THURSDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 3.

EARLY INFANCY.

Doctors Speak of its Problems Before the Local Council of Women.

HOW THE APPALLING LOSS OF LIFE IN MONTREAL MIGHT BE MINIMIZED.

The hundreds of babies in Montreal who enter life only to leave it again after a short and miserable experience, will surely have a chance for their lives should the plans proposed in their behalf materialize.

At a meeting of the Local Council of Women held yesterday afternoon, Dr. Laberge, city medical health officer, discussed the deplorable mortality among children under two years old, and suggested ways in which efforts should be directed to lessen the enormous death rate. Who is to undertake the problem? the doctor asked. He did not think it could be as well undertaken by the government as by a philanthropic society. The great need was to educate the people on the proper care of their children. A brass-buttoned official could not find out how the mother was trying to rear her child, and direct her in the right way, as could a friendly visitor from an association.

Dr. Laberge enumerated some of the present conditions which needed to be remedied. Overcrowding in houses should be prevented. A great evil among uneducated mothers of the poor class was the abuse of narcotic syrups, which they gave to their suffering children in quantities, to still their crying, without knowing the injurious effects.

Public squares are too few in Montreal. The large ones are too far away to be of much use for the poor. In every ward there should be a small, tree-shaded square, as a breathing place for children of the poor.

The system of enforcing the payment of water rates, by cutting off the water supply from any delinquent citizen, was to be deprecated by the doctor in its application to the very poor. Every man, he thought, had a right to use the water from the river, and as the city sewage rendered what he could obtain for himself unfit for use, he should not be deprived of good water, even if he could not pay for it.

More public baths, with time set apart for mothers to visit them with their children, are a necessity.

There should be a free distribution of ice to the poor in the heat of summer, to keep the milk for the children fresh.

It is well known that light and the rays of the sun are necessary to keep a room healthy, and there should be a regulation to prevent the building of dark rooms in houses.

The doctor also recommended having the city covered by medical inspection. In this way, it could be found where the trouble among the poor lay, and much disease and many deaths could be prevented. Mothers should also receive skilled advice on the care of their children.

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Referring to the mortality among foundlings, which is about 96 percent, the doctor said he did not know that there was another place where these little unfortunates died in such numbers, without the public making an effort to protect them. Was not the government the parent of children, without other parents? But if the government has not the means to step in and care for them, might not each municipality be compelled to take the responsibility of its own foundlings?

Dr. Laberge advocated the formation of an association which might be called the Society for the Protection of Early Infancy, the members to be of both sexes. Such a society, by spreading education in the care of the family, the doctor thought, would do great good.

Dr. D. J. Evans gave an account of the work done by the Pure Milk League, first endorsing what had been said by Dr. Laberge. He would like to see all the charitable organizations in the city working hand in hand for the care of the child and the education of the parents.

The Pure Milk League, or 'Goutte de Lait,' had been formed with the object of providing for the poor pure milk suitably modified for the needs of the children; to disseminate literature on the care of the children; also to arouse a sentiment for the proper care and distribution of milk. On investigation, the league had not found any place where first class milk was delivered, and the way in which it is delivered is often very unhygienic, as where open jugs are left out all night on the doorstep.

The league began by establishing a central station, with a trained nurse in charge, and opening three branch stations. At the central station the milk was prepared, being modified in different degrees to suit the case. The food for each babe was put up in bottles packed in a separate box, and sent to the branch stations, to be distributed by the local nurse. Medical men in the district co-operated by reporting on the cases, and directing the parents in the use of the modified food. The nurses also talked with the mothers, who were anxious to learn when they saw their babies getting better under wiser care. The chief trouble was in the use of soothing syrups, and bottles with long tubes. In August and September, some five hundred bottles a day were being distributed, and when cooler weather and lack of funds made it necessary to discontinue the work, the mothers seemed very sorry. About one-fifth of the running expenses had been got back in payment from the families. It is hoped next year to have distributing stations all over the city wherever they are needed, where medical men can visit and mothers can bring their babies for inspection and advice. The city might be divided into districts, with nurses in attendance, who could go right to the homes, and give practical lessons in the care of the family. At the close of the two earnest addresses, McNaughton, who presided, said that an executive meeting of the Council would be held later to decide on what its work would be for the winter. Miss Derick, in the few minutes at her disposal, gave an interesting outline of the proceedings of the National Convention held in September, in Winnipeg. The spirit of the convention showed that the Council is binding together women of the whole country in work for the good of the country. The office-bearers are: First past president, Lady Drummond; first vice-president, Madame Thibaudeau; vice-presidents, Mrs. Bovey, Mrs. Robert Reid, Mrs. Francis McLennan, Madame Dandurand, Mrs. H. C. Scott, Mrs. J. B. Learmont, Lady Hingston, Mrs. Melinda de Sola, Mrs. John Cox and Mrs. Hanson. Organizing committee representing the president: Madame Thibaudeau, Mrs. MacNaughton, Madame Gerin Lajoie, Madame Dandurand and the secretary, Secretary, Mrs. Walter Lyman. Treasurer, Mrs. Duncan Macpherson.

POINTE AUX TREMBLES SKELETON. Quebec, Nov. 3.—An inquest was held at the morgue in this city yesterday on the skeleton found by the Grand Pacific surveyors in the woods at Pointe aux Trembles. From the evidence deduced there is every reason to believe the skeleton was that of William Trembles, who disappeared from Pointe aux Trembles about four years ago. His remains will be interred in St. Joseph cemetery. Cardinal was quite a serious character, and especially known to police, and reported to be a district of Quebec, having been frequently arrested for theft, etc.

HEALTH OF THE POPE. Rome, Nov. 3. The condition of Pope not having improved since yesterday, Dr. Lippini insists that His Holiness shall give no audiences today.

SPECIAL NOTICE. Two important events.—Important events are crowding fast upon the heels of each other with alarming rapidity,—each day brings along some notable circumstance which commands universal attention. To-day, election day, when all Canada decides for weal or woe. Tomorrow, Carsley's Bargain Day, the crowning event of the week's merchandising; truly a mercantile upheaval of financial and economical importance to thousands of Montreal's citizens and their households.—The S. ARRESTS MADE.

Five Men in Custody Charged With Conspiracy in St. Antoine Division.

OTHER ARRESTS ON THE SAME CHARGE IN MAISONNEUVE.

At about eight o'clock last night, in the Eagle Restaurant, 40 St. Lawrence street, Detectives Laberge, McLaughlin, Richard and Vincent arrested Alphonse Beauvais, Plessis street; Alfred Aubertin, Notre Dame street; George Bissonnette, Berri street; H. Levesque, Wolte street, and Oscar St. Jacques, Roy street, on a warrant sworn out by Mr. E. Edwin Howard, advocate, of Messrs. McLennan & Howard, acting under instructions from Mr. Charles A. Duclos, K.C., agent for Mr. H. B. Ames, Conservative candidate in St. Antoine division.

The charge was that the aforementioned did unlawfully conspire, confederate and agree together to commit an unlawful act, to wit: to commit the offence of personation at the election now about to be held in the electoral district of Montreal, St. Antoine division, of a member to represent the said electoral district in the House of Commons of Canada, on the 3rd day of November, instant.

When searched at the Central Police Station, the sum of $583.75 was found on Bissonnette. This consisted of one and two dollar bills and $13.75 in silver. Money in fractional currency and bills of small denomination was also found on the other prisoners.

Besides the money, each man had cards containing the names, addresses, occupations and other information about voters in the 'swamp' district of the St. Antoine division.

Bissonnette is the man who some four years ago was alleged to have caused the death of Zotique Dansereau, on Dorchester street, by striking him on the side of the head. For this he served four months in jail. He was discharged by Mr. Peter Lyall about two weeks ago for not attending to his work.

At about 6:45, at the time of the Duval murder on Notre Dame street, was arrested for assaulting Constable Gray. It is said that Aubertin, instead of Duval, was the intended victim of Antoine Giacconi, who is to be tried for murder at this term of the Court of King's Bench.

For several days the detectives have been watching these men, of whom Bissonnette seems to have been the leader. They met in a room at 29 St. Charles Borromeo street, where it is alleged they were schooled as to what they should do on the day of election. It is said they had gone to Ald. Ames's committee rooms and given the names of men whom Mr. Ames's henchmen concluded they intended to personate. After further evidence had been gathered the warrant was sworn out.

