EDEN OPENS SUEZ CONFERENCE

All Indications Point Away From Federal Election This Year

OTTAWA — Prime Minister St. Laurent, holidaying at his St. Patrick, Que., summer home, plans to stay away from Ottawa until early in September. Observers in the capital say this is a good indication there will be no general election this year.

Speculation here now is that the government will go to the country next June.

However, the possibility of a fall session of Parliament — seen by some sources as a good Liberal stage-setter for a 1957 election — has not been ruled out.

The Prime Minister left the capital Wednesday night after a two-hour cabinet session held to clean up post-session government business. No announcements were made after the meeting, attended by only seven cabinet members.

Mr. St. Laurent told reporters he hopes to get in some golf but doesn't plan to do much fishing. He fractured his ankle during a fishing trip in Northern Quebec last summer.

His health appeared good despite the wearying session that lasted through 152 sitting days, only three days fewer than the 1953 record.

Opposition Leader George Drew now holidaying in the Georgian Bay area also was reported by party colleagues as in good health. He began the holiday Aug. 3 following an attack of influenza and a dental infection caused by an impacted wisdom tooth.

Meanwhile, CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell, who plans to visit friends in Britain and possibly visit the continent, is en route to the United Kingdom aboard the liner Empress of Britain.

Social Credit leader Solon Low plans a fall trip to Western Canada and a summer vacation at his Ottawa home.

World News In Brief

NEWPORT, R. I. — (AP) — Vice Admiral Lynde D. McCormick, 61, president of the United States naval war college since 1954, died today of a heart attack.

One of the U.S. Navy's most brilliant officers, McCormick was supreme allied commander of the Atlantic from 1951 until he took over his war college post. He also served as commander-in-chief of the U.S. Atlantic fleet during those years.

CORNWALL, Ont. — Patrols on both sides of the Canada-United States border were on the lookout Wednesday night for a German seaman thought to have jumped ship in the St. Lawrence river five miles west of here. R. Rommel, master of the German motorship Najade on the Great Lakes-to-Europe run, said that the ship was about a quarter of a mile from the Canadian shore at the time the seaman, Bernard Lindner was thought to have jumped over. It was believed he swam to shore and later made his way south to the United States.

PORT CARLING, Ont. — Thirty-eight persons on a moon-light pleasure cruise on Lake Rousseau, near here, escaped drowning Tuesday night when their 35-foot launch was sunk after being in collision with another boat. The cruiser Wagonac sank one-half mile offshore in 55 feet of water when in collision with an 18-foot power launch. Swarms of small boats raced from the shore to rescue the 38 persons floundering in the water. No one was injured.

ALGIERS (AP) — Eighteen nationalists were killed in western Algeria and 10 in the east in the past 24 hours, French reports said Wednesday.

MOSCOW (Reuters) — A group of Canadian lumber merchants left Moscow by air Wednesday on their way home, the Soviet news agency Tass reported. They had visited forest, lumbering settlements and scientific institutes dealing with problems of the timber industry during their three week tour.

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters) — Gen. Juan Jose Uranga, former minister of transport in the government of the late President Eduardo Lombardi, successor to exiled Juan Peron, was arrested Wednesday night. Uranga, considered one of the leaders of the opposition nationalist movement to the government of President Pedro Aramburu, gave himself up after his suburban home was besieged by 250 troops and police.

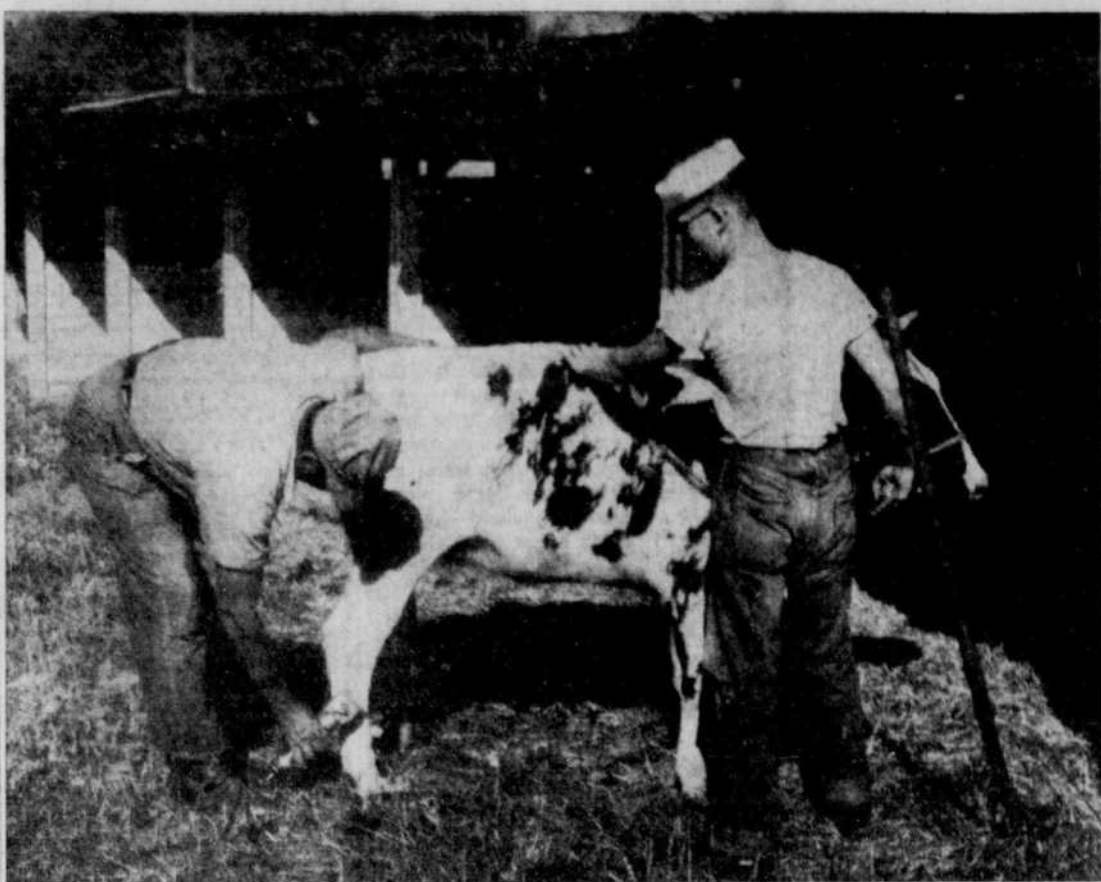

Uranga's arrest came as rumors spread through the city that Aramburu's government was vigorously battling to squelch a planned military coup.

Boston Post Not Published Today

BOSTON (AP) — The financially beset Boston Post failed to publish today.

Suspension of publication of the 125-year-old morning newspaper was announced by publisher John Fox after union representatives announced that their members would not work unless management paid them $180,000 in back wages and benefits.

Fox indicated that the suspension was only temporary.

