

Appliance is blamed for 'worst' fire here

Investigations by Westmount firemen and police have revealed that a defective electrical appliance was the probable cause of a fire that gutted an old apartment building at 4157 Western avenue early Sunday morning.

All available off duty firemen were called to help battle a stubborn blaze that apparently started in the rear of the building about 3.40 a.m. and quickly spread. Firemen played nine streams on the flames before gaining control two hours later.

It was termed the "worst" fire to hit Westmount since the Greene avenue blaze last January.

Firemen rescued three residents trapped in a second story room, carrying them down a ladder to safety. One of them, seventy-three year old Mrs. Augustine Duverneault, a widow, was overcome by smoke and taken to Queen Elizabeth Hospital. She was released the next morning.

Flames high in the air

The fire apparently started in a basement room on the west side. According to firemen it spread quickly upward through hollow walls, breaking out through the roof. When firemen arrived in response to a call made at a box by John Faubert, (Continued on page 16)

Not satisfied Academy parking banned

In response to pleas to protect children from traffic around the new Park School, Westmount this week banned parking on Academy road during school hours, but parents, teachers, administrators and school board officials are convinced that "more drastic" action is required.

Westmount police and the traffic safety committees conducted a survey at the request of the school board and recommended that parking be restricted. No further action is contemplated at this time, it was reported.

It was learned yesterday that the newly formed Westmount

The new regulations approved this week by City Council prohibit parking on either side of Academy road between Melville and Park Place from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Parking is permitted on the south side beyond Park Place.

Park Home and School Association will probably invite city aldermen and traffic safety experts to their opening meeting on November 11 to explain Westmount's stand.

Park School plans open house Tuesday for all residents

All citizens of Westmount are invited to visit Westmount Park School on Academy road on Tuesday, October 29, to inspect the newly renovated building.

This will be the first opportunity for most to view the building recently converted to an elementary school and entirely modernized and refurnished. It presently houses about 571 pupils most of whom were formerly attending Kings and Queens which are now closed.

A large attendance is expected made up not only of parents of present pupils, but of great numbers of Westmounters who attended the school since it was opened in 1913. Old-timers will perhaps be sorry to see that the old desks in which they surely carved their initials are gone, but the building itself will recall countless memories.

New features

They'll have to look hard to see those once familiar sights though workmen have knocked down walls to create larger and brighter classrooms. Ceilings were dropped three and a half feet and covered with acoustic tile. Other new installations include a staircase on the east side, fluorescent light fixtures throughout, new offices, washroom and a library.

A home and industry room has been set up on the third floor. In addition to the usual craft and wood-working tools it contains a potters wheel and an electric kiln. In another room are facilities for a speech therapy specialist.

But the overall building is the same and thousands of Westmounters attended through the years.

History

The center part of the building was opened in September 1914 at a total cost of approximately $480,000 as Westmount High School housing grades seven to eleven inclusive. Its first principal was Mr. R. E. Howe.

In 1929 an addition was completed on the West End of the school for $86,000 and two years later an addition on the East End was completed at a cost of $142,000. Grade 12 was started in this school in 1930.

St. Leo's cracks down on athletes

Students at St. Leo's academy must now obtain a scholastic average of 65 per cent before they are permitted to take part in after school athletics, it was revealed this week.

"We are not trying to discourage athletics, but naturally the academic work must come first," a school official said. "This move is proving quite popular with parents and teachers," he added. "The students aren't so happy with it of course."

The boys fear that this rule could kill chances of their having a Senior Hockey team in the league. They report that it is doubtful that of the twelve players soon to be selected for the team, all can obtain the required marks.

"All we can do is study and hope for the best," a student remarked.

German measles are out, mumps, plain measles up

German measles are no longer the pace-setters in Westmount. They're out. This year mumps and ordinary measles appear to be the vogue.

The number of communicable diseases reported here rose sharply in the late winter and spring from previous figures, according to data released recently by the Health Department. Up to the end of August there were 445 cases compared with 183 in the same period last year.

Mumps accounted for 136 cases and measles for 186. The Health Department stated that while the incidence of the two diseases was extremely high, it never reached epidemic proportions.

Last year 109 cases of German measles were reported up to the end of August.

An increased number of immunizations were given to residents who were travelling abroad (286 in 1962 and 383 to date this year) occasioned by stricter legislation of the Department of Immigration.

The Health Clinic had an average of 300 families under supervision in the past few months.

Hunt errors in directory

The Westmount Directory and Year Book, generally issued in September will be ready this year by January and residents who wish to make corrections in their listings must do so in the next two weeks.

"The present book is rather out-of-date and it is time for a new one," said a spokesman for the distribution firm that makes up the book. "Nevertheless, the Directory is just a side-line with us — we can only work on it when there are no urgent matters at hand — and it takes an enormous amount of work."

of the children at school have been recommended by school officials; the closing of Academy road to traffic between Park Place and Melville and the erection of a fence between the playing field and Western avenue.

"The new parking regulations are an encouraging sign, a move in the right direction," principal M. T. Craig declared. "But more should be done."

He said that children had to cross Academy road many times each day on their way to the playground, often dodging heavy trucks and other traffic. The constant flow of traffic on Western is an addition hazard, he added, "as the young children often run across up the street from the crossing gaurdian."

"This is natural with the very young groups; nevertheless something must be done," he said.

Twelve year old Stephen Courtwright of Clarke Avenue, Westmount, has an audience while putting the finishing touches to his painting. Stephen, with 45 other children, attends the Montreal Oral School for the Deaf which are currently holding their annual fund raising drive. Pictured in the photo are: Amelai Balena, Stephen Dougall, Miss R. McLeod, Stephen Courtwright, Cathy Archibald and Billy Molloy. Teaching deaf children how to speak and respond to the spoken word is the work of the Montreal Oral School.

No human voice heard yet they learn to speak and to lip read

The ability to communicate in the world today is a must. Imagine the difficulties facing a deaf person — especially a deaf child who has never heard a human voice.

Twelve-year old Stephen Courtwright who lives at 532 Clarke avenue, Westmount, faces these problems, but with the teachings of the Montreal Oral School for Deaf is learning how to speak and lip read along with 45 other youngsters ranging in ages from three to sixteen years.

The Montreal Oral School for the Deaf, with its staff of specially trained, qualified teachers has since 1950 been teaching deaf children of 3 years or over the advantages of Oral Education and is currently holding its Annual Fund Raising Drive, this year for a minimum of $25,000.

The priceless skill of speech is too often taken for granted, but for the children who attend the Montreal Oral School, this is not so. Speech for them is a long and hard process, because each of these youngsters has a profound loss of hearing.

Starting classes at the age of 3 to enable them to get an early grasp on speech fundamentals, these children first learn to understand speech by lip-reading, and then to use this speech. As their language increases, they learn to think as hearing children, and follow a normal school curriculum.

Same method used in 16th century

Mr. Ling, the school's newly-acquired Principal, when interviewed said, "There are many ways to teach deaf children. However, I am firmly convinced that the oral method is best. Oral education is not new, contrary to popular belief. Oral education has been used to teach deaf children as far back as the 16th Century."

