

EIGHTY PEOPLE GO DOWN TO SUDDEN DEATH

Three Cars Jump Track at Atlantic City and Plunge into the River—Most of the Occupants Meet a Watery Grave.

A FEARFUL RAILWAY ACCIDENT YESTERDAY

Atlantic City, October 28.—A railroad accident even worse than the Meadowbrook of July 30th, 1896, sent about eighty people to a sudden death this afternoon. The cars of the Atlantic City and Seashore railroad lines due here at 2:30 o'clock jumped the track on the trestle bridge over the thoroughfare and before any one could escape they were hurled to a watery grave. The entire city was thrown into a state of excitement as the news reached town a few minutes after it happened. Fully 5,000 people crowded the Meadows and the trestle, many relatives and friends being in despair over loved ones. Chief of Police Maxwell set a cordon of police around the place, and Chief Black, of the fire department, called out his men on an emergency call and made them act as police temporarily. Seven bodies had been recovered up to 7 o'clock to-night. A wrecking train is now trying to hoist the submerged cars from the water, where there must be fully seventy dead bodies. The accident was due to a rail "turning in." It appears that this rail, which was an outside one, must have been out of plumb about an eighth of an inch. The sharp flange of the electric train caught this rail and twisted it inward. Had it spread instead of twisting inward the accident never would have happened. This twist threw the first car off the track, and into the water. The result was that the second and third cars were dragged with it. While the third car was descending the rear portion of it struck a piece of the abutment, hung there for a short time, and then slid into the water. But this brief stop saved several lives. A number of men and a few women leaped out of windows and the rear door either into the water or caught hold of a post. It is said that fully eighty or 100 passengers were aboard, mostly in the first and second cars. These lost their lives. Among the passengers were twenty men of the Royal Artillery Band and were on their way here from Philadelphia. One or two bodies of the band men were recovered early in the afternoon.

John Taylor, of Camden, was among those who went overboard with the cars, but he kicked in a window of the rear car and swam to the piling of the bridge, where he held fast until bravely rescued by J. F. DeFord, a railroad man nearby when the accident happened. Chas. Kesler, a local merchant, was the first to arrive at the spot and displayed a cool head. He got an axe, jumped to the top of a submerged car and began to hack in the roof to liberate the imprisoned passengers. He did good work, but could not release many under the circumstances. It is believed, however, that he did get some of the women out.

T. C. Smith, of Newfield, and A. R. Kelly, of Jeffersonville, N.Y., who were passengers on the ill-fated train, got off at Pleasantville for no other reason than that something told them to change their minds about coming to Atlantic City. They heard of the accident afterwards and came over, thankful that they did change their minds. About fifteen people got off at Pleasantville, they say, not really as many more got aboard. They say fully 100 passengers were aboard, a great many women. John Gades, of this city, was on the train and escaped by crawling through a window of the rear car and swimming ashore.

The man who attends the bridge, in speaking of the accident, declared that the bridge had been open about 30 minutes before the train came along. A yacht passed through. He says that he saw that the bridge was properly closed and that the tracks had been inspected. He cannot explain why the rails spread as they did. A man is lying at the hospital named Vincent, residence unknown. His skull is fractured. He is dying. Coroner Gaskill hurried to the scene and made a minute investigation of the twisted track and the spot, and will summon a jury to-morrow to hold an inquest.

A sickening scene at the wreck was when one of the men at work on the top of a submerged car discovered a woman's jeweled hand sticking through the roof ventilator. He worked heroically to get her body out and finally succeeded in drawing it through the aperture. It has not yet been identified. J. S. DeFord, a railroad man, saw a man clinging to the trestle, crying for help, and succeeded by crawling along the edge in reaching down and pulling him up safely. He was cut and bruised and declined to give his name.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY

Reported in New York City Last Night Shot in Cab.

New York, Oct. 28.—Laura Osten, an East Orange, N.J., young woman, was shot and it is believed, mortally wounded, while riding in a cab with Louis R. Brown, in Broadway to-night. Her companion, who is 21 years old, and also a resident of East Orange, was arrested and locked up. According to the police Brown, following the shooting, attempted to kill himself, but was prevented by an officer who took a revolver from him. At the station house, where he was charged with felonious assault, Brown is alleged to have said that the two had quarreled over the woman's refusal to marry him. Brown is employed as a clerk in a brokerage office in this city. Miss Osten has been stopping recently with friends in an uptown hotel here. To-night, according to the police, she met Brown by appointment and the two dined together. Later Brown summoned a cab and the two drove up Broadway. Brown and Miss Osten are members of families prominent in East Orange.

FIRES STORM AT BUFFALO.
Buffalo, Oct. 27.—A fierce wind and rain storm prevailed here to-night. The wind reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour and continued to blow at that rate for several hours. Six yachts were torn from their moorings at the foot of Porter Avenue and cast high upon the beach. The water in the harbor, forced in from the lake by the wind, rose to the highest stage in years, being flush with the dock at the foot of Main street. All regular trips of lake passenger steamers have been cancelled for 24 hours.

SHOT IN MISTAKE FOR BURGLAR.
Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—Mistaken for a burglar to-day Clayton B. French, son of Harry B. French, member of a firm of wholesale chemists, was shot and probably fatally wounded by W. G. Audenreid at the Montgomery Inn at Brynmawr near here. Mr. French had left his key to the hotel and was endeavoring to gain an entrance through a window. The window opened into a room occupied by Audenreid and as French stepped through the opening Audenreid discharged his revolver. The bullet lodged in French's lungs, and physicians have little hope for his recovery. French, who is a Harvard graduate, is 24 years old. Mr. Audenreid is a member of a brokerage firm and is prosecuted by the unfortunate affair.

BUCKINGHAM INQUEST NOT ENDED
Ottawa, Oct. 28.—Contrary to expectations the inquest at Buckingham on the dead strikers, Belanger and Theriault, did not conclude Saturday. Adjournment was made early to allow the Montreal lawyers and coroner an opportunity of going home for Sunday. It will resume Tuesday when a verdict will be reached early. Sensational evidence was given Saturday by Jos. Mercier, a member of the Millmen's Union who swore that at a meeting of the union the proposal to fight with arms was broached. He also saw rifles stacked in and around the room. This damaging evidence rather seriously affects the moral position of the strikers at least.

Catarrh of the Stomach
A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effective Cure for It.
COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.
Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, sickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out languid feeling. There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a shiny, inflamed condition. The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared. According to Dr. Harrison, the simplest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Digestive, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety, and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals. Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but to-day I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use." Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets "is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, Catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals. Send your name and address to-day for a free trial package and see for yourself. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 128 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

WILL MAKE APPEAL

Newfoundland to Ask Support of Canada and Australia.

St. John, Nfld., Oct. 28.—The Colonial Legislature will meet early in January to consider the American fisheries difficulty. This is nearly two months prior to the usual time of assembling. The legislature will enact measures asserting the Colonial authority in such manner that the Imperial Cabinet will find it difficult to veto them. It will also appeal to Canada, Australia and South Africa to support the Colony in insisting upon its power to legislate respecting its own people. It is held that the modus vivendi violates this power.

THE BARGAIN RUED.
London, Oct. 27.—The separation of the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough is announced in the newspapers here to-day, the case constituting the greatest society sensation of years. The Duchess is Consuelo Vanderbilt, of New York.

The principals concerned maintain absolute silence, but the newspapers give most circumstantial details, stating that a deed of separation between the Duke and Duchess has been signed, on the ground of incompatibility of temper, by the provisions of which the Duchess keeps London and Bournemouth, and her own dower, but is precluded from going to Bournemouth, the family seat of the Marlborough family. The deed of separation, it is added, was signed on October 22. The Duke is now at Bournemouth and the Duchess is staying at Sandringham House.

MUST NOT MARRY DIVERGENT.
New York, Oct. 27.—At the meeting last night of the Union American Methodist Episcopal Conference, which is in session here, the committee on divorce brought in a report forbidding any pastor in the conference marrying divorced persons. The resolution was passed unanimously by the General Conference. The measure provides that any pastor in the conference who is accused of marrying divorced persons shall be tried according to the discipline of the church and if found guilty will be expelled from the organization.

The Quebec Chronicle

QUEBEC, OCTOBER 29, 1906.

A LAME EXCUSE.

The Telegraph says that the system of importing Beaufort workingmen to 'take the bread out of the mouths' of Quebecers originated with the Conservative Government. Suppose it did—does that excuse the Liberal Government for continuing it? Our confere further said that it protested against the Liberal practice. Suppose it did; did that do any good? The fact of the practice remains, and all that the Telegraph has succeeded in showing is that the Government was warned by its own friends of the injustice it was doing and yet persisted in it.

THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

Two important events occurred over the water last week, the re-assembling of the British Parliament, and the resignation of the French ministry followed by the formation of a new cabinet by M. Clemenceau, in which General Picquart, who had distinguished himself by his defence of Dreyfus, holds the position of Minister of War. The first of these promises some stirring incidents. The Government has an overwhelming majority in the House of Commons, and can afford to ignore the opinions of the Conservatives and Liberal Unionists, but its majority is a heterogeneous one, composed of Liberals, Radicals, Laborites, and Irish Nationalists, and on some important points of his policy he will be opposed by the last of these sections, and on others, by the Laborites. The extent of his voting strength in the Commons is, however, so large, that the defection of these divisions, unless it occurs simultaneously, will hardly suffice to put him in a minority; it is from the House of Lords where the Conservatives and Liberal Unionists are in control that his troubles may be expected, and conflicts of an exciting character may occur on matters of the greatest party consequence of which the result is not easy to foresee.

