

CHANCELLOR OF EXCHEQUER REFERRED TO IMPERIAL ASPECT OF PROTECTION

Neville Chamberlain Says Situation Is Different From What It Was Twenty Years Ago—Canada, For One, Is Turning Part Of Territory Into Great Industrial Areas And Other Parts Of Empire Moving In The Same Direction

London, Nov. 28.—(By Canadian Press Cable)—Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, speaking in London today, referred to the Imperial aspect of Premier Baldwin's protection policy.

"I quite agree," he said, "that you cannot get full effect in Imperial developments unless you secure to the Dominions a market for their goods in the British Isles. Personally I believe that some day it will be worth while pursuing our investigations far into that aspect of the policy in order to see whether it would not be possible to obtain from the Dominions a sufficient quid pro quo to justify us in giving them security for their agricultural produce. Lloyd George did his best to suppress and destroy that policy twenty years ago, and when he now says it was the only statesmanlike part of the policy which he could support he lost sight of the fact that in the last twenty years the situation had changed both at home and in the Dominions. Twenty years ago the Dominions were par excellence agricultural in character. The situation is different to-day. Take Canada, year after year Canada is harnessing her great resources in water power and turning part of her territory into great industrial areas. There are indications that Australia and even India are moving in the same direction. The result is that whereas twenty years ago you could only help the Dominions by giving them a preference on wheat and meat, to-day there is another aspect of the question.

There is a call for Imperial preference on the general tariff which did not exist twenty years ago."

Continuing, Mr. Chamberlain said:

Refers to Meighen's Speeches.
"Mr. Meighen, leader of the Conservative party in Canada, addressing the associated boards of trade in Ontario recently, said that all the business men in Canada should comprehend the significance of Premier Baldwin's new fiscal policy and realize that Imperial preference would be of overshadowing importance in the development of Canadian export trade. Mr. Meighen added that even if Canada got a preference in nothing more than manufactured goods the benefit would be almost incalculable. It may be said that if the Dominions are going to develop their industries, that their market in the future will be less valuable to us than it has been in the past. I don't believe that. It takes a long time to build up new industries in a country and the first result of starting new industries in the Dominions would be to increase their wealth and population and also increase their demand for goods which they are still manufacturing for themselves. I am certain that in the future as in the past the Dominions will be our best customers. It is, however, essential when they are starting in this new line, that we should endeavor to tie them to us by a system of mutual preferences so that this new development may prove a great bond between us rather than a means of separation. (Cheers.)

Most Important in Case of Canada.
"Of all the Dominions this is the most important in the case of Canada because Canada's geographical location tends to make traffic pass from north to south rather than from west to east.

"Every inducement exists for trade to pass across the frontier rather than across the ocean. But Canada is overcoming these natural obstacles. She is turning her trade westward and eastward. We should do all we can to encourage, develop and strengthen that feeling. I find that I am more easily influenced by appeal to my reason than by appeal to my emotions. I have endeavored to put before you, not catchwords, but appeals to your angry passions, but rather one or two considerations which may not have been altogether present in your minds."

Prepared to Pay Everybody.
Sir John Leigh, Conservative, who probably is safe for re-election in the Clapham division of Wandsworth, London, recently said to Lord Beaverbrook the Pall Mall Gazette which he acquired a few years ago and Lord Beaverbrook has now combined it with the Evening Standard.

Sir John has been asked why he did not pay the staff of the Pall Mall Gazette the customary salary in lieu of notice of dismissal.

It had been alleged that had it not been for Lord Beaverbrook paying the Gazette staff for some proportion of their time, instead of their being given the usual notice, they might have been turned into street sweepers with empty pockets.

Sir John Leigh has replied to the query by saying that he was prepared to pay everybody on the Gazette staff on a basis satisfactory to the national union of journalists and the newspaper proprietors' association.

Heard by 30,000 People.

Extraordinary scenes marked the progress of the House of Commons debate to Preston. He delivered eight speeches on the journey in the course of which there were vigorous exchanges between him and the Socialists and other interruptions. His audience in every case was increased by the use of loud speaking apparatus and in this way 30,000 people listened to him in Bolton.

In his speech at Preston, Lloyd George exercised his wit at the expense of Lord Derby whom he described as an erring son of Lancashire. He said Lord Derby who was an old friend of his was tonight giving an exhibition of looping the loop—one moment a free trader and the next moment a tariff reformer and back again. One moment sitting upright for this principle of free trade and the next moment with head down and heels up for protection. Lord Derby would have fallen off long ago had he not been strapped to his seat.

Like a Harpooned Walrus.
Nobody could find out where Lord Derby stood on free trade, Lloyd George declared, Derby flopped and floundered about like a harpooned walrus.

Manchester was exporting more cotton goods than any other country in the world, including the United States, where the raw material was grown, Lloyd George said. No tariff, he asserted could exclude the goods from foreign countries. All the efforts of the United States to exclude them by tariffs had failed.

THREE NORTH DAKOTA BANKS HAVE BEEN CLOSED

Bismarck, N.D., Nov. 28.—Three North Dakota State banks having aggregate deposits of $264,000 have been closed, according to information received today by the State Banking Commission here. The banks are: State Bank of Rolla, capital $10,000, deposits $120,000; Farmers' Bank of Crary, capital $25,000, deposits $101,000; and the American Exchange Bank of Watford City, capital $20,000, deposits $43,000.

FURTHER TREASURES HAVE BEEN DISCOVERED

Luxor, Egypt, Nov. 28.—Eleven miniature cars presumably intended for the use of Tutankhamen when he came to cross the dark stream beyond which lay the fruitful fields where dwell the dead, are understood to have been found by Howard Carter while searching this morning inside the outer canopy of the mortuary chapel of the Pharaoh's tomb. Another find reported was a three-pronged candlestick.

PROMOTER, ARRESTED

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 28.—Floyd Fitzsimmons, widely known boxing promoter, was arrested in Benton Harbor this morning and arraigned here on a charge of failing to turn over to the Government some $5,400 collected as Federal tax on a boxing match held in Michigan City, Indiana, July 4 last year.

Floyd Fitzsimmons, Benton Harbor boxing promoter, returned here today. He denied that he owed the Government more than $5,000 in taxes as the result of a bout staged in Michigan City on July 4, 1923. He said the amount now due the Government from 1923 bouts was $1,700.

HEARD RUMORS BUT COULD NOT RECALL NAMES

A Number Of Witnesses Are Heard In Nicol-Noel Libel Case

MAGISTRATE ON STAND

Had Heard Rumors Connecting Mr. Nicol With The Granting Of Licenses

Sherbrooke, Que., Nov. 28.—The feature of the third day's hearing of the Nicol-Noel libel case was the evidence of Judge J. H. Lemay, former member in the provincial house who declared that at a special session of 10 French Canadian Liberals in 1917, it was proposed to elect a French-Canadian as successor to F. N. McCrea, M.P., for Sherbrooke County, as the latter had not pronounced himself strongly enough insofar as conscription was concerned.

Judge Lemay declared that Nicol spoke very strongly against McCrea while Dr. Noel and Fortin had refused to consider any change.

After the noon recess, Arthur Ballargeon related a conversation with Dr. Noel in which the latter, he alleged, asked him how much it was costing him for his license, in reply to which he answered nothing.

Joseph D. Tremblay, former chairman of the Public Committee stated that he had heard rumors about Nicol trafficking in liquor licenses to the effect that anybody wanting licenses could not do otherwise than see Nicol.

Could Not Name Authors.

He was unable to name the authors of the rumors he had heard. Tremblay admitted that he had given a copy of some of the Committee's correspondence to Dr. Noel. He had heard Dr. Noel was making an investigation and had therefore called him up and asked him if the letter would be of any help to him.

Telephone Belanger, Commissioner of the Superior Court, before whom Benoit's affidavit had been sworn maintained that he heard rumors of Nicol's dealing in licenses prior to October 1922. He was unable to remember any individual names. He was advised of the different affidavits and said the incidents had been discussed at his office by Dr. Noel, Gedeon Begin and himself.

Mr. Geoffrion referred to them as the "triumvirate" which had decided an "enquete" was essential and that the office of Belanger and Begin had been used as a rendezvous where the proceedings were discussed from day to day.

Mr. Belanger stated that they decided that an investigation was necessary for the good of the party and they wanted to let their chief know what was going on.

Magistrate Gives Evidence.

District Magistrate J. H. Lemay, former Liberal member for Sherbrooke County, was the last witness to take the stand.

St. Germain:—"While Deputy did you hear rumors relative to the granting of licenses in Sherbrooke to which rumors Mr. Nicol's name was attached? If so what were they?"

Judge J. H. Lemay—"Yes, I heard them then. They were to the effect that when licenses could not be gotten, Mr. Nicol should be seen. Ludger Roy was the first to speak to me about it. He came to my office and said he had made a request for a license and at the suggestion of Cote, had gone to see Mr. Nicol, but that Mr. Nicol had said him along to me. I told him the same as I had told the others that the Deputy had nothing to do with granting of license. He asked me what I thought of his going to Nicol as it had been suggested that you could go to Nicol with money. Other people also mentioned it to me, but knowing Nicol as I did, I knew he was too intelligent to receive small sums of money for that."

Mr. Aime Geoffrion objected strongly to Lemay's evidence regarding events of 1917 on the ground that same was not pertinent to the issue and could have no bearing on the judgment, inasmuch as the incidents referred to were in 1917, whereas the cause for alleged libel took place in 1922. His Lordship agreed that counsel for the plaintiff should have raised the point earlier in the case and duly allowed the evidence under reserve.

