HAL BANKS SENTENCED TO FIVE YEARS

MONTREAL (CP) — Judge Claude Wagner today sentenced Hal C. Banks to five years in penitentiary for conspiring to wound or maim a rival union official in 1957. Banks, standing between two Quebec provincial policemen, showed no emotion on hearing sentence pronounced although he appeared tired. The deposed president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind.) had been in Bordeaux prison since Judge Wagner convicted him Friday. Prosecutor Jean Martineau had called for an "exemplary sentence" because of the "extremely grave crime" and because Banks had been in a position to set an example through his office in the union.

Canada to press for cut in European farm tariffs

GENEVA (CP) — The Canadian delegation planned to argue strongly in closed ministerial sessions of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade today for a substantial reduction in European farm protectionism as a necessary part of the Kennedy round negotiations. The Canadian move was designed as vigorous support for the United States position that barriers erected against farm produce to protect the farmers of the Common Market countries must be included in the tariff bargaining to achieve real reciprocity.

However, Canadian sources stressed that theirs would be a pragmatic approach, rather than insisting on agricultural concessions as the price of negotiating on industrial tariffs. It was not clear immediately to what degree this attitude would parallel the U.S. approach. Trade Minister Sharp of Canada told the formal opening of the negotiations Monday that Canada's conviction of the need for cutting tariff and non-tariff barriers to world trade has strengthened during the last year, despite disagreement over negotiating rules.

He joined spokesmen for the other major trading nations in urging a display of political will and determination to make a success of the negotiations. SEEK BETTER TERMS He said Canada will participate fully, seeking better terms of access to foreign markets for both her agricultural and industrial products and in return stands ready to pay for such benefits by lowering Canadian tariffs on a selective basis. Meanwhile, the formal opening of the ministerial conference opened up some doubt about when the actual hard bargaining will begin. Originally it was hoped to write the ground rules in time for bargaining to begin next fall.

But Jean Rey, the Common Market commissioner, said Monday it would be realistic to use the rest of this year for preparatory work. Bargaining then would begin in early 1965, being completed by the summer.

On the other hand, Christian Herter, the special U.S. trade representative, called for an effort to settle the remaining issues quickly. He said one was advertising.

The project was originally submitted to city council two weeks ago by a delegation of these organizations, asking that the building for these charities be Sherbrooke's centenary project. The city was to have paid part of the cost, the remaining expenditures to be covered by centenary funds. The decision of city council was taken last night when a request for two aldermen to sit on the committees was read to council. It is then that aldermen declared they were not in favour of the project at this time. Thus the chances of receiving financial aid from centenary fund dimmed.

Mayor Armand Nadeau declared that the charities' project was "commendable, but premature." He said the city planned to go ahead with its sports and commerce center as the city's centenary project.

Alderman Carl Camirand then suggested that the city meet with the organizers of the charities and explain the city's decision to them. The mayor answered that he did not want to start "interminable discussions."

He said that Sherbrooke is too small a city to have a $300,000 center housing "five or six permanent secretaries," especially since the charities are subsidized by the city.

"And we know who is going to end up paying the rent," added Alderman Everett Nicol. Mayor Nadeau told council that the old Central School which presently houses some charities, would not be demolished and could be used by them if they need more space.

Meanwhile, Alderman Amadee Roy suggested that council find out from Quebec exactly how much money would be available for a sports center, as Sherbrooke's centenary project. Mayor Nadeau repeated statements he made in an interview with The Record late last week. He said that the city would have no difficulty getting grants for the sports and commerce center, since it meets the requirements of the centenary commission, and is mentioned specifically as an example of a possible project.

Mr. Roy, insisted however the city should communicate with officials in Quebec City. "Let us go there with definite plans and tell provincial officials. 'Here is our project. Is it eligible?'" Mr. Roy said.

The Mayor then pointed out that the city has until August 1 to submit the final decision to Quebec City.

A spokesman for the attorney-general said outside the Legislature the QLB had decided to set up the new rules to end the "abuse" which brewers and distillers had shown in recent months "because of a certain breadth of interpretation which the regulations allowed them" to make "certain advertising more direct than the spirit of the law allowed."

The QLB is trying to ensure that advertising for these products becomes "more discreet and less provocative," the spokesman said.

Main points are: The regulations specify the size of advertisements and posters and the length of broadcast messages. Technical and esthetic forms of advertisements or messages also are stipulated.

Advertising must refer only to the producer, brand name and the product itself.

Advertising of the producer's and brand names are limited to support "at the national, provincial or municipal level, of charity, education, cultural campaigns or of another objective of public interest without any link with the advertiser and his products."

With regard to the producer, all mention of the producer or his products is limited to mention of the firm, its

City chooses arena over welfare centre

The hopes of some 17 Sherbrooke welfare and charitable organizations for a center to group all their services were virtually quashed last night when city council decide not to offer the city's support.

BURY BANK ROBBED — This branch of the Bank of Montreal in Bury was robbed by two armed and masked men yesterday. 30 minutes before closing time. An estimated $7,500 was stolen from bank drawers by the men, who forced four employees, and the one customer in the bank at the time, to lie down on the floor. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

Police arrest four ALQ suspects

ST. HYACINTHE (CP) — Four suspected members of the separatist underground "army of liberation" were being questioned here last night in connection with the activities of the terrorist Armée de Libération du Québec (ALQ).

The four, all in their late teens or early twenties, were picked up late Sunday night during a joint RCMP-Quebec Provincial Police raid on a house at St. Hyacinthe, 40 miles east of Montreal. Among them is a 23-year-old man who answers to the name of Andre Wattier but we can't be sure of his identity at the present time," RCMP officers reported last night.

Recently, the QPP announced it was holding warrants for the arrest of two suspected ALQ members whom they identified as Andre Wattier and Robert Hudon.

RCMP and QPP officers in St. Hyacinthe last night refused to give details on the circumstances which surrounded the arrests of the four men.

"We can't give out the names of the suspects until after we have questioned them thoroughly," a senior QPP officer said in Montreal.

FURTHER QUESTIONING RCMP Insp. Raoul Carrière of the force's "C" Division with headquarters in Montreal, left the city early Monday to head the interrogation of the four suspects at St. Hyacinthe.

BURY — Two armed and masked men walked into the Bank of Montreal in Bury, yesterday, about 30 minutes before closing time, forced four employees and a customer at gunpoint to lie down, and rummaged through the tellers' drawers, escaping with an estimated $7,500.

A third man was waiting in the getaway car, later found abandoned 10 miles from Bury, near Bishopston. Provincial police say the late model car was stolen in Montreal, April 30.

Despite a massive dragnet by Provincial Police detachments from Sherbrooke, Cookshire and Stanstead, no traces of the holdupmen have been turned up.

Minutes after the robbery, roadblocks were set up on highways surrounding the town, about 25 miles from Sherbrooke, but the men "seemed to have disappeared into thin air," commented one provincial policeman.

A Bury restaurant keeper, Bernard Boulanger who chased after the speeding car, said he lost sight of it on Route 28, between Bury and Cookshire.

The holdup itself was executed with "lightning speed" bank manager Guy Croteau said yesterday. He said he was in the bank with three employees and a customer when two men, both wearing pieces of cloth over their heads with holes for eyes and mouth and carrying revolvers, charged into the bank.

"One of them came in so fast that he almost tripped over his own feet," the bank manager said.

LEAPED OVER COUNTER — "One of them couldn't open the counter door and leaped over the counter. The other, who did most of the talking, came into my office and asked me to get out."

"He told the other people in the bank, in French to lie down on the floor. But two of my employees don't speak the language, so I translated for them."

"Meanwhile, the man who leaped over the counter filled a bag with the money in the tellers' drawers."

"Then they left as quickly as they came in without saying a thing. While I was on the floor I could hear the motor being revved up."

One of the tellers in the bank, Miss Patricia Cook said the holdup happened so quickly she "did not even have the chance to be afraid."

As the men were speeding away in their car, Bernard Boulanger, owner of a restaurant facing the bank was crossing the street to make a deposit. The bank manager screamed:

"There's been a holdup. Get the licence number of the car!" Boulanger quickly jumped into his car and gave chase to the speeding getaway car.

"They really took off, I did my best to follow them, but was unable to get close enough to the car to see the licence plates. Then, I lost them on Route 28 near Cookshire," Mr. Boulanger calmly told this reporter.

Most of the people living near the bank, situated on Bury's main street, went quietly about their business during the hold-up.

Following firetrucks will result in fines

Police will crack down on cars following firetrucks too closely or hampering fire-fighting operations in any way, Lennoxville councillors emphasized last night.

A town by-law sets a $20 fine on such offences, said Alderman E. B. Simms, and it will be strictly enforced.

Any persons caught setting false alarms will also be fined, said Mayor Archie Mitchell.

On the fire situation, Mayor Mitchell said, "I will reiterate what the fire chiefs of Lennoxville and Sherbrooke have already said, that under present conditions the setting of brush fires of any kind is not permitted. A permit is needed to start such a fire," he said, "and under present weather conditions none will be issued."

Forest fire in Bury area razes three-acre woodlot

BURY — (Staff) — A forest fire which burned for nearly seven hours yesterday in this area razed about three acres of woodland on the property of farmer Paul Lapointe.

The property is located on the Scotstown road at Bury. There was no water on the land and it had to be hauled by fire truck from the farm of Fred Charlebois, a quarter-mile away.

The volunteer fire department was called in at 3:15 p.m. but the fire had been burning since about 1:30 p.m., said Fire Chief Walter E. Atkins.

The fire was put out at about 8 p.m. by the volunteer fire department's eight men, some employees from the Concord Woodworking Company, and neighboring farmers, he said.

The fire truck has a 500 gallon tank and five trips to the Charlebois farm were needed plus about 500 gallons from another nearby well to quell the fire, said Chief Atkins.

"It began to rain at about 6 p.m. last evening, and we hoped it would amount to something to make our task easier, but it only amounted to a sprinkle," said Chief Atkins.

One of the firemen, Allen Stokes of Bury, fell while fighting the fire and dislocated an elbow. He was hospitalized but was able to return home later, said Chief Atkins.

Methodists vote

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Methodist Church, after spirited debate, has adopted a sweeping policy on civil rights designed to persuade its membership to abolish racial segregation in Methodist churches and in communities in general.

Delegates to the general world conference of the Methodist Church approved the policy by a show of hands Monday night.

Sees Makarios

NICOSIA (Reuters) — The United Nations mediator in Cyprus, Sakari Tuomioja of Finland, today carried to President Makarios the views on the Cyprus problem given him in trips to London and Athens last week.

