine grandchildren.

Children's Theatres

Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, Directors of the Children's Theatre, are now being congratulated on their 21st year of operating the Children's Theatre, which is today Canada's largest and foremost school of theatrical and radio training, specializing in work for young people. Work has been hard and often carried out against great difficulties, but their faith in the ideal behind the Children's Theatre, has been upheld, a faith which has steadily justified itself.

For the coming season, enquiries have been so great for enrolment, that it has become necessary to increase the teaching staff and open new studios. There are now three studios to accomodate pupils in the various parts of the city, one in Notre Dame de Grace, one on Park Avenue in the Rialto Theatre Building and the new studio is situated on Cote Ste. Catherine Road, cor. Legare.

This year's programme, for which pupils may now register for any of the three studios, is an usually ambitious one, and will include productions of four full length plays, including CIRCUS DAY, POLLYANNA, ALADDIN and the WONDERFUL LAMP and the FIVE LITTLE PEPPERS, as well as shorter studio presentations. The Children's Theatre curriculum embraces instruction in self expression, diction, poise, deportment, stage, radio and television work. Even if pupils have no intention of pursuing drama studies later on, the value of the course of the Children's Theatre in helping young people to overcome self consciousness and acquire a clear enunciation, good diction and a graceful poise, is undeniable. Classes are now being formed for kindergarten, juniors, intermediates and seniors.

important factors in bringing about illness to old people is the social contact which they lose once they retire. He said that the major area of ones social activities often evolve around one's job and for this reason when a person reaches retirement age a problem immediately comes to the fore.

The doctor said that society must replace this lost factor with something else in the lives of the aged.

Provincial Drive Planned By St. Justine's Hospital

Brigadier J. Guy Gauvreau, D.S.O., E.D., general chairman of the 1954 subscription campaign for the St. Justine's Hospital Building Fund, announced that the campaign this year will be really provincial in character and that all districts in the province will be actively canvassed.

The honorary chairmen of the porvincial division for the campaign are: Horace Boivin, Mayor of Granby and one of Canada's most widely known industrialists, and Dr. R. A. Lepage, M.D., of Mont-Joli, who is also president of the Province of Quebec Union of Municipalities.

The provincial canvass will be carried out by means of some twenty regional committees covering all the counties in the province. Each of these committees covering all the counties in the province. Each of these committees will be composed of seven or eight members, with a chairman and secretary, and will include leading personalities in public affairs, business, diocesan, parish, social or civic groups, newspapers and radio stations, etc.

"It is important," Brigadier Gauvreau stated, "that this campaign be truly provincial in character, as St. Justine's Hospital is a medical and scientific centre which serves the people throughout the entire province."

Last year the hospital recorded 180,000 patient days. About one-third of this figure—60,000 days—were for the treatment of patients from outside the metropolitan area. In all fairness, therefore, it is appropriate that a portion of the cost of building and equipping the new hospital of 800 beds and 60 cribs should be met by public donations from outside of Montreal.

The general organization of the campaign is proceeding amain, in preparation for the actual canvassing drive, which will be held officially from November 15 to 30 inclusively.

The honorary chairmen of the campaign are His Eminence, Paul-Emile Cardinal Léger, Archbishop of Montreal; Hon. Albiny Paquette, Minister of Health of the Province, and His Worship, Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal.

Most of the regional committees are already formed. Those in charge of the campaign are confident that the provincial canvass will provide its just share towards the completion of this hospital, one of the most important of its kind in North America.

The Next-of-Kin Association will hold its first regular meeting of the 1954-55 season tonight at 8:30 p.m. in Room 25 of the YWCA, on Dorchester Street West.

All members are asked to attend, and Silver Cross wearers as well as all who lost loved ones in World War II are invited. Information is available from H. M. Best, president, at RE. 7-0260, or J. J. Campbell, secretary-treasurer, at UN. 6-2316 after 6:30 p.m.

Forty British school boys, who spent three weeks touring eastern Canada, boarded a special Canadian National Railways boat train here recently for Quebec on their homeward journey. All were members of the W. H. Rhodes' educational party and hailed from London, Glasgow, Birmingham and Bradford. They were given the opportunity of making the trip through their scholastic ability in their home schools.

Economy, Simplicity, Comfort Featured In Trend Houses

Recent newspaper reports indicate wide-spread interest in the modern "trend houses" as the answer to the average families' need for comfort, simplicity and economy.

