Sod-turning for the residence adjoining Victoria Hall which sometime next year is to be the home of 150 senior citizens is to take place next Wednesday at 12:15 pm, immediately prior to the weekly meeting of The Rotary Club of Westmount, sponsors of the project.

Mayor Donald C. MacCallum, representing the whole community, is to head the list of invited guests and will be asked to wield the gilded spade signifying the start of the long-planned non-profit undertaking.

Council will meet Monday

City council has called a public meeting for Monday evening to ratify the lease between the city and the Rotary Club of Westmount's Manoir Concordia, Inc. for use of Victoria Hall by the planned senior citizens' residence, and to redivide the land now cleared for construction of the residence so that construction may begin before the end of the month.

Councillors have decided to deal with all of the other business confronting it at the same time, in the expectation that a quorum would not be attainable when the regular June meeting is called for the following Monday. Thus next week's meeting would take the place of a regular June statutory meeting, according to city officials.

Besides the two resolutions dealing with the senior citizens' residence, therefore, council is expected also to approve a redivision of the land at the southeast corner of Victoria avenue and de Maisonneuve boulevard, which has been cleared by Runo Developments, Continued on page 20

Announcement of the ceremony was made yesterday on behalf of the local Rotarians by their president, John W. Sancton.

Formal approval of a long-term lease of 20 years, renewable for a further 20 years, of the ground floor of Victoria Hall—to be connected and integrated with the residence—is expected to be given by city council Monday evening.

Resubdivision of the adjoining properties facing Lansdowne avenue, cleared of two houses a week ago last Saturday, also is expected Monday night, last step preparatory to issuance of the building permit.

Contract to be awarded

Subject to finalizing of some detail, it appeared likely that the contract for construction of the residence and alterations to the interior of Victoria Hall's ground floor—to house dining, kitchen, recreation and other facilities—would be awarded today according to Dr. Preston C. Staples, president of Manoir Concordia Inc.

Four offices in a Greene avenue building were forced open sometime last Thursday evening or Friday morning, ostensibly by thieves seeking petty cash. One office lost $31, another $18 and another $3.92. Nothing was reported missing from the fourth.

Fifteen years later, there's no happy ending for Westmount's hero

Roslyn School students pass the corner of Lansdowne and Westmount avenues during a noon hour last week. Fifteen years ago a bomb in the mailbox at the corner exploded, almost killing Sgt.-Maj. Walter Leja. Today, the mailbox is around the corner, on Lansdowne avenue, from its 1963 location.

By RICK KERRIGAN

For the Roslyn School students laughing and chattering their way across the intersection of Lansdowne and Westmount avenues last Wednesday, the time and place had no special significance.

The elementary school students could not remember, of course, the day 15 years ago, May 17, 1963, when a man lay near death by the curb among the rubble of a mailbox blown apart by an FLQ bomb he was attempting to dismantle.

The exploding four sticks of dynamite spread debris the length of the block and blasted a sewer lid off its moorings yet the man holding the bomb when it went off did not die.

Explosives were the specialty of the Royal Canadian Engineers' Sgt.-Maj. Walter Leja and the terrorist separatists had given him plenty of work in Westmount the spring of 1963. On Friday, May 17, some 15 bombs were left in various parts of the city. Sgt.-Maj. Leja was on the scene at most of them and did a hero's job of dismantling them and even carrying ticking devices to a place safe for detonation.

At Lansdowne and Westmount avenues, however, his luck ran out.

This story, unfortunately, is not a happy one with the hero recovering from his injuries to lead a full life.

Lay near death

He lay near death for weeks and lost his left arm. His right arm was left almost totally paralyzed and he suffered extensive brain damage, leaving him unable to speak. His 15 years since that day in Westmount have been spent almost entirely in hospital and today he remains a patient in Ste. Anne's Hospital.

Family day Saturday in Westmount Park

By NICK KASIRER

Saturday is family day in Westmount with activities and free entertainment taking place in Westmount Park all day from 9:30 am. The varied program features something for everyone and all residents are invited to bring along a picnic lunch and spend the day.

As with the first family day two years ago, the day is sponsored by the city's recreation department for all Westmounters. Many volunteers have also joined city employees to help organize the activities but the recreation department needs as many as possible and those who could help are asked to call the recreation office, 932-4293, today or tomorrow between 9 am and 4:30 pm.

The day will start at 9:30 am with a parade led by the Westmount "Twirllettes" and the Dixieland Jazz Band. This will be followed by novelty races for boys and girls age 6 to 17 and at 10:45 a performance will be given by participants in this year's gymnastics program. At 11 am the Westmount High School Band will perform and boys and girls age 3, 4 and 5 are urged to come out in costumes to take part in a masquerade competition at 11:30 am.

Awards dinner

At noon, those invited to the season's recreation department sports awards dinner, including winners and officials, will be

Ted and Mrs. Sophie Leja

LEJA . . .

The few times he has been home for a long weekend have been very difficult for everyone concerned. His wife, Sophie, admits that she couldn't cope with the situation and says the people at the hospital can care for him much better than she.

Her husband lives but, Mrs. Leja says, "That date is etched on my memory . . . the day of the accident was the day I lost my husband."

One of the most difficult aspects of his disability, she says, is that he has retained his memory of events before the accident, making his present condition more intolerable to him.

Some of the spirit of the brave man has shone through his disabilities, however. He has taken up painting and at a New Year's Eve party at Queen Mary Road Veterans' Hospital in 1972 he presented one of his works to former mayor Peter M. McEntyre, who was an alderman at the time of the accident.

Room for painting

Now, at Ste. Anne's, a special room has been set aside for him and several other patients to pursue their artistic leanings.

Most of his paintings are landscapes, says Mrs. Leja, noting, though, that on occasion the paintings "sometimes got to the dark side."

The City of Westmount continues to send flowers to Mrs. Leja and a trust fund was established by the Westmount Municipal Association after the accident. The $30,000 fund was contributed by Westmount and other Quebec citizens and was to be used for the education of Leja's son, Ted, who was 16 at the time.

