Reason for Chinese invasion of India, High Commissioner says

It is essential for China with its aim of dominating Asia and ultimately the world, "to prove that in a poor, underdeveloped country dogmatic regimented dictatorship was the only method that could deliver the goods," said Begoy Krishna Acharya, High Commissioner of India to Canada last night at the weekly meeting of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club.

Mr. Acharya said this was why military invasion was launched on peaceful India by China to divert a large part of India's resources from economic development to military defence, thereby hampering India's domestic progress.

Mr. Acharya said that this was the only explanation why China should suddenly decide to embark on a military adventure against India. Mr. Acharya admitted that China has partially succeeded and ever since 1962 economic development in India has somewhat slowed down because of the necessity for defence.

Mr. Acharya said, "If the battle against poverty in India has slowed down in the past couple of years it is due to the impossible demands of its two neighbors, China and Pakistan. In each case backed by military force, India wants nothing but to be left in peace to reconstruct its economy and to feed, clothe and house its people. Again armed attacks on its territory, however, and against attacks on the basic principles of its constitution, those of democracy and secularism, India has no option but to defend itself."

Turning to the Pakistani situation Mr. Acharya said, that "neither the government nor the people of Kashmir have ever requested Pakistan to go into Kashmir."

Mr. Acharya said that Pakistan is but an armed intruder and therefore, India sees no reason why it should submit itself to Pakistan's demands, especially if these demands are made at gun-point.

Should India subject itself to the Pakistani demands it is ignoring the will of the people of Kashmir expressed three times in general elections, Mr. Acharya said.

Mr. Acharya said that before anything will be considered by the Indian Government, Pakistan will first have to withdraw its armed forces and "infiltrators" from Kashmir a fact that is recognized by the United Nations.

Indian economic and social fields show contradictions

Begoy Krishna Acharya, High Commissioner of India to Canada, speaking before the Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night, said that in India in both the economic and the social fields there are immense contradictions and incongruities.

"On the one hand, we see Indian women as cabinet ministers and governors of Indian States; on the other, we can also see in the villages many Indian women still uneducated and living their lives behind Purdah or veils."

Mr. Acharya said of the economic contradictions that on one hand the main agricultural implement in India is the still outdated and primitive wooden plough. On the other hand, the London Guardian reports, that the Atomic Energy Establishment in Trombay is now producing plutonium placing India ahead of Canada and other European countries.

"The explanation for all these incongruities and contradictions is that India today is in a period of transition from an old and tradition-bound society to a modern, progressive, industrialized society based on science and technology," said Mr. Acharya.

Reconstruction of India was started by first getting rid of foreign domination, which became necessary after nearly 200 years of British rule in India during which time nothing occurred.

"The basic shortcoming of British rule in India was precisely that it failed to exploit the immense material and human resources of India and to guide India into the age of science, technology and industrialization," said Mr. Acharya.

The Indian government, under the East India Company was, like any other company, interested in the maximum profits. The company did not want trouble on their hands in the field of social reforms for it was felt that "progressive social legislation would only stir up a hornets' nest."

Wilberforce, the Evangelist, sponsored a resolution in the British House of Commons, to the effect that the East India Company should send out school masters from time to

East returns to normal

NEW YORK (AP) — Lights flashed on in New York early today and transportation systems began to move, signalling the end to a massive and frightening power blackout that crippled the teeming northeastern United States and the Toronto and Ottawa areas.

After 10 hours of worried waiting the lights came back on at 3:35 a.m. EST in the heart of Manhattan — one of the last areas affected by North America's worst power failure.

New York's mammoth subway system staggered back into operation and commuter train service was slowly restored.

The city remained crippled because hundreds of thousands of persons could not get to work.

Prisoners riot during Massachusetts blackout

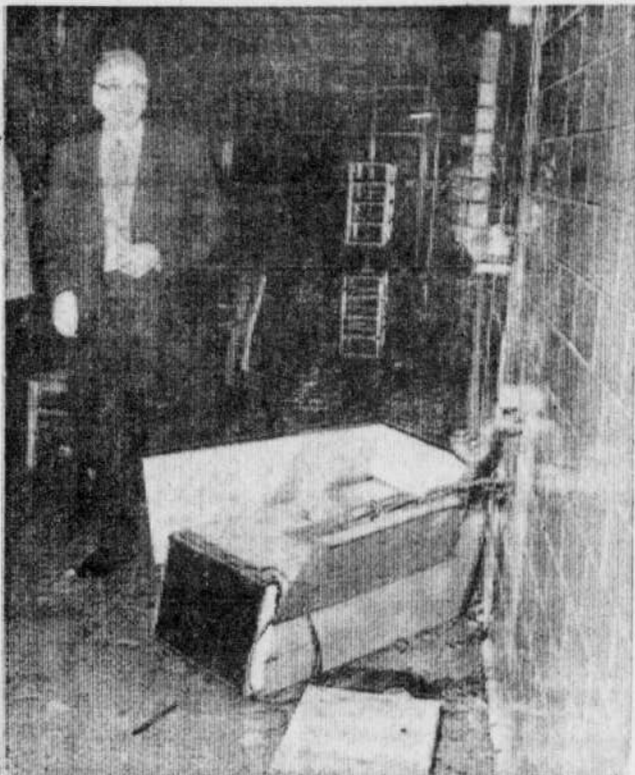

WALPOLE, Mass. (AP) — About 500 prisoners of Walpole State Prison ripped out plumbing, smashed windows and battered down doors in a four-hour rampage during the electric power blackout in the northeastern United States.

A barrage of tear gas finally enabled prison guards wearing gas masks to herd the men back to their cells in the maximum security section.

John A. Gavin, state commissioner of corrections, described the incident as a "major disturbance." It could not be called a riot, he said, "because, miraculously, no one was hurt."

The prison's entire force of 110 guards was augmented by 25 off-duty guards rushed in from nearby Norfolk State Prison, and by 120 state police troops from communities on the outskirts of Boston. The troops, armed with shotguns, surrounded the prison walls.

One prison guard estimated that 400 tear gas shells, plus an uncounted number of tear gas grenades, were used.

WARDEN INSPECTS DAMAGE — Warden Palmer L. Seafelt at Walpole State Prison looks at overturned water cooler as he walks along corridor to inspect damage following riot by about 250 prisoners during a power failure. The power failure hit the majority of the northeast. Power was restored at the prison in about an hour by the use of an emergency system. (AP Wirephoto)

Coming on with alarming suddenness during Tuesday's evening rush hour, the blackout at its peak enveloped 80,000 square miles, affecting up to 30,000,000 persons in eight states, scrambled transportation and communications and stranded thousands in stalled subway cars and elevators.

Through the night, President Johnson at his Texas ranch was kept informed as experts tried to pinpoint the trouble that drained electric power from New York, Boston and hundreds of smaller cities, towns and hamlets.

Reports were contradictory, although President Johnson was advised the experts were "pretty well agreed" no sabotage was involved and the Pentagon said military communications and the Washington-Moscow "hot line" were not hampered.

POWER SEEPS BACK
As the night wore on, power began seeping back into most of the blackout area that at one time stretched over New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Vermont, Rhode Island and much of Ontario.

Johnson, however, ordered the U.S. federal power commission to launch a sweeping investigation and gave it all the facilities of the federal government, including the FBI.

The blackout came with a flickering of lights at about 5:30 p.m. EST, the peak of the rush hour in teeming cities.

Subway cars carrying an estimated 850,000 persons through New York's subway ground to a halt. Elevators stopped between floors, bringing cries of dismay. Operating rooms darkened. News tickers fell silent. Airliners headed for other airports. Convicts in a Massachusetts prison rioted.

Immediately, off-duty police were called back to work. National guardsmen were put on alert in case of looting. Emergency power was plugged in at hospitals.

AND THEN THERE WAS LIGHT — Manhattan skyline is blacked out during massive power failure last night in top picture and comes back to life seconds after the power was resumed at 3:35 a.m. EST this morning. Power was cut off at 5:28 p.m. EST last night, before buildings and offices closed for the day and as a result many lights were left in the on position and relit when the power was turned back on early this morning. Quebec province unaffected

Power blackout disrupts Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—A massive power failure—worst in North American history — plunged a large section of Ontario and the northeastern United States into darkness Tuesday night, snarling communications and disrupting industry.

Ontario Hydro officials said the failure in upstate New York near the Canadian border collapsed the entire system which supplies power to industrial Quebec province, Ontario and the northeastern U.S. Quebec province was isolated from the system at the time and not affected.

In a series of power interruptions lasting from five minutes to two hours, thousands of home-bound commuters were stranded as Toronto subways halted, auto-assembly plants outside Toronto sent their men home, oil refineries shut down and a London, Ont., bakery lost 4,500 loaves of bread when ovens cooled.

Hydro officials said the initial breakdown occurred at 5:16 p.m. EST, affecting most of southern Ontario east of Peterborough. There were disruptions in Trenton, Belleville, Smiths Falls and Brockville, where the darkness was lighted by a $2,000,000 fire burning since morning.

Ontario officials, busy restoring their own system to normal, were unable to pinpoint the cause. But they said an "unprecedented power surge" along lines carrying hundreds of thousands of volts flashed into the Ontario system at Cornwall, west to Niagara Falls and back into New York state.

Morality still question

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal cabinet meets today to tidy up any administrative loose ends which may have developed during the election campaign.

But political questions were sure to be uppermost in the minds of the Liberal ministers, shorn of two colleagues at the polls.

The major questions are a repeat of those the ministers faced after they first took office April 22, 1963:

What legislative proposals will be placed before Parliament where the government again commands only a minority of votes?

The leaders of the four opposition parties have given plenty of indication during the campaign where they stand on most of the major items, such as medical care insurance or tax cuts.

And the cabinet's task is further simplified by having a clear record of the positions of the four parties during the previous Parliament.

What may loom larger in their minds is how to deal with the already-threatened attack of Opposition Leader Diefenbaker on government integrity. Prime Minister Pearson made no secret when he called but to resign. And resignation means one of two things—another election or handing power back to Mr. Diefenbaker. The public probably wouldn't stand for the former and few Liberals could contemplate the latter.

So the next consideration may be whether the government can make some arrangement with one of the three smaller opposition groups—New Democrats with 21 seats, Creditistes with nine or Social Credit with five.

Everything from coalition to working arrangements will be looked at. That means conferences or informal talks to find out what the potential co-operators might demand in exchange for voting support of the government in a crucial Commons test.

The first such test traditionally comes on the throne speech debate just after Parliament opens. So the arrangements, if any, must be made before the date for opening Parliament is selected.

If a cabinet reconstruction is part of the price demanded by the opposition groups, Mr. Pearson has an election-made reason for agreeing. He needs an agriculture minister to replace Harry Hays.

Borrowing cut

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Gordon has called for a halt to Canadian borrowing in the United States until next year.

The step, announced here and in Washington, came without prior warning the day after the federal election. It had apparently been pending some time. Mr. Gordon said in a statement Tuesday night that he had agreed to take this action with United States Treasury Secretary Fowler. He met Mr. Fowler last July 30 and they heard a report then of a joint Canada-U.S. balance of payments committee.

Sends message

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Wilson today drafted a private message to Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith in an effort to end the deadlock in negotiations over independence for the central African colony.

Final drafting of the message, due to be delivered to Smith later in the day, began after Wilson presided over a one-hour cabinet meeting to determine how a final break between the two countries could be avoided.