"Trend houses", making good use of pre-fabricated parts, built-in furniture and up-to-date building techniques are designed to make the job of house-building easier, faster and cheaper.

Among the latest developments are built-in fire places and storage cupboards, a heating system adapted from a type used in jet planes, split level designs, truss-type roofs and plywood sheathing. In addition, glass is being used widely for wall areas as well as windows.

These features are aimed, according to builders, at making houses as comfortable and functional as possible. Washable wall paper makes less work for housewives — as do wooden walls. The tendency of wooden walls to warp is minimized by insulation.

Important in new building, both for economy and comfort, is well-installed insulation. One of the most widely used insulating materials in Canada is the mineral wool type.

The primary purpose of mineral wool is to cut heating costs, and this is done by keeping heat within the walls during the winter. The same principle works in reverse during summer by keeping warm air outside.

By reducing heat loss, mineral wool insulation saves time as well as money, making easier the job of tending the furnace. In addition, it is fire-proof. Mineral wool will cut re-decorating costs by slowing down the formation of ugly lath outlines often found in uninsulated homes.

Calvary Church

At the evening service on Sunday in Calvary United Church, Westmount, Rev. Walter J. Spence will commence a series of sermons on modern books with ancient meanings, with the well-known book by Catherine Marshall, "A Man Called Peter".

This is the story of a great modern ministry and a warmly, human personality. Mr. Spence will not only review the book but will give his appraisal.

STIRRING TECHNICOLOR DRAMA, — Dirk Bogarde, Alec Mango, Gerard Oury, Denholm Elliott and Akim Tamiroff in a scene from "They Who Dare," now at the Snowdon, Outremont and Strand Theatres.

★ Technicolor Drama

"They Who Dare" At 3 Theatres

Snowdon, Outrem't, Strand

"They Who Dare", a stirring Technicolor drama with a cast of popular stars headed by Dirk Bogarde, Denholm Elliott and Akim Tamiroff, tops the double bill now at the Snowdon Outremont and Strand theatres. Directed by Lewis Milestone, the man who brought to the screen such classics as "All Quiet On The Western Front", "The General Died At Dawn" inter alia, "They Who Dare" tells of the exploits of a band of wartime commandos as they carry on a daring raid on two enemy airfields in Africa.

Based on fact, "They Who Dare" is a dynamic adventure drama with high tension thrills and sizzling action. It's also full of poignant touches which bring a lump into the throat of those who see this powerful and exciting drama of a few who fought against overwhelming odds and won. The supporting cast in this Technicolor production includes Gerard Cury, Alec Mango and Anthea Leigh.

The companion feature "The Yellow Balloon" tells the gripping story of a small boy terrorized by adult brutalities. Andrew Ray is the central figure in the drama which tells of men and women, their loves, hates, fears and violent crimes and passions. Kathleen Ryan, Kenneth More are co-starred as his parents with William Sylvester, Sandra Dorne and Veronica Hurst in top featured roles.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 9 — This is back-to-school week, and across the continent millions of parents are sighing in relief at the prospect of several hours of peace and quiet in the home after the school bells chime at nine every morning. With theatre owners the sentiment is different, however. Summer once was regarded as the slowest show season of the year. Today it's the hottest, for winter brings a resumption of top television competition for the show shopper's precious leisure hours.

But Hollywood, for once, isn't shaking in its shoes. The movies have weathered the storm and can thank TV for the screen's current rash of fine films. Producers who lacked both taste and know-how are now rarities in Hollywood. Big spending has returned, but only where every dollar spent can be seen to some degree on the screen. Screens are not only wider but also higher, thanks to Paramount's new Vista-Vision photographic process, and those characters who used to be fuzzy in the background are now in sharp focus.

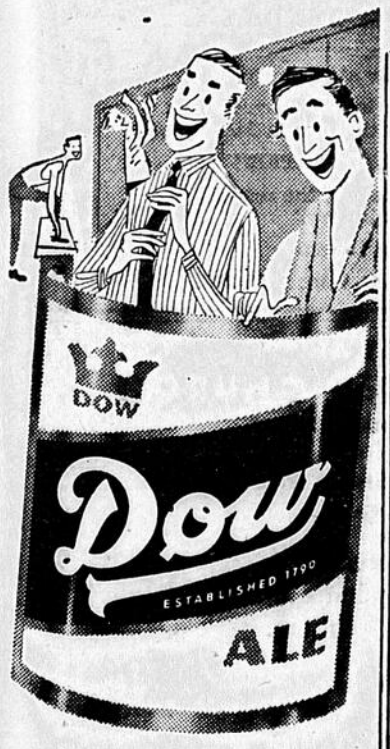

More to the point, Hollywood has gathered its courage and sped to the counterattack against TV and the high cost of baby-sitters by recognizing the need of quality rather than quantity. I've seen some of the coming winter's product and can report on its excellence. "The Country Girl" may bring Bing Crosby another Oscar and should definitely establish Grace Kelly as the actress of the year. "No Business Like Show Business' and "White Christmas" are musicals in the lavish vein of yesteryear. "Oklahoma!" will be along, too, as will "The Bridges at Toko Ri" and many more.