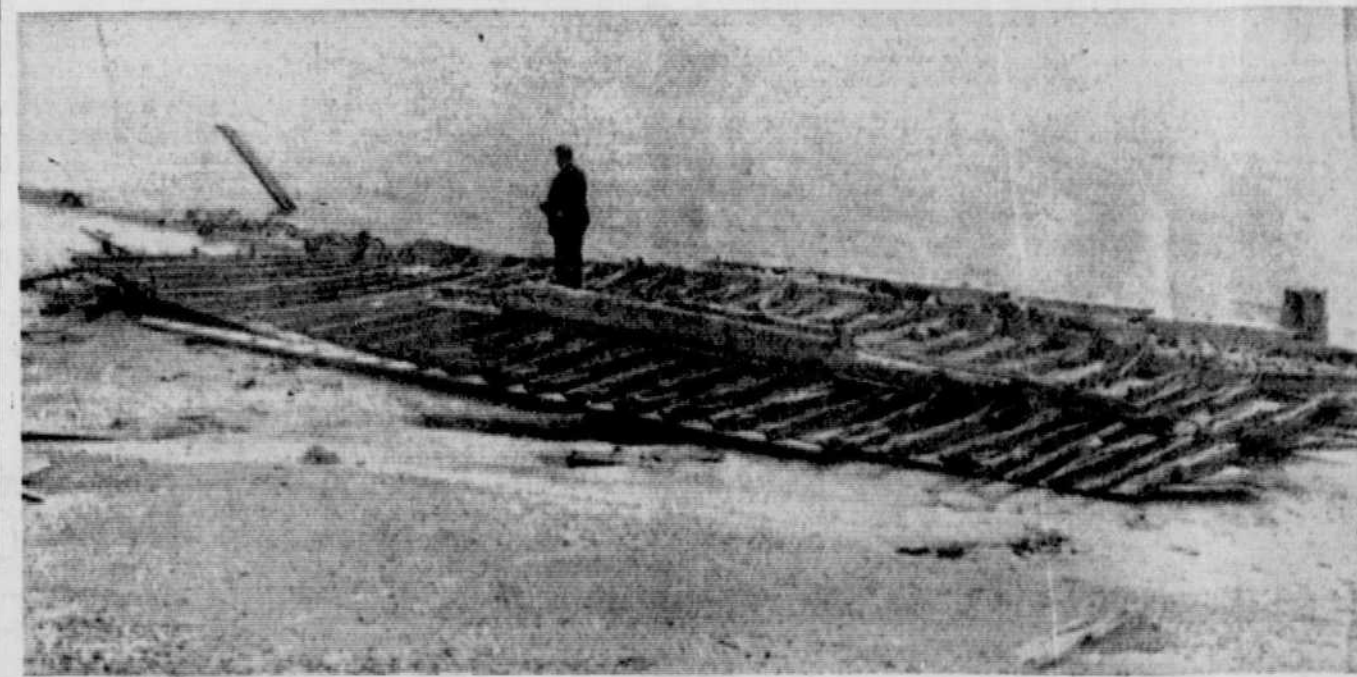

Tuomioja returned here Monday night and was told during the meeting with Makarios that the Cyprus government would present a written statement of its views next week.

Castro rumors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rumors are flying once again among Cuban exiles that new efforts will be made soon to topple Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

These reports, increasingly persistent both in Washington and in Miami, say the Communist Castro regime may soon find itself under terrorist and sabotage attacks both from within Cuba and from without.

The exiles say the outside groups will come from areas other than the United States.

FORGOTTEN SHIP COMES TO LIGHT — Falling waters on the St. Clair River near Sarnia, Ont., have brought to light the hulk of this long-forgotten ship. Wreck is normally covered by four feet of water. Abnormally-low water levels on the Great Lakes have been causing harassment to shipping. Vessels passing through the St. Clair River are losing up to 1,000 tons of cargo because of shallow water. JACOBY ON BRIDGE

SOUTH MUST BE WARY OF EAST

I am not going to show the East-West hands today because it is up to you to find the proper line of play at three no-trump against a seven of spades opening.

Of course, in the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, North and South had to reach three no-trump with South as declarer as a preliminary to collecting their par. Then South had to play the hand correctly.

Actually there is very little to the play if you remember to use the code word "Arch."

You analyze the lead as the fourth best of a suit headed by ace-queen-ten and you confirm this when East plays low and your nine spot wins the trick.

Your review of the bidding just tells you that East hasn't much of anything and your count of winners and losers shows that you will surely make your contract if you can just gather in four heart tricks.

How do you get those four heart tricks? You go after the suit. Is there any danger? Yes! If East gets the lead he can shoot a spade through you and it will cost you four spade tricks.

East is not likely to hold the queen of hearts, but he may. Therefore, you play him for that card. You enter dummy with a club and lead the jack of hearts. If East holds the queen, you will make all the heart tricks. If West holds the queen, you will lose one heart trick but your contract will not be in any jeopardy.

RULE RELAXED

RANGOON (AP) — Burma's strict military rule was relaxed for the annual water-throwing festival in which everything got soaked except festival floats and police cars. The festival marks the end of the Burmese calendar year in a tradition invoking the good spirits to bring heavy rains for the key rice crops.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The thing about interviewing Michael Parks is that you're not sure whether he's going to answer you or slug you.

That's the impression he gives at first, anyway. Later you realize he is an earnest young man who might have something to say.

Who is Michael Parks? It's not an outlandish question. But if the combined forces of MCA and Universal have their way, the question will be superfluous 12 months hence.

Michael Parks by his own description is "a 10-year overnight success." His looks and talent have convinced the Universal city moguls to give him an all-out push to stardom. He has just finished two starring roles: Daffey and Bus Riley's Back in Town. He's Bus Riley in the latter, playing opposite Ann-Margret and Janet Margolin (David and Lisa) in a William Inge script.

Mike was born in Corona, Calif., 26 years ago, one of five children of a truck driver. He left home at 15 and did everything from picking peas to upholstery caskets, managing to put in three years of college as well.

"Hungry? Sure I've been hungry," he says. "I've gone three days without a meal, but that was when I was a kid. If you really want to, you can make money somehow, even if it's washing dishes. Which I did."

He managed to pick up seven years of stage experience in theatres from Long Beach to Sacramento.

NOT CASTING TYPE

"These casting guys don't even know those theatres exist," says Mike. "They have better actors than these Sunset Boulevard characters with the fancy haircuts, tight pants, straight noses and capped teeth. They are the only kind of casting people look at."

He speaks from bitter experience. For many months his agent tried to peddle him to the studios with no takers. Parks didn't fit the leading man formula. His hair is blonde and wild; his wide-jawed face is freckled. His teeth are all his own.

Parks managed to land some television roles, but nothing really sparked until he did a part on Channing this season. Some important studio people championed his cause. The result: The two starring features and the star-making campaign. His feelings about the fuss that is being made over him? They are mixed.

"I like doing features," he

Rap extra expense bypassing council

An indignant city council un-leashed a barrage of criticism last night against engineers, architects and certain city employees when it was discovered that changes were made in the construction of the new Hydro-city-Sherbrooke building, which called for supplementary payments, without prior approval of city council.

As a result of the incident, the city will send letters to

City won't pay for underground cable

Some of the most heated discussion in months was provoked at last night's meeting of city council by what proved to be the thorny question of whether the city would pay the added cost of laying an electricity cable underground at the new shopping center being built at the corner of Galt Street West and Belvedere Street.

The lines in the debate were clearly drawn. An amendment proposed by Alderman Marcel Savard and subsequently adopted, that the owners pay the added cost was supported by Aldermen Everett Nicol, Amedee Roy, Felix Thibault, Paul Gervais and Robert Gauthier.

The amendment was opposed by Alderman Antonio Pinard (who proposed a resolution that the city meet the additional expenditure) and Aldermen J. M. Jeanson, Gerard Berard and Carl Camirand.

Mayor Armand Nadeau told council that the shopping center, because it was found that a city sewer was higher than expected.

Project engineers felt that it would be cheaper to raise the building and received the approval of the city hall officials, but not of city council.

City services director Charlie Langlois told council he knew of the changes that were pending and had asked the engineers for a written report early in February. He said he received no reply until April 24.

Mayor Armand Nadeau then pointed out that spending can be approved only by resolution of city council, and that a report from the engineer should have been immediately sent to it when the engineers discovered the need for additional expenditures. "Besides," the Mayor said, "we want to avoid extra spending."

He added that any changes in city projects are illegal without the approval of council.

Alderman J. M. Jeanson and Everett Nicol criticized the city employees who knew about the additional expenditures being made and who gave their approval to them because "they made good sense."

"We are responsible for these projects. If they are to be changed we who bear the responsibility must approve any such changes," Mr. Jeanson told senior city employees, present at the council meeting. "Otherwise there's no limit," added the Mayor.

The Mayor pointed out that council was not opposed to the changes, only by the way in which they were handled. "We want to know what's going on, too," he said.

Six injured in car crash

JOHNVILLE — (Staff)—Six persons were injured yesterday afternoon when two cars collided on the road between Johnville and Bulwer, about one mile from Johnville.

Injured were Mr. Keith Nutbrown, 30, driver of one of the cars involved, his wife, 29, and their two children David 2, and Tina 5, of Huntingville; the driver of the second car, Bruce Hunter 56, and his wife 45, of Greenville, Rhode Island, U.S.A. Mr. Hunter sustained injuries to the left side of his face and his wife suffered possible injuries to an ankle and knee. Mr. Nutbrown sustained injuries to his left shoulder. All were admitted to the Sherbrooke Hospital for observation, a hospital authority reported.

Urges tolerance to cement unity

The national president of the Canadian Progress Clubs, Harvey S. Dagg told a luncheon meeting of the Sherbrooke branch yesterday that patience, tolerance and understanding are needed to meet the threats posed to Canadian unity.

Speaking in English, he said that Canadians can reconcile ethnic, cultural and linguistic differences without having to lose their own culture. Members of the Progress Clubs could contribute to this reconciliation if they live up to the club's motto — "It's great to be a Canadian" — and if they follow one of the club's credos — "to foster goodwill throughout Canada, to unite this nation so we will remain strong."

Mr. Dagg, was elected to office in Sherbrooke last September during the Club's national convention here. Reviewing the growth of the organization during the past year, the national president said that two new clubs would soon be opened in western Canada. During 1963 the Club donated $100,000 to various charitable causes across Canada. These included the club's main activity of providing milk for needy school children.

At the civic reception, attended by Mayor Nadeau, Mr. Dagg and the directors of the Sherbrooke Club, the Mayor described the Sherbrooke Progress Club as "one of the finest service clubs in this city."

To draw up constitution for Stanstead's ARDA

The constitution of the newly-formed Stanstead County regional ARDA committee will be drawn up tonight at a meeting to be held at Magog's St. Patrick Church Hall, it was learned today.

The meeting begins at 8:30 p.m. The regional ARDA committee was formed Sunday at a meeting in Coaticook attended by representatives of nine local ARDA committees — Magog, Coaticook, North Hatley, Ayer's Cliff, Stanstead, Barnston West, Barnston and Coaticook, Dixville and St. Hermenegilde.

Purpose of the county committee, says one of its instigators, Coaticook agromome Narcisse Dery, is to co-ordinate and recommend the work and projects of the local ARDA committees.

Each of the local committees will have one representative on the regional committee said Mr. Dery, although Magog and Coaticook may later have two representatives because of the bigger populations.

The committee hopes to meet once a month, with a meeting held in each of the different communities. President of Stanstead County

Lennoxville canvassers needed

The Sherbrooke Hospital 1964 campaign committee today issued an urgent appeal for volunteer canvassers for a fund-raising blitz planned for Lennoxville May 11.

It is planned to have canvassers visit homes in Lennoxville on the evening of May 11 to receive donations.

However, campaign co-chairmen Dean Bishop and Fred Sangster said today that more canvassers are needed. They said a rally will be held in Lennoxville's Gertrude Scott Hall tomorrow at 8 p.m. and urged that as many as possible attend.

The blitz, they said, is an important part of the effort to attain this year's objective of $65,000.