He was recently married, is a student and drives a Veterans' cab, as his father did before his "callout" as an army reservist in 1956. Ted Leja now lives just outside Westmount on Bonavista avenue and occasionally drives by the corner of Westmount and Lansdowne avenues in his cab. But, he says, "It never clicks."

Mrs. Leja says she has had to accept and live with what has happened. Speaking to both at her home in Longueuil, one gets the impression that they enjoy talking about their husband and father and appreciate someone remembering.

But the talk always drifts to happy times, away from the grief. Of her feelings and reactions at the time of the accident, Mrs. Leja can only say: "I taught myself to forget, now I can't remember."

Visual Arts open house

The Visual Arts Centre, 350 Victoria avenue, will open its doors to children age 3 to 14 Saturday, allowing them to visit the studios and participate in various arts, crafts, and drama activities. The children's day program runs from 10 am to 3 pm.

For the youngest, ages 3 to 6, there will be a multi-media workshop (clay, drawing and painting) and for the older children there will be a possibility to discover various techniques such as ceramics, printing, textiles and painting. A drama teacher will also be on hand to organize children's participation in small productions.

Parents accompanying their children will have the opportunity to visit the studios as well as the shop and gallery.

Teens to meet

A general meeting of Westmount teenagers involved with the Teen Community Centre has been called for 7 pm Wednesday at the Westmount YMCA, 4585 Sherbrooke street west. The summer program will be outlined at the meeting.

profit corporation controlled by Rotary with City of Westmount and community input which is to own and operate the complex, designed to meet part of a large need for suitable housing in Westmount for older citizens. Name of the residence has not been decided but it will not necessarily be Manoir Concordia.

The undertaking is expected to cost approximately $4.7 millions, being financed by private donations. A substantial amount of this sum already has been subscribed and an on-going fund-raising effort is being sustained by a committee chaired by Robert E. J. Layton, a past president of the club under whom the concept for the residence was first formulated.

Current estimates of construction time place opening of the residence sometime early next spring.

We Say

Thank you, Mr. Trudeau

WE don't share the "sympathy" expressed in some quarters for the candidates of various parties and their political organizations resulting from Prime Minister Trudeau's announcement that a federal general election may not take place until the autumn or even next spring.

He has, in fact, done the country a service.

In the first place, the speculation about a spring or early-summer polling was not his; it was the guesswork and failed punditry of others. Admittedly, he did little to stem the speculation. But that is a prime minister's privilege, part of the jockeying which is quite admissible as a government's term nears its end.

The benefit bestowed is that countless constituency organizations were forced by prudence to get on with selection of candidates.

St. Henri-Westmount, for instance, now has its two principal contenders in the field, duly selected by nomination conventions of the Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties.

It is a long time since this riding, and many another, knew so well ahead who would be seeking a seat in Parliament. This is far healthier than the last minute scramble characteristic of this crucial step in our participatory democratic system.

We say this despite the possible complications arising from the local by-election already called for next October in the old Westmount division. If the general vote is not called before then, the respective parties are going to have to regularize the choices made for the new constituency with its different boundaries. That, however, should not be insuperable.

We meanwhile hope that Messrs. Johnston and Finestone will take advantage of this long lead time to act like candidates in the running, whenever the balloting. They should make themselves highly visible, speak at any opportunity, make their views known and give the electorate every opportunity to assess them.

Eliminate corporate tax

A royal commission has recommended what most businessmen and many economists would applaud but some commentators have called impracticable and wishful thinking.

It is the elimination of the corporate income tax.

This proposal, among other good ones of the commission, makes eminent good sense.

However, we seem to have been brainwashed as a free-enterprise people into the propagated belief of the socialists that corporations are of themselves individual people. They have been invested with misleading terminology such as "corporate citizens" and even "corporate welfare bums."

Such ideas only obscure the fact that companies comprise the well-spring of the capitalist system from which, in our society, all else in the economy comes—including the enormous revenues of government for social purposes.

Economic health of the nation, all government tinkering notwithstanding, stems from corporate health. Permit corporations to flourish, accumulate capital, develop, grow, employ and prosper. Tax them and you diminish them. Tax them heavily and you curb and even destroy them.

There are ample provisions in the personal income tax to lift excess earnings of the individuals tempted to overdraw in salaries and dividends from corporations.

The ordinary people and the extraordinary people known as the unemployed would benefit from radical corporation tax reform: its elimination.

The real engines of the nation's wealth are the people who work.

Well done, Mr. Springate

MR. GEORGE Springate, the MNA for Westmount, deserves all the plaudits he has received for his organization of "A Day to Remember" for senior citizens in Victoria Hall last week.

Those who participated—they were the ones who mattered—were clearly pleased, and grateful.

It was a thoroughly imaginative undertaking. It is clear that it wouldn't have taken place without Mr. Springate's maverick imagination and drive, which drove others to make their significant contributions.

Even the cynical have not dared call this a vote-getting stunt. His political

You Say

'Thank you' extended to George Springate

Sirs: Will you kindly publish the following letter of thanks to Mr. George Springate.

"What a Day to Remember!" is the right title for the glorious event put on courtesy of George Springate. It was something I shall always remember. And to think it was specially for us senior citizens!

Victoria Hall was buzzing excitement the whole day. Mr. Springate had lined up so many "top men" in their field, such as Dr. Hans Selye speaking on stress; another room giving and exhibiting physical fitness for seniors; Royal Bank manager speaking on banking, giving valuable advice; another giving advice on the making of wills, etc.; Mr. Gordon Sinclair against "forced retirement," etc., and Mr. Pol Martin and Mr. Don McGowan on cooking.

We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Claude Ryan, who surprised me; he is really a fluent speaker. Mr. Springate has always been my favorite; he is a fearless speaker and unfortunately we do not have many of them around. A delicious lunch was supplied by McDonald's. A fashion show put on by Eaton's. Mr. Roger Doucet singing. I could go on and on. Suffice to say it was simply wonderful.

But the biggest surprise was at the end when we all received a shopping bag full of "goodies" supplied by different companies. What a lot of hard work this must have been.

To Mr. Springate and all of his "elves" are extended thanks on behalf of us senior citizens for "A Day to Remember."

