FISHERY TROUBLE.

CANADIAN CRUISER SEIZES NEW-FOUNDLAND VESSELS.

They are Charged With Violating the Fishery Laws—Newfoundland People are Rather Puzzled.

(Special Cable to the Herald.)

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 3.—A startling sensation was created here to-day owing to intelligence received from Labrador announcing that a Canadian cruiser had seized a number of Newfoundland fishing vessels found in Canadian waters.

The seizures were made on the ground of violation of the Canadian fishery laws. A fish-laden steamer at Bonne Esperance barely managed to escape.

Nobody understands the cause of the seizures, as Newfoundlanders have been fishing there for years without interference. Whiteley, the Canadian fishery warden, was compelled to abandon the fishery by the cruiser also.

The matter is causing much discussion here, and will cause very unfriendly feeling toward Canada, and may possibly cause a revival of the tariff war between the two countries, unless a prompt explanation is given.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 3.—Virginia Lake, the mail steamer from Labrador, reports that one Canadian fleet of fishing cruisers, armed to the teeth with Gatling guns, cannon and other weapons, is seizing all the Newfoundland vessels found in Canadian waters, and has conveyed them to a headquarters in the Straits of Belle Isle. A portion of Labrador belongs to Canada, and a portion to the Newfoundland fishermen, and each country usually fishes in the territory of the other without interference. The present proceedings are doubtless due to some hot-headed and incompetent official. There is much excitement here, and the Government held a summary meeting to consider the situation, to-night.

IROQUOIS HIGH SCHOOL.

Semi-Centennial of its Existence—Some Interesting Addresses.

(Special to the Herald.)
Iroquois, Sept. 2.—Labor Day was signalized here by an occurrence of more than ordinary and everyday interest, the occasion being a re-union of pupils and ex-pupils, past and present teachers, of the Iroquois High School to celebrate the semi-centennial year of the existence of that institution. The High School, of which the townspeople are justly proud, possesses to-day an efficient staff of teachers, and a fine modern building among the best equipped in Ontario, with library, physical apparatus, laboratories, museum, and all things requisite to aid in the foundation work of the higher education. Many successful graduates of the Iroquois High School are now scattered in the goodly number of names of its alumni on the rolls of the various universities, or prominent in the professions and other walks of life. The historical element predominates in the day's proceedings, the peculiar interest attached to the past of the institution lying in the high patriotic and public feeling which led to the founding of the school, and that spirit of enterprise which gave it its present important position as an educational factor in Eastern Ontario. The struggles of pioneer life in a dense bush, where every foot of land had to be wrested by unflinching toil from the grasp of the primeval forest, the sparseness of settlement, the lack of means of communication, long deprived the U. E. Loyalists who peopled this north bank of the St. Lawrence of any but the most meagre educational privileges. A school was maintained at an early date when rudimentary instruction might be obtained. Schools for advanced education had been established in the larger towns of Ontario, but they were available only to the children of the rich, or well-to-do, when, in 1840, shortly after the passing of the first Grammar School Act, a gentleman of liberal mind and benevolent public spirit, convinced of the true value of education to a people, conceived the plan of bringing home to the doors of his neighbors the best facilities for instruction of the young then available. Two adjoining farmers, James and Matthew Coombs, gave the land upon which this gentleman, the late John A. Carmichael, for many years a resident of the village, had constructed at his own expense, a commodious stone school building, equipped as a first-class boarding school. Having obtained teachers, and provided all necessary apparatus and equipments, he turned the whole over to trustees as a perpetual gift to the community. For a number of years the affairs of the school were administered wholly under the terms of the trust, but gradually its operation conformed to the requirements of the School law in force from time to time, and it has long been recognized as a public school, and thoroughly equipped High School with an excellent record and reputation.

During the afternoon and evening a series of commemorative addresses were listened to by good audiences, largely composed of ex-pupils of the school, the names of more than one of whom had figured on its first class-roll fifty years ago. Foremost among the speakers of the day was Rev. Dr. Carman, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church, who was one of the first pupils to attend the school, and who afterwards presided over it as principal until appointed to the presidency of Albert College. His address was a notable venture in his most forcible and effective style on the value of education and its place in the building up of the Commonwealth. Touching on the Manitoba School Question, he deprecated any interference by the Dominion Government with Manitoba's school legislation, and if we were to be forced into that course, claimed the justice of the treatment of all the other provinces, of the assumption of control of educational matters by the Dominion Government.

IN MERCIER'S MEMORY.

MOVEMENT TO ERECT A $30,000 MONUMENT.

PROPOSAL FAVORABLY CONSIDERED AND A COMMITTEE NAMED.

Addresses by J. Beausoleil, M.P., G. W. Stephens, J. and Other Liberals.

There was a meeting yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Reineau Hotel to discuss the question of erecting a monument to the memory of the late Hon. George Mercer. There were some fifty and a half Liberals present. Ald. C. Beausoleil, M.P., was called to the chair.

In opening the meeting Mr. Beausoleil said they were called to devise the means of honoring in a befitting manner the memory of the greatest French-Canadian that ever lived. Mr. Mercer had been a genius who threw new lustre on the French-Canadian name. He had been a statesman in the widest and highest meaning of the word. His views were grand, his heart was broad, and his object, which was ever the same, was to elevate his race politically and socially. He was a patriot to the core, and his sent rays of light into every corner of the province. It was the duty of those who had followed his lead, of those who had been enabled to appreciate his many qualities to devise means for perpetuating the memory of this great man, who might well be set up as an example to their descendants. They all well knew that Mr. Mercer's aim had been to add to the glory and grandeur of his country, of his province and of his race. Mr. Mercer was persuaded that the French-Canadians did not occupy the position in the world which they aspired to in the Dominion, and that they did not command the respect to which they were entitled by their numbers and their intelligence. His life work was not to be questioned, and he had hoisted all those who sympathized with that object to erect a monument which would be an inspiration and an encouragement to perpetuate the French race under the sun.

The speaker then called upon Mr. J. O. R. D. Beausoleil, brother of the late P. X. Boulanger, who was drowned at River du Loup recently, has been granted another inquest on the remains of the deceased, as he thinks the verdict rendered is erroneous. The verdict rendered was suicide during a moment of mental aberration.

Mr. Mercer's death was a great loss to the French-Canadian community. He was a man of great ability and high character. His death was a great loss to the French-Canadian community. He was a man of great ability and high character. His death was a great loss to the French-Canadian community.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.

It Began at 11 O'clock Last Night and Was Plainly Visible.

The lunar eclipse last night was visible throughout Canada and the United States. The duration of the eclipse proper, that is, the time when the moon was completely obscured, was 3 hours and 54 minutes, during 1 hour and 41 minutes of which time it was total. It began at 11 o'clock.

The sun and two of the moon, that on March 10 last and that of last night. In 1877, eighteen years ago, there were 38 years of age at the time of his passing. The lunar eclipses of that year, however, were not visible to us.

Glenagary Landmarks Pass Away.

Cornwall, Sept. 3.—Among those who passed away in the last few days was Mr. Allan Archibald McDonald, of the 8th concession of Charlottetown. He was a genial, whole-souled Scot, and was born on the old homestead in 1812, being 83 years of age at the time of his passing. During the troublesome times of 1837-38 he proved his loyalty by serving in the Glenagary Regiment.

Another old and highly respected resident who passed away recently was John Tait, of Millie Rocher, one of the pioneer farmers of Shelk's Island. He was 87 years of age, a man of sterling worth and exemplary habits.

Mr. John J. McDonald, of Cornwall, aged 75 years, was called to his reward. He was a native of St. Andrew's, but had resided in Cornwall for a quarter of a century.

Mr. Venous Langevin, another veteran of 1837-38, died at his residence in Cornwall. He was 76 years of age, and was born at St. Anne's, P.Q., but came to Cornwall with his parents 65 years ago.

A Stampede.

