

Another Successful Huntingdon Fair Large Attendance, More Entries

This year, more than ever before, the accent was on youth at the Huntingdon Fair. It was evident by the number of youngsters in the opening night parade; it was noticeable in the number of entries and classes directed toward the younger folk; it was quite apparent on the midway where both rides and booths were saving their hard sell for the admission receipts. Opening night was garnished with the traditional parade of floats and marchers. Beginning shortly after 7 p.m. the parade assembled in its long train by the academy moved down Chateaugay Street surrounded by hundreds of spectators who gathered and cheered along the parade route, worked its way over the bridge and made its triumphant entry into the arena before a full house.

Leading the train were the Ormstown majorettes and noppets followed by the Ormstown band. In spite of the number of times this team has been seen this summer, spectators still marvel at the professionalism and split second timing of these performers. As one excited viewer said, "These people put on a better show than any half-time football demonstration I've ever seen on television."

Of the four floats, judges granted first prize to the Canadian Legion Float (Huntingdon Branch). This double-wagoned entry recalled the sacrifice of those who died in the war effort. Its theme was simple and thus effective. One wagon simply had row upon row of white crosses, silently recalling those gallant soldiers who remain yet at the battle sites.

In a lighter, outdoor vein, the Wolf Cub Float landed second prize for its demonstration of the activities of Huntingdon Wolf Cubs. Designed and prepared by cub master Lawrence Carrigan, assisted by Mrs. Earl Kyle, Mrs. Clarence Robidoux, Mrs. Fred Kyle and Irene McLean, the building and the general outdoor activities of the wolf cubs.

Following the float, the Huntingdon pack, in full dress, marched with dubious precision to complete the entry. Third prize was reserved for an entry by the Maple Leaf Grange for its portrayal of a happy looking couple. Finally, the Huntingdon Rotary Club, with a float appropriately entitled "The Loafers" carried members who were doing exactly that: loafing. And they looked as contented as if they had been doing the same thing in their back yards.

Spectators were reminded by signs on the sides of the wagon, however, that the Rotary club is active in such fields as helping Nurse's training, Exchange students' programs and promoting public speaking. Perhaps with all these activities, members needed a few moments relaxation.

Probably the most colorful part of the parade were the decorated bicycles with their costumed peddlers.

Out of the 30 odd entries, some obviously were the result of many hours of work. The bicycles and their riders were judged for originality and design. First prize here went to Little Red Riding Hood and the wicked wolf. Talk about realism! Every grandmother in the arena must have given a silent shudder at the sight of the malevolent tongue hanging greedily out of the wolf's tooth lined mouth. Little Red Riding Hood, being passively towed in a wagon by the evil wolf was a picture of red innocence. The wolf was: David Bennett, 6; the girl was his younger sister Linda — two years old and the prize was an appropriate Pepsi Cola picnic cooler. (All the better to freeze you with, my dear.)

A Hawaiian girl, a bike and rider depicting the wide world of sports with a menagerie of sporting equipment piled on the two wheels, and Little Miss Muffet, complete with spider won second, third and fourth prizes respectively. The hula girl was Yvonne Scott, 8. Michael Scott 10, turned out to be the Sportsman, and Pauline Scott, 4, sat on the tuffet. They were all from the same family.

Fifth prize went to masked Wayne Kruek, 11, wearing the inevitable batman costume.

Some of the other entries included a makeshift American tank built out of rough lumber by three enterprising lads: Gastan Hebert, 13; Marcel Galipeau, 12, and Gary Duhaime, 10.

Following the bicycles, the band and majorettes of Notre Dame marched and the parade was completed with a pair of oxen drawing a covered wagon.

The Fair was officially opened by a number of dignitaries including Mr. Ken Fraser, MPP; George Kennedy, MPP; Leo Capello, Mayor of Huntingdon; Allister Somerville; Mrs. Bernhardt, past President of the fair last year; all of whom expressed best wishes for a successful fair this year.

Although the opening ceremonies of Thursday evening marked the official start of the Huntingdon Fair, many events preceded this during the morning and afternoon.

Poultry judging, for example, took place Thursday afternoon. The judge, Mr. Keith McCaig, of Lachute shows his own flocks in various fairs and is well versed in the art of judging poultry. Among the various breeds of hens, geese, ducks, turkeys and pigeons entered at Huntingdon Fair, the red and blue ribbons went to the winners only after each bird had been carefully inspected in turn. Fullness of the breast, size, and uniformity of the plumage is what the judge was looking for.

Prize lists for poultry appear elsewhere in the Gleaner. Upstairs in the arena, judges were carefully scrutinizing the various baking, home handicraft, photography and vegetable entries.

Among the rows of bottled jams, preserves, vegetable arrangements and fresh bread, which one would expect at a fall fair, were some more unusual items. Among these were: a collection of weeds, (Continued on page 2)

J. J. Alexander Reaches Century Mark This Friday, Sept. 9th

"I feel just as well as I always have" says J. J. Alexander of Huntingdon who next Friday, September 9th, will turn 100 years old, a milestone few people can hope to achieve.

Mr. Alexander, in better health than many people half his age attributes his long life to four things:

- he has never smoked;
- he is and has always been a total abstainer;
- his life has been one of hard work;
- he has always allowed himself plenty of sleep each night.

"Stay in more at nights, you'll live longer" is his advice to the young. "You are just cutting your own throats if you don't", he warns.

Traditionally, centenarians receive congratulations from the Queen and from the Prime Minister of Canada, on their birthday.

Mr. Alexander, a second generation Canadian was born in St. Louis de Gonzague in 1866. His father had come over from Glasgow, Scotland, when he was four years old, taking over three long months to sail from the old country to Canada.

When Mr. Alexander was 28, this was in 1894, he took over his father's farm after being married to his first wife.

In 1920, he moved to Ormstown in order that his family could be closer to the school. Mr. Alexander was responsible for making the Holstein breed of cattle more common in this area. Not only did he have a herd of some 50 cattle at one time, when there were no such contraptions as milking machines, — but he regularly showed the cream of his herd at fairs and exhibitions in Huntingdon, Ormstown, Sherbrooke, Quebec, Three Rivers and other places.

In those days, he was up at 4:30 or 5 a.m. each morning to begin the day's chores.

After spending five years in Ormstown he bought another farm near Elgin but when he finally retired from active farming, Huntingdon became his home town. At present he lives in a modest bungalow with his second wife.

From an original family of six daughters and one son, Mr. Alexander has a total of 14 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren.

Of his seven children, the eldest daughter, Mrs. R. N. Elliot died last spring while his only son, Dr. J. D. F. Alexander resides in Vancouver, B.C.

Apart from visiting his son twice in British Columbia, Mr. Alexander has seldom traveled except when he toured the fair circuits in the early part of this century.

His wife considerably younger than Mr. Alexander, said, "He was always a hard worker and a good farmer". They are both looking forward to next Friday with great anticipation.

Mr. Alexander will be "At Home" to his relatives, friends and neighbours on Friday, September 9th, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Perry, Boyd Settlement Road, Huntingdon.

Fred McNaughton Top 4-H Showman — Fay McKell Takes Kiwanis Award

Saturday was Achievement Day at the Huntingdon Young Farmers Club. Grant Whyte, long a strong supporter of 4H activities in the Valley, was the judge for showmanship as well as the breed classes, at the Huntingdon Fair Grounds.

Fred McNaughton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McNaughton of the Boyd Settlement, took the Maple Leaf Grange Trophy for Grand Champion Showman, having previously won the Junior Competition. Fred picked up a third and two fourth place ribbons on his Holstein heifer entries, and his young herd placed third in the group competition. Two weeks previous this active Junior club member had placed fourth in the Judging Competition.

Fay McKell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whiteford McKell of Howick, placed first in the Inter Club Judging Competition sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Montreal. This annual competition brings together the top Junior Judges from Lachute Fair, Ormstown Exhibition and Huntingdon. A class of mature Holsteins was judged and the winner was determined on the basis of her placing and written reasons. The judge for this year's event was James Houston of Macdonald College, well known in Eastern Canadian livestock circles. Mr. Peter Acres of Hudson, chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the Kiwanis Club of Montreal presented the awards to the winner of the Judging Competition. Fay McKell earned a purebred heifer calf as a result of her efforts. Linda Thorburn of Lachute placed second followed by Don Smith of the Huntingdon Club. Eight further prizes were awarded.

The winners of the Junior Holstein Calf class: 1. Sheryl Ann Murphy — 50 lb. of Master calf meal from Builder's Supply; 2. George Tannahill — 1 gallon of Prestone from Archie Lewin; 3. — 2.50 donated by Loiselle and Legault; 3. Lorne Mc-

As local people are well aware, the C.N.R. and N.Y.C. railroad tracks cross in Huntingdon. When the Canadian trainmen went on Strike, they didn't expect the N.Y.C. freight to keep operating, as trainmen on both sides of the border belong to the Brotherhood of Railway Workers. In the above picture, four C.N.R. trainmen from Coteau bearing placards requesting N.Y.C. trainmen to respect their picket lines await a freight train from Massena bound for Valleyfield and Beauharnois. On Wednesday, the inbound N.Y.C. train returned to Massena, but on Thursday the train was operated by non-union Americans from a point above Huntingdon, past the intersection of the two railroads, and consider themselves as 'scabs' for going through the picket line and he explained the N.Y.C. could be fined $10,000 per day for not servicing the valuable clients between Huntingdon and Beauharnois and they were bringing the train through on their own property. He explained the crew conducting the train across the C.N.R. tracks were non-union members, and therefore not scabs. Technically, he must be right. Anyway, the strike appears about over. C.N.R. trains began rolling through Huntingdon on Sunday and, except for one day, the N.Y.C. trains never stopped. One of the C.N.R. strikers from Coteau explained they had been on picket duty from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., when they would be replaced by another group. Asked if he didn't think it was a rather poor time to go on strike, he said some employees only make a little over fifty dollars per week and that isn't much if they have a family to raise. These people, employed as laborers, are asking a 30% increase in pay. Trainmen make more money and their request is for 15% more. Their main complaint didn't appear to be that they weren't making enough money to live on, rather that they weren't making a lot less than trainmen in the U.S.A. for identical work. Town and Provincial Police who appear above were merely on the scene to direct traffic on Bouchette St.

School Prize Giving To Be Held This Saturday Evening

An adjourned meeting of the Huntingdon High School Protestant Commissioners was held on Thursday evening, 6th with a Graduation Dance to be held on the 9th. On Saturday, September 10, Prize Giving Exercises will be held in the school and on September 12th School Exercises. The Departmental Results were discussed at some length and it was mentioned that Huntingdon High School ranked higher than some schools in the area.

Mr. Brockman, Principal, explored some of the pertinent articles in the Parent Report, Volumes 4 and 5 and gave his view of same. It is to be noted that if this is put into effect, there will be some radical changes. Mr. Brockman pointed out that much of this would be detrimental to school functioning in the future. Some changes are to be made in one classroom to accommodate an extra class of Grade 8 pupils. A temporary partition in one room is to be removed in order to enlarge the space. It is reported there will be three Grade 8 classes this year.

Mr. Brockman also asked the Board what should be done in connection with Centennial Year as this would be coming up for 1967. He felt that something should be done in the school to commemorate this important event in Canada's history. It was decided to work out some suitable plan for this special year.

Requests have been received from the Catholic Regional Board for the placement of an overflow of their pupils in Huntingdon High School. The matter was discussed at some length and Mr. Brockman was told to pass along the decision to the responsible parties.

Requests were made for sports equipment and the Board authorized the requirements.

Bursary Still Available

Each year the P.T.A. of Huntingdon awards a bursary for one boy and one girl graduating from Grade XI of St. Joseph's School, Huntingdon. This Bursary is intended as an award for outstanding pupils who are determined to continue their studies at any University, College, or private school. The P.T.A. does not take into consideration the financial standing of the applicant or his, respectively her, parents, but is guided by the scholastic standing only. These facts apparently were not known to all the pupils of the graduating class this year, since only 3 applications were received by the executive of the P.T.A. All three applications were from girls only. Not a single boy applied. It is hardly conceivable that the graduating boys should not be interested in furthering their knowledge. But the P.T.A. cannot bestow a bursary on anyone if the prospective recipient has not filed an application. All the boys of the graduating class are, therefore, invited to submit their application to Mr. Pinto who heads the committee, as soon as possible, and state their choice of school.

Cattle Parade Shows Excellent Type of Cattle Exhibits

by Frank Napier

While the Holsteins have long earned similar praise they undoubtedly "stole the show" insofar as the cattle show of the 1966 Huntingdon Fair was concerned. It was held on Friday, September 2, and was, of course, also the annual Black and White Show of the Huntingdon Ormstown Holstein Club, and, in that respect perhaps not as large as one might expect considering the number of herds that should support such breed show, and didn't. That is, as of the Counties of Huntingdon and Chateaugay, including Howick. However, it was nevertheless a sizeable, impressive show of which Pierre Leonard, Field Representative of the Quebec Division of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada said: "This is the best Black and White Show I have seen here during the past ten years in which I have attended this Fair; particularly insofar as the marked improvement in the size, type and quality of the individuals on parade. Likewise the fitting and presentation in general." To which one might add, considerable credit in a showmanship should go to the younger members of the families concerned, most of them either present or former 4H Club members.

The Holstein Show was managed by Armand Pinsonneault, Ormstown, assisted by Agronomes Leon Beaudin (Huntingdon) and Gosselin (Beauharnois Co.) The judge was John Beerwort, of Bromont, and his expert performance of quite an onerous task apparently met with general approval. Since a complete report of the awards will doubtless be given in either this week's or next week's issue of the Gleaner, we will only mention here a few of the several highlights of that Black and White Show. As it is with most other Fairs nowadays the bull classes were numerically very light, due to the large percentage of breeders using the "Artificial Insemination, which semen is mostly from the Eastern Breeders Inc. bulls. In fact, in this instance only six animals in all were shown in the three bull classes. The Senior Champion male was female was Spring Dale Beau-

Violes Jessica Perseus, Prince gard Fuchsia, first prize aged for Dr. Yvan Levesque, Glenelg. However, the first prize bull calf, a very promising youngster won the Junior Jersey classes, thereby also won all the first prizes in that section. Small but select, might well be descriptive on the three head Hereford exhibit — two of them, a 2 year old bull and a cow, by John Dagg, Dundee, and a yearling bull by Dockendale Farm (Campbell and Hopper) Athelstan. The Daug bull, Flemmingval Super Roll, was awarded the championship. The Dockendale bull being Torwood Rajah Rollo; both of them could well be classed as good herd sire material.