NEW
CHAMPS-ELYSEES RESTAURANT
Is pleased to announce for your increased enjoyment of good food the first Infra-Grill in the Province of Quebec.

This new method of contact grilling ensures that the food is intensively heated right through, without burning. This is the ingenious principle on which the INFRA-GRILL is based Between the two plates, heated to 850 degrees F., the food is first quickly browned. Then the infra red rays cook it right through — from inside.

The Infra-red rays close the cells instantaneously and keep meat juices intact.

All foods grilled with very little fat.

It supplies the most tender and succulent dishes in the shortest possible time.

For example

No Jury Trials

Corporations Today Are Tried By Judges Only

Notice of appeal against convictions in an anti-combines case mentions in one or two places that in the opinion of counsel for the appellants the judge "misdirected" himself.

This brings to mind the fact that under one of the numerous amendments in recent years a corporation accused under the act is not permitted to have a jury trial. Therefore the judge is both judge and jury. As jury, the judge must real with the facts in the case regardless of what the law may be; as judge, he must deal with the law and the law is often governed by precedents or judgments in prior cases.

Why has the Minister of Justice persuaded Parliament ("persuaded" is a polite word) to abolish a jury trial? Because of the present minister's zeal in the prosecution of business enterprises, one can only conclude that the Federal Government was finding that juries were prone to find corporations not guilty of operating combines "to the detriment of the public" or "unduly" lessening competition.

If corporations, which are reputed to be soulless, and which often are entities of enormous size in the view of ordinary citizens who might be and usually are members of juries, are not convicted by a jury, it suggests that the crimes that Mr. Garson considers so heinous are not crimes at all in the moral sense.

School's In – I

by Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
Rector of Trinity Memorial Church

Now that the Quebec Government has firmly dropped me from the School Board, it might be expected that I should lose my interest in educational matters, but my mind does not function in that way. We are so built that we must talk about the things that deeply concern us, anl I have few deeper concerns than the training of the next generation. So after this brief apology ★ I propose to address at least four articles to four groups of people who are concerned with our day schools. This particular article is addressed to the boys and girls in Grade XI — whether they will hear or whether they will forbear. I choose Grade XI because at that stage in education they might be expected to do a little serious thinking from time to time. If their parents wish to look over their shoulders and read also, I have no objection.

You are looking forward, I hope, to getting something out of your final year. What is it to be? Just look back and see what you have got out of the past years of High School, and you will have a fairly good picture of the future. The pattern does not change much because you are a year older. What have you learned up to the present? I know what has been presented to you, because I know the system and the curriculum fairly well. You have had presented to you a certain point of view regarding the world you live in, the people you live with, and the Power who has created the world and sustains it.

You have been taught that the world of nature is orderly, dependable, and, up to a point, subject to man's control. You have learned mathematics and science to help you in the understanding and control of the world of nature. I wonder if you have learned in order to understand or only to control and exploit. For example, if you were put in charge of ten square miles of forest what would you do with it? If you have learned to understand you will select and cut and replant, and at the end of the years the forest will be still better than it is today and you will have made a good living. If you have learned only to exploit you will strip that forest in a year, you will have made a lot of money and will be looking for another job, and the land will be useless for a generation. We can either conserve as stewards or we can pretend to be absolute owners and exploit. It depends in part on what we learn in school. If you are a prospective exploiter you have not taken your schooling seriously.

Think of the second thing you have learned, the world of people. It is on their account that you have studied history and literature and languages. You have studied history to find how men and women have dealt with their surroundings in different circumstances from ours. Alfred the Great lived in a very different world, but we can learn from his patience and humility and heroism how we may face the equally hard facts of today. We study our literature for the sheer pleasure of noble words and ringing cadences, but also that we may share in the spiritual experiences of the great race to which we belong. We study French that we may enter with sympathy into the experience of the other half of our community. And again we study our own language for the very prosaic purpose of making lucid and coherent reports on our work, when we are dealing with the forest we have in charge. How have you faced those subjects? I know how they have been presented, but your response to them is the really serious thing.