Don Johnston seen as by-election candidate

Sir: It now appears that the federal electors residing in Westmount went through an exercise as to both Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties to select an official candidate for the new St. Henri-Westmount riding. This runs from Park avenue above Sherbrooke, includes Westmount and down into St. Henri.

Both candidates were selected for a riding that does not exist yet. With the resignation of Mr. Bud Drury to take over chairmanship of the National Capital Commission, the vacant Westmount (old boundaries) seat will likely have to be filled by an October by-election unless there is a general election at that date. New candidates must be selected, it would seem, if it is for another riding.

Don Johnston's overwhelming vic-opponents and those who are not enamored of his flamboyant style do not deny Mr. Springate's energy and devotion to his constituents, in this case those of later years. We add a hearty "Well done!"

Not even good bigots

THE boors in Toronto who booed the French words of O Canada probably had no particular reverence for the English version, either.

We'll bet they were the ones munching their hotdogs, swilling their pop, chattering to each other, had their hands in their pockets, were slouching.

Some, it is likely, were not even singing during the rendition.

If they knew the national anthem, in either language, they would have an inkling of what Canada means.

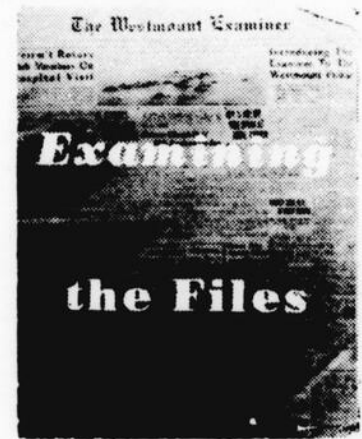

These people cannot even be dignified with the designation of bigots. They obviously believe in nothing to be bigoted about.

tory, in that super-organized campaign to capture the nomination for the new riding in the expected general election, would provide the indications he can do it again. Dale Thomson and Mark Feifer are very capable and dedicated men who were defeated by a combination of forces and it is not likely they will seek the nomination again, if it is necessary.

What is most important is for the Liberal Party members to remain enthusiastic, energetic and determined to contribute our best efforts toward unity through Canada from Atlantic to Pacific.

"Several schools celebrated Empire Day last Friday prior to the weekend holiday. 'Queen's' had an assembly at which suitable hymns and prayers were given and some verses from the New Testament read. The principal, R. N. Bagnell, gave a talk to the students on 'Recent trends in Empire development' and there was the ceremony of saluting the flag, after which the whole school marched out to the strains of 'Land of hope and glory.' Mr. Bagnell said that the students seemed to 'sense' the spirit of the assembly and as one body responded, joining in singing and prayers with great feeling."

All members were ordered into a 24-hour alert, police patrols were increased throughout the city and constables on the beat were reinforced. Almost all members of the Westmount force now have had some experience with explosives after dealing with some 15 bombs on Friday."

A university woman

By JOAN CAPREOL

WOMEN university students today are much more sophisticated, more independent and have a much wider choice of studies and careers than in her generation.

That's the word from Mrs. Ruth McLean, the newly-elected president of the University Women's Club of Montreal.

"Today's young women are much more freewheeling and self confident," said Mrs. McLean, a 1948 graduate of Victoria College, University of Toronto. "I was at university during the war years. We came from a very different background, both socially and economically. We came from a sheltered circle and did not have the same living experiences. We hadn't travelled and we more or less stayed in our own milieu.

"Today's recent graduates are not joiners of women's clubs. They are more interested in careers or taking extra academic courses."

Mrs. McLean is an attractive, thoughtful woman, five-foot-one, sandy-haired and blue-eyed. She is an excellent speaker who incidentally won the public speaking award during her last year in high school. She does things quietly, efficiently, discreetly.

The only qualification to join the University Women's Club is the holding of a degree from an accredited university or college. The Montreal Club shares the premises of the Men's University Club at 2047 Mansfield street.

Mrs. McLean said there are 216 members in her club; more than 11,000 in the Canadian Federation of University Women. The International Federation has 225,000 members from 54 countries in Asia, Africa, Europe, North and South America, Australia and New Zealand. "I have entertained IFUW visitors from Israel, France, Switzerland and England," Mrs. McLean said.

René's visit to New York

René Lévesque returned to New York City last week for his second well-publicized visit to that city in his 18 months of office.

He made no public and televised speeches this time. Rather, he met with groups privately, attended supposedly confidential meetings with the editors of Time and Newsweek and then held a press conference when his 30-hour tour was completed.

From all accounts, his story remained the same as that of his first visit . . . Quebec will become independent, Quebec has the economic ability and strength to go it alone and, yes, the separatists will win the referendum. For the first time, however, Premier Lévesque told an audience that the referendum ballot will contain two questions. Only he knows the wording of the questions.

The Parti Québécois have stepped up their propaganda of late; Lévesque in New York, Economic Development Minister Landry visiting the southern United States and Finance Minister Parizeau addressing finance seminars. Both Landry and Parizeau repeated the Quebec can go it alone line last week. Parizeau then continued with his claim that if, after independence, a common currency cannot be worked out with Canada, then Quebec will establish its own Québécois currency.

And with that statement, our Canadian dollar fell to below 90 cents American. It had been climbing, not spectacularly but steadily, in the past two weeks. The PQ cannot be blamed for the complete fall of the Canadian dollar on the money market. But, let us not forget that on days prior to the Nov. 15, 1976, Parti Québécois election win, our dollar sold at $1.03 American.

More importantly, where is all the good government the PQ promised in their election program? Every time Parizeau talks of Quebec currency our dollar falls. In opposition, the PQ always blamed Robert Bourassa and the provincial government for unemployment in Quebec. Now that they are in power and the jobless rate stands at 352,000 in Quebec, a record high, Premier Lévesque and his cohorts place all the blame on the Federal government and the English. When people leave this province the separatists yell good riddance. They call businessmen bastards.