Lemay will continue his evidence Friday while a number of ministers are likely to attend tomorrow.

MILITARY COUP IS FOLLOWED BY DISSOLUTION

Rhineland Government Has Fallen And Separatist Chief Has Fled

OTHERS ARRESTED

But All Except Those Who Went Over To Dictatorship Were Released

Dusseldorf, Nov. 28.—"The Rhineland republic stands but the Government has fallen."

Thus Joseph Matthes, one of the Chiefs in the Separatist movement announced today his dissolution of the Provisional Government which followed quickly upon an inter-Allied military coup at Coblenz. Matthes fled when the dictatorship was set up.

The other members of his Cabinet were placed under arrest but later some of them were released and others joined the new dictatorship. Regarding his future plans, Herr Matthes was non-committal. Matthes showed to the correspondents a letter he said he sent to Paul Tirard, president of the Inter-Allied Rhineland Commission, announcing the dissolution of the Provisional Government and informed him that the main organizer of the military coup was a man named Rosenbaum, who until a few days ago was Matthes' private secretary.

It is further stated in the letter Rosenbaum is a native of Cologne, speaking French fluently and was a Prussian spy. Rosenbaum had worked with French firms of high standing and was under no suspicion. Within the past week, two or three members of the de facto Cabinet resigned, according to the letter and the remainder split into two parts, leaving independent Cabinet decrees.

"The so-called high army command, which was dissolved a fortnight ago by Dr. Doreen and his faction, as well as by myself," continues the letter, "has attempted a military dictatorship, in which the principal part was played by my secretary Rosenbaum who proved to have been a Prussian spy working under orders from Frankfurt, after being in the French service for the same object. This military dictatorship which used funds liberally, has attempted to seize the power from the fact Cabinet."

Cabinet Was Powerless

"The military dictatorship, however, took no steps against me personally, although the Cabinet was powerless to resist its efforts. This, as well as the fact that the Provisional Government was composed of incompetent or dishonest persons, caused me to take the above step."

Last night Matthes assembled the remnants of his Cabinet for a meeting in the old castle, the provisional seat of the Government since Coblenz was made Capital of the Rhineland.

As Matthes entered for the meeting he observed several members of the guard scurrying about with carbines and shot weapons. He asked Herr Merz, who appeared to be the generalissimo of the new dictatorship, what was up and was informed "absolutely nothing."

Our men are somewhat restless on the third floor; we are trying to reduce them to order."

Matthes then went into the meeting which had been barely begun when a deputation from the third floor, armed with rifles appeared at the door and declared that the members of the Cabinet were arrested and that a new military dictatorship had been formed.

Matthes again informed the deputation that the military command had already been dissolved by decree but his words were without effect. He asked the members of the Cabinet what they proposed to do. They seemed to equivocate, so, feeling himself without sufficient support, as he relates it, he decided then and there to declare the Cabinet dissolved. Matthes was allowed to leave undisturbed, but the others remained for some time under arrest.

MONTREAL BUSINESS MAN DIED SUDDENLY AT SEA

Montreal, Nov. 28.—A wireless received here today from the steamship Regina, relayed from Louisbourg, Cape Breton, stated that Edward Denning, well known produce man of this city had been seized with pneumonia aboard that vessel and died suddenly about eight this morning. He was in his 42nd year. Burial will probably take place at sea off the Newfoundland coast.

POLICE BELIEVE THEY CAPTURED MURDER GANG

New York Officers Claim They Have Untangled Far Reaching Plot

TEN ARRESTED

Actual Murderers Of Bank Messengers Missing But Cannot Well Escape

New York, Nov. 28.—The police to-night announced they had untangled the plot which led to the slaying of the two West End bank messengers and the theft of $43,697 in a Brooklyn elevated station Nov. 14, through leads developed in their investigation of this crime, had uncovered clues pointing to a cabal of crime, responsible for many other murders, holdups and automobile thefts within the last few months.

This note of victory was sounded after a day of lightning swift developments, during which:

1.—Anthony Pantano, a Brooklyn salesman, who confessed having under pressure informed the plotters of the bank messengers' movements, was arrested and then six more suspects were rounded up in a raid on a Bronx apartment.

2.—Pantano, along with Barlow Morris Diamond and his brother Joseph, arrested several days ago, were thoroughly quizzed, and Pantano was held as a material witness, while charges of murder and robbery remained against the Diamond brothers.

Held As Material Witnesses.

3.—Three of the Bronx suspects—Eduardo Capablanca, Angelo Farina and Nicolo Luciana—were detained as material witnesses, after, it was alleged, they were present when the plot was hatched in a house in the Bronx.

4.—Michael Mezzano, a boxer, and another suspect rounded in the Bronx raid, was virtually cleared of complicity in the Brooklyn robbery, but was detained on a charge of homicide after he had been identified as the slayer of Jacob Bankoff, a Manhattan druggist, during the holdup of his store on November 13, the day before the Brooklyn murders. Mezzano was identified by Clement de Vries, Bankoff's clerk, quite accidentally, when he went to police headquarters to look over rogue's gallery pictures and spotted Mezzano in the lineup.

5.—The other two men rounded up in the Bronx, Craclo Caserta and Vincio Lanida, were released after the police were satisfied that they were only laborers and not involved in the crime.

6.—The police announced they had started a nation-wide search for the two actual murderers and the driver of the car in which they had fled.

Diamond Brothers Doubtless

7.—Detectives announced that the Diamond brothers, at first believed to have got the entire loot, had been doublecrossed by the missing trio after receiving only $9,300 and being betrayed by the gunmen, who left in the murder car, when they abandoned it, automobile license plates belonging to Joseph.

8.—District Attorney Dodd, of Brooklyn, announced that through leads discovered today, he believed he soon would get his hand on Carlo A. Caraculano, a printer, sought on charges of murder and arson, in connection with the bulleting to death of six persons, including George Keim, a playwright, in a house in Brooklyn last month. Two men already are under arrest in the case.

9.—Detectives working on the bank case discovered in the possession of suspects more stolen automobiles promising the solution of numerous thefts in New York, Connecticut and other States.

Indulged In Bootlegging.

10.—Discovery of stills indicating that the cabal indulged in bootlegging on the side.

Police Inspector Coughlin, after his reconstruction of the plot which led to the slaying of the bank messengers in one of the boldest robberies ever committed in this city, expressed belief that from evidence now in hand, charges of first degree murder could be preferred against only three others besides the Diamond brothers.

During its meeting here the League Committee heard the Hungarian Finance and Commerce Ministers and other experts.

WINDING UP OF PORT ACTIVITIES

Very Few Boats Now Entering Or Leaving Local Or Other St. Lawrence Ports

That the shipping traffic of the St. Lawrence is officially ended for 1923 is evidenced by the fact that not a single vessel was reported as arriving at the port of Montreal yesterday, while only two steamers, the "Bawtry" for Liverpool and the "Hagar County" for Hamburg sailed from that port, the "Bawtry" passing Quebec shortly after nine o'clock last night.

There is only one trans-Atlantic passenger liner here at present, this being the Canadian Pacific Montaurier which is scheduled to sail for Liverpool today at day-break. She will carry some 3,500 tons of cargo from this port, including 68,000 bushels of grain, the remainder of her cargo consisting of boxed meats, flour, lard, etc., the loading of which has kept about 160 men busy since her arrival here late last week.

The Canadian Government boats Algon and Montclair still ply to and fro in the river, but otherwise with the exception of the arrivals and clearings of one or two small freighters daily, there is now very little activity in the local port.

ADVANCE BOOKINGS OF WORLD CRUISES

Important Events To Take Place In European Countries Attract Tourists

European travel is susceptible to conditions here and abroad. Last spring, especially during the early months, there was a marked falling off in the number of American travelers going abroad. At this time, however, the outlook is very different. The trans-Atlantic lines and the leading tourist agencies watch closely the record of advance bookings and inquiries for space on ships sailing during the months of March and April. From the bookings made during the past month a very accurate idea can be gained of the number of travelers sailing next season to European ports.

"The many attractions scheduled during the tourist season in various parts of Europe, no doubt, account for the large number of inquiries we are receiving for detailed information of these events and requests for reservations from travelers," said Mr. J. I. Young, head of the Thos. Cook & Son travel agency in the United States and Canada in a recent interview.

"Among the more important of these events is the British Empire Exhibition in London from April to October, the World Sunday School Convention in Glasgow, the Bar Association in London, the Olympic Games in Paris and the International Convention of Advertising Clubs in London."

"Of the 2,500 travelers making the World Cruise and nearly 3,000 cruising the Mediterranean this winter a large number of the passengers will take advantage of stop-over privileges in Europe returning at later dates."

"Present indications point to both an early and heavy Spring travel to Europe. The increase in tonnage of the various steamship lines offer ample accommodations but many experienced travelers have already started reserving space on ships as early as March."

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys If Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers.

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel them from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or a sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these, irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. These famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

OUTLINES WORK OF INSTITUTION

President Of Antioch College Says It Is Giving Well Proportioned Training

Boston, Nov. 28.—In an address today before the Twentieth Century Club Arthur E. Morgan, president of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, outlined the work of this institution in giving young men and young women a well proportioned training for modern life. He clarified the possibility of educating youth successfully both culturally and professionally, and at the same time. Mr. Morgan spoke in part as follows:

"Of 1,500,000 American filling administrative positions, only one in 10 is a college graduate. But the other 90 or 99 per cent are not educated. Charles M. Schwab recently remarked to a university graduating class: 'The education men get in the workshops of this country is just as much education as the education you men and women have received here.'"

