King's School Pupils Take On Man Sized Task

Pupils of King's School in Westmount are showing their all-out effort in helping undernourished children in needy Britain by the most novel and direct approach. Through the co-operation of their Home and School Association they have adopted a school in Manchester, England — but literally.

During wartime, the pupils at King's and their parents organized a knitting group for servicemen which took upon itself the apt name, "King's Knitters". And now the "parcels for pupils" idea is an outgrowth of the knitting organization.

The plan was conceived by Mrs. J. T. McLearn, when each scholar at King's was encouraged to bring selected articles to school which were of a nature to withstand the long shipment overseas arriving in good condition. The pupils were also asked to bring 5 cents to cover the cost of packing and shipping.

It is a school in Manchester where Miss Kathleen Gamble, formerly one of the staff at King's School, Western avenue, is now teaching, that was adopted.

The various items of nourishing victuals after collection were turned over to Miss Dorothy Cook, convener for the local branch of the United Kingdom Friendship Fund for final shipment with the specification, of course, that Miss Gamble at the Manchester school be the ultimate recipient and distributor. The organization headed by Miss Cook has taken over the cost of shipping.

The money collected by the King's School pupils' fifteen cent donations will be used to send Christmas gifts to the pupils of the Manchester School.

The King's School contribution included 34 pounds of sugar, 72 packages of candy, four cartons of chewing gum, 35 tins of condensed milk, 77 baby foods, 39 of sardines, 19 of salmon, 335 packages of desserts and cereals, 9 large tins of fish, 9 pounds of tea, 9 tins sandwich spread, 1½ dozen tins assorted meats, 34 packages dried soups, 4 tins of soup, 2 of assorted nuts, 63 packages of dried fruit, 4 cans fruit juices, 1 egg mixture, 1 large can coffee, 2 plum puddings, 2 packages shortening, 3 cakes and 7 bars of soap.

Special Cenotaph Memorial Service Sunday Afternoon

The Royal Montreal Regiment (M.G.), commanded by Lt.-Col. Richard Peirson, M.C., will participate in the Remembrance Day Service to be held at the Westmount War Memorial on Sunday, commencing at 2.30 p.m.

Also taking part in the ceremony will be the R.M.R. Association Branch No. 14 of the Canadian Legion, as well as veterans of the Regiment. The battalion will form up in the Armoury at 1.30 p.m., and, with attached units, will march by way of St. Catherine Street, Redfern Avenue and Sherbrooke Street to the War Memorial.

The commemoration service will be conducted by Hon. Squadron Leader Canon Gilbert Oliver, M.C.

Following the service the battalion will re-form and march West on Cote St. Antoine Road, past the saluting base at the foot of Stanton Avenue, where Major-Gen. E. G. Renaud, C.B., C.B.E., Officer Commanding Quebec Command, and Mayor R. P. Adams of Westmount, will take the salute. The return to the Armoury will be by way of Metcalfe and St. Catherine Street.

On returning to the Armoury, the command of the battalion will be handed over from Lt.-Col. R. Peirson, M.C., to Major R. Schwob, M.C. Receptions will be held in the Officers' and Sergeants'

Child Development Lecture Attracts Large Audience

Some 400 interested people assembled at the Westmount Junior High School last Monday evening to hear Dr. Ewan D. Cameron, Professor of Psychiatry at McGill University, deliver the first of a series of six lectures on Child Development. These are being given under the sponsorship of the Westmount Health Department to help parents toward a better understanding in coping with the many problems that arise in the bringing up of healthy, normal children.

Dr. Cameron's subject was "Parents' Ways and Children's Health." He commenced by saying that the problem of the effects of the ways of parents upon the behavior of children is very old. It is recognized in countless folk sayings, e.g., "As the twig is bent...," or "He's a chip off the old block."

Despite this fact, the problem has remained. During the last 50 years it has been given more attention.

Fifty years ago, the problem was primarily a moral one, he said, If "good" parents had "good" children that was fine; if, however, these same parents had "bad" children, the moralist had to fall back on exclaiming upon the mysterious ways of providence.

Nowadays, we see the matter of the effects of the ways of the parents upon the behaviour of children as a health problem, he declared. This is a great step forward and opens up great possibilities for future development. We begin to recognize that people who damage the growing personality of the child, by needlessly arousing anxiety, by playing on his feelings of guilt, by creating crippling inhibitions in him, are people who constitute public health dangers.

An immense job lies ahead, along this line, with all too little time to do it in, he said. Every man and woman of goodwill can, however, contribute to progress by insisting that every discussion group to which he or she belongs should spend at least part of its time in critical study of human relationships and human behaviour.

Secondly, each parent can use his or her influence to ask that the facts of human behaviour should be taught as part of the curriculum in the school attended by his or her children.

Dr. Cameron concluded by saying that everyone can help to create public opinion by criticizing misleading and damaging statements about human behaviour which he reads or hears.

Dr. Albert Moll, Assistant Professor of Psychiatry, McGill University, will address the gathering of parents at next week's lecture on "Childhood Development from Birth to Age of Five."

Place: Westmount Junior High School, 20 Academy Road. Time: Monday evening, 8 p.m.

Children's Hallowe'en Party Highly Successful

Several hundred children in costume were present at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. Hallowe'en Party sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. Mothers' Club. Prizes were given to the best costumes and altogether over forty prizes were awarded during the evening.

This party was highlighted by the appearance of Charles Peat, magician, who raised the curiosity of his audience by doing magic from the platform. Children are still discussing how he could draw a Christmas Tree out of a hat.

Also on the programme were comic films and stunts. The evening concluded with refreshments of chocolate milk, ice cream, cookies and candy.

The party was sponsored with the hope that it would keep younger children from getting into trouble on the city streets, and the sponsoring committee feel that this was accomplished.

Westmount "Y" Helps Organize Y.M.C.A. Branch In St. Henri

Following several months of preparatory organization, Y.M.C.A. work has been started in the heavily populated St. Henri district.

Previous to the Y.M.C.A. commencing its work in this area, there were few if any facilities through which boys in the area could initiate and plan their own physical, spiritual and recreational program.

In its few weeks of existence this extension work of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. in the St. Henri district has expanded rapidly. Now there are approximately a hundred boys registered in regular Y.M.C.A. Clubs.

At the start the Y.M.C.A. had no meeting place, then, thanks to the co-operation and interest of the Principal of Lewis Evans School, Mr. Campbell, who was deeply interested and concerned with the lack of recreational facilities for members of his school, the younger boys were given permission to use the school building, movie projector, and the adjoining playing space. Ross Bannerman, fellowship student attached to the Westmount Y.M.C.A. was given responsibility for organizing younger boys' work in the school.

Older boys, 13-15 and 15-18 years of age were contacted by the Boys' Work Secretary and were interested in organizing their own club with the assistance of the Y.M.C.A. Secretary. Although the older boys had no place to conduct a meeting, an active program including industrial trips, swimming, boxing and club meetings was held. The older boys also offered to serve and receive training as leaders for younger boys' groups.

Scouts & Cubs

BY REG GROOME

The Westmount Area Sixers' Rally was held on Saturday afternoon at Bishop Street Scout Headquarters. Owing to the few packs in the area, the Seconds were included in the rally, but, unfortunately, the weather and the football game prevented a good attendance. However, those who did attend enjoyed themselves. The Rally was held under the supervision of District Cubmaster G. Warren Foote, and he was ably assisted by some of the other Cubmasters in the district.

Field Commissioner Stanley A. Richardson of Montreal Scout Headquarters, and Assistant Factor at Camp Tamaracouta this summer, has announced a partial list of boys who have qualified for the Silver Arrowhead Training Course Award, having been successful in this course which he ran at Tamaracouta in August. The list is as yet incomplete, and more names will be issued at a later date. The only Westmount Scout in the list to date is William G. McCrudden, of 2nd Westmount Scout Troop. Nice going, Bill!

