World News In Brief

New York, Feb. 28—(AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall will receive the annual "Four Freedoms award" for his work as "chief architect" of the Marshal plan, it was announced today by the four Freedoms Foundation. The foundation's purpose is to further the Four Freedoms—of speech and religion and from want and fear—first enunciated by the late President Roosevelt.

London, Feb. 28 — (Reuters)—The Duke of Windsor yesterday paid farewell calls on the Queen Mother and Prime Minister Churchill before leaving today for New York on the liner Queen Elizabeth. The Duke came to London two weeks ago to attend the funeral of the King and to comfort his mother, Queen Mary. He has spent most of his visit at the side of his 84-year-old mother.

St. Damase, Que., Feb. 28. — (CP) —Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Levesque have named their new-born son, Gerald-George VI, in honor of the late King.

The Levesque's sixth son was born in this Lower St. Lawrence south shore town at 1:30 a.m., Feb. 15th, and was baptised a few hours later—at the time the King's funeral was being held in Windsor castle.

New York, Feb. 28—(AP)—Israel's labor minister said yesterday that discovery of new mineral deposits and building of new industrial plants in Israel has brought that country closer to economic independence. Mrs. Golda Myerson, who came here to take part in Israel's $500,000,000 independence bond drive, told newspaper men large deposits of iron, copper and kaolin have been found in Israel.

London, Feb. 28—(Reuters)—The bells in the 500-year-old belfry of the curfew tower at Windsor castle were not rung at the death of the King earlier this month because the massive heart-of-oak timbers supporting them are rotting and dangerous, the London Daily Telegraph says today. The vibration of the pealing bells which weigh nine tons, might cause the beams to fall, and they will not be rung until repair work has been completed.

First Canadian Ever Named To Post Assumes Office; Opens Parliament Today

Alexander's Successor Is Welcomed By Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Rt. Hon Vincent Massey, the first son of Canada to represent his Sovereign in his homeland, was installed today as Governor-General in the Senate Chamber with solemn ceremony.

The 65-year-old Chancellor of the University of Toronto took three oaths of office before a glittering assemblage in the gold-ceilinged chamber as the personal representative of the Queen.

Breaking a tradition that stretches back into Canada's colonial past, he succeeds 17 Britons who have held that office since Confederation. His immediate predecessor, Field Marshal Lord Alexander, resigned to become Britain's defence minister.

Guns boomed a royal salute, a military band played "God Save the Queen" and the Governor-General's flag fluttered atop the Peace Tower of the main Parliament buildings as Mr. Massey — now titled "His Excellency" — stepped into what now is the highest office that can befall a Canadian.

He took office in unique — and saddened — circumstances. He had been appointed by the King just two weeks before he died, and now becomes the representative of his daughter — Elizabeth. A close personal friend of the Royal family, he was one of the last visitors at Sandringham before the King's unexpected death.

From the installation ceremony, Mr. Massey motored to Rideau Hall, the Vice-Regal residence in swank Rockcliffe Park which will be his official home for the tenure of his office. This afternoon, he returns to perform the first formal duty of his new office, opening the 1952 session of Parliament.

The ceremony was ended by an address of welcome in which Prime Minister St. Laurent noted that Mr. Massey was assuming the office at a time of "universal and heartfelt" mourning for the King.

Expressing the satisfaction of the government with Mr. Massey's acceptance of the appointment, he recalled the new Governor-General's services to Canada in two of this country's highest diplomatic offices—as first Canadian minister in Washington and as Canadian High Commissioner in London.

"The Canadian people," the Prime Minister said, "are confident that you will discharge with devotion and distinction your duties as the representative in Canada of Her Majesty the Queen."

Replying, Mr. Massey promised that it will be his "duty and responsibility to cherish and preserve" the fine traditions that have grown up around his new office over the generations.

"To the Canadian people," he said, "may I say very humbly that I approach my task with a determination to do all in my power to serve my Sovereign and in so doing I know I shall be serving Canada."

Mr. Massey arrived in the capital at 10:30 a.m. aboard a special train which brought him from his home at Port Hope, Ont. He was greeted by Prime Minister St. Laurent, members of the federal cabinet, the diplomatic corps and a great throng of spectators which crowded in and about Ottawa's Union Railway Station.

A guard of honor of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, stationed in the concourse of the depot, gave a general salute and an artillery battery stationed nearby fired 21 guns to mark his arrival.

In the Senate, Maj.-Gen. Harry Letson, the Governor-General's secretary, read the late King's commission appointing Mr. Massey and Mr. Massey took three oaths administered by Mr. Justice Patrick Kerwin, senior puisne judge of the Supreme Court of Canada.

The oaths were one swearing allegiance to the Queen, a second to faithfully discharge the duties of the Governor-General's office and a third to safeguard the Great Seal of Canada.

Then Mr. Massey signed the oath book and Charles Stein, under-secretary of state, handed him the Great Seal which Mr. Massey, in turn, handed to State Secretary Bradley, saying:

"I hand you the Great Seal of Canada for safe-keeping."

Gen. Letson read Mr. Massey's personal proclamation announcing his taking of ofifce and a military band stationed outside the chamber played "God Save the Queen" while an artillery battery stationed on Parliament Hill began firing the 21-gun salute. The Governor-General's flag was raised to full staff.

Vice-Regal Proclamation

Ottawa, Feb. 28—(CP)—The commission by the late King George VI appointing Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey as Governor-General of Canada was read today at Mr. Massey's installation in the Senate chamber.

During the ceremony, Mr. Massey also issued his personal proclamation announcing his taking of office.

Text of the King's commission follows:

George the Sixth, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas King, defender of the faith: to our right trusty and well-beloved Counsellor Vincent Massey, Member of the Order of the Companions of Honor, greeting.

We do, by this our commission under our great seal of Canada, appoint you, Vincent Massey, to be, during our pleasure, our Governor-General and commander-in-chief in and over Canada, with all the powers, rights, privileges and advantages belonging or appertaining to the office.

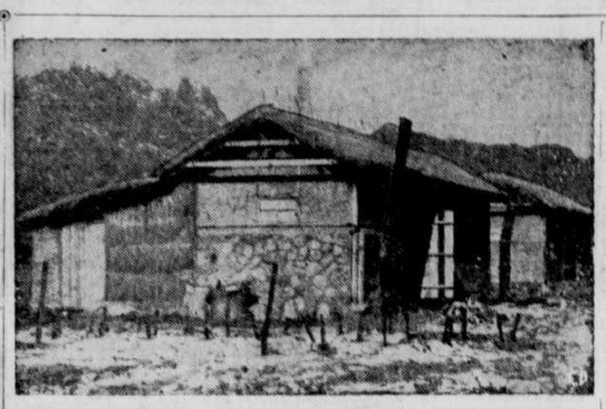

And we do hereby authorize, empower, and command you, as our representative, to exercise and perform all and singular the powers and directions contained in certain letters patent under our great seal of Canada, bearing date the eighth day of September, 1947, constituting the office of Governor-General and commander-in-chief in and over Canada, or in any other letters patent adding to, amending, or substituted for the same.

And further we do hereby appoint that, so soon as you shall have taken the prescribed oaths and have entered upon the duties of your office, this our present commission shall come into effect.

And we do hereby command all and singular our officers, ministers, and loving subjects in Canada, and all others whom it may concern, to take due notice hereof, and to give their ready obedience accordingly.

Given under our royal hand and under our great seal of Canada

CHEAP HOUSING — Built amid the rubble left by departed armies are these new Korean homes, typical of hundreds going up in the war-ravaged country. The barbed-wire entanglement past the houses gives evidence of a former defence line. (CP from National Defence)

Koreans Get Homes In U.N. Sponsored Housing Scheme

Seoul, Korea, Feb. 28—(CP)—Recipe for a two-family duplex house:

Thirteen hundred board feet of two-by-four lumber;

Twelve to 14 pounds of nails;

Two or three bags of cement (unless the builder is a reactionary who prefers mud);

Add assorted rush lathing and mud plaster, work for 12 days.

It's a good house, too, says 56-year-old Lee Tok Chong who built one in a small settlement eight miles north of Seoul on the road to Uijongbu.

Lee is chief of the village, elected by the heads of its other 39 families because "he gets things done and knows how to run us."

There are 20 new duplexes like Lee's in the village, each unit housing a family and built by the occupants with materials supplied by the United Nations.

The settlement of tenant-farmers was destroyed by Korean communist troops retreating after the September, 1951, Inchon landings. Lee and his neighbores hid as the northerners pillaged and burned, then moved south with what little goods they could carry.

Last autumn the U.N. permitted some farmers to go back to their land in "restricted" areas and plant winter wheat.

"Restricted" areas extend to within four or five miles of the font, where a "prohibited" area begins.

As destitute citizens in essential employment, Lee and the others in his community qualified for free temporary housing. The United Nations civilian assistance command provided the materials—wood, nails and cement, if desired—and the prospective occupants provided the labor.

Wood-framed, walled in with mud plastered on rush lathing and with thatched roof, each half of a duplex has two rooms—one a 10-foot square living room, the other a kitchen half that size.

"Not so temporary," said Lee. "By thatching the roof every other year, I can make this house last 20 years."

Across Korea, 1,024,000 persons have been moved north into the restricted areas. A total of 1,550 "temporary" houses has been built and 6,200 more are under construction.

To qualify for resettlement on their own land, such farmers must:

Return as family groups,

Have all their household effects, and still have their family bull to pull the plow.

To save materials, the new houses must conform to a basic plan, through changes have been made to accommodate local needs and customs.

Despite the building program, most of Korea's homeless still are billeted on the populace south of the Han river or are in organized camps.

The colonel commanding the U.N.C.A.C. team in Seoul province says: "Everybody is under cover this winter. There isn't anybody in a tent any more, or in the open."

In the camps the refugees live in thatched or tened dugouts.

A C.A.C. welfare oficer said: "There have been rumors about people living in caves this winter, but officially I know of none."

My trip uncovered one case: A Korean soldier prematurely discharged from hospital with a battle wound. He died in a cave, beside him a handwritten statement damning civilian hospitals and relief organizations.

In Seoul, half the office and factory buildings and a quarter of the homes were destroyed. There 250 temporary houses have been built. Others in the province

18 U.S. Airmen Parachute To Safety At Sydney, N.S.

By DON MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Correspondent

Sydney, N.S., Feb. 28.— (CP) — Eighteen United States airmen "hit the silk" to safety in a blinding blizzard early today and their big transport plane hurtled harmlessly into a wood at the edge of this steel city of 30,000.

The men, 17 without previous jumping experience, sought the parachute route to save their lives after 20 attempts to land at the nearby Reserve airport. They abandoned the C-47 with fuel for only three minutes remaining. None was seriously injured.

One of the worst blizzards in a storm-dogged winter stalked the plane all the way on its hop from Westover Field, Mass. It was en route to Torbay, Nfld. The plane narrowly missed dwellings on its final plunge.

The crew first tried to outrun the storm but conditions became steadily worse. The Westover-Yarmouth, N.S., leg, normally a one-hour hop, took more than 2½ hours.

They decided to "put her down" at the Reserve airport, on the low-lying "barrens" a few miles from the menacing Atlantic.

Time and again the big transport swooped over the airport—once at a height of 10 feet—but could not make the touchdown. Capt. T. E. Koblenski, the pilot, then climbed to 3,000 feet and ordered everyone to jump.

Koblenski, with his engines spluttering for fuel, stuck at the controls until all were gone and then leaped into the howling storm clad only "in shirtsleeves and parachute."

Staff Sgt. L. A. Redinter a Pennsylvanian who had jumped four times previously, conducted an impromptu parachute course as the men hit the silk one by one.

"It must be the shortest course on record but it must have been OK. We're all here," said one snow-encrusted survivor.

Chief dread of the airmen was that they would fall in the Atlantic but they also faced perils from the storm, with gales gusting to 50 miles an hour. Several floated down close beside high tension wires that would spell instant death. Others dangled from trees for a time, bashed by the gale.

The escape door jammed at first but broke loose on a frantic second try. Lt.-Col. James A. Harron of Grosse Point, Mich, landed on a hilltop and had to be evacuated by a toboggan. He suffered several cracked ribs.

The pilotless plane zoomed over Alexander street, near King's road at the entrance to the city, at "nought feet," rousing residents who knew at once a crash was near and rushed from their homes.

Ginger Spence and Harold Peverley, whose homes were directly beneath the plane's path, found the wreckage one-half a mile away in a hardwood and spruce forest. The engines were about 50 yards from the fuselage and parts of the wings were scattered over several hundred yards.

Capt. James P. Amaro of Birmingham, Ala., a passenger, was one of several who drifted in their parachutes towards Sydney River, which empties into the Sydney harbor. He came down only yards from dangerous high tension wires carrying electricity into the city.

Amaro suffered a knee injury and Master Sgt. Edward J. Haage,

Co-Pilot Tells Of His Leap To Safety

(Editor's note: Capt. W. L. Riley was co-pilot of the plane that crashed at Sydney, N.S., early today. Here is an account of the accident in his own words.)

As told to The Canadian Press by Capt. W. L. Riley, U.S.A.A.F.

Sydney, N.S., Feb. 28 —(CP)— Under different circumstances I would have enjoyed my first parachute jump but this morning's was tough—you couldn't see where you were going and the weather made the descent cold and uncomfortable.

But to get back at the beginning. I'm 31, I'm from Staten Island, N.Y., I have a wife and boy at St. John's, Nfld., and I've been in the air force for 10 years.

During the night we were flying from Westover Field, Mass., to Torbay, Nfld., and we were bucking headwinds and extreme turbulence all the way. Then ice began to build up dangerously. It locked the prop pitch and the throttles and we realized we were in for it if we couldn't find a place to set down.

But the visibility was zero-zero and we couldn't find a hole to see anything. The rough going had depleted our fuel supply and when we reached the decision to evacuate there wasn't enough gas in her to start a fire.

By this time we were talking to the Sydney tower and they were most helpful and did their best to talk us down and keep us fully informed as to our whereabouts. I think at times they could hear our motors. Of course the wild blizzard made it impossible for us to see them. We couldn't even see the lights of Sydney.

Capt. Koblenyki, our pilot, was with me at the controls and it was like handling 100 bucking broncos. When we realized our goose was cooked, we decided to take every precaution possible to see that the crew and passengers got out safely and that the plane crashed where it wouldn't harm anything on the ground. We gave orders for evacuation and let the Sydney tower know what we were doing. They expertly helped us get on a radio range for a straight run at 3,000 feet. You must remember that our throttle and prop pitch was locked. There was 80 pounds of ice built up behind each prop. This meant that we had little control over our speed, although we could still steer. We dropped our landing gear to brake the speed of the plane and then, following the tower's instruction, set a course for a straight run over the radio range which we estimated would clear us of all obstacles and most important to us, see the plane crash where it couldn't do any damage to people below. We had made two runs over the area previously but our gas was now nearly all gone. We made the final run and as Capt. Koblenski and I stayed at the controls to ensure a straight and safe run for the parachuting passengers, Sgt. Redinger, our flight engineer went to work strapping on chutes and getting people away.

We were flying a normal range

Immigrant Is Still Sought As Potential Germ Carrier

Ottawa, Feb. 28.— (CP) —A man who speaks German today was a potential threat to Canada's economy and the object of a two-province search.

Willi Bruntjen, a 29-year-old recent immigrant, became the object of an R.C.M.P. hunt when foot-and-mount disease was discovered among cattle on a southern Saskatchewan farm where he worked.

Discovery of the easily-spread disease brought import embargoes by the United States on livestock, hay and straw. It also halted movement of livestock out of the Prairies into British Columbia and Ontario.

Police want Bruntjen to undergo laboratory test to determine whether he is carrying the virus of foot and mouth disease. He isn't wanted on a criminal charge but authorities want to make sure he isn't spreading the disease which has brought mild paralysis to the livestock industry in its wake.

Bruntjen is known as the "man with the pompadour." He usually goes hatless and has dark brown hair. He was last reported en route to Montreal or Toronto by train from near Port Arthur.

Police in every village, town and city co-operated with the R.C.M.P. in trying to locate Bruntjen, who was reported located once. Later he was found to have boarded the train three days ago apparently at Heron Bay, Ont.

When he left the west, Bruntjen was seeking bush work and there is a possibility he may unwittingly be carrying the virus of foot and mouth disease on his clothing.

At Toronto, city police and R.C.M.P. searched through rooming houses and hotels in the downtown area for Bruntjen. They unsuccesfully checked on rooming houses for a young man who answered his description.

Police there said he was fairly tall, well-dressed, with dark brown hair worn long and combed in a pompardour style. He was bareheaded and wore a grey topcoat.

Meanwhile, there was some encouragement for the livestock industry in reports from Regina that no new cases of the disease have been discovered. In quarantined southern Saskatchewan, there are 24 known cases.

Another encouraging sign was an agricultural department statement that the United States may modify its embargoes because Canada is well-staffed with experienced veterinarians.

Agricultural Minister Gardiner, on his way back here from Vancouver, said he believes the situation is well under control. He also said inter-provincial boundaries shouldn't be closed to livestock while the Federal government is trying to convince the United States to ease its embargoes.

Edmonton cattle shippers made one attempt to beat the British Columbia embargo. A 29-car livestock train was sent off yesterday. It crossed the border before the midnight deadline.

British Columbia will set up border patrols of R.C.M.P. to block any livestock movement from across the Alberta border.

In Regina, the heart of the quarantine area of 11 rural municipalities, plans to slaughter infected herds were held up by the difficulty in digging graves in the frozen ground.

Plans also were being made to set up a buffer zone of partly-quarantined municipalities around those already in quarantine. The plans awaited approval by Federal authorities.

Agriculture Minister I. C. Nollet, of Saskatchewan, proposed a Federal price maintenance of livestock to help offset any loss to those in the industry.

He also urged the Federal government to use emergency powers to control marketing movements of livestock.

The livestock markets were showing the effects of the crisis. In Winnipeg and Toronto, trade was almost at a standstill. Prices in Winnipegf were down sharply and in Toronto they ranged from $3 to $4 lower on steers and heifers and $5 lower on cows.

Agricultural Agencies Keep On Job

Vancouver, Feb. 28 —(CP)— The fight against the dreaded foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan has focused attention on the work of federal government agencies organized to protect the purity of Canadian foods.

It is a constant vigil and showed in the fast action taken by government inspectors to confine the disease outbreak to south Saskatchewan herds.

Inspectors have wide powers. They work for the health of animals division of the department of agriculture's production service and the food and drug laboratory, department of national health.

British Columbia, like all other provinces, has its corps of inspectors. In the packing houses they supervise every phase of operation from the time the animals enter until dressed meat is shipped out. The inspectors check live animals for symptoms of disease and deformities and enforce sanitary measures during slaughtering processes.

"We're always looking," said Dr. W. A. Ross, chief of staff and a veteran of the division.

"And we get complete co-operation from the packers, who are themselves always searching for ways and means to improve their products."

It is an ever-alert "police force" of purity. The inspectors' work calls for strict observance of federal regulations.

US Senator Sees Backing For Seaway

Washington, Feb. 28—(CP)—A Rhode Island Senator predicted today that the United States Senate foreign relations committee will approve the controversial St. Lawrence seaway legislation.