Princess rests

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Princess Margaret wound up a hectic holiday in glossy Hollywood and spaceriff centres Tuesday, then abruptly changed pace, looking forward to a strictly private rest in the desert serenity of Tucson, Ariz. The princess and her husband, the Earl of Snowdon, ended their three-day visit here with a tour of the new Los Angeles Music Centre and a courtesy visit at City Hall with Mayor Samuel W. Yorty.

No state steel

LONDON (CP)—In a blunt courtship of the tiny Liberal party, Prime Minister Wilson admitted Tuesday there will be

Rhodesia's African leaders split by tribalism, weakening opposition

SALISBURY (CP) — Rhodesia's African leaders, lawful and outlawed, say discontent is growing among their people who outnumber the white rulers by 18 to 1.

But the African leaders are split among themselves, which is one of the reasons why they have been unable to mount a serious assault on the regime of Premier Ian Smith.

And Smith, asked about this splintering tendency among the Africans, told me:

"This is a fact that you have got to recognize as part and parcel of Africa—tribalism. Certain Europeans come along blissfully and they think they can introduce Western civilization like that and it works in Africa—my God, they have another think coming."

Josiah Moses Gondo, 50, leader of the opposition United People's Party in the Legislative Assembly, countered in another interview that moderate and extreme nationalists are working for the same thing and he sees signs of them getting together.

LABELLED STOGE

Both nationalist parties—ZAPU and ZANU, both names based on Zimbabwe, ancient name for the Rhodesian region—now are banned and their leaders in detention, restriction or exile. George Nyandoro, secretary-general of ZAPU, reached in neighboring Zambia, said Gondo is a "stogee."

Gondo, butcher and one-time school teacher, is the first black African to be leader of the opposition. He was catapulted into the position after Smith eliminated all white opposition last

Card party nets Waterloo High cafeteria $90

WATERLOO — On Oct. 29 a well attended card party at the Waterloo High School proved most successful financially for the Cafeteria Fund. The sum of $90 was turned over to the school authorities in charge of the cafeteria.

A lawn chair was donated by Paul Jones and raffled. Mrs. Mary Sicard held the winning ticket.

The event was arranged by the Waterloo - Warden Women's Institute, with Mrs. Paul Jones as president.

to seek will be in a position to take the quantities of sugar and tobacco we have been selling to the Commonwealth countries."

In this Gondo was referring to the Commonwealth preference extended by Britain, Canada and other countries which would be lost by UDI.

SAYS THOUSANDS JAILED

"We have great fears as to what this government might do," Gondo declared. "The feeling among the people is one of disappointment and confusion."

Nyandoro, 38, interviewed at Lusaka, capital of Zambia, denied that Chinese advisers have taken a hand in the ZAPU movement although some of its publicity has a Communist ring and Smith claims it is inspired by Peking.

Nyandoro maintained that 18,000 persons are in jail, in detention or under restriction in Rhodesia and that 25 men are awaiting execution. Detention, he said, meant that a man was subject to prison laws but did not have to work to prison rules. Restriction simply meant that a man must stay in a remote area, as now is the case with Nkomo.

Asked when the Africans might rise against the Smith government, Nyandoro replied: "It's already happened. There are these 25 men waiting to die."

Gondo — interviewed earlier — reflected none of these extreme views but indicated racial intolerance from either side filled him with dismay.

"About two years ago my shop was wrecked by an African mob because I did not go along with Nkomo," he said. "Ironically, about the same time I was turned away from a white hotel and told to eat in a back room when I was busy helping Sir Edgar Whitehead (then leader of the opposition) with a campaign of racial partnership."

Orange-sized diamond found

MASERU, Basutoland (AP)—A 527-carat diamond, the size of a small orange, has been found in remote mountain diggings of Basutoland, a small British protectorate situated within South Africa's borders.

The diamond is said to be the largest unearthed in Southern Africa in the last eight years. It was found by Richard Molele, an African prospector, in a claim he has been working for seven years.

The diamond was bought for $162,400 by Eugene Serafine of Maseru, Basutoland's capital. He said he planned to export it.

The world's largest gem diamond, the Cullinan, found in 1905 at South Africa's Premier Mine near Pretoria, weighed 3,106 carats in the rough.

Orange-sized diamond found

MASERU, Basutoland (AP)—A 527-carat diamond, the size of a small orange, has been found in remote mountain diggings of Basutoland, a small British protectorate situated within South Africa's borders.

The diamond is said to be the largest unearthed in Southern Africa in the last eight years. It was found by Richard Molele, an African prospector, in a claim he has been working for seven years.

The diamond was bought for $162,400 by Eugene Serafine of Maseru, Basutoland's capital. He said he planned to export it.

The world's largest gem diamond, the Cullinan, found in 1905 at South Africa's Premier Mine near Pretoria, weighed 3,106 carats in the rough.

Viet Nam isolation described to CIA

"Isolation is the most striking factor in the North Vietnamese environment," said Robert David Jackson, guest speaker at the annual general meeting of the Sherbrooke branch of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, held last night at the St. George's Club.

Mr. Jackson has worked with the department of external affairs since July 1960. He served on the Canadian delegation to the International Control Commission in Vietnam, 1964-65, when he was in charge of the Hanoi office of the ICC. He is one of the few Western diplomats who has observed first hand recent developments in North Vietnam.

Before making his speech to the CIA members, Mr. Jackson was interviewed by the Record. In the interview, he said that North Vietnam was cut off from the rest of the world except for her Communist neighbors to the north. As a result of this isolation, he said, the North Vietnamese have not yet geared their thinking to an international scope.

When asked about the North Vietnamese people, Mr. Jackson said that they lived in a

Blood clinic success so far

On Monday and Tuesday, the first two days of a four day blood clinic at the Belvedere street armory, the Red Cross society has received 983 pints of blood. The amount received on Monday the first day, was 481 pints. On Tuesday, the amount was up slightly to 502 pints.

This is a good average according to Red Cross officials, who are aiming for a daily average of 500 pints.

The objective is a total of 2,000 pints, for the four days. The clinic is open from 1:30 until 9:30 p.m. until Thursday, inclusive.

strictly regimented communist society, much more regimented than the communist nations of Western Europe. He said that living conditions were poor and life was hard for the North Vietnamese worker.

He went on to say that North Vietnam is a primitive nation, whose economy is based on agriculture. The land is extensively cultivated, he said.

Mr. Jackson said that some industry had been started, however, and the government has some very ambitious plans for the future. "As yet," he said "they have made no great impact on the lives of the people."

In remarking on North Vietnam's relations with the leaders of the Communist World, China and Russia, Mr. Jackson said that the government in Hanoi was trying to steer a middle path, not choosing sides. He added that Hanoi lies much closer to Peking than to Moscow; her culture and language are essentially Chinese, he said.

The members of the CIA executive this year are: F. Gordon LeBaron, chairman; Alexis Troubetzkoy, vice - chairman; Andrew Sheeran, secretary; and Newman T. Hunter, home treasurer. The members of the executive committee are Jean Guy Lavallee, Lewis Rosenbloom, and Claude Thibault.

TREASURE VAN ARRIVES — The World University Service's popular Treasure Van of handicrafts from many countries arrived at Bishop's University this week. Above, John Laiter, right, chairman of the W.U.S. Committee at Bishop's, shows a hand-carved figurine from Nigeria to student Joanna MacLean of Montreal. ## World's treasures sold for student aid Handicrafts from many lands are being displayed and offered for sale this week at Bishop's University, as the World University Service's Treasure Van makes its annual visit to the Lennoxville area.

Thousands of unusual and attractive items from about 20 countries went on display Monday, and are to remain on view through Friday.

They may be seen in the 5:30 and evenings from 7:00 to 10:00.

"We would like to extend a special invitation to citizens in the Sherbrooke and Lennoxville areas to visit our Treasure Van this week," said John Laiter, chairman of the World University Service Committee at Bishop's. "In the past few years, we have had Treasure Van in the town of Lennoxville, and have always received excellent support from the general public. This year, we decided to move the location of the display from the town to the university, but we hope that many people will be able to come here and continue their support."

He added that his committee hoped to increase total sales above last year's mark of $2,162.45.

All proceeds from the sale go to student welfare projects of the service. These include sending Canadian students to foreign countries each summer to aid in school construction, purchasing and shipping needed books and equipment to deserving students abroad, and sponsoring an annual summer seminar for Canadian students to study another nation, said Mr. Laiter.

The "Treasure Van project is the major source of funds for these ventures," he noted.

Bishop's students had volunteered more than 300 man-hours of labor in organizing, installing, and clerking the Treasure Van this week, he said.

The handicrafts on sale range in price from five cents to about seventy-five dollars. The wide variety ensures the presence of something for every taste and pocketbook.

Jewellery, pottery, toys, and carved figurines are strongly represented in this year's Treasure Van, as are a host of other gifts ranging from lamps to wineskins.

All are hand-made and many are fashioned from unusual native materials.

They come from Peru and Mexico to the south, from Israel and Egypt in the Near East, from Korea and Japan in the Far East, and from the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia in Europe, as well as from the British Isles, several African states, the West Indies, and Australasia.

Held in connection with mail holdup in Richmond Oct. 12

CORNWALL (CP)—A man on his way to Montreal by taxi was arrested near the Quebec border Monday night.

Ontario Provincial Police said the arrest of Conrad Brunelle, 39, of St. Michel des Saints, Que., was made after they learned he was wanted by Quebec police in connection with a postal truck robbery at Richmond, Que., Oct. 12.

Brunelle, carrying about $2,000 cash, was unarmed when the taxi was stopped east of this St. Lawrence Seaway centre and offered no resistance.

Brunelle was questioned by city police and RCMP here earlier Monday after trying to cross the International Bridge to New York. He was refused U.S. entry when he couldn't produce suitable identification.

Advance poll figures show late vote swing in Sherbrooke

By CUTHBERT JONES
(Record staff writer)

For years politicians in their post-election study of voter trends have been debating claims that electors have a habit of changing their opinions sharply in the closing days of a campaign.

Often supporters of a losing candidate declare that if the election had been held a week earlier their man would have won. Naturally the winner claims he had it in the bag all along, that the reports of sudden conversions were something in the nature of sour grapes.

But neither side had any basis on which to support their arguments. All they could go on was some sort of telepathic intuition.

But the increased use of the advance poll during the last three elections and the fact that it is held ten and eight days before election day itself has provided a somewhat sounder basis for the holding of post-mortems.

For instance in Sherbrooke County a week before the election many observers argued that the odds favored Liberal Roger Gingues with Independent Gerard Chapdelaine and Independent PC Maurice Allard in runner-up positions.

Creditiste Philippe Lord, NDP Philippe Brousseau and PC Etienne Pellerin were so far behind that they were considered as nothing but a nuisance, whose only importance they might have would be the vote they could take from somebody else.

But by the Thursday before election there began one of those breezes which politicians feel but cannot confirm.

Somehow or other, said the hunch-players, the wind was shifting in favor of Mr. Allard who reportedly was drawing heavily from Mr. Chapdelaine.

The race now (Thursday) was between the Independent PC and the Liberal. The outgoing MP would be left far behind.