The November Badge list for Bishop Street Scout Headquarters has been issued and we hope all Scouts in Westmount will make a sincere effort to pass at least one badge. Cyclist will be taken on the 14th, a Friday; Monday, the 17th, Marksman, Part I, Electrician, Part I, Knotter Part I, and Rapid Sketching, Part I. Other evenings of these courses follow on consecutive Mondays. Ask at the course for further details. Tuesday, the 18th, Pathfinder; Wednesday, the 19th, Fireman; Thursday, the 20th, Ambulance Man; Monday, the 24th, Missioner; Tuesday, the 25th, Interpreter (French); Wednesday, the 26th, Laundryman. Swimmer, Rescuer and the First Class Swimming will be passed any Monday, Wednesday, Friday or Saturday afternoon, by Romeo Belanger, at the Canadian Legion Building pool, 1191 Mountain Street. All Scouts who have passed Rescuer Badge are reminded that it must be passed annually, so watch for the date your badge is due for re-passing!

When 263 Boy Scout Leaders attended thirteen Gilwell Training Courses in Canada this summer, it marked the best Scouter training season since 1931, when 280 leaders participated. Every Province in the Dominion sent Cub and Scout leaders to Gilwell Courses in the summer of 1947.

Canada's Northwest Territories will have more Wolf Cub packs and Scout Troops as a result of a recent visit by a Scout Commissioner. By co-operating with mission school teachers, R.C.M.P. personnel and government officials it is hoped to take Scouting into several communities where the boys are known to be anxious to get into the Movement. At Aklavik, and a few other northerly points, Scout groups have been operating for some years now.

Dr. Straker To Address Roslyn Home and School

The next meeting of the Rosedale Home and School Association will be held at the school on Nov. 10. The speaker will be Dr. M. Straker, who will speak on "Sex Education".

Manners, Please!

Members on dates we'll presume you're all familiar with. But what about at home, in school, on the street, etc.? Here are a few things lotsa-people're complaining about.. They think practising manners'd be a cha-a-harming hobby.

We agree. We don't like—

The teen-agers who, just 'cause he (or she) is leaving the house shortly, has gotta throw everything around, yell at everbody — too busy to, help with them durn dishes, sit the table, or set down and speak to mother's unexpected guest for a minute.

About school fellas and gals—it's a party (only) yours this year, and when you're home other people intend to be able to use these desks and lockers and would like 'em neat and quite so many names scratched all over 'em, etc. . . . Also, remember that th' other students (so-called, why? we dumb), sometime are hoomans too—so watcha say ya treat 'em in the halls, . . etc.? (tough guy, we is.)

Et sur la rue. Oh, la, la! . . . Outa my way here we shove . . . Old people, young peoples, chilluns-nobody's spared, beleeve me. Use a little more of that on the football field and a little less on the streets, please huh? Then everybody'll be happy—okay?

Social Notes

Here'n there—New member for the 'Y" when lovely Barbara Bent joined? Friday . . . MORE COLORS COMING IN IRISH LINENS

Irish linens by the yard are beautiful for making tailored blouses for wear with this season's suits. During the summer imported linens were available only in white, natural and a few pastels. Now, much larger selections will be coming into stores—10 to 14 colors which will include such dark shades as brown, red, navy blue and black.

Roslyn News

By Dick Dunbar and Peter Safford

This week being Education Week in the Montreal district we are having a celebration. The parents were invited to see their children in Gym. We all enjoyed the parents coming to see us.

The Roslyn Argos had a rugby game with the St. Leo's Blues. Roslyn won 16-10. Bobby Baker scored two touchdowns and he also counted for a safety touch. Jim Fullerton scored another touchdown.

Miss McCoy and Miss Richardson are McGill students who are practice teaching in the school for the month of November.

John Bertram of Room 18 reports that on Monday parents of the boys in Room 18 came to see them have Gym.

"First we ran round the room then marched around once. Then we divided up in two teams. On the floor there were mattresses on which we turned somersaults. Then we had to cross our legs and turn two somersaults and then to spring up. We kept in our two teams and one team went to the other end of the Gym. As soon as the teams were ready, the teacher said "Go." The first boy in the line would dribble the ball to the basket in front of him and try to make a basket. The team who had the most baskets won."

Report from Room 20 — Our singing teacher, Miss Jamieson, has the choir going smoothly. So far we have been singing songs that both Grades Five and Six know. This week, however, we hope to begin some Christmas music.

Report from Room 13 — Room 13 had a Hallowe'en party on Friday. Miss MacMillan loaned us the Gym for noon. We played games and ran relay races. Miss Bremner let us bring our lunch and we ate in our classroom.

Report from Room 21 — Susie Beck has been away for several days. She is recovering from having her tonsils out. We hope that she will be back soon.

Grades Five and Six girls had a practice swimming meet at the Community Hall on Tuesday. The four best swimmers will be chosen to compete against other schools in the district on November 14th.

Members of the Trianglettes—the girls' club of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. unanimously elected Mrs. A. W. Swan as their club mentor.

Members of the Trianglettes carry on a very active programme, and serve as a service corps in the Y.M.C.A.

Representatives from the various church groups in the Westmount area, from the Girls' Hi-Y, the Westmount Boys' Hi-Y, the Jewish Synagogues, the Friday Nite Club of the Westmount "Y" and the "Y" Employed Boys' Association met together to plan a New Year's Eve Semi-formal Party to be held at the Y.M.C.A. Last year's party was considered as a first rate event which the group would like to repeat again this year.

PURPLE AND WHITE REVIEW

By Susie Glassco and Ursula Johnston

"That Westmount sure is a fighting team". Too bad about Westmount, they deserved to win at least one game". Such were the overheard comments when the Cote St. Antoine gang, like the Platos, folded up their helmets, pads, stowed their sweaters in moth balls for another year and slowly stole away from Molson Stadium last Friday. No matter how poorly the team did, no one can belittle the fact that they have the spirit and the heart, the likes of which are second to none. Now, with the conclusion of the high school football season, Westmounters can look back proudly at their enviable record of good, clean football.

Granted the boys were winless and scored only eleven points, nonetheless the prestige and honour the school gained through the fair play and fighting heart their team displayed is well worth the losses they suffered.

That last game is one to be remembered, long after the voices of cheering teen-agers have died away. From the Westmount section the exhilaration of the students knew no bounds. When young Wally Emo went over to score the only five points, the W. H.s'ers went wild. Mr. Lawley could be distinguished among the multitudinous mass leading the cheering and generally adding to the gaiety. His presence combined with the famed "teaser" put all assembled in a jovial frame of mind.

Special mention should be given to Roddy Foster who played an excellent game.

Before we sign off, we'd like to remind all and sundry that Westmount will feature a Friday Nite Club tonight.

Don't go away, we'll be back in seven days.

Bank Of Montreal History Is Epic Of Canada

Of M. Completes 30 Years On econd Century Of Operation

When Bank of Montreal offices in Westmount and elsewhere ened their doors this week, the occasion had more than ordinary nificance — for Monday, November 3, marked the 130th anniver- y of the B of M, the nation's first permanent bank.

Here in Westmount the bank's history goes back to 1904, when first office opened in a building at the corner of Greene and estern avenues. Enlarged and renovated in 1929-30, this building ll serves as the bank's main branch here. Westmount, in common th all the other suburbs of Montreal, expanded greatly during the rst quarter of the century. To meet the rapidly developing com- unity's need for increased nking facilities the bank, in 1926, opened its second West- mount branch, situated at Clare- mont avenue and Sherbrooke street.

Manager of the main Westmount branch is Athol D. Horne, who succeeded John Galt more than two years ago. A native of Scotland, Mr. Horne came to Canada in 1909 and began his banking career that same year, at Toronto. E. L. "John" Hollyer, in charge of the bank's office at Claremont avenue and Sherbrooke street, succeeded Gerald Henshaw in November, 1944.

Business by Barter When Bank Founded

When nine Montreal merchants founded the bank in 1817—half a century before Confederation — Canada was a scattering of lonely colonies on the dark fringe of the forests. England lay three supremely uncomfortable months away by sail. The settlements had great difficulty keeping in touch with one another. Even a trip between Montreal and Quebec meant three jolting days by stagecoach.

The populatinon — then only about half a million—carried on trade principally by barter and to a lesser extent by the use of American, British, French, Spanish and Portuguese money. Montreal, already the centre of commerce, numbered fewer than 20,000 citizens.

