ETHIOPIANS CLAIM ITALIAN ARMY ON NORTHERN FRONT ANNIHILATED

Statement from Ethiopian Headquarters Declares Famous Fascist "28th of October" Division Included in Forces Defeated in Greatest Battle of the War on Northern Front—Shake-Up in Command of Southern Ethiopian Army Reported—Italian Official Reports Fail to Make Mention of Any Battle.

Desse, Ethiopia, February 1.—The Ethiopian general headquarters claimed today that the Italian army of General Dainelli, including the famous Fascist "28th of October" division, was "annihilated" in what was described as the greatest battle of the war on the northern front.

Ethiopian authorities said the battle ended yesterday, and that hundreds of prisoners, masses of guns, machine guns, rifles and mules laden with ammunition were captured.

At the same time, Ras Desta Demtu, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie, was reported officially to have been deposed as Ethiopian commander on the southern front.

ITALIAN DEFENCE LINES ARE STRONGLY PROTECTED

Makale, February 1.—Inspection of the Italian defence lines before this northern Ethiopian city indicated today that it will be impossible for the largest Ethiopian army to break through.

Strong fortifications at either end of the line are connected by lines of barbed wire entanglements, and the most careful watch is maintained constantly.

NOTHING NEW REPORTED BY ITALIAN COMMANDER

Rome, Feb. 1.—The Italian war communiqué said today, "Marshal Pietro Badoglio telegraphs that on the Somaliland and Eritrean fronts there is nothing new."

PHOTOGRAPHS TO SUPPORT CHARGES OF MUTILATION

Geneva, Feb. 1.—A group of photographs of white and native soldiers, who, the Italian Government charges, were emasculated and otherwise mutilated, or wounded by dum-dum bullets, was on file today with the League of Nations secretariat.

The photographs were sent to Joseph Avenol, Secretary-General of the League, by Fulvio Suvich, Italian Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, to support Italy's protest of January 16th, in which the Rome Government charged that the Ethiopians were guilty of committing atrocities and of abusing the Red Cross emblem.

The photographs included a group showing "Corporal Giovanni Sereba and Privates Antonio Amato, Pietro Frangioso, and Gillo Mazzeo, mutilated and emasculated during an encounter with Ethiopians at Tanzeon on December 27th."

Another picture was that of "An Askari, slain in a fight at Deber, southeast of Makale, December 3rd, whom the Ethiopians dismembered and whose head they bashed in."

There were numerous pictures of white and native soldiers who, it was charged, had suffered wounds from dum-dum bullets.

The photographs were accompanied by reports on the cases from Italian army surgeons.

CLAIMS EUROPEAN WAR TO FOLLOW ADDED SANCTIONS

Rome, Feb. 1.—Premier Mussolini summoned his Fascist Grand Council today to a solemn session and led a simultaneous celebration of Italy's "Militia Day, amid grim warnings of peril of a European war arising from the Ethiopian conflict."

A bluntly-phrased editorial in Il Duce's own newspaper, Popolo d'Italia of Milan, charged that "if sanctions were extended" and a political victory was won by the pressure of "Imperialists and blood-thirsty" Europe would fall fatefully toward humanity's "most terrible, unjust war."

An informed source said this admonition was decided upon only after Mussolini learned by telephone of the results of a private London conference between Dino Grandi, Italian Ambassador to Great Britain, and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

The editorial, occupying two newspaper columns, received extraordinary publicity. The government-controlled press displayed it on front pages in italics, beneath arresting headlines.

In a single sentence, apparently referring to the Geneva proposal for addition of an oil embargo to the present League of Nations war penalties, it epitomized the problems of the Grand Councilors, supreme advisers of state, were called to ponder: "An embargo will end at a certain moment in a blockade, and a blockade will be war."

VETERAN WARRIOR ORDERED TO GO TO SOUTHERN FRONT

Addis Ababa, Feb. 1.—Dedjazmach Balcha, veteran Sidamo province warrior, was ordered today to go to the Southern Front where the Ethiopian forces were reported to have fallen back before a swift Italian offensive.

Rumors that Balcha was taking over the Southern command from Ras Desta Demtu, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie, however, were officially denied.

YEATS OUT OF DANGER

Palma, Mallorca, Feb. 1.—William Butler Yeats, Ireland's world-famous poet and playwright, was reported out of danger today, following reports that two heart attacks were causing grave concern.

JAPS FROWN ON ACCIDENTAL INTERFERENCE IN ORIENT

Japanese Ambassador Declares His People Want No Repetition of Western Encroachments in Their Sphere or World.

New York, Feb. 1.—An assertion that the Japanese would frown on accidental interference in the Orient as strongly as official North America would dislike an Asiatic intrusion in the western hemisphere was left today by Ambassador Hirose Saito, of Japan.

In a speech at the annual dinner of the Japan Society, Ambassador Saito said his nation has been forced to wage "several minor and at least one major war" by "occidental aggression," and added:

"Naturally our people want no repetition of these western encroachments in their sphere of the world. The United States would countenance favorably none in any part of the Americas from Europe or Asia."

The Japanese envoy expressed the opinion there was little fear of immediate war on a major scale due to present day militaristic tendencies.

TROUBLE OVER DISMISSALS AT OTTAWA GROWS

Persons Evidently Selected to Succeed Dismissed House of Commons Employees Report for Work, Complimenting Task of Special Committee Investigating Trouble.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—Complications which have developed on Parliament Hill due to the notifying of more than one hundred House of Commons employees their services were no longer required reached a new stage today.

With hopeful expressions on their faces, 120 out of 198 men and women notified to report, apparently for the purpose of taking over the work relinquished by those discharged, arrived at the Parliament Buildings, which they found the hundred-odd who had been given their notice still at work. They were requested by the Sergeant-at-Arms, M. F. Greig, V.C., to fill in forms stating their qualifications, overseas service, number of dependents if any and other information. Then they went home to await developments.

Those who turned up today were notified to report at the Parliament Buildings. At the same time notification of dismissal was sent to the others.

The whole matter is now under review by a Cabinet sub-committee consisting of Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of Pensions, and Hon. J. C. Elliott, Postmaster General. They will meet, probably next week, Pierre Casgrain, former chief Liberal whip who is said to be slated for the Speakership, and officials of the House with a view to bringing out the situation.

Those who received notification of dismissal included cleaners, charwomen, messengers, members of the protective staff and helpers of various kinds. The stenographic staff numbering more than 100 and the restaurant staff of forty-odd, has not been subject to interference.

UNEMPLOYMENT CLAIMED TO BE FEDERAL ISSUE

Dominion Counsel, Supporting Right of Federal Parliament to Pass Unemployment Insurance Act, Cites Poverty Pleas of Provinces and Municipalities.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The Supreme Court today took official notice of facts known to every man in the street that there has been a depression and unemployment has been crippling cities, provinces and the federal treasury.

General economic conditions in the country were reviewed by Louis Saint-Laurent, Quebec, Dominion counsel in the reference to test validity of the federal act establishing unemployment insurance. He claimed the Court in considering the Act could not close its eyes to general conditions.

The Dominion claims the Act is constitutional because unemployment became so acute the provinces could not handle it and Parliament had to step in under the "Peace, Order and Good Government" provisions of the British North America Act.