Election night proved the validity of this forecast. Maurice Allard won the election by 655 votes over the Liberal runner-up. In third place, nearly 6,000 votes behind was Philippe Lord, Creditiste. Mr. Chapdelaine was fourth, almost 8,000 votes behind Mr. Allard. Messrs. Brousseau and Pellerin were out in the cold.

How did the shifting breeze reports stand up on the basis of the advance poll vote taken a week earlier?

Official figures show that 484 votes were cast at the seven special polling stations, of which 227 went to Mr. Gingues, 111 to Chapdelaine, 104 to Mr. Allard, 20 to Philippe Lord, and six each to the NDP and PC candidates.

Simply, on the basis of the

Lennoxville Players plan fresh new play

For their first offering of the season, this one on behalf of the Lennoxville Wing of the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary, The Lennoxville Players are presenting a fresh English comedy, The Irregular Verb to Love, on December 2, 3, 4, on the stage at Bishop's College School.

First nighters will find both familiar and new faces in the last—Anne Bedard, who has starred in several of the Players' productions, has a minor part in this play, as have Jack Grimsdell of last year's Marriage-Go-Round, and Janet Angrave of the year before last's Separate Tables. Jane Clifton, who made her debut along with the Reluctant Debutante, and was show-stealer, first-class in a minor part in Separate Tables, plays the lead.

New talent, if you can call it new when one has acted for many years with the Montreal Repertory Theatre, includes Tom Walker in the leading male role, and Janet Collins from Sherbrooke, Terry Guest and Susan Little from Lennoxville, and Tim Callan from England, playing fairly substantial secondary parts.

The play is directed by Eileen Dollin, who has been in the Lennoxville Players from their inception, and who has played leading parts in such successes as See How They Run, Hay Fever, Blithe Spirit, Charley's Aunt, Separate Tables, and White Sheep of the Family, and is staged by John Clifton.

Granby recount Monday

GRANBY — (Staff) — Paul Langlois, chief returning officer for Shefford, said Tuesday, Conservative Paul Trepanier won the constituency by nine votes in Monday's election and that a recount will be made Monday, November 15, when the service vote is received.

Earlier a broadcast report in Granby said Creditiste incumbent Gilbert Rondeau had won the seat, although returns Monday night showed Mr. Trepanier the winner.

Mr. Langlois said more votes in the see-saw battle had been counted Tuesday morning and the final result was 9,456 votes for Mr. Trepanier and 9,447 for Mr. Rondeau.

Close behind was Liberal Louis-Paul Neveu with 9,443, while Independent Liberal Lucien Pearson was last in the four man field with 321.

Mr. Langlois said in a telephone interview that Mr. Rondeau had asked for a recount.

QUEBEC DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE INFORMATION TRUCK

Farm information truck gives details of assistance offered

Lend a helping hand is the theme of the Quebec Department of Agriculture and Colonization's mobile information unit to add to their farms, making it a larger more compact unit.

Assistance is also provided in the way of grants, for purchasing and transporting cattle, sheep, and swine.

A helping hand is also given in the dairy industry with grants for the construction of a milk house or for the purchase of a cooler. The grant for construction is subject to the provincial health department specifications.

Other help is offered by way of agronomes, to advise a farmer and help him to make a more economic unit of his farm.

Assistance is given farmers in the way of fertilizer and lime purchasing grants, for their land a subsidy of 10 cents per pound of butter fat providing the dairyman has not produced more than 150,000 pounds of milk in a year. This 10 cents is given during the winter months. During the summer months, of April through September, a subsidy of five cents per pound of butter fat is given.

Another aspect of the farm truck's purpose is to encourage farmers sons to finish their schooling, and to attend agricultural colleges or technical schools.

The truck demonstrates visually all these things, and also shows the benefits of farm co-ops and the work being done in artificial insemination in Quebec.

It also demonstrates how farmers are joining farm management clubs, together with their agronomes, to further better their farm management.

The purpose of this visit is to increase the farmers' awareness of the numerous ways and means of receiving government help in many fields.

Many farmers don't realize the aid that the recent approval of Bill 13 can give them.

Monetary assistance is given to farmers to enlarge their farms, through reclamation, drainage, or buying other land to add to their farms, making it a larger more compact unit.

Clothing child is project of U.C.W. group

NORTH HATLEY — The regular monthly meeting of the United Church Women was held at the Community Hall, on the evening of Nov. 1.

The meeting was opened with a period of worship, led by Mrs. M. Sharman. The reports of the officers and committee heads were heard and the members were gratified to learn that the fall supper was an outstanding success.

Mrs. Caunter, secretary of supplies, read a letter requesting an outfit for a 13 year old girl and the members agreed to take this up as a Christmas project.

It was announced that the annual meeting would be held in January instead of December, thus allowing opportunity to present a special Christmas meeting, plans for which are in charge of Mrs. R. Reed.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas tea and sale, which will be held in the Community Hall on the afternoon of Dec. 8.

The program was the adaptation of a little play taken from the study book. Mrs. R. Reed arranged the material, which was presented by Mrs. S. Reed and Mrs. R. Olson.

At the close of the program refreshments were served by Mrs. R. Sterling and Mrs. C. Smith.

The returning officer a key figure

During the exciting period election night when various information media are seeking to bring the voting results to the people of Canada these agencies with a degree of justice, proudly announce just what a wonderful job they are doing. They tell of the staff they have gathered together to provide as quickly as possible the latest returns, of the experts in various fields who seek to interpret the developments of election night and explain just what they may or may not mean to the future of the country.

But too often they forget the key figure in the efficient gathering of the returns — the constituency Returning Officer. This is the man or woman charged with organizing the election itself and with setting up the machinery for the prompt receipt and reporting of the results.

If this individual falls down on the job, if for some reason or another all the technical details have not been ironed out in advance there will be delay and confusion. But if he has done his preparatory work the results are known promptly.

In this respect a word of thanks is due

Will election end minor parties?

Monday's inconclusive election results, which brought Canada its fourth minority government in eight years, may have an important role in restoring the two-party system to this country.

Faced with the necessity of administering the nation without a majority in the House of Commons, it is logical to assume that Prime Minister Pearson may seek some form of a coalition with one of the minor parties.

This would give his government a degree of permanency which would be impossible if he must depend upon the uncertain support of one of the minority groups to remain in office.

Obviously the party whose ideas are closest to those of the Liberals is the New Democratic Party led by Tommy Douglas.

Both groups hold somewhat similar views on advanced social legislation, with the chief differences between them being the speed with which the programs should be implemented.

Thus the way is open for the entry of

One sad effect of the Viet Nam war is that it inspires old veterans to ear-banging monologues about THEIR service.

Pacifist demonstrations not new

Indignation naturally runs high among loyal United States citizens against the opponents of American activity in Vietnam who are organizing anti-war demonstrations featured by the mass burning of draft cards.

But before these citizens worry themselves sick over the situation they might look back over history — back to 1916 when a very popular song, "I Didn't Raise My Boy to be a Soldier," was held largely responsible for the re-election of Woodrow Wilson as president.

Although his campaign was based on the promise that he would keep the United States out of the First Great War, the following years saw a rush of young to the Sherbrooke County Returning Officer, J. Nestor Boucher, for the organization he set up election night.

The machinery developed few, if any, kinks and the final results of the vote were completed within one hour of the closing of the polls.

Those errors and discrepancies which so often bring confusion to election reports were completely absent.

In many other counties, individual Returning Officers developed systems of their own, most of which seemed to operate efficiently, judged by the speed in which the returns were gathered and the winning candidates announced.

They deserve congratulations, too.

Part of this may be due to the disappearance of the practice whereby Returning Officers were replaced every time the political stripe of the government in power changed. The idea of making the position of a Returning Officer permanent permits him to learn from experience and benefit from past weaknesses.

Under the former practice, the Returning Officer had to start from the ground to build up his reporting machinery.

Canadian newspapers comment

Liberals blamed for inflicting election; both leaders queried

Following are excerpts from editorials in representative Canadian newspapers on results of the federal election. Except as noted, all newspapers quoted describe themselves as politically independent.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

In these circumstances, a heavy responsibility will fall on Mr. Douglas and his New Democrats. They will hold a crucial position in the 27th Parliament. Mr. Douglas has long proclaimed the value of a minority government, and for obvious reasons. Now he will have to prove that it can work.

Toronto Globe and Mail: The Liberal party subjected the electorate to the most sophisticated, the most premeditated, the most cold-blooded blackmail this country has ever seen in an election. . . . We shall demand much more of our members of Parliament than the ugly, shallow squabbling for microscopic political ends that has far too often characterized the last two Parliaments. They are all on probation before a country that is sick and tired of cynicism and littleness, and that will insist that every man jack of them this time earn his $18,000 a year.

Montreal Gazette (Ind. Con.): The results of Monday's voting must call into serious questioning the value of further leadership by Mr. Pearson—its value either to his party or to his country. After having been twice defeated, and twice failing to win an over-all majority in the House, the likelihood of his continued leadership would achieve for his party a better position in the future is open to grave doubts. . . . It is now a matter for serious consideration whether the Conservative party in this election has gained from the leadership of Mr. Diefenbaker, or whether, if under other leadership in this campaign, might have moved closer to victory, or even attained it.

Charlottetown Guardian: The probability, as this page goes to press, is for another minority government—the fourth since 1957. In which case, by not subscribing to the Liberal threat that the alternative to a whopping majority would be another period of political confusion, resulting in a nother election within a year or so, the Conservatives can claim to have shown a greater sense of responsibility to the electorate.

Ottawa Le Droit (Ind.):—More than a victory for the Liberal party, we had wished for a defeat of the Conservative party—particularly because of the leadership of that party. The result of the election does not make us sad. It seems certain the Liberals will continue to govern the country, but they will have to rely on aid from the NDP.

Halifax Chronicle - Herald: The strength of provincial leadership against national made itself felt in the Atlantic provinces last night as returns for the 33 ridings in the region were tabulated. In Nova Scotia, the Conservatives gained heavily and unexpectedly at the expense of the Liberals who elected only one candidate, Labor Minister Allan MacEachen. The Conservatives elected 11—a result no pollster had even remotely anticipated before the ballots were cast.

Sydney Cape Breton Post: Canadians apparently are more concerned with good government than with majority government, and it is to this that Mr. Pearson must bend his best efforts if he is to continue as head of Canada's administration. Mr. Pearson's "vision" of a new Canada, with his government representing "all of Canada," has been shattered. . . . Undoubtedly the uneasiness caused by the Rivard scandals, the Banks case, the unsatisfactory flag debate, while not Saint John Telegraph - Journal: The election that nobody wanted has solved nothing. . . . The salient thing that emerged from this ill-conceived election is that neither major party leader is strong enough to capture the imagination and full support of the country. Clearly the odds are one or both have fought their last election.

Lethbridge Herald (Ind. Lib.): Had the Liberals won a larger vote in Quebec, it could have been disastrous to Canadian unity unless there had been a substantial Liberal increase in the rest of the country. . . . The basic Liberal deficiency undoubtedly is, nevertheless, the failure to create an image of reliability and substantial worth.

Ottawa Citizen: The campaign has been a vast waste of time, money and energy. It has earned the Liberals only about the same strength they had at dissolution. The official Opposition has been strengthened both in numbers and in quality. . . .

Moose Jaw Times - Herald: The people of Canada have denied Prime Minister Pearson the votes which would have provided him with a majority government. . . . They have given Canada another Parliament in which bickering and wrangling will predominate. This is unfortunate. Canada would be better served had either of the two old-line parties been given sufficient members to administer the affairs of the country without having to look . . . for support from some "ism" group.