And for the past ten years you have had that other subject presented to you day by day, your relationship with God — the Power behind the world of nature, the Inspirer of great literature, the Lord of History. You have learned that the world is not the result of chance, but that it is the work of God; its order and beauty in some degree represent God's mind; and you will be puzzled at times by the fact, that in spite of order and beauty there are disasters and ugliness. You will have found that some of the greatest literature in our own language or any other is concerned with the contact of man with God, and you will have found even in history that men can go only so far in their wicked ways, and that in time God intervenes.

What has been your response to the first twenty minutes in the school day? Has it been boredom or wonder? Remember, boredom never won a scholarship in school or a job in the world, but there is an old saying "He that wonders shall reign." If you have kept your minds open, not merely to the facts, but to the extraordinary meaning behind the facts, you are kings in your own minds.

Christian Science

The practical value of understanding God as the source of all true substance will be stressed at Christian Science church services on Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following:

"As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, not matter."

Bible readings on the same subject will include the following passages from Psalms: "Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart. Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass."

For Scarecrow

Green peas should be shelled as soon as they are picked to retain their sweetness. Otherwise the sweetness goes into the pods.

If they cannot be cooked at once, put the shelled peas into glass jars, cover and place in the refrigerator.

For the same reason, sweet corn should be husked at once and the ears wrapped in wax paper, cellophane, or aluminum foil and put into the refrigerator. The kernels will keep their delicious flavor for several hours.

Ounce Of Prevention Worth Pound Of Cure

The old saying "It's no use crying over spilt milk" can be applied with absolute truth to accidents. It is not an exaggeration to say that all accidents at work and in the home could be avoided if proper precautions were taken.

Constant checking and a little thought before each action can save time and materials.

The whole situation boils down to your ability to decide which is the right way to do things. The need to be able to decide something at the necessary time is a very serious matter. The ability to decide right a good percentage of the time depends a lot on the practiced habit of deciding.

Every few minutes at work and a frequent intervals at home, necessary times for deciding for or against accident risks follow each other fast and thick.

Should you take the time and effort to dress safely?

How about those oily spots and scattered scrap on the floor? Forget about them?

Can you really lift that load without help?

There are hundreds at home. Must you really have that last smoke in bed, run down the stairs quickly, leave food unattended on the stove, or leave repairs until the week after next?

These are all decisions to make —decisions which could mean the difference between life and death, between happiness and stark tragedy. They are your decisions.

You may argue that these decisions are minor — that you've gone through life so far without worrying about petty little decisions and you're still alive.

PATTERSON - PATERSON

The marriage of Alice Lorraine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Paterson, of Westmount, to Mr. Dwight Lyman Patterson, son of the late Robert Patterson and of Mrs. Patterson, of Cobden, Ont., took place recently in Madison Baptist Church, the Rev. Stanley S. Stock officiating. Mr. Donald Mallinson played the wedding music, and Mr. Walter Dunk sang during the signing of the register. Baskets of gladioli and asters were used to decorate.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white lace and tulle over satin, with a fitted bodice fashioned with sleeves ending in points over the hands, and a bouffant skirt. Her elbow-length veil of tulle illusion was held by a satin bandeau, embroidered with rhinestones, and she carried a bouquet of Rapture roses, mauve feathered carnations and white larkspur.

Mrs. Jonathan D. Mosby, as matron of honor for her sister, and Miss Emily Anne Nasmith, the bride's cousin, and Miss Patricia Dunk, as bridesmaids, were in Empire frocks of shantung taffeta, the matron of honor being in cranberry and the bridesmaids in rose-hats, and carried bouquets of wood. They wore matching picture multi-colored asters.

Master Douglas Campbell McPhee, cousin of the bride, was ring-bearer.

Mrs. Paterson, the bride's mother, was gowned in peacock blue shantung taffeta, and wore a beige hat and accessories, and a corsage bouquet of Joanna Hill roses.

Mrs. Patterson, mother of the bridegroom, was in a gown of beige and brown crepe. She wore a hat to match her gown, and a corsage bouquet of deep pink roses.

The reception was held in the church hall, where asters and gladioli were used to decorate.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left on their wedding trip, the bride travelling in a beige wool suit, with a cocoa fitted coat, and wearing an orange velvet hat, and beige accessories.

