ALL INTERESTED

Prospects for the Season's Crop in Quebec and Ontario.

A VERY CHECKERED SET OF REPORTS
Encouraging on the Whole, but Many "ifs" in the Matter.

QUEBEC CROP REPORTS.
THREE RIVERS.

Hay, fair appearance, about a third injured by frost. Oats, more than usual quantity sown and prospects of a large crop. Peas, not much cultivated, but look well. Wheat, about 800 bushels sown in this district and good returns anticipated. Potatoes, large quantities planted and weather has thus far been favorable for an abundant yield.

SWITZERBURG.
The grain crops in this section are very backward. Owing to so much rain, half of the farmers are not through seeding and it is impossible to judge now what the crops will be. Grain is looking well and there are favorable prospects for a good harvest of hay.

STE. SCHOLASTIQUE.
The crops here are 20 days behind the usual time, but the prospects are good for a good yield of all products.
Hay is very satisfactory.

DRUMMONDVILLE.

It is rather early to give anything near an accurate report of the condition of the crops, as the cold damp weather of the early spring has retarded the growth to such a degree, that a great deal of the grain is not yet up. Hay bids fair to be an average crop. Wheat, barley and oats indicate a little better crop than last season. The root crops, especially those sown early, are well started, and if not prevented by unfavorable weather, they will be good;
in fact, vegetation on the whole has assumed a healthy appearance, and a good crop can almost be relied on.

CARILLON.
The crops in this section are looking splendid and the prospects are favorable for a bountiful harvest.

HUDSON.
Although the spring has been a little backward, the crops in general are looking splendid and farmers expect something extra this season, especially in the hay crop, which is coming on very fast with the warm weather. Good signs when farmers don't grumble.

REDFORD.
Crops in this vicinity are about two weeks behind the usual time. The hay crop promises very favorably as the warm rains are sending it forward fast.
Oats, wheat, barley are just coming up and are looking well. Corn is not up much yet. Potatoes are shooting forward fast. The fruit crop will be good, as there has been no frost to blast it this season. The weather continues favorable the crops will, on the whole, be good.

SHERBROOKE.
Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather in the early part of May all grains sown, as well as root crops, are looking finely, and farmers are sanguine of favorable crops if we have average weather. The usual average of all grains and roots has been sown.

COOKSHIRE.
For Compton County the outlook is very encouraging for grain and roots.

ST. ANNE DE LA PARADE.
The hay is very nice, and generally the crops look well.

COATMOOK.
The crops in this section are looking well, with the exception of grass, which is badly killed in places from ice patches in the fields during the past winter, and the farmers report that the hay crop will be 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. short. Although the farmers were late in getting their crops in, indications are that they will be good.

RICHMOND.
The work of getting in the crops has been much retarded by the cold, wet weather of last month and most of them are late. About the usual area of wheat, oats and barley have been sown and are now well started. Hay will be a very light crop. Potatoes that were planted early are looking well. Very little corn up yet. There are prospects of an abundant fruit crop.

CHAMBLEY-BASIN.
On account of the late spring the first sown crop is very medium, the last sown looks better. Hay crop has a good prospect, and all over the crop shows a fair medium average.

ST. EUSTACHE.
The hay has a very good appearance.
Peas in low places begin to yellow because of too much rain. The crops altogether present a good appearance.

BEAUVARNOIS.
The crops in this vicinity are very good, considering the many drawbacks through too much rain. Seeding was finished some ten days ago. The farmers complain of too much rain and cool weather. Early grain looks well, hay and grass proves fair to do well and the present warm weather is much needed to help the crops which will be late.

NICOLET.
So far the crops look pretty fair but not much advanced for the season.
Sowing is all over; we are at least two weeks behind time. Hay harvest will be very poor, far below the average on account of frost. Pasture is pretty fair and promises to be so greater part of the summer, unless drought sets in. There is no saying as yet what the crops will be, though fair hopes are generally entertained.

BECAUQUET.
Sowing was delayed in this vicinity on account of cold and wet weather, so the plants are young yet, but the appearance is very good.

COMO.
Owing to a late spring the grain is not all in yet, but what is up, and also the hay, show a fair prospect.

ONTARIO CROP REPORTS.
MORRISBURG.

Owing to frequent rains the grain crop in low lands is poor. High lands fair average. Acreage of wheat larger this year than last and plant doing well.
Barley and oats about same as former years. The season is two weeks later than usual. Potatoes and roots fair average. Hay crop, new meadow good, old meadow pretty well thinned out.

CORNWALL.
The high land crops in this section are in first class condition, but the amount of rain that has fallen lately has proven very serious to the low lying lands.
Vegetables and fruit, with the exception of strawberries, which were winter killed by the ice, are in good condition. On the whole the outlook is very promising.

ALMONTE.
Crops in this locality are looking very promising and are fully up to the average. A few places in the low lands are about two weeks later than usual, owing to the unusual amount of rains, while high grounds never looked better.
Hay is looking remarkably well, except in occasional pieces of old meadow, where they are winter killed.

LYN.
Grass and hay, above the average.
Fall wheat, very poor, two-thirds winter killed. Spring wheat, looking well and bids fair for an average crop. Other grains, barley, peas and oats, looking well, but all crops late owing to wet weather. Fruit, prospects good for apples but poor for strawberries, as they were considerably winter-killed. The season so far too wet, some land not yet planted.

BERLIN.
The crops about Waterloo Township are looking very favorable. Fall wheat splendid. It is hard to prophesy relative to root crops on account of prevailing heavy rains.

GODFRICH.
The crop prospects in the section are excellent. During the past two weeks there has been a wonderful growth of spring and fall wheat, all other grains have every appearance of having good good headway. The hay crop will be usually large. Fruit of all kinds promise well and fears from frost appear to be entirely dispelled. Last year our crop was almost an entire failure, and it is to be hoped that the present indications will have an opportunity to materialize.

BELLEVEILLE.
County Councillors report favorably of the crops, which are greatly advanced, but some damage has been done on low lands by an excess of rain. The generality of fruits promise well, strawberries being an exception, owing to lack of snow during the winter.

SIMCOE.
Crops of all kinds in this vicinity never presented a better appearance than at the present time, owing to the abundant rain which has fallen during the past few weeks. Wheat is likely to be good, while the hay crop will exceed that of last year. Spring grains are also looking splendid. Farmers are rejoicing in the prospects of an abundance of fruit of this year, after the almost total failure of last year. Fruit trees of all kinds will yield well except peaches. There will be a large yield of small fruits.

STRAITFORD.
Winter wheat—There was fully 25 per cent. plowed up and seeded with spring crop. Another 25 per cent. is in very poor condition and where it is growing there is considerable complaint that with the growth during the past month it is very soft and beginning to lodge. We cannot have a crop much, if any, better than that of last year, or about 50 per cent. of full crop. Spring wheat—There is considerable acreage sown, but it has been so uncertain of late years that it is hard to predict what the crop may be.
Peas, oats and barley are all suffering from excessive moisture and a continuance of this weather will be disastrous, especially on low lands. The hay crop will be very heavy.

OTTAWA.
Reports from all parts of the surrounding country and from most parts of central Canada indicate a great improvement in crop prospects. The hay crop which is of primary importance in districts where a great deal of live stock is bred, promises to be better than for the last five years, on the high lands, and probably a fair average crop in ninety per cent. of the districts, on very old meadow land lying low the water has only recently gone off and crop are usually backward. On these lands a low average yield is expected. With prospects of abundant fodder the farmers generally are greatly encouraged. Wheat is looking well in nearly every part and oats are also looking fairly well, but wheat bids fair to be the heaviest crop of this year. Oats, unless the present outlook is destroyed by unfavorable changes, were in the Gatineau and Ottawa valleys, generally not as far below the average.
All of the root crops are looking well.
There is promise of abundant fruit in this section, the critical time having passed with comparatively little injury in most places.