Richmond Fair Opens — Fine weather favored the opening of the three-day Richmond County 100th anniversary fair today. This early arrival may not be getting the dollar haircut but is undergoing last minute preparations for the event, scheduled to be one of the largest in some time with many special attractions planned for the anniversary celebration. Democrats Sidestep Civil Rights, Stevenson Nomination Seems Sure

By GEORGE KITCHEN

CHICAGO — The Democratic national convention early today sidestepped a party-splitting fight on the embattled racial issue and nailed a lukewarm, compromise civil rights plank into the party platform.

Winding up a session on platform planks that rolled into the early-morning hours, it sidestepped the explosive issue through the political sagacity and generalship of Sam Rayburn, the stern-faced Texan who is convention chairman and speaker of the United States House of Representatives.

Laden the agenda with hill-billy music and long-flowing speeches, Rayburn stalled off floor discussion of the controversial question while leaders of the party's northern and southern factions tried to work a further compromise to a mildly toned plank produced by the convention's platform committee.

When the issue finally hit the floor after midnight, the question still was unresolved, but the delegates were too weary to do much about it. An attempt by northern delegates to strengthen the plank failed, and the original carried on a voice vote.

The nub of the civil rights argument is the 1954 decision by the U.S. Supreme Court requiring southern states to end segregation of white and Negro children in their public schools.

The northerners wanted the party to pledge itself to carry out the decision, but the southern delegates, coming from states where the court ruling is being resisted, wanted no part of any proposal to endorse the court's edict.

The civil rights plank which was finally arrived at scrupulously avoided any direct suggestion that party supporters should implement the Supreme Court's decision.

With its platform problems out of the way, the convention turned today to its No. 1 task the selection of its presidential candidate and it was a foregone conclusion that the nomination would go to Adlai E. Stevenson.

The approach of to-night's balloting found the former governor of Illinois just 11 precious votes short of the number necessary to give him a first-ballot victory in the presidential sweeps-takes. An overnight tally showed 675 delegates pledged to support him. To win, he needs 686½.

Averell Harriman, the wealthy, 64-year-old governor of New York state who was Stevenson's only serious opponent for the nomination, lost ground when five delegate votes previously committed to him swung over to the Stevenson column. This left Harriman trailing far behind.

Harriman, who never really got his delegate campaign rolling, still was officially in the running this morning although some of his backers—Frank E. McKinney, former Democratic national chairman, for one—had given up the ship. McKinney conceded to a reporter that Harriman's cause was "hopeless."

Harriman himself said he would stay in the fight even if he was "the last man in the hall." The practical certainty of Stevenson's nomination now is such that speculation over his possible vice-presidential running mate is becoming acute.

In the absence early today of any word from Stevenson, the race appeared to be narrowing into a three-way contest involving Senators Estes Kefauver and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

None of these three took any public part in the carefully staged drama in which the party's conflicting northern and southern delegations met at the civil rights crossroads and decided to march into the general election under one banner.

Urging that action was former President Truman, a Harriman backer who had contended that Stevenson wasn't a fighting candidate.

Rayburn was credited with helping arrange for several speakers to urge adoption of a stronger civil rights minority report. Several others, including Truman, spoke against it. No roll-call vote was taken.

Southerners indicated privately that they found the committee's plank palatable, although they previously had condemned it publicly.

After it was over Truman said he wanted to "contribute to harmony" among Democrats — an objective few delegates thought he fostered when he endorsed the candidacy of Harriman and subsequently said Stevenson "can't win" in November.

Jamaican Priest Assaulted On Bus

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — A Jamaican Negro priest of the Church of England says he and his wife were assaulted on a bus in a small Florida town last Friday.

Rev. Grover C. Bullock made the charge Wednesday in a letter filed with the British consul here. Consul John Legg said he was forwarding the letter to the British embassy in Washington, since the incident was not in his jurisdiction.

Bullock and his wife came here to visit relatives while touring the United States. In his letter, Bullock said he and his wife took seats in the middle of a bus at Miami for the trip to Kansas City. At Perry, Fla., he said, a man got on the bus, demanded that they move to a rear seat, then struck them both when they refused.

Patrolman William H. Barnes said Milton Poppell of Perry admitted striking Bullock. Barnes said he arrested both men on a charge of fighting, since he did not see the incident.

Shepilov Pledges Help As Talks Get Good Start

LONDON — The Suez conference got off to a flying start today as Russia promised not to tie up the talks by wrangling over procedure.

In a 1½-hour morning session, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd was elected permanent conference chairman. It was quickly agreed to have another two-hour session this afternoon and two afternoon sessions Friday.

Prime Minister Eden set the tone of the conference in a 150-word opening address expressing confidence that "good" will result from the talks on future control of the Suez Canal.

A British spokesman said Russia's Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov, attending his first international conference since his appointment in June, told the session his delegation "did not wish to complicate the proceedings by procedural discussion," and would do all they could to facilitate the proceedings.

A French spokesman said Shepilov spoke in "a very moderate tone." Although Shepilov raised Moscow's previous objections to the conference, the spokesman quoted him as saying the talks "may be very useful for reaching a decision which could constitute the first step toward a settlement."

Moscow radio today reported on the opening session in an unscheduled broadcast. It said the conference is not legally empowered to take decisions, but added that the talks "may provide an opportunity for finding an approach to the settlement of problems bound up with the freedom of navigation in the Suez Canal."

As delegates left the morning session, they spoke about the cooperative atmosphere prevailing at least in the opening phase of the conference.

As the conference opened, the British airlift of troops to the Mediterranean area continued from an airfield in southern England as part of military "precautions" undertaken by Britain and France. The airlift began last Sunday. Other troops have left by sea.

Procedural questions were expected to occupy much of the first day of the conference. The Western Big Three have said that the issues should be decided by a simple majority, but Russia, India and some other countries are expected to resist this proposal.

Britain, the United States and France, who called the conference two weeks ago, are sponsoring a plan for an international authority to control the finance, operation, maintenance and future development.

The plan will be sent to Egypt for consideration if approved by the conference.

Russia's view-shared by Egypt — is that at least twice as many countries should take part in the conference, including Arab and Communist states.

Dmitri Shepilov, Soviet foreign minister, was the first delegation leader to arrive. It is his first international conference since he succeeded Vyacheslav Molotov as foreign minister in June.

Mounted police gently edged their horses in front of the crowd outside the building to keep spectators out of the path of the cars, flying their national flags, as they arrived one after another.

As Eden's car swept into the courtyard women rushed into the road amid an outburst of applause shouting: "Jolly good luck to you."

His welcoming address was soon completed and he received fresh cheers as he emerged 15 minutes later. Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd took over as Britain's chief spokesman.

The 22 countries opened the conference 22 days after Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser nationalized the canal company, touching off a world crisis.

He declined an invitation to attend, but in a surprise move Wednesday sent Wing Cmdr. Aly Sabry, his chief political officer, to London. Sabry will keep in touch with developments through delegates sympathetic to Egypt.

Greece was the only other invited country to decline to attend. Those taking part are Australia, Britain, Ceylon, Denmark, Ethiopia, France, West Germany, India, Indonesia, Italy, Japan, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, Iran, Portugal, Soviet Union, Spain, Sweden, Turkey and the U.S.