An imitation of a Texas stampede occurred on St. James Street early last evening, when 44 horses, on their way to the St. James Hotel, were stampeded by a crowd of men who, in London, took flight at a locomotive. They were somewhere at the foot of Grey Nun Street where the animals ran in hot water, and the crowd, which was composed of St. James, then eastward, passed St. Lawrence Hall, an electric car hove in sight, and as the 44 horses were tied together, about 12 in a row, a crisis was at hand. With the shouts of frenzied citizens, on the horses ran. The mobman of the car held his breath as the horses surged madly towards him. Luckily a brave carter at the Hall, whose name could not be obtained, rushed up and by judicious management, stopped the maddest horses. They were afterwards driven quietly to the ship, none the worse for the little sportive flight.

Dominion Trades Congress.

London, Ont., Sept. 3.—The eleventh annual session of the Dominion Trades Congress opened yesterday at the Hotel Victoria. Mayor Little was introduced to the Congress by President W. Toll, of the Trades Council, and welcomed the delegates. He spoke of labor and the part it must take in the future in moulding the affairs of the Dominion. President P. J. Jobin, of the Trades Congress, replied on behalf of the delegates, endorsing the sentiments of Mayor Little.

After the Forfeited Bail.

Judgment was rendered yesterday morning by Judge Taitler against John M. Mr. Leighton, Ernest A. Cousins for $400 and Albert Johnston for $400. They were the bondsmen of Dr. Ferris, who was arrested on a charge of perjury, and who disappeared. Their bail was forfeited, and as they did not make it good judgment was rendered against them.

ARE NOT SATISFIED

WITH TURKEY'S POLICY REGARDING ARMENIAN REFORMS.

Hon. Geo. N. Curzon Makes an Important Statement in the British Commons on the Subject.

London, Sept. 3.—The Hon. G. N. Curzon, Under-Secretary for the Foreign Office, replying to a question by Mr. Bowles, M.P., in the House of Commons to-day, said that several communications had been received from Turkey upon the subject of the proposed reforms in Armenia. Unfortunately, he said, the communications were unsatisfactory. The project of reforms which had been suggested by Russia, France and England had not received the official support of Germany, Austria and Italy. But the powers met named, Mr. Curzon said, he believed were in sympathy with the reforms proposed.

As to whether the Government would undertake any action beyond diplomatic representations or negotiations without previously informing Parliament of the grounds upon which the action would be made, he was unable to say. Nor could he make any declaration regarding the course the Government would follow and themselves called upon to pursue in regard to the Armenian affairs.

In reply to an interrogation by Mr. Luttrell, member for the Tavistock division of Devonshire, as to the case of W. H. Rickard, an Englishman now under sentence of 35 years' imprisonment in Hawaii for complicity in the recent Hawaiian rebellion, Mr. Curzon said that as Mr. Rickard had surrendered his British nationality, the Government had no locus standi in the matter.

The bill to re-enact clause XIII. of the Irish Bill was read for the third time in the House of Commons to-night.

BURNS EXCLUDED

From the Trade Union Congress by its Latest Decision.

Cardiff, Sept. 3.—The Trades Union Congress was excited to-day by a heated discussion of a motion of Mr. Wilson, M.P., censuring the Parliamentary Committee for exceeding its instructions. The motion was rejected on a vote of 694,000 to 357,000, according to the representation of the delegates who cast the vote.

The decision excludes Tom Mann and John Burns from the Congress. Burns was, however, on the Parliamentary Committee, and approves its action, although detrimental to himself. Burns and Broadhurst will resign their membership in Congress. The principal changes due to the decision are the exclusion of all Trade Councils from production of the position by proxy, and the exclusion of delegates who are not genuine workers or paid working officials of a trade union.

The Chronicle regrets the decision to exclude Burns, and says it will publish tomorrow as a return to sectionalism. All the other newspapers congratulate the Congress upon the defeat of Socialism under the guise of a new unionism.

NOTES FROM QUEBEC.

Quebec, Sept. 3.—Horses for the coming Turf Club races on the Plains of Abraham are daily arriving. There are over a dozen now here. Everything points to a very successful meet.

The inquest in the case of the sudden death of Joan Gagne, who was found dead on Sunday in a saloon on St. Paul Street, resulted in a verdict of death from heart disease.

Mr. R. B. Levesque, brother of the late P. X. Boulanger, who was drowned at River du Loup recently, has been granted another inquest on the remains of the deceased, as he thinks the verdict rendered is erroneous. The verdict rendered was suicide during a moment of mental aberration.

Mr. Hon. Premier Taitler left this afternoon for Montreal. The legislative sub-committee of the Public Instruction Committee met this afternoon. A conference took place between both Protestant and Catholic committees but nothing of importance transpired.

Through the Soo Canal.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 3.—The first boats passed through the new Canadian canal at 10:45 this morning. The boats were the American tug M. E. P. Lachapelle, J. N. Greenshields, R. Lemieux, J. O. Pollard and the Canadian tug Clara Hickler and Jessie. This can not properly be termed an opening, as the tug passed through for the first time, and the boats were acquainted with the channel. Officers of the American and Canadian canals were aboard the tug. The canal will be opened for general traffic by Saturday.

Killed by the Cars.

Elmora Blanchard, seven years of age, residing with her parents at 463 Sanguinet Street, while playing at the corner of Visitation and Ontario Streets, was knocked down and killed by a car to-day yesterday. The wheels went over the youngster's body, but did not kill her instantly. She was quickly conveyed to the Notre Dame Hospital, but expired a few minutes after her removal. The coroner will hold an inquest at 4 o'clock to-day.

BROCKVILLE NOTES.

Brockville, Sept. 3.—Robert McCormick, who was lodged in jail here recently on a charge of breaking into river cottages and stealing goods, was up for trial to-day, his last day in jail or in Kingston penitentiary.

The outburst on this part of the St. Lawrence is about over, the majority of the cottagers returning to town to-day. The steamer, Haggart makes her last trip on the Park route to-morrow. The season has been livelier than any for years in this vicinity.

A man who gives his name as Mardret was captured running wild in an almost mad condition near Kempeville yesterday and brought out here and lodged in jail. At times he is very wild, and seems to know nothing of himself about his own affairs. He was born in Illinois. He has been in jail or asylum before, as he knew the ropes as soon as he got in. He will place in the asylum.

ST. ROSE EN FETE.

St. Rose had a grand fete yesterday, organized by its former residents. Mr. St. Rose and Abbe Perron were present. There was a large number of the clergy present. Among the laymen were Hon. J. A. Oulmet, Hon. P. E. Le Blanc and Coroner Macmahon.

AMUSEMENTS.

Magie is a prominent factor in the world's interests, and was so before the time the witch raised up the shades of Samuel at the request of King Saul, but there have been few other exponents of this peculiar art who have attained greater popularity than Herrmann, who is now known as "The Napoleon of Necromancers," who appears at the Academy of Music Monday, Sept. 9, and gives a Saturday matinee only, and proposes to astonish us by feats of natural and mechanical magic, the like of which has never been seen before. He will be assisted by Madame Herrmann, a beautiful woman, who will present her own ingenious creations of spectacular dances which have lately given her such a terpsichorean reputation.

Herrmann has made his entertainment more popular and fascinating than ever by presenting a number of marvelous "mechanical magic," in addition to his own natural feats. These are beautiful illusions and mystifying exploits, presented with special electric, mechanical and scenic devices and settings requiring a large number of attendants to be gained for producing them, but the effect is gained of combining dramatic interest with bewildering, a novel and pre-eminent attraction for public taste.

AT STATEN ISLAND THE ENGLISHMEN ARE SURE WINNERS.

Defender's Crew Very Confident of Victory—Hall of Cornell in Town—Shamrocks Practicing for Saturday's Match—The Tel-Air Meeting.