On their return they will reside in London, Ont.

Pleated Skirt Stands Laundering And Is Favorite With Little Girls

Your little girl's first day at school is the first big "new clothes" event in her life. School authorities and children themselves favour pleated skirts. Today mothers want pleated skirts that are "permanent" and washable. With the new synthetic fabrics and the techniques developed in sewing centers for sewing them, You can "home sew" washable permanent pleats.

A yard of one of the new miracle fabrics and an hour or two of work will give you an ideal pleated skirt for a six-year-old. Add changes of washable blouses, and you have a complete school wardrobe for little expense. If you are uncertain whether your pleats will really stay in, ask your local sewing center to show you their latest method in "home application" of permanent pleats. The main thing, according to sewing advisers, is to be sure to lay the pleats against the synthetic thread. In the new orlon and cotton blends the orlon thread runs lengthwise. Therefore, pleats must be laid across the fabric from selvage to selvage.

PLEATS BEST FOR SCHOOL, SIMPLE TO SEW: Method for "home application" of really permanent pleats in wonder fabrics latest sewing center tip for sewing school clothes. Modern sewing machines, say experts, make stitching synthetics simpler.

You can make a skirt for a little girl with a 20-inch waistline from a yard of goods without a pattern. Measure the required length of the skirt, adding three inches for the hem and ½ an inch for waistband seam allowance. Cut two pieces of a depth equal to this measurement, one along each selvage line of the fabric. Use the strip remaining in the middle for waistband and shoulder straps. The yard of goods will allow enough fullness for pleats.

Mark the center line on each piece of fabric. With a ruler and tailor's chalk, mark 1½ inches to each side of the center line. Mark off six pleats on each side, ½ inch apart and one inch deep.

For side seam, mark by measuring 1 inch away from the last pleat. For a larger waist, increase the last measurement ¼ inch on both sides of front and back for each extra inch of waistline.

Now you are ready to sew. When it comes to seaming and stitching the waistband to pleated fabric, you will find the material easy to handle under the needle of the modern machines, because these machines are designed to make sewing construction jobs easier. Seam the two sections together, leaving one side open for the zipper. Using a warm iron, press the seams open and press the pleats in carefully, following the markings. Press on the wrong side as well as the right.

Insert the zipper along the left side seam. Cut the waistband and straps to fit, and attach the skirt.

This pleated skirt will stand up to repeated laundering. The pleats will retain their original shape.

Business Girls and Young Matrons Plan Fashion Show To Aid Clinic

Proceeds from a fashion show which will be held on the evening of September 23 in the Town Hall, Town of Mount Royal, to be presented by Henry Morgan & Co., will be used to carry on the work of the St. Ann's Baby Clinic Associates.

In addition, this past season, 12 children were sent to summer camp where they enjoyed their first experience with country life.

Members of the Associates are mostly business girls and young matrons, who hold monthly meetings to sew or knit the necessary articles to make up the required layettes.

Each year an average of 70 layettes are completed and at least 50 other families are given assistance through the medium of used clothing, and Christmas baskets.

Every Wednesday afternoon of the year volunteer members of the Associates attend their clinic, assisting Child Health Nurses to weigh babies, completing records, et-

Twins Help Prepare Basic Canadian Breakfast

HELPING WITH BREAKFAST is the way the Smith twins of Winnipeg, Man., start the day. Breakfast includes fruit.

For that "It's-a-great-day feeling, a basic Canadian breakfast is necessary. Fruit, cereal with milk, eggs and bread in some form, plus butter, boost the sugar level in the blood after a fast of 12 hours or more. The result is a happy outlook, free of nervousness, irritability and fatigue as the day grows.

For school children just as protein, vitamin B and C and other minerals and vitamins contained in the basic breakfast are protection against diet deficiencies.

The Winnipeg Smith's like "big" breakfasts on Sundays and holidays — wheat cakes, waffles, omelets, meat dishes and specialty breads. Here's one of their specialty bread recipes. It goes with sliced oranges and bananas, corn flakes with milk, scrambled eggs and coffee.

Oatmeal Fruit Bread

One-quarter cup fat, ½ cup brown sugar, 1 egg, well beaten, ½ cup chopped Brazil nuts, pecans, or walnuts, ½ cup diced cooked apricots, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1 cup rolled oats, uncooked, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon soda, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1¼ cups buttermilk or sour milk.