In a misguided attempt to help the worker they raise the minimum wage every six months, regardless of the consequence. Today the minimum wage stands at $3.27 an hour, the highest rate in North America. It will be increased once again on July 1 of this year and again on Jan. 1 of next. Quebec now pays more to borrow money. Our debt climbs higher and higher.

Was René Lévesque satisfied with his quickie-trip to New York? He claims he was. I am not convinced of that, however. An editorial in a New York daily stated that American businessmen could again look at Quebec with confidence as separation seemed remote. Those are words René did not count on.

WESTMOUNT WANDERINGS

The mail drop that you received Thursday last was sent from the National Assembly offices to the post office on May 4, 1978. Delivery was scheduled for one week later. Somewhere along the line a slip-up occurred and, therefore, the late delivery by the post office. . . . Thanks to everyone who has called or written to express words of appreciation for the seniors' "A Day to Remember." I personally deeply appreciated the surprise birthday gift and singing of happy birthday that Al Fisher and the Golden Agers arranged. . . . As you know, I put all monies I receive from television and radio appearances, speeches and newspaper columns into a scholarship fund. Over the past nine years more than 146 young men and women have benefitted by receiving scholarships to assist them in continuing their education. A number of these scholarships have been established in perpetuity in Quebec colleges. I have set aside six scholarships for students who reside within or attend an educational institution erected within the provincial riding of Westmount boundaries. Two will be for elementary students, two for high-schoolers and two for students attending a college, university, or other institution of higher learning. More on this next week. . . . Hope that you all enjoy yourselves on Saturday in Westmount Park.

have members from Beirut, Calcutta, Caen and, of course, all Canadian and many American universities," said Mrs. McLean. "We have lots from Columbia, Oxford and Glasgow universities. We have members from all professions. There are nurses, teachers, social workers, pharmacists, lawyers, economists, all kinds of doctors, etc."

Among her prominent women in the Montreal club are Miss Elizabeth Monk, QC, and Dr. Jessie Boyd Scriver, a Westmount resident. They were among the first women graduates from McGill in law and medicine, respectively. Others are Miss Margery Trenholme, chief librarian at the Fraser Hickson library; Maître Anne Marie Trahan, the first woman and North American to be elected president of the International Association of Young Lawyers, and Miss Eileen Flanagan, former head nurse at the Montreal Neurological Institute who worked with the late Dr. Wilder Penfield and was a recipient of the Queen's Silver Jubilee Medal. "Miss Flanagan is extremely active and is on the board with me," said Mrs. McLean.

The one honorary member is Her Excellency Madam Jules Léger, CC, wife of the governor-general.

Mrs. McLean said there were a number of French-speaking women in her club.

She will be the voting delegate from the Montreal club to the CFUW council meeting in Halifax, June 15-18. The CFUW is celebrating its 60th anniversary in Quebec City in 1979.

Mrs. McLean was president of the auxiliary of the Douglas Hospital from 1973-75. She served on the hospital's board of management for three years and is a life governor. She has just finished two years in English public relations for the Association of Hospital Auxiliaries of the Province of Quebec.

Mrs. McLean, the former Ruth Hut-cheson, was born in Malton, Ont. The first school she attended had two rooms, one with double desks, in Mount Albert. Her elementary and secondary schooling was in Shelburne, Ont.

At university, Mrs. McLean studied modern languages and literature, specializing in English and French and graduating with honors.

Among her interesting classmates were Judy La Marsh, Don Harron, Senator Keith Davey, Douglas Fisher, Norman Jewison, the Hollywood film director, and broadcaster Douglas Maxwell. "Out of my class a greater number than usual went into politics or show business," Mrs. McLean remarked.

At the university she was chairman of the Women's Athletic Association and won her senior "T" athletic award for playing centre on the inter-collegiate women's hockey team.

Her father, a minister, married Ruth and Les McLean, an engineer from the University of Toronto, in Shelburne in June 1948, two weeks after Ruth graduated. The couple have lived in Toronto, Hamilton, Burlington, Saint John and, for the past 10 years, at 126 Arlington avenue, Westmount.

Mr. McLean is controller of the Federal Business Development Bank, a crown corporation.

The McLeans have two sons. Robert works for the Sperry Univac Company in Fredericton. Sandy is a professional diver living in Toronto, who for some years was the lighting and sound man for the April Wine group. There is one grandson, two-year-old Trevor.

Mrs. McLean is a voracious reader with catholic taste who probably uses the Westmount Public Library more than anyone else, taking five books out at a time and devouring them in no time flat. For recreation she also listens to music and plays the piano.

Medium-priced homes sell but average dips

Medium-priced residential properties in Westmount seemed to be selling well in April, according to the month's registries of real estate transfers, as some 28 one- and two-family dwellings changed hands for an average price of $76,121, the lowest monthly average this year.

Despite the very low average price, markups of sale prices over Montreal Urban Community tax valuations were quite strong, averaging 17.8 percent. This indicates buyers were willing to pay good prices for mid-range homes in Westmount, though they simply were not willing to purchase the several higher-priced properties on the market in this city.

A check with current realty listings shows that the glut of homes on the market is clearing up very quickly and that markups could move even higher during the summer months. With some exceptions, the higher-priced Westmount properties either are not selling or are not coming on the market, while those for which asking prices are lower — say, below $90,000 — are being snapped up in a matter of weeks.

Twenty-one priced residential transfers for which details are available had a total sale price of $1,401,400, or a mere $66,733 average price tag, for buildings with a total valuation of $1,260,050. Sale of seven other single-family dwellings in the month brought the total sale price up to $2,131,400 and the average to $76,121 for property with a tax worth of $1,809,950.

Among these, the highest published price was $125,000

164 Metcalfe
lowest price, $39,500

paid out for a greystone, single-family home at 807 Upper Belmont avenue, and only four properties sold for more than $80,000.

Of seven which sold for less than MUC valuation, only one — a duplex at 330-32 Olivier avenue — went for more than 10 percent less, and that was a 17.7 percent markdown. Others had markups as high as 43.6 percent, recorded in the sale of the row-house at 476 Grosvenor avenue.