Rosedale Grounds, Toronto, Sept. 3.—

N A blaze of sunlight the international cricket match was resumed this morning. The attendance was large. A splendid exhibition of the game was given by the Canadians in their second innings, nine out of eleven getting into double figures. The features of the match were Mr. Terry's magnificent innings of 70, which he made in grand style, and the fielding of the visitors, which was, as yesterday, of first class order. At 11.30 the two batsmen of last evening, went to the wickets and faced the bowling of Bristol and Cregar. Both batsmen played carefully until Boyd was caught at the wicket by Ralston. Score, 18-1. Cregar bowled when the score reached 38. When 43 was tallied, Martin was run out after making 16. Score, 48-2-16. Saunders joined the next batsman, and after he had rapped out a double an adjournment was made for luncheon. At 2.40 play was resumed, Goldingham and Laing taking their places at the bat. Laing started with a drive off Bristol for four, and was afterwards stamped by Ralston, after compiling 15. Score, 148-6-15.

Wadsworth came in, and he and Goldingham made things interesting for the visitors, running up the score in quick order. Wadsworth was caught by Bohlen after putting together 10 runs. Score, 158-6-10. Jacques followed Wadsworth, and after a couple of singles were tallied, Jacques hit Bristol for four. After Goldingham had made a double he was bowled by Goodman. He made a capital 24. Score, 188-7-24.

Wilson joined Jacques, and the two Willepeters began to score rapidly. Wilson put Bristol into the grand stand for four, and followed it up by three doubles off Goodman. Jacques rapped Cregar for two, and the telegraph showed 200. Wilson hit Goodman beautifully to the boundary, and followed with two doubles. Jacques then rapped Cregar at the wickets by Ralston, after rapping Cregar for two, and the telegraph showed 200. Wilson hit Goodman beautifully to the boundary, and followed with two doubles. Jacques then rapped Cregar at the wickets by Ralston, after rapping Cregar for two, and the telegraph showed 200.

At 5 o'clock the visitors started in on their second innings, sending Clarke and Houghton to the bowling of Laing and Goldingham. Clarke began well, hitting Laing for 3, and following with a leg hit to the boundary off Goldingham. Jacques relieved Goldingham bowling. Houghton drove his second ball for 3, after which runs came very slowly. Clarke was caught by Boyd. Score 24-1-9. Ralston joined Houghton, and was clean bowled by Laing's first ball, without scoring.

Stumps were then drawn for the day, and the match was concluded to-morrow. Following is the score:

New York, Sept. 3.—When play was resumed between the Oxford and Cambridge and All-New York cricket teams at the Staten Island Cricket Grounds, at 11.30 this morning, there were not more than 200 people on the grounds, as it was generally thought from the show-up by both teams yesterday that the Americans would be practically snowed under. Towards the afternoon the attendance increased to about 800, and the ladies' club house and the pavilion were well patronized by the fair sex. Druce, the not-out man when stumps were drawn last night, was partnered by R. A. Studd, in defence of the wickets this morning. The newcomer was the first to let out. Lohman and Cobb were the bowlers. Studd hit Lohman to leg for a couple, which sent the double century mark up on the telegraph board. The same batsman sneaked Cobb to the ropes for four, and then Druce drove Lohman to long on for four, and in the next over sent the ball in the opposite direction for one less. Studd banged the next ball to the boundary for four, and a minute later repeated the trick twice over. Kelly replaced Lohman at the wicket, and with the score at 235. After thirty-one minutes' play Studd had gathered 31 runs, but he was dismissed by a clever left-hand catch in the slips by Cobb off Kelly. Milligan then joined Druce, but only seven more runs were added, when the Surrey man placed a drive into MacNutt's hands, after making the top score of 121. Druce thus furnished one of the best innings ever played on this ground. Milligan and Mord-

mer were short lived. There were several changes in the bowling, Pool replacing MacNutt and Kelly, Lohman, Robinson's hits included three sixes, four fours, a double and several singles. Hartley was the last man at bat on the team, and Kelly dismissed him, bowling him cleanly, with a total of 323 runs.

Byers and Patterson began the All-New York second innings. Wilson and Hartley were the bowlers for the Collegians, and Robinson stood behind the wickets. Runs came very slowly, as the Americans were extremely cautious. It was necessary for the home twelve to make 211 to save a single inning defeat. Singles were the rule until 12 was put up. Then Milligan replaced Hartley. Patterson was hit on the knee at 1.30. Play was adjourned for luncheon, but the men were out on the field fifty minutes later. At 2.30 Byers was caught by Lowe with the score of 25, and Tyers joined Patterson. With the score at 25, Patterson was caught by Hill in the slips, and Tyers was dismissed, being caught by Robinson, not having made a run. Cobb and Lohman made things interesting for the Englishmen. Lohman then drove Hartley out of the grounds for six, but a few minutes later he was caught at long-off by Hill, with a well-earned run. Cobb then came to the bat, and sneaked Hartley for four, and then sent two to square-leg for four each. With the score at 85, Lowe replaced Milligan, and Cobb drew him to the off for three, and the score at 128. Rokeby drove the second ball to the boundary, and cut another to the same place. Cobb sent Arkwright to square leg for another four, and Rokeby cut Milligan for the same amount. Robinson missed Rokeby behind the wicket, and he went on making fours until dismissed being clean bowled by Arkwright with a score of 66, which was made up of one six, twelve fours and one single. The total score was now 183, and Mart joined Cobb. The new batsman knocked out a double and four, and Cobb assisted him to send the 200 mark up. This brought about a change in the bowling. Boyd was run out in the slips. Kelly came next, but Cobb was run out with a score of 224, he having contributed 73 runs. The others were retired before 5.30, with the total score of 381. Play will be resumed at eleven o'clock to-morrow morning, when the Englishmen require fifty-seven runs to win.

ROWING AND SAILING.

Hall of Cornell Man in Town.

HOMAS L. HALL, the already famous stroke of the Cornell crew, is visiting Montreal. He is the guest of Dr. Davidson, of the Royal Victoria Hospital. Mr. Hall accompanied the Cornell boys to Henley, and was generally considered to be one of the strongest oars in the boat. In fact the press despatches at the time were authority for the statement that when the unfortunate collapse of some of the men occurred Hall was one of the last to stop rowing. In 1891 and 1892 he stroked the Cornell freshmen crew which defeated Yale, and in 1893 was stroke of the varsity crew. In 1894 he was captain of the Varsity rowing No. 6. On the football field he has also distinguished himself.

Mr. Hall is a native of Brant County, Ontario, and Canadians have good reason to be proud of his success as a student as well as an athlete.

ATHLETICS.

Why John Van Fleet Crum Came East.

"John Van Fleet Crum, of Iowa, who can run 100 yards or 220 yards, for that matter, as fast, if not faster, than any man in the world, is in town," says the N.Y. World. "He is going to compete as a New York amateur, and the sprinters of our English cousins are sending over here to compete September 21. It may look as though the 'mercury foot' organization stretched a point in sending out west for a man, but Crum was coming east to settle, anyway, so it makes little difference, for he would surely have joined the club in the regular way soon."

R. P. Forbes of Halifax Can Run.

Halifax, N.S., has a fast sprinter in the person of R. P. Forbes, of the Wanderers' Club. On Saturday, at the annual sports of the club he equalled the Maritime Province record (his own) in the 100 yards, doing it in 10 1/8. He broke the Maritime record in the 220 yards, (also his own) of 23 seconds, doing it in 23 5/8. The Maritime record for the 440 yards was established by Tracey several years ago, but it was also lowered on Saturday by Forbes to 51 1/2. It is reported that this fast man will be in the foreground in the annual sports of the C.A.A.A.

LACROSSE.

The Independent Junior League.

The standing of the clubs in the Independent Junior Lacrosse League are as follows:

Shamrocks Getting Into Trim.