Cream fat; add sugar gradually. Add egg to creamed mixture. Stir in nuts, prunes, apricots, orange rind, and rolled oats. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, and salt. Add dry ingredients alternately with buttermilk to creamed mixture. To make sweet milk sour, add 1 tablespoon vinegar to 1¼ cups sweet milk.)

Turn into greased loaf pan, 9 x 5 x 3 inches, and bake in moderate oven (350-375 degrees F.) about 1¼ hours; or turn into two greased loaf pans, 7¼ x 3½ x 2¼ inches and bake in moderate oven (350-375 degrees F.) about 1 hour. If desired decorate the top of the loaves before baking with whole pitted prunes, apricots and nuts.

Little Touches Turn Drabness Into Beauty

It takes but a few moments for a butterfly to emerge from its cocoon. In almost the same time, Mrs. Grace Visconti of Ridgefield, N.J., transformed herself from a drab girl into a real beauty. The almost unbelievable improvement in her appearance has been photographed for the September Ladies' Home Journal.

Grace Visconti's before-and-after pictures were taken only a few hours apart. Before she was a 29-year-old housewife with three children and no time for beauty treatment or becoming clothes. The Journal's Beauty Editor, Dawn Crowell Norman, waved no magic wand, but merely prescribed a series of little beauty steps.

Mrs. Cisconti, with a tiny waist, bustline and delicate shoulders, has been wearing a Size 14. Three sizes too large, exclaimed the editor! Try a smaller soft-shouldered dress with a skirt that flares out from a nipped-in-waist.

Grace always appeared to be frowning. The fault: heavy straight eyebrows growing too close to her eyes. Her face livened immediately after her eyebrows were plucked from underneath and shaped to arch slightly. Using her lipstick to curve her lips upward at the outer corners also gave a more pleasant expression. A haircut that flattered the brow and features did wonders. These simple beauty tricks, easy to do and easy to maintain, merely brought out a hidden loveliness that was there all the time.

Of the Canadian and American children with both parents alive, about 3,000,000 will be bereft of at least one parent during their period of dependency, Red Feather welfare experts etimate.

Westmount Rugger Plans First Inter Squad Tilt

BY JIM ADAM

If the Westmount Park pitch is available for play the Westmount Rugger club will hold their first intersquad game of the season there tomorrow, kickoff 2.30 p.m.

However, at press time it was not known if the posts would be up in time for the game. Should the ground not be ready there will be a regular training session of the club on the plot of land adjoining the R.M.R. armoury on St. Catherine street.

Westmount's cross-town rivals The Barbarians open the Montreal rugger year with a game against the Toronto Saracens tomorrow.. As the Saracens are a newly-formed club this season this will be the first game ever for the two teams. It had been hoped that the Westmounters would meet the visiting team on Sunday but despite all the efforts of the executive it has been impossible to secure a pitch for the game. However, should a ground become available at the last moment the blue-shirted local team will tangle with the Ontario travellers.

Open Against Barbs

It does seem almost certain now that the Westmount club will open their tough fall schedule against the Montreal Barbarians a week from Saturday at the West Hill High School grounds. Although no definite news has been received as to the strength of the new Montreal entry Ian Mair's boys go into the first meeting of the two clubs as ten point favorites.

The executive of the Westmount club were rather distressed to hear last week that the Barbarians had approached one of their new members urging him to join their ranks. The player in question, Geoff Jackson, a fine wing forward, happy with the Westmount team refused to cross town to join the black and white Barbarians. To date relations between the two clubs have been most cordial with good natured ribbing that one can only expect between such close rivals, but a move such as the Barbarians made is liable to lead to slightly more serious rivalry.

Fall Schedule

Secretary Tom Park is still waiting for confirmation from some clubs about fixtures with the Westmounters and expects to release a revised fall schedule some time next week. Tom and his charming new bride Sheine have now moved in to their new place at 222 Melville avenue where Tom's phone number is WI. 6425.

Grocers Decide To Bypass World Softball Tournament

By GEORGE COCHRANE

Steinberg's Eastern Canada aggregation of diamond artisans has decided to bypass the World Softball Tournament slated to get underway September 17 in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Several factors led to the grocers' top brass to make the decision. One of the chief ones was that the Steinies would be unable to take much advantage of the rule permitting them to pick up three replacements from other teams. The average American team heading for the annual world tournament, which is sponsored by the American Softball Association, picks up at least one standout pitcher, often two, to buttress their mound corps.

