City Planning To Sell Land To School Board

Plans for a new and adequate senior high school in Westmount have taken another step forward, though the project is yet far from completion, it is announced by The School Commissioners of the Municipality of The City of Westmount. The Commissioners report that after an exhaustive study of numerous sites, they had, with the concurrence of the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal, applied to the City of Westmount for an option to purchase part of the Westmount Athletic Grounds on St. Catherine street as a school site.

At present the senior high school is located on Cote St. Antoine Road in what was formerly Argyle School, a building erected 22 years ago and designed as an elementary school. Classroom and athletic facilities are considered far from suitable for the community's senior student needs.

Erection of a new high school cannot be started immediately even if the city council approves the granting of an option on the land, the School Commissioners say. Final approval of the project also must be given by the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal and later by the Provincial Department of Education at Quebec. The sale of some of the Commission's existing property which may have substantial real estate value is being considered as a means of helping to finance any new building that may be authorized.

When a new high school building is put up, it will be specifically designed to meet the senior high school requirements, and the availability of the present Westmount Athletic Grounds will provide adequate sports facilities, including football field and a cinder track.

Shortage of unoccupied property and high real estate value in Westmount have made the proposed location the only possible site where all the facilities desired in a modern high school can be obtained. Details of the project are being made available to the Westmount Municipal Association, the various Home and School Associations, and other interested public groups in the city.

Rink Site Switched To Western Avenue

Westmount Council has concluded that Western avenue and Lansdowne is the best of five suggested sites for the proposed artificial ice rink — mention of which as a permanent fixture in Westmount Park recently brought down a storm of protest on the city fathers.

In a statement going forward to the citizens this week over the signature of Mayor A. Sydney Bruneau, the five sites considered were:

Southeast corner of Westmount Park; north side of Western between Melville and the westerly limits of the park; south side of Western between Melville and Academy Road; Westmount Athletic Grounds and the area bounded by Western, Lansdowne and St. Catherine.

The latter site is the one selected.

Sites one and two, above, were discarded, the statement says, because erection of a rink on them would spoil the panoramic view of the park. Site three, it was felt, was more important to the citizens as a playing field and to the pupils of Westmount Junior High as a recreation grounds.

Site four was discarded due to the possibility that the Athletic Grounds are under option to purchase by the School Commission.

The site selected, the statement concludes, is sufficiently large to accommodate such a rink, and though due to soil conditions construction will be more costly, the work will be able to proceed without interference. Tennis courts will be provided on the south side of the property and trees will be conserved.

Five Week Course Graduates Eight In Water Prowess

Learn-to-Swim Classes at the "Y" finished last week when some 150 youngsters concluded a five week course of ten lessons in the aquatic art. This was the second swim course the Y.M.C.A. offered this year to youngsters age 6 to 12.

The following youngsters passed the beginners swim test which requires jumping into deep water, swimming 25 feet and returning to the start: Graeme Robert Stokes, Len Morgan, Ron Ross Turley, Daniel Latour, Tommy Finlayson, Peter Davidson, Barry Keefe and Wendy Schlemm.

Local Youth Drowns Near Ste. Dorothee

Funeral service was held this morning from the DesLauriers Funeral Home, with mass in the Church of Ascension, Westmount, for eleven year old Robin Scott, 20 Somerville avenue, who drowned Sunday while swimming at St. Dorothee.

Interment is in Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

While swimming with his 18 year old brother Brian, Robin went farther out into the river Brian called to him to come back before he heard him cry out for help.

Said Brian "I saw him disappear under the water, but as I went to his aid, he did not come to the surface again. Had he resurfaced, I could have saved him, but I did not even see any bubbles. He must have become tired, and tried to rest his feet on the bottom when he realised he was out of his depth. He must have died from shock."

Brian had only just started to take life-saving instruction, and said that he could have saved Robin had he resurfaced.

Next Week's Weather

By ERIC NEAL

June 29 to July 6

Mainly sunny and very warm, with morning mists or dews and high humidity. Widely scattered thunderstorms. The hot spell could last into the middle of the week, to be followed by thunderstorms, then gales of cool, dry winds. Warming again and bright to end the week, with relatively cool nights.

R. L. Hunter Heads PCs In Westmount

R. L. Hunter was named president of the St. Antoine-Westmount Progressive Conservative Association Wednesday night, at a well-attended meeting at Westmount Junior High School.

Man Is Injured In 3-Way Crash

A three-car collision occurred on the weekend at the corner of Melville and Western Avenues in Westmount.

Police reported, one car, travelling south on Melville, went through a stop sign, hit a second car going west on Western which veered into third car coming east.

Only the driver of the second car, James Piche, 28, 629 49th avenue, Lachine, was injured. He was taken to the Montreal General Hospital and released later.

Retiring President Moxley Relinquishes Rotary Reins

At the weekly meeting of Westmount Rotary Wednesday William Moxley turned over the chair to incoming president William Tawse.

Rotary members were relaxing after their strenuous efforts during the carnival week which Dave Campbell carnival chairman, said was highly successful.

"Although I have been a Rotarian for the last sixteen years," said Mr. Moxley in his valedictory, "my year as president has given me a new conception of Rotary and it has been a very rewarding experience, one I shall cherish all my life".

Mr. Moxley outlined the progress of the club during his year of office. Membership now stands at 77, and during the year the club had a varied program of activities including a seaway inspection tour, Ladies Night and a Family Day, to mention but a few.

In the international service field chairman Bud Staples and his committee were very active and are now assisting underprivileged children in India.

Past president Jim Lawson and his committee have been active supervising the activities in the Unity Boys Club.

Last year the tag day for crippled children reached a new high under the supervision of

Led by Peter Kerrigan and Egan Chambers, a group urged the association to plan for an early convention to select a candidate in the riding for the next Federal balloting.

Ross Webster, defeated June 10 by Hon. George Marler, was given a rousing welcome at the meeting.

Other officers of the association are: vice-presidents, Mrs. Theodore Meighan, E. D. Gordon, Pierre Sevigny; treasurer D. Ramsay and secretary Jean Aird.

Jack MacBeath and in the Evening home and clubs a great deal was accomplished to make life a little easier for lonely and in many cases forgotten people. Credit for this goes to Don Ross and his helpers.

Mr. Moxley pointed out that the safety committee carried out a fine program in safe driving under the chairmanship of Dent Harrison. The club's youth service committee under Ron MacKay assisted the Girl Guide Camp at Morin Heights, ran a special public speaking course, organized a choir at the St. Vincent de Paul training center, provided films for the Montreal's Children's Hospital and equipment for Boy Scouts at Shawbridge Boy's Farm.

Mr. Moxley was presented with a mantel clock and past-presidents badge.

New officers are president W. J. Tawse, vice-president P. Page, hon. sec'y. H. Houston and treasurer, S. Cayford.

WHY DOESN'T THE WESTMOUNT CITY COUNCIL . . . commission someone to compile a brief history of the community for publication in the city's annual report? (The annual report is one of the best publications of its kind, but lacks the afore mentioned item) . . . have the mechanism of the floral clock adjusted, so that it keeps correct time? (This would only require the replacement of one gear, at a comparatively nominative cost.) . . . prohibit property owners from converting their front lawns into asphalt car-parks — such as those on Windsor Avenue near Prince Albert? (This may be convenient, but it detracts considerably from the "look" of a residential street.) . . . draft a formal request to Prime Minister Diefenbaker to have the City of Westmount created into a separate federal riding? (a city with the population, prestige, and influence, such as Westmount, should have its own representative in the House of Commons.)