Democratic Senator Theodore Greene, one of the main backers of the legislation to authorize construction of the $818,000,000 water and power project jointly with Canada, told a reporter he belives the 13-member committee will approve it. He declined, however, to predict the vote. Canada has indicated her readiness to go ahead with the project with or without U.S. participation.

Another Senator, Alexander Wiley (Rep. Wis.) said today the committee will be urged to act promptly on the legislation.

He told reporters the issue will be raised "at the first chance" in the committee after completion of the hearing this week.

Chairman Tom Connally, a long-time foe of the seaway, brushed the question aside, however, when asked when action might be taken.

"I have no idea when the committee will act," said the Texas Democratic Senator. "It is up to the committee."

Frazer A. Bailey, president of the National Federation of American Shipping, Inc., led the second day parade of witnesses testifying against the seaway.

Scores of witnesses backing the project testified during the first two days this week, and opponents took over yesterday.

Bailey in a prepared statement said his organization included a majority of all deep-water dry cargo American flag shipping and a substantial portion of the tanker fleet.

The witness said his organization does not believe that the St. Lawrence seaway would open the Great Lakes to "any substantial amount of ocean shipping."

Bailey contended that only about three per cent of the privately owned American fleet could operate through the proposed 27-foot deep waterway fully loaded.

U.N. Truce Negotiators Ask For Accounting Of Civilians

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR

Munsan, Korea, Feb. 28—(AP)—U.N. truce negotiators today asked the communists for another accounting of non-Korean civilians believed captured by the Reds.

Staff officers handed back to the armistice sub-committee the deadlock over voluntary repatriation of prisoners. The officers reached virtual agreement on all other points. The sub-committee will meet Friday.

Allied staff officers handed communist delegates a list of 57 names—two more than were on the original U.N. list Dec. 30. The new names are those of the Rev. Jean Colin, a French Roman Catholic missionary, and Alfred Gerald Matti, a Swiss national.

The Reds disclosed late last month that 48 foreign civilians are interned in North Korea, but 21 weren't on the allied list. Thus the U.N. still seeks an accounting of 30 civilians who may be held by the communists.

Col. James C. Murray gave Red negotiators the new allied list after the communists asked for a guarantee that foreign nationals in allied-held territory would be returned. Murray said he knew of none and asked for names. However, he indicated there would be no objections to writing such a guarantee into the armistice agreement.

Murray also asked the Reds to exchange information on all prisoners ever held by either side. The communists gave no indication they would comply.

The allied staff officer said the Reds should hand over information on "approximately 50,000 persons—formerly military personnel of our side—for whom no accounting has been given." They are Koreans.

The staff officers working on prisoner exchange plans wound up 22 days of wrangling Thursday with virtual agreement on all but the key issue—voluntary repatriation.

The prisoner exchange subcommittee will take over this thorny problem again in a meeting scheduled for 11 a.m. Friday (9 p.m. EST Thursday) in Panmunjom. The subdelegates have not met since Feb. 6.

Negotiations on truce supervision bogged down completely.

The Reds continued to press for the nomination of Soviet Russia as a member of a neutral supervisory commission.

Although the staff officers appeared to have reached a deadlock, they agreed to meet again at 11 a.m. Friday (9 p.m. Thursday EST).

Nuns Expelled From China Reach Safety Of Hong Kong

Hong Kong, Feb. 28.—(Reuters)—Three Canadian nuns, ordered expelled from China after a communist trial last December, reached Hong Kong by train today.

They are:

Sister Saint Foy (Elizabeth Lemire, La Baie du Febvre, Yamaska County, Que.)

Sistera Saint Victoire (Germaine Tanguay, a Canadian citizen born in Nashua, N.H.)

Sister Saint Germaine (Imelda Laperriere, Pont Rouge, Portneuf County, Que.). They were tried with two other Canadian nuns of the Sacred Heart Orphanage at Canton on charges of murdering 2,116 orphans. The other two were sentenced to five years in prison, to be deported after their release.

They are Sister Superior Saint Alphonse du Redempteur (Antoinette Couvrette of Ste. Dorothee, Laval County, Que.) head of the orphanage, and Sister Saint Marie Germaine (Germaine Gravel of St Pasteur, Champlain County, Que.).

The nuns faced a public trial in Canton Dec. 2. During 2½ hours they were accused of murder and maltreatment of infants.

The court alleged that between Oct. 19, 1949, and Feb. 19, 1951, the nuns took 2,251 children into their orphanage but when the communists took the institution over 2,116 were dead or missing.

The charges neglected to mention that most of the infants when finally brought to the orphanage were so close to death that noth ing could save them.

The communists have used similar charges against many Catholic missionaries in recent months in order to justify their arrest.

The nuns wept and laughed with joy today as they stepped off a train which brought them from the border into British Kowloon.

They hugged and kissed other nuns who welcomed them after their 12 months in a communist prison.

The three told reporters at the station that before their trial they were paraded slowly through Canton streets on the back of a truck.

Crowds threw rocks, mud and potatoes at them; two were hit on the head and leg by rocks, and another was struck by a club, they said.

The three nuns said the two Sisters still imprisoned were believed to be "in poor condition."

Their own prison treatment improved after the trial, but they were poorly fed, having only two bowls of rice each a day.

The nuns said that at their three-hour trial they were made to walk through the crowd bowing and apologizing for their "crimes."

Six thousand spectators sang communist songs over loudspeakers, while "hysterical witnesses" screamed accusations against them.

Two communist guards accompanied them in the train from Canton to the British border.

Britain Recruits Quarter Million Air Raid Wardens

By ROBERT WIGHTON

London. — Nearly 250,000 British men and women have joined civil-defence forces since the recruiting call two years ago, and the number is increasing by nearly 7,000 a month.

To them may be added the 11,200 members of the auxiliary fire service, 23,353 special constables, 19,060 members of the National Hospital Service Reserve and 17,092 highly-trained aircraft observers and plotters of the Royal Observer Corps.

Not included in the total of 242,943 in the civil-defence forces are the "last-ditch" soldiers of the Home Guard, now being formed again, or the permanent forces of the Red Cross and the St. John Ambulance Brigade which will also play their part if a third world war comes.

Many believe that in a third world war Britain would become a giant "aircraft carrier," uninhabitable under a rain of atom bombs.

So concerned with this despondent view is the London borough of Tolborn that its councillors plan to distribute leaflets in taverns warning against "careless atomic talk."

A civil-defence staff college and training schools have been established to become the model for more, including some to be set up in the United States.

Canada, which last spring made a formal agreement to pool her civil-defence resources as well as her military means with those of the United States, also has made arrangements to exchange students of civil-defence with Britain.

The problem of shelter from atomic attacks may be one of the most difficult. London, for example, has hundreds of shelters specially built in the last war, which, though adequate then, would not protect people from atomic blast.

Another main problem is emergency feeding. Forty Canadian and United States scientists, service officials and administrators recently returned from Britain after observing her method on the food aspects of civil defence.

For the first time since I can remember, two rival studios are beating the same publicity drums for an Oscar for the same actress. She's Shelley Winters of UI, who made "A Place in the Sun" on loanout to Paramount.

Joan Caulfield and Frank Ross, the acting-producing team, are snubbing their noses at the prophets of doom for mixing matrimony and professions. Their second film will be "A WAC in Panama."

Shapely Zsa Zsa Gabor will disrobe as a magician's assistant in MGM's "Lili." Nope, it's not the life story of Lili St. Cyr.

Spring Byington is telling it on UI's "Almost Married" set that she's almost completed the manuscript of her first book, "How To Be a Grandmother." It's a wonder Joan Bennett or Marlene Dietrich didn't beat her to it.

He Isn't Alone

The censor-scissoring on the Alan Ladd-Deborah Kerr starrer, "Thunder In the East," has director Charles Vidor groaning. Objections from the British and Indian government forced Paramount to do the snipping.

Funny-grim is the word for the scene in "War of the Worlds" in which Bill Phipps and two other actors walk up to a space ship containing Martians and say, "Welcome to California." The Martians reply by disintegrating the friendly chaps.

Cameron Mitchell, who put life into "Death of a Salesman" with his wolfish son role, is claiming the screen's "worst heel" title for his part in "The Outcasts of Poker Flat."

"And what makes it really good," he's beaming "is that there's no psychological explanation in the final reel for the guy's actions. He's just a born heel."

Cookshire W. M. S. Holds Meeting

Cookshire, Feb. 28.—The W.M.S. held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. E. C. James. There were nine members and one guest present.

After the reading of the minutes of the January meeting, Mrs. A. H. Goff read a letter which showed that the allocation for Trinity United Church W.M.S. this year is $150, ten dolalrs more than last year. All hope this objective can be met. If each member uses his talent to raise a dollar or more, it can be easily met.

The study period was in the hands of Mrs. J. A. Butler, assisted by Mrs. C. M. MacRae and Mrs. J. E. Drennan. The subject for the afternoon was "The French Protestant in Canada." The devotional part of the service was in the hands of Mrs. O. C. Farnsworth.

Mrs. James then served a cup of tea which was much enjoyed.

FARM FORUM

On Feb. 18 the Farm Forum group of Cookshire met with Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hodge with an attendance of 16. The subject for discussion was "The Effect of High Transportation Costs."

The increase in transportation charges has raised the prices of what the farmer had to buy and increases the cost of marketing what he has to sell. For this section of the country transportation facilities are fairly adequate as it is not a very long haul to market the farmers' produce.

Plans were made for "Fourth Night" to hold a social sugar party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Farnsworth. Lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed.

General Notes

The friends of Mrs. Armitage will be sorry to learn that she is not gaining as favorably as all would like.

Mrs. Henrietta Hodgman was in Birchton where she attended the Christmas Club.

Master Richard Cillis, of Sherbrooke, has been a guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Desruisseaux.

Mrs. John Cloutier entertained the Christmas Club in honor of Mrs. Charles Sawyer who is her guest. Games of bingo were played. Mrs. O. Worby won the special prize, Mrs. Leon Desruisseaux the first prize and Mrs. Vermette, Sr. the consolation prize. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and all went happily home.

Those who attended the Vermette-Simoneau wedding held in Magog were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Vermette, Mrs. Vermette, Sr., Miss Lucienne Vermette, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dumont, Miss Lucette Dumont, Francois and Pauline Dumont, Mrs. Leon Desruisseaux and Mrs. Frank Hurd.

Mr. and Mrs. James Royer and two children, of Bury, spent several days with Mrs. Royer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McHardy.

The friends of Mr. Charles Baker will be sorry to learn that he has undergone an operation in the Sherbrooke Hospital. His condition is as good as can be expected. All wish him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Williams, of Sherbrooke, is caring for Mrs. Charles Baker while Mr. Baker is in the hospital.

Mr. G. Lachance spent the weekend with his family, but has returned to Queen Mary Road Veterans' Hospital for further treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lefebvre, of Birchton, were Sunday guests of Mrs. H. Hodgman.

Mrs. M. Jacques entertained a few friends in honor of Mrs. Don MacLaren, wha is leaving shortly to join Mr. MacLaren in Buffalo, where they will make their home in the future.

St. Margaret's Guild of St. Peter's Anglican Church entertained the Friendly Group of Trinity United Church at the home of Mrs. Don Standish. Bridge and canasta were played at five tables. Mrs. Buchanan was the prize winner in bridge and Mrs. Lionel Pope in canasta. At the end of the game delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Kathleen Cook, of Montreal, was a week-end guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cook.

Mrs. J. A. Butler spent a weekend in Montreal the guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Griffith.

The friends of Mrs. Jack Boulter will be sorry to hear that she is seriously ill with virus pneumonia and mumps. All wish her a speed recovery.

How Many Dead? Even Reds Must Guess At Score

By FRED HAMPSON

Hong Kong. — How many persons have the communists killed in their 18-month purge of party enemies in Red China?

The question is asked frequently in the Far East. In the opinion of Hong Kong observers at least, even Peiping itself doesn't know the full score.

Estimates run from 250,000 to more than 5,000,000 purge victims.

An inkling of the toll is contained in a recent report of Shen Chun-Ju, chief justice of the communist supreme people's court.

Shen said during the first half of 1951 the Reds brought 820,285 cases to trial. At the end of that period "there still was an accumulation of untried cases."

There was no official hint what number was shot, how many were sent to labor camps or prisons, or how many were released.

If the 820,285 can be taken as an average number of chinese brought to trial during each six months, about 2,500,000 to 3,280,000 have faced purge courts in the last 18 months to two years.

Hong Kong observers do not think Peiping knows the full toll because there seems to be little doubt that many county and township commissars or courts did a lot of purging on their own, without reference to the communist capital.

BROME

Mr. Charles Barton was visiting friends in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Best and little daughter were callers in Knowlton.

Friends will regret to learn that Mr. William Jones is seriously ill, following an operation in the General Hospital, in Montreal.

New Zealanders Need More Bread For Their Butter

Wellington, N.Z. — New Zealand, one of the world's leading producers of butter and cheese, may be so shy of bread on which to put the butter by 1953 that she will have to resort to bread rationing.

That is the prospect the country faces unless its farmers start growing more wheat. About 12,000,000 bushels a year are needed instead of the 5,500,000 now produced.

This season's estimate of the area to be sown to wheat is 100,000 acres, or 46,000 acres less than last year and the lowest since 1875-76.

In the last year about 4,500,000 bushels were imported from Australia. But prospects are that New South Wales, Australia's biggest wheat-growing state, will have to get wheat from other states this year to meet its own requirements.

Importation of wheat from Canada, even if available, is out because Commonwealth countries such as New Zealand are trying to reduce imports from dollar countries like Canada as a step toward getting the sterling area on a sound financial footing.

New Zealand must rely on an increase in local production if the gap is to be filled.

Price of wheat for the 1952-53 crop was announced by the government as $1.58 a bushel, an increase of 14 cents a bushel over the previous season's price. Growers argue that the government will get more wheat only it if brings the price into line with world parity—$2.38 a bushel.

The government says that to do so will mean raising an extra $4,200,000 in taxes at a time when the government is trying to reduce taxation.

The 14-cent increase, the government says, takes care of the established increases in production costs on a generous scale.

Wheat is not a popuar crop with the New Zealand farmer, and a steady decline in acreage sown in wheat has been shown in yearly crop production reports.

Recent high prices for wool have accentuated this trend as farmers have turned over more acres to pasturage for sheep.

One way in which the government hopes to talk the farmers into growing more wheat is by stressing the fact that wheat fits in well with crop-rotation plans aimed at providing better pasturage for sheep.

Farm experts say the yield of wheat on plowed-under pasture land is high and the land, when it is returned to pasture, makes even better grazing land.

By such a plan of rotation they say the total amount of meat, dairy products and wool for export could be maintained at present levels while increasing wheat production.

Life Members' Night Is Observed By The Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club

Life Members' night was observed at the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club last evening and more than 100 members and their guests were present.

The program consisted of the introduction of some of the club's oldest life members who spoke briefly relating humorous events of past years.

J. W. McKee, oldest life member in the Sherbrooke area, joined the club seven years after its inception in 1878. Max Long, second oldest life member, stated that he joined when he was only 16 years of age, and at that time members were more actively engaged in snow-shoeing than they are today.

Arthur Slack, another life member, said that he was surprised that the Red Party element had not been eliminated during the Club's 74 years existence.

For the entertainment part of the program, life members Hawley Griffith and Fred Sangster, accompanied by Wright Gibson at the piano, rendered several musical selections.

Fred Sangster sang "The Blue Tailed Fly" and "What Shall We Do With A Drunken Sailor," and Mr. Sangster and Mr. Griffith harmonized on "Baby, It's Cold Outside," Mr. Griffith singing falsetto and attired as a beautiful woman.

The musical interlude concluded with the Whiffenpoof song and all members joined in the chorus.

President Ernie Johnston thanked past president and life member Norton Baldwin for his fine effort and work in getting in touch with the 29 life members who were on hand for the meeting.

Mr. Johnston reminded members that Saturday, March 1, would be the last ladies night of the 1951-52 season and that supper would be served at 6.30 p.m., followed by an entertainment and dance.

The Wednesday, March 5, meeting will be the last of the season and important club business will be discussed.

Seated at the head table with Mr. Johnston were W. D. Van Roden, J. W. McKee, P. Robins, N. Baldwin, G. Sampson, E. Bradley, G. Parsons, M. Long, A. Slack, A. Cross, F. Sangster, Hon. Pres. George Dick and C. C. Goodhue.

Chorister Ed Shortt led a rousing sing song and minutes of the last meeting were read by Art Wright, secretary. A letter was read from non-resident member Ash Hunting.

Two guests were present, Mr. Seale of Montreal and Roger Nault of Sherbrooke.

ONE-MINUTE NEWS FROM JOHNS-MANVILLE

THE HERESY OF PLANNED ECONOMY

"It will hardly be disputed that the outstanding fact about the world we live in is the tremendous exaltation of the authority of the state that we have seen in our lifetime.

Nor will it be denied that as the power of the state increases beyond a certain point, the dignity of man tends to be diminished and his personality to be devalued. And yet there are many high-minded people who support the idea of a planned society, a society in which the whole activity of the community is controlled and directed in detail by the state, not so much because, as they also claim, it will be productive of more material well-being than the free society, but precisely because they believe that it will be a 'better' society, better in the sense that the men and women who compose it will be not only physically but morally superior to those who live in a free society.

Such a conviction runs so directly counter to our own experience, as well as to the teachings of history, that it is difficult to take it seriously.

But it is necessary to take it seriously because it is very widely held, and because it contains within it what I believe to be the crucial heresy of the twentieth-century world, the heresy that man is less important than the institutions which he creates."

These words were written by Richard Law, P.C., M.P., in his book "Return from Utopia".

Magog Lions Club Holds Business Meet

Magog, Feb. 28.—Many items of club business and talks on Lionism featured last evening's meeting of the Magog Lions Club.

Following the formal opening of the meeting, a letter was read from Miss Ada Sandell, of Magog, a missionary in Korea, who told about conditions in that country where, she wrote, life is hard.

Miss Sandell is training nurses who, she said, are playing a big part in helping the services.

President R. E. White expressed appreciation to wives of the members for their help in supplying food for entertainers who staged an ice show for the club recently. Mr. White also referred to the club's twice-monthly bulletin and asked for suggestions for improving it.

Leo Giguere, chairman of the Easter Seals committee reported on progress made by his committee. There also was a discussion about membership.

Francis Patch, a charter member of the club, spoke about the club's constitution and the meeting was opened for discussion on this subject, Mr. Patch answering questions by the members.

Mr. Patch also gave a brief history of the club, which will mark its 12th anniversary next October, and lauded especially the work of W. H. McKenna, charter member and past president, for the blind in Magog.

Mr. McKenna briefly told about the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind which, he said, was a real help to this community.

Tribute To King Is Paid At Island Brook

Island Brook, Feb. 28.—School children of Island Brook paid silent homage to the late King George VI at a memorial service held here.

Children of both schools, under Mrs. H. Burns and Mrs. Ruth Morrow, joined in the service that honored a ruler who had inspired courage in both times of peace and war.

Rev. A. Jones, rector of Cookshire, gave an inspiring address and the Scripture lesson was read by G. R. Lessard, inspector of schools.

The children, under Mrs. Burns, sang the King's favorite hymns, "O God Our Help in Ages Past" and "Abide with Me." Mrs. Morrow was at the piano. There were two recitations by Miss M. Cooper and Miss M. Burns.