Non-residential transfers, which had been strong in March, seemed to tail off last month, though highlights included the sale of the 44-46 Academy road-12 Park Place

In the non-residential category, besides the apartment and office buildings, three buildings classed as residences were purchased by corporations, including the lowest-priced sale of the month, $39,500 paid for 164 Metcalfe avenue, where renovations now are being carried out to convert it for office use. Pricing details are unavailable in the case of two others which must be considered non-residential.

Market still uneasy

The average markup of 17.8 percent, when compared with averages of 2.3 percent in January, 10.5 percent in February and 3.8 percent in March (all against the 1978 MUC valuation roll) indicates that the Westmount market is somewhat uneasy at the moment, still shuddering from the heavy drop in prices and markups experienced last year.

The low average price is normal for April registrations, and readers can expect to see significant improvement when May transfers become available.

For the record, the average sale price of Westmount's one- and two-family dwellings during the first four months of 1978 is $80,707, slightly lower than the $82,113 average for all of last year but better than the $76,913 average for the last six months of 1977.

Graduation ceremonies Thursday:

Liz Harper, Germain Villeneuve get Westmount High honors

Liz Harper became the first recipient of the Elleene Markell Memorial Scholarship at the Westmount High School graduation ceremonies last Thursday evening.

The scholarship, given for outstanding contribution to the life of the school, is in memory of the late Elleene Markell, a vice-principal at Westmount High who died earlier this year.

The winner is chosen by the teachers of the school and Miss Harper was presented the award by school council chairman Anne Peacock.

Miss Harper also won the Girls' Award of Honor presented by the Westmount High School Alumnae. She was chosen by fellow graduates in a secret ballot on the basis of scholarship, sportsmanship and service to her fellow students.

The Boys' Award of Honor, presented by the Westmount High School Old Boys, went to Germain Villeneuve, also chosen by his fellow graduates.

Music by band

This year's invocation and benediction was given by Rabbi Wilfred Shuchat of Congregation Shaar Hashomayim and the Westmount High School Concert Band provided a touch of entertainment with renditions of Cacavas' overture from "The Courts of Henry VIII," a Gershwin medley, the theme from "Rocky" and the "Coronation March."

A confidant Colin McGregor gave the valedictory address to friends, parents and fellow graduates.

Other scholarships presented

DOUBLE WINNER: Liz Harper, centre, won both the Girls' Award of Honor and the first Elleene Markell Scholarship at Westmount High graduation ceremonies Thursday evening. She is being congratulated by Principal Al Gamble and teacher Ann Peacock, who presented her with the scholarship.

Viktor Bulik exhibits here

A mixture of realistic and modern paintings by Viktor Bulik form an exhibition at the Westmount Public Library. The show continues until Saturday.

Mr. Bulik was born in Poland and studied mechanical engineering at Warsaw University before coming to Canada nine years ago because of political unrest.

He has been painting for the past 10 years, pursuing what he says is an obsession for expression through fine arts.

IF YOU DON'T HAVE 10 INCHES* OF INSULATION IN YOUR ATTIC, YOU'RE LOSING HEAT AND WASTING MONEY.

If your home is like 90% of Canadian homes, it's not properly insulated. This chart gives you an idea of how much you could save by bringing your home from the average level of insulation up to today's recommended standards. Of course, as energy costs go up, so will these savings.

	Oil Heat	Gas Heat	Electric Heat
ST. JOHN'S	$209	N/A	$296
FREDERICTON	$204	N/A	$215
MONTREAL	$195	$176	$202
TORONTO	$159	$115	$242
WINNIPEG	$237	$162	$320
REGINA	N/A	$130	$390
EDMONTON	$228	$140	N/A
VANCOUVER	$130	$120	$199

These savings are based on a typical 2-storey pre-war home of 1,100 square feet.

*Based on insulation material with R-3 value per inch (2.54 cm).

NOW HOMES BUILT BEFORE 1946 ARE ELIGIBLE FOR A HOME INSULATION
GRANT OF UP TO $350.

If your home was built before 1946, is your principal residence, and is three storeys or less, you're eligible for a taxable grant of 2/3 of the cost of your insulation materials, up to a maximum of $350 (retroactive to materials purchased on or after September 1, 1977).

For FREE and complete information about how to insulate your home and how to apply for a grant, send in the coupon below.

Raffle draw at meeting of chapter

The Montreal Chapter of the Canadian Foundation for Ileitis and Colitis will meet Tuesday, May 30, at 8 pm in the amphitheatre of the Montreal Children's Hospital.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Dr. Ross Charles deBelle, director of gastroenterology at the hospital and associate professor of pediatrics at McGill University's faculty of medicine.

The drawing of prize winners in the chapter's raffle will also be held at the meeting. The raffle is the new local chapter's first fund-raising effort and money raised will go toward research into ileitis and colitis, the general names given to a series of severe inflammatory diseases of the small and large intestine. Most forms of these diseases are at present incurable.

Further information about the Montreal chapter is available from Ms. Ruth Eliesen, 487-6064, or Rosaline Phillips, 481-9648.

House plants interest of new group

The first public meeting of a new local organization, the House Plant Society of Montreal, will be held Wednesday evening, May 31, at 7:30 in the auditorium of the Atwater Library.

Speaker at the meeting will be "The plant doctor," Randy Pugh. The public is welcome and admission is free. Membership forms will be available.

The society is being formed by a group of Montreal residents who in April held a plant clinic in a shopping centre and elicited a good response. They anticipate much success because, they point out, there are many horticultural societies in Montreal and area but none for those interested in house plants.

The society will attempt to increase understanding of the importance of container-grown plants to our lives, to arouse appreciation of their variety and complexity and to give members practical advice on how to grow them.

They plan to sponsor lectures, seminars, discussion groups and field trips and to establish an information resource centre on plants. They also hope to help members obtain supplies and plants.

Annual meeting

The annual general meeting and a special general meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Montreal will be held at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel on Wednesday, May 31, at 7:30 pm.

Your Heart Fund is the number one defence against heart disease, Canada's number one health enemy.