"The professional educator tends to ignore any but his own field. Liberal colleges center the student's attention upon cultural subjects, commonly leaving him ignorant of practical life and of any vocation."

"Technical schools train technicians, who do not graduate ignorant of the world of educated men and the world of practical experience. The self-made man frequently feels that the school of hard knocks after all is best."

"There is no reason, except habit and tradition, for the separation of these elements of education. They are all necessary, and all can be united in a single program. Such a program is in operation at Antioch College. Here class room time is divided about equally between cultural courses, aimed to develop liberally trained men and women, and technical or professional courses. In addition the student spends part time in economic work."

"Half the students work while the other half study. At the end of each five-week period those at college go to work, and those at work return to college. Each job is filled by two students alternating."

"In engineering, journalism, business administration, or other callings for men and women, aim to train for all round administration, rather than for specialized technique."

"Students are carefully selected from all parts of the country. Only serious and intelligent boys and girls can keep the pace; if others gain admission, they soon drop out."

"The alternation of work and study finds students keen for both. Dr. Charles W. Eliot recently called Antioch the most interesting and important educational experiment in America."

A FRENCH CANADA STEAMSHIP ROUTE

French Line Ships Will Sail From Bordeaux Direct To Halifax

Inauguration of a direct France-Canada steamship service from Bordeaux is announced by the Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique, the company having completed arrangements to have its well-known liners Roussillon and La Bourdonnais call regularly at Halifax on their sailings from Bordeaux to New York. The growing amount of Canadian business, both in passenger and freight traffic, is given as the reason for the change. La Bourdonnais, which sailed from Bordeaux November 23, will be the first to call at the Nova Scotia port.

This will be the first time that ships of the Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique, commonly known as the French Line, have called regularly at a Canadian port since 1914. Prior to the war the company's steamers maintained a regular service between Montreal and Havre, but this was suspended on the outbreak of hostilities.

MILLIONAIRE LEADS COMMUNISTS

Ferdinand, Bulgaria, Nov. 4.—(By Mail)—Katcho Dimoff, millionaire dealer in gasoline and lubricating oils, was the leader of the local communists in their recent vain efforts to overthrow the Tsankoff government and set up a Soviet republic. Asked why he was conspicuous in a movement aimed at the denial of property rights, Dimoff said: "There are other rights to be considered beside my own."

PROHIBITION DIRECTOR

Rum Smuggling, He Claims, Would Not Be Very Profitable For "Runner"

Washington, Nov. 28.—Federal Prohibition Director Stone, of North Dakota, returned to-day after a visit to Winnipeg where he investigated conditions under which liquor is being sold in Manitoba. He reported that restrictions on the sale are "very tight" and despite reports to the contrary little liquor was coming across the border into the United States.

In his report, made to Federal Commissioner Haynes, Mr. Stone said that few persons were crossing the Canadian border to purchase liquor in Manitoba, but that "as long as they are selling $12,000 worth of hard liquor a day, a little is bound to leak across the border."

"Of course a 'runner' from the States might have assistants in Manitoba who buy the liquor for him," Mr. Stone added, "but they can only buy a case a day and if they buy the limit for any length of time, the police are going to become suspicious. By the time the 'runner' has paid his agents and gets his cargo across the border his price must necessarily be beyond most people and he does not find he business very profitable."

Enforcement of the prohibition laws, so far as the Department of Justice has jurisdiction, is steadily advancing," Attorney-General Daugherty declared in a statement to-day reviewing present enforcement conditions in a number of States.

More Respect For Prohibition Laws "There is becoming more and more respect for these laws," the Attorney-General said, "because of the concerted forces which have been enabled to enlist and apply against those who would attempt to defy them."

Mr. Daugherty emphasized particularly the effect of the recent invoking of the tariff act against border smugglers, especially in the vicinity of Detroit, and also the more intensive application of the "padding" provisions of the enforcement act. Referring to procedure under the tariff act, he said: "County and State officials of Michigan have been co-operating very intelligently with the Federal agencies under the Department of Justice, and the result has been that if it could not get these border bootleggers under one charge we got them on another. The results in this way have been particularly marked since the recent conference of Governors called by President Coolidge."

A summary of reports from Federal attorneys throughout the country given out today at prohibition headquarters showed that from July 1, 1922, to October 31, 1923, a total of 55,626 indictments were returned on information filed; 43,339 convictions obtained and fines of $6,170,198 imposed. Combined jail sentences totalled 2,771 years, one month and 21 days, the report showed.

Mr. Ernest Fournier, nee F. Michaud, died at about six o'clock yesterday at Levis.

Mrs. Fournier was returning from Quebec when, on taking an electric car, she was stricken by heart failure, and was seen to suddenly fall several small packages, a handbag and the money for her fare on the car, and drop unconscious to the ground.

Mr. Henri Verreault and several others immediately went to her assistance and carried her to Mr. Dion's drug store near by.

Rev. Father Thurmell and Doctor Romeo Roy were called, the last Sacraments being administered by the priest, and the lady passed away a few minutes later.

The body was transported by Mr. L. E. Fortier, undertaker, to her residence. The late brother of the deceased, Mr. F. Michaud, also expired suddenly while staying at the Dumont boarding house on St. Louis street some time ago.

ILLNESS CAUSES HEAVY LOSSES AMONG WORKERS London, Nov. 28.—(By Mail)—The value of public health to the nation may be judged from the following statistics.

During the past 12 months, persons with health insurance lost 19,500,000 weeks of work. Add those who are not insured, and experts say this total would reach 30,000,000 weeks of work lost to the country through ill health of the work-population. At an average wage of $10 a week, the figures mean $300,000,000 for the year.

OPTIMISTIC AS TO THE FUTURE

Deputy Minister Of Agriculture Believes Store Cattle Trade Will Improve

(By Canadian Press) Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, returned from his recent visit to Great Britain in an optimistic mood as to the future of the Canadian trade in store cattle.

"The stocker trade of ours has met with many setbacks," he says, "and has had many obstacles put in its way, but it looks to me as if we were now over the hill, and I am confident that very much more satisfactory progress and much more certain and remunerative returns may be expected from now forward."

Dr. Grisdale looked into Canada's trade generally with Great Britain in agricultural produce. Canadian apples, he says, enjoy a very good reputation in the Old Country, as also do Canadian eggs. Trade over there in Canadian bacon is improving. The Deputy Minister, however, was not too optimistic about the British market for Canadian butter and cheese.

In company with Duncan Marshall, Commissioner of Agriculture, Dr. Grisdale went to Great Britain with a special view to improving conditions under which store cattle are admitted, and an announcement in this connection will be issued shortly by the Department.

Many British farmers welcome Canadian cattle and speak highly of them. Dr. Grisdale reports, while many others are evidently doing all they can to injure the reputation of Canadian stockers. "Nevertheless," he adds, "our cattle are making steady progress in the estimation of the British feeder, and I have no doubt but that in a short time they will enjoy just as if not a better reputation than they ever did, since, according to the salesmen in Great Britain, Canadian store being sent over now are quite equal to and in many cases superior to, those that found their way across thirty years ago."

At the Norwich fat stock show held recently, says the Deputy Minister, two classes for Canadian cattle were put on by friendly dealers. The entry in those classes was fair, there being nine Canadian cattle competing. A cable just received by Dr. Grisdale from a Mr. Chapman of Fakenham, who was largely responsible for the Canadian exhibit, reads:—"At Norwich fat cattle show the Canadian exhibit was greatly admired. It has been a most excellent advertisement for Canada. The fine cattle exhibited sold for an average of 558 14s. Two of the cattle made 66s and 67s, respectively. Many very gratifying comments are appearing in the papers."

GERMANY FACES
BANKRUPTCY

Will No Longer Be Able To Meet Public Payrolls, Says Democratic Leader

Berlin, Nov. 28.—Germany is immediately confronted with a plain case of a state of bankruptcy and will no longer be able to meet her public payrolls, in the opinion of Dr. George Goehin, Democratic Reichstag leader, who today vigorously upbraided the Socialists and German Nationalists for having needlessly precipitated a parliamentary crisis.

Dr. Goehin declared Germany's only salvation in the

MR. FIELDING'S BIRTHDAY.

The Chronicle the other day celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary and can therefore to a certain extent enter into the feelings of Hon. W. S. Fielding, who is receiving congratulations from all parts of Canada, regardless of party distinctions, on the occasion of his seventy-fifth birthday, which he celebrated on Saturday last.

In length and prominence of public service he stands alone with Sir George Foster, but can fairly claim to have outlasted his Conservative friend, since he is still enduring the burden and heat of the day in the Commons while Sir George has been glad to seek a well-earned otium cum dignitate in the Upper House.

It is, in fact, surprising that a man of his years should be able to carry off so onerous a position with apparent ease. In addition to his activities as Minister of Finance, Mr. Fielding, during the past few months has been acting Prime Minister and in both sessions of the present Parliament he has proved himself to be the most effective debater on the Government side.

Mr. Fielding entered politics first in 1882, when he was elected to the Nova Scotia Legislature at a time when the present Prime Minister and the Opposition leader were barely out of kindergarten. In 1884 he became Prime Minister of his native Province, holding the post until 1896, when he retired to enter the Laurier Ministry. For over forty years therefore Mr. Fielding has been active in Canadian public life and whatever opinions may be maintained as to the merits of such things as his famous reciprocity proposals there will be no dissent from the tribute that he has served his country faithfully and acceptably during all that time.