FASCINATING FACTS . . . on page 1059 of The Columbia-Viking Desk Encyclopedia is found the following item - "Westmount, city (pop. 25,222), S Que., Canada, on Montreal Isl., W residential suburb of Montreal" . . . according to the City of Westmount annual report the population is now 29,077 (1956) . . . Encyclopedia Britannica World Atlas (lists) our community is the only one in the world by the name of "Westmount," but there are three American towns by the name of "Westmont" (no "u"); one is in New Jersey, and the other two are in Pennsylvania . . . Albert Smithers manager of Smithers Shoe Store (on St. Catherine near Greene) tells me his dad, John Smithers, first opened business in Westmount on January 10th, 1890, on Greene avenue . . . Eric Aho, greenhouse foreman at the Westmount Conservatory says that as far as he knows there are only two other floral clocks in Canada besides Westmount's; they are located in Niagara Falls, Ont. and Victoria, B.C.

STUNNING STATISTICS . . . Ruth Taylor at the Westmount Recreation office in the WAG building tells me that more than 1700, passes have been issued to Westmounters for use of the tennis courts putting greens, and other recreational facilities in our suburb . . . Deputy Police Chief Edmonstone has 1 inspector, 1 captain, 4 lieutenants, 6 sergeants, 4 detectives and 26 constables on his police force . . . Nelson LeBlanc at the Westmount Light Department states that there are over 8,000 electric watt-hour meters installed in the city . . . Westmount is served by 172 licensed taxis ac-

Thank You, Westmount

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the residents of Westmount who voted for me in the recent elections.

A study of the polls reveals the heartening fact that a majority of the voters in the City of Westmount gave me their support.

I wish, also, to thank all those who worked so whole-heartedly for me both before the elections and during polling day.

WE SAY

No Way to Learn Of City Business

THE Examiner learns, not by being able to report it in the proper way from the source — City Council — but from a citizen "in the know."

And what does it learn? That the City fathers are contemplating offering the St. Catherine street athletic grounds, the old MAAA, for sale — option to the school board for possible site of a new high school.

Since this information leaked out, the City and the school board yesterday sent out "releases" on the matter. (See page 1.)

The deal, it is true, is a long way off. It may, possibly, never come off.

But the fact that it has been discussed in City hall without the citizens, the taxpayers, the parents whose children use the grounds and the grown-ups who use it, knowing anything about it — this is what rankles those who care about civic affairs.

We won't argue here the merits of such a contemplated turning of any of this recreation area to other uses. Perhaps this will stir up local ire as did the Melville - Sherbrooke site for the proposed indoor rink. Perhaps nobody will mind.

The point is that there are arguments both ways on the athletic grounds idea. The plan should have been outlined openly by its originators, not kept secret as if it was none of the people's business.

Westmount Municipal Association is doing less than its best in these matters. Standing as it does between Council and citizens, it should not tolerate secrecy in City Hall. Still more, it should be a watchdog to find out what is going on.

Least of all should the municipal association be a curtain behind which the affairs of the City can be hidden. There are citizens who feel that is just what is happening; still worse, that the association and not the citizens are the real controllers of Council, its composition and its actions.

The association could be a profound force in civic affairs if, at the same time it kept watch on Council, it were to keep an ear on public feelings, both within and outside its membership.

Two weeks ago The Examiner had the experience of being asked to run a news letter explaining the association's stand in favor of the Melville-Sherbrooke rink site — which we did, while two days previous the executive of the association had met quietly (without publicity) and reversed or at least modified that stand. Last week when we learned of that meeting, officers of the association were reticent about volunteering information. What kind of a municipal association is this?

Many may not care what goes on in their own City. But many do. They want to know what is done in their name.

Open City Council meetings, with public business debated publicly, is the only true way to achieve an informed citizenry.

Maybe This Settles Indoor Rink Site

MAYOR A. Sydney Bruneau has sent out a welcome circular to the citizens of Westmount.

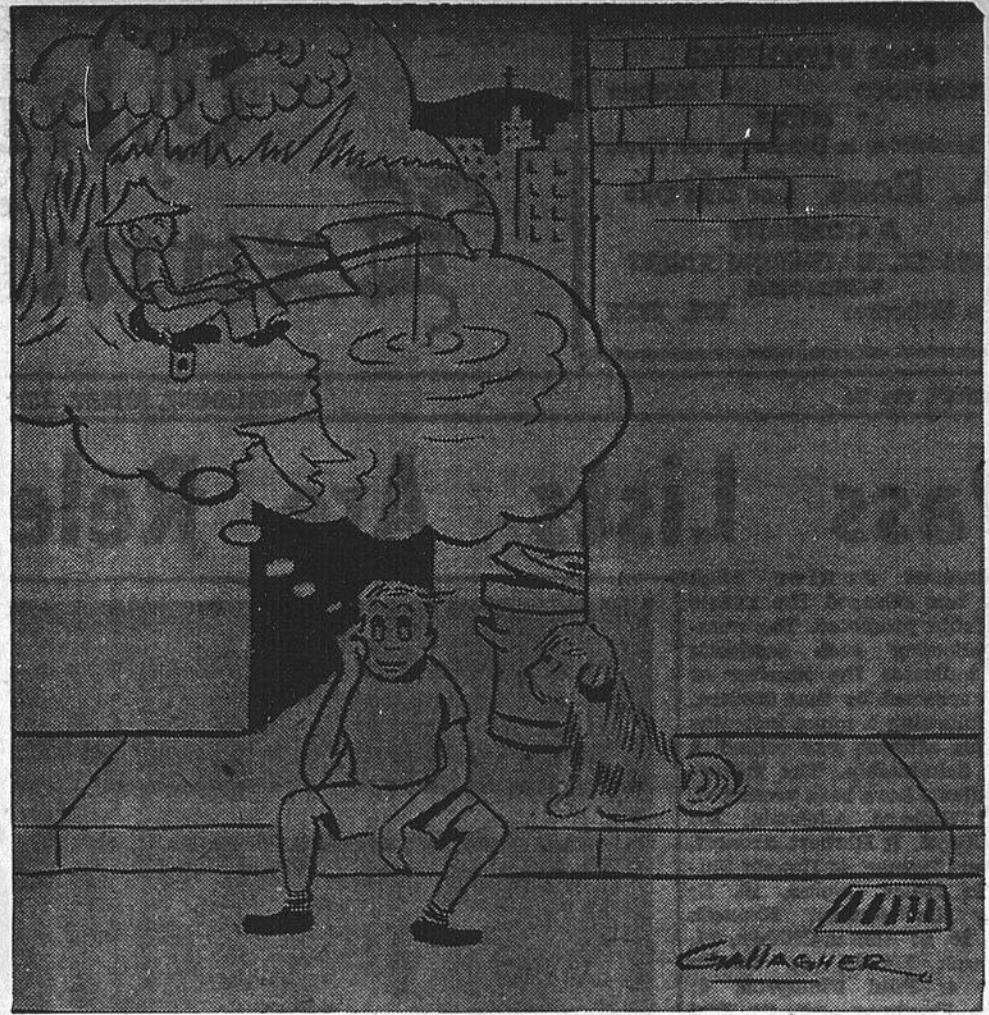

It says that Council now concludes the Western avenue-Lansdowne avenue - St. Catherine street site is the most suitable for the proposed indoor skating rink.