PEMBROKE.
In regard to crops they are looking fine at present in this vicinity, and if nothing more than usual occurs, we may look forward to an abundant harvest.

The fall and spring wheat promises very good on light sandy soil, but on heavy clay lands where there has been no drainage it has been considerably scorched. This also appears to be the case with all other grains. Hay abundant. Root crops in splendid condition.
Fruit outlook of all kinds excellent.

MILTON.
Fall wheat very much below the average. Spring grains are very promising; meadows are excellent.

BARRIE.
The crops in this vicinity promise to be good. The wet weather of the past week has injured them to a certain extent, more especially in low lands. Fall and spring wheat and in fact all grain is above the average for this season of the year. The root crop is splendid throughout the country. Hay is said to be a very heavy crop.

NARROW ESCAPE OF JOCKEY GAR-RISON.
His Mount Falls Dead During a Race.
New York, June 11.—"Snapper" Garrison had a narrow escape from death today on Morris Park race track. He had the mount on T. D. Pulsifer's Brother Ban, in the second race, and in coming down the stretch the horse dropped dead, probably from over-exertion. Garrison was thrown to the ground, but, beyond a few bruises, was uninjured. Luckily Brether Ban was in the rear when the accident occurred. Had he been up with the bunch Garrison would probably have been trampled to death.

EVERY MAN HAS HIS PRICE.
Ned Hanlan's is a Pretty Steep One.

TORONTO, Ont., June 11.—Hanlan was seen to-day relative to his rowing against Teemer and Gaudaur at Point of Pines, for a prize of one thousand dollars. He said he had received the proposal, but he thought it was absurd for anybody to think they could get three carmen, with such reputations as those mentioned had, to pull for such a sum.
He would not think of rowing against Gaudaur and Teemer together, in a race anywhere, for less than five thousand dollars.

A TORNADO IN ONTARIO.
Destruction of Farming Property.

MILTON, Ont., June 11.—A violent thunderstorm occurred in this vicinity this afternoon and developed into a tornado which took an easterly direction, wrecking fences and buildings in its path. The first building touched was Wm. Centre's barn on the first line of the township of Esquesing which was unroofed. About half-a-mile further this whirling column struck the sheds and barn of Malcolm Chisholm wrecking the sheds and unroofing the barn.
His dwelling house was next attacked and it was badly shattered, chimneys being torn down and windows and doors destroyed. Just across the road from Chisholm's the tornado struck the barn and sheds of Alex. McNab and made almost a complete wreck of them.
The fields for about a mile further, leaving fences and trees in its course, and then apparently had expended its force, as no further damage is reported. The path of tornado was about 20 yards wide and extended for about 2 miles across the first, second and third concessions of Esquesing.
Marvel is that there was no loss of life.
One of Chisholm's little girls had her arm broken but no other casualties are reported. McNab & Chisholm and their wives were away from home at the time attending a funeral and knew nothing of what had happened until their return. The tornado was plainly visible to residents in town and here who describe the scene as one of appalling grandeur and never to be forgotten; rocks and timbers of different building being whirled into air and dashed to splinters like mere toys.

MANITOBA AND THE NORTH-WEST.
RAILWAY EXTENSION.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 11.—General Manager Graham of N. P. & M. Ry., has returned to bring back news that there will be no extension of the line of the company this year, although under favorable circumstances there may be something done next season.

RELIGIOUS TEACHING IN SCHOOLS.
The celebrated case of Shaw vs. La-marche in which injunction is sought to restrain defendant from conducting religious exercises in St. Joseph's school, of which he is teacher, was argued before Justice Bain this morning and judgment reserved. At a meeting of the Winnipeg Public School Board to-day, it was decided to have religious exercises in the public schools as suggested by the advisory board.

NO RAIN FOR TWO YEARS.
Mr. Walter Shanly, M.P., arrived here on his way east from Montana, where he has been on professional business in connection with the Great Falls and Canada Railway. He drove across the country from Great Falls to Lethbridge, and was greatly surprised to find the intervening country arid. He had expected to find extensive pastures and large herds of cattle. On the Canadian side of the border there is good grass, furnishing ample food for cattle. Mr.
Shanly is informed that no rain of any account had fallen in the portion of Montana through which he drove for two years. Consequently cattlemen had to drive their cattle off to seek pasturage elsewhere.

Residents of Grismold have promised to furnish a hundred vehicles for the accommodation of C.P.R. excursionists leaving Toronto on the 24th inst., if they wish to see the country in that locality.

THE MARITIME PROVINCES.
Convention of Free Masons.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 11.—The Nova Scotia Grand Lodge of free and accepted masons assembled this morning at the masonic temple in annual convocation.
Immediately after the opening the craftsmen proceeded in a body to St. Paul's Church to attend divine service. The procession included the grand master, Grand Lodge officers, and about 200 masons headed by the band of the 63rd Rifles. At St. Paul's church a full choral service was given by a special choir of sixty voices. An appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. J. D. Harris, of Halifax, from 1 Peter II, 17 "Love the Brotherhood." The discourse, which lasted 40 minutes, was an eulogy of the Order of Freemasonry. The grand lodge resumed work this afternoon and tonight is being banquipped at the Halifax Hotel by resident Masons.

Hotel Damaged by Fire.
Alex. Carter's hotel, at Truro, caught fire in one of the upper rooms this morning and before the blaze was extinguished the upper part of the house and the roof were badly damaged. The building was insured in the Commercial Union for $25,000.

DRILL SHED FOR HALIFAX.
Last night a meeting of all the officers of the 63rd Rifles, 66th Fusiliers and garrison artillery was held to discuss the matter of a new drill shed and decide upon what steps should be taken. It was announced to the meeting that the Minister of Militia had promised that the Government would build a drillshed suitable for the accommodation of the three battalions, the militia store offices, recreation rooms, etc., if the city would furnish the site. It was resolved to petition the City Council to grant a field north of the Wanderers Grounds, and a petition was drawn up and signed by all the officers.

INDIANS ON THE WARPATH.
Montana ranches fired on.

HELENA, MONT., June 11.—The Cheyenne Indians are on the warpath. They have left their regular camps and are gathering in small camps of from 15 to 25 in their tepees and are firing at settlers houses and making the most warlike demonstrations. Ranchmen have been bringing their families into the settlement all day.

Meeting of Railway Shareholders.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 11.—The adjourned meeting of the shareholders of the Canada Atlantic Railway Company, which was to have been held on the 27th of May, resulted in the election of the following directors: J. R. Booth, G. H.
Perley, E. C. Smith, W. Anderson, C. B.
Powell, J. J. Booth and N. McIntosh.
The meeting adjourned till the 30th of September.

At the first meeting of the shareholders of the Ottawa, Arnprior & Renfrew Railway Company the following directors were appointed: C. McLachlin, J.
R. Booth, N. McIntosh, W. H. Berry, W.
Anderson and J. Booth. Mr. C. McLachlin was appointed president and Mr. J. R. Booth, vice-president.

A NUT FOR MANITOBA TO CRACK.
Nearly all the legislation passed last session by the Manitoba legislature has been allowed by the federal government.
The measures reserved for further consideration by the Minister of Justice includes the acts abolishing separate schools and French as an official language in that province.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.
At the Methodist Conference this morning it was decided that the next conference be held in Brockville, on the first Wednesday in June, 1891.