Accident victim dies in hospital

COATICOOK — (Staff) — An autopsy will be held today to determine the exact cause of death of Romeo Goulet who died on the operating table at the Hotel Dieu, Sherbrooke yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Goulet who was injured in a car accident at Coaticook at 7 p.m. Sunday was taken to the Hotel Dieu Hospital yesterday morning.

Funeral on Thursday for prominent city resident

One of Sherbrooke's prominent lifelong residents, Harold Bruce Fletcher, died at his home, 497 Queen North last night. He was 79.

Born in Sherbrooke in 1894, Mr. Fletcher was the son of Charles H. and Emma Weymouth Fletcher.

He had lived in his Queen North home for 50 years.

During his lifetime Mr. Fletcher was actively engaged in lumber and mining in the Eastern Townships until his retirement some 15 years ago.

He held office for many years in the Eastern Townships Telephone Company and the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association. He was also a member of St. Peter's Church, St. George's Club and the Sherbrooke Regiment.

Mr. Fletcher is survived by his wife, Mrs. Isabelle Jean Mitchell Fletcher, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mitchell; two sons, Dr. H. Bruce Fletcher, Jr., of Sherbrooke; James Mitchell Fletcher, of Asbestos; a daughter, Mrs. Jean Fletcher Baldwin, of Philadelphia; a brother, R. H. Fletcher of Lennoxville and 12 grandchildren.

The body is resting at the home. A funeral service will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at St. Peter's Church, Rev. J. D. R. Franklin officiating.

Burial will be in Elmwood Cemetery.

Lennoxville to carry out test of street lighting

A proposed new lighting system would be a "wonderful" thing for Lennoxville but the town can't carry the costs all at once, said mayor Archie Mitchell at last night's meeting of Lennoxville council in the town hall.

There will thus be a test installation of the new lighting system on Queen Street between Prospect and Warren streets, he continued. This is the most travelled part of Lennoxville, and people can best see here what the new lights will look like.

Installation will be looked after by the Southern Canada Power Company.

The test section will cost $150 per month, said secretary Ken Herring. It will probably be installed this summer or in the early fall.

A surplus of $1,000 was left in last year's light budget, so that the change could be fitted into next year's budget without necessarily raising the mill rate, he said.

The plan calls for the dividing of the town into five zones, one zone to be done each year. It would increase the number of lights from 335 to 484, and the amount of illumination from 453,300 lumens to 2,365,600 lumens. Cost would increase from $98 per month to $1,351 per month.

Mayor Mitchell proclaimed May 11 to 16 Clean-up Week in Lennoxville. On the Wednesday of that week there will be a special pick-up for all sorts of rubbish, he announced.

Alderman Frank Taylor noted that administration costs were higher this month than for last month because of the town insurance payment. Only the roads, parks, and lighting departments were operating in the black, he said. The lighting department, too, will be in the red when the new lighting is installed. "We hope to improve the financial situation," he said. Councilors noted that the insurance payment would not recur before September.

Police answered 32 calls and made three arrests during April reported alderman E. B. Sims. There were nine accidents.

In the traffic division 10 parking tickets and eight speeding tickets were issued, as well as tickets for other small offences. The number totalled 27. The radar speed trap was again being used, councilors said.

The fire department received two calls during April. One was for a grass fire and the other was for a house fire in Winder Street, on April 29. Losses to the house came to 80 per cent. Councilors commented that firemen were hampered by low water pressure while fighting the blaze. Mayor Mitchell said that this problem would be looked into by the town engineer.

Alderman Sims read a letter from president John Nichol of the Lennoxville Volunteer Firemen's Association requesting that council donate $10 for each of 12 uniforms the association was buying. The uniforms, each costing $63, were being bought for volunteer firemen who took the most interest in the fire-fighting course given recently by Sherbrooke fire chief Percy Donahue.

They would be the property of the firemen, the letter specified.

The letter further suggested ed that council loan the association the $756 needed to buy the uniforms. Council turned the request over to its police and fire committee.

Council designated its newest member, aldermen Wentworth Richardson, as pro-mayor for the next three months.

Seek $70,000 loan for work on streets

Lennoxville town council is planning to obtain the equivalent of a $70,000 loan from the provincial government for street improvement.

The loan is made possible by a recent department of municipal affairs statute that provides for municipal loans, "to stimulate employment." Loan projects must be submitted to the government before May 31.

The loan, explained Lennoxville mayor Archie Mitchell at last night's council meeting, can be up to $20 for each resident of the municipality. (In Lennoxville's case this amounts to about $70,000) One-third of the cost of the project must be financed by the municipality, from another source than the loan.

So, to make full use of the loan offer, Lennoxville would have to embark on a program costing over $100,000. Work done must be contracted out, not done by municipal employees, the statute specifies.

"The provincial government is making money available to use," said mayor Mitchell, "and we would be remiss if we didn't take advantage of it."

Council said that work could be started in the summer and as many streets as possible paved this year. The streets with the highest maintenance costs will be done first. The money will make it possible to pave quite a few streets, said

M. D.

If your child has ever been called "Floppy Ears" or "Jug-head" because his ears stick out at right angles, you will appreciate what a psychological problem this condition can be. It is all very well to point out that this is a normal variation but this does not lessen the teasing to which your boy may be exposed. The situation may not be so acute with a girl because her hair can be used as an effective cover.

One bright boy of 14 I know was falling behind in his school work until this defect was corrected by a very simple operation. His whole outlook on life was so much better after the operation that his parents wondered why they had not had it done sooner.

Q—We lost a grandchild with cystic hygroma. He was operated on for it at 9 months and got an infection. He could not take sulfa drugs or penicillin because he was allergic to them.

What can you tell me about this condition?

A—Cystic hygroma is a developmental defect usually discovered after birth. It is a non-malignant tumor of the lymph vessels and is found most commonly in the neck. It tends to grow progressively larger. When such a tumor is recognized it should be completely removed as soon as possible to prevent both infection and the pressing of the tumor on the windpipe. These tumors become infected very easily. In a child allergic to antibiotics, the infection would be very hard to control.

Q—My son, whose IQ is high, has always been tense during examinations and this has pulled his grades down. Is there any safe sedative that will help his examination jitters?

A—Many tranquilizers (available only on a doctor's prescription) are manufactured and used. The chief trouble with using them before an examination is that they slow up the mental processes. Were your son to take one of them before an exam he might assume an attitude of "couldn't care less." The best preparation for any exam is thorough grounding in the subject so that cramming just before the exam is not necessary.

Budget adopted, projects planned at meeting of Rock Island U.C.W.

ROCK ISLAND — The spring meeting of Stanstead South Church U.C.W., took place on April 29, in the church hall. The president, Mrs. George Carruthers, stated that in literature received from the Presbyterian community visiting and friendship is being emphasized.

At a U.C.W., executive session held on April 27, Mrs. Lloyd Selby, chairman of the finance committee had presented a proposed budget, which was brought before the Wednesday meeting and adopted.

Forthcoming projects to the end of this year included a rummage sale on May 9, at the church hall; the Circle Unit will hold a bazaar on June 25; another rummage sale on Sept. 26; turkey supper, Oct. 22 and Christmas sale and tea on Nov. 21. The Canusa Unit is also in charge of a Mother and Daughter banquet at the church hall on May 13. The fall meeting of the U.C.W., will be at the church hall on Sept. 30.

Mrs. Carruthers reminded members of the Presbyterian meeting taking place in Richmond on May 4, several representatives of the U.C.W., the Aid, Circle and Canusa Units mentioned their intention of attending.

VACATION SCHOOL

Mrs. Merton Davis, Sunday School supervisor and chairman of the Christian Education program, gave her reports, and announced that the Vacation Church School will take place June 22-26 at Centenary United Church, Stanstead. The project will be under the direction of four local ministers, Rev. Carl Gustafson, of Stanstead South and Centenary churches; Rev. Gale Bascombe, Derby Line Universalist Church; Rev. R. W. Peirce, of Christ Anglican Church, Stanstead, and Rev. Ralph Rogers, Wesley United Church, Beebe. It is expected prices, which she will present to the U.C.W. September meeting, when a decision will be made.

Displayed was a table of reading materials recommended for summer leisure hours by the Presbyterian. Mrs. Thomas McCune, membership chairman, reported an increased in membership over last year. Letters of correspondence were read by Mrs. James Thomson.

Dog messenger has money taste

VANCOUVER (CP)—There's a dogged messenger service here with a taste for money.

Making bank deposits is a regular chore for Rusty, a two-year-old dog — part doberman pinscher, part Labrador — owned by Donald Bezubiak.

Rusty's banking technique is simple. He is given the day's receipts from Mr. Bezubiak's glass works in downtown Vancouver, is driven to a neighborhood bank and let out of the truck.

Clutching the money securely between sharp teeth, Rusty bounds to the bank door, is let inside and trots to the nearest teller. The dog hasn't missed a deposit yet, his owner says.

"People can hardly believe their eyes when they see him. His biggest deposit so far was about $750 and if there's a lineup at the cage he waits his turn."

Rusty came to Don and Margaret Bezubiak as a stray and Mrs. Bezubiak took him in. He is also a pet of their daughters, Donna, 18, and Judy, 15.

"He meets them at the door after school and carries their books or anything else they have into the house," says Mrs. Bezubiak.

The family didn't have to train him to carry things, she says. He just started on his own.

Now, says Mr. Bezubiak, he won't quit.

Folk dance troupe eyes world stage

MONTREAL (CP)—A Montreal folk dance group that specializes in Canadian lore hopes to get an assignment to advertise the 1967 Montreal world's fair abroad.

Les Feux-Follets (Will o' the Wisp) are already travelling widely—with trips to France, Toronto and Kentucky lined up for the next couple of months.

But their founder and director, Michel Cartier, would like to see the troupe go professional and he's plugging for a chance to take it on a variety of tours from 1965 on as fair ambassador.

A $15,000 provincial grant will enable 50 dancers to represent Quebec at the Tours National Fair in France May 2-10. Later in the month they will dance in the Canadian Folk Dancing Festival in Toronto. In June they'll travel to Covington, Ky., for the National Folk Festival.

The dance troupe was started a dozen years ago with 16 members. Six years later the Montreal parks department, for whom Mr. Cartier now is working, became interested in its efforts.

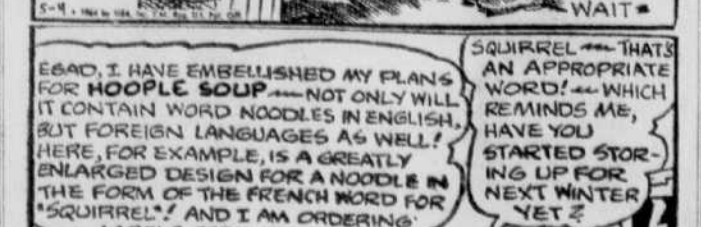

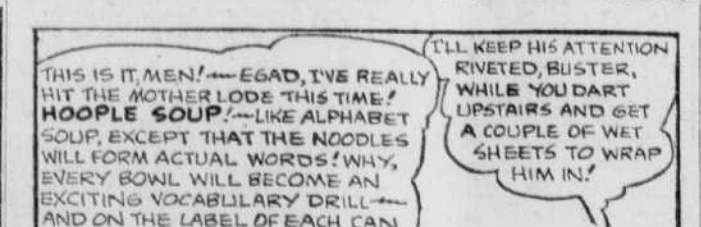

Mr. Cartier has researched folk dances and songs throughout Europe and North America and compiled for the city what he says is one of the most complete folk libraries on the continent.