Quebec Provincial Police put added teeth into Premier Maurice Duplessis' Padlock Law 28 years ago today—in 1937—by raiding the home of the editor of the French language Communist newspaper La Clarte, already padlocked, a print

At the same time, the Civil Liberties Union prepared to challenge the law passed by the provincial legislature to "protect this province against Communist propaganda." 1934—Canadian railroad builder Sir Donald Mann died in Toronto. Second World War Twenty-five years ago today—in 1940—British bombers flew 1,400 miles for the first air attack on Danzig and also bombed Mannheim, Essen, Gelsenkirchen, Dresden and Nazi-held French ports; an estimated 2,000 persons were killed and thousands injured near Bucharest in Romania's most destructive earthquake on record.

The brothers Grimm, famous collectors and editors of "Grimm's Fairy Tales," were equally well-known in academic circles. Both were professors and were noted in 19th century Europe for their scholarly works in the fields of grammar, philology and etymology. Their studies in these and other scientific fields led to the collection of their fairy tales, which were old German tales gathered from the people themselves.

Intrigue from the inside This James Bond is real and Red

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON — (NEA) — Gordon Lonsdale, alias Konon Molody, was a Russian spy with a difference.

For one thing, he was more successful than most Soviet secret agents, managing to fool both the American and British intelligence services for 11 years before he was caught in 1961.

For another, Lonsdale was no Marxist in a hair shirt. He loved good living as much as the next man. In Britain, where he posed as a Canadian, he drove a sporty Hillman Husky, was frequently seen in night clubs, belonged to the Royal Overseas League, whose patron is Queen Elizabeth.

The dark, swarthy Russian, who looks like a chunkier version of George Raft, also fancied himself as something of a ladies' man. In his little black book, he kept the names and addresses of 23 women ranging from Daisy Wong, a Chinese nurse, to Ulla Nilsson, a beautiful blonde Swede, and including Carla Panizzi from Italy. "I particularly liked her omelettes," Lonsdale recalls.

Finally run to ground, Lonsdale was sentenced here to 25 years in 1961, was later swapped for a British businessman whom the Russians were holding. But Britons had not heard the last of Lonsdale.

Currently, Lonsdale has made a return appearance with the publication here of his memoirs titled "Spy: Twenty Years of Secret Service." After reading "Spy," one understands why the Soviets allowed it to be published abroad, some of it skillful, some of it crude. It shows every evidence of having been ghost-written by a committee.

Not surprisingly, the book's aim is to drive a wedge between the British and the Americans as allies. In particular, Lonsdale seeks to damage Anglo-American security arrangements by claiming he obtained American secrets that were passed to the British under defense agreements.

The memoirs, however, are being studied closely by Kremlinologists here for indications of trends in Soviet thinking. The experts are wondering, for example, whether the Lonsdale book will touch off a war of words, with spies boasting of their exploits in order to discredit rival intelligence services. Asked for publication in November are "The Penkovsky Papers," supposedly culled from the personal diary and espionage reports of Oleg Penkovsky, America's man in Moscow, for the Central Intelligence Agency until his arrest in 1963. Penkovsky, who was executed for espionage, was a Red army colonel with access to Russian military secrets which he shared equally with the Americans and the British.

Britons are marvelling at the ease with which Lonsdale passed himself off as a Canadian during his six years of spying in Britain. He came here in 1955 ostensibly as a student, but later developed a lucrative side line in renting jukeboxes and in selling an electronic locking device. Meanwhile, Lonsdale set up a spy ring at the Admiralty underwater weapons establishment at Portland, England. By means of this ring he was able to pass on to Russia classified information regarding the American nuclear submarine base at Holy Loch, the Decca aircraft tracking system, and the British atomic submarine Dreadnought.

But all was not work with Lonsdale. In relaxed moods he entertained at intimate dinners in his London flat Carla Panizzi, the pretty Italian omelette specialist, who boasted that she could cook veal 50 different ways.

When not sampling Carla's scallopini, Lonsdale was busy learning about wines, his favorite being Chateau Neuf du Pape. Once when depressed, he went out and bought himself a pair of pajamas "in a Paisley pattern of particularly revolting purple," he recalls.

Of his London flirtations, Lonsdale, a husband and a father, writes, "I take the view that a person in my job is freed from the normal ties that bind a married man."

Lonsdale's autobiography raises more questions than it answers. In fact, his whole past is surrounded by murkiness which will probably never be penetrated.

There is the matter of his nationality for example. Lonsdale swears that he is Canadian by origin, being born in Cobalt, Ontario, in August 1924. But among the few things that are known about him for certain is that he is Russian and that his real name is Konon Molody. Also, he was born in 1922 and not in 1924, as he claims.

Then there is the question of the identity which he used during the five years he spied for the Russians in the United States. But Lonsdale is giving nothing away. "I hope that many FBI man-hours will be wasted in search of this identity," he writes.

Lastly, there is the question of his effectiveness as a spy. Again, the answer to this riddle is known only to a few, but Lonsdale's boast of having had access to the British Admiralty's top secrets has a hollow ring. Meanwhile, to most Britons, Konon Molody is the closest thing to a James Bond that has yet come out of Russia.

At Sweetsburg court

Drunk driving, theft, assault cases are dealt with Monday

SWEETSBURG WARD — (Staff)—An East Farnham father of 10 children had his driving permit suspended for three years Monday for impaired driving. He was also sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and court costs. In default of payment he is liable to one month in prison.

The man, Jacques Delorme, pleaded guilty to driving while his faculties were impaired in Cowansville, on October 29. He had committed several other offences of the same nature in the past, he told the crown prosecutor.

The court decided that because he was needed at home to look after his family that he should not be sentenced to prison this time, but warned him that this would happen if he should appear before the tribunal again.

A Ville Jacques Cartier man who pleaded not guilty to a charge of breaking, entering and theft, in connection with a break-in at a Phillipsburg gift shop, had bail of $1,000 cash set or $2,000 property when he appeared before the local court Monday.

Jacques Fortin is to appear next week for his preliminary hearing.

Fortin and his two companions Rene Lavasseur, and his brother Pierre, are accused of breaking and entering Iris Gautery's gift shop between 10 and 11 p.m. on the night of October 28 and of stealing $2,000 worth of goods consisting of women's apparel, blankets and moccasins.

Rene Lavasseur of Montreal is also to return for his hearing next week. Pierre Lavasseur pleaded guilty and his trial was adjourned until next week.

Marcel Bouchard 21, of Iverville who appeared Monday on a charge of car theft had his trial adjourned until next Monday. Bouchard is accused of stealing a car belonging to Real Fortin and valued at $1,500.

The trial of Karl Kyling of Bedford on two charges involving intimidation of a witness and conspiring to commit theft was adjourned until November 15.

Gerard Bouffard was sentenced to one month in prison on seven charges of gross indecency, involving affairs with men. He had appeared last week for trial.

A Farnham resident, Paul Rocheleau, pleaded not guilty to three charges of cashing false cheques. His hearing was set for November 2.

Rocheleau is accused of cashing the cheques at Deragon Securities through Jacques Demers for the amounts of $30 to $125.

The dates were March 31 and April 5.

Stanley Davis, of St. Etienne de Bolton was before the court again this week on two further charges of cashing false cheques.

He requested that his trial be put off until Wednesday of this week as he was to appear for another trial then, and that his lawyer would be there on that day. This was granted by Judge Patrick Delaney.

His brother John, of the same address, who is charged with cashing one false cheque, requested that he be allowed to appear for trial on Friday for the same reason. This was granted.

John is accused of cashing a false cheque on September 8 for the sum of $48.45 signed with the name H. L. Davis and for failing to ask this person for permission to do so, according to a court official. He was not allowed bail.

Marcel Falcon, of Stanbridge Station pleaded not guilty to two accounts of assault which allegedly occurred October 24 in Granby. His hearing was for November 22.

He is accused on two different occasions of attacking M. Harvey, of Granby, once on Main Street and earlier in the Chez Paul Restaurant. He was released on bail of $500 cash or $950 property.

Charles Stamworth, of Lacolle, was sentenced to a fine of $50 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of hit and run in Clarenceville September 18.

Guy Poirier had bail of $500 cash or $950 property when he pleaded not guilty to a charge of car theft. His hearing was set for November 15.

Two minors from the United States were each sentenced to a fine of $25 and court costs when they pleaded guilty by writing, to being found drinking in a district of Bedford hotel recently.

Michel Piette of Sweetsburg Ward was sentenced to a fine of $50 and court costs and his permit was suspended for three months when he pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving. He had hit a telephone pole and broke it in two at the time of his arrest.

Serge Gaudreau of Farnham pleaded not guilty to a charge of dangerous driving which occurred on October 30. His hearing was set for November 22.

Leon Shank, of Granby, pleaded not guilty to a charge of impaired driving at Eastman on October 29 and he was released on bail.

Lucien Langlois, of Granby, was sentenced to a fine of $75 and court costs and his driver's permit was suspended for a six month period when he pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving. He was given one month to pay. This was his second such offence. The incident took place at Granby October 29.

Eugene Lavigne, of Sherbrooke was fined $100 and costs or, in default of payment, one month in jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving. The incident occurred at Cowansville.

James Cousins, of Knowlton was given a suspended sentence when he pleaded guilty to a charge of theft. He had first pleaded not guilty to the theft of a beam light from a restaurant near Mansonville, which was destroyed by fire. After ten minutes in court he changed his plea.

Cousins had stolen the light from the Frank Gillespie restaurant on the Mansonville road on October 1, which was valued at $75, and then sold it and donated the money to the Knowlton football club.

An article by Prof. B. Urianis said even longer life could be achieved by overcoming such problems as alcoholism. He said most fatal accidents are traced to drinking.

Colonel Harland Sanders, at 73, is the living stereotype of the southern gentleman. Except that he lives in Cooksville, Ont., and hopes to become a Canadian citizen.

His rank and his birth are both Kentuckian, as is the name of his product — Colonel Sanders' Kentucky Fried Chicken, "it's finger lickin' good."

The trademark of the colonel's chain (180 outlets in Canada, and, until recently 1,000 in the U.S.) is the colonel himself, bedecked in white "plantation" suit — 25 at last count — Kentucky black string tie decorated on one tail with a gold pin "with mah mug on it," wispy white goatee and mustache, white tuff, black-rimmed spectacles, ruddy plump cheeks, and silver-handled walking stick.

Do you really need a cane? "Not any more than Ah need these whiskers, honey."

By clever trading on those whiskers, a "secret" recipe, and an aura of southern hospitality, the colonel is well on his way to building his second chicken empire, this time in Canada. Estimated value already: three million dollars "and Ah own every penny of it." The Colonel didn't begin his present career until he was 65.

"Ah was operatin' mah own restaurant in Corbin, Kentucky, for almost 25 years when Interstate Highway 75 by-passed me and left mah high and dry. So Ah sold mah property by auction to clear mah debts, and with mah first security cheque of $105, loaded up mah cooker, put half a dozen frying chickens in mah ice chest and started west. Ah had to see if in the north and south, folks would like mah spicy recipe. Your food's flat, don't ya see." Within three years, he had 125 franchises, and by 1964, when he sold out his U.S. interest for two million dollars, he had franchised 1,000 "Kentucky Fried Chicken" outlets.