The two most important measures, which will be brought before Parliament during the present session are the Education Bill, and the Workmen's Compensation Bill. The former of these was passed by the Commons last session in a form extremely unsatisfactory to the Anglicans, Roman Catholics, and all who wish religious instruction to be given in the public schools. There has been a great deal of popular feeling since exhibited on the subject which may encourage the House of Lords to modify the bill to such an extent as to make it unrecognizable, and if the Government declines to accept the amendments to throw it out altogether in the hope of bringing about a dissolution and an appeal to the people. The recent decision of a court on the principal points in dispute, that the time consumed in religious instruction was not to be paid for, gives color to the contention of the Opposition that the present Education Bill is unnecessary and superfluous. The Irish members of the House of Commons are also manifesting an opposition to the bill which must have some moral effect, and, in any case the fight is likely to be a bitter one, and may produce some important results.

The other measure, which will divide the Government's supporters, and may even imperil the Government's existence, is the Workmen's Compensation Bill, which appeals to the Labor party, and more particularly to the Socialistic wing of that body. It is a tolerably extreme measure even from the point of view of the Radical section of the Liberal party, and is not very enthusiastically received by any but the Laborite extremists, but the Labor members insist on its passage by the Commons, and have not hesitated to punish the manifest reluctance of the Government by opposing the Government candidates in bye-elections during the recess, and in one or two instances, securing their defeat. It is believed that the Laborites will continue to demand the passage of the bill, coute que coute, and make such action the test of the reality of Sir Henry's loyalty to the wishes and interests of Labor.

Other questions that will engage attention are Home Rule for Ireland, the Merchants' Shipping Bill, and the Transvaal Constitution. It is asserted with confidence in some quarters that the session will not end without Ireland having obtained a substantial instalment of self-government, pledges having been given to the Irish members to this effect, and one story has it that it is to be established in substance, by enlarging the functions of an existing Irish Board or Commission. Another version has it that a bill will be introduced to set up provincial authorities with large powers, but stop short of the Parliament in Dublin on which Home Rulers insist. A third view is that a declaration of Irish policy will be made toward the end of the session, but action will be deferred till a later date, the Irish leaders affirming meanwhile that they will be content with nothing short of complete Home Rule. The Merchants'

Shipping Bill is less contentious, having for its object the removal of certain disadvantages to British ships in home ports, but the Transvaal Constitution is very unsatisfactory to the Opposition, and will be vehemently denounced as tending to restore the supremacy of the Boers in South Africa.

It will be seen that the session just opened has all the elements of a strenuous and exciting one.

THE FRENCH CABINET.

Besides the re-assembling of the British Parliament the news of last week contained another notable item of interest in the formation of a new French ministry by M. Clemenceau. This appears to be as strong as any that has ever been in power, with the possible exception of the Waldeck-Rousseau ministry which controlled France when Dreyfus was brought back from Devil's Island, and which started the movement for separation of Church and State by proposing the law of associations. It is curious that the same forces, which opposed the government then, are in activity now, and will call for as strong a cabinet as can be formed.

The appointment of General Picquart to the War Office will anger the Anti-Dreyfus clique, and a large portion of the army officers, while it is a remarkable vindication of the man who, in spite of violent opposition on the part of his fellow-officers, the condemnation of his superiors, and bitter criticism from the great mass of the French people, exposed the forgeries, and eventually forced the restoration of Dreyfus to his rank in the army. When Picquart, then a colonel, was the head of the Information Department of the War Office, he discovered that Major Esterhazy, and not Dreyfus, was the author of the celebrated bordereau. After Colonel Henry's death, when Picquart was convicted on a trumped up charge of treason, he guarded against a similar fate by declaring in court:—"I would have the people know that if there be found in my cell the rope of Picquart or the razor of Henry, I have been assassinated, for a man like myself cannot for an instant think of suicide." It is not strange that there should now be consternation in some circles of the French army, for Picquart not only knows where the weak points are to be found, and who are the dishonest and self-seeking officers, but he knows also how to deal with them, and is utterly fearless. In view of the prospective trouble over the enforcement of the separation law in December, M. Clemenceau will need the services of such a man.

The only other appointment which has special significance as regards the controversy between France and the Vatican is that of M. Briand, to be Minister of Instruction, a position which he held in the Sarrien Cabinet. By retaining M. Briand, M. Clemenceau retains practically the whole Socialist vote as Briand is committed to the strict enforcement of the separation law. Last August he was quoted as saying that the law will be applied as it stands, that there will be no negotiations behind the scenes between the French Government and the Vatican, but that the Government would take very good care to "have no martyrs." It has not yet been made plain what M. Clemenceau meant when he declared for moderation in applying the law unless the explanation is to be found in this last statement by Briand that there would be no martyrs.

PRESS OPINIONS.

THINK OF OTHERS.—This is an age of speed. In the race after success, we think we have not time to attend to the little amenities that go so far to make life enjoyable for ourselves and others. We think we have not time, but we are thinking of lightning speed, and we touch only the high spots of the argument of life.

We address our fellows by their surnames, forgetting that dignity and consideration is lent our diction by the prefix Mr. We rush along the street, jostle the weaker ones and neglect to apologize. We are after big success, and we want the whole highway on which to spread ourselves. We keep our seats in crowded cars, though frail women have to stand. At our offices we usurp desks, carry away chairs and use material without so much as a by-your-leave. And in our wake we leave fellow human beings irritated to the point of keeping the recording angel busy.

What does it profit a man if he wins success and loses the respect of his fellows? Then the race is not always to the one who rushes, and bustle is not business. Even in this racing age, the man with gentlemanly instincts is not handicapped. It will do us no harm as Canadians to take thought to inject a little more of the spirit of unselfishness into ourselves. But then if success means beating the other fellow, what's the use of talking about gentlemanly instincts?—Toronto World.

teen years. The law that has in a large measure removed the deadliness from the game has in a greater measure removed its dullness. The mass play—the grim, slow pushing and straining for the advantage of a yard or two—was cruel to the player and unintelligible to the onlooker. Substitute for this contest of sheer avoidance the dashing and run, the brilliant interference, the spectacular rushes demanded by the new rules, and you have a sport that puts life into the spectator and keeps it in the player.

And the new game shows us a thing that, for the sake of civilization and humanity, we are glad to know. In spite of what the pessimists have said, it is not the danger that makes football of interest to those who watch it. We have indeed progressed a little beyond the day of gladiatorial combats. Have you not often watched a game under the old rules where, for down after down, the struggling mass pushed back and forth within ten yards of territory, as two stags lock horns and push with their brutish foreheads, neither yielding, neither gaining? Was it spectacular. Was it not when a half-back broke from the seething mass and sped across the field toward the goal, dodging and feinting until a swifter or more skillful player brought him to earth—was it not then that the partisans rent high heaven with their shrieks of ecstasy? And then most of the fatalities happened.

Thus football has been reformed for the advantage of players and spectators. The days of great danger to limb and even life have departed, and the period of a clean, tolerably safe and manly game has come.—Kingston News.

TO PROMOTE MATRIMONY.—It is not very long since twenty young women residing in Sterling, Ill., organized a "matrimonial help club," which had for its object the protection of young women in their efforts to obtain good husbands. Last week twenty young bachelors residing in this enterprising western town organized the "Young Men's Betterment Club," which will be known as the Y.M.B.C., the object of which is to promote matrimony and at the same time guide the unwary youth in his selection of a wife. The club will pass upon the merits of the women eligible for matrimony, and it will be determined whether the girl can bake bread and mend stockings in addition to playing whist and attending to theatre. If she be much addicted to jewelry or is even frivolous in her bearing she will be blacklisted.—Chicago News.

Strange Places Where Famous Works of Art Have Been Discovered.

The recent discovery of a valuable Correggio in the mountain home of a Moroccan Emir furnishes the latest example of the romantic vicissitudes of old masters, many of which are at least as strange as fiction, says London Tit-Bits.

If pictures had tongues what curious stories of wandering and adventure some of them could tell! Take, for instance, that magnificent picture of Titian, a canvas sixteen feet long and seven feet high, representing the entombment of Christ, which was lost for centuries, only to come to light in a church in the heart of Mexico; or that portrait of Nell Gwynne, by Sir Peter Lely, which was discovered not long ago by a doctor in a Birmingham slum.

Take, too, Raphael's famous "Massacre of the Innocents," which was found, after generations of disappearance, in the cottage of a poor widow at Como. Piece by piece it was possible, with much difficulty, to reconstruct some of the history of this treasure of art, and a strange story it is. At one time it belonged to the celebrated Cardinal Yppolito d'Este, Ariosto's patron, from whose hands it passed into those of another cardinal, Luigi d'Este. At his death a priest of Reggio became its owner for the ridiculous sum of a sovereign; and he, after refusing twice this sum for it, presented it to the Duke Alfonso d'Este, who in turn gave it to the Princess Margherita Gonzaga, his niece.

When the princess died the picture passed to the Duke of Urbino, and from that stage of its history nothing more was heard of it until 1658, when the Duke d'Este employed a Franciscan monk to find it at any cost. For five years the monk sought everywhere in vain, and at the end of the time he reported to the duke that "after having travelled all over Italy on his quest and employed every means, both spiritual and mental, he was forced to abandon the hopeless task," and now, two and a half centuries later, the long lost picture has come thus strangely to light.

A few years ago one of Albert Durer's masterpieces was discovered, dust smothered and despised, among the lumber in a granary near Courtrai. The farmer—a woman—took it into her head one day to clear the granary of its "rubbish," and for a few coppers she was glad to get the son of the local coach painter to remove it all, including the "dirty piece of painted wood." The painting was cleaned and submitted to an expert, who recognized it as a Durer which had been stolen from the National Museum of Munich many years earlier.

Among some old canvases which were knocked down for the equivalent of a few shillings at an auction sale at Rome to Herr Huntersperg, a Tyrolean restorer of old pictures, was a very inferior picture of flowers which was practically worthless. The canvas, however, attracted the attention of an art connoisseur, who suspected that there might be another painting beneath the surface presentment of flowers, and by skillfully removing the layers of paint he revealed an exquisite work of Correggio, which he later sold to Lord Bristol for £1,500.