Mr. Saint-Laurent told the court the federal treasury spent $192,261,000 between 1930 and 1935 to relieve unemployment. It was estimated total expenditures by Dominion provinces and municipalities in the same years were $501,945,000.

The Dominion counsel read several admissions from provinces, Ontario and British Columbia among them, which admitted unemployment had to step in under the "Peace, Order and Good Government" provisions of the British North America Act.

Mr. Saint-Laurent told the court the federal treasury spent $192,261,000 between 1930 and 1935 to relieve unemployment. It was estimated total expenditures by Dominion provinces and municipalities in the same years were $501,945,000.

CLAIMS GERMANY IS MAINTAINING HUGE ARMED FORCE IN RHINELAND

Belgian Military Expert Declares 250,000 Trained Soldiers Are Stationed in Demilitarized Area West of Rhine—Charges that Camps Have Already Been Constructed and Troops Motorized to High Degree—Believes Two General Staff Headquarters to Be Established in Zone.

Brussels, Feb. 1.—Charges of a Belgian military expert that Germany has stationed 250,000 trained soldiers in the demilitarized area west of the Rhine caused a sensation in Government and army circles here today.

The charges were made by Lieut.-Col. Tasnier in an article published in the newspaper Le Soir.

"I can declare without exaggeration," Col. Tasnier said in his article, "that according to information from the best sources there exist west of the Rhine more than 250,000 men fully prepared to fight."

Germany maintains formations of the "Landespolizei" organized similarly to the regular army, and a labor brigade, preparing for army service, which has built camps near the Belgian border, Col. Tasnier said in his article.

He said these formations include two groups of Storm Troops of the fifth and sixth brigades, an effective force of 150,000 men; the seventh regiment of blackshirt guards of about 20,000 men; a motor corps of six regiments, numbering 40,000 men, and a service of supply and construction corps of 30,000 men.

THREE RIVERS FIRE CLAIMED THREE LIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Thompson and Three-Year-Old Daughter Perished in Blaze that Razed Their Home—Father-in-Law Badly Burned.

Three Rivers, Que., Feb. 1.—Three persons were burned to death here today when fire destroyed the home of D. S. Baxter, who suffered serious injuries in attempting to rescue his daughter, son-in-law and their three-year old child.

The dead are Jarvis Thompson, Mrs. Jarvis Thompson and Patricia Thompson, aged three years.

The three were trapped in the upper floor of the father-in-law's home and were dead when firemen finally made their way through the smoke to the back part of the flat where Thompson apparently had perished in an effort to take his wife and child to safety.

Thompson discovered the fire, which spread from the living room fireplace, and ran downstairs to telephone the fire department. The noise aroused Mr. Baxter and the two attempted to make their way through the flames, rapidly enveloping the staircase and cutting off the only avenue to safety.

Baxter lost sight of his son-in-law and tried to make his way up the flaming staircase, but the steps were crumbling and he was forced to flee, seriously burned. Hospital authorities said his condition was serious but not critical.

The bodies of Thompson and his child were found together as if the father had been carrying the child to the stairs. The body of Mrs. Thompson, the former Muriel Baxter, was found near the foot of the bed as if she had been attempting to follow her husband. He was president of the Trades and Labor Council of Three Rivers and well known in Quebec curling circles.

An inquest will be held at a date to be decided later.

SOVIET AGENTS ACCUSED OF INSTIGATING MUTINY

"Indisputable Evidence" Said to Prove that Trouble Among Manchoukuo Troops on Siberian Frontier Was Caused by Russians.

Hsinking, Feb. 1.—Soviet agents were directly charged by the Imperial Kwantung Army today with instigating a mutiny of Manchoukuo troops on the Siberian frontier last Thursday.

"Soviet instigation," said a headquarters communique, has been proved by "indisputable evidence." The bodies of several Russian soldiers were found on the field after a battle between the Manchoukuo and loyal troops, and gas masks of Soviet manufacture were also found, the statement said.

The mutiny took place at Frontier Post 21, near Mishan on the eastern frontier.

RAZOR SLAYING OF LOEB "A DELIBERATE MURDER PLOT."

Leopold, Feb. 1.—State's Attorney William R. McCabe and State Director of Public Welfare A. L. Bowen, conducting separate inquiries into the fatal slaying Tuesday of Richard Loeb in Stateville penitentiary, agreed today that Loeb was the victim of "a deliberate murder plot."

McCabe held a theory that "Nathan Leopold has been put James Day up to the slaying of Loeb." The State's Attorney charged that Leopold and other inmates wanted Loeb

U.S. UNITED MINE WORKERS WILL SUPPORT ROOSEVELT

Will Also Contribute to Democratic Campaign Fund—Urge American Federation of Labor to Follow Their Lead.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The United Mine Workers formally endorsed President Roosevelt today for reelection and decided to contribute to the Democratic campaign fund.

"It might be well for the American Federation of Labor to take cognizance of what this convention has done," said John L. Lewis, the miners' president, when the 1,700 delegates had unanimously adopted the Roosevelt resolution.

"If the A. F. of L. would follow suit, as it should, then for all practical purposes the result of the next election no longer would be in doubt."

The Federation traditionally takes no part as such in United States presidential elections.

"We are not endorsing the Democratic party as such," Lewis added. "The Union is allying itself with a great statesman to protect the common people."

POLICE ACCEPT CHALLENGE OF N. J. GOVERNOR

Despite Expressed Belief that Hauptmann Had No Accomplishes, State Police Superintendent Launches New Secret Investigation in Lindbergh Case.

Trenton, N.J., Feb. 1.—Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, Superintendent of State Police, launched a secret new investigation today into the Lindbergh kidnaping, under orders from Gov. Harold G. Hoffman to "complete the job."

The Governor had no specific suggestions for the course of the renewed inquiry into the crime, for which Bruno Richard Hauptmann is under sentence to die, but promised to turn over to the State Police "things that come to my attention" and any evidence of accomplices he may receive.

"I feel they should follow the regular police procedure," the Governor said. "Having convicted Hauptmann, they have a starting point. It's a police job to find if any other persons were involved in the job."

Despite his own expressed belief that Hauptmann had no accomplices in the kidnaping and slaying of the baby, Col. Schwarzkopf wrote the Governor he was willing to carry out the orders.

Hoffman, in a lengthy statement, presented yesterday what he said was "incontrovertible proof" that Hauptmann was not alone in the kidnaping and collecting the $50,000 ransom paid for the baby's return.

PARTY PLAN TO AGAIN ATTEMPT MOUNT EVEREST

1936 Mount Everest Expedition Party Left London Today, En Route to Darjeeling, India, Bound for "Last Great Adventure on Earth."

London, Feb. 1.—Bound for the "last great adventure on earth," the first members of the 1936 Mount Everest expedition left here today, en route to Darjeeling, India, for a new assault on the world's highest mountain.

Three men and one woman departed, and the nine other members of the party will follow in a few days. The woman, Mrs. Noel Humphreys, will accompany her husband, Dr. Humphreys, only as far as Darjeeling.

Hugh Rutledge, veteran leader of the 1933 expedition, again will lead the drive up the perilous, snow-bound heights toward the 29,000-foot pinnacle, which has defied four previous attempts and has taken nine lives.