At the close of the service, prayers for the King were given by Comrade Archey W. Buckland, and chairman of the school board.

The service ended with the singing of God Save the Queen.

So-Ed Draws A Record Registration

The opening session of So-Ed was held last evening with a record number of 93 persons registering for the variety of classes offered by this social-educational group.

These spring term classes are held at the MacKinnon Memorial building and will feature three public lectures during their run.

Social dancing, golf and aspects of Quebec law proved to be the most popular groups, although there was a good registration for all categories. H. Schadel is in charge of social dancing, Harry Fowlis of golf and B. N. Holtham, Q.C., took last evening's law session.

So-Ed officials said this morning that there are still some openings for registrations in the tray painting, gardening and law classes.

Accident Signs Will Be Removed

With the idea of impressing upon motorists, local citizens and visitors alike, the need of greater traffic care, the local police department a few years ago began the installation of signs marking the scene of fatal accidents. The signs took the form of a red cross on a white background bearing the number of the persons killed and the date of the tragedy.

While this appeared an effective lesson in the promotion of safety, numerous complaints have been received by the aldermen from residents near the signs to the effect that they lent a too sombre appearance to the district. At a committee session last evening, the Council ordered that the signs be removed at once.

J. A. Tardif, superintendent of the Parks system, was also appointed inspector of witch grass and other noxious plants, the move being taken at the request of the Provincial authorities who are seeking to eradicate such pests from this district.

The final touches were also put to the contract awarded to George H. Roberge & Fils, for the construction of the new factory the city is erecting for Desruisseaux and Rheault, Ltd., on Cherbourg Street in the West Ward. The tender of $67,200 was the lowest of five submitted. The operators of the plant plan the manufacture of wall board and similar construction material.

Other tenders received were: Vincent & Freres, $74,897; Williams Construction, $69,290; Newton Construction, $98,090, and George Hoy, $110,000.

Mayor Charles B. Howard, Ald. Eugene Thibault and Ald. Wesley Bradley were named as city representatives on a committee to press for the development of the St. Francois Xavier airport. Other tentative members of the committee are: Arthur Cote, local flier; Harry E. Walker, president of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce; Gil M. Young, of the Canadian Manufacturers Association; Maurice Allard, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Josephat Beaudoin, president of the Proprietors' League.

Nomination Papers Are Taken Out On Behalf Of Ald. W. H. Bradley

Another retiring member of the Sherbrooke City Council apparently intends to seek re-election in the elections next month, supporters of Ald. Wesley Bradley, Q.C., North Ward representative and chairman of the Protection Committee, having taken out official nomination papers.

Ald. Bradley, who is out of town, was not available for comment, but his representatives have indicated that he has consented to seek another three-year term.

This move means that three of the four retiring aldermen, Armand Fisette, Carl Camirand and Mr. Bradley will seek another term, while Felix Thibault has been nominated for the East Ward seat being vacated by Ald. Oliva Deziel who has declined to seek re-election.

For the Mayoralty, Armand Nadeau, Q.C., and Alphonse Trudeau have already announced their intention of seeking the seat presently held by Mayor Charles B. Howard.

Y. W. C. A.'s National President Will Address Local Association Saturday

Mrs. J. L. Savage, national president of the Canadian Y.W.C.A., will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of Sherbrooke Y.W.C.A. in the MacKinnon Memorial Building, on Saturday, at 2:30 p.m.

During World War II, as chairman of the National Y.W.C.A. Service Department, Mrs. Savage did an outstanding job, meeting with courage and tireless devotion many problems for which there were no precedents. Public recognition of her meritorious service in those war years came when she received the O.B.E.

Mrs. Savage has been president of the Toronto University Women's Club, secretary of the Canadian Federation of University Women, and has worked closely with the International Federation of University Women. Mrs. Savage is a graduate of Cambridge University.

In the autumn of 1951, she flew to Denmark to attend meetings of the World's Y.W.C.A. Executive at Nyborg-Strand, and last October flew to Lebanon as one of Canada's five delegates to the World's Council meeting.

All interested in the Y.W.C.A. are invited to this meeting.

P. C.'s Intend To Contest By-Election

Due to the death of Louis Gosselin, Member of Parliament for Brome-Missisquoi, an election will be held to find a replacement.

The Conservative Party will enter a candidatae in the contest for the seat formerly held by the Liberals. The decision to enter a candidate was made at a meeting held recently in Sweetsburg under the direction of Rene Gobeil, provincial organizer for the Progressive Conservative Party.

On Wednesday evening, April 2, at 8:00 o'clock, a meeting will be held in Cowansville to choose a candidate. Arthur Bessette, Mayor of Dunham, is president of the nominating committee, while W. H. Sullivan, of Mansonville, and Ernest Dion, of Cowansville, are vice-presidents. George Dyer, of Sutton, is the secretary.

Lieut. Sansom Leaves N. Y. For Home

Ottawa, Feb. 28 —(CP)— Lieut. Elizabeth Sansom, missing since Dec. 25 and located Tuesday in New York city, is on her way home, it was learned last night.

The 26-year-old nurse, described by the army as appearing to have been a victim of amnesia, is expected to arrive at Fredericton, N. B., about noon today. Her parents live at Stanley, N. B.

Miss Sansom left the army hospital at Kingston, Ont., Dec. 24 last, presumably to visit relatives in Sherbrooke, Que. When she failed to arrive there, a search was started in Montreal where a woman cashed a cheque on Miss Sansom's bank account.

Army authorities will question Miss Sansom in Fredericton. An army announcement yesterday said Miss Sansom will stay with her parents until she returns to duty at Kingston.

The matron of the army hospital, Capt. Margaret Dewar, was sent to New York after Miss Sansom's parents reported to army authorities they received a letter from Miss Sansom from New York. Capt. Dewar is accompanying Miss Sansom.

Disasters Drain Red Cross Funds; Support Needed

Disaster strikes hard — and fast! Those whose homes are destroyed by flood or fire, communities hit by epidemic, hurricane, explosion, turn first to the Red Cross for help. Trained disaster teams with supplies and transport must be ready to speed relief to any quarter of Canada on instant notice.

Branches and divisional offices in every province are working constantly to improve the services which they can give in the event of national emergency.

Behind each branch stands a national organization equipped to provide medical aid, food, clothing, shelter and transportation when the need is beyond the resources of any one branch or division.

This aspect of Red Cross work, disaster relief, is only one of the multiple reasons why this year's campaign objective of $10,000 for Sherbrooke alone, can and must be successfully realized.

Easter Seal Society Executive Addresses Local Kiwanis Members

James Busfield, of Montreal, executive secretary of the Quebec Easter Seal Society, addressed members of the Kiwanis Club at their regular meeting last night, outlining the work of the organization.

He also dealt with the care of cripples saying that interested parties should realize first that the rehabilitation of a cripple may be a long and complicated process, secondly that it is not a problem with which the medical profession can be expected to cope unaided, and thirdly that there is much they can do to improve the lot of the more unfortunate section of the population known as cripples.

In the case of the Easter Seal Campaign, he said, the Society has the definite policy of dealing only with recognized organizations, such as service clubs, whose judgment and integrity in handling welfare funds cannot be questioned.

He described what is meant by a cripple, and mentioned the methods employed to rehabilitate them mentally as well as physically.

CONTACTS WITH COMMUNISM

The temptation to sever relations with the Soviet satellite countries is often great. But it is probably one that the west ought to continue to resist, in its own selfish interest.

Admittedly, the standard argument about our needing a listening post in these nations is wearing a trifle thin. More and more restrictions are put upon our diplomatic representatives as time goes on, and they now have little opportunity to observe and report first-hand the real condition of the satellites.

Yet as one expert on Russia, David Dallin, pointed out recently, we can't vote the satellites out of existence. So long as they continue as nations with an entity apart from their Kremlin masters, we will need accurate economic and political information about them.

Nothing we can get from Communist-controlled radio and press in the satellites will be a substitute for even the leanest reports from our own trained observers.

Furthermore, one of the chief reasons a break is frequently urged is the high-handed way the Reds deal with our citizens, like the imprisoned reporter, William Oatis, in Czechoslovakia.

Yet a complete severance would put us wholly out of touch with the victims of Communist outrage.

As things are now, we can at least make representations in person to the offending governments, and by one device or another keep fair contact with the status of these unlucky persons. We also can work at close range to effect their release.

Dallin sees another handicap in a full break with the satellites. Thereafter we should have to deal with them through Moscow. The Kremlin would become their official agents in international relations involving the United States.

Certainly no other countries would likely qualify for the job as intermediary.

And this set-up would suit the Russians perfectly. It might well hasten the final inclusion of the satellites within the U.S.S.R. This process has been going on for a long time at rather slow pace, and few students of Russia doubt that the Soviet leaders would welcome a chance to speed it up.

Reports emerging from the U.S. State Department indicate the question of severing relations with the Red puppets is now under fresh review. This is as it should be, for there ought to be nothing static and fixed about any of our major foreign policies.

But nothing in the world situation at this moment suggests that this is the time to shut off the small but vital trickle of information our diplomats can bring us from behind the Iron Curtain.

CONSUMER DESERVES A BREAK

There was a most significant fact in the recent report of the Dominion Bureau of Satistics on motor vehicle sales in Canada in 1951. The number of retail sales of passenger cars last year was 42,902 less than in 1950, yet federal taxes on all motor vehicles rose from $91,000,000 to $144,000,000. Automobiles, taxed the maximum of 25% excise and 10% sales, bore all of this increase, because other motor vehicles are not subject to this excessive levy.

Few people today will dispute the essentiality of the automobile in modern life. Yet, in a time of rapid economic expansion, the number of new cars purchased by Canadians decreased by almost 43,000, and, at the same time, those who did buy contributed $53,000,000 more to the Federal treasury than they did in 1950 for a much greater number of cars.

It would appear that there is something drastically wrong with a fiscal policy that extracts so many millions from the purchase of an essential like an automobile, and, in the same stroke, weakens the strength of our economy by so sharply cutting down one of our basic means of transportation.

There seems little doubt that there is a direct connection between this loss of essential vehicles and the decrease in employment of 7,000 workers in Canada's automobile firms as reported recently by the Canadian Automotive Chamber of Commerce. Loss of monthly wages of these 7,000 unemployed totalled $4,000,000 — a hardship to the jobless and a serious loss to our national economy.

The Financial Times of Montreal sized up this increasingly grave situation, when commenting on the harmful effect of excessive taxation upon the automotive industry:

"All in all, it looks as if there were more effective and less harmful means of curbing inflation than that of pricing the automobile out of the market."

From St. John's, to Victoria, newspapers of all political persuasions and those of independent views have voiced agreement with the claim of the 3,200 automobile dealers under the banner of Federation of Automobile Dealer Associations of Canada, that essential passenger cars and the people who depend upon them for necessary transportation are being unjustly taxed.

Our Government cannot fail to have noticed the effect of the law of diminishing returns as a result of the severe taxation on cigarettes. That law has not yet functioned in the field of automobiles. What has happened has been even worse — the people as a whole, not just the Government, has suffered. They have been deprived of better transportation that they want, that they depend upon for their bread and butter, and that they simply cannot afford because they have been taxed, not priced, out of the market. Is it not time the long-suffering public was given a break?

SEVERAL MOTIVES ARE BEHIND CHARGES AGAINST MUNOZ-MARIN

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

San Juan, Puerto Rico—(NEA)—Behind the charges of "dictatorship" now being hurled at Puerto Rico's first elected governor, Luis Munoz-Marin, are a variety of motives.

The charges have been made on the floor of the U.S. Senate by Republicans Owen Brewster of Maine and John M. Butler of Maryland, and by Democrat Olin F. Johnston of South Carolina.

Puerto Rican officials say Senator Johnston's interest is easy to account for. It is traced here to Leonard D. Long, a Charleston, South Carolina, builder. He and his brother, J. C. Long, have been frequent and heavy contributors to Democratic political campaign chests.

In Puerto Rico, Leonard D. Long has had contracts for six housing projects containing in all some 11,000 units and valued at $65 million.

Two of these projects were federal low-cost housing developments to help rid Puerto Rico of its worst slums. Four apartment hotels and a duplex bungalow project are still under construction.

Leonard D. Long also has pending in San Juan a lawsuit against the Puerto Rican government, claiming one million dollars tax exemption for the development of a new industry.

This claim has been denied by Federal Court and by the Federal Court of Appeals in Boston. Long is now suing before a Puerto Rican tax court. Eventually he may take it to the Supreme Court.

The Story Behind The Story

Senator Johnston's interest in this million-dollar lawsuit is of course the natural interest of any solon in the welfare of a constituent. Back of this, however, is another story.

When Leonard D. Long first proposed his Puerto Rican housing developments in 1946, there was no Puerto Rican tax exemption law to aid new industries.

After the law was passed in 1947, Mr. Long got a letter from Jesus T. Pinero, then governor of Puerto Rico, saying that in his opinion, the Long interests were entitled to this exemption. After his term as governor expired, Pinero went to work for the Long interests.

The new governor, Luis Munoz-Marin, took the position that Indians had been building houses on Puerto Rico long before the Spaniards and the Americans came. Housing was therefore not a new industry and not entitled to tax exemption.

This position was confirmed by the government's Executive Council and the Industrial Development Corporation.

Long's reaction to this was to charge that he was being persecuted. He hired a press agent in Miami and began to charge the Munoz government with dictatorship.

"El Mundo," leading Spanish daily in San Juan, investigated the charges fully and in a series of articles showed that, far from being persecuted, Long had been shown every consideration in modifying building codes to get his projects going.

Back in Washington, Senator Butler's interest in Puerto Rico is explained solely on the grounds of his interest in government economy. Senator Butler admits he has never been in Puerto Rico. He estimates that U.S. government expenses in Puerto Rico have been as high as a billion and a quarter dollars for the last 10 years.

U. S. Expenses In Puerto Rico

The figure given in Puerto Rico is a little under a billion. For the past year it was $130 million, but it is explained that this includes $25 million for the Army, $10 million for the Navy, $17 million in Department of Agriculture Sugar Act payments, $16 million in grants in aid for road, health and other federal programs, on the same basis given to all states and territories.

Puerto Rico has a territorial income tax, roughly comparable to the federal tax, which raises $80 million. If the island had to pay federal income tax on top of that, it would admittedly go broke.

It is on this basis that Congress gives Puerto Rico its rum taxes, which last year amounted to $12 million.

Senator Brewster says his interest in Puerto Rico is based solely on his concern over the island's position as a competitor seeking new industries and luring some from Maine and New England.

This is the heart of Puerto Rico's famous "Operation Bootstrap," conceived by the Munoz-Marin government to raise the standard of living and put the island on its financial feet.

This program, under Teodoro Moscoso, hopes to bring 700 to 800 small industries to Puerto Rico by 1960, to provide 100,000 new jobs in direct employment and many more indirectly.

Puerto Rico builds new factory structures and leases them to its new industries with an option to buy. The government offers also the advantage of a lower wage scale and exemption from taxes until 1960.

Letters To The Editor

ROAD SANDING

Dear Sir:— Please forgive my greed for asking space in your paper re:— Winter road sanding, but as I feel it (Sherbrooke Daily Record) the voice of the Eastern Township would beg this opportunity.

In regard to Mr. Tom E. Juby's letter I thought it might be of interest to some to know that the thirty-five year service to rural School Board he mentions, was with remuneration. I know of many with years of service as Councillor, School Commissioner or road-Directors without pay, who do not feel entitled to dictating all down the line.

Do not judge me altogether wrong, I am all for sanding roads and above all, for the safety of school vehicles, but having travelled a good number of roads this past winter, find them all pretty much the same. Of course, if the School Boards see fit to close all rural Schools and transport pupils from five to seventeen miles with the hopes of controlling weather conditions their troubles are in their infancy.

Too well, do I remember when the road in question was largely financed by donations and those that kicked the hardest kicked in the least money.

In closing I wish to thank the Directors and Secretary of the Winter Road Association of Austin for doing so much, for so little, for so many.

Cheer up, as the sand will be showing soon and I am afraid much deeper, than we wish for in spots.

Many thanks,
SANDY.

WINTER ROADS

Dear Sir:— May I say a few words in reply to Mr. Juby's interesting but puzzling letter. Perhaps the night you mention the roads were very icy, I'm sure people all over Quebec were finding badly iced roads during the month of January. Even in large cities with the most modern equipment, and many drivers, who I feel surely couldn't all have been incompetent; the accident rate directly due to slippery roads was at an all time high.

Not only in our little backwater of Austin, but all over the province people have been finding these same conditions, as you should be aware if you read a newspaper or listen to the radio. In fact, and I quote The Montreal Automobile Driving Club "The month of January due to freezing rain has been one of the most hazardous in our highway records."

And now for the part of your letter I found puzzling. I refer to that seven miles of road in excellent condition. I'm sure I don't know who could have given you this misleading information, Mr. Juby. For the past five days this road you refer to as in perfect condition has been blocked off from all automobile traffic—completely. However you might make a point of this as the children from this road are certainly not in any danger at the present to go plunging from a slippery road to destruction—but, I do hope they don't get stuck in one of the snowdrifts and perish.

Of course one expects criticisms while holding any kind of public office, as you Mr. Juby must be only too well aware.

As the contractors own two little girls who ride in this death trap you refer to, I just can't, not by the wildest stretch of the imagination, think he could be so hard hearted as to send them off to school each morning knowing through his own negligence, he was exposing them to be maimed for life or possibly killed. Now come, come Mr. Juby they're the only children he has; and I ought to know as I'm

Yours truly,
The Contractor's Wife,
Barbara F. Taylor.

Jacoby On Bridge

BIDDING BEST CLUE FOR FUTURE PLAYS

Many bridge players eliminate the bidding from their minds as soon as the final pass has died upon the air. You can practically hear the snap as their minds close. The play of the cards, in their estimation, has nothing to do with the bidding.

This is, of course, very harmful nonsense. The bidding often gives you priceless clues to the best line of play, provided that you keep your mind open to them.

In today's hand, South drew two rounds of trumps and then led a diamond towards dummy. West took the ace of diamonds and quite properly began on the clubs. South ruffed the second club and had to avoid the loss of two heart tricks somehow.

Disregarding all the clues furnished by the bidding, South led a heart to dummy's ace and hopefully returned a heart towards his queen. West naturally took two heart tricks, setting the game contract.

Now let's see how the bidding clues would have indicated the winning line of play. West had made a takeout double of one spade. He needed strength and a certain amount of length (at least three cards) in hearts for his double of one spade. A good player seldom doubles a major suit without good support for the other major.

Hence South should have assumed that West held three or four hearts headed by king-jack or by king-ten. It would be unfortunate if West held king-jack-ten of hearts, for then the contract was probably hopeless.

Acting on the correct assumption, South would begin the same way, drawing trumps and leading a diamond. After ruffing the second club, South would lead a trump to dummy and return a low heart from dummy.

East would play the seven, and South would finesse the eight. This would force out West's jack. Subsequently, South would regain the lead and push the queen of hearts through West's king. No further heart trick would be lost, and the contract would be made.

CARD SENSE

Q—With both sides vulnerable the bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 Diamond	1 Heart	Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades K-J-7-4, Hearts K-8-3-2, Diamonds 5, Clubs A-Q-6-2. What do you do?