Shortly after the bank opened, the directors had to ask the British garrison for a sentinel to guard their modest office. It was

Speaker Tells Experiences In China At Rotary Ladies' Day Luncheon

The weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Westmount, held in Victoria Hall on Wednesday, was somewhat out of the ordinary this week. It was Ladies' Day!

A goodly gathering of Rotarians and their "friends" assembled at the appointed time to partake of an excellent dinner from tastefully decorated tables, to enjoy one another's company, and to hear guest speaker W. F. (Peter) Harris who was caught in the tides of war in Shanghai describe his experiences.

Introducing Mr. Harris to the assembly, Rotarian Cecil Medlar said that he was born in England, entered insurance, and spent many years in the Orient; also that he was an old Rotarian, had been president of the Shanghai Rotary Club in 1934-35 and an officer of the Rotary International.

Mr. Harris commenced his address by stating that China is a country of opposites, "where men wear skirts and the women wear trousers...". He doesn't think that the Chinese are essentially greatly different from ourselves. He believes that much of the apparent difference lies in the fact that China is in a different state of progress. "China still lives under the family system," he said, "a loosely knit aggregate of some 400,000,000 people.

The present chaos in China, Shanghai included, is due to lack of adequate training in administration, he said. Inflation is completely out of hand, and there is no organized body to control it. In 1937, the ratio of Chinese dollars to American was 3 to 1; now it is 80,000 to 1. "Today, if you take your girl friend out for the evening, you need $2,000,000 in your pocket!" And the upward spiral continues.

Turning to his experiences with the Japanese, he said that they were lenient in Shanghai in the early months of the war. Later, they began to impose restrictions, e.g., red arm bands, no movies, etc. Suddenly, all enemy nationals were given one week's notice, and then sent to internment camps.

He concluded his address by giving his impression of the Russians. The Soviets took over his house after he was interned, and allowed him one room when he was freed. They admit the "iron curtain," he said, sincerely believing that Russia must be allowed to develop without outside interference for a number of years yet. Furthermore, their speeches abroad are coloured for home consumption, and the more their leaders are attacked and criticized in the outside world, the better they like it.

They are working on a long range program, he said. We know how to handle scarcity, but they count on the fact that we will fail when it comes to handling plenty in the future.

Mr. Harris was thanked for his address by Rotarian Jack McRae; Rotarian Don Ross presented Wendy Ann Stevens with an award in recognition of the fact that she had the highest amount of any collector in Westmount in the Forget Me Not tag-day campaign; and the table bouquets were distributed to the ladies by lot before the meeting concluded.

SUPPORT THE "Y" DRIVE

Close to 25,000 persons were enrolled in clubs, interest groups, and other organizations within the framework of the Montreal Y.M.C.A. during 1946, it was revealed recently at Central 'Y' on Drummond street. In addition to this nearly 4,000 persons were taught to swim, and another 1,000 qualified as life-savers.

These statistics are representative of the records prepared by the association in their annual campaign which is scheduled to open on November 10. The campaign will be headed by O. B. Thornton as general chairman. Associated with Mr. Thornton in directing the campaign will be J. W. McConnell, honorary chairman and S. G. Dobson, honorary vice-chairman. Other members of the campaign committee will be announced shortly.

Meanwhile officials pointed out that the $154,000 objective of the drive this year represents only 15 per cent of the year's budget. For the remaining 85 per cent the Y.M.C.A. is self-sustaining. The funds are required to maintain the normal functions of the 'Y' in its branch buildings, summer camps, and community activities in Lachine, Ville St. Pierre, Point St. Charles, Jean Talon district, Rosemount, Hochelaga, Montreal East, Terminal Park, and Maisonneuve.

In referring to the campaign drive, officials noted that the theme of this year's campaign is to be "Training Youth in Citizenship". This is accomplished, they pointed out, by the many sided program which the Y.M.C.A. has to offer including, formal and informal education, religious training, community service, social recreation, and physical fitness.

AGENCIES FOR WORLD ORDER

The new agencies for world economic organization represent a genuine and broadly conceived attempt to establish a workable code of economic behaviour between nations, says the current Monthly Review of The Bank of Nova Scotia. The Review is devoted to a discussion of the purposes and development of the International Monetary Fund, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) and the projected International Trade Organization (ITO).

These new organizations represent the only framework for economic order and co-operation on which there is a large measure of agreement between nations. Never before have nations been prepared to go so far. Never before have such plans even rereived serious consideration. Even though the machinery is incomplete and in many respects inadequate, a good deal has been accomplished. The goodwill and planning which lie behind these efforts to achieve international order hold hope that the world may rise out of the state of economic anarchy and conflict which was characteristic of the period between the two world wars.

The Review admits that there is an air of unreality about the activities of these international organizations in the face of the present economic crisis, as exemplified by the breakdown of the convertibility of sterling, by the aggravated dollar problem, and by the desperate shortages of food and fuel in Europe and elsewhere.

"Nevertheless," says the Review, "it would be a great mistake to dismiss these international efforts at economic organization as futile or unimportant." Though they cannot solve the present crisis and though conditions have been very unfavourable to their effective operation, their activities and the planning concerned with their formation have been of great value in the difficult circumstances of transition and reconstruction.

THE NEW SKIRT STYLES

Apparently the most important issue in North America is the change in style from knee length to half-mast skirts. A new opportunity to make the headlines and the picture pages is being exploited by volunteer protectors of women who are too weak to wear what they please.

Some sinister interests are alleged to be behind this style change, although no selfish motives have been attributed to the designers of fall hats that threaten marital peace throughout Canada and the United States.

Half-mast skirts seem to be a reasonable compromise between the demands of bare-'en and hide-'em cults. Few of the knotted muscles of the lean athletic girls, or the flabby calves of the languid ladies, are worth viewing anyway. Surely the men back from womanless battle areas are already fed up with the search among the many legs on display for a few that reward a good look. None of them shins is even better than half.

From the practical viewpoint, the half-mast skirt has many advantages in the care and use of the legs. It is long enough to protect the knees from chapping and short enough to avoid chafing the ankles. It provides some warmth for stockingless legs that have not grown enough hair to protect them against severe frost. A good homespun, or Harris Tweed, skirt should go a long way, at least a longer way, toward affording the kind of protection our grandmothers provided so prudently.

There is nothing to the argument that the longer skirt will impede progress. With the short work-week and the leisurely pace of production, few city women are in a hurry to get anywhere. Farm women will continue to wear overalls, or slacks, at outdoor work. —The Scene from Shingwank Farm.

SECOND SERIES BONDS SELLING WELL

In announcing sales of the Second Series of Canada Savings Bonds to date, Bank of Canada officials drew attention to the fact that the average individual purchase so far has been substantially above forecosts. Payroll Savings applications averaged $195.70 to date compared with a final figure of $183,72 for the First Series which was issued last Fall. The combined average purchase of Series Two so far came to $539.13 as against a final average of $409.76 last year despite the reduction to $1,000 of holdings in any one name.

Total sales of the Second Series of Canada Savings Bonds up to October 24th notched the hundred million dollar mark with reported totals of $100,562,700 from 341,532 applications. Sales under the Payroll Savings Plan showed no signs of slackening, and accounted for nearly half the dollar amount for a figure of $48,319,550, and for more than two thirds the number of applications at 246,911. Substantial portions of Payroll Savings Plan sales were represented by purchases of $614,900 by the Armed Forces, $3,334,800 by the Civil Service, and $6,058,-500 by railway employees.

Queen's School Principal Commends Trophy Winners

Among its many athletic trophies Queen's School now displa a new and very beautiful trophy donated by the Westmount Bu nessmen's Association and won by the girls of Queen's School, w were champions in girl's events of the Field and Track Day, held Westmount Park on October 9, for the pupils of the Element Schools of Westmount and sponsored by the Westmount Businessme Association.

At a recent Assembly held in Queen's School, Principal R. Bagnell congratulated most heartily the girls who had brought honour to Queen's School. Last week the trophy was on disp in various classrooms. In recognition of the fine record made by the girls of Queen's School in the Track and Field Day events, Principal Bagnell is granting a half holiday to his staff and pupils this afternoon.

The pupils of Grade V (Room 9) are preparing a Project in History dealing with Pioneer Days in Canada. Keen interest is being shown in this class activity. Under the guidance of their teacher, Mrs. H. C. Bickford, the pupils are making worthwhile contributions to this phase of their class work.