"I believe we'll make it this time," he said quietly, standing in the crowded boat-train station. "With any reasonable weather, I'm confident of success."

In the 1933 attempt Rutledge's party fought its way to within one thousand feet of the top—only to be driven back by a monsoon which broke nearly a month ahead of schedule.

Members of the present expedition laughed at the superstition surrounding the mountain, yet several slight qualms of uneasiness when mention was made of the mysterious fate of Mallory and Irvine, members of the 1924 expedition.

When last seen, Mallory and Irvine were going strong, rapidly nearing their long-sought goal. Rutledge has estimated that they were within sixty feet of the crest.

Suddenly, the great white plume which almost always hangs over the peak lashed down and engulfed them. Vanishing in the mist, they never were seen again.

U.S. INFLATIONARY BLOC SEEKING BONUS PAYMENT IN NEW CURRENCY

Resolution Passed by Forty Members of House Opposes Levying of Any New Taxes to Pay Veterans' Gratuities—Would Also Carry Out Farm Mortgage Refinancing and New Farm Relief Programme by Speeding Up of Printing Press—Opposition to Permanent Neutrality Policy Growing.

Washington, February 1.—The United States House of Representatives inflationary bloc adopted a resolution today for payment of the soldiers' bonus in new currency.

A resolution opposed any new taxes as "entirely unnecessary." It was adopted as word of a $730,000,000 tax bill to meet bonus and farm relief costs was passed in high administration quarters.

There was no dissenting vote as Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas, leader of the group, put the question to approximately two-score representatives present.

Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas, asserted that the only reason financiers prefer the issuance of bonds to pay the bonus rather than currency expansion is "because they get three per cent. interest on the bonds and a bonus out of manipulation of bonds."

The resolution adopted was proposed by Representative Greenwood, Democrat, Indiana, who said:

"Many of us—in fact all of us—do not believe in wild inflation that would see Government credit and purchasing power imperilled. But we could issue notes on the metallic base that lies in the Treasury and belongs to the Government."

RUSSIANS AND FRENCH STUDY DEFENCE PACT

European Security Against Threat of War and French Credits to U.S.S.R. Among Topics Discussed at Meeting of Flandin and Litvinoff.

Paris, Feb. 1.—European security against the threat of war, ratification of the Franco-Soviet pact and French credits to the U.S.S.R. were among the topics believed to have been discussed today by Soviet Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff and Foreign Minister Pierre Etienne Flandin in a 40-minute interview at the Quai d'Orsay. No statement was issued following the meeting.

M. Litvinoff was able to take direct note of the fact that Premier Albert Sarraut, in his statement to the Chamber of Deputies, renewed France's pledge to the idea of collective security upon which the U.S.S.R. now bases its entire foreign policy.

Foreign Minister Flandin told his Soviet colleague that a bill calling for ratification of the Franco-Soviet pact of Mutual Assistance would come up for discussion before the Chamber of Deputies on February 11, it was said.

Vladimir Potemkin, Soviet ambassador at Paris, attended the meeting.

M. Flandin also had a brief interview today with Boyidar Pourich, Yugoslav minister to Paris.

CLAIMS POLICE GAVE GAMBLERS TIP ABOUT RAID

Counsel for Royal Commission Investigating Toronto Police Predicts Prison Terms for Unnamed Officers at Headquarters.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—Gamblers were warned by some person in Toronto police headquarters that police would raid them yesterday, Norman P. Newton, special counsel for the Royal Commission investigating the Toronto police department, charged early today.

"I know who they are and they will go to jail for this," Mr. Newton said. "Preparations for the special raids were made in Mr. Newton's rooms early Thursday night, and only two high-ranking officers of the department were familiar with the details."

Eleven stores and clubs were raided early last night but police reported no arrests were made.

Mr. Newton said that yesterday afternoon he received a telephone call from a Toronto barrister, who said plans for the raids had become public enough for him to be informed of them. Mr. Newton expressed amazement that a newspaper had photographers and reporters at places police intended to raid.

found on the great north-east ledge, but there was no trace of their bodies or other equipment.

A solution of the mystery is one of the major objectives of the 1936 expedition.

AMENDMENTS TO CITY CHARTER BEING STUDIED

Change in Municipal Election Procedure, Salaries for Mayor and Aldermen and Request that Outside Power Companies Be Allowed to Compete with City Among Proposals.

The Mayor and aldermen are kept busy these days drawing up proposed amendments to the City Charter which the Quebec Government will be requested to approve. Next week they expect to get down to work on the 1936 municipal budget, which will require about two weeks' work to complete.

The proposed Charter amendments have been given serious study and consideration in committee, but have as yet to come before the City Council.

Remembering the cold shoulder the Mayor and aldermen gave the proposal of salaries for Mayor and aldermen, an effort is now being made to secure the necessary authority for these salaries without having to go to the public with a by-law.

Quebec will also be asked to amend the Charter so that aldermen in future not only have to be residents of the city for at least five years, but must be property holders for at least one year prior to election.

The method of election may also be changed. At the present time two aldermen are elected by each of the five wards. The Council is considering asking Quebec to allow the election of one alderman by the real estate owners and the other by the real estate owners and ratepayers jointly.

Another proposed change the aldermen are studying would permit neighboring power companies to compete with the city. This move is being undertaken with a view to inducing more industries to locate here as it is felt that Sherbrooke is not securing its rightful share of industrial concerns which are being located throughout the province.

Still another amendment which the Council is desirous of having passed calls for the removal from the electoral list of those who were not paid their taxes for the preceding year by February 1st before the municipal elections.

The aldermen appear to be quite unanimous in having these changes made to the Charter, and the City Attorneys are presently at work putting the proposed amendments in suitable form for presentation at Quebec.

It is expected the city's recommendations will be discussed during the coming session of the Provincial Legislature.

FUTURE GREEK ARMY COMMAND IS DISCUSSED

Cabinet and Army Council Split on Proposed Readmission of Officers Involved in Uprising of Last Year.

Athens, Feb. 1.—Conferences among officers to determine the future organization of the Greek army continued today while a tense capital awaited the outcome of an autopsy to learn whether the late Gen. Kondylis had been the victim of a political plot.

High army leaders are said to be unanimously opposed to the readmission into the army of officers who were expelled after the revolutionary uprising of last March.

The Cabinet, on the other hand, wishes to settle this question before Parliament meets, and is understood to have made co-operation of the two larger political parties in this question a condition to its remaining in power.

The autopsy was ordered late last night after reports spread through the city that the sudden death of General Kondylis shortly after noon yesterday had been caused by poison.

Gen. Kondylis collapsed and died while in conversation with Deputy Merkouris. Arsenic was given as the cause of death.

THIRTY INJURED WHEN TWO TRAINS COLLIDED HEAD-ON

Cincinnati, Feb. 1.—A two-fold investigation appeared likely today into the cause of a head-on collision between the Louisville and Nashville line's "Southland" and the Chesapeake and Ohio's "Sportsman" last night, in which thirty or more passengers were injured, and part of one train plunged sixty feet from a trestle into the street.