"Most of us have clear-cut ideas on the subject of schools and education in general, but few have any concepts of education of the deaf due to lack of experience with such schools—particularly oral schools," Mr. Ling continued. "These are schools, as is the Montreal Oral School, where deaf children, in addition to receiving an education, learn to communicate by speech. They do not learn any form of sign-language which would limit their communication to the very few who know

PUBLIC SPEAKING

Westmount Rotary's public speaking course began its eighth consecutive year Friday night and club president Graham Bowes (left) was on hand to greet the students. E. A. Harrison, founder of the course and chief instructor shows the diploma that successful speakers may expect to receive to Ian Murphy of St. Leo's and Sandra Nicholson of Westmount High. With Mr. Harrison is Mrs. Robert Willis who assists in the training.

Efficient organization ready for Hallowe'en UNICEF collection

No matter what the weather on Thursday night October 31 hundreds of Westmount children joining others from all over North America will be out seeking not merely candy for themselves but a shower of coins for their UNICEF boxes.

In Westmount, based on collections made in previous years the children expect no less than 300,000 coins, including 10,000 nickels, 5,000 dimes many hundreds of quarters, and a few dollar bills plus the not quite countless pennies to be collected during this two-hour blitz. And this will be the result of work by a few thousand children, seconded by social minded citizens.

Parents are helping too. Fifty-eight mothers have volunteered their homes as depots. The money collected by Westmount children will be stored and counted by the City and District Savings Bank with the help of Mr. Houle.

G. Millar, L. Cote elected by SGWU

Two Westmounters, George Millar and Lionel Cote have been elected members of the Sir George Williams University board of governors.

Mr. Millar is president of the Lyman Tube and Supply Co. Ltd. and Mr. Cote is general counsel for the Canadian National Railways.

Quebec approves $4,711,000 by-law for Westmount

Westmount's $4,711,000 loan by-law to provide funds for expropriation in the Dorchester area and for various civic projects was approved last week by the Minister of Municipal Affairs and by the Quebec Municipal Commission. The by-law is now open for inspection at City Hall.

This by-law, No. 657 was first approved by City Council on June 3 is to provide for a loan for sewers, roads, sidewalks, parks and playgrounds, improvements, Dorchester street area expropriations, and for the disposal of previous loan funds.

The loan provides funds for a second municipal swimming pool at a cost of $180,000. However, a survey taken this summer by the city showed "no immediate need for another."

It also provides $167,000 for the rebuilding of the Dorchester roadway. With expropriations at $3,792,000, the cost of the project rises to over $4 million, but the city hopes to recover a substantial part in the re-sale of expropriated properties.

The debentures will be issued in denominations of $100 and bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum. They are payable half-yearly.

Roving Ambassador of song finds voices for Rotarians

Westmount Rotarians discovered Wednesday that they could sing well in unison.

Architect of the discovery was Walter Mayer, the Roving Ambassador of song, who stopped off at Victoria Hall as the guest speaker at the club's regular weekly luncheon and stayed to lead the members in several community-sing numbers and a couple of 'rounds'.

Mayer, who looks a lot like Danny Kaye in general appearance and has a lot of Kaye's bounce — was the possessor of a fine-timbered voice and led the singing.

In his talk he told of his trek through 59 countries of the world as a One-man Peace Corps, for he believes that as long as people are singing they can't be fighting.

Singing, he says, leads to friendship and fellowship, and as a result is a great lessener of tensions.

GREAT TRAVELLER

Among the countries where he has sung are Cuba, Dominica, Italy, Greece, Honolulu, Formosa, and he has led sing-songs among head-hunting aborigines, in a leper colony, and among the Indian-peon children of Mexico.

Music, he said, is international, and easily makes the crossing of international boundaries.

He speaks sufficient of several languages to make himself understood, but occasionally, he says, as in Japan, he has to use words he really doesn't understand, and can't pronounce properly.

This has a good side though, he said, and makes his audience laugh, and this in turn also helps to ease tensions.

Certainly he eased the tensions of the Westmount Rotarians.

First song he introduced was a special version of the well-known Vive-la Compagnie with a refrain that ran "Vive-la Rotary".

At first the Rotarians were a bit rusty in the vocal department, but under the spell of this dynamic personality, with his entirely disarming manner, they warmed to the singing and actually revealed a wealth of hidden talent in part-singing.

They even progressed to the point where individual table-groups were singing choruses and holding down a part in a round.

PRESENTATIONS

Continuing the presentation of service pins, silver awards were given to J. B. Burrows, J. G. Lawson and R. E. Mackey. Gold pins were presented to W. G. Moxley, S. B. Cayford, and P. E. Jarman.

During the club announcements, president Graham T. Bowes made an appeal for used furniture, particularly desks and chairs, for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

He also announced that the regular meeting of November 6th would be cancelled and the meeting that week be held Tuesday, November 5, at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, in company with the members of the Montreal Rotary Club, which is celebrating its 50th birthday on that occasion.

Cars, bicycles go

Forty-nine bicycles and six used automobiles, all recovered by the city in the past twelve months will be auctioned off on Tuesday, November 5 at 10 a.m. in the Corporation Yard, 14 Bethune street.

WE SAY

Kids are smarter than we think

SIX years ago when the traditional Hallowe'en frolic widened to include UNICEF collections some protests were voiced. "Don't rob the youngsters of Hallowe'en fun. It's their night!"

Fun-loving youngsters were un-moved by this adult reaction. Hallowe'en is still their night — but they have made it also a night for children 'round the world. Over the years Westmount youngsters are perhaps learning and enjoying the privilege of sharing with their friends. Through education in schools and libraries they know that their help with UNICEF Hallowe'en pennies is needed. Hence their pride in collecting the coins equals the happy acceptance of jelly beans and candy kisses.

Last Hallowe'en weather in Westmount was as variable as today's political climate. Rain fell from time to time. Regardless of weather, approximately over a thousand fantastically costumed youngsters sallied forth with paper bags for treats and UNICEF collection boxes. Neighbors were generous; in the bags youngsters brought home candy, cookies and apples. In the UNICEF collection boxes was almost in pennies, nickels and dimes — this for the world-wide humanitarian work of UNICEF.

UNICEF is a crusade by children for children. Let's not dampen the ardor of youthful unselfish giving. Today's world needs it.

Treat every bus as a school bus

MOST local motorists are fairly good about taking proper precautions with regard to school buses, and obeying the injunction to 'stop' behind these vehicles when they come to a halt. There are children, however, who travel by the regular buses of the MTC.

Unfortunately, we have spotted motorists recently school bus" might be, in swerving past stationary some form, included in MTC buses, from which every safety manifesto.

YOU SAY

A pat on the back for Westmount

Sir:

I am happy to see that the city is doing a bit of spit-and-polish on the Cenotaph in preparation for Remembrance Day.

With the tensions that are abroad everywhere today, it is certainly to be hoped that here in Westmount we will have a record turnout for the annual ceremonies.

At the same time I would like to take the occasion to pat the civic authorities on the back for the manner in which they are keeping our parks in such neat condition, especially at this season of the year, when the leaves are falling.

As one drives around the general area, one cannot help but be struck by the contrasts, with Westmount well in the van on the right side.

Duffer

Teach children
to be considerate

Sir: After careful observation — I have come to the conclusion that there is something very wrong with the operation of school crossing guards, and unless something is done — and soon — to rectify the situation, we may have a fatality.

Don't get me wrong.