The Ayrshires

The Ayrshire Show, staged Saturday afternoon, September 3, was but a shadow of past Ayrshire shows here, so to speak. That is numerically, because as a whole the animals shown were worthy specimens of their breed. When the catalogue was printed, a week or so after the regular final entry date, the only exhibitor was Colonial Acres, Huntingdon. However, in between times Oscar Vaillancourt, St. Chrysostome; Ross Irving, Laguerre; Alex. McCaig, Ormstown, and Gloria Arthur, Franklin Centre, helped out in a competitive way with one or more late entries. The judge, albeit in a pleasing way, was Jacques McGeorge of Alderwood Farm, St. Valentin.

As it was in the Holstein section there were only a very few males on exhibit, with Bonnie Brae Sir Frank 2nd, as Junior and Grand Champion, for Oscar Vaillancourt; The Senior and Reserve Grand Champion was Glenegary Brown Duke, owned by Colonial Acres.

This and That in Town

SHOPPING'S MORE CASUAL NOW — One would think the housewife's growing concern over rising food prices would make her a more careful shopper. Not so, reports a recent DuPont Consumer Buying Habits Study. For one thing, the use of a written grocery list is declining rapidly (67% shoppers don't use one). Nowadays, about one-half of purchases are completely unplanned, says the survey. Impulse buying is on the increase, particularly for items like corn chips, chocolate candy, cakes, and donuts.

Now that all schools have reopened after the summer vacation, motorists are reminded they must stop while school buses are loading or discharging students. When warning lights are flashing on the school buses, wait before passing from either direction. Most motorists in the Chateaugay Valley observe the law, but many people report the law is completely ignored north of Montreal. Here, we value our children dearly... don't endanger their lives by passing a stationary school bus from either direction.

While we're having a little confab with motorists, what is your opinion of Premier Johnson's remark that the speed limit on better highways in la belle province could conceivably be raised to 80 m.p.h.? Methinks most people, without luxurious limousines and chauffeurs, better stick to 70 on the Autoroutes. Around this area, 60 is fast for any piece of road we have.

With today's inflationary food prices, it's small wonder people are changing their minds with regard to what staples are.

Garth Stephen, one of several meteorological technicians at Dorval, entertained some 25 of his co-workers and their wives to a corn roast Thursday evening (see pic. and John Davidson's report). The group enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stephen and made good use of the huge swimming pool on the spacious grounds. Included in the group of technicians was Mr. Guy Viau, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Art Brouillette of Port Lewis. Garth explained that the group of meteorological technicians from the Central Analysis Office make weather maps for all of Canada and also make maps for the U.S.A. and some countries in Europe. One thing we didn't know: weather for the Fair just had to be good, otherwise Garth and his friends wouldn't have picked Thursday night for their corn roast. (But buddy boy, did you notice the weather predictions made on Friday, the day AFTER the party?) We understand Garth has plans for a skating party in January when he will invite all employees of the Dorval Weather Office... that's fine friend, maybe brown bread and beans then won't have the same effect as last week's corn.

Let's all remember the Mammoth Party next Wednesday at Ormstown Exhibition Grounds, sponsored by the W.A. of The Barrie. It's basically a card party with tables for Bridge, 500 and Euchre, but there will be other entertainment for all, plenty of prizes and delicious refreshments. Remember: 8 p.m. in the Industrial Building, one week from tonight. The W.A. members have really been working hard to make this evening a success, please help by attending.

Did you know that Roger Lapiere, Pro at the Trout River Golf & Country Club, represented the Montreal Police Dept. in a Professional Golf Tournament last week in Chicago? And did you know he placed third? Congratulations.

There were a couple of errors in the Havelock Fair Prize List. Don't forget Havelock Fair is this Saturday and check the Fair ad, for the Specials offered by Ben Berthume and Mrs. Laurin.

Incidentally, sec'y Aylmer Hadley tells us that entries in all classes are again heavier this year, which augurs well for the best Fair yet. We understand some people are continuing on to have a quick look at the Hemmingford Golf Club after the Fair. Good idea.

The 1966 Havelock Fair has come and gone and it was a great success from start to finish, a real credit to the President, Board of Managers and all officials. See reports and lists of prizewinners.

Now Havelock Fair President Wm. J. Brown and the Directors and Officials invite everyone to be at the Havelock Fair Grounds this Saturday, September 10, and be entertained by the Highland Band and Dancers from Maxville, Ont. That, of course, will only be a small part of Havelock Fair, because this one-day show is really big. Like Havelock Fair, it has been growing by leaps and bounds and again this year there will be all kinds of exhibits: horses, cattle, sheep, swine, poultry; fruit, dairy produce, vegetables, bread and pastry, preserves, handiwork, flowers, plants and many others. Last year, many people went home with excellent paintings they had purchased at reasonable prices, and these people will be looking for more this year. Saturday will be a great day for the children, too: ball games, novelty races, pony events. The drive to Havelock is pleasant, from all directions, and if one doesn't buy apples at the Fair, the purchase will probably be made on the way home. A fine country dinner is served at noon.

with plates of meats, mounds of mashed potatoes, choices of pie, etc. placed right on the table. It's a great day coming and more and more people are 'discovering' Havelock Fair each year. Come on along, rain or shine, but weather's sure to be good.

Did you meet Mrs. W. E. Bernhardt at Huntingdon Fair? The Past-President, now from Pincoort, Ont. was there most of Friday.

Fish are really striking now. St. Anicet Outfitters report Dore and Bass are hitting minnows and worms as well as any lure that shines. Muskies again have a full mouth of teeth and they seem to be plentiful. Dore season is getting short, same as the days, so get out and do a little fishing before it's too late. A call to St. Anicet Outfitters will reserve a boat and all the necessary gear.

Alister Somerville has informed The Gleaner that only two tenders were received for the resurfacing of Route 4. Regional Construction of St. Louis de Gonzague tendered at $161,961 and the Sera So. of St. Isidore at $179,543. Mr. Somerville expects the contract to be signed this week and the work, scheduled to be completed by October 31, will start immediately. The new construction on Route 4 from the Monique Curve to Huntingdon will also be finished this fall and black-topped in the spring.

Labor Day is also passed '66 and schools opened for the 1966-67 term on Tuesday. Seems there were lights shining from every camp along St. Francis for the long week-end, but it will be a different story from now on. The lake will seem deserted without youngsters speeding around in their boats. Cars were bumper-to-bumper on Monday on Route 3, all crammed with everything from pots and pans to bedding and long faces, as families headed back to the city. Last year, some pets acquired during the summer were left behind to fend for themselves...surely everybody will be more thoughtful this year? If you can't take them with you, have them destroyed humanely by a veterinarian.

And the milkmen, breadmen and other door-to-door salesmen who built up a profitable summer trade along the lakeshore will again be breathing a little easier...unfortunately.

Some of the summer residents will keep coming back, of course, on week-ends. Others will probably never be back, going to another site next year. For some of the youngsters, there will be changes: some will be entering high school, others will be graduating next June; some will be going to colleges and universities in a week or so; still others will be getting married, or will be on their own and working next summer. Come what may, 'the lake' will be there, and the summer population will be bigger than ever. That's life... and everybody likes it.

Invariably one hears someone remark "I don't know how that man keeps going the way he does". Often as not, around Outtown, the remark concerns one of our doctors. It's generally followed by comments on how fortunate Huntingdonians are in having three excellent physicians, Doctors F. G. McCrimmon, G. T. G. Lefebvre and K. G. Cameron. The remarks one overhears are well founded, too; how do these men keep going, day after day and year after year, seeing patients at all hours of the day and night? Certainly few towns and even fewer cities are as well cared for. Even stranger is the fact that only a few decades back, Huntingdon had four doctors and there were also doctors at Kensington, St. Anicet, Cazaville, Athelstan, Trout River, Rockburn and so on. It wasn't long ago that Fort Covington, N.Y. had three doctors, Blackett, McCartney, Smart... now they have none and haven't had for some time. Our three Huntingdon doctors service a large community, that's a fact. Sure, we know they don't do it on horseback or anything like that, and we know most roads, however remote, are maintained for automobile traffic all winter; but even so, they cover quite a territory, don't they? If it wasn't for the County Hospital and the Barrie Memorial, our three doctors just wouldn't be able to look after all the sick people and still be on hand for emergencies. We're lucky with our doctors and we're fortunate to have two fine hospitals in the area. Now we ask you, please, when an opportunity is presented to help out, take advantage of it. The W.A.'s of our hospitals do true yeoman service in keeping the hospitals operating efficiently, so help these groups in their endeavours... doing that will be helping our doctors... even ourselves.

Over around Lachute, hoaxsters have been trying to bilk widows lately, in much the same way as was tried in Huntingdon early this spring. A caller identifies himself as a bank accountant and states he has been assigned to check on irregularities at the bank the woman patronizes. She is asked to verify that she has a certain sum of money in the bank and is then asked to withdraw it so that a check can be made on the employees. We don't know if the attempt to mulct funds from the elderly or more trusting clients was successful, but we do know one lady called the police, same as at Huntingdon, and the operators moved out of Lachute. Be sure of one thing, however: the trick will be tried again, some place. We trust none of The Gleaner subscribers will be taken in.

Rain on Sunday really soaked local golfers' spirits. Then more spirits helped those spirits and Monday was a fine Labor Day holiday for golf, so all's well that ends well, especially on the 19th hole.

G.M. and Ford have announced they are extending their power-train warranty to equal that of Chrysler. The Big Three of the automotive industry will be introducing their '67 models this month. It's a safe bet the new models will cost $5 more (than ever).

Parents, don't forget to subscribe to The Gleaner for that son or daughter studying away from home this year. A gift subscription to the hometown news is really appreciated by them. Each year, subscription for students away from home come in from now until Christmas, but why not start right now... phone 264-5365... less than 40 cents a month sends it to them, anywhere in Canada, and that's cheaper than mailing it on.

RUSTPROOF OUR CARS — Car makers could rust-proof their vehicles on the production line so that they would resist corrosion for 12 years, corrosion experts claim. The Financial Post says that increased pressure on the manufacturers to do just that may result from a Canadian conference of corrosion engineers later this month. Available coatings and known techniques would do the job, according to J. D. Palmer, research engineer, Ontario Research Foundation. Today's car is a simple example of an object not built to survive in its environment," Palmer told The Financial Post. "The use of inhibitors in road salts is the wrong way to go about restraining corrosions of cars. It's an attempt to change the whole environment in which cars have to operate. And it can't be done without incurring colossal cost". And note this, also from Palmer: "I can't recall hearing about any ships in modern times sinking as a result of corrosion holes".

RELIGIOUS RADIO BROADCAST, SEPTEMBER 11 — Students and parents tend to get on each other's nerves at school opening time, and a way of eliminating this problem will be discussed on the next Christian Science Radio program in the regular weekly series "The Bible Speaks to You" which is heard on Station CKVL (dial 850) every Sunday morning at 9:45.

and a rather primitive drawing of a truck on red paper — primitive until it is realized that the class was in the seven years and under range. The midway remained largely unchanged from last year but this did not prevent the fearless young folk from having a good time. Among the rides were a passenger train, a roller coaster, a set of revolving swings, and sequential chairs.

In the evenings especially these rides were in great demand and often had line-ups in front of them. Most popular snack on the midway seemed to be candy floss of an indescribable shade of green, and dogs on a stick. The midway owners, from Chateaugay, N.Y. brought an offer to ride with them but it was never set up as apparent no one knew how to put it together.

In addition to the rides, a few booths offered various games and trinkets for the fair goers. About the only booth directed toward the adults was a bingo tent that offered prizes to winners from one dollar up to five dollars depending on the number of people playing.

A new feature on the midway this year was the appearance of Kermit Saxton and his ox-drawn covered wagon from Bruston, New York. Each of the two beasts weighed 1500 pounds and children could ride around in early western glory for a quarter. Mr. Saxton said he will probably return next year.

In the Industrial Exhibit area, most of the booths were similar to those of last year but there were a few newcomers. The two booths that seemed to attract the most attention was the display of Thomas organs, because of the swinging music, and the Dewittville W.I. booth which has gained quite a reputation as a first class eating place.

The Huntingdon Gleaner also had a booth and passers by could, as often as not, see themselves in one of the many photographs on the walls taken from old Gleaner files.

After the opening ceremonies Thursday evening, the Ormstown moppets and band ran through a routine that was very popular with the arena crowd, before the regular evening events began.

Among the highlights of Thursday evening were the pony potato race for riders under 10 year of age and the tug of war and the Palomino class. Entries in the Palomino event were judged for performance, color, and conformation.

Apart from cattle, sheep and swine judging, no events were held in the mornings.

The highlight of Friday afternoon was the tractor rodeo. There were many entries this year and those who tried out had to go through four different operations with a tractor to display their safety and driving skills.

The grueling trials involved backing tractors with various equipment following a predetermined course. Any deviation from the path resulted in loss of points, and to top it all off, there was a time limit of three minutes imposed for each event.

The most difficult trial turned out to be backing a four wheeled wagon into a precise spot marked out by stakes. Many boys simply gave up after several attempts when the wagon turned the opposite way from the intended direction. Others, however, proved to be quite skillful and backed the wagon in its proper place in the first try with little or no apparent difficulty.

Judges for the tractor rodeo were: Don Hamilton, Cyril Stewart, William Todd and Arthur Rankin.

Later in the afternoon, an exciting pony race, held on the race track, provided spectators with plenty of thrills as several of the young riders were thrown from the frisky ponies.

Although the race was fairly even until the half way point, Kevin Murphy, 14, of Chateaugay riding 'Diamond' edged into first place and maintained the lead to emerge as winner of the event. Six entries took part.