Everyone now has had a chance to express their views. Mayor Bruneau's letter runs to a logical conclusion.

The site is an existing sports area; the building will not be an eyesore there; traffic will not be a major problem because the rink is for skaters, not spectators.

Only snag is that it is going to cost more due to soil conditions: this is an old garbage dump so foundations are going to be trickier here — perhaps $60,000 trickier, The Examiner is told.

Let us hope this settles the matter. Everyone is tired of the argument. On with building the rink!

High-calibre Police Forces Needed And Worth Price, Says Magistrate

•This special article is written by Bernard Rose, Magistrate of the City of Westmount and a long-time resident of Notre Dame de Grace, whose frequent letters-to-the-editor are familiar to readers of this newspaper.

By BERNARD ROSE

Complaint is made, not only by the major but smaller municipalities, that they cannot induce capable and qualified young men to join the police force.

In the old days we were accustomed to regard the best candidate for the force as one who was physically well built and able to manage the law breaker by the exercise of his superior strength.

Conditions have changed very police service must fulfill not only physical requirements and measurements, but possess a fair education. Before commencing his duties, he is given a preliminary training in the elementary duties of a constable. He must have a fair knowledge of the local bylaws as well as those in the several codes. Being permitted to carry a revolver, he must learn to become a fair shot.

His duties are quite numerous. He possesses considerable authority which he must exercise with good judgment and courtesy. What is most important is that he should inspire the citizen's respect and make law breakers fear him.

We look to the policeman for protection in all that affects our materially within the past three decades. The candidate for person, liberty and property. He is a guardian of the peace in whom the citizen reposes a great deal of confidence.

HIGHEST TYPE

In view of his many duties and authority we must endeavor to attract to the police service the highest type of youth, who will take pride in their work and be given the consideration to which they are entitled as members of the protective force of the city, province or nation.

A highly qualified police force, the members of which, because of their courage and resourcefulness can be more than a match for the criminal, is society's first line of defence against the social outlaws who

Lenten Committee Sends Us Thanks

Sir: We wish to express our thanks and appreciation for the co-operation and support we received from you in the matter of publicity and advertising on behalf of our special services for Lent. Ten of our United churches in the Western division of our City sponsored these special services, and we are happy to report to you that they were very successful.

Please convey to the staff of The Monitor and The Examiner this expression of our appreciation.

Tommy Baker Answers Letter By Mr. Scott

Sir: In reading your comment on or condemnation of newspaper reporters not being allowed to sit in on Council meetings in Westmount I feel that after all reporters only want the truth.

Are you sure any citizen or groups of citizens can obtain an interview with the mayor or Council by request?

As I have stated before, there are some very wise and good living people in Westmount's Big Business; why should the presence of a reporter hamper the discussions of Westmount Council? All a reporter would do is take notes, so that the citizens of Westmount would feel they were part of a fine community thereby watching with interest the good work of their mayor and Council as stewards.

Mr. Writer, are you sure the Westmount Municipal Association have studied the rink problem over a period of years? Does it take so long, and such a waste of time and labor? After all, there are still 24 hours in a day. What ever is so big about building a rink? I still remember at this moment quite a number of young men who have gone far in the engineering fields (and may add these boys were Westmount boys who came to me after World War II and asked me if I would teach their boys sports. These boys have children of their own, and some of them came back and are again living in our fair city and bringing up lovely families.)

Please do not say that our mayor and Council are working for free or without reward.

I am sure that the mayor and Council must feel grateful to the officials and directors of the Westmount Examiner for continuing these articles for they, like myself, know that their reward will also be great.

Therefore, I say again that I know the mayor and Council will welcome a reporter into the Council. For the reporter will. I am sure, keep our good citizens up to date on the good work our mayor and Council are doing for us. A reporter is also trained in the way of a gentleman and a good ambassador.

As for Mr. Scott's letter; in part he says the new owners and publishers of our fine little paper The Examiner are not familiar with the affairs of the citizens of Westmount, the mayor and the Council, and what they are really trying to do? If you know all these things, you are a very clever man, Mr. Scott, and you really must know what a reporter's headlines, also a scoop, really means to a publisher. As for me, I only know what truth is.

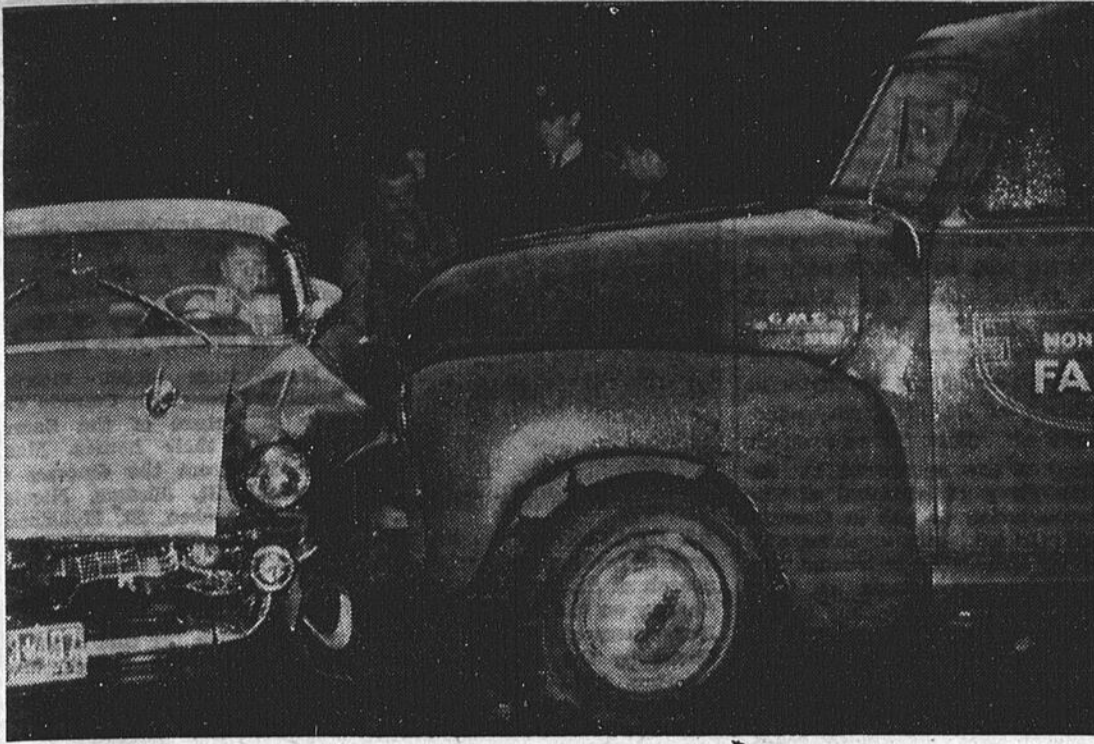

Next week, "Why the rink should be built on Sherbrooke street and Melville avenue or nearby."

Your Family PET CORNER

Now that Summer is officially here, a large number of people will be going away on holidays. Do not forget your pet, whether it be a cat, dog or canary.