A—Bid four hearts. This hand should produce a fine play for game opposite almost any respectable vulnerable overcall. The hearts should be solid, and there is one loser in diamonds. It is not too much to ask your partner to restrict the loss in the black suits to two tricks.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-J-10-7-4, Hearts 8-3, Diamonds 9-5, Clubs A-Q-6-2. What do you do?

The Record Short Story

FULL ICEBOX

By HOLLIS STARNES

Katie Kilfeather, a chambermaid with a soul for Romance, looked up from the bed she was making at the dismal old Hotel San Pedro, as her guest. Benedict Tabor, strode into the room. "Thought I'd be out o' here long 'fore ye got back," said the plump gray-haired maid.

Rooms at the San Pedro, off-Broadway shelter for showfolk who weren't in the chips, were so small the guests called them coops, cubbyholes, cells, iron lungs. Benedict Tabor, once dashing Broadway leading man, now jobless character actor, slung his overcoat on a chair. "I didn't expect to be back so soon."

He didn't sound like the same eager bridegroom-to-be who had rushed out less than an hour ago, to take his ladylove lunching. Katie glanced up discreetly from the blanket she was tucking in. He no longed looked the part, either. "Have a nice lunch?" she hinted.

Tabor stared out his narrow window onto the inky black court. "We called the date off. I ran into an embarrassing situation. It seems Prue had invited not only the cousin she's visiting, but a couple more women to join us, and you know how much cash I had on me!"

Katie knew well. She'd lent him a $5 bill, all she had in her purse except subway fare home, when he left. This "surprise" visit of his Boston fiancee had come at an awkward time for the actor, soon after his show closed on Broadway, a dismal flop.

"I can't tell Prue the state of my bankroll," he'd confided to the friendly maid. "She comes of a business family, she'd never understand how cleaned out an actor sometimes gets."

He had television work coming up, he'd be in the clear by the time of their Easter wedding.

"How'd ye ease yourself out o' lunching the crowd?" Katie asked as she smoothed on his faded bedspread.

"I didn't ease! I bungled things badly; one word led to another. Then she said something that cut like a knife. When I was in her town, she said, and brought friends to her house, she always had a full icebox."

"Full icebox! But 'tis different when a woman has a home of her own. For a few pennies she can rustle up snacks like she used to serve after the show. I'll bet ye sang for your supper, too! For the bite they eat, showfolks are always——"

"Let's forget it!" he cut in, and picked up his coat. "Here's your five back. I'm going out."

Alone in the cheerless room, Katie squeaked her carpet sweeper over the threadbare rug. How she had prayed for this romance, for her guest who so needed a home again, companionship, a wife to help and inspire him! He'd been lost, these eight years since his actress wife's death. Small wonder, she thought, he had aged so rapidly.

The best part he'd had in seasons came in the show recently tried out in Boston, when he met Prudence Alcott. He came back for his Broadway opening a changed man, full of hopes and plans for the future.

"Why did that play have to flop!" sighed the maid as she swept. "With even a half-way hit, they could have got married right off."

But the sober thought came to her that this woman of a solid business family, who'd ever known the ups and downs of show business, had a lesson to learn.

"If I just could concoct some gr-rand scheme, so she'd see a full icebox means more than vittles fill the stomach! There's vittles that feed the mind, an' lift the heart. They're worth somethin', too, an' every human bein' should know it!"

Trudging down the hall, her mind still on Tabor and Prue, she was nearly knocked off her feet by an actor tearing in the other direction. "Hi, Toots," he yelled, "what do you know? Just when I was going to brace you for a quarter for lunch, Breen's Agency called. I'm to entertain at a private party tonight. All I do is circulate among the guests, spark the lonely hearts, keep things moving. For which I get a free feed—and 25 bucks!"

By the time Katie reached her linen room, the grand scheme came leaping and dancing into her head. "God forgive me for twistin' the truth a bit," she breathed as she looked up the number of Prue's cousin in the phone book, "an' please let her be home!"

She was startled by the speed of answered prayer. It was Prue herself who came eagerly on the wire, as if expecting a call from her sweetheart.

"This is the maid at Mr. Tabor's hotel," Katie said in her best businesslike tone. "He mentioned he'd be at your number. I just took an important message for him."

"But Mr. Tabor has already left," faltered Prue. "I've been trying to reach him myself, at the San Pedro."

"He ain't here," said Katie, "but I got to locate him pronto. He's booked to entertain at a party tonight."

"Entertain at a—party!" gasped Prue. "But this is my last night in New York. My cousin has asked in all our friends. We're expecting him here!"

"What a shame," Katie rattled on, "but this party I'm referrin' to is business, not pleasure. Perfessional entertainin — for a fee! Breen's Agency set the deal for him."

"I don't understand," stammered Prue. "I thought he just acted in plays on the stage or radio."

"Oh, he's sooner do that," Katie chattered glibly, "but when a show folds on him, like that turkey he tried out in your town—even actors must eat, as they say in show biz! There's a big field now for folks like Mr. Tabor, who can keep things movin' at private affairs. Hostesses are desp'rit these times, tryin' to liven up their stodgy business guests an' suchlike."

"I—see," said Prue faintly.

"'Tis harder than playin' a regular show, as Mr. Tabor says. But I tell him, whereas he used to knock himself out, bein' the life o' the party at friends' houses, for free, now he gets paid for the job!"

"I—see."

"I'll tell him I talked to ye, soon's I run him down. Any message?"

"N-no." Prue's voice had grown husky. "I mean, yes, there is! Tell him I'm terribly sorry."

"Sorry he can't make your little gatherin' to night, huh? Okay, I'll——"

"No, no," Prue broke in, "sorry for what happened about lunch. He'll understand. And thank you for all you told me!"

He looked cold, tired, 10 years older again when he came back hours later. "I got news for ye, man!" she cried, and told him what she had done.

"Katie, how could you do such a childish thing?" he rebuked her.

"Since when is it childish to open somebody's eyes to the truth?" she demanded.

"Truth? That mess of lies you manufactured?"

She tossed her head airly. "Just winderdressin', they were—for the core o' truth Prue had to know. An' she got the point, never fear!"

"You meant well, I'm sure. But I thought it all over while I walked around and around Central Park reservoir."

"In weather like this?" she shivered. How lovers' quarrels could unhinge even sensible men!

"I've decided this marriage would never work out. That's final!"

Katie Kilfeather forgot she was a chambermaid, and Benedict Tabor a guest. She remembered only romance. "March yourself to that phone, Benny, boy," she commanded, "an' tell Prue ye'll be at her party tonight, with bells on! Tell her we got another actor to fill in for that other date—an' that's no lie, ha, ha!"

He looked at her. Sternly she pointed to her old-fashioned wall phone.

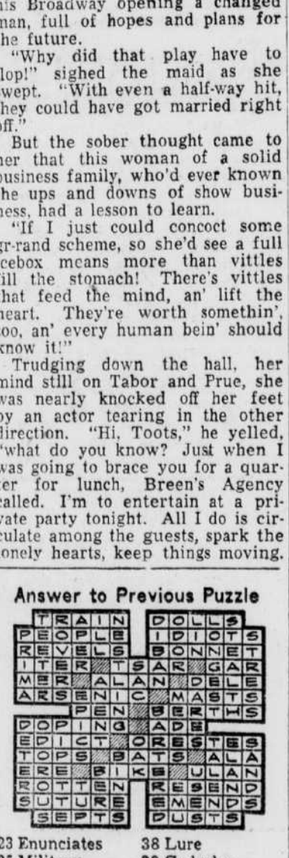

"Now, march to that telephone," she ordered.

Benny, boy, marched.

Would License Social Workers

Vancouver. — Licensing of social workers "to protect the public against quacks," has been urged by Joy Maines, national secretary of the Canadian Association of Social Workers.

She said the plan is being studied in association chapters in British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Quebec. It was hoped that registered workers will be able to move from province to province, although licensing will probably be on the provincial level.

Next year only graduate social workers will be allowed in the association. At present graduates and workers with five years experience are permitted to join.

Miss Main said the serious shortage of social workers in Canada is due to absence of a pension scheme and low salaries.

There are about 50 per cent more men in social service work now than before the war and she said there would be more if salaries were higher.

Easter Seal

"The needs of a victim of a crippling condition are of infinite variety," he pointed out, using several examples which have come to his attention in his work with the society.

Mr. Busfield said that there is a great deal of work to be done in improving the lot of cripple, whether child or adult, involving professional and technical people, as well as the business world.

In conclusion he said that the Quebec Easter Seal Society is dedicated to the promotion of such work and by the sale and distribution of Easter Seals, not only raised funds for the purpose but creates a public consciousness towards the need for helping cripples.

Mr. Busfield was introduced by Sam Gillam and thanked by Past President Len Keeler.

President Les Memory welcomed one guest, Allen Clark, of Montreal, and announced that next week's meeting will be an inter-club one, with the Theford Mines Kiwanians as guests of the local club.

The booster talk was given by Joseph Faucher, manager of Zellers, who gave an interesting resume of the company's history, with biographical matter on its founder and president, Walter P. Zeller. Booster prizes for attendance, gift purchase certificates, were won by Kiwanian Bill Charlebois and honorary member Margaret Doherty.

It is expected that final figures for the recent presentation of the Pirates of Penzance will be available at next week's meeting.

At th head table were Past President Keeler, Sam Gillman, chairman of the Easter Seal campaign, Mrs. Busfield, President Memory and Joseph Faucher.

Man Dies In Collapse Of Building

Hull, Que., Feb. 28.— (CP) —One hundred tons of wet concrete last night buried a construction foreman when seven workmen were injured in a collapse of a ramp being built at the partly-erected government printing bureau building here.

Theophile Lafleur, 54, of Hull, was standing below wooden forms while his workmen poured concrete into a 75-by-20-foot ramp. His body was recovered seven hours later. The section collapsed, dropping Lafleur and the others 25 feet into the basement of the building.

Three men—Marcel Peterson, 26; Rack Benoit, 30, both of Hull; and Antonio Maniaci, 32, of Ottawa—were detained in hospital. Peterson had head injuries, Benoit's were internal and Maniaci suffered severe head and body lacerations.

Four others—Gervasi Valentino, 40; Mazzareno Mancone, 23; Virgilio Busso, 36, all of Ottawa; and Leo Bisson, 41, of Hull—were released after treatment for cuts and bruises.

The search for Lafleur went on under searchlights because of the slowly-hardening concrete. Giant cranes hauled away tons of cement and steel supports.

Spokesmen for the construction company said the jacks supporting the cement may have collapsed, or the cement already poured may not have hardened sufficiently.

At hospital Valentino said the collapse occurred just before the crew finished for the night. Mancone said Lafleur, father of 10, had no chance to escape.

"I was putting in the cement and there was a sort of cracking sound," Busso said. "All at once the ramp started to go under my feet and then I just fell right to the bottom."

Police threw a cordon around the building, a four-storey structure of which three storeys have been completed. They announced about 10 p.m., four hours after the mishap, there was no chance of Lafleur surviving.

Co-Pilots Tells

letdown with surface control. The buildup of ice behind each prop made it very hard to control the craft and it must have been tough for Redinger to get 'em all away. He was the only man aboard who had ever jumped. He went to work like a veteran and exuded so much confidence that everybody thought he was an expert and followed his advice. He was just like a jump master on a paratroop plane. When he got everybody's harness on, he had the plane cleared in two minutes. Then Capt. Koblenski came back and insisted Redinger go first. In the meantime we had been wriggling into our harness as we sat in the pilot's cockpit and we followed Sgt. Redinger out the door. Capt. Koblenski was the last to jump.

Just before I jumped I didn't have time to think much about the consequences. I guess I just took it for granted I wasn't going to die. I don't remember feeling afraid but that's probably because there was so much on my mind.

I kept wondering if everybody was okay below and whether they had all made ground safely and whether the aircraft was going to stay on its course so that it would crash without damage or injury to people and property below.

Then I jumped.

I counted 10 and turned over a few times and then there I was sitting in midair very cold, very uncomfortable because the snow was driving in my face. But as I said at the start if the circumstances had been different I would have enjoyed it. It was inky black and the blizzard was blinding and it was no use trying to figure out where you were going to land.

I landed in an open space in four feet of snow. I started to walk in what I thought was the right direction. Then I saw a home. I thought to myself if I wake them up, they'll think I'm an invader from Mars or someplace

But I knocked on the door anyhow. The family were startled but they accepted my story, took me in, gave me some hot tea and were wonderful. Sydney tower meanwhile had told the R.C.M.P. and in some cases our guys were picked up almost as they landed.

I kept wondering how the other guys had made out and it was only a short time before I heard with relief the good news that everybody was safe. They had to cut down three of the boys from trees and one guy landed only 25 feet from the water but thank God we're all safe.

And it was terrific to find that the plane had not crashed on anybody. As a matter of fact, though, the plane did not folow the course we set for it when we evacuated but apparently veered slightly and started heading toward Sydney. Fortunately it didn't quite make it but crashed and was demolished on the outskirts.

After, we got together and started swapping stories of our adventures. I think one of the best was that of Col. George who got hung up on a tree. A Mountie climbed up beside him with a long knife in his teeth and the Colonel was beginning to wonder if he was going to attack.

But the Mountie was easily identified as he got closer and he cut down the Colonel without ceremony and the Colonel plopped into the snow, unhurt.

The entire company was strewn in a two-mile straight line. It was probably Redinger's experience that kept him from going into the drink because it was his chute that landed closest to the water.

I think the hero of this expedition was Sergeant Redinger.

Canada Can Help To Save Human Race

Toronto, Feb. 27—(CP)—Christian democracy will bring peace to the world and Canada will play a big part in the salvation of the human race, Msgr. Ferdinand Vandry, Laval University rector, said today.

In an address prepared for delivery before the Empire Club of Canada, the rector of the Quebec university, marking its centenary this year, said democracy was based on human rights and sound leadership.

Speaking in English, he said:

"We Canadians, have the privilege of belonging to a great democracy, called upon to a very important role in the life of democratic nations, and since we claim the honor of contributing our share to the work of social restoration actually going on, it is essential for Canada to offer the highest form of democracy, inspired by the loftiest possible concept of right, of liberty, of justice and of social order.

"That means that Canada has to be a Christian democracy, a nation whose political life and social life must be fully comformable to the requirements and sound philosophy enlightened by faith and by the teaching of Christ.

". . . You love your country as dearly as I do. You wish Canada to become more and more looked up to, not simply on account of her economic wealth, her prosperity and her future of great promise, but above all for the wisdom of her constitutions, the guarantees offered to the liberty and dignity of the human being.

". . . Let us sincerely endeavor to make Canada a Christian democracy. It is on this condition that our country will be a great country and will be capable of saving the modern world from the dissolving materialism which is sapping the foundations of social order . . .

"I love my country, I love without reservation all her inhabitants, regardless of their race, their language, or their creed. . . .

"Canada is a democratic country . . . and she will remain so. . . providing she is a Christian democracy. . . . Our Canadian democracy must draw its inspiration from the concept of democracy for which human reason is indebted to Christian faith."

Woodside, N.Y., received chest hurts.

The C-47, better known to Canadians as a Dakota, is a twin-engined aircraft.

Snow was shoulder-deep in the suburban area, following a series of storms that brought the Maritimes the worst winter in years.

The hospitable Cape Breton folk took the stranded airmen to their homes and fed them a gala breakfast at the Isle Royal Hotel.

They were startled when the pilot told them that at times he thought the lights of the city were the markers at the airport, and considered landing there.

The storm had "chased us right from Westover."

are distributed between Inchon and Uijongbu. Largest project in Korea is at Taejon, midway between Seoul and Taegu, where 650 are under construction.

Although the winter has been relatively mild, the thermometer hovering about the zero mark, fuel has been a problem. A government order against tree-cutting has sent firewood prices skyrocketing to the Korean equivalent of 15 cents a stick.

C.A.C. is trying to interest Koreans in using peat, which costs as much as wood but burns three times as long. Koreans are hard to persuade, however. Houses are cold most of the time.

"Life is hard," Chief Lee summed up, "but at least we have a house again."

Feb. 1, 1952 and in the 16th year of our reign.

By His Majesty's command,
Louis S. St. Laurent,
Prime Minister of Canada.

Text of Mr. Massey's proclamation:

To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Proclaim!

— A Proclamation —

Whereas His late Majesty King George the Sixth, by commission under the great seal of Canada bearing date the first day of February, 1952, was graciously pleased to appoint me to be during the royal pleasure Governor-General and commander-in-chief in and over Canada, and further in and by the said commission, authorized, empowered and commanded me to exercise and perform all and singular the powers and directions contained in certain letters patent under the great seal of Canada, bearing date the eighth day of September in the year of Our Lord 1947 constituting the said office of Governor-General and commander-in-chief of Canada and in any other letters patent adding to, amending, or substituted for the same according to such orders and instructions as the Governor-General and commander-in-chief for the time being hath already received or as have been given to me with the said commission or as I shall hereafter receive.

Now, therefore, know you that I have thought fit to issue this proclamation in order to make known His late Majesty's said appointment and I do also hereby require and command that all and singular Her Majesty's officers and ministers in Canada, do continue in the execution of their several and respective offices, places and employments, and that Her Majesty's loving subjects and all others whom it may concern do take notice hereof and govern themselves accordingly.

Given under my hand and seal-at-arms at Ottawa, this 28th day of February, in the year of our Lord 1952 and in the first year of Her Majesty's reign.

N.A.T.O. Job Still Finds No Aspirant

Ottawa, Feb. 28—(CP)—An executive job for a man who can boss a 14-nation defence alliance is going begging today.

The job as secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was turned down yesterday by Britain's Sir Oliver Franks. Even External Affairs Minister Pearson of Canada doesn't seem to want it.

Mr. Pearson, chairman of the N.A.T.O. Council, is said to have tried to talk Sir Oliver into accepting the post by trans-Atlantic telephone. But Sir Oliver said in a message to Mr. Pearson that he "could not see his way to accept it."

Whether Mr. Pearson will remain adamant in his announced intention not to take the N.A.T.O. job remains to be seen.

Meanwhile, he has asked the North Atlantic deputies in London "to meet as soon as possible to give further consideration to the question of apointment of a secretary-general."

Sir Oliver's refusal was reported to be a big disappointment to Mr. Pearson who looks on the secretary-generalship of N.A.T.O. as a vital job in western defence.

Three Rivers Reds Swamp Nationales 10-4

Three Rivers, Que., Feb. 28—(CP)—Three Rivers Reds last night overwhelmed Montreal Nationales 10-4 in a Quebec Junior Amateur Hockey Association game here and as a result are in sole possession of third place.

The Reds now have 58 points, one ahead of the Nats and two behind the idle Quebec Citadels.

Pierre Brillant and Jean-Jacques Benaquez paced Three Rivers with three goals each. Ray St. Cyr scored two, while Jean Leclerc and Roger Dubuc got singletons.

Bert Scullion was the big gun for Montreal with two goals. Claude Provost and Claude Vinet accounted for the others.

The Nats jumped into a 3-2 lead in the first period, but the rest of the game was all Three Rivers. The Reds pumped in five goals in the second and three in the final stanza. Montreal's final goal came at 3:00 of the third period.