The Tug-of-War events on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights attracted much attention as the teams were not only strong, but fast in beating the opposing teams. On Thursday, the pull was between Hinchinbrook Volunteer Firemen and Molson's Tug-of-War team from Valleyfield. In this match Hinchinbrook won in 12 seconds. On Friday night Huntingdon Volunteer Firemen pulled against Du Vieux Moulin Hotel of Valleyfield and the Hotel team won in 4 seconds. The final pull came on Saturday night between Hinchinbrook Volunteer Firemen and the Hotel men and the winner after 30 seconds was Hinchinbrook Firemen. As this team have won the trophy for three successive years, they now retain it for all time.

On Friday evening, for the first time, a cattle parade was held in the arena and it appears this will become an annual event from now on.

A big crowd Saturday afternoon turned out to the dog and cat show. Judge Donald Sweet of Chateaugay, New York, disregarded breed, temperament and obedience while judging the animals, and concentrated on health, coat, and general condition of the pets. It is almost inevitable a few fights will break out among a collection of some 25 dogs and a few did. They were not serious, however, and for the most part, the animals behaved well.

Because of the large number of entries this year, the dog and cat judging was done in several heats to give more pet owners a chance to become prize winners.

Saturday evening, a clover leaf race drew 13 entries. In this event, riders had to guide their animals through a series of figure eight courses while a stop watch ticked off the seconds. The winner was the one who completed the course in the least amount of time. Prize lists appear elsewhere in the Gleaner.

Mr. James Waldie of Howick was the winner of pony offered at the Fair. The pony's name was "Lucky". We must call Mr. Waldie just that.

By the time the last event was over Saturday evening, most of the industrial exhibits had been dismantled, the midway activities were coming to a close, and the end of the fair was celebrated with a well attended dance.

For those participants who did not receive any red or blue ribbons it was "wait until next year"; for the winners, it was nothing but happy smiles, and for the organizers, who were congratulated time and again for putting on such a good show, the end came with a relieved prospect of the brow and a good prospect for a decent night's sleep at last.

Fair Oddities One oddity has been brought to our attention with regard to the Huntingdon Fair of last week. Six sisters were brought together at the Fair, which we believe can be classed in the unusual. These sisters were of the VanVliet family and as follows: Mrs. Betts, Mrs. Grant, Misses Jean and Mary VanVliet, Lacolle; Mrs. Buchanan, Lakeshore and Mrs. B. Rankin of New Erin. They were all together at the Fair and it is rather novel that the six met in this way.

BOWEN - DAHMS The marriage of Patricia and blue silk print with a turquoise hat and matching accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of gardenias. Following the reception of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bowen, took place recently in St. John's Church, Huntingdon, the Rev. Raymond Stoth officiating. Mr. Marvin Smith played the wedding music and Mrs. Mous Duke sang a solo. Baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums were used to decorate the church. The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white organza over taffeta, having puritan sleeves appliqued with lace medallions. The train, falling from the empire waistline, was of organza edged with lace. The shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a single white silk rose and she carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and cornflowers. Mrs. Ronald Moore, cousin of the groom, as matron of honour and Miss Linda Dahms, sister of the bride, as bride-maid were in gowns of sapphire blue silk shantung with matching picture hats and carried baskets of flowers. METEOROLOGISTS CATCH UP FOR CORN ROAST

Don't be too hasty in putting down this great weather we had for the three days of the Huntingdon Fair on mere coincidence. We were all set to call it good luck ourselves until we learned that about 20 weather men were out from Dorval at a corn roast, on the opening night of the fair. Now we know these meteorologists are only supposed to predict the weather - not to control it. But that still doesn't allay a nagging suspicion that perhaps they had something to do with the clear skies and warm temperatures. The corn roast was given by Garth Stephen for his colleagues at the Dorval weather bureau of the Department of Transport, Thursday evening. The first three winners in the individual classes were: HOLSTEINS: Junior heifer calf (10): 1 Shirley Ann Murphy, 2 Julia de Vries, 3 Lorne McNaughton. Senior heifer calf (6): 1 Don Smith, 2 George Tannahill, 3 Agnes de Vries. Yearling heifer: 1 George Tannahill, 2 Don Smith, 3 Lorne McNaughton. Two year old heifer (7): 1 Henry Bonenberg, 2 Fred die McNaughton, 3 George Tannahill. Champion: George Tannahill in junior yearling heifer. Reserve: Don Smith on senior calf. The Kiwanis Club Prize was won by Don Smith. In the Inter-Club Contest - Howick, Huntingdon and Lacolle, also sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Montreal - the winner was Fay McKell of the Ayrshire section of the Howick 4-H Club. News from Howick

HOWICK — Mrs. Douglas Ness spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Atkinson of Ayers Cliff.

Mrs. Rowland Ness, Karen and Jimmy are spending a week or two with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Mack at Lennoxville.

Mr. and Mrs. Whiteford McKell, Joy and Danny, spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Rodney McKell, Lennoxville, Rodney and Donna came to Howick for the week-end and with Mr. and Mrs. McKell, visited relatives at Plattsburg, on Sunday.

Mr. Arthur Kerr is a patient at the Montreal General Hospital due to eye trouble. Our best wishes go to this senior citizen who is edging ninety years.

Mildred McKell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whiteford McKell had a 6th birthday last week so all the 6 year olds who are entering Grade 1 were invited to a get-acquainted party at her home. 18 little guests were there and they had fun riding the pony and horses, and playing games.

That awful pre-school week has come and gone and anxious mothers can sigh with relief that the last piece of clothing needed for opening day has been made and bought. Now the "Get Your Homework Done" phase has hit them which is good for a few grey hairs.

Following his marriage in 1920 to the former Katherine Dease of Liverpool, England, they made their home at Alan's Corners, where he practised his trade at Malcolm McIntyre's Shop. Two years later they moved to Howick, where he lived and worked at the corner of Bridge and Lambton Streets.

He was a typical blacksmith, skilful at his trade and an expert with horses, often being called to places some distance away for particular jobs.

Horses were being replaced by cars and tractors and the colourful era of the village blacksmith was coming to a close. His home and shop were removed in 1958 to make way for a change in Highway 4. This change brought to a close also, his active career as a blacksmith which he had followed for almost 50 years.

His shop had been a place of business but it was also a meeting place where folk dropped in to discuss neighbourly news and politics at all levels. The local clergy were among the many who enjoyed these visits.

Mr. Cavanagh's funeral was held at McGerrigle Funeral Home, Ormstown on Monday afternoon, August 29th. There were numerous floral tributes and many friends and relatives attended the service which was conducted by Mr. William Hudson of Howick United Church. He based his meditation on the text, "Because I Live, Ye Too Shall Live."

Interment was at Georgetown Cemetery. The bearers were: William Cullen, Harry Cullen, William Morison, Laurier Bergevin, Laurier Jenneau, Michael Cavanagh.

He leaves to mourn his loss, Mrs. Cavanagh, Jimmy Raymond, Eunice (Mrs. Norman) and Diane.

HOWICK — Mr. and Mrs. Ross Buchanan, Susan and Ronnie, spent a week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Buchanan of Sudbury. Ricky stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin McCartney of Chateaugay.

Mr. David Horner and Miss

OBITUARY
The Late
James Edward Cavanagh
The community was saddened

ed by the sudden passing on Friday, August 26th, 1966, of James Edward Cavanagh, well known resident of Howick for the past 44 years.

Born June 18, 1896, he was one of 6 sons born to the late Peter Cavanagh and his wife Catherine McKeegan of Ormstown. He attended Upper Tullochgorum School. Later he learned the blacksmith trade with Mr. Dougall McIntyre of Ormstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy McCartney and Mr. and Mrs. Quentin McCartney attended a Memorial service for the late Mrs. Stanley McNeil which was held at Franklin Centre United Church. They were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Dunn.

Carolyne Templeton and Andy Ness went to Quebec Fair on Saturday to take part in the 4-H Cattle Judging Competition and were successful in winning the Provincial Trophy. There were a number of competitions going on at the same time as not all 4-H Clubs are concerned with the same projects. They drove to the Fair with Mr. Allard, an agronomist from Ste. Martine, and were busy most of the day with the competition. A banquet was held in the evening at which the trophy was presented.

Congratulations to Carolyne and Andy and congratulations also to Fay McKell who was busy at Huntingdon Fair the same day and won the Kiwanis $150 prize which will be presented later.

The Fair Dept. was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Champ, Irish Concession, on Sunday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock because of fire in the wall over their fireplace. Fortunately the heat cracked a mirror, giving them an early warning and the firemen used foam to extinguish the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Winter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Reddick and were accompanied home by their three children, Morris, Milton and Angela.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wylie, John and Billy of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Summerfield, Billy, George, Robert, Phyllis and Kenny of Masena and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Orr, Jeffrey and Cynthia of Ste. Agathe, were Labour Day week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Kees.

Barry Judson and Diane Ness spent a couple of days last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Finlay Milne.

Mr. and Mrs. Finlay Milne returned from their trip to Nova Scotia and P.E.I. last Wednesday and report they had a wonderful time. They crossed over to P.E.I. just after the railway strike had started. When they were ready to come back to the mainland they had to form up in a long line at the wharf and were afraid it would be quite some time before they got on the ferry. However they were lucky enough to find someone who was cancelling his number. They took his place and were spared many hours of delay.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Cassidy of Lachine, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Finlay Milne on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moore and family, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Orr. Miss Berta Orr returned home with them to spend a few days.

Mrs. Ewart Orr spent last week at Ste. Agathe with Mr. and Mrs. Willard Orr and family.

Miss Sandra McFarlane is enjoying an eight day canoe and camping trip in the Laurentians with headquarters at Monique. This trip is in connection with her 3rd year course in McGill, where she will be registering on Wednesday.

Congratulations to Carolyne Templeton and Andy Ness who won the judging competition at Quebec on Saturday in connection with the 4-H Club. There were twenty in the competition and they had to judge Ayrshire, Holstein, Jersey and Canadian cattle. Carolyne and Andy were presented with their trophy by the Minister of Agriculture at a banquet on Saturday evening. Now we wish them the best of luck as they go on to judge at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. James James, Cynthia, Heather and Alexander enjoyed Labour Day week-end in New Brunswick.

Mr. Frank Cook of Ottawa accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. McMahon of Hull spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Murray Templeton. We are very happy to hear that Mr. and Mrs. McMahon will soon be taking up permanent residence in Riverfield. They are building a house on the Scotch Concession and hope to move in the end of October.

Bridal Shower
Miss Norma Robertson was pleasantly surprised last Thursday evening, when on arrival at the home of Mrs. Wallace Craig to choose some music for her wedding which is to take place in the near future. To find about thirty of her relatives and neighbours gathered to greet her.

She was ushered in to the living room by the joint hostesses, Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Gerald Roy, to the strains of the Wedding March played by Marian and Linda Craig. Seated under a pink and white umbrella, Norma had a lovely corsage pinned on her by her aunt, Mrs. Roy. After opening her many useful and beautiful gifts, Norma thanked everyone in a few gracious words.

Refreshments were later served by the hostesses assisted by Marian, Linda and Joyce Craig.

W.I. Meeting
The September meeting of Aubrey-Riverfield W.I. was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gordon Easton with thirteen members and one visitor present.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Finlay Milne, the minutes were read by Mrs. Jim Carme. A letter of appreciation for parcels sent to the Douglas Hospital in Montreal, by one of the members was read.

Plans were made to cater to the 4-H Calf Club later this month. Mrs. Walsh read two items from the Federated News — one concerning the chairs for the Library of the Fathers of Confederation Memorial Centre in Charlottetown, P.E.I., which are being provided by the F.W.I.C. The needle point work on the chairs is to be completed in February 1967 and the presentation will be made on the 70th Anniversary of the founding of the Women's Institute.

Agriculture convener read an item about confining cattle in the feed lot.

Citizenship — mentioned that Institutes in the Northwest Territories are planning on their first annual convention. Education — read an item concerning entertainment for Expo. Different groups are being given an opportunity to take part.

Publicity — The Women's Institute of Acadiaville, N.S. has the distinction of being the only one in Canada composed of Negro women. It was organized in 1964.

Welfare and Health — urged the members to bring in odds and ends of wool to be sent to the Northern Extension Department.

A paper prepared by Mrs. Kees, convener of Agriculture, was read by Mrs. Templeton on "Farming in the Way of Progress". It told of how many acres of excellent farm land in the Maritimes are being appropriated by the government to be used for dams to make electric power and naturally the lakes so formed fill up the valleys which comprise the richest soil. Thus many well established farmers are forced to leave their farmsteads and move to higher and poorer land which must be a heart breaking task.

Mr. H.A.D. Somerville donated $1.00 to the first 15 competitors in showmanship.

The Basil Kelly Trophy for High Aggregate score in the 4H year was won by Lorne McNaughton.

The Gleaner - 5

Churches represented locally, sponsors the work of the Society and it is hoped members and adherents of their congregations will respond to the Society's annual appeal for help which will be made in the Huntingdon area in the near future.
The Society receives no grants from Church Headquarters, but depends on the labour and contributions of volunteer workers across Canada. When the local canvassers call let it not be in vain.

70 Soeurs Clarisses prient, chantent et dansent

A Sargelima, au Cameroun, les chants qui expriment leur prière, elles les ont portés en Afrique, 70 Soeurs Clarisses prient et chantent et dansent pendant la messe et les offices au son du tambourin et d'autres instruments de musique africaine.

Interrogée sur le secret de cet essor, la mère fondatrice, Mère Marie de Jésus, a répondu au journaliste Jean Toulat: "Ici, des jeunes filles ont pu librement exprimer leur âme contemplative; je les ai seulement aidées à se découvrir, menant avec elles une vie familiale, leur faisant raconter leurs légendes de village, leurs frayeurs, leurs interdits, tout ce qui a marqué leur enfance: cela les libère, tout en leur permettant de discerner, pour les garder, les valeurs de la vie africaine.

Ainsi s'expliquent nos danses. L'Africain est un être de rythme, qui traduit toute sa vie en danses, de la naissance aux funérailles. Va-t-on en exclure la vie religieuse. Spontanément, les jeunes ont trouvé les gestes rythmés et "Faites une réunion sur le respect ou sur l'obéissance. Elles y réfléchissent ensemble et donnent un compte-rendu. Je tire alors les conclusions." Annales de la Propagation de la foi.