Lord Crew has among his art treasures a valuable canvas, of which the following romantic story is told:—Many years ago one of his ancestors had a picture painted of his son and daughter, the former, who was very young, being presented as a Cupid. In later years, when the son had grown to manhood, he quarrelled with his father, and, by way of revenge, cut the Cupid out of the canvas. For a century nothing was seen of the portion of the picture thus removed, when it fell into the hands of a dealer, who restored it to the then head of the house.

A similar mutilation was practiced on a valuable painting, "The Field of the Cloth of Gold," the property of Charles I. When Cromwell negotiated with a continental dealer for the sale of the royal pictures it was found that the head of Henry VIII. was missing from his canvas, which thus escaped the fate of its fellows. When the Second Charles came to the throne the missing part was restored by a great nobleman, who had adopted this ingenious method of preventing the picture from going out of the country.

The hunting and calling of moose and caribou are among the sportsman's chief delights during the continuance of the hunter's moon and the manly sport of tracking the big game through the gorgeous autumnal woods of the Canadian Adirondacks is one that tends to renewing the youth of both mind and body, and the upbuilding of a robust frame and a strenuous manhood. The Quebec and Lake St. John Railway is the open door to the sportsman's paradise of the northern woods, where moose, caribou and bears exist in countless numbers, their run-ways crossing the forests in every direction.

MARK TWAIN'S DOUBLES.

The genial Mark Twain complains that he has a most surprising number of "doubles." Only the other day, a gentleman wrote to him from Florida, saying that he had been taken so often for Mr. Clemens that he thought it a matter of duty to send his photograph to the real original.

The likeness, as shown by the picture, was certainly remarkable—so much so, indeed, that Mark sat down and wrote the following reply:—

"My Dear Sir,—I thank you very much for your letter and the photograph. In my opinion, you are certainly more like me than any other of my doubles. In fact, I am sure that if you stood before me in a mirrorless frame, I could shave by you."

JUST LOGIC.

King Edward Subdivision,

ON ST. FOYE ROAD.

When Calmly and Seriously Reasoning

The prospective home builder or investor in reality sits down to analyse a proposed purchase, it is proper for him to cast up the various points that go to make up its desirability. The points to consider are plain and specific. They are the following:—

General Location, Particular Location, Transit Facilities, Neighboring Holders, Prices, Improvements, Present Opportunities. Now to reason point by point:—

1. Judging from past experience and the immutable of Real Estate values, In what part of Quebec City may land be purchased with the certainty that the increase in its value is not dependant on "Boom."

Answer:—Ste. Foy and St. Louis Roads. Quebec may grow some East and North, but it grows to the West. Remember the class of buildings and residents. Remember always to the West.

2. In what part of Quebec may land be bought at prices within the reach of the prospective Home Builder with certainty of more than redoubling in value?

Answer:—St. Louis and Ste. Foye Roads. The Garden Spot of all Quebec.

3. What is the choicest part of Quebec?

Answer:—King Edward subdivision, of course, surrounded on all sides by detached Villas and Residences, Fine Lawns, Gardens and Forest Trees.

4. Why is this the choicest part of Quebec? Why have all the well to do people and investors in Real Estate bought all the Large Tracts that were available there?

Answer:—Because of the Natural Beauty of its position and of its healthfulness, of its nearness to the Business Portion of Quebec, of its Level Roads and Streets doing away with the Climbing of Hills.

5. Any other reason Why you should Buy a Home in the Great King Edward Subdivision?

Answer:—The very low prices asked for these most desirable building lots; The easy terms of payments; only $1.00 cash and the balance in small monthly payments of $10 each. The Certainty of their Doubling in value and the great size of these lots 35x155—almost a small farm.

6. Who are the adjoining holders of Beautiful King Edward subdivision, whose judgments may be taken for values?

Answer:—Mr. Holt, of Holt, Renfrew & Co., Mr. Thompson, I. A. Fortin, Madame Migner and son-in-law, Messrs. Brown, of Thomas & Co., Dr. Laurie, and a great many others too numerous to mention.

7. Why is it possible for a home seeker or investor to purchase lots in this property now?

Answer:—Because they are sold at One-Third their Real Value, and the selling price of our neighbors. Because the property has just been opened up, and is the finest piece of land put in the market, just outside of the city limits, and because it is only one mile from the "Chateau Frontenac Hotel."

8. Why is it important to look into this property now?

Answer:—Because there are only 150 Lots in the King Edward Subdivision. Because they are the choicest in the market and before many years they will be in the very heart of the city. If you know your own interest, Buy Now.

Go Now and See Beautiful King Edward Subdivision.

It will be a revelation to you if you are unacquainted with this Garden Spot of Quebec.

GOODYEAR PROCESS.

PRICE PROTECTION

What's to prevent a retail dealer who sells a not-priced shoe from sizing you up as a well dressed prosperous person and charge you $6.50, or $5.50, or $4.50 for a $3.50 shoe? Never thought of that, did you?

What do you know about the quality or value of a shoe? Nothing! You can't tell whether a dealer should charge you $3.50 or $6.50. Even if you were an expert you couldn't tell, as all shoes look alike when painted and polished. Paint and polish veneer cover up a multitude of shoe sins.

There's but one way you can prevent the dealer from overcharging you. There's but one way for you to know that you're paying the right price. That way is to buy a Slater in an authorized and chartered Slater Shoe Store or Agency.

That store is bound by contract to sell genuine Slater Shoes and to sell them at not one cent higher, nor one cent lower than, $3.50 and $4.00, for women and $4.00 and $5.00 for men.

Besides, the price is labelled on the lining of each and every Slater Shoe.

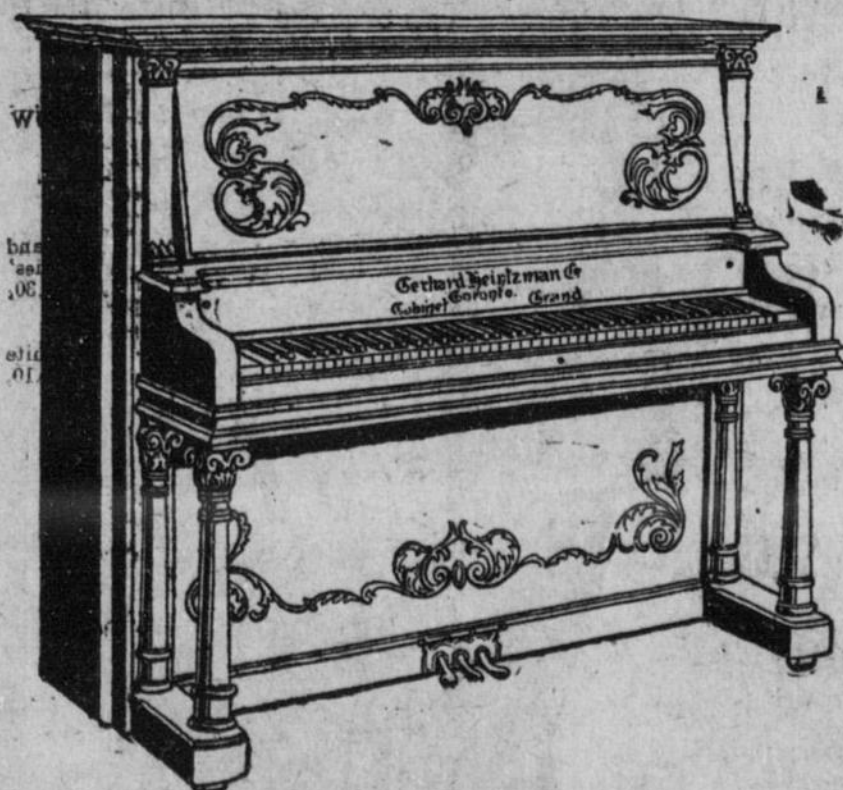

Moreover, our advertisements proclaim from the house tops that the price of Slater Shoes is $3.50 and $4.00 for women and $4.00 and $5.00 for men.

You've absolute Price Protection in the Slater Shoe. Costs a dollar less than the best American makes, and is precisely the same shoe. For men and women.

Grand Exhibition of "Made-in-Canada" Goods.

Crowds of Loyal Canadians Throng the Store Every Day.

IT WOULD be putting it far too mildly to say that this Grand Exhibition of "Made-In-Canada" Goods has been a great success. The interest and enthusiasm we have succeeded in arousing not only in this province but in almost every corner of this vast Dominion has greatly exceeded our most sanguine hopes. Prominent men from every province in the country have wired their congratulations—men whose opinions count for much—whose exalted positions give weight to their words. And here in old Quebec thousands of loyal Canadians have shown their appreciation of our efforts to demonstrate the superiority of Canadian products over imported goods which sell at a much higher price. The surprise, shown by the great majority of those who have visited the store, has proven conclusively the urgent need for such an undertaking. It required just such an exhibition as this to arouse the Canadian People to a lively appreciation of Canada's greatness—to stir up a feeling of pride in the magnificent progress made by our immense factories—to suggest to all those who are interested in the development of this glorious country of ours the grand possibilities which hearty and widespread co-operation between consumer and manufacturer presents. The more the unquestioned superiority of Canadian-made goods becomes known, the greater will become the demand for home products and the more numerous will be the manufacturers required to supply this increased demand.

This Grand Exhibition of "Made-In-Canada" Goods will continue until the end of October, to give everyone in Quebec an opportunity to visit the store and examine the various exhibits.

FLOOR COLLAPSED SUDDEN DEATH

Narrow Escape of Students A Former Well-Known Quebec Lady Dies Suddenly.