Before the conference opened, an Iraqi foreign office spokesman disclosed that Egypt has agreed "in principle" to Iraqi mediation in the dispute. "Preliminary steps" are being taken in this direction, the spokesman said.

State secretary Dulles of the U.S. met with West Germany's Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano just before he left for Lancaster House. Asked how he judged the prospects of the conference, Dulles said: "I am just waiting to see what happens."

Although the sessions are closed, all the major delegations — including the Russian — have arranged for daily press conferences after each day's session to state their positions.

As the conference opened, the Arab world seethed in public protest against the London conference. From Libya to Syria shops were shuttered, business houses closed and bazaars deserted. All but essential work came to a halt.

Crowds poured into the streets across the Middle East but demonstrations were mostly orderly. Only in Tripoli was a clash with police reported. The police used tear gas to disperse a large crowd shouting pro-Nasser slogans.

Tuna Records Set Off Rhode Island

GALILEE, R.I. — (AP) — Fishermen in the United States Atlantic tuna tournament have boated 14 big fish, the biggest weighing 657½ pounds.

Six of the tuna brought in Wednesday night and weighed more than 600 pounds and 12 weighed more than 500 pounds each.

The heaviest fish was landed by William Wetzel, fishing for the New York Athletic Club. The Montauk, N.Y., Yacht Club leads in the team competition with three fish.

Egyptians On Strike 24 Hours

CAIRO (Reuters) — A "peaceful" 24-hour general strike gripped Egypt in protest against the Suez conference opening in London.

Launched at one minute past midnight, the strike stilled the usual hustle-bustle of Cairo's International airport within minutes.

At Alexandria, the Mediterranean's third largest port, merchant ships of half a dozen countries lay idle as 18,000 stevedores joined the protest stoppage.

But navigation through the Suez Canal was not interrupted, and the newly nationalized Suez authority's 15,000 employees were working as usual.

Throughout Egypt 300,000 government officials, transport workers, lawyers and shop clerks stayed away from work. Theatres and other places of entertainment were closed.

A spokesman for the general strike committee announced that at noon all Egyptians and Arab nationals from Tangiers to Baghdad would observe five minutes of silence as further protest against the London conference.

The last plane to leave Cairo airport Wednesday night was a British commercial Viscount carrying President Nasser's chief adviser, Wing Cmdr. Aly Sabry, to London "to watch the Suez conference." Egypt did not send an official delegation.

The Viscount, also carrying British wives and children home, left 90 minutes before the strike started.

For 15 miles the frustrated motorist had tried to pass the truck, and every effort had been stymied by the truck driver.

Finally, at a stop light, the motorist pulled up beside him. "Well?" growled the truck driver.

"Nothing important," said the motorist. "I know what you are. I just wanted to see what one looks like."

61-67 Wellington N.—Sherbrooke — LO. 2-2627

...best speaker yesterday afternoon at the annual reception of the Wales Home in Richmond. A large number of friends from Sherbrooke and other points in the Townships attended the pleasantly informal gathering, including members of the Board of Governors and representatives of the Wales Home Ladies' Auxiliary.

Mr. MacLennan, who is associate professor of English Literature at McGill University and the recipient of numerous literary awards, substituted at the last minute for John Bassett, Jr., publisher of the Toronto Telegram, and vice-president of the Sherbrooke Record, who was called back unexpectedly to Toronto.

A summer resident of North Hatley, Mr. MacLennan described this section of the Townships as the most beautiful he had seen in an "almost unknown part of the country." He said that spending four months of the year there, he had come to regard the Eastern Townships as a second home.

An easy speaker with a friendly, relaxed manner, author MacLennan told his audience a few thoughts on his own profession. A writer he described as one who became one because he was no good at anything else, and he quoted various classic and contemporary examples.

An author soon discovered that words don't mean what they say and he added that it wasn't simply a matter of telling the truth, that it was necessary to create an illusion which would seem far truer than the truth. Dialogue that is written is not the same

There were differences in writers, he said. Amateur authors could write seven pages in a fifth the time of a semi-pro and a semi-pro could do it ten times quicker than a pro. Most of a writer's time was spent in rewriting and he mentioned one author who had re-written a chapter 78 times. He had never re-written a novel more than 35 times he added.

There seemed to be more grades of literary material now than there used to be, he said, material graded to the public demand and the larger the market, the lower the work. A good author, he stated sold very few books.

Answering the question "Is the age of literature over?", Mr. MacLennan said that there were no signs at present of TV and other mechanical devices superceding the book, no signs of tapering. The volume of books had never been so great, though the quality was no better, he said, referring to the 365,000,000 paper backs published last year.

At the present rate of world progress, Mr. MacLennan stated that in 25 years time, the greatest problem facing mankind would be leisure and what to do with it. But all progress, he said, had been directed towards the attainment of more leisure time to read and study, for it is impossible for a person to learn much about the world in which he lives or the people in it unless he reads.

Mr. Justice William Mitchell, vice-president of the Board of Governors introduced Mr. MacLennan to the gathering and K. G. Nourse thanked him.

Charles Armstrong, president of the Board, presided at the gathering and mentioned briefly, for the sake of visitors, a bit of the history of the Home and some of the recent improvements, in particular the installation of a new emergency diesel auxiliary power unit, to be ready in case of any power shutoff. He also referred to the coming departure of Rev. and Mrs. George Harrington from Richmond, expressing the regret of those at the Home at losing good friends.

Two guest artists, Mrs. Wright Gibson and Roy Whitehead gave of Donegal, both by Wilfrid Sanderson and Mr. Whitehead rendered Bless This House (Brahe) and Rolling Down To Rio.

Following the program, a number of guests were shown around the Home while others made their way to the dining room where the members of the Wales Home Ladies Auxiliary had prepared refreshments.

Flowers for the wedding . . . to set the beautiful mood of the occasion. We'll take charge of bouquets, boutonnieres, corsages, church decorations.

Hooligan Nationalism

In the 19th century the growth of nationalism was hailed as one of the great marks of human advancement.

Men of common custom and tradition, linked also by their love of a familiar homeland, were emerging as collective entities called nations. This was the period when America struggled out of infancy, when Italy and Germany put together patchworks of smaller states, when Britain and France enhanced their strength.

Nations were looked upon as mechanisms ideally suited to serve men's highest aspirations. Indeed, the desire for nationhood was and still is called "self-determination."

So powerful was the movement that it continued on into the 20th century. World War I gave it special impetus, with the breakup of the Austro-Hungarian empire leading to the formation of Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

During and after World War II, nationalism found new expression in the upsurge of colonial peoples in Asia and Africa. India, Burma, the Philippines, Libya gained independence. Indonesia was formed as the Dutch yoke was thrown off.

The processes by which men come to nationhood are often painful and accompanied by great bitterness. Knowing the great emotions stirred, we can understand this.

But there is a certain peril in the unleashing of nationalistic forces, and it appears to be growing.

Because nationalism is cherished as a legitimate expression of human aspiration, that does not mean it may be used to justify or cloak gross breaches of international law or morality.