SAD CASE OF SUICIDE.
Yesterday Mrs. A. D. McCallum, an invalid lady, was found hanging to a beam in the dry house on the premises of her mother, Mrs. Waters of Ottawa, at the settlement of Basin du Lievre, three miles from Buckingham. The deceased lady was the wife of a merchant of Lucerne, Que., and almost a year ago contracted a severe illness. Some few months ago signs of mental aberration manifested themselves, and only the day before she was taken to her mother's residence in the hope that the change would do her good.

DEATH OF ABBE BOUCHER.
News has been received at the Archbishop's palace of the death of Rev. Abbe Boucher, who left this country seven years ago for the Grande Chartreuse Monastery in England. He formerly belonged to the arch diocese.

HACKMEN'S EXCURSION.
The City hackmen have decided to have their annual excursion to Montreal and Quebec on the 10th July.

FATAL BOAT ACCIDENT.
LONDON, June 11.—At Streilia, Saxony, to-day, a boat containing a party of excursionists was capsized in the River Elbe; five of the occupants were drowned.
The others were rescued by boats from the shore.

No Union in Theirs.
NEW YORK, June 11.—At the morning session of the Reformed Presbyterian synod today the report of the committee favoring a union with the other branches of the denomination was rejected. The vote was ayes 17, noes 129, absent 25, not voting 12.

Strikes in Germany.
BERLIN, June 11.—The bricklayers of Koenigsberg, Prussia, and the carpenters of Mannheim, Baden, are on strike for higher wages and shorter hours.

FATAL GAS EXPLOSION.
PITTSBURGH, June 11.—By an explosion of natural gas which had leaked into the cellar of No. 19 Pike street, Allegheny, this morning, Mrs. Kipp, about 70 years old and her grand daughter, Lizzie, aged 16, were so badly burned that they died this evening.

THE ROYAL PARTY IN QUEBEC.
Address of Welcome from the City.

QUEBEC, June 11.—At noon to-day His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, accompanied by the Duchess, Hon. Mr.
Stanley, and the prince's aide-de-camp, left the citadel for the parliament buildings to attend the reception tendered by the city. The Queen's Own Canadian Hussars furnished the escort. When the royal party arrived at the parliament buildings a guard of honor furnished by one hundred men of the eighth Royal Rifles, was drawn up in line. Near the entrance, on their left, was a company of High School cadets, dressed in a grey uniform, numbering about fifty young pupils, who looked the pink of neatness and carried themselves exceedingly well.
At the word of command the volunteers and cadets presented arms, the band playing "God save the Queen." The address was presented within the Legislative Council room, which was handsomely decorated for the occasion, and was crowded with a large number of Quebec's elite. The Duke entered the council chamber with Madame Angers, followed by Lieut-Governor Angers leading in the Duchess. They were followed by Hon. Mr. Stanley of Preston; Capt. Colville, aide-de-camp to the Governor General; Lt.-Col. Duchesne, D.A.G.; Lt.-Col. Montzambert and officers of "B" Battery: Lt.-Col.
Forsythe and officers of Q.O.C.H., Lt.-
Col. Prower and officers of the Eighth Royal Rifles, Lt.-Col. Taschereau, brigade major, and other volunteer officers in uniform, which made a very brilliant staff in their various colored and rich uniforms. When the Duke had taken the seat allotted to him, His Worship Mayor Fremont, surrounded by the members of the City Council, advanced and on behalf of the citizens of Quebec read an address of welcome couched in elegant and well finished terms. His Royal Highness afterwards thanked the citizens of Quebec through their representatives, in a very neat speech both in French and English. The ceremony then concluded, when the distinguished guests were driven back to the Governor General's quarters at the citadel. The streets were lined with citizens all along the route the Royal party was obliged to take and flags were flying in all parts of the city streets. This afternoon the Royal party drove to the falls of Montmorency. To-morrow morning they will embark on board the Allan Line R.M.S.
Sardinian for England.

O'BRIEN'S WEDDING.
Scenes of Popular Enthusiasm.

LONDON, June 11.—The scenes in and about Brompton on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Sophia Radialovich to William O'Brien, to-day, were characterized throughout by evidence of Irish political enthusiasm impossible of concealment, and many of the leading nationalist members of Parliament present were treated to somewhat noisy proof of the popularity in which they are held. The church was filled to the extent of its capacity, the guests including Herbert Gladstone, a large majority of the Parnell members of Parliament, many English members, a number of prominent French residents of London and a great gathering of ladies. The interior of the edifice was beautifully decorated with flowers pinks, &c. Mr. O'Brien was late in arriving, and looked pale and worn as he took his bride, who, although she is commonly described as tall, lithe and beautiful, is really short, dark and undeniably homely. Mr. Dillon bore his part as groom, man perfectly, and contributed considerably to the smoothness with which the affair was conducted. Three little girls acted as maids of honor. Mr. Parnell looked ruddy, and appeared to be in excellent health and spirits. As he entered the church he was greeted with subdued applause. The mess was sung with the accompaniment of a full orchestra, producing a magnificent effect.
Archbishop Croke delivered a brief address to the wedding pair, after which Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien held an informal reception in the church. For a time the crush was so great that it was impossible for any one to leave the church. Outside the church a great crowd was assembled to greet the bride and groom.
A dense mass of people filled the streets for six blocks, while the windows were choked with humanity. As the bride and groom left the church and entered their carriage a cheer went up which was passed along the line and continued until the party were out of sight. The prominent Irish members were greeted in the same way as they took their departure, and Mr. Parnell and Mr. Dillon were the recipients of a veritable ovation.
One lady in the crowd caused great amusement to the gathering and intense embarrassment to Mr. Parnell by rushing up to the Irish leader, throwing her arms around his neck and kissing him with a smack that even the cheers could not drown. Parnell blushed violently and the crowd laughed heartily.

FRANCE GETTING IMPATIENT.
Protest Against British Occupation of Egypt

LONDON, June 11.—In the French Chamber of Deputies yesterday M. Ribot, Minister of Foreign Affairs, read France's note to Egypt. After declaring that the difficulty of employing the profits of the conversion of the debt is more serious than the conversion itself, France contends that the time has arrived when England, in accordance with the many declarations and self-congratulations of her Ministers and for the prosperity and security of Egypt, ought to evacuate the country. The note expresses surprise that the powers do not agree in recognizing that the profits of the conversion ought to be applied in increasing Egypt's military forces in order to enable her to dispense with the British troops. After reading the note M. Ribot declared that France

KEEP THE RASCALS OUT.

No amount of side issues can obscure the question which is before the electors of Quebec. That is, shall a Liberal Government, firm on the question of Provincial Rights, be sustained, or shall the administration of affairs be entrusted to a gentleman who receives the support of his party mainly because he is a mere lieutenant of the ministers at Ottawa. This point is always carefully avoided by the opposition press and opposition speakers of this province; they do not like the subject mooted, because they know that the Province of Quebec will not submit to improper federal interference, and they are well aware that Mr. Tallon is simply Ottawa at second hand. Were he able to and desirous of shaking off Ottawa control he would not be put forward as the Conservative leader in Quebec. He is a pleasant and amiable gentleman, weak as water and pliable as putty. He is a shadowy representative of Mr. Chapleau, and were he once more in office at Quebec, we should soon find the nimble fingers of the Secretary of State at work. It would be better to have Chapleau straight than Chapleau and water as is now proposed. It is less crying out "corruption" as the Tallonites are doing because no corruption has been proved against Mr. Mercier, and because Mr. Tallon's friends are reeking with it. They were bred in it, grew fat in it, and have been pining and mourning ever since it was placed beyond their reach. Keep the rascals out.

HOW THE TIMBER GOES.