However, he said, many foreign ships operate with less draft and they would have an advantage in using St. Lawrence seaway.

In addition, he said, once the legislation was approved there would be pressure brought to deepen the channel to 30 or 35 feet at what he said would be a prohibitive cost.

Bailey said that from a defence standpoint the seaway would be vulnerable to attack from an enemy with the possibility that a ship could be sunk in a lock and bottle up ships in the western sector.

Estimates of income to be derived from tolls to make it a self-financing operation were termed highly speculative and excessive by Bailey.

GREENSHIELDS' MARKET REVIEW

After a shaky start, stocks rallied in late trading yesterday on increased volume. Aluminum closed at 112, up 2¼ points after having been down at 109. International Nickel turned a loss of ½ into a gain of ⅛ at 44⅝. Papers were mixed with Bathurst, Powell River, Anglo Newfoundland and Consolidated Paper losing ground while Great Lakes and International Paper advanced fractionally.

Wage negotiations aimed at establishing parity with U.S. Steel industry wages have been opened between labour organizations and two Canadian Steel Companies, Steel Company of Canada and Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation.

Under an agreement with the U.S., a control Crown Agency will deal with all U.S. military orders placed in Canada. For the last nine months of 1951, these orders totalled $139,000,000, a figure which has been considerably increased lately by the Sabre Jet contract.

Net profit of Aluminum Limited for 1951, is estimated at $28,800,000 or $7.03 per share, comparing with $32,600,000 in 1950 or $7.96 per share on present capitalization. The company has been granted the benefits of accelerated depreciation to be charged to profits in the years 1951 . . 1957. Total depreciation for 1951 approximates $21 million, out of which $6 million for accelerated depreciation, against total depreciation of $9.2 million in 1950.

Minnesota and Ontario Paper Company reported net profit for 1951 of $5,432,438 or $4.22 per share against $5,260,462 or $4.09 a share in 1950.

Lake Shore Mines reported net profit in 1951 of $918,782 or 46 cents per share against $1,228,732 or 61 cents per share in 1950.

IN MEMORIAM

MOORE — In loving memory of my dear wife, Winnie, who passed away a year ago today, February 28th, 1951.
Ever remembered by her husband,
GEORGE MOORE
North Hatley, Que.

TAYLOR — In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Annie Taylor, who passed away one year ago February 28th, 1951.
The trials she went through
So few could bear
She never complained
She was not that kind
Just one of those so hard to find.
Deep in our hearts the memory is is kept,
Of a mother we loved and will never forget.
Ever remembered by
MRS. JESSIE BISHOP, Daughter.
MR. JOSEPH BISHOP, Son-in-Law.
MR. NORMAN BISHOP, Grandson.

CRAIG—In loving memory of mother and grandmother, the late Mrs. E. L. Craig, who passed away February 28th, 1951.
At home in the beautiful hills of God,
By the Valley of Rest so fair;
Some day, some time, when one work is done,
Dear Mother, we'll meet you there.
MR. AND MRS. H. F. MADDISS,
Son-in-Law and Daughter.
MR. AND MRS. CEDRIC MADDISS,
Grandchildren.

DOWNES—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Willie Burton Downes, who passed away February 28th, 1950.
You are gone but not forgotten,
And as it dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Friends may think the wounds are healed,
But they little know the sorrow,
That lies within the heart concealed.
Sadly missed by GRACE, Wife.
RAYMOND, Son.

CRAIG—In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Emma Craig, who passed away February 28th, 1951.
A tribute of love and remembrance
To our mother and grandmother, one of the best,
The joys that she missed on life's high way,
May she find in God's garden of rest.

MR. PILE SUFFERER

How can you expect results if you don't remove the cause of the trouble, far inside the body? The new PYLTONE TREATMENT does exactly that. (A liquid taken by mouth), it goes directly and quickly to the internal cause. Before you've taken half a bottle you'll see what we mean by real results that last. PYLTONE has proven itself in the most stubborn cases we could find. One bottle of this new (Liquid) treatment is enough to prove our claims or the price refunded at once. $1.75 at all druggists or mailed on receipt. PYLTONE CO., Vancouver, B.C.

OBITUARIES

MRS. ALICE LEBOURVEAU, OF COOKSHIRE.

Cookshire, Feb. 28. — On January 24, 1952, Mrs. Alice Lebourveau passed away in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where she had been since January 1.

Mrs. Lebourveau was born in Danville December 11, 1869, the daughter of John and Annie (Franklin) Weir. In 1885 the family moved to Island Brook. On January 24, 1894, she married Alvin Lebourveau, who predeceased her four years ago.

With the exception of two or three years, Mr. and Mrs. Lebourveau made their home in Cookshire. They celebrated their golden anniversary January 24, 1944. Though Mrs. Lebourveau took no active part in the social life of Cookshire, she had a host of friends and was loved by all.

Mrs. Lebourveau leaves to mourn her loss, a brother, Frederick, of Atherton, Calif., and a sister, Miss Iva Weir, of Boston, Mass., several nieces and nephews, among them Mrs. Herbert Jackson and Mrs. Ralph Miller, of St. Johnsbury, Vt.

The funeral service was held in Trinity United Church with Rev. P. W. Jones officiating. The bearers were Messrs. Mack Mowle, Ivan Cork, John French and Tom Meredith. Those from out of town who attended were Miss Iva Weir, of Boston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Jackson, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Houle, of Sherbrooke, and Mrs. Fred Seale, of Montreal.

Interment took place in the Eaton Cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM HAWTHORNE, OF DANVILLE

At the Sherbrooke Hospital, on January 28th., there passed peacfully away after a brief illness, Bernice Mastine Hawthorne, age sixty, beloved wife of William Hawthorne, of Danville.

The funeral service was held on Wednesday, January 30th, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Danville, the Rev. Alex Morrison officiating.

The many beautiful flowers and the large attendance at the Service, expressed a tribute of love and esteem, of rlatives and friends of the departed, while the Officers and Members of Maple Leaf Rebekah Lodge No. 3 I.O.O.F. of which the deceased was a member also attended as a body.

At a time when the comforts and joys of home and friends and her interests in the work o forganizations within the community had become for her a reality. She was called to Higher Service, as expressed by the Rev. Alex Morrison in his words of comfort to the bereaved that even unto death Her last inquires were with regard to the health and welfare of others.

Left to mourn her loss are, her husband William Hawthorne; her four children, Mrs. Bert Holder (Doris), of Island Brook, Mrs. Hagon Albritton (Velma), of Sarasota, Florida, Mrs. Merick Gallup (Myrtle), of Danville, Mr. Leonard Fowler, of Winnipeg; her father, Mr. J. H. Castine, of Drummondville; three sisters; three brothers; six grandchildren, and a brother-in-law, Mr. Ernie Fowler, of Richmond.

Bearers, all of whom were neighbours and friends of the deceased, were as follows: William Dennison, Ralph Bernard, Roy Doyle, Robert Thompson, Guy Andrews and Fred Mastine. Interment was in the Danville Cemetry. Mr. S. L. Lockwood was the funeral director.

MR. CHARLES WHITCHER, OF ROCK ISLAND

Rock Island, Feb. 28. — Mr. Charles D. Whitcher, of 105 Main Street, Manchester, Mass., a veteran of World War I, and a highly regarded citizen passed away at his home, the morning of February 12, 1952, following an illness of long duration.

He was born in Stanstead, 61 years ago and moved to Manchester, Mass., nearly 33 years later. He was formerly connected with the Manchester Lumber Company, and G. E. Willis and son, Inc.

He later bought out the Seaman Coal Company, which he operated until impaired health forced his retirement.

For many years, Mr. Whitcher assisted his father-in-law, the late Mr. Alvin L. Brown, who was assistant secretary of the the Manchester Building and Loan Association, in recording the monthly payments of the people in the Northern section of Manchester. Mr. Brown's men's clothing store was the centre of business activity for many years. Mr. Whitcher and his wife, the former Miss Marion Brown, made their home with him and have continued to occupy the Brown home, since the death of Mr. Brown, in 1943.

Mr. Whitcher was a member of the Second Congregational Church Manchester; a member of Dilworth-Cornell-Quey Post, No. 102, American Legion and of Manchester Lodge of Masons.

Besides his wife, Mr. Whitcher leaves one daughter, Lois, Mrs. G. A. F. Lundberg, Jr., of Collingswood, N.J.; one grandson; four sisters, Miss Olive Whitcher, of Rock Island, Miss Dorothy Whitcher, R. N., of Sherbrooke, Miss May Whitcher, of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Harold Mooney, of Hawksbury, Ont.; and aunt, Miss Jennie Witcher, of Rock Island. Mr. Whitcher was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Whitcher, of Stanstead.

JAMES BRADLEY, OF FRAMPTON.

Frampton, Feb. 28. — A large number of friends and relatives from far and near gathered to pay final tribute to the late James Bradley, who passed away suddenly on February 13 at the age of 86 years.

The late Mr. Bradley was born at Frampton in 1866, a son of the late James Bradley and Martha Ros. He passed away in the home where he was born and spent a peaceful life. He was respected and esteemed by a large circle of friends and had won local fame as a musician.

The funeral services took place at Christ's Church, Frampton, with Archdeacon W. W. Davis officiating and playing the funeral music. The congregation sang the hymns, "Just As I Am," "Breathe On Me Breath of God" and "Abide with Me." Prayers at the home of the deceased and at the graveside were recited by Archdeacon Davis.

Left to mourn his passing are his only sister, Mrs. Edward Hurley (Isabel), his brother-in-law, Edward Hurley, and his niece, Myrtle Hurley, also a large circle of other friends and relatives.

Pall-bearers at the funeral were Messrs. Michael Brennan, Joseph Fitzmaurice, George Bradley, Leonard McLaughlin, Hulbert McBean and Allan Cumber. The funeral sleigh was driven by Mr. Peter Miller.

Those who came from out of town to attend the funeral were: Mrs. Earl Hurley, Miss Viola Bradley, Messrs. George Kinsley and Albert Bradley, of Sherbrooke, Mr. Hulbert McBean, of Lennoxville, Mr. Leonard McLaughlin, of Chaudiere Basin, Mr. Osborne Bradley, of Stoneham, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McCowan and daughter, Janet, Mrs. Louis Fortier, Mrs. Clifford Parkes, Mr. and Mrs. Marc Grandbois, Messrs. A. Gendron, Arnold McGrath and Robert Morrow, of Quebec.

Floral tributes and messages of sympathy marked the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Interment took place in Christ's Church Cemetery, Frampton.

BERTRAND POULIN, OF RICHMOND

Richmond, Feb. 28. — The citizens of Richmond were shocked and saddened on Tuesday, February 5, when they learned of the tragic death of Bertrand (Bert) Poulin in his 28th year. He met his death in a bus accident.

The deceased left a few hours before on his way to Montreal, from where he was to travel to New York to join his ship the Imperial Oil Tanker "The Alberta."

He enlisted in the R.C.N. in 1942 and after training at Cornwallis, he was posted on the H.M.C.S. "St. Francis" as an able seaman. After the war, he joined the Merchant Marine and he travelled all over the world.

The funeral of the late Mr. Poulin took place at the Holy Family Church. The pastor, Rev. Father Antonio Dupuis sang the Mass, assisted by Father Jolicoeur curate and Father Brodeur deacon and sub-deacon.

The bearers were Messrs. R. Quinn, Bert Dunn, W. McCabe, E. Barrington, Robert Burns and Paul Menard.

He leaves to mourn his loss his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Poulin, two sisters, Calista, of St. Marguerite, Lucille, who is connected with the Victorian Order of Nurses in Montreal, two brothers, Raymond, of Three Rivers, and Edgar Jr., of St. Hyacinthe, Mr. and Mrs. A. Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Claire: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a brand new fragrance medium by Houbigant called Liquid Skin Sachet. It smoothes on the skin very easily and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance. Try this Houbigant Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $2.00.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

BELIVERE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Belvidere Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. F. Paige, Prospect Street, Lennoxville, on Saturday afternoon, February 23, with Mrs. E. McGee and Mrs. G. Montgomery acting as assisting hostesses.

The President, Mrs. S. R. Leslie, recalled the passing of King George VI, and all stood in silent tribute to his memory. This was followed by the singing of God Save the Queen.

The Salute to the Flag and the Club Women's Creed were repeated by those present. The roll call "A housecleaning hint," was responded to by sixteen members several very good tips were given.

It was decided to make the welfare and health convener of this branch a member of the Canadian Cancer Society when a branch is organized in Sherbrooke.

Mrs. Garland Page and Mrs. Charles Pitman were appointed to audit the books, and to draw up the program for 1952-53.

Mrs. Alex MacDonald was appointed convener of the nominating committee, with Mrs. McGee and Mrs. H. Daigle assisting.

The treasurer, Mrs. R. Cillis, was asked to send this branch's donation to the county treasurer, Mrs. H. Wallace, to the Bird Bath in the International Peace Garden.

The winners of the drawings were Mrs. Alex MacDonald and Mrs. G. Montgomery.

In the absence of Mrs. C. Drummond, Home Economics convener, Mrs. Paige, introduced Mrs. A. Cathcart and Mrs. A. Paige, who gave a very interesting demonstration of nylon products. The demonstrators were thanked for coming to this meeting. Mrs. Jessie Colby was the winner of the door prize, which was donated by Mrs. Cathcart and Mrs. Paige.

During a social hour the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. L. Eastman, entertained at a high tea which was enjoyed by all.

The annual meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Conley, 16 High Street, on Saturday, March 8, at 2.30 p.m. Mrs. R. Wearne and Mrs. L. Eastman will also be hostesses.

Richmond And Melbourne Ruby Group Meets

Richmond, Feb. 28.—The Ruby Group of the Richmond and Melbourne United Church met in the Church parlors on Wednesday afternoon. There were twenty-three members present.

Following the opening devotional perod led by the Captain, the minutes were read by Mrs. Robert Hall, the secretary - treasurer.

A report of the ways and means committee for February was given by the convenor, Mrs. P. C. Duboyce, as follows: In February, the committee planned an afternoon tea and the amount of $16 was realized. The members who assisted Mrs. Duboyce were Mrs. F. W. Dyson, Mrs. A. M. McIntyre, Mrs. E. Campbellton and Mrs. C. R. Boast.

The convener for the March ways and means committee, Miss Edith McCourt, announced that they would hold a food sale at the Richmond Hardware, on March 14, at 3.30 p.m. Mrs. W. Gilchrist was named to replace Mrs. Robert Hall as convenor of the quilt committee. The members regretted very much that Mrs. Hall had to resign this office. She has given many hours of labour on the planning and making of quilts for the group. A very sincere vote of appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Hall.

The members of the Group will call on the sick and shut-in members of the church during the month of March and report their calls to the president of the Women's Association.

Miss McCourt conducted an amusing contest and Mrs. P. C. Duboyce won the prize.

The members were pleased to welcome Mrs. W. O. Stevens of Windsor Mills, who has been unable to attend the meetings for some time.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the meeting as the members, all remained for the ham supper, which was served by the members of the Marjorie Group.

BONDVILLE

Put New Life Into Your Cooking With Bright Ideas From Cookbook Series

You don't have to roast or stew chicken for a good meal. Any number of unusual preparations can be found in the Poultry Book.

Four cookbooks have now been released in the Record's wonderful Culinary Arts Institute series. They are Snacks, Leftovers, and Cakes, and now 250 Ways to Prepare Poultry and Game Birds is available. These extraordinary books are simply full of cooking ideas plainly presented and so attractively illustrated that you cannot help but want to experiment.

For instance, if you are a dark meat eater you may find it economical to buy chicken legs only. Here is a novel way to prepare them, and all kinds of stuffings are suggested throughout the book.

STUFFED CHICKEN LEGS

Select large chicken legs. Remove tendons and bone. Fill cavity with any desired stuffing, keeping legs in shape. Close opening with poultry pins. Place in greased baking dish, cover bottom with ½ inch boiling water and cook in moderate oven (350° F.) until tender, about 1 hour. Allow 1 or 2 legs each.

Diamond Wedding Is Observed At Rock Island

Rock Island, Feb. 28. — Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whiteman, of Rock Island, observed their 50th wedding anniversary quietly, when friends were welcomed as they called to offer congratulations and continued good health and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Whiteman received 150 cards from friends far and near, and included one from L. E. Roberge, M.P., for Stanstead County and a nice letter from Louis St. Laurent, Prime Minister of Canada, they were especially touched when they received a message of congratulations from Queen Elizabeth, who despite her recent sorrow had remembered them on their happy day. During the day, they were very pleased to receive a phone call from their daughter, Mrs. Howard Nutbrown and family, from Weston, Ont. They were also pleased with a lovely bouquet of early spring flowers, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Taylor, and a number of other very much appreciated gifts.

At the supper hour, Mr. and Mrs. Whiteman accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Whiteman and their daughter, Joyce, went out to supper at "Happys" restaurent, from here, they went to Newport, Vt., for a movie. On their return home, they enjoyed a light lunch.

It was the following evening, that Mr. and Mrs. Whiteman received a surprise in honor of their anniversary. They were invited to attend a party for a friend, who was supposedly celebrating his birthday, at the I.O. O.F. Hall, in West Park. When they arrived, they learned the event was for them. As they were escorted to two chairs, decorated for the occasion in pastel shades of blue, yellow and white, Mrs. George Stewart presented Mrs. Whiteman with a corsage of pink carnations and Mrs. P. M. Standish presented Mr. Whiteman with a white carnation boutonniere. While Mr. and Mrs. Whiteman were receiving the best wishes of friends gathered there, Mr. Donald Stewart played a number of piano selections.

Dancing was then enjoyed; music furnished by Mr. Arthur Soutiere playing his violin and his daughter, Mrs. Roy Parrish playing the piano. The first dance was the grand march and the leading couple, the bride and groom. Later in the evening, as the dancing continued, the groom danced a square dance, with his granddaughter, Miss Joyce Whiteman.

Mr. Robert Nurse, an old friend of the Whiteman family, gave a very fine recitation, "Is Marriage A Failure?" He then, on behalf of the friends of the couple, many of whom, were unable to attend, in a few well spoken words, presented them with a substancial sum of money, and the best wishes of these friends for many more continued years of happiness together.

Mrs. Whiteman expressed the appreciation they both felt to all who had given them this happy evening with their friends. Mr. Whiteman also very humorously, expressed his thanks for the pleasant time.

This was followed by the serving of a nice lunch. The table of the bride and groom was covered with a gold and white linen cloth, which was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, made and decorated by Mrs. P. M. Standish, in white, designed with white roses and silver leaves. The top was enscribed with 1892-1952 each side of a minature bride and groom. This was flanked with white tapers in crystal holders.

The toast to the wedded couple was preposed by Mr. Nurse. The initial cut of the wedding cake was made by the bride, with a silver knife, tied with a white ribbon. After it was cut, it was passed by Miss Joyce Whiteman and Miss Patsy Eryou. The refreshments were served by Mrs. Ida Haselton, Mrs. Clarence Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Jenkins, Mrs. Cecil Whiteman, Mrs. Henry Brock, Mrs. Cora Curtis, Mrs. James Webb, Mrs. Florence Severight, and Mrs. Neil Brevoort.