We regard the family as a sacred institution, but we do not allow men to rob or kill to advance a family's welfare. By the same token, the world expects budding nations, like established countries, to show proper respect for international obligations.

Underdeveloped lands, lacking their own capital funds, often invite or permit capital-rich countries to come in and develop potent natural resources. The concessions under which the outsiders operate are in effect a kind of international contract. The developing interests pay sizable royalties in return for use of the resources.

To seize such development properties without warning, to terminate concessions arbitrarily, is clearly to violate contracts solemnly entered into, whether or not the "host" country has the sovereign power to take such action.

Mexico expropriated the properties of foreign oil companies many years ago. Now Egypt has grabbed the Suez Canal 12 years before its managing company's concession was due to close out. And other Middle Eastern lands are threatening to "nationalize" oil properties within their borders.

"Nationalism" is not wisely served by such actions.

In fact they signify a brazen political immorality that can only besmirch the cause of nationalism throughout the world. And, by discouraging the making of new international contracts of similar sort, these acts really retard rather than advance the fulfillment of the legitimate national aspirations of the offending countries.

And Scars To Prove It

This has been a great year for the postmen.

In both Canada and the United States, the problem of dog vs. postman has been considered at an extraordinarily high level. And here in Sherbrooke, the strain on postmen was eased somewhat by a regulation requiring those living in upper-storey apartments to install ground-floor letter-boxes.

The House of Commons in Ottawa recently dwelt on the problems faced by the postmen. A dog, it was decided, might be man's best friend but it would be difficult to get many postmen to agree. So far this year, it was disclosed, 183 letter carriers had suffered bites severe enough to require medical attention. Obviously, there must have been many more less serious nips.

The Post Office Department came up with a set of rules for postmen who are harassed by unfriendly dogs.

It urged postmen to "ignore" dogs until they show they are friendly, not to strike at a snarling animal and to bluff a vicious dog by walking past it quickly.

This brought guffaws from H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West).

"There are no rules of conduct where the vicious dog calls the postman's bluff," he pointed out. He also added more seriously that postmen in the United States carry tibits to dissuade dangerous dogs.

This is certainly not to disparage the dangers that exist in the business of carrying mail. Being bitten by a dog is certainly not funny. But one can't help but think that there must be many a retired postie, legs riddled with bite scars, who will be looking down his nose at the "softies" who have followed him in his profession.

For what's to become of the postman if he hasn't a few good scars to show off?

"YOU'LL HAVE TO WAIT, LADY. CAN'T YOU SEE WE'RE BUSY!"

AVOIDING RULE BY PRESSURE GROUPS

(Financial Post)

An MP is a man sent to Parliament to use his own judgment no matter where it leads him. He is not sent there to sit in his office and take dictation from constituents, by letter, phone or telegram, as to what he should say or how he should vote.

This is by way of comment on the decision of W. Ross Thatcher, MP for Moose Jaw-Lake Centre, to sit with the Liberals in the House of Commons though he was elected as a CCF candidate.

Undoubtedly some of Mr. Thatcher's constituents are displeased and have said no. Under the Parliamentary system he has no obligation to be governed by their complaints.

Of course an MP is a "representative." This means that his general opinions, having been put before the voters, have proved acceptable to a majority. It doesn't mean that his electors have a right to instruct him thereafter. They have handed over to him the responsibility of using his vote and influence in the House as he sees fit.

Edmund Burke made the classic statement of the case in a speech to his own constituents in Bristol. "You choose a member indeed; but when you have chosen him, he is not a member of Bristol but a member of parliament."

And again: "It ought to be the happiness and glory of a representative to live in the strictest union . . . and the most unreserved communication with his constituents" but "your representative owes you, not his industry only, but his judgment and he betrays it instead of serving you if he sacrifices it to your opinion."

The voters, of course, always have the last word. There is always another election ahead. If an MP acts in such a way as to lose the confidence of a majority in his riding he won't hold his seat. Mr. Thatcher can submit to this test by offering himself as a Liberal candidate when a new House is chosen.

Meanwhile his action illustrates the important point that Canada doesn't have government by referendum, or by a constant stream of messages and mail from pressure groups and constituents. Canadian MPs fortunately do not bow to the mass technique ("wire your MP at once"). Here is a big difference between the Canadian and American ways of government.

SOUTH AWAKENS SLEEPING DOG

Most average players would allow West to play today's hand at one spade. West would probably make this contract, but at worst would go down only one. In either case the result would be most unsatisfactory to North and South.

The expert will seldom let sleeping dogs lie. South was eminently justified in reopening the bidding with his bid of two hearts.

TAX ON CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

(Globe and Mail)

One of the first things Finance Minister Harris did after his elevation to that office was to go to Montreal where he told a meeting of the Tax Foundation on November 16, 1954, that he thought some taxes were too high and that too many anomalies existed in the tax laws of the nation. Since then such anomalies have been multiplied, and the latest instance is one in which the basic principle of taxation is flouted.

It is an amendment to the Income Tax Act which would impose a tax on benefits "of any kind whatsoever" received by an employee from his employer—without further definition. Mr. Harris was faced by a combination of all Opposition groups which demanded that the law should be specific as to what was to be taxed. The Minister said that the amendment was designed to cover such benefits as the gift of a refrigerator by a manufacturer to his employee. But he favored the blanket definition, which was endorsed by the Liberal majority.

Because some neighbor of Mr. Harris may have been given a refrigerator by his boss is the poorest excuse possible for further complicating the Income Tax Act. The Act already resembles too closely the customs tariff schedules under which agents at every port of entry are free to pick and choose between the classifications under which they will levy duty. But even in that badly muddled schedule, the items are at least named.

There are enough abuses now possible under the Income Tax Act. Civil servants are able, as one example, to define as income capital gains of some kind, leaving it to the taxpayer to appeal such off-the-cuff tax rulings. The "of-any-kind-whatsoever" amendment puts still further power in the hands of civil service clerks. That is probably its worst feature. But a close second is that it sounds ominously like a tax on Christmas presents.

a take-out double to show real strength and reopen with a mere overcall to show modest strength. In this case North knew that South had only a moderately good hand, and the raise to three hearts showed some hope for game despite this fact. South was willing to accept the invitation largely because he had a six-card suit and might well have reopened the bidding with only a five-card suit.

West opened the king of spades and continued with the queen of spades. At the third trick, West cleverly led his low-est spade, forcing East to ruff. South countered with an equally clever play. Instead of over-ruffing, South discarded the five of diamonds!

South was able to win the return, after which a simple finesse in trumps gave him the rest of the tricks. He had lost nothing by discarding the diamond, since that trick had to be lost sooner or later no matter what happened.

South would lose his game contract by over-ruffing at the third trick. West would be sure to win a trump trick and South would also have to lose a diamond, losing a total of four tricks.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Club	Pass	1 Heart	Pass
1 Spade	Pass	?	?

You, South, hold:
Spades K-Q-J-4, Hearts K-J-6-3, 2, Diamonds A-5-2, Clubs 6.