I am in favor of crossing guards and I am not at all sure that the real problem is any fault of the present incumbents (except in one or two instances).

The problem appears to be the boys and girls (some of them) who do not appear to realize that the guards are posted at intersections for their protection and that strict observance of the traffic safety rules as they apply in such instances is the only sure method of preventing accidents.

An example: the motorist pulls to a stop at the corner, in response to the signal from the crossing guard, because there are several children children have been alighting.

As a further safety precaution, we would like to suggest that motorists show the same precautions — especially during school days and hours — when approaching a stationary MTC bus that is exercised with regard to school buses.

And we believe the slogan "Treat every bus as a school bus" might be, in swerving past stationary some form, included in MTC buses, from which every safety manifesto.

Notes and oddities of Westmount 1907

This is the fourth in a series of articles dealing with the Westmount of 58 years ago and taken from the files of the Westmount Advertiser of 1905 which unfolded local history as it was recorded.

"This paper aims to be alert, vigilant, and public-spirited, intolerant of shams, false pretenses and hypocrisy. It will be slow to censure, but when sure of its ground will be merciless in its criticism of public officials. It will be as quick to appreciate honest and honorable service as to denounce the reverse, but in all things it will endeavour to be just."

So reads the leading article in The Westmount Advertiser for February 18, 1905. On perusal of the aging files of that worthy local weekly of another day we must admit that strict adherence was made to the statement of editorial policy — or at least insofar as being ready to censure and praise is concerned.

Water termed unpure

"THE PROPOSAL TO FURNISH WESTMOUNT WITH FILTERED FILTH FOR FORTY YEARS" strikes the eye of the reader, and the article under that screaming headline (in eight point capital letters THIS SIZE) takes piece by piece the proposition recommended by Mayor Duclos and endorsed by Councillors Cross and Lee, to bind the Montreal Water and Power Company to supply Westmount with filtered water for a period of forty years from November 1, 1905.

Few things that the City Council did or proposed in those days seem to have met with the approval of The Westmount Advertiser's editorial writers and the proposed contract with the power company was no exception.

Clause by clause the agreement was dissected and the most scathing comment brought down upon the schedule of votes wherein it was determined that occupants of the most expensive houses will be required to pay not more than five per cent of their annual rental as water tax, whereas the "poor" are to be saddled with a burden ranging from 7 3/4 to 14 3/4 per cent."

Considerable publicity was given elsewhere in the paper to the recent loan of a road plow and road roller to the residents of Peel street for the purpose of aiding them in the construction of a winter road.

Night classes in road making

A witty scribe paraphrases the affair: "NOTICE — The Westmount Roads Department is now prepared to give instruction in winter road making to officials in adjoining municipalities. Special night classes have been organized. Easy terms. Apply Supt. of Works."

Another item touches on an arrest made by Sgt. Moffit and Constable (later Chief) Wren of a coachman for stealing a musk-ox robe valued at $75 from the lively stable of Mr. Cowan on Greene avenue.

Other items deal with the project to pave St. Catherine street from Atwater to Greene avenue in "tar macadam."

In a ballet company the artistic director takes charge of the ballet as a work of art. West Ender Mme Ludmilla Chiriaeff job is to bring out the best in the artists, overcome the worst, and develop all the potential in Les Grands Ballets Canadiens. She does not spare herself or anyone else — and makes everyone work harder than they thought possible.

She "lives" each part and helps each dancer interpret his or her role properly. They must perform up to her ideals and standards, and it is this factor which gives a particular company its distinctive character. During the performances of this company on Saturday at Place des Arts, one of the ballets "Pas de Quatre" was introduced by Anton Dolin, who at one time was a member of Diaghilev's Ballet Russe, along with other famous male dancers — Lifar, Nijinsky, Massine, Fokine, Mordkin and Volinine.

The ballerinas were Anna Pavlova and Tamara Karsavina.

Dolin carried on the influence of Diaghilev's group, even though the company changed from time to time.

In his prime, Dolin danced the romantic ballet "Giselle" with Alicia Markova, one of the greatest ballerinas in the world. She was ordered to take ballet lessons by her family doctor because she was frail and knock-kneed. But discipline and exercise cured her ailments, and her talent uncovered for all to see.

ROVING REPORTER

By Oliver Towne

Does anyone know of a Mrs. S. Webster? The New York Central Railways and the agent at Westmount Station have been at the search for four months. Mrs. Webster left Westmount for New York on July 10 accompanied by a large blue steamer trunk. She personally saw the trunk through customs on the train and so presumably arrived in New York. But the trunk has been sitting in that Grand Central check room gathering dust and waiting and waiting and waiting. Anyone who knows the whereabouts of Mrs. S. Webster is asked to call the agent at Westmount Station. He's waiting too.

RUSSIANS IN WESTMOUNT. Four Russians, representatives of the Communist Youth Organization came to Westmount last week and visited the YMCA, later attending a reception in their honor at the home of Don Ross. The delegation, three men and one married woman were here for a three week tour of Canada, arranged by the YMCA World Service Committee. The exchange program began earlier this year when four Canadian YMCA delegates toured Russia. The Russians left Saturday for Ottawa after seeing a hockey and football game.

PIGEONS. Must have been over 50 pigeons in Westmount Park Monday following the grass cutting machine. They would all circle over the tractor until one spotted a worm or some other tid-bit brought to light. That lucky bird would quickly dive and pick up his mouthfull. The others soon followed and began frantically pecking away at nothing. Now come on pigeons . . . you must be able to devise some more efficient system.

MORE PIGEONS. Talking of pigeons, the War Memorial opposite City Hall came in for a thorough cleaning this week in preparation for Remembrance Day ceremonies. Flower beds in all the parks upturned. Everything looks rather bleak. Don't be misled by that "For Sale" sign on Greene Avenue near Sherbrooke. It's on property soon to be expropriated by the city to make way for a parking lot.

As there is no longer figure skating instruction in the Westmount arena, the Montreal Figure Skating Club is becoming increasingly popular with young West-sign language. Rather they learn to talk and understand the speech of other through the use of their residual hearing and lip-reading. In other words, their language is the spoken language both in and out of school.

To help these children to break their world of silence, to provide for teachers' salaries, and to pay for costly group hearing equipment and other special facilities, the Montreal Oral School for the Deaf makes this annual appeal.

The school, located on Iona Avenue in the Snowdon area, in classrooms provided by the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal, receives no financial aid for municipal, provincial or federal governments. Although the Protestant School Board gives a grant for each child of school age within their jurisdiction, the school relies heavily on the work of parents and friends . . . plus the understanding and generosity of the public.

mounters. The group is currently looking for new Junior boys and girls. Vice president of the club is J. H. McMahon of Westmount, and Dr. MacMillan a long-time figure skater has been associated with the club for many years. A director of the club is Mrs. J. Galbraith, 600 Grosvenor Avenue.

Obituary

Leonce Plante, 74

Final tribute was paid Wednesday in St. Leon de Westmount Church for Leonce Plante, QC, 4300 Western Avenue, who died Friday at the age of 74.

Mr. Plante was recorder for the City of Montreal from 1935 to 1950. Returning to private practice he set up his own law office which he attended until two months ago.

He was born in Quebec City and took his Arts degree at St. Joseph University in Miramichi, New Brunswick, later winning a law degree at Laval.