The hall was effectively decorated with garlands of blue, yellow and white paper by friends of the couple. About one hundred and thirty friends signed the guest book, which was in charge of Mrs. George Stewart and Miss Joyce Whiteman. Friends and relatives from Sherbrooke, Way's Mills, Cookshire, Coaticook, Beebe, Rock Island, Derby Line, Holland, Newport, Vt.

MINING TALK AT BOUNDARY ROTARY

William T. May gave a short talk on mining engineering at the Monday evening meeting of the Rotary Club of the Boundary, held at the Del Monty Hotel, and supplemented the talk with a film on mining and smelting that was found most interesting by all those present.

Visiting Rotarians present at the meeting were Gordon McKenney, Earl Brown and Karl Page, Jr., of Newport, Vt., and John Knutson, of the Sherbrooke Club. Lawrence Tilton, Jr., was present as the guest of his father, and the president of the Club, David Goodell, presided. Music for singing was played by Miss Aline Ricard, and the singing led by Elwin Chadsey.

COW BRAND BAKING SODA
PURE BICARBONATE OF SODA

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS
A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, Feb. 28th — Many a bride has won her man during leap year. And no doubt this year will be no exception. But the surest way to keep your man, leap year or any year, is to cook and bake 'specially for him. And you know any young — or not so young — bride can make her reputation as a "cook extraordinaire" if she bakes delicious cakes for her husband. Such cakes as are made with SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR. You want them to be delicate — and as deliciously moist and tender as a husband's favourite cakes should be. Well, there's no trouble at all in pleasing the good man when you have Swans Down Cake Flour — Swans Down is 'specially milled for better cakes. It is sifted and resifted until 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. Treat the man — and the family — in your life to a Swans Down cake . . . soon.

Here's How — To Happy Travelling! Whether you are taking an off-season vacation or venturing far from home for any other reason, your money will travel in real safety if you carry it in the form of Travellers Cheques. The BANK OF MONTREAL can supply you with Travellers Cheques that can be easily cashed at banks anywhere — and at many hotels and stores. And they're specially designed so as to be no good to anyone else . . . only you can use them! B of M Travellers Cheques come in convenient amounts of $10, $20, $50 and $100 . . . and you can buy them for a trifling charge at your neighbourhood branch of 'My Bank'! So — before you pack your bags — call on the B of M and put your money into Travellers Cheques . . . for a truly Bon Voyage!

At Last! Here's a nylon shirt he'll be proud to wear . . . the new BVD NYLON SHIRT! It's made of nylon tricot . . . something brand new in shirting material, it's attracuve and comfortable in all kinds of weather. And the fused collar and cuffs of these BVD shirts never wilt — they stay good-looking for the life of the shirt without ironing. In fact, you never iron this easy-to-care-for shirt . . . laundering is a breeze! You'll save the price of the shirt in laundry bills alone! What's more, a BVD Nylon Tricot Shirt will outwear an ordinary shirt several times over. At $12.95 the new BVD Nylon Tricot Shirt — blue, tan, grey or white — is a "bargain" he can't afford to miss!

It Won't Take A Second Longer to cook twice as much "Cream of Wheat" as you usually do for breakfast. Know why I'd like you to do that? Because Fried "Cream of Wheat" is so good at lunch! Just set half of what you cook in the morning aside to cool — and fry it for lunch — like this . . .

Cut cooked, cold, firm "Cream of Wheat" into 1/2-inch slices. If desired, dip into beaten egg. Place 2 tablespoons salad oil in a pre-heated frying pan or griddle and fry until a golden brown on both sides. Serve at once with maple or corn syrup.

M-mmm! Can't get enough of that satin-smooth "CREAM OF WHEAT" goodness. So good — and so good for you!

There's No "Trick" to serving truly tempting Lenten meals . . . simply make sure you have a good supply of SUNKIST CALIFORNIA LEMONS! Tangy, fresh Sunkist lemon juice brings out the flavour of fish and makes it so much more delicious. Try this taste-tempting fish dish some evening soon . . . Jellied Salmon.

To 2 cups of canned salmon add the juice of 1 Sunkist lemon, 1/2 tsp. salt, dash of red pepper, 1 or 2 sliced, hard-cooked eggs and 1/3 cup green peas. Mix lightly. Soak 1 tbsp. gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water and dissolve in 1 3/4 cups hot water. Fold into salmon mixture. Chill in large or small moulds and serve on lettuce. Serves 6.

Do You Think It's Hard to feed a man during Lent? Then here's a menu that's sure to win his approval! Cream of Mushroom Soup — Piping Hot Biscuits — Vegetable Salad and delicious KRAFT DINNER. Yes, "Kraft Dinner" is a real "he-man's" dish. In every package of "Kraft Dinner" is a special, fast-cooking macaroni that cooks to fluffy lightness in only 7 minutes. And, in the same package—cheddar cheese, already grated, to sprinkle in for rich cheese flavour. What's more, this nutritious dish costs less than 4c a serving — and there are servings for four in every package. One of the handiest main-course dishes I know . . . "Kraft Dinner" is off the shelf — into the pot — onto the table.

"Most Used" of all my favourite recipes are the exciting dishes I can whip up in a jiffy with HEINZ CONDENSED SOUPS. Those are the soups made by soup specialists —so no wonder they "do" things for your meat loaves, pies and rarebits. Try this:—

CREAMED DRIED BEEF, MUSHROOMS AND NOODLES
4 oz. dried beef, shredded
2 tablespoons butter or mild flavoured dripping
2 tablespoons flour
1 10-oz. can Heinz Condensed Chicken Noodle Soup, undiluted
1 10-oz. can Heinz Condensed Cream of Mushroom Soup, undiluted
1 cup milk
Toast triangles

Saute beef in butter. Sprinkle flour over beef. Brown well. Add Chicken Noodle Soup and Mushroom Soup and heat thoroughly. Add milk and mix well. Serve hot over toast triangles or hot biscuits. Serves 6-8.

Ten-Thirty and the house is swept and whistle-clean. Now you're ready for a chat with Mary over a good cup of coffee. Well, I'd like to suggest INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE. Takes just seconds to make (no longer than boiling the water!) . . . and it's delicious. That's because it's made by the folks who "know their coffee" . . . it's the only instant coffee backed by over 85 years of coffee experience. The flavour's there — and the real coffee lift. After a cheering cup of Instant Chase & Sanborn, you'll feel like a new woman. Another thing you'll like about this good instant coffee . . . it's economical. There's no waste. And it's as easy to make ten cups as one.

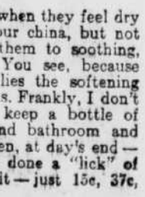

Guests For Dinner . . . but a bad backache has you "tied in knots"? Cheer up! You'll feel like a new woman and be a wonderful hostess after you've rubbed the ache away with fast-acting BEN-GAY (Baume Bengué). Ben-Gay chases away "Peter Pain" in almost no time. Its soothing warmth gives welcome relief from backache and muscular pain — rheumatism and neuralgia — and the pain of chest and head colds. That's because it contains up to 2½ times more of those two famous pain-relieving agents — methyl salicylate and menthol — than 5 other widely offered rubins. Contains skin-soothing lanolin, too. Better keep Ben-Gay handy — just 75c a tube!

Your Busy Hands DESERVE The Best Of Care. So when they feel dry after using detergents (nice for your china, but not for your hands!) . . . just treat them to soothing, smoothing JERGENS LOTION. You see, because Jergens is liquid, it quickly supplies the softening moisture that dry, thirsty skin needs. Frankly, I don't know what I'd do without it! I keep a bottle of Jergens handy in both kitchen and bathroom and use it after every watery chore. Then, at day's end — my hands look as if they'd never done a "lick" of work! I know you'll like Jergens Lotion. Ask for it — just 15c, 37c, 65c and $1.15.

Have You Ever Noticed how things you learned at school suddenly come back to you? Marg said her washing always had a yellow tinge and then she remembered her chemistry teacher telling her that seven colours combine to make white, and one of them is blue. That's why there's no true white without blue. So of course, the answer to the problem of yellow-looking washings is Blue. Just swish it in the final rinsing and presto!—your sheets, shirts, table linens will fairly sparkle. What's more, Blue is kind to fine fabrics — won't harm them in the least! Costs just a few cents a month, too!

Yes, for the whitest wash, it's KEEN'S BLUE.

Cominform Believed Washed Up As Soviet Policy Instrument

By VINCENT BUIST

Berlin.—After more than two years of apparent inactivity by the cominform, many Berlin observers are ready to speculate that this once powerful organization has been discarded as a major instrument of Soviet policy.

Its last official meeting took place in Hungary in November, 1949.

Since then a large headquarters in Bucharest has continued to operate. But there have been no meetings similar to previous ones which got big headlines all over the world. If meetings have taken place, they have not been disclosed, contrary to cominform custom.

From being Stalin's mouthpiece, the cominform has lapsed into an office headquarters where propaganda is prepared and minor officials are trained, according to east European press reports reaching Berlin.

The creator and first chief of the cominform, short for communist information bureau, was Zhdanov. His death not only robbed the Soviet Union of a leader but also seemed to leave the cominform without its former aim and skill.

Even if Zhdanov had not died, the general opinion among students of east European affairs here is that the cominform had begun to outlive its usefulness in 1949.

It failed in its two main post-war tasks—to wreck the Marshall plan and eradicate nationalism from communist countries in east Europe.

Its lack of success against east Europe nationalism can be estimate from the number of east European purges and trials since 1947.

The resounding propaganda defeat for Moscow in the defection of Premier Tito of Yugoslavia, it is believed, led to Russian doubts about the usefulness of the cominform.

Since then many leading members of the cominform have lapsed into the communist twilight and in recent months first Vladyslav Gomulka, of Poland, and then Rudolf Slansky, of Czechoslovakia—bith cominform - founder members—have been arrainged in their own countries for treason.

Gomulka and Slansky, who sat at table together when the cominform was born, epitomize the failures which have dogged the organization since Tito broke away.

The central office of the cominform moved from Belgrade to Bucharest after the Tito break. Seven hundred officials work in its five-storey headquarters.

Journalists who have visited the building say it is closely-guarded by conspicuous police patrols. They say, too, that the cominform's chief purpose now is to amass world statistics and prepare material for delegates in the Soviet group of countries.

The more important policy-forming functions of the cominform now are probably being exercised by the new "global" institutions which, allied and German experts believe, have risen to supplant it.

Chief among these is the World Council, which is said to draw heavily on the resources of cominform headquarters to supply its delegates' meetings with translators and material. Others are the World Federation of Democratic Youth and the International Federation of Democratic Women.

"It will hardly be disputed that the outstanding fact about the world we live in is the tremendous exaltation of the authority of the state that we have seen in our lifetime.

Nor will it be denied that as the power of the state increases beyond a certain point, the dignity of man tends to be diminished and his personality to be devalued. And yet there are many high-minded people who support the idea of a planned society, a society in which the whole activity of the community is controlled and directed in deatil by the state, not so much because, as they also claim, it will be productive of more material well-being than the free society, but precisely because they believe that it will be a "better" society, better in the sense that the men and women who compose it will be not only physically but morally superior to those who live in a free society.

Such a conviction runs so directly counter to our own experience, as well as to the teachings of history, that it is difficult to take it seriously because it is very widely held; and because it contains within it what I believe to be the crucial heresy of the twentieth-century world, the heresy that man is less important than the institutions which he creates."

These words were written by Richard Law, P.C., M.P., in his book "Return from Utopia".

Charlie Chaplin Does Everything In Latest Movie

Hollywood.—If being a genius entails as much hard work as Charlie Chaplin puts into it—who wants to be a genius?

Chaplin has been called everything in the book but no one could label him lazy. He works so hard at picture-making that it's tiring to just sit and watch him.

It's no understatement to say that Chaplin does work of seven men. He has just wound up "Limelight," his first movie since "Monsieur Verdoux." Chaplin, of course, is the star. He also is the director, producer, writer, composer, choreographer and conductor of the orchestra.

Between shots, he somehow finds time to give one of his rare interviews.

What does he think of present day comics?

"What can I say?", he shrugs. "If I say I like them, I'm called jealous."

Chaplin lives an ivory tower sort of existence away from work. He said it took him three years to put the original idea of "limelight" into its simple script form. He worked a year composing the score. He spent many months casting the girl and many months more staging the ballet sequences.

The movie, which Chaplin says contains all the basic emotions of life itself, concerns the fading music hall artist, a young ballerina and a young composer. Chaplin's son, Sydney, plays the composer. Claire Bloom, an English actress, plays the ballerina.

Straight Role

Although Chaplin wears comic get-ups for the music hall routines in the movie, his part is essentially a straight character—"a new character for me."

"I do not wear the traditional tramp costume but that does not mean that I have abandoned it forever."

He says he has no plans following "Limelight" but adds that he is not contemplating retirement.

He shot this movie in six weeks which, for Chaplin, is breakneck speed.

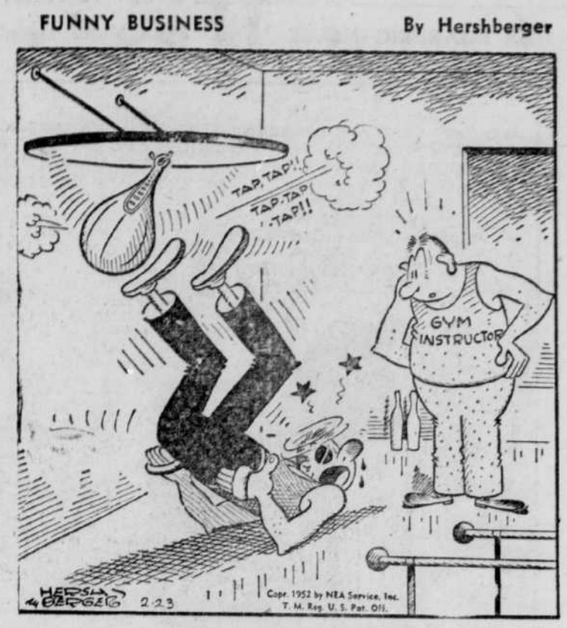

Most students of comedy agree that Chaplin is the greatest of them all. What is the secret of Chaplin comedy? He says:

"During the first world war, a judge down south once told me: 'I admire you, Charlie, because your humor is so basic. When you go up behind a dignified society woman and kick her in the rear. Damn it! That's funny.'"

To Chaplin, that word picture of a forlorn tramp kicking dignity in the pants is the best definition of comedy he ever heard.

"Add a little rhythm and tempo and you have it. What else is there? Isn't it wonderful that we can do that? Else, man would be so insufferably proud."

Labor Legislation In Important Spot On House Program

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa — The heaviest program of labor legislation in several years is planned for the session of parliament opening Feb. 28.

Indications are the government will propose changes in two key measures administered by the labor department, those dealing with unemployment insurance and government annuities. Industrial relations machinery also may be overhauled.

Apart from a controversial change in government annuities legislation temporarily shelved at the last session, the main proposal likely will be one to cut the statutory waiting time required before jobless persons can collect unemployment insurance benefits.

At present, the waiting period for which no insurance is collectible is a minimum nine days in any given year. A proposal expected to go before cabinet from the labor department is that this time be cut to five days.

Reduction in the waiting time would be a large step towards meeting demands of labor unions, who have been insisting for some years that the period should be substantially sliced.

While the insurance act is opened up, there also will be some other changes made. It is expected these will deal largely with administrative procedures.

Major amendment to the annuities act will be to increase to $2,400 from $1,200 the amount of the annuity that can be bought under the government plan. This bill, introduced at the fall session of parliament, ran into heavy opposition and was dropped temporarily when it appeared the controversy might stretch the late-year sitting into 1952.

Labor organizations have favored the larger amount, but it has been opposed by insurance companies. nother point of controversy in the government bill was a provision for cashing in annuity contracts, not now permissible. Some Progressive Conservative members took exception to one or another of the new sections.

There is some probability that the cash-surrender proviso will be dropped from the bill—for the coming session, at least—to smooth the way for passage of the higher maximum amount for annuities.

The industrial relations and disputes investigation act, kingpin of federal labor legislation, has not been changed since its passage in 1948 and has been under study for some time with a view to revision in the light of four years of operation. Labor organizations have been pressing for several changes, including extension of its scope to take in more industries.

The bill now applies only to certain inter-provincial industries such as railways and communications.

Scottish Landowner Says Britons Ought To Raise More Food

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London — (CP) — Lord Lovat of Beauly, one of Scotland's leading landowners and cattle-breeders, believes he has a solution for Britain's acute food-shortage problem.

Speaking in a House of Lords debate, he suggested that as a starter the people themselves should concentrate on producing more home-grown food from nearly 20,000,000 acres still to be developed in the United Kingdom.

But to get back on its agricultural feet the country primarily needs a bold, long-term development policy.

Lord Lovat, a wartime commando, who controls about 190,000 acres of farmland, mainly in Inverness-shire, aroused considerable curiosity in the Chamber when he placed on the seat beside him a plate containing a pair of rowelled spurs. Later. he disclosed they had been brought along to spur the government into action, if necessary.

Too much money had already been squandered, the Scottish Peer charged, on overseas developments such as the £30,000,000 west Africa peanuts scheme and a costly egg venture in Gambia. He also told of a plan to provide a factory ship to produce shark's fin soup for rich Chinese. This was a commodity, he said, that apparently was no longer popular in communist China, but it had cost the taxpayer approximately £500,000 before operations were closed down.

All this money, he contended, could have been spent to far greater advantage by helping the United Kingdom to become more self-reliant on her agricultural resources.

The British people, he said, had been told it would be a comparatively easy matter to go overseas for the purpose of their meat requirements. That no longer held true. Supplies in some of the major exporting countries, like Argentina and Australia, were tightening up, while the general rise in production costs was shooting prices sky high.

"In spite of these facts," Lord Lovat continued, "there still seems to be a school of thought which considers that it might be possible to make bargains with the new world and Australasia to get beef at cheaper rates. In my view that is entirely wrong."

To redress prevailing shortages, Lord Lovat outlined a program he said he would recommend to the government as a means of implementing a long-term development policy.

The chief ingredients of his proposal: (1) review of existing subsidies; (2) restoration of plowing grants on hill and marginal farms; (3) immediate survey of the country's freight rates structure and easing of charges in areas where intensified production could best be effected; (4) a program providing for winter keep of livestock; (5) reduction of state-owned land so the problem of production may be tackled by the farmers themselves instead of government officials.

"As a farming community we are inarticulate," Lord Lovat said. "Yet if we had only the slightest confidence, if we had over a reasonable period an assurance of guaranteed prices and some form of hope of a policy which did not change every five years with every government, we would gladly launch into a full-scale development program."

Career In Victorian Order Of Nurses Is Guarantee Of Steady Employment

(Editor's Note: The following is the second in a series of three articles written for "V.O.N. Week"—Feb. 24 to March 1, inclusive — by P. J. Philip, Ottawa parliamentary correspondent of the New York Times.)

By P. J. PHILIP

Nursing is almost the only profession or employment open to women in which there is never unemployment. The demand for trained nurses always exceeds the supply.

A career in the Victorian Order of Nurses therefor offers complete security.

That, however, is only one of its advantages. What perhaps more than anything attracts trained nurses into the Victorian Order is the variety of professional experience and interest it provides along with the combination of personal liberty and companionship in a happy helpful organization with a high reputation.