This is Education Week. Parents were invited to Queen's School on Wednesday. The usual class room programmes were followed. Many parents and friends were keenly interested in the work of the Gymnasium classes, in the hard work of the pupils of Room 16, in the films shown in the field of Visual Education and in other activities.

Displays of pupils' work received considerable attention and much favourable comment and criticism. After the classes were dismissed opportunity was given to parents to meet the teachers and to discuss with them questions relating to the work of individual pupils.

Teachers and pupils were much encouraged and inspired by the number of interested visitors who accepted the "Parent's Day" invitation to visit Queen's School.

Already the pupils of Queen's School have been very fortunate in their having seen many of the new films available to local schools. These films are for the most part excellent material providing both entertainment and instruction of a high calibre.

This year the Special Class (Room 16), under the supervision of Mrs. G. Harterre, consists of fourteen boys and three girls all of whom are progressing at their own special speed in all subjects. Satisfaction of results promises encouraging reports. Classroom progress charts, library charts and scrap books for history and music appreciation are adding an interesting incentive.

Some of the classes of Queen's School had very enjoyable Hallowe'en Parties. One given by the girls of Room 16 was very enthusiastically appreciated. Suitable decorations were made including pumpkins, blackboard decorations, posters, drawings and place cards. Some prizes and refreshments were enjoyed by all concerned. Seasonal decorations are adding much to the attractive appearance of several of the classrooms. Rooms 4, 6, 9, and 16 deserve special mention.

Interest is being manifested in the approaching hockey and basketball seasons. Soon routine practices will have begun. The girls and boys of Queen's School hope to retain their enviable reco athletics and to win new la

Dr. H. Cushing Paid High Tribute

Dr. Harold Beveridge Cushing, prominent Montreal specialist in children's diseases, received impressive final tribute at his funeral service on Monday afternoon, when Emmanuel United Church, Drummond Street, was filled to overflowing.

Dr. Cushing, who moved a short time ago to 3818 Hampton Avenue, N.D.G. from his former home at 659 Victoria Avenue, Westmount, died in the Western Division of the General Hospital last Friday in his 75th year.

A member of almost every medical body and association on the continent, Dr. Cushing was the first local doctor to realize the need for specializing in children's diseases, and devoted his 50 years of medicine to study in this field.

In the early nineties, Dr. Cushing began his career as a demonstrator in botany at McGill University, and left this field to study medicine because of lack of appointment in natural history at that time. He never lost his old interest in nature study, and one of his favourite pastimes was visiting with gardeners at the institutions he visited.

Son of the late Lemuel Cushing, a Montreal lawyer, and former M. P. for Argenteuil County, and Ellen M. MacDougall, he was born in Montreal in 1873, and obtained his B.A. from McGill University in 1892, and his degree in medicine six years later.

After his internship at the Royal Victoria Hospital, he became associated with the Children's Memorial Hospital in 1903, where he realized the need for a department in paediatrics. He campaigned for almost 30 years to have McGill University open such a department, and when one finally was opened in 1938, largely as a result of his efforts, he became its first head. He retired the following year at the age of 65.

Fought Polio

When poliomyelitis swept Canada last year, Dr. Cushing came out of retirement to guide the medical field in handling the epidemic. In the midst of worry and confusion, his was the steadying voice. He predicted that the epidemic would last three months or less and less than 20 per cent of those affected would be left with any permanent paralysis. He was proved correct in his predictions.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Richard Harbert (Marjorie) wife of Dr. R. G. M. Harbert; a brother, James Cushing, and a sister, Miss Florence Cushing.

Interment was at Mount Royal Cemetery.

A Gourmet's Delight Served On English China

C.S.L. Gift Shop

A good cook knows what herbs and spices can do to a plain recipe, that is, they transform an ordinary dish into a rare treat for a gourmet. Have you ever visited a continental restaurant and wondered how they had treated the beef, or lamb, to give such a succulent flavour? This is the secret, and I am going to pass it on to you, where you may find the condiments. The C.S.L. Gift Shop, 1480 Sherbrooke St. W., just east of Guy. You will find eight basic herbs on a little hand-made wooden shelf, these can be hung up on your kitchen wall, an excellent idea for a Xmas gift. Then there is the vinegar trio; a set of three specially blended imported wine vinegars, smartly boxed. One each, of Tarragon, Garlic, and Herb Bouquet. These are all inexpensive. Trust this unusual shop to be the first to introduce something new in coasters; they are a green leaf rubber coaster, exact replica of the dainty Galax leaf. You will find them ideal for occasional tables, or as a vase base, they make a gay and festive decoration, and ideal for starting your Xmas list, they are 8 for $3.50. From now on we will all be laying away the odd gift. You may not know it but this shop has some lovely men's dressing gowns; they are English worsted 100% wool, in lovely striped pastel shades, and, like the other items in this shop, are kept within the reasonable price range. To go with these gowns is the very attractive and comfortable cowhide lounge-ease, which comes in the moccasin or the bedroom slipper style, the latter having lamb's wool lining. These are exclusive to The C.S.L. Gift Shop, and are so reasonable, the moccasins being $5.00 and the slippers, $6.50. Have you been looking for a real expensive looking dinner set, at a price to fit your budget? By a streak of luck this shop has received a famous English make, set of 56 pieces for $79.50, the background being white, and the rims are encircled with English wild flowers. The pattern is known as "The Arcadia".

The Answer To A Bachelor's Prayer

For many years we have been so used to the bulky lines of washing machines, that when many of you see the new BENDIX, it can easily be assumed that you will never think for a moment, that this is really a washing machine . . . and yet, this Mechanical Meticulous Washer Woman is not spankingly new, it has been proved by millions of women during ten years of service. The new BENDIX automatic washing machine has many improvements over the pre-war models. It will fit in anywhere, in the kitchen, laundry, and even in a good size bathroom, because it covers only four square feet of floor space, and it is counter height, washes, rinses, not once only, but three times, damp dries and then cleans itself, drains and shuts off . . . all automatically. This machine is the answer to a bachelor's prayer, as I know some bachelors who are too fastidious to send their washing out, and have to rely on the char lady if and when she comes. I have a feeling that this year poor old "Santa" will have to have a long line of snowmobiles to handle all the new BENDIX'S that are going to be needed in Montreal. I am constantly amused when hearing the reaction of men who have bought these wonder machines for their wives. They have turned the tables on "Blue Monday", as the slogan is, "Leave the washing for me I'll do it tonight while you are at your bridge club", and of course friend wife agrees, because she knows that the clothes are going to be washed the right length of time, and rinsed properly, and there will be no worry about the machine being washed out after, for even this is done automatically. Why a child could operate a BENDIX. I feel that this is the greatest time and labor saver, that the modern appliances have contributed to the home. I am thinking of the lady who suffers from Eczema, and therefore, should not put her hands in water. This indeed is the miracle machine, for water never touches the hands, or drops on the floor.

Fur Tips

L. P. Lazare & Co. have a "father-to-son" background totalling over 112 years experience in the knowledge and working of fine furs . . . At Lazare's you can be assured of the finest available in furs. "YOUR FUR COAT"; if you should stop to add up the cost of any ten garments you possess, you would soon discover that your fur coat represents a much greater investment. For this reason your coat deserves the greatest care, especially nowadays when you can't afford to take chances with fur that might be irreplaceable next year. Therefore, if you have any repairs that need to be made, do so before the cold weather arrives. Only the very finest fur craftsmen are employed in Lazare's fur factory. THE CARE OF YOUR FURS. Always hang your fur coat on a round wooden hanger. Heat is one of the greatest enemies of fur, so never place your coat in a warm closet. Have your furs cleaned at least once a year. Never rub the fur against the grain. Most furs should not come in contact with camphor, napthaline, or any other insecticides. There are some furs that never go to storage, such as those indispensable pieces that cover day and evening costumes, whether in cool or warm climates. These are the stoles, the short capes and neck pieces. When passing L. P. Lazare's, 1454 Peel St., drop in and see the fine selection of furs that are used for this type of covering. The campus girls are extolling the very smart Bonmouton coats that Lazare's are featuring this season. They have an expensive look but an inexpensive price, and are guaranteed to stand the heaviest wear and the coldest weather. They are fashionable, are sturdy, in fact . . . they are tops!