The grocers just aren't in a position to do that. Two years ago they played in the worlld tournament, held in Connecticut that season, and went a considerable distance before Percy McCracken, who did all the flinging for them, finally tired.

The Snowdon League operates with a pitching box 43 feet from the plate. In the States the bowlers toss from 46 feet out. McCracken can adapt himself to that extra distance but to send a team down to a tournament such as this with only one top-notch pitcher is just asking for elimination.

The question that confronted the grocers was, "Where can we get another top pitcher?" Most Montreal fastball observers rate Verdun's Paul Saindon as second to McCracken in the island's hurling hierarchy. But if Saindon couldn't experience too much success with Steinberg's in the provincial final series when tossing at 43 feet, he certainly isn't going to pull off any wonders when flinging at the best clubs on the continent from another three feet out.

OTHER FACTORS

Other factors that caused the Steinbergers to call it a season were that the club has not been so impressive to warrant sending them to a world tournament, it would be difficult for many of the players to get away from their jobs to make the jaunt, and the financial outlay in travelling to and from Minneapolis is considerable.

For the grocers it's another season, rather a remarkable one when you come to tote up the figures. In regular schedule competition the Steinies dropped only one game. They swept their semi-final series against Columbus in straight games, lost only one game to Dow in the league finals.

They went on from there to down Pats, Verdun Independent League pennant winners, in three straight and last week-end gave the double goose-egg treatment to the Ottawa Strathconas, the verdicts over the Ottawans giving the locals their second Eastern Canada championship in three campaigns.

BLANK OTTAWA TWICE

The grocers didn't raise too much in the way of perspiration globules when they blanked Ottawa representatives, twice over the week-end to capture the Eastern Canada crown and the handsome Coca-Cola trophy that goes with the honor.

The Steinies downed the visitors 2-0 at Trenholme Park Saturday night, completely outclassed the capital city crew Sunday afternoon at Macdonald Park to the tune of 9-0.

The Saturday night tilt pitted handsome Steve Hook, the elongated onetime Snowdon circuit tosser, against Percy McCracken. Both hurlers yielded four hits.

McCracken came up with something in the nature of a piece de resistance in the bottom of the ninth. With two on and two out, the Ottawas sent Lucien Carron in to pinch hit. Percy the Phenomenal breezed two fast ones by the gentleman, fondled the resin bag lovingly, fired it to the grocer bench, and then steamed a perfect strike across the platter to end the game.

Veteran Buddy Atchison led the grocers at the plate with two hits in three official trips to the platter.

SUNDAY TUSSLE

The Sabbath finale, reeled off under a dark sky before some 1000 addicts, was a onesided affair all the way. The grocers jumped into a 5-10 lead in the first two innings of the tussle,, were never threatened.

Chubby Lucien Carron, a right-hander, started on the hill for the visitors and showed a considerable amount of nothing before making way for Steve Hook in the seventh.

Young Willie Graham went all the way for the Steinies. He held the Ontario larrigans to two hits while whiffing 12 and not walking a single man. It was one of Mr. Graham's most artistic efforts of the season.

The grocers picked up a total of 17 hits off the combined offerings of Messrs. Carron and Hook with Rickie Tomlinson leading the swat parade with four hits. Don Callaghan wasn't far behind with a three for five performance while Jim Forsyth, Buddy Atchison, Gordie Callaghan and Hugh Brown were each good for a brace.

Red Feather Golf Tourney Organized

A special Red Feather golf tournament is being organized on Montreal and district courses to focus interest on the forthcoming annual campaign to finance Welfare Federation and its 27 health and welfare agencies.

Prizes will be offered and the tournament will be open to everybody with established club handicaps, says Frank M. Pope, who is arranging the feature for the Public Relations Committee of the 1954 Red Feather drive.

The scores will be turned in at home courses from September 4 to September 16 and the play-off will be held September 18. Prizes will be presented at the Red Feather Carnival atop Mount Royal on the evening of September 23. Rules and other details of the tournament can be had from clubs or through Mr. Pope at Consumers Glass Co., Ltd., UN. 1-2841.

"These Red Feather golf tournaments are becoming a traditional feature", said H. E. Stegmayer, secretary of the 1954 Welfare campaign. He said they were much appreciated for the interest they arouse and the support they give to the appeal and that apparently they are also welcomed by golfers as an interesting feature of the year's play.