Ici et là dans la ville

L'exposition. Encore une fois, elle est passée. Comme chaque année, elle débuta par une parade à laquelle prenaient part la famille d'Ormstown, les Moppetts et les Majorettes de cette ville voisine. La Légion Canadienne présentait un char allégorique ainsi que le Club Rotary. Suivaient les Etoiles de Notre-Dame; avez-vous remarqué leurs beaux tambours flamboyants? Puis les jeunes et leurs Hondas se sont joints au défilé qui s'est dirigé vers l'arena.

La foule nombreuse suivit pour assister à l'ouverture officielle qui fut suivie par des compétitions hippiques, concours de tir-arc, cabale qui a pris forme de tournoi puis chaque soir des équipes différentes se sont affrontées. Les Moppetts ont donné une démonstration de leur savoir-faire et ont été fort applaudies par l'assistance.

Quelques manèges ont tenu les plus jeunes occupés tout au long de l'exposition alors que les aînés s'amusaient à Bingo toujours populaire. D'autres ont visité la bâtisse industrielle, s'arrêtant aux nombreux kiosques. A l'étage supérieur ils ont pu admirer les nombreux articles présentés par divers exposants. Les classes de bétail-laïtier et autre ont attiré un grand nombre de fermiers et autres personnes intéressées.

Samedi soir, les Etoiles de Notre-Dame ont donné une performance qui nous a fait constater les progrès constants de ce groupe. Et maintenant les responsables songent déjà à ce qu'il faudra faire l'an prochain pour améliorer encore notre Exposition. Vous trouverez un compte-rendu détaillé dans la section anglaise de cette édition.

Cercle des Fermières. Il nous fait plaisir d'annoncer que nous entreprenons un travail de groupe dans notre paroisse: tel que le Cercle des Fermières.

Une conseillère technique de Québec, viendra compléter la formation de ce Cercle, mardi le 13 septembre prochain, à 8 heures précises. Une invitation est lancée à toutes filles et femmes intéressées, à faire partie de ce groupement.

D'ici là, j'aime à croire, que vous vous rendrez nombreuses à la salle de l'école Notre-Dame de Huntingdon.

Retour en classe. Hier, nos écoles locales bourdonnaient comme des ruches. C'est qu'on accueillait pour une autre année la gent scolaire. D'ici quelques jours, on espère avoir réussi à caser tout ce petit monde et se mettre au travail pour de bon.

Les plus âgés qui doivent aller chercher ailleurs la science qu'ils ne peuvent trouver ici se sont aussi dirigés, les uns vers les universités, d'autres à l'École Normale, tandis que d'autres encore iront poursuivre leurs études aux Etats-Unis.

A tous ainsi qu'aux professeurs qui auront la lourde tâche de leur enseigner, nous Liturgie - Lève-toi! L'auteur de la Sagesse nous dit: "Dieu n'a pas fait la mort" et saint Paul ajoute: "Par un seul homme le péché est entré dans le monde, et par le péché la mort. Le salaire du péché, c'est la mort". Sans doute s'agit-il pour nous de vivre jusqu'au bout cette mort et cette vie avec le Christ, cette mort au péché et cette vie pour Dieu, jusqu'au jour de notre mort corporelle et de notre résurrection dans la gloire. Et c'est pourquoi le Christ nous dit: "Lève-toi!" comme il l'a dit au paralytique, à la fille de Jaïre et au jeune homme de Naim. Debout! c'est l'attitude du peuple de Dieu, en marche pour accueillir aujourd'hui le Seigneur qui vient.

Liturgie - Each generation, year by year, has its share to accomplish so that there will be a steady betterment until eventually the world will become an offering worthy of presentation to Christ the King. Well, let's start with the proverb, "The longest journey begins with the first step". In our efforts to better the whole world, the first step is to improve oneself. So let's start with you and me. How can you and I go about improving ourselves? We can start by pausing to consider what God wants of us. He wants us to become holier. We become holier by being in earnest about becoming holier: by praying, by receiving the Sacraments, by loving our neighbour, helping the needy, visiting the sick, the aged, the lonely, by taking an active part in social reforms, in short, by doing what Christ would do for His fellowmen if He were in our place.

La Route 4. Nous apprenons de source fiable que deux soumissions ont été reçues pour le repavage de cette route. Il est probable que le contrat soit accepté et signé cette semaine. Le travail doit être terminé pour le 31 octobre.

La partie entre Huntingdon et la courbe Monique sera complétée cet automne et pavée de bonne heure au printemps.

Il semble donc que tout sera en ordre pour l'ouverture de l'Expo 67. D'autres travaux sont en cours à d'autres endroits sur cette route et on prévoit que tout sera complété en temps.

Conseil de Ville

L'assemblée régulière du Conseil a eu lieu mardi soir au lieu et à l'heure habituels. M. le maire Cappiello président, les échevins McGerrigle, Laplante, Brisebois, Gaw et Murphy assistaient.

Le secrétaire fit la lecture des minutes de l'assemblée précédente qui furent approuvées.

M. Jacques Benoit, ingénieur de la ville avait été invité à donner un rapport au sujet du plan de filtration. Il affirma avoir examiné les travaux et avoir dressé une liste de ce qui est à compléter. Les contracteurs ont permis de terminer le tout dans le plus bref délai possible.

Puis il expliqua la situation concernant la demande de Cley & Tinker Limited au sujet de la pression d'eau et expliqua les deux alternatives possibles pour donner satisfaction à cette compagnie. Il doit rencontrer leurs représentants sous peu pour en discuter plus longuement.

On procéda ensuite à la lecture des factures du mois qui furent approuvées pour paiement.

Une longue discussion suivit se rapportant aux "Hondas" et au bruit causé par ces véhicules conducteurs n'ont pas de permis. La police devra vérifier et agir en conséquence. Les cyclistes seront avertis encore une fois qu'ils ne doivent pas circuler sur les trottoirs.

Des affiches "pas de stationnement" seront installées entre la cour du Château et l'édifice O'Connor sur le côté nord de la rue.

Le secrétaire fera parvenir une lettre au Département de la Voirie demandant de poser des enseignes "30 miles" sur la Ridge Road entre la rue Lake et l'extension de la rue Church.

Une résolution fut adoptée pour verser la somme de $3,000 à Builders' Supply pour régler un bail de 25 ans.

Plusieurs autres questions furent discutées, mais aucune décision prise.

L'assemblée fut adjournée à 10:50. La prochaine aura lieu le 19 septembre.

COME TO THE FAIR

HAVELOCK FAIR
THAT IS
SEPTEMBER 10th

If you like fun, excitement, thrills, exhibits and meeting friendly people who enjoy life, you'll love it at the Fair. Bring along your family and friends... there's something here to please everyone.

HAVELOCK FAIR SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 10th

Dad's decided we shall not go home to mother's this weekend, we are going to Havelock Fair instead. He says it will be a lovely change and be out in the fresh air and sunshine all day. We can have our dinner in the dining room right on the grounds and thus be helping another worthy cause. After the Labor Day weekend, this will be quite relaxing. We will take along the children too and they do as they please, look over the exhibits or run and play.

Another trend is like this. Let's go and see this Havelock Fair they talk so much about. I've never been and I think I'd like to go and see what it is all about. Let's go for the day and have dinner there. I have heard so much about that dinner, I would like to try it for myself. OK we'll go.

Thus on Saturday, September 10th, all roads will lead to Havelock on Route 52, just past Franklin and before you reach Havelock Corners, in Huntingdon County. From North, East, West and South people will be coming to attend Havelock's 95th Annual Fair. Just imagine, 95 years and going even stronger than ever. Each year shows a steady improvement in tendance and exhibitors. Right in the heart of the apple country of Huntingdon County, this Fair draws about everything. Some of the finest apples and other fruit are shown here by the enthusiasts. The growers of the area. They are quite good with vegetables too, far you can see some real giant sized squash, vegetable marrow, cucumbers, cabbages, etc. They make your mouth water just looking at them. Potatoes, beets, corn, onions, almost everything you can name are to be seen here. Plants and flowers too are in great profusion.

Wait until you view the ladies' department. Now here you will soon discover that the women of Havelock and area are no slouches in sewing, cooking and preserves. You can see some of the finest Maple Syrup and Maple products here, you ever did see. When it comes to cooking like bread, pastries, cakes, and pies, you'll have to admit the Havelock area is rich indeed. The quilts those women make, the rugs, the sweaters and many other articles, all prove how versatile and clever the women are.

Take a look at the stalls where the Church women of all kinds of articles for sale. You'll find an abundance of articles suitable for Christmas, or other giving. They don't last long there either when once the crowd gets going the rounds.

If you are dry and need to quench your thirst, two booths are located on the grounds. Of course they sell other items too, so that patrons are quite well looked after.

Soon after 11 a.m. the dining room open and diners file in until the large room is filled, then later another batch of people are let in. This goes on well into the afternoon until all have been served. Tickets for this are on sale at the booth near the entrance gate. It is a wonderful dinner too, plenty of it and plenty of variety.

Plenty of space to park your cars, some right on the grounds and other spaces in adjacent lots. No matter how many come, all will be taken care of by the friendly committee looking after the public.

Plenty for everyone to see. Handy arena with seats to watch the program going on. Here you can see the Highland Dancers and listen to the Highland Band which accompanies them. This is a real drawing card for Havelock as many settlers are from Scotland. It is not only those from bonnie Scotland that like the Highland pipers and their music, there are those from other parts who enjoy it too. This will be seen when you attend Havelock Fair and see the crowds around the pipers. Then there is the midway set-up from Lacolle, no rides, but plenty of games and prizes to be won. There are plenty of them carried away too and all of them useful. Then there are the various commercial exhibits which show machines and other interesting subjects. But what are we doing this is an agricultural Fair and we have not said anything about that important aspect of it. Well it is Red and White Day and thus the Ayrshire cattle will hold sway. There will be other kinds of cattle there too — Holsteins, Jerseys, beef cattle breeds and others. All will parade before the judges in an effort to capture the many prizes. There will be sheep and swine, poultry too. In the show ring some of the finest horses of the area, drivers and riders too will compete for the prizes in this section of the Fair.

Games of many kinds for children and adults will be staged at various times throughout the day and there are always a few novelty numbers to be seen. Some of the finest cattle and horses are seen in the several cattle rings which are going at the same time and thus one can stroll from one to the other and back again as desired. There is something doing all the time and a busy schedule is kept in order to get the judging all done in the time allotted. The drive to and from the Fair Grounds at Havelock is a pretty and interesting one especially for those from out of the district and coming for the first time or after a lapse of years. Almost all the way one is driving through orchard country and the smell of the fruit is quite discernible in the air. The trees are loaded at this time and in some cases, harvesting may already be started. Many wayside stands offer their products for sale and some good fresh items may be obtained. The scenery is beautiful and the farms present their picture too. Yes it is worth the drive, alone to Havelock Fair — the Fair thus becomes a premium of additional satisfaction. So we say, come to Havelock Fair on Saturday, September 10th. You'll be glad you did.

Ormstown Band at Firemen's Parade

The Ormstown band, with Majorettes and Moppets, were a big hit in Plattsburg, on Monday, when they led the two mile long parade through the city streets. It was the Firemen's Parade and Field day. The weather was ideal and the 60 unit parade made the day one of the highlights in that city's history. Ormstown Band and company were up to their usual high standard of perfection as they were cheered on the streets.

On reaching the grounds in front of the Air Force Shopping Centre, the band with Moppets and Majorettes put on their routine show for the huge crowd, amid many demonstrations of the cheering crowd. The band has been very busy all summer and this will no doubt be the last performance of the season, since school has started and all must get down to the serious business of study. New routines are being considered and much new music will be learned during the coming months in preparation for next summer.

The Grange was sorry to hear that Sister Pearl Milne had been a patient in the Montreal General and wish her a speedy recovery. The Youth Committee reported that plans were well on the way for the float to be entered in the Fair Parade.

The Service and Hospitality Committee announced the winners of the Pomona needlework contest. Having won first prize in our Grange, Sister Hattie Shearer went on to win first prize on her knitted stole. Mrs. A. Myatt got second prize for the embroidery and Sister Margaret Hunter got second prize for her knitted sweater. The S. and H. Committee also reported that the food sale held at Marchand's Store had been a success. The Fair Committee was busy preparing for the booth to be operated at Huntingdon Fair.

The lecturer's program was under the direction of Sister Cosgrove, due to the absence of the Lecturer David Rankin. Slides were shown of California and Nevada, followed by a skit, "What's Your Beef".

The September meeting will be the election of Officers and it is hoped that there will be a good attendance. The year ahead appears to be a pleasant and interesting one with it being the Silver Anniversary of Maple Leaf Grange; the Hundredth anniversary of The National Grange; Canada's Centennial and Expo.

Powerscourt

POWERSCOURT — The sympathy of this community is extended to all members of the Ross family, whose mother, Mrs. Thomas Ross, passed away on August 30th.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Millard of Montreal, have spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Ross.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross who reached their 63rd Wedding Anniversary on Sat., September 3rd. It is not given to many couples to reach such an anniversary and we wish this worthy couple more years together. Mr. Ross is active and enjoys good health, but Mrs. Ross is confined to bed.

On a recent day two neighbor ladies were out walking on the road when what to their wondering eyes did appear but an Ayrshire cow, ambling along the roadside. Rather unusual in this district of Holsteins. But more surprising still, the COW was a BULL and it turned and headed for the ladies. Without stopping to think they climbed over a nearby gate into a field. When they decided the animal was no longer interested they returned to the road, but again it headed for them and a second gate climbing was necessary.

Just then the owner of the animal saw what was going on and with help from others, he returned it to the barn. It had broken out of its stall without the owner knowing it. When the ladies proceeded on their way to a neighbor's home they were still shaking from the experience.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Ross and Linda were invited for dinner to the home of their son, Mr. Jammie Ross, St. Chrysostome. On their arrival they were very surprised to find there, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bergevin and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hamilton and two boys. Mr. and Mrs. Ross had not realized it was their 35th anniversary and the family gave them the surprise dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Millard were also guests. Congratulations and best wishes for more happy years to follow.