We are in receipt of a copy of a printed letter addressed by Mr. William Little to the President and Council of the Montreal Board of Trade on the forestry interests of Canada—in other words, an elaborate and forcible plea against the rapid destruction of our timber forests which has been going on for some years. The importance of the subject will be admitted by all who have given it anything like close attention. The destruction of our forests by lumbermen, and by the fires which frequently follow in their wake, has of late years been something immense; and the facts presented by the writer of the letter—in question, bearing upon the reckless cutting of timber in the United States, are positively startling. The following are a few of the statistics he presents:—Land covered with wood growth in the United States, 450,000,000 acres; extent cut over annually, 25,000,000 acres; wood and timber out of all kinds annually, 24,000,000,000 cubic feet, value $1,000,000,000; timber lands owned by the Government, 70,000,000 acres; value of timber stolen during seven years, $39,719,935; saw-mill capacity of the United States, 60,000,000,000 feet. From these facts he deduces the conclusion that, in the absence of any forest administration on the part of the American Government, the policy of the United States seems to be, "how to get rid of the timber," a policy which is steadily being fastened upon Canada. We make the following quotation from Mr. Little's letter:—

Less than twenty years ago I visited nearly all the saw mills between here and including Quebec, and nearly all the mills along and on the tributaries of the St. Lawrence were sawing almost exclusively white pine saw logs, while at present the few which still remain are confined almost entirely to cutting spruce and hemlock, much of this even of an inferior grade. And the logs now sawn at the Ottawa mills will not turn out over sixty per cent. of their stock into grades better than culls. And the rafts of superior pine that ran from 80 to 150 feet average (about twenty-five years ago I myself took a raft to Quebec of 153 feet average) now run from 50 to 80 cubic feet average.

I have already said that the present annual production of sawn lumber in the United States would load a train of cars 25,000 miles long, or long enough to encircle the earth, and I fancy some will be surprised at such figures; but it is figures like these that force all who will reflect on the matter, to use expressive adjectives whenever treating of its importance; but this sawn lumber is only a small part of the forest freight, there are still all other forest products; and when we add timber for railway and fencing, mining and export, round and hewn timber, we have our train loaded 72,000 miles; and if to this we then add the firewood, etc., amounting along to 216,000 miles, we have a total train of 288,000 miles in length, or more than enough to reach from the earth to the moon, still leaving our lumber train encircling the earth with 23,000 miles of a train to spare!—its weight alone, if green, over five hundred million tons, or enough to load five hundred thousand (500,000) ships of one thousand (1000) tons each!

The whole of these timber products handled annually by the American workman not only shows what a mighty weapon is the axe in the hands of the skillful chopper, but leaves all other agencies—whether of fire, flood, or tempest—so completely in the rear, that in the race of destruction they may be said to be practically "nowhere."

What the writer of the above contends for is that something must be done by efficient enforcement of practical legislation to prevent the wholesale destruction of our forests now going on, otherwise two things must necessarily occur: (1) the available supply of timber will soon be exhausted and our lumbering industry become a thing of the past; (2) when the country becomes largely denuded of its forests decreased rainfall will be the result, and that will be disastrous in the extreme. It will thus be seen that the future of our country in no small degree depends upon the preservation of our forests, and therefore the present generation is in duty bound to take some thought in this connection for the welfare of future generations.

What is to be done is a question that is easier asked than answered. Something is being done in a small way by tree planting; and more of this could be done. But it is obvious that it must be easier and more practical to preserve forests from destruction than to restore them after they are destroyed. The first thing to be done, we apprehend, is to educate public opinion by thorough discussion of this important subject. Then the requisite pressure can be brought to bear upon legislative bodies, and those charged with the administration of the laws, to compel them to deal with it in a practical way. It must not be forgotten that without a strong and enlightened public opinion—a radical awakening of the people to the necessity of preserving the forests—legislation will remain largely a dead letter. Mr. Little's letter is a valuable contribution to the desired discussion. Others who take an interest in the question should keep the ball rolling.

ST. MARY'S DIVISION.

If Alderman Jeannotte's legislative abilities are to be measured by his record as chairman of the Police Committee, the electors of St. Mary's division are hardly in want of such a representative. His chairmanship of the Police Committee is chiefly known by general incompetency and by the fact of his accepting bribes to defend prisoners charged by his own men. The policemen of the city were naturally amazed at finding their own chairman appearing against them in court, and the citizens were properly disgusted at this public hint to criminals, how best to choke off the police. It was generally thought that after realizing the opinion entertained of him in civic circles Alderman Jeannotte would take an early opportunity of retiring into private life; few people could have imagined that he would have the assurance to ask a body of electors such as those of St. Mary's division of Montreal to send him to the Legislature. He talks about his flag being that of provincial autonomy, &c., &c., and that he is an "independent" Conservative, when all the world knows that he is a thorough Tory and a thick-and-thin supporter of the party whose chief aim is to curtail provincial autonomy and hand the control of the province as much as they can into the hands of the politicians at Ottawa.

Mr. Joseph Beland is a candidate of quite another stamp. He is a practical man of good common sense, with a thorough knowledge of the constituency and in sympathy with the electors. He is nominated by the laboring classes of the division, and will have their support.

G. W. STEPHENS FOR ST. LAWRENCE.

The electors of St. Lawrence division should consider well what kind of man they will declare to be a fair representative of themselves, and what services they require of him at Quebec. No one has ventured, or has the least reason or desire, to cast a stone either at Mr. G. W. Stephens' private life or his public record. He is known to be an upright and honorable gentleman of irreproachable private character, independent of ministries, wanting nothing from them, and incapable of selling his influence to any of them. He is not a cherished infant of these who have designs upon the public money either in the treasury at Quebec or in that of the city of Montreal. He has shown his care for the public interest, both in the Legislature and the city council, and there is no impartial man in the city of Montreal that hesitates to trust the word of Mr. Stephens that such and such a transaction is just and honest. It seems hardly necessary to draw comparisons for the information of citizens of Montreal. Mr. Stephens is well known to them. The cry on every lip is that for a long series of years the financial affairs of Quebec have been administered too much in the interest of individuals and too little in the interest of the Province. If this is true, is there any better financial guardian to be found, or one who, with the desire to see an honest administration of affairs, has more experience than Mr. Stephens has, or more ability to keep things straight? All that is asked of the electors of the St. Lawrence division is that each one should consider the matter for himself. It is very good fun, no doubt, to instigate a contest, and when a fight is going on to cheer either side as such encouragement may be required, but when it comes to voting, then it is another matter, and we hardly believe that the electors will prefer Mr. Clendinning to Mr. Stephens, as their representative.

PERFECT THE MACHINERY.

Judge Wurtelle of the Superior Court has issued a writ of prohibition to restrain the Whelan commission from enquiring into any matters connected with the $10,000 except the particular matter as distinctly set forth in the commission. It is, enquire into the statement that it was paid to influence members of the Legislature. The popular belief is that it was divided up between the principal bootlers; no one accuses Mr. Pacaud and his associate of dividing up any more of the money than they could help. Mr. Tarte said in his evidence that he did not receive the money from Pacaud to be used in influencing the opposition, and he declined to say anything more about it. What the public require to know is how much he did receive from Pacaud and how much Pacaud kept for himself. People will acquit both Mr. Tarte and Mr. Pacaud of dividing up with the members of the Legislature. We can quite believe the theory that neither Conservative nor Liberal members got a smell of the money. It remains now for Mr. Mercier to amend the commission and its powers so that every matter concerned with Mr. Whelan and his bribery, bootling or whatever it may have been, shall be thoroughly investigated.

GAMBLING ON STEAMERS.