He has resurrected Canadian Indian and early colonial dances and songs and feels they can be put to good use to publicize Canada. Last year Les Feux-Follets enacted in costume a religious ceremony of British Columbia's Kwakiutl Indians on Ottawa's Parliament Hill for Dominion Day celebrations.

Sweetsburg court rules:

The punch costs $41 while the glasses cost $31

SWEETSBURG — (Staff) — A Roxton Pond resident was fined $41.00 in the Sessions of the Peace Court here yesterday after he was found guilty of hitting the mayor of that municipality.

According to the crown attorney Gilles Theriault, Oliva Cousineau, a farm laborer, was at a hall in Roxton Pond, when he punched the mayor in the nose and broke the mayor's glasses — "to the tune of $31."

Cousineau told the court that someone had said a nasty thing to him, and that when asked to stop, didn't. He then told the court that the mayor and the chief of police conspired against him to have him arrested.

Attorney Theriault said if no stop was put to fighting in Roxton Pond, "a war might develop," and asked that Cousineau be required to post a $500 one-year bond to keep the peace.

Judge Patrick E. Delaney ordered Cousineau to pay the $41 fine and costs within 15 days.

★ ★ ★ Theft is charged

SWEETSBURG — (Staff) — A preliminary inquiry on three separate charges of theft against Yvan Lemieux, in his late twenties in age, of East Farnham, will be held shortly in the Sessions of the Peace Court.

Defense attorney Gerard Tur-mel asked that his bond be reduced from $500 cash to $250 cash and $950 property.

Lemieux was charged with merchandise theft from the Choimere Garage in East Farnham during the nights of April 24-25 and April 27-28; also theft from the Lacroix Garage in Adamsville during the night of April 26-27. The amounts involved totalled $90.

★ ★ ★ Fines reach $120

SWEETSBURG — (Staff) — A Mansenville man, in his early twenties, was fined a total of $120 and court costs on four separate charges of traffic regulations violations. Yesterday, Judge Patrick E. Delaney sentenced Gaston Duquay to $50 fine and costs on each of two charges — a hit and run charge on April 25, and an impaired driving charge on the same day. His license was suspended for one month.

Two charges that occurred in August, 1963, were read, and he was fined $10 and costs on each; driving without a license; and driving a car with a defective muffler. He was given two weeks to pay the fines.

★ ★ ★ Impaired driving

SWEETSBURG — (Staff) — A Stanbridge East teenager, who was found guilty of impaired driving on May 2, yesterday in the Sessions of the Peace Court here, stumped the court for a moment.

Crown Attorney Claude Noisieux suggested that a $50 fine and a three-month license suspension be given the first offender. When Yvan Tremblay was asked to surrender his driving permit, he told the court that his temporary permit had expired and now he had none. He was forbidden to operate a vehicle anywhere in Canada for the next three months and was fined $50 and costs.

★ ★ ★ Without licence

SWEETSBURG — (Staff) — Ronald Tremblay, Stanbridge East, pleaded guilty to driving without a license yesterday in court, and not guilty to a charge of impaired driving. He was remanded to May 19 at which time both charges, which arose from an incident occurring in St. Ignace de Stanbridge on May 2, will be heard.

Ernest Semeterre, Dunham, pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving a car while his ability to do so was impaired by alcohol. He was charged with this offense on May 2 on Route 32, between Stanbridge - East and Cowansville. His case will appear before Judge Patrick Delaney on May 19.

★ ★ ★ Given jail term

SWEETSBURG — (Staff) — A Cowansville man, who "in a moment of complete forgetfulness, had an affair with a young child," was sentenced to three months in jail by Judge Patrick E. Delaney yesterday.

Attorney Gerard Turmel told the court that the man, who lived in Cowansville for 22 years, lost his reputation, job, and pension accumulations because of this act, and recommended a three-month jail sentence.

★ ★ ★ Girls of St. Luke's hold show and dance

WATERLOO — (Special) — The Girls' Auxiliary of St. Luke's Anglican Church, Waterloo, held a talent show and dance in the church hall on Friday, April 24, at 8 p.m. There were four groups participating in the talent show, which was judged by chaperons, Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman and Stuart Peters. Miss Marion Burnham was the mistress of ceremonies.

"The Oddballs" were a singing and instrumental group made up of Lawrence Burnham, David Reed and Roddy Bailey. A second group, the "Sting Rays" had Wesley Thompson singing and playing drums, and Richard Mairs, Gary Darling and Richard Flanagan playing guitars.

Granby Kiwanis Club meet TB league exec

GRANBY — (Special) — On Tuesday, April 28th the Kiwanis Club held its regular meeting at the Elgin St. Social Club. President Joe McAulay and Jack Fanning were appointed to meet with the executive of the Anti TB League in Sherbrooke on Friday May 1st. This was in connection with the anti-TB mobile clinic which the Granby Club has sponsored in the past for an annual visit to Granby, to X-ray employees of local industries.

Regarding the Easter seals it was made known that the typing of names and addresses for the past campaign amounted to $60. Most members stated that they would prefer to pay for this typing rather than taking the responsibility of this work, so it was decided to have the secretary send each member a bill of $2 towards defraying this cost.

The "Bird Houses" project is progressing well and Kiwanian Herbert Wassiloff says that he has several cases on hand and

Problems of animal welfare explained

Be kind to animals week held May 3 to 9 this year

COWANSVILLE — (Special) — Being observed from May 3 to May 9 this year is "Be Kind To Animals Week."

The various S.P.C.A.'s and Humane Societies wish to draw the attention of the public to the problems of animal welfare and to the great debt that man owes to animals.

The Montreal S.P.C.A. advertises the week by placing the posters entered in its annual contest by children from all over the province in public places such as the windows of the big downtown department stores of Montreal.

This year, over a hundred pupils of Cowansville High School, a large number from Knowlton High and some from St. Helen's School, Dunham, entered this contest, winning several of the prizes. Their posters will be on display in the windows of many of the stores in Cowansville and surrounding towns. The children hope that their posters will help in the campaign to stamp out cruelty to animals and draw the attention of the public to the needs of their animal friends.

Everyone can do his part to help improve the welfare of the animals around him, society officials say. Whether these creatures be willing workers or just family pets, they all need proper shelter, handling and feeding. It is the responsibility of every animal owner to see that these things are carried out, officials say.

Carelessness and neglect are the greatest causes of cruelty. The St. Francis society has a proportionately large number of unwanted animals, society officials say. Among these are animals that have been allowed to stray, become lost and eventually, a nuisance to public safety and hygiene.

Ignorance is another cause of cruelty. Many people own animals but do not know how to give them the proper care.

Children and animals are a natural combination. Often parents give their children pets without a word of guidance. Children must be taught to handle animals properly and to have consideration for their welfare. Pets should not be given to children until they are old enough to understand that animals should never be teased or mauled.

Fire hazard extreme

Nova Scotia firefighters continue work as another warm and dry day is forecast

HALIFAX (CP) — Another warm, dry day was forecast for Nova Scotia today as weary firefighters braced for another all-out assault against a total of 13 fires burning in the province's parched woods.

A spokesman for the lands and forests department said late Monday night that all but one of the fires had been brought under control.

However, the fire hazard will remain "extreme" until the woodlands receive a thorough soaking. The weather office here offered no relief for at least a few days. The weather forecaster said the long-range forecast issued by the United States weather bureau indicated that there would be no rain until at least the weekend.

Halifax County was the hardest hit Monday with seven fires but all of them except a blaze at Beaverbank, about 18 miles from Halifax, had been controlled Monday night. Department of lands and forests crews were patrolling the Beaverbank fire and were to make an assault on it early today.

Other fires in Halifax County were at Porter's Lake, Bedford, Lake William, Spider Lake and Lindsay Lake.

BEDFORD

At the morning service in Wesley United Church on April 26, the following new members were received on profession of faith:

Norman Grenia; John Woolmer, Barrie Wood, Calvin MacArthur, Ingrid Mathieson, Brenda Norris, Judy Corey, Judy Campbell and Darryl Wightman, while on a letter of transfer, Mrs. Ronald Martin was received.

Mrs. L. Pattullo and her son, Mr. Gary Pattullo, of MacAdam Junction, N.B., have been guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Austin Campbell, and Mr. Campbell, prior to Mr. Pattullo's departure for Winnipeg, Man., where he will spend the summer.

Miss Karen Baglow, of Montreal, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baglow.

fire was reported out of control near Welsford, about 21 miles northwest of Saint John.

Forestry officials said the fire was "not extremely serious" but for a time was "spreading like wildfire." More men were expected to join the battle today.

In Newfoundland, six small brush fires flared up Monday but all had been controlled by dusk.

Full employment government duty

QUEBEC — (CP) — Eric Kierans, Quebec revenue minister, said Monday it is the duty of the government to intervene when private enterprise is unable to provide full employment.

Speaking during the legislative assembly's budget debate, Mr. Kierans said the government's spending program would lead to increased economic activity which would provide the population with more jobs and higher incomes.

Making the provincial sales tax uniform at six per cent throughout Quebec had been recommended by such organizations as La Chambre de Commerce du Quebec, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the Canadian retail Trade Council, Mr. Kierans said.

Its purpose was to avoid discrimination against particular regions of the province.

KNOWLTON

The rummage sale held by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Brome Branch Canadian Legion on April 25 proved gratifying, proceeds amounting to $93.33.

Mr. John Morson and Miss Wanda Raczmarek, of Montreal, were visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Morson, over a weekend.

SOUTH BOLTON

Mr. Gaylon Davis went to Ottawa with other members of his grade 11 of the Knowlton High School.

Mrs. L. A. Davis has entered the B.M.P.M. Hospital in Sweetsburg, for a check-up.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mackenzie and child have come to spend some time with Mrs. Mackenzie's mother, Mrs. R. Melleur.

Sutton firemen busy on weekend

SUTTON — (Special) — The fire siren alerted Sutton firemen four times between Thursday morning and Sunday afternoon. The first call was a false alarm; the other three were for real blazes.

The first was a brush fire near Moffat's Corner, which was soon extinguished.

The second blaze was grass fire on Mountain Street, but it also was snuffed out quickly. With no rain during the past week, fire hazards in this area increase daily—and authorities urge all residents to be especially careful at this time.

"So far," remarked one of the brigade, "we have only had one fire to fight at one time. If two or three grass fires started almost simultaneously, though, we couldn't deal with all soon enough to prevent heavy damage."

Confirmation

COWANSVILLE — (Special) — On May 10, the confirmation and reception of new members of the United Church will take place during the 11 a.m. service.

On May 23, Emmanuel Church will be host for a Vacation School Regional Workshop, conducted by Presbytery for Vacation School leaders from 12 noon to 5 p.m.

Announce New Healing Substance: Shrinks Piles

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most important of all—results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue.

Now Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee.

Grand Lodge officials visit Sutton O.E.S.

SUTTON — A special meeting was held in the Fraternal Hall, by Pinnacle Chapter O.E.S., on April 27, for the official visit of the Worthy Grand Matron, Sister Wallace, and Worthy Grand Patron, Brother Corklin, of the Grand Chapter of Quebec.

Routine business took place. Two Past Grand Matrons were present, Sister Myrtle Vincent, of Quebec, and Sister Della Clark, of Vermont.

The initiatory work was put on by the officers.