Compliments from Liberal newspapers may be regarded as a matter of course, but there is real significance in the spontaneous expressions of appreciation that have been forthcoming from the opposition press. Thus we find the Montreal Gazette observing that Mr. Fielding is perfection for his political friends and to others he has no serious defect other than that of being on the wrong side. While the London Free Press which is perhaps the most fervent Tory advocate in Canada at the present time is led to declare that "if there is any boss in the King Ministry, it is the little gray man from Nova Scotia. When Mr. Fielding comes to resign, and he cannot run on forever, the King Government will lose its chief pillar. It is safe to say that to-day the biggest asset of the unpopular ministry now installed in Ottawa is the confidence of the business world of Canada in the sound judgment of Mr. Fielding."

MODERNIZED MACBETH.

That well known American periodical The Saturday Evening Post has been publishing in its latest issues a serial story entitled "Instruments of Darkness" which comes from the pen of Alice Duer Miller, a frequent contributor to the columns of the Post. To the casual reader this probably appears as a more or less ordinary piece of criminal fiction intended to curdle one's blood. Indeed it would be interesting to find out just how many of the Post's two million and a half subscribers have recognized for what it really is: the tragic drama "Macbeth" of a certain Mr. William Shakespeare presented in modernized and novelized form.

Whether Alice Duer Miller has been trying to hoax her public or merely to make a literary experiment we do not know. But she certainly cannot be accused of trying to cover up her traces and on that account the latter theory is the more probable. Not only is the title taken straight from Macbeth, but the passage in which it is included serves as a prefatory text while the names of the characters have been lifted straight from the dramatic personae. Macbeth, it is true, becomes Bethson and Banquo is half-concocted as Banks, but there is no deception about Duncan and Cawdor.

The author is entitled to credit for having cast a present day atmosphere over the action with workmanlike skill, but in the handling of the plot, the situations and even the dialogue she verges perilously close upon plagiarism, whether deliberately or not. We are aware that Shakespeare himself adopted stories that were already generally familiar and that Moliere openly declared, "Je prends mon bien où je le trouve." But what these men of genius borrowed they made their own while Alice Duer Miller has been satisfied or else obliged to imitate and to copy, with an effect that is one of burlesque rather than anything else to the Shakespearean student.

The action is advanced from situation to situation each of which is essentially identical with its counterpart in the original tragedy while the dialogue has been slavishly reproduced in a twentieth century dress that reminds one strongly of well-meant attempts to turn the Bible into colloquial English.

If this sort of production is to become at all popular, no pen-pusher need rack his brains for a plot and the last treasure has been pillaged from the world's classics. Considered as an experiment it is held to the point of impudence, but we cannot say that the result is sufficiently impressive to justify the effort that was no doubt put into it. Improving upon or re-modelling Shakespeare are things that simply cannot be done and Alice Duer Miller will be wise in limiting herself to less hazardous flights for the future.

MUNICIPAL WHO'S WHO IN CANADA.

There is shortly being published a record of municipal men which will be interesting to all those who are following civic questions in this country, entitled "Municipal Who's Who of Canada."

Throughout Canada we can pick out the name of a mayor who is very much in the limelight, but as to those who are serving their community faithfully, and this is true in the great majority of cases, we do not know who they are. This work is being prepared to answer just such questions.

The work is a very considerable undertaking as there are nearly fifty thousand municipal men in Canada. It will be published in chapters, the first being devoted to Mayors of communities of one thousand or over, and this will include members of Councils and officials.

The data included will contain a wonderful amount of information of reference value, and as photographs of many of the principal mayors will accompany their biography the volume will have a touch of intimacy which would be lacking without these pictures.

The same ideas will be maintained throughout the work, which will include several chapters extending over several months.

The Municipal Review of Canada is to be congratulated on having undertaken such an important work which will fill a great need in the life of the Dominion.

It is questionable whether the criticisms of the Socialist Oliver Baldwin will exert an influence sufficiently powerful to upset his father's Government.

If the Canadian National earnings continue to increase it will soon be no longer possible to use the influence of the deficit upon taxation as a traffic-getting argument.

Evidence given in a certain libel action is interesting as a demonstration of the way gossip spreads in a small town—and even in some bigger ones: for instance our own Quebec.

The Italian Cabinet has decided to extend Mussolini's powers for another term. Thus this famous character remains in the select class of Dictators along with Judge Landis and Lenin.

A Verse Or Two

CONTEMPLATION.

When sickness comes to bid us rest a while
In some calm pool, beside Life's too-swift stream,
Why rail at Fate, and count ourselves ill-used?
'Tis then one's soul awakes—weaves dream on dream!

The tapestry of passing years is hung upon the wall,
The needle threaded still, the work all incomplete—
'Tis then you may behold the pattern you have wrought,
When Life is hushed, and yours are not among the hastening feet.

For who, in all the busy, struggling throng
Withdraws to search his heart, in some still place,
Unless an unseen Force puts out imperious hands,
And draws him from the whirlpool, for a space?
—Louise de Wetter, in New York Times.

Press Comment

A HUNDRED TO ONE.
(Vancouver Province.)

While Canada is disturbed by an occasional bank failure over a hundred banks are reported to have failed in Kansas within the last two years.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED.
(Toronto Globe.)

The Canadian Baldwin was known as the father of responsible government. His English successor may go down in history as the father of protection.

TWO KINDS.
(Missouri Herald.)

Men are of two classes—those who do their best work to-day and forget about it, and those who promise to do their best work to-morrow and forget about it.

STAY IN THE PARK.
(Toronto Telegram.)

Ontario rejoices to learn that Hon. G. Howard Ferguson will stay in Queen's Park.

One of the infirmities of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson is undue loyalty to leaders, and the Premier of Ontario would never serve as the tool of a Montreal conspiracy to supplant Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen.

IS IT WORTH ANYTHING?
(Woodstock Sentinel-Review.)

Chancellor Stresemann has given assurance that the former Kaiser will not be given facilities for entering Germany. That is all right as far as it goes; but of course it is impossible to say how far it will go. As to the assurance that the former crown prince renounced the throne five years ago it may or may not mean anything. He renounced Germany about the same time; but he is back again.

FARMERS AND POLITICS.
(Regina Leader.)

The decision of the Council of Agriculture to get out of party politics and the widespread demand that the United Farmers of Ontario do the same thing indicate an awakening in this country on a vocational basis is a failure. The farmers of the West have themselves been the bitterest critics of the legislation which their hand-picked representatives at Ottawa demanded and which was given to them, as their comment on the wheat board and great lakes grain rates legislation shows.

SCENERY AND BILLBOARDS.
(Winnipeg Tribune.)

As Canada is now going into the very profitable business of selling scenery to tourists, it might be well for us to study the features of a bill which now awaits its third reading in the British House of Commons, when the members next return to their labors. It is a bill which extends the principle of "local option" over ugly and unnecessary billboard advertisement. The bill does not threaten to interfere ruthlessly with anybody's genuine interests, and among those who have given it official support is the advertising section of the London Chamber of Commerce.

CURE FOR PESSIMISM.
(London Daily Telegraph.)

Our hospitals today are aglow with the flaming enthusiasm for increases of medical knowledge and for the relief of suffering. A visit to a big hospital is an infallible cure for pessimism. Class and race prejudices have no existence there.

There is a transfiguring quality about the hospital service which puts humanity at its noblest, and subtly leads men and women to give ungrudgingly of their very best. If this generation were arraigned before any Imperial tribunal to give proof of its progress, it could scarcely do better than plead the merits of its voluntary hospitals.

BAFFLES SOLUTION.
(London Times.)

Cancer research remains the greatest detective story in the world, in which the criminal still defies the investigation departments of all the nations, and goes on murdering his millions, and even taking toll of his trackers, with impunity. The doctors will not rest till he is hunted down. They will, indeed, never be content until they have won through to the very heart of the maze, and have dragged forth the master-secret of life itself. Under such aspects the doctor need never fear the failure of the childish glamor. He remains to us the silk-helmeted knight-errant who daily rides abroad to do battle with monsters for the redressing of human wrongs; a modern hero of romance to whom it seems almost indecent to offer golden guineas, let alone our poor paper substitutes of the present day.

The Montmagny Election
Hon. T. C. Casgrain, M. P., and J. G. Bergeron, M. Bender, a prominent advocate of St. Thomas, will be the Conservative standard bearer, while the Liberals of the County will select their candidate to-morrow at a convention to be held at St. Thomas. Several names are already mentioned as probable Liberal candidates, among whom are Messrs. P. Martineau, formerly partner of Judge Choquette, Mr. C. Roy, advocate, and Mr. A. W. ### FINDING MARKET FOR BUFFALO MEAT.

New York, Nov. 28.—(By Canadian Press)—Discussing the slaughter of buffalo at Canadian National Park, Wainwright, Alberta, necessitated by the rapid increase of the government's herd there, the Herald says:—
"The journey of an official of Canada's National Park system to Chicago to find a market for the meat of 2,000 of the herd of 8,400 should be successful. Buffalo steaks are toshome, while the noses and tongues are great delicacies."
"Another product from these huge beasts that should be in great demand is the shaggy pelt, once sold for a trifle but now treasured by those who are fortunate enough to own one. In the days when Buffalo Bill and other frontiersmen were slaughtering the uncouth bison of the Western prairies at a rate that ended in extermination, outside of preserves, public and private, a good buffalo skin cost only a few dollars. Skins were piled like cordwood in front of country stores and no farmer was without one. When lined they formed a protection from the most piercing winds and when made into coats they guaranteed warmth and comfort in zero weather.