What do you do?
A—Bid two diamonds. You will jump to four spades at your next turn, thus showing that you were able to bid spades before and took the trouble to bid diamonds only to show an ace and unbalanced distribution.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold:

Spades Q-J-6-4, Hearts A-Q-6-3, 2, Diamonds A-K-2, Clubs 6.

What do you do?

Bygone Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Monday, Aug. 16th, 1926.

Temperance interest in Scotstown have opened a campaign for the banning of the sale of liquor in that community.

The Liberal opposition continues to make the constitutional issue the chief issue in the federal election campaign, objecting to the manner in which the Governor General Lord Byng, dissolved Parliament.

Miss Lillian Cannon, of Baltimore, Md., the latest entry in the Channel sweepstake, was forced to retire from the attempt after being in the water for two hours and thirty-five minutes.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record of Friday, Aug. 16th, 1946.

New Zealand delegate H. D. R. Mason denounced the Soviet delegation today for delay and long speeches—"this blasted old rot"—in the organization meeting of the Peace Conference Political and Territorial Commission on Romania. Mr. Mason cried for action instead of the "quack, quack, quack" to be heard coming from the Russian delegates.

Record crowds visited the Richmond Fair as it opened on the 90th anniversary of the Richmond County Agricultural Society. The fair was opened by President Archie Dyson, and a good program of races and stage attractions was witnessed during the afternoon.

Doctors in the district declare that there is no need for parents to panic over infantile paralysis if normal precautions are taken to safeguard their children. The Record recently has been presenting an outline of normal methods of prophylaxis versus the disease.

SECOND PRIZE

(Toronto Telegram)

In withdrawing from the race for the main prize, a race in which, if the results of primaries are any guide, his defeat was assured, Senator Kefauver may hope to be chosen as Mr. Stevenson's running mate. He has not declared his candidacy for the vice-presidential nomination, and when asked whether he would refuse second place on the ticket, he replied he would cross that bridge if and when he comes to it. If the opportunity comes it is likely that he will accept, for to be elected Vice-President would increase his chances for the presidential nomination in 1960. By then he will be only 57 years of age.

'OF DOLLARS AND CENTS'

(New York Times.)

The Suez Canal is an international waterway. What happens to it affects the lives of millions of persons in many nations. It has been operated under an international agreement. That agreement has been unilaterally destroyed by the Egyptian dictator.

Something must take its place. What is at issue is, therefore, not "nationalism" or "colonialism," or a show of force, but simply what is required to get a needed job done for the benefit of the whole world.

There are three obvious necessities in the operation of the canal. If Egypt cannot—or will not—meet them, then some international body must do so. This is not a matter of "nationalism" or private pride. It is a matter of dollars and cents and of common sense—and the general welfare.

CAN'T DISPUTE IT

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

The next time you return home from work and your wife says that she is tired, you'd better believe her.

A statistician says she does an 8 1/2-mile hike doing her household duties averaging a total weight of 930 tons on her arches.

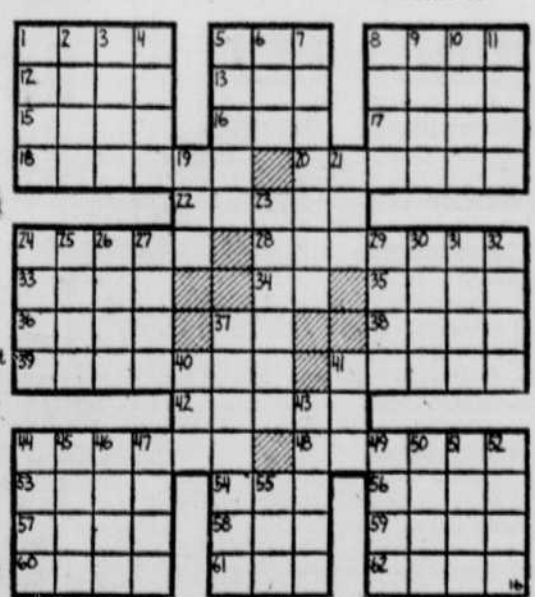

This sounds pretty formidable and, possibly, a little exaggerated, but few are in a position to argue the point with him—or her.

Marriage

NUTBROWN-McCOMB

BIRCHTON, Que.—The marriage of Miss Fern McComb, R. N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McComb of Birchton, to Mr. Keith Charles Nutbrown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nutbrown of Lennoxville took place Saturday afternoon, August 11, at half past two o'clock, in the Birchton United Church, the Rev. J. A. H. Plowright officiating at the double ring ceremony. Miss Marilyn Labere played the wedding music and the soloist, Miss June Mogenson, sang "I'll Walk Beside You" (Lockton), before the ceremony and "O Promise Me" (Scott), during the signing of the register. Summer flowers in pink and white were used to decorate the church with pews reserved for the guests being marked with cedar sprigs and baby's breath tied with white ribbon.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white embroidered nylon over satin, having a bouffant skirt and a fitted bodice finished with a Peter Pan collar and elbow-length sleeves. Her veil of nylon tulle fell from a satin bandeau studded with seed pearls and she wore gloves made of the same material as her dress and carried a Colonial bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Wallace Matthews of Matheson, Ont., as matron of honor for her sister, wore a floor-length gown of aqua Crystaletta with matching gloves and headdress, and carried a Colonial bouquet of sweet peas as did the other attendants.

Miss Jewell McComb, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore pink nylon over satin with matching gloves and a bandeau of pink roses.

Three small cousins of the bride from Keith, Que., were the bride's other attendants; Miss Linda O'Brien as junior bridesmaid wearing a frock of green embroidered organza over taffeta with a bandeau of contrasting flowers, and the Misses Bonnie and Helen O'Brien, as flower girls, wearing pale yellow embroidered nylon and blue organza respectively.

Mr. Floyd Nutbrown acted as best man for the bridegroom and the ushers were Mr. Harold Nutbrown and Mr. Allan McComb.

The bride's mother was gowned in navy blue nylon with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of sweet peas.

The mother of the bridegroom was in a gown of steel-blue acetate and she wore black and white accessories and a corsage of sweet peas.

The wedding reception was held at the bride's ancestral home, where supper was served to about one hundred guests at tables on the spacious balcony. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Nutbrown left for a short wedding trip to Hampton Beach N. H., the bride travelling in a pink suit of tweed design, with sky-blue accessories and a corsage of sweet peas.

Several of the Sherbrooke Hospital staff were among the guests, and telegrams were read from three Sherbrooke Hospital classmates of the bride, now in Colorado, and from the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Euphemia Lowry of Kinnear's Mills, who was unable to be present. Friends and relatives were present from Canaan, Vt., Thetford Mines, Ayer's Cliff, Keith, Coaticook, Lennoxville, Bury, as well as closer areas.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

It isn't a good idea to encourage your children to call your friends by their first names. If a friend insists on it, all right. But let the request come from the adult.

If the adult doesn't request it, assume that she would rather have a child call her Mrs. Brown than Betty Sue.

Connor To Enter Exhibition Swim Of Lake Ontario

MAGOG — Billy Connor, twenty-year-old sailor from Magog, who made an attempt to swim Lake Ontario a week ago, but failed after completing 19 miles, will make another bid to conquer the lake again this month, his father John Connor of Bullard Street, here, said last night.