At about 6:45 last evening a telephone message was received at detective headquarters stating that the above and five other men were in the room on St. Charles Borromeo street. In a few minutes another message came saying that they had separated. Later on Bissonnette, Beauvais, Aubertin, Levesque and St. Jacques were arrested in the Eagle Restaurant. Cards found on Bissonnette contained certain cabalistic signs reading thus:

- M—Lyall.
- A—Ames.
- R—Mort.
- O—Doutoux.
- O—Introuvable.
- N—Telegraph.
- E—Person.

Other cards contained the following names and addresses:—Michael Brachaud, 311 Richmond street; Arthur Bedard, 78 Chatham street; George Bourbonnais, 71a Delisle street. It is said those are voters in the St. Antoine division whom the accused intended to personate.

They appeared before Judge Desnoyers this morning on the charge of conspiracy and all pleaded not guilty. Mr. G. Desaulniers, K.C., acted as counsel. Mr. Charles Duclos, K.C., the prosecutor, did not want them admitted to bail, which brought on quite a verbal tilt with Mr. Desaulniers, in which the latter declared it as his opinion that, had Mr. Duclos his own way, he would take measures to prevent all the Liberals in St. Antoine division from going to the polls. They were finally admitted to bail, however, in the sum of $800 personal and two sureties of $400 each, and remanded for enquete on Tuesday.

OTHER ARRESTS.

Simultaneously with the above five was arraigned Captain Taschereau Beauvais, 114 St. Louis street, on the charge of conspiracy with intent to personate in the Maisonneuve division. Mr. Charles Archer, K.C., appeared for him. He pleaded not guilty, and was admitted to $800 personal bail and two sureties of $400 each. They were furnished by Mr. Alexandre Beauvin and Mr. Joseph L. Marche, both contractors.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Ernest East was arraigned on a similar charge, preferred in the Maisonneuve division. Mr. Perin, K.C., acted as counsel. He pleaded not guilty, and gave bail for $800 and two sureties of $400 each, for his appearance on Tuesday.

At about 11:25 Michael Campeau, Rachel street, was brought in by Detective John McCall, also on the charge of intending to personate in the Maisonneuve division, and besides carrying a revolver without a permit. Mr. Archer, K.C., pleaded for him, and he pleaded not guilty, furnishing a personal bond of $800 and also two sureties of $400 each, signed by Roch Vallieres and Napoleon Monnest, for his appearance on Tuesday.

Electrotyping Plant FOR SALE.

A chance to secure valuable Machinery at a great bargain. Address — "ELECTROTYPY," P.O.B. 2234, Montreal.

Some spirited language was exchanged between the counsel for the defendants and the prosecution, and Mr. Archer, K.C., said he felt certain that the arrests made were simply for the purpose of preventing the accused from doing honest, square and able work for the Liberal party.

Mr. Charles Duclos, K.C., agent for Ald. H. B. Ames, said: 'We were able to obtain the evidence of which led to these arrests by Mr. Ames's thorough organization. About two weeks ago we found that they were up against the machine, and set ourselves to watch it. We soon found that men were being hired that they were to play. They did their work in a room at 29 St. Charles Borromeo street. This was another crowd operating only in "the swamp," and the evidence we have, I think, is very conclusive. If these men who were arrested and tell who the men were who were behind them, their punishment would probably be less—in case they are found guilty. The pertinent question is: Where did the $800 found on Bissonnette come from? Here is a poor fellow found in a barroom on the eve of a general election, with others, with his pockets full of money. We believe that there is also an English gang operating to-day in the upper part of the division. These men are known and our organization is after them. Other arrests may follow.'

DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL.

An inquest was held yesterday over the body of Edouard Poirier, who died at the Notre Dame Hospital on Monday as a result of injuries sustained by falling into the hold of the steamship 'New Glasgow' on Friday last. The evidence showed that Poirier's fall was purely accidental, and the jury returned a verdict to that effect.

METHODIST PULPIT CHANGES.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 3.—The Rev. J. Cooper Antliff, D.D., of Queen Street Methodist Church, has accepted an invitation to assume the pulpit of the Galt Methodist Church after the Conference in 1905. The Rev. E. E. Scott, of Galt, will go to Montreal.

ADULTERATED COFFEE.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Out of seventy-five samples of ground coffee collected and analyzed by the Inland Revenue Department, forty-five were found genuine, nineteen adulterated, eight doubtful and three in which the presence of chicory was declared on the packages. The adulteration for the most part consisted in the mixture of chicory, sometimes up to twenty percent.

THE MIKADO.

REGRETS THAT PEACE IS NOT RESTORED.

Tokio, Nov. 3.—1 p.m.—Upon the occasion of his birthday at luncheon to-day the Emperor briefly addressed his guests, extending welcome to the foreign diplomatic corps and ministers of state. During the course of his remarks he said: 'We regret that the time has not come to see peace restored in the Far East in realization of our desires.'

He then proposed the health of the sovereigns and rulers represented at his court and expressed the wish that the bonds of friendship existing between the respective countries might be drawn closer.

Baron D'Anethan, the Belgian minister, doyen of the diplomatic corps, responded, congratulating the Emperor on the day and expressing regret at the continuance of the war. Continuing, Baron D'Anethan said: 'We again express our wishes for peace and do so with more fervor when we contemplate with profound emotion the ravages already caused in suffering families and the thousands of noble victims on each side in the armies in the field, struggling and shedding their blood with a bravery that rises to the height of a sublime and indomitable heroism.'

THE RAILWAY COMMISSION.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—The Railway Commission will have a sitting to-morrow, to hear a number of applications which have been pending for some time. This will be probably the last meeting of the commission previous to its reorganization under the new chairman. The Bank street crossing case will have to be heard 'de novo' by the newly constituted commission.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

GENERAL.

NAVAL TRAINING.

S.N.—Where is there a training school for sailors in Canada? How old, and what size must one be to join the navy? Ans.—Boys are accepted for training ships from 15 to 18 years of age. The term is three years in length. For further information write to the secretary to the Vice-Admiral commanding British North America and West Indies Squadron, Halifax, N.S.

A SCOTCH POET.

S.D.W., New Glasgow.—Can you tell something about a Scotch poet by the name of Ferguson? He lived in Burns's time, the early part of it. Where and when was he born, and where and when did he die? What poems did he write, and what were the characteristics, etc., of his life? Ans.—Robert Ferguson, a Scottish poet, was born at Edinburgh, on Sept. 5, 1751, the third son of an accountant from Aberdeenshire. A bursary enabled him to get a good education at Dundee Grammar School and St. Andrew's University, where he began to write verses. He left college without any definite plan for life. His father had died, and after a brief sojourn with an uncle at Aberdeen, Robert found employment as a clerk in a lawyer's office. He continued his poetical composition, contributing to the 'Weekly Magazine.' His lively fancy, ability in conversation, and fund of humor made his company eagerly sought after, and at a time when men of all ranks met frequently in taverns and convivial clubs, he was led into excesses. In time he fell into a melancholy, and after a fall by which his head was injured, he became insane. After about two months' confinement in an asylum in Edinburgh, the poet died on Oct. 15, 1774. His poems had been collected and published in two volumes in 1778. Robert Burns was then in his fifteenth year. Later, he wrote of Ferguson:

'Oh, thou my elder brother in misfortune, By far my elder brother in the muses.'

In 1757, Burns erected a memorial stone over Ferguson's grave. Among his poems, few of which are very generally known, are 'Leth's Races,' 'The Farmer's Ingle' (which probably influenced Burns in his 'Cottar's Saturday Night'); 'On Seeing a Butterfly in the Street'; 'The Mutual Complaint of Plainstanes and Causey'; 'The King's Birthday'; 'Braid Claithe.'

MEDICAL.

HAIR FALLING OUT.