The Shamrocks returned from Quebec none the worse for their tussle with the Caps. The boys were out on the field last evening for a little practice, and weather permitting, they will turn out to-night and Thursday night. The club has received an official notification of the suspension of Carleton and Carson, of the Capitals. "In one way the boys are rather sorry for this, for as a Shamrock man put it, "we want to beat the best team that the Capitals can possibly put on the field." The sale of reserved seats for Saturday's game is progressing rapidly, and the effort is being made to afford the spectators every convenience. In order to guard against any difficulty of the reserved seat holders in getting their places, 20 ushers have been engaged for the occasion.

BASEBALL.

A Ten Inning Game.

OUR thousand people or more witnessed the game of ball between the Nationals, of Montreal, and the Grantes, of Hingham, at the latter place Sunday last. They were well paid for the trouble of going to Hingham, as the game has seldom been seen in this province.

The score at the end of the ninth inning was 2 to 2. The Saturday water to bat first in the tenth, and failed to score, and Laviolette, of the Grantes, made the winning hit in their half, amid frantic cheers.

Belcourt pitched a good game for the Nationals, and the Grantes were unable to get a man over the plate prior to the eighth innings.

The teams were as follows:

Nationals—Belcourt p., Brouillette c., Shatt, lb., Viger, 2b., Courtenanche 3b., Mercier, r.f., Michael L.F., Allard c.f., Gauthier s.a.

Grantes—Beaugrand p., Smith c., Lane lb., Durocher 2b., Snow 3b., Davidson r.f., Laviolette l.f., Masse c.f., McCarthy s.a.

The score by innings follows:

Nationals.....	1	0	1	0	0	0	0	2	3

On the Delton Park Saturday the Clippers defeated the Mutuals by 20 to 2. The Clippers are now ahead in the league, having won 8 games and lost only one.

Cote St. Paul and Beavers.

The Beavers, of St. Henry, defeated the Cote St. Pauls, of St. Henry, yesterday afternoon by a score of 13 to 7. The Beavers won easily, having one inning to spare.

FOOTBALL.

Rough Mr. Hinkey Will Coach Yale.

Arthur E. Foote, manager of Yale football team, says there will be coaches in abundance this year, as the alumni have expressed themselves as very willing to aid in developing the eleven, especially as the team of last year was so successful, because so many members of last year's team have left college. He has just heard from ex-Capt. Hinkey, who has said that he will be here at about the beginning of the year to coach the team. It is thought, the greater part of the season.

A football player of much prominence who will enter Yale this fall is Gilbert Greenway, brother of "Jack" Greenway, Yale's great catcher and football end rush. "Gil" Greenway has been the captain and pitcher of the Phillips Academy team at Andover, and end rush on that team for two years, and he is likely to succeed his brother on the Yale football team the coming fall. As Louis Hinkey will probably succeed his brother Arthur on the Yale eleven at the other end, the Yale ends will probably be this city from the Key, as far as names are concerned, the same as for the past three years, Hinkey and Greenway.—New York World.

LIAC PRATTLE.

A practice of the Liac Football Club will be held every night this week (Saturday excepted) on the Hawthornes' grounds on Oliver Avenue, to prepare for Saturday's match with the Rovers. Every member is requested to attend.

THE WHEEL.

The Big Meet at Springfield.

Racing men are now rapidly gathering in Springfield, and the Hampden Park track presents a busy scene these days. Everything points to one of the most successful tournaments that the Springfield Bicycle Club has ever held, the interest being widespread. From all over the country word is being received that the crack riders of all classes are saving themselves for the Springfield races. "Ed" Nelson, of Springfield, will return to the track for this meet, and will doubtless make the other class A men hustle. Even Zigler, who broke his arm lately, hopes to be in form to ride at Springfield. Entries are coming in rapidly. George M. Hendee sailed for home August 24, with Jacquelin and Plette, the French professionals.

Stratford and Peterboro not "Bike" Crazy.

Hal. B. Donly is of the opinion that next year the L.A.W. Canadian circuit should include only the large and more enthusiastic cities, such as London, Toronto, Woodstock and Montreal. At only four of the meetings were the expenses met. Toronto, London, Woodstock, Stratford, Stratford and Peterboro being somewhat in the nature of "frosts."

At Stratford and Peterboro the promoters must make up their minds to nearly $400 behind each.—Toronto Globe.

Elliott, Compton; C. J. P. Cleaveland, Danville; W. P. McLary, Compton; C. C. Hanson, H. D. Smith, H. T. Ball, Duffy & Butters, S. Lake & Sons and many others. J. N. Green-shields, of Isalgue Grange, who has won honors galore at the World's Fair, beating Governor Horton, of New York, has a splendid herd of Guernseys. The Ayrshire class is well represented and is one of the largest cattle exhibits on the grounds. C. H. Hackett, D. W. Wilson and W. McCullum also have herds.

The exhibits in swine and sheep are very good. The poultry exhibit is an exceedingly good one. There are over fifteen hundred entries. The best classes are games, bantams, Hamburgs, white leghorns and brown leghorns. The pigeon exhibit is large and good. The display of flowers and ornamental plants is a very fine one. Many of the private conservatories of Sherbrooke have contributed some of their finest specimens. The exhibit of flowering plants is composed of choice specimens. Begonias, almandins, geraniums, sweet peas, pansies, are in profusion.

The principal exhibitors in horses are: Dussault & French, W. Road, J. B. Woodworth, G. F. Terrill, Sherbrooke; G. R. Foster, Danville; A. H. Lane, Richmond; R. Ness, Howick; C. R. Clough, Lennoxville; E. T. Corset Co., St. Hyacinthe; Dr. Colin Sewell, Quebec; J. P. Davies, Lachine; J. D. Buzzell & Son, Compton Model Farm; R. H. Pope, M.P., Cookshire; M. H. Cochrane, Compton; Minogue, Montreal, and many others.

THE MACFARLANE MILLING CO., by far the largest and leading milling company in this section, have an even larger exhibit than on previous years. As usual, they occupy a conspicuous space near the centre of the Main building, where the different brands of flour are displayed to the best advantage, being arranged in such a manner as to attract attention. Such an enterprising concern as the MacFarlane Milling Company, however, does not rest content with a mere display, but are alive to the benefits of advertising in its various forms. They are booming their famous brand of "Our Glory" at present, a brand which has won its way into the hearts of all housekeepers, on account of its excellent bread making qualities. With a view of further making popular this already well-known brand, they are giving away an exhibition coupon which entitles the holder to a rebate of 50 cents on the current market price of a barrel of "Our Glory" flour, and are also giving away a substantial and useful blue enameled flour scoop, on which is branded in gold the name of the company and the brand of flour. Both the coupon and the flour scoop are already in large demand, showing conclusively that this popular brand of flour is appreciated.

Another feature of their exhibit is the display of nearly 200 loaves of bread made by the housekeepers of Sherbrooke and vicinity from "Our Glory" flour, as well as from "Whole Wheat Flour," another special output of the MacFarlane Milling Company. This display is for the purpose of demonstrating the excellent qualities of the flour for bread-making purposes. For this display the company offer a number of valuable prizes, the large number of entries being the best evidence of their value.

The MacFarlane Milling Company has established here over twenty years ago, and has always been a successful company, but never so much so as under the present management. A year and a half ago Messrs. L. A. and L. C. Dastous, father and son, assumed the proprietorship, and under their fostering care the business of the company has met with such a magnificent increase that they can now scarcely meet the demand.

"Our Glory" flour is recognized here as equal to Pillsbury's Best, the standard flour of the United States, and is said by those who know to be the best on the continent.

Messrs. Dastous have the contract for supplying all grain and feed for the horses, cattle and fowls on exhibition, and are offering a special prize for the best collection of fowls.

The MacFarlane Milling Co. is at present offering a reward for the detection of persons who are destroying their "Our Glory" posters on the roadways of the neighboring sections.

CHOLERA WALKS ABOARD.