Many people forget all about their pets during the holidays and leave them to fend for themselves. This is a cruel and thoughtless thing to do. There is nothing sadder than a dog wandering the streets looking for its master. It is easier today than ever to take your pet along on vacation. Hotels and lodges all over the country are prepared to look after them.

Mrs. Cavanagh writes to enquire if it is alright to feed her dog candies and ice cream. Sweeties are not a good thing for a dog for the very same reason that doctors forbid some people to take them. They will make your pet overweight and are also bad for its teeth. The same thing applies to heavy starchy foods. You should try to keep your pet trim and active with good wholesome food.

Johnny Green wants to know if he should take a collie pup as a pet. He states that they have a spacious garden, and that his parents are very fond of animals.

Well Johnny, of the many varieties of sheep dog, the Collie is the most prized, besides his special ability to handle sheep he can develop great skill in many other fields. He can be taught to retrieve and point, he is an excellent deer stalker and is competent at police and ambulance duties as proven by his record in the army during the last war.

The temperament of the Collie today is relatively unchanged. The breed is one of the oldest known and he is usually aloof and timid with strangers. He doesn't make friends easily and is a one family dog. They love children and you have no doubt read of their heroism in saving children from automobiles, fire, and drowning.

The Collie appears in two coats: The rough coat which is the most familiar is long and beautiful and requires constant brushing. The smooth Collie is very rare here in Canada but are very popular in Europe.

There are many Collie-type dogs which are probably only size variances of original Collie stock. The Shetland sheepdog is in reality only a miniature of the show-type Collie.

OBSTACLE

One of the problems of the blind person who relies only upon a cane for getting around town, is the obstacle left on the sidewalk by thoughtless people or youngsters. Teachers and parents might remind children that leaving bicycles, wagons or large toys on the sidewalk may cause a painful fall to the sightless pedestrian. The motorist who allows his car door to swing open over the sidewalk may also cause the blind person to be hurt.

Roads

By
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

Last week I had occasion to drive the 90 miles from Cap à l'Aigle to Quebec with a very good driver over the nice, straight roads that Mr. Duplessis is providing in the country parts of the province.

On the way I could not help thinking back to the first settlers who had no road but the St. Lawrence, when the settlements were isolated from one another for a large part of the year. It was difficult in those days for Jean Henri to go courting Jeanne Marie. However, Jean Henri was a resourceful youth and Jeanne Marie was very pretty. And, after all, the cattle had made cow-paths, and there were tracks through the woods, and the wedding eventually took place.

The settlements grew and so did the roads, and when Jean Henri's son went courting in his turn there was road enough to take a cart, but the course of the road was the old cow-path. When Jean Henri's grandchildren came back to visit their grandparents they came in a nice caleche, for the roads were better, but just as crooked as ever.

Presently the English came in and Private George became a settler on the north shore, and when he saw Jeanne Marie's great grand-daughter at a dance he decided that she was going to be his wife, and she, for some strange reason, felt the same way. So there was a good deal of coming and going by the same crooked road before the wedding took place. But, curiously enough, though the road was crooked and bad, there were no accidents except an occasional broken heart.

When George's grandchildren, Georges and Angelique and all their brothers and sisters, came to bury grandmother they came in heavier and better carriages

Drive-In Service Will Be Conducted By Rev. Hostetter

The fifth open-air Drive-in Church Service for this season at the Dorval Gardens Shopping Centre will be held Sunday at 8 o'clock, when the Rev. B. David Hostetter, M.A., will conduct the service. Mr. Hostetter is minister of the Presbyterian Church of St. Columba-by-the-Lake at Valois. These open-air services are sponsored by the Presbytery of Montreal of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, and are held rain or shine. The public is heartily welcomed, and persons may remain in their cars while participating in the service of worship.

"quatre trous" they called them, and still over the same crooked, dusty or muddy roads. So it continued as long as we lived in the horse-and-buggy era. The roads were not good; they had never escaped from the cow-path, but they had been lined with trees and they were lovely places for the new generation of Jean Henri to meet the new Jeanne Maries.

Then someone discovered that petroleum could be refined to gasoline; that gasoline could be exploded inside a cylinder to drive a piston, and the world was away to the races. It was the end not only of the horse and buggy but of the old cow-path. We have departed from the settler days to return to the old Roman days of the road which is the shortest line between two given points.

Even that has come by stages. First we paved the old cow-path after removing some of its crooks; then we made by-passes, now we are almost abandoning the old roads to make straight lines. They are efficient; one can go from A to B with the least loss of time, but with some regret for the loss of the cow, who with her natural skill followed the natural contours of the country. Yes, there is some loss, but there is one redeeming fact, that even the straightest road has not reduced the romance. The primary purpose of the road is that Jean Henri of the present generation may go courting Jeanne Marie.

AT ORATORY: Rev. Fr. Albert Sylvain, ss.cc., who will preach at St. Joseph's Oratory Sunday on the occasion of the Enthronement of the Sacred Heart in the families. Many pilgrims from the dioceses of Montreal, St. Jerome, Nicolet, Ottawa, Quebec, St. Hyacinthe, St. Johns, Sherbrooke, Three Rivers, etc., will come to St. Joseph's Oratory on the above mentioned date.

50th Anniversary Service Planned At The Oratory

The 50th anniversary of the Enthronement of the Sacred Heart in the families will be celebrated by a pilgrimage to St. Joseph's Oratory of Mount Royal on Sunday June 30.

More than 30,000 member families throughout Canada display a picture of the Sacred Heart in their homes. Many members from the dioceses of Montreal, St. Jérôme, Nicolet, Ottawa, Quebec, St. Hyacinthe, St. Johns, Sherbrooke, Three Rivers, etc., will be at St. Joseph's Oratory on the above mentioned date.

Preparation for this feast has been made by twelve Holy Hours conducted every Friday since March 29 by Rev. Emile Deguire, c.s.c., Director of the Associates of Brother André.

The enthronement of the Sacred Heart began in 1907. It was introduced officially in Canada February 11, 1938. Seven years later, Rev. Fr. Mateo Crawley, ss.cc., presided the introduction of this Association in Montreal.

The Association has met with great success. Every day during the year, from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m., between 25,000 and 40,000 faithful gather in prayer before a picture of the Sacred Heart in their homes. The hours from 9 to 10 p.m., and from 5 to 6 a.m., are exclusively reserved for children, sick and old people.

Over and above a nocturnal adoration hour once a month the families of this Association agree to recite each day the morning and evening prayers and receive Holy Communion as often as possible.

Temple Emanu-El

Sabbath Services During Summer Weeks: Under the auspices of Temple Brotherhood, services are held Friday evenings in the Temple Community House commencing at 8.15 o'clock. St. Andrew's United

Sunday morning at St. Andrew's United Church, Westmount, the minister, Dr. D. M. Grant, will conclude a series of sermons concerned with various aspects in the life and character of Jesus. The sermon is entitled, "The Fearlessness of Jesus".

The ministry of music will be under the direction of Mr. Eric Adams, organist and choir director.

Commencing with the first Sunday in July and including the first Sunday in August the congregation of St. Andrew's will worship with the congregation of Westmount Park-Emmanuel United Church. Pastoral services during these weeks will be rendered by the Rev. Callum Thompson.

Melville, Calvary Congregations Join For Summer

Combined summer Sunday services have been arranged between Melville Presbyterian Church and Calvary United Church.