Silver Wedding Anniversary

GLENELM — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crawford were surprised recently by their relatives, neighbors and friends, when they were guests of honour at a party to celebrate their Silver Wedding Anniversary.

On coming in from calling on friends, they were amazed to find a houseful of guests from near and far, although a house party always limits the number invited.

After being escorted to seats of honour, Norma's brother, Ray, spoke briefly. Many beautiful and useful gifts were opened and admired by all. Lovely cards, flowers and gifts of money, including several silver dollars, were also received. Bert thanked everyone for helping to celebrate and for the gifts.

Refreshments were served by the young people and the Bride and Groom of twenty-five years ago cut the beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, made and decorated by Norma's sister, Dorothy Watson of Lexington, Mass. After the wedding cake was served the guests departed wishing Bert and Norma many more years of happiness together.

Relatives and friends were present from Montreal, Ormstown, Cornwall, Ont., Gabriels, N.Y., Lexington and Granby, Mass., and Little Rock, Arkansas, as well as those from the immediate neighborhood. Recent guests of Mrs. John Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crawford and family, were Mrs. E. Brace and two small sons, Mrs. D. E. Watson, Norma, Donald, Gordon and Dorothy Gail of Mass., also James Watson of the U.S.A.F. in Arkansas.

Editorial Notes..

Now It's Havelock Fair

Once again time marches on and Havelock Fair is being held on Saturday, September 10th, which is this week. It is the same one-day stand, but what a day it usually is. We have no reason to believe it be anything but a full day and each year more and more people seem to attend this annual event.

This each year, half the fun of the Fair would be gone, we feel sure, for there would be no place at which to obtain a meal. They just have to keep on and provide for the crowd.

Perhaps one of the greatest drawing cards is the dinner that is served by the ladies of Herdman and Gore Churches. Each year these faithful workers have to figure on a larger number to feed and they seem to do it. If they did not do

Throughout the Fair a friendly atmosphere is maintained and everyone is happy. So let's go to Havelock Fair next Saturday, September 10th. If you have never been before, or if you have missed for several years, plan to be present this time, you won't be sorry.

Successful Huntingdon Fair

Once again, the 1966 Huntingdon Fair can be registered as another success. Attendance at the Fair was about the same as last year. Actual sale of tickets at the gate was lower, but more membership tickets were sold and this entitled the holder to admittance.

Bernhardt, former President, also came from a distance to be present. Col Rick was also seen, he was a former President. The opening night again provided lots of color with the many floats, the Orms-town Band, the Majorettes, Moppets and the Stars of Notre Dame, and the decorated bicycles, etc.

Well Huntingdon Fair had it this year, some of the sections were down a little but many of the others were well supported and in addition some extra sections were added, or enlarged. Among these was the Children's Department which had over 350 entries in its various classes. The Horse Section had considerably more entries than any other year.

The new ring with seats provided a better viewing position for the cattle judging, but for some reason it was not used as much as might have been. The midway still leaves much to be desired and the officials would do well to make a more exhaustive search for something better in this direction.

Joe Boisseau was back in the Announcer's Desk, even though he had to make a long trip to be here. It was thought that perhaps this job would be taken over by someone new — but Joe was there. Mrs.

INSTALLMENT 4 — INDIAN LANDS PART 5

The Durham boats were much superior in many ways, they were 60 to 80 feet long and 12 to 15 feet wide and decked, giving a roomy and dry hold. Flat bottomed, it had great carrying capacity from 50 to 70 tons.

how of the boat, one stepped on the plank that ran along side, dropped his long ash struck bottom, then placing the shoulder, pushed with all his might, walking as the boat slowly started to move. Going to the stern, then returning to the bow and so on, as he passed on, another boatman stepped up with his pole till the 8 had taken their turn, the work was most exhausting and caused the skin on the forehead to become callous.

SUGAR AND SPICE by Bill Smiley

Don't ask me what I'm doing in a hotel room in Calgary, writing this on a rented typewriter. The best-laid plans of men with stubborn wives gang aft a-sley. We should be at home right now, but get my wife and daughter into a posh hotel and the only way you can get them out is to call the management and tell them you have no money.

to be. Nice cloud, though. The prairies are very wide. Also long. But don't expect a sea of waving wheat, like in the novels. From 33,000 feet, it's the same old patchwork quilt as elsewhere. Furthermore, those of us who don't live there have been getting a bum steer for years. There isn't supposed to be any water out there, but when you look down, they're crawling with lakes.

Travel is supposed to be broadening. And it is. In the first place, you're sitting around on your tail most of the time — in planes, trains, buses and hotel rooms. Secondly, besides the lack of exercise, you eat too much and too often. Between the two, travel is definitely broadening.

The Rockies? Very rocky. Also high. Lots of high rocks there. No, what made me gasp was the thought of the early birds. First, the explorers like McKenzie and Thompson, who fought and starved their way through that massive, menacing wall 200 years ago, with a sack of pemmican, a few Indians and a canoe.

Travel is also exhilarating, expensive and exhausting. The best part is starting out on the trip. There's the excitement of anticipation: new scenes, new faces, new experiences. You're feeling first-rate. All your clothes are clean and fresh and pressed. You have every cent of available cash on your hip.

How their lips must curl, those early birds, as they look down and see us rolling through in 10 hours, and hear us complaining about the lack of space in our compartment, the lack of variety in our meals, and the slow service in the bar.

The worst part is the tail end of it. The anticipation has turned to satiety. You're feeling awful, whether it's constipation or piles or dizziness or just the fact that you're utterly bushed. Every rag you own is soiled and crumpled. And you are not only flat broke but you have signed a couple of cheques that are guaranteed pure India rubber.

Chief attraction, of course, including magnificent mountains, gorgeous gardens and salubrious sea-air, was harassed Hugh, son and heir. Met his boat, with great excitement. As luck would have it, we couldn't have met him on a worse day. Normally, he has 10 hours off. But this week, he was changing from day shift to night, and had to work a double shift, so he had three hours off. His mother's face fell a foot.

We've seen a fair chunk of the second largest country in the world, in the last few days. Jet liner to Vancouver. Back by train through the Rockies to Edmonton. Dayliner (night) to Calgary. Tomorrow off to Banff all day, back to catch the jet and into Toronto airport in the dawn's early light, after a 22-hour day and a couple of thousand miles. Yes! even the bourgeois are getting around these days.

Well, here we are, running out of space, and I haven't even quite so dull as hearing about somebody else's holiday trip. So I won't bore you with a resume of ours. Except in the next two or three columns. Just a few general impressions.

I'm not sure Lake Superior is still there, as we were above cloud when we flew over where it was supposed food on board unless forecasted by a storm. The trip was 6 to 14 days from Montreal, added to the more than 3 to 8 weeks voyage on the ocean trip. At times many boats were tied up at Coteau waiting favorable winds. The Lachine Canal was not available until 1825, and the Beauharnois not until 20 years later.

of the Long Sault. Then "the Fashion" with Capt Chas. Dewitt extended her route to Dundee, "the Star", "the Blue Bonnet" and "the Sallaberry", succeeded these boats, the latter being the last to come to Dundee as a port of call.

carried a hatchet on his belt and cut the rope loose, thus saving the animals. Rounding the points was a critical operation, at a place called Split Rock, was a windlass which was used and was a help as it had great power to help the crew and tow teams. In this slow, but painful manner, not only freight, but emigrants were transported in and out of the country, and most early settlers made the journey in this manner. What some of them suffered is inconceivable, with favorable winds and deep water the trip was fair, but in storms and wet weather many suffered greatly. What women and children endured in such times is only to be imagined, overcrowded into small space as many as 200 in a boat, and in tough going had to stay in the hold to make room for the crew to work. At times they were forced to land and walk to lighten the load, at shallow water. It would seem those that choose to travel by land to the higher grounds fared better, as they could stop with settlers in bad weather en route and rest up. My ancestors came in this way by Missisquoi Bay along the border, in the holds of boats they were dark damp and foul smelling most sleep on the floor, and none tasted cooked

As other transportation came Dundee which was the busiest port west of the Basin, was soon deserted forever. The progress of Dundee from then on, furnishes nothing of unusual interest beyond what look place in most areas. The settlers, turning mostly to lumbering, and boating, did not as a rule, develop the land as in other areas. So it was, though they came in much earlier, the land was later being brought into cultivation than in the Townships. The establishment of schools and churches received little attention until 1830 and for many years the only school in the township was Schyers and the one at Isle of Skye. Schyers opened with Hector McRea as master, who was given to drink and cruel in his punishments. The lot adjoining the school, came to be used as a graveyard, Edward Schyer and many others of the first generation rest there. In the school house, the Fort Covington ministers came to preach, the Baptist, Rev. Nathaniel Culver, made it one of his stations as early as 1824. During his incumbency of the Presbyterian Church the Rev. John Savage preached frequently and acceptably. One of the first teachers was Alexander Cameron, who belonged to Dundee, Scotland and had been a divinity student. He exerted himself in several ways to benefit those he came in contact with, giving religious instruction to the young on Saturday afternoons, distributing tracts, which he had brought from across the Atlantic, and preaching on Sundays. He was a good singer. After making a trial, at farming he left for London, Ont. No effort was made to secure regular religious services and the years passed un-til 1832, when the settlers were surprised and pleased at the arrival of Rev. Duncan Moody. He was born at Kilmalie, on the banks of Lochell, in 1808, and educated for the ministry at Glasgow, whither his people had moved. On completion of his studies he was urged by his older brother to go to the East Indies as a missionary, but he died of cholera there. The brother followed his own plans of coming to Canada, he came to Montreal in 1832 and at once saw Dr. Matheson, who was a graduate with his brother in Scotland. The Dr. told him that there were several openings but Dundee had a special claim on him as he could preach in Gaelic. He came up the Salmon River, and was met with a hearty welcome, a call being signed by most every protestant in Dundee. On October 31st, the Quebec Presbytery confirmed his appointment, and he was ordained and inducted which took place December 28th. The people were too poor to build a church and even if they had been able, it would have been fit to travel on, as no roads were in the area. He arranged to preach in several places, the lines, Aubrey school, Isle of Skye, and Laguerre and schools with some services in homes. A Kirk session was formed March 21st 1833, and its first regular meeting was held in the house of Malcolm Smith, 3rd con. on July 16th. The minister as moderator, Jas. Fraser and Donald McFarlane, as elders. In many ways Jas. Fraser was an example of what an elder should be and his influence was felt in Dundee long after he was gone. In all the difficulties that arose, his advice was sought and he was the means of settling many disputes, maintaining that harmony that is so needed in a community. He is the originator of the Sunday School in his community and maintained a prayer group. In many ways he did many things to promote a living faith among his fellowmen. Mr. Moody boarded in the village of Dundee and continued to do so after he married Miss Farlinger, until 1837, when he bought lot 12 1/4 range. There were only few Irish in the area of Ste. Agnes, when they came to live there, but from this time they gradually moved in replacing the Highlanders.

And, of course, one heard a lot of reminiscing about the past, plus favourable comments on this year's Black and White Show. In the latter instance, justifiably so, because nobody can gainsay that the said Show was one that would have been a credit to any district or breed of cattle. There was also evidence that some one or more people did a lot of persuading which resulted in the considerable number of post entries. Probably around a half more than those made within the regulation time, and thereby printed in the catalogue.

When he made his complimentary comments about the Black and White Show, Pierre Leonard, Holstein Fieldman for Quebec, averred that a great deal of the improvement insofar as the type and quality of the juniors were concerned should be credited to Seiling

West coast? Very coast-like. Good deal of shoreline and water. Chief attraction, of course, including magnificent mountains, gorgeous gardens and salubrious sea-air, was harassed Hugh, son and heir.

Unless the physical facilities are drastically improved at Champlain, there will undoubtedly, as the enclosed newspaper article points out, be serious delays caused to the U.S. and Canadian traveling public during 1967.

On at least one occasion this summer, Canadian traffic was backed up for more than twenty miles, because the present physical plant and the number of officers on duty at Champlain, limits the number of cars which can be processed at the Border below the volume of traffic which the road facilities can and do provide.

As the present two lane road will become a four lane expressway this autumn, and as yet no changes have been made at Champlain, this point promises to become a gigantic traffic bottleneck during the summer of 1967.

The Canadian Government built adequate buildings and traffic lanes at Champlain in 1949. These facilities are about four times the size of the American facilities and can provide in a traffic rush as many as sixteen to twenty lanes of traffic, whereas the American facilities are limited to four to six lanes.

Holstein Notes

There was a lot of Holstein lore, so to speak, in the group comprised of the three "three score years of ten and more" Holstein Veterans who diligently watched the Holstein judging at Huntingdon Fair. That is: George Elder and Allan Crutefield, former longtime Holstein breeders, and Jack Brown, a lifelong Holstein breeder who is officially on the retired list, but who still spends a lot of his time at the old homestead, albeit still keenly interested in the Holstein herd which he built up and which is now owned by his son, Allan Crutefield. He was on a visit to his native area and Huntingdon Fair (with which he was intimately connected for several years) after an absence of several years, from Kingston, Ont. where he now permanently resides.

Rockman, and "Excellent" they were informed, or so we member of the A.I. stud of Eastern Breeders' Inc. It would therefore appear that the said bull is quite popular in this area.

By the way, we have noted by a recent report that 342 selling daughters have made a very good standing in the type way, all of them with considerable plus credits above the Breed Average. Like And, what about the Holstein mothers at the Fair? Well, such of them as were in attendance should have been proud of the way in which their sons and daughters presented both the family entries and their own 4-H Club entries. An appreciation which should also be applied to juniors showing animals of other breeds of cattle.

And, of course, one heard a lot of reminiscing about the past, plus favourable comments on this year's Black and White Show. In the latter instance, justifiably so, because nobody can gainsay that the said Show was one that would have been a credit to any district or breed of cattle. There was also evidence that some one or more people did a lot of persuading which resulted in the considerable number of post entries. Probably around a half more than those made within the regulation time, and thereby printed in the catalogue.

On the Saturday morning when we learned about the occurrence several of the Holstein men concerned were still fuming. Said one of them, "the horsemen have taken over the running of the Fair". Another averred that it might be a good idea if the cattlemen got together and arranged for a one day show (as they have at Havelock) of their own, independent of the Fair.