'Subscriber' is a girl, aged twenty-two. Has practically always been healthy. Since the age of sixteen her hair has been coming out nearly all the time, and is now very thin. Sometimes the head is very itchy, and small red patches about the size of a five-cent piece form and disappear. The hair is fine, fair, and rather dry. It is coming out in handfuls, and only grows to the length of six inches. She has very little dandruff. She washes the head only once a month, or every three weeks. It is also troubled with cold hands and feet. The hands are usually red when cold. The hands and feet never perspire. Ans.—It is likely that your scalp is affected with some form of eczema, as you have noticed small, inflammatory points or pimples. It is quite likely also that there is some dandruff there, although you may not have noticed it. I think it would be better to wash the head once weekly for a time at least. Use instead of soap some spirits of green soap. You will have to get this at a druggist's. If you cannot get it, dissolve some pure castile soap in rectified spirits until you get a fluid of thick syrupy consistency. Rub this well into the scalp, and then, after leaving it on five minutes, rub up into a lather with hot water. Finally wash off with hot water, as hot as you can stand, and douche with cold. Dry the hair gently with a towel and finish in a warm room. Do not braid or tie up the hair tightly at any time. Do not brush too vigorously. Apply every morning the following lotion: Resorcin, three drachms; castor oil, three drachms; oil of lavender, six drops; rectified spirits to make six ounces. For the poor circulation, you should take a moderate amount of out-door exercise. A cold bath every morning is a good thing for those who are fairly robust. It should be taken as cold as possible, so that after the bath is over the skin feels warm and tingling. It helps the circulation wonderfully. Be careful to rub yourself well afterwards with a rough towel until a healthy glow is produced. This will improve your general health as well.

A PLEASANT EVENING.

The box social given by Orient Council, Royal Templars, on Tuesday evening was very successful. The major portion of a very interesting programme was contributed by seven members of the Army and Navy Veterans' band, under Bandmaster Lewis. Besides playing selections on the fife and drums, several members sang solos which were well received. Mrs. Lamontagne, and Mrs. Spier, Werry and Copping also took part. The sale of the boxes afforded no small share of the evening's amusement.

A HUNTING FATALITY.

Trout Creek, Ont., Nov. 3.—Mr. Herbert Goad, of Toronto, with his wife and infant child, came to Trout Creek yesterday to spend a holiday. During the afternoon he went with some friends for a hunt. While going over a fallen tree Mr. Goad placed his gun on the ground with the muzzle pointing towards him, when, by some mischance, the gun went off and discharged the contents into his abdomen. It was loaded with buckshot, and three of the shot penetrated the body. His friends improvised a stretcher and carried him about four miles to the village. A doctor was called, but nothing could be done. Mr. Goad died about nine p.m., and the body was taken to Toronto this morning.

Women who Are Weak

AND SUFFER THE DERANGEMENTS PECULIAR TO THEIR SEX FIND THAT

CURES SUCH ILLS PERMANENTLY BY STRENGTHENING THE NERVES AND MUSCLES.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food stands high in the favor because it is especially adapted for overcoming the peculiar troubles of women. It is a run-down condition of the system, the muscles and nerves, the action of the digestive organs, there is bound to be suffering. Headaches, pains in the back and limbs, depression, feelings of discouragement, dependency, weakness and irritability rob life of the joys which otherwise be possible. Suffering medicines cannot possibly give more than slight temporary relief. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, by restoring the nerves and must be fully restored by such means as is afforded by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It is the action and vigor of the system fully restored, but new blood is added, the form is rounded, the weight is increased, and pain is away to that healthful glow of which tells of the full enjoyment of life. SYMONS, 42 St. Clair street, Montreal, states: "Some weeks ago I was afflicted with a severe headache, and I was advised to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and have found it a most satisfactory medicine. I was troubled with nervous exhaustion, weak, fluttering heart. When I began to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, my head cleared, my heart was strengthened, and my nerves became healthy, and the action of my system regular. I can recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as an excellent medicine." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, sold by all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Montreal. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous book author, are on every box.

SUFFERED MENTALLY.

EVIDENCE PROVES THAT WILLIAM BYDWELL WAS TEMPORARILY INSANE.

That William Bydwell, the C. P. R. brakeman, who shot himself in Mr. Jos. Manton's shop in Craig street, last Tuesday, was temporarily insane, has been proved by friends and relatives of the unfortunate man, of whom Coroner McMahon has made enquiry. The coroner has disposed of the case, giving a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane. The Rev. Canon Renaud, rector of St. Thomas's Church, told the coroner that Bydwell had been a member of his church for many years. He was a man of exemplary character and was not addicted to the use of either tobacco or liquor. He had been subject to violent headaches, and his heart also troubled him occasionally. He complained of trouble in his head on Sunday morning and in the afternoon went to the hospital at Verdun, but was unable to see Dr. Burgess. He worked on Monday and left his home to go to work again on Tuesday morning. His family never saw him again alive. Relatives of the deceased also testified that he was subject to periodical fits of insanity.

A TIMELY RESCUE.

CARPENTER FAINTS WHEN TAKEN FROM HIS PERILOUS POSITION.

Joseph Gravel, a carpenter, was at work on a scaffold yesterday afternoon repairing a cornice of a building at 82 Cadieux street, when a runaway horse dashed into the scaffold, wrecking it away and leaving Gravel hanging by his hands from an eave trough. After clinging to the pipe for some time he was rescued by a couple of sanitary inspectors who procured a ladder and brought him down from his perilous position. On reaching the ground Gravel fainted from exhaustion.

RESULT OF INQUEST ON BODY OF LUDGER MOUFFET.

An inquest was held at the morgue yesterday afternoon on the body of Ludger Mouffet, who was killed on Monday by falling from a new building at St. Henri on which he was engaged. The evidence showed that workmen employed by the Dominion Bridge Company were moving a derrick, when the scantling beneath Moffet slipped and he fell to the ground. His skull was fractured and he was killed almost instantly. The foreman (Mr. Caron, had previously warned the men to be very careful while working above ground. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and exonerated Caron from all blame in connection with the accident.

GRENADIER GUARDS BAND.

The programme which the Grenadier Guards Band will present at its concert here at the Arena on Saturday afternoon is as follows: March, 'Unity,' A. Williams; selection, 'Il Trovatore,' Verdi; piccolo solo, 'Silver Birds,' Le Thiere; soloist, W. Bullock; overture, 'Tannhauser,' Wagner; selection from 'Cavalleria Rusticana,' Mascagni; cornet solo, 'The Star of Bethlehem,' S. Adams; soloist, Corporal R. Gay; tuba and printer Lacombe; fantasia on songs, by Sir R. H. Bishop, arr. Hartmann; plautation sketch, 'By the Swanee River,' Myddleton.

GRAND TRUNK MUST PAY.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—A very important judgment was handed out by Mr. Justice Sir James Macdougall yesterday afternoon, when he ruled that the Grand Trunk Railway Company must pay part of the cost of the York street bridge. The Grand Trunk Railway claimed that by virtue of the Esplanade agreement, made between the company, the city and the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Grand Trunk Railway was relieved from paying anything towards the cost of the bridge, but not only the York street bridge, but any other bridge which might be built across the Esplanade in the future. Had the contention been upheld, the company would have been exempt from paying any share toward the Yonge street bridge, or any other such structure which might be constructed at any future time. The court did not decide what sum the Grand Trunk Railway will have to pay, because, under the agreement, the amount of liability will have to be settled by arbitration. It is likely that the case will be taken to higher courts.

OPPOSED TO CHURCH UNION.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—The supernumerary Methodist ministers of Toronto held their monthly meeting yesterday. The topic under discussion was 'Church Union.' A paper on the subject of 'The present aspect of the union question,' was read by the Rev. J. E. Sanderson, M.A. In this he came to the conclusion that the spirit of true Christian unity was best subserved by the close adhesion of those holding similar views. He thought that such was the strength of church ties that their disruption would cause much dissatisfaction and loss in members, with the possibility of future separations. Moreover, the changes involved in union would greatly interrupt the present well-organized equipment of the church in its various branches. For these reasons, and in absence of any strong general desire for union on any basis of federation on which even a considerable majority would agree, he believed it best for each church to proceed in its appointed sphere. The greater part of those present spoke on this subject and the majority concurred in these views.

VACANT CHAIRS.

NOMINATIONS FOR THE MONTREAL PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE.