The Victorian Order nurses in their neat blue uniforms with the famous black bag can have pride in their professional status, their personal position and the Order to which they belong.

Any graduate of an accredited training school with one year's post-graduate training in Public Health nursing, and registered in the province in which she is employed, may apply for service in the Victorian Order of Nurses. The Order was founded to assist in establishing and maintaining the highest possible standard of efficiency for all nursing services. Those selected must therefore have not only good professional ability and training but must be of exceptional character and personality.

Once admitted to the Order and attached to a branch the nurse can be sure of a life which will be filled with interest. She can have a choice of where she wants to live and work. There her first duty is, of course, to visit the sick in their homes and give the treatment prescribed by the doctor, adding to it her own personal touch which means so much to the patient and often to the rest of the family of the sufferer.

Each morning she gets her list of assignments, arranged whenever possible to fit into a seven and a half hour day, five and a half days a week. If she has to answer night calls, the branch superintendent arranges that she gets compensating time the following day.

As well as taking care of her patients the nurse may be called on, and should be able to give instruction in the preventing and curative aspects of nursing. The V.O.N. program includes the various public health activities such as child health centers, school nursing, prenatal classes and girls' health classes. There has also been recently considerable development in industrial nursing and opportunity for special training in this work is being provided.

Each nurse gets one month's vacation with salary each year, two weeks sick leave with salary if needed, and longer in exceptional cases.

Salaries in the V.O.N. are in line with prevailing rates and often better. Increases are made periodically, based on performance and progress. There is also within the organization with its hundred branches of five hundred nurses excellent opportunity for promotion. Recently a retirement annuity plan was endowed in which all can participate.

Scholarships of $750.00 are offered by the Order to assist nurses in taking post graduate training in Public Health at a Canadian University. Scholarships are also offered for post-graduate courses on a more advanced level.

In order to increase the supply of public health nurses, the Order also from time to time offers a period of training in large branches such as Montreal and Toronto. This training is regarded as preliminary to a university course in public health and is a most valuable experience.

In these and other ways every nurse is given the feeling that she is not working alone. Behind her are all the other members of the local nursing staff, the district superintendent, the members of the branch and finally the national organization in Ottawa, of which the head is always the wife of the Governor General, so perpetuating the memory of the foundress of the V.O.N. Lady Aberdeen.

Training for V.O.N. work is never time or money lost. Even, as often happens, if a nurse marries and resigns, the knowledge gained will always be of use to her and if it should happen that she is compelled to go back to work she will always find an opportunity.

Clock Tower Model Touring Continent

Saint John N.B. — When the Empress of France made her February trans-Atlantic crossing to Saint John, the most unique shipment aboard the liner was a model of the former town hall clock at Preston, England.

It will be displayed in the city halls of many major cities across Canada and the United States during the next seven months—the first Canadian showing in Montreal. Plans called for a westward journey to British Columbia, with San Francisco chosen as the starting point for the United States portion of the tour. The trip back east will end in New York.

The exhibition was planned with the aim of attracting former Prestonians to the guild celebrations in Preston next September. An illuminated scroll and invitation accompany the model. It is hoped the scroll will be the means of collecting the signatures of every old Prestonian now living on this side of the Atlantic. The invitation is for them to attend the celebrations.

Before the Empress of France left Liverpool, there was a brief ceremony aboard the liner. Mayor J. W. Taylor of Preston placed the model in the charge of William Hartley, an old Prestonian and the vessel's chief bedroom steward. Councillors of Preston also were present for the event.

The small-scale replica was carved from wood salvaged from the Preston town hall after fire destroyed the building in 1947. The expert piece of workmanship is about 18 inches high and five inches wide.

The celebrations at Preston, until interrupted by the second world war, had been held every 20 years for the last 400 years. They were last previously scheduled for 1942 but had to be postponed until this year.

The event dates back to early Anglo-Saxon days, when a guild was granted to Preston by royal charter.

BURY

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Locke entertained a few of their friends on Saturday evening, at cards. The prize winners were ladies' first, Mrs. Lynn Parsons, consolation, Mrs. G. Lawrence; gentlemen's first, Mr. G. Lawrence, and the consolation, Thomas Harrison. The hostess served refreshments at midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Morrison and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Anderson spent a few days in Montreal, where Mr. Morrison and Mr. Anderson attended a Lumberman's Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Dougherty and family and Mr. and Mrs. R. Dougherty and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, at Milby, on Sunday.

Child Speaks For First Time After Watching TV Show

Pittsburgh. — Television has helped a five-year-old girl start a new life—which seems like a miracle to her.

It was while watching a Pittsburgh TV star do pantomine that little Clare Porvaznik broke through the speech barrier caused by a cleft palate at birth. A cleft palate is a hole in the roof of the mouth which prevent pronunciation.

When Claire called to her brother, "Look at Mitzi Johnny!" everyone in the Porvaznik living room froze. Mrs. Porvaznik made Claire repeat what she had said.

Amid tears the family realized that Claire was cured. They looked at the television set and saw Mitzie Steiner doing her pantomine piece.

"If anyone is directly responsible for Claire speaking it is Mitzi Steiner," said Mrs. Porvaznik.

"We had noticed some progress since Claire's plastic surgery operation last September. But we were depressed at the thought of long months of speech training that lay ahead."

Dec. 7 Claire returned to the clinic for a check-up on her operation. The doctors didn't know what to say. They examined Claire, and told the happy parents she was cured.

"Claire can go to school next year," they said.

One of the biggest thrills in Claire's new miracle life came when her idol, Mitzi Steiner, walked into her home. Little Claire raced across the room and threw her arms around Mitzi and both cried.

Vatican May Curb Power Of Knights

Rome. — The Knights of Malta, the world's oldest order of chivalry and one of its most exclusive charitable organizations, are in trouble.

The Vatican wants to clip the wings of the sovereign, sacred and military Order of St. John of Jerusalem, less ceremoniously known as the Knights of Malta.

A special tribunal of five Cardinals has been set up by the Pope to consider "the nature of the qualities of the sovereign military and religious order."

And the Knights have mobilized a group of eminent advocates to show cause why the order should not be subjected to greater control by the Congregation of Religisious, the Vatican body in charge of religious orders.

The Pope has told the Knights that pending the verdict of the tribunal they are not to choose a successor to their 76th Grand Master, Don Ludovico Chigildella Rovere-Albani, who died last November at the age of 85 after heading the order for 20 years.

As Grand Master his title was "Most Eminent Highness" and he ranked equal with the Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Grand Master, who keeps his office for life, must be one of the "Knights of Justice"—the 30-member nucleus of the order—at least 40 years old and have at least 10 years' service.

Fourteen of the present Knights of Justice are reported to have these qualifications, including Cardinal Nicola Canali, Grand Prior of the Order and one of the five members of the Cardinals' tribunal, Antonin Hercolani Fava Simonetti, acting head of the Order, and Karl Vonludwigsdorf, the Order's Prior for Austria.

The present order is the descendant of the Knights Hospitalliers founded in Jerusalem in 1092, when they built a hospital for pilgrims. They took a prominent part in the Crusades and continued fighting the Mohammedans for centuries afterwards.

Today, the Knights are occupied with charitable work. They run a number of hospitals, orphanages, refugee camps and tuberculosis homes. During both world wars, they helped thousands of wounded soldiers.

The Order has groups in Italy, Austria, Germany, Britain, France, Spain, Portugal, Eire, The Netherlands, Belgium, Hungary, Poland and the United States.

Altogether the order is believed to have more than 4,000 members, all from noble families. In addition to the Knights of Justice, the highest class, the Order has Knights of Honor and Devotion and Knights of Magistral Grace, who are not required to take monastic vows.

Needless Queries Motorman's Peeve

Montreal. — How would you like to be asked needless questions all day long?

That's what happens to street-car motorman Emmanuel Carroll, who has been operating street-cars along the same route for the last 20 years.

Carroll says questions rather than Montreal's many traffic jams, are the street-car operator's biggest problem.

"I hardly ever get re-routed, yet the same people ask the same questions day after day," he says. "No wonder operators sometimes become surly," he adds.

"On my run I make 11 trips a day and about 15 times on each trip people step aboard my one-man car and ask: "Where are you going?"

All this despite the fact that each street-car is clearly marked with a number and its destination.

However, Carroll feels that operators become tuned to the commuters' differing moods.

"The morning is the worst time," he says. "Maybe the passengers got up late and didn't have their breakfast. That's when they feel most cranky. If you ask them politely to step lively so you can shut the doors they'll bite your head off. In the evenings they feel better. The late crowds are happy too. But, oh those mornings!"

Carroll says questions, while they are the chief cause of operators' gray hairs, are not the only headache.

"The job may be a sit-down one—but believe me it's not a very relaxing one."

The J. W. Hunter Spot Prize was won by Peter Despres while the B. B. Glove Spot prize was taken by Lester Dezan and the third Spot Prize was won by Billy McComb.

Hot Dogs and coffee were served by Mrs. G. A. Davidson and Mrs. I. Lafond serving the hot dogs and Mrs. G. H. Clough, Mrs. Ruth Waite and Mrs. H. Ingalls the coffee, while Mrs. Sidney Baldwin and Mrs. L. R. Thompson, sold soft drinks.

The tickets were in charge of Mrs. Boomhour and Mrs. Shipway and the advertising was done by Mrs. George Belyea.

The officers and committees are indeed grateful to all who donated prizes again making this annual event another success.

3 consecutive want-ads may be inserted for $1.25.

Church Group At Richmond Has Meeting

Richmond, Feb. 28. — The Marjorie Group of the Richmond and Melbourne United Church held a very successful "Ham Supper" in Chalmers Church Hall. The amount of $200 was cleared to augment their funds. Mrs. B. W. Armatage is the president of this active group of forty members.

EVENING GUILD

The Evening Guild of St. Anne's Church met at the home of Mrs. Lewis Pye. The president, Miss Viola Noble, presided and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Fred Newell.

A vote of appreciation was expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Annett and Mrs. L. Pye for repairing the folding screens in the parish hall.

The members, who assisted at the sales table and surprise package table at the Valentine tea were Mrs. F. Newell, Miss I. Solway, Miss M. Brill, and Mrs. M. Alexander.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

HATLEY

The ladies of St. James' Guild held a social evening at the Guild Hall, also a card party, both were well attended.

The friends of Mr. L. H. Parker will be glad to know that he has returned from the Sherbrooke Hospital to his home, in this place and now seems well on the road to recovery.

Miss Anne Sharman was able to return to school in Lennoxville, last week, after being shut in by illness for over two weeks.

Mrs. M. G. Pellerin spent the week-end with her son, Roger Pellerin, and family, in Rock Island.

Mrs. H. Denton is visiting her mother in Leeds, for a few days.

The teaching staff of the Hatley Intermediate School, Mr. Smythe, Miss Amyott and Miss Humphrey attended the Teachers' meeting at Ayer's Cliff, on Thursday afternoon and evening last week.

Mrs. Goodsell, nee Annie Drew, and young daughter, Deborah, are spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Drew. While Mr. Drew is finding a house near his new field of employment for the Keyses Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Zeman, of Ayer's Cliff, were Sunday guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Dobb.

Mr. Zeman very kindly assisted in the United Church on Sunday evening and sang as a solo, "In The Garden," which was much appreciated.

Word has been received by Mrs. Pellerin of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Nettie Smith, formerly of Derby Line, Vt., at the Vermont State Hospital, on Sunday evening February 24.

Completely new body styles, including the Monterey "hardtop" shown, are featured in the 1952 line of Mercury passenger cars. Distinctive styling is achieved by a high, prominent fender line, low, flat hood contour with simulated airscoop, and a massive wrap-around double front bumper. The new models are further enhanced by a one-piece curved windshield, extra large rear window, and luxurious interior upholstery and trim. A more powerful V-type eight cylinder engine, developing 125 horsepower, and a stronger chassis are other improvements. The new Mercury models were publicly introduced in the United States January 30, and in Canada later.

CRADLE OF LEARNING — North America's oldest French-language university, Laval, became a full-fledged university December 8, 1952, when Queen Victoria granted it a royal charter. The institution grew out of the Quebec Seminary founded in 1663 by Msgr. François de Laval, first bishop of Quebec. Pari-Mutuel Tickets Printed By Millions

Winnipeg. — Millions of tickets, but nary a tip, come out of a Winnipeg printing plant that produces pari-mutuel tickets for most Canadian race tracks.

Bulman Brothers have been in the business since the early 1920s when the firm started supplying Winnipeg's River Park with the multicolored receipts. Their present yearly production of 150,000,000 now turn up at all Candadian tracks with the exception of a few in Quebec province, in Panama, South America and Nassau in the Bahamas.

Even at $2 the Bulman pasteboards represent a considerable investment to race fans. But tickets come in higher denominations. Top price now is $20 and at one time a $50 number was turned out for the Woodbine track in Toronto.

Harold McLennan, a Bulman employee for 27 years, says the business started with a conversation. Someone asked why tickets which were imported from Chicago could not be made in Winnipeg.

"It was tough at first," he says. "We used to turn them out one day and then hustle them out to River Park for the next.

"Now our tickets are recognized as the best. We're not infallible. Once in a while we make mistakes, but not often."

Tickets are manufactured in 14 colors plus white. Each track has a small design or serial number to designate the track. The design or serial number prevents doctoring of ducats which some enterprising persons have tried in the past.

It would be hard for anyone to collect money from a wicket on a doctored Bulman ticket. Each number is hand engraved and has a slight change in character.

A six can't be inverted or inserted as a nine with the aid of a hot iron. People have tried it. Super-imposed spelling of the number doesn't help either.

Tickets are checked for missing numbers, then shipped in such a way that the fellow at the mutuel window can tell at a glance if everything is all right. No waste paper from the manufacturing process is sold. It's consigned to the furnace.

HEY! "NEEDLE" SOMEONE YOUR OWN SIZE! Little Uliak is expected to raise a lusty Eskimo howl immediately after Maj. Paul H. Bazinet, of Montreal, gets to the bottom of the trouble. Uliak's mother looks as if she doesn't appreciate the point that Major Bazinet is about to impress on her son. On duty with the Canadian Army during "Exercise Sun Dog Three," in Northern Quebec, the medical officer had no casualties to contend with, and so spent his time in public health work with Eskimos of the Ungava Bay region.

Reproduce Fabrics Of Historic Value

London. — Beautiful fabric designs in furnishings of 15 of Britain's ancestral homes have been copied and reproduced by a British textile firm.

During the second world war owners of the historic furnishings gave permission for the work to be done and now a series of 25 of the hangings and coverings in various color compositions have been reproduced in rayon. At present they are on exhibition in London, but eventually most of them will go for export.

Of most interest historically, perhaps, are four examples from the great collection of needlework embroideries at Hardwick Hall, Derbyshire, owned by the Duke of Devonshire.

These are fabrics embroidered during her long imprisonment by Mary, Queen of Scots, with the help of her custodian "Bess of Hardwick." One has a design of octagonal panels, with Latin mottoes referring to her misfortunes. Another has been taken from an embroidered screen with painted panels of birds and insects.

A perfect example of brocade is copied from hangings on the tester bed in the Duke of Northumberland's Alnwick Castle. Adam influence is seen in damasks from walls and chairs in Kedleston Hall, Lord Scardale's house, and in damask from Osterley Park, the home of Lord Jersey.

From Drummond Castle, the property of the Earl of Ancaster, comes a quaint applique design of ancient Scottish soldiers and their weapons, taken from the cover of a 16th-century workbox.

When George IV was Prince of Wales he visited Burghley House, in Lincolnshire, home of the Marquess of Exeter. The crimson silk damask that covered the walls of the room prepared for him is also reproduced in this fine collection.

Indo-China Pope Heads Army In War On Reds

By LARRY ALLEN

Saigon, Indo-Chine, — (AP) — A religious army under the orders of His Holiness Pham Cong Toc, the pope of Caodaism, is one of the main military forces fighting the Communist-led Viet Minh in the Cochin China area of Indo-Chine.

Some 20,000 Caodaist troops, euipped with French and American supplied arms, are waging an unceasing war to help the French destroy Viet Minh units.

The Caodaists are a powerful political and religious sect. They have their own government, finances, and the military force that has been aiding the French since 1945.

The pope exercises spiritual and temporal powers over, 2,000,000 persons in northwestern Cochin China.

Headquarters of the Caodaist army are located around Tayninh, 62 miles northwest of Saigon. The commander-in-chief, is 36-year old Gen. Nguyen Van Thanh.

The general says the Coadaists are aiding the French on condition "that we remain autonomous." Technically, the Caodaists support the regime headed by Boa Dai Vietnamese chief of state.

The Caodaists seem to be doing a good job against the Viet Minh, for the road leading to Tayninh is one of the few "safe" ones in Cochin China.

Canadian Scouts Ready To Attend Jamaica Jamboree

Ottawa. — Canadian Boy Scouts are preparing to aid Jamaican Scouts at the first Caribbean Jamboree to be held at Kingston next month.

The Canadian lads will take with them 36 new patrol tents to augment the Jamaica equipment, much of which was lost in a hurricane last summer. Bought from donations contributed by Canada's 130,000 Scouts, the tents will be used at the jamboree, March 5-17, and then will be turned over to the Jamaica Scouts.

Jamboree officials are getting ready for some 4,000 scouts from all over the world. The Canadian contingent will include two troops of 25 Scouts, their leaders and 12 Rover Scouts who will serve on the Caribbean jamboree staff. They will go to Kingston by air at their own expense and will arrive a few days before the jamboree starts.

The site of the jamboree is a 500-acre strip of land which was made available by the army. Purpose of the jamboree is to promote friendship between boys of different countries and exchange scouting methods. While there, the Canadian lads will be taken on sightseeing trips, including a visit to a sugar plantation.

In charge of the Canadian Scouts at the jamboree will be: J. W. Arthurs, Cardinal, Ont.; R. J. Beck, New Toronto, Ont.; G. A. Coleman, Verdun, Que.; Robert Hartog, Toronto; J. C. House, Willowdale, Ont.; H. C. Northcott, Brandon, Man.; J. B. Smith, Vancouver, and J. A. Snow, Willowdale, Ont.

Bobby Locke To Join Touring Professionals

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 28—(AP)—Bobby Locke of South Africa, former Canadian and British Open Golf champion, will join the touring professionals at St. Petersburg next week, it was learned yesterday.

Locke telegraphed Chris Dumphy, chairman of the Greens Committee at the Seminole Club in Palm Beach, saying he would play in the Mexican Open tournament this week and then join the touring United States pros at St. Petersburg for the $10,000 Open Tournament starting March 6.

Locke said he also would play in the seminole pro-amateur tournament here March 18.

Walk Off With Exhibition Fixture In Easy Fashion; Local Boys With Quebec Club Set Pace In Scoring

Quebec Citadels, members of the Junior Amateur Hockey Association, last night gave the local followers of hockey circles an exhibition of classy team play, passing and skating as they romped to an 11-1 victory over a local All-Star aggregation at the Arena before 800 fans.

The Cits took a 6-1 lead at the end of the first period added one more in the second and batted four in the final frame to coast to their easy victory. The visitors were without one of their top lines and Coach Watson used four of his junior "B" players, but this failed to slacken the pace any as the boys kept going full blast.