Turning his southern charm on Canada, he's established a residence in Cooksville (no particular, he assures), and had licensed William Stange of Toronto to mix his eleven secret ingredients for distribution to the Canadian dealers. The final ingredients: Blend "S" ("it triggers the whole works, don't ya see") is made by a separate company to prevent anyone "leannin' our racket."

"Mah secret's in mah recipe, and the fact that Ah don't throw mah chickens (always fresh, never iddy-biddy to give you a good bite of meat, don't ya see) into the deep fry oil along with the fish, the chips and the shrimps."

Colonel Sanders espouses the simple virtues. He neither smokes nor drinks and seldom hires anyone who does. He's a 5 a.m. riser. Since coming to Canada he lives in a simple $24,000 bungalow and, naturally, is an admirer of that other man of simple virtues: Goldwater.

In Toronto last month Col. Sanders met with his franchise holders from across Canada to enforce the discipline of his cuisine. "They're falling down on the baked beans, the slaw and the macaroni salad."

At a posh hotel the boys are glad-handing, comparing waistlines and balance sheets and getting cooking lessons from the colonel.

Are you serving chicken to the boys?

"No, honey, when we get together Ah like to serve them something a little different for a treat, maybe some lobster newburg or prime ribs of beef. Ah eat chicken every day mahself though. That's how I got these chicken feathers on mah chin."

Maybe so, but $5,000,000 in 10 years is not chicken feed.

Colonel Sanders' Kentucky Fried chicken, an immediate favorite when it was first introduced by Pat's Restaurant in Lennoxville, is still being enjoyed as the specialty of the completely renovated and enlarged Pat's Chicken Villa.

The Chicken Villa is owned and operated by Pat's Restaurants Inc., under President Doug Patrick, Vice-President Yvan Charland and Director Roland Giguere.

Visitors to Pat's Chicken Villa are now welcomed by a gleaming white exterior, suggesting the traditional hospitality of a Southern Mansion. Inside the southern hospitality becomes more tangible in the form of Colonel Sanders' Kentucky Fried Chicken, the traditional festive dish of the Old South, and still one of the most tempting dishes of the modern day.

The interior of the Chicken Villa features a colonial decor of Sage Green-toned wood, complemented by a natural brick wall. It has the spacious feel of gracious living in which the traditional is combined with the modern for the best enjoyment of each.

So is it with the food. The most modern equipment is used to capture all of the traditional goodness of Colonel Sanders' original recipe.

The opening of the new Pat's Chicken Villa marks the latest chapter in the success story of Pat's Restaurants Inc., and of Colonel Sanders' Kentucky Fried Chicken in the Eastern Townships.

The story began in 1952 with a lunch cart on Speid Street in Lennoxville. A move was made to larger, more modern premises on Queen Street in 1958 when the restaurant opened with a horseshoe counter and 20 stools. A franchise for Colonel Sanders' Kentucky Fried Chicken was acquired in 1962. This proved to be such a favorite that, eight months later, Pat's Kentucky Fried Chicken take home store was opened in Sherbrooke at 849 King Street West to meet the demand.

In August, 1964, Mon Colonel Kentucky Fried Chicken take home store was opened at 470 Boivin Boulevard in Granby.

The secret of this success is in the chicken.

What is so special about Colonel Sanders' Kentucky Fried Chicken?

Kentucky Fried Chicken is not pre-cooked parboiled, half-baked or French fried for speed or convenience of serving. Col. Sanders' recipe consists of fresh (not frozen) local grown, plump 2 1/2 to 3 lb. broilers.

Using freshly cut broilers dipped in milk and egg, rolled in flour seasoned with 11 different spices and herbs, it is fried minutes before serving, using Col. Sanders' special method of equipment for fast frying in the best shortening yet discovered for blending chicken and seasoning together.

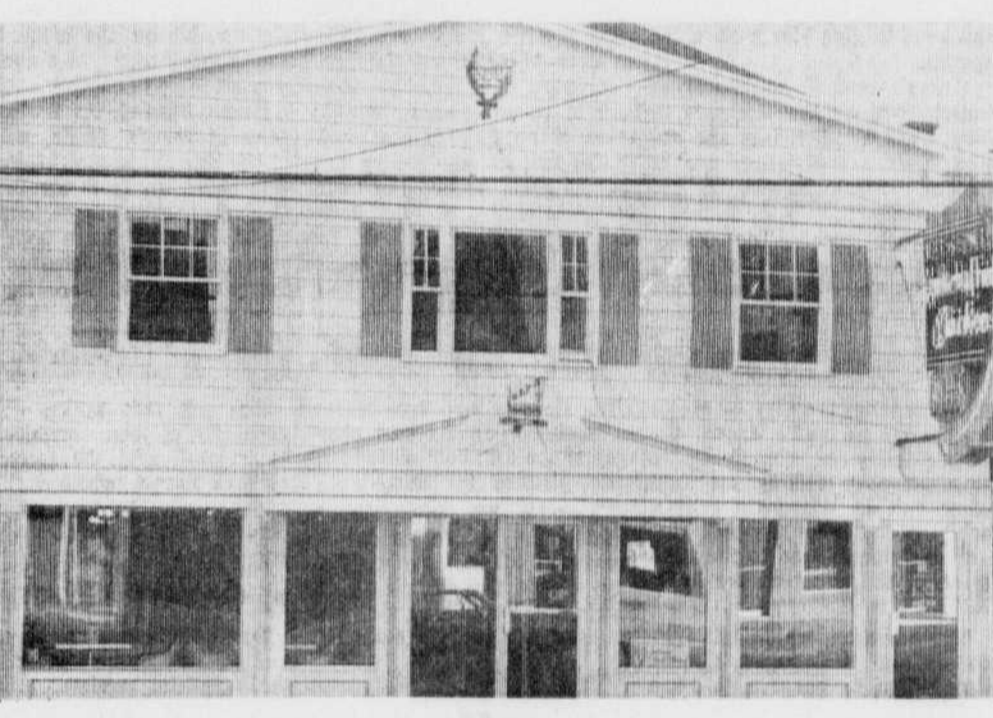

In addition to its specialty, Pat's Chicken Villa offers a complete choice of menu.

A take home service is provided by Pat's Chicken Villa, including delivery.

ETABA cage opener

St. Pat's Old Boys slip past Sherbrooke University 54-51

St. Pat's Old Boys Association, re-entering the Eastern Townships Amateur Basketball Association after a year's absence, scored their first triumph of the 1965-66 season over the University of Sherbrooke last night, 54-51.

The Old Boys, ironically called because of their sponsors, are actually a group of young cage enthusiasts, most of them playing their first game in the Senior 'B' bracket. They are coached by Mike Levesque, who assists on the front line action in the games.

Last night's league opener proved to be a well-played fast tilt, with the margin of difference not exceeding ten points throughout. By halftime, St. Pat's held the lead, 23-21.

With a starting line of Ricky Valle, Don Charlebois, Bill Taylor, Serge Morin and Mike Levesque, excellent style and basketball promise was seen from the opening whistle. Valle and Taylor kept the backboards clean, with Charlebois and Morin handling the trip down the court, all under Coach Levesque's supervision.

Opening up immediately on a splash in the second half, St. Pat's piled baskets onto their lead, with Charlebois and Levesque handling 12 and nine in this latter frame.

However, top scorer in the tilt was Jacques Dessureault with 18, leading the St. Pat's

Roughriders' George Reed wins Jeff Nicklin Memorial Award for judge Most-Valuable-Player in WFC

WINNIPEG (CP) — Fullback George Reed of Saskatchewan Roughriders has won the Jeff Nicklin memorial award as the player judged most valuable to his team in the 1965 Western Football Conference season.

The selection was made by 26 sportswriters and sportscasters who covered WFC games. Voting was based on points—three for first choice, two for second and one for third.

Reed, top ground-gainer in the WFC this year, had 61 points, including 15 first choices. He was named on 25 of 26 ballots.

The 24-year-old graduate of Washington State and three-year veteran of Canadian professional football has been chosen the West's candidate for Canada's most outstanding player.

Born in Vicksburg, Miss., Oct. 2, 1941, Reed excelled in sports at Renton High School, 12 miles south of Seattle, and at Washington State University where he earned three letters in football. He joined Saskatchewan in 1963. As a rookie, he picked up 905 yards rushing and five touchdowns and last season scored 12 touchdowns and had 1,012 yards rushing.

Henri Richard to miss tilt with Leafs

Toronto Maple Leafs have had few blessings to count this National Hockey League season, but the well-supplied Montreal Canadiens are bestowing them with one—unwillingly.

The blessing is the sidelining of speedy Henri Richard for tonight's game between the two clubs.

Canadiens defeated Leafs 5-1 in their only previous meeting this season and Richard's output of two goals was all the margin needed. He also assisted on another goal.

Leafs' indirect benefactor is defenceman Ted Green of Boston Bruins who hit the Montreal centre hard enough last weekend to give him a shoulder sprain.

Green's—and Boston's—target tonight will be the Rangers in New York as all teams see action. Detroit Red Wings are at Chicago Black Hawks in the third game.

Montreal coach Toe Blake said Richard, whose season's output is three goals and four assists, may join Canadiens by the weekend.

Major baseball put on spot by Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Major league baseball faced the choice today of remaining in Milwaukee or risking an anti-trust suit in Wisconsin courts, a prospect that a baseball lawyer said "could lead to the ruin of the game as we know it."

The dilemma, which left Wisconsin and Milwaukee County in position to bargain to keep the Braves from shifting to Atlanta next season, developed Tuesday in U.S. district court.

Judge Robert E. Tehan ruled that Wisconsin courts should decide the anti-trust suit filed by Wisconsin's attorney general.

The ruling, which cannot be appealed, means the anti-trust suit will reach the federal courts only after being heard in Wisconsin.

"If Wisconsin can do this then all the adjacent states too can claim they are being prevented from having teams. We might wind up with 60 teams."

Baseball fought to have the case heard in the federal courts. Jinkinson argued that the case should be heard together with a federal anti-trust suit filed against the league by Milwaukee County.

The suit maintains that the National League is so organized as to create a monopoly in the employment of players of major league quality, as well as in the scheduling and the broadcast of games.

"The official pointed out that the state has charged baseball with a violation of law and it might not be possible to drop the charge in return for a franchise."

"The purpose is to reduce the cost per share by half to enable more people to participate in the Club activities and increase the membership. Prospective members are invited to contact present members for details about becoming members."

The first social event of the 1965-66 season will be a dinner party November 20 when the finals of the opening Mixed Bonspiel will be played. Dancing to the music of Reg Seguin will follow.

Persons in the area who are not club members are cordially invited to visit the club to inspect facilities and learn about the game from veteran curlers, who will be on hand to assist prospective curlers.

At a recent meeting of the club shareholders, it was voted to split the present shares two for one. The purpose is to reduce the cost per share by half to enable more people to participate in the Club activities and increase the membership.

Persons in the area who are not club members are cordially invited to visit the club to inspect facilities and learn about the game from veteran curlers, who will be on hand to assist prospective curlers.

Scotland stops Italy 1-0 in World soccer

GLASGOW (AP) — Scotland defeated Italy 1-0 Tuesday night with a last-minute goal and kept alive its hopes of qualifying for the World Soccer Cup finals in England next year.