The Rev. Dr. Ramsay and the Rev. Mr. Falconer, of Fort Massey Church, Halifax, will be nominated by the Presbytery of Ontario district for professorship in the Presbyterian College at Montreal, the former for the chair of Old Testament literature and exegesis, and the latter for the chair of apologetics and Church history. It was also decided to nominate the Rev. Dr. Armstrong as moderator for the next General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada.

IMPORTANT RAILWAY RUMOR.

Pere Marquette Railway officials in London, Ont., admit there is some truth in a rumor that the Erie Railway is negotiating for the purchase of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, and the Pere Marquette's system lately consolidated. They say, however, the rumor that (if the deal goes through) the Erie will build a new line from Sarnia to the Falls, via London, is news to them, and they place no faith in it, as the Pere Marquette now has running powers over the Michigan Central to the Falls and has its own line down through Diebheim to make connections with the Vauderbilt line from Sarnia.

BOARD OF TRADE.

BUILDING REVENUE NOW EXCEEDS EXPENDITURE.

The Council of the Board of Trade met yesterday afternoon when Mr. James Thom, the treasurer, presented his financial statement. It showed that the building revenue now exceeds the expenditure and that the Board is thus beginning to recover from the losses it sustained through the destruction of its building by fire. Revenue now exceeding expenditure, every year will see the Board in a stronger position. There were present Mr. George E. Drummond, president, and Messrs. W. I. Gear, first vice-president; Robert Munro, second vice-president; James Thom, treasurer; Andrew A. Allan, Leslie H. Gault, H. Mathewson, G. F. C. Smith, W. Thompson, and John T. Wilson.

CAR ROUTE CHANGE.

In consequence of the repairs that are being made on the street car lines in Ontario street, a change will be made from tomorrow morning in the running of Ontario street cars. They will run down St. Lawrence street and along Craig street, as far as Coté street, instead of along Ontario west and down Bleury street.

NATURALIZATION POSTPONED.

Petitions for the naturalization of some 150 members of the local Jewish colony, whose applications had been made some time ago, were presented in the Circuit Court yesterday, but the records were found to be incomplete, and the petitioners will have to wait a while before being declared British subjects.

JEFFERSON DAVIS'S PLANTATION.

(Augusta Chronicle.)

The present owner of the 'Jefferson Davis plantation,' in Mississippi, is Isaiah F. Montgomery, a colored man. He was a bright youth, and Joseph Davis, the brother of Jefferson Davis, owned him. Mr. Davis, attracted by the boy's sprightliness and good qualities, had him educated, and he was a famous pet on the plantation. He was always respectful, grateful and obedient as a bondman. He was faithful to the persons and interests of the Davis family, during the far and after it. He was permitted to purchase the old plantation, and nobody objected. He has the esteem of all Mississippians, and is now worth about three hundred thousand dollars. He is a type of many good old time negroes, and all white people wish him well. After the war, we are told, he tried to educate one of his sons, and even sent him to Europe to study medicine and become a doctor, but the project failed. The free son was not the equal of his once slave father. Isaiah Montgomery is respected in Mississippi, and deserves to be. He is a rare character, and the coming generation of his race might learn valuable lessons from his virtues, his patience and good sense.

THE KAISER'S COOKS.

(From 'Stray Stories'.)

Feeding the German Emperor is no light task. Despite all that is said about the Kaiser's Spartan habits, there are few monarchs who keep more elaborate tables. He has no fewer than four chefs—Schliedenstucker, a German; Harding, an Englishman; an Italian and a Frenchman—so that he can have his meals for the day served in the style of whatever nation he may happen to fancy. Each of these chefs has his staff of assistants, while, in addition, there is an individual who may safely be described as 'sausage maker to the Kaiser.' His Majesty is very fond of the huge white frankfurter sausage, and has a supply of them made fresh every day in his own kitchen. When engaged in manoeuvring his army on a big field day these frankfurters and bread, washed down with lager beer, invariably form the Kaiser's luncheon. In addition to all these cooks, there is a special staff to prepare meals for the younger of the princes and the princesses, who are not allowed to partake of the rich dishes the elder members of the family indulge in.

FOTHERINGHAY.

Visitors to the historic church of Fotheringhay (writes a correspondent) now find it in a sad condition:— 'Some time ago its restoration was begun, but the work has recently stopped through want of funds, and, on entering the great building, one finds a scene of complete desolation, the monuments erected by Queen Elizabeth over the tombs of her Plantagenet ancestors boarded up, the noble windows on one side without glass, and the aisle open to wind and rain. Fotheringhay Church was begun in 1415, and was finished by Richard of York, father of Edward IV., who is buried there. It has had an unfortunate history. The choir and the chapel built by Edward IV. fell into ruin at the Reformation, and in the eighteenth century the nave, which is all that remains, was shockingly neglected. Its splendid old stained windows were wantonly broken up. The historic site on the banks of the Noss, with its mounds that alone witness to the former existence of the glorious castle—the scene of the tragedy of Mary Queen of Scots—is today more than ever a melancholy one.—Westminster Gazette.'

The Daily Witness.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1904.

The 'Star' published an electioneering extra to-day in which it insinuated in suggestive black letters, that the 'Witness' had provided a railway 'pass' for the transportation of a voter from Toronto to Montreal. The facts, as stated by the 'Star,' of which we know nothing, contradict the pregnant innuendo contained in the word 'pass.' The publishers of the 'Witness' do not ask for passes or authorize any of their people to do so. If it takes tickets against an advertising account it pays for them in full, and does not waste them. We have only to say that if any one has been attempting to get the 'Witness' to pay for, or assume the responsibility of, the transportation of a voter he will find himself mistaken.

We should think that one result of the Baltic fleet incident would be the establishment of Marconi connection with every fishing fleet in the North Sea. There is always a hospital ship in attendance belonging to the deep sea mission which might well be charged with this duty. The fishermen might well pay something for the privilege of being in possible connection with their folk, if it were only to have their weather conditions regularly made known on shore. We hear speak to-day of a 'tragic fishing village' in England which almost every week seemed to mourn one dead. This was not on the North Sea coast, but anywhere it would surely be a relief to anxious wives to know by the absence of news that nothing tragic has happened. Apart from this, however, it would surely be of considerable advantage to the government, in the matter of weather observations and in other ways, to have such outpost service regularly maintained. This might be so done as to be a considerable help to the worthy Deep Sea Mission.

If the men arrested last night on a charge of conspiracy are found guilty, no pains must be spared to bring those who employed them to justice also. There are, unfortunately, in Montreal men who will commit frauds of all sorts in connection with elections, if they are only paid for it, as was proved in the St. James division only a short time ago. The remark has been expressed, over and over again, that, although the horse is the noblest animal, association with him has produced a desperate lot of blackguards; and it is also the case that the right of voting, the highest mundane right that we possess, is surrounded with the worst forms of blackguardism. Some of the noblest of men have been the friends and associates of horses, as well as the gipsy, the tout, the welsher, and the bookmaker, and it is still true, fortunately, that the majority of men regard the getting of good government for their country as part of their religion. On the other hand, there are the ballot stuffers, the imperatorators, the telegraphers, the bribed and the bribers of all descriptions, that exist like a foul sore or a loathsome parasite on the body politic. It is a disease, however, for which there is happily a remedy, and the public conscience now insists that that remedy shall be applied.

THE 'GAZETTE' AND NONSENSE.