IRON AND STEEL PURCHASES LARGEST SINCE GREAT WAR

U.S. Commerce Department Reports Shipments During 1935 Totalled 3,067,336 — Scrap Iron and Steel Accounted for 69 Per Cent. of Total.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The United States Commerce Department reported today that 1935 shipments of iron and steel products were the largest since the Great War.

The 1935 total of 3,067,336 tons was 29,000 over 1929, and it compared with 2,852,413 tons in 1934.

Scrap iron and steel accounted for sixty-nine per cent. of the 1935 total, and increased sixteen per cent. over 1934.

Japan, Italy, Canada, the United Kingdom and Mexico, in that order, were the largest buyers of iron and steel products.

CLAIMS UNEMPLOYMENT IS FEDERAL RESPONSIBILITY

In opening the insurance reference yesterday, Louis Saint-Laurent, Dominion controller, argued unemployment had reached such proportions in Canada that it could be dealt with only by the Dominion.

The problem had transcended provincial boundaries, he said. In deciding the fate of the insurance bill, the Court, may settle also whether unemployment relief is a federal responsibility or whether the provinces and the federal government should share and in what proportions, it was suggested by Mr. Saint-Laurent. This is a point never determined by the courts.

Keep Politics Out Of Textile Probe.

While complimenting the Government on its promptness in appointing a Royal Commission to investigate the recent closing and subsequent reopening of the rayon department of the Dominion Textile Company in Sherbrooke, involving the positions of five hundred workers, the St. Catharines Standard rightly urges that politicians abstain from using the investigation as a football. In calling for a thorough investigation of all phases of the industry, the Standard continues:

Justice W. F. A. Turgeon, the Royal Commissioner, has been given a very wide reference. That, in effect, means that he is empowered to go into the capital structure of the company, its capitalization history, the tariff protection it has enjoyed in years past, its reserves, in fact, everything pertaining to the company's set-up. And that means that there will be the making of not a few political bafts for firing purposes in any future discussion of the tariff question.

It is probably a good thing that the cards are to be laid on the table, and the situation made clear to the consumers and manufacturing industry in general. No tariff was ever intended to nudge the public for the enrichment of the few. Protection has always been intended in its true function to provide home employment against unfavorable competition from abroad, without unduly raising prices. The big point at issue is whether the new trade treaty with Japan makes it impossible for a Canadian company to produce at a fair profit and hold its own with Jap competition. It will be strictly up to the Royal Commissioner to keep the extraneous out and confine the enquiry to the vital issue, but the reference is so wide that side issues are sure to be thrown in. The Price Spreads Commission a year ago put Canadian industry in the pillory, and in politics; it is to be hoped that the procedure before the new Royal Commission under Mr. Justice Turgeon, will hew to the line of business strictly.

Five-Year National Prosperity Plan.
A five-year national prosperity programme that provides considerable food for thought has been advanced by Thomas Bradshaw, President of the North American Life Insurance Company, whose name was prominently mentioned last year for the vacant Finance Ministry portfolio. In his introductory remarks, Mr. Bradshaw, who stands out among Canadian business men for his intimate knowledge of finance, claims that his five-year plan proposal fits into our Canadian situation at the present time in a very practical sense. A new Dominion Government will hold office at Ottawa for the next five years. In addition, most of Canada's provincial legislatures have only recently been handed the reins of office, and the term of office of each is approximately five years.

His proposed five-year plan follows:
1—By economy and expanding trade to turn the railway deficit into a surplus.
2—To continue the orderly liquidation of our wheat carryover.
3—To reduce unemployment by stimulating private industry.
4—To balance all public budgets.
5—By meeting public expenditures as we go, to avoid any addition to our debts except for justifiable services.
6—To refund public debts at lower rates of interest by normal refunding operations and, where necessary, through the Loan Council.
7—To reduce direct taxation.
8—To plan for uniformity in federal and provincial legislation.
9—To end debt moratoria and other legislation that keeps out capital.
10—To bring the East and West closer together.
11—To meet our debts honorably.
12—To promote private development of our resources.
13—To review social legislation in order to determine the need and the cost.

The programme is a comprehensive one and, provided the politicians could be persuaded to forget politics, the great majority of the proposals could be successfully carried out. But then it is another thing to divorce government and politics.

This Thing Called "Luck".
Grenville Kleiser.
We have all met certain people who seem natural targets for calamity. If there is an infection about, they always catch it; if there is a street accident, they become involved; if the staff is being reduced in their place of business, they are dismissed; if they invest their money, they somehow always choose a bad investment.

There are others who seem invariably to escape disaster—who seem, rather, to collect good fortune as their unhappy friends collect bad. They always hold good cards when they play; they pass examinations apparently without working for them. They find lost property and claim rewards. They never seem to take any trouble, yet they always appear to be successful. And the friends of the two types lightly put them down as "unlucky" or "lucky," as the case may be.

It is not really a matter of blind chance at all. It is generally a matter of what is now called "complex." Such types are usually engendered originally by some accident which makes a deep impression on their mind—which convinces them subconsciously, that they are "born lucky" or the reverse. And once that conviction is there, every occurrence becomes impressed into its service.

Subconscious conviction is at the root of the whole business of luck. If a man goes about miserably expecting disaster, because "I'm always unlucky"—well, naturally the disaster comes. If one is certain that one will catch a prevalent disease, one does. If one expects dismissal, one generally gets it. But the robustly cheerful man, who has an inner conviction of merited success, is almost equally sure of attaining it.

Confidence breeds confidence, just as mistrust breeds mistrust. Character-formation lies within the reach of all, which means that "luck" is available to all. Examine those people whom you believe to have been unusually lucky or unlucky, and you will see that their fortunes have, basically, depended, not on chance, but on the uses made of opportunities, on the cultivation of will, serenity, cheerfulness, courage and confidence.

What Editors Say

HELPMATE OF TWO KINGS.
Toronto Telegram.
In an eloquent address on the life of the late King Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin spoke touchingly of the loneliness of high places. The ruler over millions had no one but his wife with whom he might have rarely intimate converse. "I tremble to think," he added, "what it might have been for him, had he been alone in his awful task with no voice by him to cheer, to comfort and to encourage."

It is upon this loneliness of the monarch that King Edward has now entered. To many who heard Mr. Baldwin it must have occurred that the young King's loneliness is even greater than that of his father, lacking as he does a wife to whom to turn as helpmeet.

But the wonderful woman who gave to the father the cheer, comfort and encouragement in the days when it was needed will not withhold those ministrations from the son. King Edward is modern in several respects, but he is old-fashioned in the confidence he places in his mother and the respect in which he holds her. Though she is now his subject she is still his mother, and her experience and counsel will make his path easier when he feels the need of a voice to cheer to comfort and to encourage him.

HUNDRED MINISTRIES IN SIXTY-SIX YEARS.

Ottawa Journal.
The Dominion of Canada is older than the Third French Republic. But while the Dominion of Canada under the two-party system has had but sixteen Ministries in sixty-nine years, the Third French Republic under the group system has had one hundred Ministries in sixty-six years.

What this evidences, or seems to evidence, is that from the standpoint of stability in government, of continuity and security, both political and economic, the two-party system, whatever its defects, is superior to the group system. Most of France's troubles today and she has troubles complex and profound, may be traced to political factions.