Right-back John Greig ran up the right wing, exchanged passes with left-halfback Jim Baxter and fired the ball into the net from 10 yards.

The two teams now are level in Group 8 of the European zone. They meet again in Naples Dec. 7 to decide who goes into the finals.

The other two teams in the group—Poland and Finland—have no chance of qualifying.

Roman Brother favored to win International

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — A prominent English bookmaker took a long look today at the field for Thursday's $150,000 International at Laurel and figured American handicappers knew what they were doing when they established Roman Brother the favorite to take the 1 1/2-mile grass course horse race.

Jack Golding, president of the Bookmakers Protective Association of Southern England, called on 46 years of experience making book at leading English tracks to form the following line on the eight horses from five nations:

Roman Brother (U.S.) 2-to-1; Hill Rise (U.S.) 4-to-1; Diatome (France) 7-to-1; Carvin (France) 10-to-1; Berenjenal (Argentina) 10-to-1; George Royal (Canada) 14-to-1 and Hail to All (U.S.) 14-to-1.

The quotations varied little from those made by the track handicapper. He has made Roman Brother, owned by Lou Wolfson's Harbor View Farm, the 7-1 favorite with Hill Rise, from George Pope's El Peco Ranch second choice at 4-1. He also quoted Diatome at 5-1 but differed slightly on the others with Super Sam 6-1, George Royal 8-1, Hail to All and Berenjenal 10-1 and Carvin 15-1.

Roman Brother earned his lofty position with easy victories in his last three starts. On the debit side for the four-year-old gelding is a bad showing in his lone start on the grass—a mile race at Saratoga.

Beavers knocked out of first spot, Gauls take over with romp over Tigers, penalties hurt locals

Drummondville Rockets opened with a bang last evening to pot two goals within the first four minutes and a half of play and then coasted to a 4-1 win over the Sherbrooke Beavers. In the other tilt on the agenda St. Hyacinthe Gauls rolled to a 7-4 victory over Victoriaville Tigers.

The loss knocked Coach Georges Roy's Beavers out of first place in the Quebec Provincial Senior Hockey League standings and allowed the Gauls to slide into top spot by one point. Tomorrow evening the Beavers will be hosts to the Rockets in what could be a tough job.

Claude Aubry opened the scoring a couple of minutes after the game opened when he finished off a passing play with Boucher and Fortin. It was scored from a scramble as Serge Aubry's view was partially screened.

Claude Cardin was in the cooler on the Rockets' second tally. Roger Picard was the marksman on the Drummondville power-play a minute after Cardin was in the cooler. This took the steam out of Sherbrooke and the Beavers lost some of their usual drive.

Claude Boucher of Drummondville put the Rockets further ahead when he potted the third goal near the end of the period. Boivin and Aubry drew assists on the play. It put the Rockets out in front 3-0 and from then on they managed to retain their lead.

In the middle session Rene Pepin came up with the only marker when he tipped in Georges Roy's hard drive from just inside the blueline. Sherbrooke had the man advantage as Therrien was in the sin bin for an infraction.

In the middle session things commenced to get hot as players on both sides were dishing it out. Several hard-body checks were handed out and the referee thumbed five off with a match going to Jean Levesque.

Some of the changes, like the departure of fullback Dave Thelen, left a bad taste in some mouths, especially when his replacement, Jim Dillard, ran into injuries. Bo Scott, the halfback Clair figures as Dillard's running mate, also was slowed by ankle injuries.

At 22, import Don Gilbert is the oldest of three rookie backs and has developed into a hard-hitting deep back on defence. Another import, Bill Cline, 21, has been used mostly for punting and back-up man for quarterback Russ Jackson but has seen some action on defence.

Youngest of the trio is Ottawa native Bob McCarthy, who, at 18, made the team on his second try. He has been limited action, but can fill in at a variety of spots, offensively and defensively.

With newcomers like this, there were bound to be mistakes during the season, says Clair.

Coach Frank Clair confident his Rough Riders can win EFC title, drills team for long pass attack

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders will have to fight history to get into the Grey Cup final this year, but coach Frank Clair is confident his Eastern Foot ball Conference club can do it.

Only one eastern team has reached the cup without finishing on top of the league in the last 10 years. That team was the 1960 Riders that went on to defeat Edmonton Eskimos after a second-place finish.

Riders finished second again this season—for the eighth time in 10 years under Clair—and will start their sixth eastern final in that span when they take the field Sunday against Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Riders almost made it last year after a second-place finish, but lost the two-game, total point series by one point after winning the opener by 19.

After an extensive rebuilding job, Ottawa was picked as the team to beat in the east this year. A last-half slump left them with the same 7-7 record.

Coach Ralph Sazio is bolstering his defense to stop Jackson's roll-outs, Joe Zuger gets nod

HAMILTON (CP)—With coach Frank Clair of Ottawa Rough Riders having given quarterback Russ Jackson the green cast adrift last August after 14 years with Toronto Argonauts.

Noted for his driving style of play, the 33-year-old who was rejected by every other team in the Canadian Football League after set free by Toronto, has kept opposing quarterbacks running for their lives ever since joining Hamilton.

Coach Ralph Sazio figures moving Martinello into the middle guard spot was the key shift in beefing up a line that was beginning to sag under the weight of injuries.

During the regular season, Clair had Jackson staying in the pocket on passplays and the result, after a blistering start, left them staggering at the end of the season with only two victories in eight games.

But last Saturday he unfettered Jackson and the Riders romped to a 36-7 victory over Montreal Alouettes in the sudden-death semi-final.

During the season Hamilton scored 19 points fewer than the Rough Riders although winning the regular season title. But

Bill Crothers to compete in Regina Meet

REGINA (CP)—Bill Crothers, Canada's finest half-mile, and a strong Toronto East York Track Club relay team will compete in Saskatchewan's first indoor track meet Dec. 3 and 4 at Saskatoon, it was announced today.

Crothers, 24, a Markham, Ont., pharmacist, ran the mile in four minutes, 2.4 seconds this year in Toronto. His fastest 800-yard time was one minute, 46.8 seconds at the 1963 United States championships.

He is the second international track and field star to accept an invitation to the meet, the first to be run on a new portable indoor track provided by the Saskatchewan Jubilee and Canada Centennial Corporation.

John Thomas, co-holder of the Olympic high jump record, earlier indicated he would attend.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

Canadian voters warn parties says CNTU chief

MONTREAL (CP)—The verdict rendered by the Canadian people in Monday's general election is "a serious warning to political parties," Marcel Pepin, president of the Quebec-based Confederation of National Trade Unions, said Tuesday.

In a statement, the labor leader said that for the last four years the political parties have not been concerned with political education of the public and even less concerned about the public's needs and desires.

Political parties must become more democratic, stop refusing to listen to the people and allow the people to play a part in making the decisions, he said.

This was the third Parliament Canadians have elected in four years.

"If such a trend develops and intensifies, the future of democracy will be dark" and Parliament will risk becoming "the plaything of blind partisan politics..."

Held in deaths

MONTREAL (CP)—Police in suburban Verdun are holding an 18-year-old youth as a material witness in connection with the hammer-knife slaying of an elderly local couple.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Filion, aged 60 and 50 respectively, were found Tuesday by police in their ground-floor Verdun flat.

Police said neighbors had complained of the continual playing of a radio and a smell emanating from the flat. It is believed the couple was killed last Friday afternoon.

The youth's identity was withheld.

Disney offers

MONTREAL (CP)—Walt Disney, who was born in Canada, has offered the free services of his organization as consultants to Expo 67, Robert Shaw, deputy commissioner-general of the exhibition, said Tuesday.

Mr. Shaw, who recently returned from a trip to Disneyland near Los Angeles, Calif., said he spoke to Disney in order to obtain the services of his organization as a consultant.

Mr. Shaw said Disney's reaction to this was to decline to act as a professional, paid consultant, and instead offer his services and that of his staff to Expo free.

UNICEF CHECK — Lennoxville's UNICEF collection was an outstanding success this year. The children collected something over $800, which together with an anonymous donation of $300, made a grand total of $1,202.93. ## News flashes from around the world

OTTAWA (CP)—Unemployment fell to 171,000 at mid-October, easing off slightly from 176,000 at mid-September but down nearly one-third from a year ago, the bureau of statistics and the labor department said today in a joint report.

It said employment rose by about 25,000 between September and October to 7,008,000. In previous years, employment has tended to fall at this time of the year.

OTTAWA (CP)—British Columbia Attorney-General Robert Bonner Tuesday called for a House of Commons investigation into political polls and pollsters.

At best, he said, political polls are pseudo-scientific predictions.

"As far as I'm concerned, the best thing they could do would be scrap them."

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP)—Doctor suspect to learn today if the chest pains that struck former president Dwight D. Eisenhower were indications of a heart attack.

But even if Eisenhower, 75, suffered a heart attack, his heart doctor said before completion of tests, "by all symptoms and characteristics it certainly was a mild one."

Eisenhower was reported alert and in excellent spirits—and staying in bed only to please his physicians. He also spent some time in an oxygen tent.

MONTREAL (CP)—The Royal Canadian Legion, founded in 1926, will eventually disappear, says Leonard A. Fuller, the legion's Quebec provincial president.

The demise of the legion is inevitable, he said Tuesday, "unless the country is thrown into another war, which we all sincerely hope will never happen."

So the reported were apparently more than just a hunch. Support which Mr. Chapdelaine appeared to hold a week prior to elections switched to Mr. Allard, while the Liberal vote was little affected on the basis of percentage of votes cast.

TORONTO (CP)—The Canada of 1965, like the state of Israel some years ago, has pessimists whose predictions of the future are exclusively negative, Premier Jean Lesage of Quebec said Tuesday night.

But as with Israel, so in Canada, the pessimists will be proved incorrect, the premier added.

He told the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews that the Canadian pessimists "make no allowance for one very important factor—the gradual disappearance both in Quebec and in the rest of the country of prejudices sustained by the lack of knowledge."

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (CP)—A stand-by crew of six firemen with a pumper truck kept watch early today over the site of a fire that burned for about 16 hours Tuesday, destroying an entire downtown block and leaving about 40 persons homeless.

An insurance adjuster estimated the damage at $2,500,000 making it probably the worst fire in the city's history.

The 25 families left homeless are being taken care of by the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the city welfare fund which will pay each family $25 a week for the time being.

LEO AYOTTE: "The Canadian Painter"

THE MOST REMARKABLE ARTISTIC EXHIBITION EVER SHOWN IN SHERBROOKE.

UNTIL NEXT SUNDAY THE 14th AT HOWARDENE FROM 2 to 5 P.M. and 8 to 10 P.M. DAILY.

Artist exhibits at Howardene

Well-known Canadian artist Leo Ayotte, now exhibiting at Howardene in Sherbrooke, was born in La Mauricie, and started painting when he was about twenty.

Mr. Ayotte spent nine months of last year in Europe, where he discovered that the realistic way of painting was still well implanted with other artists.

He has spent the past summer in the Laurentians, and has brought back a great deal of canvasses, on which one can see a great deal of frankness and sincerity with nature.

One of Ayotte's friends, Francois Hertel wrote: "In Leo Ayotte's works, I consider above everything, his extraordinary pictorial understanding of the Canadian Manners. "In our country, light is strong, direct, implacable. When one has to express it gently in its whole simple poetic meaning, at that moment, art becomes uneasy, and this difficulty Ayotte knows how to master."