The 'Gazette' disputes our assertion that 'the preference given to Great Britain was the starting point of our present wonderful prosperity,' and quotes figures to show that we are sending Great Britain just about the same proportion of our whole agricultural exports as we did eight years ago. That is true. Great Britain took eighty-five and a half percent of the whole then, and takes eighty-five and a half percent now. But, whereas she took forty millions then she takes ninety-five millions now. Surely that is the practical thing. As she is almost our sole customer, the important thing with us is the amount she can take from us, and the amount is two and three-eighths times what it was in 1896. The use of these percentages by the 'Gazette' is like the quotations made by the protectionists of Great Britain to prove the decay of the trade of that country. For instance, they will say, 'See how Great Britain's trade is falling behind, since it only increased, say, five percent in a certain period, while Germany's trade increased, say, for the same period, ten percent. They neglect to say, however, that, whereas Germany's overseas trade is of recent growth and comparatively small, England's trade has been commanding for several centuries. Double a cent and you have made a hundred percent, add ten dollars to a hundred dollars and you have only got a ten percent addition. Used in such a fashion, therefore, and that is also the 'Gazette's' fashion, such percentage figures tell a very partial story and are most misleading. The fair thing to do is to give the figures as we gave them yesterday. These we now repeat a little more in detail. On page 3 of the Canadian Trade and Navigation Blue Book, our total exports are given as $121,013,852, for the fiscal year 1896, the year the Laurier government came into power. For the fiscal year, 1903, we find that our exports had increased to $225,849,724, a gain of $104,835,872, or 86 percent odd. On page 4 of the same Blue Book we find that during the fiscal year, 1896, Canada exported to Great Britain goods to the value of $99,670,030, and that this had increased to $190,099,222 for the fiscal year, 1903, which is an increase of $90,429,193, or 91 percent. Our total trade, therefore, increased $104,835,872, and of this increase $90,429,192, or over 86 percent was with Great Britain. The percentage of Canadian agricultural products exported to the United States in 1896 was 12.65 percent of the whole. This had decreased to 7.46 percent last year, so that that country at least does not show an equal percentage of increase. It goes without saying that if our commerce continues to expand at the same rate as it has been doing during the past few years a time must come when Great Britain will not be able to keep up the enormous percentage of over 86 percent of all our exports, although she may actually take many more goods and pay us much more than she does now. We agree with the 'Gazette's' remark that 'There is an awful lot of nonsense talked about the 'British preference.'

THE TARIFF.

There can be no general revision of the tariff at the first session of the new parliament, because there is not sufficient time now remaining for the commission of enquiry that must precede such revision. In his last budget speech, the Minister of Finance said he hoped that the revision might be accomplished at the next session, but, it is evident, on account of the general elections this fall, and the promise of the government to call the Houses together as early as possible in 1905, that it will be impossible for Mr. Fielding and his fellow commissioners to visit the various provinces and satisfy themselves concerning the actual state of the various industries that call so loudly for higher customs protection. The delay will be a disappointment to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the ultra protectionist element of the Dominion, who assume that any revisions would be in their direction, but there will be general satisfaction among the consuming classes, especially throughout the west, who are afraid of any change, seeing that recent changes have been concessions to special interests. The prospect of further reductions in the scale of customs taxation cannot be said to be very bright, and it is fair to say that the agriculturists, miners, dairymen, fishermen, lumbermen, and consuming interests at large can blame themselves if they allow the call for tariff increases to go without reply.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues have reiterated in the campaign just closed that all classes of our population must be treated with equal consideration in the framing of our customs tariff, and that it cannot be drawn up for the benefit of one class alone. All elements of our population are clearly entitled to consideration, but to this end it is necessary for every class to make its legitimate influence felt. The largest element, the agricultural, has never exercised its real power in a matter that so much affects its interests. The reason of this is that the agricultural population of Canada is not organized as the manufacturing necessarily is, and has no equal means of exciting itself over its own interests, while the manufacturers have a clear, unanimous purpose which they have spared no pains to achieve. That the scale of customs duties has not been raised long ago, in response to the persistent dunning of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, is evidence that the Prime Minister and his Finance Minister realize that there is a strong undertone in an opposite direction.

There has not been a year since 1897 that the high protectionists of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association have not made unavailing appeals to Ottawa for a higher tariff all along the line. If the agriculturists, miners, fishermen, dairy farmers, lumbermen, and consuming interests generally, find the existing customs duties high enough, or, if they want further reductions in the burden of protection as distinguished from revenue taxation, let them make their voice heard at Ottawa. Those who do not wish their money taken to boost other men's businesses, could, if they could only make themselves heard, neutralize the efforts of the privileged class. Let their views be presented to the Finance Minister and his associates in tones that cannot be mistaken, so that the government will have no doubt as to the real desire of the electorate. The present Cabinet is made up of men elected to support a low tariff principle, but so insidious and so insistent is the campaign for ultra protection that the people at large will have themselves to blame, at least to some extent, if they do not see to it that their convictions are emphatically stated before the commission when the opportunity offers. Of course, if a majority of the constituencies were to vote Conservative to-day, a low tariff voter's opinions will get no hearing. Up will go the tariff, 'right away.'

THE GERMAN WAR IN SOUTH-WEST AFRICA.

A gentleman lately arrived in England from the German Protectorate in South-west Africa, where he has resided for some time, gives a rather discouraging picture of the condition of things there so far as German authority is concerned. The German forces have thus far made no real headway in subduing the rebellious Hereros. Now several powerful tribes occupying the hinterland of the Protectorate have also risen in rebellion against German rule. These tribes are a warlike race, the Zulu family and are well supplied with modern rifles and ammunition, which they have bought from German and Portuguese traders. He says that in the war with the Hereros the Germans have already lost nearly all their officers who were acquainted with the country, and have to depend on native guides, who are often in sympathy with the rebels. Colonial officers on the spot long since asserted the necessity of a vigorous policy with the natives, who have become more insolent and arrogant every year, but the poverty of the country and the desire for economy at Berlin has prevented anything like a suitable administration. This is not a general anti-foreign movement, for the British are held in high esteem and respect, this favorable opinion being largely based on the reports of natives who have gone into British possessions. He says that there are probably three hundred English people in German South-west Africa, chiefly in the south, and that the rebellious chiefs have given orders that the English are not to be molested.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDES.

HERMANN KROLL SHOTS HIMSELF WHILE FREDERICK ROOHELEDGE USES A RAZOR.

After following Augustine Miller, a young German girl, to this country from Germany, Hermann Kroll, discouraged because she refused to marry him, attempted to shoot himself at his boarding house, 57 Papineau avenue, last night. The bullet entered his left side near his heart and passed almost through his body. The physicians at the Notre Dame Hospital, to which institution he was removed, entertain but slight hopes for his recovery.

Augustine Miller, who is a pretty German girl, twenty-five years of age, arrived in Montreal from her native land about four weeks ago. She went to board with Mrs. Shelling, at 57 Papineau avenue. Kroll had been in love with the young woman in Germany, and when she left for this country he decided to follow her. He arrived in the city on Saturday and succeeded in finding out her address. He went immediately to Mrs. Shelling's and rented a room in her house. Here he met Miss Miller frequently, and during the past five days has asked her repeatedly to become his wife, but did not succeed in gaining her consent.

Last night he met the girl and made a final appeal to her. Meeting with another refusal, he produced an old-fashioned revolver of German make and, pointing it at his own body, fired. The ambulance was summoned and Kroll was removed to the Notre Dame Hospital. The physicians succeeded in finding the bullet, which was lodged in his back, but his condition is considered to be very critical.

ANOTHER CASE.

Frederick Rooheledge, 35 years of age, of 539 1/2 St. Urban street, attempted to put an end to his existence by cutting his throat with a razor at his home last night. He was found lying in a pool of blood by some of the members of his family and was removed at once in the ambulance to the General Hospital. On examination it was found that he had inflicted two deep gashes one on each side of the windpipe. The doctors at the hospital expect that he will recover.

Rooheledge has a wife and family living at 539 1/2 St. Urban street. His relatives are unable to understand why he should wish to end his life.

A VISITOR FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

Mr. Arthur Fitzgerald, civil engineer, of Johannesburg, who was in the city yesterday, and who left in the afternoon for Chicago, talking at the C. P. R. about the situation in South Africa, said that if care was not taken the war with the Boers would have been fought in vain. That is to say, Mr. Fitzgerald feels strongly that with the preponderance of blacks, and the introduction of Chinese labor, there is a possibility of the country becoming a country of color. England fought not merely for British supremacy, but for a South Africa which would become the home of her surplus populations. So far, what is seen is that the blacks grow and multiply, while the whites are at a standstill. The mine owners, desirous of fat profits, do not want white labor; they want the cheapest labor in the east; and this, in time, may change the whole ethical complexion of South Africa.

HIGHBINDERS IN NEW YORK.

PROMINENT MEMBER OF THE REFORM LEAGUE SHOT DOWN THIS MORNING.

New York, Nov. 3.—A shooting affray with many features resembling the high-binder outrages of the San Francisco Chinese quarter, which occurred in Chinatown early to-day, may result in the death of Mock Duck, one of the most prominent members of the reform movement in the local Chinese colony. Mock was waylaid as he was passing through Pell street, and one of two bullets fired at him lodged in his abdomen, making an extremely dangerous wound.