Among those present were several Grand Lodge officers, and visitors from Rock Island, Stanstead, Waterloo, Stanbridge East, St. Lambert, Quebec and Richmond and Alburg, Vt.

A salad supper was served to the 70 present, at the close of the meeting.

CARD PARTY

The 500 party held in the Fraternal Hall April 25, was well attended, cards being played at eight tables.

Prizes were won by Mrs. J. Tracey, Mrs. George Sherr, Mrs. D. B. Sherr, Messrs. Arthur Faucher, Lawrence Page and Edward Bailey.

The door prize was won by Arthur Faucher.

Lunch was served at the close of the game.

There will be a Military Whist Party, in the same hall on May 30 to which everyone is invited.

Benefit party is sponsored by Legion Ladies

NORTH HATLEY — A benefit card party for Miss Margaret Ann Rudd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rudd, who has recently undergone surgery to correct a congenital heart condition, was held in the Community Hall on April 30. The party was sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Royal Canadian Legion, branch 242, North Hatley - Waterville.

Bridge and 500 were played with the prizes being won by Ladies first in 500, Mrs. Laura Hawse; consolation, Mrs. Annie Thwaites. Men's first; John Learmouth; consolation, Leonard McComb; floating prize, John Learmouth, and door prize, Mrs. Hawse.

In bridge, Mrs. Jack Guild won ladies first, with the consolation going to Mrs. C. Smith. In lieu of men's prizes, second and third prizes were awarded to Mrs. Greenwood and Mrs. E. A. White. In the drawings, B. J. Hopcraft held the winning ticket on a what-not; Carl Rodgers won a silver dollar; and mystery prizes were won by Jack Young of Beebe, and Janet Paige, of Coaticook.

The refreshments, which were served at the close of the party, were furnished by friends and neighbors.

GENERAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph LaRose, of Waterloo, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Sargent, of Rock Island, and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Lloyd, of Lennoxville, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lloyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Georges St. Pierre have returned to their home, after a two week vacation in Nassau.

Mrs. Joseph Ditchburn accompanied Mr. and Mrs. W. Cunningham, of East Angus, to Camp Petawawa, where they remained for a visit at the home of Cpl. and Mrs. Joseph Ditchburn, and children.

Mrs. Ruth Groulx, of Salem Mass., is visiting her brother-in-law, and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Auger.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Clark were in Ottawa ver the weekend, the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Jack Ride and Mr. Ride.

Friends honor brides - elect at Bury shower

BURY — The MacKenzie Chapel of the United Church was the scene of a pleasant gathering on April 26, where friends, neighbors and members of the congregation honored at a bridal shower, two young ladies Miss Gladys Lawrence and Miss Donald Parsons, whose marriages take place shortly.

The chapel was attractively decorated in keeping with the occasion.

Upon arrival, the guests of honor were met at the door by two senior members of the church, Mrs. Elvira Cathcart and Mrs. Lena McGee, who presented each with a corsage of small colored measuring spoons, surrounded by a lace doily.

To the strains of the Wedding March, they were escorted to seats at a long table, upon which the gifts were arranged. Seated with them were the mothers of the brides-to-be, Mrs. Gwendolyn Lawrence and Mrs. Lynn Parsons, Mrs. W. Walker, mother of the prospective grooms, and Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. Leslie, grandmothers of both grooms.

Two little girls, Barbara Walker and Joy Allison, passed the gifts along to the guests to see.

The guests sang the birthday song to Miss Parsons, whose birthday also occurred on April 26.

A floral wedding quiz was then conducted by Mrs. E. Cathcart, the prize for the most correct answers going to Mrs. George Parsons.

Refreshments were served by the ladies sponsoring the event.

Earlier in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Parsons entertained at the tea hour in observance of the birthday of their twin son and daughter, Donald and Donald, the friends included Miss Gladys Lawrence, Miss Barbara and Ardley Walker and Mrs. George Parsons.

Tarte - Lusk marriage

LUSKVILLE — The marriage of Dorothy Ann Lusk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Lusk, of Luskville, to Mr. Donald Raymond Tarte, son of Mrs. Katherine Tarte, of Ottawa, and the late Frank Tarte, took place on Easter Monday in Centre Eardley United Church, Luskville, Reverend Garfield Bruce, officiated.

The bride wore a suit of white boucle wool with matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white stephanotis.

Mrs. Kenneth Trudeau, the bride's sister, as matron of honor, wore a short pink boucle suit, with matching hat, and carried white mums and bright blue stephanotis.

Mr. Russell Suitor acted as best man for his brother-in-law, and the ushers were Messrs. Bud Lusk, brother of the bride, and Richard Wells, cousin of the groom.

Following a reception at the British Hotel in Aylmer, the couple left on their wedding trip.

They will reside in Ottawa. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tarte and son, Frank, of Huntingville; Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Raymond and family, of Sawyerville and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wells and family, of Way's Mills.

The Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic will be held at the Belvidere Street Armoury, on May 11, 12, 13 and 14, from 1:30 to 9:30 p.m. without interruption. The volunteer ladies of the local branch will assist the mobile clinic, and the committee in charge of the organization will compose of Mrs. Lorne G. Thomson, Mrs. Marcel Savard, Mrs. Roland Lortie and Mrs. Russell Marois.

Questions readers ask

Q—Which fruit will give me the most vitamin C—orange juice, grapefruit, pineapple juice or cranberries?

A—Orange juice and grapefruit are your best bets for vitamin C. Pineapple juice has from 1/5 to 1/4 the amount of vitamin C as oranges and grapefruit. Cranberries, as they are usually eaten in sauce, contain even less than pineapple juice.

Slim Colors

Since dark colors are more slenderizing than pastels, the wise mother-to-be will stick to navy for her spring dress—up wardrobe and use lighter colors as accents.

Home and School Association tea, art display, fashion show

Jumpers, dickies, turtle neck sweaters predominate

This is the year for jumpers, dickies and turtle neck sweaters, judging from the styles presented by the pupils of the Sherbrooke High School on Saturday, when the Sherbrooke Home and School Association, sponsored their fourth annual tea, art display and fashion show.

For the occasion the gymnasium was decorated in a garden setting, with red potted geraniums, and cedar shrubs, flanking the path, which was followed by the models. Seated at a table in

Mrs. N. Munkittrick, Mrs. S. Lothrop, Mrs. E. Nelson, Mrs. S. Jameson, and Mrs. D. Armitage, and Mrs. W. Mutchler, Jr., was in charge of making the tea.

Providing a background for the fashion show, were the many artistic works of pupils of the High School, water color, charcoal, black and white prints, as well as blue prints, drawn by the male students. Miss Enid Hopper, was in charge of the Art Display.

To the strains of soft music, played at the piano by Mrs.

wards, afternoon dresses; Diane Caunter, beach wear; Carol Pettigrew, cottons; Pat Scott, late day and evening clothes and Heather Price, at home clothes.

All clothes shown were made by the girls of the Home Economics Class, under supervision of Mrs. Ashford Lothrop, the teacher, who put so much time into the rehearsals. Miss Rita Hough, trained the models at the rehearsals.

Mrs. Morris Austin was in charge of the decorations, assisted by Mrs. Jacques Begin, who was in charge of the table centrepieces.

Mrs. Harry Durrant was the telephone convenor and Fred Palmer kindly donated his time and equipment to supply the public address system.

At the close of the event the drawing took place for a box of groceries, the winning number being 180615. Will the winner please contact Mrs. Heilig, telephone 562-6643.

The tea and fashion show proved to be a success both socially and financially.

this setting was Miss Gail Bishop, the commentator for the fashion show.

Receiving the guests was the general convenor, Mrs. Rudy Gittel and the ticket convenor was Mrs. Norman Stafford, assisted by Mrs. Jack Allen. Mrs. E. Nelson was in charge of the drawing for a box of groceries.

Tea was served before and after the fashion show. Seated at the tea table, arranged with a lace cloth, centred with red and white carnations in a silver vase, flanked by four white candles in silver holders, and Barbie dolls in various costumes, were Mrs. Wright Gibson, Mrs. Ross Carter, Mrs. Margaret Erskin and Mrs. Daniel Heilig. The tea replenisher was Mrs. M. MacDonald.

The individual tables were centred with Barbie dolls, in colorful costumes, and were loaned by pupils of local schools. Serving at these tables were pupils of the High School, under the supervision of Mrs. Don Martin. Mrs. Ron Cotterell, was the kitchen convenor, assisted by

P. Dauncey, the fashion show commenced, with Shirley Kimmis, leading off the procession, in a red long sleeved dickie, teamed up with an A-line black and red tweed jumper, featuring an inverted pleat in the front.

Since this is the year of the jumper, a variety of versions were shown, some in wool tweed, worsted-arnel, corduroy and jersey. Noted was a grey wool jumper, featuring wide box pleats, falling from the hip-line, accessorized with a smart ocelot print blouse, and black accessories, Monica Royea was the model.

A suit is a valuable addition to any girl's wardrobe—whether she is 16 or 60. Ann Chilvers, modeled a red two-piece wool suit, the box jacket accented by two imitation pockets and three-quarter length sleeves. The straight skirt had a kick-pleat in the back for easy walking. Favorite colors noted were bright red, olive green, beige, chocolate brown, royal blue and greys.

The very fashionable empire look was seen in the white matelasse baccalaureate dress, that Heather Price was modeling, and later she looked just as feminine in a smart "at home" outfit. The ankle-length wool skirt of red, green and blue plaid was slightly flared, with one pocket and a tie belt. With this colorful skirt, Heather was wearing a tailored silk blouse, green beads and chains of gold necklace and gold slippers.

An elegant cocktail or theatre suit of silver and beige silk brocade was worn by model, Pat Scott. The dress, under the jacket, was fashioned with a fitted bodice, a rather low square neckline in front and an even lower back, the straight skirt having a kick pleat at the back. The jacket was smartly unfitted, hip length with three-quarter sleeves. Two bows were used in place of buttons below the bust line to close the jacket. As accessories Pat wore green satin shoes, emerald necklace and earrings, long black gloves and carried a black satin evening purse.

As a finale, a girl was called to represent each category, namely the Misses Marilyn Moore, casual wear; Judy Nutbrown, suits; Shari Ed-

to right are, Miss June Minor, wearing a blue cotton sheath dress, which can be worn with or without the blue chiffon stole. Miss Laurie Hubert, models a beige wool jersey jumper, complemented by a paisley printed shirt blouse and Miss Colleen Price, wears an aqua and white wool dress, fashioned with a V-shaped panel insert in the bodice, the skirt is straight with a kick pleat at the back.

Polly's pointers

DEAR POLLY—I keep my shelf paper from curling by putting transparent plastic tape along the edges. This makes a neater job, does not show and is easy to pull off.

• After taking a bath or shower, I lay a towel in the bottom of the tub. After drying myself, I step back into the tub on the towel and powder to my heart's content. Sure saves getting powder all over the bathroom.

• I put a plastic bag over the top of opened cereal boxes, flour and sugar bags and such. If they fall over it keeps them from spilling.

• I always save the long plastic bags that bread comes in from the bakery. They are wonderful to have on hand for just such uses as that suggested by Violet.

Custards are among our most delicious desserts. But in too many homes, they're among the most neglected. That's such a pity, when custards are at the same time so wonderfully good to eat, and so very practical.

Delicately flavored, ice-cold and perfectly set, unadorned custards make desserts to bring a light to any man's eye. And custard sauce—smooth, creamy and delicious—is one of those light top-offs that end any family meal to perfection.