"THE ROWLAND HILL OF CANADA."

Looking over a collection of old postage stamps recently I came across several copies of the famous "All Red" stamp issued by the Post Office Department at Ottawa in 1898, to commemorate the adoption of penny postage within the Empire.

As old timers will remember, it is a miniature map of the world on Mercator's projection, all British possessions being indicated in red. Its postal value when it first appeared was two cents; it is worth more today. Actually there were three distinct varieties issued as evidenced by the varying colors of the ocean; darkblue, light blue, and light grey. The young collector should note the differences.

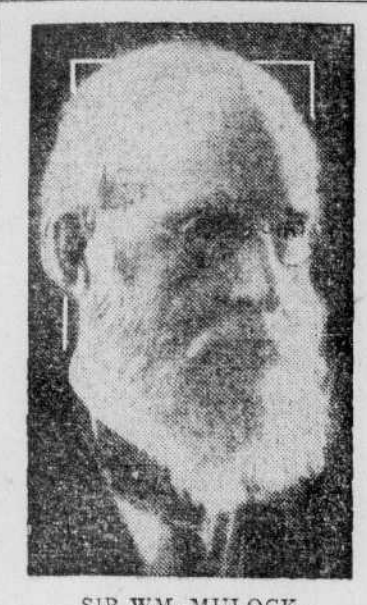

The following story was introduced in the Old Land in 1840, its author being Rowland Hill. Penny postage within the Empire went into effect in 1838, as mentioned, its father being Ontario's grand old man, the Right Honourable Sir William Mullock, master of Justice of the province. I do not know why I have designated Sir William as "the Rowland Hill of Canada." In my judgment the services which he rendered to postal reform far transcended those of the Britisher, although great credit is due to Hill for what he accomplished.

Mr. Mullock was undoubtedly the best Postmaster-General Canada has had. He had a great struggle to attain the penny postage goal. The Encyclopaedia Britannica summarizes his efforts in this respect: "In 1838, in face of much opposition, Mr. Mullock induced the Inter-Imperial Postal Conference to adopt the principle of penny postage within the British Empire." Across the bottom of Canada's All Red stamp appear the words: "We hold this vaster empire than has been."

This quotation was criticized by a few "know-all" as being both bombastic and ungrammatical. Possibly so, but there was an imperial ring about it which appealed to the vast majority of Canadians. "Post's license" has been recognized from time immemorial, and Sir Lewis Morris (1833-1907), the Welsh bard, who penned the line, had ample justification for it. It is included in the sterling poem, "A Son of Empire," written on the occasion of Queen Victoria's Jubilee in 1877. The verse in which it appears is to be found towards the close of this triumphant ode.

"We love not war, but only peace. Yet never shall our England's power decrease! Whoever guides our helm of State, Let all men know it, England shall be great! We hold a vaster empire than has been. Nigh half the race of man is subject to our Queen!"

No patriotic Britisher can surely cavil at the quotation. This particular stamp, along with other special issues since then has long been withdrawn from circulation, but in many a collector's album in every part of the world it occupies an honored place. The requirements of the revenue in Canada as in other parts of the Empire, have necessitated the abrogation of penny postage for the time being, but as the following night, it will surely come again.

SIR WM. MULOCK.

After four strenuous years in the Post Office Department, a new avenue of activity opened up. Sir William had long been a believer in industrial peace and in the improvement of industrial conditions generally. His views were strengthened by a young man who in later years was to occupy an outstanding position in Dominion affairs. I refer to Mr. Mackenzie King. As a student at Toronto University, Mr. King had met Mr. Mullock on several occasions, his father being a great friend of the Postmaster-General.

Mr. King had gone to Chicago to pursue his post-graduate studies and on his return to Canada in 1897 he proceeded to investigate the condition of the working classes, as he had done in Chicago. Then it was he discovered that the "sweating" system was as prevalent in Canada as in the United States. Evidence came into his possession that letter carriers' uniforms were being manufactured under sweat-shop conditions, and when he appealed to Mr. Mullock to put an end to the practice the latter promptly responded.

From that time on, Mr. King's interest in the big cities of the Dominion where uniforms for the militia, mounted police, etc., were being made. The report which Mr. King handed to the Postmaster-General in 1898 was a shocking revelation of the existence of the sweating system in the Dominion and led to immediate reforms. Mr. King's report strengthened the view of the Postmaster-General that there should be created in Canada a department of the National Government to deal with problems of labor from every angle.

It was at the session of 1900 Mr. Mullock, with the approval of his colleagues, introduced a bill entitled "An Act to Aid in the Prevention and Settlement of Trade Disputes, and to Provide for the Publication of Statistical and Industrial Information."

The measure proposed to create a Department of Labor, and was not quite in the form in which we know it today. In its initial move the Postmaster-General demonstrated his astuteness. Had the proposal been simply for the purpose of creating a Department of Labor it would have met with strenuous opposition on the ground of its socialistic tendency. The sponsor, therefore, was careful to make it clear that there was no intention "to add to the departments of the Government or to ministerial portfolios." The chief official was to be the editor of the Department of Labor, and was offered to Mr. King. He accepted it with some reluctance as it involved the breaking of his ties with Harvard University, to which he had just been notified of his appointment as a member of the staff of the Department of Ontario, and Mr. King felt it would be unjust to refuse the office but Sir William pleaded the Harvard authorities and Mr. King came to Ottawa in September, 1900. His position as editor of the Labor Gazette made him ipso facto deputy minister, and upon him devolved the duty of organizing the department. Little did the minister or the new deputy realize that within a few years Mr. King would have succeeded Sir William Mullock as head of that very department, as a member of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's administration, and later to become Prime Minister.

Sir William continued at the head of the Post Office and Labor Departments until October, 1905; when he was appointed Chief Justice of the Exchequer Division in the High Court of Ontario, and in 1906, in 1923 he became Chief Justice of the province, the position which he so worthily fills today. Of the many duties he has discharged since he first entered into public life it is not my intention to speak now. Suffice it to say that Sir William's career from the time he worked on the farm in North York to secure sufficient funds to put him through the university until the time he reached his present exalted position, is a great example to the youth of Canada. Verily this is a land of opportunity.

AUSTRALIA IS NOT IN ACCORD WITH PROPOSAL

Suggestion that Commonwealth Carry British Airmails without Charge Not Believed Reconcilable with Australian Conditions and Requirements.

Canberra, Australia, Feb. 1.—The Australian Commonwealth has rejected British proposals to carry all airmail without charge on the ground that the proposal was in some respects attractive, it was not reconcilable with Australian conditions and requirements.

Prime Minister Joseph A. Lyons announced the Cabinet had decided to maintain Australian control of the Sydney and Singapore service and advised the United Kingdom to surcharge for a further period of years would be retained, suggesting a reduction at an appropriate time to sixpence outward and fivepence homeward.

If the United Kingdom agreed to these proposals, the Commonwealth would undertake to establish accelerated bi-weekly service with high speed aircraft to cater to the increased traffic incidentally with the re-organization of the British service to Singapore. The Commonwealth believed this scheme would best develop aviation in Australia and simultaneously provide adequate overseas service.