Pupils Thrilled Recording Voices At Mary Beetles

There was even more activity than usual on a recent day at The Mary Beetles School, at 4956 Decarie Boulevard when pupils in the dramatic section of the school spoke into the microphone of a sound tape machine for two minutes each and then listened to the recording of their voices. Singing students also benefited from the use of this educational machine.

Value of Hearing Voice

Both Mrs. Muriel Shoobridge, the singing instructress, and Mrs. Olive Sanborn Lead, the dramatic director, commented upon the value to be obtained from the experience of hearing the voice recorded. Faults of tone and enunciation can be pointed out to the student. As for the pupils, they were thrilled. They sat in almost breathless silence as each classmate spoke. They are looking forward to receiving their small records in the near future, discs cut from the recording on the sound tape.

Youngest Child Five

Among the youngest children to record their voices were two six-year olds: — John Riddell and Judy Berenbaum and one five year old Sorel Brenhouse. Some of the other children were Lynda Poulson, Eleanor Shrybman, Dorothy Hill, Vera Glassman, Judy Kaulback, Judy Hiltz, Lois Tinkoff, Anita Sendel, Ann Slater, Diana Johnson and Joyce Levine.

Adult Students

The evening students in the speech class also made records. They, too, enjoyed the experience and realized its educational benefits. They will again record their voices in the spring. It is expected that the children of the School, too, will have another opportunity of speaking into the microphone, hearing their voices and making small individual records.

not until the following year that Montreal's first police force began. Known as the "night watch", its members acted also as lamplighters.

At the outset, the Montreal Bank as it was then known, issued its own bills in small denominations and, later, copper tokens. This currency was, indeed, Canada's first real money. The innovation did much to stabilize and speed up trade, which had hitherto be subject to the varying rates of exchange of the several currencies in use.

This was but one aspect of the bank's major contribution to the Canadian economy of those days—a contribution which eventually ended the chaos in which business was transacted and served as a primary step in organizing the first native financial system of Canada.

Much of the strength of the nation's economy derives from another principle which the bank introduced in Canada. This was the branch-banking system. Within a fortnight of the opening of the first office in Montreal, an agency was started in Quebec City. The first bank in the ancient capital, this branch was the foundation-stone of Canada's future banking system. As the years passed, the bank spread its branches all over Canada, facilitating the flow of capital into the young industries of the country.

Despite poular misgivings, the bank's directors had the vision and courage to help finance the country's first continent-spanning nilway, the Canadian Pacific. In he opening up of the West which followed, B of M branches became part and parcel of the pioneer life and were soon established at key points from coast to coast.

Since 1817, Canada has grown from colonial infancy to robust nationhood. The old bank which did so much to make possible the high standard of living and swift progress of the young country has also grown.

The Bank of Montreal began with a capital of $250,000. At the present time, the B of M's capital and reserves amount to $78,000,000. Its resources are close to the two-billion level. Just as spectacular has been the increase in staff—from seven persons in 1817 to more than 8,000 in 1947! The bank has over 500 offices, including branches in Newfoundland, London, New York, Chicago and San Francisco. Its depositors number more than 1,500,000 — about one out of every five bank depositors in Canada.

If all these people and their dependents, plus all the others whom the bank serves in other capacities, were counted together, their number would form a surprisingly high proportion of the Canadian population. And so the bank that nine men started in such a modest way, 130 years ago, has become, indeed, an integral part of the life of the nation.

CANADA'S FIRST BANK BUILDING: Taken from an old hand-coloured engraving, this winter scene is a view of St. James Street, Montreal, as it appeared in 1830, thirteen years after the Bank of Montreal's founding. The building on the right was the first head office of the bank, which served as headquarters for the B of M from 1819 to 1848. This was the first building especially constructed for banking purposes in Canada. Today, a post office stands on this site, while adjacent to it, facing historic Place d'Armes, is situated the bank's present head office building, completed and occupied in 1848.

Westmount "Y"

Thanks to the courtesy of Denis Mildon, club room space, and craft and gymnastic equipment has recently been made available to the Y.M.C.A. at the Christian Youth Centre.

Already holding regular meetings are a Junior Hi-Y Club and two Gra-Y Clubs, an Employed Boys' Club is now being formed. The boys plan their own club program with the assistance of Ross Bannerman, Fellowship Secretary and Harry Clinch, Boys' Work Secretary at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. giving advice and guidance.

On the Saturday after Hallowe'en, a gala Hallowe'en Party was held sponsored by the St. Henri Jr. Hi-Y Club in the Christian Youth Centre, at which almost two hundred children from Lewis Evans School and their parents were present.

Y.M.C.A. work in the St. Henri Area is being developed by an extension committee of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. Boys' Work Committee.

The St. Henri Extension Committee, under the chairmanship of Douglas Laird, will be enlarged by the addition from time to time, of residents, parents, and employees of firms, in the St. Henri district, interested in the physical, mental and spiritual needs of youth.

It is natural to be tired—healthfully fatigued, after an expenditure of energy, and the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, reminds Canadians that this is part of the process of living. The Department also points out that fatigue produces waste products and that rest and sleep are essential to restoration of body cells.

W. B. Tingle Honoured For Victory Loan Aid

D. B. Tingle, 400 Kensington Avenue, recently retired advertising manager of the Imperial Tobacco Company, has been awarded the silver medal, advertising division, by the Association of Canadian Advertisers, it was announced on Monday.

The citation for the award declared that it was presented "for the outstanding contribution to Canadian advertising by an advertising manager."

RESTS THE FUTURE OF CANADA AND THE WORLD

Today's problems are tough ones to think through. Tomorrow's are almost impossible. Yet, today's Youth must face tomorrow's problems . . . and solve them, as well. To do that job right, he is going to need help.

He must be prepared to assume the responsibilities of citizenship . . . world citizenship. He must learn to face the future confidently. And if our Canadian way of life means anything, he must be able to understand and practice the fundamentals of democracy and Christian living. Preparing Youth to meet the challenge is one of the main purposes of the Y.M.C.A. It's a worthy purpose . . . too worthy to be cut short.

Young Montreal is turning to the "Y" for guidance in ever-increasing numbers. He sees in it a place to meet the gang . . . take a swim, workout in a gym, discuss problems with an older person . . . or any other of a hundred different activities, including formal education at the Sir George Williams College. Actually, the Montreal "Y" means far more than that. As an organization, it ably supplements the training of the Home, the School and the Church. It offers healthy recreation, educational opportunities and religious training to fill in Youth's leisure hours . . . the time when Youth most often falls prey to unwholesome influences. It is the responsibility of each one of us to see that the "Y" is there when Youth needs it most.

Next week, the Montreal Y.M.C.A. is conducting its annual maintenance campaign. When the "Y" canvasser calls on you, give . . . and give generously.

The winner of this game will meet Rosemount for the championship of the league. Westmount-Lakeshore Game

By BRIAN TIFFIN

Westmount Juniors, sparked by the accurate passing of Jackie Patterson, managed to outlast Lakeshore Flyers 6-5, last Saturday.

In the first quarter Boright and D. McGillis made successive 7-yard gains to put the ball on Lakeshore's 45. Patterson uncorked a long pass to Morrow good for 30 yards and then bulleted one to Binmore for a touchdown. The attempted convert was blocked.

Westmount kept the ball in Lakeshore territory till the last quarter on the brilliant defensive play by Mathers, Telfer and Boright. Then Bill Wheatly of the Flyers scooped up Kay's fumble and ran 60 yards to Westmount's 15 before being tackled by the same Mr. Kay. A Glenn to Brassard pass made the score 5 all. Lakeshore's convert attempt was broken up by Westmount's charging line.

After an exchange of kicks, Westmount forced the Flyers back to the 35-yard line. Here, Doug McGillis hoisted a long kick that rolled out-of-bounds behind the Lakeshore line. Thirty seconds later the game ended.

The Westmount line played a driving game but the backfield was a bit careless in spots.