At one time Mr. Plante was president of the Young Liberals Association and president of the Great War Veterans Association which later became the Royal Canadian Legion.

Mr. Plante is also remembered for often quoted statement that placing bets with a bookmaker was no worse than placing them at a racetrack, although it was illegal and that it is wrong to inflict heavy punishment upon the "little gambler" while the big racketeer behind him usually went free.

Mr. Plante is survived by his widow the former Emé Ducloux, whom he married in 1912.

Burial was at the Field of Honor in Pointe Claire.

The name "Unity Boys' Club" is rather ambiguous to the general public in as much as it implies that it is a Club of boys. However, some 40% of the over-all membership belong to the Girls' Section of the Club and they as well as the boys participate in a wide variety of interesting and exciting activities.

Since 1950, when the Unity Boys' Club was officially opened, girls played an important role in its general operation, not only in participation but also in providing leadership to their counterparts. This year, the Junior Leaders' Corps, a group club entirely for girls, is rendering service in many ways — they are acting as librarian assistants, supervision monitors, telephone answering service and as volunteer leaders in charge of some activity. The girls are also acquiring points towards their Certificate of Achievement and the Club Letter "U". The Awards System inaugurated in 1957 calls for varying degrees in participation, leadership and service. To date, nine members have received the coveted award, three have been girls, the present trend would indicate that girls as well as boys receive recognition for their leadership qualities.

GIRLS GROUP CLUBS

The "Sprites" a newly formed Group Club for girls, meet every Friday night and have a membership of thirteen girls. At an election meeting held recently, Wilma Richardson was elected President and Linda Rae was elected Secretary. Members include: Karen Hogan, Marie Virgo, Evelyn Irwin, Franca Mascuilli, Vicky Rountree, Sylvia Cloutier, Nancy Dallas, Rose Perry, Launa Virgo, Patricia Rae, Dorothy Roach.

The group is currently busily engaged knitting, sewing and repairing different articles which they plan to donate to an Orphanage.

INCLINATION

The year, the program for girls has been designed to suit the inclination of any girl from six to sixteen years of age.

The program includes: Games Room, movies, group games, tournaments, library, basketball, general gym, gymnastics, badminton, art work, precision

HALLOWEEN PARTY

An estimated 300 youngsters will be guests of Unity Boys' Club at a giant Halloween Party scheduled to take place on Friday, November 1st. In addition, several of the group clubs will hold their own parties on different dates next week.

The November 1st, date has been set so as not to interfere with Halloween night on October 31st, at which time all the kiddies in the neighborhood generally make their door to door trick and treat campaign.

The party will include: special cartoon movies, group games group and a costume parade with prizes going out to the boy or girl with the best costume, the most original and the funniest. Candies and apples will also be distributed to all the participants.

SENIOR "B" BASKETBALL

The Unity Steelers are working out regularly every Tuesday night in preparation for the Golden Ball Tournament which is scheduled to start early next month.

Grant Peterson recently announced that his team will start practices on Wednesday, October 30th, at 8:30 p.m. The team starts their tenth consecutive year representing the Club in the Montreal Basketball League. Some of the veterans returning for another year along the cage pastime are: David and Michael Barnard, Grant Peterson, Ulric Brown and Eugene Tabb.

Another shipment of the new measles vaccine is shown here being turned over to officials of Trans Canada Airlines for transportation to various parts of Canada. The vaccine must reach its target within 24 hours of shipping, and authorities have paid tribute to the local firm of Kenwood's for its efficiency in getting the material from the manufacturer to the airport in record time — as little as 20 minutes from pickup to delivery at Dorval.

Speed is important for measles vaccine

Rubiovax is a new vaccine that plays an important role in the war against measles, a disease that last year claimed 510 lives in the United States alone. Now in Canadian use, the vaccine must reach its target within 24 hours of shipping.

To help solve this vital problem in logistics, the makers of Rubiovax, Merck Sharpe Dohme of Canada Ltd., enlisted the aid of a Montreal transport company, Kenwood's Westmount Transfer & Storage.

Kenwood's operate a lightning-fast air freight and air express service that makes it possible for a package to be picked up in 20 minutes, rushed to the airport and dispatched to one of 13 major centres in Canada by air.

Always available

This special service operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and is available to business firms in the Greater Montreal area.

"Kenwood's are a vital part of our team," said a spokesman of the pharmaceutical company. "When every minute counts, we have to know that our vaccine will get there in a hurry."

The new vaccine was developed at the Harvard Medical School by Dr. John F. Enders, who was awarded a Nobel Prize for his work. Rubiovax is now in full production, after several years of testing. It is claimed to be 100% effective with a single injection.

With air shipments of every kind on the increase, Kenwood's foresee a bright future for their recently inaugurated KEAFS (Kenwood's Express Air Freight Service).

Consolidation of air freight under this service makes it possible for shippers to enjoy the benefits of shipping goods by air at lower than normal charges.

Kenwood's express rate includes all the special services — fast pick-up, delivery to airport, notification of flight number and arrival time, delivery from final airport to consignee, and proof of delivery.

By offering door-to-door service, Kenwood's eliminate the hazards of individual shipment, while saving the client the expense of involving his own personnel at any stage of the operation.

The cause of juvenile delinquency

Leisure time dangerous Weredale director states

Vernon T. McAdam, director of Weredale House, Westmount and "father" to 5,000 boys from broken homes has called upon home, school church and industry to give direction to teenagers in the modern-day world.

Speaking at a Montreal Westward Rotary Club meeting recently Mr. McAdam stressed that it is during their leisure time that boys and girls in their teens particularly needed direction.

Young people were in a better position in the 'good old days' he said, because they had chores to do which kept them busy, and to a great extent, out of mischief.

Youth, he said is Canada's greatest asset, and is going through changing times. Boys and girls, he said, mature earlier today and are bigger in stature than their predecessors, and in this specialized age, need more education.

V. J. McAdam, director

When youth is charged with a disrespect for law and order, he said, it should be remembered that the ideas of youth are obtained from older people. What, he asked, must the youth of today think of the revelations of the ex-Mafia man Valachi — "a stool-pigeon singing"?

Juvenile delinquency, he added, is the greatest problem in the world today — and stems from adult delinquency. About 99% of adult delinquents, he said, were discontented juveniles.

750,000 young people in Canada today, he said, come from families where the parents don't care, don't know or have no influence over the way their children behave.

The battle today, he said, is for the minds of youth — and Russia is concentrating on the mind of youth just as Hitler did before the Second World War.

He pointed out that among the FLQ accused, only one was more than 21 years of age, they were all juveniles, he said, and teenagers — not adults.

In a closing plea for guidance for youth, Mr. McAdam noted: "This is a land where our forests are protected, our hogs inspected and our children neglected."

Social agencies, he said, make every effort to do what they can to meet the challenge he outlined, and urged service club members to help in every way.

A rotarian himself, a member of the Montreal Club, he said: "We don't belong to a service club just to wear a button."

Free bridge instruction is planned

The Youth Department of the Westmount YMCA will be initiating a "Learn To Play Bridge" program on November 1.

The month of November will be set aside for teaching all youth members (9 to 17 yrs.) the art of contract bridge. Several older youth members have volunteered to sit down, in small groups, with future bridge players, every day during the first week of November.