Beginning Sunday, and during July, the combined services with Rev. Charles R. Plaskett conducting the Sunday service at 11 a.m.

During August and on Labor Day Sunday, the Sunday services will be held in Calvary United Church, at Dorchester and Green Avenue, with the Rev. Charles C. Cochrane in charge.

During July Rev. Mr. Plaskett will be the minister-in-charge of both congregations and during August Rev. Mr. Cochrane will perform the same function for the two congregations. Members of each congregation are urged to call the minister-in-charge for pastoral services.

Christian Science

How spiritual understanding of the inspired Word of the Bible brings hope and healing will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Christian Science" will include the following from Romans (15:4): For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Eddy Baker include the following (547:23-25, 31-32): "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained. . . . It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith."

Elder Hugh Brown Visits Montreal

Elder Hugh B. Brown, as assistant to the Council of the Twelve Apostles, governing body of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, will speak in the local Latter Day Saint Chapel, 750 St. Joseph Blvd East, on Sunday evening June 30th, at 7 p.m.

At the time of his call to become an Assistant to the Council of the Twelve Apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Elder Hugh B. Brown was president and manager of the Richland Oil Development Company of Canada, Ltd. He has also been an army officer, a practicing attorney, and a college professor in addition to filling a number of important church offices.

He practiced law in Canada and later, in the United States. During World War I, he served overseas in the Canadian army, attaining the rank of major. From 1946 to 1950, he was professor of religion and co-ordinator of veterans affairs at Brigham Young University.

Elder Brown was born in Salt Lake City, Utah on October 24, 1883, a son of Homer M. and Lydia J. Brown. In 1900 the family migrated to Canada. He served his church as a missionary to Great Britain from 1904 to 1906. Subsequently, he has served as a bishop's counselor, a member of the Alberta Stake High Council, president of Lethbridge Stake, president of Granite Stake, president of the British Mission from 1937 to 1940 and from 1944 to 1946. During the World War II, he was co-ordinator of LDS servicemen. His appointment as an Assistant to the Council of the Twelve came in October of 1953.

He married Zina Young Card in June 1908. She is a daughter of Charles O. Card, founder of Cardston, Alberta, and Zina prey upon it. Those who live upon the proceeds of crime are economically parasitic and an ever present menace to the honest law abiding citizen. Possessed of lethal weapons they will not hesitate to use them when engaged in their nefarious activities.

Modern means of transportation facilitates the easy escape for the gangster and his accomplices. The constabulary must therefore be constantly on the alert and ready to take the risks inseparable from police duty.

The risk assumed by the police officer merits not only fair compensation and provision for his family but the co-operation of the citizen.

FBI DISTINCTIVE

To be a member of the American FBI is regarded as a distinction. It is the one protective force in the United States that the most hardened criminals fear, knowing that its members are relentless and untiring in their determination to get their man. Our provincial security force, particularly the section that deals with major crimes, has achieved a measure of success that has won for it and its chief, Director Hilaire Beauregard, a deserved measure of credit. The RCMP has also an enviable record in this respect.

The spoils today which the criminal is after, are so valuable, that he plans ahead and tries to put his ingenuity and cunning against the intelligence of the experienced detective. The latter can avail himself of the newest methods of crime detection and can at all times count upon the assistance of his counterparts on the higher police levels.

Police work should offer a splendid career to the young man who wants to serve the community and likes adventure. Those who serve should be held in the same regard as the doctor, lawyer, priest or members of the several professions.

The remuneration and other privileges should be such as to influence those who are graduates of the professions mentioned above to become not "Cops" (an epithet which is insulting and I detest) but officers of the law, sworn to serve Her Majesty in the same way as the commissioned officers of the army, navy and air force. The members of these branches of the armed services are looked up to as "officers and gentlemen." Is there any reason why a like dignity and rank should not be given the educated and qualified police officer?

MORE THAN REPAID

The extra cost involved in getting the type of police officer suggested would be more than repaid to the community. The criminal element, aware they were no match for the highly qualified police officer would decrease their activities knowing that the officer was a dead shot who would "shoot first", should he discover a law breaker in the commission of an offence. Minor offences such as violations of municipal bylaws, could be looked after by an auxiliary force made up of older men or women. What we must combat in these days of great wealth, are the more serious crimes.

Through the courtesy of Lt.

F. G. Porter of the Westmount Police Department, I obtained access to an excellent compendium on "Municipal Police Administration." It runs to over 500 pages and shows how important police work is to the community and the nation.

The author states: "The earmarks of a profession may be said to be (1) An organized body of knowledge with definite techniques of procedure; (2) A code of ethics; (3) A group of trained men; (4) An organization drawing its membership from this group, and comprising a significant part of them; (5) Definite qualifications for admission; (6) Freedom to seek employment in any state and any city where such services are required; (7) Established methods of recruit training; (8) High prestige; (9) Merit promotions, and (10) Recruitment by open competitive examinations."

He continues: "The prestige of the police has grown with progress in training and recruitment methods. Respect for law enforcement officers will no doubt increase as the departments themselves continue to become more effective."

CONCERN OF ALL

Of that, of course, there can be no doubt. An injury to, or the death of a police officer by a criminal should be the concern of not only his colleagues but the community, since he was wounded or killed in the performance of duty.

I was glad to note that the author shares the view expressed in a preceding paragraph — that: "The first relationship to be considered is that between the police department and the citizen's serves. This relationship should be of the closest possible sort; for when decisions must be made, and measures adopted which affect the lives and liberties of the people, it is well to have the protective forces in closest harmony with the group safeguarded.

Nearness of the administrative forces is the best guarantee against faulty police administration. It permits the substantial and healthy growth of sympathetic and mutual understanding of problems. It is both a guarantee against wounds and the medicine for healing them. It has been well said "that an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure."

Preventing crime is as necessary and constructive as the measures to deal in the first instance with human ills.

With a reduction in crime statistics, fewer tribunals and prisons would be required. With the most expert obtainable and available force of crime preventors in the personnel of our local and higher level protective agencies, the average citizen would not be afraid, as he is today, of being accosted and robbed by cowardly bandits in possession of weapons.

A highly qualified and efficient police force is certainly worth whatever it may cost to maintain.

Matthews - Houghton Wedding Held In Wesley United Church

The marriage of Beverley Joan, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Houghton, to Mr. Heath Bowness Matthews, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Matthews, all of Notre Dame de Grace, took place on Saturday afternoon, June 22, in Wesley United Church. Reverend Dr. Norman McMurray officiated. Mr. J. Grant was the soloist. The church was decorated with standards of white gladioli and pink peonies with palms and white candelabra.

Baby Morgan Named Deborah Ann

The christening of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cameron Morgan of Hampstead and granddaughter of Mrs. Helen Morgan, also of Hampstead, took place on Sunday June 23 in Wesley United Church the Reverend Dr. Norman A. McMurray officiating.

The baby was given the names Deborah Ann. Godparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson of Hampstead.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Morgan entertained at their home. Among the guests were Mrs. Ada Cater, of Westmount, great-grandmother of the child; and Mrs. Della McLaren of Brockville, Ont., great-grand aunt of the child; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cater of Montreal.