The complaint is an old one, but it is growing in vigour, that the gambling on ocean steamers is a nuisance to those passengers who are not gamblers. Every traveller must have observed the way in which the smoking room on the Liverpool and New York liners is appropriated by the card players, and given over to uses not originally contemplated. It is alleged that professional gamblers who cannot conveniently reach their prey on shore make a practice of travelling between the ports we have named and plying their trade throughout the busy months of ocean travel. Their passage money is a small proportion of their winnings. Captain Kennedy, a former captain of one of the popular ocean liners, has recently been "posting" an American newspaper on this subject, and if his statements are warranted the evil is rather encouraged than discouraged by the S. S. Companies. He says: "Men who gamble 'drink' and largely, too. The profits derived from the sale 'of these wines and liquors during the 'travelling'—I may say, the gambling 'season' are so great that it is not 'the interest of the steamship companies 'to abolish gambling, or to interfere in 'any way with the comfort and enjoyment of a class of passengers who add 'so materially to their income.'"

It is unusual to find a trusted employee turning Queen's evidence, as it were, against his former "owners," and in cases of the kind damaging statements are generally accepted only after enquiry, but in the matter alluded to the palpable facts corroborate the captain's statement, at least as far as the evil itself is concerned, and induce the belief that they can exist only by the connivance if not encouragement of the managers of the companies. Prima facie it is a difficult matter to deal with. To prohibit all card playing on board would probably be considered an unjustifiable interference with the passengers. To prohibit it in the smoking room would make matters worse by transferring the operations of the gamblers to the saloon, and to draw the line between card playing that might be permitted and card playing that could not be allowed would be very difficult. Still difficult things are sometimes accomplished, and this one should be attempted. What with ocean racing and rowdiness in the smoking rooms the Atlantic passage is not as inviting as it might be.

VERY WELL PUT.

Missionaries are wanted in Bridge-water, Nova Scotia. The Tennessee Jubilee singers, colored, gave a concert there last week. The people of the town refused to give them hotel accommodation or private hospitality, and after the concert was over compelled them to drive to Lunenburg, a distance of twelve miles for supper and beds. Some of the Bridge-water whites will be disappointed by the company they will find in Lunenburg if they ever get there.—Ottawa Journal.

GROWING WISER.

That there is standing like a great wall between English and Americans, historical prejudices, conflicting material interests, insular opinions and sentiments, cannot be questioned, but it is a wall which a large number of the best minds, and, we may add, the truest hearts, of both England and America, have been during late years engaged in demolishing. The visits of distinguished Englishmen to this country, and of like distinguished Americans to England, have resulted in bringing the best and most enlightened people of both countries face to face. The consequence has been a very perceptible reduction of the dividing wall and a certain undermining of the entire structure.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Mr. Figg—What have you been fighting about this time, sir?
Tommy—One of the fellows said I was bigger fool than my father. Hadn't a oughter 'a' looked him?
Mr. Figg—Why of course. That is to say, oh, get along out of here and tell your mother to wash your face.

A—A more deserving medical man than our friend Richard does not exist. He very frequently accepts no fees from his patients!
B—You don't say so!
A—For he generally settles with the heirs.

"A present from my wife."

"But was there anything inside."

"Of course, I. The unpaid bill for the purse."

Harry—Dearest, do you really and truly love me? Will you be mine, wholly mine? When shall we be happy day?

Uncle George (overhearing the above)—Blamed if there isn't another one of them confounded census enumerators catechizing Kiltie. Beats all, though, what foolish questions they ask.

Briggs—Mighty pretty bonnet your wife had on last Sunday. At least my wife said it was.

Yes, and it all came from my assimilatedness that she got it.

Briggs—How's that?

Briggs—When I went home the other evening, thinking very intently about business, as I often do, I found my wife in the kitchen. Now, what should I do but hand her the steak I was carrying to my wife and kiss the cook?

Of course, she knew it was all a mistake, but—oh, well, you know how women are.

Briggs—Yep.

"Love," he said, after she had promised to be his, and he had slipped the little band upon her pretty finger. "Love, tell me truly, did you honestly have your finger on the first time you have ever gone through such a scene?"

"The first time I have ever become engaged to you?"

"Is that what you mean?" asked the sweet one.

"Yes, really. But why do you ask?"

"Because when I was fumbling around your hand, hunting for some finger to put the ring on, I slipped that little finger into it as naturally as though you were proficient in the practice."

PRIESTLY CELIBACY.

Discussed by Rev. J. D. Fulton and Rev. Mr. Martin.

STRONG AND VEHEMENT LANGUAGE.

The Queen's Hall was well filled last evening on the occasion of the delivery of the third of a series of addresses by the Rev. J. D. Fulton, D.D., of New York.

The chairman, the Rev. Father Chiniquy, introduced the lecturer, who received a very warm welcome.

The title of the address was "Why Priests should Wed," and in the course of his address he told his audience how in the early ages it was legal for Roman Catholic priests to marry, but later on it was found that they did not give that subservience to the Vatican that they should, and it was ordered by them that all priests should take the oath of celibacy which, he said, was the most iniquitous law ever made, as history had told us that a man who took that oath owed no allegiance to the State in which he lived, but looked to the Vatican as his master, and that he should take the oath of celibacy.

Why did the Vatican want the head of that church and no one else. If the priest married he was bound to first love his wife and little children, and then was sure to have a respect for the welfare of the State. That was the reason why the old man at the Vatican did not want them to marry. Total obedience to himself and no one else, was his motto. In the United States they had made up their minds that a law should be passed compelling all priests to marry, otherwise they could not exercise their right of voting because they were not free agents; they simply had to do what their Cardinal or Archbishop told them to do. This was not in accordance with that freedom of thought which all Americans loved, and no man would be allowed to vote unless he was a free agent, because he could not have that respect for the flag when he was so completely bound to the Vatican far away.

The lecturer then, in scathing terms, denounced the confessional, which, he said, was one of the most iniquitous instruments in the Catholic Church. It made the confessor king of the wife's soul, and the husband only the grave-keeper of his wife's corpse. It was monstrous, he said, that such a thing should be allowed for one moment in a free country. It simply enslaved the wife, outraged the husband and checked the world. He then eulogized the manner in which the Protestants of this city had stood by the wife and children of the Rev. Mr. Martin in their time of grief.

In conclusion he said that marriage was honorable, and whoever did not believe it did not believe the Word of God, and that sin would be recorded against him in spite of all the absolutions of the Church of Rome. He then called upon several gentlemen to go around amongst the audience and collect a subscription for Mr. Martin, and in response, the sum of four dollars was handed that gentleman.

The Rev. Mr. Martin then came forward and was received with great applause. The Rev. gentleman, who spoke in broken English, said it was not his intention to speak at any length, because he was not in command of the English language, but he could assure his hearers that he fully sympathized with the remarks of the previous speaker concerning the temptations attached to the Roman Catholic priesthood. His own experience had taught him that the vow of celibacy obliged to be taken by a priest was a dreadful one, and he could affirm upon his word that two-thirds of the young men who took it did not know what they were doing as they were only shown one side of the question, which was a dark one indeed. Who took the vow, he said, repented when too late, that they had made a grievous mistake. He could not but express his hearty thanks to his Protestant friends for this city for their kind generosity to his wife and dear little children during his absence. He would not try to excuse himself or extenuate his conduct in that respect; it was his own fault; but he felt thankful that his eyes had been opened whereby he was ready to abide by God's laws and put his trust in His infinite mercy. He would only say that he was troubled with a gripe and dyspepsia at the time. He would always be ready and glad to shed his blood for the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. In conclusion he thanked his old friend Father Chiniquy, who had indeed proved a father to him in the hour of his distress. Rev. Father Chiniquy also addressed a few words to the audience and stated that he was sure the Rev. Mr. Martin was suffering from gripe which had taken possession of his brain at the time of his recent departure. All that was wanted to cure him was a clear and bracing air to wipe out the cobwebs that beset his brain. These he had in the place to which he was sent, and directly he came to his senses that love which he had for his wife and children came back to him and he could rest until he felt his loving hands around his neck once more. It was due to the prayers of that loving wife who through all her troubles never for one moment lost faith in God her Father. He concluded by calling attention to the need of a Fund of $10,000, or $20,000, the interest of which could be used in securing the Catholic priest, who forsook their own religion for Protestantism. The meeting then closed with the singing of a hymn.