After Nov. 16, help will be given every Friday evening after 7 p.m. There is no charge for this new program.

A bridge club might be started for those who wish to develop their play.

MEMORABLE EVENT 15th ANNIVERSARY

Last Sunday afternoon, in the Ritz Carlton Ballroom, the same hall in which it was inaugurated, The Pro Musica Society held its 15th Anniversary concert.

This opening event was extremely impressive, the same Founder - President, Madame Constant Gendreau, with her devoted committee had many prominent dignitaries as guests of honor, which included the Minister of Public Affairs, the Honorable Georges-Emile Lapalme; Madame Pauline Donalda; the Consul General of Italy, Paolo Canali; Mr. Justice Hector Perrier and Mme. Perrier; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Leduc; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Brott; Mme. Jeanne Beaubien; Mme. Jeanette Boch; Mr. and Mrs. L.

W. Davies; Dr. and Mrs. Paul Schopflocher and many others.

It is interesting to note that among the members of the large Pro Musica Auxiliary Committee, a number of them reside in Notre Dame de Grace and Westmount. These include Mme. Martine Duguay, Mrs. C. Wilfred Palmer, Mme. Pierre Saucier, Mrs. L. Letellier, Mrs. Gordon B. Taylor, Miss Laure Fink, Mrs. N. Loewenheim, Mrs. J. Simms, and Mrs. J. M. Bishop.

First-rate

The Quintetto Boccherini, named after the celebrated Italian composer, is a group of first rate string performers, the first violinist and founder a lady, Pina Carmirelli, the other four being gentlemen: Filippo Olivieri, 2nd violin, Luigi Sagrati, viola and 2 cellists, Arturo Bonucci and Nerio Brunelli. This is their fourth North American tour and the Pro Musica introduced them locally in 1954.

The program was made up of Italian works by Cambini (1746-1825) and Malipiero (1882-) and after intermission, Quintet in C by Schubert (1797-1828). Even though the Schubert is a long work, in terms of pages and duration of time, the masterpiece does not show the length because it is such a remarkable exhibition of this art form.

The work by the Austrian genius, finished shortly before his death in 1828 was played magnificently by the five Italian artists. Music knows no nationality when it comes to performance because the interpreters, when they read what the composer wants, put into it what the writer expects. Needless to say, the Quintetto Boccherini received an ovation.

NEXT WEEK: OTHER ORCHESTRAL FORMS.

QE Hospital Campaign so far 'encouraging'

Early returns in the Queen Elizabeth Hospital's 1962 deficit Campaign stand at $41,343.22 it was announced this week.

General co-chairmen Ernest A. Laurain and William Metzger said the amount subscribed thus far was encouraging.

They noted that the drive is being carried out without canvassers and renewed their appeal to the public to subscribe without being approached.

"Letters requesting donations have been sent to some Montrealers who have been contributing to the Hospital in recent years but we are asking Montreal's population as a whole to help us overcome the deficit of $228,595," they said.

Cheques should be sent to The Queen Elizabeth Hospital 1962 Campaign, 2100 Marlowe Avenue, Montreal 28.

Mackay Centre receives gift

Destruction of the old Mackay Centre building on Decarie boulevard is not complete, and work is expected to start on the new Centre for Deaf and Crippled Children early in November, according to Dr. L. P. Patterson, executive director.

Dr. Patterson made the forecast to the Fossils Club, a service club which raises funds for underprivileged children by holding variety shows each year. The club presented the Centre with a cheque for $500.

Ski spot to make own snow

The Laurentian Mountains seldom suffer from a shortage of snow. Nevertheless, nature, such as it is, sometimes requires a helping hand in order to have dependable skiing conditions at all times. Snow making, by artificial means, will ensure an earlier start to the skiing season.

Bulldozers, mechanical saws, horses and trucks are presently engaged in the major project of installing snow making equipment on Gray Rocks' ski hills.

The management of this St. Jovite resort, 80 miles north of Montreal, has contracted Ottawa's John Clifford to install a Larchmont snow making system.

High capacity

The system, consisting of special nozzles, pipes, engines and compressors, has a capacity of making from 4 to 8 inches of well packed snow, over an area of 1,000 ft. long by 250 ft. wide, per 24 hours.

The system will be operational by November 15, thus assuring good snow conditions for the first ski week — December 8.

A new run has been opened near the number two lift, and a great many improvements have been made on the whole Sugar Hill area.

Réal Charette, director of the Snow Eagle Ski School, and his 25 instructors, will again provide the numerous Gray Rocks' clientele with the latest techniques to ensure safe and rapid instruction of parallel skiing.

The 'Hereafter' to be discussed

What the Bible has to say about the hereafter will be comprehensively reviewed at the services in all Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the reading of the week's Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Probation after Death." Keynoting the many pertinent Scripture selections will be this from Isaiah: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined." Related readings from the Christian Science text book will include: "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy).

Sunday morning at the Brunch session the address will be given by Mrs. Edmund Gordon on the "Modern Implications Of Internationalism."

The entire conclavette is under the direction of Gerald Miller, BA Temple Emanu-El Youth Advisor, in association with the leaders of the Temple Emanu-El Youth Group.

SALUTATIONS TO BROTHERHOOD — Congratulations are extended to William Hoffman, president of Temple Brotherhood and Isidore H. Morrell, Chairman of Program and their associates for an outstanding meeting held by the Brotherhood, Wednesday evening, October 16.

The address by The Hon. Paul Gerin-Lajoie, Minister of Youth, Province of Quebec, proved informative and provocative. The Minister emphasized that in matters of education, under new legislation the Jews "will be given a voice" and he looks forward to much achievement on the basis of democracy in the cause of a dynamic educational program for all peoples of the Province.

Dominion Douglas

Sunday sermon

Next Sunday evening Dr. Smith will preach on "Here We Stand" at Dominion-Douglas. This deals with the basis of Protestantism.

In the morning, his topic will be "The Communion of Saints."

thanks to the guest speaker among other things said "we Jews are not strangers to education, but education for us was ever bound up with the ethical life. The Holy Book records that God singled out Abraham, the Progenitor of the Jewish people, that he may teach his family and household to walk in the way of the Lord and to do justice.

"Already in the first pre-Christian century, we Jews had a public school system in Palestine and we have the faith that as a matter of justice, the further unfoldment of our democratic way of life will be perfected so that here in the Province of Quebec, Jews be not considered beggars in the realm of education, but be granted full rights and equality. For under the present historic system, we Jews suffer as far as education is concerned, for we find ourselves paying taxation without representation.

"We have the faith, that under the leadership of such a fine devotee of democracy, as you are, Mr. Gerin-Lajoie, that the way will be found soon that the Jew be granted full equality in matters of education, in this Province, the first Province in the British Commonwealth that granted political rights to the Jew originally!"

West tour planned by rabbi

At the invitation of several communities in Western Canada, the National Director of Keren Hatarbut, Rabbi A. Horowitz, will leave here shortly for a tour of Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

Rabbi Horowitz will visit the schools affiliated with the Keren Hatarbut, meet with teaching staffs as well as with School Boards and local Keren Hatarbut committees. He will also address public meetings on "Whither Canadian Jewry" and on "Hebrew Education for Jewish Living in Canada."