Some of these Buffalo skins were of finer texture than others. Their tawny shading made them popular as floor coverings, and the price of the best skins reached the average paid for the hides of other animals used for similar purposes.

PRE-NUPITAL AGREEMENT
Chicago, Nov. 28.—(By Canadian Press)—A pre-nuptial agreement that if either left the other or proved unfaithful the offending party should be punished by death has been revealed by Mrs. Mary Bulavski, thirty years old, who shot and probably fatally wounded her husband, Simon.

"We agreed," the woman told the police, "that if either left the other after we married death would be the punishment. Simon said he was going to leave me. I went to my room and got the pistol and shot him. It was what we had agreed to before we were married."

ANOTHER HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ADDED TO AMOUNT CITY WILL SEEK TO BORROW

Total Now Reaches $1,584,432., And Committee On Amendments Will Report To City Council Tomorrow Evening
Alderman Told Another Edile He Was A "Liar"—A Stormy Scene

Perhaps it is just as well that the Committee on Amendments to the Charter have completed their sessions and will now report to the City Council, for if the Legislature
grant all that they back for in the way of money, it means $1,584,432.00
a hundred thousand dollars being added on to the list at last evening's session.

Three new factors which accounted for the hundred dollars, and a stormy scene between aldermen Emond and Bertrand, in which the words "Liar" and "Hypocrite" were used on the one side, provided the feature of the evening. The storm came when alderman Emond, who had previously sought to have the qualification of aldermen registered,
brought the matter up once more,
only to have it defeated by the same measure as before when all of the aldermen except himself, voted against it.

Previous to the voting, however,
the outbreak took place, and words
few and heavy as rain, the words
finally ceasing when Dr. Bedard, after rapping on the table at least ten times, brought the meeting to order and had the vote taken.

Canal for Drainage

The first matter that came before the Committee at all was when Mayor Samson proposed that an amount of $25,000 be included in the loan, for a canal to take care of the drainage at Domaine Lairet. This went through, being adopted by the assembly.

Then he proposed that another amount be added to the list, this time $50,000, for the widening of St. Louis, Trezor and Buade streets.

Alderman Bertrand asked the Mayor if he could obtain any land
from the Basilica, to which the Worship replied that the Government was ready to give the land for widening Trezor street, on condition
that the Cathedral gave some land,
and the Cathedral, in turn, were ready to grant some land on condition that the Basilica was willing to give up some land.

Alderman Lesage said that he would be in favor of the matter if he knew how the money would be employed, to which the Mayor said
that the money would be employed to buy the land necessary, and he believed that an entente with the Basilica could be reached. He thought that the city should go before the Legislature and ask for a reasonable amount, so as to reach a result.

Easy to Have Big Ideas

Alderman Lesage said that the city was going to make a loan of a million and a half already, and that it was easy to have big ideas and entertain big projects, especially before elections, but a million and a half dollars represented $105,000
additional expense each year to be included in the Budget. Here alderman Lesage turned to the chairman of the meeting and asked Dr. Bedard whether the additional revenues of the city would cover the expense.

Dr. Bedard stated that he had already called the attention of the committee to the fact that to negotiate the loan, the city would be obliged to add on another $700,000 per year in the Budget, and this was too much. If such a large amount was borrowed he saw no means whereby taxes could be reduced next year.

Mayor Samson stated that he was not making any ideas just for election purposes. In all enterprises that he had undertaken, he wanted
that the city should derive revenue,
and in his opinion there were means whereby the city could perform these improvements without the taxes
being raised.

Property Valued at 75 percent Only

Property in Quebec was not valued at more than 75 percent of its value, said the Mayor, and there were many large proprietors who were not afraid of new construction or buildings. He was sure that Quebec would continue to prosper and was ready to go and defend his ideas
before the Legislature.

He did not want popularity, said
the Mayor, adding that if he was not popular enough now, he would go home and remain there.

Alderman Martin on rising to his feet to deliver an address on the subject, stated that he believed that all present were animated with the same idea, to see the city prosper,
but what he wanted to know was if the city had sufficient revenue to meet expenses.

Mayor Samson urged that all of the enterprises were urgent necessities, and one that would bring revenue to the city. He then touched on what the completion of the new hall had meant to the citizens of Quebec, and also of what the Cote d'Abraham would mean when it had been completed, many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Alderman Lesage said that he did not object to the project if there were means of carrying it out.

$50,000 for Three Streets

The matter of $50,000 for Trezor, Buade and St. Louis street was then approved by the committee and included in the amount to be sought
as a loan for the city.

Mayor Samson rose to his feet
with the third proposition of the evening, for the building of a viaduct
from Parent Square to straighten-out Palace Hill for which he asked the sum of $25,000. The amount was voted.

Then alderman Lesage brought up the question of Bourlemarque

Avenue, and spoke of a loan of $35,- 000 for the opening of the street, but Mayor Samson said that it was not possible to open it this fall. If,
however, land in good condition
could be obtained, he believed that the city should profit by the occasion.

Alderman Emond then brought up the subject which caused the otherwise peaceful meeting to break
out into discord, touching on the registering of the qualification of aldermen, and mentioning that an alder-man's salary had been seized.

Alderman Bertrand took exception to the remarks of Mr. Emond,
and the latter turning on his brother
edile, said: "Do not try to make insultations against a man who is as honest and frank as one who is asking for something just."

Alderman Bertrand replied: "You are dealing in personalities."

Told Colleague He Was Lying

Alderman Emond: "You lie, and such words are not worthy of an alderman, and much less of a member of Parliament. Your words are insulting and impudent, and you are a hypocrite."

Alderman Bertrand: "I have been here (in the City Hall) for eight years, and have never seen an alderman quibbling like you. You have no qualification for your conduct."

The matter was finally brought to an end by chairman Bedard calling for order, and stating that the vote would be taken. It seemed for an instant as if there would be more words, but pro-Mayor Drolet shouted out that the order for the vote
had been given, and that the vote
should be taken.

On voting, the sponsor of the motion, alderman Emond, was alone
for it, while the remainder of the aldermen were against the measure,
which was accordingly declared lost.

Introduced an Other Amendment

Alderman Tremblay then introduced an amendment by which the city would agree to pay one-half of $225 for sidewalk, instead of one-quarter of that sum. This measure went before the Legislature, and will have to be re-amended, for the former by-law called on the city to pay one-half of the cost, but it was amended in 1913 to the figure at which it now stands.

Chairman Bedard then read out
the list of amounts which are included in the amount that the city will seek borrowing power for; the amount sought is $1,584,432.00, one hundred thousand dollars being added on to the list last evening for the three projects mentioned above, the viaduct, the Domaine Lairet drainage project and the widening of Buade, St. Louis and Trezor Streets.

A letter was read by Mr. Bedard from a Mr. Richard, suggesting that the city be divided into ten wards,
with two aldermen for each ward,
but the matter was not considered.
Then alderman Lesage suggested that a tax similar to that imposed on bakers from Quebec who deliver in outside municipalities be imposed on bakers from other municipalities
who deliver in Quebec.

Alderman Emond suggested that a tax be placed on all dealers who came to the city markets to do business.

The final matter of the evening
was a decision that the city would ask the Legislature to grant them
power to authorize that a compromise be reached with insurance companies about the pension fund.

HEAVY AGENDA FOR COMMITTEE

Many Reports To Be Considered—Also Applications
For Annual Grants

An interesting motion is to be presented at the next meeting of the Protestant Committee which is to be held here on Friday. It is Mr. Cameron's motion, which provides that any member of the Protestant Committee of Public Instruction who is absent from three consecutive meetings, or who, during the year
attends but half of the sessions,
shall no longer be eligible to act.

A heavy program of matters are on the agenda which was distributed to the members yesterday, and are to be considered at this quarterly meeting. It will be announced that Miss Mahel Fraser, B.A., has been elected Teacher's representative on the committee. Various subcommittee reports are to be received,
including that appointed to consider legislative grants to elementary schools.

Applications from the school boards of La Tuque and St. John's to have their schools raised to the rank of high schools, and to increase their bonuses accordingly will be received.

A preliminary report will also be presented by Dr. W. G. Parnicler, secretary, on complaints, regarding the conduct of last June examinations at Ways Mills. The School of Commerce of McGill will present a report and an application for the usual grant of $7,000, while Bishop's College will also apply for the renewal of the $1,000 grant.

BOARD OF TRADE AND ROTARIANS

Speaker Makes Energetic Plea For Demonstration Of
"True Rotarian Spirit"

The Rotarian luncheon is usually well attended but the meeting yesterday made bad to eclipse records.
Sixty-seven members were present
and the Empire Room at the Chateau Frontenac was well filled. After the luncheon consideration was given to the Board of Trade recruiting campaign. The acting chairman explained that the president of the club had attended a Board of Trade meeting. He had promised on behalf of the club to render all the assistance possible to the Board
in their forthcoming drive for members. The Chairman suggested that a special committee should be formed to assist the Board of Trade and the members present readily assented. A special committee was accordingly formed.

After the president's address, Rotarian Van Felsen made an interesting address. He said that at the Three Rivers Meeting it was his duty and his pleasure to address the members. As chairman of the Committee of Rotary Education he had to deliver a speech and he chose for his subject: "What Rotary has done."

The speaker went on to say that Rotary as far as he was concerned
was not connected with great speeches; Rotary was rather concerned with great deeds. The primary idea of Rotary was to encourage men to accomplish his duty towards his neighbour. The spirit of Rotary was the spirit of service and in his opinion Rotary should be a lasting tribute to the memory of Paul Harris,
the founder of the club. The fundamentals of Rotary as expressed by Paul Harris were the fundamentals of service. There were restrictions as to membership but these restrictions encouraged others who could not serve as Rotarians to organize themselves into other service
clubs that they also might contribute their efforts towards the cause of "Service to Self."