Grace Dart Auxiliary Forms West End Group

At a meeting held recently in the home of Mrs. S. A. MacSween, the first group to be affiliated with the Women's Auxiliary of Grace Dart Hospital, was formed. To be known as the West End Group.

Present at the meeting were: Mesdames: W. H. Outerbridge, Stewart Allen, Gordon W. Leverette, J. McLaren, R. B. Porteous, Boyd Campbell, H. H. Schurman, F. Jefferson, R. MacConnachie, J. R. Springer, S. A. MacSween and D. K. Gowans.

Officers appointed for the group were: chairman (pro tem), Mrs. S. A. MacSween and secretary-treasurer, (pro tem), Mrs. D. K. Gowans.

The first event to be a bridge, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Boyd Campbell and Mrs. S. A. MacSween. This will be held in Mrs. Campbell's garden (weather permitting) on June 27 at 2 p.m.

Plans were made for a Tea in October, at which time a speaker will inform members and friends on the important work of the hospital.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon tulle with alternating side tiers of imported hand-dipped Chantilly lace, the fitted bodice having a Sabrina neckline embroidered with sequins and pearls. Her fingertip length veil of tulle illusion was held by a tiara of matching sequins and pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white Sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. E. Chapman as matron of honor and Miss Roma Matthews and Miss Elizabeth Beveridge as bridesmaids, were dressed alike in ballerina length frocks of pink crystalet with matching bandeaux. Mrs. Chapman carried a cascade bouquet of medium pink carnations and the bridesmaids, Miss Matthews and Miss Beveridge, carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations with blue cornflowers.

Mr. E. Chapman acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. R. Bertrand and Mr. S. Stafford.

Mrs. Houghton, mother of the bride wore a two-piece gown of beige silk with matching hat trimmed with American beauty roses and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Matthews, the bridegroom's mother was in a gown of ice blue silk with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The reception was held in the Windsor Hotel, which was trimmed with pink peonies and gladioli following which Mr. and Mrs. Matthews left on a motor trip to the United States. The bride wore for travelling a blue ribbon sheath dress with matching hat and beige accessories.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mrs. Scharfe and Miss Nancy Scharfe, Mr. and Mrs. E. Clow, and Mr. L. Jones, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. G. Harrison, Hamilton, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Milne, Three Rivers, Que.; Mr. and Mrs. R. Tilton and daughter Patricia, Washington; Mrs. T. Fraser, Prince Edward Island; Miss Linda Kik and Miss Waters of Washington.

*We look back, through the score of years,
Since eighteen sixty seven,
When our forefathers had a dream
To make this earth a heaven.
This wondrous Canada of ours — united in one band,
Its mountains, forests, plains and hills,
Making a mighty land.

Our roots, are not of yesterday,
But firmly planted then;
An Empire, vast from sea to sea,
Peopled by splendid men.
A heritage of noble worth,
To arctic's sullen rim,
For our land's "Star of Destiny"
Cannot grow faint, or dim.*

Local Red Feather Chairmen Meet To Discuss Fall Drive

Planning in Notre Dame de Grace for this fall's United Red Feather Drive is well on schedule, according to Regional Chairman Mrs. A. H. McFarlane of 5088 Beaconsfield avenue. At a meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. McFarlane, district chairmen reviewed the campaign organization and prospects for the drive, which opens September 23.

Mrs. J. N. Anderson of 4620 Draper avenue is vice-chairman. District chairmen are: Mrs. Earle C. McCurdy, 4645 Westmore avenue, District 1; Mrs. T. Jones, 6460 Monkland avenue, District 2; Mrs. H. M. Morrison, 5975 N.D.G. avenue, District 3; Mrs. K. R. Jenkins, 5955 N.D.G. avenue, vice-chairman, District 3; Mrs. R. J. Hamilton, 4533 Kensington avenue, District 4; Mrs. Hugh P. Davidson, 4564 Harvard avenue, District 7; Mrs. L. W. Marks, 4550 Oxford avenue, vice-chairman, District 7; Mrs. J. C. Armstrong, 5209 Sherbrooke street west, District 8; Mrs. John Hopkins, 4936 Coolbrook avenue and Mrs. T. H. Edwards, 4454 Coolbrook avenue, chairmen, District 9; Mrs. M. Bentley, 4951 Kensington avenue, chairman, and Mrs. N. S. Bunker, 5035 Bessborough avenue, vice-chairman, District 10; and Mrs. W. L. Barnes, 4206 Hampton avenue, discards chairman.

DIVISION HAS BIG JOB

The Red Feather Women's Division faces a more complicated fund-raising job in the coming campaign than ever before, Mrs. Anson C. McKim, Chairman, said in an interview at her home, 3057 Trafalgar road, recently.

With a goal close to $400,000 — more than many community campaigns raise as their total objective — the women will undertake a city-wide canvass, going from door to door in every section of Greater Montreal. The campaign opens September 23 for an overall objective of $1,862,000 to support 31 united health and welfare services.

Among the problems the army of women canvassers will seek to overcome is the very size of the area to be covered, Mrs. McKim said. This year, the residential canvass will cover the entire Island of Montreal, from Ste. Anne de Bellevue to Bout de l'Île, with a new district organized on Ile Jésus.

Finding canvassers to cover this vast territory is not easy, Mrs. McKim said. "Our main difficulty in recruiting personnel has been the multiplicity of campaigns," she said. "Even so, a lot of Red Feather workers are a continual source of amazement and admiration to anyone organizing a campaign. Women with several children and no help seem to be able to do huge amounts of splendid work, turning their kitchens into offices, canvassing at odd hours of the day and night, and still managing to keep up with their family and household obligations."

Cyprus Copper

Ancient Romans called an orange-yellow metal mined on Cyprus "Cyprium aes," of Cyprian brass. From this Latin term later contracted to "cuprum", came the English word "copper."

SEX EDUCATION
By E. George Cochrane, B.A., M.Ed.
Guidance Counsellor,
Northmount High School

Some weeks ago a group of Montreal Protestant educators gathered in West Hill High School auditorium to hear an address delivered by Dame Olive Wheeler, an outstanding British educationist, psychologist and writer. Dame Olive spoke primarily of the growth that takes place in secondary school students and of the educational implications of what has been learned about the growth patterns of the teenage segment of our school population.

In the course of her remarks, Dame Olive advanced the belief that every high school student should follow a core curriculum — that is, certain basic courses which would be considered compulsory — as well as options drawn from a long list. In her basic core she would include sex education.

During the question period that followed her address, Dame Olive was asked, "Is not the home the proper place for a child to receive his sex education?"

She answered that the home is the place if the home is ideal — but, she pointed out, there are a good many homes which are not ideal.

SEES OBLIGATION

Dame Olive believes that the schools have an obligation to provide sex education which would go beyond the passing on of the merely physical facts about sex and would endeavor to give to students some comprehension of the more spiritual aspects of the subject. The result, maintains Dame Olive, would be a wholesome and healthy attitude towards the whole subject of sex.

I fear that Dame Olive's attitude represents a type of educational idealism found more frequently in the United States, where it is commonly believed that education, of the type provided in schools, is the panacea for all ills. What the educational idealists seem not to realize is that our schools do not operate in a vacuum. They are not ivory towers cut off from the trials and tribulations of life in this hectic H-bomb era.