"Billy will probably try the Exhibition swim late this month," Mr. Connor said, expressing his confidence that his son will be successful in his next attempt.

Connor, a six foot two inch lad, was being coached by his mother, Mrs. Margaret Connor, a former holder of the provincial women's swimming championship. Reports from Toronto attributed his failure to complete the swim on severe cramps.

Alfred Whittier and David Cross, two of Connor's pacers, said in Magog Tuesday evening that they are sure that Billy will conquer Lake Ontario in his next attempt.

There are $27,000 in prizes for winners of the Canadian National Exhibition swim.

Giants Come To Life To Rock Dodgers Out Of Second Place In National

Johnny Antonelli's Two-Hitter And Willie Mays' 21st Homer Give Them 1-0 Win; Yanks Extend Lead To 10½

The Giants is not dead. They're in last place, all right, but, for the moment at least, they've shaken off that cellar pallor — reviving the somewhat tarnished world championship combination of Johnny Antonelli and Willie Mays to rock the Brooklyn Dodgers out of second place in the tinging National League race.

The Brooks were standing on their heads when Antonelli got through with them Wednesday night. He struck out 11 while giving just two hits to beat the Brooks and Don Newcombe 1-0 on Mays' 21st home run.

It also was the second upset in two nights against the world champs by the New Yorkers and kidded the Dodgers two percentage points behind Cincinnati. The Redlegs took two from the Chicago Cubs, 4-3 in 15 innings and 7-3 in a six-inning nightcap, called because of darkness in lightless Wrigley Field.

Milwaukee upped its lead a bit, going 2½ games up with a 4-1 decision over St. Louis. Pittsburgh downed the Philadelphia Phillies 5-1.

In the American League, Dick Donovan threw a two-hitter as the Chicago White Sox walloped Kansas City 10-0. The first place New York Yankees moved into a 10½-game bulge again by defeating Boston 6-4 while Detroit knocked off second place Cleveland 3-2 in 12 innings.

Antonelli won his 11th victory against 12 defeats. Mays whose home run beat the Dodgers 3-1 Tuesday, unloaded his big one in the fourth off Newcombe, who had won nine straight.

Warren Spahn's five-hitter collared his 19th major league victory and 13th of the season as the Braves wrapped it up with two in the fourth on one hit and three Cardinal errors. Tom Poholsky lost it. The Redlegs rode in on Frank Robinson's bases-loaded single in the opener after Ed Bailey and Pete Whisenant had swapped two-run homers. Johnny Klippstein won in relief. Art Fowler won the shortened nightcap, sailing in on Wally Post's 23rd homer, a grand-slammer.

The Pirates scored four in the eighth as Ron Kline tossed a five-hitter.

Three in the seventh broke a three-all tie for the Yanks, who had taken a 3-1 lead on Yogi Berra's 21st homer in the sixth. Hank Bauer's single scored the tie-breaker. Tom Byrne won it in relief. Jim Piersall's home run was the only earned run the Boston scored.

Harvey Kuenn doubled in the eighth to beat the Indians and Bob Lemon. Frank Lary scattered six singles for the Tigers. Donovan gave singles to loser Wally Burnette and Al Pilarcik while beating the As. Minnie Minoso, Sherm Lollar and Sam Esposito homered for the White Sox.

Billy Gardner's single got the Orioles home safe with relief. Bill Wight the winner—fanning five in a row among the last six Nat batsmen.

OTTAWA—(P) —Top-seeded Canadian John Bassett of Toronto was the only Canadian left in the hunt for the junior men's singles crown at the conclusion of Wednesday's play in the Canadian junior tennis championships.

Bassett advanced to the quarter-finals, along with six United States players and a first-ranked Australian player. The quarter-finals will be played today.

The 1955 junior men's doubles champions fell by the wayside in a way which saw more than 100 matches completed on the 17 courts of the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club, permanent site of the championships started in 1949.

Bassett and Peter Barnard of Toronto, defending junior men's doubles champions, lost 2-6, 7-5, 6-2 to the unranked pair of Wayne Peacock, Wauwatosa, Wis., and Joe Epkins, Pekin, Ill., in a quarter-final match.

Helen Doucet of Liverpool, N.S., advanced to the juvenile girls' singles final with a 2-6, 7-5, 6-2 semi-final victory over Laragh Neelin of Ottawa.

Advancing to the junior men's quarter-finals with Bassett were Rod Laver, Brisbane, Australia, Peacock, Neil Drury, St. Louis,