And then there are all the party things you can do with either kind of custard! Creme brulee . . . trifle . . . deep fruit pies with custard sauce . . . cherry custard . . . flans . . . maple, caramel, coconut, cherry, marshmallow custard—the possibilities are endless.

Before looking at actual recipes let's look at a few pointers. First, this is not a time to use up eggs that are not entirely fresh, since flavoring is used with restraint. Second, remember that no fewer than 3 eggs are desirable for 2 cups of milk, to assure good consistency in either soft or firm custard. And, finally, proper cooking is probably the one most important factor in making a good custard.

Baked Custard Creme Brulee: This is a variation of traditional Creme Brulee, which is made with a rich, soft-type custard. Bake custard above in a shallow dish which will stand broil heat. Chill. To serve, sieve brown sugar generously over top. Broil, watching closely, until brown sugar melts. May be served with fruits.

SOFT CUSTARD
3 cups rich milk
4 or 5 eggs
1/2 to 1/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla (or mixture of vanilla and almond extract)
Scald milk in top of double boiler.

Beat eggs slightly. Combine and add sugar, flour and salt. Slowly stir in hot milk. Return to double boiler and stir over gently boiling water until mixture thickens so that it will form a coating on a metal spoon. Remove at once from hot water and set in a pan of ice and water. Add flavoring. If mixture shows a tendency to curdle, beat smooth with rotary beater. Chill.

Whole eggs may be replaced by egg yolks, either partly or entirely. Allow 2 egg yolks for each whole egg.

TRIFLE
Arrange split ladyfingers or fingers of stale sponge cake in an attractive bowl. Moisten with fruit juice or sherry. Add fruits of choice—they should be of the rather firm and not too tart type; for example, a combination of apricots and seedless grapes is excellent, or apricots and pineapple, or canned peaches with fresh raspberries.

Add a generous layer of cold custard sauce and chill dessert thoroughly. May be garnished with whipped topping and toasted nuts. (T.N.S.)

New handicap system reviewed

Approximately 60 ladies attended a luncheon at 12:30 p.m., which preceded the semi-annual spring meeting of the Eastern Township branch of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, held on Thursday, April 30 at the Sherbrooke Country Club at 2 p.m.

The chairman of the district, Mrs. H. M. Brown, welcomed the members and introduced the ladies of the provincial executive from Montreal who attended the meeting, namely, Mrs. E. A. Lynch, executive secretary; Mrs. H. Gamble, handicap chairman; Mrs. A. M. Wright, assistant handicap chairman and Mrs. C. T. Gray, rules chairman.

Mrs. Gamble reviewed the new handicap system in full and then, assisted by Mrs. Wright an enlarged player's score card was actually filled out and explained as each differential was posted.

Following this, Mrs. Gray explained and answered questions from the floor regarding several of the new rulings in connection with, Attendance of the Flag Stick, Provisional Balls and Unplayable Balls.

After thanking the Sherbrooke Country Club for the use of their clubhouse, Mrs. Brown then adjourned the meeting.

GOING AWAY PARTY — Mrs. H. Montgomery, principal of North Hatley High School, was entertained at a party given jointly by the Home and School Association of the Junior Red Cross, and the student council, Saturday night. Mrs. Montgomery is leaving at the end of the current school term for duties in St. John's, Quebec. For a going away present she received a set of matched luggage.

Course certificates presented

The American Bilrite Rubber Co., has recently taken a further step in its expansion planning. Due to the ever increasing activity at its Sherbrooke Plant and the growing need for trained supervision, its management has decided to supply the necessary training for all first line supervisors and foremen.

This six-months course, given jointly with I.C.S., has now been completed and certificates have been issued to the people who have completed the course with success.

A second course, designed for training personnel, who possess aptitudes for supervisory duties, will soon be under way. Through this training program, American Bilrite Rubber Co. hopes to keep ahead of its expanding activities while creating opportunities of advancement for more of its present personnel.

emblem, coat of arms and signature.

In the case of the brand, only reproduction of the bottle cap and label of only one brand and slogans previously approved by the Q.L.B.

With regard to the product itself, no more can be used than "the bottle, labelled and sealed, the label without the bottle or a regular package for the product, an empty or full glass not touching the lips; also cartons, but only for two weeks for the launching of a new package."

"Minors or persons susceptible as passing for minors" must not appear in authorized illustrations. Women will be allowed to appear in the illustrations only "if they are represented as of a mature age, of dignified stature and taking part in dignified and wholesome activities. Women must not be shown in immodest, vulgar or provocative clothing or situations, and the attributes of the female body must not be exploited or used as the principal theme. Women must not be shown holding a glass or bottle."

Advertising of the product must not be linked in any way with charitable, cultural or public objectives which are limited to mention of producer and brand names.

Advertising with regard to alcoholic beverages must not be done in any way to encourage drinking of these beverages, but in a way to encourage consumers to prefer a brand or brands over others.

Advertising must not give the impression that drinking these products "contributes to social prestige, success in business, popularity with persons of the opposite sex or at forgetting personal problems."

All advertising by mail is prohibited except for reports by the companies to their shareholders.

Outdoor advertising is not permitted except in the plant or warehouse of the producer, or his vehicles. It continues to be permitted in public vehicles, except aircraft.

Billboards are relegated to the interior of buildings and must not be visible from the outside. This condition applies in sponsored sports events or exhibitions and spectacles.

Broadcast advertising remains limited to beer, and can only bear on the producer's or brand names.

Gifts of alcoholic beverages for advertising purposes are not permitted, except where specifically authorized in writing by the Q.L.B. for the launching of a new brand or product. However, visitors to a plant or warehouse can be offered the product provided it is drunk on the premises.

The tasting of wines is permitted for those holding manufacturing permits or their representatives, as well as members of the diplomatic corps.

Advertising novelties such as trays, ashtrays, coasters, glasses, lighters and similar articles are prohibited as are premiums. Gifts of calendars, almanachs, datebooks, recipe books and other printed material is authorized but is limited in advertising to the producer or brand names.

UCW meets at Marlinton home

GRANITEVILLE — The monthly meeting of the U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Johnson in Marlinton on April 29, Mrs. V. Warner, of North Derby, was a guest of the members.

During the business session, plans were made to hold a card party in the church hall on May 9 at 8 p.m.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Judy Johnson. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Leslie Bullock on June 5.

Assault charge is dismissed

A Magog man who last year was charged with rape, then later had the charge against him reduced to one of indecent assault had his case dismissed by Judge Benoit Turmel yesterday morning.

Paul Emile Hamel, had his preliminary hearing in January of 1963 and had been ordered to appear for trial at the next term of the assizes in January 1965. In the meantime he had his lawyer, Raymond Fréchette ask for a speedy trial. It was granted and this trial was held in Court of Sessions yesterday.

The chief reason for dismissal was that the only available witnesses were too young to be relied upon, said Cpl. René Simard of the Sherbrooke Provincial police.

Reckless driving

Two Sherbrooke area men were fined $50 and costs and had their driving permits cancelled for six months when they pleaded guilty to reckless driving in Sherbrooke Court of Sessions yesterday morning.

The men were Denis Vandandaiguc 20, of Sherbrooke and Luc Beauregard 20, of Beebe and Montreal.

News flashes from around the world

OTTAWA (CP) — UNMOGIP, UNTSO, UNYOM, UNFICYP and others of that ilk now are costing Canada about $18,000,000 annually.

UNMOGIP is the United Nations military observer group in India and Pakistan; UNTSO is the UN truce supervisory organization in Palestine; UNYOM is the UN Yemen observer mission; UNFICYP is the UN force in Cyprus.

REGINA (CP) — Mr. and Mrs. Hans Reimer of Montreal, say they are leaving Quebec after 10 years because of English-French tensions in the province and fears about the business future of English-speaking residents.

"The tension bothered us more than anything," Mr. Reimer said in an interview during a brief stopover en route to Vancouver. He said other English-speaking families in Quebec also were quietly moving out of the province.

"I definitely feel it's going to get more and more uncomfortable for a person speaking English," Mrs. Reimer said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, concerned lest a prosperous economy breed inflation, has urged U.S. labor leaders to help hold the wage-price line by adhering to "sensible and fair" government guidelines for wage settlements.

Speaking to 139 union chiefs and their wives at a White House dinner Monday night, Johnson, as he did at a similar gathering of industrialists last week, dangled the carrot of "another tax cut in a few years" if the economy keeps expanding. But he warned:

TORONTO (CP) — The public has accepted toll highways operated by the Quebec Autoroutes Authority enthusiastically.

SANTO DOMINGO (AP) — The Dominican Republic's embattled civilian junta sought today to quell a spreading strike and mounting disorder with troop action, a court order and radio appeals.

Jose Salvador Velazquez, president of the Dominican Court of Appeals, ordered striking taxi and bus drivers to return to work within 48 hours. The newspaper Prensa Libre said the transit services would be "militarized" if the strikers did not comply.

Helmeted troops, with bayonets fixed, patrolled the capital's streets after three days of rioting in which two persons have been killed and dozens injured.

alderman Frank Taylor. A lot of people are complaining bitterly of dust and potholes at present, added alderman Norrey Hunting.

A meeting of the roads committee and the secretary was arranged for tomorrow to determine what roads should be repaired. After this, the town engineer can give an estimate of their cost, said mayor Mitchell.

The project will be financed by a floating bond issue arranged with the department of municipal affairs explained alderman Taylor. The town will pay the going interest rate on the loan, five and one-quarter per cent. It is probably a ten year one, he said.

If the project is completed by April 1966, he said, the government will give a 25 per cent rebate. This will pay for the interest and make it the equivalent of an interest-free loan, he explained.

However, mayor Mitchell emphasized, this is a loan and not a gift. The people must still pay for these road improvements.

Money when you need it. No questions asked.

When you've owned a Manufacturers Life permanent insurance policy for a few years, you find it becomes more than insurance protection for your family. It also accumulates cash values which are as good as money in the bank—because they're guaranteed, in writing, right on your policy. (For example, a $10,000 whole life policy issued 16 years ago to a man at age 28 has already built up a cash value of $2,210.) The current cash value of your policy is, in fact, your money. You can use it later for retirement income. In the meantime, you can always use it as collateral for a loan.

You may borrow direct from Manufacturers Life. No questions asked—and no credit check. Low rate of interest (guaranteed at the time you take out your policy), and completely flexible repayment plans.

There are many other investment advantages in a Manufacturers Life policy. For instance, because the cost is only a few dollars a month, you're able to start investing when you're young and your income relatively low.

It's an investment worth looking into. So check it out with a Man from Manufacturers soon.

Danville Legion Ladies hear talk on cancer

DANVILLE — The Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, Branch 41 met in the Legion Hall on April 28.

J. G. Gauthier, of the Canadian Cancer Society, was introduced by Mrs. Heron and a film was shown on the early detection and prevention of cancer.

The feasibility of setting up a permanent Cancer Society Unit in this area was discussed. The consensus of opinion was that such a unit would be worthwhile, but that organizing should be carefully done, with representatives from all other organizations in both communities included.

The president, Mrs. Clara Heron, reported that the ladies powder-room and the kitchen had been newly tiled and presented the bill to the treasurer.

At the close of the meeting the Danville ladies were joined by members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Asbestos Legion Branch 141.