Leo Ayotte's works have been shown at the Mt. Royal Art Center, in 1964.

Doors will remain open at Howardene from 2 p.m. to five p.m. and 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. daily. Sunday is the last day of the exhibition.

Popular Richmond couple is feted on golden wedding anniversary

RICHMOND — Mr. and Mrs. Emile Martel, 1243 Main Street, a highly esteemed couple, were guests of honor at a delightfully arranged surprise party, given Oct. 23 in their honor by their daughter, Juliette, Mrs. Gerard Carrier, Mrs. Augusta Bourbeau and Mrs. Henri Beauvion, on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

On entering the room the celebrants were welcomed by Rev. Roland Bacon, of Sherbrooke University, formerly of Richmond, a close friend of Mr. and Mrs. Martel. Father Bacon gave a short address, of congratulations and expressed the good wishes of their many friends.

A corsage was presented to Mrs. Martel and a boutonniere to Mr. Martel, after which they were escorted to a seat of honor.

During the evening a singing, with Miss Rebecca Sevigny as pianist, was enjoyed, followed by a social evening reminiscing.

Lucien Cormier, M.C., extended congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Laflamme of Sorel, who recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Laflamme is a sister of Mrs. Martel.

Mr. Cormier, on behalf of those present, presented Mrs. Martel with a gold birthday ring, she having celebrated her birthday on Oct. 25 and to Mr. Martel a set of gold cuff links engraved with the K of C crest. A bouquet of roses from their family and friends was presented to the guests of honor by Mrs. Carrier, also a bouquet of chrysanthemums and roses from Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Laflamme.

The house was attractively decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers.

At the close of the evening, refreshments were served from the tea table, centred by a unique arrangement of a colonial bouquet, consisting of miniature cakes, iced in yellow, with natural rose leaves and a large bow of gold ribbon, flanked by lighted gold tapers in gold holders. The numeral 50 in gold completed the decor.

Those assisting in serving were Mrs. Lucien Bergeron, and Richard and Jean-Luc Carrier, grandsons of the honored guests.

Out of town guests attending were from Sorel, Pierreville, St. Jerome, Windsor Mills and Drummondville.

St. Patrick report cards given parents

At a recent meeting of the St. Patrick High School, students' report cards were given to the parents of the students. The report cards were not marked in percentages but in letters. This is the first time that letters have replaced numbers. This is because the school has been taken over by lay teachers after the Salesians, a religious order, left on orders from the Father Provincial, last September.

The principal, R. C. McConnell, said that many parents would be satisfied with their children's results. Others would not be but "all would get the truth."

At the same time, the school's chaplain, Rev. Julian Clark, was introduced to the audience and it was explained that students would receive a religious education of love based on the Ecumenical Council.

The chaplain gives a weekly talk, which is usually on Thursday, to the boys. The boys have voluntary confession as they are not to be pushed to receive the sacrament. This has a wonderful effect the principal said.

The full staff of teachers was introduced to the audience. The principal in his introduction stated that all were qualified teachers.

At the end of the meeting, the Mothers' Club served refreshments in the cafeteria.

Mitchell School children are taught road safety

LEARNING THROUGH PICTURES — Teacher Mrs. R. Harrison, of Mitchell School looks on as second graders

Peter Bishop, and Mary Wright learn traffic safety through posters. The students receive traffic safety instruction twice a week. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

Safety, to adults, is a natural thing, but for many children safety does not come naturally.

Many schools have traffic safety taught to the youngsters in Grade 2. Recently the Record paid a visit to Mitchell School and sat in on a class in safety instruction.

Mrs. R. Harrison, of Grade 2, room 16, taught the children not to cross between parked cars and to wait for any oncoming cars.

The children, in learning about the traffic rules, use riddles, which they either make up or solve for themselves.

By KARL KRAMER
(Record staff reporter)

Many posters, pamphlets, the blackboard and movies are used to stress to the students the importance of traffic safety.

Mrs. Harrison teaches 27 children, about seven years of age, twice a week (generally on a Friday) for about 20 minutes.

The children are taught to obey traffic lights, and other signs they meet in their every-day walks to and from school.

The youngsters are also expected to obey the school patrol. This brigade is made up of 28 boys whose function is to help the children cross the road safely.

The patrol is headed by one of the teachers at Mitchell School, Mr. Penny.

Principal George McClintock explained that this was the second full year of the brigade's operation. Last year 28 boys were awarded crests as participants in the brigade.

Mr. McClintock said he hoped that next spring a bicycle inspection will be held. He said that one of the local service clubs looks after this. This inspection is done for French language pupils regularly.

Anglican Laymen meeting is held

The Annual Meeting of the Eastern Townships Anglican Laymen's Association was held in Lennoxville, St. George's Parish, on November 4.

The meeting was preceded by Evensong in the Church. The Officiant was Jim Gardiner, a Lay Reader of Windsor. The Lessons were read by Don Masters. The address was given by Dr. Lee Watson. Dr. Watson spoke on the Highlights of General Synod, held during the summer in Vancouver. The men of the Parish Choir were joined by members of the district choirs.

At 9-15 the regular business meeting was opened by the President, Robert Mathews. On behalf of the Parish, Archdeacon Matthews welcomed the guests. The roll call indicated that there were representatives from the majority of parishes in the district.

Archdeacon Matthews introduced the guest speaker, Fr. Dandenaull, in French. Fr. Dandenaull, of the R. C. Seminary of Sherbrooke, spoke on the general subject of the Vatican or Ecumenical Council. He treated such subjects as its implications to the laity, the questions the church is asking itself, its relations with other Christians, etc.

Fr. Dandenaull touched mainly on four topics: a) What is the Church of Christ? b) How should the Church be presented to the world? c) The Ecumenical Movement—What do we share in common, sources of divisions, relations with non-Christian Religions. d) Dialogue between the Church and the World at large.

The speaker was thanked in French by Herb Simons.

An invitation for the 1966 meeting was received from Fr. Denton, rector of East Hatley. Elected from this parish were president, Tom Ride; Secretary, Carl Mayhew; from Drummondville, vice-president, Fred West.

The Bishop's Letter was read. Canon Seeley of Thetford Mines was elected Honorary Clerical President, replacing the late Canon Bown. The collection was turned over to Anglican World Mission.

Bury social notes

Rev. and Mrs. Donald Switzer, of Washburn, Me., were afternoon tea guests of Mrs. Irene Flanders and Mrs. George Parsons. They were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Parsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rowell attended the funeral of Mr. Horace McVetty at Sawyerville and later called on Mr. Wesley Rowell at East Clifton. Mrs. Stuart Dougherty and daughter, Joyce, are spending a few days in Montreal, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Quinn. Mr. Barry Parsons has returned home from the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he underwent an appendectomy.

Due to the unprecedented heavy snowfall on October 28, the oyster supper, slated for that evening by the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Church, was postponed until the following evening, when there was a good attendance with gratifying results.

OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL C.W.L.

DeLorme, in the chair. Following the opening, Mrs. DeLorme introduced a new member, Mrs. Doris Poirier, welcoming her to the council.

A report was given of the recent Chicken Salad Tea, the returns of which had proved extremely gratifying. Mrs. M. Cloutier, general convener, thanked her committee for their splendid co-operation in the organization of the event. The president, expressed her appreciation to Mrs. Cloutier for her excellent work, and commended several of the members whose individual efforts had contributed in a special way to its success.

Mrs. S. Veilleux, spiritual convener, made several announcements regarding religious functions, and asked the members to bring their used winter clothing, gifts, etc. to the Church Hall on Tuesday, Nov. 16 for shipment to the Canadian missions.

In her report on social welfare, Miss Ave Walsh acknowledged the kindness of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club who had supplied shoes for needy children. She also displayed the hand-knitted mittens, given by Mrs. A. Vallee, thanking her for her donation to the Christmas boxes.

Mrs. Paul McKenna, convener of education requested the renewal of the Catholic Digest subscription to the Sherbrooke Library.

The combined reports of the hospital conveners, Mrs. C. P. Steele, Mrs. D. Pechie, Mrs. F. E. Sheeley and Mrs. S. Hansford totalled 61 calls, representing 10 hours of visiting.

Miss Gladys Mullins, parish librarian, extended an invitation to a Book Exhibit in the Canon Fissette Memorial Library on Wednesday, Nov. 17, when Rev. Mother St. Elizabeth, Librarian at Marymount, will deliver a talk on children's reading.

Following adjournment of the meeting, Mrs. B. W. Murray introduced the guest speaker, Miss Olivette Roy, of the Victorian Order of Nurses, who spoke about the origin and purpose of her organization and the nature of the duties performed in this rewarding field of nursing. Miss Roy, mentioned the educational aspect of their services, whereby they frequently instruct a member of a family in properly caring for an invalid, and where necessary point out the possible errors in their diet or some other condition which may have caused the disease or disability under treatment. To further illustrate the extent of their work, she ran a few movies showing the Blue girls, going about their daily rounds of mercy. During the course of her talk, Mrs. Andrea Leveque was reminded of a poem V.O.N. written by the late Alice Elizabeth Wilson, one of Sherbrooke's leading poets, which had been set to music by her mother, the late Mrs. Josephine D. Codere, prominent pianist and composer of this city, and as a tribute to the speaker, read the lyrics of this lovely little song:

In and out about the town,
A little car runs up and down,
To bear a busy nurse in blue,
Wherever there is work to do;
A nurse who comforts in distress,
And sheds a ray of happiness,
For shadows seem to scatter,
When we call the friendly V.O.N.

Miss Ave Walsh expressed the thanks of the council to the guest speaker for her interesting talk.

New beauty trails for skiers

Tina Case Breckenridge

Count skiers and skaters as one. In the pursuit of their sports, they put their skins and hair through a course that would dismay even the most ardent sun-tanners.

Luckily, this year, something extra beautiful has been done for you snow- and -ice girls.

For the muscle-soothing bath that's imperative the minute you climb out of your parka, there's a new milk bath preparation which whips the water into a swirl of cerulean blue velvet and creamy foam. The milk bath contains real milk - and all its famed body benefits. Plus softening, smoothing oils and special water-softening agents. Consequently, a combination massage, smoother, fresher and perfumer. A nice team!

Follow-up to this new body creme which amplifies the bath's softening process as well as retards the loss of natural moisture in the skin. We all know by now how important moisturizing ingredients are in facial preparations. The same holds true for the skin of your body which is even more inclined to chapping and roughening.

Packing your bag without a big jar of night cream is like forgetting your skis. But if you dislike going to bed laden with a greasy preparation, look into that paradox of an emollient which is loaded with rich oils, but isn't heavy or greasy. It disappears almost like that on a baby's cheeks when it's asleep.

This year, with the Aspen fur helmets Jackie Kennedy made popular, hair is going to go limper and flatter than ever after a strenuous run. Best thing to do is to have one of the new shorter coiffures - and then give the hair body with a push-button foam permanent that's so easy - and so vital for hair that bounces back into place.

For a quick hair pickup, roll your hair in place, then spray lightly with either a firm hold or soft hold spray - depending on the type best for you. If you're overloaded with spray, re-activate the spray by running a slightly dampened comb through your hair. Then with rollers, pins and a push, your hair will revive.