EMPOWERED TO ENTER LONG-TERM SUBSIDY AGREEMENTS.
London, Feb. 1.—The Secretary for Air is empowered to enter long-term subsidy agreements for air transportation under the Air Navigation Bill, the text of which was made public yesterday. The bill was introduced in the House of Commons on December 19th.

The bill repeals the present Air Transport Act enlarging its provisions. The limit of £1,000,000 for annual subsidies is raised to £1,500,000, and the period wherein subsidies may be paid extended from the end of 1940 to 1953. The £1,500,000 represents gross liability and any contributions from the Dominion colonial governments will reduce the liability.

An explanatory memorandum states it is estimated the £1,500,000 will cover the cost of the scheme of Imperial air routes and also make provision required for inauguration and development of British air services across the Atlantic, as well as maintenance and development of services with Europe and feeder services linking with the main Empire routes.

SASKATCHEWAN IS STUDYING STATE MEDICINE SCHEME
Based Upon Assumption Government Will Establish Central Clinics for Major Operations and Emergency Cases.

Regina, Feb. 1.—The Saskatchewan Government today took under consideration plans for a scheme of state medicine, with the possibility some action may be taken during the session of the Legislature opening February 6.

Premier Patterson, revealing the scheme was under consideration, said it is based upon assumption the Government would establish central clinics for major operations and emergency cases.

Legislation would authorize municipalities to organize themselves into units. Proposals for the state medicine scheme were discussed recently by G. H. Hummel, M.L.A. for Last Mountain, when he addressed the Central Association of Rural Municipalities. He said some plans called for establishment of nursing homes employing a doctor and nurses.

FIRE DESTROYS VALUABLE MURALS.
Port Niagara, N.Y., Feb. 1.—The Officers' Club, a two and a half story brick building valued with contents at $100,000, was destroyed by fire yesterday.

The club was built in 1910 and housed valued murals which were destroyed. The origin of the fire is not known.

What Is The Educational System Of The Province Of Quebec?

W. P. PERCIVAL, M.A., Ph.D., Director of Protestant Education for the Province of Quebec.

Few places in the world possess the appeal of the Province of Quebec. Beautiful in contour, rich in history, quaint in customs, it surpasses many of the famous regions of the old world in its beckoning to travellers. Stories associated with Quebec have long attracted readers and today they are numbered among the best in the English language.

Visitors marvel at the solution reached here of an extremely complex problem of social living. Those who come from European countries are amazed at the facility with which two peoples commingle. To them, Quebec offers a striking example of a place where two races grow up side by side, each retaining its own ideals, traditions, language and creeds which it cherishes intensely, each respecting the rights of the other, without desiring to impose its will unduly, but scrupulously jealous of keeping every jot and tittle of what it possesses.

The stranger is especially impressed with our system of education. Too often, however, even after making specific inquiry, he goes away with incorrect or incomplete ideas. This should be occasion wonder inasmuch as many citizens of the Province fail to understand and appreciate its complexities arising from adjustments, clear enough when the situation is sufficiently comprehended.

The educational system of the Province of Quebec is a dual one. Protestant children are privileged to attend schools of their faith and Roman Catholics have the same liberty. Basic to this system are tolerance and freedom. The two dominant races in Canada saw, soon after the conquest, that if they were to live together in peace they must respect and preserve each other's rights. General James Murray, the first civil British Governor of Canada, led the way in this respect. He helped to retain their religious and legal status. The French population of this Province never forgot that these early British Governors did much to secure for them a reasonable share in the government of the country. So long as this is remembered and so long as the minority exercises judgment and understanding in their relations with the majority the entire confederation so firmly established over a period of more than 170 years of life together will not be jeopardized.

A French school system was well established at the time of the conquest. Champlain was responsible for the coming of the Recollet Fathers, who early established primary schools for boys. Other orders followed and religious sisters undertook the education of girls. Bishop Lavallé founded in Quebec the Grand Seminary and the Little Seminary so that an educated priesthood might be provided and promising boys be given an opportunity to obtain an education. Schools were established wherever the French population was numerous. At the time of the conquest over 65,000 inhabitants populated New France. As a considerable proportion of them could read and write, the influence of education that was entirely French and Roman Catholic can readily be deduced.

Some thirty years after the conquest by the British, the first English Bishop of Quebec, the Rev. Jacob Mountain arrived in the city. Through his influence, certain schools were established which later came under the control of the Royal Institution for the Advancement of Learning. By the Act creating this Institution, a number of free schools were founded for the instruction of children in the first rudiments of useful learning. Provision was also made for the establishment of centres of higher learning as circumstances allowed. The mother tongue of each pupil was to be the medium of instruction, and religious teaching was to be given by the Roman Catholic cure or Protestant minister, as the case might be. But the masters were to be appointed under commission from the Governor, and the president was to be the Anglican Bishop. Most of the masters named were therefore English and Protestant who could not understand French. Many of them were clergy or intended to be clergy. Naturally, such a plan failed to satisfy the French and, led by their priests, they readily opposed the Royal Institution. In their turn, the Protestants were lukewarm in favour of such a hybrid system. The Roman Catholic priests had clear and definite educational objectives and persevered through thick and thin until they attained them. These were the English and Protestant students were lukewarm in favour of such a hybrid system. The Roman Catholic priests had clear and definite educational objectives and persevered through thick and thin until they attained them. These were the English and Protestant students were lukewarm in favour of such a hybrid system.

When the fathers of confederation were debating the school question in 1865, they recognized the impossibility of founding anything but a unitary school system in the Province of Quebec because of the fundamental and ineradicable difficulties and the inalienable rights of both peoples. The basis of the settlement was as much a stroke of genius as the standing achievement of Quebec in the effort to give pupils imbibed something of the culture, traditions and customs of the other. The two official languages are therefore taught in the schools. English pupils learn French as their second language and French pupils English. Instruction is given in these subjects as living tongues. It comes in the primary grades and is compulsory to the end of the high school. Both races gain by this policy for it leaves each free to develop according to its tastes and preferences. The majority admit the generosity that the majority continue to show towards them by consulting their responsible officials before effecting changes that touch their interests.

It must not be thought that either the English or Roman Catholic schools are given the "parade" in that they are conducted by religious organizations apart from the state. They are, in truth, state schools, established and subsidized by the Provincial legislature, governed by school law and by the general laws of the province. However, the basis of school enrolment is religious belief. Each race has an amazing faith in the benefits of its system of education and in education itself. Each believes that the future welfare of his children is bound up with the particular kind of education provided in its own schools. Certain it is that the schooling received suits the tastes of both elements of the population and prepares them for the social and industrial environment in which they expect to spend their lives.

To End Annoying Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

Big Saving! No Cooking! So Easy!

Here is the well known old recipe which has been used for many years and found to be a dependable means of breaking up winter coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs very little, but it does a very reliable job. From any drugstore, get a 2 1/2 ounce bottle of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and fill the bottle with distilled water, leaving 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's easy. You may make 16 ounces of this cough remedy, and you get four times as much cough medicine for your money. It cures coughs and children love its taste. It dissolves mucus, soothes the irritated throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the phlegm and eases the soreness in a way that is very restful.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine in a concentrated form, a well known and reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

TWO SENTENCED FOR INCIDENT AT FITCH BAY

Christie Mosher and Alton Mosher Pleaded Guilty to Breaking Up Meeting of School Board - Charges Against Three Others Withdrawn.