Refreshments were then served by Mrs. Andrea McGinnis and Mrs. June Beard.

Eastern Townships Motor Club to hold 'Regularity Run' in Windsor, takes place on Thursday, May 7

The Eastern Townships Motor Club announced today that it has organized a "Regularity Run," Thursday, May 7, in the Montreal area.

"We feel that this type of event will appeal to rallyists who have lots of experience as well as to novices. Average speeds will be well within the range of everyone's ability and there will be no tricky navigation," explained Mr. Gibbs. "The roads used are either paved or good gravel, so competitors need not worry about potholes or muddy sections. We want everyone to finish and enjoy themselves."

The "Regularity Run" will start from Cafe Andre in Windsor, and the first car will leave at 7:45. This event counts for the Club Championship for Drivers and Navigators of the event. Along with winning the 1963 E.T.M.C. Driver's Championship, he has also been very active in Rallying throughout the Province, and particularly in the Montreal area.

Mr. Gibbs, well known Danville sportsman, is well qualified to organize this type of event. Along with winning the 1963 E.T.M.C. Driver's Cham-

Sports car race to be staged at Sutton on Sunday, May 24, open to modern cars, 40 have entered SUTTON — Preparations are now going ahead for a special sports event here on May 24. This event, unique in the town's history, will be a Sports Car race sponsored jointly by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Recreation Club and Tourist Bureau.

Today there have been 40 entries for this Uphill Race. Among those will be some of the most modern sports cars of many makes, foreign and North American.

The planned course is two miles, over a distance to be accurately measured by officials. It will start from the filling station on the corner of Main and Academy, up Academy as far as Highland Avenue, then through Highland to Maple Avenue up Maple along the ski road to end at the sports centre.

It will be a one-way course finishing at the ski resort. During the race the designated roads will be closed to traffic. After the last entry has sped over the course the road will be opened for 15 minutes for convenience of the public, then will be closed again when the sports cars return.

Only one car entry will be on the course at once. Each must

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg Maroons, within two games of bringing the city its first Allan Cup in 33 years, learned Monday they may have to alter the lineup that has twice overpowered Woodstock Athletics when they meet the Eastern champions tonight in the third game of the series.

"I like to think we're looking pretty good," said coach Gord Simpson following a light workout Monday. "Why break up a winner?"

The words were barely out of Simpson's mouth, however, when he learned he may have to make one change whether he wants to or not. Right-winger Lou Joyal may be out of town on business when the clubs face off tonight.

"Well," said Simpson, "if I have to replace him I think it will probably be with Jim Irving. But I sure hope I don't have to change anyone."

Irving starred as a junior with Winnipeg Rangers this season, and was brought up by Maroons for the Woodstock series.

He is not classed as a pickup because of an affiliation between Maroons and Rangers.

On the basis of Maroons' 5-0 and 7-1 victories in the first two games, most observers would agree Simpson's "think we're looking pretty good" is a modest appraisal.

Maroons outskated, outchecked and outplayed the visitors in both games, with goaltender Ron Salter proving the only bright light in a Woodstock uniform.

KOUFAX COMES BACK STRONG

Sandy Koufax, out of action since he strained an arm muscle April 23, prepares to fire the ball over the plate as he returned to the mound against Chicago Cubs at Los Angeles last night. Baseball's foremost pitcher of 1963 gave the Cubs just three hits and struck out 13 as the Dodgers won 2-1 in 10 innings.

kept the Mets hitless until the ninth when Ron Hunt poked a one-out single. When Frank Thomas grounded out, Hunt scored around third and tried to score on the play. He was doubled up at home, where catcher Ed Bailey held onto the throw despite being knocked down by Hunt.

Bailey started to go after Hunt, but was restrained. However, Rod Kanehl of the Mets, who wasn't in the game, came off the bench and got involved in two short battles. He was a homer. The Dodgers won in the 10th when Dick Ellsworth, then tangled with Gene Oliver who allowed only eight hits, before the umpires restored or-

Indonesia won't enter Olympics this year

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (Reuters) — Indonesia will not take part in this year's Tokyo Olympic Games.

Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee, received a letter Monday from the Indonesian Olympic committee saying it refused to recognize the Olympic rules.

"They have thus automatically banned themselves from the 1964 games," Mayer said.

OBITUARIES

CORRECTION

The name of a daughter, Mrs. Borden E. Parsons, Roberta, o Pointe Claire, was inadvertently omitted from the sur- vives in the obituary of Mrs. E. G. Sims, of Melbourne published April 28, as was men- tion that Mrs. Sims also leaves one grandson.

HARRY LUSHER HARVEY, OF STANBRIDGE EAST.

STANBRIDGE EAST — The death occurred at his home here on April 8, 1964, of Harry Lusher Harvey at the age of 74, after an illness of four years. Mr. Harvey was born at Farnam's Corner on Oct. 21, 1889, the son of the late Lusher Hiram Harvey and his wife, the late Edna Viola Scott. He was a descendant of a pio- neer family which settled on the land where he was born well over 100 years ago.

Mr. Harvey had spent his entire lifetime on the farm, except for a few years in Stowe, Vt., until ill health forced him to retire four years ago, when he moved to Stan- bridge East. His youngest son, Junior, took over the farm, where generation is now grow- ing up.

The deceased was a member of the United Church at Farnam's Corner, a trustee of the church, a member of the Farnam's Corner Cemetery committee, of which he was a secretary - treasurer, and a member of the cemetery until ill health forced him to resign. On Feb. 21, 1917 he mar- ried Elma Maud Leggat, of Farnham's Corner. They had seven children, two of whom died in infancy.

Surviving him, besides his wife, are two daughters and three sons, Eunice, Mrs. Jones, of Bedford, Ida, Mrs. Clarence Darby, of Farnham, Clayton, of Stanbridge East, Calvin, of Dunham, and Junior at Farnam's Corner; 20 grand- children; two sisters, Gladys, Mrs. Charles Buchanan, and Jessie, Mrs. Arnold Jones, both of Cowansville; and other relatives.

Prayers were held at Dra- per's Funeral Home in Cow- ansville thence to the United Church at Farnam's Corner April 10. The service was con- ducted by Rev. McCord.

The hymns, Safe in the Arms of Jesus and In the Garden, were sung, with Miss McElroy at the organ and the Dunham choir in attendance.

The bearers were friends of the deceased, Lynn Spicer, Luther King, Herbert Perkins, Gordon Milmore, Clarence Martin and Carol Farnam.

Interment was in the family lot at Farnam's Corner. Those from a distance attend- ing the funeral were from Wa- terloo, Abbotsford, Barre, Vt., Cowansville, Granby, Bedford, Stanbridge East, Sutton, Farn- ham, Dunham. Also present were many friends and neigh- bors in the community.

ROY MASON SMITH, OF DANVILLE

DANVILLE — The death oc- curred in the Queen Mary Vet- erans' Hospital on April 10, 1964, of Roy Mason Smith, a veteran of four years service in World War I and on active member of Branch 41, Royal Canadian Legion of Danville.

For many years Mr. Smith had been the organizer for the Blood Donors Clinics for the Royal Victoria Hospital under the auspices of the Canadian Legion.

Son of the late George Smith and of his wife, Jennie Hudson, Mr. Smith worked for several years for the Canadian Customs at Rock Island and for Rugg- Ball, of Ayer's Cliff. He joined Canadian Johns-Manville Com- pany in 1935 and worked there until his retirement in October 1959.

Mr. Smith is survived by his wife, the former Hazel Little, a son, Stanley, and two grand- children, all of Danville; two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Paige, Grace, of Danville, and Mrs. William Vrbas, Audra, of Glas- bury, Conn.; three brothers, Ernest, of Courtney, B.C.; Foster, of Ottawa, Ont., and William, of Stanstead; as well as many other relatives.

The funeral service was held on April 13, at 2 p.m., in Trinity United Church, where he had served as an Elder for many years. The pastor, Rev. D. J. Hawkins, officiated assist- ed by Rev. L. G. Westman, padre of the Canadian Legion. The pall bearers, Allan Ful- ker, Roy Whitehead, Charles Webb, Elwyn Bushey, Thomas Barclay and Jack Hobbs, were all Legion members and close friends of the deceased.

Interment took place in Dan- ville cemetery beside his daugh- ter, Beulah, who predeceased him in 1943.

Relatives and friends attend- ing were from Glastonbury, Conn., Shelburne Falls, Mass., Windsor, Vt., Lebanon, N.H., St. Johnsbury, Vt., Beebe, Stan- stead, Ayer's Cliff, North Hat- ley, Richmond, Asbestos, Otta- wa, Lachute, Dorval and Mont- real.

IRVING LAURENCE, OF ORMSTOWN.

Formerly Of West Shefford

ORMSTOWN—After a lengthy illness, Irving Laurence died at the Barrie Memorial Hospital on March 30.

Mr. Laurence was the young- est son of the late H. Laurence and descendant of one of the ear- liest settlers of the Eastern Townships. He resided on the home farm at West Shefford until 1946, when ill health forced his retirement.

In 1947, he and his family moved to Ormstown. Though confined to a wheelchair for several years, he sustained a keen interest in current events. Mr. Laurence is survived by his wife, the former Alida Thompson; four sons, William and Robert, of Ormstown, Mal- colm, of Montreal, and John, of Scarborough, Ont.; two daugh- ters, Patricia, Mrs. James Mc- Caffery, and Mary, Mrs. Leslie Orr.

Funeral services were held in St. Paul's United Church here on April 2. Interment was in the family plot at West Shef- ford.

DAVID BARBER, OF GLEN SUTTON

GLEN SUTTON — The death of David Barber occurred April 3 at the Sweetsburg Hospital, following a short illness.

Mr. Barber was born in West Sutton, the son of the late Thomas Barber and his wife, Selma Tibbitts. He had spent the greater part of his life in this community.

He is survived by two bro- thers, Roy Barber, of Moose Jaw, Sask., and William Barber, of Stouffville, Ont., and by many other relatives. Two sis- ters and a brother predeceased him.

The funeral was held in the Wilson Funeral Home at Cow- ansville, conducted by Rev. Mr. Albiston, of Mansonville. Burial was in the Sweetsburg Ceme- tery, beside his parents and a sister, Miss Nellie Barber.

His two brothers were un- able to attend owing to illness. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Burnham and daughter, Margaret, of South Bolton; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burnham, of Glen Sutton; Mrs. Thomas Barber, Sweetsburg; Mr. and Mrs. George Premont, Knowlton; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barber and son, Kenneth, of Cowansville; as well as others from Glen Sutton, Sutton, Sweetsburg and Cowansville.

MISS LAURA WESTOVER, OF STANBRIDGE EAST

STANBRIDGE EAST — The death of Miss Laura E. West- over occurred on April 13, 1964, at the Bedford Hospital, where she had been a patient for the past six weeks.

Miss Westover was born at Frelighsburg, the youngest dau- ghter of the late James West- over and his wife, the late Mary L. Reynolds. She is sur- vived by a sister, Miss Mabel Westover, with whom she liv- ed. Two brothers predeceased her.

Miss Westover was a register- ed nurse, having taken her training in Garfield Memorial Hospital, Washington, D.C., and from which she graduated in 1915. With the exception of three years spent in the Haw- aian Islands, she nursed in Washington until illness forced her to return home.

The funeral service was held here in St. James Church, the rector, Rev. P. H. Hannen, offi- ciating, assisted by Rev. P. H. Stote.