BREVITIES.

Judge Taschereau yesterday gave his decision in the case of Mrs. Ashworth against her father Mr. Evans. Mrs. Ashworth sued her father for $20,000, alleging mismanagement by him of her estate. Mr. Evans pleaded that there was no mismanagement or indebtedness; but that on the contrary Mrs. Ashworth owed him some $5,000 for her education, etc. The Court maintained Mr. Evans' plea and dismissed Mrs. Ashworth's action.

HOPS IN A BLAZE.

A Well-Known Brewery Narrowly Escapes Total Destruction.

A telephone call quickly followed by an alarm from box 194 and immediately afterwards by three other alarms brought the largest part of the city fire brigade out at 4.10 yesterday afternoon. At this hour one of the employees of Dow's Brewery noticed smoke rising from beneath a stairway on the second floor of the warehouse on the west side of Colborne street. The smoke soon filled the flat and it was with difficulty the man got out to give the alarm. The first section of the brigade to arrive was No. 4 salvage wagon followed by the men of the engine and house and ladder who were soon hard at work in fighting what proved to be a hidden foe. There was but little fire, but the danger of its spreading was apparent to the men and bravely they made their way through the suffocating smoke, one after the other gave way and fell senseless and as others took their places and fought their way to the stair case.

Among those who suffered most were Firemen Jeadon, Veau, Pierre, Gion, Arthur Bisailon, Arsin David, Leon Belfleur, Jos. Doolin, Silvan Carpenter, Peter Prevost, McHugh, Capt. Doolan, Laporte and several others. Capt. Nolan of No. 1 was rather seriously hurt and had to be taken to his home, where Dr. Kirkpatrick attended him. Regis, Preaseau and George Benoit entered the building from a Hayes street ladder and were soon found insensible from smoke. Even the sturdy chief Benoit succumbed and had to be taken to the air.

This will give an idea of the difficulty the men had in getting to the seat of the fire. It seemed almost impossible but pluck and energy finally conquered and the water from nine streams quickly subdued the blaze. Then came the search to discover good one and a big fire would have meant a heavy loss, but fortunately it only amounts to about $500. On the other hand, the damage to stock will foot up a total of not less than $35,000. An immense quantity of malt was stored in the immediate neighborhood of the fire and this is utterly ruined and will not even be fit for feed. Below the flat is the bottling department, but beyond a good soaking no damage is done in this part of the building.

The insurance is in the hands of the North British Insurance Company. This and the companies with whom they are insured will have to stand the whole loss, as Messrs. Dow are fully insured. The business of the brewery will not be interfered with.

WHAT IT WILL DO.

1 to 2 bottles of B. B. B. will cure Headache.
1 to 2 bottles of B. B. B. will cure Biliousness.

1 to 2 bottles of B. B. B. will cure Scrofula.

In any case relief will be had from the first few doses.

BLOCKING THE INQUIRY.

The Royal Commissioners in the Whelan Pacand Affairs Tripped up.

Yesterday morning, before they went on the bench Messrs Beique & Malouin, the commissioners appointed to inquire into the Whelan-Pacand difficulty, were each served with three writs of prohibition, drawn up on behalf of Messrs. Whelan, Pacand and Tarte, and which contested the jurisdiction of the commissioners to commit the parties in question to jail for refusing to answer certain questions put to them. Mr. Beique, on behalf of the commission, stated, when the investigation was again opened, that, in view of the fact of the service of the writs upon them, there was but one course open to them, and that was to adjourn the enquiry until it was decided whether or not they had the right to force the witnesses to answer. He further stated as follows: "Before adjourning, however, we will ask the three witnesses to read over their depositions as given so far and then sign them." Messrs. Whelan, Pacand and Tarte were consequently handed the full notes of the stenographers and after examining them carefully and minutely, each signed his own deposition, Mr. Tarte making some slight alterations.

The Commission then adjourned sine die and the matter will not now come before the public until Monday next, the day upon which the writs are returnable.

ORDERED TO HAIL DOWN THE U. S. FLAG.

Col. Cotton Feels Very Important.

Kinross, June 11.—There was great excitement at the Ferry Wharf at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The occasion was the leaving of the excursion on the Steamer St. Lawrence, under the auspices of the Canadian Order of Foresters. It appears that some days ago permission was received from the Government for the "St. Lawrence," which is an American boat, to call at Canadian ports down the river, consequently she is for to-day a purely Canadian cotton. The band of "A" Battery was engaged by the mayor to accompany the excursion. At the hour named the band arrived at the wharf and Sergeant Carr informed the mayor that Col. Cotton gave him orders to board the steamer unless the American flag was hoisted down. Instantly there was great commotion and the Foresters, among them hundreds of visitors, ran ashore and shared in the excitement. The owners of the steamer were consulted and informed concerning Col. Cotton's orders. They refused, however, to haul down the Stars and Stripes. The Stars were at the end of her bowsprit. The Union-Jack at the top of the staff, at the bow, and the Stars and Stripes at the stern. The Canadian flag was flying amidships.

Col. Cotton, who is in command of "A" Battery, was interviewed by a reporter, and said with reference to the matter of allowing the men to land in an American port with military uniform on: "It is against the regulations I objected. I found out afterwards that it was not intended to land the men. When I learned that the American flag was flying in a conspicuous place on the steamer I objected to allowing the band to go on board because I did not think it would look right to see a band of British troops being conveyed through the Thousand Islands on a steamer carrying the stars and stripes at her stern. There would have been nothing wrong in the men going to the excursion as civilians, the trouble was that the men had not proper clothes, and I did not like to see them playing in a body wearing different suits. I am sorry there has been any trouble over the matter. A peaceful understanding could have been arrived at had the flags been lowered before the boat left the part. Of course we did not own the boat and could not compel the owners to lower the flag. I therefore refused to allow the band to go on board."

MOSES HAD ASTHMA.

MY HUSBAND had asthma for eight years with severe cough, and his lungs were affected. He could neither rest, work, nor sleep. Relief from any medicine he tried. Some time ago we got Haggard's Pectoral Balm, and after taking six or eight bottles his cough is entirely cured, the asthma greatly relieved, and his lungs greatly benefited.

The Shooting Affair.

Mr. Hall, of the Hall-Cowles shooting affair, was in the Police Court yesterday, when Judge Desnoyers informed him that his case was adjourned to this morning at 10 o'clock. The father and brother of the accused have arrived in town, as well as Mr. Williams, of the Cleveland Press staff, to report the proceedings for that journal.

FOR COLD OR PAIN.

YELLOW OIL is the best remedy I ever used. I had a bad cold and 15 months ago which was very sore. I got no relief until I took Haggard's Yellow Oil, which gave instant relief.

Children Cry for

BLIND, BUT A CRACK SHOT.

A Billiard Player who cannot see Balls, Cue nor Table.

HIS DIFFICULT CUSHION CAROMS.

The wierdest billiard-player in New York is a blind man named Julius Stern.