Portland, Oregon, Sept. 3.—The prevalence of cholera in Honolulu and in the Orient has created a scare here. The local board of health is already adopting stringent measures to repel its invasion. City Physician Wheeler says that at no time have Pacific coast cities been so seriously menaced by the scourge as now. He says the situation is alarming, people must not be deceived and health ordinances must be rigorously enforced. All vessels coming here from foreign ports will be carefully examined and quarantined if necessary.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 2.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes of the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

THE MONTREAL HERALD CO.

A COMBINE TO DEPRESS THE PRICE OF WHEAT.

Mr. James B. Campbell, in his trenchant letter from Chicago, published by us a day or so since, showed that the good old game of "doing" the Manitoba farmers has again been got under way. Last June wheat was nominally bringing fancy prices at Manitoba points, at Gretna, for instance, which is just across the boundary line from Neche, N.D. There was a difference of fifteen cents a bushel, and a few hundred bushels of American wheat were teamed across the line and the duty paid for the privilege of selling in Canada, and this was followed by an enormous quantity of talking by the N.P. Press. But now what a change! The farmers at last have wheat in quantities to sell, but they can get no one to buy it. The market is declining and the buyers do not intend to put out any cash until the bottom has been reached. But they are graciously permitting the farmers to store their wheat in their elevators, and this is to be paid for when "the combine" has decided on the price it will pay.

Mr. Willison, the editor of the Globe, who is writing a series of letters from Manitoba, soon discovered this nigger in the wood-pile. He says:

"There is an hostility scarcely yelled between the miller and grain-buying interest and the grain-producing interest. It may be that in the past, upon tender plants and vines, upon the wheat fields, one can find no traces of frost, but the grain-buyer will shake his head wisely and ominously, and whisper in your ear his conviction that there has been serious frost and widespread injury. If there be frost at all it is likely to be heavier on the Grain Exchange than in the wheat fields. One buyer took me aside and gave me solemn warning of the harm I would do to the country by sending to the East 'booming' reports of the wheat prospect, and thus encouraging a bear movement on prices. But even if to conceal the truth would help prices a policy of depreciation would hardly help settlement."

"The millers and the elevator interests have undoubtedly profited hundreds of thousands by the increase in prices since the last crop was marketed, and some of this wheat is still in hand to compete with the new crop. The suspicion of frost gives the buyer an advantage. The farmer seems to fear the mere report of frost as much as the actual damage. He believes that the suspicion of frost will enable the buyer to bear the price of his crop from two to four cents a bushel, and that a large percentage of the loss which he thus suffers goes directly into the pockets of the buyers. The buying interest is organized, the farming interest is unorganized. One can understand the farmer's fear and his efforts to provide independence for himself by the handling of his crop. Thus far, however, the elevator charges seem to be moderate, and but an average measure of success has attended the efforts of the farmers to build and operate elevators on the cooperative plan. The three great grain-handling concerns are the Ogilvie Milling Company, (W. W. Ogilvie, letter writer, president), the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, (R. H. Meighen, letter writer, president), and the North American Elevator Company. At every station the great structures of the two first named corporations tower into view, and nothing is more suggestive of the enormous crop of grain that is produced by the 25,000 farmers of this young province. The estimate for this year is that the farms of Manitoba will yield 60,000,000 bushels of grain of all kinds, and the stock and dairying interests are ready to receive the surplus. There is no more fruitful land under God's sky, and we are rearing here, under climatic conditions that are severe for the winter months, but are tempered by a summer of rare beauty and benignity, and increasing conveniences and comforts, one of the best populations of the continent. But to return. The North American Elevator Company is a newer enterprise, and there is some expectation that it will prove an active competing agency for the older concerns. This is doubtful. There is little doubt that an understanding as to prices prevails on the Grain Exchange at Winnipeg, and there is no likely to be any very determined competition among the elevators. There may be now and then a spurt as a result of exceptional conditions, but in the face of vast experience, one can only conclude that where combination is possible and profitable competition is impossible, and that, as in the case of the railways, a rigorous war of rates is the sure forerunner of an effective understanding. It is quite likely that Manitoba is raising an elevator problem and many of the other economic problems that are breeding in our western civilization."

What a comment on the patriotic epistles of the letter writers last June, when, having captured all the wheat in the country, they favored the farmers with higher prices for the wheat that they didn't have, and advanced the price of the flour that they had to buy. This season will see history repeat itself. Prices in Manitoba will be beaten down to the lowest possible figure by an understanding between the "combine" of buyers until ninety-five per cent. of the wheat is in the elevators, and for the remaining five per cent. there will be a make believe scramble that here and there in the province will show the price up. Perhaps Mr. Ogilvie and Mr. Meighen will then write some more letters to that price of windbags and mountebanks Montague on the effect of a protective tariff on the price of wheat; but then there is also the possibility that they won't. It is understood that a good deal of their conceit in their epistolary performances has been knocked out of them.

MERCIER AND MACDONALD.

The French Canadians are credited by the western Conservative press with a desire to erect a monument to the memory of Honore Mercier, and this press, which nowadays depends for its existence mainly upon the clouding of poor Mercier's memory, is screeching with well-feigned indignation at the idea. The Toronto Mail and Empire says that "the question at once arises whether the monument will stand as a public recognition of what his country owes him, or of what he owes his country."

The Hamilton Herald says: "Mercier stands for nothing but political corruption. His picturesque and in some respects brilliant career is dark and disgraceful, and instead of seeking to perpetuate his memory the effort should be to let it sink into well-earned oblivion."

To such the Hamilton Times replies forcibly: "There would not seem to be anything astonishing in the proposal to erect a monument to Mercier, seeing that we honor in bronze and apothecize a man who, notwithstanding that he called God to witness 'these hands are clean,' was proved to have hoodled and stolen more than anyone ever thought of accusing Mercier of taking; whose political creed was power at any price; who sacrificed principles, friends and country for office; trampled on the constitutional rights of the people, stifled the popular voice by methods the most odious, and fortified himself by perversion of the law-making power and by corrupting his followers."

AN INVINCIBLE ALLIANCE.

Speaking of the necessity for the protection of English-speaking missionaries in China, Harper's Weekly says: "Of course the nature of the task almost necessarily involves an alliance between the British and the Americans, and there are a good many people who dislike jingoism and who have a wholesome contempt for the jingoes, who would regard an alliance in such a cause between the two great English-speaking powers with profound satisfaction, and in the hope and belief that it would put an end to the worst forms of jingoism, which so affects its victims that they lie awake at night in the haunting fear that Great Britain is stealing some mid-ocean rock, out of which some American might possibly some day try to make some money."

Would Mr. Lodge, or Mr. Morgan or Mr. Frye, or any other of our well-greaved heroes, who thus far have been fighting with the weapons of Thersites rather than with those of Achilles, prefer to see the missionaries harried rather than that England and the United States should become allies for their preservation? Is it better, in their opinion, that the germ of Christianity, which the missionaries think it their duty to plant in China, shall perish than that the Indians and the Terrible shall fight side by side in the same cause? If such is really their opinion, we think they are making a tactical blunder, for we fancy that a majority of American citizens would prefer to see their country fighting with England in the cause of missions, rather than to see her fighting against England in the cause of nitrates or land or strategic points or coaling stations or any other form of pelf."

Harper's Weekly speaks for what we are fond of calling the better element of the people of the United States. It suggests an alliance which would not be confined to operations in the yellow waters that lave the shores of the battered East. Into such an alliance, it is probable, Great Britain would be pleased to enter so soon as the element for which Harper's Weekly speaks so ably should have become the paramount influence in "American" politics.

RESPONSIBLE FOR INCREASED EXPENDITURES.

The Gazette says that every dollar of increased provincial expenditure on account of interest, public works and railway subsidies in 1894 was made a liability by the policy and the legislation of the Mercier Government. This can only be considered a deliberate misstatement. But a few days since we reviewed the railway legislation of the present Government, and it was no other than the Gazette which replied that that legislation "might" be defended. Therefore our esteemed contemporary cannot plead ignorance of the fact that by this legislation a half million in cash was voted to certain companies on condition, as a Conservative paper put it, "that they should not build railways."