Interment was in the family lot at Frelighsburg.

T. GEORGE PARSONS, OF BURY

BURY — After a long illness, the death occurred in the Sher- brooke Hospital on April 11, 1964, of Thomas George Par- sons at the age of 78 years. He had been in ill health for nearly 10 years.

On April 5, following a fall in which he suffered a broken hip and other injuries, he was taken to the Sherbrooke Hos- pital where he died a few days later.

Mr. Parsons was born Aug. 27, 1885, the youngest in the family of nine children of the late Thomas and Jane (Ellis) Parsons.

On Sept. 5, 1906, he mar- ried Nellie Lefebvre, eldest daughter of the late William Lefebvre and his wife Amelia Harrison of Bury. They took up their married life on the home farm, where they lived for 41 years, in 1947 they left the farm and moved to the village.

Do-it-yourself flies satisfying

MONTREAL (CP)—There is no more satisfying feeling for an angler than to catch a fish with something he has made himself," says Cliff Joudrey.

"He can make a fly for 10 cents while the fellow alongside him may be struggling with a plug he paid $2 for."

A member of the Montreal Anglers and Hunters Association, Joudrey has helped teach 1,500 men and women how to cast properly and how to make their own flies. It's done through a course organized 12 years ago.

"When the association asked me to work on this project, I envisaged a group of a dozen or so," Joudrey says. "We started in the Canadian Legion building on downtown Mountain Street but the class grew so fast we had to find larger space."

Classes are held one night a week for six weeks and the 240 students enrolled this spring are a record.

Two dozen volunteers help with the teaching. "Most of them started with us by taking the course and now they have instructors' badges. We are all ways on the lookout for those with an outstanding aptitude and recruit them as teachers."

Joudrey, whose interest in angling includes its history, says more words have been written on fishing than any other sport.

And while many know that the father of angling is Sir Isaac Walton, who published The Compleat Angler in 1653, few know the sport also has a "mother."

In 1496 Dame Juliana Bunes, said to have been the prioress of an English convent, wrote a treatise on Fishing With an Angle giving details of how to make artificial flies and listing 12 lures.

In recent times, Joudrey says, a new dimension has been added.

"Occupational therapy finds it useful in many ways. At one time, leather goods were the prime product. Now machinery can turn out the same quality at lower cost. This has not happened in fly-tying."

"Rehabilitation centres employ fly-tying now and many patients are finding themselves with a good business."

While sponsoring the course, the association is still mainly concerned with conservation,

Joudrey says. "It may seem strange to many people that we are conservation conscious because we are after game. However, we want to protect what we have from indiscretion, so we may enjoy it."

Golden Age Club is organized by Bedford church

BEDFORD — A meeting was held April 29, in the United Church hall for the purpose of organizing a new group in the church, to be known as the Golden Age Club. Rev. Peter Macaskill and Mrs. Macaskill were in charge of the afternoon's entertainment.

It was decided that a meeting be held once a month on the last Wednesday afternoon in the month. The club, which is for both older men and women will have varied programs, including singing, motion pictures and games. A small fee will be charged.

The afternoon concluded with the serving of refreshments which were in charge of Mrs. Oakes, Mrs. John Gough, Mrs. Otic Blair and Miss G. Vernal.

Mrs. John Gough was appointed to look after the programs.

BEEBE — The 19th annual reunion of the 5th Field Regiment, Royal Canadian Artillery will be held at the Del Monty Hotel, Rock Island, May 9 and 10.

The general meeting to be held on May 9 at 4 p.m. with dinner at 7 p.m.

The guest speaker is to be E. J. Struthers, past president Quebec Provincial Command, Royal Canadian Legion.

Parade to be on May 10 at 11 a.m., medals will be worn.

Friends at Gould fete bride-elect

GOULD — Mrs. E. C. Henry entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her home on April 27, in honor of Miss Doreen Coates, a bride-elect, who received many delightful gifts.

A social hour was enjoyed. All were pleased that Mrs. Annie Morrison, aged 89, a great aunt of Miss Coates, was able to attend. Other out of town guests were Mrs. D. MacIver, of Sherbrooke, and Mrs. A. Lancaster, of Bishopton.

H and S members hear debates by Cookshire pupils

COOKSHIRE — Debates by the Cookshire High School pupils were enjoyed by members of the A.B.C. Home and School Association at their monthly meeting, held in the High School. All participants had prepared their work carefully, and the judges, Mrs. J. A. Murray, Mrs. Robert Smith and Rev. J. R. Skuce, took some time to make the decisions.

The juniors, composed of Fraser Bellam, Minto Learned and Linda Beattie, on the affirmative side, and Colleen Coates, Joel Waldron and Emily Hamilton, on the negative side, debated on, Television Defeats Aims of Modern Education. The negative side were declared the winners.

The seniors, composed of Lloyd Learned, Catherine Todd and Stephen Beliveau on the affirmative side, and Stephen Osgood, Margaret Wood and Deborah Todd on the negative side, chose for their topic of debate, Man's Future Progress Depends on Motivation. The affirmative side won in this debate.

The debaters showed that they are learning to think for themselves, and are able to communicate ideas to their audience.

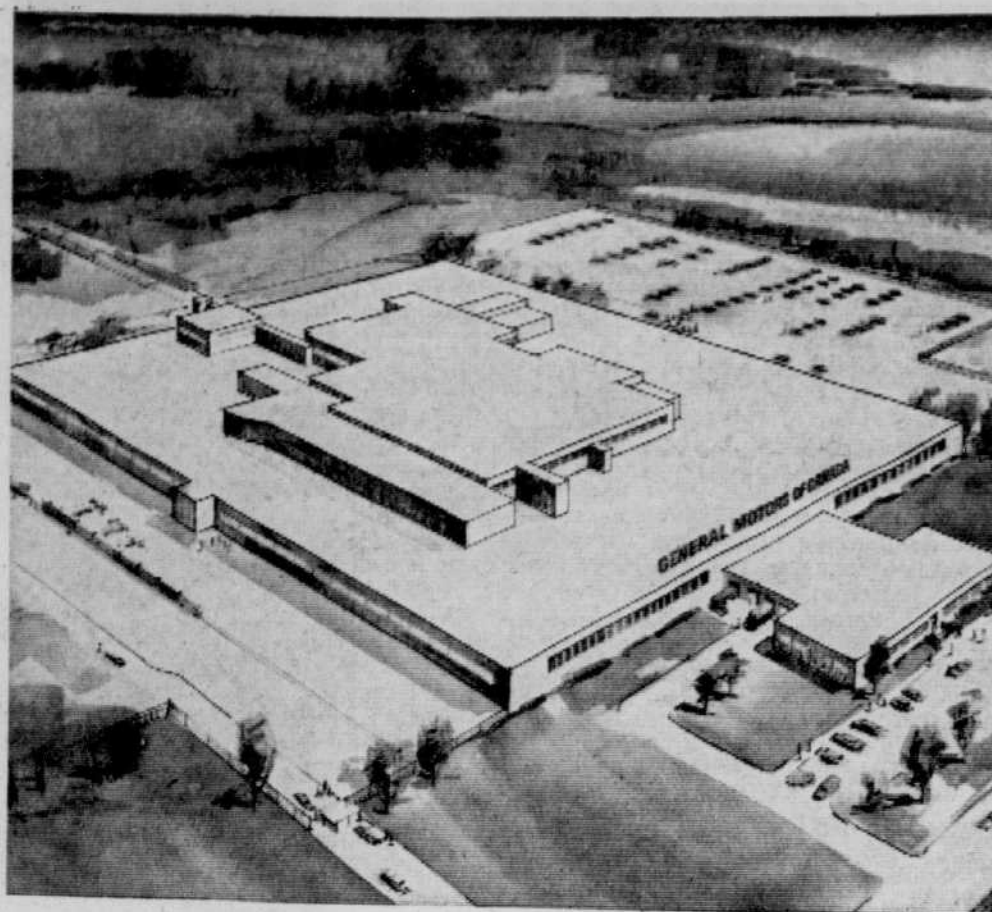

The individual winners were: Juniors, Linda Beattie, Emily Hamilton, Colleen Coates. Seniors, Lloyd Learned, Stephen Osgood, Margaret Wood. These names will be inscribed on the school trophies. A. Beliveau presented the junior trophy, and W. Hamilton, the senior trophy.

Between debates, while the judges were totaling up the marks, two students, Marilyn Fraser and Brian Heath, gave a description of the bus trip of Grades 10 and 11 to New York.

Various public buildings were visited and a boat trip taken. Brian Heath thanked all who had contributed in any way to make the trip possible.

The president of the association, Darrell Bellam, thanked all the participants for their evening's entertainment.

A short business meeting was held prior to the entertainment, when a nominating committee was appointed to bring in the following slate of officers to next meeting, Alden Learned, of Cookshire, Archie Moore, of Bulwer, Alfred Beliveau, of East Angus.

PROPOSED GM PLANT — This is an artist's conception of the new passenger car assembly plant to be built in suburban Montreal by General Motors of Canada. The plant will have more than one million square feet under roof and will employ 2,500 people at capacity. Construction will begin within a few weeks and the plant will be ready for production in the Fall of 1965. The Montreal assembly plant is part of GM's $120,000,000 current expansion program in Canada.

Sailor-painter lives life well

VANCOUVER (CP) — Bill Rudolph is a sailor and an artist.

He doesn't often let painting interfere with sailing but it happens occasionally, right now for example.

After spending 20 months in the South Pacific, he has returned to Vancouver for two months of painting. Then it will be back to sea.

Rudolph left here July 18, 1962, intending to sail around the world in his 42-foot topsail schooner Seawif. He didn't get quite that far but he managed to visit 50 Pacific islands.

With him was crew member Virginia Cook, 22, of Alert Bay, B.C., "a natural-born sailor" who took charge of the schooner in Honolulu when Rudolph returned here.

For despite the proportionately great amount of time Rudolph devotes to sailing, his reputation as an artist is rising. And when a new cabaret here wanted some murals it called on Rudolph.

A native of Germany, Rudolph came to Canada 10 years ago and landed in Toronto with $5. He worked as a hod carrier for a short time before coming here.

BUILT BOATS

He went into the boat-building business and sold 40 small craft before starting on the Seawif. It took him two years to complete the hull and another two for the rigging.

A handsome, stocky, blond man, Rudolph is an experienced navigator and, if necessary, cook. Of the five yachts that left here for the South Seas in 1962, Seawif was the only one to reach New Zealand. Some got no farther than San Diego, Calif.

Between Tahiti and New Zealand, where the Seawif put in last September, Rudolph had two crew members, Miss Cook and a Tahitian girl named Terai Mateata Mara (Sky With-out Clouds). Terai spoke no English and the common language aboard was a mixture of Tahitian and French.

Rudolph, who visited such islands as the Marquesas, Cook Island, Samoa and Fiji, had intended to continue his voyage westward by way of the Orient but changed his mind when the painting commission called.

His travels haven't been without incident—"I've experienced everything the ocean has to offer, including a storm on the edge of the roaring 40s in which a wave carried away the jib, stove in the bulwarks and forced caulking of the ship's seams"—but he says budding yachtsmen shouldn't let things like that worry them.

"Don't let yourself be talked out of it," he says. "If you listen to everyone's advice, you're doomed from the start."

Richmond

Mr. and Mrs. C. Goulet, of Grand'Mere, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. F. Harris of New York City, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Boast.