In Vancouver, Rabbi Horowitz will also be the guest lecturer at a "Retreat" whose participants will devote the entire time — from Saturday evening to Sunday night — to a review of various aspects of Jewish living in Canada: Hebrew Education, Religion, Zionism, Youth and Adult Education, Relationships between Israel and Canadian Jewry — Realities, "Fictions", Probable Trends and Possibilities.

Sam Kaplan, Editor of the Jewish Western Bulletin and Chairman of Keren Hatarbut in Vancouver, is the initiator and organizer of the "Retreat" in Vancouver.

There were no upsets in the first round of the Montreal Chess League's inter-club team series at the N.D.G. Provincial championship

In the recent Quebec Provincial championship, won by Laszlo Witt of N.D.G., the ties in earned points (five-round Swiss) were broken by Solkoff Median method. This is determined by adding up the scores of all the opponents a player meets in his schedule and then deducting the highest and lowest scores to establish a median. Here are the complete standings in final order:

(5-1 pts.) — L. Witt; (4½-1½) — G. Rubin, R. Hirsch; (4-2) — M. Jaglom, J. Therien, D. Duchoeny; (3½-2½) — I. Zalys, P. Heller, O. M. MacConnell, R. Drummond, E. Baikovitz; (3-3) — W. Hemmeles; (2½-3½) — J. Beaulieu (Quebec), D. Kosich; (2-3) — Y. Coudari; (2-4) — L. Liboiron, L. Pinkus; (1½-4½) — H. R. Smart, K. Koerbel, S. Lacroix (Quebec), J. Polgar, F. Furstner.

Michael Joglom, up from the States, proved to be the 'dark horse' of the event. A New Yorker who doesn't claim to be a corker, he nonetheless became a real threat for top honors. Here is a sample of his spirited style

ABILITY COUNTS

The idea that we have to shift mayors every term so that we can alternate French and English is ridiculous. If we get a good man with some ideas into that exalted chair he should have the privilege of a second, or even a third term, whether he is English, French or Hot-tentot. — Stanstead (Que.) Journal.

Kierans opens charity drive

At a special ceremony in Place Ville Marie recently at which the Hon. Eric Kierans, Provincial Minister of Revenue, officiated, Federation of Catholic Charities officially launched its 1963 campaign.

The campaign runs from October 16 to 30, and seeks a total of $742,000 in support of Federation's 34 agencies and services.

The official opening was marked by the raising of the Flag of Federation on a flagstaff on the plaza at Place Ville Marie by Mr. Kierans. The ceremony was attended by a number of leading figures in Federation's organization and in the Montreal business community.

C. R. Doyle, vice-chairman of the campaign, opened the ceremony with a brief address on behalf of General Chairman Stanley D. Clarke.

"I would ask you all," said Mr. Doyle to the assembled gathering of campaign, which included a large number of Loyola and Marianopolis students, "to remember how important these next few weeks will be. The fate of Federation depends on your efforts, and upon the generosity of this community. We cannot afford to fail."

His Excellency Bishop L. P. Whelan, bestowed his blessing upon the flag, and upon the campaign.

Before raising the flag, Mr. Kierans extended his wholehearted support to Federation's efforts in the realm of community welfare, and indicated that the Provincial government supports this work fully, and takes deep interest in the success of the campaign.

dren standing at the intersection. The children refuse to cross, continue to the middle of the block and then cross — apparently enjoying the discomfiture of the guard who has needlessly stopped the motorist and of the motorist who now has to stop to let them cross (diagonally in all probability).

This sort of thing, in many variations, is occurring all the time.

MAKE THE DIFFERENCE

HERE IS HOW YOU CAN PROVIDE THE SLIM MARGIN OF MONEY AND EFFORT NEEDED TO KEEP LIFE IN 34 VITAL COMMUNITY SERVICES

First, rid your mind of the old-fashioned idea of charity. Most of your gift is converted into personal services needed by your fellow men. In fact, 80% of the people who seek help from a Federation agency don't want money . . . or food or clothing or fuel. They need guidance, comfort, protection, and even sunshine. Your gift works at all levels of our society, too. There is probably someone on your street who has been helped. Next, consider the fact that the total amount raised each year by the Federation is not the whole budget of the Catholic charities but it makes the difference between hope and despair, between the whole need and the partial support from government and other sources. That's what we mean by margin. Finally, take a look at the size of your contribution. Each year, the list of donors shows only a small number of persons giving enough to make the difference. This year, give enough. Your gift will be a share of your well-being, and it will work wonders! If a volunteer worker does not contact you, send your cheque to 2005 St. Mark St., Montreal, or telephone WE. 3-7381. If you prefer, make a pledge and send your contribution in installments. Any gift will make the difference!

Secretary awarded CPS certificate

Mrs. Dortha Wolever Cote des Neiges, of Montreal Chapter, National Secretaries Association (International), has been awarded the Certified Professional Secretary's certificate by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries. Mrs. Wolever is Secretary to the president of Atlas Asbestos Co. and is education chairman for the Montreal Chapter of NSA. Other members of the Montreal Chapter who have achieved this rating are Miss Kathleen Irwin, Mrs. Audrey Skipp of Notre Dame de Grace, and Miss Madge Wakefield.

The CPS examination is a standard of proficiency for the secretary who passes it. To date, 27 secretaries in Canada have been certified, although there are over 2700 in the United States. The CPS examination is held in May annually and consists of six parts: Personal adjustment and human relations, business law, business administration, secretarial accounting, secretarial skills, and secretarial procedures. Candidates for CPS do not have to be members of NSA, but must meet certain educational requirements as well as a specified number of years' experience. The Montreal Chapter this year announces that the course "Law for the Layman" sponsored by the Extension Dept. of McGill University has been so arranged as to cover the studies for the "Business Law" section as set forth by the Institute.

Prospective candidates wishing further information are invited to write to the Association at Box 895, Station B, in Montreal.

Children's Hospital benefits from sale of Christmas cards

The Women's Auxiliary of the Montreal Children's Hospital has now opened its Christmas Card Shop on the ground floor of the Hospital. Cards can be bought by the dozen or package, in English or French, and can be printed with name and address if desired. A specialty is attractive cards by private artists featuring original and distinctive designs. For their Christmas Card Shop, the Women's Auxiliary have gathered together a wide variety from Canada and the United States as well as from Europe, including Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Germany.

The Christmas Card Shop is located in Room 180 on the ground floor of the hospital. It is open to the public from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. week days until November 4 after which it will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday to Friday, until Christmas. Organize parties for Hallowe'en

By Millicent Hickmore

NEXT THURSDAY IS HALLOWE'EN when local children disguised as eerie ghosts, sinister pirates, wandering gypsies or evil witches, will go from door to door looking for "trick or treat" most of them wearing small black and orange UNICEF tags and carrying tins for you to drop extra pennies in — which go directly to the assistance of thousands of needy children throughout the world.

HALLOWE'EN is still a time for fun and surprises and Hallowe'en definitely means a party, so the question is: What to do that's new and different?

One suggestion sent to me describes a novel "Weeny Witch Hallowe'en Party." Invitations (in the form of a witch) to appear in costume are imperative, and prizes should be awarded for the best masquerader. The recipient is invited to meet Weeny Witch at the appointed time and place. The hostess should be costumed as grotesquely as possible, flow-black gown, peaked hat and a frightening mask. The familiar broom is a part of the witch's costume with which she sweeps the guests into the house.