When he made his complimentary comments about the Black and White Show, Pierre Leonard, Holstein Fieldman for Quebec, averred that a great deal of the improvement insofar as the type and quality of the juniors were concerned should be credited to Seiling

It is a rather ironic situation inasmuch as it is the cattlemen and he, horsemen of those days who were mostly instrumental in the founding of Huntingdon Fair, carrying on some for many years; in fact until a decade or so when the Light Horse people came into the picture. And, as the saying has it, more power to them as they are certainly the most active, progressive division of Huntingdon Fair, which cannot be said of those responsible for the cattle division. On the other hand, however, it is an unfair, in fact an arbitrary action on the part of the Horse Show people to monopolize the Arena as they do. Considering the distance the cattle barns are from the Arena, the cattle men don't kick about not getting same to show their cattle during the day, but it is surely reasonable to expect that the Arena be fully available to them at a scheduled time for their parade.

Ian Watson, M.P. Sends Letter To Washington Re: Ports of Entry

The following letter has been sent by Ian Watson, M.P. for Chateauguay-Huntingdon-Laprairie, to Washington, U.S. and is explanatory as to the purpose. It shows that Mr. Watson is working to have things in good shape for the visitor influx expected for Expo next year.

Ottawa, Ont. August 31, 1966 Senator Robert Kennedy, New Senate Building, Washington, D.C. Dear Senator Kennedy: I am enclosing herewith a page from the Montreal Star, dated August 13, 1966, which outlines clearly the grave deficiency in Customs and Immigration facilities at the U.S. Highway Port of Champlain located on Route 87 Interstate.

Unless the physical facilities are drastically improved at Champlain, there will undoubtedly, as the enclosed newspaper article points out, be serious delays caused to the U.S. and Canadian traveling public during 1967.

On at least one occasion this summer, Canadian traffic was backed up for more than twenty miles, because the present physical plant and the number of officers on duty at Champlain, limits the number of cars which can be processed at the Border below the volume of traffic which the road facilities can and do provide.

As the present two lane road will become a four lane expressway this autumn, and as yet no changes have been made at Champlain, this point promises to become a gigantic traffic bottleneck during the summer of 1967.

The Canadian Government built adequate buildings and traffic lanes at Champlain in 1949. These facilities are about four times the size of the American facilities and can provide in a traffic rush as many as sixteen to twenty lanes of traffic, whereas the American facilities are limited to four to six lanes.

Facilities and additional personnel be provided to handle at least sixteen lanes of traffic at rush periods.

Last December, when I had the pleasure of visiting your office in Washington, I had discussions with your Executive Assistant, and your Special Assistant, Miss Atkins regarding the lack of Customs facilities at two smaller border points, located at Cannon's Corners and Churubusco. I pointed out then that as these points were located in a depressed area of New York State, some consideration should be given to their improvement, not only on the basis of immediate traffic requirements, but in the light of the economic stimulus which the construction of adequate facilities and the increase in tourist traffic through these areas would provide. As a new ski development is opening this autumn at Lyon Mountain, and the most direct route from Montreal, to this new ski development is via Churubusco and Cannon's Corners, Customs and Immigration facilities this winter, at these two points, will be completely inadequate. I am enclosing herewith, photos of the U.S. Customs facilities at Churubusco, which photos speak for themselves. The facilities at Cannon's Corners are worse than those at Churubusco.

I hope that when you take up the question of the Champlain Port facilities with the Immigration and Customs Authorities, that you will also remind the Customs and Immigration people about Churubusco and Cannon's Corners about the need for new buildings at these points and the need for office hours until midnight throughout the winter months and twenty-four hours per day during the summer of 1967. The practice at present is to close these offices at 4: P.M. during six to eight months of the year.

Citizens on both sides of the Border are hopeful that you will be able to persuade both the Customs and Immigration Departments to remedy these long neglected U.S. Government facilities.

Thank you for your kind consideration and attention. Yours respectfully, Ian Watson, M.P. Chateauguay-Huntingdon-Laprairie.

Fifty three years ago At this time of writing exactly fifty three years ago we were in the Bonaventure Station, Montreal, waiting to train on the International Limited for Toronto, subsequently Highland Park (Detroit), Michigan. We cannot recall the exact date but it was on Monday, Labour Day 1913. Our boat reached Montreal on the Sunday, but we were not permitted to land until the Monday morning.

Fearettable Interlude Following their rather strenuous work in connection with showing their cattle, the Holstein men had to turn out that night for the Cattle Parade in the Arena. However, when they reached the arena consideration and attention. Yours respectfully, Ian Watson, M.P. Chateauguay-Huntingdon-Laprairie.

Centre Abandons Zoning By-Law

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

As reported in last week's Gleaner, the Elector's Meeting for Chateauguy Centre's proposed zoning By-Law to permit the construction of a chalet-type recreation hall blocked the proposed legislation. Mayor Richard Sutterlin told the Gleaner last week-end that Chateauguy Centre does not intend to pursue this matter in the meantime. No referendum will therefore be called. The proposed By-Law sought to amend the existing zoning laws to permit a recreation hall to be built in Sutterlin Park on S. Ferdinand and Sullivan.

Town And Heights Amalgamation

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

I understand that negotiations between the Councils of the Towns of Chateauguy and Chateauguy Heights, leading to amalgamation of the two neighbouring municipalities have reached an advanced stage. Under legislation approved some two years ago, neighbouring municipalities may amalgamate, under the Voluntary Amalgamation Act, by a simple majority of both Councils. The legislation calls for approval of identical by-laws by the respective Councils. Town and Heights Councils have been engaged for many months in quiet deliberations. Prior to their re-election in June earlier this summer, Heights candidates for Mayor and four aldermen stated that they sought a further term of office to finish the water and sewage project, and to continue amalgamation discussions with the Town of Chateauguy. It is widely acknowledged by Heights residents that amalgamation will and should come in the very near future. I understand that lawyers for the two Towns have submitted first drafts of the proposed amalgamation By-Laws to the respective Councils. The Quebec Ministry of Municipal Affairs has been kept fully informed of developments and in the event of any substantial divergence in proposals as outlined in the first drafts, would be expected to act in an advisory capacity to reconcile possible points of disagreement. The Heights population has shown considerable faith in their Mayor and Aldermen's ability to get the best possible terms out of any amalgamation. I understand that final approval of amalgamation is a distinct probability before the end of 1966.

New Trophy Donation

Mr. Syd Mitchell, well known Chateauguy West End resident, has donated a new trophy to the Chateauguy Rambler Football Club which will go to the leading scorer on the team for the season. If the same player wins it 3 consecutive years he shall take permanent possession of same.

Mr. Mitchell is a former well known Provincial Track and field athlete as well as a prominent amateur wrestler and is the proud owner of several trophies. In 1926 he was the Province of Quebec all around track and field champion and made the 1928 Olympic trials. In addition he was the 1943 Sports Officer in charge of the RCAF Lachine Province of Quebec Senior Football and Lacrosse Champions and the National Defence Hockey League champs as well as the Atwater Baseball League team. At the present time he is engaged in the industrial safety field as well as local community affairs.

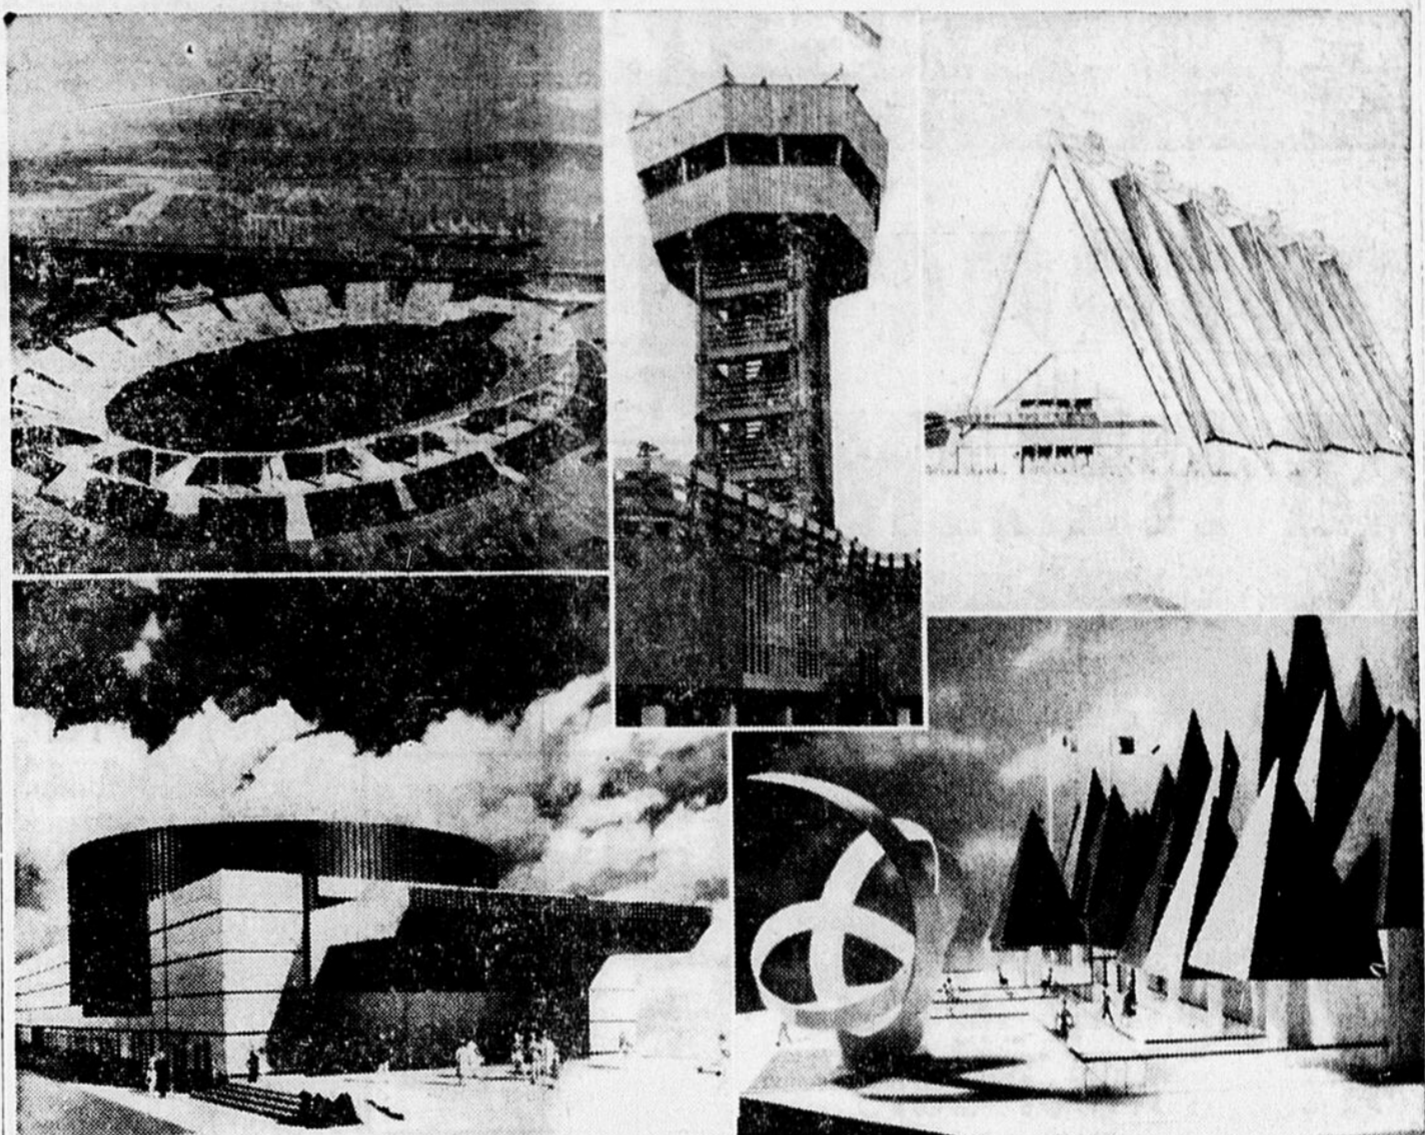

Chateauguy Girl Weds

The marriage of Miss Donna Lillian Smell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stewart Smell, of Chateauguy Centre to Mr. John Yves Vissac, son of Mrs. Gaston Vissac of Guttenberg, New Jersey, and of the late Mr. G. Vissac, took place on Saturday in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Chateauguy, Rev. Victor Dionne officiated. Standards of pink gladioli and white pompons were used as decoration.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father was in a white Chantilly lace gown over taffeta, styled on Empire lines, with A-line skirt. The detachable panel train was held in place with a bow. Her flowing veil of tulle illusion was attached to a small hat of Chantilly lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and gardenias. Miss Frances Bickerstaff, maid of honour, was in a pale green Empire style dress, with scooped neckline and short puff sleeves, the high waistline being accented with light yellow velvet ribbon. Miss Donna Scott and Miss Frances Crowdis, bridesmaids, and Miss Cathy Smell, sister of the bride, wore identical styled gowns as the maid of honour, only yellow, trimmed with pale green velvet ribbon. They wore green and yellow carnations in their hair and carried matching nosegays. Mr. George Targownik of New Jersey was best man. The ushers were Mr. Frank Lorio of New York City, Mr. Ronald Boedard of New Jersey and Edward Smell, brother of the bride. Mrs. Kenneth Smell, mother of the bride was in an aqua ensemble with cinnamon brown accessories. Mrs. G. Vissac, mother of the groom was in a flowered crepe dress with black accessories. Following the reception held at the Chateau Gai Motel, Mr. and Mrs. Vissac left for the Laurentians, the bride traveling in a yellow and orange tweed coat, styled on empire lines, with matching dress and yellow accessories.

that is between 7 p.m. and 11 p.m. (some late movies will also be in color).