With pleas of guilty entered by two of the quintette and proceedings abandoned against the other three, the Fitch Bay incident stood those on the records of the local Magistrate's Court today.

Appearing before Judge J. H. Lemay yesterday afternoon, Christie Mosher pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking up a meeting of the Stantsted Township Consolidated School Board and was sentenced to eight days in jail and the costs of the Court. The Judge suspended the fine which accompanied the sentence.

Alton Mosher pleaded guilty to the same charge and was sentenced to the time he had already spent in the local jail. He was arrested on January 21st.

The School Board decided to withdraw similar charges against Lewis Aulis, Frank Woodard and Bernard Woodard, as these three young men had only been present at the disturbance and had taken no active part in it.

Police claimed Christie Mosher and his companions broke up a meeting of the School Board called to consider the expulsion of Mosher's sister for alleged misbehavior.

Mosher had accompanied his sister back to school after she was expelled, and insisted that she be reinstated. Refused admission to the School Board session, Mosher tried to force his way in. During the disturbance which ensued two School Commissioners received blows.

Police arrived and quelled the trouble, placing the quintette under arrest.

Judge Lemay warned the young men not to mingle in school matters as Fitch Bay in the future. "If you have any complaints against the commissioners or school principals, do not take the matter into your own hands but see the proper authorities about it."

The three defendants against whom the complaints were withdrawn waived all recourse against the School Board.

There were eighty-one fire calls during the past month, ninety-one police calls, 117 cases of protection, four cases of goods exposed, seventeen doors reported unlocked after closing hours, ninety-six lights noted to be defective, nine dangerous places singled out, one lost child returned to its parents, one stray animal recovered and 880 loads weighed on the public scales.

Collections totalled $21,115, including $11 for the Recorder's Court, $84 for rent, and $18.75 for the poor account.

CANCER SUFFERERS MAY BE AIDED BY DEATH RAY

Device, Causing Certain Death to Normal Human Beings May Prove Invaluable in Combating Certain Blood Diseases.

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 1.—The most potent death ray yet devised by man was assigned to the task of saving human lives today at the University of Illinois.

The ray, a beam of neutrons fourteen times more deadly than X-rays, was to be shot from a scientific "gun" now being assembled under the direction of Dr. P. G. Kruger.

It is operated from a distant switchboard as human approach within fifty feet of the "gun" was unsafe because of the speed with which the ray destroys the white corpuscles of the blood.

Although this means almost certain death to normal humans, the physicist asserted, it may mean just the opposite to victims of leukemia, the disease in which white corpuscles grow so fast they kill off the life bearing red ones.

Another possibility, he said, was use of the ray to kill the wild growing cells of cancer and Hodgkin's disease.

"Are you a doctor?" asked a young lady, stepping into a drug store.

"Now," replied the youth behind the counter, "I'm just the fizzlecan."

Considerable doubt has been expressed as to the exact share which Dumas had in some of the books which bear his name. His enormous output gave rise to a charge that much of it was "ghost" work to which he had attached his signature.

In that connection there is a story told of Dumas and his son. Meeting Dumas one morning, the father accented him with: "Well, my boy, read my latest novel, have you?"

"No, father," was the reply. "Have you?"

PICTURE STORY OF BRITAIN'S NEW KING-EMPEROR

A cute baby was King Edward VIII of England—and a serious one, judging by this picture, taken when the new sovereign was only four.

Always a dutiful son, King Edward VIII grew up under the watchful eye of his mother, the Dowager Queen Mary, to whom he is pictured clinging as a growing boy. He wears a dashing Scotch sporran, the influence of his subjects' costumes.

Early in his youth King Edward VIII was made poignantly aware of the impressive place he held in English life, when he was crowned Prince of Wales. He is shown in his robes of medieval regal splendor worn in the ceremony.

Titles will not keep you warm, so Edward VIII turned up his collar during a chill. He gave up hunt rides to appease fear for his safety.

The recent, characteristic camera study of King Edward VIII (top) reveals him as the modern business man type. He became the first English king to travel by plane when he flew from Sandringham to London. Below he is seen clambering into his own plane.

A dinner coat is more to the new King's liking than soldierly trappings, yet here duty forced him to don the uniform of the Welsh Guards.

AYER'S CLIFF FARMERS' CLUB HELD MEETING

Interesting and Instructive Addresses Given at Regular Session of Stanstead County Farmers' Club at Ayer's Cliff.

Ayer's Cliff, February 1. — A very successful meeting of the Stanstead County Farmers' Club was held in Confederation hall on Tuesday evening, January 21st, with a very large attendance.

Mr. Phinlayson, of the Experimental Farm, Lennoxville, was the first speaker of the evening, who said that things looked much more optimistic for the farmers for the coming year, stating that every available space in the barns was filled by calves.

Mr. Temple gave a report for the secretary-treasurer, which was of great interest. The sum of $133.70 was the balance on hand at the beginning of the year 1935, and during that year the sum of $1,638.43 had been taken in, and a balance remained in hand of $223.60.

The directors were appointed as follows: George Hunter, Massachusetts; A. A. Blain, Stanstead; H. G. Ayer, D. Davidson, W. S. Keebler, A. C. Parkhill, E. W. Perry, William Shuttleworth and W. D. Thompson, Ayer's Cliff; W. J. Whitcomb, Massachusetts; and D. Watson, Stanstead.

Mr. Norman Beach, of Lennoxville, was the next speaker, who first paid tribute to the late King George V, and asked the gathering to arise for a two-minute silence.

Mr. W. G. Macdougall, district agronomist, is always a popular speaker at these club meetings, and he congratulated the members on their very successful year and spoke words of commendation to Mr. Temple, who is such an untiring worker on its behalf.

petition and quoted figures showing the difference in butter fat between the best and the poorest cows. He claimed a good many were selling and shipping cattle to the United States, thus depleting the herds here and he said these should be replenished with only the pure stock.

The last picture shown was a scenic film on fishing, and this closed a very profitable annual meeting of the Stanstead County Farmers' Club.

General Notes. On Thursday evening, January 23rd, Mrs. T. D. Hunter was hostess in honor of Mrs. J. L. Mitchell, who was leaving Ayer's Cliff on Saturday to take up residence in Lennoxville for the winter and to join Mr. Mitchell in Asbestos in the spring.

As this was the first meeting of 1936, New Year's thoughts were read by Miss Robinson and Miss Godden. The thought emphasized was that the new year is bestowed for all kinds of necessary uses, but it demands more care in its use than many other gifts.

At the close of the session refreshments were served by the hostesses.

FINE TRIBUTE TO LATE KING AT WATERVILLE

Theme of Sermons in All Waterville Churches Centred Upon Life of His Late Beloved Majesty—Waterville Items.

Waterville, Feb. 1.—The theme of the sermon in all of the churches in Waterville on Sunday morning was the life of the late beloved King George V.

Rev. George Pye, of St. John's Anglican Church, conducted the service suggested for all Anglican Churches in an impressive manner. The opening sentences were those used for the burial of the dead and the 23rd Psalm, "The Lord is My Shepherd," was read.