The first fundamental of Rotary
in his opinion was "The Unique Basis of Membership." This he defined as the pillar of Rotary. From each business or profession there must be one representative and this representative assumed certain grave responsibilities. The individual chosen must at all times control his acts, direct his thoughts
and formulate his ideals to the end
that he would be an honourable and worthy representative of his craft.
Not merely were these attributes necessary but the representative of the trade represented should be able to carry back to his fellow craftsmen a stimulating influence capable of inducing his fellows to live more abundantly a life of service.

As the only representative of his craft the Rotarian is able to think broadly, to speak fearlessly and to serve unselfishly. In doing so the special privileges of the order made it impossible for him to incur the enmity or the jealousy of a fellow craftsman.

This fundamental, the speaker
said, was the very life of Rotary. It seemed a drastic regulation at first sight to admit only one of a trade.
As a matter of fact the result of the regulation was that when tradesmen
realized that they were not eligible for the Rotary Club they were stimulated by a feeling of emulation and they joined forces with other Service Clubs.

The Rotarian was not merely respected as the only representative of his class; he was selected as the man most worthy of representing that class and he accepted representation of his own free will.

The speaker concluded his instructive address by saying:—
"It was my pleasure to witness recently a striking example of how Rotary is serving the community. I was called to a special meeting of the Quebec Board of Trade at which 20 business men were present. The president of the Board was a Rotarian and the other members present 7 were Rotarians, 8 were Kiwanians and 3 were Lions. This was a definite proof that the Service Clubs were an advantage to the community."

In conclusion the speaker bade
the members demonstrate a true
Rotarian spirit by joining the Board of Trade.

A short address was given by Mr.
Roy on the influx of the rural population to the urban centres. The luncheon was concluded with "God Save the King".

QUEBEC GETS SEVRES VASE FROM FRANCE

Gift Serves To Bind Ties Of Countries Closer Than Ever, Said Premier

MAGNIFICENT SPECIMEN

Of Work Of Manufacture Nationale Stands Nearly Four Feet High

The Government of the Province
of Quebec, through the intermediary
of Premier Taschereau, yesterday afternoon became the possessor of a magnificent Sevres vase, standing nearly four feet. In height, which is the gift of the French Government to the Province.

The vase, which was the cynosure
of all eyes standing on a pedestal
and with a velvet cloth surrounding its base, the better to emphasize its beauty and classic lines, is a magnificent specimen of workmanship,
and is installed in the Premier's office, where the ceremony took place
the presentation being made by Mr.
E. Naggar, Consul General of France in Canada, who is leaving for his home in a few days, and accompanied by a speech of appreciation.

Token of Esteem and Affection.

Mr. Naggar stated that the vase
which was being handed to Canada
as a token of esteem and affection
came from the Manufacture Nationale at Sevres, and was of a completely modern style, going to prove that the twentieth century France was ceaselessly keeping up its genius in fundamental arts. It depicted a scene of work in the fields, and went to show that France was the national of equilibrium par excellence and that she kept her liking of justice towards the sources from which she obtained her strength.

France congratulated Canada on what they had accomplished under the glorious British flag, and also rejoiced in finding themselves
twice in French Canadians, as brothers and as heart-felt friends.

The speaker concluded by stating that he knew that the work of art
that was being presented to the Premier would be jealously guarded as a proof of the sincere affection of France, and that it would be dear,
not only due to the material of which it was made, which had been selected from the soil of ancestors of French-Canadians, but especially for the breath of French genius that made live all that was just and gracious in the midst of everybody.

Premier Taschereau, in accepting the vase on behalf of the Government of the Province and after the applause that had greeted the remarks of Mr. Naggar, had subsequently stated that words could not express the extremely warm thanks
that he wished to tender for the present that the French Government offered so generously to that of the Province of Quebec.

He thanked Mr. Naggar from the bottom of his heart, and also asked him to convey to the French Government sentiments of the deepest gratitude on the part of Quebec.
French genius radiated through the world in a thousand different ways, said the Premier, adding that after the language, it was her art that touched Quebecers most.
The younger people were going to seek knowledge at a pure source,
and Sevres was one of the most admirable manifestations of this art.

Evidence of Indestructible Links.
In the magnificent vase that had just been presented, the Prime Minister said would be seen living evidence of the indestructible links
that bound Canada and France together, and which the war made even closer, while at the same time
it would be an example of French genius for the population of Quebec.

Following the Premier's speech,
refreshments were served.
Among those who attended the presentation ceremony were His Honour the Lieutenant Governor,
Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Premier Taschereau, the Hon. Messrs. J. E.
Caron, Martin Madden, H. Mercier,
A. Gailpeault, J. E. Peddeault, L.
N. Perreault, Moreau, J. N. Fran-
coeur, T. Chapais and Cyr, Delage; Monsieur Gariepy, Messrs. E. Naggar, H. de Saint Victor, Galliard
de Champlain, Robert Baillet, R. A.
Genot, J. Thomas, G. Fillet, H.
Gagnon, Ferd. Roy, C. J. Simard,
L. Beaudry, Col. D. B. Papineau,
A.D.C. the Lieutenant Governor,
General Landry and others.

FARMER KILLED BY

AN ELECTRIC TRAIN.

La Brosse Junction, Chicoutimi,
Nov. 28.—Adelard Harvey, prosperous farmer of one of the considerable of Chicoutimi, was struck by an electric car and instantly killed
at six o'clock yesterday evening.
He had visited Chicoutimi to attend a sale of lands, and had spent part of the afternoon with his aged mother who resides there.

At five o'clock he left to return to his farm and took a short cut offers by the Roberval and Saguenay Railway track. He was nearing his home when he was struck
by an electric train in a culvert.
After stopping the train, the motor-
man went to his rescue, but found his mutilated body lying on the side of the track, death having been instantaneous.

The deceased was 58 years of age, and one of the most progressive farmers of the district.

At the inquest which was held
this morning, a verdict of accidental death was returned by the jury.

ments to the interior of St. Columba Church, Billery, are at present in considerably to its appearance.

OLD COLLEGE ALUMNI MEET

Interesting Speeches By Dr.
"Georgie" Trueman And
Many Old Boys

Yesterday evening an informal dinner was given in the Empire Room at the Chateau Frontenac by the Old Boys of Stanstead College.
The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Trueman. In reply to the toast of the educational institutions of Quebec the Doctor paid
a tribute to the memories of boy-hood. The speaker, in the course of his address said that the influences of school were like the influences of home—they lasted throughout life. He referred to incidents that occurred during his own boy-hood and said that these incidents
largely moulded his character
throughout later life.

There was a large gathering of the Old Boys from Stanstead College present and many of them recounted school day adventures.
Two or three of those present
were able to confirm, from personal experience, the stories recounted
by Dr. "Georgie" Trueman and there was a feeling displayed throughout all the speeches that school influences were just as active
and effective through life as home influences.

SALE OF POPPIES WAS SUCCESSFUL

Final Report Shows That A Sum Of Over $5,000 Was Collected

Through the sale of Poppies on Armistice Day the sum of $5,123.17
was realized according to a report
handed out yesterday by the Executive Committee. This is regarded as very gratifying and a tribute to the work accomplished by the organization under the leadership of Mrs. L. A. Taschereau. Last year
the sum of $4,609 was collected.
The expenditures for the organization amounted to a total of $55.57.
For their contribution in preparing poppies and wreaths the disabled soldiers will be handed $640.10 and the orphans of the Great War $225.10, making a total of $920.67 for this first item.
The sum of $490 has been divided among the committees in Levis, St.
Romuald, Beauce and Thetford
Mines for their own local charitable purposes.

VILLA-TREMAINE FIGHT IS OFF

Flyweight Champion Sprained Ankle—Gerano Will Substitute For Him

New York, Nov. 28.—Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, today withdrew from his match tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden with Carl Tremaine, Cleveland bantamweight, as a result of a sprained ankle. Frankie Gerano, who won the United States flyweight title from Villa was obtained as an eleven hour substitute for the Filipino and will meet Tremaine in a 12-round encounter, three rounds shorter than the original feature of the holiday card.

Villa twisted his ankle in a fall while training at a gymnasium yesterday. The ankle was badly swollen and today physicians of the State Athletic Commission after an examination declared Villa was unable to enter the ring. Gerano has been training for a bout with Midget Smith, New York bantam in Philadelphia next week and was pronounced in fighting trim.

RELEASED CATCHER WANTS HIS MONEY

Ainsmith Filed Application With Landis To Order Cardinals To Pay $4,000

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—Eddie Ainsmith, formerly with the local Nationals, following unconditional release the latter part of last season, signed up with the New York Giants, has filed an application with Commissioner Landis to order the Cardinals to pay him approximately $4,000 he alleges is due him under his 1923 contract.

The contract contained a "good behaviour" clause, under which the greater part of Ainsmith's pay was to be held until the end of the year. Last September Ainsmith was a day late in returning from Chicago and his release followed. His application to Mr. Landis is merely to establish his right to the money, it was explained.

BRITAIN HAS SENT CHALLENGE

To United States For British-American Cup — Will Be Accepted

New York, Nov. 28.—British yachtsmen have challenged the United States to a series for the British-American Cup, emblematic of the International six-metre yacht championship to be held off Long Island next summer. The challenge was sent to the Seawanhaka Corinthian Club, which is expected to accept. The series probably will be held in September.