Thus, in his last report, Mr. Moreau, the Government engineer, said on page 48: "The Quebec, Montmorency and Charlevoix Company does not appear disposed to continue the construction of its line beyond the third section of ten miles, which is on the point of being completed."

Consequently the subsidies voted for all that part of the line beyond the third section reverted to the provincial treasury and the liabilities of the Province were decreased by so much. Instead of keeping the money in the treasury the Government has distributed it between a number of Mr. Beemer's railways, which were already built and in operation. It is also the Tallion Government which, by extending the time given to railway companies to earn their subsidies, has prevented another million of liabilities from being written off the books. To meet these two half millions of liabilities for which the Tallion Administration has made itself responsible, will require a loan of a million, the interest on which will have to be paid by taxation, while the Province has derived practically no benefit from the expenditure.

As to public works, the principal item is the Montreal Court House. It is a well known fact that two-thirds of the expenditure on that building have been made under the direction of Hon. Mr. Nantel and to suit conscientious Mr. St. Louis. If the expenditure was made necessary by the Mercier regime, how is it that in the estimates prepared by the present Government at the end of 1893, after they had been two years in power, only $150,000 was put down to complete the work, while $125,000 was actually spent?

But Mercier must be responsible. That is the only answer the Tallion Government can make to explain their broken pledges and their extravagance.

NOT GENUINE AMATEURS.

A sport that calls for such elaborate scrutiny as bicycling should be frankly professional or palpably amateur. British sporting ethics has drawn the line sufficiently straight in cricket and in rowing and sculling, two distinctly British sports; and the same spirit has been followed conscientiously through the whole run of British athletics. To be a professional sculler, cricketer, or footballer, out and out in itself no disgrace; any more than to be a professional actor or singer. Modern economy finds an honored place for those whose calling it is to provide for the wholesome recreation of their fellows. But in athletics, as elsewhere, the professional should stand clearly distinguished from the amateur, if the requirements and possibilities of amateurism are not one of the superstitions of a supersensitive race.

Among bicyclists the temptation to race for the glorification of some firm of bicycle manufacturers is strong in itself. It is intensified by the sanction accorded the practice by the so-called amateurs' associations for the encouragement of fast wheeling. But the man who profits financially through the advertisement which his racing prowess affords any bicyclist, in point of fact, as much as to be distinguished from the genuine amateur as the man who races openly for a prize in money. Open professionalism does sport no harm, except in so far as it tends to widen the influence of the gambling element. Veiled professionalism means death to amateur sport, and Canadian athletics have not been free from the working of the curse. The Class B bicyclist, the product of a vicious Americanism, should have no place in Canada, and the Canadian Wheelmen's Association and all affiliated bodies in the Dominion would elevate themselves in Canadian esteem if they should accede to lend their countenance to amateur bicyclists alone.

DR. GRANT IN MANITOBA.

Facts About the School Case Are Required.

(From the Winnipeg Tribune.)

Principal Grant, of Queen's College, arrived in the city Monday evening, after a very muddy drive in the Middle Bluff, where he had been visiting relatives. Last evening he was seen by a reporter of the Tribune at the residence of Chief Justice Taylor, Port Rouge. Though only nicely disembarked from his voyage through Red River mud, Principal Grant presented to give his views on the question at present most agitating the public mind, i.e., the Manitoba school question.

"I liked," said the great educationalist, "the suggestion in the answer of the local Government to the remedial order, the suggestion that a commission of educational experts enquire into the working of the present and of the old system, so as to get at the actual facts of the case. I think this wise, because the one thing settled by the Privy Council was that the Dominion Government had jurisdiction under the constitution. That being so, the question for the Dominion Government to ask was surely this: Would it, or would it not, be wise for us to exercise this jurisdiction? And before they could answer that question, they ought to know the exact facts of the case, not as these are presented by advocates on either side, but as they really are in the estimation of competent educational authorities. On that account I feel regret that the invitation was not accepted; and although I visited many of the Manitoba schools before, and understand the content of the French pretty well, I intend while on this visit to look into the question more thoroughly, and of course I shall give the result of my enquiries to the public."

"Do you purpose visiting such of the French schools as still exist?"

"Certainly. I would like to visit typical schools. Schools in cities, towns, villages and country schools. French schools, and country schools. I would like to see the difference between the two systems is that in Ontario Roman Catholics have separate schools by statute and in the Maritime Provinces they get them in the cities at any rate by a kind of tacit understanding or convention. In both divisions, although there is dissatisfaction on both sides on the part of the extreme men, there is a general condition of peace. On the whole it may be fairly said that the people are satisfied with the working arrangement that has been come to. I am well acquainted with both systems and with the working of them, and would not care to pronounce which of them is theoretically the better, because in each case the settlement was the result of a compromise which was dictated by the evolution of each province. In other words, we would again say I deprecate laying down hard and fast lines on a subject in which men's deepest feelings are concerned and where the subject is necessarily as complex as social and religious life."

In closing, Principal Grant asked the reporter what was the chief argument upon which the supporters of the old system relied. The reporter explained that the main argument was that the decision of the Privy Council was a mandate and must be obeyed.

Principal Grant laughed at this, and said they must be badly off for an argument if they used the Privy Council as the first part of his interview, where he showed that the one thing the decision of the Privy Council did was to show that the Dominion Government had the prerogative they should, by a thorough examination, find that interference was warranted.

Principal Grant will remain in the province about three weeks and devote all the time at his disposal to looking into the different schools.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Chicago Drainage Canal.

To the Editor of the Herald:

Sir,—The Chicago drainage canal will be long a fact. The engineers representing the United States Government report that it will lower the water six inches in Lakes Michigan and Huron. Without doubt this is an interesting question for Canadians. Assuming the report to be correct in fact, were our transportation service on the same basis as the United States, with our trade equally, but as it stands, with our trade on the lakes represented by the smaller propellers, light lake craft and heavy canal craft, against the United States heavy lake craft and light canal craft, the water transportation service of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin is sure to suffer more than the transportation service of Canada. If the report of the drainage canal be true, lower the water of the St. Lawrence River it must also lower the water of the Erie Canal. To lower the head waters of the Erie is simply to decrease that whole plant of the Erie Canal. Is it worth while for transportation, with the Erie Canal blocked rail grain freightly harden. Anything that will artificially harden grain rates on the United States side will benefit Canadian trade on the natural water route. We shall always have water with our present system of canals, whereas the Erie may not with-out a rebuilding of the whole canal from end to end. As for our ocean channel we might have to deepen it again (a question of cost) but our ships are light draught anyway, especially with imports. The export trade would accommodate itself to circumstances, and the deals would go on board at Quebec. How low the Northwest would stand a block of the Erie is a question for the Sovereign States united to decide.

The conclusion is that we may safely leave it to New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and the Northwestern States to handle Illinois through their own Federal Government; anyway, the question is so established beforehand that effect the canal shall have on the level of the lakes. My unprofessional opinion is that the whole thing is a scare.

There is one thing we Canadians may depend upon, neither Republicans nor Democrats will lose one vote in this great State of Illinois for the weal or woe of Canadians.

NEWSPAPERS.

CONDEMNED BY JUDGE WURTELE

AT THE COURT OF QUEEN'S

BENCH.

THINKS THE ENGLISH STYLE OF

REPORTING SHOULD BE FOLLOWED.

Many Defaulters of Bail Bonds—Case

Against Orpen the Pool Room

Man Dropped.