10 Montreal Life Underwriters Complete CLU Examinations

Eighty-five life underwriters -- including 10 from Montreal -- representing life insurance companies in Canada have successfully completed the examinations and fulfilled all necessary requirements leading to the title and designation "Chartered Life Underwriter of Canada" (CLU), it was announced recently by the Life Underwriters Association of Canada.

The Montreal candidates are P. Angelini, Prudential of America; J. R. Archambault, La Prevoyance; E. Cuddihy, London Life; C. Gendron, Industrial Life; E. K. Giffin, New York Life; D. S. Harrison, Sun Life; J. Herbert, Industrial Life; A. G. Nickle, Imperial Life; G. Soda, Industrial Life; P. Trottier, Industrial Life.

Examinations leading to the designation were instituted in 1925 and since that time have constituted a major undertaking by the Association in the field of adult education.

In the intervening years, the courses of study have become more comprehensive and the examinations more difficult. Today any person who completes these studies and satisfactorily passes the thirteen examinations involved has demontstrated a thorough knowledge of life insurance and its application to the personal and business needs of Canadians, the Association points out.

Studies extend over three years. Candidates are guided in their study of the prescribed texts through extension courses conducted by the Extension Department of the University of Toronto and by the School of Commerce, Laval University, Quebec. Subjects covered include: Life insurance principles and practice, life insurance law, life underwriting and salesmanship, psychology, business finance, estate administration, taxation, group insurance and business insurance.

Today, about 1,400 representatives of life insurance companies are actively practising as "Chartered Life Underwriters."

More than 700 candidates wrote the first, second and third year examinations this year. The Association's announcement discloses the fact that 148 candidates successfully completed the first year examinations; 163 completed second year examinations, and 107 completed the third year examinations.

The majority of the unsuccessful candidates passed most of their examinations and will be allowed to proceed to their next year of study with the stipulation that they write supplemental examinations next year in the subjects failed.

Of the 147 candidates who wrote third and final year examinations, 107 were completely successful but only 85 qualified in all other respects for the "C.L.U." award. Five qualified for the "Associate C.L.U." designation, and the remainder will be required to rewrite the subjects failed or reapply for the ward when they have successfully fulfilled all other necessary requirements.

Sanction Obedience Match To Be Held at North Hatley

A sanction obedience match will be held Saturday and Sunday at North Hatley, Que., by the Mountain City Dog Obedience Club of Montreal. This will be the first event of its kind in the Eastern Townships. Dogs from Vermont, Montreal, Sherbrooke and North Hatley are expected to compete, including some outstanding winners.

A sanction match is an informal obedience trial at which no points towards obedience titled are awarded. However, conditions are the same as for a licensed trial, and a match provides excellent opportunity for fun and practice. Attractive prizes are offered for competition in the various classes. This Match will be held on the grounds of Hovey Manor bordering Lake Massawippi, or in case of rain on Sunday, in the Brae Manor Curling Rink. All proceeds, including entry fees and a silver collection, will be donated to the Sherbrooke S.P.C.A.

On Saturday at 1.30 p.m. there will be tracking, which is a test of the ability of the dog to follow a trail laid by a person through a field, and retrieve an article dropped at the end of the trail. Neither dog nor handler is permitted to know where the trail leads, except for two stakes at the beginning to show the original direction. After that, it may twist and turn in any direction and the dog must use his nose to follow it. Miss Lois Campbell and Mrs. Marion King of Rhode Island will judge this event.

On Sunday at 1.30 p.m. Miss Laura Nygren of Montreal will judge the graduation of Mrs. Casgrain's summer school for dogs, held each July and August at North Hatley. Among those competing for diplomas and prizes will be Mrs. Bruce Fletcher and Mrs. Hector McDougall and their poodles; Mrs. F. S. Gravel and Mrs. Henri Blais with their boxers; George Bishop and his dalmatian, all from Sherbrooke.

At 2.30 p.m. judging continues with the regular match classes in two rings, with Miss Edith Henderson of Cambridge, Mass., and Miss Dorry Harvey of Pittsford, Vermont officiating. The classes will include beginners' novice, all on leash, graduate novice and brace (two dogs of the same breed working together) as well as the more difficult open and utility. These latter classes feature jumping, retrieving, and obedience to signals.

The Mountain City Obedience Club was formed in Montreal in 1952 by a group of enthusiasts doing post-graduate training with their dogs. The members, all graduates of Mrs. Casgrain's Obedience School, meet once a week to train for obedience trials and exhibitions. The Club has staged four licensed trials to date, all in the Montreal vicinity.