Miss Claire Chapman, as maid of honor, wore a princess line street length dress of dark green nylon velvet, with matching velvet crown. She carried a bouquet of tangerine carnations with tulle trim.

The bridesmaids, Miss Ann Nugent, sister of the groom, Miss Helen Buttemer, cousin of the bride and Miss Betty Ann Wells, wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor, but in jade green nylon velvet. Their bouquets and hats were also the same.

Mr. Keith Peak acted as best man and the ushers were Messrs. Sandy Kingsley, brother of the bride; Howard Chapman, Lennoxville; and Robert McMurray, of Ontario.

Mrs. Kingsley, mother of the bride, chose a two-piece suit of natural silk, a beige hat with milk trim, and brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mrs. Nugent, the groom's mother, wore an Original tricoose three-piece suit in royal blue, matching hat, black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride and groom were piped from the church by Piper

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. W. Nugent.

Every mother ought to tell her daughter: That a man may improve with marriage, but she had better not count on it. That certain undesirable traits in a man are almost sure to get worse instead of better as time goes on. These include stinginess, laziness, a wandering eye and a bad disposition. That many a wife who offered to work or "a year or two" after marriage discovers that a husband easily grows accustomed to the extras two pay checks provide and the "year or two" stretches on and on. That if she doesn't want to pick up after her husband all the days of her life she had better not ever start it. That the greatest threat to marriage is boredom so a wife should keep things stirred up enough to be interesting. That nagging a man will get her nowhere. That the wifely words a husband resents the most are "I told you so."

That the most sensible thing to do about a husband's faults and shortcomings is to accept them and work around them. That when a husband tells a funny story a good wife's laughter leads all the rest, no matter how many times she has heard the story before. That in - laws who give a young couple "everything" almost always include a lot of advice with the loot. That if a woman puts her children ahead of her husband she shouldn't be surprised if he puts something or somebody ahead of her. That a husband who is used to being told he is wonderful by his wife isn't flattered out of his mind if some other woman happens to tell him the same thing.

PRIZE

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Do you know anything more enchanting than a baby trying to figure out what the world is all about? But the cunning way to delight your eyes and unlock your smiles. It's an important part of his (or her) mental development. For what is curiosity but curiosity? And curiosity is one of the great teachers. It leads to learning through looking, listening, touching, tasting, etc., unfolding untold mysteries for your baby.

Speaking of a pleasant experience, when your baby has a few teeth, he (or she) will enjoy the texture of Gerber Junior Foods. They have a nice, evenly-minced texture, just right for trying out those tiny new teeth. Particles are small enough to be swallowed without chewing, of course. Meats, dinners, meat dinners, vegetables, fruits and desserts all come in this junior texture—in handy glass jars.

Gerber Junior Foods (like all the good Gerber Foods for baby) are "custom-cooked." Some foods can be flash-cooked; others require a slower process. Each food is cooked according to its individual requirements, to help preserve food values for your baby.

Curiosity corner. Your baby's curiosity should be encouraged. And it's so easy! You might try these tricks on for size:

- Glint 'n' glitter mobiles over the crib, or playpen help eye movement and understanding.
- Sweet mother-talk and soft music are fine for ear training.
- Various toys, in different textures and sizes, are good for teaching through touch.
- Meaty main dishes, small-fry style. Gerber Strained and Junior Meat Dinners are wonderful meat-vegetable combinations for your little one's lunch or supper. They have three times the meat of our regular dinners (and that means more protein for your baby). Beef, Chicken, Ham, Lamb, Turkey or Veal with Vegetables—hearty meats blended deftly with flavour-bright vegetables for tempting, nutritious "casseroles." Gerber Baby Foods, Niagara Falls, Canada.

Junior pupils entertained at Hallowe'en party

ROCK ISLAND — The annual Hallowe'en party for the junior school students of Sunnyside was held on Oct. 30 in the recreation room and was attended by approximately 45 girls and boys, all in costume.

Earlier in the week, the school principal had asked the students to come in original costumes, not purchased ones, and everyone showed up in a home-made costume, many made by the students themselves, others being assisted by their parents or older sisters and brothers.

The judges had a difficult time in choosing but finally agreed to give the prizes to Charles Greer, as Robin Hood, Michael Rollins, as a Robot. The camel was the center of attention as Philip Prangle and David Poaps portrayed the animal, with Douglas Mooney, the driver. These three lads had made the frame from crutches and a hockey stick covered with canvas. The two old ladies were Billy Jarvis and Randy Dewey. There were also eight honorable mentions.

The judges were Mrs. Ralph Rogers, Miss Doreen Neill and George Alexs.

Brides of the Century Pageant is presented by UCW at Cowansville

COWANSVILLE — The High School Gym was filled to capacity on Oct. 26 when bridal gowns of the past century were shown by models.

The evening commenced at 8 p.m. with a welcome by Mrs. K. Winsor, president of the General United Church Women. The Bridal Pageant was undertaken by all groups of the local UCW, when it was found to be too much of an undertaking for the Unit F group, where the idea was originated by their president, Mrs. F. Sanborn.

Mrs. F. Archer gave a short reading on how brides were wooed and wed in the Stone Age after which a humorous skit was acted out by Miss Eleanor Archer and Miss Linda McKell.

The first gown, modelled by Mrs. Wm. Gilmore, dated back to 1864, a beautiful brown taffeta dress, worn by Mrs. Lappin of Stanbridge, the grandmother of Mrs. Doris Quinham.

The next gown was borrowed from the museum in Stanbridge

East. It was worn by Miss Garlick, of Dunham, who married Mr. Bartlette in 1868. It was modelled by Eleanor Archer. In 1870 Miss Letitia Cowan was married to Mr. Robert Keach in Mansville, wearing the gown modelled by Miss Marjorie Alger. A beautiful blue tea gown from the trousseau of Miss Frances Galer of Dunham, who was married to E. E. Spencer, in 1873, was shown by Mrs. F. Royea. The next gown belonged to Miss Nellie Marvin of Massachusetts and was worn at her marriage to Mr. John G. Gibson of Cowansville in 1882. It was modelled by Miss Joan Sanborn.

FAMILY HEIRLOOMS
Another museum piece, dating back to 1897, was a gown worn by Violet Burnet of Brigham, modelled by Margaret Mason. In 1901 Miss Emma Spencer married Dr. Thos. Slack in Frelighsburg in a beautiful cream brocade dress with bustle, the material for this dress was brought from England and the dress was made at Henry Morgans. The veil had been worn by seven brides. It was modelled by Pat Teel.

A lovely maroon silk dress, with velvet appliques and leg of mutton sleeves, was modelled by Mrs. Fred Royea and dated back to 1905, when Miss Maud Taber became the bride of P. C. Dodge in Mansville. In 1906 Miss Margaret Bullard was married to Henry Welch. Her gown was made by a friend who was a dressmaker at the Court of King Edward VII, and was modelled by Eleanor Archer.

In 1908 Miss Mary Stevens married Oscar Selby in Dunham. Her gown was re-modelled in 1941 and worn by her daughter, Evelyn, for her marriage to Robert Robinson. The veil was first worn by Mrs. Selby's mother, Miss Jane Spencer, who married Levi Stevens in 1862, then by Mrs. Selby and both her daughters. The dress was modelled by Patricia Teel.

Miss Margaret Mason modelled a woollen travelling suit worn by her grandmother, Miss Aris Humphrey, who was the bride of Wm. Mason in Fordyce in 1907. During the last year of World War I Miss Margerie Harrison wore a beautiful white silk dress with beads at her marriage to Russell Dougherty in Bury, modelled by Maureen Forster.

Five of the models presented the Signs of a fan flirtation, read by the commentator, Mrs. Arthur Tanner, after which there was a twenty minute intermission when homemade candy and cakes were sold by the CGIT girls, assisted by boys of the high school.

VARIED STYLES
There were 33 gowns in all, dating from the year 1864 to 1965. Styles varied with the years from the lines with the long train of the thirties to the straight lines of the forties.

Evening Group of UCW meets at Ayer's Cliff

AYER'S CLIFF — The evening group of the United Church Women was held in the church Hall on Oct. 27 with Mrs. Sheldon True and Mrs. Howard Keeler as hostesses.

Mrs. Ruth Waite was in the chair in the absence of Mrs. Sheldon Fleming.

Mrs. Gordon McHarg led the devotional period.

A request from the supply and Social Assistance committee was read. Named on a committee, to fill as many as possible of the requested articles were Mrs. Della Mitson and Mrs. E. J. Astbury.

Mrs. Nelson Pierce distributed Christmas catalogues and asked members to have orders for cards and gifts in by Nov. 15 if possible.

Plans for the Christmas sale and tea to be held on Nov. 25 were made with the following committees:

Menu: Mrs. Nelson Pierce, Mrs. Sheldon True; Mrs. Howard Keeler, Mrs. Kenneth Blake; Christmas Tree for children: Mrs. Gordon Temple; sales table: Mrs. Leonard Martin; Mrs. Claire Libby; jewelry table: Mrs. Willard Rexford; candy table: Mrs. Walter Keeler; food table: Miss Clara Wyman, Mrs. Walter Berwick.

It was unanimously decided that pre-school age children would be admitted free.

The joint meeting of the afternoon and evening groups will hold its get-together on Nov. 10 at 2:30 in the Church Hall.

The nominating committee to report at that meeting is Mrs. Della Mitson and Mrs. Doris Goode, to work in conjunction with ladies from the Afternoon Group.

School prizes are presented at East Angus

EAST ANGUS — Over 40 parents and friends visited the Elementary School on Oct. 22. The principal, Mrs. L. Waldron, welcomed the guests.

The chairman of the East Angus School Board, C. Willard presented prizes to the following pupils:

Grade 1, first, Wendy Beattie; second, Lynda Eustace.
Grade 2, first, Brian Bishop; second, Joyce Buttemer.
Grade 3, first, Shelley Knapp second, equal; Wendy Eustace and Heiko Mues.

Health prizes, donated by the Women's Institute, were presented by Miss E. McLellan to the following:

Grade 1, Steven Rowe;
Grade 2, Melody Knapp;
Grade 3, Keith Mackey.

Following the prize giving, the new flag of Canada was dedicated and raised, after which the pupils of Grade 4 gave a few appropriate remarks regarding the meaning of the flag to them.

The guests attended a hobby show where the children of Grades 3 and 4 had their hobbies on display. The hobbies included painting, drawing, cake-making and collections of stamps, cars, dolls, etc.

There was only one dress available from the war years, a beautiful gown with a hooped skirt, worn by Miss Marion Selby in 1943 at her marriage to Wm. Stowe and modelled by herself.

The 1850's showed beautiful bouffant gowns with billowing skirts of tulle and lace. Gowns of the 60's showed a striking contrast, changing back to floor length gowns on empire lines.

The task of modelling these lovely gowns was ably handled by Mrs. Wm. Gilmore, Mrs. Wm. Stowe, the Misses Irene Tropper, Sandra and Maureen Forster, Marjorie Alger, Joan Sanborn, Margaret Mason, Patricia Teel, Eleanor Archer, Mrs. Fred Royea and Mrs. Douglas Smith, who modelled her own gown.

At the close of an enjoyable evening, Miss Sandra Forster presented Mrs. Tanner with a bouquet of roses in appreciation of her fine work as commentator. Mrs. Royea thanked those who helped in any way to make the evening a success.