Rev. C. P. England, of the Baptist Church, preached inspiringly on the regal qualities of the late King George V as a ruler, and his domestic virtues as a family man, and a devout Christian who bore with fortitude and humility all his heavy responsibilities as sovereign.

Rev. J. G. Fulcher, pastor of the United Church, made his Sunday morning sermon a tribute to the late King George, as having during his quarter of a century of kingship played with outstanding success and loyalty his difficult part as a constitutional monarch.

hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works," a most fitting passage to bring home to the congregation the religious message found in the works of the late Rudyard Kipling.

Rev. Fulcher stated that it is some years since Kipling made himself a voice in a literature of unchastened national complacency and at long intervals he seems as in the famous "Recessional," to feel faint misgivings about the great orgy of national egoism.

W.M.A. HELD SESSION. A very interesting meeting of the Woman's Missionary Association was held at the home of the new president, Mrs. A. L. Blier.

College Town Representatives Nosed Out Sherbrooke Curlers by Narrow Margin of Three Points—Local Rinks Captured Three of Four Matches.

Climaxing one of the closest battles ever played between the two clubs, the Lennoxville curlers last evening won the District Medal offered annually by the Canadian Branch, defeating the Sherbrooke representatives by the narrow margin of three points.

The rinks taking part in this contest were: Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, St. Andrew's, and Bishop's.

In the fourth match, Jim Balfour, skipping a Lennoxville quartette, handily defeated Harold Hyndman's outfit by sixteen to ten.

The line-ups were: Bishop's goal Benoit, defence Bean, Mooney, centre Trenholme, Delorme, r. wing Goff, W. Veilleux, l. wing Scott.

Canadiens subs: Lemay, Quinn, Wootton and B. Veilleux. Bishop's subs: Knox, Carter, Smith and Powell.

NATIONALS AND CANADIENS WON JUNIOR TILTS

Champions Moved Up into Third Position in League Standing by Nosing Out Bromptonville—Canadiens Scored First Victory by Blanking Bishop's.

There are two changes in the Eastern Townships Junior Hockey League standing today as a result of last night's scheduled contests in the arena.

The Canadiens registered their first victory in five attempts, downing Bishop's to the tune of two to nothing and creeping out of the cellar berth.

The Canadiens-Bishop's encounter opened the weekly doubleheader and provided the better brand of hockey. The Canadiens, who dropped three of their first four games by one-goal margins, established a slim lead in the first period when Gordie Dunn opened the scoring on a play started by Harold Mooney.

The count remained one to nothing in favor of the Redmond aggregation throughout a scoreless middle stanza with neither team having any decided advantage.

Instead of playing defensive hockey the Canadiens attacked strongly to augment their lead and were successful when Dunn again beat Bennett, this time on an individual rush.

Leo Paul Lavoie stood up well under the barrage of shots as the collegians sought to avert a shutout and succeeded in recording his first shutout of the season.

In this game the Canadiens received four of the five penalties meted out by the officials, Larry Pergau and Lorenzo Couture, who handled both games.

The line-ups were: Bishop's goal Benoit, defence Bean, Mooney, centre Trenholme, Delorme, r. wing Goff, W. Veilleux, l. wing Scott.

Canadiens subs: Lemay, Quinn, Wootton and B. Veilleux. Bishop's subs: Knox, Carter, Smith and Powell.

FORMER LOCAL ACE STARRED FOR VETERANS

Pete Pawan, Member of Sherbrooke Hockey Team which Reached Allan Cup Final, Was Among Old-Timers in Crucial Benefit Show in Montreal Last Night.

Montreal, Feb. 1.—Pete Pawan, one of the stars of the Sherbrooke aggregation which reached the Allan Cup final a quarter of a century ago, was among the veterans who participated in the benefit for Nelson Crutchfield, the Montreal Canadiens' centre who suffered a fractured skull in an automobile accident before the National Hockey League season started.

Payan, the toast of Sherbrooke fandom in the era of the Poveys, the Wiggets, and Lydmans, the Boogues and the grey stars of the past, occupied the limelight in the old-timers' contest when he tangled with Art Ross, president of the Canadian-American League and former Montreal Wanderers' star. Ross wrestled Payan to the ice and was penalized and fined five dollars for protesting.

The highlight for the crowd of 11,000 which packed the Forum last night was the old-timers' seven-man hockey exhibition with greats of the past coming out of retirement to show the youngsters how to handle a puck. Today, the stars of the present and the past returned to their regular tasks after doing their bit to swell the benefit fund to $7,000.

The old-timers started off in serious style, but before the end more than thirty players swarmed over the ice. The final score was Canadiens 97, Maroons 31. The old-timers actually were surprisingly spry, bumping readily and not adverse to a little hard slashing now and then despite the number of grey heads that dotted the line-ups.

At the end of the programme the puck used in the old-timers' game was auctioned off to Mayor Camillien Houde for $32 and the stick Crutchfield used in his last game was auctioned for $60 to J. Ernest Savard, owner of the Canadiens.

The veterans, apart from Ross and Payan, included such former notables as Jack McDonald and Joe Malone, of Quebec, Stanley Cup winners; Jimmy Gardiner, of the Montreal A.A.A.'s famous "Little Men of Iron"; Odie Cleghorn, George Malins, Eusebio Daigones, George Cummings, Russell Reade, Dave Campbell, Mike Grant, Billy Houchard, Newsy Lalonde, Ernie Savard, Lester Patrick and Charlie Fyve.

The amateur all-stars and the professionals which included King Clancy, Red Horner and Busher Jackson, of the Toronto Maple Leafs, tied at two after the amateurs had outplayed the pros most of the way. The pro clash of seven-man hockey between the Canadiens and the Maroons ended in a 99-99 count after the referees, Cooper Smeaton and Jack Laviolette, had had a difficult time making the boys adhere to the outside rule.

The speed races between pro and amateur players were won by Bob Gracie, of the Maroons, who defeated Jean Pusie, of the Canadiens, in the final. Bill Beveridge, of the Maroons, won a goalie's race against Wif Cude, of the Canadiens, and also won the penalty shot contest. The Maroons' netminder had a clean record in the penalty shot duel when Armand Mondou, Pusie and LeRoy Goldsworthy failed to beat him on three tries each. Cude was beaten three times, by Clancy, Horner and Bill Miller, but had half a dozen more shots to handle.

There are indications today that the fight for the championship of the second half of the Sherbrooke Cotuit Mills Bowling League schedule has narrowed down to the Camels and the Tigers with the Tigers making menacing gestures from their third-place berth.

The latest standing reveals that the Camels are leading the Pekins by only two strings, while the Tigers are two strings further behind. This ranking resulted from last night's games when the three leading quintettes recorded victories.

The Camels took two strings from the Brownies when the Pekins blanked the Tyros and showing their opponents into the cellar. In the third fixture the Tigers nosed out the Old Reliabes in two of the three strings.

Leo Corcoran, who has ambitions for the best average title, again led in the individual column. His winning totals last night were 183 for a single string and 443 for three strings with aggregates of over four hundred were Fr. Chetette with 421 and J. Maddiss with 407.