Two World reporters watched him make cushion-caroms and draw and masse shots yesterday evening until their heads swam.

One of them, who is something of a billiard-player, tried Mr. Stern's shots with his eyes wide open and made about one-third of them after frequent efforts.

With his eyes blindfolded he couldn't come within twenty degrees of making the simple carom. Mr. Stern smiled gently and went on with his performance.

"I've been playing billiards only since May 9 of this year," he said, "I became blind when I was eighteen. That was twelve years ago. I had been a clerk in a mercantile house and I knew nothing about billiards. I spent one term in the New York Institution for the Blind and found that while I could learn how to read raised letters I could not master any trade there that would support me. So reading and writing I started in the cigar business. Not long ago I added a billiard room to my cigar shop. The idea of learning how to play the game never entered my mind. I had played pool a very little before I had lost my eyes, but I knew nothing about billiards.

"One rainy evening I found a billiard table empty and began to punch the balls around with a cue. I did it simply for distraction and the little exercise I could get walking round looking for the balls. After a while I found that I had unconsciously remembered the location of the object ball, and, without any special effort, I hit it—that is, perhaps, once in a dozen shots or so.

"That set me thinking.

"Why couldn't I hit the ball oftener?"

"I had read of blind Sir Henry Fawcett, who was for years the most successful Postmaster-General England ever had; I had heard of John Herreshoff, the blind boat-builder, who designs and superintends the fastest torpedo boats in the world, and I never did hear of a blind man playing billiards, and I made up my mind that I'd learn the game."

I put the object ball in one corner 'o' the table and shot at it. Of course the cushions at the corner helped me to hit it with the cue ball. Little by little I found that I could place the cue ball on the right side or the left side in hitting just as I chose. After that I moved the object ball out on the 'spot' and hit it with a straight stroke. Then I tried a simple carom. Ever since then I've practised in what little spare time I could find. Cushion caroms puzzled me for a long while, but after a few hundred vain attempts I managed them."

Mr. Stern played two dozen difficult shots for the entertainment of his visitors. His movements are as agile and graceful as those of the ordinary man who can see. Before he lost his sight he was an athlete of considerable fame on the cinder path. He has several medals won in running sprints and in long-distance walking. He thinks nothing now of a walk from his store at No. 1,252 Third Avenue, down to the dry goods district, where he has many friends, and back again to his store. He rarely takes a guide with him, and although he carries a cane he never, under any circumstances, feels his way along with it.

Mr. Stern's method of playing billiards is peculiar. He walks to one end of the table, grabs the object ball and with his susceptible fingers, touches a "diamond" in the table frame or the black "spot" in the green cloth, and places the ball in position. In the same way he sets up the ball he is going to carom on and the end of the table, strikes his cue ball, and makes a "ridge" of the thumb and forefinger of his left hand. In his mind he carries an accurate diagram of the table and the relative positions of the balls and cushions. For a moment the fingers of his left hand flutter over the cue ball.

Bang! goes the cue, and away it speeds. The blind man's face is a study of suspense.

Click! from the object ball as the whirling sphere hits it gently on the side; then there is a whirr and a soft thud as the cue-ball rolls to the cushion, another as it hits the next and one more before it brings up with a gentle, almost inaudible click against the red ball. The blind man is smiling now. He has made a three-cushion shot that would do credit to a man with good sight and an expert's acquaintance with the game.

Once more the blind man sets up the balls. It is a difficult "draw" shot now or a masse. No matter what the shot may be, he keeps on until he makes it. He won't listen to coaching.

"I play in my own way," he says apologetically. "You see I remember just where I have put the balls and how they stand in relation to the cushions. The coaching you can give a man with sight doesn't apply to me at all. I must be my own judge of how hard to hit the cue-ball and how much 'English' to put on it. I have been playing not quite a month and I have committed thirty shots to memory. I hope to give an exhibition some day, but not until I can make all my shots without any misses. That will require lots of practice, I suppose, but I know I can do it."

Of course Julius Stern could not play a match game of billiards just yet, because he could not remember the location of the balls.

An Investigating Trip.

Ald. Conroy (Chairman) Martineau, Shorey and Grenier of the Water Committee, accompanied by Mr. McConnell, (Superintendent) Mr. Laforest (Assistant) and Secretary Dowd, visited the C. P. R. shops at Hochelaga yesterday. They examined the ground thoroughly with the view of being in a position to deal with the company's request for small meters. They next drove to Desery street and saw the room which is offered at the Fire Station for the accommodation of an employee who will attend to complaints in that district. The scene of contractor Chartrand's claim for damages to the extent of $8310, was also visited. No decision was arrived at.

Toronto Defeats Montreal at Baseball.

PROGRAMME OF THE O. A. A. C. ANNUAL GAMES.

McAuliffe will fight Slavin for the Championship.

BASEBALL.

THE TORONTO AGAIN THE WINNERS.

The third and last of the series of baseball matches between Montreal and Toronto was played yesterday afternoon. On Monday there was a good attendance of spectators, on Tuesday it was only fair and yesterday the crowd had dwindled down to about 400 people. This in itself does not look as though the game was likely to become popular or that Montreal will undertake to support a professional team whose salary list alone runs in the neighborhood of $2,000 per month. It was only natural to expect that the game which followed Monday would be better than on that day, yet the interest is evidently lost even before the team leaves for its first games in other cities as the Montreal baseball club.

The game played yesterday was certainly the best of the three, and proved without any doubt that the Toronto team is the best. They have shown their superiority from the commencement of the season, as can be seen from the standing of the six teams. The Montreal have good men, but they have several very poor ones, and until these are weeded out, the team must expect to stand at the bottom of the list. They are all professionals, making their money by playing, and therefore cannot possibly expect to escape criticism. With this in view, it is not too much to say that Montreal would have won yesterday's match but for the oft repeated muffs of the field and the error credited to the team. Schellerman pitched a nice game from beginning to end, but it would appear that he and Smith need a little practice together. Perhaps they have already had a little, but it must be very little. Montreal led until the sixth inning when Grim and Newman reached home and tied the score. Montreal failed to round in the seventh and when Toronto added 3 runs through Montreal's errors the backers of the latter gave up all hope and looked upon their money as lost. So it proved. Only one more run was made and Toronto came off victorious with an inning to spare. The score was

AQUATIC.

The Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen's Regatta.

The officials of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen have issued a very pretty circular containing the list of events to be rowed for at their eleventh annual regatta to be held at Lachine, upon August, 9th, under the patronage of his Honor the Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Quebec. The Regatta will be open to the world and already the management have received numerous applications for the circular from the several rowing associations in Canada, and the United States and the prospects for this, the premier aquatic event in Canada are of the brightest.

The officers of the association are gentlemen whose names are sufficient guarantee that the Regatta will be conducted in such a manner as to be above reproach.

Rowing Clubs affiliated with this Association which have been duly organized this year, and to all clubs in the United States recognized by the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

Junior Scullers are "those who have never pulled in a senior, nor won a junior scull race."

Competitions among members of their own club, or in private matches, will not affect junior oarsmen or scullers' standing.

In all cases of entries for four-oared races, a list of not more than six names, and in all cases of entries for double scull races, a list of not more than four names shall be sent to the Secretary, and from these names the actual crew must be selected.

Entries will not be received from individuals, but must in all cases be made by the clubs to which the intending competitors belong.

The names of the captain and secretary of each crew or club entering for any race shall be sent at the time of entrance to the secretary.

Objection to any entry shall be made in writing to the secretary at least seven days previous to date of the regatta, when a committee on entries will investigate the grounds of objections and decide thereon forthwith—such decision to be final.