The trophy has been competed for annually since 1921, alternately in British and United States waters. British yachtsmen have triumphed twice in the three contests so far, winning in 1921 and this year.

1,000,000 AT FOOTBALL GAMES

Michigan Alone Attracted 183,000 Spectators To Contests During Season

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Football games played in the Western Conference in the United States during the past season attracted nearly 1,000,000 spectators, according to compilations from figures reported by the institutions today, with total receipts estimated at nearly $2,000,000. Michigan and Chicago, each with six home games stood out as the principal drawing cards. Michigan's estimated attendance was set at 183,000, while Chicago attracted 143,000 to the limited seating capacity of its stadium.

At Ohio State five home games drew 148,000. In five home games, Illinois had crowds totalling 117,000. Wisconsin estimates that 65,500 saw its home games, while Purdue and Indiana claimed 14,000 and 20,000, respectively.

Minnesota, Iowa and Northwestern, each with five home games, would have approximately 100,000 each to total.

GIRARDIN FIGHTS GAGNON MONDAY

And Mitchell Will Clash With Hopwood—Both Ten Round Bouts

What appears to be a good card of boxing bouts, will be staged by the Quebec Athletic Club at the Variety Hall, next Monday night, with such mitt-artists as Kid Mitchell and Kid Gagnon of this city and Wally Hopwood of Toronto and Georges Girardin of Montreal appearing on the program.

Kid Gagnon, the sturdy local scrapper will have Georges Girardin as his opponent in the final ten-round scrap, while Kid Mitchell will swap jabs and punches with Wally Hopwood in the semi-final contest, which is also scheduled for ten rounds. An eight-round preliminary with Midget Ryan and Young Burns as the principals, will also be on the card.

The Girardin-Gagnon encounter will be a real test for the local youngster, for in meeting the Montrealer the local lad will be matching his ability with probably the best scrapper he has yet met in the ring. However, Gagnon is coming along nicely and is showing improvement in every bout and will most likely make Girardin travel at his best to win the decision over him. Girardin is no stranger around here as he has already appeared in a couple of bouts in a local ring.

The semi-final, which will bring together Kid Mitchell of this city and Wally Hopwood of Toronto, should also be a good bout as both boys can handle their mitts in good style. Mitchell had announced his retirement from the ring last week but has been coaxed into accepting another engagement, so he will attempt to win the decision over the Quebec City battler in his "come-back."

The preliminary bout between Midget Ryan and Young Burns will likely be a hummer while it lasts for both boys will go into the ring determined to win by the knockout route.

The card appears to be a good one and will most likely be the occasion for a bumper attendance.

RACING AT NEW ORLEANS TODAY

Ninety-Four Day Winter Racing Meet Will Close March 17th.

New Orleans, Nov. 28.—Six hundred and nineteen events have been provided for the ninety-four-day winter racing meet which opens here tomorrow and the purses and stakes aggregate $150,000 with the $15,000 Louisiana Derby the feature. The season closes March 17.

The Thanksgiving Cup with a $3,500 stake will feature opening day at Jefferson Park tomorrow, for which twenty-five horses have been entered. The distance is one mile, with Best Pat the favorite tonight. Track officials have set fifteen horses as the limit to face the barrier.

The track was expected to be slow as a result of rain which has fallen for the last 24 hours.

PITCHER HASTY WAS ACQUITTED

Was With Others Charged With Flogging Widow And Her Escort

Marietta, Nov. 28.—All indictments against Keller Hasty, pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics and five others including the alleged flogging of Mrs. Bertha Holcombe, a widow, and S. H. Morton, the night of November 15, were dismissed here late today by Judge Blair, on motion of Solicitor-General John S. Wood, after the acquittal of Parks G. Cook, on one of these charges.

On instructions from Judge Blair, the jury returned verdicts of "not guilty" against Keller Hasty, his brothers, Arthur and Frank Hasty, Tom Black and Joe Bramlett, jointly indicted with Cook but who were not on trial at this time. This action covered all indictments in which the six men were named.

C.N.R. LEAGUE TO OPERATE AGAIN

Five Teams Will Likely Compose Inter-Dep't. Hockey League This Winter

The third annual meeting of the C. N. R. Inter-department Hockey League will be held tomorrow evening at the Victoria Hotel at eight o'clock.

From present indications it appears that the League will be composed of five teams this year, as the Terminal outfit has sent in an application, and it is most likely that the application will be accepted.

The four teams that operated last winter, St. Mary's Shop, Operating, Parent Square and Express, are all ready for another season, and from reports it is understood that all four clubs have been considerably strengthened over last winter.

The election of a new President will be necessary at this assembly as Owen Kelly, the present holder of the office, has tendered his resignation. Mr. Kelly was also the organizer of this league.

The games will in all probability be contested at the Arena this coming season.

WINTER SPORTS AT "EX" GROUNDS

Eastern International Derby Club Returns Thanks To Exhibition Commission

The Executive Committee of the Eastern International Dog-Sled Derby Club, Inc., who are organizing the Winter Carnival to be held in Quebec in February, wish to publicly thank the Provincial Exposition Commission, which Commission is composed of the following gentlemen: His Worship the Mayor, J. A. Grenier, Joseph Savard, Frank Byrne, Arthur Marier and Georges Morisset, for their generous and hearty co-operation in the work of organizing and making successful, a Winter Carnival.

The above gentlemen have agreed to turn over the entire grounds of the Eastern International Dog-Sled Derby Club, Inc., where they may obtain refreshments. Accommodations will also be made for non-members and out-of-town visitors. Plans were also made for the accommodation of dogs, horses and parking space for automobiles, and for keeping the roads to the Exposition Grounds open.

If every citizen of Quebec will back the Winter Carnival with as much unselfish enthusiasm as the Provincial Exposition Commission, there is no question that Quebec and its Winter Carnival will be known throughout the continent.

2 OTTAWA TEAMS IN THE E.C.H.L.

Munitions And St. Patrick's Granted Permission To Play In New Circuit

Anything new about the Eastern Canada Hockey League? That is a question that is being asked today by practically every hockey fan in the city, as well as in Montreal, and the answer in practically every case is in the negative. However, some news leaked out yesterday.

News was received here yesterday from a reliable source that St. Patrick's and Munitions of Ottawa had been granted permission to play in the new league, and that the Three Rivers management had pledged their word to remain with the league, and that the Eastern Canada Hockey League will be a certainty. That's that.

Now for the latest about the doings of Victoria and Nationals, the two Montreal teams, that are ardent members of the circuit. It appears that Victoria still hold a franchise in the Montreal City League and at a meeting of the latter body Tuesday night, would not give a definite answer as to whether they would operate their franchise in the City League or play in the E. C. H. L. All the delegate of the Victoria responded when the question was posed was "no definite answer can be given before a meeting of the club on December 5th." This, without a doubt, means that both the Montreal City League and the E. C. H. L. will have to wait until December 5th before knowing whether they will have the pleasure of having Victoria with them.

Now for the Nationals. Nationals, it will be remembered, severed relations with the Montreal City League, when the E. C. H. L. was formed, but it now seems that the City League is eager to get the club back into the fold, and should Nationals decide to go back, they will be welcomed with open arms. However, the club has made no move in the matter as yet, and is looked upon as a certain member of the new circuit.

Three Rivers, as already stated, will stick to the E. C. H. L. The rumor that the team would drop from the league was brought about through a Three Rivers team being represented at a meeting of the St. Maurice Valley League.

Sons of Ireland, Quebec's hope in the E. C. H. L., will stick by the League to the last, though it is understood that the team will play hockey in some league or other should the Eastern Canada circuit "go up in smoke."

SKINNER KAYOED RIOUX IN SECOND

Lefts To Head Followed With Right To Jaw Floored The Lumberjack

Montreal, Nov. 28.—Archib Skinner, champion heavyweight of Scotland, knocked out Edgar Rioux, giant Canadian lumberjack, in the second round of a scheduled ten-round bout at the Mount Royal Arena here tonight. Skinner had a slight shade in the first round. In the second round Skinner crossed three blows in rapid succession to the head and face and Rioux went to the floor and was counted out.

It was a case of a mediocre boxer attempting to demonstrate his skill against a more clever man. Rioux contented himself with jabbing and was apparently fighting under wraps in anticipation of a long-drawn-out affair. He put up a poor defence against the attack of the Scotsman.

In the first round Skinner closed his opponent's eye with a right cross and boxed around him. Both men fought in a lackadaisical style although Skinner appeared to be a bit more anxious to register than the French-Canadian giant.

Skinner was supposed to be in much better condition than he was on the occasion of their last meeting. He gave no evidence of superlative pep, however, until some seconds of the second round had passed when he tossed his vengeance. Rioux's badly protected head, flinching at his opponent the Scotsman drove him back a couple of steps and smashed two lefts to the head, following with a terrific right drive that took the big man flush on the jaw and dropped him flat on his back. Rioux lifted up his head slightly and looked with dazed eyes around the house, but the count of ten found him unable to drag himself off the floor. As he was assisted to his corner he staggered and appeared to be all in.

Skinner had many supporters in the audience who cheered his victory to the echo.

Joe McKean, also of Scotland, knocked out Kid Johnny of Quebec, in the fifth round of a six-round preliminary. The men are flyweights.

Young Brady of Syracuse won a technical knockout over a local man, Jos St. Onge, of Granby, Que., knocked out George Dundee in the second round of a six-round lightweight bout.

It was the greatest crowd that ever watched a bout at the Mount Royal Arena, 5,207 paying a total of $7,917 to witness the card.