WATERLOO EPISTLE

From Waterloo, Ont., where he is now manager of the Waterloo Memorial Arena, Jim McCormick, the concentrated bundle of energy who was, until Christmas, 1946, director of Westmount's recreation program, writes:

"Sure have had a busy time up here. Had Detroit Red Wings, then Sprinkfield Indians in for fall training with their affiliated clubs. Have seen many of the boys passing through. Johnny Peirson was here with Boston Bruins when they played the local senior club in an exhibition game a couple of weeks ago. It doesn't seem any time at all since Johnny was playing for the Beavers along with Dave Harvie and the boys at Westmount Park. We had a bit of a meal for the Bruins after the game and I had a few minutes with Johnny before they left for St. Catherines. Buddy Hellyer was in here with Tulsa while Dougie Maher was along with Houston. Many of the other boys such as Mike McMahon, Leo Lamoureux, Lyall Wiseman and others have been in. We have had three NHL clubs so far with Detroit, Boston and New York Rangers all playing exhibition tilts here. Buddy O'Connor was, of course, with Rangers, as was Frankie Eddolls.

"The senior club we have in the OHA is coming along fine and it is now tied for first place in the loop. We would be on top all by ourselves if it hadn't been for Howie Harvey, He turned back 42 shots in the opening game here as Marlboros beat the Flying Dutchmen (some name, eh?) 3-1.

"It sure is funny not to have anything to do with rugby or any other setup as was the case at Westmount. Sometimes you get fed up with a small city, then they pull smart moves off and you like the place better than ever. They had a Hallowe'en party here for the kids last night and I'm sure everybody in the place was at it.

"This place certainly keeps you hopping. We have had a busy month with only five nights in October that we were not open for some sort of spectacular event. It seems as if we'll be in for a really busy season."

The McCormick, it would appear, has lost none of his energy. He is still "The Mighty Molecule".

New Badminton Club Formed

A new Badminton Club has now been formed known as the Queen's Badminton Club playing on Wednesday and Friday evenings at Queen's School located on Oliver Avenue, Westmount, one block west of Greene, just above St. Catherine.

The Club is already away to a good start with many of its members coming from the Westmount and Central Y.M.C.A. Badminton Clubs and with a great many newcomers joining each week. There is still room, however, for a considerable number of additional members before the membership is closed and anyone interested in joining may do so by calling Jim McJannet, DE. 4262 any evening between 6.00 and 7.00.

McGee Downs Westmount 23-5

Westmount High's Senior A pigskin chasers wound up their schedule at Molson Stadium last Friday evening when they went down fighting to a smart-playing D'Arcy McGee aggregation. Final score of the one-sided contest was 23-5.

McGee, Catholic section champs who meet West Hill at Molson Stadium next Tuesday afternoon for the city title, were playing minus two of their regular stars. The duo, George O'Brien and Fred Kosters, were sidelined by coach Art Glashan to avoid any chance of their being injured before the city championship joust. They were replaced on the starting line-up by Bud Mudie and Rob Scully and this pair played good ball throughout the fray.

The Double Blue wasted little time in displaying their class. Garnet Bertrand went over for the first major score of the game to put the winners up 5-0. The convert attempt, a forward, was knocked down by Wally Emo, who played a sterling game for the Purple and White.

An intercepted Richard Lord forward heave gave the McGee men the ball on the Westmount 15 and from there Arnold Hanouch bucked his way over for the touch. Ed Murphy booted the convert to up the count to 11-0.

Gerry Hecklinger scored the third McGee major in the third quarter and Scully completed the winners' scoring with another major in the first canto. Murphy was good for both converts.

Westmount broke into the scoring column with minutes to go before the final whistle when a Richard Lord to Wally Emo pass was good for a major. The convert attempt was blocked.

Yesterday afternoon the Westmount Club journeyed by bus to Stanstead College for an exhibition game with the collegians. Results of the contest were not available at press time.

Remembrance Day Declared To Be Statutory Holiday

By common consent, Tuesday, November 11, will be celebrated this year—as last—as a statutory holiday, to commemorate the dead of the First and Second World Wars.

Nov. 11 was first declared a statutory holiday after the First World War, under the Armistice Day Act, the name of which later was changed to the Remembrance Day Act. During the war, it was one of three holidays waived under the War Measures Act, the others being Easter Monday and Victoria Day.

With the expiration of the War Measures Act, Remembrance Day automatically resumed its role as a statutory holiday. Like other statutory holidays, its observance depends on customs, since the Federal Governments has power only to close Federal Government offices and banks.

Shortly after VJ-Day, some discussion arose as to whether a separate day should be observed to commemorate the Second World War dead. However, a convention of the Canadian Legion voted to keep Nov. 11 as Remembrance Day for both wars, and Government officials inclined to the same view.

On Tuesday night, Maj.-Gen. C. B. Price, Dominion President of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., appealed to all Canadians to observe Remembrance Day.

He said in a statement that Government authorities and industry managements should give employes an opportunity to attend memorial services by closing business places at least until noon.

"Remembrance Day should be observed as a solemn, holy day on which we remember the sacrifice of those splendid young lives by which our Christian democratic way of life... has been preserved," he concluded.

Keep Air Moist For Winter Health

Uncomfortable sensations of warmth or cold which will occur to occupants of homes this winter in all probability can be blamed on the improper moisture conditions of the air within the home, according to the Indoor Comfort Educational Bureau, which advises that the temperature of air surrounding the body is just one of the seven factors in attaining complete indoor comfort.

Occupants of homes feel cooler in dry air with a temperature reading of 70 degrees than they do in moist air of the same temperature. The drier the air the faster the body is cooled by evaporation of perspiration. For this reason occupants of homes feel more comfortable during the winter when moisture has been added to the heated air.

Maintaining a reasonable humidity level should serve to prevent drying out of the mucous membranes which protect the throat and nasal passages, and increase resistance to colds and infections and thus aid in bringing about improved indoor comfort conditions.

Athletic Night

A group of enthusiastic spectators lined the Westmount "Y" Gymnasium on Saturday evening last to watch the first Athletic Show sponsored by the Westmount "Y" Leaders' Council.

In the basketball tilt, Westmount Intermediates won from Verdun Comforts 40 to 36. The locals lead the scoring all the way. Following the opening tip-off, Renault and Taylor scored two quick baskets to give their team an early lead which they held all the way. At half time, the score was 26-11 for Westmount.

In the second half the Comfort boys rallied under the sharp shooting of Redman who netted sixteen points for his team in the second half. In spite of this rally, the locals played consistantly steady ball and maintained an easy lead till the finishing gong.

Team players and scores were as follows:

Comforts — Avon 2, Castello, Redman 18, Norris 8, McFee 5, Copping 3, Ledwidge.

Westmount — Presho 4, Hughes 4, Renault 5, Taylor 15, Pharo 4, Humphreys 8, Morrow.

During the intermission of the basketball game, Bert Light, the local "Y" Boxing Coach, conducted a couple of exhibition boxing bouts. In the first bout David Wright of Westmount met Pat Boland from N.D.G., while two boys from N.D.G. put on the second bout, Bob Martin and Maurice Gerard. In the last exhibition bout, Bob, Maurice and Pat put on a relay fight. Every time the coach called a name, that man went to his corner and the odd fellow came out to carry on the fight. In the end, all three were in the ring, much to the enjoyment of the audience. All boys boxed well and put on a lively fifteen minute exhibition.

Following the basketball game, the Senior Leaders Corps members of the Westmount "Y" put on a Gymnastic Exhibition. Included in this demonstration were Art Henderson and John Cooper on the high-bar, Dave Hunt with a tumbling routine on the mats, and all three on the parallel bars. The boys put on a first class demonstration and the audience seemed disappointed when it was over.

The S.N.C. sponsored a dance after the athletic show to which participants and their girl friends and the audience were invited. The Leaders' Council are planning to hold similar affairs as regular features of their coming season's program.

The opening meeting of the Couples Health Club was held last Tuesday night. This group is open to both fellows and girls in the senior division. Their progrom will consist of a period on the gym floor of exercises and games, a swim, followed by a club program. The executive are now planning a series of meetings on the general subpects of health and hygiene. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 18th, and the subject is "How Healthy Are You?" The speaker's name will be in The Examiner.