When his alleged assailant, who was captured as he was running down Pell street, was being taken to the patrol box by a policeman, the couple were surrounded by three other Chinamen with drawn revolvers, demanding the release of the prisoner. The situation was becoming serious when a dozen police reserves arrived, and found the policeman and his prisoner backed up in a doorway, the officer holding back the three armed Chinamen. The would-be rescuers fled when the reinforcements arrived. Near the scene of the shooting the police found a revolver with a twelve-inch barrel and a hunting knife with a blade eight inches long. The man under arrest is Lee Sing, a laundryman. Mock was tried for the murder of a fellow Chinaman about two years ago, but was acquitted. Immediately after his release from prison he became active in the Chinese quarter in co-operation with the Parkhurst Society. By his work Mock has gained the enmity of many of his fellow countrymen, against whom the work of the society was directed, and he had frequently been threatened with death.

ROYAL ARCANUM.

There was a record attendance of officers, members and visitors at the identification meeting of Prince Albert Council, 1293, R. A., held last evening in their council room, Inglis building. There were nine past regents present, besides a large number of old members who are infrequent visitors. The 'Dorchester Degree' was conferred upon Mr. Robert J. Sutthorpe, and four applications for membership were read. The council last evening decided to entertain the supreme regent on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 17, at a reception to which members of the Royal Arcanum and ladies are to be invited. The degree staff will initiate a class of candidates. It will be a gala night for old Prince Albert. After the business meeting last evening a pleasant hour was spent in the banquet hall, refreshments being served and a national anthem.

SALE OF WORK HELD IN ROOM OF TAYLOR PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The sale of work held in the room of Taylor Presbyterian Church last evening was very successful. Rev. W. D. Cochrane opened the sale, and read a neat little speech. He also had a cheque to the Rev. W. D. Reid, in accordance with a promise made some time ago, that if the people would donate sufficient funds by November 1st, he would wipe off the debt of $1,800, he would donate that sum. There was much giving and selling, and the amount received at the end of the sale on Monday is expected to be the largest ever taken in.

MR. A. T. TAYLOR HONORED.

WELL-KNOWN ARCHITECT ENTERTAINED AT PLACE VIGIER HOTEL.

A pleasant function took place last evening at the Place Viger Hotel, where a luncheon was held by the Quebec Association of Architects in honor of Mr. A. T. Taylor, the well-known Montreal architect, a past president of the association, who is leaving the city to travel abroad. During the evening Mr. Archibald was presented with a handsome travelling bag with initials. Addresses were made by Mr. John Archibald, president of the Association, Mr. Joseph V. Perrault and Mr. Browne. Those present included Messrs. Taylor, Archibald, Verne, Perrault, Browne, Chausse, Resther, MacVicar, Heriot, Davis Hogle Lacroix.

TELEPHONES IN HOSPITALS.

(Electrical World and Engineer.) In Philadelphia, it is stated, telephones are to remove the barrier between patients of the Municipal Hospital and their friends in the outside world. Edward Martin, director of the Department of Public Health and Charities has completed arrangements whereby a complete telephone system is to be installed in the Municipal Hospital, with telephones in each ward, so that direct communication between without and within may be had. Hitherto the hospital entrance to which is forbidden to even the nearest relatives of patients, has been connected with the world by a single wire from a central exchange through the Electrical Bureau in City Hall. Communication was irregular and slow. With an exchange on each floor and in each ward it is believed that enquiries regarding the condition of patients can be answered speedily and satisfactorily both to patient and to friends.

IVORY FROM THE GRAVES OF ELEPHANTS.

As a species of rejunior to the charge that the present consumption of ivory is threatening the elephant with extinction it has recently been stated that 85 percent of the supply of ivory is obtained from 'elephant cemeteries'—spots met with here and there in the jungle where elephants have resorted for centuries to die. W. L. Dainton, editor of the 'Zoologist,' points out that very few of these spots seem to have been discovered by travellers, and scarcely any record of them is to be found in books of travel.

HAIR WHITENED IN A NIGHT.

(London 'Express' Oct. 19.) As Mr. John Burrows, organist of the Square United Free Church, Dundee, was descending the cellar steps of the church on Sunday night with a lighted taper in his hand a tremendous explosion occurred, and he was thrown back the steps with such force that he was stunned. Every window in the church was shattered, a wall thrown down, and greater interior damage done. Yesterday Mr. Burrows' hair, which was previously dark, and turned to white, though his beard retains its natural color.

TRAINING A CHILD IN THE USE OF MONEY.

(Prof. W. L. Hervey, in 'Mantuaquian') Training in responsibility and judgment in the use of money is within the reach of every family, even the poorest. It has never been seen in children so poor as to have never spending money. To be given the responsibility for the spending, saving and giving away of the money, increasing amounts, according to the age of the boy and the circumstances of the family, is one of the most educative experiences.

THE FASTEST TRAIN IN EUROPE.

The North Eastern Railway Company proposes to run next month from London the quickest train in Europe. The 100 miles to Edinburgh will be covered in four hours nineteen minutes, or thirty minutes faster than the Midland train. The speed between York and Darlington will exceed sixty-one miles an hour. The speed between Leeds and Edinburgh will average nearly a mile a minute. The coming expresses to the Scottish coast from the capital of the West Indies promise to beat the world's records in the way of speed.—New York 'World.'

A NIGHT WORKER.

(Lahore 'Tribune'.) A bee that works only at night is found in the jungles of India. It is unusually large insect, the comb being often six feet long, four feet wide, and from six inches to six inches thick. Although the Island of Sardinia belongs to Italy, few of its inhabitants ever visit it, while a Sardinian native costume seen in the streets of Italian city attracts almost as much attention as an Arabian or Abyssinian trader. In the time of the ancient Romans Sardinia was one of their granaries, but to-day it is impoverished by antediluvian methods and taxation.

OFF TO QUEBEC. First of the Final Games for the Junior Championship.

ROVER HOCKEY CLUB ELECTS ITS OFFICERS.

The first of the final games for the Junior Championship of the Q.R.F.U. will be played at Quebec on Saturday, when the Rover Hockey Club will travel to Quebec to meet the good work they have done in the season. The game promises to be one of the best of the season, and both teams are expected to win. The following are the names of the players: Rover: Brighton, Edison, Mason, Taylor, Hadley, Dickson, Brown, Walker, J. Colbeck, P. Marshall, Glass, and Walker. Referee: J. H. Walker.

Nov. 3.—Rough Riders were out in large numbers yesterday. The game was a close one, with the Rough Riders leading for most of the time. The game was played at four o'clock, and the Rough Riders were victorious. The game was a very interesting one, and the Rough Riders were well supported. The Shamrocks do not possess a perfectly balanced Rugby team, but when the Shamrocks are under the right conditions, they are a formidable foe on Saturday afternoon. They have met during each week to talk over matters, and due care has been taken to see that they are physically fit, but they are absolutely no opportunity for work in the field. That team could be able to win matches under these adverse conditions is little short of a miracle, but it proves that the Shamrocks are a very strong team.

At a meeting of the Rover Hockey Club held yesterday, the following officers were elected: Hon. president, Mr. Wallace; hon. vice-president, Mr. J. H. Walker; secretary-treasurer, Mr. J. H. Walker; secretary, Mr. J. H. Walker; and captain, Mr. J. H. Walker.

thereby bringing on at an early date their city championship series with College. When they expect to corral all the glory to be had from the jarring of a championship cup.

Amherst men are wondering what became of the ball used in the game in which their team defeated Harvard last year. It is time-honored custom for the winner to take the ball as trophy, and it now seems that Amherst did not get the ball after last year's game. There was a rumour on Franklin Field several years ago following the close of a game in which Harvard had just beaten Pennsylvania. Overfield, of Pennsylvania, started to rush away with the ball, and there was a mix-up before it was turned over to the Crimmins. Disappointing balls have followed other games. A Harvard man tried it on Pennsylvania in 1896 and got away with the ball, which was later turned over to Pennsylvania. In 1891, when Harvard beat Yale, the feat of the vanishing ball was performed, but was returned to Harvard some time afterward. Another case reported had to do with Pennsylvania's defeat of Princeton in 1892. The ball, it is said, was cut up and Pennsylvania never got it.