The September term of the Court of Queen's Bench, criminal side, opened yesterday at 10 o'clock, Hon. Justice Wurtelle presiding. The Sheriff, Hon. J. R. Thibault, presented the list of jurors, and they were duly empanelled by L. W. Sciotte, clerk of the court. The following compose the list: Jas. Lowe, Jr., foreman; Hottel Maglaire, Theodore Lefebvre, Francois Dagenais, Joseph Giroux, Jr., Maxime Boucher, Paul Lemay, Sr., C. F. Lalonde, Pierre Surprenant, Pierre Milette, Pierre Harnard, Henri Dubuc, Joseph Dubuc, Jr., E. W. Gnaedinger, M. J. McAndrew, Hugh Allan, Delahanty Michael, David Scott, Thomas Waddell, Henry Cross, Alfred Nathan, James Ross, and Arthur M. Featherston. Among the names on the list of jurors is that of Christopher Greaves, innkeeper. He was the late proprietor of "The Liver" pool, and created considerable excitement by his sensational death a few weeks ago.

Hon. Justice Wurtelle read the following address to the Grand Jury, first in English and then in French. The reading occupied forty-five minutes:

"I regret to see by the docket, or the list of the cases which will be brought before the court at the present term, not only that the number of cases is unusually large, but that there are many cases of the gravest character. Montreal is growing rapidly, and with the increase of its permanent and transient inhabitants there must be necessarily an increase in the number of crimes committed. When we consider, however, the number of cases usually brought before our courts, and the absence for many years of capital cases, the population of our city and of the rural parts of our district may well be characterized as a peaceable and generally law-abiding one; but within the last few months an epidemic of crime seems to have struck us, and we find on the docket charges for such grave crimes as murder, indecent assault, arson, forgery, perjury and conspiracy and an unusually large number of the minor charges ordinarily brought before the court, such as theft, stealing from the person and receiving stolen goods."

"While I am glad to acknowledge the utility of the public press, and I desire that its liberty of expression should only be restrained when the writings published degenerate into libel and license, I cannot help regretting the sensational nature of many of the articles published in some of our newspapers in reporting the proceedings before our criminal courts. These articles, with their sensational headings, tend not only to influence morbid and unbalanced persons and to conduct them under the effect of the emotional feeling and glamour produced to the commission of crime, but also to unconsciously affect and even bias the minds of citizens who may be called to act as jurors. Articles of this kind, like direct novels, are hurtful to young people and often inspire pernicious ideas which take them from the straight path. The publishers of such newspapers are, however, within their legal rights while publishing these articles; and if I make these remarks it is not because any are in any way subject to judicial blame, but in the hope that when the objectionableness of this style of publication is directly brought to their notice they may be induced to adopt a quieter mode of writing and of heading their articles. The publication of reports of the proceedings in our criminal courts is a necessary and useful thing, but it seems to me that if our newspapers generally would adopt the style of the reports published in the leading newspapers in England they would be more suitable and of greater advantage to the public."

The judge also explained the organization of a court of criminal jurisdiction, and the method of procedure. After defining various crimes, such as homicide, arson, forgery, perjury, etc., the judge concluded:

"Whenever the evidence laid before you on a bill for any of these crimes shows the existence of its essentials, brings the crime home to the accused, or makes it reasonably probable that he committed it, you should find a true bill, but if any of the essentials are wanting, then you should reject the bill."

"The minor offences, which I mentioned—thief, stealing from the person and receiving stolen goods—hardly require an explanation. If, however, you should desire any information about any matter connected with a charge of this nature, or any further explanation with respect to a charge for any of the crimes which I have defined, you may apply at any suitable time to me or to whoever may be the presiding judge, and such information as you want will be at once given to you."

"The safety of our streets is of the first importance to all, and in connection with the subject I may mention two things, small in themselves, which detract from the safety of foot passengers, bicycles and orange and banana peels thrown on the street. As the City Council has the power under pain of fine or imprisonment to regulate the usage of bicycles, and to forbid the throwing of orange and banana peels on the street, you may perhaps think it well to draw your attention to these matters."

"You will now retire to your room and proceed with your work."

On the conclusion of His Honor's charge to the Grand Jury the Petit Jury was sworn in. The clerk of the court, L. W. Sciotte, called the list of prisoners awaiting trial. There were five defaulters. "Professor" Stevenson and Edmund Cusack, charged with theft of the person of one named Walker in the "Felix House" last winter. They were tried in the March term last year, but the jury disagreed and the case was put off until the September term, both prisoners being allowed out on bail. On being called this morning they did not respond, and consequently forfeited their bail, and Bench warrants were issued for their re-arrest. They are each bonded in $1,200 personal bail and $1,200 outside security.

Thomas Henri, Philip Ross and "Doctor" John P. Phelps, charged with conspiracy, also defaulted, and the court ordered that they forfeit their bonds and Bench warrants were issued for their arrest. They are each bonded in $400 personal bail and $200 outside security.

In the absence of Donald Macmaster, Q.C., a motion was made by P. S. McLennan on behalf of the Grand Trunk Railway conductors charged with conspiracy. The jury disagreed on this case in the March term of this year and owing to a great press of business it could not be taken up in the June term. Mr. McLennan requested that the case be taken up with during the present term. The Crown prosecutor, M. J. P. Quinn, stated that the case was being arranged, and would be taken up as soon as possible.

The names of the conductors whose crime was the knocking down of railway fares, are Tamblin, Mulligan, Deries, Stone and a porter named Pomerville. Mr. McLennan also made a motion that the Government be ordered to pay the costs of the preliminary enquiry and hearing before the Grand Jury in the St. Louis case, as the Grand Jury after hearing the evidence decided that there was no case against the conductors. Mr. Quinn, asked that Mr. McLennan give notice of the motion to the Minister of Justice, and make his motion in writing on Saturday before the court.

The Court of Queen's Bench resumed its sitting at 4:10 yesterday afternoon. The grand jury brought in the following true bills:

William Lalonde, two counts, forgery. Joseph Larocque, indecent assault. Patrick Flanagan, theft. Charles Jenkins, arson. John Hayes, arson. Frederick John Clarke, arson. Joseph Champlain, indecent assault. James Sheridan, stealing from the person. Frank Labelle and Alice Beach, stealing from the person. J. Ernest Brault and Joseph H. Lachance, conspiracy. Azarie Gauthier, murder. Charles Jenkins, on being arraigned first pleaded guilty of "accessory before the fact." On the judge's warning, however, "The plea you have entered is equal to guilty," he then replied: "Then, I plead not guilty."

The indictment against John Hayes for arson, read as follows: "John Hayes, on the twenty-sixth day of May, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, at the city of Montreal, in the District of Montreal, unlawfully, wilfully, without color of right, and with intent to do damage, did set fire to a certain building and structure, to wit, to a warehouse there situated, belonging to the Sisters of 'The Hotel Dieu.'"

"L. W. SCOTTE, 'Clerk of the Court.' Hayes' case has been fixed for Monday next. Frederick John Clarke, who previously pleaded guilty before Judge Wurtelle, yesterday changed his plea to not guilty."

The arraignment of Azarie Gauthier, charged for murder, against whom a true bill was brought in by the grand jury, was postponed until this morning at the request of prisoner's counsel, E. N. St. Jean, Q.C. Mr. St. Jean will make an application to grant a medical examination by experts into the sanity of Gauthier, the murderer.

The indictment against Gauthier is read as follows: "Azarie Gauthier murdered Celina Consigny, at the city of Montreal, in the District of Montreal, on the thirtieth day of July, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five."

"L. W. SCOTTE, 'Clerk of the Court.' On these few lines hangs the fate of a human being. The indictment is signed by twenty witnesses. The ensuing episode will easily explain where the possibility for ground on which to frame an insanity plea rests."

Before the court continued its sitting yesterday afternoon E. N. St. Jean, Q.C., attempted to engage the attention of the court at the door of the prisoner's dock. Anxious eyes looked for some sign that the murderer's appearance, which had attracted so much attention, had been considerably changed in appearance owing to a jet black beard of average thickness which certainly makes him look like a bear. Otherwise he is very quiet, but for a peculiar gleam in his eye might be considered an absolutely normal being. Mr. St. Jean, however, could not make any sense whatever out of his conversation with the accused, beyond some indistinct phraseology which he interprets to mean in substance that Gauthier will answer for the best."