The attention of the authorities has been called repeatedly to the disgraceful condition of affairs existing in connection with the morgue. Its dilapidated and dangerous state, its lack of accommodation, and its menace to the health of those who are compelled to attend there have been pointed out. Nothing, however, has ever been done to remedy matters. Yesterday, however, its dangers were attested to in a striking not to say very disagreeable fashion, when the flooring of one of the rooms gave way precipitating a number of medical students into the cellar. The circumstances attending the collapse were as follows: Yesterday morning, Dr. Marois proceeded to the morgue to make the autopsy on the body of the ill-fated victim of Saturday's tragedy on the Esplanade. As usual on these occasions the doctor was accompanied by a group of medical students, some thirty or so of the latter being present. While the autopsy was in progress the flooring suddenly and without warning collapsed, some of the students, as already stated, being precipitated into the basement. There was much excitement for a couple of minutes as it was feared that the roof of the building was coming down. Fortunately, however, the students escaped without serious injury. As a result of the occurrence, it is not known whether Coroner Jolicoeur will be able to proceed with the inquest this morning, though the jury which has been already summoned, will be sworn in and it will then be decided where the inquest will be held. This collapse should prove to the authorities the absolute need of the immediate securing of more suitable and more spacious quarters for use as a morgue.

The positions of store-keeper and lady typewriter have been filled. Thanking the applicants. Box No. 20.

MR. ROBILLOIT'S MAJORITY.
The official majority of Mr. Robilloy in Quebec County has been declared by the Returning Officer as 388.

CORRECTION.
In reporting the voting for the new fire chief at Friday evening's Council meeting, Ald. Campbell's name should have appeared as casting his vote for Deputy Chief Walsh on the third ballot.

SAILORS' CONCERT.
To-morrow (Tuesday) night, in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, will without doubt, draw a large crowd, as it will be the closing concert for the Empress of Ireland's men for this season. See advt. Sailors' free; citizens, 10 cents.

For suits and overcoats see the advertisement of Faguy, Lepinay & Frere.

PURCHASE OF A MAGNIFICENT PIANO.
The revered ladies of the Ursuline monastery of Grand'Mere have recently purchased a magnificent Heintzman & Co. piano for the use of their pupils in the advanced class. This instrument was chosen at Lavigne & Hutchison's who are the only representatives for the district of Quebec for the celebrated Heintzman & Co. pianos.

Notwithstanding the rise in price of carpets, see the advertisement of Faguy, Lepinay & Frere.

FATAL ACCIDENT.
News comes from Rimouski of a fatal accident, a young man named Alfred Lepage, a farmer of the third range of Rimouski, being shot with his own gun. Accompanied by his father and brother he was on a hunting trip to St. Blandine, a parish in rear of Rimouski. He had rested his weapon against a tree, and when he went to take it up, it was accidentally discharged, the contents of the gun striking the man in the face. He died a few moments later. The deceased was only 17 years of age.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.
A serious accident occurred on Saturday morning on the Beauport road at the crossing of the Quebec & Lake St. John Railway, near Limoilou. Mrs. Francis Dele and Mrs. Nadeau were driving in an express wagon, when the horse took fright suddenly and running away dashed into a telegraph pole, the two women being thrown out and painfully hurt. They were brought to the residence of friends in Quebec, where a doctor attended to their injuries.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 5 c.

SAILORS' INSTITUTE.
There was a fine attendance of sailors at the Bethel service held last night. Rev. E. P. H. King gave an earnest Gospel talk, which was listened to with the utmost attention. Miss Wetherpoon took charge of the organ, while Misses Campbell and Anderson led the singing. After the service Miss Wetherpoon gave all the men comforters bags.

The seamen's social Saturday attracted a goodly number, who spent a very enjoyable evening. Miss Wetherpoon kindly furnished a good supply of coffee, which was greatly appreciated by the men.

Magazines, monthly papers, etc., car put for firemen's hands, cast off clothes such as boots, coats, pants or underwear wanted. Notify Secretary Y.M.C.A. or Mr. F. G. Hammond, caretaker of the Sailors' Institute, and such articles will be called for.

The many friends in this city of Mrs. Louis Bishop will be shocked to learn of her sudden death yesterday at her home in Marleton, P.Q. No details could be ascertained last night of the sad occurrence, but letters received from her by friends in the city on Friday last, gave no indication of any physical trouble of any kind. Mr. Lou Bishop was formerly train dispatcher in the Q. & L. St. J. Ry. here, and afterwards was offered and accepted the position as manager of the Eastern Townships Bank at Marleton, where he and Mrs. Bishop quickly acquired a large circle of friends. Mrs. Bishop was well and most favorably known in this city and their large circle of friends join in universal expressions of deepest sympathy with Mr. Bishop in his severe loss.

CORONER'S INQUEST.
Dr. Jolicoeur held an inquest on Saturday morning, on the body of William Knight, the cattleman, who died on board the steamer Manchester Commerce. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict of death from congestion of the lungs.

LIVELY ROW.
A number of men had quite a lively row early yesterday morning in St. Valier street. The yells and shouts of the combatants aroused people living in the vicinity from their beds. The noise only ceased when some of those engaged the fight beat a retreat.

QUEBEC & LAKE ST. JOHN RAILWAY.

At the request of the patrons of the road, an additional night train between Quebec, Roberval and Chicoutimi has been put on, leaving Quebec every Thursday, at 7.30 p.m. and returning leaves Chicoutimi at 6.45 p.m. Friday, arriving in Quebec at 7.00 o'clock Saturday morning.

Only first class accommodation including sleeping car will be provided for on this train.

SETTING A GOOD EXAMPLE.
Considering how general is the use of Hungarian bitter waters, it is interesting that the proprietors of the Apenta water give assurance that the working of the Apenta springs, Budapest, Hungary, at which it is bottled, is carried out not on merely commercial lines, but under the scientific and hygienic supervision of Dr. Leo von Liebermann, professor at the Hygienic Institute of the Royal University at Budapest. The analyses of Apenta as published in the text books on mineral water springs, show that the sulphates of soda and of magnesium, of which the latter is predominant, are the chief constituents. Apenta is best known as a still or non-effervescent water, but it can also be had carbonated, in small bottles called splits. It is said that the importation of this water has grown very considerably in recent years, and it is well known that Hungarian apert water has been in world-wide use for many years.

A CLEVER ARTISTE.
Miss Maude Gillette, who comes as a "headliner," in the big vaudeville bill at the Auditorium next week is beyond all doubt the cleverest and most daintily artistic delineator of negro characters on the American stage to-day. Until quite recently Miss Gillette has been appearing in "Burnt Cork," but finds that she can convey a more subtle humor and better expression by appearing in her natural color. It was while appearing in black "make-up" at Hammerstein's Victoria Theatre, New York, that an enthusiastic critic on the New York Herald pronounced her "The Black Face Yvette Guilbert." A compliment that can be best appreciated by those who saw that most accomplished artiste on her recent visit to Quebec at the Auditorium.

AN INTERESTING SERVICE.
At the Y. M. C. A. Yesterday Afternoon.

Mr. Head, chairman of Council of the Great Keswick movement, Miss Gabb and Miss Porter, of Johannesburg, South Africa, spoke on the different phases of mission work in South Africa. M. J. C. Thomson occupied the chair and introduced each of the speakers.

Mr. Head read the 67th Psalm and his running comments were exceedingly appropriate as he emphasized the blessing that came to those who sought to extend the Gospel of the grace of God among the nations of the world.

Miss Gabb gave a very interesting account of the work among the young women of Johannesburg and the great need of this special kind of mission effort in that city, which she considered the most wicked city in the world. She gave several touching incidents in her own special work.

Miss Porter gave a fine address on mission work among the natives of South Africa and of the general missionary effort carried on by the South African General Missionary Society, of which Rev. Andrew Murray is the honored president.

The meeting, which was well attended, was brought to a close by singing the doxology.

DEATH OF A PRIEST

Father Feeney Passed Away at Porto Rico Recently.

The following details concerning the death of the late Father Feeney are taken from the Berlin, N.H., Reporter:—"The sad news of the death of Rev. James Feeney, C.S.S.R., in Porto Rico, reached here Friday, the 12th instant. Father Feeney was born in the village of Cap Rouge, seven miles from the city of Quebec. He was the third son of Daniel Feeney and Annie McDoughn, natives of Sligo, Ireland, but more than 52 years residents of Cap Rouge. He received his early education in the village school at Cap Rouge and after making his first Holy Communion and being confirmed he entered the Thom High School in Quebec, and graduated at the age of 19, having completed the work in French and English. He then decided to join the Redemptorist order C.S.S.R. Accordingly he was sent to Baltimore where he spent 13 years completing his ecclesiastical course. He celebrated his first mass in St. Patrick's Church, Quebec. The following day he celebrated mass at Cap Rouge, his native village. He was afterward stationed at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church in Roxbury, Mass., at the Mission Church, St. John, N.B., and St. Clements College, Saratoga Springs, N. Y. He also preached in several places in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, New York and in the Province of Quebec. He was present and officiated at the golden wedding celebration of his parents in 1899, also performed the last sad rites at the death of his mother in 1900. In October, 1904, he made a visit to his aged father and brothers in Quebec, also calling on his brothers and sisters who are residents of this city. Faithful to his vow of obedience he willingly severed himself from his relations to go to Porto Rico, where after a period of two years he died. The sad news was brought to his father by Rev. Father Delargey, of St. Patrick's Church, Quebec. He is survived by his father, Daniel, three brothers, Michael and Richard, of Quebec, Thomas, of Berlin, and two sisters, Mrs. Annie Murphy and Mrs. Thomas Houley, both of this city, also by many nieces and nephews."

HEKING.
The exceptional interest shown in the coming American tour of Heking, the German Cellist, is strongly evident in the communications received by his New York manager asking for time. It looks very much as though the tour would have to be considerably extended, in order to include even a fair proportion of the cities that wish to hear the great player. Heking left many ardent admirers on the occasion of his last tour and his continued successes abroad have kept the interest on this side up to a high point. It is probable that this tour will out-number in performances any previous one by the cellist who have visited America. Interest in the violoncello is continually growing in Canada and the States, for the people are awakening to the fact that it is indeed one of the most interesting of all stringed instruments and resembles the human voice more nearly than any other.