The Harvard-Pennsylvania game is creating more disagreeable aftermath than any big contest in a long while. Charges of deliberately rough and foul play are followed by counter charges. Green, the Pennsylvania half-back, says he never was in a rougher game and that Lamson of the same team was put out of the game when it was really the fault of the Harvard players. Another charge is that a Harvard back aimed a vicious, deliberate swinging blow at a Pennsylvanian when about to be tackled, and that the former was sent to the side lines. 'Bad feeling' and 'kneeing' are other things which, it is said attended the game. Then there is the cry of favoritism at Harvard in the selection of the men. 'There may have been errors of judgment in picking the men for the Harvard team this year,' says John McNamara, the Boston expert, 'but it is simply baby talk to try to resurrect the cry of favoritism.' Mr. Cochrane, who has been coaching the ends at Harvard, was a high class end in his day, and besides being in a position to command respect as to his judgment is doubtless too royal to play favorites. Mistakes of the head he may have made, but he played on a winning team at Harvard, and on the same team with Bill Reid, who was the best football coach Harvard ever had. Why all these tears over defeat anyway? Harvard was beaten by a good team, and, moreover, one defeat does not wreck a season.

The Montreal Bicycle Club will open the season with an entertainment to be held on Wednesday, Nov. 3, in the gymnasium, Mansfield street. The prizes, of which there will be nine or ten, have been chosen, and are very fine. They will be on view at once. The committee has arranged for the annual series of weekly competitions, which will be held on Wednesday evenings, beginning Nov. 16. The prizes will be more attractive than in former years.

Representatives from the cricket clubs of New York, Brooklyn, Staten Island, Paterson and other places attended the semi-annual meeting of the Metropolitan District Cricket League, which was held on Tuesday at the Cosmopolitan Hotel. The report of the executive showed that the championship schedule was completed as arranged, with two exceptions, Manhattan having forfeited a game to Paterson and Paterson having forfeited a game to Columbia Oval. The offending clubs were each fined $5, one hundred and forty players competed in the championship contests, and of these C. P. Hurditch, of the Livingston Club, came first in batting, with an average of 55.50 for twelve innings, and F. P. Kelly came first in bowling, with an average of 5.33 for 61 wickets. Both the winners established league records. J. L. Poyer, of the Brooklyn Club, won the fielders' prize with 11 catches, and Sydney Dean, of Columbia Oval, won the wicket keepers' prize with seven men stumped.

It was agreed to get up a suitable entertainment at which these prizes would be presented, and Jerome Flannery, J. Rodgers and C. P. Hurditch were appointed a committee to make all arrangements for this. The financial statement of the league was also a satisfactory report, for it showed that while the treasurer started the season with a deficit he wound up with a substantial balance in hand. He also announced that he had heard unofficially of two clubs which desired to join the league, so that it is confidently expected that next season the membership will amount to ten clubs.

THE ELECTIONS.

Vote was Light in the City This Forenoon.

PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS MUCH IN EVIDENCE.

Upon so influential a day as this, when the nation chooses its rulers, it was not a little curious to note how slight a ripple was made in Montreal, at least, upon the wanted surface of things.

The wheels in the great factory revolved as usual; business transactions were carried out with undiminished interest; there was buying and selling; and the vital things of life took little heed of an occasion which should be regarded as momentous.

The rain commenced to fall before the polls were open this morning, and this had a distinctly discouraging effect. The polls visited over a wide area of the city presented a desolate appearance.

The policeman walked up and down in front of the special constable, in civilian clothes, with a badge on his breast, gazed at the leaden sky. At the same time there was a look of intense anxiety in the eyes of the professional politicians.

These had their lists out; they checked off each name as though Smith were a man who represented millions; they shouted to 'Paddy,' the driver, to take Brown to his voting poll.

The rain ceased and the sun came out, and the interest grew apace. There was a hum at the headquarters of the respective candidates; there were excited groups at the committee rooms; while the polls appeared to be fairly busy.

The agents of the candidates were extraordinarily watchful, and every detail of the legal information which the voter has to supply, was insisted on.

It was at the headquarters and committee rooms of the candidates, however, that the interest centered. Here both political and human nature were well exemplified.

readiness to record their votes in favor of their respective candidates. Throughout the day both Mr. Robert Bickerdike, the Liberal candidate, and Mr. Campbell Lane, the Conservative nominee, paid visits to the numerous polling booths, and in a general way superintended the order of things.

The contest in St. Lawrence division is being carried on with the best order and in a manner to reflect credit on both parties. At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon reports were received at the central committee rooms of both parties that not one incident had occurred in the division in violation of the Election Act, a feature much appreciated by the gentlemen interested.

The vote being registered is considered a fairly large one, and it is expected will exceed that polled in 1900. Those who are in close touch with the true state of affairs in St. Lawrence do not hesitate to declare that Mr. Bickerdike will be returned by an increased majority, while others, not so sanguine on this point, believe that the fight will be much more evenly contested than anticipated by the supporters of the government.

ST. ANN'S DIVISION. The organization in St. Ann's Division seems to have been brought to a perfect point by both the opposing parties, and quiet determined work is being carried out. A plentiful supply of carriages were at the disposal of each candidate, the use of which the free and independent voter did not hesitate to avail himself of.

ST. JAMES DIVISION. All was very quiet and calm in St. James division during the whole morning. A visit to the central committee rooms of both candidates shortly before noon revealed the fact that the election was being held, so far, in the most orderly manner.

ST. MARY'S DIVISION. The two candidates, Mr. Piché, and Mr. Marchal, were both early at their committee rooms this morning, giving directions to their respective agents and canvassers, and encouraging their supporters. It was generally conceded that St. Mary's was one of the most doubtful constituencies in the city, both candidates being very popular, and the expectation is that the majority, on either side, will be very small.

HOCHELAGA DIVISION. In the St. Henry and Westmount districts of the Hochelaga division polling at many of the stations began briskly at nine o'clock, and in some cases quite a number had voted in the first half hour.

ST. LAWRENCE DIVISION. In St. Lawrence division, which comprises St. Louis and St. Lawrence wards, the fight is being carried on with considerable enthusiasm. As early as eight o'clock this morning the friends of both candidates were at the different committee rooms, desirous of participating in the struggle of the day.

ELECTION BULLETINS.

The results of the general elections will be bulletined at the 'Witness' office immediately after the close of the polls. The returns as they are received will be displayed by stereopticon. Special arrangements have been made to give the results at the earliest possible moment.

FEELING IN ENGLAND.

(Canadian Associated Press.) London, Nov. 3.—The 'St. James's Gazette,' regarding Imperial affairs, says what is wrong with this country is the indifference in the interests and opinions of Britons over the sea. To-day the Canadian elections are going forward, but it is a regrettable fact that the average citizen of England is less interested in the result than he will be in the result of the presidential elections in the United States.

London, Nov. 3.—The 'Pall Mall Gazette,' referring to the Hon. John Morley's suggestion that Canada keep free of British militarism, and Mr. Foster's reply, says radical leaders should really for prudence sake, make up their minds not to mention the colonies again until they have got a better touch of colonial feeling.

THREE MORE ARRESTS. Alfred Tetrault, Arthur Beauregard, and Napoleon Seguin were arrested this morning on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the elections in Maisonneuve division. The three men appeared before Judge Desnoyers this afternoon and pleaded not guilty to the charge. They were remanded until Tuesday next for enquete, and were released until then on each furnishing a personal bond of $800 and two collateral securities of $400.

IN THE CIVIL COURTS. The effects of election day were felt in the civil courts. With the exception of the officials, hardly a single person could be seen in the long corridors, and no cases were heard.

APPOINTED HONORARY CANON. Previous to his departure for Rome, Archbishop Bruchesi appointed the Rev. Abbé Le Pailleur, pastor of St. Louis, Mile End, honorary canon of St. James's Cathedral.

THE ROASTING FOWL.

'Roasters, as they are called in the market, are growing considerably in demand,' remarks the 'Feather.' There are several grades of these, but the most desirable and those that bring the highest prices in the city market dress at from four to five and one-half pounds.