Western crews can compete at Lachine for Canadian championships en route to N.A.A.O. regatta, which is held on 12th and 13th August, at Lake Quinsigamond, Worcester, Mass.

The entrance fees, which must in every instance accompany the original entry, are: Four-oars, $10; double-sculls and pairs-oared, $5; single-sculls, $2.50. All entries close at noon on August 1st.

The Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific railway companies have agreed to return the contestants free on their showing certificates from the secretary-treasurer. They will also carry their boats free each way, but at the owner's risk.

THE ST. ANNE BOATING CLUB.

TURF.

A GLORIOUS SUMMER MEETING AT BEL-AIR PREDICTED.

The management of the Bel-Air Jockey Club seem bent on losing no time in preparing for their summer meeting, which will be held on June 28 and July 1.

The entries for the two principal events, the Piper Heidsieck and Carlsbad Handicap, which were published in Wednesday's Herald, represent the best horses in Canada as well as some good ones from the States and that they will prove of an exciting character is a foregone conclusion, as all are likely starters and these two races alone, provided the weather is fine, will be worth a journey out to Bel-Air to witness. The several other events of each day are also sure to be well patronized.

The hon. secretary yesterday received a letter from Mr. Matt Sharpe of New York, who has entered his bay gelding "Ralph Black" in both of the handicaps, in which he requests that a programme of the two days' events be forwarded to him, as it is his intention to send along four other horses besides "Ralph Black" to the meeting.

Several other American race-horse owners have also sent similar requests, and the management of Bel-Air confidently look forward to having not only the biggest race meeting in the club's, but also in Canadian history.

The management have decided to lay down a board floor in the betting ring so that their patrons will not have to wade through "a sea of mud" to enable them to have a bit on their fancy. Several other alterations will also be carried out, all tending to cater for the benefit of the club's visitors.

What are the prospects of your summer meeting? was asked of a prominent gentleman of the club yesterday afternoon.

A benign smile swept across his genial features as he joyfully exclaimed: "We shall have the best race meeting ever held in Canada, my boy; I tell you that the two handicap races will be the very best contests ever witnessed on a race course in this country. From what I can learn at the present moment the horses entered will be at the starting post, and as you can see for yourself, they are high class ones and will go for the money, as they belong to gentlemen who race for the love of the thing and are sportsmen through and through. Yes, look out for the 'best-on-record' meeting on June 28 and July 1 next."

LACROSSE.

The Victoria Club.

The members of the Victoria Lacrosse Club are putting in some hard practice on their grounds, and they entertain a lively hope of coming out at the top of the tree at the end of the season.

poned on account of bad weather, will take place to-morrow afternoon.

RING.

McAuliffe Will Fight Slavin.
The pier of the Gulon line, No. 38 North River, was crowded Tuesday morning with the sporting fraternity who assembled to bid good by to Joe McAuliffe, who sailed by the steamship Wisconsin. The fighter was accompanied by his wife and Billy Madden, his manager, and Mrs. Madden. McAuliffe goes to London to sign articles to fight with Frank Slavin, the Australian, for a purse of $5,000 before the Pelican Club. Lord Lansdale will act as host to McAuliffe while the arrangements for the fight with Slavin are being completed. McAuliffe will spend his time in sparring, one week at the Alhambra and another at Pony Moore's Washington Theatre.

THE GRAND JURY.

Paid a Visit to St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

The usual visit by the Grand Jury to the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary and the Insane Asylum was made yesterday. The party first proceeded to the Exhibition Buildings, where 412 patients were found to be quartered in the various buildings placed at the disposal of the inmates since the burning of the ill-fated Longue Pointe Asylum. The Assistant Superintendent, Sister Seraphine, received and willingly guided the party through the various wards. Passing through the wards occupied by the violent, 137 patients, all men, were found to be walking and talking about in the large building known as the agricultural wing. Some pitiful cases were noticed. A young Indian, whose fancy is to bite his comrades, was seen tied up to a chair and foaming with rage. An old man with silvery hair hanging on his shoulders came up to some of the visitors, saying that he was the Almighty, and that the jury had come to kill him. Several other cases of a similar nature were noticed. The ordinary query for tobacco and matches was made by the patients, but the guardians and the sisters on this occasion were very careful that no matches should be given to the patients. Passing through the ward reserved for the idiots a boy, nine years of age, was noticed trying to knock his head on the wall, but the poor little fellow was tied to his chair by ropes and placed under the special care of a lay-sister. The next ward visited was the infirmary.

There were ten patients in that ward, but as stated by the Assistant Superintendent, sister Seraphine, there were no serious cases.

In regard to the new buildings now in course of construction at Longue Pointe, she stated to a Herald reporter that it was expected that by the 1st of September next all the patients would be once more on their own grounds at Longue Pointe.

On leaving the Exhibition Grounds the party proceeded to Pelouquin's at the Back River, where a sumptuous repast was awaiting the visitors. At 3 o'clock the Grand Jury entered the somber walls of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary. The warden, Mr. Oimmet, in a courteous manner received the party, and on stepping to the reception room the familiar figure was seen. The now-convict and ex-cashier of the National Bank of Providence, R. I., was being visited by his wife, who had just arrived from her home in Philadelphia, a couple of days ago. She has come to remain in St. Vincent de Paul in a private boarding house for the summer. In passing through the various wards, the well-known faces of Fahey, Naegle and Burman were seen. Naegle as usual disappeared on seeing the visitors, but was called back to his work by one of the guards in the carpenter shop. Fahey, the ex-detective, looked in the best of health and on being spoken to by a Herald reporter said that he was doing well and that he had made up his mind to bear his punishment like a man. His voice, however, was trembling and tears were running down his cheeks. Passing through the carpenter shop, Morrison, the Megantic outlaw, was seen. The celebrated convict has not as yet recovered from his wound in the left leg, and although left in the carpenter shop is left entirely free and is not compelled to do any work for the present. The various wards of the building were carefully inspected and were found to be in good order. Yesterday at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary was a holiday for the Protestant convicts, as His Lordship Bishop Bond, in the morning, administered the sacrament of confirmation to five of the Protestant convicts. After a short stop at Mr. Oimmet's private residence at St. Vincent, the party departed reaching the city about 7 o'clock, well satisfied with what had been seen.

Garrison Artillery Entertained.

Lieut. Reid, of No. 5 Battery, issued invitations to the men of that battery, as well as representatives from the others of the Garrison Artillery, to supper last evening. It was with regret that the guests learned that their host, owing to illness, would be unable to be with them. The chair was, however, ably filled by Capt. Stevenson, who was supported in the vice-chair by Capt. Costigan. After partaking of a very fine supper the tables were cleared and song and sentiment were in order. The reunion was quite enjoyable, and the only regret was the unavoidable absence of Lieut. Reid.

Court of Queen's Bench.

In the Court of Queen's Bench yesterday F. Brady, J. C. Laird, Aggie Ashton and Nellie Leslie pleaded not guilty to the charge preferred against them in the Walton case. Their trial is fixed for Monday. Charles Brown alias "Little Horace" was also up, but his case was adjourned until to-day pending the arrival of a witness from New York.

Rev. Mr. Tull's Induction.

St. Bartholomew's Reformed Episcopal church was crowded last evening with delegates attending the Synod and members of the congregation on the occasion of the induction of Rev. Mr. Tully into the pastorate of that church. The induction service was read by the Right Rev. Bishop Fallows, who at its conclusion preached an eloquent sermon, in the course of which he counselled a friendly Christian-like feeling amongst the parishioners towards their new pastor, who he felt sure would render great services amongst them. The solemn service was brought to a close by the Bishop pronouncing the benediction. The Synod will resume its sittings in the lecture hall this morning.