There are many things which our schools can do — and are doing. But, there are definite limits. The school has a child five hours a day, five days a week, for some 35 or 36 weeks a year. That amount of time is not sufficient to overcome the disastrous environment of an unsatisfactory home — a home in which drunkenness, dishonesty, quarrelling and profanity are combined with a complete neglect of the more cultural aspects of living — and an unsatisfactory community — a community composed almost exclusively of the type of home that I have just described.

COMMUNITY PROBLEM

The school cannot take these warped minds and convert them into something noble wholesome and admirable. The schools try, they partially succeed, but they will never completely succeed, or come close to complete success, until something is done outside the school — in the community itself.

I have no objection to sex education being introduced into the school. I think it would in many instances be of real benefit to teenagers to hear the sub-

Eventide Home Birthday Tea Is Attended by Many Guests

The Second Birthday Tea and Handicraft sale was held by the Women's Auxiliary of Eventide Home of the Salvation Army at the Home, Tuesday June 11. Approximately 450 guests were present of these 135 were residents of the Home.

Mrs. Hulbert H. Schurman, president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. J. A. P. McGee, general chairman, and Mrs. Sydney A. MacSween, honorary president, welcomed the members and guests.

Colonel E. T. Waterston, National Social Service Secretary, officially opened the tea, after which Mrs. Sydney A. MacSween cut the birthday cake which was made and decorated by Mrs. W. A. Routledge for the occasion.

Mrs. A. Pryde Thomson, chairman of the Hobby Group, was in charge of the sale of handicraft. Mrs. Robert Berry and her committee were in charge of refreshments. Mrs. R. J. Dunn was in charge of the tea table which was beautifully decorated with multi-colored flowers. Baskets of lovely flowers arranged by Mrs. J. H. Murphy decorated the dining room and auditorium.

Presiding at the tea table were: Mrs. Colonel E. T. Waterston, Mrs. Sr. Major W. Ross, Mrs. Boyd Campbell, Mrs. Henry A. Stevens, Mrs. Percy Johnson and Mrs. Sydney A. MacSween. Following the tea, entertainment under the direction of Mrs. Ethel Bardo Gardner was held in the Auditorium.

Colonel E. T. Waterston chaired the program. Mrs. Sr. Major W. Ross lead the audience in hymn singing. The program, with the exception of a duet sung by Mrs. Lorna Fisher and Mrs. Ethel Bardo Gardner, accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Brodie, was given by the residents of the Home.

At the conclusion, Mrs. A. H. Mason expressed thanks to the Women's Auxiliary and to all who had participated in making the Birthday Tea such a success.

Forest Fires On Increase

A near-record number of forest fires for the month of May burned 86,000 acres of forest throughout Canada, the federal Forestry Branch, Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources, reported today.

Warm, dry weather was partly responsible for the 1,750 forest fires reported during May — only slightly less than the 1,875 fires that raged in May, 1950, the worst May for forest fires on record.

Although there were many fires, total damage was far less than in May, 1956 when 736,000 acres were burned by 1,567 fires.

Forest fire research officers said fires often take a heavy toll during May because the new green growth has not developed enough to have a dampening effect on the forest litter in which most fires start and spread.

National forest fire statistics, assembled by the Forestry Branch with the co-operation of the provincial and territorial governments, show that there have been more forest fires to date this year than last. So far, during only two months of the fire season, there have been 2,200 fires compared to 1,600 during April and May of 1956.

HOW GREEN THE GRASS GROWS and Don Languedoc, Labatt Open co-chairman, and Stan Horne, veteran Islesmere pro, find the greens shaping up well for Canada's biggest golf event. The Labatt Open will bring the continent's top golfers to Islesmere Club at Ste. Dorothée, July 4-7.

Big Golf Winners For Labatt Open

Winners of every major tournament this summer, including Dick Mayer, U.S. Open winner and Doug Ford, Masters champ, will vie for the $29,000 purse in Canada's biggest golf even — the Labatt Open at Islesmere Club July 4 to 7.

Dick Mayer, who tied Ford for second place Labatt money three years ago assured Ken Murray, tournament manager, of his commitment following his U.S. Open victory last weekend. "I'm in the groove now," he said. Mayer and most of the top circuit pros will head for Montreal from Detroit where the Western Open finishes June 29.

Other current tournament winners already committed for the Labatt field include Jay Hebert who won the Bing Crosby and Texas Open events; Ed Furgol, a past U.S. Open winner who won the Calliente event this season; Jimmy Demaret who won the Thunderbird, and two other tournaments this summer; defending Labatt champion Bill Casper who has taken top money at Phoenix and

Baseball Clinic Here July 13

The only baseball clinic to be held in the Montreal district by a Major league organization will take place at the Royals' Stadium under the auspices of the Brooklyn Dodgers on Saturday, July 13.

Rene Lemyre, general-manager of the Royals, made this announcement to a special gathering of managers and coaches of the Mount-Royal Junior Baseball League. Gerard Thibeault, president of the League, was chairman of the meeting.

Al Campanis field supervisor of the Dodgers' farm team and presently manager of the Royals, will take charge personally of this clinic.

"All young ball players in the province of Quebec, between the ages of 16 and 20 years are cordially invited to this clinic," Campanis said, "and it is our hope that a strong representation from all parts of the Province will be in attendance."

The two smallest golfers on the PGA circuit are 5 foot 5-inch Jerry Barber and 126-pound Bob Toski. Both are among the top money winners.

Mt. Royal 2nd In Track Meet

Mount Royal Track and Field club finished second with 114 points in the Dominion Track Meet at Molson Stadium. The winner was the St. Lambert club with 358 points. The Saints will hold their track meet on Saturday.

The Olympic club picked up 83 points. The only Montreal district school that took part was Verdun High who picked up two points. The other schools were from out of town.

Petite Diane Matheson and Laird Sloan, who both made the Olympic trip to Melbourne last fall, won two events for the Mount Royal club. Sloan won the men's 440, tying the native record of 49.4 seconds, and was steps ahead of Ricky May of Toronto's East York club and May of Toronto's East York club raced home 20 yards ahead of in the 220.

The Jaguar XK150 fixed-head coupe.

Jaguar XK150 Owner Proves Speed Point

(Special)

By ROBERT WALLING

YOU have to hand it to Sir William Lyons. At 55 he does not shun driving one of his new models at 125 m.p.h. just to prove to himself how it goes.

He did it several times before he announced two new Jaguars, both capable of 140 m.p.h. One is a fixed-head coupe and the other has a drop-head.

And you can thank American enthusiasts for the restrained modernity of these 1957 XK150 cars. "They told me," he says, "that if I were thinking of new XK models I should make them modern without losing the English traditional look. That, from Americans, may seem a little, well, untraditional — but I took their hint."

DISC BRAKES

What I find arresting about them is not their sleeker, dignified glamour, not their new one-piece windscreens and huge back windows; not their immaculate interiors, with even a rubber rest for the idle clutch foot; or the made-to-measure feel of their seats no matter how tall or short you are.

It is the price. Here are luxurious 3½-litre cars cruising happily at 90 m.p.h., with disc brakes strong enough to stop a bus, costing no more than £1175 without purchase tax (£1763, tax paid). That is the price of the fixed-head coupe, and the drop-head is just £20 dearer, basic price, and £30 if purchase tax is included.

With all the special equipment a driver could desire, the most expensive version still costs £2161, all-in.