The local Basketball School, conducted by the Physical Director, finished last Wednesday night, and all players are now trying out for the representative team in their age bracket. Thirty-five fellows were registered for the course and average attendance was twenty-three.

During the course the Physical Director stressed the need for a basic knowledge of the fundamentals of the game, with plenty of practice, the different types of team play both offensively and defensively, the interpretation of the rules and techniques in officiating, and the value of team play and good sportsmanship. "Basketball is intended to be a clean no-contact game, and only by knowing the fundamentals of good foot-work and playing the ball can the game be as good as it should be," was the Physical Director's closing sentence.

The first monthly swim meet for boys of our local "Y" will be held this evening, starting at 7.30. The Boys' Swim Club, which is usually held at this hour, will be cancelled this week in favour of the meet. Don Rose, of the Red Cross Society Swimming Division, and Robert Bain, coach of the Boys' Swim Club, will be assisting the Physical Director with the meet. This meet is open to all boys of the "Y" who can swim two lengths or better. The races will include the usual free style, breast and back plus several novelty races and relays for every swimmer. Boys, be sure to bring your swim suits and your parents.

Cut up salad greens just before serving. Use a sharp knife or scissors and don't cut too fine.

"Dark Delusion And The Arnelo Affair" —Snowdon

"Dark Delusion," the new M-G-M offering on the Snowdon screen, is definitely the dish for those who like entertainment to move at a fast clip and who prefer their film menu spiced with generous portions of comedy, romance and suspense.

Latest in the popular "Dr. Gillespie" medical drama series, the picture returns Lionel Barrymore as the bull-headed, gruff but brilliant surgeon of Blair Hospital. As he has often done in the past, Dr. Gillespie again attempts to further the career of one of his proteges, and in the present adventures it is the fiery and two-fisted young Dr. Tommy Coalt (James Craig) who explodes considerable dramatic dynamite when he takes over the strange case of an attractive young girl who believes herself to be insane.

Cynthia Grace (Lucille Bremer) is the patient who exhibits every symptom of schizophrenia, including kleptomaniac tendencies, and she leads Coalt a merry chase before the mysterious happening which brought about her condition is revealed through an ingenious ruse of Dr. Gillespie's.

The cast of "Dark Delusion" is the finest ever assembled for the series. Barrymore, of course, fits his Dr. Gillespie role lkie a glove and there is something doing every moment he appears on the screen. James Craig is excellent as the young medico who refuses to accept circumstantial evidence of his patient's insanity, and eye-filling Lucille Bremer, heretofore seen in dancing roles, reveals an arrested dramatic talent in the difficult role of the tormented Cynthia.

Added Feature

A starkly gripping performance by Frances Gifford in the role of a woman who, neglected by a busy husband, finds solace in the company of another man only to be accused of murder, makes "The Arnello Affair" an offering you wont' want to miss.

George Murphy plays Ted Parkson, the lawyer-husband whose neglect of his wife, Anne (Miss Gifford), and little son, Ricky (Dean Stockwell), encourage Anne to submit to the attentions of Tony Arnelo (John Hodiak), a man of loose morals but of hypnotic charm. Just as Anne is about to break off her as yet innocent relations with him, the murdered body of his ex-sweetheart is found. Because of an incriminating letter, a vanity case found near the dead girl's body, and the discovery upon Ted's part of Anne's key to Tony's apartment, it appears as though she will have a difficult time proving her innocence.

AT THE SNOWDON THEATRE SATURDAY

Lovely Lucille Bremer abandons her dancing roles to play her first straight dramatic part opposite James Craig in M-G-M's powerful new drama "Dark Delusion," opening Saturday at the Snowdon Theatre. Lionel Barrymore is the third headliner in a tense story which probes into the hidden secrets of a woman's mind. To learn more about women, the added attraction, "The Arnelo Affair," starring John Hodiac, George Murphy and Frances Gifford, offers two of the most outstanding entertainment features of the season.

Susan Hayward Stars In Wanger's "Smash Up"

Whenever the latest trends and fashions in motion picture making come up for discussion in Hollywood, Walter Wanger's name gets into the conversation early and often.

This is because the producer has established himself as the industry's most progressive and daring entrepreneur. He plans his pictures far ahead, and is continuously doing things his contemporaries believe impossible.

Now comes his latest sensation, "Smash-Up—The Story of a Woman," a Universal-International film currently at the Monkland Theatre.

Daring Story

Miss Hayward is cast as a successful night-club singer and radio artist who sacrifices her career to become the wife of a struggling crooner. When her husband sky-rockets to fame and fortune on a sudden wave of popularity and promotion, she finds all responsibility as a wife and mother taken from her. In

"Miracle On 34th Street" Opens At Westmount

A delightful entertainment opens Sunday at the Westmount Theatre with the showing of Twentieth Century-Fox's "Miracle on 34th Street." The film has the gaiety of a holiday party with plenty of romance, laughter and sentiment to make all who see it glow with the feeling that there still are a lot of wholesome people left in this troubled world of ours.

Maureen O'Hara, as Doris Walker, a department store executive, and John Payne, a young lawyer, who are even more charming than they were in "Sentimental Journey," provide the romance, and Edmund Gwenn one of the screen's finest character actors, motivates this heart warming love story with his unusual characterization of Kris Kringle, a kindly old man who really believes he is Santa Claus. The unscrambling of the situations which Kris manages to create makes the story bright with laughter and poignant with pathos and sentiment. George Seaton, who both wrote the screen play from a story by Valentine Davis and directed the picture, has given it sparkling dialogue and heart-gripping action.

One of the funniest scenes this reviewer has ever seen on the screen is the one in the courtroom where an attempt is made to prove that Kris Kringle is a phony. For business reasons none of the department store executives who are deeply involved in Mr. Kringle's actions, want to admit publicly that there is even a slight difference of opinion about the existence of Santa Claus and this gives John Payne, the young lawyer, a chance to rescue the old man from the clutches of the law. Even the judge and the prosecutor find themselves in a dilemma they cannot escape—all to the delight of Maureen and John.

AT THE WESTMOUNT THEATRE SUNDAY

Edmund Gwenn, Maureen O'Hara and John Payne are involved in the riotous doings that make "Miracle On 34th Street," the new Twentieth Century-Fox comedy hit, opening Sunday at the Westmount Theatre. The film's outstanding cast also includes Natalie Wood, sensational eight year old child star. Gene Lockhart, Porter Hall, Jerome Cowan and William Frawley are also ably cast in this laugh a minute comedy hit.

Ann Sheridan Triumphs In Drama "The Unfaithful"

An up-to-the-minute story, packed with suspense, of a woman who is unfaithful to her absent husband, is the exciting theme of "The Unfaithful," new Warner Bros. film drama which opens at the Seville Theatre on Saturday.

Ann Sheridan, Lew Ayres and Zachary Scott, have co-starring roles in the romantic production, with Eve Arden, Jerome Cowan, Steven Geray and John Hoyt in other important characterizations.

"The Unfaithful" begins with a cry in the night and a dead body on the floor of Chris Hunters' home. Chris (Ann Sheridan) tells police that the intruder had demanded her jewelry and in the struggle she had stabbed him with a knife which her husband, Bob (Zachary Scott), had brought home from Tokyo.

The body is identified as that of Michael Tanner, a sculptor, who, it develops, had been an ardent suitor of Chris' during her husband's service overseas. When Bob learns the truth, Chris pleads for his forgiveness, but he asks for a divorce.

In court, the prosecuting attorney (Jerome Cowan) strives to impress the jury with the belief that Chris clung to the husband she had deceived, merely to preserve the comfortable life he had provided for her. Her defence rests on the established physical evidence as proof that Chris killed in self-defence.

The jury's decision and its effect on Bob's plans creates a sweeping climax which wrings from the story the last full measure of emotion.

Added Feature

"The Corpse Came C.O.D." is topnotch fun fare. A thumpingly good comedy-mystery, starring George Brent and Joan Blondell, has been turned out by Columbia in "The Corpse Came C. O.D."

Moving at a fast gait, liberally sprinkled with laughs and snappy dialogue and containing plenty of thrilling moments as well, the film easily achieves the top rank for its type.