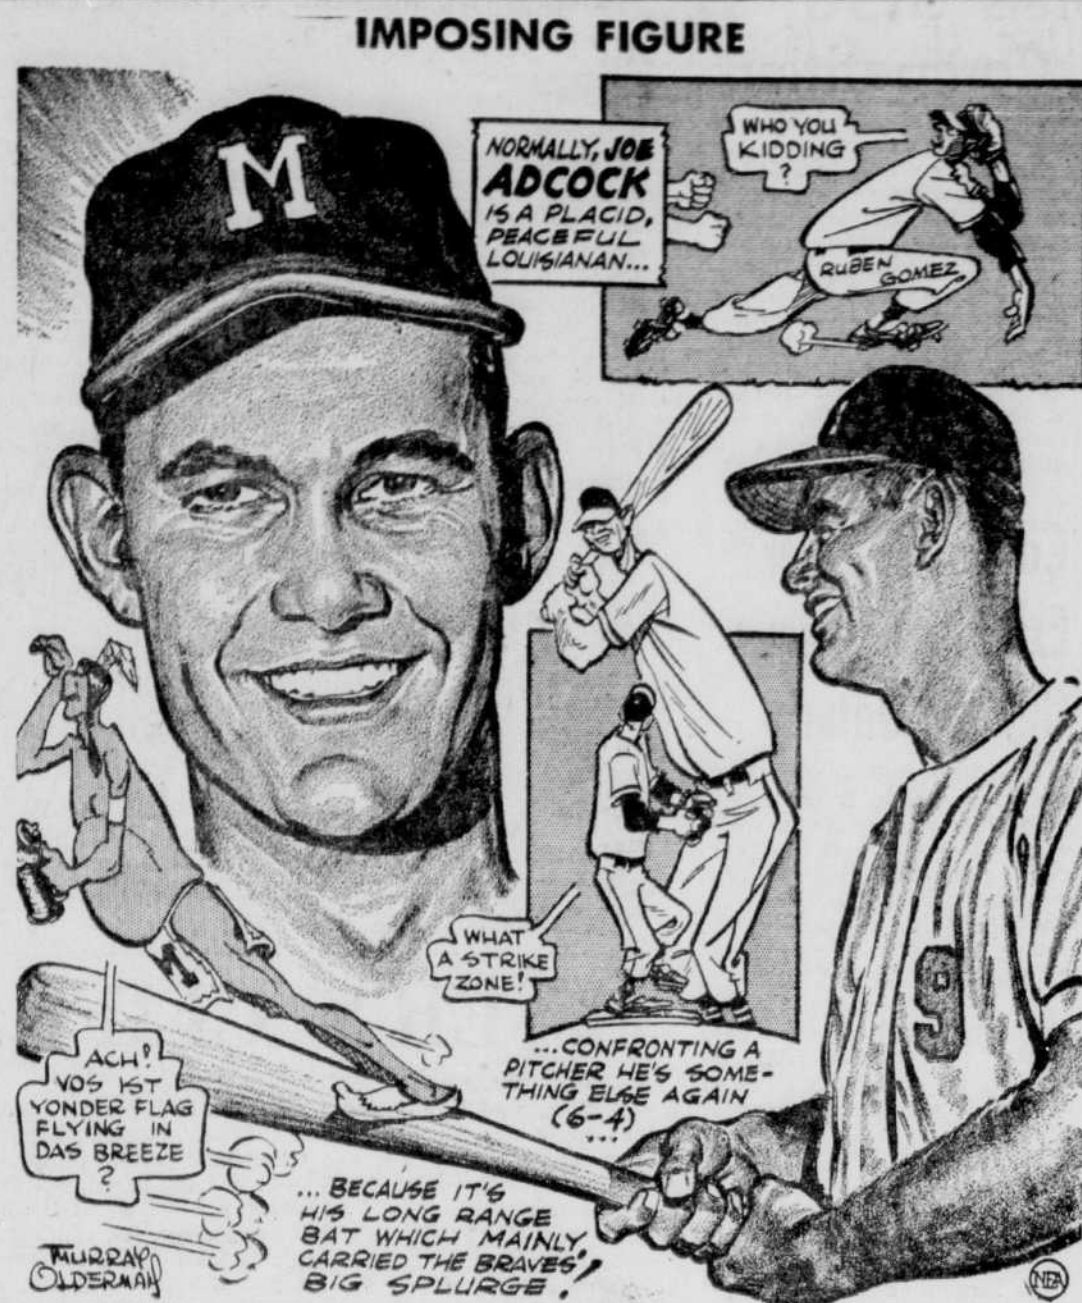

Women Better Shots Than Men, Says Mrs. Robinson

Women make better rifle shots than men according to Mrs. Mary Robinson of Vancouver.

Taking part at the annual Dominion of Canada Rifle Association prize shoot at Connaught rifle ranges here, 10 miles west of Ottawa, this week, the attractive blonde housewife, says women have better nerves and are steadier than their male counterparts.

Mrs. Robinson is one of some 20 women competing alongside the men in more than a dozen matches.

"However, women also run into a few disadvantages," she said. "Too many people think shooting isn't a woman's sport, and they also get less opportunity to practice. Then, too, women do not make good mechanics and if anything goes wrong with their rifle they can't fix them like the men."

The past winners in each division are expected to participate again this year, and many other of the fine golfers in Vermont are expected to try to win this event for the first time. Tom Pierce of Rutland and Al Serian of Troy, and two time winner Warren Tebbetts of Manchester, New Hampshire are expected to enter as our former winners in the Senior's division. Carroll Anair of St. Johnsbury and Premo Ratti of Brattleboro.

Upsets Feature Last Night's Racing Card; Daily Double Pays $250.60 As Dave Adam Wins Special Dow Award

Variety was the main item on last night's racing card at the local track and payoffs kept pace with the rest of the program. The big one was the daily double which came through with a nifty $250.60 to top prizes for the night.

The opening dashes of all classes were over the short distance while in the second half of the events went a mile and a sixteenth. This added plenty of confusion to the bettors who had trouble figuring out the winners.

There were no double winners on the card as the slow starters didn't figure in the first half but came back strong in the second. In the main event of the night, a Classified Pace, which was run in Indian File, saw Guy Desrochers team Dave Adam home ahead of the field in the first heat and place third in the second.

The Richmond combination won the sterling silver tray presented by Ivan Dugre, local representative for Dow Brewery, for placing best in the class. Gilles Dube made the presentation to driver Desrochers. The

Five Americans And Three Canadians Left In Hunt For Women's Open Golf Crown; Quebecers Knocked Out

WINNIPEG—(CP) —Five Americans and three Canadians, including defending champion Marlene Stewart of Font-hill, Ont., have entered the quarter-finals of the Canadian women's open golf championship at Niakwa Country Club.

Only upset of Wednesday's second round was Mary Patton Janssen's 3-and-2 victory over highly-regarded Barbara McIntire of Toledo, Ohio, co-medalist in the qualifying round here and runner-up in the recent U.S. Open.

Miss Janssen, from Charlottesville, Va., and runner-up this year in the British amateur, will meet Judy Bell of Wichita, Kan., in one half of the upper bracket of the drawn while Pat Lesser of Seattle meets Canadian junior champion Betty Stanhope of Edmonton in the other.

In the lower bracket, it is Rae Milligan of Jasper, Alta., against Virginia Dennehy of Lake Forest, Ill., and Miss Stewart against Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, Md.

Eighteen-hole play will continue until Saturday when the 36-hole final will be played.

Miss Janssen, who failed to impress in the qualifying round with an 82, showed she will be tough to beat in match play as she took advantage of every misuse of Miss McIntire in their hard-fought battle.

A 65-foot chip shot by Marlene Stewart for a tying eagle-three on the 14th kept Mary Gay of Kitchener, Ont., from getting back in the battle against the defending champion. Miss Gay took the next hole but she still was two down and the match ended on the 17th with Miss Stewart the winner 3 and 1.

Veteran Mrs. Graeme Pyke of Hudson, Que., carried co-medalist Rae Milligan to the 17th before bowing out 2 and 1. Miss Dennehy had too much experience for Donna Patton of Winnipeg. Manitoba junior champion and walked off with a 5-and-4 triumph.

Mrs. Glick went four up on Janet MacWha of Montreal at the turn. The Canadian cut the margin to one by the 13th but Mrs. Glick came back and won 2 and 1.

Miss Lesser carried a three-up lead into the back nine and ended her match with Shirley Woodley of Toronto on the 16th. Mrs. J. R. Jamison of Edmonton held lucky fan to win the other half of the event was A. Beaudry of Sherbrooke while A. Humphrey of North Hatley was the lucky winner for the Fabi & Fils $25 cheque.

The first quinella for Dave Adam and Herbie Direct in the third paid $57.30, which was high for the night. In the sixth Sunday Mite and Maryland Marmite rewarded their backers with $12-80 while in the final race of the evening Danny Prince Grattan and Tom's Star Hal came through to give their backers the sum of $24.50.

Moscow Lokomotiv Rallies To Edge Calgary 6-4

A crowd of 8,500, the largest ever at a soccer game in Calgary, watched the all-stars battle back and make a tough fight of it after Lokomotiv led 3-0 early in the game at Mewata Stadium.

World's Top Tennis Stars To Take Part In Invitation Tournament At Toronto; Lew Hoad To Be On Hand

TORONTO—(P) —A galaxy of tennis stars will take part in an international invitation tennis tournament at the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club Sept. 6-12, it was announced Wednesday.