IT'S A SECRET

They are thus the cheapest top-performance cars in the world. No wonder Americans are willing to fork out £200 above the basic price for freight, dealers' margin, and so on. For they are still cheaper than the price asked of the British driver.

How does Jaguar do it? "That's our secret," says Sir William, "It would help to stabilise our prices still further if purchase tax could be cut. Now is the moment. The British motor industry had a narrow squeak through credit restriction, strikes, and the rest. We cannot risk it again."

VIVID—BUT QUIET

How do they perform? Acceleration is vivid, but quiet, thanks to a 210 brake horse-power 3½-litre engine which would not have disgraced a Grand Prix racing car a few years ago. Road-holding is leech-like.

They are both two-three seaters; or, put in another way — two adults in front and one adult or two children in small seats behind them.

Good point about the drop-head: its mohair hood has a fully lined inside surface concealing the folding struts.

And you can have an ordinary gearbox, one with an overdrive, or an automatic drive giving two-pedal control and a provision to allow the driver to hang on to an intermediate gear if he wants to.

The cars are for export only until August when home deliveries start.

Lake St. Louis Derby Monday

The 11th Annual Big Fish Derby is being held by Lake St. Louis Anglers on July 1st. The proceeds from this Derby helps them continue with their conservation work in their district.

The Derby starts at 9:00 a.m. rain or shine and terminates at 6:00 p.m. Prizes for the largest Musky, Pike, Perch, Dore & Bass will be presented around 8:00 p.m. at the clubhouse in Lachine.

Canada Day Sport Car Races Saturday

DICK HAMILTON of Westmount, one of the top drivers entered in the Canada Day Races at St. Eugene, Ontario, Saturday, works on the carburetor of his MGA. He will compete against cars in the over 1500 CC. Class.

Richard 'Dick' Hamilton, Vancouver-born sports car enthusiast is considered by many of his friends and competitors as the 'Juan Manuel Fangio' of Canadian driving.

Fangio, the greatest driver in history, is known as the man with ice water in his veins. He has won the greatest races in the world with a dare-devil, nerve shattering technique that has left the spectator gaping with awe and pride.

Hamilton, now living in Montreal, has taken a leaf from Fangio's book and drives with the same dare-devil style and in doing so has won many important races in America.

He will be heavily favored to win the second race for cars over 1500 c.c. in the Canada-Day Races taking place at St. Eugene Airport next Saturday, June 29.

The handsome young man has set an enviable record since he first saw a sports car event in England 10 years ago. His first experience with sports cars was a hill climb in Luton Hoo, England, in 1947.

In 1950 he entered his first

Canada, Brazil Cup Tie July 19-21; MacNeil, Captain

Harry Marpole, president of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association announced the appointment of H. Gordon MacNeil as non-playing captain for the Davis Cup tie with Brazil.

Canada and Brazil meet July 19-21 on the Mount Royal Tennis Club courts.

Personnel of the team has not yet been announced.

MacNeil was captain of the team from 1949-51. A past president of the Province of Quebec Lawn Tennis Association, he has been a member of the CLTA for many years.

In 1947 he was on the Canadian Davis Cup squad, playing doubles with Edgar Lanthier. They won the Canadian doubles title in 1948 and 1949.

Westies, Stelco Tied For Lead

Stelco, scoring a 141-98 victory over Wanderers are tied for first place honors with Westmount in division 'A' of the Montreal and District Cricket League. The Westmount were idle last Saturday.

The Stelco crew, up from second division have really showed power with four wins and one loss.

Verdun won their second game of the campaign by dismissing Adastrians for 71 after making 118.

West Indians were again in a scoring mood chalking up 265 to defeat Mount Royal with 85.

In the "B" Division Alastair MacLachlan scored a century for has never been injured in a sports car race and claims his reasons for competing is the undeniable thrill of making a small car go fast.

Adastrians 11 who finished with 228 for 7 declared to Westmount 112 for 3 being too good for 11's all out 144.

Canadair with 91, scored a one run victory over Wanderers 11 were Bruce Godfrey 35, Jack with 90 and West Indians 11 with Ries 29 and Gordon Fraser 23. 111 defeated Rolls Royce 96. Bowling for Wanderers, Keith Tisshaw took 4 for 41 and Mike Canadair and Adastrians 11 was Wolstencroft 4 for 54.

Snowdon Teams Start Home Stretch With Grocers Leading

WHEN the rains came, and what a relief, it was the second time that they had been rained during the month of June, thus putting one Snowdon Major Fastball League one game behind. Two other games were called on account of rain.

Considering what damage May did to the schedule, league officials were quite happy to get their games away in June.

When the rains did come on Tuesday, the teams got a well-earned night off and a chance to sit back and go over their player's lists. If club managements are thinking of adding to their line-ups they have until July 1 to make changes.

Several clubs would like to have a little added strength to help them in the home stretch of 15 games.

Grocers, still the league leaders have reached the half way mark and with two losses, one tie against 12 wins, they at this time seem most likely to succeed with the title.

Combines have past the half way mark of 15 games with 16 to their credit with 10 wins and six losses. They were five points out of first place, which may be 50 points. Last week they were three points away from Grocers, and dropped two during the week of play.

FBI Golden Gifts seem to have that Golden touch, but not the pre-season favourites as selected by the experts. They rest in third place five points behind Combines and 10 out of first.

SECOND DIVISION

Dow Brewery, holds onto fourth place and last of the play-off spots. They could very well gain on FBI and at the same time they must hold their small gain against all costs as Pepsi Cola, three points behind the Brewers could move into fourth place in two games. This could happen as the schedule will see Peps playing more games than Dow in weeks to come.

Verdun Sportsmen, in last place have played the least games of any of the six teams, a dozen and with their one game in hand to Peps and Dow, this could be their key to that fourth playoff spot.

Verdun's three wins to-date is not too impressive and they will have to work a lot harder in the remaining part of the schedule than they have in the first half.

Action during the past week

Coming Games In Snowdon Loop

Saturday: No games scheduled.

Sunday: Snowdon League Stars game, 2:00 p.m.; Hockey Star vs. Old Timers, 8:00 p.m., Trenholme Park.

Dutchmen Have Good Quarter

Who's the best quarterback in Canadian football?

Bob Celeri, the triple-threat star of the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen.

Out West, they'll point to Jackie Parker. In the Big Four debating societies they'll tell you it's Sam Etcheverry.

Pound for pound, the Dutchmen's supporters claim Celeri is the best QB in Canada and one of the games really great competitors.

In the Wilds of Western Ontario they have a third candidate.

They have the solid backing of everyone in the Ontario Rugby Football Union where Celeri has overshadowed the field for three successive seasons.

On July 25, the Montreal Alouettes will test him for size at Molson Stadium. He's Bullet saw Grocers pick up two victories at the expense of Dow. They won 4-3 and 5-0.

Pepsi Cola suffered the worst fate of the week by losing three games. Combines came up with a 3-0 win in a game that was played in one hour and 20 minutes at Verdun.

Then they were on the short end of two games with FBI on counts of 7-5 and 4-3. The latter game was protested by Pepsi. The last time that Peps took a game to the committee room, they won two points from Combines.

Combines were foiled in their attempt to win both their games. In playing Verdun, they held a lead of 8-1 until Verdun broke loose, scored seven runs and held a lead of 11-8 in the seventh when curfew called the game.