BLANKETS PRESENTED: Mrs. M. Bourke, centre, 18 Thornhill avenue, accepts a token gift of baby blankets from the Zonta Club of Montreal, represented by Jeannette M. Cayford, left, coordinator of Zonta's "Project baby blanket" and club President Joan Heels. The Zonta Club of Montreal is a service organization of executive women in business and the professions who responded with over 400 baby blankets when Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova, executive director of the Unitarian Service Committee, was on a drive to raise 100,000 baby blankets to send to refugee camps in Bangladesh, Nepal and Lesotho.

Beyond Westmount's Borders

A random sampler of things to see or do

in the bigger city surrounding us

By RICK KERRIGAN

You'll get a real charge out of visiting one of Hydro-Québec's power plants this summer. On the other hand, you might not give a dam. Eight plants are open to the public including Beauharnois, Carillon and Rivière-des-Prairies not far from Montreal. The others are La Tuque, Manics, Two, Three and Five and Gently Two. Hydro-Québec says they hope to use such visits to inform the public about electricity and energy in general and to acquaint them with different parts of the province. They will probably also dispense a healthy dose of propaganda about how nuclear energy is the hope of the future. Trained guides will take you around the sites. Groups of 10 or more should advise the public relations department of the region they are visiting. For more information on these visits call 381-4611, ext. 693, or write to Hydro-Québec, Visites Industrielles, Service relations publiques, 201 Jarry street west, P.O. Box 6072, Montreal H3C 3G3, and they'll send you a descriptive leaflet on the program.

The paintings of A. Leimanis will be at Atelier Lukacs, 1430 Sherbrooke street west, until June 11. The artist concentrates mostly on Montreal scenes in his work, from downtown to Old Montreal to Mount Royal and in all seasons. His work depicts the juxtaposition of old and new with details "which give a city its personality and that you had never noticed before." His painting is described as "an alliance of romantic impressionism and precision of the details."

Le Centre d'Art Mont Royal will be exhibiting the works of Montreal student sculptor Beatrice Mikelberg today until June 18. This is her first exhibit and it is being publicized by the Saidye Bronfman Centre where she studied under Stanley Lewis and Maya Fisher, two Montreal sculptors. She works with hand tools in alabaster and soapstone.

This seems to be the time of year when all students are showing their stuff, whether through exams or in demonstrations as the students of the Saidye Bronfman Centre jazz ballet classes will be doing Saturday, 9:30 pm, and Sunday, 1:30 and 7:30 pm. Special guests The Louise Lapierre Dance Company will perform with the 35 or so most advanced students in the program. Performances are at 5170 Côte Ste. Catherine and tickets, at $2.50 each ($1.25 for students and senior citizens) are available at the box office or by phoning 739-7944.

The first in a series of plays intended to showcase the work of playwrights will be presented by the Playwrights' Workshop May 31 to June 4. The play is called "Wintersong" and was written by Carol Libman. She has written for television and radio, is one of the founders of the Playwrights' Workshop and is director of public relations at the Saidye Bronfman Centre. The play will be directed and acted by professionals and will be at the National Theatre School, 5030 St. Denis street. Tickets are $2.00 ($1.00 for students and senior citizens) and are available at the door or by calling 739-7944.

Harold Pinter's "Old Times" will be the first production of a new company called Images. Director Elizabeth McElcheran and the actors involved are all former students of the theatre arts department of Concordia University. Considering the number of English actors in the city and the jobs available, banding together and starting your own company would appear to be a good alternative to starving. Why not support this group's first venture sometime between now and Sunday at the Chameleon Theatre on the Loyola campus of Concordia? Tickets are $2.00 ($1.00 for students and senior citizens) and may be reserved by phoning 482-0789 between 1:00 and 8:30 pm.

And speaking of supporting theatre companies, the Group of Four Theatre is holding a book sale at the Centaur Theatre Saturday, 10:00 am to 5:00 pm. Along with the books and refreshments there will be readings from the group's coming production of "Romeo and Juliet" and an information booth. The theatre is at 453 St. François-Xavier.

The obedience trials of the Mountain City Obedience Club will be held

The Westmount Examiner, Thursday, May 25, 1978 - 11

Saturday and Sunday at the LaSalle Arena, 8681 Champlain boulevard, 10:00 am each day. These are the largest indoor trials in Canada and some of the best dogs and handlers will be there. Admission is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

SHOPPING with CATHERINE SINCLAIR

J. Harrop and Company combines so well both ancient and contemporary artifacts, those pieces that complete the decor of any room. They have just received a shipment of batiks from Indonesia. ## Sen. Lazarus Phillips among honored at convocation Sunday

Senator Lazarus Phillips, OBE, QC, LL.D., 43 Belvedere place, will receive the honorary degree of doctor of laws from the Jewish Theological Seminary of America at an academic convocation to be held at Congregation Shaar Hashomayim Sunday at 2:30 pm. The degree will be conferred by Seminary Chancellor Gerson D. Cohen.

Other members of the local Jewish community will be honored at the convocation. Two Westmounters, Ben Beutel, 3033 Sherbrooke street west, and Mildred Queene Bronfman Lande, 4333 Westmount avenue, will receive seminary medals for unusual achievement.

The seminary's community service award, in recognition of their contributions to the life and welfare of Canadian Jewry, will be presented to Messrs. Moses Deitcher, Emanuel Epstein, Michael Greenberg, Cecil Pascal and Sam Reitman.

An acknowledged leader in the fields of law, finance, commerce, art, religion and politics, Sen. Phillips is an active member of Congregation Shaar Hashomayim and honorary president of the Jewish Theological Society of Canada. He is one of the co-founders of the Canadian Tax Foundation and was named to the Senate in 1968.

He will be cited as one who has "cultivated and encouraged all aspects of the spiritual life."

Community leader and clothing manufacturer Ben Beutel will be cited for his distinguished service to Jewish education. He has served the United Talmud Torahs of Montreal for almost half a century.

Mrs. Lande will receive the seminary medal for distinguished services to Canadian Jewry. She has served virtually every Jewish philanthropic and educational agency in Montreal as well as many community-wide civic and cultural activities and many national and international organizations.

The recipients of the community service awards will be commended for distinctive and continuing service to the community at large, for devotion to Judaism and a commitment to widening its influence for the good of all people.