Parties residing in the country should read the advertisement of Faguy, Lepinay & Frere.

LAUVIGUEUR & HUTCHISON.
This enterprising firm of piano merchants are nothing if not up-to-date. Having recently acquired the large building on the corner of St. John and Stanislas streets, where they have been doing business for some years past, they recently went to work and entirely rebuilt the first story, putting in a fine cut stone front with magnificent plate glass windows. Other improvements in keeping with the new order of things have also been done, including solid new hardwood floors. The floor space of the show room has also been materially increased and it now makes a handsome and fine piano warehouse, as there is to be found in the city. The workmen who have been in possession for some time past are at present giving the finishing touches to the interior of the building and in a few days the new place of business will be reopened. With such a fine line of standard pianos as the firm always carry they will no doubt speedily meet with increased business encouragement, and find themselves amply repaid for the large outlay incurred in doing their share towards improving the appearance of our main Upper Town thoroughfare.

WHAT ARE THE DUTIES OF PROVINCIAL POLICE?

The public is commencing to wonder what are the real duties of the Provincial Police? Up to a few months ago it was generally understood that they were supposed to guard the departmental buildings owned by the province, and do duty outside the city limits in all parts of the province when their services were required, but in no way to interfere with the duties of municipal police, when the latter were able to cope with the situation. Recently, however, there seems to be an inclination on the part of the Provincial Police to interfere with the Quebec Municipal Police. This was made manifest last summer in the case of the Louise Dock tragedy, which resulted in a conflict with the city police and caused the latter to sulk and keep to themselves evidences that might have helped the Crown in its prosecution of Cowan, who was acquitted at the last Criminal Assizes. On Saturday last the provincial police again sought to interfere with the city police and even went so far as to proceed to the City Hall station and demand that the custody of George LeCouteur, arrested by Detective Thomas Walsh, be entrusted to them. Such interference is unbecomingly and is sure to create a bad feeling between the respective bodies of peace guardians. If the provincial police are disposed to do provincial duty they could find lots of occupation in looking after the thieves who are terrorizing the rural districts almost every day by burglarizing presbyteries, etc. Only a week ago the Presbytery of St. Louis de Pintendre was entered and robbed by three tramps that had been previous to that been released from the Quebec goal. Those gentry got away with $80 in cash, and are still at large.

POSTON WAS WINNER MONTREAL WINNERS

Saturday's Road Race of the
Y.M.C.A. Harrier Club.

George Poston won handily the road race of the Y. M. C. A. Harrier Club which was run on Saturday afternoon, having a lead of over two minutes over the second man, E. Shee, and finishing fresh and strong and apparently in condition to go over the course a second time.

The event was the first road race given by the club since its organization, and it deserves warm congratulation for the very successful manner in which it was carried out. The course was about three and a half miles, the contestants starting from the Y. M. C. A. building and proceeding out St. John street and St. Poye Road to the Belvedere, up Belvedere and in St. Louis Road as far as De Salaberry, down De Salaberry and back to the Y. M. C. A. via St. John street. Four prizes were offered, the first two being medals.

There were ten starters, the following runners getting away at the crack of Prof. Deering's pistol:—H. Kennedy, G. Meyers, E. Shee, A. Dube, S. Elliott, G. Poston, D. Jackson, W. Dall, E. Leblond, J. Henry.

At the start Poston sprang to the front at once, closely followed by Shee, the pace being a trifle hot for the beginning. Poston, however, not only maintained his lead, but soon began to draw away from the rest, and was never headed during the contest, covering the course in 22-1-4 mins. Shee came second, 2-1-4 minutes later, S. Elliott was 4th, A. Dube 5th, and J. Henry 6th. The others failed to finish.

A large crowd of people was present at the Y. M. C. A. Building to witness the start and finish of the race, and there was also a fair sprinkling of spectators along the course, and the contest appeared to awaken a great amount of interest. The club deeply appreciated the courtesy of Inspector R. M. Reade in holding the street cars so as not to interfere with the finish.

The officials were as follows:—Judges, Messrs. Geo. Little, A. Kennedy, J. Kingwell and E. Fee; timekeepers, W. Aird and R. Somerville; starter, Prof. Deering; assistants, C. Strang, J. Jewell; bicycle corps, R. Woodly, F. Salter.

CANADIAN BOWLING ASSOCIATION
In the Windsor Hotel Saturday afternoon the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Bowling Association was held. Delegates were present from Ottawa bowling teams as follows: 43rd, Guards and Ottawa Athletic Association, and representatives of Montreal bowlers were: Victoria Rifles, Active; Victoria Rifles, Reserve; Engineers and M.A.A.A. Applications from five other teams asking admission to the league were read, but it was decided that the present size of the league did not warrant taking in any other clubs. A committee was appointed to draw up a schedule of games to be submitted to the Ottawa clubs for approval. Bowling will probably start about Dec. 12th.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—President—Mr. O'Neill, St. Patrick's Athletic Association, Ottawa. Vice-President—Capt. Mills, Victoria Rifles, Active. Secretary-Treasurer—R. Walker, M.A.A.A.

BOSWELL CUP COMPETITION.
There was a meeting held at the Drill Hall on Saturday evening, presided over by Col. Roy, D.S.O., and attended by representatives from the various rifle associations. The following regulations to govern the above competition were drawn up:—The competition to take place on Thursday, the 1st November, at 2 p.m. sharp. Two targets to be allowed each team and each team to be responsible for the providing of two register keepers, who will be interchanged with those of other teams.

The ammunition to be R. L. 1897 issue and the same ammunition must be used by all competitors. The range officer to be Major D'Oreomons, who will be assisted by Captain Swift.

All protests or disputes not settled by the range officers to be referred to a special match committee consisting of Major Davidson, Mr. Verreault and Mr. Hay, the decision of whom shall be final.

In the event of the weather being such that it will be deemed advisable to postpone the match notice of such postponement will be posted at the ferry landing and the match will then take place on the following Saturday afternoon.

Team captains will see that their teams are ready to commence firing at 2 o'clock sharp as no delay will be excused.

It is likely that the above competition will attract a large gallery of spectators as the teams entered are composed of the pick of the local sharpshooters, and are pretty evenly matched. Picking a winner will, therefore, be a difficult task.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS LOST.

The Boys' High School Rugby team, which went to Lennoxville on Saturday to play a match with the Bishop's College School team, were defeated by a score of 27 to 5. The Lennoxville boys proved to be much heavier than the Quebec boys, and although the latter put up a stern defense they could not cope successfully with the superiority of their opponents in this respect.

STEAMSHIP MEN PLAY FOOTBALL.

The association football game between teams from the stewards and engineers' departments of the C.P.R. steamship Empress of Ireland, which took place on the Q.A.A. grounds on Saturday afternoon, was a well contested one, and provided lots of excitement for the backers of the respective teams. The game resulted in a victory for the stewards, who won by a score of 3 to 0. The line-up of the teams was published on Saturday.

Defeated Rough Riders 18 to 4
—St. Pats Beat Westmount.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—Montreal virtually clinched their claim on the Quebec Rugby Union football championship, Saturday, by defeating the celebrated Ottawa Rough Rider team, 18 points to 4. It is the second time they have defeated this strong Ottawa aggregation this season, and if the members of the team only keep in form and do not show any inclination to rest on their laurels too early, there is no reason why they should not win every match from now on, barring accidents. They outplayed the Rough Riders in almost every way. Their backs showed up well the week before, but they showed up twice as well Saturday. To pick out any one for special mention would be almost impossible. Stinson, the new man; Allison, the old country Irishman from Lachine; Jimmy Craig, the celebrated; and Ernie Russell, who is as well, if not better, known in hockey, did wonders; such as can only be done through hard training, combined with great head work. Some of the veterans in the scrumming and on the wings like Murphy, Roberts and Lesser, played better than they have done for some time, and the never men also gave very good accounts of themselves. The Rough Rider team, probably because Montreal was so much better, failed to show the dash and vim which they exhibited in previous years. The best features of their team were Williams, the new man from Kingston; Lafleur, the old standby, and Harris, who is playing senior for the first time this season. The two Walters, once the terrors of the Canadian gridiron, "were so tame," as Montreal supporters put it, "that they would almost get out of one's hand." But once Hal Walters showed his old time strength, and dogged determination, and that was when all alone he pulled the Montreal team yards and yards from the Ottawa goal line, where the Montrealers had brought the ball and saved Rough Riders from having another five points scored against them by giving his halves an opportunity to clear. The match was full of interesting plays and not much rougher than usual. No one was badly hurt for or by any long or foul and did their best to be very fair. At any rate, they did not specially favor the winners. Both sides declared themselves satisfied with their work, after the match was over. There was a high wind blowing, but otherwise the weather, with an overcast sky, was about as good as anyone might wish for. There was a large crowd on the grand stand, including a great number of ladies.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 27.—St. Patrick's finished their season of home games this afternoon, when they defeated Westmount on Varsity Oval by a score of 23 to 0. About 2,500 people turned out to see a very fair sized Ottawa crowd, when it is considered that neither of the clubs is in the running for the Quebec championship. Both Westmount and the Irishmen were woefully weak to-day, and the game could scarcely be characterized as good senior football; but they nevertheless made it an interesting afternoon's sport owing to the fact that neither team was good enough to outclass the other, despite the apparent difference in the score.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 27.—In one of the fiercest contests Kingston has ever seen, McGill downed the local colubians by the score of 23 points to 0. A stiff wind was blowing down the field, which McGill failed to use to good advantage in the first half, while in the second period Williams, of Queen's, punted again and again at forty and fifty yards over the McGill scrumming, and counted a long gain for his team every time. Had it not been for Harrington and Stephens' persistent bucking, and the untiring energy of the wings, the visitors might have experienced an unexpected and undeserved defeat.

The Royal Military College Cadets won the first of their home and home matches with McGill Score here this afternoon, with a score of 17 to 8. The half time score was 8 to 0 in favor of McGill, but the Cadets took more advantage of the high wind, and won out. This is the semi-finals for intermediate honors in the Intermediate League.