In the case of the Queen vs. Orpen and forty-two others, accused of being the proprietors and frequenters of the Casino Commission Room, raided by the police in June last, R. D. McGibbon, Q.C., has stated that the case had been suspended until the first September on condition that the place was closed and no further attempt made to violate the law in regard to these institutions. That promise, Mr. McGibbon stated, had been faithfully kept, and they had the assurance of the police authorities and of the Secret Service Agency that there was no turf commission or pool establishment in the city of Montreal at the present time.

Under these circumstances, and in view of the recent amendments to the Criminal Law by the Dominion Parliament, which render the further operation of these institutions absolutely illegal beyond all question, he is authorized to discontinue the prosecution which he had conducted on behalf of the Attorney-General.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

New York, Sept. 3.—The British yacht Valkyrie III, hoisted sail this morning, and passed out at Sandy Hook at 9:15 a.m.

Berne, Sept. 3.—The report of the arrest of William R. Foster, the New York embezzler, at Zurich, is without foundation. Hotels and other places in Zurich where it was thought he might be hiding were searched, but no trace of him was found. It is now thought that Foster has not been in Zurich at all.

Liverpool, Sept. 3.—The White Star steamer Majestic, which sails for New York to-morrow, will have among her passengers: Henry M. Stanley, M.P., the African explorer; Charles H. Sherrill, Jr., of New York, chairman of the Yale Committee on track athletics; Thomas F. Bayard, Jr., and Mrs. Pierpont Morgan and daughter.

Buffalo, Sept. 3.—On the down trip of the C. & B. line steamer State of Ohio last night a modest appearing young man walked the deck moodily, then taking out a string of prayer-beads, began to tell them, and when his devotions were concluded, he threw over the rail. The vessel was stopped, but nothing was seen again of the body. He was unknown and had no baggage by which he could be identified.

Havana, Sept. 3.—Agents of the Canal Company have engaged 500 laborers on the Island of Jamaica. A steamer has been especially chartered to bring the laborers here. The wages paid are $1 a day in currency. Senior Vantard, director general of the canal, has gone to Paris.

Storm Lake, Iowa, Sept. 3.—Great excitement prevails over the closing of the Buena Vista State Bank. Depositors are largely people with earnings of years entrusted to the bank. A big crowd fills the streets. It would only need a spark to lead to deeds of violence, the business methods of the Lomon family, who ran the institution, having caused great indignation.

Don't forget to go to the Jacques Cartier County Fair at Bel-Air Grounds, Dorval, Sept. 10th.

London, Sept. 3.—Count von Althoff-Westenburg has been arrested here on an extradition warrant charging him with the abduction of Lisetti-Schweishofer from Frankfurt.

London, Sept. 3.—When the Trades Union Congress resumed its sittings today, its president, John Jenkins, delivered his formal address, at the conclusion of which the American delegates, Samuel Gompers and P. J. Maguire, were conducted to the platform. Their appearance was greeted with much applause.

No. 1—Testimonial of Col. Hughes, Chief of Police of the City of Montreal: I can recommend Polynice Oil for persons suffering from rheumatism. I have personally experienced the efficiency of this oil for which I cannot find too much praise. (Signed) HUGHES, Col.

Cardiff, Wales, Sept. 3.—The Committee of the Labor Congress, during its session last week, spent considerable time in excluding the names of those who no longer follow the trades they are alleged to represent, and generally preparing to weaken the Socialist representation. The decisions arrived at by the committee exclude Mr. Kier Hardie, who could not be present any way, as he is in America; Tom Mann, Sam Woods, Ben Elliott, Fenwick and Broadhurst. Under another committee resolution the value of the delegates' votes became proportionate to the number of men they represent. Numerically strong and wealthy unions, like the boilermakers', which recently declined to take part in the congress on the ground that their vote was placed on the same footing as that of the weakest union, have decided to send delegates to take part in the proceedings. Those delegates, like those of all the great unions, will be pledged to oppose collectivism.

Mr. Mawley, an old Unionist member of the committee, in an interview defended the committee's action, on the ground that the congress was, through the Socialists, losing whatever power and influence it ever had. The committee, he said, had determined to pull it back into the old paths.

LABOR'S CONGRESS.

Programme Mapped Out for British Workmen.

Cardiff, Wales, Sept. 3.—The Committee of the Labor Congress, during its session last week, spent considerable time in excluding the names of those who no longer follow the trades they are alleged to represent, and generally preparing to weaken the Socialist representation. The decisions arrived at by the committee exclude Mr. Kier Hardie, who could not be present any way, as he is in America; Tom Mann, Sam Woods, Ben Elliott, Fenwick and Broadhurst. Mr. Mawley, an old Unionist member of the committee, in an interview defended the committee's action, on the ground that the congress was, through the Socialists, losing whatever power and influence it ever had. The committee, he said, had determined to pull it back into the old paths.

The programme of the congress includes the questions of a general eight hour working day, employers' liability, the House of Lords, the law of conspiracy, a poor law amendment, factory legislation, the unemployed, the payment of members of the House of Commons and alien immigration.

Canada's Copyright.

The Deputy Minister of Justice and His Mission.

London, Sept. 3.—Mr. Edmund L. Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice for Canada, who came to England recently to present the Canadian case in favor of the issuance of a Royal proclamation to give effect to the Copyright Act, was interviewed to-day by the Associated Press representative regarding the results of his mission. Mr. Newcombe said: "I have met with much opposition on the part of the English authors and publishers. At present I cannot state what arrangement has been made with the Government, as to do so would embarrass them, and, moreover, I am under instructions to report to the Canadian Government before making public any thing regarding these negotiations. You may, however, say that I have the greatest confidence that the matter will be adjusted in the manner Canada desires."

Mr. Newcombe spoke of the cordial manner in which he had been entertained by the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies. Mr. Newcombe will sail for home by the steamship Labrador on Saturday.

THE NEW LAVAL

Opened to the Students of Law—

Formal Opening Lecture.

The new Laval University building was opened yesterday for the reception of the students of the Faculty of Law. The formal opening will take place later. This morning there were no addresses or speeches; the professors merely began their lectures. Judge Jette, dean of the Faculty, as is customary, welcomed the students, and remarked that he was happy to see them at last in a magnificent building. For this they owed thanks to the Sulpicians, and the best way to show their gratitude would be to apply themselves to their studies, thereby "proving to the governors of Laval their appreciation of the favor shown them."

Judge Mathieu delivered a lecture on civil procedure afterwards. The medical students will attend lectures on September 10th, but the formal opening will not take place before October.

No Mass on Labor Day.

Under the heading "Regrettable Precedent," the Mirror asks why the Catholic laboring men did not commence the celebration of Labor Day by solemnly welcoming the workers. It is merely forgetfulness, but is afraid that it indicates the deplorable work which certain unhealthy ideas have wrought in the world of labor. The workman is flattered, cajoled, and excited, but which one of these pretended defenders of their work speaks of the duty of the worker towards the church? Alas, it is to be feared that the instruction which certain papers and certain leaders give to the workmen lead very soon to a terrible awakening. It is yet time to give warning of the evil. Let us not wait until it is too late, and let us hope that the error of yesterday will not create a precedent.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The Ottawa Trouble Still Unsettled.

(Special to the Herald.)

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—The separate schools were all opened to-day, but the trouble over the Christian Brothers being employed as teachers is not yet over. The only concession that has been made to those who have been fighting against the employment of the Christian Brothers as teachers is that Garneau School in St. George's Ward will be conducted by the Sisters instead of by the Brothers. The other three schools in which the Brothers taught will again be conducted by them. It is therefore likely that a mandamus will be issued by Trustee Moffatt against their being permitted to teach in consequence of the nature of the report of the Ontario Commission.

Ross, 20 Chaboullier Square.

J. Maguire, were conducted to the platform. Their appearance was greeted with much applause.