'In addition to these, there is what is termed the soft roaster. These are young fowls that are hatched and grown as are capons, as fast as possible to the proper roasting size. Brahmans and the American varieties are largely used for this purpose. These roasters, when of the proper character, bring good prices in the market, no matter what the weight or size may be.'

'Then, again, there is the virgin cockerels, these are usually made from late-hatched Brahma cockerels that are divided off from the pullets as soon as they can be told, then are raised or grown in lots of about twenty-five, and fed continually for a quick, heavy growth. These cockerels are quite as desirable for table use as are capons. In fact, they are used both as capons and roasters. When the market is right, and the best prices paid for capons, they are caponed dressed, as the saying goes, and thus sent to the market. When it is unfavorable, they are dressed as roasters and sold.'

'The interest in growing this kind of poultry is largely on the increase, and many claim they much prefer this kind of a capon or roaster to the real capon itself. Truly, there is nothing finer for a roasting fowl than a fat, well-finished young Asiatic, dressed and roasted as are turkeys.'

'The pullets from this same grade of fowls are set apart and grown by themselves in the same manner as are the cockerels, fed on strong, rich, fattening foods, so as to hasten their growth. These sell for quite as much as do the pullets. In fact, these high-class pullets—plump and bright—are sold in the Eastern markets as roasters for a price about the same as must be paid for capons.'

'Then, again, there is the large, heavy roasting fowl; these are also used for broilers. They are cooked in this way, and used for cold lunches, sandwiches and salads. This is a better grade of poultry than that which is known as "fowl." Fowls are usually the overly large, overly fat hens, and are those that are too old to be sold at any other grade. These bring the lowest prices per pound in the market, and are sold to cheap restaurants and families who wish a large amount in weight without so much consideration for quality.'

ST. FRANCIS RIVER DAM. Richmond, Que., Nov. 3.—The dam across the St. Francis river at Richmond, which cost the ratepayers $5,000, is breaking away piece-meal.

COMMISSIONER COOMBS RETURNS TO TAKE CHARGE OF CANADA.

Thomas Beles Coombs, commissioner of the Salvation Army in England, has been appointed by General Booth to the command of the Canadian forces in succession to Miss Evangeline Booth, who has been in charge of the Dominion for the last six years. A telegram conveying this intimation was received by Brigadier Turner, provincial officer at Montreal last night. The announcement was a great surprise and will be such to the Canadian field, for Commissioner Coombs was the first territorial officer in command of the Dominion, after it became an independent charge, and commissioners very seldom are sent twice to take charge of the same territory. But the appointment will be hailed with delight by the soldiers of the Dominion everywhere, for no leader that Canada has ever had except, possibly, Miss Booth, the present commissioner, has been so beloved and revered as Commissioner Coombs.

Commissioner Coombs was only about thirty years of age when, in 1884, he was commissioned by General Booth to take charge of Canada. It was his first territorial command and the work was new. There were less than a score of corps in the whole of the Dominion and those that had been organized were under the jurisdiction of the New York commissioner and were officered by captains sent over from the United States. Montreal I. Corps was not formed until some time after Commissioner Coombs took charge. When he left, five years after, every city, town and village of importance had been invaded and corps or outposts had been established in them.

From Canada, Commissioner Coombs was sent to Australia, where great success accompanied his ministrations. After about five years in the Antipodes he was transferred to England, where he has been ever since, succeeding Miss Booth as commissioner for the English field. There are few if any more spiritual leaders or more capable administrators in the Salvation Army than Commissioner Coombs. His welcome meetings are expected to follow immediately after the farewell of Miss Booth.

CANCER OF THE LARYNX INTERESTING PAPER BY SIR FELIX SEMON.

New York, Nov. 3.—What many physicians consider a most important paper on cancer of the larynx, says the 'Herald,' was read last night by Sir Felix Semon, a distinguished London specialist. The address was given under the auspices of the section on laryngology and rhinology of the New York Academy of Medicine, and most of the throat specialists in this city were there, as well as many who had travelled miles especially to listen to Sir Felix's description of the operation of thyrotomy with which he has had remarkable success.

The specialist, who was an assistant of Sir Morel Mackenzie, has for twenty years been an authority on diseases of the throat. Among the posts of honor which he occupies is that of special physician to the King of England. Stress was laid by him on the necessity of men who had reached the age of forty years watching closely for symptoms of cancer of the larynx. He advised those approaching middle age not to delay in seeing a physician if troubled with hoarseness. The redness of the throat and the formation of a nodule in the vicinity of the larynx were danger signs which should not be neglected. Sir Felix said that if the cancer was recognized in its early stage it could be cured without the removal of the larynx.

Dr. Francis J. Quinlan, chairman of the section of laryngology, presided at the meeting. Loud applause followed the introduction of the London specialist. Although the reading of the paper entitled 'Malignant tumors of the larynx' took the author more than an hour, every word was listened to with eager interest by the specialists.

THE WIDE TIRE.

The Missouri experimental station has conducted numerous trials with wheels of different heights and the same width of tire. The following are some of the conclusions reached: For the same load wagons with wheels of standard height drew lighter than those with lower wheels. The difference in favor of the standard wheels was greater on road surfaces in bad condition than on good road surfaces. Low wheels cut deeper ruts than those of standard height. The vibration of the tongue is greater in wagons with low wheels. For most purposes wagons with low wheels are more convenient than those of standard height. Wagons with are cumbersome and require much room in turning. Diminishing the height of wheels thirty to thirty-six inches high in front, and forty to forty-four inches high in the rear, did not increase the draft in as great proportion as it increased the convenience of loading and unloading the ordinary farm freight. Diminishing

NEWFOUNDLAND ELECTIONS

RETURNS ARE STILL FAVORABLE TO THE GOVERNMENT.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 3.—Yesterday's election returns confirm the success of the Bond Government. Completed polls of St. John's West show the election of Sir Edward Morris, minister of justice, and his two Bondite colleagues. In St. John's East Mayor Shea and his two Bondite colleagues win. In Burnt the Hon. Henry Gear, minister without portfolio, and his colleague, Davey, defeated former Premier James Winter and his colleague, Robinson. Mr. Winter is the second of the Opposition leaders to undergo defeat, the other being former Premier Whiteway. In St. George's, Carty, Bondite, beat Gibbs, Opposition, by eight votes. In Bonavista, Morine, another Opposition leader, and his two colleagues retain their seats, though by reduced majorities.
 Sir Robert Bond now has 18 seats, and the Opposition five seats.

SHORTER DAY FOR TYPOS

INTERNATIONAL UNION VOTES FOR EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3.—At the headquarters of the International Typographical Union it is announced that the referendum count has proceeded far enough to indicate that all of the six propositions voted on are carried except that one increasing the salaries of the president and secretary. The most important proposition voted on was that establishing an eight-hour day, beginning on Jan. 1, 1906, and ordering an assessment for that purpose. It will be contested by the United Typothetae.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

TORONTO 'TELEGRAM' SAYS THEY WILL BE HELD ON DEC. 13.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—The 'Telegram' says: 'The provincial elections will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 13. There is the best of authority for this statement. Mr. Ross will go to the country on that date, irrespective of the Dominion election results in Ontario. Ballot and other election printing is now being done in city offices. The members of the cabinet have for some time refused to see newspaper representatives. The Premier has been particularly exclusive, and no denial has been given to the statement.'

BE SURE YOU GET THE BEST

When other remedies are recommended they'll tell you that it is as good as Putnam's—the most convincing evidence that when you ask for Putnam's you should take no other, because no other is as good as Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Hundreds of imitations have come, have died out, but Putnam's is more highly esteemed than ever.

THE OLIVER TYPEWRITER

FACTORY has been removed to more commodious and suitable premises.

THE OLIVER is the most largely sold typewriting machine in the world to-day.

SCHAUMANN'S DEFENCE.

Helsingfors, Finland, Nov. 3.—Former Senator Schaumann (father of Eugene Waldemar Schaumann, the assassin of former Governor-General Bobrikoff), who has been on trial at Abo for some time past, charged with having had knowledge of his son's crime, in his plea admits that he wrote the memorial regarding the necessity for the organization of the Finns, but he claims that it was without treasonable intent. Schaumann explains that he wrote it one evening when he had nothing else to do, slipped it into a book in his library, and had forgotten its existence. The contents do not betray treasonable intent.