GAMES

"BOBBING for Franks" is really exciting for children of all ages. String a stout cord across the room tie skinless frankfurters to the string — they should be well spaced and adjusted to heights so that each contestant can just reach the frankfurter when standing on tip toes. At a signal, each guest starts to eat the "frank" without using his hands. The first to eat the most of the frankfurter is the prize winner.

"FEEDING the Weeny Witch" is a variation of the "pin the tail" on the donkey game. A witch's mask or a large witch's head drawn on cardboard with an opening for the mouth is placed on a chair. Each guest is given a skinless frankfurter, blindfolded, turned around several times and instructed to insert the frankfurter in the witch's mouth. Again a suitable prize is given the winner.

"THE String Game" is another laugh producer. Tie a frankfurter in the exact center of a long piece of twine. Instruct a boy or girl to take their positions at opposite ends of the string, place the string ends in their mouths so they start chewing their way towards the middle. The first to reach the frankfurter is the winner.

Other games such as apple bobbing etc., complete the entertainment. And now, to complete the party, serve the traditional Hallowe'en eats.

MR. and MRS. ALLAN BRONFMAN, patrons for the inaugural concert of the 10th anniversary year of the Montreal Jewish Music Council October 27 in the Grande Salle of the Place des Arts. The New York Pro Musica Ensemble will be featured at the forthcoming event.

Miss Marcia Jean Wood weds Mr. John Urquhart Dalglish

The marriage of Marcia Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter Wood, to Mr. John Urquhart Dalglish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson Dalglish, took place recently at Westmount Park United Church. Rev. Callum Thompson officiated. Mr. Wayne Riddell was at the organ. Standards of white shasta daisies and mums arranged with greenery were used to decorate the church.

BRIDE'S GOWN

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was in an Idiam silk shantung gown, an Alfandri original, with Swiss lace applied bodice having a circular neckline. The slightly bell-shaped skirt with back fullness fell into a train applied with matching lace. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a small beaded crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white feathered carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Liane Wood, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, Miss Diana Reynolds, Miss Louise Starr, Miss Elizabeth Dench and Mrs. Peggy Walker as attendants were dressed alike in green French peau de soie gowns fashioned with empire waistlines and princess A-line skirts having back panels. They wore headdresses of tulle illusion held by matching peau de soie roses and carried bouquets of feathered light bronze mums.

Mr. Blair Carrique was best man. The ushers were Mr. Robert Anderson, Mr. Richard Grogan, Mr. Robert Tinker and Mr. Steven Molson.

Mrs. Wood, mother of the bride, was in a blue grey silk shantung sheath gown, the bodice having a gathered neckline. She carried a corsage of pale pink sweetheart roses pinned to her purse.

Mrs. Dalglish, mother of the bridegroom, was in a chartreuse and gold brocade gown, an Italian import, having an A-line skirt. She carried a corsage bouquet of matching green orchids on her purse.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Ritz Carlton Hotel where white and yellow shasta mums with matching center pieces were used as decoration. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Dalglish left for Bermuda, the bride travelling in a crushed-raspberry wool suit, with navy blue satin hat, matching accessories, and a corsage of white feathered mums.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

Among the out-of-town guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Forcey, Ottawa; Miss Gretchen Aird, Mr. and Mrs. C. Elliott, and Miss Honor Dalglish, of Toronto; Miss Evelyn Wood and Miss Margaret Peaddie, of London, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, of St. Catharines, Ont.; Mr. Robert Neville, of Hamilton, Ont.

Land study still secret

The long-awaited report into alleged irregularities regarding land purchases by the Protestant School Board of Montreal is still awaited, although it was understood that the matter was to be discussed early this week.

Municipal Affairs Minister
Pierre Laporte said last week that he hoped to discuss the matter with Hon. John Rowat, chairman of the Board, "early this week."

The report was prepared last February by local lawyer Kenneth Mackay, and dealt with three purchases of land for schools, but most controversial locally was the purchase of land for the Wagar High School, which allegedly netted a promoter $211,932.

Fast work

It is reported that the land was purchased by the promoter only after the Board had agreed to purchase it for schools.

The report was presented to search of psychoactive drugs in the field of geriatrics. Dr.

Vojtech Kral, consultant in geriatrics at Verdun Protestant Hospital, will work as co-principal investigator of this project with Dr. Lehmann.

Dr. Lehmann is one of the leaders in North America in the field of pharmacological research and is best known for the pioneer work he did with tranquilizing drugs, which produced revolutionary advances in the care and Local firm to build in Vermont

Second link in an international chain of motor hotels projected by the Montreal firm of L. D. & H. Schreiber Ltd., is now under construction at Stowe, Vermont.

To be known as the Grand
Motor Inn, start of the $1,000,000
Stowe complex follows by five months the opening of the chain's flagship, the Grand Motor Hotel in Montreal.

Covering 300,000 square feet of land, the complex will consist of 60 motel units, 36 three-bedroom family-type chalets, a recreation building with restaurant, bar and lounge, a swimming pool, tennis courts and a sandy beach. Part of the complex will open this winter and the balance next summer.

Construction of the Stowe project was announced here recently at a news conference at the Grand Motor Hotel attended by Thomas Kenny, Secretary of Civil and Military Affairs for the State of Vermont, and Roland R.
Vautour, Commissioner, Vermont Department.

Westmount Wanderers clinch first place

The Westmount Wanderers moved closer to a certain first place finish in the Black Section of the Draft Touch Football League last Saturday with a decisive 73-19 win over the Powderpuffs.

Leading the Wanderer scoring attack were "Sonny" Gavin with four touchdowns and Bill McNally with three.

In other Black Section games, Lakeshore shut out Buffaloes, 20-0, and Westies swamped the Drifters 65-6. Bob Williams notched three TDs for the Westies and Peter Smallman scored three.

Action in Red Section games saw TMR retain its slim first place lead with a 26-13 victory over the Martians. John Graval led the TMR point parade with two touchdowns. For the Martians, Sandy Hislop and Ritchie Bell scored one TD apiece.

In other games, Saints beat Rods 40-13 and Travellers defeated Snowden 44-13.

This Saturday in the Black Section, Lakeshore plays Drifters at Mohawk Park; Buffaloes meet Wanderers at Henri Julien, and Powderpuffs visit the Westies at Wentworth.

In the Red Section, TMR plays Saints at Courtland; Rods take Snowden at Kent, and Travellers tangle with Martians at Westmount.

All games get underway at 10:00 a.m.

LCC Senior team sweeps all

By PETER MATHON

The big news at school last week was that the Senior football team beat Bishops 28-19 in a game played at Lennoxville. In being triumphant, LCC won the Shirley Russell Cup for the second year in a row. LCC had four touchdowns, three converted and one rouge. BCS had three touchdowns of which only one was converted. Congratulations to the players and officials of the Senior football team!

* * *

In other football action last week, the same senior team won out over the highly-rated West Hill team by a score of four to one. The main factor for LCC's win in that game was a field goal by Martin.

On Thursday afternoon, the Juniors beat Selwyn House by a convincing 20-0.