AT THE SEVILLE THEATRE SATURDAY

Ann Sheridan, Lew Ayres and Zachary Scott, starring trio in Warner Bros.' "The Unfaithful," at a small Los Angeles luncheon rendezvous, talking over a turn of events in a scene from the film which comes to the Seville Theatre Saturday.

Rosanna Seaborn Directs At M.R.T.

Rosanna Seaborn is directing MRT's production of Terence Rattigan's play "While the Sun Shines," which opens at MRT Playhouse, Guy Street, on November 20th. She produced the Open Air Playhouse's production of Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream which was presented at Beaver Lake last summer.

Miss Seaborn studied at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts, London, England, acted professionally there, and has also appeared in the United States, notably with Flora Robson in "Ladies in Retirement." She is well-known to Montreal audiences, having appeared in several MRT productions and with the Shakespeare Society as Reagan in "King Lear". As a director, she will be remembered for her production of "Hotel Universe" and "Viceroy Sarah" which she did at MRT a few years ago. Last year she assisted Malcolm Morley when he directed "Joan of Lorraine" for MRT.

"While the Sun Shines" is a story dealing with the happenings in the private lives of an English rating, an American Lieutenant, a French Officer, and a W.A.A.F.

Modelling Class See Fashion Show

Clothes play a great part in expressing the personality of the wearer, Maurice Speyer, designer, pointed out in a brief talk which preceded a fashion showing of suits and afternoon dresses at the Speirs - Miller Dance Studios on Thursday evening.

But, he noted, if one is to express the personality artistically in clothes, one must have a personality to express. And thus it was necessary in the process of educating oneself to wear the right clothes, also to educate the mind to an appreciation of music, books and other cultural interests. Otherwise, Mr. Speyer warned, a girl will have very little personality to express.

In the art of wearing clothes with distinction, he thought it most important for the wearer to know herself and to dare to be herself, and to avoid fads launched with a commercial motive. A little social consciousness, an awareness of environment was a good thing to acquire also, said the designer, as it tended to prevent over-dressing.

The youthful audience, composed mainly of Speirs - Miller pupils of the modelling classes, also were addressed by Grace Speyer, wife of the designer, who advised against over-elaborate styles and accessories. "Consider yourself as a picture" said Mrs. Speyer. "If the frame is too elaborate, the attraction of the picture itself (you) is over-shadowed." She expressed the opinion that pearls belong on skin or velvet, not wool; that either real lace or no lace at all should adorn a gown; that heavy fur banding on cloth coats is apt to have social significance and signify class dressing, and that fur neckpieces and stoles are inartistic with tailored suits, being over-feminine for the type of wear. Over-matching was also inartistic, in her opinion, too much of one color swamping the onlooker's interest in the wearer's charms, of feature and expression.

Betty Speirs introduced and thanked the designers and was responsible for the music. She also thanked the models, the Misses Audrey Speirs and Dorothy Staples and Mrs. C. Thomson.

the ensuing loneliness and frustration, she takes to drink. The tortures of alcohol and conscience-conflict involve her in poignant situations which lead to a heart-stirring climax and, eventually, her domestic happiness.

Bringing this unique story to the screen was a stroke of intrepid showmanship on the part of Walter Wanger. And his casting of the glamorous Miss Hayward in the tensely dramatic role of a near-dipsomaniac is regarded as a brilliant contribution to his long list of film innovations.

Big Added Feature

Rosalind Russell, who made her mark in Hollywood as an expert portrayer of romantic comedy roles, continues to break new ground as a dramatic actress in a role that is richer than any she has ever achieved. Her latest part in Columbia's "The Guilt of Janet Ames," finds Rosalind as a selfish war widow who has become neurotic but recovers to find a new love. She runs the gamut of emotions in a strikingly different love story. Men will love her, while women will view her with sympathetic understanding in a film that should prove to be the talk of the year wherever it plays.

Melvyn Douglas, famous for his many splendid performances as a romantic farceur, returns to the screen in what is probably his most colorful role in a long and celebrated career.

9 Men of Vision...

PROVED THEIR FAITH IN CANADA

...130 Years Ago

An exhausted Europe—torn by decades of war—was breathing more easily . . . two years before, the Napoleonic Wars had at last ended at Waterloo. In the New World, the three-year-old Treaty of Ghent had ended an attempted invasion from the south . . . and the peoples of North America began a friendship that is the admiration of the world today.

1817 . . . Sturdy colonists of British North America—half a million of them—were scattered over as many square miles. To the west and north lay another two million square miles, unsettled and untouched. Merchants and traders did their business by barter and with a hodge-podge of foreign currencies, whose changing values spelled chaos. Trade development languished.

INTO this scene came nine men of vision . . . nine English and Scottish merchants who realized that, without a solid financial foundation, the colonies could never reach nationhood. Together, they determined a course of action. With their own money and the backing of 209 other pioneering citizens, these nine men founded the Bank of Montreal, which opened its doors for business on November 3rd, 1817. Never once since then has the Bank failed to open on a business day.

AT the very outset, the Bank issued its own bills and coins. Here was Canada's first real money. The currency won immediate acceptance . . . goods moved more quickly . . . and the stability the nine men hoped for came rapidly. The people proudly welcomed this Canadian currency—and, as its circulation spread, so did the reputation of the new bank. Within a year of its founding it became the Government's banker, and its currency officially replaced the British money used by the Government up to that time.

JUST two weeks after the Bank started, Canada's first branch bank was founded . . . the B of M's Quebec agency opened—and, thus, the Canadian branch banking system began. The following year saw agencies opened at Kingston and York, now Toronto, and branches spread as the years went on. Hailed throughout the world for its strength and flexibility, this system of branch banking—begun 130 years ago—has proved ideal for a country vast in area and small in population.

BUT all was not easy. There were hard, trying days ahead—each decade had its ups and downs. From 1836 to 1840, Canada experienced a succession of bad harvests, political convulsions, commercial changes and failures. Rebellion had depreciated the value of property and seriously hindered the improvement and further settlement of the country. The Bank of Montreal survived only by the most careful use of its resources and the confident loyalty of its depositors.

RECOVERY was rapid during the middle years of the century. Then came 1867 . . . and a nation was born. But a trans-continental railway was a condition of Confederation, and now the Canadian Pacific had to be pushed through. To speed the construction, the enterprise was placed in private hands. The work went fast, and the last spike was driven five years earlier than expected. With faith characteristic of its nine founders, the B of M had backed to the limit this great national project.

1900—the century opened with a new flood of prosperity which lasted for more than a decade. Two more trans-continental railway systems . . . a great influx of new settlers . . . abundant crops . . . thousands of new industries—and then . . . World War I! Through the trying times which followed . . . the inflated days of the 20's and the depressed days of the 30's—through a second World War in our time . . . Canadians worked and fought, and Canada became a world power.

—Peace . . . new plans . . . new hopes . . . rehabilitation. Life in Canada still takes work, courage and, above all, vision . . . the kind of vision which spurred nine men to pioneer the nation's economy 130 years ago. From a corporal's guard in 1817, the staff of the B of M has grown to an army eight thousand strong . . . working closely with Canadians and their industries in hundreds of communities from coast to coast . . . supplying the lifeblood of credit to an expanding nation . . . seeking always—through sound counsel and friendly service—to give practical help to the million and a half customers who put their trust in the Bank.

What of Tomorrow . . . ? Just as history foreshadows the future, so the record of Canada and of her first-established bank working together gives promise of bright tomorrows for the nation. "The twentieth century belongs to Canada" . . . and for that future we pledge ourselves anew to work constructively with Canadians in every walk of life.

BANK OF MONTREAL

Canada's First-established Bank

GEORGE W. SPINNEY, C.M.G., President B. C. GARDNER, Vice President and General Manager

QUEBEC and the B of M Have Grown Up Together

The Province of Quebec—cradle of the nation—was the birthplace of Canada's first-established bank.

Here, in Montreal, whose population was but 20,000 at the time, began the Bank of Montreal in 1817... and with it the branch banking system of the nation.

Thus, the province that was the springboard for discovery and colonization of Canada's vast areas, also gave birth to the country's financial system which helped make Confederation possible and provided fertile soil for the seeds of nationhood.

Today, the B of M serves the people of the province through 104 branches and is constantly adding to this number.