LEFT ITALY LAST EVENING

King And Queen Of Spain Were Greeted With Farewell Salute From Fleet

Naples, Nov. 28.—King Alfonso and Queen Victoria, accompanied by their entourage left Italy this evening on their return voyage to Spain. An Italian squadron accompanied the Spanish battleship Jaime, in which the royal party is making the passage, far out to sea, where it fired a farewell salute and returned to port.

Prior to his departure King Alfonso addressed a message to the Italian people. In it he said he already had expressed to the King of Italy the government and the Italian authorities his own and the queen's sincere gratitude for the unforgettable welcome they had received during their visit, adding: "But at the moment of leaving the blessed land of Italy I wish to express my profound gratitude to the whole of the Italian people in order to assure them that the memory of this event will remain in our minds as among the happiest of our lives."

The Spanish warship steamed out of Naples between lines of the Italian fleet, all the vessels dazzling with electric lights. The Italian warship roused a royal salute, which was replied to by the Spaniards. The Spanish monarchs had awaited the Neapolitan sunset before starting and as twilight fell the thousands of lights along the shore added to the beauty of the scene.

Before going aboard the Jaime, King Alfonso, Queen Victoria, and the members of their suite had luncheon on board the Italian battleship Duilio. Large numbers of high Italian personages were present. As the King and Queen left the Duilio and went aboard the royal launch to embark on the Jaime, shouts of "Long live the King, and queen" sent up from the men from nearby battleships.

NEW YORK BONDS

New York, Nov. 28.—Public offering of several sizeable issues of new bonds and the absence of numerous traders, away for the Thanksgiving week-end, combined to slow down the volume of transactions in today's bond market. Prices, however, generally held up well and some improvement was recorded by a considerable number of bonds. French bonds were offered beyond the immediate buying power of the market with the result that several issues slipped downward moderately.

Most of the United States Government issues met support at slightly lower levels. Railroad mortgages continued active with some of the secondary issues displaying moderate strength, the chief influence being found in the better earnings statements just issued for the month of October. Some of the oil company bonds were inclined downward, while some of the domestic industrial issue moved up fractionally.

COTTON MARKET
New York, Nov. 28.—Following its big advance into new high ground yesterday the cotton market today made further sensational gains which lifted December contracts above 37c and carried the entire list 60 to 110 points net higher with final prices at best levels of the day.

Near the close December touched 37.12, the highest price that has appeared on the quotation board since 1910.

Spot cotton was quoted at 37.60. Today's rise represented over $10 a bale advance in the last 48 hours and was accompanied by active commission houses and mill buying and by reports that Liverpool and other foreign buyers were securing the big southern spot markets for cotton. The situation had become so acute, with the trade facing a cotton famine, that exporters said mill everywhere appeared to be obtaining all the cotton they could lay their hands on.

INTERNATIONAL LIVE-STOCK EXPOSITION

Will Be Held In Chicago On December 1 And Continue
For A Week

CANADA VS. U.S.

Canadians Are Expected To Carry Home Many Coveted
Rewards

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 28.—(By Canadian Press) — The International Live Stock Exposition, which opens here December 1, and continues for one week, will have entries from four Canadian provinces competing against the classes of thirty states of the United States. Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta have many fine animals entered and as in former years, when grand championships were captured by the Dominion, they are expected to carry home with them many coveted awards of the live stock world.

The thousand of visitors attending the exposition, from both United States and Canadian points, will see a comprehensive display of champion stock produced in each section of the continent. Practically all departments show increased entries this year, the 24th year of the exposition, and last year's record of ten thousand animals will be greatly surpassed. Five thousand and cattle, horses, sheep and hogs are entered in the individual fat and breeding classes, while heavy entries will be made in the horse and the carload show of market animals. The cattle lead in the number of entries in the individual classes with a total of 2,071, of which 1,500 are to be shown in the breeding division. Hogs hold second place with a total of 1,270. Of these 336 will compete in the fat classes, every breed showing an increase in this section over last year. There are 1,048 sheep entered and five hundred and eighty-eight horses will enter the tan bark arena, 479 answering the call for breeding stock.

Canadian cattle will compete in the Shorthorn, Aberdeen-Angus and Hereford classes. Geo. A. Arbuckle, Lemberg, Sask., T. A. Russell, Downview, Ont., and the University of Alberta, at Edmonton, will exhibit Shorthorn cattle. Frank Collicutt, Crossfield, Alta., will send forward representatives of his Hereford breeding establishment, and James D. McGregor, of Brandon, Man., and the University of Alberta will compete in the Aberdeen-Angus classes.

The horse classes will have strong Canadian entries. Percherons will be exhibited by W. M. Burroughs, Melfort; J. and H. Darrah, Regina; Mrs. J. J. Fisher, Dundas; John W. Ford, Indian Head; B. H. Moore, Roubu; Paul Siefeling, Sibley; J. R. Thompson, Indian Head, and the University of Saskatchewan. Saddlebred Clydesdale horses will be brought forward by W. F. Batty, Brooklyn; Jack Byers, Valparaiso; W. B. Cleland, Hamilton; Dasher & Greenway, Greenway; J. E. Dasher, Hinton; Robert Duff & Sons, Myrtle; Wm. B. Ewen, Govan; Experimental Farm, Indian Head; Graham Brothers, Claremont; W. A. Greenway, Clark's Crossing; T. Halpenny, Regina; George Miller, Caledonia; J. H. Pearce, Regina; R. H. Snider, Carleton Place; A. Stut, Brookside; James Torrance, Markham, and University of Saskatchewan. In the Belgian classes exhibits will be placed by C. G. Gurney & Son, Paris, Ont.; Dr. C. Head, Regina; Head & Miller, Regina; B. McLeod, Dodsland; D. V. Runkle, Regina; J. A. Strange, Kerrobert, and Robert Thomas, Grandora, Sask. Lloyd Turner, Stouffville, will contest in the draft horse classes.

Canadian flocks have always captured their full share of the honors in the sheep section, and it is expected that at the coming show they will once more figure prominently in the championship column. R. McEwen, of London, Ont., who last year set a world's record by capturing the grand championship for both single and wethers and carloads of sheep, has entered a strong exhibit, consisting of thirteen breeding and nine fat Southdown sheep and a carload of Southdown lambs. He recently imported several breeding sheep from the most noted flocks in England. Other entries include those of James Snell, Clinton, Ont.; A. and W. Whiteley, Guelph, and Cecil Stobbs, of Wheatley, Ont. All were big prize winners at last year's exposition.

The International Grain and Hay show, which is held in connection with the live stock exhibition, will have entries from the championship growers of Canada and the United States, competing for the Chicago Board of Trade prizes valued at $12,000. During recent years, Canadian grain has been very successful in carrying off the highest honors in competition with the best grain producing section of the United States. Many of the entries from the Canadian provinces have been prepared under government inspection, and with this assistance farmers from north of the border should play a leading part in the awards.

A feature of the show will be the crowning of the "Kings of the Soil" for the year 1923. Over five thousand and samples from every part of the continent and South Africa will be on display and many spirited contests will be staged before the judges are finally able to announce the names of the exhibitors who will be honored with the titles of "Kings of the Soil".

Fine actions which are hidden are the most worthy. Nothing hinders being natural as the longing to appear so.

Ambition and love are the wings of great actions.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Look years younger! Use Grandmother's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmothers' time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound", you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says: "I darken the hair so naturally and evenly that, nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy."

The truest mark of being born with great qualities is being born without envy.

J. M. PRITCHARD.

J. M. Pritchard, General Manager and Director of Tidouche Refining Co. of Canada, Ltd., Montreal, is well-known in oil refining circles throughout the Dominion. After spending some time with the Canadian Bank of Commerce, he took up the management of the Winnipeg Oil Co., at Calgary, in 1910, where he remained until 1913, when he became associated with the British American Oil Co., as manager of the Ottawa division. In 1919, he was transferred to Montreal, and placed in charge of the Quebec division of that company, leaving their employ in July 1923, to become General Manager of the Tidouche Refining Co. of Canada, Ltd. He is also a director of the parent Company of Tidouche, Penn.

TEXARKANA A STRANGE CITY

Divided By An Imaginary
Line And Has Dual Government

Texarkana, Texas, Nov. 28.—When the Governor of Texas comes to Texarkana one-half of the city celebrates, and when the Governor of Arkansas makes an official visit it means a holiday for the other half of the city. The reason for this is that Texarkana is divided by an imaginary line running north and south in the middle of an avenue named State Line. On one side of the line the city is governed by the laws of Texas; on the other side by the laws of Arkansas.

The post office straddles the State line as does the railroad station. Letters are formally addressed "Texarkana, Texas-Ark." and mail clerks grow nimble jumping from one State to another. There are two full sets of county offices, two mayors, two city councils, two police departments, two police courts, two health departments, two United States courts, each occupying its own federal building, two United States Commissioners and two United States bankruptcy courts.

About the only things publicly owned that serve both halves of the city are the fire department, individually owned as separate units by each city but operated as one department under one fire chief, and a joint sewage disposal plant. The same utility companies also serve both parts of the town. Another dual overhead expense is the maintenance of two distinct school systems. Lodge and church organizations and also fraternal and clubs maintain separate establishments. The entire burden of government rests on a population of 30,000. Because of its dual form of government Texarkana is believed to be unique among American cities. The name of the city was combined from the first three letters of Texas, the first three of Arkansas and the last three of Louisiana. The city will have a public celebration of its half century of progress December 3 to 8. We have more indolence in the mind than in the body.