The McGill Association Football Team went down before Queen's in a friendly match here this morning. In the Rugby matches, the high wind bothered the visitors, and the home team scored twice to visitors' one.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—The Grand Trunk Junior defeated the Montreal Junior team at Rugby on Beaver Field Saturday afternoon. The score was 21 to 5. Grand Trunk and Montreal are now tied in the Quebec Junior Series.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 27.—The Tigers ran up a score of 55 points against the Victorias of Toronto in this afternoon's senior O.R.F.U. game and just before the whistle blew Referee Moore deliberately handed the ball to Barber, a Victoria wing man, and allowed him to get a try, which was converted making the complete score 55 to 6 in favor of the Tigers.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—Varsity trimmed Ottawa College on Varsity athletic field Saturday in a senior collegiate game, by the overwhelming score of 27 to 0, half-time score being 9 to 0. It was the first opportunity Torontonians had to get a line on the Canadian champions, and the showing must have been gratifying to the team's admirers.

WON AUTOMOBILE RACE.

Yonkers, N.Y., Oct. 27.—A. J. Koehler, in a 22 horse-power machine, won the 100 mile automobile race at the Empire City track to-day in 2 hours, 5 minutes and 31-5 seconds. Tom Cooper, setting a pace of nearly a mile a minute, had the rear axle of his machine break. His mechanic, Frank Irving, was sent spinning over the fence beside the track. The car was put out of commission. Cooper was not hurt, but the mechanic was removed to a hospital, suffering from a broken collar bone.

A BIG SENSATION

Was Sprung at Saturday's Meeting of the C.A.A.U.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—The advocates of undivided amateurism in sport won a victory at the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union Saturday night, and the notice of motion by the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association to permit amateurs and professionals to play with and against one another, so as to do away with hidden professionalism at present existing in sport, was defeated. The action has greatly complicated the existing state of affairs in Canadian athletics, which it was thought the adoption of the motion would have cleared up. A bombshell was thrown into the camp at the meeting of the governors held afterwards, by Mr. Frank Grierson, President of the Canadian Civil Service Amateur Athletic Association, who made the gravest of charges against certain celebrated amateurs in hockey and football.

The meeting was one of the largest ever held, and about fifty people were in attendance, although neither the Shamrocks nor the Nationals were represented.

Mr. Frank Grierson, President of the Canadian Civil Service Amateur Athletic Association, was the object of much well bred curiosity. Chief Campeau, who was a delegate of the Police Athletic Association, of which he is the President, and Assistant-Chief Starke, of Toronto, represented the athletes of the Canadian municipal Guardians of the peace.

Dr. Tees announced a proposed alliance with the Intercollegiate Union, which was accepted. In competitions the competitors are to be ruled by the rules of the union which holds the competitions. Suspensions and expulsions by one body shall be recognized by the other.

The first sensation was caused when the President asked if the Cornwall Lacrosse Club was present. He followed this up by the announcement that as the club had a team which played against professionals, the club should be expelled. A motion to expel the club was withdrawn. Sub-Chief Starke also withdrew his notice of motion to drop the word "amateur" from the name of the union. Then came the crucial motion by Mr. Leslie Boyd, to allow amateurs to play with or against professionals. In supporting his motion, Mr. Boyd said: "The Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, the largest in Canada, existing for twenty-five years, during which it has been strictly amateur, has studied this question carefully. An amendment such as proposed now would almost unanimously be passed at a meeting of our association, at which about four hundred were present. We have on our statutes already permitting us to play against players in football and cricket, who have played with or against professionals, with the sanction of the English ruling Athletic Association. Where is the difference between that rule and the motion I propose, which will do away with the evil state of affairs that has existed up till now? If we adopt it we will do things free and above board."

Mr. Victor Buchanan, President of the M.A.A.A., seconded the motion. Mr. Merrick, of the Toronto Argonauts, said that the motion tore away the very foundation stone from sport. His club, if it went in for this move, would not be allowed to compete with many clubs out of Canada. He quoted the Toronto Lacrosse Club as a horrible example.

Dr. Barnes, of New York, representing the Y.M.C.A. of the United States and the United States Athletic Association, stated that if the motion passed these bodies would have to cut their connection with the C.A.A.U.

Captain Buchanan was up like a flash. "He represents a United States Association. We are Canadian and British subjects, let us see what they do in England," he said.

There was some difference of opinion as to what is allowed in England, but Captain Buchanan insisted that amateurs and professionals are allowed to play against or with one another. Sub-Chief Starke, of Toronto, made a masterly plea to retain amateurism and do away with professionalism. One of his strong arguments was that although corruption in politics occurred every year, it would be silly to do away with the law forbidding it, and to allow voters to be openly sold and to allow sheep and goats. The same applied to professionalism in sport.

Mr. C. H. Brown, for years Secretary of the C.A.A.U., tried to explain that the idea was simply to compel hidden professionals to own up to being professionals.

Mr. Boyd's motion was finally defeated by 39 against 13.

It was decided to permit athletic instructors like Dr. Tait McKenzie to act as officials at amateur meetings. Mr. Merrick, of the Argonauts proposed that the Union be reorganized on broader lines and be made a Federal instead of a central organization.

GOVERNORS' MEETING.

At the meeting of the Board of Governors, after the General Meeting, Sub-Chief Starke was elected President. Mr. Boyd was defeated as representative of the M.A.A.A. Mr. Frank Grierson, of Ottawa, was elected Vice-President; Dr. Tees was re-nominated as Secretary, but declined in favor of Mr. Crow, of Toronto.

MR. GRIERSON'S BOMBHELL.

Then Mr. Grierson sprang his bombshell. He moved that the hockey clubs of the Federal and Eastern Leagues who played last year and the clubs of the Quebec Rugby Union who played the year before be suspended on a charge of professionalism. He realized that there were many men in those clubs who were not guilty but he wanted to get

THE SEIFERT CUP

Citadel Division Defeated the Power Division Yesterday Afternoon.

The first pull in the annual competition between the different divisions of the Quebec Railway, Light & Power Company's employees for possession of the Seifert Cup, took place yesterday afternoon at Kent House grounds. The cup is at present held by the Montmorency division, and the contestants yesterday were the Citadel and Power divisions, the winners to pull the cup holders on Sunday next. The successful team yesterday was that of the Citadel division, who won 2 straight heats, the first by a margin of 24 inches and the second by 10 inches.

The pulls were stubbornly contested, but the Citadel boys were quicker in getting the drop in each case, and managed to hold the advantage, thus acquired, though in the first pull the Power division made up a couple of inches of lost ground. Despite the threatening weather, there was a good crowd of spectators to see the contest. The teams were as follows:—

Citadel Division—(1) Geo. Dechen, (2) J. McMahon, (3) M. Beland, (4) P. Perkins, (5) O. Thibault, (6) E. Hogan, (7) O. Girard, (8) E. Blouin, Captain, R. Mayne Rode. Power Division—(1) P. Perusse, (2) H. Mercier, (3) A. Lepage, (4) J. Laguerre, (5) J. Giroux, (6) P. Giroux, (7) L. Vezein, (8) G. Grouin, Captain, R. Crotty.

Some fifteen members of various associations braved the elements last Saturday to have another parting glance at the familiar surroundings at the ranges at St. Joseph de Levis. While an inherent love of the art was undoubtedly the controlling factor that brought them there, still we have reason to believe that a desire to have something to say as to the possession of the Boswell cup was an important underlying current in the minds of each.

An unsteady lift wind had to be reckoned with by the shots and the cold easterly gusts were anything but comfortable, especially to those not prepared for existing conditions. The last squad to fire again had the pleasure of shooting at 600 yards as darkness was setting in, rendering conditions anything but equal and resulting in quite a few misses. It is to be hoped that responsible parties will see that there will be sufficient markers for the Boswell cup competition and that an early start will be made to permit of every competitor having a fair show. The following were the leading scores:—

QUEBEC BILLIARD CLUB.

This evening Ald. C. Duquet will preside at the presentation of the prizes of the semi-monthly tournament of the Quebec Billiard Club. The winner of the President's prize in the first class is Mr. A. Labrecque, who made a run of 27 points at 14 inches ball line on a large table of 5 x 10. The Vice-President's prize was well contested, Messrs. A. Girard and Arthur Carrier, of Levis, being tied with 14 points each. Another game of 140 points was played to decide the winner and Mr. Carrier won with a majority of 30 points. The second semi-monthly tournament began Saturday Mr. A. Hussault, member of the board of directors, has offered a splendid prize for the first class, and Mr. W. Powell, the manager, has given a very nice prize for the second class. We are glad to learn that a great many of our leading citizens have generously accepted the title of honorary member of the new club. The Hon. Lomer Gouin, Prime Minister, is the patron,

STEAMER POLINO FLOATED.

The steamer Polino, which ran ashore some time ago on Goose Island Reef, was floated off on Saturday afternoon and arrived in Quebec at midnight. When this vessel ran ashore she was considered by a number of practical men likely to be a total wreck. The Messrs. Davie were called in to endeavor to get the steamer off, and in thirty-six hours after they started work she was afloat.

SUPPOSED TO BE LOST.

Halifax, October 27—The barkentine Milton, Capt. James Manthorn, owned in Liverpool and Milton, on the passage from Havana to Mobile, has been out 32 days and as the trip should be made in about six days, all hopes for her safe arrival are given up. The Milton was in ballast and it is supposed that she foundered.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN STIRRETT.