The Canadian networks switched to color because of the fear that Canadian viewers, most of whom in reach of Americans stations, would forsake the local black and white programs for the excitement of color from across the border. Furthermore, Expo 67 demanded a broadcasting center capable of transmitting in color and it was a natural extension for the CBC to provide color for their affiliated stations as well. CTV, mindful of advertising revenue, followed suit. The manufacturers of color television predict 200,000 sets will be in use in Canada by the end of 1967, a figure representing about 4% of the total number of television sets in this country. At the moment, however, there is a shortage in supply of color receivers and dealers report they are having trouble obtaining sets from the manufacturers for the few customers they do have. RCA Victor, one of the largest manufacturers in the color field is building a plant near Barrie Ontario capable of turning out "made in Canada" color picture tubes which should relieve the shortage somewhat. In the meantime, color TV

More than 1,000 industries will be represented at Expo by some 30 pavilions. Among them are (clockwise) the 25,000-seat Expo stadium sponsored by six of Canada's automobile manufacturers; an 80-foot observation tower sponsored by the Canadian Lumbermen's Association; the steel pavilion; the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association's pavilion; and the Telephone Association of Canada pavilion.

Perspective — Democracy Murdered?

(By Russ Faughnan)

Never in our history, through war or peace, through depression or disease, has Canada's brand of Democracy been more threatened than it is at this moment. It is a sad moment and a fearful one. For, if we face the bitter truth, these are times which cannot be changed. Much has been written about strikes and the growing power of Unions. All that is in the past. Nothing that has been written or said can compare with the terrible situation we now face. As this is being written, it appears that thousands of Canadians have decided that they are above Canadian Law. Their personal (and petty) interests mean more to them than Society as we know it. Let us make no mistake. Our society lives by the slender thread of Law. Not humanity, not religion, not even common sense. Law. It is Law alone that bridges the gap between order and chaos. Without law there can be no freedom. If one can choose when and where to defy the law of this land, then law does not exist. If not this law why not another? Why obey speed limits? Why pay income taxes? Why get married? These thousands who defied Parliament are saying that we create our own law.

The sight of two Union leaders on television trying to weasel out of a Commitment, was sickening. The effect of this mealy-mouthed leadership will be disastrous. Not can be but will be, for the damage is done. There are now thousands of ignorant, stupid followers who made their choice. They choose to defy. May God have mercy on us all. One final note to those who choose to defy the law. How are you going to explain any law to your children? For that matter, why bother.

St. Andrew's Note Soccer

By Fergus Horsburgh
The weekly Church bulletin cover was in a striking three-tone, predominantly red graphic tribute to Labour Day. I wonder if this was in any way related to the recent railway strike.

St. Andrew's Sunday School starts another season next Sunday morning at 9:45 a.m. Parents and friends are also invited to attend this opening Service in Memorial Hall, at which time Attendance Awards will be presented to the pupils who attended classes regularly during the 1965-66 season. Following the opening session, the boys and girls will go to their classroom areas with their teachers for registration.

The Committee of Stewards was, to meet last Tuesday evening. The St. Andrew's Scout Group Committee meets tonight in the Church Parlour at 8 p.m. The choir resumes its regular weekly practices under the leadership of the organist, Mr. Alun Hughes, tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. Nursery accommodation will again be available during morning service, starting next Sunday. Little ones from 2 months to five years will be cared for. Mrs. Fred Collins (692-2740) is supervising the Nursery Roster this Fall.

Civil Protection In Chateauguy

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

Mr. George Bouchard of Chateauguy has announced the formation of a Civil Protection Group in Chateauguy similar to hundreds of Civil Defense training groups formed throughout Canada in the postwar years. The group aims to have an organization ready to go into action during any national or regional emergency.

Unwanted Children May Fail To Grow Normally

By Louise Chase

Why should some babies who are normal physically at birth, who show no signs of any organic disease, who were not born prematurely, and who suffered no physical abuse or neglect, fail to grow and develop normally?

An important part of the answer may be that because these children are unwanted they are rejected emotionally by their parents. An unfavorable interaction between parents and baby develops, contributing to failure of the baby to thrive. This is one conclusion of a recent study of 13 infants and their families by a team of investigators from the Yale University Child Study Center and Department of Pediatrics. Brought to the hospital with such symptoms as feeding difficulties, vomiting, excessive crying, distended abdomens, the babies, who ranged in age from 10 weeks to 27 months, were strikingly small, without any detectable physical abnormalities which could account for their significant growth failure. Observations of the infants and their families were carried out by a team that included Dr. Martha F. Leonard, a pediatrician and a research nurse, a child psychiatrist and, occasionally, hospital social workers. Many Family Problems All the babies came from families with multiple problems. Some lived in substandard, overcrowded homes where life was disorganized and chaotic, a financial problem were severe. Fathers were often unemployed and in some families the mothers had serious health problems. Illegitimacy and disturbed marital relationship were common. "A particularly serious hardship in nearly every family," the investigators noted, "was the number of children in quick succession. The interval between the birth of the patient and the previous or subsequent siblings was 18 months or less in more than half the families." One mother said she had had six children in six years. Another had six children in 12 years, several had two in two-and-one-half years. One family had 10 children in 15 years. "The parents of all the babies... openly declared that their baby was unwanted during pregnancy," the team reported. Sad Family Histories Failure to thrive would seem from this study, to run in families. Not a single mother reported that she had received sustained support and nurturing in her own childhood. School Boards Move To New Premises

(By Edith Bate)

Last Thursday, September 1st, the Chateauguy Protestant School Board and the Chateauguy Valley Regional School Board moved from the High School on McLeod Avenue, to Place Chateauguy. Telephone number is now 691-1440.

This writer viewed the new office on Friday morning and it is indeed a good move — as this week.

Parent Report On Education To Be Discussed At Meeting

A general meeting open to the public, sponsored jointly by the Home and School Associations of Chateauguy will be held next Tuesday, September 13th, in the Gymnasium of the High School on McLeod Avenue. A great deal of concern was felt last Spring when the latest volumes of the Parent report were published. At that time Home and School Groups all over the province met to discuss the recommendations. In the Chateauguy area the executives of the Home and School Associations (Maple, Julius Richardson and Mary (gardner) met with a local school board member, regional board member, school principal and groups of parents. Also present were interested parents from the Valley and from the local P.T.A. group. The Quebec Federation of H. and S. advised the local associations at that time to think carefully before submitting any kind of a report to them on the discussions and recommendations resulting from the above mentioned meetings. In other words we were asked not to "go off the deep end." Now the government requests a report from various groups to be sent in for their study — this to be ready by October. The Quebec Superior Council of Education is conducting a far-reaching study of the opinions of the population at-large on the recommendations contained in Volumes IV and V of the Parent report. In addition to the meeting on Tuesday, September 13th, a follow-up meeting will be held on Thursday, September 15th, for parents to give their opinions and proposals to committee groups. Speakers will be Mrs. Jan Morgan, Guidance Counsellor, Chateauguy High School; Messrs. R. D. Mosher, Director General, Chat. Valley Regional Board; Colin Harrowing, Principal, Maple School; Mac Johnston, Principal, Julius Richardson School; Dave Watson, and possibly a local school board member.

Time for both meetings is 8:00 p.m. Parents and all interested persons are urged to attend.

VALLEYFIELD — Mr. and Mrs. A. Molyneux, Nancy, Ruth and Sandra, spent a few days recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gaw, in Quebec City. Mr. and Mrs. A. Walsh have returned home from a two-week vacation in Western Canada. While in Vancouver they owners seem to be the most popular people on their block and those progressive hotels and taverns that have installed color television in their premises are booming with interest.

Well! I never thought I'd live to see the day when we would have a traffic jam on McLeod Avenue. I'm writing this on Tuesday morning, September 6th, and it is quite evident that it's registration day at four schools, plus pick-up spot for students of other schools. For those who don't know this area very well, I'll describe what it is like: At McLeod and Maple there is Chateauguy High School with an enrollment of well over one thousand young people; next to that is Maple Elementary School with — at last

by Fergus Horsburgh

Chateaugay's newest Supermarket is looking for personnel — both male and female. Take a look at the advertisement in this issue for more information.

The Administration of the local Protestant School Board and the Regional Board was moved last Thursday, Sept. 1st, from Chateaugay High School to the new offices on St. Jean Baptiste Blvd. corner of Dunver. Their new telephone number is 691-1440.

The electoral list for Chateaugay Centre is now deposited in the office of the Town Clerk, Laurier Legault.

It was the usual routine at both Town and Centre last week. Council will be meeting again this week, Sept. 6 in Centre — too late for our deadline — and next week for the Town.

Correspondent Mrs. S. Mitchell of West-End won $5.00 last week playing Races on T.V.

In police news: one man was injured last week when he lost control of his car at the corner of Salaberry and St. Paul. He was treated by Dr. Sauvé.

A young girl was struck by an auto in front of 313 Caughnawaga Road shortly before one o'clock last Friday, Sept. 2nd. She was taken to Lasalle General Hospital by Reid Ambulance.

TOWN of CHATEAUGAY CENTRE.

Coach John Simmons entered his young Softball Team of 17 boys on Tuesday evening with supper, games and fun. These boys had 1 game rained out, won 1 game and lost the balance, but they showed excellent progress towards the end of the season, and they are looking forward to next year.

Mr. Simmons extends sincere thanks from himself and his team for the donation of sweaters from Rusco of Quebec. The West End All Stars Senior girls Softball Team were entertained at the home of their coach Mr. John Simmons on Friday evening. Dancing, games and girl talk gave them all good appetites for all the goodies Mrs. Simmons had prepared, along with ice cream and soft drinks. These girls were congratulated in the name of the L.A. and West End and really deserved it. They won all their games but 1, with 1 game rained out.

Mr. Simmons would like to thank the city for the fenced playgrounds with grandstand privileges. Also to thank those who provided transportation and those who turned out to "root" for their team — thanks from the coach and the teams.

Birthday Parties
A little named Gordie Baer, who lives with Mummy and Daddy Morrison, celebrated his birthday on Sunday. Invited guests included Mrs. May Robertson and sons Billy and Alex of Longueuil, Que.; Bonnie, Alan and Donnie Mc-

Lee of Chateaugay Terrace. Patty Mackey helped organize games and a sing song. The table centered with a lovely birthday cake, and all the other goodies completed a very happy day. Happy Birthday Anne Marie.

Happy Birthday to: — Mr. and Mrs. John Pugsley of White Rock, B.C., who celebrate, September 13th and 11th, respectively.
Get well wishes to Patricia Smith who has been under the weather for a couple of weeks.
Miss Helen Legault is home from a week at convalescent hospital, after surgery. Hope you'll soon be out around Helen.

Mrs. Ken Smeall invited a few friends over on Sunday afternoon to view the wedding gifts of her daughter Donna, whose marriage takes place Saturday, September 10th. I'm sure everyone here at West End who knew Donna wish herself and John a long, happy life in their new home.

Young James McKenzie split his head the other day. He was apparently going up the cement stairs, tripped and hit his head on the edge. He was taken to the hospital for X-Rays, but was brought home later after the cut was dressed. Hope all is well Mary and no real harm.

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORI PARK

by FERGUS HORSBURGH
Route Boys:
ALLAN LUSSIER

MICHAEL TURNER

Charles Laberge and Ted Miletics, consulting engineers for the Town of Chateaugay's parks development programme made a survey of Woodbine Park last week. Apparently the "fill" in the Park has been spilled too far over on the Montclair end, in some instances into the private property of homeowners' gardens.

proposed fence around the very near future. The dilemma of what to do about the proposed fence around the Park remains unsolved, so far as I know. The problem is complicated by the fact that some private property surrounding the Park, willingly or unwillingly has been extended, at considerable cost, into Town property. If the Town fence is built around the Town property line, some individual home owners are going to suffer disruption of their carefully planned back gardens.

The wet weather last weekend caused the premature return home of certain families who were away camping, and at the moment of writing, may yet cause the delayed take-off of others planning an after-Labour Day camping holiday.

If any readers have any items for this column next week, will they please give Mrs. Edith Bate (692-9453) a call? Mrs. Bate will be happy to be of service to you.

I don't quite know what next week's letter will be like, but I think it will at least be different, and I think it will be written from Cape Cod. Our holiday this year is rather flexible, in that we are aiming for Cape Cod, but if Cape Cod isn't warm enough we'll just keep on going until it warms up. South enough to be warm enough — let's hope we don't have to go all the way to Miami. After many years of bathing in the blue Caribbean, the Atlantic will have to be rather warm before it generates much enthusiasm.

One of the few remaining precious trees in the Park (adjoining the Minde's home) was blown down last Sunday. Fortunately it fell within the park area, and no human or property damage was done.

The first general meeting of the Pre School Association will be held on September 26.

School re-opening seems to be the hottest item of news this week and no doubt many a Mom is kind of sad to see the little ones going. I know I am sorry to see one of mine going for he is going into grade 1 and I guess I just hate to see him growing up. For folks in our area the buses will again be stopping at the corner of St. Andre and Primeau so check your time schedule to make sure the little ones don't miss the bus.

All persons interested in working at the new A & P Store in Chateaugay should apply to the National Employment Service Office, at 35 St. Laurent Street, in Beauharnois.

An "A & P" representative will be at your service for an interview from Tuesday, September 6 to Friday, September 9, from 9:30 A.M. to 4:00 P.M.

The following positions are available:
Full time and part time female cashiers;
Full time and part time female meat wrappers;
Full time male grocery clerks;
Full time male produce Clerks;
Full time male meat cutters.

For the Catholic School Children they catch Bus No. 6 which will depart from the corner of St. Andre and Primeau at 8:10. The Protestant School Children also catch the bus at the corner but at 8:15.

The weather certainly let a lot of folks down especially those folks in the area who took off early Saturday for a weekend of camping only to find cool rainy weather prevailing. Noticed a lot of folk who intended staying the long weekend came back home on Sunday afternoon.

We spent part of the long weekend at the Montreal Children's Hospital where our daughter Lynn is recuperating from surgery. She finally had the pins removed from her hips and is maneuvering around the ward with a wheelchair until the stitches are removed. She's in good spirits but a little sad at the prospect of missing a few weeks of school.

Mrs. Viereck, Christina, Christopher, Cornelius, Claudia, and Corrina returned by air on Monday evening from Kassel, West Germany where Mrs. Viereck and the children have spent the whole summer visiting Mr. and Mrs. Viereck's parents and relatives. Welcome home Elfriede we sure missed you and the children.