Local members

Messrs. Greenberg, Pascal and Reitman are members of Congregation Shaar Hashomayim. A native of Romania, Mr. Greenberg came to Canada as a child and founded Greenberg Stores Limited, of which he is president. He has been active in communal and Jewish philanthropies.

Mr. Pascal is a board member of the Solomon Schechter Hebrew School, vice-president of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies and is active in the United Jewish Appeal and the YM-YWHA.

Mr. Reitman is chairman of the board of Reitman's (Canada) Limited and is a director of the Jewish General Hospital, Allied Jewish Community Services and Maimonides Hospital and Home for the Aged.

Until business commitments caused him to leave Canada in 1970, Mr. Deitcher, now a resident of Freeport, Bahamas, was active in various community efforts and served on the board of the United Talmud Torahs.

A native of Chicago, Mr. Epstein is a past president of Shaare Zion Congregation. He is a vice president of the United Synagogues of America and president of its eastern Canada region.

Marriage, divorce reasons topic at St. Andrew's

Marriage in contemporary society and the reasons for the current divorce rate will be discussed this Sunday at St. Andrew's Church. The title of the sermon by Dr. E. A. Kirker is taken from Ingmar Bergman's now-famous film series "Scenes from a marriage."

A children's program continues each Sunday in place of church school classes which have ended for the season.

Women in the Côte St. Antoine road congregation have been invited to a "show and tell" tea next Tuesday at 2:00 pm. Members with special interest in knitted or crocheted work, needlepoint, painting, collecting, and other creative skills are asked to display these and describe the techniques involved.

"I am writing on behalf of a very happy community at Buduta in western Kenya," the African nation's assistant minister of housing and social services said in a recent letter to Mrs. D. W. Sutherland of St. Andrew's. The Hon. Dr. Julia Ojiambo wrote to express thanks for a gift of $1,335 sent by the women of the church to assist in building the first health centre in the western Kenya village. This gift was in response to a need discovered by Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Robb

Dominion-Douglas topic is parable about banquet

"The wedding banquet" will be the sermon subject at the 11 am service at Dominion-Douglas Church this Sunday. Dr. Phyllis Smyth will examine the subtle implications of the well-known parable of the reluctant guests and the feast they missed.

Appropriate music by the choir of the "church on the hill" will include "Father we praise thee" from the Rouen 'Antiphoner' 1728, "Kyrie Eleison" by Michael Praetorius and "Non nobis, Domine" by William Byrd. Hymn tunes played on the chimes from 10:45 am will begin this week with "St. Osmund," No. 324.

during a recent three-month stay in the African country.

Three members of the local congregation, Isabel Sherman, C. E. Hargreaves and W. M. Redmond, leave Sunday to attend the annual sessions of the Montreal-Ottawa Conference of the United Church at Bishop's University in Lennoxville.

The organ prelude will be "Fugue on the Kyrie" by François Couperin, and the postlude will be "Trumpet voluntary" by John Stanley.

This afternoon the mothers' study group meets in Goodwin Parlor at 1:30. Tonight at 7 o'clock the confirmation class meets with Jim Stewart, the intern minister. The Outreach committee meets at 8 pm.

On Sunday at 5:30 pm the annual meeting of Montreal/Ottawa conference begins at Bishop's University in Lennoxville. Dominion-Douglas is sending four delegates and Dr. Smyth. Conference continues until Wednesday.

The congregational picnic will be held Saturday, June 10, at St. Helen's Island and those attending are asked to bring their own picnic lunch. Races start at 1:30 pm. Those needing transportation may call Sally Stephenson, organizer of the picnic, at 937-4464.

Mackay Center centennial next week

The Mackay Center for Deaf and Crippled Children, which has served many Westmounters over the years, will celebrate its 100th birthday next Thursday and Friday.

The center is planning special events both days. Thursday, June 1, will be an open house day, starting at 2 pm, followed at 7 pm by the annual fashion show in which students will model garments they have made. Some of the outfits will have an 1870s flavor.

Activities next Friday include the official unveiling of the centennial drawing made by a Mackay Center artist and the première showing of a videotape presentation on the activities of the center. A centennial cake will be cut at a party following.

The center began 100 years ago when Joseph Mackay donated the land and a building which stood on the site where the present center is located, for the education of deaf and blind children. The original building was demolished in the early 1960s and replaced with the present modern structure. Since that time the center has served both deaf and crippled children.

The public is invited to all the celebrations at the center, 3500 Decarie boulevard.

A New World for Growing Minds

A child's imagination never stops creating with music, and your child has fun while learning, too. Your children can learn to play flute, oboe, clarinet, saxophone, trumpet, French horn, trombone, baritone, drums, guitar, violin, cello, and piano, or sing or write music. What they learn will stay with them for a lifetime.

For more information, call the McGill Conservatory of Music, 392-4552.

Five national medals for diving Fullers

Debbie and Wendy Fuller, 35 Aberdeen avenue, came home with five medals from the Canadian National Diving Championships in Winnipeg last weekend.

Debbie won a gold medal off the tower, scoring a record 151 points on four dives, the highest point total ever achieved by an 11- or 12-year-old diver. Wendy was close behind in the same age category, taking the silver.

In three-metre board competition, Wendy won the silver medal and Debbie the bronze; they were edged out by Robin Whitmyer of Winnipeg. Wendy also took a bronze medal in one-metre board competition, running third to Cathy Kellerman of Burlington, Ont., and Louise Marcoux of Montreal.

The two Westmount girls did so well, in fact, that they have been chosen, along with Cathy Kellerman and Robin Whitmyer, as Canada's representatives in their age category at the Can-Am-Mex games to be held in September. Both girls also have achieved "senior standards" and will be working out with Canada's national team headed for the Commonwealth Games in Winnipeg, gaining experience alongside Canada's top divers.

Debbie, now 11, took the gold on Monday with a superb collection of dives, including a reverse dive pike, an inward 1½ pike, a 2½ pike and an inward 2½ tuck. The pressure was on her to make the grade on Monday after her third-place showing on Sunday and failure even to make the final cut on the one-metre board on Saturday (though she had beaten Cathy Kellerman off the one-metre board a few weeks earlier).