The middle session proved the best one of the evening as the local team seemed to hold their own as Coach Watson was shifting things around. The members of his team, who hail from the Eastern Townships, took an active part in the scoring. Bruce Cline led the parade with a hat-trick and picked up two other assists while George Donahue snared one. Leclerc, who hails from Drummondville, registered two goals and two assists and Gordon Haworth took part in three tallies.

Therefore members of the Rangers who hail from the Townships and were secured for the organization by Albert Kouri, scout of the New York club, registered six of the goals. Amodio, Galbraith, Guay, Henri and Labadie were the other marksmen.

The local team, although they tried hard, just failed to match strides with their more experienced opponents and it took the whole first period for the Murphy crew to fanthom out the Cits' driving plays.

Salvail saved the local team from a shutout when he registered a goal assisted by Guy Dussault and Leger. This line turned in the best performance against the fast-stepping Cits. Frigon, who played in the nets for the locals, was called upon to extend himself on several occasions and in the first frame he handled 14 shots compared to three by Marcotte.

The middle session saw the local squad settle down to a better effort, but still they failed to do anything outstanding as the Cits were just skating them off their feet. The Watson club had too much speed and they showed the reason why they are holding down second spot in the circuit.

The Citadels showed the fans a well balanced club and their passing and skating was a treat to watch as time after time they went all out and put on a fine exhibition. Their efforts around the nets were not too strenuous as they seemed content to pass the disc back and forth in front of the goal mouth.

Just prior to the game the three local players with the Citadels, Bruce Cline, George Donahue and Ronnie O'Keefe, were presented with sport shirts by Albert Kouri, and Pat Timmons and Lucien Blais of Rosenbloom's.

Shawinigan Falls Downs Braves 3-1 In Closely Fought Battle

Valleyfield, Que., Feb. 28.—(CP)—Goalie Al Millar, of Shawinigan Falls was spectacular in the nets last night as the lowly Cataracts downed Valleyfield Braves 3-1 in a Quebec Senior Hockey League game here.

A disappointed crowd of 2,000 watched the Cats, with 45 points, move to within six points of sixth place Sherbrooke Saints. Valleyfield is fifth with 52, one ahead of Sherbrooke and four behind Ottawa.

Fernand (Spike) Laliberte scored the winning goal, while Mel Grosse were credited with the others. For the Braves it was (Pee Wee) Read and Erwin George Bougie.

Millar was a standout as he turned away 23 shots, 16 in the first two periods. Valleyfield's Paul Leclerc stopped 11.

The only goal of the first period was scored by the Cataracts, with goalie Leclerc, trying to clear the puck, slipped it into his own net. Read, who was closest, received credit.

Bougie got that one back for Valleyfield just past the half-way mark of the middle stanza, as the Braves completely outplayed the Cats. Bert Bourassa and Jack Irvine assisted.

Laliberte's winner came at the 5:33 mark of the final frame on a short pass from Read who took the puck from Lyall Wiseman. Grosse got the insurance goal at 11:22.

Top Sporting Men To Attend Special Dinner

Toronto, Feb. 28 —(CP)— The names of coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame, Canadian football star Bruce Cummings of Ottawa and boxer Rocky Marciano were added today to the list of leading sports figures who will attend the sports celebrity dinner the Ontario Sports Writers and Sportscasters Association is holding March 13 for crippled children.

The Association said Leahy and Cummings will represent football along with Frederick Miller, Milwaukee business man who served as a voluntary assistant coach to Leahy.

Marciano, a leading contender for the heavyweight title, will be one of two boxing representatives. The other is Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion.

The Ottawa Rough Riders football club is sending Cummings as winner of the Jeff Russel Memorial Trophy in the Big Four Football Union last season. He also represents Canadian football and the 1952 Canadian champions.

Proceeds of the $25-a-plate-dinner—probably $8,000—go to the Ontario society for crippled children.

Bob Feller Starts 17th Season With Indians

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 28.— (AP) — Bob Feller yesterday began preparing for his 17th year with Cleveland Indians, four of them spent in the navy, confident he is in for a good season. So is the Tribe management.

Feller, leading pitcher in the American League last year, has his mind set on winning 20 or more games in a season for the seventh time.

"I always aim for 20," he said. "The big thing this year is to help pitch Cleveland into the World Series. Then I'd like to win a World Series game."

Feller, at 33, has spent about half his lifetime as a major leaguer. He has been in the American League longer than any of today's stars, and figures he still has several years of top-flight competition remaining.

He has won 230 games for Cleveland. "I'd like to raise that to 300," he said.

Al Lopez, Cleveland manager, is just as optimistic as Feller.

"Bob still throws the ball right hard, and he's got a good curve," he says.

Byng Of Vimy Award Goes To Les Douglas

Montreal, Feb. 28.— (CP) —Les Douglas of Montreal Royals has been awarded the Byng of Vimy Trophy as the player who best combined clean play and value to his team in the Quebec Senior Hockey League, it was announced yesterday.

President George Slater of the Q.S.H.L. said "Douglas was a wonderful choice." Decision of the referees who made the choice was unanimous.

Douglas, a native of Perth, Ont., with only eight minutes in the penalty box this season, is in second place in the league's individual scoring race. He has 74 points, one less than league-leader Jean-Marc Beliveau of Quebec Aces.

The Byng of Vimy Trophy was presented to the league by Lady Byng in 1942.

Miami Beach, Fla.—Billy Kilgore, 163½, Miami, knocked out Georgie Small, 162, Brooklyn, 10.

Four Players Suspended For Attacking Referees

Montreal, Feb. 28—(CP)—Four hockey players have been suspended by the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association for striking and injuring referees.

Three of the players were suspended for two years and the other from Feb. 23 through the 1952-53 season.

The disciplinary action was announced by Frank Dilio, Q.A.H.A. registrar, who said that evidence of the rowdy action of the players was carefully studied and weighed by Q.A.H.A. executive before action was taken.

Suspended from hockey for two full years were: A. Strumps and J. Ballough of the Park Extension team in the outdoor intermediate class C group of Montreal, and Georges Fortin, of St. Georges de L'Est, Que.

Emmett O'Connor, of the Wheelers club in the Lake St. John District is banned from game from Feb. 23 through the 1952-53.

League Votes To Send Final Game Of Drummondville-Magog Series To Pirates' Home Ice; Play Tonight

The seventh and deciding game of the quarter-finals between Magog and Drummondville will be played in Drummondville, stated President Eugene Lalonde last night following a special meeting of the league.

The meeting was called to decide the location of the final game as President Lalonde had stated, prior to last Sunday's game, that it would be played in Richmond. However, following Tuesday's tiff in Magog the league prexy ruled that the game would go back to Drummondville.

The gathering was convened when Magog protested the ruling and insisted that the tilt be played on neutral ice. After a lengthy discussion a vote was taken and the teams were divided and President Lalonde cast his vote in favor of Drummondville.

President Lalonde stated that he saw no reason why the game should not be played in Drummondville as the club officials had followed the special instructions issued by the league and the Q.A.H.A. and that the gate receipts would be greater there than at Richmond.

The winners of tonight's tilt will meet Waterloo, last year champs, in the semi-finals with the winning club tackling Victoriaville for the league title.

Fading Maple Leafs, Perked Up By Smythe's Presence, Down Rangers 3-1 For First Win Since Feb. 10

Whatever invisible power Manager Conn Smythe wields over his Toronto Maple Leafs was never more evident that last night in New York city.

For the first time in seven games, he watched his National Hockey League charges perform and for the first time in seven games, they won.

The ...fs were enough inspired by the presence of the Little Major to come through with a 3-1 decision over the fourth-place Rangers and move back into a second-place deadlock with Montreal Canadiens. Both clubs trail the league-leading Detroit Red Wings by 19 points.

Toronto took a 1-0 lead on Sid Smith's first-period goal and played through a scoreless middle session before Don Raleigh evened the count early in the final stanza. Cal Gardner tallied the Leafs' winner and Harry Watson added the insurance marker shortly after.

The game was a listless affair with checking extremely close for the first two periods. The pace picked up in the third period, but the Maple Leafs played strictly a defensive game that kept the Rangers away from goalie Al Rollins.

However, Rollins had the majority of work throughout the three periods—handling 32 shots as compared to 14 for Emile (The Cat) Francis in the Blueshirts nets. It was Francis' first loss since he replaced the injured Chuck Rayner in the New York goal 12 days ago. In four previous games his team has won two and tied two.

Gus Mortson—the Leaf defenceman cleared yesterday by N. H. L. President Clarence Campbell of an alleged deliberate attempt to injure Ranger Hy Buller in a previous game—played last night. He stuck strictly to business and avoided any penalties.

Two games are scheduled in tonight's N.H.L. play, Detroit plays in Montreal while the Rangers move into Chicago.

Aces And Royals Fought To 6-6 Overtime Stalemate Before 11,006 Fans; Beliveau And Douglas Tied

Quebec, Feb. 28—(CP)—Quebec Aces and Montreal Royals last night fought to a 6-6 overtime draw before 11,006 Quebec Senior Hockey League fans.

Quebec already has copped first place in league standings, with Montreal a definite second-place finisher. Each club has two games to play in the regular 60-game season.

Montreal's Les Douglas picked up a goal and an assist and Quebec's starry Jean Beliveau got an assist to create a two-way tie for first place in the individual scoring list.

Cliff Malone starred for the Montrealers, scoring twice in the third period to move Royals into a 4-3 lead, but Claude Robert of Quebec soon tied things up and forced the game into overtime. Ace Jackie Leclair also scored two goals.

Other Montreal marksmen were Jacques Locas, Art Rose and Gerry Desaulniers, while Armand Gaudreault, Herbie Carnegie and Martial Pruneau handled the other Quebec counters.

The fast-moving contest had the fans sitting on the edge of their seats, particularly in the overtime frame.

Nine penalties were handed out, including two 10-minute misconducts to Quebec and two minors. Montreal also drew a misconduct.

President Clarence Campbell Gives Gus Mortson Clean Bill To Play After Special Hearing In New York

New York, Feb. 28—(AP)—The president of the National Hockey League said today no further penalty or suspension will be meted out to Gus Mortson, Toronto Maple Leafs' defenceman accused of kicking Hy Buller of New York Rangers at Toronto Feb. 19.

Clarence Campbell said his decision was made after hearing all sides of the controversy and seeing motion pictures of the game, a 3-3 tie. The teams met here again last night.

"In my opinion, the automatic penalty provided by the rules is appropriate," said Campbell after talking with Mortson, Buller and referee George Gravel.

Gravel sent Mortson from the game on a match penalty, meaning an automatic $100 fine. The referee said Mortson made a deliberate attempt to injure Buller, Ranger defenceman.

The N.H.L. provides that a hearing must be held after a match penalty is awarded to hear a detailed report from the referee and to decide if any further penalty is necessary.

Everybody concerned seemed inclined to let the matter drop.

Buller himself said he doesn't think Mortson tried to injure him. Ranger manager Frank Boucher, who attended the hearing, said yesterday his club had not pressed for additional punishment for Mortson.

$1,351.80 Paid For $2.00 Daily Double

New Orleans, Feb. 28.—(AP)—A $1,351.80 for $2 daily double was registered yesterday at the Fair Grounds race track.

Torcha, a field horse ridden by Jockey E. Van Hook, won the first race, paying $48.60, while the second race was won by Velvet Bound, $10.80, ridden by J. Davern.

Mt. Orford Invitation Classic Will Be Held This Sunday With Dr. Adams Trophy At Stake, Downhill And Slalom

The Dr. M. E. Admas Memorial Trophy will be at stake this Sunday at Mt. Orford.

At noon the first skier will be on his way down the Mt. Giroux trail to vie for the downhill title. Immediately after the downhill the slalom event will be held. A skier must win the trophy three years in succession to retain permanent possession of it.

Previously the Mt. Orford Classic had been held in the "Three Creeks Trail" which has been closed for the past few years. This year the Magog-Mt. Orford Club has re-organized and have started to develop the ski resort.

The road from the main highway to the renovated cabin at the foot of the trails is open and the long cross-country jaunt is no longer necessary.

The top skiers in the Eastern Townships and a team from Lyndonville, Vt., and other spots will compete in the event. Some seventy-five competitors are expected.

The race is open to both men and women, seniors and juniors.

The combined winner for the downhill and slalom events will be presented the Dr. M. E. Adams Trophy. Dr. Adams was killed in a skiing accident in the Laurentians a couple of years ago but his name will always be remembered by skiers throughout the country. A president of the E.T.S.Z. for many years, a former mayor of Magog and head of the Mt. Orford development, the popular dentist made many friends.

It is hoped that a large number of spectators will witness the classic.

The Edouard Darcy Trophy will be presented to the top senior skier fro mthe Magog-Mt. Orford Club and the Paul Legare Trophy will be presented to the top junior skier from the Magog-Mt. Orford Club. All other trophies are open. There will be a trophy for downhill, a trophy for slalom and the Dr. Adams Trophy for the combined. Several prizes will also be presented.

Royal Military College To Play Hosts To West Point Hockey Club In Annual Competition Saturday

Kingston, Ont., Feb. 28.—(CP)—Royal Military College plays host Saturday to the United States Military Academy in the annual hockey game between the two military colleges.

The game will mark the 20th meeting of the teams, with the Canadians out in front with an impressive total of 15 victories and one tie since the series was inaugurated in 1923. R.M.C. is the challenger this year, West Point having gained a 4-2 victory in 1951.

The series was born through the joint efforts of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, then superintendent of West Point, and the late Lt.-Gen. Sir Archibald Macdonnell, at that time Commandant here.

They felt it would be profitable for both countries to have young men from the national military institutions meet each other, and compete annually in some sport.

The opening year a cup was presented to the U.S. team by R.M.C. and was deeded to the academy as a memento of the first athletic meeting between the two institutions. In 1939, on the occasion of the Academy's first victory, West Point presented a companion cup to R.M.C. to remain at the Canadian college as a pledge of friendship.

Fair play and good sportsmanship is characteristic of the games. No player has ever been penalized despite keen rivalry and hard play.

As each West Point cadet arrives in Kingston he will be "adopted" by his R.M.C. counterpart. The Canadian will oust his roommate and share his quarters with his opposite number from the U.S.

The West Pointers' also will have a rooting section at the game—made up of R.M.C. cadets. In the arena, one side cheers for R.M.C. while the other roots as vigorously for the boys from West Point.

Coach J. J. (Yip) Radley, one-time professional hockey and football star, is reported to have his Kingston team in first-rate shape. Radley played with the old Montreal Maroons and New York Americans in the National Hockey League and Tulsa Oilers in the United States Hockey League.

Because of the current service mourning for the late King, the large formal dance that usually follows the game has been cancelled. The only ceremony to be held will be a church parade Sunday.

Members of the Canadian team: Goal: R. Hull, Toronto, and G. Phelan, Montreal; defence, B. Dowsley, Athens, Ont., J. Farrell, Jackson's Point Ont., L. Grace, Fort William, J. Sargent, Bronte, Ont., J. Waterston, Westmount, Que.; forwards, J. Donahue, Kiosk, Ont., D. Hargraft, Toronto, W. Hough, Sudbury, R. Hamlin, Chapleau, Ont., G. Osler, Toronto, D. Green, Oakville, Ont., R. White, Toronto, D. Sexsmith, Napanee, Ont., C. Griffin-Beale, Edmonton, J. M. Scott, Fort William, Y. Beauparlant, Hull, Que., and W. R. Scott, Hamilton.

Hockey Officials Pooh-Pooh Russian Charge Of "Fix" In Canada-U. S. Tilt In Olympic Hockey Championships

Zurich, Switzerland, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Russian charges of a deal between the Canadian and United States hockey teams to play a tie game so the U.S. could take second place in the Olympic hockey competition were termed "silly" today.

Dr. Fritz Kraatz, president of the International Ice Hockey Federation, termed the charges in the Moscow newspaper Trud, "so silly it is useless to say anything about them."

In London Doug Grimston, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said, "Why, that's just about the silliest thing I ever heard."

Canada and the U.S. played a 3-3 tie in the final game of the Olympic round-robin Sunday at Oslo, Norway. This assured Canada of the Olympic title, and the U.S. advanced from fourth to second place in the final standing.

The Moscow newspaper, declaring there was a scheme to keep Czechoslovakia out of second place, said a "behind-the-scenes deal was so evident that even the bourgeois Norwegian press was forced openly to make declarations on it."

When Sweden and the Czechs wound up in a third-place tie, they played off for third and the Swedes won, 5-3.

"Never heard anything like it," said the referee of many of the games, Ernie Leacock of Banff, Alta. He did not officiate at the U.S.-Canada game.

"They've got a heck of a nerve," said Grimston of Trud's accusation. "How in heaven's name can you fix a hockey game? That's just about the stupidest thing I've ever heard."

Leacock said the Canadians "were heartbroken they didn't win," adding that anyone who saw the contest would agree there was nothing wrong. He said that in the final minutes Canada was "just hanging on for dear life to make sure they didn't lose on a fluke."

"We played to win. We always plan to win," players of Edmonton Mercurys, Olympic hockey champions, said in Stockholm last night when told of the Russian accusation.

"Anyone who saw that match must know for themselves that we had to fight—realy fight for that draw," forward Billy Gibson said.

Robert Ridder, manager of the American team, was angry.

"We expected something of that kind from Russians," he said. "We beat the Czechs, lost to the Swedes by 4-2 and drew with the Canadians. But I suppose the Reds cannot lose without throwing dirt on victors."

LAST NIGHT'S STAR

Cal Gardner of Toronto Maple Leafs who scored the winning goal and picked up an assist as Toronto took a 3-1 win over New York Rangers in the only scheduled National Hockey League game.

Magog Downs Bishop's In Badminton

Magog, Feb. 28.—In a regularly scheduled feature of the St. Francis Valley Badminton League, Magog defeated Bishop's at Magog, winning the "A" section 4-1 and the "B" section 4-1 also. All matches were very closely contested.

In "A" section E. Tobin, Bishop's defeated B. Powers, Magog, in the men's singles. M. Kingsland, Magog, defeated B. McKinsey, Bishop's, in the ladies singles. T. Holt, M. Kingsland, Magog, defeated W. Paige, C. Curphy, Bishop's, in the men's doubles. E. Jackson, G. Gaunt, Magog, defeated N. Smith, P. Garland, Bishop's, in the ladies' doubles. J. Shaw, R. Trew, Magog, defeated M. Parker, M. McWilliam, Bishop's in mixed doubles.

In the "B" section G. Corbiere, Magog, defeated A. Sears, Bishop's, in the men's singles. B. Webster, Magog, defeated D. Reid, Bishop's in ladies singles D. McColm, R. Scowen, Bishop's defeated R. Lang, A. Channel, Magog in men's doubles. B. Cook, S. Broadbent, Magog, defeated E. Stearns, I. Hamilton, Bishop's, in mixed doubles. E. Holt, B. Lang, Magog, defeated M. Dorrian, R. Aikman, Bishop's, in ladies doubles.

During the tournament the visitors were served refreshments, and an enjoyable evening was had by all.

U.S. And Sweden Play To 6-6 In Hockey Event

Stockholm, Feb. 28—(AP)—The United States Olympic team played Sweden to a 6-6 draw in Olympic Stadium last night in the opening game of the post-Olympic hockey tournament.

The game was fast and tough but it was cleanly played.