One of the oldest masters in the Allan fleet, Captain Stirrett, of the Mongolian, died at his Scottish home on Friday, a day after the arrival of his vessel in Glasgow from the St. Lawrence. Death came suddenly. Captain Stirrett being in apparently the best of health the day before, and is attributed to heart failure. Captain Stirrett, who was 65 years of age, was born in Salmons, Ayrshire, a little watering-place on the Firth of Clyde, which has produced many noted seamen, and his land home has always been in his birthplace. He was a general favorite with the officers and men under him, and with passengers. One of the old type of mariners, he was loath to leave the sailing vessel for the steamship, when the latter was introduced, and he remained on a sailing ship of the Allan fleet until at last all the vessels of the fleet were steam-propelled. He accepted the post of captain on one of the steamships with reluctance, but latterly resigned himself to the modern methods, and was one of the most careful and capable steamship masters on the Transatlantic routes. Captain Jas. Allan, one of the partners of the Allan Line firm, who elected to follow the sea as a profession, received his training from lowest to highest grades under Capt. Stirrett, and other officers who have since risen to places of distinction received their earlier tuition from the same master.

Tore Their Flesh to Stop Itching.

LITTLE CHILDREN SUFFERED GREATLY WITH ITCHING, STINGING ECZEMA—CURE CAME WITH USE OF

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Baby eczema brings keen suffering to many a little one and worry and anxiety to many a mother who can find nothing to cope with it—nothing that will stop the dreadful itching and heal the raw, flaming skin.

Doctors fail, internal medicines are at the best slow and uncertain, and often do more harm than good to young children. Dr. Chase's Ointment, on the other hand, is applied direct to the diseased parts and brings relief and cure.

Mrs. Lois McKay, Tiverton, Digby Co., N.S., writes:

"My children were taken with an itching, burning skin disease and tore their flesh until it was sore, and their shirts would sometimes be wet with blood. The doctor did not seem to know what ailed them and could give no relief, so I began using Dr. Chase's Ointment."

"Whenever it was applied it did its work well and has entirely cured them of this horrible disease. They suffered so they could not sleep nights, and I think if it had lasted much longer I would have gone crazy from the anxiety and loss of sleep. I cannot find words to praise Dr. Chase's Ointment enough for the good it has done my children."

Mrs. Wallace Mignon, River John Road, Colchester Co., N.S., writes:

"My little girl took eczema when she was five weeks old. Though we doctored her until she was nearly a year old, she got no better. I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Ointment and this treatment entirely cured her."

Wherever there is itching of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can apply Dr. Chase's Ointment with every confidence that the results will be entirely satisfactory.

While thoroughly effective in the most severe cases of eczema and salt rheum, Dr. Chase's Ointment will not injure the most delicate skin. 60 cents a box at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

FEARFUL CRIME OF PROBABLY INSANE MAN

George LeCouteur Shot His Wife Dead on the Esplanade on Saturday Morning.

NO PROVOCATION FOR THE AWFUL DEED

A startling and shocking tragedy occurred in this city on Saturday morning last, when George LeCouteur, aged 66 years, Chief of Police at Thetford Mines, coolly and deliberately shot and killed his wife, Katherine Farran, aged 58 years, and mother of a large, grown-up family, as she was seated on a bench on the Esplanade alongside her twenty-year-old daughter, lost in emotional thought as she gazed in contemplation on the soldiers' monument in front of her, erected to the memory of the heroes of South Africa.

Though filled with domestic trouble which she hid from the world, she forgot it all in her contemplation of love over her son's memory, and what passed within her heart was only known to God and herself. She little dreamt, however, that she was on the eve of her own eternity, when the man she was mated with, and who swore to love and protect her came upon the scene, and without a moment's warning, heartlessly shot her in cold blood, and hurled her soul, without even the chance to request pardon, before the tribune of her maker.

The unnatural crime was witnessed by at least a dozen persons in the vicinity at the time, including Mr. Horace Tetu, who was seated at the other end of the same bench that accommodated Mrs. LeCouteur and her daughter.

The report of the pistol shot had hardly ceased its ring of vibration, when Capt. Petry, Secretary-Treasurer, and staff of attendants connected with the Garrison Club looked forth from the club windows, and saw the murderer with a smoking revolver in his hand standing over and coolly gazing at his victim, whose head had sank back on the rail of the bench, while her body trembled in the throes of death.

Capt. Petry was one of the first to reach the spot, and LeCouteur turned to him and said: "I have shot my wife, Captain; it's all over and I am glad of it. I now wish I had a drink." All this time he kept his right hand in his pocket apparently fumbling with his still loaded revolver, and in dread that he might be impelled to use it again on those who stood around him, all were afraid to approach him.

In the meantime Miss LeCouteur was frantic with agonizing grief which was pitiable to behold, and when asked to explain the particulars, could only articulate between her sobs and actions of despair for her mother, that her father committed the crime. She frantically turned to her mother and spoke to her, but the only answer she got in her entreaties was a smothered groan, when the poor woman lapsed into silence, her life had fled.

Once when Miss LeCouteur pointed to her father, and told the young men around her not to let him go, he spoke to her crossly, and then turned in the direction of St. Louis street, and leisurely walked away quite unconcerned, and as he neared St. Ursule street he met an acquaintance and coolly told him that a woman had been shot on the Esplanade, without admitting the fact that he had committed the deed. The gentleman was walking with turned down Parlor street, and LeCouteur continued on to the St. Louis Hotel, entered the bar and coolly swallowed a glass of liquor. Leaving the hostelry, he proceeded down Garden street, on the way accosting Detective Walsh. He saluted the latter familiarly as they have known each other for years, and said: "I suppose you will be looking for me before long, as I have shot a woman."

Detective Walsh up to this time had not heard of the murder, inasmuch as he had left the station before the news had been communicated to the police there, consequently did not for the moment attach any importance to LeCouteur's remarks, especially as he knew him to be Chief of Police at Thetford Mines, and a man of good repute. LeCouteur, however, produced a revolver, and said he had killed his wife and had committed the deed with that weapon, and was on his way home, and afterwards would give himself up.

Detective Walsh realizing that something was wrong demurred, saying the matter was too serious to permit him going home, that he would first have to go with him to the station house and explain matters. LeCouteur consented and walked quickly with Detective Walsh, and when they reached the station, the prisoner was searched and placed in the padded cell.

As soon as the seriousness of the situation was realized the Garrison Club bell boys with great presence of mind started off in different directions in the interest of the victim. Alex. Bussiere who heard the explosion of the pistol shot, looked out of the club window and rushed to the scene, together with another employee and ran to find medical assistance. Alex. Kirkwood hurried down to the St. Patrick's Presbytery and brought back to the scene Father Delargy, C.S.S.R., while John Bresnahan followed the murderer down St. Louis street, in order to give him over to the first policeman he met and kept shadowing him until Detective Walsh placed him under arrest.

When summoned, Dr. Carter and Surgeon-Major Broussard, hastened to the assistance of Mrs. LeCouteur and did all that medical science could do to save her life without avail, and when they saw that there were no hopes and life finally extinct, Dr. Carter remarked that her death must have been instantaneous after she received the bullet wound.

The Coroner was notified and the body of the deceased shortly afterwards removed to the morgue, where the inquest will be held to-day.

MOTIVE FOR THE CRIME.

The unfortunate tragedy was the talk of the city Saturday and yesterday, and every person acquainted with LeCouteur is at a loss to account for the motive that should tempt him to commit such a terrible crime. He is well known in Quebec and the Townships, and every person who knew him speaks well of him, and the conclusion comes to it that the man's mind must be unbalanced.

There are others, less acquainted with LeCouteur, who will listen to no excuse for the crime, which they stigmatize as dastardly and unpardonable, while others advocate that the Government should immediately appoint medical experts to watch him daily until he is brought to trial, in order to discover if his act was prompted by insanity or not.

George LeCouteur is a native of the British Channel Islands, who came to this country when a young man, and joined the Quebec municipal police.

He did duty as a guardian of the peace for the city of Quebec for some years, and was known by every member of the force as a quiet, respectable man.

Some twenty-five years ago he resigned from the city police and became identified with a small police force organized to keep the peace at the Thetford Mines. In these days and for some years afterwards, there was quite a lawless aggregation of men working and residing in the vicinity of the Thetford Mines, and LeCouteur, with his little band of men, after great trouble and a splendid show of bravery, managed to establish law and order, that raised him very high in the estimation of the authorities and people of that district, and for years he has held the position of Chief of Police in control of eight men at Thetford.

Chief LeCouteur always lived in Quebec with his family, and when not on duty at Thetford, passed his time in Quebec. He was a good provider, indulgent father and always considered an excellent husband.

But it appears a change came over him within the last two or three years, especially in his home life, which, however, was not known or even observed by his intimate friends. It is said that his treatment of his wife was cruel during the last couple of years, and went from bad to worse as he grew older.

During the summer months his wife, whose maiden name was Katherine Farran, and a native of Ireland, expressed a desire to visit the place of her activity and her relatives there. LeCouteur, it is said, first demurred, and afterwards expressed a wish or insistence to accompany her, but she would not agree. Finally, Mrs. LeCouteur took her departure for Ireland, and a short time afterwards he was seized with the idea of following her, and no persuasion could hold him back.

Without communicating his intention to his wife, he set sail for Ireland, and when he reached the other side he found that his wife had returned to Canada, and in fact he had crossed Canada, and he then set sail for home, arriving in Quebec not more than a month ago, and from the time of his return to the day of the tragedy made life miserable for Mrs. LeCouteur, but she kept her troubles within her family. It is said that he was cruel to his wife on Friday evening last, and later in the night she went to visit her married daughter, who had just given birth to a child, and slept at the latter's house that night.

She left her daughter's house in Montcalm ward for her own home at about 9.30 Saturday morning, accompanied by a younger daughter, and on the way to reach her own home situated in Famille street, turned down the Esplanade. She had only reached the first bench quite close to St. Louis street and opposite the Garrison Club, when she sat down to rest and meditate over the death of her son, Roland LeCouteur, who went to fight for his Queen and country and was killed at South Africa.

The Soldiers' Monument, located on the Esplanade, was responsible for her retrospective mood. Her son Roland's name was among the heroes inscribed on the monument, and no doubt a mother's love for her departed son caused a moment of deep emotion, and perhaps a reflection of happier days, in contrast with the present.