The English Davis Cup team of Michael Davies, Roger Becker and Billy Knite, currently playing American courts, announced Wednesday it will compete.

Davies, has scored several victories lately, the most notable being that over Lew Hoad, of Australia. Hoad's entry in the event was assured Tuesday.

Closing date for entries is Aug. 27. Among the tennis stars taking part in the tournament are:

Nine Canadians And Seven Americans Are All That Remains In Running For Amateur Title; Moe Norman Still In

EDMUNDSTON, N.B. — (CP) — Only nine Canadians and seven United States amateurs remain in the running today for the Canadian amateur golf title after two rounds Wednesday in pouring rain interspersed with blazing sunshine. A field of 110 started out in qualifying rounds Monday.

Moe Norman, the defending champion from Kitchener, Ont., gets his first stiff test today when he faces Ed Meister Jr. of Willoughby, Ohio.

Meister was one stroke ahead of Norman Wednesday as the two, along with Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., co-medalist, roared around this 6,618 yard, par 73 course in sub-par scores.

Sanders, the Canadian Open champion, faces Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N.Y., in his third round match today.

Counting Norman, four of the remaining Canadians are members of the Ontario Willingdon Cup team that captured the interprovincial title Tuesday and a fifth is the newly-crowned Canadian junior champ, Gary Cowan of Kitchener.

Three other Canadians, George Knudson and Don Gardner, both, of Winnipeg, and Bob Fleming of Victoria, were on their provinces' Willingdon Cup teams.

A real dark horse is unheralded Doug Bajus of Winnipeg Niakwa club.

The other third-round starters are Dr. Ted Lenczyk, Newington, Conn., dentist; Arthur F. Butler, Portsmouth, N.H., and Albert Smith of Buffalo, N.Y.

One of the feature matches today sends last year's junior champ, Knudson, against Cowan. Canadians face Canadians in two matches while United States amateurs meet in only one match.

Norman, who looks and acts like a country boy out on a picnic, is a showman and has gathered a generous gallery. Deadly serious when he wants to be, Norman has shot terrific golf but he seems to enjoy his role as clown best.

Playing against Dr. Alton Richardson of Waterville, Me., he was only up two when he switched from the conventional small tee to a giant six-inch one. Then with a short grip on his driver, he got off booming drives.

Knitting Helps To Kill Time Between Shots

WINNIPEG—(P) —A 45-year-old American golfer has astounded the gallery at the Canadian women's open championship here by mixing in a few "purlis and plains" with her paks.

Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, Md., found play moving along "a little slowly" during the championship flight so she pulled out her knitting, which she "just happened to have along," while awaiting to tee off along the course.

Mrs. Glick, who won her first two matches to advance into the quarter-finals, was first noticed knitting as she walked back to the 18th green and official scoreboard after ending her first-round game on the 12th hole.

She set the golfing fraternity back by remarking that she had been knitting socks between holes as she waited for the players ahead to get out of reach.

Choosing the club for one shot can make the difference between a good hole and a wrecked score for the average golfer.

That could be the question of which wood to use on your second—the 2 (brassie) or the 3 (spoon).

When the average man needs 225 yards to get on the green, he'll go with the 2 wood too often. Mostly, he is breaking a big rule in doing so. That is, when in doubt, go with the 3 wood.

The brassie needs a perfect lie—and a good golfer—to make it come off properly.

The 3 wood, on the other hand, has good loft. It handles a lie that isn't perfect a lot better.

Use the spoon for downhill, sidehill and uphill lies. When you need distance, use it in place of a 2 iron, too. A lot of times you'll find a guy trying to make a 2 iron perform as if Sam Snead were swinging it.

It is a club which fits the normal game well.

It is practical to use the same swing all the way through on all shots. Stickout shotmakers use this same swing no matter what club they use. Let the clubs do the work. Obviously the only way to get the true effect of the clubs is to use them all in exactly the same way. (NEA.)

SHOOTS ACE, BUT LOSES

EDMUNDSTON, N.B. — Dr. Alton Richardson of Waterville, Me., shot a hole in one Wednesday in the Canadian amateur golf championship.

Playing against defending champion Moe Norman of Kitchener, Ont., in a second-round match, Dr. Richardson scored his ace on the par three 159-yard eighth hole.

Royals Finally Clip Richmond

RICHMOND, Va. — (AP) — Montreal Royals clipped Richmond's pitching for three home runs Wednesday night and made off with a 9-5 victory, their first in three tries in a four-game International League series.

Richmond manager Ed Lopat was knocked out of the box in the midst of a four-run Montreal sixth inning. Home run pitches turned out to be Lopat's undoing. Bobby Wilson clipped him for a two-run homer in the first inning, and the first two Royal batters in the sixth came on a four-bagger by Chuck Diering.

Billy Harris, making his first start for Montreal since being sidelined two weeks with arm trouble, was in constant trouble the first five innings but always managed to wiggle out except for Bob Kline's first homer for the Virginians in the fourth.

The Vees finally chased Harris in a two-run seventh and added two runs in the eighth to no avail.

Mrs. Babe Ruth Keeps Close Tab On Mantle

NEW YORK — (AP) — Mrs. Babe Ruth is keeping a close watch on Mickey Mantle's attempts to break her late husband's home run record of 60 in a season. She is almost a daily visitor to the Yankee Stadium when the Yankees are at home.

When the slugging Yankee outfielder clouted his 42nd Tuesday night to go 13 games ahead of the Bambino's pace of 1927, Mrs. Ruth stood up and cheered as the Mick circled the bases.

Sugar Ray's Plans To Quit IBC Still Pending According To Jim Norris; Owes Us Too Much Money, Says Prexy

NEW YORK — (AP) — Middleweight champion Ray Robinson's stated plans to quit the International Boxing Club in favor of an independent promoter seemed uncertain today as both parties awaited word from the boxer.

Robinson said Monday he is finished with the IBC and he would sign for a title defence with promoter Cal Eaton in Los Angeles Sept. 24 or 25. The opponent, eager and ready, would be Utah's Gene Fulmer.

Robinson said his reason for switching was that the IBC wouldn't give him a guarantee for theatre-television. Eaton, he said, had offered him $125,000 for the fight plus $60,000 for television.

A spokesman for Robinson said Tuesday: "We're all set to fight for Eaton in Los Angeles as soon as we get the television details settled."

Robinson was busy training at his Greenwood Lake camp.

IBC president Jim Norris said Tuesday at an important press conference: "I think Ray is just popping off. He can get as much or more money fighting for us—some $130,000 to $140,000 as he gets on the coast. I think the fight belongs here."

Asked about Robinson's state-

President Nasser Stops Egyptian In Lake Swim

TORONTO. — (CP) — The Lake Ontario marathon swim committee Wednesday said President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt has personally stopped an Egyptian swimmer from entering its projected $27,000 race.

Michael Szekali, an Egyptian employee of the KLM Royal Dutch Air Lines office in Cairo, had filed an entry in the Aug. 27 swim-race across the lake's 32 gruelling miles.

"His employers had agreed to fly him to Canada free to take part in the swim," said the committee.