"I always feel nervous," she said, shrugging off the added pressure she must have felt. "The pressure's always there."

The Fullers were among seven divers from the Pointe Claire swim club competing in their age category, diving among 30 chosen for the national tourney. Their efforts gave Pointe Claire an easy first in the 11-12-year-old category and helped lead the club to an overall team championship at the national meet.

Brad Desaulniers wins juvenile squash title

Brad Desaulniers, 357 Kensington avenue, won the Canadian juvenile squash championship (softball) in Mississauga last weekend, climbing to the top of a field of 32 players age 16-and-under from across Canada.

The 16-year-old is younger brother of Mike Desaulniers, who has been named top amateur in North America, having taken the United States and intercollegiate championships as well as the Canadian hardball title. Mike did not compete in last weekend's tournament since he was studying for exams at Harvard University.

Another brother, Greg, 17, placed tenth of 32 players in the under-19 category at Mississauga, while Chris Sinclair, 328 Roslyn avenue, placed seventh in that category.

Brad has also held his own previously in Canadian tournaments in the "70-plus" category, playing with a ball deemed somewhere between the traditional North American hardball and the European softball. This year he was beaten in the finals by a player from Mexico.

Next year, once Brad becomes 17, he will be competing head-to-head with his brother.

Hospitals acclaim, agencies to elect board members

All of the major hospitals serving the Westmount population have had user-representatives acclaimed to their board of directors, but both the Ville Marie Social Service Centre and Jewish Family Services social service centre are planning elections for Sunday.

At each social service centre three candidates are running for two positions designated for user-representatives under the Bill 65 rearrangement of hospital and social service boards. Mrs. June Arsenault, Mrs. Joy Duff and Mrs. Mary Wildman Guadagnola will square off for the two posts at Ville Marie, while Joseph Levy, Leah Simkin and Ruth Streekmeester are running for the two positions at JFS.

All are seeking their first terms on the respective boards, though Mrs. Arsenault and Mrs. Guadagnola have been on the "consumers' council" of Ville Marie.

The Ville Marie elections will take place from noon to 5 pm on Sunday at three different locations, including Weredale House, 6 Weredale Park, and locations in Verdun and Pointe Claire. JFS voting will go from 9 am to 1 pm at the Jewish Family Services building, 5151 Côte St. Catherine road in Montreal. Any person or parent of young persons, who has used the agencies' services in the past two years is eligible to vote.

Kit kaboodled

A first-aid kit worth $25 was removed from the front seat of a Triumph TR-6 sometime Sunday, somewhere in Westmount. The driver of the car, in reporting the theft on Monday, told police he had stopped in numerous locations during the day, then later discovered that the box had been stolen.

Three Westmounters are among the 10 representatives chosen to hospital boards, including both James Wright, 3164 The Boulevard, and Mrs. H. M. S. Ferguson, 631 Belmont avenue, for the Montreal General Hospital, and Mrs. Patrick Henderson, 48 Delavigne road, for the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Other acclaimed user-representatives include, for the Montreal Children's Hospital, Mrs. Inge Slater and Rev. D. F. Thompson, both of Montreal; for the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, T. R. Marien and S. Senecal-Tremblay, both of Town of Mount Royal; for the Reddy Memorial Hospital, Mrs. H. Levine of 4651 Victoria avenue, just outside Westmount, and N. Grossbaum of Hampstead; for the Royal Victoria Hospital, besides Mrs. Henderson, Monty Berger of Town of Mount Royal.

The Examiner also has learned that various Westmounters have been named by the various corporations to sit on the hospital and social service boards. These include Brian D. Gillespie, 4000 de Maisonneuve boulevard, on the board of the Montreal Children's Hospital; Phillip T. Aspinall, 639 Grosvenor avenue, David B. S. Mackenzie, 723 Upper Roslyn avenue, and Thomas E. Price, 4449 Montrose avenue, on the board of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital; and W. D. Robb, 359 Redfern avenue, and W. I. M. Turner Jr., 4294 Montrose avenue, on the board of the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Westmount's Reddy Memorial Hospital will choose its corporation-named members of the board at its annual meeting next Tuesday.

Construction on Victoria three months

Work on Victoria avenue south of Queen Mary road in Montreal is expected to continue for about three months, Westmount officials finally have learned, so Grosvenor avenue will remain two-way from Queen Mary to The Boulevard for that entire period.

It would seem that drivers still will be able to use Victoria at least as far as Mira road for the first few weeks of work, though eventually Victoria is expected to be closed off at Sunnyside avenue, just on Westmount's northern limits.

Meanwhile, in Westmount, plans are going ahead for road work on Stanton and Stayner streets, Belvedere Circle, Douglas and Ingleside avenues and parts of Somerville, Kensington and Victoria avenues, probably starting late in June once sidewalk work on those streets has been completed.

Pending Monday's city council session, work on other streets might be planned at the same time.

COUNCIL . . .

Ltd., to allow construction of a six-storey apartment building on the site.

Another item expected on the agenda is a waiving of rights held by the city on the lane at the rear of the newly constructed Westmount Premier building, to the east of Greene avenue south of St. Catherine street, and an absolute discharge of that lane to First Quebec Corp., developers of the Westmount Premier building.

Money for streets

Council is expected to commit funds obtainable under the newly approved city loan by-law for reconstruction of streets and sidewalks and to hear the results of a call for tenders for such reconstruction. Other tenders to be reported upon include one for automotive equipment and another for purchase of street light standards and luminaires for the city light and power department.

One further item would ratify the date for the auction of bikes collected in Westmount by police and park rangers, expected to be June 20 at 7 pm.

A by-law might be read respecting a retirement plan for mayors and councillors, establishing a voluntary pension program for the elected officials. Also expected are the lists of city accounts for March and April.

Mayor Donald MacCallum can be expected to update citizens on recent activities of the Conference of Montreal Suburban Mayors, of the Montreal Urban Community, and perhaps of the Quebec Union of Municipalities.