Three people sat on the same bench, mother and daughter, and Mr. Horace Tetu, when suddenly George LeCouteur came upon the scene. He approached from St. Louis street, and seeing his wife and daughter sitting on the bench, walked towards them and sat beside his wife.

A moment later he stealthily drew a five chamber, double action, .32 calibre revolver from his coat pocket, and placing the weapon close to the upper part of his wife's neck, under her left ear, fired. The bullet, it is thought, cut the jugular vein, and coursed upwards into the brain, and his victim sank back in the seat speechless.

Miss LeCouteur, who had not observed her father's action, or suspected that he could be guilty of such a dastardly crime, gave forth a scream of terror, and then placed her arms about her mother as if to protect her from further violence. The pistol shot was heard in the Garrison Club, when Capt. Petry and the bell boys and waiters hurried to the scene of the tragedy. The murderer was the least concerned of any. He coolly placed his pistol back into his pocket, and was gazing quietly upon the victim of his terrible work, when Capt. Petry appeared. "I shot her," said LeCouteur. "It is all over and I am glad. She played me long enough." These words were heard by all who had flocked to the spot. He then said he would like a drink, and coolly walked away. What followed, including his arrest, has been already described.

Capt. Petry later speaking to a Chronicle reporter, said: "I heard the shot and looking out of the club window saw that something unusual had occurred, but never suspected that LeCouteur had murdered his wife, but thought that a stray bullet had struck the woman, until he admitted having committed the crime."

"I have known LeCouteur for some years, and always looked upon him as a quiet, respectable man. In fact we boarded at the same house together at the Thetford Mines. Everybody there respected him."

"He was not intoxicated when he shot his wife, in fact he was perfectly normal and responsible, though he may have been drinking but gave no sign of it in appearance. Every person acquainted with LeCouteur tells the same story of his respectability, including Detective Walsh. The latter says he was not intoxicated when he accosted and arrested him, but he detected a smell of liquor from him, which might be produced by the drink he took a few moments previously in the St. Louis Hotel."

LeCouteur's movements during the morning prior to the tragedy are not as yet clearly known. He was seen by several people who knew him in different places in the Upper Town. At about seven o'clock he was recognized going into a restaurant near the Post Office, where he had a drink, but he did not then appear to be in any way excited.

Another gentleman who spoke to him before the commission of the fatal deed, was Mr. Percy Woods, son of James Woods, Esq., Secretary of the Quebec Harbor Commission, who while on his way down to his office, between nine and ten o'clock, met LeCouteur at the corner of Berthelot street and walked down with him as far as the corner of the Garrison Club, where the latter met his daughter. LeCouteur seemed to be perfectly sober and normal and chatted with Mr. Woods in regard to his recent trip across the ocean. He made no reference to his wife except in an incidental way. During his conversation he said he had landed at Liverpool and gone from there to Dublin. "That's where you come from," interrogated Mr. Woods. "No, my wife comes from there," replied LeCouteur. On meeting his daughter he had hidden Mr. Woods' good morning and turned back with his daughter, who was alone, and they appeared to be going up St. Louis street in the direction of the Parliament building when Mr. Woods continued on his way down St. Louis street.

It is stated that the revolver with which the deed was committed, was purchased by the prisoner at a St. John street hardware store.

Strange to say LeCouteur never lost his coolness even after he was placed in a cell. He laid down on a bed and dozed off to sleep. In the meantime Detective Walsh took care that no person would disturb him, not even the Chief of the Provincial Police accompanied by a constable, who came to claim him as their prisoner and take him to the Parliament House station.

The city police, however, would not comply with the request. The murder was committed within the city limits, and within the jurisdiction of the city police, and they considered it an impertinence on the part of the Provincial Police to intervene until at least the Coroner would interfere and issue instructions as to his disposal.

The murder was committed at ten o'clock, and at 11.30 Detective Walsh sent the prisoner to gaol on a commitment given by Judge Angers. At the gaol LeCouteur appeared to be in a highly nervous condition. During Saturday night he could not rest and imagined that there were people in his cell. He slept the greater part of yesterday, but awakened at frequent intervals with a sudden start. Last night he was still in a nervous state.

The body of Mrs. LeCouteur still remains at the morgue. Dr. Marois made the autopsy yesterday, and Dr. Jolicoeur will swear in the jury this morning, but owing to the condition of the morgue is not sure whether he will be able to proceed with the inquest there.

SUSPICIOUS TRAMPS SENT TO GAOL.

On Saturday last two suspicious tramps, one with a wooden leg from his knee downwards, were arrested by the city police and sent to gaol on a charge of loitering. Detective Walsh is on his guard against tramps these days, for it has come to his knowledge that the majority of them are nothing less than spies for a gang of burglars. They visit a city and size up stores, etc., that are likely of easy access and good booty, and report their observations to their pals, who come later to burglarize them. One of the tramps sent to gaol on Saturday was seen by Constable Hunter prowling about Fabrique street and closely scrutinizing Messrs. Seifert & Son's jewelry store.

House-Clean Your System!

Keep it Pure and Clean if You Desire Good Health.

The inside of your body requires attention just the same as the outside. A great accumulation of effete matter is clinging to the various organs, and must be moved off.

Some gentle laxative and tonic should be used.

The system must be relieved of its burden if you are to enjoy a happy, healthy summer.

Physicians who have examined the formula of Dr. Hamilton's Mandrakes and Butternut Pills say no medicine could be better.

Whether ill or not, thousands rely on Dr. Hamilton's Pills which are truly marvellous in preventing debility and sickness.

Begin Dr. Hamilton's Pills without delay. You'll feel stronger, eat heartier, digest better, sleep sounder, and gain more in weight.

Mr. Ed. Maynard, an old resident of New Westminster, B.C., writes: "I don't say Dr. Hamilton's Pills will cure everything, but they made a quick job of building up my run-down system. I had kidney disease and constipation, and was wholly unfitted for work. Pains shot through my limbs and lodged in my back. Headaches often made me desperate. I had no appetite, an awful color, and felt despondent. Sometimes I was a little rheumatic. After a few days I began to mend, and kept up Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I was restored to my present tip-top condition."

Can you afford to miss the benefit of this marvel-working medicine? Think of it. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

TRIPLE CROWN FOR POINTS.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—Point St. Charles on Saturday defeated the C.P.R. in the last Association football game of the season, thus winning the Triple Crown, which includes the Freeman Cup; the Caledonia and League championships. The score was 3 to 0 in favor of the Points. Point St. Charles team has made a brilliant record this season, finishing with only one defeat and two draws for the regular football period, the only draw in the league which administered a decisive defeat to the Points being the Westmount team, by a score of one goal to nil. The Westmount club also tied the Points on the latter's ground and Valleyfield, in the early part of the season drew with the Points on the Beaver field, the score being 2 to 2.

POLICEMAN CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—The police commissioners on Saturday heard evidence on a charge that Policeman Delorme had stolen a pair of opera glasses and other articles from the office of Haycock and Sons, insurance agents. The alleged offence took place last spring, but had been hushed up, the investigation following revelations made by the Ottawa Citizen. Delorme swore that he found the glasses in the slush three blocks from Haycock's office. He did not say where he found them, but reported to the chief. It seems Haycock left his office door unlocked and the fact was reported by the police on discovery. It is alleged that while on duty in this connection the thief took place. The commissioners reserved decision as to the policeman's case and Judge MacTavish informed Chief Delorme that it was no part of his duty to hush up such matter. It came out in the evidence that Policeman O'Brien on the spring night in question, went into Haycock's office to make up his report book and fell asleep. He was fined $5 for that offence.

CHURCH AND STATE.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The cabinet has reached a decision regarding the application of the law providing for the separation of church and state, by which the property for revenues of the churches, in the event of the clergy persisting in their present rebellious attitude, will be sequestered on Dec. 11, but the churches themselves will remain open for public worship, under the law of Assembly of 1881, during the ensuing year before the law goes finally into effect. In the meantime, should the clergy refuse to yield, a ministerial declaration will be issued, indicating very clearly the intention of the cabinet to ask parliament for special legislation to meet the situation. The nature of the measures contemplated, however, will not be disclosed although it is announced that they have been agreed upon. In the meantime, some of the newspapers declare that the Council of State, after considering the question of what constitutes a legal association under the law, is prepared to render a decision that only associations formed with the consent of the former churchwardens and parish priests are entitled to take over church property, those formed by outsiders, having no previous connection with the churchwardens or parish priests being irregular. If this proves to be correct, the decision will give an impetus to schism, as of all the associations thus far constituted but two have the concurrence of both the parish priest and churchwardens. These have been formally interdicted by the bishops.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion and indigestion, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he assumes them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of this cause of suffering, and of this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, the cause of suffering, and the distressing treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is a native medicinal root and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, millinery dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being an agent as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. A CRUESOME DISCOVERY.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 28.—The embalmed body of a six month's old baby was found in a dress suit case at the Adams Express office in this city to-day. The authorities are investigating. The dress suit case was found by inspectors who were going over unclaimed articles preparatory to having them sold. Hats had eaten away the end of the bag so that the true contents were exposed to view. The records of the office show that the case had been in the possession of the company since July last, and that it was received from Newark, N.J. It was addressed to M. Jones, number 1879 Bainbridge street, Philadelphia, which number the police say does not exist. The bag was sent from the main station in Newark. The body in the case is that of a girl which had been carefully clothed.

FATAL GAS EXPLOSION.

Topeka, Kansas, Oct. 28.—Two persons were killed, one is missing, four were seriously injured and twenty more were hurt in a terrific explosion of natural gas that demolished five two-story brick business buildings at Coffeyville, Kansas, to-day. One of the dead is Mrs. J. E. McDaniel. The missing person is a son of C. J. Clossen, a grocer. It is supposed the gas escaped from a main in the block. The second floors of all the buildings were occupied by roomers.