TO MARK the 700th anniversary of the founding of French order of chivalry, Les Anysetiers du Roy, an official delegation of the order visited Quebec Province recently and enthroned a number of persons prominent in the life of the Province. Among those honored was a member of the Molson family which, since 1786, has contributed greatly to the progress of Montreal and the Province. In the photo, the World Chamberlain of the Order ALBERT BATAILLE, right, presents the Order's symbolic ribbon to J. DAVID MOLSON, assistant general manager of Molson's Brewery Quebec Limited.

Unity rugby squad makes playoffs

Unity Boys Club football team goes into action in the last game of its regular schedule Saturday afternoon at Westmount Park at 2 p.m. meeting St. Laurent.

The Unity squad, with five losses against two wins has made the playoffs in its first year in the league, a creditable showing, although Peter Webster, coach and former NDG Maple Leafs star, says he hopes for better things another season.

Out of the playoffs this year is Terrebonne, the team Unity defeated for its two wins to date.

Details of the playoff schedule have not been released as yet.

Olympic champ, pro grid star at Campanorama

Lucille Wheeler, Canadian Olympic Ski champion and Jack Winters, top-flight basketball star and coach, formerly with the Harlem Globetrotters, have been signed up by Lendman for his Camp Panorama at Ivory North — first winter holiday camp in North America.

Lucille, who learned her first skiing at St. Jovite, is in charge of the entire outdoors program which includes skiing, skating, ski-joring, ski-dooing, tobogganing etc.

Jack Winters, prominent U.S. boys club worker and basketball coach at Loyola, in addition to playing for and coaching the Northern Oilers, will handle basketball on a year-round basis for Camp Panorama, as well as other phases of the indoor program this winter.

Lou Lendman in releasing information regarding the holiday and weekend schedule at Camp Panorama, stressed such features as the heated swim pool, winterized buildings with heat thermostatically-controlled, and the art and craft side of the attractive program. Holiday Camp schedule runs from mid-December to Jan. 2 and weekend winter camps start January 3 and run to April '64.

St. Leo's Conditioning lack noted at hockey practice

By JULES DESJARDINS

The tryouts for the St. Leo's Senior team had their first crack at skating this Tuesday. Under the experienced eye of coach Andy McGillis, the boys limbered up with light skating drills and a little shooting practice.

It was evident that many players had a lazy summer as a definite lack of conditioning was noticed. Andy had most of the boys panting during the drill which was not nearly as tough as the usual practice.

The juniors appear to have a strong team this year. Several players will attend the practice on Tuesday.

Ping-pong competition is strong

A strong "Table Tennis" competition has been developed at the Westmount YMCA based on the ages and abilities of the members.

There are four divisions: Junior, Intermediate, Senior and Staff. Small crests are awarded to each competitor who has played three challenges. The competition will begin Nov. 2.

Tours City

YMCA Outing Club goes behind scenes

The Westmount YMCA operates a Saturday afternoon program for boys and girls with emphasis on informal education and appreciation of their city. Each week the group (appropriately named the "Outing Club") visits places of interest in Montreal.

Many aspects of culture, recreation, history and education are examined.

Last year the group toured the TCA hangers, Place Ville Marie, CBC television studios, went on an airplane ride, went to an NHL hockey game, saw the Ice Capades and the Sportsman Show and much, much more.

This year's program is designed to take the boys and girls "behind the scenes" in Montreal's hospitals, hotels, universities, police stations, etc. The YMCA is presently examining the possibilities of a few extra special trips and tours such as a spring time guided tour of Montreal World's Fair site, an overnight train trip to Quebec city or Ottawa, visits to local yacht clubs and small airports.

Youngsters between the ages of 8 and 17 may attend. Non-YMCA members are welcome; program begins at 1.45 each Saturday and return to the 'Y' at 4.45. The program is operated on a pay-as-you-go basis, the usual cost is 25c and two bus tickets.

Local Lawn Bowling club is represented

Mrs. John Henderson of the Westmount Lawn Bowling Club has been elected match chairman of the Province of Quebec Ladies Lawn Bowling Association. New president is Mrs. H. C. Flook, succeeding Mrs. Gilbert Hill of the Westmount Club.

Artists show work locally

A group of local artists are exhibiting their works at a series of "town teas" currently being sponsored by the Women's Division of the 1963 Joint Campaign for Combined Jewish Appeal and United Israel Appeal. These town teas are a project of the Women's Division community interpretation program and they are taking place in St. Laurent, Hampstead, Westmount, Cote St. Luc, Val Royal and Outremont.

The artists who are exhibiting their works are: Gladis Axler, Stanley Lewis, Ghita Kaiserman Roth and Gord Smith.

Gladis Axler recently won a special prize from the Roosevelt Raceway in New York for her painting of harness racers. The painting will be placed on permanent exhibition at the Raceway.

Mr. Lewis has just received a special grant from Canadian Jewish Congress to study in Israel where he will do a biblical series.

Mrs. Roth was recently awarded a Canada Council Grant.

Park School . . .

(Continued from page 1) and School Associations of Kings and Roslyn, this school housed grades 7, 8 and 9 only, and grades 10, 11 and 12 were transferred to the Argyle School which thereupon became the High School.

This school on Academy Road after 1940 was initially known as the Westmount Intermediate School and in 1943 the name was changed to Westmount Junior High School. Its first principal in its new role was C. H. Savage.

Gay, carefree fun on Hallowe'en — that's the tradition for Canadian youngsters. Welcome them with the usual treats . . . Invest in world-wide goodwill by dropping your pennies in their Hallowe'en UNICEF boxes.

Awards and certificates go to students who did outstanding work in grades ten and eleven. Last year's graduates return to receive their awards.

Ceremonies begin at 2 p.m. in the school auditorium.

As high school fees are now free, those who qualify for scholarships receive ten dollar book certificates instead. These certificates are valid in several book stores in Westmount and Montreal. The students must select their book ahead of time and bring them to the school, so that book plates may be inserted. The books are then presented to the scholarship winners, who are ten percent of the grade obtaining the highest marks.

Special awards in various subjects are also presented, as well as certificates of merit, which are presented to those who have obtained a first class average. Those graduates who have received McGill University Entrance scholarships and certain other scholarships receive their certificates today, and those who obtained top marks in each subject in the school on the matriculation exams are awarded special certificates.

This week a few members of the Dramatic Club began rehearsing a skit to entertain the delegates to the Student Council Conference which will be held in the school in November. The skit, entitled "The Cock and the Pearl," is part of a full length entertainment called A Masque of Aesop, which was presented as the school's major production last year. The skit lasts about fifteen minutes, and was adapted by Robertson Davies from one of Aesop's fables.

The cast consists of Penny Rudnikoff as the pearl; Sonya Browman as the hen; Gail Portnuff, Deborah Greenberg, and Naomi Lapin as the chicks, with this writer as the cock.

Tova Wisenthal, president of the club, is in charge of rehearsing the skit, which was directed last year by Robert Bourne.

Fire Chief E. C. Harper and Deputy Chief T. Hovenden were called in to direct the battle. The fire was brought under control shortly after 5 a.m. by the 30-man crew including 15 "off duty" firemen and officers.

About half the two storey building was totally gutted and the rest heavily damaged by smoke and water, firemen reported.

Tenants were allowed to re-enter the next day after being identified by the janitor to search for valuables that might have survived.