Unwanted Children...
Good. They recalled that their mothers had been too busy or overwhelmed to give them much attention; or that they were raised by rigid foster parents; or by a number of different people because of the illness or death of their own mothers.

Six of the mothers had physical health problems, and many said that they felt inadequate to cope with their problems and to mother their children. All were lonely, with little satisfying adult companionship. Six had babies while they were teenagers, and were unmarried at the time of conception.

The fathers were often absent, uninvolved in family life, and unresponsive of their wives and children. Only one appeared to be stable and confident and a source of strength to his family. But he worked long hours and was away from home much of the time.

"For the most part," the investigators observed, "the fathers were passive and ineffectual... or were irresponsible and childlike."

In spite of the multiple family problems most of the other children born to these couples had grown and developed satisfactorily. Why had one particular child been unable to thrive? the researchers wondered.

One possible answer, they felt, was that "the added demands of a new baby every year or two seemed to deplete the mothers and overtax their abilities to cope with the responsibilities of motherhood. They were simply worn out, and this baby suffered the consequences of their having little left to give." Possibly, too, this particular infant might have seemed to the mother to present a threat to her life during pregnancy or delivery; or this baby's personal characteristics gave the mother little pleasure or satisfaction.

The full report on these eight white and five Negro families appeared in the American Journal of Diseases of Children, June 1966.

 exp067 Canada's World Spectacle/Montreal, Canada, April 28 - October 27, 1967

This plan will do everything to get your youngster a college degree except pass his exams for him

You can't guarantee that a youngster now in high school will get his college degree. But you can guarantee that he will get the chance to try.

That's the essence of the Bank of Montreal University Education Programme — a comprehensive savings-loan plan that enables you to spread the cost of a university education over periods up to nine years.

You start payments when your boy or girl is still in high school and make the final payment a year after graduation. From the first deposit, the special life insurance feature guarantees that his or her education costs will be covered.

Your low monthly payments include interest charges totalling a small fraction of what you would pay on any straight loan programme.

This is a flexible programme... adaptable to individual education costs and payable over a varying number of years.

If you have a youngster in the first two or three years of high school now is the time to start. Drop into your neighbourhood branch of the Bank of Montreal and let us fit the plan to your needs.

Then convince your youngster the rest is up to him!

PS: If you need help financing a student already in university — or planning to register this year — talk to your B of M Manager. Chances are he can arrange a tuition loan with extended payments adapted to your circumstances. Or, if your youngster qualifies for a loan under the Canada Student Loans Plan, send him to see the B of M.

Dundee
DUNDEE — Excitement reigned Tuesday morning with the school opening. It meant earlier rising, lunches to prepare, scribbles and pencils to pack but most important of all there was a brand new teacher in the Dundee School, the first one for a long time. She is Mrs. Stanley Reid of Huntingdon who graduated from Macdonald College in May. This is her first school. She is teaching Grades 1, 2 and 3 with Mrs. George Sutton, the principal, taking the higher classes.

Mrs. A. B. Fraser and Jessie spent the Labour Day week-end in Henrysburg. On Sunday they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lewis, Douglas and Cindy in Clarenceville. Mr. John MacMillan of Lachine, spent the week-end with Gilbert and Thelma MacMillan.

Francois Cleyn Says Textile Industry Needs "Manpower Planning"

KINGSTON, Ont. — The Canadian textile industry must concentrate on "manpower planning" to avoid a serious shortage of skilled labor, Francois E. Cleyn, Chairman, Canadian Textiles Institute, last week told the closing luncheon of the three-day 10th Canadian Textile Seminar (International) at Queen's University.

The Seminar, sponsored by the Textile Technical Federation of Canada, a federation of eight Quebec and Ontario technical societies, is held every second year in Kingston.

This year, 500 technicians, scientists and executives from Canada, U.S., U.K. and Europe gathered to hear high level international discussions on the latest developments in the textile industry.

A total of 24 highly technical papers were presented during the Seminar. They fell into five sections: Conversion of Fibres into Yarn, Yarn into Fabrics, Dyeing and Finishing, Mill Management and Marketing. The marketing section, new this year, proved to be popular with delegates. In his address, Mr. Cleyn noted that in six years to the end of 1966, the Canadian textile industry was spending $635 million for new and improved facilities, but warned that a lot of money could be wasted without a continuing supply of skilled manpower.

He outlined the industry's present program of education and added that the two provincial training schools at Hamilton, Ontario and St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, were the growing labor force. In another paper, Nelson Cannon, National Director of Marketing Services, P.S. Ross & Partners, Toronto, told industry it may be later than it thinks if it has not installed electronic data processing systems.

Modern organizational technique can and are proving to be real sources of profit generation. Many textile companies are using some of these techniques, but there is considerable opportunity for profit improvement through better utilization," he said.

In a paper on Quality Control, F. Alex Gnaedinger, Director, Quality Control, Canadian Celanese Company, Division of Chemcell Ltd., Drummondville, Que., was of the opinion that planning alone will not get results in a quality control program. Action is required.

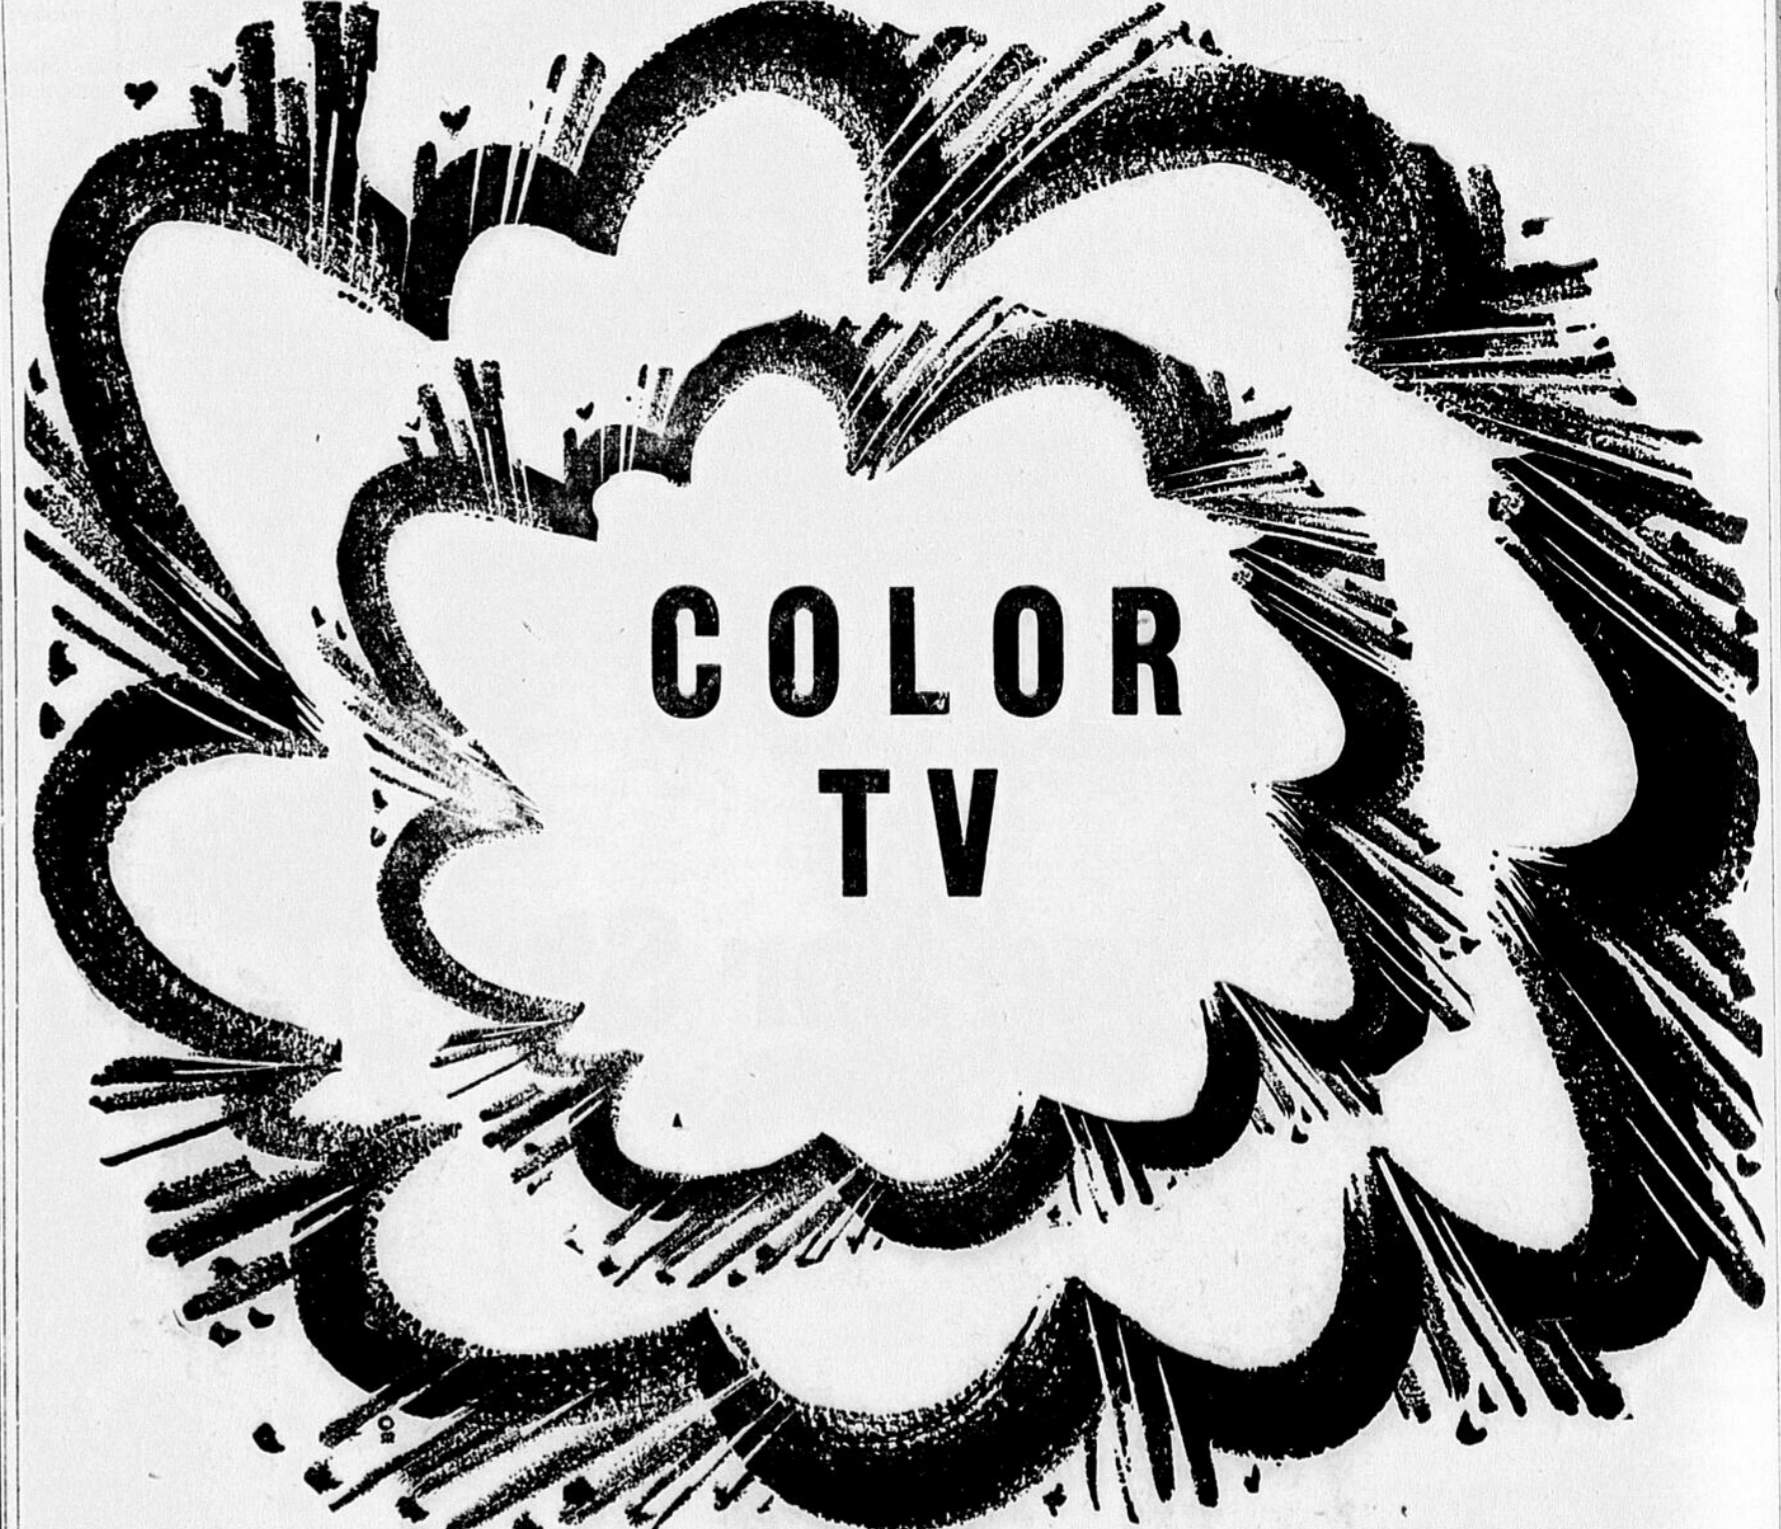

A plan focuses attention on what results are and must be achieved, but only a motivational program of action, aimed at the men and machinery involved, will yield results.

In a paper entitled "Technical Support of Marketing Effort", G.M. Shipman of the Chemstrand Company, Decatur, Alabama, said that the successful translation of textile science into product techniques and equipment that are practical requires close cooperation between marketing-research and development activities.

Although man has been acquainted with fibres for 90 centuries only in the last 50 years has this knowledge been extended from practical technology to actual experimental science, he said. "As a result, for the first time, we now have the means of virtually tailoring chemical fibres to yield properties hitherto unobtainable in natural fibres. Our capabilities in the synthesis, manufacture and processing of such fibres are constantly expanding and improving."
